Q. I am a professional man, and have satisfied the basic requirements of having a home with a very small mortgage, adequate insurance for my wife and myself, plus a savings account of more than enough to meet any emergency.

I started investing in December, 1957, and have built up a portfolio of 12 high - quality stocks. Nine of them are now trading at prices well above what I paid. Three are down somewhat - but I realize that in the long run these should also turn out well. I have never spent one dividend check. I have used the dividends to buy more stock.

UNITED STATES RINGS OUT tonight its most prosperous year. Records fell right and left. Problems there were aplenty and at year-end tensions were growing.

There was a lot of excitement in 1965, especially in the stock market, where prices swung widely and trading volume soared. And government and business squared off for some notable showdowns over wages, prices, interest rates, contract actions, overseas investments, with signs of bigger battles to come.

AMERICANS THIS YEAR produced some $672 billion in goods and services, up from $223 billion in 1964. Many think 1966 might see this Gross National Product top the $715 billion range.

Personal incomes rose almost steadily all year to a record $540 billion, against $405 billion in 1964. The jobless rate, a major problem last winter, at year-end was down around 4.2 per cent, lowest level in years.

Wages increased, averaged around 4.2 per cent, largest in several years, and a fast-rising rate in prices or productivity were setting.

All of the year's events had their moments of reaction by the stock market. January saw stock prices setting a record high. Domestic and international prices set records for the time and then they hit a new high in May only to slide badly through June.

Prices made still higher ground in October, again in November, and after much speculation managed a record high at Christmas time.

Volume of trading was terrific touch of the year, adding to the fears at year-end that speculative forces might be at work - one of the ingredients of past boom and bust.

So the year drew to a close with most Americans prosperous, many nervous, and a few confident, but with almost no one dead sure he had all the answers.

"New-Age" Irrigators Spark Dramatic Progress in Area Land Reclamation

BOISE (Special)—Land reclamation in the Snake River Valley has stepped off again with vigor and progress of the past half century—including a dramatic increase in river and deep-well pumping by pioneering, private-enterprise developers.

These "new-age" irrigators, spurred by the proven economic feasibility of high-lift pumping and engineering break-throughs, have transformed desert acres larger in total area than Nevada's entire highly productive cropland in less than 20 years.

Along the way, the effects of their steady advance have reached out like a chain reaction in all directions to stimulate every segment of the area's economy.

Just how far and how fast private-enterprise land development has moved is seen in new figures reported by Idaho Power Co. this week.

At the end of the 1965 irrigation season, according to the quarterly report, the developers were successfully farming nearly 1,100,000 acres with water pumped by electric pumps.

They were doing so with a total of nearly 9,000 pumps with a combined rating of some 224,000 horsepower and using enough low-cost electricity to supply the needs of a city of 400,000 persons.

As recently as 1951, by contrast, individuals and companies using private capital had developed a relatively small 200,000 acres by electric pumping in the Snake River Valley.

Yet everyone agrees that the private-enterprise developers have done well to do so. They have not only obtained the private capital but also secured the public's aid in financing.

With additional acres developed in the private manner, the state is irrigated lands. Estimates by persons close to the matter indicate that its development of new productive acres is still in its infancy.

Idaho Power President T. E. Ruch, for one, has pointed out that with 64 per cent of Idaho's land now irrigated, it is more important than ever that encouragement be given to a large extent of new irrigation projects.

Ferry Valve system is one of engineering advances that have been called reclamation development by pumping in the Snake River Valley.

CHART PREPARED BY Idaho Power Co., graphically illustrates how private enterprise developers have increased the number of acres of former desert land now in productive use. All of the nearly 1,100,000 acres are under electric pump irrigation from the Snake River and deep wells.

Typical of the many operating economies adopted by the valley's developers, sprayers, estimated by irrigation experts to cut water requirements up to 30 per cent.

Among those associated with land development, there is wide agreement that reclamation's ready aid is being made for the Snake River Valley is the product of what one describes as private-owned "utilities" and "public" enterprises.

