A 12-member jury headed by H. G. Lauterbach returned a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree about 12:45 a.m. Sunday against George Olson who was charged with murder in the Aug. 22, 1963, shooting death of Keith Gates, Boise. Olson is scheduled to be sentenced at 10 a.m. Wednesday by District Judge Theon Ward. The jury recommended life imprisonment and Assistant Prosecuting Attorney James Cunningham told the Times-News, "I normally follow the recommendation of the jury, although I wouldn't say what the court would do before it does it."

Red Romania Calling for Withdrawal

BUCHAREST, Romania (AP)—The Communist regime called today for all nations to withdraw their armed forces from foreign territories. The appeal seemed aimed at all major powers, including the Soviet Union. It was voiced by Communist party chief Nicolae Ceausescu in a major policy address opening the congress of the Romanian party. Unlike other Communist leaders have done, Ceausescu did not offer any material assistance to the Viet Cong guerrillas. He said his party seeks "good relations with all countries, regardless of their political structure."

Books are presently being audited. Barnard says the gymnasium had been painted on the side, but there had been no extensive redecorating and painting this year.

Boy Scout Is Rescued From Utah Island

TOOELE, Utah (AP) — A 12-year-old Boy Scout who was lost overnight on Stansbury Island in Great Salt Lake was rescued Sunday morning by the scouts he wandered away from Saturday. Lyndon Larsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Winfred V. Larsen of Salt Lake City, was the subject of an all-night search by Tooele County sheriff's deputies. Tooele County Sheriff Fay Gillette spotted the boy about 9:30 a.m. Sunday as the sheriff flew in a Utah Highway Patrol plane along the northeast corner of the rocky island, on the western side of Great Salt Lake. The search began about 3:30 p.m. Saturday after the boy was reported missing by Douglas Merrill, scoutmaster of Troop 436, Salt Lake City. Merrill had taken 14 boys to the island for a weekend camping trip.

Soviets Are Silent About Space Probe

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviets were silent today about the progress and destination of their new unmanned space flight. U.S. experts, however, said Mars is no longer in a favorable position for another probe from earth. The Soviet space authority announced the spacecraft, named "Automatic Station Zond 3," was launched Sunday on an orbit around the sun. The first announcement said the spacecraft and its scientific gear were "functioning normally," and "preliminary data shows that the trajectory of the automatic station is close to the expected one."

Negro Student Will Enroll in Southern School

STARVILLE, Miss. (AP) — Mississippi State University today enrolls its first Negro student in its 85-year history. Richard Holmes, 21, a foster son of a Starkville Negro doctor, registers as a sophomore in the College of Arts and Sciences. Desegregation came without federal court order. Mississippi State, however, filed a pledge with the U.S. Office of Education that it would accept Negroes so it could remain eligible for federal funds.

Raid Plan Folds; Tipsy Marines Can't Start Jets

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — Two drunken U.S. Marine infantrymen tried to start a B-57 light bomber today, but they couldn't get it to start. A military spokesman said today. "We are here to kill Viet Cong and we are going to Hanoi," he said. One of the men, according to an official report of the incident, Military sources gave this account: The Leathernecks sneaked to the flight line at the Da Nang Air Base Friday night and loaded a B-57 light bomber. One of the men, sitting in the navigator's seat, became angry when his companion couldn't start the plane and climbed out to get into his own aircraft. Air police spotted the two as they sat trying to start the engines. The two were turned over to Marine authorities. The pair escaped Sunday morning but were picked up during the afternoon. Military sources said the Marines had caused some damage to the bombers while fumbling with the switches and controls. However, both planes were repaired and flown on strike missions against the Viet Cong Saturday.

Bar, Home Fires Hit At Same Time in T.F.

Extensive damage resulted from two early morning fires Monday in Twin Falls. Firemen were called first to the Lee Barnes home at 703 Filer Ave., and the second fire alarm was sounded at 2:15 a.m. at the Alley Bar before the home fire was declared under control. Heavy fire and smoke damage was reported at the Barnes home and the bar was completely gutted. The two fires breaking out within the short period resulted in all available equipment, except the ladder truck, being called out. Two engine companies responded to the Barnes home fire where firemen found a blaze had started in the basement, spread to a bedroom and kitchen and up into the attic. The family was not home. By 3 a.m., firemen declared the fire under control. Heavy damage was reported from fire and smoke. Two other engine companies responded to the call at 2:15 a.m. at the Alley Bar, 1215 Fourth Ave. S. Although the flames were under control in about 20 minutes, the entire interior of the bar was blackened. Ralph Faught, owner of the bar, said there was no immediate estimate of damage. However, he reported all fixtures would have to be replaced and added that the interior would have to be redecorated completely. The fire started at the west end of the bar, but firemen and Faught had no inkling of the cause.

Utahns Face Cleanup Job After Floods

By The Associated Press A big cleanup job faced Wasatch Front communities today after rains which triggered flash floods in the canyons Sunday. No injuries were reported though there were widespread reports of property damage. Utah highway 68 in Utah County was covered with mud washed down the mountains and road crews labored into the early morning hours before traffic was restored. Other roads closed by washouts and landslides were Utah highway 80 in American Fork Canyon above Timpanogos Cave Monument and the Middle Canyon Road in Salt Lake County. Near Marysville in Southern Utah, road crews worked early today to clean up five slides that slowed traffic on U.S. 89. A rockslide fell onto U.S. 40 east of Salt Lake City, but road crews were able to keep the road open.

Guards Watch Negro Homes In Tense City

BOGALUSA, La. (AP) — Street lights glint on gun barrels as armed men patrol around the homes of Negro leaders in Bogalusa these summer nights. Cars moving into the Negro sector of this tense city after dark are watched. The watchful eyes are those of the Deacons of Defense and Justice, whose guns have triggered an uneasy debate among civil rights leaders. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. calls the Negro organization a strategic mistake which may endanger the movement. "I know our opponents in the South would like us to turn to violence," said King, the civil rights movement's leading advocate of passive resistance. "They know violence and they know how to deal with it." "Martin Luther King and me have never seen eye to eye," said Charles Sims, 41, the stocky, grizzled head of the Bogalusa Deacons. "He has never been to Bogalusa. If we didn't have the Deacons here, there is no telling how many killings there would have been."

Duster Rips Out Power Line, Lands

KIMBERLY — A Buhl Flying Service plane ripped out half a mile of power line and made a forced landing while dusting a grain field on the Leslie McInturf farm southeast of Kimberly Monday morning. The plane, flying for Henry's Farm Service, caught the pump which runs the spraying mechanism on a power line. The pilot was able to keep the plane in the air and landed in a bean field one mile away north of the Jack Schmidt home. There was only slight damage to the plane which will have to be dismantled to remove it from the farm and no damage to the bean field. The plane dragged the wire and a cross arm from a telephone pole with it until it landed. The plane was spraying for aphids.

HAZELTON — John Tarp, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Tarp, Route 2, was elected president of the senate of Boys' Nation, not Boys' National president as incorrectly stated in Sunday's Times-News. Election of Boys' Nation president is scheduled for Tuesday. Tarp's parents received word of his election in a telegram Saturday.

Vote on Military Pay Bill Expected

WASHINGTON (AP) — House leaders today put off until Tuesday an expected vote for passage of a $1-billion military personnel pay raise bill. The decision was made to protect members attending funeral services in Illinois for Adlai E. Stevenson. With no major opposition sighted, the House planned to finish consideration of the measure today and make the roll-call vote unfinished business for Tuesday. The increases in the bill are double what President Johnson proposed. The raise would average 10.7 per cent with the biggest share going to enlisted men—including recruits and draftees—and junior officers. Its aim is to attract and keep skilled men in uniform. There was no organized opposition in sight as the measure carried endorsements from both sides of the aisle. It appeared that the administration's only chance to cut down the measure would be in the Senate, which will take up the bill after the House votes its approval. The measure was whipped out by the House Armed Services Committee on a 33-1 vote, approved by the Rules Committee and endorsed by the House Republican Policy Committee despite Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's campaign for the administration bill.

