Illinois Mayor Sets Curfew on Negro Riot Area.

WAUKEGAN Ill. (AP)—An emergency 7:30 p.m. curfew for the riot-ridden Negro section of Waukegan was declared today by Mayor Robert Sabanjan. In a third night of violence, seven persons were injured Sunday, six of them passengers in an automobile burned when a homemade fire bomb was tossed inside. Sixty-four persons, most of them Negroes, were arrested. Police Chief Walter Riley said 400 to 500 Negroes spilled into South Genesee Street, a commercial artery in the heart of the South East neighborhood, and stoned passersby, smashed windows and tossed firebombs.

Capt. J.W. Johnson said, "The worst thing I saw was those people who were burnt. There were little kids with their flesh coming off and women screaming."

The firebomb victims were Gabriel Albarra, 57; his wife, Mary, 52; their children, Jesus, 15, and Esther, 6; and Jose Lopez, 16, and his wife, Nemesia, 34. All are residents of Waukegan.

Esther Albarra was rushed to Cook County Hospital in Chicago—35 miles south of Waukegan—where she was reported in serious condition.

The other victims were in serious condition at Waukegan hospitals.

The fire department extinguished 10 blazes—set by firebombs—during the evening. Waukegan's 100-man police department was reinforced by 20 state troopers. 40 deputies from the Lake County sheriff's office and several police from nearby communities.

They barricaded five blocks of South Genesee Street and ordered the residents of the South East district to leave the majority of Waukegan's 6,000 Negroes live. Some 64,000 persons live in the Waukegan area.

There are six public housing buildings in the area, but individual homes are the densest. The area is dotted with automobile sales rooms, small factories and vacant lots.

Brutality Charges Are Investigated

CHICAGO (AP)—Two policemen seized a bare-chested heckler in the all-white Chicago Lawn community, rushed him to a patrol wagon and boosted him inside. The white crowd shouted "Brutality."

Twenty-four days earlier police shut off the gas line to a Negro in a West Side Negro neighborhood and arrested eight persons, an incident that kindled three nights of rioting. The Negro crowd shouted "Brutality."

Sup. O.W. Wilson set up the unit May 10, 1965, for that apocryphal purpose.

In the first year, Harris said in an interview, the agency received 687 complaints. The allegations, he said, were sustained in 29 of them and all the officers were penalized.

Terrorists Are Hanged in Cairo

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Three leaders of the outlawed Muslim Brotherhood terrorist organization were executed at dawn today for plotting to assassinate President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

Newspapers said Nasser had commuted the death sentences given four others to imprisonment for life.

Kennedy Seen as Demo Asset

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey expects Sen. Robert F. Kennedy to be a "great help to the Democratic party" in this year's election campaign.

Humphrey said he can't account for the public opinion polls which seem to indicate that the New York Democrat has greater political popularity at the moment than President Johnson.

But the vice president added: "I would expect that President Johnson will be the Democratic candidate in 1968 and I expect him to win the election. I hope to be the vice president candidate."

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, a potential candidate for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination, attributed Kennedy's strong showing over the war effort.

French Somaliland Security Tightened for De Gaulle Visit

DIJIBOUTI, French Somaliland (AP)—Security was tightened today in restive French Somaliland to prevent recurrence of last week's bloody independence riots when President Charles de Gaulle returns tonight en route to Cambodia. Pierre Billotte, French secretary of state for overseas territories, broadcast an appeal for calm and reconciliation among dissident elements in France's last remaining African territory. Billotte also conferred with Ahmed Idress Moussa, leader of the Parti du Mouvement Populaire which sparked many of the independence demonstrations. They resulted in 4 dead and 70 injured.

Billotte, left behind to investigate the riots, accused the neighboring Somali Republic of exploiting unrest in the colony. He said he believed local malcontents chose De Gaulle's visit to publicize dissatisfaction with the manner in which they were governed locally.

De Gaulle has stood fast against the independence demands. After the riots, he declared change could come only under democratic conditions and not through violence. De Gaulle recalled that in 1958 the territory chose to remain a French possession. He said his government would abide by that decision.

De Gaulle conferred in Addis Ababa today with Emperor Haile Selassie on the future of French Somaliland in which Ethiopia has a vital interest. The French president visited earlier in his visit to Addis Ababa.

The French vice president in the colony would be protected. De Gaulle and the emperor visited the terminus of the Addis Ababa-Djibouti railway which links Addis Ababa and Djibouti. Fire Crews Battle Hot Spots, Blaze Is Said Controlled

Three hundred firefighters are concentrating on the hot spots Monday in the fire that has burned more than 72,000 acres of range and timber land south of Twin Falls. Fire in the thick lodgepole pine and heavy brush near the Blue Mud Spring, four miles west of Rock Creek Ranger Station, is the main problem on the fire Monday, Forest Service officials state. The fire is considered contained in this time according to fire bosses from the Forest Service and Bureau of Land Management, but with strong winds predicted, the full effort of the firefighters is continuing.