Idaho Power president Ruch declares that spearheading the team are the developers themselves, the modern agricultural pioneers with initiative, imagination and faith in private enterprise developments.

Strikes at Lowest Rate in 5 Years WASHINGTON (AP)—Despite the powder keg of economic recession, the government said Thursday that strike activity in the past week was the lowest yet recorded in five years.

Director William E. Simkin of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service said strikes involving fewer than 25,000 workers, as of Thursday, included the strike of the Olin-Mathliosen Co. plant at East Lion, Wis., which manufactures gunpowder.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Steelworkers and seamen provided the drama in 1965 labor strife in the United States.

At year-end, the AFL-CIO was beating the drums at its biennial convention in San Francisco to build up grass-roots pressure to enact the labor measures in 1966.

Most Democrats and a few liberal Republicans coasted heavily on labor's support.

Dr. Tom Blaney from the Burley Veterinary office vaccinated huffer calves for brucellosis at the Donald Chandler ranch in Elba this week.

Many of the Elba ranchers have started feeding hay and supplement blocks to their range herds as most of the fall pastures are gone.

An overcast stormcloud started a barn fire at the Ralph Riley Jr. ranch three miles north and one and three-fourths miles east of Richfield. The fire was first noticed by Kathleen Riley at 10:30 o'clock Christmas night. Riley and his two sons were able to get out the fire with two water hoses in the barn. Four or five inches of snow on the roof confined the fire to the furnace room and part of the east wall. Early discovery of the fire by the young girl and accessible water were credited for saving the barn.

The Jerry Davises gave away a pup for Christmas to be used as a stock dog by the Mark Bowers' family. The pup's mother is part Chihuahua.

Richfield's first big snow had farmers out feeding with tractors and pickup trucks on Christmas day. Mrs. James Powell and older children had some difficulty moving 12 young heifers and a whitehead bull back to the Powell ranch from the Mark and Powell place. The tractor with hay enticing the animals broke down on the way and the stock was herded home for easier feeding this winter.

Elba rancher John Nye and son, Fred, are taking care of the livestock and doing chores on the Malboura Barker ranch during the holidays while Mr. and Mrs. Barker are in Denver with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Tracy and family.

Dr. Roy Thornburg from the veterinary hospital in Burley vaccinated the huffer calves on the Reuben Ward ranch, Elba, this week.

Elcock Retains Position As Amalgamated Official

OGDEN — Harry A. Elcock, former Twin Falls resident, was re-elected to the position of vice-president and general agriculturalist of the Amalgamated Sugar Co. His selection came during the annual stockholders meeting. Elcock, who is also on the board of the company, was a resident in Twin Falls for many years. When he left that Idaho community he was manager of the sugar plant at that point. During the meeting here, George S. Eccles, president and general manager of the First Security Corporation, was elected to the board of the Amalgamated company. Other directors re-elected include: Martin S. Eccles; A. E. Flinn; J. H. Eccles; and R. H. Burton; R. H. Cottrell, Elba, M. Orme; Paul H. Ray; Charles J. Eccles and J. F. Snowcroft. Officers are: Eccles, chairman of the board; Bennie, president; Orme, executive vice-president; secretary and treasurer; S. Burnell Brown, vice president and general superintendent; and Cottrell, vice president. Bennie told shareholders that harvesting of the 1965 sugar beet crop has been completed. Amalgamated growers in Utah, Idaho and Oregon harvested over 2,700,000 tons of sugar beets this year. While the company's average yield is about 15 percent more than 1965, the tonnage from this year's crop is about the same as last year, reflecting increased yield per acre.

Twin Falls Second in Acreage Gain Improvement

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO — The main reason for rejection of alfalfa, timothy grass and clover was inadequate weed control. The potato program lost some ground because of plant diseases and failure to comply with storage regulations. In the case of field beans lack of excessive weeds and halo blight were causes of rejection. Similar varieties were rejected in small grains. Canyon County was first in total acreage. Nearly 36 percent of alfalfa was produced in 22 counties. Twin Falls was second with 22,100 acres, and Owyhee was third with 19,000. Certified alfalfa was produced in 42 counties. All but Bear Lake and Shoshone were represented. Fennell said the annual report again demonstrated that Idaho is among the leading states in production of seed for planting at home and for export to other states and countries.

