

War on Poverty Erupts This Week In U.S. Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—The "war on poverty" erupts in Congress this week as the House considers a bill that would double the money in the antipoverty program. The measure is only one of several big ones up for action as Congress keeps up a booming pace that saw the House and Senate passing major voting rights and Social Security bills last week. Bills dealing with housing, the U.S. coinage system, cigarette labeling and funds for running Congress, federal agencies and the Department of Agriculture are on the week's program.

Humphrey Speaks in Salt Lake City

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey declared today this country will not fail in its world commitments. He made the statement during a brief stop here on a flight to Southern California.

"We are a world power; we don't seek to flex our muscles, but we will meet our commitments," the vice president said. "We seek to bring some balance in Viet Nam to arrive at an equitable peace treaty."

Humphrey made the Salt Lake City stop in his Air Force jet to pick up Sen. Frank E. Moss, D-Utah, who is flying with him to San Diego. Both Moss and Humphrey are scheduled to address the National Association of County Officials convention today.

When the administration tagged its efforts to end poverty in the United States a war, it didn't realize how apt the word was. Fierce political battles are raging in many big cities over how the antipoverty funds are to be used.

The fighting will spread to the House Wednesday when the administration's bill to add $1.9 billion for the many different programs is taken up. No votes are likely before Thursday.

Republican opponents of the bill have been readying their ammunition for weeks, and a hot debate is in prospect. The administration is believed to have the votes to pass the bill.

Before acting on that measure, however, the House will vote Tuesday on a bill that would remove silver from all U.S. coins and authorize new coins with copper centers and copper-nickel alloy surfaces.

Smyley Speaks On Taxes At Meeting

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Idaho Gov. Robert E. Smyley called today for consideration of a proposal providing for the return of uncommitted portions of the federal income tax to the states.

In remarks prepared for delivery at the annual convention of the National Association of County Officials at San Diego, Smyley said the gap between expenditures and revenues at the local level has forced officials to become expert in the game of "robbing Peter to pay Paul."

"I suggest," said Smyley, that "we have nearly reached the end of the time when we can shuffle millages and redistribute taxes to meet our most pressing needs."

"We need a new revenue source, and I believe that we should give serious consideration to a proposal calling for the return of uncommitted portions of the federal income tax to the states."

He suggested that the distribution be based on population and state needs.

The major portion of the funds he said should go to the local governmental bodies with the state coordinating the expenditures.

11 Rescued From Ocean After Crash

FALMOUTH, Mass. (AP)—The Coast Guard and Air Force said today 11 men were rescued and eight bodies recovered from the 19-man crew of an Air Force plane down in the fog-shrouded North Atlantic.

A spokesman at Otis Air Base said one crewman, missing hours after all others had been accounted for, was alive and aboard a German destroyer.

Lt. Cmdr. William T. White, duty officer at Salem Coast Guard rescue station, said all survivors were taken aboard American and German destroyers.

The four-engine, propeller-driven radar picket plane took off from Otis last night.

Church Says Grant Okayed For Prison

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, said Monday a $50,000 federal grant has been approved to assist in advance planning for the new Idaho State Penitentiary.

Church said the Housing and Home Finance Agency funds will be used in pre-construction studies to replace the present sub-standard and unsanitary correctional institution in Boise.

A site for a new prison south of Gowen Field near Boise has been acquired. The present prison was established in 1868.

The new penitentiary will be constructed in phases and will cost approximately $12 million upon completion.

Godoy Supported for Dominican President

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Support is building up for Hector Garcia Godoy to become provisional president of the Dominican Republic. But informed sources say an interim government probably will not be installed before the foreign ministers of the Organization of American States meet in Rio de Janeiro Aug. 4.

Garcia Godoy, 44, a businessman and former foreign minister, has conditional approval of the civilian-military junta and full support of the rebels. He is meeting with political figures in an effort to form an acceptable cabinet.

The three-man OAS peace team recommended Garcia Godoy, who had served for four weeks as foreign minister under deposed President Juan D. Bosch. The Dominican revolt began April 24 in an effort to restore Bosch, living in exile in Puerto Rico.

Gen. Antonio Imbert Barrera, the junta chief, met with Garcia Godoy for an hour Saturday but refused to accept or reject him publicly. Reliable sources said Imbert privately gave Garcia Godoy his endorsement, if he found a way to disarm the rebels and to solve other problems.

Order Is Filed Against Loyalty Oath

BOISE (AP)—An order declaring Idaho's loyalty oath law unconstitutional was filed today in U.S. District Court here.

It followed by a month a decision handed down by a three-judge panel holding that the law, which required public employees to affirm their loyalty, violated the due process clause of the U.S. Constitution.

The law was struck down primarily because it provided for automatic dismissal of an employee refusing to sign the loyalty oath, and because it provided no machinery for a public hearing for an employee prior to dismissal.

The suit challenging the statute was brought on behalf of more than 100 public employees and staff members of the University of Idaho, Idaho State University, the Pocatello School District and Idaho State Hospital South.

The loyalty oath law never was enforced. It was scheduled to become effective July 1, 1963, but filing of the lawsuit halted its enforcement.

Violence Is Seen By King in Civil Rights Movement

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. says the civil rights movement may shift towards "aggressive violence" if a southern Negro vigilante group continues its policies.

Dr. King said he feared the Deacons for Defense and Justice may play into the hands of opponents by meeting violence with violence.

"I know our opponents in the South would like us to turn to violence," he said. "They know violence and they know how to deal with it."

3,900 Men Are Landing In Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The first large force of U.S. combat infantrymen—3,900 men of the 1st Infantry Division—began landing in Viet Nam today. The first 1,000 men of "Big Red One," as the division was known in World War II, landed at strategic Cam Ranh Bay, 180 miles northeast of Saigon, and dug in on the sand dunes. Rusk Opens U. S., Japan Cabinet Meet

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk opened the fourth U.S.-Japan joint cabinet committee conference today with a call for increased economic efforts by the two countries in Southeast Asia.

He told the seven Japanese cabinet officers and their American counterparts that the two countries share a particular interest in Southeast Asia where freedom is threatened by aggressive neighbors.

In response, Japan's foreign minister, Etsusaburo Shiina, said Japan has been taking "increased responsibility in the sphere of international economy, and in particular to our Asian neighbors."

Shiina said that the progress already made in Japan-U.S. cooperative ties "lose its firm basis unless it is accompanied by constant and strenuous efforts to bring about appropriate solutions to each and every one of our two countries."

Rusk said that a wide variety of difficult problems could be expected from competition that develops between vigorous trading nations.