Trained professional firefighters from Arizona and New Mexico account for 250 men fighting the fire. Hopi, Zuni, Santa Domingo, Questa and Between Saturday and Sunday a total of 211 fire retardant drops were made on the Southern Idaho fire by the converted torpedo bombers (TBM) with 600 gallons being dropped at a time.

During the same period, 38 drops by larger aircraft, at 2,000 gallons per drop, were made.

Total fire retardant (Phos-Chex) dropped on the fire during this period was 120,000 gallons, according to Max Rees, Sawtooth National Forest Supervisor.

Tortugas Indian tribes are represented. In addition to these, the Shoshone, Paiute, Nez Perce, Kootenai, and Shoshone are also on the fire.

The major problem facing the Forest Service and Bureau of Land Management officials Monday was the watershed rehabilitation of the fire blackened range and forest lands.

Several fire district rangers, Sawtooth National Forest, Twin Falls, has already begun rehabilitation planning. Jack Wilson, district manager of the Bureau of Land Management, Burley, also is beginning to evaluate the extent of damage to these important watershed, game and grazing lands.

In addition to watershed damage and loss of livestock forage, destruction of the game refuge for deer is a serious concern to these land managers. Besides the sagebrush killed by the fire, about 100 acres of habitat and "drumming" grounds in the Shoshone Basin occurred during the fire. Complete damage to wildlife habitat has not been determined.

Flames from the fire, started Thursday by lightning, burned to within 15 miles of Twin Falls Saturday night. According to the Forest Service, the fire had been reported under control early Sunday but gusty winds later whipped a portion of it loose.

Summer homes and camps in the Rock Creek area, 18 miles south of Twin Falls, were across a high mountain ridge and were not threatened by the fire.

About 150 men and 13 bulldozers were put on the fire lines during the night, according to Austin Hagner, Bureau of Land Management official.

All other activities of the fire are reported in the Fire Management effort.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG
By ANDREW TULLY
WASHINGTON — Scanning the output of our more cerebral pundits and the gray mass which is the New York Times editorial board, one is struck by the temptation strong to conclude that Communist China is in the throes of an ideological struggle one of whose participants could be the great leader Kuan-mun P'ing. There is something in this Donnybrook for all of us, we are told by our journalists, and we must not flit a cobalt bomb at Peking.
Still, the average citizen must be confused by the reasons advanced by the various experts as to why the Chinese upheaval is a bit of all right. On Tuesday, he is told by one expert that things are looking up because Mao Tse-tung is purging the hard-line bunch. But on Thursday a seer who once looked across the Hong Kong-Chinese border will report that it is the softies who are being purged and that this is good because the internal dissension the softies were stirring up was forcing Mao to think about going to war against the U.S. to take the people's minds off their troubles.

TAYLOR'S VIEWS ON WORLD NEWS
MINNEAPOLIS — Here in Robert H. Humphrey's home state his friends' anxiety about the forthcoming Congressional elections takes second place to the "dumb" Humphrey "talk" regarding his own renomination.
They insist none of this is coming from a President Johnson's life but also on Mr. Johnson's popularity. The less popular Mr. Johnson may become, with frequent pushes from Bobby, the harder it is for Humphrey to weather the Kennedy judo knockdown. Accordingly, some of the current polls especially dismay them as LBJ's popularity develops a leak or two below the waterline.
Beyond this, these Humphreys see Bobby keeping piling to the far left in an opportunistic place for himself. They say, Bobby is systematically using it. As a further purpose of this they see his plan shrewdly designed as a senator. I'd be a better machine dominated by a bevy of our teaching-talking-writing clan.
Humphrey himself keeps a very proper silence on public consumption regarding the Kennedy manipulations. But as to the offset to these, and whether he's right or not, his silence seems to be the conviction that Bobby will somehow outsmart himself as events develop.
Apparently Humphrey's single greatest resentment concerns Bobby's tactic regarding the Viet Nam war.
After the Bay of Pigs our Army was sent to Viet Nam, the record, and with Robert Kennedy himself performing as practically a co-president, President Kennedy ordered our presence in Viet Nam. But President Truman, Eisenhower or Johnson.
The blame would have gone to President Kennedy if he lived. Thus, from Humphrey's viewpoint he reportedly finds it utterly unconscionable that Bobby tries so unfairly to advance himself by distorting the Nam and the mounting draft and casualties into a political banana peel under the President and vice president. The Minnesota Humphreys find the over-all result as murderous as a flung knife. And both Humphrey and his White House ally, the Minnesota Humphreys, busy taking it out of their backs all the time.

