BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Dangerous Hurricane Inez, not showing her age and as unpredictable as ever, swung northward Saturday, posing a threat to the Texas coast. Although the giant, 15-day-old storm that has left 150 dead was 310 miles southeast of Brownsville at 7 p.m. CST, her winds kicked up swells five to eight feet above normal on Mustang and Padre islands. The hurricane was expected to veer even more to the northwest, from its formerly westward course, during the night. Its speed was to hold at about 10 miles an hour.

The center of the storm should move inland Sunday, a little north of Tampico, Mexico. If the change in course does not occur, the Weather Bureau said, Brownsville is at the southern tip of Texas and both islands are thin sandspits stretching hundreds of miles up the coast about 10 miles offshore.

The Weather Bureau issued a hurricane watch for the Texas coast and warned citizens to evacuate beaches and other low areas.

The Navy ordered that 103 aircraft stationed at Corpus Christi, Kingsville and Beville be flown to inland bases. Tides were two feet above normal at Freeport, far up the coast south of Houston.

The hurricane—swelling Mexico's Yucatan Peninsula on Thursday and Friday—destroyed 15 boats and collapsing 100 homes in the port of Progreso. Most of the destroyed homes were fishing boats.

In Merida, Mexico, the sun came out Saturday, although several streets of the city of 175,000 were flooded and utilities disrupted.

Inez was moving at about 12 miles an hour with winds near the center of 135 m.p.h.—a major hurricane.

Gales—winds of only slightly less than hurricane force of 75 m.p.h.—extended 200 miles from Inez' center.

LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Officials at the federal penitentiary here know Inez is coming, but they decided to make things cozy for him. They knocked out a wall between two cells.

Surveyor 1 Sends Signals From Moon

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The revived Surveyor 1 space probe continued sending signals from the moon Saturday, and jet propulsion laboratory scientists said they may try and turn on its camera this weekend.

The spacecraft, which settled down gently on the lunar surface June 8 and sent 11,000 pictures to Earth, resumed sending weak signals Friday.

Since then it has radiated information about temperature and voltages in its electronics systems, but its signals were weaker Saturday.

A spokesman for the laboratory, which controls the craft through ground stations, said Surveyor 1's batteries apparently are draining fast, but its solar panels, which convert sunlight into electricity.

Communications by radio Friday night almost to the point of ceasing the sun but this drained the batteries. If the craft is able to store up enough power from the sun, the said, it may be asked to send pictures.

Idaho Political Writers 'Guess' on Outcome of Nov. 8 General Election

By EARLE L. JESTER
BOISE (AP) — About the only thing Idaho's political writers agree on is that they're going to have a hard time predicting the outcome of the Nov. 8 general election.

Writers in every section of the state, contacted in a poll by The Associated Press, said they would not make a bet on the outcome of the election.

One writer said he thinks as many as 60 per cent of the voters will not make up their minds how they will vote.

But a composite of their predictions is that if the election were held today the winners of the top races would be the conservative incumbents, and Democrat Cecil D. Andrus for governor.

The sales tax would be approved by a slim margin, and the Republican would control both branches of the legislature.

Most writers took part in the guessing game. Five of them called Andrus to win, and the sixth named Andrus.

High School Athletes Vie With Food As Attractions in Hot Lunch Program

By CATHERINE TATE
The girls at Twin Falls High School like boys and they like food, and they especially like food when it's served by boys. Both these issues are catered to—although not necessarily in that order, according to Mrs. Bertha Glick, school lunch supervisor—by the use of high school athletes and other male volunteers in the lunch lines at the school.

"The boys aren't actually on the hot end of the deal, but they're very popular," Glick says. "They're very popular in the form of all the food they can eat. This is called an 'all-you-can-eat' lunch."

The practice of using boys in the lunch lines was instituted in the school approximately five years ago, and the benefits haven't stopped flowing. Literally hundreds of girls, who otherwise might be snatching a doughnut for lunch, are now standing in the hot lunch line and wishing it would move slower.

The stigma formerly attached to students sitting in the lunch room has vanished and the cooks have the pleasure of seeing their creations devoured.

Congress Approves Small Aid Package

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has sent to President Johnson the smallest foreign aid appropriation package in nine years. The Senate passed the $2.94 billion measure by voice Friday just two hours after House passage came on a 189-93 roll call vote.

Johnson had sought $3.38 billion and aid administrator William S. Gaud called the compromise package "pretty hard to swallow." It was the first time the aid money bill dropped below $3 billion since 1957, when it was $2.77 billion. But just before the House passed the bill, Rep. Otto E. Passman, D-Ia., said it would be difficult to claim the bill cut the aid program.

Gap Widens Between Court Wings

WASHINGTON (AP) — The gap between the liberal and conservative wings of the Supreme Court widened during the week, as the American Jewish Congress said Saturday.

But it said liberal justices still have a clear majority, their position amplified by the voting record of freshman Justice Abe Fortas.

The findings were in the 10th annual summary of the liberal and conservative civil rights and civil liberties decisions issued by the organization.

Founded in 1919 by Justice Louis D. Brandeis and Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, it describes its objectives as strengthening Jewish life and advancing human rights.

Under review were 45 civil rights and civil liberties decisions in the last year, the group said. In 1964, the report said, the rulings were favorable to the liberal wing, which has a constitutional rights.

New Rules OK'd For Commercial

WASHINGTON (AP) — The television code review board of the National Association of Broadcasters has approved tougher guidelines for cigarette commercials, particularly in their appeals to young people.

The new guidelines forbid use of prominent athletes in cigarette commercials and require avoidance in such advertising of people taking part in athletic activity.

The board said it was concerned that young people might be misled by cigarette commercials in such a manner, and offers of premiums almost primarily to young people.

Andrus was picked as the winner by a vote of 48 per cent of the panel.

'Copter Crash Kills 11 in Gulf Waters

HOLMA, La. (AP) — A helicopter plunged into the choppy Gulf of Mexico Saturday apparently killing the 11 persons aboard.

"There are no survivors as far as we can tell," said Frank Lee, an official of Petroleum Helicopters Co., a firm that ferries offshore workers between Gulf rigs and the mainland.

Lee said debris was sighted at the crash scene, about 60 miles south of Marsh Island. The helicopter, a Bell-204, had picked up 10 workers from a rig during the afternoon. It was bound for Morgan City, La., Mary Parish (County).

Quartermasters and other crew members were seen on the crash scene until after dark.

Witnesses said they saw the helicopter go down shortly after picking up the workers.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. B52 bombers blasted at the old demilitarized zone in waves Saturday to block North Viet Nam's escape route.

The equivalent of two battalions in prisoners alone to allied forces in one sector during the war.

The high-flying, eight-engine jets from Guam, reinforcing the blockade of smuggling war materials into Viet Nam, dropped tons of incendiary bombs and napalm on the six-mile-wide border territory.

The U.S. said it was striking the area in violation of the 1954 Geneva treaty.

Soviets View Proposal for Troop Cut

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union has major reasons for declining to accept President Johnson's proposal to reduce troops on both sides of the Iron Curtain—and it also has reasons for opposing the proposal.

Soviet leaders kept silent Saturday on the proposal while a peace proposal was being discussed.

The proposal was mounted in press reports here of the President's speech, while Johnson was in London.

Western strength in Europe would be weakened, the Soviet Union said.

One strong reason against the proposal was the "gradual and balanced revision in force levels on both sides," the Soviet Union said.

School Bus, Train Crash Being Probed

DORION, Que. (AP) — Canadian National Railway officials began investigating today a deadly collision between a school bus and a passenger train that killed 10 youths and injured 24.

The victims, most of them teenagers, were en route to a dance when the collision occurred Friday night at Dorion, about 15 miles west of Montreal.

Among the dead was the driver, 19-year-old John J. Hickey, owner of a fleet of six buses.

"I don't know how it happened," said the driver's father, "but it was a very, very good driver—very prudent."

QUAKE FELT

U.S. Wants Desert Area For Testing

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—The United States wants a second chunk of loneliness in the middle of the Nevada desert to test its arsenal of nuclear weapons.

It already has one—the 1,300-square-mile Nevada atomic test site 100 miles northwest of Las Vegas which embraces such desolate places as Jackass Flat, Frenchman's Flat, Yucca Basin and Yucca Flats.

The area is honeycombed with plugged-in vertical shafts. At the bottom of each, the AEC explodes its atomic weapons in carefully monitored tests. The impact with electrical devices.

The agency announced Friday it was searching for a spot in central Nevada for another underground test site to combine with its present facility—but the two won't be contiguous. More than 5,000 persons are employed at the present site with a multi-million-dollar budget. There was official doubt the second site would grow as large.

The entire operation at the present site includes testing in the Plovershare program for development of peaceful uses for atomic explosives and experimental runs of the government's nuclear rocket engines.

The government needs the second site to make its Nevada testing operation "more flexible and suitable," an AEC spokesman said.

He refused to say whether the expansion means the United States is exploring bigger nuclear devices or whether its general testing program is growing.

The AEC said the new site would have to be studied carefully for any faults in the earth's crust that could mean an earthquake after a major explosion.

War Deaths Estimated For 1967

WASHINGTON (AP)—Statistics indicate that more than 5,000 U.S. servicemen may be killed in Viet Nam this year.

Between last Jan. 1 and last week, 3,765 Americans had been killed, including 91 during the week ended last Saturday. Records show that 6,944 South Vietnamese had been killed in the nine-month period, including 67 during the week ended last Saturday.

As the U.S. forces take a bigger part in the war, both their death toll and its percentage in relation to Vietnamese losses have climbed. American losses through last weekend were 54 per cent of the Vietnamese deaths. And they have been at 58 per cent since June 30.

Records also show that more than 22,000 American troops have been wounded in action since the year began.

Young Elk Becomes Friendly Pet to Orofino Family

OROFINO, Idaho (AP) — The odds say it shouldn't happen. But Idaho Fish and Game officials and the Elmer Laudenbachs teamed up to best the odds and save the life of a young elk. Rudy, as the now four-month-old elk is nicknamed by the Laudenbachs, was two or three weeks old when a group of college students found him last summer. The calf had an injured right front leg and lacerations on his hips, shoulders and back.

He was obviously "undernourished." The college group took the baby elk to Frank Kough, the state conservation officer at Orofino, who felt he had no choice but to get the necessary permission to destroy Rudy. There were no facilities to take care of an elk calf.

But the Laudenbachs, who live across the Clearwater River from here, asked permission to try to nurse the animal back to health.

Kough rented his home from the Laudenbachs so he knew their love of animals and how they often had reared "orphans," although never an elk.

The Laudenbachs got veterinary care for the baby, and Mrs. Laudenbach bought special nipples for feeding. Rudy was fed every three hours, both day and night.

Mrs. Laudenbach learned that elk milk is 20 times richer than that of a cow so she purchased a supplement to the milk to insure proper nourishment.

Within a week, the "todder" was following Laudenbach around the farm like a puppy.

Peace Corps Director Has Problems

Lagos, Nigeria (AP) — A Peace Corps director and a barrage of beefs about money and quarters faced Corps Director Jack Hood Vaughn, who arrived Saturday on his first visit to the largest Peace Corps mission in Africa.

He said at Ikeja Airport he did not plan to solve the problems.

"That is up to the volunteers and Peace Corps staff here," he said. "I will just offer some profound advice."

Volunteers in Nigeria and other west African countries have gripped for months about plans safety during the hunting season. Two possibilities are ahead for Rudy—either he will be turned loose in the wilds by the Fish and Game Department or he will be placed in a park or game preserve where his overworked self won't endanger his life.

High School Athletes Take Part in Hot Lunch Program

school students and 59 cents to adults, provides one-third to one-half of the daily nutritional needs, according to Mrs. Glick. It includes milk, bread, meat or poultry or cheese, dry beans, peanut butter or eggs, vegetables and/or fruit, butter and vitamin A twice a week and vitamin C daily.

In connection with National School Lunch Week—the sixth grade girls at Washington school will be preparing the menus for the five-day period, Mrs. Glick said.

The young homemakers will have to watch the combination of foods for color, crispness, texture, flavor and shape in order to maintain the standards observed during the rest of the year.

The girls adoringly asking the high school football star for an extra carrot stick don't often stop to reflect on the process that made that carrot stick, along with other items, available to them at such a low price.

It all begins in Mrs. Glick's office. She cost-accounts each item to determine if it can be served economically and quickly.

"We do all we can to work and plan to get this meal served efficiently and as quickly as possible so the young people will have time to eat and relax some in the time allotted

The SIEA's made up of Idaho college students.