Farm Land Prices Expected To Continue Their Advance

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Farm land prices probably will continue to advance in 1966, according to the Agriculture Department. The department said the long upward in farm real estate values probably would continue because of the strong demand and the limited quantity of land available for sale. Farm operators were the major buyers of farm real estate in 1965, with owner-operators and farmers together accounting for nearly two-thirds of all buyers, the department said. This situation is expected to continue in 1966. During 1965, the per cent of owner operator buyers ranged from 74 per cent in the Corn Belt to 52 per cent in the Northern Plains. The department said 74 per cent of all buyers in the Corn Belt had been tenants prior to the purchase. Active and retired farmers were the sellers in about 60 per cent of all farm real estate sales accounted for about 13 per cent of all transactions. The sellers of farm real estate continue to be the major source of credit, financing 36 per cent of all sales reported in 1965. The department said more than 50 per cent of all seller-financed sales were by land contracts. Commercial banks provided credit for about 18 per cent of all credit purchases in 1965, more than any other source except the sellers. The department said the average value per farm in 1965 ranged from $10,000 in West Virginia to $45,000 in Arizona. Values in the southeast and southern states ranged from $20,000 to $25,000 per farm. Typical Corn Belt values per farm ranged from $50,000 to $90,000.

Farm Bureau Federation Favors More Production, Less Federal Subsidies

ST. ANTHONY—Nyl Rydahl, president of Idaho Farm Bureau reported recently on the major actions taken by the voting delegates of the American Farm Bureau Federation. He said action was taken favoring the developed nations seeking to move toward goals of economic growth, prosperity, and peace. "For many years the United States has been supplying substantial quantities of food from surpluses accumulated under our price support programs, to less developed nations of the world under public law 480. Changes in approach to this problem could greatly enhance the value of these programs," Rydahl said. The Farm Bureau delegates agreed that some of the major changes needed were:

1. To shift the emphasis from surplus disposal to supplying the commodities found to be needed in agreements with the nations to be assisted.
 2. To provide that commodities to be shipped under the program shall be purchased through the regular market channels.
 3. To require that the recipient nations share and not here to acceptable plans showing how food acquired through the program will contribute to economic growth and development.
- "The general goals of the Marketing for Freedom program next 10 years. Two courses of action, he said, are open: "1. Shall we further restrict the production of our farms... programs of controlled abundance in America, sharing only what we cannot use; or "2. Shall we loosen the cords...

NFU Members Will Aid in Road Work

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A group of hired farmers will work on projects in four states, the National Farmers Union announced. Ten teams of seven low-income and retired farmers will work on projects in rural Arkansas, New Jersey, Oregon and Minnesota. The program will be financed by a $18.42 grant from the Office of Economic Opportunity. The NFU said the farmers will work three days a week and will earn $15 an hour. They will receive 25 days of training as gardeners, landscapers, beautification and nursery work.

Plans to End Restrictions On Production Gain Favor

WASHINGTON — Hearings by the House agriculture committee will be held early in 1966 to explore the possibilities of developing a new program to reverse the restrictions on U.S. farm output and help feed the world's hungry, it was announced this month by Representative Harold D. Cooley, chairman. Cooley said he had urged the President to suspend the new, complex adjustment program, and does not back the 1965 legislation to retire 40 million acres of cropland during the