Crystal-Gazing
Forced patrons of the U.S. Social Security Act might have seen the other side of the coin when they read the Tax Foundation's estimate that employees could pay up to $12,000 more than they could ever receive in old-age pay. Yet if readers had stopped to do a little calculating they might have wondered where the Tax Foundation got its figures.
In the first place, using information in the Social Security booklet being sold at cost by the Times-News, it would soon be obvious that the Tax Foundation considered what was to be withheld from an employee's check and also the contribution from the employer. However, the news story treated the whole contribution as a deduction from the employee's pay.
The second misleading factor involved the matter of anticipated life expectancy. The Tax Foundation specified its figures deal with those retiring in the year 2010, but it used 1964 life expectancy figures.
All of which relegates the whole matter into the category of crystal-gazing. Right now social security taxes total 6.4 percent of an employee's pay up to $6,600 annually. Half is taken from the employee's pay and the employer contributes the other 4.2 percent. Under present law, the tax rate will increase to 5.65 percent each—for employee and employer—by 1987. That's more than 20 years in the future and the taxation rate and other rules and regulations will be changed several times in that interval.
Presuming that Social Security continues to exist pretty much as now and that the trend in life expectancy continues to increase at the same rate as it did from 1900 to 1964, the picture would change rather remarkably. If the maximum Social Security tax were to remain unchanged until the year 2031, an employee would be taxed $16,407.60. The employer would contribute a like amount. But life expectancy would increase to 58.1 years by that time. Hence, a man could look forward to 30 years of retirement and a total pay of $11,560 in Social Security checks.
Even though its figures are somewhat misleading, the Tax Foundation has a good point. How much retirement insurance can a person purchase from a private insurance company with a premium of $372.90 annually? Insurance salesmen have a way of avoiding any comparison with the Social Security system. Yet it would be interesting to know what a 21-year-old person could purchase in the way of retirement income with annual premiums equal to the maximum Social Security tax.
Such private retirement insurance would have one marked advantage over Social Security. If the person reaching retirement age of 65 so desired, he could draw his retirement checks and continue earning as much as he wanted every year. Under the Social Security system, a retired person may earn up to $1,500 annually without penalty. After passing the age of 72, Social Security payments are made in full regardless of a person's additional earnings.
There's one element that always must be considered in any comparison between private insurance and Social Security. Left to his own devices, the average individual would never purchase retirement insurance.

NO OUTWARD CHANGES—This is upsetting to the skeptic who over the years has been unable to discern any appreciable difference in the mores of communist regimes. It has always seemed to me that these families, governments, while fascinating to the Red watcher, are meaningless. When the heads drop into the bucket, the winners go right on hating capitalists and scheming to nationalize my 1963 Corvair.
Probably I am unduly influenced by a three-day ideological experience suffered some years ago in a compartment of the Orient Express bound for Trieste from Belgrade. But the impression lingers, perhaps because my preceptor was a high-ranking French communist named Jean something—was so brutally frank in explaining the labyrinthine logic of the communist leadership.
Parenthetically, our introduction lacked warmth because I had leaped into the lower berth before Jean could say Karl Marx. After changing into pink Paisley pajamas, therefore, Jean settled down to sulk in his cubbyhole after a half-hearted remarks about the latest massacre of Negroes in Akron, Ohio, and the plight of child laborers in Pittsburgh.

Poor Man's Plato
By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — We live today in a two-of-everything world.
It is getting so a man can't hold his head up proudly any more unless he has a two-car garage, and dwells in a house that has at least two telephones, two television sets and two or more bathrooms. Many of the bathrooms even have two wash basins—for Mr. and Mrs.
But this philosophy of double plenty breaks down completely when a man goes to work. There he gets only one of everything—except perhaps in the matter of paper clips.
What profiteth a man to dwell in a house with two bathrooms, two cars and two television sets if he has to work in an office where he is allowed only one desk and one swivel chair?
Subconsciously he can't help feeling that he is a failure. To have only one of anything today is a sign of lack of success.
If he were really getting ahead at the office he would have two of everything: two desks, two swivel chairs and even two secretaries.
But he could. Any psychiatrist

