POMPANO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The sun broke through scattered clouds over southeast Florida's fabled Gold Coast today after two days of torrential rains that brought widespread flooding. It was the area's greatest rainfall in living memory. "Almost unbelievably amounts fell," the Weather Bureau said today as it tallied up precipitation figures for 24 hours that exceeded the normal annual rainfall in 16 states. Fort Lauderdale, a city of 112,000 about 30 miles north of Miami, received 24.43 inches in a 24-hour period ending at 8 o'clock this morning. Pompano Beach got 23.33 inches.

T.F. Kiwanis Club Honors Newspapers

Newspapers and their readers are "partners in freedom," Robert E. Bailey, managing editor of the T.F. Kiwanis Club, said today at the club's annual meeting. He spoke at the Kiwanis Club's annual meeting held to honor the press in observance of National Newspaper Week. Bailey emphasized the importance of investigative newspaper reporting to insure the free flow of information. "Freedom of the press is not just the right to print, but the right to gather news," he said. "This is the most terrifying thing I've ever seen," said Mrs. Maxine Deprau, who saw her neighbor's boat dock and seawall washed away by the force of water that ran from land to ocean, and dozens of autos stalled in water up to their door handles. "Homes and stores were flooded, seawalls washed away by the force of water that ran from land to ocean, and dozens of autos stalled in water up to their door handles."

The previous record at Fort Lauderdale was only 4.00 inches and the highest total ever recorded for the entire month of October since the Weather Bureau began keeping records in 1891 was 17.25 inches. Water coursed three feet deep across many roads in the Fort Lauderdale - Pompano Beach area Thursday night and police warned residents: "If you don't have to go out, stay home." Homes and stores were flooded, seawalls washed away by the force of water that ran from land to ocean, and dozens of autos stalled in water up to their door handles. ## Snow Falls

A weather front that cutled two weeks of near-perfect Magic Valley weather Thursday night, brought smiles to the faces of area deer hunters by dropping a covering of snow on mountains both in the north and south of the area.

Snow on the hills south of Twin Falls, one of the most popular deer hunting areas in this section, could be seen when clouds started lifting early Friday afternoon. The weather forecast is for continued cool weather Saturday, so hunters are advised to go prepared, with plenty of warm clothing.

Post Office Receives Auto Safety Award

The Twin Falls Post Office is well ahead in the President's "War on Waste," postmaster Fred Sangor announced Friday. This program is directed primarily to the reduction of vehicular accidents and on-the-job injuries through all governmental agencies and the Post Office Department. The accident record of the 50 largest post offices in the five-state Seattle region showed that Twin Falls was the only office which had no disabling injuries or vehicle accidents reported for fiscal 1965. Sangor said, "Our vehicle accident record for the Twin Falls office is especially exceptional. The cumulative mileage of post office delivery trucks for the past year was well in excess of 100,000 miles, and for the drivers to total so many miles driving through all alleys and streets of the city, in all kinds of weather, indicates highest quality performance."

Three Held In Robbery Near Gooding

GOODING — Three men, two from Twin Falls and one from Jerome, were arrested Thursday afternoon and charged with robbing a man and woman of about $23.50 into Wednesday night at the city dump ground, about a mile and a half west of here. ## Downtown Area Is Picked for Urban Renewal Program

The Twin Falls Urban Renewal Committee recommended renovation of a two and one-half block area in the Twin Falls business section Thursday night when the committee met with a representative of the Housing and Home Finance Commission and the City Commission. The area recommended for consideration as the urban renewal project includes three half-block sections bounded on the north by the alley between Main Avenue and Second Avenue South, on the east by Third Street South, on the south by Second Avenue South, and on the west by Second Street West. The three half-block sections would be the 100 block of Second Avenue West and the 100 and 200 blocks of Second Avenue South. The area also includes the entire block bounded by Third Avenue, Second Street, Second Avenue and Shoshone Street South.

Factors involved were potential use of land after it is re-estimated or cleared and the time involved in the project. Hence, the selection of a relatively small area. The committee of five, comprised of Hudson, Joseph Ciek, L. James Koutnik, Vernon Riddle and John Wolfe, also felt this is an area in which landscape change would be evident to citizens. They also felt this is an area where less public protest would ensue than some other areas considered. Griswold Wilson, San Francisco, representing the Housing and Home Finance Commission, pointed out after the proposal gains acceptance of the city commission, a series of public hearings will be held on the matter. Wilson also gave substantial aid RENEWAL, Page 2, Col. 5

Infiltration Seen In War Protests

(See associated story on page 24) WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Internal Security subcommittee published a study Thursday night to support what it termed the Communist infiltration and exploitation of the teach-in movement on U.S. policy in Viet Nam. The report was made public on the eve of two days of protest against American military intervention in Viet Nam. The plan, under the sponsorship of the Viet Nam Day Committee, calls for demonstrations in 100 U.S. cities and elsewhere in the world. The study was prepared by the subcommittee staff at the request of vice chairman Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn. "Whatever the intent of those who originated the teach-in movement," the report declares, "the fact is clear beyond challenge that the Communist propaganda apparatus has been able to expand and exploit the teach-in movement and the anti-Viet Nam agitation in general to advance the cause of Red imperialism."

Bishops Vote Approval of Declaration

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Ecumenical Council voted final endorsement today for a historic Roman Catholic declaration deploring anti-Semitism and declaring that the Jews as a whole cannot be held responsible for the crucifixion of Christ. The bishops voted to leave out the controversial word "delenda" while stating that the Jews should not be prejudiced as people "rejected by God or cursed." By a vote of 1,763-250 in St. Peter's, the bishops of the Roman Catholic Church gave approval to the declaration. The Church's attitude toward non-Christians including the Jews. WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson was reported to be "having some pains" in the area of his incision and had slept barely two hours of rest Thursday night. Joseph Latin, assistant press secretary, said the pain was not great enough to require any action. When asked for the latest assessment of the President's condition, Latin said: "The general opinion among the doctors is that progress is continuing satisfactorily." Latin reported Johnson would sleep shortly before midnight and awake at 2 a.m. and rest off-run and become airborne and returned and landed because of some damage to the undercarriage.

Red University Burned in Riot

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — About 800 youths screening "down with communism" burned the Chinese University Thursday and clashed with about 60 Communist Chinese students outside a dormitory. Witnesses said knives and firearms were used in the fight and there were several injured on both sides before soldiers intervened. The Chinese University is sponsored by an association of local pro-Peking Chinese. Its two-story building was burned to the ground. It was the first time that demonstrators had attacked Chinese since the army-inspired, anti-Communist campaign started following the Sept. 30 coup attempt.

Low-Income Rent Subsidy Vote Delayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House voted to hold up money for starting a rent subsidy program for low-income families. But administration sources expressed confidence today the money will be restored later. Action by the House came Thursday in passage of a $1.2-billion catch-all appropriation bill that had included $180,000,000 to start the rent subsidy program and authorize contracts for another $6 million. Rep. James Harvey, R-Mich., offered the amendment that stripped the money from the bill. He was heavily supported from Republicans and some Democrats who had opposed the program earlier this year in enactment of a housing bill. The roll call vote that knocked the housing subsidy out of the appropriation bill was 185 to 162. The amendment did not affect an appropriation of $170,000 for administrative expenses of the program.

Solon Asks Amending of Sugar Price

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Paul H. Douglas said today the present sugar program "is an historical relic of the American consumer and taxpayer." The Illinois Democrat told newsmen he would try to amend the bill extending the program to eliminate at least for foreign growers the premium price now in effect. This price is around 6.8 cents a pound compared to a world quotation of about 3.4 cents for sugar shipped into New York. The Senate Finance Committee, on which Douglas serves, continues its public hearings on the legislation today. The group had hoped to finish Thursday but heard only three of 10 scheduled witnesses. Administration officials urged the senators Thursday not to knock out the premium price for foreign producers. They said this benefited chiefly underdeveloped countries, many of them in Latin America. These are completely dependent on what they receive for primary products such as sugar to pay for industrial goods they must have, the officials said.

218 Viet Cong Said Killed In Operations

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The South Vietnamese army claimed today that its troops killed 218 Viet Cong guerrillas in two battles in the past two days. The claim was not confirmed by U.S. military spokesmen. The South Vietnamese said 168 guerrillas were killed in the major battle Wednesday night in the Mekong Delta, 10 miles southwest of Can Tho and 85 miles southwest of Saigon. Earlier they had reported 60 Viet Cong killed. About 500 guerrillas clashed with a government battalion which was reinforced by four other battalions. The government troops as a whole suffered moderate casualties, the Vietnamese said, but one company took heavy losses. During the battle, 37 Vietnamese prisoners of the Viet Cong were set free. A Vietnamese photographer for The Associated Press, Tuynh Thanh My, also was killed during the fighting.

Titan Rocket Orbits Space Switch Engine

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A Titan 3 rocket today hurled into orbit a "space switch engine" intended to ignite 10 times, change course four times and eject three satellites in an important rehearsal for manned and unmanned military space missions. The triple-barreled Titan 3, most powerful rocket ever launched by the United States, thundered skyward on its second test flight at 12:21 p.m. on Thursday. The 12-story-tall booster spewed a 500-foot tall of white hot flame as it hurt upward. The rocket was launched by the Air Force announced 15 minutes later that early phases of the tricky, orbit-switching flight had been completed successfully. The maneuvers were to take place over a three-hour period. ## Eisenhower Honored on Anniversary

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans assembled in 28 cities to toast Dwight D. Eisenhower on his 75th birthday saluted their salute to the former president with a bristling attack on the present one, Lyndon B. Johnson. And Eisenhower, himself, spoke scornfully Thursday night of legislation "bubbled through just by political power." The birthday anniversary of the last Republican president was a time to raise high the GOP banner, scorn the Democrats — and pour up to $100 a plate into depleted party coffers. Eisenhower attended none of the dinners, celebrating instead with his four grandchildren in Phoenixville, Pa. But a 15-minute film carried this and other remarks to the diners across the country. "The laws a nation lives by have to be hammered out by debate, by thoughtful discussion and by give and take. They cannot be bubbled through just by political power." "In legislation, it is not how many laws you pass, it is how many good laws you pass."

He said there is "every possibility" lands can be acquired through the city under the open lands act to be added to a potential land purchase by the Twin Falls Civic Auditorium Association for future expansion of a College of Southern Idaho campus.

Ruth Kimberly and Jerome are represented on the site committee through the city commissions and a member of the Jerome College Site Committee also has been invited to join the committee.

The area selected by the committee for the urban renewal project is subject to change and the next step is sending the proposal to the city commission to establish a survey and planning action. Payment and advice during a survey would come from federal government resources.

If the city ultimately approves the urban renewal action, the money acquired from the government for study would be the government's portion of the project's cost.

But in the event the city decided to abandon the project, the study funds would become a grant to the city—unless a project on urban renewal should take place at some future date. Then, the funds again would be applied to the government's cost of the project.

Wilson said the city's portion of payment in an urban renewal project would be 25 per cent.

Egon Kroll, commission chairman, said if a request to form an urban renewal survey and planning action were presented to city commissioners by next Monday, the surveying action would be taken on the request at that time.

H. L. (Herb) Derrick, city manager, pointed out the urban renewal project and the comprehensive planning group, the City-County Group, organized more than a year ago, could well complement each other or information acquired and action taken.

The Twin Falls Study Group's job is more in the line of city planning and the group's selection of highways through city streets, addition of needed businesses—rather than the rejuvenation project undertaken by the urban renewal agency, stated Derrick.

A CONFUSION OF "i"s

Another Class of Silent "e" Exceptions Defined

By The Reading Laboratory, Inc.
Written for NEA Special Services
Avoid the "i"s in pronunciation. Seek the meaning, not confusion.

In the third article of this series we laid down the general rule regarding the keeping or the dropping of a word's final silent e before a suffix. Here is that rule:

When suffixes begin with vowels, Silent e grabs starting towels.

When suffixes start other ways, 'Theh silent e make sure it stays.

