

Governors' Meet Delays Potential Rights Conflict

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—The National Governors' Conference sidestepped potential conflict over civil rights today by voting down a move to restore its resolutions-making machinery. GOP Gov. Tim Babcock of Montana, supported by GOP Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, sought to amend the rules to give the conference committee the power to recommend resolutions. Operating under rules which required a three-fourths majority for such action, the conference rejected the motion by a vote of 33 "yes" and 13 "no." This fell two votes short of the 35 which would have been required for approval.

Gov. Smylie Mentioned as GOP Possible

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. Robert E. Smylie of Idaho was mentioned Monday as a possible Republican presidential candidate by Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y.

The New York Republican withdrew from the New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller from the race Sunday opened the door for "newer and younger" people to show their wares.

Others also listed besides Smylie were Sen. Thomas H. Kuch of California and Clifford P. Case of New Jersey; Govs. Mack O. Hatfield of Oregon and Daniel J. Evans of Washington; Charles H. Percy, unsuccessful gubernatorial candidate in Illinois; and Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, the House minority leader.

Hailey Scout Ends 56-Day Bicycle Ride

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Idaho Explorer Scout was greeted by President Johnson and Vice President Hubert Humphrey today as the climax of a bicycle ride from his home state.

Ted McCoy, 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Martindale of Hailey, Idaho, left home June 1. It took him 56 days to make the 2,800-mile cross country trip.

He visited Idaho's senators, Democrat Frank Church and Republican Len Jordan, and they took him to meet the vice president. The latter made a brief telephone call, then turned to the Idaho youth.

"Come on," he said, "the President wants to see you."

McCoy invited both the President and Humphrey to visit Idaho's Sun Valley resort, near his home.

McCoy, 5 feet 11 inches tall and 160 pounds, weighed in at 150 pounds when he started. McCoy pedaled up to the steps of the Capitol. He said he made the trip in keeping with President Johnson's national physical fitness program "and just to see if I could make it all the way."

"It was a wonderful experience, but I'm glad it's over," he added.

He said he left home without a cent. He arrived with several dollars, having worked his way.

Health Warning For Cigarette Packages Signed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson signed today legislation requiring a health hazard warning on cigarette packages.

The new law, which becomes effective next Jan. 1, requires a conspicuous warning on each cigarette.

The White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers announced the signing of the bill which took place without fanfare.

Girls at Scout Roundup Break Camp, Head Home

FARRAGUT, Idaho (AP) — United States and some 40 other nations, had planned to pack their tents early and sleep under the stars.

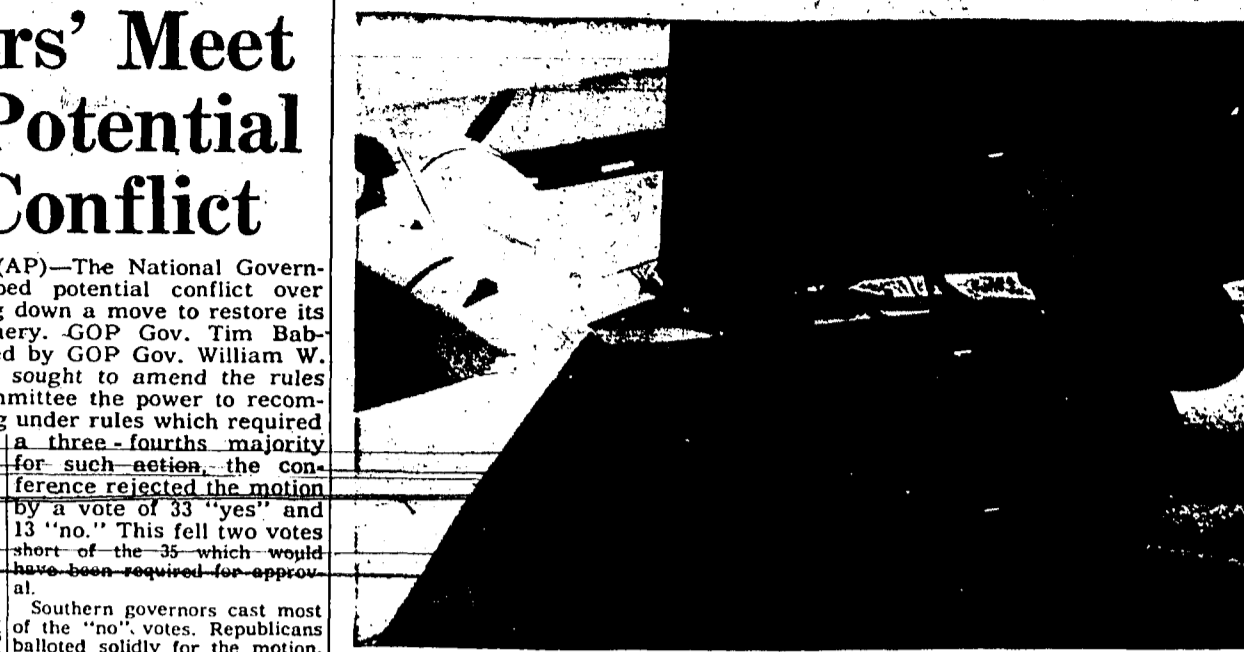

Instead, they left today, with wet tents and suitcases bulging with souvenirs from this former World War II naval training base and gifts received from their counterparts all over the world.

They included a hunk of log-pine cones, a dried-up buffalo skull and a suitcase full of rocks.

All of the girls who arrived July 15 came prepared to continue an old Indian custom — "podlatch" — which requires strangers to exchange presents.

Monday also was the last day to visit the 5,000-acre campsite. Nearly 60,000 came to see the roundup during the ten-day visiting period.

After the storm, with the flag ceremony rained out, farewell was said in hundreds of small girl-type parties.

DAMAGE ESTIMATED at $20,000 was caused to these two planes during a short windstorm with gusts up to 75 miles per hour at Joslin Field early Tuesday morning. The larger plane, a Douglas DC-3, background, jumped its wheel chocks and was blown into the smaller Beechcraft Super 18, about 3:30 a.m. Both aircraft are owned by Reeder Flying Service, Twin Falls. No other planes were reported damaged by the storm. (Times-News photo)

Missile Sites in Viet Nam Are Hit

WASHINGTON (AP)—A flight of 46 Air Force fighter-bombers today knocked out one anti-aircraft missile site and damaged another in North Viet Nam. Three F105 fighter-bombers were shot down, the Pentagon reported, by what was described as "intense conventional groundfire" during the low-level attack on two previously undiscovered surface-to-air missile sites about 40 miles northwest of Hanoi. The two sites, using semi-mobile equipment which could be put in place in as little as 24 hours, are in addition to five sites previously identified as under construction around Hanoi, the North-Vietnamese capital.

The U.S. attack was launched three days after a U.S. plane was shot down by fire from one of the missile sites.

Asst. Secretary of Defense Arthur Sylvester told a news conference that U.S. pilots reported destruction of one of the new sites and damage to the other.

Photographic evaluation of the strike results has not been completed, Sylvester said.

"There were no reports of missiles fired at the attacking planes or of hostile air action," the announcement said.

