

Syria Recruits Army for Battle Against Israel

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — The Syrian government began recruiting civilians today for a volunteer defense army against Israel, but diplomatic sources reported it also has given private assurances it will try to halt terrorist commando raids into Israel. Guerrilla raids by Asfira—forces of the Tempest—commandos based in Syria have sparked a debate in the U.N. Security Council about the border tensions between Israel and Syria.

The Syrian government called for civilians to volunteer for a defense army as the Middle East's war of nerves remained taut.

"Following recent aggressive threats by Israel we call upon the citizens to volunteer to carry arms in a popular defense army which will share with the regular armed forces the burden of defending Syria against any aggression," Damascus radio said Tuesday night in a series of broadcasts.

It said 20 recruiting centers would open in the capital today.

Tension continued high along the Syrian-Israeli border, scene of a series of incidents in the past two weeks.

The U.N. Security Council was debating an Israeli charge that Syria is trying to incite a new Arab war against Israel.

Despite supervision by a U.N. Mixed Armistice Commission, the boundary between the two countries has been the scene of increasing air ground and sea incidents during the last year. Both sides accuse the other of aggression.

Nurses End Walkout at Big Hospital

CHICAGO (AP) — Practical nurses began to return to duty today at the huge Cook County Hospital, ending a two-day walkout.

A compromise wage agreement reached Tuesday night put an end to a dispute that prompted the nurses to call in.

"I don't think many of the practical nurses are missing this morning and I imagine all of them will return by the 4 p.m. shift," said Robert J. Mackie, executive director of the Cook County School of Nursing.

Medical aid terms of the agreement will not be made known until all the nurses are informed of them.

High Court Stops Merger Of Railroads

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has blocked the proposed Nov. 1 merger of the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads pending the hearing of arguments on Jan. 9, and a final decision on various objections.

The merger thus will be delayed at least until mid-January, and probably much later depending on how fast the Justice Dept. can reach a decision and prepare its opinion or opinions.

The merger would create the nation's largest rail system, with assets of more than $4 billion and nearly 20,000 miles of track.

The court issued two-page orders Tuesday ending the merger of the Pennsylvania, Erie, Pennsylvania and New Jersey lines and the Erie, Delaware and Lehigh lines.

Nobel Peace Prize Won't Be Awarded

OSLO, Norway (AP) — The Norwegian Nobel Committee decided after a two-hour meeting today not to award the Nobel Peace Prize for 1966.

It was the first time in 10 years the peace prize had been withheld—and the 31th time since the award was established in 1901 under the will of Alfred Nobel, Swedish inventor of dynamite.

Under previous practice, the prize money is held over until next year when the committee can decide whether to let it revert to the prize fund or award it.

The peace prize for 1965 went to UNICEF (United Nations Children's Fund). In 1964 it went to the U.S. civil rights leaders, Dr. Martin Luther King.

The prize money this year amounted to exactly $90,000 Swedish kroner ($35,315).

Negro Youths Stage Riot in Oakland

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Groups of Negro youths in East Oakland broke store windows and threw stones, bricks, and bottles at police and passing vehicles today in a riot.

Police, fearing a full-scale riot in the racially mixed area, called out reinforcements. A 30 p.m. curfew was restored after three hours.

Deputy Police Chief Ray Brown said a school bus called for today may have triggered the outbreak. Boycott organizers, concentrating on Negro students, are protesting the quality of Oakland education.

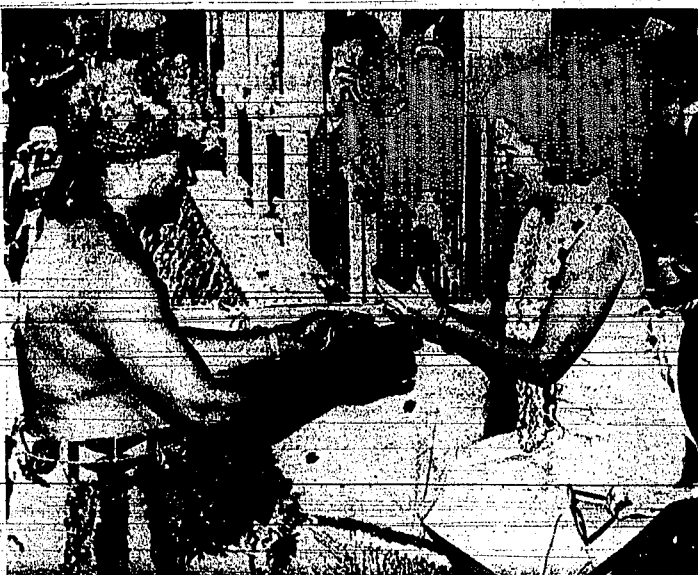

Hounds Search For Lost Hunter

GRANDEVILLE (AP) — Bloodhounds from Moscow were taken to the backwoods country of Idaho County Wednesday in an effort to find Tom DeGraff, 56, of Orofino, who has been missing from his hunting camp since Sunday.

The hunting party sent an appeal for aid by the radio broadcast which was picked up by Jerry Weiser of Renton, Wash., a ham operator who notified Idaho County Sheriff's office Monday.

Revenues Jump

WASHINGTON (AP) — Radio and television broadcasting revenues jumped 8.2 percent in 1965 to more than $2.7 billion, says the Federal Communications Commission.

Congress Nudges Major Bills Close to Final Action Point

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress nudged most of its remaining major bills close to the point of final action today. Leaders said they remained confident the 1966 session would adjourn by Saturday. Three priority bills were likely to be cleared to President Johnson during the day—a $1.75-billion antipoverty measure, a $1.20-billion demonstration cities bill and a packaging and labeling measure. Congress has acted on appropriations totaling about $144 billion this year, including $13 billion for interest on the public debt.

55-Second Quake Deals Severe Blow

CALLAO, Peru (AP) — A 5.5-second quake today dealt a blow from which it won't recover for years. At 4:42 p.m. Monday, Callao was bustling with the activity that goes with being Peru's major seaport and the maritime gateway to Lima, seven miles to the east. By 4:53, the shock wave from a massive earthquake a few miles offshore had struck the city with unbelievable force and 32 persons were dead or dying. Most were children crushed when roofs of the makeshift shacks in the slums known as barriadas collapsed.

More than 70 persons were hospitalized. Another 250 had minor injuries. Clans, plaster and walls of buildings tumbled into the streets or collapsed inward, trapping some residents.

Fans spread, then mounted as a rumor flashed through the city that a tidal wave was rushing toward the coast. There was a tidal wave, but it headed out into the Pacific, not inland, and disappeared.

"Pedestrians were warned away from buildings with gaping cracks in the walls along the main street. Homeowners and shopkeepers swept up glass and plaster and piled debris at the curb to wait the rescue trucks."

Life was returning to normal today. But the cracks in the buildings remained. The U.S. Embassy in Lima said no Americans were among the killed or injured.

U. S. Poses Question on Air Attacks

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States today posed a question on air attacks on Communist states which it would do if U. S. air attacks on the Communist state are called for.

U. S. Ambassador Arthur Goldberg posed the challenge in the closing minutes of the General Assembly debate which has centered on the war in Viet Nam.

Replying to Communist and nonaligned member states which have been calling for a halt in the bombing as an essential preliminary to any peace negotiations.

"We have considered this advance and having considered it, we would like to know from the Communist side what would happen if we followed it."

Gas Used to Aid Hostages Of Bronx Man

NEW YORK (AP) — Police used tear gas today to rout a man from a Bronx apartment, after a 30-minute siege in which he threatened to kill four hostages, including his estranged wife and daughter.

One of the two child hostages was injured, but it was not feared immediately how seriously.

The man was identified as Robert Phillips, who was handcuffed as he emerged cowering and weeping from the fifth-floor apartment at 430 E. 140th St., the police said.

"DISTURBED AND THEY THREATENED" Phillips was charged with two other murders—the beating of a 16-year-old Korean American girl on Oct. 4, and the later slaying of a woman, Mary Ann Dray, Tuesday, police charged. Phillips was charged with the slaying of the woman.

Police did not say how they believed Phillips was connected with the previous murders.

Johnson Is Welcomed in New Zealand

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP) — President Johnson got a colorful but restrained welcome to New Zealand today after leaving American soil 8,000 miles from Washington in exotic Pago Pago, a South Seas beauty spot never before visited by a U.S. chief executive. Johnson's crowd in this capital city of New Zealand was quite small by campaign standards back home, numbering in the thousands.

Johnson May Make Stop in Coeur d'Alene

COEUR D'ALENE, Idaho (AP) — President Johnson may make brief stops in Spokane and Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, before heading to Washington, D. C., from his Pacific tour, Mrs. Ellen Healey, Coeur d'Alene, Democratic national committeewoman for Idaho, said Tuesday.

The proposed stop in the Pacific Northwest are "pretty definite," she said, with the President's plane scheduled to set down at Spokane International Airport on Thursday.

"U. S. Rep. Compton L. White and Sen. Frank Church, both Idaho, have been working on plans for the Coeur d'Alene appearance. Until the Secret Service comes," she said, "we don't know where the plane will stop."

It's planned to bring the President and his party into downtown Coeur d'Alene for an address at the airport here, she said.

The House planned to complete action today on the Commerce Department bill which passed the Senate in routine fashion Tuesday. It would authorize funds to continue the program of a third year.

The House also scheduled a final vote on the demonstration cities bill which would inaugurate a program aimed at cleaning up blighted areas of selected cities. The Senate passed it Tuesday on a 38-22 roll call vote.

The Senate was expected to take up the final version of the bill by the end of the week. The House added a complication to the bill by voting to block President Johnson's proposal to allow the Export-Import Bank to finance commercial credits to Soviet bloc nations.

The administration was considered certain to try to get this killed in the Senate.

A 10-hour conference reached agreement Tuesday on two giant federal aid to education bills—a $1.1-billion elementary and secondary measure and a $3.7-billion higher education bill.

Growing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Census Bureau today estimated the total population of the United States at 196,226,000 as of Sept. 1. This was 9.4 per cent higher than the 1960 census count and 1.1 per cent above the same time last year.

Including servicemen abroad, the total population as of Sept. 1 was 197,223,000, the bureau estimated.

Officials expect the population to reach 200 million by the end of next year.

Motorists Are Alerted For Winter

BOISE (AP) — Idaho motorists were urged today to be sure their cars are ready for winter driving conditions.

A. E. Beckman, superintendent of Idaho State Police, said National Safety Council study showed that in one-sixth of all fatal accidents the driver's vehicle was equipped with defective brakes, headlights, or windshield wipers.

"Reduced visibility," he said, "is a signal to check all vehicle lighting equipment, front and rear, and windshield wipers ahead in even the most severe weather, windshield wiper blades must be live, and wiper fluid must be ready for instant service when needed."

Stock Market Closes Lower After Drive

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed sharply lower today, ending a two-day recovery drive.

Trading was moderately active. The market was higher at the start but sales soon melted away as profits were taken on the two-day advance.

There was little in the way of news to accept, and for the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials closed down 8.52 points at 785.35.

Soviet Launching Is Reported

BERLIN (AP) — The Wilhelm Foerster Observatory in West Berlin said the Soviet Union launched a space satellite today.

Two German Couples Make Family Escape

Two couples with their six children and a grandmother have engineered a family escape from Communist East Germany. Bavarian police reported today. The children are aged 1 to 12 years. The two youngest were given sleeping tablets and carried across the border into West Germany in rucksacks on the backs of their fathers, police said.

The escape, on a foggy night, was made by crawling across a minefield "death strip" on planks of wood. As the families camp to the end of one plank, a second was gently pushed forward to probe for any mines. They then crawled on. After the minefield the fathers cut their way through a barbed wire barrier.

"The good Lord was with us, the fences were not electrified," said one of the fathers.

Police also reported the escape today of a 32-year-old Czechoslovakian army officer who had been on duty along the border between East and West Germany.

Filer Man Helps Save Life Of Soldiers in Viet Nam

DINNER SLATED
SHOSHONE—A building fund dinner will be held at the LDS Church from 6 to 8 p.m. Friday. Variety type food will be served and the public is invited.

WITH U.S. COMBAT AIR FORCES, Viet Nam—A Filer, Idaho, man recently helped save the lives of many American and Vietnamese soldiers in Viet Nam.

U.S. Air Force First Lt. James W. Herrett, an F-4C Phantom II pilot at Cam Ranh Bay AB, Viet Nam, was called to go to the aid of a special forces camp which was under Viet Cong (VC) attack. The camp, strategically based on top of two mountain peaks, had been overrun by VC troops. The allied troops then surrounded the peaks, keeping the enemy on top of the mountains until air support could arrive.

The Phantom flight, of which Lt. Herrett was a crew member, made four bomb passes and five strafing passes. They hit their target with pinpoint accuracy. Total count at the end of their strike was 10 buildings destroyed, eight damaged and 21 VC killed.

Lt. Herrett, a 1959 graduate of Filer High School, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Herrett, Filer. The Filer Delta Theta member received his B.S. degree in business from the University of SPANISH FORK, Utah (AP)—Many men take their wives for granted. Two unidentified Salt Lake City men stopped at a Thistle, Utah, gas station Tuesday for information and then drove off.

It wasn't until they were stopped by Spanish Fork police officer Howard Zabriske that they realized something was wrong.

The men had left their wives at the service station and had driven 13 miles before Zabriske caught up with them.

Heyburn Firms Install Drains

PAUL—Resurfacing of parking areas and installation of storm drains is being done by four business establishments here, announces Harold Wilson, village mayor.

The extension of the drains is from the Idaho Bank and Trust property on Highway 25 across the street to the White Towers

Cafe and Motel, Econo-Wash Laundromat, Ballantyne's Market and to Gene's American, located near the intersection of Highway 25 and North Main Street.

The work involves one and one-half blocks and will be done on the same basis as the rest of the shopping center establishments, Wilson said.

New Official, Shulman, 33, Believes Baldness Is Asset

WASHINGTON (AP) — Signed to campaign for governor of New York, Shulman found any government employee — including generals and admirals — who have worked under him? "I never found that to be a problem," he said in an interview — his first since becoming commission chairman. "I think the fact I'm bald is a tremendous help."

But Shulman said he was embarrassed when a full colonel or a general called me "sir."

Shulman, 33, is a young agency — it's only about a year and a half old. Its personnel is also mostly young. Shulman believes the average commission employee age to be younger than that of other agencies.

Facing this new commission is a backlog of about six months' work. About 2,000 of 9,000 complaints received by the commission in its first year haven't cleared initial screening.

One source late at various stages of the six-year job in the area of conciliation — getting employers to stop discriminatory practices.

It is the commission's job to enforce the provisions of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 which bar employment discrimination based on race, religion, national origin or sex.

The commission screens cases for probable discrimination. If it finds there has been some, it attempts to get the employer to stop discriminating. If this fails it can refer the case to the attorney general or the complaining employee can file his own suit in court.

Accusation Renewed on GOP Voting

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman John M. Bailey of the Democratic National Committee renewed today the accusation that House Republicans voted 95 to 1 to kill the first Social Security bill in 1935 and 93 per cent of them voted to kill medicare in 1965.

The Republican National Committee said Sunday that Bailey, by using such figures, was misrepresenting the GOP position on Social Security.

The Republican committee said 73 per cent of House Republicans voted for Social Security in 1935 and 48 per cent of them voted in 1965 for the medicare bill on final passage.

Bailey, citing vote figures from the Congressional Quarterly, said Republicans were again "trying to conceal these votes to kill Social Security legislation by citing their vote on final passage."

He said every student of Congress knows a vote to send legislation back to committee is a vote to kill.

Ike Says GOP Gains Vital To Nation

CULPEPER, Va. (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower says substantial Republican gains in the November elections are necessary for the nation because "the only way to keep politics policed is to have one party strong enough to watch the other."

Eisenhower said Tuesday, "I'm certainly hoping for gains, especially in the House. We have to have a two-party system. A system of self-government such as ours is seriously damaged if one party gains complete control of all branches of government."

He was among those attending a sale of Angus cattle at nearby Bramly Rock Farm, owned by retired Adm. Lewis L. Strauss, former chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Sales Tax Is Endorsed by Area Trustees

Trustees of Magic Valley School Districts gave unanimous approval to the sales tax at their annual fall meeting held Tuesday night at Robert Stuart Junior High School here.

Bellevue, Camas, Catala, Jerome, Minidoka and Twin Falls trustees and superintendents were represented. Fred Brailford, Buhl, president of the Magic Valley Trustees' Association, presided, assisted by Buhl Superintendent Rex Engelking, secretary of the association.

In other business, Dr. R. H. Hagerman, Wendell, was elected and installed as president of the association and Kirby Wilson, chairman of the Cassia County school board, was elected vice president. Ray Turner, superintendent of the Wendell school district, was appointed secretary.

Trustees also passed a resolution endorsing kindergartens in public school programs and the adoption of standards for certification of kindergarten teachers.

A resolution was considered and passed calling for election of school trustees at large.

T. F. Voters Asked to Back Sen. Jordan

John Barker, Buhl, Republican state senator, is asking for his primary election opponent, Douglas Kramer, Twin Falls, issued a joint statement Wednesday in which they urged county voters to vote for U.S. Sen. Len B. Jordan.

The statement said: Inflation, war, economic stagnation, waste in government concerns us all. The Democratic administration in Washington would prefer to continue to pour money into its federal plans and now wants to increase taxes to promote the "Great Society." Good government demands a strong voice in the loyal opposition and Len B. Jordan is such a voice.

We urge the good people of Twin Falls County to remember how well Sen. Jordan has represented us as state legislator, governor and U.S. senator. We would be proud to have him not mention how Sen. Jordan has a complete understanding about the water problems of this area and Idaho.

"It is particularly gratifying to see the support which Sen. Jordan has given the Southeastern and Southern Idaho Water Development Projects, which are so vital to Idaho."

Rumors of Flour Mill Move Denied

Rumors that discontinuance of rolling operations at the Twin Falls Flour Mills is imminent were denied here Wednesday by the local manager.

Bernard E. Barker said he also had heard the rumors, both about the Twin Falls plant and the barley plant, but that as far as he knew, they have been denied by the local manager.

Officials of the parent company, Colorado Mill and Elevator Co., Denver, also denied any such action is imminent.

Barker said the rumors might have arisen from the fact that the parent company has purchased a mill in Oregon, Utah. Some people may be speculating that such a move is logical, in view of this purchase.

Barker said rumors are exaggerated, this always is a possibility, Barker mused, but he reiterated that nothing immediate is planned in this line for the Twin Falls mills.

Reviewing Of Verdict To Be Asked

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals clerk's office was notified today that "Dallas Dist. Atty. Henry Wade plans to ask Thursday for reconsideration of the Jack Ruby appeal verdict."

Thursday is the deadline for the state to ask a rehearing of the Oct. 6 decision that the death sentence given Ruby for killing Lee Harvey Oswald should be erased and another trial held, not in Dallas.

Oswald was identified by the Warren Commission investigation report as the assassin of President John F. Kennedy.

Wade said the state expects to ask the death penalty again if a new trial is held.

The three-man court held that Ruby did not receive a fair trial, because some testimony should not have been allowed and because the trial judge would not let the trial be transferred outside Dallas.

Lady Bird Dedicates Modern New School Named After Her

PAGO-PAGO, American Samoa (AP) — Joy plants in vivid hues planted the buds of flowers to spell out the new school name and proudly watched the big event.

The consolidated village school named after the First Lady, Mrs. John F. Kennedy, was dedicated today. The school is the 22nd of 26 which are being built to reorganize the 45 former village schools into a compact educational television complex.

Samoa has 8,000 school children.

President Johnson in his airport arrival speech hailed the long-time administrator in Washington, Bureau of Indian Affairs, is credited for much of the new beautification and revitalization of American Samoa and for getting the educational television system under way.

He came here in 1961.

Candidate for Treasurer Raps Release

The statement of Mrs. Ruth K. Jones "accusing me of an old political trick" is the most amusing thing I have heard in this campaign," Anne Harper said Tuesday.

Mrs. Jones, a Democrat, and Mrs. Harper, a Republican, are both seeking the county treasurer's post.

Mrs. Jones said a statement by Mrs. Harper that the county treasurer should periodically advise the people in "plain simple English" what money is collected and how it is spent, is an "old political trick."

Mrs. Harper said Tuesday if this is a political trick, then politicians should play more of them. "I still believe," she continued, "the county treasurer should be of great service to the people of this county by giving them something besides an accounting statement whereby the people will know more about their finances."

"I don't think," Mrs. Harper reiterated, "the majority of the voters of Twin Falls County honestly know where the money comes from or where it goes."

Mrs. Jones said in a press release Sunday in answer to Mrs. Harper's first statement regarding public education of tax payers that "anyone who wants to know where the money comes from and where it went can determine the same from the books at my office."

Tuesday, Mrs. Harper challenged that it is her understanding her opponent has spent a great deal of the office campaigning time out of the office campaigning.

"My opponent knows more about politics than I do. She held a job in the Republican assessor's office for years before she was appointed Democratic county treasurer by a then Democratic controlled County Commission," Mrs. Harper said.

Shoshone Honor Roll Headed by Senior Class

SHOSHONE — The senior class took top place in honor studies for the first semester of school, according to principal Carl King.

Seniors were Lorraine Bauman, Melinda Boyles, Darlene Glauser, Brent Hudlock, Kenneth Knowles, Richard Nelson, Kathy Ross, Richard Tows and Juanita Harris.

Diplomat's Resignation Accepted

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP) — President Johnson accepted "with genuine regret" today the resignation of one of America's top career diplomats, Raymond Hare.

Hare rose through the Foreign Service to hold ambassadorial and other senior positions in a career spanning nearly 40 years. Recently he has been assistant secretary of state for Near Eastern and South Asian Affairs.

In an exchange of letters made public by the traveling White House, Hare told the President he intends to become head of the Middle East Institute in Washington. He has long been an expert on Middle East affairs.

Hare, 65, said he has passed the retirement age and feels "it is time to step aside in favor of the many fine younger officers" on their way up.

Airline Purchase Given Approval

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House approved today the purchase by Braniff Airways of Pan American-Grace Airways-Panagra.

President Johnson endorsed a Civil Aeronautics Board order approving an agreement between Braniff to buy Panagra from its equal co-owners, Pan American World Airways and W. R. Grace and Co.

The board's order becomes effective immediately.

6,000 GE Employees Are Back on Jobs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Obeying a federal court order, more than 6,000 employees, were returning to their jobs today at General Electric Co. plant near Cincinnati, Ohio, that produces jet engines for a type of warplane used extensively in Vietnam.

The Defense Department was reported keeping tabs on strikes at eight other GE plants in five states to see if any of these stoppages is slowing war production.

U.S. Dist. Judge Carl A. Weinman issued a temporary injunction in Dayton, Ohio, Tuesday ordering the striking workers at the Evendale, Ohio, GE plant back to their jobs. Acting on a request initiated by President Johnson under the Taft-Hartley Act the judge halted the walkout for an 80-day cooling-off period.

The White House said Johnson plans no action now against strikes at the eight other GE plants that have died about 20,000 workers. It said the Pentagon is keeping an eye on the situation.

CALL FOR Flameless WATER HEATING

At just 5 weeks old, baby Lisa LeDuc of Boise appreciates a warm bath in her Gold Medallion home. Her mother agrees total electric living — including flameless water heating — is just grand. (Small as they are, new babies add more to hot water needs than anyone!)

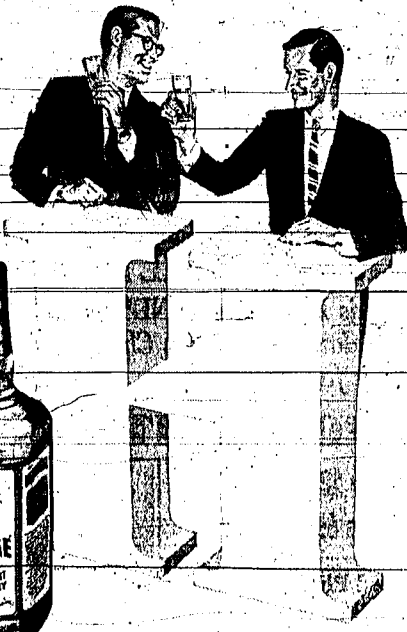

Electric water heating is ever so fast, clean, quiet and carefree. It's the key to the lowest step on Idaho Power's step-down electric rates. Because it requires no chimney or flue, you can install it anywhere for most efficient hot water use. First choice of more than 102,000 families served by Idaho Power, it's another among the many things electricity does best!

