2 Idaho Men Indicted for Mail Fraud

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP) — Two Idaho men and one from Virginia have been indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of mail fraud in connection with sale of securities of Paramount Holding Co.

The three were named in the indictment as Robert D. Sparrow of Phoenix, Eugene Whitworth of Pocatello and Edward J. Gibson of Preston, Idaho. The indictment charged they sought to defraud investors in a "pre-incorporation interest certificate, stock purchase agreement of mail fraud in connection with sale of securities of Paramount Holding Co.

The defendants allegedly misrepresented Paramount to be a profitable, highly successful company, claiming it owned interests in a savings and loan firm and wool processing firms in Wyoming as well as Phoenix. They allegedly claimed that Paramount would "soon control" assets in excess of $1 million.

Cavalry Ends Skillful Task

BONG SON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The U.S. 1st Cavalry, Airborne, Division—more specifically the 3rd Brigade of that division—has just finished one of the most skillful and fruitful operations of this war.

The tough, cocky troopers, accompanied in some phases of the campaign by Vietnamese airborne and armored soldiers, ramped around in the central Vietnamese coastal plains for more than a week. The last time government troops came into the area, one year ago, they were knocked around by the Viet Cong.

This time it was the allies' turn. The cavalrymen and the Vietnamese troops killed more than 500 hard core Viet Cong by body count. Col. Hal Moore, commander of the 3rd Brigade, believes his men killed more than 800. The wounded ratio is generally two or more to one killed; so the Viet Cong may be nursing more than 1,500 wounded men in their mountain hideaways.

American casualties, including two instances where cavalrymen came under friendly fire — are called light. Rockets from an armed helicopter in one case landed within U.S. lines. Vietnamese armored personnel carriers fired on a cavalry detachment for about 10 minutes in the confusion of another skirmish. The Vietnamese and U.S. troops found abandoned equipment, propaganda documents, pools of blood and Viet Cong graves in their sweep.

Judge Levies Sentences in Court Here

District Judge Theron Ward levied 77 years in prison terms Friday afternoon, and a confused Douglas Jones nearly lapsed an additional 14 years on the total sentences handed out.

Jones, 19, is wanted by California authorities for breaking parole and escaping. He became confused over the extradition policies between states, and when Judge Ward commuted his 15 year sentence to a year Jones asked the judge to give him 15 instead because "it would rather spend 15 years in an Idaho penitentiary than in a California penal institution."

Judge Ward said he had no recourse but to comply. "This upset Jones' attorney, and after Jones had been removed from the court he talked with his client. After some consultation, Jones decided he had made a mistake. His attorney asked Judge Ward to reconsider the decision, and explained that Jones had been confused at the court proceedings."

The judge then brought Jones back into court, re-sentenced him to 15 years and commuted it to a year in the county jail. Judge Ward said the California police now have option as to whether or not to extradite Jones to California. Judge Ward said that different states sometimes drop a hold on a wanted person once he is known to be in jail in another state. On the other hand they could wait until Jones has served his year here and pick him up.

Michael Kernin, 23, Leon Uribe, 24, were sentenced to 15 years in prison on charges of first degree burglary in connection with a Feb. 2 break in at Volco Builders. Butler has pleaded guilty to a charge of aiding and abetting in the commission of the crime of rape and sentence is still pending results of a presentence investigation.

David Erke, 22, had his parole revoked and was given 15 years in the Idaho State Penitentiary for issuing a check without funds in the bank. Robert V. Sandeman, 25, had a three-year sentence commuted by Judge Ward to one year in the county jail. Sandeman has a hold on Sandeman and his sentence here will be re-imposed upon arrival of last Vegas police, according to Sheriff James H. Benham.

Yale Teacher Slams U.S. War Policy

LONDON (AP) — Staughton Lynd, the Yale teacher who led a U.S. State Department ban and visited North Viet Nam, said the policy in Viet Nam "is as ruthless to the truth as it is ruthless to human beings."

A crowd of about 2,000 persons gathered in Trafalgar Square for the peace-Viet Nam demonstration. They heard Lynd's charge that the U.S. government deceived the people of the United States and of the world in its explanation of why bombing was resumed on North Viet Nam after a 37-day moratorium.

After Lynd spoke, some 500 demonstrators walked in rain to the residence of Prime Minister Harold Wilson where a small group handed in a resolution protesting Britain's support of America's Viet Nam policy.

The marchers then continued to the U.S. Embassy in Grosvenor Square. Some 100 policemen were stationed on the Embassy and the demonstrators were not allowed to stop but were directed down a street into Hyde Park where they dispersed.

An Embassy security officer accepted a resolution from six demonstrators appealing for an end to the bombing of North Viet Nam.

The rally, organized by leftist and pacifist groups, was orderly but noisy.

Lynd had left the rally before the march began to take a plane back to New York.

Nutrition Is Discussed at Gooding Meet

GOODING — Common areas of interest pertaining to food and nutrition were discussed by the Gooding County Foods and Nutrition committee at a meeting held Wednesday at the Lincoln Inn in Gooding.

Mrs. Gerry Gehlke, Wendell, served as chairman and was assisted by Mrs. Ruth Shane, extension home economics agent.

Discussion about labeling of food products pointed out the discrepancies apparent in labeling, weight markings, and sizes of packages.

It was pointed out that most produce items are marked as to date of usage on package, and these should be checked for freshness. Women should label and date their own canning and freezing to assure freshness.

The homemaker and her family should take an inventory of supplies to assure freshness and adequate amounts in case of emergency. It was noted that food habits of teenagers and older citizens were discussed with agreement recorded that these two areas needed much study and work. More information was needed on "crash" diets and food fad diets.

It was felt that school lunches were adequate for the most part but more work needed to be done in the line of attractiveness to the students to make them want to eat at school rather than elsewhere.

Convenience foods for the housewife are becoming more popular all the time, and families should not be afraid to try new products for ease and quality, leaders stated.

Homemakers need to learn how to get the most from their food by knowing more about meal planning, meat cuts, cookery, and effective use of leftovers.

It was felt by the committee that simpler information on basic cooking would be helpful to all, as well as more information on using fruits and vegetables.

Fish is too often frowned upon as a good food, but it is high in nutritional values. The housewife needs to be made more aware of the value in fish meals, as well as their relative economy.

It was also felt by all the committee members that our present-day society seems to be letting down on knowledge and use of manners at the table and elsewhere. It was felt that the proper education in this from the family can aid in giving the child a good sense of values with respect to others.

