Art Guild At Shoshone Sets Exhibit

SHOSHONE — The Shoshone Art Guild will sponsor an art exhibit on the courthouse lawn Sunday. All artists are invited to the exhibit.

Paintings of all types and sizes may be displayed and prices may be put on any paintings that are for sale.

The paintings should be left at the Gaskill Art Shop or brought to the courthouse lawn no later than 10 a.m. Sunday. The committee would like to show all paintings that are to be entered in the Wood River Soil and Water Conservation district contest in the exhibit.

Paintings will be judged at the Gaskill Art Shop during the week of Aug. 1-7.

The soil and water conservation district will sponsor the adult division and the young adult division, 12-16 years.

Adult division prizes include $35, first, donated by the district; $25, second, by the Chamber of Commerce, and $10, third, from Francis Bergin of Bergin Funeral Chapel.

Shoshone Art Guild will sponsor a Peeewe division in this contest. This will be in three divisions — up to and including second grade children; third and fourth grade children and fifth and sixth grade children.

The prizes for Peeewe divisions include $15, first; $10, second, and $5, third.

Six paintings have been donated to be used for a fund raising project between now and Dec. 1. Artists donating them are: Catherine Van Dyke, Joan McGhee, Lyle Scofield, Darleen Caslick, Chris Miller and Wally Hloucha.

Saturn I Rocket Ends Good Flight

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Saturn I rocket concluded its flight program with a 10th straight success today and hurled into orbit Pegasus 3, a giant luminescent space bird whose "feathers" may one day be plucked by space-walking astronauts.

A year or so from now, if the venture appears feasible, a Gemini astronaut wearing a rocket pack may leave his spacecraft and rip off detachable metal plates carried by Pegasus 3 to bring them back to earth for study.

The satellite joined two earlier Pegasus payloads already in space recording the impact of meteorites to learn how much of a threat they pose to lengthy manned space flight.

If an astronaut could return one or more of the paper-thin aluminum sheets to earth, experts would be able to learn more than radio signals tell.

The mighty Saturn I thundered away from its launching pad right on schedule at 8 a.m. (EST) and the satellite was drilled into orbit about 330 miles high — in the same orbital plane used by Gemini spacecraft.

The Saturn I will be succeeded next year by the more powerful Saturn IB.

Once in orbit, the 23,109-pound satellite extended two wing-like projections to a span of 96 feet and began coursing through space, presenting a broad target for the streaking space particles.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported that both the rocket and the spacecraft performed flawlessly.

Thus Saturn I ended with another success its flight program which started Oct. 27, 1961.

Weather, Temperatures

MAGIC VALLEY — Fair with variable high cloudiness today. Partly cloudy tonight and Saturday with scattered showers. Cooler Saturday. Highs in low 90s, lows in 50s, except Camas Prairie highs in mid 90s, lows in upper 40s. Outlook for Sunday is fair with little change in temperature. Temperatures at 8 a.m.: 63 at Jerome, 63 at T.F. Weather Bureau with 67 per cent humidity, 67 at T.F. Entomology Laboratory with 67 per cent humidity, 71 at Rupert, 52 at Fairfield, 65 at Buhl, 60 at Castleford, 64 at Wendell, 6 at King Hill; at noon, 81 at T.F. Weather Bureau with 43 per cent humidity. Barometer: 30.24. Soil Temperatures: At Twin Falls, four-inch 77, eight-inch 74, 20-inch 70, 36-inch 70; three-inch level: At Buhl, 75 and Wendell, 84.

High pressure at the surface is located in Southwestern Canada and extends into the Northern Intermountain Region. High pressure in the upper levels remains over the Western states and should continue to hold firm for the next few days.

Partly cloudy to local areas of cloudy skies are occurring in the valleys of Southern Idaho today as sufficient moisture from the south drifts into our area. Moisture is increasing to the south of us in Nevada and Utah but to the north of us high pressure at the surface and in the lower levels tends to slow the northward movement of this moisture into Southern Idaho. Variable cloudiness is expected today in the valleys of Southern Idaho with a few widely scattered afternoon and evening showers or thundershowers in southeastern valleys. An increase in thundershower activity should occur on Saturday in these valleys with scattered thundershowers moving into southern and southwestern valleys especially in the southernmost portions of these valleys.

Maximum temperatures today will reach into the upper 80s and 90s today and will be a little cooler on Saturday with readings in the 80s to mid 90s. Minimum temperatures tonight will be in the 50s to mid 60s.

Precipitation yesterday was widely scattered and limited to the extreme-southeastern valleys with the greatest rainfall catch of .05 of an inch reported from Preston. Grace reported .02 of an inch for the only other measurable amount. Maximum temperatures ranged from 105 degrees at Ontario to 86 degrees at Rupert and Bear Lake. Nighttime temperatures ranged from 55 degrees at Mountain Home to 46 degrees at Fairfield.

Most precipitation amounts during the next couple of days should be quite scattered and mostly light although some longer delays may be experienced in local southeastern valley areas. Activities most likely to experience delays would be haying and winter grain harvest with field work and other farming activities able to make progress. Irrigating will need to continue on schedule as showers will be insufficient to add appreciable soil moisture.

FIVE-DAY FORECAST

During the next five days the air over the Northern Intermountain Region will be a little warmer than normal. Low pressure will be centered in the Gulf of Alaska and a thermal pressure trough over the desert southwest will extend northward into Southern Idaho at times.

Weather during this period will be predominantly warm and dry but occasional influxes of moisture into this district from Arizona will cause scattered thundershowers at times.

Temperatures Saturday through Wednesday will average slightly above normal in Southeastern Idaho and Magic Valley and 3 to 6 degrees above normal in Southwestern Idaho. Slight cooling Saturday will be followed by some warming over the weekend with temperatures remaining warm during the first half of next week. Normal maximum and minimum temperatures for this period are Gooding, 93 to 59; Twin Falls, 91 to 54, and Burley, 90 to 53.

Scattered thundershowers appear most likely Saturday and about Monday. No significant amounts of rainfall are expected from these showers in the west and eastern sections will probably get less than .10 of an inch. However, moisture content is currently high over Arizona, Utah and southern Nevada and a shift back to southerly winds at upper levels could bring in enough moisture for heavier showers in central and eastern parts of Southern Idaho over the weekend. Later forecasts will reflect this possible development if indicated by changes in the upper flow pattern.

Sunshine during the next five days should average about 90 per cent of possible in west to 80 per cent in Southeastern Idaho. Winds will be mostly light during the period with brief gusty winds likely associated with afternoon or evening thundershowers.

Flight Record Reported by West Coast

SEATTLE (Special) — A nearly perfect systemwide flight performance record during June, 1965, when it completed 99.6 percent of its 5,738 flights, was announced today by West Coast Airlines.

The company's nine Fairchild F-27 turboprops and nine DC-3s maintained a high degree of schedule reliability also, operating within 15 minutes of scheduled times on 5,009, or 87.3 percent, of the total completed flights.

The relative value of these figures is indicated by the latest Air Transport World tabulation of on-time performances for the twelve U.S. trunk airlines.

The West Coast Airlines fleet crosses three major mountain ranges from the Rockies westward in the course of covering 4,000 route miles. The system is separated into 42 airport stops in six western states and Canada.

Benefits of Social Security and Medicare Are Explained

Editor's Note: This is the first in a 14-part series on the new Medicare and Social Security bill signed by President Lyndon B. Johnson.

By JOHN TROAN
NEA Special Writer
(First of a Series)

You are richer than you realize.

As a worker, you have in the files of Social Security headquarters an account in your name which may be worth—right now—more than a $123,000 estate.

For instance, if you should die and leave a growing family, your widow and children may be able to collect up to $309.20 a month in Social Security benefits.

Likewise, if you should become disabled or if you still have young children when you retire, you could collect maximum family benefits of $309.20 a month.

This is equal to a three per cent annual return on a capital investment (or bank account) of $123,700.

Furthermore, this income is guaranteed. It is risk-proof. And it is tax-free.

Even if your family is grown when you retire, you and your wife may collect as much as $203.90 a month. This is equal to an annual income of three per cent on an investment of more than $81,500.

And your stake in Social Security is rising. In 1967, maximum family benefits will climb to $368 a month—equal to an annual income of three per cent from an estate worth $147,200.

But this isn't all. For some thing new has now been added to Social Security. Besides paying cash benefits, Social Security next year will start paying hospital bills and help take care of some other medical expenses.

This new wrinkle to Social Security is often called Medicare. Government experts figure it would cost more than $18 million to buy, on the open market, a policy duplicating the full Social Security health package—if you could find anybody who would sell you such insurance.

For persons 65 or older, Medicare will provide:

Up to 90 days of care in a hospital for a single illness, with the patient paying the first $40, plus $10 for each day after the first 60.

Up to 100 days of care in a nursing home for the same sickness, with the patient paying $5 for each day after the first 20.

Up to 100 visits a year to the patient's home, following hospitalization, by part-time nurses, physical therapists and similar health aides.

Hospital diagnostic tests on a non-overnight basis, with the patient paying the first $20, plus one-fifth of the remainder.

Care in a psychiatric hospital will be covered under certain conditions. But nobody will be able to draw more than 190 days of such care during his lifetime or more than 90 days at one stretch.

In general, Medicare won't pay for doctor bills, private-duty nurses or drugs prescribed outside a hospital or nursing home.

The nursing-home benefits will start Jan. 1, 1967, the others, July 1, 1966. They'll be financed by higher Social Security taxes that take effect next Jan. 1.

The Social Security law has been changed also to make it possible for persons past 65 to buy special health insurance providing additional benefits after June 30, 1966.

This supplemental insurance is optional. Its cost: $6 a month for each person, with the federal government paying half of the premium out of the regular U.S. Treasury. For those who choose to buy it, the supplemental insurance will help cover

Doctor bills, in or out of a hospital.

Dentist bills for surgery on the jaw or other facial bones required by accident or disease.

Visits by part-time nurses and other health personnel to a patient's home under conditions not covered by the basic Medicare plan.

Up to $250 worth of psychiatric care a year outside a hospital.

Various other health benefits not provided by Medicare, including diagnostic tests outside a hospital, ambulance service, artificial limbs, and rental of medical equipment (such as wheelchair).

With supplemental insurance the subscriber will have to pay the first $50 of his medical expenses each year and one-fifth of the rest. The insurance will cover the balance.

In addition, the Social Security law contains special provisions concerning free health benefits for persons who aren't drawing welfare checks but are too poor to pay their medical bills.

This is known as the Kerr-Mills program. A state may—but doesn't have to—set up its own Kerr-Mills program, with the federal government supplying most of the money from the regular U.S. Treasury.

When this program was originally established only persons 65 or older could get such "medical relief." As of Jan. 1, 1966, any state can expand the program to include needy children under 21 and their parents; also, needy persons of any age, who are blind or otherwise disabled.

Meanwhile, Social Security cash benefits have been raised. In most cases, these increases date back to Jan. 1, 1965. Under the new scale, monthly Social Security checks range like this:

For a retired worker—$35 to $112.20 (eventually to $138.60).

For a child—$22 to $102 (eventually to $126).

Maximum for one family—$309.20 (eventually $368).

Social Security also makes lump-sum death payments. These range from $132 to $255.

Problems of Price Tag Rule Noted

NEW YORK (AP)—How do you put a price tag on an alligator? That's a problem for Henry Trefflich, who runs one of the city's largest pet and animal stores.

He's angry, and he's not alone in facing the price tag problem. His store is one of 100,000 retail stores covered by a new regulation issued by the Department of Markets Thursday.

The order, effective Aug. 15, requires all articles for retail to be clearly marked as to price.

Commissioner of Markets Albert C. Pacetta said his action was prompted by "hundreds of complaints from housewives and shoppers who felt they were being cheated when forced to buy goods from shelves without price markings."

The first complaints came from operators of antique shops, jewelry stores, pet shops and women's dress shops.

"Oh, God, how far can you go?" said a spokesman for Cartier, a Fifth Avenue jeweler. "What's the point? Price tags don't look well attached to fine jewelry."

He added that tags on items selling for several thousand dollars "each would provide a temptation, and we don't want our windows broken."

An antique dealer, who declined use of his name, said: "This means I'll have to mark my prices up so that I can bargain down again with the customer."

The commissioner's office said the order will in no way affect the joy of bargaining. "Once a merchant posts his price," said a spokesman, "we don't care what adjustments he and the consumer make in it."

Goldwater Okay After Surgery

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Former Sen. Barry Goldwater was reported resting well Thursday after undergoing neck surgery.

A spokesman at St. Joseph's Hospital said Goldwater had some discomfort but that was expected. The operation Wednesday was to relieve chronic back pains from vertebrae pressure on a nerve.

Expensive Trees

KENNER, La. (UPI)—A homeowner's love for pecans is costing the New Orleans Aviation Board $80,000.

Raymond Voelker has two pecan trees in line with a new runway at the New Orleans International Airport.

The Federal Aviation Agency considers the trees a navigational hazard and has refused to reimburse the local aviation board for its share of constructing the runway.

