Thant May Stay in Office If No Successor Is Chosen When His Term Expires

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—U.N. Secretary-General U Thant said today he would consider remaining in office until the end of this year, if members of the world organization fail to agree on a successor by Nov. 3 when his term expires. He declined to say whether he would agree to stay on beyond Dec. 31. Thant made his comments at a news conference in which he also declared that East-West relations had reached a new low and that U.N. action on disarmament and other key issues was being severely hampered.

Thant also expressed doubts as to the value of an international conference on Viet Nam in view of the concept of some powers that this was a holy war between Communists and non-Communist ideologies.

Thant met the press as diplomats from around the world gathered for the opening of the 15th session of the General Assembly Tuesday afternoon. He talked privately with U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk just before the news conference.

Thant's indication that he might remain in office beyond Nov. 2 came after news reported the worldwide appeal for him to reconsider his decision to step down. When asked whether he might extend his term still further if no suitable successor is found, Thant said he did not agree with the theory that a deadlock might develop.

He declared that his decision to quit was not linked with the Viet Nam war, U.N. financing and other problems he had given in his letter to Rusk just before his decision to step down. He was not related to possible improvements in the world situation.

He made it clear that he was unhappy with his inability to function as he believed the secretary-general should be able to do. He said he believed the secretary-general should be able to take diplomatic and political initiatives much broader than former members felt should be permitted.

U.N. Return
Planned by Indonesia

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Indonesian Foreign Minister A. Subandono said today that the United Nations today it would return to the organization Tuesday.

Ambassador Lambercier-Nicolescu of Romania, ambassador to Washington, telegraphed Secretary-General U. Thant that his country was ready to accept its membership in the United Nations.

President Sukarno withdrew Indonesia from the United Nations effective March 11, 1965, because of a Security Council veto of his country's application for membership. Since then, Sukarno's power has waned.

Indonesia's return is expected to be accomplished without any trouble, Thant himself has said he knows that the whole membership would be delighted to have Indonesia back.

Of Sukarno

AKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Fifty-two students occupied President Sukarno today of playing a key role in the abortive Communist coup of last October and called for his removal from power.

The demonstrators heard South leaders of the government was a headquarters of the Communist party (PKI) when the coup attempt was launched. It was the bitterest attack the students have yet made on Sukarno.

Senate Repudiates Civil Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate rejected today a final effort to revive the 1966 civil rights bill with its controversial open housing provision. For the second time, the Senate refused to invoke its debate-limiting closure rule, which requires a two-thirds vote of 67 votes participating. Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield had said in advance that another rebuff would put the bill on the Senate shelf. Left there, the House-passed bill will die when Congress adjourns.

Before the vote a Southern leader had called the attempt to revive the bill a "farce." "This motion to gag an unbroken filibuster is inconceivable," declared Sen. Sam J. Ervin, Jr., D-N.C.

Ervin argued it was degrading the Senate and its rules "for the sake of politics."

Ervin said the opponents haven't had time to launch a measure and "indeed there has been almost nothing said by any of the proponents in defense of any of the provisions of the bill."

Ervin said the only defense has come from the bill's floor manager, Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., who has diligently sat throughout the debate while other opponents have been particularly conspicuous by their absence from the Senate chamber.

A move to invoke closure last week failed by a vote of 49-42. Approved by at least two-thirds of those voting is required for a cloture vote to carry.

Mansfield told a newsman today, "We've got two or three more votes." He wouldn't say whether a Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen and Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., said they expect a new civil rights proposal by President Johnson next year. Dirksen's opposition to the 1966 measure is a key factor in its expected rejection. Hart has tried to guide the measure to Senate approval.

The civil rights bill would ban discrimination in about 40 percent of the nation's housing units, mostly apartments and new single-home developments. Individual homeowners would be exempt. The bill also has provisions aimed at eliminating discrimination in the selection of jurors, and protecting the rights of Negroes and white workers.

Andrus Has Support of 4 Top Demos

BOISE (AP)—Four of Idaho's top Democratic leaders joined today in a statement urging the nomination of State Sen. Cecil Andrus for governor. The Democratic State Central Committee meets Tuesday to fill the vacancy on the ticket caused by the death last week in an airplane accident of Charles Herndon of Salmon. Signing the statement supporting Andrus were U.S. Sen. Frank Church, Rep. Conroy F. White, former Rep. Ralph Harding and Lt. Gov. William Dreyfus.

"We fully understand," the statement said, "that the law, in this emergency, confers upon the State Central Committee the power to select a new candidate for governor."

"But we would be remiss in our responsibilities to the party and to the people, if we were to remain silent."

