Mariner 4 Notes Density Of Mars Atmosphere Is Two Per Cent of Earth's

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Mars' atmosphere is only one or two per cent as dense as earth's, scientists said today. Experts made the announcement as Mariner 4, whose dramatic first close-up of the red planet's surface was made public Thursday night, was in the process of relaying to earth the third in an expected sequence of 20 or 21 pictures. The first shot showed a remarkably earth-like desert area but gave no hint of an answer to whether the planet could harbor life.

Scientists, reporting at a news conference on Mariner 4's atmospheric experiment, said radio signals indicated that the air at Mars' surface corresponds to the earth's atmosphere at altitudes between 93,000 and 102,000 feet—very thin. The measurement of atmosphere only one or two per cent as dense as earth's contrasted with estimates that the figure would range between 1 and 10 per cent.

THIS FIRST PICTURE OF MARS, made by Mariner 4 and transmitted back to earth, was released Thursday night at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory in Pasadena, Calif. Viewed through the darkness of space at the top of the picture, the direction you are looking is toward the North pole, which is out of view beyond the horizon. The general area in view is slightly above the equator and shows the region known as the Elysium. The length of the limb (edge of Mars) in this photo is approximately 200 miles. Mariner took the picture from an altitude of about 10,500 miles (AP wirephoto)

Farmer Caught in Squeeze, Aide Says

"The farmer is caught in a double squeeze from which there is no escape by individual effort," Max Hanson, director of the Farmer's Home Administration, told county supervisors and guests at a tri-area banquet meeting Thursday night at the Rogerson Hotel Roundup Room. Hanson said the reason for this is the family farmer is confronted by monopolistic corporations which, by the virtue of their concentrated economic power, can "depress the prices of things the farmer has to buy."

WASHINGTON (AP)—"A vast company—we friends of Adlai Stevenson"—paid homage with a brief, solemn memorial service at Washington National Cathedral today. The ceremony conducted by Stevenson's pastor from Springfield, Ill., Dr. Richard Graebel, and the eulogy by his old friend, Federal Appeals Court Judge Carl McGowan were brought to countless other Americans by nationwide television and broadcast.

Russia Offers Praise to Mariner 4

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviets today praised Mariner 4 as a vehicle of "new achievements" in space exploration. The official Tass news agency filed several dispatches on Mariner's photos of Mars. The Russians appeared to be playing the role of good losers. At least two Soviet interplanetary rockets, one frankly billed as a picture-taking mission, have failed.

U. S., Soviet Meet Brings No Change

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States today described Thursday's U.S.-Soviet Moscow conference on Viet Nam and other problems as "of interest" but denied that it brought any change in the position of either country. The statement was issued, it was learned, because administration officials feared worldwide speculation about the conference was overemphasizing the possibilities of Vietnamese peace talks.

Time for Change

Dwight D. Eisenhower had some harsh things to say the other day about national political conventions. He proposed some changes that are designed to bring these spectacles back under control again and reduce the role of television to its proper place. Television, of course, is the main reason Eisenhower felt constrained to make any comment at all on the conventions: It's reached the point where everything connected with the political conventions has been subjugated to the needs—and whims—of television crews and other personnel.

But Ex-President Eisenhower somehow misses the big point, namely, whether the national nominating conventions should continue to be retained at all. They're excellent examples of power politics at work. It has been demonstrated quite conclusively that it's possible to steal—a word applied to the GOP meet in 1964—a convention and there's certainly nothing very democratic about the national sessions with their hordes of delegates and politicians.

No, the entire system of selecting presidential nominations should be changed. The present setup is archaic and ridiculous with its bewildering assortment of state conventions, primary elections and what-have-you stretching out over many months. What's so wrong with reducing the entire process to one national primary election and the general election?

That sort of system might have its disadvantages and shortcomings, but it certainly would take selection of presidential candidates away from the politicians and put it squarely in the hands of the people. It also would eliminate the national conventions that have degenerated into something on the order of a three-ring circus.

One or two months of campaigning and general discussion of any issues prior to a national primary election would be quite sufficient. Six weeks between the primary and general elections should be long enough for the final campaign, what with the present refinement of all communications. That would be a drastic change from the present procedure that drags out for upwards of a year.

Naturally, the politicians would oppose anything along that line because it would rob them of most of their influence in selection of presidential candidates. But certainly they couldn't contend that such changes wouldn't be in the best interests of the public.

Even though some sort of change along these lines is long overdue, don't expect anything in the near future. The politicians aren't going to stand for any change in a system they have developed, even though television has come along and transformed all participants into nothing more of less than a bunch of characters on television.

TOUGH ON EVERYONE

Water pollution continues to be a major problem in these days of ever-increasing demands on available water supplies. In some of the more populous regions of the nation, water is used over and over. Under these circumstances, pollution becomes a tough problem, one that cannot go on indefinitely without a solution.

As an indication of the extent of pollution, the U.S. Public Health Service reports 18.4 million fish were killed by pollution of U.S. water last year alone. Industrial pollution of lakes and streams is blamed for killing 12.7 million of the total, municipal wastes killed 4.1 million and farm operations—which includes crop spraying—accounted for 1.5 million dead fish. As everyone is well aware, not all fish are valuable and that's true of the victims of pollution. Only about one-third of the 18.4 million dead fish would have had any commercial value.

That extenuating information shouldn't be interpreted to mean that pollution is fine just so long as it kills nothing but rough or trash fish. The point is that trout or other valuable type fish can't live in polluted water, either. Furthermore, pollution means more than just making water untenable for fish. It means that if any use is to be made of the water, expensive treatment is necessary. And in some cases, treatment becomes so expensive that it's just not possible to find any economical use for the water. When treatment reaches that point, it might result in potential water users—whether industrial or individual—moving to where better water is available.

It's fairly well agreed that water is this nation's most precious commodity so there should be no difference of opinion on pollution. It's senseless to continue condoning pollution of the nation's most valuable resource. It's hard on everyone, not just fish.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

BY ANDREW TULLY

WASHINGTON—Something called the Philadelphia Commission on Human Relations has set a new record for gratuitous meddling in the rights of private citizens by its attempt to overthrow the all-white policy of Girard College in the City of (sic) Brotherly Love.

For latecomers, Girard College was left a substantial sum by the philanthropist, Stephen Girard whose will specified the dough be spent to educate poor white male orphans. The civil rights crowd, lately joined by that late joiner, Gov. Willie Scranton, is trying to break the will to please a mob of Negro and other demonstrators who have been attacking cops to put over their point.

BOW TO OTHER NATIONS—Now the commission on Human Relations has decided the will should be broken because its all-white clause "no longer represents the thinking" of the leading nations of the Free World.

This is the kind of glandular thinking that could set the Negro cause back to the days of Simon Legree. Ignoring the legal issue involved, the commission suggests blandly that Girard College forthwith admit Negro orphans lest some surly artists on Paris' Left Bank be offended and withhold his support of the American Republic. Philadelphia is ordered to break a man's will because its conditions could cause anguish to the shoemaker in Athens, the haberdasher in Rome, the longshoreman in Liverpool.

WHITHER MORALITY—"This archaic will," says the commission is a "blot on America's pronounced belief in democracy" and "must be resolved."

How now, commission? Is archaic a synonym for illegality. Does the fact that Stephen Girard was prejudiced in favor of white male orphans make invalid his desire to leave his own money to finance their education? Should money bequeathed in other "archaic" wills to educate Negro boys hereafter be expended on the matriculation of white kids?

The commission notes that Girard's will explained that his purpose was to "instill into the minds of the scholars the purest principles of morality," then charges that "This would be wholly impossible to attain at an institution which... maintains exclusionist admission policies."

EXCLUSIVENESS NO SIN—I dissent. Harvard and Yale and even that great Negro school, Tuskegee Institute, have "exclusionist" policies and they have all produced their share of graduates instilled with "principles of morality." The Mormons, whose policies are not exactly all-inclusive, are noted more for their self-sacrificing missionaries in dark lands than for their heroin pushers. Exclusionism is not yet a sin, nor even a violation of national policy.

The commission has asked that the Girard College trustees violate their trust and open the school to Negroes. This, it says, would be "in the highest tradition of our American heritage." Possibly. But there is no doubt that it would be illegal as hell.

EQUALITY BY LAW
The Federal Equal Employment Opportunities Act which has now gone into effect has the high-sounding purpose of ending discrimination in hiring based on race, religion or sex. It is directed at both employers and unions. But it relies heavily on conciliation and persuasion. If these fail, a man or woman complaining of discrimination would have to file a suit in federal court and prove his or her charge—a procedure few would care to undertake at their own expense.

The new Equal Opportunity Commission headed by Franklin Delano Roosevelt Jr., however, could seek a federal court injunction in matters of "public importance." These could involve complaints of "patterns of discrimination."

The strength or possible impotence of the new law cannot be judged with assurance in advance. So far as Negroes are concerned, it could help break down the barriers to economic equality—assuming the willingness of management and organized labor to comply with the spirit as well as the wording of the law. As in prevalent discrimination in housing, this is largely, anyhow, a gradually spreading philosophy of voluntary action.

The knottiest problem raised by the act derives from the politically motivated assumption by Congress that men and women are indistinguishable in physical capability, dexterity and mental qualifications for all work. Southern members of Congress, seeking to make administration of the act more difficult because of their anti-Negro bias, wrote in the anti-discrimination section. Enough northerners wary of the women's vote went along to assure its adoption. But if enforced, this section would cut both ways. Men could not be denied employment, under the law, in jobs such as waitresses traditionally held by women.

In the absence of clear-cut guidelines from the new agency, newspapers will continue to carry classified advertisements offering jobs to men or to women. But employers and employment agencies are barred from listing on application forms a resignation for sex, as well as race, color or religion.

Building trades and other unions heretofore restricting their membership to males may be hard put to deny membership to a husky female qualified to do the work. Union shop contracts require an employe to join the union after an interim of employment.