Grocery Price War May Hit Courtroom

PORTLAND (AP)—The Portland area grocery price war may soon turn into a courtroom battle.

Multnomah County Dist. Atty. George Van Hooms said he will look into protests by small grocers that the price war violates state law.

The price war began over the weekend west of Portland, where some supermarkets began selling bread for 8 cents a loaf and milk at 17 cents a gallon.

Van Hooms said state law requires that no person engaged in commerce or food commerce shall sell or offer for sale an article, product or commodity at less than cost with the intent to injure competitors or competition.

Van Hooms said that if there is any evidence the price war is against the law it will be presented to the Multnomah County Grand Jury.

The price war, though still continuing, showed signs today of tapering off.

Now the stores are giving away bread and milk, but they have made shoppers buy a minimum of groceries. The minimum purchase was $4 at some stores but was raised to $5 at one.

North Viet Nam Election Attack Viewed

SAIGON, SOUTH VIET NAM (AP)—Some top U.S. military leaders in Saigon think North Viet Nam may time a new effort thrust across the demilitarized zone to coincide with elections next month in three countries.

The objective could be to spur the sentiment against the war in the United States, Australia and New Zealand.

The weather will be right for such a move. The monsoon rains already have started sweeping into the region where North and South Viet Nam meet.

Rainy, overcast weather is considered to favor the Communists because it cuts down U.S. air and helicopter operations.

After a period of heavy combat along the demilitarized zone, action has settled into sporadic contact and limited fighting.

American generals said the North Vietnamese apparently are trying to follow their customary practice of "preparing Marine ground defenses. Another Marine division, the 1st, is deployed to the south and could supply support if a major North Vietnamese attack developed.

A U.S. Army paratrooper battalion has been moved into the previously all-Marine 1st Corps area, the northernmost tier of provinces, and is being held in reserve.

And said one key general, "We have contingency plans to reinforce 1st Corps in event of a serious enemy assault."

He did not give details, but it is probable additional U.S. Marine combat units would be shifted northward from other areas of South Viet Nam.

Corpsmen in Nigeria Ask For Money

IBADAN—Nigeria (AP) — With help from a local political crisis, U.S. Peace Corps men in Nigeria have won postponement of a cut in their living allowances. But some of them say their bosses still don't understand them.

Peace Corps Director Jack Hood Vaughn, who rushed to Nigeria three months ahead of schedule after the volunteers threatened to strike, announced Tuesday no changes would be made in living allowances "until the situation in Nigeria returns to normal."

tribal hostilities are threatening to split the nation. Observers feel it will be a long time before local politics returns to normal.

The corps members threatened last month to strike after reports that their living allowance of about $149 a month would be cut $5 to $15. With about 700 volunteers, the mission in Nigeria is the second largest in the world.

Since his arrival Oct. 8, Vaughn has held 19 meetings with the volunteers. He plans several more before leaving Oct. 25 for South Korea.

He said Tuesday that the proposed cut in living allowances would be postponed because prices are fluctuating so rapidly in the current uncertain political situation that it is impossible to work out a formula based on the cost of living.

The volunteers said the strike threats were made "in desperation" to get policymakers in Washington to hear their complaints. They protested that the decisions were being made without consulting workers in the field.

"I think the Peace Corps missed the point of protest," said Joe Foster, 23, of Carmel, Calif. "They have been treating us like high school kids."

Richfield Lists Honor Students

RICHFIELD—Cathy Flavel topped the Richfield honor roll with all A's for the first six weeks of the year. She is a sophomore and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Flavel.

Seniors on the honor roll are Phyllis Flavel, Kay Jensen, Marylou Lammert, Janene Pridmore and Marilyn Swainston. Dale Sanders was the only junior with Terry Swainston and Patrick Ward making the honorable mention list.

Dorothy Atkins, Beanna Behr and Nancy Kelly were other sophomores. Freshmen students are John Latamex, Norland Pope, Julie Hawes and Rodney Riley.

Members of Mexican Indian Tribe Face Starvation in Stone Age Living

PANALACHI, Mexico (AP) — The thin Indian woman squatted on the dirt floor of her cave and stared across the wasted corn field overrun with weeds.

Her eyes came to rest on a gentle bend of the arroyo at the bottom of the limestone canyon where weeds covered the graves of her three children who died in infancy of starvation.

"Yes, we could go to the settlement where the (Roman Catholic) fathers have medicine and schools. My young ones would have died there."

"But here we have freedom and there are no chachochis (whiskered ones, as the Mexicans are called) to take our land. For us there is no life except in the canyons."

She returned to preparing a maize meal of ground corn in a hollowed stone she used for a bowl.

"And so some of the children will die," she said.

After 45 years of stone-age life, Gundulup Nava looks like 40. Her daughter Martha, after five years of malnutrition, looks like 3.

"The girl was playing on the cave floor with her clay toy, a corn cob with a scrap of cloth tied around the middle. Through the magic of a child's imagination it had become a doll."

Cundulup and her daughters are members of the primitive Tarahumara tribe whose 55,000 members, clinging to a "freedom" bordering on anarchy. The price is destitution and starvation.

The Indians are so fiercely independent that seldom more than a dozen or so live in any one spot. The tribe has, however, a number of chiefs and witch doctors and a loose central organization.

Protected by their canyon walls, they have found comparative refuge from exploitation since the Spanish Conquistadores pushed them out of the fertile lowlands 300 years ago.

Although far less harsh, the exploitation continues. Priests and Mexicans living in the area say federal laws are inadequate to prevent land-grabbing by Mexicans and marketing conditions that bring the Indians only a fraction of their fair price for their crops.

These sources, who live in the impoverished settlements and missions on the edge of the Tarahumara land, estimate that 1,000 or more Indians die of starvation annually and many more suffer from serious malnutrition. Nearly all are children.

Father Jose Alberto Laguarda, head of the nearby Sisiguchi Mission, estimates that from two to three die daily of starvation.

The government officially does not see starvation among the Indians and the governor of Chihuahua state calls such reports criminal. However, one official privately conceded that Father Laguarda was right.

Tuberculosis and other diseases "also ravage" the Sierra Madre's barrenness — canyon country, 280 miles southwest of El Paso, Tex.

"For the Tarahumara, the pains of hunger in the belly, the bloated stomach of a dying child is in a way payment for their way of life," Father Laguarda said.

Another priest added, "If they knew the price you Norte Americans pay in polluted air, traffic and crime to live in your big cities, they would consider your price just as remarkable."

Few Tarahumara are aware of the United States, know where Mexico City is, the name of their president or even the government of Chihuahua state.

Some of the canyon country still is unexplored. One stretch of canyon wall drops more than a mile — from pine and mesquite covered mountains where snow ranges up to three feet deep in winter, to lush tropical vegetation on the floor below.

Wind and water have honeycombed the region with caves where the Indians have lived for more than three centuries. The locale exactly suits the Indians' temperment and love of independence. They mostly don't even like to live near each other.

Cave ceilings are covered with the soot of thousands of fires, for cooking and for warmth. Many Indians go barefoot in winter simply because they have neither sandals or rags to bind their feet. Thin blankets make beds at night and serve as shawls against the freezing wind in daytime.

The margin of survival is the number of bags of corn and beans at the rear of the cave. Because the soil is farmed out and fertilizer unknown, crops are poor even in the best years.

RICHFIELD — Sidney Lezama, 35-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Lezama Sr., broke his left forearm in a home accident while playing with a younger brother Saturday.

Leadore Board Wants Sale Tax

LEADORE — The Leadore School Board has gone on record and unanimously favoring retention of the Idaho sales tax.

The board said the tax, whose fate voters will decide in the Nov. 8 general election in Idaho, has brought in additional funds to support the district's education system.

The board said that without the sales tax, if the present educational standards are to be maintained, it will require very substantial increases in property and/or income taxes with the probability of additional new taxes to raise the $25,000,000 increase to education the sales tax now provides in Idaho.

Liners Slowed by Tug Crew Strike

SOUTHAMPTON, England (AP) — The transatlantic liners Queen Elizabeth and the France were among 12 big ships unable to berth here today because of a strike by tug crews.

The 83,000-ton Queen Elizabeth headed for Cherbourg. The France went to Le Havre. Their passengers were expected by channel ferries later today.

You don't believe a 6 can act
anything like an 8?

With our new Overhead Cam Six you'd better believe it.

Our OHC 6 delivers 165 hp on regular gas. And 215 horses from the premium gas 4-barrel version. Most American sixes (and some underprivileged V-8s) don't even come close. Expensive European sports machines do, but they're overhead cams, too. In fact, they inspired us. Our OHC 6 is standard on all Tempests and Le Mans. So are a host of new safety features like passenger-guard door locks, General Motors' new energy absorbing steering column and a four-way hazard warning flasher. We've said enough. If a test drive won't sell you, nothing will.

Mail Box Thief Becomes Part of Life in Big City

NEW YORK (AP) — By any one's standards it wasn't the crime of the century, the year or even the day.

But for Charles Parker it was the bitter frosting on a hot, wearying day. It was the day he found the burglars had come to call.

Burglary seems to have become almost commonplace in the big city. American city dwellers, something one trip to 47th and bear like transit fare hikes, nuisance taxes, and where do you park the car at night. New York City alone had 50,106 burglaries last year. Warehouses, stores, and thousands of apartments.

Parker, a 37-year-old architect, had been away for a week in Jamaica wrangling with contractors about costs of a house he is designing there. His brother had used his walkup Manhattan apartment during his absence and mailed back the spare key. He had taken the precaution to tape the key to a piece of cardboard in case any snappers got inquisitive about the envelope. Sensible but it didn't work.

There's a brand of burglar known as the mail box thief who jimmies mail boxes in apartment buildings for whatever he can glean. It may be a check, or simply the number of a bank account. Or, if he's lucky, a key. As if that's a key, maybe it fits your lock, and then he's inside with all those things you see around the house every day. Things like the check.

Parker got back to his apartment about 4 p.m. on a Monday. The letter-box door was open. He thought it odd. He fished through the junk mail and magazines and bill for his brother's envelope. It wasn't there. Odd.

He staggered upstairs with my attaché case in one hand, the mail in my teeth and my own key in the other hand. I had trouble opening the door and realized it had been tampered with. Every time I turned the key I was locking it.

Parker went into the kitchen. The burglar had helped himself to a can of beer but drank only half of it. He took a bottle of Scotch, though. All told it looked like a loss of about $1,200 and of it insured. Parker didn't know if at the time, but also gone were about 60 unused checks in his bank, the First National City. Parker called the police.

A little later a detective arrived. The next morning Parker received a call from the neighborhood branch where he banks. Someone who had Parker's checks had been using them to make "deposits" at various branches of the Chase Manhattan Bank. Then, casually, he would withdraw a fraction of the deposit. Usually about $100, but once as little as $10. Parker's bank told him the man so far had hit Chase for about $3,000.

One alert Chase teller started checking because of the size of the check and learned Parker was an architect. This struck her as odd because the man representing himself as Parker had dirty hands and she thought he architect's hands were cleaner.

The forged checks are Chase Manhattan's loss, not Parker's. That doesn't, however, bring back his TV or stereo and other property. "I'm completely fatalistic. I don't expect to see any of it again."

Red Guards Demonstrate In Peking

BEI-GRAD, Yugoslavia (AP) — The Red Guards of China poured into the streets of Peking today, thumping on drums in demonstrations against the Communist party Committee of Peking and its leader, Li Hsueh-feng, the news agency Tsinjup reported.

The official Yugoslav agency said the demonstrations started foreigners in Peking because Li only Tuesday rode in a motorcade headed by Mao Tse-tung in a review of 1.5 million Red Guards. That turnout was designed as a rebuff to Soviet criticism of the Red Guards movement.

The agency's dispatch from Peking also said Red Guards papers published an article entitled, "Twenty big crimes of Li Hsueh-feng," accusing Li of drawing up policies that counter Mao's line.

The dispatch reported that Yang Ne-mao, chief of the Shikang Province Communist party, also had come under Red Guards fire. It said a Red Guards poster from Shikang demanded that Yang be burned at the stake and that his Communist headquarters be bombed because the Shikang leadership had incited the masses against Red Guards students.

Mao, who is China's Communist chief, and his No. 2 man, Defense Minister Lin Biao, are using the Red guards to enforce a purge throughout China.

In another dispatch, Tsinjup reported that Premier Chou En-lai had told the Red Guards that China should prepare for another world war although chances for its outbreak are small.

The dispatch quoted Chou as saying the United States and the Soviet Union consider Red China their biggest enemy.

Bruins Take Over Third In State Poll; Borah Is No. 1 Sixth Week in Row

Borah's Lions received every first place vote cast to lead the Associated Press high school poll for the sixth consecutive week. Meanwhile, Twin Falls vaulted from seventh in last week's poll to third Tuesday on the strength of the Bruins' 42-35 victory over Highland last Saturday. Hammering Nampa 49-7, the Lions took another step toward a showdown battle with Capital, which claimed second place with 124 points to 140 for Borah. Both teams claim a 60-0 record for the season while Twin Falls is 5-1.

Boise, a 34-0 winner over Pocatello, jumped from 6th to 10th place while Moscow, 6-0 loser to Wallace, dropped from third to sixth.

The Bishop Kelly Knights of Boise slipped to 21-11 and went from ninth to seventh while Burley made it onto the elite list with a 26-20 victory over Idaho Falls. The eighth-ranked Borahs put their record at 5-1 and top the Eastern Idaho Conference standings with a 5-0 mark.

Calwell, despite a 41-6 lacing at the hands of Capital, stuck around to ninth while Lewiston replaced Preston in 10th position with a 3-0 victory over Sandpoint. Preston suffered its first blemish with a 14-14 tie at Blackfoot.

Borah runs into third ranked Twin Falls this Saturday while Capital goes across state to test fifth rated Highland. Boise will host Caldwell and Bishop Kelly enters Mountain Home.

Burley's next test will be at 2:30 p.m. Saturday at Twin Falls against Jerome, while Buhl, barely missing out on a rated spot, will take a week off.

A Coach Ed Troxel's Lions have a showdown-tussle with the Eagles of Capital on Oct. 28 in Boise. If both teams escape this weekend's games unscathed, the victor will be almost certain of resting atop the poll for the remainder of the season—Borah won first year's contest between the two 21-20.

Following are the weekly Idaho high school grid ratings as compiled by votes of the Associated Press sports writers and sportscasters. Team record and first place voted in parenthesis.

- 1-Borah (42-35) (14)
- 2-Capital (6-0) (12)
- 3-Twin Falls (5-1) (10)
- 4-Boise (32-1) (8)
- 5-Highland (4-2) (6)
- 6-Moscow (6-1) (5)
- 7-Bishop Kelly (5-1) (4)
- 8-Burley (3-1) (3)
- 9-Caldwell (4-2) (2)
- 10-Lewiston (4-2) (1)

Also receiving votes in alphabetical order: Blackfoot, Bonneville, Buhl, Coeur d'Alene, Greenleaf, Jerome, Lapwai, Modesto, Parma, Preston and Sugar Salem.

College Teams Passing More

TWIN FALLS (AP) — The trend in college football is toward increased passing. A mid-season survey indicated Tuesday.

Through the first 301 games of the current campaign, representing 85.1 per cent of the full schedule, the passing figures compiled by the NCAA Service Bureau were above average of last year's record-breaking pace.

The 1966 players have thrown an average of 43.2 passes a game and have averaged an average of 20.1 for 238.3 yards. The standard set last year was 41.5 passes, 18.3 completions and 248.4 yards.

Steelers to Waiver Lind

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League asked waivers Tuesday on fullback Mike Lind.

Lind, in his fifth year in the league, is from Northey, Idaho. Last year he gained 312 yards for the Steelers, but has carried the ball only three times in six games this season.

Russell Is Given College Back Honors

NEW YORK (AP) — Benny Russell of Louisville, who wiped one of the college's passing records held by the great Johnny Unitas last Saturday, was named College Back of the Week by The Associated Press Tuesday.

Louisville, with Russell at the controls only half the time, crushed Drake 69-28.

Russell passed for 354 yards, all but 24 in the first half, surpassed the school record of 303 set by Unitas in 1952. Russell also ran for 116 yards, passed for four touchdowns and ran for two more. The four TD passes tied a school record first set by Unitas and tied by two others.

"I knew that a lot of yards," Russell said, "but I didn't know about the record until the middle of the fourth quarter when one of the coaches told me it was more like a dream at the time. I felt real good. It's really a privilege and an honor."

"I just consider myself lucky to be classed in a category with Unitas," he said.

Young, Old Meet In NHL Contest

BOSTON (AP) — The National Hockey League's youngest player and one of the oldest will clash at Boston Garden Wednesday night when the Boston Bruins and Detroit Red Wings open the local season.

Bobby Orr, 16-year-old Bruins rookie, will lead the Bruins straight from the amateurs to the big league hockey, will make his debut as a defenseman.

And on the Red Wings roster will be Gordie Howe, 38, who was playing major league hockey three years before Orr was born.

Koufax and Peters Win ERA Titles

NEW YORK (AP) — Southpaw Sandy Koufax of Los Angeles and Gary Peters of the Chicago White Sox captured the 1965 major-league earned-run titles. The final averages disclosed Tuesday. The Dodgers' star set a big-league record by leading for the fifth consecutive season.

Koufax gave up only 62 earned runs in 323 innings in posting a 2.37 ERA which topped the National League. It was his lowest mark during his 12 years in the majors. He paced the NL with 2.54 in 1962, 1.88 in 1963, 1.74 in 1964 and 2.04 in 1965.

The brilliant left-hander, who won 27 games the past season, had shared the standard for most consecutive ERA championships with Lefty Grove, another southpaw who led the American League while with the Philadelphia A's from 1923 through 1932.

Peters headed the AL the past season with a 2.63 average. He yielded 46 earned runs in 204 frames, winning 12 games and losing 10. Peters also was the circuit's leader in 1963 with a 2.33 mark.

Mike Koufax of Houston was the runner-up to Koufax with a 2.22 average. He permitted .366 batting average in 227 innings. The figures were compiled by The Associated Press.

Juan Marichal, a 25-game winner for San Francisco, was third with a 2.45 ERA. He came Jim Bunning of Philadelphia 2.41; Bob Gibson, St. Louis 2.44; Al Jackson, also of St. Louis 2.51; Jim Maloney of Cincinnati 2.80 and Claude Osteen, Los Angeles, 2.85.

Joel Horlen of the White Sox was second in the AL on a yield of 57 earned runs in 411 innings for a 2.43 average.

Steve Hargan of Cleveland finished third with 2.48 followed by Jim Perry, Minnesota 2.54; Tommy John, Chicago 2.62; Jim Kaat, Minnesota, 2.72 and Sonny Siebert, Cleveland, 2.80.

Sam McDowell, the Indians' first baseman, finished with the ERA crown with 2.18 in 1965, was eighth last season with 2.88.

Bruins Meet

The Bruins Boosters will meet at 7 a.m. Thursday in the basement of the Elks Club.

Twin Falls coach Merl Eden will discuss the game with Borah, set for 8 p.m. Saturday at Bruin Stadium.

All interested persons are urged to attend.

Torres, Tiger to Battle for Title

NEW YORK (AP) — Jose Torres will defend his world light-heavyweight boxing title against Dick Tiger, the former middleweight champion from Nigeria, Friday, Dec. 16 at Madison Square Garden.

Torres will be making the fourth defense of the title he won from Willie Easton, March 30, 1965. He outpointed Wayne Thornton and Eddie Cotton and then knocked out Chic Woodward of Scotland in the second round last Saturday night.

Torres, of New York and Puerto Rico, has a 39-1-1 record with 27 knockouts.

Powell Never Wants Recent Honor Again

BALTIMORE (AP) — It's not that John (Boog) Powell isn't grateful and honored, but he hopes there will never be another reason to select him as Comeback Player of the Year, in the American League.

"It's one award I don't want to win again," said Powell on Monday, when informed of his selection in The Associated Press poll. "I consider it an honor, but once is enough."

The 250-pound first baseman hit 34 homers in the regular season, had 109 runs batted in, and a .287 batting average. He polled 124 votes in the balloting by 312 baseball writers.

Powell was runner-up in RBI, third in homers and fourth in batting. In 1965, he hit only 248 with 17 homers and 72 runs batted in.

FBI Charges Barber With Trying to Bribe LSU Trio

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — The FBI charged a Baton Rouge barber Tuesday with attempting to bribe three first-string backs on Louisiana State University's football team.

A complaint filed in Federal District Court by FBI agents identified the barber as Samuel McClendon and James J. Corbett, the university's athletic director, said they first became aware of the bribery attempts when contacted by LSU President John A. Hunter, who had been notified by the FBI.

The complaint also charges Graziano with attempting to fix the outcome of this Saturday night game between LSU and eighth-ranked Florida.

The FBI said the players advised the bureau when bribery attempts first were made. McClendon and James J. Corbett, the university's athletic director, said they first became aware of the bribery attempts when contacted by LSU President John A. Hunter, who had been notified by the FBI.

Tarkenton Is NFL's Back For Week

NEW YORK (AP)—Francis Tarkenton finally is back in the old groove after four sub-par games. Once again, the scrambling Georgian is the daredevil, river boat gambler type of quarterback who has won so many games for the Minnesota Vikings.

"We've won in the past because we kept the opponent off balance," said Tarkenton. "Sunday's upset of Los Angeles. They didn't know what we were going to do. We've got to go back to that."

Tarkenton got back to it all right, completing 21 of 31 passes for 327 yards, by far his best performance of the season. He threw three TD passes, set up another with a pass and scored on a two-yard bootleg in a smashing 35-7 victory over the Rams.

As a result of this performance, Tarkenton has been named by The Associated Press as the Offensive Player of the Week in the National Football League.

Going into last week's game with the Rams, Tarkenton had only three touchdown passes, had been intercepted four times and had a 48.4 percentage completion. The fans were beginning to complain about the Vikings and their 0-3-1 record.

In one afternoon's work, Tarkenton doubled his TD production and boosted his percentage record to 52.3.

Eagles Kid Brown About Acting Goal

NEW YORK (AP)—When the Philadelphia Eagles kid Timmy Brown about his ambitions to become an actor, the star halfback has a ready answer.

"When I make it big, you'll be coming around to the house," Timmy answered with a smile. "Don't ask me for any ringside table."

Brown was in town for his weekly acting lesson at the Herbert Berghoff studio in the Village. He comes up from Philadelphia every Monday, an off day for pro football players, and reads scripts or observes from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m.

"I don't like to use football in connection with my acting career," said Timmy who has made several recordings as a popular singer. "I started singing five years ago and made some recordings—all bombs. I think acting will be my forte in the long run."

Brown broke into the acting business in summer stock at Bucks County in Pennsylvania, playing in the Phantom of the Opera and How to Succeed in Business Without Really Knowing.

"I divide my life in six months football and six months with my other career," he said.

Kidd Plans to Enter Olympics

STOWE, Vt. (AP)—Billy Kidd, the injured skiing star from Stowe, says he doesn't count him out of the Winter Olympics in 1968.

Kidd was presented Monday night with the New England Council's annual award for outstanding contributions to New England skiing.

Kidd still has a cast on his right leg, sustained two days before the start of the International Ski Races at Portillo, Chile, last summer.

McDonald Happier If Pros Don't Merge

MOSCOW, Idaho (AP)—There is a hulking 242-pound fullback here on the University of Idaho campus who'll be just as happy if the two professional football leagues don't merge for a while. He's Ray McDonald, the star back of the Idaho football team, now a senior who is casting his eyes toward the pot of gold the pro teams dangle before the collegiate stars each year.

"Let's face it," he said the other day, "if the leagues join together, then there probably won't be any of those big bonuses like they've been paying."

"You only get one chance at the big money and it would be nice to sign a pro contract for one of those big bonuses," McDonald said.

And the pros really are interested in the big Idaho back. Idaho Coach Steve Musseau said scouts from both the American and National football leagues have been on hand at all Idaho games this season to get a good look at him.

Said Musseau: "What does a pro football fullback have to have that Ray hasn't got?"

Musseau said McDonald has the size and speed needed to bang through pro lines. He added that McDonald also has desire—that intangible that can make votes in parentheses and total points a 10-8 etc. basis:

1. Notre Dame (31)	443
2. Michigan State (10)	416
3. UCLA (3)	356
4. Alabama (2)	354
5. South Calif. (1)	277
6. Georgia Tech	211
7. Nebraska	184
8. Florida	150
9. Purdue	83
10. Oklahoma	69

Roquepine Is Victor In UN Trot

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP)—Roquepine, a 5-year-old mare from France, who just missed in the $100,000 Roosevelt International last July, didn't make any mistakes Tuesday night at Yonkers Raceway and won the $100,000 United Nations Trot.

