Area Woman Dies In Two-Car Mishap

WENDELL — The third traffic fatality for Gooding County was recorded at 5 p.m. Saturday when Mrs. Ray (Nile) Smith, Wendell, was killed in a two-car collision about three miles east of Wendell on Highway 25. The accident occurred when Mrs. Smith, 70, driving a 1962 Corvair, started to turn left and was struck by a 1964 Chrysler driven by former U. S. Congressman John Sandborn, Hagerman. Investigating officers report that Sandborn was attempting to pass the Smith vehicle when his right front fender struck the Corvair. Damage to the Sandborn car

Real Property Tax Deadline Is Monday

Monday is the deadline for payment of real property taxes without penalty and interest, as prescribed in the Idaho Code, according to Mrs. Ruth K. Jones, Twin Falls County treasurer.

Mrs. Jones said as of Saturday the Twin Falls County tax books show a balance of approximately $600,000 in real property taxes to be collected by the Monday midnight deadline. This is about $200,000 more than was on the tax books at the same date last year.

Mrs. Jones said all payments made by mail must be postmarked before midnight June 10.

After Monday persons will not be allowed to make tax payments until July 27, and eight percent interest and a two percent penalty will be added to the original amount. Mrs. Jones said this is in accordance with Idaho tax statutes.

HARBOR CLEARED

MONTREAL (AP) — Longshoremen are working up to 18 hours a day in Quebec ports to clear away a multimillion-dollar backlog of goods but harbor officials estimate it will take three weeks to a month to overcome the effects of the 39-day longshoremen's strike.

World War I Veterans' Annual State Convention Opens Wednesday in T. F.

Veterans of World War I from throughout Idaho will gather here Wednesday for the 11th annual convention of the Department of Idaho, hosted by Magic Valley Barracks No. 809.

Members of the Ladies Auxiliary will have their 10th annual Department of Idaho convention in conjunction with the veterans' sessions which will run through Saturday.

Headquarters for the convention will be in the Rogerson Hotel, with the veterans holding sessions in the Elks Hall and the auxiliary meetings scheduled for the Roundup Room in the Rogerson Hotel.

Some 300 veterans and auxiliary members are expected to attend, representing 35 barracks and 32 auxiliaries throughout the state.

Edward J. Neron, San Diego, Calif., will be guest speaker at the veterans' convention. He is a past national commander of the group and will represent the present national commander, Hubert M. Houston, Chab anooga, Tenn.

Mrs. Hazel Walton, Portland, Ore., past national president of the auxiliary, will represent the auxiliary, will represent Mrs. Dorothy Roth, Pittsburgh, Pa., current national president, at the auxiliary sessions.

Other guests will include Larry Laughridge, Veterans Administration, Boise, and Loren E. Kopan, Veterans Administration Hospital, Boise, both of whom will speak at the joint meeting of veterans and the auxiliary.

Also present will be Monte Walton, Portland, Western Division chairman for Veterans of World War I, and Dudley L. Smith, state service officer of the Veterans Administration.

J. D. (Cy) Price, Malad, is department commander, and Mrs. Bertha Johnson is auxiliary department president.

The conventions will open at 1 p.m. Wednesday with registration. At 5 p.m. Wednesday there will be a pre-convention Board of Administration meeting, and the first night's activities will be a fun night at Jackpot, Nev. Opening session for the veterans' convention will be at 8 p.m. Thursday.

Saigon Turns From War To Note Anniversary of Ky's Military Regime

SAIGON (AP) — Saigon turned from the war Sunday to celebrate armed forces day and the first anniversary of Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's military government, which Ky said finds "no problem at all" in the remnants of Buddhist opposition. "We are over the hump," said Ky, an air vice marshal who has held the pre-

Connie Covington Is Miss T.F.; Buhl Names Von Weller Girl

CONNIE COVINGTON, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Von Weller, was crowned Miss Buhl of 1968 during the annual pageant Saturday evening in the Buhl High School Gymnasium. The new Miss Buhl was sponsored in the show by Shelby's Market, and presented a speech for her talent. She receives a scholarship from the Buhl Lion's Club, the sponsor of the pageant, and will represent Buhl in the 1967 Miss Idaho pageant. First runner-up was 18-year-old Donna Peters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Peters, Castleford. Virginia Ruby, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earle Ruby, Wendell, was second runner-up.

Miss Covington was Vesta Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Taylor, Hagerman. Janis Rowen, Miss Buhl of 1965, entertained with piano and vocal selections and was on hand for the crowning ceremonies.

Judges for the event were Mrs. James F. Dumas, Philip Rice and Mrs. James A. Alexander, all Boise; Lyle B. Evans, Mountain Home, and Mrs. Roy Friselle, Twin Falls.

Gravil Shackelford and C. T. McNulty were co-chairmen for the pageant.

Rupert Girl Chosen for Girls Nation

NAMPA, Idaho (AP) — Grace Kraus of Rupert and Julia Lachlinda of Boise were chosen Girls Nation delegates at closing sessions of the 22nd annual Sunlight Girls State Friday night.

Named alternates were Linda Capla of Boise and Taina Erckbrack of Dubois.

The week-long American Legion course on government, sponsored by the American Legion auxiliary, returned to Northwest Nazarene College after a mock legislative session in Boise.

In the statehouse, Gov. Pat Haward of Blackfoot signed into law bills providing for the reporting of child abuse cases and youth juries to assist lower court judges.

Other measures signed by Haward called for organizing Idaho's reclamation office to determine water pollution factors.

A joint memorial supporting the war in Viet Nam passed the house but the senate could not act before the session adjourned.

LONDON (AP) — The leader of a London trade mission said on return from Moscow that he expected to see Soviet trade double in the next five years.

The 23-man team, led by Lord Erroll, former president of the Board of Trade, and sponsored by the London Chamber of Commerce, arrived in London Friday night after a 10-day visit to the Soviet Union.

Optimistic

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson said Saturday U.S. determination in Viet Nam will not be affected by political splits in the U.S. House of Representatives.

In what appeared to be both a warning to Hanoi and assurance to U.S. servicemen and citizens, Johnson told a news conference:

"I must frankly tell you that the intelligence indicates that the aggressor, presently Hanoi, has more serious political differences in Saigon and Washington than on his military capacity in South Viet Nam."

"While we do have differences and divisions, I want our men in the field and our people at home to know that our course is firm, and that we shall not be diverted from doing what is necessary in the nation's interest and the cause of freedom."

Johnson read from a statement which put forth in capsule form the present state of the Viet Nam struggle, and expressed confidence that in the end "we shall gain an honorable peace in South Viet Nam." He paid particular attention to the political situation in Saigon and at home.

In America "a minority of our people are willing to pay the price of a total victory, and another minority are prepared to see us use our total power, including our nuclear power," he said.

Storms Hit Texas With Flash Floods

By The Associated Press

Tornadoes blasted through the Texas Panhandle and Plains country Friday night, churning up hailstorms, flash floods and 94-mile-per-hour winds.

The second straight night of violent weather left Amarillo awash in flash floods. One section of town reported 13 inches of rain following two violent thunderstorms within 1 1/2 hours. The official count was 1.22 inches in six evening hours and 2.75 inches since noon Friday.

A tornado skimmed Reese Air Force Base just northwest of Lubbock, but no damage was reported. Other twisters were spotted near Olton, Levelland and Spade.

Streamlining Idaho Code Is Goal of Committee

BOISE (AP) — A built-in paradox of city government is that it affects so many people so directly but inspires so little citizen interest.

Part of the reason, no doubt, is that it looks so involved.

But an Idaho legislative committee began public hearings this past week on a streamlined municipal code that could correct a large part of that problem.

It would combine the morass of state laws enacted on city government since 1890 into one code organized in 22 basic chapters.

It also proposes some basic new city government concepts.

The most sweeping is proposed elimination of distinctions between first and second class cities and villages to make them all cities run by a mayor and six city councilmen.

The Legislative Council Committee on Municipal Reorganization plans to submit the package for enactment by the 1967 legislature if the reaction at the public hearings is favorable.

So far it generally has been.

There are objections, specifically, particularly to the proposal to run every city, large and small, with a mayor and six councilmen.

Nampa Mayor Ernest Starr for one said the revised, uncluttered code would be a great help to cities but who require the same number of councilmen for all.

Starr said the number of councilmen should be optional.

"I wonder," said Mayor Starr, why we need the same number of men to govern Nampa and Boise.

Kuna, with about 600 citizens, is a village governed by six trustees. Boise, with a population of more than 70,000, is a first class city governed by six city councilmen.

Construction Strike in Idaho Settled

BOISE (AP) — Agreement between Idaho general contractors and the operating engineers union has ended a 15-day construction strike.

A joint announcement by the International Union of Operating Engineers, Local 370, and the Idaho Branch of Associated General Contractors disclosed the new contract terms Friday.

They call for a five-year contract with pay raises of 10 to 30 cents an hour for the current year.

John Molitor, executive secretary of the Idaho AGC, said the first-year raises would bring the basic hourly scale to $3.70 to $4.89 an hour, depending on the worker's classification.

In addition, Molitor said, the pension contribution by employers would be increased immediately from 7 1/2 to 10 cents an hour.

Lee Knack, chairman of the labor committee for the Idaho AGC, said travel pay allowances would begin in 1969, plus additional health, welfare and pension benefits.

Historic Church in London Being Rebuilt on Missouri College Site

FULTON, Mo. (AP) — Since the 12th century, a church of St. Mary Aldermanbury has stood at the junction of Love Lane and Aldermanbury Street in London, resting near the corner of the wall which had defended the city in Roman times.

The church was rebuilt after the Great Fire of 1666 and damaged in the German incendiary bombing in World War II in 1941.

Last year the old church was torn down, piece by piece. Then it was shipped here to be rebuilt on the campus of Westminster College as a memorial to the late Sir Winston Churchill who, in 1966, appeared with President Harry S. Truman and made his famous "Iron Curtain" speech of March 5, 1946 in which he predicted the cold war between the West and the Soviet Union.

The church, which replaced an even earlier one built in 12th century, was designed by Sir Christopher Wren who designed many of Britain's greatest 17th century churches and buildings.

Churchill described the difficult project as an "imaginative concept."

In officially launching a fund drive to bring the church here, President Johnson said "it demonstrates in an unmistakable way the deep affection, esteem and respect which the great man has for this country."

Church officials estimate that more than 18,000 persons contributed $1,141,000 for the project. The goal is $1½ million.

Permission to move the church to the campus of this Presbyterian college for men was granted by Anglican Church authorities, who decided

Mrs. Young, 99, Dies of Short Illness

RUPERT — Mrs. Margaret Alice Young, 99, died Saturday at Minidoka Memorial Hospital of a short illness.

She was born April 7, 1867, at Kalamazoo, Mich. She was married to General Sherman Enyeart on Jan. 2, 1890, at David City, Neb. The couple came to Declo in 1914 where they operated the Enyeart Hotel. He died on Nov. 2, 1928.

Survivors include two sons, Jeff Enyeart, Bandon, Ore., and Ray Enyeart, Golden, Colo.; four daughters, Mrs. W. C. (Margaret) Gentry, Acquia, Mrs. Velma Oxford, Colorado Springs, Colo.; Mrs. R. C. (Edna) Busby, Lompac, Calif.; and Mrs. Inez Hubbell, San Francisco, Calif.; one sister, Pattie Jones, David City, Neb.; and 25 grandchildren and several great-grandchildren.

Funeral services are pending.

Transfer of Funds to Be Considered

Approval of a resolution to transfer funds to the general fund from certain specific city funds, an internal bookkeeping project, as provided in the city budget, will be one of the major topics at the Board of City Commissioners' meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the City Hall.

Other business will include consideration of a request by Frederick O'Neill, representing Idaho Neom Inc., to install a brick veneer front on the Roger Hotel on the Second Street east side; a second reading on proposed Ordinance No. 1310, which provides for service delivery permits and meter heads for commercial motor vehicles parking in metered areas; and consideration of an ordinance which would vacate a street right-of-way in the Surtees subdivision, a surplus strip on Floral Avenue.

The commissioners also plan to hear a second reading on proposed Ordinance No. 1320 which provides for licensing taxicabs and drivers, and provides for taxicab meters and name placards and regulating zones.

Two other topics are ordinances which will adopt a national electrical code, national fire code, fire prevention code, state plumbing code, and amendment of Ordinance No. 1226, which regulates lawn sprinkling and irrigation.

The next meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. July 5. All city commission meetings are open to the public.

Man May Use Ruling in His Own Case on New Charge

CHICAGO (AP) — A young Schwarzbach said he had not been able to find a similar instance of such a defense in legal history, and believes this to be the first time a defendant has used his own case to combat an unrelated accusation.

The attorney said the latest Supreme Court decision on murdering his brother-in-law was freed in 1964 as the result of a landmark Supreme Court decision which extended the right to counsel to persons seized by the police for interrogation.

Expanding its ruling, the court held that prosecutors may not use damaging statements against a suspect unless they can prove he was safeguarded against self-incrimination.

The latest ruling held also that police may not question a suspect if he is alone and "indicates in any manner that he does not wish to be interrogated."

Marshall Schwarzbach, Escobedo's court-appointed counsel on a pending gun-carrying charge, said the high court's ruling in the 1964 case will be used as a defense against the new charge.

Meredith Will Resume March
NEW YORK (AP) — James H. Meredith, still recovering from shotgun wounds suffered June 6, says he will resume his Mississippi march next Wednesday. "Whether I am strong enough or not," Meredith was shot 12 days ago during his march to encourage Negroes to forget their fears and register to vote.

Earlier he had said he wanted to resume the march Monday. He said Friday that a cold had prevented rapid recovery from his shotgun wounds.

Not Impossible

Gov. Robert E. Smylie could be defeated this year and long before the general election in November. Incredible as it may seem, the governor could be beaten in the Aug. 2 primary. Scarcely anyone has bothered to note that the governor has opposition in the primary election. Some of the voters who are aware there's a contest for the gubernatorial nomination couldn't recall the name of the governor's opponent. But the man is State Sen. Don Samuelson.

Everyone's running against Gov. Smylie and that includes Sen. Samuelson and the three Democratic candidates, William DeLoe, Cecil Andrus and Charles Herndon. In the next six weeks before the primary, Gov. Smylie will be catching it from all sides. And don't forget that he's running against the biggest handicap ever, namely, 20 years in state office. The governor himself readily acknowledges that his long service in Boise is his biggest handicap. Put it all together and it amounts to a whole of a lot of unfavorable exposure leading up to the primary election.

It's well known that within the Republican Party in Idaho, Gov. Smylie has more than a few enemies. Mostly, they're arch conservatives who would do anything to embarrass the governor. It's whispered that these Republican foes of Smylie are pulling out all the stops in an effort to defeat him in the primary election. True, the attitude is foolish and shortsighted, but no one's going to change those conservative minds about Gov. Smylie. There was an indication of the strength of these conservatives in the sales-tax vote during the Republican assembly in Boise. Roughly one-fourth of the vote opposed the sales tax. Naturally, it can't be interpreted as entirely an anti-Smylie vote, but it's a good indication.

