

Jets Hit Missile Launcher; Five U.S. Planes Lost

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. jets smashed a Soviet-supplied missile launcher in North Viet Nam over the weekend, but five American planes were lost in other raids on the Communist North, a U.S. military spokesman reported today.

Four of the American aircraft were presumed captured and two others were killed when three Navy planes were lost Sunday 40 miles north of Hanoi, the spokesman said. Two U.S. planes were listed as missing after two Air Force jets were lost Saturday on a raid southwest of Hanoi.

Peking broadcasts claimed that several planes captured in North Viet Nam were intended to try captured American pilots as war criminals.

Four A4 Skyhawks and an F4U Corsair from the U.S. 7th Fleet were lost Saturday in the attack on a Soviet missile launcher. The U.S. State Dept. said the attack also destroyed a Soviet missile launcher and a Soviet plane.

The defense department says the U.S. planes have been downed by Soviet-supplied missiles. Launchers are reportedly installed around the missile launcher and heavy ground fire but all planes returned safely, a spokesman said.

Heavy Communist fire knocked down two Phantom fighters from the Independence and a third crashed into a mountain ridge during a heavy strike against a highway bridge north of Hanoi, the spokesman said.

Returning pilots said four of the Americans parachuted and were seen on the ground. Enemy troops were spotted in the area.

Last Week of Congress Is Predicted

WASHINGTON (AP)—With fingers crossed, Congress begins today what its leaders predict will be the last week of the 1965 session.

Only a few major obstacles stand in the path of adjournment. But veteran legislators have become accustomed to seeing adjournment targets missed, and legislative tangles have a way of developing at the last minute.

The seeds of such tangles are in several pending bills, particularly a measure to apportion foreign and domestic sugar quotas and an aid to higher education bill.

Both the Senate and the House have passed bills to aid higher education. But the House version did not include establishment of a national teacher corps to strengthen teaching in low-income areas.

Soviets Hit U.S. Plan on Nuclear Force

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The Soviet Union today delivered a new attack on the U.S.-backed plan for a multilateral nuclear force. The United States brushed the attack aside and urged a new round of talks in Geneva as soon as possible on steps to bar further dissemination of nuclear weapons.

The two big powers led off the disarmament debate in the main U.N. political committee, which has given top priority to the problem of stopping the acquisition of nuclear weapons by countries not now possessing them.

Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko said a proposed U.S. treaty would not close the door to the spread of nuclear weapons because it would permit the multilateral force and this would put warheads in the hands of West Germany.

U.S. delegate William C. Foster denied the U.S. proposal would permit further dissemination of nuclear weapons. He said the United States could not accept the "narrow views" of the Soviet Union on the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

He said that while the United States cannot accept the Soviet draft of the proposed treaty, "we are encouraged that perhaps the U.S.S.R. is prepared to negotiate. We propose to return to Geneva with the firm resolve to negotiate a treaty that we can all support."

Fedorenko said the Soviet Union favored a strict treaty which would limit nuclear weapons to the Soviet Union, United States, Britain, France and Communist China—the countries which now have them.

A Soviet draft of a proposed treaty specifically bars arrangements such as the multilateral force, under which the United States would keep ownership of weapons but let them be used by a fleet made up of contingents of several countries.

Fedorenko delivered a blistering attack on the West German government, accusing it of a desire to acquire nuclear weapons "by hook or crook."

700 Prisoners Stage Sit-Down

Bodies Found of Last 4 Men Trapped in Smoldering Mine

SARDIS, W. Va. (AP)—Rescue workers today found the bodies of the last four men trapped inside a smoldering coal mine near this central West Virginia town. They were found together deep in the mine, where a fire already had claimed three lives. Shortly before the bodies were found, rescue workers discovered a message scrawled in chalk on a mine regulator. It said, "Couldn't get across."

35 Cuban Refugees Rescued From Boat

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Thirty-five seafaring Cuban refugees, including two blind boys, were rescued from a leaking 35-foot fishing boat and brought to Key West today. Also aboard the rescue Coast Guard cutter were four refugees picked up from a small motorboat and eight crewmen of the two refugee craft. They brought to 59 the number of refugees arriving at Key West today and more than 500 Fidel Castro's Cuba under a new open-door policy announced three weeks ago.

Hurricane Moving East Over Atlantic

WASHINGTON (AP)—Hurricane Elena evaded scientific observation today as she moved east-northeast over the North Atlantic. The season's fifth tropical storm was expected to pass a short distance north of the western islands of the Azores today.

The U.S. Weather Bureau in Washington placed Elena about 100 miles west-southwest of the most westerly island of the Azores early today.

She was expected to maintain her east-northeast heading at a speed of about 35 miles per hour.

Her highest winds were about 80 m.p.h. near the center.

The Weather Bureau and U.S. Navy had hoped to send an aircraft in another attempt at breaking up a storm's force.

The plan was dropped, however, when Elena picked up speed and moved too far from Puerto Rico where the seeding aircraft were based.

Seeding involves the spraying of silver iodide into the storm. The idea is that the will form ice crystals and dissipate the heat energy. Previous experiments have proved inconclusive.

Astronomers Say Comet Is Heated

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Astronomers have found that a comet plunging toward possible destruction in the sun's corona Wednesday night is not a cold blob of space ice as supposed but radiates heat of its own.

That that could mean the celestial firework resulting when the Ikeya-Seki comet swings close to the sun may be even more spectacular than expected.

Up to now, comets were believed made of space dust and frozen gases and were not supposed to have any internal heat.

President Decries Demonstrations Against U.S. Policy

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson decried today weekend demonstrations opposing administration policy in Viet Nam. The President made the comment in a staff meeting as he got up early on the tenth day of his hospital stay and swung into a round of conferences. Johnson, according to press secretary Bill D. Moyers, expressed surprise that any citizen "would feel toward his country in a way not consistent with the national interest and giving our adversaries a false picture of what the people actually feel in this country."

Teachers Institute Scheduled at Burley

BURLEY — Teachers and school officials from 21 schools of seven Southern Idaho counties will be attending the annual Teachers Institute of Fourth District Idaho Education Association to be held Thursday and Friday at Burley Senior High School. The seven counties who will be represented at the institute are Minidoka, Cassia, Blaine, Lincoln, Gooding, Jerome and parts of eastern Elmore County, Robert Day, Fourth District IEA president, reported Monday.

More Trouble Feared in Dominican

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—More violence is feared in Santo Domingo as the result of the killing of a conservative political leader. The provisional government canceled all civilian arms permits in an effort to prevent shootings by vengeful friends of the slain man, Angel Severo Cabral, 56.

A heavily armed guard was thrown around the cemetery where Cabral was buried Sunday. The angry crowd burned a jeep of the government radio station and beat up its driver. Another radio station which had supported the rebels went off the air after an unidentified armed group attacked its transmitter just outside the capital.

Cabral, leader of a right-wing political organization, was shot Saturday night at his home in the former rebel zone as a mob with Communist placards milled about. His wife and daughter were slightly wounded.

Johnson and De Gaulle Meet Urged

WASHINGTON (AP)—Departing French Ambassador Charles de Gaulle will be met by President Johnson and Charles de Gaulle "would be certainly very useful to have one day."

But the diplomat said such a session should not be arranged "before we have clearer views about some very important problems we have to discuss in the next months."

He is returning to France in his ambassadorial post after nine years as its ambassador to the United States. De Gaulle will become secretary general of the French Foreign Ministry, the highest post reserved for a career diplomat.