Girl Scouts Enter Fifth Day at Camp

FARRAGUT, Idaho (AP) — Only three things seemed uncontrollable as the 1965 Girl Scout Senior Roundup entered its fifth day today: three wind, the sun and the enthusiasm of 9,000 teen-age girls. About 200 military policemen and Idaho State Police tightened already tight security around the 3,000-acre camp over the weekend, when 11,000 tourists poured in, 7,297 of them Sunday. But directors of the roundup reported all was running smoothly. The scouts spend most of their mornings hiking in the nearby Bitterroot Mountains or taking bus tours through the Kaniksu National Forest.

Progress Noted By Peace Group In Dominican

WASHINGTON (AP) — A three-man peace mission of the Organization of American States has reported definite progress in its effort to solve the Dominican Republic's governmental crisis. The report was issued following a closed meeting of the OAS on Saturday. The team said progress thus far "leads the committee to hope that it will be possible for the Dominican people to agree on the formation of a provisional government which will carry the country to democratic elections."

Rusk May Be Stevenson's Successor

WASHINGTON (AP) — There was high level speculation in Congress today that President Johnson may name Secretary of State Dean Rusk as head of the U.S. delegation to the United Nations. Johnson, who flew to Bloomington, Ill., for the funeral of Adlai E. Stevenson, has postponed any announcement on his choice of Stevenson's successor. According to some associates, Rusk would be receptive to becoming chief of the U.N. delegation. The sources who reported this said that if such an appointment were made, they believe Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara might be named secretary of state.

SAFE ROBBED

BOGALUSA (AP) — An estimated $1,200 was taken from a safe early today at Block's Clothing Store, police reported today. The French government today formally protested the flight over the prohibited zone and said the American RF101 took 175 photographs of the nuclear plant where France's hydrogen bomb reportedly is manufactured. U.S. officials declined comment on a reported French request that the pictures, allegedly taken by the plane, be turned over to French authorities.

Mariner 4 Photos Are Examined

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Scientists at Jet Propulsion Laboratory settled down today to an exhaustive study of Mariner 4's photographs of Mars, coming in at a rate of one every 10 hours, in a search for some hint of life. Laboratory director William H. Pickering believes some sort of life exists on Mars and the agency for which he works, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, has plans for spending hundreds of millions of dollars to find it. No evidence of life showed up in the first three photographs they outlined last week. They released a desert-like area similar to the broad plains on earth's lifeless moon. Before any more are released, all of the possible 21 photographs taken as Mariner 4 flew past Mars Wednesday are going to be carefully analyzed. Transmitted across 134 million miles of space, they contain many "glitches," an engineering term for electronic errors and static. They also show several markings scientists doubt actually exist on Mars. A likelihood explanation, they say, would be some fault in the camera and radio system. For instance, all three show a dark spot in the same area of the frame, almost as if the lens were smudged. Frame No. 1 has cloud-like wisps above the surface, but these are much higher than the thin Martian atmosphere extends. Laboratory scientists have an almost magical way of eliminating markings they don't believe are real. They can wipe out traces of noise, make light spots dark and dark spots light to conform to their concept of what the pictures ought to show. Mariner 4's camera is linked to a device which converts the light values of the picture it takes into numbers. Zero is white, 63 is black. The numbers in between represent various shades of gray. The spacecraft radio transmits these numbers to earth where they are recorded on tape. The tape is fed into a device which converts the numbers back into dots of various shades of gray; 200 dots to a line and 200 lines to a picture.

Peggy Scott Is Queen of Nampa Rodeo

NAMPA — Peggy Jane Scott, Hazelton, was chosen queen of the Snake River Stampede during the final performance of the rodeo Saturday night. She was selected from a field of 26 girls from throughout the Northwest. She was riding Booger's Hustler, an Appaloosa owned by Bob Harney, Twin Falls. Miss Scott injured her leg Saturday afternoon when her horse fell on her, but went on to win the competition Saturday night. Many valuable prizes were awarded her, as well as the right to compete for Miss Rodeo Idaho. Miss Scott was queen of the Idaho-Oregon-Nevada Appaloosa Show held early in June in Piler. She competed for national queen of the Appaloosa Horse Club and was a finalist.

Death Takes Rhee at 90 In Honolulu

HONOLULU (AP) — Syngman Rhee, a fierce, old Korean patriot whose greatest dream and last wish eluded him, died at Maunaloa Hospital in Honolulu today of a stroke. He was 90, in failing health for at least three years. The former South Korean president's last wish was "to go home and die," but increasing debility prevented his return. The founder of the Korean Republic was admitted to Queen's Hospital a month ago today after he began bleeding internally. His condition improved and he was sent back to the nursing home. Doctors said they had an hour's indication that death was near, giving them time to summon his Austrian-born wife, Francesca, 65, and his adopted son, Rhee In-soo. Unfulfilled was his life's ambition and dream—unification of Korea as a republic. The mountainous peninsula on Asia's east coast still is divided along the truce line where the bloody Korean War was halted in 1953. On June 21 Rhee was removed from Korean President Chung Hee Park's political purge list. However, Rhee had been invited back to his homeland before but declining health prevented it.

New Troops In Viet Nam Are Attacked

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Troops of the newly arrived U.S. 1st Division were attacked by the Viet Cong for the first time during the night and three Americans were killed, a U.S. spokesman announced. The spokesman said several more Americans were wounded in the attack that began with a mortar barrage against forward elements of the division's 2nd Brigade outside the Bien Hoa air base 12 miles northeast of Saigon. The 1st Division troops had arrived in Viet Nam last week. It was the first action in Viet Nam for the "Big Red One" division that made an enviable record in Africa and Europe during World War II. U.S. planes pushed the war deeper into North Viet Nam today, bombing a 10-mile stretch of railroad track starting 15 miles north of Yen Bai and 90 miles northwest of Hanoi, a U.S. spokesman announced. It was the deepest penetration of North Vietnamese territory announced so far. Results of the raid were not reported.

Probe Into U. S. Flight Is Conducted

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Department officials said today "the investigation is continuing" into the alleged flight of an American reconnaissance plane over the Pierrelatte nuclear center in southern France last Friday. The French government today formally protested the flight over the prohibited zone and said the American RF101 took 175 photographs of the nuclear plant where France's hydrogen bomb reportedly is manufactured. U.S. officials declined comment on a reported French request that the pictures, allegedly taken by the plane, be turned over to French authorities.

British Promote Weapon Treaty

LONDON (AP) — The British government stepped up today a drive to win Allied and Commonwealth support of its treaty plan to stop the spread of nuclear weapons. Already fortified with American agreement, the British are hoping to lay the plan before the 17-power disarmament conference resuming work in Geneva next week.

Leaders Pay Respects to Stevenson As Last Service Held in Family Plot

BLOOMINGTON, Ill. (AP) — President and Mrs. Humphrey, governors and Cabinet members stood under two red tents that had been erected over the Stevenson family plot. They paid him the silent tribute by standing near the grave. Thousands of men, women and children did likewise by standing — some for hours — in the heat and humidity while waiting to catch a glimpse of the cortège and the notables who rode in it. Police estimated that 60,000 persons saw the procession at the Unitarian Church or somewhere along the 2½-mile route between there and the burial ground. It was the final homage to the 65-year-old statesman and diplomat for whom two services were held in the morning in the central Illinois town he called home.

SYNOPSIS AND AGRICULTURAL SUMMARY
A weak low pressure disturbance at the surface is still located over Southern Idaho today and is moving rather slowly eastward. Partly cloudy to cloudy skies are being reported from valley stations with early morning thundershower activity in the southern mountains. A few sprinkles of rain fell at Castleford and Kimberly early this morning.

Partly cloudy skies are expected over the valleys of southern Idaho through Wednesday with skies becoming cloudy at times in shower areas mostly in the eastern end of Magic Valley and in southeastern valleys today. Another cold front from the Pacific Northwest will be moving into the area on Wednesday bringing cooler air and scattered showers or thundershowers.

Maximum temperatures today will be in the 80s to low 90s with some cooling in southeastern valleys today. Temperatures on Tuesday will be mostly in the 80s. Nighttime temperature will be a little lower tonight with readings in the 50s.