Idaho's Bean Crop Still Threatened by Halo Blight

"The threat of halo blight, a bacteria-caused disease, has not been eliminated but there is hope, with the cooperation of the weather, it will be substantially reduced," Marshall LeBaron, superintendent of the Twin Falls Branch Experiment station, said after returning from a meeting of the Idaho Bean Commission in Boise. "LeBaron said through the cooperative effort of the commission, the Crop Improvement Association and other bean production groups, the industry moved quickly enough to partially check the spread of this bacteria-caused disease. He said 2,800 acres of Idaho beans were plowed under last year in an effort to slow the spread of the blight. In other business, LeBaron and Dr. Leslie Dean, plant pathologist at the Twin Falls Branch Experiment station, reported their work with black bean imported from South America has been reported for sale in the U.S. through specialty houses or health food counters in specialty markets. "Idaho bean qualities are comparable to those now being imported to this country and in this research we hope to find suitable varieties to expand in this type of market," LeBaron commented. "We are also attempting to reduce the combination rates of the Swedish crown bean in Idaho's beans are so marketed," he said. "The commission is examining the possibility of increasing their foreign market operations in European and Far Eastern countries."

Retail Pork Price Drop Is Expected

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department said farmers plan to produce a spring crop of 46 million pigs, up seven per cent from the spring pig crops this year. This means farmers definitely have started expanding swine production which would cut the retail price of pork. The department said the number of hogs and pigs on farms in Dec. 1 totaled 54.2 million. This is seven per cent less than the 58.1 million head on farms earlier. This mean fewer were available for slaughter and has partially reached the retail market.

Twin Falls Beef Futures Meet Slated

Ronald Koerber of Schwabacker and Co., and Thomas Howden, secretary-manager of the Idaho Cattle Feeders Association, will present the programs which will include three well-illustrated examples covering 800-pound steers on feed for 90, 180 and 270 days respectively. These meetings are open to members of the Idaho Cattle Feeders Association and their friends, and will be no-charge luncheon or dinner meetings. They will be held at the Idaho Falls, the Flamingo, 7:30 p.m. Tuesday; Pocatello, Bannock Hotel, Wednesday noon; Twin Falls, the Supper Club, 7:30 p.m. Wednesday; and Caldwell, Maennka's Golden Pleasant Cafe, 7:30 p.m., Thursday. Wheat, Pig Production Shows Drop BOISE (AP)—Idaho's 1965 pig and wheat production is below that of 1964 and fewer acres of wheat have been seeded for the 1966 harvest, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The department's crop reporting service for Idaho says the 1965 pig crop is estimated at 187,000 head, about five per cent below the 1964 crop of 197,000 head.

Production of Merion Kentucky bluegrass seed in the state is estimated at 720,000 pounds, compared to 726,000 in 1964 and a 1959-63 average of 565,000, the service said.

Wheat growers used an estimated 549,000 acres for the 1966 harvest, the service said, about four per cent less than the 584,000 acres seeded for the 1965 harvest.

Purchase of Oleo Would Hurt Market

WASHINGTON — Announcement by the Department of Agriculture of intent to purchase five-million pounds of oleomargarine for its food distribution program was quickly followed by a break in the market price of butter at Chicago, commented E. M. Norton, secretary of the National Milk Producers Federation.

The federation last week pointed out to the secretary of agriculture the imminent increase in butter supplies, thus insuring sufficient quantities for distribution programs without recourse to the oleomargarine purchase. Mr. Norton, since the congress in the food and agriculture programs authorized the department to make open market purchases when necessary to fulfill its commitments of dairy products for use in distribution programs.

The National Milk Producers Association urged Federal action to cancel the proposed purchase of oleomargarine to forestall a price drop in the butter market and thus bolster farm income. As pointed out to the secretary, a five-cent change in the price of butter can affect dairy farmer income approximately $20 million monthly. On the other hand, a five-million pound purchase of oleomargarine from fallow, cottonseed oil or soybean oil would have no effect on farm prices.

When he arrived, he was greeted by a very disturbed man who explained that he wanted him to see what he could do about a problem he was troubling his brother. A fine old lady of 70 who insisted that a portrait of her dead husband hanging on the living room wall constantly winked at her.

Howell, thinking that someone other than a pest control man was really needed for this case, asked to see the portrait and then asked to be left alone with the woman.

