

Decision on Fate of Hotel Awaits Insurance Report

Owners of the Rogerson Hotel surveyed the blackened ruin of their building Wednesday morning and began to decide what their next move will be. They were awaiting results of a thorough investigation by insurance adjusters and were not able to make any estimate on monetary value of the loss. William Munger, general manager of the Rogerson Motor Inn said whether the hotel will be rebuilt will be decided on results of the investigation, but added that if at all possible the hotel will be put back in business. The fire, which started about 10 p.m. Tuesday in the hotel kitchen, destroyed the third floor of the three-story structure. The rest of the hotel, as well as four businesses on the ground floor, had severe smoke and water damage.

Marble-Sized Hail Falls At Ketchum

HAILEY — Hail the size of marbles fell in the Ketchum area Tuesday evening, during an electrical rain storm which started a small fire above Charedon Hot Springs up Deer Creek. No damage was reported. It was reported the hail was two inches deep on the ground at Ketchum and apparently followed a strip running as far north as Baker Creek. No hail fell either at Galena store or at Hailey, but rain continued throughout the Wood River Valley until late Tuesday. Rain was reported across Magic Valley Tuesday night and cloudy, overcast weather was general throughout the area Wednesday.

The rain put out the fire on Deer Creek where four men, including Forest Ranger Richard Anderson were sent to fight the blaze which was close to the timber. Assistant Ranger Raymond Evans, Ketchum, said an inch of precipitation fell within five minutes at the measuring station.

Pope Paul VI Plans Trip To U. N.

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican press office announced today Pope Paul VI would go to New York to visit the United Nations on Oct. 4. The announcement did not say how long the Pope would spend in New York on the first papal trip to the United States. But the director of the Vatican newspaper, "Osservatore Romano," said he would be there only one day. The 8,500-mile round trip will be Pope Paul's third major voyage since he opened a new era of papal travel by flying to the Holy Land and then to India last year. He is expected to go again by air, leaving Rome on Sunday Oct. 3, and spending the next day in New York. Presumably he will fly back overnight to Rome Tuesday morning. In this way he will be gone a minimum amount of time while the Vatican Ecumenical Council is holding its final session.

Marines Kill 66 Viet Cong In Tunnel

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Marines sweeping across South Viet Nam's Batangan Peninsula blew up a tunnel today, killing 66 uniformed Viet Cong hiding from the Americans, a Marine spokesman said. The biggest blow against enemy forces was estimated 5,000 Marines, 300 miles north of Saigon began at dawn Tuesday. Intelligence reports earlier indicated as many as 1,000 guerrillas had been in the area. Maj. Gen. Lewis W. Walt, the Marine commander, said the Viet Cong had been in the tunnel for a long time, which raised the risk of enemy killed in the two-day operation to 146. Viet Cong in the tunnel were wearing field packs, loaded with food and other combat equipment. They were blown up with TNT after advancing to the hole in pursuit of a lone Viet Cong sniper.

Youth Project Okayed at Burley

BOISE (AP) — Approval of a Neighborhood Youth Corps Project at Burley to provide part-time employment for 64 young people was announced Tuesday by Gov. Robert E. Smylie. The project would be located in School District No. 151 at Burley and receive a $81,750 grant under Economic Opportunity Act funds to help pay the youth salaries and administer the program. He said the youths include 30 boys and 34 girls.

First Civilian Astronauts to Fly U.S. Space Mission to Be Named This Week

MANNED SPACE CENTER, Houston, Texas, today named the first civilian astronauts to fly in the space mission expected to be named this week. Sources say Neil A. Armstrong and Elliott M. Sze Jr. were named to fly on a two-day rendezvous and docking mission expected early next year. Armstrong, 35, a Korean War veteran from Wapakoneta, Ohio, and Sze, 38, of Dallas, Texas, were backup crewmen for Gemini 8 and 9. Gordon Cooper Jr. and Charles Conrad Jr. were last week completed a record flight of 190 hours and 55 minutes. Sources say the Gemini 8 crew must be named by the end of the week, and they can start the tough, ground-

Hurricane Betsy Pushes Most Water Since 1926

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Betsy pushed a six-foot wall of water across Florida's lower east coast today—the highest since the disastrous flood of 1926—and battered the Florida Keys with savage, 140-mile-an-hour winds. The mighty tide, pushed by a raging east wind that followed the passage of the storm center, sent the Miami River surging out of its banks for blocks on both sides and into numerous industrial plants. Elsewhere, the waves swamped residential islands and sent salty floods pounding down the streets of Miami, Fort Lauderdale and other cities. Water surged three feet deep in Miami's palm-lined Biscayne Boulevard.

Not since the infamous storm of 1926, which sent Miami's water surging back northward, had a hurricane driven so much seawater ashore. The metropolitan areas of the Florida Gulf Coast apparently escaped major damage from winds which peaked at 105 miles an hour at Miami, considerably lower than expected. Despite the hours-long battering of wind and waves, only one death was reported. Helen Cooper, 40, was electrocuted at Miami by a falling power line. Fear rose, however, for nine persons believed stranded aboard three houseboats in a mangrove inlet at Rugged Key, south of Miami.

Budget, Levy Plans Eyed By CSI Board

Plans for a budget and mill levy were considered during a meeting of the College of Southern Idaho Junior College District Board of Trustees Tuesday noon in the Depot Grill Caboose Room. John Coleman, secretary, said Tuesday night no action was taken and pointed out the board of trustees will have to certify a levy next Monday for both the Twin Falls and Jerome County Commissions. He said a 9 a.m. meeting will be held Wednesday before Monday to further discuss the budget and levy. Attending Tuesday's meeting was Tom Mahan, an ex officio member representing Jerome County, which voted Sept. 27 to join the district. Other Magic Valley counties, however, were represented at the meeting. All counties within the college area, whether or not they are a part of the district, may have ex officio members attend board meetings.

Seed Contracts Are Awarded to Two T.F. Firms

WASHINGTON (Special) — Roy George Hansen has been notified by the Bureau of Land Management that it is purchasing 88,000 pounds of crested wheat seed at a cost of $10,940 from Twin Falls Seed and Feed Co., and 80,000 pounds for $17,000 from Globe Food and Seed Co., both Twin Falls. Hansen said the seed will be used in reseeding rangeland near Malheur County, Ore. The contracts were reserved by the Bureau of Land Management for small businesses.

Salaries Boosted At Glens Ferry

GLENS FERRY — The City Council at Glens Ferry has passed ordinances boosting salaries and expenses for the mayor and councilmen and increasing the mayor's term of office to four years. Under the salary ordinance, the mayor's pay will be raised to $35 per month and $100 in expenses will be provided. Councilmen will get $10 per month salary and $25 for expenses. At present, both the mayor and councilmen are limited to $10 per month for expenses.