FIVE-DAY FORECAST

Low pressure and cooler air will be slowly moving from the Gulf of Alaska across the northern intermontane region during the next five days, bringing colder, unsettled weather. The trend will be for gradual cooling through Thursday with some warming on Friday and Saturday. Temperatures will average from two and five degrees below normal in Magic Valley Tuesday through Saturday. Nighttime temperatures also will be lower from the effects of this colder air to average below normal for this period. Some normal maximum and minimum temperatures for this period are Gooding 94 and 60, Twin Falls 84 and 56, and Burley 93 and 51.

Precipitation in the form of showers or thundershowers will accompany a front moving across the area on Wednesday. Precipitation will average .05 of an inch or less although locally heavier amounts are possible in extreme eastern valleys. Sunshine will average from 65 to 75 per cent of possible. Winds will increase in speed around midweek with gusty winds in the vicinity of thundershowers on Wednesday. Soil temperatures will gradually lower into the middle of the week with daytime readings in the upper 60s to low 70s at four-inch depths and in the 70s at three-inch depths.

Farm activities will be able to make good progress in most field work, although haying and harvest of winter wheat may receive some temporary delays because of showers around Wednesday. Cooler weather will be less desirable to crop growth and development and may slow down warmer season crops in some areas. Precipitation expected during this time will not be sufficient to cause a break in scheduling of irrigation water.

Bruneau Man Killed in Truck Crash

BRUNEAU, Idaho (AP)—A Bruneau cattleman and tavern owner was killed Sunday night when his pickup hit one full of children, flipped on its top and exploded into flames.

The cattleman, Chester W. Selman, 45, was pulled from the burning vehicle by a passerby but died later in a Mountain Home hospital of head and chest injuries, according to Coroner Arthur Smith.

Several of the six children with their mother in the other pickup were thrown clear but none were seriously injured, said investigating Deputy Sheriff Charles Jurles.

"Sellman's pickup — well it disintegrated," said Jurles. "He said witnesses told him there were two explosions they believed to be gasoline explosions as the pickup caught fire. Rifle shells popped as the vehicle burned, Jurles said."

Selman's truck hit one owned by Arthur Black, 58, parked in front of his Bruneau home near the town's high school, the deputy said.

Black's daughter-in-law, Marilyn Black, and her six children, ranging in age from 10 months to 12 years were in the pickup. All were treated at Elmer Memorial Hospital and two, Terry, 12, and Tony, 10, were transferred to Mercy Hospital at Nampa where they were reported in good condition. Selman owned Chet's Pastime, a Bruneau tavern, and a ranch nearby.

His death raised Idaho's 1965 traffic toll to 131, compared to 115 at this time last year.

Red Viet Nam Is Willing to Hold Talks

TOKYO (AP) — Communist North Viet Nam apparently is still willing to hold an international conference on Viet Nam peace terms, it was reported Monday.

Radio Hanoi created some confusion over this point Sunday when it used the word "impossible" in referring to the likelihood of an international conference similar to the 1954 Geneva meeting which ended the Indo-Chinese revolt against the French.

Apparently Radio Hanoi, in quoting from a "white book" issued by the North Vietnamese government, intended to say that if its conditions are accepted, among them the withdrawal of U.S. and other foreign forces, "favorable conditions" will be created for the peaceful settlement of the Viet Nam problem and it will be possible to consider the reconvening of an international conference of the type of the 1954 Geneva conference on Viet Nam.

Prime Minister Apollo Milton Obote of Uganda, who has just come to Japan after a visit to Peking, said Monday that the Chinese do not rule out negotiation over Viet Nam, providing foreign troops are pulled out, an indication that there has been no change in the communist position.

Gamekeeper Shoots Rare British Bird

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP)—Nature lovers in Ireland mourned the loss Sunday of one of the rarest and most jealously guarded birds in the British Isles — an Osprey. One was accidentally shot by a gamekeeper on the Irish estate that is the home of Princess Margaret's sister-in-law.

Ospreys — fish hawks about the size of buzzards—bred commonly in the Scottish highlands until early in the 20th century, when they were nearly exterminated by shooting parties and egg collectors. When a pair reappeared in Scotland in 1958, the government provided a round-the-clock security guard.

Then two years ago, an osprey was sighted in county Tipperary, Ireland. Experts believe this is the one that was shot.

Hardest Part Of Whale's Trip Is Over

SEATTLE (AP)—The 22-foot captive killer whale Namu was towed safely today through turbulent Seymour Narrows, the toughest stretch in his reluctant journey to a Seattle aquarium.

Crewmen on the tug Iver Foss radioed that Namu's floating pen at the end of a 1,200-foot towline, negotiated the tricky passage of the east coast of Vancouver Island, B.C.

Seymour Narrows is a twisting channel whose boiling waters have wrecked 30 ships and claimed the lives of more than 100 seamen.

It's another 220 miles to Seattle and barring accident Namu will arrive late next week for display at Ted Griffin's Seattle Marine Aquarium.

Griffin bought Namu for $8,000 from two Canadian fishermen after the whale got snarled in their salmon net.

Racketeers May Have Killed Man In Boston Feud

BURLINGTON, Mass. (AP)—The vendetta among Boston's racketeers may have claimed another life. A medical examiner has ruled that a man found dead in the woods Saturday was murdered.

The partly decomposed body has not yet been identified. State police sent fingerprints to the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Washington.

The prints do not match those of persons on a list of likely gang targets, they said.

Twenty-one killings have been attributed to gang vengeance in the Greater Boston area in an outbreak that began a little over a year ago.

Chinese Guerrilla Movement Poses Threat to Malaysia

KUCHING, Malaysia (AP)—A Chinese guerrilla movement appears to pose more of a threat than neighboring Indonesia to this Malaysian Borneo state of Sarawak.

About 26,000 Chinese who side with Peking are believed to be prepared for armed revolution against the Federation of Malaysia, formed in 1963 of Malaysia, Singapore and the former British Borneo territories of Sarawak and North Borneo, now called Sabah.

The 26,000 Chinese — including 20,000 potential sympathizers — make up about 15 per cent of Sarawak's adult Chinese population. The population of Sarawak in June 1962 was 776,990 with the Chinese being the largest single group.

The Chinese in some areas of Sarawak are almost completely dominated by Communists, says Maj. Gen. George Lee, director of British operations in Borneo. He has warned that the Communist threat is growing and will continue to grow.

Captured Communist documents show that Sarawak's Chinese Communists are using guerrilla tactics of Chinese Communist party chief Mao Tse-tung.

Officials fear the situation in Sarawak could degenerate into another Viet Nam which, because of the fantastically rugged jungle and presence of combat-ready Indonesians waiting on the border, would be even harder to contain.

They believe that if the Chinese Communists gained control of Sarawak, it would only be a matter of time before North Borneo turned Communist.

This would give Peking a base from which to expand its influence, threatening the security of Malaysia's mainland, the Philippines and possibly even its present close friend, Indonesia.

Security force sources express belief that the clandestine Communist Organization — CO, as the Chinese Communists are called, has already started to move to take over the state.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

BY ANDREW TULLY
WASHINGTON—Well, we didn't have enough public pains-in-the-neck, so now we got some social scolds taking pot shots at Luci Johnson for getting herself baptized a Roman Catholic and letting Pop buy her an expensive sports car.

Andrew Tully

It seems to be the premise of these thyroid types that because Luci is related to the President she should resign from the human race and install herself under glass during her residence in the White House. She is not supposed to have any second thoughts about religion and if she must glib about between job and home her critics imply she should do so in the latest surrey with fringe on top.

Luci and her sister, Lynda Bird, of course, are learning what other White House children have learned—that they are public property and thus targets for every frustrated and cranky pot capable of expressing himself in a series of grunts. Even when they seek a different path to the Almighty they are treated by some people as if they had been caught robbing a filling station.

LIVING HER OWN LIFE — I have always assumed that a man's—or a woman's—religion is his own affair, to which he answers only to Somebody up there. The argument as to whether Luci should have been baptized a second time is feckless; she wanted the second baptism and the church she was entering accommodated her. And after all, at 18 a girl is privileged to desire a little ceremony when she espouses a new faith.

Similarly, I reject the premise that her father is spoiling Luci by letting her tool about Washington in a Stingray. She wanted it, and her father could afford to pay cash. And I suspected Lyndon Johnson got a bigger kick out of it than Luci did, because that is the way with Pappas. Moreover, a girl who is working in an optometrist's office all summer instead of dancing the Watutsi is not the prime candidate for spoiling.