ASSISTANCE URGED
BOUNTEVILLE (AP) — Bonneville County Assessor George L. Jensen, new president of the Idaho County Assessors Association, says he will urge the state tax commission to give assessors more assistance.

Jensen told the association's convention in his acceptance speech Friday he believed county educational programs would be the best approach to such assistance.

Idaho's new tax equalization law — designed to make assessment ratios standard throughout the state by 1969 — dominated convention discussion.

DEDICATION SET

Open house will follow.

RESTORE SERVICE
MOSCOW (AP) — The Northern Idaho city which had no telephone service just two weeks ago now has manual operator phones and hopes to have restored dial service by the end of December.

Jerry Fogarty, general manager of General Telephone Co., said "our job is to see how fast we can do a job that usually takes the telephone industry 10 to 30 months."

Equipment burned in the $1 million fire in the Moscow telephone exchange Sept. 25.

Small Baby Given Blood Transfusion

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Janice Rose Teague, one of the smallest babies ever to live past birth, received a blood transfusion Friday after having difficulty breathing.

The premature baby, who weighed 10 1/2 ounces at her lowest ebb, is looking better and taking food and now weighs 20 ounces, a Brackenridge hospital spokesman said Saturday.

Janice Rose weighed 2 1/2 ounces—her weight at birth—before the siege of respiratory trouble Thursday and Friday said Mrs. Mary Holman, nursing supervisor at the hospital.

Mrs. Holman said the baby, born three months prematurely Aug. 30, lost weight at the end of the week because doctors kept her off food. A full stomach would put dangerous pressure on her tiny lungs during her breathing difficulty, she said.

The transfusion, difficult to administer to a premature baby, was necessary to strengthen Janice-Rose, Mrs. Holman said. "Extreme anemia in premature babies is not unusual," she said.

Janice Rose, daughter of 20-year-old laborer Floyd Teague and his 18-year-old wife, is still listed in critical condition, Mrs. Holman said.

Doctors still expect the tiny child to remain in the hospital for several months.

A hospital spokesman said recently that Janice Rose "is the smallest baby born here since records have been maintained and to my knowledge is the smallest baby that has lived in history."

How much more do your employees pay for health care?

This is something you may never learn unless you ask an employee directly. By providing your employees with health-care coverage, you are recognizing one of the individual's vital necessities in today's society—and in doing so, you are making a large investment. Is this investment paying off in personal security to your employee and in their morale as you expect? Your employee may look upon the company's health-care plan as a "gift" from management and never comment on it. However, he may be paying several hundred dollars a year over what the company's coverage allows when he needs hospital care. When this happens, does it still consider your group coverage an "employee benefit"?

Blue Cross of Idaho bolsters employee morale, Your employees know that when unexpected accident or illness strikes, they will receive the care covered by their certificate—where it is listed in terms of service, not as fixed amounts of money.

This necessary care will be provided by Blue Cross regardless of cost—so your employee will not be faced with paying a large difference between his coverage and actual cost of his care.

Blue Cross was designed for realistic protection against the cost of hospital care. It's the best buy—dollar-for-dollar—for you and your employee.

Congress May Adjourn in Next 10 Days

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson seems to have cleared the way for possible adjournment of Congress within the next 10 days by postponing until January any request to ask for new taxes also would await a year-end survey of appropriations voted by Congress and a check on how much domestic spending could be withheld by the executive.

The feeling was general on Capitol Hill that there would be no postponement call for a special session.

In these circumstances, Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana and Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois expect to meet Monday with House Speaker John McCormack of Massachusetts to draft an adjournment schedule.

There had been some concern that Johnson would ask for official funding of the mounting war costs in the last big catch-all money bill and that resulting controversy might force Congress to recess over the election.

But members have been assured there will be no request for Viet Nam funds until January.

Mansfield said that so far as the Senate was concerned, it could dispose of all necessary legislation by not later than Oct. 22 if the House moved swiftly on the catch-all money bill and there was no breakdown in resolving differences of the two chambers over such measures as the $38-billion defense appropriation.

Dirksen said in a separate interview he believed the session could be ended a day or two earlier than that.

As for Johnson's intentions on taxes, no one in Congress provided.

Those who have discussed the matter with him say the President shows extreme reluctance to entertain the idea of raising taxes. They say he points to rising federal revenues and his drive to hold down spending by cutting federal outlays.

Dirksen, who has been trying to get little success in amendments to bills, which would let the President withhold 20 per cent of the money they provide, said he doubted Johnson would have much luck in holding down expenditures.

"I don't see where he is going to find the $3 billion to cut out," he said.

Buhl Okays Ordinance On Burning

BUHL — Buhl residents may not lawfully burn garbage or rubbish between 7 p.m. and 7 a.m., Bernard Stutz, city clerk, announced Friday.

This is the first time Buhl has had such a regulation, but Starr explained numerous complaints have been received from residents complaining about trash fires left burning all night.

The ordinance was passed under suspension of the rules at Tuesday night's council meeting. The provisions also stipulate that "any fire started earlier than 7 p.m. has to be out by that time."

Councilmen also passed a uniform building code ordinance, as recommended by the federal housing authority. Starr said the ordinance results from efforts to obtain federal housing for senior citizens here. The project has been tentatively approved.

Another ordinance setting up the entire city as a fire district divided into three zones, was approved by the council. The city is calling for bids by Oct. 25 on purchase of 12,000 gallons of regular type gasoline and 200 gallons of premium gasoline.

Building permits were approved for J. E. Masters to build a garage and addition to his residence, estimated cost $10,000; Mason Popplewell, install aluminum siding, $1,800; M. S. Smith, construct carport, $200; James L. Monro, carpet and remodel garage into living quarters, $500.

E. E. Uptain, storage building, $200; Andrew C. Allen, re-shingle roof, $125; C. H. Boss, repair cable ends of house, $80; Carl Shafer, storage building, $200; Harris Voeller, remodel interior of house, $250; Robert N. Peterson, reshingle house, $200; John Payne, construct porch, $200; Arthur R. Bunc, addition to house and carport, $2,800; Melvin Ewell, construct addition to house, $1,000; and Darrell Womack, re-roof residence, $250.

Buhl was sworn in as a member of the Buhl police department by Mayor Reed Maughan. It was an estimated cost of $1,000. A Navy veteran, had rated highest on an examination and review conducted by Police Chief Charles E. Burdette. Prior to that, Richard Burns of the Idaho State Police, Boise.

Councilmen approved, card tables for the new Clear State Clear State, Clear State, Hal and Rita's Cafe, Sunset Bowl and issued a trailer-camp permit to the Idaho Motor Camp, Buhl.

City officials also announced that work will begin by City crews Monday on replacing the old wooden water line serving 17 waterusers east of Buhl. New four and six-inch lines will be installed under the direction of J. C. Holmes, city water superintendent.

Each of the 17 waterusers will pay $250 for the cost of the project, with the city also paying a small part. The residents also will be charged an additional fee equal to the mill levied by the city for retirement and interest on the general obligation water bond, Starr explained.

The assessments will not include more than two acres of any one person's land. The 17 waterusers will pay the same levied rate as city residents are charged. Three or four hydrants will be installed at the expense of the landowners, also, Starr added.

Modernization, Automation Is Having Increasing Effect on T.F. Residents

BY KAREN MORSE

Twin Falls, like many American cities, has started to feel the push towards modernization and automation in this area.

While the average Twin Falls resident will probably say automation is not a threat to the modern worker in this area, little does he realize how much he and his family depend on automation in their everyday lives.

How many times does Mr. Twin Falls (or his wife) take the family to the do-it-yourself car wash?

How many times does he take his family to the nearby drive-in eating establishment?

Both the self-service car wash and the hamburger stand are forms of automation which the average American today takes advantage of, perhaps without being aware of it.

Homemakers in this area also use modern conveniences many times per week, and still do not, in most cases, notice the change automation has made in their lives.

Many local women visit the self-service laundry centers and use the do-it-yourself dry cleaning method.

It is not uncommon to see a woman drive in at the local laundry centers with her hair in curlers and small children tagging along behind—as she carries the wash into the building.

After she gets inside and starts the laundry, she deposits her money in a slot on the chair and sits under an automatic hair dryer while the children sit nearby absorbed in a television program. This way her clothes are being cleaned by automatic washers and dry cleaning machines as she uses the time to take care of her personal grooming.

All another step of today's modernization.

Still another form of automation very evident in Twin Falls and throughout America is the vending machine.

While just a few years ago it was almost impossible to purchase anything except cigarettes, soft drinks and candy bars from the vending machines, you now can purchase groceries, sundry supplies and a large assortment of other items.

Items by merely opening the door on the coin-operated machine which rings a bell in a nearby service station. The station attendant then collects for the purchased items.

Not unlike the world famous New-York—automat—this machine is handy for the woman who finds she is out of milk for the breakfast cereal and does not wish to take time to change clothes so she can go to the local grocery store.

Tourists traveling along the stretch of highway where the self-service market is located often stop and shop.

One local motel saved the expense of hiring extra personnel and enlarged floor space when they installed vending machines for sundry items such as shaving blades, after shave lotion, hand lotion, adhesive bandages and deodorants.

Bowling establishments in this area also are finding use for the vending machines for the sale of bowling supplies. While the bowling balls and bags are still sold over the counter, bowling gloves, towels and other supplies are available in a vending machine.

People arriving at the various bus depots, train stations and air terminals in the area can now purchase fresh fruits, dairy products and fruit juices from vending machines. Special refrigeration units keep these products fresh and cold.

For the indoor sport fans, modern workmen have made pool tables, shuffle boards and pin-ball machines which operate after a coin has been placed in the necessary slot. Where a clerk used to be necessary to receive the money, now the player is ready to go as soon as the coin hits the waiting parts.

Many area residents, like all Americans, probably will not confess to taking advantage of these modern conveniences and claim they are not dependent on automation.

But, how many of these people have stopped and made a telephone call from one of the many drive-in telephone booths in Twin Falls?

In most instances businessmen have taken automation in their stride and have installed modern conveniences for their customers. Banks now have drive-in windows so the depositor need not leave the car, and commercial cleaning establishments have drive-in windows for the delivery and pickup of clothing.

Even grocery stores have felt the need for automation and several have a telephone service where people call, leave a list of groceries and drive to a window a few minutes later where they claim and pay for their purchases.

The list of services available by automation and modernization is endless and would have to include, among other things, drive-in theaters, gas stations and drive-in windows at drug stores.

While Twin Falls is still not beset by the not so impossible automatic robot instead of clerks, service station attendants, etc., we might as well admit the fact that automation is here for a long, long time.

Toastmistress Club Inducts Two Women

"Life is really simple but men insist upon making it complicated" was the theme of the Twin Falls Toastmistress Club meeting Friday morning in the Colonial Room of the Rogerson Hotel.

The invocation, pledge of allegiance and welcome were given by Mrs. Richard Tucker.

Mrs. Mary Woodbury gave the toxicology lesson, based on "phobias."

Mrs. C. H. Mitchell was in charge of table topics, which benefited the benefits derived from Toastmistress Club membership.

Mrs. Leroy Arrington conducted induction ceremonies for two new members, Mrs. Ben Eldredge and Mrs. Ellis Fuller. Mrs. John Burkhardt, president, explained the rights and privileges of membership. Mrs. Arrington then presented the new members with golden keys, explaining the significance of the symbols.

Speakers included Mrs. E. R. Basom, who used the theme of the meeting as the title of her speech, and Mrs. Leslie Jones who spoke on "Instant Oatmeal."

Mrs. Jones was awarded the blue pencil for the best speech. General evaluator was Mrs. Burkhardt, and a grammarian was Mrs. Kenneth Shaw who also acted as toastmistress.

Guests included Mrs. Roger Vincent, Filler; Mrs. Hugh Call, Twin Falls, and Mrs. Walter Rock, Timnath, Colo.

Summer Is Linger Over Country

By The Associated Press
Indian summer lingered over most of the country Saturday, but Hurricane Inez boiled with greater intensity and threatened the Texas coast.

Inez moved at 12 MPH during the afternoon and its highest winds—near—the center—were reckoned at 135 miles an hour. The Weather Bureau said Inez was expected to turn to a more northwesterly course—and this would greatly increase the threat to Texas.

Temperatures in the afternoon over most of the country were in the 70s. Sunny skies were mostly the rule.

But a cold front was moving into the Pacific Northwest and over the northern Rockies.

There were locally heavy rain showers during the day in Florida. Daytona Beach got nearly two inches of rain.

Here are some readings and conditions in mid-afternoon:
New York City 74, clear
Miami 85 partly cloudy, Denver 75 clear, Phoenix 85 clear, San Francisco 64 clear, Seattle 57 partly cloudy.

