Communist Head Emerges for Meet With Albanians

TOKYO (AP) — Communist Chinese leader Mao Tse-tung emerged today from a six-month absence from public view to meet with an Albanian government delegation led by Premier Mehmet Shehu. The Communist New China News Agency reported the meeting. Mao's long period in apparent seclusion had resulted in speculation that he was seriously ill. The meeting with the Albanians, reported also by Peking's radio, was the first official word from Red China that Mao had attended a public function since Nov. 26, when he met a Cambodian military delegation in Shanghai.

The report today did not say where or when Mao met with the Albanians. Red China's only European Communist allies in the Peking-Moscow struggle, Shehu's delegation arrived in China last month for the May Day celebrations in Peking, went on a tour and returned to the capital Sunday.

Mao, now 72, did not attend the annual May Day review in Peking. The Chinese government denied the rumors abroad that he was seriously ill or even dead, and a non-Communist source in New York reported last week that the Chinese leader had been at the airport in Peking Feb. 28 to say goodbye to ex-President Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana. The source said Mao appeared to be in good health.

Another Peking leader long out of the public eye also emerged with Mao for the Albanians' visit. He was Defense Minister Lin Piao, vice chairman of the Central Committee of the Chinese Communist party, for whom a public appearance had not been reported in a year.

The New China News Agency said Lin, along with Premier Chou En-lai were present at the meeting. It added that Mao also gave a banquet for the Albanian visitors.

House Sends Omnibus Bill To Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House sent to the Senate by voice vote Tuesday a $2.8 billion omnibus appropriation bill including funds to finance the controversial rent subsidy program temporarily.

The bill is a compromise of separate measures passed previously by both branches. It provides funds for numerous agencies for the remaining months of the fiscal year ending June 30.

There was no controversy over the rent payments, $100,000 in cash and authority to enter into $12 million worth of contracts to pay landlords part of the normal rent of tenants.

Neither was there any dispute over $9.5 million to finance the new national Teachers Corps temporarily.

But a spirited controversy is expected over a bill to finance the rent program for the year starting July 1. The second measure contains no money for the program. Administration leaders have an amendment to give it more than $30 million.

School Board Asks Support Of CSI Bond

The College of Southern Idaho bond issue received the unanimous approval of the School District 411 trustees Monday at a brief, regular trustee meeting.

Following an earlier executive session, the trustees met briefly to give their support to the bond issue.

The trustees agreed that the promotion of the junior college would be of immediate benefit to area students who wish to continue their education beyond high school.

The trustees urged voter support for the bond issue as a needed extension of local educational programs.

10 Acquitted

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — The District Court today acquitted 10 persons, including an opposition lawmaker, of charges that they plotted to overthrow the Chung Ju Park government.

The court ruled that no evidence had been found to sustain the charges. The prosecution had demanded imprisonment ranging from three to 10 years.

Employees of Acme Firm Reject Union

Employees of the Acme Manufacturing Co., Pocatello, Tuesday decisively rejected it by the Machinists Union to represent the company's employees.

The company's employees voted 34 to 18 against the union proposal, following what was termed a "hard fight" by Fred Smith, president of the Idaho Employers Council.

Smith cited the election results as representing the "true feeling" of his community toward Acme Manufacturing.

The Acme Manufacturing Co.

manufactures implements and related parts, including drapery chain, of which it is the world's largest manufacturer.

Another Peking leader long out of the public eye also emerged with Mao for the Albanians' visit. He was Defense Minister Lin Piao, vice chairman of the Central Committee of the Chinese Communist party, for whom a public appearance had not been reported in a year.

2 Top Soviet Leaders Leave For Visits

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union's two top leaders left today for visits abroad, apparently designed to bolster the Kremlin's influence in both the Communist and neutralist camps.

Communist party leader Leonid I. Brezhnev flew to Romania for a three-day visit. Its Communist regime has been showing increasing independence of Moscow's leadership.

Brezhnev's visit could be aimed at keeping Romania neutral in Moscow's dispute with Poland.

Premier Alexei N. Kosygin flew to Cairo for an eight-day visit that appeared aimed at drawing the United Arab Republic's President Gamal Abd al-Nasser closer to the Soviet sphere.

SUMBITS BILL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Wayne L. Hays has submitted to Congress a bill specifying circumstances in which the government can withdraw passes.

The trustees urged voter support for the bond issue as a needed extension of local educational programs.

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Technicians in the blockhouse and America's Gemini 9 astronauts teamed up today to stage a flawless reflight of the complex dual-countdown that is to send the spacemen rocketing aloft next Tuesday to test skills needed to land on the moon.

The astronauts, dressed in space suits, climbed into the Gemini 9 capsule at 10:36 a.m. and underwent a make-believe blastoff exactly on schedule at 12:30 p.m. Their Agena-target satellite completed its preflight countdown on time at 10 a.m. on a launch pad 6,000 feet away.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration and all aspects of today's dress rehearsal went "very smoothly," before next week's three-day space adventure concludes.

Navy Lt. Cmdr. Eugene A. Cernan is to take a record-duration space walk and use a rocket-powered back-pack.

Command pilot Thomas P. Stafford is to steer Gemini 9 on a simulated rendezvous attempt with an Agena target satellite and join Gemini 9 into a new orbit by firing the 16,000-pound-thrust Agena engine while their spaceship is hooked up with it.

The flight plan for Gemini 9 is to date one of the most complex and sophisticated. Air Force Lt. Col. Stafford said,

"Today's countdown called a simultaneous launch demonstration — is the start of two days of intensive rehearsals designed to test equipment and brief technical crew in the blockhouse on procedures necessary to launch the Agena target satellite.

Your Aching Back--What to Do About It

(Editor's note: If you, or your cousin or your uncle or your aunt, have an aching back, you couldn't do better—aside from consulting your own doctor—than to read these articles by an internationally-known expert. Dr. Kraus was called in on the problem of President Kennedy's back trouble, and served later on the President's Council on Youth Fitness. His conviction is that proper exercise and learning to relax are the keys to good health.)

By HANS KRAUS, M.D.
Perhaps it was an action as simple as opening the garage door, or bending over to pick up a piece of paper, or reaching for something on a high shelf...

But suddenly the pain struck—an excruciating, devilish kind of pain, one of the worst you've ever felt. If nearly drives you to the ground...

One out of every two Americans is in a setup for such an experience for one sorry reason: He's under-exercised and overstressed. And the parade of patients with severe backaches every year is testimony that this one ailment is perhaps the most common chronic disability of our relatively easy life.

Progress brings benefits. It also brings perils. Man has been on earth for more than 100,000 years, and yet in the last hundred years, brief flash-in-the-dimensity of time, he has changed his world and his habits in revolutionary fashion.

Nowhere is this more true than in the United States. We are the most prosperous nation in the world. We have a super-abundance of automobiles, appliances, and other labor-saving devices—but we have also altered the physical balance of our lives, and we are now held by a new wave of degenerative diseases. Under-exercise in partnership with over-irritation has become the most serious threat to the health of Americans, stirring up a witch's brew of trouble, from heart disease and stroke to the wracking pain and—long-consuming healing of backaches.

Add to this the stiff neck and headache of tension syndrome, duodenal ulcer, diabetes, overweight and coronary heart disease. These are the hypokinetic diseases—the sicknesses caused by insufficient exercise, by allowing our bodies and our vital functions to rust away, and torturing their weakness with the strain-of-tension...

WHAT YOU CAN DO
But there is an antidote—and with some simple tests and your doctor's go-ahead you can do it yourself.

Even if you suffer from recurrent backaches now, there is good indication that you can correct them...and guard against their ever occurring again. More than 8 out of 10 backache cases are caused by under-exercise and/or tension.

And back pain is often merely the first of the hypo-kinetic diseases to strike the under-exercised.

The pain can strike almost anywhere from the neck to the waist. It can be the pulsing throb of a tension headache so severe; it is torture to try to focus your eyes. Tense neck muscles can cause this.

Sometimes it is a stabbing pain between the shoulder blades.

But the worst of all is low back pain. A bad case of low back pain may make you think you're crippled for life.

