SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) U. S. military sources in Pleiku reported a large Vietnamese relief force reached the besieged special forces camp at Duc Co tonight with little resistance from the Viet Cong. A two-mile convoy of infantry and armored detachments had been fighting its way westward for three days through guerrilla ambushes and roadblocks in an effort to break the siege of the camp.

Strong Winds Cause Damage in Valley

Wind Tuesday night, accompanied by electrical storms, caused considerable damage around Magic Valley. No damage was reported by Twin Falls county sheriff's officers or the Twin Falls police department, although strong winds blew through the area for about half an hour. In Jerome a large plate glass window was blown out of Wilson-Bates Appliance store, damaging a bedroom set and blanketing the interior of the building with glass. A tree on highway 25 near Jerome was uprooted and several power lines were down, with power being disrupted for about half an hour.

Power in Buhl was off for about 45 minutes in parts of the city and about two hours in other sections. Hagerman also reported power failure. Electricity was off in Filer for about an hour.

Gooding area residents noted high winds about 7:15 p.m. with some rain and lightning. No damage was reported to Gooding area officers by Wednesday. Hard winds were blowing on Camas Prairie and some rain was accompanying the storm. Burley residents noted very light winds and a light rain storm Tuesday night with no damage reported in that area.

Lightning struck about 7:30 eight miles northwest of Wendell, causing a small range fire which firemen had under control within half an hour.

Power was disrupted about 7 p.m. for a few minutes until the power company could make a switch-over. Another failure occurred about 9 p.m. and lasted for about 20 minutes.

A tree was blown across a country road one and one-half miles southwest of Wendell, tearing out power lines and knocking over a power pole during its descent.

The Elmer Lowery family, who lives near the fallen tree, was without power late Tuesday night after other sections of the area had power restored.

Bones of Prehistoric Animals Found During Work in Snake River Canyon

The remains of four mammoths, including a baby, the skull and jawbones of a saber-tooth cat, and the teeth of extinct species of bison, horse and camel dating back approximately 20,000 years, have been found in the Snake River canyon about three miles west of the Perrine Memorial Bridge.

Don Crabtree, research associate in flint-working techniques with Idaho State University, and one-time supervisor of the vertebrate and invertebrate laboratory at the University of California, said that to find "four individuals (mammoths) is unique and a saber-tooth cat along with them is quite an interesting thing."

Boy, 16, Drowns at Sublett Reservoir

MALTA—A 16-year-old Malta youth drowned about 3 p.m. Tuesday at Sublett Reservoir about 18 miles east of here while trying to recover a drifting rowboat from which he had been fishing. The body of Mike Endow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Seiji Endow, Malta, was recovered at 9:05 p.m. Tuesday after an extensive search by divers and men in boats. The youth was reportedly fishing with at least one other youth when the accident occurred. They were on the bank of the reservoir when wind came up and the rowboat started to drift.

Endow jumped into the water to swim out to it. Another fisherman on the bank said the youth swam 800 feet before going down.

Two divers from Burley, Doyle Shell and Kenneth Wells, were unable to locate the body because of darkness. A boat with Cassia County Deputy Sheriff Glen Loveland aboard finally located the youth with drag hooks.

The boat belonged to Harley Goodwin, Declo, who was taking his driver's test in the sheriff's office in Burley when the call came in about 3 p.m. Tuesday. He and his son volunteered their boat to join in the search.

Water Bill Signed by President

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson signed today a bill aimed at turning salt into fresh water on a practical basis in five years and then ordered federal crisis teams into five Eastern cities to help meet the pressing drought emergency. And the President also stepped forward with $1,050,000 to expand and step up reservoir projects. Besides this, Johnson said he is initiating a $4 million "comprehensive water resource planning survey for the entire northeast from Virginia to Maine," and ordering a plan of action for pollution control.

Under further measures for mobilizing federal help to the water short northeast, Johnson said he is asking for a report within six months on the possibility of desalting water for this area.

Besides the $1,050,000 put into four reservoir projects, the President directed start be made on planning a new $11 million water supply project at Rexler Reservoir.

The President did not spell out the exact mission of water crisis teams he ordered Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall to send tonight to New York, Philadelphia, Newark, Camden and Jersey City.

He said he had asked Udall to make "hard and fast decisions" on the spot about the aid required for each community. The mayor of these cities as well as governors of the four states, sat in on a series of conferences on the problems rising out of four years of drought in their area.

They also watched while Johnson signed a bill continuing the interior department's research program on desalination until 1972 with prospective spending of $185 million.

Before putting his pen to the bill, Johnson described it as truly historic. It extends through 1972 the Interior Department's research efforts on desalting.

"This legislation will not, by itself—build a single desalting plant in this country," Johnson said. "But this is a commitment toward the breakthrough that must and will come, in my judgment, during the last half of the 1960's."

Mrs. Pfost, Former Idaho Solon, Dies

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Mrs. Gracie Pfost, former U.S. representative from Idaho, died today at Johns Hopkins Hospital. She was 59.

Since she left Congress, Mrs. Pfost has served as special assistant to the Federal Housing Administration director, aiding in the program of housing for the elderly.

Death was attributed to Hodgkins disease.

In Boise, Idaho Gov. Robert E. Smylie said "We are all distressed to hear of Mrs. Pfost's untimely death."

"Her distinguished record of public service," he said, "carried her to heights of accomplishment that established a high water mark for Idaho women."

Mrs. Pfost represented Idaho's First District in Congress for 10 years and was nominated in the 1962 primary election for a sixth term.

She resigned that nomination, however, to accept Democratic nomination for U.S. senator, following the death of Republican Sen. Henry C. Dworshak. She was defeated in the general election by Republican Sen. Len Jordan.

Merit Board Appointed by Gov. Smylie

BOISE (AP) — Gov. Robert E. Smylie announced today appointment of a three-member board to administer the new merit system program which he said eventually will cover 99.9 per cent of the state's employees.

The law creating the board was effective July 1 but the governor said he had difficulty finding qualified persons who would serve because of restrictions written into the statute.

Chosen were Mel Morgan, a Pocatello businessman; Blaine F. Evans, a Boise attorney; and Marcel Learned, a Boise certified public accountant.

Smylie said he had asked Learned to arrange for an organizational meeting of the board, which will name its own chairman.

Local variety stores say they have gone a whole day without even seeing a half dollar and some during the day. Of course, the businesses don't turn these coins in to the banks, but keep them for customer change.

It has been nearly three weeks since the banks have had any shipments of quarters, even though they continue to order them.

One local business taped five dimes together in order to give 50 cents change easier.

Shortage of Coins Still Plagues Area

Shortage of quarters and half dollars seems a more chronic problem than it was a week ago, and there is still no relief in sight, according to local bankers.

Local variety stores say they have gone a whole day without even seeing a half dollar and some during the day. Of course, the businesses don't turn these coins in to the banks, but keep them for customer change.

It is pointed out by bankers that the problem isn't peculiar to Magic Valley but is prevalent all over the state.

Soviet Union Prepared to Sign Treaty

GENEVA (AP) — Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Semyon K. Tsarapkin said today the Soviet Union is prepared to sign a treaty to halt the spread of nuclear weapons regardless of the Viet Nam war.

Carey Valley Water Table Rises Again

CAREY — The water table is again high in Carey Valley after it had gone down somewhat when farmers stopped irrigating while they harvested first crop hay.

There has been a big run on irrigation water since the hay was cleared out of the fields, according to Lowell Mecham, watermaster for the Little Wood River Irrigation District.

Twenty-five inches of sub water are draining off the bottom of a field at Lee Peterson's farm eight miles northeast of town, said W. C. Eldredge, watermaster for the Carey Valley Reservoir Co., which operates Fish Creek Reservoir.

Carey Horses "Shot" for Brain Fever

CAREY — Forty-six local horses were given the first in a two-shot series of vaccinations Monday night after a 3-year-old quarter horse owned by Lloyd Davis was found to have brain fever.

Dr. Glen Overturn, a veterinarian from Bellevue, diagnosed and treated Davis' horse, noting that it had been infected with the western type of brain fever (encephalomyelitis), which is not harmful to humans. The western fever also is not as severe as the eastern type, he said.

However, other horses in the area have been vaccinated for both types, which are transmitted by mosquitoes. The second shots will be given next Monday.

Avalanche Kills Five at Resort

PORTRAILO, Chile (AP) — An avalanche roared down on a lodge at this Andes ski resort early today, killing five persons, including two U.S. citizens and a Canadian.

The avalanche crushed a camp where eight members of a ski patrol had been asleep. The mass of snow and ice hit the lodge, which is slightly less than half a mile from the main hotel, after smashing sections of the ski lift installed for the pre-world championship ski competition beginning this weekend.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

By ANDREW TULLY

WASHINGTON—The Post Office Department, which often delivers the mail—in nice weather—has come up with a typically preposterous defense in the matter of the loss of a half-million dollars worth of collectors' coins entrusted to its casual care.

A departmental spokesman seeks to soothe the citizenry with the statistic that the coin sets reported not received are less than one per cent of the total mailed. That is to say, nobody should make a fuss merely because 36,086 sets out of a total of 3,949,235 were undelivered.

These sets were mailed by the Philadelphia Mint in 1964 and early 1965. They are so-called "proof" sets, sold to coin collectors and dealers for $2.10 per set, although experts estimate the value of each set at $14. Each set contains a half dollar, quarter, dime, nickel and penny in mint, or original, condition.

CALLS FOR INVESTIGATION—Post Office officials have announced that 16 department employees were arrested for in-shipment thefts last year and 20 have been arrested so far in 1965. Neither this fact nor that one per cent loss figure gives me comfort, because I am convinced by now that the criminal inefficiency of the Post Office Department is a subject for congressional investigation, leading perhaps to the dismissal of Postmaster General John Gronousk, who was appointed by the late President Kennedy to woo the Polish vote.