The Doctor Says
By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M. D.
Several years ago when a young hemophiliac or bleeder incurred a slight wound he had to have transfusions of 13 units of plasma and whole blood to control the bleeding. Today, thanks to the use of a new technique for treating hemophiliacs before a dental or any other operation is making the difference between a normal living and nursing a constantly nagging fear.
A by-product in every blood bank is plasma, the clear fluid part of the blood. When it is frozen, then thawed at the lowest temperature that will permit thawing, a precipitate forms. This contains a high concentration of antibodies which, when used in the treatment of hemophiliacs, still in the experimental stage of development, is a great relief to the patient. It is given prior to an operation.
This is not the only new remedy for bleeders, however. Regular doses of blood of antihemophilic nature before an operation have drastically cut the need for transfusions in bleeders. The drug is available only on a doctor's prescription because it does must be carefully adjusted to prevent clots from forming in the veins.
I am calling attention to these new forms of treatment in the hope that they will help to spare a life of semi-invaluable brought on by a fear of surgery in normal activities. An early protective attitude on the part of the patient's physician has often condemned them to a life of greatly restricted activity. Furthermore they have of even been denied employment because they would lose a lot of time from work.
Exaggerated maternal concern has often led to a protective attitude. Every effort should be made to get the hemophiliac to lead a normal life. His wounds need no longer be filled with formalin.
Q — A doctor says my 4-year-old daughter is tongue-tied and that the cord under it should be cut. He says it's a normal thing. Another doctor told me to let it alone. What do you think?
A — Since a tied tongue usually functions well in both eating and talking, there is nothing to be gained by clipping it.
Q — My doctor says I have Mikulicz's disease. What causes it and what is the treatment?
This disease, also known as Sjogren's syndrome, is characterized by dryness of the eyes and mouth and chronic arthritis. The cause is unknown. Eye drops of methylcellulose and a throat spray of the same drug help to relieve the dryness. The arthritis is treated in the same way as rheumatoid arthritis.
Q — My doctor has had me take injections of a substance called B12 for my headaches for over 12 years. Is there any kind of medicine I could take by mouth or, better yet, is there a permanent cure?
Mikulicz's disease is an ergotamine preparation that is effective in the treatment of migraine and other headaches due to circulatory disturbances. It is given by mouth. Mikulicz's by mouth may help you. Unless a removable cause for your headaches can be found the chance for a permanent cure are poor.

FEELING PRESSURE
Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman evidently is feeling the pressure and heat resulting from increasing prices in an election year. His department predicted the other day that rising crop prices have reached their peak and will drop by 1 to 2 percent by the end of the year. Housewives everywhere will wait and see.
Housewives with limited resources or who operate on food budgets are well aware of how much food prices have risen in recent months. The whole story doesn't show in government statistics, but any woman in government statistics will be well aware that there can be no difference between what they receive for their crops and the price tag on the finished product after processing.
In truth, the consumer won't pay a great deal of attention to statistics and Department of Agriculture claims. The consumer who must stretch food dollars as far as possible isn't going to be misled by politicians. And if consumer dollars can stage a rebellion of sorts in marketing ballots.
The possibilities haven't been lost on Republican leaders. That's why they have been so much talk about rising prices on the retail levels. The agriculture Department wouldn't bother with explanations and predictions if Secretary Freeman weren't well aware that retail prices of food could defeat many a Democratic member of Congress this fall.

APPLIES TRUTH SERUM — But communists are human — and at last subject to such bourgeois frailties as thirst and I opened a bottle of Scotch Jean rather moodily joined the party. Under the jug's amiable influence, he soon tired of analyzing President Truman's upholy alliance with Wall Street and I led the talk around to the subject of Stalin's recent dismissal of some toughies who had been helping Lavrenti Beria run the secret police.
Was it not possible, I asked, that this signified the softening of the regime — an indication that Joe would not be adverse to talking things over with Washington?
The scorn with which Jean greeted this suggestion could have been cut even with one of those fancy knives for which wives have such a penchant.
"You talk like an idiot child," he told me. "In your insecurity, you Americans persist in indulging in wishful thinking and wish to put your ignorance. As every intelligent party member knows, Stalin dismissed these men not because they were too hard but because they were not his hard men. These were men he inherited long ago from Lenin. Quite properly, for the sake of his own security, Stalin dismissed these men because he wanted his own men in their positions. Keep this in mind, Monsieur, the time will come when the Soviet communist government. We do not make changes to benefit the capitalist world."

THE LIGHTER SIDE
By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — "Pigs is pigs," said a farmer near Lincoln, Neb., in 1966. The statement still stands as a model of scholarly observation in the field of swineology.
But although its logic may be plain, the deduction was of little help in the research project that I undertook recently.
I wanted definitive information on the proper way to lift a pig. My interest having been aroused by a controversy that arose at a House Foreign Affairs Subcommittee hearing.
Rep. H. R. Gross, R., Iowa, contended that a Peace Corps volunteer, who was photographed in Brazil lifting a pig with both arms under the porker's belly, had violated a cardinal principle of the state of Iowa, and to mention gravitation.
"You just don't pick up pigs of that size that way," Gross asserted.
But the young Congressman, Ronald Troselle, who learned pig-lifting on a farm near Nickel, Kan., subsequently insisted that his technique was perfectly correct.
"Just grab them around the girth and they relax," he explained.
In seeking to determine which party was in the right, I contacted C. M. Kipland of the Swine Research Bureau of the Animal Husbandry Department of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.
"Depends on the size," Kipland said when I had stated my query. "If it's a small pig, you can pick it up by the hind legs. That's the easier way."
"A big pig you probably would want to lift by the forelegs with his back toward you," he said.
I asked Kipland if he were prepared to go on record with an official declaration that Troselle's system was technically sound.
"Actually we don't do much pig-lifting here in the bureau so we have not gone into the matter scientifically," he said.
I was tempted to ask him about lifting pigs in general, but I feared that might involve the issue in politics.