Gov. Coleman Supported for Judgeship

WASHINGTON (AP)—Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach voiced unqualified support today for former Mississippi Gov. James P. Coleman's nomination to a federal judgeship.

In testimony to a Senate judiciary subcommittee, Katzenbach said of Coleman's nomination to the 5th Circuit Court of Appeals:

"It is easy for Northerners to note some of Governor Coleman's statements on segregation and to leap to the conclusion that he should not, therefore, be appointed to a federal judgeship."

"To support segregation in Mississippi during James P. Coleman's political career was merely a commonplace political platitude," he said. "To support moderation to exalt law and order and to counsel obedience to court decisions—these must be regarded as deliberate acts of conscience and devotion to principle."

Civil rights groups have been critical of President Johnson's nomination of Coleman for the 5th circuit court which considers cases from most of Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas and the Canal Zone.

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., who presided, announced at the outset that the American Bar Association had approved Coleman as well qualified for the post.

Leaders Plan Demonstrations BOGALUSA, La. (AP)—Civil rights leaders planned new demonstrations today and said "hundreds" of volunteers, including clergymen, will soon be on the scene.

Missouri Man Is Fighting Extradition

BOISE (AP)—A 33-year-old Missouri man, who waged a losing battle in Idaho courts to escape extradition to his home state to face murder charges, turned to U.S. District Court today in an effort to gain his freedom.

Charles E. Smith, wanted in Missouri on a charge of killing his wife, filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus contending he is being illegally held.

Smith prepared the petition himself in the Ada County jail, where he has been in custody since he was arrested in Boise on March 31, 1963.

The Missouri complaint accuses Smith of killing his pregnant wife, Donna Jean, Oct. 26, 1961.

Smith told officers he was not in Missouri when he was alleged to have committed the crime.

But Gov. Robert E. Smylie, at an extradition hearing, ruled that sufficient evidence was presented linking Smith with the slaying to warrant returning him to Missouri.

Smith then filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus in Idaho District Court. It was rejected. Smith then appealed to the state Supreme Court.

Cabin Full Of Memories For Solon

EXIRA, Iowa (AP) — Twenty-six years of congressional memories are crammed into the small white frame cabin behind the home of former Rep. Ben Jensen, R-Iowa.

They begin and end with two pairs of shoes once worn by the southwest Iowa congressman, now 72.

One pair, which has been gilded, bears the signs of a hard campaign. The shoes are lacquered, "The winners, 1938." The other pair, "I didn't get out," "I was poor as a rat. I didn't even have them soled. I just put cardboard in them every day," "cardboard in them every day," the said Jensen in reference to the campaign which first sent him to Congress.

The second pair of shoes, less worn, "The losers," 1964. "I didn't talk enough," Jensen said. "I didn't get out."

Jensen, defeated last fall in his bid for a 14th consecutive term in the House, has retired to the house in Exira—population 1,100—which has been home for more than 40 years to him and his wife, Charlotte.

Civil War Roundtable Is Formed

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP) — Thirty prisoners at the Maryland Correctional Institution for Men have formed a Civil War roundtable. Currently, they are studying the "underground railroad."

Inmates receive no special privileges as members. They may study during their free time in the evenings. Each contributes 50 cents a month from his prison pay for books and supplies.

The leader of the group is Norman Igo, 20, serving a term for auto larceny and false pretense.

Igo said membership is limited to 30 to make for better discussion and there is a long waiting list.

Painter Tries to Improve Looks

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — W. T. Kirby has spent 30 years trying to make the grass look greener on the other side of the fence.

Kirby, 63, who builds, mends and paints fences around horse farms, believes they "make the pastures look greener. There is nothing much prettier than a horse farm with those white fences."

But it's a big job. One of his contract customers, Calumet Farm, has about 45 miles of fence. It takes about two months to paint it.

President Johnson's older daughter had planned to leave Jackson Lake Lodge today, but after a fun-filled weekend the happy miss apparently couldn't pull herself away.

Officials now say Miss Johnson will stay at the resort facility through Tuesday before leaving for Yellowstone National Park and the Black Hills in South Dakota.

Right of Expression

It's not unusual for the Times-News to be criticized for publishing letters in the Public Forum from a specific individual or about some certain issue. Somehow the critics seem to blame the Times-News, contending that the editors of the Times-News could and should muzzle an individual. It never seems to occur to these critics that such action on the part of the editors would be the end of the Public Forum. The Forum is a place where readers can express their personal opinions about matters of public controversy. What can replace it?

Critics should understand that publication of a letter in the Public Forum certainly doesn't constitute endorsement of any opinions expressed in that letter. It's merely part at this newspaper's contribution to freedom of speech.

On the other side of the coin, there are individuals who believe the Times-News should publish every word of any letter submitted for publication. Again, such a procedure wouldn't contribute to the theory of freedom of speech.

The Times-News has outlined a few basic rules governing letters submitted to the Public Forum. The rules, published every Sunday in the Forum, are designed to keep letters within reasonable bounds and to prevent remarks that might be deemed libelous or slanderous. Likewise, true signatures are required on every letter for two reasons. First, some persons are inclined to write things anonymously that they'd never write over their true names, and second, readers are entitled to know the source of letters.

Editors of the Times-News are well aware that some Public Forum letters are contributed by extremists or by some individuals who would be regarded in some circles as crackpots. But letters also are written by informed, intelligent citizens who have valued opinions they are willing to share. Herein lies the strength of the Public Forum—it provides a cross-section of all thoughts found among citizens from all walks of life. No one should ever hesitate to submit a letter for use in the Public Forum. And no one should ever suggest that editors of the Times-News should delete any of the contributions.

WORTHY PROGRAM

Residents of the Ketchum-Halley area are involved in a program of registering blood types, the information to be used in case of an emergency. The program is called the "Emergency Walking Blood Bank." Initially, the plan drew response from some 200 persons, half of whom followed up by submitting to blood typing. It's an interesting and useful program, one which should be of value in augmenting the normal blood bank. In event of an emergency, the Walking Blood Bank program could save several lives.

Perhaps something similar should be attempted in all those areas presently served by the Red Cross Blood Bank program. In most cases, sufficient blood is available for normal medical purposes, but the Emergency Walking Blood Bank could be a valuable support program.

There's another facet to the emergency plan that may have occurred to some of the participants, namely, the possibility that lives of volunteers could be saved if their blood type is known in advance.

Branches of the military service recognized long ago that blood typing is extremely valuable in saving lives. Every serviceman is required to wear an identification tag that also specifies his type of blood. In some cases of massive wounds it's just not possible to waste the time it takes to determine a person's blood type. There would be considerable merit in some civilian effort to duplicate the military requirements but realistically it's just not possible.

