Hailey and School District Trade Property

HAILEY — The Hailey City Council has approved a property trade which will give Blaine County School District more than two blocks of ground adjacent to the Wood River High School and new elementary school to be erected this summer. The land will be used for recreational purposes.

Mayor George Allen said the city will receive in return the present grade school building and block of ground on which it is located.

He said the city will sell the grade school building, a building erected in 1933, and block of land with the proceeds to buy a suitable plot of ground close to the city limits for the Saytooth Rangers Riding Club rodeo grounds.

At present this is located at the southern end of Wertheimers Park, which, together with two streets, will become the school grounds. The present rodeo ground also will go to the school district. Leopold Wertheimer bequeathed the almost two blocks of ground to the city when he died in the early 1900's.

Allen said an ordinance has been passed by the council to close Chestnut Street for the two blocks between Main Street and Second Avenue, which includes the area between the school buildings and the recreation grounds.

The public is invited to attend, according to the Rev. John Shaw, local pastor of the Assembly of God Church.

He said a contract will be signed that the grounds shall be planted to grass and properly maintained or the grounds will revert back to the city.

Homer D. Williams, county school superintendent, said he expects work to start this coming week on the new elementary school building, which will be located to the west and just down the hill from the high school building.

He said there will be 10 classrooms, an all-purpose room, offices, a sick room and a teachers room.

Addition to the present high school building will include rooms for commercial studies, science, industrial arts, home economics and lavatories.

A Clawson, Twin Falls contractor will do the building.

Southern Justice

A current story used to illustrate justice of the Deep South is more truth than fiction. A white visitor to the Deep South smashed his car into a pair of Negroes walking on the shoulder of the road. One of the Negroes hurtled through the windshield of the car and the other was knocked end over end into an adjacent field. When the white driver reported the accident to a white policeman, the latter declared, "We'll charge one of them with breaking and entering and the other with leaving the scene of an accident."

Now consider the case of three Alabama members of the Ku Klux Klan who were arrested for the murder of Mrs. Viola Liuzzo, white civil rights worker from Detroit. The FBI produced a witness who had infiltrated the KKK (sneaky, underhanded and downright illegal) and testified to all details of the murder. Even with this eye-witness testimony, the jury deliberated for hours, finally freed the man accused of the murder when the jury just couldn't agree. But subsequent events have served to illustrate even more clearly a concept of justice that defies understanding and explanation. The three Alabama klansmen have been paraded before meeting after meeting of the KKK. They have been cheered in public parades and cheered again in public meetings staged by the KKK. What sort of civilization, if the word can be used, glorifies murder and murderers?

Even worse is a public reaction, not confined to the Deep South, in the wake of Mrs. Liuzzo's murder. "She should have been home in Detroit taking care of her kids," is a common reaction that has been voiced far and wide. Perhaps she should have been home, caring for her family, but if she was moved to participate in a civil rights demonstration, that was Mrs. Liuzzo's choice and she should have felt perfectly safe in doing whatever her conscience dictated. In any event, the fact that she wasn't home, certainly shouldn't be an excuse for murder.

Fortunately, a vast majority of all Americans — both in the South and the North — do not condone murder and definitely don't glorify murderers.

INNOCENT VICTIMS

The toll of war doesn't stop when the last bullet is fired, nor is the toll confined to those in uniform or even to the general locale of fighting. It's ghastly but apparently unavoidable that modern war can claim innocent victims without restraint as to time or space.

There was a story in the news the other day about youngsters in Germany being killed and wounded in the explosion of a shell remaining from World War I more than 50 years after the shell was fired in anger. Much closer to home was the potential tragedy averted at Heyburn because a World War II grenade was too rusty to function. Two youngsters found the grenade, played with it, pulled the pin and finally presented the grenade, minus pin, to the mother of one of the youngsters.

Assuming that the grenade had its origin in World War II, it could have claimed innocent victims far from any battlefield of that war and nearly 20 years after the fighting ended.

Imagine the potential for death that still must remain in and around the big battlefields of World War III. Dangerous bombs must still lie buried in Britain, France, Germany and all the other nations subject to aerial bombardment 20 years ago. Then there are the unexploded artillery shells, mortars and grenades that are still deadly. Not the least of the hazards are the souvenir live munitions carted home by servicemen. Must a war's toll of the innocent continue indefinitely?

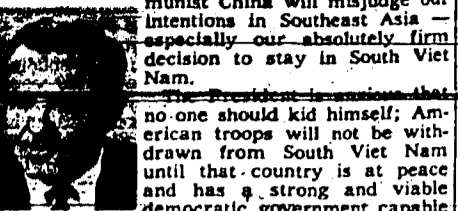

BORN LOSERS

Once upon a time, (no, this isn't a fairy story; it's true) some individuals were regarded as hexed, cursed or possessed. Even in these enlightened times, some individuals still entertain such thoughts and sometimes it's easy to understand why.

Just the other day a policeman in Salt Lake City demonstrated reasons for the Middle Age belief that a person can be under a hex or curse. The officer shot at an intruder, missed and the bullet barely missed a woman who was watching the incident from a window. In the general uproar, the officer's police dog broke loose and attacked a second policeman! Back a few centuries, there would be much shaking of heads and muttering over such an incident. But in these enlightened days, those who hear about the officer's misfortune might comment he's a born loser or else would have been better off "to have stood in bed" that particular day.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

BY ANDREW TULLY
WASHINGTON — President Johnson feels the greatest danger to world peace is that Communist China will misjudge our intentions in Southeast Asia — especially our absolutely firm decision to stay in South Viet Nam.

no one should kid himself; American troops will not be withdrawn from South Viet Nam until that country is at peace and has a strong and viable democratic government capable of building a prosperous economy. He is still willing to discuss the war anywhere, anytime, and wishes the Communists would set a time and place and test him.

DOUBTED EFFECT OF LULL—Moreover, he is determined to keep trying to find some other bit of initiative that will persuade the enemy to end the war. He likes to feel that while he wages war with his right hand, he seeks peace with his left. He was afraid that the six-day halt in the bombing of North Viet Nam wouldn't work, but he took the chance anyway. At the same time, he let Hanoi and Peking know, in effect, that if they took advantage of the bombing lull to kill any Americans he would charge them extra for it.

Before halting the bombings, he called in the Soviet ambassador and told him about it. This information was passed along by the Russians to Red China and North Viet Nam. Other contacts also were made with the two Communist regimes, to make sure they understood that the President was seeking peace.

Meanwhile, he feels that the bombings are in the American interest, that they make it harder for the enemy to kill Americans. Destruction of bridges poses problems in troop transportation, and the Viet Cong has been hurt by the destruction of 20 per cent of its ammunition dumps.

RESENTS BRIBERY CHARGE—The President resents charges by his critics that he is trying to bribe North Viet Nam by his offer of economic aid after peace is secured. He takes the attitude that if he drops a $100 bill in the collection-plate at church he is not trying to bribe the preacher, but is doing it because it is right. He feels strongly that it is right for the United States to offer some of its wealth to help underdeveloped countries.

One of the mistakes Johnson hopes the communists would not make is to believe that the country is divided over the Viet Nam war. He likes to remind visitors that the congressional resolution in support of American policy in Viet Nam was carried by 502 votes to 2, and that he got an additional $700 million from Congress to finance the operation in two days time, with only 10 no votes.

FULL SUPPORT—That resolution, the President feels, supports his position in the most unequivocal terms. He carries a copy of the resolution in his pocket and quotes it to visitors, noting that it authorizes the President "to repel any armed attack . . . to prevent any further aggression . . . and to take any steps necessary . . ." In dismissing some of his critics, he recalls the story of the man who drained his pond because the frogs were making too much noise at night and discovered only two frogs in the pond.

Visitors get the impression the President is not particularly worried about his place in history. He feels he's already got all the glory he can get as the man who was elected President with the greatest majority in history. He feels he is doing his job as best he can, and is proud of the fact he entertained more foreign visitors in one year than President Eisenhower did in eight. He likes his job, he likes his staff, he feels the majority of the American people are behind him, and he drops off to sleep the moment his head hits the pillow.

Views of Others

SIGNBOARDS
When Congress enacted an antibillboard law in 1958, the feeling was that a carrot would work in getting billboards off the new federal interstate highway system. A cash bonus of 0.5 per cent in federal money was provided to states that passed billboard regulations that met national standards. But the carrot was not enough; as of last December, only seven states had collected billboard bonuses, while only 13 others have signed agreements with the Bureau of Public Roads to obtain largesse for virtue.

The reason the carrot is insufficient is that the outdoor advertising lobby is potentially organized at the state level. The pastepot brigade has allied itself with certain labor unions and has developed now soft-shell tactics by promising poster-panels that are "pleasing." The billboard lobby also invokes the pious rhetoric of state rights and free enterprise in opposing federally encouraged restrictions.

These arguments are so much ewash. The federal taxpayer is bearing the biggest share of the burden in financing a new highway system that is intended to be the best in the world. Motorists are a captive audience on the highway, and the pastepot lobby wants the public to underwrite its access to this audience. Given an inch, the signboard industry will put up billboards a mile wide that will seal off the verdant countryside with a solid wall of gargoyle advertisements.

CHANGE OF SCENERY

That change in traffic on Blue Lakes North has resulted in some changes in habits, some of which the general public may not recognize.

Take, for instance, the case of the mother who was accustomed to park on Blue Lakes North near Washington school to await her children. She discovered she can't park on the boulevard anymore and had to find a new place to wait.

Or the drivers of laundry trucks. They've had to change their habit of parking at the curb while delivering and picking up. Friends of residents along the boulevard also have discovered it's sort of risky to stop alongside the curb with traffic whizzing right along behind the rear bumper.

But the milkman solved his problem quite easily. He not only changed his delivery habits, but got a change of, ah, scenery, along with it. He now drives down the alley!

GENTLEMAN IN THE FOURTH ROW

The Doctor Says

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M. D.