The local board says Voelker refuses to trim the trees to a maximum height of 50 feet as the FAA demanded.

Refugee Rides Raft To Miami

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A former governor of a Cuban province who turned against Fidel Castro arrived in Miami Thursday night ill and exhausted after a 12-day odyssey on a four-foot-square inner-tube raft.

A yachtsman who had sighted the refugee, Luis Casas, waving his tin water can in the sun, brought him ashore.

Casas told me "I had given up hope and was going to swim for it," reported Tom Miller, skipper of the Skeezix III.

Miller said the raft was 36 miles from Miami, whose lights the refugee had seen Wednesday night.

"He was standing on the raft, made of pieces of wood and inner tubes," Miller said.

Casas' sister, Grace, an exile here, said he was governor of Camaguey Province from 1959 to 1960, but was imprisoned for anti-Castro activity.

It's Safer Here

The FBI's annual Uniform Crime Reports is considered the authority on crime in the U.S. and is quoted widely. The annual report also is used as a means of comparing crime in one area to crime in another region. But most important, the annual report shows that crime in the U.S. continues to increase steadily, year after year. Since 1958, crimes have increased 55 per cent while the population has increased only 10 per cent. As FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover has warned repeatedly down through the years, crime is an increasingly serious problem that will continue to be expensive until society takes whatever steps are necessary to control it. Just for the record, all crime in the U.S. last year increased 13.1 per cent in numbers and 11.1 per cent in rate per 100,000 population. The comparable figures for the Mountain West are 6.3 and 4.6 per cent increases. It's significant that the rate in the Mountain West is considerably less than half the national rate.

The Mountain West includes Arizona, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Utah and Wyoming. It might be pointed out that Nevada's crime rate is higher than the other states because Las Vegas continues to have the highest crime rate of any city in the nation. There's one factor about the Mountain West that doesn't appear in the FBI's Uniform Crime Reports. There are no actual figures, of course, but it can be assumed safely that the incidence of firearm ownership is much higher in the Mountain West than any other portion of the U.S. These states of the Mountain West boast of the best hunting and just naturally have a high percentage of sportsmen, leading to wide ownership of guns.

Those who have been advocating rigid controls of firearms are fond of contending that firearms play a major role in crime. So why is the crime rate of the Mountain West less than half of the national crime rate when firearms are more readily available? The 1964 report also shows the national rate for murder and nonnegligent manslaughter has increased 6.7 per cent. But in the Mountain West, the rate has DECREASED 2.3 per cent per 100,000 population. Proponents of firearms controls will point, however, to the rate per 100,000 of aggravated assaults. The national rate has increased 15 per cent while the Mountain West has a whopping 39.9 per cent increase. A wounded man goes into the assault column, so it could mean that the descendants of the Old West's famed sharpshooters aren't nearly so good; they're nicking, not killing their targets.

Idahoans will continue to find comfort in the crime statistics. Idaho's rate per 100,000 is listed first, followed by the national average: for all crimes, 888 and 1,206.7; murders, 4 and 4.8; forcible rape, 5.9 and 10.7; robbery, 10.3 and 58.4; aggravated assault, 57.4 and 96.6; burglary, 330.2 and 580.4; larceny $50 and over, 383.4 and 388.2, and auto theft, 96.8 and 242. Idaho's safer, but appears to have more thieves than the national average.

VISITORS PAY
If anyone has a shadow of doubt about the value of visitors to Idaho, these shadows should be dispelled by a couple of items in the news. As everyone knows by now, Idaho has no salmon fishing this year because of an inadequate run of fish. The numbers of the big fish heading up Idaho's Salmon River may not be sufficient for even the essential spawning. Anyway, the salmon closure has resulted in a virtual depression from Salmon up the river to Challis and into Stanley Basin where salmon fishermen usually jam camping areas during this period of the year.

But if that area in Southcentral Idaho has a depression, the Coeur d'Alene area is enjoying one of its best business periods in years. Coeur d'Alene is geared to the tourist business just like the Salmon-Challis-Stanley region is geared to salmon fishing. The Girl Scout Senior Roundup at Farragut didn't hurt North Idaho. Those 8,000 girls and all the relatives who visited their camp left considerable money.

Here are the two extremes, depression when visitors decline and boom times when more visitors than normal descend on an area. No one should question that there's a fertile field for the State Department of Development and Commerce. If the department can entice more visitors into Idaho, it will have a major impact on the economy.

A side effect that no Idahoan should ever forget now is the new sales tax that raises money for education and adequate financing of the state government. Every dollar that visitors contribute through the sales tax means that residents can pay a dollar less in taxes. There's a double value improved economy and sales tax—nowadays in sharing Idaho's scenery, outdoor recreation and air with visitors.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

By ANDREW TULLY
WASHINGTON — Ailing citizens who pay through the nose for drugs to keep them alive, have a right to smell a rat in the drug industry's latest defiance of the people's government.

In a move that is at least suspicious, the Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association (PMA) and 41 individual drug companies are contesting in the courts a Food and Drug Administration demand for periodic reports on all drugs cleared before a new and more stringent law was enacted in 1962. The drugs claim the check is unnecessary and expensive.

Well, Mrs. Balderdash, it may be expensive but I do not buy the proposition that any examination of medicines used on human beings is unnecessary. There have been too many instances in this miracle drug era of patients dying quite dead because they took the wrong drug. These deaths, of course, have caused the drug industry considerable anguish, but its expressions of sympathy, have not brought the victims back to life.

HOLDING BACK FACTS — Now the FDA has screened 1,029 drugs originally cleared under the old law and has determined that it needs reports on the safety of 280 of them. The list includes two sulfa drugs whose labeling has been out-dated since the mid-1940's, according to FDA Commissioner George P. Larrick. But the drug association has advised its member-companies not to provide the data pending settlement of the court suit.

This is pretty high-handed action by an industry whose product is a life-and-death matter for its customers. It seems to me the issue is not whether the drugs are "old" or "new," but whether they are safe and/or effective under their new labels. I do not wish the industry to test these drugs on me the next time I have a bellyache because gravestones come high.

A MATTER OF PRICE — Speaking of expense, I do not believe proper testing will bankrupt the drug industry. Most of its little pills are cash-and-carry basic. What eliminates poor credit risks. Happily for the pharmacist, a man does not haggle over the price when the doc tells him he needs a drug to stay alive.

Somebody should though—possibly the FDA or some trust-busting agency. A friend who fortunately on pills deemed necessary to his continued good health after a bladder operation. A prescription for anything stronger than aspirin these days will set the patient back a small bundle, and in too many cases the cost of drugs is higher than the doctor's fee.

WANTS ON-JOB INSPECTION — But what I want most is drugs that are guaranteed to be safe, and Commissioner Larrick has come up with a suggestion that could achieve that millennium. He wants to station inspectors in plants manufacturing the more important drugs to make certain that purity is maintained.

Under the present system, the FDA is forced to rely primarily on the firms themselves for such monitoring, since FDA inspectors visit the average drug house only once every two years. Self-policing in industry is always more desirable, of course, but there have been hints that the drug industry's cops are too casual for the public's comfort. Sad experience has shown that a pill these days can be as lethal as a gun, and often costs more.

THREE BEAT LAW GAME
There seems to be little doubt in anybody's mind about the guilt of three anti-Castro Cubans charged with firing a bazooka at the United Nations building. Also, there seems to be little doubt they will go free.

A New York State Supreme Court Justice this week quashed the indictments against the three for lack of evidence. A few days before he had ruled that the detailed confessions of the three were not admissible as evidence because they were obtained before the suspects consulted an attorney. The district attorney says he has reservations about pursuing the case further. Presumably, the technical impasse would be the same had marksmanship been better and hundreds been killed.

Technicalities of the law are, of course, important, and constitutional rights should be inviolate. But the scholars of the law had better give some serious consideration to practicalities, else the only crimes for which convictions will be possible will be those committed in the presence of a lot of witnesses, with a defense attorney handy. Jack Ruby is one of the few who ever committed such a crime.—The Oregonian

INAPPROPRIATE EPITAPH
One of the newspapers we read missed the point when it placed over the story that told of New York Mayor Wagner's decision to retire, the headline: "Wagner Ducks Another Race."

Robert Wagner never has ducked a political fight. He carefully explained, and with understandable emotion, that he had promised his wife, who died last year, that he would not seek re-election; that he felt it necessary to spend more time with his sons. That was why he was bowing out. It wasn't because he was afraid to take on the Republican candidate, John Lindsay or anybody else.

He has taken on all comers in being elected three times to the office of mayor of New York. Nobody was betting that he couldn't beat Lindsay. Many were betting that he could. Robert Wagner has been one of the big city's better mayors.

Nothing could have been less fitting or accurate than to say that Robert Wagner was ducking out. In one of the toughest jobs in the United States he has never shown lack of courage.—Pendleton, East Oregonian.

POVERTY ASHTRAY
Three urban progress centers from which the war on poverty will be waged in Chicago have been furnished at a cost of around $3,500 each. A Chicago newspaper checked and found that desks cost around $110 each and executive-type chairs about $35. On each of the executive desks was a $4 ashtray.

Desks and chairs may cost twice as much as office fixtures that would be perfectly adequate, but the taxpayer does not complain because he does not know how much they should have cost. But he knows a serviceable ashtray may be bought for a quarter, or it may be a free souvenir. While the warriors against poverty will not be handing out baskets of food, the $48 spent for a dozen ashtrays might be more profitably employed in the work of rehabilitation and job training.—Decatur (Ill.) The Doctor Says

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M. D.

Q—In a recent column you stated that water is a good conductor of electricity, so in our chemistry class we tried it out and found that water is a nonconductor (although salt water is). How, then, could a person be electrocuted by dropping a radio in a bathtub?

A—Let me start by saying that I'm glad some young people still test the truth of what they read. What you have discovered is that distilled water, which contains no salt, will not conduct electricity. The conductivity of water increases with the amount of various soluble salts dissolved in it. Thus, most tap water will have a certain amount of conductivity. Put it in a bathtub and add a little of the dried perspiration from your skin and a little soap, which is also an electrolyte, and you will have a conductor that is a real hazard, or it may be a real hazard, as previously stated, I hope you won't feel compelled to test the radio bit in your own tub!

Q—The doctor gave my son Polysporin ointment to put in his eyes for a week. His eyes got no better, so he went to another doctor, who gave him Prednefrin eye drops. What could be wrong with his eyes? Could it be cancer?

A—Polysporin is a combination of two antibiotics — polymyxin B and bacitracin. It is our chemistry class we tried it out and found that water is a nonconductor (although salt water is). How, then, could a person be electrocuted by dropping a radio in a bathtub?

Leftwing political realists in both major political parties are looking eagerly beyond the era of appointment of Negroes to high federal office to the time when there will be a Negro President of the United States.

Negro on the Supreme Court, one or more in the U.S. Senate. Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., cited the trend after his brother was elected President. In an address aimed at the emerging African nations, Kennedy said: "And now we have an Irish Catholic as President of the United States. The same kind of progress can be made by U.S. Negroes."

Kennedy related the political rise of Irish American Roman Catholics in the United States to the possibilities open to American Negroes. Sen. Jacob Javits, R-N.Y., was encouraged by the 1957 Eisenhower administration civil rights legislation to predict that there would be a Negro going over wasn't so bad because I didn't know what I was up against. But I had to spend nearly three months in the war zone to get up enough courage to face the trip back.

The air line fellows who make the seating assignments may be either sadists or former sardine canners. Their goal seems always to wedge a fat man in the middle of the three cramped seats.

Then the fun begins. A typical row is as follows: On the outside seat is a tall man with legs so long he trips up hostesses several times before one finally tells him he can't leave them in the aisle. So he puts one foot under the seat ahead of him and one under the seat in front of the fat man next to him.

And the passenger by the window, on the other side of the fat man, usually is a talkative middle-aged lady who suffers from claustrophobia and is making her way to the lavatory.

She can't stand being crowded and becomes nervous. Every 15 minutes she has to clamber over the fat man to go to the comfort room. After 1,000 miles her spiked heels have scraped both his shins raw.

About then food is served. The hostesses fly back and forth with trays like burdened birds. The theory is that if enough food is stuffed into the passengers, they will go into a coma and drift trying to move around.

By the time his circulation returns in his arms, the fat man's companions have finished their meal. He weakly tries to cut his steak and winds up with his elbows in the neighboring plates. He is too tired to struggle. He just leaves them there, soaking up gravy, until the hostesses come to his rescue and take away the trays.

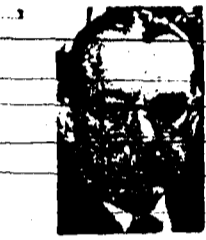

But if tourist flights are tough on the paying guests, they are equally hard on the heroic, hard-working hostesses. At the end of one stage of my journey, I told one hostess who was leaving, "I guess you girls really feel like a rest."

"Oh, our work isn't quite so tiring yet, sir," she said brightly. "We still have to take off our shoes and press the wrapes to make the champagne counteract the allergic effects. For the return."

