SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—Vietnamese troops found heavy stocks of Viet Cong ammunition and about 1,000 uniforms in a wooded area near Saigon churned up Thursday by a saturation bombing of B52 jets, a U.S. spokesman said today. A reinforced company scouted the area, 20 miles north-northwest of Saigon, without running into either live opposition or finding guerrilla lead from the bombing. It was evident, however, that this 17th strike of the eight-engine Strategic Air Command aircraft was on target. Guerrilla ground fire downed a troop-carrying U.S. Army helicopter on its way to the bombed area. The spokesman said there were no survivors. The number aboard was withheld for security reasons but such craft can carry from 10 to 12 men.

Road Repairs Under Way In Twin Falls

L. N. McDonald, engineer for Idaho Department of Highways in Twin Falls, said Friday that graveling operations are progressing smoothly on much-used avenues and streets in Twin Falls. The graveling operations began Wednesday on Kimberly Road and progressed down Blue Lakes Boulevard. Work is under way on Second Avenue East, Shoshone Street East and Addison Avenue.

The gravel will provide a seal-coat for the road and keep out moisture, he said. Oil is spread on the old road surface and then the gravel is applied. Traffic rolling over the gravel presses it into the oil, where it is bonded to form a hard, moisture-proof surface, thereby eliminating virtually all cracks and bumps in the highway surface.

The road work is expected to be completed in about a week, according to McDonald.

Dominican Unit Keeps Same Leaders

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—The same group of controversial military leaders will stay in office at least temporarily under the new provisional government, authoritative sources said today.

They said Provisional President Hector Garcia Godoy will handle his own foreign affairs for an indefinite period.

These informants said the sudden turn of events that brought about acceptance of the Organization of American States peace formula last Tuesday left Garcia Godoy with little time to complete his nine-man cabinet.

The provisional president-designate ran into some resistance from Dominicans who have refused to collaborate with the new regime.

Among the ministers taking office will be Commodore Francisco Rios, former Dominican navy secretary, the job he held under the civilian-military junta.

He was expected to retain the same chiefs of staff, Gen. Jacinto Marinaga Arana, army; Commodore Ramon Emilio Jimenez, navy; and Gen. Jesus de los Santos Cespedes, air force.

Specialist To Help Save Famed Doctor

LAMBARENE, Gabon (AP)—An American heart specialist today joined efforts to save Dr. Albert Schweitzer, 90, since Sunday. Dr. David Miller of King City, Calif., flew into the jungle outpost after being summoned to the bedside of the Nobel Prize-winning physician.

Miller, former assistant of American widely known heart expert, Dr. Paul Dudley White, spent seven months in Schweitzer's hospital in 1960.

Miller declined comment on Schweitzer's condition.

Dr. Walter Manz, 33, a Swiss physician who took over medical supervision at the jungle hospital in February, described Schweitzer's condition as "gradually deteriorating," though he had a quiet mind.

"Medical assistance continues, he added. Dr. Schweitzer has been in a state of exhaustion since Sunday."

He declined to amplify and speculate on Schweitzer's chances. Other hospital sources were pessimistic.

Johnson to Submit Plans for Steel Strike Settlement

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson today made to deadlocked steel negotiators his first concrete proposals for compromising their differences. It was learned that Johnson instructed Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz to lay on the bargaining table certain suggestions for resolving the reported difference of five or six cents per hour between the two sides. Until today, Johnson had left the negotiators to try to work out their own solutions and reach a settlement that would avert a strike scheduled for 12:01 a.m. next Thursday.

Paul Newton Resigns City Engineer Post

Twin Falls City Engineer Paul Newton announced resignation of his position Thursday, after submitting a formal resignation Wednesday to Twin Falls City Manager H. L. (Herb) Derrick. Newton said he will remain in Twin Falls to open up a consulting engineer's office.

Newton's resignation becomes effective Sept. 15, after just over five years as city engineer. He began work in Twin Falls Sept. 4, 1960, while employed in Boise. Newton was a consulting engineer for Cornell, Howland, Hayes and Merryfield, Boise and Corvallis, Ore.

Derrick reported Newton has several unfinished projects which will require completion before the resignation becomes effective.

While Newton was employed as city engineer here, the city of Twin Falls saw several substantial improvements in city facilities, including a new sewage system and realization of a new water system.

Newton was closely associated with Rodney Preator and John Morrison, consulting engineers, while plans for the $2.5 million water system, soon to be realized in Twin Falls, were being drafted and completed.

Ronald J. Scheuffele, Newton's assistant, will be taking over city engineer duties until a permanent appointment can be made, according to Derrick.

Kyewitness Tells of U. S. Bombing Raid in Viet Nam

EDVOR'S NOTE: UPI correspondent Elizabeth Halstead Thursday became the first reporter to witness a Strategic Air Command (SAC) bombing raid over North Viet Nam. Her account of the raid follows. By ELIZABETH HALSTEAD SAIGON (UPI)—Our C-47 transport plane had been over the target area in Binh Duong Province, north of Saigon, only a few minutes when we made radio contact with the lead B-52 eight-jet bomber, thousands of feet above us. It was 8:15 a.m. and following the lead B-52 were 29 others which had flown the 2,200 miles from Guam, refueling in the air en route.

In the C-47's cockpit, Brig. Gen. George B. Simler of Johnson, Fla., commander of 2nd air division operations, spoke with the lead B-52, checking for last-minute changes in the mission. Every B-52 attack is monitored to prevent mistakes in bombing patterns. The C-47 kept below low-hanging clouds and at 11,700 feet. The first waves of bombers unloaded their cargo on the target area below us. The target area was roughly 23 miles north of Saigon, the notorious "Zone-D" of the Communist Viet Cong. As the bombs landed, a moving volcano seemed to head through the thick jungle. The bombs hit their target in what appeared to be almost straight lines of fire and smoke, wave after wave. The roar of the exploding bombs filled the air around us, and we were told later, could be heard in Saigon itself. Some bombs had delayed time fuses to destroy the network of tunnels in the target area. When the smoke cleared, what had been thick jungle was peppered with large dark craters. A second wave of the giant SAC bombers followed the first, bombing an area bounded by a rubber plantation on one side and Viet Cong-held villages on the other. The last bomber passed over the area at 9 a.m. as thick smoke rose with the wind from the hundreds of craters. The C-47 returned to Tan Son Nhut Airport in Saigon and a smaller single-engine plane returned to the target area for a closer look. Second later, a flight of F100 jet fighter-bombers dropped from the skies and attacked again. They were followed by still another wave of propeller-driven Skyraiders. Five U.S. helicopters hovered over the region as the pilot of our "bird dog" plane dropped a red smoke bomb, then a green one to mark a landing zone for a column of Vietnamese government troops sent in to mop up the area. An F101 reconnaissance plane swooped in on a picture-taking mission. It was almost three

Soft Whiskey. The whiskey with a shock absorber.

Soft Whiskey coasts down real easy. It doesn't shake you up. In case you're wondering, we smooth out the bumps by doing some distilling in small batches instead of large ones. The rest of the formula, no comment. Other distillers have been trying to come up with a Soft Whiskey for years. And you can't blame us for trying to get as much mileage out of it as we can. Even we

Failed in thousands of tries before we hit it: an 86 proof that does what any 86 proof does. Only does it softer. So, if you think for one minute that Soft Whiskey is weak whiskey—you're in for another kind of shock.

Contractors May Have Another Ally

BOISE (AP)—Contractors opposing the 1965 private contractor licensing law have apparently found another ally in the special legislative committee set up to study statutes affecting the state's business climate.

The committee, which held its first meeting Thursday, went on record as favoring clarification and modification of a section of the law requiring contractors to post a $1,000 bond.

It is that section that has drawn fire from private contractor groups around the state. They contend the section would force many of them out of business.

Sen. Cecil Andrus, D-Clearwater, committee chairman, said members agreed the statute should be amended and suggested that such action be included in the call for a special legislative session if one is needed on the reapportionment problem.

Business Mirror

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL, KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—If the government simplifies income taxes one more time, they'll get so complicated no one will be able to make out a return.

The speaker was Richard Block, one of two brothers whose firm this year filed out 1.5 million income tax returns for individuals.

"Every time the government makes a change, it helps our business," said Block. "Income tax forms should be geared to the understanding of the average high school graduate. Instead, they are terrifying things."

Block, 39, and his brother, Henry, 43, are the H&R of H&R Block Inc., a nationwide tax service. In the first 4 1/2 months of the year they have 11,000 employees in more than 1,000 offices working on returns.