On other questions the ambassador said he will be ready next year to discuss its concept on the reorganization of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Will be prepared in 1966 to negotiate with the United States on the coordination of the two countries' nuclear forces.

Sees no present hope for a negotiated settlement of the Viet Nam war.

Hopes that the European Common Market and the Geneva conference on tariff cutting will overcome current trade difficulties.

There has been talk of a possible Johnson-De Gaulle conference since Johnson became president. They met briefly after President John F. Kennedy was assassinated.

No Problem

BOISE (AP)—Demonstrations across the country against the draft and America's role in Viet Nam did not come to Idaho over the weekend, said Maj. Gen. John E. Walsh, director of Idaho's Selective Service System.

Walsh said dissatisfaction with the draft in Idaho generally comes from farmers and other employers who are short of labor at this time of year and their objections are reviewed routinely.

But he said there have been no draft or Viet Nam protest demonstrations on or off Idaho campuses.

A survey shows the latter asking: Are we really just trying to get out of the draft? And if they are sincere, are they being led on by Communists and Communist sympathizers?

Frank Einspach, chairman of the National Coordinating Committee to End the War in Viet Nam, said Sunday in Madison, Wis., that more than 70,000 persons took part in Saturday's demonstrations in scores of cities.

Einspach said he has started planning for another series of nationwide demonstrations on Nov. 4 or Nov. 13.

Man Arrested For Burning Draft Card

MANCHESTER, N.H. (AP)—A 22-year-old former college student, David J. Miller of Syracuse, N.Y., today became the first person formally charged with destroying a draft card in violation of a new federal law.

Miller was arrested by FBI agents today in Haverhill. He entered no plea when arraigned before U.S. Commissioner Peter Bourque.

Miller was ordered held at the Hillsboro County Jail in Manchester in lieu of $500 bail for a preliminary hearing Friday before Bourque.

He is wanted on a warrant issued by U.S. Commissioner Earl Bishop, of New York City, on Sunday.

Action on Rivers Bill Is Postponed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate action on a wild rivers bill will be postponed until next year, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said today.

The bill, approved by the Senate Interior Committee, would set up a wild rivers preservation system comprised of portions of the Salmon and Clearwater-middle fork, both in Idaho.

The House in Oregon, the Grande in New Mexico and the Eleven Point in Missouri.

The Senate had been expected to debate the bill this session. But Mansfield said the measure's chief sponsor, Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, has asked that action be put off until after an action on water resources group holds a meeting early next week when Congress may be adjourned or on its way to adjournment.

Church said the new Idaho Water Resources Board will hold hearings on ultimate uses of the Salmon and Clearwater rivers at Lewiston Monday and Tuesday.

"Passage at this time does not present a problem," Church said. "In fact, the leadership hoped to bring the bill up today as we anticipated some approval by a top-heavy majority."

"But the Salmon and Clearwater rivers are the leadoff rivers in the bill, and in all deference to the Idaho Water Resources Board I thought you should withhold action until after it has had the opportunity to conduct its hearings."

Church said he would testify for the bill at the Lewiston hearing.

There has been no House committee hearing on the bill which is cosponsored by 32 senators. The bill would prevent construction of dams and otherwise preserve primitive conditions along the five wild rivers.

The Green River in Wyoming originally was proposed for immediate inclusion in the wild rivers system.

It was moved to a study category by the Interior Committee because of opposition to its immediate inclusion in the system.

Opposition to the Green River proposal was voiced at a field hearing in Wyoming.

Sen. Len B. Jordan, R-Idaho, and other Republicans on the committee sought unsuccessfully to move the Salmon and Clearwater river proposals to study category. They were outvoted 10-5.

The Republicans indicated they would try to amend the bill in the Senate.

Nine Valley Newspaperboys Attend Governor's Banquet

Nine Times-News Carrier boys accompanied by Al Westergren, Times-News business manager, and Harold Stiles, assistant circulation manager, attended the Governor's Banquet in Boise Saturday in observance of National Newspaperboy Day.

Outstanding carrier boys selected to attend were David Eastman, John Moore, Jack Eldridge, Garry Greener and David Day, all Twin Falls; Bill Allen, Buhl; Rickie Wright, Jerome; and Robert Newman and Mike Catmull, both Rupert.

All the carriers have delivered Times-News routes from 17 to 28 months and selections were made on the basis of payments of their account on time, sales and service to subscribers, scholastic standing at school and citizenship.

Eastman and Allen received $25 savings bond awards for distinguished service and the other boys received awards and lapel pins designating them as outstanding carriers.

Lieutenant Gov. William Drevlow gave a short talk to the boys, and Rev. Herbert E. Richards, Boise, offered the prayer and was the featured speaker at the banquet. Rev. Richards was named outstanding minister of the year recently in Washington D. C.

After the banquet, the boys were guests of the Times-News at the University of Idaho-Oregon State football game.

Would-Be Refugee Shot by Guards

BERLIN (AP)—East German border guards opened fire along West Berlin's southwestern frontier with East Germany Sunday night and apparently shot a would-be refugee.

West Berlin police also reported a 27-year-old man made it unnoticed across the wall dividing the city center.

The police said the Red guards opened fire when the refugee apparently tripped a wire that sent a flare into the air, marking his position.

Site Race Is at Critical Stage

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission says the job of picking the finalists in the Great Atom-Smasher Site-Race has now reached the critical stage.

Borrowing a phrase from astronaut jingo, an AEC spokesman also says that from now on, the "go or no-go criteria" for staying in the race will get progressively tougher.

It's obvious that the AEC, and the White House, still have a politically fierce tiger by the tail as the contest goes on for locating the $348 million 200 billion electron volt (BEV) machine.

A modest elimination contest already has been staged—with the results announced only recently after months of study by the AEC of 126 proposals, involving more than 200 locations, from 46 states.

But 85 semi-finalists, representing 43 states, still remain in the running to land what Rep. Craig Hosmer, R-Calif., has termed "The 200 BEV bonanza—the government's biggest free offer to all comers since opening the Cherokee strip to homesteaders in 1883."

A rich payoff in payrolls and prestige would come to the community landing the prize. And the contenders want it so badly that the majority of them have offered free land to the government—for example, a $10 million lure of this type offered by the State of Indiana.

Rep. Hosmer, a member of the joint Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, criticized the AEC "the day" the commission formally announced its admittedly modest whittling-down of the contest entrants.

Hosmer asserted that the commission's recent action—leaving 43 states still in the fight—constituted "an inept attempt to keep its political skirts clean."

Criticism of the AEC also came quickly from a key Democrat on the joint committee, Sen. Clinton P. Anderson of New Mexico.

Asserting that the present list of 85 represents "not a very good scaling down" by the AEC from the original entrants, Anderson said:

"I think it will do a lot to destroy confidence in the (atom-smasher) project."

Remaining silent to such judgments, the AEC says that in the months ahead, stiffer criteria than those used so far by the commission itself will be applied to the contest survivors by a special committee of the National Academy of Sciences.

The NAS Committee is supposed to weed out all but five or six of the 85 contenders after which the AEC, presumably with White House concurrence, will pick the final winner.

"But the AEC is by no means landing over the whole thing to the academy," says Dr. Paul McDaniel, the AEC's director of research, who supervised the initial handling of the "bids" and prepared them for AEC study.

"We'll stay with the ball all along," he told a newsmen, indicating that the full commission, as well as his own staff, would huddle periodically with the NAS group, and exchange views.