Complaints will be assigned. Initially at least, to state fair employment agencies in the 33 states which bar discrimination in employment. Here, too, the resort will be to conciliation and persuasion. It may be assumed that neither state nor federal agencies will insist that women be hired as attendants in men's washrooms, qualified or not. But as to all else, the future of this anti-discrimination law is cloudy. Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. may wish he had run for mayor of New York before he gets on top of this job.—The Oregonian

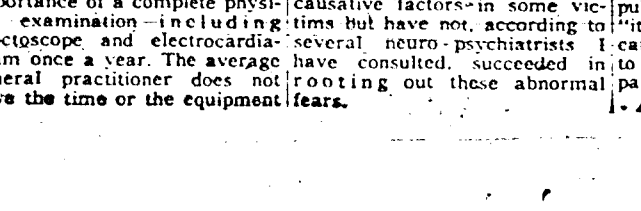

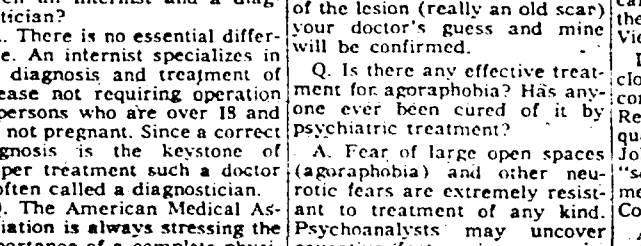

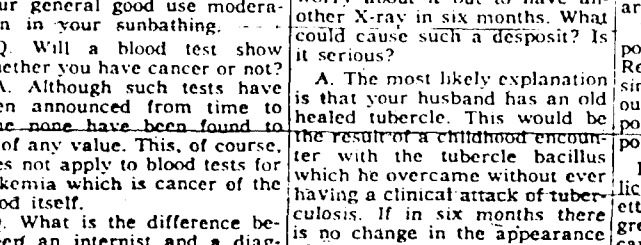

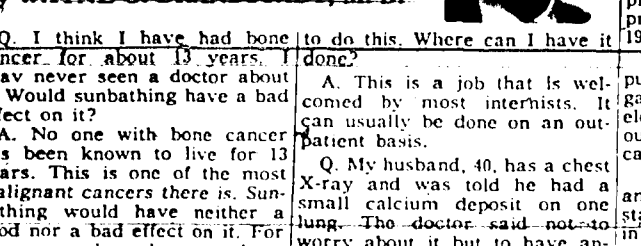

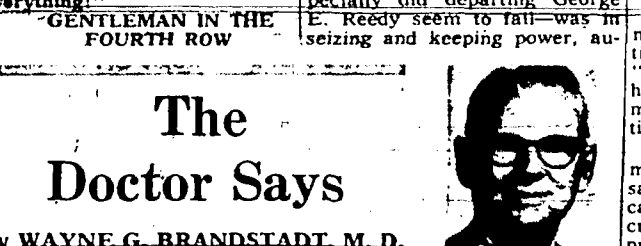

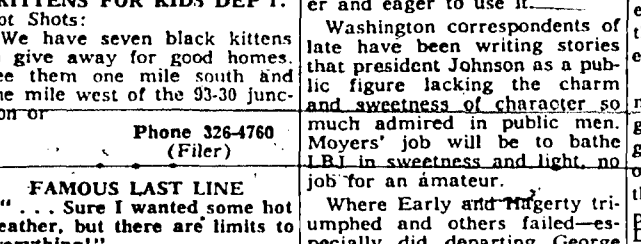

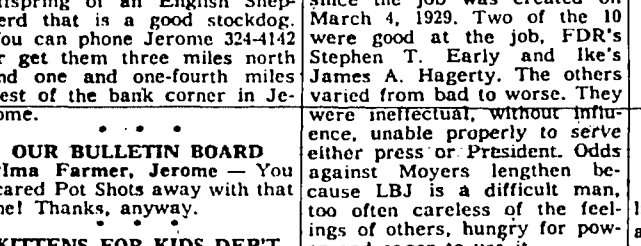

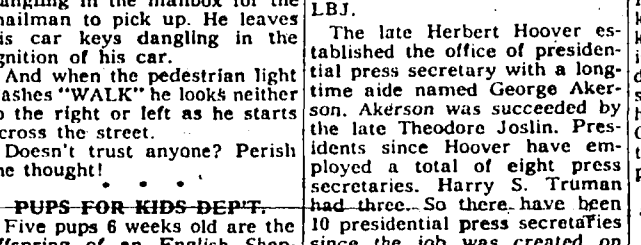

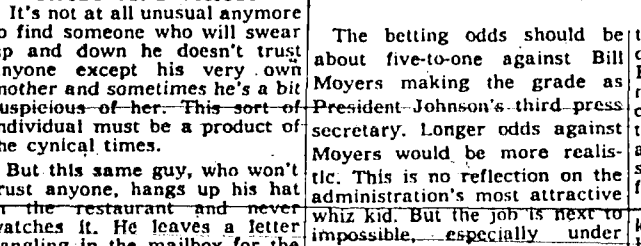

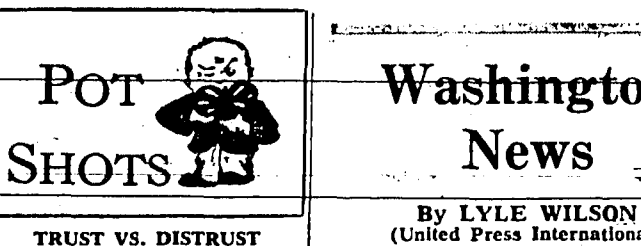

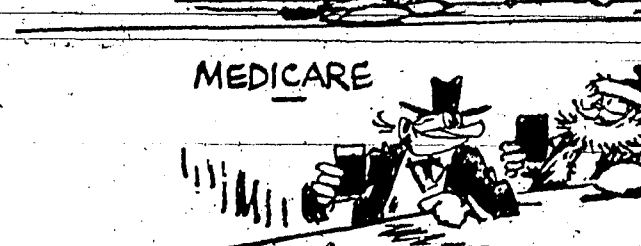

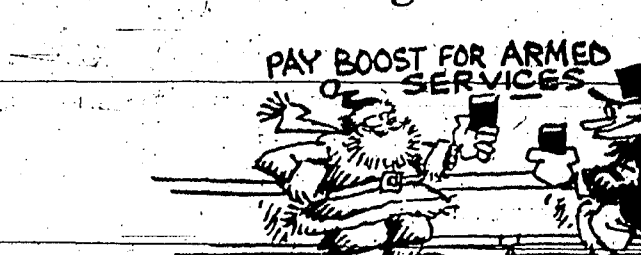

IT'S YOUR MONEY
An example of a lost battle in the war on poverty.

A furniture plant was established in West Virginia with over $500,000 supplied by the Area Development Administration. The Small Business Administration added over $250,000. After two years' operation the plant was closed, having experienced over $600,000 in operating losses.

This was a case where poor planning and money-handling by Uncle Sam (your tax dollars and mine), caused a new plant to go under. The people to be aided are no better off than they were before," says Rep. Ralph Harvey, R-Ind.—Indianapolis-News

Doing the Town

TAYLOR'S VIEWS ON WORLD NEWS

By HENRY J. TAYLOR

Good judgment is the price less ingredient needed in Saigon. And, in all kindness, God help our country as we rely again on Henry Cabot Lodge.

A tragedy engulfs Lodge. Is he really bright? He looks bright and sometimes he talks bright. But somehow you find a lot of Harold Stassen in Lodge.

Questions about this at Henry J. Taylor's tractive Bostonian brainpower reached a crescendo during the Nixon campaign. Here is only one example; but you can frame it.

Nixon won Virginia, greatly aided by giant Harry F. Byrd's refusal to endorse the Democratic ticket, but when victory was touch-and-go Lodge exploded a land mine of his own making.

It illustrates his impulsive independence as well as his bad judgment, for Nixon himself, the head of the ticket, has told Louis Howe and Woodrow Wilson's Joe Tumulty.

For nearly 10 years before Johnson became vice president, Reedy hunted out likely groups to hear his insistent claim that "London will be president of the United States."

So we have seen, George's man is in the White House, sure enough, but George no longer is there. It can be speculated that more than painful feet caused George to leave. As has been noted, one of Bill Moyers' jobs as press secretary will be to soften the newly established image of President Johnson as a flinty, hard man.

The job would be simpler if Johnson would underwrite Moyers' authority and prestige by keeping his new press secretary adequately informed. That has not been Johnson's way.

As a postscript to this essay, it must be stated that Pierre Salinger was not much of a John F. Kennedy's presidential press secretary. Salinger's office and organization were disorderly. He permitted snappish young women employes to impose petty duties and harassments on news-men accused of being less than idolatrous of the Kennedy administration. Bill Kent of the Chicago Sun-Times best described Salinger: "A genius in a messy sort of way."

Interpreting The News
By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans haven't come up with any fresh issues since the voters overwhelmingly repudiated them and their ideas in the 1964 elections.

It's a subdued party which makes it the strangest sight in a generation—at least in Congress where last year it won only 140 House seats to 295 for the Democrats and only 32 places in the Senate to 68 for the Democrats.

In March Leonard Hall, former chairman of the GOP's National Committee, said the party "is in bad shape." Republicans have said very little since to make them sound more optimistic than Hall.

Last month the new chairman, Ray Bliss, very modestly said "we honestly believe we can make gains," which is a far cry from the forecast of his predecessor, Dean Burch, who predicted Republican victory in 1964.

But Bliss said that if the Republicans are going to make gains in the 1966 congressional elections they will have to pick outstanding candidates and campaign vigorously.

Yet, they don't even agree among themselves on what stand Republicans should take in Congress or what the issues are or might be.

Last March one of the most powerful House Republicans, Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin, said "we may be dangerously close to ending any support" for President Johnson's policy in Viet Nam.

But the most powerful Republican in the Senate, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, disagreed, saying Senate Republicans will continue to "uphold the hands of the President" in Viet Nam.

Laird, who perhaps comes closest to being Johnson's most constant critic among House Republicans, but pretty infrequently at that, denounced the Johnson administration for "seeking one-party government" and the subjugation of Congress.

As a result of the massive Republican defeat in 1964, he said, "it cannot be lost on the American people that we have come to the dangerous brink of one-party government."

The bidding was a trifle unusual but there isn't scope in

EVERYBODY LOST ON THIS HAND

It isn't often that one bridge hand leaves all four players upset but this one did. South managed to make all the tricks at the three spade contract and wanted to know why North wouldn't raise him after he bid one bridge article to discuss anything except the fact that North bid perfectly. When it comes to the play I have to sympathize with West.

He opened the king of hearts. Dummy's ace won the trick and South started on his spades. East dropped a heart on the second spade and a club on the third spade. On the fourth spade lead. On the fourth spade lead. West threw away the eight of clubs and East let go his deuce of diamonds.

Of course, he had an excuse. He said that his partner had never raised hearts. West wanted to know why East could not have thrown away a second club. East replied that his partner had not rebid clubs until after he was raised. Then East wanted to know why West hadn't discarded the eight of hearts.

At this point West rushed out of the room. I can't blame him. East's arguments were so illogical that there was no point answering them.

Johnson Adds 4,000 Acres To Ranch

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — President Johnson has added more than 4,000 acres to his Texan ranch properties since he entered the White House, the Minneapolis Tribune and Des Moines Register said in a copyrighted story Thursday night.