The Block brothers started their business in Kansas City in 1925 after finding demand for tax preparation in their bookkeeping business. By 1958 they had 25 offices in six states, by 1964 more than 500 in 42 states.

Gross volume this year is expected to be more than $1 billion, compared with less than $2 million as recently as 1958.

"It's a pleasure to make a pleasure out of having returns filed out," said Richard. "To us, you are never wrong. It's the government regulations that keep you from staking that deduction or that dependent."

The Block service costs from $7.50 per return for more than 50 percent of their customers. The firm does no business returns. State returns are included in the cost of federal returns.

The Blocks say they have learned a lot about human nature in their business.

"Those who try too hard to save money imagine many things," said Richard. "For instance they'll try to pay their medicine expenses by $2—and forget to include transportation to the doctor that might total $15. They'll jack up their sales tax and forget to deduct personal property tax. Or they'll make a $2.50 donation for a 20-cent contribution and forget $100 worth of clothing donated to their church."

Sometimes, said Henry, even professional preparers can't convince people to deduct their church contributions.

They figure the money belongs to the Lord and that they don't stop to think that if they get a refund they can give more.

Hunger Still Is Problem For Haiti

LES CAYES, Haiti (AP)—The first corn crop in a year is ripening on the plain around Les Cayes but hundreds of peasant families, caught in one of Haiti's worst droughts, still go two or three days at a stretch without food.

Last summer Hurricane Cleo ripped through this port city and shot north across Haiti's southern peninsula. More than 100 were killed and many buildings damaged. The storm knocked down thousands of coconut palms and banana trees.

Before the Haitian peasant could replant and harvest on his tiny plot, a drought descended on the Caribbean. It lasted in northern Haiti until early last month.

As the weeks passed, peasants drifted into Les Cayes looking for food. Some camped in a field behind Sacred Heart Catholic church; others on the sidewalk near the central market place.

"I've never seen an island a few miles offshore. They are without food, except for the mangoes which flourish in the country. Money is particularly short in Les Cayes. The sugar mill on the edge of town owes $500,000 in wages and in payments to the government on the sugar harvest.

The U.S. government offered to make available $2 million worth of surplus food, to be distributed by Church World Service and CARE. The two agencies asked President Francois Duvalier's government to pay for transporting the food in Haiti, and were refused. The transportation bill would have been between $10,000 and $20,000.

National Forest Land in Lemhi Mountains Inspected

SALMON (Special)—The Lemhi Mountains contain peaks and high lakes which few people take the time to see.

In the Lemhi is Big Creek Mountain, now considered the highest peak in the entire Salmon National Forest. It reaches to 11,350 feet. Other high peaks in the Lemhi are Flat Iron and Gun-Sight.

The Lemhi are between the Lemhi Valley—which extends from Salmon to Gilhoro on the north and the Pahsimeroi Valley on the south. The portion bordering the Lemhi is within the Salmon National Forest.

F. E. Powers, Salmon National Forest supervisor, made an inspection of the Leadore District the past week with Orin Johnson, Leadore District ranger.

Inspected in the Timber Creek country were range areas being grazed by cattle and sheep. Nine mountain points, a part of the Pahsimeroi herd, were noticed.

Also viewed were timber-salvage areas, sheep and cattle, special use areas, water development and land and reservoir problem areas. The Hayden Creek timber sale area was inspected and efforts to get regeneration of the spruce stands. Areas of spruce budworm infestation also were checked.

Powers said Ranger Johnson has instituted a rotation system of grazing livestock to give plants sufficient rest to regenerate themselves. He added that

Luci, Lynda Start School On Sept. 20

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's back to school this month for President Johnson's two daughters, with classes starting Monday, Sept. 20.

Luci, 18, is launching her college career as a nursing school freshman here. Lynda, 21, is winding up as a senior history major in Texas.

Their return to campus life is expected to mean the girls will make few White House social or public appearances this fall, she got ready for her first college classes at Georgetown University's School of Nursing.

"First," she said, "just to be attending college is a tremendous challenge. It's a lot more difficult to adjust to college life since I'm going in with a banner across my head."

Lynda, who says she would like to be a teacher, is returning to home territory at the University of Texas in Austin, 65 miles from the LBJ Ranch. She's already spent a year and a half there and now returns after a similar period at George Washington University here.

Both girls have chosen schools with plenty of men around.

Washing Easier, If You Read Laundry Tags

NEW YORK (UPI)—Much is said about cold-water detergents. And washing directions for many synthetic fabrics say—use cool or warm water. But will the laundry come clean?

Many of today's new developments confuse consumers as much as they enchant them. Consider the tags at the store. They tell you to use cold water, hot water, or a combination of the two. They also tell you to use a certain amount of detergent, to use a certain amount of bleach, and to use a certain amount of fabric softener.

The addition of liquid chlorine bleach helps to bring cleaning performance back to the acceptable levels expected when hot water was safe and cotton and white were all you found in a wash load.

Textile economists and textile experts report that more bleachable wool-finishes are being used, especially in men's dress shirts. The news for those who like hues also is good.

The development of vat dyes, which withstand washing and bleaching; changed the old story of natural dyes that run and fade. Between 25 to 30 per cent of sheets, pillowcases, towels and wash cloths, and men's shirts now are vat-dyed.

With regard to both colored and synthetic fibers, bleach has been shown to prolong the usable life of items by maintaining a better appearance through more complete soil removal.

Nylon presents special problems. Once white nylon apparel can be restored in a solution of one gallon of warm water mixed with two tablespoons of a liquid bleach and a teaspoon of household vinegar. After soaking for 15 to 30 minutes, the article should be rinsed and dried.

Chaperone for Miss America Lists Events

NEW YORK (UPI)—After 10 years as Miss America's chaperone, Margaret O'Neill finds that misplaced luggage and the common cold are the major hazards of the traveling job.

Wolves along the way? After all, that is Miss America in town. "Far less trouble with them than people think," said Mrs. O'Neill. "Respect for the title is a factor. And let's face it, with the schedule a Miss America keeps she doesn't have time for much else."

Miss America and her road manager (the term Mrs. O'Neill prefers to chaperone) average 200,000 miles, most of it by air, each year as the beauty queen fulfills engagements at industrial events, sales meetings, conventions, state pageants and on television.

"Sometimes ours is a 27-hour day," said Mrs. O'Neill. "The 24-on New York time, and another three added by the time we're in Yakima, Wash."

But Mrs. O'Neill shoots off anyone offering sympathy for her charge. "People say, 'poor Miss America,'" said Mrs. O'Neill. "Don't feel sorry for her. With her feet, she carries as much as $40,000-a-year load."

But Mrs. O'Neill, no matter how beautiful she is, is earning that much. And she's also getting a million-dollar education from travel. She finishes the year a more mature, broader person.

She talked with Mrs. O'Neill as she tumbled out 200,000 miles with "Gladys" Kay Van Dyke, Phoenix, Ariz., the 1965 queen, and as both made their way to Atlantic City, N.J., for the naming of Miss Van Dyke's successor.

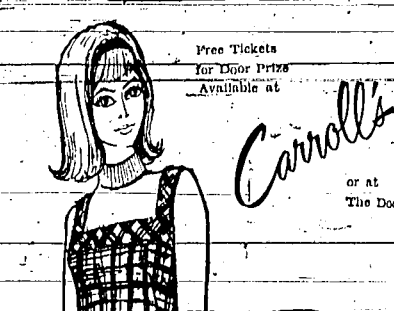

The couple plans a home wedding Sept. 18 at the home of the bride's parents.

Voluntary Enlistments in Services Jump Since Order

WASHINGTON (AP) - Voluntary enlistments in the armed services have jumped since President Johnson ordered a sharp boost in the draft. It was sharp boost today.

Figures for August - the first full month since the President's action - indicate a gain for all the forces. Marines reported a 20 per cent increase, the Army a 19 per cent. Both the Navy and the Air Force said they expected to go well beyond their goals for the month when final reports are in.

The draft always has served as a prod for young men to sign up with the services of their choice. Voluntary enlistments jumped particularly in the Army and Navy, until Johnson announced on July 28 that "Selective Service" would be doubled to about 35,000 a month as part of the military buildup growing out of the war in Vietnam.

In data made available to the AP, the Army reported that 10,821 youths enrolled voluntarily in August - an increase of 3,743 over July. This brought the Army to 96.3 per cent of its enlistment objective for August.