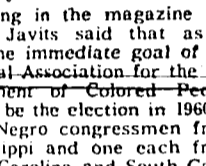

Q—Can a person have an allergy to penicillin? If so, what would happen if he were given this drug?

A—Unfortunately, many persons are allergic to penicillin. These persons are also sensitive to such modifications as methicillin, oxacillin, phenoxymethylpenicillin. The manifestations vary in severity from a mild case of hives to severe shock. When the drug is taken by mouth, the reaction is less severe than when it is injected in the hip.

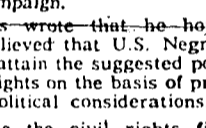

In case of doubt, a skin test for penicillin sensitivity should be made before the drug is given. If a reaction occurs a sulfadiazole or another antibiotic drug or another antibiotic drug is prescribed. Phenobarbital and ACTH, if given promptly, will counteract the allergic effects. For the return."

TAYLOR'S VIEWS ON WORLD NEWS

By HENRY J. TAYLOR

President Johnson's newest Viet Nam war decisions hinge heavily on the mentality of Mao Tse-tung and his Peking palace clique.

The Kremlin leaders are hard enough to understand, even though our contacts are abundant. But the men with the bulging foreheads and bloody hands who are running Red China are enough to drown any Western mind. And, in the lift of high crime known as Oriental politics, persuasion without force is as futile as digging with a toothpick in a coal mine.

Peking's Pravda is the Jen-min Jih Pao. The Nhan Dau is Red Hanoi's official newspaper. In these, and on the air, Mao and his clique speak to South-east Asia about social justice in words as delicate as Chinese plum blossoms, the symbol of love.

Countless millions do not even know that stooze Ho Chi Minh is a Communist, and see him, instead, as the national liberator of South Viet Nam. They do not even know that a million Vietnamese fled to the South after Ho took over the North.

The fighting had all ended in Korea when Mao sent his hordes of volunteers. Thereupon, more than a million Korean non-combatants were killed and nearly four million more made homeless. The loss of human life not only failed to touch Peking's leaders, they did not even notice it.

Mentality? At the very first plenary session to talk about a Korean truce Red Chinese puppet General Nam II entered the tent at Kaesong. He sat down—hard-eyed and defiant. He gazed lot box revolution in many southern states. Javits believes that 30 to 40 Negroes will be elected to the 107th Congress which will convene in January, 2001. He wrote that Negro leaders had told him that it would be possible to nominate a Negro to the Supreme Court in 1968 and that there would be by then a Negro member of the U.S. Senate.

Well before 2000, Javits expects a Negro to be elected mayor in New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and Los Angeles. He wrote in 1958 that he expected school desegregation to be completed by 1965. Javits' calculations are based on a steady increase of the Negro vote for local and federal office under protection of federal law.

Another consideration is the population shift of Negroes to the great northern and eastern cities. A result of such a shift can be seen in New York City where the Borough of Manhattan elected in 1953 and re-elected in 1957 a Negro named Hulan Jack to be borough president. Jack, in effect, is mayor of the island of Manhattan, the one the Indians sold.

By now that important job is 100 per cent segregated. New York's commitment to politics on the basis of race and religion apparently has reserved forever the Manhattan Borough presidency for a Negro.

New York politicians see no harm in that kind of segregation. Javits estimated that by 2000 one out of four persons in New York City will be Negro, one of three in Chicago and one of two in Los Angeles. The political impact of that would be considerable.

Then the fun begins. A typical row is as follows: On the outside seat is a tall man with legs so long he trips up hostesses several times before one finally tells him he can't leave them in the aisle. Health Unit Director Gives Talk

RUPERT — The responsibility of the Department of Public Health is basically to safeguard the health of the community," Dr. Luther Thompson, Twin Falls, medical director for the South Central District Health Department, told Rupert Chamber of Commerce members Thursday at the Hirling cafe.

Dr. Thompson discussed the program of the department and pointed out the center is made up of seven counties including Blaine, Lincoln, Gooding, Jerome, Cassia, Minidoka and Twin Falls, involving some 106,000 persons. He pointed out of the total 15,386 live in Minidoka county with the health board composed of a county commissioner from each of the counties.

Prevention of health problems is the major function of the department and includes some enforcement of the state laws.

A total of $10,888 is allocated Minidoka county during 1964 with $3,821 of this amount not used.

Some of the responsibilities of the department include food sanitation in schools, hotels, swim pools, nursing homes, day care centers, migrant housing camps, beauty shops, sewage disposal and many others.

Dr. Thompson introduced Gerold Hurst, sanitarian for both Cassia and Minidoka counties, and Mary Ellen Carlson, county health nurse. He outlined the duties of each of the offices.

He reported Mrs. Carlson 1,578 visits in 1964 and saw 5,389 persons in 259 different activities.

An outbreak of hepatitis in the county last year required repeated home visits and additional sanitation practices in the schools within the county.

Mrs. Carlson reported over 1,000 TB tests were given in the county last year which involved the first and eighth grades as well as teachers, hot lunch personnel and bus drivers. She works with the Cancer society, arthritic patients and mental health program.

The duties of the sanitarian include sewage disposal within the county.

Mervin Ling, chamber president, announced a directors meeting will be held next Tuesday at the Chamber offices. A merchants meeting also will be held at 7 a. m. Tuesday at the Hirling Cafe. Members were asked to attend to plan the back-to-school promotions.

Judson Van Every reported briefly on the coin shortage urging anyone with coins to exchange them at the bank for currency. Van Every reported 150,000 ounces of silver were used in 1964 and of this amount 70,000,000 went into Kennedy half dollars.

Approximately 2,800,000 Kennedy half dollars went out of circulation soon after being minted, by coin collectors.

Van Every reported the mints in Philadelphia and Denver are working 24 hours a day and still can't keep up with the demand. He reported the shortage of quarters and also dimes, pointing out the shortage will be prevalent for some time.

EXAMINING RE-LIFT SPRINKLER PUMP on the Indian Hills project three miles southwest of Hammett are members of the Snake River Valley Chapter of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers. Indian Hills was one of three reclamation projects in the Hammett-Glenns Ferry area visited by the group on a tour Wednesday. Purpose of the tour was the study of new irrigation methods. (Times-News photo)

Two Ghanian Students, Agricultural Unit Tour Area Reclamation Projects

"What we see here gives us new ideas," said Ghanian student Yao August, at the conclusion of a tour by the American Society of Agricultural Engineers Wednesday of reclamation projects in the Hammett-Glenns Ferry area. "We have to be grateful to this society," he added, speaking of America.

The tour visited three projects, totaling almost 15,000 acres in the area, none of which has been under cultivation longer than three years. August and another student from Ghana, Tom King, who also is studying irrigation methods in this country under a program of the Agency for International Development, accompanied the tour.

The first project visited was Indian Hills, a 6,000-acre development three miles south of Hammett where four 900-horsepower natural gas engines lift up to 33,000 gallons of water per minute 420 feet from the Snake River to a four-acre reservoir where it is supplied to 84 miles of sprinkler pipe by 15 re-lift engines.

The operation is unique in the use of natural gas as a power source, both for primary lift and re-lift pumps, and in the variety of experimental crops, including cotton, which are being tested.

Miko Magarian, Hoodco Farms project manager, said that in his opinion, "the corporate farm is the only thing for this kind of development."

"Indian Hills, like the other two projects on the tour, is composed of individual 320-acre desert entry land filings, pooled by the developers to make an economically feasible unit. Magarian said he feels that much more land will be developed in Idaho by corporate farm units. He said that while the small experimental tract of cotton on the farm is not commercially feasible and is not a variety suited to high altitudes, he thinks that cotton production is possible in Idaho.

Housing for Indian workers from the four corners region of New Mexico who move the sprinkler pipe is provided on the project.

The tour chief, Dorrell Larsen of the University of Idaho Agricultural Extension Service, said more than 100,000 acres are available for this type of development along the river from Glenns Ferry to Ontario, Ore.

The next project the tour covered was Sailor Creek, four miles south of Glenns Ferry, where six 1,250-horsepower electric motors lift 30,000 gallons per minute 725 feet to a 5,000-acre project. Grain, sugar beets and corn also are raised here, and the sprinkling system is unique in that 3,500 acres of the land is watered direct from the lift pumps, with no re-lift pumping on the project.

Aubrey Gary, project manager, said re-lift pumping was only necessary when the operation was expanded from the original 3,500 acres.

August commented upon seeing the grain fields, which are now being harvested, that no barley or wheat is grown in Ghana and that these crops being grown in Idaho, which is similar in water supply and climate to northern Ghana, was a surprise to him. The use of large numbers of hired workers also was new as family units do all farming in Ghana.

"At the 5,200-acre Black Mesa project, which was the final stop on the tour, the group was shown three types of sprinkler systems used to distribute the 36,000 gallons per minute that the eight 600-horsepower pumps lifted from the river. The project is "a 5,000-acre potato patch," according to Jerry Boyd, employee of the T. Newcomb Co., Twin Falls, that installed the sprinkler systems for the Cottonwood Mutual Canal Co., the project's developer.

About 3,840 acres of the project are watered with the conventional method of moving pipe by hand. About 1,200 acres have a "solid set" system, which does not have to be moved, and two experimental tracts of 80 acres each are watered by automatic systems working from time clock devices and need no labor once they are installed.

The Ghanians were much impressed by the size of the "potato patch" and very interested in the new irrigation methods. The electrically powered Black Mesa project is in its first year of production and the only serious problem encountered has been the necessity of dredging out the intake channel to the pumps which was caused by a seven-foot drop in the level of the river.

The tour concluded with a dinner meeting of the society at Glenns Ferry.

Several of the engineers expressed an opinion that sprinkler irrigation, which requires about 30 per cent less water than surface irrigation, will be the means to develop large areas of Idaho land in the future.

U. S. Birth Rate Stays On Decline

WASHINGTON (AP) — The steady decline in the number of babies being born in this country continued through May, the Public Health Service reported today. The drop started in 1958.

During May 302,000 babies were born, the service estimated, and the birth rate was down to 18.4 for each 1,000 population.

In May 1964 there were 331,000 births and the rate was 20.5.

The May figures served to strengthen speculation that the number of babies born this year will drop below 4 million for the first time since 1953.

Public Health Service officials say they have no sure explanation for the decline since a record 4,308,000 were born in 1957. They decline to speculate that availability of birth control pills is a major factor though this theory is advanced in other quarters.

Arthur A. Campbell, chief of the service's natality statistics branch, pointed out that the decline began in 1955 and the pills were not available until June 1960, and not in wide use until 1961 or 1962.

Wendell Artists To Plan Display

WENDELL — The Wendell art group will meet at 8 p. m. Monday at the high school to plan for the art exhibit for the Gooding County Fair.

All members are asked to bring at least one completed picture and as many as possible for exhibit. There are numerous classifications and divisions for the art work and Mrs. William Duggan, art instructor, is anxious to have exhibitors represented in the display.

Extradition Sends Cowboy To New York

NEWCASTLE, Wyo. (AP)—A 32-year-old former insurance man who left his family in Troy, N.Y., to eventually become a Wyoming cowboy is expected to be returned to his home town today.

Norman Briggs was taken in custody by two detectives Thursday who were returning him to Troy today to face charges of child abandonment and insurance fraud.

Briggs was believed drowned in a New York reservoir July 17, 1960. Last winter he was discovered working as a cowboy on a Newcastle area ranch under the name of Clayton Hollister.

He has been held in Weston County jail since July 18 when the Wyoming Supreme Court dismissed a writ of habeas corpus which would have prevented his extradition to New York.

Briggs' attorneys told the court the New York man had gone to a reservoir near Troy five years ago, donned scuba gear, swam into the water where he dumped the equipment and returned to shore where he had cached extra clothing.

He then hitchhiked out of the state leaving behind his wife, who has since remarried, and two children.

New York authorities said the former Mrs. Briggs was paid about $117,000 in insurance claims but she reportedly has repaid much of the money.

The final door in Briggs' attorneys' efforts to keep him out of the hands of New York authorities was closed last Tuesday when U. S. Supreme Court Justice Byron White denied a request for a stay of extradition.

Teamster Is Near Supreme Court Appeal

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa was just one step away today from fulfilling his vow to take his attempted jury-tampering conviction to the U. S. Supreme Court.

The 6th U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals Thursday unanimously upheld the conviction, rejecting the 52-year-old labor leader's contentions that he was indicted by an improperly impaneled grand jury and convicted on "tainted" and insufficient evidence.

He may seek a rehearing by the appeals court and, if unsuccessful, then take the case before the Supreme Court. He vowed he would fight the matter to the Supreme Court if necessary.

Hoffa and three other men were convicted March 4, 1964, in U. S. District Court at Chattanooga, Tenn. Hoffa was sentenced to eight years in prison and fined $10,000. The three others received four-year prison terms. Their convictions also were upheld.

Hoffa, Larry Campbell of Detroit and Thomas E. Parks and Ewing King of Nashville were convicted of trying to tamper with a jury that tried Hoffa in 1963 in Nashville, Tenn., on charges of conspiracy to violate the Taft-Hartley Act in the so-called Test-Fleet case. The Nashville case ended in a mistrial.