NEW LOOK?

Next week, the Forest Service plans a float trip down the Middle Fork and the main Salmon rivers in connection with the Wild Rivers bill before Congress. Other inspection trips are planned by the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation and the Department of Interior. These streams have existed for years in their present condition and government agencies should be quite familiar with the streams and all the adjacent land.

No one has explained why new inspection trips are necessary now. If there's some information about the streams that's needed in connection with the Wild Rivers bill why isn't it available in the files of one or all of the government agencies involved? One or all of the agencies certainly has every conceivable bit of information about all streams under their jurisdiction, ranging all the way from complete profiles to extensive photographs. If information is lacking now, someone must have been shirking his duties sometime earlier.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

BY ANDREW TULLY
WASHINGTON — I have just checked, and it's perfectly safe for our top government officials to have their heads examined.
An expensive psychiatrist here says they'd probably turn out to be just as human as people.
This research was prompted by some communications from readers who suggested that everybody in the federal government—from President Johnson on down—should have a psychiatric examination because they're always spending the taxpayers' money like water — or champagne.
But my Dr. X has come up with a vote of confidence for our governmental lords and masters. He says he wouldn't "presume" to comment on President Johnson's mental makeup, but adds he is sure he wouldn't run up against a single nut among cabinet officers and members of Congress.

PECULIARITIES FORGIVEN — That, said Dr. X, doesn't go for peculiarities. He would expect to find as many of those in government bigwigs as he would in anybody else. But generally speaking he'd consider it a pleasure to peek into the noddles of our congressmen, cabinet member and other brass.
Congressmen especially would be delightful patients, said the doctor — because they talk so much. A psychiatrist loves a garrulous patient because it's his best way of getting a line on what makes the guy tick. And who ever heard of a taciturn congressman?

EXTROVERTS — As a matter of fact, the average congressman's loquaciousness is all in his favor, according to Dr. X. It proves, he says, that they aren't afraid of being with people, that they aren't always yearning to go hide in a cave or under the backstairs. Dr. X says he wishes all his patients would talk as much. Well, maybe not that much.

The doctor said no, he wouldn't ask congressmen or other public officials any souped-up questions — just the usual stuff. At the outset for example, Senator A or Rep. B would have to prove that he knew who he was. No trouble there, says the doc. Then "Where are you?" "What's the date?" "Whom are you talking to?"
BUILT-IN THREE-HOUR ANSWER — One of the most important questions would be what the patient thought of himself. Three hours later, when the senator had stopped talking, the doctor would go on to questions about whether he ever heard voices — besides his own, that is — or saw things or smelled things. All this time, the doctor would be trying to find out whether the patient was elated or depressed. Naturally, his conclusions would take into consideration whether the patient was a Great Society man or one of the economy boys. Likewise, Dr. X would expect the Republicans to be a little less jubilant than the Democrats.
But all in all, Dr. X said there isn't anything to worry about. After all, he noted, some years back Congress let a famous anthropologist measure its individual heads and the scientist's report was most encouraging. He said they were real nice heads.

INDIAN NEVER FORGETS
The story is told of an old-time western rancher who argued with the devil who had said no person had a perfect memory. The rancher said that an Indian working for him had a perfect memory. He agreed to forfeit his soul to the devil if the Indian ever forgot anything.
The devil went up to the Indian and said: "Do you like eggs?" The Indian replied, "Yes."
Twenty years later the rancher died and the devil thought "Here's my chance!" He came again to earth and presented himself to the Indian and raising his hand he gave the tribal salute and said, "How?"
Quick as a flash the Indian replied, "Fried!" — Brooks (Alberta) Bulletin.

CHIP OFF THE BLOCK
Luci Baines Johnson, en route to reign as queen of an Azalea Festival the other day, halted her motorcade, hopped out of her car and ran off to visit a school where she distributed halfpenny pens to pupils. It was the kind of thing her father, the President, might have done.
Johnson critics will view the incident with cynicism. Another politician in the family, they'll say. On the other hand, Luci's behavior is rather reassuring. It's a rare teen-ager today who'll follow the example of her parents. — Wichita Eagle.

THIRD MAN IN-AND-OUT
The Left is running Gaston Defferre. The Right has now entered Pierre Marchal. That makes him the third man in — and probably the second man out in the December contest for President of France. Neither is a match for the all-mighty man of the middle, Charles de Gaulle. — New York Herald-Tribune.

LET'S LOOK AT POST OFFICE
Not even a man with President Johnson's acknowledged political gifts could probably bring off a sudden, wholesale de-politicization of the U. S. Post Office. But it is time for at least those preliminary studies which define the trouble and pave the way for later action. Communication, after all, is essential to the Great Society. — Mandan (N.D.) Pioneer.

SO YOU WANT TO GO TO COLLEGE
Farsighted high school seniors submitted applications for college admission long before now. But students who were less farsighted or whose initial applications were rejected are still looking for colleges to attend next fall, and for these students the good news is that they still have time to apply, if their hearts are not set on the prestige institutions. — Des Moines Register.

CARRIAGE TRADE AMONG REDS
First there were those reports, not very convincingly denied, of a Lincoln Continental purchased in this country for shipment to Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.
Now, out of West Germany, there is a story about an $18,000 Mercedes-Benz limousine which has just been delivered to the government of Communist China. Taken together, they may not convince anybody that communism is, as its spokesmen keep insisting, riding the wave of the future. But whatever it's riding it sure is riding in style. — Wilmington (Del.) Morning News.

HOW'S THAT AGAIN?
There was a story going around about the special inter-office notice being circulated in the Pentagon. It read: "AUTHAB" is now the authorized abbreviation for authorized abbreviation. — Navalag, Newport, R. I.

