By The Associated Press
Workers hustled today to patch two leaks in a dike that is holding the rampaging Arkansas River out of many houses and most of the Larned, Kan., business district. "A couple of seepages developed early today," said Undersheriff L. B. Hess, adding that if the dikes fail to hold water could flood out about 1,500 more Larned residents and most of the city's business district. More than 1,000 already have been evacuated at Larned. Two deaths in western Kansas were attributed earlier to the flood but there have been no recent injuries.

Commission OK's Airport Ordinance

The Twin Falls City Commission Monday night adopted ordinance No. 1276 setting up airport rules and regulations including limiting types of traffic at Joslin Field and giving the airport manager power to rule on any solicitation or business activity at the airport. Rates and charges for usage of the airport also were fixed.

A report from the Twin Falls Airport Advisory Commission pointed out that due to a wind problem, Joslin Field is eligible for aid up to 55 per cent of the costs from the Federal Aviation Agency for construction of a new north-south runway. After some discussion, the amendment to the Nov. 10, 1964, cooperative agreement with the Twin Falls Housing Authority providing for construction of 50 units of low-rent housing for elderly persons, instead of 40 units as requested in the original agreement, was approved. The amendment was passed unanimously although Commissioner Frank H. Feldman objected that privately-owned facilities are available throughout the city and are not fully occupied.

City Manager H. L. (Herb) Derrick read a letter from the Idaho State Land Commission regarding an application to conduct prospecting operations for See COMMISSION, Pg. 2, Col. 1

"We've got lots of water," Hess said. "Highway 19, which splits to the south and the east just south of here is washed out both ways."

"Highway 56 west of here is closed but I don't think there's any damage to it."

"We've also got about 10 miles of Santa Fe railroad tracks washed out in the county."

Larned had almost an inch of rain overnight.

At Great Bend, north of Larned and the next city downstream, residents braced for the onslaught of water expected later.

The sheriff's office there reported everything under control but noted that if the city gets the six to seven feet above flood level expected it will be over the top of dikes which protect the city.

Most businesses at Great Bend in the river's path were sand bagged.

At Great Bend, 35 miles downstream, another 3,000 persons prepared to move before the crest, traveling about 2 miles per hour, hits there later today.

The flood was spawned by last week's torrential rains in Colorado where flood damage may total $125 million.

Adding to the havoc were heavy rains in scattered parts of the Kansas flood region Monday night. Jetmore, north of Dodge City, got 3.75 inches of See FLOOD, pg. 2, col. 7

STUDENT IS TRAMPLED by fellow demonstrators as they clash with Tokyo police Tuesday in protest against the signing of the South Korea-Japan treaty. Japan, Korea Sign Treaty In Tokyo

TOKYO (AP) — Japan and South Korea signed treaties today to establish normal relations for the first time in 60 years. It was the climax of 14 years of on-and-off negotiations. Thousands of students staged noisy demonstrations in Seoul and Tokyo to protest the treaties.

Foreign ministers Lee Dong Won of South Korea and Eisaku Sato of Japan signed the documents at the official residence of Premier Eisaku Sato. Sato interrupted an election junket to witness the ceremony which was nationally televised.

The foreign ministers signed a basic treaty, four separate agreements and two protocols, covering diplomatic relations, fisheries, Korean property claims and economic cooperation, the status of Korean nationals residing in Japan, cultural property and cultural cooperation, $300 million in Japanese grants and $200 million in long-term, low-interest loans from Japan.

The negotiations did not settle the status of Takeshima Island which both countries claim. It was referred to further talks.

Club-swinging police arrested about 600 youths in Seoul while breaking up a demonstration by about 7,000 students. Scores of police and demonstrators were injured and army troops were called out as the protest went into its second straight day.

In Tokyo, some 3,000 members of the left-wing Zengakuren student organization took to the streets.

Hearing Set On Rates of Paul Firm

BOISE — A public hearing is scheduled for 9:30 a.m. Aug. 1 in the Conference Room of the Ponderosa Inn, Burley, to determine whether or not the Paul Electric Co. should reduce its rates.

The Idaho Public Utilities Commission reported Tuesday in Boise that since the last rate proceeding "events have transpired allowing the Paul Electric Co. to reduce certain operating expenses and consequently the present rates now in effect."

This commission should be investigated to determine whether or not rate reductions should be ordered.

The commission also feels the firm should be investigated to determine if the present facilities are adequate or whether additions, extensions, repairs, improvements or change should be made.

College Okayed for Federal Loan Funds

Federal funds for loans to needy students at the College of Southern Idaho have been approved, Dr. James L. Taylor, president of the junior college here, reported Tuesday. Dr. Taylor said he had been notified by the U. S. commissioner of education, Department of Health, Education and Welfare, that $14,850 has been approved for use by the college during the coming academic year, in connection with the National Defense Student Loan Program. The loan program is subject to the approval by Congress of a $179,300,000 appropriation, but pending final action the college is authorized to make loans totaling $2,858.

The college office also announced Tuesday that the Vocational and Technical Education branch of the college is ready to accept applications for enrollment in vocational classes, which begin Sept. 1.

Wayne Rodgers, director of the technical branch, said classes to be offered include automotive mechanics, automotive body repair, home appliance service, farm machinery repair, welding and distributive education.

It is expected a total of nine instructors will be included on the staff. Instructors with industrial experience are being employed, bringing with them their first hand knowledge of the trade and of employe qualifications.

The classes, with the exception of distributive education, will operate as day trade preparatory classes from 8 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Distributive education is a cooperative program in which the student works part time in a job associated with merchandising, and attends college classes part time.

Because the number of students to be enrolled in each class is limited, early application is advised.

Minister of Afghanistan Is Impressed by Small Farms

KING HILL — The minister of agriculture in Afghanistan is becoming impressed with the merits of small individual farms.

Stopping here for the weekend at the Karl Richards ranch, on a nationwide tour in company of Harold Richards, Mohammad Nasir, Keshawar, said he had not been very enthusiastic about private enterprise or the idea of small farmers, as opposed to large government farms.

Harold Richards, who recently returned from Afghanistan where he was employed by the U. S. Agency for International Development as a livestock technician, said the tour has made a good impression on the minister and he hopes it will boost efforts toward small, private farms in that country.

Richards met Keshawar in New York and has been conducting him on a month-long

U.S. Planes Bomb Viet Nam Targets Near China Border

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U. S. fighter-bombers made their deepest penetration of North Viet Nam today and for the first time poured bombs and rockets into targets north of the Hanoi line. "A U. S. spokesman said one raid was against army barracks at Son La, 110 miles west northwest of Hanoi and only 80 miles from the Red Chinese border. It also was 55 miles from Dien Bien Phu, where the French army went down to defeat in Indochina. Eight U. S. Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs dropped 17 tons of 750-pound general purpose bombs on the complex, destroying 20 buildings and damaging nine others, the spokesman said.