The story, by Charles W. Bailey of the papers' Washington staff, said the President's total holdings in Texas now are more than 14,000 acres.

President Johnson or representatives of firms in which he holds a major interest, it was said, are reported by knowledgeable observers to be actively bargaining for the purchase of additional ranchland that might total as much as 26,000 acres.

The story said informants in the President's landholdings in Gillespie, Blanco and Llano counties was obtained from official sources as well as interviews with those familiar with the ranching situation in that Texas area.

Johnson, since assuming office, has formally placed his ranching operations in trust, and he disclaims knowledge of current operations. The story said his principal ranch partner, A. W. Moursund of Johnson City, Tex., did not reply to repeated calls for information.

FLAMES AND SMOKE soar skyward Thursday, shortly after sunset, as industrial area in heart of Salt Lake City burns. Streams of water poured from right into the half-million-dollar blaze. The petroleum-tank and equipment manufacturing complex recently had been acquired by the American Falls Canal Security Co. The blaze was controlled after three hours. About 140 firemen from 13 companies fought the blaze, which at times threatened a large grocery warehouse and a Buddhist church. Cause of the fire was not known. Three firemen were hurt. Affiliation With Union Rejected At Sun Valley

SUN VALLEY (UPI)—Janss Corp. employees at the Sun Valley resort Thursday rejected union affiliation in a 401 to 83 vote.

The union attempt was conducted by Hotel, Motel, Restaurant Employees and Bartenders Local No. 808 and Hotel and Restaurant Employees and Bartenders International Union, AFL-CIO.

REMEMBER WHEN?

By BOB REESE

His name was Bill Bevens. He was not a well-known pitcher on the Yankee roster . . . but he almost reached the pinnacle of baseball fame on that October day.

Bevens had not pitched a perfect game. In fact, he had allowed one run and there were two men on base in the fifth inning. But the Yankees were leading the Dodgers 2-1 . . . and Bevens was hurling a no-hit game.

Then came one of the most dramatic moments in World Series history. Cookie Lavagetto, a veteran Dodger third baseman hearing the end of his playing career, was called off the bench to pinch-hit with two outs. He was the last man between Bevens and the Hall of Fame. Cookie ran out the count . . . then caught hold of Bevens' last pitch . . . and drove it out for a double . . . two runs and the ball game! Bevens not only lost his no-hitter . . . but he lost the game.

That was a year when many a fan was trying to keep the old car going. New cars were scarce, and it wasn't easy to make a deal.

The year was 1947. You'll find it's easy to make a good deal today with us on a brand new Dodge or Chrysler. You won't want to limp along in the old car when you find out how much it's worth right in the trade, at Bob Reese Motor Co., 500 Block 2nd Ave. So., Twin Falls. Phone 733-5776.

FACILITIES TO BE STUDIED
POCATELLO (AP)—The city commission Thursday night approved $3,319 for a comprehensive professional survey of recreational facilities here.

The survey will be made by the National Recreation Association, covering all facets of city parks and recreation.

Chairman Earl Pond said the survey was necessary because city commissioners as well as the parks and recreation board are laymen in the field.

CHILD'S CONDITION BETTER
JDAHO FALLS (UPI)—An 11-month-old toddler kicked in the head by a horse Wednesday was listed in improved condition Friday at Latter-day Saints Hospital.

Terry Sorenson, 2 1/2, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ford Sorenson, had been on the critical list. But attendants listed him as "fairly good" and said he had regained consciousness.

BOARD ELECTS OFFICERS
BOISE (AP)—Dr. John E. Comstock of Pocatello is new chairman of the Idaho Board of Medicine succeeding Dr. S. M. Poindexter, who resigned after serving as chairman for 20 years.

Dr. Charles A. Terhune of Burley was elected vice chairman. Other members of the board are Dr. James S. Newton, Lawiston; Dr. Charles E. Kerrick, Caldwell; Dr. Orland B. Scott, Kellogg; and Dr. Robert E. Lloyd, Boise.

The board approved granting of licenses to 18 physicians to practice medicine and surgery in Idaho and granted permanent registration to Mrs. Ann M. North of Idaho Falls as a physical therapist.

REST HOME BURNS
PAYETTE (UPI)—Firemen men said Friday damage to a Payette nursing home caused by fire Thursday totaled several thousand dollars.

The fire broke out in a large storage room at the Payette Valley Sanitarium. Fire Chief Lowell Coffey said structural damage was limited by the building's masonry block construction, but furniture and other equipment was destroyed.

There were no injuries from the fire.

RAFT RACE PLANNED
BOISE (UPI)—Boise Junior Chamber of Commerce members will hold their annual Boise River raft race July 25.

More than 25 entries are expected for the race, which starts at Barber Dam and finishes at Ann Morrison Park in Boise. The race is held to publicize the "Keep Idaho Green" fire prevention drive.

State Riding Unit Slates District Meet

WIFE CAN'T TESTIFY
BOISE (AP)—The Idaho Supreme Court ruled Thursday that a wife cannot testify against her husband in a criminal fact even if the charge stems from physical harm to her child.

Jacob McGonigal, charged with lewd conduct, won a directed verdict of acquittal after the trial court disallowed testimony offered by his wife.

The state appealed the verdict contending that the Idaho code had been amended in 1963 to allow one spouse to testify against another in criminal actions where there had been physical injury to their child.

The Supreme Court ruled, however, that the 1963 amendment applied only to witnesses in civil cases and did not affect the rules governing trials of criminal cases.

VOLUNTEERS HELP INDIANS
BOISE (AP)—A group of vista volunteers—the domestic counterpart of the Peace Corps—has been assigned to work in Idaho at the request of the Nez Perce and Kootenai-Indian tribes.

Approval of the assignment has been granted by Gov. Robert E. Smylie, who said they will be the first to be working in the Gem State.

The volunteers, now in training at an institution of higher learning, will provide technical assistance in the maintenance of health facilities on the Nez Perce Reservation and tutoring services for children of Kootenai Indian families.

REA RATES SAME
SANPOINT, Idaho (AP)—The manager of Northern Lights, Inc., says the REA cooperative will not increase power rates despite rising costs and the Idaho sales tax.

William T. Nordeen, speaking at the 30th annual meeting of the cooperative, also voiced criticism of an announcement by the Bonneville Power Administration that it plans to increase wholesale power rates at the end of the year.

FINAL ARGUMENTS
CALDWELL (UPI)—Final arguments were scheduled Friday in the first-degree murder trial of Philip Eugene Koho, 35, of Nampa.

Koho was a defense witness Thursday. He testified he shot his divorced wife, Vincenza, 34, with a shotgun last March 17. Her body was found in front of her Nampa home.

"I reached into the back of the car and I grabbed the shotgun, pointed it out the window," Koho said. "She was facing me and I shot her."

CALDWELL (AP)—The annual School of Christian Mission for women of Methodist Churches in Southern Idaho and Eastern Oregon ended today.

Bright Tents Spring up at Scout Camp

FARRAGUT, Idaho (AP)—Bright blue and red and pink tents sprang up in the dust today, as thousands of Girl Scouts from across the United States and 40 foreign countries poured in for the Girl Scout Senior Roundup.

The Scouts received two quick tests.

A twisting wind, known locally as a dust devil, ripped over seven of their tents moments after they were erected Thursday. It tore out canvas, tent stakes and poles erected moments before by teenagers from New York, Maryland, Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Virginia.

None of the girls was injured, and they methodically erected the tents again.

A bus carrying some of the 594 scouts from Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Louisiana en route to the encampment slammed into an embankment in Glacier National Park after its brakes failed Wednesday night.

Seven girls were hospitalized at Whitefish, Mont. Virginia Bannister, Corpus Christi, Tex., and Elizabeth Williams, Harlingen, Tex., were released and sent on to the roundup Thursday.

Scout officials said Anne Mitchell, Corpus Christi; Patsy Hopson, Laredo, Tex.; Rebecca Suggs, Albuquerque, N. M.; and Lilli Cannales, Beavides, Tex., would be sent home soon. They suffered broken bones.

Peggy Sue Price, Albuquerque who suffered a back injury, will be held in the Whitefish Memorial Hospital. Scout officials said she is progressing satisfactorily.

The others went on to Farragut. All 9,000 and 2,000 adult leaders are expected to be in camp by nightfall.

The early arrivals were tired by the trip.

"I just want to go to bed," said Phyllis Frank, 16, of Abington, Pa., a camera around her neck and a guitar in her hand. She flew in on a charter plane carrying 104 girls from the Philadelphia area.

Monica O'Gara, 18, Rockville Center, L. I., N. Y., also flew in with a guitar. She will use it for Long Island's contribution to the demonstrations. Each Scout unit will present: A song about the Long Island Railroad, with flashing scenery.

CUTTING RIBBON is Gov. Robert E. Smylie to officially open the main thoroughfare — Smylie Boulevard — at the 1965 Girl Scout Roundup in a ceremony held Thursday night. Also cutting the ribbon is Mrs. Holton R. Price, national president of Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. After the road was officially opened, the governor addressed some 2,000 staff members in the 13,000-seat Roundup arena. (AP wirephoto)

"Another early arrival was Pam Jones, 15, a blonde from Idaho Falls, Idaho. She spent nearly 23 hours on a bus from Southern Idaho carrying 32 girls.

"I think it's all just great," she said.

For the girls, the living is primitive, but not too.

The high school-aged girls have no hot water, heat or electricity. They sleep in sleeping bags on sometimes rocky ground and prepare their meals over charcoal stoves. But they are furnished food and have plenty of clothing for temperatures which have been in the 90s in the daytime and the 50s at night.

FAMILY PICNIC HELD
SHOSHONE — Mr. and Mrs. Morris Gerard attended a Webster family picnic at Banbury Hot Springs. Guests attended from Twin Falls, Jerome, North Shoshone and California.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT M. CHASE

Marilyn Reed, Chase Wed in Boise Ceremony

Marilyn Reed, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Woody L. Reed, Twin Falls, became the bride of Robert M. Chase, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Chase, Boise, in rites June 5 at Our Lady of the Rosary Catholic Church, Boise.

Rev. Nicolas Walsh performed the double ring ceremony before a background setting of white gladioli and pink peonies. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of crystal-charm, fashioned with a fitted bodice, long lily-point sleeves and a floor-length embroidered skirt. Her elbow-length veil of illusion was held by a single rose tiara studded with pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink elfe roses backed with ivy.

Barbara Reed, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Marilyn Chase, sister of the bridegroom, and Ann Nordby, Boise. Best man was Michael Walsh. Ushers were Leonard (Pud) Ackley and Fred Hull, all Boise.