Fair Opens Under Rainy Skies; 3 Guests Scheduled

FILER — The Twin Falls county fair opened here Wednesday morning despite adverse weather conditions. A good crowd was reported for early viewing of the many exhibits but rain began falling later in the morning, discouraging many potential fairgoers. Three girls with national and state titles are scheduled as featured guests of the fair. They are Pat Koren, Miss Rodeo America; Harriet Sharp, Miss Rodeo Idaho, and Michele Ann Portwood, Miss Indian America. They will make several appearances at the fair and at various Twin Falls stores.

City Vote Set, Land Is Annexed at Meet

General municipal election was set for Oct. 12 and an ordinance annexing a tract of land on Blue Lakes Boulevard-North-to-the-city was approved by the Twin Falls City Commission Tuesday night. A resolution proclaiming the general municipal election was approved by the commission. Three commission positions will be up for election. These positions are now held by John Angerbauser, Egon Kroll, chairman, and Robert Warberg. Kroll said the positions all are four-year terms. The three commissioners said it was too early to say if they would be seeking reelection.

Drive Asked To Beautify City of T.F.

The Twin Falls City Commission was asked by a Twin Falls Garden Club delegation Tuesday night during the city commission meeting to do everything it can to help make Twin Falls the most beautiful city in Idaho. The delegation said some of the streets, and alleys in Twin Falls are disgraceful, with all the litter and trash they try to get around. The delegation asked the commission to do all it can to stop citizens of Twin Falls from littering streets and alleys with trash. John Angerbauser told the delegation a committee composed of himself and commissioners John Blat and Frank Joldman, had been formed in an attempt to do something about the situation, which is getting worse.

Approval Given for 2 Training Courses

Approval of two training courses to operate under the Manpower Development Act at the College of Southern Idaho were announced in Washington Wednesday by Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho. With the official approval received, college and Department of Employment officers have issued a call for applicants who will qualify for the training. The courses, in farm equipment mechanics and welding, are designed to train the unemployed and underemployed. Applicants, to be eligible for the training allowance, must have had two years of any work experience, be the head of a family or household, or the member of a family whose head is unemployed or of a farm family whose annual income is less than $1,200.

Republicans Ask Cut of Europe Force

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican leaders said today the United States should slash its troop strength in Europe, leaving only a small deterrent force of a U.S. commitment to help defend European allies. The party's top policymaking council advanced that recommendation and eight others in a position paper on the dollar and international finances. "No nation can long endure as a subsidy economy," the Republican Coordinating Committee said. "Today, the dollar is the strongest currency in the world, but there is apprehension that it will not remain so."

U Thant to Give Peace Proposals

GENEVA (AP) — U.N. Secretary-General U Thant said today he will put his own peace proposals before the Indian and Pakistan governments. During a one-hour stopover at the airport to Pakistan, Thant told newsmen: "I have certain suggestions to put to both sides." Hurrying to Pakistan and India on his peace mission, he stopped over briefly in London and conferred with Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart. The two delved into the problem of stopping the fighting between India and Pakistan. Stewart reassured Thant that prime Minister Harold Wilson's government was firmly behind the secretary-general's peace-keeping mission. Stewart and Thant both said they had found the discussion useful.

India Makes 2 Attacks on West Pakistan

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — India's army launched two new attacks on West Pakistan today and claimed it had forced a Pakistani withdrawal on the Kashmir front. India reported Pakistani bombers were driven off in an attempt to attack New Delhi. An Indian force spokesman in Pakistan said the report was completely false. Defense Minister Y. B. Chavan told Parliament one Indian spearhead already was five miles into southern Pakistan. Reports reaching New Delhi said this force captured Gandra, 512 miles inside the frontier about 220 miles east of Karachi. Defense Minister Chavan said these accounts said the army was advancing toward Khatnapur, 15 miles inside Pakistan. The Defense Ministry could not confirm these reports. Chavan said another force crossed the northern frontier near the sector in southwestern Kashmir where the Pakistani army invasion began a week ago. He said this attack was forcing Pakistani units in the Chhamb area of Kashmir to withdraw. Thus India opened the third front in the Kashmir sector about 110 miles south of Chhamb.

House Urged to Give LBJ Elbow Room in Kashmir War

WASHINGTON (AP) — In an apparent move to head off a Republican attempt to cut off aid to India, administration leaders urged the house today to give President Johnson more elbow room in dealing with the India-Pakistan crisis. "This is above all a time when we must give the President the necessary freedom to maneuver to protect the national interest and international peace," Rep. George H. Mahon, D-Tex., said in opening debate on $500 million appropriation bill which includes $3,285,000,000 in foreign aid. Mahon, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, said he had been assured by Secretary of State Dean Rusk that no U.S. military or

42 Hikers Safe After Zion Narrows Flood

ZION NATIONAL PARK, Utah (AP)—Ordeal by flood was over today for 42 wild-ernes hikers trapped almost three days by rains which swelled the Virgin River in Zion National Park's deep Zion Narrows.

The last of the hikers waded out, sometimes in water up to their armpits, late Tuesday.

The last were a party of nine led by Iron County Sheriff Otto Fife of nearby Cedar City. He led a party of 21 which began the hike Saturday, when weather forecasts indicated it would probably not rain.

It did rain early Sunday before dawn, and some hikers said the water rushing through the canyon sounded like jet airplanes.

Some of Fife's party left the canyon before he and the last three hikers came out late Tuesday.

Fife, 64, said he had kept the hikers out because he was worried about their physical condition, and was afraid to tackle the canyon until he was sure the water wouldn't rise further.

The canyon has sheer walls rising in places 1,500 feet. Los Angeles man can stretch out both arms, said, "If there was anybody up and touch either side in places, there who didn't believe in God, hikers have to wade the river most of the way because there are no banks."

Before Fife and his party came out, five Californians who had been feared missing walked to safety.

They were preceded by two 16-year-old boys who told park rangers the Californians had left before they did. How they got back to the Californians remained a mystery.

Capital Punishment Foes Say Innocent People May Die

HARRY FERGUSON
WASHINGTON (UPI)—At high noon on May 3, 1946, Willie Francis, a 17-year-old Negro who had been convicted of murder, was strapped into the electric chair at St. Martinville, La., and the switch was thrown.

Minutes later he rose from the chair and, being asked how he felt, responded that "the electricity tickled me a little."

There had been a malfunction of one of the wires leading to the electric chair and Francis received only a small jolt. Had he died at the time and place appointed he would be a forgotten man. But now he is a famous figure in the furious and lengthy controversy over capital punishment.