The Thunderchiefs, escorted by 20 other planes, were over the target for 30 minutes, the spokesman said.

Another group of eight Thunderchiefs with the same 20 escorts attacked the Van Nuoc Chien ammunition depot 70 miles west northwest of Hanoi, the spokesman said. Moderate damage was reported to the target, an indication that there were no secondary explosions caused by exploding ammunition.

No enemy aircraft were sighted and anti-aircraft fire was light to moderate, the spokesman said.

The previous northernmost penetration of North Viet Nam was a U. S. Navy strike against Hon Gay, 75 miles east of Hanoi. This was during the August 1964 Gulf of Tonkin crisis.

The nearest raid to Hanoi was 45 miles to the south earlier this year.

In all, some 60 U. S. and Vietnamese air force and U. S. Navy planes dropped about 300 tons of bombs on widely scattered targets in North Viet Nam today, U. S. spokesmen said. Targets included barracks, supply depots, bridges and ferries.

A U. S. Air Force pilot bailed out of his F100 Super Sabre Jet 23 miles south of Da Nang, in South Viet Nam, and was quickly picked up safe by an American helicopter. The plane was not hit by enemy fire, a U. S. military spokesman said.

In Saigon, a Viet Cong terrorist shouted "Down with the Americans" as he died before a firing squad for trying to blow up an American billet in a Saigon suburb.

The defiant Communist, Tran Van Dang, 25, was executed at dawn in Saigon's central market square while newsmen and photographers watched.

"Nuisance Taxes" End With New Law

WASHINGTON (AP)—If you buy a piece of jewelry today, a lipstick, a handbag, a suitcase or even a knapsack, you don't have to pay a federal retail tax on it—for the first time in years. Those so-called nuisance taxes were among the federal excise taxes wiped out at midnight after President Johnson signed the $4.7-billion tax cut bill in a White House ceremony Monday. Other excise taxes are being reduced in stages. The first-stage cuts on two big ones—cars and air conditioners—retroactive to last May 15, so that if you bought one of these anytime since then you'll get a refund. On cars the refund should average about $70.

Motor Firms Partaking in Tax Cut Law

DETROIT (UPI) — Chrysler Corp. and the Ford Motor Co. moved today to begin full participation in the initial 3 per cent cut in the 10 per cent excise on new automobiles.

Ford issued the first of approximately 200,000 excise tax rebate checks that will be sent to Ford customers.

The tax cut was retroactive to May 15 and the auto companies have promised to see that their customers receive the benefits.

Chrysler began mailing applications for refunds Monday to some 130,000 purchasers who bought Chrysler built cars between May 15 and Monday when President Johnson signed into law legislation cutting various excise levies.

General Motors and American Motors also began various plans to rebate to auto purchasers the savings from the excise cut.

Rebel Strike In Dominican Has Finished

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—A 72-hour, nationwide strike in support of the rebel government appeared to have collapsed today.

Miguel Soto, president of the confederation of unions sponsoring the walkout, blamed "police and army repression" for a post-strike situation. A junta spokesman denied charges that union leaders had been arrested and workers forced to return to their jobs. The strike started Monday, shutting a handful of Santo Domingo's 40 factories. Most of them reopened today, although Soto had predicted that the strike would gain strength this morning.

Two Hurt in Crash of Car, Motorcycle

Two youths were listed in fairly good condition Tuesday at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital, where they were taken after the motorcycle they were riding collided with a car about midnight Monday on Addison Avenue West.

City police reported the Yamaha motorcycle driven by Lonnie Lee Brewick, Tucson, Ariz., and Curtis Hanes, Twin Falls, attempted to make a left turn into a driveway at the Dairy Queen drive-in after cutting in front of a car driven by Janice L. End, 19, 403 Fourth Ave. E.

Miss End was going south on Addison Avenue West and she hit the motorcycle, throwing it approximately 10 feet into and under the back of a car properly parked by the curb.

Both Brewick and Hanes were taken to the hospital, where they both are being treated for fractured legs and abrasions.

Quicker

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP) — Charles McNally, 19, a cook, discovered it's quicker to walk than ride. He hiked the 400 miles from London to visit his parents in Glasgow in seven days. But his suitcase, sent by train, still hadn't arrived two weeks after it was sent. British Railways are investigating.

Miners Held By Convicts Are Released

PETROS, Tenn. (AP)—Four coal mine foremen who had been held overnight in a Brushy Mountain Prison coal mine by 73 rebellious convicts were released unharmed today.

The prisoners, who staged a sit-down in the prison mine Monday on entering it for the night shift, also emerged from the mountaintide mine.

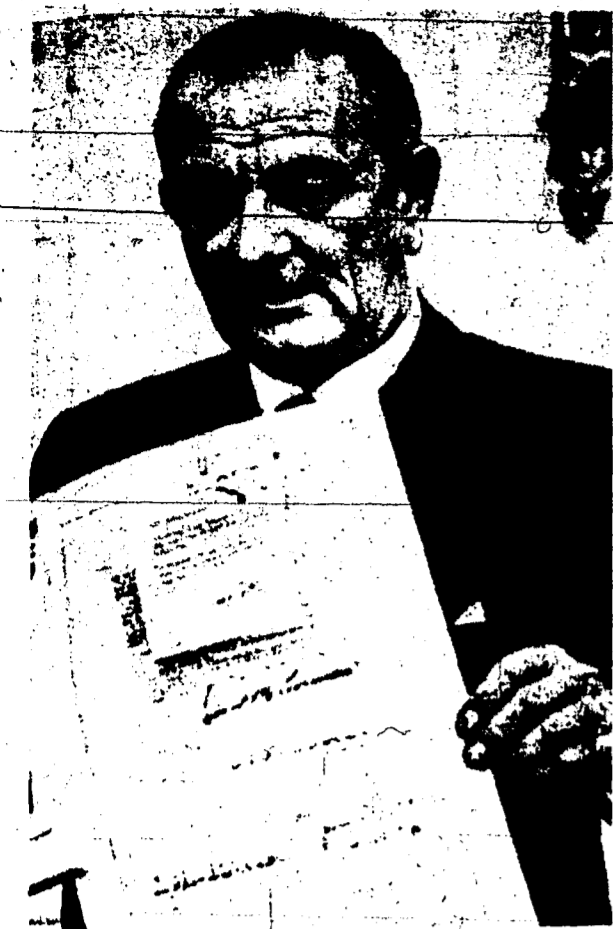

Jack Ford, one of the hostages, said the prisoners decided to abandon their sit-down after mine Supt. Lonnie Arms agreed to confer with them about their undisclosed grievances.

Mars Photos By Mariner 4 May Be Held

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — There's a chance the best of the 18 to 21 photographs the U. S. spacecraft Mariner 4 takes of Mars July 14 may not be released to the public for weeks or even months.