A wedding reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the Stardust Banquet Room. The bride's table was covered with an embroidered silk organza cloth and centered with a four-tiered wedding cake, decorated with pink elfe roses. A crystal punch bowl and a silver coffee service completed the table appointments.

Assisting at the serving table were Shelley Stein, cousin of the bride, Karen Smith and Mrs. Arlene Bias, all Boise.

A pre-nuptial shower was held in Boise at the YWCA Lounge, hosted by the bridegroom's mother, and friends of the bridegroom, and a dinner in honor of the couple was hosted by the bride's family and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Duffy Reed, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Stein, uncle and aunt of the bride.

The couple will reside in Boise.

No Money Til Fall — Delivery and Service To EVERY Community in Magic Valley!

BEING CONGRATULATED by Rep. George Hansen, right, in Washington, D.C., is Lee Presley, left, assistant forester at the Fairfield Ranger Station, and his wife, on the award for valor Presley received Thursday from Interior Secretary Stewart Udall. Presley was cited for courage above and beyond the call of duty by the Interior Department, for which he worked at the time, for rescuing two men from a crashed helicopter during a firefighting operation Aug. 3, 1963. The helicopter exploded just seconds after Presley had pulled the two men to safety.

Opposition Voiced to National Park

SHOSHONE — Opposition to the proposed National Park area in a bill sponsored by Sen. Frank Church was expressed at a meeting of the North Side Communities and Sawtooth Valley Association Wednesday at Smiley Creek Lodge.

A barbecue dinner was served members and their families prior to the joint meeting which was well attended.

It was noted several national parks are proposed within the 11 Western states with more than 20 per cent of the area for such parks to come from Idaho. Some 750,000 people visited the Sawtooth National Forest during the year, members reported. One and eight-tenths million acre feet of water came from there, which when sold in the Snake River area goes for $25 an acre foot. There are 90,000 head of sheep grazing there, at a price of eight cents a month per head; 20,000 head of cattle, grazing at a price of 10 cents a month per animal.

Also 13,000,000 board feet of lumber were cut last year and better roads could double this. The lumber is sold for $3 to $8 per thousand board feet.

This is sold cheaply in order for the person buying to provide his equipment to haul over the rough roads. When processed this brings $60 per thousand board feet. All of these assets would be gone with a park area established, it was noted.

A comparison of value of a park to the present multiple uses of the area was made. Though a park might bring in more tourists, it would not allow use of the land for mining, hunting, fishing, dams, water storage, lumber and such.

Late Note

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The city council's State, County and Federal Affairs Committee went housecleaning Thursday and found an untimely note congratulating Pierre Salinger on being named an interim U.S. senator last Aug. 5.

The council committee disposed of the note because Salinger since lost the seat to Sen. George Murphy.

Protection Given Teachers In "Spanking Johnny" Cases

NEW YORK (AP) — Several states allow teachers to spank Johnny if he's bad, but in some cases the law places a limitation on how much pressure may be applied to the seat of his pants.

California, Georgia, Illinois, Kansas, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania and New York are among the states that permit school spankings.

Illinois became the latest one when Gov. Otto Kerner signed into law Wednesday a bill permitting teachers to spank unruly pupils.

"This legislation was urged, not to allow teachers to beat children but rather to provide a defense against harassment suits," said Kerner. "One of the greatest hindrances to teaching is a pupil who taunts a teacher's inability to enforce discipline and threatens to sue if the teacher approaches."

The legal counsel to the California Board of Education said discretion about spankings is left to the 1,300 local school districts.

A spokesman for the California board said there no doubt is some paddling of pupils since the law is permissive. He said, however, that if punishment is believed excessive, a parent would have legal grounds to bring civil or criminal action.

New York state law permits teachers to use "reasonable force in a moderate degree" to restrain or correct a pupil. But some school systems, including New York City's, have rules against corporal punishment.

In Georgia, under a law enacted in 1964, corporal punishment is optional with local school boards. If paddling is permitted, the punishment may be administered in the presence of the principal or another teacher and it cannot be excessive or unduly severe.

Massachusetts has a common law rule that a teacher may use whatever punishment is deemed necessary.

Amos Caudill and son, Filer, purchased an Aberdeen-Angus bull from Blick and Comper, Castleford.

Farmers at Tuttle have the first crop of hay harvested and are now cultivating row crops, spraying corn for weeds and irrigating all crops. Bean weeding is in progress at the Bennett ranch by the male members of the families and several farmers expect to start cutting the second crop of hay in a week or so. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Udy and Mr. and Mrs. Raynard Wright recently have painted the outside of their farm homes and work on a new board fence around the yard at the ranch of Mr. and Mrs. William Maude is in progress.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith, Filer, attended the Calgary Stampede Rodeo at Calgary, Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. (Tommy) Roseberry, Tucson, are spending the summer at the one-time Ralph Sr. ranch, now one of Bruce Sorensen's ranches near Richfield. He is a cousin of Tom Roseberry and they help with some of the farm work.

Many skunks have been seen northwest of Richfield, but few encounters have been noted except when a skunk meets a car on the north end of the highway. Then all passersby note the incident. One farm wife made the mistake of telling her two dogs to "go get him," when the dogs were barking at what she thought was a tom cat in the darkness. The skunk's perfumed answer made one of the dogs sick and came too close for comfort to the farm wife, who was outside making sure the dogs went

Unwanted Invader Poised To Attack United States

An unwanted, uninvited gnats-like insect, with the ability to reproduce 2,000 offspring in its three-month life span, is poised for a massive attack upon homes, bars, restaurants, food markets and food processing plants.

The annual assault by the vinegar fly takes place throughout America, reaching its peak in the hot months of July and August, warns Dr. Phillip J. Spear, technical director of the National Pest Control Association, in a communication received by the Twin Falls county agent.

This small, brown insect is properly known as the Drosophila fly, but he travels (he has been known to fly six and a half miles within a 24-hour period) under a variety of better-known cognomens, such as the papaya fly, banana fly, sour fly, vinegar gnat, sour gnat, fruit fly and lesser fruit fly.

Drosophila may not rate as Insect Public Enemy No. 1, but, according to Dr. Spear, this fly is a king-size nuisance pest and a serious contaminator of food.

The vinegar fly has an almost uncanny ability to appear from "nowhere." One obvious reason is the fact that the female, having located damaged or overripe fruit, lays about 25 to 35 eggs per day and up to 1,000 in her adult life of two to three months.

Normally eggs hatch within 24 hours, but on occasion have been known to hatch within two hours. In eight to 10 days the fly has hatched and matured to adulthood.

Fruit and other vegetable products are the primary targets of the adult fly, providing not only food but a favorable nest.

The yeast growths causing fermentation are known to be a primary attractant, although

Odors of the Fruit Itself are also Implicated,

By-products of the fermentation process, including alcohol, are also attractive. The flies recently were discovered infesting a printing plant. Alcohol-based ink was the explanation.

"Bottoms-up" should be the cry of both male and female householders this summer. The vinegar fly delights in those almost-empty beer cans, soft drink bottles, milk or tomato catsup containers that are discarded with small amounts in the bottom. Unclean mops and cleaning rags, left to sour, are breeding sites.

"Sanitation is the primary consideration in Drosophila fly control," explains Dr. Spear, notes that the standard 16 by 16 per inch household screening is no barrier to this tiny invader. Certain insecticides, properly applied, will also assist in the control of one of the nation's major nuisance pests.

Northrup, King President Notes Business, Crops Good Over Nation

By O. A. (GUS) KELKER
Times-News Farm Editor

James B. Massie, Minneapolis, president of Northrup, King and Co., one of the world's largest seed businesses, told the Times-News in an exclusive interview that "business is good."

The nationally known business executive was in Twin Falls to attend a divisional sales production meeting which attracted company officials and leaders from across the United States.

It was the first time this meeting had ever been held in Twin Falls.

"Despite a very late growing season we noted a surge of business which has been good," Massie said.

He added that over the nation generally, in areas where the company grows seeds, the crops look good.

In the Twin Falls area the firm, under contract with growers, produces pea, bean and radish seeds. Generally the firm deals in hybrid corn, garden seed, packet seed, lawn products and field seed and grasses. They operate in the United States, Mexico and in many foreign countries.

In this area the contract growing is supervised by the company and Massie, after conferring with Emery K. Chaffee, Twin Falls branch manager, said that garden beans would be in the bumper crop category this year.

The firm, the president said, is undertaking a great amount of research.

He pointed out that the local 80-acre research farm, located south of the city on the airport road, is one of six maintained by the company in various parts of the United States.

Records show that the company introduced the first hybrid grass into the United States and is also doing research on hybrid wheat at the present time.

The meeting here, attended by nearly 50 company men, discussed production at sessions

Halo Blight Hits In T.F. County

Halo blight has been found in commercial beans in both the Filer and Murtaugh area, it was announced Friday by Clyde Butcher, plant pathologist with the Idaho State Department of Agriculture.

At the same time County Agent Donald Youtz said that free copies of a University of Idaho, College of Agriculture bulletin on the blight are now available at his office in the courthouse.

This informative literature, which includes suggestions to prevent spread of the disease, is authored by Dr. Henry Fenwick, extension plant pathologist, and Dr. Leslie Dean, plant pathologist at the Twin Falls branch of the Idaho Agricultural Experiment Station.

Farmers who suspect the blight in their bean fields should report the matter at once to Butcher, who maintains offices at 431 Shoshone St. W., and whose telephone is 733-6874. Butcher is in charge of field inspections.

He, too, urged that all farmers secure a copy of the bulletin available at the county agent's office.

Every bean grower should be concerned with the early discovery of infested fields in order that spread of the blight can be arrested.

Dry weather during the growing season will help reduce the problem but bean seed producers must be prepared to do all they can to control the disease, the officials warned.

The booklet points out that the mere presence of a trace amount of the bacteria in a seed

34 College Pupils Tour Valley Area

An Iowa State University agricultural travel tour composed of 34 college students from Iowa, Nebraska and Indiana, visited the Olmstead feedlots and other area farms Monday.

A detailed account of the feeding and farming operations, and profit and loss was given by the Olmstead brothers.

Lowell Hunt, Burley, lectured on the economic background of agricultural projects in that area and financial policies.

The summer travel tour was planned and conducted by Robert E. Taylor, former Olmstead resident, and Joseph Speltz, professors at Iowa State University, Ames.

