

High Winds Hit Carey, Big Wood River Flooding

Rains continued Saturday throughout Magic Valley and in some areas were accompanied by high winds, hail and slush. A hard twisting wind hit Carey about 2 p.m. The roof was torn from a small building next to the Paris Motel and it reportedly soared 150 feet into the air and fell in back of Don's Food Bank, flattening the incinerator and knocking the chimney off the building. Don Patterson, owner of the grocery store said, "It was so terrific. There was so much pressure I couldn't get the door open out of the store." The awning also was torn off his store.

Church Okays U.S. Action In Dominican

POCATELLO (AP) — Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, said Saturday President Johnson was correct in sending troops into the Dominican Republic.

Church told a Pocatello press conference he hoped the troops could be removed as quickly as possible and the Caribbean nation restored to self determination.

The Senator said the Organization of American States should take over restoring and maintaining peace.

Church anticipated several years of fighting over the "Wild Rivers Bill," which he is sponsoring. The measure would keep several Idaho rivers in their natural state.

He said he would continue supporting extension of Bonneville Power Administration lines into southeastern Idaho.

He said if ample power is available, the state has more chance of securing a new nuclear accelerator project proposed in the Idaho Falls area. Church said his stand in favor of a negotiated settlement in Viet Nam is gaining more widespread support and said President Johnson would welcome peace talks.

He supported bombing of North Viet Nam, but only to bring negotiators to the table. He said recent military efforts in Viet Nam were successful, Church said, "I hope so."

Okay on Gag Rule Sought By Senators

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate leaders were confident Saturday they have more than enough votes to clamp a gag on the prolonged voting rights debate in a showdown Tuesday.

They claimed they already had 69 votes lined up — two more than the two-thirds needed to impose the gag rule. This would mean that each senator would be allowed only one hour to talk on the bill and a stack of pending amendments.

If the leadership cloture move is approved, a final vote on the far-reaching civil rights measure would probably come next Thursday or Friday. The House is expected to move into action soon after the Senate passes the bill.

Leadership confidence that for the second time in two years, cloture would be invoked was based on broad bipartisan support. Republicans and Democrats alike signed the petition which automatically brings on a cloture vote Tuesday at 1 p.m. EDT.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., made no public advance claim of victory. He said no noise count has been made on the issue and no "it is up to the Senate," he said. But he added: Tuesday, the Senate will have been debating the voting rights bill for five weeks.

School Election Set for Tuesday

Polls will be open from 1 to 3 p.m. Tuesday for the school board trustee election.

Incumbent Henry Coiner, Zone three, and Edward (Ted) Smith, zone four, have filed petitions for the positions.

E. H. Ragland, superintendent, school district No. 411, noted that registration is not necessary to vote in the election, but the voter must live in the particular zone to qualify.

Polls will be open at Harrison and Washington Elementary Schools.

Ceremony Set

ARCO (UPI) — Rep. George Hansen, R-Idaho, is scheduled to speak at 2 p.m. Sunday during ceremonies opening Craters of the Moon National Monument for the summer season.

The wind also tore out trees and the power was off from 2 p.m. to almost 6 p.m. Hail and rain fell heavily in the area.

Efforts were being made Saturday to hold back the flooding waters of Big Wood River, two miles north of Bellevue at the Charles Early and Max Kimble ranches, where pastures were under water.

Men from the area used chain saws to cut several large cottonwood trees to try to fill in the washed-out bank.

Saturday evening they were dynamiting thickets caught in the waters to try to rechannel the river.

A kind of slush, along with continuous rain, fell all day at Hailey and rain also was reported at the North Fork store.

Friday's rains reportedly made little difference in the Little Wood Reservoir near Carey.

Lowell Mechem, watermaster, said they are getting ahead of the runoff again and that 600 acre feet of water had been released from the reservoir. Water in the reservoir had dropped about one foot Friday.

He said water had come very close to going over the spillway, but has not done so yet, as previously reported.

Pipes at Fish Creek Reservoir have been opened and a little water is going over the spillway. The reservoir is level-full and a fine spray is spilling out.

A short, light hail storm was reported Friday night at Burley, where it rained intermittently during the day. Rain and hail also were reported at Rupert.

Light rains fell at Fairfield and Richfield Saturday morning.

People Flee Floodwaters In Nebraska

By United Press International Floodwaters splashed into Texas and Nebraska homes Saturday, forcing occupants to flee for their lives. Thunderstorms pelted the Gulf States with heavy rain and up to eight inches of snow fell from Nevada to the Rockies.

The Dixie rain relieved a drought in parts of Alabama. A tornado dipped down on two farms near Adams in southeast Nebraska late Saturday but caused no damage.

In the wake of up to 8 1/2 inches of rain in the prairie states, Nebraska's adjutant general warned residents of east and southeast sections of the state to prepare for possible flooding along the Platte and Elkhorn Rivers. More rain was forecast.

Temperatures dipped into the 20s early in the day in sections of Minnesota. A frost warning was up for parts of Michigan and Wisconsin for Sunday morning.

The Ohio Valley got its warmest weather of the year. Indianapolis, Ind., had its highest temperature since last Sept. 21 — 86 degrees.

Mobile, Ala., had 3.73 inches of rain in six hours and Houston, Tex., measured 2.73 inches in the same period.

Idaho Commission Plans to Push for Higher Price Support Level on Beans

BOISE — The Idaho Bean Commission announced its intention Saturday to push for a higher price support level on beans.

T. F. College Getting Student Applications

Some 85 applications from prospective students had been received by the College of Southern Idaho Junior College by Friday afternoon, according to Dr. James L. Taylor, college president. "We have had real interest from students in Jerome and Twin Falls counties," Dr. Taylor said. He has spoken to all the high schools in these counties and is planning trips through the rest of Magic Valley. According to the college president, the greatest number of applications to date has come from Twin Falls county.

"The bulk of the entrants should be in by the middle of July," Dr. Taylor stated. Deadline for applications will be the same as the enrollment date, Aug. 31.

Although the technical training program still is in the developing stages, a great amount of interest has been shown in this area.

These classes will include automotive mechanics, body and fender repair, welding, farm machinery repair and electrical repair of major home appliances, radio and television.

The junior college office is presently sending information and application materials to all area high schools.

"There has been tremendous interest shown for the college by potential students and Magic Valley citizens in general," Dr. Taylor commented.

Spacecraft Launched to Measure Heat

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A spacecraft resembling a miniature Apollo moonship rocketed like a flaming meteor over a 25,800-mile-an-hour ballistic course Saturday to measure the blistering heat which will envelop manned capsules returning from lunar journeys.

The Project Fire launching kicked off a planned flurry of Cape Kennedy space activity which is to climax June 3 with the start of the four-day Gemini flight by astronauts James McDivitt and Edward White. In between there will be the launching of the Pegasus 2 meteoroid detection satellite Tuesday and an interplanetary monitoring platform Friday.

An Atlas rocket blasted successfully away from Cape Kennedy at 4:55 p.m. to hurl the 200-pound project fire payload on a high arcing path that stabbed more than 500 miles into space.

As the craft dived back toward earth, a small solid-fuel motor ignited for a 30-second burst to ram the package into the heat barrier of the atmosphere at a speed of about seven miles a second. This is slightly faster than the velocity the three-man Apollo ships will achieve on homeward trips from the moon.

from varieties produced in volume in Idaho "was high enough to encourage additional production," the Department of Agriculture responded immediately by dropping the support levels on these varieties.

"The effects of lowered support prices still persists and is easily recognized by the fact that production of these varieties has remained quite constant, with an actual drop this year," West's letter stated.

"For quite a few years the Idaho bean industry has accepted the decisions of the department in relation to support levels, with only minor objections from individuals in the trade.

No Wig

KANSAS CITY, (AP) — Mrs. Mary Byers, 26, said she was seated in a restaurant Saturday when a young woman walked over to her, wound her fingers tightly in the brown hair of her wig and dashed away with it. The wig cost $165, Mrs. Byers said.

Demos Hold Swank Affair In New York

NEW YORK (AP) — President Johnson, making his first political trip of 1965, flew to New York Saturday night for a post-Democratic ball that put the spotlight on embattled Mayor Robert F. Wagner, challenged for reelection by Republican Rep. John V. Lindsay, turned up at LaGuardia Airport too late to greet Johnson. The presidential motorcade had to stop a block away to take the mayor aboard.

Johnson and his wife, Lady Bird, came to town for a black-tie ball sponsored by the President's Club of New York.

Some 500 couples, each representing annual contributions of at least $1,000 to the Democratic treasury, were present to shake Johnson's hand, dine on filet mignon, drink domestic wines, and dance to the orchestras of Lester Linn, Meyer Davis and Peter Duchin.

From the President's standpoint there was one jarring note. As his closed limousine turned into the garage at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel, scene of the ball, several hundred pickets who oppose his Viet Nam and Dominican policies were clearly visible behind police barricades a block away.

Traditionally, President's Club affairs are private and are closed to reporters and photographers.

The New York fete was no exception.

Jewelry Store Burglar Is Caught in Act

A Twin Falls burglar was "caught in the act" Saturday night when he broke the window of Jensen's Jewelers, 109 Main Ave. E., with a small rock and stole two watches valued at $150.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Rose, 201 Park Ave., were returning from a movie, when they saw a man, breaking the window and reaching inside.

While Rose watched the route the man took as he left the scene, Mrs. Rose went to the Yellow Cab Co. and asked them to call the police.

Patrolman Kenneth Johnson took David Merl Hinshaw, about 40, into custody in front of Alexander's. Hinshaw was taken to the Twin Falls city jail and charged with first degree burglary.

Rupert Man to Head Auditors

MOSCOW (UPI) — August Bethke, Rupert, Minidoka county auditor, was elected president of the Idaho Association of County Auditors here yesterday.

He replaces M. K. Cline, Moscow, Latah county auditor.

Other officers elected at the conclusion of the two-day session were Maxine Batman, Rexburg, vice president, and Louis McClain, American Falls, secretary-treasurer.

Idaho Falls to Honor Senator

IDAHO FALLS (AP) — Bonneville County Democratic Party leaders and special guests will honor Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, at a breakfast Sunday in Idaho Falls.

Warren Easterly, chairman of the county group, expects 100 members of the county central committee and guests to attend. Sen. Church will be in Idaho Falls to deliver a baccalaureate address to graduating students of Bonneville High School.

Attorney General Addresses Fifth District Republicans

(See picture on page 3) Idaho State Atty. Gen. Allan G. Shepard told more than 100 Fifth District Republican leaders attending Friday night's Republican meeting at the Elks hall that "The Republican party has been responsible for almost every improvement in Idaho during the last 20 years."

Fighting Breaks Out After Truce

SANTO DOMINGO (UPI) — Four U. S. paratroopers were wounded Saturday when heavy firing broke out again hours after Dominican junta leader Gen. Antonio Imbert Barrera refused to extend the 24-hour cease fire. The fighting erupted when rebels fired from a machinegun nest into the U.S.-controlled corridor in the battle-scarred city. The U.S. troops promptly returned the fire. A building in the vicinity of the heavy fighting burst into flames. Earlier, the U.S. warned it would use its thousands of troops here and even a naval blockade to prevent a resumption of the bloody civil war.

The renewed shooting lasted about a half hour. The combatants exchanged rifle and machinegun fire and then fired heavier weapons, including mortars and recoilless rifles. The shooting erupted in the "corridor" and nearby areas. There was no report of rebel casualties.

As the cease fire ended at noon (1 p.m. EDT) the Organization of American States (OAS) in Washington voted 14 to 4 to activate the inter-American peacekeeping force for the Dominican Republic and asked Brazil to appoint a commander-in-chief.

Brazilian delegate to the OAS, Jose Barreiros, said 250 Brazilian troops arrived in Santo Domingo early Saturday aboard 10 Brazilian air force transports.

Secretary General Thant told the council that reports from his man on the scene showed the situation to be "ominous."

U. S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson told the Security Council that despite reports that the Dominican junta had refused to extend the 24-hour truce, "There are no hostilities to the best of our knowledge."

Bloody Ambushes Sprung by Viet Cong

SAIGON (UPI) — Three U.S. Army men were killed Saturday when Communist Viet Cong guerrillas sprang two bloody ambushes on government troops just north of Saigon. The government troops suffered more than 100 casualties. One American was wounded and another possibly captured by the Communist forces in the two Communist traps, one near the district capital of Ben Cat 28 miles northeast of Saigon and the other near Song Be, 74 miles to the north. Communist losses in the twin ambushes were not reported.

The Communist assaults came as nearly 100 U.S. Air Force jets struck within 55 miles of Hanoi in the war's closest bombing raid to the Communist capital.

A U.S. military spokesman said the Viet Cong first smashed a unit of irregulars led by American special forces patrolling near Ben Cat. One U.S. special forces soldier was killed and a second special forces man was wounded after he had hidden the body of his fallen comrade in nearby brush.

The government troops suffered 55 killed, seven wounded and eight missing, and presumably captured by the guerrillas.

Two Americans — one an officer and one enlisted man — were killed just south of Song Be when Communist forces raked a truck convoy with small arms and automatic fire.

The Communists allowed the first truck to pass unmolested and then cut loose with heavy small arms as the other vehicles rolled into the trap.

A third American was reported missing and presumably captured by the Viet Cong forces who swarmed over the trucks.

Fifteen government troops were reported missing and they too were believed to have been taken prisoner by the Viet Cong.

Construction Of Camp Starts

MOUNTAIN HOME (AP) — Special ceremonies yesterday marked the beginning of construction of the Bureau of Land Management Job Corps Conservation center near Mountain Home.

Donald B. Snyder's, former principal of the Central Elementary School in Boise, has been named director of the camp which will house 200 young men when it is completed late this summer. They will work in various conservation projects in southwestern Idaho.

Work on the camp is being done by Galey and Co. of Boise under a $243,291 contract.

Marines to Keep Rival Groups Apart

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — The United States told the United Nations Security Council Saturday that American Marines and paratroopers in the Dominican Republic will keep rival Dominican factions apart "by force if necessary."

Secretary General Thant told the council that reports from his man on the scene showed the situation to be "ominous."

U. S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson told the Security Council that despite reports that the Dominican junta had refused to extend the 24-hour truce, "There are no hostilities to the best of our knowledge."

Physician Is Elected Head Of Jesuits

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Very Rev. Pedro Arrupe, a Spanish Jesuit physician who survived the Hiroshima atomic bomb, was elected Jesuit general Saturday.

Father Arrupe, 57, who has spent almost 30 years in Japan, rushed to treat victims of the holocaust in 1945 that ushered in the nuclear age.

Saturday he took over Roman Catholicism's biggest and most influential religious order as it seeks to adjust to Church renewal launched in this nuclear era by the Vatican Ecumenical Council.

Father Arrupe was chosen on the third ballot during a secret conclave of 218 Jesuit electors from around the world.

The shy, white-haired priest is known as a skillful administrator who is admired among younger members of the 36,000-man Society of Jesus.

Pope Paul VI gave his approval and blessing when word of the choice was hurried to the papal apartment.

Father Arrupe, who comes from the Basque region of Spain where the 16th-century Jesuit founder, St. Ignatius Loyola, was born, succeeds the Rev. Jean Baptiste Janssens. The Belgian was elected general in 1946 and died last October at the age of 74.

RECOVERS. HYANNISPORT, Mass. (UPI) Joseph P. Kennedy, 76-year-old father of President John F. Kennedy, reportedly has recovered from a slight indisposition.

Shepard pointed out the upgrading and renovating of the state's highway system, the increased benefits for the elderly, disabled, unemployed and neglected, the money for public schools, the expansion and improvement of all state institutions and many other long-range and short-range programs initiated, implemented and brought to fruition by Republicans and the Republican party of Idaho.

Reminding the party members gathered at the meeting of the party's attainments, Shepard recognized many Idaho Republicans who have gained prominence and influence on the national scene.

Shepard particularly complimented Republican legislators from the Magic Valley area who See FIFTH DISTRICT, p. 3 c. 1 have been able to successfully manage the needs and desires of Idaho's people with sound and responsible management of our resources.

"The Republican party will be the means of fulfillment of Idaho's destiny," said Shepard, pointing out the growth that may be expected in Idaho as the result of the population explosion and the "desires of many people to escape the teeming masses of big cities."

Shepard went on to say, "One of our most precious commodities is our water and its quantity. In a short period of years the need for such a resource will provide an overriding incentive for location of industry in Idaho."

Shepard painted a bright picture for Idaho and its people and called on Republicans to continue the supply of outstanding people for government in Idaho.

The State Republican Executive Committee held a Friday afternoon meeting in Twin Falls and at the Fifth District evening meeting all eight Mafic Valley counties were represented.

Mrs. Gwen Barnett, national committee woman, reported on new laws passed during the last legislative session which will have an effect on both political parties.

John McMurray and Harley Markham discussed state and national phases of the Republican party.

Magic Valley District Chairman George Bever, Twin Falls, was master of ceremonies at the dinner meeting held at the Elks lodge, and introduced Shepard to the group.

Computer's Value Noted At Conclave

SUN VALLEY, Idaho (AP) — A top official of the National Association of Manufacturers says development of computer systems is of more potential value to society than the automation of factories.

Mrs. Louise Bushnell of New York City, director of women's activities for the NAM, was principal speaker Friday at the annual convention at Sun Valley of the Idaho State Association of Life Underwriters.

Installed as president of the association was Rex L. Decker of Idaho Falls. William S. Gruger Jr., Boise, was chosen as president-elect.

Vice presidents named Friday were Roland Davidson, Payette; Eldon Barker, Idaho Falls, and Paul Robertson, Coeur d'Alene.

Grant Russen of Twin Falls was named national committee man.

Mrs. Bushnell said: "Computers can hold every known fact on earth and present them for our use whenever we want them. The possibilities in the field of medicine and law alone are fantastic."

Essence of Freedom

Newspapers are criticized continually by police, lawyers, courts, public officials at all levels of government and some private individuals for handling of the news. The avowed basis for much of the criticism is that the critic just doesn't believe newspapers should publish something or perhaps go into such detail. Newsmen are among the first to admit there is reason for some of the criticism, yet they are quick to defend their right and duty to print anything and everything classed as news. Some of the critics have a personal interest and some have an ulterior purpose, but few can claim they are championing a just cause in the best interests of the general public.

One of the exceptions involves court news. Judges, lawyers and police have asserted repeatedly down through the years that detailed news coverage is not in the best interests of justice. On the other hand, newspapers have maintained just as steadfastly that full and complete coverage of court news not only benefits the general public but in some cases is the only factor that assures some semblance of justice.