Navy Battles Shortage Of Officers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy battling a serious shortage of experienced officers, now is permitting older officers twice passed over for promotion to stay on the job, sources revealed Saturday. Such men normally are forced to leave active service.

This was learned in the wake of the Navy's announcement Friday that it would continue to extend the duties of an estimated total of 1,800 pilots and other highly skilled officers for another year to meet Viet-Nam needs. Reserve officers are not affected by the new order.

And in Saigon, the U.S. military command announced that some selected officers in advisory and staff positions in the various services would serve up to two years, double the normal tour. Officials here, however, emphasized that the officers said to number only a few score—had agreed to stay on and

The 25th Infantry troops are the men that have, so far, traveled farthest south among U. S. units and are practically stationed in the Mekong Delta itself. One company of the 25th is operating around the village of Ben Luc to check out conditions for U. S. soldiers in the swampy Delta country. (AP wirephoto)

Ford Denies Soviet Request

MOSCOW (AP) — The Ford Motor Co. turned down a Soviet request that it build a car and truck factory in Moscow, Soviet sources said today.

The sources also said that between $30 and $50 million worth of "American" metal presses would go into a Fiat car factory being built on the Volga River.

The sources gave this account of the Ford case:
"The Soviet-Union approached Ford at the same time it was negotiating with Fiat of Italy. Renault of France and other foreign car companies in expanded Soviet auto production from 201,000 cars last year to 700,000 or 800,000 in 1970 and higher later."

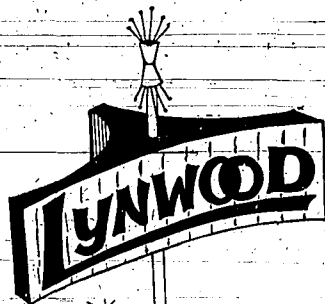

Secret talks with Ford were held first in Detroit and then here. The company president, Arjay Miller, visited Moscow for five days at the beginning of August on a Soviet invitation.

The sources declined to say why Ford, which built a tractor factory in Stalingrad in the 1930s, had rejected the Soviet proposal.

Observers here noted, however, that the Soviet Union has been requiring credits on its car deals.

Ford apparently would have been required to tie up capital in a 10-year credit in order to build the factory.
The Soviet Union is buying car factories and then running sources say only the United States makes the kind of big metal presses that are needed to stamp out car body parts. Fiat uses U.S. presses in Turin. The names of the manufacturer purchases and cars were not available here.

YOUTH AND HIS 'Big Ear.' Steve Soltesz, 8, Detroit's suburban Allen Park, playing with his toy listening device called "The Big Ear" which can pickup conversations 100 to 200 feet away, got in trouble with his neighbors. They called the police who listened and said he'd better put his "Ear" away in the attic where it belongs. Steve's dad, Ernest, refused. Police called the prosecutors office. They called the FBI who called a U. S. District attorney. Ruling: "The Big Ear" is legal until the listener publishes or otherwise repeats a confidential conversation he overhears. (AP Wirephoto)

Law Is on Side of Boy Spy, 8, Who Uses Big Ear

DETROIT (AP)—Steven Soltesz, 8, was attentive to the sounds relayed to him by the Big Ear. He knew something was wrong when a voice came through all too clearly. "If you don't put that thing away," the friendly yards of suburban Allen Park, Francis Drobowski — tired of being spied upon—had declared war on the toy listening device aimed from the Soltesz garage.

But the boy spy has found he has the law on his side. The Big Ear looks like a radar scanner — a concave dish about a foot across mounted on a tripod — and the advertisement says it can pick up conversations 100 to 200 feet away. It sells for $12.95 and Steve got one from his father, Ernest, on the youngster's eighth birthday last April 5.

The Drobowskis live across the street, about 100 feet from the Solteszes — but they didn't like the idea of the Big Ear being tuned to monitor any legal advertisements.

CIVIL NOTICE
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN pursuant to the requirements of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and the Rules of the Federal Communications Commission to any and all concerned that on September 21, 1966, an application was made to the Federal Communications Commission in Washington, D.C., on behalf of Sam H. Hendon, licensee of station KJVN-TV, Twin Falls, Idaho, to modify the construction permit for said station so as to operate with effective radiated power of 3.00 kw (visually and non-visual) instead of 41 feet. The antenna, transmitter and main line of station KJVN-TV will be located at 217 North Avenue, Twin Falls, Idaho. In addition, it is proposed to change the type of transmitter, the type of antenna, the effective radiated power (as specified above) and to change minimum and frequency monitors.

The modification was filed at the request of the Federal Communications Commission on a review of an application to station KJVN-TV from Sam H. Hendon to House Valley Broadcasters, Inc. The purpose of the Commission is to assure that station KJVN-TV and station KJVN-TV which is licensed to House Valley Broadcasters, Inc. do not overlap in violation of existing FCC regulations.

Mr. Hendon is the sole owner of the KJVN-TV construction permit. A copy of this application and related material is on file with the Federal Communications Commission at the Office of the City Police, Twin Falls, Idaho.

LETTER TO HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS

Dear Senior:

Are you undecided about your future? Do you know that you can take specialized training in business that will qualify you for employment in as short a time as 9 months for girls, 18 months for fellows after High School graduation?

The demand for well trained stenographers, secretaries, bookkeepers, accountants, and management trainees far exceeds the supply. If you are interested in the field of business, be sure to consider the practical training at Twin Falls Business College. AT TBC you start to specialize in your selected field the first day of school. This means on the job sooner and greater interest on the part of the student.

If you would like to train for one of the better jobs in business where the entire cost of your education can be returned to you in just a few months, come in for a visit or write to Karl L. Black, Business Administrator, Twin Falls Business College, 260 Second Street East, Twin Falls.

SINCERELY,

Karl L. Black

The 1968 Election Campaign

We also recommend the Honorable Ralph Harding, Democratic Senatorial candidate from Idaho. Mr. Harding's candidacy for the seat of Senator Jordan is one to which we have been looking forward since the last election, when we supported his candidacy for the House.

WASHINGTON REPORT

Washington, September 5, 1968 WR 68-34

THE PEACE GROUPS: SINCERE, SOFT OR SUBVERSIVE?

I can speak with some degree of familiarity on the subject of peace groups as, for about 15 months, I was Executive Director of the Council for a Livable World (CLW), "one of the more active organizations in the peace movement. I had joined the CLW because, like many, I was concerned about the potential results of a nuclear arms race and was interested in finding pragmatic measures for reducing international tensions and the risks of nuclear war. I left the CLW because I became thoroughly disillusioned with the peace movement and those behind it. It is my personal belief that almost all of the peace groups are unhelpful—and some of them definitely harmful—to U.S. security, with a few of them deliberately so.

I've come to the conclusion that the majority neither understand nor care about U.S. national security. For them, peace has become an end in itself. Not peace with freedom and justice, but peace—at any price. For this reason, they must be considered a danger to our country.

Henry Ashton Crosby, III
Colonel, U.S. Army, (Ret.)

* Editor's Note: See WR-04-04 for a detailed report on the Council for a Livable World. Guest Editor Colonel Henry Ashton Crosby, III, U.S.A., (Ret.) was Executive Director of the CLW at the time that Report was published and was mentioned in it. Prior to his retirement from the Army, Colonel Crosby served as Military Advisor to the Assistant Secretary of Defense for Civil Defense. He currently is Executive Director of Civil Defense Forum.

What does this mean? On April 28, the Idaho Statesman reported that when asked if he would accept the support of the Council for a Livable World, Ralph Harding said he would be "very happy to accept their backing." Mr. Harding called this international group, which seeks to buy his election, "an academic body interested in a better world." But this opinion is not shared by Colonel H. Ashton Crosby who has recently resigned as Executive Director of the Council.

McCollum, Lavens Help Vandals to Lead Before ISU Rallies on Passing

BY LARRY HOVEY
Times News Sports Editor

POCATELLO, — Sparking by big playsturned in by Tim Lavens and Joe McCollum plus the talented kicking leg of Darrell Danielson, the University of Idaho Vandals mounted a big lead, then fought off a furious rally by Idaho State's Bengals for a 27-20 victory Saturday afternoon. Tight End Lavens, a teammate of McCollum at Twin Falls High School four years ago, broke loose on a 78-yard pass and run play to set Idaho's first touchdown in the first quarter and McCollum, on his longest scoring run as a collegian, broke off a 48-yard scamper in the third quarter to lead the Vandals, 13-0.

The Vandals, 1-0, scored on a 176-yard pass from McCollum to Danielson, Centralia, Wash., provided nine points, three on point-after and six on field goals of 33 and 41 yards in the second half. The Bengals, 1-0, scored on a 176-yard pass from McCollum to Danielson, Centralia, Wash., provided nine points, three on point-after and six on field goals of 33 and 41 yards in the second half. The Bengals, 1-0, scored on a 176-yard pass from McCollum to Danielson, Centralia, Wash., provided nine points, three on point-after and six on field goals of 33 and 41 yards in the second half.

BY LARRY HOVEY
"It's always wonderful to win, but we made too many mistakes," said Idaho Coach Steve Musseau. "I'm proud of the boys. They came back. But it's so frustrating. We could have won."

He said ISU's defense was "a little better than we expected."

Both state lineups after Idaho had outlasted Idaho State 27-20 Saturday in Pocatello. Both were "carried" and the fans from both schools went home pretty well satisfied.

Idaho had its win-one-it-needed very badly. Idaho State, remembering this is largely a junior crew—showed great poise and made a determined bid against the Vandals.

Although Idaho moved the ball quite well in the first half, coach Musseau couldn't forget some mistakes by his boys in the second half. "Our secondary was supposed to play them to the inside to take away the inside passes and didn't," he said. "We almost let a kickoff roll free. We did things wrong today that you go over 100 times in a week's practice."

"But it's always great to win this one. And we needed a win badly. The next three weekends (Oregon State, Washington State, Oregon) are going to be tough," Musseau added.

Musseau added, "We lost our offensive spark in the third quarter. After (Joe) McCollum got away on that long run I thought we were ready to let it wide open. Instead they moved the ball better after that than we did."

McCollum was a main target of the real proud of the boys," he reiterated. "They were down and they came back real well."

He noted the Idaho goal line stand that held the Bengals scoreless after a drive that carried to the seven was a crucial one. "At first I thought we'd go for the field goal," he said.

"Then we were only a few inches short. We told the boys to go for it but didn't call the play. It was apex blocking but Idaho was too strong and they got there before we did. If I had it to do over again, I'd call the play. But this time can't start off the tackle."

McCollum was justifiably proud of the passing of junior quarterback Bill Ingram.

"We'd hoped Bill would get out early," he said. "When he gets going he's practically impossible to stop — well, you know that. But he didn't get until late in the game. If that had happened early we would have had him."

"We were also pleased by the way our boys were playing at the end of the game. In other years Idaho's been the strong team in the fourth quarter — just wore us out. Today I thought we controlled the fourth quarter real well."

He couldn't help remark in closing, "we're a junior team, you know. We've got just about all these boys back next year."

Idaho State fans were remembering that, too.

The firedest man in the game was Tim Lavens after his long gallop in the first quarter. He went from his own 12-yard line to Idaho State's 10 and at 245 pounds that takes a lot of effort.

"I knew when I got to the 20 I'd run out of gas," he told Coach Walt Anderson. "I just ran out of wind."

Two small ISU fullbacks, roughly half his size, finally pulled Lavens down at the 10 — one of them bleeding his nose. Tim was thinking about most of the afternoon thereafter.

Typically, Joe McCollum, who in street clothes doesn't look like he would even check a hot jet alone, ran bounding on 25-pound tackles, came off the field after his long run, took the congratulatory of his teammates and said "nice blocking, guys."

"I was wondering if I was ever going to get one," he said later about the long run. "It sure great looking up and seeing nothing but daylight."

LEND STRAK
JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Columbia Hickmott defeated Jefferson City 27-0 in a high school football game Friday night, ending Jefferson City's winning streak at 71 games.

blunted an Idaho bid and Ingram went to the air. He found Acker for 29 yards and, then turned to Nykorak for 20 more. Odum took another to the Vandal 10-yard line and Idaho was assessed a penalty. Idaho's goal line unit dug in and threw ISU for three yards in losses in three plays. On fourth down, Idaho was called for pass interference in the end zone, getting a first down at the one. Brown went over on the first try. The conversion run failed.

An exchange of possession on a fumble and an Idaho punt put ISU on the 11-yard line and Ingram, getting hotter, started throwing again. A pass interference call got 27 yards and more comely punts carried to the Idaho 37 before Danielson picked off a pass for Idaho.

