Senate Unit May Ask Humphrey to Testify on Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The sharply divided Senate Foreign Relations Committee agreed formally today to renew its request to Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey to testify on Viet Nam policy. It did so at a closed session in which informal agreement also was reached to start voting Friday on President Johnson's request for $415 million more in foreign aid for Viet Nam. Before the voting the committee will take testimony behind closed doors on Thursday.

Chairman J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., said the committee agreed to ask Humphrey to appear at a closed session to talk about his trip and his announcement that he would support the $415 million more in aid for Viet Nam. The committee also may ask to see a copy of the memorandum that Johnson sent to the Senate on Feb. 25, 1967, after a personal trip to Viet Nam.

Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., said he supports the President's position that any Communist representation in a South Viet Nam government is a matter of negotiation. Mansfield commented as administration forces moved to force a showdown on a pair of embattled bills bearing on the Southeast Asian war.

Senators also may get a chance late today to vote on a proposal to rescind or modify the 1964 Gulf of Tonkin resolution passed by President Johnson as giving him the authority to take any steps necessary to repel or prevent aggression in Southeast Asia.

One of the leading critics of the Johnson Viet Nam policy, Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., promised to introduce the proposal in an amendment to the Vietnam money bill.

If he does, Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Armed Services Committee, said he would oppose the amendment with a substitute proposal to reaffirm the resolution. Russell said he has the vote to win.

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — French President Charles de Gaulle blackballed Britain today as it tried to join three years ago. Now there is a new interest in bringing in Britain and other West European countries.

But little can be done about it here. Nothing new can happen until De Gaulle gives some official sign that he has changed his mind.

2 U.S. Astronauts Are Killed as Jet Crashes Into Plant

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — U.S. astronauts Elliot M. See Jr. and Charles A. Bassett Jr. were slain today when their T-38 jet trainer crashed into the plant here where their space capsule was built. See, 38, and Bassett, 33, were flying the McDonnell Aircraft Corp. when their T38 jet trainer crashed into the roof of the space center at McDonnell's huge complex.

McDonnell makes the Gemini spacecraft as well as Phantom jet fighter planes used by the Air Force.

Ten persons working on a Phantom fighter were injured when the plane crashed at 9 a.m. (CST) into the top of the building, skidded over the roof and then crashed into a construction area below.

The plane hit into flames and was destroyed. Witnesses, who heard a series of booms before the plane exploded, said both bodies were thrown out by the impact. Flames and smoke then poured into the site.

None of the 10 injured was believed hurt seriously. The plane was making an instrument landing at 110 knots when it crashed. Another T38 jet trainer, also circling the area, landed safely.

The Federal Aviation Agency said the cause of the crash was "a series of errors." The T38 jet trainer was carrying two astronauts, Elliot M. See Jr. and Charles A. Bassett Jr. The plane was carrying two astronauts, Elliot M. See Jr. and Charles A. Bassett Jr.

Weather Satellite Soars Into Orbit

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Essa 2, a mechanical meteorologist designed to snap and transmit cloud and storm pattern photos almost in the twinkling of its camera eyes, soared into orbit today to complete the world's first operational space weather reporting network.

Together with the earlier ESSA 1, the new weather watcher will provide a combination of global coverage every day and instant pictures to local forecasters in 22 nations.

Dubbed "everyman's satellite" because of its potential usefulness to all countries, the new weather observer thundered away from Cape Kennedy right on schedule at 10:28 a.m.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced the success of the flight and called it the most successful ESSA 2.

Absenteeism in Area Schools Increasing

Absenteeism caused by influenza continued to plague Magic Valley schools Monday, school officials reported. The number of Twin Falls students absent increased to 15.5 per cent over the weekend. Last week there were about 10 per cent of the students absent. Twin Falls school officials report that 916 of the 5,913 registered students were absent Monday morning.

In Minidoka County all schools were reported to be having normal absenteeism. Eighteen per cent of the students were reported to be absent Monday morning in these two schools however, but no plans were being made to close them yet.

In Blaine County schools, which some were forced to close last week, were almost back to normal Monday morning with less than three per cent of the students absent.

In general, statistics show a decline in absenteeism in elementary schools throughout Magic Valley and a general decrease in high school absenteeism was also reported.

