Premier's Troops Surround Rebel Da Nang Center

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's troops surrounded rebel headquarters in Da Nang today after more than four hours of heavy shooting around the Buddhist stronghold. The government appeared trying to choke off the dissidents rather than wipe them out in a direct attack. In an attempt to exploit the turmoil, the Viet Cong's underground Liberation radio threw Communist support behind the rebels and urged all South Vietnamese troops to "rise up" against the government.

Buddhist leaders in Saigon and the northern provinces sent plans for intervention to end the civil strife to world leaders, but significantly the monks avoided any association with the Viet Cong's overtures.

The Buddhists also canceled all rallies today to avoid the impression that they might be in honor of North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh's 76th birthday today.

In the war against the Communists, only one major ground action was reported and monsoon rains held U.S. Air Force and Navy planes to 23 missions against North Viet Nam.

The U.S. command announced the loss, apparently to ground fire, of an Air Force C-123 cargo plane on a flare-drop mission 30 miles northwest of Qui Nhon. Bodies of two crewmen were found in the wreckage, and the other three were listed as missing.

"These people will be pursued," one defense official told a reporter.

He said 28 Americans, most of them past and present employees of U.S. contractors in Viet Nam, have been under investigation since returning to this country.

Their files have been forwarded to the Treasury for tax scrutiny, he said.

Over-all, it was learned, 70 U.S. civilians have been the subject of probes. One American can netted about $42,000 by money speculation, officials said, and several pocketed profits in the $10,000-$18,000 range.

Officials also said 41 U.S. servicemen in South Viet Nam have been court-martialed or given lesser punishment in the crackdown on black marketeering and currency manipulation.

U.S. Officials Fear Prolonged Violence

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some of the best informed U.S. officials now fear prolonged political violence in South Viet Nam could undermine the whole basis of the American war effort there and force this country to reconsider its Vietnamese policies. A deepening sense of worry and frustration has become evident among policymakers here in recent days. The Johnson administration is still hopeful that the ruling military directorate in Saigon, headed by Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, and rebellious Buddhist and military elements at Da Nang and Hue can patch over their differences quickly. Both sides have been warned that they are endangering American support.

But in administration quarters there is less talk than there was during earlier outbreaks of violence this year that the South Vietnamese are merely suffering political growing pains. There is more anxious speculation that their differences may be too deep to be reconciled and, even if apparently composed, soon will erupt again.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's statement Wednesday, specifying limitations on the amount of U.S. help that will be given to developing nations, was being interpreted by some authorities here as underscoring in policy terms the diplomatic warnings to South Vietnamese leaders disclosed by Secretary of State Dean Rusk at a news conference Tuesday.

Rusk said the South Vietnamese were being told that "their own attitude, their own solidarity, their own efforts are crucial elements in the combined American and Vietnamese determination" to go on with the fight against Communism.

Mr. Smylie will return to Boise following the ceremonies but the governor will go on to Pocatello to attend a Chamber of Commerce orientation in politics program at Idaho State University.

Smylie will speak at commencement exercises at Minico High School in Rupert Sunday afternoon and will address the Wood River High School commencement program at Hailey Monday night.

He will speak in Twin Falls Monday noon and Tuesday morning will keynote the opening of the annual Idaho health conference in Sun Valley. He returns to Boise for a Tuesday evening address to Ada County Young Republicans.

While Twin Falls has maintained a steady rate of growth during the past six years, there has been a remarkable population redistribution within the city.

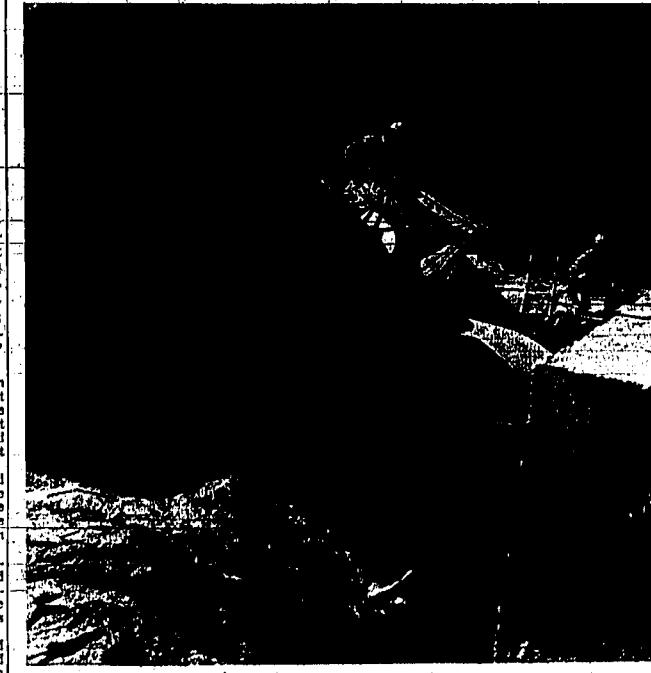

The final tabulation of the Twin Falls mid-decade census, released Thursday by H. L. Derrick, city manager, shows that while the city now has 20,893 inhabitants, there has been a population decline of more than

He said the census indicates a Rock Creek park.

10 per cent in the older areas, which has been more than matched by increases in new residential development in the northern and eastern sections of the city.

Derrick, in releasing the tabulation, emphasized the seriousness of the population decline in the downtown area, which he said, if not checked could have serious impact on the entire city.

Britain, Malaysia Ready to Make Peace With Indonesia

LONDON (AP) — After a phase of quiet diplomacy, Britain and Malaysia are ready to take the calculated risk of marking peace with a sobered Indonesia. This is the meaning of the Malaysian government assignment Wednesday that sent Deputy Prime Minister Tun Abdul Razak to meet with Indonesian Foreign Minister Adam Malik. More is at stake than an end to the three-year undeclared war between Indonesia and Malaysia. The stability of South Asia is involved, and with it America's British plan to block Red Chinese expansion in the area.

An end to the war is all important for Britain at this critical stage in the Labor government's economic recovery program. Britain has 50,000 airland and sea forces in Malaya to defend its Commonwealth partner. British representatives in Jakarta have done much spade work in informal exchanges with the new Indonesian regime of Lt. Gen. Suharto.

The outline of a settlement has begun to shape up, according to diplomats of the three countries concerned.

The starting point for any political reconciliation, by common consent, seems likely to be a tacit truce. This would mean an end to Indonesian raids on Malaysian territory and shipping, and a cease-fire along the jungle frontier dividing Malaysia and Indonesian Borneo.

If all goes well, this would be followed by a quiet withdrawal of forces from the Borneo frontier. Binding political agreements could follow.

The Indonesians have given the British the impression that:

1. The Suharto regime has no designs on present territory of the Malaysian federation.

2. It is concerned much more with reorganizing Indonesia's bankrupt economy. Aid for reconstruction is likely to be sought from the United States, Britain, Australia, Japan and the Netherlands.

3. Indonesia intends joining no military alliances or blocs but will follow true nonalignment. President Sukarno was committed nominally to nonalignment but Westerners considered him to be in Peking's pocket.

It is based on a very tight work schedule," Dr. George E. Mueller, NASA associate administrator for manned space flight, said Wednesday.

Stafford, an Air Force lieutenant colonel, and Cernan, a Navy lieutenant commander, had their flight postponed Tuesday when one Atlas rocket failed in flight and did not push their Agena target satellite into orbit.

One of the Atlas' booster engines "swiveled out of control and sent the Atlas-Agena plunging into the Atlantic Ocean 180 miles southeast of its Cape Kennedy launching pad."

An Air Force-NASA investigation board is seeking the precise cause of the multimillion-dollar failure. Results of the probe could delay the launching until May 31 if the new Atlas assigned to the mission has a similar problem.

Officers Elected By Auto Dealers

SUN VALLEY, Idaho (AP) — New officers of the Idaho Automobile Dealers Association are James Kochel of Lewiston, president, Frank Ellsworth of Idaho Falls, vice president, and C. Ed Flanders of Pocatello, director.

They were chosen Wednesday in closing sessions of the association's convention.

CSI Trustees, City Leaders Discuss Plans

The first of a series of meetings between College of Southern Idaho trustees and Twin Falls City Commissioners to be held as campus plans begin to take form was held Wednesday night at the City Hall.

Problems and details of mutual interest to the two governing bodies were discussed during the joint session.

Among problems peculiar to campus development and affecting the city are roadways serving the college site, Edward Jones, campus planner from Billings, suggested.

Both the city and college are to adequately serve the needs of the college populace.