According to that rule, practice becomes reading; memorize becomes memorizing; arrive becomes arriving; the word's final silent e before a suffix. Here is that rule:

When suffixes begin with vowels, Silent e grabs starting towels.

When suffixes start other ways, 'Theh silent e make sure it stays.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON — Dick Nixon is wandering around the country like a snake oil salesman, running for President but refusing to admit it, and to the professional politician who he is unimpressive. He is too much the new Dick Nixon, the old Nixon was infinitely to be preferred.
Dick was trying to throw everybody in the State Department in jail he at least had a personality. That segment of the American electorate which is suspicious of diplomats in high office would not be so easily won over for Nixon. Thomas could identify with him. These burghers welcomed a politician whose name was not Joe McCarthy but who could help them worry about the Red Menace.

FITS A KNOWN IMAGE—Morrow, genius American likes a bluffer and doesn't much care who he bluffs so long as he puts on a good show. The prosecutor is one of our folk heroes, due largely to the Puritanical tradition which holds that any citizen who gets himself arrested must have something fishy in his background. Alger Hiss was guilty on that Old Dick Nixon's word long before he was happily and rightfully convicted of perjury.
But now we have this teen-ly wholesome New Dick Nixon, whistle-stopping the country, spouting his multifarious platitudes about the danger of one-party rule and generally filling the intellectually bankrupt role of the 10 percent American right-thinker. As a white-collar Joe McCarthy, Nixon had something to say when it was all wrapped up in the today he deals in unguises; he never utters the expected which makes a politician worth listening to.

LIKES BYRD, WANTS HEAD Dick Nixon, circa 1965, is not so much a politician as he is a lodge-joiner. He is too intent on not offending. Thus, in a speech before a club in Virginia, Republicans the other day, he promised he had "high regard" for Sen. Harry Byrd, the Democratic fear of that scholastic's state, while demanding Byrd's head. Harry Byrd, who is cunning, tough and honest, won't lose any sleep over a powder-puff approach like that.
Nixon is still fluent, but his opinions are so cautious and so moderately expressed that the impression is of a man who would change those opinions overnight to carry a traditional precedent. The picture is not suitable in General Eisenhower, whose thoughts were always, tortuously indeterminate, but like was a hero and Nixon is merely a man looking for a job—the successful politician is the one who is either as naive as he or as shrewd as Lyndon Johnson, and Nixon is neither.

NOT ALWAYS DIGESTIBLE Admittedly some of the student gatherings of the Old Dixie were enough to turn the fastidious citizen to the lips, but when he was mouthing them he was a somebody. He is no fun for either side when he delivers himself of speeches confined to stereotyped phrases indistinguishable from such rubber-stamped messages as "No Smoking" and "One Hour Parking."
He would be a trifle more refreshing if he would just cut right out and say hell yes he's running for President. But the New Nixon keeps putting people to sleep by remarking piously that such talk would only divide the Republican Party. His recuperation from the Old Dick Nixon apparently has proved fatal.

Views of Others

THE COUNCIL MARCHES
The Idaho Legislative Council appears finally to be grappling purposefully with the state's basic legislative needs.
Prior to the 1965 session of the Legislature, the Council appeared more interested in not exposing its flaws rather than in making the admittedly challenging assignments it was given. But the 1965 Legislature commissioned the Council to study a significant range of mother-lode problems, most of them important progress movements which must be freed if Idaho is to address itself to a meaningful future.
The question may be whether the council has been as thorough in its studies as certain bills has not given that impression with the vigor it has confronted its studies to date.
The list of Council studies, which call for recommendations to the 1967 Legislature, are:
(1) a re-amping of the state's lower court system; (2) a study designed to make state government more efficient and more supple; (3) examination of uniform commercial code covering all of the bank, trust and commercial transactions in the state; (4) reorganization of the municipal code to make it more consistent and clear, now a hodgepodge of conflict; (5) adoption of joint rules of the Legislature to make the law making process more effective; (6) a possible re-amping, again, of the council on the study of the school transportation program; (7) adoption of a program for the exceptional children, both the physically handicapped and mentally retarded, a long neglected responsibility in Idaho; (8) a study to improve the state's business climate; (9) and a sweeping study of the entire problem of the high water mark on waters in Idaho, a tangled legal problem.
Reports indicate that the Council, understandably, may not complete all of its studies in time to adopt complete recommendations for the 1967 session.
Reviewing the impressive workload, it appears something may have to carry over. Unfortunately, one of these, we hear, is the reform of the state's lower court system. This, in our opinion, has been too long delayed through the past two sessions. We would hope enough thought and energy could be directed at this objective so that the Legislature could cope with the first steps of application. And in this changing of the courts, we hope, the people of the state as well as the jurists will have opportunity to help fashion the new system. A Colorado leader recently informed a meeting of western states that the people of his state were given a large measure of expression in developing the court reform there. The jurists should guide it but it should be a product of the people.
Gerald Hansen, well known Bonneville county legislator and a member of the Legislative Council, has invited the council to hold its next meeting in Idaho Falls. The sessions are public and the public is invited to observe them and to register recommendations or complaints. The Council is not a people's forum as its purposes its studies.
The Legislative Council can give important continuity to an Idaho Legislature which cannot hope to cope with all of its problems without this interim study-bridge between sessions.

The Doctor Says

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M. D.
Q—Our well water has a hardness of 17.6 grains per gallon and an iron content of 1.44 parts per million. Is this the same iron that is essential for good nutrition? Would the use of a water softener cause hardening of the arteries?
A—Iron in the form found in water is readily absorbed into your blood but you will not get enough in your daily requirements. The best dietary source is red meat, especially liver.
Although some reports have indicated that drinking soft water favors hardening of the arteries, the latest studies dispute this theory. You can, therefore, drink softened water without damage to your health.
Q—Until a few years ago I drank very little water and developed a bladder infection. Since then I drink three or four quarts a day and I feel fine. My friends tell me that the fluoride and chlorine now being put into the water will cause kidney trouble. What do you think?
A—When chlorinated water reaches your table it contains less than 0.2 parts per million of fluoride. Both are soluble in water. Both are voluntarily controlled by your health department as well as by the water works. Keep up your water drinking and you may outlive your pessimistic friends.
Q—What are the side effects of Paracetamol?
A—Tranlylproprome (Paracetamol) was withdrawn from the market in 1959 but it has been released again, subject to certain precautions. The side effects from too large a dosage include dizziness, insomnia, weakness, drowsiness, nervous agitation, vomiting, diarrhea or constipation, abdominal pain, dry mouth, blurred vision, palpitation and headache. The drug should not be taken by anyone who is over 60 or anyone with high blood pressure, coronary heart disease, stroke, epilepsy or liver disease. Severe poisoning can result in persons who are taking this drug if they eat pickled herring or cheese, drink alcohol or take any of a great variety of other drugs.
Q—I was told in March that I was going blind and that nothing could be done. The blood doesn't get to my optic nerve. What is this disease?
A—This could be a form of optic neuritis or retinitis. In either case the outlook is bad, especially if a competent eye doctor has determined that the damage is irreversible.
Q—Would standing and kneeling on a mat covered with cement floor cause arthritis?
A—No.

TAYLOR'S VIEWS ON WORLD NEWS

By HENRY J. TAYLOR
Shortly before going to the hospital President Johnson called key bankers to an off-the-record White House dinner.
He warned them again that "interest rates are going down" a trend toward higher rates could hurt the bond.

His warning was clear, but the pressures are clear. And the President never surfaced the main question, which is hotter than a pistol; out of the White House deep freeze.
What about the debt structure of the United States?
The expected national debt of $322.5 billion on July 1, 1969, is $1,627 for every American. It never has so much been owed by so many. And the pressure blows on the money market like the gales off Cape Hatteras.

In the current budget for fiscal 1966, 48 cents of each dollar's income comes from individual income taxes on you and me, 28 cents from corporate taxes, 10 cents from excise taxes, 1 cent from all other payers.
It goes out as 61 cents for defense, space and international spending; such as foreign aid. My, oh my, how much we hear about the need for every nickel of this. But the politicians clam up quickly about the second largest item. This is the 12 cents on each dollar that flies away just to pay the interest on the money the government has already borrowed.
This 12 cents is actually more than is budgeted (11 cents) for education, health, welfare and housing.
Note that all About $100 billion authorized in previous New Frontier-Great Society years available outside the budget. In truth, Mr. Johnson and our rubber stamp Congress have available about $200 billion for which the government has no means of kitting up the cream.
Private credit is a privilege, not a right. Public credit is a right, not a privilege. This private debt must meet certain qualifications or it will not be granted, and it must be repaid. Public debt needs only be voted and voted and voted. This is where we get in so much trouble by bond-land decisions and the dubious doctoring of the federal books.
But in the private sector, too, what is the debt structure? The Farm Credit Administration places our farmers at $230 billion. Their debts, however, are even greater than the nation's federal debt. These total $336 billion. Moreover, this gigantic debt is highly concentrated. Only six per cent of America's farmers account for more than half of all farm debt. The Department of Commerce, in turn, recently reported that debts owed on housing structures for four or fewer family units increased $15.5 billion over last year. Consumer credit increased about $7 billion.
Individual and government borrowing increased at approximately the same rate, a tidy little sum of $187 billion.
This is a 76 per cent increase in a single year. And the pressure of all this on the money market crops up iron under every cropper.
"As soon as the game is over," you reply.
If you get away with that, you may be able to slip quickly to the Bills and Patriots and make it appear it's all the same game.
With a fast offense, you'll never get to that garage.

nists in those organizations already have been arrested. The army seems to encourage non-Communist parties, led by Moslem groups, to demand dissolution of the Communist party and unite its controls, such as the labor organization; Gerani, the women's organization, Pemuda Rakyat, the youth organization, and the university student movement concentration.
This seems to indicate a loss of authority for Sukarno, who habitually used Communist political strength to counterbalance army influence.
The orders seem to come, instead, from Maj. Gen. Suharto, commander of the army strategic command, supported by the armed forces chief, Gen. Abdul Hari Nasution. Nasution, who was an assassination target and lost a young daughter during the Sept. 30 riots, is reported to have determined to wipe out Communist influence.
The army still permits use of anti-Communist tactics in the long Sukarno flirtation with Red China, but sources close to the situation say this should not be taken too seriously. They picture it as a reflection of army caution in an anxiety to avert civil war.

(Boyle is on Vacation)
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The annual football clash has begun.
The may lack the color and spectacle of the annual homecoming game, but it has every bit as much emotion, drama and tension.
This football battle is fought not on a gridiron but in a living room littered with the miscellany of life and, at its peak, the Sunday newspapers.
The struggle is over not a rectangular chunk of sod but a rectangular slice of glass.
And, like any football game, the national struggle between husbands planted firmly before television sets and wives seeking to dislodge them for household chores is a contest of strategy, strength and determination.
The coin toss comes in mid-August, when "pressures" professional games start. A wise husband starts his training early.
"Why don't you go shopping next Saturday?" you ask.
"What's on your mind?" the wife rejoins.
"Oh, nothing special. But it occurs to me there's a football game I might watch if you wanted to buy now during room furniture."
"Football?" she asks, while figuring out how to get $700 worth of new furniture in a house already too small for what's there. "Why, the World Series isn't even over yet."
It is no use trying to explain that no, indeed, the World Series isn't over. In fact, it won't even start until football season is half over and the basketball season will have started before the series is over, too.
Sports seasons are hard enough for a fan to follow, let alone a wife.
A mind geared to Saturday afternoon shopping trips, Sunday drives to the country and weekends of putting up storm windows, painting kitchens and moving lawns is incapable of shifting to the directions of NBC, A, L and NFL.
But wives, of course, don't even understand why there need to be three football games to watch each weekend—when the pro league and television schedule makers are thoughtful enough to make games follow one another instead of running at the same hours.
An experienced husband can put this lack of understanding to good use.
Say, for instance, you're contentedly watching the Cardinals and Browns when the wife intercedes during a commercial to demand: "When are you going to clean up the garage?"
"As soon as the game is over," you reply.
If you get away with that, you may be able to slip quickly to the Bills and Patriots and make it appear it's all the same game.
With a fast offense, you'll never get to that garage.