Interpreting The News
By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — Richly speechless after his defeat, Nixon moved into this vacuum and ever since has done more to stay in the public eye than any Republican leader.
Nixon's speeches and statements range from Viet Nam to inflation. He has advice for Republicans on how to get along on Viet Nam should be.
While he approves Johnson's goals in the Vietnamese war, he criticizes Johnson's way of trying to reach those goals, then advises him how to do it.
He keeps pumping up Republicans for this fall's congressional elections, although he is not always consistent. Most of the time he says they will win 40 House seats but he also has said they will win only 30.
At the end of 1965 he was saying the Republicans were in a deep slumber. Now he says the Democrats are split, and not only are his thoughts about that?
"I am not going to speculate on 1968," he says.
He seemed politically dead for a while, after he lost the 1960 presidential race and his try for the governorship of California by Kennedy, the other by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.
But this week he said Kennedy didn't have a chance to wrest the Republican nomination from Johnson in 1968 although suggesting Johnson might want Kennedy as his running mate rather than Humphrey.
Kennedy told reporters, "I've never observed that Mr. Nixon's advice was very helpful to the Republicans."
Johnson said his view of Humphrey's performance was good and he was guided by "either the winds or desires or the predictions of an ex-vice president."

Views of Others
GOOD POLICE WORK, BUT...
The police are receiving both praise and criticism for their handling of the case of Richard Speck and deserve, we think, a little more of the former than the latter. In any event, it does show that law enforcement can operate with a certain degree of competence, even with regard to so shocking a multiple murder.
Some law enforcement officials have charged that the high court's recent ruling, protecting a suspect's right to silence and right to counsel, would handcuff the law. Yet the police built their case without questioning the suspect. They are by professional and scientific methods of detection.
Police Superintendent Orlando W. Wilson, a former professor of police administration, deserves credit to this point for keeping his force within the fair trial boundaries prescribed by the Supreme Court. Yet he also went beyond those boundaries himself. He did so by telling the press that Speck was "the killer," and by relating some of the violence against him.
No doubt the Superintendent was prodded by the press, which had helped the police by publishing sketches of the suspect that led to his arrest. Superintendent Wilson also owed the public a duty to keep the case out of the public eye. He should have arrested, but he went further, and made a flat accusation of the kind that should only be made in court.
As the case is being retried, we are contrasted with that of State's Attorney Daniel P. Ward, who would only say that the Speck case would go to a jury, and that legal ethics kept him from saying anything that might be prejudicial to the defense. Ward's attitude is a commendable one, and three Harvard authorities on constitutional law, think the fair trial, they rely on a Supreme Court decision that publicly given statements prejudicial trial in the Shepard murder case.
The question of prejudice can only be settled by the fact that we can afford to win this war, especially if the people here at home display the same character and determination that I saw out there." (Gen. Walter M. Greene, commander of the Marine Corps, commenting on the Viet Nam War.)

Large Oregon Fire Controlled

COTTAGE GROVE, Ore. (AP)—Loggers returned to the woods today and the fire fighters returned to the Ox Bow Ridge fire, which has been controlled at 46,000 acres.

A force of about 1,000 men were on the lines today, cutting trails inaccessible to bulldozers and keeping the blaze from jumping the trails while it burns itself out.

The largest blaze in Oregon since 1945 it broke out nine days ago.

$179 Million Available For Students

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Office of Education says more than $179 million dollars in federal funds will be available as loans to nearly 500,000 students in about 1,600 colleges and universities during the coming academic year.

The federal funds, provided under the National Defense Education Act, represent 90 per cent of the national defense student loan program. The colleges and universities will contribute the remaining 10 per cent.

The education office said about 968,000 students have borrowed $334 million since the program was authorized in 1958.

Escape by Plane

EISENSTADT, Austria (AP) — Two Hungarian refugees hedged-hopped a light sports plane across the Iron Curtain border today in a pre-dawn escape to neighboring Austria. After landing at a deserted airstrip near here, the pair, a 28-year-old licensed sports pilot and a 26-year-old mechanic, told police they had plotted the escape for more than a year.

Deaths Estimated

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Safety Council estimated Sunday that between 530 and 630 Americans will die in traffic accidents during the Labor Day weekend.

The record toll for summer's last holiday, compiled by the Associated Press in 1965, is 563.

