CHU LAI, Viet Nam (AP)—While Viet Cong survivors fled, a U. S. Marine officer said today American forces may have killed more than 500 of the Red enemy in the battle of the Van Tuong Peninsula. Marine spokesmen said 552 Viet Cong bodies had been counted and casualties among the Marine regimental landing force that struck the entrenched guerrillas Wednesday were light. But a U. S. military spokesman in Saigon said that Americans, fighting their biggest battle of the Viet Nam war, had suffered their heaviest loss of any single engagement in that war.

"ALL DRESSED UP and no place to go" are astronauts Charles Conrad, left, and Gordon Cooper, as they waited for their scheduled launch into space Thursday for an eight-day flight. The Gemini 5 shot was postponed because of stormy weather and trouble in fuel and telemetry systems. The next attempt at launching cannot be made before Saturday. ## Storms, Technical Problems Delay 8-Day Space Shot

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—Technical problems and a heavy thunderstorm combined today to force postponement of the eight-day Gemini 5 flight of Astronauts L. Gordon Cooper Jr. and Charles Conrad Jr. There was no immediate indication when the flight would be rescheduled, but it was believed that another attempt could not be made before Saturday. The effort was called off at 12:43 p.m. EST as Cooper and Conrad tensely waited out the countdown while sealed in the cramped quarters of their spacecraft perched atop a fully-loaded Titan 2 rocket.

The chicken pox incubation period of 17 to 21 days ends Sunday.

Doctors indicated Joy was not expected to live more than a month.

Doctors say chicken pox is not a recognized treatment for leukemia.

Missile to Be Launched From Utah

WHITE SANDS MISSILE RANGE, N. M. (AP)—Officials of the 16-month-old Athena missile program, with only 11 successes in 22 attempts, hope to fire another 55 Athenas from Utah into New Mexico in the next 16 months.

"We learn by doing," project engineer Jack Marsh said Wednesday at a program briefing.

But project officers said they haven't learned the reason for the most recent failure, two weeks ago. The fourth stage of the Athena, fired from Green River, Utah, over-shot this Southern New Mexico range and disappeared in far west Texas.

Range Safety Officer Nathan Wagner said the missile stage apparently disintegrated on re-entry over the El Paso, Tex. area.

The program is a study of missile re-entry characteristics.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—Some of the more pessimistic economic head-shrinkers hereabouts are beginning to mutter in their crystal balls about the possibility of price controls as a result of the administration's $2 billion-plus step-up of the Viet Nam war.
Such governmental intervention, they say, may have to come if the bill for the war gets too much higher. In the view of these experts, it all depends on how much more money Defense Secretary McNamara will ask for in January. Pentagon types lurking about Capitol Hill have been offering guesses as high as $10 billion, which admittedly represents wishful thinking on the part of the military shoppers, but Pentagon expenditures for fiscal 1967 are expected to be $4 or $5 billion more than during the current (1966) fiscal year.

SPENDING UP $3 BILLION—The military expenditure will be nearly $5 billion this year, compared with the $47 originally estimated last January. With still more troops already earmarked for the Viet Nam struggle, spending could come close to creating a wartime economy.

Already, the administration has quietly dropped plans for another tax cut, and some fine government economists are even wondering whether the recent cut was premature in view of the worsening of the war. Recent Bureau of Labor Statistics figures reported the biggest increase in the cost of living in 23 months, largely due to a 6 per cent boost in meat prices and a 10 per cent rise in the price of potatoes. Those are basic items, not to be confused with mink coats and diamond bracelets.

MILLION IN KOREA—Against all these gloomy statistics, of course, is ranged the state of the American economy. This tends to dilute a temptation to compare the present situation with the period of the Korean War.
During that costly unpleasantness, the United States was represented on the scene by close to 1,000,000 troops, a much larger commitment than anyone expects will be required in Viet Nam. Moreover, our financial contributions to the Korean government, both economic and military, were much higher.

ECONOMY GROWS UP—The significant point, however, is that America was still a relative economic infant at the time of the Korean war. The production machine was capable of turning out only about $375 billion worth of goods and services, at 1964 prices. Today, the production rate is $650 billion a year—75 per cent higher. There is also a substantial surplus of unemployed.

Yet, President Johnson faces a dilemma. Always a prudent man with a budget, he remains determined to hold down government expenditures. He has already had to abandon his $100 billion budget ceiling, and now he must try to curtail the extent to which the current budget will exceed that unrealistic limit.
In attacking this arduous chore, Johnson will have to face some hard facts of financial life, chief among which is that the Great Society cannot be financed with money spent on bombs and hand grenades.

Views of Others

BOOSTING UNEMPLOYMENT
In recommending a 50-cent boost in the federal minimum wage law and extending coverage gradually to farm workers, a House Labor subcommittee carefully adjusted its blinders to protect its decisions against facts.

Presumably the subcommittee is concerned about assuring a reasonable wage to all who work, and that's a fine and noble goal. However, if in reaching the goal it locks out several hundred thousand teenagers from simple jobs they can handle, will the subcommittee be doing anything constructive for humanity?
Young workers totally unskilled now find jobs at $1.25 an hour. Many of those jobs would merely go unfilled if the employer were forced to pay those same unskilled workers an additional 25 cents or 50 cents per hour. The plan fact is, they're not worth it.

Several Yakima enterprises, including the Yakima Dailies, hire young high school students or graduates to handle office tasks as beginners. The young people often learn the fundamentals of trades which some of them pursue through college and in their later careers. The firms know full well that the young people seldom are worth even the present minimum wage except as an investment in the future of youth. We doubt that many companies would continue the practice—at least to the present extent—if they were forced to pay another $20 for a minimum total of $70 per week for beginners who bring to the job no skills other than normal intelligence.

The subcommittee's recommendation unfortunately is not a departure from federal government trends. Apparently the official theory is that the federal government must extend its fatherly protection to every worker at every level. In our estimation the result is ill-advised control and a total defeat of government's purpose.

In the end America's vast army of unskilled workers—teenagers and adults alike—will be the defenseless victims in an ironical political drive aimed principally at showing the nation how much the administration has done for mankind. It may make fine reading in an election campaign brochure, but to the unlucky men and women closed out of orchards, offices and factories it's a kick in the teeth.—Yakima Herald.

FAIR GIFT?
The other day we were reminded once again of the old saying that old sayings never die. In this case, it was the old saying that one doesn't get something for nothing. When we first saw the headlines, we must admit that we had our doubts as to the continued validity of this particular bit of ancient lore, but the fine print was reassuring.
"Anybody Can Have Fair Pavilion," ran the headline. It set our imagination wildly spinning, but, reading on, we soon unwound.

When we came to the part that "thus far no one has succeeded in moving a building away," it aroused a faint suspicion. All illusion vanished, however, only when the reporter put it bluntly: "The recipient of the free gift would have to assume the cost of moving the building to a new location and restoring the site of the pavilion at the fair."
With this sober note we were reminded that "like Larry gifts fading away," even so the glitter and tinsel of world's fairs quickly pass from the scene. Their once proud pavilions, except for a precious few, await certain demolition.

We cannot help but hope that there will yet emerge persons possessing the imagination and technical skill to give to some of the more architecturally worthy pavilions a new lease on life.—Christian Science Monitor.

THE LIGHTER SIDE
By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—If you happen to be in the market for a second hand truck, painted to resemble a telephone company vehicle, I may be able to put you next to a good thing.

I have a hunch that such a machine may soon be offered for sale in the Pittsburgh area by its present owner, the Internal Revenue Service.

Before I give you the details, however, let me say that nobody with normal humane feelings enjoys seeing another person suffer. It's just that certain types of suffering can be less heart-rending than others.

My own sense of compassion was aroused to a sub-par level a few weeks ago when a member of Congress fell off a golf cart and broke his leg.

And I experienced a similar lack of total commiseration this week when Sheldon S. Cohen, the new Internal Revenue Commissioner, was testifying before a Senate judiciary subcommittee.

Cohen is a fine man and a dedicated public servant. Of that I have no doubt. Yet for some reason the sight of the No. 1 tax collector in an uncomfortable situation failed to bring tears to my eyes.

It may be that mid-July is too close to April 15.
Anyway, Cohen was the first witness called as the subcommittee resumed hearings on wiretap and eavesdropping activities by federal agencies. Which brings us to that truck.

When the subcommittee produced a photograph of the vehicle, Cohen conceded that it probably was purchased by revenue agents in Pittsburgh to use as a cover while they were tapping the lines of errant taxpayers.

He also sadly conceded that said agents in their zeal to enforce the tax laws may have "overstepped proper bounds."

I got the impression that the vehicle may show up on a used car lot almost any day. If you get to Cohen first, he may be willing to let it go now—cheap.

In addition to selling the truck, the commissioner may put on the block a number of two-way mirrors and various "bugging" devices.

He assured the subcommittee that he had ordered his agents to use such equipment with more discretion in the future, if at all.

Some of the electronic snooping didn't work out very well anyway. One attempt to bug an office was foiled because the suspect subscribed to one of those piped-in phonograph systems.

All that the eavesdropper picked up was background music. Which may become a good selling point for "Muzak."

Interpreting The News

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—One crisis at a time. The Johnson administration, busy with war in Viet Nam, wanted no crisis with the Soviet Union in the United Nations. So it backed down, to nobody's surprise.

It had moved toward this position for months. The dispute over the Soviet Union's back dues had the U.N. General Assembly in knots. One U.S. official explained: the world situation is too dangerous to have an inactive assembly.

The decision, of course, was made by President Johnson. It was publicly stated Monday by Arthur J. Goldberg, new U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, in his maiden speech to the world organization.

This was one year to the day after the Communist world warned that the Soviet Union and its allies would walk out of the United Nations if they lost their votes in the General Assembly for being behind on peacekeeping assessments.

This was after the United States had sternly demanded the Soviet Union pay up. If the Communists had walked out, the United Nations would have been left a shell. The United States never forced the issue to a showdown.

