Mrs. Sena, 40, Dies of Heart Attack

Mrs. Lucy Fierro Senna, 40, Twin Falls, died of a heart attack Saturday at the home of a friend in Twin Falls.

She was born in February, 1926, at Greeley, Colo., and was a member of the Buhl Catholic Church.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Deloris Martinez and Sandra Padilla, both Twin Falls; five sons, Angel Stevens, Washington; Ernestine Padilla, Josslo. Padilla. David Sena and Samuel Sena, all Twin Falls; one brother, Fredorick Florro, Tuscon, Ariz.; one sister, Mary Ann Gomes, Los Angeles, Calif., and two grandchildren.

Rosary will be recited at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at White Mortuary. Requiem mass will be celebrated at 10 a.m. Wednesday at the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church, Buhr, with Rev. Jerome O'Connor.

3 Injured in

Two Separate Auto Mishaps

Three persons were slightly injured in two separate collisions in Twin Falls County Sunday, according to Twin Falls County Sheriff James H. Ben-

The first accident occurred at 10 a.m. one half mile east of Castleford. Benham said the accident occurred when a 1954 Pontiac driven by Ronald E. Cannon, 33, Raleigh, went east on CRANER, 27, Buhl, went out of control, left the highway, struck a power pole and then traveled an additional 105 feet before coming to a stop.

Judy Durnell, 23, Filer Avenue, was slightly injured in the wreck, but did not require treatment. Cranor was issued a citation for failure to have his vehicle under control.

In the second accident, Mrs. Lena Anderson, 58, and Mrs. Hana Bowles, 68, both Burley, were slightly injured, but did not require hospitalization.

The accident occurred at 1:20 p.m. at Main Street and Center Street, Kimberly.

Benham said the collision occurred when a vehicle driven by Roman L. Lozana, 29, Twin Falls Labor Camp, ran into a vehicle driven by Thorval Anderson, 64, Burley. Benham said the Lozana vehicle began to make a left turn in front of Anderson's auto and collided with it. Lozana was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way.

Four other passengers in Lozana's vehicle were not injured, and the two injured women were passengers in Anderson's car.

Chinese Head Continues Romania Tour

BUCHAREST, Romania (AP)—Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai continued his tour of southern Romania today after an unexpected day of political talks with Romanian leaders in his tour-strewn Black Sea resort.

Chou was closeted with Romanian Communist party chief Nicolae Ceausescu and Premier Ion Gheorghe Maurer at a government guest house here Sunday for what officials described as an impromptu continuation of discussions of international problems.

Western newsmen accompanying Chou and Ceausescu were told the exchanges in Bucharest—and Eforie—had been "successful," but Romanian officials declined to disclose details.

A high-ranking Communist source said the two delegations dealt with "every subject of common interest," apparently including the Chinese-Soviet feud, the current purges in China and the Viet Nam crisis.

Asked whether a possible mediation effort had been discussed to end the Viet Nam war, a Romanian official said: "Our position on this matter is well-known. Since we support North Viet Nam and the National Liberation Front, we shall be ready to offer our services if our allies demand it."

The premier was due to return to Bucharest Tuesday to resume formal talks with Ceausescu. He leaves Bucharest Friday, presumably for his announced visit to Albania.

Grants Given to Jerome District

BOISE (AP)—Two anti-poverty grants to an Idaho school district and a Nampa committee were approved by Gov. Robert E. Smylie Friday. Jerome Joint School District 201 will receive $14,480 for a remedial program for 80 elementary school children in the Wendell and Jerome areas.

And $13,251 will go to the Nampa Community Committee to coordinate anti-poverty programs in the area and to survey the needs of Canyon County.

Fugitive Is Killed in Gun Battle

DONALSONVILLE, Ga. (AP)—A fugitive sought in the fatal shooting of two women and the wounding of a state agent and two others was tracked down in a farm pasture and shot to death in a gun battle with officers late Sunday.

The man was tentatively identified as R. L. Williams, an itinerant odd job worker.

Sheriff Dan White said officers tracking the Negro fugitive with dogs through sometimes dense and swampy forestland, caught up with him in a pasture about 16 hours after the women were killed.

The sheriff said the man opened fire on the pursuing officers with a single-shot shotgun, rapidly shooting and reloading. The pursuing officers fired with a variety of weapons—shotguns, rifles and pistols—and the man fell dead, shot through the head.

Authorities threw more than 100 men, two airplanes and a helicopter into the intensive manhunt after two Donalsonville women were found shot to death.

About two hours later, an agent for the Georgia Bureau of Investigation and a prison inmate handling bloodhounds were shot and wounded when officers surrounded a man about three miles west of here.

AUTHOR DIES—NEW YORK (AP)—Eugene Gilbert, 40, author of the AP Newsfeatures column, "What Young People Think," died of a heart attack Saturday night at Beth Israel Hospital.

Ed Wynn, Veteran Actor, Dies in Hollywood at Age 79

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Ed Wynn, the "Perfect Fool" whose 64 years as a performer brought him triumph in every phase of show business, died Sunday at 79.

Death came at 7:45 a.m. The cause was not immediately determined. But Wynn underwent an operation six months ago for removal of a tumor from his neck. The tumor was discovered to be malignant, and the comedian had been in ill health since then.

Wynn's actor-son Keenan was making arrangements for a funeral. It was disclosed the body would be cremated.

Wynn's slightly high-pitched voice, mad costumes and nonsensical manner brought him fame as a vaudeville and later as a star on Broadway. He performed in silent movies and was one of the first great stars of radio as "The Fire Chief." He also starred in the early days of television.

Then his career seemed to fade. He recalled: "As I neared my 70th year, I was told I could not get work as a comedian. The men who ran the television shows said the 'trend' was against comedy, that the people wanted drama for their entertainment."

"I was depressed. I felt that I had been passed by. My son, Keenan, and others urged me to keep active. I was offered a serious role in a movie. The 'Great Man.' I was hesitant because I had never played a dramatic role in my life. But I did it."

"The results were beyond my wildest dreams. I found myself being hailed by the critics as a dramatic find and I was sought by major film and television producers for film and serious roles. I was also in demand as a comedian, earning as much money as a guest star on television as had ever been given."

Wynn was born Edwin Leopold on Nov. 9, 1888, in Philadelphia where his father was a hat manufacturer. Wynn made his acting debut at the age of 16 in 1902, appearing with the Thurner-Masher Repertory Company. He played with it for 21 weeks until it disbanded in Bangor, Maine.

"I wanted to be an actor as early as 9 or 10 years of age," he recalled late in life. "I used to play hookey from school to watch a vaudeville show. I ran away from home three days when I was 13, to go with a medicine show."

"My father, who was neither a socialist nor wealthy, disapproved me in 1902 because he was a businessman in Philadelphia. He didn't want me to disgrace his name."

He dropped the Leopold and separated his first name to read Ed Wynn.

He went into vaudeville and formed a team with one Jack Lewis. But it was soon apparent that he was to go his own way in the entertainment field as he developed his own style. He wrote his own material, jokes and songs and presented himself as a bubbling, slightly insane funny man.

By 1913, Wynn had reached the peak of achievement in vaudeville, the Palace in New York, Florenz Ziegfeld caught Wynn's act and signed him for the Ziegfeld Follies of 1914. Wynn continued on Broadway with such shows as "Doing Our Bit," "Ed Wynn Carnival," "Over the Top," "The Denon and the Lady," "The Perfect Fool"—which became his bill.

ED WYNN

Wynn's outward gaiety was in contrast to his personal life. He experienced two intensely unhappy marriages. He never wrote his memoirs because of this.

