

Thousands Plead to Cuba Port to to America

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Thousands of persons stood on the beach at Camarioca pleading "Take me, please me," when the 31-foot cabin cruiser, MMM, left Cuban port Sunday bringing 17 refugees to freedom in the United States. This was reported today by Osvaldo Bazo when the MMM, which had been ordered to Cuba in defiance of U.S. warnings, arrived under U.S. Coast Guard escort. The four crewmen were taken into custody by FBI and immigration authorities and were being questioned.

S. Britain re Split on Nuclear Force

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and Britain are split today over whether to push for formal U.S.-British nuclear force cooperation in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. The United States favors prior negotiation with the Soviet Union before a treaty to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons is reached.

The United States wants to see the NATO force project, which is to be a joint U.S.-British effort, to overcome this difference and at least agree on some basis for dealing with the project. The project was announced today by Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara in a series of policy statements at the State Department.

Gooding Man Feared Lost in Reservoir

HAILEY—Skindivers were searching Magic Reservoir Monday morning for the body of a Gooding fisherman feared drowned in the reservoir when he fell out of a motor boat Sunday afternoon while fishing with a companion. Otto Low, about 60, was attempting to untangle a fishing line from the propeller on the outboard motor when he plunged into the water and sank from sight about 4 p.m. He and his companion, Leland Fleischman, also Gooding, were fishing in the boat about 300 yards off the east shore of the large man-made lake when Low's motor became entangled in the line. Fleischman moved to the forward end of the boat to balance it when Low lost his balance and fell into the water. The water is reported to be between 70 and 100 feet deep at this spot.

When Low did not surface, Fleischman went ashore and alerted Blaine County Sheriff Orville Drexler, who, along with deputies, went to the scene and searched until dark. Drexler said divers from Mountain Home Air Force base were sent to the reservoir and began searching for the body early Monday morning. Searchers were still looking for the body at 1 p.m. Monday.

Indonesian Reds Plan Retaliation

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—The Indonesian Communists were reported today preparing to strike back as the army kept up its anti-Communist campaign. Reports circulated in Jakarta that the Reds were grouping secretly to make night terrorist raids. Army troops in tanks and armored cars guarded intersections and vital installations. Soldiers were making arrests throughout Jakarta and its suburbs and reportedly seized a quantity of arms. An unofficial estimate said 1,000 Reds had been arrested. A members of the Communist party's Central Committee, Njono, was reported among them.

President Sukarno returned to his palace in Jakarta Sunday. He had been at his summer palace in Bogor, 40 miles south, since the attempted coup on Sept. 30. Sukarno so far has not publicly condemned the rebel "30th of September Movement," formed by Lt. Col. Untung of the presidential guard, and has voiced his disapproval of the army's anti-Communist actions.

N.Y. Paper Dimout Over After 25 Days

NEW YORK (AP)—New York's 25-day newspaper dimout is over, with the return to work of striking employees of the New York Times. After accepting contract terms Sunday afternoon by an almost unanimous vote, more than 1,900 members of the AFL-CIO New York Newspaper Guild returned to turn out today's Times—on a 50-page edition.

Tentative settlement of the strike came last Friday when negotiators for the Guild and Times accepted contract terms proposed by Theodore W. Kheel, special mediator for Mayor Robert F. Wagner. The terms were subject to union membership ratification.

The Guild struck the Times Sept. 16. Craft unions refused to cross picket lines. The Publishers Association of New York City charged a contract violation and closed down its six non-union members—leaving only the New York Post publishing.

Boilermakers Idle 3 Projects

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Construction boilermaker pickets idled three more projects today after weekend mediation sessions failed to settle the dispute that has halted nearly $1 billion in projects in eight states. Pickets appeared at three more eastern Washington projects, idling approximately 2,700 men.

More than 20,000 have been idled during the strike, negotiators estimated.

Troops Hit Viet Cong In Forests

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. troops pressed big offensives in pursuit of the Viet Cong today in dense forests north of Saigon and in the central highlands of South Viet Nam. Seventy-five guerrillas were killed and 48 others captured, U.S. military spokesmen said. Vietnamese sources said another 60 Viet Cong were believed killed by artillery fire and air strikes in the highlands offensive where Americans said they had killed 16 U.S. planes made heavy strikes in North Viet Nam. They also dropped six million leaflets in a Communist territory. It was the largest leaflet raid of the war.

Paratroopers of the 173d Airborne Brigade killed 40 Viet Cong in a clash Sunday 30 miles north of Saigon. U.S. losses were "moderate," an American military spokesman reported. The Viet Cong blew up a U.S. Jeep, inflicting heavy casualties on its occupants.