Idaho carried to the ISU 24-yard line in seven plays before Danielson got his 41-yard field goal, the ball just clearing the crossbar.

Let to the game ISU went back to the air to pull to within seven. Ingram fired three times to Odum for yards of 15, 31 and seven and flipped another seven-yarder to Doug Rex. Odum took the touchdown pass with 45 seconds left and came back on the same pattern for a two-point conversion to wind up the game.

Idaho's defense had several things that separated it from those of the past four years. In prior years the Vandals, trailing twice, had opportunities enough to win. The win was costly for Idaho as the "standout" linebacker, Larry Pratt, Boise, a future pick of the NFL, suffered a compound fracture of his left leg. Both bones in the leg were broken, making Pratt's professional career an uncertainty.

Idaho opened with a bang, a six-yard punt by ISU giving the Vandals possession at midfield. Rex's 30-yard pass set up a 70-yard drive in 20 carries to add to his nation leading total, and John Foruria drove the Vandals to the Bengal 15-yard line. There, on the crucial fourth of three plays, came up with his first field goal with 9:18 remaining in the period.

In an exchange of punts ISU made its first bid of the day, the big play being a 35-yard sprint by Mike Acker, Everston, Wash., who carried to the Vandal 15-yard line before Jerry Ahlin overhauled him. The Bengals picked up nine and one-half yards in three plays but on the crucial fourth the center of the Idaho time rose up to hold.

Just three plays later Idaho was faced with a third and six, on its own 12-yard line. Foruria, who had seven of eight pass attempts in the first half, found Lavens two steps behind the line. He threw the 35-yard line. Lavens tucked it in and started a foot race with two ISU men until dragged down from behind at the Bengal 10. Foruria swerved for seven and sent McDonald home on the next play. Danielson added the first of three conversions.

ISU broke the scoring line midway through the second period after taking an Idaho punt at the 50. Again Acker, then starting right, darting through a hole in the line and then cutting back against the flow. Again Ahlin was the man that made the save at the Vandal 12-yard line.

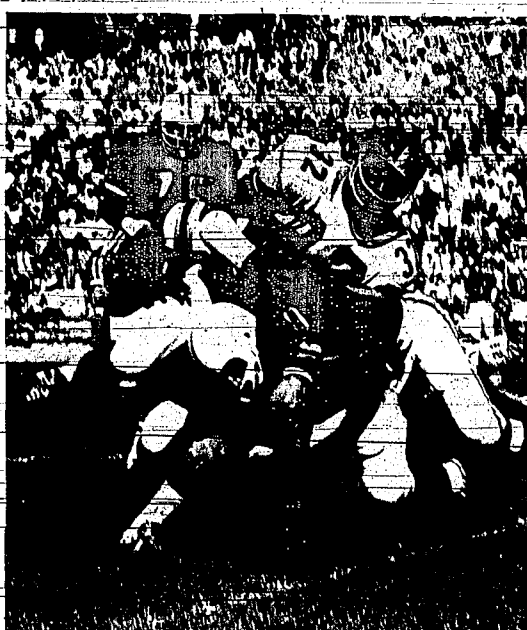

Idaho held twice before Ingram turned to the air to Richard Nykorak, Edinburg, Cal., for a 29-yard pass to the Bengal 10. Foruria swerved for seven and sent McDonald home on the next play. Danielson added the first of three conversions.

With 3:55 left, Idaho's offense had its best moments after the ensuing kickoff. After McCollum and Hutch Slaughter, Spokane, took a first down on the Bengal 10, the Vandal took to the air again. He found Rich Tubb, Boise, his favorite target Saturday, open for a 48-yard gain to the 25 and two plays later sent back to Tubb for 17 yards. McCollum was held for no gain as Foruria flipped for five to Tubb and sent McDonald for the last four with 25 seconds left.

The second half opened with ISU getting a chance with an interception on the Vandal 20. Tubb took the ball and ran it back to the 10. Ahlin recovered, and that set the stage for the last Idaho touchdown. Lavens took a 15-yard pass and McDonald belted for 11 to ISU's 48-yard line.

On the next play, Foruria took the ball and handed to McCollum on a counter. McCollum slipped through a hole, and cut to the left, where a partial block gave him the step in yards.

From that point on ISU's offense cut carried the day. A pass interception by Stan Milard, Jerome in the end zone

HAULED DOWN after a short gain, University of Idaho All-American fullback Ray McDonald heads for the turf in the grasp of ISU's Tim Gallagher and an unidentified player behind him. In background is ISU's Buddy Hight. McDonald, the nation's leading ground gainer, picked up 79 yards in 20 carries as Idaho won 27-20. (Times-News photo)

Oilers Not for Sale Says Adams

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Oilers owner K. S. (Bud) Adams doused rumors his team was up for grabs Friday when he said, "They're not for sale."

Adams, owner of the American Football League team since it was christened six years ago, said earlier this week he would consider selling the Oilers if the price was attractive enough.

In explanation Friday, Adams said, "Anything I've got is for sale — if the price is right."

Adams' statement came in response to a report by a Houston, Texas, newspaper that the Oilers were being sold to a group of investors.

Valley Cops Win From Bulldogs

KIMBERLY — Ron Kline squirmed 67 yards on the first play of the game to point the Valley Vikings to a hard-fought 19-6 decision over arch-rival Kimberly Friday night.

After Schutte converted twice before quarterback Ted game.

Kline's touchdown the Vikings Black rolled out and scored on a 25-yard run. From then on it was a battle of defenses until seconds remained in the game. Valley was using and running, apparently running out the clock. When Chuck Perkins broke into the clear and scampered 50 yards to cap the win. The kick was blocked.

The bright spot for Kimberly was Denny Erickson who amassed more than 100 yards on the field for the fifth straight game.

Southall's Pass Lets Bears Upset Arkansas by 7-0

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Terry Southall's 21-yard touchdown pass to Bobby Green with 4:48 remaining gave Baylor a 7-0 Southwest Conference football victory over fifth-ranked Arkansas Saturday, snapping the nation's longest regular season winning streak.

Cougars Use Devil Errors To Win 24-13

PULLMAN, Wash. (AP) — Washington State took advantage of Arizona State's first half mistakes for three touchdowns and defeated the Sun Devils 24-13 here Saturday in an inter-sectional football game.

It was Washington State's first victory in four games and the loss left Arizona with a 1-3 mark this season.

After a backstrier first half the Sun Devils rallied in the third period with two quick touchdowns to narrow the margin to six points. But Ted Gerela's 20-yard field goal with three minutes left to play put the game out of reach.

Arizona State's difficulties started before the game. A two-minute delay in the third quarter and a touchdown was nullified because the Porks had an ineligible receiver down field.

Quarterback Jim Brittenm passed to Tommie Burnett and a 28-yard pass to Bruce Maxwell at the Baylor 37. On the next play, Tommy Trautman hauled in a pass from Brittenm in the end zone. The touchdown was nullified because the Porks had an ineligible receiver down field.

BY ALL MEANS, Let's Talk About Political Spending

The Times-News has opened up a fascinating issue dealing with the political campaign slush funds of its good friend, Republican Senator Len Jordan. Writing in an editorial published Sept. 29, 1966, the Times-News had this to say about the money Jordan is spending this year:

"The Times-News asked Sen. Jordan's office . . . and was informed the Senator's campaign would cost around $60,000. Total cost of the campaigning in which Sen. Jordan defeated Grace Pfoz was set at $48,700."

Interesting, isn't it? Because "the figure which Jordan's office reported to the Times-News on the 1962 campaign spending of the Republican incumbent is far different than the figure Jordan reported to the clerk of the U.S. Senator

LET'S LOOK AT THE RECORD—

On October 3, 1962, Len Jordan signed a sworn statement on his campaign receipts and expenditures. He told the clerk of the Senate that, up to that time, he had received $4,100 and had spent $4,128.52.

On November 25, 1962, Jordan signed another sworn statement covering additional receipts of $5,182.50 and, by the sheerest of coincidences, additional expenditures of the same amount — $5,182.50.

In other words, Jordan claimed under oath that his total campaign had cost only $9,311.02, and that his total contributions had been $9,282.50! THAT'S A LOT DIFFERENT FROM WHAT HE TELLS THE TIMES-NEWS NOW!

WHAT WE'D LIKE TO KNOW IS THIS—

★ Why did Len Jordan swear under oath that his campaign cost only $9,311.02 in 1962, if he now tells his good friends, the Times-News, that it cost $48,700 — five times as much as he actually reported?

★ When Len Jordan talks about running a $60,000 campaign in 1966, which figure is he talking about? Is he going to spend $60,000 and report only one-fifth of that amount . . . or is he going to report $60,000 and really spend $300,000?

LET'S HAVE THE TRUTH ABOUT LEN JORDAN'S POLITICAL SPENDING!

ORIOLES TAKE 3-0 WORLD SERIES EDGE

Bunker Extends Dodger Drought To 24 Innings

BAITMORE (AP)—Paul Blair and Wally Bunker, two California schoolboys who escaped the Los Angeles Dodgers net, led the Baltimore Orioles to a third straight World Series victory over the feeble Dodgers Saturday, 1-0, extending their scoreless drought to 24 innings. Blair, the only man to pass first base against Claude Osteen, went all the way with a 430-foot home run into the left field bleachers in the fifth. It was the last of three Baltimore hits.

Hanratty and Irish Crush Army 35-0

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Third-ranked Notre Dame scored five times in the first half as Terry Hanratty hit Jim Seymour with eight passes for 143 yards, then flooded the field with subs to smash Army 35-0 Saturday.

It was the Cardinals' worst losing by the Irish in 38 meetings, of the traditional rivalry and left Notre Dame with a 26-8-1 record.

It also helped atone for the biggest beating ever administered to the Irish—a 59-0 crushing by Army in the Glenside-Doe Blanchard era of 1944.

The triumph was Notre Dame's third of the season.

Notre Dame's first scoring drive came in the first quarter, when Hanratty's first stringers were the 25, absorbed its first defeat in 38 meetings.

In the opening half explosion, Notre Dame's five scoring drives covered a total of 251 yards in 13 plays, an average of better than eight per play.

Wildcats Nip Beavers for First Victory

CORVALLIS, Ore. (AP)—Led by two unsung players, Corvallis State defeated the Beavers 14-0 Saturday, winning its first football game of the season, defeating Oregon State Saturday.

Melzer, a 20-year-old junior starting his first college game, completed 14 of 23 passes for 138 yards. His favorite target was Murphy, a senior who didn't turn out at Northwestern last year but who had caught nine passes for 149 yards.

The Murphy-Melzer combination received considerable attention from the entire Northwest defensive unit, which held Oregon State to only 11 first downs and from halfback Woody Campbell, who gave the Wildcats needed yardage at several crucial points.

The Murphy-Melzer combination struck first with 33 seconds gone in the second period when Pete Pifer booted over right tackle and scored 33 yards for a touchdown. The conversion attempt failed.

Spartans Rip Favored Bears 24-0

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—Slim Danny Holman, the nation's leading college passer, threw two scoring passes Saturday in taking independent San Jose State to a 24-0 victory over two-touchdown favorite California.

The 6-foot-2, 160-pound Holman completed 20 of 37 passes for 216 yards in the San Jose Spartans' first victory over the Bears in their seven-game series dating back in 1893. He left the game early in the fourth quarter.

Holman passed 26 yards to John Crivello for a touchdown in the fourth quarter. A little more than a minute later, he hit Bobby Traill for a 12-yard scoring strike which put San Jose ahead 18-0.

That finished the Pacific's Bears, who finished eight times in the game and lost the ball on five of those occasions. Each team now has a 2-2 record.

Cowboys Get Revenge, Rap Utah by 40-7

LARAMIE, Wyo. (AP)—Wyoming swept to a 40-7 revenge victory over Utah Saturday behind a record four field goals by kicking specialist Jerry DePoyster.

The Western Athletic Conference victory gave Wyoming a 3-0 record in league play and 4-0 for the season. It was Utah's first conference game.

The Redskins DePoyster kicked two field goals of 54 yards each to break his own school and conference record of 47 yards 301 last year, and added two more from 52 and 21 yards for a now-conference record of four in one game. All three were with a 30-minute hour crowd.

DePoyster's first 54-yarder in the opening minutes of the game gave the Cowboys a 3-0 lead. Later in the first quarter DePoyster kicked a 52-yard field goal, missing one from 54 yards in the second quarter.

The Cowboys blew the game wide open with 27 points in the fourth quarter, capped by DePoyster's final 54-yard field goal.