Of course, there is merit to both sides of the continuing argument. The newspaper stand gets an unexpected boost from Judge J. Skelly Wright, of the U.S. Court of Appeals in Washington, D.C. He spoke to the Circuit Bar Association in Chicago during a panel discussion, "Free Press and Television—Fair Trial." He criticizes current efforts of lawyers to restrict press coverage of police and courts. "In addition to being unconstitutional, external controls on the press are wrong, politically, socially and historically," he declared.

"A healthy democracy requires fresh air and life," the judge added. "Public officials, including judges, prosecutors and the police, function best in a goldfish bowl. To place the police stations and the district attorneys' offices of this country off limits to the press, would, in my judgment, be a massive disservice to the cause of criminal justice."

Judge Wright also pointed out that when the press has access to police headquarters and other information sources, the probability increases immeasurably that police work will be conducted with respect for the rights of the accused and the public.

Judge Wright could have gone much farther in lecturing his associates. He could have pointed out that rigid control of the press is one of the cornerstones of a dictatorship. He could have noted that denying access to matters of public record is the mark of a police state. Both the police state and dictatorship—quite similar, but not necessarily the same—depend on secrecy of operation. Both adhere to the principle of telling the public only what they want the public to know.

Americans who continue to criticize newspapers for printing news they don't like should think more about the eventual consequences of limiting news coverage. Unrestricted access to news of all types and descriptions is the very essence of freedom.

In the words of Judge Wright, "A healthy democracy requires fresh air and life." The fresh air and life of news coverage contributes to the healthy democracy while at the same time tending to discourage graft, corruption, injustice and malfeasance of office.

YOUNG IN OUTLOOK

Sister Francetta Barberis, presently president of Webster College in St. Louis, will become a full-time consultant and coordinator for Job Corps Centers for women on June 1. It's rather unusual for a nun to take a position outside the church, but doubly so in the case of Sister Francetta. She's 65 years old.

The Sister, who will wear secular clothing instead of the black robes of her order, declares, "I believe in retirement at age 65, but I don't believe in stagnating." There's a marked difference.

Stagnating is one course open to those who reach retirement age. Other courses are to keep working (which deprives the individual of enjoyment of later years and deprives a younger person of a job), or to seek a full life through enjoying hobbies and pastimes to the fullest extent. Perhaps the simple resolution to make the most of later years is the one greatest factor in enjoying life after 65.

Sister Francetta's approach to her later years could be envied by those who share her age in years. In some respects, old age is a mental condition more than a physical state brought on by the passing years. No one, including Sister Francetta, can stop the physical toll of passing years, but it's quite possible to maintain a young, fresh outlook on life. When the body is reduced to plodding, the mind is still free to soar and explore new fields of unknown joy.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

BY ANDREW TULLY

WASHINGTON — Citizens should not be tempted to dance in the streets over President Johnson's order requiring all agency heads and many other presidential appointees to come clear on their financial holdings and business interests. It is a lick and a promise where a thorough housecleaning was indicated.

Under the new system, which the White House grandly describes as a "code of ethics," top officials will furnish financial statements to the chairman of the Civil Service Commission, who will report to the President on any possible conflict of interest. It will then be up to the President to judge the case and decide whether to take any action.

NONE OF PUBLIC'S BUSINESS—That is the private weakness, of course. It is too dangerous to the public to be made available in the public domain. It is a fact which permits a cynical mind like mine to harbor disturbing thoughts. All Presidents, of course, are upright men and never happier than when among their flowers, but it is still possible to visualize a situation in which some President would conceal a case of misconduct by one of his aides rather than publicize a scandal that might cost him votes. It is not recorded, for example, that President Eisenhower publicly announced the fact that his No. 1 Banana, Sherman Adams, had been caught accepting expensive rugs and vicuna coats from a Boston industrialist doing business with the government. Harry Truman did not go about trumpeting the peccadilloes of his boys, and it was not Johnson who revealed that an assistant secretary of commerce had made a bundle on a stock market tip.

NOT PRESIDENT'S PREROGATIVE—I do not buy the concept of recent decades that a federal official is a personal employee of the President. To me, he is one of the taxpayers' hired hands. It is the citizen's dough that goes to pay his salary, not the President's. Therefore, I like to know what my employees are up to. If they are engaged in shenanigans that bring them private gain from a public office I want them to be exposed on page one, and then given the sack. I do not want even the President deciding on his own what to do about some official caught with his hand in the public till. Even the nicest of Presidents can't help worrying about the next election.

SECRECY BLOCKS CONFIDENCE—Johnson has stated rather nobly that "where government is based on the consent of the governed, every citizen is entitled to have complete confidence in the integrity of his government." He can say that again, and it still won't mean anything unless the citizen is permitted possession of the facts pertaining to his employees' private finances. I do not have "complete confidence in the integrity" of my government if the business interests of federal employees is a cozy little secret between them and the White House.

There has been some criticism of Johnson's new code on the grounds it may increase the problem of recruiting men of special competence for government jobs. I don't know why this should be true unless the recruits have something to hide. And if they do have something to hide, then they have no business going to work for Uncle Sam. This is still more or less of a free country, and I know of no public official who was dragged kicking and screaming into any ermine-trimmed government office on the threat of a good knouting.

FEDERAL APPROVAL OF WATER PLAN
Federal budgetary approval of a scaled-down Pacific Southwest Water Plan has brightened prospects of congressional action to end the 15-year impasse between California and Arizona on use of the Colorado River.

This qualified green light flashed by the U. S. Budget Bureau is, of course, only another step along a lengthy journey. Some controversy remains. But it would appear to involve details, rather than the overall concept of how the Colorado should be shared to best advantage.

In effect, the bureau's findings indicate that the White House looks with favor upon the regional concept of western water development, on building the $740 million Central Arizona Project, on creating a "basin revenue account" financed by hydroelectric power sales, on establishing a five-year survey of water sources and needs.

From Southern California's viewpoint, the bureau's agreement to a provision that guarantees this area 4.4 million acre feet of Colorado River water annually, until the President certifies availability of an additional 2.5 million acre feet for the hardpressed stream, is a key item.

This has been the main issue of the long struggle between California and Arizona. Under procedure jointly approved by Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., Interior Secretary Stewart Udall, and Arizona water leaders, a logical compromise has been reached. The Times, which has earnestly sought such an arrangement, applauds their reasonable approach.

As principal author of the measure, Kuchel rates it both "constructive and comprehensive." We agree.

Throughout the West, ample water supplies exist to insure a flow of at least 7.5 million acre feet, once a feasible program has been evolved to replenish the Colorado from these presently unused, or under-used, sources. None need go thirsty. Every legitimate project can be consummated.

One objection raised by conservationists may be quieted, if the budget bureau's recommendations are followed, with postponement of the Bridge Canyon Dam construction. Enough money could still be raised from existing power plants along the Colorado, plus the proposed Marble Canyon Dam, to finance long range basin development without jeopardizing the Grand Canyon National Park.

Surely the discussion stage has now ended—and the moment for action on this basic legislation is at hand.—Los Angeles Times.

A REAL CHALLENGE
Simulating in a chamber the probable environment on Mars, a scientist at Union Carbide Research Institute has been looking for plants that might survive that planet's temperature extremes and nearly total lack of oxygen. Of 250 species tested, 50 required no oxygen for sprouting. In one study, cucumber seedlings were found to grow in one-sixtieth of normal atmospheric pressure in an iron oxide substrate. Their resistance to cold increased with a decrease in oxygen. Significant findings on the Martian scene, none of which explains why zinnias will not grow along the north wall of our garage.—St. Louis Post Dispatch.

POT SHOTS

DO THEY?
Hi Pot Shots: Why can't adults stop acting like children? We constantly find fault with them, their hair-do, tight jeans, skirts, well, everything in general.

Before you go on with the talk, gossip and whispering, let's stop and take a look at ourselves. Then see who is really to blame. We shy away, don't we?

All they need is understanding. Use? More faith will help. Why should they pay for our mistakes.

A. Parent (Gooding)
P. S. This isn't meant as a slam or insult. I thought it wouldn't hurt for parents to open their eyes for a change. I have three teen-agers myself.

Pot Shots note: You have our sympathy.

NOPE!

Hi Pot Shots: While baby-sitting the other day, I sat listening while the children were playing.

They took a trip to the moon, sailed the seven seas, fought an Indian war, crossed the desert in a covered wagon, played soldiers carrying messages on their knees through the jungles.

Wouldn't it be nice to live in their world.

I Dreamed Too (Gooding)
PUPS FOR KIDS DEPT., Seven-part Collie pups are 6 weeks-old and need new homes. Six are male. You can get them by phoning 733-2186 or pick them up two and one-half miles east of the Bughouse on Falls Ave. E.

Dear Pots:
We have a grown male dog to give away. He's part Shepherd and Collie. We have to give him away because we already have too many dogs. Would prefer a good home in the country because he has a pretty good farm dog. Has had shots. Pick him up after 3:30 p.m. at 397 Monroe St. (Twin Falls)

MARK OF AMATEURS
If you have a couple of ideas you want to cover in letters to Pot Shots, don't hesitate to put them in the same envelope. You'll save postage and you won't arouse suspicions that perhaps you have an ulterior purpose or two.

Scarcely a week passes that someone doesn't mail two envelopes to Pot Shots. Perhaps one envelope will be addressed in printing and one in handwriting. And Pot Shots scarcely ever fails to notice the envelopes are identical, the postmarks are identical, the stamps are identical. Also, there's usually some other indication that the two letters were posted at the same time by the same person.

There's no reason to try to camouflage contributions to this corner because anyone is welcome to write as many notes as he desires on as many different subjects. All that happens when Pot Shots spots the two identical envelopes is to grin about the amateurish approach at concealment.

GENTLEMAN IN THE FOURTH ROW

Poor Man's Plato

By HAL BOYLE

DA NANG Airbase, South Vietnam (AP) — "It's the only war we've got."
That was the laconic reply of Capt. John O. Edelblute of Crown Point, Ind., when asked why he had volunteered for a third tour of duty in the Far East.

"I'm a career officer. This is my life. I'm a fighter pilot." At 33, the captain is the oldest of four bachelors among the 25 pilots in the 61st Tactical Fighter Squadron. The squadron commander, Maj. James A. Minish, 30, of Yellowstone National Park, Wyo., says he is "one of the very best."

Edelblute's hot seat in the sky is an F100 all-purpose fighter plane which attacks its targets at a speed ranging between 400 to 600 knots. When he winds up his present duty tour June 1, he will have completed about 100 sorties and dropped or shot up to 250 tons of bombs, rockets and bullets at the enemy.

"I hope I'll get 30 days leave," he said. "I've got a new car at England Air Force Base in Louisiana waiting for me, and I'd like to catch up on my bass fishing."
"Then, if they want me to come back here for fourth tour, I'll pack my bag and come back."

Edelblute stands an inch over 6 feet, has brown hair and blue eyes, and is sturdily handsome. He has sweated off 20 pounds under the grind of heat and long hours.

He has had two bad blows to his spirit. His mother and father were killed in an automobile accident last April, and on a recent attack on a northern flak site his wingman disappeared.

"We don't know what happened to him. We never heard of him again."
As do most capable people, "Blute" speaks of his work with a straightforward matter of factness. He has flown every type of mission, day and night.

They were in their mid and early 20's.

The roar of U. S. jet fighters-bombers taking off from nearby Da Nang Air Base filled the air, and in the coolness of the one-time French Foreign Legion headquarters the colonel occasionally suspended his questioning to permit the noise to subside.

The colonel tossed his cigarettes upon the table and each took one. He offered them the choice of coffee or a cold drink. They took the cold drink.

Then, to the boy on the right: "Your name?" "Nguyen Van Hoan." "Military outfit?"

"270th Regiment, 3rd Company, 1st Battalion." "Born?"

"1942, Tien Loc district, Ha Tinh Province, North Viet Nam." Occupation before entering the army?

"Farmer." Nguyen Van Hoan had not the appearance of a soldier and scarcely could be classed as one.

He had been drafted into the Communist North Vietnamese army late in 1964. His Communist mentors gave him two months' training in propaganda and in the use of a rifle and hand grenades. They told him he was going south to liberate South Viet Nam from the Americans.

In a company of 100 men he walked two days in daylight, and six more traveling only at night. They crossed the Ben Hai River dividing North and South Viet Nam at the 17th parallel and established camp in the jungled mountains close to South Viet Nam's border with Laos.

Then one day, they moved on the village of An Mo. The villagers set up an alarm and

The three young Viet Cong prisoners sat impassively at a table facing the South Vietnamese colonel who was their interrogator.

Their smooth faces and small stature suggested that they should be school boys. They were, in fact, in their mid and early 20's.

Besides, he was just starting. Given a few more An Mo's more teaching at the hands of experienced propagandists, and Nguyen Van Hoan might have developed into the well-trained resourceful fighter the Viet Cong have proven themselves to be,

Nguyen Van Hoan obviously was not much of a fighter. But he could fire a rifle and throw a grenade. And the lethal qualities of a bullet do not necessarily reflect the metal of a man.

Nguyen Van Hoan was too much for Nguyen Van Hoan. He became ill and surrendered to the first people he saw, a group of farm children. It made no difference that he had been told that, if captured, the Americans would execute him.

MARQUIS CHILDS WRITES ON WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON—A key to the tragedy of the Dominican Republic is to be found in one word: That word is "sugar." In the rough, money-plus-politics game of the world sugar market the little Caribbean republic is a pathetic pawn. And now here in Washington back-scenes maneuvering threatens to bar the American market not only to Dominican sugar but to the sugar of other Latin-American nations as well.

Always struggling to find dollar earners in rich Yankee land, these nations must export commodities and sugar is one of the most important. Powerful pressures have built up from the subsidized beet sugar growers here at home to impose a tax of three cents a pound on all imported sugar. Officials of the Departments of State and Agriculture have been wrestling with this one and they believe a compromise is in sight. Thanks to the intervention of the sugar refiners, the tax will be one cent instead of three.

But this will be enough to keep out the sugar of the Dominican Republic where, by the end of 1963, wholly unrealistic production costs were greater than the subsidized American price of just under seven cents a pound. While these costs have dropped they are still so high as to put Dominican sugar out of reach of the American market and far out of line with a world price ranging around 2½ cents.

The beet sugar growers work and minimizes the three hits the enemy has made on his plane. "I know I've got some flak sites," he said. "And I know I've missed at least one bridge." "But it takes only from 30 to 50 seconds from the time you roll in toward your target until you start to pull out."

"When you're making a pass, you only have time to think about your airplane, your sight and that target. As soon as you release your bombs, you pull out and get out. Somebody else can tell you later where you've hit."

"You're likely to be knocked down if you go back for a look yourself." Some days he flies one mission. Some days two. There always is the possibility of a sudden night air support mission to help hard-pressed ground troops. Edelblute sleeps on the base. His only relaxation is a weekly trip into town to eat at a Chinese restaurant. He likes corn soup with crab.

This is how he feels about what he is doing: "I just want the people back home to know that we are really in a war. This is not just a game over here."

"The work we have done is positive. I feel it is having its effect." "Blute" takes quite a lot of kidding about his bachelor status. He explains it this way: "The girl who marries me will have to marry the Air Force, too. So far I haven't found one willing to do both, although last year I thought I had."

Any girl who does say "yes" to Capt. Edelblute can be sure of two things — she'll be wedded to a fine officer as well as a fine Air Force. You'd think our girls would be standing in line for a chance like that, wouldn't you now?

Painting Found in Railway Station Baggage Room

LONDON (AP) — Goya's portrait of the Duke of Wellington has been found in the baggage room of a British railway station and returned to the National Gallery after spending three years and nine months in the hands of a thief.

The painting, valued at $392,000, seemed unharmed, officials of the museum said.

The thief apparently gave up his attempts to ransom the painting, checked it in the baggage room at the Birmingham railroad station and sent the claim check to a London newspaper — the Sunday Mirror — with a letter, the paper turned them over to police.

Ronald Lawson, checkroom attendant at Birmingham, said he was on duty when the painting, carefully wrapped in brown paper and protected by a wooden cover and wood shaving, was checked in.

Lawson said he thought nothing of it at the time.

Lawson said a tall man in his early 20s had checked it.

The Goya, was collected Friday night, identified Saturday and is now in a safe at the gallery.

The person who stole the Goya had entered the National Gallery on Aug. 22, 1961, during the day, waited until the gallery closed for the night, and then made off with the painting sometime before midnight.

Because the painting was so well known it was difficult to sell. The thief had written offering to return the Goya to the gallery, under varying conditions. At first, he sought $392,000 in cash. He said the thief was an act that attempted "to pick the pockets of those who love art more than charity."

Another letter offered to re-locate the portrait on condition that it be put on view for a month with 70 cents entrance fee for charity.

The last letter in March said: "I know I am in the wrong, but I have gone too far to retreat. Liberty was risked in what I mistakenly thought was a magnificent gesture — all to no purpose so far."

The man who deposited the Goya in the Birmingham railroad office had given the name "Bloxham" — believed to be false. The painting was checked there May 5. An excess charge of 98 cents was owed on it.

The Goya portrait had been sold at a Sotheby auction in June, 1961, to Charles Wrightsman, a wealthy American art collector.

Britons began an immediate outcry about the art treasure going abroad.

Wrightsman offered the painting to the National Gallery for its original purchase price. It was bought by the Wolfson Foundation and the government on Aug. 3, 1961, and soon placed on exhibition in the National Gallery.

A few days later it was stolen.

ON DEAN'S LIST
COLORADO STATE UNIVERSITY, Fort Collins, Colo. — Wayne F. Wright, Route 1, Colorado, is on the dean's list at Colorado State University's College of Science and Arts. Wright has maintained a 4 average for all winter studies.

son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd H. Olsen, Kimberly, will be honored during a testimonial at 7:30 p.m. May 30, at the Kimberly LDS Church. He will leave June 7, for the mission home in Salt Lake City. Olsen has just finished his first year at Utah State University, Logan, Utah.

Landing Strip Nearly Finished

BOISE (AP) — Completion of a new landing strip at Smiley Creek, in the Sawtooth Valley midway between Alturas Lake and Galena Summit, is expected in the week beginning June 6, State Aeronautics Director Chet Moulton reported today.

He said a work project is planned that week. It originally was scheduled for the coming week, Moulton said, but was postponed because the strip still is covered with snow.

The department graded the air strip last fall.

PAYMENT MADE
BOISE (AP) — Idaho has made its first payment on a section of property behind the statehouse that is being considered as site for a new state office building.

Gov. Robert W. Smylie reported Friday that an initial payment of $85,000 has been put in escrow and that the remaining $20,000 will be paid when the deed is delivered to the state.