CLOTURE IS DEFINED

GENTLEMAN IN THE FOURTH ROW

Poor Man's Plato
By HAL BOYLE
DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — Maj. James A. Minish and his men have cost Uncle Sam $21,241,250 in 99 days — but feel the government got its money's worth.
"It may even have been a bargain," said Maj. Minish, his tattered face breaking into a smile. "Over-all, we feel we did a good job."
The $21-million figure reflects the cost of the ordnance his squadron of F100 fighter planes expended while flying nearly 1 1/2 million miles and 2,200 sorties. It doesn't include the fuel consumption, salaries of the flyers, or the value of two planes lost in action.
The major, a native of Yellowstone Park, Wyo., whose wife and four children now live at Alexandria, La., started posting the ammunition costs at the beginning of the squadron's tour of duty.
"I wanted to teach them this stuff is too valuable to waste," said Minish. "It caught their interest to see the cost of a mission in terms of dollars and cents."
The $21-million-plus total included 750,000 20mm cannon shells at $2.05 each, 3,500 bombs at $350 each, 2,250 napalm bombs at $275, and 17,200 rockets at $1,950 apiece.
On his 99th day the major lowered his wheels and came in for a perfect landing. It was his 107th mission, 10 more than any other member of his squadron.
"I expended 800 rounds of 20mm fire at some Viet Cong in a tree area northwest of here," he said. "I never thought about being my last mission. It was just like any other one."
"I haven't been sweating out the last few particularly. Flying as many missions as we have, someone is bound to be hit now and then. But I've never been concerned over my own welfare."
"I've never carried good luck charms. I feel our training has made us competent, and I have faith in our planes and our crew chiefs."
Minish is admired at the base here for his qualities of character and leadership and the deep concern he has shown for the welfare of the officers and men in his command. Not one of his men has cracked up under combat strain or grueling 14- to 16-hour days on repair work.
The squadron flew 1,400 sorties in South Viet Nam and 800 against North Vietnamese targets.
"We think our work here helped the whole effort," the major said. "Sometimes you come back feeling unsatisfied when you've bombed the Viet Cong in heavy foliage. All you can see are the explosions. You can't tell the results."
"But in several heavy ground battles, our F100s have made the difference. So over-all, we're going home with a feeling of satisfaction."

Religion In America
By LOUIS CASSELS
(United Press International)

There is a growing tendency among Americans to minimize the importance of church attendance.
In a recent public opinion poll, 67 per cent of the people interviewed agreed with the statement: "You don't need to go to church to be a good Christian."
One reason why this viewpoint has gained such wide acceptance is the churchgoers rarely try to contradict it. They're afraid of sounding stuffy, or pharisaical, if they voice their conviction that going to church is not an optional extra but a very basic part of Christian living.
Why do they believe this? If you pin down a faithful churchgoer, you'll find that he has several reasons for spending Sunday morning in a pew rather than in bed or on the golf course.
The first and best reason for going to church is to worship God. To worship means "to give honor or reverence." An older and more illuminating definition says that worshipping means "ascribing ultimate worth" to the object of worship.
Worshipping God is not just one of man's religious duties.

According to the Bible, it is his pre-eminent duty, the chief end of his existence, the thing for which he was created.
It is certainly possible to worship God on a mountaintop as well as in a church. But how many people get up on Sunday morning and repair to mountaintop in order to spend an hour in reverent solitude? A church service is for most people the best opportunity the week affords to "be still and know that I am God."
A second reason for going to church is purely selfish — but selfish only in the sense that it's selfish to eat when you're hungry. The regular churchgoer comes to depend upon this hour on Sunday morning to renew his supply of love, kindness, patience and perspective. In short, to recharge spiritual batteries which have been badly drained by a week's encounter with the world.
Once again, it must be acknowledged that there are other ways to achieve renewal of the human spirit. Some people do it by listening to music, by taking a walk in the woods, by sailing a boat, or by taking the family on an outing. Most churchgoers do these things, too. But it has been their experience that all such forms of "recreation" are more effective when treated as a supplement rather than a substitute for communion with God in church.

A third reason for going to church is to learn. Few sermons are so bad that a listener cannot hear some faint echo of the word of God. And if the sermon should prove to be a total loss, there are still the scripture readings, the prayers and the hymns through which the Holy Spirit can speak to a person who is genuinely seeking light for his pathway.
A fourth reason for attending church is to identify with, to become a real participating member of, the community of faith. "There is no such thing as a solitary Christian," said John Wesley. From New Testament times, the Christian experience has been recognized as something which men must share, which becomes fully real only in the context of a fellowship or community. And the church, notwithstanding its many failures and frailties, is still the "body of Christ," the human community within which Christ promised that his spirit would always dwell.
The intelligent churchgoer will concede that there are some hypocrites in the church and some highly moral people outside it. He will acknowledge that churches waste a lot of time, money and energy on parochial boondoggling that has no relevance to what Christ would expect his body to be doing in a torn and suffering world.
But to say that the institutional church has shortcomings is simply to register a fact which St. Paul noted 2,000 years ago: "We hold this treasure in earthen vessels." The remarkable thing is that the treasure itself has been preserved and transmitted from generation to generation.

The Doctor Says
By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M. D.
A reader writes that when her grandson was born there were large swellings on both sides of his head. The doctor called them hematomas. The grandmother would like to know what caused this condition and what steps should be taken to prevent its occurrence in the next grandchild.
A hematoma is a collection of blood under the skin or in any other location where it cannot escape. In a newborn who is delivered by forceps hematomas on both sides of the head would suggest an extremely difficult delivery. When a doctor has reason to believe that a delivery will be very difficult he may want to prevent this complication by inducing labor before the baby is too big for the birth canal or he may choose to make the delivery by Caesarean section. It is, however, not always possible to anticipate a difficult delivery and thus prevent it.
Q. At one year how much sleep should a child get? My daughter takes one nap for about two hours every day. My mother says I should give her something to make her sleep more. What do you think?
A. Most babies at one year will sleep about 15 hours a day. Your baby should be encouraged to take a morning and an afternoon nap. This should be done by calmly putting her in her crib and letting her rest. You can leave the door to her bedroom open and talk quietly to her from the next room so she will know you are near, but don't pick her up. Above all, don't give her any sleeping medicine.

Q. My children ages 3 and 4 refuse to eat eggs. Is it all right to mix raw eggs in their milk once a day?
A. Eggs are an excellent but not indispensable element of diet. If your children do not have an allergy to eggs you can give them eggs in milk, cake, puddings and French toast without their suspecting they are eating raw eggs. Their refusal to eat eggs is probably a passing whim.
Q. What is Marfan's syndrome? What can be done for it?
A. Marfan's syndrome or arachnodactyly is a hereditary disorder in which the bones of the arms and legs are excessively long. Children with this syndrome are usually underweight. They may also be pigeon-breasted. Extreme nearsightedness, cataracts and dislocation of the crystalline lens are often seen in these children. Some also have congenital heart disease. Most of them require no specific treatment but if there is much disability, surgical correction of some of the defects may be attempted.