Another factor in the primary election has been pointed out by Gov. Smylie. He predicted there will be a light turnout in the primary election. A light vote would favor Samuelson because it seems people who vote against something or someone are always more certain to vote. In the Republican primary, quite a few voters would take the opportunity to vote against Gov. Smylie and/or the sales tax.

Never forget that Boise businessman Westernman Whillock was supposed to have entered the Democratic race for governor on the basis of a privately-financed public opinion survey. That survey has been widely rumored as showing that Gov. Smylie could be defeated this year.

And there's one other little factor that could tip the scales somewhat against the governor. Almost every Idaho primary election is accompanied by charges and countercharges of voters jumping party lines in an effort to nominate candidates they know they can beat. Already this year, there has been talk that Republicans will mark Democratic ballots in an effort to assure the nomination of William DeLoe, the pro-sales-tax candidate of the Democrats. But what about the Democrats?

In the wake of the Democratic assembly at Coeur d'Alene, many Democrats have expressed disgust with the results. If Republicans mark Democratic ballots, certainly the process can work the other way. And how many Democrats, voting in the Republican primary, would support Gov. Smylie?

An example of Democratic disaffection was resignation of two Democratic chairmen shortly after the Coeur d'Alene assembly. Emmett Bennett quit as Ada County Democratic Central Committee chairman and Mrs. Wilma Patterson resigned her leader post for Canyon County. Prior to the state meeting, Bennett had endorsed the candidacy of Lloyd Walker, Twin Falls, and Mrs. Patterson declared during the assembly that she had been convinced Walker was the only candidate worth supporting. But Walker's failure to make the grade couldn't be pinpointed as the reason for the resignations "for business and personal reasons."

Quite simply, these and other Democrats are appalled because their party nominated three gubernatorial candidates and paved the way for a minority winner in the primary. They may reason that their only chance of defeating Gov. Smylie lies in the Republican primary. By itself, each of these factors is of little consequence, but together they create enough of a possibility to deserve lots of attention. You may be sure Gov. Smylie is well aware of the possibility. The tragedy of the whole situation is that Gov. Smylie is so far superior to all other candidates, both Republican and Democratic. He may not be the best governor Idaho ever had, but does anyone care to step forward and nominate one who was better?

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—A buildup in what the diplomats call the "Soviet presence" in North Vietnam is encouraging President Johnson to increase public pressure on the North Vietnamese for negotiation of the war in the south. The pressures are based on the administration's premise that peace talks are impossible while Red China dominates Hanoi's foreign policy.

On the record, of course, Moscow continues to mimic the party line which calls for a total Communist victory. But this is based largely on the belief that the South Vietnamese government will collapse and the country will fall into chaos. If Premier Ky or some comparable status can restore political stability in South Vietnam, there is every reason to believe the Russians will try to persuade Hanoi to seek a negotiated settlement.

Chances for such a Russian ploy are a lot better than they were a year ago, or even six months ago, when Hanoi was still under the complete domination of Peking. The improved atmosphere is due largely to an increased influx of Soviet military aid to Hanoi and a resulting enlargement of the corps of Soviet technicians and military advisers in the northern capital. There is a steady flow of Russian fighter planes and anti-aircraft missiles into North Vietnam, compared with the trickle from Peking.

CHINESE DICTATORSHIP FADES—As a result, Hanoi has become much more independent of Red China in the conduct of foreign policy. It is no longer the complete tool of Peking. Most significantly, the Hanoi regime has steadfastly refused to join Peking in an ideological denunciation of Moscow's recent criticism of the Chinese. Hanoi's subliminal reflects a cynical pragmatism which looks ahead to its own long-range interests.

Hanoi knows that it can expect little economic help from a sorely-pressed Communist China. On the other hand, Moscow has made it clear that if Hanoi is a good boy there will be all sorts of economic goodies from Russia, especially the hardware with which to rebuild North Vietnam's industrial complex.

There is also, of course, Hanoi's reluctance to put all its eggs in Peking's basket. The North Vietnamese are as strongly nationalistic as the southerners, and they have a tradition of hostility toward a China which once held Indo China in colonial thrall. They want the Russians around for protection against Peking's admitted intent of converting all of Southeast Asia into a Red Chinese satellite. The Hanoi regime is solidly Communist but it seeks independence, not inclusion in a Communist Chinese empire.

PEKING FEARS ENCIRCLEMENT—Peking continues to accuse the Soviet Union of a plot with the United States, India and Japan to encircle Communist China. There is no doubt all four countries regard such an eventuality with a certain willfulness; something of the sort is behind President Johnson's private efforts to set up a peace-keeping partnership with Moscow. If continued, the Soviet "presence" in North Vietnam might well become part of that encirclement.

Meanwhile, Peking has no choice but to continue its aid to and moral support of the Hanoi government. It is not about to do anything that would hinder the war effort against the south. Yet the Mao government is getting restless. There is a new coolness toward Hanoi's leaders, and Chinese statements have been bitterly critical of the North Vietnamese. Hanoi's foreign policy is preserving a policy of neutrality in the Peking-Moscow quarrel.

Washington's job in all this is clear. It is to work at stabilizing the Saigon government so Hanoi will not be misled into believing that if it patiently pursues the war the South will collapse politically. For this purpose, Premier Ky is still our best bet.

Views of Others

GATHERING THE REINS
Now that the Federal Reserve System, like everyone else, is worrying about inflation, it is asking Congress to enlarge its control over the nation's banks. Though the Fed may indeed need wider powers, the request might better have been pressed earlier and under different circumstances.

The Federal Reserve in its annual report complains that banks are withdrawing from the system at an accelerating rate to avoid the Fed's control over their expansion of lending. The fact is, however, that until recent months this control was hardly being exercised energetically.

In the four years ended last December, the system increased its federal securities holdings by more than one-third, vastly expanding the banks' ability to lend to businessmen and consumers. The banks, to put it mildly, took the hint; over the same period they boosted their total loans by nearly two-thirds.

During that period no one seemed to care greatly whether the Federal Reserve could control lending of non-member banks. And it was during those same years that the Fed's easy money, along with the Administration's budget deficits, paved the way for the price inflation everyone now is concerned about.

If the system now is actually determined to try to curb that inflation, perhaps Congress should help it gather the reins. But we can't help thinking that the situation wouldn't be nearly so serious today in the Fed hadn't whipped up the horses to such a frenzy in the first place. —Wall Street Journal.

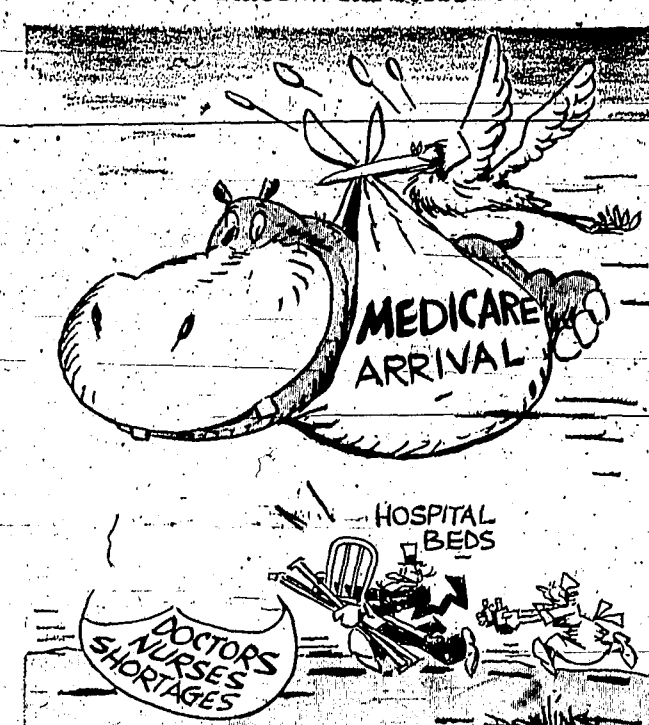

WELL TIED
One keeps hearing that wide, colorful neckties for men are back in vogue now—but one sees precious little evidence to support the rumormongers. And more the American man seems to be for foretelling his prerogative to wear some small vestige of sartorial elegance. One need only to watch young executives emerge from a bank or office building to prove this. They look like assembly line models.

Only a few haberdashers have the wide ties in stock and most selections are limited. Goodwill Industries, quick to respond to the rumormongers, are in splendid bad (taste) and promptly hiked prices 750 per cent.

One's best bet, if one is determined to be a pacemaker in style, is a rummage sale. With any luck at all one can find a Yellow-Maroon Flowered Marcell fabric tie, wide as a wide, set in a model, complete with a hand-painted hula girl or a rearing stallion. The price is right, too; in fact, the ladies have been known to give them away towards the end of the sale. —The Oregonian.

THE INCURABLE
With Medicare soon in operation for senior citizens and the government pouring billions into the health and welfare projects for all the people, there remains one progressive ailment not yet attacked not a cure in sight...taxes. —Albuquerque Journal.

But when I try to write a poem
I knit my brow, and then
I just sit there and scratch my head
Instead of scratch my pen.

Poor Man's Plato

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Ever ask young fellow for a light and then suddenly realize you are talking to a young lady? Well, don't brood about it, the mistake is a natural one. People dress so much alike, talk so much alike, and act so much alike, it is small wonder that it is becoming harder to tell one sex from the other. A keen student of the subject still can note certain key differences that tell him whether a new acquaintance belongs to the male or female gender. Here are a few examples that may prove helpful: On a hunting trip if a person is careful never to point a gun at any other member of the party, it is usually a man. If it holds a loaded shotgun between its knees while powdering its nose, it is bound to be a woman. If it plays Jacks it's a girl. If it would rather chuck a rubber ball against the wall, it's a boy. Does it usually sit with its legs tucked under it? Call it a girl. Does it like to sit with its legs stretched out and the feet crossed? Call it a boy. Can you pull off the beard it

Once the Kremlin ruled the world's Communist parties with an iron fist. Now it is evident that Soviet authority among European Reds is waning, and that Moscow communism is in steady decline.

In the West, Communist leaders have been doing and saying things they would not have dreamed of doing and saying long ago. Outside the Red bloc, the big and strong Italian Communist party is the principal maverick alarming the Kremlin. Inside the bloc of Communist-ruled nations, the main sinner in Moscow's eyes is the party of Romania. Both the Italians and Romanians are spreading a contagion.

Soul-searching Western European Communist leaders are also being assailed by doubts that they will ever teach their people the lessons of the rigid straitjacket of Soviet dogma.

A political organization which does not achieve its objectives in 50 years, one influential Italian Communist has said, "must seek reasons for its failure"—and do something about it.

What some are beginning to do about it, with Italian Communists in the lead, is break away from Soviet dictation. Italian Communists are saying the time has passed when Moscow can dictate to any and all parties.

Examining reasons for their failures, Western Communists seem to have discovered that they have been mortified by Soviet domestic policies, such as Moscow's penchant for strangling intellectual freedom. They evidently have been embarrassed by Soviet insistence on atheism as an inflexible rule for all Communists. They have been irked by Moscow's policies of "cultural revolution" in China.

Equally important, Western Communist parties have been questioning for respectability in European eyes. Europe today is not the Europe of 20 years ago.

Like it had given someone the best years of its life, that's grand. These tips should enable you to tell the sex of anyone you meet unless it is a teen-ager. The distinction in that case is not worth bothering about. No one could possibly care what sex a teen-ager belongs to except another teen-ager, and it is probably wiser to let them solve this problem themselves.

TRIPLE SQUEEZE LEADS TO SLAM
In our column we have occasionally reviewed hands played by one of the older generation auction players who was able to become as great a contract as in the earlier game.

His oldest son, Rear Adm. George Reith, U.S.N. retired, writes us occasionally. Today he comments on our hand of April 30. When played some 30 years ago each declarer in a team match played the hand. South started aces of hearts, ace of diamonds, king of diamonds and came to a halt when West trumped the king. One West led the queen of hearts, whereupon his opponent made the rest of the hand.

South wins the heart lead and plays a spade to dummy's queen. Then he plays his ace of king, and East plays a diamond with dummy's deuce of trumps, ruffs back to his hand with a heart and runs off all his trumps.

This play leads to the same squeeze that developed when West ruffed a diamond king and led a second heart. On the last trump lead West must hold on to the jack of hearts and can't keep his king of clubs guarded. Then the ten of hearts is thrown from dummy so that dummy retains the ace and jack of clubs. Now East must unguard his queen of clubs to hand on to a diamond.

"Welcome aboard, Admiral!"

MARQUIS CHILDS WRITES ON WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON—The American labor movement once again has cut across America's declared foreign policy with an act bewildering to organized labor. The AFL-CIO has often tried to frustrate this initiative. The International Laborers' Association announces its members would not load ships with wheat for the Soviet Union and the Communist bloc countries. It took prolonged effort at the highest level to reach a compromise that made some shipments possible. The longshoremen repeatedly have proclaimed their refusal to unload cargoes from Communist countries, no matter how small and negligible in the total of American trade these shipments were.

Walker, Reuther, second in command in the AFL-CIO, has been silent ever since. He has been opposed to much of this arbitrary behavior. He has wanted to maintain at least a semblance of harmony and avoid a direct clash with Meany, whom he had hoped to succeed as the No. 1 boss. His change seemed to depend on preventing an open break in the uneasy alliance between the old-line unions and the new industrial unions.

Once Reuther's sharp criticism of the walkout at Geneva became known, the longshoremen were out. The old-line in the craft unions can be expected to use the opening to try to deny him the top job, no matter what papering-over is done in the immediate aftermath of the dispute.

Reuther, 50 years old, and the time is rapidly running out when he might provide the dynamic leadership which most observers feel the AFL-CIO urgently needs. Weighted with the inertia of the past, the organization has failed to adjust to the rapid change in the labor force. A negligible effort has been put into organizing the increasing mass of white collar workers.

Most of the AFL-CIO chiefs couldn't care less about the International Laborers' Association. It has nothing to do with the hard facts of wages, hours and fringe benefits that absorb their time and energy. But, as Reuther and others know, the symbolic value of the ILO and the role American labor could play in it are extremely important in the picture this nation presents to the world.

The conduct of foreign policy in a democracy is, for the unhappy conductors, like running a race in which every conceivable obstacle is thrown in the way. President Johnson, seeking avenues to the East, recommended changes in the tariff act that would give satellite nations that do not now have it favored national treatment. This was a bold move in marked contrast to the timidity only few years ago.

Wilbur Mills of the House Ways and Means Committee and is apparently dead for this session of Congress. That is "one man, one vote" with a vengeance. France and Britain are making big trade deals with the Communist bloc countries.

