Astronauts Relax While Doctors Measure "Light" Effects to Space Flight

ABOARD USS WASP (AP)—Relaxing under the blue sky through which they flew astronauts James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White II had the run of this aircraft carrier today—while doctors measured surprisingly light effects of their four-day space journey. The astronauts continued to go through periodic medical checks. Dr. Charles A. Berry, astronaut flight surgeon, said they had less apparent physical difficulties than did some Mercury astronauts on shorter missions.

Berry said it will probably be necessary to keep the astronauts on shipboard until Thursday morning. Still the ship, is comparatively a lot of room to ramble in for the astronauts who were cramped into the tight Gemini spacecraft for 97 hours and 57 minutes.

The astronauts turned in Monday night at 11 p.m. They were still abed at 9 this morning.

"Both men were real tired last night, Jim more than Ed," Berry said.

"Both were bushed. They really wanted to turn in. This is in conflict with the urge that all of the astronauts have after a mission—they all have so much they want to get rid of in talk, and in getting things out before they forget. They could have gone on for a number of hours of talk last night if they felt that that was indicated."

Although figures are not yet available—both men had some weight loss—Berry said the weight loss certainly was less for four days than for a mission of 34 hours.

"Gemini 4 showed that the weight loss is not an incremental thing—it doesn't get more for every day in space," Berry said.

"There was not a marked increase over what Gordon Cooper experienced."

Physicians have felt all along that the principal cause of weight loss in space flight is the amount of sweating.

Berry said flight cabin temperatures remained comfortably low throughout—even during the parachute descent it was 70 degrees.

Boise Youth Recaptured After Escape

JEROME—A Boise youth who successfully executed a break May 30 from the custody of Idaho State Patrolmen, who were questioning him at the Jerome City Police office, made a second bid for freedom Monday night.

John H. Bement, 18, who was returned to custody Thursday after enjoying nearly a week of freedom, was back in custody again Tuesday after his second attempt to escape.

He and an accomplice, Ernest McCurdy, 18, Jerome, rushed the custodian at the jail in the Jerome County Courthouse Monday night and McCurdy made a successful break. The incident occurred about 5:30 p.m. when the custodian, Bill Block, was returning another prisoner to a cell.

The only weapon the two youths had was a broken broomstick. Block was able to detain Bement, but was unable to stop McCurdy. Roadblocks were set up around the Magic Valley, with officers from Twin Falls and Wendell assisting.

European Reaction To Flight Listed

LONDON (UPI)—Newspapers in Western Europe splashed the story of astronauts James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White across front pages today. Behind the Iron Curtain, the Communist press reported the recovery of the Gemini 4 spaceship in detail. The Soviet Union today sent an official message of congratulations to President Johnson. But the praise was tempered by Russian charges that racial prejudice had tainted the U. S. space program.

The congratulatory message was sent by Soviet President Anastas Mikoyan.

The official Tass news agency revived the week-old charge by U.S. Air Force Capt. Edward J. Dwight Jr. that he was rejected for astronaut duty because he is a Negro.

In the Far East, Japanese newspapers said the Gemini flight had laid the groundwork for an American trip to the moon.

Communist China, as usual, made no comment.

Sir Bernard Lovell, director of Britain's Radio Astronomy Laboratory, said the flight was clear proof that both the United States and the Soviet Union could send a man to the moon without "insurmountable difficulties." Lovell said a moon landing was possible by either nation by 1969 or 1970.

The London Daily Express said the world was stirred "not so much by the technical expertise of the engineers as by the calm, matter-of-fact bravery of the astronauts."

The London Daily Mirror praised the United States for "once again having the courage to conduct a hazardous space shot in the full glare of world publicity."

No other American space feat has been so enthusiastically received in Europe. The launch last Thursday was viewed by millions on live television via the Early Bird communications satellite and frequent reports were broadcast during the four-day flight.

Hungarians Help Gemini Return

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Hungarian Communist government helped ease the return to earth Monday of the U.S. Gemini astronauts.

U.S. officials said the Hungarians suspended a Budapest radio broadcast operating on a frequency which might have interfered with base-to-ship communications during the splash-down period.

Wives Await Rendezvous With Heroes

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—The vivacious wives of Gemini 4 astronauts James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White II anxiously awaited today a weekend rendezvous with America's newest space heroes.

Both also had presidential invitations to visit the LBJ Ranch with their husbands Friday or Saturday.

In the dramatic aftermath of the four-day Gemini flight, the attractive young wives laughed and cried without restraint.

They talked jubilantly of a reunion near the weekend, of quiet and lively celebrations ahead, and of their personal observations during the 98-hour ordeal.

Then they thanked one and all for the concern shown for the safety of their husbands.

"I can't tell you how proud I am," beamed honey-blond Pat White as she hugged her two children, Eddie, II, and Bonnie Lynn, 9.

"This is the happiest day of my life," Pat McDivitt, a brunette, struggled for words as she attempted to corral her three impish youngsters then finally blurted: "I'm speechless, I'm speechless."

She swiftly corrected a newsman who asked about the strain she had undergone.

"I wasn't upset," she said. "This was great. You just don't know."

No Inquiry Set in Death Of T.F. Man

According to the Twin Falls County Sheriff's office there will be no inquiry into the death of Van Harris, 72, Route 3, Twin Falls. His death will be counted as a traffic fatality.

Harris was found dead about 2 p.m. Monday in his 1957 four-door Pontiac under the Highline Canal bridge four miles south and three miles west of Twin Falls.

The car was found by Don Wright, who operates a farm near the scene of the accident. Harris apparently drowned when his car left the road about 20 feet south of the bridge and floated downstream where it was stopped by one of the bridge supports.

Deputy Sheriff Paul Corder reported that there was no apparent cause of the accident. There were no skid marks or other indications of trouble found at the scene of the mishap.

Harris was last seen alive about 10 a.m. Monday in Twin Falls. It is not known when the accident occurred.

Lunar Shot Launched by Soviet Union

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union launched a rocket toward the moon today in what appeared to be its second try in a month to make history's first soft landing on the lunar surface.

The Russians first tested their soft-landing system in Luna 5, which crashed on the moon May 12. But they said at the time that the flight had collected valuable data for further attempts.

Movies Show White as First American to "Walk" in Space

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Astronaut Edward White emerged casually from the Gemini 4 spacecraft in darkness, and floating along with it at 17,500 miles an hour, moved into the blazing glare of the unfiltered sunlight. The sun's rays first struck dramatically on an American flag sewn to his left sleeve. This was shown vividly today in color movies made by an automatic camera attached to the underside of the spacecraft.

The color film, in excellent focus, was run off for newsmen at the Manned Spacecraft Center.

The pictures were made June 3 when White became the first American to venture into space protected only by his suit—and became the first human ever to propel himself in space with a jet-like gun.

The color film was strikingly bright. The sun glistened on White's silvery space suit and sparkled on the 25-foot golden lifeline which attached him to the space ship.

Beneath him, the earth was a blue-green ball, with White floating just over its curve.

In White's right hand appeared to be the space gun with which he pushed himself around the capsule. His left hand was empty.

White stood out starkly against the blackness of space. The capsule appeared to be a nondescript gray.

White maneuvered slowly but with apparent ease. Twisting and turning about the space ship. Sometimes his movements seemed somewhat jerky. At one point he snapped off a salute.

The golden lifeline coiled and twisted as White worked his way, propelling himself with a space gun. The free end of a harness strap flapped about him.

The American movie far surpassed the films released by the Soviet Union of the first walk in space by Russian Alexei Leonov last March 18. The U. S. films were clearer and showed dramatically White's movements in space.

Space officials released one still picture in the series. It showed White, in almost a relaxed position, floating over the rim of the earth.

NASA said the picture was taken from a sequence of 16mm film shot automatically by the craft's belly-mounted camera.

Ditch Bank Washes Out At Richfield

RICHFIELD—Richfield residents and several area farmers were without irrigation water Tuesday after the bank of the lateral ditch, northwest of the village limits, washed out early Tuesday morning.

The ditch bank was five to six feet thick, according to Vern Spencer. The water flooded over the Ronald Ralls pasture and across a village road, two blocks west of Main Street.

Ralls discovered the break early Tuesday morning and called Spencer. Carl Robins, Richfield foreman for the Big Wood Canal Co., said repair work was started at 7 a.m. Tuesday. Work is expected to take four or five days.

The break does not affect drinking water for the village, but many residents used the irrigation water for their lawns and gardens. It is estimated that some 100 loads of dirt and gravel will be needed to repair the break.

Water was shut off into the lateral, but the flood waters ran over the road and pasture for several hours. Several farms directly east of Richfield and all the farms south of town are without irrigation water.

Under this pattern generally fair weather will remain over the valleys of Southern Idaho and little or no precipitation is expected through the period.
Temperatures will average a little above normal over the lower Malheur and southwestern Idaho valleys to near normal over the remainder of Southern Idaho. Some slight warming will begin on Wednesday after the cooling trend of Monday and Tuesday, otherwise little day to day change in temperatures is expected during the five day period. Some normal maximum and minimum temperatures for this period are Gooding 75-48, Twin Falls 78-46, Burley 74-43.
Winds during the period will be mostly less than 10 miles per hour during the morning but may increase at times during the afternoons to in excess of 15 miles per hour.
Little in the way of cloudiness other than for some high clouds is expected and sunshine should be about 80 per cent of possible. There should be little or no interruption of farm work due to weather and conditions will continue to be favorable for crop and pasture growth. Irrigation needs will be high during the period however particularly in the southwestern valleys.

SYNOPSIS AND AGRICULTURAL
A developing low pressure area over Nevada associated with an upper cold low moving across Central California this morning has spread considerable high cloudiness across Southern Idaho. Trends indicate an eastward movement of this disturbance with extensive shower and thunderstorm activity developing over Northern Nevada and extending into Southern Idaho tonight, with most of the precipitation occurring as scattered showers or thundershowers over the southern mountains of Idaho and in Magic Valley south of the Snake River this afternoon and tonight. Most of the shower and thundershower activity is expected to be in Southeastern Idaho on Wednesday.
Temperatures will continue as warm today as Monday but most of the district will be a few degrees cooler Wednesday. Winds will be mostly light today but locally strong gusty winds are likely by late afternoon or evening with scattered thundershowers.
Current indications are that Thursday will be fair and mild with the disturbance well out of our district by then.