Had Willie Francis paid his debt to society when the switch was thrown? Did the state of Louisiana have a moral obligation to commute his sentence to life imprisonment so that his life would not be placed in jeopardy? Were there any precedents for such a case, and what were they?

For one year and six days the Francis case went up the legal ladder to the U. S. Supreme Court and back again. Francis' lawyers delivered ingenious pleas to all the courts in which they appeared: Shadach, Meshach and Abednego were pardoned after they were cast into the fiery furnace by King Nebuchadnezzar and survived. Daniel still was alive in the den of lions and was pardoned. In 1858 John Lee was taken to the scaffold three times, but the trap never worked and he survived. The British some secretary reprieved him.

The way the U. S. Supreme Court divided on the Willie Francis case is an example of how wide is the chasm between opponents and proponents of capital punishment. Four of the nine justices ruled there was no constitutional bar to putting Francis into the electric chair again. Four of them held that because of the cruel and inhuman treatment involved the case should be sent back to the Louisiana courts for determination of whether any electricity had passed through Francis' body. Justice Felix Frankfurter differed from both viewpoints in several respects, but his opinion added up to the fact that Louisiana could try again. Thus Willie Francis walked to the electric chair for the second time and died there.

No Water Here

It might come as a surprise to South Idaho residents in this year of plentiful—and sometimes too much—water, but South Idaho has no water surplus. The U.S. Geological Survey, which has finished a Columbia River Basin water survey for the Bonneville Power Administration, notes that the Snake River Basin already has water shortages and "serious shortages" may occur in the not distant future.

It now becomes obvious why the Secretary of Interior declared the other day that any diversion of water from the Pacific Northwest would involve only the water flowing from the Columbia into the ocean. The experts have learned what Idahoans have known for a long time, namely, that in years of drought Snake River flow can't fill present demands for water.

It doesn't mean everyone can relax, confident that all the plans and proposals for diverting Snake River water will collapse. Snake River is the life blood of South Idaho and must be protected at any and all costs.

But South Idaho already has shortages of water in some districts and during some periods, what of the future? Demand for water will increase, not decrease. Perhaps the key will be found in improved irrigation practices to make better use of water, more reservoirs on the upper reaches of the Snake to retain every possible drop of water and more extensive development of ground water supplies.

It also becomes evident that South Idaho has a dim future so far as industry is concerned, especially any industry that might require large volumes of water. Any industrial expansion will have to be confined to small plants not predicated on availability of large supplies of water. Irrigation will continue to be the big user of water. It's significant that the region of which South Idaho is a portion and the Puget Sound area (Seattle) are required now for 48 per cent of the water requirements in the entire Columbia River Basin. In the entire basin, irrigation accounted for 98 per cent of the total water consumed in 1960.

By the year 2010, the Geological Survey expects water requirements of the entire region to increase to about 45 million acre feet annually, or almost five times more than in 1960. Says the report, "Projections of water requirements to the year 2010 indicate that irrigation use will consume the greatest amount of water—about 14,800 million gallons per day (16,600,000 acre foot per year), or about 81 per cent of the total expected consumption in 2010."

So far as South Idaho is concerned, the water future is not rosy. "Serious shortages" may occur in area 41 (South Idaho and East Oregon) by 2010 because projections of water requirements for that year are considerably greater than the water that will be available in that area for once-only use," the report declares.

If the outlook appears gloomy, consider the prospect facing other regions of the nation. The report declares, "The greatest water surpluses appear to be in the Pacific Northwest and in the Southeast. However, on the basis of population, there is a considerably greater surplus in the Pacific Northwest . . ." which does not particularly help the portions of the region which already have a shortage of water at times.

BLIND CANDIDATES

It's inconceivable that any Idaho politician would aspire to office on the platform of repealing the sales tax. If the referendum scheduled for November of next year should happen to be successful, it's obvious already that a chaotic situation would develop promptly in the state. If the sales tax were killed, who would want to be governor?

The first result of any sales tax repeal would be a shortage of funds to complete the fiscal year. Then one of two courses would have to be followed, either (a) immediate and extensive curtailment of spending or (b) an immediate and considerable increase in existing taxes to help close the gap. Probably a combination of the two courses would be used.

It's not difficult to see what political future would face any politician who happened to be around when that trap snapped shut. It's also not too difficult to imagine public reaction.

It's not apparent yet and will be some months before the full benefit of the sales tax starts to become apparent. However, it has been estimated the sales tax law has granted relief from property taxes and income taxes to the tune of some 20 million dollars. The full measure of income tax reductions won't be obvious until early 1967 when Idahoans file their tax returns for 1966. Candidates who campaign against the sales tax in effect are campaigning for a big boost in income taxes.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

By ANDREW TULLY
WASHINGTON—It is probably true, as White House aides piously insist, that President Johnson replaced John Gronouski as Postmaster General of the United States because Johnson was unhappy about the sad state of our mail service. But no one should hold his breath waiting for improvement.

If anything, there will be a little more politics than usual in the politics-ridden Postoffice Department. O'Brien is the man who has spent a successful lifetime making politics work. He was most responsible for putting John Kennedy in the White House, and Lyndon Johnson frequently has singled O'Brien out as the aide who did most to steer the administration's massive program through this Congress.

ADVOCATE OF PATRONAGE

O'Brien, decent and honest and one of the most likeable men in Washington, is a pragmatic idealist. He believes completely in government by politics as the only practical way of running a republic based on the two-party system. He is a staunch advocate of patronage reaching down to the lowest level of party workers at the most exalted level of government. O'Brien has been spectacularly successful in dealing with Republicans in Congress simply because he keeps his word with them.

Despite this background—or perhaps because of it—Larry O'Brien still could bring some order out of the postal chaos. For, as a career politician, he understands other politicians, notably Lyndon Johnson, and he can take orders.

GRONOUSKI FREE WHEELING

Gronouski is also a career politician, but there have been times when he has been too free-wheeling for Johnson's taste. Some of his actions have seemed to imply that he knew better than the boss, and this is fatal when the boss is Lyndon Johnson.

For example, Gronouski messed up the Postoffice Department's plan in Johnson's summer job program for underprivileged youths which the President had envisioned as a wholesome adjunct to the poverty program. Johnson ordered the agencies to hire 25,000 youths at $1.25 an hour, strictly on the basis of need and merit.

But Gronouski, who wooed Congress almost as assiduously as Larry O'Brien did, decided to make some points on Capitol Hill. He persuaded congressmen to amend the bill, for the jobs and decided to pay the youths $2.20 an hour. As a result, 3,380 of the 8,577 summer jobs in the Postoffice Department were filled by applicants who knew somebody on the Hill.

