MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — The National Governors Conference installed GOP Gov. John H. Reed of Maine as its new chairman today in a 22-20 vote that cut across party lines. Republicans had opposed the selection of Reed because of their previous agreements on Govs. John A. Love of Colorado and Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon as their caucus nominees. The GOP got help from southern and some other Democrats in a vote that climaxed a stormy session.

The chairmanship is alternated between the political parties every two years. A conference elected to the executive committee Democratic Govs. John A. Burns of Hawaii, John B. Connally of Texas, Hughes of Iowa and Paul B. Johnson of Mississippi, and Republican Govs. Clifford P. Hansen of Wyoming, William P. Scranton of Pennsylvania and John Volpe of Massachusetts.

Reed's name was not among the two which the Republican Governors' Association had recommended. The GOP state executives had proposed the election either of Gov. John A. Love of Colorado or Gov. Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon.

However, Democratic Gov. John W. King of New Hampshire said the committee voted 3 to 2 for Reed. The recommendation of the group was opposed by Gov. Robert E. Smylie of Idaho, chairman of the Republican Association, and GOP Gov. John A. Volpe of Massachusetts. Republican governors caucused briefly and GOP Gov. Tom Babcock of Montana said they had decided to "play it by ear" on the nomination of Reed. Several colleagues said Reed was not asked in the caucus to withdraw. Democrats, outnumbered by Republicans 33-17, Hatfield said his criticism of President Johnson's course in Viet Nam evidently worked against his choice for the chairmanship.

Two Negroes Arrested for Killing Youth

AMERICUS, Ga. (AP) — A hundred state troopers were dispatched today to this southwest Georgia town after the street slaying of a white youth. Two Negro men were arrested on murder charges in the killing. Gov. Carl E. Sanders ordered the state policemen into Americus and called for a halt to demonstrations which began 10 days ago when four Negro women were arrested for trying to de-integrate a voting line.

Killed by gunfire from a passing car near the scene of a midnight demonstration was Andrew Aultman Whately, 21. About 250 Negroes were staging a vigil at the Sumner County Courthouse at the time of the slaying. First-degree murder charges were brought against two Negroes arrested shortly after the slaying. The two men, Eddie Will Lamar and Charles Lee Hopkins, were ordered held for a grand jury, summoned into session next Monday. Both are in their early 20s.

Iraq to Pay Indemnity for Border Bombing

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — An Iraqi Embassy spokesman says his government will pay indemnity for losses sustained when an Iraqi air force plane bombed and strafed a Turkish border town. The Turkish government planned to lodge a strong protest with the Baghdad government over the attack Wednesday. The Turkish Interior Ministry said one man was killed and 10 other persons wounded when an engine plane strafed Churarcha, in Hakkari Province bordering northern Iraq.

Farragut State Park to Be Site Of 1967 Boy Scout World Jamboree

BOISE (AP) — Gov. Robert E. Smylie announced today he has notified that Farragut State Park in Northern Idaho has been selected site of the 1967 Boy Scout World Jamboree. The biggest planned event in Idaho's history is no longer a hope, said Smylie in a statement released at his Boise office. It's an assured occurrence. And in sharing the tit in pride and pleasure enjoyed by all Idahoans when I was privileged to expand in the state's name has

Buildup of Forces May Be Gradual

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department probably will ask Congress to boost the regular military forces by 300,000 men or more in a gradual buildup through heavier draft calls and recruitment of volunteers. Sources disclosed this today as it became clear President Johnson had chosen a relatively slow course of gearing for the long haul in Viet Nam, rather than a quick buildup using reservists and National Guardsmen. A boost of 300,000 regulars would swell U.S. military strength to about three million men. Much of the increase would be applied to the Army, sources said. Among other things, the Army will get one more division, probably mechanized infantry, to raise its division total to 17. More independent infantry brigades also are planned. An Army division totals about 15,000 men, a brigade about 4,000. Johnson's move increasing the U.S. military commitment in Viet Nam by 50,000 men, to a total of 125,000, falls short of expectations. But it is considered likely further U.S. reinforcements, possibly as many as 50,000 more, may flow to the war zone by the end of the year.

Jordan Asks Federal Aid For Ranch

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Len Jordan, R-Idaho, said Thursday he has written Office of Economic Opportunity Director Sargent Shriver that Idaho's youth ranch near Rupert could improve its program with OEO assistance. Jordan said the 2,560 acre ranch is maintained through contributions and the sale of crops from the land. At present 25 boys are on the ranch but it is planned eventually to make a home for 200, he said. Jordan declared in his letter to Shriver that consideration should be given to individuals and organizations that have been engaged in assisting needy youth under the act. "I do not subscribe to any premise that the federal government is either the first or the best means to help young people who find themselves in need," he said. But, Jordan said the Rupert ranch is training boys "to be useful citizens" and "this worthwhile project could be accelerated if some coordinated program with your agency could be developed."

Shortage of Coins Noted in Valley; Collectors Are Blamed

Coin collectors have been blamed for much of the coin shortage experienced in the Magic Valley area, as well as other regions of the United States. Since the signing of the federal bill to reduce silver in half dollars from 90 to 40 per cent and the removal of silver from dimes and quarters, there has been a notable decrease in the circulation of these coins, according to Twin Falls bankers, merchants and vending machine operators. They said there has been a definite shortage for two weeks, but this past week has indicated a marked decrease in circulation. Many merchants said they have had no more than six half-dollars in their cash registers a day and this shortage has prompted a shortage of quarters. One local banker said he anticipated the quarter shortage will also induce a shortage of dimes in a short time. Local banks haven't received any half-dollars or quarters in the past two weeks, even though they have ordered them. One bank official said he had written the Federal Reserve Bank for some type of relief, but hasn't received a reply. A clerk in a Twin Falls variety store said she thought half-dollars have been as scarce the past two weeks as silver dollars have been for the past six months. Larry Mahler, manager, Western Music Co., said they have had no great problem with change for their vending machines, since they give vending machine operators back the quarters from the machines. He said the quarter situation has been somewhat pinched for the last week, however. Their business has vending machines located throughout Magic Valley. Bankers say the problem isn't a local one, but one that is prevalent throughout Idaho and the Northwest. Although there has been a coin shortage in the Eastern United States for some time, it appears to just have reached Idaho. At present the banks have no answer for it.

Paula Bandy Wins Miss Cassia Title

BURLEY — "My Fair Lady" set the scene for the 1965 Miss Cassia County Pageant Wednesday night at the Burley High School gymnasium and Paula Bandy, 20, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bandy, 1927 Schodde Ave., was selected as the fairest lady of the 11 who competed for the title. Miss Bandy, a brown-haired, brown-eyed college student, took first place in both the evening gown and bathing suit competitive events. A crowd of nearly 1,000 persons witnessed the pageant, sponsored by the Burley Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Reaction to Draft Call Is Varied

NEW YORK (AP) — Some draft-age youths were reluctant, but others responded favorably today to President Johnson's call for a doubling of the draft. "We have been pushed around and we have taken too much from the Communists," one of them said. Some opposition to the military buildup in Viet Nam was evident in a nationwide Associated Press survey. John Russell, 19, a Manhattan office boy, put it this way: "He (Johnson) said he doesn't want to see young people die, but the way to do that is to end the war. You can't stop the war by sending in more soldiers." One of those who didn't relish being drafted, but saw the need for it, was Ron Hansley, 21, a grocery clerk. He got his draft notice last April when he dropped to a part-time student at the University of Washington. "I wouldn't care to be drafted," Hansley said. "I've never looked forward to the service, but I feel it is an obligation. I feel the United States should stay in Viet Nam because no one else seems to be in a position to help or has taken any initiative." John Dwyer, 22, a New York civil engineer, agreed with the President's decision. "It's time we show them (the Communists) the kind of nation we are," he said. Some saw the draft increase as disrupting their schooling plans. "That was the case with Tom Munzig, 19, of Los Angeles, a college sophomore who plans to enter UCLA after two years at a junior college. Tom Mann, 19, of Pacific Palisades, Calif., a sophomore at Santa Monica City College, said, "I'm kissing all my girlfriends goodbye, and I'm trying my best to get into the Air National Guard."

Woman Was Considered For Position

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson said today that he had considered appointing a woman to the vacancy on the Supreme Court to which he named Washington lawyer Abe Fortas. Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, in an earlier address to the group, said government and industry must both do more to be sure that people are hired and promoted just on the basis of merit. The President made his comments before some 400 representatives from 44 state commissions on the status of women. "I'm kissing all my girlfriends goodbye, and I'm trying my best to get into the Air National Guard."

Airborne Unit Lands In Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Paratroopers of the 101st Airborne Division, successors to the World War II heroes of Normandy and Bastogne, came to the war in South Viet Nam today. As 3,700 men of the 101st's First Brigade began landing at Cam Ranh Bay, 180 miles northeast of Saigon, a U.S. spokesman said giant B52 jet bombers of the U.S. Strategic Air Command dumped 500 tons of bombs on suspected Viet Cong positions 35 miles southeast of Saigon.

East German Family Flees Over Wall

BERLIN (UPI) — An East German family of three Thursday made a escape by rope over the wall from the headquarters of the East German government. A man, his wife and nine-year-old son dangled high over the wall and went hand over hand along the rope for 120 yards until they landed in the American sector. The escape was dramatic because it was made from the headquarters building of the East German government, which faces the wall but is 60 feet away from it. The 33-year-old man fastened a nylon rope to a flagpole on the roof of the 60-foot high building and hauled the other end over the wall. It was caught by West Berliners who tied the end to the wreck of a truck 120 yards away near the U.S. Army's Checkpoint Charlie. The paratroopers who landed at Cam Ranh Bay were greeted by the man who commanded their division when it dropped into Normandy to spearhead the invasion of France, Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor. It was one of Taylor's last official acts in Viet Nam. He leaves Saigon Friday, to be replaced by Henry Cabot Lodge. Among the arrivals was Taylor's son Thomas, an intelligence officer with the brigade. The landing came less than 24 hours after President Johnson announced U.S. forces in Viet Nam would be increased from 750,000 to 125,000 men. But a U.S. spokesman said the brigade was part of a six-battalion increase in U.S. forces that had been programmed some weeks ago. He said it was not part of the buildup the President announced Wednesday. The paratroopers came from Oakland, Calif., aboard the troop transport Gen. Le Roy L. Elingo. The brigade commander, Col. James Timothy of New Orleans, La., said his men would deploy initially around Cam Ranh Bay to provide security for 2,500 U.S. Army engineers who are building a port and airstrip. The paratroopers will reinforce 1,080 men of the Army's 12th Division who arrived July 12. On the battlefield, an estimated 192 Viet Cong guerrillas were reported killed in a big government operation launched Wednesday in the Mekong-Delta 100 miles southwest of Saigon.

Labor Behind House-Passed Union Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — AFL-CIO President George Meany says organized labor is working hard to win Senate approval of the House-passed bill which would strike down state laws banning the union shop. The fight to repeal section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act, a major campaign pledge of President Johnson to organized labor, is expected to be longer and tougher in the Senate than the three-day House battle climaxed by a 221-203 vote Wednesday. Repeal of 14B would wipe out laws in 19 states that now forbid union shop contracts. The union shop, under which all employees must join the union, may now legally be provided in labor-management contracts in 31 states. These are the ones that do not specifically outlaw it. "This (the House vote) represents a very important step in bringing Justice to American workers," Meany said. "We're going to work hard."