"My whole private life was sad," Wynn once said. "That's why I don't want to write it. I don't want to go over it again."

In 1914 Wynn married Mildred Keenan, daughter of actor Frank Keenan. They had one son, Keenan. Their marriage ended in divorce in 1937.

In the same year Wynn married Frieda Merse. That marriage also ended in divorce in 1939. In 1946 he wed Dorothy Elizabeth Nesbitt.

Again divorce followed. In 1950 Wynn died at his home.

ing thereafter. "Laugh Parade" and "Hooray for What." In 1926, he starred in the silent movie, "Rubber Heels," and he also appeared in a few early talkies. But his biggest impact on the general public came in 1932, when he appeared on radio as a fire chief. His wit, heightened comedy captured the nation.

During World War II, Wynn devoted much of his energies to entertaining troops and helping to raise funds for Red Cross war bonds and other drives. In 1946 he returned briefly to radio as the fire chief.

He entered television during his early days and his comedy show was the first to be sent from Hollywood to the East.

Among his films were "The Gaily Geese," "Dear Brigitte," "My Poppin'," "Those Crazy Callaways" and "The Greatest Story Ever Told." His greatest triumph as an actor came with his nomination for an Academy Award for his performance as the dentist in "The Diary of Anne Frank."

Cuban Unit Notes Riots

HAVANA (AP)—The Cuban-backed "tricontinental" revolutionary organization took note Sunday of rioting by Puerto Ricans in Chicago last week and charged that the U.S. government was suppressing them. At the same time it assailed the treatment of nonwhites in South Africa.

A statement on the Puerto Ricans denounced what it called "repressions committed against the Puerto Rican people in their own country as well as on North American territory."

It expressed support of elements in Puerto Rico demanding independence from the United States.

As for the South Africans, the organization issued a call for demonstrations throughout the world next Sunday in a show of solidarity with those imprisoned by South Africa's white government.

Your Spine and Your Health
By Dr. Ludwig C. Landwehr

Neuritis is a severe irritation of the nerve with inflammation and usually causes severe pain. Temporary relief, gained by sedatives and "give-the-sufferer a false feeling of security, while the inflammatory process may go on and involve more nerve tissue."

Neuritis should be treated immediately by proper methods that react to the cause of the condition which is usually near or at the spine—and therefore can most often be corrected by adjustment of the spine and adjacent tissue to restore proper nerve transmission, tissue balance and resulting healing of inflamed nerve fibers. Because it is a degenerative ailment, which can until its cause has been corrected, progress to the worse, it should be treated without delay. Recreation Unlimited

Some Idahoans have hoped wistfully for years that the Gem State could have a national park within its boundaries. They have pointed at the Sawtooth region as the best possibility. However, a good many of the Sawtooth area's residents and property owners don't agree, for obvious reasons. They would like the district to remain pretty much as it is. But heavy recreational use of Sawtooth Valley and the increasing emphasis on summer homes have resulted in marked changes in Sawtooth Valley in recent years. There have been some undesirable developments and construction that detract from the general scenic beauty instead of blending into the surroundings. Under present arrangements there is no way to prevent these detractors. It's clear to some persons that indefinite growth along the present course would result in much greater development along lines that aren't desirable.

These persons with a vested interest in Sawtooth Valley went all-out in favor of a Recreation Area designation, as opposed to the park concept, at hearings held at Sun Valley last week. However, many of them would prefer that jurisdiction over Sawtooth Valley would remain unchanged. Quite simply, they chose the Recreation Area designation as the lesser of two evils. The park proposal received little support, perhaps because it would end all activities in the Sawtooth area except recreation. One of the telling arguments against creating a park was pointed out by the Fish and Game Department. A park would end one form of recreation—hunting—probably creating an abundance of game over a few years that would bring a new problem into the area.

At any rate, evidence in favor of a Recreation Area as opposed to a park was quite overwhelming at the Sun Valley hearings. Presumably the senators conducting the hearing will be guided by the opinions they heard. There should be no more question about the area's future so far as area residents are concerned. There's little doubt that a Sawtooth Recreation Area, managed by the Forest Service, would result in greater appropriations for development of recreational possibilities. At the same time, non-recreational uses in Sawtooth Valley could continue without damage. Actually, there's little, if any, competition between recreation and any of the other pursuits followed in Sawtooth Valley. For the most part, vacationers are scarcely aware of the lumbering, mining and livestock interests.

So far as Idaho having a national park is concerned, possibilities are rather slim outside the Sawtooth-Mountain area. But part of Idaho is included within the boundaries of Yellowstone National Park and there's no reason why there shouldn't be an Idaho entrance to Yellowstone Park. Idahoans might be interested in pursuing the matter. It should be possible to provide an Idaho entrance from the vicinity of Cave Falls up the Beecher River and down the headwaters of the Firehole River to Old Faithful. The road would open up a scenic area that few persons have ever visited.

Reaping the Harvest

The United States is reaping the harvest of all those years of so-called progressive education in the public schools. Last fall, the American Council on Education surveyed university freshmen in 61 colleges to find out what work they planned for later years. A news release the other day disclosed the students chose such pursuits as housewife, salesman, business, writer, sociology, archeology, teacher, engineering, linguist, architect and (horror!) journalism.

There was a time when it was assumed automatically that a college freshman knew how to spell. Obviously, some of them can't. Moreover, many of those who can't spell don't even know how to go about using a dictionary, thus complicating their problem. One can only hope that enough good spellers are salvaged to keep the nation on a somewhat literate level until another wave of youngsters can take over the spelling chores.

With all the emphasis on the "Progressiveness" of the educational system that turned out poor spellers for so many years, it would appear there should be something to counter-balance the lack of spelling ability. If so, it isn't clearly obvious. Basically, the ability to read and spell well is essential to all other education. Visual and audio aids and practices can't be substituted. Frustrated businessmen who spend a good deal of time correcting stenographic spelling would testify there still is no substitute for the old methods of teaching spelling.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

By ANDREW TULLY
WASHINGTON—Government snooping on the private lives of the citizenry would become a fine, sinister, computerized art in a proposal submitted by a Budget Bureau consultant in a memo to Edgar S. Dunn, Jr., I do not know. But I am terrified at his apparent suggestion that a man's private life be dissected on the altar of efficiency.
That is the dangerous word in Dunn's proposal, because Americans have a kind of outrageous awe for efficiency and tend to go along with any proposal that promises a better job for less money. But the Inquisition was efficient, and so were Hitler's secret police.

WHOLE LIFE ON ELECTRIC BLIPS—What Dunn wants is a consolidated data center—another good word—to keep all information on the lives and deaths of the American people. Dunn says there is now too much waste and duplication in the government's record-keeping. He wants our various bureaucrats to be able to compare notes on Joseph E. Donkey's apartment back in 1937, how much Donkey earned in 1962, and, maybe, the police account of Donkey's first fight with a harpoon creep in 1959. And, of course, the snooper will be able to savor the details of Donkey's flirtation with a leftist campus group during his college days.
No matter what fancy language is used to describe it, this proposal has a nasty sound. Dunn's report to the Budget Bureau notes, for example, that information developed by individual agencies would be turned over to the data center "in full available detail... without screening for confidentiality." He mourns the fact that a great deal of "valuable" information is lost now because confidences are kept.