JOHNSON ORDERED INVESTIGATION

It was no secret that the President was furious at this political contravention of his policy; he saw it as a high road to the news. And he ordered an investigation by the Civil Service Commission which peeled off some of the Gronouski hide.

It is also a fact that Johnson is concerned over deterioration of mail service. After all, everybody uses the mail and that represents a lot of votes. The President does not have to look this kind of intelligence to a man whom congressmen respect, and so Larry O'Brien might put somebody's feet to the fire.

THE POWER SOLUTION

If the agreement language in a bill now before a Senate subcommittee committee remains the same, it appears a wheeling arrangement for BPA power into Southern Idaho is now incumbent on the Idaho Power Co.

The restrictions on the BPA are thoroughgoing in the agreement even if the power company may point out that the restrictions could still allow BPA to quietly promote new contracts behind the scenes.

In our opinion, however, the agreement is as much protection as the Idaho Power Co. could or should get.

In essence the agreement prohibits BPA from taking customers from the private utilities in Southern Idaho, from serving any phosphate plant or other industrial customer in that area, and disallows preference customers (like municipalities or rural cooperatives) from themselves serving industrial loads. Furthermore, the agreement permits the delivery by private utilities of federal power to towns and cooperatives.

The door was left open on the big area of disagreement which has stalemated a wheeling arrangement between BPA and Idaho Power Co. to date—the decision on who serves future preference customers. But the agreement prohibits BPA from soliciting new preference customers.

All these conditions are imposed on the BPA in congressional approval of $1 million of planning money for a new federal transmission into the area. But Congress in the present agreement under final consideration calls on BPA to first reach negotiations with a wheeling agreement. A transmission line would cost upwards of $80 million with estimates ranging up to $150 million when finally completed.

The agreement could portend Idaho's first straining in revenues from the entire northwest BPA system for a long time. This alone is well worth the wheeling contract.

In essence, the BPA will provide power for present preference customers as well as their future growth. And as this newspaper has stated before, the reasonableness of this goes without saying.—Idaho Falls Post-Register.

THE PRESIDENT'S MANY PENS

President Johnson is going to stop giving away $111 pens and start giving away 17-cent ones, a slash of 84 per cent in unit costs if ever we saw one. This is, however, the quantitative approach, and we cannot help wondering whether the qualitative might not work better with a few pens given away, with a pen as Lyndon Johnson. In other words, it's a good deal better pens and a great deal fewer.

A $111 pen is just not presidential caliber, and we are constantly receiving 17-cent pens from people who are not even president of their local PTA. If President Johnson would stick to a good pen, he would be doing a lot better. It's not giving away something with a real deal, it's giving him to be more selective. As things stand, the President gave away 587 pens at the last five bill signings and the Associated Press reported that all told he has given them away "by the hundreds or probably by the thousands."

There is a man in the White House who has become progressively less of a distinction to own a Johnson pen. We merely point out to the President that Parisians have a saying that the only ones in their midst who do not belong to the Legion of Honor are the guards on the Marais, and that in our country it has been rumored there is a man in the White House who owns parts of the Upper Michigan Peninsula who owns a book by Harnett Keno that is not autographed. Do we want to go all that way with 17-cent pens?—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

The Doctor Says

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q. What is the difference between pernicious anemia and primary anemia? What is the cause? What is the life expectancy with this disease?
A. The two terms are applied to the same disease. Pernicious anemia is known but hereditary is believed to play a part, as evidenced by the fact that it is more prevalent among light-haired, blue-eyed persons and often runs in families. Repeated bouts of secondary anemia (anemia caused by iron deficiency, or hemorrhage) do not cause pernicious anemia.

With modern treatment pernicious anemia will not shorten your life if you follow your doctor's orders conscientiously. If there are no contraindications, the treatment consists of giving vitamin B-12 and determining what maintenance dose you require. This treatment has made the giving of liver extract and blood transfusions for this disease unnecessary.

Q. What is the difference between vitamin B-12 and hydrocortisone?
A. Hydrocortisone is a modification of vitamin B-12 (cyanocobalamin). One injection of the new drug gives a higher, more prolonged blood level of vitamin B-12 than the old product. Although once for many hydrocortisone is a little more costly, the less treatment with it should be because of its greater efficacy.

Q. What is the normal blood count?
A. For women a red blood cell count of 4.5 million and for men of 5 million is normal with a variation of about half a million for either way. The normal range for the white blood cell count for both men and women is 5,000 to 10,000.

Interpreting The News

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's a new experience for President Johnson, and not a pleasant one. This man, who works wonders with Democrats and some Republicans in Congress, can phone them, visit them, have them to dinner, coax, cajole, wheedle and weld when he wants a bill passed.

After almost 30 years of dealing with them Johnson is an expert on the mind, resistance, interests, inclinations, vanities or unities of a senator.

"Let us reason together," he says, and they listen. But dealing with Communists — particularly Asian Communists — is new for him, and they are listening. He talks peace and they deride him.

And apparently he is even having trouble getting through to an Asian ally, the head man in South Viet Nam, Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, for whose people the United States is fighting a war.

For a couple of weeks now while American bombers plastered the Viet Cong in South Viet Nam and the Communists in North Viet Nam — the Johnson administration has made extraordinary gestures toward peace talks.

It issued a "white paper" on Viet Nam aimed at justifying the American involvement there. It put three of its top men, including the Secretary of State Dean Rusk, on television to explain the American opinion.

Rusk held a news conference explaining some more. Johnson held a news conference where he talked of "peace — peace, either simple, little five-letter word," which he called the most important word in the English language.

And this week Mike Mansfield of Montana, leader of the Senate Democrats, made a speech summarizing the American conditions for a peaceful settlement. The White House made it clear the speech had Johnson's blessing beforehand.

And what happened? The American's nuns are sending a formal petition to the Pope, asking that they be represented on any Vatican commissions that may undertake to draw up revisions of the rules governing religious orders.

They also asked for a voice in the sacred congregation of religious orders, the permanent Curia agency dealing with monks and nuns.

The petition was adopted by unanimous vote at a recent conference of the major superiors of all U. S. orders of sisters.

Sister Mary Luke, chairman of the conference and an auditor at the Vatican Council, said the petition reflects a "serious concern that women should have something to do with the regulations that bind them."

"Traditionally such regulations have been made by men," she said. "We are strongly suggesting that we have representation."

In a message that was read Sunday from thousands of Protestant pulpits, the National Council of Churches said it is shocking that 30 per cent of the families living in poverty that is, with incomes below $3,000 a year, have a breadwinner who is fully employed throughout the year.