Safe Taken From Western Auto Store

The Western Auto Supply Co. was broken into sometime between 6 p.m. Saturday and 6 p.m. Sunday and the unknown amount of money was taken. A 200-pound safe belonging to the store, according to Twin Falls Police Chief Frank Barnett.

Barnett said the person or persons broke in through the roof, opened the back door and left with a safe valued at approximately $300 in cash. He said this is one of the most serious break-ins in a long while because nothing in the store was touched, with the exception of the safe.

The safe was recovered by Robert Ellis, store manager, and according to police, neither the safe nor any of its contents have been recovered.

Investigation is continuing.

Touch of Beauty

BY MARY JANE MITCHELL
Victoria, British Columbia,
Canada

I found tragic circumstances
I found myself at 18 in a large city, alone and with very little education.

By going from one migrant job to another I had managed to eke out a scanty living.

One day a tiny room with above a grocery store in a sort of neighborhood. I was very unhappy and lonely.

One particular evening, I simply could no longer tolerate the confinement of my stuffy room.
It was spring. I went down the back stairs into the yard for a breath of fresh air.

I ramshackle shed, so it packing cases, and an unsightly incinerator met my eyes. But as I walked past the shed, the air was filled with an exquisite perfume.

"There, against the old back tree, dripping with gorgeous blossoms.

So Much Beauty
I was thrilled at beholding so much beauty in such a place, and I stood silently with my face buried in the blossoms, inhaling the wonderful fragrance.

Later, I went to my landlady and asked her permission to pick some of the flowers.

"Take all you want," she said. "They're going to waste back there."

I was in my glory as I picked the blossoms — I simply could not stop.

I filled a tub with water and put them in it overnight. Now, with a huge bouquet in my room, I seemed to get a new lease on life. I made my room shine.

I washed my blouses, lingerie and hair. I even turned the ribbon band on my imitation Panama hat and met to bed tired but happy.

New Eagerness
In the morning I was aware of a new sense of eagerness to meet the day. Heretofore, I had been reluctant to go to work. The street cars were crowded, and everyone seemed cranky. Nobody ever spoke to me.

This morning, however, was different. My arms were filled with my precious lilacs.

The motorman smiled at me and said, "Spring has arrived!"

I found a seat next to a middle-aged lady. She started her face in the blossoms, as I had done the night before, and murmured, "Oh, how beautiful! It's been a long time since I have seen lilacs like those."

I asked her if she was going to work. She said, no, she was going to take care of her grandchildren; her daughter was not feeling well.

"Would you like to take her a bouquet of these?"

"Oh, no," she replied eagerly.
"Could you spare them? I'd love some."

I gave her a bunch.

Passed Them Around
A lady behind us, hearing our conversation, asked if I could spare her a few. An old gentleman said to me as we got off the car, "Oh, to be young and have stars in your eyes!"

I smiled at him and, as I turned away, I pressed a spray of lilacs into his hand.

Soon I arrived at the large 10-cent store where I worked.
The matron-in-charge and lunch rooms always had seemed dour and surly, and had never seemed to notice me. She turned quickly as I touched her light on the shoulder, and offered her the remainder of my lilacs.

"Well!" she exclaimed, "that's the nicest thing I've had happen to me in a long time. I'll put them right in the middle of the luncheon table, where we can all enjoy them."

At lunch time she came and put her arms about my shoulder.
"Girls," she announced, "this is Mary Jane. She brought us the lovely lilacs."

Someone exclaimed, "There's a place here, Mary Jane. Com-sit with us."

Friends Now
Now I had friends. On the same day that evening, I had no lilacs, but I smiled at people and they smiled back.

That evening, thinking over the day, I was surprised to find I was actually looking forward to tomorrow, and I asked myself why. I had no more money or clothes (which I needed badly) than before — everything was just the same, but I had the friends I had been hungry for.

I had been so happy that day because I had something to give. I had begun to realize that many people are hungry for a touch of beauty as I was and just as lonely.

That day was the beginning of the end of my sense of self-pity and inferiority. Since then, whenever I have felt depressed
I have remembered the remedy.

