Mercy Missions Combined With War Operation

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Mercy missions mingled with the military in American operations in Viet Nam Saturday. U. S. Air Force and Army ambulances aided victims of a Saigon airfield accident, the crash of a stunting Vietnamese Skyraider that killed the pilot and four other Vietnamese and injured 18 persons. Eight American GIs were among the injured.

Red China Marks 17th Anniversary

TOKYO (AP)—Lin Biao's pre-eminence in Communist China's new power structure stood out more than ever Saturday as Peking marked the 17th anniversary of the Communist takeover.

It was the biggest weekend celebration of an anniversary since the founding of the People's Republic of China. Lin Biao, Mao Tse-tung's "close comrade in arms," was the biggest figure in the celebration. The spotlight on Mao, 72, Lin is 59.

Sharing the podium on the high red walls of Peking's Heavenly Peace Square with Mao, his apparent Lin was the key speaker. While Mao beamed and remained silent despite Red Guard requests in the past that he speak, Lin spoke on his behalf.

All our achievements and successes," Lin declared, "have been scored under the wise leadership of Chairman Mao and represent the victory of Mao Tse-tung's thought."

Mao responded to the cheers from the crowd with a smile and a wave of the hand. About 500,000 Red Guards cheered, raising their right hands in a salute. Lin declared, "has never been so prosperous and so full of vigor. Our national defense has never been so strong."

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP)—A U. S. Navy doctor and an explosive expert removed a live shell from a wounded Vietnamese soldier tonight. The soldier was reported in good condition afterward.

Reduction Is Planned In Europe

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson now appears to be moving decisively toward some reduction of U. S. military forces in Europe, probably beginning next year.

A study of Allied defense strategy to be made by the United States, Germany and Britain, is expected to provide a new basis for troop-strength decisions.

The study was announced last week by Johnson and West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard. The United States hopes to get the work under way in three weeks and have it completed by the end of the year.

U. S. officials also several reasons for a strategic review of Allied defense plans at this time. Some of these arguments already point to likely conclusion:

Area Man Killed in Highway 93 Crash

JEROME, A 25-year-old Wendell man, Edward R. Fabela, was killed early Saturday night when he was thrown out as the car in which he was a passenger plunged off Highway 93 about three miles north of the Jerome junction. State police said the 1956 Chevrolet in which he was riding was being driven by Mario Paloma, 19, Jerome. Paloma was taken to St. Benedict's Hospital, Jerome, for observation. State Patrolman Ron Eggleston, Shoshone, and Frank Mogen, Twin Falls, who investigated, said Paloma was going south on Highway 93 and tried to pass a cattle truck driven by Roy Christensen, Twin Falls. A car driven by Louis A. Logay, Shoshone, was approaching, going north, as Paloma tried to pass the truck and was forced into the borrow pit on the east side of the road.

Paloma apparently lost control of his car and it rolled 300 feet of this distance. The 36th traffic death of 1966 in Magic Valley occurred Oct. 1.

As the result of an accident in Jerome County.

It was through the 1922 quake and it wasn't as bad as that, but it was a strong quake. The quake caused much death and destruction, particularly in the Long Beach area south of Los Angeles.

Charles Richter, California Institute of Technology seismologist, said: "This was very definitely an earthquake, but I cannot determine very much in detail."

He estimated it was centered within 50 miles of Los Angeles. The intensity was the 6th of the year in Magic Valley, compared to 30 at this date last year, and was the fourth this year in Jerome County.

Hurricane Inez Staggers Toward Florida's Coast

MIAMI, Fla.—Killer Hurricane Inez, crippled but still dangerous after two excursions into Cuba, staggered toward a course that would bring sustained gale winds to the heavily populated coast of southeastern Florida Sunday. "We expect Inez to pass near Bimini—30 miles east of Miami—sometime tomorrow afternoon," said Paul Moore, forecaster at the National Hurricane Center. Moore said the storm probably would regain intensity during the night and would strike Florida's southern eastern coast with sustained winds up to 45 miles an hour.

As Inez began her second journey into Cuba on Saturday night, the toll of death and destruction continued to mount. In the battered Caribbean islands of Haiti, Dominica and Guadeloupe, thousands were injured and hundreds were killed.

Hurricane-force winds were expected Sunday at Bimini and Bahama. In the Caribbean, warnings were up from the Florida Keys to Stuart, in the southern section of the state, and throughout the Bahamas. Moore said Inez was expected to leave Cuba's northern coast about midnight after two days on the island. "Then we expect surging wind currents to push the storm toward the coast of Florida," Moore said. "At last report the storm was over 175 miles east of Miami, heading north-northwest at about seven miles an hour. Inez, once claiming awesome winds up to 175 miles an hour, lost much of her fury after crashing into Cuba's Sierra Maestra Mountains. Her winds had decreased to about 75 miles an hour when she re-entered central Cuba. Emergency preparations were made throughout the Florida Keys and Bahamas where boat owners were told to stay ashore. The Key West Naval Air Station began preparing for hurricane-force winds.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A jolting earthquake shook the Los Angeles area at 10:12 p.m. Saturday. The shock, in downtown offices, an apartment dweller said, "the building shook all over."

Another apartment occupant said the shock was "like a small explosion." The shock was felt in the living quarters of the building. A resident of Inglewood, on the southwest fringe of Los Angeles, telephoned The Associated Press: "I went through the 1922 quake and it wasn't as bad as that, but it was a strong quake. The quake caused much death and destruction, particularly in the Long Beach area south of Los Angeles."

Andrus Endorsed by Idaho Labor Group

Democrat Cecil Andrus was endorsed for governor Saturday behind locked doors by the Committee on Political Education of the Idaho AFL-CIO. The state senator from Orofino, and State Sen. Perry Swisher of Pocatello, had been invited to Cope's second endorsement meeting. At the first one, Cope declined to endorse either Swisher or Democrat Charles Herndon, but decided to back against endorsement of Swisher, J. M. Jorgensen and Republican nominee D. W. Samuelson. Idaho AFL-CIO President Darrell Dorman said the vote to endorse Andrus was almost unanimous. Most political candidates in Idaho were in Moscow Saturday for University of Idaho Homecoming activities.

One U. S. Senate aspirant challenged his opponent to public debate and a candidate for governor suggested a legislative investigation of the closing of a savings institution.

Samuelson proposed the Legislative investigation of the July 7 closing of the Idaho Home Savings and Loan Association. A legislative council subcommittee, he said, "could determine where the failure was caused by the failure to prevent such closures from happening again."

The debate challenge was issued by Ralph Harding, Democrat, in a letter to Sen. J. M. Jorgensen, Republican. He made public a letter to his Republican opponent, Sen. Len B. Jordan.

Harding suggested to Jorgensen "a series of televised discussions or debates, so that we can present to the voters the merits and demerits of the candidates for the positions each of us holds."

SYNOPSIS AND AGRICULTURAL SUMMARY

After a cool night in which temperatures dropped to the mid 20s in some areas of southern Idaho it warmed to the 70s Saturday afternoon. It is noted that there are some fairly large pressure falls over the area east of the Cascades—showers are forecast for October normally drop the upper and middle States cold front settles southward. By Sunday it should be mostly cloudy, cooler and windy, with some showers, especially over mountains.

With cooling expected, freezing temperatures are quite possible over southern Idaho again Sunday and Monday nights. The outlook for Monday is for continued cool with possible showers. Spraying operations may be curtailed but most other outdoor activities should be able to continue.

THIRTY-DAY OUTLOOK

The outlook for October, issued by the Extended Forecast Division of the U. S. Weather Bureau, calls for predominantly dry and dry weather. Temperatures will be below normal, with a pressure ridge over the Rockies much of the time, and a pressure center over western Alaska. The principal storm tracks will be farther north through Canada, with few if any major storms penetrating into southern Idaho.

Temperatures will average two or three degrees above normal in Southeastern Idaho. The normal rate of cooling in October is more rapid than during September. Daily maximum temperatures in the lower 70s and high 60s at the beginning of October normally drop the upper and middle States by the end of the month, with normal daily minimum temperatures drop from the upper 30s and lower 40s Oct. 1 to the low 20s and upper 20s by Oct. 31.

Less than normal rainfall is indicated for the month. This would indicate less than half an inch of rain for most of the agricultural areas of Southern Idaho. Snowfall, if any this month, will be brief and will melt rapidly.

In general weather prospects appear good for harvesting potatoes and winter crops and for growth of pastures and winter grain where moisture is adequate.

Proposals Made By Study Group

AMERICAN BAR ASSOCIATION—An American Bar Association study group recommended today that in pending criminal cases police, prosecutors and judges be barred from making public "potentially prejudicial information."

At a name time, the 10-member study group of prominent judges and lawyers specifically rejected the idea of restricting criminal news coverage by the press or through expanded use of the courts' contempt powers.

"We submit that the primary basis for restricting news coverage rests on the legal basis and the agencies which serve and minister to it," the panel said in its preliminary to its 22-page report.

Lions Club Is Sponsoring Essay Contest

The Twin Falls Lions Club, with other Lions Clubs throughout the world, is sponsoring a world-wide essay contest for youth on the subject of peace, according to Dr. T. J. Wilkes.

The contest offers $50,000 in total awards, including a $25,000 first prize, eight semi-final world travel expenses for the eight winners to Chicago, Ill., in July. More than 20,000 local, district and multiple district awards will be made.

The contest is open to young people who will be 14 but less than 22 years of age on January 15, 1967.

"Our club's winner will advance to Lions District 39-W essay contest," Dr. Wilkes said. "Contestants should submit their essays in essay form, typed, double-spaced, 12-point font, with margins of one inch. Essays should be typed on one side of the paper. Essays should be typed on one side of the paper. Essays should be typed on one side of the paper."

Three judges will be appointed to the club. Dr. Wilkes commented that he hoped local young people would accept the challenge and enter the Twin Falls Lions Club section of the contest.

Closing date for the local contest is Oct. 15. Students wishing to enter the contest should contact one of the Twin Falls Lions Club members for a contest form and enter the contest by Oct. 15.

Each applicant will be limited to one entry, with one winner's essay eligible to compete in the Lions District 39-W essay contest.

Winner of the district contest will be entered in state or country-wide contest. Each country will have multiple district winners entered in one of the eight world-wide contests.

Director of Marine Band Convinced He Has Most Interesting Job in U.S.

When the United States Marine Band appears at the Twin Falls High School Gymnasium for matinee and evening concerts at 2 and 8 p.m. today, residents will have an opportunity to see its director, Lt. Col. Albert Schoepper, a man who is thoroughly convinced that he has the most interesting position in America.

