

Pope Back Home; Vows Continued Work for Peace

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI came home today from the papacy's first transatlantic pilgrimage, a day-long quest for world brotherhood, and vowed he would "continue to work as much as possible" for peace. He returned to a red carpet welcome in his see. He said that his striving for world peace was of fundamental point of our program—that is, of our ministry. "We bless all who meet on this difficult luminous way." The mission that cast the papacy in a new international role seemed to have refreshed the Pope. He did not show fatigue after the 20-hour journey. Instead he had the appearance of being satisfied with a mission accomplished.

SYNOPSIS AND AGRICULTURAL SUMMARY
The cold front at the surface that was located off the West Coast yesterday battered the upper levels to push it rapidly across the Pacific Northwest during the night and is now situated in eastern Montana, southeastern Idaho, northern Nevada and across northern California into the Pacific ocean. Precipitation associated with the front has been less than measurable. No precipitation was reported in Magic Valley as the front moved through.

Strong pressure behind the cold front will bring a return to partly cloudy skies. Partly cloudy skies are forecast for Wednesday and Thursday. Winds will remain strong and gusty today with wind speeds not as strong and with less gustiness on Wednesday.

Daytime temperatures will be lowering today and Wednesday with the influx of cooler air in the upper levels. Maximum temperatures today will range in the upper 60s to mid 70s and on Wednesday in the mid 60s to mid 70s. Minimum temperatures tonight are forecast to remain above freezing again with readings mostly in the 40s.

Mild nighttime temperatures were experienced last night in the valleys of Southern Idaho as warmer air ahead of the front and greater wind movement during the night kept overnight low temperatures in the 40s and 50s.

Stronger winds today will cause some delays in haying, bean threshing and fertilizing, but other activities, though being made uncomfortable at times by the wind, can be done. New stands of winter wheat are reported as looking good in all areas with most planting activities in final stages.

City Clean-up Campaign Is Explained

Explanation of the objectives of the City Clean-up Campaign by City Manager H. L. (Herb) Derrick was the highlight of a dinner meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club at the Depot Grill Monday night.

Club members heard Derrick call for the full cooperation of the residents of Twin Falls to make the campaign effective.

Derrick said he was sure that the residents wanted the clean-up campaign and they would be much more enthusiastic about it if they would drive up and down the alleys every time they have an opportunity.

According to Derrick, the city will offer, at a date to be announced, to pick up all junk, large and small, in the alleys if people will put it out on the designated days.

This will save considerable hauling charges for residents and would give them the opportunity to start out with that "clean look."

"Then," said Derrick, "if we keep it clean and encourage the neighbors who follow us, do the same. We will have a clean city." "Think clean, want things clean," quipped Derrick.

Mrs. Doris Boylan, club president, said the city was going all-out on this and residents should be most happy to cooperate to the fullest extent to the asked that people talk to their neighbors and all cooperate to make it a picnic and a joy.

News of the International Convention at Washington, D. C., was given by delegates Helen Porterfield, Jane Adamson and Lillian Moran. The international objective this year is to assist young people.

Music was furnished by Myrna Finney, a student at Twin Falls High School, who played the accordion.

Dr. Richards; Boise Pastor Is Honored

BOISE (AP) — An Idaho minister was recipient Monday of the year's award given to the religious heritage in America.

The nonsectarian, Independent organization said the Rev. Dr. Herbert E. Richards, minister of the First Methodist Church of Boise, will receive the award for his leadership in the religious heritage in America.

The 45-year-old minister is a native of Houston, Pa., and a graduate of Dickinson College, University and Theological Seminary and Columbia University. He was a faculty member and assistant dean at the University of Washington, D.C., and also at Howard, D.C., and at the University of Chicago, Ill.

Dr. Richards is the first minister to be honored in the religious heritage award. He expressed belief his denomination would have been a factor.

He has served as an exchange minister to the West Kirby Presbyterian Church in England and as a member of the United Church of Japan.

Dr. Richards has served for two sessions as chaplain of the Idaho State Senate. He has been a director of the Idaho Chapter, American Red Cross, a committee member of the Boy Scouts of America and chaplain of the Idaho Wing of the Civil Air Patrol.

A few years after coming to Boise, Dr. Richards convinced his congregation they needed a new church. A drive for funds produced enough money which had been offered and made more than $2 million available.

The block square complex which resulted and which has been in use for five years has been held up as an example of modern Gothic architecture, a contrast to the contemporary type so much in use throughout the country.