Economist Avoids Monetary Policy Debate

WASHINGTON (AP)—A middle-of-the-road economist nominated for a seat on the Federal Reserve Board said today he would steer clear of what he termed the "great debate" on the nation's monetary policy.

Andrew J. Brimmer, now assistant secretary of commerce for economic affairs, was asked in an interview if he had taken any position of the issue of "tight or easy money."

"No, and I don't intend to take one at this point," he said.
The 39-year-old former college professor.

President Johnson named Brimmer, a Negro, to a 14-year term on the seven-member board last Saturday. If confirmed by the Senate, he will succeed C.
Canby Balderston, whose term has expired, and will be the first Negro to serve on the board.

Johnson criticized the board in December when it voted 4 to 3, with Balderston in the majority, to increase from 4 to 4½ percent the discount rate banks pay the Federal Reserve when they borrow money.

But Martin halted Brimmer's
"very commendable record" as a member of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York in 1955-58.

The bulk of Brimmer's economic experience has been in the academic field. He obtained bachelor's and master's degrees at the University of Harvard, a doctorate at Harvard, spent a year in India under a Fulbright scholarship and taught at the University of Washington, Harvard, College of New York, Massachusetts Institute of Technology and the University of Pennsylvania.

Brimmer joined the Commerce Department three years ago. He frequently sat in on

Cling to Tradition

Surprisingly an occasional citizen still wonders out loud why Idaho counties can't be represented in the state's Legislature anymore. It's not unusual to have someone inquire why each county can't be assured of at least one senator or representative. The answer, of course, is that state legislators will represent people, not geographical areas.

The theory is correct, of course, but it doesn't explain why Idaho counties are still represented in the state's Legislature. For instance, if Clark County population, 915, were assured of one senator, it would automatically mean the Senate would have 729 members. And to keep within the Senate's one-man, one-vote ruling, Ada County with its population of 53,460, would be allotted 102 senators. It may not be impossible, but it's certainly impractical.

It serves to emphasize all over again that the present government is that of the days of transportation and instant communication there's little or no justification for a unit of government that was quite well suited to the needs of a horse and buggy economy. If citizens still permit the Supreme Court to serve as a guide in breaking with tradition, it can be used as the principle for general reorganization of government designed to serve people, not geographical areas.

Perhaps interested Idahoans, now involved in working on means of revising the state's ancient and obsolete Constitution, can incorporate into the new document a means of breaking with tradition in this respect. It has been reported that the new draft of the Idaho Constitution includes a provision that Idaho can never eliminate a county. As a result, the state has 45 counties, instead of the 44 presently functioning.

How can a state grow and keep pace with modern methods and techniques when even its Constitution clings to tradition? Tradition, of course, is certainly shouldn't be permitted to interfere with progress. There are some cases in which tradition should persevere over progress, but these involve mostly matters of principle, matters of basic freedoms and some matters relating to the emotions. When it comes to conducting the public's business, the public is entitled to benefit from economy and sensible operation such as would prevail in any private enterprise.

Retaining the present system of counties in Idaho makes just as much sense as restricting use of automobiles to a few arterial highways and requiring travel by horse and buggy on all other streets and roads. The county system is plain-ly out of step with the times.

UTOPIA UNLIMITED
A recent recommendation for a guaranteed minimum annual income must have brought wide smiles to all the loafers, provision seekers of charity, lazy individuals and the whole variety of persons who'd just as soon work for a living. It's an astonishing proposal that runs counter to all the basic principles credited for making a great nation of this country. A guaranteed minimum annual income suddenly shifts the entire responsibility for the individual to society in general besides putting undue emphasis on laziness and shiftlessness.

The guaranteed income provision was only one of dozens of recommendations from a 14-member National Council on Technology, Automation and Economic Progress. The group was created by President Johnson to study "technological unemployment and obsolescence." As an example of the Utopia the committee expects, it anticipates productivity gains in the next 20 years, if converted to added leisure, will result in a work week of 22 hours and a standard retirement age of 35.

The committee could be right. But if it is, the nation should start being alarmed. How long does anyone imagine the United States can maintain its freedom of expression and individual liberties with everyone being pulled into lethargy on the pursuit of personal pleasure? Here's the classic pattern that has been fatal to every advanced civilization since the dawn of time.