Although the chief use of vitamins in the treatment of vitamin deficiencies, they may have other uses. I have already referred to the use of niacin in large doses to bring down a high blood-cholesterol level.

TECOPHEROL (vitamin E) belongs in this category. It has long been known that animals deprived of this vitamin cannot reproduce and that the vitamin is essential for healthy red blood cells. It is found in vegetable oils, wheat germ, whole grain cereals and lettuce. Because it is required in very minute amounts, no deficiency has been reported in human beings with the exception of infants (mostly premature) whose red blood cells are found to be abnormal.

No definite daily requirement of vitamin E can be established for adults because it depends on the amount of polyunsaturated fat in the diet. The greater the amount of such fat in the diet, the lower the vitamin E level in the blood unless foods rich in vitamin E are taken to offset the depleting effects of the fat.

When the vitamin E reserves of the body fall below a certain level the red blood cells wear out at an increasing rate. Vitamin E appears to be of benefit in children who eat a protein-poor diet and in those with cystic fibrosis—a hereditary disease of the sweat glands, pancreas and mucous-forming glands.

The tendency in adults to suffer following surgery from abnormal clotting in the veins can be largely prevented by getting out of bed within a day or two of the operation but when, for any reason, this cannot be done vitamin E combined with calcium gluconate will prevent this complication. In some women hot flashes persist long after the menopause. If these are not controlled by taking female hormones, vitamin E may be of benefit. Thus the vitamin is found to have some uses not definitely connected with a vitamin E deficiency.

Because the treatment of diabetes is complex and because the victim must assume most of the responsibility for his treatment, the more he learns about his disease the better. Although excellent manuals have been published for the guidance of diabetics, they have not been able to keep up with the recent advances in the treatment of this disease.

To aid in the solution of this problem a new quarterly journal for diabetics and their families is being published and is already going to over 20,000 persons. Inquiries should be sent to "The Diabetic," 510 Plymouth Avenue, Minneapolis, Minn. 55411.

TAYLOR'S VIEWS ON WORLD NEWS

By HENRY J. TAYLOR
Some features appear, significant to us, in Europe's business balloon. The boom psychology has sprung several leaks.

In the secret Geneva talks U.S. negotiator Christian A. Hunter finds that the Common Market's "exception list" of industrial items stymies our proposed 50 per cent across-the-board tariff cut on our products as well as theirs. In short, the hinky-dinky-parley-woo we're getting under the crystal chandeliers is merely the good old run-around, as so often.

This stalemate has been stated, but a powerful factor behind the scenes is the substantial overproduction in the six associated countries in textiles, chemicals, electric appliances, etc., that in some cases approaches a glut.

European industrialists are essentially cartel-minded. They are not primarily interested in meeting competition, but in avoiding it. Anti-trust laws, as we know them, are practically nonexistent, and the care and feeding of cartels and government monopolies is a delicate operation under glut circumstances.

Protesting increased automobile imports into Italy from France and West Germany, Fiat official Vittorio Valletta comes down the Truman veto in fine style. The vote was 331 to 83. House Democrats split: 106 to override the veto; 71 to sustain it. Representative Johnson voted to override.

Enactment of Taft-Hartley has been followed by nearly 20 years of all-out union effort to repeal or to amend the act. These efforts consistently have been beaten down.

Big labor has refined its target now. It has taken aim at a single part of Taft-Hartley, section 14-B.

No state is compelled to outlaw the union shop but 19 have done so with right-to-work laws. These laws guarantee to the worker a basic civil right, the right to join a union or not. The union bosses promise revenge on politicians who defend 14-B.

On the recent record of President Johnson and his party with respect to civil rights and section 14-B, it would appear that some civil rights are righter than others, politically!

Capital Report

By MERRIMAN SMITH

WASHINGTON (UPI) — With the arrival of hot weather in the nation's capital, some of the more senior citizens at the White House may be pardoned for practically subversive thoughts of yesteryear and how presidents took vacations in gold-plated resorts.

Not so long ago when summer rolled around, White House staff members could think of weekends on Cape Cod, months in Denver or Newport, yacht cruises on Chesapeake Bay or some equally delightful form of diversion from the tedium of hot weather Washington.

Under President Johnson, however, vacation means one thing — the ranch at Johnson City, Tex.

spade tricks unless he drops either the king or queen. If he leads from dummy and finesses the ten with the plan to finess the jack later on, he will only lose two spade tricks if West holds both the missing honors.

Thus, while a single finesse has an even money chance to succeed, a double finesse succeeds three times out of four.

West holds both the king and queen of spades as you can see from a look at the hands. This time the double finesse is going to lose, so that any South player who tries it will probably complained, "When you eat at someone else's table you should be very careful to take only your portion." His statement in the authoritative Il Corriere della Sera typifies the imbalance of the inflating attack.

Italy is the sick man of the six, but problems are mounting even in West Germany.

The great West German boom has been under way 17 years—the turn to solid marks was instituted June 20, 1948. This was the starting point and the boom has always been built on an extremely narrow capital base compared to vast credits.

Now shipbuilding and several other heavy industries are in the doldrums and ever-mounting German welfare costs are creating an export pinch.

Competitive statistics showing low German industrial wages rates are misleading. You must add 18 to 22 per cent for welfare charges and delayed benefits. Even inside the Common Market most of the steel for the German automobile industry is coming in at lower costs from France.

Throughout Western Europe, what is technically called the Euro-dollar market, involving U.S. dollars in deposit and loan transactions negotiated and completed abroad, has been growing rapidly. Euro-dollar deposits now come from about 25 countries and more than 400 commercial and private banks. Large amounts are used for much doubtful borrowing, notably by the two big Communist banks in London, and the Banque Commerciale de l'Europe du Nord in Paris.

The warning is sounded by economist Oscar L. Altman of the International Monetary Fund, no less, and now confronts top banking judgments in Europe and our own Federal Reserve Board.

In Britain the annual season for the inflow of sterling payments has ended. In the pound crisis last November this seasonal movement, plus the high "import surcharges" enacted and the bank rate boost to seven per cent, created a good world reaction. But the uncertainties are now renewed.

In fact, new fears about the pound's future are a strain on our own bond market here and Washington's freedom of action in monetary policies. For the financial world is an interwoven world, of course, and the entire free world's monetary system has been built on gold and the dollar-pound relationship.

More than 3,500 years ago a wise man wrote on a clay tablet in ancient Persia, "You can have a lord or a king, but the man to fear is the tax collector." Britain's social security taxes are mounting as they will soon mount here, the expanded services add new costs as they pile here, and the load weighs heavily on British prices and productivity.

Britain's trade balance took a bad turn in March and showed a deficit in April of $13 million at annual rate. The International Monetary Fund's $1 billion credit granted Britain in December must be repaid. Now the fund has granted an additional $1.4 billion. Under present rules this exhausts the member's borrowing power from the fund. That credit, too, must be repaid. Yet Britain's true reserves for this purpose are virtually nil.

Behind the scenes Europe's leading financial minds now have on their thinking caps about the boom that our record-breaking number of summer tourists will see.

BOAT PERMITS AVAILABLE
BOISE (AP) — Fifteen-day free operating permits for boats licensed in other states will be available for non-resident boat owners in county assessor's offices throughout Idaho, George Denney, director of the Motor Vehicle Bureau, said Thursday.

The Legislature, authorized by the 1965 Legislature, are available free of charge, Denney said, as long as the boat is licensed in the owner's home state.

PARK PLANNED
POCATELLO (UPI) — The Idaho State University Alumni Association Friday announced plans to build a park overlooking Pocatello from the top of Red Hill.

Construction of a lookout will be the first step in the project.

The association asked ISC architecture students to design a lookout which could be built under association sponsorship.

SPEAKER SELECTED
BOISE (AP) — A Kansas educator was announced Thursday as a speaker for the annual convention of the Idaho Municipal League, to be held in Idaho Falls June 17-19.

H. Ferd Koch of Boise, league president, said Fran D. Jabara, professor of accounting at Wichita State University, will be the opening general session speaker June 18. He will discuss "The Business Approach to Municipal Government."

DAMAGES ASKED
BOISE (UPI) — A Missouri couple filed suit in U. S. District Court Thursday asking more than $100,000 damages for injuries allegedly sustained in a Pocatello auto accident.

Filing the suit were Paul E. and Florence Callis. Named defendants were Robert and Ethel Gish and Dale's Auto Supply, Inc., Pocatello.

The Callis couple claim Mrs. Callis incurred permanent injuries when their car collided with an auto driven by Mrs. Gish and owned by the auto supply firm in Pocatello July 24, 1964.

HEARING SET
POCATELLO (AP) — Fifth District Judge Gus Carr Anderson has scheduled a hearing June 1 at 1:30 p.m. on a petition for a writ of mandamus filed by Edward Boyer, former chairman of the Fort Hall Tribal Council.

The petition is filed against the Shoshone-Bannock Tribe, the Fort Hall Indian Reservation, the Tribal Council, and its members.

Boyer states in the petition that he was elected to the council in June 1963 and served as chairman until January 1964. He said on March 10, 1964, the other members of the tribal council illegally ousted him from office.

BOND SALES GOOD
BOISE (AP) — With the year one-third gone, Idaho was slightly past the one-third mark Thursday toward achieving its savings bond sales goal for 1965.

State Chairman Charles C. Adams said sales in April totaled $65,820, increasing the total for the year to $2,380,010. That was 34.4 per cent of the year's goal of $7.5 million.

JORDAN SPEAKS
POCATELLO (AP) — Sen. Len Jordan, R-Idaho, says the Gen. State has many of the attributes needed for a proposed $280 million nuclear accelerator but notes it is only one of many states bidding for the laboratory.

"We are working on the proposition," Jordan said Thursday in an address to a Joint Pocatello service club meeting, "but if we are not successful on this one, don't be disappointed, because there will be others."

