SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The United States stepped up its air strikes against suspected Viet Cong positions in South Viet Nam today and flew at least six bombing missions against North Viet Nam, a military spokesman announced.

U.S. 7th Fleet ships continued offshore bombardments of Communist installations. The Navy appeared to be playing an increasing role in the Vietnamese war.

The spokesman said two Americans were killed today, one in a plane crash and one when he failed to answer a sentry's challenge. Another American died in a plane crash Thursday night.

The spokesman said a U.S. Air Force observation plane crashed 50 miles south of Da Nang while directing strikes in the area. The pilot and a Vietnamese observer were killed after their plane had dropped smoke on a target, pulled up and then stalled, according to observers.

A U.S. Marine in the Da Nang area, 380 miles north of Saigon, was killed before dawn when he failed to answer a sentry's challenge, the spokesman said. The Marine was investigating suspicious noises.

The pilot of an A1E Skyraider was killed Thursday night when his plane apparently was shot down while on a mission 260 miles northeast of Saigon in Binh Dinh Province.

U.S. Air Force and Vietnamese war planes flew 165 sorties against Viet Cong concentrations and other facilities believed used by the guerrillas, the spokesman said.

Judges Hear Court Appeals Procedures

"There can be no appeals from a lower court, once fines have been paid," James Cunningham, assistant Twin Falls prosecuting attorney, said during a question and answer period Thursday afternoon by lower court judges.

The judges attended a training session of Idaho Magistrates Association which concluded Thursday afternoon at O'Leary Junior High School.

Cunningham was one of four members of a panel which answered questions from the judges. Other members of the panel were Glenn A. Phillips, Arco, president of the association, and Paul Hals, chief counsel of the driver improvement program for the Idaho Department of Law Enforcement.

Cunningham covered many aspects of appeal procedure, including the recent Supreme Court decision holding that there is no appeal after a fine has been paid.

Phillips spoke on a ruling that all liquor violations must be reported to the Department of Law Enforcement at Boise.

Other matters discussed were bond forfeitures, suggested bail bonds, appearance of defendants in courts other than the issuing court, and handling of reckless driving charges with regard to safety responsibility insurance.

The next training session will be held Aug. 18 in Malad.

Thousands Stage March In Athens

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — More than 100,000 shouting demonstrators marched through the streets of Athens today in a mammoth funeral cortege for a left-wing youth killed in a political riot.

Heavily-armed riot police and troops kept watch over the vast crowd. They were under orders to crush the first sign of violence by followers of fallen Premier George Papandreu.

The crowd-cried denunciations of the new Greek government, but under the threat of military intervention, the demonstration and burial took place without clashes.

Police, who gave crowd estimates, reported scores of persons fainted in the heat. The scene was chaotic at the cemetery, where thousands jammed the grounds, trampling graves and knocking over tombstones.

Aid Sought For Big Lost River Area

ARCO (AP) — Butte County Commissioners have telegraphed Gov. Robert E. Smylie, who in turn has recommended to President Lyndon B. Johnson that Butte County be declared a disaster area and eligible for emergency funds as the result of last month's flooding of the Big Lost River.

W. E. Ramshaw, Butte County Civil Defense Director, made the announcement saying the estimates of damage are now over a half million dollars and still climbing.

Ray Wilman, a representative of the federal office of emergency planning, Everett, Wash., was in Lost River Valley Friday to investigate damage caused by the June flooding.

If the request for federal disaster relief is granted, the OEP will coordinate the work of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and other federal agencies in restoring bridges, clearing the river channel and restoring other land and facilities destroyed by the flood, Ramshaw said.

Thursday the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture had approved $40,000 in federal relief funds for emergency conservation assistance. The $40,000 grant will be used to pay up to 80 per cent of the cost of restoring ditches and other conservation facilities on individual farms and ranches.

Construction Worker Hurt In Eden Area

A 26-year-old construction worker was reported in critical condition in Magic Valley Memorial Hospital early Friday afternoon after a construction accident about one mile south of Eden at the site of interstate road construction.

Edwin Spangenberg, address unknown, told hospital officials the accident happened so quickly he did not know what happened but he was apparently run over by a truck or other construction vehicle. The exact nature of his injuries was not known but he was believed to have multiple fractures and possible internal injuries.

An ambulance attendant said Spangenberg was struck with such force that his body had been pressed into the dirt. Spangenberg was an employee of Earl L. McNutt Co.

Baby Is Born on Train

GOODING — The Union Pacific Railroad company's west-bound City of Portland became a surprise delivery room Thursday night when a premature baby was born about 9 p.m. to a Pocatello woman on the floor of a women's restroom between Shoshone and Gooding.

Both the mother, Mrs. Wilma Burch, 32, and her small son, as yet neither weighed nor named, were reported in good condition at Gooding Memorial Hospital where attendants said the baby apparently has no ill effects from his rather unusual choice of a birthplace.

Mrs. Burch was en route to Glens Ferry to visit her mother.

Three T.F. Citizens Honored For Outstanding Achievements

Three Twin Falls citizens were honored Thursday for outstanding achievements for Twin Falls, two of whom won national acclaim, by the Twin Falls Kiwanis Club and the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce. Mrs. Sterling Vaughn was presented a token of appreciation and gratitude for further distinguishing Twin Falls and Magic Valley by winning first place in the Toastmistress International's speech contest.

Mrs. Vaughn won the coveted award for an extemporaneous speech entitled "Knowledge". The Toastmistress International Convention was held in New Orleans, La., and Mrs. Vaughn took the honors on July 12. She was chosen from several finalists at the national convention to attend the international convention and she became the first woman from Idaho to place first in the speech contest.

Robert Nora Jr., 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nora, Twin Falls, took top honors at the International Key Club talent contest held July 13 in New York.

Nora won the contest after giving an outstanding dramatic reading entitled "The Crucifixion." Nora has won other honors with his talents at dramatic presentation.

Pam Jenkins, crowned Cow-Boy Queen Monday night by the Magic Valley Cowboy baseball club, was presented with a bottle of cologne after she won the event by being chosen from several finalists. She was sponsored by both the Twin Falls Kiwanis Club and the Twin Falls Key Club.

As Dr. John McNeese, president of the Kiwanis Club, explained, the three were honored for their achievements in bringing further recognition to Twin Falls. The Kiwanis Club worked in conjunction with the Chamber of Commerce in presenting the awards.

AEC to Name Site for New Atom-Smasher

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission plans to announce next week a list of 15 to 20 possible front-runners in the virtually nationwide contest over location of the proposed $280 million atom-smasher machine.

But an AEC spokesman said none of the other seekers of the prized award will be considered disqualified. They may still have a chance.

Some 110 proposals — representing locations in all states except Alaska, Hawaii, Delaware and Vermont — have been under consideration by the AEC as possible sites for the 200 billion electron volt atom-smasher which would be the world's most powerful. It would cost $50 million a year to operate and be nearly a mile in diameter.

Demonstration Threats Incited By Voting Bill

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A civil rights leader said today that widespread street demonstrations will be staged in the South unless the voting rights bill is approved by Congress within another week.

"We demand an early passage of a strong voting bill," said Hosea Williams, an official of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC). "Or we have no other recourse except street demonstrations."

The committee, in a session lasting less than 40 minutes, voted its unanimous approval of the nomination. Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield won unanimous consent to take it up immediately on the Senate floor.

At the hearing, marked with praise of Goldberg, the nominee testified that the crisis confronting the United Nations "must be solved and the work of the United Nations must go on."

Photos Show 2 Captured Airmen

TOKYO (AP) — The North Viet Nam news agency issued a photograph today purporting to show two U.S. Navy officers it said were captured after their jet bomber was shot down over Thanh Hoa July 18.