NO WHITE HOUSE BRATS — Actually, we've been lucky in the kind of White House kids we've lived with for the past 20 years: Margaret Truman was a girl of common sense and charm, and John Eisenhower lived up to his commission from West Point which said he was not only an officer but a gentleman. We may never see as pretty a picture as was given us by the two Kennedy girls, Caroline and John. Both Lynda Bird and Luci have lived up to this tradition. They have not married any third-rate bullfighters or danced the can-can in any nightclubs or clipped any headwaters in the mush as some of our best-family, suburban-type kids do. Luci now wants to be a nurse, but I will not consider it a national catastrophe if she later decided to turn to poetry or cryptology. She is still only 18, bless her, and like any other youngster she should be permitted a certain amount of mind-changing.

SENSES OF HUMOR — There are signs that both these nice girls have what the thinkers call a social conscience. Both have pitched in and helped Pop woo the electorate, and they seem to be aware that there are people who could use a helping hand. In doing so, they have managed to preserve a sense of humor, which suggests they resist the temptation to take themselves too seriously.

In this, they might study the life and times of Margaret Truman, particularly Meg's attitudes during one of her trips to Europe. Paris is still charmed by the day Margaret arrived and was asked if she planned a visit to the Palais de Chaillot to see the United Nations Assembly in session.

"Palais de Chaillot?" asked Margaret. "I always thought that was a nightclub."

Views of Others

THE PROBLEM CONTINUES
Legislative reapportionment, a topic that has been much in the news for the past year, apparently is considerable distance from solution. The latest example of this is in the state of Illinois, where the legislature adjourned last week without a reapportionment plan. It may be recalled that two years ago the same thing happened with the result that Illinois chose its 235 legislators at large in the 1964 election. That state was pointed to as the most horrible example of what would happen if the orders of the U. S. Supreme Court weren't followed by legislatures throughout the country.

A couple of weeks ago the state of California also found it impossible to agree on reapportionment, and the legislature adjourned without action being taken.

The Minnesota legislature passed a bill setting up new legislative districts but it was vetoed by the governor.

These and other instances provide a picture of the problems the states are facing in trying to arrive at a reasonable solution of the reapportionment problem. In each case failure to reach full agreement is the result of political differences. The rights of the citizens have been ignored.

Arranging new lines of legislative districts isn't, mathematically speaking, a very difficult job. It can be done easily if the assignment is only to divide up each state so there will be a nearly equal number of people in each legislative district. It is only a little more difficult if community of interest is taken into consideration in arranging the new districts.

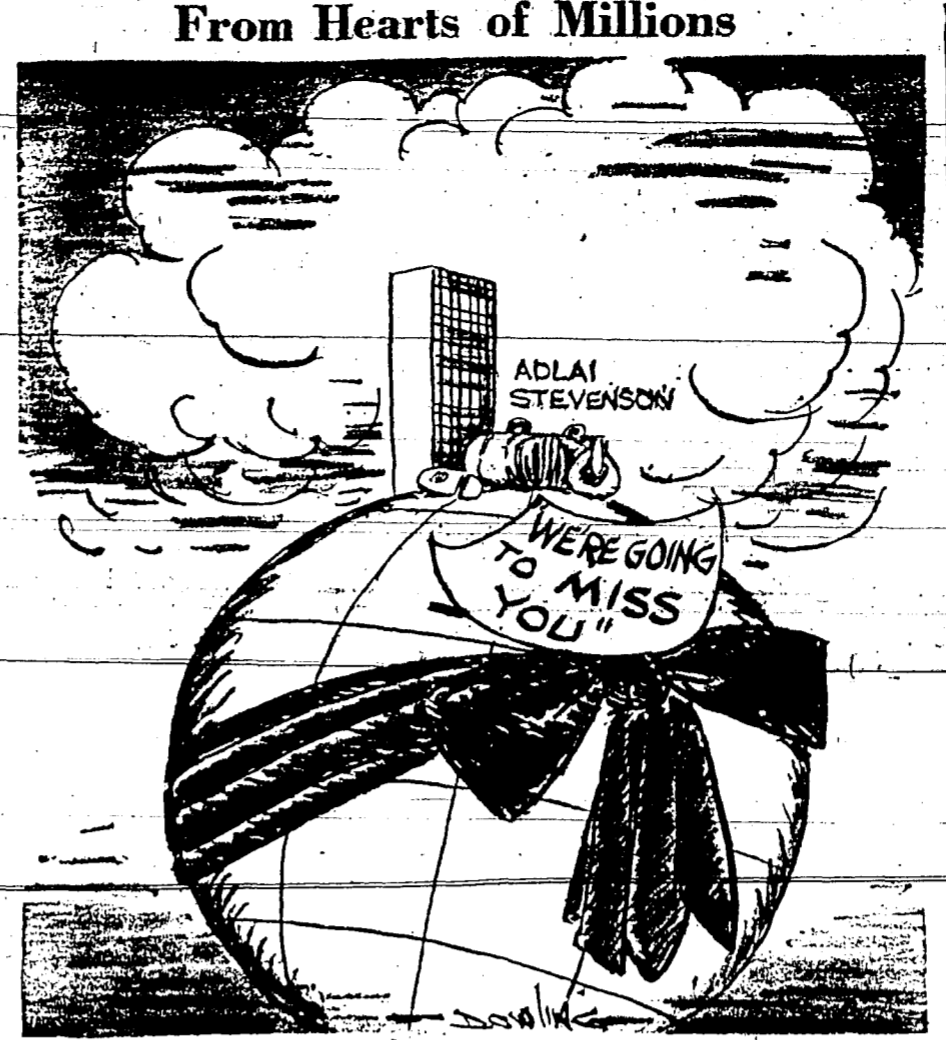

But these aren't the primary factors taken into consideration by the warring factions. They want to add a third item of consideration, political influence. Thus, the Republicans want to divide up each state so it will work to their party's advantage. The Democrats want to do likewise. The result may well be that the courts, irritated by the legislators' inability to act, will take on the job themselves.

That will result in one of two things. Either the legislators will be elected at large, as they were in 1964 in Illinois, or only mathematical districts will be considered. In either case the people will come out second best, and they will fare that poorly because of the obstinacy of the politicians—Mankato (Minn.) Free Press.

POT SHOTS

MANY HEAVENS
I'm convinced there are many heavens for us mortals when we finish this life. The hunter will go to a heaven where there are herds of game and fowl wherever he looks. Salesmen will go to a heaven where everyone will listen to their sales pitches and order whatever they're selling with no objections. Mortals bothered by salesmen in this world will go to a heaven where there are no salesmen. Stamp collectors will go to a heaven where a new commemorative stamp is issued every day. And you newspaper people, well, I guess you'll go to a heaven where there are no deadlines and everyone is named Smith, spelled the usual way, of course.

If girls remained as active all their lives as many of them are in their first years, there'd be few marriages. GENTLEMAN IN THE FOURTH ROW

Interpreting The News

BY JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson — Civilized, gentle, and articulate — was the ideal politician to a lot of people but, unfortunately for him, never to enough people. And he appeared at the wrong time and against the wrong man. He truly represented something too seldom seen in American political life — the thinker when he ran against Dwight D. Eisenhower and lost the presidency to him twice. The 1952 race wasn't a time for thinking. It was an emotional time. The

The Doctor Says

BY WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M. D.
About 25,000 premature infants die every year in the United States with a condition called respiratory distress syndrome. This is especially true of those premature babies who are delivered by Caesarean section. The lungs in these infants are not yet developed at birth to the point where they can function properly.

Most but not all of these babies die within 48 hours of their birth. If they live past 72 hours they usually survive. Since the death of Patrick Bouvier Kennedy in August of 1963 a vast amount of work has been done on the relief of this condition.

Promising results have been reported with the use of a variety of treatments. One group, observing that these babies literally drowned in fluids that seeped out of the lining of the sacculi (alveoli) in the lungs, gave a cleansing enema followed by an enema of Epsom salts (magnesium sulfate).