Where else could a man do the kind of work he likes, make an annual concert tour of America, and meet royalty and dignitaries from every part of the world, Schoepper says.

Since 1901, the director of the Marine Band has had the privilege of participating in all the special functions at the White House as the President of the United States entertains kings, queens, shahs and emperors.

No other bandmaster-musical director in America conducts such a wide variety of musical engagements or prepares "programs" for such distinguished guests.

Schoepper commented, "During my time with the Marine Band, I've played or conducted before hundreds of visiting dignitaries, including two generations of Royalty from several of the countries. Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands visited America during World War II and later we helped entertain her daughter, Queen Juliana."

"It was in 1939 when I met

LT. COL. ALBERT SCHOEPPER

King George and Queen Elizabeth of England and 12 years later we played for their gracious daughter, Princess Elizabeth, now of course, Queen of England. With so many distinguished audiences, the years pass quickly and this job could never become monotonous.

"No one will ever realize how great planning there is connected with preparing these programs. And yet, we derive a great deal of pleasure when the President applauds one of his favorites, when Chancellor Raab of Austria thanks us personally for the waltzes, when the Shah of Iran smiles his recognition of our native music."

Education Is Subject for Rotary Meet

SHOSHONE—Program at the Rotary club meeting Wednesday noon was presented by Mary Dene Hunter, Rupert, who spoke on the importance and financial value of education.

She gave statistics on earning capacity of youths with various degrees of education.

The birthday song was sung for E. L. Shaw. Guests were Alan McCombs, Julius Schmidt, George Carrico, Bill Oakley, Don Seamos and Dr. Bodner. Gooding, Tom Larsen and E. J. Baer, Jerome; LaVerne Burdette, who was visiting his father, Frank Burdett, and Dr. Paul Jacobsen, guest of John Thomas.

Last week members went to Richfield during their Rotary hour and toured the Banquet Creamery. There were 23 persons taken on the tour by Clifford Ward, proprietor.

The creamery was stated to be the second largest business in Lincoln County, second to Shoshone Sale Yards.

Choir Leader Will Present Recital Soon

MAGIC VALLEY CHRISTIAN COLLEGE, Abilene-Clio Eldred, director, of the Department of Music and the A Cappella Chorus at Magic Valley Christian College, will give a vocal recital at 8 p.m.-Nov. 5 at the Burley High School Auditorium.

He has given recitals at Boise College and in Idaho Falls. He sang the bass solos in "The Messiah" at Twin Falls and in "Creation" at Rexburg. Eldred also played the leading male role in the Burley production of "Carnival."

Plans are under way for two or three major tours with the A Cappella Chorus which has 33 members. The MVCC Madrigal Singers are looking forward to an active year, Eldred says, with numerous engagements in the Magic Valley area.

The public is invited to the recital at the Burley High School. Tickets will be sold in advance as well as at the door. Proceeds will be used for the music department at MVCC.

Man Injured In Car Crash

A Hazelton man was released from Magic Valley Memorial Hospital Saturday morning after being treated for injuries incurred in a Friday evening automobile accident.

Idaho State Patrolman Coleman Watkins said Dean Albertson, 48, was hospitalized after a one-car accident at about 5:45 p.m., one-half mile west of Twin Falls on Highway 30.

Watkins said the west-bound 1958 Chevrolet-Albertson was driving veered off the north side of the road, landing in a large irrigation ditch.

He said the passenger door of the vehicle came open and Albertson fell partially out of the slanted car. The injured man's head was under direct water until a passing motorist pulled him out and placed him on the seat.

Watkins said Saturday that investigation is continuing.

Miss Rodeo Idaho Receives Advice From Contest Judges

Conservative criticism never hurt anyone and is often helpful, Rosemary Vassar, Miss Rodeo Idaho, is learning this week. She returned to Twin Falls Friday and spent most of the day in a critique with the nine people who adjudged her atop a field of 12 contestants in the state contest.

She will continue to meet with the judges until she returns to her Caldwell home Sunday. She represented Boise College rodeo association in the contest here during the Twin Falls County Fair and Rodeo.

In preparation for the November national contest in Las Vegas, Nev., the judges are pointing out to Miss Vassar the reasons she was rated high in some fields of judging and lower in others.

They hope the advice and criticism she is receiving here will help her polish up on some ers for the Miss Rodeo America Contest. While in Magic Valley an official car has been donated for Miss Rodeo Idaho's use by Wills Motor Co., Twin Falls.

The thrill of her September victory still has not left her and she is enthusiastically awaiting the national contest. Miss Vassar said she enjoyed her stay in Twin Falls during the fair and rodeo, and especially the opportunity to "know all the wonderful girls she competed with."

Judging at the state contest, as in the national contest, was conducted in personality, appearance and horsemanship. Sunday Idaho's representative will be on horseback at Turner's Arabian Ranch, near Jerome where the horsemanship judges will give her some helpful points.

REPAIRS EXPECTED
MOSCOW, Idaho (AP)—Most telephones in Moscow are expected to be back in service within two or three days, according to General Telephone Co. of the Northwest said Saturday.

A fire Sunday in the dial and toll center here knocked out some 17,000 telephones in Moscow and 11 other communities in Northern Idaho and Eastern Washington, and did damage estimated at more than $1 million.

SUIT FILED
BOISE (AP)—Recovery of nearly one-half million dollars paid in federal income taxes is asked by Garrett, Freightlines, Inc., of Pocatello, in a suit filed in U. S. District Court.

Garrett said it filed with the Internal Revenue Service a claim for refund of the taxes but the claim was denied. The lawsuit followed.

The complaint asked a total of $411,440. It said the overpayments amounted to $36,000 for 1959; $27,200 for 1960; $50,000 for 1961 and $28,240 for 1962.

An earlier story reported erroneously that the suit was brought by the government against Garrett.

MEET-SLATED
COEUR D'ALENE, Idaho (AP)—Approximately 150 business and industrial leaders are expected to attend the Northern Idaho Industrial Civil Defense conference here October 5.

Three men will present a discussion on industry's role in civil defense, David G. Hanson, coordinator of the University of Idaho extension civil defense programs, said. The three are: Franklin Mills, St. Regis Paper Company; Libby, Montana; Steve Crist, The Boeing Company; Seattle; and R. W. Pace, Pacific Northwest Bell, Seattle.

CHARGES FILED
IDAHO FALLS (AP)—Charges of having been involved in Idaho Falls teen-agers involved in the mock hold-up of an armorer-car in Idaho Falls Sept. 21.

Two of the youths, both 17, were charged as juveniles under the Youth Rehabilitation Act. Three other teen-agers, all 18, were charged with illegal display of firearms. They are: Donny Burke, Ron L. Messmer and Jerry L. Pendergrass.

ACTION SOUGHT
BOISE (AP)—The office of the state reclamation engineer said Friday it would ask the Legislature for action concerning the licensing of well drillers, well-drilling standards and methods of acquiring water rights.

One reason for the proposal for legislation to set these standards, the department said, is the current drought and a corresponding increase in the number of well-drilling applications for permits to drill wells.

The PUC said a similar complaint was received from the Associated Plumbers and Heating Contractors of Idaho.

The commission said it will consider both complaints in one case. It has given the applications until Oct. 10 to file an answer.

"INJURED STUDENT" James (Jim) Midon, College of Southern Idaho Peace Officer training, the victim of first aid instructors' play-act and follow-up student, after a staged accident Thursday night. The instructors, gathered for a preparatory meeting for upcoming first aid classes, responded to the accident and treated Midon's "wounds." (Times-News photo)

Simulated Accident Trains T.F. First Aid Instructors

Red Cross instructors acted quickly, efficiently and believably Thursday night when a stairway accident was staged during a leadership meeting.

The group was just forming to discuss plans for the annual Red Cross first aid training sessions when James (Jim) Midon and Bruce Gaston, both members of the College of Southern Idaho Peace Officers training program, broke up the meeting with a series of thuds, screams, groans and moans in the stairway leading to the Red Cross auditorium.

The instructors responded to the disturbance and when they reached the scene of the accident, found a "seriously injured" Midon and a concerned Gaston.

The two peace officer trainees played their parts so well that one state policeman leaped back up the stairs with shouts of "Call the police and an ambulance!"

The first aid instructors soon realized, however, that Midon's apparent wounds were only the results of some very skillful make-up work. However, they set to work treating Midon for head, leg and arm injuries and shock.

The instructors, preparing for their first classes which start in a week, responded correctly to the situation, displaying the knowledge they have learned through the Red Cross program.

2 Boise Men Held for Burglaries

HAGERMAN—Two Boise men are being held in Gooding County jail on $10,000 bond each for the burglaries of five homes and businesses during the past week.

They are being held for first degree burglary and grand larceny, according to Gooding County Sheriff's office.

Larry Oweley, 24, and George Mahoney, 42, were apprehended Friday by Gooding County Sheriff's officers who had been observing the men for the past week.

During the week three safes were stolen from the James Faulker ranch near Bliss, jewelry and miscellaneous items valued at approximately $700 were taken from the two men's home at Hagerman.

Maurice Smith, Hagerman, reported $33 had been stolen from his home. A break-in at Gooding and Springs resort was reported Friday morning. A wallet containing $15 was taken and $2 worth of peanuts.

The two men, an undetermined amount of money, radio and groceries were taken from Leiker's Grocery, Bliss, Thursday evening.

According to the investigating officers a pry bar was used to gain entrance at all the scenes.

The two are scheduled to appear in Gooding County Probate Court at 10 a.m. Monday.

Two Local Women Take Exciting Summer Trip

BY KAREN MORSE

"Det var en meget vidunderlig tur!" Incomprehensible? The language was one of very few problems two Magic Valley women encountered this summer on a trip that took them to many foreign countries, including Russia.

Mrs. Irene Banbury, 183 Larkspur Drive, and Mrs. Charlotte Link, Hansen, left Twin Falls in early June on the first leg of their trip which was to last almost all of the summer.

From Twin Falls the women went to New York City where they boarded a jet airliner to Denmark. While in Copenhagen, they had the opportunity of touring old castles and seeing Europe's most famous amusement and musical center, the Tivoli Gardens.

The next stop for our local travelers was Sweden, where they viewed the ruins of the St. Bridget Monastery and the country's capitol. While in Sweden they visited the tomb of Dag Hammarskjöld, former secretary of the United Nations.

The next stop on the agenda was a visit to Norway. Our local women went back in history as they viewed old Viking ships, the Kon-Tiki raft and many other points of interest.

During their travels, Mrs. Banbury and Mrs. Link took time out to shop for mementos of their journey, and take many pictures which would be of interest to their friends and acquaintances.