With the today's controversy about insecticides, the committee agreed that everyone should be familiar with the common insecticides in use today, their limitations, and effect, if any, upon food products.

Death of Bishop's Son Said Suicide

NEW YORK (AP) — The death of the 22-year-old son of a Protestant Episcopal Bishop James A. Pike of California was said to be a suicide. The son, who was a student at Cambridge University, England, returned to the United States on Wednesday and registered in the hotel on Broadway. He was to continue on to California Saturday.

His father, long a powerful and controversial figure in the church, also left London Wednesday but flew directly to California to attend the annual convention of the Episcopal diocese of California Saturday.

Police said he apparently sat on the bed, propped his rifle against the end and fired a single shot into his head.

U. S. Sells Patton Tanks To Israel

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department said Saturday the United States has sold Patton tanks to Israel.

The number of U.S. tanks shipped to the Middle East country was not disclosed. Reliable sources said, however, the figure was in the neighborhood of 200.

U.S. sources said the military sales deal was made about one year ago.

State Department press officer Marshall Wright made the announcement after publication in Cairo of a report that U.S. tanks had gone to Israel.

He said the Soviet Union had made massive arms sales in the Middle East. Egypt, Syria and Iraq are reported to have received substantial Soviet arms.

The United States, while attempting to limit the "Middle East arms race," but at the same time maintain a balance, has also sent tanks to Jordan and anticratic missiles to Saudi Arabia and Israel, Wright said.

Jordan, Israel's neighbor, reportedly received about 100 Patton tanks last year.

DEAF MAN PERFECTS TINY HEARING AID

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN. — A remarkable tiny hearing aid has been perfected by a man who has been hard of hearing nearly 100 years.

This small device has no dangling cords or separate transmitting units and represents a new and unusual design idea in a product to restore natural hearing.

It was developed specifically for those persons who can hear but can't understand. This new hearing instrument provides "ear-level" hearing with the wearer picking up speech, sounds, television and radio at his ear.

Due to the use of transistors, the unit cost is extremely low. The instrument weighs only 1/16 oz. It is about the size of a sewing needle — hardly noticeable yet powerful.

Achievement of Best Loser for 1964 Upon Mrs. H. Armstrong by Local

BY NORMA HERZINGER

To be a loser in most social circles is not considered a great achievement for the average person, but to members of TOPS Clubs, losing is something to shout about.

Taking off excess pounds to improve one's health and appearance is a goal set by a large per cent of American women. Overweight is not a disease from which one recovers and is thereafter immune, so it is a constant grind against excess weight week after week, year after year.

Best-loser-of-the-year is an honor looked forward to by all members of TOPS Clubs and is the highest distinction bestowed upon club members. The home of Mrs. M. O. Roske, 625 Sunrise Blvd. N., was the setting for the important meeting-and-social-of-the-Nix-on-Pix-TOPS Club honoring Mrs. Harold Armstrong, Twin Falls. She was named best loser of the year and crowned queen for 1964.

Perfect attendance honors for one year went to Mrs. Wayne Smith, Hansen, and Mrs. Murrel Blades, Jerome. Those received for a three month period for Mrs. John Pletz and Mrs. John Lapray, all Twin Falls. These three women received three months-perfect attendance awards from the local TOPS Club at the social at the home of Mrs. M. O. Roske. Most calorie counters will agree that taking off pounds sensibly is many-easily-achieved having moral support and weekly contact with other weight watchers. (Times-News photo)

Miss Robinson, Burns Exchange Nuptial Vows

Betty L. Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin B. Robinson, became the bride of Joseph P. Burns, son of Mrs. Blanche D. Burns, all Twin Falls, in a candlelight ceremony Jan. 15 at the First Methodist Church, Twin Falls.

Rev. Henry J. Gernhardt performed the double ring ceremony before an altar flanked by brass candlesticks.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a peau de seau—lattice and Chantilly lace gown fashioned by her mother.

The fitted bodice of lace over satin featured a scalloped neckline and long lily point lace sleeves. Seed—pearl—buttons fastened in the back to the waist and at the wrists on the sleeves.

The bouffant floor-length skirt featured a short train and joined the bodice in a V at the front.

Her shoulder-length veil of illusion was held by a pearl tiara. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses and white lily-of-the-valley.

Mrs. Keith Robinson, Pocatello, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Terri Byrne and Colleen Potter, Twin Falls.

Candlelighters were Denise Lee and Arlene Griffin.

Michelle Jones and Julie Jones, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Jones, were flower girls.

David Burgess served as best man and ushers were Rodney Ruckman and Tom Wolkie, all Twin Falls; Ron Wilson, Twin Falls, served as door usher.

Solistic was Claude Downman, Rupert, accompanied by Milton Barris, Twin Falls, who also played the traditional wedding music.

A reception was held immediately following the wedding in the church parlor. The bride's table was centered with a four-tiered wedding cake decorated in red and white and topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom.

The bridegroom's table was centered with a bud vase containing two red roses and a silver coffee service and punch bowl.

The wedding cake was cut and served by Mrs. Alfred Zornig, Rupert; and Mrs. Charles Perry, Twin Falls, aunts of the bride.

Punch and coffee were served by Mrs. J. K. Kinghorn, Twin Falls; and Mrs. Kendall Kinghorn, Pocatello.

Gifts were displayed by Susan Cappel, Bonnie Kilitz and Janet Worsenroth, all Twin Falls.

Guests were registered by Vicki Clough, Twin Falls.

There are two tables in her basement where she keeps boxes of clothes to be worked on and she uses tables in the family garage where extra items to be repaired are kept. The "ready for sale" items are stored on her upstairs closet where they will stay clean.

About six years ago, when she first began working on the rummage sales for the church, $40 was considered a good profit. "They felt that was good," Mrs. Terry said, "but now we make hundreds of dollars each sale."

The sales are held in empty buildings in downtown Shoshone.

Men of the church help with pickup trucks to haul the goods to the sale place. This takes a day or two before the sale. Then after the sales, usually held on Friday and Saturday, about three more days Monday through Wednesday, another work project is held by the women. There are about 10 women who help with this.

They tear squares of cotton cloth to be used as wiping cloths, as they have large sale for these squares. They salvage all the zippers, buttons, etc., and give boxes of left overs to the LDS Church for Desert Industries. This gesture is rather like an "exchange" Mrs. Terry points out, "because so many of the Shoshone LDS people give such good items for their rummage sale."

Other Churches also give to the sale.

From the left overs, too, before the dismantling begins, needy families are allowed to come in and take what they can use. Even buttons and zippers are salvaged and sold.