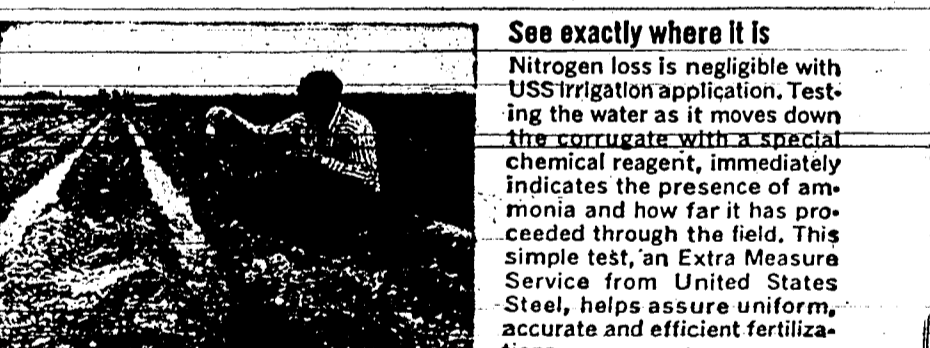

It included visits to 12 states, including New Mexico, Arizona, California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Wyoming and Nebraska.

The tour included visits to all agricultural, mining and lumbering projects in these states.

USS Anhydrous Ammonia

Put it in the water

What is the key to effective nitrogen fertilization? Get the right amount on your crops, in the right way, at the right time. Irrigation application does just that. Meter USS Anhydrous Ammonia into your irrigation water in recommended amounts when your crops need it, and get more profitable yields.

See exactly where it is Nitrogen loss is negligible with USS irrigation application. Testing the water as it moves down the corrugate with a special chemical reagent, immediately indicates the presence of ammonia and how far it has proceeded through the field. This simple test, an Extra Measure Service from United States Steel, helps assure uniform, accurate and efficient fertilization.

Know exactly what you get

Accurate measurement is another Extra Measure Service benefit you get with USS application. USS Ammonia tanks are weighed in the field, on State certified scales, before and after each application. You know exactly how much nitrogen is applied to your field... and you pay only for that amount.

United States Steel gives you more than just ordinary fertilization service. You get such added Extra Measure Service benefits as USS Tissue Testing Service. Tissue testing checks plants for a nitrogen deficiency; a deficiency that can seriously reduce your profits... unless corrected. And the way to correct nitrogen deficiencies, whenever they occur, is with USS Anhydrous Ammonia metered into your irrigation water. Ask a USS Soil Fertility Specialist about the many distinctive advantages of Extra Measure Service and irrigation application of USS Anhydrous Ammonia on your farm.

Youth Corps Finds Jobs For 31,000

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rural-sponsored Neighborhood Youth Corps (NYC) projects so far this summer have provided 31,000 jobs, according to Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman.

Commenting on a survey of the role various organizations are taking in the president's war against poverty, Freeman said the jobs have been provided because farm organizations, rural electric cooperatives, state forestry agencies, county extension offices, and local soil and water conservation districts sponsored NYC projects.

"The response by rural organizations has been tremendous and these are just preliminary figures," Freeman said. "I expect the final figure will be much higher."

NYC was authorized by the Economic Opportunity Act. Under the program, about 120,000 young persons, aged 16 to 24, will earn money to complete their education and gain work experience while doing jobs that benefit the entire community. The federal government pays 90 per cent of the cost of the projects and local organizations contribute 10 per cent.

Freeman cited examples of rural groups sponsoring NYC projects in Arkansas, Illinois, Indiana, Oklahoma and Nebraska.

Yield

WASHINGTON—The Foreign Agricultural Service said Russia's wheat harvests since World War II have shown an average yield of 11.5 bushels per acre. This compares with an average of 21.2 bushels in the United States.

Since World War II, Russia has had one extremely good crop season — 1958, when the wheat yield hit 13.5 bushels an acre. During Russia's poorest season during the period was 1963 when the yield was 9.4 bushels.

1965 Potato Crop May Set New Records

BOISE—The Idaho potato crop of 1965 is likely to set new records for quality and quantity, Richard Ohms, potato specialist of the University of Idaho extension services, said today after examining fields in several parts of the production area.

"Conditions are excellent," he said. "I have never seen such a fine crop at this stage of development. Veterans of the industry believe that the harvest may be the finest in history. Spring weather was favorable. Most growers planted their potatoes at the right time. Soil moisture was adequate. Temperature was almost ideal. There are good stands of vigorous plants."

Very little plant disease has been reported, Ohms said. Plants are vigorous and have good color. Many tubers are developing per hill. In some fields where potato beetles have been evident spray programs are controlling that pest.

More farmers than usual are following round irrigation and fertilization practices, the specialist reported.

Total area planted to potatoes is estimated at 283,000 acres, compared with 245,000 acres in 1964.

"The increase in acreage is not a cause for current concern by producers, Ohms said. "The splendid quality in prospect gives assurance the famous Idaho potato will find an enthusiastic market."

Rise Noted In Output Of Milk

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department's report on milk production for June shows that output per cow totaled 756 pounds, three per cent more than the 735 pound output a year earlier.

The June output compares with the 1959-63 averages of 685 pounds for the month.

On a daily basis, output per cow in June averaged 25.2 lbs.

FOOD CONSUMPTION DOWN CHICAGO — Per capita food consumption this year will be lower than 1964's high level. It was predicted by Economics Research Service. Total expenditures for food, however, are expected to rise three of four per cent above last year's $80 billion because of increased population and higher prices.

Utah, Idaho Duo Selected for Advisory Board

DENVER—Traffic executives from Utah and Idaho were elected to two positions on the Central Western Shippers Advisory Board at its 43rd annual meeting in Denver recently.

G. E. Dupin, traffic manager for Monsanto Company, at Soda Springs, Idaho, was elected general chairman. W. H. Cowles, traffic manager for Utah-Idaho Sugar Company at Salt Lake City, was elected alternate general secretary.

During the meeting C. R. Nickerson, traffic manager for the Defense Depot at Ogden, Utah, was appointed new Utah state chairman, succeeding Mr. Cowles. H. J. Shelley, traffic manager-rates for Boise Cascade Corp., Boise, Idaho, was appointed chairman of the legislative committee.

Idaho project superintendent; Norman Moore, Boise, assistant regional director, Bureau of Reclamation; Everett Walker, Rupert, manager Minidoka Irrigation District; Otto Steinbrink, Paul, manager of the Idaho Bank and Trust Co.; Virgil Temple, electrical mechanical chief, Bureau of Reclamation, Rupert.

The tour was held for the purpose of acquainting the district's landowners, and guests, with the importance of the $12 million investment in the project irrigation system.

Arrangements for the tour were made by Herb Van Slyke, secretary-treasurer of the company, while Terrance Gulley, irrigation manager, Bureau of Reclamation, Rupert was lecturer.

During the tour the company officials said a good crop year is anticipated, with growth "coming along fine." They also announced that the underground water table is showing a rise.

The tour was made by automobile with at least seven lecture stops in addition to the luncheon stop.

Among officials making the jaunt, in addition to the two previously named, were John Coleman, Twin Falls, district attorney; Robert Reed, manager, Idaho First National Bank, Rupert; Burt Van Every, Minidoka county commissioner; Richard Burks, Edward Smith, Harold Ingram, Fred Kasworm and Russell Mohlman, all A and B officers.

County Loan, Purchase Rate Set for 1965 Wheat

WASHINGTON—The price support loan and purchase rate for 1965-crop wheat in Twin Falls County will be $1.16 per bushel, Carl Boyd, Chairman, Twin Falls County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, has announced. Information on price-support rates for wheat stored in terminals, as well as schedules of premiums and discounts, is available at the ASCS County Office.

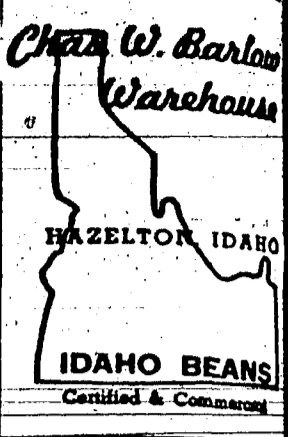

As in the past, terminal price-support rates are derived by adding rail freight and handling charges necessary to get the wheat from the producing area to the terminal markets. The county loan rates are then computed on the basis of the tributary terminal market loan rate, minus rail freight rates. County and terminal loan rates are subject to further adjustment for premium and discounts in determining individual producer loans, depending on the grade and quality of the producer's wheat collateral.

The Chairman explained that support will be available to all growers who stay within their farm's 1965 wheat allotments and carry out other provisions of the 1965 wheat program. By signing up and participating in the program, they qualify for price-support loans and purchases and for marketing certificates; diversion payments will also be available to such participants if they reduce their wheat acreage at least 10 per cent below the farm allotment and devote the acreage to conserving uses.

The marketing certificates are worth 75 cents a bushel for the domestic portion of the farm's wheat crop—based on 45 per cent of the normal production of the wheat acreage—and 30 cents a bushel on the export portion—based on 35 per cent of the normal production from the wheat acreage.

Mr. Boyd pointed out that three general changes are made in the price-support rate schedules for 1965-crop wheat. They deal with terminal rate adjustments, discontinuance of the sedimentation value test, and a readjustment of other premium-and discount schedules.

Idaho Fields Invaded by Grain Aphid

The English grain aphid is abundant in most grain fields according to County Agent Donald Youtz. These numerous small pale green plant lice may be found clustered about the heads of wheat, oats and barley. The infestation seems to be most serious in wheat fields this year, said Youtz.

These aphids produce injury by sucking the sap from the seedhead causing shriveling and shrinking of the newly-formed grain. During cool, wet springs they may become abundant enough to cause some damage.

Chemical control is usually not recommended since this aphid rarely causes more than one to three per cent damage to grain crops. Ordinarily it is held in check by numerous parasites and predators. Where populations average 25 to 30 per head before grain has reached the soft dough stage, control is necessary.

The County Agent recommended that where these aphids are present, the farmer should take a number of heads from different parts of the field and count the number of insects to determine the average number. If it is determined that control is necessary, Malathion or Parathion may be used.

CHICAGO — A complete automatic system of egg handling from hen to carton where the only human operation is candling (inspection) was outlined by Dr. R. Anderson of Topeka, Kan., at the 1965 annual meeting of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers at the University of Georgia, Athens, Ga.

The ten-step system outlined by Anderson, who is production manager for Seymour Foods Co., is designed for large flocks of 10,000 or more birds. After automatic gathering from either a cage system or from a floor system where birds lay in nests, the eggs are conveyed from a number of production houses to a central processing point.

"This is a new concept in egg handling," he said. "In the past, most automatic handling up until this time has been done within one production house."

Shows Increase for Idahoans

BOISE (UPI) — Idaho milk production in May showed a 1.1 per cent increase over the same month in 1964, the U. S. Agriculture Department's Statistical Reporting Service said Thursday.

