WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson said today initial benefits of the $4.6 billion excise tax cut voted by Congress will take effect Tuesday. Since the measure becomes effective a day after the President signs the bill, this indicated he plans the signing for Monday. Johnson issued a statement hailing congressional actions on the administration-proposed tax cut and said: "I believe producers and retailers will match the responsible conduct of the Congress with equal responsibility by passing these reductions along to consumers. This will bring us lower prices, more purchasing power and new jobs."

Johnson said the Treasury Department, Budget Bureau, Council of Economic Advisers and White House legal staff will review the legislation during the weekend. "While they are working," he said, "our merchants will have time to take the necessary inventories to establish floor stock refunds."

Johnson added that "the benefits of this measure will begin flowing to consumers, producers and retailers on Tuesday."

The President noted anew that the nation is enjoying its 52nd straight month of economic expansion.

"This is unequalled in peacetime," he said. "The reduction in excise taxes will help us to continue to grow."

The excise tax repealer does away with most of the federal sales taxes, handovers from the Korean War days and even earlier.

Dominican Government Is Proposed

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—The creation of a provisional government and elections within nine months were proposed today to the rival factions in the Dominican conflict.

The rebel leaders, to whom the formula was first proposed by the Organization of American States peace committee, urged to study the reaction of the rival civilian-military junta was not immediately known.

Authoritative sources said the proposal calls for elections within six to nine months; the return of all political leaders of "democratic" parties from exile, under OAS guarantee; termination of hostilities; the return of all army regulars to the regular armed forces and "irregulars" to civilian life; delivery of all weapons in the hands of civilian life; reopening of all business establishments; and formation of provisional government and the summons to general elections.

The proposal left open the question of the makeup of the government.

The rebel forces have insisted upon restoration of the 1963 constitution of former President Juan Bosch. The civilian-military junta opposes this.

Meanwhile, action was reportedly being taken for the release of two U.S. paratroopers captured by the rebel forces. Pfc. Larry Leed of Conestoga, Pa., and Spec. 4 Donald Jones of Pomona, Calif., were captured Thursday after entering the rebel sector of the capital in a jeep and trailer.

Crews Work To Maintain Headgate

BELLEVUE — Crews were hauling boulders Friday to try to keep a large cement diversion headgate in the Big Wood River from washing away. About three miles southwest of Bellevue.

If the headgate is destroyed, many water users in the Glendale area will be without irrigation water. John McGonigal, director of the Upper Wood River Waterusers Association, said.

The diversion headgate turns water into a bypass which carries water around the dry beds in the Glendale area. A large fallen tree which is lodged in the west side of the river is putting more force of the current onto the headgate, McGonigal said.

Dummy

STANHOPE, N.J. (AP) — Police Chief Jerome Diehl has recruited a dummy to help his two-man police force in a highway safety campaign. The dummy, a manikin outfitted with a patrolman's hat and black coat, sits in a mock police car on the side of heavily traveled U.S. 206 near a dangerous hill. The chief says the idea has slowed cars and trucks coming down the hill.

T. F. Barbers Hike Prices On Haircuts

Prices in Twin Falls barber shops will be raised effective Tuesday on haircuts, shaves and face massages.

Robert Geer, Twin Falls, president of the Idaho State Barber Association and spokesman for local barbers, said Friday the price increase is the first for Twin Falls barbers in nine years.

It was decided upon, he said, when barbers in many surrounding towns increased their prices on haircuts to $2.

Twin Falls barbers voted to increase haircut prices 25 cents. This will raise the price in regular shops from $1.50 to $1.75.

Price of shaves will go up from $1 to $1.50, and face massages will go from $1.50 to $2. Price for shampoos, $1.50, and for scalp massages, 50 cents, will remain the same.

Memorial Service Is Held as Elks Continue Conclave Here

A solemn memorial service for deceased Elks was held at 11 a.m. Friday at the 43rd annual convention of Idaho Elks by officers of Boise Lodge No. 310. Music was provided by the Gleemen of Boise. At noon Friday N. Art Swanson, immediate past exalted ruler of Lewiston Lodge No. 896, presented 60 pounds of Elk hides, worth about $250, to the Elks Rehabilitation Center at Boise. The hides were collected by members of the Lewiston Lodge and will be used by the physical therapy division of the center to provide material for patients to use in handwork projects.

Several other lodges in Idaho have presented hides to the center since the program was started in Idaho two years ago. A ladies luncheon was held at 1:30 Friday at the Blue Lakes Country Club, where the Elks golf tournament for women and their husbands is continuing through Saturday.

The trapshoot, which also will continue through Saturday, is under way at the Twin Falls Gun Club.

A "Fiesta Smorgasbord" and costume dance will be held from 6:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. Friday at the lodge hall, with prizes awarded for the best costumes.

The Soft Winds, a night club variety act which has just returned from an engagement at Harrah's Club, Reno, Nev., will present an act at 9:30 p.m. and midnight in the lodge hall.

Saturday will be the final day of the convention, with installation of state officers being held at 11 a.m., following the final business meeting.

Eddie Alexander, past chairman of the grand lodge trustees, will be the featured speaker at a banquet held in the St. Edward's parish hall at 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

All delegates, their wives and all local Elks are cordially invited.

An "Adios" program, starting at 9 p.m. Saturday at the lodge hall, will feature the Soft Winds and will be the final event of the convention.

Big U.S. Bombers Make Their Debut In Viet Nam Raid

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Scores of U. S. planes—including 27 B52 heavy bombers making their debut in combat—rained tons of bombs, napalm and rockets into three square miles of Viet Cong jungle today. Ground troops that searched the area found no enemy casualties from the big air attack, military spokesmen said. Two of the giant eight-engine bombers were lost in a collision over the South Sea. An amphibious rescue plane made a perilous landing in 12-foot seas to rescue four survivors and picked up the body of a fifth flier, an Air Force spokesman in Manila reported.

Seven other airmen were missing, and the rescue plane was tossed on the stormy sea, unable to take off because of a damaged propeller. The survivors were transferred to a passing freighter, but the plane's crewmen stayed aboard to await a Navy ship.

Vietnamese ground units clashed briefly with an estimated 20 Viet Cong in the bombed area, killing one guerrilla and wounding 10 others. The troops also reportedly destroyed about 6,000 pounds of rice, but no other major results were reported.

The object of the mission was to catch a large concentration of Viet Cong believed to be in the jungle. Some reports said it was believed accompanied by See VIET-NAM, Page 2, Col. 6

Titan Rocket Orbits 21,000-Pound Load

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A triple-barreled Titan 3C—the mightiest rocket ever fired—scored a resounding success on its maiden test flight today and gave the United States a great boost toward developing a military space capability. The huge rocket drilled into orbit 115 miles high a 21,000 pound dummy satellite that could be the forerunner of manned and unmanned military machines which would patrol and perhaps control outer space. The satellite was the biggest true payload ever put into space.

The Titan 3C—actually three rockets lined up single file—thundered away from its launching pad at 9 a.m. EST on 2.65 million pounds of thrust generated by two solid fuel boosters.

A combination of weather and technical troubles blocked an effort to put it up Thursday. Hooked between the two 85-foot-tall solid-fuel boosters was a three-stage liquid-fuel Titan A rocket. This 127-foot-tall segment was designed to ignite 24 miles up and provide 474,000 pounds of high-altitude thrust to push the satellite into orbit.

The launch was the loudest and one of the most spectacular ever witnessed here.

Two minutes later the flight control center reported the solid boosters had cut off as planned and jettisoned, and the first stage of the central cylinder had ignited.

The Titan 3C was heavily instrumented to provide data on the first firing of the combination. Of special interest were how precisely in unison the two solid rockets burned, the vibration they created, their separation and the ignition of the center rocket.

Because of the test nature of the flight, the satellite carried today an inert piece of lead.

Authorities said that until communications were restored, there was no way of telling how many casualties there might be.

New Mexico Hit by Hard Rains, Flood

By The Associated Press

Eastern New Mexico today was a land of lakes, ponds and swollen, tumbling streams after three to eight inches of rain poured onto the eastern slopes of the southern Rocky Mountains Thursday night.

The rains, heaviest in the northwest corner east of Santa Fe and north of Roswell, came one day after the deluges that washed the Denver metropolitan area 300 miles to the north.

At least two persons were killed in a traffic accident in the blinding rainstorm east of Raton.

Authorities said that until communications were restored, there was no way of telling how many casualties there might be.

Health Unit Joins Retirement Program

JEROME—Representatives of seven counties in the South Central Idaho Health District meeting here Thursday night decided to participate in the state employment retirement for state employees. The plan, which became compulsory under a law passed by the 1963 Idaho Legislature, was explained at the meeting by Henry G. Curtis, Boise, of the Idaho State Employees Association. The district representatives at the meeting approved participation in the retirement plan with the understanding that costs normally paid by the counties would come from the district's budget for the next six months, after which each county will take action on the plan at their respective year-end budget meetings.

It was brought out at the meeting that the retirement plan was not enforced until this year because the state did not have enough funds to enforce it. The South Central Health District is the last in the state to approve participation in the program.

Curtis said the retirement plan law requires that all public health nurses and sanitation department employees take part in the retirement plan.

Explaining costs of the program, he said it will cost employees 3 per cent of their wages up to $400 per month and 6 per cent of any portion in excess of $400. The state and counties also share in costs of the program.

County commissioners attending the meeting Thursday night pointed out they had not budgeted funds for the retirement program this year, but Dr. Luther Thompson, district director, said there is enough money in the district's budget to pay the counties' share for the next six months.

The meeting was conducted by Maurice Klaas, a member of the Twin Falls County Commission and chairman of the district health unit.

Counties represented at the meeting were Minidoka, Lincoln, Cassia, Gooding, Blaine, Jerome and Twin Falls.

Hailey Plans Gem Show On July 3-4

HAILEY — Second Annual River Valley Gems and Minerals Show will be held July 3-4 in St. Charles Parish Hall. William Jacklin, Hailey, chairman of the show for the Gems and Minerals Society, said today that a gem-stone pin will be given each person attending and prizes will be awarded each day.

Four gem dealers have procured space for the show and Roy McGraw, Salem, Ore., manufacturer and distributor of rock saws and equipment, will again demonstrate rock cutting and shaping techniques.

More than 1,200 persons attended last year's show.

World's Fair Closes Part Of Pavilion

NEW YORK (UPI) — The People-to-People Pavilion at the New York World's Fair has closed two-thirds of its exhibition, a new feature this season, because of lack of business.

The four-acre International Fiesta Pavilion is the largest in the industrial area. Its main feature is 17 sales stalls selling folk art products from around the world.

An official said that on some days the stalls sold less than $100 in merchandise and even on the fair's best day when attendance hit 256,568, sales were less than $2,000.

The exhibit was conceived by greeting card manufacturer, Joyce Hall, Kansas City, a moving force behind former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's People-to-People Program. It is near the fair's main gate.

The pavilion's staff of 500 will be cut in half and 11 of the 17 sales stalls have been closed. The whole rear area of the show will be cleared and closed.

Fair attendance so far this season totals 5.5 million compared to about eight million by this time last year.

Driving tests will include a straight line course, both backward and forward, a curve offset test and parallel parking, besides driving through city traffic.

Both boys and girls will compete Saturday and will be driving cars furnished by Theisen Motors. The event is under direction of the Twin Falls Jaycees, with Frank Bramon as chairman, and Jim Steele as course setter.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

BY ANDREW TULLY
WASHINGTON—There is one very good reason why the critics of Operation Head Start should go soak their heads. It is that the project is needed to protect the health of more than a million American children and, perhaps, save the lives of some.

Head Start, the preschool summer guidance program which goes underway July 6, will cost the Federal government some $112 million this year, when more than 500,000 children will benefit. The cost is expected to be about the same next year, when another half-million children will be added to the program.

A BARGAIN—The howls of the professional misers to the contrary, this expense is peanuts, even when it is not compared to the nearly $120 million lavished on that architectural outrage known as the Rayburn Office Building. There are perhaps a million children across the nation who would flunk first grade if they entered school today. They would be failures from the day they entered their first school because they are the deprived children from poverty-stricken families who have never had a chance to prepare themselves for the first step in an education.

For example, on July 6 more than 25,000 5-year-olds in New York City will get their first chance to draw with crayons, play in a sandbox and eat a balanced lunch. On July 6, some Mexican children in the Southwest will sit in a real chair for the first time. On July 6, all these children for the first time will get a helping hand as they timidly tackle the process of growing up.