Farm Bureau Picnic Slated For July 11

SHOSHONE—Annual potluck picnic for Lincoln County Farm Bureau will be held July 11 at the Mary L. Gooding park here, officers announced Tuesday.
The event will be held on the same day as the old time Fiddler's jamboree here. Farm Bureau members from Camas County will be invited to attend.
Mrs. Ervin Braun conducted the recent meeting in the absence of the president. The group voted to give $5 to the Chamber of Commerce toward the July 5 celebration. The group applied for a food booth at the event and will apply for a game booth at the county fair to be held in August. Plans were begun for a display booth at the fair.
Action on the L. B. Martin memorial will be taken at the next meeting, after further consideration.
Report was made that place mats advertising Idaho farm products were given to the Boston and Manhattan Cafes here for use during the tourist season.
Mrs. Braun reported the income tax report had been sent to the department of internal revenue.
Ervin Braun reported 20 membership signs had been ordered and since the end of the 1965 membership year in March, nine new members have been received.
A field director will be named for district three after June 21 and he will probably make his home in Twin Falls.
A talk-talent contest will be held in Shoshone the latter part of July, the exact date and place to be set later.
North Shoshone Farm Bureau members decided to build a dumpgrounds for that area. They will dig a trench for burying dead animals and will build a fence around the section to be used for the dumpgrounds.
Mr. and Mrs. Braun and Mr. and Mrs. E. E. McKendrick attended a state Farm Bureau membership banquet and meeting at Woods Cafe, Jerome, where plans were made to launch a drive to lead the nation in membership next year. Last year Idaho was second in membership growth by state.
Anyone obtaining two new members from June 1 to July 1 will be given a road atlas which fits in a leather case and can be carried in the glove compartment of the car.

Second Trial Is Planned For Estes

DALLAS (AP)—Billie Sol Estes, the promoter who fleeced loan companies of millions of dollars, will be tried a second time on state charges, a prosecutor says. The U.S. Supreme Court reversed his conviction Monday.
The high court, in a 5-4 decision, ruled that Estes did not receive a fair trial in 1962 because the hearing was televised.
Dist. Atty. R. Archer Jr. said at Monahan, Tex., that he will prosecute Estes again — either on the same charge or a similar one. Estes was assessed eight years for swindling in the 1962 trial.
The Supreme Court ruling did not affect the federal court conviction in El Paso, Tex., in which Estes was sentenced to 15 years. He now is in Leavenworth Federal Penitentiary.

Navy Suggests Boosting Its Strength

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy, taxed by the demands of the war in Viet Nam, has proposed boosting its strength by about 11,000 officers and men, it was learned today.
The Navy wants to do so by prolonging enlistments and active-duty tours of certain skilled and seasoned officers and men for perhaps six months, sources said.
There were strong indications that the Navy proposal was running into heavy weather at the top Defense Department level, where the final decision will be made.
The recommendation was submitted to Pentagon leaders as Nitze's appeal for voluntary extensions appeared to be a flop.
In the month since Nitze publicly appealed for Navy men to "make a personal contribution to meeting the present challenge," fewer than 100 officers and only about 200 enlisted men have agreed to stay in uniform three to six months beyond the expiration of their terms of service.

Idaho Power Loses Fight Against BPA

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Idaho Power Co. today lost its fight against carrying Bonneville power to government customers in Southern Idaho.

The U. S. Court of Appeals held that the Federal Power Commission had the right to attach this proviso to a license for two additional transmission lines serving Idaho Power's Hells Canyon development—the Oxbow, Hells Canyon and the Brownlee dams.

The decision by U.S. Judge Charles C. Merrill said: "The commission, as guardian of the public domain, has simply and reasonably required that existing lines be fully utilized before additional lines are authorized."

The amendment requires Idaho to use its surplus capacity on its main line system to carry government power at government expense.

Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall recommended at the time of the application in 1963 that construction of the line be conditioned upon the commission's right to require Idaho Power to carry government electricity over the company's entire main transmission system.

The secretary explained that this might enable the government to defer construction by the Bonneville Power Administration of a high capacity line connecting the main federal Columbia River power system to the Upper Snake River system.

He said the Bureau of Reclamation plants in Southern Idaho would shortly be unable to meet their power requirements, and would need a part of the Bonneville surplus.

Of the 100 miles of the two new transmission lines, 27 miles go over government lands inside the Boise and Payette National Forests.

Woman, 28, Has Kidney Transplant

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI)—A 28-year-old woman was alive today thanks to an emergency kidney transplant from a gambler who was shot to death by his girl friend Monday night.

Three hours after James Toney, 34, died at Mt. Sinai Hospital, his kidney was removed, cooled, bathed in special solutions, packed in an icy saline solution and rushed to the dying woman at Cleveland Clinic.

Permission for the transplant was granted by Toney's estranged wife, Geraldine.

A clinic spokesman said it would take two to three days to determine if the transplant was successful.

Toney was shot and killed by Mrs. Rosemary Evans, 37, in her east side apartment, following an argument. She is being held and has admitted the shooting, police said.

Detectives said Toney and Mrs. Evans argued over money he had demanded to bet on horses. She gave him $20 and then allegedly shot him when he tried to take more from her purse.

"We don't have suitable cases every day," Dr. Lester Adelson, deputy coroner, said. "This is a case of a dead man being of some help in keeping someone else alive maybe for months, or even years."

Little Wood Reservoir Full

CAREY — Little Wood Reservoir was reported full Monday afternoon with about three inches of water running over the spillway.

Inflow was high, 1,030 second feet, and outflow was the same amount to maintain the present level of water in the reservoir. Water has run over the spillway steadily since Little Wood Reservoir filled May 30, except for about two days during the two-week period.

Lowell Mecham, watermaster for Little Wood River Irrigation District, reported he was delivering 300 second feet of water into the irrigation canals Monday and the rest of the outflow was going down the Little Wood River channel.

Historical Unit Visits Niagara Area

Several early-day sites were visited Sunday by members of the Twin Falls Historical Society during an annual field trip. According to Ed Jagels, curator of the society, the tour began with a picnic at Niagara Springs Park and a talk by A. S. Henson on the history of that area.

During the picnic Elmer Annis gave a short talk on the development of the Niagara Springs area into a park.

The group then proceeded to the site of the old Kanaka School at the foot of the Clear Lakes grade. All that remains of the structure is the foundation, Jagels said.

The Kanaka Post Office was the next site the group visited with D. M. Cheney giving a talk on the history of the building. Kanaka is a polynesian word meaning Hawaiian or South Sea Islander. Jagels stated that numerous Polynesians worked for the fur companies in the early days.

The final stop made by the society was the site of the old

Abbie Post Office and stagecoach station, located two miles east of the Clear Lakes Bridge. The post office has been torn down and the stage barn is the only remaining structure.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

BY ANDREW TULLY
WASHINGTON—At a Georgetown dinner party a few months back, a New York congressman named John Lindsay cornered me to register a complaint. He argued that the time had come to stop referring to him in print as a "silk-stocking" statesman, pointing out that just folks now far outnumber the Sutton Place and penthouse-type voters in his district.

Lindsay was right, of course. It was the voters of the unfashionable precincts in the upper East Side that gave him a whopping majority last November while President Johnson and Bobby Kennedy were carrying the state in a landslide. Nevertheless, the image of the handsome aristocrat as a representative of his class remains Lindsay's prime problem in his campaign to unseat Bob Wagner as mayor of New York City.

NEW YORK IS MANY DISTRICTS—This well-bred Ivy Leaguer with the look of a man who spends his spare time sailing and killing a tennis ball is just not the New York political type, despite his parochial success. The city is more than Lindsay's bright little district; it is also Staten Island and Brooklyn, the tough and cynical West Side of Manhattan, hundreds of thousands of Puerto Ricans and a mixed white-Negro bloc whose politics are those of the radical left.

Bob Wagner may or may not be a good mayor, but he is the city's kind of politician — eye-pouches and all. Despite his adventures with reform within the Democratic party, Wagner remains a machine statesman. His reforms were politically understandable; they were made to preserve and bolster Wagner's own power, not to house-clean the city. The man at a bench in a clean-and-suit factory can identify himself with Bob Wagner. He does not think of Wagner as a Yale man, which he is, but as one of the boys, which he is.

LINDSAY HAS CHARM—A great deal has been written about Lindsay's charm even by that Cassandra of the female political columnists, Doris Fleeson, who usually approaches a politician with knife unsheathed. To be sure, his charm is considerable; chatting with John Lindsay, the reporter is struck by his innate decency and his strong heart, his intimate, slangy acquaintance with politics' facts of life. Lindsay is a nice guy who has been able to afford honesty.

But charm can be a sometime asset in New York City. Bred in a political jungle, the New York voter is apt to be suspicious of the quality, as some kind of new gimmick designed to sell him the latest gold brick. He may admit that Lindsay is a nice guy, but he is tempted to wonder whether he is too nice to be true. In New York City, there is almost always a catch when a man peddling politics turns on the gentility bit. The city has had little experience with candidates offering unadulterated altruism.

A REPUBLICAN JACK KENNEDY—They are saying now that John Lindsay is the Jack Kennedy of the Republican party, which would be a good thing for New York City and, later, for the country. But in New York, Kennedy had something going for him which Lindsay lacks—he was a Democrat. Lindsay is busy mapping a campaign to conceal his Republicanism, but it can be only a partial success because Bob Wagner lurks in the wings.

Wagner can be counted on to remind the voters every hour on the hour that Lindsay is a Republican, a form of life repugnant to most New York City voters. And to many among the electorate, that will be the gimmick in Lindsay's charm. They will wonder whether even a nice Republican is their political dish. Wagner's three terms in City Hall is overwhelming evidence that the sidewalkers of New York prefer to keep their matinee idols in some matinee.

The Minnesota Taxpayers Association has pointed out that two more states, Idaho and New York, have adopted general sales taxes within recent weeks. Only 11 of the 50 states, including Minnesota, have not yet adopted a sales tax.

Charles P. Stone, executive director of the Taxpayers Association, has pointed out that the legislation approved in Idaho is similar in many respects to some of the bills introduced in a Minnesota legislature. The Idaho law provides for a three per cent tax rate, and a $10 per person credit against incomes taxes, with nearly half of the gross revenues assigned to property tax and income tax relief and reform.

It is clear that, if Minnesota is to get real tax reform at the 1965 legislative session, it will have to come through enactment of a sales tax as a form of replacement for at least part of the personal property and real estate taxes. The greatest deterrent to economic growth in Minnesota is the personal property and inventory tax. The real estate tax has become excessively burdensome for a great many individuals. No state that has adopted a sales tax has found it to be a deterrent to economic growth. As a matter of fact, with an income tax credit to relieve the burden on low income families, it stands as the best answer to the growing financial problems that are facing government at all levels. —Mankato (Minn.) Free-Press.

LOOK BEFORE WE JUMP
Legislation now before Congress to create a new Sawtooth National Park in Idaho should be tabled until results of a government study of the proposal can be assessed.

The U. S. Forest Service and the National Park Service are now reported in the process of wrapping up an extensive analysis of the proposed park. In a few months time, it is conceivable that the study's results can be evaluated and a sensible approach made to the new park.