On Capitol Hill, where most congressmen live in terror of the lobbying influence of our 600,000 postal employees, one politician has had the guts to wonder out loud what's going on. Rep. Glenn Cunningham, (R., Neb.), says the missing coin sets are "another prime example added to the thousands I have already received, of the continued poor mail service."

AT PONY'S PACE—I believe I qualify to join Rep. Cunningham's army of victims. Either somebody is picking on me personally or the time has come to junk all those mail trucks and flying machines and return to the days of the Pony Express. During the past two years, I have had to complain to postal inspectors an average of almost once a month about mail that was either delivered late or never delivered.

On Friday, July 30, I mailed a column to the Bell-McClure Syndicate in New York. It arrived on the morning of Tuesday, Aug. 3, although it bore a July 30 Washington postmark. But this was a relatively good performance in the course of our brave couriers' swift completion of their appointed rounds. Several columns dispatched over the past several months never did arrive at their destinations.

DON'T TRUST MAILS—Three Washington lawyers report they never contact important papers to the mails, but deliver them by messenger—even if it means a trip to New York. A citizen says it took four days for a first-class letter mailed in Hutchinson, Kan., to reach its destination in Albuquerque, N.M. Edwin Minter, editor of the Albuquerque Journal, complains that "often it takes several days for mail to get to its destination even here in town."

In the case of the missing coin sets, the Post Office has suggested the thefts were all the Philadelphia Mint's fault. A spokesman noted that the sets bore a provocative return address: The U.S. Mint. In other words, mail will sometimes get delivered so long as the mailer avoids suggesting that it might be valuable.

Views of Others

OUR RIVER NOT OURS

News reports from Spokane indicate a "consensus" of unqualified opposition of representatives of Northwest states still seeking to draft an acceptable Columbia Interstate Compact to any diversion of water from the Northwest to the Pacific Southwest.

This is a pretty fair revelation of the rigidity of upper-basin thinking which has prevented agreement on a compact which could be useful in the decade or more of meetings at public expense. Neither the Washington nor Oregon Legislature has been willing to accept the several compact drafts which had to be tailored to satisfy Idaho and Montana provincialism.

Diversion of Columbia River water and possible benefits to the Northwest as well as the Southwest certainly deserves careful study and appraisal. To win Northwest acceptance, any water sent south would have to be surplus to the future needs of this region, or that below Bonneville Dam which has no usefulness for power, irrigation or flood control.

Those who may have closed minds on the subject will be required, in time, to consider that there is no state ownership of the navigable Columbia River. If a western or national purpose can be served by using surplus Columbia water in the Southwest, with no harm to the Northwest, there is no reason why the federal government should not do it.

A Columbia Compact with teeth in it—that is, an action compact, not the impotent "recommendatory" compact previously submitted to the legislatures—could itself engage in financing and movement of water to other areas, while providing additional irrigation and power benefits in the Northwest. But the history of compact discussions and drafting has been more negative than positive. We continue to see little hope for an effective Columbia Compact Commission.—The Oregonian.

LESSON TO FOREST USERS

Efficient work by 500 fire fighters, aided by rain, apparently has brought the Union Creek blaze under control high in the Chinook Pass country. In retrospect, forest officials undoubtedly will study the operation as a classroom lesson in what might have been done to keep the blaze from spreading to the 600 or more acres finally consumed. However, Yakima Daily reporter Phil Hoon, who spent several days in the fire camps, has nothing out praise for the speed and effective use of personnel in an extremely trying and hazardous situation.

Even so, there's always something to be learned by the men who live with fire danger and gear their summers in preparation to combat it if it comes.

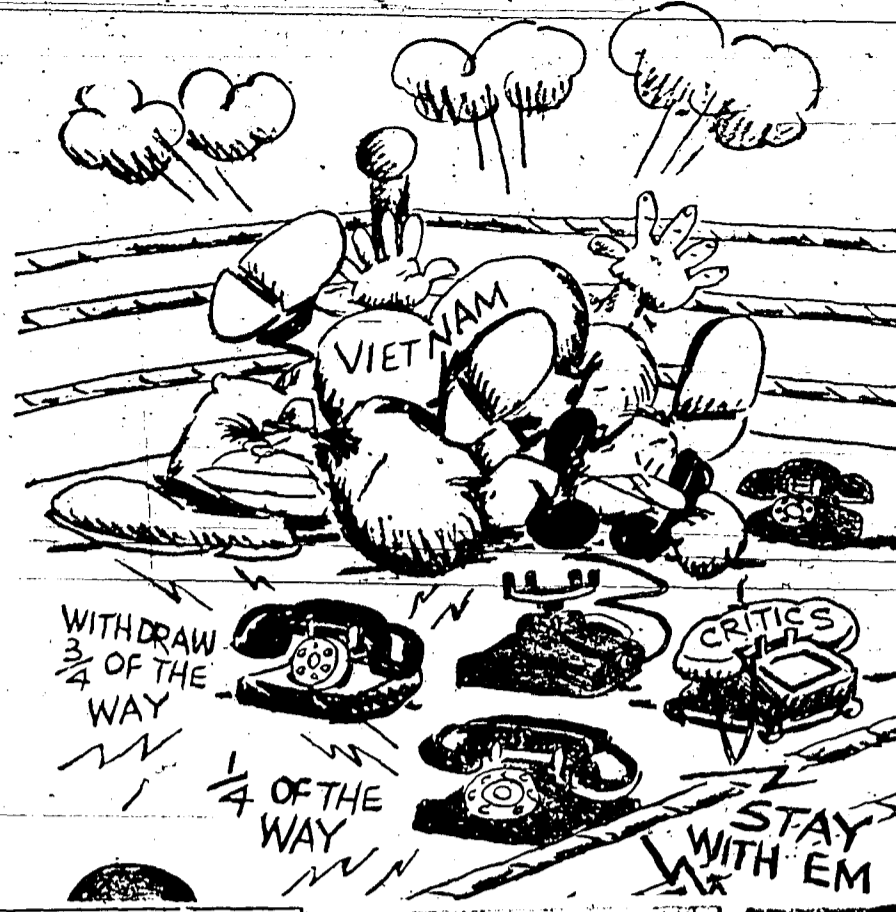

It seems to us there's a lesson, too, for all those who use the forest camps or trails. Even though the big blaze was started by lightning, it is a striking example of what can happen when one tiny fire starts in a dry and crackling forest.

We hope the rain continues to drench the forests until the danger is eased, but inevitably there'll come another day when forest underbrush and debris become tinder dry and explosive. And that's when every woodman, camper, hunter or fisherman should remember the Union Creek fire and the tremendous loss in watershed protection caused by one beginning spark.—Yakima Herald.

"Let's All Reason Together!"

THE LIGHTER SIDE

By DICK WEST

Pot Shots is on vacation. The column will be resumed when he returns.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Among the emerging areas of the world—small territories that are struggling for independence after years of outside domination—is a tiny enclave on the North American continent quietly known as the District of Columbia.

Proposals to grant self-government to citizens of the District have long been a subject of flaming oratory by members of Congress, who occupy the province, and serve as its overseers.

In a burst of anti-colonial zeal, the U. S. Senate has passed a bill to establish home rule in the district.

I, along with many other observers, am convinced that the deciding factor was an inspirational speech by Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., who stamped himself as a sort of latter-day Patrick Henry.

He took the floor and suggested that senators who vote against home rule be required to serve on the District of Columbia Committee "until they change their minds."

This is the committee that handles legislation affecting the district. Typical of the measures it sends to the Senate floor is the packaged cream amendment, described by Nelson as a matter of "grave public policy."

By a previous act of Congress, cream could be sold in containers holding one gallon, one-half gallon, three pints, one quart, one pint, one-half pint or one gill.

"After due and thoughtful deliberation and careful investment of senators' time," Nelson said, legislation was enacted so that cream also could be sold in one-ounce cartons.

At the same time, he pointed out, "we also legalized the sale of Eskimo Pies in the district."

Another vital measure cited by Nelson raised the fee for learner driving permits from $2 to $5.

"Not being used to dealing with large sums, senators can see what a difficult decision that must have been on the Congress to make," he commented.

In ringing words that surely will live throughout history, Nelson expressed a profound belief that "with a certain patience and confidence and faith we may find that the District of Columbia itself can rule upon such weighty matters."

He conceded that district residents, being inexperienced in self-government, might make "dangerous mistakes." But, he added, "in any matter of high national policy there are risks that must be taken."

Besides that, he added, "we deserve a rest."

Interpreting The News

By JAMES MARLOW

Negro demonstrations around the campus of Philadelphia's white-only Girard College continue to create for the U. S. Supreme Court a difficult and unhappy predicament.

The difficulty will be in extending to Girard College demonstrators the gently understanding forgiveness the court has extended to demonstrators in other areas. Civil rights demonstrators arrested, jailed or fined for trespass or violence in the support of their cause generally have been found guiltless by the justices.

As a layman would understand it, the court usually has held that a civil rights demonstrator who violates local law by trespass or violence may not be punished because his cause is just. More precisely, the court could hold that state laws or local ordinances imposing racial discrimination violated the 14th Amendment to the Constitution. The 14th guarantees all citizens equal protection under the law.

It would be reasonable to hold that no one should be punished for violating a law which was a violation of the Constitution. Last December the Supreme Court ruled in effect that the states may not prosecute for offenses in behalf of civil rights which were committed some years prior to enactment of the 1964 civil rights law.

The Girard College demonstrators have been going on for months, requiring hundreds of police to preserve order. There have been arrests for disorderly conduct. The college was founded 117 years ago with a bequest of $5.2 million from Stephen Girard, Philadelphia financier, who directed that the money be used to establish a preparatory school for the education of poor, white, male orphans to the age of 18. The endowment has increased greatly. The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) demands that Girard's will be revised after 117 years to educate Negro youths.