He noted roads, parking and other facilities relating to the student automobile are major factors in campus planning and developing.

While it takes 150-200 square feet to "park" a student, it takes about 350 square feet to park a student's car, he said.

Campus plans call for parking outside the academic core, with no vehicular traffic allowed other than service and emergency traffic.

Water and sewage lines in relation to city service were also mentioned.

Authorities said the babysitter was "hypnotized." Thursday morning and could not give a coherent account of just what occurred.

Mrs. Lancaster, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Nelson, owners of Nelson's Cafe in Burley, was expected home Saturday.

Mad Bomber Blamed in Canada Blast

OTTAWA (AP) — A mad bomber who blew himself up was blamed today for a bomb explosion in Canada's Parliament building.

Solicitor General Lawrence T. Pennell told a news conference Wednesday night the man who died when his homemade dynamite bomb went off in a washroom Wednesday was Paul Joseph Charron, 45, Toronto.

The washroom is near the office of Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson and Foreign Secretary Paul Martin. It was the first such bombing in the 99-year history of the Canadian Parliament.

Charron once has been a psychiatric patient and left writings in his Toronto rooming house which indicated he felt "the world hadn't done right by him and there were injustices to correct," Pennell said.

The writings mentioned no names of politicians or other persons and gave no indication Charron directed his feelings at any one person or institution, Pennell said.

Decision Is Rehearing of Leg Wound Case Set

BOISE (AP) — The Idaho Supreme Court announced Thursday it will rehear next week a case involving a suit filed in Cassia County and alleging improper treatment of a leg wound.

Howard Formont brought the action against Dr. James R. Kircher, alleging the latter treated him improperly for a leg fracture, forcing amputation of his leg.

The District Court ruled against Formont and he appealed. The Supreme Court reversed the District Court and ordered the latter to take additional testimony to determine the amount of damages.

Dr. Kircher asked the court for a rehearing and it was granted. The court said it will consider the case again next Tuesday.

GOP, Demo Assemblies To Be Held

The Twin Falls County and legislative district assemblies will be held Friday and Saturday evenings in the county courthouse.

Harold Lancaster, Twin Falls County clerk, said county assembly for each party will be held from 6 p.m. Friday and two legislative assemblies will be held at 8 p.m. Saturday.

Lancaster said the chairman of each assembly will not vote at these meetings unless he is present.

At these meetings delegates to the state assembly will be chosen and vacancies on the permanent ballot will be filled. Lancaster said there must be at least 51 per cent attendance at these meetings before any action can be taken.

Support Merited

To many residents, the Twin Falls Easter Seal Clinic is some sort of institution that works with handicapped children. Nothing could be further from the truth. The Easter Seal Center is dedicated to helping everyone and anyone with a speech difficulty. The director of the center, Mrs. Merle Stoddard, is especially well-trained for that type of work. Indeed, Mrs. Stoddard probably is the area's foremost authority on speech therapy. Even though the Easter Seal Center operates constantly under the handicap of insufficient financing, Mrs. Stoddard has achieved some rather startling results with some of the patients both adults and children.

Next week, Mrs. Stoddard plans to take a step into still another specialized field of speech defects. At 8 p.m. next Wednesday, Mrs. Stoddard plans the first session for adults who have a speech difficulty because of a stroke. Families of stroke victims also have been invited to the session because a good deal depends on attitudes within the family when starting speech therapy for adults, she pointed out.

It's all just another example of the sort of service Magic Valley is getting from the Easter Seal Center. Mrs. Stoddard has given freely of her time and talents to help persons from all age groups, all walks of life in their battles to overcome speech defects. It's unfortunate that the annual sale of Easter Seals, from which the center derives a good deal of its finances, fell off this year. Perhaps Magic Valley residents could keep Mrs. Stoddard and the Easter Seal Center in mind for memorial gifts. The Easter Seal Center is one of those worthwhile services meriting the support of everyone.

PROPER PROCEDURE

Next Jan. 1, salaries will increase for elected county officials as the result of action taken by Twin Falls county commissioners several weeks ago. Pay increases for these officials aren't automatic. The Idaho Legislature sets maximum amounts that may be paid, but county commissioners have considerable leeway in determining the actual pay. The increases already voted to take effect Jan. 1 range from $300 to $1,000 annually. For the most part, the pay boosts are no more than could be expected normally. There may be some citizens who believe the pay increases are over due.

County commissioners must be commended for their method of handling these pay increases. They were voted well in advance of this year's elections. Whatever else follows the action, it will relieve the next commission of raising pay and facing criticism.

It must have taken a certain amount of courage for commissioners to grant pay raises in advance of elections. Two of the three commissioners responsible for pay boosts are asking re-election, hence give voters an opportunity to approve or disapprove of their action. It adds just one more factor to this year's elections, a factor that didn't have to come up at all.

The local system of granting and announcing the pay raises is a far cry from the way the problem is handled in Washington. Members of Congress vote themselves a raise by voice vote so no one knows who favored the move. And whenever Congress votes a pay raise for any federal employee, the raises are announced on an hourly basis or with percentage figures. That way it doesn't seem to amount to much.

SMART INVESTMENT

The Twin Falls school board has made a smart investment in land adjoining the local high school. Supt. Ernest H. Ragsdale pointed out the land was needed for long-term development of high school facilities. However, it doesn't take much imagination to see that the property is located in a district that has been growing by leaps and bounds. It would be a fine location for another grade school when the need develops.

Whatever happens, patrons of the school district aren't likely to find reason to regret the board's decision to purchase the land. In view of the fast growth of the general locality, the price certainly isn't out of line although some citizens may still have trouble accepting any land prices in excess of $500 an acre.

Except for the land to the north of Twin Falls High School, the high school location has been boxed in completely. Residents might recall some criticism when school trustees selected a site "out in the country" for the high school. It has been some years now since anyone considered the high school location "out in the country." If community growth continues in that general direction, the site may not be too far from the city's center of population at some time in the future. The new land acquisition prepares for

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

By ANDREW TULLY

WASHINGTON — Harry Truman, who is rarely equivocal, once called Sen. J. William Fulbright, "an over educated SOB" after Fulbright had demanded that Truman resign. Truman, bless his brave heart, was wrong. Fulbright may have been a Rhodes Scholar, but his long exposure to the Halls of Academe seems to have left him singularly uneducated.

On the record, it would have been an international disaster had Truman taken Fulbright's Olympian advice. Greece and Turkey and possibly a big slice of Europe might have gone down the drain. Now, however, speaking as we were from his scholar's cap and gown, Fulbright wants to hand South Viet Nam over to the Reds.

VIEWS ASKED. — Lacking Harry Truman's forthrightness, Fulbright doesn't put it quite that way. Instead he mounts the sanctimonious argument that the United States should stand aside and let the Viet Cong work out their own destiny. Like a latter-day Colton Maltese, this suddenly pious opponent of civil rights for the Negro complains that the American fighting man from isolated Main Streets have turned Saigon into "a hell," and equates what he calls the "arrogance" and hubris for power of the Johnson administration with "the fatal presumption" which brought the downfall of Adolf Hitler.

Fulbright's lack of air education seems to extend to his failure to read either history or today's newspapers. Although he apparently has a dossier on every American soldier in Viet Nam who ever got caught drunk in some Saigon saloon, he is either ignorant of or chooses to ignore the Communist record and Communist plots for the takeover of South Viet Nam. It is Fulbright's premise that North Viet Nam's veteran Red leader, Ho Chi Minh, is the only competent statesman in that neighborhood. This may be so, in the same way Ivan the Terrible was a competent Russian leader. Fulbright always neglects to mention that when the French were driven out of Indochina, Uncle Ho's Red regime initiated a reign of terror which made the Inquisition look like a tea party.

TORTURE NORMAL PRACTICE. — In this history's authority is absolute. Conditions were so horrible that more than a million North Vietnamese had fled to the south, and many more would have left had not the Ho regime — in the fashion of Communist governments — closed the frontier. Ho's so-called "land reform" program was so barbarous that the peasants in Ho's home province revolted and had to be brutally suppressed by Ho's army. As recorded by Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap, the Ho regime's top military man, "torture came to be regarded as a normal practice during reorganization."