The Navy said that "recruiting appears to be on the upswing throughout the nation." It said a definite increase in Navy enlistments has been noted since the President's speech regarding draft - the largest commitment of armed forces to Viet Nam - and the "recently signed military pay bill."

The Navy predicted that its goal of 11,691 recruits for August will be topped by more than 1,000 men. For the first time in nine years, the Navy will draw on the draft - most - probably - it is expected to get 4,500 men by that route.

If the enlistment trend continues, the Navy may be able again to rely entirely on volunteers before long. In reporting their increase in enlistments, the Marines said it was "not necessarily because of the announced draft increase." The corps provided no actual numbers, limiting itself to listing a 20 per cent gain.

The Air Force said it expects to top its August enlistment quota of 15,489 men and voiced confidence it will fill its 13,730-man quota for September.

In July, which was virtually an end by the time Johnson announced the draft rise, the Air Force enrolled nearly 2,000 more young men than the 9,500 it had planned for that month.

"The Air Force has not had recent difficulties in fulfilling its power requirements through enlistments," it said.

Fund Drive Chairmen Announced

WENDELL — Positions of community finance chairman for Wendell and Hagerman, for the annual finance campaign of Snake River Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, were announced this week by Gary Haysmith, Jerome, Northside District finance chairman. Appointed for the Wendell area was Reed Richins and for Hagerman, W. A. Sandy.

SNAKE RIVER AREA Council serves institutions and their Scout units in nine counties and funds for the operating budget will be raised during the month of September.

One of the major services of the council is to assist the organization units which are sponsored by "partner" organizations such as churches, PTA's, civic clubs, or fraternal or veteran's organizations, said Haysmith.

Richins and Sandy will be responsible for the organization of the campaign in Wendell and Hagerman with the appointment of neighborhood chairmen to work directly with the existing units and friends of these units.

"These men will select others to contact the people of Wendell and Hagerman and give them the opportunity of becoming assisting members of the Boy Scouts of America."

House Okays "Fast Train" Research Plan

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Thursday passed legislation to authorize a federal "fast train" research program aimed at getting persons traveling between major cities off the road and on the railroad track.

The 100-million measure was passed, 317 to 24, on a roll call vote.

The Senate acted on similar but not identical legislation July 23. A House-Senate conference committee must resolve minor differences, unless the Senate accepts the House version.

The three-year research and development program on high speed ground transportation would include operating 150-mile-per-hour trains along the populated north-south corridor between Boston and Washington. The objective would be to determine if people can be attracted from traffic jammed highways and congested airports to rapid trains.

Retailers Plan Annual Convention

SUN VALLEY — The annual meeting of the Idaho Retailers Association will be held at Sun Valley, Sept. 10-20.

Association president, Robert Nagel, Boise, announced that Sept. 19 has been set aside for rest and relaxation while business sessions and panel discussions will be held all day on the 20th.

Mrs. Max Newhouse and Mrs. Robert Nagel to Co-Chairwomen Women's Events for Meeting

Mrs. Max Newhouse and Mrs. Robert Nagel will be co-chairwomen of the women's events for the meeting. They have planned a Hat Show to be presented at a dinner meeting at the Lodge Sept. 19.

The hats, to be modeled by wives of Idaho Retailers, are authentic copies of a collection dating back to 1896 and were in 1896 and currently on display in the Costume Institute of the Metropolitan Museum of Art. Mrs. Joanna Maitland, Boise, will narrate the Hat Show program which will also feature this year's fall hats from Carroll's Hats.

Sept. 20 meetings will be highlighted by three panels discussing issues of vital importance to the retail industry. These are "The Inventory Tax Relief Act," "The Future of Idaho's Sales Tax Insurance," and "Unemployment Insurance."

Members of the "Inventory Tax Relief" panel will be Eugene Bush, state representative (R), Bonaville; Harold Johnson, executive secretary, state Tax Commission and Max Yost, executive secretary, Associated Taxpayers of Idaho.

A representative of the American Retail Federation, Washington, D. C., will be the featured speaker at a noon luncheon Sept. 20.

Priceless DeLong Ruby Is Found In Florida Public Telephone Booth

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The priceless DeLong ruby, ransomed from the underworld for $25,000 in cash, will be going back soon to the American Museum of Natural History in New York City.

The ruby was found Thursday night in a "mystery" public telephone booth, clinking weeks of desecrated and fruitless tipoffs.

The blood-red 100 carat jewel, one of the largest and most perfect gems in the world, was resting on a ledge at the top of the booth on the heavily traveled Sunshine State Parkway.

It was not wrapped and might have resembled a large crimson marble to someone who thought it was a gem.

Millionaire John D. MacArthur, financier of the ransom, retrieved the ruby through a telephone tipoff from a free lance writer, Francis P. Antel, who simultaneously had a rendezvous with the ruby's holders, MacArthur, 68, and his party, were telephoned at a Palm Beach hotel late Thursday by Antel and given 30 minutes to drive to the parkway's Palm Beach "service" area, a several-mile detour.

As the party pulled up at the designated telephone booth, the telephone was ringing. It was Antel.

He told Bill Federal, New York Daily News reporter who helped engineer the recovery: "Turn around and face the door. Reach up and you'll feel the ruby."

Said Federal: "It felt like a pebble, as beautiful as anything I have seen in my life."

Quickly, the party sped back to town and to a hotel where a jeweler was waiting to be sure the gem was authentic.

The ruby was one of 24 jewels stolen by three Miami beach boys last Oct. 20 in what police called the most sensational jewel theft of the 20th century.

The sky-blue "Star of India" sapphire, another of those stolen, was recovered with eight other stones in a Miami bus terminal locker in January. Authorities feared the beautiful ruby, mined in Burma 30 years ago and considered irreplaceable, was however, not in the underworld—held the ruby, or from where it was delivered to the telephone booth.

In Sing Sing Prison, Ossining, N.Y., the three beach boys who lauded themselves into the museum from an outside window are serving three-year sentences for theft.

Jack Murphy, a water show diver, Alan Kuhn, bachelor yachtman and Roger Clark, swimming instructor, said they confessed to the crime to induce recovery of the jewels and obtain lighter sentences.

MEETING SET — The Jerome County NFO meeting is set for 8:30 p.m. Monday at the Jerome Parish Hall.

Bill Okayed For College Students

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $1.7-billion higher education bill with funds for federal scholarships for needy college students cleared the Senate by a 70-3 vote.

Sponsors of the far-reaching measure were astonished at the vote. Only three Southern Democrats, Sens. James O. Eastland and John C. Stennis of Mississippi and A. Willis Robertson of Virginia, were recorded against the bill.

It won the votes of 54 Democrats and 25 Republicans, while 15 of the absent senators were unaffiliated in favor.

The vote sent the legislation to conference with the House which passed it in different form last week. Managers say they are confident of an agreement with little difficulty.

The final version may exceed the first-year total of $1.7 billion and include the House sponsors say, probably will go along with Senate provisions to set up a National Teacher Corps and a program of grants to colleges to buy audio-visual equipment, while the Senate probably will accept bigger increases voted by the House for federal grants for college classroom construction.

Senate passage settles a long controversy over establishment of a federal scholarship program.

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

FRIDAY, Sept. 3 — Born today, you have an excellent head for business. At the same time, however, you also have an extremely volatile nature which manifests itself in temperamental outbursts and impulsive activity, could cause you to lack the calm, calculating manner of thinking needed for you to take advantage of your business instincts. Learn to control your emotions and you could really take the business world by storm!

When you allow reason rather than emotion to guide you you are a methodical worker, a successful in dealing with whatever project is at hand. You need more than desire to drive you forward, however, you need incentive. A family dependent upon you for its material well-being; the desire for the luxuries of life — either of these could act as spur to your ambition.

You have a clearer insight into the motivations of others than most people do. This could be most valuable to you in your relationships with others, for it will enable you to judge their behavior from the vantage point of course, rather than results. This cannot help but bring better understanding between you and your associates.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, a fact of your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Saturday, Sept. 4 — Born today, you are conventional by nature, and somewhat inclined to shy away from the new and different, even before you have investigated it. If you are wise, you will make an effort always to remember that the new and different may very well mean progress rather than mere innovation, and the person who shies away from progress may well be standing in the way of his own success.

One who does not strictly change his mind, you must keep it a point to look into situations, things, people, or whatever may be an issue, completely before forming an opinion. Otherwise, you may find yourself clinging to a hasty and incorrect judgment. Needless to say, this would do nothing for your popularity rating.