TAYLOR'S VIEWS ON WORLD NEWS

By HENRY J. TAYLOR
A worried America has a right to question Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara's dominant involvement in the Viet Nam war.
This is not a cry to do. First, President Johnson seems to regard him as the most valuable man in the cabinet. Next, Mr. McNamara lives inside an iron cocoon that is so extensive that it has become a police problem for the Defense Department to keep independent-minded newsmen disciplined and dumb.
Surely Mr. McNamara's reputation as the President's indispensable man can hardly rest on his military stance. Mr. McNamara, starting with the Bay of Pigs debacle, has been dead wrong in every major prediction he has made from the very beginning.
He shares this nearly incredible record with Gen. Maxwell Taylor, on whom we likewise depended so heavily for results in Viet Nam.
Preparedness achievements? In Mr. McNamara's congressional testimony (repeatedly postponed) regarding the Khrushchev "confrontation" he all but said our great armed forces couldn't have invaded Cuba! He stated we were caught "terribly short" of fighter and transport planes, patrol vessels and escort war vessels. "which we'd have needed to invade Cuba." Super-administrator?
— Moreover, Mr. McNamara

may be a hero to President Johnson as such but he is certainly no hero to the General Accounting Office.
The McNamara management magic—with his Whiz Kids and speeded officially by the GAO, which is charged with reporting to Congress on how government agencies spend the taxpayers' money. The report is a scorcher. Its alarmed complaints include lack of results from a 1961 series of GAO reports which revealed combat unreadiness in numerous fighting units because of such equipment "had not been properly maintained."
"We now find substantially no improvement" it warns.
As for wastefulness, among glaring examples the GAO found "at one air base, golf and riding facilities were constructed at a cost of $286,000 by using a portion of the fund Congress had authorized for an airfield runway."
The only "explanation" the GAO could get from Mr. McNamara's office was that the Air Force handing of the money "resulted from its misinterpretation of the directive."
Meanwhile, the House Armed Services Subcommittee is buffed by Mr. McNamara and his Whiz Kids in similar unanswered findings.
Committee member Alton Lennon D-N. C., discovered that the Aerospace Agency, established by the Air Force, spent $30,000 to send one man to Princeton for one year. He received $18,000 to study quantum statistical mechanics plus a $14,000-a-year salary.
The subcommittee called it outrageous that Aerospace could refuse Congress the details, but Aerospace did refuse—40 times! Aerospace claimed that it is independent in policies and expenditures. Yet this is entirely the taxpayers' money.
Throughout every single year for 10 years before Hitler attacked, France increased her defense budget. Yet when the chips were down an adequate French army, navy or air force was not available. Is Mr. McNamara's overworked computer just spinning its reels?
On June 22 last year U. S. General Paul D. Harkins returned to Washington from command in South Viet Nam. "I think the military situation is coming along fine now," he stated. Fine! This was McNamara's line, and had been for three solid years.
We had 16,000 Americans in South Viet Nam on that date. We have about 75,000 now.
Gen Harkins peddled this pap under Mr. McNamara's censoring eye. It was apostasy by a distinguished four-star officer, tragic to observe. This is what happened in the armed forces in prewar France. God help us. For is it safe to disagree?
Our military leaders do not forget, nor does Mr. McNamara expect them to forget, his head-of-able Adm. George W. Anderson, chief of naval operations, nearly six years before his retirement age, when the Senate required Admiral Anderson to testify in the 1963 Boeing-General Dynamics plane dispute and he disagreed with Mr. McNamara.
A former chief of staff of the U. S. Army recently told he has never seen high-officer morale so low as today under any secretary in the Pentagon.
When the Defense Secretary answers questions you can see snapping in his eyes much opinion: "You wish you could detect judgment as clearly. This writer, for one, is fully prepared to think the unthinkable. Mr. McNamara, it seems to me, should resign."

BID JUSTIFIED BY HIGH CARDS
Sam Stayman, who invented the Stayman convention with his partner George Rapee, has produced a most interesting book on no-trump bidding called "Do You Play Stayman?"
We don't agree with everything in the book. He recommends use of the weak no-trump when not vulnerable. In common with almost all experts, we can find no possible value in that bid.
Today's hand shows one place where we agree heartily with him. He recommends a no-

If South opens one no-trump he will play the hand there. If West leads a spade as is most likely South will have no trouble making his one no-trump contract.
Now let's see what happens if South opens one diamond. If West may overcall with one spade whereupon one number of spades and will make three or four depending on how the hand plays as a whole.
Or West may pass whereupon North will bid one no-trump. East will pass and it is possible that South will raise to two no-trump, whereupon he will surely be set or he may pass whereupon West may reopen with two spades. Or even if everyone passes one no-trump there is an excellent chance that East will open a spade and North will go down at his one no-trump contract.

Instead of responding one spade to the double, your partner bids one no-trump. What do you do now?

2 Moderates Head Algeria Cabinet of 20

ALGIERS (AP)—Col. Houari Boumediene has named two moderates to key positions in a new 20-member cabinet and has downgraded the top economic aide of ousted President Ahmed Ben Bella.

Boumediene named as minister of State Rabah Bitat, one of the nine so-called historic leaders of the Algerian war for independence.

The colonel, who commands the army, named himself premier and defense minister. He included only nine members of Ben Bella's cabinet.

Bachir Boumaza, architect of Ben Bella's socialist economic policies, was reduced to information minister. A moderate, Abdessalam Belaid, 37, replaced him as minister of industry and energy.

Gemini 7 Astronauts May Not Use Space Suits

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Space officials are pondering the possibility of sending astronauts Frank Borman and James A. Lovell on their 14-day Gemini flight without space suits.

Borman, 37, an Air Force major and command pilot for Gemini 7, discussed the plan today.

The Tucson, Ariz., astronaut said lack of time for a complete study of the plan was the reason that L. Gordon Cooper Jr., an Air Force major, and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Charles Conrad had been turned down in their suggestion that they go without suits on the Gemini 5 eight-day mission. Their flight is expected Aug. 19.

He wasn't too optimistic about the officials' approving the no-suit proposal for his flight, either.

"I'm not pushing for it," he said. "I want to do the best job I can. To do that job, the best way I know how, I must be operating at top efficiency. I believe I can do that with the least encumbrance."

Borman, a backup crewman for Gemini 4, said if the proposal is turned down, the space suit worn would be "much lighter than the 33-pound suit worn by Edward H. White during his 20-minute space walk."

"We don't plan to get out of the spaceship or open the hatch," he said.

The space suit is a backup protection in case pressure or oxygen is lost inside the space capsule. U.S. astronauts have removed their helmets, which depressurizes them, while in flight.

Three Soviet cosmonauts reportedly flew in one spacesuit Oct. 12, 1964, without spacesuits, wearing street clothes.

Borman said that 14 days in a spaceship could be uncomfortable and decrease efficiency.

"But the possibility of going without suits is almost negligible," he said. "And I wouldn't want to go without a suit if studies showed it would be dangerous."