Something is badly wrong, the message said, when "the reward of full-time employment is poverty."

It called on church members to work for "improvement and extension of our minimum wage laws."

Rabbi Seymour J. Cohen of Chicago, president of the Synagogue Council of America, said it is particularly disturbing that in this time of high prosperity, "millions of Americans are underemployed or unemployed."

"Unemployment is a human disaster as well as a source of poverty," he said, because being out of work has a "debilitating effect" on a man's emotional health and "weakens his faith in himself."

TAYLOR'S VIEWS ON WORLD NEWS

BUDAPEST — Hungarian workers are telling this story: "It's impossible to do anything right. If you arrive five minutes early you are a saboteur. If you arrive late you are a traitor. If you are late you are betraying socialism. If you arrive on time the commissar asks, 'Where did you get the water?' They repeat it quietly to all who will listen, but there is hot thunder in their whisper. Peasants, in turn, have their story about the farmer who should as the beast the cart belongs to you!"

Intellectuals here, and some are superb, add a third famous story: A professor went into a Budapest store to buy some tea. "Russian or Chinese?" the storekeeper asked. "Make it coffee instead," the professor said.

"The macabre plight of the satellite people is not one dominant story: A professor went into a Budapest store to buy some tea. "Russian or Chinese?" the storekeeper asked. "Make it coffee instead," the professor said.

He said South Viet Nam is "not ready" to begin peace negotiations unless there are solid guarantees Red troops would be pulled back to North Viet Nam while American troops stayed in South Viet Nam until Ky's government asked them to leave.

Johnson had been trying to convince the Reds the United States would be willing to begin peace talks without any previous conditions, although this doesn't mean it would agree to peace without a number of conditions.

But the North Vietnamese had already declared there could be no peace without full withdrawal of all American troops. So they seem to be talking one way, Ky another way, and Johnson a third way.

The 35-year-old Ky is a strong-willed man. And if he doesn't see eye to eye with the United States on how to have peace, the whole business can't be expected to last.

The United States had an end of conflict with President Ngo Dinh Diem until he was overthrown and killed, and its relations with some of his successors have been rocky, although none could survive without the United States.

feature, the standard of living, or the secret police, or any other one thing. The plight is a morass and each of the above is the frustration in one's working life, the inhumanity in agricultural planning and the contamination of free thought.

Incentive programs, bonuses for more work, etc., are being introduced. But much of the editorials, commentaries and growing speculation in this country about what this means seems far, very far off the mark here.

When in America we interpret such innovations as a crack in the dike, a shift toward the working life and attitudes of the masses, you get no such impression here.

The new features are mere mechanical adjustments in the same machine. They have more to do with capitalism and free enterprise than a change the warden might make at Sing Sing Prison.

Prisoners are manufactured in the prison shop. The warden would be only "intelligent" if he allotted more exercise privileges and whatnot to inmates who boosted their output. But it remains Sing Sing, the inmates are still not going any place and the system is a whole.

For example, the No. 1 throughout the satellite countries is the housing shortage. Here it is immense. Yet the Red government twists the problem into a device for party entrenchment and sorer conditions.

A directive requires that when a young couple are married they must move in with the parents of the bride or bridegroom. It doesn't matter whether the parents have space for them or not. They can list their names for an apartment. But the apartments are given to party favorites.

And so it is with the new incentives in the whole. (A big incentive to be an informant who pays petty graft into the bureaucracy, or those who have a good record for not going to prison.)

Odd achievements turn up nevertheless. For example, extraordinary 40 miles per hour hydrofoil pleasure boats skim the Danube to Vienna and back in a matter of a week. Hungary is delivering Norway (a shipbuilding nation) 1.5 million river ships of advanced design and at a low cost.

The precision instrument output is on a par with that of the Soviet Union, where the product is very good. Indeed, the instrument supplies of the Soviet Union for Russia's uranium development in Czechoslovakia, now largely idle for reasons I couldn't discover either there or here.

Intricate Hungarian machine tools are highly prized throughout the world. The work of the optical outfit, the crystal work, and the distinctive glass, the famous horse-breeding farms, too, are doing well. Most of their thoroughbred stock go to Russia, England, Italy and France.

But with these specialties, the atmosphere of the country ends and the system greets the people with eyes as cold as black beads.

The king of hearts and a low heart to dummy's jack pulled up the adverse trumps and at this point a diamond lead would have brought home the contract but South was in a hurry to get rid of his two low clubs.

He discarded them eight-ways on dummy's high spades and then led a diamond. West took South's jack with his queen and led a low club. Note that if South had not taken those premature discards he could have won the trick with dummy's queen, but now he had to win with his ace.

He led a second diamond. West was in again and forced South to ruff his king of clubs.

South ruffed a third diamond in dummy; ruffed a spade with his last trump; ruffed another diamond with dummy's last trump and conceded a spade trick for down one.

LDS Leader Celebrates 92nd Year

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—The 92-year-old president of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (Mormon) celebrated his birthday today. And he said he was getting younger.

He walked around his hotel Utah apartment without his cane and said:

"I haven't an ache or a pain. I have no drudgery, and every day of life is a pleasure."

President David O. McKay, 92, has 1,300,000 members of the Mormon Church throughout the world. The church maintains hospitals and schools in Wyoming, Idaho and Utah. The best known is Brigham Young University at Provo, Utah.

President McKay was in celebration of his birthday with wife, Emma Ray Riggs McKay, 88, and his immediate family at a home given by his four sisters in Salt Lake City, 48 miles from Salt Lake City.

He was born at Huntsville of Ohio to immigrant converts.

Among his birthday gifts was a book recording the Mormon Church's history since he was named head in 1951. It showed church membership doubled in the past 14 years.

More than half of today's Mormons, the book said, have been born since he was named head in 1951. It showed church membership doubled in the past 14 years.

Cease Fire Blamed for Trouble

By MILTON BESSER

UNITED NATIONS — The rapid escalation of the Pakistan-India dispute stems directly from an upsurge by the incident on the U.N. cease-fire line in Kashmir on Aug. 5. The line involving Indian and Pakistan forces have been mounting this year.

On Aug. 5, according to U.N. observers, a group of armed men, mainly non-citizens, crossed the cease-fire line from the Pakistan side "for the purpose of armed action on the Indian side."

Indian Ambassador Gopinath Parthasarathy told the U.N. Security Council last Saturday the invaders numbered 5,000 and were Pakistani troops in civilian guise. He said their objective was sabotage, assassination, and the capture of the summer capital, Srinagar.

He said interrogation of prisoners revealed that the planned training for the invasion began in May.