The strike aircraft were protected by an unspecified number of fighter planes which flew overhead on guard against MiG fighters which apparently did not challenge the attack.

Conservative Party Head Is Selected

LONDON (AP) — Edward Heath was chosen leader of the Conservative party today. His opposition folded after he won a first ballot majority.

Heath headed Reginald Maudling, 150-133, with 15 votes for Enoch Powell in the balloting among 298 Tory members of the House of Commons.

Therese Maudling, former chancellor of the exchequer, withdrew. This left the field clear for Heath.

Heath, 49, has been the party spokesman for economic affairs.

Health Bill Ready for Senate Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Social Security health care bill zipped through the House today and headed for the Senate, its last stop before the White House and signing into law by President Johnson.

The once highly controversial measure was approved by margins of 3 to 1 by both Senate and House earlier this year. This second run through is necessary because their bills varied and a conference committee had to work out a compromise measure.

The House acts first—at the start of business today with discussion limited to an hour. The Senate and President Johnson are expected to follow quickly, probably before the end of the week.

Charges Are Filed Against Heyburn Man

RUPERT — Charges of negligent homicide by a motor vehicle were filed Tuesday by Larry Duff, Mindokka county prosecuting attorney, against Thomas Spry, Heyburn, in the death of Milfon Lee Fernau, 23, Heyburn, last Thursday morning.

Mr. Fernau, a passenger in a 1958 Chevrolet driven by Spry, was killed when the car rammed into the rear of a 1963 Ford operated by Mrs. Bessie Cliff, Burley, shortly after midnight on State Highway 24 south of Rupert. Both cars were traveling north.

There were seven passengers in the Spry car, four of whom were hospitalized. Mrs. Cliff, also injured in the crash, has been dismissed from the hospital as well as the other passengers in the Spry auto.

Attorney Duff explained the charge is an indictable misdemeanor and is under jurisdiction of new legislation regarding the Motor Vehicle Act.

Fires Controlled

BOISE (AP) — Crews brought under control today more than a score of fires which broke out on forest and range land following an electrical storm which swept across southern Idaho Monday night.

The Bureau of Land Management said the largest range fire burned from 50 to 100 acres in an area near Emmett.

Friendly Son

METZ, France (UPI) — The family of Antonio Ambrogio, an Italian worker who lives at nearby Moyevre, may have to cut short their Italian holiday this year.

Ambrogio's five-year-old son Angelo discovered his father's holiday savings of $400 and distributed the bills in mailboxes all over the neighborhood. Today Ambrogio had recovered only half the total amount.

Leftist Head Fails With Greek Strike

ATHENS (AP)—Greece's Leftist General Confederation of Labor tried to take a hand in the nation's political crisis with a general strike today. The government cracked down, and the strike was an almost total failure.

The greater Athens area showed almost no signs of slowdown. Soldiers and police were on the alert throughout the area.

The only visible sign of the strike was an occasional army truck supplementing bus services.

Sen. Brooks Hits Policy In Viet Nam

KETCHUM — Mrs. Mary Brooks, assistant chairman of the Republican National Committee, said Monday that Defense Secretary Robert McNamara's recent trip to Viet Nam was for "discussions not on how to win the war, but on how to avoid losing it this summer."

Mrs. Brooks, a state senator from Blaine County, made a trip from Washington to address a luncheon meeting. The Young Republicans Women's Club of Twin Falls entertained the Republican Women's clubs of Blaine and Twin Falls counties.

"The government has not yet admitted that we are at war and has led us to the threshold of another Korea," Mrs. Brooks said. "It is time we were told of American involvement in a ground war in Asia, a situation which both Gen. Eisenhower and Gen. MacArthur warned against."

"I see no effort being made to tighten our belts so we can devote more resources to national security," Mrs. Brooks said. "In fact President Johnson is embarking on new and expanded welfare and public assistance programs which will skyrocket the budget."

Mrs. Brooks was introduced by Mrs. Ted Scott, past president of the Idaho Republican Federated Women's Clubs. President of the host club is Mrs. Keith Kelly.

Others present at the meeting included Mrs. Oliver Baum, Boise, president of the Idaho Republican Federated Women's Clubs, and Mrs. Madge Anderson, St. Anthony, treasurer of the organization.

The presidents of the Twin Falls County and Blaine County clubs, Mrs. George Detweiler and Mrs. Nevada Strode, were also present.

Housing Measure For $7.5 Billion Awaits Signature

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House sent to President Johnson today a $7.5-billion omnibus housing bill containing a rent subsidy provision for low-income families. The compromise measure was passed Monday by the Senate. It closely follows administration housing recommendations. The bill would authorize creation of new programs and continuance of major existing housing programs for the next four years.

Jerome Petitions To Join District

JEROME—First move toward possible enlargement of the Twin Falls Junior College District was indicated Tuesday with the announcement that Jerome county has petitioned the State Board of Education and College of Southern Idaho to join the district. Thomas Mahan, who heads a Jerome Chamber of Commerce committee spearheading the project, said more than 300 signatures were obtained on the petition which was presented to college officials Friday.

Appointment Of Federal Judge Made

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson announced today that Anthony J. Celebrezze is resigning as secretary of welfare to take a federal judgeship.

John W. Gardner, a Republican and president of the Carnegie Corp., will be named to the Cabinet post.

Johnson announced his fourth Cabinet appointment at a special ceremony in the flower garden outside his office. Celebrezze and Gardner, who was chairman of a special presidential task force on education last year, stood by.

Celebrezze, an Italian immigrant who was a longtime mayor of Cleveland, is being nominated for a vacancy on the 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, which has headquarters in Cincinnati.

Demo Leaders Press for Vote on Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Democratic leaders, confident of victory, pressed for a final vote today on a bill to end the right of states to outlaw union shop contracts.

Forcing the controversial labor measure to the House floor under a procedure used only once before, Democrats showed their strength by winning a key test vote 248 to 171.

That vote restricted debate to the sole issue of whether to repeal Section 14b of the Taft-Hartley Act. Section 14b sanctions state laws banning union shop contracts.

Nineteen states have laws prohibiting such contracts, which require all employees to join the union selected by the majority.

Republicans had wanted to open the whole federal labor act to amendments. These might have included proposals to prohibit the use of union dues for political purposes, outlaw racial discrimination by unions, forbid punishment of a union member for opposing union policy and permit a person to refuse to join a union on religious grounds.

Democrats argued these matters were already covered by federal law.

March, Talks Climax 3-Day Chicago Tour

CHICAGO (AP) — The civil rights anthem "We Shall Overcome" thundered from an estimated 10,000 persons Monday as Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. climaxed his three-day Chicago visit with a march to City Hall.

Whites and Negroes jammed in La Salle Street to hear the integration leader from Atlanta, Ga. The big parade's rear guard never got past State and Madison streets, four blocks from City Hall.

King arranged to fly to Cleveland, Ohio, today to start a two-day round of appearances similar to the more than 48 street rallies, luncheons, marches and church services at which he appeared from Friday night through Monday in Chicago.

The Cleveland visit is the second in a swing of four Northern cities. Philadelphia and Washington will follow Cleveland.