The widening conflict in Viet Nam is the obvious reason for the failure to make some progress in easing tensions between the East and West. The President sent to the Senate a consular treaty with the Soviet Union which had obvious mutual advantages for both powers. The treaty was "vetoed" by J. Edgar Hoover. You pay your money, it's your house and your politics, not his. And you make your choice of your own foreign policy.

Now, Vladimir Lenin, candidate member of the Soviet Politburo and its delegate to the WFTU, has been demanding more unity in WFTU ranks. He has indicated annoyance at the Italians and French for suggesting construction of ideological bridges to non-Communist unions in the West. The crisis may be in full bloom by the time the WFTU holds its annual conference in December, in Hungary.

The growingly bitter Soviet quarrel with China complicates the Kremlin's problems in the rest of the Communist world. China has provided another pole of Communist authority, yet another point of departure from Soviet domination of the whole of China, and the ranks of unbelievers in world communism are growing.

Italy's party still has plenty of followers who will vote Red. Communists claim a large share of responsibility for current Italian prosperity. But no longer do Italian Communists fight what they once called "reformism." The term meant support of reforms instituted by non-Communist governments. The party might tend to deprive Communists of targets.

Instead, Communist leaders have found it more logical to join the reforms. They don't talk like fiery Marxists any more, even in the "Red belt" industrial areas where they are strongest. They act more, these days, like comfortable, middle-class unions.

In England, a tiny Communist party of only 33,000 members is slipping downhill. Its gestures toward respectability impel it at times to support Labor party attitudes, and this, too, costs support among revolutionaries. Recently, the British party, searching for respectability, changed the name of its newspaper from "The Worker" to "The Morning Star." The paper's current format makes it look like just another capitalist publication.

Recent conferences of Western Communist leaders and other meetings of leaders from like it had given someone the best years of its life, that's grand. These tips should enable you to tell the sex of anyone you meet unless it is a teen-ager. The distinction in that case is not worth bothering about. No one could possibly care what sex a teen-ager belongs to except another teen-ager, and it is probably wiser to let them solve this problem themselves.

CONFAB SLATED

BOISE (AP) — The Idaho Society of Certified Public Accountants will hold its annual meeting in Sun Valley June 22-23, President Marcel Learned of Boise announced today.

Guest speaker will be Jordan J. Crouch, Reno, senior vice president of the First National Bank of Nevada.

A discussion of current problems in the accounting profession will be moderated by T. Douglas O'Brien, Idaho Falls; John Peterson, Twin Falls; and Robert Clark of the University of Idaho.

Election of officers is scheduled June 25.

CHARGE DENIES

IDAHO FALLS (AP) — A Lewiston sign company owner, Vern Morton, who is waging a one-man campaign against Gov. Robert E. Smylie, Saturday denied he is connected with a pro-gambling group as charged by the governor.

Morton said he is conducting his campaign strictly on his own and is paying for all the costs.

He said he will distribute 100,000 handbills which have cost him over $400 from his own pocket, plus traveling expenses. He was in Idaho Falls Saturday to distribute 2,000 of the handbills.

PLANE CRASHES

ATOMIC CITY, Idaho (AP) — A small airplane crashed shortly after takeoff from this airport today, killing two people and injuring three.

The pilot was Crawford Jones, 36, of Moses Lake, Wash., an American Potato Co. official. His mother-in-law and father-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Jones, also aboard the single engine Cessna 172.

Federal Aviation Agency authorities said the plane took off, went down and overturned. Damage to the craft was extensive, officials said.

STUDY SET

BOISE (AP) — The State Tax Commission said Saturday it has ordered a reassessment of property for tax purposes in Ada County to comply with the 1965 assessment equalization law.

The commission said Ada County Assessor Roy Leonardson has not used the proper formula in determining full cash value of real property. It said also he has not made the adjustment required by the 1965 law as the first step in bringing valuation of all property to 20 percent of its full cash value by 1970.

Ada County Assessor Roy D. Leonardson said he probably would appeal the commission's order to the courts.

SPEAKER SET

BOISE (AP) — Dr. John L. Barnhard, associate professor of dairy science at the University of Idaho, will be the banquet speaker for the annual convention of the Idaho Veterinary Medical Association June 20-22 at Coeur d'Alene.

EFFORTS START

BOISE (AP) — Efforts to try once more for an educational television system in Idaho have begun.

An advisory committee of the state board of education held its first meeting since November, 1964 Friday.

Reld Bishop, deputy state superintendent of instruction, service, said the system, if established, would set up stations at Moscow, Boise and Pocatello with an eventual linking of the stations by a microwave relay system.

The committee might establish an educational television system in 1965 but the legislature failed to appropriate any funds.

MAN KILLED

SODA SPRINGS, Idaho (AP) — Robert Ford O'Grady, 18, was killed Friday night when his small motorcycle collided with a truck.

The accident occurred about 11:15 p.m. at an intersection in Soda Springs.

Police officers Blynn Wilcox and Claude Snooks said the youth's cycle struck the truck as it was making a left turn.

LOW BIDDER

IDAHO FALLS (AP) — Pickett and Nelson, Inc., of Idaho Falls, was listed Saturday as apparent low bidder on a road improvement project at the National Reactor Testing Station.

The Atomic Energy Commission said the firm bid $146,491.

PROJECT ENDS

POCATELLO (AP) — Barricades along Pocatello's one-block long experimental mall came down Friday after businessmen voted not to continue the project.

A one-block portion of Center Street was blocked off for three days. Businessmen claimed lack of traffic and parking hurt their business.

RESPONSIBLE

BOISE (AP) — An algae growth is responsible for brown colored water in Idaho's Snake River, says State Health Administrator Dr. Terrell O. Carver.

Carver said Friday the growth occurs every year at this time, particularly from Twin Falls to Glenns Ferry.

He said no health hazard or pollution is involved.

TAX LAUDED

CALDWELL (AP) — State Sen. R. H. Young, R-Canyon, told the General Council of the Idaho State Employees Association Friday that the sales tax "is the only practical method of funding state government."

To said the only alternatives, all unacceptable, are increased income taxes, increased property taxes, high personal property taxes on automobiles or a $100 "head tax."

The council ended Saturday.

30 Hopefuls

Seek 24 Gem Judgeships

BOISE (AP) — Idaho's filing period for judicial candidates closed Friday with a total of 30 candidates in races for two State Supreme Court and 22 District Court judgeships.

The last two filing were 12th District incumbent Willard C. Burton of Rexburg and William S. Hawkins of Coeur d'Alene for the Eighth District.

Chief Justice Joseph J. McFadden of Halley and Justice Henry McQuade of Pocatello, the only State Supreme Court justices up for re-election, are unopposed.

The biggest competition appeared to be in the Sixth District. Three candidates are seeking to succeed retiring incumbent Ezra P. Monson of Blackfoot.

They are Paul Crane and Dean Williams of Blackfoot and Hartley P. Koeber of Arco.

Besides Monson, retiring judges include incumbent John W. Cramer of Lewiston in the First District and incumbent Robert E. McFarland of Sandpoint in the Eighth District.

Incumbent Lloyd J. Webb of Burley announced earlier he would not seek re-election in the 11th District.

All candidates will be listed on the Aug. 2 primary non-partisan ballot.

Except for the sixth District there are only two candidates and the one receiving a majority will be elected.

In the sixth district the top two vote-getters face a runoff in the November general election.

Best English

Is Spoken In Boston

LONDON (AP) — Lord Chavon, president of the English Association said today he believes the purest English is that spoken in Boston, Mass.

Chavon, better known as Oliver Lyttelton, a one-time conservative cabinet minister, told the annual meeting of the association that many American writers had kept "the stream of English pure and unadulterated."

He made a plea for restoration of the "gold standard" in the use of English.

He listed what he called "leading diseases" which are just as endemic in the United States as in Great Britain.

Among these Lord Chavon named periphrasis—or roundabout speech, clichés, general expressions, unnecessary precision, nouns for adjectives, blurred image and "attempted obedience to the God of style."

Playmates Kill

Toy on Bicycle

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — James Arthur Johnson, 8, shot dead while riding his bicycle Friday, apparently was felled by a pistol that his playmates thought was loaded with blanks.

The victim died in a hospital soon after the shooting. He was wounded in the head. Neighbors found him on a sidewalk, and thought he had cut his head in a fall from the bicycle.

Police later recovered a 22-caliber pistol from some boys, and they said one boy told them he had pointed the gun at James and pulled the trigger.

Miss Buhl of 1965 Talks to Rotary Club

BUHL (AP) — Janis Rowen, Miss Buhl of 1965, entertained with vocal and piano selections when she appeared before the Buhl Rotary Club at its regular luncheon meeting Thursday noon in the R and R Cafe banquet room.

Miss Rowen recently completed her freshman year at Northwest Nazarene College at Nampa, where she majored in music. She will leave Buhl on Tuesday to compete for the Miss Idaho title at Boise.

Miss Rowen was introduced to the group by G. T. (Bud) McNelly, member of the Buhl Rotary Club, sponsor of the Miss Buhl pageant. McNelly reported a car parade will form at the Buhl High School at noon Tuesday and will escort Miss Rowen through the Buhl business district before taking her to the Twin Falls airport where she will leave for Boise at 1:15 p.m.

Also appearing on Thursday's program were Rosemary Barker, who spoke on the foreign student program at the University of Washington, and James Barker, a student at the University of Idaho, who received intercollegiate debuts.

Other guests introduced were Mrs. Richard Rowen, Twin Falls, and James Kempton, Col. M. A. Kempton, Lafayette, Ind., was a visiting Rotarian.

Traffic Ties up Covered Wagon

BOSTON (AP) — A team of horses pulled a covered wagon about 200 miles from Brooks, Maine, to the outskirts of Boston, then got tied up in traffic.

The drivers, Merle Goff, 72, and Herbert Ryan, 67, made the 14-day trek from their home town in honor of its 150th anniversary. Brooks was founded in 1816 during the administration of Massachusetts Gov. John Brooks.

The team and wagon finished the final 15-mile lap on trucks because of traffic congestion.

Gov. John A. Volpe greeted the reassembled wagon and team after their arrival at the Massachusetts State House Friday.

Ex-T.F. Man Is Promoted

BOISE (AP) — Announcement was made in a special ceremony Friday by Idaho Attorney General Allan G. Shepard of the promotion of Allan Dingel Jr., former Twin Falls resident, to deputy attorney general. Dingel has been in an assistant attorney general since January 1964.

Dingel practiced law in Twin Falls before going to Boise.

According to Shepard, Dingel will have immediate supervision of criminal and law enforcement-related problems.

Sen. Kennedy, Pope Have Long Visit

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and Pope Paul VI talked together for 35 minutes today in an audience during Kennedy's stopover on his way home from an African tour.

The audience was unusually long. Most papal audiences last about 20 minutes.

Vatican sources had speculated that the Pope and the Democratic senator from New York might discuss Viet Nam or the race problem in South Africa.

There was no official disclosure, however, of the subjects discussed. A Vatican spokesman said only that the talk "was very cordial."

Kennedy and his wife, Ethel, arrived today by plane from Athens.

Finland Calls For Conclave On Security

HELSINKI, Finland (AP) — Finland joined the Soviet Union today in a call for a conference on European security in which all countries concerned would take part.

The proposal was contained in a joint communique issued by Soviet Premier Alexi N. Kosygin and Finnish President Urho Kekkonen as Kosygin wound up a six-day official visit here.

The communique said that "the holding of such a conference, carefully prepared and in which all countries concerned would participate, was considered to be useful in the light of the current situation."

The two leaders said their talks were held in a friendly and frank atmosphere and expressed satisfaction that "fruitful intercourse" continues to develop between their countries.

The communique added: "The exchange of views on international problems revealed deep concern on both sides over the perilous course of events in Viet Nam and the negative effects of this conflict on the international situation as a whole. It was the opinion of both sides that the people of Viet Nam have the right to decide about their own future."

They called for scrupulous adherence to the principle of non-interference in the internal affairs of states and said a solution to the Viet Nam conflict would be found on the basis of the 1954 Geneva agreements.

Cooperation Is Requested From Growers

SUN VALLEY, Idaho (AP) — Growers of fresh fruit and vegetables was called for Saturday in a talk before the Idaho Growers-Shippers Association.

E. A. McCabe of Bell Glade, Fla., president of the United Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Assn., said "the elements of the food industry are not adversaries, but cooperators since we are working for profit through shared consumption of fresh foods."

He said the fresh fruit and vegetable association serves all factors in the industry and "stands ready to work with any group for industry advancement."

"Ten Commandments" Slated To Open Here Wednesday

What probably is the most widely-acclaimed and most successful motion picture of all time, Cecil B. DeMille's "The Ten Commandments," will open a limited engagement Wednesday at the Grand Vu Drive In, the first since its original all-record-breaking run.

The movie presents the most impressive array of performing talents ever gathered for a single motion picture.

Heading the cast are Charlton Heston as Moses and Yul Brynner as the Pharaoh. Other stars are Anne Baxter, Edward G. Robinson, Yvonne De Carlo, Dora Paget, John Derek, Sir Cecil Hardwicke, Nina Foch, Martha Scott, Judith Anderson and Vincent Price.

This dramatization of the Book of Exodus is presented in Technicolor and has been praised around the world by audiences, critics and religious leaders of all faiths.

The movie was filmed against the natural backgrounds of Mount Sinai, the shores of the Red Sea and the same desert sands that Moses trod.

It covers the story of Moses from the time his mother set him afloat on the Nile, through his years as a young general in the Pharaoh's army, to his betrayal and exile, and finally, his deliverance of the Israelites and his receiving God's Commandments.

The release of this famed motion picture will be presented uncut and intact.

Population Poses Threat T8 California

WASHINGTON (AP) — California is pictured Saturday as headed for disaster unless its fantastic rate of population growth is checked. If the present net gain of about 1,500 new residents daily continues, there will be 1 1/2 billion people in California in 100 years, about half the present population of the entire planet. Congestion of such magnitude was described as "intolerable and impossible" by Robert C. Cook, president of the Population Reference Bureau, Inc. He said the problem presents an unprecedented challenge to human ingenuity. The Population Reference Bureau is a private nonprofit educational organization publishing information on population trends and their economic and social effects. Writing in the June issue of the bureau's population bulletin, Cook said California's 10-million people already are faced with urgent, housekeeping problems centering around "the basic essentials of existence: Pure air and pure water for residential, industrial and agricultural use; sufficient land for living space; and the production of adequate energy to keep the whole complex operative."

Union Election Slated in Cuba

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Cuba will hold elections June 20 to elect new union leaders throughout the country, Havana radio reported Friday night. The newscast, heard in Miami, said the elections will take place in an atmosphere of "absolute freedom and democracy" with one exception. Rules of the election forbid voters to elect those who have been members of the bourgeois political parties or labor unions before the days of Fidel Castro.

