TEN CENTS

3 More Announce Candidacy

Political activity in two legislative districts in Magic Valley increased Thursday, with three candidates throwing their hats in the ring. Two of the candidates seek nomination as state legislators and the third seeks the prosecuting attorney post.

Donald G. Fredericksen, Gooding rancher and veteran legislator, announced he will seek the Democratic nomination for state senator from District 22, which includes Jerome, Gooding and Camas Counties.

William Roberts, Buhl, presently state representative from Twin Falls county, reports his candidacy for nomination for re-election on the Republican ticket in the newly formed legislative district 24. This district covers the western portion of the city of Twin Falls and the western part of Twin Falls County.

Third candidate is Michael H. Felton, Buhl, attorney, who seeks the GOP nomination for the office of prosecuting attorney for Twin Falls county. Fredericksen is serving his fourth term as state senator from Gooding County. He was a member of the finance committee all four terms. He has served as chairman and as a member of the Fish and Game Committee.

Fredericksen has been active in soil and water conservation for many years, and is chairman of the Gooding Soil Conservation District.

He has served as president of the Idaho Association of Soil Conservation Districts, and as Pacific area vice president of the National Association of Conservation Districts. He was presented with the Department of Interior Conservation Award in Washington, D.C., in 1962.

He has served on the Gooding County school boards for over 25 years and is chairman of the Gooding County Selective Service Board.

Fredericksen states he is a member of the "Economy Block" in the Idaho Senate and is opposed to the sales tax. He feels that the sales tax puts the burden of taxation on the people least able to pay.

"There are other more equitable means of raising the necessary revenue to operate the state and still not increase property taxes," Fredericksen says.

Roberts served his first term in the legislature during the 38th session. He was a member of See POLITICS, pg. 2, col. 4.

Jerome Man Electrocuted In Mishap

JEROME — A Jerome father of four children was accidentally electrocuted Thursday morning while working on a 12,500 volt distribution line for the Idaho Power Co. about four miles south of Jerome on Highway 79.

Russell L. McEwen, 29, was pronounced dead at the scene by Dr. Lauren Neher, Jerome county coroner, who said probable cause of death was electrocution, but he would not know for sure until he has had time to examine the body more thoroughly. The tragedy occurred about 10:30 a.m.

Mr. McEwen was a lineman working out of the Jerome office of the power company. Co-workers and company officials said he accidentally contacted an energized or "hot" wire near the top of a transformer pole. He was severely burned and knocked to the ground by the impact of the voltage.

The linemen were adding conductors for new extensions, according to J. L. Johnstone, divisional electrical superintendent.

Mr. McEwen had been employed by the power company for the past eight years. Survivors include his widow, Shirley, and three daughters and one son, ranging in age from 8 to 1 1/2 years.

Millions of Americans Are Struggling With Form 1040

WASHINGTON (AP) — One more day to go, and for the millions still struggling with Form 1040, the income tax men remind you:

Arithmetic — make sure it's right.

Social Security number — be sure you put it on your income tax form and get it right.

Name and address — type or print it clearly; if you have a refund, the Internal Revenue Service — IRS — doesn't want it coming back to them.

Group Agrees to Organize T.F. County Civil Defense Program

Agreement was reached Wednesday night at a joint county-city meeting to embark on a full-dress, professionally-staffed Civil Defense program for Twin Falls County—a program that would consolidate sporadic efforts by the county and cities within a single program. The joint meeting of the Twin Falls County Commission, Twin Falls City Commission, and Kimberly City Commission and mayor was called by County Commission Chairman Morris Carlson to sound out various cities to obtain informal expression of their support for the comprehensive program.

The group gave unanimous assent to Carlson's proposal that the county set up the program—which will begin Jan. 1, 1967.

Agreement was reached to hire a full-time County Civil Defense director to implement the program. Although no specific salary was agreed upon, it was agreed that "up to $8,000" might be required for a competent professional to head the program.

Drafting the program was delegated to the fledgling 15-man County Civil Defense Advisory Board, which will meet to consider the matter on April 21.

Carlson said the county has been severely criticized for "dragging its feet on this matter," said that there is now "a lot of conversation about it. People are demanding it."

Kimberly Mayor Martin Ledbetter gave his enthusiastic support for the program, noting, "If we don't have a way of protecting our citizens... we've had it."

He anticipated that in the event of a nuclear attack, a strong Civil Defense program could provide far-ranging services.

Egon Kroll, Twin Falls City Commission chairman, summarized, "I think we've all agreed that this step is necessary."

He anticipated passage of a county Civil Defense ordinance which would be forwarded to each city in the county. The cities would be asked to pass a similar measure.

T. M. Kendrick, assistant county director, said the county-wide program is necessary because national Civil Defense organization reaches from the federal to regional to state to county organizations, but does not include city organizations.

Under the general guidelines agreed upon at the meeting, the city efforts would be incorporated in the joint program.

Vice President Of Kenya Quits

NAIROBI — Kenya (AP) — Oginga Odinga, who lost the No. 2 spot in President Jomo Kenyatta's ruling Kenya African National Union last month, resigned today as vice president of Kenya.

These are the most common causes for faulty returns, a tax man said today.

The IRS expects to collect 66 million individual income tax returns this year — roughly 2 million more than last year.

Knowing from experience the habits of the American taxpayer, IRS expected one-third, or 22 million to file their returns in the last two weeks.

However, as of April 8, the last day a return was made and See FORM 1040, pg. 2, col. 8

Injunction Against Market Owner Filed

An injunction against Jay M. Davis, owner of Jay's Sav-On Foods, 667 Filer Ave., was filed with Eleventh District Court Wednesday. It states Davis has been selling merchandise below the cost as specified in Title 48, Chapter 4, Idaho Code, or the "Unfair Sales Act," (USA). The injunction filed by W. D. Stearns, director of the USA for the Department of Commerce and Development, said in the complaint that Davis has been

President of Iraq Killed In Air Crash

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — President Abdel Salam Aref of Iraq, who survived repeated violent political upheavals in the past eight years, was killed Wednesday night in the crash of his helicopter 20 minutes after taking off from a political rally near Basra, Baghdad Radio announced.

The Iraqi Radio said Interior Minister Maj. Gen. Abdel Latif Daraji and Industry Minister Mustafa Abdullah also were killed in the crash near the Persian Gulf port.

Ten persons were aboard the helicopter, and all died in the crash, the radio said. Among them were the governor of Basra Province and the secretary-general of the presidential palace staff. All were burned beyond recognition except Aref.

Deal Will Run For Secretary Of State Post

NAMPA, Idaho (AP) — Edson H. Deal, a Nampa insurance man and former Idaho lieutenant governor, Wednesday announced he is a Republican candidate for secretary of state.

He is the first of his party to announce for the job now held by appointment by L. E. Clapp, a Democrat. Clapp has announced he will seek election to the position this year.

"More attention must be paid to our state offices," Deal said in a statement, "and the position of secretary of state is doubly important because of his membership on the State Board of Examiners and the State Land Board."

Deal, who is now 62, was lieutenant governor from 1950 to 1954. He earlier served five terms as state senator from Canyon County.

Distribution of LSD Drug Halted

HANOVER, N.J. (AP) — The only licensed American distributor of the hallucinatory drug LSD has voluntarily halted distribution.

The action by Sandoz Pharmaceuticals was attributed to unforeseen public reaction against LSD, or lysergic acid diethylamide, produced in Switzerland by the company's parent firm, Sandoz Limited.

Sawtooth National Forest crew will concentrate on rehabilitation and upgrading of campground facilities in the South Hills this summer, rather than in the Sawtooth Mountains, it was announced Wednesday by Max Rees, forest supervisor.

Reviewing the forest's program for the coming year at the annual Rangers Meeting in Twin Falls, Rees noted the forest's 12-man campground crew will work in the South Hills this summer instead of the northern districts of the forest as it

Hugh Coats Is Picked as Boss of Year

Hugh Coats, assistant vice president of the Twin Falls First Security Bank, was named "Boss of the Year" Thursday at the annual Bosses' Breakfast sponsored by the Twin Falls Credit Women's Breakfast Club.

Coats was designated best boss from more than 20 bosses considered by the breakfast unit. The winner is named largely for his community service activities, rather than his business-related activities.

Dr. James L. Taylor, CSI president, speaker at the affair, told the audience of bosses and employees that the College of Southern Idaho is the first Northwestern institution to apply for accreditation in its first year of operations.

He told the unit the $3 million bond election will make available nearly $2 million in federal matching grant funds for the college campus.

He said he anticipates at least 1,000 students will enroll in the college at the beginning of the coming semester. This, he said, makes the college a "million-dollar industry."

It was announced that the Credit Women's Breakfast Club will begin a program of designating a "boss of the month," in addition to the yearly award.

Serving on the Bosses' Breakfast committee were Judy Stout, Louise Emerson and Mrs. Marcia Ward.

NFO Slates Banquet Here On April 23

Oren Lee Staley, president of the National Farmers Organization, will be a guest speaker at an NFO banquet in the Twin Falls High School beginning at 6:30 p.m. April 23.

Staley, who was elected president in 1955, operates a 400-acre diversified farm in north-west Missouri and raises purebred Shorthorn cattle. In his youth he was a leader in 4-H and FFA work. He attended Northwest Missouri State College and served in the U. S. Navy during World War II. He is married and the father of two daughters and one son.

Staley will discuss activities of the NFO and its accomplishments during the past year, as well as future plans.

Dinner will be served from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. Tickets may be obtained by calling Boyd Brown at 733-2497.

Buhl residents may purchase tickets at the West End Fertilizer Co., West End Equipment, Buhl Implement Co., or the North End Lockers.

Gov. Orval Faubus has announced that he will not seek re-election unless the Democratic party fails to find formidable opposition for Rockefeller, the GOP candidate.

Work Scheduled on South Hills Campsites has during the past few summers.

The campground work in the South Hills will call for about $60,000 for the year, greatly increased from the approximately $10,000 last year.

Rehabilitation and upgrading work will be done at the Birch Glen, 330 Springs, Big Bluff and Harrington Fork campgrounds.

The Penstemon campground will undergo extensive alterations, including clearing toboggan and innertube runs for winter sport enthusiasts. In addition,

Marines Search Paddies, Air Force Strikes Near Pass

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Several thousand U. S. Marines opened a new search operation today in the rice paddies overlooking the South China sea, while Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs caught a dozen trucks near the entrance to North Viet Nam's landslide-clogged Mu Gia Pass. Buddhists March in Victory Fete

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Thousands of jubilant Buddhist demonstrators marched peacefully through Saigon today in a victory celebration after the military regime decreed elections for a civilian government in three to five months.

A ranking Buddhist leader said the junta's formal pledge "satisfies our main demands."

The willingness of the Buddhist hierarchy to accept the election pledge may mean the survival of the U.S.-supported military government until the nationwide elections. On Sunday, the Buddhists had demanded the immediate resignation of the junta.

When the Buddhist leaders received word of the decree, they at first called off a planned antigovernment march into the city and decided instead to hold a "meeting of good will" on the grounds of the Buddhist Institute on the outskirts of Saigon.

But as thousands of their supporters flocked to the compound in a carnival atmosphere, the Buddhists decided to stage the march as a "victory celebration."

The marchers initially were only to go two blocks, but then the Buddhist leaders amended themselves again and let the huge throng walk on.

"Sea Devil" Von Luckner Dies at 84

MALMOE, Sweden (AP) — Count Felix Von Luckner, who sank 14 Allied ships in World War I without taking a life, is dead at 84.

Von Luckner's death Wednesday of an undisclosed illness ended a life of daring that earned him fame as the "Sea Devil."

During the World War I he commanded an innocent-looking windjammer which carried concealed guns and a powerful motor. Masquerading as a Norwegian freighter, Von Luckner's Seadiver (Sea Eagle) scuttled 25 million worth of Allied ships, but he took their crews—and even their pets—off first and looked after them until he could put them ashore.