You women born on this date must be particularly careful not to marry in haste. Take your time; get to know the object of your affection well and for a long time before making a final decision. You men need not be so careful, for you will not be in such a rush to marry. In fact, being generally slow moving emotionally, you may never marry at all.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, a fact of your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 23) — An excellent day for your personal interests. Bask in the pleasant rays of your personal sun, and share your good fortune with others.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22) — A visit with close friends can bring you both pleasure and an opportunity to advance yourself professionally.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20) — Follow your instincts. All should go well if you allow your heart to rule jointly with your head.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) — Morning disclosures should give you an insight into a present problem.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) — Your customary Sunday activities are well favored. Don't attempt to improve upon them.

AIRES (March 21-April 20) — Should romance be your main concern, think things over carefully before coming to any decision.

TAURUS (April 21-May 21) — Personal relations are of the utmost importance today. There is nothing to be gained through improving associations with others.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) — A day for contemplation and self-analysis. You can find renewed inspiration within yourself if you find the motives behind your behavior.

CANCER (June 22-July 23) — A rewarding spiritual day for reflection on the future. Avoid finances; consider inner growth.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) — Be guided by your conscience and you cannot help but behave in a way that will gain you your point.

Saturday, Sept. 4 — Born today, you are conventional by nature, and somewhat inclined to shy away from the new and different, even before you have investigated it. If you are wise, you will make an effort always to remember that the new and different may very well mean progress rather than mere innovation, and the person who shies away from progress may well be standing in the way of his own success.

One who does not strictly change his mind, you must keep it a point to look into situations, things, people, or whatever may be an issue, completely before forming an opinion. Otherwise, you may find yourself clinging to a hasty and incorrect judgment. Needless to say, this would do nothing for your popularity rating.

You women born on this date must be particularly careful not to marry in haste. Take your time; get to know the object of your affection well and for a long time before making a final decision. You men need not be so careful, for you will not be in such a rush to marry. In fact, being generally slow moving emotionally, you may never marry at all.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, a fact of your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Sunday, Sept. 5 — A propitious day for a journey. You can bring great happiness to others through work and play.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) — Gain pleasure from meeting with neighbors on their terms. Don't insist on leading the action; following may be more fun!

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 23) — An excellent day for your personal interests. Bask in the pleasant rays of your personal sun, and share your good fortune with others.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22) — A visit with close friends can bring you both pleasure and an opportunity to advance yourself professionally.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20) — Follow your instincts. All should go well if you allow your heart to rule jointly with your head.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) — Morning disclosures should give you an insight into a present problem.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) — Your customary Sunday activities are well favored. Don't attempt to improve upon them.

AIRES (March 21-April 20) — Should romance be your main concern, think things over carefully before coming to any decision.

TAURUS (April 21-May 21) — Personal relations are of the utmost importance today. There is nothing to be gained through improving associations with others.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) — A day for contemplation and self-analysis. You can find renewed inspiration within yourself if you find the motives behind your behavior.

CANCER (June 22-July 23) — A rewarding spiritual day for reflection on the future. Avoid finances; consider inner growth.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) — Be guided by your conscience and you cannot help but behave in a way that will gain you your point.

T.F. Rodeo Prize Money Tops $8,000

With more than $8,000 in prize money up for grabs in five events this annual Twin Falls County Fair and Rodeo will swing into action Wednesday through Saturday night, Sept. 8 to 11.

Last year's rodeo saw 121 entries with winners dividing $7,320 in prize money. Bud Harris, Las Vegas, Nev., was out of with the lion's share of prize money with a total of $314.

As one of nearly 600 rodeos approved by the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association, competition in the Twin Falls County Fairground arena is conducted under nationally recognized rules with prize money won by contestants credited to the game's annual championship title standings.

Among cowboys planning to compete at Filer this year are Jim Houston, Omaha, Neb.; Shawn Davis, Whitehall, Mont.; and John Hawkins, Twin Falls, Calif.

Houston, 24, is the current national champion in bareback riding, a title he earned during the 1964 season.

Davis, also 24, inter-collegiate rodeo's top cowboy in 1962 and 1963, is leading the race for 1965's saddle bronc riding championship. His current winnings in the event are $10,015.

Hawkins, 36, a 15-year veteran, was 1963's titlist in bareback broncs. Bob Sheppard, 26, is running fourth in the bull riding championship and Jim Steen, 26, was named pro rodeo's "rookie of the year" in 1964.

Hot, Dry Days Are Driving Animals Into California Residential Areas

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Frank Preen, his cocker spaniel and a 100-pound mountain lion exchanged stares at a distance of 10 feet.

Finally Preen decided it was time to do something. "I called my wife," he said. "When she came out of the house the lion loped away."

What to say to a mountain lion until your wife gets there is one of the things homeowners are learning these hot, dry summer days and nights in Southern California's closest-to-nature suburbs.

Drought conditions — and in some areas, the aridity after severe brush fires in the mountains — are driving animals down into foothill residential areas. Lions aren't the only problems.

A eagle took away a Hollywood woman's Chihuahua dog. Her query to the State Fish and Game Department: "Is he coming back for the children?"

A pack of coyotes has moved into Pasadena's Annandale Country Club golf course, watching the activities there from as close as 50 feet. Early morning golfers say they make a discerning gallery.

In Corona Del Mar, Lee Heister, trying to frighten deer from his peach trees, rigged colored Christmas lights on his back fence in an unseasonal display which drew puzzled looks from neighbors. And the deer? "They seemed to like the lights," he found.

The best marksman from the Monterey sheriff's substation searched unsuccessfully in a helicopter in hopes of shooting a mountain lion which has devoured countless domestic cats in the Filtrridge section.

And, above Hollywood's Laurel Canyon, a homeowner last patience and bought a trap when raccoons playfully pulled all the plugs on his outdoor lighting and rearranged the garden furniture. They avoided the trap and countered by trying to drown his dog in the fish pond.

Spokesmen for the Fish and Game Department try to reassure foothill dwellers that, with the end of the summer dry season, the animals will go back to their own habitat and leave the residents alone. None of the native fauna will harm a human if left alone, they say.

This doesn't much reassure the residents of the Verano Hills, the only settled area where mountain lions have been reported.

A 9,000-acre fire in the hills last year burned away the natural ground cover and hoards of small animals moved into foothill suburbs, followed by predators who live on them when the summer-dry season set in.

Area Woman Named to Top Position

RUPERT — Mrs. Sherman Hollowood was named president of the National Lawyers' Wives Association during the annual convention of the National Bar Association and Lawyers' Wives in Miami, Fla., the latter part of August.

Retiring president is Mrs. Frank Benson, Short Hills, N.J. Included in next year's activities will be the midwinter convention to be held in Chicago in February and the annual convention scheduled for next March in Montreal.

The National Lawyers' Wives is relatively new, having been organized six years ago to assist husbands in the practice of law. At present there is no Idaho association.

Hollowood is a former district judge, and both have been active in the Bar Association and its auxiliary. Mrs. Hollowood represented the ninth district and served as treasurer of the national association for two years.

Cowboys Bow to Angels 9-3, Wind up Second in Pioneer League Season

IDAHO FALLS (AP) — Magic Valley had its hopes of being the winner of the Pioneer League championship knocked out from under it Thursday afternoon as the Idaho Falls Angels rang out the season with a 9-3 victory. Magic Valley appeared to be on its way Thursday by gathering in a solo run in the second inning, but the Angels struck back with three in the bottom of the same frame and never again fell behind in the game. Idaho Falls pitcher Sam Gafford went the route by spacing three Cowboy runs, although he yielded 11 hits. The Cowboys left 12 runners stranded.

Game Season Opens On Big Horn Sheep

Salmon — Hunting will get underway in this area Sept. 4 with opening of the archery hunt for deer, opening the same date will be an archery hunt for deer, antelope and mountain goat in the Lemhi. The sheep season opens in the Middle Fork of the Salmon River and some areas along the lower main Salmon River from Colson Creek down, including Horse Creek. The middle Fork hunt includes the Big Horn Crags.

Ralph Pehrson, regional game biologist for the Idaho Fish and Game Department, said most of the sheep hunting is expected to be in the lower Middle Fork area with hunters getting into the Idaho Primitive Area through Stoddard, at the Salmon River on the east, Cathedral Rock on the east, Camas Creek and the Steep and road on the south and through the Big Creek drainage on the west.