During the winter, Dr. Richards conducts a weekly program on a Boise television station and makes numerous appearances. He has appeared on the nationally televised "Lamp Unto My Feet" television program.

During his tenure, the First Methodist Church has taken in more than 3,000 members and has increased its choirs from one to 12. They include three handbell choirs, one of which has played concerts throughout the nation, including appearances at world's fairs in New York City and Seattle, Wash.

Dr. Richards believes he has been able to offer in Boise, a community of 75,000, as great a service as do ministers in the large cities.

"The real test of service," he said, "is the opportunity to inspire the mind and soul of the individual with a sense of God. This is more difficult to do in the cities, where the congregations are large."

In large numbers it was stamped "007."

Negroes Try Again to Board Buses

CRAWFORDVILLE, Ga. (AP) — Negro pupils made another attempt today to board school buses with white children, but the 28 demonstrators were beaten in by state police. The buses pulled away and the Negroes left.

Hosen Williams, political education director for the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, said Negro leaders planned a teach-in at Alexander Stephens High School. The school was closed because all white pupils transferred after the school was desegregated this fall.

Calvin P. Craig of Atlanta, the Georgia grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan, was arrested Monday by state police and charged with assault and battery after the Klan leader battered a Negro youth involved in an attempt to board school buses with white pupils. He was released under $100 bond and trial was set for next February.

Craig said Monday night he was returning to Atlanta.

Democrats Look for Early Agreement On Slate of Candidates for 1966 Race

BOISE (AP) — The resignation during the past week of Idaho Democratic State Chairman Lloyd Walker is part of a plan to reach a unanimous agreement on a slate of candidates for the 1966 election.

The primary goal is election of a Democratic governor. The Democrats haven't held the governor's chair since 1946 and they'd rather win it next year than all the other offices at stake combined.

Whether there can be general agreement on candidates prior to the nominating convention in June is an unanswered question. Walker is determined to work to that end, but without himself as the candidate for governor.

For publication, Walker will say only that his political future is undecided, that he doesn't intend to run for any office "just in case" that if Walker does decide to announce for governor some time after the first of the year he will be convinced he has a good chance of winning.

There already are three announced candidates in the field for governor with one other regarded as a sure aspirant. The goal of Walker, as well as that of many other party workers, is to have no more than two names on the primary election ballot in August.

That means that two or three aspirants must be eliminated either at the June convention or before.

It is believed generally it will be hard to keep State Sen. William J. Dee of Grangeville, one of the announced candidates, off the primary ballot.

He is basing his campaign opposition to the sales tax and is virtually certain to get the backing of convention delegates who oppose that levy. That should give him the required 21 per cent of the convention votes to gain a place in the primary.

One other announced candidate, former Atty. Gen. Frank L. Benson, also has voiced opposition to the sales tax although he has said he thinks the issue should be left to the people, since it will be a referendum question on the ballot.

The other announced candidate, Sen. Cecil Andrus of Oreg., is an "advised supporter" of the sales tax, as is Walker. Those views also are similar on many other issues and if both gain convention endorsement and earn places on the primary ballot they could split the pro-sales tax vote. That could give Dee the nomination.

Others mentioned include former chairman John G. Walters of Boise, Wayne Fuller, a young Caldwell attorney, and Charles Bailey of Pocatello, and Idaho State University faculty member.

SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP) — A small United Nations flag, carried into space by astronaut Edward H. White II during his historic space walk, will be presented to U.N. Secretary-General U Thant Thursday at the United Nations.

White and his space partner Gus Grissom, Air Force Lt. Col. James A. McDivitt, will make the presentation.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—If I understand the workings of Alabama Justice, a young ministerial student went down to George Wallace's state and got himself murdered out of sheer depravity. I can't believe it.

The latest story out of Hayneville merely sounds like a nightmare. It is as real as cross-burnings. It is the strange story of a prosecutor's case which sounds more like a de-

THE New Hampshire student, Jonathan Daniels, 26, was shot to death outside a Hayneville store last Aug. 20. His companion, the Rev. Richard Morrilroo, a Chicago priest, was critically wounded by a blast from the same sniper.

ATTORNEY GENERAL HAIKS — But Alabama does things its own way. The state's case was prepared by Col. Al Lingo, Gov. Wallace's head of public safety, who came up with witnesses before the grand jury who testified Daniels was armed with a switchblade knife and Father Morrilroo with a pistol at the time of the slaying.

WON'T HEAR PRIEST—There is also the matter of Father Morrilroo's testimony. The priest is still in a Chicago hospital, and although he wants to testify his doctors say he will be unable to do so for another 60 days.