MAN'S CASTLE IS UNION STATION—But under our system, confidences are made to be kept. I cannot see why a billion or so punch cards on income tax returns should be made available to every nosy clerk who might want to pick up some juicy gossip about a neighbor. Nor does it make sense to open the records on the Office of Education's survey of the family backgrounds of some 300,000 college students. Who authorized that smelly survey, anyway?
There is also the raw, unperfected intelligence harvested every day by such trustful agencies as the FBI and the CIA and in recent years by self-appointed guardians of the public morals in the White House. Along with Rep. Cornelius Gallagher, D-N.J., I maintain that the man who pushes the button on the computer is just as much of a national concern as the man who pushes the H-bomb button. On the record, neither politicians nor government bureaucrats should be trusted with any new opportunity for blackmail.

WHAT ARE PROMISES AMONG BUREAUCRATS? Moreover, Dunn's report would not only encourage but require certain government agencies to break their contracts with the citizenry. Most of the information in the files that these agencies are accumulating on the citizenry would be held confidential within the agency. It should not now be made available to other agencies, research organizations, corporations and labor unions, as Dunn suggests.
Dunn deplores that the issue is whether the citizen can trust his government to respect his rights of privacy. On the record, the answer is hell no. Over the years, so-called "Confidential" reports on private persons have been bandied about from agency to agency, and data on file detector tests are regularly exchanged by government personnel officials.
Gallagher and Sen. Edward V. Long, D-Mo., have been coming out on this matter. It should be a hard look indeed. So far as I know, nobody in government, starting with Lyndon Johnson, has been elected God.

SALMON STUDY URGENT
The strange increase in salmon moving up the Columbia River this spring points up the urgent need of a penetrating study of the entire migrating fish culture.

In the wake of last year's near-record low dam escapement on the lower Columbia, the new record for escapement over Ice Harbor dam, the last hurdle for salmon to overcome before entering Idaho, is completely mystifying. Not enough is known about what happens to the salmon in the ocean, the sea, the bay, or a great concentration of worry on the part of a challenge in getting by the dam on the Columbia to the Idaho spawning beds... and back again to the ocean through the big reservoirs where the salmon sometimes seem to get lost.
Fortunately, federal and tri-state fisheries management experts are making a study of the Columbia River through 1968... but it appears this study is focused on the dam passage problems (turnoffs on tributary streams and death of fish from injuries and other causes). The more profound examination of the ocean culture not included. Nor has there been any serious examination regarding salmon fishing in the ocean.

And still another threat is on the horizon. That is the Southwest designs on exporting water from the Columbia or the Snake. If ever this comes to pass, and the consumptive uses of water are added to the primary industry, the biggest problem could be an adequate amount of water for fish migration during key periods of the year.
In view of the record 36,039 escapement at Ice Harbor this spring, 2,000 more than the previous record, hopes should be high in Idaho in salmon. Actual records show that the salmon in the Columbia, 1938, 1942 and 1944, were somewhat less than last year's long time low. But we will finally lose our way, like some of the radar-less salmon in the big reservoirs, if we don't press an ocean-to-spawning bed study on the salmon.
And in final consideration, the commercial and Indian fisheries will have to finally hang their fate on a sufficient number of salmon each year in Idaho's spawning beds—Idaho Falls Post-Register.

POLLUTION IS COSTLY
Would a sane man pollute himself? But can one describe a society as sane when it pollutes its water and air, as the United States has been doing for so long in the name of "Progress"? The President has called for major new efforts to "restore" a "clean environment" for Americans—clean streams and clean air. The Senate bill which the primary industry is so averse but is tied up in the House, along with several other important measures.
Economists, as the President says, estimate that pollution costs Americans billions of dollars every year. The comparatively small amount of money for will represent a wise investment in our own heritage. —Anderson (S. C.) Independent.

The Doctor Says

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M. D.

The inability of some married couples (an estimated 10 per cent) to have children is a source of bitter disappointment. An even greater sorrow is felt by those who lose an only child and are unable to have any more. If the problem, two courses are open to you, either of which can be very rewarding.
You can apply to your county welfare department to be foster parents or you can adopt a child. Some couples who act as foster parents grow to love the child so much that they later adopt him. Whichever course you choose, you must want very much to share your love with a child—wonder need for love is very great and the desire to take the child into your home and heart must not come from one foster parent but from both.
—In fairness to the child you should never take this step to try to patch up a shaky marriage. Don't forget that the child has no voice in this decision and that he is the one who will suffer most if the love you thought you could give him fails.
If either adoptive parent is over 45, the step must be weighed carefully because, even with the best of intentions, you may find keeping up with an infant's needs too exhausting, that the noise of a crying baby is intolerable or that the worries involved are taking too much out of you. Furthermore, the chances that you will live to see him cast his first vote, although good, are not as good as with younger parents.
These are some of the reasons that foster care and adoption agencies are so cautious in screening prospective parents. Surveys have shown that adoptions are much more successful when they are screened by a responsible agency. The emotional maturity and the success of the marriage, which is found to be more important than the educational level, religion, or economic status of the prospective parents.
Another factor in any successful adoption is a strong belief in the agency of whether it can be successfully proved that the environment is more important than heredity in bringing up a child.
Once you have adopted him should you tell him he is adopted? Most authorities agree that he should be told when he reaches the age of 4 or 5 but the telling must be casual, preferably in answer to his questions. A brief, simple explanation should be given without any show of anxiety over his reaction. Many an adopted child is proud to have been "selected" rather than "unconsciously dumped" into a household.

Capital Report

By WILLIAM RYAN

A behind-scenes struggle appears to have broken out and within the Politburo of the North Vietnamese Communist party, possibly revolving about reported new approaches to peace negotiations.
For the first time in three years, the controlled party press in Hanoi has re-entered the arena of the world Communist feud, and has by implication assailed Soviet policy.

If, as is generally suspected, a hard-line last-ditch element is in control of the Hanoi Politburo, the development last week might reflect sharp suspicion of Soviet motives with regard to the Viet Nam conflict. It might also signify fear on the part of the dominant faction that it could lose its slim margin of control.

For some time, the Hanoi party and government carefully straddled the fence between the bellicose Chinese Communists who seemed to want to fight to the last Vietnamese, and the cautious Russians, appearing anxious to defuse a potential general war situation in Southeast Asia.

Now, for the first time since 1963, the Hanoi press has turned again to indirect castigation of the Soviet Communists. The leading newspaper, Nhan Dan, and the newspaper Quan Doi Nhan Dan, carried articles last week denouncing President Tito of Yugoslavia. This is one way of expressing annoyance with Moscow.

Recently, Soviet leaders have been remarkably mild in discussing Viet Nam. They have spoken of "sober" U.S. leaders, as if suggesting there might be some in Washington with whom the Kremlin might profitably talk. They have stressed that necessary aid would go to the Viet Nam Communists which sounded less than enthusiastic. Moscow, preoccupied with plans for economic development,

Interpreting The News

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — To an American, the wheels within wheels in South Viet Nam — power struggles, inner conflicts, Buddhist uprisings, endless government changes — are an exasperating, confusing sight.
Now perhaps the spinning wheels will slow down. Vietnam's Nguyen Cao Ky, a 35-year-old air force general, seems to have overcome the extremist Buddhist leadership which sought to get rid of him.

How did he manage this when others failed? For one thing, he was a Buddhist. He gave no indication he intended to yield any power or share it.
He underestimated the intensity of his position and wasn't shrewd enough to split it by compromising with the opposition. He solidified the opposition. Ky was sharper. When the Buddhists got on his back, he played them off against the government of 10 generals which is supposed to represent a tentative one of civilians. He agreed, without saying exactly when.

His agreement, and the steps he took to provide for a constitution, an election, and an assembly, were primarily calculated to take steam out of the opposition and divide it.
His concession could be expected to, and obviously did, satisfy his moderate critics and this seemed to show up quickly when the extremist Buddhists, waiting some success, wanted more fast: they wanted Ky out in a hurry.