GRAVE DEFECTS EXPECTED—But Head Start would be worthwhile even if it concentrated entirely on the health of these children. Sargent Shriver, head of the Poverty Program of which Head Start is a part, has estimated that 90 per cent of the children enrolled have never had a medical or dental examination. Sadly, Shriver expects that in every group of 100 children medical examinations will reveal some active tuberculosis, four partially blind children, 15 with some sort of eye trouble, 10 partially deaf and probably 50 who have never been vaccinated against any disease.

The educational need for such a program is not something dreamed up by its sponsors. Cold statistics show that children in that group eligible for help from Head Start are six months behind the children of middle-class families in the first grade. By the fourth or fifth grade, they are two years behind their fellows—and headed for the meager life of the dropout.

PERSONAL HELP—Happily, the program is drawn so that these children will receive as much individual attention as possible. During the three to six hours a day they spend at the guidance centers, each group of 20 children will have a helping hand from four adults—a teacher, an assistant teacher, a helper supplied by the Neighborhood Youth Corps and an adult volunteer. For the first time, many of these children will get the feeling that they matter.

Moreover, the program will do something about the root of the program—the home. Volunteer counselors will work with the parents to educate them in the ways and means of helping their children, largely by improving the home atmosphere. The aim is not reform, but something much more simple—to get the parents interested in their children.

As Mrs. Lyndon Johnson has said, some of these kids have "never seen a book, or held a flower." They have inherited the curse of poverty, and since poverty will always be with us, only programs like Operation Head Start can offer them hope.

PROPERTY TAXES: NOT ALL IS BLEAK
Los Angeles property tax payers received some crumbs of encouragement this week from City Hall and Sacramento. They needed them after making the final, numbing payment on the biggest property tax levy in county history. The City Council, it now appears, will probably be able to hold the line against a tax increase even if a $12 million claims lawsuit goes against the city. If the city wins the suit, substantial tax reductions could be voted.

Hopes are not nearly so high among county supervisors, school board members and officials of other local taxing jurisdictions. And their levies are by far the biggest bite of the property tax bill.

Governor Brown, meanwhile, has just submitted his program for relief of $110 million of the $3 billion collected in property taxes annually in California.

Whatever is done in Sacramento, however, does not relieve local elected officials from responsibility for helping to ease the increasingly heavy property tax load. Although the state can provide more income, final budget decisions are made locally.

Tight budgetary controls and the willingness to seek new sources of revenue have placed the city of Los Angeles in its favorable fiscal position.

The $12 million question mark is the result of claims by disabled policemen and firemen who contend they should be paid workmen's compensation as well as disability pensions. A decision is expected by the State Supreme Court within 60 to 90 days.

If the full $12 million judgment is returned against the city, proposed capital improvements can be delayed to keep the tax rate at its present level. A favorable decision or a lesser judgment could lead to significant reductions.

The city's success in making ends meet without tax increases should stimulate other local tax agencies to try harder. It isn't easy, but it can be done. It must be done.—Los Angeles Times.

Pot Shots: The way I remember some of the good old days that weren't so old, I must prefer them.

Take cars, for instance. They didn't cost nearly so much and no one was thinking of trading them in practically as soon as they'd bought one. And it seems to me that those old cars back in the 20s and 30s ran a lot slower, but they sure lasted a lot longer.

GENTLEMAN IN THE FOURTH ROW

Q—Is it safe to take medicine for a thyroid deficiency if you have glaucoma? Why is it when you take a diuretic the pressure in the eyeball goes down, when you stop it goes up again?

A—The thyroid preparations given for a thyroid deficiency can be taken without fear. In glaucoma there is an obstruction to the outflow of the fluid within the eyeball. This is aggravated when the total blood volume is increased by drinking excessive amounts of water and partially relieved when water is eliminated from the body by taking water pills (diuretics) or by excessive sweating.

Q—My doctor has been giving me Donnatal tablets for my colitis. Are there any ingredients in them that would increase the pressure in the eyeballs? I am terribly afraid of glaucoma and would like to avoid all drugs that might cause it.

A—What your doctor is giving you is Donnatal, a combination that contains a small amount of atropine among other ingredients. Atropine and belladonna (from which it is derived) will not increase the pressure in a normal eyeball, so if you do not have glaucoma there is no need to worry. The drug should not, however, be taken by anyone who already has glaucoma. The best way to avoid glaucoma is not to avoid taking Donnatal but to have a periodic check of the tension in your eyeballs. In this way a tendency to glaucoma does not develop prompt treatment will save your sight.

Q—I have been having night sweats for three weeks. My doctor says it is part of the change of life. I am 67 years old. Could there be some other cause? What should I do about it?

A—The hot flashes often accompany the menopause, associated with the menopause, may occur any time of the day or night. When they persist long after menstruation has ceased some cause other than the change of life must be sought. A low grade abscess at the root of a tooth is a possible cause. Other common causes are tuberculosis, a deficiency of vitamin C or D and a general run-down condition. The treatment would have to be directed at the underlying cause.

Q—I walked around the streets looking for something to buy. I bought a tin trunk for $3. I wanted to get something nice as souvenirs for my wife, Suzanne and my children—Daniel F. Jr., the 4—and my daughter, Lisa Marie—she's 2½. But I couldn't find anything worth sending.

"I walked along the waterfront and saw the old ladies selling bread and straw mats and quarreling over fish the sampans had just brought in, and a bunch of kids followed me hollering 'Hello, Kay.'"

"I was feeling kind of weird. I just wanted to get away from everybody, and maybe listen to a few records. I wasn't exactly homesick. Everybody wants to go home."

"Then I passed a hotel where another Marine and I had lunch together the last time I had liberty. That made me feel blue, because it wasn't long after that he was killed, one of only two guys our company has lost. He was a nice guy. I remember we talked about home."

"You know, this is the first war I've been in, and it is kind of hard to classify. One of the enemy's village recruits can take a few potshots at you, then hide his gun, and you can't tell him from a rice farmer. We have to be awful careful about firing."

The sergeant looked at his watch. He still had an hour and a half left.

I asked the sergeant if he minded returning to the hills after so short a leave.

"Well, I'm not crazy about batting around those hot hills and being shot at," he replied slowly, "but that is the job we were sent over here to do."

"I think about life quite a lot when I'm sleeping out there on the ground under the stars. And it seems to me the trick in life is to do well whatever you set out to do. If you do, you're fat."

TAYLOR'S VIEWS ON WORLD NEWS

By HENRY J. TAYLOR

Private Bonn reports credit President Johnson with having well and skillfully fortified Chancellor Ludwig Erhard in Washington against President Charles de Gaulle's foray in West Germany.

A personal clash supercharges the Franco-German impasse, hardly known to our public but very well known indeed to Mr. Johnson and Herr Erhard. Accumulated years of dislike — some would call it hatred — for Erhard pump through the Frenchman's veins.

Erhard, as minister of economics, was the father of the West German recovery. De Gaulle's resentment against him began when Erhard repeatedly pressed Chancellor Konrad Adenauer to resist the French leader's intransigence in Common Market affairs.

Erhard got no place with Adenauer in this. The great German statesman was deeply concerned with economic results, of course, but economic measures bored him, as they clearly bored Winston Churchill. This was distinctly not Adenauer's field. It was commonly stated in Bonn — and even by Erhard — that when Erhard tried to talk economics with the Chancellor he simply "lost interest."

Adenauer constantly rebuffed Erhard on the grounds that Franco-German rapprochement was his immense objective — "my monument in history" — continuing embarrassment of its long involvement there: the instability of the South Vietnamese government.

The United States has made a great point of insisting it is helping the South Vietnamese at the request of its government. But the question is being asked: What government?

South Viet Nam has had eight different governments in 20 months. The last one gave up several days ago when the president and premier resigned after four months in office.

Now the problem is to get another one which may last a while, and this time it will probably be all military, which means the South Vietnamese have had no voice in choosing it. So it will not be an elected government.

Out of this repeated demonstration of lack of governmental stability comes the unpleasant question: If the Americans do crush the Communist guerrillas, will the South Vietnamese government be any more stable than all those that preceded it, or will it collapse in chaos and civil war, undoing all the American effort?

But this is not the only uncertainty about the events there. It is generally assumed American involvement will be greater. No other conclusion is reasonable in view of the continuing American military buildup.

In the end the United States may be doing most, if not all, of the fighting for a people who seem ill-equipped to govern themselves, and if that happens the next question is inevitable: Will the North Vietnamese then send in their army, and the Red Chinese their "volunteers," as they did in Korea, to help the guerrillas? If they do, the United States will be in a full-scale land war in Asia again.

De Gaulle always fails to be precise on these points. Thus by constantly omitting the famous realities that exist in today's Europe he says words, words, words — but words only, so far as offering any solution is concerned.

All this compounds the European problem for the President but the result gives American-German relations a priority which represents an unsung achievement by Mr. Johnson buried behind the Viet Nam and Dominican policy debates that capture our headlines.

EXPERT'S DEFENSIVE PLAY SNAGS FOE

Today's article concerns itself with the identical hand of yesterday.

The bidding is just the same. South's hand is a standard no-trump opening and North's a standard three no-trump raise.

Some players would select some other lead than a club against three no-trump but we are going to have the same opening lead won the same way by East's ace, the same jack of clubs return, the same over-taking by West's queen, the same club continuation won by South's king, the same spade lead to dummy and the same low heart play at trick five.

Instead of responding one heart to your opening club bid your partner jumps to two hearts. What do you do now?

Poor Examples

Thinking citizens have realized for a long time that adults generally set an exceedingly poor example for youngsters. That's one of the things pointed out by Idaho Falls Police Chief Robert Pollock when he spoke to East Idaho Falls Kiwanis members the other day. "Too many times, parents compromise traffic speeds, stop lights and other regulations and set a poor example for their children," he said.

Chief Pollock is right, of course, but parental example is only one phase of all the exposure that adds up to something less than a favorable picture of good citizenship, morality, law and order so far as children are concerned. Such public spectacles as the Richard Burton-Elizabeth Taylor international affair and the Bobby Baker scandal aren't the sort of examples that will convince youngsters they should lead a moral and honest life. There's entirely too much emphasis on the lurid and sensational.

On a more modest scale and much closer to home, children constantly see examples of adults who live beyond their means, cheat on their income tax returns, ridicule their neighbors and generally have no respect for the rights of others. Strangely, the ones who are guilty of this sort of conduct never seem to be ostracized or even criticized unduly. They never seem to be held accountable for their actions and it's a poor example to flaunt before impressionable, growing youngsters.

"Our children need to learn to accept the responsibility for their conduct," Chief Pollock told Idaho Falls Kiwanians. But it's difficult for them to learn that vital lesson of citizenship when some of their elders seem to spend their lives never accepting responsibility for anything.

Chief Pollock also declared Idaho Falls police are well aware the first contact between a law enforcement officer and a child can be vital. "... it can be the last, if the case is properly handled," he pointed out. But even in this respect, the effectiveness of a policeman is compromised by some of the examples that continue to crop up everywhere.

Even in Idaho Falls, effectiveness of present police will be compromised for years by the memory of Idaho Falls policemen who participated in burglaries and thefts over a period of several weeks before they were caught. It's a tossup whether youngsters will remember the thieves were caught or if they'll associate honest police with thievery in their minds from now on. There seems to be no end of the poor examples adults continue to set for children. It's no wonder that so many children seem to grow into maturity these days without ever realizing there's a vast difference between right and wrong.

BONANZA

Boise Junior College, involved in the process of changing its name to Boise College and expanding into a four-year operation, has found a bonanza in federal funds to help finance the expansion. College trustees have accepted federal grants totaling $512,760 to help pay for two building projects. The remainder of the funds would come from a million-dollar bond issue.

It's a break for taxpayers in the district which supports the college. By taking advantage of federal funds, which had been appropriated already and were bound to be spent, Boise College district taxpayers will be spared the necessity of bonding for another half million dollars.

The political and economic history of the Boise district indicates taxpayers wouldn't have asked for federal aid. There's every indication, Boise citizens aren't in favor of the vast federal giveaway. But once funds have been appropriated, they're going to be spent and a district would be foolish for not trying to get as much appropriated money as possible.

Taxes of Boise citizens wouldn't be one cent lower if they had refused to take federal money that was available. The only result of such a refusal would be for the funds to be spent someplace else in the nation.