A spokesman for Jet Propulsion Laboratory says scientists have agreed to immediate release of only the first three photographs, and possibly some others.

The rest of the historic pictures, which could show whether there are canal-like structures on the planet believed most likely to harbor extraterrestrial beings, may be withheld for detailed study and analysis. "Our agreement with the scientists assigned to study the photographs gives them a proprietary right to scientific information, including the photographs, obtained by the spacecraft," said a spokesman for the laboratory, which built and is tracking Mariner 4 on its 325-million-mile voyage. The blaze threatened a large machine shop the firm owns at the site, according to John Halverson, manager. But firemen brought the fire under control before it spread beyond the machine shed. The building was partially destroyed.

Doctor Is Killed in Plane Crash

OPHEIM, Mont. (UPI) — Dr. Phillip A. Smith, 49-year-old Glasgow physician, was killed Monday night moments after taking off from an unlighted airstrip in his single-engine private plane.

Three eyewitnesses said they urged Smith to drive back to Glasgow, 50 miles south, after they were unable to turn on the runway lights at the turf-covered field.

Smith, who was in Ophelm with other Glasgow School Board members to discuss school bus transportation for Larsland students, crashed at 10:15 p.m. a mile from the airstrip on the Thomas St. German ranch.

The witnesses, Glenn Dix and Tom Coghlan, fellow school board members from Glasgow, and Leo Shelrud, Larsland, said Smith's Cessna 210 appeared to have left the ground in good condition, but its left wing hit a knoll as Smith was making a turn. They said it skidded 20 to 30 feet on the knoll, then its nose went into the ground and the plane cartwheeled for about 250 feet.

The fuel tank in the left wing burned. Smith was thrown from the plane and his body found 45 feet from the wreckage.

The sky was overcast and the night was described as "inky black."

The crash was the third in less than three months involving small planes out of Glasgow. The toll in those three crashes was seven.

Money Maid

YAKIMA, Wash. (AP) — Tami Garbe, 6, was helping her grandfather, E. J. Toske, take some money to the bank from a women's clothing store Monday.

Tami was carrying the big money bag, which contained $300 cash and $476.80 in checks.

They stopped at a service station, and Tami left the bag in a restroom.

A half hour later a woman turned the money over to a courthouse custodian. She left without identifying herself.

Man Arrested In Utah Uproar

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — A Salt Lake City man was arrested Monday night in a downtown disturbance involving about 100 persons. Police used two Canine Corps Cruisers to restore order.

Officers identified the man as Thomas Gene Davis, 20. He was released on $160 bail.

Officer Dale B. Bullock said the crowd gathered as he attempted to check Davis' identification to issue a traffic citation.

A total of eight police cruisers answered Bullock's call for help. The disturbance occurred at Seventh South and Fourth East.

Loving Touches for Baby Are Important

NEW YORK (AP) — Tender, loving touches may be one of the most important things you can do for a baby.

His soft skin is perhaps the part of the body by which he does his first great learning about his strange outside world, a psychiatrist said today.

And the skin-learning, or lack of it, apparently can be important in how the baby grows up, said Dr. Sidney Cohen of Los Angeles.

Cohen is chief of psychiatric service at Wadsworth Hospital in Los Angeles and a professor at the University of California at Los Angeles.

It's generally considered that lack of a mother, or good substitute motherly care, may have serious and lifelong impact on a child's character, he told the American Medical Association.

This is known as maternal deprivation — even by a real mother who is cold or detached — and is a complex matter, he said.

Cohen focused upon just one aspect of it — little or no skin stimulation.

For one thing, he said, the nerve endings for touch, temperature and pain are the first to develop — insulating sheaths long before the infant develops effective nerves for hearing or seeing.

Skin contacts are the first sole means "of communicating security and affection, a need as great or even more important than the feeding process," Cohen said. "It is evidently relaxing and pleasurable to the infant to be stroked, cuddled and massaged."

What a child feels, from all senses, during the first six months of life "may have its greatest impact upon the child's evolving personality and physiology," he said.

Children reared in an orphanage, kept clean and well-fed but rarely handled, weren't considered to have fared as well, mentally and emotionally, as babies reared in a prison nursery by their own mothers, Cohen said, citing a study by other researchers.

Two Sentenced In Utah Death

OGDEN (AP) — An Ogden judge sentenced two 26-year-old men one to 10 years in the state prison and added an indelible promise that the men would not receive his recommendation for leniency on a voluntary manslaughter conviction.

Sentenced were Leon A. Dyer, 26, Ogden, and Gary Lynn Hornung, 26, Salt Lake City. The two men were convicted in the death of George Moriarty, Salt Lake City, Jan. 2.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON — That motion introduced in the House of Commons by a clutch of Labor members puts those British war heroes in their place, all right. In defending the queen's best-owed of the prized Order of the British Empire on some show biz jokers named the Beatles, the motion in effect asks the heroes how many American dollars they ever earned for their country.
The Beatles, say these Labor types, were most deserving of their decorations because they had brought "great commercial advantage in dollar earnings to this country."

Andrew Tully

...IT'S THE BUCK THAT COUNTS — That's putting the whole thing in the proper perspective. Under the decadent system known as a constitutional monarchy, honors which used to be awarded to guys who had shot dead unrepentant Germans or invented penicillin henceforth will be distributed to those Britons expert at making a fast buck—and the faster the better.
There is still, of course, an element of unfairness in this new gesture to Mammon by British royalty and the businessmen who own and operate it. If the Beatles are to be honored for their public catering, it is only proper that the queen pay homage to other brisk entrepreneurs, most of whom could be persuaded to clean their fingernails for the decoration ceremony.

MEDAL FOR PINKY—In my salad days, for example, I encountered a barkeep in a Liverpool pub who over the years must have brought his native land a fortune in dollars. Pinky was, and probably still is, an expert at concocting a Mickey Finn, that bland mixture which sends strong men reeling to the pavement like felled oxen. Once comatose, the victim was frisked of his wallet, whose contents forthwith were poured into the British economy.

Similarly, a royal house eager to honor commercial achievement could find any number of candidates among the girls who patrol Piccadilly of a pleasant evening. Like the Beatles, these females collect in advance, thus eliminating the risk of bad debts. Naturally, the awards would have to be presented in the daytime in order not to interfere with the girls' livelihood. Likewise, the ladies would have to be warned to eschew solicitation in Buckingham Palace when they dropped by to pick up their medals, and it would be wise to count the silver after their departure, but they sure would give the joint the common touch.

THE HEROES REACT — In another era, it perhaps would be touching to read the letter written to Queen Elizabeth by C. V. Hearn, who won a British Empire medal in World War II, and mailed it back to her royal highness in protest against the Beatles' decorations. "I am not a pop singer," wrote Hearn, "but just an inadequate man who did his bit for his king and country during the war. The medal no longer has any value..." And Col. Frederick Wagg returned all 12 of his military medals to the queen and, for the unkindest cut of all, changed his will in which he had bequeathed $30,000 to the Labor Party.