In announcing the list of 85 survivors to date, the AEC said all of them seemed to meet the basic criteria established by the commission for a desirable site. These criteria call for a site that would:

1. Contain at least 1,000 acres owned by, or reasonably available to, the U. S. government.
2. Have the potential of delivering a true electric power load of several hundred million watts, and a minimum of 2,000 gallons a minute of high quality water.
3. Be reasonably close to a commercial and multi-trail center which includes research and development activities.
4. Be reasonably close to communities having adequate housing, cultural and educational facilities, for some 2,000 scientific and technical personnel and their families.
5. Be close to adequate surface transportation systems and a major airport with frequent service to major U. S. cities.

Dr. McDaniel makes plain that the AEC has not dreamed up some brand new "major" criteria to guide the academy in its evaluation job.

Without saying whether he thought the AEC let politics enter its initial evaluation of the proposed sites, Dr. McDaniel said the National Academy committee "will of course not put political emphasis on the subject. . . . I'm sure they won't have national politics involved."

And the committee, he said, is expected to get down to cases on the "trade-offs" and compromises between technical and other factors that will become necessary in gauging the merits or demerits of a given area.

For example, McDaniel indicated:

—A given area might have relatively high electric power rates, yet be graced with land having the firm foundation needed to build the monstrous machine.

—Heavy snows in the northern parts of the country during winter might, at first glance, tend to disqualify these areas from the race because of the requirement for building more and stronger auxiliary buildings at the atom-smasher complex to protect against the snow. Yet, these same areas also have year-round the cool water needed for the machine.

—A given area might have the firm subsoil foundation needed, yet be so hilly that bulldozing costs to level the land might be prohibitive.

Areas subject to serious earthquakes would definitely be ruled out, Dr. McDaniel indicated, but an area subject to only minor quakes could still have a chance.

"Shaking or mere trembling wouldn't bother us so long as the land settled back quickly to its original place," he said.

Some AEC officials say they believe that despite the large number of contenders still in the race, it might still be possible to pick the winner by next February or March and get going on the project — provided Congress authorizes the construction funds.

Distributed in kit form, Crystals and Light is one of four do-it-yourself projects available free to high school teachers for students especially interested in the sciences.

In addition to the kits—with which students build such tongue-twisters as a transistorized audio oscillator, a polarizing microscope, and a speech synthesizer—teachers themselves can obtain or build five classroom demonstrations, including a sound wave machine and a crystal-growing tank.

From modest beginnings a few years ago, our Aids to High School Science program has grown into a company-wide effort. And no one is happier about it than we are. We sense that our own enthusiasm for scientific knowledge is finding an equally enthusiastic audience.

And something else. Judging from the young people with whom we've talked, we're certain that the nation's scientific future couldn't be in better hands.

Hal Bailey is a senior at Twin Falls High School. He built solar cells after several weeks of background reading, sorting parts, assembling, and testing. During the last school year, we presented 145 science kits to teachers throughout Idaho for students like Hal Bailey.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

BY ANDREW TULLY
WASHINGTON—There is no doubt the doctors will get me if the bungling doesn't. So one night I'll take a night's rest. I'll have my pills, I'll have my brush, I'll have my dust from his 300 suit, I'll have my surgery, my architecture and then I'll have the wrong knife, or fork, or spoon. But while I'm still healthy, I'll give or take an occasional morning-after caused by drinking a politician's cut-rate gin and tonics.

Andrew Tully, a businessman who is just as much of a politician as he is a businessman, is the high payee of General Motors. He may be old but old pro bono publico is not charged by even Congress' most inebriate usake to admire him.

This splenetic essay is prompted by a Senate Antitrust and Monopoly Subcommittee report which reveals that thousands of doctors reap fat profits by owning drug emporiums and other such enterprises supplying medicine to the masses and the high priced to those who does. After considering this report, Sen. Phil Hart (D. Mich.), a dog-pooper who often seems quite rational, has decided to introduce legislation forbidding these unethical phenomagnans. The bill would send a doctor off to pokey for a year and fine him $5,000 for such moonlighting.

DRUG BUSINESS PROFITABLE—We have, it seems, gone a far piece from the day when every pill-pusher and sawbones was credited with a kind of divine charisma immediately upon emerging from Harvard or Filbula U. It is the medicine country doctor with no gleaming graduate willing to take over his impoverished drugery. Now we have pure development and real estate projects and selling used cars on the side, but the most profitable dodge is acquiring a piece of the drug business.

The Senate Subcommittee claims it has identified some 140 doctor-owned drug outlets in more than 30 states, and notes that the actual number probably is a lot higher. Moreover, it maintained that drugs sold in doctor-owned stores or distributed by packaging companies in which the doctor has an interest are often higher-priced than those charged by the big drug firms.

PRESCRIPTIONS FOR PROFITS—There is a blatant shamelessness to some of these enterprises. I refer to a letter the subcommittee said was written by Dr. Royce P. Briggs of Lincoln, N.C., to Colgate Laboratories. "Let's push the pen (write prescriptions) for Cartrone together and make it grow!" urged this vulgar missive.

But apparently these doctors were not sufficiently aware of their potential. A Cartrone report issued by the subcommittee scolded them for their lack of get-up-and-go. "Just imagine it!" cried the report. "If each doctor-stockholder would have written three prescriptions each day sales would have been a whopping $108,000 (instead of $68,000) . . . Profits for November over $65,000."

It is properly impertinent to ask what the American Medical Association is doing about all this, and the answer—as usual—is nothing. The AMA, which took to the barricades against Medicare for poor people, is even less concerned about the AMA's implied approval.

AMA'S IMPLIED APPROVAL—As late as 1954, AMA ruled it was unethical for a physician to engage in "barter or trade in the appliances, devices or remedies prescribed for patients." But the injunction has been rescinded in a recommendation of its Judicial Council deprecating doctor-owned pharmacies.

Now the chances seem good that Congress will resort to that least attractive of remedies for this sordid situation, namely federal legislation. But the doctors have only themselves to blame. They have abdicated their professional role in the health care system, choosing a fast buck, and now enjoy the approximate status of boiler-makers, blacksmiths and unretarded school principals. If they insist on being economic entrepreneurs instead of healers they will get neither bowing nor scraping from me.

HOW TO CURE 'TIRED TV BLOOD'
Television's wasteland is especially arid in summer, the Federal Communications Commission's chairman believes.
"It's a long, long time from May to September," lamented FCC Chairman E. William Henry in a recent speech. He deplored the steady diet of network reruns that turn the summer into "a second season for TV fans."
"How many enjoy re-viewing yesterday's cut?" Henry asked. "How many develop tired television blood?"

Judging by reviews of new programs this fall, next summer's reruns may be even duller. "The new television season is being written off as the biggest yawn in the modern annals of broadcasting," wrote critic Jack Gould in the Times-Union the other day.

What to do about it?
An effective answer came from FCC Commissioner James J. Wadsworth, of the Genesee Wadsworths, in an interview with Rep. Barber B. Conable Jr., Batavia Republican.
"I've been observing that the FCC has little or no control over programming," Wadsworth said. "There are good programs," he said, but added: "Speaking purely as a viewer, I'm continually disappointed that some of my favorite programs are put off the air and some of the ones that I don't like so much seem to come on."
"The only thing that's ever going to make this better," he said, "is the federal regulation; it's going to be the deafening clatter of sets being turned off from the programs that people don't like."