Girard's will has withstood many legal tests up to now, having gone twice to the Supreme Court. The first time up, the court held that the college could not exclude Negro boys because its trustees included municipal officers of Philadelphia. The Philadelphia Orphan's Court thereupon established new trustees, all private citizens. The Orphan's Court held that the governing faculty in the dispute was the desire of Stephen Girard to limit his benefaction to white boys.

The NAACP refuses to accept that point of view despite the Supreme Court finding the second time around that the white-calling the Saigon government "the rebel regime." This may indicate an expectation that eventually there will be an approach to a conference table, where they would want to assert the Viet Cong's right to be represented as a government entity.

Possibly, Hanoi might like to draw closer to the Soviet view of the situation, if it could wriggle out from under the domination of its big neighbor, Red China.

Though Moscow apparently is avoiding overt diplomatic moves, there are vague suggestions its thinking goes thus: It might be possible to guarantee South Viet Nam's independence and neutrality as a means of breaking the diplomatic impasse and permitting eventual U.S. withdrawal.

Peking voices suspicions of Moscow's intentions. After accusing the Russians of "begging the Americans for peace," Peking says the only way to deal with the Americans is to "wage a tit-for-tat struggle."

Q—My son was turned down for a job because he has spondylolithesis. He has always been active in sports. Is there anything we could have done to prevent this condition? Will it prevent him from getting a job that does not require heavy lifting?

A—Spondylolithesis is a congenital condition there is no way you could have prevented it. One of the vertebrae in the lower part of your son's back is malformed and displaced forward. The defect often escapes notice until adolescence.

At this time the victim may complain that he tires easily. He may also have low back pains. This should be no handicap in getting a job that does not require a strong back but, if the condition is known to a prospective employer, he may reject an applicant because of a set policy.

Since surgical correction is possible in most victims who are still in their teens, this should be considered and the sooner

The Doctor Says

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M. D.

Q—A friend has a cancer of the prostate. His doctor removed his testicles but not his prostate. Why?

A—Several years ago it was discovered that in a person with a cancer of the prostate which could not be surgically removed, removal of the testicles would stop the growth of the tumor.

It is customary to give female hormones after the operation in a further effort to suppress the cancer. The first patient who was treated in this way lived 15 years after the operation and died of a cause not related to his cancer.

Since then it has been found that about 80 per cent of all persons with cancer of the prostate can be benefited by this treatment. This kind of cancer is known as "hormone-dependent." Some cancers of the breast are also hormone-dependent and are benefited by removal of the adrenals, the pituitary or both.

Capital Report

By WILLIAM RYAN

President Johnson came into office on a rising business curve. So did President Kennedy. Their promises defied the long history of business cycles—a complex, mysterious and persistently recurring enigma within itself.

What happens if the "myths" of business cycles again prove that it is not a myth at all? Should business turn down? President Johnson says the government will spend it up again. But the effect is to borrow more and dollar-depreciate. And as increase in the debt-dollar means decreased value in a wage-thrift dollar.

The effect on price levels, debt retirement, unemployment, liquidity, credit, the capital flow and the whole virtuous cycle of expansion promptly confronts the vicious circle of doubt, contraction and the confidence factor. And when a man like that is fired, who can he like that the distance the sound may carry or the echoes from it.

By not prudently inventing the balance between our responsibilities and our capabilities, President Johnson looks good. But he does not look far.

TAYLOR'S VIEWS ON WORLD NEWS

By HENRY J. TAYLOR

An inventory-taking time is overdue in this period of great events. For sound policies are impossible at home and abroad without looking at the balance between our responsibilities and our capabilities.

Our responsibilities involve four great confrontations:

1. The merciless certainty that the Sino-Soviet menace will continue. Russian troops still stand within 93 miles of the Rhine, and Cuba remains a Soviet bastion fringed with fire. President Kennedy forecast the Sino-Soviet drain on us for at least another generation.
2. The long-range potential in our Southeast Asia war. This is an unlimited commitment, like all other responsibilities in this enumeration.
3. The protection of the U.S. dollar and—indivisible—the British pound. The full implications in our monetary responsibility, although less widely publicized, make these near as consequential as the Sino-Soviet menace.
4. The potential confrontations of the business cycle. There are many indications of a near-term leveling off which certainly do not forecast a depression. But, in the face of our responsibilities and commitments, where would even an orthodox recession leave us?

President Johnson came into office on a rising business curve. So did President Kennedy. Their promises defied the long history of business cycles—a complex, mysterious and persistently recurring enigma within itself.

What happens if the "myths" of business cycles again prove that it is not a myth at all? Should business turn down? President Johnson says the government will spend it up again. But the effect is to borrow more and dollar-depreciate. And as increase in the debt-dollar means decreased value in a wage-thrift dollar.

The effect on price levels, debt retirement, unemployment, liquidity, credit, the capital flow and the whole virtuous cycle of expansion promptly confronts the vicious circle of doubt, contraction and the confidence factor. And when a man like that is fired, who can he like that the distance the sound may carry or the echoes from it.

By not prudently inventing the balance between our responsibilities and our capabilities, President Johnson looks good. But he does not look far.

Our "balance of payments" problem is really a soft definition for our gold crisis. Federal Reserve Board Chairman William McManama puts this perspective: "We're in an emergency situation. Unless it is solved there is a very real danger that we could have a world depression." Yet on July 29 we gold reserves hit still another new 27-year low.

Now inventory the British side, for the entire free world's postwar monetary system is built on the dollar-pound relationship and gold.

Beyond our advances and others made last November to support the pound, Britain borrowed an emergency $1 billion from the International Monetary Fund. This past May Britain drew $1.4 billion more. Both IMF credits must be repaid. Yet Britain's true reserves for this purpose are practically nil.

I leave in a few days for a trip to Communist satellite countries, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, etc. and Western Europe. De Gaulle, operationally, has all but withdrawn from NATO and the Common Market alike. Some fissures also appear in the balloon of the European boom, beyond Britain. This accounts for the timing of the trip: to see where we stand in our Atlantic responsibilities as well as in Southeast Asia.

Chicken Pox Given to Young Girl

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A mother who exposed her 4-year-old leukemia-stricken daughter to chicken pox in the hope of prolonging her life says "there is barely enough time left for her to break out."
Mrs. Sharon Evans, 24, of Ventura, Calif., said Tuesday the child, Joy Lynne, began failing last weekend and was taken to UCLA Medical Center.
"Doctors have stopped drug treatment," Mrs. Evans said. "I guess we'll just have to pray."
Mrs. Evans deliberately exposed the girl to chicken pox Aug. 1 after reading that some leukemia patients' lives were prolonged after contracting the childhood disease. The incubation period for chicken pox is 17 days.

New Zealand Mother of 5 Goes Home

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP) — The mother of New Zealand's quintuplets held two of her babies for the first time today and then went home from the hospital.
Shirley Ann Lawson gave birth to Deborah and Shirlene. It was the first time she was allowed to touch any of the five babies born July 27.

The 26-year-old mother said she was "overawed by the experience."
Mrs. Lawson telephoned her husband, Sam, and told him to come to National Women's Hospital for her "as soon as possible."
Mrs. Lawson has one other child, a 5-year-old daughter, Lee Ann.

The quint — four girls and a boy — are remaining for a while in the hospital's special nursing unit. Dr. R. A. Warren, the medical superintendent, said they have progressed enough to come out of their incubators but are being kept inside to facilitate the special care they are receiving.

Youth Held For Slaying Young Girl

CORVALLIS (AP) — Gary Lee Hetland, 16, was quietly in the juvenile section of the Benton County jail Tuesday while authorities began the legal steps to try him for first degree murder.
Whether that will be in adult court or in a juvenile court hearing is to be determined.

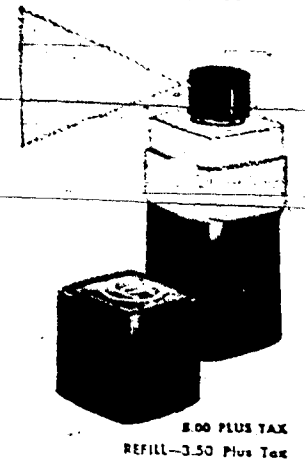

Hetland, who was arrested early Monday near Medford and returned to Corvallis, is accused of strangling Marquita Helen Tester, 16, of Corvallis July 29. Her body was recovered from the Willamette River and Sheriff Ed Ream said an autopsy showed she had been dead when she entered the water.

The youth was taken before County Judge Emil Larkin, the juvenile court judge, on his return from the Medford area, then went before Dist. Judge Robert Gilliland. He was reported to have asked for an attorney. One visited him at the jail.

TELEVISION RULES MADE BOISE (AP) — A ban on use of television sets which can be viewed by the driver of a motor vehicle was ordered Wednesday by E. R. Hopper, Idaho commissioner of law enforcement.

Hopper said his order makes it unlawful for a person to operate upon the public highways a motor vehicle which "contains a television set or similar viewing device, which may be viewed from the front seat of such vehicle."
The order does not prohibit installation of a television set if it is placed in such a way that it can be viewed only from the rear seat of a car, he said.

Crewman Drowns Aiding Friend After Row Boat Sinks

VINEYARD HAVEN, Mass. (AP) — "The boat flipped over and Jim yelled 'I can't swim.' Bob gave him the life preserver—the only one. It was Bob that saved Jim's life."

Charyl Navin, 21, of Lincoln, Neb., was describing the drowning of Robert Goldfarb, 23, of New Rochelle, N.Y., after he had saved the life of a fellow crewman aboard the yacht on which Frank Sinatra and actress Mia Farrow are vacationing.

The chartered, 168-foot yacht left Vineyard Haven Harbor late Tuesday and headed for Newport, R.I. It ran into thick fog, however, and remained anchored early today in the mouth of Rhode Island's Narragansett Bay.