Farm Bureau Has Talk by Zoning Aide

EDEN-HAZELTON — Walter Shouse, Jerome zoning committee chairman, spoke on the objectives of zoning when members of the First Segregation Farm Bureau met at the Frontier Grange hall in Hazelton.

He stressed that zoning would secure safety from fire, panic and other dangers; lessen congestion in the streets; promote health and general welfare; provide adequate light and air; prevent overcrowding of land; avoid undue concentration of population and to facilitate the adequate provision of transportation, water, sewage, schools, parks and other public requirements.

He noted that the newer objectives of zoning are to promote orderly growth and to conserve and develop natural resources; preserve historic and scenic attractions; foster agriculture and other industry including prevention of soil erosion, conserving soil fertility, protecting the food supply and assuring future needs of agriculture.

The summary of the zoning regulations should be based on comprehensive planning of the community, be it a town, city or country, said Shouse.

Election of officers was held with Don McFarland re-elected as chairman; Howard Schwarz, vice chairman; Edwin Bruns, secretary-treasurer; James Grant and Walter Shouse, directors to the county board.

Plans were discussed for the membership drive to be held Nov. 5-9. A no-host "kick-off" breakfast will be held in Jerome the morning of Nov. 5 followed by members of both the "First Segregation" and the Jerome units working in the Jerome community.

Both units will work the First Segregation territory on Nov. 6. A contest between the two unit captains will provide additional interest for the drive.

The next meeting will be held Nov. 2 at the Frontier Grange hall in Hazelton. All members are urged to attend.

The department said declines in anticipated production of alfalfa hay, sugar beets and dry beans were offset by increased prospects for spring wheat, potatoes and hops.

REMEMBER WHEN?

By BOB REESE

It was a shock to the nation. America's hero of just a few years before had not been forgotten... and the tragedy that struck him... and his family... was a headlined... from one end of the country to the other.

First there was the terrible headline—"LITZBERGERCH AND HIS IC IDNA PRED!" Then followed the anguished search for the child and the negotiations with the kidnapers. Ten weeks later the baby was found dead.

The investigations went on. Over two years later the kidnaping was finally found and treated, and it was not until the following year that the kidnaping was brought to trial. The verdict came in—guilty. The man who stood silently in that courtroom and heard the verdict which condemned him to death was James Richard Thompson. Remember the day of that tragic crime?

Remember the year? America was going through a trouble time that year. Cars cost a lot less by today's standards... but they weren't easy to buy... and a man stopped around for the highest trade and the best terms.

The year was 1932.

We believe in giving the highest possible trade-in allowance consistent with good business... and we carry a full line of terms you can find on a new '58 Dodge or Chrysler. Stop in and look over our complete choice of models. A Bob Reese Buick, 500 Block 2nd Ave. So., Twin Falls, phone 733-0776.

FUNDS LISTED

The funds for Riole and Hineslow projects are for planning; the others for construction.

REXBURG (UPI)—Miss Lana McCracken, a 19-year-old sophomore from Fremont, Calif., was crowned homecoming queen at Ricks College Thursday evening.

The brunette Miss McCracken was a drum major in high school and was song leader at Ricks last year.

Friday's homecoming activities include the homecoming assembly, songfest and parade in the evening. Saturday will be the homecoming float, followed by the football contest between Ricks and Westminster. Reception and dance are planned for the evening.

WAREHOUSE BURNS
RIDGEMOUNT (AP)—Fire destroyed the Zundel Potato Warehouse and threatened other nearby warehouses and buildings before it was brought under control here Thursday night.

Fire trucks from surrounding towns and nearby Idaho Falls fought the blaze, which was discovered about 9 p.m.

Firemen said the Zundel warehouse was a total loss but had no estimate of the cost. Flames leaped as high as 150 feet before the fire was brought under control about 10:30 p.m.

Cause of the fire was under investigation.

ASKS HEARING

Josephson asked for the hearing when he appeared before Probate Judge W. S. Stephenson Thursday.

PROJECT URGED
BOISE (UPI)—State Rep. Alvin Benson, D-Owyhee, says the Reclamation Bureau should plan a pumping project to reclaim more than 200,000 acres in the proposed Bruneau and Wickahoney Projects.

Benson told the Southwestern Idaho Development Association construction of a high dam to provide gravity flow of Snake River water on the two proposed projects would inundate much of Bigerman Valley.

He asked what would be gained "by taking out thousands of acres already developed, along with roads and other developments, to reclaim acres elsewhere."

Vibbert was cited for failure to yield the right of way after he apparently stopped and then pulled into the path of the Mercury. Passengers in the Mercury were Mrs. Judy Minchey, 21, and her daughter, Monica Minchey, 14 months. Mrs. Minchey was treated and released from the hospital.

Show First To Play in Combat Zone

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — "Hello, Dolly!", the first Broadway show ever to play a combat zone, rang down the curtain on its Viet Nam tour today with a series of on-stage salutes from a four-star general.

Dressed in combat fatigues, Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. troops in Viet Nam, gave separate snappy salutes to the "dancers, singers, supporting players, the boys in the pit, music team, ring-smith and you, Dolly, Miss Martin."

Mary Martin, the star of the show, gasped audibly at the unexpected curtain speech by the general and could only say, through tears, "God bless you all."

The general's visit to the 72-member company was a surprise. He had attended the show only Thursday with Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and Premier Nguyen Cao Ky.

Rehearsal Set On Talent Show

SHOSHONE—A second dress rehearsal for the Jaycees talent show to be held at 8 p.m. Thursday at the Lincoln school will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the school building.

All contestants are asked to be present. The public is invited to the show next Thursday. Jim Messersmith will be master of ceremonies.

A number of attractions will be featured on the show this year.

Three Men Seeking Mayor Post in Burley Vote Nov. 2

BURLEY—Three Burley men are making a bid for the first four-year term fulltime mayor for the city of Burley.

Mack W. Crouch is seeking re-election and Joe Peters and J. Leonard Salmon, both former mayors, have filed petitions for the Nov. 2 city election. Three city councilmen and a mayor will be elected.

Crouch has been a resident of Burley for 42 years. He is a past president of Rotary, past president of Burley Chamber of Commerce, secretary-treasurer of the Chamber of Commerce, president and secretary of the Burley-Rupert Knife and Fork Club, and past Grand of the Odd Fellows.

He has been active in the real estate and insurance business and in 1962 prior to running for office sold his agency to Leon Street and Joe Preston.

"It has been my constant endeavor over the years to have in office to continue the progress and prosperity of Burley and build good will and friendship—I will continue to use the same guiding lines as I did two years ago and have used while in office. Is it the truth? Is it fair to all concerned? Will it build good will and better friendship? And will it be beneficial to all concerned?" Crouch stated.

Two projects of many Crouch feels should be credited to his past term of office are setting up and maintaining of a permanent inventory of all property, where none existed before and the elimination of the irrigation ditch hazard behind the Southwest School.

Joe Peters served as Burley's mayor from 1946 to 1952. For many years the former mayor was a volunteer fireman and served as chief of the fire department. While fire chief he ran for mayor the first time and was re-elected in two successive campaigns.

Using the slogan "The Man With a Plan," Peters outlined improvements and accomplishments during his six years of city administration. The city power system was re-built and underground cables replaced power lines overhead in the business district.

Three street improvement projects were completed, fire truck purchased and a new fire station built, additional street lights were installed on Main Street and Overland Avenue.

Under Peters' guidance land was purchased for the city ball park and swimming pool south of the Burley High School.

A maintenance house was built at the city cemetery and a sprinkling system developed to help keep the city clean.

"We have to get all out in promoting business in Burley, we need a city administration that will put Burley's business above everything else," he stated.

While out of public office, Peters has been in the trucking business. He is married. He and his wife live at 1623 Almo Ave.

They have one daughter, Mrs. Gary (Kathleen) Lewis, and one grandson.

J. Leonard Salmon served as Burley mayor from 1953, when he defeated Peters, until 1964 when he lost to Crouch. During more than 10 years as mayor Salmon saw Burley practically double its size in population and area.

Projects completed under Salmon's administration were building a new modern library, building a new clubhouse at Municipal Golf Course, purchasing additional land to provide an 18-hole golf course, purchase and improving the cemetery grounds, planting lawns and trees, drilling and equipping a large domestic well, replacing an old wooden water main with cast-iron pipes, completing the swimming pool, tennis courts, and picnic park, and remodeling city hall to provide modern office space.

"My platform is to encourage new industry to come to Burley whereby more jobs will be available, to enable local businesses to prosper, to devote all my energy to making Burley a bigger and better place, to reopen crosswalk problem to reach a satisfactory solution. As a result of the many years of service in civic affairs in the past, I feel well qualified to render efficient leadership in the future," stated Salmon.

Salmon is an active member of the Masonic Lodge, served as the American Legion commander, is a member of Burley Elks Lodge and is a past president of the Idaho Municipal League.

In the city councilman race J. W. (Jim) Henson and Keith Stoddard are seeking the seat in the first ward. William Morgan, councilman from the first ward for several years, is not going to file for re-election.

In the second ward Kenneth B. Roth has filed to run against J. L. Driskell who presently holds the seat and will seek re-election.

A three-cornered race is set for the third ward with Russell Ivie seeking re-election against Fred R. Williams, former councilman under Mayors Joe Peters and J. Leonard Salmon, and Charles Shadlock, a newcomer to public office.

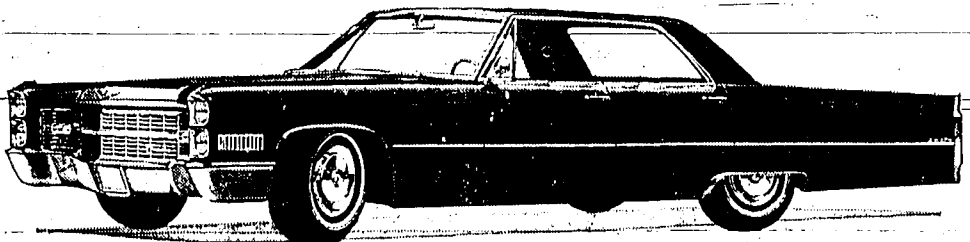

The three holdover councilmen are Norman Dayley, Lamar Craner and Jaye Nichols.

Doctor Urges Rules for Skateboard

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — If you can't stamp out skateboarding, at least try to minimize their injuries.

Dr. Norman D. Logan of Portland, Ore., suggested to the Western Orthopedic Association convention here Thursday the following measures be taken since skateboarding apparently is here to stay:

1. Designate isolated areas for skateboarding.
2. Prohibit skateboarding at night.
3. Discourage skateboarders from difficult tricks until they become proficient.

Dr. Logan said Emanuel Hospital in Portland treated 75 injuries "caused" from skateboarding during the first six months of 1965.

Thirty, he said, involved fractures—some serious—while the rest were lacerations, sprains and head injuries.

At the convention's final business session Thursday, Dr. J.R. Schurmann of Tucson, Ariz., took over as the new president succeeding Dr. Boyd G. Holbrook of Salt Lake City.

New table cloths will be purchased.

Preliminary plans were made for the observance of Veteran's Day on Nov. 11. The annual joint meeting with the members of the Auxiliary will be at 7:30 p.m. at the hall. This will begin with a potluck dinner for all veterans and their wives and all Auxiliary members.

JEROME — The First Christian Church, Jerome, was the setting for the double ring wedding ceremony Sept. 5 uniting in marriage Janice Louree Haines, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hugo Haines Sr., and Kenneth Roger Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Moore Jr.

A trio, composed of Mrs. Ronald Lancaster, Mrs. Harold Robbins, and Mrs. LaVera Goetz, sang. Mrs. Urban Fort accompanied the trio and played the traditional wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an original, full-length gown of imported rayon-organza-fashioned-with-a-controlled silhouette with caplet-sleeves. The full-hazel-train was bordered with Venice lace.

Her veil of illusion was held by a queen's crown with soft petals of organza embroidered with seed pearls.

Her bridal bouquet was a white orchid surrounded with baby pink Elfe roses and stephanotis.