Together,ness

MARTINEZ, Calif. (UPI)—A family that pickets together wants to stick together.

Roger V. Maes, 29, his wife, Norma Jean, and their seven children demonstrated in front of the Contra Costa courthouse Thursday. They carried signs demanding the return of 8-year-old Tommy Maes, who was made a ward of the court four years ago and placed in custody of his parents.

Last month a court ruled that the Maes family was still too unstable to permit Tommy's return.

Tommy himself joined the protest meeting Thursday. "We have six children living at home, why not one more?" Mrs. Maes said.

TRAVEL IS UP

BOISE (UPI)—Highway travel in Idaho is 8 per cent above last year, pointing to a record year for traveling and vacationing in the Gem State, the Commerce and Development Department reported Thursday.

Director Louise Shadduck said the latest count of visitors to Yellowstone Park is nearly 10 per cent over last year with the number of trailers and boats entering the area high in the count.

BOISE'S BELL MOVED

BOISE (AP)—Boise's historic fire bell was on its way to a new "home" today.

The 82-year-old bell was removed from its tower at the central fire station Thursday and is destined to go on display in the pioneer village area of Boise's Julia Davis Park.

The bell was purchased by Boise businessmen for $600 and was shipped by train from Troy, Utah. It was then transported to Boise by a mule-drawn freight wagon.

In addition to calling volunteer firemen, the bell tolled for deceased firemen and city officials, and until the early 1930's sounded the mighty curfew for Boise youngsters.

TEAMSTERS ASK RAISE

LEWISTON, Idaho (AP)—Teamsters Union members in Northern Idaho and Eastern Washington have been urged to approve a new contract providing for wage increases totaling 84 cents an hour over a three-year period.

The new agreement was hammered out by Teamsters Union representatives and the Inland Empire Chapter of the Associated General Contractors after four months of negotiations.

Under the contract, top minimums would reach $4.54 and $5.09 an hour in some 60 classifications of equipment operation jobs.

ACCIDENT CLAIMS LIFE

ASHTON (AP)—Injuries suffered when she was accidentally run over by a car by her mother have claimed the life of 2-year-old Utawna Christiansen of Marysville.

Officers said the child apparently fell out of the car and under the rear wheels as her mother was backing out of a driveway. The accident occurred at the home of the child's grandparents.

State Police ruled the death occurred on private property and will not be counted as a traffic fatality.

Utawna was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Christiansen of Marysville.

Four Enlist

Four Magic Valley youths have enlisted in the U. S. Air Force and will depart for Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Tex., where they will begin six weeks of basic training. T. Sgt. Art Harmon, air forces recruiter for the Magic Valley area, said the new enlistees are Richard Warren Stone Jr., Twin Falls; Melvin Olna Newlan, Jerome; and Gerald Kay Dean and John Kirby Baker, both Filer.

It was the earliest opening for the company in years. By the end of the week, the firm will have some 500 persons employed.

WATER FLOW LARGER

IDAHO FALLS (AP)—The normal flow of water over the entire Snake River drainage area is much larger than it was a year ago, Henry C. Eagle, Snake River District 36 Watermaster reported Thursday.

This has delayed cuts in decreed water rights and will result in the very small use of storage water during the current irrigation season, Eagle said.

NUMBER EXCEEDED

BOISE (AP)—The J. R. Simplot Co. reported Thursday a survey shows 88 students or college-age youths have been hired to work in the firm's various plants and mining operations during the summer.

The company said that exceeds the one student to 100 regular employee ration suggested in President Johnson's youth employment program.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bache & Co. says it believes the selective investor will fare well in the trading market in the months ahead but that the emphasis should be on quality and strong fundamentals.

L. O. Hooper of W. E. Hutton & Co. says the continuity of an vigorous upward trend in stock prices is suspect.

Kenneth Ward of Hayden Stone Inc. says that although price irregularity and nervousness appear likely to characterize the market's overall action, he believes the market will resist any strong test of its June lows.

Q. I have inherited some American Telephone and Telegraph Co. stock. I have not been able to get much information about it. The certificate states that it is "capital stock." Is that different from common and preferred stock? What does it pay? I have been told that I cannot sell it. Is that true?

A. Your letter is a basic one, similar to many that come in. So, if some of our more "sophisticated" readers will bear with us, perhaps we can clear up a few fundamentals.

As a stockholder, you'll get plenty of information—in the reports which the company will send you. Read the reports. Education is a slow process. Now, for your questions.

All stock issued by a company is "capital stock." A share of stock represents a share of ownership in a company. When a company has two or more "classes" of stock, one class might be preferred stock and the other "class" common stock. Both classes are capital stock.

But when a company has only one class of stock, that stock can be called either capital or common. In such a case the two words mean the same thing.

A T and T has only one class of stock. It is officially designated as capital stock. In effect, it is common stock.

The dividend rate on A T and T stock is now $2 a year on each share. A dividend of 50 cents a share is paid "quarterly" every three months.

Don't believe what you were "told." You can sell your A T and T stock if you want to. Any broker will be only too happy to handle the sale.

However, A T and T has long been considered among the best of the blue chips—meaning high-quality investments. When you read up on its record, you'll learn about nice increases in company earnings and dividend payouts to stockholders in recent years.

For a beginner in the stock market, it would be hard to find a better stock to have and to hold.

Q. I hold 200 shares of what I consider a good stock. A friend insists it would be to my advantage to replace that stock with a different stock. The other stock is much more expensive. Would you say this would be the right move for a small investor?

A. It might be for some but not for others. Price per share should not be the final measurement on any investment. It can sometimes be wiser to buy one or two shares of a very high-priced stock rather than hundreds of shares of a low-priced stock.

But that's not the point. You know (and most other readers should also realize) that I deleted the names of both stocks.

Despite urgings from some readers, I absolutely refuse to turn this space into a "buy this; sell that" tout sheet.

The stock that is right for your friend may be all wrong for you. If you're happy with your stock, keep it.

Five Nations Will Discuss Preservation of Polar Bears

TROMSOE, Norway (AP)—If you don't watch out you'll trip over a polar bear in the main street of this arctic town.

He won't bite. The bear—stuffed—stands on the sidewalk outside a souvenir shop selling the skins of bear, reindeer, arctic fox, and seal.

This fishing port, 250 miles above the Arctic Circle, is the starting point for bear-hunting expeditions to Spitsbergen. Professional hunters go in winter. In summer there are guided trophy hunters.

Are the hunters taking too great a toll? Is the polar bear in danger of extermination?

Some alarmed conservationists think so. A five-nation meeting has been called for Sept. 6-11 in Fairbanks, Alaska. Delegates will discuss ways to count suits everybody or is right for everybody.

And some people (perhaps including your friend) buy some shares of a certain stock and then "talk it up," in hopes that others will buy and send the market price up.

Plans Made To Remodel T. F. Library

A program to remodel the entire interior of the Twin Falls Public Library and add a 45 by 90-foot wing on the east side of the present structure was announced Wednesday by Ted Roth, chairman of the Twin Falls Public Library Board.

"We are not having any special bond issue for this program," Roth said. "We are paying for our share of it out of the present levies." Roth said the program will be financed by $50,000 provided by the city of Twin Falls and $72,000 obtained through the Idaho State Library Board.

Roth said plans for construction and remodeling are still tentative and that an exact date for the start of the expansion program has not yet been set.

The new wing is the first step in an expansion program that will include a bookmobile, study and research rooms in the library, typing room and copying machine.

While Roth said eventually he looks forward to a district library serving the same eight counties served by the College of Southern Idaho, he stressed the present expansion is needed by the area now served by the library, based on the present and projected growth of Twin Falls.

Before the program was authorized, the Library Board consulted a professional library consultant from Denver, who aided in planning the growth of the library system. Roth emphasized that the program was not of a haphazard nature but was planned so library service could be provided for all citizens of Twin Falls and eventually all citizens of Magic Valley.

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

FRIDAY, July 30 — Born today, you are not one to follow the crowd either in thought or action, and for this reason you may end up being misunderstood by many. Those who know you best will know that your originality and inventiveness are of a superb quality, and that you should be given your head so you can make the most of those qualities and of yourself.

One who lives and expresses himself more through things of the mind than through any physical attributes, and who veers toward those people who are of the same basic nature, you are destined to have a very small but select group of friends. To them you will prove both a loyal and an affectionate companion — and they will prove the same to you. The quality of these friendships will far outweigh whatever they may lack in number.

When it comes time to choose your life's partner, take care to think and act reasonably. For it would be easy to be thrown off guard by the first sharp blow of emotion, and to make a bad marriage as a result. Take your time; don't make up your mind about marriage until you have had every opportunity to know the true character of the object of your affections.

"Now that I'm a full-fledged member of the Chippewa tribe and, I hope, one of its warriors, I think we ought to do something about the paleface," Eisenhower said at a Lake Superior band pow wow Thursday.

The Indians presented him with an assortment of gifts, including mink-lined golf tees.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) — Forget business worries. Get outdoors, if possible. A day for rest, relaxation, and fun with the family.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) — Keep your skeptical side forward, and remember all that glitters is not gold. Take a good look at whatever you're offered.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22) — Act quickly on any offers made you today — but not until you've examined them for basic soundness.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20) — You can avoid trouble if you stick to your knitting today.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) — Make a full investigation into anything you hear today that may not please you. Above all, consider the source of rumors.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) — Keep a level head, avoid any show of temperment and avoid serious difficulties.

ARIES (March 21-April 20) — Don't allow a stranger's snap judgment to do you out of a future advantage. Be guided by reason, not emotion.

TAURUS (April 21-May 21) — Important business matters may force you to change social plans. Do so willingly; it may be well worth your while.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) — Count on your personal reactions to give you the insight you need into the motives of others. Don't be fooled by a benign smile.

CANCER (June 22-July 23) — You could easily be sweet-talked into taking regrettable action today. Be on your guard against your own responsiveness.

SATURDAY, July 31 — Born today, you have honest judgment, strong convictions, and a wise and sharp intellect. You have the capacity for intense concentration even in the midst of confusion, and for this reason it is not absolutely necessary that you have ideal conditions in which to work. Your surroundings do not add to your ability and your success; your whole drive comes from within.

Women born on this date could easily be successful housewives and mothers, and career-women as well. Women would be wise to get the education and training available before marriage, so that they will be able to move meaningfully both in the home and in the outside world — especially after their children have reached the age where they don't need constant supervision.

It is quite likely that men born on this date will have very strong artistic bent. A great deal of their leisure time will be involved in music, painting, or writing. In later life, men may find that they drift easily out of their lifetime profession into an artistic one.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Sunday, August 1
LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) — Guard against a health hazard today. Attend morning worship; rest and remain calm, allowing spiritual benefits to sink in.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) — Seek spiritual advice. Get your own house in order before you attempt straightening out anyone else's.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) — Afternoon hours are best for entertaining. Surround yourself only with those congenial to you.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) — Don't attempt strenuous activity during morning hours. Use the afternoon to your best advantage; socialize in the evening.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22) — In handling the affairs of others, take care that you keep their best interests at heart. Be objective.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20) — Depend on forethought rather than hindsight. Plan afternoon activities early — in plenty of time for making changes.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) — Avoid a tendency to biting remarks today. The sharp-tongued Aquarius will get no place fast.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) — Seek to gain an optimistic attitude through morning worship. Bring happiness to yourself and others by looking on the bright side.

ARIES (March 21-April 20) — Avoid being over-critical of others. Remember: "Judge not through rest and relaxation. Not judged by results of morning friction within the family."

TAURUS (April 21-May 21) — Dismiss morning mood quickly. Build up reserves of energy.
GEMINI (May 22-June 21) — the day for picking a quarrel. A day which gets better as it grows older. Don't be discouraged by results of morning friction within the family.
CANCER (June 22-July 23) — Make this a restful Sunday. Morning church attendance.

Black Family Holds Annual Reunion Here

Descendants of the late Charles Henry Black convened at Rock Creek Canyon for their annual family reunion.

The Roy King and Richard King residences, Twin Falls, were reunion headquarters.

The day-long event consisted of games, dinner program, business meeting, genealogical displays and instructions. Guests attended from Idaho, Utah and California.

Invocation was given by Donald Erickson, Salt Lake City.

A musical program was presented with various family members participating.

The business meeting was conducted by Gaylord Erickson, Boise, president. George Erickson was elected genealogist to replace Mrs. G. F. Simmonds, Utah. Mrs. Erickson displayed her illustrated and factual "Book of Remembrance" and gave information concerning family history.

Gaylord Erickson was re-elected president; Mrs. Erickson, vice president and Bonnie Erickson, secretary. Treasurer, Mrs. Omar Kirtley and Mrs. Allen Ruckman, California, historian and assistant are permanent officers. Benediction was given by G. F. Simmonds, Utah.

The group decided to hold the 1966 reunion in the same area during August. Karl Black will furnish the calf to be barbecued.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM JAMES JOHNSTON

Karen Sundrud Is Bride of W. J. Johnston

Karen Yvonne Sundrud, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norris K. Sundrud, became the bride of William James Johnston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter B. Johnston, June 18 in a double ring ceremony at the Salt Lake City LDS Temple.