Goldfarb, Miss Navin, the yacht steward James O. Grimes and Margaret Whittemore, 21, of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., were rowing a small boat back to the yacht when the drowning occurred early Tuesday.

"We were out about 15 minutes," Miss Navin said. "There were heavy waves and a strong wind and the water began coming in over the stern. Then the boat sank, right under us."

She said after the boat was tossed over in the waves, Goldfarb became exhausted trying to keep Grimes close to the boat and afloat.

She and Miss Whittemore decided to swim to the yacht. "We couldn't see any lights on shore but the yacht was brightly lit."

The girls said they must have been in the choppy water for nearly an hour before they

Abandonment of Efforts to Force Assessments Opposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — An ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg finding in Congress strong opposition to any abandonment of efforts to force Russia to pay arrears in payments of his country's peace-keeping assessments.

Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen said that as he interprets the sentiments of his colleagues they are "getting real tired" of temporizing on the issue.

France and 11 other nations also are in arrears on peace-keeping assessments. But congressional and other U.S. critics of the situation usually limit their fire to the Soviet Union.

Dirksen, who conferred with Goldberg privately, was asked at a news conference Tuesday if the administration was retreating from its position that the Russians must pay or lose their vote in the U.N. General Assembly.

He replied that so far as he was concerned he was thinking in terms of retaliation rather than retreat.

"We can foreshorten our contributions and aid to the U.N. and its agencies," he said. "After all, money talks. We are free agents to do as we choose."

Dirksen added he thinks the United States should call for a showdown in the United Nations.

"There is no use kidding ourselves or kidding the world," he said.

Goldberg described as "not accurate" a published report that he would agree to shelve Article 19 of the U.N. Charter which says countries two years in arrears in payments shall have no vote in the General Assembly.

The report said that after the Soviets were allowed to vote they would make a voluntary contribution to the peace-keeping fund.

"This matter is still under discussion and our position will be explained fully and clearly when the committee of 33 convenes on Aug. 16," Goldberg said. The 33-nation committee was set up to study the no dues-no vote situation.

State Department Press Officer Robert J. McCloskey said the U.S. position on Article 19 was under review.

Russia, France and the other 11 nations have refused to pay for U.N. peace-keeping operations in the Congo, the Middle East or both. The 11 are Belgium, South Africa, Yemen, Cuba, Byelorussia, the Ukraine, Albania, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Poland and Romania.

The Soviet-Union is about $60 million in arrears and would have to pay about $22 million to get off the two-year list covered by Article 19. France owes about $16 million and would have to pay about $1.5 million to get off the listing.

Charges by Goldwater Are Denied

JEROME, Idaho (AP) — High winds in an electrical storm broke a furniture store's plate glass window here Tuesday night and knocked down powerlines in several communities.

The window was blown out of Wilson-Bates appliance store, damaging a bedroom set and scattering the store with glass. One tree was blown across Highway 33 near Jerome. Another tree fell across a county road near Wendell, tearing down power lines and leaving one family nearby without power for several hours.

Power was off in larger sections of Jerome, Buhl and Hagaman up to 45 minutes.

Lightning near Wendell started a small range fire that was quickly brought under control.

The electrical storm covered Magic Valley but the larger areas of Twin Falls and Gooding reported no extensive damage.

Voting Law Can Change Politics

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Negroes in Mississippi could control one-third of the state's legislative seats if they register as voters, an Associated Press survey showed today.

Negroes outnumber whites in five congressional districts.

There was a portent of historical political change in this Deep South state Tuesday when federal voting registrars began enrolling Negroes.

The survey indicates that 29 counties have more Negroes than whites. Those 29 counties are 40 seats in the 122-member legislature. Negroes could elect 13 of the 52 state senators.

Police Officers Training Program Will Cover Variety of Subjects Here

A variety of courses will be offered in the Peace Officer's training program at the vocational building of the College of Southern Idaho and all are designed to make a graduate of this program readily acceptable to most law enforcement agencies.

The course, which will run for a 47-week period, will be instructed by State Patrolman Wesley Dobbs, who is assigned to Idaho State Police District No. 4 and who also has a BA degree in police science.

The areas of instruction for the program are police history and ethics, typing, first aid, photography, introduction to constitutional law, radio communications and report writing, public relations, firearms non-enclature and firearms, unarmed defense, law enforcement psychology, traffic law enforcement, accident investigation, criminal law enforcement and field procedures.

General operation of the program will be consistent with similar vocational police training programs. This would include class organization into squads with rotating squad leaders as appointed by the instructor.

Citizenship, integrity, and personal grooming will be taught at all times.

According to Dobbs, each student will be taught the skills and safety of firearms and other police equipment such as fingerprint kits, gas equipment and others.

The classes are scheduled to begin Sept. 1. Application forms are available at the area vocational school, 1300 Kimberly Road.

Japanese Aid to Project Offered

TOKYO (AP) — Japan has decided to offer long-term, low-interest loans and financial assistance to the Nam-Ngum Dam project in Laos to be undertaken as part of the Mekong River development program.

The $27 million project is one of the major plans to be carried out under President Johnson's billion dollar development program for Southeast Asia. The United States has said it will contribute half the cost.

New Shooting In Kashmir Is Reported

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Shooting within the Indian-administered section of Kashmir spread overnight to three suburbs of Srinagar, the summer capital, a government spokesman said today.

The firing was reported to have continued until dawn.

The spokesman said Indian troops clashed with Pakistani infiltrators at Chamb, near the 500-mile-long cease-fire line dividing the disputed border province.

The government charged "massive infiltration" by Pakistanis began last Thursday. Troops were rushed to the area.

The two nations have been feuding over Kashmir since 1947 when both were given independence from Britain. The U.N. later intervened and laid down a cease-fire line.

Indian casualties were announced as 8 soldiers and 21 police killed.

Minor Effect Expected by Law in Idaho

WASHINGTON (AP) — Idaho's Elmore County is named in the nation's new voting rights law but a U.S. Justice Department official doubts the county will be affected — unless it discriminates against voters.

"Unless facts are brought to light we don't have," said Assistant Atty. Gen. Stephen Pollak of the Civil Rights Division, "I can't imagine federal examiners being sent to Idaho."

Elmore County is listed with a number of Southern state counties in which less than half the persons of voting age were registered Nov. 1, 1964.

The law provides that literacy tests "and other devices" to discriminate against voters can be suspended if federal examiners find they contribute to the low registration, said Pollak.

He said he doubts that would include Elmore County even though the county has one "device" included in the law. That is Idaho's requirement that voters be of "good moral character."

MURTAUGH — Ermina Kay Wilcox, daughter of Mrs. Sarah Wilcox, Murtaugh, and Carl O. Brinker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Brinker, Bellevue, Calif., were united in marriage July 17 at the LDS Church, Murtaugh.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Bishop Herbert Thorne before a setting of roses and daisies arranged by Mrs. Daris Olsen.
Mrs. Earl Watts was organist and Joyce Ann Goodman, soloist.
The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Glenn C. Wilcox, Scotia, Calif., wore a floor-length gown of white taffeta fashioned with a fitted bodice and long lace lily point sleeves. The skirt featured a lace panel in front and a chapel train. The rounded neckline was centered in front with an arrangement of sequins.
Her fingertip veil of tulle was held by a crown of seed pearls and sequins. She wore a double-strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom.
The bride carried a bouquet of cascading white chrysanthemums centered with a single lavender orchid.
Mrs. William Brown, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Carol Wilcox, sister of the bride, and Linda Bern, Pocatello.

Michael Ward, Salt Lake City, was best man.
Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Cultural Hall.
The bride's table was covered with a beige lace cloth and centered with the wedding cake flanked by lavender tapers in crystal holders. The cake was made and decorated by Mrs. Robert Wilcox, Scotia, Calif., sister of the bridegroom.
Refreshments were served by Mrs. Joffre Jensen and Mrs. John Okelberry. Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Olsen and Mrs. Leonard Bern, Pocatello.
Pamela Wilcox and Esther Wilcox, nieces of the bride, Scotia, Calif., presided at the guest book. Gifts were displayed by Janice Egbert and Linda Wright, Amber Brown, Rebecca Wilcox, John Wilcox and Robert Wilcox, nieces and nephews of the bride, received the gifts.
A personal shower honoring the bride was given in Pocatello by Mrs. Bern.
The newlyweds will reside at Buzzard's Bay, Mass. The bridegroom is stationed at Otis Air Force Base, Cape Cod.

Debris is all that remains of the barn at the Clear Lakes Training Stables north of Buhl. The building was razed in an early morning fire Tuesday. The fire spread to straw in a 1961 Dodge pickup truck also owned by Mr. and Mrs. Bill Butler, who own and operate the stables. Nine horses were killed in the blaze and the truck and a nearby storage building also were destroyed.

The stable had been completed this past year and had 13 individual stalls with an automatic watering system. An adjacent exercise pen and pasture were damaged. Butler said he plans to rebuild. The young couple has been in business for two years, boarding, training and breeding show horses. (Times-News photo)

Verdict in War Trials Is Expected

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—The verdict in the 20-month Auschwitz war crimes trial will be announced Aug. 18, court officials said Tuesday.

Twenty guards and functionaries of the Nazi death factory have been on trial, the largest in German history. A total of 359 witnesses, most of them survivors, took the stand since the proceedings opened Dec. 20, 1963.

The prosecution has demanded the maximum penalty of life in prison for 16 of the defendants.

Holdup

EUGENE (AP)—Gerald A. Lambert, Albany, pulled to the side of the road when a vehicle flashed a red light on the Territorial Highway south of Monroe.

Then the driver of the other car demanded, "Give me your money—this is a hold-up."

Lambert told state police Tuesday he turned his wallet over to the holdup man, who removed $270 and gave back the empty wallet.

Lambert said he could not give a good description of the holdup man because a flashlight was held in his eyes the entire time.