All proceeds from the sales go to the church building fund. Some years when they have for such a sale as comparatively minor.

This isn't the case with the Shoshone Methodist Woman's Society of Christian Service sales, however, and no doubt the reason their sales are so much more successful than most rummage sales. They have become the most successful financial endeavor of the church each year and bring in several hundred dollars with each sale.

They do accept old clothes, solicit good ones, and spend many, many hours preparing for the sales.

The sales are usually held in April and October. The work goes on all year in the firm of gathering items. Mrs. Terry using her home for the workshop and the church basement for storage.

All of these things account for the fact that at this point for the work done on remodeling and adding to the church there is no indebtedness. Members hope to keep it this way.

War Protest Is Halted In Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—An anti-Viet Nam War protest rally by 1,500 leftist students and workers ended Saturday in a free-swinging melee between police and demonstrators at Alexander Haus, the U.S. cultural center in West Berlin.

Police armed with clubs waded into about 100 anti-war demonstrators grouped around an American flag pole in front of the center. The demonstrators jumped to their feet and fought back.

A police spokesman said several persons were slightly injured and several were taken into custody.

Police commanders gave the order to remove the group physically after other demonstrators threw eggs at the front wall of the center.

Ernest J. Colon, America Haus director, said about 100 other demonstrators had entered the building, but "I talked them out of staying."

The center was undamaged except for the egg stains.

The demonstrators had lowered the American flag to half-staff, shouting in German "Viete is (Americans) out of Viet Nam" and in English "I B.I. I B.I. how many kids have you killed today?"

Book Fair Proves Popular With High School Students

BY RICHARD HIGH

The first annual Twin Falls High School Book Fair held in the high school Wednesday through Friday prompted an unusually remark from a comedy coed.

Looking up from a newly-purchased paperback version of Shakespeare's Hamlet she remarked with a grin: "There are more things in Heaven and earth than are dreamt of in your text books."

She explained her paraphrase of Hamlet was prompted by the wide variety of subject matter available to high school students through the use of paperbacks—which she contrasted to the "occasionally" less-than-interesting fare of standard text-books.

The Book Fair, sponsored by the high school's National Honor Society under the direction of senior English Instructor Mrs. Frank Klinka, was organized to extend the reading opportunities available by providing a variety of paperbacks for purchase by students.

Toward the end of providing variety, the home students managed to arrange the display of more than 1,000 paperbacks ranging from Thoreau's "Walden" to the mundane "Drag Strip," and from the lofty, but poorly-written, "A Man Called Peter" by Catherine Marshall to more sophisticated works of Hawthorne, the great if heady American author.

According to Mrs. Klinka, to the surprise of many teachers "the classics go like hotcakes." She reported the "best book" had been largely "picked over" by the fair's close on Friday.

Mrs. Klinka emphasized that the books offered had been selected and approved by the National Education Association and by the local high school for high school readers.

According to Mrs. Klinka, the books were selected to suit a wide range of interests.

T. F. Gun Sale Suit Ordered Reinstated

Eleventh district court in Twin Falls was ruled in error by Idaho Supreme Court—justices this week in dismissing a suit that sought damages against a man for selling a pistol to an adolescent boy without his parents' consent.

The case brought by Mr. and Mrs. Arch Lundy, Kimberly, against J. Hazen, Blue Lakes Sporting Goods, Twin Falls, was ordered reinstated in district court.

The parents had contended Hazen should pay damages because their 13-year-old son, Franklin, was wounded by a 22-caliber pistol Hazen had sold the boy without obtaining their consent.

Young Lundy was struck in the face, mouth, and neck when the pistol discharged as he was handling it.

District Court had dismissed the case after testimony showed the boy's older sister had telephoned Mrs. Lundy, who was away from home, about the purchase and Mrs. Blanche Smith, did not, at the time, instruct the pistol be taken from her son.

State law forbids the sale of firearms to minors under 16 years of age without their parents' consent.

Drive-in

BOISE (AP)—A truck filled with blazing scrap lumber roared through downtown Boise under police escort Friday to the fire station.

Flames were shooting 20 feet into the air by the time the truck ended the seven-block dash and firemen scrambled out to douse the fire.

The truck driver, Dale Sarkis, could only guess that someone had accidentally thrown a cigarette into the scrap being hauled from a building demolition job.

"How about that," said a fireman when the excitement had died down. "We got a drive-in fire station."

UNBEATEN DEVILS END MUSHY WIN SKEIN

Camas Has First Home Court Loss In 4 Outings

FAIRFIELD — Dietrich and the law of averages caught up with Camas County Musers Friday night as the undefeated Blue Devils ended the Musers' 41-game home winning streak 52-51. Dietrich's victory was anything but decisive—both since close only counts in horseshoes and hand grenades.

Coach Phil Brackenbury and his charges tasted defeat at home for the first time since Dec. 9, 1961, when Glenn Ferry managed 41-30. Camas County had a dozen chances to win the game while Dietrich could have made its victory much more comfortable by being able to hit from the free throw line.

Ironically, the turning point of the game appeared to be when Dietrich's top scorer, Ron Knowles, fouled out in the first minute of the fourth quarter. That should have been the Devils' death knell. Instead it worked to their advantage. Camas County, figuring things were going to be better now, relaxed and relaxed itself right into a four-minute scoreless drought.

Dietrich's remaining boys worked harder and it was during that time the Blue Devils pushed out on off-the-hard way. Camas County's last-minute rally just missed.

The game was played just about the way it figured. It was with both teams having so much riding on the outcome. The players tried so hard they forced themselves into numerous mistakes.

Camas County dominated the game the first six minutes, worked inside and out, two wins-three shots repeatedly but couldn't connect. Dietrich, with Knowles and workhorse Byron Knies, came up with the points, tied throughout. In the second period, Dietrich—Cox earned up and gunned through 13 points as the game went in front 20-17 and went in front 20-17 on two quick long shots.

The teams tied at 20, 22 and 24 before Cox again just before the buzzer to send Camas County in front 20-25 at half-time.

In the third quarter Cox stayed warm, hitting eight more, but the best of the fever was a 38-35 lead. In the closing minutes Knowles hit two buckets, the last one on his third shot. It was gone. The game was over.

Knowles fouled out shortly after the jump but Weiss hit a jumper to tie the game. Then came the decisive four-minute stretch. The game was tied 38-38. Knowles and Dormier scored off a steal. Weiss tipped in a missed free-throw and Dietrich had his last shot.

Cox fouled out at that point. But Rod Tucker came in to pick up his scoring pace. Muffley hit from the key and Tucker from the side court to make it 40-45. Dietrich got another crumble on a rebound attempt. For a two-point Dietrich edge.