Chris Sullivan was maid of honor and Judy Anderson and Linda Shawver were bridesmaids.

Melvin Madson served as best man. Groomsmen were Dennis Moore, brother of the bridegroom, and Victor Haines, brother of the bride. Steward Haines and Curtis Haines, brothers of the bride, served as ushers and candlelighters.

Following the wedding, a reception was held in the fellowship hall.

The bride's table was covered with lace and centered with a decorated wedding cake decorated with blue roses, sugar bells and topped with an heirloom china bride and bridegroom.

Pink feathered carnations and white chrysanthemums surrounded white tapers to complete the decor.

Mrs. Raymond Beck, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Ernest Craig cut and served the cake. Mrs. Charles Heugens and Mrs. Bertha Meyers presided at the punch bowl.

Kathy Swainston was in charge of the guest book. Gifts were displayed by Mrs. Dennis Moore, Mrs. Stuart Haines, Mrs. Cleon Thompson Jr. and Sandra Priest.

Education Aide Speaks At Buhl Meet

BUHL—There are many and varied reasons for mental retardation. It can happen to any family, anywhere, and this problem should be everybody's responsibility and concern. It was pointed out by Mrs. Helen Bodahl, director of special education for the State Department of Education, when she spoke Wednesday at a luncheon co-sponsored by the Buhl Kiwanis Club and Jay-C-Ettes.

Mrs. Bodahl noted 10 per cent of all school age children can fall into the category of exceptional children. There are approximately 17,000 children in the state of Idaho who could profit from some type of special education.

The state aide went on to say there is a need for this type of children to be educated in the community and accepted by the people and later placed in simple jobs in the community.

Mrs. Bodahl pointed out it is the desire of state educators to have a future aim in state education at all grade levels. It is important that mentally retarded children be integrated with children of their own age whether it be elementary, junior high or senior high level.

She commended the Buhl school district on its inclusion of a special education class in its school system.

Mrs. Lucille Hoyer, curriculum coordinator for the Buhl Elementary School, spoke briefly on the special class that has been added this year to the elementary school program. She noted Mrs. Rose Kalkreuth is serving as the instructor for this class room. It has 10 students ranging from nine to 13 years of age.

A large number of interested persons and representatives from various organizations in Buhl heard the guest speaker.

Steals Key to City

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (UPI)—The city fathers of Bakersfield had better keep an eye on the official door. Nanett Thoms, Miss Bakersfield-of-1965, reported that someone broke into her apartment and stole the key to the city, which she received when she was crowned.

Commissioner Is Named to Group

NEW-ORLEANS (UPI)—Idaho's Commissioner of Law Enforcement has been named to the Executive Committee of the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators.

E. R. Hopper, Boise, was named to the post Thursday at the closing session of the association's annual meeting.

Vern Hill, director of the Oregon Department of Motor Vehicles, was elected new president of the organization.

West Coast Gets New Turboprop

West Coast Airlines has placed into service its 10th F-27 turboprop, states Ronald Masoner, Twin Falls manager.

The new plane, says Masoner, was acquired from Aloha Airlines which had operated it on the Hawaiian Inter-island run. A five-week tuneup and modification program by West Coast's maintenance crew reduced the cabin configuration from 44 to 40 seats.

The interior renovation will afford West Coast passengers, Masoner added, a minor preview of the airlines' forthcoming DC-9 addition. New "aerotherm" logo style seats will be installed in the forward rows to test passenger reaction to the internally reclining type of seat.

To recline in one of West Coast's Douglas DC-9s next year, the passenger will slide the seat forward while the headrest portion remains unchanged in relation to the seat behind.

But the main effect of West Coast's $750,000 investment will be to greatly improve service to points which are now largely dependent on DC-3 transportation.

The Aloha plane will figure prominently in major revisions of the daily schedule which will become effective Nov. 15, says Masoner.

BILLY LYNN KNORPP

He enters the Salt Lake City mission home Oct. 25 for a week's training prior to enrolling at Brigham Young University for a 12-week course in Spanish. He will serve two years in Peru. He has completed his freshman year at the University of Idaho.

Measures Taken To Protect Pope

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Halt, an police stepped up security measures at Vatican City today following reports a mail-bomb threat had been received by Vatican authorities.

The vatican city, where Pope Paul VI resides, is the site of meetings of the Ecumenical Council.

These have been at least seven bombings attempted since the council's opening in recent years. The latest was Feb. 17, when dynamite exploded against a gate in the wall about 100 yards from where Pope Paul was sleeping.

Vatican sources said the threat was that a bomb would explode in St. Peter's Basilica before the end of the Ecumenical Council, expected to finish its work sometime in December.

Survey Set At Heyburn

The village is purchasing a bucket truck for the electrical department.

A small section of ground has been leased to the Walker Monument Co., Pocatello, to house a business south of the Riverside Cemetery. Operated by ATC Enterprises, Heyburn, the business will operate on a 10-year lease from the village, with an option for extension of 10 more years.

Judges and clerks for the Nov. 2 election will be Mrs. LaPratt Stoddard, Mrs. Vluo (Leah) Scovill and Mrs. Mamie Dudley.

What is your potential?

When you think deeply about it from a religious standpoint, you begin to wonder — can anyone really measure man's potential, or put any limits on it? Can you measure God's love for His creation? No. But we can learn to let it mold and fill our lives. Hear this public lecture, "What is Your Potential?" by JANE O. ROBBINS, C.S., member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship in Boston, Mass.

FROM ALL ANGLES

By LARRY HOVEY

Perhaps the biggest game around the area—far from the normal interest at least—will be the Oct. 29 meeting of the Gooding Senators and the Filer Wildcats.

Of course, something like the Muncie-Burrus game was big but it is always a thrill to see a game in a while the really big one comes along, the once every few years type thing. Sure, the collision between Gooding and Filer this year.

A game of this caliber always brings in the true fans, the purists who go to see the expected excellence of play. A good example came to Twin Falls a few years ago when Borah, undefeated, Caldwell, and Twin Falls, Doug Schow, Tim Layens, Joe McCallum, etc., played. The purists were out. There were, we know for certain, a dozen from as far away as Halley, Shoshone and several other towns.

High school athletic departments generally are run on gate receipts. Smaller schools must receive from the board of education, but the larger school, the less tax money.

Winning teams generate greater followings. Gooding Coach Jim Wallace reporting the Senator gate receipts up over last year—was a great year for Gooding. Filer Coach Earl Elliott notes a similar rise as the Wildcat comes up with their best aggregation since 1948. (Filer fans provide that statistic).

With all these things coming together this year and with Filer having a minor stadium capacity, it was inevitable the handling of a record crowd must be anticipated.

It, therefore, has been suggested that the teams use the new Twin Falls stadium, capacity 4,100.

It, of course, would be quite a tradition breaker, moving a site like that.

The suggestion does not originate here. Gooding first proposed it to us and Coach Elliott reports it has been discussed in Filer.

Twin Falls Principal George Staudacher, questioned on the matter, said "We would be very happy to make our stadium available to Filer and Gooding. (The Board of Trustees) would have to return them because there is a bull sale scheduled for Oct. 30. We had them for one game and they were full."

From a coach's standpoint Elliott said "I don't believe there is any particular advantage to having a home field in football. We have played as good or maybe, at times, better than on other teams so I don't think that would enter into my thinking on the matter at all. I don't know how the boys would feel about it but as a coach I don't see any particular disadvantage to it."

On the other side Coach Wallace favored the move.

"We have been playing some pretty good football over here for the last couple of years. A lot of people see us but I feel a lot would stay home on a situation like these where the fans would know they would be fighting for seats and a view of the field. I know there will be a lot of Gooding people following us over to Filer and I'm sure this game will draw people that haven't seen Filer and Gooding play for a long time. We naturally are interested in our fans. And we'd like to show the kind of football this conference can play to a big crowd," Wallace said.

Packers Are Next Big Hurdle for Surprising Lions

By United Press International

The Detroit Lions, with seemingly no means of support, have been the surprise of the National Football League's Western Division and could move into a tie for the lead this Sunday with a victory over unbeaten Green Bay. The Lions opened the season with consecutive triumphs over Los Angeles, Minnesota and Washington and were riding high before the Baltimore Colts cut them down to size last week.

Palmer, Lema Post Wins in Match Play

VIRGINIA WATER, England (AP) — Arnold Palmer and Tony Lema smashed down opposition in the first round of the eight-man World Match Play championship Thursday in such a style that all-American fans Saturday is probable.

Palmer, the 36-year-old Lantrop, Pa., Golden Master of modern golf, disposed of Kel Nagle of Australia, 3 and 2. Lema, a 27-year-old Englishman's Peter Alliss, 5 and 4. Gary Player of South Africa, reigning U.S. Open king, got rid of Neil Coles of England, 5 and 4.

In the remaining matches, Fred Daly of Ireland, and Australia's Peter Thomson, the 1965 British Open champion, were all square after 36 holes when darkness fell.

High Lake Planting Is Completed

High mountain lake trout plantings have been completed for the Magic Valley region by the Idaho Fish and Game Department, reports Regional Fishery Biologist Bob Bell.

Bell planted a total of 53 lakes with trout via helicopter under an economy agreement between the Forest Service and department.

Filer has the decision. It is the Wildcat home game.

"We have discussed it here with the administrators and felt that perhaps the cost would be too much and that we may not be able to keep it here," says coach Elliott.

"The board has appropriated $600 for building of additional bleachers and work on them started today (Thursday)," he continued. "We had borrowed some money from the fairgrounds but had to return them because there is a bull sale scheduled for Oct. 30. We had them for one game and they were full."

From a coach's standpoint Elliott said "I don't believe there is any particular advantage to having a home field in football. We have played as good or maybe, at times, better than on other teams so I don't think that would enter into my thinking on the matter at all. I don't know how the boys would feel about it but as a coach I don't see any particular disadvantage to it."

On the other side Coach Wallace favored the move.

"We have been playing some pretty good football over here for the last couple of years. A lot of people see us but I feel a lot would stay home on a situation like these where the fans would know they would be fighting for seats and a view of the field. I know there will be a lot of Gooding people following us over to Filer and I'm sure this game will draw people that haven't seen Filer and Gooding play for a long time. We naturally are interested in our fans. And we'd like to show the kind of football this conference can play to a big crowd," Wallace said.

So the proposition hangs fire. Filer is making its accommodations as adequate as possible and there should be no thought one way or the other if the Wildcats stay home. We reiterate, it's their game and was promised to them several years ago, going on the regular home-and-home basis.

Twin Falls has some good facilities for athletics now. We are pleased that Twin Falls has allowed outside schools to use its track for meets over the past two years. It is nice to think that this cooperation could spread into other sports, particularly for a special event such as this one. It's a game featuring two of the best three

Koufax Hurls L. A. To Baseball Title

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers won the 1965 World Series Thursday when Sandy Koufax fired a 2-0, three-hit shutout at the Minnesota Twins in the seventh game before a record 50,596 fans at Metropolitan Stadium. Coming back with only two days rest after his 7-0 victory Monday at Los Angeles, Koufax finally ended the streak of home park domination in this Series. Sandy ended the game with a strikeout flourish, mowing down his ninth and 10th victims for the last two outs.

Koufax, who had won and lost in previous duels with Jim Kat, the Twins' left-handed pitcher, yielded a single to Zoilo Versalles in the third, a double to rookie Frank Quilici in the fifth, and a single to Harmon Killebrew in the ninth.

Lou Johnson, a much traveled athlete who swung around the bases before the Dodgers brought him up in May, hit the home run that doomed Kat. The 31-year-old outfielder from Lexington, Ky., hit the foul pole screen in left, leading off the fourth inning.

Ron Fairly's 11th hit of the Series, a double to the right field wall, and Wes Parker's bouncing single over Don Minchler's head to right field, scoring Fairly, finished off Kat in the fourth before a man was out.

Koufax escaped from his most serious jam in the fifth on a hit to the left-center fielder, Jim Gilliam. Quilici's double to the left-center screen and a walk to pinch hitter Rich Rollins on a 3-2 pitch that drew protests from Koufax gave the Twins their best shot of the sunny afternoon.