Strikers at Plant Clash With Police

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A wild midnight melee involving hundreds of strikers, workers and police raged for more than an hour today outside the Harvey Aluminum plant. Four persons were injured in the second straight night of rioting at the factory of the nation's fourth largest aluminum producer, where the United Steelworkers Union has been on strike since April 4. Each night, several hundred strikers massed outside a gate through which workers exit to reach a parking lot. Each night there have been rocks and bottles thrown, fist fights and tires slashed. This morning 65 policemen from Los Angeles and neighboring Torrance were on hand as 400 workers left the plant after working the night shift. A force of strikers estimated by officers at 600 clustered outside the gate. As police escorted workers across a street toward a parking lot, rocks, bricks and bottles began flying. Officers radioed for help and another 100 policemen from suburban Gardena, the California Highway Patrol and the sheriff's office responded. Police, arms linked, formed lines several layers deep and wielding billy clubs — forced strikers back. After 37 hectic minutes, the crowd began breaking up. The episode reflected growing bitterness since 2,000 union members walked out, accusing Harvey of failing to recognize the validity of a representation election conducted by the National Labor Relations Board.

Training Funds Are Available

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $183,000 federal grant to finance a manpower re-training program in Idaho was announced Thursday. Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, said the funds will be made available under the manpower development and training act to the Idaho Employment department and the state Vocational Education department. CRIME DECREASES NEW YORK (AP) — The transit authority says crime on New York's subways has been cut about 60 per cent since April.

Committee Calls for Moratorium

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Republican Policy Committee today called for a moratorium on "all but vital legislative programs until the Vietnamese situation is resolved." "If the Viet Nam situation is serious enough to step up draft calls, to send more troops to Viet Nam, to increase production of war material," the committee said in a statement, "then we should put our house in order here at home to give maximum support to those who fight this war." The committee said it would be only "prudent" to halt the additional big federal spending programs "when it is obvious the war effort will require billions of tax dollars."

Latest Mars Photos Show Craters Similar to Moon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Latest pictures of Mars disclosed that the planet may be pockmarked by up to 10,000 craters, and that it appears to be more like the moon than the earth in its surface features. This was disclosed today by space agency scientists in a report to the White House. The report covered findings on 18 previously unpublished photographs taken by Mariner 4 on its epochal voyage to the planet. The scientist who made the main report said that the findings "will profoundly affect scientific views about the origin of the solar systems," and specifically may shed new light on the history of the earth. Dr. William Leighton of the Jet Propulsion Laboratory, Pasadena, Calif., said the latest released pictures of the red planet reveal 70 craters ranging in diameter from 3 to 75 miles. He said that if the rest of the planet is like the area photographed July 14 by Mariner during a period of 25 minutes, there must be "more than 10,000 craters (on Mars) compared to a mere handful on the earth." Leighton said evidence from the photographs "neither demonstrates nor precludes the possibility of the existence of life" on Mars. But the fact that the photos indicate Mars never had any oceans or significant quantities of water makes the prospect of finding life there "less promising," he said. The scientist took the view that if life does exist on Mars in some primitive form — perhaps bacterial or plant life — Mars "may be the best, perhaps the only, place in the solar system for preserving primitive conditions."

Changes Asked In Prison Laws

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach Thursday called for changes in federal prison laws to put more faith and trust in older convicts who are eligible for parole. He testified before a Senate judiciary subcommittee on legislation to give the Bureau of Prisons authority to exercise flexibility in developing correctional programs for qualified adults as well as youthful offenders. SUGGESTION WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Len Jordan, R-Idaho, suggested today that funds available under the anti-poverty program might be used to aid private agencies caring for underprivileged youth.

Grass Fire Is Threat to Homestead

PAUL — A Northside homestead family discovered Wednesday that they had hidden strength and several unidentified friends.

The C. W. Dickerson family, fatigued after hoeing weeds, returned from the field Wednesday afternoon to find a weed fire burning out of control and threatening their new brick home and other farm buildings. Instead of being able to rest from weeding their crops, the family began fighting the blaze.

The fire had been started by a son, Carl, who was clearing weeds near the barn.

While they were busy fighting the fire, several unidentified people, who had seen the smoke, came to the farm and helped them.

The West End Fire Department at Paul later sent volunteer firemen to the scene and doused the fire around the farm buildings, but by this time it had spread west into Bureau of Land Management area and the BLM crew also was summoned.

About 20 acres around and west of the home were blackened by the fire.

Weather, Temperatures

SYNOPSIS AND AGRICULTURAL SUMMARY

High pressure in the upper levels continues to dominate the western half of the nation and is expected to remain over the western states at least for the next two or three days. Temperatures are near seasonal normals as maximum readings yesterday rose into the 90s in most valleys of Southern Idaho and nighttime temperatures were mostly in the 50s to mid 60s. The highest reported maximum temperature yesterday was 105 at King Hill with the lowest daytime reading 85 degrees at Bear Lake.

An increase in moisture, sufficient to cause cloudiness in the eastern half of Southern Idaho has occurred during the night but in the western valleys of Southern Idaho mostly fair skies still remain. Some widely scattered thundershower activity may occur in southeastern valleys today and as more moisture works up from the south, an increase in thundershower activity will occur in parts of Magic Valley and the southeastern valleys on Friday. In the Southwestern Idaho valleys partly cloudy skies during afternoons and evenings may cause some shower activity in mountain areas but otherwise mostly fair weather will be the rule.

Maximum temperatures Friday are expected to show no significant changes with daytime temperatures again mostly in the 90s. Minimum temperatures tonight will range in the 50s to mid 60s.

A return to showery type weather the next day or two may cause some delays in farm operations in southeastern valleys but delays, if any, should only be temporary Friday. In other valleys of Southern Idaho farm activities such as haying, harvesting, final bean and potato cultivation, summer fallowing and irrigating should continue to make progress the next couple of days.

MAGIC VALLEY—Partly cloudy tonight and Friday with a chance of a few afternoon and evening thundershowers mostly in eastern end of Magic Valley. No important change in temperatures. Highs in 90s, lows 55 to 65, except Camas Prairie highs in 80s, lows in 40s. Outlook for Saturday is fair with little change in temperatures. Temperatures at 8 a.m.: 83 at Jerome, 84 at T.F. Weather Bureau with 86 per cent humidity, 70 at T. F. Entomology Laboratory with 82 per cent humidity, 62 at Wendell and 70 at Fairfield, 67 at Buhl, 65 at Castleford, 62 at Wendell and 70 at King Hill; at noon 83 at T. F. Weather Bureau with 42 per cent humidity. Barometer: 30.20. Soil temperatures: At Twin Falls, four-inch 77, eight-inch 74, 20-inch 70, 36-inch 69; three-inch level: At Buhl, 76; Wendell, 85, and King Hill, 83.

Death Takes Pioneer of Atomic Power

DEL NORTE, Colo. (UPI)—Alvin C. Graves, who helped build the first atomic bomb and directed most nuclear testing for a decade, died early Thursday after a heart attack.

Graves, 55, received a heart attack Wednesday while vacationing with his family near Del Norte. He was taken to a Del Norte hospital, where he died about 12:30 a.m., an Atomic Energy Commission spokesman said.

Graves at his death was head of the test division at the AEC's Los Alamos, N.M., Scientific Laboratory. He was a pioneer in nuclear weaponry and was assigned to Los Alamos when it was in the "hush-hush" stage of bomb development in 1943.

Elmore Fair Booth Plans Are Reported

KING HILL—King Hill Grange members made plans for their booth at the Elmore County Fair, Tuesday night when they met at their hall.

Mrs. Joel Young, home economics chairman, will call a special meeting of her committee, to decide what will be sold at the booth at the fair, Aug. 12-14, at the fairgrounds in Glens Ferry.

Kenneth Jones, master, reported on a letter from state master, Ermil Jerome, requesting that members who have not taken in the sixth degree should take the degree work at the state Grange convention to be held in Gooding, Oct. 28-29. Members will be charged $3 per person to take the degree.

Mrs. Joel Young reported the proceeds from the Fourth of July booth were $38, and thanked all who worked at the booth or helped in any way. She also requested that members who are participating in the pillow, cotton, blouse, candy or bread making contests, should report to her as soon as they can.

Judging on most contests will be done in August and September. A letter was read from the Glens Ferry Cannery, and the Grange voted to contribute $5 to the cannery.

Arthur Greer, Elmore County Pomona master, reported on the Pomona picnic held at Mountain Home. Frank Jones asked the Grange members and the people of the community to be thinking about what is to be done with the King Hill school building and yards, since children all will go to the new Glens Ferry school this year.

Clos Book Store to Move

After more than 50 years at its present location at 121 Main Avenue West, Clos Book Store is moving to 150 Main Avenue South and expanding its merchandizing to include office furniture.

The firm was founded in April, 1912, by Lawrence Clos. After Mr. Clos died in 1948, Edward Purves, then an employe of the store, became president of the firm.

The store is operated as a family corporation, with Purves wife, Jane, as secretary-treasurer, and their son, James, as vice president.

Completely redecorated and remodeled, the former location of Van Engelen's will be the new location for Clos Book Store. The building offers extra space for the office furniture section, something that was not possible at the old location.

The firm expects to have a grand opening in the middle of August.

Jamboree

Some 9,000 girls and about 2,000 advisors attended the Girl Scout encampment, which drew more than 63,000 visitors.

In expressing thanks to the Boy Scouts of America for selecting the Idaho site, Smylie said the event will be an "honor to the state and an enrichment."

"The event is so big that it can well mean for its duration the actual population of Idaho will be 20 per cent greater. The many thousands of scouts, administrative personnel, and visitors who come here offer us our best adventure in neighborliness and an experience of value beyond measure."

The jamboree, the 12th to be held by the scouts, is scheduled for Aug. 1-9, 1967. The date coincides with the 60th anniversary of the first experimental Boy Scout camp held off the English coast.

The number of scouts from the United States is expected to be limited to about 5,000 of the total number. This is in contrast to the 53,000 who attended the Sixth National Jamboree in 1964.

Scout officials said the World Jamboree will provide an opportunity for scouts from the 521 local councils in the U. S. to serve as hosts to scouts from other lands.

As many as 26 languages will be exchanged during the event, along with scouting practices and skills which vary among various nationalities.

The Quadrennial Boy Scout Conference will be held in conjunction with the jamboree.

Oakley College Girl Uses Time to Attend Musicals

BURLEY—Karen Whiteley, Oakley, chose to spend her extra money for tickets to live musical performances rather than buy souvenirs to bring home during her stay in Austria. A junior at BYU, Miss Whiteley studied one semester at the University of Salzburg, Austria, and has just returned to her home at Oakley.

One night the students were guests at a reception held for them at the Mirabelle Palace by the Burgermeister of Salzburg. At the reception, the students of the town and university of Salzburg officials. Sometime later the Burgermeister invited them back to a concert which he arranged especially for the BYU group.

The four major classes taught were political science, history, music and German.

Classes were taught in German by Austrians from the University of Salzburg, with other classes taught in English by BYU teachers who traveled with the students. Classes were in the Red Cross, Fire Department and each hotel. Two singing groups directed by Dr. Halliday, BYU, gave performances throughout the summer in Salzburg and Austria.

