TEN CENTS

Fires Are Finally Checked

By The Associated Press
Crews claimed control today of the second of two big fires which burned valuable timberlands in the Garden Valley area of southwestern Idaho.

Firebreaks were completed around the Charters Mountain blaze, officials reported, stemming an outbreak which had crossed the lines a day earlier.

Extent of the Charters Mountain fire was estimated at 12,000 acres, increasing to around 17,000 acres the total burned in the approximately 30 blazes which were set by a lightning storm nearly a week ago.

Officials said if lines held during the day, a reduction in the firefighting force — which reached 2,300 in all — could begin by nightfall.

A fresh crew of 100 Indian firefighters was put on the Charters Mountain blaze to aid in mop-up operations.

Lines around other fires held and crews were mopping up spots blazed within the perimeter of the burned area.

Most of the blazes were controlled early, but two major fires — the Huston Ranch and Charters Mountain fires — were kept out of control several days by winds and dry forests.

In all, more than 14,000 acres have been blackened on the slopes of the ranching valley, about 30 miles north of Boise.

"A LITTLE PAIN now is better than a lot of pain later," says Mrs. Roy Jacobson, right, registered nurse of the South Central Health Department, as she administers a tuberculin test shot to Mrs. Hazel Butler, an employee at a local restaurant. The tuberculin test for food handlers is required by city ordinance. Between 4,000 and 5,000 people were immunized last year at the South Central District Health Department. (Times-News photo)

Johnson Is Winner of Demo Runoff

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Jim Johnson, whose campaign was beset by disaffection with the federal government, won the Democratic nomination for governor in a runoff primary Tuesday.

The 42-year-old one-time champion of Arkansas segregationists built an impressive margin over Frank Holt, a former member of the Arkansas state supreme court who attacked Jim Johnson as a racist and radical extremist.

The unofficial vote count from 2,411 of 2,681 precincts showed: Johnson 139,425; Holt 104,109.

Airlines Hope for Arbitration Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Representatives of the grounded airlines and their striking mechanics agreed today to try to set up an arbitration plan for ending the travel tie-up — but the chief labor spokesman said he doubts his members will agree. Members of the International Association of Machinists employed by the five trunk lines would have to vote on whether to submit unresolved issues to arbitration and go back to work in the meanwhile, the union president, P. L. Stenmiller, said. He said in an interview, "If you ask me whether they will agree, I would say no."

A membership vote killed one effort at settlement 10 days ago after negotiators had agreed to look for a solution.

Stenmiller said he would advise the union membership that the alternative to the arbitration plan is legislation by Congress.

Some optimism had been generated in Congress by the agreement to try to set up the arbitration plan.

"Sen. Peter D. Dominick, R-Colo., called it encouraging, and said in a statement: 'Paraphrase this voluntary method of settlement will establish a pattern for similar disputes where essential public services are deeply involved.'"

Stenmiller estimated it will take two weeks to get the plan in effect.

State Senator Urges Effort To Avoid Firearms Control

CAREY — Idahoans will have to make every possible effort to avoid firearms control legislation, says State Sen. Mary Brooks.

"People back East just don't understand firearms or efforts to control them," she declares. Mrs. Brooks, who has been working at her Flat Top Sheep Co. ranch in the Muldoon area in the wake of the primary election in which she lost to her husband, said she has been contacted by many representatives of federal firearms control groups.

"Idahoans who oppose firearms control should be busy writing letters to their senators and representatives in Congress," Mrs. Brooks suggests. "And it wouldn't hurt to let

Meteor Show

BOSTON (AP) — The Perseid meteors put on their annual show tonight, reaching a climax just before dawn Thursday.

The Smithsonian astronomical observatory says observers may see an average of 15 to 20 meteors tonight.

In the early morning, the so-called shooting stars will seem to radiate from an area high on the eastern horizon.

The Perseid meteor shower is usually the biggest such show of the year, but an even bigger play will come Nov. 16 and 17 when the earth encounters the Leonids, an event that occurs about every 33 years.

Immunization Is Major Health Department Job

Between 4,000 and 5,000 Magic Valley residents were immunized last year at the South Central District Health Department, 221 Second Ave. W., reports Mrs. Roy Jacobson, registered nurse in charge of Twin Falls County.

Many of the people who were immunized included young married couples, food handlers at local restaurants and cafes and people who were going abroad.

The kinds of vaccines and tests available at the Health Department include diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough, smallpox, tuberculosis test for food handlers, polio, typhoid, cholera, typhus, yellow fever, blood tests for married couples, tests for venereal diseases, influenza, measles and Rocky Mountain spotted fever.

The most popular types of vaccine, she noted, are diphtheria, tetanus and smallpox. Travelers are immunized with typhoid, cholera, typhus and yellow fever shots. If they go to Europe, they need only one or two of these shots; if they go to the Orient, they need them all, she said.

The newest vaccines are for measles, Mrs. Jacobson noted. The health department just recently has begun to give this shot, and it, too, is a much-requested shot for young troops.

Fifth and ninth grade children are immunized with the measles, Mrs. Jacobson noted. See IMMUNIZE, Pg. 2, Col. 7.

Top Pilot of Viet Nam War Is Downed

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The U.S. Air Force considered him its No. 1 pilot of the Vietnam war.

Maj. James H. Kester, 40, flew more than 60 combat missions over North Viet Nam, exchanging 14 pickup trucks, enemy flags and targets. Four times enemy bullets riddled his F105 Thunderbolt jet but he always made it back.

The pilot's luck ran out Monday when he was shot down deep in the Red River Valley 70 miles northwest of Hanoi. Other fliers saw him parachute from his disabled plane and talked him by radio after he landed but rescue helicopters were unable to snatch him from enemy snipers.

He was presumed captured through the official U.S. announcement listed him as missing.

Kester's Thunderbolt was one of three shot down Monday when he was shot down a few minutes earlier.

He was the second Korean ace shot down in North Viet Nam. The other, Lt. Col. Robinson Riser, an eight-MIG ace, was downed in an F105 a year ago and was captured by the North Vietnamese.

Kester's loss cast a pall over the war rooms, where his fellow pilots had nursed at his foats. They called him "The Destroyer" for his skill at precision bombing and the official Air Force spokesman said he was "the hottest pilot we had."

On a portion of the section north of Hanoi, all the official word will be on the western side. The center line will be shifted to center the actual travelway, Sessions said. It is anticipated this improvement will materially increase the safety factor and promote comfort for both driver and passengers.

Fight Over Open Housing Law Shifts to Senate After Passage by House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The fight over a federal open housing law shifted to the Senate today after House passage of the 1966 civil rights bill with the controversial government with broad new powers to protect Negroes.

Despite this, the bill's House backers and civil rights groups expressed cautious optimism that it would win final approval in the Senate.