Fulbright fills the air with his shrewish carpings about what he calls the administration's ambivalent attitude toward elections in Viet Nam. But his mellifluous voice is never raised for the rights of Vietnamese people is at least suspect. He is a man of poor taste, expert in chancery, the apportionment of the down-and-out in Asia, Africa and Latin America, everywhere but in the United States. This man who is so similar-than-thou about the morals of American GI's abroad is the same man who has voted against every meaningful legislative measure to give the Negro the rights he was born with for the same reasons of political expediency he finds so unattractive in his fellow politicians. Yet he finds his strongest support among the more radical of the civil rights who denounce Lyndon Johnson because he has merely done more for the Negro than any other president.

I'm afraid that Rhodes scholarship wasn't enough for Fulbright. If I can clear it with Internal Revenue, I plan to start a fund to send J. William back to school. A school that teaches history.

FAMOUS GIRLISH VOICE. — As it must to most women, the 40th birthday came to Britain's Queen Elizabeth Thursday. As Her Majesty moves into middle years, she will inevitably be compared with two other queens, her great-grandmother, Victoria, and that other Elizabeth, both of whom gave their names to the ages they shaped. Yet how different is the world in which this Elizabeth lives and how different the throne upon which she sits.

In 1850, when Victoria was 40, she had been on the throne 22 years. Great Britain ruled the seas and Victoria, through the force of her personality, was ruler of England. Respectful of parliamentary government, she nonetheless was very much the monarch. She demanded of one prime minister, Palmerston, that he advise her of every proposed course of action and that he change nothing without her approval. The Crimean War was over, and England's hold on India was secure.

In 1973, when the other Elizabeth was 40, she had reigned for 15 years, after a youth marked by intrigue and uncertainty. She had served time in the Tower. Religious dissension colored affairs at home, even as English sea dogs were placing the flag of Elizabeth over the flag of Spain around the world. England was on the threshold of the greatness that came to full flower in the Age of Victoria.

Gone is some of the great British might. But the glory remains. And so does the affection of those who remember this Elizabeth as the girlish voice, speaking from the dark of bombed-out England to give courage, hope, pride and faith to her people and all the people of the free world. — Eugene Register-Guard.

STILL OUT OF BALANCE. — America is making some progress. In the battle of the dollar, it is not yet won. Calandar for 1968 was the last balance-of-payments year in almost a decade. The nation had out $1.3 billion more than it took in March, 1968, held more bad news. Figures released this week show that March exports climbed at a faster rate than imports, providing a favorable trade balance of more than $600 million for the month.

But even this healthy trade margin is not enough to offset the outflow of dollars in foreign trade, tourism spending abroad, consumer exports and investments abroad, and overseas military costs, including principally the war in Viet Nam. The country is still operating at a substantial deficit in terms of payments.

It is not a critical one, at least not as critical as it was a year or two ago. But until balance is achieved, the signs point to an inevitable crisis. As of the beginning of the week, the U.S. gold reserve stood at about $13.6 billion. That's not much cushion for an economy that produces almost $700 billion annually. — The Oregonian

HANDY, ANYWAY

Disposable-of-second-hand-gum shouldn't be much of a problem. For instance, you can find an ample supply of it on the bottom of nearly any seat in a theater. Feel around the next time you go to the movie and

Or you can always toss a wad of the stuff on the sidewalk where it's will cling to someone's shoe and be removed from the scene.

But the INSIDE of a person's shoe must be deemed an unusual place to deposit used gum. It also can-be-somewhat messy.

Mrs. Earl Lake had some recent experience along the line of finding second-hand-gum—INSIDE her shoes. Some grandchildren provided the invaluable experience.

NEW YORK (AP) — Many people today wonder whether civilization is nutty—or whether they are.

The suspicion is natural and healthy.

Just where do you really stand? How mentally and emotionally normal—are you?

For folks who can't afford a psychiatrist's couch we've compiled a kind of poor man's sanity test.

Ask yourself these questions. But, remember, be somewhat honest.

Do you enjoy gossip, as long as it is about somebody else? In reading about how someone held up a bank boy pointing at the toller with his fist in a brown paper bag, do you sigh and when you had the courage to try it, too?

Now and then are you struck with the idea that someone or something is following you?

Do you keep your eyes wide open when you kiss your wife goodby in the morning?

Are you convinced that your shoelaces never break, except when you are in a desperate hurry?

Does it ruin your day if some other motorist beats you to a parking place?

If a younger man is prompted over you at the office, do you suspect it is because he has an RH-negative blood (only about 15 per cent of the population have this type) that has developed anti-Rh positive antibodies through a previous pregnancy?

There are many viruses responsible for the common cold that it would be impossible to give a single vaccine that would prevent all of them. The only one for which a vaccine has so far been developed is the adenovirus and the vaccine for that is given by mouth.

Q—Should a man and woman marry and have children if they are of the same ABO blood group and have the same Rh-factor? I have heard that all children from such a marriage would be blue babies.

A—When a woman who has Rh-negative blood (only about 15 per cent of the population have this type) has developed anti-Rh positive antibodies through a previous pregnancy?

There are many viruses responsible for the common cold that it would be impossible to give a single vaccine that would prevent all of them. The only one for which a vaccine has so far been developed is the adenovirus and the vaccine for that is given by mouth.

Q—Does it ruin your day if some other motorist beats you to a parking place?

Do you feel nobody can really sympathize with your woes, because nobody knows the trouble you've seen?

Do you feel the world is going to hell in a handbasket, just as it was in the '30s?

Well, that is your sanity test. Now about your score. If your answer to every question was "Yes"—well, cheer up. You are just as sane and normal as everyone else in your block.

Does it ruin your day if some other motorist beats you to a parking place?

Which leaves only one problem.

Just how nutty do you think they are?

Q—My son started taking cold shots last winter. The doctor says he should go on with them all summer or he will lose his immunity. What do you think?

A—There are vaccines against various influenza viruses but two shots in the early fall each year are all that are required.

These shots protect only against the prevailing type of influenza.

There are so many viruses responsible for the common cold that it would be impossible to give a single vaccine that would prevent all of them. The only one for which a vaccine has so far been developed is the adenovirus and the vaccine for that is given by mouth.

MARQUIS CHILDS WRITES ON WASHINGTON

NEW YORK — This reporter many years ago spent a day with the late Mayor Fiorello La Guardia on his appointed rounds as he scourged the wrongdoers. To move about the city with Mayor John V. Lindsay is to understand that nothing has really changed. It has just grown bigger, more complex and, in the gloomy view more nearly insoluble.

Visitors from around the country get part of their satisfaction in reviving the cosmopolitan, the clogged and dirty streets, the quick strikes, high prices and poor service. But New York, because it is the magnet which attracts millions of every kind of person to it, presents a dilemma that baffle[s] almost every city in the United States. What is new in New York is Lindsay, what is old is the city can be licked.

It is easy to discount this handmaiden, rather impulsive new mayor. His is a legendary air, somewhere between Childs Harold and Jack the Giant Killer, which lends itself to caricature. But he is intensely earnest, and he is putting together a first-class administration that may be able to get on with the job if the system does not, as it so often does in the past, block the way.

The base of the system is, of course, the division of powers between the state-government in Albany and the city administration. A further complication for Lindsay is the fact that the City Council has a Democratic majority, with Council President Frank D. O'Connor having his eye fixed firmly on the governorship race in the fall. At times it seems to the burned mayor, who left the Senate to become a senator again, that the system is designed to frustrate any action.

The crux of the matter at the moment is, of course, the division of powers between the state-government in Albany and the city administration. A further complication for Lindsay is the fact that the City Council has a Democratic majority, with Council President Frank D. O'Connor having his eye fixed firmly on the governorship race in the fall. At times it seems to the burned mayor, who left the Senate to become a senator again, that the system is designed to frustrate any action.

"I wrote you a three-page letter," one young man said, "about two old ladies who are being put out of their tenement and told they have to move way to the Bronx. They want to stay in their own neighborhood. All I got back was a single paragraph saying you had received it. What are you going to do?"

The mayor joins in the laughter, remarking that he gets 4,000 letters a day and obviously he can't read them all. But he will have one of his assistants who is with him take up the case of the old ladies. Here are two human beings who for the moment symbolize the uprooting of many of the eight million New Yorkers.

Always at his back the mayor hears the angry muttering of Albany. The Democrats in the legislature are denouncing his tax program. Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, who wants to be re-elected to a third term by a big majority, is playing coy. He tells the mayor not to worry, that these things are worked out in the last days of the session and he will get his taxes. But if this proves wrong, and the mayor and the governor are in a killing match over higher education, it will be the mayor who confronts a rather large size disaster.

SOUTH COULD WIN OR LOSE. — North's jump to three hearts—one of three—hearts-raised that are becoming more and more popular. He wanted to be in game if his partner held more than a minimum opening.