Austrian people have a genuine appreciation of good music. Miss Whiteley stated, "My piano teacher, Herr Schuster, is one of hundreds of talented musicians who are virtually unknown except locally."

"Seeing the very place where 'Sound of Music' was filmed was a thrill," she said. It also is interesting to note there is such a thing as an Austrian who can't ski and they are practically experts by the time they reach the age of 7.

One of the eye-opening experiences was at Dachau, states Miss Whiteley. "It gives you a feeling to stand in the quite a room designed for killing hundreds of people at a time and to take pictures of the original documents and orders from head officers telling how many hundreds of people they wanted exterminated or the proper ways to inflict certain punishments."

Today the place is beautified with grass and flowers and marble dedication stones, but there's a feeling about the whole place that not even beautiful grounds can erase," she adds.

One weekend the BYU group was permitted to take a trip across the Iron Curtain to Prague, Czechoslovakia, by bus. In a cold, foggy dawn, all they could see was the barbed-wire and cement fences dotted with guard towers. Everyone on the bus had to get off and stand in the cold while the soldiers searched the bus, then checked passports one by one. At the border a communist guide joined the group who called himself Charlie.

This was May Day weekend and the BYU group was in time for the big parade and celebrations.

"I expected the usual kind of parade with floats, bands and all the excitement," said Miss Whiteley, "but all I could see were thousands of people walking carrying banners and streamers."

The people were dissipated looking, very shabbily dressed, tense and suspicious looking. Their hair was dry, brittle, shaggy and generally unhealthy looking.

Religion is allowed on limited basis, the Oakley girl said, with Catholic and Greek Orthodox the only services allowed. Since the government is so much against the services, people go to spite the leaders.

The government arranges for guided tours through the churches when Mass is in session. The BYU group was taken on such a tour.

On the last day of the week-end a Czech woman and her son were brought on the bus to go sightseeing and were introduced by the wife of one of the group leaders as Mrs. Vesely and her son, George.

Mrs. Vesely told the BYU students she had been caught teaching a group of young girls a religion class and her son was arrested and interrogated for 48

Sunken Wall In Berlin Is Planned

BERLIN (AP)—Refugee soldiers say East Germany's Communist regime is planning a sunken wall around West Berlin that will be less noticeable and more effective.

Such a barrier is already taking shape along one section.

"We have no official confirmation of the plan," said Capt. Heinz Hackbarth of the West Berlin police during a tour of the border Wednesday.

"But according to information we have received from refugee East German soldiers, the Communist regime plans to encircle West Berlin completely with its 'modern border' by 1970. The idea is to remove all barbed wire and the present wall from around West Berlin."

Pointing to a section of the "modern border" already built along the Zehlendorf frontier, Hackbarth said:

"They will put up an ordinary wire fence where the barbed wire — and perhaps the wall — now stand. In the middle of a cleared strip 500 yards wide, they will dig a broad trench, and inside it on the side toward West Berlin will be a cement wall nine feet high and almost vertical.

"No vehicle, including a tank, will be able to get up that wall and no one will be able to climb it without help."

It's too Good

Several years ago, Idaho's legislature established the principle that income from liquor should help finance education. Realistically, the move was taken at a time when the state was moving more and more toward liquor by the drink. Supporters of the move to serve liquor by the drink must have reasoned there would be less opposition if a law specified liquor funds should help education. So a law was designed to funnel such funds toward education in the form of junior colleges.

At the time Idaho had two junior colleges, one at Boise and the other at Coeur d'Alene, and there was no hint of any need for a statewide system of junior colleges. In recent years, it has become obvious Idaho must have more junior colleges. A plan that would have divided the state into six junior college districts was defeated in the last session of Idaho's Legislature. But the Legislature did approve a law that might eventually achieve the same results if allowed to work.

The new law is an extension of the law reserving liquor funds for junior colleges. It specifies counties outside junior college districts must pay $450 each for students they send to junior colleges. The law provides these counties that are not part of junior college districts must set up a junior college fund with half the money they get from liquor funds. If that money isn't enough, then the law specifies they must levy a tax of three mills to get sufficient funds. Here are the provisions that eventually will bring many counties into junior college districts.

It's a good law, but one that faces the threat of change. At present, 41 Idaho counties are located outside junior college districts and must pay tuition for any of their students who decide to attend an Idaho junior college. Considerable money can be involved, depending on the number of students. Residents of 41 counties are faced with the necessity of paying big bills for tuition while having no voice in the operation of the state's three junior colleges. It's just a question of how long 41 counties will tolerate legislation that must appear to them to benefit three counties at the expense of the rest.

Regardless of what happens, it would appear now that liquor money is committed so firmly to education that counties, cities and villages should see the handwriting on the wall. Many, if not all, counties will feel the pinch on the liquor funds they have been getting by the time junior colleges open their doors this fall. Even counties where junior college districts exist automatically lose half of their liquor funds. In Twin Falls County, for example, approval of the junior college district cut in half all present liquor revenue.

Last year, Twin Falls County disbursed $58,794 in liquor funds. If the revenue were to be the same this year, the new junior college district gets half of the total. Of the half remaining, the county keeps half and the rest is divided among cities and villages according to population. Where revenue is being lost, there are two courses of action, namely, reduce expenditures or increase taxes. Perhaps economy-minded citizens will force reduction of expenditures on their local boards and commissions in some cases, although the decision may not be difficult at all.

The big sleeper in the whole situation is a factor that's still under attack, widely misunderstood, but still holding a tremendous potential for tax relief. It's the sales tax, of course. In Twin Falls County, for example, half of the liquor funds now go directly to the new junior college district. On the face of it, the county stands to lose roughly $30,000 in liquor funds, but that's not the way it will work out. Revenues from the sales tax will release more liquor funds which will be allocated by the state to the various counties.

Even the increase in liquor funds for counties doesn't show the whole picture. The sales tax law itself specified that counties can drop three tax levies—state ad valorem, teachers' retirement and social security for the schools. These funds will come now from the sales tax.

It would seem that the only real fault with the sales tax is that perhaps too many citizens will start expecting too much from it. Like the law setting up financing of junior colleges, it might be too good.

Basically, Idaho is getting a good tax structure. Anyone who has thoughts of changing financing for junior colleges or any other phase of the tax picture should keep in mind that something else would have to be substituted. And where are there any substitutes?

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON — Responsible sportsmen, including some folks who occasionally risk pot luck at my table, are taking a beating from their own side in the current congressional dispute over gun control legislation.

While the highly-respected National Rifle Assn. seeks to press its own bill to regulate the purchase and ownership of firearms, the kooks are getting all the publicity with their campaign of scurrilous mail and intimidation of citizens who favor tight control. Thankfully, they are in a minority, but like so many minorities they get attention merely by being outrageous.

The latest victim of these neurotic loudmouths is California Finance Director Hale Champion, who was knapped with his wife and baby daughter by two gunmen several weeks ago. As a result of his experience, Champion has become an advocate of gun control legislation and, consequently, a target of the smear artists.

POISON PEN NOTES — He has been deluged with poisonous mail accusing him of staging a publicity stunt and of being in collusion with the kidnapers. Anonymous phone calls have informed him that he'll get his if he doesn't shut up.

Such intimidation, of course doesn't scare a rational male, but it does give the bonafide sportsman an unmerited bad name. People are human, and they are leery of the credentials of an opposition which seems to include dangerous nuts. Moreover, the campaign against Champion doesn't alter the facts of the amazing story he told a Senate Judiciary subcommittee studying gun legislation.

WALK IN AND BUY — Champion told the subcommittee the gunmen stopped twice during their flight from law officers and bought "high-powered rifles" with no questions asked. One gunman got out of the car at Carson City, Nev., and returned within minutes with a .30-30 lever-action Winchester and a box of shells. Within the next half-hour, the other gunman bought another .30-30. In both cases, no one asked the kidnapers for identification and no records or receipts were kept of the sales.

Even in a country whose frontier-age laws make it easy for any murderer to buy a gun, this is a spectacularly senseless situation. But such transactions happen every day. Recently, a subcommittee consultant who had infiltrated an idiotic right-wing outfit known as the Minutemen bought over-the-counter two mortars, a bazooka, a rifle with a grenade launcher, several hand grenades, and ammunition for all these weapons.

NO BAZOOKAS FOR DEER — The man who wants to shoot deer or a pheasant in season has no need of such weapons, of course. He also has no need to be surreptitious about buying the weapon he needs for his sport: hunting with a gun is not illegal. It is passing strange, then, that so many sportsmen would oppose legislation which would merely attempt to keep lethal firearms out of the hands of kidnapers, hopheads and juvenile delinquents. In doing so, they permit the kooks to make an unenviable common cause with them.

Some kind of gun control legislation will be passed eventually, and it is good to know the NRA now has a bill of its own in the hopper. It indicates sportsmen are willing to sit still and reason with the other side. The NRA bill is strong enough because it depends on local laws relating to the possession of pistols, but it is an acknowledgement that a problem exists. If the kooks can be controlled, we may yet get around to enacting a law making it almost as difficult to buy a gun as it is to buy an automobile.

Views of Others

OUR PER CAPITA TAX
The Commerce Clearing House, a national reporting authority on tax and business law, recently cited statistics showing Americans paid an average of $250 in taxes to state and local governments in 1964. This does not take into account federal taxation.

Significant to Minnesotians is the fact that this state ranks fifth among the 50 states, with a per capita tax for state and local uses of $282. The real picture doesn't become entirely clear, however, until the states with higher taxation than that in Minnesota are listed. New York is number one with $351; California comes second with $349; Nevada third with $315 and Massachusetts fourth with $283. With the single exception of Nevada, the states above Minnesota are those with a great deal of industry, a fact that makes Minnesota's position even more grave than at first might seem to be the case. Minnesota, a non-industrial state, is paying almost as much per capita as Massachusetts, which has become one of the country's industrial leaders. This obviously means that a greater burden is placed upon the individual taxpayer in Minnesota than in Massachusetts, California or New York.

It is abundantly clear, therefore, that Minnesota added to its problem when the 1965 session of the legislature failed to enact tax reform. We need a better tax climate to attract business and industry. We need a broader tax base to alleviate the burden on the individual. Without tax reform, our future will become less bright each year.—Mankato (Minn.) Free Press.

TO SAVE A SPECIES
Efforts to strengthen the United Nations as it now stands must take precedence over proposals to extend its constructive influence into new fields. Yet if the U. N. is ever to sponsor an international conference on the conservation of wildlife, the idea should be brought up frequently. With this in mind, Representative Reuss of Wisconsin has again this year introduced in Congress a resolution calling for United States leadership to that end.

Some 250 species of wildlife are now threatened with extinction, including the orangutan, mountain gorilla, polar bear, giant Panda, pygmy hippo, several species of tiger and rhinoceros and the blue whale. Mr. Reuss proposes joint action by all countries to control international trade in leopard skins, for example to protect that rare creature. New African nations often waste or ignore game.

Existing organizations such as the World Wildlife Fund lack the means to carry out an effective program on so broad a scale. Does that mean that man will not stop at the nearly 200 varieties of animal life he has let slide into extinction? "We diminish ourselves," as Mr. Reuss observed, "when we destroy species that can never be restored." It is to be hoped the U. N. members are already aware of that.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch

Every so often, some reader decides Pot Shots should be told off, but good! And we've caught it down through the years for reasons that include not giving away dogs and cats; all the way through giving dogs and cats.