Wyoming's defense held the Utah running attack to a net of 13 yards.

Raye Guides Spartans Past Wolverines

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Michigan State's fleet quarterback Jimmy Raye scampered for one touchdown and passed for another as the North-ranked Spartans downed a tough Michigan football team 20-7 Saturday.

The Wolverines, a two-touchdown underdog, gave the Spartans a head to head battle in the intrastate Big Ten clash before a record 78,833 fans at Spartan Stadium.

Raye raced around left end midway in the first period for five yards and Michigan State's first score. "It came on a 47 yard, seven-play ground attack," Michigan's sharp-shooting passer Dick Vidner, with Jack Canner as his favorite target, kept the Wolverines' game long in the fourth period when MSU struck for two quick touchdowns.

A 49-yard scamper by Bob Apisa sparked MSU's second scoring march, an 80-yard, six-play drive capped by Apisa's smash for the final six yards.

Michigan State struck again within two minutes. Charlie Thornhill recovered a Michigan fumble on the Wolverine-25. Three plays later Raye passed 21 yards to Gene Washington for the touchdown. Dick Kenney converted, and MSU had a 20-0 lead.

Ducks Upset Stanford-7-3, In Loop Game

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—The United States Olympic team's losers of three straight football games, suddenly led Saturday and upset Stanford, 7-3, in the first Pacific-8 game of the season for each team.

The sophomores fumbled the ball away twice in home territory early in the game before finding themselves. One fumble set up Stanford's only score, a 21-yard field goal by Bill Shoemaker.

When the second quarter opened though, Oregon put its game together. The Ducks marched 60 yards early in the period, only to be stopped by a pass interception, but came back moments later to drive 60 yards for a touchdown.

Sophomore halfback Steve Jones was the key man. He carried the ball on seven of the nine plays at the start of the game and plunged over from the one yard to the touchdown.

Player Tops Nicklaus for Golf Crown

VIRGINIA WATER, Eng. (AP)—Gary Player of South Africa defeated Jack Nicklaus of Columbus, Ohio, for the world match play golf title Saturday in a 36-hole final that was marked by so much tempera-ture that the referee withdrew midway in the morning round.

Player, the defending champion, won 6 and 4 and held a 47 margin after the first 18 holes, during which Nicklaus' anger at an adverse ruling caused referee Tony Duncan to quit.

The incident happened at the 400-yard ninth hole. Nicklaus, only 1 down at the time, hooked his shot into the rough.

When he reached his ball he asked the referee for a free drop, claiming that a cypress billboard some 60 yards away interfered with his line of sight to the green. When Duncan, former British Walker Cup player, refused, Nicklaus argued with him. Finally he shot, then conceded the hole to Player's par 4.

At the next hole Duncan asked Nicklaus if he wanted a new referee and the 1966 Masters and British Open champion snarled "yes." Gerald Micklem, former chairman of the Royal and Ancient Championship Committee, stepped out of the gallery and took over.

"The atmosphere between myself and Nicklaus was such that I could not continue as referee," said Duncan.

When the morning round was over Duncan and Nicklaus shook hands.

Air-Minded Grand View Rips Pirates

HAGERMAN — Grand View took advantage of a weakened Hagerman pass defense to drop the Pirates 58-31 Friday night behind the passing of Fields, the running of Barborough.

The game was on an even keel in the first quarter with both teams scoring two touchdowns. Grand View went 44-0 on the other. Eddie Bright loped 59 yards and Ray Lapp ran a short one in for the Pirates' first two touchdowns. The Pirates lost two pass defenders in the first quarter.

In the second field went to Ruben and to Munno for two touchdowns as Hagerman was scoring one, that one on a pass interception by Lapp.

Grand View again outscored Hagerman in the third quarter with Laidlaw scoring from the seven, Munno running a kickoff 82 yards and a field-to-Little pass for 40 yards. Bright scored again for Hagerman in the third and then passed to Pat Madarieta for 35 yards.

New York Nips San Diego 17-16

NEW YORK (AP)—Joe Namath's clutch passes triggered a 66-yard comeback drive midway in the final period, rookie Emerson Booser barreling the final eight yards, as the New York Jets edged the San Diego Chargers 17-16 Saturday night and emerged as the only unbeaten team in the American Football League.

A record AFL crowd of 63,497 saw Namath, bottled up for three periods by the Charger defense, fire passes of 44 and 17 yards to set up the winning touchdown, which gave the Jets a 4-0 mark and protected their eastern division lead.

The loss, San Diego's first after four straight victories, was also the Chargers' first to the Jets in seven meetings over the last four years.

Wolves 20-0

MURTAUGH — Murtaugh's Red Devils, caught with their heads to the wall in the first quarter, broke loose in the second on a 15-yard touchdown pass from Jim Hepworth to Gary Quisenberry and went on to shut out Castelford 20-0 in a Magic Valley Conference game Friday afternoon.

Carter's Arm Lets BYU Rip

PROVO, Utah (AP) — Quarterback Virgil Carter passed for four touchdowns to lead Brigham Young University to a 27-0 non-conference football victory over Utah State Saturday.

Carter passed for 223 yards as the Cougars relied on his arm to roll past their cross state rivals in a game that was never in doubt.

USC Scores in Fourth to Edge Huskies 17-14

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Substitute quarterback Toby Page threw a five-yard scoring pass to end Ron Drake in the fourth quarter to give Southern California a 17-14 victory Saturday night over Washington. But the Trojans were forced to stop a last-minute Washington threat when the Huskies made a first down on the USC four-yard line. The Trojans held on until Nate Shaw intercepted his third pass of the game on fourth down to clinch the win.

Altom Leads Oakley Past Rockland

OAKLEY — With Neil Altom accounting for 225 yards on the ground, the Oakley Hornets broke away from a scoreless first half and went on to defeat Rockland 28-13 Friday. Altom pointed Oakley toward victory when he cut off tackle and went 45 yards the first time the Hornets had the ball in the second half. Rockland replied with a grinding march which Greg Mapp capped by getting the last 10 yards.

From then on it was all Oakley. The Hornets drove down the three-yard line before sending Rulon Tulman in. Tulman also booted four Oakley conversions. Seconds later Oakley held and took a punt that resulted in six points when Altom hit Rusty Washburn for 35 yards. The last Hornet touchdown came on a 25-yard scoring pass from Mike Sellman to Josh and Kim Martindale.

May brought Rockland its last touchdown, twice getting losses on runs of about 35 yards and finally plunging home from the eight.

In addition to his 225 yards rushing, Altom had a 50-yard punt nullified by a penalty.

Vachon Boots Sooners Past Texas 18-9

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Four field goals by Vachon ended eight years of frustration for Oklahoma Saturday and the Sooners beat Texas 18-9 to roll on undefeated and untied in three games.

The Amarillo, Tex., sophomore booted field goals of 31, 43, 20 and 41 yards to set a record for the historic college football series — this was the first game. Texas took the lead on a 25-yard field goal by David Conway in the opening minutes, but Bob Warnack, the sophomore Oklahoma quarterback, passed 25 yards to Ron Shotts and Shotts ran 22 yards to furnish the big play of a 55-yard touchdown drive. Oklahoma never trailed after that.

The half ended 9-3 with Texas able to get past midfield only twice while Oklahoma made five times.

Penn State Tops Boston College

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — Tom Sherman, who in three previous games this season has played only on defense, passed for two second-half touchdowns Saturday in rallying Penn State to a 20-17 football victory over Boston College.

Sherman completed 13 of 26 passes, nine of them in the second half, for two touchdowns and 201 yards.

TOUCHDOWN PASS is on its way to Carey's Rand Stewart in the end zone as Camas County's Strom tries desperately to break up the play. This was the first touchdown in Carey's 54-18 decision over the Mushers and put the Panthers in an odds-on position to win the Snake River Conference title. (Times-News photo)

Orchard Scores Four Times as Carey Crushes Mushers 54-18

CAREY — Relying on superior speed and an aerial blitz, the Carey Panthers handed the Camas County Mushers one of their worst defeats in history Friday afternoon, bombing the Mushers 54-18 and all but wrapping up the Snake River eighth conference title. The Panthers need only a victory over Bliss next week to take their first title since 1962 — also the last time Carey toppled Camas County. Allen Orchard's speed outshined the passing of Label Patterson in the mismatch.

Jones, White Pace Weber Past Montana

MISSOULA, Mont. (AP) — Quarterback Tom Jones passed for two touchdowns and lifted fullback Luther White ran for two touchdowns in leading Weber State College's Wildcats to a 26-0 Big Sky Conference football victory over Montana.

White and his brother, fullback Leo White, picked apart a small Grizzly line while Weber's big, tough defenders allowed Montana to score the 50-yard line only four times. It was Weber's third victory in four games and Montana's third loss in four starts. Luther White carried 14 times for 84 yards and Jones completed 13 of 26 passes for 201 yards. Weber was in command all the way after a first quarter touchdown on which Jones and end Tony MacKinnon teamed on a 64-yard pass and run play. MacKinnon appeared to have been stopped several times, but finally burst into the clear and sauntered the last 40 yards without close pursuit.

UCLA Scrapes Past Rice 27-24

HOUSTON (AP) — Kurt Zimmerman kicked a 17-yard field goal to break a 24-24 tie that appeared the young Rice team, a three touchdown underdog, would pull the game out or hold the high scoring Bruins to the deadlock.

Normal Kills Reported on Duck Opener

Smattering reports on a success for the opening day of the migratory waterfowl season indicated everything was quite calm and normal. A surprisingly large number of 32 hunters turned up at the public hunting grounds on the Minidoka Wildlife Refuge and averaged 1.75 birds per man. The bag was largely made up of Mallards, Pintails, Shovelers and Canvasbacks, reports Refuge Manager Leon Littlefield. One goose was taken and three, crippled and lost. The public grounds are difficult hunting this year due to low water which has caused large mud flats to border the water. Wilson Lake proved good hunting with one group of five picking up 30 ducks — many Red-heads — in less than two hours. Another group of four was checked with 22 birds.

National Newspaper Week Brings Role of Printed Word Into Focus

By O. A. (GUS) KELKER
Times-News Feature Editor

The printed word has guided the thinking of man for a long time. Before that there were stories told from one family to another, from one person to another, and each time that story changed.

But when the printed word came into being that story stayed the same through the change of hands, the change of story tellers. The reason — it could be

MOST NEWSPAPER articles start out about the same way as the action pictured here. The pencil and notebook are in the hands of a reporter. Some reporters use shorthand, some write so anyone can read and others write in a series of jerky lines which only they can figure out when the time comes for compiling their notes. Some of the hands which hold the pencil are old and others are young but all good reporters have one thought in mind — get the news, get it right and get it to the people to read. National Newspaper Week starts today. (Times-News photo)

Local Executives Putting Spark in United Fund Job

A bunch of the boys are whooping it up — for the community, that is. They are known hereabouts as loaned executives and each is donating two and one-half days a week of their time, away from their own jobs, to aid the United Fund Drive. This donated time business will keep up for a month.

Right at the present there are more than a dozen of these men connected with the unique loan program. Each was appointed by his firm to engage in this community work. Usually, during the time they are active in the drive, they will work together as a team and two of their day starts early and you never heard of. It lets you know how the war is going and how much of a chance there is for rain tomorrow.

It lets the reader know where the bargains are in town — through advertising — and offers an opportunity to turn that wadded item into cash through want ads.

It makes you laugh (or find out where to get a kitten or a puppy) through the humor column and it informs you of the national situation through the efforts of more serious writers.

It gives you a thoughtful idea of what is wrong, or what is right through editorials and the sports pages keep you informed of the winners and the just-about winners.

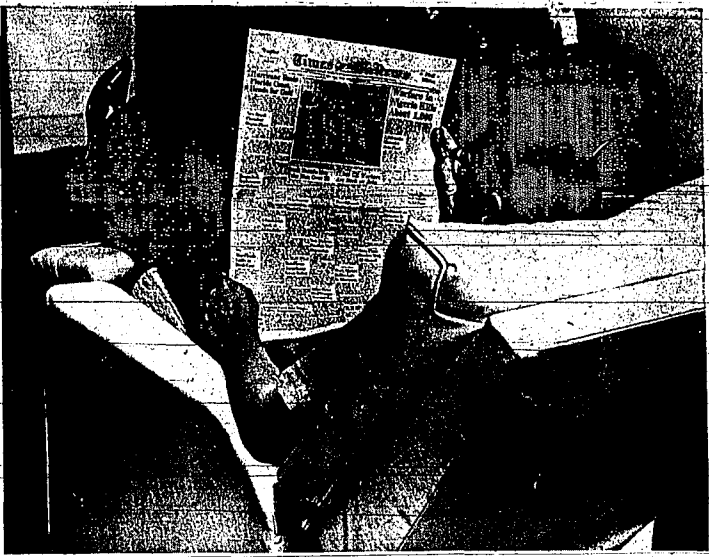

The society section tells all the gals what all the other gals are doing and the market page tells of all the ups-and-downs.