South had enough more to justify a slam-contract and he had a diamond.

On the other hand, South had a winning play at his disposal. He discarded his deuce of spades on the fourth club and led a diamond.

West had to win with the queen and was end-played. He had to lead a diamond to give South a ruff and discard or a spade into the ace-queen.

It should be noted that South's diamond play would have failed had East held the queen of diamonds but in that case, no play would have worked and also it would have been quite a play for West to have opened the king of diamonds without the queen to back it up.

Mrs. Creason Honored for Library Work

RUPERT—Mrs. H. V. Creason was honored for 30 years of service to the library after resigning her position from the board recently.

Mrs. Creason was presented a certificate of appreciation from the City of Rupert and presentation was made by Mayor Wendell Johnson.

She has been a member of the board for over 30 years and for many years selected many of the books for the library. She has served on the board through a series of librarians and library locations, having received her appointment in December, 1935, from R. H. Turner, who was mayor at the time.

At this time, the city council consisted of A. C. Duffin, C. R. Isenberg, Floyd Schnell, L. P. Remberg and Henry Crenson.

Mrs. Anna LaRue was librarian at the time and the library was housed in what is now an apartment building, across from the present location of the DeMary Memorial Library.

The library later was moved upstairs in the civic building where it remained until the present library was constructed in 1958 with funds donated by A. C. DeMary. Mrs. Creason was a member of the planning board for the new library.

Mrs. Marvin Reynolds has been appointed to replace Mrs. Creason and the present library board, which includes Mrs. L. C. Culbertson, secretary; Dr. C. Phillips, Dr. C. H. Lehman and Henry Breseney, chairman of the library board.

Girl Recovers After Week With Kidnaper

SHADE GAP, Pa. (AP) — Scratches, bruises, blistered feet and sheer fatigue gave evidence today of schoolgirl Peggy Ann Bradnick's weeklong ordeal as the captive of a crazed kidnaper and killer.

Peggy Ann, 17, rested in the Fulton County Medical Center in nearby McConnellsburg. She was safe after a week of hiding and running with her captor, who sometimes dragged her by a chain around her neck "as he fled from a massive manhunt in the wooded Tuscany hillside." Two men were dead when the drama ended. One was an FBI agent shot by the kidnaper Tuesday. The other, the kidnaper, William Diller Hollenbaugh, 44, was killed in a final gun battle Wednesday in which a deputy sheriff was wounded.

Hollenbaugh kidnapped Peggy Ann, a quiet, pretty, high school girl at gunpoint May 11 while she and her five brothers and sisters walked home from school.

Dr. Gerald T. Lorentz, medical director at the center, spoke with the girl after her rescue. He said Peggy Ann indicated she spent the first two or three days of captivity in a house or shelter before the pair took to the woods.

A spokesman for the state commented during the massive manhunt that the kidnaper apparently knew the area — one of rocky, wooded mountains and deep valleys — "like the back of his hand."

"I gather she slept outside during those nights," Lorentz said. "She and Hollenbaugh ate beads and corn out of cans," Lorentz said. The girl told him the kidnaper dragged her by a catch around the neck several times.

Dr. Robert Fry, a physician at the center, said he found no evidence the girl had been molested.

Peggy Ann may have recognized her captor as the lone figure frequently seen pedaling a battered red bicycle through the neighborhood. Local residents of the tiny Henry community of Burnt Cabin called him "Bicycle Bill" and considered him "very strange."

No suspicion publicly was cast on Hollenbaugh during the first few days of the search for Peggy Ann.

But it was later revealed he was a suspect almost from the start and police watched his two-room cabin just off Route 522.

Hollenbaugh's record — a 10-year penitentiary term for burglary, plus 13 years in Parisburg, State Hospital for the mentally insane — placed him under suspicion. He also had not been seen since the kidnapping.

As the investigation advanced, police guessed "Bicycle Bill" also was the mysterious "man known locally as the Mountain Man," who had fired at five persons in the past two years and wounded two.

The hunt first caught up with him Tuesday when five officers, with dogs, searched an area near Hollenbaugh's cabin.

A sniper, apparently hidden behind a log, opened fire killing FBI agent Terry Ray Anderson, 42, during the search.

The sniper disappeared, but his bullet ran him over. Hollenbaugh passed by a policeman running through the woods. Peggy Ann was with him. It was the first time the girl had been seen since her disappearance.

Hundreds of reinforcements

— state police, FBI agents, National Guardsmen, game wardens, volunteers — threw an army ring 20 miles across around the area to prevent Hollenbaugh's escape.

The ring tightened slowly

Tuesday to a circle eight miles around, encompassing a peak known as Neelytown Ridge.

At dawn Wednesday Hollenbaugh tried to break out of the closing ring.

Jack L. Conn, the governor's press secretary, reconstructing the closing moments of the search, said Hollenbaugh came upon Deputy Sheriff Fran ce Sharp sleeping in a cabin crashed through the window as sharp ran for cover.

David Ruback, 16, and his brother Larry, 15, milking cows in the barn, ran to the house and grabbed their guns.

Hollenbaugh dragged Peggy Ann from the car to a nearby cornfield where the girl twisted free and ran to the farmhouse.

As Hollenbaugh passed a side window of the farmhouse he was caught in a cross-fire of gunshots fired by state police and by Larry Roebuck inside the house. Larry's shotgun blast reached the medical center, where he, Peggy Ann, and Sharp were taken. Sharp underwent surgery at a hospital in Chambersburg and later was reported in satisfactory condition.

Transplant of Kidney Said Working Well

ROME (AP) — A kidney transplanted from a chimpanzee to a critically ill youth is working "admirably" 11 days after the operation, the doctor on the case says.

Prof. Paride Stefanini said Wednesday night it was impossible to say whether the 10-year-old patient would survive, but results so far warrant "prudent optimism" over such transplants in the future.

Stefanini told a news conference he was forced to use an animal kidney for the transplant because the patient's condition was too critical to wait for the right kind of kidney from a dead person. Italian law prohibits transplants from live persons.

N. Y. Nurses Are Given Pay Increase

NEW YORK (AP) — Emergency restrictions were lifted from 21 municipal hospitals today following an agreement on pay increases that averted a mass resignation of nurses.

Officers of the New York State Nurses Association Wednesday night accepted a fact-finder's recommendations for a new contract between the city and the nurses.

The emergency order, issued in anticipation of the resignation, had limited hospital admissions to emergency cases and had stepped up patient discharges.

Resignations had been filed by 1,400 of the 3,800 nurses, to become effective next Monday if the association did not reach agreement with the city.

The nurses won an increase in starting pay from $3,150 to $3,400 a year effective next Jan. 1, and an immediate increase to $3,600, retroactive to last January. They had sought the $3,400 minimum.

at last... a one-set sprinkler that will water the exact shape of your lawn.

Low, flat spray is virtually unaffected by wind. Saves water. Saves time. A sprinkler with a "brain"... that you can adjust to water a lawn of any shape. Better than a soaking rain because it delivers water only where you want it. Avoids areas you want to keep dry. Simple adjustment enables you to "program" the Contour to fit any area, regardless of shape. Set it once and forget it... the Contour remembers the shape of your yard... waters exactly the same area every time. Spray radius extends from 5 to 40 feet. Low, flat spray pattern is virtually unaffected by wind. Less evaporation. Less waste. Saves water. Saves time.

21 Exercises—Read, but Don't Do Them Yet

By HANS KRAUS, M.D.
We have seen what causes backaches and how we can find what muscles are too weak to carry our body weight or handle our movements. We've looked at six general exercises.

Now we're ready to look at "HUT-NOT-TRY"—the 21 corrective exercises. Study them but don't do them yet. This next article will show you a guide to choose which exercises you need.

Again, a word of caution: Check with your physician if you have back trouble, to be sure there is no damage present that would bar your taking the exercises. Here they are:

Exercise 1 — Rotated Leg Raise. (For weak hip flexors.) Lie on your back with both knees flexed. Straighten one leg, turn the toes outward, and gradually lift the leg. To make this exercise more effective, you may want to add weights when they are prescribed.

You may use sandbags, or light weight-lifting shoes. Start with two pounds, and do not add more than half a pound at a time every second or third day. As soon as you have to jerk or strain, the weight is excessive. Limit the weight in the point where you can perform the exercise with ease and with only slight effort.

Exercise 2 — Heel slide. (For weak hip flexors.) Lie on your back, both knees flexed. Pull up both knees to your chest.