Suddenly all the tension that has been building up in your system seems to focus across the lower back, even with the hips. In an instant—as you go to turn or twist or to stoop, muscles go into wracking spasms. You can't move. You're locked in position. You wonder if you dare straighten up—and when you try, it feels as if someone had stuck a knife in your spine. You try to get to a chair. The pain increases even more. Finally you manage to lie down. When the pain is piercing, you can't get up, you can't move your legs. After a day or two, you manage to hobble out of bed. Gradually, the pain seems to go away.

and, try conservative treatment. It took three months, relaxing exercises and finally some strengthening, stretching exercises but Pete Hamilton recovered without surgery and he's still fine today.

In tomorrow's article, we'll look at the Kraus-Weber tests and you can find out for yourself whether you are a candidate for back pain.

If so, the time to protect against it is now.

But perhaps in a week, a month, or even two months later, the pain attacks again. This time, it's worse. You wonder what's wrong. Nothing seems to help.

It strikes both men and women without prejudice. It strikes young men who used to be athletes. And it strikes desk workers who never were. It hits young mothers and grandmothers.

A HORRIBLE EXAMPLE

I was interviewed by a writer—we'll call him Pete Hamilton—in 1955. He was interested in my exercise test because of a report I had given to President Dwight Eisenhower. To get the real idea, he decided to take the Kraus-Weber tests. He had good strength, but he was tense. He was so tense in fact that he failed the floor-touch test—one of the six muscle measuring actions. Try as he might, he couldn't get his finger tips to within six inches of the floor, and his hamstring muscles were as unyielding as piano wire.

"If I ever saw a candidate for back pain, you're it," I told him. "You're simply too tense. Tell me, what do you do for exercise?"

"Nothing," he said. He just didn't have time, was too rushed, and there weren't athletic facilities nearby.

Five years later he came to see me again. This time he limped in, bent over at the waist. There was agony on his face. He'd had a car accident and the next day had felt a little back pain—but when he bent over to pick up a piece of paper it was as though someone had swung an axe into the base of my spine. I was flat on my face and I couldn't move my legs. I stayed there for a half-hour until my wife found me."

His doctor prescribed a brace, and when the back failed to improve, decided surgery might be necessary. But first, the doctor had to get his finger tips to within six inches of the floor.

And his hamstring muscles were as unyielding as piano wire.

"If I ever saw a candidate for back pain, you're it," I told him.

"You're simply too tense. Tell me, what do you do for exercise?"

Vacancy Problem

In recent years, Twin Falls has shown a good deal of concern over vacant properties in the business district. One spot that could have become an eyesore quite easily was the old Post Office building. However, it was turned over to the Twin Falls School District and administrative offices have been established. The move averted the possibility of having a boarded-up, steadily-deteriorating structure within a block of the city's center. Businessmen continue to be concerned over other vacancies in the downtown business district and owners of the vacant structures also must be worried over what the future holds for these buildings.

UNIONS RULE — The unions' rationale of course, is that automation and mechanization are a threat to jobs, although Post Office studies almost daily reveal that a completely automated system not only would not reduce employment but might require additional hands. Sted is right when he calls the situation "wholly unrealistic and completely irresponsible."

Sted also echoed the complaint of a large majority of Post Office's career supervisory employees when he suggested that the union tail is wagging the Post Office dog. Assistant Postmaster General Richard Murphy, one of the truly bright young men in government service, assured Sted that management is continuing to run the show, but there was a graveyard quality to his tone. Nothing is done in that ship without union approval.

DOOR BOX DELIVERY CURBED — In such a situation, the Post Office now has decreed that door-to-door mail deliveries in the newer sections of suburbia are out. Citing reasons of economy, the department has ordered its 2,800 postmasters to stop converting present routes in new subdivisions from curbside-to-door box delivery. Complete conversion, it was said, would cost $100 million.

About seven million addresses in the country now receive only curbside service on city delivery routes. This saves time and therefore money, because with curbside boxes the mailmen can remain in their trucks rather than walk their routes. But the joker in the new order is the provision stating that door-delivery may not be furnished "even when the type of service currently is being given in adjacent or contiguous areas." Thus one side of a street could be served at the door, and the other at the curb.

We got here, Mrs. Baldredash, the richest country in the world unable to spare the dough to deliver the mail properly because postal unions refuse to be led into the 20th Century. In some countries, just as democratic as ours, this attitude would be considered contrary to the national interest and maybe even subversive:

Payment of taxes isn't enough. Property owners must be required to maintain property so that it doesn't pose a threat to health or welfare, it's everyone's business. Most specifically, it's the city's business. City commissioners can't be unaware of the problem because they'll find plenty of examples within a short distance of the city hall, even if they're not looking for them.

It could be argued that if the buildings are privately owned and the owners keep their taxes paid, it's no one's business.

But if there is a fire hazard or a danger to health and welfare, it's everyone's business. Most specifically, it's the city's business. City commissioners can't be unaware of the problem because they'll find plenty of examples within a short distance of the city hall, even if they're not looking for them.

Perhaps the city doesn't have the authority to order a building razed to eliminate either a health or fire hazard. But it certainly should have authority to order property owners to correct the conditions that result in hazards.

There's another problem that results from unoccupied buildings that is worth considering. They have a way of contributing to juvenile delinquency, as witness what has happened at the old Turf Club which has been the scene of several teen-age beer parties. There's also the chance unoccupied buildings can harbor criminals, tramps or other undesirable persons, a situation that definitely isn't in the best interests of the public.

The problem isn't peculiar to Twin Falls. Actually, this city may be considerably better off than other communities because of the relative newness of the city. Twin Falls is only 62 years old and the problem of deteriorating and abandoned property may be only starting. It shouldn't be permitted to get out of hand.

Public officials and politicians traditionally are quite concerned about the farmer and his vote, but there are signs here and there that the farm vote doesn't generate the influence of former years. Currently, farmers and farm organizations are protesting because the Johnson administration appears to be making an effort to roll back farm prices as a means of heading off inflation. They have protested that farming is being made a "whipping boy" for inflationary trends.

It was inevitable that politicians would get around to counting noses. Today, there are only some nine million persons over the age of 14 living on farms all over the nation. Those under 21 can't vote. By contrast, the nation's two largest unions—Auto Workers and Teamsters—number 2.7 million members between them. Most, if not all, can vote. The total for all unions is considerably greater than the nation's farmers. It explains why politicians have courted the labor vote so carefully in recent years, while appearing to pay less attention to farm areas.

Moreover, farmers don't present a united front. Not all are members of farm organizations. It's significant that even the farm groups—Grange, Farm Bureau, Farmer's Union and NFO—don't see exactly eye to eye. In fact, there's a wide difference of opinion on some issues. It appears the gaps among these organizations are too wide to be bridged and one large group appears to be out of the question. With their dwindling numbers, farmers can expect to carry less and less weight in national politics, unless they unite somehow.

A WINTER PROBLEM

Finding a teenager to shovel snow is easy, of course. But only when there's no snow. Norfolk (Neb.) Daily News.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

BY ANDREW TULLY

WASHINGTON—Admirably, Oklahoma's Rep. Tom Steed will not be guillotined by his generally conservative constituency for taking pot shots at Post Office Department unions, and yet we should all be grateful for small favors in the matter of our hideously inefficient mail service.

In Congress terrified at the thought of offending Big Labor, Tom Steed at least has dared to suggest the obvious, to wit that the union's stranglehold on the Post Office Department is responsible in large part for the deterioration of service. Union leadership charges Steed, is opposed to almost every measure proposed to improve mail handling and delivery.

24,000 BARGAINING UNITS — Steel has put all on the official record of a House Appropriations Subcommittee hearing Post Office budget requests. The department's almost-incredible network of unions, he says, is opposed to the ZIP-code automation mechanization and the mail measurement system. "It seems to me," said Steed, "that they are obsessed with the idea that the Post Office operates solely for the employer and not to give mail service to the public." I wonder where Steed got his first hint of that startling and offensive situation.

Although the Post Office has 15 national contracts with unions, the system is honeycombed with more than 34,000 bargaining units—union locals that can and do negotiate independently of the national headquarters. The House subcommittee has directed the department to reduce the number of these bargaining units, but Post Office's garrigue was reflected in a budget request for $2 million to train postal managers to deal with unions. In a sudden attack of vanity, the subcommittee rejected this request.

UNIONS RULE — The unions' rationale of course, is that automation and mechanization are a threat to jobs, although Post Office studies almost daily reveal that a completely automated system not only would not reduce employment but might require additional hands. Steed is right when he calls the situation "wholly unrealistic and completely irresponsible."

COOL, CLEAR WATER?