Since Goldberg's statement as the American representative was cut and dried, prepared in advance, it gave no insight into how he will operate as the late Adlai E. Stevenson's successor.

Johnson faces criticism from some Republicans, but not all, and it started quickly. "It's a sad day for the United Nations," was the instant reaction of Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa, senior Republican on the Senate's Foreign Relations Committee.

But another influential Republican member of it, Sen. George D. Aiken of Vermont, told the Senate the United States had taken the only practical course left open. Any storm over it will probably subside quickly.

That this crisis could be avoided this easily is a good example of Johnson's luck in foreign affairs since he took office in November 1963. He has had few serious foreign troubles since.

When he did, as happened at the time he sent troops into the middle of the Dominican Republic's revolution just as the Vietnamese war was getting more critical, he got it quieted down as fast as he could.

It was also perhaps lucky for him that Soviet Premier Khrushchev, a constant gad to previous presidents, was removed last October by the Soviet leaders and replaced by quieter men.

The Soviet Union, France, Belgium, Yemen, South Africa and eight Communist countries owed $108 million to the United Nations as their share of the cost of keeping the peace in the Middle East and the Congo.

But the United States made its target the Soviet Union, which owed $62.2 million.
Both the Soviet Union and France argued the decision on the peacekeeping was made illegally, that it was done by the General Assembly but should have been done by the Security Council.

Article 19 of the U.N. Charter says a nation more than two years behind on its assessments loses its voting rights. The Soviet Union, France and the other

The Doctor Says

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M. D.

As we grow older, it becomes harder for our bodies to adjust to extremes of heat and cold. If you are over 60, you should avoid making some common errors in the summer months.

Many persons don't drink enough water. Even if you are relatively inactive, you should drink at least two quarts of fluid a day in hot weather and more if you perspire a lot. Although the popularity of salt tablets is pretty much a thing of the past, you should take a little extra salt at mealtimes to replace what you lose by sweating.

When the temperature goes above 90 degrees Fahrenheit, you can no longer lose heat to the surrounding air fast enough through radiation but must depend on evaporation of your sweat.

For this purpose an electric fan is fine but take care not to have it blowing on you directly for more than a few minutes. It is especially important not to have it blowing on you when you are sleeping or a stiff neck or back.

One point frequently overlooked is that if you are taking water pills and other medicine to lower your blood pressure, you should ask your doctor about reducing the dose in hot weather.

It is not so essential, and in fact may even be harmful, to lose water in large quantity through your kidneys (this is the purpose of the water pills) when you are losing it rapidly through your skin.

By the same token, since losing water from your tissues helps to bring your blood pressure down, you will not need as much blood pressure reducing medicine.

I am a man, 61. I was told I had diabetes eight years ago and I started taking insulin. I have reduced my weight from 175 to 150 pounds and have stopped taking insulin. My urine shows no sugar in the morning, a trace after my evening meal and no sugar before I go to bed. Should I still take insulin?

A. Yours is the type of diabetes that is best controlled with the new antidiabetic drugs that can be taken by mouth.

I have been mildly diabetic for six years and have stayed on a very strict diet. Do you consider the presence of sugar more dangerous in the blood or in the urine?

A. The normal range of sugar in the blood is 60 to 90. An elevation to 120 or more in the blood or any sugar at all in the urine would be an indication that your disease was out of control and should be brought back as soon as possible with diet, insulin or pills.

MARQUIS CHILDS WRITES ON WASHINGTON

RIO DE JANEIRO—The wild horses of inflation that nearly ran away with the economy of this largest nation in the southern half of the hemisphere have been slowed. But they are far from tamed and Brazil is still in the midst of a political-economic crisis, with the result unpredictable.

Sixteen months ago, when President Joao Goulart fled the country and the military imposed a new government, the rate of inflation was nearly 100 per cent a year. The cruzeiro, once 18 to the dollar, was running at 1,850 to 1,900 as the flight of capital to the security of Switzerland or New York became a rout. Today, according to Planning Minister Roberto Campos, inflation has been slowed to a rate of 2 per cent a month and capital is returning.

Campos is in the middle of a balancing act calling for the utmost skill and patience. He must damp down the inflation while at the same time trying to make sure that economic growth is not also stopped dead.

On the high wire with a balancing pole tilted first in one direction and then the other, this technocrat—a Ph.D. in economics from Columbia University in New York—has his critics call him, is making a perilous crossing. As though to prove how free, and often irresponsible, the press is, Campos and his close ally, Minister of Finance Otavio Gouveia de Bulhoes, are getting dead cats and overripe tomatoes from both right and left.

While United States aid this year, with various international bank loans included, of about $350 million has had a lot to do with picking the economy off the floor, certain aspects of the aid program cause distinct unhappiness. In talking with members of the American mission recently here, Campos was frank about the handicaps. He pointed out that of the total aid received by Brazil, 92 per cent must be spent for goods and services in the United States.

This means much higher prices than could be obtained if Brazil could trade with her neighbors and thereby help the economies of those countries. The requirement that goods furnished by aid must move in American ships means an increase of 50 per cent in transportation costs, according to Brazilian officials. In talking about the aid program with this reporter, President Humberto

Castello Branco remarked that about 60 per cent of the total allocated to Brazil stayed in the United States. Too polite to say it publicly, the aid program sometimes looks to Brazilian officials like a subsidy to American business.

The dilemma of all the underdeveloped world is seen in acute form in Brazil. Brazilian coffee yields up to 70 per cent of dollar earnings. Yet the United States cannot absorb all of Brazil's coffee crop, particularly since African coffee has begun to invade the American market.

Coffee producers here believe their product is superior. They complain that North American consumers are being short-changed, since the importers are mixing one bag of cheap African coffee with two bags of Brazilian. This is one reason Brazil is seeking markets in the Communist bloc, with barter agreements between bloc countries.

Campos says a third of imported petroleum today comes from the Soviet Union. But nothing could show more clearly the pressures on an economy in which a single commodity is so vital and especially as other underdeveloped countries begin to compete in the same field.

Yet for all the painful adjustments in taking the patient off the kick of inflation, there are signs of progress. The economy had begun to turn down as manufacturers cut back their inventories.

The turnaround has been checked, and except for housing where an effort to stimulate private savings and private housing construction failed disastrously, production is moving up.

In the worst of the Goulart mess and its aftermath, economic growth had all but ceased, and that is fatal for a underdeveloped nation with perhaps half the population under the age of 20 that must run just to stay in the same place.

A stern effort to collect taxes on a realistic basis is beginning to have a little success. One technique is by the imposition of taxable income. If you live like a millionaire, as a small and highly privileged class do, then you are impelled to have a millionaire's income no matter what you show on your returns.

Criminal penalties for tax evasion are to be applied, which is a radical doctrine for a privileged class.

It happens that America's ambassador to Brazil, Lincoln Gordon, is, like Campos, an economist out of Harvard with long experience in government.

Gordon understands just how difficult is the feat that Campos and Finance Minister Bulhoes are undertaking.

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla.—Gemini project manager Charles W. Mathews, after a computer in St. Louis warned of a possible malfunction in the Gemini-space capsule:
"I'm happy to report to you that the problem didn't exist. That's why I'm saying to you it's go today."

"I never believed in it, not once. But it was his dream."

The four of hearts first; the five of diamonds next and finally the last spade.
West on the other hand would probably let a couple of diamonds go and expert South would lead a diamond to dummy's king and finesse against East's queen.

Put expert defenders in the East and West seats and South would have a real problem. Expert East would see three hearts and would have to make three cards and would also have to help his partner out in the red suit. So East would let go the four of hearts and two low diamonds without any strain at all. West would lead to his best suit, protect his partner's queen by letting three hearts go, hanging on to all his little cards. South might still win things out but the chances are that he would play West for the diamond queen and wind up playing down two tricks.

Youth Ends First Lap Of Voyage

HONOLULU (AP) — Sixteen-year-old sailor Lee Graham, with only two kittens as companions, completed a 2,400-mile voyage from California to Honolulu Wednesday night and described the trip as "pretty easy."

Docking his 24-foot sailboat, the Dove, at Ala Wai Yacht Harbor in Waikiki, the teenager said, "I had no trouble."

The California-to-Hawaii voyage was the first lap of a proposed two-year solo trip around the world.

Graham, of Honolulu, entered the harbor nearly 24 hours earlier than expected. The Dove was at the end of a Coast Guard tow.

Young Graham said he had accepted the tow "for safety's sake."

The fair-haired youth said he didn't want to be "riding around here (off Diamond Head) in the dark."

He described the trip from San Pedro, Calif., as "pretty easy" for 23 of the 25 days. He said he was a little seasick the first two days.

Negroes Enroll In White School

PHILADELPHIA, Miss. (AP) — Twelve Negro pupils have quietly enrolled for classes at the largest all-white high school here.

The pupils registered Tuesday at Neshoba Central High, with one reported in the school's senior class.

There are two white high schools in Philadelphia, a town propelled into prominence last year by the deaths of three young civil rights workers.

BILL APPROVED

LIMA, Peru (AP) — Peru's Chamber of Deputies Tuesday approved a bill for suppression of communism. It establishes the death penalty for foreign-aided subversive activities. The Senate previously passed the bill.

YOUNG ADVENTURER—Lee Graham, 16-year-old who intends to sail around the world in a 24-foot sailboat, completed the first leg of his global trip in Honolulu Wednesday after a 25-day crossing from California. The youth intends to continue on to the Phoenix Islands and Fiji next month. He was greeted at the dock by his mother, Mrs. Lyle Graham, who said she worried every day Lee was on the 2,300-mile trip. But Lee said the Pacific crossing was easy. (AP wirephoto)

Husband of Famed Widow In Custody

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Kenneth Jess Porter, the husband of the slain walk's widow, is in custody after he married her, despite the threat ended her with a gun.