Pehrson said the sheep hunt extends to Sept. 17 and is an open hunt. Tags are available only in Boise. Generally 300 tags are sold each year for the sheep hunt and the harvest runs about 10 per cent success or some 50 sheep killed.

The hunt is for three-quarter or more curl rams only. Pehrson said the hunt areas will be patrolled by enforcement personnel of the Idaho Fish and Game Department. Officers will check on kills, licenses, tags, etc. Pehrson said he also will inspect range conditions to see what the production of feed is, check on the percentage of lambs to ewes, and the amount of competition with other game animals for the available feed.

At the same time, forest grass also may be taken in the sheep hunt areas. The archery hunt will run Sept. 4-19 on the Lemhi for deer, elk, antelope and goat. There are certain areas for antelope, for deer and one area for goat. The main season for deer, antelope and goat counties opens Sept. 18 for forest grouse, Hungarian and chukar partridge, gambel quail and sage grouse. Deer and elk season will open Sept. 18 in the back country.

Packers, Cards Are Champion Picks for NFL

NEW YORK (AP) — The Green Bay Packers and the St. Louis Cardinals will meet for the National Football League championship, Sunday, Jan. 2 before 50,837 fans at the Municipal Stadium in Los Angeles.

Sports

FROM ALL ANGLES

By LARRY HOVEY
 Magic Valley has been running away with the attendance crown in the past few years but on the field it hasn't been going so well.

You can trace most of it back to the last year's season when the Cardinals won the championship. The Cardinals were the only team to win the championship in the past five years. The Cardinals have had a chance to win or tie for the title on the last day of the season.

It happened again Thursday night when the Cardinals defeated the Packers 17-14. The Cardinals were 14 games out of the lead.

Baltimore's defending Western championship, intent except for Gene Marchetti and Bill Holloman, should fight it out with Norm Van Brocklin's confident Minnesota Vikings for second place in the West. Los Angeles could be the dark horse if Bill Munnion comes through big but the Chicago Bears, Detroit and San Francisco look like second division contenders.

St. Louis never has won the Eastern Conference crown since the Cardinals moved west from Chicago in 1960. But this could be the year for the Bidwell brothers and Wally Lemm.

The Cards have the passer in Charley Johnson and the running backs in Bill Triplett and Joe Christy plus a solid offensive line and a sound defense. If they play up to their capabilities they should be able to outscore Cleveland's defending league champs for the right to play Green Bay.

The loss of Paul Warfield in the early weeks of the campaign may be too much of a handicap for the Browns, who must face the Cardinals, Washington, Miami and St. Louis in the first two weeks of the season.

Washington, the Eastern dark horse, should know the best or worst — by mid-October. The Redskins play the Cardinals twice, Oct. 19 and Oct. 24 in three weeks and against Cleveland's Sammy Winder, who leads up and more injuries, the Redskins could be pecked contenders all the way.

Dallas has potential scoring punch but the Redskins must be able to get all that offense into the field. Philadelphia will go for the blitz and Timmy Brown will take them. Both New York and Pittsburgh have a quarterback capable of big running attacks which may come first.

Here's the way it looks from here:

1. Green Bay
2. Baltimore
3. Minnesota
4. Los Angeles
5. Chicago
6. St. Louis
7. San Francisco

Giants Gain Split With Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A wild pitch third strike allowed the winning run to score in the ninth inning and gave San Francisco a 5-2 victory over Philadelphia in their doubleheader Thursday.

Casey Stengel said goodbye again Thursday to the New York Mets players in the privacy of their clubhouse at Shea Stadium. The 75-year-old manager, who retired last Monday as manager of the National League cellar-dweller on doctor's advice, limped into the players' dressing room, perhaps for the last time, after taking part in a ceremony on the pitcher's mound during which his number 37 uniform was retired.

Stengel shifted his feet, placed the crook of the cane into his left pocket, and faced the players without support. It was an obvious demonstration that he could stand, unaided, on the hip he had broken while getting out of a car July 25.

Stengel then went into the manager's room for a private talk with Wes Westrum, the Mets' interim manager. Later he attended a luncheon in his honor, and spoke to newsmen.

Along Fences and Canals

A steer owned by Walter Bowman, Dietrich, was hit by a train and badly injured.

Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Wilson, Dietrich, have been breaking up a large herd of Hereford cattle for Hyrum Melervy.

Robert Dunlap, Richfield, found one of his Hereford bulls shot to death last week. The animal, valued at $400, was on Bureau of Land Management range for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Thell, Dietrich, have moved to Magic Valley Reservoir where Thell will assume the job of Water Master, succeeding the late Willis E. Walton.

The Thell home in Dietrich is now occupied by the Bill Peak family of Sheehone.

Albert Smith and his son, LeRoy, Bridge, moved a large steel granary from their ranch at Connor in the eastern end of the Elba valley to their home ranch in Bridge this week. Assisting were Donald Chandler, Dean Barnes and Kenneth Smith, all Paul.

Karl Carnahan is baling straw at his ranch south of King Hill, Pasadena Valley. The straw will be used to bed down cattle during the winter months. Other ranchers in the Valley have sold some straw to the Black Mesa project, where it is used to line potato cellars.

Members of the Elba Cattlemen's Association have been moving their herds to fresh pastures in the hills west of Elba this week. Because of the rain this summer the forest pastures are in excellent condition for feed.

Rain Wednesday night put a stop to the harvesting of barley for Clifford Sparks, Carey, Nool Parke, Ronald Peck and Ross Peck were some of the earliest in Carey Valley to harvest grain.

Second crop hay season will begin soon for farmers at Carey. Only an early few have cut their second crop alfalfa.

Beans are being cut at Tuttle this week and some damage from frost been noted in bean fields, gardens and some to corn. The thermometer registered below 30 degrees at some ranches one morning.

Commissioner Says More Potatoes Go to Processors

BOISE—A larger percentage of Idaho's new potato crop is going to processing plants according to Stanley T. Trenhale, State Commissioner of Agriculture and chairman of the Idaho Potato and Onion Commission.

The commission heard reports of utilization trends with harvesting well underway in the southwest Idaho early area. Brik sales of frozen, dehydrated and canned potatoes have caused the Idaho processors to start operations as much as 90 days early this year, according to the reports heard by the commission.

Trenhale said that the Idaho processing industry, largest in the nation, has taken 61 per cent of the portion of the 1964 crop utilized for food. Sales of our famous Idaho potatoes in their many processed forms has been growing every year, the commissioner noted.

Processors are taking more than three-fourths of the early crop on present indications, he said. A review of Idaho company officials are predicting that their demands for fresh potatoes from the 1965 crop will be considerably larger than last year.

Another factor brought to light by the commission was the addition to Idaho's vast storage facilities of large new warehouses where temperature and humidity can be controlled.

Trenhale said that this type of storage had the effect of extending the marketing season for Idaho potatoes.

"We've learned how to store potatoes to be sold after the month of June in mid-season condition," explained Trenhale.

"With these new storages and the continued growth of our processing capacity, the marketing of Idaho potatoes is a 12-month-a-year operation," he said.

DISINFECTING RUBBER BOOTS after inspecting bean field infected with Halo Blight are Donald Cryder, Twin Falls, assistant manager of Cornell Seed Co., and Dr. Clyde Butcher, also Twin Falls, plant pathologist for the Idaho Department of Agriculture. Such extreme precautionary measures as wearing rubberized boots and disinfecting them after exposure are recommended to limit the spread of the blight. Dr. Butcher recommends movement of equipment and people through infected fields be minimized, and followed by proper disinfection. (Times-News photo)

Increasing Toll of Halo Blight Is Combatted by Precautions, Research

The toll of Halo Blight in Magic Valley continues to rise. During the week ending Monday, 26 more bean growers plowed under fields of beans, bringing the number of growers involved to 66, according to Dr. Clyde Butcher, state plant pathologist.

The 514 acres destroyed brought the total acres plowed to 1499.

The unabated spread of the disease, which according to Dr. Butcher, is threatening the future existence of the seed-bean industry in Idaho, has prompted efforts to eliminate—or at least slow down—the spread.

Immediate programs have been put into effect to slow down the spread of the disease—such as plowing. In addition, longer range programs have been started that are intended to find a cure for what is now an incurable infection.

Of particular importance at this stage of the blight fight, Dr. Butcher pointed out, is the reduction of secondary infection through the spread of the bacteria from infected fields to adjacent fields.