The spokesman said the Jeep was mined, but one informed source said the guerrillas blew up the vehicle by setting off a 750-pound U.S. Air Force bomb that had failed to explode when dropped by an American plane. Thousands of paratroopers and Australian troops launched the operation three days ago in an area known as the Iron Triangle, on the fringe of the Communist Zone 12. The allied troops reported killing 15 Viet Cong earlier in the operation.

The Iron Triangle is an area of dense jungle and rubber plantations on the fringes of Zone D where the Communists have built fortifications and traps. The spokesman said American troops used tear gas once Sunday, but gave no details. The paratroopers had jumped the nonlethal gas into Viet Cong tunnels twice before during the operation, but found the underground first empty.

It was the first authorized use of nonlethal gas by U.S. troops in Viet Nam since January.

Underwater Adaptation of Man Proven

LA JOLLA, Calif. (AP)—The Navy's Sealab 2 experiment of adapting man to living underwater for long periods, at high pressures, on the bottom of the sea. The project will end when 10 aquanauts wind up 31 hours in a decompression chamber, concluding the 45-day undersea experiment.

The men, members of the third and last team, transferred Sunday to a pressurized capsule which hoisted them to the Pacific Ocean surface. The capsule was attached to the decompression chamber aboard the escort vessel Berkley and gradually, the chamber's pressure was reduced to sea level.

At 5:30 p.m., the men are scheduled to emerge from the capsule. They are to hold a news conference at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday. Three successive 10-man teams have spent 15 days below the surface, except for two men who were below 30 days.

Word Power Series

For great dual public service offering in Newspaper Association's read and study program is a 30-series of articles on word power way to success. In today's issue of the Times-News on page 3, a series of articles is intended to take the mislery spelling and grammar. The third of the articles will cover the main spelling—second third will go into grammar and the third will show how to expand a person's vocabulary.

Spelling Test Paves Way to "Word Power"

BY THE READING LABORATORY, INC.

Written for NEA Special Services

Language profs at the walling wall

Can't stand a rule if it is small.

They count exceptions, then subdivide.

And take you along on a spelling ride.

Have you ever read the books who promise to teach you how to spell over two weekends and then spend most of the time telling you what a hopelessly impossible language

English is? Discouraging, isn't it?

English is not a hopelessly impossible language. Too well. People speak and write it perfectly, including a lot of foreign-born Americans, to make that claim true. In fact,

English is not a very difficult language to learn. It is simply true that there are too many poor spellers, but most of them will admit that a little more effort and good will would have solved that problem.

The following articles are intended to take the misery out of spelling and grammar. We're going to do it painlessly and possibly have some fun in the process.

There will be 38 columns in all. The first, third or so will cover the main spelling difficulties; the second third will go over grammar; the final third will show you how to expand your vocabulary. We won't take a moment's time probing your subconscious or your unconscious for hidden causes to explain your spelling nightmares.

A Quiz

The first thing you ought to know is where you are a poor speller. Once you know that you'll know your defenses are needed. Since there are only about seven areas in spelling which cause any real amount of difficulty, here are some sentences to test your weak spots.

All you have to do is underline the correctly spelled word within the parentheses. It doesn't matter what score you get now, but please, for your own encouragement, keep a record.

All the choices below are troublesome, and after six or seven columns you will be able to take this and stiffer tests and score

80 per cent easily. In fact, in a later column we shall repeat this same test after you've learned a few rhymes which will reinforce all the rules you'll ever really need.

Take the test, save it, if possible, or at least a record of it.

Tomorrow's rhyme will cure a lot of the trouble the following may give you:

1. Mother sat (singing, singeing) while the hairdresser was (singing, singeing) her hair.

2. Father lay (dyeing, dying) while mother was (dyeing, dying) the drapes.

3. The check was returned for (insufficient, insufficient) funds.

4. Margatroyd just loves those (wield, weird) horror movies.

5. We have the snopiest (neighbors, neighbors).

6. After (arranging, arranging) furniture, I'm tired.

7. I'm not (bejng, begging) favors in this (holling, boiling) dyn.

8. If he is an ally, let's set up an (allynance, alliance).

9. I've met a few who were not (theron, heroes) in the war.

10. (leisure, leisure) is necessary for writing.

11. The umpires in this game were (outrageous, outrageous).

12. I see no parallelism (between, between) their writings.

13. There should be three (placass, placass) on the shelf.

14. You should be (writeng, writing) to your draft board now.

15. (Nether, neither) of them (noized, noized) the real culprit.

16. This pen is no longer (servicable, servicable).

17. Marilyn Monroe (stared, stared) in several movies.

18. Cloud-covered (skys, skies) make him gloomy.

19. Ever since (arriving, arriving), he has been a pest to the house.

20. He is a rogue, which is why we call him (rogueish, rogish, rogish).

Death Escape Is Miracle For Cook

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — A Maryland short order cook miraculously escaped death from three possible sources Sunday in what police called one of the weirdest accidents in the city's history.