Porter told newsmen in a jail cell interview he had never carried a gun. He said he didn't know why his wife was married to Marina Oswald, the assassin against him "because of his publicity."

Mrs. Porter, 24, the Russian-born widow of the man who assassinated President John F. Kennedy, swore out an affidavit before a justice of the peace that Porter, 27, staged her and frightened her with a gun. Porter was jailed on a charge of threatening bodily harm and released early today on $1,000 bond.

Asked if he would return to his wife, Porter said it all depended on what she wanted.

U. S. Dead in Viet Nam War Are Recorded

WASHINGTON, (UPI) — The Defense Department announced Wednesday that 91 Americans had died in Viet Nam combat through Aug. 16.

The figure did not include casualties sustained in current heavy fighting, which has cost U.S. Marines the heaviest losses of any action of the war.

Wednesday's report said Army fatalities totaled 44, Marine 27, Air Force 91 and Navy 30.

The report also listed 3,021 Americans as wounded and 41 missing in Viet Nam up to midnight last Monday.

The Pentagon said an additional 267 Americans had died in Viet Nam from non-combat causes since Jan. 1, 1961.

3,000-Year-Old Sequoia Is Guarded After Fire Starts

PORTERVILLE, Calif. (AP) — A lightning-tired giant sequoia that was 1,000 years old when Chief was born has a guard of two Indians today, employed by the U.S. government and paid together $4.98 an hour.

Old Solo, the giant's nickname, is 3,000 years old, 51 feet in circumference and one of the oldest and largest living things on earth. Old Solo is 202 feet tall.

It towers on a lonely peak in Sequoia National Forest, east of Porterville. It was hit by lightning last week at the 120-foot level and a fire started that still smolders.

The Indians will be on the payroll until the fire either goes out by itself or is doused by storms. Snow flies early in the Sierras.

The Indians, Al Pervon and Sonny James, pitched a tent beneath the giant and are watching for changes in the fire and fallen embers. They are on a 24-hour watch.

The government is going through all the trouble and expense because Old Solo is one of the irreplaceable attractions of the forest.

Fire fighters have used specially treated water on the fire and bombed it with liquid from helicopters.

The fire is too high for ground attack and too low for the "copter."

Rangers even tried to shoot a line through the branches with a bow and arrow to guide a hose.

Ben Lyons, fire control officer, said he hopes rain or snow will save the ancient sentinel.

Rangers will get supplies to the tree watchers by a four-wheel-drive vehicle. Normally Old Solo is accessible only by footpath.

Contractors To Continue Law Fight

BOISE (AP) — A group of private contractors are taking their fight against Idaho's new contractor licensing law both to the courts and the state legislature.

At a rally on the Statehouse steps Wednesday night, Nampa painter Don McGoldrick said the first step would be a court injunction to keep a September hearing deadline from becoming enforceable.

After that, said McGoldrick, the law should be challenged as far as the state Supreme Court if necessary.

"Our attorneys have led us to believe," he said, "we can take this law into court and break its backbone."

McGoldrick is an officer of the newly incorporated Private Contractors' Association of Idaho.

But another officer of the association, Don Taylor, urged contractors to press their fight on state legislators.

APPEAL PLANNED
CALDWELL (UPI) — Philip E. Koho, 35, Nampa, plans to appeal his first-degree murder conviction to the Idaho Supreme Court.
 Koho was convicted July 18 of murder in the shooting death of his divorced wife, Vincenza Koho, 34, Nampa, last March 17. He was sentenced to life imprisonment.

HOAX
POCATELLO (AP) — Twice Wednesday night ambulance crews speeding to the rescue of what they thought were seriously injured accident victims found they were victims of a hoax.

Roland Milberg, owner and operator of Intermountain Ambulance Service, said Wednesday night's hoax is the latest in a series of phony calls which has been going on for about a month. He said he has been getting at least four or five calls a week.

"This is a very dangerous practice," he said. "We have only one crew on duty, with two on emergency standby for our other two ambulances. Because of these phony calls, we've had all three ambulances out at once, and no service has been available in case of an emergency."

Milberg said that the calls have resulted in useless dispatching of law enforcement officers. Every time the service gets an accident report, the information is passed on to police or sheriff's officers. He said police have had no luck in tracing the calls.

TRANSCRIPT MADE
CALDWELL (UPI) — A transcript of the jury trial in which Frank J. Martinez, 29, Nampa, was convicted of second degree murder is being prepared for appeal to the Supreme Court.

Martinez was convicted of the beating death of Michael Coburn, 34 months, Nampa, at the child's home July 30, 1964.
 He filed notice of appeal to the high court on July 23.

Libel Suit Is Dismissed
INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP) — A libel suit filed by Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker against the Kansas City Star Co. and The Associated Press has been dismissed.
 Walker's suit, filed Sept. 24, 1964, asked $1 million in damages. Walker charged he was libeled in news stories about disturbances at the University of Mississippi at Oxford when James Meredith, a Negro, sought admission there Sept. 30, 1962.

COMPLETE STUDY
BOISE (AP) — A complete study of school bus transportation in Idaho that may become the basis of proposals for new laws in the 1967 Legislature is being conducted by a Legislative Council committee.
 The 1965 Legislature ordered the council to study safety rules, bus routes and the amount of funds the state should contribute to bus transportation in public school districts.

PROSPECTOR FOUND
SALMON (UPI) — A prospector reported missing Sunday in the Salmon River country has been found unharmed.

40-Day Peace Fast Fatal For Minister

OROVILLE, Calif. (AP) — The Rev. George J. Strong, 59, died in Butte County Hospital here Wednesday after fasting for almost 40 days for world peace.
 Rev. Strong, pastor of the Bethel African Methodist Church in Chico, Calif., for 12 years was taken to the hospital Monday by his wife, Louella.

A hospital spokesman said he had been fasting for at least 33 days but did not know the exact number.
 The Negro minister was fed intravenously when he arrived at the hospital, the spokesman said, but he died early Wednesday morning.
 Strong, a native of Tennessee, had served in churches in Los Angeles and Oakland, Calif. He leaves his widow, five daughters and four sons.

"THE MUSIC MAN", upcoming Dilettante Group of Magic Valley production, will have as its director Mrs. Aldrich Bowler. Bliss, Mrs. Bowler is well-known for her work and interest in the theater. (Times-News photo)

Mrs. Bowler Is Chosen as Director for "Music Man"

Director for the next Dilettante Group of Magic Valley production, "The Music Man," is no newcomer to the theatrical world. Mrs. Aldrich (D) Bowler, Bliss, has been active and interested in the theater since her pre-college days.
 Mrs. Bowler says her one real claim to fame is that she was a classmate of Broadway and movie actress Carol Channing at Bennington College in Vermont.

Mrs. Bowler, from suburban Philadelphia, attended the University of Idaho, where she worked in and directed several student productions. She helped organize a theater group during the late 1940's in Gooding, and acted in and was assistant director in the three productions put on by the group.
 She has been active in the Antique Festival Theater at Buhl, doing script work for Gay's "Beggars' Opera" and Moliere's "Intellectual Ladies." During World War II she costumed, stage-managed and toured with shows to college towns.
 During this same period she did volunteer work at hospitals in therapy programs, doing work in a relatively new field, physio-drama, helping shell-shocked soldiers with therapy through drama.

Mrs. Bowler said it was a very rewarding experience and is a therapy method still used today.
 During her college days at Bennington she spent two summers with the Farragut Players at Rye Beach, N.H., where she met her husband.
 While "kicking around" New York for several years she landed an understudy job with a short-lived Broadway play, "Fledgling," and three weeks' run with an experimental folk musical, "Johnny Doodle."
 At one time she was offered the lead in the first road show of "Deep Are the Roots." About this time her husband was offered the position of director at Phoenix Little Theater, but both turned down their offers to keep from being separated and returned to Gooding where Bowler and her husband both have taught school in Idaho and presently keep busy with their Snake River Pottery Co. and theatrical groups throughout the valley.

 Auditions for "The Music Man" will be held at 8 p.m. Sept. 18 and 2 p.m. and 7 p.m. Sept. 19. Saturday night auditions are for those interested in principal parts.
 Sunday auditions at 2 p.m. are for children's parts and Mrs. Bowler reports "we need lots of children." Auditions at 7 p.m. Sunday are for minor, chorus and dancing parts.
 Mrs. Bowler stresses that anyone interested in working with the show in any capacity, on or off stage, should attend auditions, get signed up and acquainted with the group.
 She urges anyone in Magic Valley to make an appearance, as the Dilettante group is "always interested in new faces" and the show has an opportunity for a good sized chorus, lots of dancers and many small parts.
 Anyone trying for a lead in "The Music Man" should come prepared to sing a song from the show. Those trying for chorus parts should be prepared to sing a song from "The Music

Montana Man Injured in Bomb Blast

BOITE (UPI) — An explosion ripped a hole in the back of the car of gambling advocate Charles R. Lee early Thursday, a day after he said he was warned to get out of the stamp business and politics or he would be "put on a slab of concrete."

Lee suffered a deep gash in his upper right arm and a number of smaller cuts from glass left in frame of a window when he climbed through it. The window was in front of his second story bedroom, about 10 or 15 feet from the car at the curb.
 "I thought one of my kids had fallen out of a window when I first heard the dynamite charge go off," Lee said at his hospital room. "So I got out the window onto a small porch to look."
 Police theorized the blast resulted from a single stick of dynamite laid on the top of the trunk of the 1963 Lincoln Continental. The blast tore a foot long hole in the trunk and it knocked out the rear window of the car.

Interested applicants should file under Civil Service Examination—Announcement—SE-4-38 (1963). This examination includes a written test as well as minimum qualifying experience.
 Filing forms and additional information may be obtained from any post office Civil Service information representative or by contacting the Northwest Board of Civil Service Examiners, 1002, N.E. Holladay St., Federal Building, Portland.