ELBOW DEFENSE by Camas County's Darrell Cox against Ron Knowles, Dietrich, was just opposite of what it appears to be. Knowles charged Cox but still somehow made the basket in action Friday night when Dietrich topped Camas County 52-51 and ended the Musers' 41-game home-court winning streak. Musers watching are Dennis Glickman (44) and Jeff Muffley (45). In foreground is Dietrich's Byron Weiss. (Times-News photo)

Clay and Terrell Sign Pact, Set March 29 for Title Fight

CHICAGO (AP) — Cassius Clay and Ernie Terrell signed Friday for a hurry-up heavyweight championship fight to be held in Chicago's International Amphitheatre Tuesday, March 29. The signing came one week after the State of New York refused Terrell a license because of his association with Bernie Glickman. Clay and Terrell, designated champion by the World Boxing Association, will go before the Illinois State Athletic Commission Tuesday for approval of the contract and the granting of an Illinois license to Clay.

Also appearing Tuesday will be co-promoters Irv Schaefer and Ben "Bentley" to present plans for seating arrangements and scaling of the Amphitheatre which can accommodate about 15,000.

Schaefer said he will shoot for a live date of about one-half million dollars.

Mike Malliz, a spokesman for Main Bout, Inc., said the fight will be carried on closed-circuit television. Hubert Muhammad, son of Elijah Muhammad, who heads the Black Muslim movement, reportedly owns 50 percent of Main Bout, Inc.

Indications of a possible title bout in Chicago came Thursday when Terrell renewed his Illinois license. The Illinois commission asked Terrell if Glickman was his fight manager and Terrell said "no" his manager was "removed."

Terrell said Glickman was the booking agent for the fighter's manager, and he severed all relations with Glickman.

The March 29 date was demanded by the promoters in stead of April 12 or 19 which the Clay camp wanted. The promoters, it was believed, wanted the early date so as not to compete with the opening week of major league baseball.

The signing, which is a big day for Terrell whose chances of getting a shot at the title seemed highly refused a license in New York.

Clay's attorney, Elmer Jackson, explained the sudden change in attitude by saying the Illinois commission's action fitted Clay's plans to fight frequently.

Clay will receive 50 percent of the receipts and Terrell will get 20 percent.

Solons Pull Away In Third Period, Drop Filer 72-61

FILER — Gooding's Senators poured through points from well out on the court by three men and outscored the stubborn Filer Wildcats 72-61. There wasn't a basket's difference between the two clubs until well into the third quarter when Gooding suddenly burst into a seven-point lead and Filer could not come any closer than six thereafter, it closely resembled Gooding's earlier win over the Wildcats. In the third quarter of that game Filer moved in front 23-37 and then fell back under Gooding's assault. Saturday, the score favoring Gooding 41-35. Filer missed a crumple. The Senators picked up the next five points and the game, for all purposes, was over although Filer refused to give up.

Seattle Rips ISU, Breaks Point Record

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Seattle University drove past Idaho State University in a non-conference basketball game Friday night whipping the Bengals 117-79 and breaking a Chieftain scoring record.

Seattle's old record was set last season with a 117-87 decision over Gonzaga.

Idaho State couldn't stop the Chiefs and Seattle led 55-39 at halftime.

Dave Wagon, the Bengals' leading scorer, was held in check most of the night by Plummer Lott who held Wagon to only 16 points until five minutes left in the game.

Then Plummer let the game and Wagon was fouled several times. Wagon wound up plunking through long shots over the next three minutes while Lloyd Sanger and Lindsay Johnson hit well to keep Filer in contention.

Rusty Boyer, Larry Adamson and Jerry Gibbons took turns plunking through long shots over the next three minutes while Lloyd Sanger and Lindsay Johnson hit well to keep Filer in contention.

Twice Filer cut six-point deficits to two but Ron Adamson's field goal in the Senators carry a 38-22 lead into intermission.

Filer had the best of it as the third quarter opened and cut the lead to 41-39 when a Wildcat missed the crumple. Leonard Bay swept a free throw and the Adamson boys hit two each as Gooding hurried into its 48-30 lead.

Kimberly — Glenns Ferry scored half of its total free throw output in the fourth quarter Friday night as the Pilots took a 68-65 come-from-behind Little Six Conference victory over the Kimberly Bulldogs.

The Bulldogs, with a five-point lead going into the fourth, lost it with about five minutes remaining when Messerly dropped on a technical foul, and the score 22 points for the night, followed the free throws with two field goals and two free throws to give the Pilots a seven-point edge.

After that the Bulldogs could not get an attack going, missing several scoring opportunities while giving Glenns Ferry free more points from the charity stripe.

Hoffa's Idea to Organize Pro Athletes Has Failed Three Times in Baseball

NEW YORK (AP) — Before National League's passage of a $2,000 salary limit, a professional athletes' union, the Brotherhood of Professional Athletes, was organized by James R. Hoffa. Hoffa may want to review the past and experiences of O'Neill, Jim O'Rourke, Charley John Montgomery Ward, David Fultz and Robert Murphy.

They tried to organize major league baseball players, going back as far as 1890, and got exactly nowhere. These were the days before they paid outfielders $100,000 a year and gave $400,000 bonuses to football quarterbacks.

The last to seriously try it and fail was Murphy, a Harvard-educated labor organizer out of Boston. He went to the courts and to the National Labor Relations Board and once in 1946 — got the Pittsburgh Pirates to think about a showdown strike.

The ball players got cold feet at the last minute. Hoffa created a stir in sports circles Friday when he announced he was starting a drive to organize all professional athletes — football, baseball, basketball, hockey.

He named an aide, Harold J. Gibbons, to spearhead the drive and announced that an office would be set up to start signing up sports stars. The move drew only skepticism from sports officials and competitors.

Back in 1890, John Montgomery Ward, a star player with the New York Giants and later an attorney, led a campaign to organize the players of the Brotherhood of Baseball Players.

The move stemmed from the field.

Another strike threatened June 1, just before the game with the New York Giants. There was a long hassle in the dressing room. The players were 20 minutes late — but they finally took the field.

Kneec Takes 2 Shot Lead Into Last Day

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Harold (Catfish) Kneec shot an even par 72 for a 72-hole score of 277 Saturday, survived a sub-par by Arnold Palmer and Al Bessellink, and held on to the lead in the $100,000 Bob Hope Desert Golf Classic.