Dave J. Dean's 1957 sedan rammed through a guard railing over Pennsylvania Railroad tracks, sailed through the air and landed upside down on high power electric wires. He dangled precariously from the steering wheel until he fell 25 feet to the tracks, unhurt.

The high tension lines, used to power electric locomotives, could have exploded the vehicle had it landed a few feet one way, said police.

"I've seen pigeons sitting on those wires when one of them accidentally grounds itself, disappearing in an explosion," said Baltimore policeman Walter McGovern.

Police charged Dean with reckless and drunken driving, speeding and driving without a license.

"Wolf Whistle"

JEFFERSON — Some people were walking along a Burley sidewalk Saturday at the same time Mrs. Scotty Henderson descended the steps of a beauty shop.

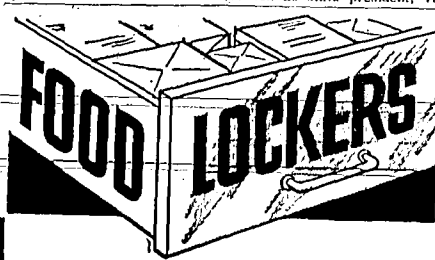

Seconds later the passer-by heard two muffled "wolf whistles" and turned to see if they were being paged. The only other person in sight was Henderson who was opening the car door for his wife.

"I always whistle at her," Henderson said.

Henderson, a retired Burley businessman, and his wife with the new hairdo are both 85 and have been married 59 years.

T. F. Man Receives Pilgrim Degree At Buhl Moose Robing Ceremonies

BUHL.—An impressive robing ceremony honoring Henry Wavra, Twin Falls, who received the highest degree awarded in the Moose Lodge, was conducted Saturday night in the local Moose Hall under the sponsorship of Buhl LOOM No. 305, of which Wavra is a member.

A large crowd was in attendance to pay honor to Wavra and to view the imposing ritual. Vern Kreigh, the only other member of the local lodge to receive the Pilgrim degree, was in charge of the ceremony. He was assisted by a Pilgrim robing staff composed of Larry Davis, Pocatello; Joe White, E. H. McClure and Chester Scott, all Boise, and Charles Skill, Portland, regional director.

In conferring the robing ritual, Wavra was commended for his many years of service and unselfish devotion to the LOOM.

In addition, Wavra was lauded for the development and progress of the local lodge as well as loyalty and for the time and effort he contributed in working toward the good of the order.

In reviewing Wavra's background history since joining the Buhl Lodge, Mrs. Floyd Datt noted Wavra was initiated into Buhl Lodge No. 305 on Dec. 11, 1947, and began work immediately. He has served as secretary, trustee, and chairman of many projects including two conventions in Buhl and served as governor for two terms.

Wavra joined the Legion of the Moose in 1950 and was advanced to the Fellowship degree in 1953. He served as South Moose and North Moose in the Legion, staying very active in that branch of the lodge. He also represented the Supreme Lodge as deputy supreme governor in 1955.

On the state level Wavra has served as state president, vice president, and is currently secretary of the Idaho State Moose Association. In addition he is a member of the "25" Club. Wavra traveled to Mosco, Ill., this summer where he received the Pilgrim degree.

Wavra was born 1909 in Minnesota. He attended schools in Twin Falls. He is a member of the Moose and Elk Lodges, is vice president and district manager of Mountain States Implement Co., having represented this company for the past 29 years.

Wavra received greetings and best wishes from Charles Skill, regional director, as well as gifts from his family. Prior to the robing ritual, an initiation ceremony of candidates at his honor was conducted at the American Legion Hall.

Received into membership were Leonard Vitke and Wesley Neil Custer. The past governors champion ritual team was in charge of the initiation.

Special entertainment for the evening was provided by Buhl LDS choral group.

Vocal selections were presented by the Beauty Shop quartet comprised of Dawn Roberts, Shirley Hulme, De Anne Walker and Virginia Hartley, and a men's quartet composed of Bill Roberts, Jerry Castleton, Dave Phillips and Joe Hutchinson. New Way Found To Stop Hair Loss, Grow More Hair

HOUSTON, Texas — If you don't suffer from male pattern baldness, you can now stop your hair loss ... and grow more hair.

For years, they said it could not be done. But now a firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment that is not only stopping hair loss ... but is really growing hair!

They don't expect you to take their word for it. If they believe that the treatment will help you, they invite you to try it for 32 days, at their risk, and see for yourself!

Naturally, they would not offer this no-risk trial unless the treatment worked. However, it is impossible to help everyone. The great majority of cases of excessive hair fall and baldness are the beginning stages of male pattern baldness and cannot be helped.