Monday's parade began in Grant Park on the lake shore, where almost daily marches to City Hall have originated since June 10. The purpose of the marches has been to demand ouster of Benjamin C. Willis from his post as schools superintendent and to force Mayor Richard J. Daley to step into a schools situation which marchers claim is plagued by de facto segregation.

Contract Given

WASHINGTON (Special)—The Bureau of Land Management has awarded a contract for $18,000 to a Boise firm, Barton Stoddard, Milhollin and Lupton, to make a survey for road construction in the Deep Creek area.

The study is designed to include improvements in existing roads and new construction. Sen. George Hansen, R. Idaho, notified the Times-News.

Bulletin

An 8-year-old Twin Falls boy was listed in satisfactory condition Tuesday afternoon at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital after swallowing gasoline.

Everett Hurst Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Hurst, 144 Sidney St., was by himself and was first seen by his parents when he came stumbling to his home choking. They shook him by his feet without result and then called an ambulance. He was taken to the emergency room at the hospital.

His brother, David Hurst, said Everett was sipping gasoline from a car.

Plans for this and achievement day were made at the club meeting held at the home of president, Marilyn Manning. Demonstrations were given by Miss Manning, Leanna Coffman, Melinda Broyles and Doris McDonald.

Cooper, Gary Nix, Jeffrey Eason and Bruce Seals.

Judges for the races were Clarence Matthews, Harold Cannon and Raddon Layton, first day; Layton, Willard Eason and Lloyd Martin, second day.

Smart Bears

CLOUDCROFT, N.M. (AP) — Residents thought they had their bear problem licked when they fenced in and locked the village dump where bears gathered at night to eat.

Later, home owners built bear-proof garbage can protectors or wired the cans to give the bears a mild electric shock.

But the bears have learned where the harmless garbage cans are, and help themselves.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

BY ANDREW TULLY
WASHINGTON—The danger inherent in President Johnson's almost adulatory affection for Defense Secretary McNamara is emphasized in the re-telling, in Life magazine, of President Kennedy's soul-searching before the abortive 1961 invasion of Castro's Cuba.
I say re-telling because the story unfolded by an ex-Kennedy aide, Arthur Schlesinger Jr., was told first in a book I published in early 1962—CIA: The Inside Story (William Morrow Co., N.Y.).

Lyndon Johnson, it says here, appears to depend too much on McNamara's thinking in the conduct of the Viet Nam war. In 1961, Kennedy banked too heavily on the advice of the then CIA director, Allen Dulles, and the joint chiefs of staff. Both cases are examples of a President permitting himself to be influenced by men who are committed to a plan of operation and whose opinions thus lack the quality of objectivity.

LONG ODDS — In the Cuban fiasco, both Dulles and the joint chiefs insisted that an invasion by only 1,400 men was a serious threat to a regime with a military force of up to 400,000. They did not suggest that the Castro government would topple the moment the invaders hit the beach in the Bay of Pigs, but they did predict that there would be enough uprisings around the country so that the beachhead could be held and consolidated and a rebel government established on Cuban soil.
Kennedy, as Schlesinger tartly notes, was not enchanted with the Bay of Pigs project, and he weakened the plan by prohibiting American air cover. Even then, however, Dulles and the joint chiefs continued to maintain that the invaders could land successfully and then establish themselves in the Escambray mountains—some 50 difficult miles from the beach.

THE BIG OVERLOOK — Under the circumstances, defeat was almost inevitable. But the adventure might have had a better chance if Allen Dulles and Co. had not snubbed the highly effective anti-Castro underground. This was controlled by one Manolo Ray, a defector from the Castro regime, respected by detached journalists as an honest liberal but avoided by CIA as a "leftist."

Views of Others

RIGHT WORDS, PLACE
One hears a lot these days about demonstrations, teach-ins, and picket lines on the campus. An exception is worth noting: Recently, the valedictorian of Columbia College in New York City, undergraduate school of the university, filed a dissent. Yoram B. Szekeley, who came to America from Israel in 1960, elicited some boos, some cheers, when he said, in part:
"Those political acts (mass demonstrations by Columbia students) were ill-conceived attempts on the part of individual pressure groups among the student body to force the university to undertake a certain course of action commensurate with their private views and inclinations."
"To those in my audience who might be surprised to find a student championing the cause of the Administration, I would point out a simple fact: We students have come to Columbia for a single purpose—to obtain an education for a single purpose—like Columbia consists of a complex of institutions, groups, and individuals, with different, sometimes conflicting, views and purposes. If each of these elements were to pressure the university into acceptance of policies agreeable with its own views, the academic community would have disintegrated in chaos long ago."
"A student ought to know that admission to an institution of higher learning is not an inherent right of his. It is rather a privilege to be grateful for and an honor to take pride in."
"Those who spend their time in rallies and picket lines instead of in Butler Library would do well to remember that they are not only squandering their own opportunity, but also denying it to others who might have used it better."
Such words have needed saying, especially by a student, one among the many who have been libeled by inference by campus and off-campus political frolics by a minority of students. Our guess is that Valedictorian Szekeley speaks for the vast majority of students, whether or not they live up to his high academic ideals. It took guts as well as maturity to say what he did when he did. Both qualities are even more in demand these days than a college diploma.—The Oregonian.

INCREASING DECIBELS
Delegates to the Acoustical Society of America convention in Washington were disturbed by the fact that in endeavoring to beautify America the Great Society has overlooked noise. It is a good point, and we endorse the idea that the United States should promote things to rest the ear as well as things to delight the eye.
The delegates called attention to "the cocktail effect," a pyramiding of sound familiar to all who stay long enough. Criticism also was directed at automobiles, construction equipment, airplanes, kitchen garbage grinders, transistor radios and other features of "the noisy environment." Urban sound at its worst contributes to physical ailments and emotional disturbances, in the opinion of a former society president.
It is good to be reminded of the increasing noise level because the ear can become accustomed to it as well as the eye can become accustomed to ugliness, to the general detriment of the good life. We have noticed on summer evenings in St. Louis the increasing impingement of remote traffic noises on the quiet of our backyard, overlaying the whirring of household air conditioning equipment.
All of this drowns the rasping of the locusts and the other night sounds that used to be pleasantly associated with summer. It is even an excuse for sealing oneself in an air-conditioned room, where the noise of the machine is at least constant and unchallenged... and a further reason for exploring space, where it is still quiet.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch

World Corners

By PHIL NEWSOM
(UPI Foreign News Analyst)

Japan, along with West Germany, has become a symbol of how a defeated nation not only can reverse its policies, but can rise from the ravages of war to unprecedented prosperity.
But today, Japan is in the midst of a recession.
Production in Japan's vaunted camera and electrical appliances industries is down, as it also is in glass, textiles and cement.
Cost-cutting is the order of the day and it ranges from fewer Geisha parties on the expense account to saving pencil butts.
Unemployment, not heretofore a problem, is feared.
All this has led to a period of soul-searching, which is having its effect on domestic Japanese policies and eventually could influence Japanese relations abroad.
Some of the issues are traditional, but under the impact of recession are taking on more emphasis.