The French mare, off the 7-5 favorite from the No. 1 post position, dugged the pace setting Noble Victory for the first mile, then rushed into the lead and outgamed Speedy-Rodney of the United States the last time around in the 1 1/4-mile harness racing classic.

At the finish, Roquepine, owned by Henri Levesque of Beuzeville la Bastille, France, and driven by Jean-Rene Gougeon, held a three-quarters of a length margin over Speedy Rodney who was trying to win the event for the second straight year.

Third, another three-quarters of a length away, came Earl Laird, also of the United States. Short Stop, another French entry, was fourth, a length back of Earl Laird.

"Speedy Rodney, who was the morning line favorite, broke stride at the finish and was disqualified from second and placed fourth with Earl Laird moving up to second and Short Stop up to third."

Game Tonight

Twin Falls sophomores will host the Highland sophomores at 7 p.m. Wednesday at Bruin Stadium.

Highland absorbed its first defeat at the hands of Marsh Valley's junior varsity last week. Twin Falls has a 5-1 record, losing only to Borah. The game was moved up from Thursday due to teachers conference.

56 Attend Smiley Creek Aerial Junt

Fifty-six people — 15 of them pilots and the rest passengers — attended the fly-in sponsored by the Magic Valley Pilots Association at Smiley Creek Sunday in the Sawtooth Valley.

Following breakfast at the Smiley Creek Lodge, pilots and passengers viewed a motion picture on the importance of flying by at least partial use of instruments rather than "seat-of-your-pants" flying.

Edward Butts, president of the association, said a new Blue Seal instrument program will be scheduled at Joslin Field at Twin Falls, with instructors donating their time for the four-hour flight course in addition to the ground school portion.

The course is designed to train general aviation pilots to maintain attitude of plane with reference to instruments. Next steps after the Blue Seal program, would be for the pilots to enroll for a full government approved instrument course.

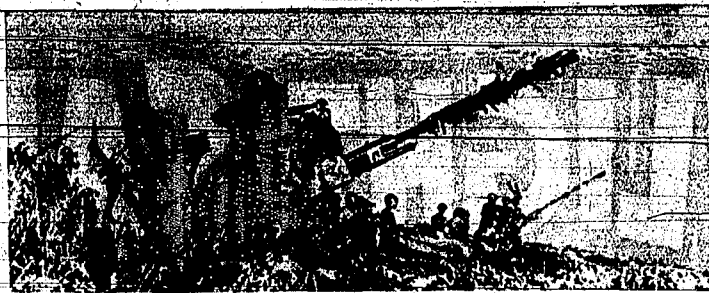

Butts announced that those interested in the Blue Seal program should contact Ed Woods, manager of the Twin Falls airport, in order that number of participants could be learned. Each flier will furnish his own rented plane for the "under-the-hood" flight sessions.

Ronald B. Masoner showed a drawing of the insignia which will be made available to club members for use on flight jacket or cap. Member pilots voted to adopt the suggested design. Next fly-in will be in all probability, be in early November. The time and exact date will be announced.

Many Educated Americans Have Poor English Usage

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — The educated people who might be expected to use America's native language properly in many instances cannot.

Dr. A.C. Jordan, a Duke University English professor, organized as a leading grammarian, said doctors, lawyers, merchants, chiefs, even school teachers have little understanding of English grammar.

The result is that even the best educated and sensible communication is difficult. The trouble, Jordan said in an interview, is that students in the elementary grades to the college level never receive necessary training in rudimentary English.

Students are denied proper education in grammar and when some of them become teachers they, in turn, deny it to the students they teach," he said.

today. He is critical of the English language.

Erskine Caldwell and John Steinbeck. "For the student with a desire to read the best, Jordan suggested Thomas Wolfe, James Joyce, and one of the greatest of all, F. Scott Fitzgerald."

As corrective measures, Jordan suggests: "Creation of a national committee of public deans from the professional schools and other leaders in business and industry to outline a basic course in the fundamentals of English accuracy."

"And universities should insist that English grammar be made a full year of freshman work."

New Plays Selected by Theater Unit

Buhl, chairman of the non-profit organization's board of directors, presided at the meeting. Aldrich Bowler, producer-director of the group, presented his report on the theater's progress and a proposal for the upcoming season.

Plays selected for the season are Shaw's "Arms and the Man"; Ostrovsky's "The Circle of Chalk"; and a 14th-century Chinese melodrama by an unknown author entitled "The Circle of Chalk."

A contemporary drama will also be presented during August. The company plans to go on tour this season which opens on July 14. Bowler outlined these plans at the meeting and said tours to Sun Valley and other areas will be added to the company's weekend productions at the Buhl theater.

Also included on the meeting's agenda were a financial report given by H. Paul Kliss and election of Barker and James Shields, Buhl, to the board of directors.

Ways of raising money to pay off the theater's obligations were discussed. Chairman Barker appointed Mrs. Stanley Kern, Buhl, and Mrs. Robert Brailford, Twin Falls, as a committee to look into the possibility of holding a fund-raising benefit in Twin Falls prior to the Lenten season.

Man Named Director for Credit Group

SPOKANE, Wash. — Thomas A. Ross, Chinook, Mont. stockman, has been re-elected to a three-year term as a director of the Farm Credit Banks of Spokane and the Federal Land Bank at Federal Intermediate Credit Bank, and Bank for Cooperatives.

Fred A. Knutsen, chairman of the president's committee of the Spokane banks, said Ross was elected by the production credit associations in Idaho, Montana, Oregon and Washington, the area served by the banks. He has been a director since 1954. In partnership with his son, Ross operates a livestock ranch in the Bear Paw Mountain area south of Chinook. The ranch, consisting of 6,000 acres of leased land and 1,200 acres of leased land, includes a unit homesteaded by Ross's father in 1883. The ranchers run approximately 600 head of commercial Herefords, including 325 breeding cows.

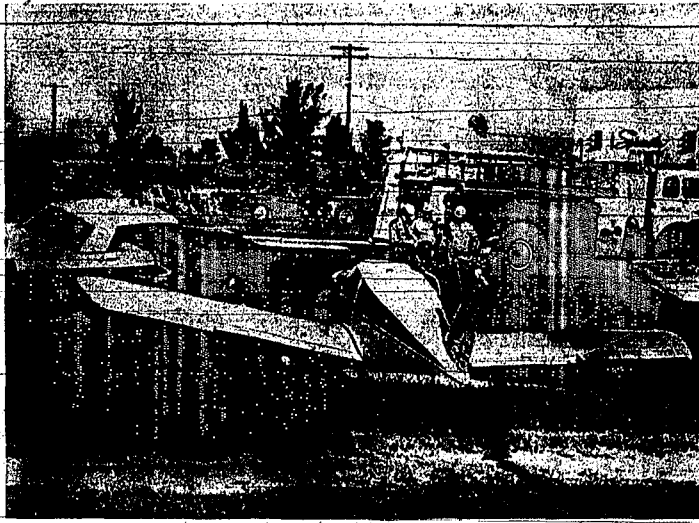

Past president of the Montana Stockgrowers Association, Ross is now an honorary president of that organization. He also is a director of the Montana Livestock Production Credit Association and is serving on the agricultural advisory committee of Montana State University from which he was graduated with a degree in animal husbandry.

Other members of the seven-member policy-making board are Don J. Phillips, Natchez, Wash., chairman; George W. Lacy, Drummond, Mont., vice chairman; Melvin A. Enley, Colfax, Wash.; E. Riddle Lago, Hild River, Ore.; Mark Moorhead, Murfreesboro, Idaho; and Thomas J. Harper, Junction City, Ore.

ALASKA BUSH PILOT Don Johns, 32, Fairbanks, landed his plane on a crowded Miami, Fla., expressway during rush-hour Tuesday and piled into a compact car. Neither pilot nor driver was injured. The right wing hit the car as Johns landed. Johns was flying his own plane home when he had a power loss after takeoff from Miami International Airport. (AP wirephoto)

News of Record

BLAINE COUNTY Sheriff's Blotter
A 1964 Ranchero pickup truck owned by Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Walker, Halley, was reported stolen between 6 and 9 p.m. Sunday while parked in front of the home of Mrs. Smith, Halley. Keys were reportedly left in the car.

JEROME COUNTY Probate Court
Dave L. Hansing, Wendell, 320, overwidth load.
Justice Court
Donald P. Bowlin, Hazelton, 410, negligent display of license plates.

CASSIA COUNTY Sheriff's Blotter
Evangelina Cortez, 15, Burley, driving a 1961 Chevrolet, north two miles south of Burley at 3:55 p.m. Saturday, was making a right-hand turn at intersection, with Consuegra Cortez, 40, reached over and grabbed the steering wheel, police said. The driver lost control and the car collided with a power pole. Passengers were Corina Cortez, 13, Mrs. Cortez, Hector Vasquez, 11, Armando Vasquez, 10, and Refugio Vasquez, 8. Mrs. Cortez was taken to Cassia Memorial Hospital where she was listed in good condition.

A 1962 International two-ton truck owned by Wayne and Farris May, Rupert, and driven by Marilyn May, 15, Burley, on the Pole line road seven miles south of Burley at 11:55 a.m. Sunday, overturned into the borrow pit. The truck was loaded with 16 head of black hogs, weighing about 500 pounds each. They were not injured. Passenger in the truck was Marvin May, 8, Burley. Neither boy was injured.

Health Officials Advise Flu Shots
ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Although major outbreaks of influenza aren't expected this winter, U.S. Public Health officials have advised persons over 65 or with certain types of diseases to get their flu-injections anyway.

As spokesmen for the U.S. Public Health Service's communicable disease center said Monday the vaccine is "in the range of 60 per cent effective" in preventing influenza. "We think it is extremely effective in preventing mortality and reducing the severity of the disease," he said.

"Vaccine should begin as soon as possible after Sept. 1 and ideally should be completed by mid-December," said the spokesman.

Snake Dies
CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Oscar, reportedly the oldest rattlesnake in captivity, is dead at age 28.

The old diamondback died recently at the home of Dr. Herbert Hechenbleikner, head of the biology department of the University of North Carolina here.

The San Diego Zoo verified Oscar's longevity record several years ago.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Miss Carol C. Laise, a career officer in the State Department, was sworn in Tuesday as U.S. ambassador to Nepal.

She is the fifth woman named by President Johnson to be an ambassador for this country.

Others serve in Luxembourg, Norway, Denmark and the United Nations.

Miss Laise, 49, a native of Winchester, Va., has served in the United Nations and in New Delhi, India, and has worked on Near Eastern and South Asian affairs since 1962.

U.S. Buying 99 Improved Phantom Jets

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force is buying 99 improved Phantom jets equipped for the first time with a built-in gun and designed to give the United States clear superiority over Soviet-made MIG 21s in Viet Nam.

The Pentagon, announcing this Tuesday, said the initial purchase from McDonnell Aircraft Corp. will cost $272 million.

The new Phantom, unlike its predecessors in Southeast Asia, will have an internally mounted 20mm Gatling gun capable of firing 6,000 rounds a minute.

Previous model F4's have had only wing-mounted 20mm gun pods, which some pilots contended were not accurate enough in air-to-air combat.

The built-in cannon will be in addition to bombs, rockets and missiles which F4 pilots have at their disposal in close support and interdiction missions as well as dogfights.

The Pentagon said the latest version, designated the F4E, will also have an improved fire control system and engines with increased thrust.

Air Force and Navy versions of the F4 have been highly successful in aerial combat against the MIGs in Southeast Asia.

of his two children who died in infancy will be moved from the temporary location, right, at night within the next five weeks. The date will not be made public in advance. (AP wirephoto)

Articles Filed For CSI Group

BOISE (AP)—Articles as a nonprofit corporation were filed Monday in the office of Secretary of State L. E. Clapp for the Golden Eagle Boosters of Twin Falls.

The organization said its purpose is to aid the athletic program at the College of Southern Idaho in Twin Falls.

Incorporators were Carl Berg, Henry Woodall, W. W. Pressy, Stanley Snow, James Olson and Gordon Beckstead, all Twin Falls; Al Lee and William Bueck, both Jerome; John Storrs and William Herrett, both Fillmore; Mike Felton and John C. Hepworth, both Buhl, and Robert Stradley, Kimberly.

Hungarians' Attitudes Reflected In Three Stands After Revolution

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — You from the West did not help us in 1956 — why are you interested in the Hungarian revolution now? The former revolutionary asked bitterly.

At the Hungarian Foreign Ministry a spokesman said the great majority of people have all but forgotten about the 1956 uprising.

"A taxi chauffeur, after making sure nobody else was within earshot, spoke up: 'Long live free Hungary!'"

These three stands seem to reflect the attitude of the Hungarians 10 years after this Communist-ruled country tried to shake off communism.

The revolution broke out Oct. 23, 1956. There was a brief span of jubilation before the Russians smashed it Nov. 4.

The impact of the Soviet action was resounding. Thousands of Western Communists tore up their party cards. Demonstrations were held in various Western capitals and many Communist party offices were ransacked. World communism suffered a setback. In Austria, the Communists were wiped out in Parliament and have not succeeded in coming back.

The Foreign Ministry refuses to arrange interviews with leaders involved in the revolution or visits to factories such as the huge plant of Casper Island which had a role in the uprising. Without approval, such interviews or visits to plants are in fact barred.

Western observers here agreed the regime's apparent jitteriness are not due to fears of unrest on the anniversary date. But the regime obviously feels that even small incidents could be embarrassing. There are signs of increased police activities on the roads to and from Budapest.

About 200,000 Hungarians fled to the West after the 1956 revolution. The Foreign Ministry says about 60,000 have returned.

The number of Hungarians seeking refuge in other countries now is down to a few hundred every year. A modernized iron curtain studded with electronic gadgets, plus barbed wire and minefields on some stretches makes it hazardous to try to escape to the West.

But an increasing number of Hungarians defect during tourist trips abroad.

Hungary today seems much better off than before the uprising, but liberalization has slowed down in the past two years.

The Communists did partly meet a basic demand of the revolutionaries for more freedom. In the years 1956-63 life here undoubtedly became less restricted. Party chief Janos Kadar set the line with his statement that "anyone who is not against us is in fact for us."

Nonparty members were given top jobs in the economy. A boom on foreign travel started.

MRS. JOHN HENSTOCK

Hollister OES Rushes Community

The Hollister Chapter No. 47 of the Order of the Eastern Star is headquartered in a community of only slightly higher population than its membership list. The chapter, which serves the Salmon-Trout area, has 50 members.

The group's worthy patron, Ray Clark, and associate worthy matron and patron, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Clark, drive 40 miles three or four times each month to attend meetings.

Instituted in 1915, the chapter's first, worthy matron and patron were Mrs. Julia Reed and Elmer Edmundson. The current worthy matron is Mrs. John Henstock. The group was organized by representatives from Twin Falls Chapter No. 23.

Other officers of the chapter are Mrs. Lekoy Mayo, conducting officer; Mrs. Lee Miller, secretary; Mrs. Ray Clark, treasurer; Mrs. Donald Parrou, chaplain; and Mrs. Ora Jones, marshal.

Others are Mrs. Elwood Henstock, warden; Mrs. William McDaniels, organizer; Mrs. Bill Manney, Adah; Mrs. George McGregor, Ruth; Mrs. Ruby Dean, Esther; Mrs. Homer Roberts, Martha; Mrs. Dora Clark, Electra; and Homer Roberts, sentinel.

The purpose of the Hollister OES is the same as any other fraternal organization. The group supports the national grand organizations projects such as helping needy students through a religious training program, known as ISFAIR. The unit also supports the OES retirement home.

Each Eastern Star worthy grand matron has a special project and most local chapters support this project. The Hollister chapter also subscribes to this policy, and last year they followed the worthy grand's "Make Someone Happy" theme. The "grand" designation is given to all state officers.

The aid of the Hollister chapter is stated by worthy matron Mrs. Henstock, is "to give members a social outlet through service projects."

These projects include donations to the Cancer Fund and the Boise Children's Home. The group also serves at the Mason banquet.

"The financial support of these activities is obtained through rummage sales held at the Hollister Masonic Lodge."

An annual social activity for the group is a dinner hosted by the Matrons.

ITT Remedy for Itchy Foot Includes Charter Bus, Bandana and Post Cards

Does an itchy foot indicate a physical malfunction, or is it a warning signal that the proverbial grass is beginning to grow and it's time to move on?

Members of the United Friendship Club, a subsidiary of Idaho Travelers Tours, apparently support the latter proposition. Their remedy for itchy feet calls for a charter bus, a figurative red bandana-tied parcel and a stack of post cards for the "folks back home," according to Myrtle Anderson, one of the organizers of the club.

Idaho Travelers Tours "was initiated by Miss Anderson and Mrs. Ina Schreiber, both Twin Falls. It all began in 1931, when Mrs. Schreiber asked Miss Anderson if she wanted to go to the Hawaiian Islands. The two then decided the trip would be more fun with five.

About 24 women decided on taking a boat to the Islands in April, 1932.

The trip was the beginning of the United Friendship Club, organized a few years later by the two women. Members must have been on a tour excursion before they can join.

Idaho Travelers Tours was devised as "a means of enabling elderly persons to travel in comfort with their friends. However, the charter bus tours taken by the group are open to anyone who wishes to go. The age range on a typical tour might include a 95-year-old great-grandmother as well as an 8-year-old grandchild.

"The average age on the trips is 70.

Before a trip is taken, funds for lodging and bus fares are collected by Miss Anderson and Mrs. Schreiber from each participant. Most reservations are then arranged, the bus driver is contacted and the departure date is set.

The tour schedules are not inflexible, and the bus passengers have the option of literally going home if they wish.

According to Miss Anderson, passengers may also disembark at any point of the trip should they have friends or relatives in a certain city along the tour's route.

In 1939, Miss Anderson, who had always wanted to see Alaska, suggested that the group travel along the Alcan Highway to establish a sister city in that state, the group toured Alaska by train, seeing McKinley, Anchorage and Seward. A boat to Seattle was included in the second lap of the trip, and then home by bus and the second major tour of the group was over.

About 35 women went on a bus trip, through Teton National Park, in 1945. In 1945, two buses carrying more than 50 people toured the eastern part of the United States and came back through the Southwest States.

Many residents of the eastern states are not sure of the exact location of Idaho, according to Miss Anderson. She also noted that comments such as "Idaho? That's that in So. Valley?" were not uncommon.

A tour of Cuba was the group's 1957 highlight. During the trip, the bus of our "Rainblin'-Roses" was stopped by Cuban police on two occasions. The police allowed the bus to continue its trip after taking one peek inside the vehicle, according to Miss Anderson.

It goes without saying just so surprised to see a busload of elderly women that they couldn't say a word," she commented.

Dryce Canyon, Zion National Park, the north and south rims of the Grand Canyon, Death Valley, Marineland, Disneyland and San Francisco highlighted the club's 21-day trip through the Southwest and California in 1958.

At least one long tour is taken each year by the group, with occasional shorter jaunts to Salt Lake City.

Miss Anderson estimates that the organization has chartered buses through every state in the U.S., including Hawaii and Alaska, except four. "Every state has its own beauty," she said. "But the West has an undeniable appeal for me; I would rather live here in Twin Falls than in anyplace else," she added.

Miss Anderson and Mrs. Schreiber receive no salary for arranging the tours. Idaho Travelers Tours is a non-profit organization, and all leftover funds are returned.

The group's excursions last year included a trip that took in the Northern Idaho, Redfish Lake, Bonners Ferry, Spokane and Yellowstone National Park. This trip lasted 10 days and 38 women participated.

Another 10-day trip was organized for those women who had expressed a desire to see at least one Pasadena Rose Parade. The televised account of the parade didn't appeal to 24 members of the group so they took off for California by way of Nevada, San Francisco and Disneyland.

An overnight trip to Salt Lake City to see "The Sound of Music" was taken over the Labor Day Weekend.

Past destinations have included the Black Hills of South Dakota, Glacier Park, Lake Louise, Chicago, Detroit, New York, Quebec, Carlsbad Caverns and Hudson Bay, Yosemite National Park, Washington, D.C., Hell Canyon, International Peace Gardens, the South Dakota Badlands and Mount Rushmore also have been visited by the group.

The list goes on. The names of the towns, cities and historical landmarks are familiar to many Americans. These are the places that go into "We always planned to do it but never got around to it" category, Miss Anderson commented.

Idaho Travelers Tours was organized for women who aren't content to plan—to whom action is the pass-word.

It is not always possible for the group to arrange to have the same bus driver on all of the tours, but their favorite is driver Glenn Yeagle, Pocatello. Yeagle has taken the group on 14 tours since 1939.

Most of the women who sign up for the tours are from Magic Valley, but several people from other areas in the state also have participated.

Starting next year, Miss Anderson and Mrs. Schreiber intend to pick up the former club policy of holding a dinner after each tour. Slides and films of the trip will be shown during the dinner.

"We've had few flat tires considering the thousands of miles we've traveled," Miss Anderson said. "It's been a wonderful experience," she added.

As far as the itchy foot is concerned, it reportedly feels fine after a trip with the Idaho Travelers' Tours.

Looking at plans of Architect Ivan Stone for the new Jerome Memorial Library, to be completed this fall, are from left, Mrs. Grace Lander, librarian; Mrs. Rose Updegraff and Mrs. William Peters, both pioneer members of the Jerome Civic Club. Completion of the library is the fulfillment of a dream of nearly

55 years for the club. The facility is named in honor of the efforts of members like Mrs. Peters and Mrs. Updegraff and financed in part by a large donation of the club. The library has been temporarily housed in Pioneer hall, adjacent to the old library site. (Times-News photo)

Jerome Civic Club's 55-Year Dream Achieved

By CYNTHIA MCKENZIE
JEROME—This fall the dream and work of nearly 55 years will be achieved when the doors of the Jerome Civic Memorial Library are opened in Jerome.

The Civic Club came into existence on a hot June afternoon in 1909 when a group of pioneer women of the Jerome tract met in the Trail Building, and elected Mrs. Walter A. Weiss as its first president.

Early meetings were held in members' homes, until it was decided to have a regular room in the Camas-Building. This provided a central location for the books the women began to accumulate, and a place where women coming into town could rest and visit. The membership, which was made up of nearly every woman in town, tried to supply one book each month for the circulating library.

Soon the need for a building to house the growing collection, became apparent.

A 1918 Red Cross Auction was so successful that it was decided to retain a portion of the funds to start a building fund.

The group contributed its time and talents abundantly to the community in many ways, sewing and knitting, and buying war bonds during World War I, as well as serving as a focal point for the cultural life of the pioneer community.

Land was given to the club by the Jerome Land and Water Co., located one block north of the old Jerome National Bank. In February, 1929, the first meeting was held in the new building, which had been designed by Rudolph Falkenrath, an architect from Salt Lake City.

The group worked hard, putting on cooked food sales, carnivals, dances and dinners, to pay off the $5,000 mortgage on the building.

In June of 1928, at the annual rodeo luncheon, the mortgage was burned amid great rejoicing.

Throughout the years, members continued to enlarge and support the library facility maintained in the club building, besides taking on many other projects of charity and civic improvement.

In April, 1932, the club sold the land on which the building stood to the federal government, as a site for a new post office building for Jerome. The $10,000 realized from this sale was invested by the club against future need.

The following year, the building was turned over to the city of Jerome, for use as a municipal library. Many club members have served on the library board in the intervening years, and the library continued to be the recipient of gifts of books and equipment from the club.

Under the presidency of Mrs. George James, who served at the same time as a member of the library board, the group decided unanimously to donate $7,000 of its invested funds to make possible the erection of a new library facility for the city.

Together with funds which the city had retained from sale of adjacent property to the federal government, matched by funds accrued to the state of Idaho under federally enacted legislation, the Civic Club contribution thus financed the handsome new building which now stands in place of the old.

Named the Civic Club Memorial Library, in honor of all the women from whose dreams and hard work a modern library has emerged, the building will, hopefully, open its doors sometime this fall.

Included in Architect Ivan Stone's plans is a room at the east end of the building which will serve as a meeting place for the Civic Club in the future, thus linking the old with the new.

