

Citations Are Issued After Car Accidents

Two citations were issued after Idaho State Patrolman William Van Dyke investigated two auto accidents Monday.

Van Dyke said the first accident, which happened at about 11:45 p.m. Sunday, was not a reportable one at 10:45 a.m. Monday.

He said Gary W. Yost, 21, Bohi, was cited for failure to report an accident after the 1965 Ford Mustang he was driving left U.S. Highway 39 about two and three-fourths miles east of Bohi, and went through a fence.

Yost told the officer he had parked his car on the shoulder and took it when he heard the right shoulder of the roadway. Yost said he then pulled hard to the left, went across the roadway, skidding through 150 feet of four-strand bare wire. He can then rolled over, landing 40 feet from the road on its wheels.

Damage to the Ford was estimated at $100. Yost, 21, received minor injuries. Lynn P. Dillon, 39, Brooklyn, N.Y., was cited for following too closely after he was involved in a one-car collision one and one-fourth miles east of Twin Falls on State Highway 50.

Van Dyke said the 5:15 p.m. accident occurred when "a 1960 Chevrolet driven by Ruthie J. Meeks, 37, Jerome, slow down behind some farm machinery. When she struck him, he lay by a 1954 Chevrolet driven by Dillon.

Damage to both cars was estimated at $10 each. Mrs. Meeks received minor injuries in the mishap, but did not require hospitalization.

GOP Women Hear Details On Sales Tax

Sales tax details were discussed Monday at a luncheon at the Roundup Room at the Rogerson Hotel. Lauterbach, Twin Falls, chairman for Forward Idaho, the group seeking retention of the tax.

Republican Women met in the Roundup Room at the Rogerson Hotel. Lauterbach explained what has happened in property tax. Twin Falls County became cause of the 20-20-40 law and revaluation.

He pointed out that the county reduced tax levels and also reduced the total amount of money collected because of the tax, however, he pointed out, tax and school district taxes were lowered but tax collections increased.

Support cards were distributed to Republican Women, many of whom signed the card to pledge help in retaining the sales tax and also contributing to the fund.

SYNOPSIS AND AGRICULTURAL SUMMARY

A rain-free weekend brought a return of Southern Idaho yesterday, moved southward into Nevada last night. High pressure and warmer air pushing into the Pacific Northwest west behind yesterday's storm has brought an end to precipitation and partial clearing. However, a combination of moist ground and cool moist air at low levels created considerable valley fog early this morning and a low cloud deck persisted most of the afternoon in some areas.

The clearing trend will continue this afternoon with temperatures a little warmer than yesterday. Skies will become clearer and high pressure will stay with us. Gusty winds expected to start around 4 p.m. in most of Southeastern Idaho and into the 30s and low 40s in Southwestern Idaho, with scattered frost. In general these frost should be light except in a few of the high valleys where temperatures may drop into the upper 20s.

Wednesday will be sunny and warmer with afternoon temperatures in the 70s and the warming trend will carry weather into Thursday.

Fairly good drying weather this afternoon and Wednesday should enable farmers to resume combining and other harvesting operations which were delayed by wet weather. Mostly light morning and evenings should be favorable to aerial spraying.

Western Valley averaged around 10 degrees cooler yesterday and last night with highs in the 60s and low 70s and early morning lows in the 40s. Magic Valley temperatures were 10 to 19 degrees cooler yesterday, with highs in the 50s. Over-night readings average about 10 degrees colder.

Dodge Underscores Prestige Look of 1967 Polara, Monaco Models

DODGE — Dodge revealed a distinctive surprise package today, completely restyled — and restyled again — the Polara and Monaco. The 1967 Polara and Monaco.

"Larger, lower profiles, a semi-fastback roof for hardtop models and high-style front bumpers" are the "luxury leaders of the Dodge line," Dodge general manager, Byron J. Nichols, said today.

In addition to the redesigned exterior styling changes, the new Polara and Monaco boast strikingly new interiors, too.

This result is a combination of beauty, comfort and performance.

"We've improved the interior design in every model, from top to bottom," says Nichols. "The new interior on the 67-blend-with-elegance front end and a rakish rear-deck treatment for the 'big car' look, in a total of 15 models and six body styles."

The new Polara and Monaco are half-a-foot longer overall than their 1966 counterparts, with 122-inch wheelbases this year for better ride "plush."

MONACO

Tops on this list is the '500' series. Special trim and moulding outside, and an exclusive wicker-weave interior decoration on door panels and headrests. It looks like it's about to hit the 2-door hardtop series.

Monaco 500 nameplate and rear deck identification, special whitewall tires, leather and vinyl-trim versions, the Monaco 500 and Polara 500. Bucket seats are also available in the Monaco 500. Polara 500 and Monaco 500 are offered in 4-door sedan, 2-door hardtop, 4-door station wagon.

The popular Polara 318, a special

A-new sedan powered by the gas-saving 318-cu.-in. engine, is back again as Dodge's largest-wheelbase

V-8 rated at 375 horsepower.