The World War I hero was too old (60) to be of use to sail for Germany during World War II. After the war he said he felt into disfavor with the Nazis when he refused requests to renounce membership in the Free Masons and honorary citizenships that had been conferred on him by Bermuda, San Francisco, Miami and North Dakota.

Hays is running for governor.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Former Congressman Brooks Hays today resigned as an advisor to President Johnson and announced as a Democratic candidate for governor of Arkansas.

Hays, 67, said he can carry the Democratic banner against Republican Winthrop Rockefeller better than any other candidate.

Gov. Orval Faubus has announced that he will not seek re-election unless the Democratic party fails to find formidable opposition for Rockefeller, the GOP candidate.

and destroy operation 23 miles south of Chu Lai. The area has been in Viet Cong hands for years.

Ten Marines stripped to the waist and moved with pistols and flashlights through a network of tunnels where they seized 15 Vietnamese suspected of being Viet Cong. Some palam-clad fighters were seen fleeing the maze beneath the hamlet of An Hai a short time before.

The Air Force jets returned Wednesday to the strategic pass on the Laotian frontier, 230 miles south of Hanoi, where B52s dropped 1.4 million pounds of bombs on Tuesday in the first raid by the stratofortresses on North Viet Nam.

Military sources in Washington said some of the big bombs were rigged with delayed-action devices to explode days later, thereby discouraging Communist road clearing work.

The Thunderchiefs spotted 12 trucks on Route 15 at the entrance to the bottled-up pass. At least four were destroyed, an Air Force spokesman said. He also said aerial photographs confirmed that the pass was completely blocked by landslides.

The mountain roadway links up with the Ho Chi Minh Trail in neighboring Laos, the major infiltration route to South Viet Nam.

In the south, Air Force and Navy jets set off three secondary explosions followed by 11 more blasts in 90 sorties against what appeared to be a Communist ammunition dump 65 miles northwest of Saigon.

For the first time in the war, the number of South Vietnamese troops killed in a week of fighting dropped below American battle deaths. This was considered a reflection of the diminished activity of government troops during the political crisis.

Johnson Flies To Mexico for Informal Stay

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson flies to Mexico City today for a brief, informal stay that may be a warmup for a later state visit.

In advance of Johnson's afternoon departure, Robert H. Fleming, deputy press secretary, twice emphasized that the 24-hour trip is informal and that a possible state visit in the future is under consideration.

However, no effort was made to cloak White House hopes that the President's first visit to a foreign capital will draw a tumultuous crowd. Officials here quoted Mexican officials as predicting 1 million Mexicans will line Johnson's 9-mile motorcade route into the city.

A traditional 21-gun salute and other formal military honors were prepared for Johnson's arrival this evening at the 7,000-foot-high Mexican capital. Airport speeches were being written both by Johnson and Mexico's President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz.

Mrs. Johnson, flying here from Washington to pick up her husband, will spend the night with him in Mexico's White House — the Los Pinos residence of Diaz Ordaz.

BRADFORD A. EVANS, public affairs officer of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, will speak at the 1966 Eagle Scout Recognition Banquet on April 25.

Space Expert To Speak at Scout Event

Color films of the first walk in space, shown by Bradford A. Evans, public information officer for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA), will highlight the 1966 Eagle Scout Recognition Banquet of the Snake River Area Council.

Gordon Glasmann, chairman for the event, announced Thursday the banquet will be held April 25 at the Twin Falls Elks Club.

Evans, who will speak to the fated Eagle Scouts, joined the U.S. missile and space program as early as 1948. In 1949 he went to Cape Canaveral to organize and operate the public information program for the country's first long-range missile launching facility.

As a Space Administration colonel, he went to Korea in 1952, where he was responsible for all Air Force and Marine Air Corps public information, and served as an advisor to the Korean Air Force. Later he became deputy public information officer for the United Nations Command at the Panmunjom truce talks.

On return to the U.S. he served as the deputy information services officer for the USAF Air Research and Development Command. Leaving military life, he became employed with space technology laboratories in Los Angeles.

He received his B.S. and M.S. degrees from Boston, and is a member of the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics.

Parents, scout leaders and interested scouts are invited to attend, by reservation only. Persons interested in attending are asked to contact the Snake River Council Service Center in Twin Falls immediately, Glasmann said.

More than 35 Eagle Scouts will be sponsored by a prominent citizen in a profession in which the scout has expressed an interest, Glasmann said.

Slayers of Malcolm X Sentenced

NEW YORK (AP) — The three convicted slayers of Black Nationalist leader Malcolm X were sentenced today to life terms.

The defendants were sentenced in a heavily guarded State Supreme Court room.

The three will be eligible for parole after 26 years and 8 months.

Norman 3X Butler, 27, and Thomas 15X Johnson, 30, both of the Bronx, and Talmadge (Thomas Hagan) Hayerr, 24, Paterson, N.J., were found guilty by a jury of three women and nine men — three of them Negroes — last March 11.

Malcolm X, a defector from the Black Muslim sect, was cut down by shotgun and pistol fire as he stood before 400 of his followers in a Manhattan ballroom Feb. 21, 1965.

The rangers discussed obtaining legal public access across private land on existing roads and trails.

According to Rees, there are about 200 roads or trails that the public now has no access to. Most of the owners allow public use, but there is increasing reluctance to allow public passage, Rees said.

Navy Starts River Patrol Boat Warfare in Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Navy has started river patrol boat warfare in South Viet Nam and plans to have 160 machine gun-equipped craft ready to run down Viet Cong vessels by July.

Indications are this is only the beginning of a large-scale operation — the first of their kind for the Navy since the days of the American Civil War.

The first two of the Navy's new 31-foot fiberglass, water-jet propelled PBR's (patrol boat, river) began operating Sunday in river waters about 30 miles southwest of Saigon. They halted and inspected 19 junks.

By summer the Navy will have scores of the high speed craft skimming along rivers which wind seaward through the rice-rich area below Saigon. The boats have a speed capability of 25 knots.

Thousands of junks and sampans traverse canals and streams interlocking the rivers — and many are Communist vessels hauling food and, to a lesser extent, arms northward to Viet Cong strongholds.

In an effort to "choke" this many-veined pipeline, the Navy is embarking on "game warden" patrols.

Already 750 men are being trained for what Rear Adm. Leroy V. Swanson, director of fleet operations, calls the initial phase of the operation. In Viet Nam the game warden patrols are under operational control of Rear Adm. Norvell G. Ward, head of U.S. naval forces there.

The PBR has sparked enthusiasm among Navy enlisted men — perhaps mainly because they'll be in charge of running armed vessels for the first time. First or second class petty officers are being assigned to head the four-man crews.

All the men of five recent gunner's mate classes at the Great Lakes Naval Training Center in Illinois asked to serve on PBR's in Viet Nam, and virtually the entire operation will be manned by volunteers.

The boat is armed with one

$50 Taken From Buhl Residence

BUHL — Some $50 in cash, including silver dollars, one-half dollars, quarters and a number of Indian Head pennies were taken from the Marion Ambrose residence, 709 13th Ave. N., when it was burglarized sometime over the Easter weekend, police reported Wednesday.

The break-in was discovered Monday evening when the family returned home from vacationing in California. Entrance was believed to have been gained through a basement window. The home was completely ransacked; however, the only other thing that appeared to be missing was a bracelet comprised of Indian Head pennies.

Crucial, Indeed

The May 10 vote on the junior college bond issue has been termed a crucial election in development of the college. All eligible voters in the district should keep that fact in mind. The two great factors making the vote so crucial have been pointed out forcefully by Dr. James L. Taylor, college president. Quite simply, these factors are accreditation and availability of $1.8 million in matching funds. The college has been to functioning in its own plant within another three years to be fully accredited. Those matching funds will be available in Idaho only until July 1.

There's another factor that hasn't been mentioned in just so many words, but it's quite important. There's a good chance that by next fall the junior college will have to start exercising its prerogative of selectivity. It goes without saying that there's a limit to college enrollment, so long as the college is operating on a night school basis at Twin Falls High School. It remains to be seen what the limit will be.

Right now it appears quite likely college enrollment will double next fall. Perhaps facilities will handle a 100 per cent increase, but no one knows for certain. If there's a large increase in the sign-up for the academic program, some students could be turned down. It's the last thing in the world anyone wants because right now virtually every student in the college is getting an opportunity for higher education that wouldn't be available otherwise.

Perhaps some opposition will develop to the bond issue prior to the May 10 election. Everyone has a perfect right to form an opinion on the issue and a further right to voice that opinion. However, everyone would do well to examine carefully any sources of opposition that may develop. It's normal in elections of this sort for persons with ulterior motives to use others in whatever ways appear possible. It's also normal for the nit-pickers to make a lot of noise. They have every right to do so, but here again, it's wise to look behind the noise to find the reasons for it.

Make no mistake: The College of Southern Idaho is one of the best and biggest things ever to happen to Magic Valley. The college has educational, cultural and economical values almost beyond comprehension at this stage of the development. The $3 million bond issue property owners are being asked to approve is a rare investment, not an expense.

SEE IDAHO FIRST

In the last couple of years, there has been a return to the slogan of "See America First." Because of the balance of payments problem and the outflow of gold, President Johnson has pointed out some of the attractions in this country. Idaho's Gov. Robert E. Smylie has gone a step farther and asked Idahoans to observe April as Tourist Promotion Month. The idea is to prepare for an influx of tourists this summer such as the state has never seen before.

The lion's share of the task will fall on those Idahoans whose work brings them in contact with the traveling public. But every Idahoan can play a role in making tourists feel welcome and want to return. In addition, any Idahoan might be asked for directions to scenic attractions or an opinion on what should be visited. Here's the challenge to Idaho residents. Nothing can make a person feel sillier than to have a tourist ask directions that can't be supplied. Or to have the tourist display more knowledge than the native on Idaho attractions.

It can happen. Practically everyone in Magic Valley, for instance, could tell a visitor how to reach Shoshone Falls. But suppose a tourist should ask directions to Balanced Rock or Box Canyon or the City of Rocks? How many Magic Valley residents could give the proper directions? So far as that goes, how many area residents have visited those attractions themselves? Going a bit farther afield, how many Magic Valley residents have ever visited Cave Falls, the sand dunes north of St. Anthony, Hells Canyon (which happens to be the deepest gorge on the North American continent!) or the beautiful lakes country up in the Idaho Panhandle?

Those are just a few of Idaho's many scenic attractions that have no peer. They receive world-wide publicity, yet it's safe to guess that many Idahoans have never visited some of these sites. More to the point, many residents of the state wouldn't have the faintest idea of the location of some of these attractions!

Vacationing Idahoans might be interested in becoming familiar with their own state this summer. Those who plan auto vacations could go much farther from home and see sights of less scenic value.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

By ANDREW TULLY
WASHINGTON — I will buy the proposition that auto industry leaders are not to be confused with horse thieves, but on record I am leery of giving them exclusive supervision of any program to set and enforce safety standards for the Coffin Straight Eight. They have come too late to court.
Specifically, I am suspicious of the pronouncement by Ford's Vice President John S. Bugas that "if we haven't gotten the message before on the importance of safety... we have gotten it now." It sounds too much like a man who has just locked the door of an empty barn.

OWN JUDGE AND JURY—Bugas and the rest of the industry are fighting the President's proposed Traffic Safety Act which gives the Secretary of Commerce discretionary authority to set mandatory safety performance standards. They want to run the show themselves with a five-member Motor Vehicle Safety Board wholly financed by the industry's Big Four and stacked with industry members. Somehow, I cannot imagine such a board adopting procedures that would cost the industry any considerable amount of money.

Besides, the industry has already had its chance and muffed it. Something called the Vehicle Safety Equipment Commission made up of officials from 44 states and the District was set up in 1958 with the industry's blessing, and it has done little more than listen to speeches by auto executives. Not until two months ago did this outfit get its first full-time staff member. Meanwhile, General Motors has been forced to call back 1.5 million cars with dangerous accelerator trouble and 80,000 Pontiac Tempests whose low-slung bodies tended to get hung up on railroad crossings.