Perhaps this is the big boobytrap of federal assistance. Everyone is well aware that funds will be spent but they're appropriated, so the federal bureaucrats just make sure of appropriations, knowing full well there will be a scramble afterward. They're never disappointed.

The solution to the big federal giveaway would be provisions for taxpayers in a state to reject federal money, knowing it would be returned to the U.S. Treasury with a corresponding reduction in income taxes for those who turned down the aid. In other words, taxpayers could have just as much federal aid as they are willing to pay for. Certainly it's a dream, but does anyone have any better idea of ways to end the federal giveaway?

A 23-year-old Twin Falls man was arrested Thursday at his home and taken to Twin Falls police station where he was charged with driving in connection with a hit and run accident. Gary L. Robinson, 23, 403 Adams St., was arrested by city police after a parked car owned by Walter Gilchrist, Mountain View Cemetery, was struck by another car at 1:05 a.m. Thursday in the 100 block of Main Avenue South.

REMEMBER WHEN?

By BOB REESE

"HITLER CAPTURED!" Who could ever forget a headline like that? You'll say it never happened... but it did, and the world is a little better for it.

It was a year of internal struggles in Germany. The mark was worth little as inflation swept the country. The flame of rebellion began to burn brightly. It began in Bavaria with an uprising led by General Ludendorff and a little-known corporal named Adolph Hitler. In Munich the Beer Putschists marched, and the revolt threatened to spread.

Many died in the fighting, and Hitler himself was wounded. He fled to safety, and the hunt for this rebel leader went on all the year. Then on November 12th, the search ended. Hitler was captured and imprisoned. For a brief time, his rise to power was stopped.

Remember the year? Well, in those days when a man bought a new car he made sure he bought from a dependable dealer, one who was going to be around to stand back of his sales and to give good service, too.

Buying from a dependable dealer makes good sense today, too. And you can depend on our deal on a new Dodge, Chrysler or Imperial. Stop in and see us. We'll be glad to give you the facts on price, terms and trade-in without any verbal trimmings! Bob Reese, Motor Co., 500 Block 2nd Ave. So., Twin Falls. Phone 733-3776.

Idaho FHA Aide Talks At Buhl Meet

BUHL — The Idaho director of the Farmers Home Administration said Thursday what he labeled the "galling farm-corporations" are being hobbled by determined independent and family farm operators.

"Idaho grew and prospered," said Max Hanson at an area FHA meeting in Buhl, "because families settled and developed the community centers which have caused prosperity to flow equally to urban and rural centers."

He said his agency cooperates with private and cooperative credit institutions to keep family farmers in business because "we need them."

"There is a need for the family farmer and he can make a living—a good one too. Large corporate type farms fail a long ways when they go flat. Usually, they use outside money and take their earnings outside the state as well. Small farmers spend locally."

Hanson said the FHA has loaned $16 million to farmers during the past 10 months, bringing its total investment in Idaho farms during the past 30 years to $184 million.

James Whiteley Honored at Rites

BUHL — Funeral services for James C. Whiteley were conducted Friday afternoon at the First Christian Church by Rev. Paul LaRue.

Mrs. William Watt was soloist and Mrs. Blanche Smith was organist.

Pallbearers included Robert McKinstry, William Davis, Jack Thomas, Elton Kendrick, Russel Molen and Wilbur Brown.

Ushers were William Watt and John Wilson. Last rites were held in the Buhl Cemetery.

Babbling Brook

BLACKPOOL, England (UPI) — Singer Donald Veers was just ending his act with his theme song, "By a Babbling Brook," when a stream of water flowed across the stage of the Queen's Theater here.

The cascade came a few minutes too early. It was meant for the next act—a waterfall act with showgirls.

"One of our pumps went wrong," a spokesman explained to the dampened singer.

Race Suit for Pupils Lodged

MILWAUKEE, Wis., (UPI) — The Milwaukee School Board and Supt. Harold Vincent were charged in a Federal Court complaint yesterday, with operating racially segregated schools.

The suit was filed on behalf of 41 Negro and white pupils.

They sought an injunction to prevent the board from allegedly continuing to maintain a segregated public school system. The board was asked submit to the court a plan for desegregating the schools.

It was called the "first integrated suit for integration filed in the United States" by Negro Assemblyman Lloyd Barbee, an attorney for the plaintiffs. He said similar suits had been filed by Negroes only.

Carey Plans Farm Bureau Talent Find

CAREY — The Talent Find will be held in the Halley gymnasium the last week in June, it was decided when the Blaine County Farm Bureau Board met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Molyneux Wednesday.

Judges were unable to be here earlier. There is much interest in the county and the committee hopes the competition will be well attended. Any sort of talent is permissible—singing, poetry, speeches, dancing, or instrumental numbers.

Last year one of the state winners was an outstanding baton twirler. Contestants do not have to be members of Farm Bureau families to compete.

Prizes will be awarded in the age groups 12 to 16, 17 to 30, and if there is competition in the Discussion Meet, the winner will receive a prize. Any one wanting to enter any of the contests can get information from Mrs. Wordell Rainey, Bellevue; Mrs. Jay Strode or Mrs. Larry Peterson, Carey.

A 30-06 automatic Remington 740 rifle is part of a fund raising project to help finance the county-wide talent competition. The rifle has been on display at Craters Coffee Shop in Carey and will be displayed next at Halley and later at Bellevue.

The parade float was planned for the Days of the Old West celebrations at Halley. Named to the committee were Billy Molyneux, Gannett, John Fox Halley, Larry Peterson and Jay Strode, Carey. Representatives from the women's committee will assist the men.

The county board has made tentative plans for a county-wide Farm Bureau picnic at the Molyneux home in July instead of the regular July meeting.

Lawyers for Thrill Killers To Appeal Case

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP)—A last-minute plea to save thrill killers George Ronald York, 22, and James Douglas Latham, 23, from the hangman was to be made today to Gov. William H. Avery.

They are scheduled to hang early Tuesday. The U. S. Supreme Court has refused to review their case for the fifth time.

Their attorney, Roy Cook, said Thursday he would appeal to the Governor that they be kept in solitary confinement the rest of their lives rather than hang.

York and Latham were condemned to death for the murder of Otto Ziegler, a Wakely, Kan., railroad worker.

Ziegler was the sixth of seven slayings the pair committed on a two-week tour of crime through five states in May and June of 1961. Both were AWOL from the Ft. Hood, Tex., stockade at the time.

They were captured near Grantsville, Utah.

Plane Wreck Is Probed For Cause

CASPER, Wyo. (UPI)—State and federal investigators began probing through the wreckage of a single engine plane Thursday, attempting to discover what caused the crash which took the lives of two California men.

Robert Joseph Stewart, 41, and F. Jack Allman, 37, both of Sunnyvale, Calif., died at the scene of the crash Wednesday about 10 miles east of Alcova Reservoir and about 35 miles southwest of Casper.

Authorities at first believed Stewart had been piloting the craft, but later said it was not certain which of the two was at the controls.

Natrona County Undersheriff Bill Romar speculated the plane had been caught in a downdraft and attempted to land on a road when it smashed to the earth.

Hacksaws were used to remove the bodies from the wreckage.

Coast Guard to Aid USSR Ship

HONOLULU (UPI)—A U.S. Coast Guard C-130 rescue plane was dispatched to the South Pacific early today with medical assistance for an ailing crewman aboard the Russian research ship, "Vityaz."

The Soviet vessel requested assistance yesterday from its position near Fanning Island.

Agent Sues

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Bernard L. Jaffe, Internal Revenue agent, is suing the Internal Revenue Service for an income tax refund.

It all started, the IRS tax examiner said, when he asked a refund of $837 for the years of 1960-63 when he studied law in night classes at the University of Miami.

Jaffe did it "to improve his skill as a revenue agent," claimed the suit, filed in federal court here.

The IRS refused to refund the money, which Jaffe claims is due him on $3,600 he deducted for the cost of his studies.

Jewish Cemetery Is Smeared With Swastikas and Slogans

BAMBERG, West Germany (AP) — The little Jew stood sadly in Bamberg's Jewish cemetery and tears came to his eyes.

Before him were gravestones smeared with swastikas and anti-Semitic slogans.

"During Hitler's time there were worse things done," he said sadly. "But now, 20 years after this — it is a real shock."

Venom was smeared in red, brown, gray and white over the Hebrew and German inscriptions on the tombstones. On one, a picture of Hitler had been attached. Under it was written "here rests a Jew pig."

Across four stones was "SS is alive—6,000,000 are too few." The Nazis murdered 6 million Jews.

The little Jew watched as two young men from Bamberg's YMCA placed a wreath on one of the defiled graves. A ribbon on the wreath said: "Bamberg's youth mourns. Forgive us, brothers." A representative of the city's workers-laid a similar wreath.

Bamberg, a conservative Bavarian city, saw its synagogue burned down by SS (Elite Guard) men and rowdies Nov. 8-9, 1938. Willy Lessing, a popular Jewish citizen of the city, was beaten to death when he tried to save the synagogue's Holy Scriptures.

After the war, city authorities named a street for Willy Lessing. It pursued its rebuilding from war destruction and pur-

Sales to Consumers Are Taxable

EDITORS NOTE: Collection of Idaho's new sales and use tax begins July 1. This is one in a series of stories by The Associated Press on regulations, drafted by the state tax collector's office, governing payment and collection of the tax.

BOISE (AP) — Only sales to ultimate consumers are taxable under Idaho's new sales tax law.

Sale to a person who intends to re-sell or rent property in the regular course of his business is not a retail sale under provisions of the law. In the event property purchased for resale is not sold but is used by the retailer, then a use tax must be paid.

Here are examples:

- Restaurant operator purchases food he intends to serve customers in the regular course of business. Restaurateur will give a resale certificate to grocer and will not pay a sales tax. Restaurateur will collect tax on the meals served.
- Lessor purchases an automobile he intends to rent in the regular course of business. Lessor will give car dealer a resale certificate and will not pay a sales tax.

Retailer is in the business of selling office equipment. He has been using a typewriter he purchased on a resale certificate for demonstration purposes. Retailer hires another clerk and assigns this typewriter to her for use in her office work. At that time the retailer must pay a use tax on the typewriter.

Every retailer of parts, such as a garage, car dealer or service station, must have a seller's permit. Sales for resale by a wholesaler to such a licensed retailer are exempt. However, the wholesaler must collect a sales tax from a retailer if the latter buys parts, tools, equipment and supplies for his own consumption or use.

Four Handed Prison Terms For Plot

NEW YORK (AP) — Three American Negro men, described by the prosecutor as "subversive, fanatics" and a French Canadian blonde have been handed maximum prison sentences ranging to 10 years for a plot to blow up national monuments.

Federal Judge William B. Herlands, however, conditioned Thursday's sentences. He said this would allow three months for probationary study of the defendants.

If probation studies are completed within that time, all four will appear before Herlands again and their sentences affirmed, reduced or suspended. This could result in their freedom by September.

The three men, all New York City residents, were convicted by a jury Monday on charges of conspiring to blow up the Statue of Liberty, the Liberty Bell and the Washington Monument and smuggling dynamite from Montreal to New York.

Sentenced to two consecutive five-year terms were Robert S. Collier, 28; Khaleel S. Sayeed, 22; and Walter A. Bowe, 33.

Michelle Duclos, 26, was given a five-year conditional sentence for her part in the scheme to dramatize the Negroes' struggle for equality.

C. E. SIMONSEN, Albion banker, was elected president of the Idaho Banking Association at the annual meeting at Sun Valley which ended Tuesday. Other officers are Robert L. Montgomery, Pocatello, vice president; E. M. Melkie, treasurer, Idaho Falls, and S. M. Guthrie, secretary, Boise. Simonsen served as mayor of Albion for 26 years and has been manager and executive vice president of the D. L. Evans bank since 1951. He served as president of the South Central group of the Idaho Banking Association in 1949.

Senate Approves New Debt Limit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has given final congressional approval to a bill that raises to $328 billion the legal limit on the national debt in the year that starts July 1.

The current ceiling is $324 billion but it would drop to the permanent limit of $285 billion July 1 in the absence of action.

Senate passage Wednesday came first by a voice vote. Later the Republicans demanded a roll call and the measure was approved 61 to 26.