But unfortunately Wagg and Hearn are behind the times. The Empire medal does, too, have value — to some people. It remains a handy reward for those bookies and "rock 'n' rollers" whose peculiar talents are negotiable in today's market place. War heroes like Wagg and Hearn who merely saved their country wouldn't draw 10 bucks at the Palladium, or even in Hyde Park. They had best go back home and lick their battle wounds and stop interfering with progress.

INTEGRITY OF FAMILY LIFE
There are signs that in the United States one of the most essential institutions of society—the family—is in trouble. The divorce rate, juvenile delinquency, illegitimacy, alcoholism, mothers who work, the tendency of television to monopolize home activity, and the increasing interest of the young in a host of outside attractions, all point to a breakdown in family life.
The Rev. Dr. Joseph Fletcher, professor of social ethics at the Episcopal Theological School in Cambridge, Mass., in a recent address speculated whether the American family today, facing unprecedented pressures, retains enough functions to keep it alive.

He pointed out that the economic function has gone to the business and industrial systems—and one might add, to government-sponsored programs of social welfare. Protection, he noted, has passed largely to government and police, education to schools, recreation to commercial entertainment, religion to the churches, and the status-giving functions to the individual.

Certainly the changes wrought by modern industrial and technological society, having progressed further in the United States than in most other parts of the world, are bringing unusually profound challenges to American family life. Moreover, Americans are increasingly finding themselves, whether by choice or otherwise, living alone. It is not unusual for their families to be thousands of miles away. In Europe and Asia family life, by contrast, "still has much of its traditional warmth and intimacy."

Preventative family counseling and other temporary remedial measures can help, but society will have to get at the underlying causes of the problem. We believe that the family, although going through an extremely difficult period of adjustment to new conditions, will show the resilience necessary for survival and that it will continue to make essential contributions to individual and community life.

But it cannot regain its moral authority "by reinstating the authoritarian role it once occupied." It will take the best creative thought of the present generation to establish it on foundations sufficient to hold firm amid the rapidly changing times in which we live.—Christian Science Monitor.

BUREAUCRACY AND FLOWERS
The First Lady of the land has come up with an idea that horrifies the federal highway administrator, to wit: having club-women plant flowers up and down the nation's highways.

It would contribute greatly to the beauty of the nation, no doubt, the administrator says, but no telling how many ladies would get killed while hoeing along the freeways. They also might be likely to plant delicate hothouse varieties that would break the nation up with water bills.

He has an alternate proposal: Let the ladies plant all they want in roadside parks, scenic lookouts, and rest areas. But when it comes to the right-of-way, the maintenance crews will handle the landscaping.

And thus does free enterprise fall before the crushing weight of federal bureaucracy.—Wichita Beacon.

MARQUIS CHILDS WRITES ON WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON — More than the President himself his secretary of defense, Robert S. McNamara, is taking the punishment in the controversies that rage over the huge defense establishment and the military aspects of foreign policy. The shot and shell come from every side and if he looks drawn and tense is hardly surprising.

Should he stay on in the job, and there is no reason to believe he will not stay, McNamara will be at the center of a dispute already shaping up over Viet Nam. An exchange on Capitol Hill the other day was a portent.
Sen. Strom Thurmond, the Republican convert out of South Carolina, was quizzing an army general who seemed reluctant to confirm the senator's views. Finally Thurmond said: "You aren't letting those civilians tell you what to do, are you? Are you mice or men over there?"

An influential and highly articulate wing of the Republican Party has begun the campaign for "victory" in Viet Nam by extending the bombing raids. Bombing can win and therefore, so goes this war cry, it is wrong to commit large numbers of ground troops in a jungle war in Asia. The principal spokesman for this line is former Sen. Barry Goldwater. But increasingly, Republicans in Congress are during the Eisenhower administration, its first year cost (fiscal year 1953) was just under $2 billion. It topped $2 billion in fiscal 1958 and HEW was on its way.

This is an upward trend characteristic of government spending. In fiscal 1960 when the Eisenhower administration turned in a Treasury surplus of $1.2, Ike had revenue of $77.7 but spent $76.5 billion. Treasury revenue was $86.3 billion in fiscal 1963 and LBJ spent $92.6 for a deficit of $6.2 billion. The next year revenue was up to $89.4 billion but Johnson's deficit was up, also, to $8.2 billion.
On the basis of the Treasury's June 1 figures, it appears that the deficit in this fiscal year will be about $5.5 billion. And next year, more red ink!

Poor Man's Plato

By HAL BOYLE

NHA TRANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — She was close to tears.
It was the last day of duty for Lt. Julie Klebaum, 24, Wapato, Wash., one of seven American nurses at the 8th U.S. Army Field Hospital.
She was going home after a year here, a year in which some 5,500 ailing, injured and wounded men went through the hospital.

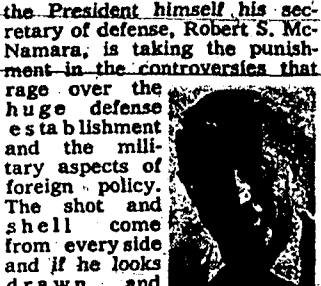

Julie is 5 feet 3 and has dark hair, blue-green eyes and a nice figure. She would be called pretty in any part of the world, but it is her friendly, outgoing personality that has made her a favorite here.
She smiled a little tremulously when Capt. Frank Harbor of Starkville, Miss., told her a company of airmen wanted to turn out in formation to give her a farewell tribute salute when she left.
"That'll be lovely," she said warmly.

"I've mixed emotions about leaving. There is a job satisfaction here you don't find so frequently in the States.
"These wonderful men, wonderful patients. They aren't goldbrickers. I'll miss them."
As one of seven American women among several thousand men, Lt. Klebaum naturally received a flattering amount of male attention.

"You become a combined mother, wife, sister and girl friend," she said, laughing.
"They all want you to help them shop for things for their women back home.
"It's an honor in a way. It's a very unusual position, one I've never been in before. The men are interested in you first because you are around, second because you speak English, and only third because you're an American girl. But they're great. They'll do anything for you."

Back home nurses aren't supposed to wear perfume on duty.
"But we all do here," said Julie. "The patients want us to. They also want us to wear lipstick and nail polish. They want us to look very feminine. To them we're the idealization of American women because they don't see any others."
The nurses work a 12-hour day or longer six days a week.
"I've helped nurse everybody from a Vietnamese baby with tuberculosis to GIs with worms, malaria, dengue fever, appendicitis, or gunshot wounds," she said.

The case that most upset her was a pilot about 30 whose abdomen was riddled by ground fire.
"He stayed at the controls for half an hour until he got his plane back," she said. "He died so well. He knew he was dying but he didn't give up."