The two were identified as Cmdr. Jerome A. Denton of Alabama and Lt. (j.g.) William H. Tschudy of Illinois. Their hometowns were not given.

A U.S. military spokesman announced on July 19 that an A6 jet was shot down over North Viet Nam the day before.

Signed Measure Takes Silver From Dimes, Quarters

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson today signed the bill that will take silver out of the nation's dimes and quarters. He warned hoarders that they stand to lose their shirts. Johnson signed the measure before an audience of congressional leaders, Treasury officials, and newsmen gathered under the hot sun in the White House rose garden. He said "If anyone has an idea of hoarding our silver coins, let me say this: Treasury has a lot of silver on hand. It can and will be used to keep the price of silver in line with its value in our present silver coins. There will be no profit in holding them out of circulation for the value of their silver content."

Charges Are Pending In Latest Fatality

RUPERT — No inquest will be held into the death of a Heyburn man in the two-car crash about midnight Wednesday, but charges will be filed, Larry Duff, Minidoka county prosecuting attorney, stated Friday.

The death of Milton Lee Fernau, 23, recently of Ainsworth, Neb., was the 30th traffic fatality for Magic Valley this year, more than one-third the number recorded last year at this time which was 19. In 1964 a total of 38 persons were killed in road accidents on Magic Valley highways, while there have been 13 deaths during July so far this year.

An autopsy performed this morning on body of Mr. Fernau indicated he died of massive internal hemorrhaging. Robert C. Walk, Minidoka county coroner said Friday.

Mr. Fernau was a passenger in a 1958 Chevrolet driven by Thomas Spry, Heyburn, which crashed into the rear of a 1963 Ford driven by Mrs. Bessie Cliff, Burley, on State Highway 24 four miles south of Rupert.

There were seven persons in the Spry car, five of whom were hospitalized. All were dismissed Friday but Mrs. Jack Smith, Heyburn.

Other passengers were Mrs. Spry, Jack Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Gene LaHaye, Rupert. Mrs. Cliff also was dismissed from the hospital Friday. She was alone in her car and told sheriff's officers she had just driven out of a service station and was in her correct lane of traffic.

Another car had pulled around to pass her when the Spry car struck her vehicle from the rear. Both the autos involved in the crash were traveling north.

It was the fourth fatality for Minidoka county this year.

U. S., Arab Relations Turn Worse

CAIRO (AP) — Relations between the United Arab Republic and the United States appeared to be taking a turn for the worse today, the 13th anniversary of the revolution that brought Gamal Abdel Nasser to power.

President Nasser charged Washington with making "astounding" demands on his government in return for U.S. aid.

The government news agency accused Bruce Taylor Odell, 27, political attaché of the U.S. Embassy in Cairo, of being an agent of the Central Intelligence Agency and said he got information harmful to Egypt's security from Cairo editor Mustafa Amin. Amin was arrested in Alexandria last weekend.

Speaking at a rally in downtown Cairo, Nasser said the United Arab Republic "faced many political and economic pressures from the United States. As the United States gave Egypt essential aid of wheat shipments, relations improved in 1959 and 1960, but as the wheat supplies increased, then began the pressure basically concerning Israel."

Twin Falls Is Scene of "Hoss" Thief Chase to Promote Frontier Days

Twin Falls was the scene of some real old fashioned gun play and horse play—Thursday night after an unidentified horse thief rustled a valuable piece of horse flesh from one of the Frontier Vigilantes.

While the Frontier boys were having a little fun in one of the local saloons (Starlite Lounge) a desperado made a get-away on Pokey's Jim, a horse staked out behind the bar.

Needless to say, this got the boys a little riled—having one of their gang left afoot—and they set off in hot pursuit after the rustler. The mad chase led through the Twin Falls business district, where the vigilantes managed to catch up with the desperado and Pokey's Jim—just as they were heading into the Perrine Hotel and Lounge.

What with the crowd and confusion caused by the horse in the building, and much gunplay on the part of the vigilantes, the crook managed to make his get-away, still aboard Pokey's Jim, through Wray's Cafe.

When last seen, the daring desperado was astride his ill-gotten steed going through one of the shopping centers.

Never a bunch to be swayed by past failures, the Frontier Vigilantes are sure they can have the culprit in hand by Friday night, and plan to show the general public they are a thoroughly competent bunch of trackers.

Oops!

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — The movers had orders to move the abandoned parsonage of the Church of God and they had a building up on jacks and ready to go.

Then, the Rev. Doyle Zachary of the Church of God saw them. He ran across the street and told the foreman, "This is the Church of Christ. The Church of God is across the street."

"It took them the rest of the afternoon getting it down. They even had the plumbing disconnected," the minister said Thursday.

Conservatives To Elect New Party Leader

LONDON (AP) — With Edward Heath and Reginald Maudling the leading contenders, Britain's Conservative party began preparations today to elect a new party leader.

Former Prime Minister, Sir Alec Douglas-Home laid down the party reins Thursday night, bowing to criticism that has steadily mounted since the Labor party defeated his forces in the October general election. He had succeeded Harold Macmillan as party leader and prime minister in October, 1963.

Both Heath, 49, and Maudling, 48, are formidable opponents in the battle to win the support of a decisive majority of the party's 303 members in the House of Commons.

Christopher Soames, 44-year-old son-in-law of the late Sir Winston Churchill, was considered a possible compromise choice.

The Conservatives are looking for a man to match Prime Minister Harold Wilson's rapier tongue in the daily cut and thrust of debate in Commons. The party has no deep ideological divisions, but younger members especially felt Douglas-Home lacked both drama and a needed streak of ruthlessness.

Employment Record Is Set

BOISE (UPI) — June employment in Idaho reached an all-time high for the month, the Idaho Dept. of Employment said Friday.

The service said June also saw the rate of unemployment decline for the sixth consecutive month. It was the 13th month in a row in which unemployment was below the year-ago level.

All these antics are being staged in preparation for Frontier Days, July 31 and Aug. 1. An act is also planned for noon Saturday at Shoshone Street and Main Avenue.

Queen of Frontier Days, who will reign over the rodeo, will be chosen during competition at 1 p.m. Sunday, with more activities planned by the Frontier Vigilantes Tuesday and each day until Frontier Days ends.

Navajos Have High Rate of Tuberculosis

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Tuberculosis tests of Navajo Indians in San Juan County have shown an extremely high incidence of the disease. Dr. Elton Newman of the State Health Department said Thursday.

Of 775 persons given the tests in June, 72 — 10 per cent — were believed to have tuberculosis in various stages.

Dr. Newman, who heads the department's tuberculosis program, said another clinic will be held in the county in October. It is often difficult to get them (the Navajos) to come in for testing and after the tests are made it often takes a considerable period to reach them for subsequent examination," he said.

Because of the high rate of the disease in the county, state and local authorities are planning to test all school children this fall.

EARL M. FARLINGER — long time resident of Buhl and prominent Idaho Mason died Thursday at his residence of a short illness. Mr. Farlinger has resided in Buhl since 1908. Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. Saturday in the Buhl Masonic Temple.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

BY ANDREW TULLY
WASHINGTON — Incredible as it may seem, the administration's bill to repeal the so-called "right-to-work" laws could squeak through the House despite President Johnson's obvious lack of enthusiasm for the measure.
House Republican Leader Gerald Ford of Michigan, who is leading the fight against this preposterous legislation, still thinks he can beat it in the House. But the nose-counters predict the issue will be decided by as few as three or four votes.
As of now, Ford figures on corraling 128 of the 141 Republican votes. He's counting on Democratic defections in the South, Southwest and West to give him the needed majority, which would be 218 in the unlikely case that all members were present and voting. But Ford is talking big. He can hardly expect much help from GOP members from the big northern industrial states, where labor is a power. Instinctively, most of these oppose repeal, but they have to face the political facts of life.