Domestically, Premier Eisaku Sato's ruling Liberal-Democratic party felt it in the July 4 elections to Japan's upper house of Parliament where leftists gained nine seats.
Liberal-Democratic losses were attributed to public dissatisfaction with the government's handling of the recession and to widespread disapproval of government support of U. S. policies in Viet Nam.
By retaining more than a third of the upper house seats, it meant that the Socialists and other leftists could continue to block constitutional changes permitting Japan to strengthen her weak defensive position.
The loss of all four seats held by Tokyo constituencies explains why the Liberal-Democrats were "running scared" in elections to the Tokyo Metropolitan Assembly which rules the world's largest city.

Adding to Liberal-Democratic woes was the fact that 17 of its members in the outgoing assembly had been arrested on corruption charges.
Thus, dissatisfaction which has its roots in a domestic recession could mean a swing to the left in international relations.
U. S. business could be affected by a slowdown in Japanese orders for production machinery.
And as the Japanese step up their efforts to find new export markets they can provide stiff competition to American firms not only within the United States but in other markets as well, such as Southeast Asia and South America.

Always fearful of U. S. moves to restrict sale of Japanese goods within the United States, the Japanese are especially so now. Fear that a fisheries dispute could lead to a U. S. boycott of Japanese goods was an important underlying factor in the just-completed cabinet level talks between the two nations in Washington.

Costly and bloody though it is, the war in Viet Nam may be only the certain raiser of a struggle involving all Southeast Asia.
Red China even now may be ready to activate a new front. This may depend upon whether Peking believes the Communists in Viet Nam are close to victory or to a settlement which would mean exclusion of the U. S. presence.
The stage for the new front is being set in Thailand. Two organizations already exist there, the Thailand Patriotic Front and the Thailand Independence Movement. The patriotic front likely would have a role similar to that of the National Front for Liberation of South Viet Nam, formed in 1960 as a political cover for the Viet Cong. The independence movement would be similar to the Viet Cong guerrilla organization.

Leaders of the patriotic front now are in Red China. These include Phaynon Chulanont, described by Peking as a lieutenant colonel; Mon Kon Nanakon, who calls himself "liaison delegate of the Thailand Independence Movement"; and Mrs. Quinim Pholsena. She is not a Thai but the widow of a leftist foreign minister of Laos who was assassinated in 1963.
Mon has been broadcasting to Thailand, issuing violent diatribes against the government of Premier Thanon Kittikachorn and "the U. S. imperialists." He says the war in Viet Nam is "similar to our struggle against the U. S. imperialists."
Peking evidently is financing a big propaganda drive against the Thai government through a clandestine radio called "Voice of Thailand."
This campaign began to gather steam late in 1964, adding to Thailand's troubles in its impoverished northeast provinces, a dust bowl region close to the Communist Pathet Lao area.

The government says Chinese agents infiltrate regularly across the Mekong River. In December, the Communist propaganda announced a cause and if this is the case no preventive measures suggest themselves.
The hemorrhage itself is of no importance as it will clear up in about 10 days but it should prompt you to have a thorough physical checkup to see whether any underlying disease is present and needs treatment.

MARQUIS CHILDS WRITES ON WASHINGTON

BOGOTA, Colombia. — On the outskirts of this capital of nearly 2,000 people is Ciudad Kennedy (Kennedy City), a housing development of some 12,000 units, half of which was financed by the United States. President Kennedy laid the first bricks for the project when he was nearly four years ago and on the day of his assassination the decision was taken to name the project for him.

That was only one manifestation of what has become worldwide, but conspicuously in Latin America, the Kennedy cult. Colombians say that the outpouring of grief here, with crowds weeping in the streets and radio and television stations playing nothing but dirges and requiems, exceeded anything in the United States. As one tribute, so many citizens paid for masses for the repose of the soul of the late president that these memorial masses will be said at least through the year 2000.

The reasons for the Kennedy cult are not hard to find — his youth, his charm, his style, his ardent championship of the Alliance for Progress. Partly, of course, it is a useful gambit for the intervention in the Dominican Republic as contrasted to the Kennedy administration. Needless to say, such an emotional cult — pictures of Kennedy are on sale in most shops — ignores the realities of power that would have confronted a Kennedy administration in Santo Domingo as they confronted the Johnson administration.

But another and perhaps more important reason for the veneration in which Kennedy is held is that for Latin Americans he was the cultivated American with a philosophic and an intellectual outlook. The importance of this can hardly be exaggerated here where a philosophic frame is an essential of life, whether it be Marxism or humanism or some version of national socialism as with the Peronistas in Argentina. At a time when the Latin sincerely wanted to draw closer to the United States in mutual endeavors, Kennedy refused the image of America as crude, materialistic, anti-intellectual.

Now in the aftermath of the death of Adlai Stevenson it is striking how in editorial comment and in private discussion the two are linked together as part of an America that has sadly vanished. Stevenson was held in high esteem for some what the same reasons as Kennedy. His flashing intellect, his humor, his warmth and at the same time the dignity of his manner all made a deep impression not only during his career in the United States but when he traveled in Latin America. An editorial in El Tiempo, the leading newspaper, on Stevenson as a "humanist liberal" put it with characteristic Latin eloquence:

"His death opens a vast circle of loss and desolation in liberal thinking in the world. Now at a time when the ideas he loved and defended with a just and a resounding voice are under attack, this loss becomes irreparable. With Kennedy dead, very few liberals of such fervor and such intellectual magnitude were left. Stevenson was among the first. His death adds to the lonely anguish in the spiritual and the political perspective of his nation and the whole world."
Millions everywhere whom he inspired will feel this loss irreparable as was the loss of Kennedy in the larger and more immediate sphere. Stevenson was proof that money is not alone in guns and power or, for that matter, in votes. It is able and this is too often ignored, in vigor of mind, in force of character, in imagination and vision, in a knowledge of the past that enlightens the present and the future.

There can be no denying that for President Johnson this presents overseas a problem. His image, for lack of a better word, is not in focus. And the impulsive action in the Dominican Republic did not help in Latin America to create a sympathetic or an understanding attitude. One hears little criticism of the President as such. Yes, say, the doubters, perhaps it had to be done. But what of the way it was done?

Many, and particularly Christian Democrats, ask about vice President Hubert Humphrey, who has close ties with Latin America. They suggest that it would be helpful if he were to tour the principal Latin-American countries. This would not be the equivalent of a visit by President Johnson who obviously in view of the rapidly widening Viet Nam conflict, cannot leave Washington. But it could contribute to the strengthening of ties that have been frayed by events of the past three months.

Ciudad Kennedy is not an altogether happy undertaking. The new homeowners complain of a lack of schools, police protection and other services. Letters to the newspapers tell of plumbing that "breaks" down and roofs that leak. A tour of the area lends some credence to the prediction that Ciudad Kennedy is likely to deteriorate into an unplanned slum. Yet, as the optimists insist, the housing units are probably better than most of the residents had before.