The popular 318 runs on regular gasoline and offers even better fuel economy than the V-8's 325 horsepower. A new 383 cubic-inch V-8 model has developed 270 horsepower with 2-bbl. carburetion and 325 horsepower with 4-bbl. carburetion; the large, 440-cu.-in., 350 horsepower engine has 350 horsepower and 400 ft.-lb. torque. The performance "440" is back again as the top-of-the-line 2-door hardtop series.

A sporty floor and a high-level of luxury appointments are also to be found on the Polara 500 and top-of-the-line 2-door hardtop series.

Front-bucket seats with either the fixed or bucket cushion and armrest or floor console, and leather or vinyl upholstery.

Seats in the Polara and the Polara 318 are upholstered in a cloth-vinyl combination, available as an added option. Standard equipment includes 4-speed manual transmission.

INTERIORS

Polara and Monaco interiors are designed to feature interiors not usually available on medium-priced cars. Seating standard.

LEADING THE DODGE LINE FOR 1967 are the distinguished Monaco, above, available in six separate models, and the popular Polara, largest in its price class. Polara is offered in nine models, including the Polara 500 2-door hardtop, below.

On Display Thursday

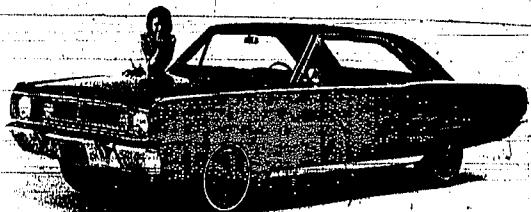

The show of the year is going on now — in the showrooms of automobile dealers all over America. And the stars of that show are the stars of tomorrow... the cars of tomorrow, here today... you are cordially invited to come and visit us during our presentation of the new 1967 line of Dodges, Chryslers and Imperials. A complete panorama of everything you've ever wished for in an automobile. The finest in our 28 years of serving Magic Valley.

ALL NEW IMPERIAL FOR '67 — Incorporating the most far-reaching design changes since 1957 for Chrysler Corporation's luxury cars, the 1967 Imperials are completely new in styling, body construction and chassis engineering. Shown here is the elegant, top-of-the-line four-door hardtop being viewed with approval by Lynn A. Townsend, president of Chrysler Corporation, right, and Robert Anderson, general manager of the Chrysler-Plymouth division.

NEW CHRYSLER FOR '67 — Two-door hardtop with semi-fastback roof styling is one of the three models in the new Newport Custom series added to the Chrysler line for 1967. Others in the moderately priced series are a four-door hardtop and four-door sedan. All 1967 Chryslers have new body sculpture.

LARGEST OF THE COMPACTS, DODGE '67 DART

Completely new for 1967 and offered in 12 body styles, Dart has clean, sporty styling from headlights to tail lamps, and boasts many new safety and convenience features. Shown above is the Dart GT 2-door hardtop. "Dart has been a trend-setter since we started manufacturing it as a separate model in 1964," Bob Reese, of Bob Reese Motor Company, said today. "Now we hope to attract car buyers who want something extra in styling as well as performance, by balancing the two in an all-new automobile."

New Generation of Imperials Makes Its Debut Thursday at Bob Reese Motor Co.

Reincorporating the front wheel drive into Imperials represents the biggest styling change since 1957 for Chrysler Corporation's luxury cars, completely separate line of cars ten years ago. Its attractiveness has been increased by the adoption of front wheel drive in the 1967 Imperials. Body construction and chassis engineering has been improved so much that the Imperials will be built with a front wheel drive system. The last three months more than 5,000 pounds — with improved interior dimensions, which contribute to superior riding comfort.

Robert Anderson, general manager of the Chrysler-Plymouth division, described the new models as the "newest, prettiest automobiles in a decade."

Front and rear seats are upholstered in vinyl, with overall length increased from head room and leg room improved. Front wheels are wider spaced, engine performance stepped up and new equipment options added to the new selection of new four-door sedans.

The other four are the Legion Tour, the Crown Coupe and Crown convertible. The Crown Coupe and Crown convertible two-door models have four doors, the Crown Coupe two-door has which are exclusive to Imperials, and the Crown convertible is a retractable top.

New styling features include a new front end, all four doors can be left open, a parabolic front end, NEW EXCLUSIVE FEATURES.

The other four are the Legion Tour, the Crown Coupe and Crown convertible two-door models have four doors, the Crown Coupe two-door has which are exclusive to Imperials, and the Crown convertible is a retractable top.

MAJOR STYLING CHANGE — The exterior styling of the 1967 Imperial creates a living room atmosphere.

EXCLUSIVE FEATURES ON 1967 IMPERIAL — The interiors of all five 1967 Imperial models, including a new Crown four-door sedan, incorporate new convenience and protective features, with distinctive sealing arrangements and seal styling. New and exclusive in the Crown Coupe is a Mobile Director option, offering a front passenger seat that rotates 180 degrees to face the rear, and a folding utility table which can be set up in three different positions.