But, if you are not already bald, how can you be sure what is actually causing your hair loss? Even if baldness may seem to "run in your family," this is certainly no proof of the cause of your hair loss.

Many conditions can cause hair loss. No matter which one is causing your hair loss, if you wait until you are sick and old, your hair roots are dead, you are beyond help. So, if you still have any hair on top of your head, and would like to stop your hair loss and grow more hair ... now is the time to do something about it before it's too late.

Loesch Laboratory Consultants, Inc. will supply you with treatment for 32 days, at their risk if they believe the treatment will help you. Just send them the information listed below. All inquiries are answered confidentially, by mail and without obligation.

Doctor Says Guilt Causes Hangovers

CHICAGO (UPI) — Some persons have hangovers because of guilt feelings, an authority of psychosomatic medicine said Sunday. And some persons going to a doctor for a cold do so for an emotional crutch.

Dr. Bertram B. Moss, Chicago president of the American Academy of Psychosomatic Medicine, was interviewed on the eve of the academy's annual meeting.

"Some people have hangovers just to punish themselves through guilt feelings," Moss said. "Certainly in many cases there are physiological reasons, but in others, there are emotional reasons for the day after the night before."

Some alcoholism is caused by victims unconsciously seeking death to relieve their tensions, Moss said.

Moss said patterns of psychosomatic illness change from time to time.

Decades ago, Moss said, it was fashionable for women to faint or swoon.

He said this wasn't from tight corsets, but was just attention-getters.

Lately, he said, there have been unexplained backaches and neck pains.

Rodeo Record Is Set by Idahoan

PORTLAND (UPI)—Big Harry Charters of Melba, Idaho, set a new Pacific International Livestock Exposition Rodeo record with a time of 10.5 seconds in the calf-roping event.

It gave the 245-pound former bulldozing champion first place in the first go-round of the event in the nine-day show.

Other top performances were a 64-point bareback bronc ride by Ken Stanton of Weiser, Idaho; a time of 5.2 seconds in bulldozing by Bob Cook of Oakdale, Calif.; and a 50-point Brahman bull ride by Ted Tufares.

Fall floral arrangements decorated the hall and the refreshment tables.

Pope Vetoes Discussion On Celibacy

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Pope Paul VI today vetoed any public discussion by the Ecumenical Council on the delicate question of celibacy of the clergy.

Intervening directly in the assembly controversy over moves to review the controversial issue, the pontiff informed the 2,000 bishops in St. Peter's Basilica that "it is not expedient to have public discussion of a matter of such delicacy."

He urged in a letter to the council fathers that priestly chastity and celibacy "should be kept and strengthened."

The Pope's intervention came as the council marked its third anniversary, then began tackling a heavy workload in anticipation of a brief recess at the end of the week. The agenda included a vote on the controversial statement of the Jews.

Back Injuries

By Dr. Ethel Paul, D.C.
Thousands of working men know what Chiropractic can do for back injuries. They know that when other methods fail to give them relief, Chiropractic was successful.

It is important for employers, compensation, liability insurance carriers and the public in general to recognize this fact. A Chiropractic doctor has been made of injured workers cared for by different systems of therapy. Chiropractic brings the workers through with less chance of the charge of malingering less cost to the insurance company, less cost for insurance coverage to the employer, as well as less interruption in the production line.

Several large industrial firms are now employing chiropractors on a full time basis to care for their injured workers.

To the chiropractor, the spine represents the keyboard, as it were that locks up and unlocks the inherent curative power of nature.

One of a series of articles published in the public interest to explain the practice of scientific Chiropractic written by Dr. Ernest D. Paul or Dr. Ethel O. Paul, whose offices are located at 717 Main Ave. West. By appointment only Tel. 733-0522. -Adv.

West Germany Warns on Nuclear Voice

LONDON (UPI) — West Germany has given a firm warning that it will defy any international agreements which fail to give Germany a voice in nuclear affairs.

The warning was contained in the current official version of the ruling Christian Democratic Union party of Chancellor Ludwig Erhard.

The English language newspaper said: "We do not want to see the right to a voice within the Atlantic community. We are not going to give up that quest, and we have to deny approval to any international agreements which would preclude it."

Germany, it added, must have a voice in nuclear questions as a bargaining factor with Russia for German unification. "A Bonn with absolutely no voice in nuclear questions would be uninteresting to the Soviet Union that there would never be negotiations on German unity," it said.

This appeared to be a broadening of Germany's argument in favor of her participation in nuclear strategy. The chief argument thus far has been that West Germany must not suffer discrimination and that she must be given a voice in nuclear affairs in the interest of her own defense needs.

Diplomatic sources said the latest pronouncement from Bonn left little doubt that the West German government was determined to be included at all costs in nuclear sharing of the allies, though it has left the door open as to the method.