Although such an enema should never be given to a normal baby, in the infants with respiratory distress the salts draw body fluids away from the lungs and into the bowel. Improvement in the breathing of these babies was noted within 30 minutes. Their bluish color disappeared, their rapid pulse returned to normal and in 24 hours they were considered cured. In another study babies with this syndrome were given plasmin, a preparation that dissolved the coating of fibrin on the lining of the lungs. This was given on the assumption that premature infants can't form their own supply of plasmin. The results were most striking in the infants who weighed less than 4 1/2 pounds—those whose chances for survival were considered poorest.

A pediatrician in Montreal used a different approach. He injected a solution of glucose and baking soda into a vein in these infants as soon as the diagnosis was made—usually within three hours of birth. This treatment was continued until the babies were able to nurse—usually on the third day of life. The results were excellent.

Strangely enough, chlorpromazine, a tranquilizer, has been credited with saving many of these babies. This effect is attributed to a lowering of their body temperature, thus reducing their oxygen need and allowing the babies to survive until natural forces cleared the lung passages.

Still other treatments that have been successful will be described in another column.

Poor Man's Plato

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — Some men fight out of hate, some fight out of love. Nguyen Van Ham, 23, a sturdy, handsome Vietnamese sergeant, fights for both reasons. "I hate the Viet Cong, and I love my country," he said. "I have killed three Viet Cong. When I shoot them, I don't know why, but I feel very good."

"I love life very much because I am young. It looks to me like a rose. But I don't know how it will be later." Sgt. Ham is hardly a typical Vietnamese soldier. He is a Catholic, has a high school education, and now serves as a battlefield interpreter with the Da Nang special sector forces here. But his story illustrates both the wartime plight and the long-term hopes of Vietnamese youth. "I was right when they — the Viet Cong — shot my brother," he said. "I came across his body in the street. I cried and cried. Not long after that they came to our house at two o'clock in the morning. They asked my father for 1,000 piastres. He refused. They took him away. I was a

TAYLOR'S VIEWS ON WORLD NEWS

BY HENRY J. TAYLOR
Congressman Gerald Ford and others concentrate a debate on whether or not to bomb Hanoi and other main targets in North Viet Nam. But what about tomorrow? What happens if conventional bombing, including such targets, fails to bring Ho Chi Minh to the conference table as conventional bombs failed to achieve a truce in Korea? On Feb. 17, 1950, this column outlined a prospect. As the prospect now moves closer some repetition is necessary.

Korea was ideal for air attack — a narrow peninsula flanked on both sides by water. Off-shore strikes from our aircraft carriers could be geared with the great airfields in Japan, only 80 miles away across the Korea Strait, and on Okinawa. Shuttle-bombing (round trips repeated several times a day) allowed maximum aircraft utilization and was routine. And this thundering air attack continued from year to year.

It was backed up by tremendous artillery concentrations. Gen. Mark W. Clark was in command and I once heard him say, to my amazement, that we shot in Korea more artillery shells than we consumed on all fronts throughout World War II.

Yet conventional bombing and this shelling in that terrain could neither stop the Reds' transport on human backs nor destroy the enemy army in being. It is a little known fact but by Nov. 24, 1950, it was so secure that on that day Gen. Douglas country was tormented over the Korea War and split to its roots by McCarthyism with all that that meant in bewilderment, suspicion and revulsion. What Stevenson offered, with his proper and often painfully polished language, was a self-examination of the American conscience at a moment when Americans apparently felt they needed something else.

That something else was a return to tranquility, of cohesion instead of division, and of proven strength in leadership to eliminate misgivings. Eisenhower symbolized all those needs. Stevenson, governor of Illinois, was almost unknown. But it is questionable he would ever have been a good president.

He had all the instincts of the lamb while all the first-line presidents at one time or another had to show the teeth of a tiger. Nothing showed better than the lack of aggressiveness than that night in Chicago in 1952 when, after getting the Democratic nomination, he made his acceptance speech.

Where another candidate would have responded with vigor and fire to the challenge handed him, Stevenson made himself appear a reluctant martyr. He said "I have asked the merciful Father of us all to let this cup pass from me." But, since it did not pass, he said he would drink it.

Here he was both indecisive and self-conscious, qualities which often appeared later. For example, he was indecisive when President-elect Kennedy in 1961 offered him the job as U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

But, despite these defects, he remained in American life a shining figure until he died, without malice, a man of good will, kindness and infinite concern for the people of his own country and the world.

He was a gentleman and a gentle man.

At present Red China hasn't an effective atomic capability to retaliate in defense of North Viet Nam. The Soviet Union, of course, has. Would the Kremlin stand by and see us eliminate North Viet Nam, and even (if necessary) the war potential of Red China? Or would the Kremlin meet a President Johnson threat by threatening to retaliate with the Soviet's own atomic power?

The long-range outlook in this stepped-up war is for the initiative to pass out of the hands of Hanoi and Peking and into the hands of Moscow. Looking beyond the present debates, the true long-range problem we face can be a confrontation between the United States and the U. S. S. R. behind the scenes. We're brought right back to the question of Russia's intentions once more.

OVERBID DOES NOT ALIBI PLAY
It is pretty good policy to get in the habit of thinking when you play bridge. It is an even better habit to do your thinking early rather than when it's too late to do any good. South looked over dummy for a second as he won the first trick with his ace of diamonds. Then he remarked "You sure bid a lot, but we have a finesse ing he should have done first. It was too late. There was way to get back to dummy out giving up a trick in hearts or in trumps and there was no way to avoid the loss of a club trick later on, so South had to go down one. If South had studied the hand carefully, he would have seen the importance of taking that heart finesse at trick two. It would safeguard against East's holding all three missing trumps. Then, when he found out about the trump situation, he would have been able to get back to dummy by ruffing a heart and would not have lost a trick in either hearts or spades. South was right about one thing. North had overbid his five high card points considerably.

CARD SENSE
Q—The bidding has been East South West North 1♦ 2♦ 2♠ 2♠. Pass. You, South, hold: ♠A Q 7 5 3 2 ♦K J 8 5 4 3 ♣K 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠K 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2. What do you do? A—Bid three spades. You had a sound double with good spades, but you don't justify my game because your partner may have been pushing a bluff.

TODAY'S QUESTION
Instead of bidding two spades your partner passed over two diamonds as has East. What do you do in this case? Answer—Next Edition

Clearance Is Given Again To Official

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate publication has revealed that William A. Wieland, a State Department official criticized for his attitude toward Fidel Castro, has won a second security clearance.

The publication contains transcripts of secret testimony before the Senate Internal Security subcommittee between 1963 and 1965.

It is the first of a reported 30 volumes and was released Sunday.

Wieland, 57, has been serving as an administrative specialist at the State Department. Now that his case is considered closed, he is being assigned as supervisory consul general in Canberra, Australia.

Wieland was head of the State Department's Office of Caribbean Affairs when Castro took over in Cuba. He was criticized for inspiring the original U.S. goodwill toward Castro.

Asthma Formula Prescribed Most By Doctors—Available Now Without Prescription

Stops Attacks in Minutes—Relief Lasts for Hours!

New York, N.Y. (Special)—The asthma formula prescribed more than any other by doctors for their private patients is now available to asthma sufferers without prescription.

Medical tests proved this formula stops asthma attacks in minutes and gives hours of freedom from recurrence of painful asthma spasms.

This formula is so effective that it is the physicians' leading asthma prescription—so safe when used as directed that now it can be sold without prescription in most states—in tiny tablets called Primatene. These Primatene Tablets open bronchial tubes, loosen congestion, relieve taut nervous tension. All without painful injections.

The secret is—Primatene combines 3 medicines (in full prescription strength) found most effective in combination for asthma distress.

So look forward to sleep at night, and freedom from asthma spasms.

Tales Told Of Russian Space Deaths

WASHINGTON (UPI)—In the best tradition of the Loch Ness monster and the abominable snowman, there are tales also of dead Russians circling the earth in spacecraft that went astray.

A considerable body of grisly literature has produced incredible tales recently about Soviet men and women sitting with lifeless hands on the long spaceless controls of moon ships that missed their target and are now in perpetual orbit around the sun.

It is inevitable that sooner or later an American or Soviet astronaut will die in space, but U.S. officials believe that when it happens, the government concerned will announce it. They strongly doubt such a tragedy could be long concealed.