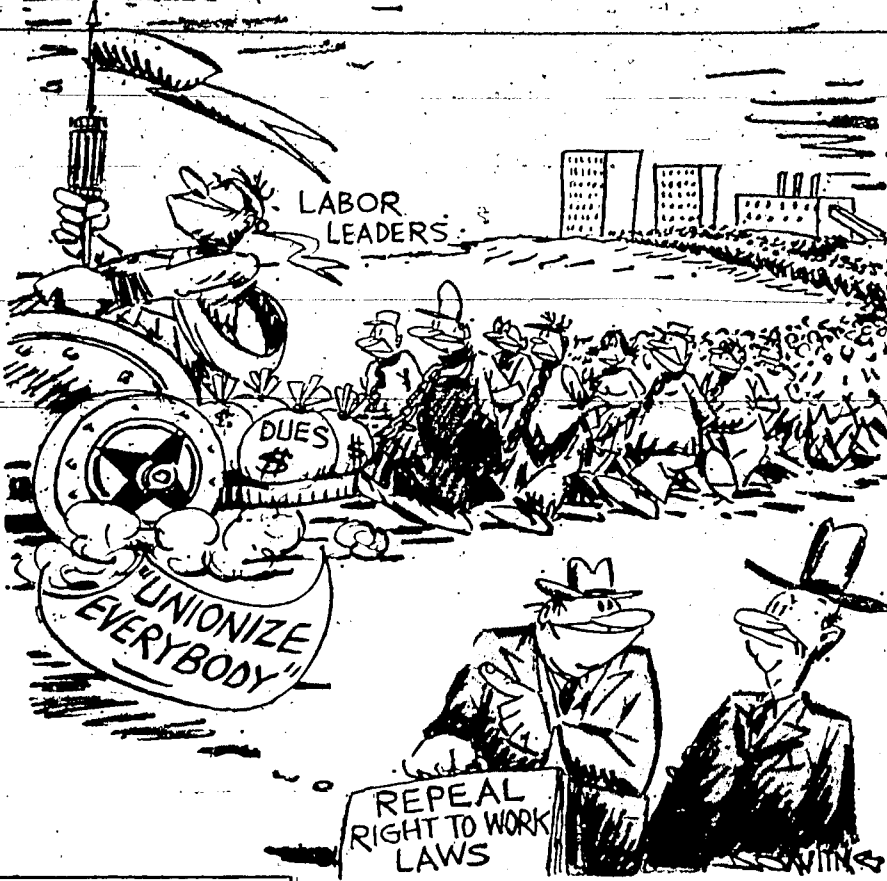

Whether one is for or against the proposed park is immaterial. Formation of a national park itself creates problems which are not readily apparent. Wildlife patterns alone require an extensive re-adjustment and has undoubtedly occupied a significant segment of the study.

Consequently, legislation introduced by Sen. Frank Church in the Senate and by Rep. Conroy White in the House should await the study's final residue.

Considerable money has been spent on the survey. A precedent-making merging of specialists from the Forest Service and the Park Service to conduct the study has been undertaken. Idaho — and the nation — should certainly have the benefit of this intensive dissection of forest and mountain on which to base a decision.

This newspaper would like to have an opportunity to absorb the final results of the study. Before making a recommendation either way, we are confident most Idahoans feel this way. — Idaho Falls Post-Register.

GENTLEMAN IN THE FOURTH ROW

World Corners

(UPI Foreign News Analyst)

The cry from Damascus had an oddly familiar ring, but something was out of place.

U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser, Damascus newspaper said, was trying to entangle Syria in a war with Israel without the help of other Arab states.

The cry was familiar because it had been heard before. Only then it had come from Nasser, who, with an eye cocked toward Syria, had accused other Arab states of plotting to get his United Arab Republic into a similar imbroglio with the tough Israelis.

Bad blood between Syria and the U.A.R. has existed ever since the break-up of their political union in 1961. Immediate source of Syrian irritation was Nasser's admission that political differences within the Arab world were delaying plans to deprive Israel of the Jordan River waters it is using to irrigate the Negev Desert.

In his speech before the Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO), Nasser clearly demonstrated that he took at face value Israel's promise that it would go to war if the Arabs carried out their plan to take away the Jordan waters.

Nasser also frankly disclosed another Arab weakness. "We are now unable to defend some parts of the Arab world," he said. "In view of this, we can speak about attacking."

Presumably his reference was to Jordan and Lebanon, key factors in the diversion plan. Both nations have refused to permit outside Arab forces on their soil except in a case of severe emergency and then only by their own special request.

Reasons for the sharp differences between Syria and the U.A.R. were not hard to find.

Perhaps as one means of embarrassing Nasser, the Syrians have been the most persistent in demanding quick action against Israel.

The niggling but continuous series of clashes along the Syrian-Israeli border are a source of nervousness to other Arab states who fear the Syrians may draw them into a major clash before they are ready.

At a just-concluded meeting of Arab premiers in Cairo, the Syrians tried unsuccessfully to promote their own Palestine liberation plan.

The plan still is unpublished in detail but is said to demand first the withdrawal of United Nations emergency forces assigned to Sinai after the Suez crisis of 1956.

Its second phase would open up all fronts with Israel for a war of extermination.

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — It takes many brands of courage to fight a war.

None is more respected in Viet Nam than the quiet heroism of the air rescue crews whose perilous task it is to save crashed or shotdown fliers from the jungle or the sea.

In less than four months, the handful of helicopter and amphibious pilots who make up Detachment 5, Pacific Air Rescue Center, have saved 21 stranded airmen. They also have recovered the bodies of at least that many killed in crashes.

The commander is Maj. Ronald L. Ingraham, Homestead, Fla.

A measure of the bravery shown by the detachment is the fact that its members won eight of the first 28 Silver Stars awarded by the U. S. Air Force here. One of the winners was Maj. Ingraham.

Busiest pilot up to now is Capt. Floyd R. Lockhart, 32, an ex-mountaineer from Richmond, W. Va. He has squared his H43-F Husky helicopter on 259 missions and won an Air Medal and nine clusters.

Capt. Lockhart, tall, dark and slow-talking, has flown as many as seven missions in a day, but when this is mentioned, he remarks earnestly, "There are people here who have done more."

"We fly whenever we are needed, day or night."

"A mission may last only five minutes or as long as three days. We never know what is going to happen when the crash phone rings."

"If it's an immediate scramble, the rescue controller gives five blasts on the horn. Then we don't learn where we are going or what we are to do until after we are airborne."

The captain and his crew wear flak vests and chest pads and carry sidearms or rifles. Their craft is armored but not armed, and is not immune to the ground fire it sometimes must face.

A 215-foot long "sky hook" enables it to lift safety fliers trapped in the deepest jungle growths.

Lockhart is one of the few air rescue men who has the distinction of having been rescued himself by another air rescue crew.

While on a recent mission his own plane, either from a mechanical failure or the effects of

MARQUIS CHILDS WRITES ON WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON — Until a recent executive order the most glaring inequity in the operation of the federal income tax law was one that hit comparatively few taxpayers. If you were a serviceman in a jungle fox hole in Viet Nam the federal tax was levied not only on your base pay but on your extra compensation for "duty subject to hostile fire."

This last was a bit of bureaucratic gobbledygook intended to evade the word combat. Protests began to come from Congress about men under fire having their pay subject to federal taxation. Noting that one of his constituents, Capt. F. R. Kendrick, a helicopter pilot from Eldorado, Ark., had raised a question about this obvious injustice, Sen. John McClellan called on the President to exempt men in Viet Nam.

The President has that power under a precedent established by Congress at the request of President Truman six months after the start of the Korean war in 1950. President Johnson issued an executive order on April 24 designating Viet Nam and the waters within 100 miles of the Vietnamese coast "an area in which armed forces of the United States are and have been engaged in combat." The order was made retroactive to Jan. 1, 1964.

This not only righted a conspicuous injustice but it was official recognition—the only one thus far—of the grim reality of what is happening in Viet Nam. With nearly 50,000 Americans on the ground in the Vietnamese conflict the fact can no longer be evaded that this is a war albeit an undeclared war.

Now a move is on to make the Dominican Republic a combat zone. Although whether Conderstandable. The intervention of U.A.R. military forces in Yemen has not been going well and only recently Nasser felt obliged to build up his forces there. These forces now are believed to total between 55,000 and 60,000 men.

In addition, Saudi Arabia has declared itself free of its non-intervention agreement with Nasser in Yemen. Saudi Arabia backs the Yemen royalist forces against the U.A.R. and the Saudi declaration contains the implied threat that the conflict could be broadened.

Add this to a shaky economic situation at home and it becomes obvious that Nasser has troubles.

When set alongside the income scales and spending standards of the affluent society military pay appears negligible. Granted that you cannot reticently compensate men for duty, dedication to service in the armed forces nevertheless compensation should be at least adequate. And the feeling is growing in Congress that even the proposed five per cent increase in military pay will still leave most grades short-changed.

The beginning pay of an enlisted man is $78 a month. This goes to a high for a soldier with 26 years of service of $579.90. That is base pay. It does not include about 40 per cent additional compensation for housing and subsistence, most of which has in peacetime been exempt from income tax.

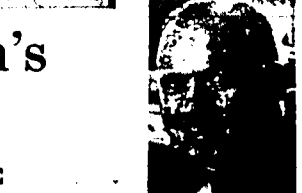

Combat pay is an across-the-board addition for all grades of $55 a month. It was the ruling that this amount, along with regular pay, was subject to federal taxation that caused the greatest resentment among men daily under fire. Capt. Kendrick had said he had no intention of paying tax on "hostile fire" pay.

A five per cent pay boost will mean little to enlisted personnel. To a lieutenant general with monthly pay of $1,614 it is a sizeable increase. That is the inherent injustice of an across-the-board proposal. It gives slight help to those in the lower ranks. The same imbalance was part of the last cut in federal income tax rates. For those in the lower brackets, it meant a negligible saving while for the majority on the top level the amount saved was substantial.

There has been a lot of talk about giving relief to the small taxpayer but so far nothing has come of it. A large proportion of the 2,600,000 men in the armed forces of the United States are in this category and, except for intervention agreement with Nasser in Yemen, Saudi Arabia backs the Yemen royalist forces against the U.A.R. and the Saudi declaration contains the implied threat that the conflict could be broadened.

As the war in Viet Nam has escalated, so have American casualty lists, although they are still comparatively small. The latest figure was 396 in hostilities and 166 resulting from non-hostile causes. That goes back to Jan. 1, 1961. But with more and more men on the ground and with the ominous operation in the rainy season just ahead the total is almost certain to increase at a rapid rate. For the Dominican Republic the total is 20 deaths at this writing.

The pay structure of the military, as engineered by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, is designed to keep career men with career skills in the service. This is proving more and more difficult in competition with private industry that constantly lures away with much higher salaries men trained in electronics and other techniques. Moreover, the McNamara goal was for a peacetime service and in Viet Nam we have a wartime army.

ground fire, fell from a height of 100 feet, smashed into a tree, then crashed into a hillside. He and two crewmen were bruised and shaken but not badly injured.