It's hard these days to find a national magazine without an article on air or water pollution. This may well be one of the most critical problems in the United States today. We gasp with horror at photos of Los Angeles with its heavy blanket of smog. We look with disbelief at photos of rivers made into huge sewers.

Too often we think of these problems as headaches for those unfortunate who have to live in the East or on the West Coast.

Have you looked at the Portneuf River lately? How about that grey haze that too often hangs over the valley?

It sure is. Ponocito's air isn't as polluted as the air in our huge industrial centers. The Portneuf isn't as polluted as rivers in some Eastern states. But it would be a tragic mistake to take pride in those facts. Not many years ago some of the worst smog areas were in much better shape than Ponocito today. It should be little comfort to realize that the Palouse River is polluted, when the clear waters of the Portneuf become a muddy mess before they reach Ponocito.

Pollution of our air and water isn't a simple problem. It isn't a problem that can be solved easily. But it certainly isn't a problem that will go away if we just ignore it.

We hope some serious efforts are made to clear up our air and water here, and to prevent further pollution. And soon, before "clear mountain air and clean mountain streams" are just memories to tell our children about. — Idaho State Journal.

U.S. GIVE AND TAKE

Just after closing his bag on income tax collections, Uncle Sam thoughtfully is passing around a reminder that taxpayers get some of it back. If you are "average," a government handout says, you'll be getting $730.20 in "benefits" from Washington in the fiscal year beginning June 30.

But don't expect to put it in your pocket. The government goes on to break down the individual's "benefits," as follows: $330.28 for defense, $151.24 for Social Security benefits, $141.53 for other health and welfare services, $31.52 for interest on the public debt, $22.82 for foreign aid (some spent in this country), $27.23 for exploration of outer space, $32.38 for veterans benefits, etc., etc.

So far, that adds up to almost $700, and some taxpayers may find they aren't directly on any of the benefit lists. Their benefits, the government spokesman says jovially, are "the indirect." You can't see 'em or feel 'em as the "indirect." Revenue men can your money going the other way.

Take such comfort as you may, and remember that Uncle Sam really has no largess of his own to distribute. It's yours. He's just the cashier, and, incidentally, the arbiter of both give and take. Moreover, nobody's "average."

"How About One War at a Time?"

Interpreting The News

By JAMES MARLOW

POT SHOTS

By ANENT SAUCERS

Dear Pot Shots:

Let's settle this flying saucer mystery now and for all time. There are flying saucers! I saw one. It landed in our backyard in the middle of war, some of the things going on here must look little mixed up to the Vietnamese.

Just like everyone says, like two saucers put together. There were five flying saucers standing near it and looking at my husband's rather antique tractor. They weren't little men with green hair, funny hats or shoes with turned-up toes; neither were they the bawhiskered, bent-backed type. They were tall and quite handsome, but skinny.

Have you heard of a man "skinny as a rail" or "thin as a beanpole"? That was them. They were dressed in the gray work clothes like our men were. As I watched them gradually faded away. Wanting a better look, I hopped out of bed and ran to the kitchen window. They were gone! I'm sure I heard a humming sound and saw a bright light in the sky.

After taking two aspirins, back to bed I went to wonder about the fellows . . .

PUPS FOR KIDS DEPT.

Dear Pot Shots:

This extremely friendly black dog is in need of a new home, preferably in the country. He's especially good with children . . . He's part Labrador, Pomeranian and terrier mix. He weighs 20 to 25 pounds and is four years old.

He's a real joy to have around, especially with the children.

For months they've heard President Johnson's Viet Nam policy acceded in and out of Congress, with no one more than Sen. J. W. Fulbright doing the berating.

This Arkansas Democrat is chairman of the powerful Senate Foreign Relations Committee and "immortal and arrogant" has become one of his favorite words to describe U.S. foreign policy.

The cook told her boss, Johnson, that she was going to be his boss for a while and ordered him to take off weight by eating the food she put in front of him.

This didn't discourage Fulbright, as he proved the other night in another attack. But, meanwhile, Johnson suddenly found a sturdy supporter against Fulbright in Barry Goldwater, whom Johnson defeated for the presidency in 1964.

Goldwater in a very blunt speech last week demanded that Fulbright resign as his committee chairman. No American, Goldwater said, has the right to call the United States "immortal, imperialistic and arrogant."

This was turning the tables on Fulbright who, after the Republicans won control of Congress in the 1966 elections, suggested President Harry S. Truman follow the British parliamentary system and resign so a Republican could take over.

Fulbright ignored Fulbright's advice then, just as Fulbright most surely will ignore Goldwater now.

But, having tried to massacre

Johnson from a dozen different directions which ranged from criticizing his handling of the Vietnam war to criticizing his handling of problems at home.

Paying no attention to the take-charge cook in the White House or to Goldwater, either, Fulbright was at it again Thursday night in a 10-page speech in which he said the Vietnamese capital of Saigon has become an American brothel.

He said it was the result of the "fatal impact" of the rich and the strong on the poor and the weak.

Doubting the ability of a strong nation to create stability in a small and chaotic Asian land, Fulbright resorted to a Chinese proverb to make his point: "In shallow waters dragons become the sport of the sharks."

The trouble seems to involve China's monumental economic problems and whether total regeneration and long-term austerity are the only answers. It may reflect weariness in China with an economy of bare subsistence.

Near the top of the list of purge prospects in what Polkboro propaganda calls a "strategic to death" is an official who questioned total regeneration as the answer to all problems.

This man is Wu Han, historian and anti-Communist and anti-peasant thug. He is accused of spreading "poisonous" influence on achieving fame and "glorifying the family, an expression of bourgeois individualism."

Wu Han is just a symbol, another form of warning. He committed his major sin five years ago and it is catching up with him. Back in 1961 he published a play about the Ming dynasty days. Critics have just discovered that he portrayed an imperial official not only as a human being but one who was decent and popular. According to the Polkboro's doctrine, that was impossible.

Why bring it up now? Probably there is increasing official worry over internal affairs. The aging leaders also worry about the influx of younger blood into the leadership as their members pass away.

Five years ago, China was in a difficult period. The "people's communes" and "great leap" had been spectacular failures. The break with the Russians became so wide that Moscow cut off economic and military aid and withdrew Soviet technicians.

China held her own for several years. But now, suddenly, there are those of Wu Han who, retroactively, become great sines. Throughout China there is an official hue and cry against him.

A—I am a 43-year-old housewife. My feet and ankles swell.

These cervical ribs are usually seen only on one side and are found more often in women than in men. They do not, as a rule, start to cause trouble until after the postpartum has come of age. The violent complaints that you have are on the affected side. Your arm on the affected side feels weak, heavy or numb and that she has a pain in the neck which is aggravated by movements of her head and movement of her neck.

Q—My doctor has prescribed Librium as a tranquilizer. I have an enlarged prostate. Would this drug have any effect on my prostate?

A—No.

Some persons with this deformity abnormality are thought to have arthritis or a slipped disk in the neck until X-ray reveals the true cause of the trouble. If the symptoms are mild, heat and pain-relieving drugs may be used, but if the symptoms are severe, the cervical rib must be removed.

Highlights for Week Promising Specials

7:30 Wednesday, TSL — News in perspective special — A discussion of the Vietnamese Buddhist uprising, the epochal 23rd Communist Party Congress in Russia and the domestic programs of the Johnson administration.

8:30 Friday, 2B — Auto Safety Special, color, is a Charles Kuralt report on the current efforts of the government and the auto industry to increase automobile safety. Film highlights of the recent Congressional hearings on auto design standards.

8:30 Friday, 7SL — "USA Poetry" — a rare interview with poets Allen Ginsberg and Lawrence Ferlinghetti.

9:00 Friday, 7SL — "Intrigue," a performance of the controversial musical drama by the Italian composer Luigi Nono by the Opera Company of Boston.

12:30 Friday, 2SL — Al Hothchner, author of "Para Hemingway," will appear on Meri Griffin's show. Hothchner has just emerged from a hot suit by the Idaho Author's Ketchum widow unclothed and talkative.

Best Bets for Movies

8:00 Wednesday, 4 — "A Prize of Gold," 1955, features an American soldier who decides to hijack a shipment of gold bullion, starring Richard Widmark and Mai Zetterling.