But the notes that get Pot Shots "right here" are the ones that accuse Pot Shots of lacking nerve to do something or other. These letters are invariably unsigned, which brings them down to the level of the kettle calling the pot black, or something. The best one along this line came a few years ago. At the conclusion of several paragraphs of invective, the writer declared Pot Shots to be "gutless wonder" and then forthrightly signed his name and address.

Unfortunately, a little letter mailed promptly to the name and address was duly returned marked, "Unknown" and "No Such Address."

Sometimes Pot Shots thinks these letters are designed to make Pot Shots fighting mad, but who wants to fight? Those so inclined might try the Army, Marine Corps or Navy. They might help in Viet Nam.

Religion In America

By LOUIS CASSELS
(United Press International)

The World Council of Churches has appealed to its member denominations for $100,000 to underwrite an emergency relief program for war victims in Viet Nam.

The aid will be distributed in North Viet Nam as well as South Viet Nam under the supervision of the East Asian Christian Conference.

Other developments reflecting religious concern over the spreading war in Southeast Asia:

A delegation of five Japanese Christian leaders arrived in the United States to talk to U.S. church officials about ways of securing a peaceful settlement in Viet Nam.

The Clergymen's Emergency Committee for Viet Nam renewed its plea for the United States to withdraw its troops and to rely on diplomacy to keep the Communists from taking over South Viet Nam. The committee, whose 3,000 members include Methodist Bishop John Wesley Ford of Washington, D.C., and Dr. Edwin T. Dahlberg, former president of the National Council of Churches, acknowledged that a "risk" would be involved in this course. But it said the risk would be preferable to "the moral bankruptcy of our present policy" which threatens to precipitate "a far greater conflict, perhaps even on a global and nuclear scale."

The Catholic Association for International Peace supported the use of U.S. armed forces in Viet Nam as long as the Communist Viet Cong continues hostilities. However, the Catholic Association said that it would be "immoral" for U.S. forces to "bomb civilians or seek to match the Viet Cong in terrorist tactics."

Joseph Cardinal Ritter, Catholic archbishop of St. Louis took another step in his campaign to use the church's purchasing power as a weapon against job discrimination.

Some weeks ago, the cardinal notified St. Louis business executives that the millions of dollars which the archdiocese spends annually on construction and procurement contracts will henceforth be channeled to firms which provide equal employment opportunity to Negroes and other minority groups.

More than a thousand St. Louis firms replied with pledges of cooperation.

Now those firms have received another letter from Cardinal Ritter, suggesting 25 "affirmative actions" which an employer can take to avoid discrimination in hiring and employment.

"Discrimination has been found to be practiced unconsciously as well as consciously," said a spokesman for the cardinal, "and studies have shown that affirmative action is required to eliminate it."

The recommended actions include publicizing the firm's equal opportunity policy among present employees, in help-wanted ads, through employment agencies, and in media which circulate to minority groups; reviewing qualifications of minority group employees in menial jobs to see if they can be upgraded to better jobs or admitted to training programs that will prepare them for promotion; eliminating segregated washrooms, cafeterias, smoking areas, drinking fountains, time clocks, pay lines and recreational programs; and designating one executive to be responsible for seeing that equality of opportunity is a fact, not a slogan.

The Doctor Says

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Before the discovery of griseofulvin the treatment of ringworm was far from satisfactory. This drug was the first anti-fungal agent that could be taken by mouth to attack the ringworm fungi from within. Most victims can be greatly improved by griseofulvin but only if they are willing to take the full recommended dosage regularly for at least six months. Another disadvantage is that this drug is not equally effective against all the different fungi that cause ringworm. Furthermore, a small proportion of those who took it reported headaches or stomach upsets.

Last December a new anti-fungal cream for local application, acrisorcin, was introduced. More than 90 per cent of those who used it were rid of their lesions within six weeks. Using it for a longer period appeared to prevent recurrence. Close on the heels of this discovery a new compound called tolnaftate was introduced and it appears to be superior to any preparation tried so far. It is applied locally; it is safe, colorless, odorless and greaseless and therefore will not stain your clothes.

It does not sting or smart when applied and it appears to be effective against all the fungi in the ringworm group including the so-called liver spots (tinea versicolor). It works by killing the fungi rather than through foods.

merely slowing their growth. Skin specialists now believe that if adequate treatment with this drug does not cure your ringworm your lesions are not ringworm. Many persons who could not be cured with griseofulvin have been cured with the new drug. For the best results it must be used under medical supervision. Excessive amounts, especially in moist areas, may impede recovery.

Furthermore if there is a secondary bacterial infection in the lesions this should be cleared up before using the tolnaftate. About the only ringworm test that cannot be cured with this drug are those involving the scalp or nails and these all other fungicides. I—I have a fungus infection around my fingernails. Can I pass it to my family through foods when I fix their meals? What is the best treatment? A—Such antibiotics as griseofulvin and nystatin may help to control certain types of fungus infections around and under the nails but a permanent cure is next to impossible. Since most of the fungi that cause these infections are found throughout our environment the only precautions necessary are cleanliness and keeping the fingernails dry. Exposure to sunlight may be helpful. The organisms are not transmitted through foods.

MARQUIS CHILDS WRITES ON WASHINGTON

CUZCO, PERU — From the magnificently hewn-stone portal of the Inca fortress of Sacsahuaman comes a burst of rock 'n' roll music. It is the revolution of the transistor radio here on the Altiplano at 11,000 feet.

This is a worldwide phenomenon that has been far too little noted: As one observer remarked, not altogether facetiously, it compares with the revolution that came with the introduction of the wheel. For millions of illiterates and semi-illiterates throughout South America and in every underdeveloped part of the globe, the transistor jumps the gap to communicate directly across all barriers.

Moscow beams regular daily broadcasts in the Indian language of Quechua, the dry cold air of the Altiplano. They come through with remarkable clarity and since 95 per cent of the population speaks Quechua, with a minority speaking some Spanish as well, they have a considerable audience.

Americans who have monitored these broadcasts from time to time say they are shrewdly composed to have a strong appeal. Hard-nosed propaganda about the wickedness of the American imperialists in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic is combined with, for example, the report of a recent folklore program in Moscow in which people from various parts of the Soviet Union performed songs and dances in native costumes. This last was calculated to touch the Indians' sense of the value of his own culture which was overrun by the Spanish, beginning in 1533.

As up to 70 per cent of the population of Peru is Indian, most of whom have little or no part in the life of the country, any stirring of resentment is cause for concern.

The government in Lima cancelled the national holiday of Indian Day along with other holidays considered superfluous in a country trying to get moving, but 50,000 Indians observed it with ceremony at Sacsahuaman on June 24, the winter solstice here below the Equator, said to be identical with that of the Incas who worshipped the sun.

The ownership of transistor radios may not be as widespread in the High Sierra as it is elsewhere in South America, if only because the Indians outside the towns live largely in a barter economy. Speaking of the propaganda that pours out of many radio stations in Colombia which go almost entirely unmonitored, President Guillermo Leon Valencia called it "a subtle poison," if not communist propaganda. It is crypto-communist, according to Valencia, appealing to violence and alienation.

One of the plagues of Latin America, where boundaries are inadequately patrolled and with long sea frontiers, is smuggling. The contrabandists do a flourishing business in all of the company's operations.

The St. Louis program is a pilot project which Cardinal Ritter is carrying on in conjunction with the National Catholic Conference for Interracial Justice. A similar program has already been launched in the archdiocese of Detroit, and other Catholic dioceses are expected to follow suit for the near future.

The chatter of the transistor radio is feeding the revolution of rising demands, whether it be one straight socialist propaganda or by commercials that hold the hope of possessing this world's gaudy goods on the installment plan.

Truck, Hay Are Burned At Fairfield

FAIRFIELD—A large tractor and trailer loaded with 18 tons of hay bound for Jerome was destroyed by fire Tuesday at the foot of Johnson Hill on State Highway 46 south of Fairfield. The truck was driven by John Novis who was treated by a local physician for burns on his arms and face. It was owned by Novis Brothers truckers and was valued at about $3,500 and was insured. Novis stated that the fire started in the cab under the seat. He had just filled his fuel tanks and thought it must have spilled over on the hot muffler as he started up the incline. He tried to put it out with his extinguisher. He asked passing motorists to notify the Fairfield fire department but they evidently failed to do so, as the entire rig was on fire when they were called around 10 a.m. Two county trucks went to the scene and stood by until mid-afternoon. A state highway water truck also assisted.

Traffic on the Gooding-Fairfield highway was halted for about two hours by the blaze. A portion of the roadway was damaged by the fire.

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—A convicted burglar from California has filed a complaint against Salt Lake County, claiming he is being treated like a prisoner of war in its jail. The writ says a deputy struck him on July 8 and that he is in the same state of health as "prisoner of war in a concentration camp." His writ asks that he be restored to the same level as other prisoners. He is in jail awaiting the outcome of his appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court regarding his conviction for burglaries last year of the Elsinore and Centerfield post offices.

Reno Club to Start Using Chrome Slugs

RENO, Nev. (AP)—As Harold Smith Jr. says, "there's no substitute for money." But two of Nevada's biggest gambling casinos are ready to give it a whirl anyway.

Harold's Club will begin using chrome-plated tokens in silver dollar slot machines, probably next week. Smith, son of the club's founder, says:

Neighboring Harrah's Club has its own gold-colored tokens ready to go, even though it still has a few silver dollars left. Meanwhile, Edward A. Olsen, chairman of the Nevada Gaming Control Board, was conferring with U.S. treasury officials in Washington to make sure use of the tokens would not violate federal law.

Silver dollars have virtually disappeared from Nevada casinos since the great run on cartwheels in the spring of 1964 by collectors and speculators.

Meet Slated To Discuss Bridge Plan

BUHL—A joint meeting of the state highway department personnel, Twin Falls and Gooding county highway districts, and Twin Falls county commissioners will be held 11:30 a.m. Aug. 11 at the Clear Lakes Bridge north of Buhl.

Purpose of the meeting is to survey the situation and to see if any suggestions or any possible solution can be arrived at concerning the construction of a new bridge across Snake River in that area.

The forthcoming meeting date was announced by Robert Erkins during the Buhl Chamber of Commerce meeting this week. Erkins also noted those attending the meeting will be guests at a luncheon to be served at the Snake River Trout Ranch.

All members of the local Chamber are invited to attend the luncheon. Because of the special event the Buhl Chamber voted to cancel the Aug. 9 meet.

Mr. and Mrs. William T. Ford, Baldwin, Kan., were guests of the local chamber as part of the "Welcome tourist program." It was noted the Fords were traveling through Buhl en route to visit relatives in Roseburg, Ore., as part of their vacation trip.

Ford, speaking briefly to the group, pointed out Baldwin, a city of 1,700, lies approximately 50 miles west of Kansas City. It is a farming, livestock and dairy community. Wheat, corn and milk are the principal crops grown, he asserted.

At the conclusion of the luncheon the guests were taken on a tour of scenic points of interest in the Buhl area.

Excavations in Utah Reveal Ancient Tribe of Indians

PLAIN CITY, Utah (AP)—Archeological excavations three miles northwest of here have revealed the remains of an ancient tribe of Indians who possibly hunted wild game and farmed the soil about 1,000 years ago.

The scientific excavations are under the direction of the University of Utah as part of a program in effect since 1948 to seek archeological evidence to uncover ancient history of the state.