ALL IN THE FAMILY—Cynics with darker minds than mine may suggest there is something to be learned from the strange slaying at Hayneville and the political incest which inflicts so many Southern communities. I do not. I merely admit to being fastened by the intelligence Coleman is a job holder in the Wallace administration and that Coleman's son is a state trooper under Al Lingo's command.

Interpreting The News

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new immigration act may look like just one more item in the long list of accomplishments by the 1963 Congress, but it is more than that.

It was in these 20 years that nations "developed" a weapon of ghastly efficiency called the hydrogen bomb, the hydrogen bomb, although this, too, has yet to be proved.

AMERICA'S economic loss from traffic accidents last year came to $10 billion, according to the Insurance Information Institute. That amounts to more than $3 for every man, woman and child in the nation.

MARQUIS CHILDS WRITES ON WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON Argentina, teetering for months in a state of economic and political limbo, has just agreed to buy 50 jet attack planes, the A4B, from the Douglas Aircraft Co. at a cost of about $250 million each.

This deal says a lot about the Argentine's attitude toward the world's advanced weapons in underdeveloped countries struggling to overcome grave economic handicaps.

Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara reacts indignantly to reports of Pentagon arms salesmen persuading the governments of these countries to buy American weapons. Not so, he says. The American objective is to hold down arms budgets in underdeveloped countries to a minimum.

But British, French, German and Italian arms merchants are pushing their wares in Latin America, the Middle East and Africa. The goal of the United States in instance after instance is to sell cheaper and sell less.

The Argentine deal is cited as an example of how this works. The French were pushing Mirage jet planes which had according to American specialists, a rock bottom price of $600,000. Fifty Mirages would have cost Argentina more than twice as much as 50 A4Bs and, therefore, at least $15 million has been saved for the needs of the Argentine.

Wars were just as terrible as ever—but, because they were better covered than ever before by the news media, they made men everywhere shudder more.

So, while the Immigration act definitely leads into the mainstream of the mid-century life, it is still only one of many tributes.

BRIDGE BY JACOBY UNUSUAL BIDDING INTO NO-TRUMP The American lead over Italy increased to 17 Information Match Points after the second session of play. There were numerous swings both ways during this session. The largest swing for America occurred on board 25 when this team played three no-trump and made five. Their bidding is shown in the box and is rather unusual. South chose to rebid to two no-trump in spite of four-card support for his partner's hearts. Then North with two five-card suits simply went to three no-trump instead of showing his second suit.

signed for the close support of ground troops. It is capable of carrying either nuclear or conventional weapons. When American pilots may speak of something less than respect for the A4B, which will replace British Gloucester Meteors, it is for the Argentine air force an advanced weapon.

That means that in order to maintain 60 A4Bs, highly trained technicians, scarce in all underdeveloped countries, will be taken from productive enterprises. McNamara readily concedes that this is one reason the introduction of advanced weapons to poor countries can only work to hinder economic progress. But that says that arms should be sold, he contends, is like arguing against sin.

You can't abolish sin but you can keep it in check. Thus by holding down arms budgets to both Pakistan and India as a minimum neither country is capable of sustaining a long war and this was an important factor in obtaining a cease-fire and bringing the conflict at least to a partial halt. No one, certainly not McNamara, looks for anything but dignity at the steadily increasing budgets of poor countries. With the defense budget approaching $1 billion a year, the struggle to keep ahead, just in finding enough food for an ever increasing number of mouths, is severely handicapped.

If the competition between the big arms merchants continues, then McNamara's approach makes sense. But a recent study commissioned by the U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency points to a constructive way out that would apply particularly to Latin America.

This is for a regional agreement among the big powers supplying arms to the so-called "third world" weapons commonly understood to be sophisticated, offensive or expensive. Such an agreement would omit arms "legitimately required for internal security needs." A share of the American grant-in-aid arms program for Latin America Congress imposed a ceiling on this program for all the republics of $55 million—has gone to arms to fight banditry and Communist infiltration.

An ironic commentary on the aggressive arms' merchants who are everywhere is that for Latin America they are pushing their own government-owned arms contemptuously as junk. In short they are unloading, for a price, obsolete weapons.

Ten years ago the British sold Argentina an aircraft carrier. The planes were obsolete. This was after the sale of a similar carrier to Brazil had stimulated national rivalry for Latin America. The British sold cruisers to Peru for $5 million each. Because there was not enough trained personnel for both, the crew operated first one and then the other. Kicked for having put rather outdated equipment on the auction block a British attaché is said to have rolled, as a consolation prize, in one of the Latin American capitals.