PREPOSTEROUS—There is a curious gimmick in Bugas's proposal for an industry-controlled safety board. He wants an "umbrella" of anti-trust protection to permit manufacturers to share developments relating to car safety. Listening to Bugas's testimony before the Senate Commerce Committee, Sen. Vance Hartke (D., Ind.), found the suggestion that the Justice Department would prosecute car makers for trying to make their product safer preposterous. So do I.

Bugas also selected a strange example to illustrate the industry's fear of anti-trust investigation. He cited a Justice Department investigation underway for the past year on the question of whether the industry had illegally restrained trade in its handling of air pollution control devices. But the investigation is not concerned with the sharing of information within the industry but with whether the manufacturers conspired to block progress against air pollution.

SO IT'S POLITICAL!—I like the suggestion of Sen. Maurice Neuberger, D-Ore., who wants the auto makers to compete in the safety field as they do in the design, power and ashtray departments. As Mrs. Neuberger pointed out, the auto industry is like the cigarette industry in not having become concerned about its product until the public got excited. In such circumstances, self-regulation is an adventure in flummery, because any meaningful progress is against self-interest.
In this context, the comment by an Automobile Manufacturers Association spokesman only two months ago is of at least passing significance. Discussing proposals for a prototype safety car, Karl Richards told an Iowa auto safety hearing they were a "silly political move." Richards' crack illustrates how sadly the industry's education has been neglected.

AVAILABILITY OF GUNS
President Johnson's message to Congress on crime sounds more reasonable on the overblown issue of federal restriction of gun sales than some administration pronouncements and many congressional bills after the assassination of President Kennedy.

The President recognized that there should be no curtailment of the right of citizens to keep arms for hunting and marksmanship to which he could have added gun collecting and self defense. But he called for enactment of a Senate bill to meet "a pressing need to halt blind, unquestioned mail-order sales of guns and over-the-counter sales to buyers from out of state whose credentials cannot be known."
Mr. Johnson wants to end "the easy availability of deadly weapons to professional criminals, to delinquent youth, and to the disturbed and deranged." Well enough. But let's not kid ourselves. Criminals and deranged persons will get guns, by theft or otherwise, if they want them badly enough. It is not the gun but the criminal that produces crimes, with guns or other weapons.

The outdoor sportsmen and collectors of America have made a determined and justified stand against the wave of emotionalism which followed the assassination of President Kennedy until a law could be passed. The law is not one of evidence that the killer could not have obtained a rifle easily by other means. American sportsmen will not submit to laws requiring unreasonable restrictions on possession of hunting and target guns, nor should they.
No sportsman and no arms manufacturer wants to make it easy for criminals and crackpots to obtain weapons. But neither will Americans give up the right to have arms and to defend themselves and families from criminal attacks. Actually, any federal legislation in this field is questionable, whether or not it is constitutional. But if Congress must act, let it exercise judgment, not emotion.—The Oregonian.

CAN GOVERNMENT BE LIKE A MAN?
One of the ill-fitting tunes in what has proved the most deservedly popular musical of our times, as sung by Rex Harrison in the role of Prof. Henry Higgins, carries the theme of "Why Can't a Woman Be Like a Man?" Down through the ages numerous individuals have paraphrased this title to ask the question, "Why can't a government be like a man?"
The question grows out of the fact that governments continually take actions, adopt policies, and condone moral lapses in other governments, or even with the people they represent that are completely foreign and even hostile to codes of acceptable individual behavior.
If a government were disposed to be like a man—this is really of more importance than foreign raids on Ft. Knox—we would get our own federal spending in order. The President, and the Congress which is even more profligate, would abandon their current course of trying to "buy" every vote in the country with a handout from the treasury and at least reduce the growing spread between federal income and outgo.
But who expects a government to be like a man?—Knoxville Journal.

PROGRESS!!!

Dear Pot Shots:
It has been my understanding that progress means going forward, doing something, improving whatever is involved.
The thought occurred to me the other day that progress isn't necessarily progressive. Take a look at men's fashions, just for instance. We have tight pants with tight legs. Coats have narrow lapels.
Find a picture from the last century and what are the men wearing? Yessir, tight-legged trousers and coats with narrow lapels. That's progress. Already we're back to the last century.
But there are a few men who insist on being individuals. They pay no attention to fashions. Instead they wear what's comfortable and everyone looks down their noses at them!

Interpreting The News

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration isn't saying much — if it knows much — about the secretive monk, Thich Tri Quang, the man behind the Buddhists' efforts to throw out the government of Premier Nguyen Cao Ky in South Viet Nam.

But at this moment Tri Quang is the most important man and force in that country and, despite all the American efforts to the contrary, in the end could be responsible for turning it over to the Communists.

Undersecretary of State George W. Ball on television Sunday dismissed the turmoil and rioting in South Viet Nam as simply the "evidence of a political process at work." All factions, he said, are determined to resist Communist aggression from North Viet Nam.

But Sunday the Buddhist leaders indicated Ball was seeing the situation a little too simply. At a news conference Buddhist officials said they have lost confidence in Ky's government and have vowed to form a caretaker government to organize general elections.

Asking if they envisioned an elected civilian government seeking peace with the Viet Cong and asking the United States to pull out of Viet Nam, a Buddhist spokesman replied: "If that is what the people want, then that is what they will get. We want to fulfill the aspirations of the people."

First, a little background. Ho Chi Minh, Communist leader of North Viet Nam, is the best known figure in that country, north and south. To many he is a hero, to all a legend while still living. He has been a fighting leader 20 years.

If open elections were tomorrow in both Viet Nams, Ho Chi Minh would seem to have the best chance of winning, particularly when it is remembered many Vietnamese have little or no knowledge of communism or democracy and the Viet Cong still control about 75 per cent of the countryside in South Viet Nam.

No South Vietnamese leader has been allowed to last long enough to build up real power or a real following or come close to being a rival to Ho Chi Minh as

MARQUIS CHILDS WRITES ON WASHINGTON

LOS ANGELES — The heat, not look to Washington because the smog, the gray mantle of the morning fog have come early this year and what lies ahead in the long, hot summer is shrouded in uncertainty. The rebellion that raged for six days of burning, killing and looting in the Negro community of Watts last August will not, in the hopeful view, occur again.
The fire-blackened ruins have been cleared away and, while the gaping holes on 103rd Street and on Central Avenue give the impression that a selective tornado swept through the area, the visible signs of the disaster are few. Changes have come. With a $450,000 Ford Foundation grant an opportunities industrialization center, for job training and job placement patterned after a similar center in Philadelphia, is opening. A business committee headed by the Chamber of Commerce claims to have found 4,000 jobs for Watts Negroes, which is small in terms of need but it is a beginning.

Yet the basic condition remains — a community of perhaps 500,000 souls enclosed in the center of the city almost as tightly as were the walled ghettos out of the Middle Ages imprisoning the Jews in Europe well into the last century. This ghetto aspect, which for all its constructive proposals the McCone Commission investigating the rebellion did not confront, appears an underlying cause of the unrest in Watts and in the state's other Negro communities.

Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown came sadly of the tentative plan he worked out to provide 50,000 jobs at once without waiting for training. These would have been jobs in the state's parks, on the highways, cleaning up local communities. The program would have cost 250 million. The state does not have the money and he could newsmen in 1965 that he wants to stop the war as soon as possible by a cease-fire or by any negotiation that will have the people's support.

That sounds exactly like the answer given Sunday by Buddhist leaders to newsmen, mentioned earlier in this story.

Right now, Critchfield said, Tri Quang is sponsoring free elections "which in South Viet Nam would deliver the country over to the Communists as long as Viet Cong terror and political organizations control the countryside."
This raises, therefore, a very obvious but critical question: Is it possible that Quang is interested mainly only in the survival and influence of Buddhists and is therefore willing for the Communists to take over all of Viet Nam if the Buddhists are guaranteed their place in the

More than perhaps anywhere else in the country, it only because of Mrs. Jones' ability to dramatize the issue, the conflict over the poverty program is seen here as one between politicians determined to control the jobs and an imaginative concept giving outsiders a real sense of belonging and leading. As in other cities, how much control Washington exercises is questionable.
As for Watts, the visitor cannot help but notice the oasis of the two-story public housing development. In contrast to so much that is shoddy and run-down, the lawns are green and well-cared-for, the gardens carefully tended. A large-scale housing project, designed to break through the wall of the ghetto, was sabotaged 12 years ago as a consequence of one of California's periodic witch hunts.

Watts is not alone on the worry register. The governor lists 12 "tension points" where an explosion can occur. Negro youths hurling Molotov cocktails set fires recently in Marin City, a Negro community near San Francisco. In Oakland deep disaffection among Negroes has long been a source of anxiety.
In the Watts rebellion Negroes suffered far more than whites. The toll of dead was 27 Negroes, seven non-Negroes. They lost jobs and property. This is one reason why, in the hopeful view, Negroes themselves will prevent another full-scale revolt. But as almost everyone agrees the race is against time, and desperation knows no restraints.

BIDS IN TIME
Possession of the spade suit in bridge is like control of the backboard in basketball. You may lose but you will have to have a lot of the worst of it to do so.
Expert South got into the bidding with one spade because he wasn't vulnerable and he did have spades. He bid four spades as a sacrifice and was not at all reflect.
It was one of those all-expert rubber bridge games where anything can happen and usually does.
South went over the bidding carefully. West had shown up with the ace and queen of hearts. It was most unlikely that he would hold both the ace and king of clubs but probably he held the ace and queen. That left East with the king-jack of hearts and the king of clubs. East had also jumped to four hearts. Wouldn't he need something extra such as the king of diamonds? Maybe he would have bid the same way with a singleton diamond. But would he have doubled four spades? Possibly, but not surely. With one diamond, four clubs, six hearts and two spades he might well have bid five hearts.
Could East have ducked with the king of diamonds? "You're darn right he could have," South decided. Up went the ace of diamonds and down went East's king!

Reports Are Given for C. of C. Meet

SHOSHONE — Reports were given at the Chamber of Commerce meeting held Monday noon at the Manhattan Cafe.

Cecil Cope reported 22 attended the grassman of the year meeting, Edward Christopher reported the city house numbering directory is progressing.

Francis Bergin reported on the North Side Communities meeting, stating Highway 24 from Kinama to Shoshone will not be done until about 1970 and the Gooding-Shoshone road is to be completed in 1969.

Howard E. Adkins reported on the April 25 meeting to re-appoint commissioners districts in the county.

Adkins said it is proposed to have Richfield and Kinama for one district; Precinct one, Shoshone, and Dietrich for a second district, and Precinct two, Shoshone and North Shoshone for a third district. This would more evenly distribute responsibility to commissioners.

Reid Newby, Civil Defense director, said the county needs eight radiological monitors. There are two men, Carl Hahn and Loren Brazell, who could teach classes.

He also reported on proposal to purchase a large siren through cooperation of the city and Civil Defense.

Newby said an emergency operations center is needed for the county and now in the planning stage are storage caves, basement facilities needed for fallout shelters. He said there are now shelters in town sufficient to handle only 34 people.

Contracts for Weed Work, Gas Awarded

SHOSHONE — Contracts for chemicals for weed control work and for gasoline for Jerome, Gooding and Lincoln Counties were awarded at a continued meeting of Lincoln County Commissioners Monday night.

The contract was awarded to Chipman Chemical Co. for the weed chemical from a list of seven bidders, and American Oil Co. bid was accepted for the gasoline.

County commissioners and weed control supervisors from the counties met to select the bids.

Joe Hansen, commissioner, and Fred Webster, weed supervisor, Jerome; Ben Glauner, commissioner, and Walt Higgins, weed supervisor, Gooding; Burrell Williams, C. F. Chatfield, county commissioners; Ivan Hopkins, extension agent, and Wayne Hickman, weed supervisor, Lincoln, made the selection.