C. Melvin Aikens, an anthropology instructor at the university, is directing the work here, specifically known as the "Injun Creek" project. "Injun Creek" now runs through what was once a tribal village.

Recently the workers discovered skeletal remains of a human who Aikens estimated lived about 1,000 years ago. The ancient person "was definitely of Indian origin," Aikens said. The director added that as yet studies have not determined his tribe. The skeleton was that of a male adult about 5-foot 8-inches in height, he added.

Aikens believes the person possibly died from an act of violence, perhaps during a tribal war. The skeleton was found under about four inches of earth in a distorted position — legs crossed unevenly and the hands underneath the knees.

There were indications of charcoal above and beneath the skeleton, Aikens said. The small archeological team of 12, mostly University of Utah students, uncovered other evidence of an ancient village such as the remains of dwelling places and a number of artifacts. Among the artifacts were two small figurines — with possible religious significance — broken pottery, needle-type awls probably used for basketry or leather work, a corn grinding stone and slate knives.

"In spite of the fact that the site is so nondescript, the area may prove to be very significant to the reconstruction of the history of the area," Aikens said.

Assisting Aikens is H. Gordon Havenor, Ogden, recently appointed Weber County Archeological coordinator. The Weber county commissioners executed an option for 720 acres of land for the excavations. A $15,000 grant by the National Science Foundation is financing this specific project. Excavation findings indicate that dwelling places of the tribe were circular, about 15-foot in diameter and six feet high. The walls were made of vertically placed poles plastered with an adobe type clay. Holes were apparently dug within the dwelling-places for poles to support the roofs.

Further evidence indicates that the ancient tribe members were farmer-hunters. Aikens believes they grew corn, beans, and squash. He added that the nearby stream and a high level water table provided near-ideal farming conditions. The remains of game animals such as deer and possibly buffalo were found. Mountains to the east and the lake to the west would have provided ample waterfowl and game animals, Aikens pointed out. He theorized that the tribe migrated from the northern plains or possibly the Southwestern section of what is now the United States.

Space Race Evident in New Fall Hats

NEW YORK (AP) — You can almost tell what woman has in her head by what she puts on it. The fall hat preview, presented for fashion writers by the Millinery Institute, indicated as much.

Apparently today's hat-wearing woman is thinking about youthfulness, the White House Texans, the space race, James Bond, and romance, or anyway her designer is.

These were the messages the models got across Saturday as they bounced in and out of the dressing room wearing toppers by America's topnotch milliners.

Once women over 20 clucked at kids in curlers and head scarves, and the hat-making industry despaired of their mounds of matted hair, a style that ruled out millinery.

Now females on both sides of 20 find it chic to wear head scarves, as well as shower-cap shaped berets and snoods under which any number of curlers could hide if curly hair were fashionable — except that it isn't anymore.

With the new crocheted caps borrowed from the Mods in England, the helmets swiped from the astronauts, hoods and turbans, women do not show any hair.

New fall hats — said to be "switched on" or "with it," or "all boss," in terms of the youth worshippers — are fur helmets, exaggerated stocking caps, boppers, and Argyle caps to match equally gaudy leg coverings.

President Johnson's ten-gallon hats, decorated up a bit with sequins and feathers, or with head scarves underneath, are real fashion vote getters.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a full-length gown of lace and satin. The fitted lace bodice featured a scalloped neckline and elbow-length sleeves. The full skirt was accented with a chapel train inset with lace.

Her fingertip veil of illusion was held by a circlet of lace trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet centered with a white orchid and surrounded by white rosebuds and stephanotis accented by a white bow and streamers.

Bridal attendants were Marilyn Jane Elliott, sister of the bride, and Karen Hoffbuh, junior bridesmaid was Laura Elliott, sister of the bride.

Flower girl was Kimberly Baugh. Ringbearer was Charles Elliott, brother of the bride. Steve Nugent, Pocatello, was best man.

ganist and accompanied Al Thaxton, soloist.

A reception was held following the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents. The home was decorated with baskets of white gladioli and blue chrysanthemums.

The bride's table was covered with an off white cloth from Spain, borrowed from Mrs. Palmer Saterstrom, and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake. The cake was decorated in light blue roses and topped with three light blue bells and net.

Refreshments were served by Karen Hoffbuh, Susan Cross and Mrs. Saterstrom. Guests were seated at quartet tables covered with white cloths and centered with arrangements of blue and white flowers.

Guests were registered by Mrs. James Jones, Pocatello. Gifts were arranged by Dorothy Elliott, San Francisco, aunt of the bride.

Janvin Uses Slim Design

PARIS (AP)—Jules Grahay's silhouette for Jeanne Lanvin is as thin as a cigarette. There is no bulk.

Close-bodied coats shown in the Lanvin collection met at center front. Loops from throat to breastbone hooked them to buttons on the dress beneath.

Today's fall showing of the famed Parisian dressmaker featured high rings of fluffy fur circling the throat. Hats were high, back-jutting variations on the wrapped bandanna.

Recognizing the possibility that not everyone will want tunics coated buttoned tight over their breastbone, Grahay also designed redingotes with a tricky cut: side panels instead of seams, cut in one with a deep hem border.

The World Wide Guild of the American Baptist Convention was organized in September, 1915.

A skit, written by Mrs. Urie, depicting guild of earlier days, was presented. Former members participating were Mrs. Margaret Melton, Mrs. Lucile Lookingbill, Mrs. Charlene Schweissing, Mrs. Laura Johnson and Mrs. Shirley Patterson. Each was presented a white rose.

New members, Carla Hoag, Charlotte Melton and Phyllis Petersen, were presented white rosebud corsages. Three generations of guild members were represented by Janet Patterson, her mother, Mrs. Shirley Patterson, and her grandmother, Mrs. Alice Patterson.

Makeup for Men Is Predicted, Writer Reports

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Women's fashion personality Lilly Dache predicts that men will use makeup on their faces for the same reasons that women do — "to look better and feel better."

But the men's fashion show that demonstrated new fall styles to the visiting press did not go quite that far.

The program by the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear, sponsored by Du Pont, was a part of the New York couture group's week-long, semi-annual style preview.

Miss Dache based her prediction Wednesday on the sudden growth of the men's Cologne business and on men's slowly dissolving resistance to the use of hairpieces.

But the time is not here yet. The virile gentlemen who recently strode the runway — some with pipes, and some with Jerry Lewis haircuts — indicated that the time is ripe, though, for at least these new wardrobe ideas:

— Knickers. Men are already wearing them on the golf course — they say — with wild socks and wild shirts and sweaters to match. Look for them on the ski slopes, made of corduroy and worn with quilted parkas.

— Fur-lined overcoats. Lightweight, rainproof, cottons, equipped with plenty of pockets for currency, passports and charge cards. They are three-quarter length and raccoon-lined.

— Chief petty officer's shirts. Once a favorite military surplus store purchase, authentic copies in Navy wool are expected to be prominent in sports shirts. With it the model wore stretch wheat-colored jeans, knee boots, and an Eisenhower hat.

— Buckskin shirts. Worn with matching socks — a must for fall — LBJ hats, and jeans, they are a part of the so-called Texas trend.

— Host costumes to complement hostess costumes. Not quite formal, these consist of shawl collar jackets, cuffed flannel slacks with a ribbon belt to match satin collars, open shirts filled in at the neck with knotted silk neckerchiefs instead of ascots, and black patent pumps.

Trudy Read, Watson Wed in LDS Ceremony

BUHL — The Buhl LDS Chapel was the setting for the July 16 double ring wedding rites uniting in marriage Trudy Read, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Read, Castleford, and Danny Watson, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Watson, Buhl.

The evening nuptials were solemnized by Delbert Alexander, branch president of the Castleford LDS Church. Fan shaped pedestal baskets of pink Azalea carnations and white gladioli and branched candelabra with lighted white tapers formed the background decor for the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, recited vows in a sheath styled gown of white chiffon over taffeta, enhanced with a modified scooped neckline and short sleeves. Lace panel accents highlighted the bodice and floor-length skirt.

White organza roses embellished with rhinestones and silver leaf trim released her bouffant shoulder-length veil of illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and pink roses.

Jeannie Grimm was maid of honor. Erwin Bartlett, Buhl, was best man. Ushers were Roger Read, Castleford, and Rodney McCoy, Buhl.

Sharla Day, Twin Falls, played the traditional wedding music and served as soloist.

Following the ceremony, the newlyweds greeted guests at a reception in the church Cultural Hall. The bride's table featured a white flounce over pink Azalea pink carnation nosegays with fancy shower ribbon streamers held the scalloped edges of the white slipper satin tablecloth.

The table was centered with a four-tiered wedding cake with a heart-shaped base adorned with swans, pink roses with silver leaf trim, and topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom against an array of lines of the Valley. Crystal candelabra accented with pink tapers and pink Azalea carnation trim flanked the cake.

Individual guest tables were highlighted with silver and white tablecloths and centered with Azalea pink Topon trees.

Mrs. Don Watson cut and served the wedding cake. Mrs. Kenneth Greene, Twin Falls, presided at the punch bowl. Priscilla Hoskin and Judy Juker were in charge of the gift table. Carol Glender registered guests.

The bride was feted with a pre-nuptial lingerie shower hosted by Sharla Day, Twin Falls.

Pucci Favors Space Look

FLORENCE, Italy (AP) — Emilio Pucci launched what he called "The Gemini IV Look" in high fashion.

The collection, presented as two days of fall and winter fashion showings ended in Florence, was inspired by the walk in space last month by Lt. Col. Edward H. White II.

But without the bubble-domed helmet that went with everything, the Pucci clothes could keep both feet on the ground.

Tubular ring collars were about the only space-suit derived detail on reversible coats and jackets with supple, fluid fit. Clothes were fairly short and some were worn with boots.

Light wool dresses with waists mostly high.

On the final program in Florence's Pitti Palace Fabiani also showed his couture collection. Standouts in it were square-shouldered silhouettes fitted close at the buston and swinging loose from there. Printed coats swung out from high on the side or back. Sleeveless empire dresses were smooth cut, often had wrapover skirts.

75-Passenger Hydrofoil Ship May Start New Competition

BALTIMORE, Md. (UPI)—The HS Victoria, a 75-passenger hydrofoil vessel, was launched here in what could be the beginning of new competition for both shipping and airline concerns.

The hydrofoil, constructed by the Maryland Shipbuilding and Drydock Co., derives its name from underwater "wings" which work in the water the same as an airplane's wings or airfoils operate in the air.

In the flying position the hull generated by forward movement of the foils through the water raises the ship's hull completely clear of the water.

In the flying position the hull is free of frictional drag from the water, opening the way to speeds otherwise unattainable. The craft leaves little wake as it skims along the water's surface, a further advantage in restricted river and harbor areas.

"The HS Victoria will operate like a short range airline with passengers being able to make reservations and leave and arrive on a fixed schedule year-round," said William I. Niedermair, President of Northwest Hydrofoil Lines of Seattle, Wash.

He said the new vessel could in the future affect transportation in every major port city in the United States and a large segment of the marine industry.

Following sea trials in the Chesapeake Bay area here, the high speed Victoria, propelled by two General Electric gas turbines like those used to power many of today's commercial and military helicopters, will begin passenger service this fall between Seattle, Wash., and Victoria, B. C.