When it comes down to that, old boy, your whole fleet is up for sale. With the furious pace of arms research and development among the big powers, weapons become obsolete at an ever more rapid rate. This means mounting costs for nations, too, ever increasing pressure on the arms merchants to unload some of the cost of underdeveloped countries happy for the time being with second or third rate arms that are still part of the jet age.

Miss Bonar, Boyer-Exchange Nuptial Promise

BUHL — Nuptial vows recited Aug. 20 in the Buhl First Baptist Church united in marriage Sue Bonar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Bonar, Buhl, and Ronald Boyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Boyer, Hagerman.

Rev. Robert Burchell solemnized the double ring wedding rites. Candelabra entwined with ivy and artificial grapes and pedestals draped with orange grapes and arrangements of yellow and bronze-colored chrysanthemums formed the background setting for the afternoon ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a classic styled gown of white peau de soie, designed with a modified scooped neckline and lily point sleeves accented with appliques of lace embellished with sequins and seed pearls. The softly draped floor-length skirt descended into a brush train. The gown was made by Mrs. Ted Mraz.

A single rose of peau de soie, accented with pearl spray of seed pearls, released her elbow-length veil of bride's illusion. A tear drop pearl pendant, a gift from the bridegroom, served as her only jewelry.

The bride carried an array of orange roses enhanced with green velvet leaves and adorned with ribbon bows and streamers.

Mrs. David Harris, Nampa, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Ronald Hansen, Twin Falls, and Mrs. Colleen Hess, Salt Lake City.

Debbie Harris and Douglas Harris, niece and nephew of the bride, served as flower girl and ringbearer.

Clarius Boyer, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ush-

Swisher addressed the Bannock County Republican Central Committee at a monthly meeting. His topic: "Why the Tax Levy Has Been Lowered and How It Could be Lowered." The tax levy was raised just recently.

DRIVER CREDITED
IDAHO FALLS (AP) — A quick-thinking bus driver was credited with saving the life of the driver of a compact car late Sunday evening. But to do it, he had to swerve his bus off the highway and roll it over on its side, state police reported.

The driver, Robert Wartchow, was 18 miles west of Idaho Falls going west to the AEC site on highway 20 at 11:30 p.m. when he saw the car coming on the wrong side of the road toward his bus. He swerved the bus to the left. It crossed the road, went into a borrow pit and rolled onto its side.

Wartchow was injured and taken to an Idaho Falls hospital for treatment and released.

Four bus passengers were slightly injured and rushed to the emergency at the AEC site by two ambulances, dispatched to the scene. Injured were W. D. Hillinger, W. M. Rodriguez, D. Thomas Dunday and A. E. Fry, all workers at the site.

On Friday the board plans to visit the sites of the proposed Massacre Rocks and Register Rock State parks in Power County. Saturday, they will inspect the North Beach at Hour Lake.

FUND OVERDRAWN
BOISE (AP)—Idaho's general fund was $15.4 million overdrawn at the end of September, State Treasurer Marjorie Moore reported Monday.

That compares with a red balance of $14.3 million on the same date a year ago.

Miss Moore said a school fund transfer of $7.0 million on the last day of the month accounted for much of the deficit.

The first returns of Idaho's new sales tax are due on Oct. 15, however, and are expected to erase much of the deficit.

A joint treasurer-auditor report listed a $7.8 million deficit, outstanding warrants of $1.5 million and an auditor's deficit of $9.4 million. Anticipation notes totaling $6 million brought the total to $15.4 million.

Suslov Remarks Given in Digest

MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda published today a digest of recent remarks by Mikhail Suslov, Soviet Communist party official, who has been in the forefront of the feud with Peking. His remarks indicated relations with the Chinese party still are in a state of deep freeze.

On the surface, Suslov's remarks called for efforts to overcome differences between the two to concentrate on what unites rather than divides Communists. This argument already has been specifically rejected by the Red Chinese.

Patty Duke has boy friend Warren Berlinger puzzled in "Billie".
Chirlow presentation in Technicolor, which opens Wednesday at the Motor-Vu Theatre through United Artists release.

Kick the dull driving habit. Step out in a lively Dodge Coronet.

Isn't it time you joined the Dodge Rebellion?

Forget all you've seen and heard about '66 cars. Because Coronet is here... sharp, smart and sassy, the greatest thing from Dodge since Year One. Loaded with luxury like the high-priced cars haven't caught on yet.