Funds Study Ordered by Idaho Board

BOISE (AP) — The Idaho Highway Board ordered today a study showing how much more money the state needs for interstate highway construction and how it might be raised. The Highway Department was instructed to provide the figures showing the total needed to finance construction and listing revenue that could be produced by an increased gasoline tax or by boosted registration fees. The action came after the board was told by Robert Christensen, assistant state highway engineer, that the total of federal and state funds now in sight will be about $55 million short of the amount needed to complete the interstate system by 1972. Any increase in federal funds available to Idaho, he said, requires more state money for matching purposes. At present, he said, the department has projects surveyed and right of way purchased but work cannot begin because there is no financing.

SURVEYING WORK THAT HAS BEEN completed on the Twin Falls High School parking lot is Ernest H. Ragland, superintendent of School District 411. The parking lot shown here on the west side of the school and a parking lot in the rear of the school have been blacktopped and parking stalls marked. (Times-News photo)

Problems Are Solved at High School Parking Lots

After nearly three months of work, blacktopping and marking of parking stalls on two parking lots at the Twin Falls High School have been completed. As Ernest H. Ragland, superintendent of School District 411, stated, "It has taken a good many years to accomplish the improvement of the parking lots, but it is worth it."

This is the first year the parking lots have had an asphalt top. Since the school was opened in 1953, the parking lots have been gravelled and this created many problems.

Dust was one of the main nuisances, Ragland explained. In the dry months, dust from the parking lots was a problem to everyone. In the wet months mud and ruts in the gravel lots also were problems.

The parking stalls are nine feet wide, making parking much easier. The stalls are marked with yellow lines and there is now space for parking of approximately 575 cars on the grounds.

The parking lot on the west side of the school will accommodate at least 340 cars, the lot in the rear of the buildings, 160, and the parking space along Filer Avenue East, 75.

Land Fraud In Nevada Is Exposed

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two men involved in the sale of 40,000 acres of arid Nevada land advertised as "lush farmland," a "pastoral paradise," have been fined $30,400 each and placed on probation.

Joseph J. Byrnes, 56, and Samuel Reisman, 50, were sentenced Tuesday by federal Judge E. Avery Crary, who suspended a 10-month prison term for each, saying "none of the parties had any record of any kind."

U. S. Attorney Manuel L. Real said the pair sold virtually worthless land in Elko County, Nev., for $6 million. The land was called the Gamble Ranch Development.

AMENDMENT CONSIDERED MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexico's largest labor union, the Confederation of Mexican Workers, is considering pressing for a constitutional amendment limiting the work-week to 40 hours. The normal work week now is 48 hours.

No Respect

WESTPORT, Conn. (UPI) — A hearse, speeding down the Connecticut Turnpike at 75 miles per hour, was halted by state police Tuesday. The vehicle bore a body bound for New York City. "You people have no respect for the dead in this state," snapped the driver of the hearse. "Yes, we do," replied Sgt. Donald White of the radar patrol. "That's why I stopped you."

Utah Mayor Ordered to U. S. Court

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — William A. Barlocker, mayor of St. George, has been ordered to appear in U. S. District Court in Salt Lake City Friday for his arraignment on charges he used security for a bank loan to his own advantage.

Barlocker, under indictment by a federal grand jury, has been served a summons directing him to appear before U. S. District Court Judge A. Sherman Christensen.

Barlocker, ex-president of the Bank of St. George and a former gubernatorial candidate, was indicted Saturday with two former bank directors, Andrew B. Pace and William C. Lasseter.

Pace and Lasseter were charged with embezzlement and misapplication of bank funds. Barlocker is accused of converting a bank certificate for 20,000 shares of stock in American Holding Company when the stock had been pledged to the Bank of St. George for an $85,000 loan.

He told the cadets, here on a Civil Air Patrol exchange program, to return to their countries with a message of fellowship and friendship from the United States.

Hand Injured

FAIRFIELD — Larry Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Jones, Corral, had a hand mangled in an accident Monday in a chain at the Wendell Mill and Lumber Company where he was employed.

He was treated by a local physician and taken by Camas County ambulance to Gooding Memorial Hospital for further treatment. It is reported that two fingers had to be amputated.

BILL PASSED WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has moved to punish any young men who deliberately destroy their draft cards. It passed 393-1 and sent to the Senate a bill providing penalties up to five years imprisonment and $10,000 fine.

The street will ease the congestion of cars entering Filer Avenue from the parking lots.

The city is installing drainage pipes adjacent to Locust Street to provide a drainage system for water coming from the parking lot on the west side of the school.

Engineer for the parking lot project was Charles Glasby.

Twin Falls, Gordon Paving, Burley, did the work. Total cost of the project was $45,000.

Men Injured When Plane Hits Line

FORT HALL, Idaho (AP)—A light plane struck a power line and crashed into a potato field three miles north of Fort Hall Tuesday.

Both occupants were injured but reported in good condition Tuesday afternoon at Bingham Memorial Hospital in Blackfoot. They are Calvin Newbury, 33, and Boyd Thorpe, 30, both of Blackfoot.

A spokesman for the Blackfoot Flying Service said they were looking over a field near Fort Hall for a possible spraying operation.

But the spokesman said he could not say what had gone wrong until he had a chance to talk with the two.

The hospital said both men were in good condition but under sedation and probably not available for questions until Wednesday.

The single-engine plane circled the field several times and made one low pass. Then, witnesses said, it hit the power line. A tail piece was broken off and the plane flipped onto its back into the field near Marshall Rd. just off U.S. Highway 91-191.

Officials Note Higher Fire Indexes

SPOKANE (AP) — Hot, dry weather Tuesday resulted in higher burning indexes throughout forests of the Inland Northwest, U.S. Forest Service officials said. Seven new fires were reported Tuesday.

Highest burning index was 85 out of a possible 100 at the Moose Creek Station in the Nez Perce National Forest of north-central Idaho. The Stevensville Station in the Bitterroot Forest had a 58 mark with other indexes ranging downward to 28 in the Lochsa Station in Idaho's Clearwater Forest.

All but one of the seven new fires were less than one-quarter acre in size. One in the Nez Perce Forest was 10 acres. Three of the blazes were man-caused, the other four set by lightning, officials said.

Defeat of Amendment Is Urged

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Utah delegates meeting here for the ninth annual State AFL-CIO Convention were urged Tuesday to work toward defeat of Illinois Sen. Everett Dirksen's amendment which would nullify the U.S. Supreme Court's "one man, one vote" ruling.

The delegates, totaling some 300, were also asked to push for repeal of Section 14 (b) of the Taft-Hartley Law, commonly known as the right-to-work act. A Wally Sandack, legal counsel for the state AFL-CIO, said the Dirksen amendment failed to win two-thirds majority approval by only seven votes in the Senate.

He urged union members to write and use other resources to uphold the court ruling on legislative reapportionment.

Lone Sailor Continues on Ocean Voyage

FALMOUTH, England (AP) — Lone sailor Robert Manry pressed on toward his first landfall in his single-handed Atlantic crossing Wednesday and after more than one brush with death his problems were just beginning.

This was his 73rd day at sea in the 13 1/2-foot sloop Tinkerhelle since he set sail at Falmouth, Mass. Sailing men estimated he was about 230 miles from the English Falmouth and well within sight of his 90-day target for the crossing.

British newspapers printed a television reporter's interview in which Manry said he had been washed overboard six times on the crossing.

Sailing men said too that these last few days in the western approaches to the English Channel may be the most nervous of the whole trip.

Manry is irone of the world's busiest shipping lines. At night he must keep constant watch against being run down.

At Falmouth, scores of newsmen are waiting to flash his landfall to the world. His trip has especially caught the imagination of the British, ever ready to salute adventure on the high seas.

State police said the ruins of the Prospect Hotel near Parksville were being searched on the possibility that two more persons might have died.

The unidentified dead man and the injured were guests and employees of the hotel, which has a capacity of about 150 guests.

Rain Falls In Stricken New York

NEW YORK (AP) — In a drought-stricken city that uses enough water each day for a quick shower for every man, woman and child in the nation, there was rejoicing Tuesday. The rains had come.

For the first time in more than two months, the water in reservoirs went up instead of down.

In an extended weekend drenching of dry watersheds, 2.4 billion gallons ran off into New York City's upstate reservoir systems. With Monday's consumption amounting to 1.1 billion gallons, a little less than usual, that put an extra one-day supply behind dams.

So water Commissioner Armando D'Angelo's daily report of water statistics began: "For the first time in 67 days, I am happy and pleased to announce we have had an increase in the over-all storage of our reservoirs."

Despite his pleasure, D'Angelo cautioned New Yorkers not to relax their conservation efforts.

Metric Plan Urged by Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Science and Astronautics Committee cleared for House action Tuesday a bill that may lead the way to adoption of the metric system of weights and measures in the United States.

Introduced by the committee chairman, Rep. George P. Miller, D-Calif., the bill would authorize a three-year study by the Commerce Department at a cost not to exceed $2.5 million. The United States now uses the so-called English system — inches, pounds and gallons rather than centimeters, kilos and liters. Britain and some Commonwealth countries are in the process of joining the majority of countries which uses metric measurements.

Car Company Cleared of Wreck Cause

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — General Motors has been cleared of responsibility for the performance of a 1960 rear-engine Corvair involved three years ago in a double highway fatality.

A Santa Clara County Superior Court jury ruled Tuesday in favor of the defendant, General Motors, the world's largest car manufacturer.

The plaintiff, Jose, Calif., Collins of San Jose, sought $400,000 on the contention that a 1960 Corvair caused an accident which resulted in the death of her daughter, and her fiancé.

Mrs. Collins charged that "defective design" of the Corvair's rear-swing axle caused it to go out of control and collide with a truck Sept. 13, 1962, near Merced, Calif.