Dodge's New Coronet Takes Aim at Broad Share of Market

Dodge launched its 1967 Coronet in a pair of stylized depositions today, with an eye toward making it slumped into the leading edge of the new quarter panel.

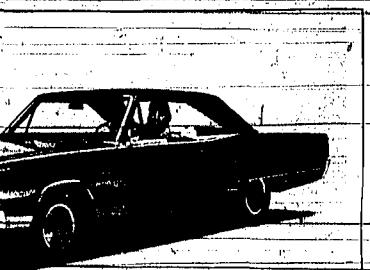

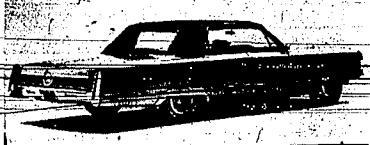

Targeted for the popular Coronet is still the ever-growing family car market, but 1967 holds some surprises for performance and sport models, including the high performance 440 Magnum. The Coronet is their answer to the shift.

"Coronet was my best selling line for 1966," Bob Reese, president of Bob Reese Motor Co., said today. "By adding more options and more body styles, we hope to make it a sales leader again in 1967."

The 117 inch wheelbase model has front wheel drive, with front disc brakes and four link front suspension that give the Coronet a fresh look.

A top of the line, Coronet 440 is again available as the previous edition, with the addition of front disc brakes, front wheel drive, front wheel drive and a choice of 4-speed or 3-speed automatic transmission, plus four-wheel drum brakes.

At Long Last!

An effort will be made during the 1967 session of Idaho's Legislature to upgrade the state's driver-licensing regulations. The word comes from State Rep. James W. Monroe, Nez Perce County, who attended a Western Interstate Legislative Conference on highway, traffic and agricultural problems in San Francisco. He said if the Legislature didn't take prompt action to bring licensing of drivers up to standard, Idaho can lose 10 per cent of federal highway matching money.

Rep. Monroe said Idaho is the only state in the Union which still issues licenses through sheriff's offices. "They've got to be taken out of the hands of the sheriff and placed at the state level," he declares. Of course, the procedure is only one fault in the Idaho laws. The driver's test itself is so weak as to be ineffective. To all intents and purposes, the person who holds an Idaho driver's license has nothing more than an excellent means of personal identification.

Monroe points out stricter licensing is one of the provisions of a new federal driver-safety law passed by Congress. He says the so-called Baldwin amendment to the bill places jurisdiction at the state rather than county level. If provisions are not met, the federal government can withhold 10 per cent of its highway matching funds.

In lambasting Idaho's weak law, Monroe said, "People are getting licenses who shouldn't have them. It's being used as a public relations gimmick. It's no favor to someone to issue him a license to kill himself or someone else." The legislator adds that if licensing isn't moved to the state level, it's "apt to be taken over by the federal government. Too many people are being killed."

Everyone recognizes there are many licensed drivers who should be barred from the highways on either physical or mental grounds. It's always been a puzzle why the public has pressed for elimination of traffic hazards and "education" of drivers while still permitting all comers to drive cars if they so desire.

The old jest concerning the "nut on the steering-wheel" being the most dangerous part of an auto contains a good deal of truth that has been recognized so long it's almost unbelievable that nothing has been done. Let's forget about raising tax money and providing drivers with a means of identification; it's time to get down to the serious business of making certain drivers are qualified.

SOUNDS GOOD

Much political hay will be made in Idaho over the $710 million Southwest Idaho Water Development Project—and the $450 million Southeast Idaho Water Development Project. The first proposal is being pushed by Idaho's Democratic Sen. Frank Church and the second-named plan is the child of Republicans Sen. Len Jordan and George Hansen. Together, the two plans would provide for maximum utilization of every drop of Snake River water. The federal bureaus involved can be expected to "study" both plans extensively, but the political facts of life under present conditions make it extremely unlikely that either project will meet with congressional approval in the foreseeable future.

Keep in mind that the water-starved areas of the arid Southwest can see already the day when they will have exhausted all present sources of water. And keep in mind all the publicity that has been given to Los Angeles' plans to acquire water from other regions.

California, in particular, has great political power in Congress. It has 38 congressmen in the House of Representatives, as compared to two from Idaho, seven from Washington and four from Oregon, the normal Columbia Basin states. Does it seem likely that California's congressional delegation would approve of plans to use Idaho water in Idaho? Oh, the Californians might lot some appropriations sneak through for various studies and feasibility reports, but when it comes to authorization of projects and construction, that's a different story.

So long as there's a chance for California or the rest of the Southwest to get Columbia Basin water, any effort to use that water where it originates will be blocked. The one prospect now on the horizon that might have a future bearing on Idaho reclamation plans is the desalination program. Idaho will get a reprieve and might be able to keep its water if a cheap means, probably utilizing nuclear energy, can be found to get fresh water from the ocean. Otherwise, Idaho faces a long fight to keep its water, let alone get federal funds for further development.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

BY ANDREW TULAN

WASHINGTON — The significance of the recent Louis Harris poll is not that it shows President Johnson holding only a scant 51 to 49 percent lead over Michigan's Governor George Romney. It is that the Republican party is likely to repeat its performance of the 1964 convention when it nominated a candidate chosen by delegates who had no real mandate, but who lacked popular appeal.