What has made the stories about Russian space calamities so real is that they quote snatches of space conversations reported to have been overheard by ground stations here and there.

However, the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) has never authenticated any remarks purporting to come from cosmonauts about to die in space.

Most of the tragedies were alleged to have occurred in the period 1959 to 1962. All have been denied by Russia.

Foul Play Is Suspected in Utah Death

CEDAR CITY, Utah (AP)—The body of a man found in Cedar Breaks National Monument was sent to Salt Lake City Sunday for examination by the state medical examiner.

Sheriff Otto Fife believes circumstances point to the possibility of foul play.

It is hoped the medical examiner may determine the approximate age of the unidentified man, how long he has been dead — and possibly the cause of death.

The body was found Friday by two park service rangers. It was nearly out of sight, between two logs about 300 feet from a highway.

Authorities said they suspected foul play because the body apparently had been put where it was found. Some other effects — an empty wallet, a cane, and a metal suitcase — were found in the vicinity.

The sheriff said the body appeared to have been there about a year. The man was described as about six feet tall — and was believed to be elderly.

Chicago Taxi Strike Ends

CHICAGO (AP)—The city's 23-day old strike of 6,000 Yellow Cabs Co. and Checker Taxi Co. employees ended Sunday as the rank and file of their union ratified a tentative agreement.

Representatives of the Checker and Yellow firms and Local 777, Democratic Union Organizing Committee, AFL-CIO, signed the new pact Saturday in the offices of Commissioner William Cherry of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

The vote was 1,502 for ratification and 42 against.

The strike by 5,600 drivers and 400 garage employees of the two companies had tied up 3,670 cabs — 86 per cent of Chicago's 4,600.

BOISE (UPI)—Ada County authorities Monday attempted to identify the body of a man with a bullet wound in the temple that was recovered Sunday night from the Boise River.

Coroner E. D. Paris said he believed the man's death was a suicide. Police received a call from a person who said the man was seen to shoot himself before he fell in the river.

BOISE (AP)—A two-block stretch of a rural Boise street became the road to Akron, Ohio, Sunday for 12-year-old Jerry Fleischman.

The Boise boy sped to victory in the 1965 Treasure Valley Soap Box Derby to win a $500 savings bond and an expense paid trip to Akron to compete in the National Soap Box Derby in August.

Fleischman said he will complete for the national title in the same vehicle that won for him Sunday. He said the 100-pound car cost about $20 to build.

Mercury Thieves

BORGER, Tex. (AP)—The 7½ pounds of mercury nestling in each of the thousands of natural gas well switches in the Texas Panhandle affords a tempting target for thieves.

Well over 100 switchboxes were drained of quicksilver this year. But the bizarre thefts have fallen off since the arrest of two men, who were charged with "possession of mercury without a bill of sale," a felony. They had 83 pounds of mercury.

The liquid metal is valued by industry at from $5.90 to $7.80 a pound. On the black market it brings $3 to $4.

Exemption of Firms From Rule Urged

WASHINGTON (AP)—Approval of a measure exempting consumer-owned power companies from Federal Power Commission regulations has been urged by Rep. Compton I. White Jr.

The Idaho Democrat told a House subcommittee on communications and power that "nothing would be gained" by placing the cooperatives under the jurisdiction of the FPC and would "benefit only those who oppose the REA program."

"Jurisdiction by the FPC," he said, "would impose additional burdens and expense on the electric cooperatives in Idaho."

Training for Gemini Twins Is Abolished

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Some training exercises for Gemini 5 astronauts have been junked because of a time shortage, a space official says.

Paul Haney, Manned Spacecraft Center public affairs officer, said Sunday that astronauts Gordon Cooper Jr. and Charles Conrad Jr. do not have time enough left between now and the expected Aug. 19 launch date to complete a training schedule laid out for the 8-day flight.

"We have had to cancel planetarium star studies," he said, "and several other exercises." Practicing the proper escape methods from a dummy spacecraft submerged in water are others that have been scrapped, sources say.

Another casualty of the time shortage is individual news interviews with Cooper and Conrad. Haney said the interviews instead would be with all news-gathering agencies asking questions at the same time.

Effect of War On Draft Call Is Unknown Now

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of Selective Service, said Sunday it is too early to tell what effect the Viet Nam situation will have on future draft calls.

"We don't want a lot of married men running around volunteering, thinking they are needed," he said, "because they're not."

Gen. Hershey said he has been advising local draft officials to "pray for the best and prepare for the worst."

At the same time, Struthers disclosed that Sears expenditures for newspaper advertising in 1964 rose 17.1 per cent over the previous year to a new record of $76,350,900. The 1963 expenditure was $65,166,000.

"This year is the 40th anniversary of Sears' entry into the retail business and, therefore, it is particularly appropriate that our newspaper expenditures should reach record proportions," Struthers said.

"From the day our first retail store was opened in Chicago on Feb. 2, 1925, we have maintained a close working relationship with the newspapers in those communities we serve. These newspapers have played a significant part in our retail growth."

manager of Sears, said the company's retail stores purchased $41.9 million lines of white space last year in 989 daily and weekly papers.

The report shows the $76 million spent for newspaper advertising last year represented 70.4 per cent of Sears total retail media expense of $108,362,900. Advertising through circulars, magazines, radio and television, and miscellaneous media accounted for the remainder.

Lunde said that five years after opening the Sears first retail store, and after the company had entered a full scale retail expansion program, Sears newspaper expenditures passed the $5 million mark. By 1941, the figure had risen to a pre-war record of $13 million.

After World War II, as consumer goods returned to the marketplace and Sears resumed its expansion program, the company's newspaper ad spending began setting new records almost every year—exceeding $30 million in 1951, $40 million in 1955, $50 million in 1959, $60 million in 1963, and $70 million in 1964.

Back Injuries

BY Dr. Ernest D. Paul, D. C.
Thousands of working men know what Chiropractic can do for back injuries. They know that when other methods failed to give them relief, Chiropractic was successful.

It is important for employees, e.s., compensation insurance carriers and the public in general to recognize this fact. Actual statistics have been made of injured workers cared for by different systems of therapy. Chiropractic brings the worker through with less chance of charge of malingering, less cost to the insurance company, less cost for insurance coverage to the employer, as well as less interruption in the production line.

Several large industrial firms are now employing chiropractors on a full time basis to care for their injured workers.

To the chiropractor, the spine represents the keyboard, as it were, that locks up and unlocks the inherent curative powers of nature.

One of a series of articles published in the public interest to explain the practice of scientific Chiropractic written by Dr. Ernest D. Paul or Dr. Ethel O. Paul whose offices are located at 717 Main Ave. W., Twin Falls. By appointment only. Telephone 733-6522. —Adv.

Viet Nam Is Importing More Rice

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — For the first time in its history, South Viet Nam is importing rice in large quantities raising doubts about the nation's capability to stock its most important crop.

The United States has agreed to export 100,000 metric tons of rice to South Viet Nam this year. Only once before, in 1960, did the Vietnamese import rice and that was because of floods.

The war is beginning to take its toll of rice in the so-called "rice bowl" of Southeast Asia — the nation that only last year produced more than five million metric tons and exported 320,000 metric tons the year before.

The Viet Cong has clamped a stranglehold on the nation's transportation system. Communist guerrillas are stopping shipments altogether from the fertile alluvial delta of the Mekong River and other rice-producing areas.

"It is not that enough rice is not being planted," said one wholesaler, "but that it is not getting through to the dealers."

The result has been a serious shortage of rice in the major population centers, especially in the capital.

Arrest by Negro Chief Is Protested

CRAWFORDVILLE, Ga. (AP) — A crowd of about 250 persons protested Sunday the arrest of a Negro youth by this town's new Negro police chief.

About 75 white persons watched as the crowd, mostly Negroes, marched to the Taliferro County courthouse in northeast Georgia, from a Negro church a mile away.

A handful of state police and a city policeman stood by, but the Negro chief, Jessie Meadows, 66, was not present.

"We want the record to show we're not here to protest the hiring of a Negro police chief," said the Rev. Andrew Young, a leader of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.'s Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

"We're glad to have a Negro police chief. We're here to protest the fact that the Negro police chief made a mistake."