It is the opinion of this writer that the committee is correct in its recommendation of things to come, he should immediately create another committee. The new one might be named the Committee on Remote Possibilities of Saving Everybody from being referred to by its initials, naturally—CORPSE.

WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—Even citizens who hear their hair shorn and their heads washed over a pillow of home brew should be disturbed over the current administration of the Selective Service Act according to the whim of the Director, Gen. Lewis B. Hershey.

Hershey keeps insisting that his outfit has the best right to the military Americans straight into the armed forces if they violate the draft law or otherwise interfere with the military operation. He refers specifically to those University of Michigan students who are on the list of their student deferments and reclassified I-A after a six-in at the Ann Arbor, Mich., draft board.

AGAINST THE LAW—Although Hershey apparently intends to pay the Justice opinion no heed, it remains the only interpretation possible under the Republic's tradition of justice. That the Supreme Court has no transgression of law where persons merely express an opinion, and that there is transgression the sanctioning of such an opinion.

EAST IDAHO SKI BOOM
At first glance it might seem there will be a ski mountain for everyone in time. That's the impression some may have gotten from the reports of a possible new ski area in the Snake River valley.

The U. S. Forest Service in the past two weeks has announced plans for ski areas at the following locations: Peck and Lost Trail, Pass on the Continental Divide between Salmon and Hamilton, Mont.

Over top at Heben Mountain overlooking Heben Lake, still another major ski area is in the mill. In the same West Yellowstone Basin area, the high rise mountains, like at a rejuvenation of the old Lionhead ski hill. Action is expected sometime this year, on a new area north of Sun Valley, on Butterfield Creek.

And of course, Teton Village is now beginning to flower with three chair lifts already in use. The high rise mountains, like at a rejuvenation of the old Lionhead ski hill. Action is expected sometime this year, on a new area north of Sun Valley, on Butterfield Creek.

LAUGHING MATTER?
Americans pride themselves on their irreverent attitude toward religion and what they feel is getting dignity. In silent movies a rich man expressing his top hat knocked off was good for a laugh. So it is with the "American" when he was introduced to European royalty and said in his big-hearted, friendly manner, "Howdy, King."

The Doctor Says

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M. D.
The problem of bedwetting in children appears to be more complex than it was once thought to be. There is undoubtedly an emotional factor in many, and probably most, cases. Too much emphasis on toilet training before a child reaches his third birthday, instead of preventing bedwetting, may aggravate it. Most children will establish the habit of staying dry quite spontaneously by the time they are five.

DOORWAY OPENINGS in one of the dye drops to be used as scenery for "The Music Man" next month are measured by Aldrich Bowler, Bliss, set designer and lighting technician for the Dilettante Group of Magic Valley production. Each phase of setting and lighting must be gone over in a scale model and then adapted to the stage at the Filer High School Auditorium. (Times-News photo)

Bliss Couple Handles Two of Most Important Jobs for "Music Man" Show

Aldrich Bowler, Bliss, a man who displays his savings off for whatever project he is involved at the moment — now is putting this enthusiasm to work for the Dilettante Group of Magic Valley.

This ambitious man and his wife have undertaken two of the most important jobs in the forthcoming production of "The Music Man." Mrs. Bowler is director and Bowler has taken on the task of set designer and lighting engineer.

This is no new proposition for Bowler, who has been actively engaged in most aspects of theatrical production throughout his career.

He became interested in theater in about 1933 and after graduation from the University of Idaho he went to New York where he became an apprentice with a theater group.

His years of first-hand theater work are paying off for the Dilettante group in the complicated lighting techniques and set design used in "The Music Man."

Set design and lighting, as designed by Bowler for the show, should lend itself to what he describes as "a family album type feeling." He hopes to, by the use of natural lighting and "soft-looking" scenery, make this impression upon audiences.

No small amount of effort and ingenuity is required for this job. Bowler discarded several ideas as too expensive for the amateur group or not workable on a small stage area such as the one at Filer.

Finally, the idea of dyeing unbleached muslin for use as sliding backdrops was decided upon. This thin material is easily pulled aside during scene changes and since the Filer High School Auditorium virtually has no stage left, this is an important item.

Since scene changes are numerous during the show, this is also important, since sliding drops are one of the quickest ways of changing scenes. Two "wagons" on wheels have also been built to aid in quick scene changes.