When the knees have reached your chest, lower your legs gradually and straighten them at the same time until they reach the floor. Relax.

Exercise 3 — Abdominal setting. Lie on your back, both knees flexed as before. Now tighten your stomach muscles. Try to tighten the seat muscles at the same time. If you do this correctly, the small of your back will be pressed against the floor.

Do not do it by pressing with your legs. Let the tight muscles move your pelvis and bring your back against the floor. Do not push your back against the floor. You will not succeed at once.

You may have to start by tightening your abdomen and later tightening your seat muscles separately before you can tighten them together. Once you succeed, hold muscles tight for two seconds.

Exercise 4 — Head up supine. (For weak stomach muscles.) Lie on the floor, your knees flexed, hands loose by your head.

And raise your head and shoulders off the floor, lower slowly and relax.

Exercise 5 — Knee-kiss. (For weak stomach muscles.) Lie on your back with knees flexed. Raise your head and your right knee at the same time and try to make them meet. Don't try too hard. You will probably NOT succeed. You will eventually return to your starting position and do the same with your head and left knee.

Exercise 6 — Sit-up, knees flexed. (For weak stomach muscles.) Lie on your back with your hands clasped behind your head, knees flexed. Tuck your feet under a chest of drawers, bed or heavy chair. Be sure the object is steady enough so it won't topple. Sit up, then lower yourself gradually to lying position. You should also sit up slowly, starting by raising your head, then your shoulders, and then your chest and lower end of spine.

Do not sit up by hinging that is holding your trunk stiff and jerking your weight up. If you do not succeed in doing this exercise with your hands behind your neck, try starting with them at your sides. Later, cross them over your stomach, and still later, when you are stronger, bring crossed arms up to your chest, and finally, behind your head and neck. If you can't do it at all, stick to earlier exercises until you have developed enough strength.

Exercise 7 — Single arm raise, prone. (For upper back muscles.) Lie on the floor, your stomach with a pillow under your axillae. Raise your right arm and shoulder. Lower, relax. Alternate sides.

Exercise 8 — Back-up prone. (For upper back muscles.) Lie on your stomach with a large pillow under your waist. Anchor your feet under a piece of furniture. Watch that the furniture doesn't topple on you. Keep your hands at your sides. Raise your back; until it is straight in line with your legs. But do NOT arch backward.

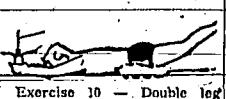

(Arching back exercises have been prescribed frequently in the past, and still are, but we find they cause discomfort and pain in many. It is not a normal movement of the spine.)

Exercise 9 — Single leg raise, prone. (For low back and seat muscles.) Lie on your stomach with a large pillow under your waist. Raise one leg at a time. Lower, rest.

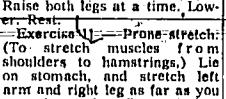

(Please note that weakness of back muscles is very rare.

If you cannot pass either of the back muscle tests in the K-W series, and fail other tests too, you should seek professional advice.)

Exercise 10 — Double leg raise, prone. (For low back and seat muscles.) Lie prone with a pillow under your hips. Anchor your hands by holding on to heavy furniture, being careful that the furniture is secure. Raise both legs at a time. Lower, rest.

Exercise 11 — Prone-squat. (To stretch muscles from shoulders to hamstrings.) Lie on stomach, and stretch left arm and right leg as far as you can along the floor. Relax. Then do the same with right arm, left leg. Then stretch all four limbs at same time. Relax.

Exercise 12 — Head sitting. (To limber muscles.) Sit on chair, feet apart on floor. Drop your head and bring your back against the floor. Do not push your back against the floor. You will not succeed at once.

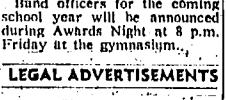

You may have to start by tightening your abdomen and later tightening your seat muscles separately before you can tighten them together. Once you succeed, hold muscles tight for two seconds.

Exercise 13 — Head up supine. (For weak stomach muscles.) Lie on the floor, your knees flexed, hands loose by your head.

And raise your head and shoulders off the floor, lower slowly and relax.

Exercise 14 — Bend sitting. (To limber back muscles.) Sit on chair, feet apart on floor. Drop

Exercise 15 — Hamstring stretch. (To stretch muscles.) Lie on back, both knees flexed, arms at sides. Bring knee up as close as possible to your face. Then straighten leg, raising it straight up in the air, lower it slowly to the floor. Feel the pull in your hamstring muscles along the back of your legs. Relax before repeating with other leg.

Exercise 16 — Hamstring stretch, standing. Stand up, clasping hands behind back and keeping back and neck straight.

Gradually bend from the hips, as far as you can until you feel a stretching of your hamstring muscles.

Exercise 17 — Pectoral stretch. Sit on chair. Place hands behind neck. Interlace fingers. Bring elbows as far back as you can. Return to starting position. Drop arms. Relax.

Exercise 18 — Kneeling Pectoral stretch. Get on hands and knees, then to forearms. Gradually straighten your back, sliding forward on your forearms, but keeping back and head straight. Return to kneeling position. Rest. Repeat.

Exercise 19 — Upper back stretch. Sit on chair with your shoulders on your shoulders. Try to cross your right arm as far to the left as possible and left arm as far to the right, until you feel stretch across your upper back. Return to starting position. Drop hands. Relax.

up to your chest, and finally, behind your head and neck. If you can't do it at all, stick to earlier exercises until you have developed enough strength.

Exercise 21 — Cat back. (To stretch muscles.) Get on your hands and knees. Arch your back like a cat. Drop head at same time. Then reverse, head up and away, hunching your spine.

Exercise 22 — Shoulder pull prone. Lie on stomach, pillow under hips. Pull shoulder blades together. Relax.

Exercise 23 — Bend sitting rotation. (To limber back muscles.) Sit on chair as in Exercise 12. Bend down, dropping head and shoulders. Bend to left, then gradually straighten up and relax. Repeat to the right.

Exercise 24 — Hamstring stretch. (To stretch muscles.) Lie on back, both knees flexed, arms at sides. Bring knee up as close as possible to your face. Then straighten leg, raising it straight up in the air, lower it slowly to the floor. Feel the pull in your hamstring muscles along the back of your legs. Relax before repeating with other leg.

And raise your head and shoulders off the floor, lower slowly and relax.

Seven Cities Make Pitch For NFL Franchise; No Decision Deadline Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — Seven cities flattered the National Football League Wednesday with attractive bids for 16th franchise in 1967 as assorted governors, senators, congressmen, mayors and business leaders paraded into the meeting. When it was all over, Commissioner Pete Rozelle refused to single out any leader among Houston, New Orleans, Cincinnati, Seattle, Boston, Phoenix and Portland, Ore. He would not say when a decision will be made. "The most significant thing was the amazing enthusiasm, the caliber of the people and the polish of the presentations," said Rozelle. "We were most flattered."

Last Week
Twin Falls area young stars under 13 years of age have only one more week to purchase Magic Valley Cavalry junior football passes at their schools, reminds Athletic Director Merle Eden. Eden said the tickets are available at all Twin Falls elementary and junior high schools.

Yanks Thrash Tigers Behind Stottlemyre

DETROIT (AP) — Home runs by Roy White and Tom Tresh and five-hit pitching by Mel Stottlemyre led the New York Yankees to a 7-2 victory over the Detroit Tigers Wednesday night.

It was the seventh New York triumph in 10 games since Ralph Houk took over as manager.

The Yankees scored three unearned runs in the first inning after errors by Don Wert and starting pitcher Mickey Lolich.

The runs scored on singles by Joe Pepitone, Roger Maris and Lou Clinton.

White hit a two-run, inside-the-park home in the fourth inning and Tresh added a solo effort in the seventh.

Home runs — New York, White (4), Tresh (1), Detroit, Pepitone (3).

Fumble Lets Phils Edge Cards 4-3

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A fumbled double-play grounder by Terry Burch in the seventh inning enabled Tony Taylor to score from third and gave Philadelphia a 4-3 victory over St. Louis Wednesday night.

Taylor singled, with one out, moved to third on Dick Grant's single—the 2,000th hit of his major league career—and scored on Bill White's grounder to Burch, who dropped it twice before getting Grant on a force out at second.

The Phillies scored three runs, tying it 3-3 in the sixth, with White's two-run homer, the big blow. Clay Dalrymple doubled home Johnny Callison with the other run.

Roy Culp, who relieved starter Jim Bunning, got credit for his first victory in four decisions. The loser was Bob Gibson, now 3-3.

Home runs — St. Louis, Smith (3), Philadelphia, White (5).