They apparently did not have the masses of Viet Nam behind them. The uprisings they engineered in the cities of Saigon, Hue and Hanoi had to be urged and pushed.

One monk above all others, Tri Quang, was Ky's enemy. No concession seemed enough for him. The story behind this monk is not fully known and perhaps never will be.
In a last desperate effort to arouse the country — or was it a plea for pity? — Tri Quang went on a hunger strike.

As the age of 4 or 5 but the telling must be casual, preferably in answer to his questions. A brief, simple explanation should be given without any show of anxiety over his reaction. Many an adopted child is proud to have been "selected" rather than "unconsciously dumped" into a household.

TAYLOR'S VIEWS ON WORLD NEWS

By HENRY J. TAYLOR

June 18 is the anniversary of another American war. But it must be the last. Most of our youth who, by every survey, know so tragically little of American history.
War will never be avoided by having friends and foes who are got by frail policies and money. The same goes for the appeal of a momentary peace.
The Sen. Fulbrights, et al. Henry J. Taylor And as for peace through "world opinion" (which is never defined), or such noises as proposed by Dr. Martin Luther King and others, these are not designs for peace; they are a dangerous emotional doodle.
We've always—always—had to fight for the security of the United States, probably always will.

Superior statesmanship has avoided several wars.
French Ambassador to London Jules Poincaré proposed to France in 1923 a detailed carving up of Latin America among the European powers as several areas gained independence from Spain. This led to our counterweight warning — the Monroe here-figure who often has seemed as much a nationalist as Communist. Now again, in the West, there is talk of new "approaches" directly to the French.

Jean Babin, a former French Cabinet minister and Indochina diplomat, has left Paris for Peking and Hanoi, by way of Moscow, without any announced official mission. But he is an old and probably trusted friend of Ho Chi Minh as well as a man with a deep understanding of Viet Nam. He likely would like to him with interest.

In addition, a Canadian envoy is in Hanoi, reported ready to exchange views on the possibility of peace discussions. Canada is a member of the three-nation International Control Commission set up in 1954 to supervise the French-Vietnamese truce, and has access to Hanoi. Canadians have reported making discreet soundings.

The central thrust of the present United States still belonged to France. Napoleon did not propose to let it go to England. Moreover, he needed money to fight England in Europe. He sold "New France," two times the size of France, to the United States in 1803 for $15 million—the Louisiana Purchase. Napoleon himself describes his act in memorable words: "This enlargement of its territory to the United States for all time. Perhaps people will reproach me when in two or three centuries the Americans become too powerful for Europe, but I cannot take so distant a possibility into my calculations in advance."

By The Associated Press
"To confusion of the American people about Viet Nam is caused by the confusion of the administration" — Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis.
"At no time and in no way did the United States propose a change in the use of nuclear weapons in defense of NATO territory." — the Department of Defense.
"I haven't changed my opinion that the original concept of NATO has been outgrown." — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, again urging the recognition of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization from a military defense system toward political and economic goals.

It's a sad sight at the White House—President Johnson after his beagle "Him" was struck and killed by a car on a White House driveway.
There was clear enough Wednesday when his military government said it would stay in power until 1967, permitting only a step by step march to civilian government.

But there was more to Ky's tactics than just making a big concession. When the extremist Buddhists in Da Nang rioted, Ky sent in troops to crush them and then, at the last moment, pulled back.
He seems clear enough: He wasn't yet sure that most of the country would stand for it. He waited until, apparently, he felt sure. Then he turned the troops loose in Da Nang. No more trouble there.

But in Hue and Saigon the Buddhists who still listened to leaders like Tri Quang, rioted. Bit by bit but slowly Ky shattered them. Even the self-proclaimed by several of Tri Quang's monks and nuns didn't arouse the nation against him.
As this is written the extremist effort seems crushed. But how Ky decided on his tactics and his timing will be a fascinating story, if it ever comes out.

That he now feels self-confident was clear enough Wednesday when his military government said it would stay in power until 1967, permitting only a step by step march to civilian government.

DARING BIDDING WAS SUCCESSFUL
In the thirties the partnership of Walter Malow and Sidney Rusnow was one of the world's greatest. The young couple, now 20 years, is best remembered as the victor of the Russian draw which are currently achieving many games he made where anyone else would have stopped at a part score in a suit.

In the finals of the 1934 Grand National Malow and Rusnow played against Oswald Jacoby's team known as the Four Aces. The Four Aces won as they usually did in those days but Malow and Rusnow gave them a scare when they bid and made a grand slam which was missed at the other table.
Walter and Sidney used the Culbertson four-trump. The Blackwood convention had not reached eastern bridge circles at that time. Unfortunately, you needed at least two aces to try a Culbertson four-no-trump. With out them Walter jumped to six no-trump over his partner's four spade bid and Sidney went on to the grand slam.
Sidney based his decision on the fact that he thought his partner's four no-trump was a valuable card. It sure was. It gave Walter his 13th top card trick. Without it, he could still have made the grand slam on a squeeze, but it is far better to bid a grand slam than those which require a lot of play.

Douglas Kramer Is Speaker at Women's Meet

The Idaho Constitution Committee will sponsor a large segment of Idaho's population and should be amended without delay.

This is a comment made by Douglas D. Kramer, a member of Idaho's Constitution Revision Commission, while speaking to members of the Twin Falls Junior Club. Kramer said "Section No. 3 of Article 6 of the Idaho Constitution states that no person is permitted to vote, serve as a juror, or hold any civil office who is living in what is known as 'celestial marriage' of who teaches or encourages celestial marriage."

Kramer, who is also a candidate for the state senate, District No. 2, said that he will recommend an amendment of this section as a member of the Idaho Constitution Revision Commission and will vote for such amendment when elected to the state senate because it is the worst form of religious bigotry that can be imagined.

Kramer said, "While I am not a member of the faith that believes in celestial marriage, I do believe in the absolute right of man to be free in his religious beliefs."

Apple Cot Pie
1/2 cup whole wheat flour
1/2 cup sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 cup dairy sour cream
1/2 cup graham cracker crumbs
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
2 tablespoons sugar
Dash of salt
6 tablespoons butter or margarine
6 medium apples, pared and sliced, about 5 cups
1 3/4-ounce can (1 cup) apple-cot halves, drained
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon

In a medium bowl combine the whole wheat flour, all-purpose flour, two tablespoons sugar, salt and baking powder. Cut in butter or margarine. Stir in sour cream. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead a few strokes to form a ball. Divide dough in half. Roll half of dough into a nine-inch pie plate. Sprinkle graham cracker crumbs evenly in bottom of pie plate. Fit pastry over crumbs and arrange apples and apricots in crust.

Fashion Order Of Evening Is Body Beautiful

NEW YORK (AP) — For girl-watchers the supper party held by the Shakespeare Festival Committee was a midsummer night's dream.

Although it was not quite summer, and really not that warm in the Plaza Hotel ballroom, rich and beautiful women usually on the best dressed lists were less dressed than usual Monday night.

The women on the mayor's committee for the festival, headed by Susan Stein, daughter of composer Julius Stein, and Amanda (Mrs. S. Carter) Burden Jr., decided to give femininity as much exposure as possible.

See through costumes over flesh-colored tights, the ones everybody once swore nobody would dare to wear, were the fashion order of the evening.

The pink curves of beautiful Gloria Steinem were clearly visible between the hands of a chinchilla on her black sheer dress. Gold lace sheer clutched the body view only slightly on Mimi Cushing's diaphanous tent dress. Silver embroidered lace was the eye distractor for Baroness Von Meyern Holmberg.