Some club members have been a little anxious that the club and the new library is a dream come true. But Mrs. Frank Titus, president, feels that the original aims of the club, as stated at the time it was formed—"to develop and foster the civic, educational and social activities (of the community) and to provide suitable accommodations and projects—are still valid.

"We'll simply have to find a new direction," she says.

Burley Credit Women's Club Is Awarded Trophy

BURLEY — The Burley Credit Women's Breakfast Club, organized Oct. 17, 1963, was awarded a silver trophy last June during the district convention at Tacoma, Wash. for the club organized less than five years making the most achievement.

The Burley club hosted the Southern Idaho Consumer Credit Conference, Region two in September. Mrs. Fern Petersen, Burley club member, was appointed chaplain for district 10.

In 1966, Mrs. Donald Mabey, a past president of the Burley Club, was appointed editor of "The Crisis," the official Credit Women's bulletin of Pacific Northwest.

The club members assisted with the open house and women's home management forum in May, 1966, for the First Security Bank official opening of a bank in Burley.

The "Burley Club" is in district 10 which includes Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana, Alaska, British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan, Pacific Northwest. At present there are 400 clubs which make up 13,917 members. The Burley club has a membership of 27, of which five are charter members.

Active charter members are Mrs. Wayne Hayden, Mrs. Wayne Konrad, Mrs. LePage

Layton, Barbara Stiens and Mrs. Clair Wyatt.

Under the guidance of the Twin Falls Credit Women's Breakfast Club the Burley group was organized. Officers for the Burley Club were installed Jan. 9, 1964, with Mrs. Wayne Hayden as the first president.

The first Credit Women's Breakfast Club was organized in April, 1930, by Mrs. Edith Shaw Johnson, Portland. The formation of other clubs in Spokane and other cities followed rapidly and in May, 1934, the Pacific Northwest Council of Credit Women's Breakfast Clubs was organized at Tacoma by delegates from five clubs in the 10th District of the National Retail Credit Association.

The group organized as a result of the belief that through local, state, district and international group effort, women holding positions in the retail credit profession should become articulate as an organized body, promoting their common interests.

The objectives are to develop a closer contact among women, to maintain a friendly relationship between credit departments of various firms and businesses represented by the members and local credit bureau, to stimulate education in the practice and procedure of credit and to encourage and promote the formation of similar educational organizations.

The outstanding event of the year is the annual Bosses Night Banquet. The bosses are entertained at a banquet with all expenses paid by the club members. Bosses Night is the social event of the year for the club. This year the study manual is titled "Keys to Opportunity." Program lessons through the year have been presented by local businessmen, attorneys, district judges and credit managers of local firms.

Tests are given once a year on the manual of study for the current year. Awards are presented at Bosses Night annual banquet for members passing the test and for perfect attendance.

The club officers are Mrs. Clair Wyatt, president; Mrs. Wayne Hayden, first vice-president; Mrs. Fern Petersen, second vice-president; Mrs. Jasper Kidd, secretary; Mrs. LePage Layton, treasurer; Miss Stiens, historian, and Mrs. Wayne Konrad, parliamentarian.

The Burley Credit Women's Breakfast Club meets the first and third Thursday for a 7:30 a.m. breakfast at National Hotel. Guests are welcome.

Town and Country Club Busy

FILER — Town and Country Club members engaged in a busy, and profitable year. This is a home demonstration club with its lessons devoted to home-making methods.

Mrs. John B. Storrs is president; Mrs. Paul Kahlflech, vice president, and Mrs. Elmer Harshbarger, secretary-treasurer. The club meets the second Tuesday of the month and has a membership of 21 women.

Lessons were presented on improving the figure, yard beautification, communicating for better understanding and dining with the gracious touch. Mrs. Helen Walker of the Idaho Power Co. gave a lesson on pastry-making and all members report making much better pies. Methods of freezing, and most cookery pointers also were well received.

In July the group entertained husbands at a steak fry and the men will reciprocate by hosting a December party, which will include dining and dancing.

The unit will join other clubs in Magic Valley in a November meeting at which time Christmas ideas will be exchanged.

Town and Country Club members help with the Red Cross Bloodmobile, collect for Red Cross, cancer and heart drives. At Christmas time they help pack boxes to distribute to needy families in the area. They also donate to CARE.

Career Girls Welcomed By Church Service Unit

A roll call of the Wesleyan Service Guild, a Christian service group for employed women, reads "what like the familiar 'Doctor, Lawyer, Indian Chief' children's nursery rhyme.

The women of the guild represent many different lines of work — teaching, secretarial, clerical, office management, journalism, bookkeeping, nursing, home decoration and many others.

Officers of the 22 members are: Mrs. Aimee Bryan, president; Lotus Guy Schumaker, vice president; Mrs. John Ricks, secretary; and Mrs. Clyde Dickenson, treasurer. Meetings are held during the evening once a month at private homes.

The guild is a part of the Methodist Church, although church membership is not a requirement for membership in the guild. The group has an auxiliary relationship to the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church.

The enrichment of the spiritual life of the members through the many channels of service of the organization is the purpose of the guild. Through the guild, members contribute to the education, the mental and physical health and welfare of children in the United States as well as those all over the world. Donations to hospitals, homes for children, residences for young working women, schools, community centers and recreational facilities are among the group's various projects.

"We work through, and in cooperation with the Methodist Church, and in cooperation with other community agencies to meet community needs as we are able," commented Mrs. Bryan. "We minister to all people regardless of creed, race or color," she added.

Programs of the guild are carried out in such a way as to meet the needs and interests of the career women. The development of Christian attitudes in a world of competition is an important part of their programs, according to Mrs. Bryan.

Regular contributions to church funds through voluntary donation by club members is another group project.

Group members regularly participate in study programs dealing with such areas as economics, social problems, poverty and missionary work. Lesson plans for the study programs are compiled through the Methodist Church.

Social activities of the guild include an annual Christmas party, summer picnic and picnics. A social hour follows each meeting.

"We are particularly interested in the children of the world," Mrs. Bryan said. "We attempt to give them all the assistance we can," she concluded.

Hospitality Is Theme of Ruralettes

JEROME—"Western Hospitality, Our Golden Rule" was the theme adopted by the Western Ruralettes club at the time of its organization in April, 1959. Members decided at the outset that the club would be a study group with two socials a year, honoring husbands and families of the membership.

Rather than having one or two members serve as home demonstrators for lessons and study projects sponsored by the County Extension Homemakers Club Council, the business for each meeting undertakes the task. This enables each member to learn by doing, and at the same time lessens the job of the Council Representatives.

Competing for the third year with a fair booth entry at the county fair, the club's theme this year was "Home Is Where the Heart Is."

Many of the club members have won high honors and recognition for their sewing and cooking achievements.

The club limits its membership to 18, in order that the meetings might continue to be held in the homes. Mrs. Thane Madrox is president.

Filer Club Headed by Mrs. Krepcik

FILER — Mrs. Joe Krepcik was elected president of the Filer Woman's Club at the April meeting. Mrs. O. J. Childs is vice president; Mrs. Wilfred Herrell, secretary; Mrs. Lafe Barron, treasurer, and Mrs. Earl LaHue, corresponding secretary.

This club begins its meetings in September and meets once a month at the Methodist Fellowship Hall. Meetings in May at the annual Blossom Luncheon which is the highlight of the year.

This year a Mexican theme was chosen for the luncheon and Mrs. Cecil Brown and Mrs. Carl Blass gave a travelogue on six South American countries, including Mexico, which they and their husbands had toured. The two women showed slides and exhibited a number of souvenirs brought back from their trip.

The club was responsible for forming the Filer Public Library and for many years supported it until the city took over that responsibility. The club has sponsored an active Camp Fire group for many years.

Other projects include holding art and poetry contests in the local schools and giving prizes to winners, holding scholarship fund, and donating to all fund-raising drives. It urges Filer businessmen and residents to display their American Flags on each holiday, and a rose garden planted in town several years ago is maintained by the club.

A committee arranges programs for the coming year and these programs usually include a speaker and several musical selections. Social events are a dinner for husbands and guests and a polka lunch.

MIX APPLE CUBES

Keep peeled apples nice and white for salads by mixing the apple cubes with salad dressing or mayonnaise as soon as possible after cutting.

History Is Compiled by Filer Club

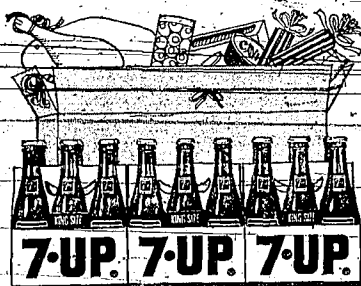

FILER — The Past Noble Grands Club compiled a complete history of the Miriam Rebelein Lodge this year to be used in the spring celebration of the 50th anniversary of the lodge.

Members devoted many hours of time and research to prepare the report.

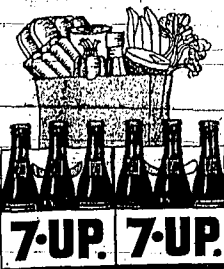

Mrs. David Cooper is president of the club; Mrs. A. C. Leeper, vice president and reporter, and Minerva Lorain, secretary-treasurer.

The group meets the first Thursday night of each month. Although a social group, the club assists the lodge in many ways such as buying needed equipment and the like. Members send gifts to an adopted sister at the 400P Home, Caldwell, on her birthday anniversary and Christmas and several have visited her.

The club donates to local drives and community projects. Programs are presented at each club meeting. A special banquet for husbands is held in February.

Stimulation of Education Through Intellectual Growth Is AAUW Goal

The stimulation of intellectual growth among its members is the promotion of education, in general is the two-fold purpose of the American Association of University Women.

The Twin Falls chapter was organized in 1962 by 33 charter members. The aims of the local branch coincide with those of the national association.

Prerequisite for membership in the AAUW is a degree from an accredited four-year institution of higher education. The college must also be approved by the national organization, which, at this time, approves approximately 50 colleges and universities. A school which lacks a necessary percentage of women on its faculty cannot be approved.

Through its various programs, the AAUW enables members to continue their intellectual growth, to further the advancement of women, to discharge their special responsibilities to society as educated women and to unite the alumnae of different institutions for practical educational work.

The maintenance of a loan fund for the use of Twin Falls Junior College students is one of the educational services provided by the club. This loan fund makes maximum loans of $100 available to the Junior College students from Twin Falls.

The loan fund is supported by profits from the AAUW book Nook, a used book store. The used books are donated to the club and then sold for appropriate amounts.

The local AAUW also contributes to the national association's fellowship fund. This fund is available to qualified women for advanced study here and abroad.

In addition to education, AAUW is interested in cultural arts, legislation, community problems—United Nations—and nearly all phases of national and foreign affairs.

As with most other women's clubs, the members' husbands study largely in the background. The husbands are, however, included in the AAUW's annual July picnic.

The depth study of two or more general topics a year is an integral part of the AAUW program. The national association makes a list of four study topics available to all local chapters bi-annually. The local group is then obligated to choose at least two topics for study, and they may study all eight.

The Twin Falls chapter this year has studied "Revolution in Modern China" and "Science: A Creative Discipline." In connection with the study of China, the club sponsored the lecture by Mrs. Lillian Chan, a professor of English at a Tivian university. This lecture was open to the public, and it was presented in May at the Episcopal Church.

Mrs. Chan is now teaching English over a Tiwan radio station, and she reports that more than 50 percent of the English students in Tiwan listen to her station. Mrs. Jane McElroy was chairman of the China study group, and she arranged Mrs. Chan's visit.

Another AAUW-sponsored lecture was presented by Mr. and Mrs. Keith Natalie. The Natis had just returned from Russia, where they had been teaching at the American embassy, and their topic was "Conditions in Russia Today." This lecture was also open to the public and more than 124 people attended.

Natalie is now Dean of Boys at O'Leary Junior High School.

Mrs. Gareth Wilson was chairman of the science study group. She and her husband are both bacteriologists, and this aspect of science was naturally emphasized. Mrs. Wilson noted, however, that the purpose of the study groups is to give the club members a broader outlook on all phases of the general study

Gooding's LWML Began in '50

GOODING — The Lutheran Women's Missionary League of Gooding is rather young in years, compared to some women's organizations. It began in 1950 as an auxiliary unit to the national LWML whose main objectives are mission inspiration and service.

Past presidents are Mrs. Kurt Westendorf, Mrs. Lyle Thomas, Mrs. William McFursey, Mrs. Irvin Braun, Mrs. Roy Warrison, Mrs. Woodward Borsvold, and Mrs. Ed Schutte. Mrs. Westendorf is serving as president again this year.

Special projects of the society in the past years have been Christmas and Easter contributions which have been sent to a medical missionary, Dr. Meyer in Nigeria, to missionary John Sprier in Talspi, Comoros; Good Shepherd Lutheran Home in Terra Bella, for the mentally retarded and more recently money donated to the Lutheran Dakota Ranch, a ranch for delinquent boys.

They have also taken care of the placement of "This Day" magazine in several doctors' offices and the hospitals in Gooding. These are just some of the projects carried on by the group over the past years.

Remodeling Church Is Big Project

SHOSHONE — Group and individual projects by the Shoshone Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service the past year have emphasized the raising of funds for the church remodeling.

Members all have worked to make the semi-annual rummage sales from which several hundred dollars were netted, a success.

Individuals have carried out such projects as baking or sewing and they have assisted the men of the church with even the heavier work of painting or redoing furniture for the church.

The finishing of the kitchen is the main project of the society at this time. Sinks and stoves are purchased and are now awaiting the donated labor by men who do carpenter work for the congregation.

The WCSS in many respects differs from the Methodist Ladies Aid, first organized mostly as a social organization. However, many of its aims are the same and traditions continue.

The Ladies Aid was one of the first organizations in Shoshone's early days. Hostesses invited friends whether they were members of the church or not, and generally about the same time attended the meetings. Elaborate refreshments, almost full meals, were served and everyone put 25 cents in the money dish.

Members worked to earn money to help pay off the church mortgage and a big celebration dinner was held when the mortgage was burned.

Unusual means of raising funds were used with contests and even the husbands worked. Mrs. Tom Gooding and Mrs. Tom McMahon took turns being president during the first years of organization. One of their written rules was "no gossip at meetings," and this has been handed down during the years.

The present Methodist Women's Society is more streamlined with less time spent on social refreshments simpler and horizons wider.

Through programs and study courses, members learn about and help support world-wide Christian projects as well as those at home. They learn about other nations, denominations and religions. Reports on United Nations and integration are given regularly.

One of the best loved observances of the year is Quiet Day in the Week of Prayer and Self Denial. It is held in the afternoon at country homes where fewer outside noises such as traffic and trains are heard. Members also look forward to World Day of Prayer services when women of all Christian denominations worship together.

"Although rituals differ, a member said "our God is the same."

Mrs. Wandell Elliott is the president this year with Mrs. Robert Ballard secretary.

Flower Club Members Dabble in Literature

The Bowl Blossom Flower Club is not a literary art society, regardless of what one might deduct from a look at the club library, which lists such titles as "Art of Table Setting and Flower Arrangement," "California Floral Decor, Easy Ways to Good Flower Arrangement" and "Design for Flower Arrangements." The purpose of the group, which is the study of flowers, and flower arrangements, is an extension of its theme: "Beauty is Our Heritage."

The unit was organized in 1951 as an extension of the Twin Falls Garden Club. Formal organization followed three years later, with Mrs. H. T. Laird being first tender elected.

Formal naming of the group occurred the next year, and in 1955 the club adopted a constitution and became a full-fledged member of the informal array of women's clubs.

Current officers of group's 21 members are Mrs. Victor W. Nelson, president; Mrs. Tom Speedy, vice president, and Mrs. C. W. Daugh, secretary and treasurer.

Meetings are devoted to study sessions based on one of the many books in the club's library, followed by a session of "the real thing," complete with bowls, blossoms and foam.

Several of the authors included in the group's library have given demonstrations to the club. Mrs. Howard Kittel, who wrote "Easy Ways to Good Flower Arrangement," and Carl Stricker, "Album of Flower Arrangements," have been among these lecturers.

Money collected from dues is used to buy the books.

Past programs have included such topics as "Baskets Are Beautiful," "Cottage Crafts," "Wintered Wreath Study of Driftwood," and "Figurines for Effect."

The feature of one program was a film and slides of award-winning floral arrangements, and another was devoted to the use of accessories for dramatic effect.

Another special program included a flower demonstration by Mrs. Kittel, a fully-recognized expert in the field.

Other topics have been concerned with suitable plant material for patio arrangements, perspectives in choosing plant materials and substitutes, how

Spanish War Unit Grows Smaller as Time Marches on

Nearly 70 years ago the United States became involved in a conflict with Spain which the historians, several years later, were to call the Spanish-American War.

In 1931, 17 women from Twin Falls organized an auxiliary to provide aid and comfort for the men and women who served their country during the Spanish-American War and the incident war in the Philippines at the turn of the century. Their club soon became a part of the United Spanish War Veterans Auxiliary Society.

Today, the organization, while maintaining a formal membership list of 16, has only four active members.

Mrs. Lalla V. Litter, charter secretary of the group who still maintains her position as secretary-treasurer, notes that the size of the club naturally restricts the scope of its activities. "We have our meetings but times about all," she said. Social hours follow each meeting.

Flowers for funerals and hospital flowers are provided by the group. Members also contribute to the Veterans Hospital in Boise. Monthly meetings are held in the American Legion Hall.

Mrs. Ruby Smith is president of the club.

Friendship, Loyalty Are Unit's Aims

GOODING — The Social Hour Club came into existence in 1917. It developed from the "Needlecraft Club" which was organized by Mrs. William Romesha in 1914.

The constitution of the club states the purpose is to promote friendship in the community and "do any good we can." When first organized the boundaries of the club were approximately west of Gooding to the Malad River, bounded on the north by the railroad track and on the south by the "31 mile road," but in more recent years the boundaries have been removed.

Of the present members, Mrs. R. B. Bolte has belonged to the club continuously since 1922 and Mrs. Sam Redington and Mrs. George W. Jenkins have belonged since 1926.

One early day project of the club was to interest the women of other clubs in organizing and working to eradicate the magpies which were predators on turkey eggs, etc.

Another project this club accomplished was to feed the neighbor men at threshing time for the noon meal and tea for supper or breakfast. This solved the problem of the women of wandering how many women show up and after time having much left over food with no means of refrigeration.

Club members also took turns acting as reporter for the local newspaper and turning the proceeds in to the club treasury.

As many other clubs do, the Social Hour Club has donated to various charities, including the Children's Home, Boys' Town, TB Association, heart fund, cancer, Girls' State, and 4-H organizations, as well as patients at the Tuberculosis Hospital. They also made hot packs for a polio victim.

The group has a name plate on one of the doors in the local hospital and they have donated money for the purchase of two bed-side tables.

They have also purchased lamps, curtains, pillows and footstools for the room, donated money for the incubator in the nursery and have also bought books for the library.

Members have furnished material for the occupational therapy department of the Tuberculosis Hospital, given clothing for patients, and made tray favors. Through the efforts of the club has given clothing, bedding and provisions to victims of fires.

At the time the government was providing materials to make new mattresses, the club made a mattress for one of the members and provided new pillows for seven pillows and bought three pairs of pillowcases.

During the war years the club bought war bonds and stamps, sent couples several times to the Pocatello USO "Cuddle Jar," sent Christmas gift stockings to service men in the Sun Valley Hospital, sponsored a clothing drive for European people, helped with Red Cross sewing, made two afghan and several baby blankets.

In 1952 and 1953 the club had a very active social knock at the "Sunny Songsters," Mrs. Ed Morris, Mrs. Charles, Elsie, Mrs. A. G. Clemens, Mrs. John Hayden, Mrs. Ralph Smith and Mrs. A. E. Varner.

Social events include an annual Christmas dinner and gift exchange, a spring luncheon and entertaining other country clubs, and also the "all club parties" held each year.

Some of the very early day members included Mrs. William Hirsch, Mrs. M. L. Clerk, Mrs. Joe Thompson, Mrs. Visa

PYTHIAN SISTERS, one of the oldest clubs in Twin Falls, is now facing the possibility of dissolution. Two of the remaining seven officers and members are Mrs. Archie Turner, left, and Mrs. Ted Hafer, secretary and most excellent chief of the organization respectively. 'Sisters' Are in Danger Of Club Dissolution

The death of a women's club is a quiet thing. There is no fanfare involved — no cries of anguish — as attendance at meetings grows smaller and smaller and finally ceases.

The meetings of the Twin Falls Temple No. 21 of Pythian Sisters are undergoing such a cessation. There are now only seven active members left in the club.

The Twin Falls chapter of the Knights of Pythias gave up its charter in 1951. Hopefully, the charter will be picked up again this year. The Pythian Sisters cannot survive without the support of the men's association.

The purpose of the women's auxiliary is to promote friendship, charity and benevolence. The group's ritual is based on the friendship story of Damon and Pythias.

The main charity project of the club is the Idaho Youth Ranch at Rupert. Members send food, bedding, birthday cards, popcorn balls and Christmas party items to the ranch. The Pythian Sisters was one of the first organizations to help the ranch.

Last year a tour of the ranch was made by Grand Chief Gladys Danielson, Genesee, with the local Sisters.

One of the biggest donations to the ranch by the Sisters was a washer and dryer, which was contributed when the men's organization was still active.

Mrs. Milton Johnson, Mrs. Nelly Walker, Mrs. Pearl Perkins, Mrs. Clarence Feld, Mrs. Bolte and Mrs. Blystone.

The size of the group makes these and similar donations even more impressive.

Special days that the club observes include Flag Day, Memorial Day, Lompkins Night (when all officers review Temple duties), Roll Call Night, October Anniversary Day and the March birthday anniversary of Joseph Addison Hill, who organized the auxiliary.

The local chapter was founded in 1907, which makes it one of the older organizations in Twin Falls. The group meets bi-monthly, on the first and third Wednesday of each month.

Officers are Mrs. Ted Hafer, most excellent chief; Mrs. John Oliver, excellent senior; Mrs. Elizabeth Robert, excellent junior; Mrs. Ralph Uhler, manager; Mrs. Archie Turner, secretary; Mrs. Ora Sumner, treasurer and Mrs. Harold I. Moreson, guard.

Several of these officers have held state offices. They are Mrs. Hafer, who was past grand ritualistic officer; Mrs. Turner, grand treasurer; Mrs. Sumner, past grand chief, and Mrs. Moreson, past representative.

Mrs. Morrison represented the local chapter at the national convention at Indianapolis, Ind., in August. Mrs. Morrison was one of two representatives from Idaho.

The group is now primarily a social organization, although it is officially formed as a service club. The turning point for the Pythian Sisters was the reinstatement of the Knights of Pythias. The Knights' reinstatement may be another turning point.

Your Lovely CULTURED PEARLS

How to buy and wear them.

An adventure in beauty awaits you when you go to Sterling Jewelry Company to shop for your pearls. The cultured pearls are available in single strands of silver unalloyed or graduated pearls in a length to flatter your individual figure. Naturally, you will choose the particular color of pearl that does the most for your complexion. Generally, women with olive or tanned complexions prefer a cream rose pearl. The very full will generally choose a white pearl with a rose of silver orient.

Women with slender figures will be complemented by a longer length necklace having the checker style to her collar, winter cousin. An opera length necklace is a securing fashion favorite. This is a pearl strand, usually of longer millimeter pearls, in the 30" length. A standard length requires 16", while the "checker" length is 10" to 15".

Black or blue pearls, especially the French Lacaze pearls, are always dried or treated, and therefore should be about the same for sometimes a little less for that of the white, pink or cream.

PROPER PEARL CARE

Since pearls are an organic gem, rather than of mineral origin, special care should be given them. Natural luster pearls may wear away the coating of nacre on the mother-of-pearl bead, leaving the core exposed. This often the case with pearls of poor quality that have a thin nacre coating. Keep your pearls separate. In a lined case, away from your handkerchiefs. Always put them on after you have applied your hair spray and perfume since these two liquids may damage your pearls. After wearing, wipe with a soft cloth or chamois to remove acids and make up. If worn frequently, they should be restrung by your jeweler at least twice a year. To remove cosmetics and dirt, wash gently in a very mild soap solution. Generally, it is better to have your jeweler clean them at the time they are restringed.

See the collection of beautiful cultured pearls from $22 to $1000 at Sterling Jewelry Co.

Auxiliary Advances Patriotism

Patriotism in the form of aid to veterans is the order of the day for the Twin Falls American Legion Auxiliary Unit No. 7.