THE MUTED CLARIONS—One of them stated his predicament wryly. Just thinking about the vote makes me uneasy," he said. "I just wish the damned thing would go away."
Curiously, administration officials feel the same way. Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz is blowing a very muted horn for the bill because he recognizes the built-in unpopularity of any legislation which would force a worker to join a union. And President Johnson has tried to avoid discussing it. But the AFL-CIO has made repeal its prime objective of the congressional session, and it has increased the pressure on both the White House and Congress in recent weeks.

Labor's target is Section 14 (b) of the Taft-Hartly Act, which permits states to adopt laws outlawing the union shop. Nineteen states now have these laws, and although they have been used in some areas of the country to intimidate unorganized workers, they remain the citizens' only protection against exploitation by Big Labor.
A CIVIL RIGHT INVOLVED—Ironically, the drive for repeal is being led by those same sincere liberals who have fought so hard for the rights of the Negro. Ironically, because repeal would take away from the ordinary citizen the right to hold down a job without belonging to a union.
The issue here is the same as the issue involving civil rights for Negroes. There are certain rights guaranteed by the Constitution that a Negro should not have to petition for. They are his inherently. Just as inherent in the Bill of Rights is the working man's right to refuse to join a union. And if it is proper to ban discrimination against Negroes in hiring practices, it is proper similarly to protect the non-union worker.

To be sure, right-to-work laws are only as good as their administration, but Section 14 (b) is a kind of cop even in states which have no such laws. It reminds the union bosses that such a law can be passed and thus is a deterrent to their dictatorial ambitions.

WIDE-OPEN FIELD
Anyone who's casting around for an occupation would do well to examine possibilities of writing songs, modern songs, that is. If you'll take time to listen to a few of what pass as popular songs, you'll immediately start to wonder why they're popular. It would seem there's no great knowledge of music involved. And when it comes to the lyrics, like you're in man! Obviously most of the great lyric writers today have a wonderful future ahead of them. Particularly when they are graduated from kindergarten and enroll in the first grade.

I finally figured out why the youngsters remodel their cars so outrageously, particularly so that they're low in front while sticking up so high in the back. Anyone can plainly see that a car remodeled like that is running downhill all the time. It's bound to save considerable gas.

GUILT AT BERKELEY
When Judge Rupert Crittenden imposes sentence on the participants in the Berkeley sit-in whom he has just found guilty, little more will have been accomplished than a temporary settlement of a tangential issue that should never have arisen. The transcending issues will remain: First, what is the proper relationship of a school to its students? Second, how can it be realized?
These are not legal questions, they are philosophical and spiritual, and it will not be possible to answer them by deciding whether several hundred young men and young women are guilty of trespassing and resisting arrest.
For the demonstrations at the University of California are, as Maxwell Geismar writes in Frontier magazine, "an omen as well as a lesson." In the ensuing six months other student demonstrations occurred at Columbia and Yale, and at universities and colleges in Kansas, New Mexico, Florida, North Carolina, Connecticut and Oregon. There is every indication that there will be more. The way to stop them is to stop the alienation of our institutions of higher education from their students.
What guilt there is at Berkeley rests not only upon the demonstrators but upon Gov. Brown, who bungled both prevention and care. It rests upon the board of regents, which made itself the agency of reaction. It rests upon the administration and faculty of the university, which lost communication with the students. That there is guilt enough to go around has been attested by both major investigations and reports, by a 10-member faculty committee for the university administration and by the Byrne committee for the Regents. All concerned in the operation of the university could have said as truly as did President Clark Kerr, "We fumbled, we floundered, and the worst thing is I still don't know how we should have handled it."
If they had handled it properly, the sit-in and the arrest charges would never have arisen. Because of the great import of whatever final settlement is reached, it is good that the legal cases are to be appealed. We hope the results will be such as to promote rather than impede the restoration of a close and meaningful relationship between our colleges and universities and their students. — St. Louis Post-Dispatch

MUTUALLY ADVANTAGEOUS
School patrons in the East End of Twin Falls County are studying plans again for merging schools for Kimberly, Hansen and Murtaugh. Actually, the plan has been under study for a long time, but elections have failed to achieve the necessary majorities. The stumbling block has been a matter of the new district assuming the debts of the present three districts. There's no indication that someone has come up with an acceptable solution to the problem, yet all school patrons concerned should realize that consolidation of high schools in the three communities has merit and would be mutually advantageous to everyone.
Operation of a small high school is expensive. In addition it's possible for a student to be denied certain advantages in study and instruction that accrue to schools with larger student bodies and greater resources. These are the facts that should be kept in mind as East-Enders conduct their hearings again over proposals to consolidate schools.
It's easy to understand why taxpayers in a debt-free district would hesitate before helping to pay off debts of other districts. Yet that's a short-term view that could be more expensive in the long run. It's quite possible that the economies to be realized through consolidation will bring long-term savings that will more than balance the short-term debt liability. All taxpayers concerned should study the problem from the standpoint of future costs and savings instead of current liabilities.
But most of all, school patrons and officials should study the advantages that could accrue to students. Will consolidation into one high school result in improved facilities, higher caliber of instruction, better opportunity and preparation of students? If these objectives can be obtained, the cost factor is of secondary importance. It's true in the East End of Twin Falls County, just as it's true the world over, education never costs; it pays. Sometimes it's difficult to convince parents, particularly in these days of spiraling costs of all sorts, yet it's true, nevertheless.
There's no way of predicting what will happen from the current consolidation studies in the East End. But regardless of the outcome, everyone concerned should approach the matter logically and with a view to long-term results. Sometimes too much attention to current problems can deprive everyone of long-term benefits, which are harder to see.

THIS PHONY WORLD
A couple of seemingly unrelated news items on the fashions, habits and vital statistics of American women may not be so unrelated, at that. One revelation concerns women's bathing routines; perhaps because of the midwestern and eastern water shortages, the girls aren't showering as often as the commercials would have us believe. The rate for some is down to twice a week. Elsewhere in the news, a statistician indicated that the average weight of American women is 142 pounds, up slightly from a few years ago.
We have it from Olga the office girl that these two bits of intelligence dovetail admirably. "That's easy," says Olga. "Most of these women are carrying around about 10 pounds of artificial junk, that's why they're heavier." She listed a few: False eyelashes, phony bangs and wigs, make-believe eyebrows, plastic foam, bolstering the figure fore and after plus a girdle to hold up the padding.
"But why," we asked, "would that dovetail with the bathing question?" That's easy, too. "Well, golly," she said, "most of those dames, if they took a bath without careful dismantling, they'd go to pieces."
Disclaiming any such problems of her own, Olga nonetheless calls herself an expert on the subject. "Live got a sister-in-law," she snorted, "who does not get dressed in the morning; she gets glued and harnessed." — Yakima Herald

The Doctor Says
By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M. D.

Q. I have had high blood pressure for about 10 years. My doctor told me to take Resperil tablets once a day if needed but I never know exactly when to start taking them and when to stop. The only symptom when my blood pressure goes up is headache. Sometimes it stops after four or five tablets and sometimes I have to take 10 or 12. Should I continue taking the tablets? Would injections be better?
A. High blood pressure doesn't cause headache or any other symptoms except in the advanced stage. The commonest form of headache is due to nervous tension and the same tension may cause your blood pressure to go up. Resperil (Serpasil) will relieve your tension and also help to bring your blood pressure down. Perhaps you should take the tablets when you feel tense even if you have no headache. Your doctor is wise not to have you take them continuously. I don't believe injections would be better.