Quarterly reports received by the commissioners at their meeting Monday morning were $95.90 from the sheriff's office; $95.90 from the sheriff's office; $1,191.75 from the auditor-clerk's office, and $355 from the justice of the peace.

Salaries for county officers for 1967 were set. They were $5,100 for the sheriff; $5,000 for auditor-clerk; $4,900 for the assessor; $4,900 for the treasurer, and $4,000 for the probate judge.

This is about a $400 a year increase in salary. The salary of the prosecuting attorney is set by the state.

Civil Defense Director Reid Newby proposed a fire siren be purchased by the county and city to handle both alarm and city curfew. He said cost would be about $2,000. It could be installed on top of the city water tank with remote control at the hotel.

A hearing on re-apportionment of the county commissioners districts is set for April 25. Resolution on this was drawn up, necessitated by the population change and, if approved, will more evenly distribute work to commissioners, he said.

A resolution of sympathy was authorized for the family of the late John Reinsch, Blaine County commissioner, who died Sunday.

Lots 4-5, block 22, and lots 8-9, block 22, Richfield, were sold for $120 to David E. White, sell.

Potential of Women Still Unrecognized

NEW YORK (AP) — A Columbia University professor said today most employers still prefer "dumb men to smart women."

The professor, Dr. Eli Ginzberg, a manpower expert, sounded a call for sweeping changes to help educated women overcome what he said are prejudices against them and live a more balanced life.

Ginzberg, who heads the President's National Manpower Advisory Committee, contended modern society hasn't faced up to the potential of married women in a man's world.

He debunked a view held by some social critics — many of whom are women — who argue that women today are torn between the home and the outside world and don't know which way to turn.

"All those people who have been harping about women's problems and conflicts have made this up largely out of their own imagination," he said in an interview. "Many women nowadays are able to have the best of both worlds and there is no reason why they shouldn't."

Ginzberg presents evidence for his thesis in a book released Wednesday entitled "Life Styles of Educated Women" in which he examines the views of 311 women who pursued higher education at Columbia University over a six-year period.

"Three-quarters of these women did not regard their lives as being full of frustrations," he said. "In fact they were willing, given the chance, to fulfill their potentiality outside of the home."

But, Ginzberg suggested, shortsightedness on the part of employers, the federal government and universities in their attitudes is hampering women in attaining such a goal.

Ginzberg pointed out that 24 million women are now employed each day on a fulltime or part-time basis. "And, if the war in Viet Nam continues to mushroom," he added, "the only significant labor force available may be women."

Fetus Lives Out of Womb For 30 Hours

RENO, Nev. (AP) — For more than 30 hours, the sometimes-kicking fetus of a mulatta macaque monkey, removed from its mother's body, lived in a test-tube world.

The breakthrough experiment was conducted by Dr. Donald E. Pickering, a pediatrician and head of the University of Nevada's Human Development Laboratory.

Scientists could view, for the first time, the development of a living, but unborn, animal whose reproductive cycle is virtually identical to a human's, Charles Armstrong, university president, said.

"It has the greatest scientific application for human development," he said.

For instance, Pickering said, experimenting with such a living fetus could have shown the deforming effects of the drug Thalidomide before it was given to expectant mothers.

The first sign of disease might be spotted in a visible fetus when it might not turn up in the living animal until years later, he said.

The fetus was removed by Caesarean section Monday, 106 days after conception and about 60 days before normal birth. It continued to receive nourishment from the mother by the umbilical cord.

Pickering ended the experiment late Wednesday night, saying the fetus had lived longer outside its natural world than he had intended.

"If we can go 22 hours, we can go 22 days," he had said earlier.

Further experiments will go longer — until the fetus is sustained until birth, Pickering, 42, said.

SUPPORTS PLAN
SANDPOINT, Idaho (AP) — A Republican candidate for First District representative has expressed support for the Heller plan by which part of federal income tax revenues would be returned to states.

Robert B. Purcell of Lewiston said here Wednesday night it is essential to keep as much control of local problems with municipal and state governments as possible.

SALMON, Idaho (AP) — State Rep. Helen McKinney, R-Lemhi, announced today she is a candidate for the Idaho House of Representatives from the newly created Legislative District 20-A.

The new district is made up of Lemhi and Custer counties. The lines for the district were drawn at the last special session of the Idaho Legislature, which reapportioned itself to conform with U. S. Supreme Court decisions.

SESSION CONCLUDES
POCATELLO (AP) — The spring session of Idaho's Supreme Court has concluded with a hearing appealing the 1964 first-degree murder conviction of John Dee Larsen of Pocatello.

One-hour arguments were presented by attorneys for both sides Wednesday.

Chief Justice Joseph J. McFadden said a written opinion would be given "in due course." Larsen, now 23, was convicted Dec. 15, 1964, of the knife slaying of Vicki Jo Quinn, 16, in April of 1962.

BUILDING PLANNED
BOISE (AP) — Plans to build a 60-room, seven-story tower addition to the Downtown Hotel in Boise were announced Wednesday.

The building will be served by an exterior glass-enclosed elevator, said John Pengilly, vice president and general manager of the hotel.

On the top floor will be a cocktail lounge and dining room. The ground floor will have a convention room seating 600 for meetings and 400 for meals.

MOTION OVERRULED
POCATELLO (AP) — Fifth District Judge Arthur P. Oliver overruled a motion for mistrial Wednesday afternoon, when a witness took the Fifth Amendment in the retrial of Lavar Chaffin, 32, Bluffton, on a first-degree murder charge in the shotgun death of his wife, Carol, last Aug. 15.

The motion was made by defense counsel M. R. Whittier when questioning by Bingham County Prosecutor Dean Williams reached the same point which resulted in a mistrial ruling Jan. 13 by Judge Oliver. The questions dealt with Chaffin's alleged relationships with women other than his wife.

SUIT FILED
BOISE (AP) — Suit asking more than one-half million dollars in damages was filed in U.S. District Court as the aftermath of a 1965 traffic accident, court records showed Wednesday.

The suit was filed by David Ahlborn of Caldwell against the firm of Cornell, Howland, Haves and Merryfield of Corvallis, Ore. It alleged an employee of the firm, Billie H. Prescott, was the driver of a car involved in an accident in which Ahlborn claimed he was injured.

He asked damages of $525,000 plus $500 per month for as long as he is disabled.

LEARN OF DEATH
BOISE (AP) — Idaho State Police received word Wednesday of the death of Robert Kemmer, 17, Post Falls, in an auto accident, boosting the state's 1966 traffic toll to 47, compared with 48 at this time last year.

Officers said Kemmer was injured April 2 when his "dune buggy," a stripped-down car without an engine, transmission or body left a Kootenai County road and smashed into a tree. He died two days later.

Word of Kemmer's death came from the state police port of entry station at Coeur d'Alene.

Officers said the accident occurred about two miles south of U.S. 10 and one mile west of Ross Point on a curve.

OAKLEY — People using the city water rotation plan should note that they will water their lawns the same as last year, city officials note.

Residents on the north side of the Main Street are to water on odd numbered days and the people on the south side the even numbered days, rather than those living on the east and west side of the Oakley-Burley highways as stated incorrectly in the Tuesday edition of the Times-News.

SEIZURE KILLS MAN
MIDVALE (AP) — The death of a western Idaho farmer was blamed Thursday on a heart attack.

Elwin Loney was found dead Tuesday in a field on his farm in the Midvale area. He had been operating a bulldozer but the machine was not in sight. Officers said that hours later the bulldozer was found a mile and a quarter away. It apparently had continued to operate after Loney, who was 62, had the heart attack and fell to the ground.

PAYETTE (AP) — The Idaho Cattlemen's Association will protest the U.S. Department of Commerce plan for an export quota on hides and skins, Clifford Barker of Payette, president, said Thursday.

He said if the export quotas remain in effect it will bring an annual loss to the cattle industry of at least $210 million because of reduced prices.

Five Killed In Collision At Lovelock

LOVELOCK, Nev. (AP) — Five persons, three from Utah, were killed last night in a head-on collision of two station wagons on U. S. 40 just outside of Lovelock.

Two other young women from Utah were injured. Victims at Lovelock were identified as Peggy J. Mangum, 17, of Lovelock; Clint Larson, 10, Lovelock, believed to be a foster relative of Miss Mangum; Robert Mukai, 35, of Ogden; Clifford Paul Hughes, 20, Farmington, and Mary Clarke, 20, daughter of a professor, Robert Clarke, of Ogden. She died of internal injuries at 8:30 p.m. in Pershing General Hospital.

Injured were Kathleen Bitner, 20, Layton; and Margaret Heffernan, 21, Ogden.

The Utah residents were in one station wagon and Miss Mangum and the Larson child in another. The vehicles collided head-on.

University of Nevada speech department officials said Mukai was the debating team coach at Weber State College in Ogden and that Hughes and Miss Clarke were members of the team, which competed in a tournament in Reno.

Miss Mangum and the boy were driving west and apparently crossed into the eastbound lane, into the path of the station wagon driven by Mukai, Patrolman Bill England said.

The accident happened about 5:30 p.m. on a dry, straight stretch of highway, about half a mile west of Lovelock, in north-west Nevada.

In the high school there is an opening for a music instructor, who would be able to teach band and chorus. Anyone who is interested in these positions is urged to contact Supt. Sherman, either at the high school or at his home in Kimberly.

Rupert Woman Is First Area Trustee for Ranch

RUPERT — Mrs. Ruth DeThommas, editor of the Minidoka County News, has been named as area trustee for the Idaho Youth Ranch, it was announced Wednesday, by directors of the ranch.

Trustees are to be appointed throughout the state and will be expected to serve in his area as a means of disseminating information concerning the Idaho Youth Ranch, Inc., and of relaying information deemed of interest; establishing in his general area a point of contact for the ranch and serve as a liaison with the public generally and with individuals and agencies in his area.

Such area trustees have been allowed for in the newly revised bylaws compiled by the ranch directors.

Trustees will serve in that capacity in a specified geographical area for a term commencing with the date of designation by the board and expiring Dec. 31, of the second calendar year after the appointment.

A trustee may be reappointed if the board desires and will be urged to attend the regular quarterly meetings of the board, but shall have no power to vote or bind the ranch to any commitment.

Trustees will be designated only upon approval by not less than two-thirds of the entire board at a regular or special meeting of the board held not less than three weeks after the regular or special meeting at which the nomination of the person as area trustee is submitted.

Plans for the school were made at a Sunday School officers meeting held Tuesday night at the church. Classes will be held from 9 to 11:30 a.m. each day.

The Kindergarten class will have the topic "God's Plan for the Family." Beginners will study "The World of Differences"; Elementary 3-4 will study "Christian Community Around the World"; Elementary 5-6 will study "Living As Christians in a World of Conflict"; and Junior high will study "The Church and My Life."

Objects Seen

BUIII — Mrs. Ed Johnson, 302 11th Ave. N., reports seeing two unidentified flying objects near her home Tuesday night.

The first object was spotted at 11 p.m. as it was hovering in the air northeast of the Johnson home. Mrs. Johnson and her husband watched the object for approximately three hours as it slowly moved across the sky. They were unable to distinguish the shape but stated that they could see the reflection of lights.

As the first object rose straight into the sky Mrs. Johnson saw a fluttering light in the trees and caught a glimpse of the second unidentified aircraft which was moving at a higher rate of speed. Again all she could see of the object were the lights.

Geographic Features Get Map Names

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Board on Geographic Names has adopted official names for 16 Idaho mountains, rivers and other geographic features.

The names were chosen from suggestions submitted by individuals, private organizations and government agencies. There had been conflict over some of the names. The newly adopted names will be used henceforth in government maps and publications.

Trinity Mountain is the approved name for a 9,451-foot peak in the Boise Mountains, northeast of Mountain Home, in Elmore County. It had been called Trinity Peak.

Trinity is the name for mountains in Elmore County which are capped by Trinity Mountain between the South Fork and the Middle Fork of the Boise River. They extend northeast to include Steel Mountain at the head of Feather River.

A rock spire in the Sawtooth range, west of Mount Cramer, was given the name of Temple.