Her attorney said the verdict was the first in 500 lawsuits across the country — representing $150 million in claims — involving Corvairs manufactured between 1960 and 1964.

Cuban Firing Squads Kill Three Men

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Three men charged with being agents of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency were executed by firing squads in Cuba, Havana Radio said today.

The executed men were identified as Roberto Fernandez Co. by Raul Pereira Castaneda and Roger Sabino Sopena, all crew members of the Cuban freighter "Gonzalez Lines."

The broadcast, monitored here, said men were trained to use incendiary devices, radio transmitters and secret writing materials.

The executed men were charged with being especially trained to obtain military, economic and political information and report it to the CIA, according to the broadcast.

HANDCUFFED TO A border patrolman as he leaves immigration office in Miami, Fla., Tuesday is Roberto Ramirez, 35, former Cuban fisherman. Officials say Ramirez shot and killed the captain and four crewmen of the Seven Seas cargo ship Sunday night. (AP wirephoto)

Cuban Admits Ship Slayings After Argument Over Castro

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Seven Seas, a swaybacked old banana boat whose last cargo was murder, has been unburdened of one mystery.

But two others remain: Who has jurisdiction in the case, and what happened to the ship's cook?

Federal authorities said a crewman picked up Tuesday in the Gulf Stream in the Seven Seas' skiff told them he shot the captain and four shipmates after an argument with the skipper about Fidel Castro.

Roberto Ramirez, 35, a former Cuban lobsterman, told officials he had defended the Cuban leader and that Capt. Rogelio Diaz threatened to turn him over to anti-Castro refugees when the Seven Seas reached Tampa, where it was headed for repairs after leaving Miami.

It was either "me or them," officials quoted Ramirez as saying. They said he told them he shot the captain and stalked after one by one as the vessel chugged southward Saturday night. Three were killed as they slept.

Ramirez said he threw the body of the captain and another shipmate overboard and then left the ship in the 14-foot aluminum skiff. He was found by a German freighter about 60 miles south of here drifting in the skiff, with a 38-caliber pistol in his belt with a baby-food jar full of spare bullets. Fired shells of similar caliber were found on the Seven Seas.

Ramirez was brought to Miami in custody of U.S. immigration authorities where the matter of jurisdiction must be determined.

If it is decided the Seven Seas, registered under the Panamanian flag, was within the three-mile U.S. continental limit, Florida probably will have jurisdiction. If the slayings occurred outside the limit, either Panama or the United States could prosecute, as the Seven Seas is American owned.

Still missing is the ship's cook, Gerald Davison. Authorities said Ramirez told them he had not shot him.

The Seven Seas seemed almost a recreation of a grade B South Pacific thriller when she was spotted Sunday, a drifting derelict. Years ago a graceful schooner, her masts had long since been taken out and replaced by a crude superstructure. Her port holes were sealed, her steel hull caked with gray paint.

Coast Guardsmen found two bodies in bunks in the crew's quarters and a third body on deck. A track of blood led from the pilot house to the railing.

A 17-year-old Honduran crewman, Elvin Burywise, who said he had seen one of the shootings, was found in the stifling darkness of the vessel's anchor chain locker where he had cowered for 16 hours. The seaman said the ship apparently had been headed towards Cuba after the shootings until the diesel engine stopped.

Meanwhile, the Seven Seas

Handicap Is Advantage For Nominee

WASHINGTON (AP) — Charles R. Simpson, President Johnson's nominee for the U.S. Tax Court, is a cheerful, balding former law school faculty member who likes baseball, historical novels and hard work. He's been blind since early boyhood.

In a way, Simpson explained in an interview, his handicap had its advantages.

"You know that you have to do not as well, but better," he said. "So you work harder, try harder, to do a better job. I've tried to do that all my career."

"We've all had problems to overcome in life at one time or another. It's a question of whether you're going to let this thing beat you."

The President announced Simpson's nomination to the 16-member court Tuesday. Simpson, 41, now heads the legislation and regulations division in the general counsel's office of the Internal Revenue Service.

His government career began in 1952 when he left a faculty post at Harvard University Law School to join the IRS. He moved steadily up the ladder. Last May, he received the Justice Tom C. Clark Award for outstanding career lawyers in federal service.

An IRS job he'll never forget was one of his first, Simpson said. "It dealt with the deductibility of losses caused by termites."

"For a time," he added with a laugh, "I was the termite expert around the IRS."

It was an event leading up to that first government job, Simpson said, that was the turning point of his career.

"There was some question about whether I should be employed," he related. "The person who had the power decided that I should." That person was Charles Davis, then chief counsel of the IRS and now a Chicago attorney.

"When they hired me, they asked my wife if she'd go to work there, too. She said yes."

Simpson's wife, Ruth, trained as a nurse, thus began a new career as her husband's private secretary.

She also manages to find an hour or so every night to read historical novels to her husband in their spacious apartment.

HUGE MAMMOTH TUSK lies partially uncovered in Snake River canyon about three miles west of the Perrine Memorial bridge. The tusk, along with remains of other prehistoric animals, was discovered Monday by Burton Perrine Jr. on the Blue Lakes Trout Ranch land, while he and some workers were building a dam for a stream. The tusk is approximately six feet long and 9 to 10 inches in diameter at the largest end. (Times-News photo) were of the Imperial species. Judging from the size of some of the teeth, the huge animals probably stood about 10 feet high at the shoulder.

Several tusks from the mammoths were found, one having a diameter close to 12 inches. Below the larger one the workers found the animal's skull, with an angular rock imbedded in the neck directly behind it. The scapula (shoulder blade) was unearthed near the vertebra.

Both the tusk and skull were destroyed when workers tried to remove them. The vertebra, which was two to three feet below the tusk, was fossilized quite well and did not crumble to the touch.

The largest remaining tusk is between five and six feet in length and has not yet been taken from the ground for fear of destroying it. All of the ivory found at the site was deteriorated and crumbled easily when attempts to remove it were made. A method is now being sought to remove the large tusk without it breaking. Five mammoth teeth, weighing from 5 to 20 pounds, were unearthed Monday and Tuesday. One of the better specimens and a portion of a tusk will be on exhibit at Norman Herrett's Museum on Kimberly road soon.

LONDON (UPI) — Workmen delivered one ton of quick-setting, semi-liquid concrete to the Star public house Tuesday by pouring it through the cellar door. It was intended to be spread out as a new floor—but it dried too quickly. Today the work crew will try to cut through a one-ton block of cement which blocks the doorway.

Market and Financial Report

Stocks

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed higher today for the first time this week. The trading pace picked up from Tuesday's level.

The market was higher throughout the session but stumbled back to higher levels. Prices were around their best of the day at the close.

Steel was strong with U.S. Steel up about half a point. Most other steel stocks were in the forefront for the advance.

Eastman Kodak advanced 2 1/2 points. Gains of a point or so were made by International Business Machines, Polaroid, Xerox, U.S. Smelting, Continental Data and General Electric.

Volume for the day was estimated at 4.7 million shares, compared with 4.7 million Tuesday. Here was the picture near the close:

Great Western Financial, with a half point gain, looked like it would be the day's most-active stock. DuPont, up more than a point also was very active.

Motors grew stronger as Chrysler posted a gain of a point and Ford Motor added nearly a point and Boeing and Douglas down in the same range.

DuPont declined more than a point, holding the averages back. U.S. Rubber and Xerox gained about a point.

American Telephone was up about a point. Stocks were mixed in active trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds were mostly unchanged and Treasuries declined.

The Daily Investor

By WILLIAM A. DOYLE

Q. My brother married a girl who clearly has no brains. Before the marriage, she was buying stock on something she calls a "monthly investment plan."

Now, she wants to continue that plan. The stock she is supposed to own is one of the best. My husband and I own 100 shares of the same stock. My sister-in-law says she owns 31,842 shares.

Not 31 or 32 shares but exactly 31,842 shares, she says. When I asked to see the certificate for that odd number of shares, she said she doesn't have it. She says the broker holds her shares.

And I also learned that she pays six per cent commission on her "investments." We have never paid such a fantastically high commission when we bought or sold stock. What can I tell this foolish girl?

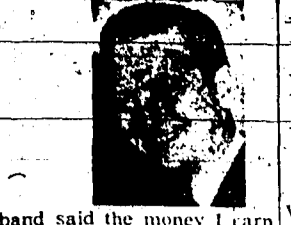

A. You might try one word: "Congratulations." I think your brother has managed to bring some brains into the family. The Monthly Investment Plan (MIP) is a relatively simple way to make steady investments. And steady investments are the best kind.

Through MIP, you can invest as little as $40, or as much as $1,000, every month or every three months in almost any of the stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

It's clear that you doubt that your sister-in-law owns 31,842 shares of stock. When you invest through MIP all your money (less commissions) is used to buy stock. You get full shares and fractional shares — to the fourth decimal place, as a matter of fact.

You feel the commission she pays is too high. As with all stock exchange commissions, those on MIP are on a sliding-scale basis. On MIP investments of less than $100 the commission is six per cent. The percentage commission is scaled down on larger investments.

If you want the details on MIP, I suggest you contact any brokerage firm which is a member of the New York Stock Exchange. Stop heading your sister-in-law. If she's as charming a bride as she is a smart cook, your brother is a lucky fellow. Q. After the children were all grown, I took a part-time job. That was five years ago. My husband said the money I earn is mine. Some has gone into the bank. Some I am going to invest in a mutual fund. I send a check for $20 every month. I also reinvest my dividends in additional shares.

The latest statement I received from the fund showed that I own 245.54 shares. Dividends are paid every three months. The latest dividend was ".028." That I don't understand. Can you explain it?

A. I think you are doing a wise thing. You are putting away money you don't need through a steady investment program. If more people did that, there would be more happy retirements — and fewer penny-pinching retirements.