7:30 Thursday, 5 — "The Manchurian Candidate," 1962, is undoubtedly one of the week's best TV offerings. The movie is remarkably sophisticated, encompassing much of the results of psychological experimentation for control of the mind from Pavlovian, specifically, in its application to men at war. Brainwashed by the Communists, Chinese in Korea, Medal-of-Honor winner Raymond Shaw returns home to find his domineering mother manipulating his weakling stepfather into the presidency. An unmasking examination of the political possibilities of psychology and a gripping good show.

10:15 Thursday, 4 — "Cell 2455, Death Row," 1955, traces the life and death of Caryl Chessman, starring William Campbell and Vincent Edwards.

11:35 Thursday, 2B — "Spaceways," English, 1958, should be interesting as a comparison of what people thought about space 30 years ago. It may provide a few laughs for space-age youngsters.

Special Sports Events

11:00 Saturday, 2SL, 5, 7B — Major League baseball, NBC live color, features Los Angeles at Pittsburgh. 12:30 Sunday, 5 — Sports Spectacular — Harlem Globetrotters meet the Washington Generals in a basketball game. Also presented are the finals of the 1965 All-Star Bowling Tournament.

2:00 Sunday, 5 — "Water Skiing Special."

War Planes To Fly Flag Of 'F Troop'

The Caribbean transport planes of the Army's 35th Aviation Co. in Viet Nam soon will be flying the guidons of ABC-TV's "F Troop."

Melody Patterson, the series' Wrangler Jane, presented the red and white pennons to Lt. Col. Jerry Pirkle, officer in charge of Army recruiting in Southern California, for shipment to the 35th.

When the men of the 13th first adopted the "F Troop" guidon as their emblem, they obtained a few pennants for their aircraft and had manutures made up for their jackets.

Then Chief Warrant Officer Aldon E. Brown sent a letter to Hollywood asking for the jaunty little flags for all airplanes of the 13th, explaining:

"The Army does have its light moments while accomplishing the mission, whatever that mission may be. Right now we have a mission, and while we cannot make light of it, we would like to make light of the moments that surround it."

"Next season we go back to the twice-a-week schedule, and that should help us, too. I think it was a mistake to go on a third night, especially on Friday, when people have dates, football games and all kinds of things to do."

Peyton Place To Be on Air Twice Weekly

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Will our Peyton Place? Next season will find it younger, more colorful and reduced in quantity by one-third.

This is the report from one of the youthful members of the meg-size cast of the unending ABC detergent opera. His name is Chris Connolly, and he plays Norman Harrington.

"The accent seems to be on youth for the coming season," he remarked. "They tell us that 35 to 40 per cent of our audience is composed of teenagers, so I guess that the teen-age hand rules the television set."

The new members that are being added to the cast — Susan Oliver, Linda Wood, Gary Haines and Stephen Oliver — are all young, and the older actors who have left the cast aren't being replaced.

The young viewers seem to be interested in the problems of people their own age. Of course, they're still interested in the stars who have been in "Peyton Place" from the beginning — as mother and father images.

Connolly, seventh child of a Wichita, Kan., oil man, arrived for his diet lunch with Patricia Morrow, who plays his wife on the series. They are inseparable off the screen as well. Marriage for them in real life? "We don't talk about that," Connolly asserted.

What other directions will "Peyton Place" take?

"We'll be on in color, starting in September," he reported, "and that should help us there, and that should help us there is a real advantage to being able to show outdoor scenery in color; that was one of the things that sold 'Bonanza' at the beginning. I'm hoping we'll be able to get out of the studio and shoot some backgrounds in New England or at least in some small town."

"Next season we go back to the twice-a-week schedule, and that should help us, too. I think it was a mistake to go on a third night, especially on Friday, when people have dates, football games and all kinds of things to do."

Cool Weather

Twenty-five bikini-clad extras were on hand for a poolside sequence for the "One Embroidered" segment of "Two Margaritas," a segment of "Bob Hope Presents The Chrysler Theatre," airing May 18 (9:00-10:00 p.m. EDT) in color over NBC-TV.

The Olympic size swimming pool of clear blue water looked very inviting. It remained empty, however, for the 12 hours that Darrin knew he was about to marry a witch. Darrin's reaction to the news surprises even Samantha.

Elizabeth Montgomery stars as Samantha, Dick York as Darrin and Agnes Moorehead as Endora. David White is seen as Larry Tate.

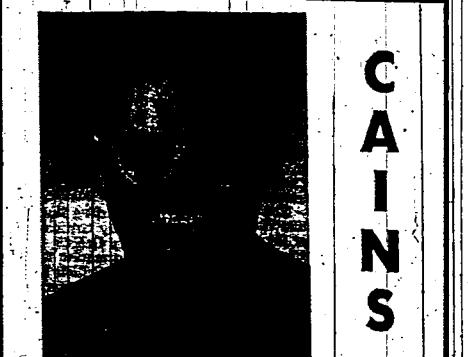

Gets Mission

Henry Phife, the mild-mannered accountant impersonating foreign agent U-31, is sent to the waterfront on a dangerous mission by Hannah of the CIS, on "The Double Life of Henry Phife," in color Thursday, May 26 (ABC-TV, 8:30 p.m., PDT).

In "Phife on a Ferry," Henry has to push an enemy agent off a ferry boat.

Dilemma Posed On "Bewitched"

Would Darrin have married Samantha if he had known she was a witch? That's the question Samantha asks, and has answered, on "Bewitched" Thursday, May 26 (ABC-TV, 8:30 p.m. PDT).

In "What Every Young Man Should Know," Endora convinces Samantha that she should go back in time and see what would have happened if Darrin knew he was about to marry a witch. Darrin's reaction to the news surprises even Samantha.

Elizabeth Montgomery stars as Samantha, Dick York as Darrin and Agnes Moorehead as Endora. David White is seen as Larry Tate.

BURLEY — Mrs. Sherrill Warner, XI Omega Chapter, and Mrs. Robert Hilliard, Alpha Zeta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, were selected as "Girls of the Year" for their chapters during a dinner-dance at the Rupert Elks Country Club.

XI Omega and Alpha Zeta Chapters jointly celebrated the 35th anniversary of the organization.

The first chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority was formed in 1931 at Abilene, Kan. Presently there are 8,000 chapters and 185,000 members in 15 countries.

Prior to the dinner, Alpha Zeta Chapter held a Ritual of Jewels Ceremony. During the candlelight ceremony eight pledges received the degree. They include Mrs. Rock Jones, Mrs. Gary Anderson, Mrs. Darwin Knapp, Mrs. Edwin Struchen, Mrs. Fred Balnes, Mrs. Max Banner, Mrs. L. E. Morton and Mrs. Evan DeNelson.

Presiding at the ritual table were Mrs. Ted Smith, president Alpha Zeta Chapter, Mrs. Leonard Rohr, Mrs. Robert Carrier and Mrs. Hilliard.

For the dinner the head table was centered with an arrangement of long-stemmed yellow roses.

"Crown Every Moment" was the theme for the evening. The program booklets were white with gold crowns outlined in gold glitter.

Tonight Mrs. Wm. Mrs. Rehlin.

Prayer was given by Mrs. Struchen. Mrs. Arilla Harris, XI Omega Chapter honorary member, was a special guest. A smorgasbord dinner was served.

ANGLE PIE

Sift one cup sugar and one-half teaspoon cream of tartar. Beat four egg whites until stiff, but not dry. Gradually add sugar mixture, beating continually.

Line bottom and sides of a greased and slightly floured aluminum pie plate. Be careful not to spread too close to rim.

Bake in a 250 degree oven for one hour and cool.

FILLING

Beat four egg yolks slightly. Add one-half cup sugar, three tablespoons lemon juice and two tablespoons grated lemon rind. Cook in a double boiler until very thick. Remove from heat and cool thoroughly.

Whip one-half pint cream and add to lemon mixture. Serve with whipped cream or more cream can be added to filling instead of spreading it on top. Let stand in refrigerator eight to 12 hours.

(The Times-News will pay $5 each week for well-written submitted for Magic Valley Favorites. If you have a favorite recipe, just mail it to the Times-News, Attention: Mrs. Leroy Mothershed, 843 Sparks Street, Twin Falls. The recipe becomes the property of the Times-News and cannot be returned.)

MRS. SHERRILL WARNER

were each selected "Girl of the Year" for their Beta Sigma Phi chapters during a dinner-dance at the Rupert Country Club.