The latest Bonn stand coincided with a change in Britain's position on the issue of nuclear sharing.

To all intents and purposes Britain is renegeing its plan for an Atlantic Nuclear Force which it earlier proposed as an alternative to the American projected mixed-manned Nuclear Surface Fleet.

Truck Fire Put Out by Firemen

OAKLEY — Firemen were called to the scene of a burning feed truck about 7:30 p.m. Friday, five miles north of Oakley. The truck was owned by Winslow B. Whiteley and was driven by Golden Dorch who told firemen that a fire flared up under his feet as he was returning to Oakley from Burley with a load of pulp for Whiteleys' cows.

Whiteley was able to leap to safety but the cab of the truck was ruined. The truck was valued at about $18,000 and damage was estimated at $5,000.

The alarm was turned in by Mrs. Robert Crammer who was returning from Burley, and saw the fire.

At 2 p.m. Saturday the firemen were again called to extinguish a weed fire that had gotten out of control when a trash burner was lighted behind the Artie Circle.

The weeds were allowed to burn and no damage was reported.

War on Poverty Makes Difference in Negro Areas

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senator Shriver believes the difference between a peaceful Harlem and riot-ridden Watts last summer was the "War on Poverty."

"The difference is $1.5 million invested in antipoverty and having a festival in New York and no investment, and a riot costing $175 million in Los Angeles," Shriver told a House appropriations subcommittee in testimony made public Sunday.

Shriver appeared last month in support of a $1.5 million appropriation request for the year ending next June 30.

Shriver, director of the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO), and Deputy Director Jack Conway told the subcommittee that community leaders, police officials and the participants themselves believe the neighborhood youth corps has been a definite factor in reducing racial tension this summer.

Shriver told chairman John F. Kennedy that the program is "the significant thing, I think, that this was done by the people of Harlem themselves in Harlem by Harlem organizations," Shriver said.

"At the end of it they had a terrific festival involving somewhere between 5,000 and 10,000 youngsters and grownup people, a big parade with floats and a festival."

Shriver told the subcommittee that in New York, project uplift cost the taxpayers $1,480,000, and included the Neighborhood Youth Corps, athletic leagues, day camps, reading classes and community improvement projects.

William B. Taylor, director of NASA's Apollo Extension Systems office, outlined the advanced Apollo plans on the opening day of a three-day conference on manned space flight.

Judges to Okay Reapportionment

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Federal court judges will be asked to approve a reapportionment bill which would set up a 31-member Arizona senate.

The court also will have to handle congressional redistricting, if it is to be accomplished. State legislators called it quite Saturday night after passing the reapportionment measure and becoming hopelessly deadlocked on realignment of the three congressional districts.

The senatorial reapportionment bill gives at least one senator to each of the state's five counties. Regardless of population, Maricopa County, with more than half the state's population, gets 13 seats.

Booze Blessed

DODGERS RIP TWINS TO EVEN SERIES 2-2

Drysdale Fans 11, Goes Distance for 7-2 Win; Koufax, Kaat Meet Today

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Don Drysdale and the Los Angeles Dodgers' scratch and scramble attack squared the World Series at two games apiece Sunday with a 7-2 victory over the Minnesota Twins. Bouncing back from Wednesday's opening day third-inning knockout, big Don struck out 11 Twins and went all the way with a five-hitter. The Dodgers' triumph meant that the Series now must return to Minnesota for a sixth game.

L.A. Hurler Able to Keep Ball Down

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Right-hander Don Drysdale didn't think he had good stuff going into this winning return game for Los Angeles against Minnesota Sunday.

But, said Drysdale, who beat the Twins 7-2 after losing the opener at Minneapolis-St. Paul 6-2:

"My fast ball began to come on after about two innings, and I'd say my curve around the third or fourth."

"This time I pitched my game. I didn't do that in Minnesota."

What was the difference? "I was able to keep the ball down. There were two notable exceptions," Drysdale continued.

The first was a high fast ball to Harmon Killebrew in the fourth and a high curve ball to Tony Oliva in the sixth. Both went for homers and accounted for the Twins' scoring.

Drysdale was reminded that Don Mincher's home run in the first game at Minneapolis-St. Paul started his downfall, and Sunday he struck Mincher out three times and the first home run grounded out in his other time at bat.

A facetious inquirer wanted to know if there was anything personal in dealing with Mincher.

"Now," Don replied. "He had some good cuts in there. He was up swinging from the time he left the bench."

Outstanding was John Kennedy's seventh-inning play on Zola Versalles' bullet shot at third base. Kennedy fielded the ball and forced Don Nieseck at second.

Manager Walt Alton said he didn't make the play because he might have taken Drysdale out. "I'd have gone out and talked to him, at least," Alton disclosed.