With a choice of five engines, Stant Six or V8, each one designed to make the walls of Devilsville come tumbling down.

And with a whole slew of standard equipment that used to cost extra. Like an outside rear view mirror. A padded dash for extra safety. Variable-speed electric windshield wipers and washers. Backup lights. Turn signals. Seat belts, two front and two rear.

Enough said to get you really tempted? Now let's get away from the look-alike, drive-alike, first-cousin cars with Coronet for 1966, a car with a lively personality all its own. The Dodge Rebellion wants you!

Texas Remains No.1 in College Football Poll; Nebraska Gains Second

By The Associated Press
Texas and Nebraska were the solid 1-2 choices Monday but Louisiana State, Kentucky and Michigan were out of the running and out of the Top Ten in the Associated Press weekly college football poll. Texas held its No. 1 rating on a heavy first place vote while Nebraska moved up from third and replaced tied Purdue in second place. The Cornhuskers received strong support in the balloting by a national panel of 40 sportswriters and sports-casters. The Longhorns, 27-12 victors over Indiana for their third straight victory, collected 25 first place votes and 353 points. Points are figured on a basis of 10 for first, nine for second, etc.

Bama Junks 2 Platoons Goes One Way

YUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP).—Two-platoon football, never favored by Alabama Coach Paul Bryant, was abandoned by the Crimson Tide Monday. The success coach made the decision to drop offensive and defensive platoons just after the Crimson Tide nipped Mississippi 13-6 Saturday night. "Every decision I've made this year about how to get the best out of our personnel has been wrong," Bryant said in explaining why he is changing the format for his once-beaten champion. Bryant, one of the nation's most successful football coaches and perennial producer of bowl-bound squads, says he's making the switch for several reasons. He has had trouble adapting personnel to the two-platoon system. He wants to develop the potential of some players who've been hampered by the two-platoon system. He feels development of a Red team will increase team pride and competitiveness. "If I had a first-teamer, I'd like to see it was a first-teamer, wearing that Red shirt. Well, we're going to give them an opportunity to wear it," Bryant said. "I know our kids will take great pride in being on that Red team."

Georgia Rooters 'Middle Through'

ATHENS, Ga. (AP).—As the plane touched down right on schedule, a deafening roar went up from thousands gathered at the Epps Airport Saturday night to greet the victorious University of Georgia football team. The plane taxied up to the main gate as the band struck up "Glory to Old Georgia" and fans intoxicated by the Bulls' 35-7 upset of Michigan sang good songs. Then the door opened and out stepped a middle-aged downager returning from a shopping trip to Atlanta. Silence flowed over the front rows, then a new chant was started which carried the word to the rear: "Wrong damn plane! Wrong damn plane!"

Hoopie Claims Upset Days Are Behind, Plans Personal Rally

BY MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
Aha! Things are returning into their proper perspective in the national collegiate grid ranks. The upset days of early, hot September have finally settled down to victory for the talented. It more suits my prognosticating acumen. Now I shall start coming back. As you know, I mixed five — true not good enough to rate with many of you out there, but still considerably better than the meager, 500 showing of the first two weeks. I feel my confidence growing.

Fast Autos Await Dry Salt Flats

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (AP).—The three fastest cars in the world are waiting today in an abandoned hangar at the old Wendover Air Force Base near here and in a warehouse in Ogden, Utah. Their engines — two jets and a cluster of rockets — are silent. The race for the 1965 world speed crown is about to begin — a race so far delayed by weather.

The car owners can't drive until the Bonneville Salt Flats dry out. Contenders for the crown are two stop brothers from Akron, Ohio, and a handsome, one-time hot-rodder from southern California.

All three are bitter rivals, having passed the world land speed record back and forth last year no fewer than five times.

Arthur Eugene Arfons, 38, has the record. He built his jet-powered "Green Monster" in a back yard shop on Akron's Pickle Road. His speed: 536.71 miles per hour, averaged on two of the required runs through the measured mile in October, 1964.

U.S. Made 2-1 Favorite In Ryder Cup

SOUTHPORT, England. (AP)—The United States Ryder Cup team tore the Royal Birkdale course apart in practice Monday and became the 2-1 favorite to retain the trophy which symbolizes world supremacy in golf.

Byron Nelson, the nonplaying U.S. captain, summed up the day's first rehearsal for the biennial battle which starts Thursday and runs through Saturday by saying:

"Arnold Palmer and Julius Boros played the first six holes in a best ball that was five-under-par. That will suit me any time. The fellow who wins the course. We don't have this type of terrain at home and the conditions are excellent."