Borman and his copilot, Navy Cmdr. Lovell, also 37, are expected to be shot into orbit late this year or early 1966.

Borman said there had been a plan to rendezvous with either a spent Agena rocket or the second stage of the Titan booster used to place the two men in orbit.

"We won't dock with it, of course," Borman said, "nor will we try to keep up with it. We plan to take our time, saving fuel. We will have two weeks to do it, and we don't plan to be in any hurry."

Navy Cmdr. Walter M. Schirra Jr., 42, and Air Force Major Thomas P. Stafford, 34, are set to pilot the two-day Gemini 6 mission in October. An Atlas-Agena rocket will hurl the Agena stage into orbit. Gemini 6 will be launched later and will attempt to link up with the Agena.

Traces of DDT Found in Animals Of Antarctica

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Science Foundation says traces of DDT have been found in seals, penguins and fish in Antarctica, a continent where there is no record of pesticide use.

The foundation said a special report noted that there was no sign of any pesticides other than DDT.

DDT was first released for civilian use in 1945, the foundation said, and has since found its way throughout the world.

Committee Looks at Red Treaty

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee today took its first formal look today at a proposed consular treaty with Russia.

The purpose of the closed door session is to get a State Department briefing and determine whether to schedule hearings at this session of Congress.

The treaty, submitted by President Johnson in June of last year, drew an immediate blast from the Senate-House Republican leadership.

The convention would authorize negotiations for the Soviet Union to open consular offices in major U.S. cities in exchange for similar offices in the Soviet Union.

Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper, R-Iowa, senior Republican on the committee said today some features of the treaty "are not standard."

"There was a feeling among a number of senators last year that it might create additional centers of uncontrolled Russian action, if not espionage," Hickenlooper added.

NO RIOTS REPORTED COEUR D'ALENE (UPI)

There was no riot this Diamond Cup weekend just past as hordes of officers — augmented by a National Guard helicopter — patrolled this lakeside city.

Riots or near riots had marred the annual hydroplane race weekend for the past half dozen years.

This year, however, police, Civil Defense auxiliary police and sheriff's officers clamped a tight lid on rowdiness while National Guard troops camped just outside the city in case of trouble.

A guard helicopter hovered over the city throughout the weekend.

There were no incidents.

WOMAN'S BODY FOUND BOISE (AP)

Authorities were trying to identify the body Sunday night of a 40-to-45-year-old woman with dyed red hair found in a canal south of Kuna, Idaho.

Coroner Edgar Paris said the woman's body had been in the Waiwogal canal for four to six weeks. He said no marks were immediately found that would indicate foul play.

The body was discovered 15 miles southwest of Boise.

Paris planned to take fingerprints Monday but had not decided whether to conduct an autopsy.

HEARING GRANTED COEUR D'ALENE, Idaho (AP)

A justice of the peace has taken under advisement a Montana man's apparent change of mind and request for a preliminary hearing on a charge of second degree arson.

Virgil A. Burch, 62, of Missoula, Mont., was to be arraigned Friday in connection with an explosive-type fire at a vacant marina on Lake Coeur d'Alene. He first waived the preliminary hearing, then later returned to court and requested that the hearing be held. His request was taken under advisement. Burch is free under bond.

He was arrested shortly after he allegedly was seen leaving the scene of the fire in a truck. The interior of the marina was reported damaged heavily by the flames.

DAMAGE SURVEYED BOISE (UPI)

A Boise man, hurled through the air into his front yard Saturday night when a gas tank exploded, surveyed the damage Monday.

Bob Luscombe, who was unhurt, received singed coveralls in the blast that occurred while he was welding in his garage. Sparks ignited a car's gas tank, starting a fire that spread into his house and destroyed it.

Luscombe estimated he lost $3,000 worth of tools in the fire.

FIRES MOPPED UP BOISE (AP)

U.S. Forest Service firefighters were mopping up the last of fires Sunday caused by mid-week lightning.

Assistant Fire Dispatcher Bert Jiles said the last fires bring the total for the year to 32, compared with 26 at this time last year. The 52 fires burned about 10 acres, he said.

Seven of the fires this year have been man caused, Jiles said, while six of the 26 last year were man caused.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of bridal lace over taffeta. The gown featured a molded bodice fashioned with a scalloped neckline, long lily-point sleeves and a bouffant skirt. Iridescent sequins enhanced the bodice front and a lace ruffle at the skirt edge.

Her elbow-length veil of illusion was held by a princess crown of seed pearls and crystals. Her jewelry was a silver heart-shaped pendant. She carried a cascading bouquet of Baby Vanda orchids, resting on a heart-shaped background surrounded by lace ruffles and white ribbon.

Jeannette Hulme, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Gloria Fleming, Sharon Strickland and Janice Maude, sister of the bridegroom.

BUHL — Alertness by neighbors prevented serious damage when a fire broke out at the Lonnie Moore ranch northeast of Buhl around 7:30 p.m. Saturday. Losses were limited to a straw loafing shed. Ditch banks had been burned earlier in the day and the fire apparently spread to the loafing shed in the corral and threatened nearby buildings.

The renters, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Schroeder, were not at home when the fire broke out.

The Bill Hatfield family discovered the blaze and alerted firemen.

Burro Starts Grass Fire Near Reno

RENO, Nev. (AP) — A small grass fire was just about mopped-up at a sheep ranch near Reno Sunday when a spark fell on a small burro.

Startled, he dashed off and ran straight into a patch of flaming grass where the pack on his back caught fire.

He then headed for the hills, spreading fire and smoke through heavy brush and grass already tinder-dry under the noon-day sun.

The fire he set was contained five hours later by 60 men helped by three aircraft after burning over 150 acres.

The burro was found about the same time, tired but unharmed except that the pack had been burned off his back.

Army Might Convert Unit to Helicopters

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army is studying whether one more division should be converted into a helicopter-borne outfit designed for swift thrusts, particularly in a country like South Viet Nam.

The study is under way less than a month after Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara authorized the formation of the first such division, called "airmobile."

The 1st Cavalry Division (Airmobile) came into being formally on July 1 at Ft. Benning, Ga. No final decision has been made on whether to send it to South Viet Nam later on, sources said.

It is not known yet whether another infantry division or one of the two wholly paratrooper divisions would be converted.

The Army now has 16 divisions. In addition to the new 1st Cavalry Division Airmobile and the two airborne outfits, they break down into eight infantry divisions, one mechanized infantry division and four armored divisions.

The Defense Department has said the airmobile division was adopted "because of its special capabilities which are not found in the other divisions."