Memory of Father Is Kept Alive While He Is at War

EL MONTE, Calif. (AP) — A framed photo of a marine in Viet Nam will be the center of Father's Day attention at the Frederick Wayne Wilson home Sunday — but there's nothing unusual about that. Every day is Father's Day with the Wilson family: wife Gloria, 21, 2-year-old Tammy and 10-month-old Fred Jr. The photo symbolizes one family's solution to a problem faced by many young couples: how to keep the memory of daddy strong for the children while he's fighting a war. The glass covering the photo of Sgt. Wilson, a reconnaissance patrol leader in Chu Lai, is cracked from what his wife calls "too much loving." She has no intention of replacing it. "When Fred left," Mrs. Wilson said in an interview with Sheila Grattan of the Alhambra Post-Advocate, "we made plans to keep the presence of father as strong as possible in our home. We feel children need to be aware of their father... not forget his importance." They had seen newsreels of soldier homecomings where the father was a stranger to the children. And they knew military wives who found it easier to ignore the existence of the father during long separations. "Little Tammy kisses the picture of her daddy morning and night. Another visual symbol is a Marine doll in full dress blues. 'That's my daddy,' Tammy shouts as she points it out to visitors. Tammy also helps wrap cookies and candies which are sent to her father regularly. Another reminder is home movies, made just before the sergeant left, and shown often. And there are letters. Wilson writes 'an average of five a week.' 'I sit Tammy down and read to her all the parts she can understand,' Mrs. Wilson says. She reads and rereads his letters and she writes him nightly.

2 Accidents Boost Idaho Traffic Toll

By The Associated Press Two auto accidents in Idaho snuffed out four lives, three in one mishap, Saturday boosting Idaho's toll for the year to 101, compared with 100 at this time last year. A two-car head-on collision about three miles west of New Plymouth on Idaho 30 killed one person instantly and fatally injured two others. Payette County Sheriff Richard Hayes identified the victims as Mrs. J. W. Jones and David E. Jones, both of Fruitland, and Mrs. Frank Lewis of New Plymouth. Jones and Mrs. Lewis died later in Holy Rosary Hospital in Ontario, Ore., just across Idaho-Oregon border. Three other women were admitted to the hospital. Hayes said two—Mrs. Jack Reed, 50, and Mrs. George Gotes, 77, both of New Plymouth, were critical.

Transaction Of Bank Is Reprimanded

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The U.S. Treasury Department reprimanded the Wells Fargo bank Friday for an unjustified transfer of money to Communist North Viet Nam. Stephen Chase, Wells Fargo president, said it was the result of an unwitting mistake by a clerk. Early this year the Medical Aid Committee in nearby Berkeley took $1,500 to a bank branch and ordered it sent to the Liberation Red Cross, Chase said. Wells Fargo sent the money to a Swiss bank which deposited it to the Liberation Red Cross account in the Obchodni Bank of Prague, Czechoslovakia. Chase said, "It was a routine transaction and the clerk checked the prohibitive list furnished by the Treasury and didn't find the Liberation Red Cross on it. As far as we know, it still isn't on the list." The Treasury says the organization distributes medical aid in North Viet Nam and to the Viet Cong.

Rosel Hyde Appointed to Head FCC

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rosel H. Hyde, veteran member of the Federal Communications Commission, will be reappointed for a new term and named chairman of the commission, President Johnson announced Saturday. Nicholas Johnson, present federal maritime administrator, will be named to an existing vacancy on the seven-man commission. The President said in a statement accompanying the FCC selections "the combination of Rosel Hyde's long FCC experience and Nicholas Johnson's demonstrated and creative abilities demonstrated throughout his teaching career and his public life will advance the public interest in the critically important work of this agency. The vital decisions relating to our rapidly

Opening Date For Schools At Buhl Set

BUHL — The opening date for Buhl public schools for the 1966-67 school year is set for Aug. 22, and dates for vacation were outlined when the Buhl school board held its regular monthly June meeting.

Holidays to be observed included Labor Day, Sept. 5; County Fair, Sept. 9; Teacher's Institute, Oct. 21-22; Veterans Day, one-half day, Nov. 11; Thanksgiving vacation, Nov. 24-25; Christmas vacation, Dec. 23 through Jan. 2; Easter vacation, March 24-27, and school dismissal for summer vacation May 18.

It was noted a contract has been extended to Andrew Dahlquist, 1966 graduate of Idaho State University, to teach mathematics in the Buhl school system. The only remaining vacancy on the teaching staff for the coming year is in home economics, according to Rex Engkeling, superintendent.

Elmo Ford, building contractor, met with the trustees and reported on the progress of the demolition of the Lincoln School building. He pointed out that the contract should be completed in 10 days, when transfer of property can take place. He noted that a total of 148 work days have been completed on the project, which was started Oct. 28.

Newly elected trustees, Harold Traxler, district one, and Derek Cantrell, district two, were officially sworn into office. Policies of the board were reviewed. During a reorganization meeting, Dr. J. Z. Hammerquist was elected chairman; John Miracle, vice chairman, and Alfred Dais, clerk.

Adventist Church Elects World Chief

DETROIT (AP) — A soft-spoken, reflective man who sees an expanding role for the church in the modern world is the new leader of the 1.6-million-member Seventh-day Adventist Church.

Robert H. Pierson, 55, previously head of the church world headquarters in Africa, was elected world president of the church Friday by delegates to the 50th World Conference of Adventists. "I was surprised. Naturally, I was surprised," Pierson said.

When Pierson was elected, he said, "I feel a great responsibility like that of a leader upon the church." Pierson said he plans to follow.

Pierson, now a resident of Salisbury, Rhodesia, was born in Brooklyn, Iowa, the son of now-deceased Adventist parents. His father was president of a bank.

He went to high school near Ocala, Fla., where he met and married a Kansas-born girl named Dollie. She wasn't born an Adventist, said Pierson, "but she's one now."

After their marriage, they entered Southern Missionary College in Tennessee. Last May, Pierson received a doctoral degree from "four universities" — Andrews University in Berrien Springs, Mich.

Pierson, author of 13 religious books and numerous articles in Adventist publications, has two sons. John Duane, 34, is a doctor currently doing research for a Morristown, N.J., pharmaceutical firm; Robert, 26, works at Solusi College, an Adventist school in Rhodesia.

Family Has Reunion After Two Years of Separation

SHOSHONE — Mrs. Velma Allen and children, Jerry and Colleen, are all attending Brigham Young University. They left Shoshone Monday morning after a short reunion after several months and two years of separation.

Mrs. Allen is a teacher in the Gooding school system. Jerry has spent the past two and one-half years in Germany on a mission for the LDS Church. Colleen returned Thursday from a semester of study in Europe with a group of students from Brigham Young University.

Mrs. Allen met the two, a day apart, at Salt Lake City airport. For Jerry and Colleen, however, this was not the first meeting in two years. They had met accidentally a week before in an airport in Amsterdam.

Colleen said she entered the airport ticket office, glanced across the room and saw her brother. This was quite a feeling after such a long time. "I was surprised. Naturally, I was surprised," Pierson said.

Five-State Commission Is Okayed

OLYMPIA (AP) — Pacific Northwest States took a step closer Friday toward keeping water from the Columbia River from the thirsty southwest.

Washington Gov. Dan Evans said staff members from governors of Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana and Wyoming have agreed on a five-state Columbia Basin commission.

The commission is aimed at protecting and using the Northwest's water for the Northwest. The separate state agreements will be sent to Gov. Dan Evans who will apply to the federal government to start the commission.

Staff representatives of the governors are scheduled to meet July 10.

Colleen said she entered the airport ticket office, glanced across the room and saw her brother. This was quite a feeling after such a long time. "I was surprised. Naturally, I was surprised," Pierson said.

Teachers Have Picnic In Jerome

JEROME — Twenty-eight members and visitors of the South Central Idaho Retired Teachers Association enjoyed a potluck picnic Friday in the Jerome City Park.

Those attending were from Wendell, Gooding, Kimberly, Filer, Jerome and Twin Falls. A business meeting was conducted by Vivian Klink followed by the picnic. Final plans were made for the State Delegates Assembly to be held Wednesday in the Roundup Room of the Rogerson Hotel in Twin Falls. Delegates appointed for this convention are Mrs. Eliza Morgan, Mrs. Rose Womble and Mrs. Alma Wells.

Juanita Sutcliffe gave a report on the handbook prepared by the State Health Department on the "Rules, Regulations and Standards for Boarding Homes for the Aged in Idaho."

Several new members became members at this meeting. All of the officers were re-elected at this meeting. The next meeting will be in September in Twin Falls.

Not Earthquake, Mother, It's Garbage Truck

TIBURON, Calif. (AP) — A crashing noise awakened Mrs. Charles Pontil-Friday amid a shower of glass and the smell of escaping gas.

Her son, Jonathan, 6, came screaming into the bedroom. "I told him it was an earthquake and to stay with me because there would be another tremor," Mrs. Pontil said.

"Jonathan said, 'No mother, it's the garbage truck.' He was right."

The driver, Sexton Davis, 28, said his brakes failed. He leaped off after it snapped a utility pole. Driverless, the truck plunged into the Pontil home, ripped out a side of the house and smashed the garage.

Castro May Have Been Told By Reds to Take Back Seat

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some Washington analysts believe the Soviet Union may have ordered Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro to stop talking and take a back seat in his country's affairs.

Whether he has been stripped of power, the analysts say, remains to be seen.

The State Department took public notice Thursday of reports that Castro's regime faces "growing" popular dissatisfaction. Press officer Robert McCloskey also noted that "it is a fact that Castro uncharacteristically has not been in the foreground of events since May 1."

The Cuban Prime Minister was reported Friday to have concluded an inspection trip to one of the provinces.

Analysts here are basing the theory that Moscow may have gagged Castro on reported reports that the Soviet Union has found some of his recent activities very troublesome.

Earlier this year Castro engaged in a prolonged feud with Yugoslavia, a nation that has shown signs of independence from the Communist bloc. The Castro regime's outbursts against Yugoslavia came as the Kremlin appeared to be making a concerted effort to avoid further breaches among bloc nations in light of its continuing battle with Communist China.

Only last month, the Soviet Union signed a trade treaty for the exchange of $2.6 billion worth of goods with Yugoslavia through 1970.

Romania and Poland both have given indications lately that they would like closer ties with the West, particularly in trade. And Premier Chou En-lai of Red China now is visiting Romania.

Asahel Gee Is Taken By Death

BURLEY — Asahel T. Gee, 88, longtime Burley resident, died Thursday at Caldwell. Mr. Gee became ill while visiting his daughter, Burley, Idaho, who was born June 3, 1878, in Provo, Utah. He married Mary Eliza Jones in 1906 in Salt Lake. Shortly after their marriage the couple moved to Burley and lived in the Daily district. Mr. Gee was a member of the LDS Church and served as a bishop in the city ward. His wife died Oct. 16, 1930. On March 20, 1935, he married Margaret Parker. Survivors include his widow, Burley; two daughters, Mrs. Fern Barlow, Maring, and Mrs. Zenna Dorsey, Caldwell; three step-daughters, Mrs. Margaret Richins, Eugene, Ore.; Mrs. Arvilla Stone, Weiser; and Mrs. Donna Call, Twin Falls, 12 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted at 8:30 a.m. Tuesday in the Burley LDS Second Ward Chapel with Bishop Preston Stocks officiating. Final rites will be held at 4 p.m. in the Provo City Cemetery. Friends may call at McCulloch's Funeral Home Monday evening and Tuesday until time of services.

Air Routes Are Opposed By Bureau

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics Board's Bureau of Operating Rights opposed Friday point-to-point competition on many of the new routes under consideration in the CAB's investigation of air service needs between the Pacific Northwest and the south and southwest. The bureau recommended that the CAB act as it did in the southern transcontinental proceeding, avoiding direct point-to-point competition. Trans World Airlines, in its exceptions to the examiner's decision, asked the board to find in current service from St. Louis, Kansas City and Denver to Salt Lake City, Portland and Seattle-Tacoma, and to reject the examiner's proposal to extend Braniff, Continental and Western Airlines in the northwest-southwest area.

Rebels in Burma Take 2 Outposts

RANGOON, Burma (AP) — A strong band of 60 rebels captured two police outposts close to the border of Thailand last week, according to delayed newspaper reports reaching here. The reports said the insurgents first attacked a small mining center in the Mergui district, some 300 miles southeast of Rangoon. June 7, Police quickly overwhelmed the reports said. On June 8, the rebels destroyed another police outpost 30 miles from the scene of the first attack. The reports said the rebels remained in control of the two outposts for three days, during which they looted government stores, extorted money from farmers and held up launches plying rivers in the area.

Spanish, U.S. Aides Worry About Visit

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Lynda Bird Johnson, expected here early next week on a summer vacation trip and Spanish and U.S. officials alike are puzzled over how to handle a strong-minded daughter of the President. She seemingly wants her travels to be as unnotified and as private as those of an ordinary American tourist. The main burden of solving the problem falls on U.S. Ambassador Angier Biddle Duke and his wife, Robin, official hosts of Lynda Bird and her one-time college schoolmate, Susan Schein of New York City. Ambassador Duke has had some experience of the problem. He had a long tour as State Department chief of protocol under Presidents John F. Kennedy and Johnson and it included a trip to the coronation of King Constantine of Greece when Lynda Johnson was a member of the official U.S. delegation. A tentative program for the visit of Lynda, 22, has been prepared. Whether it becomes final will depend on her.

Found Guilty

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — A military court found former Foreign Minister Joseph Kasili guilty today of complicity in an antigovernment plot and sentenced him five years in prison. Closed trial lasted 50 minutes. Lt. Col. Ferdinand Malila, army chief of staff, who was court president, said Kasili was accused of giving funds to finance the plot.