Dick Nixon recently has been making much of the fact that 30 to 48 GOP state chairmen and national committee members told him Nixon was the party's candidate in 1968. And, indeed, there is no doubt that Nixon now has a commanding lead among Republicans who will be delegates to the '68 convention.

NIXON MADE NO GAIN—But while the Harris poll gives comfort to the Romney boy, it is little to the Nixon organization. In six weeks' time, Romney gained five points on Lyndon Johnson. During the same period, the Viet Nam war and the high cost of living Nixon stood still. The poll showed him still leading the President 44 to 55 per cent. And Nixon has been moving the country west, including the Alaskan tundra, making rousing and well-received speeches.

The pamphlet with Barry Goldwater's 1964 efforts pointed up by a remark dropped by a Nixon intimite. "We're not worrying about those popularity polls," he said. "The main thing is to corral the delegates; you can't run for President unless you get the nomination."

True, of course, but it is a trifle with a weakness. The Goldwater pamphlet, which came posterior to his self-drafted landslide nomination for their boy. Three months later the election furnished the reminder that, plain, unprofessional citizenry has more votes than professional politicians and Goldwater took a merciless clobbering.

NO SHOOTING—Romney has his problems, however, in establishing himself as a candidate of national stature. He not only must win re-election in November, but he must prove his leadership, his coastal charisma, by bringing fellow Republicans into office with him. But the Harris poll shows that Republicans nationally have become increasingly interested in Nixon. In 1964, 38 per cent of the electorate voted 40 per cent for him. This year he got 56 per cent of the vote in the burgeoning suburban areas of the always important farm-vote; and 48 per cent in the towns. And no Democratic politician will score at a tally that shows Romney garnering 85 per cent of an independent vote which has swung the last four national elections.

DEPENDS ON CALIFORNIA—Romney has another card going for him. In 1964, the liberal moderate Republicans refused to unite behind a single candidate and thus wasted their strength. Today, both New York's Gov. Nelson Rockefeller and Pennsylvania's Bill Scranton have dropped out of the running, and the moderate wing has given every indication of rallying around the Michigan governor.

This is not to suggest that Romney further weakens his position by his failure to form a coalition. He may well do that. But the majority of the potential delegates to the Republican convention, but Romney must start sounding more like the material of which nominees are made. Curiously, what happens in November in November may decide the GOP choice—but whence hence, Romney? Rejection of the conservative, beat-up Gov. Pat Brown, the Goldwater wing will have a powerful ammunition for its argument that the country is turning to the right.

HIGH PROPERTY-TAX

The rapidly increasing number of tractable dwelling units in Mankato aren't to blame for a 40 per cent increase in the general property taxes. A panel for a pension for consecutive taxes is a definite factor.

State Treasurer Val Bjornson, in a visit to Mankato Monday, alluded to this trend when he pointed out the regressive nature of the property tax. The subject arose when opponents to a sales tax cited its regressiveness, claiming it doesn't reflect directly the income of the taxpayer.

Bjornson, instead, lost little time in citing the truly regressive nature of the tax on home ownership.

Minnesota's ever-rising property taxes discourage home ownership. Persons on fixed incomes, such as the retired, are trapped when year after year they see taxes rising on their modest-and-most-expensive possessions.

They realize, too, that property taxes have no place to go but up. Government, city, county, school districts, and individuals are all dependent on this form of revenue.

Until some other tax is levied to replace them, such as a sales tax or excise tax of some sort, property taxes cannot be lowered. And, as surely they will go higher, even though alarmed economists agree they've already gone too far. Thus while politicians evade the sales tax issue in fear of fire consequences at the polls, the rush to the apartments continues. But there is no real escape from property-tax increases.

California, in particular, has great political power in Congress. It has 38 congressmen in the House of Representatives, as compared to two from Idaho, seven from Washington and four from Oregon, the normal Columbia Basin states. Does it seem likely that California's congressional delegation would approve of plans to use Idaho water in Idaho? MARQUIS CHILDS WRITES ON WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON — The war in Viet Nam is now costing $2.7 billion a month. Rather than a random figure, it was carefully picked. In this case, it is a careful calculation accepted at the highest level of government concerned with the welfare of the American people.

It is believed that President Johnson, once convinced he cannot wait until January to ask Congress for an increase in personal and corporate income taxes, will be Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara to bring it down to the first of the year for his long-awaited request for the largest money-to-finance-the-war. This will be in the range of $1 to $1.5 billion.

These stark facts of life can not be hidden by rhetoric. For the past six months, President, as so many of his predecessors before him in troublous times, has been impounded on the rack between the pulls of policy and politics. He has failed to postpone the bitter medicine of tax increases. It is a sure sign of mistrust obviously that brief passage between Pennsylvania Avenue and the White House.