"A proper respect for the choice of the people is the essence of democracy. For this reason, we hope the committee will give due weight to the special entitlement of Cecil Andrus. He was the first choice of the Democratic state convention and the second choice of the voters in our primary election. If popular sovereignty is to govern, Cecil Andrus stands next in line."

The statement came amid indications that a battle was shaping up between Andrus and Herndon's successor by the state committee to choose Andrus were Rep. James W. Monroe, Lewiston; candidate for state senator from District 6, William Crutcher, Boise; and candidate for state senator from District 7, Rep. E. W. Williams, Lewiston; and R. D. Meritt, Boise.

Herndon's successor will be selected by the 167 members of the state committee meeting Tuesday at a meeting in the Flinn Theater in Boise.

Hanson is said by Democrats to be the favorite for the choice of Thomas W. Boise of Lewiston, a powerful Democratic leader who backed Herndon.

Andrus supporters openly declared their preference for a Democratic candidate for governor, stating that Andrus would be a "write-in" candidate.

Don I. Walker Is Write-In Candidate

BOISE (AP)—Don I. Walker of Boise, a former state budget director, announced Monday he is a non-partisan "write-in" candidate for governor.

Walker earlier this year was first an announced Republican candidate then a prospective independent candidate for governing. He would be a "write-in" candidate.

Counterfeit Operation Is Cracked

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — The Secret Service says a crackdown of a counterfeiting operation that spanned the continent has ended in the arrest of a man in a parked car near this city's nightclub section and the finding of $435,000 in bogus bills in a home.

Two Baltimore policemen, alerted by the Secret Service, awakened Andrew B. King, 36, Los Angeles, as he slept in his car Sunday and arrested him.

Later Robert Powis, agent in charge of Baltimore's Secret Service office, said questioning of the King led to the discovery of $435,000 in bogus bills in a home in suburban Owings Mills.

Taken before a U.S. commissioner, King waived preliminary hearing and was ordered held on $25,000 bond. He faces action by a federal grand jury which convenes Tuesday.

He was charged with having had the counterfeit money in his possession in the West.

Powis said the agency had traced the passing operation from Los Angeles, where King had lived, to New York before learning of King's presence in Baltimore.

Following the arrest, agents went to the home and recovered the bogus bills. The occupant of the home said the boxes which contained the money had been left there by an acquaintance whom he had not seen in some time.

The occupant, who was not identified, said he had the impression that the boxes contained books, the Secret Service said.

5 Men Killed in One-Car Accident

FURQUAY, N.C. (AP) — Five North Carolina men were killed Sunday when a convertible in which they were riding left the road on a curve and slammed into a culvert near Furquay, 12 miles south of Raleigh.

State trooper B. F. White said the five men were thrown from the car. He added, "If the seat belts in the car had been used, I believe that these people would have survived this crash."

"For we are threatened by a more extensive and more disastrous calamity that endangers the human family, even as a bloody and difficult war is raging here in the 'accursed' of East Asia."

Pope Paul Proclaims October Month Of Prayer to End Viet Nam War

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI today proclaimed October a month of worldwide prayer to end the Viet Nam war and set Oct. 4 as a day of special observance for Roman Catholics.

Warning that "the war is attended by a more extensive and more disastrous calamity that endangers the human family," the Pope called for a redoubling of prayers next month.

"He urged Catholics everywhere to join in a special 'day of prayer' Oct. 4 — the first anniversary of his papacy — and pray to the United Nations in New York."

In the fourth encyclical of his reign, the Pope told the world's faithful to pray for peace and that he filled his voice "with piercing cry and with tears" to political leaders to "prevent the further spread of the conflagration and even to extinguish it."

He called for a "meeting to work out plans for a peace settlement" and said the settlement should be reached now even at the expense of some inconvenience or loss, for (otherwise) "it may have to be reached later by a train of bitter slaughter and involve great loss."

The Pope added that a peace settlement "must rest on justice and the liberty of mankind, and take into account the rights of individuals and communities, or otherwise it will be shifting and unstable."

The pontiff also appealed for aid to the nuclear arms race, nationalist expansion, racialism, segregation and revolution.

In his encyclical a circular letter to the world's Roman Catholic bishops, the Pope noted that the month of October is dedicated to prayers to Mary and said that this October "four prayers and supplications should be redoubled" to help bring peace to all men.

Pope Paul said that from the very beginning of his pontificate three years ago, he had "neglected no opportunity" to use his office to work for peace. He

Southern Governors Dislike Fast School Desegregation

KENTUCKY DAM VILLAGE, Ky. (AP) — Many Southern governors agree with Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace's federal government is pushing too hard, too fast on school desegregation.