Q. Why is a blood pressure of 200 over 90 less dangerous than my pressure of 175 over 105? Should I try to bring it down?
A. The upper (systolic) reading is subject to wide variations depending on your state of excitement and other factors. Since it may be high when your doctor takes it and much lower five or 10 minutes later, it is of little significance.
The lower (diastolic) reading is fairly stable and should not exceed 100. A diastolic pressure that is chronically high will damage vital organs in time. For this reason most doctors try to bring it down but this should always be done gradually.

Interpreting The News
WASHINGTON (AP) — In all the political dreams of his life President Johnson probably never imagined anything like this: dominating the American scene with no real opposition in sight.
Johnson last year and President Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1936 won tremendous election victories and their Democrats, riding their coattails, got overwhelming control of Congress both times.
But Johnson has been shrewd — as Roosevelt in the use he made of success and luck, for he had a little better luck than Roosevelt; the Republican party was split in the 1964 election and still is.
Now the divided Republicans are hardly any opposition to him. Even their criticisms are barely audible.
When they do take after him occasionally, as on his handling of the Vietnamese war, it's not because of American involvement — but because they want him to bomb harder.
This is a lot different from President Harry S. Truman's experience with the Korean war, shortly after the United States got into it in 1950, Republicans opened up on him and kept on going.
Since his 1964 election Johnson has carefully done nothing to bristle Democrats or Republicans. In fact, except for a minor thrust once in a while, Johnson has been almost benevolent toward Republicans.
He pulls the strings on this Congress, letting nothing interfere with his determination to shove through what he wants. The result: Congress is running up one of its most impressive records.
With Roosevelt it was different. After his defeat in 1936, he wrecked any chance for a stunning performance with his Democratic-run Congress by opening war on the Supreme Court.
That highly conservative court had been throwing out one important New Deal program after another. And on Feb. 7, 1937, less than three weeks after the new Congress took over, Roosevelt opened fire.
He sent a bill to the Capitol proposing drastic court reform, the so-called "court-packing" plan. He instantly ran into fierce dissent in all directions, including Democrats.
That 1937 Congress — unlike this one where Johnson keeps the machinery oiled for speed and performance — got tangled

New York Village Wants to Buy Missile Silos for $2

WASHINGTON (AP) — Saranac, N.Y., wants to pay the government two dollars for two multimillion-dollar missile silos. The government says no soap.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Earl Norwood of Billings, Mont., would be willing to invest $26,110 for a silo in Idaho — one of 117 recently offered for sale by the General Services Administration.

Most of the other 52 bids announced Wednesday ranged from $2,500 to $7,500 for each silo, including real estate and improvements.

Correction

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — The Alabama Senate approved Thursday for the second time a bill boosting unemployment compensation benefits.

It corrected the original measure which had used the word "he" throughout a section dealing with maternity benefits.

The 160-foot deep, concrete-lined, air-conditioned silos once housed the Atlas E, Atlas F and Titan I missiles for national defense. The Defense Department recently declared them obsolete.

Thomas Quinn, attorney for Saranac, a village of 2,650 in upstate New York, says he was serious when he offered a dollar apiece for the silos at the nearby Plattsburgh Air Force Base.

Quinn said the village, if it wins a bid, would convert the silos into a bomb shelter and water storage facility.

Good Repair Of Northside Canal Listed

JEROME — Directors of the North Side Canal Co. announced Thursday the vital concrete section of the North Side Main canal near Milner Dam is in a very satisfactory condition.

This conclusion was reached after officials reviewed reports of the extensive investigations made of this section of the canal.

Officials pointed out they felt it wise to investigate the condition of this important concrete structure in the North Side system, upon learning that questions were being raised as to the condition of the concrete in the American Falls dam.

Arrangements were made for taking adequate sections of various parts of the concrete and having them carefully analyzed and tested by the Pittsburgh Testing Laboratory of Salt Lake City.

In addition, arrangements were made to have the section inspected by Dr. Levi Brown, Chicago, a consulting engineer with a national reputation in the field of concrete testing and analysis.

Results of these tests and inspections indicate the concrete in this section of the main canal is in satisfactory condition. Directors will continue the program, which has been in progress for many years, of annually maintaining, strengthening and surfacing the interior of this section of the canal so that it will continue serviceable.

First Flight

BOISE (AP) — "I enjoyed every minute of it," said a 92-year-old great-grandmother Thursday night as she stepped from a trim motor jet liner following a 600-mile, 10-hour flight from Salt Lake City to Boise.

Mrs. Pamela Gale of Willard, Utah, who was 30 years old when Orville and Wilbur Wright made the first successful flight in a heavier than air machine, the trip was the fulfillment of a wish to "take one plane trip before I die."

Mrs. Gale was accompanied on the 50-minute flight by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Glen Gale, whose husband met the couple at the Boise airport.

The 11-page will, dated Sept. 11, 1962, named as chief beneficiaries Stevenson's three sons: Adlai III, 31, of Chicago, a Democratic state representative; Borden, 32, of New York; and John Fell, 29, of San Francisco.

DREYLOW TO APPOINT
MOUNTAIN HOME (AP) — It appeared today that Lt. Gov. William E. Dreylow will be called on to appoint a successor to Elmore County Commissioner Victor Lasuen, who has resigned to accept a position with the office of economic opportunity.

Lasuen's resignation was announced Thursday but the Elmore County Auditor's office said it will not be acted on until Auditor W. H. Trail returns from vacation next Monday.

Lasuen is a Democrat and if Republican Gov. Robert E. Smylie fills the vacancy presumably he would choose a Republican.

NOT FELONY
BOISE (AP) — The Idaho Supreme Court has reversed the conviction of James D. Grady, Boise, on a charge of selling liquor without a license contending the record does not allege facts constituting a felony.

The high court also ruled the trial court erred in not making available to Grady information contained in a presentence investigation report.

In another decision, the high court reduced the first degree burglary conviction of Dillard Junior Haggard to second degree burglary.

The court ruled that because the trial record is not clear as to whether the burglary was committed during the day or at night it could not sustain a first degree burglary conviction.

Merl Wilhelm, airport manager, said the job should be completed within a week. A new asphalt was needed because cracks were beginning to appear at the runway ends.

REMEMBER WHEN?
By BOB REESE
Just about everybody in the country took sides over that famous trial, and during the long six years when the accused and convicted men fought to have the decision reversed. Fays were a writer based upon their facts, and there were innumerable articles and books.

Their names were Sacco and Vanzetti. They had been convicted of killing two men in a holdup — but many felt that they had been unjustly convicted for their radical political beliefs. Their trial was sharply criticized by the Wickersham Commission on law procedure.

But year after year they appealed, steadfastly maintaining their innocence. And in the end they fell. The arguments for many years were to last for many years, but the day finally came when time ran out on them. Sacco and Vanzetti were executed.

Remember the year? Those were days when a man buying a "horseless carriage" was still a sharp horse trader. He looked around for a fair horse deal, the best he could find — and he looked for a dealer he could trust.

The year was 1927. Choosing your auto dealer is important today. Your auto dealer who can back up the sale with the best service facilities, and who makes a business of giving a fair deal. Put those facts together and they add up to getting a new Dodge, Chrysler or Imperial from Bob Reese Motor Co., 500 Block Second Avenue South, Twin Falls, Phone 733-5776.

Monkeys Have Nursery Like People

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Young gorillas and chimpanzees wear diapers, take formula from bottles and clutch their favorite blankets possessively in an unusual nursery near Emory University.

They get angry, show off and exhibit affection much like babies.

To a visitor at Yerkes Regional Primate Research Center the nursery seems a novel way of caring for the animals. The gorillas and chimpanzees stare back, curiously through nursery windows.

But the purpose of the nursery is neither novelty nor amusement. It is necessary and convenient to the research being conducted.