Mele Admits That Dodgers "Can Run"

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sam Mele, outwardly calm and still professing confidence, brought a chuckle to newsmen in the Minnesota Twins' dressing room Sunday when he quipped, "The scouting reports were right—the Dodgers can run."

Mele added after Los Angeles' 7-2 victory tied the World Series 2-2: "I'll talk to my players before Monday's game and keep reminding them to do the things they've got to do."

Mele said he was not discouraged. "We're just even now," he said. "We start over again."

"We didn't play our best ball—missing cutoff men and not playing the grounders right."

Mele faulted outfielders Jimmie Hall and Tony Oliva for missing cutoff men in the sixth inning when Los Angeles scored three runs and broke the game open.

"Hall shouldn't have thrown the ball home," Mele said, "and he threw high; Jimmie never throws high. Oliva's throw was too high for the cutoff man to handle."

On the messed-up infield play against Maury Wills' and Willie Davis' infield hits in the first inning and Lou Johnson's infield single in the sixth, Mele said:

"We were too slow in covering against Wills. Don Mincher just got beat by Davis running for the bag, and Frank Quilici was taking a runner back to second and couldn't get to first in time to cover against Johnson."

Summing up the Twins' problems, Mele said, "We didn't make the plays and we still didn't score many runs out here."

Wednesday and possibly a seventh game. Sandy Koufax, loser of the second game to Jim Kaat, 5-1, will face the same opponent in Minnesota for a sixth game Wednesday and possibly a seventh game.

Sandy Koufax, loser of the second game to Jim Kaat, 5-1, will face the same opponent in Minnesota for a sixth game Wednesday and possibly a seventh game.

Walter Alton's Dodgers practically ran the Twins out of the ball park with their daring base running and hitting as they took the extra base on hits and forced the American League champs into errors.

Six of the Dodgers' eight singles off Mulek Grant, the loser, Al Worthington, and Bill Dickey never left the infield. Three of them were hit by bunts by Wes Parker, Lou Johnson and John Roseboro.

Just to show they also can powder the ball, the Dodgers matched the Twins with home runs by Parker and Johnson.

Harmon Killebrew and Tony Oliva, the Twins' big sluggers, slammed homers off Drysdale.

At the end of the fourth game the Dodgers were hitting at a healthy team average of .280 with 10 hits in three of the games.

Many will see the pattern of this game early when he sent a roller to first baseman Don Mincher who hesitated for a second and finally threw late to the bag as second baseman Frank Quilici and Wills collided.

After Jim Gilliam fled out, Wills stole second on the second pitch to Willie Davis and sped to third when Davis also beat out a chop to Mincher. The Twins' first baseman first decided to try to beat Davis to the bag after fielding the ball and then threw too late to Grant.

When Ron Fairly forced Davis at second, Wills sped home as the Twins failed to complete the double play.

Parker, a superb hunter, opened the Dodgers' second inning with a beautiful drag bunt single to Quilici. Parker stole second on the third pitch to Roseboro and went all the way to third as the ball went over Earl Battey's head for a wild pitch.

Roseboro's ground ball went through Quilici for an error, scoring Parker.

Wills got his second hit, a chopper, over the head of the charging Killebrew. He tried to open the third inning. At third, he scored this time as he was thrown out trying to steal.

After Killebrew put the Twins back in the game with a 400-foot homer into the left field pavilion in the fourth, the Dodgers came right back with their first burst of power. Parker ripped into Grant pitch and drove it deep into the pavilion in right field.

Drysdale rolled along with that 3-4 edge until Oliva, the slumping American League batting champion, hit his first homer since Aug. 13, a smash into the right field pavilion over the 380-foot mark in the sixth.

MORE ORE MORE
Challenged by this sudden display of muscle, the Dodgers turned on the speed again and came up with three runs in the sixth, chasing Grant and continuing against Worthington.

Gilliam opened with a walk on a 3-2 pitch. Old Folks Jim, who used to be known as Junior in his salad days, sped to third on Willie Davis' single to right. When Oliva threw all the way to third base, trying for Gilliam, Davis took second.

Sam Mele decided Grant had enough and called to the bullpen for Worthington, his relief ace all season. The veteran didn't have a chance for fairly rapped a two-run single to center, scoring both Gilliam and Davis, and sped to second on the late throw to the plate.

Johnson hunted back to the box and Worthington came up with the ball to find nobody covering first. Quilici made a mad dash for the bag and Worthington's throw was dropped. The pitcher was charged with an error on the play.

As the ball rolled away from Quilici, Fairly pounded home to score the third run of the big inning that put the Dodgers out of reach.

Johnson eventually was run down between first and second, but it didn't matter any more. Johnson put a little frosting on the victory with a line drive homer in the eighth that just barely stayed fair down the left field line at the 300-foot mark.