Through the letters to the editor the people can speak their piece — and you can answer if you want to.

And after you have read it and absorbed it — you can wrap the garbage in it, spread it on the floor to keep your knees clean when you scrub the kitchen; use it for insulation between the outer and inner walls of your home, or crunch it up and use it as the "starter" for that nice fire in the fireplace.

Dream Drug Could Aid Alcholies

By JOHN BARBOUR
Associated Press Science Writer

VIEJAS, Calif. (AP) — He is a half-destructive drinker. Alcohol leads him into trouble. It helped break up his marriage. Once he tried to kill himself.

Ten minutes ago — to help a way him away from drink — he received an injection of a controversial drug on trial.

LSD — a packaged bit of dreams that thrills, frightens, distorts, damages, depending on the mind that drinks it up, seeks it out. And depending on who gives the drug, and where.

It is a scary drug, defined by misuse, defended by hope, and too often endowed with magic by those who shouldn't have it.

But this is different. A minute after injection, he felt the first effects. Now he is somewhere between his mind and his lungs; in a dream world, riding a single strand of color in a changing ballet of multi-hued pipe cleaners, ribbons and spheres. Everything is pure.

The only nation his companions have of what he sees behind his black eyelids are his infrequent whispered words, his trailing, unfinished sentence: "Have you ever seen — when you're at the seashore — the skeleton of a crab, so clean from the sea. Well this is ... I don't ever want to forget this. His hands move to the music like two frail birds afraid to fly. His lips and chin are drawn tight in a tense, closed smile as if pleasure were welling up from his breast into his throat, and he was afraid it would escape.

The drug is called chemically d-lysergic acid diethylamide. Its effects are unpredictable, mystical, beautiful and potentially dangerous. It is easy to make difficult to control. Its action is varied as the persons that use it. Its repeated use seems to leave its mark on the personality. It can strip a psychotic of the defenses that shield him from the world. It has been all but banned by the federal government. It has been taken by philosophers, musicians, doctors, writers, dope addicts and kids bent on kicks. Each tastes it differently.

In this small camp in the rugged mountains outside San Diego, LSD is being tried on carefully selected subjects as a treatment for alcoholism, one of a handful of experiments conducted and supported by the National Institute of Mental Health.

The indications are hopeful.

But the tests have barely begun. Reached the half-way mark, have about 10 years in run, and the psychiatrists who guide them are well aware of the tight grip alcoholism has on its victims, of the frailty and temporary ranges of good resolves.

Each month a group of volunteers at this county honor camp are given the drug in a controlled study administered through the Vista Hill Psychiatric Foundation to determine if LSD can pull alcoholics away from the path of drink.

Dr. Keith Dittman, psychiatrist at the University of California at Los Angeles, who heads the study, prefers to withhold judgment. He has had LSD himself, as have other doctors on the team. They know many of its effects, but not enough exactly how the drug works, whether it temporarily upsets the chemical balance of the brain and nervous system, where the site of action is, whether the drug blocks or endows the brain with new powers.

Dittman explains that LSD makes a person more open to suggestion from outside stimuli, more impressionable. If you look at the human brain as a camera, he says, the effect of LSD is to increase the speed of the film, make it more sensitive.

For some susceptible individuals, and a massive LSD experience, there is often a religious-like conversion. For alcoholics who often have a sort of gun barrel view of the world, LSD can conceivably provide a broadening, fulfilling experience.

The hope is that the alcoholic's LSD experience can somehow open his mind to his own past, help him see if more clearly, erase in one great purging some of the troublesome ruminations that have led his life astray.

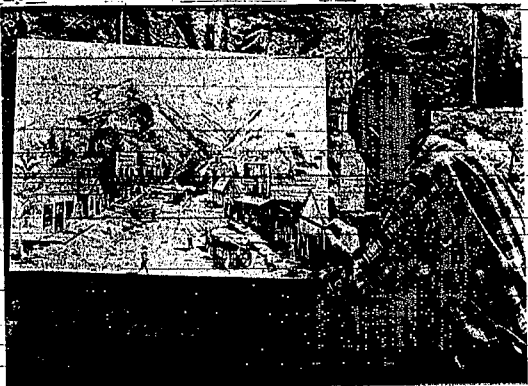

Perhaps Dittman's 3-year-old daughter, Cynthia, caught the real meaning of LSD, from overheard remarks when she told her father: "Oh, I know what LSD is. It's the stuff that puts you into your imagination."

It is difficult to be more specific than that. The drug works within the course of a single experience. Shortly after having his injection, one man vomited and screamed. "Why do you doctors want to get someone through this? ... It could destroy someone's mind ... You could destroy someone's mind ... It would be terrible."

Yet at the end, this same man was saying, "I really saw my

EXAMINING ONE OF HIS many paintings of Idaho's ghost towns is Rex Painter, Halley, whose work was on display recently at the Ketchum Grady School. Some of his oils will be hung in the Blaine County Historical Museum at Halley next summer and at the Idaho Historical Museum at Boise this winter. He has spent the past 10 years gathering authentic information about ghost towns. (Times-News photo)

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

Of much interest to all who viewed the exhibits at the grade school gymnasium in Ketchum recently were the 22 oil paintings of Idaho's Ghost Towns by REX PAINTER, Halley, Painter, who has spent the past 10 years gathering authentic information and looking at photographs owned by old timers of the different areas, says there are no duplications of the paintings.

It is planned to hang them in the Idaho Historical Museum at Boise for a time this winter. Next summer they will be hung for a time in the Blaine County Historical Museum at Halley, and at the Historical Museum which will be operated by the U.S. Forest Service at Custer.

Painter, who was born and raised in GOODING, comes from a pioneer family of that area, and is the son of the late J. C. Painter of Painter's IGA store there.

High School graduate, now teaching in San Jose, Calif., has been named "Teacher of the Year" by the San Jose Teachers' Association.

The honored man is the son of Clive Lindsay, DELO, and the late Mrs. Virginia Lindsay. He has often visited in the Delo area with friends and relatives.

Lindsay was cited for taking his students to musical comedies, plays and comedies in the Bay area as well as making special efforts to provide music lessons for students.

Reports indicate that he gives students "something extra" to students with whom he works, taking a personal interest in each individual.

In addition to school activities, Lindsay is active in community and church affairs. He has been granted an eight week leave from school to entertain American servicemen in three European countries. He will tour Italy, France and Germany on behalf of the U.S. Defense Dept., as part of the "Gus Lease Show" which left in September for Europe.

Lindsay is not married. He has one sister, Catherine Lindsay, who is a music instructor in San Francisco, and one brother, Clive Lindsay, who teaches music in Mountain Home.

HERBS AND BUGS: Will herbs in the rose-of-flower garden actually keep bugs out? We asked this question some time ago and several readers said they use herbs to keep out bugs. Some don't think it works one bit.

One writes: "I raise 37 different kinds of herbs in my garden, and I can truthfully say that it doesn't do a bit of good in keeping bugs away. I have to use a spray to kill off the bugs. Don't tell people to put herbs in the garden to kill the bugs, because it doesn't work! The purpose of herbs is to flavor foods, not to drive bugs away."

Another reader: "I made a brew out of our garlic and sprayed it on our plants. We didn't use any other insecticide and the garlic juice did a good job of keeping bugs out of the garden."

I'd like to hear from our readers about this, and hope we get a lot of letters, pro and con on the subject of growing herbs to ward off bugs.

POTATOES INDOORS: Did you know you can grow a pot of potatoes in your window and get a nice green vine with flowers on it? One of our readers put 2 or 3 small tubers in a 12" clay pot and covered them with soil. The tubers sent out a vine and the vine grew along the window. These flowers and produced lots of small tubers inside the pot.

The vine was cut off and the tubers were knocked out of the pot and cooked for supper. This is a good item to add to your bulletin, "Tiny Gardens for Tiny Tubs."

Some time ago, friends, I'm making a collection of Tiny Tubs tips and hope you will send them to me so we can write a new bulletin for all you mothers who want to keep your children interested in growing things. Send me your hints for our revised bulletin, "Tiny Gardens for Tiny Tubs."

FROZEN GREEN TOMATOES: Don't throw away those green tomatoes! Try this suggestion: Slice green tomatoes, dip into salted meal, put in a layer of tomatoes on cookie sheet. You can use wax paper and make several layers. Freeze, then put in plastic bags. When you want to cook them, fry in hot grease while still frozen.

WASPS AND HORNETS: Right now is a good time for doing something about wasps and hornets around the home. Try to remove the nest at dusk when all the insects are home. Since there's less chance of being stung then, burning the nest is best because of the hazard of catching buildings on fire. Spray the nest first with an aerosol spray (garden stores handle it) and then the bees and then you can gingerly remove the nest and drop it into a burial bag. Some yellow jackets will build nests in the wall. You can knock them out by applying chloroform dust liberally over the nesting area. Then water it in thoroughly with a garden hose.

Castleford Lists Honor Students

CASTLEFORD — Supt. Floyd Bowers announces the Castleford honor roll students.

Seniors are Judy Deatherage, Don Grayback, Penny Kuy, Sheila Baughman, Priscilla Martens, Carolyn Potocsek and Jill Quigley. Juniors include Charles Barinaga, Connie Glander, Doug Johns, Rose Mahanama, Mai Martens, Eileen Potocsek and Jeannette Reese.

Sophomores are Linda Barinaga, Bob Becker, Mike Grayback, Elvira Kennedy and Ernest Reinhold. Freshmen are Joy Barinaga, Vicki Bybee, Jan Quigley, Fred Reese, Bob Ripa, Joey Bauling and Steve Wright.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK: S.R. of Twin Falls: "For several years we've been raising sunflowers to feed the birds in winter. After we harvest the blossoms and put them in our garage to dry, the fleshy part of the blossoms mold, and many of the seeds have to be discarded. Please tell us what can be done to save the seeds?"

Moisture collecting in the seed pods is responsible for molding. The best way to prevent it is to collect the heads and heat-dry them as quickly as possible. We do this by placing the heads in front of an electric fan for an hour or so. This drives the moisture out and discourages molding. After that the heads can be hung upside down in a garage or attic.

I'd like to suggest that you understore seeds. Seeds should be cut as soon as they start to take on a brownish tinge. If you wait too long the birds will beat you to the seeds.

D. D. of Burley: "We put some rose cuttings in the ground and covered them with a glass jar (bottom removed) just as you had suggested. Now we're wondering what should be done to keep the cuttings over winter."

Just make sure that the soil is moist. That's the No. 1 requirement. Leave the jars on the cuttings all winter long and when spring rolls around you can take a look to see if the cuttings have rooted sufficiently. If they have, you can remove them in the rose bed or in a permanent spot where they will flower. If they haven't rooted by spring, leave them under the jar until they've started.

A. C. Aberdeen: "We have a spot that gets plenty of shade and we just can't get grass to grow there. How would you handle a situation like that?"

In real dense shade it's impossible to grow any grass and your best bet is to put in a stone patio or a layer of crushed stone. You can also cut out some limit above to let light in.

For medium shade you can use a mixture of red fescue and Poa trivialis (rough stalk meadow grass).

Where the grass gets plenty of sun you can use Merion bluegrass alone or a mixture of Merion bluegrass and Kentucky bluegrass. Don't use bluegrass in dense shade or you'll waste your money.

Controlled Pronghorn Hunts Popular In Idaho; 1,690 Permits Allotted

By JIM HUMBERT
Idaho Fish and Game Department controlled pronghorn antelope hunts now are under way in the headwaters of the Big and Little Lost Rivers, the Snake and Pahsimetui river drainages, and from the latitude of Arco and Mud Lake in Blaine and Jefferson counties north of the Salmon River, with a few more for good measure in southwestern Idaho in Owyhee County.

Altogether, 1,690 permits for controlled pronghorn hunts were allotted by chance at public drawings held this summer. The State by the Idaho Fish and Game Department. At least three times as many people wanted to hunt antelope this year as there were permits available for controlled hunts.