More Students

REXBURG, Idaho (AP)—John L. Clark, president of Ricks College, said today the school expects to enroll 2,200 students this fall. This would be approximately a 20 per cent increase over last year's enrollment.

Clark said an expanded building program is underway. He said the college is making plans for an enrollment of 5,000 in the near future.

Johnson's Decision on Reserves Reported

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson's decision to avoid calling reservists to fight in Vietnam was influenced, in part, by Tuesday's attack on two mobile missile sites near Hanoi by American fighter bombers.

Johnson felt that direct and quick retaliation against the missile launchers that had bagged a U.S. jet bomber Sunday was sufficient proof of what he terms the nation's "no retreat" policy in Vietnam.

The launchers would be weighed most seriously in the Communist camp because, so far as is known, the United States struck without knowing or caring whether the installations were manned by Russians, Communist Chinese or North Vietnamese.

If this is correct, and high administration officials said Wednesday night the missile base episode was a turning point in Johnson's deliberations, the end result also coincided neatly with the President's personal inclinations. Johnson has seemed anxious to avoid, to the degree possible, any direct provocation of the Communist camp. And, officials said, he was reluctant to order a mobilization that might have put the country on a semiwar footing and made any peace talks — the ultimate aim — more difficult.

One of the mobile missile bases was reported destroyed and the second damaged. Three American fighter bombers were listed by the Pentagon as shot down by the pentagon anti-aircraft fire during the 46-plane attack.

After weighing all factors in a solid week of conferences, Johnson limited his Viet Nam policy actions — announced at a news conference Wednesday — to a doubling of the monthly draft call to 35,000 men and quick increase of 50,000 in the size of the American force in South Viet Nam. Johnson also said he would ask Congress this year for additional money to help finance expanded military commitments. Officials said the amount would run between $1.5 billion and $2 billion. He said more troops would be dispatched even after the projected level of 125,000 is reached. Officials said Johnson's latest move will have as much immediate impact as any broader mobilization. For one thing, they said, there would be a considerable time lag before any reservists could reach Viet Nam, whereas some seasoned regular troops can move in almost at once.

2 Ordinances Adopted by Buhl Council

BUHL—Two ordinances, one dealing with burning garbage and the other relative to the liquor-by-the-drink issue, were adopted when the Buhl city council met in special session Tuesday night.

One ordinance makes it unlawful to burn garbage such as kitchen refuse, animal and vegetable refuse, offal from fish, meat and vegetable markets and all organic substances of every kind. Violators of the ordinance will be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be subject to a fine.

An official canvass of the liquor-by-the-drink vote was made, showing 312 yes and 183 no votes cast. The ordinance was then adopted authorizing the sale of liquor by the drink.

It was pointed out by city officials upon publication of the ordinance it will officially become a law and then applications will be accepted for licenses. Only three liquor licenses can be issued in the city of Buhl.

Councilmen granted permission to the local Mountain States Telephone Co. to bury telephone cable across Main Street at the intersection of Twelfth Avenue South and to reinforce a buried cable section located in the seventh and eighth Avenue alleyways on Maple Street.

The city treasurer's quarterly report was reviewed and adopted. The report showed cash on hand March 31 at $121,445.08; receipts, $56,574.22; disbursed, $31,415.04, with cash on hand for the quarter ending June 30, $96,504.26.

Quintuplets Are Born In Sweden

FALUN, Sweden (AP) — A Swedish woman reported to have been given hormones that can cause multiple births had quintuplets today, but two of them died shortly before noon.

A statement from Falun General Hospital said two boys died. Two girls and a boy, still alive, are in oxygen tents.

The hospital, withholding the woman's name, said the quintuplets were born 11 weeks prematurely and added that she had had children previously but had become infertile.

They were the second set of quintuplets to be born this week. Four boys and a girl were born Tuesday to Mrs. Samuel Lawson, who received the same hormone treatment, in Auckland, New Zealand.

Three other sets of quintuplets are known to be living.

Approval of Grant Noted For Lewiston

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than $50,000 has been approved for a Lewiston, Idaho, planning project by the federal Urban Renewal and Community Facilities Administration.

The money, $56,038, was approved as a grant to the Idaho Department of Commerce and Development to aid Lewiston in its program of planning for urban and urbanizing areas.

The authorization, announced Wednesday, also included a grant of $17,194 to aid the Eugene-Springfield, Ore., metropolitan area in planning its growth and development.

Objects Are Sighted Over Washington

SPOKANE (AP) — Two unidentified flying objects were sighted over Spokane Wednesday night, police authorities here reported.

The objects, seen in both the southeast and southwest parts of the city, were said to be bluish-white with a slight reddish tinge and oblong in shape.

A sheriff's officer who sighted the objects said he thought they were weather balloons, but the U.S. Weather Bureau here said it had no balloons in the air and thought it highly unlikely any might have drifted in from other areas.

The reports also indicated the UFO's had lights, but the Weather Bureau said weather balloons do not have lights.

A spokesman for Fairchild Air Force Base said "a light in the sky" was observed by base per-

MRS. LLOYD (DOROTHY) PERSONS and her son, Edward Thompson, are still watching the space to be occupied by their new IGA Foodliner at Kimberly. The 76 by 80 foot Cuckler structure has been lost in transit for the past two weeks. Many Kimberly residents have been curious about the sign and one person was heard to remark, "I wouldn't go near that place—it's probably connected with 'Candid Camera.'" (Times-News photo) sonnel; but denied reports that any fighter planes were dispatched from the base to investigate. He said an Air Force investigation was being undertaken, but no report would be made for several days.

Barry Goldwater Is Recuperating From Operation

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Barry Goldwater will remain in St. Joseph's Hospital well into August recuperating from an operation Wednesday to eliminate neck and back pains, an associate says.

The surgery on vertebrae in the lower neck required nearly four and a half hours. His condition later was listed as fair.

"It may be five to seven days before we know if (the operation) was successful," said Dr. John A. Eisenbeiss, the surgeon.

PHILANTHROPIST DIES
LOCKPORT, N.Y. (AP)—William Rand Kenan Jr., 93, millionaire philanthropist, chemist, engineer and scientist, died Wednesday.

Loss of Shipment Delays Kimberly Store Building

KIMBERLY — Construction on the new Person's IGA Foodliner still remains at a standstill because of a loss of the shipment of materials for the predominantly steel Cuckler structure.

Shipment was initially delayed when the size of the overbeams proved to be too large for the type of transportation designated. Other transportation was employed and it seemed that within a few days construction on the new store would be possible.

Much to the dismay of Lloyd Persons, contractor for the building, the materials for his wife's store failed to arrive on schedule, and have been lost in shipment for the past two weeks.

The Cuckler steel building will be the first constructed in the area for a food store. Mrs. Persons stated: The 76 by 80-foot structure will be a steel-sheathed building over a predominantly steel superstructure. It will feature a glass front with brick trim and electric doors. An electronic burglar alarm system also will be installed.

The new store, which will be located on the parking lot directly south of the present store, will double the floor space and fruit and vegetable department, and greatly increase the dairy and meat cases. Wider aisles and an additional check-out counter will facilitate easy shopping.

Mrs. Persons stated that it has been the faithfulness of the people of Kimberly that has made the store grow from the 24 by 40-foot market, which she purchased from Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Richardson in 1951, to what the new Foodliner will be.

The original store was moved in 1957 from its former location on Main and Center streets to the present South Main street location where a 40 by 54-foot addition was added to the old structure.

After the completion of the new Foodliner the old section of the present store will be torn down and the remainder of the structure available for rent.

The Daily Investor

By WILLIAM A. DOYLE

Q. Some bonds I had held for a number of years were called in for redemption recently. I want to invest the money I received when I turned in the bonds. I have a number of stocks and do not care to purchase any more. I also have more than enough money in savings accounts.

My broker suggests I put the money in a "tax-free bond fund," which is something like a mutual fund and which has been paying 3.77 per cent. Is this a sound investment?

A. There are only a couple of funds of that type around. They have been sound investments. Technically, a fund of that type is not a mutual fund. It is a "unit trust, with a redemption feature." But let's not pick nits. It has many of the features of a mutual fund.

The money investors put into the fund is used to buy many different securities—in this case "tax-exempt public bonds." Those are better known as "municipal bonds"—bonds issued by states and political subdivisions.

Because the interest paid on such bonds is not subject to Federal income tax, it is passed on to the investors in the fund—also free of Federal income tax. It's all "keeping money."

An investment such as this normally appeals to people who are in the middle or upper income brackets and who want as much keeping money as possible from a fixed-income investment.

An investment in bonds or in a bond fund provides fixed income. It does not hold out possibilities of growth in value, such as you would hope to get from common stocks.

Based on the information in your letter, I would say that the broker has made a sensible suggestion for you.

Q. The Federal government tax on long-term capital gains is on one-half of the profits from the sale of stocks. And, as you have explained, if the person is in the "50 per cent tax bracket or higher," the tax on that half of the profits is never more than 50 per cent.

And, since 50 per cent of one-half of the profits is 25 per cent, the tax on long-term capital gain is never more than 25 per cent. OK. At what point does a person get into the "50 per cent tax bracket?"

A. Here we have to talk in terms of "taxable income"—the amount on which the income tax bite is based, after exemptions and deductions. And we must use the new tax rate schedule, which went into effect in 1965.

A single person, filing an individual Federal income tax return, must have taxable income of $22,000 to get into the 50 per cent bracket.

For a married couple filing a joint return and for certain widows and widowers, the taxable income figure is $44,000. And, for the taxpayer filing a return as "head of household," the figure is $36,000.

Q. What should I say to people who insist that the Series E, U.S. Savings Bonds, I started buying more than 20 years ago are no longer building up interest?

A. Don't say anything. Ignore those people, who don't know what they are talking about. All bonds now maturing in the hands of the public continue to build up ("accrue" is the official word) interest.

(Mr. Doyle will answer only representative letters of general interest in his column. He cannot answer phone queries.)

Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON AP Business News Analyst NEW YORK (AP)—The sinews of American might—steel, nonferrous metals, oil, chemicals—are performing at top form. Major companies in these fields are reporting peak production and sales. And most of them are flexing their profits.

With few exceptions, the basic suppliers to American industry are reporting impressive gains in net income in the second quarter of 1965 compared with the like period of 1964. This maintains the spread that brightened the first three months of this year.

In the three months just ended steel companies translated record shipments into profit figures to delight stockholders. Among those reporting so far: U.S. Steel netted $81 million, up $20.5 million from the $60.7 million in the 1964 second quarter; Republic 244 million up from $17.7 million; National, $24.4 million from $20.6 million; Armco, $24 million from $18 million.

Producers of nonferrous metals and their products also have been prospering on increased demand, fed both by the business boom and war threats. Kennecott Copper reports second quarter profits of $27.9 million, against $21.5 million a year ago; Magma Copper $4.6 million against $4.5 million.

Aluminum Co. of America compares a $22.4 million second quarter with a year ago figure of $16.9 million. Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical reports $11 million last year against $7.5 million this year against a $9-million one in 1964.

Oil profits have been flowing freely, thanks to steadily growing civilian and military use. Ahead this April-June quarter over last year are: Gulf Oil, $104 million, up $13 million over the year ago figure; Socony Mobil, $75 million, up by $7.5 million; Shell, $60.4 million, up by $13.8 million; Indiana Standard, $49.4 million, up by $5.6 million; Phillips, $34 million, up by $3.6 million; Cities Service, $24.2 million, up by $7.4 million or 43 per cent; Sun Oil, $20 million, up by $5 million; Sinclair, $17 million, up by $7.6 million.