The big home town crowd had cheered Koufax when he came to bat in the top of the ninth, whooped it up for the Twins in the last inning as Killebrew singled to left with one out.

But Earl Battey struck out on three blazers and Ray Allison went down swinging for the ninth time in the Series.

Koufax Ready For Extended Vacation

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) — Sandy Koufax said Thursday he was going away as far as he could and forget about baseball as long as he can.

"That's too late for the Minnesota Twins — just about 2 1/2 hours too late. They gladly would have paid expenses if he had made his departure a day earlier."

Most of the 50,595 loyal Twins' rosters, however, stood up and cheered Sandy when he came to bat for the last time in the ninth inning.

The splendid southpaw was worn out from the handshaking and buckkapping as much as from his nine-inning effort.

"I'm going away as far as I can," he said wearily. "I'm going to leave shortly for Hawaii and then go on from there. Where I don't know — I really don't care right now. I think I'm entitled to a vacation."

Before he leaves Los Angeles, Koufax will undergo a thorough examination of his arthritic left elbow, which he is forced to pack in ice for at least a half hour after every game.

"Dr. Korlin (Dr. Robert Korlin, Dodger club physician) will take X-rays of the arm," said Koufax. "to see if there has been any change in the condition of the arm."

"Right now it feels fine. The fact that I know I don't have to use it for the next 4 1/2 months makes it feel even better."

Few among the capacity throng that set a Metropolitan Stadium attendance record were aware that Koufax has been forced to swallow orange and white capsules three times a day for months in order to reduce the fluid in his elbow joint. These capsules act as anti-inflammatory agents.

Thus, the fact that he was able to accomplish his latest masterpiece working with only two days rest was all the more remarkable.

"Oddly enough, I felt just as

Vandals Still Polishing Offense Plays

MOSCOW, Idaho (AP) — The University of Idaho Vandals held their final workout here Thursday before a trip to Boise and a Saturday game against the Oregon State Beavers.

Coch Steve Musseau had the offense working near the goal-line again.

"We want to move the ball as fast as possible if we get near paydirt," said Musseau. "and the drills near the goal-line Thursday will help us do that."

A Vandal scout team continued to run Oregon State units for the Vandals' defensive backs as Musseau stressed quick recognition of Beaver formations and moves both on the ground and in the air.

"I raised the total turnout for the four showings so far to about 400."

ISU Hopes to Cap Homecoming by Beating Bobcats

POCATELLO—The Montana State University Bobcats, 1964 Camellia Bowl football champions as well as defending Big Sky Conference titlists, invade the Idaho State University Bengals' turf this Saturday in what should be a Homecoming Day sparkler. Coach Jim Sweeney's Bobcats, smarting from the sting of two straight losses to Weber

T.F. Sophs Tip Pocatello Juniors 21-19

Brett Staples ran into some good luck but also some bad Thursday night as he sparked the Twin Falls sophomores past Pocatello's juniors 21-19. Staples got the sophomores down 19-7, going with a 80-yard punt return in the third quarter but later sustained a broken arm.

Lee got Pocatello on top 6-0 early in the second quarter but Twin Falls forged in front on the last play of the half when Bob McClusky hit Mike Florence with a 17-yard scoring strike. A Florence to Staples pass got the extra point.

Pocatello scored the first two touchdowns, the ball in the third period, one on a 29-yard pass and the other on a one-yard plunge. Then came Staples twisting, dodging punt return. After the ensuing kickoff, Twin Falls put Pocatello deep in a hole and the Indians gave up a two-point safety to get kicking room. Twin Falls returned the ball to the 39-yard line on the kickoff and used Mike Florence and Snyder to get the ball to the one-yard line. McClusky sneaked over from there.

ISU Selects Co-Captains

POCATELLO (AP)—Veteran Idaho State University football players George Douglas and Al Jacobson, both senior halfbacks, this week were elected as team co-captains by their teammates. The pair will spark Coach Babe Caccia's Bengals against Montana State University here Saturday and for the rest of the 1965 season.

Douglas, a 175-pound education major from Memphis, Tenn., came to Idaho State three years ago following army service in Korea. Both he and Jacobson, a native of Sandpoint, plan to become coaches after graduation. "Our chances of beating Montana State in the homecoming day game Saturday are very good," said Douglas.

Pari-Mutuel Wagering Has Increased

BOISE (AP)—A total of $741,228 passed through the pari-mutuel windows during this year's 58-day horse racing season resulting in a net return of $34,860 to the state, the Idaho Horse Racing committee reported Thursday.

Chairman Robert W. Green said that compared with approximately $610,000 wagered last year and a net return of $24,408.

Series Gate Nears 3 Million Dollars

MINNEAPOLIS—ST. PAUL (UPI)—The 1965 World Series set a record for total receipts when the Los Angeles Dodgers and the Minnesota Twins drew $2,975,041.60 for their seven game set.

The total eclipsed the old mark set in 1962 when $2,878,601.11 was paid to see the New York Yankees and San Francisco Giants.

Seven game totals — Attendance: 364,326; net receipts: $2,975,041.60 (after taxes); players' share: $885,012.21 (from the first four games only); commissioner's office share: $150,250.17; club and leagues share: $410,203.28.

terbacks were able to garner during the entire 1964 season. Neves has connected on 23 of 51 passes for a 45 per cent mark.

Two more key personnel changes in the ISU offensive lineup were announced by Caccia. Starting right tackle Greg Duff underwent knee surgery following the Arizona State game and is out for the season. Taking his spot on the right side will be Roger Thomas, 285-pound junior, Sophomore Lambert Hiram, 230, will start at left tackle.

In the backfield the latest change finds sophomore Paul Shaner, 205, getting the starting nod on offense for the first time. The Bengals have been a bit thin here the past two weeks due to an injury suffered by regular Alan Dowd.

Superstitious Louisville Has Win Potion

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Call it sorcery, black magic or just plain hodge-podge, but University of Louisville football players seem to think they've come up with the ingredients to provide Coach Frank Camp with the 100th victory of his coaching career.

Just before their game with East Carolina Saturday night, the players will receive a rub-down with snake oil, drink a cup of Kickapoo joy juice, and hit the field with fire in their eyes.

Actually, the snake oil is nothing more than rubbing liniment with a little coloring. And the joy juice is a concoction of ingredients, most of which can be bought in any grocery store.

"It gives them that get-up-and-go attitude," explained team trainer Jim Bible Thursday, "and even if it is 75 per cent mental, as long as they keep winning who cares?"

So far, by using their magic potions, the Cardinals have defeated three consecutive opponents. That's a far cry from last season when — minus their tonics — the Cardinals lost nine out of 10 games.

Twins Set Four Series Records

MINNEAPOLIS—ST. PAUL (UPI)—Only two individual records and two team records were set in the 1965 World Series and all were accounted for by the Minnesota Twins.

Minnesota pitcher Jim Kaat established two fielding marks by recording five putouts in the second game. The five putouts were a record for a pitcher in one game and the same five also stood up to set a record most putouts by a pitcher in a World Series.

The Twins set new marks for fewest singles in a seven game series by collecting only 27 one-base hits and established a record for fewest men left on base in a seven game series by stranding only 36.

Farm AND Ranch

Magic Valley's Week-End Farm Paper

SECTION

Along Fences and Canals

Willis Hukkes, Ted Andrus and Floyd Marsh, all Tuttle farmers, are finding it necessary to water their fields of potatoes before harvesting with their machine to cut down on the clods.

Gene Turner, Tuttle, and his father, Orlin Turner, of the Shoo-arcamp community, have been working together harvesting their crops this fall, cutting corn, combining beans and haying. Ed and Jim Bennett, also of Tuttle have finished baling their hay.

Jim Reed, Tuttle farmer, received a painful injury to one hand after getting it accidentally hurt in a corn chopper.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hendry have leased their ranch, 1 mile west of King Hill to Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Henderson, Glenns Ferry, with option to buy. Mr. and Mrs. Henry will soon move to Porterville, Calif., to make their home. Henry is now in San Diego, visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Davis, while making arrangements to move to Porterville.

Donald Carnahan hauled 102 sacks of clover seed to Shields in Buhl, from the Arthur Greer ranch south of King Hill. Greer got 102 sacks from 25 acres which, he says, is a very good yield.

Rodney Ruberry is cutting corn at his ranch south of King Hill and putting it in silage for winter feeding of stock.

Booth Angus Acres, Twin Falls, recently purchased three registered Angus cows from Shirley Rae Butler, Kimberly.

Mr. and Mrs. Ervina Dewey, Declo ranchers, left Wednesday by plane for Humboldt, Iowa, to attend a livestock sale. They have consigned 280 head of Hereford yearling steers to the sale.

Burdell Curtis, Declo rancher, has consigned five registered Hereford bulls to the Elko, Nev. Bull Sale this week-end. Dennis Curtis, a nephew and well-known bull raiser, will show the bulls at the sale ring.

Nelson Taylor, feedlot owner at Declo, returned from Elko last weekend after shipping 200 head of yearling steers to his lot in Declo. They are all one-ton cattle, purchased from Tempera ranches, carrying the Tophat brand. Lynn Rose, new proprietor of the Elko stockyards, handled the transaction.

Beet growers in the King Hill, Hummett and Glenns Ferry areas, commenced harvesting their beet crops. Those digging beets are, Leo Trail, William Trail, Donald Carnahan, from Pasadena Valley, Rodney Ruberry, Harold Van Sickle, south of King Hill and Elbert Lawson, here in King Hill north of town.

Nick Robinson, King Hill, is foreman of dumping at the beer dump plant, two miles east of Glenns Ferry. He will be succeeded by Karl Anderson, as foreman at the plant. Mrs. Faye Waters, Glenns Ferry, weighs the beets as they are hauled in. Anderson reports that nine cars were shipped out on Monday. The beets are contracted to the Amalgamated Sugar Co., Twin Falls.

Farmers in the Tuttle area are now planting their winter wheat or have already planted it, some on bean ground they have disk up.

William Maude, Tuttle, has been combining clover and will start next week combining corn, all on a custom basis.

Leo Trail has finished clearing 12 acres of new land near his farm in Pasadena Valley and has seeded it to Gaines wheat, and watered it before the King Hill Irrigation was turned out of the canal over the weekend.

Ted Torey and "Cotton" Riley, riders for the Camas Cattle Association and Ed Patten, rider for the Gooding Cattle Association, are busy gathering up their cattle from the Soldier Mountain area. The cattle must be off the reserve by Oct. 19.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Simon are having a large ranch type home built on their property on the Baseline road northeast of Fairfield. They plan on doing the interior finishing themselves.

Wesley Fink is finishing digging potatoes at his small acreage in King Hill. Pickers were Mrs. John Allen, Mrs. Ted Lisle and Mrs. Fred Henth.

Extension of FHA Programs Increases Loan Insurance

More than a million people in rural America may benefit from an expansion in financial support for rural community facilities and family farms authorized by recent legislation, Max Hanson, Farmers Home Administration state director for Idaho said. Jack L. Allen, Twin Falls county supervisor reported.

Private investors will provide the bulk of the funds on an insured basis through USDA's Farmers Home Administration. The legislation signed into law by President Johnson on Oct. 7.

Authorities may increase from $200 to $450 million in the Farmers Home Administration's ability to insure loans in any one year for rural community facilities including water supply and waste disposal systems, and for the development and purchase of family farms.

Provides, for the first time, this type of credit for rural waste disposal systems. Authorities, for the first time, grants to supplement this type of credit for rural water and waste disposal systems. Grant authority may not exceed 50 percent of the construction on a project nor a total of $50 million a year.

Increases from 2,500 to 5,000 the size of towns eligible for such assistance.

Wheat Placed Under Loans

Carl Boyd, Chairman of the Twin Falls County ASC Committee, reports farmers in Twin Falls County have placed 125,242 bushels of 1965 wheat under loan as of Sept. 30, 1965.

Loan loans are just starting to come in. However three loans have been completed so far. These loans cover 4,835 cwt. of beets.