But none of those interviewed at the Southern Governors' Conference indicate that their states have serious objections to following Wallace's example of open defiance on the issue.

Alabama, at Wallace's urging, recently passed a state law forbidding school desegregation except under federal court orders.

Gov. John G. Battle of Kentucky said the Office of Education and the Justice Department both were "very unreasonable in their approach" to the issue.

Gov. Ross Barnett of Mississippi said he would cooperate and be more reasonable but it's not "cooperated thus far." He added: "You can't pull tradition by the roots that's been in existence for more than 100 years and expect to accomplish anything 'over night' but I don't think (secretary) Gardner or those people up there (Washington) understand this at all."

Corpsman Acquitted of Slaying Wife

MWANZANA, Tanzania (AP) — A Tanzanian judge acquitted U.S. Peace Corpsman Bill Hayward Kinsey today of the charge of murdering his young wife, a 23-year-old nurse.

Judge Harold Platt announced his verdict to a tense, crowded courtroom. A Tanzanian jury had recommended that Kinsey, 23, of Washington, N.C., be found innocent. The judge was not required to follow the recommendation of the jury of "assessors" but he usually does in a murder trial.

The two assessors—Carl Bagley, 45, a soil conservation expert from Elsbey, Mo., and a Tanzanian economist Fred Mupoti, 27, told the court they believed that Kinsey, 23, committed an accidental fall on March 27, as her husband contended.

Pastel Divinity
2 egg whites
1 package (regular size) any flavor gelatin
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup white syrup
1/2 cup sugar
1 cup-chopped nuts
Mix sugar, syrup and water together. Stir until dissolved. Boil this mixture until it forms a firm ball when tested in cold water.
Meanwhile, beat egg whites until fluffy. Add dry gelatin gradually and continue beating until it forms stiff peaks. Pour hot syrup gradually into egg white mixture, beating constantly until candy holds shape. Add nuts and vanilla.

Drop from teaspoon onto waxed paper.
(Note: Muriel Reynolds states that she enjoys this recipe very much because the wide choice of gelatin flavors makes the candy taste different and a different color for each flavor until fluffy. Add dry gelatin chosen.)

(The Times-News will pay $5 each week for the best recipe submitted for Magic Valley Favorites. If you have a favorite recipe, just mail it to the Editor, Department, Women's Page editor. The recipe becomes the property of the Times-News and cannot be returned.)

The Phils scored all their runs in the third inning against loser Claude Osteen, 16-12, who had won three straight. Cookie Rios singled home the first run. Dick Groat singled again and another and the slug trotted in on reliever Bill Singer.

Today's Market and Financial Report

Stocks

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed lower today, ending on a slightly negative note. Prices started the day firmly but caution increased gradually. Brokers said that the stock market was commencing to be waiting to make up its mind following last week's outside advance of 38.73 points in the Dow Jones index.

Some influential blue chips were down sharply. Du Pont was off between 4 and 5 points in late dealings. Other key stocks such as General Motors, American Telephone and Standard Oil (New Jersey) declined from fractions to around a point.

Down a point or so were Fairchild Camera, Boeing, Dynamics, Radio Corp., American International Telephone (ex-dividend), Eastman Kodak, Merck and Pfizer.

The New York Central (ex-dividend) was down more than a point while Pennsylvania Railroad held a fractional gain. Stocks of three railroads showed scant reaction to news that the Interstate Commerce Commission had reaffirmed its approval of a pending merger.

International Nickel was up more than a point. A labor agreement has been ratified by union membership. It was reported.

Up about 2 were Chicago Great Western and KLM Air Lines. Calumet and Hecla were made by Vanadium Corp. Comsat and Korvette.

The Daily Investor

Q. I have stocks on margin. I have always been my understanding that it was necessary to maintain a 30 per cent margin. Now my broker tells me that stocks worth $10 or more should be 50 per cent.

A. You have run up against a broker who is not a member of the New York Stock Exchange. He is not bound by the rules of the exchange.

Q. Two weeks ago I gave my broker an order to sell 100 shares of a well-known stock. I gave him a certificate for 200 shares and told him to send me a check for the 100 shares I sold and the other 100 shares to date.

A. The broker says I did not give him a "good delivery" certificate. He claims that I will have to give him a "good delivery" certificate for the 100 shares I sold.

Q. What's going on here? I just got a notice from the Federal Reserve Board. It says that if you buy 100 shares of stock at $10 a share, that's $1,000. If you received either $100 or $1,000, you must pay the balance of the stock's value.