The House-passed bill would put the government into new areas in the civil rights struggle. Besides seeking to improve housing opportunities for Negroes it would classify as federal crimes a new series of offenses involving racial violence.

On one side, the federal government could move against anyone who used force or violence against a Negro or civil rights worker lawfully engaged in any activity sanctioned by federal law.

On the other hand, it also See HOUSING, Pg. 2, Col. 6.

President Is Pleased With Action on Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson applied today House passage of a new civil rights bill but the White House indicated the administration may try to get the Senate to strengthen a controversial fair housing section.

The House approved the third major civil rights bill in three years Tuesday and the President said in a statement that this action "erected an important new milestone on the nation's journey toward equality of justice and of opportunity for all our citizens."

"The provisions it has enacted to deal with terror inflicted on civil rights workers, the quality of justice afforded by the jury system, and enforcement of school desegregation are important steps toward resolving the great domestic struggle of our generation," Johnson said.

But he noted that the open housing provision approved by the House was less comprehensive than he had sought, and he voiced regret at the omission.

He voiced a hope and expectation the Senate will get to final action on the bill without unnecessary delay.

Banquet Ends 2-Day Steel Service Meet

AMES, Ia. (AP) — Ames, Ia., vice president of the American Iron and Steel Institute, highlighted advancements in the space age during a banquet meeting Tuesday night of the Steel Service Center Institute.

Bagley compared the present world with that of 50 or even 150 years ago. "How dare we say," he charged, "that things are impossible — that what goes up there must come down — we who used to say the sky was the limit."

He cited technological advances in space, food processing and steel as preparation as examples of new awareness in the field of research.

Bagley was guest speaker at the banquet of the Blue Lake Country Club, culminating a two-day meeting of the International Chapter of SSCI, an international trade association.

The 1966 affair was termed the largest and most successful in the five years the chapter has been meeting in Twin Falls.

Robert Weisk, Cleveland, president of the Steel Service Center Institute, an international trade association, was one of three speakers at the Tuesday morning business session.

Weisk noted that most major steel executives from the West Coast were present at the meeting. He noted that the steel business is growing in Twin Falls and that the local steel industry is growing.

The parade will move along Second Avenue East to Third Street East in Main Avenue.

It will travel on Main Avenue, turn right on Second Street North to Fourth Avenue North ending at the City Park.

The parade is sponsored by the Downtown Merchants Association and the City Parks and Recreation Department.

After the parade, treats and swimming passes will be distributed to the children and a free show will be held.

Three cash awards will be presented in each of eight age divisions, which include best decorated bicycle, best decorated float (entered by each of the six city parks), best decorated parade float, best decorated parade float, best decorated parade float, best decorated parade float.

The new Hansen bridge and approaches will be dedicated in time for the official opening along with the portion of Interstate 80 from Jerome. The final deck pour is now being made.

Curbing, railing and approaches are all that remain to add this section to the state system. Completion of this project will make for a much easier access to the Twin Falls area.

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The United States today rocketed a Lunar Orbiter spacecraft toward an intended orbit around the moon, hoping to obtain clear pictures of the hidden backside, Surveyor 1 and nine potential astronaut landing sites.

An Atlas-Agena rocket thundered away from Cape Kennedy at 3:26 p.m. (EDT) to start the flying photography laboratory on its planned 235,400-mile journey.

If Lunar Orbiter successfully sends back pictures of the nine spots of interest, the space agency will be able to start narrowing down the selection of a landing spot for the first U.S. man-to-the-moon expedition, scheduled in two or three years.

The flight plan called for the spacecraft to execute several intricate maneuvers as it vaulted across the heavens toward its distant target.

The early portion of the mission appeared normal as the Atlas-Agena, 10 stories tall, sped out over the Atlantic Ocean trailing a blazing exhaust flame.

The control center reported four minutes after liftoff that "everything is going well. All vehicle systems are excellent. We have a very good mission at this time."

The Atlas engines cut off right on schedule.

Violence Erupts in Detroit, Grenada

By The Associated Press
Racial violence erupted in Detroit and Grenada, Miss., Tuesday night only a short time after the House passed a civil rights bill giving new legal weapons to Negroes wanting better housing opportunities. A white man was hospitalized in Detroit after he was beaten by a group of Negroes who attacked him when he attempted to retrieve a hub cap knocked off his car by a rock-throwing mob.

A crowd of 150 police, including 17 cars with riot-trained officers, quickly moved into the integrated East Side Detroit neighborhood and brought the violence under control in 90 minutes. Three Negroes who were involved in a brawl with police, setting off the trouble, were charged with inciting to riot, said Police Commissioner Roy Givins.

In Grenada, several Negroes were injured, none seriously, while a crowd of white youths, rocks, bottles and firecrackers into a group of Negroes staging a civil rights demonstration in the town square.

The battle over civil rights for Negroes, including the right to live in any neighborhood, moves to the Senate today. A last-ditch effort by Republican leaders to strike the controversial housing proposal failed and the 1966 civil rights bill was passed by the House Tuesday night 259 to 157.

The bill, expected to face rough going in the Senate, would put the government into new areas of the civil rights struggle, makes it illegal for anyone to threaten or intimidate civil rights workers a federal crime, provides for a uniform jury selection system for federal courts and authorizes the Justice Department to begin court action to eliminate racial discrimination in state court juries.

Other proposals to correct conditions which President Johnson blames for racial rioting are getting added deeply in Congress. These include proposals for rent supplements, federal Corps and demonstration cities — where urban areas would be cleared.

The demonstrations must continue," Mr. John L. S. Halloran, New York City, new NAACP president, said in an interview. "To advocate cessation would be an effort to sweep the problem under the rug."

"It would be the same or worse than denying labor unions the right to strike."

Negro Doctor Supporting Race Protests

CHICAGO (AP) — Negroes who carved out successful careers as medical leaders voiced support today for demonstrations and protests designed to create equal opportunities for Negroes.

The new president, the outgoing president and a past president of the National Medical Association, New York City, new NAACP president, said in an interview. "To advocate cessation would be an effort to sweep the problem under the rug."

"It would be the same or worse than denying labor unions the right to strike."

Charges Are Filed Over Youth Party

SHOSHONE — Rev. John F. Tulk, vicar of Christ Church Episcopal, appeared before Justice of the Peace G. W. Gwin Tuesday on charges of contributing to the delinquency of minors in connection with serving beer at a party at his home.

The complaint, filed by Sheriff Thomas W. Conner and Shoshone Police Chief William J. Anderson, stated Rev. Tulk had encouraged the youths, invited to his home July 27 for a party, to come within the purview of the Youth Rehabilitation Act. Prosecuting Attorney Howard E. Adkins read the Idaho statute on beer. Some 80 persons, ranging in age from about 12 to 80 years, most of them members of the minister's parish, attended the court session.