Meadows, a retired sawmill worker, Friday arrested Frank Bates, a local Negro who had been leading a picket line. He was charged with failure to obey an officer.

A group of Negroes was arrested Saturday on charges of disturbing the peace after they protested the arrest earlier of Bates' brother, Fred Bates.

Airliner Makes Landing With One Engine Out

CHEYENNE (UPI) — A Frontier jet turboprop airliner with 31 passengers on board made an uneventful landing at the Cheyenne Municipal Airport Sunday with one engine feathered.

Frontier spokesman said the plane, Frontier Flight 561 en route from Scottsbluff, Neb., to Cheyenne was fully capable of operating on one engine.

But emergency units from Warren Air Force Base and the Cheyenne Fire Department were standing by when the plane landed.

The left engine was feathered about 10 minutes before the landing as "a precautionary measure," the spokesman said.

The nature of the engine malfunction was not determined immediately.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little PASTETTES, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath." Get PASTETTES at drug counters everywhere.

Negro Man Dies After Being Shot

ANNISTON, Ala. (AP)—Wilho Brewster, 35-year-old Muncie, Ala. Negro who was shot in the neck on a lonely highway near here Thursday died Sunday afternoon in an Anniston hospital.

Brewster was shot through the rear window of a moving car Thursday night. The shooting followed two rallies staged in Anniston by states rights spokesmen and the beating of a Negro student.

Brewster was shot about five miles west of Anniston as he and three other Negroes were returning to their homes from work. A bullet was embedded in his spine, and doctors said he would have been paralyzed from the waist up if he had lived.

Another occupant of the car was quoted as saying he saw white men in a car behind them, but authorities have not said whether the shooting had racial overtones.

Stocks

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed mixed today with some key industrials lower. Trading was very slow and the market pursued a lazy all day.

Some of the defense issues perked up because of prospects of additional spending. Selected issues, among them Fairchild Camera, did well on the basis of Wall Street recommendations.

Du Pont, however, was down more than a point and U.S. Steel was a fractional loser. Volume for the day was estimated at 3 million shares compared with 3.5 million Friday.

There was the picture near the close. Fractional changes were the rule for most key stocks but a number of secondary issues were more lively.

Briskly traded was Fairchild Camera, up about a point and a half in further response to rising profits and its relatively low price—about half of its all-time high of 101 reached in 1960.

Ekco Products advanced more than 2 and Beckman Instruments was a 1-point gainer while losses of about 2 were shown by Avon Products and Singer.

American Broadcasting-Paramount was ahead about a point following a report that Norton Simon, industrialist and art collector, now controls the largest single block of the stock.

The new preferred stock of Union Oil of California just admitted to trading, was very active.

Early gains by aerospace defense issues were trimmed. Boeing, United Aircraft and General Dynamics held fractional advances. Douglas Aircraft cancelled a small advance.

The Daily Investor

By WILLIAM A. DOYLE

Q. Are the prices and dividends of Canadian stocks which are traded on the American Stock Exchange U.S. or Canadian dollars?

A. I bought 100 shares of Massey-Ferguson common stock and paid my broker in U.S. dollars. The first dividend I received, in March, was at the rate of 15 cents a share. I expected to receive a check for $15.

But 10-per cent was deducted as a Canadian tax—giving me a check for only $13.50. And when I cashed the check (which was drawn on the Canadian bank in Canadian dollars) I received even fewer U.S. dollars—$10.61 to be exact.

Roughly the same thing happened with the latest dividend of 25 cents a share I received in June.

Is this correct? A. Yes, it is. But let's get back to your first question. The trading prices of stocks on the American Stock Exchange or any other stock exchange in this country are reported in U.S. dollars. In the case of Canadian stocks, the dividends are in Canadian dollars.

Massey-Ferguson, Ltd., is incorporated in Canada. When you bought some Massey-Ferguson stock on the American Stock Exchange, you paid the market price in U.S. dollars. Then, when the dividend was paid, you received Canadian dollars.

Business Mirror: By SAM DAWSON AP Business News Analyst NEW YORK (AP)—A flood of good news is failing to impress the stock market. Nor, for a change, is bad news setting off the usual reflex tremors.

The market ended Friday July 16 just about where it was Friday July 9. The good news would have impressed traders in other days. Rosy reports last week of rising corporate profits, heartening gains in industrial output and the total volume of goods and services, as well as in personal income, went apparently unnoticed.

The news out of Congress was of the same type—new laws that will increase government spending in the future and also the incomes of many citizens and the sales of some companies. There were also promises of still more government pep pills as the economy needs them.

At the same time, gloomy predictions of stepped up involvement of the United States in Viet Nam—with the memories of the Korean War still fresh—didn't cause the nervous reaction on the stock market that a like news item might have in the past.

Is the market blasé, or surfeited, or just cautious? One explanation of the doldrums in Wall Street could be that the good news was mostly about conditions that are past—if only as recently as a month ago. The market knew what the economy was still going ahead.

The market, along with the public, has lived so long with international troubles that flare up and die down only to be duplicated in new locations that even this kind of bad news may have lost some of its power to shock.

The list of corporations reporting increased profits, many setting record highs, grows each day. But the stock market just took note and dawdled. Few expect it will go on being seemingly indifferent to good news or bad. But which type of news will predominate in the days and weeks ahead, or which will bear most weight, is today's guessing game on Wall Street.

In calf roping, Rocky Finney, first, 7 through 9 division; Ronnie Hoskins, first, 9 through 12, and Mike Morrison, first, 12 through 14. Lynette Baldwin took the trophy calf roping.

Clown antics were provided by Alma Morrison. Highlight of each performance were chariot races with two-horse teams. Featured in the races were Nedra Morrison, Mrs. Larry Finney, John Hupworth, Ronald Brown, Mrs. Richard Kearsley, Richard Burns and Jerry Wray.

Burnice Hunsaker, Tremonton, Utah, provided miniature stock for the rodeo. Richard Kearsley was show manager; Robert LaPray, publicity chairman; Oleen Baggett, special events, and Mrs. Kearsley, show secretary.

In mind is mighty complicated. And you should know that Scotch whisky is spelled without the "c".

Prentice's Homerun in Eighth Lets Pocatello Edge Magic Valley 6-5

Dan Prentice's two-run homer in the eighth inning broke a 4-4 deadlock and gave the Pocatello Dodgers a 6-5 victory over Magic Valley's Cowboys Sunday night. Prentice's drive, off reliever and loser Jerry Jackson, cleared the scoreboard in dead centerfield and came after Heisenrader had singled. Magic Valley rallied in the eighth and ninth but couldn't get the tying run home against reliever Dwain Adams. The Dodgers got a run on George Mercado's sacrifice fly in the first before Cowboy hurler Joe Madden took over. He fanned eight straight Dodgers in wrapping up the first and going through the third. But then he suddenly hurt his arm and had to come out. Billy Patrick took over. The Dodgers greeted Adams with RBI singles off the bats of Heisenrader and Prentice to mount a 3-0 lead.

Clark Takes Dutch Grand Prix Victory

ZANDVOORT, Netherlands (AP)—Jim Clark of Scotland streaked to victory in the Dutch Grand Prix auto race Sunday and virtually clinched the world driving championship for 1965. It was Clark's fifth Grand Prix victory this year and his third straight in the Dutch Grand Prix. The victory gave the Scot 45 points toward the world championship and virtually guaranteed him the title he last held in 1963.

Driving his sleek green Lotus, Clark crossed the finish line in the 208.41-mile race nine seconds ahead of another Scot, Jackie Stewart, who drove a BRM. Dan Gueney of Costa Mesa, Calif., driving a Brabham, finished third.

Clark's time of two hours, three minutes, 59.1 seconds was a record for the race. He averaged 100.86 miles per hour. On the way, Clark set a lap record of 1:30.6 for the 2.604-mile circuit, averaging 103.525 m.p.h.

Graham Hill of Britain, who won the Monaco Grand Prix this year when Clark passed up the race for the Indianapolis 500, which he won, took fourth place in a BRM. Dennis Hulme of New Zealand was fifth and Richie Ginther of Granada Hills, Calif., driving a Japanese Honda, was sixth.