YOUTH ARRESTED
BOISE (UPI) — A Boise teenager was arrested today on a charge of illegal consumption of beer after a car in which he was riding allegedly ran down a man on his lawn.

Sheriff's deputies identified the youth as RICHARD W. FORNEY, 18, of 1815 Warm Springs Ave.

They said he and other teenagers were in a small foreign car, later impounded, that allegedly backed onto the lawn of the Kenneth Zanders residence early today. When Zanders and a brother, Leonard, went to investigate the noise, they said the car knocked Kenneth Zanders down—causing facial and shoulder injuries. He later was hospitalized.

MEET ENDS
BOISE (AP) — Discussions covering legislation and its impact on the mining industry highlighted the closing sessions today of the annual meeting of the Idaho Mining Association.

Speakers included Rep. Compton I. White, D-Idaho, Sen. Len B. Jordan, R-Idaho, and J. Alton Overton Jr., of Washington, D. C., executive vice president of the American Mining Congress.

ELECTROCUTED
HORSESHOE BEND, Idaho (AP) — A 27-year-old Boise man was electrocuted Friday while working on an Idaho Power Co. project at Horseshoe Bend.

Authorities said Eddy D. Stample was pronounced dead on arrival at a hospital despite efforts to revive him by mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.

Boise County Deputy Sheriff Sam Chartors said Stample was leaning against a boom truck when an uninsulated part of the boom hit a high voltage wire.

BOISE (AP) — Ray J. Parker of Wallace has been re-elected president of the Idaho Civil Defense Association, which concluded its annual meeting in Boise Friday.

Other officers re-elected were Lewis Ross, Idaho Falls, vice president; Mrs. Juanita Parker, Nevis, Pocatello; Bob Gray, Idaho Falls; Mrs. Ella Whitney, Mountain Home; James Shull, Lewiston; and Forrest Potter, Bonners Ferry, directors.

Cocacola was chosen as site for the 1966 meeting.

PRESIDENT NAMED
BOISE (AP) — Charles E. Schwab of Kellogg was elected president today of the Idaho Mining Association, succeeding Frank Hendrickson of Soda Springs who continues as a member of the board of directors.

Chosen as the new vice president at the association's annual convention was Norman Visnes of Wallace.

TREES SPRAYED
BOISE (UPI) — The State Agriculture Department has asked Canyon County Commissioners to warn property owners in the Canyon County cherry fruit fly abatement district to spray their trees.

Director Leland J. Fife of the Bureau of Plant Industry said the cherry fruit fly has emerged in that county. Fife said any species of cherry trees growing in the abatement district must be sprayed on or before next Tuesday since an emergency exists.

SIGNUP STARTS
BOISE (AP) — The Idaho Department of Employment reports it will begin accepting Monday applications for the 115 Job Corps openings it has been allotted by the Office of Economic Opportunity.

H. Fred Garrett, department executive director, said youths between the ages of 16 and 21 who have been out of school a minimum of three months and who are unable to compete for jobs because of the lack of a high school education are eligible to apply for the openings which must be filled by May 31.

WORKSHOP SET
BOISE (AP) — A Bureau of Land Management fire control workshop is scheduled to open in Boise next Monday.

Joe Fallini, state BLM director, said bureau fire control officers from the 11 western states will take part in the two day program.

2 APPOINTED
BOISE (AP) — Gov. Robert E. Smylie has announced the re-appointment of two members of the Idaho State Plumbing Board.

They are Harold M. Buroker, Bonners Ferry, and Lowell D. Kuykendall, Twin Falls.

TRIAL SLATED
COLDWELL (UPI) — District Judge Gilbert C. Norris, Weiser, has scheduled trial of Philip Eugene Kobo, 35, Nampa, on a first-degree murder charge the week of July 12-16.

Kobo pleaded innocent to the charge when he appeared in district court yesterday. He is accused of fatally shooting his wife, Vincenza, 34, on St. Patrick's Day.

REPORT GIVEN
BOISE (AP) — Idaho had the best employment rate in April in a dozen years but the Department of Employment said today improvement from March was less than normal.

The agency said unemployment in April was 4.9 per cent of the working force, the smallest percentage for the month since 1953.

BIDS OPENED
IDAHO FALLS (UPI) — The Atomic Energy Commission will open bids here at 3 p.m. June 16 on a one-year contract to furnish janitorial and maintenance services for its headquarters building and transportation dispatch office.

The contract, for a period beginning July 1, includes labor, supplies and equipment necessary to perform the work.

CONFIDENT
BOISE (AP) — Gov. Robert E. Smylie says he is confident the anti-sales tax stand taken by State Sen. William Deane, D-Idaho, will cost him any chance of winning the governorship in 1966.

Tea Held for Teachers in Hansen Area

HANSEN — A tea was given Thursday afternoon in the school lunchroom to honor teachers who are leaving the faculty this year. Other faculty members, board of trustees members and their wives, and the members of the past PTA executive board also attended. The tea was sponsored by members of the new PTA executive board.

Mrs. Samuel Huck, new PTA president, welcomed the guests. She presented corsages to Mrs. Larry Harvey, Mrs. Clyde O'Dell, Mrs. Jean Farley and Lynda Hansen, who are leaving the faculty this year.

Hal Boulton, as past PTA president, and Ferris Freestone, outgoing trustee member, were also given special recognition. Lee McCoy, the new trustee member, was introduced.

Supt. William Barnard spoke briefly, thanking the teachers and trustees for their efficient work during the past year.

Sam Kevan played two piano selections.

New Beauty College for T.F. Planned

Juan Menchaca, who owns and operates the Stylist Beauty Shop in the Lynwood Mall, is in the process of renovating the basement of the Stylist building for a beauty college which he hopes to open by June 1.

Menchaca, who was raised in the Hagerman Valley area, said that although the college would include the regular beauty courses, emphasis will be placed on styling imagination.

Menchaca took his advanced styling training in California and returned to the Magic Valley area about seven years ago, because, "I wouldn't live anywhere else. People really live here."

While in California Menchaca won many awards for his styling and in 1957, when Miss Sweden won the Miss Universe pageant, he styled her hair for the pageant.

Mr. Juan's College of Hair Design, which is the name of Menchaca's new venture, will employ one full time instructor besides himself.

The interior of the shop is being decorated in shades of pink, red and white.

In the rear of the shop is a large classroom, with the front portions being devoted to the latest in hair styling equipment.

Menchaca states he will enroll 15 students at a time and already has seven enrolled for the first session.

John Wolfe Is Named New Trust Officer of T.F. Bank

John J. Wolfe, Twin Falls banker, is the new trust officer of the Twin Falls Bank and Trust Co. according to an announcement made Saturday by the bank president.

Wolfe replaces William H. Bakes and assumes full time duties on June 1.

Wolfe, a native of Mountain Home, attended the New Mexico Military Academy, the United States Military Academy and Georgetown University, Washington, D. C. He has a degree in law and was first admitted to law practice in the District of Columbia.

Wolfe had several years in legal work with the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and was counsel for the Rubber Manufacturers Association for six years. He was a commissioned officer in the Navy in World War II.

Wolfe moved to Twin Falls in 1950, and although successful in his newly adapted field of real estate, Wolfe has found time to serve the community in many capacities.

He is a past member of the City Commission and is a past director of the Chamber of Commerce and the Kiwanis Club. He has served as president of the Twin Falls Board of Realtors and as president of the high school PTA.

He received the 1963 outstanding senior citizen award as recognition for his community work. He presently is serving his second term as a member of the school district board.

Bakes, trust officer for the Twin Falls Bank and Trust Co. since October 1953, has accepted a similar position with the United California Bank at the main office in Los Angeles.

Bakes practiced law in Twin Falls for several years previous to his becoming associated with the Twin Falls financial institution. The Bakes family will leave Twin Falls for California on June 15.

Honest

ST. JOHNSVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — George Brown 12 bought a $50 bill for 5 cents — and returned the bill.

The money was in a wallet he acquired at a church rummage sale. When he returned to the safe site to report the find, Mrs. Floyd Weaver of St. Johnsville also appeared and said she mistakenly had laid the wallet with others.

She gave George a reward.

Visit Ends

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko ended his visit to Turkey Saturday and a final communique issued before his departure indicated little progress has been made in drawing the Black Sea neighbors closer together.

The Turks apparently failed to get Moscow to give all-out support to Ankara's position on Cyprus.

Water Shortage Stops Fountains

NEW YORK (AP) — The city's 320 ornamental and display fountains have been ordered shut down to save water because of an impending shortage next fall.

Water Commissioner Armand D'Angelo said Friday the prohibition would remain in effect until further notice.

A World's Fair spokesman said none of the fair's many public and private fountains had been turned off.

Area Pupils Honored for Attendance

HANSEN — Supt. William Barnard gave special recognition to students having either perfect attendance or just one day's absence during the past year at the final day of school activities Friday.

Kim Smith was the only student in grade one that had perfect attendance; Connie Russell, Ricky Routt and Roger Sievers, fourth grade; Debbie Motherhead, Jerry Gunter, Bobby Luchich, each missing one day, and Pamela Boulton, Dennis Pollard and Lloyd Sears, all perfect attendance in the fifth grade; Verl Butler, Casey Mori, Roger Perkins and Danny Vawser, perfect attendance and Bobby Haynes and Greg Moore, each missing one day, in the sixth grade; Charles Mori and Don Sievers had perfect attendance in the seventh grade, and Larry Pollard and Lynn Corthell, each missed one day. Susan Huck, Vonda Taylor and Dianne Vawser had perfect attendance records in the freshman class, and Cheston Seamons and Elvina Seamons each missed one day.

Donald Mort and Morgan Stanger had perfect attendance in the sophomore class, and Jan Brown, Virginia Moore, Charlene Lucht and Janice Walker each missed one day.

Galen DePew and Kathy Froehlich, juniors, each missed one day. Gordon Hill, Sam Keivan and Rev Warren had perfect attendance records for the senior class and Jerry Hill missed one day.

The climax of a year's work, a special program, installation ceremonies and a luncheon make up the annual Marion Luncheon held by the St. Edward's Council of Catholic Women. This elegant event, anticipated by members all through the year, was held at the Parish Hall.

Each year in May, this luncheon is held to honor the Holy Mother Mary, which is the theme of the event.

The luncheon tables were beautifully decorated with brandy snifters containing floating blue flowers encircled with greenery extending to blue tapers at each side of the arrangement. The head table was centered with a large floral centerpiece consisting of white daisies and blue snapdragons flanked by blue tapers.

At each place setting was an inspiring printed prayer, a prayer holding great sentimental value to Mrs. Harry O'Halloran. This prayer was left on the desk at her home from her son, Rev. Tom O'Halloran, the night he left for Guatemala, and is a special tribute to mothers. The prayer was printed for each guest by Harry O'Halloran and encased in plastic, courtesy of White's Mortuary.

Mrs. Gary L. Watts and Mrs. Frank Karel presented name tags to the guests as they arrived and Mrs. John Waters was in charge of the guest book, which was signed by approximately 100 women.

Grace was given by the honored guest, Rt. Rev. Msgr. Edmund Cody. Luncheon was served by Leo Soran.

The welcome address was given by Mrs. Donald Zuck, outgoing council president. She thanked her officers and committee heads for all assistance given her this past year.

Mrs. Rudy Ashenbrenner, toastmistress, then introduced the program. A unique presentation of "The Crucifixion" was given by Robert Nora Jr., a student at Twin Falls High School. This presentation has won recognition for Nora through his many performances throughout Magic Valley. Nancy McFarlane was soloist. She sang "Our Lady of Good Council" and "Ave Marie."

Msgr. Cody was featured speaker. He spoke of the progress of the Ecumenical Council. Mrs. Marjorie Hawes, Idaho state past president of the Council of Catholic Women, gave a convention report on both the state and national convention.

A special discussion was led by Mrs. Kelly Cargill

Each officer was presented a corsage, each in a different color to signify the office she will hold.

Mrs. Robert Mingo was general chairman for the event. Her committee chairmen include Mrs. O'Keefe, Mrs. Dick Steering and Mrs. Grant Gillette.

Decorations; Mrs. LeClair, tickets and reservations; Mrs. Cubit, program; Mrs. Joe Bengoechea, favors, and Mrs. Kimmert, printing programs.

This luncheon marked the conclusion of a complete activity-filled year. The activities for the past year are many, including open house for the new Parish Hall, Membership Tea, Harvest Festival, Christmas social, the reception for Msgr. Cody when he received his honor as Protanotary Apostolic, and hosts for the council for the deanery for a day of reflection.

Officers for 1964-65 include Mrs. Zuck, president; Mrs. John Wilford, first vice president; Mrs. William Mingo, second vice president; Mrs. Robert Fries, recording secretary; Mrs. Jankowski, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. LeClair, treasurer.

Hollister OES Unit Observes Mother's Day

Mother's Day was observed at the regular monthly meeting of Hollister Chapter No. 47, Order of Eastern Star, with Mrs. Bill Matney, worthy matron, presiding.

Mrs. Matney honored her mother, Mrs. George McGregor, with a poem, "Young Mother," by Elsie Yale. A corsage was presented to each mother present. George Clark was soloist, accompanying himself on the guitar.

Special introductions were given to Mrs. Roy Grubb, worthy matron of Filer Chapter No. 40; Mrs. Vern Doshier, Meridian Chapter No. 66; Mrs. Dale Kunkel, member of the tellers committee, and Mrs. Ray Clark, grand page of the Grand Chapter of Idaho.

The chapter received a gift from Mr. and Mrs. Carl Poling, who now reside in Germany.

Clark reviewed highlights of the Civil War and sang several songs written at that time.

Mrs. Dora Clark was installed warder, with Mrs. Matney as installing officer, assisted by Mrs. McGregor, marshal.

Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. W. M. McDaniel and Mr. and Mrs. McGregor.

The June 17 meeting will be at the Hollister Masonic Temple. Fathers will be honored.

Bethel No. 43 Elects Leaders

Bethel No. 43, International Order of Job's Daughters, elected officers at a meeting at the Masonic Temple Blue Room.

Officers include Connie Van Astron, honored queen; Cindy Barry, senior princess; Margie Deluca, junior princess; Jan Sinclair, guide, and Janice Nielson, marshal.

Special guests introduced include Dorelyn Jensen, past honored queen; Mrs. Lola Sonius, guardian, and Rolly Severson, pro tem associate guardian.

Kathy Anderson and Miss Nielson gave reports on the Sun Valley trip. A gift was presented to Debby Thompson for selling the most candy. The librarian's report was "The Art of Work," by Wilford Peterson. Jolie of the meeting was Cathy Berry.

The annual birthday anniversary party was held following the meeting.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT MORRIS

Patricia Bush, Morris Wed in April Ceremony

JEROME—The Jerome United Presbyterian Church was the scene for the April 24 wedding ceremony uniting in marriage Patricia Bush, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard J. Bush, and Robert A. Morris, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Morris.

Rev. George R. Barnhart solemnized the double ring nuptials before a background of settings of baskets of pink and white gladioli flanked by lighted tapers in candelabra, accented with huckleberry and an arrangement of white and pink gladioli.

Mrs. John T. Stelle Jr., organist, played the traditional wedding music and accompanied Gail Jones, Caldwell, soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white slipper satin fashioned with a scalloped lace neckline, fitted bodice, and lily point sleeves. The full skirt, that fell into a chapel train, was enhanced with panels of lace.

Her bouffant veil of French illusion was held by a crown of aurora borealis. She carried a white orchid surrounded by pink elfe roses on her Job's Daughters Bible.

The bride carried a handkerchief belonging to her great-grandmother.

Mrs. Lee Thompson, Ogden, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Mrs. Richard Roberts and Mrs. Wilford Allison, sisters of the bride, were bridesmaids and Denise Bush, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid.

Kristi and Karla Roberts, nieces of the bride, were candlelighters.

Raymond Freis served as best man. Ushers were Lonnie Ambrose, Charles Marshall and John Bush, brother of the bride.

Gaye Morris, sister of the bridegroom, presided at the guest book and Mrs. Larry Blamires, Mrs. James Parrish and Connie Creason, Caldwell, displayed the gifts.

The bride's table featured a white organza floor-length skirt over a soft-rose pink cloth. The table was centered with a four-tiered wedding cake decorated with pink rosebuds, swans and bells. The cake was topped with three white satin wedding bells and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Willard Shropshire and Mrs. Norman Hintze cut and served the cake.

Mrs. Allan Blamires and Mrs. Leonard Fry, Westminster, Calif., aunts of the bride, presided at the punch bowl and coffee service.

Gifts were carried by Steve Allison, Ken Allison, Debbie Allison and Kayleen Roberts, nieces and nephews of the bride, and Kathy Blamires, cousin of the bride.

Guests attended from Caldwell, Shoshone, Twin Falls, Wendell, Gooding, Buhl, Washington and Utah.

The bride was feted at a shower at the home of Mrs. William Stauffer, assisted by Mrs. Willard Shropshire.

Dianne Dixon, Winkel Reveal Wedding Date

JEROME—Mr. and Mrs. Ray H. Dixon announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Dianne, to Robert Winkel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anton G. Winkel, Vale, Ore.

Unit Program Is Presented At Joint Meet

Loyal Order of Moose and Women of the Moose held a joint meeting for a program presented by the membership committee.

Mrs. Earl Hoffman, chairman of the membership committee, introduced Paul Newton, city engineer, and Joe Ryan. They spoke on the Twin Falls city water bond issue and problems of our present water system.

The Women of the Moose held their regular meeting with Mrs. George Long, senior regent, presiding.

Pro-tem officers were Mrs. Louis Hoffman, junior regent, and Mrs. Luther Morton, argus. A prize was won by Mrs. John Craven.

It was announced that members would assist with the Cancer fund.

Refreshments were served by the members of the membership committee.

MR. AND MRS. ROYCE DARLING (Burley portraits)

Miss Humbach, Darling Repeat Nuptial Vows

JEROME—Nancy Humbach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Humbach, became the bride of Royce Darling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell D. Darling, all Jerome, in a nuptial Mass solemnized April 10 at the St. Jerome Catholic Church.

Rev. Bernard McBride performed the double ring wedding rites.

Mrs. John Hosman, organist, played the traditional wedding music and accompanied Keith Johansen, soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of Chantilly lace over tulle, fashioned with a figure tracing bodice, scalloped neckline and long lily point sleeves. The bouffant skirt was accented with four-tiers of lace highlighted with sequins.

Her veil of French illusion was attached to a crown of pearls.

She carried a white orchid with blue streamers on a white Bible which belonged to Mrs. Phil Thoman, a close friend of the bride.

Sharon Humbach, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Joyce Duffek and Carol Darling, sister of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids.

Candis Thoman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Thoman, carried the rings on a blue satin and white crocheted pillow.