Rev. Tulk made no plea but stated that he had invited 53 college-age students to a party on July 27 and one-half of them were over 20 years. On the written invitations, the guests were invited to bring friends, and 68 youths attended.

To my knowledge no one under age in my house or as a result of being at my house, consumed beer," he said. "It was not my intention that there be any violation of law. This will not happen again. Any entertainment I may have in my house in the future, I will sit out of my way to insure there is no violation of the law."

A demurrer was filed by the defendant's attorney, Stephen Boller, that the case be dismissed because the complaint did not state a violation of law. Judge Gwin withheld ruling on the demurrer, with understanding that if he did rule, the defendant's attorney would have more opportunity to present information.

The chamber went on record in opposition to the gun control legislation and the secretary was notified to write congressional delegation to this effect. Member expressed appreciation to Edward Kelley and the Jay-Cettes and Jaycees for their float in the parade.

Ivan Hopkins, county extension agent, stated that the year was larger than last year and he considered it very successful.

Tashkent Quake Marked by Rubble Heaps, Citizens Living in Tents

TASHKENT, U.S.S.R. (AP) — Under a moonless sky eerie lights from bulldozers illuminate heaps of rubble, splintered tree stumps and what is left of houses that once stood in quake-wrecked Tashkent.

On nearby streets, the people who used to live in the houses sit in tents and watch the demolition crews.

Cigarettes glow in the darkness, radio music drowned out by the trucks, and the No. 1 topic of conversation is last April's powerful tremor that left 300,000 persons homeless.

The time it took to build and equipment work through the night to complete a massive housing project called Chinnazar. Before the winter rains come in November, Chinnazar's apartments must house thousands now living in tents, Soviet officials say.

Day and night, these scenes are repeated as this largest city of Soviet Central Asia tries to recover from the shock of April 26.

It was a powerful one, reaching a force of 6.25 on the 10-point Richter scale. In the four months since the first quake, there have been more than 600 additional tremors, including five big jolts, yet Soviet officials claim only 15 persons have been killed and about 500 injured.

The explanation offered is that the earthquake moved up and down, not sideways, and it struck hardest at old one-story buildings of unbraced mud and bricks that easily crumbled.

After the first quake, Communist officials closed the city to foreign correspondents and by the time it was reopened this month the most heavily damaged houses had been knocked down and carted away.

Earthquake damage caused authorities to condemn more than two million square yards of downtown housing.

"As a result," says Sofia Sokolova, assistant editor of the newspaper Pravda Vostoka (Truth of the East), "68,000 families became homeless."

At an average of more than four persons per family, this means that about 300,000 persons — one fourth of Tashkent's 1.2 million population — lost their homes. More than half of these have had their homes torn down and have been assigned other housing.

Mrs. Sokolova said 30,000 persons have moved into new apartments.

About 10,000 Tashkent residents were given plots of land to build their own houses. Some are prefabricated wood units costing about $1,000, payable in installments over 10 years.

Soviet officials say 31,000 persons are living in public buildings, such as college dormitories or office buildings. Another 35,000 have moved in with Tashkent families. About 16,000 moved to other cities. Another 40,000 moved back into damaged homes that were temporarily repaired.

"In other words," Mrs. Sokolova says, "there are about 177,000 persons whose status this winter has been settled. The remaining 120,000 or so are deciding what to do."

Tashkent residents lived in terror during the first days after the big quake but now say they're used to it and even joke about it. The men tell bawdy stories about husbands coming home to the wrong tents.

Advertisers Charged With Prejudice

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Equal Employment Opportunity Commission has begun a new campaign to wipe out discrimination in the help wanted columns.

The commission charged 75 advertisers Tuesday with discrimination by race, sex, religion or national origin in their classified ads.

Acting Chairman Luther Holcomb said main targets are such phrases as "men — neat appearance," "white attendant," "Catholic salesperson," or "Anglo carhops."

The commission's charges are being filed under Title VII of the 1964 Civil Rights Act which bans discrimination in employment and forbids advertising for jobs on a discriminatory basis.

Lynda Bird Hunts Job In New York

NEW YORK (AP) — Lynda Bird Johnson, job-hunting while her sister haggles, is in New York to shop, sightsee and talk to prospective employers.

Actor George Hamilton, Lynda's frequent escort, took her Tuesday night to see the musical "Sweet Charity." Earlier in the day she spoke with Robert Stein, editor of McCall's magazine.

She is to return today to Washington, where President Johnson confirmed at his news conference Tuesday that his elder daughter was being interviewed "preparatory to deciding what work she will do this year."

That seemed to mean that Lynda, 22, has given up plans for graduate study at the University of Texas, where she received a bachelor's degree with honors last spring.

Meanwhile in the Bahamas, Luc Johnson Nugent and her new husband, Patrick, honeymooned in absolute privacy, concealed from the curious by gates and shrubbery at a $250,000 Nassau Beach estate.

Newsweek Tuesday sent 20 roses and a card requesting interviews and pictures to the honeymoon villa. The bouquet and card were returned with word: the answer was "no."

Lynda's interview with McCall's apparently was supposed to be secret also.

"I'm embarrassed," said Stein when he learned that word of the talk was out. "There really isn't anything at this point to talk about."

Lynda wrote an article for McCall's last fall on an archeological expedition she made in the Southwest. Another article by her on the same subject appeared in the National Geographic.

Purge Extends to Economic Field

TOKYO (AP) — The Chinese Communist party extended its purge to the economic field today, denouncing party-economist Sun Yeh-fang as a bourgeois revisionist who tried to turn Socialist enterprises into capitalist ones.

Sun, former director of the Academy of Social Sciences of economics, is the first prominent economist to be named in the purge. Previously the prime targets have been military and cultural leaders.

Two Australian Girls Leave After Visit in Twin Falls

After two days of sightseeing around Twin Falls, Sun Valley and Redfish Lake, two Rotary-sponsored Australian girls departed for Boise Tuesday, and will visit among other places, Yellowstone National Park, before returning to Pennsylvania for school this fall.

The girls, Annette Walsh, from Geelong, Victoria, and Dawn Hanson, Wangaratta, Victoria, have been in the United States during the past year as exchange students. They are attending school at Wilkesbarre and Dallas, Pa., and will return to Australia in December.

Miss Walsh said she preferred Idaho for scenery, but thinks Las Vegas is the most fun of any place she has visited thus far.

Concerning the citizens of these United States, the girls said the further west they got the more people were like those in Australia. They said Americans have many different accents which are readily noticeable from state to state.

While staying with their Twin Falls sponsor, Mr. and Mrs. James S. Kinney, the girls visited Sun Valley, the Sun Valley Music Camp, the Sawtooth Mountains, Camp Bradley, Cape Horn, Shoshone Falls and Twin Falls.

The girls said they were very impressed with Idaho scenery, and were amazed to find that America still has a primitive area.