Elder Paul H. Dunn performed the ceremony. The couple was accompanied to the temple by several close friends.

The newlyweds greeted guests at a wedding reception June 19 in the Twin Falls Second and Fourth Ward Cultural Hall. The reception line formed under a decorated arch of greenery with an overlay of net, accented with satin ribbons and white wedding bells. The arch was flanked by two crystal vases with white peonies and gladioli and accented with white satin bows.

The bride wore an original Cahill gown of Chantilly embroidered lace in the new stem silhouette. The fitted bodice was flanked with a high rounded neckline edged in miniature cotton lace, and long fitted tulle sleeves edged in lace. The controlled slim skirt flowed back accenting the classic sweep of the full bouffant chapel train.

The bride carried a bouquet of white roses and Lillies of the Valley accented with satin leaves. Her multi-tiered French illusion veil was held by a high crown of large delicately formed roses of white satin trimmed with leaves of seed pearls.

Maid of honor was Gail Nyström, Moscow.

Peter B. Johnston, III, brother of the bridegroom, and Haven Hendricks, Moscow, were best men. Bruce Sundrud, brother of the bride, was usher.

Ginger Chester, Pocatello, and Vicki Nuffer, Dayton, served refreshments. The quartet tables were covered with lace and decorated with Tallman rosebuds in crystal dishes.

Mrs. Bonnie McDermid, Aberdeen, and Leslie Matthews, Mountain Home, displayed the gifts.

Patricia Cobb, Filer, greeted the guests and was in charge of the guest book.

Music was played by J. P. Smith.

The bride's table was covered with nylon net over taffeta. The three-tiered wedding cake on white swan pillars was decorated in the bride's colors of talisman and white. The cake was topped with a delicately hand-made miniature bride and bridegroom. Roses and rosebuds surrounded the base of the cake. Glass punch bowls of green frappe were on the ends of the table.

The bridegroom's parents hosted a buffet dinner for the wedding party prior to the reception.

Pre-nuptial showers and parties honoring the bride were given by Gail Nyström, Ginger Chester and Ann Simpson.

This fall the couple will reside in Ogden, where the bridegroom is teaching at Ogden High School, and the bride will do social work.

Social Events

RICHFIELD — The annual ice cream social will be held at the Richfield Methodist Church, late Sunday afternoon and evening. The event is sponsored jointly by the MYF and WSCS. The public is invited.

Twin Falls Garden Club will meet at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Floyd Bandy, two miles south and one mile east of the Motor Vu corner, for a morning coffee hour and installation of officers. Mrs. Lloyd Johnson will talk on garden structures. All members are urged to attend.

Qualifications Listed for Club Officers

By PATRICIA MCCORMACK HOMEFRONT, U.S.A. (UPI) — Women's clubs along Main Street, U.S.A., settle down each year to select and elect those sturdy beings known as new officers.

As a public service, herewith is a review of the general qualifications of officers most likely to survive the modus operandi of the typical woman's club.

The president should be a jolly, stern, solid, soft-spoken sort who can command respect, sway the crowd or sway with it — as she must when attending the club's annual dinner dance.

She needs to be a good dresser, but not so much so that her costumes outshine those of guest speakers — ranging from the mother's mile fund to the mutual funds.

Among other things, she's got to know how to smile through tears — and vice versa, depending on the occasion.

The first and all other vice presidents of the organization ought to have within them all the qualifications and resources shown by the president. Only they should have the extra ability: Not showing all the qualifications — until the president calls on them.

The first vice president ought to live near the president. This is helpful in case of an emergency — say if the president gets ill and can't chair a meeting.

The first vice president, living close by, can have a bedside chat before the meeting and run it in ditto fashion.

Recording secretaries ought to produce — before election — report cards showing they got it in Palmer method or made it to the head of the class in shorthand. They also ought to have a reputation of being able to produce a pencil or pen when no one else can find one.

The treasurer, ideally, ought to be related to the president of the bank in which the club keeps its limited funds. Then she can get him to understand her bookkeeping, being a whiz in the new math isn't a plus. The bank probably keeps its books according to the old math.

Dora Petty Is Engaged to Wed Ira G. Davis

SHOSHONE — Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Petty announce the engagement of their daughter, Dora B., to Spec. 4 Ira Glen Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira C. Davis, all Shoshone.

Miss Petty is a graduate of Bonneville High School and attended Hollywood Beauty College, Idaho Falls.

Davis attended Leadore High School and is serving in the Army.

A July wedding is planned.

Princess Plans Wardrobe for Fall U.S. Visit

BY MARGARET SAVILLE LONDON (UPI) — Princess Margaret promises to be a first-rate fashion plate — even to abbreviated skirts — when she visits the United States come fall.

She already is planning her wardrobe for the first visit to America, a trip she has been wanting to make for many years. But details aren't yet available and probably won't be until the time comes.

But some guesses can be made.

The princess, who will be 35 Aug. 21, favors dramatic colors, and orange is an especial favorite. So some colorful ensembles can be expected. She has a passion for hats, preferring them tall in the crown to lend an illusion of greater height.

The princess is just a smidgen over five feet and makes the most of this height by an erect carriage and selection of styles.

Her figure still is petite although a touch more matronly than when she was in her early 20s, and she has slim pretty legs that she is not above showing in the current short skirt trend. She is unconventional in this, as she is in other matters, for "showing the leg" is not considered entirely the royal thing to do.

The shortness of Margaret's skirts lately have, in fact, raised more than royal eyebrows. In a recent formal visit to the Isle of Man with her husband, Lord Snowdon, the "little sister" of Queen Elizabeth sat on a dais during one ceremony casually showing a good two inches above the knee. Reporters said the sight drew a few quietly discreet — but appreciative — whistles from males in the audience.

If the princess noticed, she didn't so indicate.

The princess's American tour wardrobe probably won't be completed until just shortly before she is to leave in November. She is currently making her selections and will have her fittings in October.

"I think it can be anticipated," a friend of the Snowdons said, "that Margaret will have some sensational fashions to show the Americans. She is very conscious of the smartness of American women and will take care to match them in every particular."

DORA PETTY

JOEANN SMITH

JoeAnn Smith, Quinn Plan Temple Wedding

HEYBURN — Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Smith, Heyburn, announced the engagement of their daughter, JoeAnn, to Eldon Leon Quinn, son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Quinn, Las Vegas, Nev.

Miss Smith was graduated from Minico High School in 1963 and from Ricks College in 1965, where she majored in elementary education. She was a member of Lambda Delta Sigma. This fall she will teach the third grade at Pocatello.

Quinn was graduated from Pocatello High School in 1961. He attended Idaho State University and Ricks College. He has fulfilled an LDS Cumorah mission in New York. He will attend ISU this fall to further his education in speech pathology.

An Aug. 13 wedding is planned at the Idaho Falls Temple. The couple will be honored at a reception Aug. 14 at the Paul LDS Cultural Hall.

DOROTHY BAUGHMAN

Miss Baughman, Morris Slate September Rites

Mrs. Esther Baughman, Boise, and Ted Baughman, Twin Falls, announce the engagement of their daughter, Dorothy, Buhl, to Richard Morris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Morris, Buhl.

Miss Baughman was graduated from Buhl High School and attended the University of Idaho, Morris, a graduate of Buhl High School and the University of Idaho, will attend the University of Washington Graduate School, Seattle, this fall.

A Sept. 17 wedding is planned.

Gibby presented a tap dance. The festival was presented for the children's parents.

Couture Group Concludes Fall Style Previews

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON AP FASHION WRITER

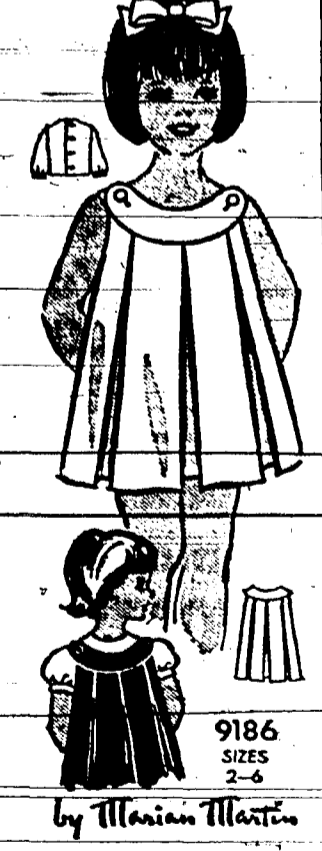

NEW YORK (AP) — In logical procession, the fall previews arranged by the New York couture group included a week of man-luring fashions, and wound up Thursday with bridal costumes and — for the girl who made a good catch — the latest styles in milk.

Even a woman without a man in mind at the moment was advised by designer Priscilla Kidder to think ahead about her choice of bridal dress. Four months before the wedding is the shortest possible interval to allow for ordering, she said, discouraging impetuosity.

Her idea of a perfect costume is a floor length coat over a dress, and a veil. After the formal ceremony the coat is packed in the attic for future generations. The dress goes along on the honeymoon as a dinner gown.

Then the Emba Mink Producers illustrated this week that mink pelts, be they pink pelts or any of the other 30 or so shades that little minks are born wearing today, can do anything that fabrics can do. They can be stitched into dresses, whipped into knickers or harem pants, or sewn into ball gowns.

Along Fences and Canals

A rattlesnake bite has laid low a Hereford bull owned by Glen Ward, Twin Falls. The bull was discovered sick by two Richfield men, Lyle Deeds and Forrest Armstrong, who were checking their cattle on the Dietrich Butte Sunday. They notified Bev Flora, Ward's Richfield ranch manager, who had the bull brought to the ranch. The animal was given shots to counteract the poison but is still a very sick animal. The men estimated the bull had lost about 400 pounds after struck with the snake's venom.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Kast are building on two rooms on their trailer home at the ranch home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kast, east of King Hill.

Farmers at Tuttle are cutting the second crop of hay, the grain is turning nicely, the beans are podding and the corn is growing well and looks much better than last year.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wolfe, Fairfield, have had a new home built in Jerome and moved to their farm near Corral.

Lee Trail has finished combining several acres of barley at the Ray Thompson Ranch, south of King Hill.

George Hendry, King Hill, has returned from Savannah, Ga., where he attended business matters pertaining to their ranch there.

Northside Canal Co. crews have been busy in the Tuttle area cleaning canals with a drag line the last few weeks. Some wheat has been windrowed at Tuttle and is ready to be combined, the winter wheat is ready and under cutting of hay is under way in different stages of harvest.

George Moody, north Shoshone farmer, was thrown from a horse he was riding Sunday while moving range cattle. He was not injured, however.

Mont A. Johnson, Richfield, has had difficulty drying out a field of oats, cut early for cattle feed and to prepare the field for seeding to alfalfa. The oats were so heavy only William E. (Bud) Swan's new swather could cut them. Now the difficulty is getting them turned to dry out for the baler. The heavy crop was flattened twice by high winds this summer, but not damaged.

Elba rancher, Arlo Lloyd and Mr. and Mrs. Wells Hepworth, who are with the Clarence Bishop Drilling Co., drilling wells in the Arco area, spent the week-end at their home in Elba.

Mr. and Mrs. Olen Lewis, Declo dryland ranchers, have moved into their spacious new home, which they have built in Declo Village.

Four Researchers Added to Conservation Center Staff

Four prominent researchers have been added to the staff of the Snake River Conservation Research Center, Kimberly. With these additions the research staff has reached 16, and the total number of employees of the center has reached 35.

Within the next year the center will reach full operation. The University of Idaho and the U. S. Weather Bureau also have centered staff members at the center.

Among the new staff members is John W. Brown, Twin Falls. A chemist, Brown will investigate the soil chemical properties of irrigated soils in the Snake River Valley as they relate to nutrition of plants and fertilizer recommendations. He moved with his wife Mary and daughter Claire from Beltsville, Maryland in June, where he worked with the U. S. Fertilizer Laboratory Agricultural Research Service.

Truman Massee, a research soil scientist, moved to Twin Falls in July with his wife and their three children. Massee has been with the Agricultural Research Service since 1955, with which he was located at St. Anthony, Idaho. His work there was with dryland-soil moisture fertility relationships and he will continue working in the same research field at the center.

Robert V. Worstell will work at the center as research agricultural engineer. Worstell was employed by the University of California at Davis before he moved here in June. At the center he will investigate drainage and canal seepage problems, development of water measuring devices and electronic instrumentation. He will live in Twin Falls with his wife Doris and their two children.

Dr. John W. Cary will be transferred to the Kimberly center in August from the Agricultural Research Service at Davis, California. Dr. Cary is a research soil physicist and will work with water management research. He and his family will live in Kimberly, where they have purchased a home.

COTTON SURPLUS
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The cotton surplus will reach 14.2 million bales this August according to USDA estimates.

Easier way to handle manure...

New HARVESTORE[®] LIQUANURE[™] System

Pump, tank, spreader... all in one complete, ready-to-go system

Blade the manure right from your feedlot directly into the tank. Spread when you want to. Cut time and labor. No smelly manure pile... help eliminate flies, too. Return to your soil up to 35% more nitrogen, phosphorus and potash.