Oklahoma Protest for Use Of Pool Ends Peacefully

LAWTON, Okla. (AP) — A peaceful protest of some 200 civil rights demonstrators who sought integrated privileges in a privately owned amusement park's swimming pool. "We're going home now," declared Clara Luper, one of the leaders of the march that began in Oklahoma City on Thursday. She said Lawton Mayor Wayne Gilley had agreed to submit the dispute to the city's Human Relations Committee and the City Council. Mrs. Luper said the demonstrators would cease, pending outcome of the talks next week. Gilley bowed to demands and appeared at the park to confer with Mrs. Luper and other leaders of the group. A short time before, the demonstrators backed off the park property under threat of arrest. Park owner Ben Hutchinson Sr. had offered to "sell, lease or make some similar arrangement" to permit Negroes to use the pool. Standing in front of the park, Mrs. Luper, head of the Oklahoma City Youth Council of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said: "We are not going anywhere. We are going to stay here and wait for Mr. Gilley." The group's leaders wanted Gilley to promise to recommend to the City Council an ordinance stating that no place catering to the public can bar Negroes from using its facilities. Asst. Police Chief Al Hennessey urged the demonstrators to leave the area and set up camp at nearby Elmer Thomas Park but they refused. Dr. O.L. Parsons, chairman of the Lawton Human Relations Commission, arrived on the scene and talked with the demonstrators' leaders. He explained a committee working in the area to solve social and recreational problems. Parsons said the commission

Minister of Pakistan Steps Down

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (AP) — Foreign Minister Zulfikar Ali Bhutto gave up his post Saturday to take medical leave and President Mohammed Ayub Khan announced he himself will take over the post. The President's announcement did not disclose Bhutto's illness. Bhutto, 35, took over the foreign ministry Jan. 24, 1963. The announcement came after two weeks of speculation that Bhutto was quitting Ayub Khan's regime because he differed with the president on foreign policy. The President, in effect, denied this, saying: "There have been suggestions in certain quarters that the departure of Mr. Bhutto will lead to a change in the foreign policy of Pakistan. It should be made clear that there need be no such apprehension. The foreign policy of a country is based on national interest and it is on this basis alone that the foreign policy of Pakistan should be pursued."

Coast Guard Sets Inquiry Into Tragedy

NEW YORK (AP) — A Coast Guard board of inquiry will convene Monday to study the still mysterious cause of Thursday's flaming collision between two tankers in New York harbor. The known "death toll" remained at 20 today after a search of the burned bulk of the British tanker Alva Cape yielded no bodies. Twelve crewmen are listed as missing. Of the 71 survivors aboard the two tankers and two escorting tug which also caught fire, all but 21 had been released from hospitals by Friday night. One remained in critical condition. The Alva Cape, carrying more than four million gallons of volatile naphtha, collided in the Kill Van Kull channel with the Texaco Mankachusett, an American freighter heading empty to the Gulf of Mexico. The collision was followed by an explosion and fire which sent flames 100 feet into the air in the 2,000-foot-wide channel between New Jersey and Staten Island. Although the cause of the fire remained to be determined by the Coast Guard investigation, survivors said it apparently resulted when naphtha, a petroleum distillate, leaked from the damaged Alva Cape and washed over the engine of its tug.

The disaster was the worst in the harbor since 50 died in a 1960 fire aboard the aircraft carrier Constitution while it was under construction in the Brooklyn Navy Yard.

Government Dismisses Union Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government has abandoned efforts to get the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers registered with the attorney general as a "Communist-infiltrated organization." The Subversive Activities Control Board dismissed the case Thursday by a decision which also canceled its order of May 4, 1962 requiring the union to register. A board official, disclosing the action Saturday, said the Justice Department agreed to the dismissal after deciding against pressing for a fresh appraisal of the union's status under the Subversive Activities Control Act of 1950. The U.S. Court of Appeals sent the case back to the control board last November, ruling that the evidence used against the union was 10 to 13 years old and getting stale.

Suit Filed Over Mine Operation

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Two Dallas men filed a $1 million civil suit Friday against the Associated Oil and Gas Co. of Houston, alleging the firm failed to furnish the equipment for a gold operation in Idaho. The plaintiffs, Ralph Park and Jack Park, alleged they entered into a contract agreement with Associated Oil on Oct. 7, 1963, calling for the firm to furnish to a corporation yet to be formed all machinery and equipment necessary to mine and sell gold and other minerals. The corporation, named Salmon River Mining Co., was formed and the stock was issued to the Dallas men, the suit states, adding that extensive leases were obtained in Idaho. "Associated Oil, with just cause, has failed and refused to furnish the equipment and machinery called for by the contract," the plaintiffs allege.

Evacuation of Bases Discussed

PARIS (AP) — U.S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen met today with Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville to discuss the future evacuation of American bases in France. The envoy called on the Foreign Ministry and remained with Couve de Murville for half an hour. President Charles de Gaulle has notified the United States that the bases should be evacuated by next April 1.

Bus Strike To Last at Least 5 Days

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The now 35-day-old Greyhound Bus strike in 11 western states is certain to continue at least five more days. But there were rumblings Saturday of a new strike which could prolong it. A spokesman for the Mechanics Union at Western Greyhound's main maintenance base said, "We certainly will strike if it is necessary to get a decent contract." The current strike was begun May 15 by 15 drivers and station employees. After contract talks failed in Washington and San Francisco, the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service came up with a set of recommendations. "First Greyhound announced 'reluctant' acceptance. Negotiators for the striking Amalgamated Transit Workers Union decided after a parley to submit the federal plan to a membership vote without recommendation. The ballots were mailed Saturday. Members have until 8:30 p.m. PDT Thursday to get the ballots back to a central post-office box in San Francisco for counting. In event of acceptance, the

Meanwhile, Fred Martin, business representative of the Automotive Machinists Local 1305, said the contract for his employees had expired during the drivers' strike and it may take a mechanics' strike to get acceptable terms.

DEAF MAN PERFECTS TINY HEARING AID
MINNEAPOLIS, MINN. — A remarkably tiny hearing aid has been perfected by a man who has been hard of hearing for nearly ten years. This small device has no dangling cords or separate transmitting units and represents a new and unique design idea in a product to restore natural hearing. It was developed especially for those persons who can hear but can't understand. This new hearing instrument provides "ear-level" hearing with the wearer picking up speech, sound, television and radio at his ear. Due to the use of transistors, the user cost is extremely low. The instrument weighs only 1/16 oz. It is about the size of a sewing thimble—hardly noticeable. Send your name and address on a postcard to TELEX, Dept. F32, 3054 Excelsior Blvd., Minneapolis, Minn. You will be sent full information without any obligation whatever.

Space Agency Plans to Intensify Search Into Mystery of Space Travel

MANNED SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP) — Hoping for clear sailing in the Apollo man-to-the-moon project, the national space agency plans to intensify its search into some of the mysteries of space travel as a result of new problem areas uncovered by troubled Gemini 9.

Three two-man Gemini flights remain all to include rendezvous with an orbiting satellite and space walks expected to provide vital experience necessary before men are committed to a lunar voyage.

"We have to recognize that we did not achieve all of our major objectives on Gemini 9," said Dr. Robert C. Seamans, space agency deputy director at the Gemini-9 news-conference Friday. "We cannot score this flight a 100 per cent success."

Seamans revealed that he had ordered a complete investigation into plans for Gemini 10, 11 and 12, declaring: "We are going to use these three flights to maximum advantage to get all the data we can preliminary to the Apollo program."

Officials rounded out the list of spacemen assigned Gemini tasks Friday by naming Navy Capt. James A. Lovell Jr. and Air Force Maj. Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. to fly Gemini 12, the last in the program.

Gemini 9's pilots, Air Force Lt. Col. Thomas P. Stafford and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Eugene A. Cernan, told of their troubles and successes in space at the same conference.

The two astronauts, whose flight spanned three days in space, including a record 2-hour, 7-minute walk in space by Cernan, indeed had their troubles.

First, their rendezvous target's protective shroud failed to separate in orbit, leaving the vehicle looking like an "angry alligator" and incapable of serving as a link-up satellite.

With the failure to link to the target, known as an augmented target-docking adapter, Gemini 9 lost one of its major objectives. Later, it was revealed that ground crews failed to correctly attach the shroud.

Seamans said that in the future efforts will be made to "run whatever tests are necessary to get better technical performance and improve our operations capabilities."

Cernan's walk in space had to be cut a half hour short because his faceplate fogged so badly that he could not even see himself in a mirror attached to the rear of the spacecraft.

The new champion space walker said the trouble developed as strolling in orbit proved to be more work than anticipated and his suit's ventilation system was not adequate to remove body moisture.

Cernan also discovered difficulty in maneuvering with a 25-foot umbilical cord feeding him oxygen from the spacecraft. The cord kept getting in the way, he said.

Seamans said that results of the investigation into upcoming flights could lead to some changes in original mission objectives. He noted that Aldrin might take his space walk with a rocket pack on his back without a tether line attaching him to the spacecraft as a precaution.

Gemini 12, scheduled in late October or early November, is to rendezvous with an Agena target rocket, after which Aldrin will experiment with the maneuvering pack. Cernan had intended to use a similar rocket unit but scrubbed the attempt because his visor fogged.

Jerome Man Dies at Air Force Base

JEROME — Carl Nims, 49, died Tuesday evening at Hamilton Air Force Base, Calif., of a heart attack.

Mr. Nims was a life long resident of Jerome and went into the Air Force after graduating from Jerome High School. He had retired from the Air Force within the past year.

He is survived by his widow, Fumiko Nims, Hamilton Air Force Base; one daughter, Nancy Ann Nims, also Hamilton, and two sisters, Mrs. James Prescott, Sun Valley, and Mrs. Ester Nichols, Pasadena, Calif.

Final rites were held at a military cemetery at Hamilton, with full military and Masonic rites.

Gemini-10 is scheduled for launch July 18 with Navy Cmdr. John W. Young and Air Force Maj. Michael Collins aboard. Gemini 11, to be flown by Navy Cmdr. Charles Conrad Jr., and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Richard F. Gordon Jr., will follow with a similar three-day flight in September.

President's Daughter Is At Movie Site

KANAB, Utah (AP) — Lynda Bird Johnson, daughter of the President, had lunch in the wilderness with actor George Hamilton on Saturday.

It was at the location set for the movie, "Long Ride Home," in which Hamilton stars. He plays a Confederate commander in the Civil War story.

The two flew from Los Angeles on Saturday to the movie-making, Red Rock Canyon country of southern Utah.

They drove to the set in Zion National Park, about 30 miles northwest of Kanab, on roads winding through orange- and red-colored cliffs 1,000 or more feet higher.

When they arrived on the set, Hamilton's driver, Bob Royce, Lynda Bird rested for awhile and got makeup applied by one of the Hollywood experts.

She emerged from the trailer fresh-looking and attractive and sat down to lunch with Hamilton and others, including Glenn Ford and his wife, Max Baer and Harry Joe Brown, coproducer of the movie.

They sat at a wooden table under the trees near the base of a giant white rock called "The Great White Throne," which is in the middle of 2,000-foot-high cliffs of red and white sandstone.

There were about 100 actors and technicians around, but they paid little outward attention to the guest.

Lynda Bird, 22, watched her friend and frequent escort, Hamilton, 36, in the afternoon filming.

They were to return to Kanab in the evening where Hamilton is staying at a hotel and Lynda Bird is staying at the home of another motel operator, Mr. and Mrs. Whitney Parry, on the outskirts of this community of 1,300.

The pair dined and danced at

EVERGLADES NATIONAL PARK was a river of dried muck, top, as shown in this May, 1965, picture, until the heavy rainfall of the past fall, winter and spring, which brought the water level back to normal. A happy alligator prepares to take a dip, where only last year it was dry. (AP wirephoto)

Ancient Sea of Grass in Everglades Witnessing Gradual Rebirth of Life

EVERGLADES NATIONAL PARK, Fla. (AP) — The ancient "sea of grass" flows again, and the vast wilderness of Everglades National Park is witnessing a gradual rebirth of life.

Just a year ago, cut off from the water that has been the park's life blood for ages, birds, animals and reptiles were backed to the wall in a desperate battle for existence.

Marshes, dying under the blazing sun, were scorched by fire. The hammocks, little "iron islands" sheltering the deer, the bear and the panther, were disappearing.

Today, the lakes and ponds are filled and water stands again in the sawgrass. The park, which once teemed with wildlife, has begun the long climb back to normal.

Three straight years of below-normal rainfall, then three months of searing drought, set up the park's desperate situation.

It reached its climax when water that once flowed into the park from Lake Okechobee was trapped in the reservoirs of the Central and South Florida Flood Control District.

With the park on the verge of wildlife extinction, the first relief came with heavy rainfall during the fall and winter. More rain in the spring, part from Hurricane Alma, helped still more.

The park's new lease-on-life became firm in March when the flood control district began to release some of its stored water into the area.

"The park itself is in good shape," Assistant Park Superintendent Carroll Burroughs said today. "The water level is the highest in years."

"All the conditions for the re-creation of life are here. But this will take time. The smaller fishes and animals tend to come back in one to two years."

"We would hope, if we can maintain the excellent conditions, that the larger animals will repopulate the park in four or five years."

Computers Cause Rush to Match Couples by Machine

NEW YORK (AP) — Pick 'em, the idea for the computer dating program came from teen-agers themselves.

"You can't completely bypass sex in teen-agers when it is so important to them," said Finley Eversole, 32, who devised the test.

Eversole says about 23,000 copies of the computer dating book, aimed at the 13 to 19 age group, have been mailed to student body presidents and faculty advisers in high schools in New York, Atlanta, Boston, Chicago, Cleveland, Los Angeles, Minneapolis, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, San Francisco and St. Paul, Minn.

About 3,000 youngsters returned the questionnaires.

The Kings County, Brooklyn, district attorney's office said it was concerned basically with whether the information might be used by sexual perverts or for other purposes.

For $3 to $6 apiece, the computer pairs promise to come up with the names — and addresses or telephone numbers of 3 to 14, or even 100, ideal mates-dates.

They rent computer time, and feed in attitudes toward statements such as:

"My moral values compared to other teen-agers are extremely liberal; more liberal than most, slightly more liberal than average, slightly less liberal than average, more strict than most, extremely conservative."

"If they all were on television at the same time, which one would you watch—Sooty Sales, Batman, Bon Casey, the Fugitive, Hullaboo, Huntley-Brinkley, the Tonight Show, none."

Robert M. Steiner, 43, vice president of Tecon International, Inc., producer of the computer dating book — "If you're compatible, you're compatible" — says

Phone Calls Cannot Be Monitored

AUGUSTA, Maine (AP) — Gov. John Reed has asked the Public Utilities Commission to order telephone companies in Maine not to monitor any telephone calls.

Months after the governor's announcement Friday night, PUC Chairman Frederick N. Allon issued a statement saying he had sent this telegram to all 34 telephone companies under PUC jurisdiction: "Any monitoring of phone calls is hereby ordered to cease, pending complete investigation by this commission."

The order was prompted by disclosure that New England Telephone Co. has monitored thousands of calls as part of its practice of checking the technique and performance of operators and quality of service.

Satellites To Be Used By Military

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department says by late summer it will begin relaying military commands to Viet Nam via seven satellites orbiting 21,000 miles from earth.

The defense communications satellites were launched from Cape Kennedy Thursday aboard an Air Force Titan rocket. Officials said the satellites, released from the rocket at 20- to 25-second intervals, were performing perfectly.

Air Force Secretary Harold Brown said Friday installation of a terminal in Viet Nam to receive the messages is expected by the end of the summer. He added that officials expect the new communications system to play a "most important role in transmission of traffic vital to the U. S. defense."

The satellites were "an essential" Brown said, and have provisions to "prevent unauthorized use." But it was indicated that other nations could monitor signals relayed by the orbiting radio relay stations. The Pentagon emphasized, however, that the satellites would be tested only with coded signals.