Topsy Taylor wore white lace pajamas over seemingly nothing. Linda (Mrs. Montague) Hackett posed for photographers in white silk harem pants with a plunging neckline that nearly severed the costume. With her was Italian designer Marquis Emilio Pucci. Since he also made the rock 'n' roll band's dazzling blue shirts, they serenaded him with "Pucci Girl," and Emilio gyrated to the noise.

of men to be free in his religious beliefs."

Kramer in concluding stated "this part of the constitution has never been enforced. It is conceivable, however, that some individuals would attempt to enforce it, and while the provision would probably be unconstitutional under federal constitution, it would make Idaho the laughing stock of the nation. This is but one of the many ridiculous constitutional provisions and laws that exist in this state and should have been corrected many, many years ago."

T.F. Auxiliary Will Host 10th Gem Convention

Mrs. Hazel Walton, past national president of the Ladies Auxiliary of Veterans of World War I, will be featured speaker at the 10th annual convention set for Wednesday through Saturday in Twin Falls.

All business sessions will be held in the Rogerson Hotel Boarding Room. Registration is from 1 to 7 p.m. Wednesday in the hotel lobby. A pre-convention executive board meeting is set for 5 p.m. and a 7 p.m. bus trip and no-host dinner is scheduled with the men's unit at Jackson, Nev.

Thursday sessions will include registration, call to order by the local auxiliary president, joint meeting with the men, no-host luncheon, charter draping ceremonies and memorial services.

The annual past president's breakfast is set for 7 a.m. Friday, with the business session slated to begin at 8:30 a.m. A banquet will be held that evening at the Elks Lodge.

Officers will be elected and installed during the Saturday activities and the convention is set to end session at noon Saturday.

Mrs. Eva Hay Makes Official Visit to Unit

FAIRFIELD—Mrs. Eva Hay, Kellogg assembly president of the Rebekah Lodge, made her official visit to the Occident Rebekah Lodge No. 53, Mrs. Carolyn Hancock, New Meadows, state assembly secretary, accompanied Mrs. Hay on her visit to Fairfield.

The event started with a salad bar supper. Mrs. Leslie Ruby, vice grand, was presented a decorated birthday cake, made by Mrs. James Yamamoto. Mrs. Everett Trader made the toast to Fairfield.

The president spoke on her program of progress for the lodge. Mrs. Dale Reedy, noble grand, was soloist.

An initiation was held for a candidate from the Wendell lodge. There were 42 visitors from lodges at Wendell, Gooding, Hagerman, Shoshone, Jerome and Bellevue.

Alvah Knowlton, grand patriarch of the Grand Encampment, and Zane Harrison, warden of the Grand Lodge, were introduced as special guests. At the conclusion of the lodge activities, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Harrison were surprised with a celebration for their 25th wedding anniversary. Gloria Harrison and Duane Harrison gave a musical variety of their parents' romance. Two decorated heart-shaped cakes were served.

Relief Society Has Work Meet

VIEW — Mrs. Deloss Stoker conducted the monthly View LDS Relief Society all-day work meeting and Mrs. Garland Markham directed the quilting. The embroidery activities were under the direction of Mrs. William J. Kunzler. A covered dish luncheon was served by Mrs. Smith Searle, Mrs. Jess Searle, Mrs. Floyd Robinson and Mrs. Arvil Rasmussen.

Mrs. Thomas E. Warren gave the homemaker lesson, "Simplify the Home Jobs."

The next meeting is set for July 12.

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

MONDAY, June 20 — Born today, you have a high idealism that causes you to see the best in everyone and everything. Even, unfortunately, when there may be no "best" to be seen. One who strives for perfection, and enjoys finding it in others, you are prone to forget that true perfection is nonexistent and, in forgetting, to imbue others with qualities they may not have while overlooking baser qualities they may have.

It is to be hoped that somewhere some event will be able to persuade you to remove the rose-colored glasses before you find yourself inextricably involved in difficulties. Learn to see things as they really are. There's enough good in people and in the world in general to keep an idealist hopeful, if not completely satisfied; and it is, after all, hope rather than satisfaction that produces progress. Open your eyes, and you can do much good in the world.

Something of a wanderer by nature, you must take care not to use your search for perfection as an excuse to take off for parts unknown at the drop of a hat. Gifted with a talent for doing good without expectation of return, you would be wisest to stick close to home, putting your talent to fine, constructive use in your own community.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

TUESDAY, June 21 — Avoid following another's lead in employment matters today. You can make real progress if you keep to your own ways.

CANCER (June 22-July 23) — Anterior in judgment—could cost you dearly today in personal relationships. Seek out your own information and trust nothing to "luck."

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) — Though personal relations may seem confusing today, especially with members of your own family, the wise Leo will jump to no conclusions.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) —

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) — Avoid following another's lead in employment matters today. You can make real progress if you keep to your own ways.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) —

TAURUS (April 21-May 21) — New contacts could lead to new opportunities in the field of your employment. Ask for no favors but don't refuse any!

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) — A good day for business, especially where a partnership is involved. Make an effort to separate business from social contacts, however.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22) — A day when routine matters may prove more important than you think to the overall success of your plan. Don't be put off by the "gameness" of it all.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20) — Don't allow others to impose

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) — Be especially cautious today of granting favors to strangers. Old friends prove best during a time of confusion and hesitation.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 21) — "He who fights and runs away lives to fight another day." Remember that, and this day should go well for you.

ARIES (March 22-April 20) — Guard against a health upset during early morning hours. You need to feel in the pink mentally and physically to gain success today.

TAURUS (April 21-May 21) — New contacts could lead to new opportunities in the field of your employment. Ask for no favors but don't refuse any!

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) — Though sorely tempted to take rash actions today, you should stand against giving in. Some things are not what they seem!

DIES AFTER FALL
SPIRIT LAKE, Idaho (AP) — A woman spending the weekend at the Fireside Inn here broke her neck and died Sunday afternoon when she evidently fell through a bedroom window.

Kootenai County sheriff's officers, who investigated, refused to identify the woman, but said an autopsy would be conducted late Sunday night.

The woman's body was found lying on the inn's lawn.

TALKS TO RESUME
IDAHO FALLS (AP) — Six contractors now are involved in negotiations, scheduled to resume Tuesday, with striking construction workers at the National Reactor Testing Station.

The dispute, reported in the month-long dispute after negotiating sessions Saturday.

Companies originally involved were Howard S. Wright and Associates, Flour Corp. and the M. W. Kellogg Co. Three Idaho Falls firms joined the list Saturday — Arrington Construction Co., Wadsworth Construction Co., and Pickett and Nelson Construction.

LOANS ANNOUNCED
BOISE (AP) — The Federal estate loan investment of $2,141,654 during the first five months of 1966 was announced Sunday by the Western Home Office of the Prudential Insurance Co.

Regional Manager William C. Creighton said his firm loaned $1,180,041 to farms, $57,713 for residential purposes and $75,000 for commercial and industrial projects during the period.

10 Deaths Raise Idaho Traffic Toll

By the Associated Press

Ten deaths in a weekend of collisions involving cars, motorcycles and a Boise porch have raised Idaho's 1966 traffic toll to 100, three more than at this time last year.

Victims included a former Boise College football — Steve A. Mooney, 20 — who was killed Sunday as his car blew a tire on a curve at high speed and overturned against a porch, according to Boise police.

A head-on collision south of Idaho City killed Mrs. Blanche Brown, 74, of Farmington, N.M., Sunday as she and her hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan L. Nelson of Boise were thrown from their car.