A. Suppose the stock plunges to $5 a share. Your equity is then $500. If you bought the stock at $10 a share, you have a $500 loss.

Q. I have a question about the price of gold. It's up to $100 a ounce. Is this a good time to buy?

A. The price of gold is up to $100 a ounce. Is this a good time to buy? It depends on your investment goals.

Q. I have a question about the price of silver. It's up to $1.50 a ounce. Is this a good time to buy?

Oldsmobile For 1967 Is Restyled

Oldsmobile for 1967 has consolidated and realigned its series and body styles and engineered into every new Oldsmobile a long list of advancements for more ease of convenience and safety, according to Harold N. Metzler, the division's general manager.

Metzler revealed important changes aimed at consolidating and realigning Oldsmobile's product-lineup.

The new Delmont 88 is introduced in the medium price class. To be offered in a pillar-top, a hardtop sedan, a hardtop coupe and a convertible, the Delmont 88 may be ordered with either a 330-cubic-inch or a 425-cubic-inch engine, each with its own drive train and top.

The Delmont 88 replaces the Dynamic 88. The Jetstar 88 has been dropped.

The new Delta Custom takes its place in price range just above the Delta 88. It is distinctive and body-designed with sporty fairs and is available as a hardtop coupe or a hardtop sedan. The Jetstar 88 is no longer to be offered.

Style changes for 1967 in the Toronado include a new grille, flush with the hood, headlight covers, new taillamp styling and optional special treatments of sport-looking wheel discs.

In Oldsmobile's low price market, the division is producing the Cutlass in three body styles — coupe, four-door sedan and a new convertible. Because of its high degree of popularity in the 1966 model year, the Cutlass remains, respectively, the top of Oldsmobile's low-price line, has also been expanded to five different body styles.

Oldsmobile continues a three-seat model in the Vista Cruiser station wagon for 1967, but both a two and three-seater are available in the Custom Vista Cruiser. New exterior panels on sides and tailgate further distinguish the Custom Vista Cruiser.

Dual master brake systems on all Oldsmobiles hand a long list of safety-related product improvements which are standard equipment in 1967.

The new Vista Cruiser has a four-way emergency brake system, a padded gearshift inside rear-view mirror, folding seat back locks, free wheeling inside door handles, a four-way emergency brake system, a lane change indicator and shoulder harness anchorage provisions.

Larger diameter instrument control vacuum lines, covered window cranks and coat hangers help reduce the potential of driver injury in case of an accident.

Increased capacity and effectiveness of our power braking systems has been achieved through the use of a larger power cylinder, vacuum is increased from eight inches to 9.5 inches. On 98 models the larger brake cylinder is combined with cast lined front drums. On the Toronado an added improvement is a brake proportioner valve. With this device the controllability of the car is even further improved under conditions of very high deceleration.

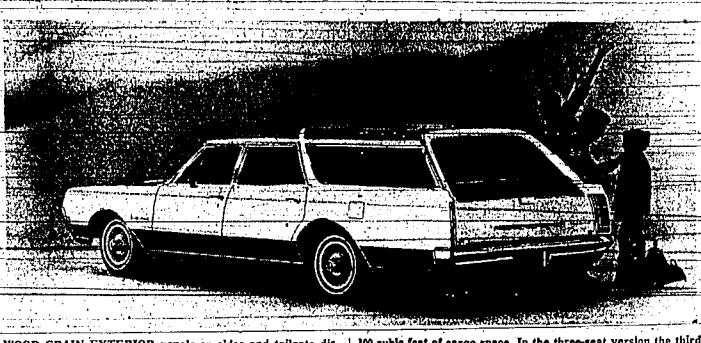

Metzler reported that Oldsmobile, for the first time, is manufacturing its own design of high capacity rear axle assembly for improved quietness and durability.

On all new Oldsmobiles, door locks are of the five-depth turn-and-blade design for improved security against theft.

Controversial Subject of Burning Villages in Viet Nam Is Discussed

EDITOR'S NOTE: Associated Press correspondent Peter Arnett spent three days this week with troops of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division in a hunt for Communist units in the Son area of central Viet Nam. Here he discusses the controversial subject of village-burning.

By PETER ARNETT

THE CROWS' FOOT, South Viet Nam (AP)—When and why does an American troop commander in Viet Nam order the burning of an enemy village?

"Not today, for any reason," said Capt. Nelson Newcombe as he looked away at a thin white smoke spiraling over a cluster of brown, thatched huts that made up the hamlet of An Huu.