Substitute Parent Plan Is Suggested

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — A substitute parents plan has been suggested for youths released from the Utah Industrial School.
 A seminar at the University of Utah offered the suggestion which would require youths released from the school to live for a year with substitute parents before returning to the community.
 The substitute parents would be paid by the state and would be responsible for about six released youths.

The suggestion came in a Utah State University, Utah Legislative Council and university law school meeting on social problems Wednesday.
 The seminar participants such a program would be preparing youths better to return to communities than if they were returned directly to their homes, which participants might have resulted in youths' delinquency.

Kansas City Car Dealer to Display Toy Collection

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Jerry Smith might be the envy of many children. The walls of his home are lined with more than 2,000 toys.

But Smith, 48, says his three daughters, ranging in age from 11 to 17, couldn't care less. They find it "somewhat unbelievable" that beginning Dec. 1 people in New York City are expected to visit a Fifth Avenue gallery to see "dad's toys."

Smith has shipped 1,300 toys for display in scenes of spring on the farm, Central Park, city market, the circus, and the big fire. Others will be placed in a model of an old fashioned toy store.

"I have dreamed of something like this," said Smith in an interview. "I want to share my hobby with other people and especially with kids."

Smith, a Kansas City motor car dealer, has assigned all funds paid to him for use of the toys to a charitable trust. Most of the money will go to underprivileged children.

Smith became a toy collector about 11 years ago. He was looking for "a little toy tractor similar to the one I had as a kid during the depression. I asked my sister, who is an antique buff, to pick one up. She brought back not one, but several, including one with a wagon just like the wagon we used on the farm."

Reports of Unrest Spark Urgent Trip

KUALA LUMPUR (AP)—Malaysia's Prime Minister Tun Abdul Rahman made an emergency trip to Malaysia today amid reports of mounting political unrest there showing the break between Singapore and the Malaysian federation.

The prime minister flew to Sarawak, one of Malaysia's two new states, and was also expected to visit the other, Sabah.

Rahman announced last week he would send Deputy Premier Abdul Razak to Borneo to gain the Singapore separatists and go himself later. This had not been expected to take place before the Aug. 31 celebration of Malaysia's second anniversary.

The urgency of the situation is underlined by Rahman's departure on the day the sultans of the nine Malay states are electing a new king of the federation. The prime minister had been scheduled to announce the results of the secret royal election.

Hearing Set for Youths in Murder

LARAMIE, Wyo. (AP)—Three teenage youths have been ordered to appear Aug. 26 for their preliminary hearing in connection with the death of Scott Nelson, 17, Idaho Falls, Idaho in a shooting.

Charles Borrego, 17, Nick Coca, 18, and Raymond Lujan, 18, of Laramie, were arraigned Wednesday on charges of second degree murder.

They did not enter a plea when they appeared before Justice of the Peace Earl Williams. They were returned to custody of the Albany County sheriff's office after bond of $15,000 each was set.

Nelson was visiting his brother here when he died in a fight a dance.

An autopsy, according to the county coroner, showed Nelson's death was caused by asphyxiation from vomit inhaled into his lungs.

Enlistment Authority Requested

WASHINGTON (AP)—The chief of naval operations, Adm. David L. McDonald, urged Wednesday that Congress give the armed services the authority the Navy now has to extend enlistments involuntarily.

McDonald told the House Armed Services Committee he believed he was expressing the sentiments of his Army and Air Force colleagues on the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

The Navy has this authority under the 1950 Korean War emergency which has never been repealed. However, the giving this authority does not include the Army and Air Force.

McDonald said: "I don't believe many people realize how badly we need personnel." Personal problems also are plaguing the Marine Corps, the Army Commandant, Gen. Walter M. Greene Jr. said.

Coast Fishermen Have Big Week

OLYMPIA (AP)—Sports fishermen hauled in an average of two salmon apiece from charter boats and a fish each from kicker boats last weekend off the coast, the State Fisheries Department said Tuesday.

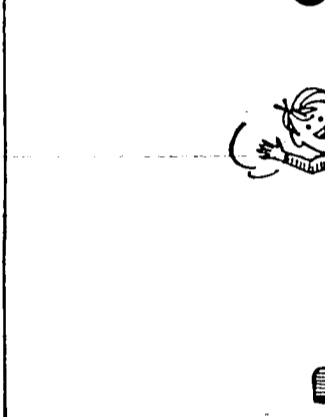

The department said 405 charter boat anglers caught 840 silvers, 188 chinook and 15 pinkies off Ilwaco. The 622 kicker boat anglers hauled in 226 chinook and 760 silvers.

The 851 charter boat anglers got 628 limits of three fish apiece.

At Westport, 851 charter boat fishermen caught 1,662 silvers, and 409 chinook. The kicker boat fishermen got 121 chinook and 183 silvers.

Carolyn Morris Is Bride of William Weston

JEROME — Carolyn Morris, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Harold Morris, became the bride of William Terry Weston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Weston, Bellevue, Wash., in a ceremony July 9 at the First Baptist Church, Kirkland, Wash.

The double ring ceremony was performed before an altar decorated with white gladioli and delphinium arranged in wrought iron standards with white satin streamers. Tree candelabra with white tapers completed the setting.

The bride wore a full-length gown of silk organza, fashioned with an empire bodice of Chantilly lace and seed pearls. The skirt fell into a full chapel train. Her bouffant veil of silk illusion was held by a tiara of silk organza. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis on a white Bible as she was escorted down the aisle by her brother, Robert A. Morris.

Gave Morris, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Jeanne Weston, sister of the bridegroom, Karen Abe and Lila Riley. Cindy Kawahara served as

Writer Reports Studies on Grandparents

By RUTH MILLETT
NEW YORK—The generation of parents just now becoming grandparents was analyzed to death by the experts.

For years as they tried to bring up their children as best they could, they heard about overly permissive parents, about parents who were too rigid disciplinarians, about neglectful parents, about mother-dominated families and absentee fathers too busy being successful to have any time for children.

And as they found themselves being constantly analyzed and discussed they grew more and more self-conscious about their own performance as parents and worried more and more about how they might be failing their children—whether they were too strict or too lax, too dominating or too detached, too ambitious for their children or too undemanding.

Now that the poor dears have reared their young and settled back to becoming carefree grandparents, what happens? Why the experts start studying the grandparent role, that's what.

A University of Chicago social scientist has just announced that a study of grandparents who are "fun seekers" and grandparents who are "distant figures."

The "fun seeker's" relation to the child is characterized by informality and playfulness. A grandparent who is a "fun seeker" joins the child in specific activities for the specific purpose of having fun, somewhat as if he were the child's playmate.

Says the social scientist sternly: "Grandchildren are viewed by these grandparents as a source of leisure activity and as a source of self-indulgence."

The grandparent who is labeled "the distant figure" is the one who emerges from the shadows on holidays and on special ritual occasions such as Christmas and birthdays.

Both the "fun seeker" and the "distant figure" tend to soft-pedal any authority relationships, claims the expert.

What it all boils down to, as near as I can see, is that an awful lot of yesterday's uncertain, expert-bullied, worried parents are becoming today's happy-go-lucky "let's just enjoy the kids" grandparents.

Protection of Eyes Often Neglected

By ALICIA HART
NEW YORK—Many protect their skin from the drying, destructive rays of the sun with sun-screening aids but neglect their eyes.

The first step in eye care for the outdoors is to wear sunglasses. These should have properly ground lenses to prevent distortion. A beach or patio umbrella is another part of your outdoor equipment that helps reduce glare. But you still face sun's rays bouncing into your eyes from water or sand. The result: your eyes and their surrounding facial muscles will tire from constant squinting. Over a period of time, visible aging in the form of squint lines and wrinkles appear.

Malaysian States Likely to Become Priority Targets for Infiltration

KUCHING, Malaysia (AP) — Suddenly the tiny Chinese clapboard house was surrounded by sea dyak police — their heavily tattooed bodies and artificially lengthened ear lobes a reminder of their former headhunting days.

Some carried parangs — the dreaded long knives they used those days to part heads from bodies. Most toted modern burp guns.

They had slipped silently through the lush green lines of pepper trees that edged on the house. Now they ordered the Chinese inside to come out.

The door of the house, covered with Chinese good luck characters faded by the fierce Borneo sun, opened and a Chinese in blue pajamas shuffled slowly out.

The police then searched the house. A report had been received that the Chinese was hiding weapons for the Clandestine Communist Organization — the pro-Peking terror group that has threatened to take over this Malaysian state.

Scenes like this are an every day occurrence in Sarawak — a still largely primitive country the size of England.

With the encouragement given to Indonesia by the separation of Singapore from Malaysia — the first crack in the federation Jakarta has promised to break up — these scenes are likely to be repeated in Malaysia's other Borneo state, Sabah, and the British protectorate of Brunei.

These three states now are likely to be top priority targets for Indonesian infiltration. Brish authorities believe the Indonesians will make an all-out effort to stir up internal trouble. In Sarawak, 15 per cent of the 244,000 Chinese are believed pro-Peking Communist and anti-Malaysia. The Indonesians will find these elements willing subjects for revolution. The Chinese make up nearly a third of the state's population.

Already Chinese Communists led by Indonesian regulars have attacked a police post and left nine dead.

In Brunei, an oil-rich state the size of Delaware, the threat comes from about 1,800 rebels living in the jungles. They tried to overthrow the sultan in 1962. Sultan Omar Ali Saifuddin, 53, does not help lessen the threat. Despite British pressure he still pockets the greater part of the royalties that come in from the Seria oilfields operated by Shell.

In the other Malaysian state in Borneo, Sabah, the threat of internal unrest is posed by some 19,000 Indonesians who work in the state's large timber industry.

British intelligence officers believe Indonesia already has tried to make use of these Indonesians for subversion and feel sure that they will now increase their efforts.

Sabah also faces all-out Indonesian aggression along its southern border — especially in the Tawau area.