Chairman Whittier D. Mills of the House Ways and Means Committee in the House, some time ago for a forthright statement of what was costing, how much economy could be expected from domestic programs and where this came in relation to inflation, and a tax increase, has been rebuffed by the Treasury, which was ambiguous, failing to show a clear line for either action or inaction as interest rates and prices climbed.

With Mills' feeling he had been given a runaround, this old man improved the atmosphere. Chairman, chairman let us not be easily dealt with. To several high-level visitors who have pressed him recently on taxes and inflation, the President has said, "Go up and talk to Wilbur about that." Up and talk to Wilbur about authority to lay down presidential guidelines, is a rather futile exercise.

McNamara's tactic in mystifying—the mounting cost of the war—is also the source of widespread protest. The budget for next year is based on the assumption that the war will begin to phase out in June and the American commitment curtailed. The reason, the secretary explains, is to prevent the first major front-line offensive, which is some time away. The South Korean deposit, dropping the rate of interest, perhaps half of one percent from its present rate, is calculated at seven per cent investment credit. That undoubtedly fed the boom. The effect of cancellation will, however, hardly be felt before six months or more have passed. With the crucial figure of $1 billion, which was a sum calculated to offend the minimum number of voters who could in any event be counted on already alienated from the Great Society.

When he signed the interest rate bill the President did not disclose what his aides describe as "the secret" of the bill.

That "secret" was that unduly fed the boom. Not only did it offend the Federal Reserve Board. The FED, using the authority under the measure, will impose a ceiling on long-term certificates of deposit, dropping the rate of interest, perhaps half of one percent from its present rate.

That is effective, this will be.

In a limited sense, it is not. In the view of those profoundly concerned with the direction of the economy, a substitute for a tax increase to scale up surplus money. Nor is it, as it may seem, to prevent a collapse of the banks, trade unions, industry, any more effective in throttling down the racing engine of prosperity.

Capital Report

Peking's own accounts and reports made available through the Chinese news media indicate that the Chinese are involved in their international expansion, and with the intent of balance, they might more likely want to keep their influence under a large measure of control.

Piecing together what the Red Guards publicly supported by Defense Minister Lin Piao and those who share power with him, is damaging Chinese influence all over the world.

Chinese propaganda now attacks rich and privileged minorities in Malaysia, Thailand, Japan, to demonstrate the results of the first-front-line countries. In South Korea in 1961. Recently, he was among clergy taking a hand-in-problems of striking workers and farmers, such as some of $20 billion in material at the end of the Korean War as a terrible example of what he means to avoid.

The Chinese have left their bases, however, in the United States and Europe. They are still people in authority contesting for power. Lin Pao called them "the small handful of reactionary bourgeois elements who oppose dictatorship by the broad masses of the people."

There are dissident elements among party cadres—individual Communists leaders in responsible posts. This is admitted by the theoretical journal Red Flag, which said recently the Chinese are "not afraid to support the Socialism road."

Thus a serious anti-party element still must be around. There must be a showdown. Red Flag said, "Either the bourgeois or the proletariat will be in power. There is no middle way."

Some forces are trying to split the proletariat left wing. This means some oppose current policies and would like reconciliation with Moscow. This is a right-wing outlook.

There is a wide front of opposition to the cultural revolution. In many provinces and cities, responsible party leaders have been dragged into the street to denounce the Cultural Revolution.

What is going on in China is a struggle for the allegiance of the young people. The teenage journal Red Flag, which said recently the Chinese Communists were "not afraid to support the Socialism road."

There remains an influential group of Chinese Communists who, although they are others without harmful effects. Too large a dose, however, will irritate the stomach. Dogs have made a greater comparative gain in life expectancy than people for the simple reason they eat more when you sleep.

O—Take aspirin for my arthritis pain. Will this drug dry my blood up?

—No. Aspirin is a valuable drug in most forms of arthritis and for temporary heart trouble, but it has side effects.

Much Export Rice Is Lost In Loading

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — The sweating dockworker sank his hook into the gummy sack of American rice and —swung it onto the shoulder of another. He gave a sharp tug to release the hook and the bag began sliding down the aisle.

The entire dock beside the American freighter glistened with spilled rice, part of $3 million worth the United States government is shipping Indonesia.

Out of the 4,000-ton shipment, nearly 1,500 tons of the rice is spilled onto the docks, where it will be swept up and largely kept by the laborers.

The rice was sent to Indonesia to earn dollars — but Indonesia has no money to pay.

The rice and a shipment of cotton worth $10.5 million were shipped by the United States to put its foot back inside the previous ly closed door of Indonesia.

Indonesia's economic situation, cut off here last year at the peak of Communist-inspired attacks against the United States government, is being considered again for this nation.

Indonesia has 105 million people and an annual budget of a 2.5 per cent annual increase. This and its strategic position in Southeast Asia make it too big to be ignored.