From Norway the women went to Finland, Denmark and Sweden, and set out for what they might well term a high point of their trip—the Soviet Union. Both travelers agreed that one outstanding difference between Russia and America is the mode of living. Mrs. Link said she felt Russia is about 50 years behind, socially and economically.

When asked about the comparative prices, Mrs. Banbury grinned, sighed and told of paying a dollar for a pint can of orange juice. She described the mode of shopping which is quite complicated compared with our American standards.

She said you pick out the merchandise wanted and a clerk gives you a slip of paper with the price of the object written down. Then the customer takes the slip of paper to a cashier and pays for the purchase. The cashier gives the customer a receipt and then the purchase may be picked up.

Mrs. Link insisted that there is no shoplifting in Russia with this closely guarded way of shopping.

Mrs. Link told of visiting with a woman doctor who also taught at the University of Moscow. The doctor told Mrs. Link that she and her husband lived in a one-room apartment and shared the kitchen and bath with eight other families. The doctor pointed out that this is the usual circumstance in Russia where all people are treated equally.

Both women expressed amazement at seeing the Russian women doing the heavy work. They said it was not uncommon to see the women doing the farm work, and even cleaning the streets.

Mrs. Banbury and Mrs. Link pointed out that the common Russian laborer earns about $90 per month while a school teacher will earn as much as $150 a month. A doctor, at the peak of his career, can expect to earn from $300-350 per month.

Mrs. Link noted, however, that no one can purchase too much with their money. She said there are no exclusive dress shops or clothes for women with larger incomes to purchase. She said the Russian people push the idea of equality, and their guide mentioned it often while showing them points of interest.

The Russian subway, or Metropole, was described as modern, speedy and beautiful. Mrs. Link and Mrs. Banbury said the trains are actually more modern than those in America's larger cities.

Red Square, famous for its splendor, was thoroughly enjoyed by the Magic Valley women. Mrs. Link said the theaters were the most modern she had ever seen, but the people attending the productions did not dress up as they did in America.

When asked about the American image in Russia, Mrs. Link related one of her many experiences with the Russian people. She said while in one hotel in Moscow, a Russian girl approached her and felt her clothing and hair.

The Russian guide explained to Mrs. Link that the girl was envious of Americans and wanted to touch one.

One interesting point talked about by the two women was the marriage temples. They said since religion is dying out in U.S.S.R., couples seeking a fancier marriage than afforded them by civil ceremonies go to the government-owned temples to get married. These temples were described as being lovely and magnificent.

The women were fortunate to witness one of the ceremonies. They said the couple to be married was at one end of the room and the families and friends stood either at the other end or against the wall. After the brief ceremony, the bride gave each person in the room a flower from her bouquet, and then the couple went into another side room for wine and cake.

It was brought out that the flowers and refreshments were provided in the cost of the ceremony.

Beautiful color photographs were evidence of the beautiful scenery and other highlights of the Russian trip. The women were able to buy and bring back mementos of their visit to the country behind the Iron curtain, many of which they have already given to their many friends.

After leaving Russia, the women toured Hungary, Czechoslovakia, and Germany.

While in Germany, Mrs. Link had the opportunity to visit relatives she had not seen for several years. A native of Germany, Mrs. Link enjoyed her reunion with her family and visiting places she had not seen for some time.

Mrs. Link remained in Germany for a longer visit, while Mrs. Banbury departed for Ireland. She enjoyed the visit, and visited the world famous Blarney Stone. To prove that she had kissed the famous rock, Mrs. Banbury brought back a certificate of achievement.

When asked about future trips, both said only time would tell, but agreed that this had been a summer to remember. This was the second trip the Magic Valley women have taken together. The first was in 1960 when they visited the Holy Land and other countries.

Friends and families of the women are now enjoying the trip through photographs and souvenirs brought back from the many countries.

Incidentally, the war in Mexico is underling tur means; it was a most wonderful trip, a point agreed by both travelers.

Both students spent nine months at Mountain Home where they have developed skills which they can use in private employment or they may go on to advanced training at some urban training center sponsored by various industries.

Skilled supervisors direct the training in such work as carpentering, auto mechanics and welding.

Boys between the ages of 16 to 19 attend the school. The Mountain Home Corps has contracted the facilities for the new park at Strike Dam, as one work project.

When Wyler says waterproof, we mean conformation proof too. Case and back are one-piece. No piece of water to seep through. The crystal locks over the case wall — when it shrinks the water-tight seal gets even tighter. The water-proof watch is renewable for the life of the watch, as long as crystal is intact and genuine Wyler parts used. How waterproof can you get?

Girl Injured In Accident At Twin Falls

A 19-year-old Filer girl was hospitalized after a two-car accident late Friday night at Five Points West, Twin Falls.

Twin Falls Police said Kaylyn M. Van Ostro received cuts and lacerations in the 11:11 p.m. crash. She was listed in satisfactory condition at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital Saturday afternoon.

Officers said the accident occurred when Miss Van Ostro's west-bound 1964 Mercury was hit by an east-bound 1965 Chevrolet driven by Claude Tattersall, 16, Eden.

Miss Tattersall escaped injury in the accident, but two passengers in the Mercury were treated and released at the Twin Falls Hospital. The two were identified as Johnny Gilster, 10, and his sister, LaRae Gilster, 12, children of Mr. and Mrs. John Gilster, 467 Rose St. N.

The accident report says the Mercury was going through the intersection when the Chevrolet made a left turn in front of it, causing the accident.

The Eden girl was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way and for driving without a driver's license.

Carmichael Admits Part In Incident

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Stokely Carmichael, civil rights leader and "black power" advocate, admitted in federal court Saturday night he urged a large demonstration in Atlanta three weeks ago but said he did not spark the violence which resulted.

"You have to shake black people out of their sleep," Carmichael, who denied urging Negroes to "burn, baby, burn" or engage in rock throwing or other violence during disorders that left 15 persons injured Sept. 6.

Carmichael, 25, chairman of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Council, said he meant Negroes should demonstrate to "tear up their fear."

He was called to the witness stand in a hearing on a petition to halt prosecution of riot charges against some members of the organization.

Three federal judges took under advisement the request for an injunction against prosecution by city and county authorities, and a move to strike down laws on riot and insurance.

Chief Judge Elbert P. Tuttle of the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals said the case is of "major constitutional significance."

SNCC attorneys contend that city and county authorities threatened prosecution in order to deprive persons of their civil rights and freedom of speech.

A decision will not be handed down before Oct. 17.

Prayer Vigil for Peace Is Begun Across Country

NEW YORK (AP) — They take to their solemn prayer today outside the United Nations.

Off and on, in the next month, they're likely to appear there or at other places across the land, their heads bowed in supplication.

Devout men, troubled men, in clerical collars, prayer caps or plain civilian suits, Protestants, Roman Catholics and Jews, they are sentries in a vast vigil for peace in Viet Nam.

In a "critical world situation," said Bishop Reuben H. Mueller, president of the National Council of Churches, "may our prayers for peace and for those who suffer be fervent and unceasing."

Touched off by the special appeal of Pope Paul VI, leaders of many other religious bodies have joined in calling for concentrated attention to the dying fight in ending the Viet Nam fighting.

October, the last month of autumn, is the time set for it. "Each October, month when every church will open daily," the Rev. Dr. Allen Walker, a Methodist, exhorted at the Christian (Disciples of Christ) convention this week in Dallas.

The Rev. Dr. H. Franklin Paschall, of Nashville, Tenn., president of the Southern Baptist Convention, urged Baptists to join with Roman Catholics and others in the special period of prayer. He commented: "Together, we may achieve amazing results."

The Pope, in his encyclical calling the Southeast Asia conflict a threat of "a more extensive and more disastrous calamity," said: "We cry to them in God's name to stop."

He asked for particular devotion through October toward that purpose.

Rabbi Dr. Maurice M. Eisenstadt, president of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations, said: "We must join in prayer, solidarity with the great religious leaders of the world and especially Pope Paul and his heartbroken plea to the nations of the world to stop before it is too late."

The Rev. Dr. Ben Mohr, pastor, president of the United Church of Christ, including Congregationalists, urged "intense" prayer throughout the month, with special services on drive to reach its goal. They provide one man each to assist with the drive for two and one-half days weekly.

Dr. Keith, 1831 Willow Lane, came to Idaho in 1955 from his home state of Oklahoma, where he received his doctor's degree from the University of Oklahoma.

In addition to his college administrative position, Dr. Keith is serving as vice chairman of the Twin Falls County Mental Health Association; as chairman of the Lions Club International Peace Essay Contest, and as a member of the Advisory Board for Licensed Practical Nursing.

He is a member of the Twin Falls Methodist Church, the Idaho Education Association, the National Education Association, Twin Falls Lions Club and Phi Delta Kappa.

Mrs. Carlos Borah read the teacher's prayer as the invocation. The high school band played numbers under the direction of Richard Youren.

Cecil Stanger announced his committee chairman and officers for the coming year with Mrs. Gene Johnson as vice president, Russel Thorbeck second vice president; Mrs. Borah, secretary; Mrs. Everett Norris, treasurer; Mrs. Ferris Freeston, music chairman; Mrs. Charles Holly program, assisted by Mrs. Arthur Baily; Mrs. Huck, procedure book; Barnard, parliamentarian; Robert Petty, legislator; Mrs. Vernon Ball, room manager; Mrs. Thomas Steelsmith, publicity; Mrs. Kenneth Mothershead, hospitalities; Mrs. Reed Johnson, PTA president.

Plans were made to add new books to the elementary and high school libraries.

The fourth grade received the parent-attendance check to be used in their room until the next PTA meeting.

Spain Marks Franco's 30 Years of Rule

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Spain noted the 30th anniversary today of Gen. Francisco Franco's assumption of power, as the regime of his successor remained unswayed.

The visibly aging "caudillo" of Spain, two months from his 64th birthday, officially became head of the Spanish government on Oct. 1, 1936.

His rule brought the war-shattered nation from near chaos into a state of peaceful prosperity so strong that it could afford to mint a thousand tons of silver for the release on this anniversary of 25 million 100-peseta coins. The coin is worth $1.66.

There have been frequent predictions that Franco would soon announce legislation providing for his successor and a continuation of his government.

Spain is a monarchy by virtue of a 1947 national referendum which placed in Franco's hand the right to name both his successor and the time of succession.

Francisco spent the day at his suburban Parlo-Palace. He attended Mass and a reception, received many callers and worked in his office for several hours.

Postal Aide Is Plotting "Controlled Revolution"

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Post Office Department's new assistant postmaster general is plotting a "controlled revolution" in the postal service, according to a management-controlled revolution that would create a mechanized post office.