Plane Forced Into Water Off Honolulu

HONOLULU (AP) — A single-engine plane with four persons on board ditched in the Pacific about 80 miles south of Honolulu Wednesday.

The plane, a Cessna owned by Pacific Flight Service, was en route from Kauai Island to Honolulu, a distance of 125 miles.

Five Coast Guard and Air Force planes, three Coast Guard cutters, and three Navy ships left Honolulu almost immediately after the plane disappeared from the Federal Aviation Agency's radar screen.

The plane ditched about 45 minutes after its pilot, James R. Hird of Honolulu, radioed he was lost and needed assistance. His three passengers were not immediately identified.

Unrest Among Mayans Hinted

BELIZE, British Honduras (AP) — Desecrated tombs indicate there was unrest and signs of intentional destruction among the Mayans, a University of Utah archaeologist said Wednesday.

Dr. David Pendergast, speaking to government officials at night, said the desecrated tombs could be the answer to the sudden disappearance of the civilization from this area in the 9th or 10th century.

He said sea shells found in excavations this season also indicate the Mayans were a sea-going people.

Swindle of Elderly Is Reported

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Harrison A. Williams, D-N.J., says he has received reports that con men claiming to represent the Social Security administration are swindling elderly persons in the Dallas, Tex., and Buffalo, N.Y., areas.

According to Williams, the men are signing up persons for the new federal health insurance program by telling their victims they can get a discount by signing and paying up early.

The program goes into effect next July 1, but enrollment can not start until after Sept. 1, Williams said Wednesday.

Enrollment Of 2,000 at College Eyed

President of the College of Southern Idaho, Dr. James L. Taylor, speaking at a Wednesday luncheon meeting predicted to Twin Falls Lions Club members that "CSI will have an enrollment of 1,500 to 2,000 students within five years."

The junior college president reported at this time enrollment in the academic program stands at 237, with 112 in the vocational-technical program. Dr. Taylor outlined the program to be offered in both segments of training to those enrolled in the junior college which opens Sept. 1. He was introduced to club members by C. E. (Edd) Bossard, district governor.

Bossard installed Arch Brown as "tail twister" and LaVear Thorneck as third vice president. Brown replaces Carroll Warwick and Thorneck was appointed to fill a vacancy created when Thomas McVey moved to Portland, Ore.

Club members were reminded of the light bulb sale scheduled for Sept. 22-23. Bulbs will be bought by club members the night of Sept. 21, in the back of the City Finance office.

Rifle Match Is Held by Woodmen

HANSEN — The green team won over the red team with a score of 341 to 337 at the Modern Woodmen of America rifle shoot Tuesday night at the Woodmen Hall.

The green team had seven members present and the red team had eight.

Norville Reynolds was high for men in the individual shoot with 52 points. Joe Hill was second with 48 and James Bennett was third with 46.

Mrs. Ruth Hill and Mrs. Cloe Weech tied for first place for women with scores of 56; Mrs. Mildred Shobe was second with 51 and Lydia Pyron, third, with 50.

Mr. and Mrs. L. U. McCalmion, Twin Falls, were hosts. Plans for the joint Woodmen-Royal Neighbor luncheon stand to be held at the fair were discussed.

Two Appointed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Appointment of two Idaho men as members of the Public Land Law Review Commission Advisory Council was announced Wednesday.

Chosen were A. B. Curtis of Orofino and Lloyd Haight of Boise.

Astronaut to Head Undersea Diving Project of Sealab II

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Members of a squad of underwater pioneers — called aquanauts—plan to move into their Sealab II research vessel on the bottom of the sea Sunday or Monday.

Navy Capt. Lewis B. Melson said a specially built mother ship, the Berkoni, Wednesday began final preparations to off Scripps Pier for what he called the Navy's most ambitious undersea diving project.

Melson said when the project ends six weeks from now, the Navy will have obtained the biggest batch of undersea diving information ever gathered.

Melson explained that the experiment will determine the feasibility of men working at the bottom of the sea for extended periods and will help develop technology allowing divers to operate in safety and comfort at extreme ocean depths.

The 200-ton Sealab II will be lowered to a ledge on the side of Scripps Canyon off La Jolla in 210 feet of water. It will be 3,000 yards from Scripps Pier.

The Sealab's first 10-man crew will stay in the lab for 15 days. Their leader is Navy Cmdr. Scott Carpenter, an astronaut who orbited the earth three times in 1962.

Poison Gas Claimed Used In Revolt

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—The leader of the Kurdish revolt in northern Iraq claimed today that the Iraqi government has authorized the use of poison gas to wipe out Kurdish resistance and end the 4-year-old war.

Mullah Mustafa Barzani made the claim in a cable sent from Nicosia to U.N. Secretary-General Ulysses Thant and General Assembly President Alex Quaison-Sackey of Ghana. He appealed to them to dissuade the Baghdad government from its allegedly imminent plan to launch gas attacks.

Identical messages were addressed to President Johnson, French President Charles de Gaulle, Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, President Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana, President Tito of Yugoslavia and British Prime Minister Harold Wilson.

A Kurdish emissary said he had brought the messages to Nicosia and delivered them to the various embassies because it would have been difficult to send them from any neighboring Arab country.

Mrs. Gibbs Is Honored at Rites

BUHL — Funeral services for Mrs. Myrtle E. Gibbs were conducted at 2 p.m. Tuesday in the Buhl LDS Chapel by Bishop H. L. Schaal.

Mrs. R. A. Carlson served as organist. Two vocal selections were sung by a mixed quartet composed of Laura Hunt, Elton Kendrick, Eileen Quigley and Leland G. Oster. Laura Hunt was soloist.

Reed Lindsay gave the family prayer, E. B. Johnson the invocation, Bishop Leland Oster read the obituary and Bishop Earle Quigley paid tribute. Fay Hunt was the speaker and Wade Quigley gave the benediction. Elton Kendrick and William J. Christofferson were ushers.

Pallbearers were Kenneth Barrett, James W. Hart, Kern Thurman, Richard Howard, Victor Miller, and Reed Lindsay. Concluding rites were held in the Buhl City Cemetery with Dean Jaymes giving the dedicatory prayer.

ANNIVERSARY NOTED
DIEPPE, France (UPI) — Religious services were held in this Norman port today to mark the 23rd anniversary of the state's water while at the probing command and attack against Nazi coastal fortifications in which nearly 1,000 Canadians were killed.

Diet

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—More than 100 physicians whose specialty is the study of why folks get fat dined Wednesday night at the Mark Hopkins Hotel. They had:

Beef Stroganoff, shrimp, cold cuts, cheese, chicken salad, green salad, potato salad, butter and pastries.

Loose Sailor Eyes World Voyage

FALMOUTH, England (AP) — Robert Manry, lone conqueror of the Atlantic, took his first unsteady stroll through Falmouth's ancient streets Wednesday and said his next objective is to sail around the world.

"But not alone," he said. "It gets kind of lonely out there."

Manry said whether he can make the world trip depends on many factors, among them finance, but it is a serious objective and he will try to make it.

His 13½-foot sailboat Tinkerbell, which brought him on the 3,200-mile voyage from Falmouth, Mass., — the smallest boat ever known to make that west-east crossing — was taken from the water and put on display in a ship chandler's window.

People lined up to see it and throw in a donation for Britain's Royal National Lifeboat Institution.

Next week Manry will sail back to the United States — this time aboard an ocean liner. Tinkerbell will be shipped with him and his family to go on exhibition there.

Consumer Tax Benefits Are Urged

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson has directed Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler to prod manufacturers who have not passed on the benefits of the excise tax reduction to consumers to do so immediately.

Presidential press secretary Bill D. Moyers said Wednesday Fowler told Johnson that the over-all results were promising but that some manufacturers were watching.

A report to the President by the Council of Economic Advisors said that by mid-July some 75 per cent of the excise tax cut, figured at $1.7 billion on an annual basis, had been passed on to consumers in the form of lower prices.

Navy Stresses 120 Day Program

With the greatly increased draft demands imposed upon the selective service system, the U. S. Navy is stressing its "Enlist Now — Go Later," program. This program offers the advantage of removing the individual's name from the draft list and then give him 120 days to get personal affairs in order, pay off current debts, or whatever his needs happen to be. In addition, the time spent at home counts toward longevity pay increases.

The Navy offers a choice of job fields and at the same time filling a military obligation.

Young men can discuss the Navy program with recruiters on the second floor of the Idaho Theatre, 126 Shoshone St. E., or call 733-6323 collect for appointments anywhere in the Magic Valley or Wood River Valley area.

108 WASHINGTON STREET NORTH IN TWIN FALLS

MISS INDIAN AMERICA, Michele Ann Portwood, Riverton, Wyo., will appear at the first two days of Twin Falls County Fair and Rodeo. Miss Portwood is a member of the Arapaho tribe and is a direct descendant of Chief Sharpnose.

Miss Indian America to Appear at T. F. County Fair

FILER — Miss Indian America, Michele Ann Portwood, 20, Riverton, Wyo., will make an appearance at the Twin Falls County Fair and Rodeo during the first two days of the fair, Sept. 8-9.

Miss Portwood, a member of the Arapaho tribe, is a direct descendant of Chief Sharpnose. She is a senior at University of Wyoming at Laramie, and is majoring in sociology.

Due to a previous commitment, Miss Portwood will only be able to make two appearances at the fair on Sept. 8 and 9. She will then return to Laramie.

Miss Portwood also is Wyoming Jubilee Queen of 1965. She has traveled extensively presenting the story of the Indian people to America. She has appeared on national television and before groups and schools and has attended many tribal celebrations throughout the country.

New Problem Eyed for Delegates

BOISE (AP) — Idaho political parties were beginning to question Wednesday whether the U.S. Supreme Court edict for legislative reapportionment will extend to delegates at party conventions next spring.

Delegates to the conventions at which 1966 party candidates for state and national offices will be selected are named largely on the basis of counties.