SUGGESTS FUND USE
BOISE (AP) — John McMurray, Idaho Republican State chairman, suggested Thursday that the $1 million asked by the Department of the Interior to begin planning a Bonneville power line into Southern Idaho be used instead for the Lower Teton Dam in Eastern Idaho.

"The funding of Lower Teton Dam," McMurray said in a statement, "is certainly a more pressing need and of greater value to Idaho than is BPA's unwarranted request for a duplicate line."

LIQUOR SALE LEGAL
BOISE (AP) — Sale of liquor by the drink is legal Monday under state law even though the day is designated officially as Memorial Day, Warner Mills, Idaho liquor law enforcement director, said Thursday.

State law prohibits sale of liquor by the drink on Sundays and on three holidays—Memorial Day, Thanksgiving Day and Christmas.

But Mills said the ban on sales does not apply Monday, although a proclamation by Gov. Robert E. Smylie designates it a legal holiday in observance of Memorial Day, which falls on Sunday.

Family Bruised As Truck Upsets
WENDELL—A Lewiston family escaped serious injury late Thursday afternoon when the driver of a 1953 Chevrolet pickup truck, Orvil Sears Jr., 25, apparently fell asleep. The truck went into a borrow pit and overturned, according to Gooding County Deputy Sheriff Bill Bunn.

In the truck in addition to Sears, were his wife, Shirley, 22; son, Cotton, 15 months, and daughter, Dana Marie, 8 weeks.

The family was taken to a Wendell physician where they were treated for bruises and abrasions and released. Mrs. Sears reportedly has a broken rib.

The truck was demolished, according to officers. Wendell Police Chief Bill Austin assisted in the investigation.

3 Hailey Men Lauded for Help in Fire Prevention

HAILEY—Three Hailey residents have received citations signed by Gov. Robert E. Smylie for outstanding work, without remuneration, in the Keep Idaho Green campaign.

Lawrence Johnson, Dean Knight and Leonard Knight were presented the citations by John Combs, Sawtooth Forest ranger, at a Chamber of Commerce meeting Wednesday.

Johnson's citation stated, "Each year for several years Lawrence Johnson has reported several fires on the Ghalis and Sawtooth National Forests while flying over the Idaho Primitive area.

"Generally those fires are in remote locations where they could grow to large size before being detected by normal methods. Because of his intimate knowledge of this back country, Mr. Johnson's reports have accurately pinpointed locations of the fires for suppression purposes."

Johnson, who operates the Johnson Flying Service at Hailey, is known for his ability to maneuver an airplane in landing and taking off in "tight spots," the citation notes. He also files the snow courses, which are inaccessible for measurement by "any other method," for the Soil Conservation Service during the winter.

Citations for the Knight-brothers notes, "About 2 a.m. Oct. 13, 1964, while returning home from work the brothers discovered a man-caused fire in Triumph gulch.

"After unsuccessfully trying to put it out they alerted Forest Service crews. Dean returned to the fire and assisted in controlling it about 7 a.m. This fire burned actively during the night and would have been a project-

The Knight brothers are descendants of a pioneer family of this area and operate the ranch up Triumph Gulch which was homesteaded by their grandfather.

Combs said only 18 such citations were given throughout the state for the 1964 season.

Rites Planned For Statue Of Kennedy

DALLAS (UPI) — A bronze bust of the late President John F. Kennedy will be unveiled and dedicated Saturday — the first permanent memorial dedicated to Dallas to Kennedy since his assassination Nov. 22, 1963, in a motorcade.

Earl Cabell, Dallas U.S. Rep., will unveil the statue which will stand permanently in front of the John F. Kennedy Living Center, the nation's first boarding facility for mentally retarded young adults.

The unveiling of the bust will occur on the 48th anniversary of Kennedy's birth.

Engraved on the bust, which was created by Texas sculptor Anthony J. Paness, will be the dates of Kennedy's life and his historic inauguration phrase: "Ask not what your country can do for you, ask what you can do for your country."

Father Oscar Huber, the priest who administered last rites to President Kennedy, will give the invocation. He is pastor of Holy Trinity Catholic Church, located just across the street from the living center.

The non-profit center was dedicated last month as a living memorial to Kennedy.

Miffed Medics Have 'Heal in' At Hospital

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A county official says resident physicians and interns at Los Angeles County General Hospital, miffed by a pay raise of less than $10 a month, are flooding the huge facility with patients.

He says the doctors are calling it a "heal in."

County Supervisor Kenneth Hahn, who said the protest was described to his office Thursday, called it "a deliberate plan to disrupt good hospital service."

Hahn said the strategy among the 200 interns and 350 physicians was to admit as many patients as possible, and at the same time, retain patients longer than normally would be the case.

Dr. Richard Boggs, president of the intern-resident protest group, declined to discuss the situation with newsmen.

Hospital administrators said there was a 25 per cent increase in admissions Thursday and a 40 per cent drop in discharges.

Time Changed

SHOSHONE — Worship services at the Wood River Convalescent Center Sunday have been changed to 3 p.m. instead of 2:30 p.m.

The change is to avoid conflict with the Memorial Day ceremonies scheduled at Shoshone cemetery. Rev. John F. Tulk of Christ Episcopal Church will be in charge of the services Sunday.

THIS GRAY RAT hand puppet attracted special attention from judges of the Rocky Mountain Region 4 Children's Theater Conference. The puppet was part of the props used by the Twin Falls Community Children's Theater in exhibits of "The Pied Piper" and "Aladdin," which were displayed during the theater conference held in Ft. Collins, Colo. For the exhibit, the Community Children's Theater won first honorable mention in the theater exhibits awards.

Pentagon Eyes Bonus For Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon is proposing a special bonus to lure men with critical skills into re-enlisting in the armed services.

The bonus system, recommended to Congress in a little-noticed section of a pay-increase bill, could give some corporals and specialists as much as $8,300, depending on the importance of their skills.

Two years ago, Congress ignored a similar Defense Department proposal.

However, top officials hope the Senate and House will be more receptive this time because of the increasing difficulty in holding trained men.

The plight of the Navy was pointed up several weeks ago when Secretary Paul H. Nitze appealed to officers and men whose active-duty tours were running out to extend their service three or six months. Navy officials said it is too early to measure the response to Nitze's plea.

T. F. Children's Theater Wins Award for Exhibits

For their exhibits of props used in "The Pied Piper" and "Aladdin," displayed at the Rocky Mountain Region 4 Children's Theater Conference in Ft. Collins, Colo., the Twin Falls Community Children's Theater won first honorable mention.

The conference was held recently on the grounds of Colorado State University, with entries from Colorado, Wyoming, Utah, Idaho and Montana.

The Twin Falls group was only one point less than the first place winner, Utah State University Children's Theater.

Exhibits were judged for overall effectiveness, quality of material and imaginative presentation. Theater exhibit awards were given by the Ft. Collins Junior Theater.

Postponed

CAKE-KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—The launching of an Interplanetary Monitoring Platform (IMP-3) has been postponed because of minor technical problems.

The payload, designed to measure radiation deep in space, had been scheduled for launching today.

The shot tentatively was reset for Saturday at 7 a.m.

Board to Keep Controversial Superintendent

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Board of Education voted 7-4 late Thursday to rehire controversial Chicago School Supt. Benjamin C. Willis, 63, until his 65th birthday — Dec. 21, 1966.

Willis has been under heavy attack by civil rights groups who have contended that he has done nothing to foster integration in Chicago's public schools.

The public vote to rehire Willis came after board members had met in executive session for more than five hours.

Governor Smylie Believes He Knows Demo Nominee, Won't Name Him

SPOKANE (AP)—Gov. Robert E. Smylie says he thinks he knows who the Democratic gubernatorial candidate in Idaho will be in 1966 but declines to give any names.

He said the person he has in mind has "got" the votes at a convention or in a primary but he hasn't got the votes in a general election.

While the governor declined to say who he thinks the candidate will be, most observers have already predicted Sen. William Dee, D-Idaho, an avowed sales tax opponent and an announced candidate for governor, has the Democratic nomination in the bag.

Smylie's comments came during a brief stopover in Spokane Thursday while en route to Farragut State Park, site of the 1965 National Girl Scout Roundup.

The governor was noncommittal about his own political future but said he wouldn't mind running on the same ballot with the sales tax issue, which goes before the voters in November of next year.

Spring

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—The temperature was dipping into the 30s when Loel Henry started to mow a neighbor's lawn Thursday. Dressed in a parka and earmuffs, the boy finished the job in light snow, that quickly melted.

Smylie reiterated earlier statements that he is confident the people will sustain the sales tax "primarily because people want to permit schools to maintain their program."

Smylie also had praised Washington Gov. Dan Evans who he described as "one of the able and attractive new leaders in the Republican Party."

"He's off to a good start since he is a holdover in the could become a powerful leader in the Republican Party," Smylie said.

Commenting on Farragut State Park, Smylie said the site could become one of the outstanding parks in the Northwest and conceivably could become the location for many large outdoor conventions.

Air Force Information Head Will Speak at Burley Event

BURLEY—Maj. Gen. Eugene B. LeBaillly, a native Idahoan and now director of information, United States Air Force, Pentagon, Washington, D. C., will be featured on a panel on the "Importance of Aerospace to Government, Industry, Education and Military" during Aerospace Days June 25-27 in Burley.

MAJ. GEN. LeBAILLY

The event is sponsored by the Idaho Air Force Association. The general was born Jan. 19, 1915, at Shoshone, is a 1932 graduate of Pocatello High School and attended the University of Idaho in 1933 and 1934. He was graduated with a bachelor of science degree from the University of California in 1939 at Berkeley, Calif.

He entered the Air Force as an aviation cadet and received his wings and was commissioned as second lieutenant in March, 1940 at Kelly AFB, Tex. When America entered World War II Gen. LeBaillly then stationed in the Caribbean area, was assigned to flying B-24 bombers in sea-search protection of approaches to the Panama Canal.