By conditions, he meant a rain-soaked, 7,073-yard par-73 layout that can be horrid when dry and windswept.

Palmer, the Latrobe, Pa., leader who won the British Open on Royal Birkdale four years ago, said: "I never thought I'd see it as quiet."

"None of the visitors kept a card but Nelson said they all played well. He said he found that Ken Venturi, the 1964 U.S. Open champion, had recovered completely from operations on his hands for circulatory trouble "and is playing beautifully."

Best Bargain for "All-Electric" HOMES

Families with flameless electric heat and the other modern conveniences can enjoy Idaho Power's special low, "All-Electric" rate.

"Ours must be one of the most Live-Better-Electrically neighborhoods around. There are 28 homes—our own and 27 neighbors — in our square mile and a half farming community with flameless electric heat. The cleanliness, of electric heat seems to be the feature most folks like best, plus the constant temperature. Everything in our house is electric and we like it that way."

Oliva Expected to Be at Full Speed for Series; Twins Fear Dodger Speed

MINNEAPOLIS, ST. PAUL (AP) — American League batting champion Tony Oliva said Monday a pulled muscle in his right thigh still is sore, but he expects to be at full speed for the opening of the World Series here Wednesday. The Minnesota Twins' right fielder, who missed the last five games of the season to rest the leg but still won the batting crown with a .321 average, said the muscle "feels pretty good."

Reds Fire Sisler on Heels of Bad Finish

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Dick Sisler was fired Monday as manager of the Cincinnati Reds, apparently because of the club's failure to win the National League pennant. No successor was named. It was Sisler's first year as a major league manager. The Reds, who were pennant contenders a week before the season ended, finished in fourth place, eight games behind the champion Los Angeles Dodgers.

William O. DeWitt, Reds president, announced Sisler's dismissal, and said, "I feel it is necessary that he be relieved as manager of the Reds."

Sisler, reached after the announcement, said, "This has been a blow to me. I'm very bitterly disappointed for being let out as manager of the Reds."

"I thought I did a good job with the Reds," he added. "I remain friends with Mr. DeWitt. I'm not mad at him but at the fact that I have been let out as the manager. I'm terribly disappointed and sorry this has happened."

Sisler, 45, former major league star and son of George Sisler, a member of the Baseball Hall of Fame, blamed the Reds' pitching for its failure to come up to expectations.

"Many reports picked up the Reds at the start of the season to win the pennant, mainly on the strength of their pitching. Although the club had two 20-game winners, Jim Maloney and Sammy Ellis, other pitched harders, namely Jim Conroy, John Tabor and Joey Jay, were mostly ineffective."

DeWitt's statement said Sisler "has been offered a job in the organization which he will take under consideration."

Sisler's other job hasn't been decided on.

Sisler took over as acting manager of the Reds in August, 1964, when illness caused Manager Fred Hutchinson to take leave of absence. Hutchinson died last December. Sisler and Sisler was named manager for this year.

Last year, Sisler brought the Reds to a second-place tie after the club was several games out

The Twins held a two-hour batting practice Monday and will work out again Tuesday.

The opposing Los Angeles Dodgers arrived in the Twin Cities late Monday afternoon and planned a workout in Metropolitan Stadium Tuesday afternoon.

Twins Manager Sam Mele met with his coaching staff and scouts after the Monday workout on study scouting reports on the Dodgers and plan strategy.

The season was sure to concentrate on plans for defending the Los Angeles go-go, set headed by Maury Wills.

Mele said the Twins experimented with keeping Wills as a runner on base in their regular season finale here Sunday with the California Angels.

"We went through a few things," Mele said, "like having first baseman Don Mincher play behind the runner instead of holding the bag so the runner wouldn't know where Mincher was. But it didn't seem to affect the Angels much. We may try some other things. But basically, it's up to the pitcher to keep them close to the bag."

Twins relief pitcher Johnny Killebrew, who faced Wills and the Dodgers when he was in the National League, said of the "Twins' World Series foes:

"When I was over there, we just tried to keep Wills as close to the base as we could. You throw to first a lot. If we have any advantage, it's that he hasn't seen our pitchers and doesn't know their moves."

"I think our club will be tough on Don. Don's a deflected pass and a club with four left-handed hitters like we have."

Killebrew referred to Oliva, Jimmie Hall, Mincher, and Sandy Valdespine.