During harvest precautions must be taken to disinfect combines and people who pass from one field to another. The Idaho State Department of Agriculture inspectors take the simple precaution of washing their rubberized boots with disinfectant solution to eliminate the possibility of further spreading the blight.

Donald Youtz, Twin Falls county agent, suggests cleaning out combines with common household bleach which has been diluted to a one percent solution. Further, he suggests every possible effort be made to eliminate unnecessary traffic between bean fields.

However, such precautions are emergency measures, and are hampered because there is no cure for the disease itself. In order to find the necessary cure, a great deal of research is being conducted throughout the United States to finally rid bean producers of the blight.

Dr. Leslie L. Dean, Twin Falls, Plant Pathologist at the U.S.D.A.—Entomology Research Division in Twin Falls, reported extensive research is now being conducted at the University of Idaho in Moscow, the Universities of California, Nebraska, Wisconsin, New York and by the USDA itself.

There has been, however, reluctance of researchers to work in areas of Southern Idaho, for fear that research programs would further the spread of the blight.

Dr. Dean said there were some chemicals known which retard the spread of the blight, but these are prohibitively expensive for use, and are of limited value to seed-producing areas. (Continued on Page 23)

Domestic Wool Prices May Rise After Long Decline

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Agriculture Department said Thursday domestic wool prices are likely to rise moderately during late 1964 and early 1965 because of an expected increase in U.S. mill use of apparel wool.

The department said lower world production, higher world wool prices and mill activity abroad, East Coast shipping delays and increasing international tension also will be factors in an anticipated moderate price rise.

In a review of the wool situation, the department said world wool prices declined during the second half of 1964 because of increased blending and the substitution of low-priced man-made fibers and the declining mill use of raw wool.

U.S. wool prices have followed this line, declining since mid 1964. As a result, the department predicted the 1965 average price received for U.S. shorn wool likely will average 10 per cent less than the $3.2 cents per pound received in 1964. The great bulk of the current year's clip was marketed during the first half of 1965.

The department said mill use of apparel wool during 1965 likely will total 275-280 million pounds, scored basis, compared with 234 million pounds in 1964.

World Trade in Poultry Remains High

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The poultry Department predicts world trade in poultry in 1965 will continue at a high level because supply is expected to increase. The department said poultry is the principal producing country will be in ample supply and priced attractively to consumers.

The United States is the leading exporter of poultry meat to markets with the Netherlands and Denmark second and third on the list.

In 1964, the United States exported 2.3 million pounds of poultry meat. This was 11 per cent more than in 1963 but not as high as the record 271 million pounds exported in 1962.

International trade in poultry meat in 1964 reached a record 3.9 million pounds, or 11 per cent from the previous year.

Wool Crop Continues to Decline in State, Nation

BOISE—U. S. wool production has continued to decline, according to the University of Idaho Extension Service.

The U. S. 1964 shorn wool crop (including Alaska) in July, was estimated at 213,139,000 pounds, or 4.4 per cent less than in 1964.

The estimated number of sheep shorn in 1965 is four per cent below that of last year. The USDA estimates weight per fleece for 1965 at 7.43 pounds, slightly above 1964.

Potatoes Processed for Food Products Set Record

BOISE—Potato processing in Idaho and Malheur County, Ore., accounted for 21.77 million hundredweight from the 1964 crop, according to the USDA Statistical Reporting Service. This was 15 per cent less than the record last year but 12 per cent more than the 1958-62 average.

Of the 21,770,000 hundredweight used from the 1964 crop, 21.07 million hundredweight were used in the manufacture of food products—a new record high—three per cent more than last year and 39 per cent more than the 1958-62 average.

This volume of potatoes used in the manufacture of food items was greater than Idaho's entire potato production in any year prior to 1943. Unan for starch, flour and alcohol was 697,000 hundredweight, only 13 per cent as much as a year earlier and the least since the 1941 crop, with the possible exception of 1945 for which records are not available.

Of the 21.77 million hundredweight, about 970,000 were shipped into Idaho from other states—about 3,760,000 originated in the 16 southwest counties and 17,034,000 in the other counties of the state.

Total processing of Idaho potatoes in these plants, indicated to be 20,800,000 hundredweight) was equivalent to a record high of 32.0 per cent of the state's potato production.

12 Per Cent of Farmers in South-Negroes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Economic Research Service (ERS) said that of the 1.3 million persons who owned rural land in the Southeast in 1960 about 12 per cent or 160,000, were Negroes.

They owned about 8 million acres, or 7 per cent of all rural land owned by individuals in Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Tennessee and Virginia.

The average parcel of land held by white owners was 95 acres, nearly twice the size of the average non-white-owned tract of 50 acres.

smaller production in these states is entirely the result of a decline in the number of sheep shorn.

Weight per fleece in the 35 states is estimated at 7.75 pounds—compared to 7.72 pounds in 1964.

Estimates indicate that Idaho sheepmen shored 910,000 head in 1965 — one per cent above last year, but 11 per cent below the five-year average.

The estimated Idaho weight per fleece at 10.1 pounds is the same as a year earlier but slightly below the five-year average of 10.2 pounds.

State Crop of Tall Fescue Is Down Slightly

BOISE—The 1965 tall fescue seed crop in Idaho is forecast at 315,000 pounds, according to the USDA Crop Reporting Service for Idaho. This compares with the 1964 crop of 33,000 pounds and the 1959-63 average of 223,000 pounds.

Yield per acre is estimated at 350 pounds, compared with 300 pounds (revised) in 1964 and the five-year average of 279 pounds.

The acreage for harvest this year, at 900, compares with 1,100 acres last year and the average of 800 acres.

National carryover of old crop seed is estimated at 13,698,000 pounds—(10,080,000 by growers and 3,618,000 by growers), 49 per cent above the carryover a year earlier and more than double the average. Initial supply at 61,065,000 pounds is 3 per cent more than a year ago and 57 per cent above average. Imports during fiscal year 1965 totaled 6,698 pounds compared with 500 pounds a year earlier.

Cataldo Girl Writes of Japanese 4-H Projects

The 4-H Club program in modern, progressive Japan differs greatly from its parent organization in the United States, Carol Hussa, Cataldo, wrote in a letter home from Japan where she is an Idaho International Farm-Youth Exchange Student.

She said that the Japanese 4-H program, introduced during U.S. occupation after World War II, has adapted to current needs of young farmers.

Miss Hussa reported that at the end of the war, food was scarce and young adults formed study groups to determine what could be done. At the same time, 4-H clubs seeking membership of 10 to 15-year-olds had a difficult time getting started. Indifference was shown and progress was very slow.

Gradually 4-H shifted to the young adult farmer study groups where interest and participation was high. Japanese 4-Hers now range in age from 16 to 27 years. Most have completed high school, and are not in any school when 4-H begins.

She said projects in Japan are on an individual or club level. Research is carried out on the farm, and at monthly club meetings progress on that research is discussed.

A club member may decide that he or she would like to study better methods of growing rice and test plots would be planted.

The projects are aimed at improving daily life, agriculture and the social situation. For example, in Nagano prefecture the two main crops are apples and rice. Members of 4-H studied a new variety of rice so that both crops would not be ready at the same time.

Previously, both rice and apples were ready for harvest simultaneously and there was an acute shortage of labor. This project was so successful that government recommended that farmers adopt the program proposed by 4-H research.

Miss Hussa said that at the end of a year's work the 4-H clubs of an area get together and share projects. The best results are used as reference to help farmers in the area.

WETTEST AUGUST
RICHFIELD—Over two inches of rain fell at Richfield, making the month the wettest. Making an on-record. It is reported by Leslie Bushby, Richfield, weather recorder.

Halo Blight Prompts Much New Research

 areas such as Magic Valley. Dr. Dean noted that Dr. Harry James and Dr. Harry Fenwick at the University of Idaho were heading the research programs in Idaho. Their first problem was to identify positively the bacteria which was solved with the development of serological techniques that are specific, rapid and easily run.

Dr. Dean said that DMSO is one of the surfactant chemicals, that is, a compound that has a low surface tension. For this reason it may be able to penetrate or enter into an organism or the infected plant to kill the bacteria. If the blight bacteria are not killed, it is hoped that there may be some resistance or immunity developed.

Dr. Dean is quick to say that DMSO research has yielded no conclusive results. It is simply one of the more interesting of many approaches being taken by a number of researchers throughout the country. "It may lead out at all," he said.