Organized in 1920, the American Legion Auxiliary first included wives and mothers of men who had served in World War I. Membership now includes wives, mothers or sisters of men who have served in World War I, World War II or the Korean War.

The first president of the Twin Falls chapter was Mrs. Truman Boyd. Meetings were held in a hall above Booth's Department Store, where Trolinger's Drug Store is now located.

One of the first to organize in the state, Unit No. 7 received its charter in 1923. Members furnished a special room in the American Legion Hall, built in 1929, for meetings.

The auxiliary now has 70 members. Officers are Izetta McCoy, president; Mrs. W. P. Salmon, first vice-president; Clara Schultz, second vice-president; Mrs. A. J. Wirsching, secretary; Mrs. Christina Peterson, treasurer; Mrs. H. L. Wurst, chaplain, and Mrs. Emma Stone, sergeant-at-arms.

Community service is an important part of the group's various programs. Contributions to the blood bank, participation in Red Cross and Heart Fund drives and serving on election boards are interpretations of this function.

The observance of Memorial Day is another important event. Members of the group sell Flanders' Field poppies previous to Memorial Day. These poppies are made by veterans and provide funds for their use. The auxiliary made $251 last year for the veterans' cause by selling the poppies.

The auxiliary also works with youth groups, such as Camp Fire Girls and Boy Scouts. A portion of the proceeds from the poppy sales are used for child welfare.

A past activity of the group was the sponsorship of an "Americanism" essay contest for school children. The auxiliary also sponsors a delegate to Girls' State.

The group also helps with the community Christmas basket program and aids veterans and their families in Twin Falls with rummage sales proceeds.

Each month the auxiliary has a study program. Under the foreign relations program, money is sent to the South American country specified for study that year.

A continuous sale of paring knives, a cookbook sale and a public card party are other fund-raising activities.

The American Legion Auxiliary's state convention was held in June at Coeur d'Alene this year. Four delegates and four alternates from the local group attended.

This year's biggest project for the group was the sewing of lap robes for patients at the Veterans Hospital in Boise. Twenty lap robes have been sent so far. The group plans to make this project a permanent part of its overall program.

The sewing of night robes for the veterans is also planned for next year.

Social activities include a Christmas party, in which members from all other patriotic women's organizations are invited, and a summer picnic.

In summation, rehabilitation of war veterans, child welfare and community service are the aims and functions of the American Legion Auxiliary. The auxiliary offers eligible women an opportunity to promote patriotism.

Society at Springdale Marks Date.

SPRINGDALE — The Springdale Ward Relief Society observed its 50th anniversary last year. It was organized in 1915, with 14 members present at the first meeting.

Mrs. Alzina Marchant was the first president. Counselors were Mrs. Charles C. Livingston and Luna Chadwick.

Other ward presidents who have served since that date include Mrs. Ida Fields, Mrs. Stanley Marchant, Mrs. Thomas Dewberry, Mrs. Josephine Manning, Mrs. O. E. Christensen, Mrs. Jennie Griffin, Mrs. G. S. Marchant, Mrs. Emma Worthington, Mrs. Leona and Beckstrand, Mrs. Wayne Woodland and Mrs. Noel Bowcut.

The purpose of the Relief Society is to serve those in need, giving loyal, devoted and unselfish service wherever needed.

This organization, established 124 years ago at Nauvoo, Ill., by Joseph Smith of the LDS Church, is thought to be the oldest organization of its kind. There were 18 members present at the first meeting, held March 17, 1842.

Each week a lesson is presented. The first week is for the discussion of theology, or spiritual living; the second week includes the work day lesson on home making development through education; the third week includes the social relations lesson, and the fourth week includes the cultural refinement lesson, usually on a certain phase of literature.

advantage of the men's culinary skills by assigning to them the preparing of a meal's nucleus, the meat.

Officers are Mrs. Donald Anderson, president; Mrs. Dale Child, vice president; Mrs. Cloyce Edwards, secretary; and Mrs. Blaine Taylor, treasurer. There are currently 22 members.

Prospective members are chosen through an alphabetical listing of the club's active members. Each member takes a turn drawing someone into the club.

As stated before, interest in the "lifecycle arts" is a prerequisite for membership, but the willingness to participate is also required of prospective members. Those women who enjoy listening to book reviews but would never be willing to present one themselves are advised to join a different group.

THERE ARE FEW "beautiful letters" in the word "Cheese," but these officers of the Belles Lettres Book Club engage in a little experimentation with the word, nonetheless: "Beautiful"

Belles Lettres Employ Novel Name Game Idea

Choosing a name for a women's club is often an even more difficult task than writing the by-laws. Charter members are expected to know club is supposed to accomplish, and in what way these accomplishments are to be made, but the name: there's the rub!

The founders of the Belles Lettres Book Club solved this problem by having a name-chosing contest. And they came up with a French translation of "beautiful letters."

The study of authors and different types of literature is the purpose of the club. Members have checked a reading program from the University of Utah and have reviewed fiction, historical novels, Greek mythology, biographies, classics and murder mysteries. Variety is the spice of life.

"Books which were reviewed during the past year included 'So High,' by John G. Herri; 'Sweet Primpled Land,' Robert Laxalt; 'House of Many Rooms,' Rodella Hunter; 'The Man,' Irving Wallace; 'Mistress of Maylin,' Victoria Holt, and 'Eight Moon,' by San San as told to Betty Ford.

The books are selected by a program committee and then assigned to individual members. Each member is required to give at least one review every other year. The program committee chooses the books in order to avoid repetition.

A special event, presented for the first time this year, was a review of Chopin by Mrs. Ivan Allred. Mrs. Allred played four Chopin selections, interpreted by biographical sketches on the composer. This review was the highlight of one of the group's guest nights.

Two guest nights are held annually by the club. The other guest night's program consisted of a dramatized short story reading by Mrs. Richard Samck.

The reading was from "Roman Fever" by Edith Wharton. A background musical of Rome was painted for the reading by Mrs. Dale Child. The performance, held in November, was narrated by Mrs. Joy Nelson.

Another special project of the group is the sponsorship of the Twin Falls appearances of Mr. and Mrs. Stan Russon, of Salt Lake City. These appearances are presented in conjunction with two other literary arts societies in Twin Falls.

The Russos performed "Never Too Late" during their last visit to Twin Falls. The event was held at the Idaho Power auditorium and, due to the auditorium's limited seating, was attended primarily by members of the book clubs and their husbands and friends.

The last meeting of the group was held in May at the Rogerson Colonial Room. As with all other meetings, a book review was the feature of the program. This year, "An American Tragedy" by Theodore Dreiser was presented.

Organized in 1952, the club had 22 charter members. Mrs. Allred was the first president. Membership, which cannot exceed 22, is open to all persons interested in literature.

Social activities of the group are limited. Mrs. Reed-Day, past president of the club, has noted that the unit tries "to hold down on the social and concentrate on learning something."

A summer picnic and barbecue are planned, however. Husbands are invited to these functions; and club members take

Pleasant Plains Club Aids Area

JEROME — The Pleasant Plains Neighborhood Club was organized 45 years ago "to promote good citizenship, intellectual development, exchange of ideas and for the advancement of the community."

Its membership, currently 25, meets twice a month for this continued purpose. There are four members with over 25 years of service.

The club supports such organizations as the American Cancer Society, March of Dimes, American Red Cross, Crippled Children's Society, and the Idaho Youth Ranch, Rupert. In addition, it has lent its support to aid of Retarded Children and the Children's Home in Boise.

For a number of years it hosted the annual Teachers' reception, and continues as co-sponsor with other clubs, of delegates to Girls' State.

Social highlights of the club's year are the annual husband's dinner, the Mother's Day party and the Christmas dinner and gift exchange. Under the presidency of Mrs. Robert Golay, this year's big project was sponsorship of a booth at the county fair.

In past years, the club has won a number of prizes.

International Goodwill Is Soroptomists' Goal

The Soroptomist Club, a classified service organization for business and professional women, was created to promote international goodwill and understanding.

A sister club in Ringericks, Honefuss, Norway, was organized in this connection. The theme of the two clubs for this year is "Grow as We Explore."

Another purpose of Soroptomists is to promote responsible citizenship and better educational and library facilities. To further this aim, the club has purchased hospital equipment to furnish a room, provided playground equipment for Harry Barry Park and furnished book-stacks and an autograph book-depository for the Twin Falls Public Library.

The organization also purchased a special typewriter for the Cerebral Palsy school and sponsors a Golden Age Club—a recreational unit for senior citizens.

Past projects of the group have included furnishing the main lounge in the YMCA-YWCA Building, Furniture, draperies, carpeting and lamps were provided for the club and contributed $1,000 to the Civic Auditorium.

A secondary interest of Soroptomists is advancing the status of women. The unit sponsors a delegate to Girl's State, grants scholarships and loans to young women, provides clothing for needy, junior-high girls and sponsors the Venture Club, a service organization for young working women.

Another service project last year was the donation of $20 to the Soroptomist Foundation, which is a fund to provide financial aid to graduate students studying both in the U. S. and abroad. This project is another dimension of the group's attempt to further international goodwill.

"Little projects" also are a part of the Soroptomist program. In this connection, last year club members furnished the plane fare for a disabled Twin Falls citizen's return from Salt Lake City.

Other "little projects" included participation in the community Christmas basket drive, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce; the donation of candy and cookies to various Twin Falls rest homes on Valentine's Day; the sending of gifts to the girls at St. Anthony's Industrial School, and contributions to the Red Cross, Heart Fund and Aid to the Physically Handicapped.

A special annual project of the group is the Youth Citizenship Award, which is an award commending the character, church participation record and scholastic performance of a young citizen. This $100 honor was presented to Steven Klomp last year.

Social activities of the club include a Christmas party and a summer picnic.

Membership is open to all women who either own their own businesses or hold an executive position in another business. There are currently 26 members.

Funds for the unit's various activities are raised via rummage sales and a Christmas fruit cake sale.

These activities and projects are chosen with an eye toward helping the recipient help himself. The club first decides if the project can be successfully completed and then decides how to meet the need being discussed.

Soroptomist officers are Mrs. Morris Vavod, president; Mrs. Glen Cannon, vice president; Mrs. E. M. Raybourn, recording secretary; Mrs. Neann G. Hington, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Julia Koontz, treasurer. The group's directors are Mrs. Christian Peterson, Mrs. William Hull and Mrs. Percy Orneson.

LDS Group Is Largest In World

JEROME—From a simple beginning on March 17, 1842, the Relief Society organization of the LDS Church has grown to become the largest women's organization in the world.

Wherever an organized ward or branch of the church is to be found, there also will be found a closely knit organization of the Relief Society endeavoring to carry out its greatly diversified program, encompassing compassionate and other welfare services to the individual and family and community, promoting spiritual and educational development for all who come under its influence.

Often the bishop or branch president of a ward or branch is referred to as the "Father" of the ward or branch. In the same way, the president of the Relief Society is looked up to as the "Mother" of the unit.

On June 28, 1914, Phena Cox Sidwell became the first president of the first Relief Society in Jerome.

As "mother" of this new ward, she and her sister, Kate Munk, and Alvira Ahlstrom, plotted their little group in its infancy. Compassionate service in those days meant caring for the dead, acting as midwives, providing clothing for the poor and rendering any kind of service to those in need.

All this they gladly did, at the same time sharing responsibility for the spiritual, cultural and educational development of their community.

Through the years, many sisters were called to head the society as it grew in numbers. On Oct. 10, 1912, the Jerome Ward was divided into two wards; the first and second wards, necessitating two Relief Society Organizations. Myra Barlow was asked to accept leadership of the First Ward Society, and Mildred Andrus of the Second Ward.

Compassionate service just changed to some degree in more recent times. However, there is always need for help, encouragement and planning. In the modern world it is important to segregate advocated principles pertaining to government and education.

Important choices must be made in literature that finds its way into the home, and in the day of confused advertising, wise choices must be made.

Through the offices of the society, mothers are given the opportunity of learning from the best minds in the country, answers to these and other problems.

Development of talents and skills are encouraged, and these special gifts are shared with all. And monies raised from bazaars, quilting, concerts and dinners are used to aid worthy projects in the community as well as the wards.

Each year the membership of the society increases, and its capacity to affect the lives of individuals grows. Present membership in the two wards is 236. President of the First Ward Relief Society is Mrs. A. Leo Olsen. Serving as society president for the second ward is Mrs. Eugene A. Jenks.

Work Is Stressed By Society

SHOSHONE—"Work" seems to have been stressed more than usual during the past year at the local LDS Relief Society.

Members have spent each second Tuesday at all-day work meetings, preparing items for the annual bazaar, some of them taking items home to complete and even a few extra work days being held. This is the way the Society finances all their needs and some of their services.

Shoshone Relief Society was organized in 1925, and has always followed the aims of the church organization, as established March 17, 1842.

Shoshone society was begun under direction of Bishop Walter Porter and his counselors of the Gooding ward, then all a part of Gooding stake.

Anna Bock was the first president with Louise Mulliner, still living in Shoshone, and Millie Bates, counselors, with Mrs. Emmaline Merritt, secretary.

Over the years many officers have presided and under each there seemed to be something special provided for the women of the Shoshone ward. Mrs. Burton Thorne is president at this time with Mrs. Lawrence Randa and Mrs. F. N. Stowell, counselors and Mrs. Denina-Rodeback, secretary.

Members have met in homes at the hall and finally in their own Relief Society room at the newly constructed church on the north edge of Shoshone.

Membership runs about 50. There are weekly meetings October through May with one each month the rest of the year. The study courses cover literature, history, social science and homemaking.

Various handicraft is learned by the women on the work days, and luncheon on the work days adds sociability to the activity.

Officers feel one of their strong points is the visiting teacher program, where women going in couples, visit each woman of the ward each month, taking a message of faith and offering service where needed. Compassionate services of the women will run into many hours each year. When someone is ill, they provide help, assist at the death and rally with help for the needy.

Included in their sewing projects each year is a welfare quota, whereby each ward is given an assignment for so many items of clothing to provide for the state welfare house. The welfare center is in Richfield, and with a ready supply, needy families are assisted without delay.

One of the main projects of the Shoshone Society is its quilting. Each year they make a number of quilts and do some custom sewing for others who do not quilt. Since this is almost a lost art these days, the society members point with pride to this work.

Also included in the promotion is the individual welfare program where members are urged to keep a supply on hand for emergency.

Tasting Smorgsbord Is Cassia Council Event

DURLEY-The Cassia County Extension Homemakers Council sponsors an annual Tasting Smorgsbord with all 17 clubs which make up the council in the county taking part.

Proceeds from the smorgasbord were donated to help finance the 4-H camp building project north of Ketchum and helped pay expenses for the president and secretary to attend the national convention at Fort Collins.

Throughout the entire Relief Society program there is a theme to promote better homemakers, better mothers with the promise that a better church and better community will result.

held each August, offering many exhibits in the open class.

The objectives of the County Extension Homemakers Council are to enrich and extend county-wide the program of the Home Economics Extension Service, develop such programs and projects as may relate constructively to the enrichment of home life and community progress.

sponsor 4-H Club work, extend the scope of interest and knowledge among women to include national and world situations, in recognition of women's responsibilities in today's world and strengthen and extend education in home and family life relationships.

Other purposes are to promote the program of the State Council and the National Council and represent home economics extension work in cooperation with other agencies in activities to foster the social and civil life of the county.

The Cassia County Council was organized April 28, 1929, under the direction of Mrs. Margaret Hill Carter, home extension agent. Club members who helped organize and still are active include Adinda Duke and Amy Anderson, both members of the Sunshine Better Homes Club.

Each of the 17 clubs in Cassia County selects a service project.

The first meeting of the month the clubs have educational lessons and the second meeting in a work and social meeting.

Officers of the Cassia County Extension Homemakers Council are Mrs. Roger Woodbury, president; Mrs. James Amnest, vice president; Mrs. Earl Darrington, secretary-treasurer, and Amalgam Coltrin, extension home agent, adviser.

Hailey Job's Daughters Bethel Formed in 1947

HAILEY - Hailey Bethel No. 3, International Order of Job's Daughters, was organized Sept. 27, 1947.

The organization was sponsored by Bethany Chapter No. 23, March, 1948, with Mrs. Irene Sterling, grand guardian, making the inspection.

The original group was made up of 25 girls from Hailey, Bellevue and Ketchikan with Merriane Merrick (now - Drussell) first honored queen and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schaeferberger, McCail, first guardian and associate guardian.

Messengers - include - Marilyn Stapleton, Susie Nison, Natalie Naymik, Nora Wall and Linda Deckard.

Patricia Stephens is junior custodian and Mary Jensen, senior custodian. Marchand Donders is inner guard and Vicki Rutter, outer guard.

Associate officers include Rosella Friesland and Carla Wundelick, altar pages; Rebecca Barron, custodian of silver; Marilyn Cox, Bible pages; and Laurie Jensen, Sharon Marlow and Susan Overfield, choir members.

Members of the executive council are Mr. and Mrs. Halbert Hatch, associate guardian and guardian; Mrs. Louis Stevens, secretary; Mrs. Louise Ratke, treasurer, and Mrs. Lloyd Barron, director of music.

Of the projects undertaken by the Bethel, work on polio drives has been a particular one. The girls have participated in welfare work; have given of community libraries in Hailey and Bellevue and have worked on the Crippled Children's Easter Lily sale. They have also contributed to the Shrine Hospital in Salt Lake City.

Highlighting their social life are two formal balls, one in the spring and the other in the fall.

Homemakers Club Is Active

JEROME - Happy Homemakers' Club, which was founded in December, 1964, has grown in the nearly two-year interval from 11 to 15 members, and has hopes of attracting more women to share the advantages of home demonstration meetings.

Members hope that participation in council and open meetings will point the way to future community service projects for the group.

Mrs. Bernard Schwarz is serving the group as president this year.

Auxiliary Poppy Sales Are High

SHOSHONE — Poppy sales were unusually high this spring within the Shoshone American Legion Auxiliary. More than $100 was made in the project.

Two girls were sponsored for Girls' State again this year by the auxiliary, Juanita Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Harris, and Melinda Broyles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Broyles.

Major funds for operation of the auxiliary comes from their janitor services at the Legion hall. They receive $15 a month for doing the janitor work and they use this money for their projects.

Auxiliary members do not all belong to one church or subscribe to one thought or idea, but they have a united purpose in helping others, particularly veterans, officers say.

The organization was formed in 1926 under the official title of "The Shoshone Unit of Weeks - Yaden Post No. 11, American Legion Auxiliary." Membership varied during the years.

There are three charter members: Mrs. Harry Stoner, Mrs. W. E. Grosse and Mrs. Mary Pethick.

The unit helps the Legion, and the two have had joint projects for the betterment of veterans and the community.

They contribute to worthwhile charitable organizations, such as the Boise Veterans hospital and have carried out such local projects as providing a flag pole for the Lincoln school.

Two members have served as counselors to Girls' State, Mrs. Lucille L. Kinsey and Mrs. Stoner.

Mrs. Imogene Helsey is the president at this time and Mrs. Kinsey is the secretary.

So-Journey Strengthens Social Ties

A club that was organized to further cement the friendships formed among newcomers to Twin Falls through their membership in the newcomers' Club is the So - Journey Club.

A "Welcome Wagon" organization, the So - Journey Club is primarily composed of women who joined the newcomers' Club when they first moved to this community. At least two years of membership in the newcomers' group was a fact, at one time prerequisite to membership in the So - Journey Club.

The club was organized in 1950. Mrs. L. E. Hinton, current "Welcome Wagon" hostess, Mrs. Hinton appointed officers for the first meeting of the 16 charter members.

Current officers of the group are Mrs. D. O. Welker, president; Mrs. Max Reese, vice president; Mrs. Eugene Harrison, secretary, and Mrs. E. C. Connell, treasurer. There are 28 members.

Social activities of the unit include a monthly card parties, luncheons and coffee hours. Annual Christmas parties and show days are also held.

Entertainment of one kind or another is usually presented at the group's monthly luncheons. Demonstrations on knitting, flower making, home safety, home decoration and the care and selection of wilds have also been presented.

The group's committee chairman are Mrs. Elvin Walker, card parties; Mrs. Glenn Sea-

Richfield Woman's club has had as its chief project the sponsoring of the town's public library. Looking over one of the books from the shelves are from left, Mrs. J. S. McIntosh, Mrs. Peter Cenarrusa, president, and Mrs. Joe Seward with Mrs. R. J. Lemmon seated. Benefits are held each year with proceeds supplementing the one-mill levy which helps pay a librarian and maintain the library.

Richfield Woman's Club Assists Public Library

RICHFIELD — The Richfield Woman's Club continues to serve as sponsors of Richfield's Public Library which has been the chief project of the club since it was organized over 50 years ago.

Benefits each year for the library include a public tea or card party, doll Christmas season project, and club donations. The club raised supplement the one mill levy given by the Richfield board for paying a librarian and maintaining the library.

Plans for organizing a library district as a community project now are under way in Richfield since sale of the old school gymnasium this year. The building had been up for sale several years by the Richfield school district giving rise to possible library plans in that event.

Members, luncheon reservations; Mrs. Russell Cunningham, hostess; Mrs. C. R. Wilson, coffee hour; Mrs. Max McNabb, publicity, and Mrs. Wilcox and Mrs. Earl Braga, luncheon.

The members of the So - Journey Club do not attempt any community or civic projects, maintaining their club as a purely social organization. "Most of us belong to several other worthwhile community service groups and, while we realize the value of such clubs, we also feel that the social club has a definite place in our society," noted Mrs. Welker.

Women Aid In Getting New Church

WENDELL — The United Presbyterian Women of Wendell have played a vital part in the preparing of the new, all modern Presbyterian Church that now is in use.

The woman's organization of the Presbyterian church was organized some time between 1915 and 1918. The early organization included two groups, the Ladies Aid and the Missionary society.

A great deal of credit and thanks is due to the pioneer women, who laid the foundation and groundwork of the "United Presbyterian Women", as it is now known.

The UPW, sharing a common faith, united through the church to proclaim the gospel of Jesus Christ, to demonstrate his love in all areas of life, to declare the oneness with their fellow Christian everywhere and to grow in Christian faith and responsibility.

Meetings are conducted the second Thursday of each month from September through June at 1:30 p.m. at the church with one of the three circles of the church as hosts.

The Bible study for the past year was "A Reluctant Missionary," a study guide on the Book of Jonah.

Special days noted include

World Day of Prayer; One Great Hour of Sharing, Easter service, May Fellowship, World Wide Communion and World Community Day.

Special projects are the saving and gathering of community stamps and green stamps, chairman Mrs. Roy Bishop; nylon hose, Mrs. Charles Young; coffee bands, gift stars and all coupons, Mrs. Louise Houburg, chairman.

Mrs. Earl Schrenk, presently heads the UPW and is assisted by Mrs. H. F. Holsinger, vice president; Mrs. Phares Schiller, secretary; Mrs. G. D. Pierce, treasurer; Mrs. M. E. Scheel serves as program chairman; Mrs. E. J. Bennett; spiritual life; Mrs. Raymond Ruby, social education and action; Mrs. Richard Hagerman, literature; Mrs. Charles Young, fellowship; Mrs. L. R. Barry, Interchurch, and Mrs. Roy Bishop, world service.

Emphasizes Service Alpha Nu

Education - service - association. These are the three facets of the Epsilon Sigma Alpha service organization, Alpha Nu Chapter.

Each of these phases is included in this statement of the club's purpose to provide cultural and educational programs to sponsor benevolent projects and to stage social activities for members and their guests.

Members meet twice a month - once for their educational and service programs and again for social functions.

This year's educational project was a study of the American Heritage. Members researched the history of American culture and then presented the information to the rest of the group. A field trip to Herrett's museum clarified the study.

The Easter Seal campaign was the group's service project. They sponsored the Easter Seal Parade in Twin Falls, provided campships and collected a record $1,500 for the campaign. Social activities of the club this year included the Christmas seals, a mother-daughter banquet held at the Sunnyside Courts and a jewel pin ceremony.

The jewel pin ceremony is the official initiation of pledges (prospective members) into the group as full-fledged members. Fund-raising efforts in past years have included lost dish cloth sales and the publication of a cook book. This cook book was sold for $1 a copy, and each member contributed five recipes.

This year club members tried something different. A Barbie Doll, complete with wardrobe, was raffled-off to raise funds for the Easter Seal campaign. The doll's wardrobe was made completely by members.

The Alpha Nu chapter was founded in Twin Falls in 1950. It was created to teach out and develop ability of expression, to recognize leadership and to stimulate and encourage character building. Doris Schmidt was elected first president.