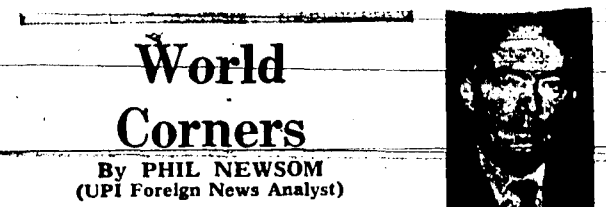

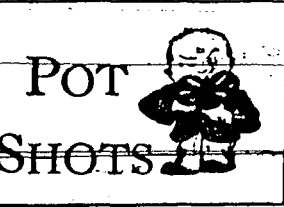

In many windows are fading lithographs of the late president. Under Bogota's lowering ray sky and in an already shabby environment they have a curious look. As sign and symbol the man promises to outlast the experiment.

What he saw pleased him. He

"I just read in the Jacoby column that the jack play correct when you miss king's small," replied poor South.
South had read the column correctly, but he had overlooked the fact that king-ten-small and king-ten and two small are entirely different card combinations. Missing king-ten-small there is no way to lose more than one trick in the suit and declarer can afford the jack lead as a guard against finding all three cards in front of the ace, but when you miss four of the suit, you must lead low guard against finding all four in back of the ace-queen.
Note that a low club lead would have guarded against all and possible divisions of the club suit and guaranteed the contract.

The Doctor Says

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M. D.

Q—What is the cause of nose bleeds in elderly people? What is the best way to stop them?
A—The commonest cause of a spontaneous nosebleed—one not caused by a blow—is high blood pressure. Nosebleeds may also result from trying to dislodge hard dry crusts in the nose. Excessive dryness of the indoor air, especially in winter, is a contributing cause.
The time-honored treatments include having the victim remain quiet in a sitting position, placing an icebag on the back of the neck with the head bent forward or pinching the nose tightly for 10 minutes. If the victim is not in shock, morphine or meperidine may be given. Packing the nose with a cotton wick soaked in adrenalin will stop the bleeding.
Although these methods are usually successful, a stubborn hemorrhage may require that the victim be hospitalized and possibly transfused.
Recently a technique has been devised in which a small balloon is inserted in the nose and an alcohol solution is circulated through it at a temperature of 9 degrees below zero.
This is continued for one hour, then the balloon is left in place for 24 hours. The method is very successful.

Q—My doctor says I have a basal cell epithelioma on my face and he wants to remove it. Will I have to have skin grafting later? What are the chances of a permanent cure?
A—Since this form of cancer is the easiest to recognize early in its course, it usually receives prompt treatment (complete removal) and recurrence is rare. Whether or not a skin graft is required would depend on the size and location of the cancer. If it is large or in a place where the skin is tight (close to the bone) you would be more likely to need a graft.
Q—On several occasions, a blood vessel in my left eyeball has ruptured. It is not painful and has not impaired my sight. What is the cause and what can be done to prevent recurrence?
A—Hemorrhage under the lining membrane of the eyeball is a common occurrence. It may be caused by a blow on the eye or a severe case of pink eye (conjunctivitis). In persons who are past 50 and who have advanced hardening of the arteries, it may follow coughing, sneezing or straining at stool.
It may also occur without any

Q. I have come into an inheritance. I wanted to invest $40,000 of it in a mutual fund. I called a broker who is the son of a dear friend. After discussing our family financial affairs, he did his very best to get me to put $50,000 into a trust fund, which would be managed by a big bank. He also wanted me to cash in $40,000 worth of Series E, U. S. Savings Bonds I have bought over the years — to increase the size of the trust to $100,000. I don't like this idea at all.

Most banks handle individual trusts of only reasonably large size. The bank the broker has in mind might handle trusts of only $100,000 or larger. And bank trust officers pass on the word that E bonds normally would not be taken into a trust.

Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — U.S. businessmen who deal in goods and dollars with other nations are sharply revising their predictions on how this country will fare this year.

Other observers of international trade trends think America's export markets may shrink still further next year. Some blame a slowdown in demand in West Europe, as its big boom levels off and monetary restrictions tighten in its fight against inflation.

Let's say you buy 1,000 shares, at $3 a share. Your total cost (not counting commissions) would be $15,300. And your average cost on your 1,000 shares would be $15.30. You would have to sell at no lower than $15.30 a share, just to break even, after commissions and transfer taxes.

As you should see, "averaging down" is much different from "dollar-averaging." When a stock has gone as badly as that one, it's often wise to sell, realize your loss and get out with what you have left.

School for White Pupils Is Under Way

SELMA, Ala. (AP)—A private school for white pupils unwilling to go to class with Negroes is being established in the city where the current civil rights struggle in Alabama began.

Leaders of a newly formed private school foundation in Selma have promised to start classes in September in a white-columned mansion once occupied by a Confederate Civil War general.

They hope the state will foot the bill with tuition grants. But the foundation president, Robert D. Wilkinson, says, "We're going to have a school whether we get the money or not."

Shortage of Coins Worse, Officer Says

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—An officer of the Federal Reserve Bank says the U. S. coin shortage is worse than ever, and not likely to improve until the new Philadelphia mint is completed two years from now.

Harold E. Hemming, first vice president of the bank's 12th District headquarters here, reckoned Monday that the lack of silver can be traced to the country's growth and prosperity.

"More and more people have more and more money, and they use more and more coins," he said.

The reason for the shortage is simple, he added. The two mints now producing quarters and half dollars in Philadelphia and Denver "are working 24 hours a day, seven days a week...and we're still falling behind."

Instructor Is Hired For Valley

HAZELTON-EDEN—Deanna Ercanbrack has been hired as the girls' physical education instructor at Valley High School, announces Dr. Thomas Uchroback, superintendent of Valley schools.

Miss Ercanbrack replaces Mrs. Jim Teeter, who will teach in the seventh grade at the Hazelton Grade School.

Miss Ercanbrack was graduated from the Provo, Utah, high school where she won many honors in 4-H work and began her college education at Utah State University with a 4-H Union Pacific Scholarship.

She majored in physical education and health and was active in the Women's Intramural Association and held the offices of basketball sports manager and all-campus intramural manager. Explorer Starts Mountain Climb To Find Ark

DOGUBAYAZIT, Turkey (AP)—An American explorer started his fifth assault on Mt. Ararat Monday, determined to find Noah's ark.

John Libl, 69, left this town in eastern Turkey early Monday morning for the 16,946-foot mountain on the Soviet border, leading a 10-man expedition of Turkish guides and helpers.

Libl, from San Francisco, told a newsman he wants to explore three stone corrals near the peak. There he says he hopes to dig out remains of the ark, probably in the shape of petrified wood.

Church Plans Special Events

"Does Religion Guide Your Life?" will be the topic by D. W. Emshoff, circuit supervisor of Jehovah's Witnesses for Idaho Circuit No. 3, at 3 p.m. Sunday at Kingdom Hall, 440 Madison St.

The talk will highlight a special week of activity. Rev. V. Shaw, local presiding minister, reports many members will receive special training in the door-to-door ministry and in the home Bible study activity, all under the direction of Emshoff.

All activities will be held from Tuesday through Sunday and interested persons are welcome.

Party Held

HAZELTON—Masterpoint was played when the Hazelton Duplicate Club met at the Frances Scott home for a special summer party.