The 31-year-old Kneec, from Alton, Ill., has never won a major tournament in his six years on the PGA circuit but goes into the final round Sunday with a lead of two strokes over Palmer and the 41-year-old Bessellink.

"I would pick a 90-hole tournament to lead after 72 holes," Kneec said.

Palmer, several shots back when the round began under a heavy sky, blasted out a five-under par 32-35-67 and Bessellink had 31-37-68 for a 127 total.

Bill Casper Jr., whose 65 Friday left him two strokes behind Kneec, had a 74 and drifted back into a tie with Mike Souchock and Dudley Wigham who had 69.

MRS. NANCY SCHAFER, nurse on the pediatrics floor at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital, holds Alan McLean, a "very special" patient who, before he was 4 months old, underwent four major and three minor operations. Son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther McLean, Ketchum, he was released this week and is now at home. Two more minor operations face the baby, who set several records at the hospital. Born at Sun Valley hospital, Alan was just a day old when admitted as a patient here. Nurses report that the baby was a "good patient" and was the darling of the pediatrics section. 10 Doctors Pool Knowledge, Save Life of Ketchum Baby

When Alan McLean was born the odds were about 1,000 to 1 against his surviving. That was just four months ago.

Now he is home with his parents after having had four major and three minor operations, beginning at the fourth day of life. And you think you have worries? Alan must have been a worry wart right from the start, because a little over two weeks ago he developed a peptic ulcer. Fortunately, this has responded well to treatment.

Alan is alive today because of the teamwork of 10 doctors and many nurses at the Magic Valley Memorial Hospital. He still has two minor operations ahead of him, but the biggest battles have been won.

He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther McLean, Ketchum. It was last Oct. 5 when he was born at the Sun Valley hospital. He tipped the scales at only four pounds, six ounces. Finding something radically wrong with the child, the order came to rush him to the Magic Valley Memorial and he was admitted the following day, turning in then at a weight of four pounds and four ounces.

Alan had three medical strikes against him at the start. He was premature, he had no connection between his stomach and his mouth (esophageal-atresia) and there was abnormal communication between his stomach and trachea (tracheo-esophageal fistula).

In addition to all the operations, before he was 4 months old, Alan has set at least two records so far as the hospital in Twin Falls is concerned. He has had five cardiac arrests—his heart stopped beating—and he had an endotracheal tube indwelling in his trachea for eight days.

During the cardiac arrests, doctors and nurses were in immediate attendance and he suffered no real or lasting effects. Each time the heart responded to immediate external massage, records show.

Alan proved to be the darling of the pediatric section during his stay. Nurses report that he never seemed to complain, staying around a hospital while before being taken home.

A list of the doctors participating in the successful fight to see that Alan got to reach his home reads like a who's-who-of the hospital list. There were three pediatricians, including the one in charge; there were two surgeons, a radiologist, two pathologists, and two anesthesiologists.

And so now, thanks to medical cooperation and know how, Alan is "at home" in Ketchum. The two additional minor operations he faces do not worry him. Being only 4 months old does have advantages.

Tour Is Made by Cub Den

It is all part of a program to show younger Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts that there is much more to the world than they see in the living room of their home or by looking out the front window of the house.

The plan is to show them, by actual visits and first person experiences, that it takes all kinds of people — and industries and jobs — to make up the world in which they live.

The program is carried on by individual troops and packs. It is coordinated by "headquarters" and each month is designed to feature a different experience for the youngsters.

For instance, the month of January saw the trucking industry featured and, as a result, many scouts and cubs know more about that segment

James Pennock Ends 33 Sugar Campaigns Here

When James E. Pennock, 33, ended up his stint with the Amalgamated Sugar Co. this morning, he had hung up a record which will be something to match.

Company records show Pennock had completed a total of 33 campaigns at the factory. In addition, he had been around long enough that during summer employment, while a local student, he had helped construct the building. He ended up his stint with the Amalgamated as a special benchman in the laboratory. He was working the midnight to 8 a.m. shift and said:

"Well, at least getting off firm, he was presented with a wrist watch—from fellow employees. This brought a smile too. "Heck," he said, "here I'll not have anyone in particular.

The factory, of course, has operated more than 33 years which Pennock has been employed, but he has been with the concern for the great majority of the run.

"I was here with the first run in addition to helping put up the building," he pointed out. Just prior to his leaving the

People Who Hide Behind Age Not to Be Envied

(Editor's Note: This is the last in a series of articles dealing with the thoughts of senior citizens and the lives which they live in the coming generations.)

By PHILLIP J. LOWMAN
Mrs. John E. Hayes is a woman who can match wits with the sharpest shooter around.

She wouldn't give her exact age but said, "I was born in the year of the Charleston earthquake." You only have to look into her sparkling, pale blue eyes to know she is still full of life. Her gait is agile and she can't sit still.

"Mrs. Hayes said, "Age has next to no limitation on me. Too many people hide behind age and they fall to grow."

Mrs. Hayes was born "up at Rock Creek," as moved to Twin Falls in 1906. She married John E. Hayes—the Christmas of 1903 and said the only reason they didn't move to Twin Falls prior to 1906 was because they had to wait for shingles for their home.

According to Mrs. Hayes, Twin Falls, in 1906, was a virtual wilderness. There were no doctors, dentists or bakers. When her father bought the Rock Creek store in 1900 people came all the way from Three Creek for groceries, semi-annually.

There were no canned goods in those days. If you wanted eggs you owned chickens, and this followed suit with all basic necessities.

By 1905 Twin Falls "even had board sidewalks" and quite a few of the houses had running water.

Twin Falls has always had trouble with its water supply and Mrs. Hayes said, "In 1906 I saw a small fish come out of one of our water taps. I heard rumors that there were some frogs, too, but I never saw one."

According to Mrs. Hayes, Twin Falls has always been a "hardly a hard start, and even in its early stages the women got together for social affairs and formed the Springs Literary Club, which is still active to row across the Snake River and scale the canyon wall.

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

Many years of work and effort on the part of SHOSHONE American Legion members has been climaxed with the official turning over to the city the local recreation management of the local recreation field. Boosters claim the field is "one of the finest recreation fields in the state, along with the summer recreation program." More than 15 years ago the city council attempted summer programs for boys and girls and hired instructors for various types of activity. Mostly the attempts from the rather slim lighting fund available at the time.

More financial aid came $500 from the county fair board since the lights assist in fair activities and $500 from the school district to aid in the football portion of the new field.

Kenneth Rosecrans, Kenneth Blackburn, local managers, and Robert Vernon, commercial representative of the Idaho Power Co., assisted greatly in the technical work and power company crews erected the poles at rather low labor rates.