They were saved within 10 minutes by another rescue plane piloted by Capt. Jim E. Harlitz, Tampa, Fla.

Lockhart was annoyed because the flight surgeon insisted on grounding him for three whole days.

SOUTH GUARDS AGAINST HEARTS
Mrs. Herbert Wales of Dallas, a former president of the American Bridge Teachers' Association, believes that a teaching hand should be simple and straightforward so that today's hand should really meet with her approval.

to his partner's opening no-trump. North has no reason to show his five-card club suit because no-trump must offer the best play for game.

West has a normal opening of the king of hearts and South can see that he must attack clubs. If the club finesse works he can count five clubs, three diamonds and the two major suit aces for 10 tricks. If it fails he can still count nine tricks provided his opponents aren't unkind enough to take five tricks before he can gather in his nine.

South can insure that this won't happen by the simple expedient of ducking the first two rounds of hearts. He can do this safely because West can't shift to any suit that will embarrass him.

So he lets West hold the first two heart tricks and wins the third. Then he tries the club finesse and East is in with the king.

East does not have a heart left so he shifts to a spade. South must refuse the spade finesse. He can count nine tricks without it and he has contracted to take only nine tricks.

Later he can try for a tenth trick by leading a spade from dummy after first cashing all the clubs and diamonds. He won't make his tenth trick but he has nothing to lose by trying for it, after he has made certain of his contract.

TODAY'S QUESTION
Instead of responding to hearts your partner responds to two diamonds. You rebid to two spades and he bids three diamonds. What do you do now?

The Doctor Says

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M. D.

Q—About a year ago I was in the hospital. The doctor told me I had three kidneys. When I tell this to some people they say that's impossible. What do you say?

A—Although I can find references to persons born with only one kidney I can find no reference to anyone having three, but in this world all things are possible.

Q—I was told that I have a horseshoe kidney. What causes this condition? Could this be the reason for my high blood pressure?

A—In the early development of the embryo the two kidneys may be fused together at their upper poles. If this condition persists after birth the result is a horseshoe-shaped kidney that extends to both sides of the spinal column. There is no reason why such a kidney should not function normally or why it should cause high blood pressure.

Q—What is the usual treatment for polycystic kidneys? Is a special diet of any value?

A—Polycystic kidney is a congenital condition in which many cysts are present in the kidneys. Such kidneys may reach two or three times the normal size. There is no effective treatment or special diet for this condition.

Q—What symptoms are produced by a kidney stone?

A—Kidney stones have microscopic beginnings. They do not cause symptoms until they become too large to pass easily through the ureter to the bladder. If these larger stones become lodged in the ureter they cause severe colicky pains and some backing up of urine in the kidneys. They may also cause blood and albumin to appear in the urine. Unfortunately no satisfactory method of prevention has as yet been worked out.

Q—How does the menopause start and at what age? How long does it last?

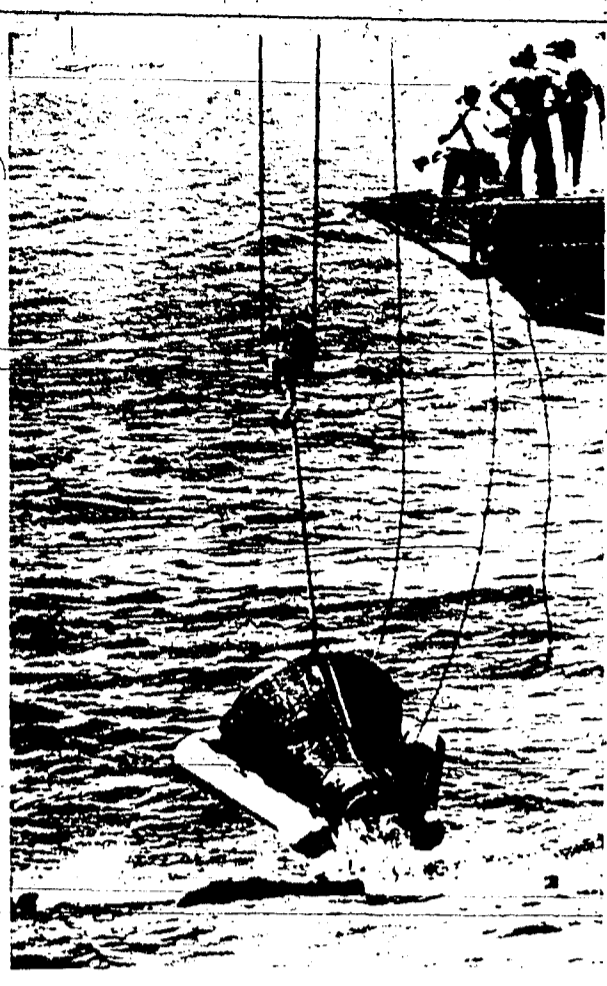

A—Although the menopause usually starts in the mid-40s the age of onset is subject to wide individual variations. There appears to be a tendency in our population for it to start in most women later than was the case 100 years ago.

It is characterized by a longer interval between menstrual periods and a shortening of the periods until they disappear completely. This may take two or three years. Many women have no symptoms and the hot flashes with or without profuse sweating that sometimes accompany the menopause cannot be said to be a part of the change of life because they may persist for many years after all menstruation has stopped.

America's Four-Day Space Flight Comes to Successful Ending

WOLVES ARE KILLED

IDAHO FALLS (AP) — The two Alaskan grey wolves that mangled a little girl's arm so badly it had to be amputated have been destroyed. City officials plan a campaign to prevent similar incidents in the future.

The wolves chewed the arm of 6-year-old Stephanie Daniel on Sunday when she reached through a safety fence. Her lower right arm was amputated.

Mayor S. Eddie Pedersen announced that "a thorough fine-tooth comb check will be run on all public exposures at the zoo. It's becoming too prevalent... we don't need anything that vicious but there."

The girl's arm was mangled at Tautaus Park Zoo. Officials had moved the wolves to the cage with the safety fence after they attacked another girl, DeVonna LaRue Higbee, 9, of Pocatello.

DeVonna required stitches on one hand after she also had reached into the wolves' cage.

DEPARTMENT MOVES

BOISE (AP) — The Idaho Department of Agriculture is moving out of the Statehouse, but there is little apparent agreement on which remaining departments will get the vacant space.

Gov. Robert E. Smylie told newsmen he assumed Democrats with a majority on the Land Board will get their way and the Department of Education will expand into the vacated offices.

CONTRACT LET

BOISE (UPI)—Two Canadian subsidiaries of Morrison-Knudsen Company of Boise, in association with two U.S. firms, have been awarded a $76,888,000 contract for construction of an underground powerplant in British Columbia.

It would be one of the largest hydroelectric developments in the world, according to M-K President J. B. Bonny.

Bonny said the contract was awarded by British Columbia Hydro and Power Authority following competitive bidding last week at Vancouver, B.C.

CITY MANAGER NAMED

LEWISTON (AP) — William G. Steffy, 51, was named by city council Monday as Lewiston's first city manager.

Steffy — who for four years was city manager of a Virginia community of 6,000 — will assume his $15,000 a year position August 2.

He was one of 74 applicants for the position, the council said.

Lewiston voters last year replaced the mayor-commission form of city government, which the city had since its incorporation in 1862.

HEALTH MEET SLATED

BOISE (AP) — Public hearings on revised health standards to improve sanitation in food service establishments will be held at 10 a.m. July 13 in the House chambers of the Idaho Statehouse.

TRAIN DERAILS

POCATELLO (UPI)—A broken axle snapped 14 cars of an eastbound Union Pacific freight train off tracks west of here Monday, stranding car wreckage and lumber for more than a mile.

The last 13 cars and the caboose of the freight train derailed in the accident. No one was reported injured as several cars rolled completely over and others ground wheel-deep into the tracks.

Union Pacific officials said it would be late Tuesday before the wrecker trains and lumber are removed from the track. A second track was not damaged in the derailment and permitted an unhampered flow of traffic.

McAvoy, owner and operator of the mill, was setting guides on a circular saw. Investigators said the carriage moved, pulling him into the saw.

BENEFIT HIKE NOTED

BOISE (AP)—The Idaho Department of Employment announced Monday it has raised the maximum weekly unemployment benefit to $48 from $45.

H. Fred Garrett, the department's executive director, informed Gov. Robert E. Smylie the increase was justified by a higher average of wages in state last year.

U. S. May Set Space Record In August

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI)—The United States is expected to try on Aug. 9 to erase Russia's No. 1 remaining cosmic record—cosmonaut Valery Bykovsky's orbital endurance mark of 119 hours 6 minutes.

The flight is that of Gemini-5—and for sheer spectacle it may even surpass the four-day orbital voyage of Gemini-4 astronauts James McDivitt and Edward White.

Informed sources said U.S. space leaders are considering the possibility of giving Gemini-5's crew—veteran astronaut Gordon Cooper Jr. and rookie Charles Pete Conrad—a chance to make the world's first attempt to link up with another satellite in orbit.

Even as Gemini-4 zipped around earth toward its planned landing in the Atlantic Ocean, the machinery for the daring flight that is expected to keep pilot Cooper and copilot Conrad in space for seven full days was being pulled together.

A Titan-2 booster rocket for the shot was scheduled to be erected this week on Cape Kennedy's launch pad 19, where McDivitt and White made their fiery departure four days ago. The Gemini-5 capsule was undergoing final checks at a plant in St. Louis, Mo.

Officials said that, if all goes as planned, the capsule will be attached to the booster rocket in "three or four weeks."

Aside from shooting Cooper and Conrad into orbit for a week, scientists planned to conduct a "simulated rendezvous and docking" attempt by counting down an Atlas Agena rocket on a nearby firing pad.

The Agena is the rocket that, according to present plans, will be launched into orbit about 90 minutes before the planned blast-off of Gemini-6 astronauts Walter M. Schirra and Thomas P. Stafford in October.

The astronauts then will try to maneuver to, and link up with, the Agena.

A study is under way, sources said, to make the "simulated launching" in August the real thing. Should the attempt be made successfully by Cooper and Conrad, it would put the United States clearly ahead of the Soviet Union in manned conquest of space, and about two months ahead of its own schedule.

A decision, however, is not expected for several weeks.

States Continuing Battle Against Highway Accidents

CHICAGO (AP) — State legislatures are counter-attacking in the nation's long and losing battle against highway accidents, which now kill an average of 125 Americans a day.

As more and more automobiles jam the highways, and the accident death rate climbs, legislatures are passing laws requiring seat belts, running retraps off the roads and reinforcing state highway patrols, an Associated Press survey showed today.

The National Safety Council said today there were 13,710 traffic deaths in the nation during the first four months this year, a 2 per cent increase over the same period last year.