State police said a car driven by C. W. Boise went off Idaho Highway 21 on a curve, then careened across the roadway into the Nelson car.

Nelson, 70, and his wife, Lovena, 72, later were reported in fair condition in a Boise hospital.

A head-on collision on a free-way exit route near a curve of Idaho Highway 21 on Sunday killed two, a car of Herman C. Schumacher, 48, of Post Falls, and his passenger, Mrs. Averil Annetta Dikes, 48, of Pittsburgh, Calif. Police said the driver of the other car, Sheldon R. Nelson, 22, of Fairchild Air Force Base near Spokane, was not seriously injured.

A Kellough father of three, 37-year-old Arthur Lee Ward, was killed near midnight Saturday when his motorcycle hit a parked pickup on the freeway west of Kellough and his body was hit by a car.

Three persons were killed and three others injured in a head-on collision on Idaho Highway 30 Saturday near New Plymouth.

Killed were Mrs. Telitha Leola Jones, 74, and her son, David, 48, of Fruitland and Mrs. Gladys Lewis, 64, of New Plymouth. Three women in the other car were taken to an Ontario, Ore., hospital, two of them in critical condition.

A Wendell woman — Mrs. Ray Smith, 70 — died Sunday when thrown from her car in a collision on Idaho Highway 25. Police said the other car was driven by former U. S. Congressman John Sanborn of Hagerman.

The weekend's first victim was Robert Ford O'Grady, 18, of Soda Springs, whose motorcycle collided with a truck making a left turn.

Balaguer Hopes To Cure Economy

JARABOCCA, Dominican Republic (AP) — President-elect Joaquin Balaguer hopes to cure the Dominican Republic's ailing economy by reducing the armed forces and cutting deadwood out of overstaffed government agencies.

Resting from the election campaign at the home of a friend in the highlands 80 miles north of Santo Domingo, Balaguer said in an interview: "It will require heroic austerity measures and they will be taken."

PARADE HELD
IDAHO CITY (AP) — Buckboards and mining wagons common during the gold rush of the 1860s paraded through Idaho City Sunday.

The parade highlighted a two-day annual Gold Rush Days celebration that included a muzzle loader firing demonstration and log-rolling and tree-topping competition among lumbermen. A sky-diving exhibition and performances by the Scotch Highlanders bagpipe group and a company of acrobatic dancers were among other activities.

CRUSHED TO DEATH
CUPRUM, Idaho (AP) — A young father was crushed to death in the cab of his bulldozer Sunday by a boulder which tumbled down a cliff.

He was Charles Skiles, 24, who lived at Council with his wife and two children. The accident was in the Peacock Mining Co. open copper mine near the southwest Idaho community of Cuprum.

Sheriff Charles Burkholder said the boulder apparently loosened and fell while Skiles was moving earth with the bulldozer below.

INCREASES SEEN
CALDWELL, Idaho (AP) — Salary increases for nearly all state employees will be a major 1967 legislative goal of the Idaho State Employees Association, an official said Sunday.

Henry Curtis of Boise, ISEA executive secretary, said legislative appropriations are needed to bring state employees' salaries in line with those of industry and other governments.

"Fair salaries for state employees are policy but not yet a fact, through enactment of the 1965 Idaho Personnel Commission Act," Curtis said.

"The ISEA General Council firmly resolved its attitude (at a meeting Saturday)," he said, "toward 1967 salary appropriations which will fulfill that policy in the form of fair pay checks."

FACES TRIAL
IDAHO FALLS (AP) — A Rigby man accused of robbing a Idaho Falls bank last month has been bound-over for trial, partly on testimony that $3,500 was found in the furnace room of his home.

Victor Jordan Smith, 44, also was identified by two teen-age boys as the man they said they saw dropping nearly $8,000 in the furnace room.

The testimony came in a preliminary hearing Friday to determine if there was sufficient evidence to hold Smith for trial. U.S. Commissioner Edna Adams bound him over to U.S. District Court, and set bail at $25,000.

Mrs. Lillian Worrell of Ames testified she found $3,500 in $5 and $20 denominations behind a loose board in the furnace room of Smith's home.

She said Smith's sister, Mrs. Audrey Stors, and her attorney, Alvin Denman of Idaho Falls, were with her at the time.

Keith Wins Endorsement For Governor

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Lt. Gov. A. M. Keith, a 37-year-old political youngster, won endorsement for governor Sunday night on the 20th ballot at the Minnesota Democratic Farmer-Labor party convention, shattering the party's tradition of never denying endorsement to incumbent officer-holder.

Keith defeated Gov. Karl F. Rolvaag, 52, one of the party's longtime figures who had battled a "can't win" image through most of his first term.

The Keith victory came late on the second day of the bitterly-fought convention, when he collected 750 votes — more than the two-thirds margin needed for endorsement. Rolvaag got 358 votes.

With the endorsement goes the party's support in the campaign for the state primary Sept. 13.

Taostmistresses Install Area Officers at Burley

BURLEY — The Burley Toastmistress Club members were hostesses for Council Nine luncheon and installation of new council officers Saturday at Connor's Cafe.

The meeting was conducted by Mrs. LeRoy Arrington, Twin Falls, chairman, Mrs. Olin Baker, Burley, treasurer, and Mrs. J. L. Driskill, Burley, treasurer.

New council officers installed by Mrs. Baker, Burley, using rose ceremony were Mrs. Arrington, chairman, Twin Falls Club; Mrs. Sterling Larson, vice-chairman, Magic Club; Mrs. Mary Marshall, secretary, Jer-Ida Club; Jerome, and J. L. Driskill, treasurer, Burley Club.

Council chairman, appointed by Mrs. Arrington were Mrs. Baker, parliamentarian, and historian; Mrs. Howard Donakson, Burley, stabilization; Mrs. Frank Nielsen, Twin Falls, budget; and Mrs. Layton, Burley, publicity.

A memorial service was conducted by Mrs. Arrington in memory of Mrs. Agnes Hurst.

Program covers for the luncheon were hand-drawn by Mrs. Gladys Anderson, Burley. Decorations for luncheon table were arrangements of red roses flanked by white-tapers in crystal holders, furnished by Mrs. Woodland. Name tags made by Mrs. Layton, were pink roses with black letters on white.

Red China Is Rejecting U. S. Proposal

TOKYO (AP) — Red China said today it rejected a U.S. proposal that any U.S. promise not to launch a nuclear attack be pinned to Chinese agreement to the limited nuclear test ban.

The Peking People's Daily also said China would boycott any disarmament talks now because such talks would help the United States expand the war in Viet Nam.

The Chinese Communist party paper said the U.S. proposal of a mutual no-first-strike nuclear agreement was "a fraud" to get China to sign the test ban treaty. The United States made the proposal at a meeting of the U.S. and Chinese ambassadors in Warsaw, Poland, on May 25.

China had exploded its third nuclear device on May 9, and the Chinese claimed they were continuing nuclear tests because the United States had refused to agree not to strike first in a nuclear attack. Peking first made that proposal in 1964.

The United States insisted that a no-first-strike agreement be coupled with Chinese adherence to the 1963 U.S. British and Soviet treaty banning nuclear tests in the atmosphere and under water. China and France, the world's other two nuclear powers, have refused to sign the treaty.

17 Will Be Prosecuted In Slayings

MERIDIAN, Miss. (AP) — The federal government will prosecute 17 men accused in the slaying of three civil rights workers in U.S. District Court here Sept. 26.

Judge Harold Cox, who previously dismissed charges against the defendants, will hear the case based on two century-old laws.