The Supreme Court has ruled legislators must be elected on the basis of population, not counties, and the question is whether that principle extends to the conventions that select the legislative candidates.

Secretary of State Arnold Williams said Wednesday it is possible an official opinion will be made before convention delegates are selected.

Idaho's pre-primary convention law provides that delegates will include each county's party chairman, state committeeman and state committeewoman.

4-H Group Sees Demonstrations

HAZELTON — Glad Wellhouse was guest speaker at the first summer meeting of the South and Stir 4-H Club Tuesday afternoon at the Frontier Grange hall.

She demonstrated the proper method of modeling clothes for the style revue at the Jerome County Fair to be held Aug. 20, 27 and 28.

Demonstrations were given on the correct way to bathe a baby; how to make mayonnaise; how to make a basic butter cream frosting; how to can green beans; how to make darts in a dress; how to take body measurements; and how to thread a sewing machine.

Mrs. Ronald Makinson was a guest.

FOREIGN TRADE LONDON (AP) — Britain should have a foreign trade surplus by the end of next year, it will probably be accompanied by a rise in unemployment of one per cent or more, the National Institute of Economic and Social Research said today.

Survivors of German Camp Demonstrate

JERUSALEM, Israel (AP) — Several persons were injured today as hundreds of Nazi concentration camp survivors clashed with police during demonstrations while West German Ambassador Rolf Pauls presented his credentials to President Zalman Shazar.

The demonstrators, including many children, lined the narrow lane leading to Shazar's residence, carrying placards which read "Pauls go home."

"We will not forget—We will not forgive," "Remember the six millions,"

What appeared to be a quiet protest erupted into a near riot when the crowd broke through police barriers after the ambassador, accompanied by his deputy, Alexander Toeroek, drove past with a police escort.

Mounted police pushed the hooting demonstrators back as they tried to get near the small park where Pauls, visibly shaken, reviewed a 50-man Israeli guard of honor.

Officials said six policemen of injuries and 10 persons were taken to hospitals for treatment of injuries and 10 persons were less seriously hurt.

Strike End Is Pending, Johnson Told

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz reported to President Johnson Wednesday that the end of the 61-day shipping strike still is not in sight.

Despite an agreement with one of the striking unions, the shut-down of ships, which talks go on with the other unions.

The Labor Department said an other union's representatives appear to be making progress.

The AFL-CIO National Maritime Union, International Brotherhood of Teamsters and White House said they go back to work.

Wirtz said the AFL-CIO Maritime Union is the key to ending the strike.

CHICAGO (AP)—Trade was fairly active most of the time in the grain futures market but prices generally showed little net change in the early afternoon.

Wheat lost nearly all its early advance and prices had become mixed after the market had absorbed a good deal of short covering and reinstatement of long positions during the first hour or so. Brokers said commercial buying continued light.

August soybeans accounted for much of the activity since trading in that contract expires at noon tomorrow. Advances there ranged to about three cents a bushel while new crop months held mostly within small fractions either way of previous closes most of the time.

Estimated carlot receipts were wheat 11, corn 165, oats 6, rye 1, barley 40 and soybeans 4.

Spain Takes Doubles to Eliminate Americans in Davis Cup Interzone Play

BARCELONA, Spain (AP) — A fighting, last-ditch stand by United States' Dennis Ralston and Clark Graebner fell short Wednesday and the team of Manuel Santana and Jose Luis Arilla slashed out a marathon five-set doubles victory that carried Spain to within a step of the Davis Cup challenge round. Two sets down and trailing 1-4 in the fifth set, the plucky little Spaniards prevailed after three hours and 10 minutes of pulsating tennis, 4-6, 3-6, 6-3, 6-4, 11-9. This victory added to Tuesday's singles triumphs by Santana and Juan Gisbert gave the Spaniards a clinching 3-0 lead which turned Thursday's final singles into mere formalities.

The tense, fluctuating battle kept a crowd of 4,500 entranced for all of a hot, humid afternoon and when Ralston hit the final ball into the net, the fashionable Real Club de Tennis erupted into wild turmoil.

Fans hurled pitfalls and programs onto the scarred red clay court, yelled, tooted horns and finally swarmed down onto the court to lift Santana and Arilla to their shoulders as they waded a heroic matador and hauled them to the sidelines.

People sang and blew horns. Small children raided the equipment bags of the players and threw tennis balls into the stands.

No bull fight or soccer game had produced such wild elation. Spain now moves against India in the next interzone final with the winner qualifying to face Australia's Cup holders in the December challenge round in Sydney.

Spain never has played in the challenge round — but it is on its way.

The defeat was a heavy one for the U.S. team which had struggled into the interzone finals through a summer of hard campaigning.

George MacCall, the U.S. captain from Los Angeles, almost broke down from emotion.

"We must win two tomorrow," he said, referring to the meaningless matches which pit Frank Froehling III of Coral Gables, Fla., against Gisbert and Ralston against Santana. Ralston lost to Gisbert and Froehling to Santana on the opening day.

The losers had nothing but praise for Santana, the 27-year-old, bouncy veteran of eight Davis Cup campaigns.

"He was terrific," acknowledged Graebner, the bespectacled Beachwood, Ohio, boy playing in his first Davis Cup match. He and Ralston never had played together and they faced a heavily favored team that had never lost a match in Spain.

"We have nothing to be ashamed of," MacCall said.

"Those boys fought their hearts out there today."

Mota Drives Pirates Past Houston 8-7

HOUSTON (AP) — Manny Mota, subbing for the injured Roberto Clemente, drove in four runs as the Pittsburgh Pirates survived a six-run ninth-inning Houston outburst and edged the Astros 8-7 Wednesday night.

Bob Veale, now 13-9, allowed just three hits into the ninth. Then, Frank Thomas singled and Ron Brand homered.

After Veale walked Rusty Staub and Bob Lillis doubled, Al McBean replaced Veale. The Astros scored four more runs, two on Walt Bond's single, before Brand ended the game by hitting into a double play.

Rocky Colavito's 24th homer in the first inning drove in Vic Davalillo, who doubled. Fred Whitfield followed with his 17th homer.

Pedro Gonzalez gave the Indians a 4-0 edge in the second by slamming a lead-off homer.

Tartabull led the As in the first game, slugging three singles and a double and scoring the go-ahead run. He broke a 2-2 tie in the seventh by scoring on Ken Harrelson's infield out after snigling and advancing on a single by Jim Landis.

Braves Nip Cardinals on Late Homer

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Pinch hitter Don Dillard clouted a two-out, two-run homer in the ninth inning, boosting the Milwaukee Braves to a 5-3 victory over St. Louis Wednesday night in an argument-spiced game.

Dillard's homer, off Ray Washburn, came two outs after Gene Oliver beat out an infield single. The blast also touched off an argument from the Cardinals. They contended the ball was not a home run but that it hit the wall in right-center field.

Just the inning before, with the game tied 3-3, Milwaukee's Hank Aaron hit an apparent home run, but umpire Chris Pelekoudas ruled he was out for hitting the ball while out of the batter's box.

Braves' Manager Bobby Bragan immediately announced he was playing the game under protest. He also was ejected after a vehement argument.

Marichal-Led Giants Blank New York 5-0

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Right-hander Juan Marichal lost a no-hit bid in the sixth inning Wednesday but the San Francisco Giants' ace pitcher went on to blank the New York Mets 5-0 on three hits for his 14th consecutive victory without a loss over the Mets.

Willie Mays' 34th homer of the season in the first inning opened the San Francisco scoring en route to the Giants' fourth-straight victory and a series sweep over New York.

Marichal recorded his 19th triumph of 1965 which includes five over the Mets, four of them by shutouts. He has lost none.

He had a no-hitter going until two were out in the sixth. Then Roy McMillan slapped a solid single to center. Marichal ran into trouble in the seventh before retiring Joe Christopher with the bases loaded to end the inning.

In going the route, Marichal struck out seven and walked four.

Cowboys Open Final Home Stand by Hosting I. F. in Doubleheader Tonight

Professional baseball will bow out of the Magic Valley sports scene in a flurry of action and promotions at Jaycee park, starting with a doubleheader with Idaho Falls Thursday night. The twin bill was forced due to a rain out Wednesday night. Idaho Falls will be in town for four games, then give way to Treasure Valley for the final four games of the home season. The Cowboys will wrap up the year by traveling to Caldwell and Idaho Falls. Cowboy Business Manager Vance (Shorty) Pulsipher outlined an ambitious promotion schedule for the closing week-end as the franchise tries for its fifth consecutive attendance championship. Currently it is in a virtual deadlock with Treasure Valley.

Burley, Rupert Set for Softball Meet

Burley and Rupert teams carry Magic Valley hopes for another state title as the Idaho softball tournament is in Boise Friday afternoon. Burley will send the defending champion in Skaggs Furniture-Kerbs Beeline only one change from last year's starting lineup. The runner-up from this area is the Rupert Merchant team. Skaggs-Kerbs meets Lucky Lager, Sandpoint, in the tourney opener at 1 p.m. Friday while Rupert goes against a Boise team Friday evening.

Sports

ALL ANGLES
By LARRY HOVEY
Dick Wilson the chore of coaching a rookie baseball team is both exasperating and surprising. A lot of things it is similar to coaching a high school baseball team. "The boys don't have a lot of back-up in base- like you are a player in a three or four years in the sport. They have the science of the game behind them (which is good) but they don't have the habits either (and that's bad)," he smiles.

Two things in the past couple weeks point the situation up. Last night, against Pocatello, a base hit apparently hit two men, but the second didn't touch home plate. The umpire saw it and the catcher told the Cowboy catcher that he did, and the umpire called the man out but not the one. He tagged the first runner, who was safe. While the catcher argued, the umpire told the catcher that the man was safe. Wilson said he had already started out to go to his coaching position at the time the man who failed to home came back and did.