Wilson Beats Orioles With Pitching, Bat

BALTIMORE (AP) — Earl Wilson scattered seven hits and won his own game, with a lead-off 10th-inning homer off Jim Palmer, as the Boston Red Sox edged Baltimore 2-1 Wednesday night.

The loss was Baltimore's sixth in the last eight games while the Red Sox recorded only their second victory in their last nine.

Wilson's homer, into the right field bachers, was his second of the season and brought his pitching record to 3-2. Palmer took his second loss against three victories.

The Orioles tied the score 1-1 in the fifth, scoring on a wild pitch by Wilson after Jordan hit the bases on a walk and fielded hits by Andy Etchebarren and Luis Aparicio. With runners in scoring position, Wilson, helped by Frank and Brooks Robinson, Boston . . . . . 001 000 000—1 3 7 0

Hole-in-One

A 16-year-old high school sophomore, Gomer Davis, Twin Falls, scored a hole-in-one Wednesday on the Twin Falls Municipal course. He converted the ace on the 100-yard third-hole using a three iron. Witnesses were Gary Hulbert and Chad Dods.

BYU, New Mexico to Battle for Conference Track Championship

PROVO, Utah (AP) — Brigham Young University and the University of New Mexico figure to be close contenders Friday and Saturday at the Western Athletic Conference track and field championship meet at Provo. The Cougars, running on their own track, are strong and deep and could win. But the Lobos have the record book in their favor and have much of their 1965 WAC championship team back. And both schools appear likely to

Twins Use Homers to Sink Sox 7-1

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Harmon Killebrew (20) — Harmon Killebrew of the first Twins have been taken out of the Salmon River in the pool immediately below the Sunbeam Dam, reports Sunbeam resort owner Roy Hughes.

The two homers struck Jim (Mudcat) Grant to more than White Sox on four hits.

The victory was the Twins' fourth in a row and sixth in seven games.

Killebrew, who had hit only one homer in 25 games, drove a pitch from loser Gary Peters 425 feet to right-center in the first inning. It came with Tony Oliva (3-0) on a fielder's choice after Cesár Tovar had singled.

Mincher's 375-foot homer in the seventh followed Tovar's double and an intentional walk to Killebrew.

Aaron Drives Braves Past Pirates 4-2

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Hank Aaron's two-run homer and a pair of run-scoring doubles by Bill Woodward led the Atlanta Braves to a 4-2 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates Wednesday night.

It had planned to build a $5-million stadium at a cost of $38 million pending a vote on a bond issue Sept. 20.

While a stadium is being built, the club could play at the University of Washington stadium, which has 55,000 seats.

Gov. John McKeithen of Louisiana spoke for the huge New Orleans delegation. He pointed out New Orleans had the use of Tulane Stadium, home of the Sugar Bowl, with its 82,000 seats, until the proposed $25-million domed stadium could be built.

Boston was the first group to make a pitch, in alphabetical order. Mayor John Collins said his city planned a $97.6 million sports complex, including a 35,000-seat stadium with a dome, and could play in Fenway Park, home of the baseball Red Sox, until the Stadium is finished.

The Phillips' first two-bagger knocked in the winning run in the seventh after Lee Thomas and Frank Bolling had singled.

The blow bent Vernon Law, who came off the disabled list Wednesday after nursing a pulled rib muscle for three weeks.

The loss also snapped Law's personal winning streak of 10 games, including nine victories at the end of the 1965 season.

In the ninth, Woodward doubled, Ed Mattheus home with Atlanta's final run.

Aaron put the Braves ahead in the sixth with his 13th home run after Felipe Alou had singled.

I. F. Has Most Runners, but Boise Favored

BOISE (AP) — Idaho Falls tops the field in the number of qualifiers but better performances in regional meets make Boise the favorite in Idaho's annual high school track and field meet.

The Tigers qualified entrants in 12 of 17 events while Boise qualified in nine.

In regional competition last weekend, Boise posted best-in-state performances in four events and tied in another while Idaho Falls was ranked best in only one event, with one tie in addition.

The Idaho High School Inter-scholastic Activities Association said 33 schools qualified entrants in Class A events in the state meet. That is two more than competed in the 1965 meet, won by Boise with 57 points. Boise was second with 57 and Caldwell third with 23.

Boise will have entrants in 10 events in this year's meet and Couer d'Alene and Moscow eight each. Lewiston qualified in seven, Capital and Sandpoint, six each, and Meridian, Nampa and Weiser, five each.

Highland of Rocchio, Minico and Twin Falls qualified in four events each; Blackfoot, Kellogg and Post Falls, three each, and Bannock Ferry, Jerome, Malad, Orofino, Rigby, Wallace and Weiser, two each.

Idaho Accepts Bid to NCAA Baseball Meet

MOSCOW, Idaho (AP) — The University of Idaho announced Wednesday that it had accepted a bid to take part in the District 7, National Collegiate Athletic Association baseball playoff. A spokesman said the University of Idaho was notified by the NCAA selection committee that it was to face Colorado State College and the Air Force Academy in a playoff to be held May 27-28. He said the winner of this playoff is to face the winner of a playoff of the top two Western Athletic Conference teams for the right to take part in the NCAA finals.

The spokesman said neither pairings nor a site for the District 7 tournament had been decided. He said the pairings were to be settled by coaches and athletic directors Thursday.

Idaho Big Sky Conference baseball champ this season, has a 31-7 record.

The Idaho, Colorado State and Air Force playoff will be held at Greeley, Colo.

The NCAA bid is the first ever for an Idaho baseball team and first for any team in the three-year history of the Big Sky Conference.

The NCAA finals are June 13-17 at Omaha, Neb.

Idaho came in 12th in the latest collegiate baseball ranking.

Derby Winner's Name Has Many Pronunciations

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — An anecdote has been revived at Pimlico Race Track, where the Preakness will be run Saturday, to illustrate the lack of agreement over the pronunciation of Belmont King.

Arizona's John Tushaus threw the javelin 284 feet last night, but was almost 30 feet short of the 284-foot mark.

BYU's Lew Devereaux and Dick Legas were third and fifth place in the shot put at Fresno Saturday.

Arizona State's Jon Cole favored to win the discus, his best 100 7/4, less than three inches short of the National Collegiate Athletic Association mark.

Clarence Robinson, New Mexico's national collegiate record holder in the triple jump at 52-8 1/4, is scheduled to be on hand.

The Lobo's are also strong in the running events.

But the eventual conference champion will probably be determined on which school can win the most places. New Mexico and BYU can win events, and they can also take places.

Preliminary events in golf begin at 7 a.m. Friday and the finals are Saturday afternoon.

Tennis has a similar schedule. Track and field will wait until dark both nights.

Preliminary events begin Friday evening and the finals are Saturday night.

Clay Concludes Workouts, Sees Tough Title Bout

LONDON (AP) — Cassius Clay wound up his main training program Wednesday and said he expects Britain's Henry Cooper to give him a hard time. Clay, who defends his heavyweight crown against Cooper at London's Arsenal Stadium Saturday night, said:

"George Chuvalo, was heavier than me and I could see him and hit him when I fought him in March."

"But Cooper is light and dangerous. He can move fast and that left hook of his is a wicked blow."

Cooper's left hook put Clay down last time when they met in London in 1963—and the undefeated Clay has never forgotten it.

The champion finished his boxing preparations by sparring three rounds with Jimmy Ellis. Since he defended his title against Chuvalo in Toronto March 29, Clay has boxed 73 rounds and run about 100 miles in roadwork. That's about half his normal ration before a title fight.

Meanwhile, Cooper was worried about what might happen if he knocked Clay down again.

Cooper's manager, Jim Wicks, demanded that the British Boxing Board of Control put two inspectors in Clay's corner to see he is not given artificial stimulants in the event of a knockout.

"When Cooper knocked Clay down last time," Wicks said,

"Clay's seconds broke a capsule of amonia or smelling salts under his nose."

"The only stimulant allowed under British rules is plain water, and I want the rules observed."

People Told Babes of Wild Need No Help

NOISE—The Idaho Fish and Game Department today reminded animal lovers with good intentions that wildlife babies in the woods are not fair game for adoption.

Infant wildlife creatures may appear lost, hungry and forlorn, but they have not been abandoned.

Their parents, naturally spooky and reluctant to show themselves to human intruders, often stand helplessly nearby as their youngsters are carried away by people who find them cute and cuddly.