In 1944, after training a bombardment group at Blythe Air Force Base, he took that group to England where he became deputy commander and then commander of the 14th Bomb Group under the Eighth Air Force. Gen. LeBaillly flew 20 missions over Germany, directing large masses of bombers against Berlin and the other prime targets, destruction of which eventually led to capitulation of Hitler's forces.

After World War II he fulfilled many assignments and commands, as well as attending both the Air Command and Staff Schools at Maxwell Air Force Base, Ala.

In action against Korea, during forays there, the general destroyed nine locomotives and is credited with nine others in low-level night attacks by B-26s.

Probably one of Gen. LeBaillly's most significant tours of duty was as a member of the American-Japanese Planning Group following the Korean conflict which aided in bringing about the present-day Japanese Air Force which came into being July 1, 1954.

Today Gen. LeBaillly is director of information in the office of the secretary of the air force, Pentagon, Washington, D. C. Prior to being appointed to that post he served as deputy director and, earlier, in a similar capacity with the Tactical Air Command, Langley Air Force Base, Va.

Gen. LeBaillly received his two-star rank July 1, 1963. As a command pilot, he holds many decorations including the Silver Star, Legion of Merit, three Distinguished Flying Crosses, seven Air Medals, the French Croix de Guerre and the Korean medal.

Other members of the Aerospace Day panel include Gov. Robert E. Smylie; Dr. Donald Kline, Pocatello, department of education, Idaho State University, and W. A. Roberts, Bartlesville, Okla., vice chairman, Phillips Petroleum Co. Moderator will be James H. Straubel, executive director, Air Force Association, Washington, D.C.

Boise Child Injured in Auto Crash

WENDELL—A one car accident about one mile northwest of Wendell has seriously injured a 23-month-old Boise girl. She was in a car driven by her father, John W. Jonas, 27, which was traveling southeast on U.S. 25 about 5:30 p.m. Thursday.

Also in the car were Jonas' wife, Shirley, 23, and his son, Billy, five months. Jonas, his wife and son were all taken to St. Benedict's Hospital, Jerome, where they were treated for bruises and cuts and released.

Debbie Jonas also was taken to St. Benedict's and then transferred to a Boise hospital with possible head and spine injuries. Late Thursday night St. Alphonsus hospital authorities said the child was in serious condition.

According to Gooding County Sheriff Vern Royse, Jonas apparently lost control of the 1962 Comet he was driving and it went off the side of the road, careened to the other side and rolled twice in a borrow pit.

Mr. and Mrs. Jonas remained in the car but the two children were thrown out. The car, according to investigating officers, was demolished. Gooding County Deputies Dal Muir and Bill Bunn and Wendell Police Chief Bill Austin assisted in the investigation.

Insult?

DALY CITY, Calif. (AP)—During ground-clearing for a $20-million shopping center Thursday, a World War II Sherman tank—painted a gaudy red—smashed down an old bunkhouse, cookhouse and barns on the former dairy farm.

"I don't like it," said silver-haired Mrs. William Christian, whose family sold the farm for $10 million three years ago.

Three Raids into Jordan Are Reported

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Israeli paratroopers and infantrymen made three Thursday raids into neighboring Jordan, claiming destruction of depots and six buildings and bases for sabotage raids in Israel.

A Jordanian military spokesman said the Israelis, in blowing up two farmhouses, killed two farmers and two children and injured four other farmers. The Israelis said they made all the buildings uninhabitable before destroying them. An Israeli spokesman said Israeli soldiers were injured seriously when a red four exploded accidentally while they were returning to Israel. The Jordanian spokesman said the Jordanian forces clashed with two of the Israeli patrols, killing the commander of one of them. Neither side reported any Jordanian military casualties.

Shortage of Plastic Surgeons Reported in South Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thousands of South Vietnamese are badly disfigured by gunshot and burn wounds they never were able to lead useful lives, says an American plastic surgeon who recently returned from the stricken land.

Only four Vietnamese plastic surgeons are available in that country of 14 million people, a severe shortage that represents a national tragedy, said Dr. Richard B. Stark, chief of plastic surgery at St. Luke's Hospital, New York.

Stark returned recently from Saigon after spending a month training and assisting the four Vietnamese plastic surgeons who face, he said, a staggering task of treating casualty cases that includes civilians and soldiers. Stark was an emissary of MEDICO, a nongovernmental medical group that provides aid in underprivileged areas of the world.

"Many of them (the victims) need 40 to 50 operations in order to be salvaged," said the doctor in a report to MEDICO. The report was made available to a reporter by CARE Inc., which is holding a world conference here. MEDICO is a service of CARE.

464,000 American Families Work Out of Poverty Class

By ADREN COOPER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Approximately 464,000 American families took a giant step last year. Their income edged over the $3,000 mark — and out of what the administration defines as the "poverty bracket."

At the happier end of the scale, a Census Bureau report today also showed the number of families with incomes of $10,000 or more increased by 1.3 million.

And the median — middle — income increased too from $6,249 to $6,569. That's a 5-per cent jump from 1963 and 57-per cent from 1954. Prices also rose, though, so the increase in purchasing power was only 4 per cent.

The median income is the exact middle income for the 47.8 million American families. That is, half of them are below that level and half above.

Some 17.6 per cent of American families, or 8.4 million, had incomes below $3,000 compared to 18.5 per cent in 1963. Almost 32 per cent had incomes below $3,000 in 1964.

Some 10,800,000 families had incomes of $10,000 or more in 1964. This represented 22 per cent compared to 20 per cent in 1963 and less than 6 per cent in 1954.

More than one out of every 20 families had incomes of at least $15,000 compared to one out of 100 in 1954.

The median income of Negro families was $5,814 compared to $7,720 for whites. Thirty-seven per cent of Negro families were below the poverty line while 15.4 per cent of white families were in that category. Only 8.3 per cent of Negro families had incomes above $10,000.

Antics Mark Hearing on Illinois Reds

CHICAGO (AP) — The House Committee on Un-American Activities has concluded three days of hearings on communism in Illinois, marked by an abundance of demonstrations and a lack of testimony.

Only two witnesses, both FBI informers, testified. Nine others pleaded constitutional protection against testifying or walked out of the hearing room.

During the final day of hearings Thursday, police and federal marshals arrested 38 demonstrators, some for singing in the hearing room, others for raising a commotion outside the building. Two demonstrators suffered head cuts trying to break through police lines.

Title Fight Moratorium, Federal Boxing Control Talk Hits Washington

NEW YORK (AP)—Federal control of boxing and a moratorium on heavyweight title fights until Congress has investigated the sport were proposed Thursday in Washington as critics continued to blast Tuesday's Cassius Clay-Sonny Liston fiasco at Lewiston, Maine. Fans and newspaper headlines still yelled "Fix," "Frame" and "Fraud" and more ring probes were suggested from Maine to Malaysia in the wake of the bizarre bout that will enrich Clay and Liston by a bout $600,000 each.

Snead Continues to Ride Golfing Trail

NEW YORK (AP)—You'd think a fellow fairly well along in the fifties, with more triumphs and more prize money than any other sports professional, would be content to clip his coupons and count his blessings. But not Sammy Snead, the balding slammer of the links who is awaiting the next major tournament with the eagerness you'd expect of let's say someone like his 20-year-old son Jack.

Sports FROM ALL ANGLES

By LARRY HOVEY

There is a smugness in the air this year as Magic Valley fishermen prepare for another season.

It is an understandable reaction on the part of anglers as for the first time they have come up with something to challenge the increase of "trespassing" signs. This, of course, refers to the navigability stream law that can be applied to Idaho's rivers. Everyone has always known the law in the book but until the sportsmen from the north end of Magic Valley started thinking about applying it to Silver creek it remained just one of those unmentioned things.

But now that its out—really out—there are, unfortunately, a number of fishermen who suddenly feel themselves armed. It is indeed a sword with which the public can slash its way down almost any creek you can name. But it also could be a sword of Damocles.

It evidently has never occurred to some of them that a court could rule against the sportsmen. It doesn't seem that any have thought about the thing dragging through long litigation. There's more belligerence in the idea they can say "at 10 a.m. Tuesday we'll have the thing declared navigable."

Under their current assumption, the few who might well be the same ones that cause the whole problem with their continual abuses, have decided after all that fishing has become a right, rather than a privilege.

And so the monster could well turn upon its champions. Perhaps all streams will someday be navigable and open to the wading and floating public. But not everything the sportsmen likes has gills. Some have wings, like pheasants. And they too are found on private property to a large degree. The Idaho code offers no succor to the belligerent pheasant hunter. He has to rise and fall on his own merits.

An example of the overlapping of interests. Fishermen may get their way on Silver creek or any number of other streams. But the duck hunter will come out holding the short end of the stick—this despite the fact that Silver creek owners will tell you that their major problems occur only during the fishing season. The hunters seem to handle themselves fairly well—except for the calf that was shot in the barnyard on the Double R ranch last fall.

Armed with a false sense of security the fisherman may harbor as he ventures forth Saturday. We shudder to think of the arrogance he may pack along with his rod and reel.

Right now all sportsmen should realize they are treading in very deep water. The focus is Silver creek but the scope is statewide. Right now all sportsmen should be on their very best behavior. There isn't a landowner in the state that doesn't have sympathy pains for their Silver creek contemporaries.

Because the sportsmen have taken a very big and very drastic step in the old and bitter matter of hunter-landowner relations. Implied or emphasized depending on the person, the sportsman is using the navigability stream law as his major threat. It is, actually, his Sunday punch. He'll either strike out or make first base. Getting to second will prove considerably tougher.

The landowners don't enjoy it very much. Who will blame them? They, for the most part, have been more than patient.

Solons Rip Chance, L.A. For 9-6 Win

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Senators handed Dean Chance his worst pummeling in two seasons Thursday night, knocking out the Cy Young Award winner in the third inning en route to a 9-6 victory over the Los Angeles Angels.

It was Chance's fourth straight defeat. He has won three games.

Chance was tagged for eight hits and seven runs and walked two in 2-2-3 innings.