The umpire said "I made a mistake, the man is safe." Pocatello scored two runs in that inning it wouldn't have and the boys eventually lost by one. That's a new way to lose a game," Wilson says.

Another story shows that the manager isn't always on top play either. It occurred with Jim Vincent the plate with runners at first and second, no outs. Vincent hit a little nub fly that he could get to. The umpire immediately called the infield rule. That was all Wilson heard and he lit into the umpire. Meanwhile, the defense didn't catch the ball, which was a foot fair and then he hit foul. The runners were up easily.

"I didn't even think about the two things, all I could think of was that first call," Wilson says. And so he continued to berate the umpire on the infield fly call.

The upshot of the entire deal is that Vincent was called out on the infield fly and the runners were returned to first and second.

In retrospect, Wilson says Vincent was called out on an infield fly that wasn't covered by the rule, the ball ended up when it wasn't caught so it should just have been a strike even if the infield fly was called. The runners may advance their own risk. That's the time I think I've ever had the possible situations come on one play and get a raw call on all three calls."

The Cowboy management's decision to let the crowd in free for the home finale will be an interesting experiment. One could think a few thousand could take advantage of such an offer, but we'll adopt the let and see policy.

We recall back in 1957 when the town in Louisiana folded mid-season and Magic Valley was about half the players. The week before folding that we advertised a free night to the baseball interest in the town. About 300 people showed up. The next night was a promotion with a lot of prizes being given away and the ticket winners were open. Some 1,300 people for that.

Magic Valley has a similar situation, but not to the make-break degree. The 23rd is Magic Valley night when about 1,000 in prizes will be given away. The 25th is the free night. A gambling man can see a situation like

Chicago Raps Solons for Sixth in Row

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pete Ward and John Romano combined for seven runs batted in as the Chicago White Sox won their sixth in a row Wednesday night, 8-2 over the Washington Senators.

Ward socked a two-run homer in the first inning, Romano homered with two on in the third, and each singled in a run in the ninth.

The homers were the 30th and 31st of the season off Senator right-hander Phil Ortega, who gave up just those two hits in his 2 1/3 innings but was charged with five runs due to walks.

Bruce Howard, aided by three double plays started by second baseman Don Buford, shut out the Senators on seven hits through eight innings but was knocked out in the ninth.

Paul Blair was walked by reliever Bob Heffner and moved to second on a wild pitch prior to Robinson's winning hit. Blair, whose erratic base running contributed to the triple play, slipped but managed to beat left fielder Carl Yastrzemski's throw to the plate.

Baltimore scored its first run in the opening inning before the triple play ended the rally.

After Boog Powell's single scored the run and left runners on first and second, Robinson grounded to third baseman Frank Malzone.

The highlights will be Magic Valley night Aug. 23, featuring prizes of every size and description and the "fan and player" appreciation night Aug. 25 — the season's finale.

Many Magic Valley businesses are participating in the Magic Valley night, providing the prizes and also free tickets to their customers. The prizes include bicycles, groceries, small electrical appliances, and everything from there to cases of motor oil.

Appreciation night will be just that. On Aug. 25 everyone will be admitted to Jaycee park free. It is the Cowboys' way of saying thanks for the support of the past five years when the club won the national attendance banner, the Larry MacPhail Trophy and the Pioneer League attendance race each year.

Listing the special events chronologically, Friday will be oldtimers night with a makeup team of scouts, ex-baseball players and fans pitted against the Cowboys for two innings. Captaining the oldtimers will be sportscaster Bill Denney, who played with the Cowboys in 1957-58.

Saturday is Gold Strike Stamp night with 30,000 of the stamps to be given to 30 winners and Sunday night will be "Ladies' night."

The tournament will run through Sunday evening with the eventual champion earning the right to participate in the Northwest regionals later this month.

Griffith, Fuller to Meet Tonight

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — Welterweight champion Emile Griffith goes after his 15th middleweight boxer Thursday night, Don Fuller.

Fuller, young brother of former middleweight champion Gene Fuller, would like very much to be like Hurricane Carter, who knocked out Griffith in the first round.

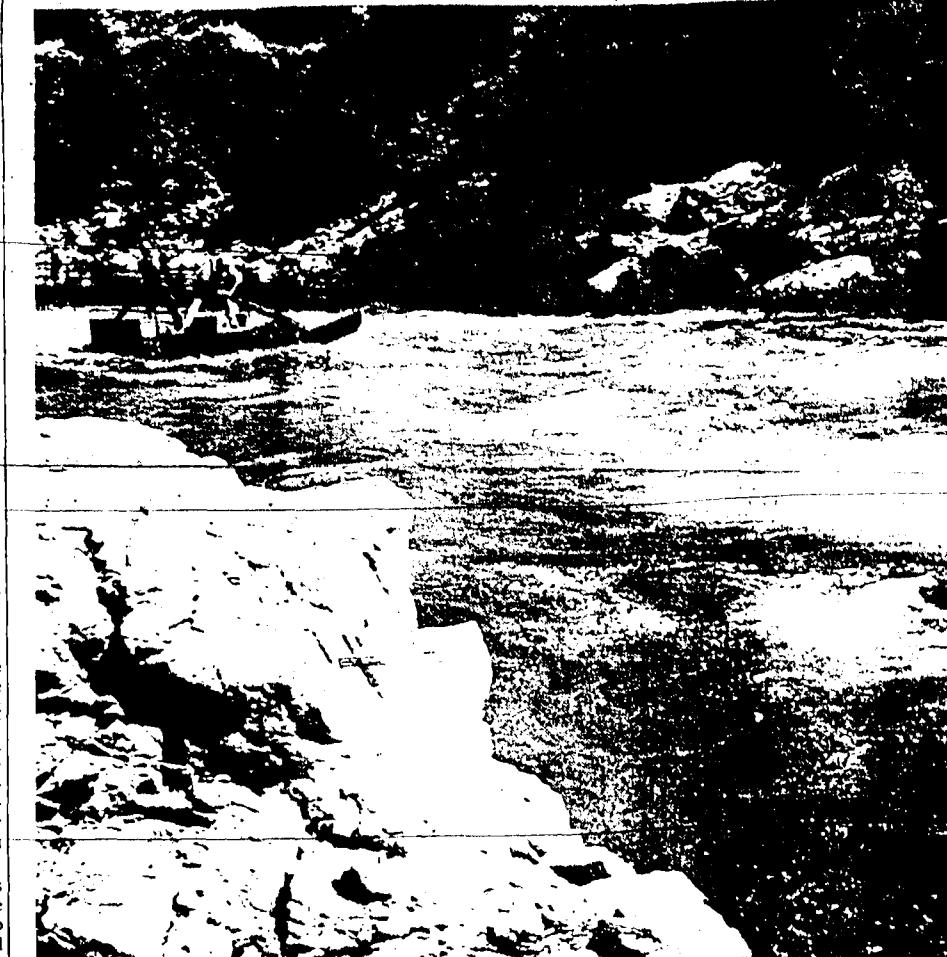

But ringside observers doubt that will happen. They say if Fuller wins it will be an upset. But the young middleweight (No. 9 by World Boxing Association ratings) is tough like brother Gene and a much more polished boxer.

Griffith, however, is at least as tough and polished and very fast and aggressive. He already has beaten Fuller once, a decision in 1962.

The welter king has fought 14 middleweights and beaten 13 of them. His only defeat was by Carter. That was his only knockout, too. Fuller also has been knocked out once.

His ring record is 34 victories (nine by knockouts), 11 defeats and two draws. Griffith has won 45 bouts (16 by KO), lost five and no-contest in one.

IDAHO FISH AND GAME Department personnel floated the Middle Fork of the Salmon River to check the condition of the cutthroat fishery. Shown here boating down a section of the river in the Idaho Primitive Area, are, left, Ted Bjorn, Boise, fisheries research supervisor for the department, and Jerry Mallet, Coeur d'Alene, regional fisheries biologist who conducted a research study on the Middle Fork in 1959 and 1960. Also making the inspection trip were Don Corley, Salmon area fisheries biologist, and Terry Holubetz, Salmon, fisheries biologist in charge of the Lemhi River weir salmon and steelhead program. Little change in the cutthroat fishery was noted although fishing pressure appears to have increased. (Times-News photo)

Inspection Trip Shows Little Change In Middle Fork Cutthroat Population

SALMON—An inspection trip of the Middle Fork of the Salmon River undertaken by the Idaho Fish and Game Department indicates that the cutthroat population has changed little since fishery was changed in 1959.

Shortly after the 1960 study, a three cutthroat bag limit regulation was instituted on the Middle Fork. The limit is the same today.

Don Corley, area fisheries biologist at Salmon, said that "we expected the cutthroat population to increase with the three fish bag limit. From the data we collected on this trip it looks like what has happened is that increased fishing pressure on the Middle Fork has offset any gains the three cutthroat bag limit has made so the fishing is about the same as it was five years ago."

Corley said that indications are that "fishing is still good on the Middle Fork. However, we realize that fishing pressure will continue to increase, therefore, we are investigating possible ways of increasing the cutthroat population."

The Middle Fork, which flows through the Idaho Primitive Area of central Idaho, is primarily a cutthroat trout fishing stream.

Making the inspection trip from July 28 to Aug. 2 by rubber raft besides Corley were Ted Bjorn, fisheries research supervisor for the Idaho Fish and Game Department at Boise; Jerry Mallet, Coeur d'Alene, regional fisheries biologist who conducted the research study for the department on the Middle Fork in 1960, and Terry Holubetz, Salmon, fisheries biologist in charge of the Lemhi River weir salmon and steelhead program.

The trip began at Dagger Falls and ended nearly 100 miles downriver at its mouth at the main Salmon River.

Corley said purpose of the trip besides checking the cutthroat fishery was to measure fish caught by anglers on the river, check fishing licenses, to see the Middle Fork since Bjorn and Mallet were the only two to have made the trip previously, and to do some skin diving in the river.