A 20-mile stream which heads in Wyoming and flows into the Teton River in Idaho, previously called Bitch Creek, was named the North Fork Teton River, so it will not be confused with North and South Bitch creeks.

Other approved names for rivers: East Fork Roaring River (not Scotch Creek); South Teton River (not Moody Creek, South Branch Teton River or South Fork Teton River); Teton River, which flows through Teton County, Wyo., and Fremont, Madison and Teton counties, Idaho, (not North Fork Teton River, Pierre River or Trail Creek.)

Additional names adopted were Ants Basin, Bear Gulch, Gasper Creek, Lightning Creek, Log Chute Gulch, Perkins Creek, Perkins Lake, Rice Creek and Scotch Creek.

Meat Prices Level Off at Food Stores

NEW YORK (AP) — Housewives can start bringing home the bacon again.

Meat prices are leveling off at many of the nation's food stores.

Bacon climbed to $1.19 a pound in some areas in January, but now has dropped 10 to 30 percent.

Hams are down 2 to 4 cents a pound this week in San Francisco, and beef ribs are down 3 to 4 cents in Southern California.

Choice grade steer beef chuck, trimmed loins and cured hams are headed lower in the Pacific Northwest.

A major New York area supermarket chain has dropped fryer prices 16 cents a pound to the lowest levels since December.

Wholesale food prices, which were 15 per cent higher than a year ago during the winter, now are running 10.3 per cent higher.

Fresh strawberries are beginning to move to market, and warm weather has pushed the asparagus crop along rapidly in California.

Artichokes, green beans, cabbage, corn and lettuce also are plentiful in most areas.

In canned foods, stocks of peas, okra, mixed vegetables, succotash, peas and carrots, snap beans, chili sauce, applesauce, apricot, grapefruit segments, grapefruit juice, orange juice and blended juices are greater than last year.

Club to Meet

FILER — The Filer Four Leaf Livestock 4-H Club will meet April 21 at the home of Gregory Storrs.

Officers for this year are Susan Rork, president; Jerry Mai, vice president; Darlene Kendrick, secretary; Kay Brown and Randy Mai, reporters, and Susan Storrs, sergeant-at-arms.

Activities in Spain Altered By Air Force

MADRID, Spain (AP)—The U.S. Air Force is sharply reorganizing its activities in Spain in the wake of the loss and recovery of the B-52 off Palomares Beach, Spanish sources reported today.

They said the shifts would involve phasing out of the U.S. 15th Air Force which since July 1956 has operated in Spain and Morocco as one of the Strategic Air Command's two nuclear bomber forces overseas.

Presumably the U.S. Air Force command in Europe with headquarters in Weisbaden, Germany, would take over future American Air Force activities in Spain.

The changes had no direct connection with the crash of a B-52 bomber carrying nuclear arms on Spain's southeast coast last Jan. 17. But following the incident, Spain banned overflights by U.S. planes carrying nuclear arms and this admitted curtailment of the 15th Air Force normal activities.

Competent sources said that while phasing out of the 15th Air Force had been contemplated for some time, the timetable likely was advanced by the bomber crash and by French President Charles de Gaulle's ultimatum to the United States to get its forces out of France by the end of 1966.

Sedative Time For Liquor Is Short, Acute

NEW YORK (AP)—A cocktail before dinner can relax tensions temporarily, but its long-range effect may be to make the boss, the mortgage and the kids tougher to take than ever, says an expert on alcoholism.

Whether one drink or ten, liquor inevitably calms a man down but then, without exception, sends him above his normal anxiety level, says Dr. Stanley Gitlow of the New York Medical College.

In a speech to the National Council on Alcoholism Wednesday night, Gitlow took issue with physicians who recommend before-meal drinks to soothe the tired and perplexed businessman.

The doctor, who described himself as a "social drinker," called such advice "misguided" and said liquor "cannot be used to dispel a medical need."

"Several drinks or even one," Gitlow said, "are going to make things difficult the next day."

Gitlow said experiments have shown that alcohol's sedative effects reach a peak about two hours after intake. When they begin to wear off, however, alcohol level in the blood remains high and psychomotor activity or anxiety goes up, he said.

"You have the situation," the doctor said, "where a fellow falls asleep easily after having a few drinks, but finds himself up early the next day. The anxiety has outweighed the sedative element."

This uncomfortableness, characterized by irritability and problems in concentration, can extend into the normal man's next working day, Gitlow said. "The sedative period is short and acute," he said, "while the agitation is long and subtle."

SITTING AT PUSH-BUTTON dial telephone attachment in her home in Bellerose, Queens, N. Y., Jeanne Tansey, 17, junior at Mary Louis Academy, Brooklyn, punches out a question in mathematics to an IBM 1710 data processing system located 50 miles away in Yorktown Heights, N. Y. She gets the answer immediately by pre-recorded voice. Push-Button Dial Telephone Answers School Problems

NEW YORK (AP)—Six Queens high school pupils sit by the telephone, punch out their homework problems on a push-button dial, and get the answers instantly.

Working with a computer they've never seen, the pupils can solve any math problem from two-plus-two to the square root of a 14-digit number.

The idea behind the project is not to do away with homework—in fact, it's the opposite. The computer takes care of the time-consuming details so that the pupils can handle a larger work load.

"It's not like it's doing your homework for you. You still have to know math and all the rules," says Brian Butler Jr., 17, of Long Island City, a junior at Mater Christi Diocesan High School.

The "dial-a-solution" project is a joint study being conducted by the Roman Catholic schools of the diocese of Brooklyn and International Business Machines Corp.

The pupils work at home with a 12-button dial that relays commands to an IBM 1710 computer 50 miles away at Yorktown Heights in Westchester County. The answers come back by recorded voice.

Numbers are punched on the dial the same as on an ordinary calculating machine. But the commands are in code—for instance, to order the computer to divide you push the seven button and a button with a star on it.

Other pupils taking part in the project are Sheila Kiley, 17; Jeanne Tansey, 17; and Nancy Vescuso, 16, all juniors at Mary Louis Academy; and James Cerola, 16, and Joseph Feaster, 16, juniors at Mater Christi.

At present, each pupil is assigned one hour to use the computer, but it is hoped that use up to four of them can use it at one time.

HAS CHECKUP
ROME (AP)—Elizabeth Taylor's studio reported today that doctors at a Rome clinic found her in excellent condition during a 24-hour medical checkup.

Dr. Taylor To Address Buhl C. of C.

BUHL—Dr. James Taylor, president of College of Southern Idaho, will be the guest speaker for the Buhl Chamber of Commerce meeting Monday noon in the R and R Cafe banquet room.

Featured speaker for this week's luncheon meeting was Khosrow Bahrami, an engineering student from Iran studying at the University of Idaho. Bahrami gave an illustrated talk with colored slides of his native country.

Many of the slides were of excavated ruins of an ancient civilization dating back to 3,000 years ago. Many of the ancient treasures are in perfect state of preservation and showed the culture of that day. The stone carving and statues were work of art, according to Lloyd Byrne, chamber secretary.

During a board of directors meeting held after the luncheon it was voted to contribute $10 for the senior citizen day to be observed in Buhl April 23.

Another donation of $10 was made to the fund to help pay expenses for Mrs. John Unzicker, Idaho Mother of the Year, to attend national competition in New York City in May.

It was pointed out these contributions were not set up in the 1966 budget and as there is still approximately $1,000 outstanding in uncollected chamber dues it was felt this was all that could be given.

Ohio County Has Woman Law Officer

GREENVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Annie Oakley's home county has a lady sheriff but she doesn't plan to tote shootin' irons.

The new sheriff of Darke County, Mrs. Margaret Howard, figures on leaving to her menfolk subordinates the chore of bearing arms in patrolling the county's 677 square miles and protecting its 47,000 citizens.

Mrs. Howard, born and raised here, was appointed interim successor to her late husband, Sheriff Robert Howard.

The Democratic Central Committee picked her this week to serve until a November election can fill the final two years of her husband's unexpired term. Howard, 50, died March 30. The widow said she felt obligated to carry on her husband's work the way she feels he would have wanted it done, and that's why she announced as a candidate for the appointment.

Whale Lives After Being Shot 12 Times

CHARLES CITY, Va. (AP)—Pokey the Whale is alive. He was tied to a tree, shot a dozen times Wednesday night with a 30-30 rifle and left for dead.

Today, a commercial fisherman, Norman Haynes, went to tow the 3,000-pound whale from the James River shore where Pokey was found Monday, stuck on a mud flat.

Haynes tied a nylon rope to his boat to tow the whale to his home, nearby. But as the small motorboat started off, Pokey came to life, broke the rope and swam into deep water.

It was the second time Pokey has outlived predictions of his death. An ornithologist who examined the whale Monday decided the 25 to 30 bullet wounds he already bore would soon be fatal. But Pokey swam away Tuesday.

Pokey's would-be executioner was Haynes' son, Bernard, who decided the whale should be killed as a menace to small boats on the river.

Mrs. Haynes said her hus-

Dixie L. Webb, Schenk Recite Nuptial Vows

RUPERT — The Trinity Lutheran Church, Rupert, was the setting for the March 19 evening ceremony uniting in marriage Dixie Lee Webb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald (Bud) Webb, Heyburn, and Jerald Schenk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Schenk, Paul.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. L. G. Miezner, Rupert, before a setting of large baskets of yellow spider chrysanthemums and pink carnations accented with emerald greenery and olive green and white streamers. Small altar bouquets of chrysanthemums and carnations were flanked by candelabra at the altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, recited vows of a floor-length gown of bridal peau de soie styled with a fitted bodice, a round neckline and tapered sleeves. The bodice featured pearls and lace at the waist. A lace train falling from her shoulders to the floor featured a scalloped edge.

Her bouffant nylon shoulder-length veil was held by a Victorian pearl crown. Cascading pink Elfe roses centered with a white orchid with streamers of pink and white formed her bridal bouquet.

Dianne Webb, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Joyce Schenk, sister of bridegroom, was bridesmaid.

Junior bridesmaids were Jean Schenk, sister of the bridegroom, and Donna Webb, sister of the bride. Mardell Hirsch was flower girl.

Lynn Schenk, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Michael McCall, Jerry Webb, brother of the bride, and Earl Plocher. Michael Webb was ringbearer and candlelighters were Jerry Webb and Earl Plocher.

Mrs. Mary Ills played the traditional wedding music and accompanied Katy Hollenbeck, soloist. Rev. Mr. Miezner sang a solo, accompanied by Mrs. Miezner.

Following the ceremony, the newlyweds greeted guests in the reception hall.

Judy Smith, Pocastello, was in charge of the guest book and gifts were displayed by Mrs. Wayne Plocher, assisted by Mrs. DeRae Wheeler, Mrs. Steve Dalollio, Donna Nelson, Patricia Becker, Mary Ronnberg, Linda McCall, Beverly Dockter and Regina Dayton.

Giftbearers were Lola VanZante, Brenda VanZante, Kathy Webb, JoEllen Hirsch, Nancy Ottman and Kayleen Ottman. The bride's table, covered with a white lace cloth, was centered with a four-tiered white wedding cake. A miniature bride and bridegroom standing in front of a pearl and net dome topped the cake. The cake was baked and decorated by Mrs. William Amend, Kasota.

The cake was cut and served by Mrs. William Webb and Mrs. Marvin Hirsch. Punch was served by Mrs. Roy VanZante and Mrs. Michael Ronnberg. Coffee was poured by Mrs. Ruben Schenk.

Women of the Dorcas Society were in charge of the serving, with Mrs. Leo Jarolimek as chairman.

Master of ceremonies for the program was Marvin Hirsch. Guests attended from Buhl, Filer, Twin Falls, Castleford, Jerome, Pocastello, Hazelton and Rexburg.

Buhl School Budget Hearing Slated May 9

BUHL — Buhl school district trustees announced today they have designated 8 p.m. May 9 as the date for the public hearing for the proposed 1966-67 school budget.