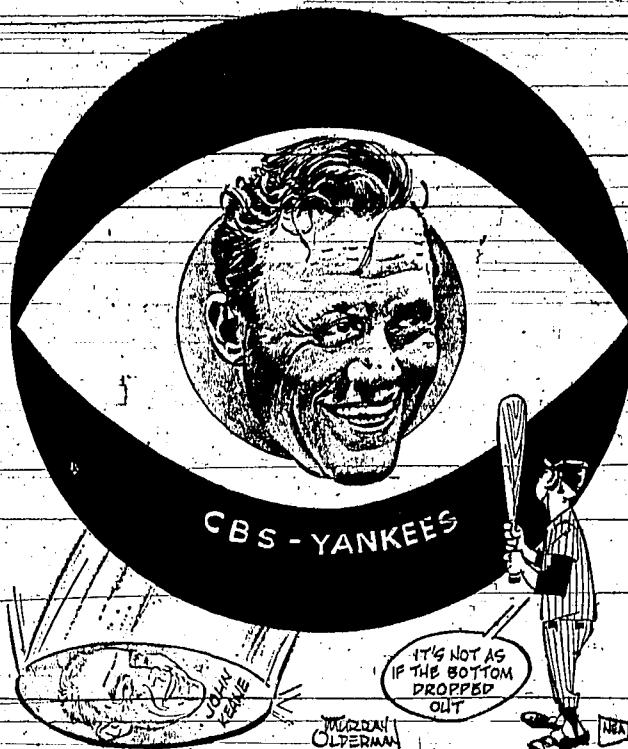

The department added that the young of most Idaho wildlife species are protected by law. Possession of any protected animal or bird is unlawful except during the hunting season.

The young of any wildlife species requires expert care and feeding. They usually won't survive away from their mothers. Moreover, a fawn or elk calf may become extremely dangerous to humans as it grows up.

Solons Beat Indians on Leaping Catch

CLEVELAND (AP) — Don Lock's leaping catch of Duke Sims' liner preserved Washington's 4-3 victory over Cleveland Wednesday night and snapped the Senators' three-game losing streak.

Senators starter Pete Richert took a four-hit shutout into the ninth but with one out Fred Whitfield singled and Max Alvis reached base on an error. One out later, Rocky Colavito smashed a pinch-hit homer, bringing the Indians to within one run.

With reliever Casey Cox pitching, Sims drove one to the 40-foot sign in center field, but Lock leaped up and grabbed the ball for a game-saving catch.

Bob Saverino drove in one run and scored another as the Senators built their 4-0 lead. Wash. 103, 000-4 10 1 CLEVELAND 000 000 003 3 8 1 Richert, Cox (6) and Casanova; Siebert, Hargan (8), McMahon (9); and Axco. W — Richert 4-4, L — Siebert 3-2. Home runs—Cleveland, Colavito (3).

Errors Help Giants Drop Dodgers 6-4

LOS ANGELES (AP) — San Francisco parlayed eight inning errors by Ron Fairly and Jim Lefebvre into a four-run rally and a 6-4 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers Wednesday night that snapped a three-game losing streak.

In all, the Dodgers committed four errors. Pitcher Claude Osteen gave the Giants two unearned first inning runs with a throwing error. Lefebvre's error let in the tie-breaking run in the eighth and Fairly gave the Giants their third unearned run of the game later in the inning as San Francisco overcame a 3-2 deficit.

The Giants put the game out of reach after pinch hitter Don Landrum walked with one out in the eighth and took second on Tito Fuentes' single. Hal Lanier followed with a game-tying single to center. When second baseman Lefebvre fumbled center fielder Willie Davis' throw back to the infield, Fuentes dashed home with the go-ahead run.

Joe Moeller relieved Osteen, purposely walked Willie Mays, and then gave up a run-scoring single to Jim Hart. Mays took third on the play and scored as Fairly fumbled the hit.

A two-run homer by Fairly and a run-scoring double by Osteen had given the Dodgers a 3-2 lead in the fourth inning when they drove Ray Sadecki to cover. The victory went to reliever Lindy McDaniel.

Stupendous Turns in Sizzling Workout Over Preakness Track

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Stupendous gave an indication Wednesday of what can be expected Saturday when he books up with Kentucky Derby winner Knau King and seven other three-year-olds in the $150,000-added Preakness.

"He handled himself real good," said a pleased trainer Eddie Neloy. After returning to New York to saddle Bold Lad for Wednesday's Rose Bowl, Neloy declined to say so in any many words, but the fast workout was an indication he would instruct Jockey Braulio Baeza to send Stupendous out to run with Knau King in the 1 3/16-mile Preakness.

Meanwhile, there were reports that Knau King was sore, but owner Michael Ford, acting for absent trainer Henry Forrest, quickly dispelled the rumors after watching the Marylander roar Native Dancer gallop once around the track.

"He is as sound as a dollar," said Ford, "perhaps the rumors started because it is Henry's intention to apply poultices to Knau King's legs after work-outs."

Knau King is due Thursday by 10:30 a.m. EDT. It costs $1,000 to enter and another $1,000 to start. Post time Saturday is 5:40 p.m. EDT.

With nine starters, the 19st running of the Preakness will be worth $181,500 with $129,000 going to the winner.

What Bourbon King built a castle in Kentucky?

The Bourbon King was Colonel E. H. Taylor, Jr., a leading whiskey distiller in the late 1800's.

Col. Taylor had been searching for a special kind of water to make Bourbon with limestone spring water. Water with a clean, tantalizing flavor it gets as it bubbles up through limestone ground rock.

In 1887, he found his spring near Frankfort, Kentucky. The water here gushed up so pure, so plentiful the Colonel knew he would never want to make Bourbon anywhere else.

So, next to this spring, he built a distillery. Built it to last in the form of a castle made of the very limestone that was to give his water its intriguing flavor.

Today, the castle still stands. The spring still flows. And Old Taylor still is coming out of Kentucky as incredibly smooth-tasting as ever.

A shower party for the bride

Shower parties for the bride are sparkling the season with luscious party foods and punches

If you're planning a shower party for the bride, serve festive party foods and punches—easily prepared with luscious meat spreads and flavorful tea. The most appealing party dishes and drinks can be served with little effort and spectacular effect.

A scrumptious "Party Parasol" gives guests a variety of spreads—with a "top" molded into two layers of colorful aspic and mousse, made with savory deviled ham, and a "handle" of smooth, rich liver spread, blended with Roquefort cheese. "Tomato Tulips" spring forth invitingly from a flower pot to tempt cherry tomato lovers with hors d'oeuvres that are simple to make but distinctively different with convenient, lively-flavored deviled ham. A "Party Sandwich Loaf" should be included for that ever-popular frosted sandwich loaf that's fun to eat and so satisfying with three different fillings—one of which includes the exciting new chicken spread in the 4½-ounce can.

Give guests a choice of beverages at the shower. "Tea-riffic Punch" is a delightfully refreshing drink, made with fruit juices and wine blended into a strong tea base. Tea gives body to the punch without masking the other flavors, and the wine gives the punch character and a beautiful rosy hue. Float a heart-shaped piece of ice on top to say "Love is forever." For those who'd rather have a hot drink, serve piping hot tea. Its fresh, clean taste makes a happy contrast to the rich party foods.

Follow the basic instructions for making hot tea, or you can use a hot tea concentrate instead, if you like. For 10-15 teacups, just bring 1½ quarts of freshly drawn cold water to a full rolling boil; remove from heat and immediately add ¼ pound loose tea. Stir to immerse tea leaves; cover; brew 4 minutes; then strain into teapot or other container. When ready to serve, pour a little concentrate into the cup, then add hot water.

Serve these appealing party dishes and drinks when you give a shower for the bride this spring. Special-tasting deviled ham and liver spread are the important ingredients in a "Party Parasol" spread; "Tomato Tulips" have the distinctive taste of deviled ham, too; and a "Party Sandwich Loaf" has three savory fillings, one of which includes the exciting new chicken spread. "Tea-riffic Punch", bubbly and ruby-red, and refreshing hot tea provide a choice of beverages.

PARTY PARASOL

For layered parasol, prepare Ham-Tomato Aspic and Ham Mousse. Pour Aspic into an oiled 9-inch cake pan; chill until firm. Pour Mousse over the Aspic; chill overnight. To form parasol, unmold gelatin. Divide in half, scalloping edge to resemble parasol. To form parasol handle, shape one half of the Liver-Cheese Spread to an 8-inch roll. Sprinkle with sesame seeds and parsley. Attach handle to parasol. Makes 2 parasols.