His radio reported that one of those houses "There'll be no burnings today, that's an order."

The 2nd Platoon of Newcombe's company had moved across a soggy, mile-wide paddfield earlier in the day Thursday to search for Viet Cong and enemy weapons. Shot at in their operation, they had put the torch to some of the meager dwellings.

Newcombe again insisted over the radio that they stop. He had had enough of burning villages.

Just the previous day, lightning rained on the nearby Linh Hai One hamlet, his men had put the torch to a few houses still left standing after a long air bombardment and artillery barrage.

Some newsmen reported that the troops had done the "meager houses" Newcombe's division the 1st Cavalry at An Khe got upset. "What explanation were demanded right up the line to Washington.

At the bottom of the line in rain-swept coastal valleys called the Crow's Foot, where the U.S. has a vague conception of right and wrong but a brutal reality, Newcombe shook his head at all the fuss and obeyed orders.

In a few short hours the reality of a war struck home.

Several tons of rice had been found in An Huu, and Newcombe's platoon asked permission to burn it. The company commander asked for an okay from higher up the line, then the request went higher. In the end, it was refused.

By this time night was coming on. The platoon was "booking" mainly at the hatched houses of An Huu, toppling cavernous tunnels that were excellent hiding places for people both friendly and enemy.

Told to burn neither the rice nor the village, the platoon moved out into the paddfield for the long hike back to the company base.

Just 50 yards out, fire erupted against them from a skillfully hidden Communist position around the village. One soldier on his rifle combat mission in Viet Nam was the first casualty, shot dead in the back.

Losses were light overall, but the platoon was pinned down for two hours until air strikes and artillery had silenced the snipers.

Next day, when the Americans attempted to recover the body of the defender left behind the previous night, the snipers opened up again.

"The GI comment was bitter: 'Men dead and wounded last because we couldn't destroy enemy territory," one soldier in the Army of the Peace Corps?

The "cavalrymen" were frustrated for a lot of reasons. They were appearing in a recognized enemy territory.

The hundreds of people in the hamlets around the Crow's Foot, which snakes south from Bong Son, did not vote in the recent Vietnamese election. The Viet Cong saw that to.

In just months North Vietnamese battalions have drawn sustenance from these fertile valleys. Over the hill behind the twisted wreckage of a U.S. Air Force F105 jet shot down earlier in the week.

The argument against five U.S. Army helicopters flying from the cavalrymen, then the hamlets with their deep bunkers and trenches were obvious targets for destruction.

The argument against destroying villages is that this will destroy the hope of ever getting cooperation from the people.

Newcombe learned that the burning of a village must not only satisfy purely military objections, which the cases of Linh Hai and An Huu amply did.

The politically explosive nature of news pictures and stories of huts being deliberately destroyed must also be considered.

watched their flimsy dwellings go up in smoke.

Newcombe figured that by burning down the houses, the enemy would be preoccupied rebuilding them in the next few months and spend less time fighting the war. And the torch also would serve as a reminder that punishment was always near for those who tormented the government.

Realizing a new message was present, the division high command ordered all "burning to cease."

The lesson that Newcombe, a studious officer from Auburn, Maine, learned was that the burning of a village must not only satisfy purely military objections, which the cases of Linh Hai and An Huu amply did.

The politically explosive nature of news pictures and stories of huts being deliberately destroyed must also be considered.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 19
Born today, you have a certain wishfulness that often makes others think of you as sad and melancholy, whereas, in reality, you are quite lively and optimistic in your general approach to what life brings. One who gains the inherent amount of emotional fulfillment in any given situation or circumstance, you respond completely, albeit usually quietly, to every occurrence. Indeed, a lack of emotional response on your part could be a sign of definite disposition.

Gifted with more than your share of good judgment, you are able to make decisions based on your own good portly—of common sense, more quickly and more wisely than most. You must take care, however, that you do not begin to exclude of the reason; the power of the intellect. What seems logical and what in truth is logical are not always the same thing.

Although you have considerable confidence in yourself, you need to feel that others have confidence in you, too. If you do not work well under opposition or under harsh criticism; rather, you bloom under encouragement. All you need is for another to tell you "can do it," and you take the bit between your teeth and are off to the races!

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday

Negroes Injured By Shotgun Blast

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Two Negro pedestrians were wounded early Sunday by a shotgun blast from a passing car. They told police the occupants of the car yelled "white power" as the auto passed.

Steve R. Brooks, 28, was admitted to a hospital where attendants said his condition was not serious. Denny Daniel, 19, was treated and released.

The shooting occurred in the city's West End, which is predominantly Negro.