Drysdale, the Dodger workhorse who probably will pitch the seventh game next Thursday if it goes that far, was in control all the way.

He allowed a single to Sandy Valdespino in the first, but fast fielding and a fine throw by Johnson cut him down trying to stretch it into a double. Zola Versalles singled in the third, and pinch hitter Joe Nieseck singled in the eighth. The only other hits were the homers by Killebrew and Oliva.

Montana Wins Only Big Sky Game on Weekend to Edge Into First Place

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Montana won the only Skyline Conference game Saturday and edged into first place in the conference standings with a 15-14 win over Weber State.

But the game was overshadowed by the intersectional contest which matched strong Idaho against strong Utah State.

The Utah State team proved the toughest and won 30-19. In other games Montana State went to Fresno State and lost 25-10, and Idaho State went to Flagstaff, Ariz., and battled to a 0-0 tie with Arizona State College.

Little will be decided in the conference race this weekend as there again is but one conference game. Montana State plays at Idaho State. Both teams are 0-1 in the conference.

But there are intersectional games of interest. Idaho will meet Oregon State in a game which should bring in a little revenue at Boise, Idaho, and Montana goes to Utah State.

In the fourth game, Weber State enters with a 1-0 record. This should cause little stir—unless Whitworth wins.

Montana took over first in the conference on a fourth-quarter 57-yard run by tailback Willy Jones. Weber State led from the first quarter and was ahead 17-0 when Jones rounded right end and scooted all the way to a touchdown.

Then quarterback Ed Steiner elected to go for the victory on the ground instead of trying for a long kick. He handed off to fullback Dave Molloy, who plunged into the end zone for two points and the victory.

At Logan, Utah State overcame some first-half sloppiness and raked up a field goal and three touchdowns in the second half for its victory over Idaho.

Utah State, using a new offensive formation with two fullbacks, a flanker, fumbled and threw away scoring chances in the first half and seemed to have more trouble with—without Idaho. But in the second half the Aggies recouped with the passing of Ron Edwards and the running of Ray Shavers and Eric Maughan. Two touchdowns were set up Edwards' passes to Craig Murray, who had been used as a decoy most of the afternoon.

One of these led to the first Idaho touchdown. Bill Scott picked off one on the Utah State 49 and ran to the Aggie two. John Fortaria scored. Idaho's final touchdown came on a 74-yard drive, after the Vandals recovered another fumble.

At Fresno, Dan Robinson

passed for one touchdown and ran for another in leading Fresno State to the win over Montana State. He also passed for a two-point conversion and completed 10 of 19 passes. Another Fresno touchdown was the result of a pass interception. Dave Plump grabbed a Ray Foley aerial and ran 36 yards to score.

At Flagstaff, Idaho State's Bengals found themselves waging a defensive battle. They managed to stop four Arizona State College drives inside their 10-yard line. Arizona State never allowed the Bengals across their 41-yard marker.

Chargers Rip Buffalo 34-3 Behind Hadl

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Quarterback John Hadl and a flock of gluing-in pass receivers teamed Sunday as the San Diego Chargers crushed the American Football League champion Buffalo Bills 34-3.

Hadl passed for three touchdowns as the Chargers, now with a record of four victories and one tie, remained the only unbeaten team in the AFL.

The loss was Buffalo's first in five games this season.

Besides overpowering the Bills in the air, the Chargers wrecked the passing of Buffalo quarterback Jack Kemp, the league's top passer going into the game.

After giving up three points to Buffalo in the first period, San Diego settled down and played take-charge ball the rest of the afternoon.

IT'S CLOSE, but Wes Parker of the Los Angeles Dodgers whips over first base as he beats out a drag bunt in the second inning of Sunday's World Series game at Los Angeles. First baseman Don Mincher takes the throw from second baseman Frank Quilici, who falls (background) as he throws. The Dodgers won 7-2 to tie the series at 2-2. (AP wirephoto)

Nebraska Needs Help To Take No. 1 Spot

By The Associated Press
You really couldn't tell it from their last two games, in which Nebraska outscored its opposition 81-0—and it's dead certain Wisconsin would disagree—but the Cornhuskers need help. They have lots of depth, lots of strength," said Wisconsin Coach Milt Bruhn after Nebraska's 37-0 triumph Saturday. "They do everything well."

So why do they need help? To vault past mighty Texas, which also does everything well, into the top spot among the nation's college football teams. Nebraska doesn't play Texas, currently No. 1, and must challenge the Cornhuskers could be locked in second for good.

Help may be on the way. Texas, 10-0 victor over Oklahoma, plays Arkansas next. The Cornhuskers are ranked third in the nation, can match 4-0 records with Texas and Nebraska rolled over Baylor 38-7 Saturday night, own a 16-game winning string and look as tough as last year's unbeaten team.