The Cardinals took the opening kickoff and Charley Johnson marched them 75 yards for the first touchdown on a four-yard pitch to Sammy Randle. St. Louis moved 73 yards in their next series, Bill Triplett racing 10 yards around end for the score.

The only Dallas touchdown came with 20 seconds remaining in the half when Mel Renfro intercepted a deflected pass and galloped 90 yards for the score.

Jim Bakken kicked a 75 St. Louis field goal in the third period, but Danny Villanueva's two field goals in the final period closed the gap to 17-13.

But the Cardinal defense ended any further threats as Marion Rushing recovered Perry Leo Dunn's fumble, setting up another Dallas field goal, and Jimmy Burson later intercepted a Meredith pass at the St. Louis 25.

at first place several days before the season ended.

Sisler played briefly for the Reds in 1952 and joined the club as a coach in 1961.

Temptation

NEW YORK (UPI) — The lure of baseball was too much Monday night for ardent fans of the Yankees, who celebrated a Paul later in the evening.

The pitcher's mound had been shoveled away but early arrivals walked up and took imaginary throws at the mound where a pitcher stood with an imaginary swing.

Haneke Has Spot in National PGA Meet

Arnold Haneke, professional at Boise's Hillcrest Country Club, won the Rocky Mountain Section of PGA closed golf championship Monday and earned a berth in the 1966 PGA Championships and one of two spots in the Big Crosby tournament next spring. "It's wonderful. It's the first time I've ever won anything like this," he said after taking four turns around the nine-hole Blue Lakes Country Club five-under par 131 fashion.

Haneke turned the first 18 holes with a two-under par 66 and came back with a three-under 63 after missing a putt on the 18th. He didn't need it. He won by four shots over Rackley.

Dave Crowton, Provo, won the seniors championship with a 139 while Tee Brancan, Salt Lake City, was second at 144 and third pro Dave Killen was third with 146.

Following Haneke and Rackley in the closed were Ernie Schneider Jr., Ogden, 137; Chic Evans and Larry Nielsen, both Salt Lake City, 138; Crowton, and Jerry Schneider, Billings, Mont., 139; Tom Williams, Kayser, and Jim Baker, Salt Lake City, 140; John Lundahl, Brigham City, and Jerry Comer, Salt Lake City, 142; Terry Hill, Salt Lake City, 143; and Tee Brancan, Salt Lake City, 144.

The 36-hole, one-day event was closed to all but Class A professionals.

Sox Peddle Pitcher for Two Tigers

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL (AP) — The Boston Red Sox traded pitcher Bill Monbouquette to the Detroit Tigers for outfielder George Thomas and infielder George Smith.

The deal was the first for the Red Sox since Mike Higgins was fired as general manager Sept. 18. Boston Manager Billy Herman promised several more.

Monbouquette won 10 games and lost 18 for the Red Sox, who finished ninth in the American League.

Thomas, 27, hit .213 in 79 games for the Tigers. Smith, also 27, played much of the year at Syracuse and had five hits in 53 times at bat for the Tigers.

BYU Students Can't Swim on Dance Floor

PROVO, Utah (AP) — You can't swim at Brigham Young University — at least not on the dance floor.

Student officers decided Monday night that the swim, jerk and other suggestive dances that cannot conform to standards of the (Mormon) Church will not be permitted.

The LDS Church founded and operates the school, which has 20,000 students this fall.

There was some discussion in the ranks.

"I'll just go off campus," said Terry Leno, 21, a senior from Chicago. "I wouldn't waste my time with guys who are against it."

"Look," said Rod Allen, 21, of Rochester, N.Y. "Mormon kids in England do these dances and it's all on the up and up. Here they couldn't tell a frog if they saw it."

But student body president Bob Christensen, 24, of Ely, Nev., said he was confident the ban would be well accepted.

"If students violate the standards," he said, "they will be asked to leave the dance floor."

BYU President Ernest Wilkinson, who said provisions of the ban went along with his suggestions to the students, declared that persistent violators would be expelled.

"One of our problems here," Wilkinson said, "is that we have 3,500 new freshmen from nearly every one of the 50 states and unfortunately they learned only these suggestive dances in high school."

Ex-Airman Can't Try Case in Idaho

BOISE (AP) — A former airman suing Air Force officials for $250,000 has lost his fight to try the case in Idaho courts.

Attorneys were given 20 days Monday to find Gerald M. Anderson and reply to questions posed by U. S. Attorney Sylvan Jeppesen.