The airmobile unit, the Pentagon said, "will make its greatest contribution to improved combat effectiveness in operations where terrain obstacles and underdeveloped communications networks could give enemy guerrillas or light infantry forces an advantage over our standard formations."

Maloney, Pappas Likely to Start For All-Stars

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP)—Jim Maloney of Cincinnati and Milt Pappas of Baltimore are the best bets for starting pitchers Tuesday when the favored National League takes on the American League in the first All-Star baseball game ever played in the Twin Cities. With a chance to take the series lead for the first time, after trailing 12-4 at one stage, the National League has loaded up with an array of fireballing pitchers and home run sluggers. The National's 7-4 victory last year at New York's Shea Stadium, on Johnny Callison's three-run homer in the ninth, squared the series at 17-17. They played a tie game in 1961.

Koufax Wins 15th, Dodgers Gain Split

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Sandy Koufax became the majors' first 15-game winner, pitching a five-hitter in Los Angeles' 4-2 first-game victory over Pittsburgh Sunday, but the Pirates won the nightcap 4-3 on Manny Mota's two-out home run in the 10th inning.

Mota connected against Bob Miller for his second homer into the lower right field seats. Koufax, who has lost only three times, posted his ninth straight triumph, longest streak in the majors this season, and brought his major league-leading strikeout total to 195 with 10. The 29-year-old southpaw gave up first-inning home runs to Bob Bailey and Donn Clendenon plus a single to Bill Mazeroski, then settled down and allowed only two more singles the rest of the way.

He held Roberto Clemente hitless, stopping the right fielder's hitting streak at 20 straight games.

Koufax also had two singles, driving in the Dodgers' first run in the third inning after Jeff Torborg tripled.

The Pirates forced the nightcap into extra innings, tying it 3-3 in the seventh on singles by Gene Alley and Andre Rodgers, sandwiched around a sacrifice bunt.

Pitcher Claude Osteen tripled in the Dodgers' seventh and scored the lead run as Maury Wills singled. Wills then stole his 55th base.

The largest Pittsburgh crowd since July 20, 1962 — 37,631 — saw the doubleheader.

Dodgers Take 15-13 Battle Over Angels

POCATELLO (AP)—Pocatello used grand slam home runs to launch and cap a 15-13 Pioneer League baseball victory over Idaho Falls Sunday night.

The Dodgers opened the game with a six-run margin highlighted by a grand slam home run by George Mercado in the first inning.

The Pocatello nine capped it in the eighth inning when pinch hitter Jim Johnson blasted another grand slam. Idaho Falls rallied briefly in the top of the ninth with three runs including a two-run homer by first baseman Don Anderson.

Angel shortstop Martin Perez hit a single, a double, two triples and a home run in six times at bat.

NEW YORK (AP)—Emile Griffith has tentatively agreed to defend his world welterweight title against Jupp Elze of Germany, one of the champion's co-manager said Sunday.

The co-manager also said Griffith has made a tentative agreement for a non-title bout against Andy Heilmann of Fargo, N.D., at Kansas City July 23.

Cubs Defeat Cardinals 6-0 Twice

CHICAGO (AP)—Three-run homers by Chris Krug and Ernie Banks backed the shutout pitching of Larry Jackson and Cal Koonce as the Chicago Cubs swept a pair of 6-0 games from the St. Louis Cardinals Sunday.

Krug, a rookie catcher, slugged his homer off starter Curt Simmons in the fourth inning of the opener after Banks had walked and Harvey Kuenn had singled.

The Cubs wrapped it up in the seventh when they ripped off five consecutive singles after two were out with Billy Williams, Ron Santo and Banks leading off in a run.

Chicago, which has now won eight of 11 games with the faltering world champions, took charge in the first inning of the nightcap.

Glenn Beckert and Don Landrum opened with singles off starter Ray Sadecki. Sadecki retired Williams and Santo before Banks delivered his 14th homer into the left field bleachers.

The Cubs put the second game out of reach with another seven-inning rally which produced two runs when Krug doubled with the bases loaded.

Miss Exide Holds Off Bid by Notre Dame, Wins Diamond Cup

COUER D'ALENE (AP)—Miss Exide survived championship heat challenges of Miss Bardahl and Notre Dame here Sunday and won the Diamond Cup unlimited hydroplane race for the second consecutive year. The Exide, piloted by Bill Brow of Seattle, moved to a point advantage with first place finishes in two preliminary heats. In the final heat, Brow brought the Exide home third, behind Miss Bardahl and Notre Dame, and accumulated enough points to win. The final point totals showed Miss Exide with 1,025, Notre Dames second with 1,000 and the Bardahl — which had been damaged earlier in a pit accident with 925.

The Exide crew came to Lake Coeur d'Alene with only one engine, and Brow said after the race, "the engine lasted just long enough."

The big hydroplane surged to its first victory in Heat 1-B, rounding the choppy course at 110.82 m.p.h. Then, in Heat 2-A, Brow circled the course at 108.564 m.p.h. for another first place and a lead in the point totals. Exide's average speed for the championship heat was 101.694 m.p.h.

Brow said "our strategy was to win." He said "We gave it all we had" in the two preliminary heats "because we knew we only had one engine." He said the engine acted up a little in the final heat, causing him to drop back to third. First place carried a $4,500 purse, plus $500 for starting.

Notre Dame, piloted by Rex Manchester, was never out of the picture, winning one preliminary heat and finishing right behind Exide in another. Notre Dame trailed by 100 points starting the final heat.

A crane dropped Miss Bardahl in the pits, leaving her with a punctured hull and a damaged rudder. However, the damage was repaired and in the final heat Ron Musson grabbed the lead quickly and stayed ahead, averaging 105.820 miles an hour.

Wild Bill Cantrell charged into the lead in the final lap and piloted Miss Smirnoff to a two-second victory in the opening heat. But in Heat 2-B, the engine blew and the Smirnoff, although qualified as the sixth boat in the final heat, didn't get going again.

Johnson blanked the 'Reds on three hits until the eighth when they scored on three more hits — singles by Art Shamsky, Tommy Harper and Vada Pinson. But with runners at second and third, Frank Robinson lined out, ending the inning.

Johnson, however, left in the ninth after Gordy Coleman led off with a double. Tony Cloninger came on and preserved the right-hander's eighth victory against four defeats.

Aaron's Hit Gives Braves 2-1 Victory

CINCINNATI (AP)—Hank Aaron's two-run homer in the seventh inning broke up a brilliant pitching duel between Milwaukee's Ken Johnson and Cincinnati's Sammy Ellis and gave the Braves a 2-1 triumph Sunday.