The service estimated May production at 147 million pounds. This compared with 146 million pounds for the same month last year and the 1959-63 average of 160 million pounds.

Idaho dairymen received an average of 88 cents per pound of milkfat during May. This was four cents from a year earlier. The average price for milk was $2.02 per hundredweight, which was two cents below the preceding month.

GOVERNMENT SPENDING — WASHINGTON — Spending by federal, state and local government is likely to exceed the $100 billion mark by the end of fiscal year 1965 — an amount representing some $3,300 per family, states Tax Foundation, Inc.

China Expected to Import More Wheat During Year

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A high Agriculture Dept. official believes Communist China will continue to be an importer of Free World wheat, barring serious deterioration in East-West relations.

During the fiscal years 1961-64, Red China purchased from the West some 615 million bushels of wheat. Free World exports of wheat to Red China in 1964-65 are expected to total 176 million bushels. During this period Red China exported a considerable amount of rice and some soybeans.

Raymond A. Ioanes, administrator of the Foreign Agricultural Service (FAS) said "selling rice and buying wheat makes sense." He said the Chinese sell their milled rice for about $120 a metric ton and buy wheat for about $70 a ton. Even though the spectre of hunger is believed to be ever-present in heavily populated China, there is not much caloric loss in the sale of rice with one hand and the purchase of wheat with the other.

The caloric values of rice and wheat are close—383 calories per 100 grams for milled rice against 330 calories for whole-grained wheat.

While the loss in calories is not much, the grain in important hard currencies is considerable, according to Ioanes.

Macao, Malaysia, West Germany, and the Benelux countries. China also recently sold 120,000 tons of rice to Japan. China also has bartered some rice with Ceylon, Indonesia and Cuba.

Ioanes said Chinese officials have indicated that it is official economic policy to import cheaper grains, including wheat and to export the higher-priced rice and soybeans.

Standards
Set for All
Feeder Pigs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department has proposed standards for five official grades of feeder pigs. The proposed standards provide for grades U.S. No. 1, U.S. No. 2, U.S. No. 3, medium, and cull.

The department said the proposed standards would provide a uniform basis for marketing and market reporting. There are presently no official grade standards for feeder pigs.

The proposed grades would be determined by a composite valuation of two general characteristics of feeder pigs — logical slaughter potential and thriftiness.

The proposal defines logical slaughter potential as the expected slaughter grade after a normal feeding period required for the animal to reach a market weight of 200 to 230 pounds.

Salmon Runs Need Quick Action on Commercial Interests, Anglers Told

A three-point crash program for perpetuation of anadromous fish runs in the Columbia River drainage is needed now, A. A. (Tony) Whitney, California division chairman of the Northwest Association of Steelheaders told 29 Magic Valley area anglers at a special meeting Thursday night. Whitney said the only salvation of sport fishing in Idaho was a quick "snowballing" grassroots upheaval which would Burley's Rollie Curtis set a Twin Falls High School stadium record by scaling 6 feet, 5 1/2 inches Thursday night and setting the pace for the Twin Falls Recreation Department's open track meet.

Nelson to Head State Bowling Unit

BURLEY — E. Nelson, Pocatello, was named president of the Idaho Bowling Proprietors Association at the conclusion of a three-day workshop and convention Thursday evening.

Other state officials named were Clark Barrus, Rupert, secretary; Mel Kirkland, Caldwell, treasurer, and Harry Luhr, Meridian, sergeant at arms. Clyde Rapp, Shoshone, was voted vice president from the Magic Valley region.

Three surveys, taken by the American Bowling Proprietors Association, and manufacturers, Brunswick and American Machine and Foundry, show bowling is climbing back up in popularity. Based on monthly reports from all houses on number of lines rolled in open and league bowling, the survey showed the 1964-65 year was up two and one-half percent over the previous season. The survey further showed the upward trend should continue through this year.

The group set up the 1965-66 slate of BPA approved tournaments and these will be announced early in August. A banquet and installation of officers concluded the affair.

Ralston Wins in Tennis Tourney

CHICAGO (AP) — Top-seeded Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., spotted Clark Graebner of Evanston, Ill. one set and then overpowered the Northwestern University senior Thursday advancing to the semifinal round of the National Clay Courts Tennis Championships.

The scores were 1-6, 6-4, 6-1, 7-5. In a three-hour and 10-minute quarter-final match, fifth-seeded Ham Richardson of Dallas, Tex., disposed of Frank Froehling, third seeded of Miami, Fla., 6-0, 9-7, 10-12 and 7-5.

Parental Problem Costs U.S. Davis Cup Team Talents of Cliff Richey

CHICAGO (AP) — Cliff Richey, young Dallas, Tex., tennis star, was eliminated as the United States' potential No. 2 Davis Cup player following a dispute over parental interest in the 18-year-old ace Thursday.

George MacCall, non-playing cup squad captain, announced he could not consider Richey as a Davis Cupper and the tennis-stepped Richey family said Cliff was not available for cup play.

The dispute involving the role of Cliff's father, George, a Dallas teaching pro, in his son's cup play preparations flared during the National Clay Courts meet at the River Forest Tennis Club.

The U.S. cup squad meets Mexico in American Zone play at Dallas starting July 31.

It was MacCall, expected to name his cup line-up Friday, against the Richey clan, including Cliff, his equally talented sister, Nancy, and Mr. and Mrs. Richey.

Both Cliff and Nancy, defend-arouse politicians to take immediate steps. He told the men "we need your vote, not your money" as he urged those attending to become members of the association.

Whitney said the three-point program was, in order, removal of all gill nets from inland waters, rehabilitation of spawning beds and a follow-up campaign of recreational improvements.

Basing his talk on the slogan, "an injury to one of us is injury to all," Whitney said it is important to the economy of all the states concerned to protect salmon and steelhead runs.

He said a vigorous rehabilitation program on the Salmon, Lochsaw, Clearwater and Selway rivers would become a $150 million asset to Idaho's economy and added if the commercial fishing could be taken out of the Columbia this year the runs would reach that point within six years.

Maintaining it is all 'dirty politics,' Whitney said the sportsmen must be prepared with a "rounded program that will show help for the individual communities before we have any hope of victory" against the powerful, monied commercial interests in Oregon.

"We have the money, but we can't win without members. Politicians ask 'how many votes do you represent?' Our first aim is to rapidly build a grassroots organization with every town in Oregon having a Steelhead group. The day we see that is the day we'll move—and we'll win," he promised.

Whitney said the Oregon legislature must be forced to curtail fishing in all inland waters. "I have received the go-ahead from Washington . . . that $100 million will be available for rehabilitation the moment we get the gill nets out of the lower Columbia," he said. "The conditions on the spawning streams in the drainage will require that amount for improvement."

Whitney said the association is receiving warm reception everywhere. "There is only one businessman on the Columbia River that doesn't belong to this group," he claimed. "Businessmen have to be interested. One man at Challis sold only $4.29 worth of fishing tackle last Sunday—his biggest day. If there is a disaster area in the nation it should be Salmon, Challis and Stanley. One third of the businessmen will go under if sport fishing for salmon and steelhead is stopped. Should we stand back and not raise our voices against it?"

Jumping to a new subject, Whitney said "the Indian question (of treaty guaranteed fishing rights) is a smoke screen . . . commercial fishermen have been hiding behind for years. As long as the white man is fishing commercially, you'll never touch the Indians." "When Oregon stopped commercial fishing on the Columbia this year, the Indians simply took over. The Indians . . . have been getting $5000 nets and stretching them across the fishways in front of dams three days a week. The Columbia River Pack hasn't lost a fish . . . through the closure."

"The answer is to simply make it illegal for a white man to buy a salmon or steelhead. This wouldn't deprive the Indian of his fishing rights; it would only take away his buyer," Whitney answered his own question.

He also attacked the "past mistakes" of fish and game biologists. "Three years ago, fish and game biologists from Idaho met with Washington and Oregon biologists. They came to an agreement," Whitney charged. "But at the same meeting a representative of the commercial fishermen stood up and said, 'We've been winning and dining you all week. We demand a close to all sport fishing in the Columbia basin.' If I had made that statement then I would have been called a liar. Now three years later—sport fishing is gone. Next year there will be commercial fishing on the Columbia, but you won't be fishing," he told the sportsmen.

Idahoans must be interested as "Potentially the best spawning streams of the Columbia Basin are in Idaho. We need pressure from Idaho to show the people in Oregon they must take corrective measures," he said.

The noted 120,000 spring-run salmon were counted going into the Columbia River this spring and less than 12,000 are expected to reach the spawning beds in Idaho headwaters.

ing women's Clay Courts champion, won singles titles in the Western Open at Milwaukee last weekend.

MacCall, in his second squabble involving Davis Cup talent, ran into a buzzsaw when he asked the elder Richey to step out of the picture for a few weeks while Cliff was preparing for the Davis Cup round with Mexico.

As a result, MacCall said that although he had Richey in mind for the No. 2 singles cup spot behind top-ranked Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., he had to forget about him this year.

"It was a case simply of who was running the show, me or Richey's father," said MacCall. "It is an unfortunate thing when a boy with so much promise has to be handicapped with so many personal problems."

George Richey, whose tutoring brought Nancy to top national women's ranking and Cliff to 11th spot among men, said: "I've pulled Cliff off the team

Devlin Grabs 36-Hole Lead In Golf Meet

TORONTO (AP)—Bruce Devlin of Australia took over the lead in the $100,000 Canadian Open Golf Championship Thursday with a second-round tournament under-par 66.

This gave the 27-year-old Aussie, who plays out of Hilton Head Island, S.C., a one-stroke lead over Jack Nicklaus, the Masters champ from Columbus, Ohio, at the halfway mark of the 72-hole tournament with a 36-hole total of 134.

Nicklaus also shot a second-round 66, but he had a first-round 69 to Devlin's 68.

Joe Campbell of Perdido Bay, Fla., the first-round leader with a 66 shot a par 70 over the 6,828-yard Mississauga Club course and was third at 136.

Mason Rudolph of Clarksville, Tenn., the first-round runner-up with a 67, took a 71 for a tie at 138 with Dave Stockton of San Bernardino, Calif.; Jay Dolan of Leicester, Mass., and Gene Litter of Las Vegas, Nev.

Arnold Palmer, of Latrobe, Pa., shot a 69 for a tie at 139 with Charles Sifford of Los Angeles, Frak Wharton of Perdido Bay, Fla.; Randy Glover of Florence, S.C., and George Knudson of Toronto.