What he found provided a simple but most unusual explanation. The woman's husband had been buried in the wall. Howell had worked up through the wall partition in back of the painting area. The husband had been buried in the wall. Howell had nearly eaten the husband through the illusion of eye movement.

Disappearance of 1965 Potato Crop Sets New Record as Processing Rises

BOISE — Total disappearance of Idaho potatoes for 1965 is reported at 20.19 million hundredweight, according to the USDA Crop Reporting Service for Idaho.

The disappearance set a new record for the period, rising largely to increases in processing and exports.

Total disappearance in 1965 is considerably above the 15.4 million hundredweight in 1964 and above the previous high of 16.4 million in 1963.

Idaho and eastern Oregon potato processors used 12.9 million hundredweight of Idaho potatoes through Nov. 30, as indicated by 40 per cent more potatoes by Dec. 1 this year than the average of the two preceding years.

In 1964, Idaho and eastern Oregon processors used 12.9 million hundredweight of Idaho potatoes after Dec. 1, and two years ago they used 11.9 million hundredweight after Dec. 1.

According to the Crop Reporting Service, a similar disappearance this year was 19.5 million hundredweight of present stocks being processed. Seed usage in the past two years has averaged 3.8 million hundredweight.

Processor, dealer and processor stocks on Dec. 1 were estimated at 41.5 million hundredweight, which compares with 25 million in 1964 and 22 million hundredweight on hand the previous December.

The estimates of total stocks represent all potatoes held in Idaho by growers, local dealers and processors. It includes seed potatoes, those in storage for use, feed- and seed as well as potatoes to be used on farms where grown for feed, seed and household use.

Also included are potatoes that will be lost through decay and dumping after Dec. 1.

In the United States storage stocks of potatoes are 1.9 million in 1965, compared with 1.4 million in 1964 and 1.3 million in 1963.

These holdings are 28 per cent more than the 115.6 million hundredweight on hand Dec. 1, 1964, and slightly above the previous high stocks of Dec. 1, 1961.

These stocks consist of potatoes held for all uses on Dec. 1.

Stocks in the eight Eastern States are 14.5 million hundredweight on Dec. 1, compared with 48.9 million in 1964. Maine, New York and Pennsylvania were 14 per cent above 1964 and the smallest since 1954. Upstate New York holdings were slightly above the year ago figure, while Pennsylvania holdings were up 15 and 19 per cent respectively.

The Central fall states had 14 million in storage this year, compared with 22.9 million last year and 20 million in 1964. All of the largest 1950, all of the largest states in this area were substantially above year ago, with North Dakota up more than 60 per cent.

Stocks in the nine Western fall states were 38.3 million this year, compared with 41.8 million last year. All western states beginning earlier than usual in most areas and progressed rapidly under generally favorable weather conditions in all areas.

Heavy frosts in late August caused varied damage to potato vines in southern and eastern areas. All growth was vitally snipped statewide by a cold snap in mid-September.

Warm weather and immature potatoes delayed harvest. However, favorable digging conditions prevailed well into November and the 1965 crop was harvested with few delays due to bad weather. The exceptionally warm harvest period, however, resulted in many potatoes going into storage at temperatures above optimum conditions.

When he arrived, he was greeted by a very disturbed man who explained that he wanted him to see what he could do about a problem he was troubling his brother. A fine old lady of 70 who insisted that a portrait of her dead husband hanging on the living room wall constantly winked at her.

Howell, thinking that someone other than a pest control man was really needed for this case, asked to see the portrait and then asked to be left alone with the woman.

What he found provided a simple but most unusual explanation. The woman's husband had been buried in the wall. Howell had worked up through the wall partition in back of the painting area. The husband had been buried in the wall. Howell had nearly eaten the husband through the illusion of eye movement.

Providence Takes ECAC Cage Title

NEW YORK (AP)—Jim Walker scored 24 points in 30 minutes Thursday night as Providence defeated Boston State 81-72 in the Orange Bowl Holiday Festival Basketball championship.