Larry Darling, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

A reception followed at the Parish Hall. Phyllis Mogensen was in charge of the guest-book and Cindy Malone, Jane Martin, Rita Williams, Cheryl Sheppard and Elesia Overmon arranged the gifts.

A five-tiered wedding cake accented with blue and topped with a cluster of blue roses centered the bride's table. White tapers in crystal holders flanked the cake, which was encircled with smilax and white pom poms. Blue tulle decorated with pink bows covered the table.

Sherril Bailey and Mrs. Willis Brownlee presided at the punch bowl and coffee service and Gail Darling, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Layne Hall, cut and served the cake. Guests attended from Twin Falls, Castelford, Pocatello, Montana and Nevada.

The bride was feted at showers given by Gail Darling and Mrs. Roy Kays; Cheryl Sheppard and Sherril Bailey; Mrs. H. E. Wilson and Mrs. Kenneth Gellings, and Mrs. Michael Danielson and Mrs. Norma Peterson.

Part Four of Lesson Given

CAREY—Part four of "Exploring Right and Wrong Attitudes Through Literature" was the lesson given by Mrs. D. E. Adamson when the LDS Relief Society met in the Relief Society room.

Mrs. Adamson was assisted by Mrs. J. L. Stocking, Mrs. Wendell Wolf and Mrs. Darwin Parke.

Prayers were given by Mrs. B. W. Cameron and Mrs. J. L. Stocking. Mrs. Vernon Woodbury directed singing and Mrs. Darwin Parke was accompanist. The final Relief Society meeting of the season will be held Tuesday.

Mrs. Caldwell Reads Articles

WENDELL—Mrs. Hugh Caldwell read articles on diabetes and cancer for the program at the Wendell Health Council meeting at the home of Mrs. Orlando Jacobson.

Mrs. H. Bailey Lorain, president, presented to gift to Mrs. Arthur Byce, secretary.

Refreshments were served by the hostess. Mrs. Byce is the next hostess.

Eighth Grade Graduation Rites Slated

BUHL—Some 110 eighth grade students will receive their diplomas during graduation exercises slated for 8 p.m. Wednesday in the high school gymnasium, reports Darrell Surber, junior high school principal.

John Walker, second semester student body president, will give the address of welcome, and Steve Walker, first semester student body president, will give the closing address. Karen Atkins will present the "Gettysburg Address."

Highlight of the evening will be the presentation of the citizenship trophy, an annual award given to a student selected by the teaching staff based on the qualities of self-discipline, courteousness, consideration, cooperation, participation and school spirit. Lee Jones will announce the award winner.

Buhl Woman Is Honored at Rites

BUHL—Funeral services for Mrs. Beatrice Christofferson were conducted at 2 p.m. Friday in the Buhl LDS Church by Bishop Don Watson.

Mrs. R. A. Carlson was organist. Mrs. E. B. Johnson was soloist and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Roberts sang a duet. Mrs. Bernice Wennergren played a piano number.

Mose Christofferson gave the family prayer; Bishop H. L. Schaal, the invocation, and Bishop Watson read the obituary. Melvin W. Carter paid tribute and Merrill J. Bean gave the benediction.

Concluding rites were held at 2 p.m. Saturday in the Richmond, Utah, cemetery. The dedicatory prayer was by Bishop Rulon Thompson.

Local Boy Scout Council Honored

Snake River Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, is among 41 councils in the United States that have been cited for the number of their community organizations that use the "whole scout family"—Cub Scouting, Boy Scouting and Exploring.

The special recognition was announced at the 55th annual meeting of the Boy Scouts of America at Bal Harbour, Miami Beach, Fla.

It was announced at the national meeting there are 91,576 local institutions using the scouting program in the United States.

Art Exhibit Is Held at Paul By Sixth Graders

PAUL—The first art exhibit for the Paul school was inaugurated Thursday by members of Mrs. Dennis Johnson's sixth grade class.

More than 100 items were displayed by 30 students in the school gymnasium.

The exhibition included leather tooling, free hand drawing, painting, coloring, Mosaic art, sewing and soap carving.

Among the outstanding articles was a knife which was made by Steven Young, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Young using an electric welder, grinding stone and cutting torch.

One section of displays presented miscellaneous items which had been taken from the junk box artistically arranged on sheets of paper resulting in quaint pictures.

Tax Plan Given to Congress Is Termed "Fiscal Dividends"

NEW YORK (AP) — The Johnson Administration handed Congress a $4 billion excise-tax cut proposal this week.

The President called the program "a fiscal dividend." Businessmen generally were in enthusiastic agreement. So, it appeared, was Congress.

Items affected are as diverse as cigarette lighters and safe-deposit boxes; air conditioners and bowling alleys; pool tables and fountain pens. Some cuts, those of taxes on furs, luggage, toilet articles and jewelry, would do away with the tax paid by the consumer at the store counter. Others would trim or drop entirely taxes paid by the manufacturer and passed on to the consumer.

Johnson's program would drop $1.75 billion worth of these long-standing taxes on products and services on July 1; another $1.75 billion worth would disappear on Jan. 1. Subsequent reductions totaling $464 million would take effect on Jan. 1 of each year from 1967 through 1969. Excise taxes on telephone service, last to be phased out, would be eliminated that year.

Johnson asked that the excise tax on automobiles, biggest item on the list, be halved from about $230 on the average car to $115 by 1967. The House Ways and Means Committee went one step further, proposing a wiping out of the tax by 1968.

In any case, July 1 tax cuts on cars and air conditioners, products now in heavy demand, would be retroactive to last week to prevent a slowdown in buying in anticipation of lower prices.

"This is not our first tax cut," Johnson told Congress. "It will not be our last."

The proposed $4 billion reduction was more than double what Johnson had recommended in January. Prosperity, he explained, had put the government in a better position to afford it: income tax revenues both in fiscal 1965 and 1966 are expected to be $1.5 billion higher than anticipated.

Excise tax cuts also may be needed, some observers added, to help take the sting out of a $5 billion a year increase in Social Security taxes due to start Jan. 1.

Economic figures released during the week generally were favorable, but some showed a slowdown in gains. Government statistics for April listed higher personal income and industrial production. Nonfarm employment increased, as did factory orders for durable goods. Corporate profits in the January-March quarter were higher.

The President's council of economic advisors said there was "every reason to expect a great many more months of good economic expansion" for a business

Nominees Are Selected for Area C. of C.

HEYBURN — The nominating committee presented a slate of officers at the Chamber of Commerce meeting Wednesday evening.

The election will be held the third Wednesday in June, and officers will be installed in July unless a special meeting is held earlier.

Members will be mailed an election form which must be filled out and returned to the secretary within five days after the election, if they are unable to attend the meeting.

The nominating committee consists of Wayne Watson, J. R. Brown and Jerry Cox. Elected will be a vice president, two directors for a three-year term, one director for a one-year term and secretary-treasurer.

Members voted to accept the house numbering system prepared by the Mountain States Telephone Co., Burley. The committee was instructed to work out a plan with the village board concerning a project where each dwelling will be required to display street number.

Letters were read from the Wilbur Hall post No. 77, Paul American Legion, and from eight Boys' Staters thanking the chamber for its financial assistance in sponsoring the boys.

New members for the chamber this month are Robert Burnham and Robert Bray of the Mini-Cassia Equipment Co., Lowell; Dayley and Vlado (Bud) Scovil.

Guard Units To Train in Kentucky

Units of the 1st Reconnaissance Squadron, 116th Armored Cavalry, Idaho Army National Guard with Magic Valley stations in Hailey, Jerome, Twin Falls, Buhl and Gooding will leave at 8 a.m. June 14, for Fort Knox, Ky., and their annual training exercise.

The Magic Valley squadrons will join with units from Weiser, Payette, Homedale, Caldwell and Boise for the Kentucky training.

The squadron will travel to Gowen Field by military vehicle then be airlifted to Kentucky.

The 2nd Squadron, 107th Armored Cavalry, Ohio, will train at Gowen Field this year. The unit will arrive June 15 to start its training.

The exchange units, after they arrive at their training site, will use the equipment of the exchange unit from the normal training period and then return to their home state by airlift.

The training is designed to test the responsiveness and capability of National Guard units to perform their mission anywhere if needed.

COMFORT SOUND HEARING INSTRUMENT DEVELOPED

A new hearing instrument just introduced by World Famous Telex Laboratories brings a totally new comfort to those who need hearing help. It is especially for those who have used a hearing aid, or those who could not become accustomed to the loud background noises of ordinary hearing aids.

New super tiny electronic circuits eliminate most unwanted noise to allow you to hear clearly as nature intended. Speech and music are clear as a bell when you wear this new aid. Harsh loud sounds that can cause such discomfort with ordinary hearing aids are automatically softened with Telex COMFORT SOUND CONTROL.

The new Telex Comfort Sound Instruments are especially valuable in correction of nerve deafness, and the problems of those who hear but don't understand.

It allows you to understand words spoken softly from across the room, in noisy crowds, or on a busy street with noisy traffic. Best room, in noisy crowds, or on a busy street with noisy traffic. Commissioner's Remarks on Zoning Scored by T.E. Man

Editor, Times-News:
Open letter to Morris Carlson.
I admire you, I voted for you, and I campaigned for you, but now I disagree with you in reference to your statement in Wednesday's Times-News where you refer to "misinformation" being spread "by devious means by a self appointed few" about zoning.

Your predecessor, Mr. Warren Lowery, subjected himself to a great deal of abuse in the three hearings, because the commissioners felt they had a moral obligation, if not a legal one, to give the public a chance to speak out. He stated that the commissioners wanted citizens to get together and come up with a better proposal than Mr. DeSpain's.

So the Citizens Committee on Zoning was formed. At the first meeting, advertised to the public, about 40 persons elected a working committee, and a chairman, Dr. Clark (not self-appointed) for the purpose of looking into the proposed zoning ordinance and finding how it could be improved.

Dr. Clark is a fine, intelligent and very reasonable man. The second meeting was held at Washington School, thanks to Mr. Ragland, who rightly considers zoning a matter of public interest to everyone. (For this he has been severely criticized.)

At this meeting, 80 citizens contributed $128 for the purpose of printing and distributing the questionnaire to which you refer, in order to get a better idea of what sort of zoning the rest of the citizens of this county want.

As yet the only "misinformation" I've seen was in the pamphlet passed out by the Zoning Administration, "The Facts About Zoning," which states for example, that "zoning is not concerned with construction standards," which in the case of the proposed zoning ordinance is not true.

We would like to hold more meetings in the schools, where more people can attend and express themselves, but until the pressure is off Mr. Ragland we may not be able to do so.

Now, Mr. Carlson, we all want fair zoning. Is there any reason we cannot work together, as was urged by Mr. Lowery?

Gannett Man Corrects Error In Fishing Access Article

Editor, Times-News:
Will you please print a correction on the article in the Sunday sports section entitled "Sportsmen-Landowners to Try Arbitration on Fishing Access"? You quoted Bud Purdy, in the next to last paragraph, as saying, "Right now you have access to about five-eighths of the stream. He did not say five-eighths."

Actually over 95 per cent of Silver Creek is open to public fishing. By actual count at Saturday's meeting it was determined that about one and a half miles of Silver Creek and its tributaries is all that is closed. All of this area is made up of the places where the stream runs by or through the owners' yards and corrals.

As I said at the meeting, by the time a man puts half a million dollars into buying a place, he should be entitled to one or two fishing holes right in front of his house.

I would like to point out that there is a difference between closing a stream to fishing and asking a party to leave without fishing because they've driven through your yard at 50 miles an hour without permission or consideration for anyone. Or tromped or driven carelessly through a hay or grain field, frightened livestock and left the stream lined with empty beer cans.

No fisherman with consideration for personal property rights has ever been refused fishing privileges on this ranch, except for the areas directly adjacent to the houses and corrals. We wouldn't even ask permission to tramp through anyone else's front yard, much less do it without permission, and feel that we should be given the same courtesy.

We hope that you will print this letter with as big a headline as has been used on the other articles. Most of the trouble between landowners and sportsmen over Silver Creek has been caused by misinformation put out by a few trouble makers who don't know how to behave themselves on someone else's property.

Events of Today Border on Insanity, T.E. Man Claims

Editor, Times-News:
Because I respect and believe in the constitutional law on which this country was founded and became the greatest nation in the history of our civilization, it never occurred to me that I, too, might be classified as an ultra-conservative (whatever that is).

The name-calling was, as usual, directed at the John Birch Society founder, Robert Welch, and his reference to the United States as becoming insane.

As I view today's parade of events, it would seem that Robert Welch is a very discerning individual.

For instance, for our government to give millions of dollars of American money to Communist Poland, which Poland in turn gives to H. Chi Minh's Communist regime in North Vietnam, whom we are fighting in South Vietnam, borders on insanity.

That for the United States government to pay for the sending of bubble gum to Turkey or Metracal to Cambodia, under the guise of international development, borders on insanity.

That for protestant clergymen to give public parties for known homosexuals, borders on insanity.

That for the federal government to set up an organization and spend tax money to relieve poverty in such cities as Beverly Hills, Calif., borders on insanity.

That for high schools to promote pornography under the guise of sex education, borders on insanity.

That for the American people to continue to meekly take these things for granted, borders on insanity.

T.F. Writer Urges Property Owners Read Zone Proposal

Editor, Times-News:
It seems that every time a politician gets caught in some shenanigan he is either misquoted, misunderstood or misrepresented.

I am referring to the new county zoning proposal which affects every rural property owner in the county. If you own property outside the city this does not affect you. This proposal would give a select group of appointed individuals complete control over your real property.

I would suggest that every rural property owner get a copy of this proposed zoning ordinance and find out just how vicious it is. I could go into detail on this matter but I would probably be accused of misrepresentation. This way, if the property owners themselves study this lengthy proposal, they can find out just how dangerous it is and what it can do toward helping to turn us into a police state.

Don't ignore it — If you own property outside the city it does concern you. Read it and act.

Water Bond Group Praised; Auditorium Effort Is Urged

Editor, Times-News:
Congratulations to Armour Anderson and his TWIN (Talk Water Improvements Now) Committee.

Over 76 per cent of the property owners, within the city limits of Twin Falls, have voted to obligate their property for more and better water to the tune of $2.5 million and before that $1.75 million dollars for modern sewage disposal; already installed and working.

It shows the world we have confidence in our elected members of our city council, our city manager and engineering staffs; and we expect and trust in their integrity.

Now, let's get our heads together on the civic auditorium. I still maintain it is proper and right for the city council to accept this one-half million dollars and take the responsibility of building and operating a civic center and auditorium under an arrangement similar to the airport commission.

Another thought—let's extend our city limits from the canyon to the airport and east and west.

Citizens Zoning Group Member Raps Criticism

Editor, Times-News:
I would like to inform the readers of the Times-News that I was present at the organizational meeting of the Citizen's Committee on Zoning.

I was one of three citizens who counted the ballots which elected the executive committee. I would venture to say that the citizens present at this meeting were just as "good, solid, and intelligent" as the 150 mentioned in your front-page article of May 19. In fact, they may well be even better informed because many of them have studied the proposed ordinance in great detail—something which few people (including commissioners) have done. What more does it take for a citizen's committee?

These citizens should not be discredited on the front page of our local newspaper by one man who does not know all the facts

T.F. Writer Brings Out Data On Controversial Issue

Editor, Times-News:
Perhaps a few significant facts should be brought out concerning the book "Why We Can't Wait" and Mrs. Doramus' letter. First, this book does not "preach gospels of hatred and revolution that stir up strife."

I quote, "Why We Can't Wait": "The doctrine they (the Negroes) preach was a nonviolent doctrine. It was not a doctrine that made their followers yearn for revenge but one that called upon them to champion change. It was not a doctrine that asked an eye for an eye but one that summoned men to seek to open the eyes of blind prejudice."

"The Negro turned his back on force not only because he knew he could not win his freedom through physical force but because he believed that through physical force he could lose his soul."

This practice of nonviolent action was not taken from Karl Marx, but from Henry David Thoreau (1817-1862). (See "Civil Disobedience"—H. D. Thoreau.)

Second, it is obvious that Mrs. Doramus' source of reference to lack of morals in the marches was that "distinguished" legislator from Alabama whose slanderous statements were made under congressional immunity so that the accused could not defend themselves. This may be Alabama "justice" but is it in the American tradition of "innocent until proven guilty?"

I hope this will cause people to think straight where the freedom of fellow Americans is concerned.

T.F. Man Says Zoning Group Gives Facts in Its Booklets

Editor, Times-News:
Twin Falls County has three good men serving as county commissioners. Let us hope their office will be one of service to all citizens of Twin Falls County.

I have taken time to read the suggested ordinance for county zoning. I think it is a sad affair that Twin Falls County paid several thousand dollars to an out-of-state man to hatch up such a plan.

We know that zoning in a reasonable way is now mandatory, and will likely never please everyone. I do not question that zoning has merits from the standpoint of sanitation, junkyards, and a number of nuisances.

As for the statement in the Times-News Wednesday that a few self-appointed citizens have circulated misinformation in pamphlets, that these citizens would conform to nothing, is a rather unkind and thoughtless statement.

I do not know who these men are but after reading the ordinance and the pamphlet, I find the pamphlet contains information, not misinformation. These men are using their rights as citizens to bring facts to the people.

If you want the facts, read the ordinance, then judge.

I wish the Times-News would print the zoning ordinance, a part each day. It is interesting reading and will place the voters in a position to know what they voted for with their eyes closed.

Lets hope much thoughtful consideration will take place before the zoning plan goes into effect.

Pathologist Nominated to College Board

Dr. B. N. Carle, pathologist at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital, has been asked to serve on the Twin Falls Business College advisory board. Dr. Carle will replace Dr. Fred T. Kolouch who is moving to Salt Lake City.

The advisory board met Wednesday evening at the college. Those present were Curtis Eaton, Juneau Shinn, Jack Muldowney, Sterling Larson, Leonard Maus, Earl Carlson, Randall Wilson and Karl Black. D. B. Bradshaw, Wendell, also is a member of the board.

Wilson reported that the college has received notice of the continuation of its accreditation as a two-year school of business by the Accrediting Commission for Business Schools, Washington, D.C.

Topics of discussion were transferability of credits and methods of better informing the business community of the availability of training for office personnel.

Graduation Event Held At Richfield

RICHFIELD — "Onward and Upward" was the Richfield high school commencement motto for the class of 1965 and also the subject of the guest speakers, Dr. James Taylor, Twin Falls, new president of the College of Southern Idaho. Dr. Taylor admonished the graduates to know themselves, their likes, needs and dislikes, as well as reasons for them. He said to develop a philosophy of life by studying facts they know, taking into consideration the things that can destroy a person. "A greater depth of training is needed by graduates to face the world today," Dr. Taylor stated, while asking the graduates to seek post-high school education.