A crowd of about 60,000 saw the race, one of 10 that make up the championship series. Drivers may count points only from six events, which makes it unlikely that Clark can be overtaken in the remaining four races.

The second game lost ended Chicago's winning streak at five but didn't keep the White Sox from moving into a three-way tie for second place in the American League with Cleveland and Baltimore. STRIKING AT AT Umpire Bill Valentine is Minnesota Twins' Manager Sam Mele (14), but Valentine grabs his hand during a rhaburh in the sixth inning of the first game of a doubleheader Sunday with Los Angeles. Twins' Rich Rollins (glasses) and pitcher Jim Kaat try to break it up. Argument was over Valentine's safe call at first base of Angels' Jim Fregosi on a close play. The Angels won the first game 5-3, but the Twins came back in the second for a 5-4 victory. (AP wirephoto)

Twins Split Twin Bill With Angels

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP)—Jim Fregosi, whose hit precipitated a wild first game argument, botched up a run-downer play in the eighth inning of the nightcap and let the Minnesota Twins push across the winning run for a 5-4 victory over Los Angeles that ended a four-game losing skid Sunday.

The Twins lost the opener 5-3 and Manager Sam Mele as well when he was ejected by Umpire Bill Valentine following a chest-bumping fracas in which Mele appeared to throw a punch at the umpire after he called Fregosi safe at first on an infield hit in the sixth inning.

Mele returned to the Minnesota dugout for the second game but appeared on the field only to make pitching changes. He would not meet Valentine at home plate to present his second game line-up, sending coach Billy Martin.

The Twins rallied for two runs in an eighth-inning counter-rally that brought victory.

Oliver Guides Braves Over Mets Twice

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Gene Oliver hit a two-run home run that powered the streaking Milwaukee Braves to a 5-4 second game victory over the New York Mets and a sweep of a Sunday doubleheader.

The Braves, who have won six straight, took the first game 5-1 as Tony Cloninger pitched a six-hitter and Ed Mathews belted two home runs. The double victory was the Braves' first of the season.

Oliver's second-game blast into the left field bleachers came in the third inning after a single by Hank Aaron.

Sole home runs by Mathews, his 18th and 19th, were all Cloninger needed to record the first game victory, his first since June 19. His record now is 11-8.

CLEVELAND (AP)—Relief ace Dick Radatz, making his 33rd appearance, halted threats in the sixth and seventh innings and preserved Boston's 4-1 victory over Cleveland Sunday.

Radatz came on in the sixth to get the final out after Max Alvis led off the inning with his 16th homer. In the seventh, Chico Salmon and Larry Brown singled with one out, but Salmon was thrown out by Carl Yaztrzemski when he overran second base.

One out later, Alvis doubled, but again Radatz pitched out of the jam by getting Leon Wagner on a pop fly.

Machines to Process Cards in Wednesday's Big Game Drawing

BOISE—Lady Luck will be on hand for the controlled hunt drawings Monday and Wednesday in the new state headquarters office building of the Idaho Fish and Game Department. But from there on data processing machines will take over the drudgery from clerical workers. The tedium of sorting thousands of permit winners for controlled big game trophy hunts from the thousands of other applications, of verifying names and addresses and notifying winners of the results will be done mechanically rather than clerically, as in years past.

Grid Team Owner Is Arrested for Bogus Payments

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—The owner of Atlanta's team in the Southern Professional Football League was arrested Sunday by the Secret Service after he allegedly paid his team with about $2,500 in counterfeit $20 bills.

A. B. Wentz, agent in charge of the Secret Service in Georgia, said W. E. Westcott, 34, of Atlanta, was taken into custody on a charge of possessing counterfeit money.

The bogus money was discovered by a clerk at the motel where the team was staying. "He noted that, as the players were paying their bills, all the money had the same serial number," Wentz said.

AAU Welcomes Congress' Probe

DENVER (UPI)—The president of the Amateur Athletic Union said he welcomed congressional hearings on the feud between the AAU and the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

Clifford Buck made the comment in reaction to a U. S. Senate Committee which has scheduled a hearing on the ruckus over jurisdiction of amateur athletes.

The AAU executive and foreign relations committee was meeting in Denver during the weekend.

Buck said he informed Sen. Warren Magnuson of Washington that the AAU would offer full support and cooperation in the investigation.

Passed Ball, Homer Lead Card Victory

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals coupled home runs by Lou Brock and Tim McCarver with a third-strike passed ball for a 3-1 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies Sunday and their fourth straight triumph.

Brock's seventh homer came on Bo Belinsky's first pitch. It matched Johnny Callison's homer that had given the Phillies a 1-0 lead against winning right-hander Tracy Stallard in the top half of the first.

The Cardinals followed Brock's homer with singles by Dick Groat and Phil Gagliano. Groat then scored from third when Belinsky's third-strike pitch to Curt Flood got past catcher Pat Corrales.

McCarver's homer, also off Belinsky, came in the sixth. Philadelphia 100 000 000—1 5 0

KINGSTON, Jamaica (AP)—Wyomia Tyus, Olympic sprint champion from Griffin, Ga., equalled the women's world record of 10.3 seconds for the 100-yard dash in the Carreras international track meet Saturday night. The record was set by Australia's Marlene Matthews in 1958.

Miss Tyus blazed past her Tennessee State—University teammate, Edith McGuire of Atlanta, and won by about three yards.

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

MONDAY, July 19—Born to day you are by nature upon a studious type, more intelligent than those who would display your physical prowess. One who appreciates learning for its own sake, you are the type who, whether or not an advanced formal education is advanced, will spend a lifetime educating himself. You have the capacity to rise above your original environment, whatever it may be.

You enjoy having money for the sake of the things it can buy, but you have no natural inclination toward saving. This inclination toward saving, may cause you some difficulties, for you may fall into the habit of spending more than the budget will stand if you are not careful. Learn to put something aside for a rainy day even if there are long stretches of time when the sun shines continuously.

Contract for Kennedy Grave Given

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $1,483,350 contract has been awarded for construction of a permanent grave for President John F. Kennedy at Arlington National Cemetery.

The Abernethy Construction Co. of Boston and Washington was the low bidder of nine firms which submitted bids among the 5 contractors solicited. Work is to begin this month.

The office of the chief of Army Engineers said Friday the project is expected to take 14 months.

The contract covers all major construction associated with the development of the grave and surrounding area. This will include the grave-terrace, the terminal wall behind the grave, an elliptical overlook with an adjacent low wall and a circular walkway 210 feet in diameter.

Other contracts will be signed shortly, the engineers said. They will cover the marble base and bronze front for the eternal flame, the presidential seal on the terminal wall behind the grave, inscriptions on the overlook wall and three slate grave markers.

HOW TO WRITE A GOOD CLASSIFIED WANT AD

1-IT'S ALWAYS BEST to state your advertisement with the name of the article or service you have to offer. If you have an additional room, rent, or property for sale start your advertisement with the location.

2-BE CLEAR. Readers respond more quickly and favorably when given complete definite information. One of the most important aspects of any advertisement is to include the price.

3-MAKE IT EASY for the reader to contact you. Insert your telephone number or your name and address. If you do not have regular hours, give a preferred time to have projects contact you.

4-THE GREATEST READER ATTENTION can be secured for your advertisement by using concise, accurate information. Play on a seven-day order is best and costs less. There are also very special monthly rates for those who are desirous of keeping their name and offering before the public eye. Play on a 7-day stop your ad in the event of refusal, and then you pay only for the days it is published.

5-PLACE YOURSELF in the reader's position and ask yourself what you would like to know (about your offer). The answer you give will make a good Classified Ad.

6-CLASSIFIED readers are already interested in buying your used or new merchandise. These people have the money and are already in the market to buy. So give them every advantage you can with good ad copy.

7-WANT ADS THAT FAIL to bring satisfaction do not through any lack of readership, but because they are often too general. They do not contain enough information to get prompt action.

8-TO PLACE YOUR ADVERTISEMENT in the Twin Falls Newspaper, where you reach the largest classified ad audience in Magic Valley, call 733-0931 or one of the Times-News free phone numbers if you live in an area outside Twin Falls and ask for an Ad-taker. It's as easy as calling a friend because our Ad-takers are schooled to be helpful in such matters. Remember You get 7 Days for the price of 5.