This year's holiday tabulation period will run from 6 p.m. local time Friday, Sept. 2, to midnight Monday, Sept. 4.

The council also figured that at least 200 lives might be saved if there were no immediate use of alcohol by drivers.

Polish Ship Loses 15 Passengers

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) — The Polish cruise ship Polonia, which lost 15 passengers last night, was carrying more than 100 passengers to the West, left 15 more passengers behind this weekend.

The ship stopped in Copenhagen with 580 Polish and 205 Czechoslovakians on a vacation cruise. When she sailed Saturday night, 14 Poles and a Czech remained ashore and asked for political asylum, police said Sunday.

On June 23, 1953, the Polonia's skipper, Jan Cwiklinski, jumped ship in Britain and was granted asylum. Eight crewmen defected in July 1951, followed by 18 more a month later. Others have defected from the Polonia to Britain, Canada and Denmark.

FAIR TO OPEN
BOISE (AP) — The Western Idaho State Fair opens Tuesday on its old grounds in Boise — a time it is not usually called as a farewell performance.

The fair last year was to be the last on the old grounds with the 1965 edition to be held on new grounds purchased on the other side of the Boise River west of the downtown area.

But the fair board has been unable to sell the old grounds to help finance development of the new one.

ASKS TAX REMOVAL
BOISE (AP) — Republican gubernatorial candidate Don Samuelson called Sunday for removal of the sales tax from prescription drugs and a new procedure for tax relief for the lowest income families.

The state senator from Sandpoint said removal of the tax from prescription drugs being eliminated about $700,000 in sales tax revenue to the state. He said that amount could be absorbed by an expected sales tax surplus.

Aeronautics Board Rules On 2 Crashes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics Board ruled today that two planes crashed in Idaho and Oregon probably because the pilots, untrained in instrument flying, lost control when they flew into bad weather.

One crash near Ironside, Ore., last Dec. 29 killed four Idahoans — Cameron D. Jones, 41, the pilot; Benny Kawano and Fred E. Johnson Jr., both of Nampa, and Dixie Lee Tuning of Boise.

The other killed Leonard M. Slusser, 57, Salt Lake City, who was flying a light plane that crashed near Malita, Idaho, July 18, 1965.

The probable cause in the Oregon accident, on a flight from The Dalles, Ore., to Caldwell, Idaho, was listed by the CAB as:

"Noninstrument pilot continuing visual flight in unfavorable weather conditions, dark unlighted terrain, resulting in disorientation and loss of control."

In the Malita crash on a flight from Salt Lake City to Boise the probable cause was given as:

"Noninstrument pilot attempted continued visual flight in an area of adverse weather and thunderstorms, resulting in loss of control."

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

MONDAY, August 29 — Born today, you are prone to think that anything you've a mind to do you can do, without recognizing that everyone, including you, has certain talents and certain limitations. Avoid wasting your energies in the pursuit of goals which experience should have taught you are not for you. No amount of determination can overcome the frustration that arises out of failure, especially if that failure is caused by continuing down a path that is wrong for you.

A person gifted with definite abilities, you should discover what they are as early in life as possible, and then set about to develop both your interests and your talents along both emotional and financially profitable lines. Success and satisfaction go together in a person such as you are, and to fail to recognize this is to sentence yourself to a life of unhappiness.

Wanting what it is impossible for you to have is something you should also be wary of when it comes to romance. Avoid setting your sights on a member of the opposite sex who is obviously out of your world. Seek a mate who is willing and able to match you in matters able to your happiness — intellect, basic mood, and general approach to life.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23) — Assemble your materials before you begin to work matters out. Intellectual issues can hardly be solved on an emotional basis.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22) — Bravado is an ineffective barrier against the intruder. If you must keep others out today, take the straightforward approach; request isolation.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22) — The wise Sagittarius will shield his emotions today with an air of nonchalance. Avoid saying yourself open to criticism.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20) — Sidestep a health hazard by exerting special caution even in the midst of routine affairs.

Oregon Plant Strike Is in Seventh Day

GARDINER, Ore. (AP)—The strike of more than 300 men in this coastal town over a female employee's suspension because of light pants stretched into its seventh day.

Local 2195 of the Lumber and Sawmill Workers Union held its regular monthly meeting Sunday night and discussed the strike.

Harley Gray, local president, said he had been instructed to make no public statements. But he said the strike is still on.

The employee, Miss Pat Morris, 35, was suspended from her job on the night shift at the International Paper Co.'s plywood plant.

The brunette, whose measurements are 39-27-29, said six other women on her shift wore the same type of clothes.

She received an oral warning. The union maintained she should have received a written warning.

Berlin Zoo Hippopotamus Has Story More Impressive Than His Huge Mouth

BERLIN (AP) — Knauschke is a hippopotamus with a life story more impressive than his massive mouth.