Brown said more satellites will be launched this summer "to insure against failure of any one — or even several — of the satellites." He said eventually the Defense Department expects to have 22 satellites to form an orbiting military switchboard able to link ground stations 10,000 miles apart.

Gen. Walsh Named State Budget Head

BOISE (AP) — Appointment of Maj. Gen. John E. Walsh, former Idaho adjutant general, as state budget director was announced Saturday by Gov. Robert E. Smylie.

Walsh fills a position which has been vacant since the resignation early in 1965 of Don I. Walker of Boise. Smylie has been serving as acting budget director since then.

The appointment is effective July 1 and Walsh announced he had submitted his resignation as state selective service director, effective June 30.

He held that position as well as that of state adjutant general for many years. Maj. Gen. George Bennett succeeded Walsh as adjutant general and Smylie said he also would become state selective service director.

Walsh has assisted Smylie in several capacities since his retirement as adjutant general Dec. 31, 1964. He served as coordinator of the International Girl Scout Roundup at Farragut State Park a year ago and has been project officer in preparations for the World Boy Scout Jamboree to be held at Farragut in 1967.

Man Graduated, Attends Reunion All in Same Day

NORTH WILBRAHAM, Mass. (AP) — Joe Cotton received his college degree in the morning and attended his 30th annual class reunion in the afternoon.

Cotton is Joseph S. Cotton in Springfield, where he is city editor of the Springfield Union. He had to drop out of Harvard in the 1930s when the depression put an end to his resources and forced him to find a job.

A year ago he decided to try for that final year. He received his bachelor's degree Thursday with the 1966 graduates, then attended the reunion of his original classmates.

Cotton, 51, says he is "the only member of the class of '36 with gray hair, bifocals, and dentures."

Top Education Official Urges Bold New Efforts

NEW YORK (AP) — The government's top education official said today the nation's schools are "almost as segregated today as they were in 1954" and called for bold new desegregation efforts by school officials.

"I feel that we have accomplished very little so far," U.S. Education Commissioner Harold Howe II told a school administrators conference in a prepared speech. "I find myself puzzling over which is worse, honest bigotry or well-intentioned timidity."

Howe said it is "time for school officials to form a third front for racial equality in the United States," somewhere between the gradualists at one end of the civil rights movement and the activists at the other, ending including "those weary and desperate Americans who are

"There is no point in waiting for real estate salesmen to get the message from on high and ease our job by selling homes to anyone who wants them," Howe said.

"There is no point in our waiting for American corporations to start hiring Negro men as readily as they do light-skinned, well-dressed Negro women."

Howe said, "The small progress that the South has made toward desegregation has been offset by increasing de facto segregation in the cities of the North."

Court Getting Tough in Non-Support Cases

BY PHILLIP LOWMAN

Non-support of minor children is on the upswing in Twin Falls County, and court actions will be filed against fathers who can support their children but won't, James J. May, Twin Falls County prosecutor, announced Saturday.

May said one of the growing problems is donation of federal, state and county welfare funds for the care of dependent children.

In the majority of these cases, according to May, the parents are separated or divorced and the government has to use the money to assume the obligations for supporting the minor children since the father will not, and does not, support them as he should.

In Twin Falls County alone, $338,676 was paid out during 1965 through the State of Idaho Public Assistance Department for dependent children. In addition to this, May said, other money was paid out of the Twin Falls County poor fund for the support of these children.

May said his office has three alternatives to choose from in forcing negligent fathers to assume their responsibilities in supporting their minor children. The first is for the wife to file a divorce action. This, in most cases, is impossible because she does not have adequate funds for court fees.

The second alternative is a reciprocal support action in which court papers are sent to the prosecuting attorney in the county where the father is living.

This action is for women whose husbands live in some other state or county. Once the action is filed, according to May, the father will be brought into court and ordered to make child support payments.

As a last resort, the prosecutor can file a criminal non-support complaint against a negligent father.

"If convicted of this felony the man will face a sentence of 14 years in the Idaho State Penitentiary," May said.

May added, "Since I have been in office we have been very liberal in filing reciprocal support actions, and this attitude is now beginning to pay off."

Since 1961, when May took office, child support payments from fathers paid through the county clerk's office have amounted to $105,143. The breakdown is, 1961, $10,140.50; 1962, $24,722.22; 1963, $14,811.30; 1964, $24,065; 1965, $28,803.35, and 1966, to June 15, $17,845.50. If current figures run consistent the 1966 total may well exceed $40,000.

May said he has talked at length with the local supervisor of the public assistance department. He said both departments are working together to insure that some type of child support action is filed against fathers who are able to support their children, but instead, are allowing the State of Idaho to use tax funds for their children's support.

Negroes Plan March Soon

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Two Negro teenagers say they plan to march more than 500 miles to Washington in one week late next month to rally support for American policy in Viet Nam.

Willie Hunter, 17, says he hopes many young people will join him and Arthur Williams, 18, in the hike from the north Georgia border to the nation's capital.

Hunter told newsmen Friday that he and Williams, representing the National Youth Assembly for Peace, would leave the last week in July, expecting to reach Washington by the first of August.

The youth said the proposed march is to promote peace and understanding and to demonstrate support for the United States role in the Viet Nam conflict.

Friday afternoon two Twin Falls men appeared in 11th District Court in connection with non-support of minor children.

The first man, Lyle Coy, entered a plea of not guilty to the charge against him and according to May, a date will be set for a jury trial.

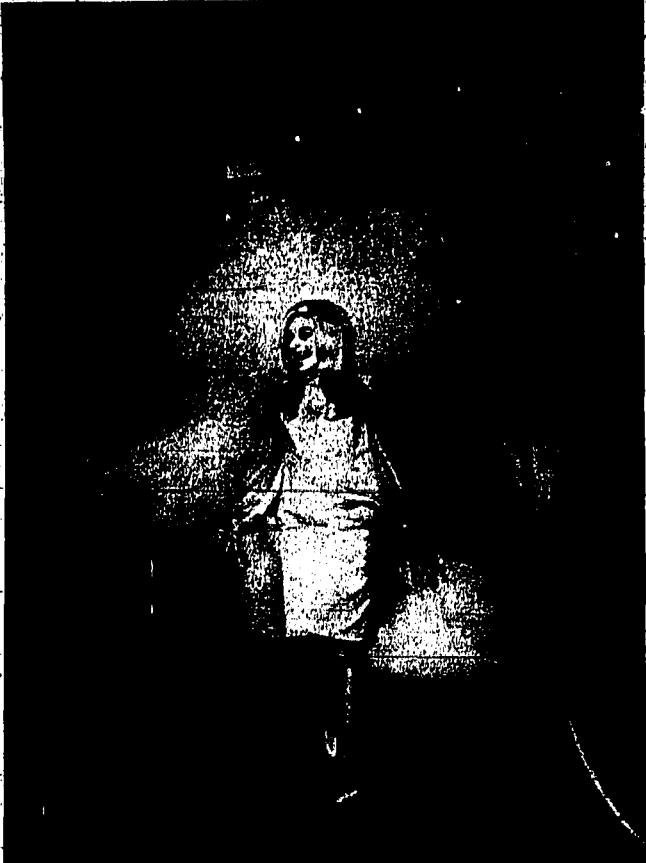

The other man, Elden Thacker, was granted a delay of plea until January, 1967. Judge Thacker ordered Thacker to pay child support in the meantime.

T. F. Girl Given $500 CAP Grant

A Civil Air Patrol grant of $500 was awarded to Rosa Sue Harshbarger for outstanding contributions to aerospace education, according to Col. Joseph L. Mason, CAP national commander.

Col. Mason said Miss Harshbarger, 1715 Heyburn Ave., last week in July, expecting to reach Washington by the first of August.

The youth said the proposed march is to promote peace and understanding and to demonstrate support for the United States role in the Viet Nam conflict.

Underground Group Reports It Will Be Ready in Case of Communist Takeover

NORBORNE, Mo. (AP) — Today in the United States there are hundreds of people — perhaps thousands — who say they are ready at a minute's notice to take up arms as guerrillas.

They aren't really worried about an invasion but a Communist takeover from within, without a foreign soldier so much as setting a toe on American soil.

These people — grocers, mechanics, salesmen, laborers, shop owners, housewives — are theoretically action-ready. At the proper signal, they supposedly would be able to:

— Round up potential enemies. They already have secret lists of "subversives" — a classification which might include the most ordinary citizen if, for example, he was publicly known to support the United Nations.

— Go underground and bear arms. This could mean going into the trenches against an invasion force, but most likely being a soldier in a guerrilla force opposing a Communist takeover.

— Assassinate Communist leaders or any powerful figures working with Communists.

— Form a caretaker government — if victorious against insurrection — or an underground movement — a sort of government in exile — until a constitutional government could re-establish the United States as a constitutional republic.

— To be able to do these things, they now go on field maneuvers, have regular target practice, collect stocks of weapons and ammunition, watch neighbors and strangers and get instruction in such techniques as kidnapping.

These are the self-styled soldiers of the paramilitary right. Paramilitary means they profess to be nonmilitary but nevertheless have an underlying military pattern.

Fitting this description are such organizations as the Minutemen, with headquarters in Norborne, Mo.; the California Rangers, operating in the Los Angeles metropolitan area; the National States Rights party, Birmingham, Ala.; the Paul Revere Association, Yeomen, Inc., New Orleans, and the Counterinsurgency Council, Collinsville, Ill. All describe themselves as patriot groups.

These organizations have been dismissed by their critics as havens for malcontents. But their supporters, these citizens are the spiritual heirs of the men at Lexington and Concord — the citizen-militiamen of the American Revolution.

Figures as to strength, details as to the effectiveness, information as to activities are difficult to come by and open to argument.

The FBI has reported, for example, that it has infiltrated extremist groups, including the Minutemen, which reportedly is the largest of the right-wing activities.

"We have penetrated this organization and our sources are keeping us advised of developments. Its numerical strength is probably greatly exaggerated," the FBI says.

Stocks of weapons and explosives as well as evidence of field encampments, have been uncovered from the San Diego area, to Virginia, to New Jersey.

The paramilitary, of course, takes in a number of groups other than those already mentioned. The Fruit of Islam, an arm of the Black Muslims, is among them. So is the American Nazi party.

But perhaps the best-organized, and certainly the best-known, is the Minutemen, which admits its brand of conservatism is so special that the John Birch Society advises conservatism to stay away because it is too extreme.

To view the Minutemen, it is necessary to visit Norborne, a dusty little farm town of 850 that is about 70 miles east of Kansas City.

It is here that Robert Bellivar DePugh, 42, has his volunteer drug business, Biolab Corp., and where Bob DePugh goes, so goes the business of the Minutemen.

He is a founder and the national leader and philosopher and strategist of the movement.

"The Minutemen is unique," he says, "because it is one of the few patriot groups in history to go underground before the enemy takes over."

"By developing a strong underground movement such as the Minutemen we eliminate the idea of a peaceful surrender to the Communists. By doing this now, we are putting our government on notice that we will not tolerate a peaceful surrender and if such a thing is attempted, we will be ready to fight."

By DePugh's reckoning, America already is in World War III. Instead of Soviet troops swarming over American soil, he sees a sinister takeover from within, claiming that Presidents Roosevelt, Truman, Eisenhower, Kennedy and Johnson successively contributed to making it easy for the Communists. He expects an open takeover in from six to 10 years.

On what does he base this prediction?

"On the information we have gathered and analysis of this material," answers DePugh. He says the Minutemen has access to confidential and secret material because "we have infiltrated every major agency and department of the government, including the FBI and CIA."

The FBI dismisses such claims as fantasies.

How will the paramilitary groups know the time for action? How would the minutemen receive and bands, for example, recognize the time to take to the trenches, to zero in on some alleged subversive, to take command of a radio station? Would DePugh give the signal?

"No," he says. "Our coordinators and band leaders are so well-trained they would not need to be told. We don't want people who need to be instructed. They would know just as a master chess player knows what to do."

In the Minutemen order of things, a correspondence training course and field training ultimately brings assignments from the movement leaders.

Some of these are described in Minutemen literature. An undercover agent of the California State Department of Justice, according to Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch, reported some of the things discussed during Minutemen field exercises in the San Diego countryside.

Angels Beat A's, Extend Win Streak

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Bobby Knoop's three-run double in the fourth inning and a two-run homer by Willie Smith in the seventh, carried the California Angels to their seventh straight victory, 7-3 over Kansas City Saturday night.
Knoop's double broke a scoreless deadlock after the Angels had loaded the bases on singles by Jim Fregosi and Norm Sieben and hit batter.
Smith capped a three-run seventh inning uprising with his homer after Jose Cardenal drove in the first run with a sacrifice fly. Jim Piersall's squeeze bunt brought in the final run in the eighth inning.

Wisconsin Cops Rowing Crown

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Wisconsin's dark-hued varsity crew rowing smoothly and powerfully, withstood a sprinting Navy Saturday to capture the Intercollegiate Rowing Association's championship on Onondaga Lake.
Navy was second, about a deck length behind the leader, followed by Princeton and Brown in that order.
The victory was the third rowing crown for Wisconsin Coach Norm Sonju.

Twin Falls Municipal Golf Course—her home course. Then will follow four days of championship matches. "I think right now my game is more consistent than it's ever been," she reports. "At least I've had more low scores than ever before."

"Since school's been out I had a 71, 72, 73 and 74," the physical education instructor at O'Leary Junior High School continues. "When I play just nine holes my scores have been running a stroke or two over par. I've had 71s and 72s before on this course, but usually only one or two a season."

"But that's the way my game was up to Thursday," she quickly points out. "It might go to pieces next week."

This will be Mrs. Undhjem's fourth appearance in a state tournament. In her debut, here in Twin Falls, she was knocked out in the semi-finals by eventual champion Colleen Moon. She's twice been runner-up, both times losing to out-of-state competition in the finals. Last year, after the state association restricted entry to residents of Idaho, Mrs. Undhjem came up with her first championship.

"There are a lot of girls entered that are capable of winning it," Mrs. Undhjem replied to a question on whether she should be the favorite. "Ruby Stone (Boise) was the runner-up last year and she has a good game. Delores Fitzpatrick (Boise) is playing very well, they tell me. Shirlee Straughn (Twin Falls, state association president) is playing better this spring and has been very consistent. There are some others around that I don't know as well. But there are a lot of good players in the state."

Mrs. Undhjem should prove one of the longest hitters in the event. Her drives will average from 160 to 200 yards, once in a while besting 300 yards with some to spare. But her whole game is quiet. "Most of the people who ever comment on my game seem to think the strongest point is my short game," she answered another question. "To me it's all one thing. You have to have everything working well to get a good score or win a match. I never really think about which part of my game is the best. It will vary from round to round. I just hope it's all going well next week."