In the meantime, Legionnaires had put in long hours of work treating the poles, checking the surplus parts and attending to the never-ending details of work.

Bate succeeded Martindale as commander. The Legion assistant, Roger Kelley, was kept busy in clerical work. Pagana carried the brunt of the work arrangements.

There were some 43 light fixtures left over after lighting fixtures for use by the fair board, Shoshone's riding club and tennis courts. Extras were sold to a Kimberly organization and to others for a return of about $200.

The new system was in use for the 1964 Pony League baseball tournament and the 1964 football season and drew admiring remarks from visitors from surrounding towns.

Dr. Arthur White succeeded Charles Bate as commander and the additional work of straightening some of the poles and at-

Definite action came on March 18, 1963, and the first money came from a bowling tournament with assistance in prizes from Haddock, Bate and C. M. Pettick. Total revenue from bowling eventually amounted to $354.50.

In June 1963, the Rotary Club donated $100, later increasing the amount to $500.

In July that year, the city council adopted $1000 from the recreation fund. In September, the proposal was enlarged by including enough lights for a combined baseball and football field and Idaho Power officials were helpful in estimating costs. Estimated costs mounted, however, because of the double purpose of the lights.

In December, 1963, about $27,100 seemed available. Commander Martindale named Haddock, Joe Pagana and Herb Love as a committee with power to make purchases of lighting materials.

Then in February, 1964, the committee learned that the Fish and Game Department had purchased the former Boise Braves baseball field and desired to sell the excellent set of high poles and good lighting fixtures.

At a special meeting of the local Legion, a bid of $701 was voted.

A new committee was named for inspection of the system and William Thomson, Joe Broyles, E. I. Shaw and Commander Martindale and Joe-Pagana went to Boise, inspected the system, confirmed the bid and arranged for transportation of the equipment.

Hal Ross was Legion finance officer and responsible for the payments and partial payments

(Continued From Page 23) go or no time in particular to get up and they give me a watch. I do appreciate it, though, because it will at least give me something to watch.

He was born in Boulder, Colo., and came to Twin Falls with his parents in 1907. He was a student at the old Bickel School through the eighth grade. His father was one of the early contractors in Twin Falls.

He and his wife, the late Rachel Pennock, were married at Samaria, Idaho, near Pocatello, in 1924. They were the parents of 11 children. Ten are still living. One boy, Jerry, died in 1955.

While a senior at the local high school, in early in his marriage, Pennock decided that he would leave no stone unturned in an effort to see that all the children received a better education than he had been able to get. As a result, the accomplishments of the children are numerous.

James E. Pennock is a pharmacy salesman residing in Phoenix, Ariz. Coleen is a registered nurse, married to a physician, Dr. William Patton, and lives in Atlanta, Ga.; Thomas Pennock is an official with the U.S. Steel Co., at Idaho Falls.

Don Pennock is a medical attendant at the veterans' hospital at Salt Lake City.

Marjorie is now Mrs. Wayne Haws, a registered nurse living in Payson, Utah, and Robert Pennock is a research chemist with the American Potato Co. at Blackfoot, William Pennock still resides at home in Twin Falls and, Mionne, now Mrs. David Jarnum, is a school teacher at Santa Clara, Calif.

Julia, now Mrs. Wayne Moss, is a registered nurse in Sacramento, Calif., and Michael Pennock is a student at the American River College, also in Sacramento.

"I'm really proud of those kids, every one of them," he said. "They have given me 27 grandchildren and I hope that I live long enough to become a great-grandfather. But, even if I never get that far along, it has been a rewarding life just the way it has been."

Pennock said that after a trip to Sacramento and Phoenix, he plans to return to Twin Falls and catch up on a few things.

In addition to employment at the sugar company, he has completed eight years with the Twin Falls Canal Co., and a time with Neilson and Miller, a local contracting firm. In addition to laboratory work with the sugar company he was, at one time, maintenance and repair foreman with that firm.

Idaho's Concern Relative to Salmon Fishing Shown in Coast Presentation

(EDITORIAL NOTE: The following is the text of the presentation made by the Idaho Fish and Game Commission to the fish regulatory commission of Oregon, Washington and Idaho at a meeting in Portland, Oregon, Jan. 1966.)

BOISE The commercial fishing season for spring chinook salmon, the first group of fish entering the Columbia River which come to Idaho, will be set in April by the fish commissions of Oregon and Washington when more data on the size of this year's run is available. Seasonal summer chinook salmon and steelhead trout, the other two groups of fish which enter Idaho, will be set late in May or early June.

At the recent meeting in Portland, the regulatory agencies of Oregon and Washington did establish winter of commercial fishing seasons. The fish harvested during this season enter streams below Bonneville Dam. The winter, 1965, season is the same as it was in 1965.

The Portland meeting was well attended by Idaho sportsmen, members of Congress, representatives and a state legislator, as well as by the fish and game commission, the Department Director and staff members of the fisheries division. The Idaho Fish and Game Commission. The event was the past year related to the upriver races of spring and summer chinook salmon and steelhead. The meeting generated much concern, disappointment, and anxiety among all groups of people with an interest in these resources.

Because of an unavoidable error in estimating the run size of spring chinook upstream, by high losses of all fish between Bonneville and Ice Harbor dams, the escapement of all runs into the Snake River system was far below the minimum desired escapement level.

The Idaho Fish and Game Commission has estimated that the past year's run of spring chinook in Idaho was eliminated in 1965 to allow a maximum spawning escapement of small fish which entered the streams. Even with no harvest in Idaho, there were only 15,000 to 20,000 fish in the Snake River system in 1965 as there were in 1964.

The factors which caused annual escapement in 1965 are potential problems again in 1966. Action must be taken to insure an adequate escapement of small fish below the dam. We submit for your consideration the following comments and suggestions.

As a result of the error in estimating run size, a migration delay due to freshets and an expanded Indian fishery, the commercial harvest of spring chinook in 1965 was approximately 33,000 fish, or 59 per cent of the run.

The escapement beyond the Indian fishery was calculated to be 64,511 fish, or 15,000 to 20,000 fish below the desired escapement range of 80,000 to 100,000 fish. The smaller-than-desired escapement in 1965 has reduced commercial fisheries was further reduced by unusually high losses of fish between Bonneville and Ice Harbor dams.

Mobile Homes Becoming More Popular As Year-Round Family Residence

NEW YORK (UPI) — The mobile home family need not be in fact, probably is not nomadic, and it isn't necessarily cramped for space.