Marquis Childs

championing the bombing way to easy victory.
For many reasons McNamara will be their target of attack. Although it has not been generally understood he has again and again resisted pressure from the Air Force and the Navy to push the war to limits making any political settlement all but impossible. That pressure is currently concentrated on bombing in the Hanoi-Haiphong area.
During the campaign last fall the secretary did not hesitate to respond when Goldwater fired at him with what McNamara considered an irresponsible or inaccurate charge. He became, as Goldwater warmed up, "Yo-Yo McNamara" who was guilty of flying back and forth between Washington and Saigon and putting out conflicting reports on the progress of the war.
By a directive taking members of congress out of the ready reserve McNamara won the enmity of those with close links with the services. The directive put an end to Air Squadron 99 which had been called Goldwater's own air force. Squadron 99, composed of senators and representatives and their staff assistants, was given to junketing around the world in "Air Force planes. There was always a question as to whether holding a commission in the active reserve was not a violation of a provision of the Constitution that members of Congress may not be on active military service.
The secretary, who takes members of Congress at their word when they argue for economy, has made enemies in two ways. His orders closing down a whole series of useless or inefficient bases and construction centers brought cries of anguish. Under the egregious new chairman, Mendel Rivers of South Carolina, the House Armed Services Committee has just voted to clip McNamara's wings. An amendment tacked onto the military construction bill would give either Senate or House the right to veto any McNamara order on bases.
These conflicts are part of the hostility built up toward McNamara. But though they feed the controversy over bombing and the right of command to decide when and how and where they shall bomb, the essence is in the conviction of an easy war easily won from the air. This has been an important part of conservative Republican doctrine for a long time.
It was a major element in the political assault that developed over the Korean war beginning in 1951 and reaching a climax in General Eisenhower's campaign for the presidency in 1952. That became "Truman's war" and the "privileged sanctuary" in China the reason American forces could not achieve victory in both North and South Korea.
Signs are multiplying that the same kind of controversy could grow out of the commitment of 100,000 men or more to South Viet Nam and the casualties that will follow. President Johnson's popularity is high and he may not get the bricks, but his secretary of defense, who has never dodged a controversy when he felt he was right, is vulnerable.
At stake, of course, is something far more than personal likes or dislikes. In McNamara's view it is a question of the certainty of civilian command and control in the nuclear age, and while the founding fathers who drafted the Constitution could not have foreseen this fantastic age they made civilian authority preeminent over the military.

Bridge by Jacoby

BRIDGE CHANGES IN 33 YEARS
Jim Jacoby starts today's discussion by asking his father how he would have bid the North hand had he held it in 1932.
Oswald replies: "I would just have had to guess after my partner opened with one spade and undoubtedly would have responded three diamonds and then jumped to six spades after partner rebid to three hearts. In those days no one could do any better and I would achieve an average result."

Jim: "It all goes to show how bridge has improved. Today any two of my students would have no trouble getting to seven spades. North has the perfect hand for a Blackwood four no-trump response because he can stop at five if his partner has opened without aces; settle for

The Doctor Says

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

A couple of readers have questioned my inclusion of milkweed in a list of poisonous plants. They state that young shoots can be cooked and eaten like asparagus. It is true that this plant appears on some lists of wild natural foods or "survival foods" and it is probably not harmful to adults, especially when cooked.
One case of poisoning each from Kansas, Kentucky, Massachusetts and Ohio was reported in 1959 and 1960. The parts eaten were the pod, leaves and "milk." The victims ranged from two to one and one-half years and they had bouts of vomiting, stupor and collapse. None of them died.
Another reader calls attention, quite correctly, to the fact that the hemlock that killed Socrates was not the evergreen tree (hemlock spruce) but either water hemlock or the closely related Conium maculatum. The evergreen needles are very tasty and are often used to make a brew similar to pine tea.
Several readers have also written to question the inclusion of rosemary, sage and flax in my list. The dried leaves of rosemary and sage are harmless when used in small amounts as seasoning. Eating the fresh leaves in large amounts, as children sometimes do, is dangerous. Sage contains thujone which in large amounts has been known to cause death. Flax seeds and possibly other parts of the plant are poisonous only when eaten in large amounts, but a tea brewed from flax seeds is not poisonous or I would not be here today.
There are doubtless other plants in my list which can be eaten with impunity provided certain parts are avoided, the plant is cooked or the person eating it is an adult.
Q—What is the cause of undulant fever? What are the symptoms? Is it hereditary or catching? It is related to milk leg?
A—Undulant fever is an infection with a germ that is transmitted chiefly by drinking unpasteurized milk from cows with Bang's disease. It is not hereditary and is not passed from one human being to another. An attack starts with a low fever, headache, weakness, insomnia, loss of appetite, sweats and generalized aching pains. The disease if untreated becomes chronic with many relapses but it can now be cured with antibiotics.
It is not related to milk leg, which is a swelling of one leg due to inflammation and clotting in the large veins sometimes observed in a mother a few days after delivery.

Boys Happy Working at Berry Farm

SALINAS, Calif. (AP)—Far from being discouraged, the 24 remaining A-Team members from Boise, Idaho, are happy with their jobs picking strawberries in the Salinas Strawberry Inc. fields near here, Grov Maddock, Boise A-team advisor, said Monday.

"In fact," Maddock said, "three of the boys are so enthusiastic, they want to stay eight weeks instead of the previously planned six."

However, seven of the original 31 boys have left the fields to return home. Maddock said this was because of discouragement over the initial substandard conditions at the camp which he said had since been corrected after a visit by State and Federal Government Labor Department Inspectors.

Maddock said the boys are currently in a 64-hour training period during which they are guaranteed $1.40 an hour. After this period the boys will be paid on a piece rate basis. Maddock said the boys are confident they can equal or better their present guaranteed wage when they begin to work on the piece rate basis.

Maddock added that the working and living conditions are better than when the team first arrived a week ago. At first, he said, milk was served only once a day. Now, a milk dispenser has been installed and the boys can have milk with all their meals.

The general quality of the food also has improved during the past week, Maddock said.

Study Urged For Water Storage Work

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, urged the Bureau of Reclamation Monday to reopen a study aimed at determining the feasibility of constructing a multi-purpose water storage project on the Upper Big Wood River.

In a letter to U. S. Reclamation Commissioner Floyd Dorn, Church said original needs for additional downstream irrigation waters in Blaine, Gooding and Lincoln counties still exist, adding:

"Coupled to this continued need are new urgent factors for flood and soil erosion control and recreational benefits from the reservoir that would be created by this project."

A study of the proposed project on Boulder Creek, located north of Sun Valley, were initiated more than 10 years ago. Original plans called for creation of a reservoir with a capacity of 195,000 acre feet of water.

At the organizational meeting Monday, Jon E. Soderblom, parks director in the land department, was retained as temporary director of the new department until a permanent appointment is made.