1. New, high-capacity pump. Chopper-impeller type... agitates the manure hydraulically by recirculating it through a rotating jet nozzle. Also pumps the manure into the field spreader... at over 1,000 gallons per minute. 20-horsepower pump is wheel-mounted for easy removal and multiple use.
2. Liquanure storage tank. Glass-fused-to-steel construction inside and out provides longer life, resists rust and corrosion. Available in 20,000 and 34,000 gallon capacities.
3. Field spreader. Tank is glass-fused-to-steel inside and out. Spreads a 20- to 25-ft. wide, uniform pattern... can unload in less than 5 minutes. Available in 1,000 or 1,500 gallon sizes.

Buhl 4-H Achievement Day Held In Preparation for County Fair

More than 200 4-H'ers from 19 clubs and their sponsors met Wednesday in Buhl to inaugurate the first of the 1965 4-H Achievement Days being held this week in Magic Valley.

Additional programs include the Central Council 4-H Achievement Day held yesterday at Filer, and the East End 4-H program held today at Kimberly. In addition, Filer will host the Horse Show this Saturday at the Filer Fairgrounds.

The 4-H Achievement Days were termed "dress rehearsals for the fair" by Olan Genn, Twin Falls county agent. The 4-H'ers were given instruction and practice in showing their projects in order to be well prepared for the big target, the county fair.

The Buhl program was sponsored by the West End 4-H

Leaders and Sponsors Council and the Buhl Chamber of Commerce. Exhibits included both home economics and agricultural projects. Livestock judging, fitting and showing and home economics judging contests were included in the program along with a tractor operator's contest.

Winners of the junior division home economics judging event were Glenda Wetzstein, Buhl, and Laurene Sill, Castleford, who tied for first. Cindy Wagner, Buhl, and Julie Schlund, won second and third place honors.

The senior division home economics judging event was won by Miriam Conover, Buhl. Shirley Meier, Buhl, was second, and Mary McClain, Castleford, was third.

Winners of the livestock judging contest were Rocky Johnson, Buhl, first; Gary Waldon, Cedar Draw, second, and Jackie Bell, Northview, third.

The senior division tractor driving contest winners were Doug Stutzman, Cedar Draw, first; Jim Hicks, Cedar Draw, second, and Dennis Conrad, Castleford, third.

Among the intermediate division tractor drivers, Jack Southwick, Castleford, took first place; Steve Brown and Roger Stutzman, both of Cedar Draw, won second and third place awards.

Junior division tractor driver competitors were led by Howard Stahlacker, Castleford, with Sidney Wing, Cedar Draw, and Kelley Welch, Castleford, winning second and third place awards.

Idaho Cattle for Slaughter Estimated at 111,000 Head

BOISE — The number of cattle and calves on feed for slaughter market on July 1, 1965, is estimated at 111,000 head, according to the USDA Crop Reporting Service. This compares with 95,000 head on feed a year earlier and 137,000 head on April 1, 1965.

Based on reports from cattle feeders, 61 per cent of the cattle on feed were steers and steer calves, 38 per cent were heifers and heifer calves, and one per cent cows and others. On April 1, 1965, 64 per cent were steers and steer calves, 35 per cent were heifers and heifer calves, and one per cent were cows and others.

About 38 per cent of the cattle on feed July 1, 1965 had been on feed less than three months (placed after April 1, 1965) compared with 35 per cent a year earlier and 40 per cent on April 1, 1965. About 36 per cent had been on feed three-six months on July 1, 1965, compared with 38 per cent a year ago and 47 per cent on April 1, 1965.

The number on feed over six months accounted for about 26 per cent on this July's inventory compared with 27 per cent last year and 13 per cent on April 1, 1965.

Gain Is Noted

BOISE (AP)—Idaho commercial hatcheries produced 557,000 chicks during June, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reported today. That was 10 per cent more than in June last year and 12 per cent above the average for the month in the preceding five years.

Cattle and calves on feed for the slaughter market on July 1 were estimated at 111,000 head. The department said that compared with 85,000 on feed a year earlier.

PX-1 PAYS OFF!

NOW IS THE TIME TO PLAN YOUR PX-1 APPLICATION ON BEANS and many other crops

Here's why: Phosphorus is vital to both the growth and reproduction of every plant. During its reproductive process, any plant can very effectively put to use more phosphorus than its root system can gather... even in phosphorus rich soil.

PX-1 is a scientifically developed chemical solution, designed to supply the extra phosphorus needed at the most vital stage of the plant's development. It is applied to the leaves as a spray, hence its designation as a "foliar nutrient." PX-1 is actually at work within the plant in less than one hour after application

Properly timed, the application of PX-1 results in... increased YIELD... higher QUALITY... greater UNIFORMITY... and it's remarkably inexpensive tool

PX-1 may be combined with weed killers or insecticides.

FHA Loans Granted to Area Farms

The Farmers Home Administration loaned a total of $1.18 million to residents of Jerome and Gooding Counties during the 1963 fiscal year. Paul L. Sullivan, county supervisor at Jerome, reported.

The majority of the money, $658,130 was loaned to farmers in the two counties for operating expenses such as seed, feed, fertilizer, fuel and the purchase of livestock and equipment.

23 loans amounting to $482,740 were made to purchase or refinance farms.

New housing in the rural areas was provided with loans totalling $40,710.

President Johnson's war on poverty took tangible form here in Magic Valley with a loan of $2,500 to assist a needy family to pay off a small farm mortgage so they could keep their farm and earn a living.

Frozen Food Storage Shows Drop

WASHINGTON—The Crop Reporting Board said food supplies in cold storage on July 1 totalled 4.7 billion pounds, compared with 5 billion a year earlier. The total weight in storage was the smallest since 1961.

Supplies included: frozen orange concentrate, 85 million gallons, 51 per cent above a year earlier; frozen vegetables, 811 million pounds, down 14 per cent from year earlier; butter, 207 million pounds, 12 per cent below a year earlier; American cheese, 334 million pounds, compared with 339 million pounds a year ago; frozen poultry, 187 million pounds, compared with 211 million a year ago; frozen turkeys, 68 million pounds, 22 million pounds below average; beef, pork and other red meats, 466 million pounds, 40 per cent below a year earlier.

W. GRANT KILBOURNE, former Twin Falls resident, has been named president of the newly created Minerals and Chemical Division of the J. R. Simplot Co.

Kilbourne Named to Head Simplot Minerals Unit

POCATELLO—Four advancements involving key members of the Minerals and Chemical Division of the J. R. Simplot Co. are announced by company president, J. R. Simplot.

Named to newly created positions are W. Grant Kilbourne, to president of the Minerals and Chemical Division; A. Dale Dunn, to vice president of production; O. E. Pothier, to vice president of mining; and Ben D. McCollum, to vice president of sales. Kilbourne is a former resident of Twin Falls.

They have also been named to like positions in Simplot's recently announced Canadian Chemical and Fertilizer Corporation—Simplot Chemicals, Ltd.

"It gives me a great deal of pleasure to make the announcement and Chemical Division and for the many opportunities for advancement such rapid expansion is bringing to our many fine employees."

Simplot noted that the Canadian chemical complex now under construction at Brandon, Manitoba, will be part of the Minerals and Chemical Division and will bring plant investment within that Division to approximately $70 million dollars. "This, of course, has prompted the need for the newly announced positions in order to adequately staff for such a greatly increased production and marketing responsibilities."

Kilbourne, who has been general manager of the division since 1953 and vice president of the company since 1957, now will be president of Simplot Chemicals, Ltd. and president of the Simplot Minerals and Chemical Division.

He joined Simplot in 1945 as pilot, corporate secretary and personal secretary to J. R. Simplot. Prior to that he served two years as a volunteer flying officer in the Royal Canadian Air Force and four years as pilot in the U. S. Army Air Corps during which time he accomplished 128 transoceanic flights.

Kilbourne is a native of Salt Lake City, where he received most of his early education. He has also completed the advanced management program of the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration and extension courses in law. In addition, he is a graduate of several military aviation training schools. Kilbourne and his wife, Mary, have three married children.

SAVE THE POLLINATORS and PREDATORS!

Alfalfa seed is beginning to bloom — caution is recommended in the application of insecticides since the alfalfa bee and leafcutter bee are beginning to emerge. Honey bees and these other beneficial insects are often harmed through insecticide applications.

CONTACT YOUR COUNTY AGENT

THINGS TO CONSIDER WHEN USING INSECTICIDES

- When using materials hazardous to bees, notify the beekeeper so that he may move, cover or otherwise protect his bees.
- Treating a nonblooming crop with a hazardous material when cover crops, weeds or wild flowers are in bloom in the field or close by may cause heavy bee losses. Drift to neighboring fields attractive to bees also may cause losses.
- Treating large areas with repeated applications may cause great bee loss.
- The kind and amount of insecticide used is important. Use the proper dosage of the safest material to bees that will give good pest control.
- With few exceptions, dusts are more hazardous to bees than sprays.
- Applications by airplanes are more hazardous to bees than by ground equipment because of drift deposit.
- Treatments when bees are foraging in the field are usually the most hazardous. Treatments over colonies in hot weather when bees are clustering on the outside may cause severe losses. Treatments during the night or early morning before bees are foraging are the safest.
- Location of bees is important. Colonies located in the field and treated over may sustain more loss than colonies not treated over at the edge or outside of the field. Colonies moved into fields after treatment may escape damage.

Relative Toxicity of Insecticides

The following groupings show the relative toxicity of many insecticides as determined by laboratory and field tests:

Secretary Seeks Egg Controls

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration supported today, and the American Farm Bureau Federation opposed, legislation to permit a nationwide marketing order for table eggs.

George L. Mehren, assistant secretary of Agriculture, told a House Agriculture subcommittee the industry should be given that legislative authority "as a possible useful tool" for establishing orderly marketing and improving producer income.

But Maurine Pickler of New London, N.C., representing the Farm Bureau, said one million U.S. farmers sell eggs and 200,000 of these are commercial producers.

"It would be impractical to regulate eggs marketed by the large number of producers and handlers in the egg industry," Pickler said.

A bill before the subcommittee would permit establishment of a marketing order for table eggs following public hearings.

USDA Notes Broiler Crop Increasing

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Behind the more dramatic forms of racial problems, desegregation has occurred quietly and rapidly in federal agricultural agencies and related activities over much of the South.

Dual staffs of agricultural extension services have been consolidated. Negroes have been named to state advisory committees and review posts for the first time. Functions of 4-H Clubs and home demonstration clubs are being placed on an unsegregated basis. Bilingual committees judge 4-H Club records.

Some of Alabama's home demonstration clubs decided to disband rather than sign desegregation compliance forms. "We cannot see staying in the program under the present circumstances," said Mrs. Leo Pynes of Dupree, Ala. She was president of the Dupree clubs which disbanded in June.

Under the Civil Rights Act, federal employees, such as the county farm agent and home demonstration agent, cannot participate in segregated activities.

"This does not affect our work with individuals," said Dr. Fred Robertson, director of the Department of Agriculture Extension Service at Auburn University.

"It could have some far-reaching effects on our program and cause us to work with some groups, individuals, rather than county or statewide groups," Robertson said.

In 4-H Clubs, Robertson said, "we have to work with schools that either are desegregated or working under plans approved by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare."

These agencies have until Dec. 31 to come into full compliance with the law.

An Associated Press survey indicated, however, that most of the extension agencies in the South have moved into desegregation without trouble.

Spotty Crop Ruin Noted In Gem State

BOISE (AP) — Some weather and insect damage to crops was reported in the weekly summary issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The report said grasshopper damage to crops was extensive in areas bordering rangelands in Ada County. Hail damage was reported in Cassia, Jerome and Mindoka Counties.

Flooding was reported at an end in Butte County, but heavy crop damage occurred.

The report said warm weather with scattered rain was beneficial to crop growth throughout the state. The rain slowed haying and harvesting operations in some sections.

The department reported stocks of wheat on farms and in commercial storages totaled 5.93 million bushels on July 1. That was nearly 3 1/2 times the amount in storage a year ago.

Speedy Process For Homemade Pickles Found

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agricultural Research Service has developed a new and faster method of making cucumber pickles.

It is a short-time fermentation procedure which involves inoculating consumer-sized containers of cucumbers with a pure culture of lactic acid-producing bacteria to cause fermentation. The procedure is called "pure-culture, controlled fermentation."

4-H Supporters Take Definite Steps To Realize Dream of Local 4-H Camp

"All systems go!" was the cry heard at the third meeting of the directors and sponsors of the Central Idaho 4-H Camp Association, Inc., which met last Thursday near Russian John Ranger Station north of Ketchum.

The final decision was made unanimously to proceed with plans to build an adequate 4-H camp, reports Twin Falls County Agent Olan Genn, who attended the meeting along with representatives from the nine counties that will eventually use the camp. More than 100 persons from Blaine, Camas, Elmore, Gooding, Jerome, Lincoln, Mindoka and Twin Falls counties were present.