"The infants would not be available otherwise because their mothers would not allow them to be taken away," said Dr. R. K. Davenport, a psychologist. "And we can do a better job; they are healthier in the nursery."

Davenport and a colleague, Dr. C. M. Rogers, said the fine gorillas and four chimpanzees in the Yerkes nursery might be helpful in learning more about behavior problems and patterns.

In terms of human psychology, Davenport said, results of the animal studies have been informative, "but I am not sure they have been helpful in human psychology in a clinical sense."

"We are involved," he said, "in the kind of problems we would like to study in human infants."

The study indicates that environment might not be as important a factor in behavior as some modern theories have suggested, the researchers said.

Texas Coeds Still Missing

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The whereabouts of two attractive young Dallas women, missing since Sunday, remained a mystery today as police sorted meager clues.

State and local officers checked each tip that might lead to Susan Rigby and Shirley Ann Stark, both 21.

The two were last seen here Sunday. A statewide search was launched Wednesday after a bundle of their clothing was found in a ditch near the north edge of Austin.

Miss Rigby was in Austin to enroll for summer classes at the University of Texas. Miss Stark accompanied her to Austin. They are sorority sisters.

Widow, 34, Is First Woman To Sail Pacific Route Alone

HONOLULU (AP) — With the applause of old salts ringing in her ears, petite Sharon Sites rested today after her gale-raked, 40-day sail from California to Hawaii. She became the first woman to sail the 2,300-mile alone.

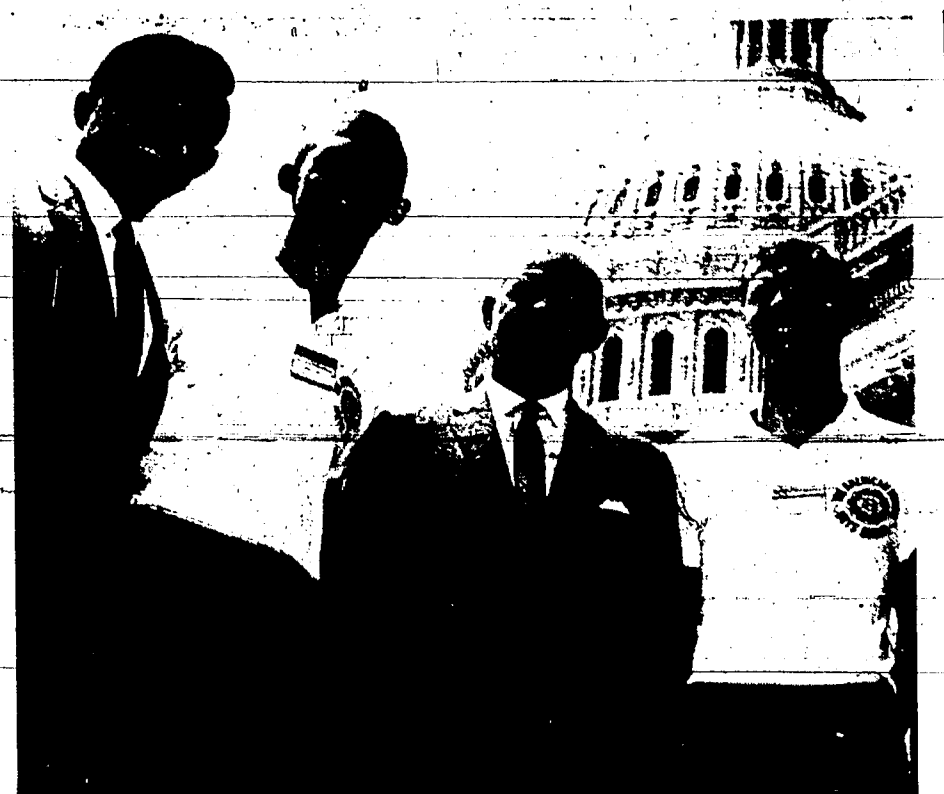

In a snug harbor Wednesday night from her courageous trans-Pacific odyssey — done without a radio or fuel for her 25-foot sloop Sea Sharp — the 34-year-old Los Angeles widow counted two casualties:

Her right wrist was broken last weekend in a way she was "too embarrassed" to say, and her pet turtle died 12 days out of Los Angeles.

The blonde dental secretary — a sailing beginner — undertook the voyage alone for the same reason men climb mountains: It was a challenge, she told newsmen before she was taken to a hospital for treatment of her wrist.

On shore at Keolu Marina a few miles from downtown Honolulu, Mrs. Sites told of "Six days of 65 mile an hour winds," her most frightening experience.

"I had to latch everything down, hang on for dear life, and pray," she said.

Tarp was elected president of the Senate of Boys' Nation.

Emergency?

DENVER (UPI) — A patrol car and an ambulance rushed to the home of a Denver woman after she put in an urgent call to police, pleading: "Send an ambulance quick! My baby's choking."

When the police and ambulance attendants arrived, they found the woman cradling a fuzzy, brown puppy with something stuck in his throat.

Payments to Begin Soon For Program

SHOSHONE — Farmers who have participated in the 1965 wheat diversion and feed grain programs will begin getting final program payments shortly after Aug. 1, reports Eugene Alexander, chairman of the agricultural stabilization and conservation county committee.

The payments will cover wheat certificate payments as well as diversion and price support payments.

The diversion payments are made for reducing the acreage of one or more of the crops, wheat, corn or barley, by at least 20 per cent and devoting the acreage to an approved conserving use. The payment is based on the normal yield for the farm times the per bushel rate which applies to the grain diverted.

Emergency?

DENVER (UPI) — A patrol car and an ambulance rushed to the home of a Denver woman after she put in an urgent call to police, pleading: "Send an ambulance quick! My baby's choking."

When the police and ambulance attendants arrived, they found the woman cradling a fuzzy, brown puppy with something stuck in his throat.

Payments to Begin Soon For Program

SHOSHONE — Farmers who have participated in the 1965 wheat diversion and feed grain programs will begin getting final program payments shortly after Aug. 1, reports Eugene Alexander, chairman of the agricultural stabilization and conservation county committee.

The payments will cover wheat certificate payments as well as diversion and price support payments.

The diversion payments are made for reducing the acreage of one or more of the crops, wheat, corn or barley, by at least 20 per cent and devoting the acreage to an approved conserving use. The payment is based on the normal yield for the farm times the per bushel rate which applies to the grain diverted.

MR. AND MRS. BOB DOUGHTY (Davis photo)

JoAnn Wike, Doughty Repeat Marriage Vows

JEROME—JoAnn Wike, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Wike, Wendell, became the bride of Bob Doughty, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Doughty, Jerome, in a double ring ceremony June 25 at the Jerome First Christian Church.

The nuptials were performed by Rev. Harold Robbins before a setting of beauty baskets of white peonies with accents of lavender and candelabra with white tapers.

Mrs. Thelma Gibson played the traditional wedding music and accompanied Judy Evett, soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of peau de soie, fashioned with a fitted bodice and lace jacket with elbow-length sleeves and tiny self-covered buttons down the back. The bell-shaped skirt was draped with an over-skirt of Chantilly lace with an open panel in the front and a belt and bow of peau de soie.

Her shoulder-length bouffant veil was fashioned with a large satin bow as the crown with the veil of the same lace as her dress.

The veil was made by Sandi Gates, Wendell, a close friend of the bride.

The bride's bouquet was centered with two white spider irises, surrounded by pink rosebuds and Lilies of the Valley, resting on a lace covered white Bible.

Mrs. Marvin Moorhead, sister of the bride, was matron of honor.

Gerald Van Zuyen was best man and Marvin Moorhead was the usher.