Supt. F. R. Briggs introduced Dr. Taylor. The welcome addresses were given by Elaine Davis and Sandra Kelly, salutatorians.

Principal Percy Christensen made presentations of scholastic awards to Janet Flavel, Miss Kelly and Miss Davis, perfect attendance to Karen Crowther, and athletic awards to Miss Flavel and Roy Parker.

Americanism awards by the American Legion were awarded to Linda Williams and Jan Jansen.

Musical numbers were presented by the high school girl's chorus, the Seven Wonders, girl's singing group, and a woman's trio composed of Mrs. W. T. Flavel, Mrs. Lyle-Deeds and Mrs. L. T. Sanders. Phyllis Flavel, Mrs. Sanders and Mrs. Kenneth Johnson were piano accompanists.

Clifford Conner, school board chairman, expressed appreciation to the parents and residents of Richfield for assistance at the time of the elementary school fire, and for passing the bond issue needed to rebuild the school.

GOODING JUNIOR HIGH School was named "Frahm Junior High School" in honor of Frahm, right, and Florence Frahm, who together have given 96 years of public school teaching. The women stand in front of a banner showing the name of the new school. The announcement of the name was made by Elmer Meyer at the eighth grade graduation ceremony Wednesday afternoon in the junior high school auditorium. Ida Frahm retires this year after having taught in Gooding schools for 43 years and six years in other places. Her sister, who teaches first grade, has taught 43 years in Gooding and four years before coming to Gooding. Dee Keller, superintendent, presented Ida Frahm with a wristwatch on behalf of board of trustees. (Times-News photo)

Astros Rally To Gain Split With Giants

HOUSTON (AP)—Willie Mays hit his 16th and 17th home runs but the San Francisco Giants had to settle for a split of their day-night doubleheader with Houston Saturday when pinch hitter Nellie Fox' run-scoring single in the eighth inning of the nightcap gave the Astros a 3-2 comeback victory. Mays cracked a two-run homer in the Giants' 10-1 afternoon victory and hit another two-run shot in the first inning of the night game. Houston, however, touched Giant starter Jack Sanford for a run in their half of the first, tied the score against Japanese reliever Masonari Murakami in the seventh on a pinch-hit homer by Joe Gaines and broke the tie on Fox' hit after a single by Rusty Staub and a walk to John Bateman. Marichal spaced seven hits and struck out six while breezing to his seventh straight victory against the Astros. The only Houston run was unearned, the result of Jim Hart's error. Kansas City Cops 6-2 Win From Twins

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Fred Talbot and John Wyatt combined to tame Minnesota while Kansas City pounded four Twins' pitchers for a 6-2 victory Saturday. Rookie catcher Rene Lachemann drove in two Kansas City runs with a sacrifice fly and single, while Ken Harrelson stroked three hits, including a double and triple, and scored twice. Mike Hershberger homered for the A's in the ninth. The Athletics benefited from two misplays by Twins' starter Jim Kaat for two of their runs. Kaat wild-pitched a run home in the first, and his wild throw to third on a pickoff attempt in the fourth led in another run. Kansas City 200 200 011—6 13 0. Minnesota 001 000 010—2 10 1. Liston Favored To Dethrone Clay In Return Match

LEWISTON, Maine (AP)—The Cassius Clay-Sonny Liston heavyweight title fight, banned in Boston as one postponement, will be held Tuesday night in the 4,900-seat Central Maine Youth Center in this town. Liston, a far cry from the old days of ballpark selling, is rated a favorite by the Las Vegas odds makers to win back the championship he lost Feb. 25, 1964, when he quit in his corner, claiming a damaged left shoulder. One hernia operation and several legal squabbles later, Clay finally will give Liston the promised return bout. The 15-round match is expected to gross a total of $5 million, largely from closed circuit television to 256 theaters and arenas with a seating capacity of one million. The fight originally had been scheduled for Nov. 16 at the Boston Garden, with its 13,900 seats, but Clay was forced to undergo an operation for a hernia and the match was postponed. Later it was switched, after a legal squabble, here. It is estimated that the live gate, with a $100 top, will be $337,000. The promoters think the lower rent, plus the chance to pick up 30,000 theater seats in the Boston area, originally blacked out, will result in a larger gross than originally expected. Clay who prefers to be called by his Black Muslim name—Muhammad Ali—hasn't fought since the controversial title bout at Miami Beach. Neither has Liston.

Boros Hangs On to Lead in Memphis Golf

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Julius Boros had to adopt a gambling, scrambling game Saturday after he lost his magic touch but still managed to shoot a 71 to hold on to a one-stroke lead after three rounds of the $60,000 Memphis Open Golf Tournament. Boros approached the 18th green in a tie for the lead but sank a four-foot birdie putt to take sole control of the No. 1 spot with a 54-hole score of 201. Boros, who started the day four strokes ahead of the field, will go into Sunday's final round just one stroke up on Bob McCallister of Corona, Calif., who shot a 66 for a total of 202. Tied for third place were young Johnny Potts, who shot his second straight 67 for a 203 and former U.S. Open champion Gene Littler, who came in with a 69 for his 203. Liston referred to the World Boxing Association withdrawal of recognition of Clay for the coming fight and the unsuccessful attempt by WBA champion Ernie Terrell to get a court order restraining Clay from using the term world champion.

Oregon Dethrones USC in PAC Track and Field Championship

PULLMAN, Wash. (UPI)—The University of Oregon Saturday dethroned once-proud Southern California as seven defending individual champions went down to defeat in the Pacific Athletic Conference Track and Field Championships on Rogers Field here. Five meet records were set and a sixth was tied as the meet was held under threatening skies with temperatures in the low 50s. Home favorite Washington State finished second—44 points behind Oregon's 52. California was third with 40, while Stanford and Southern California tied for fourth with 34 points each. California was led by Forrest Beatty and Dave Archibald, a pair of speedsters who paced two relay victories and scored 18 points in the sprint events. The pair led the Bears to a record 3:09.3 mile relay victory. They also led Cal's 440-relay quartet to victory in the day's opening event, which saw the first of several disappointments for the Stanford Indians. In that event, Stanford lead-off man Eric Frische's handoff was bobbed by Dale Rubin, and the pass was never completed. The California foursome went 40.9 in winning the event just two weeks ago the Stanford relay team timed 39.7, a pending world record. In the 100-yard dash, favorite Larry Questad of Stanford got a poor start and finished third. Defending mile champion Paul Schlicke, also of Stanford, finished a poor third behind UCLA's Bob Day and two other runners. Beatty was one of two double winners for the day as he clocked 21.3 in the 220, and 46.5 in the 440-yard dash. Archibald, defending champ in the quarter, finished second in both events. The other double winner was Bob Stoecker, Stanford. He won the javelin with a toss of 233 feet, 10 inches and the discus with a heave of 153 feet 10 1/2 inches, unseating defending champions in both events. Ken Moore of Oregon unseated Washington State's Chris Westman in the three mile after winning the steeplechase Friday in the only final. Oregon State's Morgan Groth broke a five-year-old meet record in the 55-yard run with a time of 1:47.5. Roger Johnson of UCLA set a new mark in the

Two Drivers Make Dramatic Comeback

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Two drivers who brushed death at the wheel of a race car made dramatic comebacks Saturday in the third day of time trials for the annual 500-mile automobile race May 31. They are Jim Hurtubise of North Tonawanda, N.Y., badly burned in a racing mishap at Milwaukee last summer, and Ronnie Duman of Indianapolis, who was hospitalized six weeks after the fiery second lap, holocaust which claimed the lives of two other drivers in the 1964 Memorial Day speed classic. Hurtubise's hands were so gnarled with scar tissues that he could not sign his name. But he returned to racing after a long series of skin grafts and plastic surgery. His comeback was marred at the speedway May 15 when he hit the wall in practice and wrecked his car. Duman, 33, was burned last Memorial Day when his car shot through the wall of flame which took the lives of drivers Eddie Sachs and Dave MacDonald. But Saturday he pushed his rear engine Gerhardts Offenhauser through the four-lap circuit of 154.533. Among Saturday's qualifiers were Chuck Stevenson of Newport Beach, Calif., the 1952 national driving champion, and Mel Kenyon of Davenport, Iowa, the 1964 midget racing champion. Kenyon was the eighth rookie to qualify for the race.

BENGALS TAKE SECOND BIG SKY CROWN

Miller Sets Pace As ISU Wins 7 Of 17 Events

POCATELLO (UPI)—Hurdler Ben Miller set a record-breaking pace Saturday to guide Idaho State University to its second consecutive Big Sky Conference track and field championship. The Bengals scored 131 points in the meet, winning 7 of the 17 events. Eight conference records fell and one was established in the 300-yard intermediate hurdles, a new event. Montana State University was second with 106 points, followed by Idaho with 96 and a tie for fourth between Montana State College and Weber State with 54 points apiece.

ISU-Idaho 'Third Game' Set for T.F.

Twin Falls has been selected for the "third game" between the University of Idaho-Idaho State University basketball game. The contest will be played here March 7 with the "King Spud" trophy riding on the outcome.

The game will not count in Big Sky Conference standings but was added by the two schools to allow the state's biggest collegiate rivalry to be seen by more people.

Idaho's Ray McDonald was the only other double winner. He set a record of 56 feet, 3/4 of an inch in the shotput to break the record of 50 feet, 1/2 of an inch set by Evan Hayes of ISU in 1964.

McDonald also broke the discus record with a toss of 169 feet, 7 inches in the preliminaries. The old mark of 166 feet 10 1/2 inches was set by Max Leetzow of Idaho in 1964.

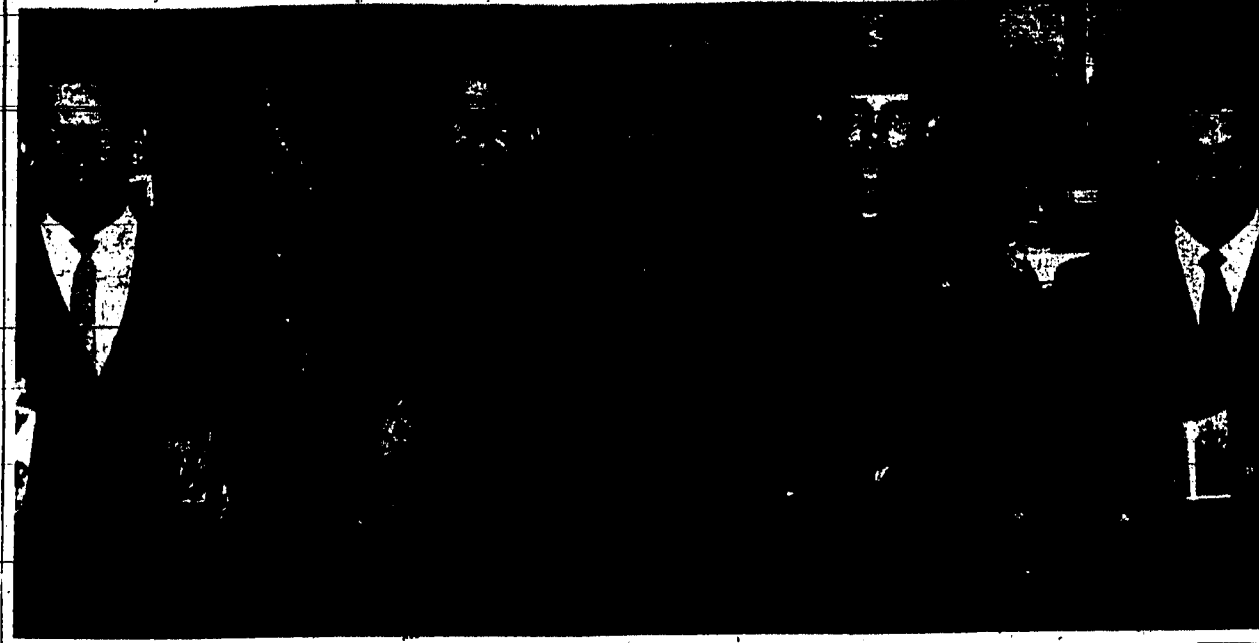

De Wayne Turpin of Idaho won the pole vault with record of 14 feet. Jim Jackson of Idaho set the former mark of 13 feet, 2 inches in 1964.

Montana's outstanding distance runner, Doug Brown, set a conference mile record of 4:12 that broke his own mark of 4:13.7.

Len Frazier of Idaho State broke the 220-yard dash record in 21.3 seconds. John Briggs of ISU had set the former mark of 21.4 seconds in 1964.

Nils Jobson of Idaho set a record of 1:55 in the 880-yard dash. Art Scott set the former mark of 1:59 last year.

Steve Blood of Weber State College leaped 48 feet, 9 1/2 inches in the triple jump to break

Four Local Police Win Shoot Awards

BURLEY—Four members of the Twin Falls City Police Department took home trophies Wednesday from the annual Magic Valley Peace Officers Pistol Shoot while Larry Platt of the Idaho State Police took grand champion honors.

Police Chief M. Barnett and Fred Becker were both double winners with Becker taking first in the practical pistol course and third in the national match course, class B. Barnett had third in both the practical pistol course, class B, and in the aggregate class B.

The other two local winners were Garry Corder, first in the practical pistol course, class B, and Cloyce Edwards, second in the practical pistol course, class A. Edwards missed out on a first place by only one point.

About 45 peace officers participated, from five cities, three counties, the state fish and game department and the state police.

17-Year-Old Thinks Berra Is 'Cute Toy'

NEW YORK (AP) — "He would make a cute toy," Maxine Siegel, 17, said Friday after offering to buy Yogi Berra of the New York Mets for $1.

"I always loved Yogi even when he was a member of the Yankees," she added. "He always seemed so good-natured. He was always talking to the other players. He's a doll."

Maxine, a freshman at City College of New York, became concerned the other day when she noted that the 40-year-old catcher-coach had been placed on waivers for $1.

So she sat down and wrote the following letter to the Mets front office:

"To Whom It May Concern: "I read in the paper a few weeks ago that Yogi Berra was on waivers for one dollar. Since I have been a Yogi Berra fan for many years now and it doesn't seem like anyone really wants him I thought I would buy him. Enclosed you will find my check for the sum of $1.

"Sincerely,
"Maxine Siegel."

The Mets' officials admitted they were placed in an uncomfortable position by the unique offer.

"It's true we did put Yogi on waivers for $1, but it was only a technicality," a spokesman explained. "Before the May 11 cutdown date, it was decided to take Yogi off the player roster and confine him to coaching duties. We were sure he

Pirates, Giants Swap Shortstops

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates announced Saturday they have traded shortstop Dick Schofield to the San Francisco Giants for shortstop Jose Pagan.

Schofield lost his regular job this season to Gene Alley and was hitting .231 with no home runs and six runs batted in.

Alley wouldn't be claimed by another club.

Yogi, on the road with the Mets, said in Milwaukee it was nice to know he was in such demand, but he doubted that the deal would go through.

"She must have me mixed up with that television character, Yogi Bear," he said.

Congress Told to Leave Expansion To Major Leagues

WASHINGTON (AP) — Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick told six congressmen interested in major league expansion Saturday to leave the problem alone and let organized baseball solve it. Frick rejected the Congressional advice, saying, "and when expansion comes, the ultimate decision as to the cities selected must rest with baseball."

He capitalized the "B" in baseball in a letter to the congressmen.

The letter was an answer to a proposal by Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., and five other House members who proposed May 19 that three major leagues of eight teams each be created instead of the present two of 10 teams each.

The proposal, sent to Frick and the heads of the American and National Leagues, suggested that new major league franchises for the 1966 season be granted to the areas from which the congressmen come — Buffalo, N.Y.; Milwaukee, Wis.; Dallas-Fort Worth and one other unnamed city able to qualify.

They also asked for a fair system to provide the new teams with players, extension of pooling of television revenues and distribution of the new clubs among the three proposed leagues.

Frick, in his letter, repeated his belief that expansion some day is inevitable and that rules and regulations dealing with it should be set up now "while thinking can be objective, and not delayed to the last minute when personal desires and selfish interests would enter the picture."

But, he added: "I do not believe that expansion can be attained overnight, nor accomplished by congressional edict; nor can it follow a specific plan, such as contained in your statement.

"The timing of the expansion; the selection of new territories and the rules of procedure, all are matters which must be determined by baseball itself. With a capital B.

Besides Reuss, who released the letter without comment, copies went to Reps. Clement J.

Mantilla and Jones Spark Indians' Win

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mantilla drove in three runs as Cleveland 8-4 Saturday, spoiling the Indians' five-game winning streak and Ralph Terry's bid for his 100th major league victory.

Behind 3-1 in the second inning, the Red Sox scored off Terry on four singles off Terry and came back with three earned runs after two were out in the fourth.

Boston's Dave Morehead gave up a three-run homer to Mantilla in the first inning, and Rocky Colavito hit his eighth home run in the sixth.

Boston scored three runs in the second after Tony Conigliaro was hit by a pitch. Ed Bruce, Bob Tillman, Chuck Schilling and Dalton Jones participated for the runs.

Planted Fish Await Opening of Season

Fish planting by the Idaho Fish and Game Department is reaching a crescendo this week in preparation for the general season opening May 29. District Fish Biologist Stacy Gebhards said thousands of pounds of catchable-sized and fingerling trout have been introduced to impoundments around the area. The streams will receive their quota of catchables next week. One unique planting came off Tuesday when another load of catfish, both channel and flathead species, were placed in the Snake River. A load of about 4,500 was divided between sites in the Glenns Ferry and Hagerman areas. The fish ran from three and one-half inches to 18 inches. Two more loads are expected to come to Magic Valley from the trapping stations on Brownlee reservoir. One load will be committed to Lake Walcott and the other again divided among sites on the Snake River. Switching to trout Gebhards said the fingerling plants are nearly completed on Little Camas, Little Wood, Magic and Fish Creek Reservoirs. Some 17,000 catchable-sized trout were placed in Lake Walcott and others, running about three to a pound, went into Dog Creek Reservoir, Richfield Canal and Anderson Reservoir. Gebhards said the fish at Anderson Reservoir should be taken before late June as water temperatures usually rise early there and the squawfish take over. He added bass and bluegill fish at Dog Creek Reservoir has been running quite good.