Mrs. Warner represents XI Omega Chapter and Mrs. Hilliard represents Alpha Zeta Chapter.

Mrs. Odessa Redman, XI Omega Chapter, and Mrs. Smith, Alpha Zeta Chapter, outgoing presidents, introduced their officers for the past year. Mrs. Leanne Taylor presented a gift to Mrs. Leanne Taylor, XI Omega Chapter, and Mrs. Hilliard, Alpha Zeta Chapter, incoming presidents, introduced their officers.

Raymond Jeremy presented a gift to Mrs. Smith from Alpha Zeta Chapter members.

Mrs. Cleo Chenty, XI Omega Chapter, and Mrs. Hilliard, Alpha Zeta Chapter, incoming presidents, introduced their officers.

Mrs. Warner and Mrs. Hilliard were each presented a gift from their chapters as "Girl of the Year." The awards were made on the basis of outstanding work and cooperation done within the chapter during the year. It was announced that Mrs. Warner has also been selected to represent XI Omega Chapter in the "Quarantine State Girl of the Year" competition.

Boston Homerun Hitter Was Good Deal at $10,000

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — In this day and age when top-rated rookie prospects demand—and get—hundreds of thousands of dollars in professional football and baseball, it appears the Boston Red Sox may have landed themselves a real home run slugger for $10,000. He is George Scott, a 22-year-old rookie who currently leads the American League in homers with 10, including seven in his last eight games.

Pitchers don't know what to throw at the 6-foot-2, 200-pound Scott, who signed with the Red Sox four years ago.

"We heard he was a high-ball hitter," Minnesota manager Sam Melo said after Scott hit three homers in a four-game weekend series here. "But he hit a low pitch for one of his homers here Friday night."

"We haven't figured out how to pitch him. No pitcher will find out something to get him out and the word will spread. If they don't, he'll hit .340. He's a heck of an aggressive hitter."

Scott hit fast balls for homers off Dave Banks Friday night and another off Jim Grant Sunday. He hit a curve for his other homer, off Al Worthington.

"Based on a one-finch look," Worthington said, "I'd have to say he hits a curve ball pretty good."

Scott is like Harmon Killebrew of Minnesota, in that he can break as much strength as he can break homers to the opposite field if he just meets the ball.

High-thick home runs here were 40 feet right-field foul pole and was the third homer of the game for the Yankees. It also gave the Yankees their first three-game winning streak of the season.

Mickey Mantle hit his first homer of the season against starting Jim Perry leading off the fourth inning, and Roger Maris socked his second homer in the seventh, tying the game 2-2. Pepitone's homer was his fourth of the season.

The Twins played without Tony Oliva, who had a swollen jaw from a tooth pulled earlier in the day, and Zoilo Versalles, who was suffering from a bruised heel and sore arm.

Minneapolis — 200 000-000-2 0 1 New York — 001 100 101-3 7 1 Stottlemyre, and Howard; Perry, Worthington (8), and Batley, W-Stottlemyre 2-2. L-Worthington 1-1.

Home runs—New York, Minnie (1), Maris (2), Pepitone (4).

2 Homers Put Angels Past Solons 10-7

ANAHIM (AP)—Bob Rodgers and Ed Sparhawk each drove in three runs with a homer and a triple Monday night, propelling the California Angels to a 10-7 victory over Washington.

Outfit 14-8, the Angels capitalized on eight walks and five extra-base hits to pin the defeat on starter Tom Cheney.

The victory went to Jack Sanford, 3-1, who relieved starter Jim McGlothlin in the fourth inning with the Angels leading 7-2.

The Senators drove both Sanford and Ed Sukla from the mound before Bob Lee came on in the eighth and saved the victory.

Giants Pull Off Unique Double Play

By The Associated Press

The San Francisco Giants may have pulled off a unique double play at St. Louis, spoiling the Cardinals' farewell at Busch Stadium — and possibly the National League pennant race.

"These pitchers up here get the ball around the plate," Scott said. "In the minors you never knew what to expect."

"Then the lighting is different here, too. It's like playing under candlelight in the minors."

The Twins played without Tony Oliva, who had a swollen jaw from a tooth pulled earlier in the day, and Zoilo Versalles, who was suffering from a bruised heel and sore arm.

Double-Play Combination Sends Houston Into NL Third Place

NEW YORK (AP)—Houston's baseball team launched a new double-play combination this season with the addition of speedy Sonny Jackson and it has helped rocket the Astros into third place in the National League. Joe Morgan, the Astro's second baseman, has taken over the NL batting lead with a .370 average.

He also leads in hits with .34. Jackson, a rookie shortstop, is 10th in batting with .312 and leads in stolen bases with 11, three more than Maury Wills of Los Angeles, the perennial pace-setter.

Jackson, who is on a nine-game hitting streak, collected 11 hits in 25 tries for a .440 pace last week. Morgan had eight hits in 23 times at bat and has hit safely in his last eight games. Houston has won seven of its last eight and climbed into the No. 3 spot with a 15-10 record.

Redlegs Hand Third Loss to Atlanta 7-4

ATLANTA (AP)—Two-run homers by Pete Rose and Art Shamsky in the third inning powered Cincinnati past Atlanta 7-4 Monday night. The loss was the Braves' third straight.

Tony Cloninger, a 24-game winner last season, gave up both homers and suffered his third defeat against two victories.

Cloninger got the first out in the third but then allowed one of his four hits to fall through his legs for a double, and Shamsky followed with another homer.

The Reds' lead to 3-0.

Vada Pinson kept the attack going with a double, and Shamsky followed with another homer.

Shamsky had singled in the second inning and scored on a single by Leo Cardenas.

Cincinnati — 014 010 001—7 13 2 Atlanta — 002 101 000—4 8 1 Jay, Nottebart (6), McCool (8) and Edwards; Cloninger, Umbach (4), Oliver (4), Blasberg (6), Nickro (8), O'Dell (9) and Oliver; W-Jay 3-2. L-Cloninger, 0-1.

Home runs—Cincinnati, Rose (2), Shamsky (4); Atlanta, Mays (3), Mathews (1).

Maloney To Return

CINCINNATI (AP)—Jim Maloney, Cincinnati's strikeout king, is expected to get back into action this week after being out two weeks with an arm injury.

Qualifications Stay Same for State Meet

BOLSE (AP)—Qualifying standards will be used again this year as a possible means of cutting a ticket to the Idaho state track meet, the Idaho High School Intercollegiate Activities Association said Monday. The standards will apply only in the field events and will not be used in the running events. The standards are the average of the winning performance in each field event in the last three state meets.

An athlete exceeding that standard in a regional meet this weekend, but who failed to place among the top finishers, may compete in the state meet in Boise May 21.

First and second-place winners in the Region One meet in Moscow, and the Region Three event in Blackfoot, and the winners of first, second and third in the Region Two meet in Twin Falls qualify for the state meet automatically.

In the races, the third place Class A winner in Region One and the third place Class B winner in Region Three will be eligible to compete in the state meet. However, that entrant must run in lane eight, the state meet and may not be eligible to draw for track position.

The qualifying standards in the field events are:

Shotput, 55 feet; discus, 151 feet 9 inches; broad jump, 21 feet 9 inches; high jump, 7 feet 4 inches; pole vault, 11 feet 10 1/2 inches.

Idaho built an 8-lead before Weber got to Bill Stommer for a pair of fifth inning runs.

In the second game, Idaho scored three times in the first and seven more in the second.

Rich-Toney drove in two of the first inning runs and Gary Luce hit a grand slam homer in the second. Jim Spencer's fifth inning home run ended the scoring.

Greg Oldwell saved some runs for the visitors with a Weber home run in the fourth inning.

First Game: Weber .000 100 0—2 7 2 Idaho .370 010 x—11 12 0 Pearson, Wildon (2); Matheson (3); Bagshaw (5) and Black; Rehberger and Posty.

Second Game: Weber .001 100 0—2 4 2 Idaho .370 010 x—11 12 0 Pearson, Wildon (2); Matheson (3); Bagshaw (5) and Black; Rehberger and Posty.

Hank Aaron of Atlanta is the National League's home run leader with nine, while San Francisco's Willie Mays has the most RBIs, 21.

The pitching leaders are Juan Marichal of San Francisco, who has won six National League games, and Cleveland's Sam McDowell, a four-game winner in the American League. Both are unbeaten.