Georgia, No. 4, and fifth-ranked Michigan State also ran their records to 4-0. Michigan put on a strong defensive show in a 24-7 conquest of Michigan while Georgia had to rally from a 9-6 deficit to beat Clemson 23-0.

All the Top Ten teams won, but No. 10 Florida's 17-0 victory over Mississippi still ranked as a minor surprise. It was favored Mississippi's third straight loss, the first time in 18 years under Coach Johnny Vaught that Ole Miss had lost three in a row.

Purdue, No. 6, held off Iowa 17-14 in the closest of the others. Notre Dame, No. 7, resumed its historic series with Army by beating the Cadets 17-0 in New York's Shea Stadium Saturday night; unbeaten Mississippi State, No. 9, stopped ambitious Southern Mississippi 27-9, and No. 8 Southern California blasted Washington 34-0.

Scientists Now Have Selective Poison to Eradicate Squawfish

MOSCOW, Idaho (AP)—It's the end of the line for one of the Northwest's worst nuisance fish. University of Idaho fishery scientists have developed and successfully stream-tested a selective poison which kills only squawfish. The lethal toxin was developed under contract with the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries of the United States Fish and Wildlife Service by the fisheries management department of the university's College of Forestry, Wildlife and Range Sciences. Dr. Craig MacPhee, associate professor of forestry, directed the study, assisted by Richard Ruelle, research associate.

"A native of the Northwest, the northern squawfish has become a pest in streams and lakes," said MacPhee. "It preys on young salmon and trout, and feeds on their food."

In 1962, the University fishery scientists started a study to find a way of limiting the squawfish population. After testing 2,500 possible chemical candidates out of 5,000 available, they found one that can be used successfully in natural bodies of water without injuring other species.

After laboratory tests on hundreds of steelhead, chinook and coho salmon mixed with squawfish, MacPhee and Ruelle conducted a field trial on a northern Idaho creek and lake. They selected a lagoon at the mouth of Rochet creek where it empties into the St. Joe river about eight miles northeast of St. Maries.

As MacPhee tells it, "We knew the treatments would work in the laboratory, but we wanted to see if a minimum concentration of the chemical would work in a weedy and muddy situation. There was a possibility that the aquatic plants and muddy lagoon bottom would neutralize the chemical."

"Four and a half hours after we started the treatment, we found dead squawfish in the treated area," continued MacPhee. "The following morning we saw a number of dead squawfish on the bottom of the lagoon and easily reached about 50 dead fish with a dip net."

"Two dark squawfish, obviously sick and about to die, were swimming listlessly just under the water surface. Other than these two fish, we saw no other live squawfish. All dead fish were proved to be squawfish. They ranged from two to 14 inches in size."

He said this field trial "demonstrates that squawfish can be successfully eradicated from standing bodies of water without killing other species of fish. At least 15 species are known to inhabit the area, including trout. Laboratory tests on

"The university chemistry department cooperated in synthesizing compounds to our specifications," said MacPhee. "Squawfish toxin, chemical B, number 2,000 in this series of chemical compounds tested, passed all initial tests."

"We couldn't buy the preparation," said MacPhee. "It was listed in a catalog published in the early 1900's, but there is nothing like it available today."

Some problems remain before the selective squawfish treatment will become widely used. Primary is the physics of diluting and spreading the powdered chemical in the water. Since the chemical is not soluble in water, it was dissolved in acetone and injected into the stream through a water pump—a drop of chemical to several gallons of water.

Until now the customary method of killing unwanted fish has also eliminated the game fish. A chemical called rotenone is applied to a lake at the rate of one-half pint per million of water. Every fish in the lake dies, then game fish are restocked.

"That method has disadvantages," Ruelle said. "It takes several years for a trout to adapt well to the wild situation, so the result is a perpetual population of fish lacking the hardiness of native trout. A selective toxin, which is lethal only to squawfish, saves all the native stock."

Selective toxins are not common in fish control. The selective squawfish piscicide developed at the University of Idaho is only the second developed through directed research. A piscicide, developed by the U. S. Bureau of Commercial Fisheries in 1952, was the first.

In that case, a toxin was sought to rid streams and lakes of the Great Lakes area of this parasite. The lamprey, or "Vampire of the Great Lakes" as it became known, is an eel-like fish with a sucking mouth instead of jaws. Before a poison control was found, the lamprey had come close to wrecking commercial fishing for whitefish.

Two other selective fish toxins are used in the world, discovered by chance. Shad may be controlled with a dilution of rotenone, and the piranha of South America, a voracious hand-eaten fish, is currently being eradicated from Brazilian rivers and streams by a selective treatment.

Brazilian authorities discovered a root extract was very effective against the piranha while not harmful to other life in the waters. The idea came from the interior natives who had been using the substance for centuries against the predatory fish.