The sorority's national magazine, the Jonquil, which is named for the club flower, is sent to each member every month. Members also receive the state newspaper, ESA Gems.

Colors for the Alpha Nu chapter are blue and gold and the slogan is "All for one and one for all."

There are now 20 members in the group, and four pledges. Officers are Mrs. Mark Wilkie, president; Mrs. Richard Johnson, vice president; Mrs. Norman Johnson, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Dearie McCullough, recording secretary; and Mrs. George Putnam, treasurer. In regard to future plans of the club, Mrs. Wilkie commented, "We really don't have anything planned yet. We're still the Easter Seal campaign," trying to catch our breath from

Extension Club Forms At Wendell

WENDELL - The Merry Homemakers club, organized Jan. 22, 1957, as a home extension unit, was formerly a part of the Hillandale club, which was organized in 1949.

The new club remains active in the Home Extension Council of Gooding county until early in 1960. Projects now are selected by the club members to be studied and demonstrated.

The group has had programs on knitting, fancy work, cooking of all kinds, legal procedure, fabrics and other handwork. Demonstrations given include one on hand cream, given by Mrs. Francis Downs; and Mrs. Fern Harris; book binding and repair by Mrs. A. C. Morgan, city librarian; and dinner caterers by Mrs. Raymond Ruby and Mrs. Ralph Newberry.

Each year a pre-Christmas, all day meeting is planned. Members meet at a members home with materials and recipes to make Christmas goodies. Samples are given and recipes exchanged. The club participates in the Christmas Ideas Carnival held annually in the fall at Gooding.

Members of the Merry Homemakers attended the all-day club meeting in May at Wendell and also the legal procedure lecture given by Mary Schmitt, Gooding lawyer, and sponsored by the Wendell Home

Purpose Of Buhl Unit Noted

BUHL - Purpose of the Buhl Women of the Moose is to coordinate activities of the Loyal Order of The Moose and to support Mooseheart, a home for members' orphaned children in Aurora, Ill., and Moosehaven, a home for aged members in Florida.

Members also contributed to 4-H club-summer camp, mother-of-the-year fund, Moosehaven health center, and were the head of the Mother's March of Dimes Drive.

This year they sponsored a Camp Fire group called the Oda-Wa-Ki-Ca Camp Fire Girls.

The largest benefit dinner in past years is a meal serving sausage, chicken and noodles, potatoes and gravy which carries out the Bohemian theme. Other menus have been served for dinners from different nationalities.

The lodge serves dinners for the public and banquet dinners for certain organizations. For several years the lodge operated a concession stand but at the present the women assist only with the LOOM and its food stand.

Throughout the year many awards have been given to the members for duties they have performed. These include Mrs. Henry Wavra and Mrs. Nita Cullen, who received red tassels for having been in college of Regents for one year. The College of Regents award is the highest degree attained in the lodge and is only earned when the chapter has met all the requirements during the senior regent's term of office as well as during her term as immediate past senior regent.

Improvement club. An annual picnic is held before closing club meetings in the spring.

Mrs. Ralph Newberry, president; Mrs. James Gunning, vice president; and Mrs. G. D. Pierce, secretary.

Meetings are held the third Monday afternoon at the homes of the members.

Mrs. Charles Tipton was presented with a green beanie at the state convention at Idaho Falls for obtaining the award of achievement while the senior regent. She was also presented with a past junior graduate degree pin for serving successfully as senior regent and junior graduate regent.

Robing ceremony was held for Henry Wavra who received his "Fifteen Degree," which is the highest degree awarded in the Moose Lodge.

Mrs. Rudy Vecera and Mrs. William Wonenberg received their friendship degrees in Boise and also were presented with friendship rings at a special ring ceremony.

A memory scrapbook was presented to Mrs. Steve Fourn, senior regent, by Mrs. Leonard Severa, publicity chairman on behalf of WOTM as a token of appreciation for the achievements and work done to help the lodge.

Social highlight of the year includes summer picnics, potluck events and dances, including one at Thanksgiving, apron and overall and Sadie Hawkins socials. Members hold a hobby party, card parties and a dinner dance for all lodge members.

Mrs. Donald Flenn is senior regent; Mrs. Steven Foukal, junior graduate regent; Mrs. Read Reams, junior regent; Mrs. Eugene Rutherford, chaplain; Mrs. William Zurek, recorder; and Mrs. Rudy Vecera, treasurer.

Mrs. William Wonenberg is guide; Mrs. Thomas Novacek, assistant guide; Mrs. Homer Bean, sentinel; Mrs. John Frolick, Argus, and Mrs. Clifford Brown, pianist. The lodge has 81 members, Mrs. Flenn said.

Lack of Fanfare Surrounds Projects Of Local Council of Catholic Women

Is it possible for a group of more than 200 women to "speak softly" while offering a "great helping hand" to their less fortunate neighbors?

It is indeed, and the St. Edwards Council of Catholic Women has been noted as a "quiet" phenomenon. This group is still another example of the ability of women's clubs to accomplish "immense" things without forgoing the laurels of recognition.

The council was organized in 1959 as a result of the merger of the women's groups which were in the church. These various units were formerly under the direction of an organization known as the Catholic Women's League.

The goals of the council include working for youth and the betterment of the community. One of the unit's within the council is the Social Guild, under the direction of Mrs. Gary Waits and Mrs. Don O'Connell. The council's activities of the guild include picnic and bridge marathons, a fall coffeehour, at the parish and a spring dinner-dance is also held annually under the auspices of the guild.

The Charity Committee, headed by Mrs. O. J. Smith, directs the charitable projects of the council. These projects include volunteer sewing at the labor camp, provision of funeral dinners for church members who desire this service; sewing first communion dresses for foreign missions; giving aid to migrant workers, and donations of food, clothing and furniture to the needy of the parish.

The charity committee is also responsible for distributing Christmas baskets to needy families during the holiday season.

"Holy rolling," as far as members of the council are concerned, involves rolling bandages for foreign missions. This project comes under the direction of the charity committee. Other medical services provided for foreign missions include sewing hospital gowns and donating money for medicines and other items.

"Sewing for souls" involves preparing baby layettes with bonnets, dresses and communion gowns for the infants.

The Madonna plan, which features donations to South American destitute mothers and children, and the "adoption" of an orphan at Culdesa, Idaho, are other council projects.

Council members also follow a policy of visiting those members who enter the hospital.

"Something for everyone" could well be an informal theme for the council. And the accent is on youth in the case of the group's donations to the St. Edwards school's athletic fund. The council also sponsors two students for the Boy Scout Gold and Country award.

Sponsorship of a Camp Fire Girls group is another project of the group.

Social relaxation for members is provided through the annual Marian Luncheon — which is a spring event with installation of officers, spring and fall dances — luncheons and potluck suppers, and the bridge and pinocle marathons.

More peaceful relaxation is provided through the council's maintenance of a library within the church. Members bring books for Catholic reading to meetings for the use of others.

The objects of the council, according to Mrs. Howard Allen, president, are to "unite all Catholic women of St. Edwards' Parish in religious, educational and social activities."

"We also attempt to assist our pastor in spiritual and material undertakings for the welfare of the parish," Mrs. Allen added.

Other officers are Mrs. B. L. Culkin, first vice president; Mrs. Leo Vogel, second vice president; Mrs. Fred Frith, recording secretary; Mrs. Robert Fries, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Mary McFarlane.

The group is affiliated with the state council, and also with the National Council of Catholic Women. Mrs. Marjory Hawse is a past president of the state organization. Mrs. Hawse is a member of the St. Edwards' council.

"Contributions to the Parish Hall are an important part of the council's programs. The group has purchased 12 chairs for the hall and has assisted with the purchase of the hall's piano. A kitchen shower for the building's kitchen has also been sponsored by the council."

Another group within the council is the Sanctuary Committee, under the direction of Mrs. Harold Billings. This committee is responsible for cleaning the sanctuary, providing and caring for the flowers and washings and ironing of linens.

Another council committee is responsible for organizing study groups in connection with a Bishop-designated topic, such as a study of the Ecumenical Council or the Bible. This committee is headed by Mrs. Fred Daugh.

The Wedding Reception Committee provides receptions for church members or any others who wish to have them. Large tablecloths, silverware and other necessities are provided. There is a charge for this service, and funds raised through the receptions constitute a substantial portion of the group's treasury.

The Social Action Committee

entails new legislation, migrant labor assistance and safety. Teaching catechism to Catholic children at the labor camp may soon come under the jurisdiction of this committee. Another committee assists with special Masses for the living and one for the deceased.

Funeral dinners are also provided for those families who desire them.

Other committees include the Historical, Membership, Refreshments, Rural Life and Organization groups.

Money-making projects include the Harvest Festival, rummage and cooked food sales and the wedding reception program.

Membership in the council is automatically open to all church members.

The council's monthly meetings often feature a guest speaker who deals with a topic of interest to the group. In example is Father O'Halloran's speech on his mission in Guatemala. Father O'Halloran also showed films from his mission.

Another speaker was Mrs. Marjory Hawse, who spoke on her recent trip to the Holy Land.

The past was also a topic of discussion. The council also displayed several articles she obtained during the trip.

During the January meeting, members of the council invited women from other churches to a panel discussion. Pornography and the War on Poverty were the topics of discussions.

The past was also a topic of discussion. The council also displayed several articles she obtained during the trip.

The council sponsors many other projects which are too numerous to mention here. The most noticeable aspect of these projects is their lack of fanfare. They simply "get done."

Quietly.

Star Social Formed for OES Chapter

Organized primarily for those members of the Order of the Eastern Star, Chapter No. 29, who cannot attend the chapter's meetings, the Star Social Club provides an opportunity whereby OES members can enjoy each other's company outside the regular chapter meetings.

Members of OES No. 29, as well as unaffiliated sojourners from other chapters, are eligible for membership in the group.

The club was formed in 1913 by 40 charter members. Early history of the unit featured such activities as cooked food sales, dances, card parties and rummage sales. Funds raised from these and various other activities were donated to a chapter room at the Masonic Hall.

During World War II, members of the club sewed for the Red Cross and other war effort organizations. The group also has sewed for the Shriner's Children's Hospital in Salt Lake City.

Many of the club's past projects have been for the benefit of OES Chapter No. 29. Dishes, glassware, silverware and other kitchen utensils have been donated to the chapter.

Current activities of the Star Social Club include a covered dish dinner, luncheons and Christmas gift exchange and dinner. At the close of each year, funds of the group are presented to the OES Chapter No. 29's worthy patron for use on her special projects.

Officers of the club are Mrs. Fred Montgomery, president; Mrs. Eva Bell Spencer, vice president, and Mrs. Roy Durk, secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Montgomery summed up the group's aims this way:

"Since many of our members do not get out to chapter meetings, our afternoon meetings offer them a chance to visit with friends they would seldom see at any other time."

Surprise Added

Any preserved ginger in the house? It's a delicious surprise note when it's added to uncooked fresh tomato relish.

To make the relish, combine diced tomatoes, onion, celery and green pepper and season with salt, pepper, sugar and vinegar.

RUB GRASS STAINS

Saturate a grass stain on fabric with vinegar and rub between the hands until the stain disappears.

Gooding Unit Began In 1885

GOODING — In 1885 the Alturas County Women's Christian Temperance Union was organized.

Four years later Gooding County WCTU was organized when Alturas County was divided into 10 counties. It was located in Bellevue with Mrs. Duncas as president; Hagerman, Shoshone, and Abbot were organized in 1890.

Mrs. A. A. Garlock, who was state president of the WCTU in 1909, properly organized the Gooding Union. The first recorded officers included Mrs. Jessie Thomas, president; Mrs. Frank Blazer, vice president; Anna Langlet, secretary, and Mrs. Lee Moore, treasurer.

Present officers include Mrs. R. W. Day, president; Mrs. Lee Moore, vice president; LuEita Wright, promotion secretary; Mrs. Ethel Heller, treasurer; and Ina Rogers, recording secretary.

Purpose of the WCTU is to educate the youth; to form a better public sentiment; to reform so far as possible, by religious, ethical and scientific means, the drinking classes; to seek the transforming power of Divine Grace for ourselves and all for whom we work.

The local group meets every month to study temperance books and materials. Flowers are given to local hospitals and churches once a year or oftener. Over a thousand gallons of fruit punch were served at parties, weddings and social gatherings.

Two quilts were made and used locally. The children's group, the I.T.L., met during vacation, and last year had a float in the children's parade during the county fair.

Teaching total abstinence is coordinated in all local churches by the group. A legislative program is carried out and plans for state and national groups carried out as far as possible locally.

The local group helped in the fight for the 18th amendment and woman suffrage. They have worked for law enforcement, slot machines and gambling have been kept at a minimum. Narcotics and drug addiction are studied as part of their program. They won three local option elections before they lost to the liquor interests. They are for everything that will bring moral and civic improvement to the community.

This group encourages devotional life both within the group at all meetings opening with Bible reading and prayer, then they promote private and family devotions. They work to get the 600 or more Bible passages dealing with drinking before the public, Mrs. Day said.

The National Library on the alcohol subject is the finest in the world. The national publishing house prints thousands of new books; leaflets and pamphlets each year, all being carefully checked by a scientific research foundation. A national paper is printed twice a month and a monthly publication is printed for children.

The WCTU is organized in 70 countries of the world, and maintains missionaries all the time. The rise and fall of nations is closely correlated with the alcohol problem and resulting morals of the nations, according to this group, the president noted.

Essay and speech contests are conducted, films are made and used in schools and churches.

One objective is to keep the public informed through the press, radio and television. Field workers and speakers are maintained and educational exhibits are held.

The newest project is to win one million members in the next ten years and to raise a million dollars to provide field workers, speakers, research directors, produce new films, grant narcotic scholarships, exhibits, seminars, radio and television programs and to modernize their state and national headquarters.

Lunch Served

Want a wonderful lunch? Serve corn pudding with crispy cooked bacon strips and broiled tomatoes; add a tossed green salad. Hot biscuits are perfect with this combination.

USE PEANUT BUTTER

Making chocolate fudge? Try adding peanut butter instead of the butter usually called for. The peanut butter may be blended in when the fudge is being beaten.

Relatives Form Declo Book Club

DECLO — On March 24, 1939, two sisters-in-law, Mrs. George Matthews and Mrs. T. W. Matthews, were instrumental in organizing the Declo Booklore Club.

Purpose of the group, which selected to not have over 10 members, is to study books and literature and present book reviews.

One-year-the different countries of the world were selected to be reported on by the members, and these, in addition to current events, served as the year's activities.

Mrs. Lillian Matthews served as the first hostess for the group and it was at this meeting that Mrs. Clifford Darrington was offered as president, with Mrs. Kathryn Roberts serving as secretary.

Each member was asked to submit a paper for the group and Mrs. Agnes Frederickson submitted the winning name, Declo Booklore Club.

For many years the group annually produced a musical program for the community, which featured local talent.

Charter members were Mrs. Ben Mahoney, Mrs. Margaret Frederickson, Mrs. Kathryn Roberts, Mrs. Agnes Frederickson, Mrs. Neva Dalton, Mrs. Darrington, Mrs. Nellie Richardson, Mrs. Albert Olsen and both Mrs. Matthews. The only charter member remaining active in the club is Mrs. Darrington.

In addition to keeping up on current events and books, the club members support many worthwhile projects. Last year, they donated funds to purchase dishes for the Cassia Memorial Hospital. This year the new Declo Village Park, sponsored by the Declo Kiwanis Club, was earmarked for their special project.

In addition to the regular book reviews, two exchange students were invited to speak to the group. Returned LDS missionaries have also told of their experiences.

Recently, Mrs. Joseph Preston hosted the club and invited Mrs. Rabae (Gillett) Clark, a former Declo resident, and recently of Rome, Italy, to show slides and tell of her travels.

Officers are chosen in a most unusual way by the club. The names of the officers are written on pieces of paper along with blank pieces and put into a hat. The "lucky" persons that draw the offices will rule for the following year.

Present officers are Mrs. Norman Wood, president; Mrs. Louise Zadorozny, vice president, and Mrs. Robert Meade, secretary.

Rummage Sales Are Popular

SHOSHONE — Members of Episcopal Church Women sponsored their first rummage sale during the past year, officers state, and home made items were sold.

The group has sponsored a smorgasbord, a foreign dish dinner, assisted with work in preparing the new vicarage for use and seen the old parish hall dedicated to become the Jennings house.

Even before 1899, there is evidence that the Guild Ladies in Shoshone, predecessors of the Episcopal Church Women, were very active making money for a church that was to be built.

Up to this time, the Episcopal membership held their church services in different places. The church was built and named Christ Church, Episcopal, in 1902.

In those early days, the Guild kept many projects going to help pay for the church. They sponsored ice cream socials, made candy to sell, stitched dozens and dozens of aprons, tied emphyters and gave dinners.

Old records show that in those days coffee and plum jam sold for 12 yards for a dollar and thread sold three spools for 15 cents. Guild luncheons were 10 cents per person, except during Lent when 25 cents was the rule.

All revenue for keeping up the church buildings in the early days depended on the Guild. They paid the coal, lights, plumbing and building repairs. Using every device known to get this needed revenue, they added other projects such as election day dinners, chili, waffle and pancake suppers and cooked food sales every other month.

A little more on the cultural side, but also a fund-raising venture, stage plays and minstrel shows were presented as well as carnivals and fish ponds.

In 1912 the Guild purchased a building and had it moved to the church property where it is still being used, now as the Jennings house. The building cost $100 at the time of purchase.

The late Mrs. Fred Gooding was the first Guild president and continued to serve until 1915. In 1919 the organization purchased the house east of the church to be used as a rectory and it was used until last winter when the new building was completed.

A few years ago, a Bishop's committee was formed. This group took over the responsibility of the church buildings, care, repairs and improvements as well as the financial obligations.

ADD SUGAR

When you add canned tomatoes to chili con carne, you may also want to add a suspicion of sugar.

The Guild continues to support this committee.

Since the interior of the church was burned in September, 1963, the women have all helped finish the new building which is now complete. Mrs. Frank Dallas is the president with Mrs. Glennia Lowery, secretary.

Cooking Hints

USE SALT

Next time you are roasting a chicken without stuffing it, try sprinkling the inside with onion salt rather than plain salt. Good flavor!

USE CAKE FLOUR

Cake flour gives cake a finer texture and crumb than regular flour. Cake flour may also be used to advantage in biscuits.

ASK ABOUT FRUIT

Green-skinned apples are not necessarily tart; if you really need a tart-tasting apple, try a particular dish, ask about the fruit before you buy it.

SERVE SALAD

For a tuna fish salad, if you'll find that nothing more than mayonnaise plus diced celery and pickles are needed. Serve the salad on crisp greens.

PIE IS SWEET

If you serve whipped cream with Pecan Pie, don't sweeten the garnish! Pecan Pie is quite sweet enough as is.

FILL WITH CREAM

Double treat: fill cream puffs with chocolate-flavored whipped cream and frost with chocolate icing.

FILL CENTERS

Baked apples look pretty when, before serving, their centers are filled with currant jelly.

GLAMOR BEGINS

NEW YORK — The splendor, the drama, the glamour of your evening scene can begin when you make your entrance with a dazzling handbag. The curtain rises on a sparkling note when you carry a jewel-toned minaudiere or the very newest, an opera case with its own set of opera glasses inside.

Social Ties Reinforced By Oracles

The provision of continuous fraternal associations during each stage of a member's club succession is a function of many social orders, and the Royal Neighbors of America is no exception.

For members who have achieved the highest position available in the order — that of oracle — the order sponsors the Past Oracles Club. This club also is open to past vice oracles as well as recorders and musicians who have served five years.

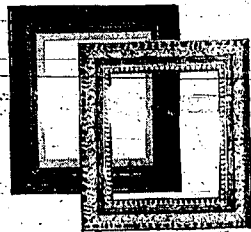

Organized in 1936 to work for the benefit of the Royal Neighbors, the unit also was designed to promote fellowship and sociability among its past oracles. Aid to the order has crystallized in the form of drapes, banners and a new flag for the Royal Neighbor's Lodge. Many other purchases also have been made.

Current officers of the group are Mrs. Donald Treadwell, president; Mrs. William Arraga, vice president; Mrs. Anna Henson, secretary; Mrs. Grace Samples, treasurer, and Mrs. Lillian Harmon, sunshine committee chairman.

Activities of the 16 members include the annual decoration of the graves of all past Royal Neighbors on Decoration Day, a July picnic and monthly meetings. This year, the group furnished white elephant gifts for the lodge's White Elephant Sale.

Goal of Auxiliary Exceeded

WENDELL — The American Legion Auxiliary Unit No. 41, which was chartered Nov. 14, 1943 with 13 charter members, exceeded its membership goal of 60 members by one the past year and received a state citation.

Mrs. Bessie Benson and Mrs. Agnes Hillebrand, charter members, are still active in the unit.

Rehabilitation of war veterans, child welfare, community service, are the main purposes of the unit. Americanism is the theme of the program and is promoted by showing respect for the flag, upholding the constitution of the United States and assisting the American Legion with its program.

Unit 41 was instrumental in organizing the Junior members of the American Legion Auxiliary and the group meets the first Friday of each month, during the school year. Older members of the group assist unit 41 with the sale of poppies, making charts and in various other capacities.

The annual project of sending delegates to Girls' State was started in 1930. The public is invited to a "pollock" dinner at the hall to hear the delegates, the Boy and Girl State delegates.

Other joint social hours with the post include the Legion Birthday dinner and Veteran's Day dinner.

Other projects include Mothers' Week, the Dimes, Bell Rings for Mental Health, after Boise Veterans' Hospital for the patients gift table, sale of poppies, the school year poppies, posters, donation to Department president's project, new clothing and toys for needy child at the hospital, state fair, and assistance to the post for upkeep of the hall and assistance for the annual pancake day sale.

The Women's party was guest of the Jerome unit for dinner as payment of a membership contest challenge. Other social events include an afternoon tea for the selection of Girls' State delegates.

A joint family picnic with the Legion was held at the city park. The women's party with exchange of gifts and farewell party for Mrs. Frank Smith, past president, who moved to Court d'Alene.

Money raising projects include the planning and catering of dinners and selling spices and extracts. Each one attending the meetings adds a dime to the collection funds. To add interest a "surprise box" is drawn at each meeting and the lucky one who receives it, provides a box for the next meeting.

Meetings are held the second Friday of each month (except July and August) at the Legion hall.

Mrs. Grant Zollinger is president; Mrs. Clara Frith, first vice president; Mrs. Ralph Smith, second vice president; Mrs. Sam Brown, secretary; Mrs. Hilma Sundgren, treasurer; Mrs. Mabel Stanger, chaplain; Mrs. Lena Strickland, sergeant-at-arms and Mrs. Norman Miranda, historian.

The Twentieth Century Club was organized at a time when the sparsely populated Twin Falls tract of 1906 was as barren culturally as it was physically and its charter members longed for an opportunity to enrich their lives with opera, literature and other fine arts.

The club's aims have shifted somewhat from those of its earlier days—with community service replacing culture as its predominant interest and this shift only reflects an overall trend in today's society.

With the nature of its many club donations becoming less lavish as its membership list is large, the Twentieth Century Club has captured the number one prestige spot among the women's clubs in Twin Falls.

It has even gained national recognition by earning a spot in the Congressional Manual of Honor Grove at Valley Forge in the National Archives Building.

Donations of $5,000 for the purchase of a new organ and piano for the YWCA - YMCA Building and $10,000 for the Civic Auditorium fund represent two of the hundreds of such projects that have been the basis for such recognition.

The club, which now includes more than 215 members, is the first known women's club still existing in Twin Falls. Originally known as the Syringa Club, it was organized by Mrs. Kennedy Packard and Mrs. H. W. Clouck in 1906.

One of the drinking fountains and the wedding pool which now grace the City Park represent two of the group's early civic projects. A fourhouse evergreen tree, several fireplaces in various other parks, a drinking fountain at the Washington Triangle on Shoshone and Addison Avenues, the foot bridge over Jerome Gulch and the Sunnyside Courts housing development and numerous other donations were their early community projects.

More current activities of the group seem to emphasize youth education. The club received a $200 grant from the Shell Oil Co. for its sponsorship of two student nurses. Financial aid received from the club enabled these girls to finish their course.

The Twentieth Century Club's 1946 project was the purchase of a stone curtain for the new multipurpose building at the Twin Falls County Fair Grounds.