Pakistani Ambassador Syed Anjad Ali said his country totally repudiated the Indian allegations. He said that no units of the Pakistani armed forces crossed the cease-fire line. The Pakistani claim that the dispute has been before the United Nations many times but it has never been resolved. Diplomatic efforts by the major powers to induce both sides to settle the dispute have also been in vain.

100 years ago Idaho's schools consisted of a few poorly-lighted and heated one-room cabins with a single teacher responsible for educating those children fortunate enough to attend. First Security was just beginning, too, in a trading post no more glamorous than one of those early school houses.

Today, Idaho's schools and First Security Bank have changed dramatically... each a vital part of the growth of this state.

Through the years First Security has devoted a large share of its financial energy towards Idaho's development. In the past 20 years alone, we have been the principal factors in arranging for over $80 million in financing for new and expanded schools, hospitals, municipal buildings, community recreational facilities, assurance of water storage and supply, improved health and sanitation systems and other civic improvements. We are proud of the fact that the Idaho communities whose financing we have assisted have earned a sound reputation for financial responsibility in meeting their public obligations.

This is another one of the ways First Security has usefully served Idaho during the past 100 years. We look forward to providing more helpful financial services to the people of this state — the kind of banking that is building Idaho.

Bridge Blast In Canada Kills One Man

THREE RIVERS, Que. (UPI) — An underwater bridge explosion in the St. Lawrence River late Tuesday, killing at least one worker and leaving about five others missing and feared dead. Another eight men were injured in the blast.

More than 100 rescue workers, including eight divers, began searching for the missing workers as nightfall closed in.

"I don't think those others have much chance," said an official of the Dufresne-McNamara Construction Co., which is building the new $25 million bridge.

The caisson, a cement-walled watertight cylinder used for construction work under water, exploded about 50 feet below the surface of the river.

George Veilleux, a company safety engineer, said reports as to how many men were in the caisson had not yet been verified. "But at that time, during shift changeover, there would have been about six men working normally. There couldn't have been many more than that."

1.5 Million Foreigners Visit Country

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (UPI)—More than 1.5 million foreign tourists visited the United States in the 12 months ended June 30, the Texas White-House reported Tuesday.

It made public a report to President Johnson from the Justice Department's Immigration and Naturalization Service pointing to a 20 per cent tourist increase over the prior year.

Immigration Commissioner Raymond F. Farrell said many of the 1,323,479 foreign visitors came to see the New York World's Fair.

It was noted the figure did not include hundreds of thousands of foreigners who came to this country on business or government missions, as students, temporary workers, or as immigrants.

The report said:—More than half the tourists came from this hemisphere, led by Mexico with 341,000 and Canada with 163,000. This did not include persons "classified as regular border crossers."

Europe sent 375,514 visitors—more than a quarter of the total. England with 136,000, Germany was next with 65,000 and France followed with 37,000.

Red China Protests India Violations

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China protested today against what it claimed were "successive serious violations" of Communist China's territory and sovereignty by Indian troops. China demanded that India "dismantle" all military structures built beyond or on the China-Sikkim border.

The Chinese also urged India to "withdraw" its armed forces and "stop all acts of aggression and provocation against China in the western, middle and eastern sectors of the Chinese-Indian border."

The note, issued by the Chinese Communist Foreign Ministry and sent to the Indian government, was broadcast by Peking's New China News Agency.

500 Negroes Join Portland White Pupils

PORTLAND (AP) — Some 500 school children from Portland's predominantly Negro Albina district started classes Tuesday in 44 elementary schools throughout the city without incident.

Chartered buses picked up some 350 students at four elementary schools in the Albina district, while another 140 students went to out-of-neighborhood schools at the request of their parents in private cars and city buses.

The selective busing is part of the Portland School District's Model School plan recommended by the Race and Education Committee.

Welcoming groups were waiting at many of the 44 schools for the new students as teachers and students expressed a desire to have them fit right into the student bodies.

The prospect of helping to solve the problem of de facto segregation was received with enthusiasm by most of the teachers and principals.

"Their parents are our families now and PTAs are urging them to take active roles in activities at the new schools where their children are going," one principal said.

Family Fights Village Board To Keep Horse in Suburb

NEW YORK (AP) — A family's fight against keeping a nondomestic horse named Mr. Magoo in a New York suburb.

The board agreed Tuesday night, charging the horse causes "an odor offensive to the immediate neighbors, a disturbing collection and emission of dust in the surrounding area and a safety hazard to pedestrians in the narrow village roadways."

However, the board added that it recognizes "the affection Miss Southard has for the horse, and enjoins her to explore the possibility of harboring Mr. Magoo in nearby areas permitting horses."

"We are not going to put Mr. Magoo out to any boarding stable," said Southard. "He wouldn't have enough room to run around."

"We'll take our case to Nassau County Court next and to the U.S. Supreme Court if we have to," he said. "Karen is going to keep Mr. Magoo."

Sun Valley Is Site for Trade Group's Meeting
SUN VALLEY, Idaho (AP) — The Pacific Northwest Trade Association will hold its annual convention in Sun Valley, beginning Thursday. Sessions will continue through Saturday.

About 125 delegates from Idaho, Oregon, Washington, Montana, North Dakota and British Columbia will attend.

Speakers will include Louise Shaddock, secretary of the Idaho Department of Commerce and Development, and Alva Green of Boise, president of the Idaho Motel Association. Banquet speaker will be Arthur Bazata, vice president and general manager of the Yellowstone Park Co.

Haiti Sees Failure of U.S. Aid

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP) — Rats infest Haiti. They nest in the thick grass roof of a peasant's hut and feed on his meager crops. They seem to own the country road at night as they flit back and forth in the headlights.

The U.S. government once tried to do something about the rats. Mongooses were introduced into the country. But the project failed. The mongooses, instead of attacking the rats, ate the peasant's chickens, adding to his burden.

For many Haitians, the mongoose projects is a full illustration of the effectiveness of foreign aid in the Western Hemisphere's poorest nation. One hundred million dollars has been spent to aid Haiti since World War II. Most of it came from the United States. But the deterioration of the country seems to continue.

Much of the aid was for road construction and maintenance. Yet the 200-mile ride from Port au Prince to Les Cayes, a southern port city, takes more than 15 hours by Jeep today. It was a four-hour trip by car in 1957, the year Francois Duvalier became president.

Near Les Cayes a huge earth mover sits abandoned on a rise in the rutted road. The initials "U.S.A." are stenciled on the doors. Weeds grow through the engine hood. Peasants in the neighborhood say the earth mover blew a tire six years ago. Before a new tire was obtained, the road project stopped and the road project was forgotten.