"Coffee Cup" Criticism of Schools Hit

SHOSHONE—Too much "coffee cup criticism" among parents, especially women, is blamed by a school superintendent for lack of community support given schools.

"Visit your schools and teachers and go see the principal or superintendent before passing on gossip about the treatment of a child or the school system," Supt. Vernon Exner told Shoshone Rotary Club members at their Wednesday noon meeting.

Exner, who has resigned the local superintendent's post to take a similar position at Hailley, asked parents to check all the facts when a child comes home with a story about school.

"Automobiles are the school's and the child's greatest problem," he declared. In answering what the public expects of the school, Exner warned that too many parents are expecting the school and church to take over their duties in rearing children.

"The parent can't wait until the child becomes of school age and they hate vacations from school," the official declared.

"If some high school student is smoking or gets some beer, many parents wonder why the school can't correct this situation," he added.

Exner described planned improvements to the local school system, about plant facilities. New lockers have been installed with another 104 to arrive in July.

A Twin Falls architect has completed remodeling plans for the science room. They must be approved by the State Department of Education before bids are called with tentative plans to open bids July 2. Laboratory space will be provided for 24 students.

Art classes will be added to the curriculum this year and the old band room will be remodeled for an art room. Leone Nogenast will be the instructor.

Work is planned on the gymnasium roof which leaks during rainy seasons.

Plans are under way to have new sidewalks put in at Lincoln school. The auditorium is to be painted, the window frames are to be recaulked and painted and all doors and entryways are to be repaired and refinished and all the trim is to be painted. Some new desks will be put in both buildings.

The math program throughout the school system is being changed, Exner stated, and modern math will be offered, beginning in the first grade. There will be no radical change and the math most adults are familiar with will be used.

Science will be offered in high school, junior high and elementary school and plans are under way to have separate high and grade school teachers for music. There is a budget of $2,500 for new band instruments and $1,000 for music books and other needs. Remedial reading will be offered for grades beginning 4-6 this year.

Music teachers and a first grade teacher are still needed in the teaching staff.

Lynda Bird Inducted in Apache Tribe

BIBECUE, Ariz. (AP) — "I just hope all my burdens are small enough to fit into this," said Lynda Bird Johnson.

The 21-year-old daughter of the President was referring to an Apache "burden basket," one of several gifts she received Thursday upon being inducted as an honorary member of the White Mountain Apache tribe.

Standing on a hastily constructed stage, tribal chairman Lester Oliver read an adoption resolution in an ancient, but brief, rite. A somber Apache chant was heard in the background.

But that was the only solemn moment of the occasion. From then on, it was feasting on barbecued beef, singing and dancing.

His surgeon, Dr. James R. Lloyd, termed it "a comparatively rare case."

Lloyd said, "It is well known, nevertheless, that duplication of various parts of the intestinal tract can occur."

CAB Refuses To Let Airline End Services

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Civil Aeronautics Board refused Thursday to let West Coast Airlines temporarily suspend service at four Pacific Northwest cities.

West Coast had asked for permission to stop serving Baker, Ontario-Payette and Roseburg, Ore., and Coeur d'Alene, Idaho.

The CAB said instead of granting West Coast's application, it will hold hearings on whether public convenience and necessity require suspension or deletion of service at Coeur d'Alene and Roseburg. The board added that it expects the airline to provide an "improved pattern of service" between Baker and Ontario-Payette and Portland.

The CAB said West Coast

The complaint was filed last February and charged that Hansen, Richard Ringwood and Phil Hansen and associates used a credit card to buy goods, wares and merchandise in the amount of the judgment.

A court said the judgment, which also includes interest and court costs, was awarded because "the defendants have not answered interrogatories" dealing with the matter.

must continue to serve Baker and Ontario pending results of the improved service. After a test period, it said, the board will "re-examine the situation" if the airline requests it.

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

Stocks

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed lower today, breaking a string of three straight daily advances. Trading was slow.

The market was higher at the start but reached its crest in an hour. As it was backing away there came news that Red China said it would send volunteers to Viet Nam if the Viet Cong asks.

This increased the already evident preweekend caution. Industrials were down to a fairly substantial loss.

Down a point or so were General Motors, Chrysler, Eastern Air Lines, American Smelting, Boeing, Goodrich, American Photocopy,erox and IBM.

Here was the picture toward the close: Losses of key stocks went from fractions to more than a point. A minority of gainers moved in about the same range.

The market reached its peak at the end of the first hour as it swung its series of daily rallies into the fourth straight day. Buying evaporated, however.

The list backed away from its best and settled lower, without noticeable selling gains. IBM slipped 2 points and Xerox about a point each.

Big Three motors declined. General Motors and Chrysler falling nearly a point each, Ford a fraction.

Coastal States Gas Producing, off a fraction, looked like the volume leader, thanks mainly to a single block of 175,700 shares.

Northwest Airlines dropped 2 while Chicago & North Western, Comsat and Pennzoil fell more than a point each.

Ahead a point or more were West Point - Pepperell, Standard Brands, Southern Co., Johnson & Johnson and Black & Decker.

Reversing an early gain, IBM slipped 2 points and Xerox about a point each.

Big Three motors declined. General Motors and Chrysler falling nearly a point each, Ford a fraction.

Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON AP Business News Analyst NEW YORK (AP) — Judged by the popular indexes, stock prices have taken a big shelling in the last month. But other figures tell a less disturbing story. You have to know how each index is fashioned and how to interpret it.

The Dow-Jones index of 30 industrial stocks dropped from a record 898.62 May 14 to 868.71 June 14. This plunge of 29.91 points caused many people to call this a major break. But the decline was around 8 per cent, a mere drop in the bucket compared to the high of 734.91 in the 1962 low of 535.76, or the 89 per cent plunge from the 1929 high of 381.17 to the 1932 low of 41.22.

And the prices of the 30 industrial stocks used in the index bear small resemblance to the big figures in the index. Prices on June 14 ranged from a high of $238 1/4 for Du Pont to a low of 30 1/4 for International Paper.

Another popular Index is Standard & Poor's 500 stocks. On June 17 this index stood at 84.01, with the 425 industrial components at 89.09. This is closer to the actual market. But this index is weighted so that it also doesn't give the actual average price.

Why and how are the index averages weighted? The S & P index was started in 1957, and thus is closer to modern stock prices than the Dow, which originated in 1897 with present stocks but took its present form in October 1928.

The S & P is weighted to give effect to the number of shares outstanding in each issue, and to any stock splits, and to the average during the base years of 1941-43.

Have seen many substitutes since 1928, some being dropped and others added to make the index more representative of the stock market as its character changes with the years.

PEAS AND LENTILS SPOKANE (AP)—This weekly price report on peas and lentils covers the period June 10-16.

FRIDAY, June 18—Born today, you are one of those rare individuals who knows with certainty and accuracy his own strengths and weaknesses. This is a great protection for you, for you can never be talked into entering upon endeavors which are too much for your capacities and capabilities. At the same time, you are saved from the kind of fear that prevents many people from doing things of which they are perfectly capable, for you know precisely what your capabilities are.

SATURDAY, June 19 — Born today, you have a natural sense of dignity and propriety which, even though your talents may be small—which is unlikely—will do much to carry you to the top in your chosen profession. As if by instinct, you know how to converse with people of importance, and how to comport yourself even under the most demanding of social circumstances. This should be of especial value to you should you enter the world of business, for that is a world where the impression you make is sometimes more important than the work you do.

The dignity that you carry with you into the outside world is the same dignity you possess at home in the midst of your own family. Although this may make for a well-regulated home and family, it may also make for one in which there is not much open expression of affection. You might be wise, therefore, to make an effort toward letting your hair down, so to speak — at least occasionally. Your family needs to know you love them.

You possess silent but definite strengths, and are one to whom others may often come for advice. Here you must be especially careful that you do not allow flattery to dim good sense. Avoid giving advice when and where you are not qualified; to do so could be harmful both to you and to others.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday paragraph and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) — Join others in healthy outdoor activity if weather permits. Demonstrate your sportsmanship in success for failure.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) — A Saturday for getting things done around the home. Perhaps redecorating chores.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) — Prepare now for leisure time. The Libra who waits until the last minute may find himself at a loss when the time comes.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) — Increase your popularity rating by devoting some time and effort to community activities.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22) — A day of action. Don't waste this Saturday lying a-bed; there's work to be done!

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20) — Give in to the wishes of others in minor matters. It pays off when major issues arise.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) — The advantage of the opposition will quickly fade if you are clever enough to see and grasp an advantage of your own.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) — Put business worries behind you and seek to make social gains.

ARIES (March 21-April 20) — Make preparations for a coming journey. You may not have much opportunity for doing so when the time for your departure arrives.

TAURUS (April 21-May 21) — The Taurus who forces himself into the limelight today may be unceremoniously forced out of it tomorrow.

Nagle Takes Open Lead As Nicklaus, Palmer Hit

Trouble on First Round

ST. The heavily favored Nicklaus, the giant no one could beat, blew himself to a pair of double bogey 6s and staggered with an unbelievably bad 78.

Kaat Pitches Twins Past Chicago 3-1

CHICAGO (AP)—Jim Kaat's four-hit pitching, backed by solo homers by Don Mincher and Zoilo Versalles, led Minnesota to a 3-1 victory over the Chicago White Sox Thursday.

The triumph gave the Twins the rubber decision in a three-game set and moved them 1 1/2 games ahead of the second-place Ales Hase.

Mincher was used in a line-up shuffle by manager Sam Rice, seeking to beef up Minnesota's attack against Chicago's starter Joel Horlen, who gave up all three runs including Mincher's homer in the fifth and Versalles' blast in the sixth.

With Mincher at first, Harmon Killebrew shifted from first to third. Rich Rollins switched from third to second and Sandy Valdespino took over in left for Bob Allison.

NFL Owners To Decide on Atlanta Move

NEW YORK (AP)—Club owners of the National Football League will meet Monday to consider 1966 expansion to Atlanta in a battle with the rival American Football League for the city's new $18-million stadium.

After the AFL granted an Atlanta franchise to the Cox Broadcasting Co. June 7, the Atlanta Stadium Authority said it would not award a lease on the stadium before July 1.

A poll by The Associated Press showed earlier in the week that seven NFL owners have gone on record favoring the expansion at Atlanta, four were not ready to commit themselves and three others were not available for questions. Twelve yes votes are necessary.

NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle made a hurried trip to Atlanta on the heels of the announcement that the AFL had voted to expand. It is reported that members of the stadium authority prefer an NFL team.

The NFL had announced June 4 that Rozelle recommended expansion by adding two clubs in 1967. However, Rozelle said in Atlanta "We could expand with no trouble in 1966."

If the NFL decides to go into Atlanta next year, the battle will be on with the AFL for a lease on the stadium where the Milwaukee Braves expect to operate their baseball team next season.

Logan TKOs Foe In Boise Bout

BOISE (AP)—Boise heavyweight George Logan scored a third round technical knockout over John Davey of Los Angeles here Thursday night.

Ring Doctor Frank David stopped the fight after examining a cut on Davey's forehead. He said the cut had penetrated to the bone and might cause arterial bleeding.

Both Davey and his manager protested the decision. The official time of the knockout was 18 seconds in the third round.

Four Spring Chinook Are Reported Near Salmon

SALMON—The first of the spring Chinook Salmon run has shown up on the Lemhi with only four fish counted to date at the Lemhi River, reported Terry Holubetz, fisheries biologist. The first salmon of the spring run was noted June 8.

No reports have been received at the department of any salmon catches in the area.

Don Corley, area fisheries biologist for the Idaho Fish and Game Department, said fishing is good in Stanley Basin with Redfish Lake producing Kokanee Salmon and rainbow trout. Alturas Lake also is good for both.

He said fishing also is good in Valley Creek in Stanley Basin. The water in that area is fairly clear.

The main Salmon River from Stanley Basin becomes more turbid the further downstream and is muddy in the Salmon vicinity.

Tigers Hand Seventh Loss To Boston

DETROIT (AP)—Norm Cash's eighth-inning home run capped a come-from-behind 6-5 victory for the Detroit Tigers Thursday and handed the Boston Red Sox their seventh straight setback.

It marked the 19th time in 32 victories that the Tigers have rallied to gain the verdict. The home run was Cash's third of the season and first since April 27.

The Tigers knocked Boston starter Jerry Stephenson out of the box in the seventh inning when he gave up a solo homer to Dick McAuliffe and walked Jerry Lumpe.