Kel Nagle, the defending champion from Australia, went over par at 71 for a 140 while Gary Player, the South African who won the U.S. Open last month, shot a 68 for a 142. Tony Lema of San Leandro, Calif., withdrew because of a sore back.

Braves Stop Pirate Rally For 9-6 Win

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Veteran relief pitcher Dan Osinski snuffed out a Pirate attempt to overcome a nine-run deficit as the Milwaukee Braves defeated Pittsburgh 9-6 Thursday night.

Osinski relieved starter Ken Johnson after the Pirates had scored five runs in the sixth inning and charged within three runs of the Braves. He promptly struck out pinch hitter Andre Rodgers, ending the inning.

The Braves drove Vernon Law from the mound with five straight hits and four runs after Law retired the leadoff hitter in the first inning.

Gene Oliver singled across the first two runs and scored on Ed Mathews' 17th homer. Pittsburgh .000 015 000—6 13 1 Milwaukee 400 500 00x—9 11 0 Law, Sisk (1), Wood (4), McBean (8) and Pagliaroni; Johnson, Osinski (6) and Oliver. W—Johnson 9-4. L—Law 8-9.

because the Davis Cup captain, George MacCall, takes far too much authority, even in decisions involving the health of my son.

He referred to a thumb injury suffered by Cliff in recent play in Paris for which MacCall ordered treatment with a drug which Richey described as "unproven and still in the experimental stage."

Young Cliff, who MacCall concedes has played sensationally this year, expressed this view: "I'm 18 years old, a minor. And I really feel my father should make the decisions on my game."

MacCall's previous fuss with a Davis Cupper involved Ralston. MacCall suspended the cup squad's No. 1 player for the month of May for failing to play a doubles match in a Texas invitational event.

Consequently, Ralston sat out the North American Zone cup play in his home town of Bakersfield, Calif.

Mills Beats Schul in Meeting Of Two U.S. Olympic Champions

OSLO Norway (AP) — Billy Mills, U.S. Marine officer, won handsily over teammate Bob Schul in a 5,000-meter race featuring the American Olympic champions Thursday night at Bislet Stadium.

Mills, winner of the gold medal for 10,000 meters at Tokyo last October, pulled steadily away from Schul, the Olympic 5,000-meter king from West Milton, Ohio, in capturing the 5,000 in 13:41.4.

It was a record for the stadium and a personal best for Mills at the distance he posted a time of 13:42.2 at Helsinki last month.

Schul was second in 13:51.2 with Belgium's Eugene Olsson third in 13:55.2.

Ron Clarke, the record-smashing Australian who lowered the world standards for six miles and 10,000 meters

Wednesday, did not compete. He has a mark of 12:52.4 pending for the 5,000.

Other American winners in the final day of the two-day meet before a crowd of about 6,000 included Theron Lewis and Ron Whitney in separate 400-meter races, Blaine Lindgren in the 110-meter hurdles, John McGrath in the shot put, and John Cramer in the pole vault.

Jim Grelle, of Portland, Ore., however, was soundly beaten in the mile by New Zealand's John Davies.

Davies won by nearly 30 yards in 4:00.6 with Grelle second in 4:03.3. John Boulter of England was third in 4:04.3.

The Americans are competing in Europe in preparation for the meet with the Russians at Kiev, July 31 and Aug. 1.

Lewis, a sprinter from New Orleans who won the 200

Wednesday, beat Bill Crothers, the Canadian 800-meter specialist, in one of the 400-meter races in 46.5 seconds. Crothers was second in 47.7 and Don McCarty, another Canadian, third in 47.9.

Whitney, of Los Angeles, topped two Norwegian winners in winning his 400 in 47.5.

Lindgren, of Salt Lake City, defeated teammate Otis Burrill, the high jumper from Los Angeles, with a time of 14.1 for the hurdles. Burrill, the high jumper Wednesday, was second in 14.6.

McGrath, of Pasadena, Calif., took the shot with a heave of 59.8.

Cramer, of Everett, Wash., and Bob Seagren of Pomona, Calif., each cleared 16-1/4 but Cramer did it on his second try and Seagren on his third.

Congress Will Study NCAA-AAU Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressional committee is stepping into the jurisdictional dispute between the National Collegiate Athletic Association and the Amateur Athletic Union. Sen. Warren G. "It is now the duty of the Senate to speak out for those who have no voice."

Caldwell Is 13-5 Winner Over Dodgers

POCATELLO (UPI) — The Treasure Valley Cubs whipped Pocatello 13-5 at Pocatello while Idaho Falls downed the Magic Valley Cowboys 5-3 at Idaho Falls Thursday night.

The Cubs scored three in the first inning on a homer by Harry Cortopassi. Then they picked up a single in the second and added three more on John Hairston's home run in the third.

Jeff Allan and Cortopassi brought in four more runs in the fourth.

Pocatello picked up two runs on solo homers by John Wyatt and Buddy Hollowell to lead off the fourth inning. The Dodgers added three unearned runs in the fifth and were blanked the remainder of the game.

Treasure Valley added runs in the seventh and ninth.

Ken Holtzman fanned 13 to take the win, while Mike Price was charged with the loss.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Don Drysdale pitched a three-hitter for his 14th victory and singled home two of Los Angeles' five fifth-inning runs that gave the Los Angeles Dodgers a 5-0 triumph over the Chicago Cubs Thursday night.

Drysdale, who has lost eight, picked up his third straight victory and fourth shutout, outpitching Dick Ellsworth, 10-5, who had conquered the Dodgers three straight times.

The Dodgers broke a scoreless tie in the fifth inning after loading the bases with one out on infield singles by Ron Fairly and Wes Parker and a hit batsman — Lou Johnson.

Jim Lefebvre walked, forcing in one run, Drysdale singled home the next two and Maury Wills singled home another. Drysdale eventually scored on a throwing error by catcher Ed Bailey.

Vegas, Silverio Clout Homers to Lead Angels Past Magic Valley 5-3

IDAHO FALLS (AP) — Home runs by Ray Vegas and Tomas Silverio in the fourth and seventh innings sparked the Idaho Falls Angels to a 5-3 Pioneer League victory over the Magic Valley Cowboys Thursday. The Angels squelched Magic Valley bases-loaded situations in the second and ninth innings to pull out their sixth win in 19 games. In the fourth inning, Angel catcher Jim Kraus singled in front of Vegas' 408-foot homer over the centerfield wall to put the Angels in front 2-1, a lead they never lost.

Reds Take 8-1 Victory From Phils

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A controversial home run by Jim Coker and Tommy Harper's two-run double led the National League-leading Cincinnati Reds to an 8-1 rout over the Philadelphia Phillies Thursday night. Joe Nuxhall gained his fifth straight victory for the Reds, bringing his record to 6-2. Nuxhall, who allowed eight hits, also doubled in a run and scored in the sixth inning. Coker smashed a shot against the center field wall in the second inning. Umpire Ed Vargo first ruled it a double, but then, after a protest by the Reds, changed it to a home run when he said it hit above the home-run line. Manager Gene Mauch of the Phillies played the game under protest.

Chicago Ends Angels' Win Skein at Four

CHICAGO (AP) — Don Buford slammed a two-run homer and Dave Nicholson rapped a two-run triple as the Chicago White Sox defeated Los Angeles 4-3 and ended the Angels' four-game winning streak Thursday night. Buford homered off Marcelino Lopez in the third inning after Al Weis unloaded a leadoff triple. In the ninth inning Danny Carter singled, and Lopez walked Ron Hansen intentionally with two out. Nicholson followed with a triple down the right field line, then came home on a Berry double. Buford's homer ended a streak of 32 scoreless innings by the Angels' pitching staff that compiled. It also erased a 1-0 Los Angeles lead. Los Angeles 001 000 001—3 8 0 Chicago 002 000 02x—5 7 3 Lopez, Sukla (8) and Ranew; Bowen, Wilhelm (9) and Roman; Martin (9). W—Horin (8-6). L—Lopez (9-8). NFL May Give Seattle Next Franchise

SEATTLE (AP) — The Times quoted Pete Rozelle, National Football League commissioner, Wednesday as saying that Seattle "could be the balancing franchise" in the circuit by 1967. In a telephone interview Rozelle qualified his remarks by saying a suitable place to play would have to be found and added he was certain "we can find the proper persons with whom to deal in Seattle." "We have indicated before that Seattle is one of the cities which we will explore in our two-stage expansion in the next couple of years," Rozelle was quoted. Atlanta will enter the league next year as the 15th member. Seattle made a strong bid last fall for the Cleveland franchise in the American Baseball League but the move was balked by lack of a suitable stadium in the city.

Indians Whip Sox to Snap Losing Skid

CLEVELAND (AP) — A three-run homer by Fred Whitfield and clutch singles by Joe Azcue and Pedro Gonzalez powered the Cleveland Indians to a 6-3 victory over the Boston Red Sox Thursday night, ending a six-game losing streak. Whitfield homered in the fourth inning, driving in Max Alvis, who had walked, and Rocky Colavito, who reached base on Felix Mantilla's error. It was only the second hit off Boston starter Jim Lonborg, 5-10. Singles by Colavito and Whitfield and a walk to Vic Davallilo loaded the bases for the Indians in the sixth and set the stage for Azcue and Gonzalez. One run scored on Azcue's hit and two more when Gonzalez slapped a single into left field. Sonny Siebert struck out 10 in gaining his 10th victory against four defeats. Parrish Retires, Stuns Cleveland

HIRAM, Ohio (AP) — Bernie Parrish, who gave up a baseball bonus contract with the Cincinnati Reds to play six National Football League seasons with the Cleveland Browns, retired from professional football Thursday at age 29. The defensive halfback, chosen for the Pro Bowl in 1961 and in 1964 and the league's All-Rookie team in 1959, said he was tired of playing after the Browns won the championship last December. And he was still tired when he checked into training camp here Wednesday night a few hours late, he said. Parrish's retirement caught the Browns by surprise. Two months ago he had signed a contract to play this season.

19-Day Dove Season Slated

BOISE (AP) — The Idaho Fish and Game Commission approved Thursday a 19-day hunting season beginning Sept. 1. Bag possession limits approved by the commission will allow the shooting of 12 mourning doves daily with a 24 possession limit after the opening day. Daily shooting hours will be from one-half hour before sunrise to sunset. Elwood Bizzell, state bird supervisor, said the best hunting should be in the foothills near water holes or creeks. "Early morning and the hour before sunset are the most productive hunting hours in water-hole situations," he said.

Life Changes for Man After Losing 600 Pounds on Diet

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Happy Humphrey weighed 802 pounds three years ago, and he was so fat he had to sit up to sleep.

Today, fresh from a dieting research program, he is almost 600 pounds lighter and says the difference has changed his life.