28 Elk and 18 Deer Lost to Winter Kill

KETCHUM—A total of 28 elk and 18 deer died during the severe snow conditions of last winter, Dale Tanner, Idaho Fish and Game Department biologist, said after a complete foot search of seven drainages along the Wood River valley. The loss was less than five per cent of the total elk population but one interesting point was that 78 per cent of the deaths occurred within the area where artificial feeding programs were carried out. "I really don't think the feeding saved any of those surviving," Tanner said in announcing the findings of the search. "I believe that moving river near head out (along Wood river near Magic reservoir) saved a number of those animals were down on the bottom where there wasn't any feed." The total ran four bulls, seven cows and 17 calves. "There is some consolation in that number because 75 per cent of the animals lost wouldn't have produced anything in the next two years. And a couple of the cows were old and might not have produced anything either due to age. Overall we feel the loss was very light considering the severity of the winter and deep snows in the area," Tanner added. The bulk of the deaths occurred within the Warm Springs area. The count there ran four bulls, five cows and 10 calves for a total of 19. Other drainages and counts ran Greenhorn, North fork and Lake Creeks, one calf each; the area from the North Fork to Ketchum one cow and two calves, and Deer Creek, one cow.

Pirates Use Late Hitting To Nip Braves

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates, shut out for five innings, exploded behind the hitting of Roberto Clemente and Donn Clendenon Saturday for a 9-4 triumph over the Milwaukee Braves. Clemente started off by beating out an infield single. Willie Stargell then drove his seventh homer into the right-center field bleachers, and Clendenon followed with his second homer near the same spot. The Pirates went ahead to stay with two more runs in the seventh. Providence has a working agreement with the Bears.

Clay Knows Meaning of Fear Even Though He's "Not Scared of Anyone"

By MILTON RICHMAN UPI Sports Writer NEW YORK—The more a guy talks, the more he gives himself away and it's now evident Cassius Clay knows the meaning of fear even though he claims he's "not scared of anyone or anything." Clay loudly insists he isn't frightened of either Sonny Liston or the followers of slain Negro leader Malcolm X, whose followers are reported to be gunning for him. By his own admission, Clay is "a worrier."

Liston doesn't really worry him—"the worst that can happen is that he'll beat me and he ain't gonna do it"—but the enemies of the Black Muslims do worry him even though he says they don't. Some of those close to Clay feel he would like to get out of the Black Muslims but doesn't know how. These same people confide such a move might result in an attempt at his life. On one hand, Clay scoffs at the theory that he was set up as the next target after Malcolm X was killed. "I wasn't hiding from anyone," he said. "I was right out there in broad daylight, not scared of no bombing or nothing. What happened? Nothing. What am I gonna be scared of when I'm right?" That impassioned little speech would make it seem Clay is utterly fearless but after he calmed down a little later on he gave himself away when someone asked him if he was ever frightened about anything in his life. Clay thought over the question a moment, then answered, "The last time I was scared was when I was fighting in the 1960 Olympics." Cassius had a memory lapse on that one. He might have been frightened back there in Rome but he also experienced fear after that. In one of those in-depth interviews, Clay confessed Liston actually frightened him while he was teasing Sonny once around the gambling tables at Las Vegas. The champ apparently had some second thoughts about the special 12-man police detail which was assigned to guard him following a warning that some of Malcolm X's followers were missing from their usual New York haunts. Clay, who usually is a goldmine of information, suddenly turned coy when asked what time he planned to depart Sunday from Chicopee, Mass. for Lewiston, Me. He said he hadn't decided yet. "I might go up early or I might not get there until time for the weigh-in," he hedged. "I might even slip up in the middle of the night." Liston is way off base when he refers to Clay as "a coward." Clay may be a lot of things but he isn't that.

Homers Guide Cards Past Mets by 5-1

ST. Eagles Sue For Exclusive Use of Park

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Eagles sued the city Friday over exclusive professional football rights in the proposed new stadium. The action could scuttle the $25-million project. The Eagles asked Common Pleas Court either to force the city and Mayor James Tate to honor an alleged 1963 agreement giving the National Football League team exclusive rights in the stadium, or injunct all action on the project and declare as invalid the public vote approving financing. The suit claims that if the Eagles don't play in the stadium, the voter approval of the bond issue was "based upon widespread and public misrepresentation." It is alleged that the vote was based on tenancy by the Philadelphia National League baseball club and the Eagles defraying any cost to the taxpayers. Mayor Tate has directed that the Phillies be given an exclusive lease for use of the stadium scheduled for completion in South Philadelphia by the spring of 1967. He has refused the same exclusivity to the Eagles on the ground they use the stadium only seven games a year, and the field should be available for another team if one comes to town. Jerry Wolman, owner of the Eagles, obviously seeks to prevent an American Football League team from sharing the facility. There have been strong reports that the AFL will invade the Philadelphia territory in 1966. At least nine groups have been reported courting a franchise in the younger league.

Diamond Put On List for Honor Queen

A $125 diamond ring, donated by Sterling Jewelry, Twin Falls, has been added to the list of prizes awaiting the winner of the Magic Valley Cowboyy Baseball Queen contest. Some 25 candidates from most Magic Valley communities are vying for the title by selling book tickets. Maurice Roth, chairman of the queen contest committee, said the girls are working hard and noted the pace is ahead of last season. In addition to the title the queen—the girl selling the most tickets—will receive a cash prize as well second and third place finishers. All contestants will receive gifts donated by various businesses. The Pioneer league season will open June 20 although the first home game for the Cowboyy's won't be until June 24. General manager Vance Pulsipher said everything was rounding into shape and noted the spring training session will begin at Jaycee park June 10 or 11.

KEEPS HOPES LARAMIE (AP) — Wyoming's baseball team kept its title hopes alive with a wind blown, error-aided, 10 to 2 victory over Brigham Young University Friday night. "Nobody's called me yet," Giardello said. The champ added that he was sure his elbow would be all right in time to train for a September bout in Cherry Hill last month.

Huskies Rip Alumni 34-13

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI)—The University of Washington varsity, displaying a strong passing game, Saturday defeated a team of past Husky stars, 34-13, in the annual Varsity-Alumni football game here. Quarterbacks Todd Hullin and Frank Etter handled most of the Husky passing and each connected for a touchdown during the first half as the varsity ran up a 21-0 lead. Etter's scoring throw was one of the most spectacular plays of the contest. He connected with halfback Ron Medved in a play that covered 73 yards about midway in the second quarter.

Wright Holds on To Civitan Lead

DALLAS (AP) — Mickey Wright slumped to a one-over par 72 Saturday but still held onto the lead in the $14,500 Dallas Civitan Open golf tournament in the face of the birdie-played closing rush of Kathy Whitworth. Miss Wright ran her total for 54 holes to 208 and held a three-stroke bulge over Miss Whitworth, women golf's leading money-winner for the year whom the Dallas blonde is attempting to pass. Miss Whitworth had a 69 and at one time had drawn within two strokes of Miss Wright with birdies on 9, 10 and 11. But she three-putted 18 and her threat faded.

Giardello Is Ready to Defend Title

CHERRY HILL, N.J. (AP) — Middleweight boxing champion Joey Giardello, still nursing an injured left elbow, says he is ready and willing to defend his title against Dick Tiger "if everything is right." Giardello confirmed a report from Tiger's acting manager, Lew Burston, who said the champ had promised the Nigerian a bout in September. "I've agreed — in a way — I've agreed, but nothing was said about money. If everything is right, I'll be glad to fight him," Giardello said Friday night. Burston, who has been handling Tiger since Manager Jersey Jones suffered a stroke about a week ago, said Tiger has been trying to get a return fight with Giardello, but he's "been ducking him up to now." This time, Burston said in New York, Giardello gave his word he'll fight Tiger in September. "Nobody's called me yet," Giardello said.

Tigers Power Past Orioles For 8-4 Win

DETROIT (AP) — Dick McAuliffe's two-run triple in the fifth inning and Jim Northrup's first major league home run in the sixth paced Detroit to an 8-victory over Baltimore Saturday. The Tigers iced the game with a four-run rally in the seventh off reliever Dick Hall. Willie Horton's run-scoring double was the longest of five hits in the inning. Joe Sparna worked his way out of a number of jams in the early innings, and picked up his second victory in four decisions. McAuliffe's triple followed a single by George Thomas, a sacrifice and a walk to Sparna. Baltimore 101 000 002-4 10 0 Detroit 010 021 40x-8 11 2 Roberts, Hall (7) and Orsino; Sparna, Nischwitz (9) and Freehan, W-Sparna, 2-2. L — Roberts, 4-4. Home runs—Baltimore, Aparicio (3). 34-Year Teaching Career Nears End For Second Grade Instructor Here

By O. A. (Gus) KELKER
Times-News Feature Editor

For the past 18 years Mrs. Eva Mahnken just never got above the second grade—teach-erwise, that is.

Mrs. Mahnken, who started her teaching career in one-room schools back in Nebraska, will end a span of 34 years at 18 of those years have been instructing second grade students at Lincoln school here.

The term ending this week, her last before retirement, has not been an easy one. She has spent the entire term on crutches.

It was in November, 1963, that she was en-route from her home to the school when she slipped on a spot of black ice just before reaching the school grounds. The spill resulted in a broken hip, which was slow to knit, and she still resorts to crutches to get around.

The injury was not without compensation, however, as her class was moved from the second to the first floor so that it would not be necessary for her to climb the stairs.

All of her 34 years in the teaching profession has been spent in Nebraska or Idaho, Mrs. Mahnken points out. She first taught for nine years in Nebraska, then moved to Twin Falls with her husband.

When he died, she returned to Nebraska and continued to teach for another seven years. Then she came back to Twin Falls and, through urging of Mrs. Doris Stradley, then county superintendent of schools, she applied for a position in the city system rather than in the rural Nebraska, then moved to Twin Falls with her husband.

She was assigned to the second grade at Lincoln and has taught that grade since.

All her teaching has been in one room. The schools in Nebraska were strictly one-room while in Twin Falls, although the school was in a large building, she still stayed in the one room.

POSING WITH MEMBERS of her last class during recess, Mrs. Eva Mahnken, who retires this week, looks forward to the event with mixed emotions. She has been a teacher for 34 years and has taught second grade at the Lincoln school for the past 18 years after coming here from Nebraska. She makes her home at 256 Harrison St. (Times-News photo)

QUIET MOMENT in life of second grader, and instructor, comes when songs are sung. It is one of the few quiet moments of the school day at that age. Mrs. Eva Mahnken sings along with the youngsters. (Times-News photo)

RUNNING GAME takes some of the energy away from spirited students in order that they might settle down to the more serious job of studying. Mrs. Eva Mahnken, Lincoln school second grade teacher who retires this week, admits that the program is one of the tricks of the trade. She is ending a teaching career of 34 years. Strange Death of Two Birds Sparks Investigation by Power Officials

POWER COMPANY official, Earl Haroldsen, right, is hoisted aloft to get a close look at the bird on the wire. The Idaho Power Co. "cherry picker" enables the close inspection. The investigation showed that the wire was through the bird's beak, but just how it got there is still a mystery, although there are many theories. (Times-News photo)

Who killed Cock Robin?

This question, asked in nursery rhymes of years ago, might well be asked in Twin Falls, although the birds in question are not robins.

A passerby in the vicinity of Five Points North noticed two birds apparently hanging by their heads from the wire which connects large lamps along Blue Lakes Boulevard North and Addison Avenue East.

Close examination by means of a high power scope showed one of the birds was there because his beak was apparently stuck through the wire. A telephoto picture taken of this bird backed up this theory.

The second bird, on a wire which spans Blue Lakes Boulevard where it meets Five Points North, apparently is hanging in the same manner, although during the past week a brisk wind blew it along the wire and over to the east side of that wire.

School children said that this bird was hanging there last winter because they remember it being covered with snow.

The bird photographed is on the east side of Blue Lakes Boulevard North in the 100 block. It is easily seen by motorists and pedestrians in the area.

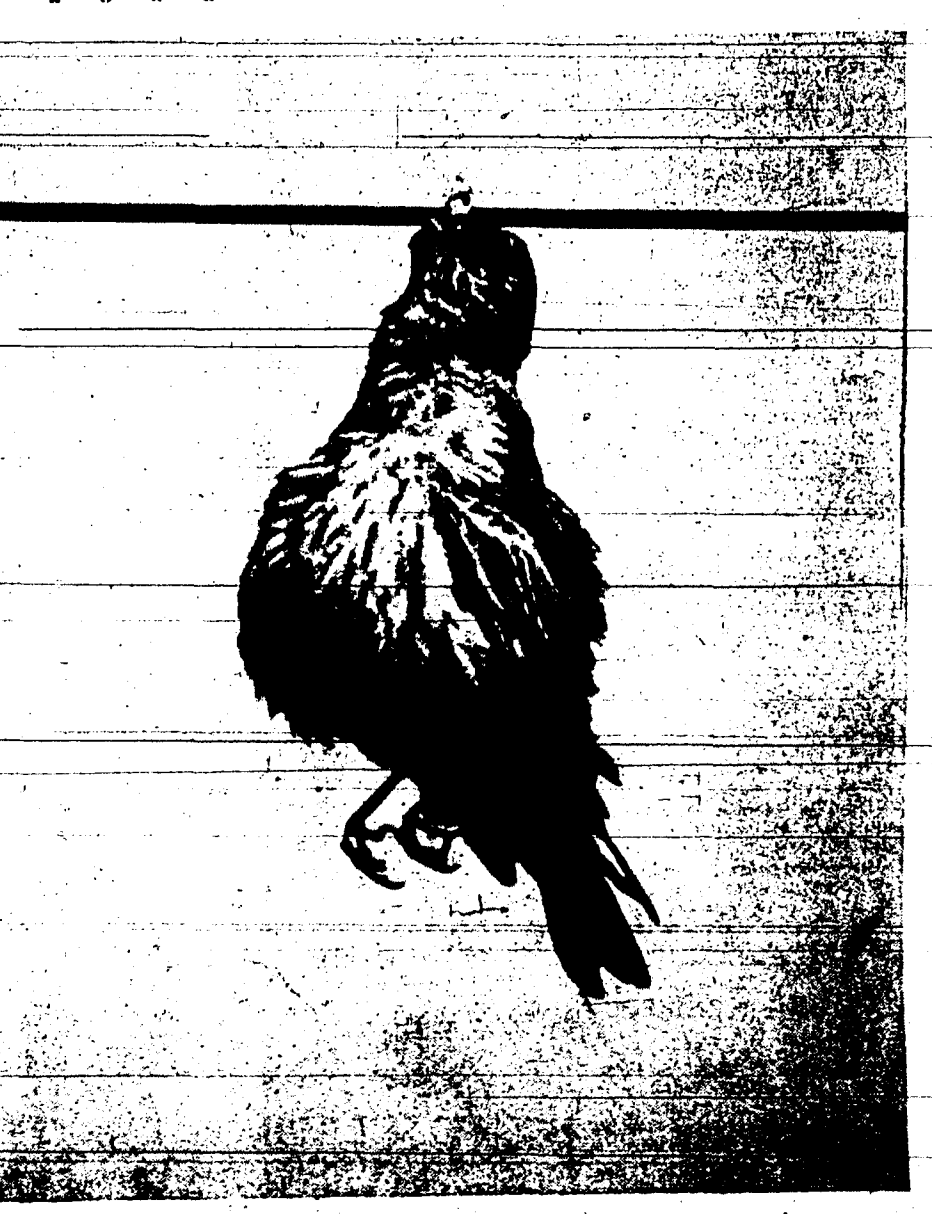

Contacted by the Times-News, Earl Haroldsen, Idaho Power Co. official, became personally interested in the mystery and ordered use of the firm's "cherry picker" which would enable a close inspection high above the street.

This inspection by Haroldsen and by the Times-News feature editor showed that the bird, indeed, was hanging from the wire by the beak and that the wire apparently was through the beak.

One theory is that, at different times, both the birds struck the wires while flying at full speed and stuck there.

Although not insulated, the wire cannot cause electrocution because a bird lighting on it would not cause it to ground.

Whatever the cause, the Idaho Power Co. official and everyone else concerned with the mystery are still very much puzzled.

CLOSEUP OF BIRD discloses that wire is through its beak. It also showed the bird to be something other than a sparrow and that it was not a robin. This picture was taken by the Times-News feature editor from the Idaho Power Co. "cherry picker." (Times-News photo)

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

"The Fragrance Garden" is now growing at the Idaho State School for the Deaf and Blind in GOODING, through the combined efforts of the Leaf and Petal Club, a Federated Garden Club of JEROME; the "Mary Gardeners" also of Jerome, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Roberson, HAGERMAN. The garden, which was financed with a $300 Sears award, was planned by Mrs. Roberson and she was assisted with the planting by members of the Mary Gardeners, a group of high school girls from Jerome, who have done a lot of gardening for hospitals, old people's homes, etc. in Jerome.

The garden has been the hope and dream of the Robersons for about seven years, and only through the efforts of the high school girls was it realized.

They heard of the plan, and after learning that Mrs. Roberson had only been able to raise a small amount throughout the state, they went to their affiliated club, the Leaf and Petal, and applied for the Sears award. When this was granted, there was ample money to finance the project.

The Robersons raise the aromatic plants, shrubs and roses that were used. Each plant has a distinctive texture and aroma for exploring fingers of students and each plant will have its own Braille marker.

The garden consists of a plot six by 90 feet surrounded by a wall of rock making the raised beds of flowers easy to reach. The plants will be arranged so that ones having a strong fragrance will be near the edge so the children may brush against them.

A sprinkling system has been installed with provisions made for the installation of a fountain in the middle.

Mrs. Roberson emphasized that special credit should be given to the Mary Gardeners for all the assistance they had given her, both in obtaining the grant and in setting out the many plants in the garden.

A mystery has been solved for Mr. and Mrs. Harold Buhler, Hailey. For days a disagreeable odor had permeated their home on Second Avenue, getting worse each day.

Buhler had looked under the house for something dead. Mrs. Buhler had investigated underneath and behind everything in the house.

Guests politely had refrained from making remarks, but are now able to admit the distasteful odor and have a good laugh. When Mrs. Buhler, Blaine county office deputy sheriff, came to work Monday she related their predicament. Deputy Sheriff Ira Hoffman, who was in the furniture and appliance business in TWIN FALLS, advised her how to check her refrigerator, which is the non ice-forming kind.

She did—and the mysterious smell disappeared. A small amount of spilled cream had caused all the uproar.

Life or traffic in Hagerman Valley gets pretty slow at times. Especially after a rain. One can see big transport trucks and trailers stuck in Hagerman's Main Street. Because a wider, straighter Highway 30 is being built through the valley, about seven miles of the road on either side of Hagerman—and through town is torn up in the process of rebuilding the road.

The construction crew had to dig out about three feet of the road to get a good solid bed for rebuilding, so Main Street, or Highway 30, is about three feet lower than the store entrances, making mountain climbing a necessary factor in grocery shopping.