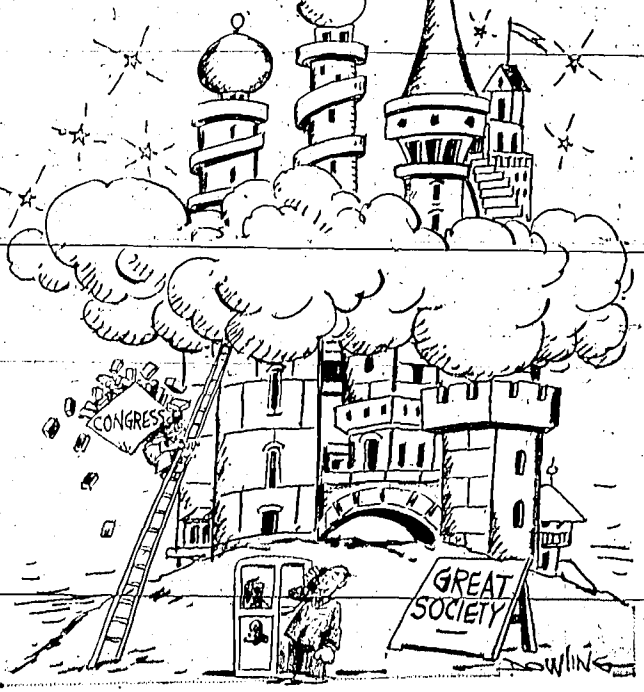

Wadsworth noted that relatively few persons who don't like what they're watching take the trouble to write letters of complaint. "If more people wrote letters, television programming quality would improve," without the government intervention that neither Wadsworth nor any other advocate of free communication wants. Rochester, N.Y., Times-Union.

SOCIAL INSECURITY
Good old Lyndon is gradually forcing us to the conclusion that people want more than anything else. A University of California professor of animal husbandry who pays attention to such things, says that even cows have a "becking order." The timid ones stand aside first, says the professor, and status within the herd is based on age, weight, aggressiveness and agility.

Just like people, they are. Up to their hocks in social insecurity.—Wichita Eagle.

Washington News

By LYLE WILSON (United Press International)

If President Johnson has in truth run out of bright new ideas for the next session of the 89th Congress, your correspondent has an idea LBJ can have for free. It is this:
Send to the next session of the Congress a message seeking an expansion of the powers of the comptroller general of the United States. The new power would be to establish a running audit of the initial and ultimate costs of all projects authorized by Congress.

If Congress authorized a 10-or 20-year project requiring $100 million the first year, the comptroller general would run up a cost estimate of the annual expenditures throughout the life of the program. More often than not, these programs have an ascending cost record, up the second year from the first, up the third year from the second and so on.

It would be a safe bet that fewer than half the members of Congress could come up with a remotely responsive answer to a question such as this:
"So far in this session of Congress, how much has been appropriated for spending this year? Next year? Thereafter?"

A running audit of congressional spending under way in a projected would inform congressmen as well as mere citizens. The enormity of the spending figure might persuade some of the public's servants in Washington to go easier on the public's pocketbook.

The office of the comptroller general could do the job because the comptroller general is unbossed. The office was created as an agency of Congress to post-audit spending by the executive departments. The comptroller general is in office for 15 years. He knows he will not be re-nominated and that so long as he is honest not even the President can reach him.

The passage suggests that Castro's twisted Communist arm. It indicates Moscow wants to take the Communist out of the picture. Castro, though begging help, still objects strenuously. He wants to run the Latin-American revolution — and his own Cuban revolution — in his own way.

He wants Red revolution without Moscow dictation, but with Moscow support.
Here's how Castro put it: "We know quite well where the enemy is. In order to defeat the aggressive policy of the enemy, to continue to oppose it, we need the resources and weapons, because here, thousands of miles away from any other Socialist country, thousands of miles away without being able to depend on anything other than our own forces and our own weapons, we are running the risk of nuclear showdown. We must be armed to the teeth and totally prepared."

That is the challenge to the Soviet Union. Castro wants revolutionary banner in Latin America. But he wants arms without strings. Let the rest of the Communist world quarrel, but let him go his own way. Castro can disagree with any party on any point," he said. He added that he refused to view Communism as a church

TAYLOR'S VIEWS ON WORLD NEWS

By HENRY J. TAYLOR
It is hard to see how the Communists make all that world-wide mileage with their guff about being interested in people; the rest of the earth they are always talking about, and all their phony bla, bla, bla that even some of our clergy seem to take seriously.

I'm especially sensitive on this point and especially astounded, just now, Henry J. Taylor because I've recently come from the Communist world where the Red leaders have everything and the ordinary people absolutely nothing — including their dignity as human beings, by the way.

Take the case of Fidel Castro. The leaders in the European satellite countries where I've been express their anti-Americanism on the radio and in every other way by making an around-the-clock hour of Fidel Castro. "The man who makes a mockery of the Yankees," they bleat.

Now, Castro is no better or worse than the rest of the bunch, including the leaders plotting against us in the Soviet Union and Red China, but his record in behalf of the working man is more available and, of course, closer to our shores.

Anyone wanting the simple facts, again including some of our clergy, need look no further away than Cuba to set themselves straight once and for all. "This is the dictatorship of the proletariat," Castro announced when he took over, this master promises cost and who pays. The truth is that the people of the United States are no better than junkies. They are hooked on the narcotic of federal funds. The pushers are the politicians. In 20 boom-time years since the end of World War II, the government of the United States has given out steadily has gone into debt. Revenue is way up. Up also are the demands of sturdy American citizens for more and better free lunch goodies and to go the promises of the politicians to meet these demands.

The running audit of spending might cause the voters to peer behind the political promises to discover how much political promises cost and who pays.

Fidel Castro, badgered by internal political and economic problems, has issued a message of defiance to Moscow: Help us but don't try to dominate us; don't try to prevent us from taking risks to foment revolution in Latin America.

Castro wants more Soviet arms and wants to be the sole judge of what to do with these arms, his words indicate. His tone suggests he is running into an argument in Moscow.

A copy of the newspaper Granma organ of the Central Committee of the Communist party of Cuba, has reached this country with the text of a Castro speech to the committee. This was the speech in which he paid tribute to Fidel's brother, Guevara, his long-time guerrilla war expert.