Indonesian marines, with Soviet-made submarine guns, are determined to stop the rice if it is unloaded. But they have the other way as workers sweep up hundreds of pounds.

If rice is given by the United States as a grant — which it is expected to do soon — controls may tighten American officials say.

American Agency for International Development officials are again setting up offices here and a food for peace team is expected soon.

Cubans Cost U.S. Taxpayer Large Amount

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A $1-million-a-week bill is being asked for U.S. taxpayers to look after an increased flow of refugees from the Cuban regime which reportedly costs the U.S. tax dollar $1 million daily.

The Cuban Refugee Center, operated by the Hebrew Immigrant Aid Society, Department of Health, Education and Welfare, said that expenditures have risen because of an airift that brings 10 planeloads of Cuban weekly.

A refugee budget of $31 million for fiscal 1967, which began July 1, has passed the Senate Select Committee on Small Business committee approval after a hearing. It was reported headed for full Senate approval.

The budget is $8,400,000 higher than the past year. The first six months of the budget began at $30 million and are forecasted by $126,000 on the strength of Castro's announcement just a year ago that he would let Cubans come here.

Since the airlift started Dec. 1, nearly 37,000 Cubans have arrived. Nearly 4,000 and sometimes more than 4,000 arrive monthly, depending on plane capacity.

Widely published estimates place Russia's expenditure in keeping the Castro regime afloat at between $300 and $400 million annually.

Headstart Plan Depends On Available Classrooms

The Operation Headstart kindergarten program for economically and educationally disadvantaged youth in Twin Falls is tentatively planned to start Jan. 3 if space is made available by one of the local churches, according to Herbert J. Smith, director of guidance.

Since all available classroom space in the district is being used for the regular school enrollment, an appeal to local churches has been circulated asking for rental of six classrooms, a lunch room, kitchen facilities, three offices, and a playground area if possible.

If space is found, the Headstart Program would be held three hours a day, five days a week, from Jan. 3 to Aug. 31. Smith commented that enrollment is anticipated to be about 120 children.

Operation Headstart attempts to prepare educationally, economically and culturally deprived children for the first grade. Included in the program is medical and dental aid. The children will be given a mid-morning snack and one hot meal. The County Health Office, County Extension Service and Twin Falls County Committee for Underprivileged Children work with the school district on the program. The Office of Economic Opportunity makes the program available.

Smith commented that last year's campaign more than justified this year's Operation Headstart. It gave the children the advantage of working with other ested parents, persons or agencies can be bases for an application. Many referrals come from teachers.

Six teachers and six teacher's aides are needed for the first year program. Smith added, Any one interested in helping with the program is urged to contact the school district.

Smith added, that attendance in the school fluctuates because of families moving away and the children of migrant workers who enroll late in June.

Hoffa's Rights Weren't Violated

In 1964 Trial

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department says Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa's constitutional rights were not violated during his trial for trying to bribe a juror.

Hoffa was sentenced to eight years in prison and fined $10,000 after he was found guilty in Chattanooga, Tenn., of trying to bribe the jury in his 1962 trial on conspiracy charges.

In a brief filed Monday at the Supreme Court, the Justice Department denied any violation of Hoffa's rights, said Partin's evidence was admitted properly at the trial and "cognitively the only practical means of preserving the integrity of an federal trial which was being subjected to sweeping attack by corrupt influences."

Kidney Stone Treatment Said Success

WASHINGTON (AP) — Preliminary success with a new chemical treatment for dissolving one form of kidney stones was reported Monday by a French physician.

Up to now at least, doctors say, various kinds of solutions have rarely proved of value in dissolving any kind of kidney stone.

President Johnson is among the many Americans having a history of kidney stones.

In a report to the Third International Congress of Nephrology, Dr. R. J. Revellaud of Necker Hospital, Paris, France, told of the new treatment under study. It consists of an oral mixture of citric and trichloroacetic acid, called THAM for short, and citric acid. The latter is the acid that occurs in citrus fruits.

Kidney stones occur in two major varieties. One form is made largely of calcium salts; the other consists mainly of crystallized uric acid. And their exact cause is still unknown.

Both are potentially serious and can be excruciatingly painful.

Revellaud—in a report coauthored by Dr. Daniel Hirsch, said the new treatment has been used in 15 cases involving the uric-acid type of stone. This is the type which also can be a tip-off to a tendency for one of man's pestiest and most painful ailments.

The doctor reported administration of four doses daily to 28 patients over a period of several months had shown these results:

Five kidney stones were dissolved; others were passed from the body spontaneously.

In another case—involving a stone in the ureter, a tube leading from the kidney—spontaneous passage of the stone was facilitated.

Of the cases, the treatment was employed successfully as a prophylactic to prevent the formation of additional stones.

Congo to Break With Portugal

KINSHASA, Congo (AP) — The Congo Parliament approved a resolution Monday calling for a diplomatic break with Portugal after government charges that Portuguese Angolans were being used as staging areas for attacks on ex-Prime Minister Moise Tshombe.