These planners were told that donations now total $25,000 toward the $80,000 that will be needed. Fund raising projects were reported under way in the nine participating counties.

Assured of the $25,000, the meeting got down to business. It was agreed to seek bids for a 34-120 foot lodge which will contain a 90-35 foot recreation hall, a dining hall, kitchen and restroom accommodations.

Seventeen sleeping cabins were planned for completion the following spring, in time to make full use of the campsite for the 1968 season. The drilling of a well also was discussed.

The planners are working toward a goal of a 4-H camp with facilities sufficient for the 3,500 4-H girls and boys in the nine Central Idaho counties. The camp will accommodate over 200 campers at a time.

The planners felt the camp has been urgently needed for a long time. Funds have been set aside for the past 25 years for the proposed camp.

Last year more than 160 campers were crammed into facilities made to hold no more than 70 people at a time. Further, because the 4-H did not own its own camp, it could not choose the best time of year.

The most important advantages of the new camp, according to Joseph Wurst, president of the Camp Fund Association, are campers will be able to choose dates convenient for them, and will be able to remain in camp longer than previously possible.

In the past each 4-H camper had to pay rent for the use of facilities. This money will now be used to pay for new facilities.

Funds for the building and overall development of the camp will come from 4-H families and 4-H supporters, over and above the fee paid by the campers.

However, "much money remains to be raised to make a successful camp," Genn said.

The amount of money to be raised by 4-H'ers in each county is proportional to the camp attendance from that county. Amounts will vary from $2,000 to $10,000.

Camp programs will include handicrafts, first aid, nature study, water safety and swimming, firearms safety, hiking, campfire programs and recreation. Classes in citizenship responsibility also will be held.

Agent Warns Against Use Of Insecticides Near Bees

Care must be taken to protect valuable natural pollinators when insecticides are used, warns Twin Falls County Agent Donald Youtz.

The natural pollinators, honey bees, leafcutter bees, and alkali bees are valuable assets to our alfalfa seed growers. Careless use of insecticides has resulted in heavy kills of these bees recently in Magic Valley.

State law requires application of insecticides be confined to the three hours after sunrise and the three hours before sunset in fields adjacent to active pollinators.

TEMPERATURES NOTED
BOISE — The weekly USDA weather summary indicated that temperatures averaged a little lower than the preceding week and more than five degrees below normal for the state. All sections received showers, mostly during the first half of the week, with total generally well above normal for the week.

More Dairies Use Modern Equipment

Both pipeline milking systems and farm milk tank numbers are growing in the U. S., according to USDA surveys released in July.

As of January 1, 1965, there was a total of 61,620 pipeline milking systems in the country, a gain of five per cent over the 1964 total.

Milk tanks on farms gained about three percent from 1963. Most popular was the 350-500 gallon capacity.

Farm Income Will Rise One Billion

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Dept. said Wednesday realized net farm income for the first six months of 1965 flowed to farmers at an annual rate of $13.8 billion. This is a billion dollars above the rate in the first half of 1964.

"This is going to be a good year," a department economist said at a background briefing of the agency's mid-year review of the farm income situation. He predicted total net farm income for the entire year would be in the neighborhood of $13.5 billion.

This would allow for some easing off of prices during the second half. Revised estimates show that net farm income in 1964 totaled $12.9 billion, up $400 million from the $12.5 billion of 1963.

The department said rising farm prices in April, May and June of this year, particularly for meat animals, as the major factor in the brightening farm income picture for 1965. It added that with the prospects for harvest generally favorable, realized net farm income in 1965 may turn out to be the highest since 1953.

Prices Paid By Farmers Up for Year

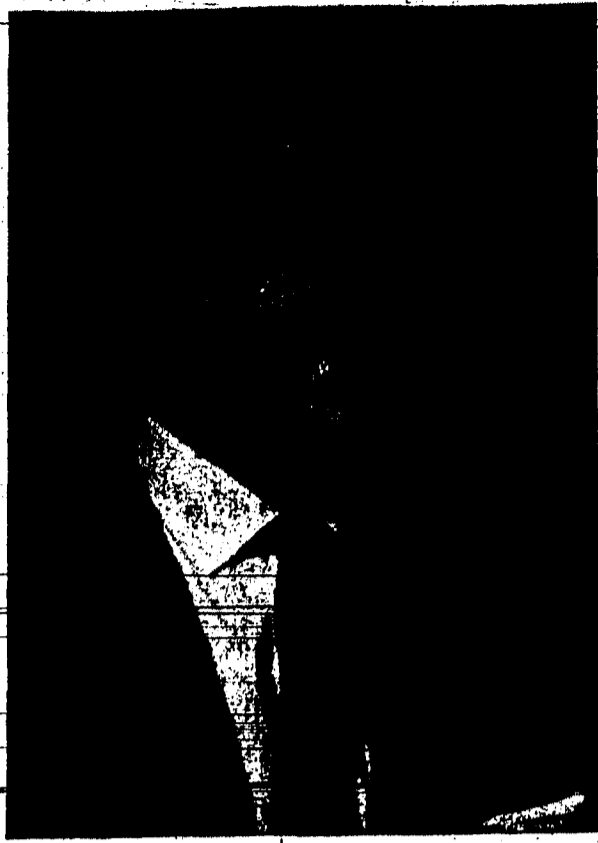

BOISE (UPI) — Prices paid by Idaho farmers for all commodities and services as of June 15 were four points above the same date a year ago.

The U.S. Agriculture Department said the June 15 index was 133 per cent of the 1947-49 average. This was one point above the March 15 level.

"Prices were higher than March for food and tobacco items, clothing and dry goods and household furnishings, while autos and auto supplies, building materials and household operating expenses were down slightly or unchanged," the department's statistical division said.

In contrast, the mid-June index of prices paid for farm production was six points above the 1964 mid-June index. June prices were higher for livestock, farm machinery and seeds. Lower prices were registered for farm power, feed and farm supplies and services.

Unchanged from the previous quarter were prices for farm chemicals, motor supplies and building and fencing materials.

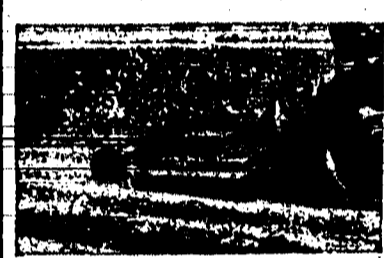

GEORGE G. HARRIS, former resident of Twin Falls, has been sworn in for a five-year term on the Idaho State Wheat Commission. In the early 1930s he was district block man for the J. I. Case Co., with headquarters here. In 1935 he and his wife established the Harris Motor Co. at Buhl. They continued in business there until 1942 when they returned to eastern Idaho to operate a 1,400-acre wheat farm in Teton County. Mrs. Harris at one time was employed by the Magel Tire Co. The couple resides in Idaho Falls.

New Insecticide Destroys Aphids

A new chemical has been found highly effective against aphids, Harry Gault, Simplot entomologist, reports.

The chemical is known as Cygon (pronounced like the capital of Viet Nam). It is not known to be harmful to people or domestic animals.

USDA Moves To Integrate Facilities

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Dept. predicts broiler production in January, 1966, will be 12 per cent above that of a year earlier.

The department said the expansion in broiler breeder flocks that already has occurred will create strong pressure for a large increase in broiler production and low prices through mid-1966.

Strength in broiler prices in 1965 has caused producers to expand their output rapidly. The high retail price of red meats caused consumers to buy more chicken meat. This served to strengthen demand for broilers and keep prices up. Apparently, this was too good a thing for producers to pass up. So they expanded output.

Nitrogen, Straw Mix Is Effective Way to Improve Soil Organic Matter

It is about time to start thinking about putting nitrogen on straw, Twin Falls County Agent Olan Genn reports.

Use of grain straw has been determined to be one of the most effective ways to improve organic matter in the soil. It is "nearly a tie with manure," Genn said.

There is one catch, however. Straw can only do the job if nitrogen is added. Should nitrogen not be added, the straw can do more harm than good.

A good rule of thumb for adding nitrogen is to apply a "real" pound of nitrogen for each bushel of grain harvested. This applies to all varieties except Gaines which produces less straw, and consequently requires less nitrogen.

The application of nitrogen should follow harvest as closely as possible, and the straw should be turned under immediately following the application. This is to insure the retention of high soil temperatures to properly decompose the stubble.

Once in the ground, the straw should be watered as soon as possible.

Genn cautions farmers not to use volatile nitrogen compounds which lose their effectiveness almost immediately. A good application is Uran, a mixture of half ammonium nitrate and half urea.

KANSAS CITY — The American Hereford Assn. has named Herb Richards to membership in its association. Mark Amos and Michael L. Howard, both of Murtaugh, were made junior members.

DAIRIES LEAD CO-OPS

Dairy products represent about one-third of the total net value of all farm products marketed by cooperatives, exceeding that of any other major group of farm products marketed by co-ops, according to the USDA.

Dehydrated Alfalfa Is Protein Rich

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department announced today its scientists have developed and improved dehydrated alfalfa meal, high in protein and low in fiber, as a feed for hogs and poultry.

This new product is made by additional steps in the dehydration process. It also is rich in important vitamins. The new meal consists mostly of leaves and small stems—approximately half the alfalfa plant. The remaining half, mostly stems, is suitable as a feed for cattle and sheep, which utilize roughage well.

Rev. Trunk Still Active At Age 94

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — When the Rev. George M. Trunk does his daily exercises, he often jumps so hard the whole Roman Catholic parish house shakes. Father Trunk will be 95 Sept. 1.

This month he sang Mass in San Francisco's Church of the Nativity to celebrate his iron jubilee — 70 years in the priesthood.

In retirement, Father Trunk's activities range from calisthenics to writing. He has had two books published and currently writes two weekly columns for Slovenian-American newspapers.

Father Trunk also smokes cigars, preferring butts held by a toothpick.

"Half cigars are the best," he said in an interview. "They don't get sour and yet they get all the nicotine."

He said some of his newspaper readers say he's "a little too sharp, a little too much with the new trend. These refugees, you know, they go for old trends."

"We are all members of the human race," Father Trunk continued. "I am convinced that by and by the whole world will be one family, but it might take hundreds of years."

His shook his head. "We are such children. Here I am almost 100 — that's my current ambition — and still it's such a short time. It takes hundreds of years for an idea to be realized."

MISS CASSIA COUNTY for 1966 is Paula Bandy, 20, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bandy, 1927 Schodde Ave., Burley. She was selected at the Miss Cassia County Pageant Wednesday night at the Burley High School Gymnasium. She attended Utah State University, Logan, two years and will be a junior this fall at Brigham Young University, Provo. She took first place in both the evening gown and swim suit competition. Costly Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — Backers of Berry Goldwater, outspent supporters of President Johnson for radio-television time by more than $1.8 million in the 1964 presidential campaign, a compilation showed Thursday.

But the Democratic candidates as a group outspent Republicans by $1.9 million in primary and general election campaigns last year.

The Federal Communications Commission, publishing statistics Thursday on the cost of campaign broadcast time, said the total bill for all parties in last year's primaries and general election came to $34.6 million — with $24.6 million spent on the general election.

Suit Asks Tuition Increase For Out-of-State Students

BOISE (AP) — Third District Court in Boise has been asked to force an increase in tuition fees for out-of-state students attending the University of Idaho.

In a suit filed Thursday, State Rep. Lyle Cobbs, R-Ada, asked the court to issue an injunction prohibiting the State Board of Regents from establishing non-resident fees below the actual cost of educating such students.

He told the court the actual cost is about $1,400 or nearly $1,000 less than the current non-resident tuition.

University of Idaho officials said the $1,400 figure was "a little high" but that the actual cost figures are substantially greater than the current non-resident tuition of $380.

The school is not allowed to charge resident students tuition but assesses fees totalling $201 a year.

In Twin Falls, Board President Curtis Eaton said he has not seen a copy of Cobbs' complaint and declined comment.

He said, however, the board will probably ask Atty. Gen. Alan G. Shepard to represent it in the suit.

In his complaint, Cobbs contends the failure of the board to charge non-resident students a tuition equal to education costs "discriminates against the taxpayers of Idaho and their children of college age."

Cobbs also contends that the taxation for and appropriation of funds for support of students from out-of-state violates the equality of taxation provision of the Idaho Constitution, and that the tuition policies of the board are "an abuse of the discretion vested" in it.

Cobbs was chief sponsor of a bill introduced in the 1965 Legislature which would have required the board to charge out-of-state students tuition fees totalling no less than $750 a year. The bill was rejected in the House 38-40.

Chief argument against the bill was that it might lead neighboring states to retaliate by increasing their out-of-state fees.

More than 2,000 Idaho students attend Utah schools while fewer than 100 Utah students are enrolled in Idaho schools. Opponents of the bill contend Idaho schools could not handle the increased student load that would result if Utah raised its out-of-state tuition.

Named as defendants in Cobbs' suit were Regents Eaton, John J. Pearce of Kellogg; Phillip A. Dufford of Boise; Ezra M. Hawkes of Pocatello; D. W. Hampton of Genesee; Dick Smith of Rexburg, and Alice Walters of Boise.