Arnold Earley came on and got pinch-hitter Don Demeter to fly out, but Al Kaline hit his 13th homer to tie the score.

The Red Sox had led from the first inning, thanks to a two-run home run by Carl Yastrzemski, who batted in three runs. Boston 201 100 100—5 11 2

Pirates Will Be Invited to Tour Japan

TOKYO (UPI)—The Pittsburgh Pirates will be invited by the Yomiuri newspaper to play post season goodwill games next year in Japan only if they win the National League pennant in 1965. But that seems a remote possibility at this date.

It was the Yomiuri newspaper's turn to invite an American major league team to Japan this fall, a project which was postponed last year so as not to interfere with the 1964 Tokyo Olympic games.

The Yomiuri newspaper this week cancelled the Pirates' visit. The reason, the newspaper said, was Japanese ball fans didn't know the Pirates and they would not be a drawing card in Japan.

U. S. baseball commissioner Ford Frick said in New York he could not disapprove of the newspaper's action because the Yomiuri had sent an invitation for a major league club to visit Japan and it was entirely the paper's decision to cancel the visit.

The first and second place finishers in the AAU meet June 26-27 at San Diego will make up the American team that will face the Russians.

Lindgren said he hadn't decided whether to join the group considering taking part in the meet.

Lindgren said the college athletes felt if they banded together so many NCAA schools would be involved that the NCAA wouldn't be in a position to penalize all of them.

"We simply want to compete against Russia," said Lindgren, "and, apparently, the only way we can is to enter the AAU championships."

FIRE FIGHTER BRISTOL, England (UPI)—Part-time fireman Charles F. W. Smith, 18, has admitted setting fires "because I wanted a bit of excitement and the experience of fire fighting."

Under the bill introduced by Committee Chairman Oren Harris, D-Ark., the commission would have the authority to block the interstate televising of any bout in which bribery, collusion or racketeering was suspected.

Ready to Play NEW YORK (AP)—Del Shofner, the New York Giants' pass receiver, assured Coach Alie Sherman Thursday that he is ready to play football again.

Shofner, 30, went on the inactive squad in mid-season of last year after he had been rushed to the hospital with bleeding ulcers. He also had injured his left thumb earlier in the season.

The Paksimeri is running high and clear and is providing flat rainbow fishing. Mountain Flat Reservoir near Challis was planted heavier than usual just recently and fishing is extra good. Corley said.

Williams Lake south of Salmon has been better than average, the biologist said, and some large rainbow trout, two pounds and more, have been taken out of the upper end of the Lemhi River above Hayden Creek.

The North Fork of the Salmon River continues high and muddy. Hull Creek Reservoir in that area is fair. Corley reported. Hayden Reservoir and Hayden Creek on the Lemhi drainage both were planted a week ago and fishing is fairly good although the creek is high.

Most other streams are high and muddy. Roads into the higher mountain streams continue to be snow blocked or are muddy.

Law-Backed Pirates Belt Cardinals 4-1

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Pittsburgh's Vern Law, backed by Willie Stargell's 15th homer, ran his winning streak to six games in a 4-1 victory over St. Louis Thursday night that sent Bob Gibson down to his sixth consecutive loss.

Law, who lost his first five decisions, got the only runs he needed when Stargell followed a single by Donn Clendenon in the fourth inning with his homer off Gibson.

Gibson won his first eight decisions this season but now has not posted a "Victory" since May 20.

Law also drove in a run for the Pirates with a sixth inning single. Stargell wrapped up the scoring with a run-producing single in the ninth.

Lopez Hopes To Win First All-Star Game

CHICAGO (AP)—"I hope it will be finally Lucky Lopez in the All-Star baseball game this year."

That is what Manager Al Lopez of the Chicago White Sox said Thursday after his appointment to manage the American League All-Stars at Minneapolis July 13.

Lopez, like the Phillies' Gene Mauch, manager of the National All-Stars, is a replacement due to the managerial shakeup of the New York Yankees and St. Louis Cardinals after the 1964 campaign.

Lopez never has been on a winning All-Star team in seven appearances—two as a National League catcher, one as a coach under Yankee Manager Casey Stengel and four as manager of the American League squad.

Lopez managed the Americans last year, also on a replacement basis when Ralph Houk was promoted from Yankee manager to general manager.

That squad lost to the Nationals 7-4.

Lindgren Says Runners May Bolt NCAA

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—Gerry Lindgren, the slim, freshman distance ace from Washington State University said Thursday he has been asked to join a number of athletes considering ignoring an NCAA ban and taking part in the National AAU Track and Field Championships in San Diego later this month.

Lindgren a member of the U. S. Olympic team in Tokyo and victor over the Russians in a 10,000 meter race in Los Angeles last year, said a number of athletes he declined to name were considering banding together and entering the AAU championships.

The first and second place finishers in the AAU meet June 26-27 at San Diego will make up the American team that will face the Russians.

Lindgren said he hadn't decided whether to join the group considering taking part in the meet.

Lindgren said the college athletes felt if they banded together so many NCAA schools would be involved that the NCAA wouldn't be in a position to penalize all of them.

"We simply want to compete against Russia," said Lindgren, "and, apparently, the only way we can is to enter the AAU championships."

FIRE FIGHTER BRISTOL, England (UPI)—Part-time fireman Charles F. W. Smith, 18, has admitted setting fires "because I wanted a bit of excitement and the experience of fire fighting."

Under the bill introduced by Committee Chairman Oren Harris, D-Ark., the commission would have the authority to block the interstate televising of any bout in which bribery, collusion or racketeering was suspected.

Ready to Play NEW YORK (AP)—Del Shofner, the New York Giants' pass receiver, assured Coach Alie Sherman Thursday that he is ready to play football again.

Shofner, 30, went on the inactive squad in mid-season of last year after he had been rushed to the hospital with bleeding ulcers. He also had injured his left thumb earlier in the season.

Williams Lake south of Salmon has been better than average, the biologist said, and some large rainbow trout, two pounds and more, have been taken out of the upper end of the Lemhi River above Hayden Creek.

The North Fork of the Salmon River continues high and muddy. Hull Creek Reservoir in that area is fair. Corley reported. Hayden Reservoir and Hayden Creek on the Lemhi drainage both were planted a week ago and fishing is fairly good although the creek is high.

Cowboys Set Exhibition Games; Giants Send More Players Here

Action began picking up in the Magic Valley Cowboys' training camp Thursday as manager Dick Wilson slated an exhibition game against Pocatello Saturday and received word of several new players being assigned here by the San Francisco Giants.

The club, which opened drills with nine members Tuesday, grew to 12 Thursday with new additions with from six to 10 new faces due in by the weekend. Wilson announced the exhibition game will be played at 1 p.m. Saturday at the Pocatello park.

"There's only so much you can do during a practice," Wilson said. "By playing this exhibition, things will come up under actual playing conditions. If they make mistakes we'll have something to work on again in practices."

He said he hoped to get the Pocatello club to come back to Twin Falls early next week for a return game. Those two are slated to open the Pioneer

League here June 26. Wilson also expressed concern over the ankle injury sustained by second baseman Don DeSousa, 18-year-old second baseman from Panama, DeSousa hurt his leg before coming to Twin Falls. He is rated one of the brightest prospects in the Giant organization.

The new arrivals are Wayne McKeller, Columbia, Miss., a first baseman, and Dave Madurski, a pitcher who had a 3-1 record this year at Lexington, all in relief. A righthanded pitcher, Joe Pollack, fresh off the University of Minnesota campus, is due in Saturday.

Meanwhile, the Giants announced the assignment of six drafted men and two free agents to the roster. The best known name is Hal Jeffcoat Jr., a pitcher-outfielder from Tampa, Fla., whose father was a major league pitcher.

The others are Windy Howard Currie, first baseman-outfielder from Columbia, S. C.; Ralph Durgin, pitcher from North Las Vegas; Joe Madden, pitcher, university of Iowa, and Larry Tolliver, pitcher, Bakersfield.

The free agents are Gene Chavez, pitcher from Paso Robles, Calif., and James Vincent, pitcher from Southern Illinois University.

The Giants picked 36 players during the recent draft and about 30 of them, if all sign, will be assigned to Magic Valley. The Giants also reported working on several other boys overlooked in the draft with most of them slated for Twin Falls.

With all the confusion caused by the draft and the difficulty in signing the boys, it was speculated the 1966 Pioneer League season opening would be moved back to July 1. It was postponed a week this spring.

Shortstop Maury Wills, second baseman Jim Lefebvre, and outfielders Ron Fairly and Wally Moon all turned in outstanding fielding plays to help Osteen beat the Giants for the second time in as many tries this year while bringing his record to 6-6.

Skiing Benefits From Colleges

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—High Schools and colleges are playing an important part in the development of American talent for international ski competition, the coach of the U.S. cross-country and jumping teams, said Thursday.

Al Merrill, Hanover, N.H., speaking at annual convention of the U.S. Ski Association here, said much of the improvement of this county's position in the olympic and other international competition in the nordic events can be attributed to the expanding interest in high school and college skiing.

In an interview, Merrill said another reason U.S. entrants are doing consistently better in the nordic events is the financial and moral support being provided by the American Ski Education Association.

The meeting ends Sunday.

Political Education Is Promoted by Goldwater

WASHINGTON (AP) — Disavowing any third-party plans, Barry Goldwater announced today the formation of a new organization to guide "a crusade of political education" in the tenets of conservatism.

The 1964 Republican presidential nominee announced he will be honorary chairman of the Free Society Association being formed by some of his closest political associates.

At the same time, Goldwater said he remains a foe of any third-party move.

"I said I would not participate in any such efforts and would resist with all my strength their formation," the former Arizona senator declared. "I repeat that position today with all the emphasis at my command."

Goldwater said the new group will provide a focal point for Americans who are determined to maintain and promote America's basic principles.

He said the research, writing and study which it will conduct "is beyond the scope, responsibility or purpose" of the Republican National Committee.

On the other hand, Goldwater said, the association will conduct no political organization tasks and back no candidates.

"I am a Republican and I intend to remain one," he said, "and in that capacity to assist the party wherever that assistance is sought in consonance with my ability to do so."

Goldwater said the association will issue reports—including a series called "The New Federalist Papers," on the principles of the Constitution and the problems now facing the nation.

Later, he said, it will use every means of mass communication including books and periodicals, radio and television to promote "the cause of freedom."

A Goldwater associate said the society aims for 400,000 to 500,000 members and a $2-million to $2.5-million annual budget at the outset.

He said membership will cost $5 for individuals, $10 for families.

Republican officials have indicated that they fear the new organization will divert from the party funds which conservative Republicans might otherwise send to the GOP itself.

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — About 200 workers of the Iroquois division of the International Breweries have decided to "help the company get back on its feet" by foregoing wage increases.

Officials of the brewery workers, mechanical department and bottlers and truck drivers locals said members have ratified a three-year contract. The contracts, however, permit wage negotiations in the second and third years, they said.

International Breweries reported a net loss in 1964 of $655,843.

Heat Wave, Epidemics and Food Shortages Hurt India

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — India, a land of many woes, is receiving "blows from nature" these days. A heat wave, mysterious epidemics and food shortages are killing thousands.

Reports from throughout India Thursday gave this picture: In the eastern state of Assam, a mysterious gastroenteritis disease doctors cannot identify has killed almost 600 people. The closely related disease of cholera has erupted throughout the nation and killed scores.

The recorded death toll exceeded 150 in a heat wave that has basked northern India for almost a week. The actual death toll probably was double that but nobody knows for sure.

The maximum temperature in New Delhi was 108.3 degrees. In some sections of Bihar State, it hit 120 for the fourth consecutive day.

The monsoon, the torrential seasonal rains that will bring relief, already has started in some sections of southern India. But they will not reach northern India in time to save thousands of acres of badly needed crops that have been dying in the severe drought.

In sections of Bihar, villagers were reported to be eating grass and shrubs to stay alive through food shortages. Government officials in outlying districts have urged emergency food shipments to ward off disaster.

Emergency shipments of U.S. aid wheat — one million tons last month — were continuing but India's internal distribution system is so inefficient that some areas often are not supplied.

Malta Ranger Transferred

He will be replaced by K. Franklin McElwain, a forestry graduate from the University of Idaho in 1960. Mrs. McElwain and their two daughters will accompany him to Malta in early July.