Walker's performance equaled the one-game scoring record for the Holiday Festival set by Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati against Iowa in 1959. Walker, named the tourney's most valuable player, tallied four points short of equalling Robertson's three-game mark of 122.

Providence took the lead late in the first half and led until less than 10 minutes remained in the game. But after Providence's jump ball gave BC a 70-56 lead with 8:46 left, Providence scored 10 straight points while holding the Eagles scoreless for four minutes, 22 seconds.

National Title, Winning 'Skein' Go on Line in Bowl Contests

By The Associated Press
The national championship, the country's longest winning string and enormous amounts of prestige go on the line this weekend in college football's second annual bowl games.

The Spartans dominated the game, scoring 21 points and grabbing nine rebounds. Steve Rymal had 19 rebounds, four of which were blocked.

Terry Dischinger of Army was high with 25 points and 11 rebounds but was erratic, hitting the ball six times and hitting one of ten from the free throw line.

Gordon Harris led Washington to a 20 victory over Hawaii for seventh place. For example, some pro football men have said the bidding for Donny Anderson, two-time All-American back for Texas Tech, may be as high as $500,000.

Ogden Youth Killed in Gun Accident

OGDEN (AP) - A 17-year-old Ogden youth died in a local hospital at about 6 p.m. Thursday of gunshot wounds suffered in a hunting accident earlier in the day.

Attendants at the Thomas D. Deer Memorial Hospital said Jeffrey Van Erden, 17, son of Mrs. and Mr. Jack J. Van Erden, 744 Darling Street, died of a gunshot wound inflicted in the neck just over the right eye.

He underwent emergency surgery at the hospital immediately after the shooting, which occurred at about 1 p.m., according to Det. Gary C. Hinchcliff of the Ogden Police Department.

Hinchcliff said the Van Erden youth had been with a group of boys at the home of Samuel Joseph Clark, 18, of 1420 Harrison Boulevard.

He said apparently Van Erden and Clark noticed a pheasant fly into a field behind the home. The two decided to take a 12 gauge shotgun and go after it.

A search failed to find the bird and as the two were standing almost back to back for a moment, the "victim" suggested they go in the direction he was facing.

Clark turned around and somehow the gun was discharged, striking Van Erden in the back.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI) - Hewitt D. Zinder of E. F. Norton & Co. says seasonal factors seem to favor a bull market for the near-term.

He says, however, progress in the advance-decline line has not been as good as gains in the average and that if this trend continues it could have some depressing effect on the market in the early part of 1966.

Goodbody and Co. says that while many traders are placing year-end funds on quality issues on long term positions, profit-taking may also increase in the high-flying issues, thus possibly pushing the Dow-Jones industrial average over the 1000 mark while the general market is on the downturn.

Brain Drain

LONDON (UPI) - A government survey Thursday revealed a growing "brain drain" of professional people to other countries.

The survey showed 1,200 doctors had emigrated to other countries in 1964, while only 300 had immigrated to Britain.

The measurements were made at the Old Soldier ranger station near the ski lift about 10 miles north of Fairfield. On Dec. 28, the snow was 41 inches deep, with a water content of 14 percent.

A year ago there were 41 inches of snow with a 21 1/2 percent water content.

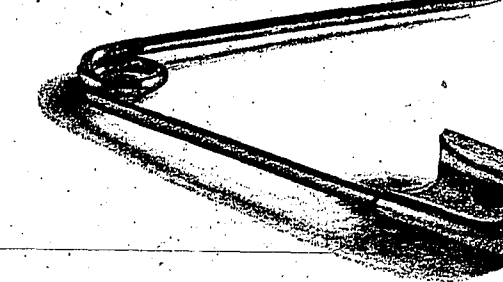

Snow Depths Are Below Last Year

FAIRFIELD - Snow depths are about half of what they were a year ago, according to a survey made this week by Leo Sauter of the Soil Conservation Service and Lee Presley, assistant ranger for the Forest Service.