Dr. Leo S. Packer, a former business executive who admits to having seen the inside of only three post offices, was confirmed by the Senate two weeks ago as head of the department's new Bureau of Research and Engineering.

In the next two years Packer says he wants to double the number of post office employees engaged exclusively in research and development and begin a "planned management-controlled revolution."

The revolution would create a mechanized post office — but not simply a few more conveyor belts or a couple of extra computers.

"There are means of communications which are different from the letter with the stamp on it that are the legitimate concern of the Post Office Department — it is the concern of the department to be aware of them," he said.

Packer, 46, former engineering manager of Xerox Corp., says the department no longer spends $20 million a year on technological droppings from industry for its new ideas. But he realizes there are vast differences between the methods of private industry and those of the government.

"What we're building here is a visual aid, a long, uphill climb," he said in an interview. "The restraints on management in government are stronger than what I had expected."

Currently, the Post Office spends $20 million a year on research and development out of a budget of nearly $3 billion. If the Post Office were private industry, Packer says, it would be told "you're running a hell of a business, since such a small

North Side Communities Hear Reports

SHOSHONE.—Reports on current activities within the North Side Communities were given at the monthly meeting Thursday night at the local bowling alley.

Members voted to support efforts for improved roads to Magic Reservoir resort. They will write to county commissioners in counties controlling the area and to the Fish and Game Department to solicit aid.

Francis Bergin, Shoshone, reported on proposals to secure assistance from the State Department of Highways or State Park Department to maintain the road to Niagara Springs.

Idaho Power Co. has spent about $1,000,000 on the fish hatchery there and in the past, the road to the section has been handled by volunteer or donated labor.

There have been new homes built and there will be three families living there the year around now.

Earl Skidmore, Wendell, reported the air force has brought 60 men into Wendell under the SAC program.

The operation is primarily a training device. The Air Force train site along an unused siding to become a target for the most accurate shooting in the world. The train provides the target, which is a large, flat, white, rectangular target that is 100 feet long and 10 feet wide.

The train is called the "Radon Bomb" because it is packed at a little-used siding and is one of three trains in use by SAC. Each train is used by a different group of people. The train provides the target, which is a large, flat, white, rectangular target that is 100 feet long and 10 feet wide.

The trains are self-supporting and are used by the thousands of visitors who have seen them during the open house programs each train has at each new location.

It has its own diesel power plants, 10,000 gallons of fuel in each section, its own sewage disposal and a supply of 10,000 pounds of food.

Each train is made in a small machine shop in one of the cars. First aid facilities are available to handle minor illnesses and injuries.

Using an elaborate array of electronic devices, experts aboard the trains try to confuse the bombers' navigation and radar bombing equipment. This type of "battle" is called electronic countermeasures (ECM).

It is expected to be a major factor in any future air-to-air battle. Each train crew may experience as many as 75 attacks during a single day and coded scoring of both the bombing accuracy and the ECM effectiveness are transmitted to the aircrews before they return to their home base.

The train crews work the clock around, staying open for business 20 hours a day with the remaining four hours utilized for maintenance repair and calibration of the equipment.

The next North Side meeting will be held at 8 p.m. Oct. 27 at the Shoshone bowling alley.

Probe Into Percy Death Continues

KENILWORTH, Ill. (AP)—Police continued their intense checking and probing today in hopes of turning up a lead that might identify the murderer of Valerie Percy.

Chief Robert Daley said officers are continuing to check with police departments and private patrol services to learn whether two burglaries committed in the area might be related to the Percy slaying. The slaying, which occurred on the day the daughter of a prominent U.S. Senatorial candidate, Charles H. Percy, was slain.

Police are still examining the wooden, bloodstained glove found near the Percy home after the slaying. Other investigators are canvassing north suburban hardware stores in search of a chisel or similar tool which left blue smudges on the glass panel the killer cut to enter the home.

Daley said he was in contact with Arizona authorities on the slaying because there might be a connection between the Kenilworth killing and the fatal slaying of Laura Bernstein, 18, who was slain in a similar slaying in Phoenix, Ariz., where David Munihugh, 19, is being held on a charge of murder in the slaying of Miss Bernstein.

A slaying at Arizona State University. Daley said Friday he has several questions to ask members of the Percy family when they return from their trip to California, where they have been in seclusion since Sept. 22.

He disclosed authorities want to confer with Valerie's twin, Sharon, about a young man who talked with the sisters on an elevated train a few days before the slaying.

Percy announced he was remaining in the race against Sen. Paul Douglas, D-Ill., but did not set a date for resuming his campaign.

Sentenced Man Is Held After Arrest

The fate of an Illinois man being in Twin Falls City Jail was being speculated upon by local law enforcement officers late Saturday afternoon.

Donald Roy Salsbery, 24, Illinois, was arrested early Saturday morning after being involved in an argument in the Camera Center Hotel corridor. Twin Falls officers made the 12-30 a.m. arrest.

Salsbery was arrested only hours after appearing in the District Court for sentencing on a charge of second degree burglary. Officers said Judge Theron Ward sentenced the Illinois man to not more than five years of hard labor in the Idaho State Penitentiary, but suspended the sentence if Salsbery would leave Idaho on the next bus and never return.

Salsbery agreed to the sentence. The Illinois man had been arrested by City Police on Aug. 9 for taking a pair of boots from a car parked on a Twin Falls street late at night. He pleaded guilty to the crime after being bound over to 11th District Court, and a presentence investigation was ordered. His appearance in court Friday followed the investigation.

Officers said Saturday afternoon that Salsbery probably would be arraigned in Twin Falls Police Court Monday morning, but they did not know what action, if any, the higher court would take on the matter.

Probe Slated In Dispute With Airline

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson has averted for at least 60 days a strike by 12,000 members of the AFL-CIO Air Transport Workers Union against Pan American World Airways.

Johnson signed an executive order Friday creating a three-member board to investigate the dispute and report its findings within 30 days, but did not immediately name the members.

The union will be barred from striking for another 30-day period after Johnson receives the report while negotiators continue to seek a settlement.

The strike was threatened for 12:01 a.m. Sunday. A Pan Am official in New York said the dispute involved wages, premium pay and health and welfare benefits.

It was the third time this year Johnson has set up an emergency board to study airline problems.

The AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists rejected one board's recommendations and union members walked off their jobs on five major airlines in July. The strike lasted six weeks.

Johnson set up the next panel to investigate a contract dispute between American Airlines and the Transport Workers Union. Negotiations subsequently reached agreement on a new contract, which will be voted on by union members Monday.

George Ball Returns to Private Life

WASHINGTON (AP)—George W. Ball returned to private life today after half a decade as one of the most influential men in American foreign policy.

President John F. Kennedy named Ball undersecretary of state for political affairs in November, 1961, and President Johnson kept him on in the State Department's top job under Secretary Dean Rusk.

Only Sumner Welles, an undersecretary of state in the Franklin D. Roosevelt administration, served longer than Ball in the key post.

Ball, 56, resigned effective last midnight to return to his Washington law practice. Finances were one reason — his government pay was $30,000 a year — and he said he had not intended to stay on indefinitely in what he jokingly termed "the judge-factory" making foreign policy.

The Senate confirmed the nomination of Nicholas Katzenbach, 44, as Ball's successor Friday, with only Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., announcing dissent. Katzenbach has been attorney general.

I'm not very good at giving advice," Ball remarked as he briefed Katzenbach later in the undersecretary's spacious office overlooking the Lincoln Memorial and the Potomac River.

But two presidents have listened carefully to Ball's advice even though they didn't always follow it. He was so forceful in presenting arguments that the White House sometimes used him as "devil's advocate" to spell out contrary views during internal debates concerning administration policy.

A tall, white-haired 200-pounder, Ball possessed seemingly unshakable energy — which he found him working literally around the clock during some international crises.

He was the principal diplomatic action man for the U.S. government in such crises as the Cyprus flareup and the Congo rescue airlift.

He was a leading proponent of European unity and he pushed for a liberalized international trade.

McDonald Has 80-Yard Run to Spark 28-7 Win

MOSCOW, Idaho (AP) — An 80-yard touchdown-run by Ray McDonald in the second quarter spearheaded the Idaho Vandals to a 28-7 non-conference football victory over the University of the Pacific Tigers Saturday afternoon. The homecoming was Idaho's first after

FROM ALL ANGLES

BY LARRY HOVEY

With all the low scoring going on in the Cactus Pete's Invitational, one of the highest has to rank as the oddity of the meet. Bill Butterfield, Sun Valley, came up with a 40-yard dash in 5.7 seconds. Trying to cut a dogleg, Butterfield hit a tree and started bouncing. Butterfield, who had a 4.7-second dash in the 100-yard dash, field regriped his three wood. The fourth or fifth bounce was well high right down the pipe. Bill swung and hit the ball squarely on the face of the club.

The ideal ending would be that it wound up two feet short of going out of bounds.

Cactus Pete's tournament manager Paul Bull is unwilling to express himself yet on the new format he was persuaded into using this year. Therefore the tournament has been open to all professionals. Last year, after some of the tour boys carved up the top few prizes, Bull was persuaded into changing the format to a "club pro only" event.

After filling the 150 pro spots with some 150 over last year, the tournament this fall has drawn less than 100 club pros. "I haven't made any decision on the thing one way or the other," Bull says. "After this thing is all over, I'll get together with Dad Gourley (tournament sponsor) and we'll decide which way we want to go. Other than that I have nothing to say."

Still, you have to figure there's some disappointment. Bull was told by those arguing for the new format that at least 300 would be knocking down the many clubhouse doors and he could pick and choose the best players.

In the meantime, the amateurs around are doing more than their share of complaining, too. But what happens when someone tries to do something for you, though.

Idaho Coach Steve Muscarel won't have so many critical questions to answer at this week's Vandal Boosters meeting. But there aren't happy alumni everywhere.

The scene has shifted to Pocatello where the ISU Bengals had a game in their pocket and evidently wanted to win. The Bengals had a 20-0 lead at 13:00. Of course the pass was intercepted by Northern Arizona and run back into the end zone.

These descriptions of the situation note that McKillop had not been engaged to the ground by the time the Northern Arizona ball had reached paydirt.

If there's any consolation, the play wasn't seen in from the bench. It was merely a matter of extreme, if misplaced, confidence.

Friday night the Times-News received several reports on the Twin Falls-Nampa game. Take your pick. The Idaho Statesman reported Twin Falls held Nampa to minus-eight yards for the game. Twin Falls' sideline stunts, wedged in a pile-up and the Nampa report says the Bulldogs wound up with a plus 36.