Most chemicals show second quarter gains this year. But the largest, Du Pont, shorn of its GM stock dividends now, trails by $2.39 a share in 1965 against $2.61 a year ago.

Ahead are: Union Carbide, with $57 million in this year's second quarter against $45 million in 1964; Monsanto, $38.8 million against $35.3 million; Dow, $30 million against $27.7 million; Allied, $24 million against $23 million; Olin Mathieson, $16 million against $13.5 million.

Will the gains continue the rest of the year? Steel companies say even some slackening couldn't spoil 1965's final figures. Oil concerns see conditions still improving. Chemicals express confidence in the rest of the year.

Viet Nam holds uncertainties but few threats for most companies—these suppliers to civilian industry also service the military.

Wall Street Chatter

By United Press International NEW YORK (UPI)—Goodbody and Co., says that barring a full-scale Korea type development in Viet Nam, the market seems likely to back and fill near present levels before making an attempt to regain and penetrate the 890 level in the Dow-Jones Industrial average.

Bache and Co. says it believes the selective investor will fare well in a trading market in the months ahead but that the emphasis must be on quality and strong fundamentals.

William R. White of Hornblower and Weeks-Hemphill, Noyes says the manner in which trading activity has tended to expand as prices advanced encouraged the belief that for the moment at least the underlying trend is toward higher levels in an effort to surmount the supply area round the 890 level in the Dow-Jones Industrial average.

Three-Run First Inning Lets Angels Outlast Cowboys for 4-2 Win

Fred Combs punctuated a three-run first inning with a two-run homer Wednesday night and the Idaho Falls Angels outlasted the Magic Valley Cowboys 4-2. The first inning was enough to get the Angels for starter Ed Rhyman, who coasted through his seven innings. But when the Angels tried to relieve him they ran into trouble. It took three pitchers to get past the Cowboys in the eighth and ninth and the

Sports FROM ALL ANGLES

By LARRY HOVEY
So long as the dissidents at the Fish and Game Commission public hearing Monday stuck to their prepared, written statements, everything was fine.

When it went "ex-temporaneous" those trying to slip in an extra point or two succeeded only in two things: (1) tearing down their own testimony, and (2) showing the basic factor is the dislike of surrounding communities for anything that sounds like Twin Falls.

A few weeks ago the Times-News carried an editorial which tried to say in a nice way that this matter of the district headquarters should be handled as quietly and businesslike as possible. The Times-News has an increasingly strong affection and pride in our state Fish and Game Commission since the political aspects were taken out of it.

What the people failed to read into the Times-News editorial is that its most fervent hope is that the provincial aspects of Magic Valley wouldn't involve the Fish and Game Commission, thereby holding our most valued government bureau up as a target for the pot shooters. Unfortunately, few took it that way and the venom was visible Monday night.

It wasn't in the prepared remarks and resolutions. These were maintained on a high plane by both sides. The matter of politics wasn't introduced until by the very man who has fought hardest against it. The other individuals who tried to get in that last one remark there for to boot Twin Falls, albeit at the expense of the commission.

Blake Patterson, after a good opening address, came back to ask "for the record" if Bob Salter, department assistant director, told him by phone last week ample sites for housing the district headquarters had been found in checking through Jerome.

Salter replied he had found some that would have been adequate, which seems to make a point but really smashes the basic foundation of Jerome's defensive structure. The North-siders' biggest favoring point is location of the bird farm.

Patterson's question then becomes academic. If Jerome is willing to have the headquarters moved into its downtown area, it can no longer use the economical aspect of moving to Twin Falls as a talking point. The difference would be 50 cents in gasoline, particularly if the department did find suitable space on Blue Lakes Boulevard North as it desires.

The political aspect was a very damning bit of statement, made by men who really didn't seem to intend it that way. But the threat was clearly there, evidenced by the applause it drew from the Northside faction.

Don Fredrickson, a Gooding senator, has the difficult job of trying to reconcile his actions to the various factions. First, he is a politician; secondly, a well-known Magic Valley sportsman, and thirdly, a landowner. He has long been a champion of the non-political commission and reaffirmed that stand to us after the meeting Monday. He is a leader in all three of his fields.

But he was more than tested by State Wildlife Federation president Bill Reynolds, Pocatello, who really put politics into the meeting, but not the way he first thought.

Reynolds charged the legislature with not giving the department more salary money to keep good men in the state and on the department payroll. He used the resignation of fish biologist Stacy Gebhards as his point. "Gebhards is the best fish biologist in the state and you (the legislators) let him go because you wouldn't appropriate the money to pay him." (Gebhards has taken a position with the Forest Service.)

Continuing, Reynolds said, "The legislators took the department's financial budget apart in five minutes. You took money out of salaries and put in capital outlay. They (the commission) are forced into using the money with this regional headquarters idea and things like that."

And then it came. Fredrickson noted factions from different parts of the state had led budget revamping the past two sessions and this indicated to him that the commission was coming under fire by not using the funds for access

Cash's Homer Lets Tigers Edge Yanks

NEW YORK (AP)—Norm Cash's three-run homer capped a four-run Detroit uprising in the eighth inning that gave the Tigers a 4-3 victory over the New York Yankees Wednesday night.

Cash hit his 13th homer off reliever Steve Hamilton, who had replaced rookie Jack Cullen with one run in and one out in the eighth. It was the first home run off Hamilton in 31 appearances, covering 42 1/3 innings.

Cullen, brought up by the Yankees Tuesday from their Toledo farm club and making his first major league start, went into the eighth with a five-hitter and a 2-0 lead.

He then gave up a leadoff single to Bill Freehan and was rocked for a triple by Gates Brown, pinch hitting for Detroit pitcher Dave Wickersham.

After Don Wert grounded out, with Brown holding third, south paw Hamilton was called in to face left-handed batters Jerry Lumpe and Cash. He walked Lumpe before Cash poled an 0-2 pitch into the right-field stands.

Cubs Sweep Twin Bill From Mets

CHICAGO (AP)—Billy Williams rapped three hits and a sacrifice fly, driving in three runs, as the Chicago Cubs whipped the New York Mets 9-0 behind Larry Jackson's five-hit pitching and completed a sweep of their doubleheader Wednesday.

Dick Ellsworth scattered seven hits while Ernie Banks and Ron Santo cracked two-run homers in the Cubs' 7-2 first-game victory.

Jim Stewart led off the first inning of the nightcap with an infield single and Wes Westrum, in his third game as the Mets' interim manager, was ejected for disputing the call at first. One out later Williams hit his 17th homer.

The Cubs parlayed one hit—Banks' run-scoring single—four walks, a fielder's choice and two sacrifice flies into four more runs in the sixth, helping Jackson breeze to his ninth victory.

Rundown Team Big Problem for U.S. Track Coach

KIEV (AP)—Rex Crawley's ailing leg, Gerry Lindgren's heavy cold and general fatigue were Coach Brutus Hamilton's big problems as he opened American workouts Wednesday for the weekend track meet with the Soviet Union. Because of the team's general run-down condition, resulting from Tuesday's traveling and settling ordeal in which some did not sleep for 35 hours, most of the athletes confined their drills to loosening-up exercises.

Pocatello Hands Cubs 6-5 Setback

CALDWELL (AP)—Pocatello exploded for four runs in the sixth inning on Bob Dacero's three-run triple and went on to hand the Pioneer League leading Treasure Valley Cubs a 6-5 setback Wednesday night.

Winning pitcher Chuck Thompson and Cub hurler George Decker hooked up in a tight pitching duel for the first five innings with Joe Doerr's homer giving the Cubs a 1-0 lead.

But in the sixth the Dodgers chased Decker from the hill and then added two more tallies in the seventh.

Treasure Valley came back with a pair in the seventh and added one in the eighth but relief pitcher Walt Peterson held the Cubs off in the ninth to preserve the win for Thompson.

George Mercado topped the Dodgers with two hits in three innings. The Cub could get more than one safety.

Menke, Cline Help Braves Defeat Astros

HOUSTON (AP)—Dennis Menke batted in two runs with his fourth homer and a single and Ty Cline collected three hits, leading the Milwaukee Braves to a 6-4 victory over the Houston Astros Wednesday night.

Ken Johnson, former Houston pitcher, got credit for his 11th victory of the season although he was knocked out in the seventh inning and charged with seven hits and four runs. Billy O'Dell squelched the Astros in the seventh, saving the triumph.

The Braves struck for two runs in the fourth inning on Felipe Alou's single, Cline's triple and Eddie Mathews' sacrifice fly.

Then Menke made it 3-1 with his homer into the left-field seats in the fifth.

Milwaukee added two more in the sixth and kayoed Dick Farrell.

Killebrew, Oliva Spark Twins to Win

WASHINGTON (AP)—Harmon Killebrew's 22nd home run and five straight singles by Tony Oliva sparked the American League-leading Minnesota Twins to an 8-1 romp over the Washington Senators Wednesday night.

Gary Roggenburk shared the pitching with starter Camilo Pascual and scored his first victory of the season.

Pascual was working on a shutout in the fourth inning but left the game when a newly discovered tumor under his pitching arm gave him trouble.

Orioles Use Big Inning to Score 5-1 Win

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles erupted for three runs in the seventh inning, two on a double by Dick Brown, and went on to defeat the Los Angeles Angels 5-1 Wednesday night.

Fred Newman, who hit a homer for the Angels in the sixth, allowed only two hits — one an infield scratch single — before the rally.

Two more infield hits started Newman to his downfall in the seventh, and the second, by Bob Johnson with two out, was disputed by the Angels on a close play at first base.

After the argument, Newman gave up a run-scoring single to Jerry Adair, who became a father for the fourth time earlier in the day. Brown then lined a double off the left-field wall, breaking the 1-1 tie.

Youth Breaks Arm Three Years After It Was Re-Implanted

Signals From Planets May Be Available

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — U.S. engineer Bernard M. Oliver thinks that, somewhere in our vast universe, other intelligent civilizations entertain themselves daily with radio and television broadcasts.

If so, earth can tune in on her cosmic neighbors.

If, that is, the inhabitants hereabouts are willing to spend $2 to $3 billion to put up the right sort of television antenna.

Actually, what Oliver has in mind is a number of antennas—1,000 to 10,000 of them, each 100 to 200 feet across—to be clustered in a metallic forest about 10 miles square.

This, he told some 5,000 scientists and engineers at the annual meeting of the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics, would permit earthmen to eavesdrop on "the unintended radiation from another intelligent life—their television or their FM radio."

Construction On Ski Lift Is Under Way

BOGUS BASIN, Idaho (AP)—It may be July and hot but the construction crews dotting this Southern Idaho ski area are working toward the next good snowfall.

They're erecting two new chairlifts to the top of high, wide Shafer Butte that will expand skiing over five times as much mountain as existing lifts.

The blue chairlift towers already being placed up the side of the mountain are part of a $408,000 expansion program that will include eight runs averaging a mile in length.

Chairlift work is on schedule for completion in mid-October, said area manager Bob Loughrey. He said ski run construction will continue "until the snow flurries start to fly."

There are tentative plans for a year-around restaurant on the mountain-top but they are for the future, Loughrey said.