A two-run triple by pitcher Marshall Bridges finished Chance in the Senators' six-run third inning which was topped off by Joe Cunningham's first homer of the season off Don Lee.

Frank Howard hit one of, if not the longest home run in the Senators' four-year occupancy of D.C. Stadium, off Lee in the fourth inning. It was a blast off the mezzanine in dead center, at least 460 feet from the plate.

Los Angeles 200 030 001—6 10 1 Washington 206 100 00x—9 11 1

Home runs — Washington, Cunningham (1), Howard (8).

They've been darned near divine in their forgiveness over the years.

So just one last plea on behalf of the millions of fishermen who will take part in future opening days and future fishing seasons.

Put on your best behavior for the 1965 fishing season. Its still a privilege and not a right. Pick up your litter. Leave your side-arms and barking dogs at home.

Use the stiles. Obey the signs and ASK PERMISSION!

It is, in the long run, your only chance for a continuing, balanced outdoor life.

SIGNS PITTS GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—The Green Bay Packers announced Thursday the signing of running back Eliah Pitts and defensive back Doug Hart for the 1965 season.

Clay, the unbeaten champ who prefers to be known as Muhammad Ali, was back in Chicago, Mass., where he trained for his one-round knockout over Liston. The champ rejected charges of any fix.

"Sonny is too dull and too slow to be a fixer in a fight," said Clay. "He would have waited more than one round to make it look good. I hit him flush with all of my 206 pounds, and they hated to give me credit."

Liston was home in Denver, complaining mildly about getting a "fast shuffle" in the fight that ended in utter confusion when Jersey Joe Walcott, the referee, failed to pick up the knockdown timekeeper's count. "I thought maybe I didn't hear the bell or something," he said.

A showing of the official fight movie in New York revealed that Clay definitely did land a right hand to Liston's head, but it did not appear to be a heavy blow. Clay was up on his feet ready to move back, when he threw the punch.

The film company checked the time which it claimed was accurate to within 1-51 second and found that Liston went down for 1:47.23 and remained down for 171.3 seconds. Obviously, this was in variance with the time of 1:00 flat, a record, announced at ringside by the Maine Boxing Commission.

The fight stirred up considerable talk in Washington where Rep. Robert H. Michel, R-Ill., introduced a resolution to give the House Judiciary Committee the power to investigate boxing and suggested that there be no more heavyweight title fights until after such an investigation.

Before the day was over, Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark., introduced a bill to establish a federal boxing commission. Harris is chairman of the House Commerce Committee.

Gene Tunney's son, Rep. John V. Tunney, D-Calif., again urged a national boxing commission to prevent a fiasco such as Tuesday's performance from occurring again and to help return the sport of boxing to a position of respectability in the eyes of the people.

Meanwhile, the fighters were jostling for the next shot at Clay. Floyd Patterson, the former champ who was knocked out twice by Liston in the first round, was concerned about being bypassed in favor of George Chuvalo, the Toronto heavy who lost to Patterson in an elimination match Feb. 1.

"I'll fight anybody in the world," said Clay at Chicopee. "I'd eat up Ernie Terrell (the World Boxing Association's world champ). I'd like to meet George Chuvalo first. I think he is serious. I don't think Patterson can take a punch."

Harry Markson, managing director of boxing at Madison Square Garden, said he had appointments to meet with the Louisville Sponsoring Group and Angelo Dundee, Clay's manager, to discuss a New York fight for the champ in September.

Boston Raps Twins From League Lead

BOSTON (AP) — Relief ace Dick Radatz preserved Dave Morehead's three-hit shutout by striking out two pinch hitters with the bases full in the ninth inning Thursday and the Boston Red Sox defeated the Minnesota Twins 2-0.

The defeat knocked the Twins out of the top spot in the American League.

Morehead got himself into hot water by walking three straight batters after striking out Harmon Killebrew in the ninth. Radatz came out of the bullpen at this point and fanned pinch hitters Don Mincher and Sandy Valdespino.

An error by third baseman Frank Kostro and a sacrifice fly by catcher Bob Tillman accounted for both Boston runs in the seventh inning and broke up a scoreless pitching duel between Morehead and Minnesota's Jim Kaat.

Wilson Is Named Field Manager For Magic Valley

Dick Wilson, who managed the Magic Valley Cowboys in 1958 for the Chicago Cubs, will return this season to lead the San Francisco Giants' 1965 edition of the Cowboys. The announcement came Thursday afternoon from club president Carl Berg, who noted Wilson will arrive in Twin Falls about June 12 or 13 to set up the training camp for the rookie team.

Giants Belt Redlegs 9-2 Behind Perry

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Gaylord Perry set down the Cincinnati Reds 9-2 with a three-hitter Thursday, getting home run support from Jesus Alou and Cap Peterson.

Perry didn't give up a hit until two were out in the fifth. In picking up his fourth victory against three defeats, Perry struck out six and walked three. Alou, who hit only three homers in 1964, got his fifth of the season with the bases empty in the first of Cincinnati starter Joe Nuxhall, who took his second loss in three decisions.

Peterson, normally the Giants' No. 1 right-hander-pinch hitter, got his first homer in the fifth, a free-run shot off Jim O'Toole, the third Reds' pitcher. Raiting, 333 coming into the game, Peterson played left field in his first start of the season.

Sparma-Led Tigers Drop Yankees 4-1

DETROIT (AP) — Joe Sparma scattered five hits and aided his own cause with a two-run double, leading the Detroit Tigers to a 4-1 victory over the New York Yankees Thursday night.

The Yankees were held without a hit until Mickey Mantle and Joe Pepitone hit consecutive singles opening the fifth inning. Sparma quickly pitched out of the jam by striking out Tom Tresh and getting Clete Boyer to hit into a double play.

Sparma's shutout bid was ruined with two out in the ninth when Roger Maris homered.

Yankee starter Whitey Ford left the game after pitching the first inning and giving up a run and three singles. Ford said there was nothing wrong but added he felt he "just didn't have it."

Stanley Area Fishing to Be Limited

Fishing possibilities for opening day Saturday will be rather limited in the Sawtooth Valley area, according to Ralph Sisco, ranger in charge of the Sawtooth Valley district of the Sawtooth National Forest.

All the high lakes are still snowed in, naturally, and stream fishing will be only fair at best because of high water.

Alturas Lake has been planted and fishing should be good to excellent, says Sisco. However, the road is open only to the lodge and campgrounds still are under two feet of snow.

Pettit lake has been planted and should be good. The road is muddy and in poor condition. The ground is still covered with snow.

Redfish Lake area is free of snow and the road is dry. The lake has been planted and fishing should be good. Campgrounds are open.

Drab Sagegrouse Woos in Splendid Attire

The drab old sagehen rooster smell of sage and an awkwardness that is almost too pitiful to be funny. There is little resemblance to the confident, conspicuous swain of spring who dominates the strutting ground, trying to win the wing of a retiring hen. The Idaho Fish and Game Department keeps an eye on about 20 strutting grounds throughout Magic Valley and uses the counts for trend information. The sagegrouse has not been faring well the past several years but department personnel have been buoyed somewhat this spring. Each of the strutting grounds observed had a higher count than last year, some by nearly double.

FEATHERED FINERY is available to view early on cold spring mornings throughout the sagebrush areas of Magic Valley. The roosters pictured above were caught with a telephoto lens on two strutting grounds in the Shoshone basin earlier this year. The dashing figures of spring, complete with a love call and a number of swaggering dance steps, turn back into pumpkins by June and become the drab desert birds the public is used to seeing. Coach Sues When School Cuts Team

DETROIT (UPI) — If a college drops football, does it have to pay its coach for expenses incurred in finding a new job? John Idzik believes that the answer to the question is "yes" and he's filed a $15,000 breach of contract suit in Wayne County circuit court to try and prove the point.

Idzik became a head coach without a team on Nov. 30, 1964, when the University of Detroit dropped intercollegiate football. His suit charges $7,500 in damages and asks for another $7,500 for "services rendered" before leaving Feb. 4 to take an assistant coaching job at Tulane.

Bolt Curbs Temper, Cops 500-Golf Lead

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — Tommy Bolt checked his temperament and the long-playing Greentree course for a steady three-under-par 68 game Thursday and the first round lead in the $37,000 "500 Festival" golf tourney. The 1958 National Open champion who hasn't won a major tourney since 1961, took a one-stroke lead over a half dozen challengers, including two-time winner Doug Ford.

Also tied at 69 with Ford were Joe Campbell, Claude King, Billy Martindale, Art Wall and Joe Kirkwood Jr.

The field of 144 found the going much tougher over the suburban 7,037-yard layout than at Speedway, where the five previous tourneys were held. Only 17 players managed to beat par 71 and nine others equalled it.

Defending champion Gary Player of South Africa had a 73 and Tony Lema, another highly publicized touring pro, soared to 75.

Doug Sanders, the second leading money winner with victories at Pensacola and Dorval played 15 holes over the wind-swept course before withdrawing with a thumb injury.

Sanders, who tied for runner-up honors last year, belted two shots out of bounds on No. 12 and took a nine on the par 5, 565-yard hole and gave up three holes later.

Bolt, known for his short temper, fired five birdies against only two bogies to go with 11 pars. He went out in 34 and also toured the back nine in 34 strokes for his slim one-shot lead. His best shot was with an 8-iron, chipping in from 77 feet for a birdie deuce on No. 16.

Mets Outlast Chicago 8-5 In Slugfest

NEW YORK (AP) — Ed Kranepool, Johnny Lewis and Ron Swoboda hammered home seven runs among them to lead the attack as the New York Mets outslugged the Chicago Cubs 8-5 in a parade of eight pitchers Thursday.

The Mets piled up a 7-0 lead in the first four innings, but Gary Kroll, the starting pitcher, needed help from three relievers to register his third victory against two triumphs.

Ernie Banks, who did not start, was Chicago's big gun as the Cubs tried to get back in the game with three runs in the sixth and two more in the seventh.