Other research which may someday eliminate halo blight is now being conducted by Dr. Raymond Grogan of the University of California. He is working directly with the bacteria, which he carries in a petri dish. Dr. Grogan hopes to eliminate the pathogen from the surface and beneath the surface of the infected seed.

Dr. Dean said that there had never been much research conducted in Idaho until 1963. Prior to that time Idaho's dry, warm summers had effectively eliminated the bacteria from the seed stock grown here. In fact, seed lots that were infected were deliberately brought into the state in order to expose the blight to the climate which would eliminate the bacteria from the bean stock.

Dr. Dean pointed out that in 1963 Idaho had the first of extremely wet summers—ideal growing conditions for the Halo Blight bacteria. In 1963 the first blight research was conducted in response to the developing problem, and has continued with increasing urgency. "It will be difficult to eliminate the disease until we have a return to a more favorable climate," he said.

In the meantime, plowing of infected fields continues.

Turkey Crop Is Above Last Year

WASHINGTON — Turkeys raised in 1965 are expected to total 103.7 million birds, four per cent above last year's crop, according to the USDA Crop Reporting Board.

The number of heavy white turkeys being raised is up 30 per cent, light breeds are up four per cent, but bronze and other heavy breeds are down nine per cent.

An increase in production of turkeys is expected in all regions of the country except the East North Central and the West where one per cent decreases are anticipated in each region.

MAMMOTH FOUR-ROW CORN PICKER is now being used by the Green Giant Co. in Buhl. The picker is unusual—wide from its size—because it is designated for use on 30-inch rows—rather than the standard 38-inch rows. Joe P. Fehrenbacher, agricultural superintendent of the company, said that 30-inch corn rows are being tried experimentally by the company in the hopes of gaining increased water utilization. (Times-News photo)

Giant Four-Row Corn Picker Harvests 30-Inch Rows as Part of Experiment

BUHL—A huge four-row corn picker has been the focus of much interest by corn growers lately. The Buhl Green Giant Company is the proud owner of its formidable picker, nicknamed "007" by its operators. The picker is of particular interest because it is designed for use on 30-inch rows of corn rather than the standard 36-inch rows. Joe P. Fehrenbacher, Buhl, agricultural superintendent of the Buhl operations, explained that "007" was being tried as part of an experiment using the narrower rows in this area.

Russian Grain Harvest Is Smaller Than Last Year

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department estimates wheat production in the Soviet Union this year will be 10 to 15 per cent below the good harvest of the bread grain in 1964. The lowered wheat output in the Soviet Union combined with a smaller-than-usual crop in mainland China probably will cut world wheat production in 1965 somewhat below the bumper crop of 1964. The department said that barring unforeseen bad weather in the remainder of the season, production could reach the near record level of 1962. Record and near-record crops are in prospect in the main wheat countries of North America, Europe and Africa, and in some countries of Asia, the department said. The department said insufficient moisture seriously reduced the Soviet Union's spring crop, which normally makes up about 60 per cent of the annual production. Early forecasts were for a winter crop well above that of 1964, but as the season progressed, crop returns failed to meet the reported volume. The department said Communist China's wheat crop is significantly below last year's harvest. Growers were unable to plant all the intended winter wheat acreage, and yields are believed to be below the large yields of 1964. The winter wheat crop comprises about 60 per cent of China's wheat production. A department study indicated cool, wet weather has been more prevalent in a greater degree and in more countries of the Northern Hemisphere than in any recent year. This delayed crops of many countries generally from 10 days to two weeks. The abundant moisture, however, resulted in some very good crops in a number of areas.

Shipments of Cattle Down From 1964

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Crop Reporting Board said the number of stocker and feeder cattle and calves shipped into the eight North Central states during July totaled 338,000 head, down 6 per cent from July last year. These are the animals which eventually go to a slaughter and furnish the steaks and roasts for the dinner table. The board said the number of cattle and calves shipped into the eight states during the first seven months of 1965 totaled 2.4 million head, 4 per cent less than for the same period in 1964. July shipments of stocker and feeder sheep and lambs into the eight states were 133,000 head, down 37 per cent from a year earlier.

Non-Citrus Crop Is Said Lower

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department said today the 1965 non-citrus fruit crop (mostly deciduous fruits) is expected to be about one per cent below the record 1964 crop, but 10 per cent above average. In a review of the fruit situation, the department said supply of fresh deciduous fruits during late summer and early fall are not expected to be quite as large as a year earlier. But supplies of some fruits, especially apples and grapes, will be seasonally heavy.

Idaho's Aid to Ecuador Community Is Appreciated

The people of Peñoles, Ecuador, greatly appreciate Idaho's help in improving their community. C. O. Youngstrom, assistant director of the University of Idaho agricultural extension service, said on his return late in August from Ecuador. He visited Peñoles during his assignment with the U.S. Department of Agriculture as an advisor to the Ecuadorian agricultural extension staff. Peñoles is associated with Idaho in the Alliance for Progress. "Helpful projects are developing," Youngstrom said. Construction of a cannery is under way with Idaho aid. One section he visited will be devoted to manufacture of products of cabuya, a fiber plant. "Peñoles is enthusiastic about developments thus far," he said, "and is looking forward to further cooperation with Idaho." He conferred with Rogelio de Mora, coordinator of the Peñoles project, and others of the project staff. De Mora was in Idaho last June. The extension program in Ecuador that was started years ago with U.S. help is improving agricultural conditions, Youngstrom said. However, there are many problems of production and export. "Ecuador has great agricultural potential," he said, "as the people make better use of their resources through improved practices. American methods on the larger farms are clearly evident. The country has great need for technical knowledge and motivation in changing agricultural methods. The government has established a land-reform program intended to relieve the lot of subsistence farmers without reducing the output of the larger commercial farms. This pro-

Early Fall Is Best Time to Seed Lawn

MOSCOW—Early fall is the best time to seed a new lawn, advises W. H. Snyder, assistant horticulturist with the University of Idaho Agricultural Experiment station.

Fall's cooler temperatures and better moisture conditions favor lawn grasses, he said. Snyder cautions that grass must be seeded in time to become well established to withstand possible early frost.

Grass sowed at this time is not as difficult to water as a spring-sown lawn. And it does not have as much competition from weeds.

If you already have an established lawn, Snyder suggests that you take advantage of these same favorable conditions to fertilize and repair it where necessary.

Even if the lawn is in good shape, it needs feeding, he said. One pound of actual nitrogen per thousand square feet will be enough. If the lawn is in poor condition, two pounds of actual nitrogen will help recondition it.

"Remember, I'm talking about actual nitrogen," Snyder emphasized. "If you are using a fertilizer that contains 20 per cent nitrogen—that is, 20 pounds per 100 pounds of material—you will need to apply five pounds of the material to get one pound of nitrogen on the lawn."

Wheat Now Sells For Cash Only

WASHINGTON—Purchasers of wheat products for domestic and foreign donation will no longer be paid in export commodity certificates, but in cash only, the U. S. Department of Agriculture announced.

Redemption provisions of the certificates, which are now issued across-the-board for all payment-in-kind export programs, insure ample movement of Commodity Credit Corporation stocks, particularly of wheat, as needed in commercial export channels.

Breakdown of Bill for Food Marketing Given

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Agriculture Department said Monday the bill for marketing U.S. farm-produced foods to civilian consumers in 1964 totaled a whopping $47.3 billion.

This was $2 billion, or 4 per cent, above the 1963 bill and equal to the annual rise during the preceding 10 years.

In a review of the marketing and transportation situation, the department said the marketing bill for farm-originated foods has increased every year since 1950. From 1954 to 1964 it rose about 40 per cent, or $14 billion.

The department said growth in volume accounted for only about $10-billion of the increase, and rising unit marketing charges for the remainder.

The marketing bill is the difference between the total expenditures by civilian consumers for domestic farm food products and the farm value of returns that farmers received for the equivalent farm products.

It is an estimate of the total charges for transporting, processing, wholesaling, and retailing farm foods. Foods sold in the form of meals in restaurants and other eating places and those sold at less than retail prices are valued at the point of sale.

Civilian consumers paid out $58.8 billion for U.S. farm-originated foods in 1964. This, minus the marketing bill of $47.3 billion left a farm value of $11.5 billion for the foods.

The total civilian expenditures were up almost $3 billion from 1963. In 1964 the total outlay was $46 billion.

The farm value of the farm-originated foods sold in 1964 was 4 per cent, or $900 million, more than 1963. The farm value in 1964 was $1.4 billion. The department said much of the rise from 1963 to 1964 resulted from increased marketings of each of the commodity groups.