Winners were Grant Southworth and Mrs. R. F. Batsch, first; Mr. and Mrs. Lester Saunders, second; Mrs. E. R. Batsch and Mrs. Marion McCann, third; and Mrs. Marguerite Boggs and Mrs. F. Manning, fourth.

CONFERENCE SET
IDAHO FALLS (AP)—Scientists associated with the National Reactor Testing Station in Idaho this week are participating in a special conference on reactor operating experience at Jackson Lake Lodge, Wyo., sponsored by the American Nuclear Society.

Reactor specialists from throughout the nation will gather Wednesday and Thursday at the resort center to report on reactor operating programs from coast to coast.

CONSIDERATION
BOISE (AP)—The Idaho Land Board plans to consider land sale applications, timber land contracts and mineral leases at a meeting today — and may consider the once controversial office space situation as well.

Atty. Gen. Alan Shepard was preparing a subcommittee report on recommendations for allotting Statehouse office space but did not know if it would be ready for deliberation.

DEDICATION
BOISE (UPI)—Idaho's first Youth Corps camp will be dedicated at Cottonwood Aug. 6, acting Gov. William E. Drevlow, acting chief executive in the absence of Gov. Robert E. Smylie, said.

The camp at the site of the former U.S. Air Force radar station.

LEGISLATOR IS ILL
CASCADE (AP)—State Sen. Woodrow W. Bean, D-Valley, of Cascade, was reported in satisfactory condition Tuesday in a Cascade hospital. He is under treatment for a heart ailment.

BRIDGE COLLAPSES
CALDWELL (UPI)—A wooden bridge across the Deer Flat North Canal southwest of Nampa collapsed Monday afternoon under the weight of a housemoving apparatus and house.

RADIO MEET SET
MACK'S INN (UPI)—Amateur radio operators from Idaho, Montana, Utah and Wyoming are scheduled to gather here Aug. 6-8 for a four-state hamfest.

Rites Held for C. G. VanWinkle

Funeral services for Claysbourn G. VanWinkle were conducted Tuesday at Reynolds Funeral Chapel with Rev. Blane Russell officiating.

A duet was sung by Jim and Beverly Rhoades and soloists were Barbara Rhoades and Barbara Okelberry. Accompanist was Beverly Rhoades.

Pallbearers were Robert Lassiter, Earl Wilson, Norman Clough, Harold Olson, Kelley Rutherford and Alfred Burt Cochran.

Concluding services were held in Twin Falls Cemetery.

Skeleton Found

HAIFA, Israel (AP)—Hebrew University archeologists have discovered the skeleton of a child about 3 or 4 who lived some 60,000 years ago in the prehistoric Kabava cave on Mt. Carmel near Haifa. An examination of the child's teeth indicated it may have died of malnutrition because of an inability to chew hard meat, the scientists said.

EXECUTIVE DIES
BOISE (AP)—Edward F. Grider, for nearly 30 years executive secretary of the Idaho Interscholastic Activities Association, died Monday night. He was 67.

Grider retired as secretary of the group, which directs interscholastic competition among Idaho high schools, this year. He also was a member of the faculty of Boise High School for many years.

SPEAKER NAMED
BOISE (UPI)—Idaho Congressman Compton I. White Jr. will be the featured speaker at Coeur d'Alene Aug. 14 at the annual convention of the Idaho Young Democrats Clubs.

APPEALS TAXES
BOISE (AP)—Boise's two largest hotels and department store are among the first 13 businesses to appeal their property tax bill to the State Tax Commission.

The firms — including the Boise Hotel, Owyhee Hotel and Bon-Marche Department store — were among some 65 that appealed their tax assessments to Ada County Commissioners last week and were turned down.

CONTRACT AWARDED
WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Compton I. White, Jr., reported that an $18,000 contract for survey and design of the Deep Creek road southwest of Mountain Home was awarded Tuesday to the Boise architectural firm of Barton, Stodard, Mitchell and Tipton.

BOY DROWNED
POCATELLO, Idaho (AP)—A 13-year-old Pocatello boy drowned Monday in an irrigation canal, apparently while swimming.

The body of Stephen Read, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Read, was recovered from the Highline Canal about 8 p. m. by officers searching with grappling hooks.

ARRESTED
BOISE (UPI)—More than 50 fishermen were arrested during June for fishing without licenses or with improper ones, the Idaho Fish and Game Department said Tuesday.

FIRES FOUGHT
BOISE (AP)—Smoke jumpers and ground crews fought at least 22 forest and range fires Monday night started by electrical storms across Southern Idaho.

Ten of the blazes were near Mountain Home. Six others were in Payette National Forest north of Boise.

INSECT KILLER
SANDPOINT (UPI)—The U.S. Forest Service is raising tiny wasps to kill off the larch casebearer, an insect from the East that is destroying large stands of larch timber in Northern Idaho.

Colonies of the Wasps, or agathis pumila, are being raised here to be released inside casecloths cages placed over entire trees infested by the casebearers.

INQUEST SET
HOMEDALE (UPI)—An inquest is being sought into the shooting death last Thursday night of Jimmy Abels, 22, a Marsing laborer.

Coroner George Wolff said he expected the inquest would be held in about a week.

BOATING SEASON on the Salmon River is reaching its best with the return of the river level to near normal after a long, high runoff. Float trips through the Idaho primitive area from Dagger Falls to the mouth of the river, some 100 miles, are taking place almost daily. Salmon National Forest officials expect a busy season extending well into the fall. Here rubber rafts, the 21-foot size, are lined up along the Salmon River at Cache Bar after coming through the Middle Fork on a seven-day trip. Western Rivers Expeditions, Salt Lake City, is the operator. (Times-News photo)

Record of Ambassadorships Being Held by Careerists

WASHINGTON (AP)—Figures compiled at the State Department indicated today that a record high proportion of U.S. ambassadorships are being held by career diplomats.

The study showed that as of two weeks ago, about 76 percent of the U.S. mission chiefs around the world were careerists and 24 percent were political appointees.

A career diplomat is a government Foreign Service officer. Applicants for the Foreign Service take written and oral examinations. If selected for the service, they start at the lowest classification and later advance to higher ranks. The top classification is an ambassadorship.

The President names all ambassadors — either through selection from the Foreign Service ranks or by political appointment.

The ratio of careerists in the top diplomatic posts climbed after World War II. Under President Harry S. Truman, Dwight D. Eisenhower and John F. Kennedy, the proportion stood at approximately two-thirds career appointees, one-third political.

State Department officials said that while exact percentages vary frequently with the continuing turnover in some 120 ambassadorships, their available records show more careerists hold these coveted posts now than ever before.

The figures as of July 12 listed 113 U.S. mission chief positions around the world of which three were vacant — Hungary, Yemen, Jamaica — and two, Senegal and Gambia, were combined under one man, Ambassador Mercer Cook (noncareer).

Of the 109 incumbents, 83 were rated "government careerist"—80 Foreign Service officers and 3 retired military officers—and 26 were noncareer.

Of 63 picked by Johnson since he took office, 47 were listed as careerists and 16 as noncareer.