DECISION UPHELD
BOISE (AP) — The Idaho Supreme Court Monday upheld dismissal on a Mountain Home executive widow's suit for a $10,000 insurance claim.

Mrs. Anna Jean Whiney filed suit against Continental Life and Accident Co., after the death of her husband, Wayne, a member of the Idaho Movers and Warehousemen's Conference, in 1960.

The insurance company said it had not written a group insurance policy for the conference because there had not been a minimum 100 insurance applicants as legally required.

An Elmore County District Court ruled in favor of the company and dismissed the suit. The state Supreme Court upheld that decision Monday.

Rafter addressed the 140 directors at opening sessions of their annual meeting in McCall.

The two-day convention will end Tuesday with election of officers and a meeting of the board of directors.

Q. I owned some Bestwall Gypsum Co. stock. Due to the merger of that company into Georgia-Pacific Corp. I received 20 shares of Georgia-Pacific $1.64 convertible preferred stock, which has an "involuntary liquidating value of $41 a share." Can you explain what is meant by that? Does it mean the company can call in my stock by paying me $41 a share?

A. The words which you don't quite understand don't mean what you suggest. The phrase means that, if Georgia-Pacific ever went into involuntary liquidation (forced bankruptcy) the holders of the $1.64 convertible preferred stock would be paid off (to the tune of $41 a share) before any payment could be made to the holders of the company's common stock.

A. This is similar to provisions on most issues of preferred stocks. Of course, the possibility of a major company going bust is mighty remote. Nevertheless, a preferred stock normally carries this protective provision.

Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON AP Business News Analyst NEW YORK (AP)—Big government may prove a boon for the lone wolf businessman after all.

For years the entrepreneur, part of American folklore, has tended to look upon ever-bigger government as one of the threats to his way of operating. Now he is finding that big government is making available to him production techniques and methods of doing business which only it can afford to undertake.

Big government and also big business, with which the entrepreneur has been at odds, are now seeking to revive the qualities which traditionally made the organizer, the risk-taker, and the controller of the essentially one-man enterprise, a prime force in developing the American economy.

A government study of the lone wolf businessman describes him as a man who has the will to control, the freedom to think independently and the ruthlessness to do what is expedient, regardless of past ties or loyalties. It cites his ability to project his own experience into new situations, in which criteria do not yet exist, and to create his own standards for acceptable levels of accomplishment.

For years government borrowed techniques from business, to some extent because it was becoming so involved in business itself. But now that government has pushed into many new fields, both large and small businesses are finding many of its activities directly applicable to their own.

The Polarix submarine is an example cited by Sylvan Gollin, in charge of Walter Dorwin Teague Associates' 20-year-old program of design and quality control development for the Navy's Bureau of Weapons.

He says that Polarix and other Navy projects have required research in all aspects of management to permit successful operation. Private organizations helped develop them. But by now the Navy has established standards and methods of control over production on its own, rather than depending on those of its suppliers.

Advisory and financial aid from government agencies are helping entrepreneurs enter new fields, found new enterprises. But Gollin contends that thanks to government techniques "new business will make fewer costly mistakes."

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

TUESDAY, June 22—Born today, you are inclined to be more emotional than any given situation or circumstance demands.

Wednesday, June 23—CANCER (June 23-July 23)—A day for practicality. Don't allow your fancies or wishful thinking to get the better of your power of reason.

Thursday, June 24—LEO (July 24-Aug. 23)—A healthy respect for detail rather than for the "grand design" will take you far today. Deal with major issues later.

Friday, June 25—VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23)—Diligence and the application of your native intelligence should enable you to take the lead among your fellows.

Saturday, June 26—LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23)—It is not enough to say that you are fond of your friends; prove words with deeds!

Sunday, June 27—SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)—A day which can be amusing if you have your sense of humor in tow. The too-serious Scorpio may have a difficult time of it.

Monday, June 28—SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22)—Look on the bright side! These are days which may require additional effort from Sagittarius—but they should bring additional gain!

Tuesday, June 29—CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20)—Avoid a run-in with those who have authority over you, whether it be a matter of business or family.

Wednesday, June 30—AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19)—Even though you may be called upon to give advice, don't be disappointed if it isn't taken. To advise is not to dictate!

Thursday, July 1—PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)—Your own concern for your reputation should be enough of a guide for today. It is not wrong to be tempted—only to give in.

Friday, July 2—ARIES (March 21-April 20)—Avoid extremes of feeling today. Keep your emotional responses in check, and make a special effort to exercise your intellect.

Saturday, July 3—TAURUS (April 21-May 21)—You may have to expend an excess of energy during the working hours if you are to achieve success today.

Sunday, July 4—GEMINI (May 22-June 21)—Be guided by your own sense of duty. The Gemini who does not fall himself will not let others today.

Monday, July 5—CANCER (June 23-July 23)—A day for practicality. Don't allow your fancies or wishful thinking to get the better of your power of reason.

NFL Stakes Its Claim to Atlanta For 1966 Season

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Football League staked its first claim in the Deep South Monday, voting a franchise to Atlanta for 1966 and apparently taking the prized Dixie metropolis away from the rival American Football League. In a unanimous vote, the 14 NFL club owners approved — as expected — the initial step in the league's second major expansion project in five years.

Spring Wish Comes True For Tebbetts

By The Associated Press
Birdie Tebbetts rubbed his magic lamp during spring training and made a wish. "We hope we have good pitching," the Cleveland manager said, looking toward the American League race this season.

The Genii never came through as well for Aladdin. Cleveland pitchers pulled two more brilliant performances out of Birdie's lamp Sunday as the Indians extended their winning streak to nine with 5-0 and 3-1 victories over the Los Angeles Angels.

The sweep tied the league's longest winning streak this year and kept the third-place Indians 1 1/2 games behind the league-leading Minnesota Twins, who took New York 6-4 and 7-4.

Sam McDowell fired a two-hitter in the opener for his eighth victory against three defeats, giving the Indians four shutouts in five games. Lee Stange gave up a run in the ninth but held the Angels to five hits.

Thus, in the last six contests, Indian hurlers have allowed only three runs. And excluding Friday night's 3-2 triumph over the Angels, the opposition has touched them for only 14 hits since last Wednesday.

Jim Brown Is Charged With Assault

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI) — Jim Brown, great fullback of the world champion Cleveland Browns, was charged with assault and battery Monday by an 18-year-old Cleveland girl.

The complaint lodged with the police prosecutor by Brenda Ayres charged Brown beat her in a motel on the city's east side early Sunday.

Brown was not available for comment. He was released on personal bond after the complaint was filed.

His wife, Sue, said she did not know where her husband was.

"He left this morning (Monday) to play golf. I don't know when he'll be in," she said.

A spokesman for the Browns said club owner Art Modell had not been advised of the charge against his No. 1 star, and none of the club officials had talked to Brown about the incident.