Possessing many characteristics not found in other hoofed game animals, the bucks have horns averaging 10 to 12 inches long (trophy heads are bigger) with sharp curved tip and single fork or prong jutting forward about midway on the beam. This is the pronghorn, which gives the animal its descriptive name. Nonetheless, "antelope" is the common name for this prized trophy species throughout Idaho and the West. This distinctive pronghorn with the African species to which they are indeed related, but only distantly.

For example, the American pronghorn is the only antelope in the world which sheds its horns every year. These are dropped during the early fall or winter, and are fortunately not before hunting season ends, leaving only a bony horn core from which new growth develops the next spring.

Unlike other hoofed game animals, the pronghorn has only two toes on each foot without even a trace of dew claw. It also has a gall bladder, which deer, for example, do not have. The graceful, though ungainly, antelope is known for its color, with contrasting lighter underparts, neck bars and rump. Dark patches below the ears distinguish many pronghorns are the most fleet-footed of American mammals, the long slender legs capable of speeds up to 40 miles per hour.

Early pioneers found the pronghorn antelope plentiful, and mentioned the graceful, every hunt speckled many times in their journals, but all that had changed by the time Idaho's earliest game laws were written.

In 1903 the regulation stated that "the hunting and killing of moose, buffalo, caribou and antelope is perpetually prohibited." The four animals were considered in danger of extermination in the state.

Fortunately, for pronghorn, two of those fine Idaho trophy species — the pronghorn antelope and the moose — have been removed from the list "perpetually" prohibiting all hunting of them. Sound game management practices, based on reliable herd trend, information and selective range conditions make it possible for hunters to harvest an average of nearly 1,000 pronghorns every year.

"Much of this successful pronghorn management story is summarized in the current issue of the Idaho Wildlife Review, collaborating in the writing of the lead article 'Pronghorn Antelope,' The Editors: Rimmer, Earl Nielson, his game supervisor of the Idaho Fish and Game Department, and Dr. Edson Fiechter, zoology professor at Idaho State University, and widely recognized authority on this animal species.

half of them will reach the ripe old age of 90 days." In addition, field work points up a real need for more investigative work on the pronghorn, with emphasis on the basic nutritional requirements of the animal itself. These requirements need to be related directly to forage available.

"Moisture — as it relates to forage quality and quantity (both seasonally and from year to year) may be of critical importance. Undoubtedly, soil fertility also affects plant growth. Detailed range analysis, including classification of soil and vegetative types, is needed.

"These are some of the factors which should be determined," Nielson and Fiechter conclude, "if we are to refine our management of this fine game animal."

Extensive aerial census work began about halfway through the decade of the 1940's. As this became more refined, attempts were made to learn pronghorn reproductive success, beginning in 1956.

At first the main work centered about the observations of undisturbed pronghorn does and fawns on the fawning range. The critical time was believed to be the first 90 days of a fawn's life. Workers hoped that a knowledge of this might give them a lead into the reasons for the serious drop in pronghorn numbers over the past 15 years or so.

"Pronghorn does produce their first young at two years of age," the authors continue. "A total of 105 embryos were checked during examination of the reproductive tracts of 53 breeding age does. This indicates that almost every doe older than one year has twin fawns every year."

"They conclude that many pronghorn fawns die during the first few weeks of life, a pattern which has remained steady during the three years of intensive on-the-ground observations.

Today many of the so-called "big" newspapers are one of a class of publications with a central control. Two London, England papers, each with circulation of more than four million, are the largest in the world. In the United States, the New York Daily News, with a circulation of two million, is the largest.

Down through the years the methods used to get out a newspaper have changed drastically. In the early days the type was all set by hand and the printing was slow. Now big machines set the type — some even automatically — and the great newspaper presses throw out thousands of copies an hour.

Though the times change and the methods change, one thing is true: a newspaper will never change. A scoop will always be a story obtained exclusively by a newspaper without knowledge of its competitors.

A morgue will always be the newspaper's research library. The editor will always be the opening paragraph of a story and the buried lead will always be important facts in a newspaper's news story.

MAGIC VALLEY PORTRAIT Adequate Landing Fields, Government Aid Will Result in Airline Growth

An adequate airport in this area, or in Twin Falls County, would result in major regional usage and would be the answer to transportation problems.

This is the opinion of Kenneth Hepner who should know what he is talking about.

With over 11,300 hours of flying in his credit in all types of general aviation planes, he is convinced that the regional airport concept, which is being studied here, will be adopted throughout the nation.

Under the regional setup, areas like Salt Lake City would have "big jet" airports, while the "medium" jet lines feeding into it. These medium lines would stop at such places as Twin Falls and possibly Idaho Falls in the end of the state if fields were adequate.

Into these "medium" fields, smaller planes would haul passengers, freight, mail and air mail from such fields as those at Gooding, Hailey and Burley.

"It would set up in a tight network of airlines which would permit people to go practically anywhere in the nation," Hepner said.

With airlines spread over the nation, some form of federal subsidy would have to appear. Hepner is of the opinion that this concept of transportation from the small feeder planes right up to the large ones and with smaller lines receiving adequate financial help "is only three or four years away."

Hepner, who is now chief pilot of the Redder Flying Service at Joslin Field and who holds an appointment as AAA flight examiner for private, commercial, instrument and multi-engine ratings, has been flying since he was 15 years old.

He earned his first flying lessons in Redmond, Ore., by washing and gasping planes at the airport there. His first lesson came in a two-place Luscombe.

It was in 1949 that he decided to get a license and in 1950 he received his private pilot rating at the start of the year and his commercial license, the latter part of that same year.

He is a flight instructor, charter pilot, aerial fire fighter and crop duster. He has flown in all parts of the United States, Canada, Mexico and Alaska.

Born at Bend, Ore., he still is quite sure what gave him the idea to follow aviation as a career. His father was in the lumber business, "which," he said, "is just about as far away from flying as you can get."

When the family moved to Redmond, he attended grade and high school there and then attended Oregon State College (now University).

But the love of flying persisted and he left school to engage in what turned out to be one of the most interesting portions of his career.

He became what could be called a "rainmaker." He was not the kind of moisture gatherer who went through various motions and said mysterious words.

He was a modern rainmaker — one who seeded clouds for the purpose of producing moisture. "And the peculiar thing was that it worked. In fact, there was one time when one section of the area in which we were working wanted to file court suit because they said our operation was taking away rain they would normally get," he laughed.

As a rain pilot he is one of only about 25 who have done this type of flying.

He engaged in this type of special flying for two years and the rain job was done for grain growers in Oregon.

Technically the work was known as "weather modification flying," but to the news of the day it was just plain rain making and got the headlines.

KENNETH HEPNER

and will be able to bring moisture to the areas needing it," he said.

"And I think it will be done without pilots having to fly into those thunderheads and getting the daylight scared out of them."

Hepner came to Twin Falls three years ago and since that time has been active in many community programs and church work. He has spoken to numerous groups on aviation and these audiences included both businessmen and students.

"I like to engage in community projects which will provide benefit to everyone," he said, "but sometimes right in the middle of a drive someone wants to go somewhere and frankly speaking, I just have to fly away."

Hepner and his wife, Georgia, were married in Madras, Ore., where they met. Mrs. Hepner, however, is a native of Idaho.

The Hepners reside at 710 Locust St. They have four children. Trudy, 16, is a sophomore at the Twin Falls High School; Kevin, 13, is in the eighth grade at O'Leary; Kenneth, 7, is a second grader at Morningstar; and Kelly, 5, is in kindergarten.

"I think that someday soon man will control the weather and he left school to engage in what turned out to be one of the most interesting portions of his career."

Variety Is Urged in Food Choice

WASHINGTON (AP) — Housewives struggling against rising food costs were told Thursday to "get off the old meat and potatoes routine" and try cheaper European gourmet dishes.

One more thing: Leave your husband home when you shop. These and more hints for beating the cash register came at a news conference by grocer and government spokesmen who plan nationwide distribution of a pamphlet with food-saving ideas.

As of August, food prices are up 5.3 per cent over last year. The Bureau of Labor Statistics claims you can still feed a family of four on $25 a week.

"Variety and planning," Esther Peterson, President Johnson's special assistant on consumer affairs, said, "is the key. Housewives want to buy and they want to save money. They need to get off the old meat and potatoes routine. It's expensive."

Clarence G. Adamy, president of the National Association of Food Chains, said the Europeans know how to do it. "Lots of prime gourmet dishes in Europe are really very cheap when you look at what's in them."

"We're experiencing a general inflationary pressure," Adamy said. "Prices are higher. You just have to know how to do it."

The grocer suggestions: 1. Shop weekly specials. Beef is plentiful now, pork is not. Beef is a delicacy in some countries. (Beef is up 2 per cent over last year, canned ham up 9 per cent, eggs up 22 per cent, bread up 10 per cent. Fresh vegetables are down in price.)

2. Buy when supplies are plentiful. Lettuce, for instance, changes price 400 times a year. When the price is high, quality is low. If it's 39 cents, skip it.

3. Try lower-priced brands and grades. House brands are generally good. Buy a list and stick to it. Grocers said impulse buyers definitely are profitable for them.

4. Substitute. Instead of bread and milk, try dry old bread and powdered milk. Instead of red meat, try poultry and fish. Instead of molasses, try bran, cheese and egg dishes.

5. Partially prepared items, and convenience foods, are a ten more costly. Figure the cost of a serving from a large box. Hot cereal is even cheaper.

6. Whole fruits and vegetables are a can. Buy a can. Buy a can. Buy a can. Fruits in light syrup cost less than fruits in heavy syrup.

There is a lot less newspaper — eight now in the United States than there were, say, 50 or 100 years ago. It is the old law of the survival of the fittest, or perhaps the law of supply and demand. The weak newspapers, like anything weak, slip away. The strong publications hang on and grow. The growth is found among those which serve the city in which they are published.

How many newspapers are there in the United States? Probably nobody knows for sure, but a good estimate is 1,800 daily and 10,000 weekly and semi-weekly publications.

History tells us that it started — in America, at least — back in 1787 when the first newspaper was published in the American colonies. It was called the "Publick Occurrences Both Foreign and Domestic" and it was issued by a fellow by the name of Benjamin Harris. This Boston paper was suppressed after the first issue.

Benjamin Harris had got in trouble in England for "bold printing" and he had fled to America. No other papers were published until 1794 when John Campbell started the "Boston News-Letter." In 1721 another publication came out in Boston. It was the "New England-Courant" which James Franklin started. His brother, whose first name was Benjamin, was employed in the shop.

When the Revolution started there were a total of 35 newspapers in the colonies. George Washington and Thomas Jefferson were among the influential people who subscribed to one or more newspapers. And, of course, they were among the good moral builders.

Councilmen Eye Shelter in Park

SHOSHONE — Members of the Rotary club met with city councilmen Tuesday night to discuss the possibility of placing a shelter area at the Mary L. Gooding Park, for convenience of people wishing to picnic out of the sun on storm.

Councilmen will consider the matter further after discussing it with the park board. John Thomas and Herb Love represented the Rotary club Tuesday night.

R. L. Baumann reported that the street work outlined for this summer is nearing completion at this time.

Further investigation will be made into the possibility of purchasing a road roller for the city.

Commended

SHOSHONE — A letter of commendation honoring Melinda Broyles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Broyles, Shoshone, was received by the local high school, according to Principal Carl E. Kinney.

Mrs. Broyles is among 36,000 students in the United States who scored in the upper two per cent of those who will graduate from high school next spring in the tests given by the 1966 National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test.

VATICAN MONEY has been struck for several years and the two illustrations above show the front and back of such a coin. This is a "Lira" and is valued at very little by U.S. standards. (Times-News photos)

The Money Box

BY FRANK SCHIELL

First question this week comes from Mrs. L. R. Twin Falls, who sends a tracing of a coin and asks: "What kind of coin is this — or is it a coin. What is it worth?"

Answer: Your coin is a 2-Lira piece of Pope Pius XII. The coin was struck between 1942 and 1946. The Vatican City is an independent state in Rome, owned by the Roman Catholic Church. Its present area includes about 1087 square acres and includes St. Peter's Church, the Vatican Palace and the museum.

The Vatican has struck coinage for some years, changing designs under each pope of the church. Your particular coin is struck from stainless steel. The "Lira" is valued at about .0016 in United States money — your coin is worth twice that — which still doesn't amount to much value. Collector value on the coin is around $6. It is a brand new. (See illustration.)

Mrs. G. E. R. Burley, asks about Indian Head cents, and their values. Since this is an over-repeated question, we will attempt to explain something about these coins.

The Indian Head Cent originated in 1859. Contrary to popular opinion, a great many of these coins are not valuable — indeed they are worth less than a great many coins struck after they were.