Clay Dons His Cloak of Humility, Refuses to Predict Fight Outcome

LONDON (AP) — Heavyweight champion Cassius Clay donned his cloak of humility when he landed here Monday after a delayed flight from New York for his May 21 title fight with Britain's Henry Cooper. "Cooper has a chance," the champ said quietly. "Any man has, if he has nerve enough to step into the ring with quiet behavior of the Louisville Lip whose trademark long has been a Tarzan-like beat on the chest and a bellow, 'I am the greatest!'

Clay refused to be drawn into any self-display for the British reporters. He even declined to predict the outcome of the fight.

Cooper wasn't at the airport to meet the champ, who was on the passenger list as Muhammad Ali, his Black Muslim name.

Jim Wicks, Cooper's manager, said:

"Why should 'Emory go and meet him? He's fighting the go-ezeer, not kissing him. If we turned out to meet him, people might think we liked him — and we don't. Not until after we've licked him, anyway."

Clay's plane was delayed for four hours because of the fog over London. It circled the London airport for an hour, was diverted to Shannon in Ireland and then flew back when London cleared.

After getting on the ground, the champ lost his first decision in England — with customs.

He had to pay extra for an 83-pound heavy punching bag he brought with him. Clay said he needed the bag to harden his hands before the Cooper bout.

"When I fought George Chuvalo in Toronto I forgot the heavy bag," he said. "I hurt my hands on Chuvalo's chin. This time there must be no mistakes."

Clay beat Chuvalo on a decision.

As if plugging the fight, Clay spoke generously of Cooper's soft hook which floored him the last time they met — in London in 1963. Clay won in five rounds. "It was the hardest punch I have ever taken," he said.

Reporters tried to gond him into a boat or a few lines of poetry concerning the fight.

"The hollering and the poetry are over," he said mildly.

Shortly after arrival, Clay was told that he had been invited to meet British Prime Minister Harold Wilson during the next few days.

"The PM wants to meet and shake hands with both fighters and wish them luck," a spokesman said.

Podres, 33, a left-hander who was the hero of Brooklyn's 1955 World Series triumph over the New York Yankees, has a 136-104 career won-lost record in 13 seasons.

He does not have a decision this year and has pitched only 1-2-3 innings.

His major league lifetime earned run average is 3.68.

In 27 games last year, he won seven and lost six with an ERA of 3.43.

Contacted in his hotel room in Philadelphia, Podres said he was not sure about the terms of the trade. "I understand I've been sold," he said.

Podres had no particular thoughts about going to the American League after spending a short time in the National League.

"I just want to go somewhere where I can pitch," he said.

"I'm happy to be going with Charley Dressen. I've been with him before, and he's one of the greatest managers I've ever played for."

Podres played under Dressen in 1953, his rookie year with the Dodgers and Dressen's last as a manager of the team.

Podres' best season was 1951 with the Dodgers, by then in Los Angeles, when his 165 record led the league in percentage, .783.

His biggest moment, however, was in the 1955 World Series. He won two games, including the seventh, as the Dodgers Brooklyn variety — won their only world championship.

A's Strike in Fourth, Coast Past Sox 6-1

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Kansas City Athletics scored four runs in the fourth inning — on wild pitches by Peter Ingraham and Jim Lonborg and an on-to-walk the Boston Red Sox 6-1 Monday night.

Ingraham, making his first major league start, walked Bert Campaneris, landing off the wrist and was clipped for an uncoving triple by Manny Ramirez that snapped a scoreless tie. The Boston right-hander then wild-pitched Ramirez home, walked Ken Harrelson and gave up a single to Larry Stahl before being replaced by Lonborg.

Lonborg ached on Lonborg's wild pitch and Dick Green completed the Athletics' longest inning of the season by hitting in Stahl with a single.

Final: 000 000 100-1, 8.0. Magrath, Lonborg (4); Badowski (8), Radatz (8) and Ryan, Ullman (8); Sheldon, Wyatt (7); Aker (8) and Surez, W. Sheldon 2-3, 1—Magrath 0-1.

Erosoph Meet Slated At Twin Falls

Seven teams and possibly eight are expected to participate in the annual Fourth of July softball track and field meet, beginning at 6 p.m. Wednesday at the Twin Falls High School track.

With some of the Class A sophomores delegated to represent local schools in the varsity regional meet here Saturday the full potential of this year's crop will not be entirely shown in Wednesday's tests.

Twin Falls Coach Jerry Kleinopf said the teams invited are Minico, Burley, Filer, Buell, Gooding and Jerome. Twin Falls will enter three teams, the sophomores and the fresh clubs from Leary and Robert Stuart junior high schools. Minico also may also divide into two separate teams.

The feature of the meet should come in the pole vault where Twin Falls sophomore Ron Barry could sail over 11 feet, 4 inches. He's made that mark before but a badly bruised instep slowed him in the past two weeks.

LANDING at the Flying B Ranch air strip, Ed Osterman's Fairchild 71, produced something between 1928 and 1931, brings in another load of civilization to the remote Middle Fork of the Salmon River Country. The plane, originally covered by fabric, has been modified a dozen times but remains basically the same transport that helped bring commercial passenger aviation to the country. It could hold four-plus passengers. It currently is a valuable piece of aviation legend in Idaho's Primitive Area where its high power and slow speed are ideal for landing on tiny air strips. (Times-News photo)

38-Year-Old Plane Is Ideal for Bringing Civilization Into Idaho Primitive Area

CHALLIS — In the day of supersonic jets and planes capable of carrying over 100 passengers and tons of cargo, the old Fairchild 71 remains the workhorse of the primitive area.

Classically homely, this relic of the flapper era remains coveted for its brutally powerful single engine and its slow pace.

It's ideal for mountain work where the runways are short, and being located in canyons, the approachers are shorter.

Ed Osterman, owner-pilot of Ed's Aero Service, Challis, one of the few remaining Fairchild 71s. Just to prove the previous statement that the plane is coveted, Osterman paid $30,000 for the monster just two years ago — 30 years after it was built. "It's a museum piece," he said.

Jordan made the request as the team prepared to board a bus for Berkeley for the annual meet between Stanford and U.C.

"I'm happy to be going with Charley Dressen. I've been with him before, and he's one of the greatest managers I've ever played for."

Podres played under Dressen in 1953, his rookie year with the Dodgers and Dressen's last as a manager of the team.

Registration For Summer Program Held

HAILEY — Registration of next year's first graders in the Hailey school will be this week at the first grade room of SCC on 2nd Ave.

Wilbur Bell, grade school principal, said registration and health forms have been sent to all parents known to have children who will enter school next fall. Anyone not receiving them who has children in this category contact him or Mrs. Nora Fischer, first grade teacher.

Essay Awards Winners Are Listed

BUHL — Winners of the annual American Essay Contest sponsored by the Buhl American Legion Auxiliary are announced today by Mrs. Darcie Womack, chairman.

The contest was conducted in both the Buhl and Caldwell junior high schools and followed the theme topic, "Freedom — What It Means to Me."

Winners from Buhl include Beverly Iverson, first; Janette Carter, second; and Ted Svartveit, third. Honorable mentions went to Mary Gomez, Steven Davis, Shirley Meler and Ethan Bickelhaupt.

Winners from Castleford are Johnny Conrad, first; Lisa Klymon, second, and Diana Sefcik, third. Honorable-mentions were Susan Brown, Bobby Ripe and Karen Hill.

Cash awards of $3 went to first place winners, $2 to second place, and $1 to third place winners.

Beverly Iverson's essay took overall honors and will be entered in the state contest. Judges for the event were Mrs. John Burkhardt and Mrs. Woodrow Ash.

Dog Owners in Blaine Warned

HAILEY — Blaine County Sheriff Orville Drexler warns dog owners in Blaine County that ranchers will shoot dogs molesting livestock on their property. Sheriff Drexler said complaints are becoming more numerous and more serious, and it is necessary to protect valuable property.

"There have been some complaints in the city also," Drexler says. "and dog owners are reminded there is a leash law for the protection of citizens."

Salt Lake Has Drive Against Glue Sniffers

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — A group of Salt Lake City and County officials has launched an attack on glue sniffers.

If their campaign is successful persons caught sniffing glue could be subject to a fine of up to $200 and six months in jail.

The Salt Lake County Sheriff's office, the county attorney's office and the Salt Lake City Police and Prosecutor are spearheading the drive.