The B. Howard Jansen family are moving to a ranch south-west of Jerome. They had been residents of Richfield the past 13 years. Fred Peterson is farming the Jansen place in Richfield.

A Black Angus calf was born minus a tail at the Merle Owsley ranch Monday. The rest of the calf is perfectly normal, but his tail is completely missing.

Members of the Elba Cattlemen's Association with June 15 permits on the forest, moved their range herds from BLM pastures to the forest-ranges this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Chandler, Elba, branded, marked and vaccinated several calves this week that had been born since they had taken care of their calves earlier in the spring. The range herd will be moved to the Chandler ranch in Clyde Valley in about a week, where they will pasture during the summer and early fall months.

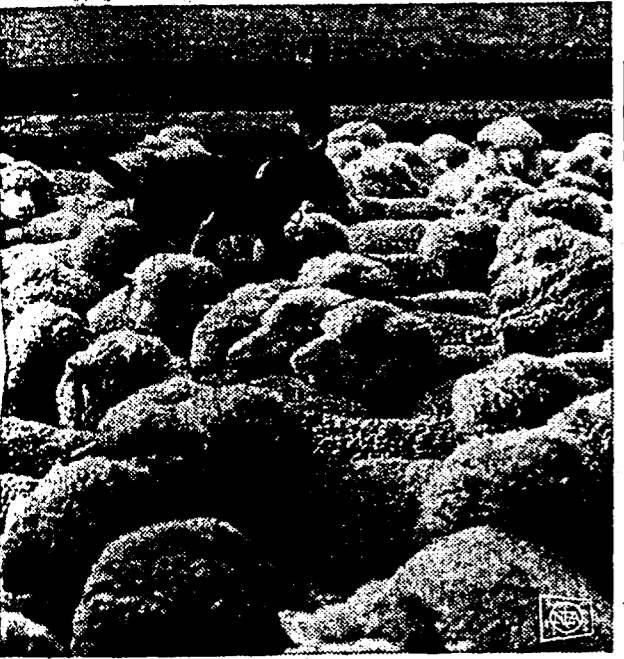

Jack Hubsmith is farming the Richfield ranch of Cotton Riley that adjoins the Hubsmith town ranch. His father, Fred Hubsmith, is farming for another son, Earl Hubsmith, who is managing a Grange store at Goldendale, Wash. Ray Hubsmith recently returned from Oregon to help his father farm two places.

Three horses owned by Mr. and Mrs. Bob Robinson and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Robinson, Tuttle ranchers, have been brought back to the home ranches after successful racing in Boise. The Robinsons train their own horses here.

Many farmers at Tuttle found after harvesting their first crop of hay that there was considerably damage by weevils with some ranchers getting only half a crop. The grain is heading out well in the area and if the weather is favorable and there are no insect or rodent infestations a bumper crop may be harvested.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hines, King Hill, have moved to Rozellia, near Bonners Ferry, where he will be employed with a dry farming cooperative. They have lived at the rental home of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Allen, east of King Hill and Hines was employed with the Bureau of Land Management making fences in the hills north of King Hill.

A new potato cellar is being built on the Clarence Hollifield farm east of Hansen. The structure, 45 feet wide and 160 feet long, will replace one which was built approximately 35 years ago by the Willis Sampsons. Mr. and Mrs. Willis Sampson brought out timbers from the north hills, above Ketchum, hauling them out, making the cellar which was placed just west and a little north of the house. One side of this old cellar had been replaced once, but now the whole cellar will be replaced with new timber, straw and covered with dirt.

WASHINGTON—The Agriculture Department said corn from the 1964 crop under price support is at its lowest level in a decade. As of May 31, 213 million bushels of corn were under loan.

Of this, however, 31.6 million bushels have been repaid, leaving a total possible loan takeover of not more than 181 million bushels.

A year ago, corn under loan totaled 383 million bushels. Two years ago the total was 530 million bushels.

Scattered Area Rains Fail To Slow Growth of Crops

Scattered rains over this section of Idaho during the early part of this week did not materially hold up field work or the progress of planted crops, a survey by the Times-News showed Friday.

Warm and dry weather last week, following the rains of the previous week, permitted full scale field activity and rapid growth and development of crops.

Potato and corn planting was in final stages and dry bean progressed rapidly and was nearing completion in the earliest areas.

Sugar beet cultivating and thinning operations made good progress and was about complete in a few areas. Haying operations were getting under way in some instances.

Other major activities included irrigating, weed control, summer fallowing and working livestock. Winter grains were large

Danger from Ticks, Fleas Outlined by County Agent

This is the time of year for tick and flea infestation. Their only home is on the animal, but they can be a nuisance to man, especially if they bite on the face or neck.

During spring and summer, ticks and fleas are most abundant in areas where they will pick up and early summer is a sensible time to check for them. They should not be taken into homes and should not be taken into the office.

Besides being repulsive and annoying to man, ticks are capable of spreading some serious diseases. Biting fleas are painful.

Careful examination of the human body—especially the hair of the head—and removal of any ticks as promptly as possible will prevent serious consequences to man.

Timure of ticks should be forced into the minute hole made by the tick's mouth parts. Care should be taken not to get the blood of crushed ticks into the skin.

Controlling ticks and fleas on dogs and cats or around home grounds has become more difficult in recent years. These troublesome parasites of man and animal have developed resistance to commonly-used insecticides.

Stop alfalfa weevil and residue problems, too!

NOW... NO WAITING PERIOD

New registration allows application of malathion on day of harvest or grazing.

Malathion provides the most effective control of WEEVIL... also kills APHIDS and other forage pests.

The preferred practice for weevil control now recommended by authorities is to treat the larvae with malathion. By waiting until the majority of the larvae have hatched, good control can be obtained with a single treatment.

University tests have shown that malathion applied when larvae counts are high provides by far the most effective control.

Eliminates hazards
When you use malathion for alfalfa weevil larvae you enjoy exceptional freedom from insecticide hazards on the malathion-treated crop or adjacent crops subject to drift exposure and from residues in meat and milk, when used as directed.

Plan your program around malathion—the insecticide that kills both weevils and aphids as well as lygus, grasshoppers, leafhoppers and armyworms. The insecticide that offers maximum freedom from hazards to workers and crops—is low in cost and requires no waiting period.

Consult local agricultural authorities for information on timing of application.

Be sure to ask for SUR-TEN, the superior wetting agent to be added to agricultural sprays.

Before using any pesticide, stop and read the label.

Attitude of Peasants in China to Aid Production

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The attitude of Chinese peasants is the chief factor other than weather that could affect farm production in Red China during 1965, according to an Agriculture department official. John R. Wenmohs, U. S. agricultural officer at Hong Kong, "is probably as good or possibly better than it was last year at this time." This is highly important.

Writing in a foreign Agricultural Service FAS publication, Wenmohs said:

"The Chinese farmer is willing to work hard in the collective fields to insure his own supplies, but has little inclination to work hard to produce the part taken by the state, preferring to save his energies for his private plot and his own livestock."

Wenmohs said the Red Chinese authorities — though not unanimously — recognize the importance of the private plot and livestock. Within the past few weeks they have given added assurance that the plots would not be interfered with and that hog production would be encouraged for some time to come.

Wenmohs said they went so far as to say that feed produced on collective fields should be made available to farmers for privately owned hogs. Wenmohs, located in a strategic spot within sight of Red China, discussed that community country's agriculture from a background of press reports, travelers' accounts, and other sources of information.

He said that assuming average weather conditions for the balance of the crop season, it is believed that the 1965 harvest may be about equal to that of 1964. He said it also may develop that the encouragement of private hog raising will result in a greater number of hogs than can be supported by available food supplies.

He said the current outlook for Chinese agricultural output is mixed. North China — north of the Yangtze River Valley had little rain or snow from early November, 1964, to about mid-April. Consequently, winter wheat got off to a slow start on reduced acreage because of unusually wet weather in September and October that delayed sowing.

The winter wheat outlook in the area is believed poor. The planting of spring crops in north and northeast China is believed also to have been delayed. If so, they will require more than the normal rains if they are to get off to a good start.

Wenmohs ascribes some change for the good in agricultural production in Red China to a change in government policy. He said government priority to industrial expansion, the breakdown of the commune system, mistakes of the "great leap forward," plus poor harvests finally caused the Chinese authorities to place primary emphasis on agricultural production — that is, grain.

Wheat Prospects Boosted By Crop-Reviving Rains

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Crop-reviving rains during May on the Great Plains boosted prospects of the 1965 winter wheat crop by four per cent within a month, the Agriculture Department said yesterday.

The department's crop reporting board also said warm weather during May stepped up the slow early-season crop development in the Corn Belt and the Pacific Northwest.

The board estimated an all-wheat crop of 1.283 billion bushels would be produced this year. A crop this size would be one per cent less than the 1964 crop but eight per cent greater than the 1959-63 average.

The winter wheat crop was estimated at 1.017 billion bushels, up four per cent, or 39 million bushels, from the May 1 forecast, and five per cent above average but one per cent less than last year.

The spring wheat crop was estimated at 266 million bushels. A crop this size would be nearly the same as that produced in 1964 but 19 per cent more than the 1959-63 average.

The board said spring work on farms continued to lag in the northern plains area, but May weather permitted farmers to catch up on crop work in most other parts of the nation. Hay and pasture crops improved during May in the North Central States, but declined in the dry areas along the Atlantic and Gulf coasts.

The board said fruit prospects were generally good although freeze damage lowered potential output in the Pacific Northwest. Nationwide, production of peaches, apricots, plums and prunes is expected to be greater than last year. Decreases from last year are indicated for apples, pears, sweet cherries, sour cherries (Western States) and nectarines.

The board said citrus production for 1964-65 will be 23 per cent above last year. The big

First Irrigation Critical Point in Potato Quality

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow — The first irrigation after planting is a critical point in producing top-quality Idaho potatoes.

The right amount of water applied at the right time will produce highest yields of smooth, uniform U.S. No. 1 potatoes.

What is the right amount? The right time?

These questions are answered in a new University of Idaho publication written by D. C. Larsen, Idaho extension irrigationist, and G. M. McMaster, assistant irrigationist at the university's Aberdeen Branch Experiment station. "First Irrigation of Potatoes," is now available at county agricultural extension offices throughout the state. Copies may also be obtained by writing the room, University of Idaho, North Eight St., Boise.

Both springer and summer irrigation are discussed by authors. Basing their recommendations on University of Idaho research, they point out the first irrigation is needed when soil moisture falls to 60 per cent at the seedpiece level.

Trials at Aberdeen shown 9.3 sacks per acre increases of U.S. No. 1 tubers when potatoes were irrigated at the recommended point rather than after available soil moisture dropped to the 40 per cent level.

The earlier irrigation nearly a five per cent increase in the percentage of tubers.

Stocks of Frozen Foods Remain High

WASHINGTON (UPI) — There were 4.9 billion pounds of foods stored in refrigerated warehouses on June 1. This was 334 million pounds below the food stocks on hand a month earlier.

The cooler-held products declined to 1.7 billion pounds as a result of seasonal reductions in fresh fruits and vegetables, nuts and meat products. Freezer products were 3.2 billion pounds down 130 million pounds from May 1 after net reductions in poultry, fruits, vegetables, and meats.

The holdings of frozen orange juice concentrates on June 1 totaled 63 million gallons. This was record-high for the date and represented a gain of 6 million gallons during the month. On June 1, 1964, there were 42 million gallons in storage.

Frozen vegetables on hand on June 1 totaled 824 million pounds, 17 per cent less than a year earlier but 11 per cent above average. The poundage of frozen vegetables was brought down by a net reduction of 131 million pounds during May.

Frozen fruit stocks on June 1 totaled 321 million pounds, frozen poultry 174 million pounds, butter supplies 166 million pounds, and American cheese stocks 298 million pounds.

The board said total holdings of meat in cold storage declined 62 million pounds during May to 613 million pounds on June 1. This was 29 per cent below a year earlier, but 1 per cent above average.

Coast States' Weather Favors Work on Farms

SAN FRANCISCO — The Pacific Coast states enjoyed weather favorable for farm work during May.

Farmers were putting the finishing touches on spring planting by the end of month. Fruit growers were thinning and spraying tree fruits.

Early in the month, growers were firing smudge pots in their orchards to ward off damage from below-freezing temperatures during the night.

Farmers were planting spring crops and putting up the first cutting of hay in Washington and Oregon; second and third cuttings of hay were underway in California. In Oregon and Washington, asparagus harvest was active, and strawberry harvest was beginning.