HAM-TOMATO ASPIC

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1 teaspoon sugar
1½ cups tomato juice
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon celery salt
½ cup chopped green pepper

Mix gelatin and sugar. Stir in 1 cup tomato juice. Place over medium heat, stirring constantly, to dissolve gelatin. Remove from heat. Stir in rest of tomato juice, salt, celery salt, Worcestershire sauce, hot pepper sauce, and lemon juice. Chill until slightly thickened. Blend in deviled ham, celery and green pepper. Chill.

HAM MOUSSE

1½ teaspoons unflavored gelatin
2 tablespoons cold water
¾ cup boiling water
1 chicken bouillon cube
½ cup heavy cream, whipped

Soften gelatin in cold water. Add softened gelatin and bouillon cube to boiling water; stir until dissolved. Stir part of the gelatin mixture into the yolk; return to remaining gelatin mixture. Heat until slightly thickened, stirring constantly (do not boil). Chill until syrupy. Carefully fold in deviled ham, sherry, egg white and whipped cream. Chill.

LIVER-CHEESE SPREAD

6 oz. Roquefort cheese
2 4½-ounce cans liver spread
8 ounces whipped cream cheese
2 teaspoons lemon juice

Mash Roquefort cheese; blend together with liver spread, whipped cream cheese, lemon juice, Worcestershire sauce and hot pepper sauce. Cover and chill. Save sesame seeds and parsley for garnish. Makes 2½ cups spread.

TOMATO TULIPS

24 cherry tomatoes
1 4½-ounce can deviled ham
⅓ cup sour cream
1½ teaspoons horseradish
Cut tops from tomatoes in a "saw-tooth" pattern. Remove a small amount of pulp and keep with mixture of deviled ham, sour cream and horseradish. Chill well. Spear each with a bamboo skewer and "plant" in green styrofoam in foil-covered or painted flower pot. Two or three small flower pots will hold about 21 Tomato Tulips.

PARTY SANDWICH LOAF

1 3-oz. can mushrooms, chopped
1 3-oz. package cream cheese
1 tablespoon minced onion
½ cup chopped radishes
½ cup chopped green pepper
½ cup chopped celery
½ cup chopped unpared cucumber
1 loaf unsliced white bread

Combine in separate bowls (1) cream cheese, mushrooms, and onion; (2) radishes, green pepper, celery, cucumber, and mayonnaise; (3) chicken spread, almonds and mayonnaise; (4) deviled ham, chili sauce and cream cheese. Chill. Trim all crusts from unsliced loaf of bread, then slice lengthwise into 4 slices about ½ inch thick. Spread first bread slice with mushroom mixture, top with second slice and spread with vegetable salad. Add third slice, spread with chicken salad and top with fourth slice. Refrigerate for about 30 minutes. Frost top and sides of loaf with deviled ham mixture. Chill 3-4 hours for easier slicing. Serves 8-10.

TEA-RIFFIC PUNCH

2 cups boiling water
8 tea bags
2 cups cold water
1 bottle rosé wine, chilled
1 bottle sparkling Burgundy, chilled
1 6-oz. can frozen Hawaiian-punch concentrate
1 6-oz. can frozen concentrate for lemonade

Bring water to a full rolling boil in a saucepan. Remove from heat. Immediately add tea. Brew 4 minutes. Stir and strain into a container holding an additional 2 cups cold water. Add frozen concentrates and rosé wine. Stir to blend. Chill until ready to serve. Pour into punch bowl and float a heart-shaped piece of ice. Add sparkling burgundy. Garnish with fruit. Makes about 3 quarts, or 25 punch cup servings.

Follow these four simple rules to make a pot of tea that is full of flavor and refreshment:

1. Bring freshly drawn cold water to a full rolling boil. (Water that has been standing and reheated is apt to make the tea taste flat.)
2. Put the tea into the teapot (using one teaspoonful of loose tea or one teabag per cup of water).
3. Pour the boiling water over the tea and let stand for 3 to 5 minutes. (It takes time for the tea leaves to unfold and release their full flavor.)
4. Rinse out your teapot with hot water. (This will warm the teapot and help keep the tea hot during the brewing period.)

NOTE: If you use instant tea, use about one level teaspoon per cup of boiling water. Stir and serve at once—no need to wait for the tea to brew.

Time Is Sacred When Man Sees Last Minutes Fleeting

By TOM TIEDE
TAI-KHE, Viet-Nam (NEA)
Regardless of the importance placed on it, time is such that it is seldom sacred to man at war . . . unless they think they haven't much of it left.

Capt. Pat McCallum is an example.

Time almost ran out on him the other day.

But he used what appeared to him to be his final two minutes to save his own life.

He was in the air at the time, the pilot of an Air Force jet fighter which was slipping and falling through enemy ground fire.

His ship was an F-100 Super Sabre, a 38-by-47-foot, 700 miles per hour, $800,000 flying blowtorch stuffed with 7,000 pounds of kerosene. In the body, and carrying an additional 3,000 pounds of propellant in pods strapped under the wings.

Guns-all-them-supercruise-gas tanks.

And when they crash, it's like the Fourth of July.

McCallum had made two passes over the enemy before his tank sprung a flaming leak. Flying at 300 feet, he felt three thuds in the rear of the craft . . . direct hits from a 50-caliber machine gun.

The pilot glanced automatically at the network of gauges and directions on his panel: The engine fire indicator was flashing red. No doubt about it. The jet tail was badly burning.

The pilot's mind was in vertigo. A thousand things crowded through it . . . anger, mostly, but also the orderly lessons of eight years of flying and $350,000 worth of government instruction.

Time was of precious essence now.

He figured he had two minutes to go . . . to live or to die.

Immediately he pushed his emergency ejection button, thus freeing the ship of the fuel tanks, pylons and the external apparatus which added to the drag of the 36,000-pound vehicle.

Then he climbed to 1,800 feet, leveled off, and studied his instruments again. They were wavering. The oil pressure, which should have been at 40, was down to 10 and dropping.

Now he had all the time in the world to worry.

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

by STELLA

THURSDAY, May 19 — Born today, you have definite artistic leanings and enjoy to the fullest the good and beautiful aspects of life. You women especially are prone, because of your love of beauty, to look at the world through rose-colored glasses, either failing or refusing to see the ugly side. Such an approach is personally rewarding in that it makes you feel safe and comfortable, but it is of no real value in general, for it precludes your doing anything about the world's many ills.

Perhaps the greatest drawback to your living a completely successful life is your habit of procrastination. On the other hand, this habit makes you hold off on many a decision that you might have been wrong. Not one who can make snap judgments with any real accuracy, you need time to think out what circumstances and situation before you can pass on them intelligently.

Fond of travel, good books, good music and, in fact, good things in life in general, you will probably learn to work hard and long to achieve these things for yourself and your family. Wise enough to know that little comes to him who stands and waits (in spite of what poets say), you will develop stick-to-itiveness, determination and industry, if not for themselves alone, then to get what you want.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Friday, May 20

CANCER (June 22-July 23) — A day when leadership counts. The wise Cancer will rise something in support of a new venture.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) — Best to seek the advice of an expert on the technicalities of a present proposition. Otherwise, you may bite off more than you can chew.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) — Avoid putting your weight behind anything you have not first investigated for yourself. Don't take the word of others.

NEW YORK (AP) — After many months of soaring prices, production is up and beef is back on special at many of the nation's food markets.

A major New York area supermarket chain has cut straight beef cuts are slightly lower on a year ago, making it likely the West Coast.

Pork prices, however, appear to have headed up again.

"Increased supplies of cattle coming about a year ago," larger than last year, con-

Pork production, however, has dropped slightly. It is expected the Midwest, Southwest, and West coast. Production has been up corn planting and damaged

Be careful who you give an Accutron timepiece to.

You might create a monster.

Accutron is the first timepiece in the world guaranteed for accuracy.

It has no conventional watch parts in its movement. Only an electronic tuning fork that vibrates 360 times a second and keeps time so precise, the Accutron timepiece is guaranteed accurate to within a minute a month.

Give a man the Accutron timepiece and he's liable to start asking people for the time so he can tell them they're wrong. He's liable to call the radio station to tell them they're wrong.

Give Accutron and you're liable to have a time nut on your hands.

But he'll be a punctual kind of time nut.

Accutron by Bulova.

The balance wheel and balance spring found in old-fashioned wind-up, even electric watches, have been replaced in Accutron by a tuning fork, which keeps time so precisely that Accutron comes with a lifetime guarantee. And it doesn't tick. It hums.