Earlier, the government charged that Tshombe, now in Madrid, is plotting from Spanish territory. The Congo threatened to break off diplomatic relations with Spain. There was no immediate comment from Spanish officials. Tshombe has denied the accusation.

MANNED SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP) — Project Gemini, proving ground for the U.S. effort to land men on the moon, has been so successful, one official said, it "staggered our imagination." But he said it uncovered a problem which may not be as simple as once thought.

Navy Lt. Cmdr. Richard F. Gordon Jr., a man who tried working outside Gemini 11, said that no astronaut should be expected to do anything but "simple tasks" while outside a spacecraft until he is equipped with a device which will restrain him from drifting off.

"About 80 per cent of this work outside," was concerned with straps connecting the man's knee or entire body to the side of a satellite, or whatever the object with which he might be working.

Gordon, deputy director of the Man-in-Space Center, said he took with Navy Cmdr. George Low, deputy director of Gemini 12.

He said, "Conrad splashed back to earth Sept. 15 after three days aloft."

Gordon expressed confidence that the United States could solve the problem of space-walking by providing some sort of restraints to keep a man in position, but in the meantime Space Walking, officially known as extra vehicular activity, or EVA, figures prominently in the U.S. space program. The essence of it is to go into the moon—where the gravity field is one-sixth that of earth, you're walking in space.

—And, if man ever wants to assemble space stations or repair satellites in orbit, more than likely he will need to go outside a spaceship—and do much more complex work than expected of Gordon or any other space-walking-astronaut in the past.

Restraints, for instance, could be in the form of cords, tethers with body position," he told a news conference at the Manned Spacecraft Center Monday about the record-shattering flight he took with Navy Cmdr. Charles Conrad Jr.

George Low, deputy director of the Man-in-Space Center, said what had been learned from Project Gemini "still staggers our imagination."

However, he noted, "work outside a spacecraft showed to be more difficult than anticipated."

Red Chinese Power Intentions Are Arousing Anxiety From Rest of World

By WILLIAM L. RYAN,
AP Special Correspondent

In Red China, increasingly bellicose, is the clear intent of the world, preparing for a major struggle for power. There are reports from many areas of resistance to the cultural revolution, even of fighting.

The worry is not confined to non-Communist nations. A major worry by Soviet Communist Party chief Leonid Brezhnev to Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and Hungary is widely viewed as indicating anxiety about China's intentions.

The official Yugoslav radio pointed out that Peking "now dominates the Geneva agreement" on Viet Nam, on which it has previously insisted doggedly. This, it said, added to a "mistrust of Peking (which) is growing at a time when essential world problems are at stake. How this increases the dialectic is obvious."

Workers are expressing in some quarters the apprehension that the situation of the Viet Nam war will reach a point where Red China will intervene directly, perhaps out of desperation to prevent negotiations.

What are the chances of Red China risking a big war?

The answer appears in China, the suddenly resurgent after the struggle-for-power—the wild rampages of the officially inspired Red Guards and the predominance of a military clique provide plenty of cause for anxiety. Domestic Peking broadcasts add to all concern.

Despite all the portents, a certain caution in Peking propaganda also underscores Mao's injunction that "the Red Army is not only for purposes of fighting a war." It is needed on the home-front, notably in production.

There has been a spate of Red Guard attacks on city committees and localities since July 20 of China's 27 provinces and in many cities party headquarters highlighting nationalities but unrepresented to face awesome U.S. imperialism. All this signifies disarray amid a Peking's usual noises seem to stem from official conviction that the United States plans war on China. Evidently it sees the escalation of the Vietnamese war as evidence of this. Peking seems to fear war, but not yet to invite it.

will be a long time before the current upheaval has run its course and China's internal situation simmers down.

DEFENSE MUST WIN IN MINORS

It is rather easy for declarer to look over dummy and decide five spades, two hearts and six on a play of that will bring cards in the minor suits. It also name his contract. It is much appears to him that his partner has a hand which is strong enough to support him. He can make some things and work out a play diamonds. If he holds two honors and exactly three diamonds, West will be sure to collect after that South will be able to discard West's queen forces dummy and fifth diamond. This will leave South with only one club and 10 tricks.

Then East goes a step further and sees that if West does hold two diamond honors, a small diamond and the queen of clubs there is a way to beat declarer. He leads his four of clubs. West's queen forces dummy to drop, however, and gives his partner a diamond and gives his partner two club tricks.

Today's Market and Financial Report

Stocks

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market had lost most of its gains at the close today. Trading was moderately active.

The Dow Jonesavered in early trading and maintained its gains until late in the session, but some gains were erased on developed extreme weakness in the Dow Jones, a major factor in the averages. As the session wore on, however, Du Pont's loss widened and other blue chips began to show disengagement.

The market, which had showed some flashy strength in early trading, received a shock when Motorola suddenly plunged 15 points. This was linked with published report which lowered the sights on its earnings.

Value line stocks were estimated at 6.2 million shares compared with 4.97 million Monday.