In California, growers were chopping cotton and thinning sugar beets and tomatoes. Harvesting of Valencia oranges, asparagus, lettuce, and strawberries was active in California.

Eggs

U.S. farm egg prices during the year beginning in July are expected to average about two cents a dozen higher than during the preceding 12 months. With normal growing weather this summer, feed prices are expected to average lower during July 1965-June 1966 than during the same period a year earlier. Thus net incomes to egg producers are expected to average higher in the 12 months beginning with July 1965.

Twin Calves Dropped by Declo Cow

DECLO — Cliff Sutton, who has one of the top producing herds of registered Guernsey animals in this section of Idaho, recently was pleased with a "gift" received from one of his top producers.

One of the registered animals — Ida-Clo's Glory Ginger — dropped identical heifer calves. The new arrivals now bear the names Glean and Glory. The names were selected by Sutton's daughter, Sharon.

The "mother" is one of the top producers of the Sutton herd. Her record of producing included 8,880 pounds of milk and 5,131 pounds of butterfat in a 305 day test period while being milked twice a day.

Export of Dairy Cattle Sets Record

WASHINGTON—The Foreign Agricultural Service (FAS) said the United States exported a record 14,500 head of dairy cattle in 1964 to 46 countries. This compared with 12,811 head exported to all countries in 1963. The value of the 1964 exports was estimated at $5,798,000.

Mexico was the leading importer of U.S. dairy cattle, taking 4,454 head. This was a reduction of 30 per cent from 6,241 head purchased in 1963. Venezuela increased her purchases from 746 head in 1963 to 2,050 head in 1964. Canada increased purchases from 1,146 head in 1963 to 1,495 head in 1964.

Italy, which bought only 17 head of U.S. dairy cattle in 1963, purchased 1,245 head in 1964. South Korea purchased 122 head in 1963 and 891 head in 1964.

Holstein was the most popular breed purchased, 10,412 head going to the 40 countries. Brown Swiss exports totaled 2,729 head; Guernsey, 944 head; Jersey, 606 head, and Ayrshire, 106 head.

U.S. exports of beef breeding cattle last year totaled 14,523 head. This was the highest since 1939 and an increase of more than 13 per cent over 1963 sales.

FAS said the 1964 increase was caused primarily by substantially larger exports to Mexico and Canada. There were moderate increases to Guatemala, Nicaragua, Ecuador, El Salvador, and the Republic of South Africa.

Mexico was the leading buyer, taking 5,974 head, or 41 per cent of total U.S. beef cattle exports. Canada was second with 3,628 head, or 25 per cent of total shipments. Venezuela was third with 1,817 head, or 13 per cent of the total.

Sales were made to 28 foreign countries.

Gain Noted In School Milk Use

WASHINGTON (UPI)—An Agriculture Department study shows that milk used in U.S. schools and high schools accounts for about five per cent of the fluid milk and cream marketed commercially each year.

The department's Economic Research Service said gains in the quantities of milk sold in schools during the past 10 years had helped to stabilize the entire fluid milk market.

ERS said the use of milk in schools offset what otherwise would be a slight downward trend in total national consumption.

ERS calculated the wholesale value of milk consumed in school with lunch services in 1957 at $182 million. Five years later, the wholesale value of milk consumed in all schools had risen to about $312 million.

ERS said that since there was little change in wholesale prices, gains in money value reflect increases in actual milk consumption.

Most of the milk available to children in both public and private schools got there through the government's special milk and national school lunch programs.

ERS said some 40 million of the 43.7 million children with access of school milk daily came under one or both programs.

The average price per child for a half pint of milk was about 3 cents below cost, ARS said. In schools participating in the special milk program, about 700,000 needy children received milk at even lower prices, or without charge.

Almost 6 per cent of the milk consumed under the special milk program was free.

Bellevue Brothers Perfect Homemade Post Driver

BELLEVUE — George and John McGonigal solved the problem of digging postholes on their ranch at the foot of Timmerman Hill four years ago.

They built themselves a post-driver, which they still use. During the four-year period they have spent many hours working at developing a simpler, stronger and safer way to operate the post-driver.

The machine, as they have perfected it, has been operated by an 11-year-old boy. By use of a simplified transmission, only 15 pounds of pressure is required on the control handle to operate the hammer.

The hammer stroke goes from zero to 45 inches in height for driving steel or light posts, on up to very heavy posts.

One of the new features of their latest model is a control handle which the driver may set in position and the hammer rises and falls automatically.

The hammer head is wide enough to reach over a fence and drive a post on the opposite side, eliminating moving from one side of the fence to the other.

The McGonigal brothers say all bearings are the same size throughout and are sealed for elimination of grease requirements, and exceed working specifications by five times.

One in use on a ranch south of Hailey drives six inch unsharpened posts in gravel ground.

The McGonigals say they have driven corral posts the size of railroad ties this spring. The average time for driving a post in the Wood River valley this year was 40 seconds per post.

One rancher said the only fault he found in owning one is that there never are enough posts laying around the ranch anymore.

The brothers have set up a small manufacturing plant in Bellevue.

The driver is mounted on the rear of a tractor. They weigh over 500 pounds, with the hammer accounting for more than one-half the weight.

George McGonigal said they are built so the blocks and weight can be added for heavier work. The two brothers were born and raised on the 876-acre ranch they have operated the last six years. Their grandfather, Michael Brown, homesteaded the original ranch in 1881 and it has been in the family since.

They have added to the holdings by purchase of grazing and meadow land over Timmerman Hill.

JOHNSTON... your best bet in pumps

Let's talk about ECONOMY

Economy in the field of pumping is, of course, tied in with initial purchase, ease of installation, low-cost operation, durability of construction, trouble-free service and long operating life.

Economy is also the dividend accrued from choosing the right pump for the job at hand. For example, if your project requires medium capacity units at medium heads for canal pumping, or the transfer of water in certain surface irrigation systems, a mixed-flow type would probably apply.

However, in the case of supplying deep well water for domestic and livestock needs, drainage and supplemental water for crop irrigation, a vertical turbine would apply. One thing is certain, regardless of the application, Johnston has the economy pump for your purpose.

For further details regarding Johnston versatility in agricultural water handling, contact your Johnston sales office or dealer listed below.

FOR THIRTY-THREE YEARS this 15 HP Johnston Pump has helped irrigate varied crops at Woodland, California. Within this period, the unit has needed only routine maintenance. Based on an average rate of 1,200 gpm, during a normal irrigation season, it is estimated that this pump has delivered more than five billion gallons (22,500,000 tons) of water during its long and trouble-free life.

$1 Billion Hot Lunch Program to Continue Growth, Experts Predict

WASHINGTON (UPI) Schools serving lunches provide an annual market for more than one billion dollars worth of farm foods, according to a survey by the Agriculture Department. The department's Economic Research Service (ERS) said this market will grow at least 25 per cent during the next 10 years.

1962-63 school market represented a gain of $332 million, or 56 per cent.

Cattle Used In Utah for Heart Study

LOGAN, Utah—Heart research in cattle with important implications to understanding human heart muscle functions is receiving emphasis at Utah State University.

A two-year grant of $44,527 has been received from the National Heart Institute to conduct the study, Dr. Daryl Chase, president, announces.

The study, directed by Dr. Joseph T. Blake, associate professor of veterinary science, has the technical title "Myocardial Stresses: Ion Imbalance and Hypoxia."

Under the project, USU researchers are studying the effect of imbalance of certain ions such as calcium and potassium on heart function of cattle at high altitudes.

Dr. Blake explained that the study is being coupled in with current USU research on brisquet disease, a heart malfunction in cattle.

The National Heart Institute considers the combination of particular value because it provides naturally occurring cardiac patients to use in basic research.

Findings will contribute to general knowledge of heart muscle function with basic application to any species, including humans.

"We know that potassium, calcium, magnesium, sodium and certain other elements have an influence on strength and development of heart muscle contraction. We also know that at high altitude there is an imbalance of these elements in cattle."

"We want to learn if the imbalance is contributing to heart failure in cattle," Dr. Blake said.

"We think the imbalance existing in the blood of cattle might be derived from their diet. Possibly certain plants are having a toxic effect on the heart muscle by tying up calcium and providing an excess of potassium and possibly other elements," he added.

Base station for the heart research in cattle will be on the USU campus in Logan.

1962-63 school market represented a gain of $332 million, or 56 per cent.

The wholesale price of foods rose only about six per cent during the five-year period. Hence, the whopping increase was largely in the volume of food moving through the school lunch room outlet.

This huge market is important to the overall economy. The survey shows that more than 75 per cent of the food used in the school lunchrooms was purchased through commercial channels. The rest was donated by the federal government.

ERS said public schools bought $721 million worth of food in 1962-63. This was $216 million more than they purchased five years earlier. Also in 1962-63, the private schools purchased $60 million worth of foods from local, or commercial, sources.

ERS said the average child eating in a school lunchroom was receiving substantially more

June 18-19, 1965
Twin Falls Times-News

red meat, poultry, milk, and milk products in 1962-63 than formerly. Also, he was eating more fruits, vegetables, and potatoes.

ERS said about 37 cents out of every dollar of purchased or donated foods went for milk and milk products. Meat, poultry, and fish accounted for 21 cents. Fruits and vegetables took up 14 cents of each dollar.

Nearly all of the expanded use of food occurred within the framework of the national school lunch program, ERS said. In 1962-63, about 93 per cent of the total school food consumption was used in schools participating in the school lunch program.

ERS said the increasing number of school children should expand this big food market by 25 per cent during the next 10 years. ERS said there is a possibility of further substantial expansion through making lunch services available in schools currently not offering them. There are about nine million children enrolled in schools without lunchroom services.

How irrigation application of Nitrogen can help you:

USS Anhydrous Ammonia metered into irrigation water is an efficient and effective method of supplying nitrogen throughout the growing season.

Irrigation application saves on labor and equipment. It allows nitrogen fertilizer to be applied when soil or cropping conditions prevent fertilization by conventional equipment. And it makes it possible for you to correct nitrogen deficiencies when they occur late in the season.

Specific Agronomic Benefits
Irrigation application is the best method of supplying small amounts of nitrogen on shallow or sandy soils.

Irrigation application makes it possible for crops damaged by hail, wind or severe weather to receive supplemental nitrogen to induce rapid recovery.

Crops can be fertilized which have grown too large for side-dress application. Roots are not pruned and no soil compaction occurs.

Irrigation application allows nitrogen to be applied on crops at the time nitrogen is used most

... such as corn at silking time when four pounds of nitrogen per acre are needed every day.

Professional Know-how
Application of USS Anhydrous Ammonia calls for modern equipment and professional know-how. This is what you'll find at United States Steel.

1. Professional application by trained, experienced personnel.
 2. Modern equipment including hose and the latest meters to assure accurate rates of application are furnished at no extra cost.
 3. Indicator chemicals added to the water visibly show where the nitrogen is applied.
 4. Ammonia tanks are weighed in the field before and after each application. You know exactly how much nitrogen has been applied.
 5. Complete one-stop service, with professional know-how... the safe, efficient and effective way to get top yields and profits.

Egg, Turkey Farm Prices On Upgrade

CHICAGO — U.S. farm prices for eggs and turkeys are expected to advance during the coming months with broiler prices showing a slight decrease, according to the Poultry Survey Committee report.

The Committee said that "U.S. farm egg prices for the year beginning July 1 are likely to average about two-cents per dozen above year-earlier levels. A larger off-season hatch will bring egg prices back to year earlier levels by the spring of 1966, according to the report."

"U.S. farm turkey prices during September-December 1965 will average about 22.5 cents, compared with the 21.5 cent average of a year ago, the committee predicted. They expect the crop to be 1 to 2 per cent larger than the 1964 crop."

Crop Insurance Acreage Reports Due, Official Says

Douglas H. Bertoch, district director of Federal Crop Insurance Corp., has issued a special notice to all FCIC policyholders in Magic Valley concerning their acreage reports.

Under the terms of the contract, it is the insured's responsibility to report his planted acres of insured crop immediately after planting.

The normal planting period for beans ends June 15 and the acreage must be reported within two weeks after that. All insured crops must be reported at this time in order for the insurance to be in effect.