Banks drove in a run with a pinch-hit single in the sixth and knocked in two more with a bases loaded single in the seventh.

Ford Engines Are Back at Track

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Ford-powered engines sent to Detroit for overhauling are back in pits of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway for Saturday's carburetion tests.

Seventeen of them will be in Monday's start of the Indianapolis 500 but no one is telling how many made the trip to the Motor City for the tune-up.

The rest of the engines in the 33-car line-up were torn down and rebuilt at the track's garage area while drivers took a break.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) day when old dogs can lead a whole trunk-full of new tricks. Make a few changes in your life. SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Attention to morning worship should open your mind to new ways of looking at things. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22) — Plan tomorrow's schedule today. CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20) — Rely on yourself for today's entertainment. AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) — A short trip to visit relatives or close friends could be what the doctor ordered. PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Avoid offering family members a choice of activities. You don't want to place yourself in the position of having to say no. ARIES (March 21-April 20) A bit of soul-searching coupled with a few hours of community work with Mother Nature should soothe your problems. TAURUS (April 21-May 21) — Avoid taking part in those so-called activities which you know from experience to be boring. ENVOYS ARE INTERESTED IN JOHNSON PLAN WASHINGTON (AP)—Latin American diplomats were invited, but not very talking, about President Johnson's proposal today for speedy new international machinery to meet fast-moving events such as the violence in the Dominican Republic. Apparently still skeptical about whether the President is the right thing in sending in the U.S. Marines without advance consultation with Latin American representatives, the diplomats were reluctant to comment. In addition, they said they would prefer to read the President's entire speech at Baylor University and analyze it before getting into a discussion. Panama's Ambassador Ricardo Arias, an ex-president, said "such a proposal, coming from the President of the United States, certainly merits serious consideration and study by all of the Latin American countries, which are familiar with the dangers of which he speaks. It represents a change in policy, and a new philosophy." FOILED NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — When pawnbroker Clarence Rosenstein found his portable television set at home missing, along with $40 in cash, he took another look at the set he had taken for $40 at his shop a few hours earlier. Turned out to be his own. Charles Walter Burkes, 31, unaware he was pawing the pawnbroker's own set, had given Rosenstein his correct name and address. He was jailed on burglary charges. Nevada Mine Adding Gold To U.S. Stock

CARLIN, Nev. (AP) — The nation's bothersome outflow of gold to overseas was stemmed by about 80 pounds worth Thursday when a $10 million mine and mill formally produced its first ingot.

The gleaming gold was extracted from low grade ore, looking like ordinary dirt, dug from Newmont Mining Corp.'s open pit mine in the barren northeast Nevada hills.

"We are not a 'have-not' nation in minerals," said Newmont President Plato Malozemoff at a luncheon in Elko later.

Malozemoff said the ore contains only about one-third of an ounce of gold per ton. However, the firm has perfected the extraction process so it can recover 93 per cent of the gold, he said. The mill is adjacent to the mine, about 20 miles north of Carlin.

Blaine Farm Unit Opposes Park Fee

CAREY—A resolution was passed opposing the federal government's national park fee when the officers of the Blaine County Farm Bureau met Wednesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Strode, Carey.

Wardell Rainey, Bellevue, is the new Farm Bureau insurance agent. It was announced. The new cattle marketing program the Farm Bureau is interested in was discussed, as was Farm Bureau participation in the parades and celebrations July 4 at Hailey and July 24 at Carey.

The Blaine County Talent Find and Discussion Meet, sponsored by the Farm Bureau, will be held the first week in June. It is reported that entrants in the county contest do not have to be members of the Farm Bureau.

Contests also will be held at the district, state, and national levels. Anyone wanting information should contact Mrs. Larry Peterson, Carey.

A team for the hospital benefit drive was discussed.

Poppy Day Slated For Saturday

FILER—Poppy Day will be observed Saturday in Filer, according to Mrs. E. T. Harshbarger, president of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Citizens will be contacted to buy and wear Memorial Poppies in honor of the war dead of the nation. More than 6,000 disabled war veterans have been given employment making the poppies for the American Legion and auxiliary this year, noted Mrs. Harshbarger.

An estimated 20,000,000 of the red crepe paper flowers were made this year in veteran's hospitals and convalescent workrooms.

Services Slated

FILER—American Legion Post No. 47 will conduct special Memorial Day services at 9 a.m. Sunday at the Filer IOOF Cemetery.

Rev. Allen Reesor, pastor of the Methodist Church, will be guest speaker. Regular military rites will be conducted. New redwood crosses have been recently constructed and erected on each veteran's grave.

Lilies

FAIRFIELD—Camas lilies are in bloom in the prairie around Fairfield. The vast swamp area south of Hill City should be in full bloom this weekend.

Hundreds of motorists drove to the area last year to see the acres and acres of blue flowers. The area can be reached by going west from Fairfield to Hill City and then south about two miles. All but the last two miles are paved road.

Along Fences and Canals

Two truckloads of calves were hauled from the W. W. Knox ranch north of King Hill last week to the Malcomson fields place at Camas Prairie. Chaney brothers, Gooding, did the hauling.

Mr. and Mrs. Freddie Heath and family have moved to the new Allred acreage on Clover Creek, east of King Hill.

The first cutting of hay in the King Hill area has commenced at the Walter Woods and LaMar Olkeberry ranches south of King Hill. Because of the heavy rainfall hay cutting had to be postponed until weather permits.

H. McCoy Jones went to New York City this week on business pertaining to his farm. Jones owns the former Worth Montgomery ranch on King Hill Creek, west of King Hill.

Lester Hall, employe of the King Hill Irrigation District, is convalescing at his home from an injured right ankle he received when the tractor he was using at the irrigation pump south of King Hill slipped into gear and ran over his right ankle. Ted Moore, manager of the irrigation district, took Hall to Gooding for medical treatment. X-rays revealed no broken bones.

Milton Schaffer, Bellevue sheepman, reports his truck overturned on the Quigley Gulch road when it ran onto remains of a snow slide. Five horses in the truck were thrown out, but were not hurt.

Flat Top Sheep Co. has moved several large bands of sheep from the desert southeast of Carey to the hills and mountains north of Carey.

Mallard Flying Service of Shelley sprayed sage brush land of Arden Wickel and Robert Baily. The land being sprayed is a section at the mouth of Connor Canyon in the eastern end of the Elba Valley and is used for cattle range by Wickel and Baily.

Glenn Berryman has trucked several loads of cattle from his ranch in Burley to his ranch in Clyde Valley west of Elba. Helping with the trucking was Spencer Black, Burley.

Mr. and Mrs. Mylo Peterson, Malta, who recently sold their ranch to the Wilber Schaner family, Scheno, Calif., have purchased a motel at Mackay and will move there as soon as school is out in Malta.

Henry Ottley, Oakley, hired rider for the Elba Cattleman and Horse Association, has moved his camp to the canyon west of the and is checking and repairing fences in that area.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Allred have sold their home in Bellevue to Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Berrey, who will take possession immediately. The Allreds will move to Upper Stanley where they will operate Danner's Cabins. Allred also will work for Kirsch and Moore in their garage and post yard there.

Mr. and Mrs. Berrey have sold their ranch south of Bellevue to Adams, Geary and Wyatt of the Mecham Real Estate firm, Burley.

Three hundred steers were hauled to the J. Mac Barton ranch on Pine Creek from the Barton property three miles south of Carey. Drivers of the three cattle trucks that hauled the steers were J. Mac Barton, his son, John, and son-in-law, Blaine Finney, Kaysville, Utah.

The Carey community band of sheep was sheared May 21 at Twin Lakes in Laddlaw Park, on the desert southeast of Carey.

Just about all the range cows in Carey Valley have calved out, except for a few stragglers.

Rains the past week came just in time to water the grain fields in the Richfield area. Other irrigating is continuing as usual for pasture land and alfalfa. The rains are a real boon to stockmen whose cattle are now on the range.

A number of Richfield residents reported seeing a tornado come over the desert east of Richfield about 5 p.m. Monday. The tail of the tornado never touched the ground but the Odell Chadfields and Dick Johnsons could see dirt being sucked into the tail. Some hail and rain fell in town also, but there were no strong winds.

Survey Lists Crop Damage Very Slight

A Times-News survey shows little or no damage has been done to crops in a three-county area.

Donald Youtz, Twin Falls county agent, reports the only damage in the Twin Falls area is from delay in getting into the fields. Other than that, the crops have not been damaged at all.

A Jerome resident, Mrs. Oliver Thomas, said the Jerome area was in good shape, though farmers there, too, were having trouble getting into the fields. The crops in that area look excellent.

In Burley, County Agent Eugene Rinehold told reporters they had not completed their investigations, but so far there was no sign of any damage.

New Wheat Varieties Announced

MOSCOW (UPI)—The University of Idaho Agriculture Experiment Station is testing three new wheats, labeled resistant to stripe rust, according to R. D. Ensign, associate director of the station.

In a report to the Idaho Wheat Commission, Ensign said one hard red winter wheat, Itana 65, and two soft white spring wheats show indications of becoming important to Idaho growers. He said officials hope to release all for production in the 1966 crop year.

Living Cost Advances For Farmer

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A nationwide consumer expenditure survey shows that the average American farm family spent $3,594 for living expenses in 1963.

In addition, the survey by the Agricultural Research Service and the Bureau of Labor Statistics shows that the average farm family also used $220 for gifts and contributions, put $200 into various types of life insurance and retirement funds, and had savings of $319 through a net increase of assets over liabilities. The average after-tax income was $4,424.

ARS said regional spending varies considerably—from a low of $3,160 in the South to a high of $4,520 in the West.

A previous nationwide consumer expenditure survey was made in 1955. Since then, rising incomes and prices have pushed farm family expenditures about one-fourth higher. Under the recently tabulated 1963 survey, actual consumption was up only one-eighth, after making the necessary adjustments in price levels.