Cultural education for the benefit of the community as well as for club members has continued to be emphasized, according to Mrs. Dean Kendrick, current president of the group. Donations to various libraries for books and art displays and club programs that are varied to satisfy the cultural interests of the group are sponsored each year.

Officers, in addition to Mrs. Kendrick include Mrs. Earl Johnson, first vice president; Mrs. Ray Rostrom, second vice president; Mrs. Wanda Reed, recording secretary; Mrs. Peter Link, financial secretary; Mrs. Ross Bevan, corresponding secretary; Mrs. W. W. Noble, treasurer, and Mrs. Joe Shelby, auditor.

Board members include Mrs. E. E. Johnson, Mrs. A. W. Shrank, Mrs. T. C. Grey, Mrs. Carl F. Boyd and Mrs. C. H. Jackson. Mrs. Stanley Phillips, Mrs. Nora Casey and Mrs. Horace Holmes comprise the real estate board.

Meetings are held monthly at the Holiday Inn. These luncheons are extremely lavish affairs, featuring elaborate programs, and club members "dress to the teeth" for them, according to one club officer.

"The basic interests of our club were and are focused on community affairs and cultural education for our members," Mrs. Kendrick commented.

The club sponsors an art gallery in the basement of the Twin Falls Public Library, each year and in 1947, the club donated money to the library. The new sections of wooden shelving at the library with a capacity of 500 books. The club also donated $25 toward frames for art reproductions in the library.

Beginning in 1935, the organization subscribed to the district and state scholarship funds and started its local scholarship fund for a deserving student in these projects. In addition to these projects, the club usually sponsors delegates to Girls' and Boys' State and maintains a separate educational fund.

If addition to these, donations are given each year to Camp Fire Girls, the United Fund, Boy Scouts, American Cancer Society, March of Dimes, Salvation Army, Nativity Room in the City Hall, the essay contest in Twin Falls, to physically handicapped drives and to the American Red Cross.

It's a very busy group no matter which way you look at it.

In relation to the literary arts, the club has been to the publishing of "The Golden Years," a history of the Idaho Federation of Women's Club, which is used as a reference for "The Great Seal of Idaho." The Twentieth Century Club is a member of the Idaho Federation of Women's Clubs and the National Federation.

Before separate clubs devoted to cultural areas were developed, the Twentieth Century Club fulfilled these needs with various divisions within the group. These areas are no longer separate but are still represented within the club.

Still another aspect of the Twentieth Century's approach to the needs of the modern woman is its annual fashion show in November—featuring holiday fashions, card parties, a May breakfast and the September tea "in honor of past presidents are also held. Social activities, as such, are not emphasized exceedingly, Mrs. Kendrick noted. "Educational and service projects are subtly interwoven with social relaxation," she said.

The monthly luncheons are one example of this three-dimensional approach.

Past programs at the luncheon this year have included a demonstration presented by Mary Ullida, a Japanese woman from Idaho Falls, on Shibu interior decoration in April. Shibu decoration is defined as being "a little bit better than ordinary," according to Mrs. Kendrick.

Business meetings precede each luncheon and it is at this time that donations to such projects as the Boise Children's Home, the Civic Symphony, CARE, the Youth Ranch and the Kinney Art Fund are decided upon.

Fund raising activities to support these and many other projects include an annual card party, rummage sale and sale of white sugar in stationery featuring White Satin.

Each year the current president chooses a special project for the club. Past special projects have included traffic safety, youth education and crime prevention. Mrs. Kendrick has not chosen her project for this year. This election was complicated, but it is expected that she will follow the pattern set by other presidents.

Economics Club Aids Grange

SHOSHONE—Main purpose of the Magic Home Economics club is to assist the men of the grange with their projects.

However, the women do carry out some supplementary work that is of benefit to many. This includes making trays for patients at the Wood River Convalescent Center, Shoshone, donating to the Chamber of Commerce for their work, donations to the Shoshone Red Cross and other such drives.

The club was organized about 10 years ago. Membership was restricted to grange members with the home economics chairman acting as chairman of the club. The club followed the grange rules. Projects were designed to promote the grange and all money made from projects was to benefit the grange.

Money making projects have been such things as making wireframe items for a doll and sell it at Christmas time, to have cooked food sales, sell food and farm sales and serve banquets.

One year the group served the high school senior banquet. They have sponsored booths at the county fair. One day a year they have a cleanup at the grange yards.

Mrs. William Kerner is president this year with Mrs. Lawrence Ties, secretary.

Memberships in the club is open to all Twin Falls residents upon sponsorship by two current members in good standing.

Membership in the original Syringa Club, forerunner of the Twentieth Century Club, was limited to 10, which is a far cry from the current organization's 200-300 membership list. The group is now the largest federal club in Idaho.

Mission Circle Has Tradition

CAREY — The Mission Circle of the Carey Community Church has just recently been organized, but still carries on the traditions of its predecessor, the Presbyterian Women's Organization.

Mrs. Larry Sparks is president of the Mission Circle, with Mrs. Lionel Hutton as vice president. Mrs. Gilbert Cross is treasurer, and Mrs. Ross Deaman as secretary.

Members meet the first and third Friday during the winter months. Their purpose is to aid spiritual growth and help the church financially. One of their methods of doing this has been buying rummage sales.

In any new venture, there is always the call for money to meet the various needs of the organization. This was true in the case of the new church group known as the Carey Community Church. This church group was established in the spring of 1953 under the guidance of Rev. Stuart Ruth of the Emmanuel Episcopal Church, Hualley.

Meetings of the Carey Community Church were first held in the Judy Apartments, and later in the Stanley-Diworth Building across the street. As attendance grew, money was needed to buy lots for a new church building for church supplies, funds were in demand to pay the rent, to pay the minister, and to pay for the electricity and heat.

The first rummage sale was held Nov. 13, 1954. Various committees were appointed to canvas the community for furniture, implements and contributions to the sale. The implements and most of the furniture were displayed outside the building and racks were placed in the main room for the clothing to be hung on.

Card tables were set up at noon. Chili beans, rolls, salads, apple pie, and coffee were the menu for the day. There was a camp stove in the back room and hot plates were donated by the members. To keep the food hot, water was brought in ten-gallon milk cans and water for washing dishes was heated in dish pans by the camp stove. A food sale along with a rummage sale proved to be a success.

The approximate returns from the venture were $100. The clothing left from the sale was given to the Indians and also to the Halley Welfare.

In the spring of 1955, Clara Judy, Rose Nisson and Olga Payne were responsible for the rummage sale and Helen Chisnall, Gertrude Twombly and Leona Coates were responsible for the one held in the fall. Three boxes of unsold clothing were sent to Korea to Elvin Coates, a soldier from Carey, who distributed the articles to needy children there.

Each year the group, which is now known as the Mission Circle, sponsored rummage sales, cooked food sales, etc. in order to raise money for the organization. There have been two sales a year; one in the spring and one in the fall, except for the fall of 1955. The church building was used by the Carey School until December, when the new Carey School was finished.

This year a rummage sale and cooked food sale were held in the Community Church Building with $50 proceeds.

It has been the policy of the church to dispose of any unsold clothing by giving it to the Twin Falls Salvage Army.

Home Tasks Simplified For Group

MRS. ROBERT SIEVERS — Members of the 1st late to cook—clean—wash—dishes—do the new math for my kids, wax floors and defrost the refrigerator" school of thought are made to order for the Modern Mrs. Home Demonstration Club. There is one drawback, however — membership in the first club automatically dissolves upon membership in the second.

It is rumored that the practical tips and lessons received by members of the Modern Mrs. Club have the amazing effect of making the above mentioned chores endurable, if not actually pleasant.

Officers of the group's 17 members include Mrs. Robert Sievers, president; Mrs. Donald Johnson, vice president; Mrs. John Williams, secretary; Mrs. Tomas Moore, treasurer, and Mrs. Donald Poulsen, project director.

Meetings are held monthly and are devoted to studying and receiving the home demonstration lessons prepared by Mrs. Richard Reed, Twin Falls home demonstration agent. The past year's lessons have included tips on rug care; medical self-help; and "gracious" dining.

(Gracious dining is defined as how to keep the kids from throwing mashed potatoes on the wall while attempting to carry on an intelligent conversation with your husband as the baby gently serenades you with melodic yells.)

Nearly four months were devoted to medical self-help by members of the club. Mrs. Sievers noted that "the importance of knowing what to do in case of an emergency cannot be over-emphasized," adding that while

Surfacing Road Was Club Project

JEROME — In September, 1959, a group of newcomers in the homestead area of eastern Jerome County met at the home of Mrs. Robert Schenk, and, with the guidance of the late Mrs. Agnes Hurst, organized the '59ers Home Demonstration Club.

The first set of officers were Mrs. Robert Webster, president, Mrs. Robert Schenk, vice-president, Mrs. Cliff Wood, secretary—and Mrs. Dean Legault, treasurer.

In the fall of 1960, a contest was held to pick a name for the area, comprising about 40 farms. Mrs. Yukia Hanani presented the winning name of Crest View, by which this homestead area is currently known.

While the usual planned extension program for the county is carried out at regular monthly meetings, held in the members' homes, community service has played an important part in this club's schedule. The first accomplishment for the community was to secure rural mail delivery.

In subsequent projects names of residents were posted on the main roads, reflective number road markers installed, area road markers secured, and in a cooperative effort with merchants, a six-mile strip of hard surface road was secured for better transportation of farm produce to markets. An annual undertaking of the club is the community cancer drive.

Services to the community have been financed locally, and funds have been raised through the members' entries to the Jerome County Fair. In 1965, the premiums received were donated entirely to the new 4-H Camp then under construction and now in service. The club entered the county fair for the fifth time this year, with a booth containing over 100 articles.

Club members entertain their husbands with a dinner in December, and each July a picnic is held for all families of the community. Membership is a averaged 24, and current president is Mrs. Hollis McClellan.

The club members may not have earned the equivalent of Doctor's degrees during the course, they had at least gained enough knowledge, "to perhaps save a life some day."

Christmas parties, potlucks, and summer picnics occupy members of the group during more relaxed moments, she concluded.

After pledges have fulfilled the training program, the pledges enter their second degree and receive their diploma at the end of the year. After the completion of four years in a Ritual of Jewels chapter members are eligible to advance and receive their Exemplar degree and pin.

The first exemplar chapter Xi Omega was organized in 1939 in the Burley area with 11 members. Mrs. Al (Zella) Mortenson, presently living at Pocatello, was the first president. Mrs. Robert (Ethel) Wolfe served as the chapter's first vice president and is the only chapter member still active in the Xi Omega chapter.

Many of the activities are the same for both chapters as the Thanksgiving and Christmas parties for all members and their husbands.

All Beta Sigma Phi celebrate all over the world the annual Founders' Day, April 30, with similar programs. During this program each chapter honors the life of the year.

This year Mrs. Robert Hilliard was selected by Alpha Zeta chapter and Mrs. Sherrill Warner was chosen by Xi Omega as the Girl of the Year for the chapter. In the Burley area, the Ritual of Jewels chapter also select a pledge of the year. This year the honor was awarded to Mrs. Lou Morton, Rupert, who honored during Founders' Day program held at the Rupert Elks hall.

Each chapter also has many projects throughout the year. Alpha Zeta chapter for the past four years has prevented a spring style show. Last year a dinner and style show were held in the Rupert Elks hall. Proceeds were donated to the mental retarded schools of both Cassia and Blaine counties.

In the spring Alpha Zeta members collected toys, material and carpet pieces for the new kindergarten in the Dworshak School.

Each fall during Cassia County Fair week Alpha Zeta members are chaperons for the fair queen candidates to the service club luncheon.

For the past three years Xi Omega chapter members have decorated the Christmas tree at the Burley Nursing Home, for the senior citizens.

Down through the years both chapter members have donated their time for community projects such as the Red Cross Bloodmobile drawings.

In spring of 1966, seven members of Alpha Zeta and six members of Xi Omega and Mrs. Harris, chapter honorary member, attended the Quadri-State (Idaho, Wyoming, Nevada and Utah) convention at Boise. The 1967 state convention will be held in Pocatello and the 1968 Quadri-State Convention will be held in Reno, Nev.

Literary Unit Chooses "Book and Pen" Epithet

The charter members of Le Livre et La Plume, when faced with the task of choosing a name for the club, decided upon the French expression for "the book and the pen" as being most exemplary of their goal: the study of the literary arts.

The creed of the group is expressed in this quotation: "If Milton will cross my threshold and sing to me of Paradise; if Shakespeare will reveal to me the world of imagination—and Franklin enrich me with his practical wisdom, I shall not ning for intellectual companionship." (Anonymous.)

The club's programs and functions are not limited to the printed word, however. Musical and dramatic performances are also a part of the group's annual schedule. This year's musical was performed in March by Mrs. Bill Jacobsen and her husband and daughter, they presented a condensation of "The Sound of Music."

The highlight of the year, sponsored in conjunction with the Literary Art Guild and Bellas Lettres was a performance by Mr. and Mrs. Stan Rusen of "Never Too Late."

The program at the group's monthly meetings includes at least one book review by a member. The first year that the club was organized, the review category was best sellers. The second year, Civil War books; the third year, a variety of classic and contemporary; and this year each member is allowed to choose any one of her favorite books.

Some of the outstanding books that have been reviewed this year were "Sara Dane," Glant Josiah, "The Legend of the Seventh Virgin," My Shadow Ran Fast and the Light in the Forest. The book reviews also include a brief biographical sketch of the authors.

The club's officers are Mrs. Bill Jacobsen, president; Mrs. LuDell Waldron, vice president; Mrs. Lynn Pettigall, secretary; Mrs. Jim Dadds, treasurer, and Mrs. Robert Smith, historian. These officers preside over 25 members.

The only membership requirement is an interest in the literary arts.

Social activities of the group include a Christmas dinner party, to which the husbands are invited—a speaker—at this year's dinner party was Mrs. Reitha Anderson, who presented excerpts from Adam's Diary.

Mrs. Jacobsen summarized the group's aspirations with this comment: "Through fraternal association we hope to create a love for the literary arts and then grow through active participation."

third place honors for its scrapbook at Boise. The scrapbook was made under the direction of Mrs. Robert Mahoney, Albion.

In the spring an informal rushing party is held for Beta Sigma Phi members who have completed four years of study in Ritual of Jewels chapter. Members receive their Exemplar degree and pin on Exemplar Day, May 15, and are then members of the exemplar chapter.

The two chapters hold a joint meeting and program for Valentine's Day. Each chapter selects a Valentine girl. They were Mrs. Leonard Reith, Alpha Zeta chapter, and Mrs. Sherrill Warner, Xi Omega chapter. The two women also competed for the International Valentine Girl. Each were presented a dozen long stem roses from the chapters and individual gifts from chapter members.

A joint Mother's Day Breakfast is an annual event honoring mothers of chapter members as special guests the Sunday following Mother's Day.

The yellow rose, the official flower of the sorority and is traditionally used in all formal events and during the rituals of all degrees. To encourage fast recovery when a member is ill, her chapter sends her a yellow rosebud.

Presently the Alpha Zeta chapter has 18 active members and Xi Omega chapter has 17 active members. The chapters meet twice a month on the second and fourth Thursdays in the members' homes for their cultural program and socials.

Alpha Zeta officers for the year are Mrs. Robert Hilliard, president; Mrs. Don Janak, vice president; Mrs. Gary Anderson, recording secretary; Mrs. Karen Dixon, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Rock Jones, treasurer.

New officers for Xi Omega are Mrs. Cleo Cheney, president; Mrs. Robert Mahoney, vice president; Mrs. Joe Adams, recording secretary; Mrs. William Suggs, corresponding secretary and Mrs. O'Deen Redman, treasurer.

Xi Chapter Nurtures Creativity

An honorary teachers' sorority, Delta Kappa Gamma is concerned with making teachers more perceptive and understanding and able to cope with the problems of education today, according to Mrs. J. Owen Ellis, president of the organization.

"The Nurture of Creativity" is the current theme of the Xi Chapter of the national association. Each of the year's programs has been centered on this theme and projects designed to carry out the purposes of the chapter have also featured the theme.

The various purposes of the chapter include the honoring of women teachers who have given distinctive service in any field of education; the protection of the professional interests of women teachers; the emphasizing of personal growth and development; and the encouragement of women teachers in their efforts to become well-informed, directed, intelligent and functional members of a world society.

A special interest of the chapter is concerned with the problems of young teachers and the encouragement of young girls who show potential in the teaching profession.

Officers of the Xi Chapter include Mrs. Ellis, president; Mrs. Hanley Payne, first vice president; Mrs. J. H. Hargrove, second vice president; Mrs. J. F. Olson, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Everett Park, recording secretary; Mrs. G. Poolson, treasurer; and Marvis Nelson, parliamentarian.

There are currently 23 active and five honorary members. Honorary membership is given to women who are interested in the teaching field but are not active teachers at the present time. The designation is not, in fact, necessarily limited to former teachers.

Members of the group contribute to both national and local scholarship funds.

Social functions of the chapter are few. However, the founder's formal banquet, birthday luncheon and teacher's convention luncheon are annual events.

Courses of Study Used By Society

FILER — The Filer LDS Relief Society meets each Tuesday. Courses of study are outlined by a general committee and lessons are presented on the first, third and fourth Tuesdays, with the second Tuesday set aside as a work meeting.

Mrs. Ernest W. Hall is president; Mrs. John B. Sturges, educational counselor; Mrs. Leroy Kohnopp, work counselor, and Warren Allen, secretary. Class leaders are Mrs. Janet Page, spiritual living; Mrs. Wayne Hurd and Mrs. Raymond Hurd, homemaking; Mrs. Ann Glenn, social relations; and Mrs. Rosemary Poulter, cultural refinement.

Women of all faiths may attend the meetings, which are held October through May. Studies include theology for spiritual development; literature to acquaint members with good literature; and social science, to help build better home relationships and awaken responsibility for participating in civic and community programs.

Members are trained in sewing and quilt making and they sew for the church welfare program and for bazaar. The society looks after needs of those who are ill or in distress.

Visiting teachers are assigned to visit homes to carry mes-

Ladies of Elks Promote Social, Civic Progress

The promotion of unity and understanding among the wives of members of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, the furtherance of social, educational and civic advancement and the offering of assistance to the Elks are the purposes of the Twin Falls Ladies of the Elks.

The group was organized in 1951 after Cecil A. Pfost, then District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler, BPOE, received permission from the Twin Falls Elks Lodge to form such a social unit.

Pfost opened the first meeting with an explanation of the purpose of the club, and Judge O. P. Duval explained the legal aspects of forming such an organization. The women decided to form a social club, and Mrs. Stanley Phillips was elected first president.

The constitution was adopted by the 125 women who attended the organizational meeting, and they selected the first Tuesday of each month as their meeting time. They have since moved to the lodge room for regular meetings, together with restricted use of other rooms in the Elks Building.

The most important project of the group is the Elks Rehabilitation Center in Boise. Other projects include the annual co-sponsorship of the annual children's Christmas party and general fund-raising work.

Donations to the Youth Ranch, provision of Christmas baskets for the needy, and contributions to the Salvation Army Nursery, Boise Children's Home, School for the Mentally Retarded and Red Cross are other projects.

LOE also sponsor a delegate to Girl's State.

Recently, many of these contributions have been discontinued in favor of our large donation to the Rehabilitation Center. The group has also worked for, and contributed to, the Civic Auditorium.

Officers of the 274 members are Mrs. Don McKinstir, president; Mrs. Michael Stover, president-elect; Mrs. Keith Cook, first vice president; Mrs. John Christoffersen, recording secretary; Mrs. Hollis E. (Bud) Cheney, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Merle Cherry, treasurer.

Others are Mrs. Nolan Jewsbury, historian; and Mrs. Roy H. Russell, auditor. Directors for the coming year are Mrs. John Teinen, Mrs. Arthur Cannon, Mrs. Lloyd Reed, Mrs. Jack Bolyard, Mrs. Robert Mugo and Mrs. Betty McBride.

The wives, mothers or sisters of members of good standing of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks No. 1183 are eligible for membership in the group and are urged to "join us in our efforts to obtain our goal of unity and service to the community and to the local Elks Lodge," according to Mrs. McKinstir.

A formerly annual event for the Ladies of the Elks, the Smorgasbord, was discontinued this year in favor of a fund-raising style show. Funds from the show were used to purchase a ramp to be used in future fashion shows.

The Smorgasbord will be held again next year.

Another fund-raising effort of the group is the annual Sweetheart Ball. A proceeds from this formal attire dance are donated to the Elks Rehabilitation Center.

Programs of the club during the past year have included lessons on ballroom dancing, painting and the "Watts of History." Get acquainted parties and membership banquets are other annual affairs.

Pages for family discussion. Members are encouraged to join the Singing Mothers Chorus to enjoy musical expression.

Club Bazaars Provide Members' "Mad Money"

"Mad money" is a strange commodity. It is rarely seen in excess, which according to the law of supply and demand is not too surprising, since it is desired by everyone. It is strangely different from "real money" or "grocery money" in that it is not to be used for any specific purpose.

It is something that is heart-breakingly unavailable to many of our seemingly forgotten senior citizens.

It was this and other factors that prompted the recent organization of the Twin Falls Silver and Gold Club, a member of the County Extension Homemakers Club Council.

The club offers a means to earn "mad money" to the senior citizens that comprise its membership list. Through club-sponsored bazaars, featuring various items made by group members, 80 per cent of the sale price of the items made by an individual member is returned to her.

Ten per cent of the sale profit is retained by the organization for the purpose of purchasing materials and sewing in the construction of the items.

Officers of the club are Mrs. Ray Copenhagen, president; Mrs. Dick Horvick, vice president; Mrs. Louise Koston, secretary; Mrs. Dewey Julian, treasurer; and Mrs. Helen Moffitt, reporter. Meetings are held monthly at the Agnew Youth Courts Recreation Hall.

The 42 members were organized in the fall of 1965. Officers were installed by the late Mrs. Agnes Hurst and Mrs. Ben Eldredge, current president of the County Extension Homemakers Club Council.

The city of Twin Falls donated $20 to the club when it was originally formed. This donation was used to buy material and notions for the first club bazaar, which was held at Buttry's Super Store shortly before Christmas. A second bazaar was held shortly thereafter.

Prior to the date of the first bazaar, several club meetings at which members of other home demonstration clubs gave demonstrations on the making of various bazaar items were held.

Other activities of the group include song fests, painting lessons, polkas, card parties and general "gab fests." "We try to give elderly women something to do," commented Mrs. Copenhagen.

A cooked food sale, with proceeds from the sale being donated to the Agnes Hurst Memorial Fund, was the big activity in September.

Ladies Aid Modernizes At Hansen

HANSEN — "What would we do without the Ladies Aid?" has been a remark made by clergymen and laymen and it certainly seems true of any of the women's groups in any church.

It was a true statement for the early Ladies Aid of the early Community Methodist Church of Hansen.

Although there is no longer a Community Methodist Church as it was merged last fall with the Kimberly Methodist Church, the Hansen Women's Society of Christian Service decided to remain a circle in order to serve the needs of members and others living in the Hansen area.

The heritage of the group is the heritage of the early Hansen church. When Hansen was first opened for settlement and settlers homesteaded the area in 1903, the circle of the area began to think of a church.

They met in tents at first, then in 1906 they met in the upstairs auditorium of the first schoolhouse, and finally in 1910 in their own church.

When the Ladies Aid Society was organized in 1910, the seven charter members, members began working toward a church building. They gave dinner for their homes, most of their homes then were only temporary buildings, many to be used later as garages or other buildings.

Their fine chicken dinners served for 25 cents a plate soon gained a fine reputation and well-attended.

John Hansen, an early store owner here, also loaned them a room on one of his brick store buildings to give their dinners. This building, almost a half block long, was located where the Bailey garage is now in "A" Street. It was torn down many years ago.

Some of these early settlers' homes will bring memories. George Kelland was the first president of the early group of women and Mrs. Henry L'Course was secretary-treasurer. Others were Mrs. Elvins Laycock, Mrs. Lillian Blitch, Mrs. E. T. Gaily, Mrs. W. O. Smith, Mrs. P. Hinton, who was the church organist for many years.

The fund grew rapidly and the women appointed Elvins Laycock as the first president. He chose the site a block off main street, so the ladies could be close to the store to buy their "winning" supplies. This was not the only reason, as it was in a central place and on level ground.