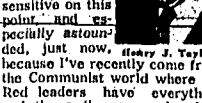

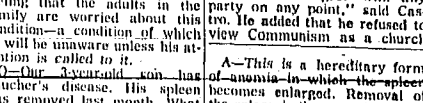

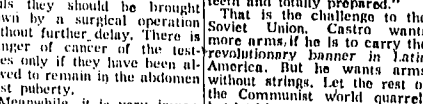

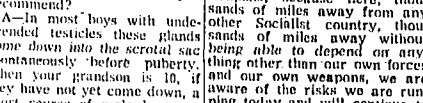

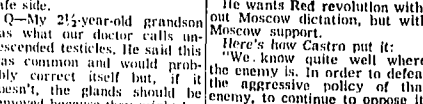

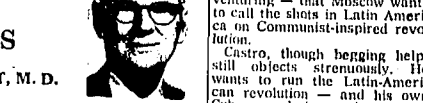

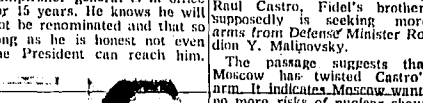

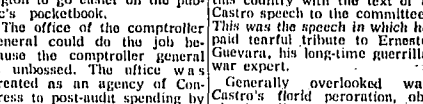

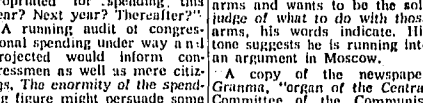

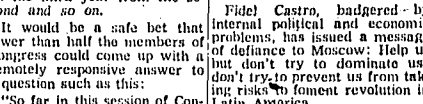

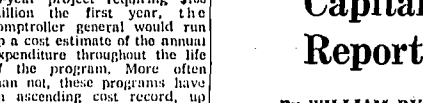

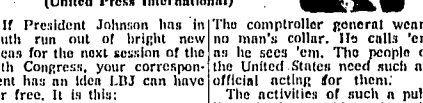

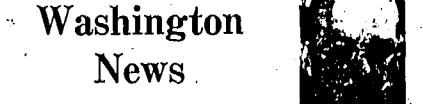

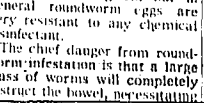

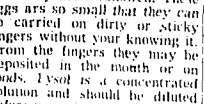

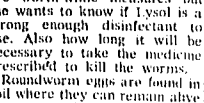

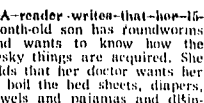

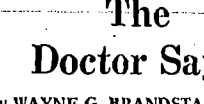

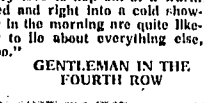

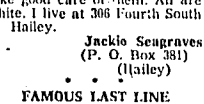

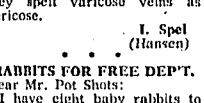

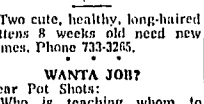

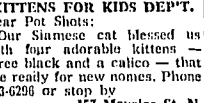

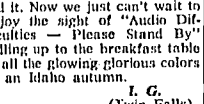

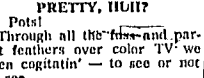

Generally overlooked was Castro's florid peroration, obviously directed to Moscow, where at this moment Mikhail S. Gorbachev, supposedly is seeking more arms from Defense Minister Rodion Y. Malinovsky.

The passage suggests that Castro's arm. It indicates Moscow wants to take the Communist out of the picture. Castro, though begging help, still objects strenuously. He wants to run the Latin-American revolution — and his own Cuban revolution — in his own way.

He wants Red revolution without Moscow dictation, but with Moscow support.
Here's how Castro put it: "We know quite well where the enemy is. In order to defeat the aggressive policy of the enemy, to continue to oppose it, we need the resources and weapons, because here, thousands of miles away from any other Socialist country, thousands of miles away without being able to depend on anything other than our own forces and our own weapons, we are running the risk of nuclear showdown. We must be armed to the teeth and totally prepared."

That is the challenge to the Soviet Union. Castro wants revolutionary banner in Latin America. But he wants arms without strings. Each worker was entitled to a month's vacation with pay, nine days sick leave (with pay) whenever sick and two 15-day furloughs of full pay in July and August. Workers were entitled to three months' leave (with pay) if pregnant, along with free hospitalization and medical service.

In spite of a great deal of poverty, the average standard of living was by far the highest in Latin America.

Castro, of course, abolished trade unions. He made the CIO (Confederation of Cuban Workers) a government agency. Its leaders, intensely anti-Communist, either were forced to flee or were suppressed or shot.

Those remaining were put into military uniforms. The right to strike was outlawed, as was throughout the Communist world.

Castro called on all workers to renounce their hard-won social gains — being largely meaningless in power. Millions there now work more than 48 hours a week and there is no extra pay beyond 44, in fact by a Castro decree they're paid nothing at all for the extra hours. "In the dictatorship of the proletariat the proletariat must sacrifice for it," Castro explained.

As I reported from Europe's satellite countries, Communist block wardens are in command of the people's children and put them into the labor force. They are picked up by trucks and vans to cut out school in the daytime and then in the night. The party's Central Labor Office assigns everybody's job and establishes all salaries. The higher range is about 200 pesos a month. The Cuban peso, previously pegged to and worth as U.S. dollar, is now worth approximately 14 cents. The 20 pesos is equivalent to around 1 U.S. dollars a month. The rest goes for nothing, as there is nothing to buy and nothing to buy it with.

Meanwhile, if your neighbor there does not like you his word may kill you. The police arrest the dissenters; 50,000 political prisoners are in jail or dead.

If you can explain how anybody in our country can kiss off these famous truths, please let me know.

Castro was highly emotional in his address. He read an alleged letter from Guevara resigning his citizenship and all the like self-written obituary. There is a strong suspicion that, prodded by the Russians, Castro had to clash with Guevara on theoretical problems of revolution in Latin America. Guevara is gone, and Castro is now in command. That seems to be what annoys him most.

Navy Might Build Fast Cargo Ships

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy is considering building about 20 big, fast military cargo ships that would be loaded with tanks, other heavy equipment and supplies and stationed near potential trouble spots.

Such a fleet of "fast deployment logistic" ships would cost about $20 million, by current Navy estimates.

Coupled with house-size C5A transport planes, recently introduced into production, these cargo vessels would give the United States the capability to project large ground forces to distant areas, and to have the gear close at hand to enable them to fight in limited war situations.

The Navy study has the blessing of top Pentagon officials, who consider the fast deployment ships an integral part of modernized U.S. airlift-sealift for the 1970s and beyond.

However, Pentagon officials have not settled on any final figure as to the numbers of such ships that would be needed, nor have they adopted the Navy's cost figures.

The Navy study estimates each of the new vessels would cost about $2 million. Defense specialists are skeptical of that figure, believing it may be too low.

Congress has voted $67.6 million for two of the ships. This comes to $33.8 million apiece, with the additional $3.6 million attributed to higher costs of first-of-their-kind models.

The cargo ships would have about twice the capacity, greater speed and, hopefully, lower operating and other costs than current Navy sealift vessels.

They would be equipped with ramps to permit rapid loading and unloading of wheeled and tracked vehicles. This is called a "roll-on, roll-off" capability.

Under the plan, the craft would be powered by a new propulsion system similar to an aircraft-type gas turbine engine.

Public Power Advocates Win In Columbia River Fight

WASHINGTON (AP) — One Columbia River basin contractor, apparently ending in victory for public power advocates, but two others probably will continue next year.

Senate and House conferees have approved appropriation of $1 million in planning funds for a line to carry federal power to Southern Idaho if arrangements cannot be made to have it moved by private utilities, which oppose the line.

The U. S. Court of Appeals has indefinitely postponed another round of arguments which had been set for Oct. 21 in the case of a challenged construction license for the High Mountain Sheep Dam in the Snake River bordering Idaho and Oregon. No final court decision is expected in 1965.

Still before Congress next year will be a bill to place five streams in a wild rivers preservation system, including the Salmon and Clearwater, Middle Fork in Idaho and the Rogue in Oregon.

Private power firms' sewing Idaho, along with some Republican members of Congress from Idaho and Utah, have been fighting the proposed Bonneville Power Administration line for years.

The line would carry BPA power to Southern Idaho either from Burley, Danville, Beatrice, Idaho or McNary Dam in Oregon. It would be about 500 miles long and would cost an estimated $80 million.

Negotiations for agreement on the wheeling of federal power to towns and rural cooperatives in Southern Idaho have been carried on unsuccessfully for over a year.