According to the police complaint, Miss Ayres charged she was beaten at a Howard Johnson Motor Lodge. Brown is to appear for a hearing in municipal court Tuesday.

Acquire Pitcher

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals acquired right-handed pitcher Gerald Vezdy from the Boston Red Sox on waivers Monday and optioned him to Raleigh of the Carolina League.

The Cardinals obtained him for about $8,000.

Lindgren Says He Will Enter AAU Meet Despite NCAA Ban

SPOKANE (AP) — Gerry Lindgren, Washington State University freshman distance star, said here Monday he would enter the National Amateur Athletic Union Track and Field Championships Saturday and Sunday in San Diego, Calif. The announcement of Lindgren's came in the face of a National Collegiate Athletic Association warning that schools and athletes would be subject to penalty if they competed in the AAU event.

Lindgren said he hoped other collegiate performers would join in a boycott of the NCAA ban.

WSU Athletic Director Stan Bates reportedly was disturbed by the report and said that the school is obligated to follow the NCAA rules.

He said penalties for violation of those rules have not been determined but said Lindgren's decision could result in the loss of his athletic scholarship.

Lindgren reportedly will compete in the six-mile event at San Diego Sunday night. The best performers at the AAU meet will compete against Russia in July in Kiev.

Rozelle said he had talked by phone with Arthur Montgomery, chairman of the Atlanta Stadium Authority, and reported the Atlanta as being "very happy" over the NFL's vote.

The commissioner also said Gov. Carl Sanders of Georgia "was elated" over the prospect of having an NFL team in his state.

Robert Richardson, a legal advisor to the Stadium Authority, said the group "would meet promptly on the matter, but I can't say exactly when."

Game Tonight

The Twin Falls American Legion team will host Valley at 8 p.m. today at Jaycee park.

Coach Harold Brown will send righthander Kirk Williams against Valley, which probably will use lefty Rick Kelly.

Cowan Gives Mets Victory Over Dodgers

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Billy Cowan's leadoff home run in the ninth inning broke up a brilliant pitching duel between New York's Al Jackson and Los Angeles' Claude Osteen and gave the Mets a 1-0 victory Monday night.

Osteen, who pitched a one-hitter only last Wednesday night against San Francisco, held the Mets hitless for six innings. Joe Christopher, who had struck out twice, then broke the spell with a bunt single leading off the seventh.

Cowan, however, led off the ninth with his first homer of the season, a shot that sailed into the left field bullpen.

Jackson, now 3-9, allowed only three hits, coasting against the Dodgers after they failed to score with the bases loaded and two out in the first inning.

Wimbledon Net Play Is Rained Out

WIMBLEDON, England, (AP) — Dennis Ralston, 22-year-old tennis star from Bakersfield, Calif., led countryman Ham Richardson 7-6 in the first set Monday when rain and fading light ended the rain-wrecked opening day of the Wimbledon Tennis Championship.

Ralston, the top-ranked U.S. player and the only American seeded in the Wimbledon men's draw, took a calculated risk in playing. He suffered a badly strained right thumb and when he went on the court his hand was wrapped in a bandage from the tip of his thumb to the top of his wrist.

Richardson, a 31-year-old veteran who has played on six U.S. Davis Cup teams, can be a formidable opponent for a sound player.

Ralston was happy that the rain gave him another day to recover from his injury. The All-England tennis club officials, who are responsible for keeping the Wimbledon program on schedule, were unhappy about the whole day.

Utah Seeks Endorsement Of Ski Runs

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Chairman Max E. Rich of the Olympics for Utah Committee said Monday the state will receive U.S. endorsement for the 1972 Winter Olympics if it can get its downhill ski runs certified.

Rich told Gov. Calvin L. Rampton the certification must come from the Federation Internationale d'Ski.

Rampton received a copy of Utah's bid for the Olympic games. The volume brought official endorsement last weekend from the U.S. Ski Association.

Rich said FIS certification of Utah's slalom and giant slalom runs would assure selection by the U.S. Olympic Committee.

The benefit game for the St. Louis Symphony attracted 11,893 customers.

Tigers Pound Cardinals 4-0

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — The American League Detroit Tigers rang up 13 hits, all singles Monday night to defeat the National League 1964 world champion St. Louis Cardinals, 4-0.

The Cardinals started with Steve Carlton and relied on other bull pen pitchers. The Tigers got five singles in the second for three runs and added three singles in the fifth for the fourth tally.

lowest winning total since 1926 and only first-place deadlock on record, said their athletes will stay home.

Several said they remained undecided but Brown, who set records in the six-mile at 27:59.2 and the three-mile with a photo-finish victory at 13:40.2 over John Lawson of Kansas, said he could not go.

Little South African Becomes First Foreign Champion in 45 Years

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Gary Player's putter was a blade of destruction Monday and the little master from Johannesburg carved out a three-stroke victory over demoralized Kel Nagle of Australia and became the first foreigner in 45 years to win the National Open Golf Championship. Player, deadly on the greens, fired a one-over-par 71 and Nagle, going from hardship to disaster, shot 74 in the third Open

Player Gives Away Entire Open Prize

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Gary Player, 29, of South Africa won $26,000 by capturing the National Open Golf Championship Monday and immediately gave it all away, plus another $1,000. He gave $25,000 to U. S. Golf Association, with a suggestion that $5,000 go to the Cancer Fund and $20,000 to the development of junior golf in the United States. He paid $2,000 to his caddy, Frank Pagel. This is the largest amount ever known to have been given a bag carrier.

Player said the donation of his winning check—$25,000 plus $1,000 playoff bonus—was fulfillment of a promise made to Joe Dey, executive director of the U.S. Golf Association, in 1962 when the Open was held at Oakmont.

"I wasn't very rich then, but I wanted the Open so badly, that I promised that if God ever gave me the privilege of winning, I would donate the purse to a good cause," he said.

"I want $5,000 to go to the Cancer Fund, because my mother died of cancer.

"The rest I would like to be funneled into junior golf—as thanks for all that American golf has done for me.

"I have made most of my money and won most of my golf honors in this country. People have been wonderful to me. I think it is only right that I show my gratitude in this way."

'Farcial Play' Draws Fines By NL Head

CINCINNATI (AP) — National League President Warren C. Giles slapped $200 fines Monday on Managers Bobby Bragan of Milwaukee and Red Schoendienst of St. Louis for what he called "farcial play" of the Braves and the Cardinals in Sunday's game at Milwaukee.

The incident involved stalling and speed-up tactics in the top of the fifth inning when the Cards were leading 5-0 and He electrified the gallery by rolling in a 32-footer on top of Gary's 35-footer at the second, but Player repeated with another 35-footer at the third and Nagle had no answer.

No Action

NEW YORK (AP) — American Football League executives met Monday with groups applying for franchises in Philadelphia and Washington but adjourned with no action on possible expansion.