In the potentially rich Artibonite Valley, a dam and irrigation system stands as a monument to what U.S. officials describe as corruption and inefficiency in the Haitian government. More than $30 million, borrowed from the Export-Import Bank, went into the project. The money was exhausted before electric generators were installed. They were left to rust in the fields.

The Duvalier government no longer maintains the dam and the irrigation canals.

ABOUT 50 HOMES IN THE SUN VALLEY-KETCHUM AREA HAVE ELECTRIC HEAT

"As far as we are concerned, there isn't any other kind"

—Mr. and Mrs. Tom McGehee, Ketchum

"By far the majority of new homes being built in our area have electric heat," say Mr. and Mrs. McGehee. "We have built three all-electric homes ourselves and have two more coming along. Electric heat is clean, free of maintenance problems, and the temperature is always right. If you insulate right, it is very economical. As far as we are concerned, there just isn't any other kind of heat!"

BLACKENED DEBRIS around stairwell at Rogerson Hotel is mute testimony of Tuesday's fire that caused widespread damage to the more than 50-year-old Twin Falls hotel building. Here Fire Marshal Fred Higgins examines some of the damage after the fire was under control Tuesday afternoon. (Times-News photo)

OPEN TO THE SKY is this third-floor hallway at the Rogerson Hotel. Tuesday's fire at the hotel was confined mostly to the third floor, but there was extensive smoke and water damage throughout the building. Seven guests in the hotel all got out safely. Charred wood and soggy rugs litter this hallway. (Times-News photo)

Sara A. Sliger Is Bride of Darrell Reinke

The Church of the Ascension, Twin Falls, was the setting for the Aug. 14 service, which united in marriage Sara Ann Sliger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Sliger, Twin Falls, and Darrell Richard Reinke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Reinke, Ashton.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Warren Howell before the altar decorated with bouquets of large, white chrysanthemums in the form of a cross. The altar bouquets were flanked by spiral candelabra and large baskets of chrysanthemums also arranged in the form of a cross.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of silk organza featuring a Chantilly lace bodice and scalloped sash neckline. A wide border of clipped lace edged the modified bell-shaped skirt, which extended into a chapel train. She carried a cascade bouquet of white butterfly roses and stephanotis on her prayer book. Her waist-length illusion veil was held by a lace chapel veil.

Joanne Reinke, Ashton, was maid of honor and Nancy Bernhardt, Bayard, Neb., served as bridesmaid.

William Packwood, Shreveport, La., served as best man. James Sliger, brother of the bride, served as groomsmen.

Mrs. Warren Howell was organist and played selections from the "Cockey Wedding Suite" for the wedding music. A reception was held in the Memorial Room immediately following the ceremony. The bride's table was decorated with a gold colored nylon flounce and gold silk. It was held in place by corsages of gold colored roses, white Starburst chrysanthemums and white snapdragons. The wedding cake, centering the oval-shaped table, was flanked by antique gold egg-urns holding roses, snapdragons and gold grapes. A crystal punch bowl and silver coffee service completed the setting.

The wedding cake was cut and served by Mrs. Leonard Darrett, Scientist's Clinic, Port Republic, Md., cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Raymond Ohlensleben, Buhl. Serving punch was Mrs. Walter Eytchison, Boise. Mrs. Walter Loflang, Sunnyvale, Calif., grandmother of the bride, poured coffee. Mrs. Henry Wendling, Twin Falls, assisted with the reception. Mrs. Grant Ward registered the guests and Mary Lou Grandjean and Jacque House received and arranged gifts.

A rehearsal dinner for the wedding party and out-of-town guests was hosted by the bride's parents at "Tony's Cafe."

Following a honeymoon trip to Carmel-by-the-Sea, Calif., the couple left for St. Louis, where the bridegroom will continue studies at Concordia Seminary. Out of town guests attended from Seattle, Wash.; Salt Lake City, Utah; St. Louis, Mo.; Silver Spring, Md.; Port Republic, Md.; Lincoln, Neb.; and Boise, Caldwell, Parma, Burley, Gooding and Ashton.

Five-Team Race Is Seen As Tightest in Record Books of National Loop

NEW YORK (AP)—There never has been anything like the current five-team National League pennant race involving Los Angeles, San Francisco, Milwaukee, Cincinnati and Pittsburgh. There have been three-team battles going into the second week of September. Even four teams. But this is the first time that four teams have separated the first five teams. Oddly enough, the balance of the schedule favors fifth-place Pittsburgh, which trailed the league-leading Dodgers by four games before Tuesday's games. The Giants were second, a game behind, with the Braves and Reds tied for third, 1/2 game off the pace.

Wendell Figures to Improve 1964 Record

WENDELL — "We are a little bigger than last year and should be slightly faster. We have more overall depth than the past three years and spirit and desire better than ever before. We look to improve on last year's record," says Wendell Coach Yogi Berra in summarizing his prospects for the season. The Trojans will debut at 1:45 p.m. Thursday when they travel to Los Angeles.

Ellis Blanks Pirates 5-0 For Redlegs

CINCINNATI (AP)—Frank Robinson hit a two-run double and John Edwards socked a home run Tuesday night as the Cincinnati Reds whipped Pittsburgh 5-0 behind the three-hit pitching of Sammy Ellis.

Ellis gained his 18th victory against eight defeats, striking out 10. He and Pittsburgh's Don Cardwell engaged in a scorching duel until the fourth inning when the Reds erupted for four runs.

Vada Pinson was hit by a pitch with one out, and raced to third on Gordy Coleman's single before scoring on Deron Johnson's grounder.

Two runs came across on Robinson's double, but the Reds' outfielder was out trying to score on a passed ball. Edwards followed with his 15th home run.

Pittsburgh 600 000 000—0 3 0 Cincinnati 000 410 000—5 0 1 Cardwell, Wood (4), Walker (6), Frazier (8) and Pugh (10) pitched for the Reds. W—Ellis (18-8), L—Cardwell (11-10).

Oyler Guides Tigers Over Boston 5-3

DETROIT (AP)—Ray Oyler's two-out double in the seventh inning scored rookie Wayne Redmond with the breaking run, and the Detroit Tigers went on for a 5-3 victory over the Boston Red Sox Tuesday night.

Oyler's single snapped Boston's longest winning streak of eight games at four games.

Norm Cash hit a two-run homer, capping a three-run Detroit first inning. Al Kaline singled home the first run after Dan Wert singled, stole second and moved to third on Russ Nixon's throwing error.