Jerome set an all-time late record in its "home" game at Twin Falls a week ago. The game was $1,585 which compares with the "Tiger" game at Nampa. The Statesman says the game took about $2,000. But the average came down in a hurry Friday night. Mountain Home didn't bring a crowd and it appeared the attendance was under 1,000.

Rookies Pace Yankee Victory
CHICAGO (AP) — Run-scoring singles by rookies Bobby Murcer and Steve Wiltshire capped a three-run burst in the ninth inning, giving the New York Yankees a 5-1 victory over the Chicago White Sox Saturday.

UPSETS PENN STATE
WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP) — Army's surprising victory, football team won its third straight game in four plays to go ahead 7-3. Ray left alone Washington for 50 yards in the big drive. Dwight Lee smashed the final 10.

two losses, and UOP also is now 1-2. The 80-yard run was the longest by an Idaho player since George Wilson went 99 yards against Whitman in 1930. It helped All-American candidate McDonald to a rushing total of 176 yards. That boosted his season record to 432 yards in three games and 80 carries, a 5.4 average.

McDonald's college career record run was sandwiched by a pair of one-yard scoring plunges by the 345-pound fullback, all in the second period as Idaho took a 21-0 lead.

Pacific needed just four plays and Idaho's third score to get its one touchdown. Bob Egan passing 11 yards to Bob Riccio, Idaho closed the scoring with a 21-0 lead.

Neither team could mount an offense in the first quarter, a bad pitch from John Norrula to McDonald for a 27-yard loss blunting the only Idaho threat.

The Vandals were at the Pacific 18 when the pitch went awry and couldn't recover.

Idaho regained possession at the 18 after a short punt just before the quarter ended and scored in five plays. Forcia passed to Lavens for one first down and McDonald gained six in two carries before pass interference was ruled as Manny Murrell tried to catch a pass.

Idaho was given possession at the one-yard line and McDonald needed one play to get the first six points.

McDonald's second touchdown, the 80-yarder, might never have happened but for an obscure play. He seemed to have made a clean interception of a long Forcia pass, but injured his shoulder as he tried to bring the ball popping loose.

McDonald was the next thing that popped loose, taking a pincushion and sweeping left end. He then threw a short pass, armed a third man out of bounds, about the Idaho 40 and then got a route, clearing the way for McDonald to lead the Pacific 25 to complete the jump.

An intercepted pass, with Sholt going the honors at the 11, put Idaho back in scoring range moments later. McCollum went 10 yards and McDonald took the lead with a 21-0 lead.

Darrell Danielson added his third of four conversion kicks it was 21-0.

On Pacific's quick touchdown drive, Lee passed 22 yards to Allen McKillop and 30 yards to Riccio. A running play pained three yards before the touch-down. The drive covered 60 yards in a quick 12 plays.

Forcia mixed his plays to perfection for the game's first touchdown in the third quarter. The drive started on the Idaho 10 and needed 12 plays to cover 85 yards, one of them being an interception by Doug Cunningham. Forcia led a run before piling back on McCollum and the speedy wingback darted to the corner at the end zone for the touchdown.

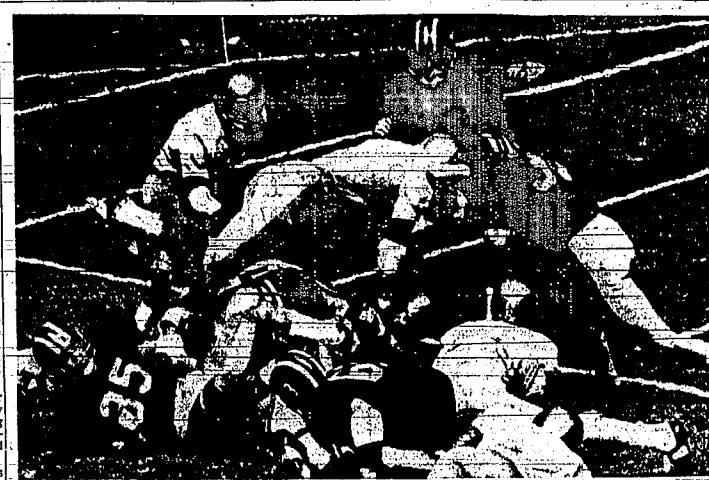

Spartans Roll To 26-10 Win Over Illinois
CHICAGO (AP) — Sophomore Al Brenner's 83-yard punt return for a touchdown—longest in Big Ten history—helped Michigan lead the recovery that sent tackle Pat Gallinagh lumbering 40 yards to score against top-ranked Michigan State in a 26-10 conference football victory over Illinois Saturday.

Brenner, from Niles, Mich., took Tom Smith's punt midway through the game just before halftime put MSU ahead 13-3. It came this way:

Rookie quarterback Doug Nason tried to pass. The ball was intercepted from him by Charles Chaffin. Phillip Hoag snatched it up in mid-air, then lateraled to 22-pound Gallinagh, who made his scoring run.

Earlier, Illinois had taken a 3-0 lead on Jim Stolt's 27-yard field goal. On the ensuing kickoff, the Spartans struck for 70 yards in four plays to go ahead 7-3. Ray left alone Washington for 50 yards in the big drive. Dwight Lee smashed the final 10.

Cardinals Trim Chicago by 4-3
ST. LOUIS (AP) — Orlando Cepeda drove in two runs, with the Cardinals' first homer and a single, helping St. Louis' Bob Gibson turn back the Chicago Cubs 4-3 Saturday for his 21st victory of the season.

LEAPING TOUCHDOWN ATTEMPT falls as halfback Mel Farr of UCLA is hit by Missouri linebacker John Douglas, right of Farr, causing him to fumble the ball which Missouri recovered a foot from the goal line. UCLA went on, however, to win 24-15 in an intersectional clash at Los Angeles Saturday. (AP wirephoto)

UCLA Survives Missouri Bid, Wins 24-15

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Quarterback Danny Kure-Zimmerman led UCLA and Missouri, July 22, 64, to a 24-15 victory in the intersectional clash at Los Angeles Saturday. Reserve quarterback Danny Kure-Zimmerman, who led the team with a 12-yard pass to Charley Weber, and regular quarterback Gary Kombrink, who passed to Earl Deany for the go when Mel Farr struck for 10 yards and a touchdown.

Soon afterward, Russ Washburn, UCLA's star quarterback, ran and passed the ball for two touchdowns and 16 yards. Kure-Zimmerman kicked a 25-yard field goal in the second quarter.

Beban finally got a drive of 56 yards going and in 16 plays, aided by a penalty, scored a touchdown. Steve Stanley rushed for the final two.

A six-yard run by Farr early in the fourth made it 17-0 and then the fireworks began.

Bama Begins Drive for Third National Title With 17-7 Win

JACKSON, Miss (AP) — Alabama unleashed its drive for a third straight national football title Saturday night by beating Mississippi 17-7 behind the passing of southpaw Kenny Stabler. Three pass interceptions by defensive halfback Dicky Thompson kept the third-ranked Crimson Tide out of trouble in Alabama's first Southeastern Conference game of the season. Stabler tossed a 28-yard touchdown pass in the third quarter to end the game.

Ray Parkins to give the Tide a 14-0 lead, and Steve Davis' 21-yard field goal with four minutes left clinched the triumph.

The field goal was set up by the third interception by Thompson.

Alabama's first touchdown, a plunge by halfback Les Kelley in the second quarter, was set up by a pass interference call against Mississippi's Tommy Longhorns to two touchdowns before suffering a knee injury in the first half.

Mississippi, which hasn't defeated Alabama since 1910, began a comeback in the last quarter when Doug Cunningham capped a 52-yard drive with a two-yard scoring leap.

The rally was snuffed, however, when Thompson intercepted Bruce Newell's pass and returned it to the Mississippi eight, providing the Alabama field goal.

Tracy Points Trojans Past Oakley 13-0
OAKLEY — Big Dana Tracy capped 52 yards on the third down to lead the Trojans to a 13-0 victory over the Oakley Vikings 13-0 in Magpie Valley Conference action.

Tracy smashed off tackle on the joint and Ray Jones plunged for the point after.

Minutes later Ray River crossed a 25-yard line and threw a 35-yard touchdown pass to Terry Hergen and directed Montana's Grizzles to a 10-0 football victory over Portland State Saturday.

Hill's long bomb to Berggren came early in the first quarter. An improved Grizzly defense held off Portland's passing quarterback.

Hill hit on four of 11 passes for 121 yards. Fullback Rod Lung led the Grizzly ground game with 92 yards on 21 carries, and halfback Don Molloy gained 70 of 20 carries.

Interception in Last 1:20 Beats Idaho State 14-13

POCATELLO (AP) — Northern Arizona University, scoring on a stunning 70-yard pass intercepting return near the end of a non-conference football game Saturday, defeated Idaho State University 14-13. Al Circostra, a defensive back for the Lumberjacks, picked off a pass from Bill Ingram of Idaho with a minute 20 seconds left in the game and dashed for the touchdown.

Idaho State scored first in the game when Ingram threw a five-yard touchdown pass to end Doug Rex early in the second period.

Northern Arizona scored minutes later when quarterback Carey Hubert threw a 29-yard pass to end Fritz Kruezer for a touchdown.

Fullback Dick Brown took a handoff and slanted off tackle, running 64 yards to the North Arizona 10-yard line. Then, sophomore fullback Greg Esplin—who replaced Brown—plunged into the end zone after a one-yard gain.

That score stood until the game was nearly over. Both teams traded punts through most of the second half also.

The Bengals had the ball on the Lumberjack 44-yard line. Ingram faked back deep but couldn't spot an open receiver. But he passed anyway, and Circostra picked it off on his own 30-yard line and ran untouched 70 yards down the sideline.

The Bengals came back in desperation as the game neared an end.

They reached their own 35-yard line after the Lumberjack kick-off, but were pushed back to the 35 as the game ended.

It was Northern Arizona's first victory after two defeats this season. Idaho State has a record of one win and two losses through most of the second half also.

WARDLOW HOLDS LEAD IN CACTUS PETE'S

Sparks Fires 60, Whittle Hits 64 to Draw Within Contention for Last Day

Willis Wardlow, Marysville, Calif., "faltering" to an even par 68 Saturday, will carry a two-stroke lead into the final round of the $14,000 Cactus Pete's Invitational Sunday afternoon. Wardlow, who ran into a string of three straight bogies midway through the second nine Saturday, watched an eight-stroke lead melt to two as Cliff Whittle, Scottsdale, Ariz., and torrid Ken Sparks, Nampa, posted a challenging position.