You evidently understand that you own exactly 245.54 shares. Multiply that number by the "redemption price" (the asset value per share) of the mutual fund and you will know the exact current value of your investment.

The dividend of ".028" means that the mutual fund paid a dividend of two and eight-tenths cents on each of its shares. Some mutual funds (including the one in which you are investing) may dividends in cents and fractions of cents.

U. S. Suits Examined by Officials By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Officials of Texas, Virginia and Alabama were examining government suits to abolish the poll tax today to determine what action to take.

In Texas, President Johnson's home state, Atty. Gen. Waggoner said he would file an answer after the necessary study and preparation. He expressed in Virginia and Alabama.

The suits were filed by the Justice Department Tuesday, the same day federal examiners began registering Negroes to vote in nine Southern counties and parishes in Alabama, Louisiana and Mississippi.

A Civil Service Commission spokesman in Washington said that 1,144 Negroes registered to vote on the first day of federally supervised registration under the 1965 voting rights law.

Music Camp Faculty Lauded For Concert in Twin Falls

By MRS. MARSHALL LeBARRON Twelve members of the Sun Valley Music Camp faculty presented their third annual concert in Twin Falls Tuesday evening at the O'Leary auditorium.

We are indeed fortunate to have the opportunity of hearing such a large group of fine musicians in a single concert. Add to this the fact that each year the program selections have been outstanding in variety and unusual relative to standard concert fare.

Strings and winds dominated the program, and the works ranged from Bach to Bloch. Samuel Thaviv and Harry Franklin performed the "Sonata in G Major for Violin and Piano" by Schubert with the consummate taste of musician-ship required to bring forth the delicacy and romantic nuances of the first two selections and the sparkling vivacity of the final movement.

Barton Frank once again showed his mastery of the cello in "Suite IV for Unaccompanied Cello" by Bach. The tone he elicits from his instrument has all the magnificence one imagines might be ultimately possible.

Harold Wolf, accompanied by Vonille Driver, performed the brilliant "Nigun" by Bloch. In this, Wolf displayed both his strength and delicacy in the flashing virtuoso passages and the beautifully singing phrases.

Too seldom do we have an opportunity to hear flute, horn and oboe of the caliber of the artists Kashy, McDonald and LeRoux-Kashy, accompanied by Vonille Driver, played the "Fantasie" by Faure taking all the runs and trills with ease.

McDonald, accompanied by Marta Bracchi-LeRoux performed the Ravel "Pavane Pour Une Infante Defunte." The French horn can be a perverse instrument, but McDonald seldom seems to have any problems and produces a most beautiful and rich sound.

Jean Louis LeRoux, accompanied by Marta Bracchi-LeRoux, performed the regular Thursday night concert by the Twin Falls Municipal Park band at 8:15 p.m. in the city park band shell.

Also on the evening's program are "The Wanderer" by K. L. King; "Teresere Mic" by E. Bucucci; Samson and Delilah selections by Camille Saint-Saens; and "March Salutation," by Roland F. Seitz.

Following an intermission the program will resume with "American Patrol" by F. W. Meacham; "Flirtations," by Herbert L. Clark, featuring Fred Olds, Arthur Vandenberg and Roy Olds; highlights from "Kiss Me Kate," by Cole Porter; "Hawaiian Medley," arranged by Yoder; "Deep River Suite," by Frank Erickson, and "Royal Bridesmaids March," by John W. Casto.

The concert will conclude with the "Star Spangled Banner."

Nicklaus, Player Mobbed by Fans When Signing in for PGA

LIGONIER, Pa., (AP) — Masters champion Jack Nicklaus and U. S. Open champ Gary Player were among the last of the field of 167 to check in Tuesday for the PGA Championships at the Laurel Valley Golf Club. They should have made it earlier, perhaps under cover of darkness. As it was, it took them almost an hour to fight their way through autograph seekers and well-wishers clogging the 30 yards that separated the registration desk and the clubhouse. At the end they were looking a little frayed and ragged around the edges.

Marical Wins 18th, Giants Edge Pirates

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Juan Marical pitched a four-hitter for his 18th victory of the season and Len Gabrielson's two-run single in the eighth inning provided the winning margin as the San Francisco Giants captured their seventh straight by edging Pittsburgh 4-3 Tuesday. Marical then struck out Don Clemente, Willie Stargell and Donn Clendenon to wrap it up. Gabrielson's two-out hit off reliever Don Schwall gave the Giants a 4-1 lead after Willie McCovey had broken a tie in the seventh with his 27th homer. McGovey's homer, which hit the right-field foul pole, was only the fourth hit off Pittsburgh starter Don Cardwell, who left for a pinch hitter in the seventh. John Pitches Chicago Past Senators 6-0

CHICAGO (AP) — Tommy John blanked the Washington Senators on four hits, hurling the Chicago White Sox to a 6-0 victory Tuesday night. The Sox made quick work of Bennie Daniels, 5-12, who had been one of their major tormentors. They scored a run in the first on singles by Don Buford, Floyd Robinson and Pete Ward, and added a pair in the third when John singled and Danny Cater slugged his 11th homer. Chicago put the game out of reach in the seventh with a three-run rally keyed by Moose Skowron's two-run single. Dressen Benches Tiger Slugger

DETROIT (AP) — Manager Charlie Dressen said Tuesday he is benching Detroit Tiger slugger Willie Horton for a few days. "The rest will do him good," Dressen said, "and he can get in some extra batting practice." Horton has 22 homers for the season.

Baltimore, Red Sox Split Pair of Games

BOSTON (AP) — Bob Johnson rapped four hits, scored four runs and drove in three others, leading the Baltimore Orioles to a 12-4 victory over the Boston Red Sox Tuesday night in the second game of a double-header. Boston won the opener 15-5, scoring 12 runs in the fifth inning. The split dropped the second-place Orioles 8½ games behind the American league leader Minnesota Twins, who trimmed New York 7-3. Johnson had a double, triple and two singles to pace Baltimore's 14-hit attack in the nightcap. Brooks Robinson drove in five runs with a single, triple, sacrifice fly and two-run homer. American League batting leader Carl Yastrzemski went six for eight for Boston in the doubleheader. John Miller, making his second start for the Orioles in the nightcap, gained his fourth victory against two losses but needed relief help from Dick Hall in the sixth. Dalton Jones and Felix Mantilla each collected two hits and drove in three runs in the fifth inning of the opener when the Red Sox produced the biggest inning of the season. Owens Will Retire From Football

FAIRFIELD, Conn. (AP) — Veteran pass catcher R. C. Owens, originator of the famous Alley-Oop play, announced Tuesday his retirement as an active player with the New York football Giants. Owens, 30, said he is leaving pro football reluctantly because "of new opportunities afforded me as a public relations man with the J. C. Penney Co." In their heyday with the San Francisco 49ers a decade ago, Owens and quarterback Y. A. Tittle introduced the Alley-Oop play—a high, floating pass on which R. C. would simply out-leap the defenders and grab the football some 10 feet above the ground.

NEW YORK (AP) — American League-leading Minnesota erupted for five runs in the eighth inning after pitcher Pete Mikkelsen's two-out throwing error and whipped the New York Yankees 7-3 Tuesday night for their sixth straight victory.

Mikkelsen, who replaced New York starter Whitey Ford at the start of the eighth with the score tied 2-2, fielded Bob Allison's grounder and threw high to first base, enabling Zolfo Versalles to score the go-ahead run. You don't have to quite working altogether to draw a Social Security retirement benefit. Starting with 1966, you'll be able to collect your full benefit as long as you don't earn more than $1,200 a year (as compared to $1,200 now). Even if you earn more, you may be eligible for some Social Security checks.

And no matter how much you make in one year, you'll be entitled—effective 1966—to your regular Social Security check for any month in which you don't earn more than $125 (compared to $100 now).

If you are self-employed, the same rules apply. However, you can't get a check for any month in which you perform "substantial services" even if your net earnings (profits) for that month fail to exceed the limit.

There is no hard-and-fast definition of "substantial services." Generally, it means devoting more than 45 hours to your business during one month.

The ceiling on earnings is lifted the month you reach age 72. Then, you forfeit no Social Security benefits regardless of how much you earn.

In figuring your earnings, you count only such things as wages, salaries, commissions and what you net from self-employment.

You do not count investment incomes (such as stock dividends) interest on bank deposits, rents you collect, private pensions, endowments on insurance policies, veterans' benefits, gifts, inheritances, capital gains, or royalties collected after age 65 from copyrights or patents you obtained before 65.

However, rental income is counted if you are a real estate dealer or if you rent out your own farm under an agreement permitting you to "participate materially" in "production or management of production." And dividends are counted if you deal in securities.

A wife's earnings do not affect a retired worker's benefits. But they are counted against her Social Security benefit if she is drawing one along with her husband.

On the other hand, earnings of a retired worker may count against any benefits his dependents are drawing—as well as against his own.

The ceiling on earnings applies also to widows and children getting Social Security checks. But a widow's earnings don't count against her children's benefits—and her children's earnings don't count against her benefit.

During 1965, you may earn up to $1,200 without losing any Social Security benefits.

If you make more, $1 is taken out of your total year's benefit for each additional $3 earned. After you earn $1,700, a dollar is subtracted for every additional dollar of earnings.

Effective 1966, this will be eased. You may earn up to $2,700 a year—instead of just $1,700—before the dollar-for-dollar rule sets in.

Thus, from 1966 on: You may earn up to $1,500 without losing any benefits. After that, $1 is taken out of your annual benefit for every $2 earned. And after you make $2,700 a year, a dollar is subtracted for every additional dollar of earnings.

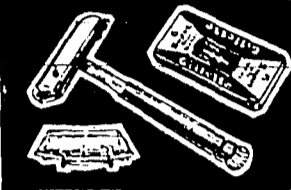

Churchill Gems Taken From Flat

LONDON (AP)—Thieves took jewelry worth 1,500 pounds ($4,200) belonging to Baroness Spencer-Churchill, widow of Sir Winston Churchill, police said Tuesday.