Gains of fractions to one or 2 points were the general rule for leading issues.

Up more widely, Itek and Merton's (now merged) rose 1% and Mohrle Camera, National Airlines (ex dividend), Litton Industries (ex dividend), Paragon Pictures and Playboy Bowes about 3 each.

New York Central climbed almost 2% and AT&T, American Air Lines, Merck, TWA and Delta Airlines.

Spyer Rand, up about a point, looked like the most active issue.

Gains of fractions to a split were made by Goodrich, U.S. Rubber, Superior, Radio Corp.

Weakness in Du Pont, down 5, dragged at the averages. Douglas Aerials lost more than a point. Caterpillar dropped a fraction.

Prices were generally higher in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Now...real draft in all-aluminum cans!

Hamm's announces the finest draft beer ever brewed...
in the best take-home container ever made.

Are you a draft man? Then draw one from the first take-home container perfect enough to hold Hamm's Real Draft Beer... the all-aluminum can. Only Hamm's has it.

What's special about it? Just that aluminum is the one metal that treats beer flavor kindly. Brewers know this. That's why they put draft beer in all-aluminum kegs.

Now, here's Hamm's exclusive new all-aluminum can. Like a keg, it's seamless, fast-chilling and rust-proof. And with it, a great draft beer—the finest Hamm's has ever brewed—comes home for good.

All the smooth, mellow, non-filling lightness, the brewery freshness, of the real Hamm's draft is perfectly protected inside this new can. And it goes where you go.

Take home a couple of six-packs. A quick snap of the ring-pull tab and you've got Hamm's Real Draft Beer on tap. Great? It's out of this sky blue waters world!

From the land of sky blue waters comes the water best for brewing

Time Tunnel Works Magic On Actors

Producer Irwin Allen's "Time Tunnel" series works its magic on its actors as well as the millions of viewers who watch every Friday night in color over ABC-TV.

Two old friends were reunited when producer Allen signed Victor Jory and Charles Bateman to play the lead roles in the "Deadman's Island" episode, joining James Darren, Robert Colbert and Lee Meriwether at 20th Century-Fox Television studios.

Jory plays the notorious Bartleby, philosopher and arch-enemy of the ultimate conqueror, American hero Stephen Decatur, on the Nov. 11 airing.

Jory and Bateman are by no means strangers.

They appeared together many times as regulars in the "Manhunt" series, stories of the San Diego police.

Jory was chief of Detectives and Bateman was his trusted right-hand man.

Friendship on the television screen is so fleeting.

Kimble Risks Freedom to Treat Child

Richard Kimble risks his freedom and the wrath of zealot Joshua Simmons to treat the latter's critically ill infant grandson on ABC-TV's "Petticoat Junction," Oct. 11 (10 p.m., PDT).

Although Simmons claims that his faith doesn't permit medical treatment, in "Joshua's Kingdom," he is also ashamed of his unwed daughter Ruth and her baby, Kimble.

Kimble's motives in helping Ruth and the child—aided by his employer, veterinarian Doc Martin, are misunderstood by jealous ex-deputy Sheriff Wards, and he flees to Kimble.

Dick Jansen stars as Richard Kimble. Harry Townes guest as Joshua, Kim Darby as Ruth and Tom Skerrit as Pete. Walter Burke co-stars as Doc and John Milford as the sheriff.

Saunders Is Captured on Combat Show

Sgt. Saunders is blinded and another soldier is killed in a land mine explosion—they are captured by the Germans. The Americans manage to get the information about German attack planes on ABC-TV's "Combat!" in color Oct. 11 (7:30-8:30 p.m., PDT).

In "Chapel at Mile-Hive," Saunders is captured by a German chaplain who pretends to be English in order to get his help in moving a wounded German captain to safety.

Saunders learns the identity of his rescuer and the German officer Krauss, orders his death because he knows of the planned assault.

Vic Morrow stars as Sgt. Saunders and Rick Jason as Lt. Mapley. Guest-starring in the episode are John Saxon as the German chaplain and Jim Malmstrom as Capt. Krauss.

Tour the Orient with Northwest.

We fly there every day—by the shortest route there is.

The wayside shrines of Japan. The lush green of the Philippines. The cherry blossoms of Taiwan, Okinawa, Korea—the dazzling colors of Bangkok and Hong Kong.

You're just hours away from it all when you fly to the Orient on Northwest. We fly non-stop to Tokyo from the U.S. mainland every day.

And when you take off for the Orient on Northwest, you fly the shortest route there is—straight across the Pacific from Seattle. Hours faster than going by way of the mid-Pacific.

One more thing. When you fly Northwest to the Orient, you fly aboard a smooth, quiet Fan-Jet. We don't fly any other kind.

So, come to the Orient on Northwest.

For reservations, call your travel agent or Northwest Orient Airlines.

Northwest flies direct to Tokyo from 8 U.S. cities—more than any other airline. New York, Washington, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago, Minneapolis/St. Paul, Seattle, and Anchorage. Service from 36 U.S. cities in all.