A big increase in farmers' sales of livestock offset the effect of sharply lower prices of meat animals on the farm value of the meat products group.

Much of the increase in total farm value resulted from markedly higher prices for potatoes, several fresh vegetables, and oranges for processing. During 1964-64, the farm value of these foods gained about 22 per cent.

Although farm prices were lower in 1964 than in 1963, increased volume was more than offsetting the reduction.

The department gave this breakdown of the farm-food marketing bill:

Labor was estimated at $20.8 billion, up 5 per cent from 1963 and 41 per cent from 1954.

Rail and truck transportation—$3.1 billion, up $100 million from 1963. In addition to the freight charges, this bill includes charges for refrigerating and heating cars and trucks carrying perishable products.

Corporate profits—Before taxes profits in 1964 amounted to $2.7 billion, $300 million, or 12 per cent, more than in 1963. This was the largest increase since 1955.

Supermarkets in Europe Increase At Rapid Rate

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Statistics from the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations indicate that the growth rate for supermarkets in Europe is more rapid than it has been in the United States.

The organization said that in the United Kingdom, there were 80 supermarkets in 1957 and by 1963 there were 1,300. In France, there were 18 in 1959 and in 1964 there were 323.

West Germany had 12 supermarkets in 1958 and 600 in 1963. In Italy, the number was 45 in 1961 and 220 in 1963.

$2.17 Billion Spent for Advertising Food Products

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Wholesalers, retailers and manufacturers of food products continued to spend heavily on advertising last year, but some corporations spent more than others, according to the Agriculture Department.

A study by the department's Economic Research Service showed that manufacturing corporations increased their advertising expenditures from $455 million in 1950 to about $1.30 billion in 1964.

However, the percentage of the total advertising expenditure made by this industry decreased from 78 per cent in 1950 to 64 per cent in 1964, ERS said.

Meanwhile, the ERS reported that wholesale corporations increased their expenditures from $65 million in 1950 to $109 million in 1964.

This increase was relatively small compared with an over-crease in their percentage of the total from 12 per cent in 1951-52 to five per cent in 1962-64.

In contrast, retail corporations' expenditures increased from 11 per cent in 1950 to 31 per cent in 1964.

The ERS also said that increased advertising was accompanied by an increase in the number of retail food product corporations from 5,440 in 1950 to 18,264 in 1962.

STERLING ALEXANDER, Twin Falls, manager of the Union Motors Service Station in Twin Falls, stands beside the stalk of corn which serve as ornaments for the station. He said "one of these Northrup King people planted it. I think he thought I'd pull them out for weeds." To the contrary, Alexander thinks of them more as flowers than as other a farm product or weed. ### Economist Voices Cautious Pessimism on Potato Price

There are more mouths to feed every day and consumption of potatoes per person has increased, he said. Idaho's crop is forecast at 20,325,000 hundredweight, as of Aug. 1, 50 per cent more than last year, Robinson pointed out, however, the 1964 crop was short and below average. The 1965 crop is only 11 per cent above that of 1963 and only three per cent larger than that of 1961. The estimated 1965 U.S. fall crop is 208,248,000 hundredweight—only five per cent above 1963 and one per cent above the big 1961 crop. Population of the nation has increased about 12 million since 1961. It is now about 192 million. Per capita consumption of potatoes has gone up three pounds to 108 pounds a year. "Considering the growth and development of processed potatoes since 1901 and the continued growth of population," Robinson said, "it would appear that the United States should be able to use more potatoes than it did in 1961."

"It is only realistic to recognize that prices for the 1964 crop were the result of a short harvest. Only a born optimist would expect prices at that level for 1965. Although prices for the 1965 crop will undoubtedly be lower than for last year's crop, comparison with previous years' crops, growth in population and per capita consumption suggest there is no reason to be overly pessimistic."

France, Denmark, Finland, Austria and Ireland. Total cheese output in 32 countries, at 7.5 billion pounds, was two per cent above 1963 levels. Compared with the 1956 average, the gain was 18 per cent. In Oceania, output was eight per cent above that of 1961. In South America, where production increased in all countries except Uruguay, overall output rose two per cent. In North America, it rose four per cent.

Freeman Announces Over $1 Billion Of REA's Assets Owned by Farmers

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Farm people who draw power from lines financed by the Rural Electrification Administration now own more than $1 billion worth of their own electric plants, according to Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman. "Five billion-dollar equity represents 24.8 per cent of total assets of REA-financed plants," Freeman said. The equity milestone was reached in 1965. "Dollar by dollar," Freeman said, "rural consumers are replacing the capital, which the government has invested in the rural systems since 1935, with capital of their own." REA now has 1,000 borrowers who serve power to more than 52 million meters—or about 20 million persons—in 48 states and Puerto Rico. The co-operatives making up the associations serving rural consumers have borrowed about $5 billion since the REA program began in 1935. Freeman listed these REA achievements in fiscal 1965: A rising rate of repayment to REA, with electric and telephone systems making principle and interest payments at the private and commercial agricultural operator certificates, operating rules, aircraft airworthiness, pilot qualifications and record keeping. Aircraft must be certified by the FAA as airworthy and must be properly equipped for agricultural operations. Harassment for pilots will be required.

Range Feed Conditions Said Good

BOISE — Range feed conditions throughout Idaho remained well above average according to the USDA Crop Reporting Service for Idaho.

Near to above normal rainfall in most areas during July minimized seasonal drying of lower elevations and range. Higher elevation summer ranges continue to furnish good to excellent grazing. Stock water supplies remain adequate in most areas.

Prospects for fall grazing are better than usual. The reported condition of range feed is two points below a month ago but seven points above the 1953-63 average for Aug. 1.

The condition of cattle at 89 shows a seasonal decline of one point from a month ago, but is still three points above the five-year average for this date.

Better than average grazing supplies on spring and summer ranges have maintained cattle in firm flesh and have permitted good gains on calves. Fall culling and marketing have been slightly above a year ago.

Sheep condition also at 89 represents a seasonal decline of one point, but remains four points above the five-year average for Aug. 1. Lambs have made good gains on early summer feed and are coming off the ranges in good condition. Mutilations have been active and movement by Aug. 1 was well above the last few years.

Plow Was Key Invention For Farm Production Rise

MINDEN, S. D. — Not a bell would toll, whistle blow, gear turn, or skyscraper grow, if it wasn't for the tool that gave man his conquering edge over nature. No, not the wheel, nor the sword or pistol — but the plow.

A little more than a century ago, most American farms operated on a subsistence level. Farmers raised just enough to provide for their families.

Today one farmer feeds 40 people in the U.S. While in most parts of the world it is true that the plow is still a primitive tool, for his needs with little left over for others. Boldface headlines read: "Move 'Afoot for New Red Gruth Deeds"; this typifies the enormity of the problem as Communism faces it today.

Yet in America the agricultural industry — man's oldest — has risen to new heights of production. Why? The sweeping change of mechanical power as it replaced muscular power in farming illustrates the dramatic change of America from a backwoods democracy to the world leader.

Most of our phenomenal progress that produced our present abundance came about in the last 130 years. These changes — created by the climate of freedom, peace and individual initiative — that early settlers could take advantage of free enterprise — are portrayed at the Deere in 1837: Almost simulated the trend towards mechanized farming. In 1830, it took one man 40 hours to harvest and thresh one acre; today it takes one man less than 8 minutes to complete the same chore on one acre.

U. S. Farm Trade With Mart Rises

PARIS — A farm report issued by the European Economic Community indicates the community's agricultural imports from the United States increased $20.5 million or 21.7 per cent in 1964 to a total of $133 billion.

At the same time the Community farm exports to the United States rose only 3.9 per cent to $209.7 million. The community thus had a deficit of $1.36 billion in its farm trade with the U.S. last year.

The report said the Common Market imports from other countries rose 7.5 per cent while exports to those countries rose only 5.5 per cent, again resulting in a net deficit in trade.

All countries of the United States as a major importer to the Common Market was strengthened since 1958 as its exports to the market increased 83.1 per cent to 16.1 per cent of the total last year.

All community countries experienced a sharp rise in farm imports from the United States. The largest importer remained Germany with $612.7 million last year. Germany was also the community's major farm import market in 1964 with a total of $2.42 billion.

France was the EEC country with the largest percentage increase of imports from the United States, up 116 per cent since 1958.