A half-dozen ambassadorships to various international organizations were not included in the tabulation. Most of these have been and continue to be occupied mainly by political appointees.

Films Shown to Foothill Lads

MURTAUGH—Donald Stivers, Twin Falls Purina dealer, showed films on fitting and showing cattle and on feed rations at the Friday night meeting of the Foothill Lads and Lassies 4-H club held at the home of Diana and Dennis Tilley.

Jill Allred gave a demonstration on fitting her Angus heifer for showing.

The 4-H blouses were distributed and final plans for Achievement Day at Kimberly Friday were made. Livestock projects will be taken by eight of the club members.

The club has been invited to attend a joint meeting at 2 p.m. Aug. 8 along with the Milnor and Murtaugh Better Feeders and Fitters 4-H Clubs to practice judging livestock at the F. V. Morrison home.

Asthma Formula Prescribed Most By Doctors—Available Now Without Prescription

Stops Attacks in Minutes... Relief Lasts for Hours!
New York, N.Y. (AP)—The asthma formula prescribed more than any other by doctors for their private patients is now available to asthma sufferers without prescription. Medical tests proved this formula stops asthma attacks in minutes and gives hours of freedom from recurrence of painful asthma spasms. This formula is so effective that it is the physicians' leading asthma prescription—so safe when used as directed that now it can be sold without prescription in most states—in tiny tablets called Primatene's. These Primatene Tablets open bronchial tubes, loosen congestion, relieve taut nervous tension. All without painful injections. The secret is—Primatene combines 3 medicines in full prescription strength found most effective in combination for asthma distress. So look forward to sleep at night, and freedom from asthma spasms.

Jerome Hits Fish, Game Commission on Proposed Move of Regional Office

BURLEY — Jerome leveled its siege guns at the Fish and Game Commission, calling on civic elective and club leaders to fire the initial barrage and following up with a strong one-two punch by Gooding County legislators. The commission held the public hearing Monday to allow both sides to present arguments on the proposal to shift the regional Fish and Game Department headquarters from Jerome county to Twin Falls.

Trio Guides Dodgers Over Redlegs 5-4

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two-run homers by Willie Davis and Wes Parker, plus Maury Willis' 6th and 9th stolen bases, carried Los Angeles to a 5-4 victory over Cincinnati Monday night and moved the Dodgers two games ahead of the Reds in the National League race.

The Dodgers scored five runs in the first two innings against Jim Maloney, 11-5, helping veteran left-hander Johnny Podres gain his first victory since May 27.

The Reds scored two eighth-inning runs off reliever Bob Miller before Ron Perranoski turned aside a bases-loaded threat by retiring Tony Perez on a grounder to second.

Groat, White Power Cards Over Giants

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Bill White slammed a two-run homer and Dick Groat doubled in two more Monday, powering the St. Louis Cardinals to a 7-4 victory over the San Francisco Giants.

White ripped his 14th home-run of the season in the second inning after Ken Boyer had reached base on an error, while Groat's double to left provided two more in the sixth.

Boyer had a hand in two other Cardinal runs, driving in Groat with a single in the sixth and scoring on Phil Gagliano's sacrifice fly in the seventh.

Right-hander Bob Gibson got credit for his 12th victory, but needed relief help in the eighth when the Giants rallied for two runs. Don Dennis came on and ended the inning by getting pinch hitter Willie Mays on a fly ball.

the logical conclusion was stuns. Don Weeks, speaking as an individual, said the individuals and business would "severely feel" the move. "We (Northside sportsmen) believe the decision of moving costs, decrying centralizing in metropolitan areas at the economic expense of smaller communities and geographical location.

Three Twin Falls organizations, Chamber of Commerce, City of Twin Falls and Twin Falls Rod and Gun Club spoke for the Southside.

Charles L. Herrison, president of the Jerome Chamber of Commerce, started the hearing by reading a resolution adopted by that group. The resolution encompassed several points (1) operation out of the Jerome site has seemed efficient for many years (2) moving overlook the investment at the Jerome bird farm when land is available for erecting additional facilities if needed; (3) true service of the Fish and Game Department was in its service to an area, not to a city; (4) geographically the present site is better designed to serve the entire district and is closer to those areas most extensively used by sportsmen; and (5) growth trends indicate the present site services an area which has not up completely realized its full development.

L'Herrison presented endorsements of the resolution from Halley and Richfield sportsmen clubs; Pomona and Appleton Granges; and the Wendell Chamber of Commerce. Gooding later endorsed the resolution verbally.

John Steile Jr., a representative of the Jerome Chamber of Commerce, noted the Jerome bird farm was started in 1932 by Northside sportsmen, who bore the cost "for at least two years." He added the land value has grown from $5,000 to $14,000. There are 10,000 square feet of several different buildings and he estimated it would cost $45,000 to replace this with new warehousing.

LeRoy Craigs, Junlor Chamber of Commerce spokesman, described the "plight" of the small town.

"Seven families are not important to Twin Falls, but they would be missed from Jerome," he said. "Decentralization must be stopped. It is to Twin Falls advantage to have strong active communities surrounding it."

Following the pattern of centralization, Craigs said "Why not centralize in Boise, then Washington."

Saying he was not trying to be "cute or funny," Craigs said

Fish and Game matters. He said if the department didn't measure up to the politicians' expectations "dedicated funds or not, the money won't be appropriated."

He added the non-political structure of the commission was "on thin ice, the thinnest I've ever seen it."

Vern Ravenscroft, a representative, paid homage to the integrity of the commission but then charged "two years ago the five point program was presented. Its intent was to grow more game despite increased pressure, use the money for building a reservoir, habitat and buying access. The legislature has been disappointed."

Twin Falls City Commission Chairman Egon Kroil said the city deplored the competition that would take away from one neighbor and give it to another.

William Pyle, Gooding chamber executive secretary, said the Northside communities "had to band together years ago" to fight Twin Falls, which he said was "trying to snare all our industries." He used the state tuberculosis as his example, maintaining Twin Falls tried to take it from Gooding several years ago.

Bill Reynolds, state Wildlife Federation president, Pocatello, tried to defend the commission, noting its financial structure was hamstrung by the legislature, which put several hundred thousands dollars out of salaries and into capital outlay.

The Gooding legislators immediately pounced on him and defended the politicians.

Senator Don Fredrickson noted that the past two legislatures have been hard to deal with on

Homers Spark Twins Over Orioles 8-2

BALTIMORE (AP) — Home runs by Don Mincher and Harmon Killebrew sparked the American League-leading Minnesota Twins to an 8-2 victory over Baltimore Monday night.

The Twins, who moved 4 1/2 games ahead of the second-place Orioles, also scored four unearned runs.

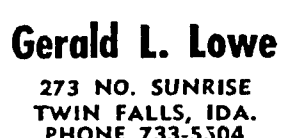

Mincher smacked a three-run homer in the opening inning off Milt Pappas, who entered the game with a 10-3 record and a 1.67 earned run average. Killebrew hit a solo blast in the sixth.

bars

(before they choke your fuel line!)