A reception followed the ceremony, with Mr. and Mrs. Moorhead as hosts.

The bride's table was covered with lace and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom, and decorated with lavender-tipped rosebuds, sugar bells and white swans. Encircling the cake was fine fern interlaced with pink rosebuds. White tapers encircled by fern completed the table decorations.

Mrs. Elmer Johnston and Mrs. James Scarrow, both Wendell, cut and served the cake. Mrs. Jerry Doughty, Jerome, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, and Pat Madelena, Wendell, cousin of the bride, poured.

Rosie Cenarrusa was in charge of the guest book. Gifts were displayed by Connie Wike, sister of the bride, Jamee Rynyon and Inez Ydarraga, all Wendell.

Assisting at the reception were Mrs. G. H. Rash, Mrs. Ronald Lancaster and Mrs. Harold Otter.

Out-of-town guests attended from Wendell, Buhl, Gooding, Filer, Kimberly and Hazelton.

Farm AND Ranch

Magic Valley's Week-End Farm Paper

SECTION

July 23-24, 1965 Twin Falls Times-News 9

Along Fences and Canals

The second cutting of hay is being harvested at the Arthur Greer ranch south of King Hill and at the Frank Jones ranch.

Boyd Taylor, Yost, Utah, is hauling and stacking hay for ranchers in the Almo vicinity.

Almo area ranchers are busy with first cutting of alfalfa hay. Some hay already is baled and stacked. Alfalfa weevils have caused some damage. Work is expected to start soon on the wild hay which is fast maturing. Some mowing is now in progress.

Ray Mitchell is swathing the second cutting of hay on the Karl Carnahan and Martin Woodward ranch in Pasadena Valley, south of King Hill.

A small 14 inch rattlesnake was killed this week by Donald Walker, west Richfield farmer. Walker narrowly missed picking up the snake as he was moving irrigation tubes and almost mistook the snake for a tube. This is the first rattlesnake ever killed or seen on the ranch. Mrs. Walker was startled to see a water snake glide down the hall at their home last week. The snake was pushed into the bathroom with a broom and shut up for the hired man to carry outside. The snake had entered through an open front door and traveled across the carpet.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Richards have returned to their home in Detroit, Mich., after a visit here at the ranch home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Richards, and family. Richards helped with the farm work during the absence of his son, Harold, who was on a tour of the USA with Afghanistan officials.

Lee Barron, who farms with his father, Camas county senator Fred Barron, is growing an unusual crop on Camas Prairie this year. Lee has planted 19 acres of Scarlet Globe radishes which he hopes to harvest for seed on one of the farms south of Corral. It is an interesting experiment as alfalfa is about the only crop that has been grown for seed on the prairie. If the crop matures it may open the way for more seed crops.

Some Marley and west Richfield farmers are speculating as to cause of loss of some fields of Gaines and winter wheat. The county agent has inspected the fields on some farms, but no report has been released.

Eugene Gabert has his second cutting of hay swathed at the George Peter ranch, east of King Hill.

Froy Chafin reports seeing a fawn on his ranch east of King Hill. Other farmers in the area also report seeing the young deer.

BOMBIN ROCKET, famed quarter-horse which only recently won the Portland Meadows futurity and set a new track record of 18.18 seconds for 350 yards, was stabled at Frontier Field last weekend. The horse is scheduled to enter several other races this fall including the $200,000 Los Alamitos event. (Times-News photo)

Intensive Interest in Horses Shown By Magic Valley, T.F. Residents

Continued intensive interest in horses in this section of Idaho is shown by the number of registered animals which are standing at stud in the area.

Prominent among the horses is Bar Rocket, son of Rocket Bar out of a mare by Three Bars. This quarter-horse is now standing at Frontier Field. It has been leased by Dean Patterson and B. L. (Sonny) Ward. The father of this horse was originally purchased by George Kaufman in Scottsdale, Ariz., in 1959. The purchase price was $30,000 and the owner turned down an offer this year that was over $200,000.

In other parts of the country Three Bars is standing at stud for a fee of $10,000 while Rocket Bar is standing for $35,000 and booking more than 90 mares a year. The horse which has been leased by the two local men is considered one of the outstanding sons of the famed horse. Rocket Bar has had 54 starters in 30AAA and 20AA races while Bombin Rocket has had seven official starts and has won more than $16,000.

Checks Sent to Sugar Producers SALT LAKE CITY — Utah Idaho Sugar Co. mailed checks totaling $344,000 this week to sugar beet growers in Idaho as an additional payment on the crop harvested last fall. Earlier payments were made in November of 1964 and last April. Final payments will be made in October.

LOAN RATES REDUCED WASHINGTON — Loan rates in natural disaster areas for restoration of homes, farm buildings and other purposes were reduced this month to three per cent by Farmers Home Administration.

The report said that pesticides now registered with the U.S. Department of Agriculture on a non-residue basis — whether or not subject to a zero tolerance regulation — should be authorized for use for a reasonable period to give time for registration on a "negligible residue" or "permissible residue" basis.

The committee noted that with increased laboratory skill certain pesticides now leave illegal residues — although they were once regarded a complying with zero tolerance registration. It pointed out that, "it is illogical to associate a tolerance value with the ability of chemists to detect smaller and smaller amounts."

The reports suggested that the figure on a "negligible-residue" pesticide should be published, as well as an analytical method for determining whether a food contains an excess residue — both — with concurrence of the Food and Drug Administration. Regulations on "permissible residue" would include a description of analytical methods used for enforcement, and "should not be changed without notice and opportunity for comment by interested parties."

Permits Required GLENN'S FERRY — Bureau of Land Management burning permits may be obtained in the Mountain Home-Gleens Ferry area by calling the Mountain Home BLM Guard Station, it is announced.

Area residents, officials said, must have the permit before burning any ditchbank or stubblefield. The station's telephone number is 587-5043.

PX-1 PAYS OFF! NOW IS THE TIME TO PLAN YOUR PX-1 APPLICATION ON BEANS and many other crops

Here's why: Phosphorus is vital to both the growth and reproduction of every plant. During its reproductive process, any plant can very effectively put to use more phosphorus than its root system can gather... even in phosphorus rich soil.

PX-1 is a scientifically developed chemical solution, designed to supply the "extra" phosphorus needed at the most vital stage of the plant's development. It is applied to the leaves as a spray, hence its designation as a "foliar nutrient." PX-1 is actually at work within the plant in less than one hour after application!

Properly timed, the application of PX-1 results in... increased YIELD... higher QUALITY... greater UNIFORMITY... and it's remarkably inexpensive too!

PX-1 may be combined with weed killers or insecticides.

Revenue Officials Warn Farmers on Gas Refunding

Farmers, including partnerships or corporations, who claim federal gasoline tax refunds for non-highway farm use were warned Thursday by local Internal Revenue officers that certain rules must apply.

U. S. Expecting Spring Wheat Export Increase

WASHINGTON, (AP) — The Agriculture Department says it expects an increase in exports of U.S. spring wheat to Asian markets because of a recent reduction in rail rates from the upper grain plains producing areas to the Pacific Coast.

The reductions in summer rates — June through October — to as much as 15 cents a bushel. Rates on winter traffic will be lowered by an additional 6 cents for some points. The department said that rates had largely prohibited western rail movement of quantities adequate to meet the potential dollar markets in Asia.

The farmers must: (1) Use the pre-addressed federal gasoline tax refund claim forms 2240 mailed all farmers who filed for refunds last year. Blank forms are only for new claimants. (2) Claims are to cover the period July 1, 1964, to June 30, 1965, and cannot be paid unless filed by Sept. 30. (3) Farms use gas purchases must be consolidated into one claim regardless of the number of farms operated or the number of gas suppliers. Additional or amended claims cannot be paid. (4) Oil dealers who help farmers prepare their claims are urged to warn them that purchases for their other farms or from other oil companies must be lumped into one claim. Otherwise the farmer will lose some.