Boyd added farmers in Idaho had 490,705 bushels of 1965 wheat under loan as of August 31, 1965. Of this amount 363,377 bushels are warehouse stored and 127,328 stored on the farm.

AN ACHING BACK is one of the results of harvesting potatoes the hard way—by hand. Here Juana Guardo, Declo, is hard at work at what may appear to be an archaic process in the era of automated potato harvest. But according to Declo farmers Elmer Mackie and Mike Novosel, the labor and increased costs of hand harvesting are more than offset by the fact that the old-fashioned way results in fewer bruises on the potatoes. ## Valley Youths to Compete In Horticultural Contest

Three young Magic Valley farmers are giving their horticultural and business skills practical application in the 11th Annual National Canning Crops Contest.

The competitors are Ray Peterson and Gerald L. Murton, both Buhl, and Darwin R. Yoder, Filer.

The contest is sponsored jointly by the National Junior Horticultural Association and the National Canners Association to stimulate and encourage young people to become interested in horticulture as a career by helping them to develop a better understanding of profitable growing and marketing vegetables for processing.

The contestants must demonstrate a mastery of a wide variety of agricultural skills and have a background showing outstanding civic responsibility, and compete for state, regional and national awards.

The contestants must submit a report which details the development and execution of plans involved in raising their crops. They must keep a continuing record of methods and costs incurred.

State, regional and national winners of the contest will be announced at the annual convention of the National Junior Horticultural Association Dec. 5-9 in Cincinnati.

Still at Work

Thomas Hovenden, formerly of Twin Falls, is secretary of the Idaho Cattle Feeders Association, and not the Idaho Cattlemen's Association.

Robert M. Henderlider, Boise, is secretary of the Idaho Cattlemen's group. His headquarters is maintained in the Simpson Building, Boise, while Hovenden has offices in the Hotel Boise.

What happens to fall-applied nitrogen?

FERTILIZATION FACTS FROM YOUR SOIL FERTILITY SPECIALISTS

When nitrogen is applied and plowed down in the fall, the water soluble nitrates are moved deep into the root zone by fall and winter moisture... but seldom below a depth of 24 inches.

This deep placement of fall-applied nitrogen prevents much of the surface accumulation of nitrates in the tops of the beds during the growing season.

And the nitrogen works all winter long, speeding the decay of crop residues, adding vital organic matter to the soil.

For many farmers, fall-applied nitrogen is used more effectively by their crops. Are you one of them? If you'd like more facts about the advantages of fall application of nitrogen on your land, then get in touch with your USS Soil Fertility Specialists.

Pair Claims Fewer Bruises Result From Hand Harvest

Fifteen years ago mechanical harvesting of potatoes began on a large scale in Idaho. By the mid-1950s nearly all harvesting was mechanized — at considerable reduction in harvest costs. The "farmer's industrial revolution" was well under way in this state.

But there are always throwbacks—people who refuse to be pushed around by the machine. Often this is stubbornness—often it is an intelligent re-evaluation of the latest fad.

Elmer Mackie and Mike Novosel, both Declo, are now harvesting their potatoes by hand, but not because they have not given mechanical harvesting a try.

They gave the mechanical harvesters their chance, but according to Mackie, the combination bruised the potatoes.

The men felt that the reduction of bruising more than justified the increased costs of returning back to harvesting potatoes by hand.

The pair acknowledges the fact that most of their neighbors do not agree, as evidenced by the almost universal acceptance of the mechanized harvest.

Longtime Area Farmer Retires

RICHFIELD — Robert S. Speedy, a Richfield farmer since 1911, has retired and moved to Boise where he and his wife plan to take life easy.

Speedy worked three years at 157 a month to save $285 to purchase his first land in Richfield and moved here from Minneapolis, Minn.

Moving West was a dream of his father's, but the elder Speedy never ventured this far west even after two sons and a daughter settled in Magic Valley.

Speedy's acreage grew from the original 80 to 1,640 by the time he sold out this summer to the Mortgage Insurance Co., Boise. Over the years he raised sheep for 30 years, had a dairy herd and range cattle, farmed and drove a school bus in the early days.

News notices of Billy Graham always remind Speedy that he used to deliver papers in Minneapolis to 1300 Harmon Place, now the Graham headquarters.

Speedy is looking forward to a trip to New Brunswick sometime in the future. He will accompany a nephew, Paul Harvey, a namesake of their famous relative, Earl Palmer, who came to England to settle in Connecticut and refused the title at the death of his father in order to remain in America.

The Speedys will make their home two miles east of Boise. Their Richfield ranch is now occupied by Lonnie Leavitt, farm and ranch field man for the Mortgage Insurance Co.

The new owners have acquired 1,700 acres of land at Richfield during the past two years. They plan to raise hay and grain and pasture cattle. They are now feeding about 400 head of cattle.

Test Found For French Fry Potatoes

Some day potato processors may have an objective test to predict the quality of french fries they can make from the potatoes they buy. According to the Idaho Potato and Onion News, a test already in use for such foods as pears and lima beans is under investigation for potatoes by the Department of Agriculture.

The test is conducted in an Alto-Kramer Shear Press, and is designed to measure the differences between mealy and non-mealy and crisp and non-crisp potato strips, reported Dr. William L. Porter and Lester R. Ross, scientists of the USDA Agricultural Research Service.

They summarized an analysis of experimental results on both raw and french-fried potato strips obtained at the ARS Eastern Utilization Laboratory in Philadelphia.

In the test, the potato strips are laid across a set of stationary blades and sheared by another set of blades that move down and mesh with the stationary set. The resistance offered by the potatoes to this shearing is transferred electrically to a recorder and marked as a curve on a strip chart.

Characteristic curves are obtained for both raw and French-fried potatoes, with peaks indicating the points where the potato cells are ruptured, where the slice begins to occur in the slice, and where the slice is finally sheared through.

The scientists explained that further work will be necessary on raw potatoes and on French fries both before and after storage, on different varieties of potatoes, and on the establishment of a relationship between the results obtained and the subjective evaluation by a taste panel.

Year's Cotton Crop Estimated

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department today estimated this year's cotton crop at 15,159,000 bales, up 25,000 bales from last month's forecast.

Today's estimate, based on Oct. 1 crop conditions, compares with output last year of 15,190,000 bales and five-year average production of 14,670,000 bales.

Updated 1966 "Old Farmer's Almanac" Offers Guides to Weather, Fortune

"Sneezes then freezes noses and lenses. Snow blow back into your tracks. No cheer here. Worst January than you ever saw."

So goes the 1966 "Old Farmer's Almanac" prediction of next year's weather from New Year's to the middle of January. Entering its 174th continuous year of publication, the almanac offers weather forecasts, exclusive insights into the "secrets of the zodiac," and mother's recipes, not to mention more useful calculations of sunrise, the quarter of the moon, and the time of the tides.

Like the USDA's latest handbook, "Consumers' All," the almanac's publication offers advice for many areas related to farming. For instance, it discusses one of "the six major factors in a method of fortune telling" never known to fail.

Included in these surefire factors is the location of moles. For example, "A mole that stands on the right side of the forehead or right temple signifies that the person will arrive to sudden wealth and honor," whereas "A mole on either leg shows that the person is indolent, thoughtless and indifferent as to what happens."

The impact of weather bureau has resulted in a certain caution in the weather predictions of the almanac. The forecast is made for only "a twelve-inch square spot at the summit of Blue Hill, a few miles south of Boston."

However, additions can be made to forecast weather in other regions of the United States.

Lincoln and Crockett Are Named to Job

BURLEY — Ray Lincoln, Twin Falls, and Edwin D. Crockett were elected sheep and cattle representatives from precinct one at the district advisory board election of Idaho Grazing district two.

Jack Wilson, district manager of the Bureau of Land Management, said discussion was held at the meeting in the Burley BLM office on the Berger Pipeline project, Point Springs study and other items.

Wesley B. Ward and Elmer R. Parrott served as nominating judges and Wilford Quigley and Glen Briggs were selected as election judges.

Other members of the advisory board include cattle representatives John Pierce, Malta; Leavitt Taylor, Arimo, and Milton T. Jones, Malad; sheep representatives Ross Pickett, Oakley; Vern Eames, American Falls, and Conrad C. Alder, Malad. Garnet Kidd is wildlife representative.

pounds of butterfat in 298 days, and 234 Inka DeKoi, 432,524, producing 20,000 pounds of milk and 680 pounds of butterfat in 302 days.

Hunt Dairyman Has Cows Listed

HUNT — Gordon M. Martin, dairyman, has received word from the Agricultural Extension office of the University of Idaho, Moscow, that two of his Holstein cows will be listed in the new National D114 cow index list.

This list of 3,387 cows represents the top two per cent of about 200,000 cows initially screened. All cows listed fall into the highest genetic level for milk production.

Listed were Tamarix Burke Melanle, 4081070, producing 24,180 pounds of milk and 838

Updating the cherished book list resulted in a small notation on page reading. Apparently, the Division of Chronic Diseases, Public Health Service, Washington, is conducting examinations of some 5,000 people to determine whether or not patients with neurological disorders have finger and palm patterns different from normal people.

Results are expected to be useful in early diagnosis of abnormalities, the almanac concludes smugly.

Two-fold aims of the observation were defined by John A. Baker, assistant secretary of agriculture, as chairman of the open day.

"First, we want to give recognition to the self-reliant citizens of the United States who have built their cooperative businesses into the productive enterprises they are today.

"Second, we want to stimulate people to learn more about cooperatives — for with understanding will come a better appreciation of the basic truth that cooperatives are in deed partners in American life."

Social Security Numbers Sought by ASCS Offices

SHOSHONE — Farmers who are receiving payments for participation in farm action programs are asked to tell the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service what their social security numbers are.

According to Eugene Alexander, chairman of the Shoshone County committee, a form requesting this information with a postage-prepaid envelope will be mailed to each known producer who receives program payments to be filled in and returned to the ASCS county office as soon as convenient.

He explains that beginning Jan. 1, 1966, the identifying social security numbers will be entered on payment drafts to producers, and they will also be used by the Department of Agriculture in reporting such payments to the Internal Revenue Service.

Filer Range Bull Sale Set For Oct. 30

The Idaho Cattlemen's Association will sponsor its 20th annual Filer Range Bull Sale on Saturday, Oct. 30, at the Filer Fairgrounds, Filer, beginning at 11 a.m., according to Colin McLeod, J. Caldwell, Manager of the sale and chairman of the Association's Bull Sale Committee.

McLeod said there are 210 head of Hereford range bulls, some polled, all over 16 months and under 32 months of age, consigned to the sale by registered cattle breeders from Idaho, Utah, Oregon, and Wyoming.

All of the bulls are registered and will be graded into classes of A, A-minus, B-plus and B by Walter Schindler, Burley, commercial cattlemen; F. A. R. E. L. Daniels, Malad, purebred breeder, and Morris Hemstrom, Moscow, animal husbandman from the University of Idaho, McLeod said.

Grading will begin at 10 a.m. on Friday, Oct. 29. Each bull will be inspected for visual defects by Dr. D. A. Jackson, Twin Falls, deputy state veterinarian.

McLeod said the Filer sale has maintained its record of being the largest range bull sale in the Northwest and has been long noted for offering top quality bulls of excellent type, breeding characteristics, classification and ability to produce top calves.

Auctioneers will be St. Williams, Walla Walla, and Clayton Tschirgl, Fruitland.

Members of the sale committee include McLeod; chairman, Roland K. Patrick, Rogerson, assistant manager; James Brackner, Burley; F. A. R. E. L. Daniels, Malad; Albert Wolfkiel, Meridian; E. P. Reese, Salmon; Gus Erickson, Almo; Tom P. O'Connell, Puyallup; Wayne Naugle, Nampa; Clyde McAlfee, Darlington, and Frank Burstedt, Challis.

Champion Twins

JEROME — Archie Malone, Jerome, recently sold his "All American Cow" to the Carnation Milk Co. for $9,000, on the condition that Malone receive the forthcoming calf.

What was at the time only good business, this week turned out to be a stroke of fortune for Malone.

The champion had twin bull calves.