Bowler noted when "The Music Man" played on Broadway several ideas used there have been adapted by Bowler.

"Three dye drops are used and one 'iris act' drop, which are lightweight and easily stored on the right-hand portion of the stage.

Bowler said the least of a set designer's worries was getting drops painted. He said he and an assistant could start painting drops the night before the show and have them completed by curtain time. When "Bowler was playing in stock he recalls, curtains often went up while drops were still wet. However, he added, by the time the week's performance was up, "all was well as the sets were dry by then."

The "family album" impression is gained through unobtrusive costuming, lighting, that while being complicated, is used to appear natural, and "soft," appearing scenery. He noted in a musical comedy of the type of "The Music Man" these are all important aspects of production.

"Costuming, lighting and scenery are all layers over the actors of a show," he said, "but if the scenery intrudes, a scenic designer has defeated his purpose." This is the type of personality contained in Aldrich Bowler, one that understands all phases of theater production and busily can blend them all together to get the most effect from each.

"The idea and plan of a civic auditorium facility is a great step in the right direction for increasing the cultural interest in Magic Valley," Bowler said. "A facility of this type planned can be a real boon to all groups involved in an aspect of theater or music, and I feel this facility is very close to becoming a reality. Those involved in its organization are to be congratulated," he concluded.

"Tickets for 'The Music Man' will be staged March 19 through 18 and 18 through 18, are on sale at the Boy Scout Auditorium in Twin Falls. Special phone number for reserving tickets is 733-0575.

"In Castleford tickets can be obtained at Bill and Cecelia Buhl at Sav-Mor Drug, in Filer at Modern Drug, in Jerome at Sullivan's Music, in Kimberly at the Kimberly Drug, and in Burley at Mullikan Music.

Heavy Rain Hits Portion Of Country

By The Associated Press

Heavy rain hit the Southeastern portion of the nation today while rain, drizzle and fog dampened other sections.

Undercast clouds struck the Gulf Coast with the New Orleans Naval Air Station reporting more than 3 inches in six hours. Mobile, Ala., recorded 2.23 inches in two hours. Biloxi, Miss., also reported more than 2 inches and Pensacola, Fla., reported 1.27 inches.

The low pressure area in northern Texas causing the heavy Southeastern rains also brought drizzle and rain to a wide belt extending from the Southern and central Plains through the Ohio Valley to Virginia.

Fog closed both major airports at Kansas City, Mo., Sunday night. The fog was especially heavy through the lower Mississippi Valley with many cities reporting near zero visibility.

Black Muslim Leader Slams Dr. King

CHICAGO (AP)—The leader of the Black Muslims, a religious sect, says Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. doesn't understand the Negro's problems.

"Every white man is taking a pot shot on the highway at the Negro seeking freedom," said Imam, leader Elijah Muhammad said Sunday at the window of a two-day convention.

Muhammad, 58, said of the Negro Baptist minister: "King is a very nice man, but he is not from among our friendly people. King doesn't understand the Negro's problem. King says he loves whites and he wants to be their brother."

King, chairman of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, met here with Muhammad last week. King spends three days a week in Chicago where he ministered to the Negro.

Muhammad drew bursts of applause from the 6,000 followers in the Coliseum. He requested digs at the white man during a rambling 3-hour and 45-minute speech.

"I am a white man, whose skin is as white as yours," Muhammad said, "but I am a Negro in your eyes. You go to work and you see something to fight for. The whites don't want to go fight for their America. The Negroes want to go to America to fight for it."

Cassius Clay, the world heavyweight champion who came a Black Muslim three years ago, led the cheering and the clapping. He was seen from the speaking rostrum.

"Yes sir, yes sir," Clay, alias Muhammad Ali, yelled. "You teach me this Holy Messenger."

Muhammad, an ex-convict who was born Stanley Pool in Michigan, said he helped Clay to have a mild victory.

"God blessed Chicago with a good, mild winter because we have been in your midst," he said. "I was commissioned by Allah in prophecy. In the last messenger (don't look for another one. Behold me comes God)."

"The white-robed women were separated from the men in the Coliseum. The only whites were 10 reporters, who were searched five times over a half-hour period before being admitted to the building."