The hearing will be held in the superintendent's office. The budget will be posted and published as required by law prior to the meeting. It was pointed out an adjustment has been made in the proposed budget to allow for an increase in the length of the school bus routes at an additional cost of approximately $7,000.

This allows for the adjustment of school bus routes to be of similar length to that prior to the cut made in transportation services and will provide some students within the one and one-half mile radius of the schools.

The annual trustee election was set for May 18 at which time two trustees will be elected to three-year terms.

Trustees whose terms expire June 1 are Fred Brailsford, chairman of the board, trustee district No. 2, and Eugene Thomas, in trustee district No. 1. Nominating petitions may be obtained at the superintendent's office.

Trustees authorized transportation expenses for the Buhl High School speech and drama students to attend a two-day workshop April 29-30 at Moscow. The local group, under the direction of Aldrich Bowler, will present a one-act play.

Trustees approved excising of certain property of School District No. 412 and annexing it to the Bliss Joint School District No. 234.

The trustees adopted a resolution recommending that the state board complete the transfer of the property. This is being done as a result of a petition requesting the transfer for the benefit of parents living in the north end of the Buhl School District whose students attend the Bliss schools.

The property lies directly across the river from the town of Bliss and in the upper end of Twin Falls County. The trustees felt that the transfer would be advantageous to all parties concerned.

Trustees approved the request of Mrs. Dorothy Machacek to attend the summer sessions at the College of Idaho, Caldwell. Teaching contracts for the 1966-67 school year were extended to Judy Heidel, Castleford, special education class; Pat Dierker, Filer, English; Ramona Moore, Burley, home economics, and Ann Yennil, Southwick, Idaho, Spanish.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A nuclear test of low intermediate yield, a blast force equal to between 20,000 and 200,000 tons of TNT, was conducted underground today at the Atomic Energy Commission's Nevada test site, the AEC announced.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A secrecy veil is about to cover one of the State Department's oldest publications — the biographical register of who's who in the U.S. diplomatic service.

State Department officials said today they have ordered a new edition of the bulky, much-used volume and that it will bear a security classification for the first time. On security grounds, they declined to say why.

Other sources said the Central Intelligence Agency wants the book withheld from the public to help conceal who in the U.S. diplomatic lists overseas are really CIA men.

The State Department register, nicknamed the "stud book" because of its biographical data, never lists anyone as a CIA man or espionage agent. It gives birthplaces and dates, education, rank and career with non-secret organizations.

But from these summaries of career, even with some falsified, it is sometimes possible to make a good guess at who is a professional State Department Foreign Service officer and who might be a "spook" — the diplomats' slang for undercover men put on embassy rosters.

Intelligence men contend that even if hostile agents do find out who are not the real diplomats

Intelligence Agency wants the book withheld from the public to help conceal who in the U.S. diplomatic lists overseas are really CIA men.

The State Department's library copies indicate the register was first published in 1833, carrying the names of U.S. diplomatic and consular officers, included in the series starting about 1909.

The latest register was issued in 1964, totals 476 pages and has been on public sale at the U.S. government printing office for $3.50. It is a standard reference work not only in the State Department but also in newspaper offices, libraries and other places needing short summaries of U.S. diplomats' careers.

The diet — made up of predigested soybean protein spun into fibers to give the product a meat-like texture — is designed to give Americans deemed needing it the low-fat properties of the average oriental diet, but one having "the appearance of Western food." The wispy fibers are compacted into tiny morsels, and flavored and colored for serving.

Dr. Robert Hodges of the University of Iowa, who described it at a scientific meeting here, said people in the Orient have long been known to have much lower rates of atherosclerosis — a form of hardening-of-the-arteries believed by many doctors to be the forerunner of heart attacks — than Americans.

And he said that while other factors in addition to dietary ones may aid the orientals in that respect, their low-fat diet is believed to play a significant role.

Hodges indicated at a news conference at the annual convention of the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology that the orientals' dietary staple — rice — might serve the same purpose as the new diet. But he said the latter "is far more acceptable to Americans than rice."

Patients treated with the soybean diet eat the usual constituents of the American diet, Hodges said.

But, in addition to make-believe "ham" and "beef" the spun-fiber diet comes in simulated forms of "fish" and "poultry." A measured amount of fat is incorporated.

Hodges said "profound decreases" in levels of blood fats, especially cholesterol, were achieved by giving the diet to some Iowa State Prison volunteers and some University of Iowa students in a six-month test.

The doctor said the spun-fiber diet — not yet commercially available, but one that should be moderate in cost when it is — was prepared by a commercial food-processing firm (General Mills, Inc., of Minneapolis).

Oliva's Homer Lifts Twins Past A's 5-3

ST. PAUL, MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Tony Oliva ripped a three-run homer in the eighth inning Wednesday to lift the Minnesota Twins to a 5-3 victory over Kansas City, giving the defending American League champions their second straight triumph.

Minnesota's Cuban Corps teed off on A's relief pitcher Paul Lindblad in the eighth after the rookie had stopped the Twins cold for four innings in a sparkling performance.

With two out in the eighth and Minnesota trailing 3-2, Zoilo Versalles and Sandy Valdespino slashed successive singles. Then Oliva tied into Lindblad's one-strike pitch and rode it 420 feet into the bullpen in right-center.

Kansas City took advantage of shoddy Minnesota fielding in the fourth to score two unearned runs off winner Camilo Pascual.

Law, Stargell Pace Pirates Past Braves

ATLANTA (AP)—Willie Stargell, who ruined the Braves' Dixie debut, spoiled Atlanta's second game in the South with a home run and a single which powered Pittsburgh to a 6-0 victory Wednesday night.

The big left-fielder's bat was all that was needed by Pirate pitcher Vernon Law, who allowed the Braves only four hits.

The game attracted 12,721 fans, a much smaller turnout than the 50,671 that attended the Tuesday night battle between the teams in the first big league game ever played in the South.

Stargell, who won for the Pirates in their National League opener with a 13th-inning homer, drove in Gene Alley with a single in the first inning and hit a 300-foot home run in the third with Alley on base. He also singled in the sixth and walked in the eighth before Donn Clendenon hit a homer.

Giants' Bolin Shuts Out Chicago 4-0

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Bob Bolin shut out Chicago on four hits Wednesday night as the San Francisco Giants carved out a 4-0 victory over the Cubs.

The flame-throwing right-hander with the easy-motion struck out nine and walked none. Only three times did the Cubs get a man past first and only once got more than one man on base.

The Giants spoiled the comeback attempt of pitcher Ernie Broglio with a single run in the first inning and three runs in the third. Broglio, once a 21-game winner, was on a 21-day leave following arm surgery.

San Francisco also kept Cub Manager Leo Durocher winless in his first season at a helm since 1955.

Branding May Help Biologists Find Keys in Fish Migrations

SALMON—Juvenile chinook salmon and steelhead trout in the Salmon River drainage are being marked in a unique manner to provide information concerning the production, survival, timing and rates of migration of these two important species. The fish are being marked under a cooperative study by the U.S. Bureau of Commercial Fisheries and Idaho Fish and Game Department. The newly developed "thermal-dermal" technique involves the application of a silver-tipped marking tool to the side of the fish after the tool has been heated in boiling water.

Terry Holubetz, in charge of the Lemhi River salmon and steelhead restoration program, said the mark or brand does not harm the fish, and merely changes the coloration from a light silvery color to a dark gray or black in the area contacted by the marking tool.

The marks are in the form of letters. The brand is known to be retained by the juvenile migrant during its fresh water life and there is promise that the brand will remain identifiable on the adult salmon and steelhead upon returning from the ocean, Holubetz said.

Several coho salmon possessing thermal-dermal marks returned to a hatchery in Oregon this fall after spending six months in salt water, and their brands were recognizable though slightly distorted from the differential growth of the skin.

This marking program was initiated to study juvenile salmon and steelhead, but it may provide some very important facts concerning the timing of the Salmon River-produced adults through the commercial fishery in the lower Columbia River, the fisheries expert said.

The marking started in the fall of 1964 and approximately 50,000 chinook salmon and 2,000 steelhead smolts have been marked and released in the tributaries of the Salmon River.

Some of these marked migrants were recaptured at Ice Harbor Dam on the Snake River during the spring months of 1965. This site is approximately 400 miles downstream from the Lemhi River, Lemhi River produced steelhead smolts covered this distance in the average time of 10 days, moving at an estimated rate of 40 miles per day.

Juvenile chinook leaving the Lemhi River in the fall months did not pass Ice Harbor Dam until April and May of the following year; chinook smolts migrating from the Lemhi River in the spring arrived at Ice Harbor Dam nine days later on the average. It is estimated that the spring-migrating chinook smolt moves at a rate of 44 miles per day.

This spring, trapping will be conducted at all the dams on the lower Snake and Columbia rivers and collection facilities will be operated on the Salmon River at Whitebird and in the estuary at the mouth of the Columbia River in an intensive effort to determine the survival of downstream migrant salmon and steelhead.

Holubetz said that after survival information has been collected at the various stations, the locations of major losses of juvenile migrants should be evident. The environment in the Snake and Columbia rivers has been changed from a free-flowing stream to an almost continuous series of hydro-electric dams and impoundments.

Previous research has indicated that these changes have caused some delay and mortality of juvenile salmon and steelhead on their migration to the sea. This is due partly to mortalities occurring as they pass over the spill or through the turbines and partly to changes in timing and survival as they pass through the reservoirs created behind each dam.

This study should point out where and why the juvenile mortalities occur, he added. Last year's studies revealed that juveniles migrated from the Upper Salmon River area to Ice Harbor Dam at approximately the same rate that they moved from Ice Harbor Dam to Bonneville Dam.

Flows were above average last spring creating stronger flows in the reservoirs, but the fact remains that these fish passed through the reservoirs at the same rate that they navigated a free-flowing river, Holubetz said.

He concluded that this data will afford an opportunity to evaluate the production and subsequent survival of juvenile migrants in key tributaries of the Salmon River.

WSU Opens Football Camp

PULLMAN, Wash. (AP)—Spring football practice began Wednesday at Washington State University, where Coach Bert Clark is looking for the talent to improve on last season's unexpectedly good seven wins, three loss record.

The team will work out Thursday, Friday and Saturday this week, then move into a Monday, Wednesday, Thursday, Saturday schedule for the rest of the 20 spring practice drills.

The Cougars have 31 letter-men returning, but there are some big holes in the lineup. First, Clark must find a full-back to replace Larry Elmes, who surpassed most of the school's rushing records in his senior year. Front-running candidates to replace him are junior Ted Garcia of Spokane, sophomore Del Carmichael of Yakima and junior Fred Major, Longview.

Idaho Maintains Perfect Mark in Baseball Tourney

Idaho's Vandals captured a pair of games in the College Classic Baseball Tournament in Boise and Caldwell Wednesday to remain undefeated after three games. The Vandals turned back Boise College 4-1 after winning an 8-0 shutout earlier over Northwest Nazarene. Frank Reberger struck out 16

Boise College batters and had a no-hitter going until the seventh when Mike Guerrigolia singled.

Idaho scored once in the second when Rich Toney singled home Doyle Demond who had walked. The Vandals added two more runs in the fourth and one more in the seventh.

In other games, Idaho state put down College of Idaho 8-6 for a 2-1 tourney mark and Boise College handed College of Idaho its second defeat on Jim Paige's one-hitter before bowing to Idaho.

Idaho rounded a pair of Northwest Nazarene pitchers for 11 hits and took a 5-0 lead after two innings en route to its victory.

Ken Johnson gave up only two hits and struck out six. Shortstop Gary Johnson paced the Vandal attack with a pair of singles and three runs batted in.

Boise jumped on starting and losing pitcher John Hull for all the runs it needed in the first inning by scoring three times.

Bill Miller's triple accounted for two tallies.

Idaho State held an 8-0 lead over College of Idaho but the Coyotes stormed back with six runs off three Bengal hurlers in the last inning.

Gerald Kimura, however, came in to "put out the fire" with the tying runs at first and second to preserve the victory for Gil Varpas.