Legislatures in Montana and North Dakota recently approved bills requiring safety belts for front seats of all new cars, starting with the 1966 models.

Gov. Henry Bellmon signed a similar measure for Oklahoma.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York signed a bill to compel used-car dealers to install front seat belts in automobiles, beginning Jan. 1, 1967.

The Iowa Legislature ordered front seat belts for autos of 1962 and later models sold after Jan. 1.

The Ohio Legislature decided there must be front seat belts in new cars, starting next year.

Safety belt statutes are in force in 23 states.

Nebraska's lawmakers prohibited drag racing on streets and public highways.

The Maryland Legislature made it a crime to operate a car in any intentionally "improper manner so as to cause skidding, spinning of wheels or excessive noise." Also banned was use of a flagman or timer in a race on a street or highway.

A bill designed to get mobile junk heaps off the roads was adopted in Maryland, which hasn't had compulsory auto inspection since the 1930s.

It provides: police, starting next month, can stop any auto they consider defective and order repairs. The drivers will have 10 days to comply. If not, they will lose their licenses. In addition, when used-car titles change hands after Jan. 1 the cars must meet standards to be set forth by the state commissioner of motor vehicles.

The Nevada Legislature approved legislation which forbids motor carriers to operate any vehicle that is found to be in unsafe condition.

The Iowa Legislature added 100 men to the road patrol force.

Georgia lawmakers provided money for 43 additional state patrolmen and salary increases of about $50 a month in the next two-year period for 450 patrolmen.

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE by STELLA

TUESDAY, JUNE 8 — Born today, you probably cut quite a fancy figure socially, for you have an instinctive grace and polish that enables you to meet and dominate almost any social situation. This does not mean, however, that your basic nature is that of the "social butterfly." Actually, you are more of a "loner" than your appearance and outward habits would indicate, for, though others may not be aware of it, you need a great deal of time to yourself for thought and idle speculation.

It is to be hoped that the person you choose for a marriage partner realizes that the "real you" may not be at all the one that first attracted him or her. If this is not the case, then you could be in for a great deal of marital difficulties and an unusually long period of marital adjustment. Make it a point, therefore, to let your prospective mate know you for what you really are—before, not after, the ceremony!

Exceptionally sound emotionally, you are not one to give way either to flights of ecstasy or moods of depression. Life with you means life on an even keel, and once again it is important that you choose your mate wisely. The man or woman who wants a perpetual round of emotional excitement is not the one for you—nor are you the one for him or her.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

"Heal-in" at Los Angeles Hospital Over

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The "heal-in" at mammoth Los Angeles County General Hospital is over. The sore problems that caused it have only been salved, not solved.

Interns and resident doctors at the towering, 3,000-bed complex recently deliberately increased its patient population. They admitted more patients than usual — and discharged fewer. From a May 1-24 average of 2,441, the number rose to 2,991 May 25.

Dr. Richard Boggs, president of the Interns and Residents Association at the hospital, says it was to dramatize demands for more facilities and help and for better pay.

Interns get $300, first-year residents $419 a month. They work the national average of 83 hours a week, Boggs said.

The heal-in tapered off to 2,658 patients by latest count, which the hospital says is within normal range.

The County Board of Supervisors ordered an investigation by county officials.

Newsmen Are Visiting Birmingham

By REX THOMAS
BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Visiting newsmen take another look at Birmingham today, then head for the space city of Huntsville in their tour of Alabama.

The 47 editors and reporters — including one Negro — from newspapers across the nation came here at Gov. George C. Wallace's invitation to find out if news stories about racial problems in Alabama have been distorted.

Their first day of travel in state trooper-escorted buses Monday took them to two of the cities which have experienced racial strife in recent years — Selma and Birmingham. The visit brought picketing by civil rights demonstrators at Selma.

In Birmingham, the state's largest city and the south's major steel producing metropolis, the out-of-state newsmen talked with Negro educators and visited the 16th Street Baptist church where a still-unresolved dynamite explosion killed four Negro girls in September 1958. Negro demonstrators tried in vain to crash the gate at a barbecue at Selma. City police under Public Safety Director Wilton Baker kept them back, and the newsmen lunched several hundred yards away without interruption.

BUHL — Funeral services for Joseph L. White were conducted at 2 p.m. Monday in the Buhl LDS Church by Bishop H. L. Schaal.

Mrs. R. A. Carlson served as organist and Mrs. Woodrow Ash played a piano selection. Vocal numbers were by Laura Ham and Bertha Fullmer. Hyrum White gave the family prayer and Dennis Orton the invocation. Norene Leuitzen read the obituary and Bishop Schaal paid tribute.

Speakers were Bishop James Page and Earnest Blaser. Bert Nelson gave the benediction. Dean Jaynes and Lynn Lauritzen served as ushers. Pallbearers were Maurice Eckert, Earl Fullmer, Ray Carlson, Jay Rice, Robert Rice and Don Rice. Concluding rites were held in the Buhl City Cemetery with Joseph F. Howells giving the dedicatory prayer.

to remove the many old trees that were on the grounds.

The one tree left standing is a pine which was donated to the church by Hyrum S. Lewis, old-time Declo resident. He moved the tree from his home when it was 5 years old and a foot and a half high and planted it on the church grounds.

Joseph Gillette, chairman of the public and business affairs committee, has been assisted by A. L. Turner and Elmer Mackie in working on the project. Many Kiwanis members have helped prepare the ground for fall planting.

Darrington said this will be a five-year project and eventually will include providing picnic shelters and tables in a landscaped park.

A fund raising breakfast is being planned for the first part of July with Bruce Turner and Richard Moncur in charge.

McDivitt, White Comment On Risks of Space Flights

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — America's latest and, longest space flight has come to a happy ending, as have all others before it. Nevertheless, space officials agree, there is always an element of risk in such bold ventures into the void.

How do Air Force Maj. James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White II, who Monday completed their four-day Gemini flight, feel about this aspect of their jobs?

They talked freely about it in an interview shortly before their mission.

"There is an old fighter pilot's song that expresses it pretty well," McDivitt, 35, said. "We had it on a bulletin board in Korea."

White, 34, who did the now famous space walk, took it up from there with occasional prompting from McDivitt. "It went like this:

"Don't worry, you have two chances. Either you'll return to the squadron or you won't. If you return, no sweat. If you don't, you still have two chances. You'll get rescued or you won't. If you do, no sweat. If you don't, you'll get captured or you won't."

"Well, anyway," said McDivitt, "it finally says you'll either live or you won't. If you live, no object and it's all over, or if it got hurt in an airplane we'd could be a lot worse than that, stopped fooling around with air- but we've got to accept the fact, plans. We'd be the most back- that eventually this is going to ward country in the world right happen."

"Even if we had .9999 reliability, eventually you get to that one point that makes it 1.0."

White said, "If it happens, we wouldn't want it to hold up the space program."

"We have to keep progressing. Just think what would happen if the first time somebody

McDivitt said, "As we fly more and more spacecraft we're going to have one come down and we're probably going to lose somebody in it."

"I've always figured, well, it could happen to somebody else, you know. And it always has, so pen if the first time somebody

Search for Cargo Plane Is Extended

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A search for a C119 Air Force cargo plane and its 10 men was extended over 100,000 square miles of sea Monday.

The plane, carrying nine hours of fuel, left Homestead Air Force Base near Miami Saturday night for Grand Turk Island in the Bahamas. Its last reported position was Cricket Island, about 100 miles from Grand Turk.

Foul weather hampered Monday's search by 22 Air Force, Navy and Coast Guard aircraft and two Coast Guard cutters.

Air Force officials said the plane carried ample survival equipment, including a 20-man life raft.

2 Airlifted To Hospital After Crash

ONTARIO, Ore. (AP) — Two men, injured Monday when their light plane crashed and burned near Lake Owyhee in Oregon, have been airlifted by helicopter to an Ontario hospital.

The copters were dispatched from Boise late Monday night after efforts to reach Gary Lackey and High Frazier by Jeep and boats on Lake Owyhee had failed.

A third passenger, Don Reay of Ontario, walked out of the rugged crash area, about 2 1/2 miles south of the Lake Owyhee Airport last night to report the accident. He was hospitalized last night.

Lackey received burns and an ankle injury and Frazier had back injuries.

A doctor at Holy Rosary Hospital declined to give a condition report on the three men.

Lackey was brought out of the area by a copter piloted by Bob McClellan of Boise while an Army National Guard helicopter from Boise brought in Frazier.

Man Cited For Leaving Mishap Scene

BUHL — Harold Hahn, 49, Buhl, was cited for leaving the scene of an accident some seven hours after the mishap occurred, State Patrolman Richard Burns said Tuesday.

At 1:45 a.m. Saturday Mrs. Lewis Pond, who resides two and one-half miles south of Buhl on a county road, notified Idaho Power employees that an unidentified person had sheared off a telephone pole and knocking down electrical lines connected to it, leaving their residence without electrical power. Idaho Power employees notified local police.