Muhammad, wearing a uniform and a crown, fed the shouting audience.

"I am a teacher of the prophets. What have they (the whites) taught for the last 20 years? The whites have taught words up and that's why we don't want them in our midst. That shows what devils these people are."

"Reveal 'em," Shouted Clay.

SENATOR SPEAKS
BOISE (AP) — Relieving hunger better than bullets for fighting Communism, an agriculture leader-in-Chief told Democrats here over the weekend.

Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., speaking at the Idaho Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner Saturday night, said American farm surpluses should be put to work to "feed the hungry abroad."

"Such a program," McGovern said, "can be financed at very little additional cost beyond that we are now paying the farmers not to produce."

DEFIES STATEMENT
BOISE (AP) — Gov. Robert E. Smylie said today he believes a statement by former Rep. Ralph H. Harding regarding lack of industrial growth in Idaho is not based on accurate statistics.

Harding, a prospective Democratic candidate for United States Senator, told a public group last week that Idaho's economy has been stunted by private power interests.

"Mr. Harding has been staying in Boise," Smylie said. "He is in defiance in response to a question, 'We've been growing.' That statement was emotionally conceived but is not statistically accurate."

Smylie said that, since Harding's statement, 25,000 jobs have been added to Idaho's economy.

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

MONDAY, Feb. 28 — Born today, you are self-confident and highly ambitious, but somewhat inclined to feel that the world does not give you the recognition you deserve. Take care that your confidence in your own abilities does not turn to arrogance, and that your ambition does not turn to wishful thinking as a result of not achieving your goals as rapidly as you think you should. Rome wasn't built in a day — what you all want most is a career.

TAURUS (April 21-May 21) — You should be able to accomplish even difficult projects with relative ease today. A banner day for the wise Taurus.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) — Combine business with pleasure and you should be able to give both yourself and your family what you all want most.

CANCER (June 22-July 23) — The cooperative Cancer should get his share of this day's benefits without making enemies.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) — Let your talents carry you where your personality might not seem to take you to on a high plane as your own. This is unfortunate because, if you carry this attitude to extremes, you may do yourself out of many a worthy friend merely because you will not give friendship a chance. You might be surprised at how successfully opposites can attract — and hold.

A person of seasons is that you do your best work during certain times of the year, you must learn to take your "off seasons" as periods for recovering the vast amount of energy spent during those times of hectic, sometimes even frantic activity. You will no doubt accomplish much in your lifetime but not unless you learn to relax and have fun when the opportunity presents itself.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Tuesday, March 28 (28-March 29) — Much of this day's success depends upon your being in good health physically and alert mentally.

WEDNESDAY (March 29-March 30) — Make an effort to be conciliatory should a difference of opinion arise on the employment scene. No time to make excuses.

NEW YORK (AP) - Heavy trading accompanied a further stock market recovery, driving early this afternoon. Aerospace defense, electronics, airlines and specialty situations were the main front of the advance which resumed where Friday's rally left off.

The latest advance of the market, after eight straight days of decline and only a few technical gains today. Today's rise was fuelled by reports indicating that the Vietnam would go on for years, despite the recent debate on U.S. policy there.

Booming steel and machine tool orders gave the continued recovery a good backdrop. Steels were only a bit ahead on balance. Rails, chemicals, oils and rubbers were slightly ahead.

The Associated Press average of 300 stocks at noon was up 2.23 at 653.23. The Dow Jones Industrial average at noon was up 2.23 at 653.23.

CBS closed shortly after noon on a gain of 300 shares, up 1/4 at 46. A gain was made despite a prominently published report that U.S. develops a missile which reproduces motion pictures through a television set.

Boeing and Douglas were up 1/2 each. Defense issues returned to favor. General Dynamics rose 1/2. Air Corp. spurred by news that the company plans five more communications satellites.

Cities Service, pf-1/4 at 46% on 10,000 shares, was the latest in a series of stable blocks in the market.

Up about 3 were United Air Lines, Polaroid (ex dividend) and American Telephone.

Fractional gains were made by General Motors and U.S. Steel. Both stockholders were disappointed over a point which American Telephone closed, Kennecott dropped about 1/2.