Insured crops in Twin Falls county are beans, barley, potatoes, sugar beets and wheat; in Jerome, Lincoln and Gooding counties, wheat, barley and beans are insured; and in Cassia and Minidoka counties, beans, barley, potatoes and wheat are covered with Federal crop insurance.

All insured farmers are urged to come into the district office at 628 Blue Lakes Blvd., N., Twin Falls, or telephone 733-8449, and report their insured crops.

If it is not convenient to do either of these, these reports can be mailed into the office, but it must be done at once, Bertoch said.

Alfalfa seed is beginning to bloom — caution is recommended in the application of insecticides since the alkali bee and leafcutter bee are beginning to emerge. Honey bees and these other beneficial insects are often harmed through insecticide applications.

THINGS TO CONSIDER WHEN USING INSECTICIDES

- When using materials hazardous to bees, notify the beekeeper so that he may move, cover or otherwise protect his bees.
- Treating a nonblooming crop with a hazardous material when cover crops, weeds or wild flowers are in bloom in the field or close by may cause heavy bee losses. Drift to neighboring fields attractive to bees also may cause losses.
- Treating large areas with repeated applications may cause great bee loss.
- The kind and amount of insecticide used is important. Use the proper dosage of the safest material to bees that will give good pest control.
- With few exceptions, dusts are more hazardous to bees than sprays.
- Applications by airplanes are more hazardous to bees than by ground equipment because of drift deposit.
- Treatments when bees are foraging in the field are usually the most hazardous. Treatments over colonies in hot weather when bees are clustering on the outside may cause severe losses. Treatments during the night or early morning before bees are foraging are the safest.
- Location of bees is important. Colonies located in the field and treated over may sustain more loss than colonies not treated over at the edge or outside of the field. Colonies moved into fields after treatment may escape damage.

Relative Toxicity of Insecticides

The following groupings show the relative toxicity of many insecticides as determined by laboratory and field tests:

HIGHLY TOXIC MATERIALS

Severe losses may be expected if the following materials are used when bees are present at treatment time or within a few days thereafter.

I Aldrin	II Diazinon	I Lindane	I Parathion
I Arsenicals	I Dichlorvos	I Malathion	I Phosphamidon
I BHC	I Dieldrin	I Methyl Guthion	I Telodrin
I Bidrin	I Dimethoate	I Methyl Iso-Systox	I TEPP
I Carbaryl	I Fenitrothion	I Nevinphos	I Zectran
I Chlordane	I Heptachlor	II Naled 1

MODERATELY TOXIC MATERIALS

These can be used around bees if dosage timing and method of application are correct, but should not be applied directly on bees in the field or at the colonies:

II Carbofenthiol	II DDT	II Endrin	II Phorate 3
III Chlorobenzilate	II Di-Systox 6	II Metasystox	II Ronnel
II Coumaphos	II Endosulfan	II Perthane	II TDE (DDD)

RELATIVELY NONTOXIC MATERIALS

These can be used around bees with a minimum of injury:

III Aramite	II Methoxychlor	III Sulphenone	II Trichlorfon
II Demeton	II Nicotine	III Tetradifon	2,4-D (Herbicide)
II Ethion	III Pyrethrum	II Toxaphene
III Kelthane	III Rotenone	II Toxaphene

JUNE IS THE season when whole battalions of stinging insects, mosquitoes, hornets, flies, wasps, bees, gnats, scorpions, and some species of ants, sharpen up their "stingers" for use on animals and man. Officials of the county agent's office in Twin Falls join national experts in releasing a warning to those in the out-of-doors.

Officials Warn of Danger From Stinging Insects

The bee is a friend who, usually without meaning to, can become a deadly foe to man. Officials at the office of the Twin Falls county agricultural agent said in a warning issued Friday. The warning was given after information concerning insect stings and stings was received from Dr. Phillip J. Spear, technical director of the National Pest Control Association. The general warning was issued because insects of this type are especially active this time of the year.

Reactions from insect stings vary widely among individuals, some persons being relatively immune and others very allergic to stings. The suffering or reaction, Dr. Spear wrote, is generally believed by experts to be an allergic one since the individual stung reacts to an allergic substance in the venom of the stinging insect.

Humans can sometimes build immunity to insect stings, the NPCA expert pointed out, and beekeepers have been known to withstand as many as 50 stings in a day without serious after-effects.

Some persons are much more sensitive to stings, however, and may suffer severe shock and even death because of a relatively few attacks.

"Perhaps the most important thing to consider about the sting of an insect is that it should not be treated lightly," Dr. Spear emphasized.

"Scientists at Cornell University have come up with findings which prove that the venom of the bee is just as deadly as that of the East Indian cobra, and to people who are sensitive to bee stings, this is certainly true."

Dr. Spear noted that the bee, which is found almost everywhere because it is in a sense "domesticated" by man, is the most common source of insect stings, but added that wasps, hornets, yellow jackets and ants also sting and can cause serious human reactions.

In fact, the scientist noted, while the honeybee can only sting once because it loses its

Making Rope Is Shown to Area Grange

WENDELL Robert Mattice and Clifford Sellers, members of the United Livestock & H Club, demonstrated making rope at the Tuesday evening meeting of Wendell Grange No. 82. They also explained their fund raising project for a 4-H camp in the Sawtooth area. The club members were accompanied by Joe Sellaes, club leader, Lester Boian, assistant leader and other club members. Richard Jasper, safety chairman, warned Grangers to especially watch for farm machinery and slow moving traffic on the highways this time of the year.

J. J. Stickle, member of the building committee, reported that pedestals for the Grange furniture have been completed. The new mahogany furniture will be used for the state Grange meeting to be held in Gooding in October.

Rupert Cow Among Best In Nation

BRATTLEBORO, Vt.—Colantha Burke Segis Amy 4964826, a registered Holstein cow in the herd of Louis Bott and Sons, Rupert, Idaho, has been officially classified "excellent" — the highest designation attainable in the type classification program of the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

This highly select designation is applied only to animals scoring 90 or more of the 100 points representing theoretical perfection in body conformation.

Of more than 74,000 registered Holsteins officially classified for type last year, only 735 were rated "excellent."

The Bott Holstein moved into the "excellent" bracket for the first time during a recent classification of the herd by John H. Stewart, Denver, Colo.—an official inspector on the staff of the national Holstein organization. She scored 90 points. Animals scored "excellent" in previous programs are not included in this listing.

The classification program — in continuous operation since 1929 — provides a universally-recognized method of comparing the conformation of living animals with that of the true-type Holstein cow or bull. Participation is currently at an all-time high level.

Board Plans For Lincoln Fair Aug. 6-7

SHOSHONE — Further plans for the Lincoln County fair, to be held Aug. 6-7, were made by fair board members at a meeting Tuesday night at the courthouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Couch met with the board and discussed changing lights at the football field to the arena for the fair jamboree. A check will be made with the school to determine facilities, and the fair board will assist the Riding Club with the project.

After discussion of use of grounds, riding facilities and fair activities, financial assistance requested was denied at this time since the grounds would be prepared for a profit making rodeo and there is no evidence it could be of any benefit in the future to the fair operations.

The fact there may be more horse projects than usual was considered, along with the fact there may be fewer other livestock projects. There may be more horses than present spaces would care for and the county extension agent, Ivan Hopkins, was given authority to have necessary space provided after final 4-H enrollment is taken.

July 25 was set as deadline for those using the fair buildings to vacate them in order to provide time for preparations for the fair there.

The Builders Club will be contacted to do cleanup at the fair buildings.

Food booths for the fair were awarded Magic Grange, Wood River Center Grange. The game booth went to Dietrich Grange.

The Methodist Church was granted a popcorn stand; the Episcopal Church a fish pond and cotton candy stand; Rotary Club, snowcone stand, Junior Chamber, ball throw game. Permission was denied the Methodist Church to sell pop or candy with their popcorn because it would interfere with other stands where these were sold.

E. L. O'Neal, Twin Falls, will have kiddies rides for the fair. Hopkins was asked to revise the point system for 4-H and FFA awards to make them more equitable.

Crops

BOISE—Cool weather accompanied by frequent, light rains hampered maximum growth and development of crops throughout most of May, the USDA Crop Reporting Service shows.

Progress of field work ranged from a week early in areas of southwestern and southcentral Idaho to two weeks late in northern localities.

As of June 1 spring planting was virtually complete in all areas, with potato and corn plantings nearing completion.

Beauty Plan Gains 4-H Support

CHICAGO — National leaders of the vast 4-H Club movement have pledged active support of President Johnson's program for natural beauty.

Named as honorary chairman of the campaign was the President's younger daughter, Luci Baines Johnson.

America's 2.25 million 4-H Club members and 500,000 volunteer leaders are expected to spearhead the program not only in rural areas, but in their suburban and urban home areas as well.

They will seek the aid of their families and other adult and youth groups interested in conserving and improving the nation's natural beauty resources.

Joining in the action program is The Sears-Roebuck Foundation, long-time supporter of 4-H and other community improvement programs. Through the National 4-H Service Committee, the Foundation will offer incentives and recognition to individuals, clubs and counties in a National 4-H Community Beautification program.

Individually, 4-H members may earn recognition at county, state and national levels including medals of honor, savings bonds, trips to National 4-H Club Congress and educational

Small Colt Mistaken for "Blackbird" by Farm Wife

HEYBURN — Mrs. Robert Thompson awoke June 4 and noticed a small black object in their field, which she thought was a "blackbird."

Later that afternoon she saw a small black animal in their yard which she thought was a dog.

An investigation proved the little stranger was an 18-inch horse colt which had been born during the night to their pet Shetland pony.

A local veterinarian concluded the size of the colt was not a rarity for the 34-inch-tall mother.

But it was somewhat unusual for the Thompson family, who were used to seeing "horse sized" horses.

The black colt has appropriately been named "Echo."

PRICES NOTED

BOISE — Idaho dairymen received an average of 87 cents per pound of milkfat used for American cheese during April, a report released by the Agricultural Department in mid-June revealed. Average price of milk per 100 pounds was off five per cent from the preceding month.

Firearms Bill Opposed by Farm Bureau

CAREY — The Dodd bill on the registration of firearms, SB-1592, is extremely dangerous, members of the Carey Farm Bureau decided at a meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Peterson this week. The secretary will organize a letter campaign against it.

Members discussed ways to convince bird hunters to have consideration for private property as well as shutting gates and not scattering trash and leaving it.

The entire group believes the proposed law and hour law add problems to the already over-burdened farmer. Farmers would have to pay double time for overtime (after 48 hours a week) and pay the minimum wage to farm workers.

It was decided to write congressmen on an individual basis. Carey Farm Bureau urges any person in agriculture to write about this bill.

Idaho State Farm Bureau's resolution regarding election of county commissioners was approved.

These awards will recognize achievement of the individual in beautifying his home grounds and participation in community improvement activities.

Agronomist Named for Valley Area

SALT LAKE CITY — Appointment of Dr. Dale D. Stukenholtz as an agronomist with United States Steel's Agricultural Industry Marketing organization here, has been announced.

Dr. Stukenholtz, a specialist in soil sciences, will work with agricultural colleges, farm organizations, the soil conservation service, county agricultural agents and farmers in a program to provide proper soil nutrients and additives, according to F. J. Reynolds, general manager of U. S. Steel's Agricultural Industry Marketing.

U. S. Steel has mounted an intensive program of field-by-field and farm-by-farm soil analysis and tissue testing and Dr. Stukenholtz will assist farmers in utilizing the proper prescriptions of agricultural chemicals for effective crop management, Reynolds said.

The agronomist will work in the 11 Western states of California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana, Utah, Nevada, Arizona, New Mexico, Colorado and Wyoming.

In addition to assisting farm operators, Dr. Stukenholtz will work with distributors and fertilizer retail stores in demonstrating techniques of prescription blending and the proper use of agricultural chemicals.

He was awarded his bachelor of science degree in agronomy in 1956 from the University of Nebraska, and his MS degree in the same field in 1958 from the same school. He earned his Ph.D. in soil fertility from the University of Nebraska in 1964, for extensive research in the phosphorous-zinc relationship in corn.

Broilers

WASHINGTON — U.S. farm broiler prices during 1965 will likely decline from the April-June average of about 15 cents per pound. July - September marketings will be eight per cent above year earlier levels which will bring near 14.5 cents, about the same as last year. Fourth quarter marketings, expected to be 10 per cent over October-December 1964, will average near 13.5 cents, a five per cent decrease from 1964's 14.2 cents.