The tournament gets underway unofficially Monday morning with the field combining with Southern Idaho professionals in a pro-am tuneup. The event, based on two low balls per team, will last only one day. Cactus Pete's will host the field at a smorgasbord dinner Monday evening.

Tuesday is qualifying with the medalist to be crowned and the championship match begins Wednesday. The consolation bracket begins play Thursday morning and a "circle" tournament, for second round losers, will be conducted Friday at Blue-Lakes Country Club.

The event winds up with a 36-hole championship final Saturday.

Friedel Closes on Second State Bow Title

Bob Friedel of Pocatello appeared headed for his second straight Idaho Field Archery Association instictive championship Saturday when he fired an 832 in the field and hunter rounds of the state meet at Dierke's Lake.

Gary Willis of Boise held the first day lead in the men's freestyle (using sights) with an 859 total. The tournament will end with a round of animal targets Sunday morning, after which the trophies will be awarded.

Doris Ingard, secretary of the host Ot-Yo-Kwa Bowmen of Twin Falls, was over all leader among instictive women shooters with a 507. Anne Becker of Moscow led in freestyle with a 560.

The closest to Friedel in instictive shooting was Ed Vaughn of Rupert who fired a 790, good for the class B lead. Dale Asher of Burley had a 769 to lead class A instictive.

Two others broke the 800 mark in the freestyle division. They were Roy Bean of Boise with an 842 and Tom Irwin Jr. of Boise with an 814. Bean's 842 was good enough to place him on top of the class B shooters.

No. 2 in the instictive women's division was Mary Jeffs of Burley who shot a 482 and led class B archers.

The leaders after the first day of the state meet are:

Men's Instictive
Overall — Bob Friedel (1065 champ), Pocatello, 832.
Class A — Dale Asher, Burley; 799; Elton Hunsaker, Pocatello; 750; and Lynn Thomas, Buhl, 642.

Class B — Ed Vaughn, Rupert, 700; Wilford Hopkin, Pocatello, 773 and Dave Cook, Boise, 727.

Class C — Bob Kindred, Nampa, 624; Ron Sherer, Boise, 573 and Owen Shaw, 509.

Class D — Jerry Harris, Idaho Falls, 548; Dearl McCullough, Twin Falls, 462 and Carlye Moeller, Jerome, 384.

Men's Freestyle
Overall — Gary Willis, Boise, 859.
Class B — Roy Bean, 842; Tom Irwin Jr., Boise, 814 and Jack Fisher, Boise, 777.
Class C — Ernest Luthy, Idaho Falls, 617 and George Becker, Moscow, 546.
Women's Instictive
Overall — Doris Ingard, Twin Falls, 507.
Class B — Mary Jeffs, Burley, 482; Mary Bladreau, Grand View, 420 and Marie Collins, Boise, 509.

Class D — Sharon Davidson, Rupert, 270; Judith Gutierrez, Burley, 251 and Earlene Towell, Rupert, 187.
Women's Freestyle
Class B — Betty Wecker, Boise, 618; Marie Halverson, Moscow, 604 and Judy Willis, girl with 287.

Orioles Drop Sox 16-6 in 18-Hit Attack

BOSTON (AP) — The American League leading Baltimore Orioles unloaded 18 hits and five homers, including blasts by the Robinson boys, and pounded Boston 16-6 Saturday.

Jim Palmer picked up his seventh victory in 10 decisions as the Orioles maintained their two-game lead over Cleveland with their 11th triumph in the last 13 games.

Frank Robinson, the league's batting and home run leader, drove in four runs, while Brooks and Dave Johnson, who also homered, each collected three RBI. Boog Powell collected a homer, double and a pair of singles. Curt Blefary also homered.

The Orioles jumped on Boston starter Bob Sadowski for four quick runs in the first inning as Russ Snyder singled for the first of his three hits, Frank Robinson drilled his 18th homer, Brooks Robinson singled and Powell cracked his 12th homer. Brooks Robinson, who like Frank has homered in each of Baltimore's four games in Fenway Park this season, lined a three-run shot just inside the right field foul pole for his 12th homer in the fourth.

Hall Homers Twice, Twins Edge Chicago

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Jimmie Hall slammed two homers, driving in five runs, as Minnesota defeated the Chicago White Sox 9-6 Saturday. Hall's first homer, with Cesar Tovar on base with a single, gave the Twins a 2-1 lead in the first inning.

The second blast—Hall's seventh homer of the season—was the big blow of a six-run Minnesota second inning that put the Twins out of range. It came with Tovar on base via a walk and Tony Oliva on by a fielder's choice.

Two other Minnesota runs scored in the second inning on wild pitches, and the sixth run came home on a force play.

Don Mincher hit a solo homer for the Twins in the eighth, and that proved just enough insurance as the White Sox rallied for three runs in the ninth on a two-run single by Jerry Adair and Johnny Romano's run-scoring single.

SPORTS

Brock Leads Cards Past Phillies 3-2

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Lou Brock celebrated his 27th birthday with a tie-breaking homer in the eighth inning that powered the St. Louis Cardinals to a 3-2 victory over Philadelphia Saturday night.

Brock's homer came on the first pitch to him by Roger Craig.

Brock's safe hunt also touched off the Cards' two-run spree off Phillie starter Bob Buhl in the first inning.

After Brock's hit, he stole his 23rd base in 20 attempts this season. Phil Gagliano doubled Brock home, then scored on Curt Flood's infield hit and a double play grounder.

The Phillies' Richie Allen socked his 19th homer in the fourth inning to trim the lead. Philadelphia, 000 100 010-2 7 1

Tigers' Stanley Off Injured List

NEW YORK (AP) — The Detroit Tigers reinstated outfielder Mickey Stanley to the active list Saturday and sent catcher Jackie Moore to Syracuse, the Detroit farm club in the International League.

Nicklaus, still fuming over a slow play feud with PGA officials, snapped back with his first sub-par round — a 69 — and went into third place at 211, four back.

So it was Palmer, Casper and Nicklaus, three of golf's top performers, going into Sunday's climactic round over the tight, tree-framed Olympic lakeside course.

The others were relatively far back after a day of wrangling with the par 70, 372 acre course in almost perfect weather — sunny, temperatures in the 70s and negligible wind.

Tied at 213 were Dave Marr, the PGA champion, who recorded the best round of the day with a 68, and chubby Phil Rodgers, winner of the Buick Open a week ago, with 73.

Then came Rives R. McBee, the unknown assistant pro from Midland, Tex., whose 64 Friday tied the open record, scrambling in with a third round 74 for 214.

Three were tied at 215 — Al Mengert, the first day leader from Tacoma, Wash.; Bob Goalby, and former British Open king Tony Lema.

John M. Iller, the 19-year-old San Francisco amateur, refused to be shaken by a pairing with Nicklaus and fired a steady 74 to finish at 216.

No one was in apparent contention as America's 71-year-old classic neared a showdown.

Defending champion Gary Player of South Africa continued to find his putter ice cold and shot a 74 for 224. Gene Littler, who took a horrendous nine Friday for an 83, rallied for a 72 which placed him with a group of 223.

Ben Hogan, seeking his fifth Open, cut a club course where he lost a bid 11 years ago in a playoff with Jack Fleck, tied visibly in the heat, shooting 75 for 223.

Palmer, booming the ball down the middle of the hourglass fairways in what he said was his best driving exhibition in 10 years, jumped in the lead quickly with a 13-foot birdie putt on the first hole.

He added another bird with a 35-footer at the fifth and moved four strokes ahead of Casper, his playing partner who was struggling with errant irons.

But at the short length, Arnie drove into a trap and missed from 12 feet after his blast-out for a bogey 4.

At the 12th, he drove into the rough, bounced a ball off a tree, hit his third into a bunker and took three to get down for a double bogey 6. He missed another drive at the 14th, bogeying and got a bit edgy.

"I thought my driving might have become unhinged at this point," Palmer said. "I have been driving so superbly in this tournament that I was afraid I might lose it."

However, the millionaire from Latrobe, Pa., hit another tremendous drive on the 14th and got a birdie on eight feet. At the 68-yard 16th he pitched the ball to the green and rolled in a birdie from 30 feet. Most of the pressure was off.

Casper said he had a very exciting round. "It seems I was in the rough all day," he said. "I was in the rough seven times and three times landed in traps."

Nicklaus Has No Trouble Keeping Pace

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The feud over whether big Jack Nicklaus and the U.S. Golf Association had a "trouble" was over Saturday after a one-under par 69 for a 211 and third position after three rounds of the U.S. Open Golf Tournament.

No one bothered us at all. "In fact, they told me I wasn't in the hole," he said, "I was in the hole."

Nicklaus was boiling mad Friday and promptly made four bogey holes in a row after a USA official ordered him to speed up to speed to play. He was playing at that time with Tony Lema and Bruce Devlin.

He strongly criticized the USA for its speed-up policy and accused the group of "ruining my tempo with their speed-up policeman hanging around my back."

He didn't say who the officials were concerned about Friday and declined to comment on the feud.

BLASTING OUT of a sand trap Arnold Palmer lost a stroke Saturday. He later took a double bogey but bounced back with a long birdie putt. (AP wirephoto)

Hornung Inks His Ninth Packer Pact

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Paul Hornung, the Golden Boy of the National Football League, signed Saturday for a ninth season with the Green Bay Packers.

Head Coach and General Manager Vince Lombardi announced the signing.

Hornung had an off season last year when he was plagued by injuries, but the veteran halfback still had his moments of glory.

In one game against the Colts he set a club record by scoring five touchdowns. He also excelled in the NFL championship game at Green Bay when he and fullback Jim Taylor punched holes in the Cleveland line for sizeable gains.

The 30-year-old halfback gained 105 yards in 18 carries and scored one touchdown. In eight seasons, Hornung has scored 730 points on 57 touchdowns, 60 field goals and 100 points after touchdown, ranking him third among active NFL players in scoring.

Pirates Rally Twice to Tip Atlanta 9-6

ATLANTA (AP) — Pittsburgh's Donnie Henderson broke a 1-1 tie with a two-run homer in the sixth inning and Pittsburgh added six insurance runs in the seventh inning, whipping Atlanta 9-6 Saturday night.

The Braves tried to battle back in the eighth when Hank Aaron slapped a two-run homer, his 22nd of the year, and Felipe Alou followed with his second home run of the night and his sixth in the last four games.

Alou now has 17 home runs, all solo blasts.

The homers drove Vern Law from the game after he had held the Braves to six hits over the first seven innings.

Reliever Roy Face was touched for a two-run homer by Gene Oliver, and a single before he finally snuffed out the rally by striking out John Herrnstein.

The Pirates' upping in the seventh dampened the spirits of the 21,003 fans who booed Atlanta's home attendance for the season to 558,242. That surpassed the full-season total of 553,589 that turned out in 1965 in Milwaukee; the Braves' last season there.

Pittsburgh: 000 102 600—9 12 0 Atlanta: 010 000 050—4 11 3 Law, Face (8) and Pagliaro (7); Carroll (7), Umbach (9), Schneider (9) and Oliver (9). Law 3.3, L—Blasingame 3-8. Home runs—Pittsburgh, Henderson (5), Atlanta, Alou 2 (17), Aaron (26), Oliver (1).

Buckpasser Rallies to Win Stakes

STANTON, Del. (AP) — Keeping his bid for the 3-year-old championship alive, Ogden Phipps' Buckpasser captured Saturday's $41,420 Leonard Richards Stakes at Delaware Park, but not before he had shook up his backers.

The son of Tom Fool rallied from far back in the 1 1/4-mile test to take the $28,923 winner's share by three-quarters of a length. King Ranch's Buffalo, second choice in the field of six, was second by the same margin over John M. Schiff's Deck Hand.

Buckpasser, carrying 126 pounds 114 on the other colts, paid $2.60 and $2.20 with Buffalo also returning $2.20 to place. With only five betting interests — Buckpasser and Crossing the T. for a running-mate — there was win and place betting only. Buckpasser was so far back of the pace for a good part of the off that his followers almost gave up on the colt's chances. He was about 10 lengths off the leader on the far side.

Even when they reached the far turn, it seemed doubtful that the favorite could make up the gap. Around the bend leading to the stretch, Hy Front was eight lengths on top and Buckpasser had not indicated he could reach contention.

As they straightened for home, Braulio Baeza found an opening between horses, Buckpasser fairly ate up the ground, as did the sluggish starting Deck Hand, and the leaders faded after six furlongs in 1:10 flat. Charging to the wire, Buckpasser moved to the front with Buffalo providing chief contention and Deck Hand closing stoutly.

FROM ALL ANGLES

BY LARRY HOVEY

Rambling about. Some of the area's top athletes are making their preferences in colleges known these days. We haven't heard a report on several, but here are some.

Ron Addison, the stick-out in every thing at Gooding, has announced for the University of Idaho. Ned Williams, the Southern Idaho Conference's leading basketball scorer, is leaning heavily toward Boise College. "I don't want to say definitely yet," smiles Ned, "but it looks like I'll be going there."

Mike Matthews, Declo, a standout in three sports, will probably go to Boise College, too. Matthews can help the school in a couple-three sports. Leonard Bay, Gooding's top defensive end, has accepted aid at Treasure Valley College, Ontario.

Idaho grabbed all-state guard Wally Hodrick, Twin Falls. The 105-pounder also was an All-Southern Idaho Conference choice, too.

Twin Falls pole vaulting phenom Scott Cryder equalled the state record last week in an all-comers meet in Boise, clearing 10 feet, 6 inches. It was the first time the youngster had a pole in his hands since the state finals. But he found out how it was to lose for a change. An Oregon prester beat him by a foot. Cryder still has two years left to catch up, though.

Area track men interested in running this summer can get into all-comers meets at Idaho Falls each Thursday night—enough sufficient interest is shown and Twin Falls Recreation Director Chad Browning reminds his department they will sponsor another here in July.

Idaho Fish and Game Department officials aren't real happy with the goose situation on Mormon Reservoir. Of nine nests counted on a census earlier this year, eight have been abandoned due to fisherman harassment—not willful destruction, just being around too much. There's a chance the department may close a portion of the reservoir entirely next year until the broods are safely brought off. This might amount to a two or three week delay. Also, with a short water year facing the area there's a chance the department might do some trout-fish-eradication this fall. Nothing concrete in the works yet, but the department is aware that this might prove the most economically feasible year to come along for another 20.

Ducks Unlimited of Canada reports a "strange upward trend" in waterfowl breeding populations in the province this year. It says the number of breeding ducks is still below the peak years of the mid-1950s but good production appears in sight.

Water conditions remain good throughout the area except for a small area in Southcentral Alberta.

Ducks Unlimited was particularly happy to report "increases in number of breeding mallard and pintail in each of the prairie provinces."

Each year the boys from the lowlands, around the coast particularly, come into Magic Valley thinking they're in good enough shape to play baseball. Then the 3,800 foot altitude begins taking its toll. It doesn't take long.