The gems were taken Monday from the flat of Winston Churchill, Lady Spencer-Churchill's grandson, by two men posing as window cleaners.

Lady Churchill's secretary said she was very upset about losing the jewels.

"They were all of sentimental value—one piece especially of great sentimental value," he said.

Work Plan Approved for Valley School

EDEN-HAZELTON — Word from the representative of the Department of Labor indicates that the project plan application for a work training program as presented by Valley School District No. 262 has been approved.

Dr. Thomas Utterback, superintendent, reports Valley High School made the project application through the Department of Labor for participation in a work training program under the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964.

Purpose of the act is to provide useful work experience opportunities for young men and women in the community programs in order to maintain or increase their educational opportunities. The school district will sponsor the program with Dr. Utterback as project manager.

The project plan proposal presented by the school district will employ 25 high school students 16 years of age or over, at $1.25 an hour, based on a 15 hour week.

These students must show a need for this employment and will be screened as to need and ability. They will be given work experience and on-the-job training as janitorial aides, clerical aides, library aides and kitchen aides.

It is anticipated that the total salaries received by these aides would total approximately $16,000 over the nine-month school period. The total expenditure for the project will be $23,594, of which $19,091 will be allocated to the Valley school through the Department of Labor.

Dr. Utterback expressed great satisfaction on the approval of the project, as it will provide the means whereby a number of students will receive on-the-job training as well as enable them to remain in school.

Funds Needed to Continue Wagon Trek of 3,000 Miles

NEWCASTLE, Wyo., (AP) — A wagon train making its way from Texas to McBride, B. C., has been stalled here while the families try to find money on which to proceed.

Don Cunningham, 33, of Olney, Tex., and C. L. Freeman, 31, Iowa Park, Texas, started on the 3,000 mile trek last Feb. 15 with their wives and eight children, 13 head of horses, ponies and mules and a lone heifer. They have come 1,300 miles, but are bogged down without grain for their wagon horses and little money.

Cunningham said he and Freeman have been looking for work in Newcastle since Friday. They would also like to find a trucker who'll help them out on their trip north.

Cunningham explained that he homesteaded a 160-acre area in British Columbia and needs his stock to hold the lease on the land. He said he has an additional 337 acres leased, which he'll lose if the stock isn't on the land by late fall.

Cunningham said he decided to make the trip by covered wagon and trail the animals because he had no money after

Judge Orders Essays From Offenders

HURON, S.D. (AP) — If you're under 18 and you find yourself before Municipal Court Judge Franklin W. Schlueter on a traffic offense — sharpen up your wits and your pencil.

Schlueter has begun using comparatively small fines in teen-age driving cases, from $5 to $25, but he adds an essay assignment on topics ranging from "What Makes a Good Citizen" to "What I Learned in Driver Education Class."

"So far, so good," says the judge, who has used the system since he took office last May. Freeman heard of Cunningham's trip and joined him in Texas.

Schlueter normally suspends teen-agers' driving permits for 10 to 30 days, but lifts the suspension when the youths turn in their essays and tells them "not to come back."

Quits Voluntarily

LA MESA, Calif., (UPI) Robert C. Gustafson, 82, who drove an automobile for 50 years without an accident or a traffic ticket, has quit voluntarily.

Gustafson said that he handed in his driver's license to the state Department of Motor Vehicles. "People drive too fast nowadays," he said.

Friendliness Stressed by Hailey Aides

HAILEY — "The friendliest people in the world live here," said Leo Stavros, newly elected president of the Hailey Chamber of Commerce, as he conducted his first meeting Monday noon at the Star cafe banquet room. Stavros suggested an advertising program which would carry out his slogan, and gave this program as one of the aims of the new slate of officers for the 1965-1966 year. Erection of billboards was discussed. Stavros said he had accepted for the chamber, to complete a survey of all recreation facilities in the area for the Blaine Conservation District to be published in a National brochure. Stavros named Keith Bird, vice president, and Mrs. Roberta McKecher, secretary-treasurer, to assist in this project. Forms for the survey were presented and explained by Keith Justesen, Carey, chairman of the Blaine district and Floyd Dorius, work unit conservationist of the Blaine County Soil Conservation Service. The secretary read a report of operations of West Coast Airlines. Stavros named Ira Hoffman to contact Hailey Mayor George Allen for information as to the Hailey West Coast operations. Oliver Adams was named chairman of the finance committee and authorized to appoint his helpers for the yearly membership campaign. The next meeting will be held at the Star Cafe Aug. 23. 200 Area Students to Benefit
By Social Security Changes

The problem of finding enough money to finance their education will be easier this year for about 200 Magic Valley young people," Wesley F. Watson, Social Security district manager, announced Wednesday. These 200 Magic Valley youths will benefit from that part of the recent changes in the Social Security law which permits Social Security payments to continue to children past their 18th birthday anniversaries and up to their 22nd if they continued to attend school. Under the previous law the payments a child was receiving stopped when he turned 18 unless he was totally disabled. For the payments to continue to a young person in this 18 through 21 age range, he must attend school full time. The school must be a public school or an accredited private school. Attendance at recognized private schools such as beauty colleges licensed and regulated by the state also will permit a child to continue to receive Social Security benefits. The benefits can be paid, not only during the regular school year, but also during the school vacation to those students who intend to return to school after the vacation. This particular change in the law is retroactive to January, 1965. Thus many students applying for these payments now will have accrued benefits coming. "Students who received Social Security benefits until they turned 18 should waste no time coming to see us," Watson said. If they attended school after December, 1964, or intend to return to school this fall, the sooner they come in the sooner we can get their money to them. The Twin Falls Social Security office is at 156 Second Ave. W. The phone number is 733-6050.

Dog, Master

Court Battle

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — A Collie handed down the decision in magistrate's court Monday. The five-year-old dog was the subject of a court battle between Clifton Williams, 45, and his son, and Mrs. Alice Rivera, 31, a mother of four. The Williams claimed the dog was their "Prince." The Riveras insisted the animal's name was "Boy" and belonged to them. Magistrate Samuel H. Lohman let the dog decide. As both claimants stood

Snake Gift

MANHA (AP) — The wife of rural Police Chief Ernest Ricafort opened a neatly wrapped gift package the mailman had delivered, and out slithered a full grown cobra snake. The Philippine News Service speculated the package was sent by someone who did not like the chief. The cobra was killed.

Worker Rescued

BRUSSELS, Belgium (UPI) — Construction worker Jules Swerts was rescued Monday after being buried for nine hours in 30 feet of sand. Officials said Swerts apparently escaped death because collapsing beams and boards formed an air pocket over him. bounded toward Williams, leaping and wagging his tail. When Mrs. Rivera called, "Boy," the dog walked around her and then dashed back to Williams. Lohman awarded custody to Williams and his 14-year-old son, Clifton Jr.

SKELETON PRANK — Police say a skeleton found in Veterans Memorial Fountain pool recently probably was put there by pranksters. The skeleton was wired together and was similar to those used in medical schools.

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

WEDNESDAY, Aug. 11 — Born today, you are fortunate in being both an excellent judge of human nature and a born businessman. This does not mean that business will necessarily claim your interest to the point of becoming your career, but it does mean that, regardless of the career you choose, wherever matters of a business nature enter into the proceedings, you can hardly fail.

Your thoroughness and your high sense of ethics should insure your success in whatever line of work you enter, and your understanding of the motives underlying your own actions or those of others should double that insurance. The fact that you consider talk cheap, and would rather show what you can do than talk about it, should make you a vital asset to any organization.

Two Mishaps Reported in Buhl Area

BUHL — Two mishaps occurred in the Buhl area Sunday with only minor damages reported in each incident, according to State Patrolman Richard Burns, investigating officer.

At 1:50 p.m. a trailer bearing a boat came unhooked from the 1958 Ford stationwagon driven by Melvin J. Bergadine, 57, Twin Falls. The trailer crossed the center line and struck the left front side of a 1961 Ford driven by Mrs. Martha R. Janowski, 57, Twin Falls, when both units met as they rounded the Cedar Crossing curve two and one-fourth miles east of Buhl on highway 30. Minor damages were reported to the boat trailer and $100 to the car.

Terry D. Mullinix, 22, Twin Falls, swerved his car to the right when he met an oncoming car. His 1962 Mercury struck a rock on the shoulder of the highway causing him to lose control of the car and it ran off the right side into a pile of rock.

Kidnaped Ape Purchased by Man for $25

NEWARK, N.J. (UPI) — It's pretty hard to buy a little blonde named Priscilla for $25 — no questions asked.

But Walter Smith, who purchased a playful, vegetarian, well-proportioned 40 pounds Priscilla, found it wasn't difficult at all.

Prissy was a bundle of fun — and fur — as little blonde lady apes are wont to be.

There was one small problem, police said later. Prissy had been kidnaped, or ape-naped.

Smith told police he bought Priscilla from a stranger on a Newark street for $25 Saturday night.

"You want to buy this ape?" Smith was asked.

"Okay," Smith said, "I like apes."

Smith, a 44-year-old bachelor who works as a parking lot attendant, heard a radio broadcast of a 15-state alarm for Prissy, a 7-year-old gibbon ape. She had been chained to a stake outside the home of William Behrle of South Brunswick Township when she was snatched sometime Saturday night.

Smith quickly notified police, who turned Prissy over to her rightful owner and then set out to find the mysterious ape-peddler — a wavy-haired man with bite marks on his face and hands.

Prissy's fickle.

It Actually Rolls On

The Secret is in the Ball Bearing Action. The illustration at the left is similar to what a drop of Acrylic Latex paint looks like under a microscope. The ball bearing-like particles of acrylic actually roll onto surface being painted... reduces tiring brush drag.