Mobile home living has undergone dramatic change in the last 15 years but the public's ideas are often as old as the old "trailer" label, now an obvious misnomer.

Modern mobile or, more suitably, relocatable housing is a growing factor in American living, accounting for one out of every six new homes, according to F. L. Cappert, president of Magnolia Homes, Vicksburg, Miss., a major mobile home producer.

No longer are mobile homes used only for summer vacations or in southern climates. They are built today for year-round, comfortable family living in any climate.

At the present time, Cappert said, more than 4 million persons in the United States call a mobile house their home.

Nearly half of all units sold are sold in the northern half of the nation. Of more than 1,700,000 mobile homes produced since World War II, 70 per cent currently are being used as primary "dwelling" units. Some 80 per cent of all mobile homes are used as full-time housing.

Mobile home living has changed a great deal since the days of the "light little trailers" that became familiar sights in America in 1945, Cappert said. Living space today is comparable or superior to the average conventionally built house, he said.

"New design techniques have enabled us to put these units in the luxury class, both in space and furnishings, without a corresponding increase in the cost per square foot," he pointed out.

Mobile homes, completely furnished, cost an average $8 a square foot. Regular housing, without any furnishings at all, averages $14 a square foot. Mobile homes range in price from $3,000 to $12,000 with an average selling price of $5,000.

Expandable and mobile units are beginning to dominate the mobile home market, Cappert said. Expandable models travel over the road as 16-foot wide units, then expand via telescopic jacks to provide additional on-site living space. Also becoming popular, he said, are units to provide adequate escapement for spawning purposes.

In order that there be no further misunderstandings, we would like to make it abundantly clear that if there is a commercial season in 1966 on upriver spring or summer chinook salmon stocks in Idaho, then we will not entirely forego a salmon season in Idaho again.

If there are closures of commercial fishing, the extent of our seasons will depend on the counts over Ice Harbor Dam. If season adjustments are necessary in order to protect the fish runs, they will be correlated with the size of runs coming into the state.

Our Commission is keenly aware of the fact that our testimony here today is by invitation. There is a genuine feeling building in the States of Oregon, Washington, and Idaho that managements of the magnificent fish in the Columbia River should be a "joint responsibility" of all the fishery agencies of the three states involved.

We wholeheartedly subscribe to this philosophy. Greater understanding and increased cooperation is imperative if the multiple demands being placed on fish resources are to be met now and in the future.

Speaking on behalf of the Idaho Fish and Game Commission, we wish to thank you for the opportunity to present our views and recommendations on this matter and know that they will receive your full consideration.

that mobile living is particularly attractive to young marrieds and to retired couples. Young families are attracted to mobile homes because of low cost, completeness of furnishings and ease of financing.

Many retired couples see a mobile home as modest investment—which gives them comfort, easy maintenance, and the congenial surroundings of mobile home park.

Attracted, too, are people whose jobs demand mobility, such as engineers and skilled workers who are often on the move.

MAGIC VALLEY PORTRAIT . . .

High School Dean Says Modern Youth Not Much Different Than Oldsters

As a boy in his native South Dakota, Richard A. Baun had a good thing going. He used to trade Indian arrowheads for warblers.

The Indian relics were found by him when exploring burial grounds near the Standing Rock Reservation, populated by the Sioux.

Baun now has another good thing going. He is dean of students and vice principal at Twin Falls High School. His object now is to ease in turning out a young man or woman ready and capable of taking an active place in life.

This he finds, has more challenges than he ever found getting rid of the arrowheads for the warblers.

He is not too critical of modern youth, saying that the youths of today are, for the most part, very similar to their fathers and mothers of 40 years ago.

"The environment has changed, bringing about changes in things that they do and the activities in which they participate. But on the whole, the juvenile delinquency, the school drop-outs and the problems which see youngsters ending up in court are just about the same as they were in 1926," Baun declared.

He points out that today much more stress and publicity is placed on youth activities, but adds that with the population nearly double since that time the problems normally will double too.

The school administrator points out that most of the drop-outs today follow a definite pattern and that a potential drop out can be predicted.

"The problem is very complex," Baun said, "but it can be helped a great deal by a closer cooperation between the parent and the school. A well disciplined school is the first requisite for effective learning."

He said there are two sides to all questions, pointing out that "the guiding principle in all disciplinary matters is the application of good sound judgment in upholding the authority and prestige of the teacher without sacrificing the essential freedom of the individual pupil."

One secret, he said, in the association between high school teachers and officials and the students is to talk to the students first, not as a grown-up to a child.

It was March 8, 1926, when Baun was born at McBride, S. D. He was one of six children. He attended schools at his native town and was graduated from the high school there in 1944.

RICHARD A. BAUN

He points out that he was raised "on the banks of the muddy Missouri" and that he was a hunter, a fisherman, and the swimming and fishing was out of this world.

At an early age he became interested in athletics and, during the summer months, managed to play vacant lot basketball or football from eight to 10 hours most days. The first organized sports in which he engaged were in the seventh and eighth grades. The team "on which he was a member won 30 out of 31 games in a two-year span."

In high school he was a starter as a freshman in basketball and the other members of the team were all seniors. He won letters in basketball four years, track and football three years each.

The basketball teams on which he played won third place in the state tournament in 1942 and were state champions in 1943 and 1944.

In 1943 and 1944 he was named to the all-state basketball team in South Dakota and as a sophomore in 1942 gained honorable mention.

Just seven days after high school graduation he had entered the Navy and was in boot camp at the new training center at Farragut, Idaho. This was his first look at the state and it impressed him.

"After the rolling hills of my native state, these Idaho mountains were really something. I made up my mind right then that it was a swell place," Baun said.

...Even today he declares that people who have lived here all their lives do not realize what a wonderful state they have and as a result take the state's resources and scenery for granted.

He spent eight weeks at Farragut and from there was sent to the small craft training center in San Diego. He became a member of the amphibious forces, a group that specialized in invasion landings. He was then assigned to the USS Carley, APA 69, and was sent to the South Pacific.

He spent over two years in that area "getting well acquainted with those little pieces of coral called islands."

He was in the Pacific when the war ended and had what he laughingly calls "a vacation cruise" back to Seattle and then through the Panama Canal to New Orleans.

MOODY - AIR FORCE BASE, OK. (AP) - The Air Force admits defeat in its battle with the birds.

For the second night, huge photoflash bombs were set off in an area of the base to scare away flocks of blackbirds and starlings which are a hazard to aviation.