Boston chased Julio Navarro, making the first start of his major league career, in the fifth. Nixon doubled, moved to third on a single by Rico Petrocelli and scored on Jim Gosger's sacrifice fly to center. Petrocelli sacrificed the tying run on Dalton Jones' infield hit.

Boston 001 020 000—3 1 1 Detroit 420 000 110—5 7 1 Monbouquette and Nixon; Navarro, Fox (5) and Sullivan; Freeman (8), W.—Fox (6-3), L.—Monbouquette (8-18). Home run—Detroit, Cash (23).

Walker Rivals To Meet Again

NEW YORK (AP)—Walker Cup golf rivals will be re-united next week by two pairs of players in the first two rounds of the U.S. Amateur Golf Championship at Tulsa, Okla.

Joe Carr of Ireland, the captain of the British team and three-time winner of the British Amateur title, will play his first two rounds with Bill Campbell of Huntington, W.Va., the defending U.S. champion. England's Rodney Foster will be paired with former U.S. champion Deane Heman of Bethesda, Md., who beat him in last Friday's Walker Cup singles.

The amateur championship will be decided on a 72 holes of stroke play over the 6,017-yard, par 35-36-71 Southern Hills Country Club, a change from the traditional match play format.

Other prospects include Randy Hollander, Nick Freeman, Lee Hilly, Charles Parsons, Lester Bolan, Mark Gunning, Kelly Dennis, Jerry Allred, Jim Ezika, Bill Anoy, Lynn Schmidt and Bob Anderson.

The Wendell schedule includes Sept. 11, Wendell at Wake Forest; Sept. 14, Wake at Wendell; Oct. 2, Wendell at Wake; Oct. 5, Wake at Wendell; Oct. 15, Wake at Wendell; Oct. 22, Wendell at Wake; Nov. 5, Wake at Wendell; Nov. 12, Wendell at Gooding.

Hal Greer Signs Pact With 76ers PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Hal Greer, who hopes to join the Philadelphia National Basketball Association 10,000-point club this season, has signed his 1965-66 contract with the Philadelphia 76ers. Greer has 6,684 points in his seven years in the NBA, a record last season for a 20.2 average.

BEING CONGRATULATED as he rounds third base in the fifth inning Tuesday is Jim Ray Hart, San Francisco Giants third baseman, after blamming a long home run into the right field pavilion at Los Angeles and giving the Giants a three run lead. The homer brought in Willie Mays, right. Congratulating Hart is third base coach Charlie Fox. The Giants won 3-1 and moved into first place in the National League, two percentage points ahead of the Dodgers. (AP wirephoto)

Osuna Hard Pressed, but Makes Round of 16 in National Meet

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Rafael Osuna of Mexico, 1963 winner and sixth-seeded, had to call upon all of his wizardry and delicate touch Tuesday for a 7-9, 8-6, 6-2, 12-10 victory over Herb FitzGibbon of Garden City, N.Y., that carried him into the round of 16 of the National Tennis Championships. The little Latin was the hardest pressed of favored players, including third-seeded Dennis Ralston of Berkeley, Calif., eighth-seeded Cliff Drysdale of South Africa and giant-killer Charlie Pasarell of Puerto Rico.

The tournament filled the round of 16 in both men's and women's divisions on a sultry, wind-whipped day that drew around 10,000 fans to the West Side Tennis Club.

Eighth-seeded Cliff Drysdale joined the fourth-seeded Ralston in the fourth round along with Charlie Pasarell, 21-year-old Puerto Rican who upset second-seeded Fred Stolle of Australia on Sunday.

Pasarell smashed Kjetil Jorgensen of New Canaan, Conn., 6-2, 6-3, 6-2, but was well below his top form.

The women's division was paced by top-seeded Margaret Smith of Australia, who crushed Cecilia Martinez of San Francisco 6-0, 6-3. Miss Smith won 10 games in a row before she lapsed into a letdown, letting the bouncy California miss win services in the fifth and seventh games and got her only break in the eighth.

"I want a shot at Ray Emerson," Ralston said after winning a match marked by cannonball services and an absence of rallies.

The victory placed the Californian in the round of 16 and his next opponent is Ron Holmberg, a native New Yorker once regarded as the most promising player-to-come-along since Bill Tidler.

Holmberg, whose tennis got sidetracked by a stint in the Army and a hotel-restaurant job in Dallas, proved he can still whack the ball by eliminating Nicolai Pietrangeli, the off-and-on Italian Davis Cup veteran, 6-3, 6-3, 7-5.

The setback to Pietrangeli probably speeded the Italian's decision to turn pro. "I'm going home and think about it," said the 32-year-old Nicola, who got only two points on Holmberg's sizzling service in the opening set.

Dove Banding Work Completed at Camas

Camas County morning doves contributed 778 "guinea pigs" for a banding experiment that will eventually tell wildlife conservationists more about this migratory bird. Charles Buffington, a University of Idaho student, conducted the banding operation in cooperation with the Idaho Fish and Game Department which in turn is working with the Western States Dove Association. Buffington, who will return to Idaho this fall to work on his master's degree, used an assortment of ground traps and mist-nets to net the birds — largely this year's batch.

Charles Blake, district biologist, notes the trapping operation is part of a three-year study on mourning doves. All Western States are collaborating in the study. It is hoped to draw conclusions on two points. The first would be allowance of the northern tier of states to have early seasons since the doves are notorious early migrants and the second is to establish both intra and inter-state migration routes.

"Nobody really knows very much about doves," says Blake. "This is the first extensive effort aimed at opening up some of the secrets of their habits and tendencies."

"It hasn't anything to do with possible restriction on hunting seasons. In fact, there is a common belief that the dove population has increased in the last few years," he added.

Under the terms of the pact each state is to band 2,000 birds per year. Last year California banded 2,900, with Idaho second at 2,500.

All the statistics will be funneled to the U.S. Wildlife Service, which will compile the data and draw the conclusions. These will be presented as a guide to the Pacific Flyway board that outlines the season and bag limits on all migratory birds.

Indians Use 17-Hit Attack To Drop Sox CHICAGO (AP)—Chico Salton's grand-slam homer highlighted a 17-hit Cleveland attack which defeated the Chicago White Sox 9-5 Tuesday night.

The loss ended Chicago's four-game winning streak and dropped the second-place White Sox five games behind the American League-leading Minnesota Twins, who were idle.

The White Sox, who blew a four-run lead against the Indians, take on the Twins in a two-game series beginning Wednesday night.

The Sox opened with a four-run first inning against the Indians and appeared headed for an easy triumph which would have cut Minnesota's lead to four games.

Cleveland, however, had other ideas. Salton's third homer of the season capped a five-run rally in the fifth, and Cleveland put the game away with three more in the sixth.