Anderson contends the Air Force violated his constitutional rights when he was held on a murder charge at Mountain Home Air Force Base in Southern Idaho.

A Boise man later pleaded guilty to the murder of a Mountain Home mother and her child. He is serving a life sentence.

Anderson was held by the Air Force after the Boise man confessed.

The suit against Air Force officials was filed first in a state court. Later, on a petition by Jeppesen it was transferred to a federal court.

The federal court denied a motion by Anderson's attorney, Phillip Becker of Gooding, Idaho, to transfer the suit back to a state court.

U. S. District Judge Fred M. Taylor gave Becker 20 days to get answers for Jeppesen's questions.

Judge Taylor also said if the answers aren't available then he will entertain a motion to dismiss the case.

Becker said Anderson was an itinerant farm laborer and his address was unknown. Anderson lived in Ogden, Utah, when the suit was filed.

Airline Hearing Set for Monday

COEUR D'ALENE, Idaho (AP) — A Civil Aeronautics Board hearing on the application of West Coast Airlines to suspend service to Coeur d'Alene was postponed Monday to next Monday, Oct. 11.

The hearing was to have been held yesterday, Oct. 4.

West Coast asked to suspend service to Coeur d'Alene, claiming there is not enough patronage to justify expenses.

Regulations

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Dr. Hollis S. Ingraham, state health commissioner, says new measures will require anyone handling barbiturates and amphetamines — called "hot-balls" and "pep pills" — to keep detailed records and submit annual reports to his department.

The regulations, which will be enforced by the department's Bureau of Narcotic Control, take effect Jan. 1, 1966.

3 Have Declared Candidacy For Post of Burley Mayor

BURLEY — Although three candidates, all having previous terms in the office, have announced candidacy for the Burley mayoralty, none have filed yet, with election date, Nov. 2, less than one month away.

A retired railway express agent, J. Leonard Salmon, who served 11 years as mayor, from April, 1953, to January, 1964, announced his candidacy Monday.

Salmon was mayor of Burley when the job was just part-time. Since then, starting with the term of incumbent Mack Crouch, who also has announced plans to try for reelection, the job has become full-time.

Mayor Crouch has served two years, with the Nov. 2 election being for a four-year term.

First to announce candidacy was Joe Peters, who previously was in the feed and coal business in Burley. Peters preceded Salmon as mayor of Burley, serving from 1946-1952. Both Peters and Mayor Crouch announced their candidacy in September.

In a statement Monday Salmon said if elected he would "encourage new industry to come to Burley which would provide more jobs and prosper local businessmen to enable them to also would reopen

Justice Brady Speaks on Rights-Cases

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — A State Supreme Court justice who once argued that the 1954 U.S. Supreme Court school desegregation ruling was "erroneous" now says that federal rulings in civil rights cases are binding on state courts in similar cases.

Justice Tom P. Brady, who had written a pamphlet called "Black Monday" attacking the U.S. court in 1954, ruled Monday that two Negroes who desegregated a Greenville, Miss., park three years ago were denied their constitutional rights.

In a written opinion in the cases against Carroll Bolton and James L. Bynum, Justice Brady said, "Irrespective of how erroneous it may appear, or how odious it is, a decision of the U.S. Supreme Court is still the ultimate in judicial determination and in the tribunals and citizens of the respective states in comparable cases."

The two Negro girls were arrested after they attracted a crowd of white people, then refused to obey police orders to move along.

Greenville Chief of Police W.C. Burnley testified in a lower court the two had a right to use the park and had done nothing wrong but that violence would have occurred if they remained.

The Washington County Court handed down sentences of $100 in fines and 90 days in jail and the six-man council.

When the streets serving as major highways through the city were repaved and widened painted crosswalks were eliminated and this has caused concern to Burley residents and businessmen.

During Salmon's previous tenure as mayor a new clubhouse was built at the city golf course and more land purchased adjoining the present golf course to provide expansion for an 18-hole course. A new library also was built and the city hall remodeled during his term in office.

Peters, while serving as mayor, saw the city power system revamped with underground cables replacing overhead ones in the business district. A new fire station was built and land purchased for the city's ball park and swimming pool during his administration.

Incumbent Crouch has set up and maintained a permanent inventory of all city property during his two years in office. He also was instrumental in eliminating the hazard of irrigation ditches near Burley's Southwest elementary school. Crouch, in addition to his official duties, has been active in many Burley civic groups.

Circuit Court affirmed the case. R. Barnett for president at the 1960 Democratic convention in Los Angeles.