A league spokesman said AFL Commissioner Joe Foss and the three-man expansion committee will go to Philadelphia for a meeting Tuesday with city officials on playing rights for the proposed municipal stadium.

Oilers Still After Neely

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI) — Attorneys for former Oklahoma tackle Ralph Neely said Monday his contract with the Houston Oilers is null and void because "it's a contract to make a contract in the future."

The Oilers filed suit in U. S. district court in an effort to make Neely fulfill a contract they said he signed with them.

Neely later signed a contract with the Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League and wants to play for Dallas.

Veteran End Retires From Pro Football

NEW YORK (UPI) — Veteran offensive end Joe Walton, who missed the 1964 National Football League season with an injured right shoulder, Monday announced his retirement as an active player with the New York Giants and began a career as a game scout for the club.

The 29-year-old Walton, an eight-year veteran of the NFL, informed coach Allie Sherman and vice-president Wellington T. Mara of the Giants that concern for his shoulder and the growing pressures of business were the compelling factors in his decision to retire.

"I regret leaving professional football," Walton said. "But the nature of my shoulder injury convinces me this is the best move to make."

2,000 Persons Attend Open House at Idaho Youth Ranch

RUPERT — More than 2,000 visitors from all parts of Idaho attended open house Sunday at the Idaho Youth Ranch located 12 miles north of Rupert.

Ranch operations, including activities and projects of the 21 boys now living at the ranch, were viewed. Rev. and Mrs. Crowe, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Raab explained projects and directed visitors. Also assisting were John McCollum, program director for the ranch, and Charles Maap, ranch employe.

A beef barbecue with tator tots, pickles and gallons of coffee and punch was served by volunteers from various organizations and church groups. The three beef slaughtered for the occasion were cooked in a 6-foot by 20-foot barbecue pit with two and one-half feet of coals.

The Rupert Chamber of Commerce assisted with the open house activities. Members of the Idaho Old Fiddlers Association presented music throughout the day.

Visitors were registered by Rupert rodeo queen contestants and members of the Rupert National Guard directed parking.

The two housing units on the ranch were inspected. The original wood structure now occupied by Rev. and Mrs. Crowe and 12 boys is a temporary building and will eventually be replaced by a brick unit.

The first permanent structure, large enough to house 12 boys, was completed in the spring of 1963 after three years of work. Mr. and Mrs. Charles (Bob) Raab are house parents for this unit.

Work on another unit was begun two weeks ago when the basement was excavated in preparation for the second permanent structure. Plans call for additional space for staff quarters, kitchen and dining facilities as well as study and recreation rooms. House parents will be interviewed for the unit as development plans call for a house mother and father to each group of 10 to 12 boys to provide necessary love and guidance.

Rev. Mr. Crowe reports future plans call for 20 attractive ranch style homes on a model landscaped campus for 200 boys.

One of the major projects is the five-acre garden planted this spring which includes three acres of sweet corn. A food storage building was completed in the early summer of 1964 and represents a large savings for the ranch. Foods may be purchased in large quantities often at wholesale prices and foods raised on the ranch are preserved and stored.

Last year the boys assisted Mrs. Crowe and Mrs. Raab in canning 200 quarts of peas, 224 quarts of green beans as well as quantities of spinach, tomatoes and beets. Garden produce will be frozen and canned this year from the big garden.

Generous fruit gifts including apples, pears and peaches are stored as well as canned supplies including jams and jellies donated by various organizations.

The Idaho Youth Ranch consists of 2,500 acres and a special act of Congress in 1952 authorized the sale of the tract on the Northside Reclamation Project.

Some 1,300 acres of the ranch is under cultivation this year; however, most of the land is leased for five year periods under a development program. There are four deep wells supplying water for irrigation with two waste water reliefs.

A growing beef herd is maintained at the ranch including Santa Gertrudis and Aberdeen Angus. The first of the Santa Gertrudis were donated in 1957 and the Angus breeders of Idaho presented the ranch with the beginning of the Angus herd. The Idaho Jersey Club donated 36 Jersey heifers and calves. Ewes were given by sheepmen in Mindok county.

Landscaping and beautification of the ranch grounds has been a project of several of the boys who have planted evergreens, flowers, bushes and grass. The grounds are kept up by the boys.

John McCollum joined the staff at the ranch in 1964 as program director and the boys are busy learning the laws of electricity, electronics and communications. A small laboratory has been set up at the ranch with a limited amount of equipment.

REGISTERING AT THE open house Sunday at the Idaho Youth Ranch, 12 miles north of Rupert, were people from throughout Idaho. Visitors were served barbecued beef and gallons of coffee and punch were consumed. The Rupert

Chamber of Commerce assisted with the open-house and members of the Idaho Old Fiddlers Association presented music. Visitors were registered by Rupert rodeo queen contestants. (Times-News photo)

The first organized summer camp program was started last year with the site of the camp in the Targhee Forest east of Ashton. Many boys fished, camped and hiked for the first time. This year a camping excursion is planned in the Sawtooth Mountains north of Ketchikan.

The first boys to arrive at the ranch lived in frame tents until the temporary structure was completed. The dream to provide an environment where the good in wayward youth could be nurtured and encouraged was started in 1948 and after years of hard work the dream was realized when Rev. and Mrs. Crowe moved to the ranch with the first boys.

A survey of the records at the ranch show that the Idaho Youth

Ranch has averaged one new boy every six weeks since the first boys were accepted in the spring of 1958.

"At the Youth Ranch boys with problems can become men of promise and the ranch will eventually be self supporting. The ranch is guided by a board of directors made up of responsible citizens of Idaho, Oregon and Texas. The potential of the ranch is unlimited and must be developed. Donations large or small can help some youth," Rev. Mr. Crowe states.

$250,000 in Liquor Must Be Destroyed

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — A quarter of a million dollars worth of liquor is going to be destroyed because of last week's floods.

The liquor, including imported whiskies, scotches, gins, wines and champagnes, is in flooded basement rooms of the liquor division of McKesson & Robbins, Inc.

The spirits must be destroyed under a court ruling of the early 1950s which states any bottled liquor covered by flood water is no longer fit for human consumption.

Leo S. Sullivan, general manager of McKesson & Robbins, said the bottles will be taken to a dump where agents of the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division of the U.S. Treasury will supervise their destruction under heavy rollers.

Italian Youths To Stand Trial For Jewel Theft

CUNEO, Italy (AP) — Three Italian youths must stand trial on charges of stealing some $20,000 worth of jewelry from the wreckage of King Saud's private jet plane after it crashed in the Alps in March 1963.

An investigating magistrate decided Monday that the youths had no right to act as if the jewels from the Saudi Arabian monarch's plane were an unclaimed find.

The youths said they thought ownership had been abandoned once the zone was declared open after months of fruitless search.