Since leaving Pennsylvania the girls have been through many states, including California where they went to Disneyland and many other nationally known tourist attractions. After leaving the Sunshine State they journeyed to Las Vegas, where they got an introduction to the gambling world at its highest level.

They said they were very impressed with Idaho scenery, and were amazed to find that America still has a primitive area.

Idaho Pet Is Named Dog Hero of Year

PRIEST RIVER, Idaho (AP) — A collie, appropriately named "Hero," who saved his young master from the flailing hooves of a maddened horse, has been named "hero dog of the year" by a national pet food concern.

Hero, the first show dog to win the award, belongs to George Jolley family.

Last February Mrs. Jolley was pitching hay to some horses on the family ranch near Hero when she heard three-year-old Shaw Jolley scream.

The boy was running from a horse. He tried to slide under a tractor but his clothing caught on the machine and he was exposed to the hooves of the horse.

Hero leaped at the horse and set his teeth in the animal's nose. The horse hurtled the collie to the ground but Hero grabbed the horse again and finally chased the animal away.

Neurological Disease Hits Dallas Area

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — What has been termed a "weird neurological disease" has sent 17 persons to Parkland Hospital in the last few days, city health authorities said.

A Parkland spokesman said a man, 21, died from the malady with the other patients' conditions listed as from good to critical. Age range of the victims is from 21 to 87. Dr. Hal J. Dewlett, city health director, said.

With physicians here so far unable to pinpoint the nature of the disease, Dr. Dewlett asked the help of specialists from the U.S. Public Health Service's communicable disease center in Atlanta, Ga.

Symptoms — have — included twitching of limbs, stiff neck, fever, headaches, involuntary rapid movement of the eyeball and unconsciousness.

Most patients are only "moderately sick," said Dr. Dewlett.

Guard Unit Alerted for Boat Races

BOISE (AP) Gov. Robert E. Smylie formally alerted a unit of the Idaho National Guard Wednesday, instructing it to be on duty during the Diamond Cup hydroplane races in Couer d'Alene Sunday.

The guardsmen, members of the 148th Field Artillery Battalion, will be called up for "normal weekend training," Smylie said, adding:

"The battalion of 400 men, trained and equipped in riot control, will assist local law enforcement officers in the event of rioting in connection with the races."

The presence of the guard around Couer d'Alene last summer apparently halted the usual scene of mob rule at the races.

"I will not tolerate, and have so informed the guard and law enforcement officers, the existence of rioting and destruction of personal property at this year's race."

"I am not against celebrations, but I am against mob rule."

The battalion is made up of units from Lewiston, Moscow and Bonners Ferry.

Readings Given From French Text

BY CYNTHIA MCKENZIE

BUHL — Readings from the French text of Moliere's "Tartuffe" were presented by members of the company of the Antique Festival Theater Monday night.

A small but very appreciative audience of patrons and their guests, some of whom have already observed the delightful English adaptation of the play currently being offered as part of the Festival theater's 1966 repertory, attended.

Members of the company participating were Madi Brakken, Julius Domowitz, II, Paul Kiss and Peter Marshall. A special guest of the company was Mrs. Marie Louise Rajard, mother of Mrs. Brakken, who is active in theater and television in her native France.

Preceding the reading, Madi Brakken gave a "dramatic" account, translated by her daughter, of the near-ritual procedure of attending the theater in France, as contrasted with the somewhat informal manner enjoyed by Americans.

After the Moliere reading by the cast, she presented two readings from her own repertoire.

The first, "La Charilite" by Jean Rictus, portrays a lady of the street, who makes her Christmas Eve supplication for the things in her heart before the Virgin Mother.

The second, "The Urcin," by Camille Francois, sketches a childless woman, who sees beauty and love in the eyes of a street urchin who would rather beg for cigarettes than candy.

Mme. Rajard's evocative command of the material in both pieces brought warm response from the audience.

Ky Reported Willing to Negotiate

LOS ANGELES (AP) — South Viet Nam Premier Nguyen Cao Ky says he is willing to negotiate an end to the war with the Hanoi regime "under favorable conditions," the Los Angeles Times reported today.

"We would go to the conference table to tell them we draw the line at the 17th Parallel," Ky was quoted as telling Times correspondent William Tuohy during a flight Tuesday to Tan Ky, where Ky was based on the current Operation Colorado.

Tuohy quoted the premier as saying:

"We would be willing to talk if they would be willing to compromise."

"We're not sitting down to give them a couple of provinces south of the 17th Parallel. They would have to withdraw their agents and soldiers from South Viet Nam."

"I'm not refusing to talk. The question is whether the Chi Reds will talk. Personally, I don't think Hanoi will accept negotiations now."

"They have nothing to lose by continuing their aggression. If we can prove to them we stand firm, that we are stronger every day, every month, then on the day they see no hope for victory, they may wish to talk to negotiate," the report concluded.

Political Parties Set Friday Meet

RUPERT — Precinct committeemen and committeewomen of both political parties, elected in the primary election, will hold separate meetings at 8 p.m. Friday to organize their separate central committees.

The Republicans will meet in the courtroom and the Democrats will meet upstairs in the civic building.

A chairman, a state central committeeman and a state central committeewoman will be elected at these meetings. Each will be a member of the state central committee and be entitled to one vote at all meetings of the state central committee. Also to be elected are a secretary, a vice chairman and such other officers as may be desired on the county level.

Mrs. Phillip Bare, Democratic County chairman, noted that although, according to the law, only precinct committeemen will be allowed to vote on the organization of the committee, the Democratic meeting will be open and all county Democrats are invited to attend and help make plans for the coming campaign.

All precinct committeemen elected are also members of the legislative district committee of each political party and will meet at 8 p.m. Saturday. The Republicans will meet in the Shoshone courthouse and the meeting place for the Democrats will be announced later.

Signs Indicate U.S. Could Have Korean-Sized War by Christmas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Signs mount that the United States may have a Korean-sized war on its hands in Viet Nam around Christmas.

This would mean an American commitment of about 470,000 men in Southeast Asia, the peak level of U.S. forces used directly and in support of Korean operations in 1953.

Present U.S. strength in activity tied to the Viet Nam war is estimated at 375,000, including 280,000 troops in Viet Nam, 60,000 seamen offshore and at least 25,000 military personnel spread over bases, supply complexes and other facilities in Guam, Thailand, the Philippines and Okinawa.

Reports persist, and are not officially denied, that by the end of this year American troops within Viet Nam will total about 400,000 — some 110,000 greater than at present.

From President Johnson on down, various leaders have talked of bolstering American forces as a means of trying to pressure Communists to negotiate a settlement of the conflict. "More manpower will be required," President Johnson told a news conference July 20. "We shall send General Westmoreland such men as he shall require and request."

Gen. William C. Westmoreland is U.S. commander-in-Viet Nam.