Warren Wiegeland, the chief criminal deputy county attorney, said discovery of a glue-sniffing shack with over 1,000 empty glue tubes sparked the drive.

Boy Is Hurt

HAILEY — Thomas Johnson, 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Johnson, Hailey, is under observation at the Blaine County Hospital after injuries he received Friday while playing at the soft-ball diamond.

The boy fell from the top of the dug-out at the diamond.

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — State Agriculture Commissioner Gus Douglass said a "hut" club tried to advertise its camp for kids in his agency's market bulletin.

Douglass said "he had to turn them down" because mudlites aren't bona fide farmers and we're supposed to serve only farmers.

BUHL — All interested persons are invited to a Gymkhana to be held at 1:30 p.m. Sunday at the Alma Morrison ranch located one-half mile north and one-half mile west of the southwest corner of Buhl.

Events will include western pleasure for those 10 years of age and under; western pleasure for 11 years and over; musical chairs for 10 years of age and under; key hole race, egg race, pole bending, flag race; seven straight barrel and clover leaf barrel race, all open competition.

Prizes will be awarded in three classes including the two western pleasure divisions and first place in musical chairs.

STEVEN EVETT AND LINDA JOHNSTON are class leaders for the 1966 graduating class of Wendell high school with baccalaureate and commencement exercises to be at 7 p.m. May 13, 1966, at the high school auditorium.

Driver Cited

BUHL — Richard J. Corson, 26, San Mateo, California, was cited for no driver's license and traveling on the wrong side of the roadway after a one-car accident at 9:30 a.m. Saturday, six miles south of Buhl on a county road.

Corson momentarily took his eyes off the roadway and the 1965 Studebaker pick-up truck he was driving ran off the wrong side of the road through a fence belonging to Ted Jegels, filler.

State Patrolman Richard Burns estimated damages at $300 to the truck. Damages were undetermined to the fence.

Top Wendell High School Graduates Are Revealed

WENDELL — Steven Evett and Linda Johnston have been named valedictorian and salutatorian of the 1966 graduating class of Wendell high school.

Evett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Crosby, has earned a grade point average of 3.84 and Miss Johnston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin B. Johnston, had an average of 3.73.

Evett has been active in all sports, a member of the Spanish Club, Science Club and Lettermen's Club. He is president of the National Honor Society and a member of the Student Council.

He attended Boys State, was awarded the Bough and Lomb Award, and was second place in the Goodwill County Elk Award.

He plans to attend the University of Idaho and study pre-medicine or science.

In high school, he was active in the student body council, the Spanish Club and the Science Club.

Miss Johnston attended Girls State and served as co-editor of the Trojan.

She plans to attend the University of Idaho, Moscow, and major in the field of education.

Site Changed

HAILEY — Rev. Francis DeNardis, pastor of St. Charles Catholic Church here and Our Lady of the Snows Church in Koerich, announces that starting Sunday the 11:15 a.m. Mass usually offered in Koerich will be held at the Sun Valley Opera House to serve the summertime guests at the resort.

Novacek and Felton answered questions and showed slides on the proposed campus plans. They were introduced by Edward Paterson, program chairman. Other guests were John Hopworth, Buhl, and Robert Bradford, Twin Falls.

The next regular meeting May 12 will feature the annual father-daughter banquet to be held at 7 p.m. at the R and R Cafe.

Communist Eastern Europe Is Wooing Hard-Currency Tourists From West

VIENNA (AP) — Communist "for international hunters" of Yugoslavia. Most of these are business. The battlefield of Austerlitz, where on Dec. 3, 1805, the French Emperor Napoleon won a decisive victory over the combined Austro-Russian armies, draws several thousand tourists a year.

Eastern Europe is wooing a steadily increasing stream of hard-currency tourists from the West—with such lures as sexy posters, feudal-style hunting houses and down-to-earth bear baiting.

When Bulgaria boasted forests

Czechoslovakia claimed 240,000 po-game, 40,000 deer-and-serval thousand each of fallow deer and wild boar.

The yearly bag of pheasants in Czechoslovakia was given at 800,000, and even chamois and bear were put on the game list.

When Bulgaria boasted forests for tourists willing to pay hunting fees of $50 to $250 for arrangements that include everything down to the expert preparation of trophies.

If you're not a hunter but a beach fan, you'll be told at the Black Sea beaches of Bulgaria and Romania of the rocky shores and Romanika of the rocky shores which has a virgin forest backdrop.

Ostriches Take Over Job OF Herding Sheep in Africa

WINDHOEK, South West Africa (AP)—Two ostriches have taken over from shepherds and sheep dogs in the bleak Leinhardtville District of this territory.

Farmers Pier Brand and P. Potgieter reared them from chicks. Today the huge birds take the sheep out to feed in the morning, guard them during the day and bring them back safely at nightfall.

When the ostriches were youngsters, Brand and Potgieter allowed them to go out with their herdsman.

As they grew, they began taking an active part in the herding and apparently enjoyed it too.

"The fact that they were allowed to exercise some authority gave them a super-ego. Eventually they actually resent the herdsman's presence," said Brand.

"Recently I sent the sheep out

Keeping Warm

CLOWSON, Mich. (AP)—"I got cold under the hood of my car." Promptly, at dusk, my bird returned with the great bird fussing and running around like some worried mother, cawing and picking at the tails of recently-shorn sheep."

On one occasion, the herd did not return. Brand feared that his bird-brained herder had fallen down on the job.

"I went out to investigate and found a very worried ostrich standing guard over the carcass of a sheep which had died. He was flapping his wings and pecking at the carcass trying to get it to rise," said the farmer.

He sold the animal, a gift from his son in Nicaragua, for $100.

"I am not a tropical animal," the ostrich told him in Detroit suburbs.

With the exception of bareback riding and cow riding, events were held in the boys' events, with Wild Pie, Gooding, placing in each event.

In the pole bending event,

Carl roping saw Leon Pleistick, Jerome, first; Albert Morris, Declo, second, and Miss Anderson, Declo, third.

In the breakaway roping contest, the contestants secured a calf.

Judges for the contests were Howard Robinson, Tuttle, and Bud Gooding. Pick-up men were Norris Nelson, Gooding, and Leroy Hoas, Bliss.

Gooding Riders Win Honors At District School Rodeo

JEROME—The Fifth District High School Practice Rodeo, featuring competitors from Twin Falls, Filer, Burley, Castledale, Declo, Kimberly, Gooding, Buhl, Wendell and Jerome, drew large crowds Saturday night and Sunday afternoon at the Jerome Fairgrounds.

The rodeo, conducted by the High School Rodeo Association, was to encourage and promote good sportsmanship, good horsemanship and character in American youth.

Only qualifiers were Pate, who also placed first in the cow riding, followed by Larry Brown and Steve Gorrell, both Gooding.

Prudic of livestock was Edie ne Wett, Hill City, Concessions were handled by the local FFA group.

The stated purpose of the High School Rodeo Association is to develop and promote good sportsmanship, good horsemanship and character in American youth.

Two Filer Youths Named To Top Circle-K Positions

FILER—Two Filer youths majoring in psychology at ISU have been elected to top posts in the Utah-Idaho district of the Circle-K. It was announced Monday.

Kent Henderson was chosen as district governor and Lloyd Hardesty was named district secretary at the Utah-Idaho District convention at Westminster College, Salt Lake City.

Henderson served as second vice president, first-vice president and president of the Filer Key Club while attending Filer High School. He served on the projects committee at the International Key Club Convention, New York City. He was awarded the Filer Key Club scholarship and the Billingship scholarship during his senior-high school year.

He is a freshman at ISU majoring in education, and is Circle-K Club vice president, membership chairman, and International district convention chairman.

Both Henderson and Hardesty plan to attend the International Circle-K Convention at Dallas, Texas, Aug. 21-24.

Compromise Is Sought For Rhodesia

LONDON (AP) — British and Rhodesian officials began a search Monday for a compromise settlement to end Rhodesia's rebellion. But the talks angered Zambia, Rhodesia's northern neighbor.

Foreign Minister Simon Kapwepwe of Zambia refused an invitation-to-meet Commonwealth Relations Secretary Arthur Bottonay.

Before flying to United Nations headquarters in New York, Kapwepwe denounced the British-Rhodesian meeting as "a shameful move." In a statement he held it "suggested sellout" of the Africans and a first British move toward recognizing Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian Smith's regime. He also urged U.N. imposition of compulsory sanctions on Rhodesia.