Dennis Wallen, with a pair of triples and a single, paced Idaho State's 12-hit barrage.

Reds Forced to Open on Road

CINCINNATI (AP)—Cold weather and wet grounds killed off another effort Wednesday night by the Cincinnati Reds to get their 1966 National League baseball season under way.

The original opener Monday was postponed because of rain and the same thing happened Tuesday.

Postponement of the Wednesday night game meant that for only the second time in their major league history, dating back to the founding of the National League in 1876, the Reds will play their first game of the season away from home.

76ers' Boast Helped Prime Celts' Effort

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—To hear Coach Red Auerbach and Big Bill Russell tell it, the Boston Celtics won the National Basketball Association's Eastern playoff finals over the Philadelphia 76ers because the 76ers talk too much.

Auerbach, smoking his famed victory cigar, and Russell, spoke after Boston beat Philadelphia 120-112 Tuesday night to close out the best four-of-seven game Eastern series 4-1, and on the loser's home court.

Auerbach, who admitted he never expected to win in five games, said "I don't want to run it in but I seem to recall that Irv Kosloff (owner of the 76ers) said his team would win the entire playoffs in eight games. Now he can't win anything."

Russell, the Celtics' 2-foot-9 star, said he and his teammates felt the 76ers took them too lightly because Philadelphia won the regular season Eastern title by a game over Boston and held a 6-4 edge in the season play.

"We didn't have any newspapers in Boston because of the strike," said Russell. "So, we read New York and Philadelphia papers. We got the impression from these papers that the 76ers were adding up the money, figuring us as dead. This helped get us up for the series."

Russell, who scored 18 points and took down 31 rebounds in the latest Boston victory, said the 76ers didn't wake up until after Boston had a 2-0 lead. He said Philadelphia "came out like tigers in the third game, and even though the 76ers won, the fact that we cut 23 points off a 24 point lead, helped us. This was the pivotal game."

Judge Orders Braves to Stay in Milwaukee or Provide Expansion Team

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — The freshly minted Atlanta Braves must return to Milwaukee unless the National League agrees by May 16 to give the Wisconsin city a 1967 expansion franchise, a Wisconsin circuit judge ruled Wednesday night. Judge Elmer W. Roller's order came in a decision in which he held the Braves and the National League violated Wisconsin's antitrust laws by stripping Milwaukee of its only major league team. Roller said, "The refusal of the National League and the failure of the American League to issue a franchise to Milwaukee county... was a concerted refusal to deal in restraint of trade and commerce within the State of Wisconsin."

ISU to Test Weber, Utags in 3-Way Meet

OGDEN (AP) — With prospects for good weather Saturday and the appearance of several top performers on Weber State College's fast all-weather track, several stadium records may be in danger at the triangular track meet at which WSC hosts Idaho State University and Utah State University. The three schools will start competition Saturday at 1 p.m. on the Wildcat oval and each team has outstanding performers who are capable of posting excellent marks.

Probably the most-watched performance will be USU's high hurdler, Jerry Corulla, whose time of 13.5 in the high last year was tops in the nation, and only three tenths of a second off the world record of 13.2. Aggie Coach Ralph Maughn expects Corulla to equal or break the world's record this year or next. Corulla may also compete in the 100-yard dash, and he is said to be capable of 9.6.

Actually the century will have five or six runners who can do 9.8 or better. Idaho State's Len Frazier, John Briggs and John Figueroa can all run under 10 and the Bengals' Brent De Witt and Le Roy Smith have also run the 100 in less than 10 flat.

With Cerulla in the 100 and Weber State's Henry Owens, who has run 9.8 this year, the century should be a thriller. The mile should be another great race. Weber State's Doyle Shaw is improving with each meet and has a best time of 4:20 this year, while Idaho State's Roger Maxfield's best time is 4:15.

Utah State's Don Swabb is capable of running near 4:20 also. Close contests are also expected in the 880, the javelin, the broad jump and the triple jump, with each school well represented.

Dopsters figure the Aggies and the Bengals should battle it out for first place, with the Aggies having a bit the more all-around depth. Weber State hopes to place its best men high in their specialties and pick up enough points to make it a good three-team meet.

He said that while in many cases the word competition is played down in favor of participation and other things, competition is the only way a man or a nation can become great. "I will remember to the day I die the great shock that all Americans felt when Russia became the first to put a satellite into orbit," the Rev. Mr. Richards said. He went on to review the aftermath, the great hue and cry that went up and how it resulted in a spirited competition that is pushing man farther out into space each day.

"And I will always wonder on the day the first American reaches the moon just how far we would have been if Russia hadn't provided the incentive, the competition — that made the United States put all its energies into this great effort."

He then returned to the Santa Monica swim club. "I interviewed one young champion just after she had won her third gold medal. I asked her how she and her teammates could become so great yet have a club so small. She told me 'we have to beat each other every day in practice.'"

The Rev. Mr. Richards recalled John Weissmuller, who during the late 1920's and early 30's was considered the last word in swimming. "At one time John Weissmuller held 53 U. S. and world records," he recalled. "Experts were saying his records would last for all time. Today these invincible records are being broken regularly by 13-year-old GIRLS."

Looking at the Olympics the Rev. Mr. Richards pointed out that the United States is a champion only in the sports it provides competition at home. "Our biggest sin is that we have thousands of gymnasiums and stadiums across the country—and they're all locked," he said. "If we could take the locks off those gates and doors, if we could channel the boundless energy of our youth into these vacant arenas, the United States could dominate every athletic contest in the world. If we could take those locks off, we could cut the 20 billion dollar bills of juvenile delinquency in half annually."

"You cannot become great without competition," the Rev. Mr. Richards stated, "in athletics or any other walk of life."

U.S. Hoop Team Arrives in Chile

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — The United States team, minus Cazzie Russell, arrived by jet plane Wednesday for the World Basketball Championships. Russell, All-America from Michigan, withdrew from the team because of final examinations at his college, officials said.

Others landing Wednesday were teams from Spain, the Soviet Union and Yugoslavia, the Argentine, Puerto Rican, Peruvian, Brazilian, Mexican and Paraguay teams were scheduled to arrive Thursday and the Bulgarians on Friday.

Astros Batter Koufax, Nip Dodgers 7-6

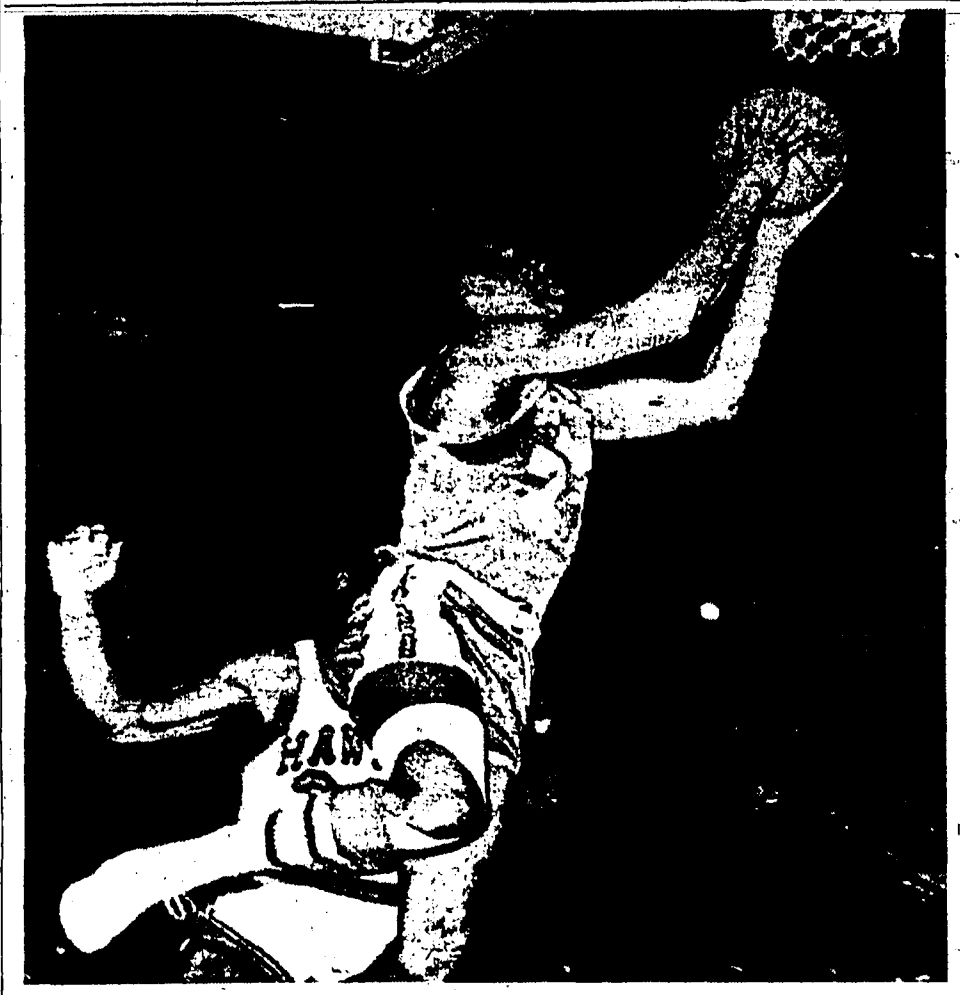

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Houston Astros battered Sandy Koufax from the mound in the fourth inning, then went on to edge Los Angeles 7-6 Wednesday night on Rusty Staub's run-scoring single in the ninth inning.

Staub drove in Chuck Harrison, who led off with a single against Ron Perranoski and was sacrificed to second by John Bateman.

Koufax, making his first start after holding out for 32 days during spring training, was rocked for five runs and five hits in three innings. He departed after Bateman led off the fourth with a triple.

Koufax contributed to his own downfall when he fumbled Jim Wynn's grounder in the third

Palmer, Nicklaus Expected to Dominate Tourney of Champions

LAS VEGAS, Nev. Busy McClain Adds Punch to Tiger Staff

NEW YORK (AP) — If there is a busier athlete than Denny McLain he has yet to come forth and be counted. This laddie from the shores of Lake Michigan is a big league pitcher, organ teacher, public relations man and after dinner speaker.

In the winter months Denny charms the clients of the Country Lane Club in Livonia, Mich., with tunes like "More" and "Who Can I Turn To." They don't go much for "Danny Boy" and McNamara's Band" around Livonia.

Most of all, McLain is a big league pitcher with the Detroit Tigers. Because of McLain and the other strong arms on the staff, many are picking the Tigers to win the American League pennant this year.

"We've got a real ball club," says the 22-year-old right-hander. "Every pitcher would like to win 20, and that includes me. Mickey Lolich got his first in the opener. There is no other club in the league that has five starts as we do."

McLain started with the Chicago White Sox chain but was claimed by Detroit April 8, 1963, when the Sox decided to keep Dave DeBusschere (now retired and a pro basketball coach) and Bruce Howard.

"I owe everything to Charlie Dressen," said McLain. "I came up to the Tigers at the end of 1963, and I couldn't throw a curve. He taught me how in 15 minutes. He is just fantastic with kids."

McLain had 42 students taking organ lessons last winter and plans to retain 11 or 12 during the year on a one-a-week basis.

Jeff Everett's two-run triple highlighted a four-run first inning for Washington in the second game and the Huskies went on the score eight times in the fifth.

Dulles International Airport Said Built too Soon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Look west of Washington in the Virginia countryside, is a real beauty. It's big, too. Its 9,800 acres make it two-thirds as large as Manhattan Island. It takes up twice the space of New York's John F. Kennedy International Airport. It can handle the biggest jet planes now built, or the monsters still on the drawing boards.

It competes for business with Friendship Airport, near Baltimore, a city-owned facility, and Washington National Airport, across the Potomac River from the capital, which like Dulles is a federal government operation. Dulles' terminal building, twice as long as a football field, is breathtaking in its majesty. It's a glass-walled temple, with a huge curved roof supported by slim pillars.