Today, Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., told The Associated Press the force "necessary to do the job on the ground" could eventually run as high as 500,000 to 600,000.

"It's very apparent we're going to need more men there," Stennis, chairman of a Defense subcommittee, said. He predicted in January U.S. troops in Viet Nam would hit 400,000 by the end of this year.

One Pentagon official, who must remain unnamed, estimated the actual 1966 year-end strength in Viet Nam probably will be nearer 375,000. But he said defense officials have talked of a 450,000-man ground force to be available within coming months.

The official emphasized that such discussions center around capability and that at this point there has been no firm decision to deploy men in such numbers. The whole question of the spiraling U.S. buildup drew fresh attention this week with word of two studies casting doubt on the adequacy, over the long run, of the present level of American forces in Viet Nam.

About the same time, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon was saying in Saigon after meeting with top military officials he felt a half million men would be needed to win the war.

Speculation immediately arose that Nixon was reflecting the view of Westmoreland.

The two studies — whose existence coincidentally became known in Saigon — attracted sudden official downgrading from the Pentagon in Washington.

One report compiled by the Marine Corps indicated that Hanoi could keep up its present war pace indefinitely unless the United States increased its forces to about 750,000.

The other, described as an Army study, stated that with the present rate of progress in the war, the Communist regime could hold out eight years.

the enemy. Yet the Communists continue to slug back — mostly when cornered during American attacks, or late in the day when they can drag out the conflict.

"I would warn against expecting a quick decision," Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara says. Of late the Pentagon chief avoids venturing a timetable for ending the war, no doubt remembering he once predicted a withdrawal of all U.S. troops from Southeast Asia by the end of 1965.

THE MISSION

HERE IS HOW scientists hope the Lunar Orbiter spacecraft will help pick a landing spot for astronauts on the moon. The Lunar Orbiter, due to be launched by an Atlas-Agena rocket, left Cape Kennedy, Fla., Wednesday, is intended to achieve a lunar orbit less than 30 miles above the moon's surface. High resolution pictures are to be made of a narrow belt across the lunar equator, upper right, and transmitted to a ground station, lower right. The pictures, to be subjected to a computer enhancement process, are hoped to show details of the moon's surface the size of a card table, according to scientists of the Jet Propulsion Laboratory at Pasadena, Calif., where the work will be done. Humphrey Dismisses Idea Of Kennedy Replacing Him

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey smilingly dismissed speculation today that Sen. Robert F. Kennedy might replace him as President Johnson's 1968 running mate.

Asked about the speculation as he lounged on a sofa in his office behind the Senate chamber, Humphrey said in an interview: "This is what I call the hazard course every vice president has to run. It is part of the basic training one has to go through. No man in public life is as much exposed to guerrilla war as a vice president—the opportunity to be shot at from all sides."

"If you survive, it is a modern-day miracle. But I plan on surviving."

What about reports of a change in his liberal philosophy since becoming vice president? "I have not changed my basic philosophy. I have changed jobs. There are new responsibilities. I am no longer U.S. senator from Minnesota."

What about reports that some of the party's liberals are yearning away from him and following the leadership of Kennedy, a New York Democrat?

"There is lots of room under the canopy for new recruits. I welcome new recruits. I am pleased to see that liberalism in 1968 is a little more popular than it was in 1956 or even in 1960."

In emphasizing that his role as a senator was much different from that of vice president, Humphrey said that as a senator he was at liberty to pick and choose any differences with the administration.

"I am now the vice president," he said, "a member of the team of the administration."

Frozen Milk

BOSTON (AP) — You'll soon be able to take a carton of milk concentrate out of the freezer, add water, shake and drink.

Frozen milk concentrate should be available to the consumer within a year, says Dr. William D. Powrie, a University of Wisconsin food scientist.

Whatever I do reflects on the President. The President makes the policies. My contribution is strongly backed Johnson's Viet Nam policies. In the councils of the administration.

"I do not publicly debate with said. But Hubert Humphrey be a liberal by ignoring the hard Cabinet officers or the President, but I do speak my mind in the councils of the administration."

Talk that he was switching from his liberal views, Humphrey said, stemmed from "a handful of people" who disagree always believes that this nation facts of aggression in Asia."

Theme Selected For Artistic Fair Exhibits

FILER — The theme, "Golden Anniversary," has been selected by the Twin Falls County Fair Flower Department for artistic arrangements to be entered at the fair.

The theme is in observance of the 50th Anniversary to be celebrated Sept. 7 through 10 when the four day fair and rodeo will take place.

There are 22 classes of arrangements offering premiums in first, second and third places. Included in these are three classes for junior and high school gardeners. Picture box classes offer premiums in five places in both picture boxes furnished by the fair and those furnished by the individual. There is also a class for house plants.

Commercial flower or plant exhibits list three place premiums. Community exhibits offer three premiums each. Flower clubs for best quality exhibits, best artistic exhibit, and best quality exhibit of one kind of flower.

Grange community exhibits are offered three prizes each in artistic arrangement and best quality exhibits.

A total of 85 different flowers is listed in open class cultural classes, according to Mrs. E. C. Peck and Mrs. Robert Kinyon, superintendents in the flower department.

Entries close at 9 p.m. Sept. 7 and can be made from noon to 5 p.m. Sept. 8. Judging will begin at 10 a.m. Sept. 7. All entries, except those for artistic arrangements, must be grown by the exhibitor and must remain in place until the close of the fair.

Containers will be furnished by the fair but exhibitors may bring their own if desired. Exhibits must be fresh cut, dried or treated plant material and no artificial flowers or foliage will be permitted.

Clubs entering community exhibits are asked to notify the fair secretary and the flower superintendents as soon as possible. Those who want to be in the picture boxes, furnished by the fair should make reservations.

Fashion Rules

CHICAGO — When the sun goes down, things get dark. That's not meant to be a brief description of how the solar system works. It's a fashion suggestion for men. The clothing worn during the day can vary greatly from that considered correct for a more formal evening event. The general rule is to keep lighter-toned clothing for day wear and darker attire for after-five.

ATTEND CAMP

MR. AND MRS. RONALD O. COOPER

Roann Wegener, Cooper Recite Nuptial Vows

Roann Wegener, daughter of Mrs. Beulah W. Wegener and Martin Wegener, was married to Ronald O. Cooper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Cooper, in an evening ceremony July 9 at the First Baptist Church, Twin Falls.

Rev. Ernest B. Hasselblad solemnized the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with lighted pink tapers in white wrought iron candelabra entwined with pink and yellow roses and greenery and flanked by beauty baskets of roses, gladioli and chrysanthemums in the bride's chosen colors of pink and yellow.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of shadow crimped chiffon with two-inch bands of grosgrain ribbon on the full-length A-line sleeves and A-line skirt. Bows of grosgrain ribbon enhanced the center back.