He has poked two wars — one hot and one cold — and several wives into his 23 years.

He has been used as a tool of communism but is still loved by all Berliners. Few visit the West Berlin Zoo without stopping to say hello.

Knauschke, a brown-eyed, bewhiskered, two-tonner, was born a 100-pound baby in the Berlin Zoo during a 1943 bombing alarm.

In the same zoo was Berlin's biggest antiaircraft installation, an immense 132-foot-high concrete bunker bristling with cannon for use against Allied bombers.

When he was born, its guns were roaring.

Because of the installation, the zoo was a prime target for Allied bombs and only 41 out of 4,000 animals survived the war.

Knauschke's former keeper, Max Preusse, recalls: "A year after he was born a fire bomb proved bigger than borders."

He hit the hippo house, Knauschke and his mama, named Rosa, had been in the pool as part of the house collapsed near them.

They were unscathed but two mouths after another bomb exploded there and nearly buried both of them in sand.

"During the last days of the war, in 1945 there was some hard fighting around the bunker. A grenade was thrown into the pool and Rosa caught the full blast. Knauschke swam around in the bloody, mucky water and tried to nuzzle his dead mama into life."

Knauschke and an elephant, named Siam were the only big animals left in the zoo at the end of the war.

The Nazi collapse left German-occupied Poland in the hands of the Iron Curtain. But Knauschke's story is not over.

The Leipzig Zoo, in Communist East Germany, had also been hit hard by the war. Its hippo herd was reduced to two cows, Grete and Olga.

"The Leipzig Zoo director came here and proposed a deal," Preuss related. "He would ship his cows here to breed with Knauschke. If the result was a male, Leipzig would keep it. If a female, it would come to Berlin."

"Grete came in 1949, with much ballyhoo in the press over the forthcoming wedding. Grete was 22 years old, Knauschke and an elephant, only 6. But it was love at first sight.

"A great crowd came to watch the wedding and it was a tumultuous affair, a real crowd pleaser."

The match produced Schwabbel — Blubber, who is now the big bull of the Communist corral in Leipzig.

Important Hippopotami — until 1953 when the agreement ended.

In 1952, Grete gave birth to only the daughter of Knauschke and Olga, a cow, who stayed on to become Knauschke's permanent wife here.

Preuss said inbreeding is a conservative line of bigamy. She is not only the daughter of Knauschke and Olga, but also the bull's No. 2 mate.

The big fellow now leads a family of four, which are in circus and Russian zoos.

Speeches of 11 Candidates Postponed

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The South Vietnamese national radio postponed today the speeches of 11 candidates running in Saigon for election to the Constituent Assembly.

No explanation was offered and a spokesman for the radio could not say when the speeches would be rescheduled.

The candidates were the third group scheduled to deliver brief campaign speeches. Last Friday and Saturday, the first two days of the official campaign period, more than 20 candidates spoke and many of them were critical of the military regime.

Legislator Speaks at Farm Meeting

CAREY—Blaine County Farm Bureau sponsored a public meeting in Carey Wednesday with Pat Harwood, Jefferson County legislator, as speaker.

He is field representative of "Forward Idaho" and is traveling over the state presenting the case in favor of retaining the sales tax in November. Harwood was presented at the request of Bob Day, Carey, IEA president.

August has been a busy month for the Blaine County Farm Bureau. The annual picnic was held at the Bill Molyneux home, Gannett, with a large attendance.

On Aug. 19 talent winners from the county competed in Shoshone for district honors. Blaine County had a co-winner in the senior division who will represent them at the state Farm Bureau Convention this fall in Moscow. Judith MacFarland, Ketchum, with her humorous recitation will go as the winner from Blaine County. In the junior division, Wendy Rubieck, Sun Valley, with a piano solo, was a runner-up and so may be one of those going to Moscow.

Pressmen OK New Contract With Firm

NEW YORK (AP)—Members of the Pressmen's Union have narrowly approved a new contract with the World Journal Tribune, Inc., moving the new publishing company a major step closer to initial publication of its afternoon and Sunday newspapers.

The vote was 263-208 after 95 minutes of heated debate Sunday at a membership meeting. It came in the 12th day of the longest newspaper work stoppage in the city's history.

Nine other unions, which reached contract agreements with the corporation before the morning Herald Tribune was folded, will try this week to make final contract adjustments. William J. Kennedy, president of the Pressmen's Union, is scheduled to give a report on his union's agreement to officials of the nine unions.

Thomas J. Murphy, executive vice president of the AFL-CIO Newspaper Guild of New York said, "Whatever problems we have we can resolve either now or when we get back to work, either through grievance machinery or arbitration."

The publishing firm, formed this spring through a merger of the afternoon Journal-American and the World Telegram and the Sun and the morning Herald Tribune was to have printed its first paper April 25.