ARS said many farm families did not share in the general prosperity. The 1963 survey indicates that 40 per cent of the families still has incomes, after taxes, of less than $3,000. About 25 per cent had net incomes under $2,000.

ARS said basic needs such as food, housing and clothing accounted for slightly more than 60 per cent of spending for current consumption. Housing—including shelter, household operations, house furnishings, and equipment—led the expenditure list with $917, or 26 per cent of the total. Food and beverages were a close second, accounting for $893, or 25 per cent. Clothing accounted for $427, or 12 per cent.

THIS GUERNSEY MILK cow appears to have her good ear tuned into what's being said at the Harold Gilpin ranch south of Salmon. Actually, she's just flipped the other one back as she munches on some hay for lunch. The animal is one of the Gilpin milking herd. (Times-News photo)

Sheep Bridge Is Placed Over Stream

HAILEY — The Bureau of Land Management sheep bridge over the Malad River, approximately a mile upstream from the point where the river empties into Magic reservoir, has been placed over the stream for the season.

The sectioned bridge, about 150 feet long, is removed each fall and not replaced until danger of damage from high water is over in the spring.

The first band of sheep passed over it last week.

Woodrow Watts, watermaster for Big Wood River, who measures the Camas Creek No. 1 gauge near the bridge, believes the highwater peak has been reached from the Camas Prairie area, all of which drains into the Malad.

The bridge stands about three feet above the water level at this time.

Hereford Group Plans Field Day and Tour for June 4-5 in Salmon Area

SALMON—Pine Creek Hereford Ranch, owned by Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Reese, Salmon, will be the site for the Idaho Junior Hereford Association field day Friday, June 4.

Field day visitors will have an opportunity to see one of the top Hereford operations in the country when they visit the 1,600-acre Pine Creek Ranch which is all under irrigation. The 4,000-foot elevation is ideal for the 500 registered Hereford cows raised on the place.

Hereford bulls currently in use in the Reese herd are sons of "Mark Donald 18th," purchased from Chandler Ranch at the Denver sale in 1945; "NP Silver King 860," purchased from Northern Pump Farm at the Denver sale in 1961, and "Evan Mischief," purchased from Charles Delchemaker, Boyd, Mont., in 1964.

A registered Hereford heifer is being awarded by Pine Creek Hereford Ranch to the member of the Idaho Junior Hereford Association who places the highest in the judging contest, according to Linda Shaw, Caldwell, president.

She urged every member to compete for this heifer and invites other Idaho boys and girls under 21 who own Herefords to join the association. Anyone who joins before 1 p.m. June 4 will be eligible to win this valuable prize.

Hereford breeders throughout Idaho are offering numerous prizes and plaques to the winners. The contest is open to teams and individuals in the contest. County agents and vocational agriculture teachers are invited to bring as many teams and individuals as they wish.

An outstanding program designed to be of interest to all ages has been arranged. Heading the afternoon program will be Marshall Sellman, Watrous, N.M., president of the American Hereford Association and daughter, Mary Ann, who is president of the New Mexico Junior Hereford Association.

Others who will appear on the program are Gibbs Reim, manager, Edmiston Land and Cattle Co., Kallispel, Mont.; Wayne Naugle, Nampa, president, Idaho Hereford Association, and son, Kenneth; Denny Curtis, Declo, Hereford breeder and Junior Association adviser.

Howard Lewis, Bozeman, Mont., Hereford breeder, Morris Hemstrom, University of Idaho beef specialist; Harold McFarland, Carmen, commercial Hereford breeder; Darrell Brown, Walla Walla, Wash., American Hereford Association fieldman, and Ralph Cook, Medford, Ore., American Polled Hereford Association fieldman.

Adult Hereford breeders throughout Idaho are extended a special invitation to attend not only the field day June 4 at Pine Creek Ranch but also a Hereford tour organized by the Idaho Hereford Association, June 5 in the Salmon area, reports Wayne Naugle, Nampa, association president.

Good motel facilities are available in Salmon for those who wish to stay overnight to attend the tour. Some of the finest cattle in Idaho are in the Salmon area and will be visited June 5, he declared.

Emmitt Reese, field day host, says a free lunch is planned at noon for the visitors.

Officials who are planning the third annual field day are Tom Shaw, Caldwell, adviser; Lynn Cook, Carey, director; Jim Nau, Meridian, director; Keeney Mecham, Carey, director; Linda Shaw, Caldwell, president; Ronald Murdock, Blackfoot, second vice president; David Letham, Driggs, reporter; Kenneth Naugle, Nampa, adviser; Dale Breckenridge, Tetonla, adviser; William Zollinger, Malta, first vice president; Ray Barker, Elba, treasurer, and Gary Pratt, Blackfoot, secretary.

Louis Bott's Holstein Cow Takes Individual Honor

A herd of registered and grade Holsteins owned by Forest O. Son took top honors in highest herd averages, including dry cows.

The county agent said ammonium sulfamates also does an effective job. You may apply it as crystals to the surface of the stump or spray the entire stump at the rate of four to six pounds in a gallon of water.

Black Angus Cattle Take "High Road"

HAILEY—The William Burt ranch on Deer Creek has solved a problem in spring feeding of their 425 head of Black Angus cattle and calves.

With Deer Creek out of it's banks in several places on their ranch, much of the lower land has been flooded. Melting snow has made the ground muddy.

To keep their calving herd high and dry, Ranch Foreman Von Potter cut a road along the mountainside, about 20 feet up from the regularly traveled road.

To feed, he drives along the newly cut road, forking hay from the back of his truck as he goes.

The new feeding lane is on a south slope, well protected by the steep mountain at it's back. There is one particularly well-protected spot where the young calves like to stay while their mothers range up the mountainside in search of early spring grasses.

Magic Valley Farmers Make Weed Killer

Two Magic Valley farmers may well have found the answer to their problem of weeds in the sugar beets.

Oren Boone and Walker Carr have developed a new method of weed control using a chemical known as "Tilom" and a home-made sprayer.

Using a cultivator frame as a basic starting point, the two men mounted "V" blades on the front of the frame. Immediately behind the blades are mounted spray nozzles. These nozzles spray a seven-inch area up and down the rows.

At about the center of the frame, circular blades are installed. These cover the spray with about an inch of dirt.

The planter follows the sprayer in the field—one unit following another. The sugar beets are planted at approximately the same depth as the spray.

Boone and Carr have been experimenting for almost four years with this idea.

Results so far have been excellent.

Treatment Set To Kill Stumps

One chemical or a combination of two will kill stumps of trees and prevent sprouting. The treatment is particularly suitable for getting rid of stumps on roadsides and under utility lines, says Twin Falls County Agent Donald Youtz.

Farm Head Against Bread, Rice Bill Before Congress

Both consumers and farmers would be hurt by the bread and rice bill recently introduced in Congress by the administration, according to Donald Martens, of the Twin Falls County Farm Bureau.

Under the wheat certificate plan being proposed, U.S. consumers would pay twice as much for American wheat as foreign buyers. The plan also gives the secretary of agriculture discretion to use government surplus stocks to impose price ceilings on market prices for farmers.

Wheat used for domestic food use would be supported at rates as high as $2.50 per bushel through a $1.25 loan and a requirement that processors buy a $1.25 certificate for every bushel going into this utilization.

U.S. wheat sold to foreign buyers, including communist countries, would go for $1.25 per bushel. The farmer would get $2.50 for only that part of his production allocated to domestic use.

A similar certificate plan for rice would raise the cost to consumers from five to seven cents a pound.

It is estimated by the administration that the wheat and rice plan would raise consumers' prices by $300 million.

"Consumers should not be misled into accepting the proposed higher bread tax and new rice tax because they think they are doing farmers a favor," Martens said. "Wheat producers voted down a similar program in a nationwide referendum in 1963."

JOHNSTON... your best bet in pumps

Let's talk about VERSATILITY

Like reliability, versatility is built into every Johnstone Pump. This is nothing new. Johnstone units have always been designed to fit a wide range of pumping requirements. It's been this way for more than 55 years, ever since we manufactured our first vertical pump back in 1909.

Versatility is the "extra something" which makes Johnstone pumps ideal for agricultural use, plus rugged construction, ease of installation, minimum space requirements and optimum maintenance. It matters not whether you order a vertical turbine, a mixed flow or a propeller pump, these advantages are yours... in one "complete package" at a variety of capacities and horsepowers to fit your particular need.

Johnstone's agricultural applications range from pumping deep well water for domestic and livestock needs to drainage and primary/supplemental water for crop irrigation, as well as flood control and land reclamation.

BOISE—Potato processing in Idaho, plus Idaho potatoes processed in Malheur County, Ore., from July through April accounted for 20,417,000 hundredweight of raw potatoes, according to reports compiled from processors.

Of this, 19,600,000 hundredweight were used in the manufacture of food products and 817,000 hundredweight for starch, flour and alcohol.

Of the 20,417,000 hundredweight processed, about 3,432,000 hundredweight came from the 10 southwest counties of Idaho, 16,185,000 from "other counties" of Idaho, and 820,000 were shipped into Idaho from other states.

New Type of Hop Released to Idaho Growers

MOSCOW—Idaho hop growers have planted 152 acres of a new variety developed and released this spring by the University of Agriculture Experiment station.

The variety, named Tallman, was developed by Dr. R. Robert Romanko, assistant plant pathologist at the Parma Branch Experiment station.

A strong point of the Tallman variety is its resistance to hop downy mildew, the principal disease threat to the hop plant in the state. In Romanko's tests, Tallman showed a greater resistance or tolerance to the disease than either of the commonly grown varieties, Early Cluster and Late Cluster.

High Awards Go to Youths At Gooding

Joe Wurst, Gannett, was elected president, Glenn Bodilly, Burry, is vice president, and James Eakin, Halley, is secretary-treasurer.

Facilities to accommodate summer outings for 4-H members from nine counties will be built near Russian John Ranger Station on Wood River. A financial campaign for $80,000 was approved at the meeting.