Without more rain, the filling with gravel will start soon and conditions must get better soon.

Camas Eighth Grade Class Is Graduated

FAIRFIELD—Commencement exercises for the Camas County Elementary School eighth grade were held Friday night in the high school gymnasium for 18 seniors.

Members of the class presented the program and the processional and recessional were played by Mrs. Esther Giesler, second grade teacher.

Alberta Young gave the invocation, Linda Cox gave the introduction and Jess Daniels spoke on arithmetic. Richard Jones spoke on "Thomas Jones Writes a Composition."

"Diamond Ring" and "I Go to Pieces" was done by the whole graduating class and "Whenever I Say America" by Helen Wilson. Terry Lee talked on Benjamin Franklin and Marilyn Wokerslein on "Then as Now."

Jan Cook, Gary Gilpin and Principal William E. Sweet spoke on "Different Views." Bill Kevan and Allen Stewart played a trumpet duet. Richard Platts talked on "Fishing."

Theresa Gaenzle gave the salutatorian address and Jo Ann Gill the valedictorian's address.

Rechell Borack introduced the class and Everett Coates, chairman of the school board, presented the diplomas. Jill Lawson gave the benediction.

Cuban Released

TOPEKA, Kan. (UPI)—Police Friday released a Cuban man arrested Thursday after immigration authorities informed them the man had entered the U.S. legally in March.

Leonardo Valdez San Pedro, 32, New York, was taken in custody at the city bus station. A waitress called police after the man had sat in the station restaurant several hours.

WHAT ABOUT WHEELING

Bonneville Power
through Southern Idaho

Here's where Idaho Power Company negotiations with Bonneville stand:

Despite the fact that the Company has a valid contract with the U. S. government extending to October, 1976 for wheeling power for Bureau of Reclamation loads and to federal preference customers in southern Idaho, the Company offered last January 5th to (1) amend the contract and provide power wheeling to these preference customers for their estimated load growth through the year 1985; or to (2) execute a new contract, as indicated by the following:

Mr. Charles F. Luce, Administrator Bonneville Power Administration U. S. Department of Interior Portland 8, Oregon

Dear Mr. Luce:

In order that there be no misunderstanding of our position, this letter is to advise you that we stand ready to enter into an additional wheeling agreement with BPA (supplementing Contract No. 14-06-100-1763), covering the present and future requirements of existing preference customers in our service area, in the same form and content as the BPA contracts now in effect with the following utilities for this type of service: (enumerated here were four Northwest utility companies and contracts covering 30 preference customers).

We are likewise prepared to amend our existing coordinating and wheeling agreement with the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation in such manner as to insure the complete coordination of the federal generating facilities in Southern Idaho with the rest of the Columbia River facilities for which BPA is the marketing agency.

I hope you will authorize your staff to conclude an agreement in conformity with the above suggestions at the meeting scheduled for January 21, 1965.

Very truly yours,
T. E. ROACH

The wheeling contract the Company signed in 1959 received the endorsement of the Senate Interior Committee, as well as the public endorsement of the Idaho Congressional delegation then serving.

Bonneville has continuously refused, in the face of this and numerous other offers, to either amend this contract or write a new contract unless its terms would permit Bonneville unlimited use of the Company's system to pirate business already being served by the Company. This Bonneville demand, a repudiation of the existing contract, has been a "take-it-or-else" ultimatum.

Bonneville demands a hunting license to unfairly compete with Idaho Power, using the ammunition of tax exemption and access to federal tax funds.

Idaho Power's tax obligations alone render it unable to meet this type of competition. The Company's taxes last year amounted to 2.96 mills per kilowatt-hour, whereas Bonneville sells its tax-subsidized power at 2.34 mills per kilowatt-hour.

Bonneville's ultimatum for a blank check with which to raid the Company's business is coupled with its request for Congressional approval of the wasteful expenditure of $142,000,000 for its own transmission line across the state. The annual operating expense for such a line would amount to $6,170,000, another needless waste of money.

In contrast, wheeling power to federal preference customers over existing utility lines—which we are ready, willing and able to do—would provide a 20-year saving of about $90,000,000 in operating costs plus a saving of $142,000,000 of unnecessary facility construction!

What's wrong with that?

MAGIC VALLEY PORTRAIT . . .

College Board Chairman Certain That Education Cannot Be Taken Away

Robert S. Blastock Jr., chairman of the board for the newly created College of Southern Idaho, is convinced education is the only thing you can give your children that someone cannot take away from them.

It is this conviction that caused him to accept the chairmanship, a position that takes much of his donated time without compensation.

"This is one of the reasons I just don't have a hobby, such as golf or fishing," he laughed during an interview.

Actually he does have hobbies, but they are more in the community service line, rather than straight recreation.

For instance, he has just completed a term as lieutenant-governor of division five, Utah-Idaho Kiwanis, and is a past president of the Filer Kiwanis Club. He is also a member of the American Legion, the Idaho Woolgrowers' Association and the Parent-Teacher Association.

Since it first started, he has been active in one way or another in the Dilettante Group of Magic Valley. He was a member of the first board of directors and has served as president. For several years he has been house manager.

Did he appear in any of the productions? "Only the first one," he laughs. "I had a small part and I must have been quite a sensation because they never asked me to take part in another."

In his high school days at Filer (he was born May 19, 1925, only a mile east of where he now lives) he participated in athletics and lettered in both football and basketball.

After graduation from high school he joined the Navy and was assigned and trained on an underwater demolition team and saw action in the Pacific during World War II.

He looks back on his grade school attendance with mixed emotions.

"I went to grade school at the old Maroa school, which is now being torn down. It is just like seeing a part of me taken away as that building comes down," he said.

On Feb. 8, 1948, he married Georgia Louise Erhardt. Five children have been born to that union. They are Carlotta, 16, a student at the Filer high school; George Gregory, 14; Barbara Christine, 12, and Robert and Mary, seven-year-old twins. All are enrolled in the Filer school system.

The Blastock family home is located two miles north and one-quarter of a mile west of Filer on a 240-acre tract which he farms jointly with his father-in-law George Erhardt.

He also operates the home place where he was born. It was owned by his father, the late Robert S. Blastock Sr., and his mother still resides there. His father was a well known area farmer-sheepman and banker.

In his farming and sheep operations, young Blastock, in partnership with John Noh, has been successful in developing a new breed of sheep.

The animal is seven-eighths Rambouillet and one-eighth Suffolk. It has been found to be heavier than other animals at a given age and more hardy. Approximately 2,500 of the animals have been produced through selective breeding, records show.

When Blastock was president of the Filer Kiwanis Club he spearheaded a drive to have the then dangerous Jordan corner on U. S. 30 improved and also the intersection of U. S. 30 and U. S. 93, east of Filer. Both projects resulted in the improvements being made.

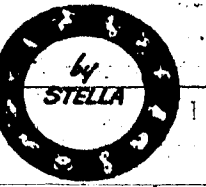

He is serving at present as a member of the Highway 30 committee.

He admits that of all the projects in which he has participated

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

SUNDAY, May 23—Born today, you have many fine traits, but the one that makes you stand out most from the crowd is your great sense of honor. Never would you do or say anything to compromise that honor; never would you take credit where credit is not due you, and never would you withhold from others out of petty jealousy the credit that is due them. This is the trait that will make for you and keep for you more friends than you can count.

Regardless of your early background, there is little that can stand in the way of your success. You are a hard and serious worker, a determined follower of whatever path you choose for yourself. Projects begun are always brought to completion, no matter the obstacles that may be set in your way. Pessimism may slow you down at times, but you are not one to remain down for long.

about the only thing we lacked to make the area complete was a college at our front door. Now we have it and as far as I am concerned it is the most important thing that has ever happened to Twin Falls county.

"The worth of this college will be realized as the years go on. It has a bright future and it will not be long before it will have its own location and not have to share facilities with the high school.

"When that day comes we will know that our work has been worth while and that everyone—private citizen, school system officials, students—will have contributed their efforts to this successful conclusion," Blastock said.

Your have in you a streak of independence that, if you are a woman, demands that you use special care in choosing a mate. You need someone who understands your need for work of your own, for a career, however small, to pursue at your leisure. Yet at the same time you have no desire to be left alone with a career. Your feminine nature demands as much recognition as does your need for independence.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Monday, May 24
GEMINI (May 22-June 21)—Join others in uniting behind those in authority on the employment scene. Solidarity is the key to increased production.

CANCER (June 22-July 23)—Remember: "As a man soweth, so shall he reap." This is a day for acting out the Golden Rule.

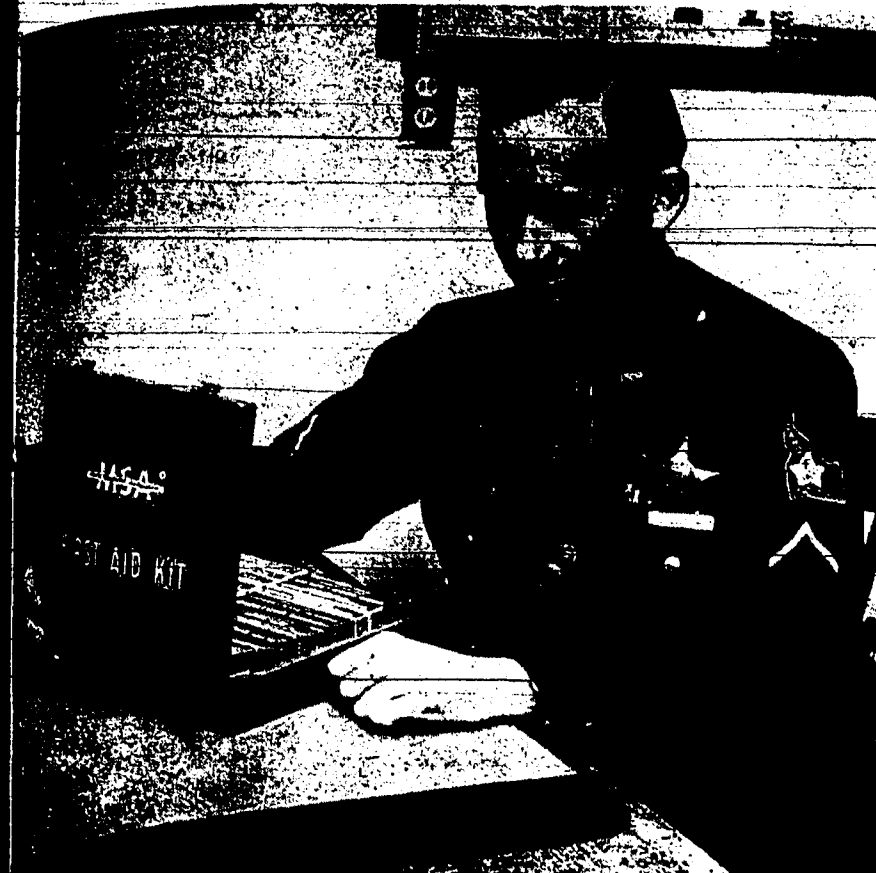

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23)—Avoid taking on any responsibility for which you are not prepared.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23)—If you bite off more than you can chew, you are very likely to choke! Know your limitations and stay within them!

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23)—It should not take the discerning Libra long to separate the wheat from the chaff. Follow your own instinct for good.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)—Seek your social and intellectual equals for an unusually happy and productive day.

EXAMINING FIRST AID kit is Idaho State Policeman Frank Mogensen. Mogensen has been named to the national American Red Cross staff and will teach first aid instructors at a special school which will be held in June near Coeur d'Alene. (Times-News photo)

Twin Falls Residents Are Named to National American Red Cross Staff

An Idaho state patrolman and Twin Falls housewife have been named to the National American Red Cross staff. The local residents will instruct at a national seminar which will be held at Twin Echo Lake, near Coeur d'Alene.

There are about three National American Red Cross schools of this type held west of the Mississippi River.

The two residents are Frank Mogensen, an Idaho state policeman, and Mrs. Gale H. Chambers, a Twin Falls housewife. They will depart sometime in June to instruct for 10 days at the special school.

Both are instructor-trainers. In other words they will teach instructors. Mogensen will teach first aid and Mrs. Chambers will teach swimming and water safety.

Mogensen began his first aid training as a Boy Scout in the late 1930's. After he entered military service he became an army first aid instructor in 1942—mainly because he was an Eagle Scout with first aid qualifications.

Since that time he has continued to expand his training and knowledge.

At the present time he services much of Southern Idaho certifying first aid instruction.

About the only limitation area-wise is the ability to travel throughout the Intermountain Area.

As nearly as can be determined, he will be the only instructor trainer in portions of several states.

Mrs. Chambers is a product of the Twin Falls city swimming program and the local Red Cross program.

She attended Twin Echo School as a student, while a teen-ager, and became a certified water safety instructor. Since then, she has taught at Kalispell, Mont., Las Vegas and for the Salt Lake City YWCA. A year ago she was certified as an instructor trainer after teaching clinics in Idaho Falls and Twin Falls.

According to Red Cross Representative Sleeper, the two have climbed about as high as a volunteer can go—being named to the national staff.

The two local residents will instruct with full time Red Cross volunteers.

Donald Sleeper, first aid and water safety representative, Yakima, Wash., said that the naming of a volunteer worker to national staff is somewhat rare, and it is even more rare when two are appointed from the same town.

Named to the American Red Cross national staff is Mrs. G. H. Chambers. The Twin Falls housewife will train water safety instructors at special school which is held near Coeur d'Alene in June. (Times-News photo)

Ex-Resident Of Oakley Dies in Utah
OAKLEY—Harold Wesley Hunter, 52, prominent Grace businessman and former Oakley resident, died Thursday afternoon in Nephi, Utah, of a heart attack.

He was born Sept. 12, 1912, in Oakley and married Gladys Holter Nov. 11, 1936, in Twin Falls. Mr. Hunter operated the Consolidated Wagon and Machine Co. in Jerome prior to moving to Grace, where he had been a John Deere Co. dealer for 17 years.

He had owned and operated the Hunter Welding and Repair Shop in Grace since 1939 and was a former member of the Elks club and of the Caribou County posse.

Survivors include his widow, father and step-mother, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hunter, Oakley; three sons, Roger Hunter, Bancos, Calif.; Russell Hunter, Burley, and Robert Hunter, Grace; one daughter, Mrs. John (Kathleen) Williamson, Pocatello; two grandchildren; one brother, Keith Hunter, Long Beach, Calif.; four sisters, Mrs. M. R. Sutton, Ontario, Ore.; Mrs. William Sutton, Ogden; Mrs. LeRoy Critchfield, Salt Lake City, and Mrs. Ronald Rudy, Oakley.

Funeral services will be conducted at 1 p.m. Monday in the Grace LDS Tabernacle. Final rites will be held in Grace cemetery.

Backlog of Patents at High Figure

EDITOR'S NOTE—Samuel Hopkins took out the first patent in 1790, and then came the deluge. Now the patent office issues more than a thousand patents every week and is running three years behind, with a backlog of 218,000 applications.

By BOB HORTON
WASHINGTON (AP)—In the 1860s, Sam Huffman built a better mousetrap.
His invention, not the first nor the last, was a cage and a box equipped with a hollow cylinder. The mouse would enter what resembled a doorway to a perfectly good mouse house. Under his weight, the cylinder would revolve, descend and dump him into the cage. Then the cylinder would flip back up to its normal position.

On Feb. 25, 1865, the U.S. Patent Office issued Huffman a patent for his trap.
Six years later somebody else designed another snare that dangled the mouse in a tank of water.

The Patent Office patented that one, too—and dozens more in following years. It traps that electrocuted the little critter, strung him up by the neck or clapped upon him with wire jaws.
All of which probably doesn't illustrate what Abraham Lincoln—a patent holder himself—had in mind when he said: "The patent system added the fuel of interest to the fire of genius."

Now 175 years old, the system has issued 2,250,000 patents, outstripping the greatest technological revolution the world has known and detailing everything from those mousetraps to the $128-million Mercury space capsule.
The U.S. Patent Office approves 1,000 to 1,200 patent applications a week, but rejects perhaps twice as many.

Getting a patent doesn't mean the invention will go down in history. For the few inventors who find fortune there are thousands developing something no one may ever want, to wit:
A semi-saucer grapefruit shield for squirt protection at the breakfast table. Patented by a Brooklyn man in 1927.
A ladies' hat topped with a small vessel of liquid for spraying bubbles during moments of merriment.

George Washington signed the first patent law on April 10, 1790.
Four months later, Samuel Hopkins of Pittsford, Vt., got the first patent. It was for an improvement in "the making of potash and peal ash by a new apparatus and process." Potash was a big ingredient in soap-making.

The present Patent Office, supervised by a commissioner, was created under legislation in 1836, and America began rolling through the industrial revolution.

The technology that followed so startled Henry L. Ellsworth, the first commissioner of patents, that when he resigned in 1843 he said: "The advancements of the arts taxes our credulity and seems to prestage the arrival of that period when human improvement must end."

Cartoons to the contrary, an inventor nowadays doesn't haul his gadget to the patent examiner's office in Washington for approval.
Since 1880 models have been required only on rare occasions. But drawings and technical material—sometimes as thick as a mail order catalogue—are submitted for scrutiny by 1,000 chemical, electrical and mechanical engineers who process patent applications.
They lay down three criteria for granting patents: The thing must be new, useful and "unobvious" to someone in the field.
The backlog of applications now awaiting decision totals 218,000.

It takes an average of three years, one month and 15 days to get a patent, sometimes up to six years.
By 1975 that delay may stretch to 10 years because of an anticipated backlog of 535,000 applications.
A patent last 17 years.
President Johnson has acted to speed the office through its

LAWN-MUSHROOMS: This is the season of toadstools, puffballs and other lawn mushrooms.

Most gardeners ignore the mushrooms that pop up in the lawns. Others are worried that their children might eat them, or that the mushrooms will become so abundant as to create an unsightly appearance.

One of the most common mushrooms is the "Fairy Ring," getting its name from its habit of growing in circles. These circles appear as dark green rings on the lawn and increase in size from year to year.

In olden days there was a superstition that these rings were places where fairies danced at night.

The fairy ring mushroom is edible, cooked either while still fresh or after being dried and stored for future use.

However, we don't recommend the average home owner to eat them because there is another species (Clitocybe) which grows in association with the fairy ring and this mushroom can cause severe illness, with symptoms of vomiting, diarrhea, profuse sweating and distortion of vision.

These symptoms pass off in a few hours and the illness is not known to be fatal. You can tell it from the fairy ring by its white or grayish-white color and numerous narrow gills set closely together.

Be safe and don't eat any wild mushroom unless you're an experienced mushroom hunter.