Baylor Stops WSU Rally to Win 20-14

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—Baylor, holding up well under a second half Washington State drive, defeated the Cougars 20-14 in an intersectional football game here Saturday. The Bears from Waco, Tex., moved to a comfortable 14-0 lead at the half, then saw the Cou-

Bees Shock Minico With 33-2 Setback

IDAHO FALLS (AP)—The Bonneville Bees completely dominated play here Friday night in defeating Minico's Spartans 33-2 who came into the game leading the BIC with a 2-0 record.

Minico's only score came on a safety in the second quarter when they caught Bonneville in the end zone.

Minico's offense could not get warmed up on the chilly evening as the defense pegged them in the second quarter when halfback Larry Jorinick scored 20 yards to the Bees' 38. The Bees defense "reeling" any further penetration by Minico.

Bonneville's defense unit completely harassed—the Minico offense in the second half as they managed to gain only 28 yards. Overall Minico gained 165 and Bonneville picked up 353.

Bonneville collected two touchdowns in the first quarter, one in the second and two in the third.

Defense Aids Cal to Dump Pitt 30-15

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—The University of California's defensive brilliance over-matched the passing arm of Pittsburgh's Ed James, one of the East's best, and carried the Bears to a 30-15 win over the Panthers in an intersectional football game Saturday.

California forged three touchdowns out of an intercepted pass, a fumble on fourth down and one at midfield, and a 75-yard punt return.

Then the Bears switched to offense behind the great passing of sophomore quarterback Barry Brook and counted four touchdowns that put the game beyond the Panthers' reach.

It was anybody's game through the third quarter. After California had made it 16-7 at the half, James completed six straight passes in a swift six-yard scoring thrust. He culminated the third-quarter drive with a 20-yard strike to Bob Longo, standing all alone in a corner of the end zone.

Adams Points Trojans Past T.F. Juniors

WENDELL—Ron Adams passed for a touchdown and ran together on an intercepted pass the first quarter Friday night in point Wendell Trojans to a 16-6 victory over the Twin Falls Juniors.

Adams put Wendell on the scoreboard first when he hit Donny Jacobson on a 25-yard pass. Shortly after the kickoff Adams intercepted a Twin Falls pass and went 44 yards to score.

Twin Falls scored in the second half when a defensive player picked up a Wendell fumble and went 41 yards to score. The halftime score stood 12-0.

Twin Falls put together two drives in the second half, making it to the Wendell 11 and three before being stopped. Wendell couldn't put a scoring drive together.

Atlanta Downs Cincinnati 6-3

CINCINNATI (AP)—Mack Jones' runner triggered a three-run rally in the 11th inning that gave Atlanta a 6-3 victory over Cincinnati and a split of their doubleheader Saturday.

The Reds won the opener 12-4 on a home run by Hank Aaron, while the Braves won the second, including a three-run homer.

gurs pick up a pair of touchdowns, one a 65-yard run by Ammon McWashington and one in the final period.

Baylor gained an insurance TD in the last quarter when sharp Terry Southall threw to John Westbrook on a play that went for 25 yards.

Southall was counted for the other touchdown pass for Baylor when he threw to George Chesire on a five-yard pass for a second quarter score.

Halbick Dick Defer proved to be the Baylor workhorse, carrying repeatedly for good gains and scoring the first Baylor touchdown from five yards out.

Bob Purvis kicked a pair of points after touchdown.

Ed Gerals—the Washington State field goal specialist—was the overland spark plug for the Cougars scoring the first WSU touchdown—a nine-yard run in the second quarter.

The extra point, then added the initial PAT after McWashington's field-long jump in the final period.

The expected passing duel between Southall and Jerry Henderson was not as intense as expected. The Bears' defense found the key to Cougars' offensive—stunned through repeatedly to cut down Henderson. In spite of the pressure put on the Cougar quarterback, Henderson was accurate.

Defence proved as effective as Southall was expected to be by keeping the one-on-one matchups and through the line. He was the hardest man to stop on a turf made slippery at times by a continual light drizzle.

The Bears worked well on the ground getting more than 200 yards to just under 120 for Washington State.

Wyoming Muscles Past Arizona 36-6

LARAMIE, Wyo. (AP)—The Wyoming Cowboys combined the field generalship of quarterback Rick Egloff, the explosive running of all-conference tailback Jim Kikic, and a hard-nosed defense to dump the Arizona Wildcats 36-6 in a Western Athletic Conference football game Saturday.

The only thing going for Arizona was the weather; the temperature hovered near 70 degrees under cloudless skies.

The Cowboys kept Arizona off balance the entire game, with Kikic, who had an eagle on the inside of the cup and worked out a lot better.

Whittle, who holds the course record of 58, hit a key 35-yard pass to Kikic, who scored on a 10th hole.

With everyone showing the ability to have a big run on the short municipal course, no one was predicting the outcome of Sunday's finals. Warren M. Carley, Coluso, Calif., was still considered in contention at 198 as was Jim Russell, Walla Walla, Wash., at 189.

Purdue uncovered two passing touchdowns to take the pressure off quarterback Bob Griese as the Hoosiers rolled over previously unbeaten Southern Methodist 35-21 Saturday.

Leroy Keyes passed to Jim Helme to set up a second quarter score for the Hoosiers. Helme's 13-yard hit helped for a 21-yard touchdown in the third.

Sophomore Purdue fullback Larry Carlson scored for the Hoosiers in an inter-sectional football game Saturday.

Rodriguez Takes Over Tourney Lead

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP)—Colorful Cliff Rodriguez, the pint-sized Puerto Rican, blazed around the 6,000-yard Shaughnessy Golf and Country Club course with a four-under-par 66 Saturday to take a one-stroke lead in the $100,000 Canadian Open Golf Tournament.

Rodriguez, who had an eagle on the par four seventh with a 64-foot wedge shot and three birdies ended with a three-day total of 208, a stroke ahead of course with a four-under-par 67 Saturday.

Randy Glover of Florence, S.C., Glover and Don Massengale of Jacksonville, Tex., had gone 17-6 Saturday—the Indiana two-back-Tim Van Gelder—on the final period.

Both teams had trouble moving in the third period, but Jerry DePoyster booted a 29-yard field goal for the Pokes.

Arizona's offense again ground out a halt after a 37-yard drive by Brad Hubbard.

Kick and Egloff spearheaded the first score, with Kikic taking a handoff, then passing to Wingback Bob Grant on a touchdown play that covered 44 yards.

The Pokes continued their drive in the second period, taking the ball on their own 24 and scoring 11 plays, with Mike Davenport carrying in from the line.

Buckpasser Clinches Horse of Year Title

NEW YORK (AP)—Buckpasser, saving ground every step of the muddy way, wrapped up the Horse of the Year honors Saturday as he won the $112,600 Woodward at Aqueduct for his 10th straight victory. After tralling in the early part of the 1 1/4 mile race, the big Ogden Phillips 3-year-old swung to the rail on the home stretch and under Braillo Baeza's hard ride, finished three-quarters of a length in front of Mike Ford's surprising Royal Gunner.

BYU Outlasts Colorado State 27-24

PROVO, Utah (AP)—Brigham University held off a desperate and almost successful last minute Colorado State University rally to win a non-conference football game 27-24 on the passing of Virgil Carter and running of Perry Rodrigue Friday night.

The Cougars opened the game strong with two quick touchdowns the first on a 21-yard pass to Rodrigue from Carter. The last and winning touchdown came on a pass from Carter to Rodrigue that covered 76 yards. Rodrigue caught the ball on the Ram 45 yard line. Colorado threatened to tie the game when Perry Rodrigue, second left barely missed a low pass in the end zone that would have meant victory. A field goal attempt on the last play by Al Lavan, which would have tied the game, was short.

Cornhuskers Hit Late for 12-6 Victory

AMES, Iowa (AP)—Fullback Harry Wilson burst loose for a 55-yard touchdown run in the last quarter Saturday to give Nebraska a squeaky 12-6 victory over underdog Iowa State to open defense of the Cornhuskers' Big Eight Conference football title.

Nebraska, rated sixth-best team in the nation, had a real battle on its hands to down a stubborn Cyclone team which held a 6-6 tie until less than four minutes remained in the game.

The Huskers scored twice in the second quarter on 38- and 31-yard field goals by Larry Wacholtz.

But Iowa State came back in the same quarter with a 20-yard scoring run by defensive end Don Graves after he intercepted a screen pass.

Wilson's game-winning touchdown dash was set up by Husker Rick Coleman's interception of a pass from Cyclone quarterback Tim Van Gelder on the 15U 47.

Is there a gap in your company's health-care protection?

When your company's prepayment health-care coverage was initiated, the facts probably indicated your benefits covered existing hospital costs at that time. These costs are constantly rising. More involved procedures, more sophisticated equipment, demand more highly skilled hospital staff—these are but a few of the many factors which affect health-care costs. Does your coverage keep pace, or is it anchored to yesterday's economy? (Even a few months can bring a change.) As the costs rise and benefits remain fixed, the coverage gap increases. Who fills the gap? The patient, unless you have Blue Cross of Idaho.

Only Blue Cross . . . pays benefits in the form of necessary in-hospital service, not a pre-fixed sum of money; will meet its commitment to furnish the service, regardless of cost changes.

Consider these factors when you view your company's health-care coverage. Then talk to a specialist from Blue Cross of Idaho. You will then realize why Blue Cross does not permit a "coverage gap" and, dollar-for-dollar, is the best buy for your health-care budget.

Only Shaving Mugs, Old Style Razors Missing as Barbershop Voices Ring

By O. A. (Gus) KELKER
Times-News Feature Editor

Everything else — all the necessary ingredients of success — were there, with the possible exception of a shaving mug with someone's name on it and a straight edge razor being moved slowly up and down a choice piece of leather in a sharpening process.

The everything else included more open mouths than you could shake a stick at, and there was a sound being emitted from each of them.

When it reached a central point and blended it was recognized as old time barbershop singing and harmony of the best sort.

It all took place Saturday night down at the Twin Falls High School gymnasium when the SPEBSQSA — that's short for Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America — moved into Magic Valley in grand style.

The occasion was the presentation of the official charter to the Magic Valley Chapter of the organization.

Among units which lived up to the evening of song was a quartet from Salt Lake City called "The Salt Flats" and a women's quartet from Bountiful, Utah known as the "Sweet Adelines." Then, too, there were two local quartets, a couple from Idaho Falls and a 45-voice group from Idaho Falls known as the "Fallsmen," plus 43 voices from Magic Valley called the "Magichords."

All in all it was quite an evening, and it started back early — this year when Burt Hulsh, a newcomer to the city, decided something ought to be done to preserve this type singing in the area.