Prison Blood Donors Are Thanked

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind. (AP) — A proty teenager went to Indiana's state prison to thank a group of prisoners for sustaining her life and found herself the object of appreciation.
Marie Mauer, 17, of Indianapolis, has an incurable disease in which the bone marrow fails to produce blood. Warden W. L. Long read newspaper account about the girl more than a year ago and 50 inmates volunteered to donate blood.
Since then prisoners have provided 78 pints of blood for Marie. The transfusions are "her only means of living," doctors said.
"The donors applauded Marie's bravery when she appeared this weekend and presented her television set, purchased with their commissary allotments, and a check for $90."

Military Ban Is Announced On Red Party

SINGAPORE (AP)—Radio Jakarta announced Monday night a military ban on the Indonesian party and affiliated organizations.
The ban on the Communist party, announced in the name of Maj. Gen. Umar Hadikusumo, commanding officer in the Jakarta area, appeared to be limited to the capital region, where he is in control.
The broadcast said the big, powerful Communist-dominated Sobat, also was banned on orders of the government of the Central Bank, which has jurisdiction over all unions. This presumably meant the Sobat ban was nationwide.
The announcement by Hadikusumo directed Communist party leaders and officials at the other pro-Communist organizations to report to military or police authorities within five days.
Hadikusumo said they were believed to be involved in the Sept. 30 Oct. 1 coup attempt against President Sukarno.
There is no immediate indication in the broadcast as to the fate of the strong Communist organizations elsewhere in Indonesia.
Also placed under Jakarta's military ban were Permuda Rakjat, the party's youth movement, and Gerwanal, the party's women's wing.
These and the Communist party have been targets of the army's and Communist fanatics and Moslems and other demonstrators have clamored for the outlawing of all three.

Salesmen Take 57 Minutes Of Average Adult's Day

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The average adult American spends 57 minutes a day paying heed to somebody who wants to sell him something.
That does not mean, he is talking with salesmen for 57 minutes. Part of it is spent in front of a television set watching a knight on a white horse eradicate grease and gravy stains with the point of his lance and also absorbing the information that Mr. Clean, once an amiable fellow, has turned mean because he hates dirt so much.
Part of it is reading a newspaper, looking through a magazine, answering a phone call from a dance studio offering bargain rates for lessons, riding down a super highway and scanning a billboard opening mail addressed "occupant," seeing a vending machine and remembering you need cigarettes.
But these are indirect attempts to persuade us to spend money. There are 4.5 million persons in this country engaged in direct selling. They are the best salesmen in the world and they can truthfully claim that they are partly responsible for the high standard of living in the United States. They convince us we should buy something and if we don't have the money they arrange for us to purchase it on the installment plan. In the middle of last year installment credit stood at $55.9 million—a massive tribute to the talent of the American salesman.
For the last 45 years he has been both jeered and cheered. Sinclair Lewis wrote a book about a dull fellow who could talk about nothing except business and selling and the word "Babbit" became a permanent part of the American language. But Bruce Barton also wrote a book—"The Man Nobody Knows"—in which he depicted Jesus Christ as an outgoing personality, a popular dinner guest and a man who would approve of the American salesman. The battle was joined and the controversy has been raging ever since.

There is no question that a high powered salesman hits the financial jackpot with regularity. The Council on Opportunities in Selling, Inc., traced the backgrounds of presidents of corporations with sales exceeding $50 million yearly. The largest group among the presidents, 27 per cent, had started out as salesman.
So how do you start out? A vast amount of literature has been written on the subject, but for our purposes we choose "How to Sell Your Way Into the Big Money" by Vincent P. DeLivan, an eminently successful salesman. More than most men on the subject he gets down with matters such as sex and business, that other author shy away from.

Experts to Clear Work of Vatican

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The experts who write the documents that take over from the bishops today to clear the logjam of work piled up by the Vatican Ecumenical Council.

So many proposals have been made on so many issues since the final council session opened Sept. 14 that the 2,300 Roman Catholic bishops have nothing to do until the drafting committee can reach agreement with them.

Because of this, the council's first mid-session recess was ordered this week so the drafters can revise the council's remaining documents in line with the suggestions put forward during the past weeks of discussion in St. Peter's Basilica.

Four documents already voted at this session will be promulgated by Pope Paul VI and the council together in a public ceremony Oct. 23. These are on pastoral duties of bishops, religious orders, seminaries, and Christian education.

The council's historic declaration to foster better relations with Moslems, Jews and other non-Christian religions won final acceptance on Friday. It is expected to be ready for promulgation at the same time.

The last two documents—on religious liberty and modern world problems—probably will be issued at a ceremony closing the council in December.

The council has scheduled another recess, from Oct. 30 to Nov. 8 for the benefit of the drafting commissions.

Mother Is Questioned In Shooting

LAUREL, Md. (AP) — Four children of a former Kansas congressman were found shot in the head early today in a Laurel apartment. State police said three were dead and the fourth died en route to a hospital.

Officers said they were questioning a 37-year-old woman about the shooting.

The victims were the children of Denver D. Hargis, 44, a former U.S. congressman from Kansas, and former mayor of Coffeyville, Kan. He is an area coordinator for the southwest division of the Economic Development Administration.

The bodies of Sandra Hargis, 17, Michael, 8, and Brenda, 2, were found in two bedrooms at the apartment three miles east of Laurel. Dobra, 5, died en route to a hospital at nearby Ft. Meade, Md.

Laurel is midway between Baltimore and Washington.

Arthur Marshall Jr., Prince Georges County state attorney, said today he would present the case to the new grand jury Tuesday.

Sgt. Charles Greffen and trooper James Henckel found the children after state police received a call from Hargis. Officers quoted him as saying he had been telephoned by his wife and there probably was some serious trouble at her apartment.

A few minutes later, state police stopped a 37-year-old woman in downtown Laurel as she was driving her car. They said she gave them a .25 caliber automatic which had one bullet jammed in the firing chamber. Hargis told police he had been separated from his wife for three months.

Strategist Predicts in Viet Nam War

SARIGON, South Viet. Nam (AP) — A top U.S. military man who is mapping strategy against the Viet Cong predicts American combat troops must spend at least a year on minor clearing operations to prepare the groundwork for victory.

The strategist, who asked not to be named, emphasized in an interview that the United States is prepared to commit troops as long as necessary.

"It might take three years or, maybe 10 or 20 years, as long as the Communists say they are prepared to fight," he said.

This view does not square with the optimism expressed by many U.S. officials here and in Washington. They say the tide already has turned in favor of the South Vietnamese.

For the moment, the Communists appear to be undecided on how to cope with the rising display of U.S. land, sea and air power. The troop buildup, now past 140,000, has posed a serious challenge to the Communists. Intelligence reports here, however, give no indication that size attacks in the past month. On the other hand, there are reports that the Viet Cong have lost any of their drive or turned from their offensive, especially the B32 efforts to gain control of South Viet Nam.

While the Viet Cong have largely avoided major contact with U.S. air forces, they have shown no shyness in launching their tactics to cope with the U.S. buildup.

Strategic Air Command units against suspected jungle hide-outs have created a major breakthrough in the Viet Cong's control of enemy territory. Fragmentary evidence suggests the Communists are undertaking a major re-evaluation of their tactics to cope with the U.S. buildup.

How come so many people in Idaho are among the 45,000,000 people insured by Metropolitan Life?