She wore a triple-tiered shoulder-length veil of bridal illusion. The gown was enhanced with a cathedral-length train. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and her jewelry was a strand of cultured pearls, a gift from the bridegroom.

Alta-Lamb, Spokane, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Jean (Charlotte) Probst, Cascade, college roommate of the bride; Elouise Skeen, Twin Falls; Mrs. James (Susan) Hamby, Twin Falls; Diane Cooper, niece of the bridegroom, Twin Falls, and Mrs. Riley Stocks, Twin Falls. Flower girl was Shanna Tate and Eddie Lang was ringbearer.

William B. Cooper, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Groomsman were Donald Cooper, brother of the bridegroom; Brian Lamb, Buhl, cousin of the bride, and Dean Tucker, Riley Stocks and Lynn Lee, all Twin Falls.

Freckles Are Now Considered Beauty Marks

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Freckles — those sun-induced flecks on the face over which almost every woman more than 12 years old despairs — are now considered beauty marks to be coveted and admired.

This spot report comes from Paris where, according to the New York fashion trade publication Women's Wear Daily, the jeune filles without any freckles are painting them on to make up this deficiency.

Spreading like the pox, the spot fever is expected to become contagious soon among fashion-conscious ladies in this country. The cosmetics industry is ready for it.

"Charming and irresistible" is the way Amelia Bassin, an executive for Faberge, reacts to freckles. The firm intends to make them a part of its outdoor Western look for fall.

"The next step after putting a natural-looking freckles on the cheek — which is matching them to the color of a dress. For example, purple freckles with a purple dress."

Even though the Lilly Dache firm makes a product to hide a bridge of brown dots, this company too is happy that freckles are coming out from under a cover of paint.

Freckles have been coming into focus for some time now, according to Hollywood makeup man Don Fox who had recently painted up some freckle-faced femmes for photo stills.

Some New York modeling agencies report an increasing demand for cute misses with a sprinkling of pepper across pert noses.

On the other hand, Eddy Senz thoroughly disapproves of freckles as a beauty vogue for just any woman. He is the veteran makeup man who takes time out from applying his bag of cosmetic tricks to orientamental celebrities to rush to Texas or Washington to emphasize the best features of the Johnson women.

"Freckles are a part of the glow of youth and should not be hidden by the young," he says. "But it is wishful thinking for a mature woman to believe that freckles can do anything to improve her. The freckle fad is a part of this whole silly youth worshiping kick."

Yet so many young girls as Samantha Eggar, Julie Christie, Doris Day, Joan Crawford and Katharine Hepburn have long been sporting their specks with pride.

Thompson's Sixth Inning Single Gives Ogden 6-5 Victory Over Cowboys

OGDEN.—Rich Thompson singled in two runs in the sixth inning Tuesday night to give Ogden a 6-5 victory over the Magic Valley Cowboys, the Dodgers' third straight. The result kept the Dodgers one-half game behind Pioneer League leading Treasure Valley and dropped the Cowboys to four out. The two teams will play the final game of the current series Wednesday night. From there the Cowboys will travel to Idaho Falls for four games before returning to Twin Falls. Thompson also batted in a run and scored one in the third inning, when Ogden took a 2-0 lead. Thompson brought in John Gamble with a single and then came home on Bob Harvey's single.

Pro Golfers Fail in PGA Power Struggle

CLIFTON, N.J. (AP)—Tournament professionals and officials of the Professional Golfers Association engaged in an all-day battle Tuesday without reaching a decision on the touring pros' demands for a stronger voice in their own affairs. Neither Max Elbin, president of the PGA, nor Tommy Jacobs, chairman of the players' committee, would comment on the dispute.

Indications were that relations between the touring pros and the parent PGA organization, made up largely of home or teaching professionals, were near a breaking point. The touring pros outnumber the PGA's 15-1.

First the seven-man tournament committee made up of four players and the three top officials of the PGA, convened behind closed doors for six hours.

The touring pros appeared before the committee at a 2 1/2-hour meeting at the Upper Montclair Club here, where the $100,000 Thunderbolt Classic starts Thursday.

There was little progress, insiders said. No immediate future meetings were planned.

Principally, their demands are:

1. That they set up their own tournament organization and pick their own director and other officials.

2. That they have exclusive rights in handling television monies.

Currently, the PGA calls most of the shots. An exception is the case of TV where the players have hired their own man, Mary Carmichael of New York, to handle a special television contract on four events.

The tournament boys struck their blow at the PGA Championship in Akron, Ohio, last month when they won a petition demanding greater autonomy. They threatened to boycott the Golden Anniversary Championship.

The move was placed when the PGA directors promised to give their requests official attention at the annual meeting in December in Palm Beach Gardens, Fla.

The formal petition asks that an extra section be set up—the 35th—to be composed of and administered by the touring pros and also that the 34 sectional winners no longer be exempt from qualifying for the PGA Championship.

Both requests are certain to be voted down by the membership, heavily weighted with 'home pros.'

No Limit

BOISE (AP)—Fishermen were told Tuesday they can catch as many trout as they wish in the Little Lost River, between Mountain Home and Fairfield.

Dugger Tips Williams for Munny Crown

Doyle Dugger defeated Sherm Williams 4 and 3 over the weekend to take the club championship of the Twin Falls Municipal Golf Course.

In the consolation of the championship flight Jim Monnett downed Duane Serpa 2 and 1.

First flight winners went to Curt Thomsen for a 5 and 4 victory over Bill Lang and Robert Langdon dropped Hob Bowen 3 and 2 for consolation honors.

The match between Bob Willis and Jim Hollenback for the second flight is yet to be played. Bruce Mecham slipped Cliff Smith 1 up for consolation honors.

Keith Thomsen went 1 up on Keith Fullmer to win the third flight and Dale Smith trimmed Gary Rens 2 and 1 in consolation play.

Lopez Blanks Twins 2-0 For Angels

ANAHEIM (AP)—Ed Kirkpatrick's third-inning triple helped Marcelino Lopez win a pitching duel from Jim Merritt Tuesday night as the California Angels defeated Minnesota 2-0.

It was the Angels' 11th victory over the Twins in 12 meetings this year.

Lopez, 20, allowed five hits and Merritt, 21, gave up only four in the eight innings he worked.

The loss knocked the Twins into sixth place in the American League, one percentage point behind Chicago.

Kalene Won't Talk About Batting Title

WASHINGTON (AP)—Detroit's Al Kalene is willing to talk about anything but the American League batting championship. He's afraid any such conversation will put a hex on him.

Kalene, who at 20 was the youngest in history to win the title in 1955, is having his best season since 1953 when he hit .312.

The Tiger outfielder had a triple, three singles and a walk in the 1955 season.

The 12th inning 5-3 victory over the Washington Senators.