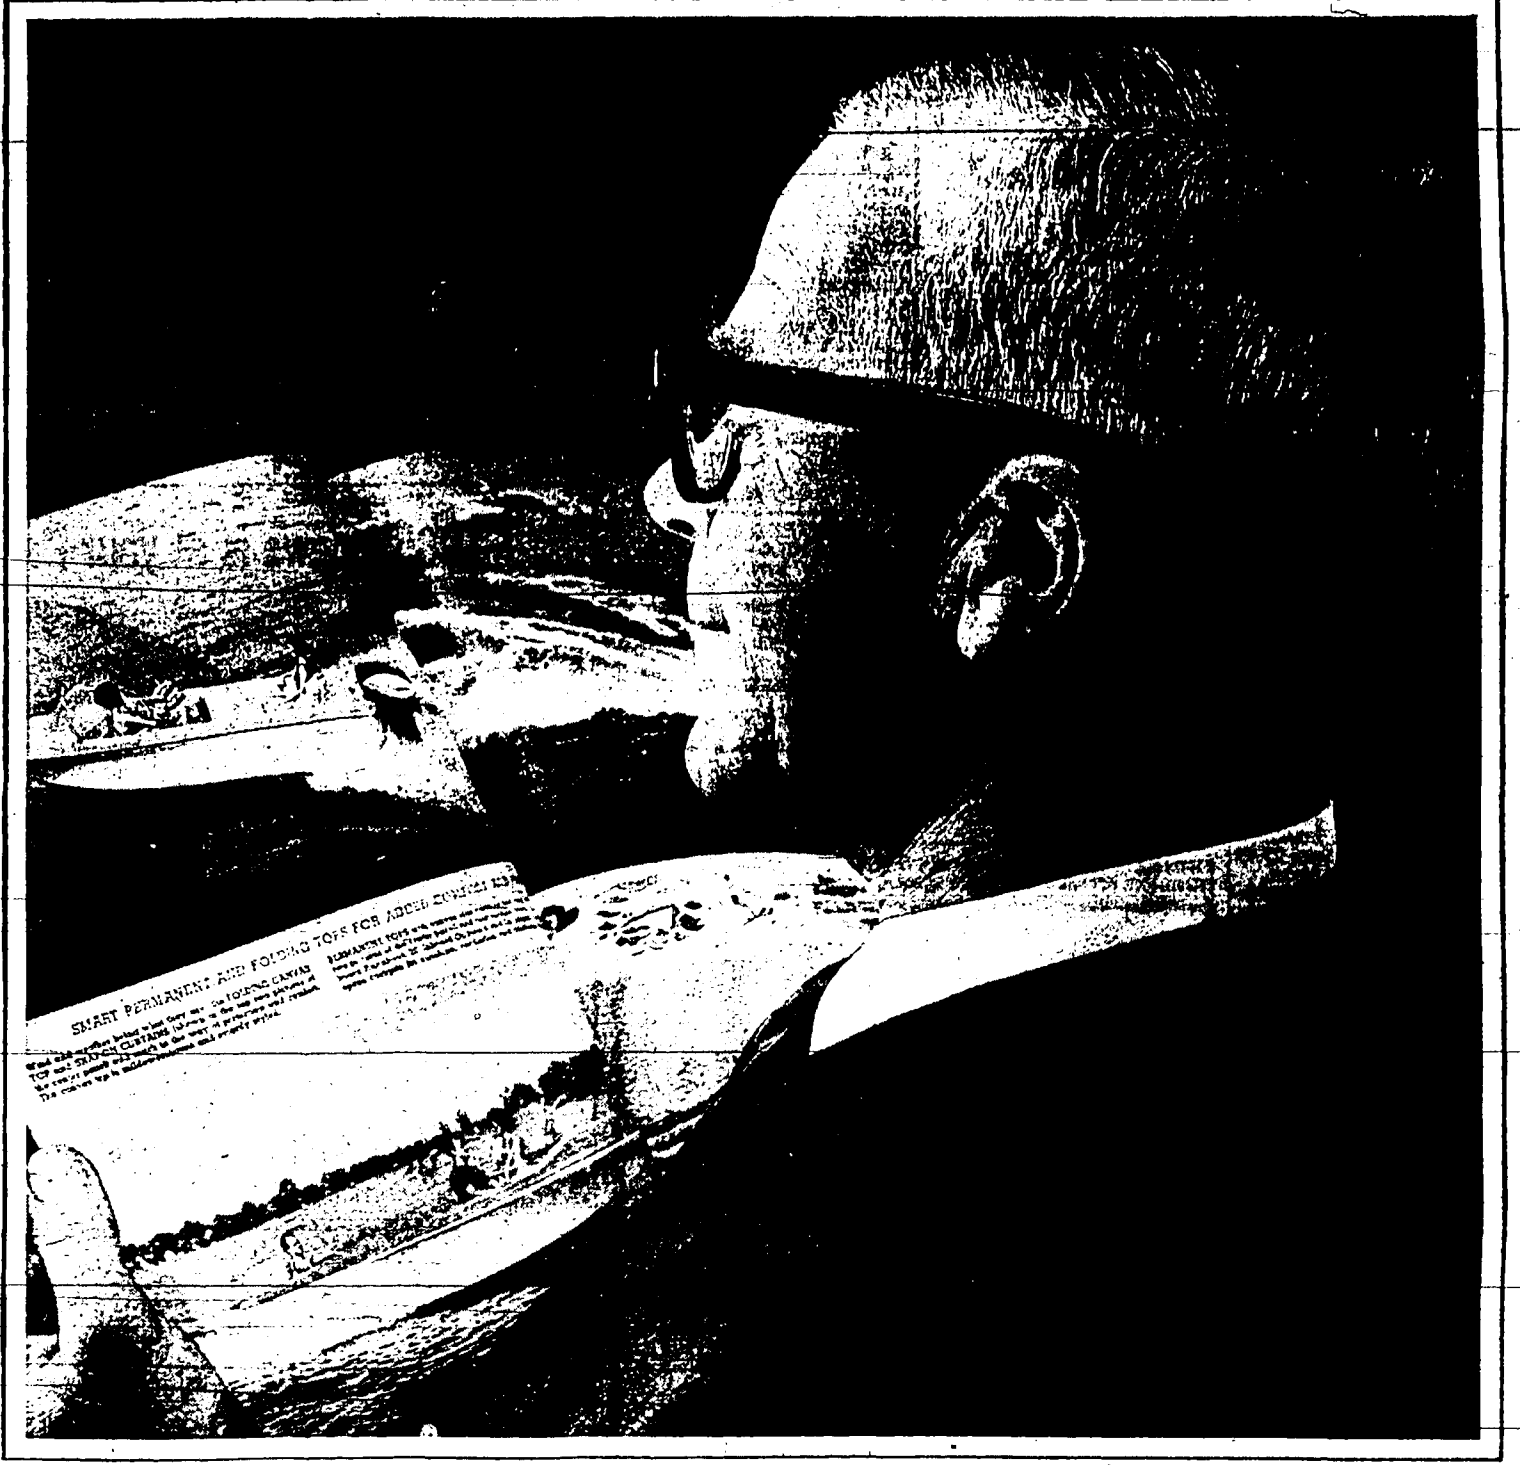

Parts of a car were discovered at the scene of the accident by the officer who was able to trace them to a 1958 Ford belonging to Harold Hahn, a Buhl farmer. Further investigation revealed that the car, which was demolished, was towed away from the scene by a tractor and taken to another person's residence by Hahn.

Damages other than the car were estimated at $75 to the telephone pole, $15 to a mail box, and undetermined damages to the power lines.

This is one of a new series of informative reports on the unique advantages of print media presented by this newspaper and the Print Advertising Association

DON'T YOU READ BEFORE YOU BUY?

Most people generally do. Not only do they read; they cut out and show ads to their family and friends; they clip coupons for information and samples. When people see an advertisement in print, they can compare designs... features... and prices of nationally known products and services. (And people do compare before they go out and buy.) Advertising in print is a handy thing. You can check back; the message is still there even when your attention is distracted. When you add it up, print advertising—the kind you read in this newspaper—makes sense. And because it measures up to the buying habits of most consumers, print makes sales. The Daily Investor

Q. My college logic class taught, "If a set of conditions causes a result, the result will remain the same, if the conditions remain the same."

Your column teaches, "Successful investors are people who buy good growth stocks and hang on to them."

I make the following arbitrary hypothesis: A growth stock is one which price has appreciated 1,000 per cent in 10 years.

This leads to the following deduction: List those stocks which 1,000 per cent figure is just too arbitrary.

NEW YORK (AP) — Business expansion plans are themselves expanding. And such spending is expected to hit its fastest pace in the final months of the year.

These record outlays can spread through many segments of the national economy, pepping up sales and production for many industries from metals to business services.

This is one of the most reassuring prospects in this period of uncertainty in the stock markets and of economic pulse-taking in many quarters.

AFL Votes to Expand; Philadelphia, Atlanta Are Most Probable Picks

OCEANPORT, N. J. (UPI)—The eight American Football League owners voted unanimously Monday to expand their circuit to 10 teams by the 1968 season, with Atlanta and Philadelphia the odds-on favorites for the new franchise. Commissioner Joe Foss said the executive committee would announce the two cities Tuesday at the close of the two-day, closed-door league meeting. He indicated that Atlanta, plum of the South, and Philadelphia, already occupied by the rival National Football League, were among the 53 franchise offers from 24 areas of the country discussed by the owners.

AFL, NFL Warned Not to Merge Draft

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Both the National and American Football leagues have been advised not to effect a merger or common player draft until Congress acts on legislation now in the hands of a Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee. The Associated Press learned Monday. The expansion war has nothing to do with the failure to get together and end the costly financial battle over players and franchises.

National Football League owners were told at their meeting in New York last week by league counsel that either a merger or common player draft would be tossing a red flag in front of Congress.

The Senate committee has completed hearings on the bill and is expected to act in about a month. It would bring certain business aspects of sports under the antitrust laws and spell out exemptions for baseball, football, basketball, and hockey as sports.

Baseball is exempt from the antitrust law under previous court decisions. The status of football, basketball and hockey never has been made clear. Exemptions sought involve territorial rights, joint action to form the sport, player drafts, contracts and reserve clauses.

Both the AFL and NFL thus have been told by counsel that any joint action at this time can spell nothing but trouble. A merger could be construed as an antitrust violation, a monopoly. It would eliminate costly player bonuses and soaring salaries, which could be viewed as a combination to restrain such payments.

There is doubt that the sports bill will be acted upon in this session of Congress, which means that any joint AFL-NFL action is not in the foreseeable future.

Chicago Uses Red Sox to Break Skin

BOSTON (AP)—The Chicago White Sox broke out of a three-game losing streak by beating Boston 7-3 Monday night behind the home run hitting of Bill Skowron and Red Sox miscues. He hit a solo homer to the center field bleachers in the second inning and another bases-empty blow high off the right field foul pole in the sixth.

In between he drew a walk and was one of two men who scored on Ron Hansen's two-run single in the fourth.

Those two tallies were unearned because of one of four Boston errors in the game and a passed ball. Red Sox reliever Jack Lamabe committed a balk which let in the fifth Chicago run after Jimmy Schaffer tripped in the seventh.

Eddie Fisher, the Chicago bullpen workhorse, finished up after starter Johnny Buzhardt was tagged for Tony Conigliaro's two-run homer in the Boston seventh. Gary Geiger followed with a double and Fisher got the call.

Atlanta Favors Pact With NFL

ATLANTA (UPI)—Arthur Montgomery, chairman of the Atlanta Stadium Authority, said Monday his group will allow the National Football League time to grant Atlanta a franchise.

Montgomery made the statement as directors of the American Football League met in Oceanport, N. J., reportedly considering awarding Atlanta a franchise with the AFL.

"We are not obligated to take the first franchise offered us," Montgomery said.

Montgomery reported he had been in constant touch with NFL commissioner Pete Rozelle. "If the AFL franchise comes first, we will wait for a reasonable period of time for a move by the NFL," Montgomery added.

At the New Jersey meeting, AFL officials were expected to consider issuing a franchise to the Cox Broadcasting Co., of Atlanta.

With construction complete on a new $18 million stadium, which will be the home of the Milwaukee Braves when they move to Atlanta, the city has become attractive to both leagues and at least three groups have been bidding for professional football franchises.

Montgomery said only one league will be allowed into the new stadium and said members of the Stadium Authority would prefer an NFL franchise.

"The NFL obviously is a better league for Atlanta," Montgomery said.

"As far as revenue figures are concerned there's no comparison between the leagues. And in the NFL, you're with 14 good teams."

"In the AFL, you would start out with some not-so-good teams," he concluded.