Stocks advanced in active trading on the American Stock Exchange. Syntax, reporting a sharp drop in profits, was weak in the market.

Corporate and U.S. Treasury bonds held mostly unchanged in light trading early today.

Terrell-Clay Fight Is In Doubt; Status May Be Known After Meeting

CHICAGO (AP)—A showdown is expected Monday on the status of the Cassius Clay-Ernie Terrell heavyweight championship fight when the Illinois Athletic Commission resumes its meeting. The three-man commission met Friday and Clay was expected to apologize for making what Gov. Otto Kerner said were "unpatriotic remarks," but Clay turned the tables by refusing to do so. Clay, reclassified from 1-7 to 1-A by his Louisville, Ky., draft board recently, said "I have no quarrel with those Viet Congs," and added, "I'm a Black Muslim and we don't go to wars unless they are declared by Allah, Himself."

Eagles Slate Second Game With NNC

College of Southern Idaho Golden Eagles will make their first appearance in Twin Falls at 8 p.m. Tuesday night, host to the Northwest Nazarene Christian College football team. The NNC from a hazy CSI an 8-57 setback in a meeting last month in Nampa.

CSI evened its record at 1-1 over the weekend by downing Magic Valley Christian College 31-18.

"We felt our rebounding was a strong point in the NNC game and definitely our biggest asset against MVCC," reports coach Glenn Norris. "The boys were considerably more relaxed in the second half and looked like they were starting to get acquainted with playing before crowds and outsiders again. We are hoping to even up our record against NNC."

So far the big men for CSI have been James H. H. Driggs, in scoring and Jim Calkins, Billis, and Dennis Hutchison and Dave McJurek, Jerome, on the backcourts.

Maine Tries For Second Clay Fight

AUBURN, Maine (AP)—A spokesman for Sam Michael, copromoter of last May's Cassius Clay-Sonny Liston heavyweight championship fight in Miami, said Sunday night an attempt is now being made to have the Clay-Terrell title fight transferred to Maine.

Sam's brother and business associate, Joseph, said that this time Bangor would be the No. 1 choice for a site.

He noted that the Bangor Auditorium, with more than 6000 seats for basketball plus those that would be placed on the floor, has about twice the capacity of the Central Maine Youth Center where the Clay-Liston fight was held.

The Illinois Athletic Commission is resuming Monday its meeting concerning the legal status of the fight scheduled for March 29 in Chicago, but indications at present are that there is little chance of the bout being held in that state.

In addition to the Maine bid, Clay-Terrell bout had the names of only two corporation members.

Clark also said the licenses issued to the fighters did not appear to be in compliance with another section of the act and could be rescinded because of conduct detrimental to boxing.

All of this indicates there is little chance of the bout being held in Illinois, but copromoters Irv Schoenwald and Ben Bentley, both of whom have been indicted heavily in the fight, were still hopeful.

L.A. Hurlers Head Big List Of Holdouts

By The Associated Press — Los Angeles Dodger ace Satchel Koufax and Don Drysdale head a formidable list of potential holdouts as spring training heads into its critical phase with the arrival of fall squads this week.

Koufax, the Cy Young Award winner who won 26 games and 31 saves last season, has pitched his fourth no-hitter last season, and Drysdale, a 23-game winner in 1965, are reportedly holding out for identical three-year contracts that would cost the Dodgers $1,000,000.

Maury Willis, the Dodgers' daily shortstop, is another problem for Los Angeles General Manager Dizzy Daves. He is reportedly seeking $100,000.

Pitchers pose the major problem with several other top hurlers still unsatisfied. Included among them are San Francisco's Juan Marichal, Ralph Ter-

Rupp Says 'Runts' Will Top NCAA Meet

Rupp's Runts, better known as the University of Kentucky Wildcats, are going to win the national collegiate basketball championship in next month's NCAA title tournament. That's straight from Coach Adolph Rupp himself, whose teams already have won a record for national titles. "You play like you did today and we'll be all right," the 64-year-old Baron of the Blue Grass told his unbeaten Wildcats Saturday after they had demolished Tennessee 39-24 in their 23rd victory this season.

The Miami Redskins qualified for the NCAA berth against Dayton by defeating Toledo 72-70 for the Mid-American Conference title.