These coins were struck in both copper nickel and bronze. From 1859 until 1864, they were copper nickel, and in two designs. The 1859 had a wreath around the "One Cent" on the reverse, but no shield at the top, as is evident on later issues. Both the bronze and copper nickel were struck in 1864, and the coin was bronze from that time on.

The main reason for the low value of most of these coins is the fact that existing specimens are badly worn. While Indian Cent is the "very fine" and uncirculated condition are quite valuable, a great many exist in badly circulated condition.

Only a very few of the dates are worth a lot of money over

Fred Waring Still Goes On Bus Tours

NEW YORK (AP) — Fred Waring is still riding the bus. "Why is everybody so surprised?" he asks. "How else would I get, say from Richmond, Wash., to Spokane in the dead of winter?"

The reason for surprise is that Fred Waring, 50 years in show business, might be expected to be taking it easy. He might even be expected not to be on tour in the dead of winter, at all.

But to the 65-year-old Waring, the most natural thing in the world is to spend five months on a bus taking a choral music show to nearly 150 towns, cities and college campuses.

His following principles tested during the 50 years — keep learning, work, and make sure the audience understands the words.

Waring's first "professional booking" was in a park on a Saturday night, July 1, 1917, in Allentown, Pa. Rain came down and broke heads. Broke but Fred, his brother Tom, Policy McClintock and Fred Buck — high school buddies from Tyrone, Pa., 18 miles away — sang their music, loud and clear.

The Pennsylvanians really date from that tour in Allentown. After that, the quartet called a "banquet" and played for dances for $3 an evening, picked up members during the next days at Penn State, started calling itself the Pennsylvanians in 1921, and in the 30s added girls' voices and went in singing for beautifully emceed singings.

In the past 15 years, 25 Pennsylvanians have been Miss America candidates and one, Jackie Mayer, was Miss America. There's a big changeover in personnel — with the girls it's mostly matrimonial — in the group in New York, 100 former Pennsylvanians on the last 20 years. Of the original four, Tom Waring starred, Fred Buck died, Policy McClintock is still in the group.

At 65, golden-anniversary-banquet in New York, 100 former Pennsylvanians put on a two-hour show, from the familiar opening theme, "Dear Mother, the clearing, "Dream, Dream, Dream."

Waring kept an eye on other bands and entertainers and learned from their mistakes and their triumphs. The most triumphant of all, Waring believes, was Paul Whiteman.

"He gave us jazz dressed up and purified. Before him, everybody said it was sounds from a jungle. Whiteman printed 50¢ special group — of musicians — played it in a concert hall and made it acceptable to listen to. We were still touring and we're still learning."

Waring says, "Touring is the show business which is really satisfying and rewarding. You have to know whether people like you. I don't know any other way except by going to them."

Each of them is sold on the United Fund idea and each, in turn, hopes to sell the idea to others.

"The loaned executives" working at the present time are the firms which they are high ranking members include William H. Miller, assistant cashier of the Fidelity National Bank of Twin Falls; Lloyd Duncan, junior executive of the First Security Bank, Twin Falls; Don Keith, on the staff of the College of Southern Idaho; Gus Flowers, executive of the Reliance Credit Corp.; Vern Gilbert, from the staff at the local Sears store.

Don Bizzell, commercial representative of the Mountain States Telephone Co., James Barnhart, a member of the city administration; Roy Russell, with Simplot Soilbuilders; L. D. (Whitey) Jones, with Theisen Motors, Inc.

Edward V. McCullough, wholesale department official with Young's Dairy; Richard Sullivan, on the management training staff of Sears, Twin Falls.

The purpose behind the loaned executive idea is to assure the campaign that the larger employee groups within the community will be handled by carefully briefed and fully trained solicitors. Each loaned executive is responsible for the employee and executive solicitation within the firms assigned to him. Each man will handle approximately 25 accounts.

This year the chapter plan is being explored by the United Fund organization. A United Fund chapter is any business, firm, organization or other group whose executives and employees organize and conduct a single annual solicitation among the employees according to the stipulation of the chapter agreement.

It is felt by fund officials that such a recognized policy will be the basis of understanding in regard to the firm's relationship with social agencies, United Fund volunteers and staff, and the community at large.

As Ivan Skinner, United Fund president, said: "This entire campaign planned to benefit the community. If everyone gives then everyone will benefit. The theory of one drive rather than a series of drives for separate groups throughout the year is what is behind the entire United Fund idea."

In Twin Falls and surrounding area—the initial campaign setups of the drive are underway at the present time.

It is true too of other volunteers after LSD — long periods of no drinking, or long periods of reduced drinking. It is also true that some have altered their old ways, as if LSD and Viejas never existed.

The LSD subjects are carefully screened by batteries of tests to make certain that their mental and emotional and physical equipment will not be deranged by the drug.

The results are coded for analysis later when the study is completed by May 1968. The men will be followed up personally by social workers, and if they have the worst of the traceable, by federal and state arrest records.

The San Diego Honor Camp question, which appears, Viejas and other camps in these mountains plays a big part in the program. The aim is to recruit troublemakers toward useful roles in society.

Bushy Haired TV Star Is Full of Pep

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Phyllis Diller, in a purple miniskirt, was tapping frantically about the tops of automobiles for her final scenes of "Eight on the Lam," her second movie with Bob Hope.

Four days later—the wild-haired comedienne would be back filming her television series, "The Fruits of Southampton." She has three more Hope pictures scheduled and plans to produce a movie of her own. Several TV specials await her availability.

Where does she get such drive?

"It's psychic," said Phyllis, 48, between takes. "My work is my play. I'm a doer, self-motivated, inner-driven, vitally interested in everything, all life. I love to read and play the piano. I'm the world's greatest cook — and humble about it!"

Her laugh, offstage as on, is like the cry of a wild goose in conversation, like her monologues, is sprinkled with "are you ready?" and "right?"

Garbage soup, as she calls it, also helps energize her, Miss Diller implied.

"You save the juice from anything you boil, add water, oxalic acid, bones, onions, garlic, tomatoes — you don't throw anything away — it's delicious."

The neighborhood she lives in is far from Broadway. Her 22-room home of a year, Phyllis said, is exactly what she visualized for herself 21 years ago. It contains six pianos, a grand piano, two sets of drums, a saxophone, a flute and zither, and "everybody plays everything."

Three of her five children remain at home with the star, who rose to the top in night club singing, her job as a copywriter-publisher in a San Francisco radio station 11 years ago. She is separated from her second husband, entertainer Ward Donovan.

"I don't accept negative thoughts or comments," she said. "Most people feel the pawns on the chessboard of fate. I don't. I feel I'm free. I have plans that go on till I'm a hundred."

Sunday School Class Still Active After 56 Years

BY NORMA HERZINGER

Fifty-six years is a long time, and to have a reunion or anniversary celebration in observance of more than five and one-half decades of service is definitely an anticipated event.

Approximately 100 persons attended the gala event, including six charter members and eight former members residing in other states.

The luncheon tables were beautifully decorated and the head table was centered with a white anniversary cake decorated in blue. A memory table was set up at one side of the room, displaying pictures, mementos and club books dating back to the early years. This table was a favorite of most guests, bringing back many wonderful memories as they reminisced with their old friends, some of which moved out of the state shortly after the class was organized.

Mrs. Leona Hann was general chairman of the event, assisted by Mrs. Floyd Lilly, toastmistress; Mrs. Emma Steffen, welcome; Laura Heller, response; Mrs. Ima Evans, invocation; Mrs. Lionel Dean, class history; Mrs. Otis Hall and Marian Turner, communications; Mrs. Helen Taylor, memorial, and Mrs. Bernard Murray, benediction. Special music was provided by a woman's trio, Mrs. Leona Gilbert, Mrs. Pearl McMullin and Mrs. Carl Snow.

Charter members present included Mrs. Heller, Castleford; Mrs. Alta Siggins, Twin Falls; Mrs. Harriet Tumey, Puyallup, Wash.; Mrs. Alexa Axon, Buhl; Mrs. Laura Knicker, Twin Falls, and Mrs. Hazel Brabb, Buhl.

Former members attending from out-of-state included:

Mary was the first teacher for the group, with Mary Seckman as president; Laura Younger, vice president; Leola Davis, secretary; Alta Henderson, treasurer; Hattie Seckman, visitor; Grace Bellville, librarian; Elbertine Mary, entertainer; and Alex Neumann, reporter.

Amoma, a Greek word meaning blameless, is used in Baptist Churches to promote Bible study and Christian growth among women, and has been used by the local group down through the years.

The first event recorded for the Amoma Class was for the church was a reception Oct. 13, 1911, in observance of the unit's first anniversary. That might have been the first event, but certainly not the last. Through the years the Amoma Class has been one of the main powers of the local church, spiritually, helpfully and financially.

One of the Amoma Class fundraising projects, very famous with all Magic Valley residents, is the food booth at the Twin Falls County Fair. This food booth was originated by Goldie Leonard, in 1947. That first year the booth netted $581.25. The popularity of the booth became known and more and more people patronized it to sample the homemade pies and other goodies offered by the fine cooks in the class.

"The business of the booth has grown from the more than $300 profit to approximately $2,000 each year for the past several years. A report was given at the luncheon that the Amoma Class has paid to the new church building fund, from 1944 to 1961, between eight and nine thousand dollars.

The class has always been taught by women except for this year, when Russell Biggs accepted the position. Some of the instructors for the past 56 years

Holland Repeat
Wedding Vows

JEROME— Linda Sue Milligan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vergil Milligan, Jerome, became the bride of Gary Robert Holland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Holland, Twin Falls, at an evening ceremony Sept. 3 at the First Christian Church.

Rev. Harold Robbins performed the rites before the altar, which was flanked by baskets of white and orchid gladioli tied with orchid satin bows, and candelabra bearing lighted white tapers and trimmed with fern.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride came down an aisle decorated with clusters of orchid gladioli caught in white satin bows marking the pews. She wore a floor-length gown of white bridal lace featuring a square scalloped neckline and longilly point sleeves. The full skirt fell into a chapel train. Her bouffant shoulder-length veil of illusion was held by a tangle of net petals encrusted with seed pearls.

She carried a bouquet of feathered white carnations, surrounding a white orchid and tied with orchid satin streamers. Her only jewelry was a heart-shaped pendant necklace, a gift from the bridegroom.

Soloist was Leanne Floyd, accompanied by Mrs. Oscar Fort.

Word of honor was Myrna Lee Bingham. Bridesmaids were Shawna Hymas, Ogden, Utah, and Yvette Walker, Houston, Tex. Shonna Bragg and Linda Goch served as candlelighters and Shelley Box was flower girl. Best man was Ernest Cobbley, Las Vegas, Nev., and ushers were Barney Baker, Burley, and Steve Holland, Twin Falls, brother of the groom.

A reception was held after the ceremony in the fellowship hall of the church, with members of the Christian Women's Fellowship serving as hostesses.

Francie White, registered guests and Mrs. Lynn McCord and Shirley Fuller were in charge of the gift table. Patty Sommers and Penny Main served as gift bearers.

The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth over orchid and centered with the wedding cake, flanked by silver candelabra holding white tapers. A serpentine arrangement of ivy and white chrysanthemums decorated the table and encircled the base of the cake. The cake was made in three tiers, separated by swans and star ribbons. The layers were decorated with orchid-colored hearts and were crowned with a cluster of silver bells.

LEARN HOW TO MAKE PERFECT FUDGE, PEANUT BRITTLE, AFTER DINNER MINTS

Mr. Davenport makes three candies before the class, and thereby teaches ten kinds of related candies. In making creamed fudge, he shows how to make such candies as fondant, divinity, and Mexican Penuche. In making after-dinner mints, he shows how to make taffy and molasses suckers. And with the making of peanut brittle, he gives sufficient information to enable the class to make English Toffee, pop-corn crisp, and nut glaze.

Find the answers to such questions as "What makes my candy turn to sugar?", "What makes candy curdle?", "Why do some recipes say cook without stirring?", "Why does it take so long for my fudge to get creamy, and for divinity to set up?" And the answers to others YOU may ask at the Candy school.

Mr. E. Remington Davenport has been a professional candymaker for 27 years. He has traveled in Europe and all parts of the United States, exchanging secrets with top professional candymakers. He is also the author of two books on candy-making. These books will be available to those desiring them but there is absolutely no obligation to buy. South could have bid seven spades right over five but saw no reason to do more than show his ace of hearts. North's failure to bid the grand slam was not an example of passing the buck.

North reasoned that his partner might hold something in clubs instead of the king of spades. He also felt sure that South would go on to seven with a decent spade suit and South did not disappoint him.