Idea for Mixing Fillings Noted

MOSES LAKE, Wash. (UPI)—The Air Force is considering adopting a time-saving method of mixing the silver mercury oxide used in dental fillings developed by Staff Sgt. James R. Ingram at Larson Air Force Base here.

Ingram, of Mountain Home, Idaho, is assistant noncommissioned officer in charge at the base dental clinic.

He replaced the usual pestle used in mixing with an ordinary ball-bearing 3/16 inch in diameter. The Air Force figures the change saves 10 minutes a day and makes it possible to mix eight pellets at a time instead of one.

Post Cards Used

WOODS HOLE, Mass. (UPI)—To obtain data on surface currents, scientists during a 14-year period scattered in the Atlantic ocean 150,000 serially numbered postal cards in pop bottles.

A total of 16,000 of these cards have been returned, according to the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution.

BOSTON (AP) — Everett Knowles, 15, has broken one of the most important right arms in medical history.

The frisky, freckle-faced teenager, whose arm was cut off more than three years ago by a wheel of a slow work train but was then successfully re-implanted, fell recently from a still highly sensitive arm.

The Associated Press has learned that the boy was then rushed to the Massachusetts General Hospital where some of the surgeons who performed the original operation re-examined the arm.

They worked late into the night a week ago Tuesday and found that the arm had been broken less than an inch from where it had been torn from his body in the freight yard accident.

It was on May 21, 1962 that the doctors had performed what is believed to be the first operation in which a human limb was successfully rejoined to the body. Since then there have been several others.

The hospital confirmed today that young Knowles will have to remain hospitalized for several weeks because of the break and a knee injury also suffered in the fall.

Knowles said he and some friends had gone out for the evening and were sitting on damp grass on the side of a monument near Boston, when he slipped and fell.

He said, in an interview, he dropped about 12 feet to the pavement and as he hit, thought, "My God, the arm."

"I knew I had hurt it because I couldn't straighten it out anymore," Knowles said. "Actually the bang on the knee hurt more than the arm."

A spokesman for the surgical-medical team at the hospital said it now appears that the bone break, a crack in the upper forearm, will probably have no effect on the long re-implantation process.

"The arm had become so strongly re-implanted that the break itself was no different than what could happen to any one else, and probably will mend just as easily," he said.

Knowles said until the fall last week, he had been able to lift as much as 15 pounds with the arm. He said he has no real use of his fingers. He can move them only slightly.

Since the first operation, he has undergone a series of others to try to regain full use of the arm and hand. Tendons have been connected and nerves repaired. Just last month a one-inch piece of bone was placed inside the palm of the hand to keep his thumb in better position. His arm was in a cast when he fell.

Knowles blamed the cast for the break. He said he did not think the arm would have broken had the upper arm and shoulder not been forced to bear against it.

CREDITS BUILDING
NEW YORK (UPI) — One of America's space heroes, Cmdr. John Young, credits model plane building with developing his interest in flying. In fact, 31 out of 32 of the U.S. team of astronauts were model plane enthusiasts as youngsters, according to the Hobby Industry Association of America.

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

THURSDAY, July 29 — Born today, you are impulsive by nature, and will have to learn to control your emotions so you can take time to think things over before acting. Unless you do, you will spend your life making mistakes, regretting them, and wasting a great deal of time. Unlike some Leos, your first impressions are not your most accurate, and your first impulses are more likely to be wrong than right.

You have one trait, however, which will serve you well—you are an excellent judge of character. You will therefore surround yourself with those people who can best help you out of difficulties should you need such help, and who can help you to achieve that position in life to which you aspire.

You will probably have cycles of changing fortune in your life. They will begin so early that by the time you have matured, you should know how to build enough reserves of spiritual and material goods during the lean years to tide you over the lean ones. Whether your fortunes are up or down, they will never be of such quality that you will be faced with mediocrity.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Friday, July 30
LEO (July 24-Aug. 23)—Keep alert to what is happening to others around you and you will be able to avoid misfortune. Resist all temptation.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23)—

Contracts which can further your career should be successfully negotiated now.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23)—Major interests should come first on the agenda. Avoid activities of little consequence to your future.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)—Take advantage of any opportunity to advance yourself professionally. Tremendous strides for the alert Scorpio.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22)—Don't take the competition for granted and you should be able to gain a distinct advantage. Know your own limitations.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20)—Devote yourself to matters of importance now, and you should be able to make up for recently lost time and effort.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19)—Carefully laid plans are the first step toward success. Avoid shortcuts.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)—Cooperate with higher ups and you should find yourself benefited by tonight.

ARIES (March 21-April 20)—Make gains through an appeal to the public. Don't be discouraged if returns are slow to come.

TAURUS (April 21-May 21)—Commercial projects favored today. Gather all your forces behind you.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21)—In order to share in the success of others, you will have to share in their labor. A give and take day for Gemini.

CANCER (June 22-July 23)—Both business and pleasure should be improved over yesterday. Take care not to miss a hidden opportunity.

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (UPI)—"Case closed," intoned the judge as he rapped the gavel and ended consideration of "The People vs. Mr. Benchley."

Acting Municipal Judge David Baty took Mr. Benchley off probation after noting that he had behaved himself for the past three months and had not been caught chasing any more deer in the nearby state game refuge.

250,000 Are Expected at LDS Pageant

PALMYRA, N.Y. (AP)—About 250,000 persons are expected to watch and listen to the story of the Mormon Church unfold during the five nightly performances of the Hill Cumorah Pageant.

Church spokesmen said 25,000 attended the opening performance Tuesday night, and they expect the crowd will build through Saturday to a quarter of a million. Last year's count was 183,000.

A cast of 400 from congregations along the eastern seaboard, from the Cumorah Mission in Rochester, and from Utah colleges have assembled to act out the story of the revelations on which Joseph Smith founded the Mormon Church 135 years ago.

Elder Harold D. Lee, a member of the church's Council of Twelve Apostles, offered the invocation Tuesday night and then explained the significance of the pageant, now in its 28th year. The cast employs five major stages and 29 secondary stages on the wide western slope of Hill Cumorah.

The musical score was written for the pageant by Dr. Crawford Gates, chairman of the music department of Brigham Young University. The music is piped through a complex sound system from a five-track high fidelity tape recorded earlier by the combined choirs of Brigham Young University, the 80-piece Utah Symphony and the Mormon Tabernacle organ.

appearance on the television program, "Meet The Press." He was asked whether an expanded war in Viet Nam would preclude further tax cuts.

"There will be increased military procurement," Connor replied, "and this will cost tax money. But the Gross National Product and its continued increase will produce increased tax incomes for us. There can be no decision on the tax cut question at this time. But it still remains a possibility."

Asked whether wage and price controls might be imposed, Connor replied: "At the present time there is no indication that there will be any need for wage and price controls for the foreseeable future, even taking into consideration the economic situation that might exist."

It is doubtful, government economists say, that a war as big as the one in Korea would cause the government today to do much more than exercise indirect control on industry and prices through allocation of raw materials.

There is no prospect of rationing, which was not imposed during the Korean War.

Psychologically, too, the nation seems better prepared than it was 15 years ago.

The United States has been involved in Viet Nam for nearly 10 years. The major buildup began in 1960. Thus, for five years, Americans have seen more and more men go off to war.

In one important respect, the situation today seems to parallel that of 15 years ago—the enigma of Red China.

The Chinese intervened in Korea, altering the complexion of that conflict. They may intervene in Viet Nam for similar reasons.

In that case, the entire military and economic outlook as it appears today, would be altered.

Korean, Viet Nam Wars Compared; Outlook Eyed

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
If the war in Viet Nam explodes into "another Korea," how will it affect the American of military age? The housewife? The businessman?

Will there be another crash drive to assemble and equip enough men to do the fighting? Panic buying and hoarding? The imposition of controls on the economy?

In examining these questions, a striking fact emerges: The United States is far better prepared for limited war today, in both the military and economic sectors, than it was on June 25, 1950, when the Korean War suddenly erupted.

Consequently, officials believe there will be less clashing of gears, fewer dislocations, if Viet Nam forces the nation to the wartime stance required by the Korean War.

In the three years of that conflict:

—29,550 Americans were killed and 106,978 were listed as wounded or missing.

—The draft call was stepped up to 80,000 men per month.

—In six months, the cost of living jumped 8 per cent and the price index climbed 15 per cent.

—Congress gave President Harry S. Truman broad powers to impose controls on the economy.

—In December, 1950, he declared a state of national emergency.

—Wages and prices were frozen. Taxes were increased and some new ones were imposed.

—Consumer credit was tightened. The Federal Reserve Board hiked interest rates and the money supply tightened.

—At first, the stock market dropped. Within a week, it began to recover.

Will these patterns reappear if the war in Viet Nam goes to Korean-size?

A task force of Associated Press reporters has interviewed government officials, military authorities, and financial observers on the outlook as America's military commitment in Viet Nam steadily increases.

Those interviewed pointed to major differences in the military and economic positions today and those of 1950.

When the Korean fighting began, the total number of men under arms in the Army, Navy, Air Force, and Marine Corps was 1,135,451.

Today, the United States has approximately 2.6 million men in the armed forces.

By and large, these are regular troops. While many in the Army are draftees, there are none in the Air Force, Navy or Marines. By contrast, at the outset of the Korean War, the only trained manpower available were veterans of World War II. They were recalled. But the majority who fought in Korea began as amateurs.

When the North Koreans attacked, there were two under-strength and under-trained divisions in Japan, the 24th and the 1st Cavalry. They were the only ones near the scene.

Today, about 75,000 Americans already are on the ground in Viet Nam.

All the ground forces in Korea, at the outset, were short of modern weapons—no recoilless rifles, 4.2-inch mortars, tanks, rocket-launchers, anti-aircraft weapons.

Today, all the ground force equipment is post-Korean War.

At the height of the Korean fighting, the United States had 20,000 men on the ground. Recently, on the basis of statements about Viet Nam by President Johnson and Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara, the armed forces submitted a tentative list of possible manpower requirements, totaling—initially—220,000 men, all to be drawn from the National Guard and Reserves.

A Pentagon official said, however, that even if Reserves are summoned it does not necessarily mean they will be sent immediately to Viet Nam.

He said they would be used initially to fill gaps left by the departure of regular establishment troops to the Far East. Some needed specialists might be sent, he said. And later, some of the Reserves might be used to replace regulars rotated back to the United States.

But, he emphasized the primary mission of Reserves would be to serve as a fireground in case flames break out elsewhere in the world.

In the Korean period, defense spending jumped from $12.7 billion in 1950 to $48.3 billion in 1951. It hit the peak, $62 billion, in 1952.

Defense spending now is around $45 billion. The thinking in government financial circles seems to be that if the Viet Nam fighting reaches the dimensions of Korea, the figure would increase by some $2 billion to $5 billion.

On the economic front, the contrast between the situation today and that of 1950 is equally great.

Buford Ellington, director of the Office of Emergency Planning, said in an interview the United States could absorb a Korean-size war with just a fraction of the budgetary strain and economic dislocation of 15 years ago.

Ellington would be in charge of the homefront mobilization if the Viet Nam fighting increases.

"The economy is nearly 2 1/2 times as big. It has grown from $285 billion to $680 billion in productive power since Korea," he said.

Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor touched on some other aspects of this question in an inter-