Freeman Hits Opponents of Legislation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman has started to throw heavy punches in the annual battle to enact a farm bill.

Beginning Friday and continuing through the weekend, Freeman singled out opponents to the administration's farm bill and poured on heavy sarcasm. He told George S. Moore, president of the First National City Bank of New York, that the bank's July news letter was "sheer economic nonsense."

He advised Moore's newsletter writers to return to "serious, carefully thought-out articles and get out of 'farm politics.'" He said "Both the bank and the nation will be better off."

Farm bill opponents singled out Friday for a tongue lashing included two dozen or more big milling and baking corporations, the Wheat Users Committee, the American Farm Bureau Federation, the Chamber of Commerce, and the National Association of Manufacturers.

The nub of opposition to the farm bill appears to be the proposal to increase the cost of the certificate program from 75 cents a bushel to $1.25 a bushel. Domestic processors must pay for the certificates, with the money going to wheat farmers. The opponents of the bill claim the increased cost will be a "break tax" and will be passed to the consumer at a rate of one to two cents a loaf of bread.

Hail Damage Tabulated

Damage to crops in this area as a result of hail and rain storms earlier in the week was spotty, a survey by the Times-News showed Thursday afternoon.

At Burley, E. R. Blauer, manager of the Amalgamated Sugar Co. plant, said the Canyon area beet crop was battered by the storms. He added that in certain areas leaves were "severely mauled."

As a result of the storms it is expected that the yield may be reduced as much as a ton per acre.

Minidoka County Agent Vance Smith reported some grainfields flattened in that area by rains. Use of swathers and pick-up reels on combines may be necessary in some instances, he said.

Damage varies from slight to severe in the Golden Valley area near Oakley. No complete estimate of the damage there was available.

IDAHO TOUR SET
BOISE — Two hundred and twenty Louisiana bankers and farmers will tour northern Idaho July 29 as part of a trip that will take them through four Northwest states of Montana, Idaho, Washington and Oregon. Doyle Scott, administrative officer of the Idaho State Soil Conservation Commission, said.

Report Indicates 1964 Farm Output Below Record Crop of Previous Year

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An Agriculture Dept. summary on Monday said farm output in the United States in 1964 declined for the first time in seven years. The total farm output last year was the second largest of record, it was 11 per cent above the 1957-59 average, but one per cent less than in 1963.

Livestock production was of record proportions, but crop production was three per cent less than the peak reached a year earlier.

In a summary of changes in farm production and efficiency, the department said production of livestock and livestock products in 1964 was two per cent greater than in 1963 and 13 per cent above the 1957-59 average.

Dairy products equaled the record set in 1962. Production of meat animals and poultry products registered new highs. Larger production of cattle and calves more than offset declines in hog and sheep production. Record highs were reached in production of eggs, broilers and turkeys.

The 1964 crop production was the second largest of record. Feed grain output was down 12 per cent from 1963 because of a seven per cent slash in acreage harvested and smaller yields per acre.

The department said food grain production in 1964 was up 12 per cent because of increased acreage and higher yields. Oil crop production was unchanged from 1963.

Sugar crops comprised the only food group setting a record in production last year, one per cent above 1963 and 55 per cent above the 1957-59 average.

Of the 10 production regions, record output was achieved last year in the Appalachian, Southeast, Delta and Pacific regions.

The department said record or record-equaling livestock production occurred in each of the regions, but only the Delta and Pacific regions set new highs in crop production.

The department said crop production per acre in 1964 was three per cent less than the 1963 record, but was 16 per cent greater than the 1957-59 average.

Peanuts, rice, tobacco and barley were among the major crops that set new highs for yields over 1963.

Tobacco yields averaged 2,066 pounds per acre more than a ton.

The department said more than 8 million tons of fertilizer nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium were used in 1964, an increase of almost 11 per cent that set new highs for yields over 1963.

Correction

Land in the Black Mesa area near Glens Ferry is not owned by the Griggs and Anderson Farms and the Ore-Ida Foods, Inc., has no connection with the project.

A story which appeared in last Friday's Times-News farm section stated that the project was connected with Ore-Ida Foods, Burley, but this was in error.

A spokesman for the Ore-Ida organization informed the Times-News that a portion of the potatoes grown on the new tract may be contracted to Ore-Ida through normal business channels but that the company has no direct connection with the project.

The land, rather than being owned by Griggs and Anderson, is actually owned by a group of individual desert entrymen, officials pointed out.

WORK FORCE LESS

WASHINGTON — The farm work force in late June included 4,587,000 farm family workers and an estimated 2,523,000 hired workers — totaling eight per cent fewer than in June, 1964. Work week for family workers averaged 46.5 hours and for hired workers 33.4 hours.

Large Supply Of Beef May Lower Prices

By The Associated Press
The outlook for more liberal supplies of beef later this year has become more promising. Cattle feeders sharply expanded beef-raising operations in the second quarter.

Top and round beef roasts will be specials at meat counters in some areas of the country this weekend. One big northeastern chain will price them at 89 cents a pound.

Other specials include smoked hams, swordfish steaks and jumbo shrimp.

The prices of veal chops and fryers have risen since last week.

Turkeys, cheese and eggs are good buys. Fish sticks and pink salmon are plentiful and at budget prices.

Weekend shoppers will generally find good supplies of seasonal fruits and vegetables. In plentiful supply and wearing lower price tags will be tomatoes, corn, beets, cabbage, carrots, celery, cucumbers, lettuce, radishes, squash and beans.

Seasonal peak supplies will provide consumers with a broad choice of fresh fruits. Among the fruits with favorable prices will be blueberries, cantaloupes, grapes, lemons, peaches, plums and watermelons.

ROY J. DURK contemplates his many years of active Grange service as he sits in his home near Kimberly. (Times-News photo)

Area Granger Ends 32-Year Stint Officiating at Various Installations

To long-time members of Magic Valley granges, no installation of grange officials is complete without Roy J. Durk. Route 1, Kimberly, officiating at the ceremony. Durk has installed more officers in local granges than any other person.

Durk's long term of service began in 1926, when he and his wife joined the Russel Lane Grange. Shortly thereafter he became head of that grange. Only four years after his arrival, in 1930, he installed his first fellow officer.

Since then, Durk has installed as many as 15 officials in a single evening, many evenings a year.

Durk recalls that when the granges were being established in Southern Idaho, few members cared to memorize the lengthy and complex grange rituals. Durk, however, thought ritual formulas read from a book could not fit the grange's ceremonial occasions.

He proceeded to memorize the installation ritual for each of the 16 offices of each grange.

Since then, Durk has been the mainstay of grange installations for all of Magic Valley. Often he has travelled as far from his home as Boise where he officiated at state installations.

In order to head an installation ceremony, Durk first had to become a fifth degree granger. Only the sixth and seventh degrees of state and national officers are higher.

"I'm not one of those VIP persons," said Durk. "I just did a lot of memorizing."

In 1932 the Russel Lane Grange moved to Hansen, and became the Hansen Grange. At Hansen, Durk served as overseer. In 1929 he served as master.

In the fall of 1929 Durk moved to the North Side and demitted to Canyonside Grange. After two years at Canyonside he moved to the Appleton district, where he entered the Appleton Grange.

In 1933 Durk moved to Kimberly, where he joined the Kimberly Grange. There he continued to install his usual "one to a dozen officers each year."

While living in Kimberly, Durk added to his activities by becoming master of the Kimberly Grange's degree team.

His wife Grace was also active as the coach of the team.