TO ATTEND MEET CALDWELL — Linda Shaw, Caldwell, and Margaret Patten, Tendency, have been chosen to represent Idaho at the national organizational meeting of the American Junior Hereford Association.

Electric-Pump Irrigation Develops 65,000 Acres of New Land for Year

BOISE — Idaho Power Co., reporting more than 65,000 additional acres were brought into production by electric-pump irrigation in its service area this year, estimated the new land increased Idaho's agricultural wealth by about $35 million in improved land values alone.

Company President T. E. Roach said the estimate was based on an increased value of $500-600 per acre resulting from transforming desert into highly productive crop land by private enterprise developers.

"This spectacular reclamation growth making ever-increasing use of Idaho's water resources, makes such other substantial contributions to the economy as new crop income, new jobs, new processing plants and new taxes," Roach added.

He said three new jobs are created by development of every 100 acres of new land—one on the farm and two in related industries.

"With the area's desert-land reclamation in full swing and an estimated three million acres of suitable land yet to be developed in southern Idaho," the utility official said, "it is more important than ever that our engagement and cooperation be given to developers of new irrigation projects."

Electric pumps installed this year totaled more than 51,000 horsepower — the biggest pumping load ever added to the utility's system in a single season, Roach said.

To extend service to the new pumps, which Roach said use enough electricity to supply a city of 45,000 people, Idaho Power invested more than $1 million in additional substations and transmission and distribution lines.

He said the additional land brought into production this year boosted the total under electric-pump irrigation in southern Idaho to nearly 1,100,000 acres.

"Close cooperation between irrigators, electric utilities, engineers and manufacturers has developed new technologies and equipment making it economically feasible to lift water higher than ever before," Roach said.

Significant reclamation undertakings in Idaho Power's southern division this year included expansion of Magic Water Company's development in the Salmon Falls Creek area southwest of Buhl.

The company, whose development embraces some 3,000 acres, installed new pumps with a combined rating of 1,200 horsepower to boost its total to 5,000 horsepower. Water is lifted as high as 350 feet on the company's project.

Salmon Farmer Competes For Grassman of Year Title

SALMON — Lemhi County's new Grassman of the Year, Jack Hamilton, will compete for Idaho's "Grassman-of-the-Year" title.

Hamilton operates a dairy ranch south of Salmon off U. S. Highway 93 adjacent to the Salmon Airport.

The ranch has 35 acres of irrigated pasture, 115 acres of irrigated crops and 10 acres of other lands including his ranch buildings. In 1965 he seeded 20 acres of new grassland. His ranch lands carried 105 head of cattle in 1965.

Russell Hillman, Lemhi County agent, in his official report on the new Lemhi grassman, said that Hamilton maintains maximum production on his ground considering that within "this one place of over 200 acres are all of the types of soil that we normally have within Lemhi County."

The rancher, Hillman said, gets maximum production by utilizing all of his manure and using commercial fertilizers. Each year he has soil tests run on most of his fields and has found that soil nutrient requirements will actually change from year to year and feels that he should have a new test run each year.

He utilizes all of his ground. He uses electric fences and is able to move them so he gets use of his ditch banks. His extremely sandy and gravelly soils are sprinkled so that he gets water coverage. Each of his fields are rotated in planting a different length of time because of the soil situation.

Hamilton has constructed two silos to store his feed for silage for his dairy animals. He found that when he started feeding silage that his production from his dairy cows maintained almost the same level he had received during the spring when the cows were on pasture.

Hamilton milks about 55 Holstein cows the year around. This requires he keep about 100 head of livestock on the place at all times.

A grade A setup has proven to him that this is the best way to market his milk. It is held in a bulk tank and shipped out to Community Creamery at Missoula, Mont., every other day.

The buildings on his ranch are in good shape. He utilized materials he had on hand in building the first open stall housing in the county. He made use of an old shed and some old poles and lumber in building this housing.

His yards where he keeps his cows are covered with concrete.

Hamilton has participated in a weight-a-day-a-month program on his cows. Any cow that does not produce at least 12,000 pounds of milk is sold.

A bull is maintained on the place; however, most of the cows are bred artificially. He uses the services of the Cache Valley Breeding Assn.

Foundation Head Fears Worldwide Famine

The world is headed for its greatest famine in the 1970's, Dr. E. J. Wellhausen asserted in an interview with the Times-News. Dr. Wellhausen, a former resident of Twin Falls now living in Mexico City, is director of the Rockefeller Foundation's International Basic Food Crop Program — a program geared to promote an increase in production of corn and wheat in underdeveloped countries.

"What will happen under the stress of mass starvation cannot be predicted," Dr. Wellhausen continued. "But this is political dynamite. When the people are hungry and live in misery it is mighty difficult to maintain stability," he said.

"We don't know whether food production can be increased sufficiently to head off this famine, but we might reduce the intensity of it somewhat—our only hope," he said.

Dr. and Mrs. Wellhausen recently visited Mrs. Bertha Wellhausen in Twin Falls for a short while before flying to Egypt.

Dr. Wellhausen, who has directed co-operative programs in agricultural science in Mexico for the past 22 years, voiced optimism when discussing the results of the foundation's program in Mexico.

In 1943 Mexico farmers' average wheat yields were only 12-15 bushels per acre. Now, he said, the yields have increased to an average of 40 bushels per acre, with some farms producing over 100 bushels per acre.

These results have been achieved "merely through application of what is now known," he said.

The foundation has encouraged the use of improved fertilizers, herbicides, insecticides, as well as stimulated research and development of improved grain types. Further, it provides educational programs for Mexican researchers.

"We have shown that with investments, say, at a cost of one ton of corn, an extra four tons of corn will be produced. This is simply good business."

20 years ago there was a 200-ton gap between the production of food and the growth of population in Mexico, Dr. Wellhausen said. The foundation's program has worked to close that gap.

Working with the Mexican Government, the foundation first had to develop a variety of wheat that was resistant to black stem rust disease—a variety of wheat that was not in existence in 1943—in order to utilize large applications of nitrogen fertilizers.

Once the needed varieties had been developed and demonstrated to the Mexican farmers, the country's "take-off" began. Annual production of wheat jumped from 350,000 to 1.5 million tons by 1959. Successive, improved varieties have since been introduced, he said.

Through these successes, Dr. Wellhausen said, the Communist play, land reform, "has been reduced to housing production, regardless of the system of landholding. Everybody is better off when the production is up," he said.

But, he advised, "there is no quick solution. In Mexico it took 25 years to get the ball rolling, but it required relatively little money. It is not rolling in Central America yet."

"Money alone is not enough. The foundation must be laid," he continued. "If the United States puts in motion certain programs to help solve some of the problems it is all we can do. The people in these countries must make the effort themselves."

"The best we can do is serve as a catalyst," he said.

Dr. Wellhausen expressed satisfaction with "Alliance for Progress." He said the success of the "Alliance" will ultimately depend on the initiative taken by the underdeveloped countries themselves.

When asked solely the impact of the United States' refusal to allow Mexican laborers to work on U.S. farms, Dr. Wellhausen acknowledged that the Mexicans were sensitive about the issue. But, he said, the Rockefeller programs have not been significantly affected.

The foundation's programs have been designed to work directly with existing agencies of the Mexican Government. The success of the joint development program has resulted in an improvement of the prestige of the government's agriculture department, often scorned by farmers who the programs have helped. Development of existing institutions rather than the creation of new institutions has permitted the foundation to maintain an apolitical, if conservative, position.

According to Dr. Wellhausen, the success of the Mexican program has resulted in the adoption of program methods to other countries with similar agricultural difficulties. The grain varieties developed by the foundation have been transferred to Pakistan with great success—doubling its yields. Pakistan this year has purchased 325 tons of the new seed.

The Rockefeller Foundation now has set up similar programs in Colombia, Chile and India, built on the Mexican model.

The development of Mexico's agriculture was not as different as it is for other countries that have "hit bottom," such as those in Central America, Wellhausen said. These unfortunate countries have reached such a point in the downward spiral that any investment whatsoever is extremely difficult. Credit becomes impossible to obtain, education loses ground, in these countries population is so rapidly overtaking food production that "famine" will soon be widespread.

For these countries, Wellhausen said, increased food production can only be effective when population growth is reduced. The critical period will last until food production grows as fast as does population, he concluded.

Rain Delays Seeding of Plains Wheat

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Crop Reporting Board said that much rainfall is holding up wheat seeding in the northern and central Plains states.

This is an unusual complaint in view of the fact that often there is inadequate moisture in these areas.

The board said that as of Oct. 1 seeding was only one-third complete in Montana compared with three-fourths a year ago.

The board added that South Dakota and Nebraska growers made good progress early in September and seeding will be completed now with a few good days.

The board said wheat seeding was moving slowly in central Kansas and was lagging behind in the Corn Belt because of wet weather and delayed soybean harvest.

Economist Lands Nation's Co-Ops

BOISE — Farmer cooperatives are business enterprises for the benefit of producers and consumers, Robert W. Wilcox, economist of the University of Idaho extension service, emphasized today in observance of October as Cooperative Month.

"Cooperatives have long been a part of the American free-enterprise system," Wilcox said. "They go back to Colonial days when neighbors helped each other clear land, build roads, and harvest crops. Today's cooperatives perform many tasks for their members.

"They market about a fourth of U.S. farm products and help farmers obtain about a fifth of their supplies. Members add to their incomes and reduce their costs by use of this business tool. By pooling resources and volume they do a better business job for farmers."

The Idaho Cooperative Council will meet at Pocatello Nov. 1 and part of the program will be devoted to a review of development of the system.

Irrigating Season Ends On Oct. 20

DECILO — The irrigating season will end in the Burley district Oct. 20, according to Burdell Curtis, manager of the Burley Irrigation District.

A total of 229,112 acre feet of water has been pumped to date, compared to 237,783 acre feet in 1964.

Curtis stated that acrolain (near gas) in the gravity canal has been used to suppress the growth of aquatic weeds and moss. It has proved to be very successful. The gas was used for the first time this year.

Most crops have a tolerance for the gas and are unharmed by its use.

"If all other impurities were removed, the water would be safe for drinking a quarter of a mile down the ditch with that much dilution," Curtis stated.

He added that the district had used xylene chemical in the smaller ditches and lower laterals for some time for weed control.

Glenn Simmons, acting project superintendent for the Bureau of Reclamation, said the reservoirs for this district have the greatest holdover on record.

Simmons said, "The plans for this time are to release water from all reservoirs throughout the winter pending the accumulation of winter snow. These releases will be modified from time to time as warranted by the snow survey data."

Expenditures For Food Above 1964

WASHINGTON—Food expenditures for the first six months of 1965 were at the annual equivalent of $48.5 billion—25 percent above a year earlier. Higher retail prices accounted for the dollar gain, according to National Food Situation.

In the January-May period retail food stores increased sales six per cent above a year earlier. In restaurants, cafeterias and luncheonettes they gained 11 per cent, and in other eating and drinking places, eight per cent.

Lower sales, despite higher prices, were reported by meat markets, fruit stores, vegetable markets, and delicatessens.

PAUL — Five Minidoka County High School students were presented awards in the Lincoln Arc Welding Foundation's School Shop Award program.

Acreages Diverted in Wheat Programs Can Be Grazed

Farmers who diverted acre-grazing was Oct. 1, 1965, marking the end of the six-month period during which the acre-grazing programs may graze this provision was in effect under the diversion programs.

The chairman stressed, however, that this program relaxation regarding use of the acre-grazing applies only to grazing the feed grain and wheat diverted acres. Hay on such acreages still may not be harvested.

Land diverted under the Conservation Reserve program may not be grazed or harvested through the whole year.

JOHN ANGUS GROUP — Robert L. Harney, Twin Falls, has been elected to membership in the American Angus Association at St. Joseph, Mo.

County farms participating in the 1965 feed grain and wheat certificate program numbered about 1,100, Boyd said.

Glen Bratcher, secretary of the association announced, Harney is one of 471 memberships issued in the United States during the past month.

Malathion Spray Has Low Volume

WASHINGTON — Likelihood that low-volume ground spraying of undiluted malathion for control of alfalfa weevil is at least as effective as conventional spraying was seen this month by Agriculture Research Service scientists.