HARDY GLOXINIA: This item is misleading in two ways: First, it's not a gloxinia and secondly, it's not entirely hardy. Hardy Gloxinia (Incarvillea delavayi) is a semi-hardy perennial, with graceful trumpet shaped flowers, rosy-purple, somewhat resembling the indoor potted gloxinia. Foliage is fine, resembling a fern. Plant grows a foot high, and blooms from June through July.

How about winter care? If you leave them outdoors, they'll a protection of evergreen boughs because they're only semi-hardy.

RHODODENDRONS: What can be done to make a rhododendron bush five years old start to bloom?

If the winters kill the buds there isn't much you can do, except to plant the hardiest of all, R. Maximum, the one with glossy green leaves and large pink blooms in May.

mountains of paperwork, authorizing the first basic study of the system since the 1836 act.

By executive order in April, Johnson created a commission to undertake the study and directed it to recommend within 18 months any legislation required to strengthen the system.

"We have no corner on the inventive process," the President said in a message to a dinner commemorating the 175th anniversary, "and the competitive world struggle intensifies with every passing year. In order to maintain our lead we must make our patent system even more perfect."

This sod holds the stones in place and looks neat. The lawn mower clips it off and there is no other maintenance problem. Fighting grass between stones can be a problem. You must either handpull it or resort to chemicals. I'd prefer to let the grass grow between the stones.

BET NOTES: If you sowed some beet seeds in your garden, remember that each "seed" has from one to four seeds within it, so avoid heavy seeding. Six seeds to each foot is plenty. When plants are small, thin them to four or five plants per foot.

If you don't you'll get all tops and no bottoms. Beets are lime-lovers so if your leaves have a yellowish cast, look stunted or off-color, it usually means a lack of lime.

The Green Thumb Question Box QUESTION OF THE WEEK. E. S. of Kimberly: "Last fall we planted some sycamores and Norway maples in our yard. We're quite middle-aged folks and would like to see these trees grow to a fairly good size while we're still around to enjoy them. Can you tell us of a new way to hasten the growth of trees by a process involving chemical spray and artificial lighting. We read about it somewhere."

There's no way to hasten the growth of these slow-growing trees, other than feeding and watering the trees regularly. Ever so often some one comes out with a new way to push nature along (such as the methods you mentioned) but quite often they don't pan out.

Your trees are by nature slow growers. This is a good trait in shade trees because slow growers usually stand wind and ice damage better than soft, fast growers.

If fast growers are wanted, you can resort to such items as Chinese elms or Silver maples, shade trees—landscape men frown upon.

F. L. of Burley: "I'd like to pass along a tip I learned firsthand. If you like greens in early spring, order some spinach seed now, and sow it in the garden. A little crop will come for fall, but most of it will winter over, and in spring come up anew."

"These make wonderful greens early in the spring. Be sure to order the spinach seed now, because if you wait until August, most seedhouses will tell you they do not have it."

"Has any one else discovered that spinach will actually live over the winter? It works for me, and I've done it for the past five years."

(Green Thumb note: Good tip. We hope others will feel free to send their tips to me so we can all benefit from them. If you're a spinach lover try America, still the best crumpled leaf type for warm weather. Dark Green Bloomsdale is ideal for both spring planting and for wintering over. This type is flat-leaved and of fine quality.)

S. G. of Oakley: "Last spring I planted three Globe Arborvitae around my front porch. The awnings on the porch extended over them and I'm wondering if it would have any effect on their growth?"

Arborvitae will tolerate some shade nicely, but a factor more important is water. If the awnings prevent rain from reaching the soil the plants will dry and do poorly. Leaves will start turning brown early in fall and it'll be a struggle for the evergreens if you can move them out a foot or two so they will get more sun and rainwater. I'd do it. Mulch them with sawdust, peatmoss or some similar mulch material.

I hope gardeners will discover the joy of growing dwarf marigolds in beds and borders or wherever low-growing plants are needed. They're showy all summer long, right up until frost.

STONE PATIOS: A brick or stone patio is easy to make. All you have to do is set bricks or flat stones in a pattern. These are placed in a sand bottom to prevent settling.

The question arises: What can be done to keep grass from growing between the joints? Why keep grass out? I have made many patios and purposely leave a space between joints. These spaces are filled with soil and grass seed is sowed there to form a tight sod.

WORKING PARTNER
WANTED
Idaho building materials organization expanding to cover northwest with plans for regional expansion. Your starting duties will be to assist manager in field operations, with a planned training program to increase your skills to enable you to take over increasing responsibilities. Salary $175 per week and you share in profits in proportion to your investment. Potential profit share of investment between $10,000 and $30,000.
The man we want will probably have a planned training program in business or agriculture and has recently sold out or retired and is seeking new and profitable challenge, but would consider an individual whose only activity would be as a member of the board of directors.
This will stand strict investigation. For information describing the company, its operations, operating methods, plans, policies, goals, advantages and possible disadvantages write for information only. An interview will be arranged.

Old Age Catching up With Structures Located in Original City Townsite

Old age is catching up with the City of Twin Falls. Building owners and building users are coming around to the realization that nothing lasts forever and that although Twin Falls is a young town as towns go it is getting on in years as time is counted.

Everything of interest started in Twin Falls about 1904. Many of the structures which dominate the downtown section were built very shortly after that date.

That will put the age of some of them around 60 years. Useful building life, as figured by experts and taking all tangibles in mind, runs from 30 to 50 years.

Where does this leave local buildings? Harald E. Gerber, architect, answers the question. He told the Times-News that in his estimation 75 per cent of the buildings in the downtown section are obsolete.

The downtown area is defined as being that area including four blocks on Main Avenue from the Main Avenue and Shoshone Street intersection, and two blocks each way on Shoshone.

In the mile square original township, Gerber estimates that 40 per cent of the structures — including homes and business buildings — are obsolete.

What to do about it? One thing would be to build new buildings and homes. Another, if the foundations of the big buildings were sound, would be to put the structure and remake the interior.

One of the worst situations found in the older structures is that of electrical wiring. Frankly, the architect said, it is "all botched up."

He cited an instance which happened when he had his office in the ground floor location of the Elks building. The lights in his office suddenly went out. Investigation disclosed that they had been turned off by an employe of the adjoining Standard Printing Co.

"I saw that switch for a long time and often wondered what it was for so I just flipped it to see. Nothing happened here so I left it flipped," the employe told Gerber.

In some buildings the wiring in use today could be termed dangerous. In some structures the wiring has been replaced and new facilities have been added, bringing it up to standard.

So far as modernizing old homes is concerned, it is termed a real problem. Today a person can build and occupy a home for practically the same price as he can rent one with the result the old homes cannot be rented or sold. Therefore, they are not being modernized.

One of the troubled elements of the entire situation, he declared, is enforcement of zoning.

The city of Twin Falls has been powerless, for instance, to control construction of buildings, streets and curbs and gutters which lie beyond the city limits.

A correct step in the right direction would be the adoption of a county zoning ordinance such as now being studied.

"Proper zoning would prevent construction in outlying areas of building types which are logically placed within the original townsite. Specifically, this would include apartments and multi-family dwellings which, at the present time, can be built in outlying areas.

"If these structures were built in the original townsite they would replace original buildings that are ready to be demolished.

"In making this observation I am not trying to give the impression that neighborhood shopping centers should not be permitted," Gerber said.

End result is that today some property, which at one time was valuable, is now a liability. Some buildings and homes can be modernized and some should be torn down.

"It is hard for us to realize that we will face the same situation again. Today's modern homes and buildings which look like they will last forever, will be in the same spot 50 years from now. It brings out the simple truth that time marches on," Gerber said.

TOP OF WALL on this downtown building is unstable. Bricks are loose and a building is given as being between 30 and 50 years, depending on type of construction. (Times-News photo)

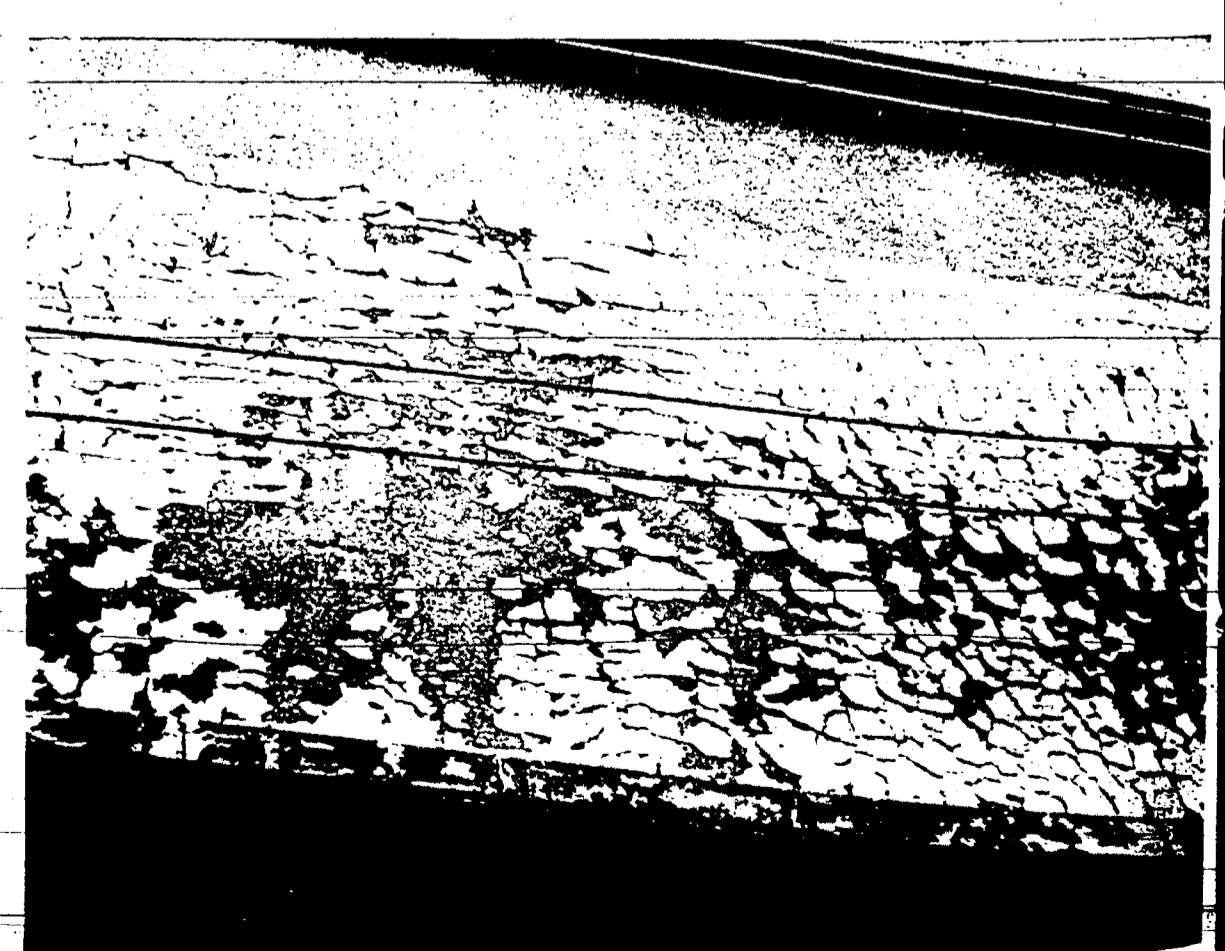

AUTOMOBILE or truck came out the winner in a bout with the wall on the back of a downtown structure, as this picture shows. Someone parked just a little too close, with the result a near cavern resulted. (Times-News photo)

FOR ALL PURPOSES this building has reached the parting of the ways. The front wall of the structure has started to move away from the main wall. The weather-beaten telephone pole in the picture provides no benefit in stabilizing the bricks. The opening crack is now more than an inch wide. (Times-News photo)

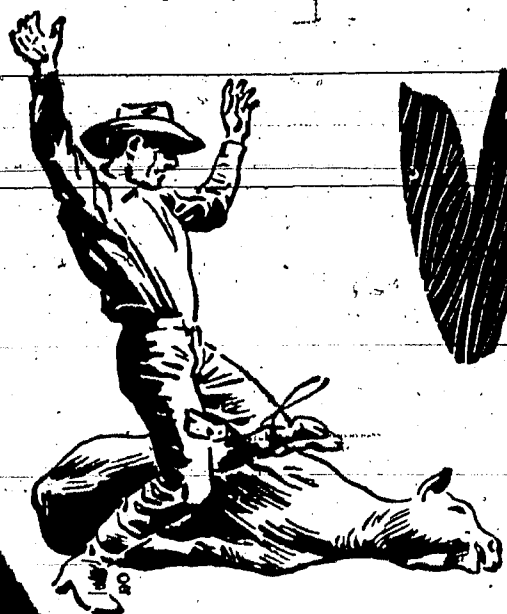

SOUVENIR OF THIS building can be had by anyone knowing the location. Many of the bricks pictured can be lifted out by hand because mortar has deteriorated over the years. This picture shows the back of the building which is now used by a thriving business. Some older structures have been maintained. (Times-News photo)

PEELING PAINT sets this downtown structure apart from Boy Scout headquarters and, because of budget conditions, others in the vicinity. The structure is now occupied by the improvement would have to be donated. (Times-News photo)

DROP BY WHEN YER IN TOWN! ME MANSION IS ALLUS OPEN TA OLD FRIENDS!

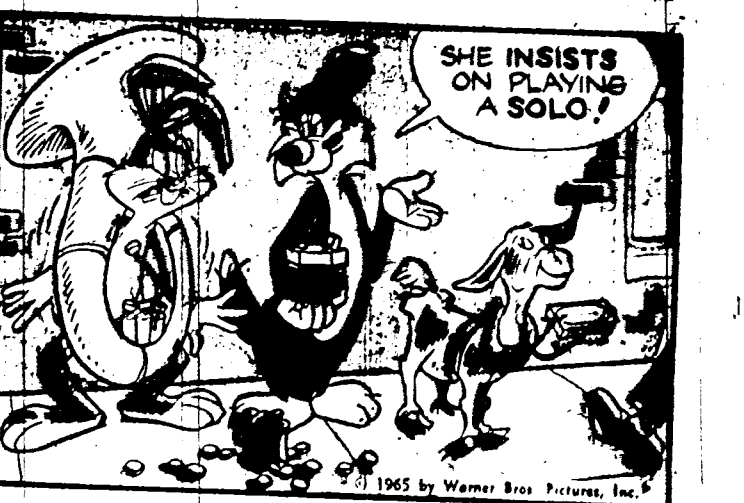

JOE! YOU'VE BEEN HITTING THE BOTTLE!

I NEVER HIT A BOTTLE OR A OLE LADY IN ME LIFE! SO LONG, TOOTS!

I'M HACKING AND COMING HOME IMMEDIATELY!

AH! WHAT IS SO RARE AS A DAY IN MAY?

NICELY PUT, FERNANDO. YOU HAVE A VERY POETIC TURN OF MIND.

WHY, THANK YOU, EDMOND.

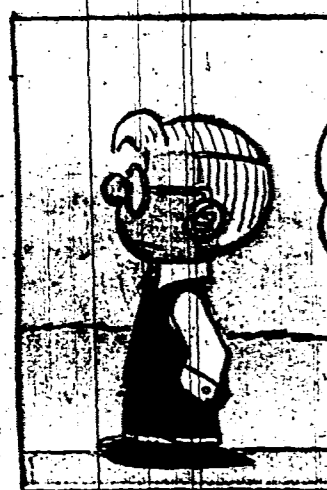

A DAY LIKE THIS DOES BRING OUT THE POET IN ME.

LOOK, FERNANDO! DO YOU SEE WHAT I SEE?

THE SAINTS PRESERVE US... IT'S (SHUDDER) SPOTLESS McPARTLAND!

MORE FEARED THAN AL CAPONE!

MORE HATED THAN RAEPUTIN!

MORE RUTHLESS THAN CAPTAIN BIGH!

MORE VICIOUS THAN THE MARQUIS DE SADE!

DO YOU EVER GET THE FEELING THAT SOMEBODY'S TALKING ABOUT YOU WHEN THERE'S NOBODY AROUND?

OUT OF THE WAY

LOOK AT THAT ONE! BOY, WHAT A BEAUTY!
ARE YOU REALLY GOING TO BUY A TRUMPET, WILLIS?

THAT'S WHY I'VE BEEN SAYING MY MONEY THE PAST YEAR!
RECORD

I STILL THINK YOU SHOULD BUY A GUITAR INSTEAD OF A TRUMPET! LOOK AT THE BEATLES!
BEATLES SCHMEATLES! I WANT A TRUMPET!

BUT YOU CAN'T MAKE BIG MONEY WITH A TRUMPET! ALL THE ROCK-'N'-ROLL STARS USE A GUITAR!
JUST WAIT AND SEE-- I'LL MAKE A LOT OF MONEY WITH MY TRUMPET!
NOW DON'T DISCOURAGE HIM!
YOU COULD DO YOUR PRACTICING UP IN YOUR ROOM, WILLIS!

WILLIS, HAVE YOU EVER THOUGHT ABOUT PLAYING THAT THING IN THE GARAGE?
GEE, DAD, THANKS!

I DON'T KNOW WHICH IS GOING TO WEAR OUT FIRST-- HIS LIP OR MY EARS!
BE THANKFUL! HE MIGHT HAVE TAKEN UP THE DRUMS!

LATER
WILLIS, YOU SAID YOU WANTED TO SEE THAT SHOW AT THE GRAND THEATER! HERE'S A COUPLE DOLLARS!
GEE, THANKS, MOM!

I NOTICED THAT THE MALT SHOP IS HAVING A SPECIAL ON BANANA SPLITS TODAY! WHY DON'T YOU WALK DOWN AND GET ONE!

I'M HAVING MY CLUB GIRLS OVER THIS EVENING! WHY DON'T YOU GO TO A SHOW TONIGHT?
GEE, THANKS, LIL!

PEACE AND QUIET!
BEAUTIFUL BEAUTIFUL SILENCE!

I TOLD YOU THERE WAS A LOT OF MONEY TO BE MADE PLAYING THE TRUMPET, BUTCH!

THE COMIC ZOO
MY UNCLE ROSCOE HAS THE MOST UNUSUAL JOB IN THE STATE!!

HE IS WELL PAID FOR HIS WORK BUT HE GETS FIRED EVERY DAY!!

HECK! HE MUST BE A POOR WORKMAN IF HE GETS FIRED EVERY DAY!!

IS HE CARELESS AND IRRESPONSIBLE? DOESN'T HE HAVE ANY AIM IN LIFE?

HE SURE DOES! EVERY DAY HE AIMS FOR A NET!!

-- HE'S A LIVING CANNONBALL IN A CIRCUS!!