He was instrumental in arranging for a barbershop concert in Twin Falls last March 28. From then on the idea gained momentum and from the original audience there were 29 men who wanted to get going. The following April they got together and applied for a license to operate a chapter here. On May 12 the approval was granted and 28 members were listed.

From then on the men met every Thursday evening at the music room in the O'Leary Junior High School and it was not long before there were 35 attending regularly. During early September Stan Owens, music director for the school system, joined up and took over the post as chorus director.

The name "Magichords" was dreamed up and adopted. So far two quartets have emerged from chorus members. One is called the "Tater-Tones," while the second is, as yet, unnamed.

Then officers were elected. Hulsh was selected as president and Eugene Sturgis, a membership vice-president. Fred Burkhalter is program vice president, Don Parker is secretary, Stan Owens is treasurer, and Dick Lee and B. W. Chapman are board members.

Right now the chorus is pointing toward next fall when they will enter district competition against other choruses from Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana and two Canadian provinces.

Filer Youth Serves in Peace Corps

FILER — James Fields, who my life, I was there in Hawaii, has been in active work with the Peace Corps since Jan. 17, 1966. Is having an interesting time of it in the Philippines, according to a letter which was received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Price-Holloway. Young Fields, according to his mother, was graduated from the Filer High School in 1961 and from the University of Idaho in 1965. He started Peace Corps training in October, 1965, at Hilo, Hawaii, and was sent to Camarines Norte in the Philippines at the completion of study.

Excerpts from his letter home follow:

"In November, 1964, I applied to work in the Peace Corps. Well, in June of 1965, I received an invitation from them, and by October, I was heading for the wall to train with a group of 85, whose ultimate goal was community development work in the Philippines.

"For 13 of the best weeks in

In the nation's capital, Manila. My assignment is in Camarines Norte, a province in southern Luzon Island. The four of us PCVs assigned here, work with the Philippine government's community development agency, TACD, and we are based out of the provincial capital of Daet. We are supposed to act as advisors and idea people, to strengthen existing development programs, and to suggest and help implement new development methods and programs.

"The provincial of Camarines Norte is quite small, being about 700 square miles, or less than Twin Falls County. It is mostly mountains, with a relatively small valley area surrounding Daet and following the coast. C.N. is comprised of 10 municipalities and maybe 300 barrios (like a small village) with a population of about 200,000. The largest municipality, Daet, is also the provincial capital, and has a population of roughly 30,000.

"I am in the typhoon belt of the Philippines. Even as I am writing this, the effects of a distant typhoon are visible here in the form of heavy rain, which has been prevalent for more than a week now. Although this rain-becomes-a-misfortune, it is more of a blessing for me, since it lowers the temperature of the air several degrees from the high 80's to the more comfortable 70's.

"Supposedly, we have two seasons in the Philippines, wet and dry. However, in this province, there are no pronounced seasons, with some rain the year round, and heaviest in November and December.

"Economically, Camarines is agricultural. It is a large supplier of copra (dried coconut meat, used for oils and soap) with some rice, pineapples, fishing, lumbering and mining. In fact, the largest producing from mine in the Philippines is a more 20 miles to the northwest.

REACHING SALMON are three youths from Switzerland, Richard Buechi, front, Bruno Egloff, center, and Werner Mueller. The trio left Calgary, Canada, July 31, to ride to El Paso, Tex. The journey is part of a trip around the world which the three expect will take three years in all to complete. (Times-News)

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

Three young men from Switzerland rode into SALMON recently and spent the night on a trip they said will take them around the world. Richard Buechi, 25; Werner Mueller, 21, and Bruno Egloff, 24, showed their horses and spent a night at the fairgrounds before heading out Idaho Highway 2, Mottler and Egloff left Switzerland March 15, 1965, and after traveling through Germany and Denmark flew to Montreal and went by train to Calgary where they joined Buechi.

They worked a half year or more in Calgary, purchasing horses and getting enough money to continue their trip. They left Calgary July 31 and reached Salmon Sept. 16, then went through Rexburg and on into Wyoming.

Their horsemanship phase of the trip will end at El Paso, Tex. From there they will travel by whatever other means they can afford through Mexico, Central and South America. Then it will be by boat to Australia and sometime in the summer of 1969 they hope to be home.

After reaching Salmon the visitors had these comments to make:

Riding horseback is the only way to see the country. The mountains in Switzerland are bigger and not so bare. Their experience with horses in being picked up along the way. People are more friendly in the U.S. it shows right after the border.

Buechi, the linguist of the group, began teaching himself Spanish from a book when they entered this country, getting ready for Mexico and South America. He studies two hours each morning while riding horseback.

The party is following the rivers and streams across the country, avoiding the major highways. They came through North Idaho, into Montana via Lolo pass and back into Idaho over Lost Trail Pass.

"They've been traveling 20 to 25 miles a day. We don't want to get caught in the mountains by snow," Buechi said.

None of the three is married; their parents live in Switzerland. No one is born in Switzerland, they speak English here but revert to their native German when "things get exciting" as they have to express themselves.

The trip on horseback so far has been costing about $1.50 a day for each. When their money runs out they stop and get a job. Their biggest problem has been with the horses. Once the animals get away and had to be chased down a railroad track. At Sandpoint they had to trade off the horse used to pack their supplies.

At Salmon they had to retrace the four horses before going on next morning.

When they came over Lost Trail Pass it was raining and snowing but they "just kept going."

When most people hear the expression "teacher-pupil relationship" they think of the traditional one written about in current publications, but in DECJO an outstanding example of what such a relationship should be is found in Don Musser, tenth grade teacher there.

Myerson Watchers Will See More of 1945 Miss America

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The good news for Myerson watchers is that they'll be seeing and hearing more of the long-stemmed beauty. Myerson, Miss America of 1945, was television commentator between scenes at the Miss America pageant in Atlantic City last month, her third consecutive year in that role.

Then she replaced Dorothy Kirby as cohost of "Candid Camera." Kirby, having rejoined the returning Garry Moore. The next night she started her ninth year as a panelist on "I've Got a Secret."

She has also begun five-minute radio broadcasts five days a week on "The Art of Gossiping," recurring unusual gifts by the famous.

"Everybody wants me," the 17-year television veteran says happily.

Polished and smiling, a candlelight-and-wine type comely from any camera angle, she seems almost taller than her 5 feet 10. Her dimensions — 38-28-35 — are the same as when she was Miss America. At 140 she is five pounds heavier. She has hazel eyes and a dozen or so strands of gray in lush, dark-brown hair.

Bess said she and her husband, attorney Arnold Grant, had just spent part of their holiday visiting Santa Barbara, Calif., where she is director of the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions.

Miss Myerson has been serious-minded about her Miss America prestige.

Peace Corps Worker From Filer Tells Impressions of Philippines Assignment

"Language! This is one of my most frustrating problems. Here in C.N. we have two of the 87 different Philippine dialects. Yet knowing one is not an absolute necessity. Why? It's because of the use of English here.

"English is used as the medium of classroom instruction from grade three on, thus nearly everyone with elementary schooling can speak English. All government correspondence is done in English. Yet in the barrios, where many people have not gone to school, the dialect is a necessity.

"Thus on the local radio station, one can hear a mixture of English, Tagalog (the official language of the Philippines) and Ricol (the other dialect in this province). But I am learning, though I am very slow. My teachers at the present are five other countries."

As the U.S. mission's protocol assistant she helps plan United Nations receptions. She works for a hospital that serves disturbed adolescents.

She doesn't tell her age, but news files make it 42. She left her last job from the fact she had just been graduated from Hunter College with the degree Miss America.

Bess was born in New York where she received her B.A. in music from Hunter, studying to be a classical pianist, flutist and conductor. A photographer for whom she modeled clothes entered her name in the Miss New York City contest.

She won that — the first beautiful competition of her life — and then the Miss America title. While in New York she continued music study at Columbia and Juilliard. She gave a piano recital at Carnegie Hall with the New York Philharmonic and for a while led an all-girl orchestra but gave up music when television beckoned.

By her late first husband she has a daughter, Barbara, now 18, a Bryn Mawr student.

"You suddenly realize that fame equals responsibility and an audience — and what do you do with it? It became meaningless to say hello to women's clubs. I began speaking on things I believed strongly about."

She makes speeches for the Peace Corps for young people, Children, the National Conference of Christians and Jews and the Anti-Defamation League. She appears before student bodies and parent-teacher groups.

She is also involved in New York City with "administrative things like the mayor's luncheon for visiting presidents of the United States."

"My present food is, of course, different from that in Idaho, with rice being the staple. However, since both Mr. and Mrs. Abano come from well-to-do families, the food we eat is of the best quality and variety. We have a lot of fresh fish, pork and beef, usually two dishes of vegetables, fresh fruit and many native delicacies for our noon and evening meals. Breakfast is still being an eye instead of the vegetables, and also small rolls and coffee (of course, there is always lots of boiled rice).

"For a special meal or when we have guests, there will be 10 (and up) viand dishes. Following the influence of the Spaniards in this country, they also have three or four light snacks during the day. The food is very good and I have started to put on a little weight."

"Before and during Peace Corps training, I was constantly hearing warnings about eating strange foods and the possibility of contracting tropical ailments. So far, with the exceptions being a couple mild diarrhea cases and a slight rash, I have enjoyed very good health. Burley — most common ailments here in Camarin, Norte are the common cold and similar respiratory disorders."

"Although this letter is very sketchy, I have tried to give you a bit of information about where I have been since I left Idaho."

Chamber at Shoshone to Back Project

SHOSHONE — Members of Shoshone Chamber of Commerce will support the Gooding Chamber in trying to secure State Park Department control of the Niagara Springs recreation area, officers announced Friday after their bi-monthly meeting.

John George and Francis Berge were appointed to attend a meeting with the Jerome group and other interested organizations to further discuss the matter.

The proposed improvement of roads to Magic Dam was discussed. A letter was read from Rep. George Hansen offering what support he could give.

Boyd Rasmussen, Bureau of Land Management Director in Washington, D.C., wrote that the BLM will not be able to assist with the Magic road project because the roads are under jurisdictions of counties.

Camas County Commissioners were reported they will attend a meeting to further discuss the road situation. A meeting for this purpose will be held after their bi-monthly meeting.

North Side Communities was announced for 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the Mountain View Lodge, Shoshone.

Cecil Cope reported 20 persons took the Grassman of the Year tour and that the Blincoe farm took first place. He said the group spent four hours at the Blincoe farms.

Or Builey chamber officers no later than 7 p.m. Oct. 10 and register the vehicle so arrangements can be made for spacing.