"For the first time in my life I can cross my legs," said Happy, smiling. "Look at this."

"I can do things now that I could never do before. I can hunt and fish and swim. And for the first time in 15 years I can sleep lying down. I was so big that I used to have to sleep sitting at a 45-degree angle."

"I can even wear store-bought clothes now," said Happy, whose real name is William J. Cobb.

The Atlanta Constitution told in a copyrighted story today how Cobb, 39, had suffered a heart attack in 1962 while wrestling under the name Happy Humphrey.

A physician in his hometown, Macon, Ga., told him to reduce. Cobb managed to get his weight down to 844 pounds before becoming a volunteer pa-

FRIDAY, July 16—Born today, you have a fine business head, as well as the personal integrity needed to establish and maintain excellent relationships with other people...

friends. Think first of them, then of yourself. An exciting evening lies ahead.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)—Don't allow first impressions to interfere with good judgment. Appearances are not the chief value to be considered today.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22)—Follow morning worship with a day of relaxation. Put off until tomorrow all business matters except the most urgent.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20)—A day sparked by romance. Guard your words well, or you may find yourself in over your head.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)—Many household matters will make demands on your time today. See that everything is completed in good order by evening.

ARIES (March 21-April 20)—Friendly contacts with those who can be or have been of service to you professionally should be followed by a period of self-study.

TAURUS (April 21-May 21)—Conclude any necessary business to your gain but tactfully.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Saturday, July 17 CANCER (June 22-July 23)—Consider the source of criticism before you react to it too keenly. Your word is as good as another's at this time.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23)—An important Saturday for the Leo who takes advantage of the love and devotion offered by his own family.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23)—A turn for the better. Keep both feet on the ground and your eyes on your goal for a successful day.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23)—Make this a restful Saturday with family and friends. Avoid situations which could lead to argument.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)—You can shape a new pattern for your future if you go about meeting the right people in the right way. Best foot forward!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22)—Get domestic affairs in good order today and you'll have less to worry about tomorrow. Family cooperation is essential.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)—Take care of correspondence. There are those who wait for word from you before making a move. Don't hold them up.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19)—Consideration of your partner's feelings will prove more valuable to you today than getting your own way.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)—Let conscience govern your words and actions. Keep a firm hold on your temper despite afternoon annoyances.

AIRES (March 21-April 20)—Relax! Do what you have to do, and let the rest of the world roll by. This is no day for shouldering problems.

TAURUS (April 21-May 21)—Live up to your sign, and take the bull by the horns! Meet problems head on and they'll soon be solved or dispersed.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21)—The pace of general activities quickens today, so wake up prepared for a busy day.

SATURDAY, July 17 — Born today, you are something of a "loner." You respect other people and enjoy maintaining sociable relationships, but you want to have them on your terms—the time you give to others you want to designate; and the degree of closeness achieved must be the degree you dictate. This is all well and good so long as you are capable of such independence; but when the chips are down, you may find that you have fewer friends than you thought.

You would do well to get into the habit of forgetting yourself once in a while—of letting yourself enter freely into the lives and problems of others regardless of when or where they make demands upon you. Otherwise, what you think of as independence of spirit may disintegrate into selfishness.

You must be especially careful in your marriage to give as much as you take—and to take as much as your partner is willing to give. Remember that to reject another is cruel, and to be rejected is heartbreaking. You can avoid this if you think first of your partner and then of yourself. You will find that your partner will then do as much for you.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Sunday, July 18 CANCER, June 22-July 23—Join in morning worship. An uplifting day which can bring new peace and a new feeling of power.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23)—Take part in outside activities for a feeling of physical and mental well-being. Avoid being alone today.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23)—Don't discuss business worries with the family. A day of happy relaxation for all.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23)—A Sunday emphasizing family and

STANDING IN CAR Friday at Chamonix, France, are Presidents Giuseppe Saragat of Italy, left, and Charles de Gaulle of France, as they leave to take inaugural ride through highway tunnel under Mont Blanc connecting their countries. Ribbon Cut For Longest Road Tunnel

MONT BLANC TUNNEL (AP) — Presidents Charles de Gaulle of France and Giuseppe Saragat of Italy cut ribbons today opening the world's longest highway tunnel, running under Mont Blanc and between their two countries.

The tunnel, which will open to the public next week, cuts the driving time between Paris and Rome several hours.

The two presidents took huge scissors to clip two ribbons in the colors of their nations at Chamonix, the resort at the French end of the tunnel. Then they drove through the 7.2-mile underground roadway to repeat the ceremony at the Italian end.

ORDER APPROVING MERGER BEFORE THE COMMISSIONER OF INSURANCE OF THE STATE OF IDAHO.

IN THE MATTER OF the Application of ALLIED MUTUAL INSURANCE COMPANY for Merger with SNAKE RIVER MUTUAL INSURANCE COMPANY.

The applications of Allied Mutual Insurance Company and Snake River Mutual Insurance Company for approval of a plan and arrangement for merger and consolidation, with the surviving corporation to be Allied Mutual Insurance Company, as filed with the Commissioner, came on regularly to be heard, after due and legal notice had been given in Room 807, State Capitol Building, Boise, Ada County, Idaho, on June 15, 1965, at 10:00 o'clock.

Leo O'Connell, Commissioner of Insurance of the State of Idaho, presiding, and the Honorable Alyn Dingel, Jr., Assistant Attorney General, appeared on behalf of the State of Idaho. The Honorable Frank W. Moines, President of Rushmore Mutual Life Insurance Company, and its attorney Dale Clemens, of the law firm of Clemens, Blaine & Green, of Boise, Idaho, appeared for and on behalf of said applicant.

Oral and documentary evidence, including an executed copy of the proposed plan and agreement, and affidavits and applications adduced at said hearing, the Commissioner having considered said evidence, and good cause appearing therefor, he has made the following findings:

1. That said applications were in proper form and that the hearing thereon was duly and regularly held, noticed and held in accordance with applicable provisions of law and order of the Commissioner.

2. That applicant, Snake River Mutual Insurance Company is a mutual insurance company duly organized, existing and doing business under and by virtue of the laws of the State of Idaho, with its registered office at Boise, Idaho.

3. That Allied Mutual Insurance Company is a mutual insurance company duly organized and existing under and by virtue of the laws of the State of Idaho, with its principal office at Des Moines, Iowa, and that it is duly authorized and qualified to do business in the State of Idaho.

4. That the proposed plan and agreement entered into between the two applicants, an executed copy of which was attached to said application and admitted into evidence, hereinafter set forth, meets other things:

A. That the surviving corporation resulting from the merger shall be Allied Mutual Insurance Company, an Iowa corporation.

B. That as of the effective date of the merger, all of the assets of Snake River Mutual Insurance Company shall be vested in and become part of the assets held by the surviving corporation, Allied Mutual Insurance Company.

C. That as of the effective date of the merger, all of the liabilities and obligations of Snake River Mutual Insurance Company shall and have an official luncheon. For about three months tourist buses will be the only heavy vehicles permitted on the two-lane roadway under 15,771-foot Mont Blanc; the highest mountain in the European Alps. The public won't be allowed into the tunnel for at least three days, until police and customs posts on the Italian end are completed. They will clear traffic for both countries.

be assumed by Allied Mutual Insurance Company.

D. That Allied Mutual Insurance Company shall maintain and operate a branch office at 716 Grove Street, Boise, Idaho, as long as circumstances may require and justify the same.

E. That the assets of Snake River Mutual Insurance Company's statutory deposit shall remain on deposit until the same shall be authorized by the Commissioner.

5. That the surplus of Allied Mutual Insurance Company was in excess of statutory requirements as of December 31, 1964, the last day of the term covered by the last financial statement which was required to be and which was prepared for and filed with the Commissioner of Insurance of the State of Idaho, and it appears that such surplus has increased since said date.

6. That the proposed plan and agreement has been duly and regularly approved and executed by the respective boards of directors of said corporations.

7. That said agreement is not contrary to law, is not inequitable to the policy holders of either of said companies, would not substantially reduce the security of or services to be rendered to the policy holders of Snake River Mutual Insurance Company in this state or elsewhere, nor constitute a subject to any reasonable or material objection.

8. No objections to said merger agreement were presented or urged at said hearing.

9. No director, officer, agent or employee of either of said companies, nor any other person, is to receive any consideration of other valuable consideration whatsoever for in any manner aiding, promoting or assisting in said merger, except as set forth in said Merger Agreement.

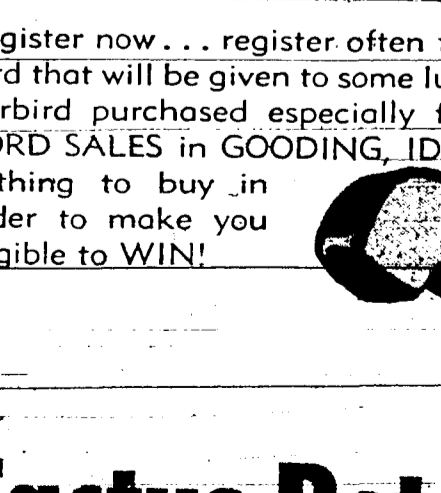

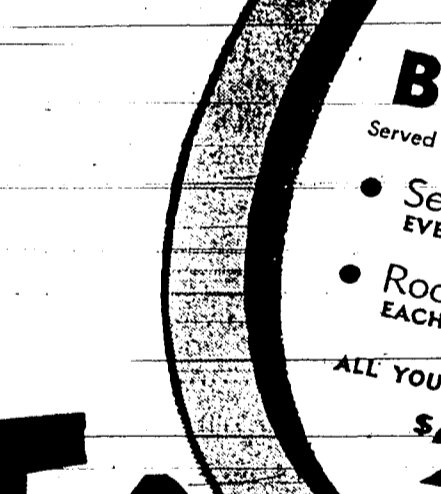

PURSUANT TO SAID FINDINGS, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED: That the proposed plan and agreement for merger and consolidation of Allied Mutual Insurance Corporation and Snake River Mutual Insurance Company with the surviving corporation to be Allied Mutual Insurance Company is hereby approved, subject to the terms and provisions of said proposed plan and agreement, and subject to the provisions of law in such cases made and provided; and

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED: Snake River Mutual Insurance Company's statutory deposit shall remain on deposit until the same shall be authorized by the Commissioner.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the secretary of both applicants shall file with the Commissioner affidavits and supporting documents showing the respective compliance with Section 41-2857(3), Idaho Code, with DATED at Boise, Idaho, this 15th day of June, 1965.

/s/ LEO O'CONNELL,
Commissioner of Insurance of the State of Idaho.