Yankees Trim A's 4-2 for 4th in Row

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Bobby Richardson squeezed home the tie-breaking run in the eighth inning Monday night as the New York Yankees trimmed Kansas City 4-2 and extended their winning streak to four games, their longest of the season.

Roger Maris pulled the Yankees into a 2-2 tie in the sixth when he homered with Horace Clarke aboard. It was Maris' fifth homer of the season.

Clarke led off the sixth as a pinch hitter and singled for the first hit off Fred Talbot.

The Yankees then edged ahead in the eighth. Pinch hitter Ray Barker led off with a single, was sacrificed to second and moved to third as Phil Linz singled.

Jesses Hickman came into pitch for Kansas City, and Richardson bunted. First baseman Ken Harrelson fielded the ball but could only tag Richardson as Barker scored the lead run.

New York added a run in the ninth on a walk to Mickey Mantle and Tom Tresh's triple. New York 000 002 011-4 7 1

Indians Edge Twins 2-1 Behind Tiant

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Leon Wagner and Rocky Colavito smashed successive fourth-inning home runs while Luis Tiant baffled Minnesota with a brilliant two-hitter in Cleveland's 2-1 victory over the Twins Monday night.

Wagner clouted his seventh homer and Colavito followed with his 11th, routing Jim Grant's bid for his sixth straight triumph.

The only hits off Tiant were successive doubles by Tony Oliva and Don Mincher in the bottom of the fourth for the Twins-run. Tiant gained his fifth victory against two defeats, striking out nine and walking two.

The Cleveland right-hander permitted only one base runner after the fourth inning, walking pinch hitter Harmon Killebrew in the ninth after retiring 15 consecutive batters.

Chualo Floors Burns in First

SAINT JOHN, N.B. (AP)—Heavyweight contender George Chualo of Toronto scored a first-round technical knockout over Sonny Andrew Burns of Boston in a scheduled 10-round fight Monday night.

Chualo's Canadian heavyweight title was not on the line. Chualo knocked Burns down three times before referee Willie Pep, former world featherweight champion, stopped the fight at 2:33.

Chualo, third-ranked-heavyweight contender, looked sharp in the brief scuffle. He took a couple of hard blows to the head in the early seconds of the fight and then went to work on the big Bostonian, using solid shots to the mid-section.

AHL, WHL Slate Novel Schedule

MONTREAL (UPI)—The American and Western Hockey Leagues Monday announced a 72-game interlocking schedule, the first step toward a merger that would present a united front in the face of announced National Hockey League expansion.

The announcement by the two minor leagues, just a step below the major-league NHL, came at the start of the annual four-day NHL meetings.

The interlocking schedule calls for each league to play 36 games in the ranks of the other league. The AHL's nine teams each will play four games in WHL cities, and the WHL's six teams will play six contests on AHL ice.

The only concrete action by the NHL came out of the rules committee. No changes in the rules were even suggested but the committee tightened existing legislation.

They ruled that any player caught swinging his stick at an opponent will automatically be fined $200 and be subject to suspension.

No goalie will be allowed more than five minutes for any repairs, either to himself or to his equipment.

And the NHL also agreed to enforce a rule that has been on the books for several decades—a two-minute penalty to any player deliberately shooting or throwing the puck out of the ice surface.

Plante Retires From Hockey

MONTREAL (AP)—Jacques Plante, six-time Vezina Trophy winner, retired from hockey Monday night. He is 36.

Plante, who spent the last two seasons playing for the New York Rangers after 10 years with the Montreal Canadiens, told a news conference at the National Hockey League meetings here that he was leaving the game because he wanted to spend more time at home with his family.

Just last month Plante underwent surgery on his right knee in New York and at that time, he said he was looking forward to next season.

POCATELLO—Kirk Williams allowed only six hits in the second game Sunday as the Twin Falls American Legion "A" rolled over Pocatello 8-3 for a split of their doubleheader. Pocatello won the first 5-0 behind the two-hit hurling of Jim Moore.

Pocatello scored three runs in the first inning of the opener, utilizing two Twin Falls errors. The home team added runs in the third and sixth for the final score.

Twin Falls had the second game wrapped up in the fourth after runs by Larry Sarterwhite and Mike Touchette in the third and tallies by Mark Brown and Bob Holmes in the fourth. Holmes and Williams each accounted for two of the team's 8 runs.

MANILA (UPI)—Gabriel (Flash) Elorde's next target is the world lightweight crown and arrangements are underway for a match with titleholder Ismael Laguna in Manila in late August. Elorde's manager and father-in-law said Monday.

The 30-year-old Elorde, fresh from his eighth successful defense of his world junior lightweight championship, has no immediate interest at the moment except a crack at Laguna's title, according to Lope Sarreal.

Sarreal said Elorde was temporarily setting aside offers from Japan and Ecuador for him to defend his own crown against challengers there until after his expected encounter with the Panamanian fighter.

He said he planned to ask Carlos Ortiz, who was dethroned by Laguna and who was reportedly keen on a rematch, to give way to Elorde instead.

Prior to a meeting with Laguna, Elorde will fly to New York for a 10-round benefit bout against either Frankie Narvaez or Johnny Bizzarro, July 13, Sarreal said, adding that he foresaw little difficulty for Elorde in that fight.

Elorde, who has held his 130-pound title longer than any other current world champion, (since 1960), pounded out a savage final-round knockout over Japanese challenger Teruo Kosaka here Saturday night.

(so they can't block your gas line!)

What does the American FINAL/FILTER really do? Automotive engineers know—they asked for it and American Oil Research developed it to stand between you and trouble. You see, all gasoline pick up tiny impurities in transit and in storage. These impurities, should they get in your gasoline tank, could clog up the fuel line filter and stop you cold. The American FINAL/FILTER blocks out contaminants right at the pump nozzle. If you use your car on the job (and even if you don't) you stay out of trouble when you "fill'er up filtered" with American, Regular or American, Super-Premium. Baseball Draft Begins Today; Finley Is Ready

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball's hotly debated free agent draft of high school, college and sandlot players gets under way Tuesday morning with the Kansas City Athletics expected to pick Rick Monday, a sophomore at Arizona State University. Although the draft is designed to eliminate competitive bidding for inexperienced, untried youngsters, Kansas City club owner Charles O. Finley is prepared to shell out in the neighborhood of $100,000 for the 19-year-old slugger.

Final Trials Slated for U.S. Open

NEW YORK (AP) — Cleveland and Detroit will be scenes of "Little Opens" Tuesday when final sectional qualifying trials will be held for the 65th National Open Golf Championship.

Such leading players as Sam Snead, Cary Middlecoff, Tommy Bolt and Jack Burke Jr., will be in the list seeking places in the tournament proper at St. Louis June 17-20.

Thirty-six hole tests were scheduled Monday at Chicago, Cincinnati, Dallas and Portland, Ore., with 18 berths up for grabs. Playoffs will be staged at nine other sites Tuesday, with the heaviest action at Cleveland and Detroit.

In all, a total of 119 openings are at stake for 459 golfers, the successful men joining 31 exempt players in the normal 150-man field for the nation's major championship over the Bellerive Country Club course.

Tresh's Guess Proves Right, But Fails

By The Associated Press
Tom Tresh of the New York Yankees came to the plate in the eighth inning, looking for his fourth homer of the game, and decided to play a guessing game against Ted Wills.

He guessed right. But he knuckled under. So Tresh settled for the three homers, a single in the sixth inning and that eighth-inning pop-up about two feet in back of the catcher off Wills' knuckler.

And Tresh admitted he was disappointed despite the fact that he singled and doubled in the first game, putting together six hits in eight at-bats, driving in five runs and scoring six as the Yankees swept a doubleheader from the Chicago White Sox 6-1 and 12-0 Sunday.

"I was particularly eager to hit that fourth homer because it would have made me the first ever to hit two from each side of the plate in one game," said the switch-hitting Tresh. "I had faced Wills earlier and was guessing that he'd open with a knuckler against me in the eighth."

"I guessed right and swung with all I had." And the ball sailed — straight up.

Club Honors Modern Big Three of Golf

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (UPI) — Modern golf's Big Three, Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer and Gary Player, Monday joined the game's greatest when they were inducted into the Hill of Fame at Oak Hill Country Club.

An oak tree was dedicated to the trio. Normally, an oak is dedicated to each new member, but an exception was made because the threesome is so closely associated in competition.

They joined such golf stars already inducted as Bobby Jones, Walter Hagen, Francis Ouimet and Babe Didrikson Zaharias. Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower is also a member.

Later Palmer and Player teamed to defeat Nicklaus and Oak Hill professional Jack Lumpkin 137-146 in an exhibition watched by about 8,500. Player was low with a two-under-par 65 over the 6,950 yard course.

Budd Will Not Return to Knicks

NEW YORK (UPI) — Dave Budd, a five year National Basketball Association veteran, Monday informed New York general manager Eddie Donovan that he has decided not to return to the Knickerbockers next season in order that he may devote full time to business interests.

The 6-foot-6 forward, who joined the Knicks in 1960 after being graduated from Wake Forest College, spent his entire playing career with New York, compiling a scoring average of 7.1 points per game.

The 26-year-old Budd said that he plans to enter the produce business with his father-in-law in his hometown of Woodbury, N. J.

Aaron Is Back in Accustomed Spot, Battling for NL Batting Crown

NEW YORK (AP) — His left ankle apparently fully mended, Hammerin' Henry Aaron of the Milwaukee Braves is back at his accustomed spot battling for the National League batting title.

The two-time winner is hitting at a .338 clip after a slow start. Aaron still is far off the .375 pace being set by Cincinnati's Gordy Coleman but boosted his average by five points last week to jump from eighth to the runner-up spot. Aaron missed the first 10 days of the season because of an operation to remove bone chips from an ankle. The right-handed hitting outfielder has been hitting around .400 during the past few weeks.

Coleman, last week's leader, maintained his .375 pace with six hits in 16 times at bat. Milwaukee's Joe Torre and San Francisco's Willie Mays tumbled from their second and third spots.

Torre collected only five hits in 22 times at bat and his average fell from second place .346 to a third place .329. Mays' drop was even more drastic. Willie, hampered by a virus, spent a good part of last week on the bench. He would have been better off had he spent all week on the bench. He hasn't had a hit in his last 13 times at bat and his average tumbled from .345 to .322.

The only newcomer to the top ten is Frank Bolling of the Braves, who boosted his average to .321, good enough for 10th and one point behind Mays. There was little change in the American League. Willie Horton held on to first place as did Vic Davalillo on second and Dick McAuliffe on third.

Horton, Detroit's sophomore outfielder, slipped 12 points but his .363 was 12 points higher than Davalillo's .352. The little Cleveland outfielder added five points during the week.

Cepeda May Miss Rest Of Season

NEW YORK (AP) — The doctor who operated on Orlando Cepeda's right knee last winter, advised the San Francisco Giants Monday that the slugger's first baseman will be out indefinitely and may be lost to the club for the remainder of the season.