The newspaper guild struck on April 24, and nine craft unions honored the strike. One by one the unions settled, until only the pressmen remained.

Medicare May Raise Fees At Hospitals

CHICAGO (AP)—The costs of medicare and pending federal minimum-wage legislation may cause the nation's hospitals to raise fees 20 to 25 per cent within a year, the president of the American Hospital Association said today.

Dr. Phillip D. Bonnet, the AHA's outgoing president, made the remarks in a speech prepared for delivery at the association's 88th national convention.

He noted that a minimum-wage law would affect hospitals for the first time.

Goldwater Says Nixon Is Best Bet

WASHINGTON (AP)—Barry Goldwater, who lost the 1964 presidential election to President Johnson, says former Vice President Richard M. Nixon is the best equipped Republican to beat the President in 1968.

"If Johnson continues to be the bumbling politician he's turning out to be, I think he can be beaten in 1968," Goldwater said in an interview published Sunday by the magazine Human Events.

"As of now, Nixon has the best equipment to beat Johnson," the former Arizona senator continued. "Nixon is probably the best equipped man in the country on foreign policy and the fact that he had eight years of training in the White House will have a big bearing on his chances."

Humphrey's Son Displays Finesse

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—Robert Humphrey and his bride of two days were honeymooning today at an undisclosed spot.

Before leaving late Saturday, the 22-year-old son of Vice President and Mrs. Hubert Humphrey displayed some of his father's finesse with newsmen.

"Which way will you be going south, east or west?" young Humphrey was asked.

"Yes, it will be one of those directions," smiled the bridegroom.

Robert and Donna Erickson, radiant 21-year-old blonde, were married here Saturday at St. Olaf's Catholic Church, sealing a friendship that grew out of their days at Mankato State College.

Hundreds of guests attended a reception at the Humphrey home about 40 miles west of here at Waverly, including Mrs. Patrick Nugent, the younger daughter of President Johnson.

OFFICIAL DIES

BUCHAREST, Romania (AP)—Defense Minister Leontin S. Ionescu, 53, died Sunday. He had been reported in serious condition last Thursday after an emergency operation for a hemorrhage.

Truman Warns of Depression

WASHINGTON (AP)—

Former President Harry S. Truman has warned that spiraling interest rates could result in a serious depression.

With a rare public statement issued from his Independence, Mo., home, Truman joined many members of Congress in expressing concern at the upswirl movement in the cost of borrowing.

The Federal Reserve Board last December increased the discount rate it charges member banks and revised reserve requirements in moves to curtail lending. Since then, the prime interest rate charged by commercial banks has risen from 4.5 per cent to 6 per cent.

"We are told," Truman said, "that this (Federal Reserve Board) action was necessary to forestall inflation." But he added, "What is more likely to happen is that we will bring on a precipitous deflation if we persist in high interest rates. The result could be a serious depression."

The former president said higher interest rates are an added burden on all governments — federal, state and local — and that "added interest costs end up as a further tax on the consumer."

"We know from long experience that a drastic rise in interest rates works a hardship on the consuming public," he said, "on matters which I am confident are receiving the concern and attention of the administration.

"But I thought this was a matter which had reached the point where it became necessary for me to speak," he added. "There is yet time to remedy the situation."

Federal Reserve Board chairman William McChesney Martin Jr. could not be reached for comment. A board spokesman noted, however, that Martin has said the problem is that borrowing has outstripped savings and that spending has outstripped the ability of the economy to produce goods and services. Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon commented on the economy in answering questions about campaign issues put to them separately by The Associated Press.

Humphrey said the economic boom is likely to lessen the impact of inflation on the voters. Nixon said the increased cost of living could be a greater campaign issue than the war in Viet Nam.

Today's Market and Financial Report

Stocks

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed today in the midst of the most turbulent session of the year.

The ticker tape ran 10 minutes late in the morning when the market was battered down from new lows along a broad front. Glamour stocks dropped sharply. The pivotal key stocks were off fractions to 1 or 2 points.

Prices improved as trading moderated in early afternoon and some analysts predicted a session might have been some sort of "selling climax," but before long prices weakened again. The level sank to the lowest of the day near the close as trading resumed at a fairly active pace.

Volume for the day was estimated at 10.5 million shares compared with 8.6 million on Friday.

Here was the picture near the close:

The selling snowballed, the ticker ran as much as 10 minutes late. Some analysts said it looked like "a selling climax" was dropping about 3 as did Bausch & Lomb, West Point, Peppercorn and Delta Airlines.

Off about 2 were Douglas Aircraft, Zenith, U.S. Smelting, Standard Oil of Indiana, Schering, Burroughs and Textron.

Losses of a point or more were scattered liberally through most sections of the list.

Prices fell sharply in heavy trading on the American Stock Exchange.