Your neighbors have really hit on something. They've discovered that when it comes to planning for the future, the place to start is Metropolitan Life—the company with a practical insurance program designed for today's needs and for any and every situation, including yours. For example:

New—the policy that helps pay for itself

If there's one time you don't need any extra expense it's when you're just starting out—raising a family or opening a business. Yet this is precisely the time when you do need plenty of life insurance.

That's where Metropolitan's ingenious new Econo-Matic policy comes in.

The minimum initial amount is $10,000. For this amount, the premium is considerably less than that of our standard policy with a guaranteed face value of $10,000.

The ingenious feature is this: while the guaranteed amount of insurance is lower after two years, application of dividends*—if present levels are continued—will maintain the original amount of coverage for life, for the same low premium.

The Econo-Matic is just part of the up-to-the-minute selection of life and health insurance plans you'd expect from America's leading life insurance company.

Shouldn't you get all the facts and figures from your Metropolitan adviser? (He'll give you an enlightening Family Security Check-Up, too.) Call him soon. Tomorrow, for instance.

There's no obligation... except to those you love.

More choose Metropolitan Life millions more than any other company.

There are many reasons why Metropolitan Life insures 45,000,000 people—more than any other company. One good reason is local, personal service from the Metropolitan advisers at your nearest office:

What should a miracle cost?

The miracle of perfection we call a rose costs nothing. To equip and staff the miraculous facilities of surgery costs many thousands of dollars. Such facilities must be kept manned and ready to function the moment the doctor determines they're needed.

In 1940, a hospital patient was given two or three laboratory tests. Today, from twelve to fifteen tests are given. Eighty-five percent of the drugs prescribed today were unknown 15 years ago. All of this costs money. Is it worth it?

Infant mortality in 1933 was 47.7 deaths per thousand live births. Today in Idaho it is below 22 per thousand. In 1920 life expectancy for the male was 53.6 years. Today, it is 67.5 years.

So the question is not "Are the medical miracles of today worth the cost?" but rather, "After I've received the care, how do I pay for it?"

The hospitals of Idaho realize that they must provide some way to ease the burden of expense that accompanies serious illness or accident. That is why they organized Blue Cross, a non-profit, prepayment method of meeting the cost of modern health-care services. Through membership in Blue Cross, members' hospital bills are paid in benefits of this service, and not in limited sums of money.

This unique Service Benefits feature of Blue Cross enables the Plan to stand alone as the most realistic system of prepaid health-care coverage because it removes your concern about the cost of the care you need.

One out of eight Idahoans will require hospitalization this year. You may be one of them. With modern medicine the chances for recovery are excellent.

But, what should a miracle cost?

Priests Aid Civil Rights School Ban

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Differing with their bishop, priests of four Roman Catholic parishes in heavily Negro areas offered personal aid to a civil rights boycott of Milwaukee public schools today.

The priests said they were bowing "under protest" to the direct orders of Auxiliary Bishop Roman T. Atkielewski not to use parish facilities for "freedom schools," but several clerics planned to teach classes off church property.

Catholic laymen picketed the bishop's residence Sunday night. One sign read, "We believe in our priests' right to have a Christian conscience."

Bishop Atkielewski said he based his orders on the opinion of local authorities that the boycott would be illegal. The church must teach obedience to the civil law, he told a devotional service Sunday night.

The protest, scheduled to last indefinitely, was called to dramatize charges of de facto school segregation.

Accident Costs To Be Stressed

BOISE (AP) — Gov. Robert E. Smylie says one useful purpose of the governor's statewide safety conference beginning Thursday will be to emphasize "the unnecessary cost and suffering of needless accidents."

The two-day conference at Boise will include discussions on the causes of such accidents and how they can be prevented.

Chili will be prepared by Mrs. Betty Moncur and Mrs. Lewis Connor.

The group is electing a second vice president and members of the nominating committee are Mrs. William Morrison, Earl Peterson and Don Watson.

Renewing of Funds Urged For Project

WASHINGTON (AP) — Idaho's two United States senators joined today in urging restoration of at least part of a $2.1 million cut made in an appropriation for an Idaho nuclear project.

Sen. Frank Church, Democrat, and Sen. Len B. Jordan, Republican, in a letter to Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R. I., asked that $1 million be provided for the project in a supplemental appropriation bill.

Pastore is chairman of a subcommittee which is considering supplemental appropriations.

The funds were cut out of the public works bill by the house and house members refused in a senate-house conference to accept a senate amendment restoring them.

The money is for a mobile nuclear power plant project at the National Reactor Testing Station in Eastern Idaho. Church and Jordan said the army has offered to earmark the balance of funds needed to complete the project.

The reactor is now 90 per cent complete, they said, and represents an investment of $53 million. The project, being developed by the Aerojet-General Nuclear Corp., employs more than 100 persons.

Johnson-Led Cards Drop Steelers 20-7

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Charley Johnson hit Billy Joe Conrad with a 71-yard scoring toss in the opening seconds of the fourth quarter and the St. Louis Cardinals went on to defeat the Pittsburgh Steelers 20-7 Sunday in a National Football League game.

The Steelers' defensive unit had effectively bottled the Cardinals who went into the game leading the league in passing and rushing yardage.

The Cards took a 7-0 lead in the first period on Johnson's passing in a drive that covered 51 yards in seven plays. Johnson hit Sonny Randle with a 38-yard pass that placed the ball on the Pittsburgh 13. Three plays later he hooked up with Randle on a scoring toss that covered eight yards.

Lorenzen Is National 400 Race Victor

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—Fred Lorenzen, southern stock car racing's golden boy, outslunged A. J. Foyt in the closing stages Sunday to win the wrecked National 400 stock car race that saw one driver killed and another injured.

Lorenzen and Foyt, driving two factory-backed Fords, staged a stirring duel for the final 50 laps before Foyt wrecked the fourth turn guard rail as the two ran side by side at speeds near 145 miles per hour.

Foyt, who had swapped the lead with Lorenzen five times in 37 laps, rolled to the infield apron after his collision with the wall, went to the pits briefly, then got back into the race.

He finished sixth behind Dick Hutcherson, another Ford driver, Curtis Turner, Ned Jarrett and Lee Roy Yarborough.

Lorenzen, who now has won four distances races at the 1 1/2-mile Charlotte Motor Speedway, including the National 400 last year and the World 600 in May, collected $10,000 from the $65,000 purse. It ran his winnings at this track alone to more than $150,000.

Harold Kite of Augusta, Ga., a 43-year-old ex-Army captain making his first start in a high speed race since 1955, was killed on the first lap of the race when his 1965 Chevrolet was involved in a live-car pile-up. Jimmy Helms of Charlotte suffered cuts and bruises.

Dickinson, from Lost Tree Village, Fla., placed a nine-iron shot just four feet from the cup of the 18th hole, and Miss Dessen, from nearby Bonsall, rolled it in.

Walt Arfons to Try for World Land Speed Record on Tuesday

BONNEVILLE-SALT FLATS, Utah (AP)—Walt Arfons of Akron, Ohio, test-fired his rocket racer "Wingfoot Express" on the International Speedway Sunday and said he would try for a new land speed record Tuesday morning. With only 10 of the Wingfoot's 25 rockets firing, driver Bobby Tatroe, 26, of Grand Rapids, Mich., piloted the arrow-shaped, sky-blue racer from a standing start at the mile to a top speed of 317 miles per hour in nine seconds. His average through the measured mile was 212 m.p.h.

The Akron race car builder said he has 75 rockets left for three runs at the record Tuesday. It costs close to $20,000 in rockets and igniters for each run.