The Giants received the bad news after they arrived for a three-game series with the New York Mets starting Tuesday night.

Dr. Harrison McLaughlin, who performed surgery for the removal of a cartilage in Cepeda's knee last Dec. 7, advised him to refrain from exercises of any kind and return to San Francisco for further treatment. He did not say whether another operation might be necessary.

Va., insurance man who won the United States Amateur last year, came here with a chance to become the first man to hold both of the world's top amateur titles since Lawson Little won both the U.S. and British crowns in 1934 and 1935.

Leading British Contingent Were Defending Champion

Leading the British contingent were defending champion Gordon Clark, Michael Lunt, the 1963 champion, and John Poyall, runner-up in 1962 to the last American winner, Richard Davies. Sweeney, British champion in 1937, won handily from Laurie Mackenzie of England 3 and 1 when Mackenzie got into bunkers on three straight holes after polling even at the 13th.

Chairman who won the U.S. Amateur in 1940 and the British in 1951 at Porthcawl, hit a hot putting streak on the back nine and defeated Eddie Shamash of Scotland 3 and 2.

Other U.S. victors included 24-year-old Hunter McDonald, a recently-transplanted Scot; Jim Vickers of Wichita, Kan., and Bob Roos of San Francisco. Eight Americans won and 11 were beaten in the first round.

Rubber Strike Ends With 2-Year Pact

NEW YORK (UPI)—The U. S. Rubber Co. and the United Rubber Workers union Monday agreed on a new two-year contract, ending a week-old strike at plants in 19 cities across the nation.

The settlement, affecting about 22,000 workers, provides for average wage increases of 16 cents per hour over the next two years and includes such other contract improvements as an additional paid holiday, longer vacations and liberalized supplemental unemployment benefits.

A major issue in the dispute concerned working conditions in the company plants. A company spokesman said Monday "an understanding was reached regarding productivity matters and inter-plant adjustments."

Tunisian Ship Explodes, 5 Persons Die

TUNIS (UPI)—A Tunisian ship exploded and burned Monday while bringing 101 Swiss and West German tourists back from an island holiday.

At least five persons were killed and 26 injured. Five were missing.

Fishing boats converged on the scene and pulled survivors from the water. Many of them had leaped from the ship as fire spread rapidly through the superstructure of the wrecked vessel, the "El Habib."

The boat, carrying a crew of 10, was rocked by a violent engine room explosion as it returned to the Tunisian east coast Port of Sfax with tourists who had been vacationing on the Kerkennah Islands, about 15 miles off the coast.

Seventy-one of the tourists were believed to be Belgian, 31 Swiss and two West Germans. The government-run news agency Tunis Afrique Presse said four of the known dead were Belgians and the fifth Swiss.

Crew members of the El Habib managed to beach the boat's burned out hulk.

Future Manned Space Flights to Be Launched on Accelerated Schedule

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A space agency official, commenting on the remarkable flight of Gemini 4, said: "You ain't seen nothing yet."

He was looking to future U.S. man-in-space flights which will be launched on an accelerated schedule as a result of the success of astronauts James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White II. Gemini spacecraft will hook up with other satellites; the pilots will perform intricate maneuvers during trips up to two weeks; and men will walk and work outside their orbiting spacecraft for longer periods than the excursion made by White.

Then on to the moon—perhaps only three years from now—and man's greatest adventure.

Even as McDivitt and White were being hoisted from the Atlantic Ocean Monday after their four-day trip, the Titan 2 rocket for Gemini 5 was being erected at Cape Kennedy.

The crew will be veteran astronaut Lt. Gordon Cooper Jr., whose 34-hour American space-flight record was shattered by Gemini 4, and rookie pilot Charles Conrad Jr. They have a late August date with the stars.

Cooper and Conrad are to stay in space for seven days, but space agency officials hinted they could be up for a longer time—based on preliminary data from Gemini 4.

Dr. Charles A. Berry, director of Gemini medical operations, said that preliminary examination of McDivitt and White indicates that "we've knocked down a lot of straw men with this mission."

He said that weightlessness apparently is not as dangerous as was feared, at least not for four days. Cooper had shown some disquieting symptoms, especially in the heart and blood vessel systems, as did Soviet cosmonaut Valery Bykovsky after his record five-day space trip.

Berry said that a rigid exercise schedule with a stretch cord apparently helped McDivitt and White to overcome any after-effects of weightlessness.

Berry also listed the buildup of heat in a spacecraft as another topped "straw man." He said a steady temperature of around 65 degrees, with no humidity, was maintained throughout the flight.

The physician said White experienced no dizziness during his space walk—as the Russian Alexei Leonov reported on his March 18 stroll.

Gemini project director Charles Mathews called Gemini 4 a milestone, "and now we're looking forward to the real interesting things contemplated in the future."

He said the Gemini 5 spacecraft will be somewhat different than Gemini 4. For one thing it will generate electrical power from a fuel cell—a device which converts liquid hydrogen and liquid oxygen into energy. It will replace bulky batteries with a great saving in weight.

The fuel cell will give Gemini 5 a long-life capability. A similar cell is being developed for Apollo man-to-the-moon flights.

Cooper and Conrad also will launch their own satellite from the nose of their spacecraft. It will be an instrumental sphere the size of a beach ball. Then they will use a radar system to practice rendezvousing with it.

McDivitt and White had no radar to help in their futile attempt to maneuver close to the orbiting second stage of their booster rocket.

The rendezvous exercise will be a vital rehearsal for the first U.S. attempt to hook up a manned spacecraft with another orbiting satellite.

The flight is scheduled in October, with astronauts Walter M. Schirra Jr. and Thomas P. Stafford in Gemini 6. The target satellite will be the second stage of an Atlas-Agena rocket launched one or more orbits before Gemini 6.

Stafford plans to leave the spacecraft after the hookup and practice working with tools on spacecraft nuts and bolts. He could be the forerunner of space repairmen who ferry between satellites to fix bulky equipment.

Gemini 7 is planned as a 14-day mission in December. The remaining five flights in the Gemini program then will practice various rendezvous, docking and astronaut-emergence maneuvers.

Mathews said that the schedule will be flexible and that the success of Gemini 4 certainly should encourage attempts at bolder steps than originally envisioned.

The Gemini program is expected to conclude late next year if it maintains a schedule of a flight every two months.

Starting in 1967, three-man Apollo teams will be launched into earth orbit to rehearse for moon shots. Initially, they will be boosted by the Saturn 1 rocket—a vehicle four times more powerful than the Titan 2.

Then will come the pulse-pounding earth orbit flights with the full 92,000-pound Apollo capsule boosted by the giant Saturn 5 with 20 times the power of Titan 2.

If there are no hitches, Apollo program director Dr. Joseph Shea said that the first team of three astronauts could be launched to the moon on the third manned Saturn 5 rocket. That could mean a landing in 1968 instead of the present target date of 1969, he said.

After that? Moon colonization; year-long trips to Mars, Venus and other points in the solar system; space stations that orbit for years.

All are being considered. Such will be the legacy of Gemini 4, the shots that preceded it and those that will follow.

Door Thieves

FREMONT, Calif. (UPI)—Police here are looking for a gang of thieves who have an open door policy.

Residents of three new homes complained that two men and a woman with a pickup truck came to their homes and carted away the front door.

The home owners said the thieves told them the doors were to be refinished. But that was the last seen of them.

Ogden Youth Said Serious After Fall

OGDEN (AP)—An Ogden youth was in serious condition this morning after falling about 300 feet over rocks and trees Monday morning, and waiting a semi-conscious condition for six hours for a helicopter rescue.

The Ogden youth was Richard Cole, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Cole.

He was hiking with five other youths near the top of Mt. Ogden, whose peaks jut 9,650 skyward.

Cole accidentally dropped back pack as the youths hiked near the top of the mountain range east of Ogden. He made short chase after the pack lost his footing and fell into canyon and rolled, fell and ped for about 300 feet over rocks and snow. Detective Brick Larson, Weber County sheriff's department, said, it was about 10:30 a.m. when Cole fell.

The youth was in a semi-conscious condition with head injuries, abrasions and bruising when rescued.

Expedition Finds Burial Mound of Mayan Chieftan

BELIZE, British Honduras (UPI)—A U. S.-Canadian archeological expedition has uncovered the burial mound of a Mayan chieftan in the Altun Ha ruins, 30 miles northwest here, it was reported today.

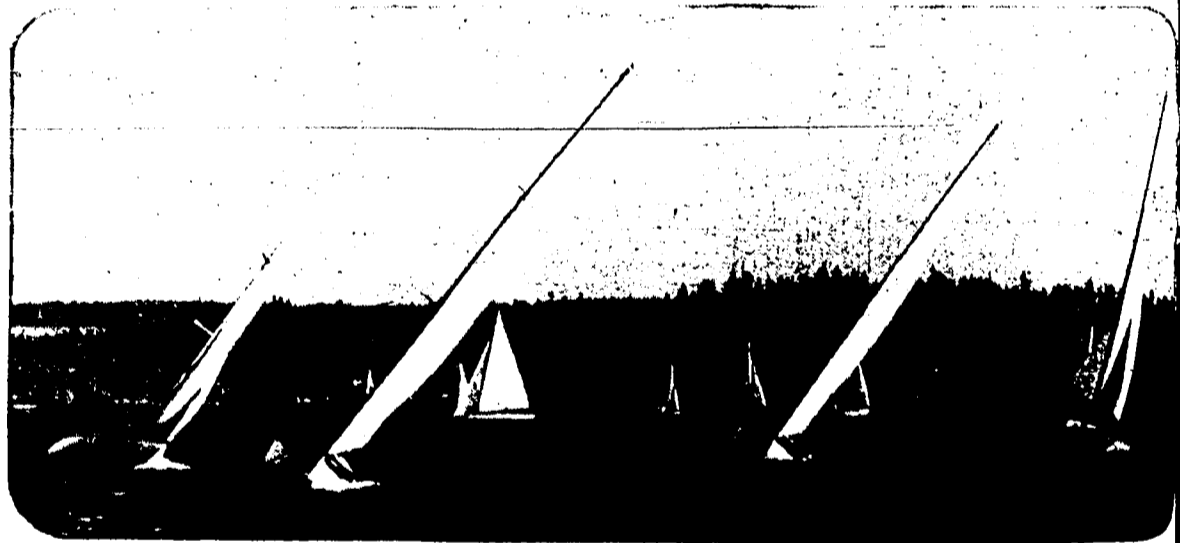

Because of the onset of a rainy season, the expedition was not able immediately to explore its find. The area has been sealed off pending further investigation after the rains.

The expedition was sponsored jointly by the University of Utah and the Ontario Royal Museum. Utah's Dr. David Pendergast was specifically credited with the discovery of the mound.