What does the American FINAL/FILTER really do? Automotive engineers know—they asked for it and American Oil Research developed it to stand between you and trouble. You see, all gasolines pick up tiny impurities in transit and in storage. These impurities, should they get in your gasoline tank, could clog up the fuel line filter and stop you cold. The American FINAL/FILTER bars contaminants right at the pump nozzle. If you use your car on the job (and even if you don't) you stay out of trouble when you "fill 'er up filtered" with American, Regular or American, Super-Premium.

You expect more from American and you get it!

Jordan Asks Fish, Wildlife Unit To Probe Diminishing Salmon Run

By The Associated Press
A thorough investigation by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service of the rapidly diminishing summer salmon run on Idaho's Salmon River was urged Monday by Sen. Len Jordan, R-Idaho. Jordan's request came two days after sports fishermen in the Salmon area voted not to defy the Oregon-Washington-Idaho ban on sport days after salmon fishing in the Columbia and Salmon River drainages. A decision by the Oregon Fish Commission to open the Lower Columbia to commercial salmon fishing precipitated the Idaho dispute and Jordan asked the federal agency to determine what affect it will have on the salmon run.

Halting of Salmon Ban Threats Taken as Victory for Oregon

SALMON, Idaho (AP) — Withdrawal of sports fishermen's threats here to defy the three-state ban on chinook salmon fishing has been interpreted upstream as a victory for commercial fishing in Oregon. "This means the canneries can take what they want," said Joe Williams, president of the Stanley Chamber of Commerce, "and the rest of us get what's left over." Williams said the revolt would have given Idaho communities a united front demanding the same fishing privileges commercial fishing receives.

Angels Rally In Eighth to Tip Sox 6-2

BOSTON (AP) — The Los Angeles Angels erupted for four runs in the eighth inning to rally and defeat the Boston Red Sox 6-2 Monday night behind the six-hit pitching of George Brunet. Clinton, who had struck out in his first three times at bat, tripled to left and Bob Rodgers followed with a tie-breaking single off loser Dave Morehead. Morehead, who had allowed only five hits and had struck out only seven in seven innings, returned to the mound after Rodgers' hit, but then walked Paul Schaal and was replaced by Bob Duliba. Duliba promptly committed two errors on a hunt by Brunet and Rodgers scored. A two-run single by pinch hitter Vic Power off the third Boston pitcher, Arnold Earley, completed the rally. Feller Says W. Spahn Should Quit COOPERSTOWN, N.Y. (AP) — Bobby Feller, the greatest right-handed pitcher of his generation, had some advice for Warren Spahn, the best left-hander of his era. The message consisted of just two words. "Quit now." Feller, here to participate in the induction ceremonies of a pioneer pitcher named James (Pud) Galvin to the Hall of Fame, took some time out to discuss Spahn's persistent struggle to keep pitching in the major leagues at the age of 44.

Sox Tip Cubs in Exhibition Game

CHICAGO (AP) — J. C. Martin's two-run homer highlighted a four-run uprising in the sixth and swept the White Sox to a 7-2 victory over the Cubs in Chicago's annual boys' benefit baseball game before 37,470 Monday night. Juan Pizarro pitched five shutout innings while gaining credit for the victory, and the White Sox announced immediately that they will ask to restore him to active duty Tuesday.

Braves Batter Astros Behind Blasingame

HOUSTON (AP) — Joe Torre whacked three hits including his 19th home run and drove in four runs Monday night as Milwaukee battered Houston 6-0 behind the five-hit pitching of young Wade Blasingame. Torre homered with two on in the first inning after Felipe Alou had opened the game with his 16th homer giving Milwaukee a quick 4-0 lead. That was all Blasingame needed. The 21-year-old left-hander limited the Astros to just five singles, and won his 12th game against seven losses. Torre drove in another run with a triple and added a single, pacing the Braves' eight-hit attack against Bob Bruce and Dave Giusti.

Yanks Down Phils in Hall of Fame Game

COOPERSTOWN, N.Y. (UPI) — The New York Yankees rocketed four homers Monday to defeat the Philadelphia Phillies 7-4, in the 23rd annual baseball Hall of Fame game. A Doubleday Field crowd of 9,850 saw homers by Cleve Boyer, Jake Gibbs, Joe Pepitone and Hector Lopez spark an 11-hit attack off three Phillies pitchers. John Herrstein homered for Philadelphia. A strong wind caused trouble on fly balls. The wind held up at least three other drives that would have been homers.

Sherman Is Rehired by Giants for 10

FAIRFIELD, Conn. (AP) — Allie Sherman was signed to a new 10-year contract Monday as coach of the New York Giants, who nosedived last year to the worst record in their 40 seasons in the National Football League. No salary terms were disclosed, but it was estimated the 42-year-old Sherman will receive $50,000 a year. The Giants won Eastern Division championships their first three seasons under Sherman, but skidded last year to last place with two victories, two ties and 10 defeats.

Casey Stengel Retains Lively Wit, Even While on Stretcher

NEW YORK (UPI) — Trust Casey Stengel to supply a laugh even when they're wheeling him off on a stretcher. The two men bearing the stretcher inadvertently tipped it so that Casey's head suddenly flew up in the air and maybe another 74-year-old being taken to the hospital might have panicked. Not Stengel, though. "How do you like this, boys," pipped up the incredible, gnomish Stengel's manager.

Westrum to Dog 'Casey's Policies'

NEW YORK (UPI) Casey Stengel was being prepared for surgery in the hospital Monday when Westrum, the man named to succeed him as interim manager of the New York Mets, said he would follow "Casey's policies" in running the team.

Clay Is Reluctant To Fight

NEW YORK (AP) — Madison Square Garden virtually has lined up everyone but Cassius Clay for an ambitious doubleheader heavyweight championship card matching Clay and Floyd Patterson and WBA champion Ernie Terrell of Chicago and George Chuvalo of Canada for late October at the Garden. Harry Markson, the Garden's managing director, said Monday that Patterson, Terrell, and Chuvalo have agreed in principle to the twin bill which would then match the two winners for the undisputed world championship within six months. Clay has not yet agreed but Markson was hopeful that the Louisville group handling the champion will get him to sign for a large percentage of the gate and closed-circuit television receipts. Patterson also would get a percentage while Terrell and Chuvalo would get flat guarantees of $40,000 each. Clay was stripped of World Boxing Association recognition as champion when he signed for the return bout with Sonny Liston, the quickie that ended with one controversial punch in the first round at Lewiston, Maine, last May 25. Terrell was named the WBA's champion when he outpointed Eddie Machen at Chicago, Patterson, after beating Chuvalo in New York, refused to meet Terrell. He said he preferred to wait for Clay.

Pirates Edge by Cleveland 4-3

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates beat the Cleveland Indians in a sandlot baseball benefit exhibition Monday night 4-3 on a two-run homer by Willie Stargell in the first inning and two unearned runs in the seventh. Steve Bailey of Lorain, Ohio, a right-hander from the Indians' Reading, Pa., farm club, was the victim of the two unearned runs and was charged with the loss for 2 2/3 innings of work. Stargell's homer came off starter Floyd Weaver, with Robert Clemente on base with a single.