In 1963 Durk decided his "voice was no longer good enough" to continue administering the officer installations to his satisfaction. Only then did he retire from his 32-year career.

Now, with his retirement, Durk finds the situation much the same as when he found it in the 1930's.

"There are still not enough people willing to learn the rituals," he concluded.

Record Crop Is Reported For Spuds

BOISE (AP)—The biggest potato acreage in history is growing in Idaho this year, the U.S. Department of Agriculture reported today. Whether production will set a record will be indicated for the first time next month.

The department said potatoes are growing on 280,000 acres of Idaho land, 17 per cent more than in 1964 and 15 per cent more than the average in the preceding five years.

The 280,000 is the largest acreage planted to potatoes since record keeping began in 1909.

Plantings in the 10 southwestern Idaho counties total 33,000 acres, compared with 19,000 harvested in 1964 and a five-year average of 11,400 acres. New land development was responsible for the increase.

The first forecast of yield per acre and production will be included in the Aug. 1 reports, the department said. Idaho production in 1964 was 39,515,000 hundredweight, about one-sixth of the nation's total.

Annual Sheep, Cattle Migration to Summer Range Now Under Way

Nearly a million and a half head of cattle and sheep, owned by 5,300 ranchers, will head for their summer ranges on the National Forests of the Intermountain Region this month, according to word received by Max Rees, supervisor of the Sawtooth National Forest from Regional Forester Floyd Iverson, Ogden.

Although unusually heavy snow the past winter will delay entry this year, better than average forage production is expected because of the additional moisture.

"The 1,119,000 sheep and 319,000 cattle that graze the National Forest ranges of the Intermountain Region harvest an important resource from these public properties," Iverson said.

"The weight gains made by these animals while on the national forests are important for livestock operators in the Intermountain West," he said.

Range management plans for proper use of grazing allotments are developed by forest rangers in cooperation with livestock owners involved.

Livestock grazing is planned as part of Forest Service multiple use and management where all resources and uses are coordinated to develop maximum benefits from each area of land.

An increase in forage production and improved watershed conditions have resulted on a number of grazing allotments as a result of improved management and range watershed improvement work.

Range development programs are in progress in other areas where fences, water developments, or revegetation of depleted ranges is needed to improve grazing conditions.

Ranches by seeding to palatable forage grasses has developed greater forage production on many thousands of acres in the region.

Chemical control of undesirable plants, such as sagebrush, has released high quality forage species and thereby greatly increased their production.

On 20 of the grazing allotments in the Intermountain Region where range development programs are in effect, increased use of livestock has been permitted because of improved range conditions.

Revegetation of depleted livestock permittees and forest officers jointly develop each program and carry it to completion.

A total of 301 cooperative agreements between livestock permittees and Forest officers has been completed to improve forage production and enhance watershed conditions.

Four helicopters under contract have been used in completing herbicide spraying programs on 43 individual projects this year containing 25,000 acres. These are located on 17 of the 18 national forests in the Intermountain Region.

"While progress is being made each year on a number of National Forest grazing allotments in the Intermountain Region, there are still many grazing allotments in poor condition," Iverson said.

"Progress can continue only if we, the livestock industry and the Forest Service, work together to see that these public properties are properly used."

Crop Yield in Idaho Climbing

BOISE (AP)—Idaho farmers are growing crops on about 1 per cent more land than was in use last year, the U.S. Department of Agriculture reported Saturday.

Coupled with the expanded acreage, better than average yields and forecast for all field crops except corn for grain, alfalfa hay and hops — not counting potatoes. The first forecast of potato yield will be made next month.

If the yield forecasts prove to be true, Idaho's farm production could set new records for several crops.

In addition to the increase in potato acreage to a new all-time high of 280,000 acres, larger plantings were reported of corn for grain, oats, barley and dry beans. Plantings of wheat, dry peas, sugar beets and hops were reduced, as compared with last year.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds disposed of Warren Spahn in the third inning Thursday and went on to a 5-4 decision over the old lefty's new mates, the San Francisco Giants.

The 44-year-old Spahn who has won more games than any other left-hander, was charged with three runs, three hits, two walks and two strike-outs in the 2-13 innings he worked in his debut with the Giants, but was not involved in the decision.

The Reds forged a 3-2 lead against the veteran, but had to break ties of 3-3 and 4-4. Tony Perez drove in the winner with a bases-loaded grounder in the ninth, tagging the loss on Frank Lmy.

The Giants got Spahn off the back by tying it 3-3 in the fourth on Len Gabrielson's double and a single over a drawn-in infield by Spahn's reliever, Gaylord Perry.

Reds' starter Jim Maloney wild-pitched in a fifth-inning run that made it 4-3, but Perez tied it again in the eighth with his seventh homer.

Ford Pitches Yanks to 3-1 Win Over Sox

NEW YORK (AP) — Home runs by Tommy Tresh and Bob Richardson were all the hitting support Whitey Ford needed Thursday as he pitched the New York Yankees to a 3-1 triumph over the Chicago White Sox.

Ford got an insurance run when Elston Howard singled to score Phil Iniz in the fifth inning, but he didn't need it as he limited the White Sox to two harmless singles over the last four innings in recording his 11th victory of the season.

The veteran left-hander, who has lost eight, allowed seven hits in going the distance in the fourth time this season and the first since July 10, when he walked one and struck out 10, seven in the last three innings.

In Women's Western Set

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Defending champion Barbara Fay White of Shreveport, La., and 18-year-old Jan Ferraris of San Francisco scored one-sided victories Thursday in the quarter-finals of the Women's Western Golf Association championship tournament.

Miss White was only 1-up after nine holes but won four of the next five holes for a 5 and 4 victory over Dorothy Germain of Owensboro, Ky.

Miss Ferraris was a 5 and 4 winner over Peggy Conley of Spokane, Wash., another 18-year-old. It was Miss Ferraris' fourth straight tournament victory over Miss Conley.

Mrs. Lew Gilliam of Whittier, Calif., defeated Sharon Miller of Battle Creek, Mich., 3 and 2. Margaret Jones of Fort Mitchell, Ky., eliminated Arlene Anderson of Minneapolis 3 and 2. Miss Jones faces the defending champion in one semifinal match Friday, and Mrs. Gilliam meets Miss Ferraris in the other match at the Wayzata Country Club.

TELEVISION SCHEDULES

SATURDAY, JULY 24

"Days of '47 Parade," (Special CBS and ABC) — The annual parade commemorating arrival of the Mormon pioneers in the Great Salt Lake Valley on July 24, 1847, is televised live from Salt Lake City.

"Flipper," (Color, 5:30 p.m. NBC) — First of a three-part series. Porter rescues a raft which carries quite a crew — a girl, her injured father, a baby elephant and a chimpanzee. After pulling them from the ocean, he has to put up with the weird collection.

"Secret Agent," (7 p.m. CBS) — Drake masquerades as an ex-convict to penetrate a conspiratorial secret society.

"Miss Universe Beauty Pageant," (Special, 8 p.m. CBS) — The 14th annual contest is telecast live from Miami Beach, Fla., and is climaxed by coronation of Miss Universe, 1965.

BEST SATURDAY NIGHT MOVIES

"Wild Is the Wind," (1957) Anthony Quinn, Anna Magnani, Tony Franciosa and Dolores Hart (7 p.m. KUTV, and KFI) — Earthy, realistic drama. It takes place on a Nevada ranch, but it isn't a western — it's more of a soap opera. A widower marries his late wife's sister, but can't forget his first wife.

"Ivy," (1947) Joan Fontaine and Herbert Marshall (7:30 p.m. KCPX) — Diabolical drama about a ruthless woman and her evil deeds in her attempt to find personal happiness. Joan Fontaine is excellent as the poisonous Ivy.