Adams Supala, born and raised four blocks from Watkitt beach in Honolulu, says "one time around the bases and I thought I was going to strangle. I was fanning for air." He passed that information along to Gary Strom, a Saturday newcomer, but Strom won't have the problem. He's been at Pullman all year, somewhat lower but still closer to this altitude.

But the lowlanders also find the sting somewhat eased when they see the way a batted baseball carries in the thinner air. Some pitchers, but not all, complain that their curves don't break as well here as they do at sea level.

Also, the boys from the south find the climate too dry. The local heat really gets to them.

a public workout will be conducted from 4 to 7 p.m. Sunday, offering most area fans their first opportunity to see the club. It included only 12 members through Saturday afternoon but is expected to show daily growth. H. Koepf announced that the San Francisco Giants No. 1 draft choice, a left-handed pitcher, will arrive in Twin Falls Monday.

Koepf said Dick Wilson, now a Giant scout and last year's manager here, will arrive in Twin Falls Sunday morning and assist in the afternoon workout. Wilson has been in Seattle signing Reynolds, who is the Giants' top choice.

Arriving Saturday were Gary Strom, a 5-foot, 11-inch, 176-pound infielder out of Washington State University, and Lloyd Christopher, a 5-10, 175-pound outfielder from Richmond, Calif.

DeSousa will be remembered as an infielder for the Cowboys as a year ago. He was injured prior to the opening of the season and didn't play much ball the first four weeks. DeSousa opened this spring with Decatur and then was shifted to Lexington. He was hitting .410-18 for 35-when he was sent here. Matthews is a strong-armed pitcher.

Under the new rules of the Pioneer League, a shortage of players created by the Viet Nam War, each team will be allowed to carry five men who are not actually first-year players. However, none of the five may have played more than 50 days.

Koepf expressed his satisfaction with the work of the boys while the boys, most of them coming from California and low altitude areas, are wondering where the oxygen is in Twin Falls.

"We've been concentrating on hitting," Koepf reports. Of course, we almost have to, since we don't have a full team. As a regular lineup and we can start going deeper into actual game conditions."

Koepf has had the boys out four hours per day, stressing all the individual things such as base running. "Every day we go over it again," he continued. "For the benefit of the newcomers and review of the boys who've been here all the time."

The batting of Charles Peet, first baseman-pitcher and Adam Supala, the Hawaiian catcher, from the left side drew comment from Koepf. "We have some pitchers who are swinging the bat very well," he added. "At this stage, though, it's natural since they've been getting as much batting practice as the others. In a couple of years, when they get into the batting cage only a couple of times a week, the hitters will move ahead of them. But for right now I'm pleased with the way they stay in there."

BASE RUNNING instruction is demonstrated by Manager Harvey Koepf to the Magic Valley Cowboys, currently tuning up for their Pioneer League opener at Idaho Falls Saturday. Koepf indicated he wants a running game and expects all runners to "press" their luck rather than run conservatively. (Times-News photo)

Shoshone Gun Club Slates Annual Shoot

HAILEY — The 18th annual Pow Wow of Shoshone Indians will be held at Sun Valley June 28-30 and July 1.

The Sun Dance singles, with 100 targets, will be the main event for the sharpshooters the first day.

The Buffalo doubles, with 100 targets for the 50 pair.

The War Pony handicap, with 100 targets at 19 to 25 yards will highlight the third day's events and the fourth day will be the Shoshone Handicap, also with 100 targets at 19 to 25 yards, will conclude the trap shoot.

Trophies for the main events will be on display each day and winners will claim them on the day they win.

Colorful teepees for the celebration by the 257 members of the club will be pitched on Sun Valley's spacious lawn.

Milton Schaefer, Bellvue, whose Indian name is "High Chief Shoots Many" will preside at the Pow-Wow and his wife Beulah "High Chief Squaw" will be in charge of other squaws of the tribe.

In addition to activities at the trap shooting grounds there will be a tribal breakfast June 29, the annual harvest supper

Rasmussen Drives T.F. Past Tooele

Gary Rasmussen's lead-off homer in the bottom of the 11th inning lifted Twin Falls American Legion team past Tooele, Utah, 4-3 Friday night.

Rasmussen's linedrive shot carried the fence at the 320-foot mark and gave the lay-out right-hander Brad Shields, Twin Falls' Duane Pressnell took the victory in relief, taking over for starter Grant Simonds when Tooele tied the game 3-3 on Larry Brown's triple in the eighth.

Four Twin Falls errors staked Tooele to a 1-0 lead in the first inning, Frank Park bringing the tally across. The home team took the lead in the second frame when Gary Simpson lived on an error and Scott Swope singled. Steve Soran sacrificed the men along and both scored on Terry McNew's wrongfield hit.

Twin Falls added another in the third when Steve Feasel lived on a fielder's choice and rode in on Simpson's safety.

Tooele got one back in the fourth on Brown's single and a Bruce White double and then tied it in the eighth, setting the stage for Rasmussen's heroics.

Arizona Man Spots Thief At Ball Game

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — It was the first time Dean L. Maughan, a school teacher from Mesa, Ariz., had ever been in Kansas City and his first time at a major league baseball game.

Waiting for the Kansas City-California game to start Friday night, Maughan looked around the stands — and saw Frank Moulder, 31, of Mesa.

Maughan said the last time he saw Moulder was April 29 in Mesa. Maughan was trying to sell a car. Moulder took the car for a trial spin and didn't come back, Maughan said.

A policeman at the ball park took Maughan to headquarters. Moulder was held on a grand theft warrant issued in Mesa.

Maughan's missing car was found in the stadium parking lot.

Emerson Takes Net Crown on Default

LONDON (AP) — An ankle injury forced Australia's Tony Roche to default his singles final Saturday with Roy Emerson, handing his favored countryman the Lofdon Tennis Championship for the fourth straight year. France's Francois Durr captured the women's final, defeating Judy Torgert of Australia 6-4.

Reds Strike In Eighth to Nip Mets 5-4

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds struck for three runs in the eighth inning on Deron Johnson's homer and can win the NL East by beating the New York Mets 5-4 Saturday.

The Reds, battling to hold onto eighth place over the Mets, trailed 3-2 going into the eighth. Johnson tied it with a two-out homer. Cincinnati then loaded the bases on a single by John Edwards, a bunt single by Leo Cardenas and a walk to Jim Maloney.

Solma then forced in the tie-breaking run by issuing a walk to Tommy Harper and Ellers came in and gave the Reds a run that turned out to be the clincher by issuing a walk to Pete Rose.

The victory, snapping a three-game Cincinnati losing streak, went to Maloney. He is now 8-2.

Soviet Track Team Defeats British Squad

LONDON (AP) — Russia's track and field team defeated Britain in both men's and women's competition in a two-day meet which ended Saturday at White City Stadium.

The Soviet men won 134.87 and the women 71.53.

The Russians will meet the United States at Los Angeles, July 23-24.

The Soviet men won nine of the 11 events Saturday while the women added the British girls 4-2 on the final day.

Lynn Davies, the Olympic champion, took the broad jump with 25-feet-8 1/2 to 25-3 1/2 for runner-up Leonid Barkovskiy. Britain's John Boulter captured the 800-meter run in 1:46.5, a United Kingdom all-comers' record, led after three rounds in the 72-hole Milwaukee Jaycoo Open.

Kathy's 2nd Total was two under par for 54 holes. Her closest pursuer was Sandra Haynie, year by year by winning the pole vault with a 214 after matching par 70 Saturday.

Thomsen Is Medalist in Junior Meet

"My 12-year-old son made a proud father of me today," exclaimed Clyde Thomsen, professional at the Twin Falls Municipal Golf Course, Friday after his young golfer fired a 77 through 18 holes to win junior clinic tournament medalist honors.

Included in young Jeff Thomsen's conquest was the age group 14 and over, as well as his own, 11-13. Thomsen's closest competitor was Gary Hulbert who fired a 72 in the 14 and over group. Next in line were three in the upper group who fired 75. The group included Jeff's oldest brother, Curt.

The closest in Jeff's age group was Mark Dadds who shot an 85. The tournament culminated a two-week clinic which the senior Thomsen conducts each year for junior golfers. This year Thomsen said he taught about 100 kids out for the clinic, and gave five lessons for each age group—10 and under boys and girls, 11-13 boys and girls, and over boys and girls.

The results of the tournament, by age group, are as follows: 14 and over boys—Gary Hulbert 72; Mark Stout, Curt Thomsen and Mike Thorpe 75. Stout won a sudden death playoff for second, Thomsen was third and Thorpe took fourth.

14 and over girls (nine holes)—Jeanne Bergoyne 61; Karen Schultz 63; Delana Crockett 67 and Debby Thompson 69.

11-13 boys—Jeff Thomsen 71; Mark Dadds 85; Mark Rupert 86 and Larry Harvey 100.

10 and under boys (nine holes)—Kevin Packard 40; Gary Duncan 50; Lance Undheim 52 and Greg Conrad 58.

10 and under girls (four holes)—Rosemary Conner 37; Delana Schultz 44; Betty Siddaway 58 and Janice Koch 71.

Mark Stout, for the second year in a row, won the "Big Kids" derby which was held Saturday afternoon for the 10 year qualifiers in the junior clinic tournament. Robert Langdon came in second and Mike Thorpe third.

Dr. R. W. Packard donated prizes for the derby, presenting $20 in merchandise to the winner, $10 for place and $5 for show.

Hedevar Equals World Mile Mark

CHICAGO (AP) — Hedevar, owned by Mrs. Edith Bancroft of New York, equaled the world record for a mile while winning the $35,050 Equiptoise Mile at Arlington Park Saturday.

Hedevar, ridden by Walter Blum, was timed in 1:33.1-5 to tie the record shared by Pia St. Intenquilly and Swana Pia St. Intenquilly in last year's Equiptoise.

Taking the lead at the start from the outside post position in the field of 11, Hedevar led all the way. He went the quarters in 22.3-5, 49 and 1:08.5-5 over the track that was not at its best. The track was sloppy for the morning workouts.

Fords Control First Half of Le Mans Race

LE MANS, France (AP) — Ford swept into the first six positions, all but wiping out its Ferrari rivals, at the halfway mark of the 24-hour Le Mans auto racing classic Sunday morning. Four seven-liter Fords led the field, with Ken Miles of Hollywood, Calif., and Denis Hulme of New Zealand in front. Dan Gurney of Costa Mesa, Calif., and Jerry Grant of Santa Ana, Calif., were in second place. Bruce McLaren and Chris Amon, both of New Zealand, in third, and Ronnie Bucknum of La Canada, Calif., and Dick Hutcherson of Keokuk, Iowa, in fourth.

Astro 17-Hit Attack Drops Chicago 13-5

CHICAGO (AP) — The Houston Astros bombed the Chicago Cubs with a 17-hit barrage, including John Bateman's three-run homer, and romped to a 13-5 victory Saturday. The onslaught began in the second inning off Bill Hands when Rusty Staub led off with his No. 8 homer and later in the inning Bateman homered No. 10 into the stands.

Freehan Bats Tigers Past Yankees 4-3

NEW YORK (AP) — Bill Freehan's second run-scoring single of the game drove home Willie Horton in the eighth inning and gave Detroit a 4-3 victory over the New York Yankees Saturday.

Horton led off the eighth with a double, his third hit, against reliever Pedro Ramos and went to third on Jim Northrup's fly ball. Freehan then singled to right field, breaking the 3-3 deadlock.

Freehan also singled in Horton in the sixth inning when the Tigers scored two runs for a 3-2 lead.

Two of the hits were homers by Ron Santo. He smashed a three-run shot in the first inning and a bases-empty shot in the sixth to run his total to 15 and stretch his hitting streak through 36 games—matching the longest in the National League this season.

L.A., Koufax Snap Giants' Win Skein 3-2

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sandy Koufax pitched a four-hitter for his 12th victory of the season as the Los Angeles Dodgers snapped San Francisco's six-game winning streak 3-2 Saturday night.

Tommy Davis broke a 1-1 tie with a sixth-inning single and Jim Lefebvre clouted a homer in the seventh, helping Koufax, 12-2, beat the National League leaders for the third straight time this year.

Tommy Davis also singled home a first-inning Dodger run off loser Ray Sadecki, 3-5, who allowed three runs and six hits before being lifted for a pinch hitter in the eighth.

Koufax walked two and struck out 10. He lost a shutout in the fourth inning when Jim Davenport tied the game with a homer, his fifth of the year and the Giants' first hit.

The Giants scored their second run in the ninth when Willie Mays walked, raced to third on Jim Hart's single and came across on Willie McCovey's sacrifice fly.

San Francisco 600 100 001-2 4 6. Los Angeles 100 001 01X-3 6 2. Sadecki, Henry (8) and Dietz; Koufax and Rosenberg, W. — Koufax 12-2. 1—Sadecki 3-5.

Home runs — San Francisco, Davenport (5). Los Angeles, Lefebvre (14).

CALDWELL — Caldwell dropped Twin Falls Legion team twice Saturday night in the second time of play in a no-hit performance by Miles Garman.

Mallory held Twin Falls to three hits in posting a 6-2 decision in the first game. In the second, Garman fanned the first nine men he faced and allowed only one Twin Falls runner to reach third base.

Caldwell broke through with three runs in the fifth to ruin Steve Sharp's solid three-hit hurling.

Native Diver Ends Race Slump

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Native Diver burst out of a racing slump at Hollywood Park Saturday, winning the $58,150 Inglewood Handicap for the third time.

The Diver, beaten in three previous stakes engagements at the meeting, easily stormed home ahead of Sledge, with Argentine-bred Tronado, last year's Inglewood winner, third.

Native Diver, packing high weight of 125 pounds and ridden by Jerry Lambert, hit the wire six lengths in front of Sledge, the second choice in the betting, who was a length ahead of Tronado.

Bauer Says Orioles Have Best Offense

BOSTON (AP) — Hank Bauer figures the current edition of the Baltimore Orioles is the best offensive club in his three years as manager, and it's no secret that the wrecking team of Frank and Brooks Robinson is the big reason.

The R and R slugging twins zeroed in on Fenway Park's chummy left field and cracked homers accounting for all Baltimore runs Friday night as the American League leaders defeated the Red Sox 5-3.

"They certainly have given us the big punch in the No. 3 and 4 spots," Bauer said after Frank hit his 17th homer with one runner on, and Brooks nailed down the decision with a three-run blast.

"They're really tough, especially in this ball park," Boston Manager Billy Herman said in praising the Robinsons. "A pitcher can put the ball right where he wants, and those guys will knock it out."

Frank, who leads the league in batting at .344, tied Boston's George Scott for the home run leadership by hitting a tremendous shot into the screen in left center after Russ Snyder singled in the third.

The homers were the third in three games in Fenway Park for the Robinsons this year.