Quotas for participating counties were discussed. Counties that will be using the camp are Elmore, Gooding, Camas, Blaine, Lincoln, Jerome, Twin Falls, Cassia and Minidoka.

An executive committee was chosen. Members are the three main officers plus Dale Hopper, Jerome; Vernon Ravenscroft, Buhl; L. M. Williams and James L. Graves, both district agents of the University of Idaho Extension Service at Boise.

The newly organized Magic Valley Dairy Improvement Association will hold its first regular meeting at noon, June 7 in the Rogerson Hotel, according to Alvin Smutny, Twin Falls, president.

Denton (Joe) Hall, manager of the Idaho Dairymen's Association, will be the featured speaker and will discuss the importance of the dairy industry to the economy of the state.

All persons interested in the dairy industry are invited to attend this no-host luncheon meeting. Smutny said similar meetings are planned every other month, with programs which will be of interest to dairymen and people associated with the dairy industry.

The vice president of the association is Melford Dalos, Buhl, and the secretary is Donald Youtz.

Rise in Meat Growth Is Reported

BOISE — Meat animal production on Idaho farms and ranches in 1964 totaled 650,712,000 pounds live weight, according to the USDA for Idaho.

Production at this level is three per cent larger than the 632,227 pounds produced in 1963.

Meat animal production represents the actual live weight produced during the calendar year and equals the weight of marketings and farm slaughter, less shipments for feeding and breeding, plus or minus inventory changes during the year.

Cattle and calves accounted for 81 per cent of the total production, sheep and lambs 12 per cent and hogs seven per cent.

The 1964 production of cattle and calves totaled a record high 523,530,000 pounds and is six per cent above last year's production. Gross income (cash receipts, plus value of home consumption) amounted to $105,101,000, about five per cent more than a year earlier. The average price received per hundred pounds live weight was $17.30 for cattle and $20.80 for calves.

The production of sheep and lambs totaled 80,240,000 pounds, 12 per cent less than the 1963 production. Gross income was $19,392,000, down nearly 11 per cent from the previous year.

Rupert Herd Tests Show High Output

RUPERT — The annual herd production average for milk and butterfat has been announced for the registered herd of Holsteins owned by Louis Bott and Sons, Rupert.

As reported by Holstein-Friesian Association of America, the herd has completed its latest testing year with an official per cow average of 14,740 pounds of milk and 521 pounds of butterfat, based on 38 completed lactations.

The University of Idaho supervised the weighing and production testing procedure in cooperation with the herd improvement program of the Holstein organization.

The results of participation in official production testing are useful to herd owners in measuring breeding progress, analyzing herd management and the development of outstanding cow families.

University of Utah, received his new position in December of 1964. He replaces Harold Gibson as chief of the station.

After graduation, Peay worked with a chemical company in California. In 1935 he went to work for the entomology station in Twin Falls. Working during the summer and going to school in the winter, Peay received his master's degree in 1939.

From that time until 1952 he worked in all the Western states. In 1952 he came back to Twin Falls, where he has worked at the local station.

Peay feels he has very excellent help without which his job would be a lot harder. At present his main project is the Beet Leaf Hopper.

Gibson has been transferred to Kara College in Iran. He left Washington, D.C., Dec. 18, 1964, for his new assignment.

This herd's performance level is far above the average U.S. cow's annual output of 7,800 pounds of milk and 290 pounds of butterfat.

Production averages are calculated two milkings per day for 305 days, mature equivalent basis to provide a comparison standard.

Public Invited To Tour Ranch Near Albion

Farmers and ranchers from all parts of the state are invited to a public tour of the ranch that won the Idaho Grassman title last fall.

The ranch is the Verd Chatburn place near Albion in Cassia County. The date is June 8. County agricultural agent, Donald Youtz, said the tour will begin about 9 a.m. and wind up with a lunch at noon. The Chatburn ranch raises cattle, horses and sheep. Created wheatgrass is the mainstay of the feeding program.

The tour is sponsored by the Cassia County Grassman Committee in cooperation with the state committee. The program is being arranged by Robert Ball, Boise, state chairman, and Lewis Dille, Burley, county chairman. Chatburn's sponsors in the state grassman program were the Albion Grange and East Cassia Soil Conservation District.

Grain Stands In Excellent Condition

BOISE (UPI)—Emerging spring grains last week were up to good stands and winter grain in Idaho mostly was in good condition, the Agriculture Department reported Wednesday.

The crop report said scattered frosts early last week required smudging in major fruit areas and clipped some new legume seedlings.

Spring grain planting neared completion in the latest areas and dry pea planting was in advanced stages in north Idaho.

Potato planting was progressing rapidly and nearing completion in southcentral and eastern areas of Idaho. Corn planting advanced and dry bean planting began in the earliest areas.

Sugar beet thinning and blocking reached the advanced stage in the southwestern portion of the state and was well along in the southcentral part. It was just under way in the eastern area. Re-seeding of sugar beets and winterkilled grain was nearly complete.

Railroad Rates Are Protested

BOISE (AP)—The Idaho Wheat Growers' Executive Committee voted Tuesday to protest a proposed special railroad rate for wheat from the Dakotas as being discriminatory.

The protest will be filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission, said Myron Sorenson, president of the growers association.

"If lower rates are possible," said Sorenson, "they should be adjusted from intermediate points proportionately on a ton-mile basis."

He said the executive committee agreed any rate reductions for other areas must be accompanied by general rate reductions for Idaho grain to maintain Idaho's competitive position.

Stronger Attack on Alfalfa Weevil Is Scheduled by University Staff

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow — The alfalfa weevil, a costly insect pest that has survived a variety of cultural and chemical control attempts in Idaho, may soon face a stronger attack — from its natural insect enemies.

University of Idaho entomologists will begin research this summer to help natural parasites of the weevil do a better job. The study is part of a cooperative project to evaluate biological control agents to replace or supplement pesticides in insect control.

The Idaho work will be directed by Dr. Guy W. Bishop, entomologist, Aberdeen branch experiment station, where he also is in charge of potato leaf-roll vector research in the eastern Idaho seed potato producing areas.

Key insects in the weevil control study are species of tiny parasitic wasps from the weevil's home area in Europe.

One of these wasps accompanied the weevil in its migration from Utah into southern Idaho in 1911. A second parasite was released at Caldwell and Moscow last year. Others will be brought into the state this summer.

"The first wasp is doing a good job in some areas of Idaho, but it is too early to be certain that the second one survived," Bishop says. "We do know these parasites are effective in Europe. The alfalfa weevil is not an economic problem there because the natural insect balance keeps it in check."

While continuing his potato leafroll vector research this summer, Bishop will attempt to find out what we can do to help the parasites control alfalfa weevil under our conditions.

He will study the adaptability of the wasps to Idaho and evaluate their effectiveness in limiting alfalfa weevil damage. He also will observe the effects of native Idaho insects, alfalfa cultural practices and pesticide use on the wasps.

The studies will be made throughout the state. The alfalfa weevil has been established in southern Idaho areas for many years but only invaded northern Idaho in 1952.

The two wasps already introduced into Idaho are parasites of the weevil larvae. Other species are adult weevil parasites. One wasp which is a parasite of weevil eggs was introduced into Idaho several years ago but apparently did not survive. All species of the parasite are tiny, about one-eighth inch in length.

Wheat Carryover Estimate Shows Drop Is Indicated

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Agriculture Department estimates the July 1, 1966, wheat carryover will be about 805 million bushels.

This compares with the estimated carryover of 900 million bushels for the 1965-66 marketing year beginning July 1, 1965.

In a review of the wheat situation, the department estimated total wheat supplies during the 1965-66 marketing year will be 2,142 billion bushels.

This includes the July 1, 1965, carryover of 900 million bushels, a 1965 crop of 1,239 billion bushels, and imports of three million bushels.

The department projected domestic consumption for 1965-66 at 837 million bushels, up slightly from the previous year's estimate of 810 million bushels.

Exports from the coming marketing year were projected at 700 million bushels, compared with an estimated 685 million bushels for the year ending June 30.

The carryover left after foreign and domestic disappearance would be 805 million bushels.

The department said the season average price received by farmers for the 1964 crop was estimated in early May at $1.37 per bushel.

Prices in recent weeks have been adjusting to new-crop conditions and the lower loan rate for the 1965 crop.

The average price received by farmers in April was $1.34 per bushel, five cents below the seasonal high in November and December. Wheat prices now are even more competitive with feed grains than they were at harvest.

Farm feeding of wheat during 1964-65 was estimated at about 38 million bushels compared with about 20 million bushels in each of the two previous marketing years.

House Favors Investigating Love Life of Honey Bee

WASHINGTON (UPI)—House members agreed Wednesday that further research is needed on the structure of hives, the sterilization of fruit flies and the love life of the honey bee.

They decided against cutting off price supports on tobacco. Then they passed and sent to the Senate a $5.7 billion appropriation to finance these and other programs of the Agriculture Department in the 12 months starting July 1.

The appropriations committee served notice that expensive farm price supports cannot be halted any time soon.

The farm bill was passed on a 354-41 roll call vote after members, on another roll call, turned down 206-178 a motion to bar so-called "funny money," of foreign currency sales of surplus American crops to Indonesia or the United Arab Republic.

The appropriations committee which earlier had dropped $25 million off a projected outlay of $100 million to expand an experimental food stamp plan to help feed the needy in the United States — changed its mind and asked the House to put back the full sum requested.

The House, which was ready to overturn the committee on this point anyway, complied without argument. The committee insisted the extra money probably wouldn't be needed but said it wanted to make sure that nobody goes hungry.

Lackluster attacks on the bill were highlighted by a more or less annual report from H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, on some of the farm research projects under way or planned overseas.

In addition to the studies of cows, flies and bees, Gross listed inquiries into per capita food consumption in the rural areas of Spain; possible production of booze from soy beans in Japan; seeding of grain in the ground in Israel; and development in Turkey of an automatic measuring device.