"We can hit a top speed of 700 and average something around 600 miles per hour through the mile," Arfons said.

The record set last year by Walt's step-brother, Art Arfons, is 536.71 m.p.h.

In Sunday's test, the 10 jet assisted takeoff rockets used were located on the side of the racer, five on each side pointing at an angle to the rear.

The paint on the car was blackened behind the rockets which heated to 1,000 degrees. Tatroe will fire 15 solid fuel rockets and then 10 more to sustain speed through the mile.

After Arfons gets through with the track Tuesday or Wednesday, he will relinquish time for the remainder of the week to Craig Breedlove of Los Angeles, who will try again in his jet

Foruria and Ahlin Lost To Injuries

MOSCOW, Idaho (AP)—University of Idaho starting quarterback John Foruria and his most likely replacement, Jerry Ahlin, are out of the Vandal lineup with injuries—Foruria for at least two weeks and possibly the rest of the season.

The two juniors were put out of commission Saturday in Idaho's 16-14 loss to Oregon State at Boise.

Foruria was stopped hard on the Vandals' third play of the game and the impact forced a leakage of his lungs. Only time, not surgery, says a doctor, will correct the problem. It's almost certain he'll be out two weeks if not longer, team officials said.

Ahlin hurt his knee on Idaho's first play of the second half. He may be ready this week, said team officials, when the Vandals open Big Sky Conference football play against Montana at Missoula.

Couch Steve Musseau will be calling on Joe Rodriguez to handle the signal-calling chores and probably will act as a substitute for Paul Gentry for reserve quarterback duty.

Idaho is now 2-3 midway through its football season.

Breedlove made several unsuccessful attempts at breaking the record last week, but his car was damaged on four runs at speeds between 514 and 534 miles per hour.

Both Walt Arfons and Breedlove are sponsored by Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co.

Deer Kill Shows Slight Decrease From 1964 Hunt; 1,133 Taken in Unit 54

Total overall success, according to check station reports, for the south hills on opening weekend was reported as 29 per cent as compared to 38 per cent last year. However, the percentage totals may be misleading since the 1964 hunt was controlled and less hunters were after a similar number of deer. The stations reported 1,133 deer per 3,934 hunters in 1965 to 1,056 deer per 2,759 hunters in 1964. In 1964, unit 54 was a contracted hunt and in 1965 it was open to anyone who could carry a rifle or could purchase a deer tag. So this year there was more of the general type hunter compared to the "select" few of last year.

Department Urges Return of Game Tags

BOISE—Hunters were urged today by the Idaho Fish and Game Department to return any ear tags or other identification markings from animals they bag in the future. The success of the entire tagging study depends on the reported observations and tag returns. Other than in addition to markings on metal ear tags numbered on the animals, these include colored neck bands, ear markers, or neck bells, according to the Idaho Fish and Game Department.

Sayers Gives Bears 45-37 NFL Victory

MINNEAPOLIS—ST. PAUL (AP)—Blindside Great Sayers yanked 66 yards with a kickoff with just over two minutes remaining to propel the Chicago Bears to a 45-37 National Football League victory over the Minnesota Vikings Sunday. Sayers' long dash broke up touchdowns, appeared Fred Cox' high kick out of the air on a dead run at the Chicago four-yard line and exploded up a wide path opened by Bear blockers.

Browns Hit Early to Nip Dallas 23-17

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—The Cleveland Browns hit an early lead against a stubborn Dallas defense Sunday and held on for a 23-17 victory over the Cowboys. Jim Brown scored one Cleveland TD. Frank Ryan passed 29 yards to Walter Roberts for another, and Lou Groza kicked field goals— including one of 48 yards.

Packers Tip Lions, Stay Undefeated

DETROIT (AP)—Bart Starr threw three third quarter touchdowns—two of them for more than 60 yards—to lead the undefeated Green Bay Packers to a 31-21 National Football League victory over the Detroit Lions Sunday.

S.D. Stops Pat Threats To Tie 13-13

BOSTON (AP)—The San Diego Chargers threw back repeated Houston threats in the second half and held on for a 13-13 tie with the punchless Patriots Sunday in an American Football League duel.

Brodie's Arm Guides 49ers Past Rams

LOS ANGELES (AP)—San Francisco converted a variety of Los Angeles errors into 21 points in the second quarter and tied the 49ers on to a 45-21 victory Sunday over the Rams. The 49ers, bouncing back after successive losses to Green Bay and Baltimore, took advantage of a Ram fumble, a 14-yard punt and an intercepted pass and scored three touchdowns to break a 7-7 tie in the second period.

Passing of Morrill Lets Giants Win

NEW YORK (AP)—Earl Morrill, the New York Giants' 1965 mvp, died Sunday after two touchdowns in a 10-0 victory over the Philadelphia Eagles Sunday at the Lincoln Financial Field stadium.

Griffin Keys Bronco Win Over Oilers

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—Defensive back John Griffin ran an intercepted pass back 44 yards for one touchdown and scored another on a 10-yard run with a blocked punt to key Denver's 21-17 American Football League victory over Houston Sunday.

ONE OF THE MANY campfires in the south hills opening day. However, it was the only one with a scoreboard. The owner was away when this picture was taken, but returned a short time later empty-handed—so the sign stayed up. Perhaps somebody sighted a yes sign later in the day. (Times-News photo)

Bill Defense Pages 23-7 Over Chiefs

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Buffalo's big, tough defensive team, led by end Roland McDoyle and tackle Tom Sostak, made the big plays as the Bills whipped the Kansas City Chiefs 23-7 Sunday with 20 points in the last quarter of their American Football League game.

Safetyman George Salinas hit quarterback Pete Beathard, forcing a fumble, then picked the ball up and ran 18 yards for the touchdown which gave the Bills a 17-7 lead with 10 minutes left. The 380-pound McDoyle was involved in several key plays.

Kansas City's defense, led by 287-pound tackle Buck Buchanan, was equally tough, but the Chiefs' offense couldn't take advantage of two big scoring chances in the last half, one of them set up by their defense.

All the scoring in the game was set up by fumbles or interceptions.

PGA Probes Three Golfers

LA COSTA, Calif. (UPI)—An investigation was in progress Sunday to determine whether Arnold Palmer, Tony Lama and Gary Player violated PGA rules playing in a golf tournament in England during the past week. They could be suspended for six months and fined $500 because they failed to clear their overseas appearance with sponsors of the Haly and Haly Scotch Mixed Tournament here at La Costa Country Club.

A PGA spokesman said Palmer, Lama and Player must prove they were committed more than two years ago to play in the Piccadilly World Professional Match Play at Virginia Water, England, or be subjected to prescribed penalties.

Unitas Guides Colts Over Redskins 38-7

WASHINGTON (AP)—Johnny Unitas passed for two touchdowns, a bruising Baltimore defense scored once and set up another with pass interceptions Saturday as the Colts trampled Washington 38-7.

In losing their fifth straight National Football League game, the Redskins were a study in frustration. They had two touchdowns called back and Bob Fenwick missed 25 and 30-yard field goals.

Baltimore, winning its fourth straight game, kept pace in the race for the Western Division title.

The keynote of the day for the Redskins, and their 50,405 unhappy fans, came after the opening kickoff when they gambled on fourth and one situation on their 29 and lost five yards. Baltimore quickly scored on a 30-yard field goal by Lou Michaels. A few minutes later Unitas tossed a 34-yard scoring pass to John Mackey. He connected on a four-yard touchdown toss to Ray Berry in the third period.