However, Maj. James T. Gillian, chief engineer at Moody, said he is very disappointed after the first test. Results of the second test Thursday night when two of the huge photoflash bombs were used, are Gillian said the birds are as numerous as ever.

that area "getting well acquainted with those little pieces of coral called islands."

He was in the Pacific when the war ended and had what he laughingly calls "a vacation cruise" back to Seattle and then through the Panama Canal to New Orleans.

He entered Yankton College in South Dakota in the fall of 1946. He majored in political science and three years running lettered in football, basketball and track.

In the fall of 1949 he was married to Mary-Louise at Aberdeen. His first teaching and coaching job was at Andover, S. D., in 1949 and 1950.

"It taught me five different courses," taught—all athletic classes in grades 3 through 12 for both girls and boys, taught physical education, coached basketball and track on the varsity level. For this he received $2,000 a year.

"And that salary was a good, high one," he smiles.

His next job was at Effington, where he was school dean and coach and started a program of six-man football. This was most interesting, he said.

...In 1950 he moved to Twin Falls and taught history at the high school, also taking over the duties of line coach in football.

In 1950 he became dean of boys and in 1952 dean of students and vice principal.

He has been active in community work, serving as a member of the board of the parks and recreation committee and as a member of the board of the YMCA.

"He holds memberships in the Southern Idaho Fish and Game Association, the Idaho Education and the National Education Association. He also is a member of the Masonic Lodge affiliated at New Effington, S. D."

He is the father of four children, two boys and two girls. The oldest daughter, Dale, is a sophomore at the high school here while Linda is a student at Robert Stuart Junior

MODERN EQUIPMENT was featured during the Industrial tour which Cub Scouts took as they looked over the trucking industry equipment. But this old truck also came in for a share of attention. It has been operated in local parades by the Ralph Harris concern and is one of the oldest "moving" trucks in the city. Here Alax Bland stands in the truck bed while Brad-

Wills does the "driving." Mrs. E. B. Dehoney, Den four den-mother, looks on. Bland is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Bland, while Wills is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wills. The tour was designed to show the world around them. Tours involving other industries are planned for the future. (Times-News photo) that no other country in the world has truck transportation of the American way of life like the United States.

They were also told that the number of transport trucks in the United States numbered about 13 million and, if they were all put end to end along a road, the line would extend around the world at the equator.

The boys (and some of their mothers) were told that the number of transport trucks in the United States numbered about 13 million and, if they were all put end to end along a road, the line would extend around the world at the equator.

Trucks, Brown told the youngsters, serve the farm, small business, industry—in fact, every portion of the American economy. They even have trucks in operation now which can operate under water and those which have plastic rather than metal bodies.

Interesting, too, for the youngsters was the truck drivers' dictionary which they all received, in addition to a book of life, repair shops and other goodies were waiting at the end of the line.

For instance, that an armstrong starter on a truck is a hand crank and that a bull hauler truck is one hauling livestock.

In addition they found that a cowboy is a reckless driver, a cement mixer is a truck with a policy engine or transmission, a drag down is when you shift too slowly to the lower gears, a pot is a flare put on the highway, a mule is a small tractor used to pull two-axle dollies in a warehouse and a hundred-mile coffee is a cup of coffee that will keep you awake that long.

The booklets, which were given to tour participants, were obtained for the occasion from the American Trucking Association, Inc. Warehousing facilities, repair shops and other goodies were waiting at the end of the line.

Needless to say, the south end of town was a bit on the "polish" side for awhile as the boys took their turns. Many of them slipped in an extra "foot" or two.

Scout officials are high in their praise for this sort of program which gets the cubs and young scouts out into the field of everyday life. Other tours have been made of processing plants, railroad yards, airports, newspapers and hospitals.

The tour which featured the trucking industry background ended up as do all tours of this nature. A bottle of "pop" and other goodies were waiting at the end of the line.

shown to the cubs during the afternoon.

But the big event for many of them came when one of the big "rigs" was started—and each boy, individually, was allowed to climb up into the cab, get behind the wheel with the truck motor running and pull the chain which activated the tire horn.

U.S. and Australian Forces Uncover Underground World of Viet Tunnels

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—An underground world of tunnels and subterranean rooms where Viet Cong sleep and eat, and where South Viet Nam forces and allied forces under the Ho Chi Minh tunnel system of Saigon.

The intricate complex, reaching down three levels at some places, stretched for miles in a straight line. Numerous subsidiary tunnels were discovered.

Some observers believe the Ho Chi tunnels are the main part

Fire Chief At Rupert Quits Post

RUPERT — The Rupert city council has accepted the resignation of Bill Cowell, who has served as fire chief for almost seven years.

The council accepted the resignation of Bill Cowell, 52, of 1001 E. Main St., who has served as fire chief for almost seven years.

The council opened bids for a new fire truck for $2,387. The council also accepted the resignation of Bill Cowell, 52, of 1001 E. Main St., who has served as fire chief for almost seven years.

The council also passed a resolution favoring the proposed merger of Union Pacific and Rock Island railroads to be sent to the Interstate Commerce Commission, and a resolution recommending to the state a study of aviation needs in reference to economic growth in Idaho.

A letter was read from the city's consulting engineers, Hamilton and Voeller, concerning sewer construction for Rolland Jones' proposed processing plant and listing two plans with estimated costs for sewer facilities.

In other business, the council approved attendance of McLane at a school for building officials in Pocatello, Monday through Feb. 11, set the city budget hearing for 7 p. m. Feb. 14 and issued permits for erection of a sign for Rupert Auto and remodeling of a carport for G. P. McLister.

License Deadline Given for Dogs

BUILT—Deadline for licensing dogs within the city of Bull is Feb. 15, it was announced Thursday by city officials.

The owner of any dog who fails to license his dog and show proof of vaccination for rabies by the deadline will be liable for a $10 fine. Residents who had their dogs vaccinated in 1965 need not have their dogs vaccinated as this is only required every other year.

However, when applying for renewal of license, owners must show proof of vaccination.

The deadline for licensing bicycles within the city is also Feb. 15. The owner of any bicycle who fails to license his bicycle by the deadline will be fined $10.

In searching the tunnel area because they were too big to get through some places cut out for the smaller Vietnamese. The Australians used a dog to assist them.

The allied forces believe the tunnel system has been gradually developed for 5 to 10 years. They think that the Viet Cong were planning to link it with a major force. Probably two battalions were in there when the tunnel system was first built.

However, when the allies left the region they were still under occasional sniper fire.

The allied forces say they inflicted considerable damage on the tunnel system. "It will take them a long time to rebuild them," Colonel Tyler said.