Ellis gave up a leadoff single to Felipe Alou in the first inning, then retired 18 straight batters before Frank Bolling led off the seventh with a single. Aaron followed with his 17th homer over the center field wall.

Ellis gave up three hits in eight innings, dropping his fourth game against 12 victories.

Johnson blanked the 'Reds on three hits until the eighth when they scored on three more hits — singles by Art Shamsky, Tommy Harper and Vada Pinson. But with runners at second and third, Frank Robinson lined out, ending the inning.

Johnson, however, left in the ninth after Gordy Coleman led off with a double. Tony Cloninger came on and preserved the right-hander's eighth victory against four defeats.

Cubs Strike Early, Then Coast Into 7-0 Pioneer Loop Win Over Cowboys

Treasure Valley's classy Cubs struck for two runs in the first inning and then coasted into a 7-0 Pioneer League victory over Magic Valley behind the pitching of Richard James and Phil Amman. The Cubs got leadoff man Joe Ogerr on with a walk and Duane Rossman and John Burnett followed with singles to plate one. The other scored on Jim Atterbury's double. A Magic Valley error opened the gate for two more in the third when John Burnett led off with a single. Welsh lived on the error and the next two men went out routinely. John Harrison was given an intentional walk to load the bases and get at Pucher James. But on a 3-2 pitch everything backfired.

Killebrew Boosts Twins Past Yankees

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP)—Harmon Killebrew smashed a two-out 3-2 pitch for a two-run homer in the ninth inning, boosting the Minnesota Twins to a 6-5 triumph over the New York Yankees Sunday. Killebrew drove his 16th homer into the left field seats one out after Pete Mikkelsen walked after Rich Rollins. The Yankees had grabbed a 5-4 lead in the top of the ninth with a disputed run.

Chance and Angels Blank Indians 2-0

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Dean Chance broke a scoreless tie with a fifth-inning bunt single Sunday and pitched his first complete game in two months as the Los Angeles Angels shut out Cleveland for the third straight time 2-0.

The sweep of the four-game series gave the Angels nine victories in their last 12 games and lifted them into sixth place ahead of the New York Yankees, who lost to Minnesota 6-5. A walk to Tom Satriano and a single by Paul Schaal had put Angels at first and second with one out in the fifth inning before Chance surprised the draw-in Cleveland infield by hitting a pop-fly bunt single that landed second on the hit and Schaal eventually scored on an error by third baseman Max Alvis.

Chance, 6-4, pitched a six-hitter, walked two and struck out four in gaining his first victory over Cleveland since Sept. 21, 1963.

The Angels pinned the loss on right-hander Lee Stange (4-2), who allowed two runs and seven hits before Floyd Weaver came in to choke off a bases-loaded threat with one out in the fifth inning.

The loss was the fifth straight for the second-place Indians and dropped them five games behind Minnesota in the American League race. Cleveland failed to score in the last 30 innings of the series here.

Whitworth Fires 70 for Golf Victory

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Money player Kathy Whitworth scored a closing round two-under-par 70 and won the $10,000 Ladies PGA Midwest Open Golf Tournament Sunday by one stroke over Sandra Haynie.

Miss Whitworth finished the 36 holes with 219 and Miss Haynie 220.

A determined Texan, Kathy called back from a morning 77 she had followed her tournament-leading 72 of Saturday.

Miss Whitworth, bagging her fourth LPGA tour triumph of the year, picked up $1,500 first prize money. This increased her official 1965 earnings, tops among the women pros, to $13,535.

The 54-hole tournament went down to the last threesome on the last green before it was decided.

Marlene Hagge, the 36-hole leader with 146, and Clifford Ann Creed, with a 72-71 Sunday, were in with the lead at 221. But the trio of Miss Whitworth, Miss Haynie and Judy Tochenka all had a crack at beating them.

Miss Whitworth birdied No. 18, and that was it. She hit from eight feet after Miss Haynie barely missed from 20 feet and parred, finishing with 74-74—220 for the $1,200 second prize. Young Judy bogeyed and fell to fifth at 222 on rounds of 74-73—175.

Astorquia, Williams Hold Borah as T. F. Sweeps Pair

BOISE—John Astorquia held Borah American Legion to four hits in the first game Sunday and Kirk Williams followed with a seven-hitter as the Twin Falls "A" squad swept the twin bill 10-2 and 7-2.

Twin Falls got off to a big start in the first inning of the opener with three runs. Larry Hunter singled, Mark Brown was hit by a pitch and Hunter then came in on Mike Touchette's single. Roby Oliphant followed Touchette with a double, bringing in Brown and Touchette.

Twin Falls' next big inning came in the third using three singles, a double and an error to score four runs. Larry Satterwhite doubled to bring in Jim Brown and Jim Hawley.

Twin Falls scored its final four runs in the fifth on a walk and four singles in succession.

Borah's only runs came in the fifth and seventh innings. Wasserman scored in the fifth when he lived on an error, moved to third on another and was singled in by losing pitcher McConnell. The run in the seventh came on two singles and a walk.

Twin Falls started off the second game in similar fashion, scoring three runs on two singles, a walk and two fielder's choices. Paul Stover brought in the first run with a single, following a single by Hunter and Jim Brown. Touchette followed with a walk and Oliphant was in on a fielder's choice to bring in Brown and Stover.

Boise made the score 3-2 in the third when Jordan singled, moved to second on a ground-out and came home on Coon's single. Coon crossed the plate on an error and a single by Miller. Williams quickly shut off the threat, yielding only one hit the remainder of the distance.

Twin Falls scored again in the fifth and added three in the seventh, the big blow being a double by Oliphant.

Hernandez Retains His Boxing Title

KINGSTON, Jamaica (AP)—Carlos Hernandez exploded the biggest bomb in a savage boxing war and remained champion of the junior welterweights.

The Venezuelan had a tiger of an opponent in Percy Hayes Saturday night but won the battle in the third round with a smashing left hand, ending a fight that had been a slugfest from the opening bell.

Hayes set the tempo at the start when he unleashed a two-handed attack. Hernandez countered punch for punch, and the crowd of 20,000 cheered wildly as champion and challenger kept swinging virtually without let-up.

The finish came abruptly in the late stages of the third round. In a close exchange, Hernandez opened a cut on Hayes' left eye with a slashing right, then followed with the brutal left that dropped the challenger.

Hayes never got out of his slumped position as referee Willie Pep, former featherweight champ, counted him out. It ended at 2 minutes, 53 seconds of the third.

For Hernandez, it was his 20th knockout and 34th victory in 40 bouts. The loss was the eighth in 31 fights for Hayes.