The U.S. Supreme Court ruled March 28 the government could prosecute those accused in the 1964 deaths of Michael Schwerner, Andrew Goodman and James Chaney under two laws enacted in 1866 and 1870.

The original indictments against the 17 men, including three law officers, had been obtained under Reconstruction-era laws.

An 1866 law made it a misdemeanor to act "under cover of law" to deprive anyone of his constitutional right, setting maximum punishment of a $1,000 fine and one-year in prison. An 1870 statute made it a felony to conspire to deprive anyone of his 14th Amendment rights without due process of law. It set maximum punishment at 10 years imprisonment and a $5,000 fine.

The three civil rights workers disappeared June 21, 1964, after being released from the Neshoba County jail in Philadelphia, about 35 miles northwest of here. Their bodies were found Aug. 4, 1964, at the base of a dirt levee.

Crime Rate In U.S. Said Increasing

WASHINGTON (AP) — A sharp increase in rape paced a per cent increase in the nation's crime rate for the first quarter of this year over the corresponding quarter of 1965, the FBI reported today.

The number of reported rapes jumped 14 per cent with a 22 per cent rise in the north central states and an 18 per cent in cities of more than 25,000 persons.

Suburban crime rate increased — 9 per cent. Rural crime rose 8 per cent and big city crime 4 per cent.

The violent crimes of murder (4 per cent), rape, robbery (4 per cent), and assault (3 per cent) increased an aggregate of 7 per cent, while the property crimes of burglary (4 per cent), larceny (11 per cent) and auto theft (5 per cent) rose an average of 6 per cent.

All geographic regions of the nation registered crime rate increases with the north central and Southern states leading the rest with 8 per cent rises.

FRIEDEL WINS SECOND STATE BOW TITLE

Mrs. Imgard Is Women's Champ In 2-Day Meet

Bob Friedel of Pocatello Sunday morning added 445 to his 832 of Saturday for a tremendous 1,280 total and the instinctive championship for the second straight year in the Idaho Field Archery Championship Tournament at Dierke's Lake. Friedel scored 400 or better on all three rounds, which consisted of field, hunter and animal targets. Gary Willis of Boise fell below 400 in the animal round Sunday, but still had enough points, 1,257, to win the overall championship in men's freestyle competition.

Doris Imgard, secretary of the host Ot-Yo-Kwa Bowmen of Twin Falls, topped the women's instinctive class with an 881 for that title. Betty Lou Welker of Boise made up 42 points and added some more to top Saturday's leader for the women's freestyle award.

Anne Becker of Moscow had a 660 to Mrs. Welker's 618 after Saturday's two rounds, but Mrs. Welker came in with a 340 after the animal targets Sunday to Mr. Becker's 278. Mrs. Becker took first place in women's freestyle class B with a 938.

Other overall title champions were Ronnie Smith, Gooding, 678; Randy Welker, Boise, 678; Junior freestyle, 626; Alan Vincent, Ontario, Ore., 626; Intermediate girls freestyle, 487; Lavena Collins, Nampa, 487; Intermediate girls freestyle, 356; Senior high, Meridian, 356; Intermediate boys instinctive, 319; Warren Leisl, Nampa, 319; Intermediate boys freestyle, 304.

There were only 11 archers out of a field of 125 to break 1,000. Eight of those were over 1,200 and the other three had 1,100 plus.

The closest race for the overall title in Sunday's round was in the women's instinctive where Mr. Jeffs of Burley closed from 85 points behind Mrs. Imgard to within 20. Willis and Friedel had little trouble in their respective divisions.

The two out-of-state winners of the meet were V. P. Owens of Carlin, Nev., with a 704 and Charles Semonovich, a former Ot-Yo-Kwa Bowmen member now living in Ely, Nev., with a 687.

The results of the meet, by class, are as follows:

Men's Instinctive
Overall champion—Bob Friedel, Pocatello, 1,280.
Class A—Dale Asher, Burley, 1,213 and Elton Hunsacker, Boise, 1,180.

Class C—Bob Kindred, Nampa, 958; Oren Shaw, Payette, 927 and Joe Couch, Meridian, 897.

Class D—Jerry Harris, Idaho Falls, 802; Daryl McCullough, Twin Falls, 723 and LeRoy Dickerson, Idaho Falls, 636.

Overall champion—Gary Willis, Boise, 1,257.

Class B—Tom Irwin Jr., Boise, 1,244; Ray Bryan, Boise, 1,236 and Jack Fisher, Boise, 1,209.

Class C—Ernest Luthy, Idaho Falls, 963.

Women's Instinctive
Overall champion—Doris Imgard, Twin Falls, 881.

Class B—Marie Collins, Boise, 725 and VeOna Hayes, Rigby, 702.

Class C—Lieta Hagler, Pocatello, 696; Clara Jagels, Castelford, 655 and Susan Sherrert, Boise, 652.

Class D—Sharon Davidson, Rupert, 468 and Juanita Gutierrez, Burley, 465.

Women's Freestyle
Overall champion—Betty Lou Welker, Boise, 938.

Class B—Anne Becker, Moscow, 938; Julie Willis, Boise, 852 and Marie Halverson, Moscow, 808.

Class C—Hildie Luthy, Idaho Falls, 751; Freida Cook, Boise, 648 and Nida Fisher, Twin Falls, 565.

Junior Boys Instinctive
Overall champion—Alan Vincent, Ontario, 1,205.

Dean Bryan, Boise, 914; Dave Stanger, Twin Falls, 885 and Don Bryan, Boise, 858.

Cubs Instinctive
Overall champion—Ronnie Smith, Gooding, 678.

Curtis Jacobs, Boise, 450 and Robert Fisher, Twin Falls, 388.

Three divisions had no entrants and five others had only enough entries to allow only one prize, the overall championship.

Cards Trim Phils Twice 1-0 and 5-1

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Tito Francona hit a pair of home runs, his first of the season, backing the two-hit pitching of Ray Washburn in the opener—as the St. Louis Cardinals swept a doubleheader from the Philadelphia Phillies 1-0 and 5-1 Sunday.

Right-hander Bob Gibson pitched a three-hitter and gained his 10th victory in the nightcap after Curt Flood's single and Francona's double had cracked a scoreless duel with Rick Wise in the fourth inning.

Francona beat Jim Bunning in the opener with a two-out homer in the sixth inning.

The other hit off Washburn was Clay Dalrymple's leadoff single in the fifth inning and Tony Taylor's infield hit with two out in the eighth.

McAuliffe, Tigers Nip Yankees 2-1

NEW YORK (AP)—Dick McAuliffe hit two homers and Dave Wickham pitched a five-hitter as the Detroit Tigers nipped the New York Yankees 2-1 Sunday.

McAuliffe's second homer, his 10th of the season, came off Jim Bouton in the eighth inning and broke a 1-1 tie before a hat day crowd of 60,488, largest in the majors this season.

He hit his first homer in the third inning, giving the Tigers a 1-0 lead. But the Yankees came back for a run in the fourth when Mickey Mantle lashed his first triple of the year and Roger Maris singled across a pinch runner Ray Barker.

Detroit 001 000 010—2 5 1

Three Top Speedboat Racers Die in Wrecks in President's Cup Regatta

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three speedboat racers—two of them the top drivers in the business—were killed Sunday as tragedy stalked the President's Cup regatta on the Potomac River.

The three were Ron Musson and Rex Manchester, both of Seattle, Wash., and Don Wilson of Palm Beach, Fla.

The race was ended after the Manchester-Wilson accident during the first lap of the final heat.

The judges named Manchester and the Notre Dame boat as the winner of the race based on points earned during the two-day regatta through the heat preceding the final fatal accident.