The caravan will leave Builey about 2:30 p.m. and will be joined by a delegation from Twin Falls at the intersection of Highway 93 near Jerome and the two groups will join Jerome for their celebration and dedication at 4 p.m.

INTENSIVE PHEASANT MANAGEMENT is possible because the hen season length can be held in check. In years when surplus is available in the field, the hen portion of the season will be increased. The reverse will be true in poor production years. The 1966 crop of pheasants is only average and the outlook in the hen season is in doubt. It always will be good business to keep the sex ratio weighted heavily toward the hens. (Idaho Fish and Game photo)

High Mortality Losses Normal for Pheasant Flocks Throughout Idaho

By JIM HUMBERT
Idaho Fish-Game Department
BOISE—Pheasant hunters in Idaho are getting used to the idea that they can have more shooting and more "wild chicken" for the table by bagging a few hens during the legal hen hunting portion of the season, while always being on the lookout for the big roosters.

This phase of the conservation story has been told often enough for the hunters to know that something like 80 to 90 percent of all pheasants, hens as well as cocks, never reach the ripe old age of one year. Large pheasant mortality losses are throughout the year are normal.

In other words, as the turnover rate in pheasants, as with all upland game birds is rapid. The average life span of ringnecks in the field is less than 12 months, even in areas where no hunting is allowed. A few pheasants do live to be four or five years old.

Both hen and cock pheasants are short-lived birds, beset by many natural enemies and by human limitations. These forces are at work constantly, cutting down the number of birds in the field. But pheasant is a lousy species, capable of sustaining high losses while still producing enough young birds to keep the population thriving. Every summer pheasants raise a crop of young birds.

Winter mortality is one of the many ways nature culls out the weaklings in a pheasant flock to keep it healthy, thrifty and vigorous. When hunters take some of the surplus off the top in the fall of the year, fewer birds must die later from other causes to keep numbers in balance with food and cover available.

Since the season length for including one hen a day in the bag limit is shorter than usual, a look at the pheasant hunter's limit and the number of pheasants already were being bagged at rates of 50 to 75 percent of the normal rooster population, depending on hunting pressure and area. Their turn and hide rather than hold on and flush rather than forego make them harder to get as the season wears on. Increased bag limits and season length gives only a little more crack harvest. Too long seasons strain landholder-sportsman relations.

The quick way to harvest more ringneck pheasants is to have limited hen hunting. This can be done because of the striking difference in appearance between the sexes in this game bird species. As now is the case with all other game birds in the state, keeping the breeding sex ratio weighted in favor of hens gives the best opportunity for taking advantage of favorable nesting conditions and providing the largest possible crop of young pheasants in any year.

Careful studies have been made each year since the pheasant became a legal target in Idaho. Total harvest figures on hens and cocks during the six seasons of limited hen hunting are a matter of record. They are based on the annual statewide questionnaire sent to a representative number of Idaho license holders. Cross checks on the accuracy of hunters' reports come from cock and hen kills have been made by means of season-long check stations. The results show that the cock-to-hen ratio has been reported on the annual questionnaire are quite accurate.

The cock harvest has remained very stable at a figure close to a half-million birds per year, while 530,000 were reported taken by hunters in the past six years. A breakdown of the figures by year for hens shows 25,100 (rounded to the nearest 100) for 1959; 35,600 for 1960; 50,300 for 1961; 111,900 for 1962; 153,500 for 1963; and 139,500 for 1964. Continuing checks on the status of Idaho's hen pheasant population through hunter questionnaires reports; winter sex ratio counts and breeding season censuses show that we are approaching the upper limit at which hens can be harvested without lowering breeding potential for the following spring.

The gradual increase in hen kill each year in conformity with regulation liberalization gives confidence to the contention that proper hen harvest can be obtained. Of the hunters who reported killing hens, about one-third of them bagged just one in a season. Over half took only two hens, and no more than 10 percent took more than five.

The pheasant hunter's removal from the full population of hens rose from two per cent of the first year to about 12 per cent last year. If this level of legal harvest was the only removal from the full population, we could well afford to continue with hen harvest at the present rate. However, in addition to the legal removal, there is considerable illegal kill and crippling loss which sends the estimated hunting season kill of hens close to the 30-per-cent mark. In the case of cock pheasants, hunters have been taking a part of the excess. Prior to the first limited hen hunting in 1960, surplus hens were taken entirely by natural mortality and illegal hunter kill. Gradually the hen hunting regulations were liberalized. By 1963 the entire range of the state was open to limited hen hunting for all but the early part of the season. Variable pheasant seasons ran from 23 days to 45 days, depending on the area.

This year Idaho's limited hen shooting season lengths are similar to 1963. Compared with last year, the hen season in eastern Idaho (including the Salmon region) has been reduced from three weeks to just seven days; a reduction of two-thirds.

In the south-central area, the hen shooting season has been cut back from 42 days last year to 21 days this season, a reduction of one-half. In southwestern Idaho, the hen shooting period is 28 days, a reduction of one-third.

In northern Idaho where production of pheasants is limited, the reduction is from 35 days to 28 days this year. With more intensive management of pheasants possible by use of limited hen hunting, and with the constant improvement of techniques for following the status of pheasants, Bureau concludes that the hen pheasant regulation must continue to be a flexible one. In years when population data indicates a high hen surplus available in the field, it can be expected that the hen portion of the season will be increased. The reverse will be true in poor production years. The time now is three. It will always be good business to keep our breeding season sex ratio heavily weighted toward hens. This can be done and will allow a considerable gain in hunter recreation through limited hen hunting.

TO CHARGE FEE
LONDON (AP)—British doctors under the national health scheme were authorized today to charge a fee when prescribing birth control pills for social rather than medical reasons.

SAIGON (AP)—South Vietnamese (AP)—Salmon's sprawling port is no longer the bottleneck that caused long delays in shipping military cargoes into Vietnam. Military port officials point to increased war tonnage moving through the port with unloading facilities and conditions improving month by month. Commercial cargo unloadings are another matter. Some port officials say commercial conditions are improved; others shake their heads and tell of lack of supervision, coordination and equipment.

The U.S. 1st Logistical Command reports that 811,413 tons of military supplies and equipment were unloaded here from March 1 through Aug. 31. The peak for the six months was July with 152,139 tons. Military tonnage unloaded at the other main ports—Cam Ranh Bay and the lighterage at Qui Nhon—totaled 883,325 by the same date. The U.S. 1st Logistical Command reports that 542,987 tons with July also its peak month. "Things are getting better right along," says a spokesman for the command. "The days of the long waiting for an unloading berth are over. We all have heard of ships with military cargo sitting out in the South China Sea waiting to unload. Nowadays the ships come in, unload their cargoes in about three days instead of eight, then move along so another vessel can use the berth. The time now is three. It will always be good business to keep our breeding season sex ratio heavily weighted toward hens. This can be done and will allow a considerable gain in hunter recreation through limited hen hunting.

Teachers at Murtaugh Are Honored

MURTAUGH—The PTA teachers' reception and first meeting of the school year was held Tuesday night at the high school. Jill Allred, Terry Quessett and Cathy Quessett, high school cheerleaders, conducted the flag ceremony. Earl Wright Jr. gave the invocation.

Mrs. Kent Davis, president, told about the PTA sponsoring landscaping which was being done around the new gymnasium. A baked goods and candy sale was held after the reception to help defray costs of the landscaping.

Mrs. Leo Stanger, room mother representative, introduced the new room mothers.

Mrs. H. DeLoe Peterson, third vice president, introduced Mrs. Melvin Tilley as the new magazine chairman.

Mrs. Clarence Egbert introduced the teachers and presented each with a gift. Teachers are Mrs. Florin Hulse, first grade; Mrs. Gertrude Brown, second; Mrs. Carl Shearer, third; Mrs. O. E. Wright, fourth; Mrs. Lois Belliston, fifth; Mrs. Louise Latimer, sixth; Mrs. Harold Savage, seventh, and LaVere Bennett, eighth.

High school teachers are Mrs. Pied DeLoe Peterson, Mrs. Ted Vance, DeVon Andersen, Marvin Baker, Percy Christensen, David Jensen, and Mrs. Louise Peterson. Mrs. Page is the only teacher new to the school system this year.

Flora Hulse, superintendent, named the teachers who are assisting at the elementary school this year. They are Mrs. Rodney Bates and Marilyn Gledhill.

Mrs. Robert C. Peterson, program chairman, presented Kenneth Wright who played his guitar and sang several numbers. Refreshments were served by first and second grade room mothers.

Following the discussion, it was voted to change the regular PTA meeting date back to the fourth Monday of each month.

6 Members Initiated by Elks Lodge

Officers of Twin Falls Elks Lodge No. 1181, led by Exalted Ruler H. E. O'Connell, initiated six new members Thursday morning. They are Sherman E. Day, John A. Doerr, William E. Hone, Charles R. Porter, Richard R. Reed and Arthur R. Reinstein.

An address of welcome, stressing the meaning of the word, brotherhood, was given by the new members by Past Exalted Ruler Henry L. Wells, who presented them with their Elks lapel pins.

William Vickers and Grant W. Gillette were installed as chaplain and inner guard by Past Exalted Ruler John E. Leinen. Leinen was assisted by Past Exalted Ruler Dornier W. Bettsch, A. W. (Bill) Madland and H. C. (Chick) Hovey.

William Vickers and Grant W. Gillette had been appointed to these offices this week by Cheney. A buffet was served after the meeting with Robert Mingo, Al Mingo and Ray Delaski in charge.

N.Y. port consultant who came to Vietnam at the behest of President Johnson, finds commercial shipping at Saigon has great room for improvement.

"Salmon is no longer the hub of all U.S. logistical operations," a spokesman says. "Other ports have taken off the pressure here. Also, added storage facilities here have made the unloading of military cargoes easier and quicker."

He says all the ports received about 1.4 million tons of military cargo in 1965, compared to about 3 million tons for the first eight months of this year.

Natalie Arcmona of Brooklyn, N.Y., says she is the only woman in the U.S. military.

BRIDGE BY JACOBY

ALWAYS EASY TO BID BADLY. Some bridge players pride themselves on the soundness of their opening bids. We have no quarrel with this policy as long as they don't feel, once they've opened the bidding, that they must play the hand. East and West have marked 800 points on their side of the ledger. Little did expect South to open with a 1-2. The defense was not brilliant but it was adequate. West opened the king of hearts. East started an echo with his seven of spades. Then he gave East a heart ruff. East returned a spade for West to ruff. Then West led ace and a small club. East was in with the king and led another spade. West ruffed. That was all for the defense but they had plucked the queen clean. South was down to his five good trumps and could not lose any more.