The low-volume spray technique, first developed for use with aircraft, was seen as a million in safe and economical pesticide use. Using less insecticide, it saves time and money, and also minimizes residue hazards.

Malathion is the only pesticide presently registered with the U.S. Department of Agriculture for undiluted use in low-volume spraying.

Two types of low-volume ground sprayers have been under study. One is a mist sprayer consisting of a compressed-air hand-operated spray gun, and the other is a four-cycle engine mounted on the rear of a farm tractor.

Market and Financial Report

Stocks

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed mixed today with selected blue chips bolstering the average.

Trading was active but not at the fast pace which has prevailed most of this week.

A strong recovery by Du Pont bolstered the popular averages. Substantial gains in the Fairchild Camera, E.I. du Pont and others cheered up the market.

But there were many losers throughout the list.

Volume for the day was estimated at 7.8 million shares compared with 8.0 million Thursday.

Here was the picture near the close:

Trading was active but because of heavy volume activity this week it was the smallest turnover of the five-day period.

Caution was apparent as buying proved highly selective.

Major credit for the climb in the average was Du Pont's rise of more than 3 points. Anco and Reynolds Tobacco rose a point or more.

Attention on balance, The "growth" issues which have dominated recent markets were a mixture of gains and losses.

Korvette, recovering from a sharp loss Thursday, was a major attraction.

Fractional interest in several issues and looked like the most active stock.

Douglas Aircraft climbed nearly 2 while Boeing and United Aircraft rose nearly a point each.

KLM Airlines spurred more than a 2-point rise in Eastern Air Lines which climbed more than a point.

Raychem advanced nearly 3. Texas Instruments picked up 2 points and more.

Fairchild Camera ran up 2 points.

Q. For the past seven years I have held original investments of $1,000 each in two different common stock funds. The value of one common stock fund has more than doubled. But the value of the other (a balanced fund) has increased only 50 per cent.

Would it be wise for me to redeem the shares of the balanced fund and invest the proceeds in shares of the common stock fund?

A. The answer has to depend on your individual investment aim. If you are looking for outright growth in value of your investment and if you are willing to accept lower dividends now, the answer would be, "Yes, but only if you hope to keep your income lower, the answer would be no."

You have investments in two quite different types of mutual funds.

A common stock fund does what the term implies. The management of such a fund takes the money you and other stockholders put in and invests it in common stocks.

On the other hand, the management of a balanced fund invests partly in common stocks and partly in "senior securities," such as bonds and preferred stocks.

Naturally, in a period of rising stock prices, the value of an investment in a common stock fund will rise higher than an equal investment in a balanced fund.

For the length of time you have held your two fund investments (and a good deal longer) we have seen generally rising stock prices.

But price back to times when the spring of 1932 or June, 1933. Didn't your investment in the balanced fund hold up better than your investment in the common stock fund?

Q. In connection with your answers to people who want to know the pros and cons of them to find out. They can simply look at their stock certificates, which are dated. Then, they can ask any broker the

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business and Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—A flood of good news is turning some stock traders wary. Records are being set so regularly in so many segments of production and consumption that it's hard today to be bearish. But a low price level, however, may be a warning if some stocks haven't been bid to too-optimistic high levels.

The big volume of trading in food news to the brokerage houses selling on commission. Yet it adds a bit to the nervousness of the more conservative. They feel the heavy trading reveals an influx of novices taking a plunge. And speculation fever among the general public has a history of causing trouble.

When the low-priced stocks, and particularly the offerings of companies little-known previously to the general public, start getting a big play, the conservative investor turns watchful.

But the economic news itself could hardly be better. Corporate earnings reports are pouring in now. Most show promising sales and earnings conditions in the third quarter and the first nine months of 1955.

This quarterly gain in profits can no longer be classed as a surprise. Nor can the steady increase in the nation's economy statistics on output and personal incomes. Each three months, it seems, the nation's business has been better than predicted at the start of the period.

Bulls tend to see this as a new way of doing things, and they say: "Some call it the new economy — meaning that the government has found the fiscal policies that will keep prosperity always a little brighter, a bit more widespread. The wary wonder who would expect to see public complacency if in some future period the statistics weren't revised upward from earlier estimates."

This week the government has once more revised upward its earlier statistics on the economy and government and private output of goods and services. This Gross National Product rose in the July-September period to an annual rate of $76.9 billion.

This was a $1.9 billion increase over the same quarter of 1954 when the GNP had been $75.0 billion. Government officials say the economy last summer just performed "a little better than most people had been expecting."

After people have felt that there was something here, however, since the annual rate of consumer spending jumped $7.8 billion in the summer months to a $42.2-billion pace.

If about the health of the economy, consumers were showing little of it.

This week the government has once more revised upward its earlier statistics on the economy and government and private output of goods and services. This Gross National Product rose in the July-September period to an annual rate of $76.9 billion.

This was a $1.9 billion increase over the same quarter of 1954 when the GNP had been $75.0 billion. Government officials say the economy last summer just performed "a little better than most people had been expecting."

After people have felt that there was something here, however, since the annual rate of consumer spending jumped $7.8 billion in the summer months to a $42.2-billion pace.

If about the health of the economy, consumers were showing little of it.

NEW YORK (AP)—A flood of good news is turning some stock traders wary. Records are being set so regularly in so many segments of production and consumption that it's hard today to be bearish. But a low price level, however, may be a warning if some stocks haven't been bid to too-optimistic high levels.

The big volume of trading in food news to the brokerage houses selling on commission. Yet it adds a bit to the nervousness of the more conservative. They feel the heavy trading reveals an influx of novices taking a plunge. And speculation fever among the general public has a history of causing trouble.

When the low-priced stocks, and particularly the offerings of companies little-known previously to the general public, start getting a big play, the conservative investor turns watchful.

But the economic news itself could hardly be better. Corporate earnings reports are pouring in now. Most show promising sales and earnings conditions in the third quarter and the first nine months of 1955.

This quarterly gain in profits can no longer be classed as a surprise. Nor can the steady increase in the nation's economy statistics on output and personal incomes. Each three months, it seems, the nation's business has been better than predicted at the start of the period.

Bulls tend to see this as a new way of doing things, and they say: "Some call it the new economy — meaning that the government has found the fiscal policies that will keep prosperity always a little brighter, a bit more widespread. The wary wonder who would expect to see public complacency if in some future period the statistics weren't revised upward from earlier estimates."

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

FRIDAY, October 15 — Born today, you are aggressive by nature, but you are intelligent enough to channel that aggressiveness down socially acceptable lines — success in business; success in your relationships with others; success in overcoming whatever obstacles may lie in the path of your goals insofar as education and the attainment of culture are concerned. Determined as you are to achieve your ends, you are willing to undergo without a whimper hardships others would not tolerate.

Not one to be long without a definite goal, you usually begin thinking of your next project before a present one is completed. So long as you keep that "next project" in the "thinking" stage, however, such quality of mind should present no problems; but you must avoid actually working at two things at once. You have neither the concentration nor the energy for divided activity.

Because you consider yourself basically an intellectual, you are often not aware of the emotional sources of your behavior. Such sources are there, however, and you must learn to be on your guard against them. Even the intelligent person can be led astray by emotional responses, if he refuses to recognize them as such, but insists upon thinking of them as purely rational reactions.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Saturday, October 16
LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) — Take part in neighborhood social events. Today you can influence another through idealistic behavior.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) — Of significant importance this Saturday is your relationship with your own family. See that the home fires burn brightly.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22) — Though your intuitions may prove useful, you would be wise not to follow them exclusively.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20) — The Capricorn who has made contributions in the past may reap his reward today. Accept honors with grace.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) — Romantic social events may give this a memorable day for you. Follow both your heart and your head!

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) — Adjust your personal outlook to external circumstances. This is a day for trying to make a silk purse out of a sow's ear.

ARIES (March 21-April 20) — Social gatherings offer your best opportunity for Saturday fun. Include the family in your plans.

TAURUS (April 21-May 21) — Let your personal interests take a front seat today. An excellent day for satisfying an innermost desire.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) — Keep an eye on the pennies and the dollars will take care of themselves. The budgetwise Gemini is wisest today.

CANCER (June 22-July 23) — Take care of routine Saturday chores during the morning hours. Then plan for relaxation and pleasure.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) — Romance and recreation go hand in hand today. Seek the latter and you may well find the former.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) —

A day which should progress harmoniously along lines of both work and play. Schedule your time carefully.

SATURDAY, Oct. 16 — Born today, you have an excellent memory, and the capacity for unremitting labor in the pursuit of your aims. These are the traits that, even more than your talents, should carry you to the top of the ladder of success in relatively short order. Only take care that you do not attempt to rely on memory alone; always be sure to check out your facts and figures, regardless of your remembrance of them, before coming to important decisions.

You take great pride in a job well done, whether it be one of considerable worth or merely some small menial task. At the same time, you expect others to take the same pride in your achievements, and are perhaps overly disappointed if praise and recognition should not follow immediately upon your successful completion of a project.

Although you are fond of people and find friends and family highly important to your feelings of well-being, you are also able to be alone for long periods. The company of books, of good music, even of your own thoughts, is enough for you — but only so long as you choose them. In other words, you like being alone, but you don't like being forced into it by circumstances beyond your control.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Sunday, Oct. 17
LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) — Shifting currents of good and evil tendencies prevail today. Remain calm and patient.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) — Try not to let others' conduct upset you unduly. Outside circumstances need not disturb your inner tranquility.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22) — Avoid strenuous physical labor. This should be a day of rest for you.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20) — Take advantage of the good this day offers — but take steps to avoid any trouble that you see brewing.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) — See that your plans are carried out as early in the day as possible. To put them off until afternoon may be to relinquish them for good.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) — Make this a day of quiet devotion and self-contemplation. Do a good deed — and receive one!

ARIES (March 21-April 20) — Whatever good you accomplished yesterday could be cancelled out today by a single thoughtless act.

TAURUS (April 21-May 21) — Avoid giving in to impulse. You are capable of considerable foresight; see that you exercise this capability.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) — A conflict between emotion and reason may leave you somewhat confused by morning's end. Seek to reconcile the two.

CANCER (June 22-July 23) — Seek spiritual advice and you should feel better able to cope with your special problems.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) — Morning worship should set you on the right track spiritually for the week to come. Prepare for difficult but rewarding times

Cubans Reach Shore After Rough Trip

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Eleven tired and seasick Cuban refugees—many shaky after a trip through surging seas and slashing rain—reached Key West today aboard the 16-foot motor boat Topecu.

"I got out just in time," said Vicente Torres, 13, who arrived with his parents. "Boys aged 14 to 27 are not allowed to leave because they must do military service."

"They dread this. They have to work in the sugar cane and sweat potato fields."

The Topecu was escorted to Key West by a Coast Guard cutter.

At least three boats battled the squally pullstream Thursday night and brought 71 more refugees to Florida. One boat began leaking and a Coast Guard cutter took the men off before they got to Key West.

Another boat that carried newsmen to Cuba returned and the skipper described Camarillo, the exit port on Cuba's north coast as "gay, festive, carnival-like."

Mass Arrests Possible in Protest March

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — State and local officials warned of possible mass arrests as Berkeley's Vietnam Day committee went ahead with plans for a mass march tonight from the University of California campus to the Oakland Army Terminal.

The 7½-mile march through Berkeley and adjacent Oakland was to be part of a worldwide series of demonstrations protesting U.S. involvement in the Viet Nam war. It was scheduled to begin from in front of Sprout Hall after an all-day "teach-in" at the university.

Police in Berkeley and Oakland were ordered out in force to deal with the demonstrators. National Guard units were ordered to their armories where they would be ready if needed.

Applications by the Vietnam Day committee for parade permits were turned down by both cities Thursday on grounds that the parade would not be in the best interests of "health, safety and welfare."

But committee spokesmen said the parade, followed by an all-night "sleep-in" near the Army Terminal entrance, would go on as planned. Leaders said they feel they do not need a permit to exercise what they called their constitutional rights of protest.