It was designed by the famed architect, Eero Saarinen, who shortly before his death called it "the best thing I have done."

From the start three years ago, it has packed in the tourists — auto tourists, that is. Rep. Edward P. Boland, D-Mass., was moved to say: "It's a great place to visit but we didn't really build it as an entertainment attraction."

Comparatively speaking, you don't see many people in it. At mid-afternoon on a recent weekday: —In the vast sweep of the concourse, there were only eight people in sight, one of them a policeman. —There were five customers in a coffee shop that could easily seat 100. —In the barber shop, there were four people, counting the barber. —Only one flight insurance booth was open, and the girl there wasn't busy.

Clerks at the airline counters talked to each other, in the absence of customers. Things could shortly get even more lonesome: on April 24, the far busier, far smaller, far more convenient, 25-year-old Washington National Airport is being opened to jet planes. Heretofore National has handled only propeller planes, and jets bound for the Washington area could land only at Dulles or at Friendship.

Pressure to open National to jets built up fast in recent years. In a Federal Aviation Agency brochure on Dulles, reprinted in 1963, was this statement explaining why Dulles was needed: "Because of National's size and other limitations, it was evident that jet operations would not be practical there. So the new airport was planned to complement the old."

But, more and more, airlines have been replacing their comparatively slow propeller planes with small or medium jets, with two or three engines. On Jan. 11 this year, the FAA announced these jets could use National. It said Dulles would continue to concentrate on big jets serving long-haul and inter-

Reeder Firm Gets Federal Certificate

The Reeder Flying Service is, as the result of the issuance of a Federal Air Agency certificate, the only flight school in Idaho approved to conduct all flight courses, it was learned here Thursday.

Charles Reeder, owner of the service, the largest privately operated business of its kind in the state, said the certificate now permits courses in primary, commercial, flight instructor and instrument flight fields with government approval.

The certificate was signed by George J. Schwab, supervisory inspector for the FAA.

At the same time it was announced that the flying service had been awarded a special certificate by officials of the National Air Taxi Conference for operating over a period of 23 years without any passenger injury.

The chamber decided to sponsor the swimming program again this year with Hill appointed as chairman of the program. William (Whimpy) Spain asked if the chamber would be interested in working on the lighting project for the baseball field.

It was announced the student recognition banquet honored over 100 students and was well attended. Approximately 250 plates were served.

Members endorsed the investigation of the feasibility of the Rock Creek Multiple Purpose watershed project.

New Reconnaissance Jet Arrives at Mountain Home

MOUNTAIN HOME—The RF-4C Phantom aircraft, a high-performance fighter aircraft and an effective, tactical, all-weather multisensor reconnaissance plane, will be dedicated to the state May 21, in conjunction with the 17th annual Armed Forces Day.

The first of the jets to be permanently assigned to the 67th Tactical Reconnaissance Wing has arrived in Mountain Home Air Force Base.

The sleek, two-engine plane, the fastest in the Air Force's operational inventory, was flown to Mountain Home from the McDonnell plant in St. Louis, Mo., by Col. Robert G. Williams, commander of the 67th Tactical Reconnaissance Squadron.

Attending the dedication ceremonies will be Gov. Robert E. Smylie, Sen. Frank Church, Sen. Len Jordan, Rep. Compton White and Rep. George Hansen and other military officials from throughout Idaho.

Retaining the world record speed, altitude and time-to-climb performance characteristics inherent in the Phantom series, the RF-4C Phantom II will retain the nuclear air-to-ground attack capability of the other Phantom versions.

Utilizing the same basic configuration and engines as the fighter and attack version of the Phantom, McDonnell has designed and is building the RF-4C to augment the reconnaissance capability of the Tactical Air Command.

The RF-4C optical system includes cameras of various focal lengths and operational modes, an integrated sensor control system, automatic in-flight film processing, film ejection from the low altitude panoramic camera station and controls for the pilot and the pilot-system operator.

Those integrated components provide maximum flexibility for a wide range of missions.

Soviet Fighter Revealed by Plane Crash

BERLIN (AP) — The crash of a Soviet plane in a West Berlin lake gave the Western Allies their first inspection of a new Russian all-weather fighter.

The wreckage of the plane, which crashed eight days ago in the city's British sector, was delivered Wednesday to a Soviet pontoon raft in the Havel River near the East German frontier.

A British spokesman confirmed for the first time that the two-seat, twin-jet plane was of an advanced type previously relatively unknown in the West.

"The aircraft appeared to be the YAK28 type," the spokesman said, adding, "This is a most modern type of Soviet all-weather fighter."

The plane's two crewmen were killed, and their bodies were turned over to the Russians last Friday.

Informed Allied sources said: "This was the first look we have had at such a plane in any circumstances." The sources added that they understood the plane had been outside the Soviet Union for only about three weeks at the time of the crash.

British Unalarmed Over Socialism's Rise

By TOM A. CULLEN
LONDON (NEA)—The British government runs gin mills on the Scottish border. It owns oil wells in Persia, and iron ore mines in Brazil.

In England the government has a monopoly on railroads and airlines, is sole proprietor of the nation's coal mines. In addition, it supplies Britons with free teeth and spectacles.

Government monopoly will be extended to new fields under the Labor government, it is freely predicted.

In the past public ownership has often come about as a result of blunders. That's how the government got into the saloon-keeping business on the Scottish border during World War I.

Absenteeism in munition plants was blamed on heavy drinking. In order to regulate the liquor consumption the government bought up the pubs, all 175 of them, plus a brewery at Carlisle, and it has been running the saloons ever since.

However, there is nothing haphazard about the government's intention to extend government ownership. As a starter, the government plans to set up a giant holding company with powers to buy up privately owned enterprises.

The Industrial Reorganization Corporation (IRC) is the title given to the new agency, and it will be empowered to organize new industries, as well as to force mergers between existing ones. To accomplish its purpose, it will have huge sums of capital at its disposal, and will be free to borrow more in the market.

Early candidates for government takeover if the new scheme goes through are the machine tool, computer and airplane industries.

Ostensible aims of IRC are to modernize British industry, and thus to equip firms to meet foreign competition in the world market. But its critics claim that IRC is really "socialism by stealth."

"This is just a cynical move for taking over private enterprise without having to face parliamentary battles over specific nationalization measures," says Aims of Industry, a free enterprise group.

Britain, of course, is one of the world's most heavily socialized countries right now and although industrialists still grumble about government ownership, few people are really very alarmed.

With the smashing victory of Harold Wilson's Labor government, it appears likely socialism in Britain will become even more firmly entrenched.

YOUR BIRTHDAY
and HOROSCOPE

THURSDAY, April 14 — Born today, you are one who sticks to his convictions no matter how bitter the opposition. Those who may have tried to talk you into taking a line of action which went against those convictions know how adamant you can be when your principles are laid on the line. Yet yours is not a small-mindedness or a stubbornness—though there may be some who mistake it for one or the other—for you are perfectly willing to let others go their own way, just so long as they allow you to go yours.

More inclined toward the aesthetic rather than the strictly utilitarian, you may find it difficult to get a start in life insofar as a career is concerned. By nature you may wish to express yourself through one of the arts—but you also may have been denied the talent necessary to make such a wish come true. If such is the case, you will have to accept it and choose your life's work outside the field of art, though you may very well gain much satisfaction within the field as a hobbyist.

One whose affections are probably much more sincere than they seem on the surface, you may well have trouble persuading the one of your choice that you are the right mate for him or her. The solution, of course, is to allow your true feelings out in the open where they can be recognized for what they are. You may not want to expose your inner self to everyone—which is understandable—but before any you love it is almost a necessity.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Friday, April 15

ARIES (March 22-April 20)—A day for head-work. Mind over matter should see you well on the way toward reconciling employment and social levels of your life.

TAURUS (April 21-May 21)—A good day for signing contracts, writing important letters, and consummating a business deal.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21)—If planning a journey for the week end, now is the time to tie up any loose ends that could spoil those plans.

CANCER (June 22-July 23)—All commercial projects are highly favored today—especially those in which you are personally involved as the seller.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23)—A day for making up for lost time. Let every effort count as you attempt to catch up on major and minor details left hanging.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23)—An excellent day for any travel in connection with your business or profession. Let personal matters take a back seat.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23)—Employment advancement or a new job opportunity could well result from a conference with close friends.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 23)—Morning should bring useful contacts insofar as your business or profession is concerned. Make your personality count now.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22)—Activity is needed if today's prospects are to materialize into worthwhile gains. Make the most of every opportunity.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20)—Make the most of highly productive morning hours, but hold to routine for the rest of the day.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19)—Diligence is the key to success today. You should realize a dream of long standing if you go about it right.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 21)—The outlook is excellent for advancement along employment lines. However, should things go wrong, you would be wise not to force the issue.

Big Airliners Are Ordered From Boeing

NEW YORK (AP) — Pan American World Airways today ordered 25 new 490-passenger subsonic jet airliners at a cost of $525 million from the Boeing Co.

The order was one of the largest ever placed for commercial aircraft.

The new type plane will be known as the Boeing 747. Its seating capacity will be 2½ times that of existing aircraft.

A Pan Am spokesman said use of the huge planes is expected to cut air fares drastically.

The order included 23 passenger planes and 2 all-cargo craft. Deliveries of the subsonic craft will begin in September 1969. It is not to be confused with a supersonic — or faster than sound — aircraft on which Boeing and Lockheed aircraft have submitted plans to the government.

Pan Am said the 747 will have greater speed than present jet airliners, which can attain 620 miles an hour.

The plane will be able to carry 490 passengers in thrift class or 378 in mixed economy and first class configuration.

Separate staterooms for eight persons, in addition to the control cabin for the captain and flight crew, are being designed for the second deck.

MOCKUP OF NEW Boeing 747 airplane, of which Pan American World Airways has ordered 25 at a cost of $525 million, shows two aisles and seating nine abreast in economy class. Total carrying capacity will be 490 passengers, or two and one-half times that of existing aircraft. In thrift class seating will be 10 abreast. Pan American ordered 23 passenger planes and two all-cargo craft, for delivery starting in September, 1969. (AP wirephoto)

Policeman on Beat May Get Crime Information System

WASHINGTON (AP) — The policeman on the beat may soon be augmenting his traditional tools of the trade — gun, night stick and handcuffs — with a lightning-quick national crime information system virtually at his fingertips.

A patrolman in Portland, Maine, may spot a suspicious-looking car bearing California license plates. He telephones his dispatcher, who operates a typewriter-like device that puts him in instant contact with Washington.

Here, the FBI's computerized National Crime Information Center grinds out a speedy reply. Within a minute, the Portland patrolman is told that not only has the car been stolen in Sacramento but the alleged thief is wanted on a murder charge. And he takes it from there.

The FBI's headquarters here — already the nation's fingerprint capital — will become its crime information center once the national crime network goes into operation.

While the bureau acknowledges it may be several years before the highly complex computer systems are fully developed at local levels, it hopes to go into business next January in

Soldier Charged

TEANECK, N.J. (AP) — An 18-year-old soldier was charged Wednesday with arranging to get himself shot in the leg, allegedly to get out of the Army, Police Chief Robert Fitzpatrick said.

The youth, Pfc. Robert Flynn of Teaneck, was taken to Holy Name Hospital in fair condition with a 22-caliber bullet wound below his left knee. He had told police he was shot by an unidentified assailant.

Fitzpatrick said a police investigation showed Flynn had asked a friend, Walter Esterbrook, 18, to shoot him. Fitzpatrick was charged with aiding and abetting an assault on himself. Esterbrook was charged with assault and battery.

U.S. to Seek Meat Supplies In Europe

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government plans to seek supplies of beef and pork in Europe to help feed American military men there.

The Defense Department disclosed Wednesday that its procurement officials will work with the Agriculture Department in bartering American crop surpluses for supplies of European meat.

Such procurement would reduce military demands on American supplies of meat at a time when the administration is interested in bringing down food prices, particularly pork, in an effort to combat inflation.