Wilson, who had subbed for regular driver Bob Brown, and Miss Budweiser were awarded second place and Tahoe Miss, driven by 30-year-old Mira Slovák, was put in third place.

Slovák is a former Czech pilot who defected to the West in 1953 by flying an airliner to Germany before coming to the United States.

Musson was the first to die. The 37-year-old driver's radically designed hydroplane, Miss Bardahl, disintegrated as it was speeding at an estimated 160 miles an hour when it was struck in front of the stands.

One of the other boats apparently got in trouble in the back and got airborne and apparently came down on top of the other.

Musson, a native of Akron, Ohio, and husband of a former model, Betty Lou Beichly, lived in Seattle with his three children.

The stocky, dark-haired driver graduated from Kent State College in Ohio, owned a plumbing and electrical firm in Akron before entering racing full time with the Bardahl Chemical Corp. in 1961.

He had won nearly all the top unlimited races and three national high point championships.

Manchester, a combat Marine at two Jims, started racing outboards in Alaska in 1956. He made a reputation in the Northwest and was signed to drive the Miss Spokane Unlimited in 1960. After three years with this boat he switched to the $1 Bill in 1963 and Gale V in 1964.

He became driver and crew manager of the Notre Dame in 1964 for owner Shirley Mendelson. The three deaths were the first in unlimited hydroplane racing since 1952, when Bob Hayward of Embury, Ont., was killed while driving Miss Super.

OVERALL CHAMPIONS in the men's and women's divisions of the 18th annual Idaho Field Archery Championship Tournament held at Dierke's Lake Saturday and Sunday are, from left, Gary Willis, Boise, men's freestyle; Betty Lou Welker, Boise, women's freestyle; Doris Imgard, Twin Falls, women's instinctive; and Bob Friedel, Pocatello, men's instinctive. Friedel had a whopping 1,280 total through three rounds of 28 targets each. (Times-News photo)

Pappas, Ellis Peg Reds Past Mets Twice

CINCINNATI (AP)—Sammy Ellis and Milt Pappas, who have had trouble recently turned in strong pitching performances Sunday as the Cincinnati Reds swept a doubleheader from the New York Mets 5-0 and 4-2.

Ellis, who raised his record to 3-1, held the Mets to five hits before being lifted for a pinch hitter in the seventh. It was his first victory since May 10 after six straight defeats. Pappas scattered seven hits in the opener while raising his record to 1-0.

Tommy Harper scored the first run in both games, getting on base with a lead-off single off Rob Gardner in the first inning of the opener and drawing a walk from Dennis Ribant his first time up in the nightcap.

The Reds took advantage of four New York errors in the nightcap.

First Game
New York 000 000 000—0 7 0
Cincinnati 100 040 000—5 10 0
Gardner 6 1/2 1 0
Grote 5 1/2 0 0
Pappas 4 3 1 0 0 0
Home run—New York, Krane-pool (6).

Second Game
New York 000 010 100—2 6 4
Cincinnati 200 001 100—4 7 2
Ribant 6 1/2 0 0
Ellis 4 3 1 0 0 0
Home run—New York, Krane-pool (6).

Buckpasser Is In Great Form
NEW YORK (AP)—Buckpasser, appearing back in great form and will take a shot at the $100,000-added Arlington Classic at Chicago next Saturday.

The 2-year-old champion of 1965, knocked out of the Kentucky Derby, Preknackness and Belmont this year by a quarter crack, beat Baffie by three-quarters of a length in the $41,420 Leonard Richard Stakes at Delaware Park Saturday.

"We're not going to duck any of them," said trainer Eddie Deloy of the Ogden Philpotts-owned colt in announcing Sunday that Buckpasser will run next Saturday.

Controlled Hunt Packets At Dealers

BOISE (AP)—Information packets on controlled hunts for elk and deer are in the hands of license sellers and ready for free distribution, the State Fish and Game Department said Sunday.

The packets include sector maps, special regulations and hunt dates for moose, antelope, mountain goat, bighorn sheep, elk and deer.

The deadline for submitting applications to take part in public drawings for controlled hunt permits is 5 p.m. July 13, the department said. Permit fees are $35 for moose and bighorn sheep, and $15 for mountain goats.

But bighorn sheep hunting will be controlled only in Fremont County this year with five permits available for that hunt, the department said. All other bighorn sheep areas will be open for general hunting Sept. 3 through 16.

Fees submitted by hunters who do not draw permits at the drawings are refunded.

The drawings—for mountain goat, moose and bighorn sheep—are scheduled July 20 and the drawings for deer, elk and antelope hunts July 22 in Boise.

A drawing Aug. 20 is to fill any hunts with space still available.

Roche Aims Toward Upset of Emerson

LONDON (AP)—Tony Roche, nursing an injured left ankle, pulled out of the doubles and mixed doubles Sunday so he could concentrate on teammate and defending champion, Roy Emerson, in the prized singles of the Wimbledon Championships starting Monday.

The 21-year-old Aussie left-hander is seeded second behind the 29-year-old Emerson, who is seeking his third straight Wimbledon singles title.

Emerson has been made a solid 5-4 favorite to become the first man to win three consecutive Wimbledon crowns since England's Fred Perry did it 30 years ago.

Roche, winner of the Italian and French titles earlier this season, defaulted both in the singles and doubles finals of the London Lawn Tennis Championships because of a strained ligament in his left ankle.

Emerson thus won his fourth straight London singles title and the doubles with Davis Cup teammate Fred Stolle.

Franco's Francoise Durr won the women's crown with a 6-4, 6-4, victory over Australian Judy Tegart.

In women's doubles, Australia's Norma Baylon and Annette Van Zyl of South Africa defeated Rosemary Casale of San Francisco and Mrs. Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., 3-6, 6-2, 11-9.

Roche was made the 7-1 second choice by bookmakers for the men's singles. Stolle and Spain's Manuel Santana were 8-1 each. Dennis Ralston, the American No. 1 from Bakersfield, Calif., was held at 12-1 with Cliff Richey of Dallas, Texas, rated 20-1.

Margaret Smith, the defending Wimbledon champion, was the 1-2 favorite for the women's singles.

The men will open the tourney with singles matches Monday. Roche, given a 24-hour delay, will play his first rounder against Britain's Ted Beard on Tuesday, Ladies' Day at Wimbledon.

MAKE MONEY AT HOME

Follow These Simple Steps

Simply run a low cost Want Ad in the Times-Sunday and turn things you no longer need into cash. But do it now, cash is better than unwanted clutter about the house.

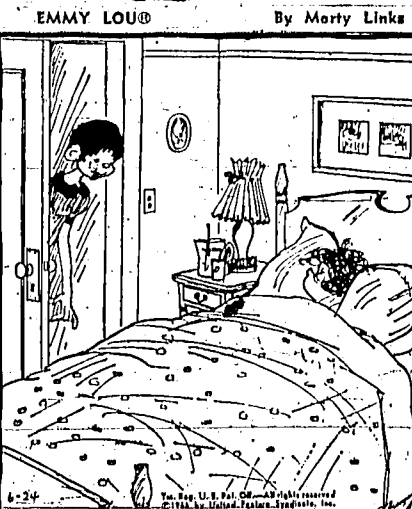

1 Check your garage, closets, all around the house. Make a list of items you no longer need. You'll be surprised at the unwanted items you find.

2 Put a price on each item. Experience shows you get more calls and faster action if you list the price on each item.

3 Simply dial 733-0931 and ask for classified. An experienced ad writer will help you prepare a Want Ad that will get you the best results.