While skin diving in the holes and riffles on the way down, the department personnel observed the abundance of fish in the river and the change in species composition of the fish population from the upper end of the river to the lower end.

The party camped the first night at Velvet Fall, the second night at Thomas Creek, the third night at White's Bar, the fourth night at Wilson Creek and the fifth night at Stoddard forrest campground.

Cutthroat which were measured averaged about 11 1/2 inches in length with the largest fish being 16 1/2 inches. A number of steelhead migrants also were measured which averaged about five inches in length.

T. F. Football Call Draws 91 Youths

A total of 91 boys checked out uniforms through noon Wednesday in answer to the football call issued by Twin Falls High School Coach Merl Eden.

Eden said the count included the 31 seniors, 25 juniors and 35 sophomores.

"We expect about five more juniors and possibly another half dozen sophomores before the call ends with the first practice Friday morning," says Eden, who is embarking on his first year as head coach.

"We have only two transfers and neither of them has any real experience so we'll be going largely with the boys that have developed through the program."

Eden said the team will hold two-day workouts until the start of school. Despite the large number of seniors, the Bruins will have to rely heavily on juniors for size and speed.

Gebhards to Remain in Idaho Service

Stacy Gebhards, district fish biologist for the past seven years, has rejoined the fishery department of the Idaho Fish and Game Association and will assume duties as state biology supervisor in Boise next week.

Gebhards announced his resignation from the department last month to accept a position with the Forest Service at Missoula, Mont., but had to reject that offer for several reasons. He reappplied to the Idaho department and was accepted.

Health of his wife and a problem in finding housing were reasons for refusing the Forest Service position.

He noted that the Middle Fork area of the better fishing rivers in Idaho, is able to support a great deal of fish because of richness of the water.

Mediation Panel Sought to Settle U.S. Track Feud

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An official of the Olympic games Wednesday urged creation of an independent, blue-ribbon committee to resolve the dispute between the nation's two major amateur athletic organizations.

John Henry, president of the Southern California Committee for the Olympic games, told a Senate committee the mediation group should be composed of men like Supreme Court Justice Byron (Whizzer) White, a former football great.

Other names suggested by Henry included Gen. James Gavin and Earl Blak, former football coach at the U. S. Military Academy at West Point.

Henry, who also is a columnist for the Los Angeles Times, made the suggestion in testimony before the Senate Commerce Committee. The committee is investigating the long-standing and bitter dispute between the Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) and the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA).

In his capacity as an organizer of the Los Angeles Times Track Meet and other relays, Henry said, he has learned that the AAU takes about two thirds of the receipts of any meet it sanctions, including about 60 percent of the television receipts. He said the NCAA has a flat fee of $20 for sanctioning any meet.

Henry's criticism of the AAU was mild, however, compared with that of Harold Connolly, the world champion hammer thrower from Culver City, Calif.

Connolly, who is married to Olga Fikotova, a Czechoslovakian who was the 1956 Olympic discus champion, accused the AAU of "administrative blunders" that resulted in the loss suffered by an American team at the hands of the Russians in a recent meet at Kiev.

"In my opinion, the chief responsibility for our loss to the Russians has to be blamed on the customary AAU's administrative blunders, which have always posed a potential danger, and finally resulted in an unnecessary defeat," he said.

Hayes Jones of Detroit, holder or co-holder of the American indoor hurdle record at all distances, testified that "I have not, at any time, known the AAU to misuse an athlete or a representative."

Jones, in a brief statement, said he felt an athlete should be free to compete in any amateur organized meet he chooses.

State Rep. Alvin Benson, D-Owyhee, a rancher in the Melba area, is chairman of the council.

Phillies Nip L.A. 6-3 in 12th Inning

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Dick Stuart, whose eighth-inning single tied the game, drove in three runs with a two-out double in the 12th inning Wednesday night, giving Philadelphia a 6-3 victory over Los Angeles and knocking the Dodgers out of the National League lead.

The loss, coupled with Milwaukee's 5-3 triumph over St. Louis, dropped the Dodgers one-half game behind the Braves. It is the first time since July 16 that the Dodgers have been out of first.

All three runs were unearned because Maury Wills fumbled Rich Allen's grounder with two out, loading the bases. Howie Reed, who replaced Jim Brewer just before Allen batted, then was rocked for Stuart's bases-clearing double down the right field line.

The Phillies gained a 3-2 tie in the eighth, knocking Sandy Koufax from the mound in the process. Ron Perranoski replaced Koufax after he walked Cookie Rojas and John Callison with none out.

Cubs Outlast Pocatello For 4-3 Win

CALDWELL (AP) — The Treasure Valley Cubs scored all their runs in a fast-moving fifth inning Wednesday night for a 4-3 Pioneer League win over the Pocatello Dodgers.

Pocatello took the lead in the first inning when Denny Jensen scored on a fielders choice by Bud Hollowell and that was the end of scoring until the fifth.

The Cubs' Joe Doerr came in first after being walked to second. Ron Webb drove in two more runs with a triple and Jeff Allen scored the final run.

The Dodgers came back for two more runs in the sixth with a double by Jim Johnson—and the help of an error by Doerr and a wild pitch.

Government In Greece Is Attempted

ATHENS (AP) — Elias Tsirimokos, a former left-wing Socialist, began a new attempt today to form a government and end Greece's 35-day-old crisis.

King Constantine chose Tsirimokos after the 58-year-old politician and his ally, Stephanos Stephanopoulos, apparently convinced the king they could line up a parliamentary majority in defiance of ousted Premier George Papandreu.

Tsirimokos said he would go before the 300-member Parliament next week to ask for a vote of confidence. He claimed the support of 154 members, a majority of eight.

Papandreu, whose firing by the king on July 15 touched off Greece's worst crisis since the 1947-49 civil war, predicted Tsirimokos would meet with "severe denunciation" in Parliament.

Governors Urge Service At Hearings

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Civil Aeronautics Board hearings ended here Wednesday with governors of four states insisting that a healthy economy depended upon expanded commercial air service.

Govs. Frank B. Morrison of Nebraska and Robert Smylie of Idaho appeared in person at the hearings. Govs. Tim Babcock of Montana and Cliff Hansen of Wyoming sent their testimony.

The hearings on the need to establish additional single-plane service from the Pacific Northwest to the Southwest through Denver and Salt Lake City will reconvene next Tuesday at Houston.

Morrison said he strongly favored giving the Northwest-Southwest route to Denver-based Frontier airlines on the basis of past performance.

The question of turnaround service, sought by Denver officials, will not be settled until the CAB makes its route awards expected late this year.

Albertson's And Bay Area Chain Merge

BOISE (UPI)—Acquisition of Semrau & Sons food centers of the San Francisco Bay and Peninsula areas was announced Wednesday by Albertson's Inc., a Boise-based food chain.

Albertson's President James L. Berlin said the acquisition was achieved through a pooling of interests of the two corporations. The transaction involved 45,000 shares of Albertson's common stock, he said.

Semrau Food Centers operate under the name of "Pay Less" and are located in conjunction with Pay Less Drug Stores in Northern California. They are independently owned by the Semrau Corp., however.

Berlin said the stores would continue to operate under the same arrangement and name.

"We are extremely pleased to be able to enter the Bay and Peninsula area in this particular manner," Berlin said, "because of the excellent reputation of the Semraus and the entire Pay Less operation and the outstanding Pay Less Drug operation."

He said Albertson's plans additional expansion in Northern California.

About this time last year, Albertson's merged with 14 All American Markets in Greater Los Angeles.

Berlin said this latest merger involves six stores which currently are operating and two additional units which are under construction and scheduled for opening within a few weeks. He said the six stores have an estimated annual volume of $22 million.

Definite Albertson's and Pay Less Drug locations for new stores in Fremont and San Pablo are in various stages of planning and construction, Berlin said. Negotiations, he added, are under way for five other combination peninsular sites.

"We will have 15 stores operating in Pay Less Drug Store locations," Berlin said, "but this operation will be expanded through free-standing and other Albertson's Food Centers so that the Northern California district will have a total of about 30 units in 18 to 24 months."

Albertson's now has 136 stores and with acquisition of the six in the Bay Area the company will have a total of 142 stores in eight western states.

Berlin said Albertson's will form a Northern California district of the company with Cecil Wynn, district manager in the Los Angeles area at one time from 1959 through June of 1964 district manager in Salt Lake City, as district manager.

David D. Semrau, founder of the Semrau & Sons Food Centers, will be elected to Albertson's board of directors, Berlin said.

Gerald L. Semrau will direct the company's Northern California real estate division while Burnell K. Semrau will assume the duties of grocery merchandiser in the Northern California district.

Wayne McDonald, meat merchandiser from Reno, Nev., and Kenneth Featherston, produce merchandiser from Boise, will round out the executive management team, Berlin said.

Murder Case Dismissed in Idaho Falls

IDAHO FALLS (AP) — First degree murder charges were dismissed Wednesday as Idaho prosecutors turned over to Wyoming the case of Lee Wayne Daniels, 22, accused of killing a five-month-old baby.

Bonneville County Prosecuting Atty. Jack G. Voshell said evidence indicated the slaying took place on the Wyoming side of the Idaho-Wyoming line east of Idaho Falls.

He said another murder charge was filed against Daniels in Teton County, Wyo.

Daniels is in jail at Bend, Ore., where he and the baby's mother, Pansy Imogene Jones, were arrested Aug. 10, three days after the baby's body was found in a shallow grave east of Idaho Falls.

Miss Jones waived extradition to Idaho and was returned to Idaho Falls where she was arraigned Aug. 11 on a charge of willful neglect.

Daniels was charged with murder and held in the jail at Bend on a fugitive warrant awaiting extradition.

Voshell said charges of neglect against Miss Jones, mother of the baby, were also dismissed and that all evidence was being turned over to Wyoming prosecutors.

An autopsy showed the baby died of skull fractures and a coroner's jury said the death was by "criminal means." Voshell said new evidence in-