The African diplomat's strong condemnation came after eight British and Rhodesian officials held a two-hour meeting in London. They agreed to keep their exchanges secret.

It was the first confrontation of British and Rhodesian authorities since Smith proclaimed his country's independence of Britain last Nov. 11 after refusing British demands that the African majority ultimately be given the vote.

The aim is to see if informal talks if a compromise is possible in the form of a new constitution for Rhodesia.

Site Search Is Term as "Deception"

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward V. Long, D-Mo., said Monday the search for a site for a $375 million atom smasher had turned out to be "a miserable deception."

He told the Senate that the six sites remaining for consideration by the Atomic Energy Commission are "seriously in doubt."

At the same time Long called a review of all proposed sites — not just those six.

Sites still in the running:

Long said.

Sciences has interfered and the good faith of all those who submitted site propaganda has been violated."

"The academy is willing to take a costly gamble on the Denver and Madison sites even though they both have a hopelessly inadequate power supply," Long said.

The AEC stressed the importance of proximity to a major airport having frequent service to major cities but the academy came up with Sacramento which

Vietnamese Family Starts New Life in Strange Place

AP SPOTLIGHT

By JOHN NANCE

DUC BON, South Viet Nam

(AP) — The bloodied and battered family stumbled from the jungle. The father came first, gripping the hand of a small boy, then came the mother, carrying a baby. Their eyes were glazed.

Twelve hours earlier, an American force of the 173rd Airborne Brigade had received intelligence that a large element — perhaps even a battalion — of hardcore Viet Cong troops was camped near the village of Duc Bon.

The 173rd force was at Song Be, about an hour north of Saigon, and about 15 miles east of the Cambodian border. Duc Bon was eight minutes away by helicopter.

The 2nd Battalion of the 173rd was readied for morning assault. The paratroopers were eager to go because the intelligence said the Viet Cong force was an outfit they had tangled with before.

Shortly after dawn, artillery and jet planes blazed the suspected enemy area with shells, bombs and napalm. The helicopter assault was led by C Company and as the first wave hit the landing zone the thunderous sounds of rifles, machine gun and grenade split the air.

"They're here, they're here," said Capt. Tom Foley, 26, Harlinton, Pa., commander of C Company.

But they weren't. After several minutes of intense firing it became quiet. Paratroopers moved into the jungle. A rifle was found here, the remains of a half-eaten breakfast there. But the enemy force apparently had been no more than a dozen men, and they had fled.

All four shuddered when the whirling blades of the helicopter

At Ann Arbor, he said, "bedrock is reported to vary from

Shipment of Chemical Is Suspended

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk personally ordered a halt in U.S. aid shipments of a highly explosive rubber chemical compound after his investigators reported the shipments may have been diverted to the Viet Cong for terror attacks.

The incident was reported by official sources Monday as Rusk and Foreign Aid Administrator David E. Hell were questioned by the Senate Foreign Relations committee on misuse of American assistance.

The chemical compound imported by Saigon businesses under the commercial import program of the Agency for International Development first attracted the attention of investigators last February. It was noted that only about half a million rubber-soled tennis shoes had been turned out from imports of Unicel-100 manufactured by the Du Pont de Nemours Co., but the quantity ordered was enough for between eight-million-and-nine million tennis shoes.

Investigators reported this and a check was begun on the use to which the material was being put.

A spokesman for Du Pont at Wilmington, Del., said his company called AID's attention to the explosive qualities of the material when Du Pont received its first order in January 1966.

Du Pont, he said, notified the Department of Commerce of the "order and of the fact that Unicel-100 could be detonated under certain conditions."

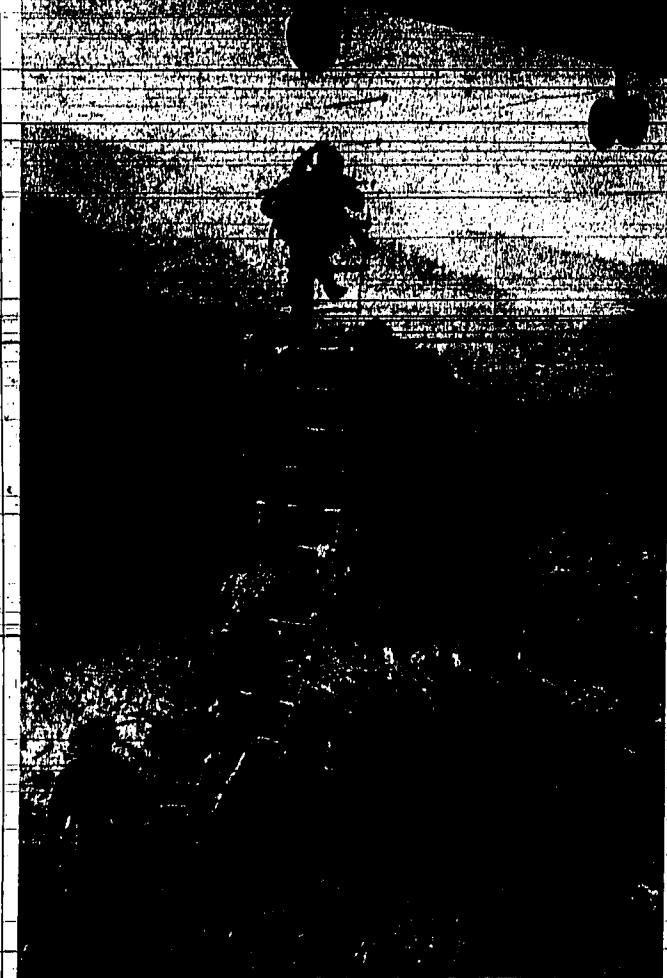

"AID, in turn, was notified by the Department of Commerce and an investigation was undertaken by AID. Du Pont, in the meantime, was told by the Department of Commerce to continue its shipments until the AID investigation was completed."

In March the chemical was tested by the U.S. naval ordnance laboratory and found to be highly explosive on impact.

On April 3, Deputy Inspector General Howard H. Haugerud in Saigon issued a recommendation that further shipments of Unicel be suspended and the following day recommendations were made to the AID agency that further shipments be halted.

On April 26, Rusk took a rarely used action and exercised his authority to order the suspension of the suspect item. Within three hours orders were sent to all points involved that no more deliveries of the material were to be made.

Unicel was "found to have about the same explosive qualities as TNT."

Bodies of Four Found in Plane

SOMERSET, Pa. (AP) — A spokesman for the governor's office said the bodies of Pennsylvania Atty. Gen. Walter E. Alessandro, his wife and two other persons were found Monday night in the wreckage of their missing plane near Somerset.

The plane, missing since Sunday afternoon, had been on a flight from Harrisburg to Uniontown, carrying Alessandro; his wife, Ethel; James E. Staudinger of Abington Township, Republican chairman of Montgomery County; and the pilot, Melvin E. Ladin of Collingswood, N.J.

Johnson Will Hold Talks On Viet Nam

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson gave the LBJ Ranch a once-over look Monday and made ready to fly back to Washington for talks on Viet Nam and efforts to ease East-West tensions.

Deputy press secretary Robert H. Fleming said Johnson will be back at his White House desk Tuesday after a Mother's Day weekend at the ranch. The President is expected to fly to Washington early in the morning.

Major business for the remainder of the week will include conferences with Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam, and John A. Gronouski, ambassador to Poland.

Johnson's talks with Lodge presumably will deal, in part at least, with the statement by Premier Nguyen Cao Ky that the military directorate he heads expects to remain in power for at least another year.

Gronouski will report on his visits to Soviet-bloc countries seeking to build what Johnson calls bridges of trade and friendship between East and West.

The President entertained Mexico's foreign minister, Antonio Carrillo Flores, Monday at the ranch and paid tribute to former President Harry S. Truman on the occasion of Truman's 82nd birthday.

Johnson telephoned Truman to wish him a happy birthday after issuing a special proclamation expressing lasting gratitude and appreciation for Truman's public service.

The former president's birthday was Sunday, but old friends marked the occasion Monday with a big luncheon in Kansas City.

men stay in their home when they go out in the evening, the Sunday Post reports.

One man now using the service had previously had his home burglarized four times, the newspaper said. Thieves got to know his regular nights out, and no matter how many locks he used, they always got in.

Since he's hired the burglar sitter, there's been nary a peep out of them, he says.