4-Run Inning Paves Way For Angels' Victory Over Cowboys, Sweep of Series

Pinch hitting Fred Combs lined a bases-loaded single into left field in the top of the ninth inning to ignite a four-run Idaho Falls inning as the Angels whipped the Magic Valley Cowboys 5-2 and completed a sweep of the three-game series. The Idaho Falls victory came on the heels of a pitching duel between Dennis Rhyman, Idaho Falls, and Magic Valley's Ralph Durgin over the first seven innings.

Dodgers Edge Caldwell 2-1, Sweep Series

CALDWELL (AP)—Pocatello turned a walk, an infield out and a wild pitch into an eighth-inning run Thursday night to edge the Pioneer League leading Treasure Valley Cubs 2-1. The win gave Pocatello a sweep of the three game series with the Cubs. Caldwell's Dave Amman and Dodger Mike Pitko tangled in a tight pitching duel with Pocatello scoring the first run in the fourth on singles by George Mercado, Terry Heizenrader and Bob Dacerino. The Cubs tied it up in the seventh on catcher John Hairston's fourth home run of the year. The blow cleared the left center field wall above the 375-foot sign. Lance Brown came on in relief of Amman in the eighth and walked Jim Barfield to third, second, and then took third on an infield out by Bud Hollowell. Larry Lobb replaced Brown on the mound and unranked a wild pitch allowing Barfield to score the winning run. Pitko went all the way to pick up the win for Pocatello.

SIGNS
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Al Bianchi, veteran backcourt man, signed a contract for the 1965-66 season Wednesday with the Philadelphia 76ers of the National Basketball Association. Bianchi, 33, scored 404 points in 60 games last season. He will be starting his 10th season in the NBA.

CHICAGO (AP)—Ron Santo led off the 12th inning with his 22nd home run of the season, giving the Chicago Cubs a 2-1 victory over the New York Mets after New York had rolled to a 14-0 first-game victory Thursday.

Santo hit reliever Larry Bearnarth's second pitch in the 12th after umpires had informed both benches at the start of the inning that it would be the last in Wrigley Field. There are no lights in the stadium.

The Mets pushed across a ninth-inning run tying the nightcap. Singles by Johnny Lewis and Charley Smith knocked out starter Bill Faul and Gary Kolb's sacrifice fly delivered the tying run against reliever Ted Abernathy, who was making his 55th appearance of the year.

In the opener, the Mets sprayed 11 hits in and out of the park as Lewis batted in four runs with two homers — his 13th and 14th of the season. After New York's two-run first against loser Cal Koonce, the Mets wrapped it up with four unearned runs in the second. New York 2-0 0 0 0—14 11 1 Chicago 0 0 0 0 0—0 4 6

Two Leave Camp Of Forty Niners

Quarterback George Mira of the San Francisco Forty Niners left for Key West, Fla., Wednesday after learning of the death of his uncle. The former University of Miami star is expected to return Thursday.

Also leaving camp, but for the season, was rookie line-backer Bill Fisk. A son of one of the original Forty Niner gridders, the younger Fisk decided he was not ready for pro football.

Dave Kopay, last year's top team ground gainer, went 60 yards for a touchdown during scrimmage. Fullback J. D. Smith scored another from two yards out.

Unknown Pro Shoots 66 To Gain First Round Lead in Thunderbird

HARRISON, N.Y. (AP)—Huge Pat Schwab, a relatively unknown club pro from West Orange, N.J., shot a spectacular 66, six under par, Thursday and grabbed the first-round lead in a cavalry-charge getaway in the Thunderbird Golf Classic. The 6-foot-3, 250-pounder, pro at the Crestmont Country Club, had a one-stroke lead over a group of six that included Billy Casper, Jack Nicklaus and Gene Littler. Four others, including Palmer, were another stroke back at 68.

U.S. Athletes Get Pointers Before Meet

KIEV, U.S.S.R. (AP)—U.S. track and field athletes, converging on Russia for their annual dual meet, are told not to wear loud ties and not talk too much. They mustn't brag about how much an ordinary worker back in the States pockets in take-home pay.

They must be very careful how they discuss the American racial situation. They must be truthful, but must also give the proper picture. It's all in a pocket-size hand book distributed among the sportsmen before they disembarked from their plane for the annual battle against the runners, jumpers and throwers of the Soviet Union.

Results of Women's Golf Announced

Mrs. Marlon Undhjem won the low gross in the championship flight of the Twin Falls Women's Golf Association annual city tournament Thursday with a 158 for two rounds of play. Mrs. Undhjem shot an 81 in the first round of the tournament held July 22. Low net winner was Mrs. Jerry Gasser with 148. Mrs. Gasser won medalist honors in the first day qualifying with a 79 and she will receive a trophy.

NFL All-Stars Won't Rest on Past Laurels

WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP)—National Football League All-Stars Lenny Moore and Jim Parker don't intend to rest on their 1964 laurels. The possibility of a forced transfer from Baltimore to Atlanta late in athletic life doesn't appeal to them.

Eagles Work on Passing Drills

HERSHEY, Pa. (UPI)—Coach Joe Kuharich put the Philadelphia Eagles through a lively pass offense and pass protection scrimmage Wednesday for 45 minutes.

"We're trying to get the pass off in three seconds," Kuharich said. King Hill was the quarterback in the drills.

5-Run Inning Gives Boston 6-4 Victory

BOSTON (AP)—The Boston Red Sox broke loose for five runs in a seventh-inning uprising featured by Frank Maloney's pinch double Thursday in a 6-4 victory over the Kansas City Athletics.

Held harmless after scoring a run on three singles in the first inning, the Red Sox jumped on Diego Segui and his successor, Don Mossi, in the decisive seventh.

Romano Lifts Chicago Over Indians 9-4

CLEVELAND (AP)—John Romano drove in five runs with two homers Thursday night, powering the Chicago White Sox to a 9-4 victory over Cleveland. The victory halted Chicago's three-game losing streak.

Culp Pitches Two-Hitter As Phillies Win

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Ray Culp pitched a two-hitter as the Philadelphia Phillies whipped Pittsburgh 5-0 Thursday night and extended their scoreless inning string over the Pirates to 23.

Joe Namath Makes Pro Debut Success

LOWELL, Mass. (AP)—The wraps are off Joe Namath and the $400,000 quarterback is airborne in his bid to win a starting job with New York's American Football League Jets.

Pepitone Is Spark to 7-3 Yankee Win

NEW YORK (AP)—Joe Pepitone hit his 12th and 13th home runs of the season, each with a man on base, to spark the New York Yankees to a 7-3 victory Thursday, squaring the four-game series with the Detroit Tigers.

Mel Stottlemyre went the distance for the Yankees despite allowing 11 hits and gained his 12th triumph. He has lost five. Although they had a man on base in every inning except one, the Tigers did not score until the seventh when Dick McAuliffe slammed a home run, his 13th of the year.

A single by Felix Mantilla and a walk to Lee Thomas brought Mossi from the bullpen. Jim Gosger singled for one run and Bob Tillman delivered a sacrifice fly for another. Eddie Breslow followed with a single to set the stage for Malone.

Pascual Is on Disabled List For 30 Days
MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL (AP)—Minnesota mound star Camilo Pascual, plagued by a small tumor behind his right shoulder, was placed on the disabled list Friday and will be lost to the league-leading Twins for at least 30 days.

A decision whether to operate will be made later, perhaps not until Saturday. The loss of the ace right-hander could prove to be a serious blow to the Twins, whose pitching has been thinned by illness and ailments.

Dave Boswell, 20-year-old starting right hander with a 6-4 record, has been on the disabled list since mid-July with mononucleosis. The youngster was involved Thursday in a car collision in which he received bruises of the shoulder and abrasions. Two stitches were required to close a cut over his right eye.

Jim Grant, due to pitch the opener against Baltimore Friday, is bothered by tendonitis in both knees. Jim Perry, scheduled to work Saturday, has a sore left shoulder.

Southpaw Jim Kaat, slated to hurl Sunday's game, has a sore throat and fever. Despite the walking wounded, the Twins hold a four-game lead over the second-place Baltimore Orioles.

Pascual started against Washington Wednesday night but was forced to leave after 3 2-3 innings when he couldn't stand the stinging pain in his right arm. Gary Roggenbuck finished and got credit for the 8-1 triumph.

Braves Lose 6-2 In Exhibition

ATLANTA (AP)—A quartet of International League All-Star pitchers held the power-hitting Milwaukee Braves to five hits Thursday night as the All-Stars defeated the Braves 6-2 in an error-filled contest.

Jack Damaska of Columbus, atoning for a first-inning error which allowed the Braves to score two unearned runs, was the game's hitting star. Damaska singled, triple and homered in setting the pace for the All-Stars' 11-hit attack.

Then the 6-foot-2 aerial artist triggered a 12-yard scoring pass to Evans in the second period and a five-yard clothesline toss to Tom Krzemienksi of Michigan State in the third quarter before retiring for the evening.

Although a few of his passes were off intended receiver's fingers, Namath finished with nine completions in 19 attempts for 106 yards. He had two passes intercepted and took the blame for one claiming he didn't set himself well enough to throw.

Booster Meet

Paul Ostyn, athletic director at the University of Idaho, will be featured speaker Wednesday at a Vandal Booster meeting at 8 p.m. in the Rogerson Hotel. University coaches will also be in attendance.

One of the topics of Wednesday's meet will be the recent football contracts between the Vandals and Idaho State University for games through 1974. "Anybody is welcome to attend."

Aussie Aces Advance in Tennis Meet

SOUTH ORANGE, N. J. (UPI)—Australia's powerful one-two of Roy Emerson and Fred Stolle have advanced to the quarter-finals of the Eastern grass courts tennis championships but their tormentor of last week, Charles Pasarell, found himself guilty of looking ahead.

Pasarell, who knocked off the two Aussie aces last week to capture the Pennsylvania grass courts title, was the victim of a startling upset Wednesday when he fell before unheralded Ray Moore of South Africa, 4-6, 8-6, 6-4.

Pasarell, of Santurce, P. R., and the fifth seed here, would have met Stolle in the quarter-finals had he won.

Emerson, the top-ranking amateur player in the world, needed only 31 minutes to eliminate New Zealand Davis Cupper Ian Crookenden, 6-1, 6-2, Wednesday. Second-seeded Stolle had a little more trouble in disposing of Dave Power of Fort Collins, Colo., 6-3, 8-6.

Billie Jean Moffitt of Long Beach, Calif., the top seed in the women's singles, easily got past Connie Cristler of Shawnee Mission, Kan., 6-1, 6-0, to move into the quarter-finals.

Casey Stengel Is Recuperating

NEW YORK (AP)—Casey Stengel was reportedly doing very nicely Thursday at Roosevelt Hospital, where he is recuperating from hip surgery.

The manager of the New York Mets, however, will spend his 75th birthday Friday in bed. It will be a few more days before he is permitted to walk with the aid of a cane.

Bears Defeat All-Stars In Scrimmage

RENSSELAER, Ind. (AP)—Third-string quarterback Larry Rakestraw hurled two touchdown passes to lead the Chicago Bears of the National Football League to a 38-14 decision over the College All-Stars in a game-type controlled scrimmage at the Bears' training camp Thursday.

The All Stars, who meet the NFL champion Cleveland Browns at Soldier Field in Chicago Friday night, Aug. 6, displayed a shaky aerial defense against the Bears, who had scoring tosses also flipped by veteran quarterbacks Bill Wade and Rudy Bukich.

Standouts for the All-Stars were Roger Staubach, Navy quarterback, linebacker Dick Butkus of Illinois, and offensive end Fred Biletnikoff of Florida State.

Staubach apparently won the starting quarterback job against the Browns with his performance, which included a 30-yard touchdown pass to Biletnikoff.

Joe Bellino Plans to Play Pro Football

ANDOVER, Mass. (AP)—There have been all kinds of strange bonuses offered to lure football players into the pro ranks but former Navy All-American Joe Bellino undoubtedly is the first to cost 144,000 yen.

Bellino was in Sasebo, Japan, when he decided to resign his commission in the Navy and telephoned the Boston Patriots of the American Football League. The final call, resulting in a contract, lasted 45 minutes and cost approximately $400.

"That's a lot of coins to put in a telephone 10 yen at a time," said Bellino. There are 300 yen to $1.

Remember When?
Put in the palace in England... and No. 10 Downing Street, the home of the Prime Minister... urgent conferences were being held over an affair of the heart. King Edward VIII would not be swayed from his purpose. Either he would be allowed to marry the woman he loved, Wallis Simpson, or he would abdicate his throne. Then came the final moment of decision. Through the medium of radio, Edward spoke to the world. He was giving up his crown for his love.

Remember the year? Well in that year depression-wise American who could buy a new car bought it carefully. They didn't go for fast talk or vague promises. The year was 1936. Wise car buyers today are just as careful. And we don't try to "fast talk" them. We have the car, the beautiful new Dodge and Chrysler. We have the price, the terms and the trade.