His performance boosted his average from .287 to .317. His average is good enough for second place among the league's hitters, past Baltimore's Ed Frank Robinson's .315 and only four points behind the leader, Minnesota's Tony Oliva.

"I know what you're going to ask but don't," Kalene said Tuesday. "I just don't ask me about the batting race."

"Everything I talk about, I go 0-for-10. If you want to talk, we'll talk. But it'll have to be about something."

"I was going good for a while earlier this year and one of our boys asked me about the race," he said, referring to a Detroit sportswriter. "Then I went into a slump."

"A little later, I started hitting again. In one town we visited, a reporter asked me questions about the race and I answered. What happened? I went into another slump."

"So, I just don't want to talk about it."

Jaster Hurls Cards Over Phillies 3-2

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Larry Jaster permitted just two singles through the first eight innings, but needed ninth-inning help from Nelson Briles as St. Louis downed Philadelphia 3-2 Tuesday night.

Jaster had a 3-0 lead going into the ninth, but Johnny Briggs tagged his first pitch for a home run. After Cookie Rojas and Johnny Callison singled, Briles came on and got slugger Rich Allen to hit into a double play. Rojas scoring. Briles ended the inning by striking out Tony Taylor.

Brook slammed a 425-foot homer off Jim Bunning after Jaster singled in the third. The Cardinals got their third run on consecutive doubles by Orland Cepeda and Mike Shannon in the sixth.

Powell, Daniels Ink Raider Pacts

SANTA ROSA, Calif. (AP)—Offensive end Art Powell and fullback Clem Daniels have ended their long holdout and are working out again with their Oakland Raider teammates.

The two American Football League stars came to terms Monday after a 24-day holdout. Although they had said they would negotiate only together, they were signed separately by General Manager Sam Stripling.

Each had asked for three-year, no-cut contracts at $50,000 annually. Details of the pacts were not announced. But it was believed they would get more than $30,000 each.

Tigers Score 8-3 Victory Over Senators

WASHINGTON (AP)—Don Wert's seventh-inning home run following an error by Fred Valentine on Earl Wilson's fly ball to center broke up a tight ball game Tuesday night as the Detroit Tigers defeated the Washington Senators 8-3.

Norm Cash and Orlando McFarlane homered in the Tigers' five-run eighth and Willie Horton and Wilson added triples.

Wilson and Frank Kreutzer were tied 1-1 in matching three-hitters with two out in the Detroit seventh when Wilson flipped to center and Valentine dropped the ball. Wert's fifth homer made it 3-1 and broke open the game.

Clendenon Paces Pirates Over Mets

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Doan Clendenon doubled in one run in the fourth inning with a pitcher's double, giving the National League-leading Pittsburgh Pirates a 2-1 victory over the New York Mets.

The Pirates scored both runs in the fourth inning with Jose Pagan scoring on Clendenon's smash off the right field screen. With Clendenon on second and Bill Mazeroski on first with an intentional walk, Fryman singled on the first pitch from starter Dennis Ribant, driving in Clendenon.

Fryman blanked the Mets on six hits through six innings, but they got to him for a run in the seventh. Jerry Grote walked, went to second on Ed Kranepool's single and raced home as Bill Murphy singled.

Fish Parasites Not Harmful

BOISE (AP)—The Idaho Fish and Game Department said Monday a worm like parasites found on some trout at this time of year do not hurt fish quality.

James C. Simpson, chief of fisheries management, said the parasites are called copepods. "These copepods," he said, "are strictly external parasites on trout and do not damage them in any way."

What Bourbon king built a castle in Kentucky?

The Bourbon king was Colonel E. H. Taylor, Jr., a leading whiskey distiller in the late 1800's.

Col. Taylor had been searching for a special kind of water to make Bourbon with: limestone spring water. Water with a clean, tantalizing flavor it gets as it bubbles up through limestone groundrock.

In 1887, he found his spring near Frankfort, Kentucky. The water here gushed up so pure, so plentiful the Colonel knew he would never want to make Bourbon anywhere else.

So, next to this spring, he built a distillery. Built it to last in the form of a castle made of the very limestone that was to give his water its intriguing flavor.

Today, the castle still stands. The spring still flows. And Old Taylor still is coming out of Kentucky as incredibly smooth-tasting as ever.

Elmore Girl Named Queen At Fairfield

FAIRFIELD — Diane Yurarte, Mountain Home, was crowned queen of the 1966 American Legion rodeo at the concluding performance Sunday afternoon.

Second place went to Pat Light, Twin Falls, and Rachelle Borack, Fairfield, was third. Carmen Morgan, Mountain Home, was reigning queen for the 1966 event.

The Saturday night and Sunday afternoon performances were kicked off with a parade on the main street of Fairfield. More elaborate floats and more entries were noted in this year's parade. Leroy Packham was parade chairman.

A notable entry in the parade was an ancient J. L. steam locomotive that at one time belonged to the late Will Wolfe and Dick Wolfe, pioneer residents. Outstanding floats included the 4-H, Elk Creek Grange, American Legion Auxiliary, 100% and Rebekah Lodge, Fairfield. Druggists in addition to many decorated vehicles.

Ky Warms Up to South Viet Nam Elections

By GEORGE McARTHUR SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Apparently reluctant no longer, Premier Nguyen Cao Ky is warming up to South Viet Nam's elections for a Constitutional Assembly, now only a month away.

With an air of increasing confidence, the 35-year-old military boss is playing a hard game of domestic politics. Even his critics agree the dapper air vice marshal is promoting the Sept. 11 elections now, although he only grudgingly accepted the idea last April, at the height of a Buddhist crisis.

Ky recently placed his senior colleagues before the press for a comprehensive, rose-tinted state of the nation report — military, political and economic.

He followed up with speeches and public appearances. He has seen a stream of callers, foreign and Vietnamese. He has ordered the military governors of the nation's 43 provinces to call in local notables and explain what the elections are about. By all accounts, "those" meetings were well-attended, frequently in such neutral settings as schoolhouses.

Ky also summoned all province chiefs to Saigon for a three-day election conference, attended by other military — and civilian — leaders. Ky opened the meetings by pledging honest voting supervised by candidates, civil servants, students and military cadets.

Ky also permitted his former chief rival, Gen. Nguyen Chan Thi, to fly to the United States for an indefinite visit, despite an embarrassing six-month prison sentence he incurred for guesting on the dispatch good news to President Johnson.

On the other side of the ledger is the skeptical view of some officials, both Vietnamese and American, that the premier is engaged primarily in an astute maneuver to sugarcoat his military rule and retain power.

Ky's statement that he would not be a presidential candidate in any future election has not dispelled the idea he will be. While Ky revels in his air force 850 combat troops and 118 officers in the assault force, plus a crew. She was christened the Dubouque.

Some facts of Vietnamese life cloud the prospects for civilian rule. It is difficult to envision an anti-Communist government in South Viet Nam which would not be under profound military influence.

Apart from the Viet Cong, military forces comprise the only nationwide political force of any effectiveness, with the possible exception of the minority Roman Catholics. Buddhists, Confucianists and other sects making up the majority are fragmented and have yet to produce either positive programs or appealing leadership. The labor movement is "political" feeble. So-called independent politicians have not ignited any significant section of public opinion, even in cities where some have relatively large followings.

The elections are not designed to oust soldiers from government life, but rather to produce an anti-Communist assembly with the specific — and only — task of writing a constitution.

The assembly will have 117 seats. Nine will be filled by mountain tribesmen, four by border people of Cambodian extraction, and 104 will be elected by the rest of the population. Despite the complications, more than 700 candidates are appointed by Communism or recruited. The military screening committee, appointed by the

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

WEDNESDAY, August 10 —

Born today, you are somewhat inclined to be impatient with yourself. You want to get ahead in the world quickly, and you are spurred on by an ambition that in all probability is not in keeping with your slow, methodical way of doing things. If you are wise, you will keep your ambition in check, realizing that the quick route fraught with error is actually a far slower road to success than the careful route lined with accuracy.

One with a nature such as yours must be extremely careful in his choice of friends. You will be drawn toward those who move through life smoothly, easily, and almost always successfully. The "stars" of this world will appeal to you, and you will want to emulate them. If you do so, however, you may work against your own best interests, for you may be trading good friends for "flashy" ones.

Whether man or woman, you have a strong domestic inclination. Matters concerning the home — decoration, design, cooking — will appeal to you greatly. If you are a woman, such interests will naturally be put to good use. If a man, however, you must take care not to draw away from such interests merely for fear of ridicule. Remember that the most successful designers, decorators, and chefs in the world are men!

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Thursday, Aug. 11

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) — Discover the principle underlying recent changes in your every day life and you will be better able to do something about them.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) — There are both advantages and disadvantages to your present position. In considering a change, don't overlook the former completely.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) — Treat your co-workers as individuals rather than as members of an "institution." Your personal relationships will improve.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 23) — Take care to do precisely what is required of you this morning. Otherwise, you may find yourself with uncomfortable gaps this afternoon.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 23) — Interests, enthusiasms, and aspirations — all these should be considered as you contemplate your future.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20) — Make it your business to participate in whatever community events are on the agenda.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) — Don't allow your enthusiasm for the present project to blind you to the problems inherent in it. Be prepared for setbacks.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 21) — Keep to a relatively small group today if socializing. Large numbers of people may set you off your stride.

ARIES (March 22-April 20) — Divide your time into realistic periods of work, play, and rest. Otherwise, you may find yourself overdoing the one and losing out on the others.

TAURUS (April 21-May 21) — A definite degree of independence is required today if you are to achieve your ends. Rely on your own judgment.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) — Effective work habits should pay off well today. You should be able to reach a point in your progress where the end is in sight.

CANCER (June 22-July 23) — Ease your transition from one project to another. Avoid leaving one thing cold and entering another the same way.

Oswald brings up a hand that Jim played with him recently as the subject of today's discussion. He says: "West's jump to four hearts crowded me. I might have doubled him but instead, I took a chance and raised you to game. The game contract was reasonable. You

Judging Day Held by Two 4-H Groups

MILNER — Gene Reinhold, Cassia County Extension Agent, assisted Floyd Morrison, leader of the Better Feeders and Filters 4-H Club, Murtaugh, and Farnum Warr, leader of the Better Feeders and Filters Club, Milner, with a practice judging day Sunday at the Morrison home.

The Foothill Lads and Lassies Club of Murtaugh and the Hansen Hustler Club of Hansen were guests.

Susan Hogue led the 4-H pledge and Janet Seymour the pledge of allegiance.

After the judging meet each club held a short business meeting. Kenneth Warr demonstrated various ways of splicing electric wires; Janet Seymour demonstrated preparing vegetables for the fair exhibit; Robert Kloor showed how to judge a lamb and the various parts of the animal; John Kloor gave an illustrated talk on the various cuts of meat on a lamb.

Warr reported that 10 members of the club had attended East End Achievement Day at the Kimberly High School.

Carol Warr, Paul Warr, Jim Brill, Robert and John Kloor furnished lambs for the event. A picnic sack lunch was held in the park after judging events.

"Frankly, kids, the way interest rates are going up—better borrow as much as you can!"

Killing of Important Buffalo Makes Highland Farmer Turn on Viet Cong

By TOM TIEDE
BINH DINH PROVINCE, Viet Nam (NEA)—They say if you kill a farmer's wife here, he'll give you his water buffalo, he'll fight.

One side gained a trooper recently because of this. Or rather, the other side lost one.

A highland farmer's tragic story, given in emotional confidence by his son, a soldier, as he sat on a mound of dirt which normally houses ants, just a bullet shot from Viet Cong and government positions.

The boy, 19, is the only known survivor of his father's family. An older brother left for Saigon a year ago after a younger brother was conscripted into VC forces. Neither has been heard from since.

Last month the mother died from a bullet in the stomach. The boy was the last to go. Says he with a shrug: "The Viet Nam army got to me first. When either side asks, you don't refuse."

Barely five feet tall, caramel-colored and skinny as a church cat, the lad bit the filter tip from his cigarette, lit up and mumbled with a trembling lip about his father's miseries.

"We were always superstitious people. My father believed in his land as a Christian does his God. He had been asked to move many times during the war, but refused. Thinking, possibly, his land would be angry if he left and then bad things would follow him wherever he went."

The farmer disliked the government in his area. He knew of graft, cheating and mismanagement. When the Viet Cong moved into the hills surrounding, he felt at least it couldn't be worse than before.

"So," the boy continued, "he was sympathetic with the VC. They told him they would return the country to the people. They made friends in the village. They insisted they would protect, not destroy."

And the old farmer believed. Then they took his third son. His first left for the south in fear. And his wife. A good woman. She left for the village one morning and was late in returning. They found her on the road, dead from gunshot.

"The old man turned bitter. Years of war, insecurity, and now his family was gone. Still he refused to move. 'Where would I go?' he asked his remaining son. 'And the land would be angry.'"

As if to ease the burden of anguish, the old farmer worked harder than he ever had before. His buffaloes were a comfort in the fields, they had always been. Indeed he knew the buffaloes even better than his family. He tolled with the beasts the sun around. He talked to them, nursed them, fed them, housed them, cleaned them and protected them.

Without his animals he could not plow the earth. He could not move his crop. He could not pull a cart nor clear the land.

Children can be conceived. A wife chosen. But a water buffalo is a gift from the gods.

"I'm not certain how it happened," said the young soldier. "It may be that my father began to reject the VC. Or perhaps it was only an accident. Anyway, they shot the buffaloes about a week ago. My father is different