The township donated the land for the church and in the spring of 1910 the church was started with Mr. Draper as the hired carpenter. Anyone who could donate could then go to the building. The dedication was held July 21, 1910.

Known as the 1920's, the group's name was changed to the Woman's Community Council, but they continued their support of the church and community. In addition to helping the church, members helped to maintain the parsonage which was acquired during the years.

In 1940, the group became known as the Woman's Society of Christian Service. Although they had been contributing to missions, etc., they were now more conscious of the duties of their group and made regular contributions to the conference of the Methodist church.

In the past few years they have contributed cement blocks for classrooms in the Philippines, to Wesleyan University organizations, baby food in Korea and many others over and above the conference yearlings. They have often been responsible for helping to meet

MRS. WILLIAM SLIMP

Church Aid Is Goal of Local Guild

A mission study group, the Lutheran Women's Guild of the First Christian Church was organized in 1935 as a club for young working women. The guild's overriding goal is to promote Christian living, according to Mrs. William Slimp, president of the club.

Formerly known as the Eva Marie Guild, one of the most important goals of the group is an annual donation to the mission fund of the United Christian Women. An auction is usually held in November to finance this donation.

General assistance to the First Christian Church is a continuous project of the guild. Funeral dinners and wedding receptions are other special projects.

The group also annually prepares Christmas baskets for the needy. Much of the guild's activity is in the form of fund-raising for missionaries and their work. A study of Canada was also undertaken by the group this year.

The monthly meetings of the 23 members are held at night. Current officers are Mrs. William Slimp, president; Mrs. Harold Miller, vice president; Mrs. Jack Cogburn, secretary; Dorothy spouse, treasurer; Mrs. Cleo Shorthouse, worship director; Mrs. Al Nye, study chairman; and Mrs. Emmet Holmquist, service chairman.

The scope of activities for the group is naturally limited by the fact that it is composed of working women. Occasional social functions are, however, held during the year. A recent summer picnic for members of the guild and their families was one such function.

That last end of the year budget for the church.

The group does not only do many things for fund-raising, they continue to have programs that help meet the need for education in the ever-changing religious scene.

Mrs. Laycock, though not a charter member of the original seven, has been in the society since she came to Idaho as a bride in 1909. Many of the present members were charter members of the 1910 organization of the WSCS.

The group warmly heartily joined the Kimberly WSCS and are doing their best to help maintain their standards. The present officers were re-elected including Mrs. Austin Storer, president; Mrs. W. C. Kulla, secretary, and Mrs. Thoppan Steelsmith, treasurer.

Marguerite Lodge and Gooding Grew Together

GOODING — The Marguerite Rebekah Lodge No. 98 and the city of Gooding have pretty much grown up together. Gooding was then (Nov. 1, 1907) Toponis, with a population of seven.

The Gooding IOOF lodge was instituted March 11, 1909, and a little over a year later, May 10, 1910, the Rebekahs instituted their lodge, after signing a petition which was presented and accepted by the Assembly president, Ella Horne, Halley.

At their first meeting (in the Brown building on North Main Street) 20 women and 16 men were given the Rebekah degree and "Marguerite" the name suggested by E. B. and Lillian Hughes, was chosen from among the seven names offered.

Mrs. Ward Meyer was chosen first noble grand and Mrs. Hughes was the first vice grand.

The members who signed the petition to institute the lodge, became the charter members. Signed by the charter members were E. B. and Mary Mariat, Jessie and E. C. Egels, Ella Fraser Duval, Stella and Ward Meyer, Lillian and E. B. Hughes, Blanche K. Turner, Pearl M. Ferris and H. W. Ray.

Some of the first purchases of the new organization included the regalia, seal of the lodge and a piano.

Furnishings were raised for these various purchases by skating parties at the Dream Land Rink, and by cooked food at the end of the first year was 57.

The first anniversary was celebrated with a dinner and program, complete with a birthday cake. In January 1911, Mrs. Hughes sent in her resignation and Mrs. Blanche Turner was installed as noble grand in July of the beginning of the second term, Mrs. Hughes was installed as noble grand. A glee club was organized for assistance in raising funds and for the pleasure and the work of the lodge.

Ella Martin, Boise, made her noble visit to become the first assembly president to visit the Gooding lodge.

According to records of the club, The Marguerite Rebekah No. 98 went on a journey to Hagerman to exemplify some work which required the whole staff of 16 members, at the anniversary meeting there.

"Early-day autos had serious times traveling the sandy, sagging, rutted roads of the area, and the Rebekahs started out with great faith—however, had not experienced Gooding come along with a good car, several would not have reached Hagerman!"

A note on March 1, 1916, stated the suspension of the lodge by president August Johnson, to move into the new hall in the Hudson building.

During World War I, members worked with Red Cross work at their meeting. It was also noted that from the summer of 1918 until spring of 1919 no lodge meetings were held because of the flu epidemic.

In a parade held June 14, 1919, the IOOF and Rebekahs won first place for their float honoring home-coming soldiers and anti-aircraft gunners.

The first public joint installation was held January, 1922. In 1930 the first veteran jewels were presented to three members, Mrs. Marjorie Jefferies, Mrs. Alice Reynolds, and Mrs. Sophronia Roush. In January, 1932, the first past noble grand pin was given to Lois Jenkins, and since that time, each noble grand looks forward to this ceremony.

On Aug. 7, 1947, the Dead Horse Cave meetings were held, and have been an annual event since that time. This makes a busy-time for all the Rebekah Cave Women, with afternoon teas and evening programs.

In 1946 the Odd Fellows began working on the new building at the northeast corner of 3rd Avenue and Idaho Street. Rebekah members kept busy serving their dinners and luncheons.

A dispensation was received in the summer of 1948, from the assembly president, Mrs. Hughes, to move the charter. The new organization was installed in the Sorosis Rooms, then into the new hall June 27, 1949, into the dining hall which was the first room furnished.

In 1950 the lodge began assisting with the shopping for patients at the hospital, and have continued the practice.

Each year the lodge contributes toward sending a young person on a youth pilgrimage to the United Nations, and also donates to various charitable organizations.

Mrs. Lydia Eubanks is present noble grand, Mrs. H. M. Thompson, vice grand.

Auctions Popular With Club

FIER — Silent auctions are proving popular with the Merry Time Club who's members have found them a very successful way to raise funds. The club has held several during the year and plans another one before Christmas.

Mrs. Homer Crawford is club president; Mrs. Charles Crawford, vice president; Mrs. Lyle Albrecht, treasurer, and Mrs. Robert Crawford, reporter.

Merry Time Club finished its project of making and scolding pillow cases to the Rupert Youth Ranch. Each member made a pair on which was painted a drawing of the state of Idaho and the name of the Youth Ranch.

The club, a neighborhood group, meets the first Tuesday of each month at the home of members. Each year the club holds a family picnic during the summer and a special dinner for husbands in the winter.

Ascension Guild Dates From 1905

One of the oldest women's clubs in Twin Falls is the Ascension Guild of the Episcopal Church, which was founded in 1905.

A recollection of the early days of the Guild produces such highlights as the time members solicited advertising for a cook book project in buggies that traveled along dirt roads.

The Guild requires no membership dues and all Episcopal women are welcome to join. Present officers are Mrs. Lawrence Place, president; Mrs. Charles Kelly, vice president; Mrs. Jim Hawley, secretary, and Mrs. E. A. Roberts, treasurer. There are 40 active members.

The Guild once had a welfare committee which sought out people who needed help. For 10 years ago the committee was dissolved and a thrift-shop established in its stead. The shop occupies a niche in the church basement and all articles are donated by members.

Food-raising efforts include the annual Shrove Tuesday pancake supper and a bridge marathon.

Another permanent feature of the guild's program is the maintenance of a college record. The guild's college program keeps a list of all college students from the church and sends their names to the clergy on the student's graduation.

The group also contributes to Canterbury Houses for Episcopal students at the University of Idaho, Boise, and the College of Idaho at Caldwell.

The group sponsors two "camps" a year for the Episcopal summer camp. Last year, the camps were received by an Indian student and a local boy.

The Guild has recently been playing a benefit card party which would be open to the public.

The last such card party was held three years ago and at least 25 tables were opened.

Also planned for next year is the refurbishing of the church's Memorial Room.

Social activities of the club include informal coffee hours held after church services. Guild members also assist with fund-raising reception for church members.

The district convention, which will be held in Twin Falls next February, will be one of the highlights of the next season. Guild members will provide luncheons and dinners and assist with the convention registration.

This is the first such convention to be held in Twin Falls in four years.

3,500 Hours of Community Service Is Annual Junior Club Donation Goal

When 50 women chalk up a group total of more than 3,500 hours of volunteer community work a year, something other than tiddle-winks is going on. And from where we write that "something other" is going on at meetings of the Twin Falls Junior Club.

Founded in Twin Falls in 1909, the Junior Club was organized for civic-minded young women between the ages of 21 and 35. The club is patterned after the National Junior League.

Each member of the club is required to donate at least 45 hours of volunteer service each year. But from our breakdown of the statistics, we find the average junior club member donating more than 70 volunteer hours each year. While, when we consider that young housewives are not particularly noted for the amount of leisure time they have, is rather confusing. How in the world do they do it?

The formal purpose of the organization is "to foster interest among its members in the social, economic, educational, cultural and civic conditions of their community and make efficient their volunteer service," according to the group's constitution. Mrs. Larry Harvey, current president of the club, puts it this way: "We just try to make worthwhile contributions to our community."

Projects to achieve this goal include group donations to the Ho—ho—Handicapped Drive, volunteer work at the Easter Seal Clinic—where members assist with children's therapy—supervision of one child at the Easter Seal camp and a continued pledge to the Civic Auditorium fund.

Another project of the club is the children's hour at the Twin Falls Public Library. During this weekly hour, club members either read to the children or arrange a program which includes singing and dacting on the part of the children.

the faculty of the junior college included a club-sponsored effort in fund-raising for the members of the faculty. We are at the disposal of the junior college staff for any project they wish us to do," commented Mrs. Harvey.

Other activities of the group include 444 work-aids to various clinics, campfire and Girl-Scout organizations, donations to the Salvation Army, and to the YMCA.

The club also works extensively with the Community Children's Theater. The largest fund-raising activity of the Junior Club is its annual fashion show. "Toast to Holidays" was held in November at the Bishop Theater Auditorium. Approximately 250 attended the show and card party which was held immediately afterward.

Club members and their children modeled the fashion, which were supplied by Carroll's and Brada's fashions.

Another fund-raising project of the group is the Junior Club Thrift Shop on Main Avenue North. The shop featured second-hand clothing, toys and furniture at cut-rate prices. Most of the items are donated by members.

A contract bridge tournament also provides funds for the club's various community service endeavors. Each year, Junior Club members vote to elect the member who, in the opinion of the others, has made the greatest contributions to the club and the community. This year's outstanding member was Mrs. Del Bagley.

Mrs. Marion Turner, Mrs. Matilyn Greene, Mrs. George Fritz, Mrs. James Oylitt, Mrs. Danny Lowe, Mrs. Garry Cappel and Mrs. Ray York have also received this honor.

Membership in the club is open to everyone. "We aren't as elite as the name 'Junior League' implies," commented Mrs. Harvey. The first year of membership is provisional; the next five years are associate. The following years are associate. The group now has seven associate members. Prospective members are invited to the May membership tea at which the Outstanding Member award is presented and a gift is given to the outgoing president. The group's installation of officers is also held in May.

A coffee hour in August is held to further acquaint prospective members.

Membership is limited to 55. There are currently 50 members. Associate members differ from the "regulars" in that the former are not required to fulfill the 45 hours of volunteer service that are specified for other members.

Prospective members who attend the September provisional meeting after attending the May and August teas are then initiated into the club, should an opening exist.

Current officers are Mrs. Harvey, president; Mrs. Fred Hanley, vice president; Mrs. Hugh Jeffries, secretary; Mrs. Duane Schrank, treasurer; Mrs. Jack Smith, project chairman; Mrs. Howard Jack, Thrift Shop chairman; Mrs. James Spafford, publicity chairman, and Mrs. William Lloyd, social chairman.

Other activities of the club include a Christmas party, at which members exchange gifts and then donate the gifts to the Thrift Shop, a couples party and a dinner party. Club members also handle the ticket sales for many Twin Falls Dilettante Club projects.

Hundreds of other small projects are undertaken by the group each year, projects too numerous to mention here. Suffice it to say that 3,500 hours a year aren't devoted to playing tiddle-winks.

Shoshone Civic Club Boosts Varied Projects

SHOSHONE — Hosting a library tea in keeping with the usual interest shown by Shoshone Civic Club in the city library this past year.

In fact the first club, formed June 30, 1902, caught the interest of the 15 women present in "forming a women's club for mutual improvement to maintain a free reading room and to take up any other line of work which shall be designed to promote the highest interest of the community," so the minutes of that early day read.

The club-sponsored library tea, a silver benefit in April at which State President of Junior Federated Women's club, Mrs. F. D. Wootter, Sandpoint, was a special guest.

Soon after the club was organized, a thorough study was held of the Victorian poet, Alfred Tennyson.

In 1903, the Bay View reading course, which covered the history, art, literature of the leading nations of the old and new world was adopted, and continued to be the basis of study for years.

After affiliation with the Federation, the study of civic problems became common and the club led civic improvements of varied nature throughout the years.

Colorful events were held, varied fund-raising projects carried out, and civic improvements noted.

The club took care of the cemetery for about 16 years, provided a skating pond for children, planted trees, started the Mary L. Gooding park, promoted cleanup days in the city, donated to various charitable organizations, took an interest in art, public health and gave notable contributions to such things as a tennis court.

The past two years the club members have donated their projects—fencing, Little Wood River that winds through the park, as a protection for small children in the park.

Also of special interest the past year was the recognition given the club's 61-year membership. Mrs. Ella Vredenburg, who was presented a gift from Fourth District INWC and was honored at the state convention held in April at Boise.

Mrs. Vredenburg is the oldest continuous member in fourth district.

To raise extra funds the past year, members sold Idaho note cards, stationary with scenes of Idaho on the front cover. Mrs. Arthur Gentry is the retiring president with Mrs. Reid Newby the new president and Mrs. Frank Dahl, secretary.

Membership ranges from 26 to 40, meetings are held September through May on the third Fridays unless otherwise stipulated, at the American Legion Hall.

Unity Club Fits Description of "Typical" Group

A typical women's club is a nebulous thing—as hard to define as it is to find. But this much can be said about the typical women's club. If such a thing really exists: its members are homemakers, interested in a variety of things and whose programs reflect their varied interests.

Such a description fits the Unity Club to a T.

President of this club is Mrs. Kenneth Nesbitt, who comments "our club is primarily social but we contribute to community projects as well."

Donations to the Idaho Youth Ranch—in Rupert and to the YMCA from Tupper—raised through cookie sales typify the group's service projects. The social angle is aired through Christmas parties and Men's Nights, both annual affairs. In addition, outside speakers offer educational and entertaining programs to club members during regular meetings.

The group was organized in 1912 and one charter member, Mrs. Zella Vice, is still active. The 27 members meet monthly in private homes.

Other officers are Mrs. Gene Sharp, vice president; Mrs. Eva Olson, secretary, and Mrs. Max Vanasuden, treasurer.

Records of Carey Club Damaged

CAREY — "Ever onward, upward, helping everywhere" has been the motto of the Carey Progressive Club since it was first organized on Feb. 2, 1914.

Much of the early history of the club has been lost because many of the books were damaged by flood waters, but the group does have records of what transpired from 1917 to the present time.

Current officers are: Mrs. John Briggs, president; Mrs. Les Day, vice-president; Mrs. Gall Roberts, secretary; Mrs. Leon Carlson, assistant secretary; and Mrs. Rhonda Hunt, treasurer.

The club's purpose is to provide and promote community progress. The winter carnation was chosen as the flower, and blue and white as the club colors. The code is: "Honor thy sister and help to the utmost to promote a sense of comradeship in this club."

At first, meetings were held each week, then they were changed to twice a month, and finally, the first Wednesday of each month was chosen as the regular meeting date.

The programs, then, were held by the early club members were educational in nature. Music, art, and literature were studied and each member was required to answer the roll call with a news item or an appropriate anecdote.

Mrs. Ida Stanford was the club president from 1917 to 1921, and there were 13 charter members at that time.

The local club belonged to the district and state federation from 1918 to 1920. Many trips were made by the local members to attend special meetings of the federations.

Through the years, the history of the club shows that it has been an active participant in community progress and development.

Over the years, however, the show was held in 1952, during the first World War, the club purchased a $100 Liberty bond which was held until 1952, when it was redeemed and the money deposited in a savings account.

In recent years, most of this money has been used to purchase uniforms for the high school band. The members have also been called upon to aid in the purchase of a lunchroom, equipment, schoolroom improvements, and landscaping of the school grounds.

Now that a HFA unit has assumed an active role in supervising and improving the schools, the club has turned its attention to other endeavors for community betterment. It contributes to the Carey High School Scholarship Fund, the Children's Home in Boise, assists the Legion Auxiliary in sponsoring the Boys and Girls State program each year, and decorates a float for the July 24th parade.

Funds for these activities are raised by selling boxes of homemade candy at Christmas time, and serving lunch to the election board during the primary and general elections.

In addition to the regularly scheduled monthly meetings, three special events are held each year — a husbands' party in October, a Christmas party, and the club's birthday party in February. For these special events, the husbands are the special guests.

MRS. FAY HANN

Friendship Is Purpose Of Group

"Friendship plus" is a capsule description of the Social Order of the Beaucanton, Twin Falls Assembly No. 108.

An affiliate of the Masonic order, Knights Templar, one of the Beaucanton "plusses" is loyalty and service to the Templars. Only widows and widowers of the men's organization are eligible for membership in the Beaucanton.

Officers of the group are Mrs. Fay Hann, president; Mrs. Rex Reed, orator; Mrs. Otis Hall, first vice president; Mrs. Al Wirsching, second vice president; Mrs. Archie Langdon, preceptress; Mrs. Harold Menser, recorder; Mrs. John Parish, treasurer; and Mrs. Glen McCoy, marshal.

Other officers are Mrs. Albert W. D. D. D., assistant marshal; Mrs. Faye Howard, chaplain; Mrs. Frank Fonda, director of music; Mrs. Frank Briggs, mistress of the wardrobe; Mrs. H. W. Burgess, daughter of the household; Mrs. L. J. Young, standard bearer; Mrs. A. Floyd Bandy, color bearer; Mrs. Ivory Copener, inner guard; and Mrs. Clark Kleinfort, outer guard.

The 85 members of the unit are from Ketchum, Wendell, Buhl, Piler, Jerome, Dietrich, Turley and Twin Falls. The group meets monthly.

Founded in 1940 by Mrs. Claude Gordan, the Twin Falls order was the first in the state. At present, there are only four chapters in Idaho, even though the Beaucanton is an international order. There are 209 different Beaucanton assemblies.

One of the biggest projects of this international order is the support of the Knights Templar Eye Foundation. The Twin Falls group also contributes to the Eye Foundation. Mrs. Hann is area chairman for the project.

West Point Club Aids Community

WENDELL — Purpose of the West Point Ladies Club, organized in 1923, was primarily social.

However, through the years, this club has assisted with all community projects both in the West Point area and in Wendell community.

Meetings are held the third Thursday of each month from September through May, at the homes of the members, except for special occasions.

A special dinner meeting, honoring the husbands of the members, was held in 1928 and the custom has continued and become one of the highlights of the year. A caterer for this event is selected each year by the members.

Bobby pin holders for each woman patient at Magic Valley Manor was one of the many projects for the past year. The members also assist, when called upon, with aid for the Manor, such as running errands, fixing and writing letters. The group remembers a polio victim in the area with gifts or cash at special times.

Other assistance is given to polio, cancer, mental health, Red Cross and heart fund raising drives.

Mrs. D. Donald McDougl is a charter member still active. She has held the club offices and serves this year as vice president. She has kept in contact with other charter members who are Mrs. Alice Walstra, Twin Falls; Mrs. Jennie Taylor, San Diego; Mrs. Leah Cornelison, Brewster, Ariz.; Mrs. Ruth Tool, Bellingham, Wash.; and Mrs. Bernia Southwick, Buhl.

Mrs. Fred Hartley serves as president and Mrs. Merlin Logan, secretary-treasurer.

which supplies funds for corrective eye research.

Getting banners for Job's Daughters, the Rainbows, Rainbow Girls and other groups is one of the order's fund-raising activities. Picnics, rummage and cookie sales also serve to "prime the pump."

The big social event of the Beaucanton this year will be the Oct. 22, 1956, visit of the Supreme Worthy President, Mrs. Charles J. Meek of Pennsylvania. This will be Mrs. Meek's first visit to Twin Falls.

Other social activities for the group this year have included entertaining the Templars and Beaucantons from Pocatello at a dinner and card party; honoring the unit's past presidents at a party in June; and several joint potluck suppers with the local Templars. Box socials, picnics and other get-togethers were also held.

Art Club Gives Members Sense of Contribution

Constructive recreation has long been recognized as an effective means of fulfilling the human being's need for a sense of accomplishment and contribution.

The Mary Davis Art Club was created with this purpose in mind. Mrs. Mary Davis was an art teacher from Rogerson who, through government appropriations, began instructing classes in basketry, water color, pastel and oil painting. The classes were designed to encourage art appreciation and to offer special incentive to members to foster the practice of art in any form which appealed to them.

The classes were continued until 1937, when the appropriations were stopped. Since interest had developed, however, the group voted to retain Mrs. Davis as an instructor once a week for 50 cents per member.

Mrs. Davis later moved to Hagerman but continued her teaching until her death in 1940.

Born in Illinois, Mrs. Davis began her art studies at Valparaiso, Ind. She studied art with a china decorator, Aulich, and also took instruction from D. M. Campanaro, manufacturer of art supplies in Chicago. She was at one time head of the art department at Fremont College, near Midland College, in Nebraska.

Members of the original class, still active in the club, are Laura Barber, Mrs. Tom Baird, Mrs. Lamar Hewlett, Mrs. Leo Mulline and Mrs. Charles V. Jones. Officers of the 18-member club are Miss Clara Walton, president; Mrs. Delbert Craig, vice president; and Mrs. Ernest Stettler, secretary-treasurer.

The group's monthly meetings are very informal affairs, conducted at a member's home. easels are set up, coffee is served and brushes, pens and charcoal tips begin their work at the day.

Frequently, members attend sessions of the Idaho Art Association at Sun Valley or they participate in the extension courses offered by the University in art techniques. They also take advantage of the Workshop on Wheels sponsored by the University of Idaho in the Stanley Basin area.

During July and August outdoor sketching sessions are featured.

To improve their talents, a few members have taken private lessons, or training in workshops sponsored by the high school or St. Edwards Catholic Church.

In past years, more than 60 persons have benefited from sharing the knowledge and talent of club members who were guided by Mrs. Davis. Mrs. Stettler has said that no formal instruction is now given, but experienced members continue to help new ones learn the proper techniques.

The group's informal instruction periods include short lessons on correct use of water colors and pastels; matting and framing of water colors; and a lesson on the painting of reflections on glass.

Another meeting was devoted to a review of "Water Color" from 1931.

The club also sponsors a year book contest. The members each submit a sample cover and a panel of judges chooses the winner. The books are then published and distributed free to members.

"The club has annual showings at the Twin Falls Public Library and the County Fair. Another show was held this year at the Kimberly Methodist Church bazaar, where more than 20 paintings were displayed.

Membership is limited to 18, because of the space limitation imposed by easels, paints and models in the members' homes. The only requirement for membership is a desire to paint, according to Mrs. Stettler.

"The club plans to continue its efforts to encourage the development of latent talents, provide an interesting hobby, relaxation and entertainment. By doing so, it enables each member to experience a real sense of accomplishment."

Delta Han Club Has Luncheons

PILER — The Delta Han Club held a picnic for members and families at the Twin Falls County Fairgrounds this year and decided to make it a yearly event.

This club meets for dessert luncheons at members' homes every two weeks. The afternoon is spent playing cards. Membership is kept at an even number, and if a member is unable to be present, she must see that a guest is invited to take her place.

This club has no officers. Mrs. Amy Glassinger was organizer of the unit eight years ago.

Float Wins For Church Council

SHOSHONE — The Women's Missionary Council for the Shoshone Assembly of the Church won first place in floats depicting the 1956 WMC theme during 1956-1957.

The theme was "The Heart of the District — With the District at Heart".

A child's wagon was used, decorated with red and white streamers, with a large funnel on legs. From the funnel ran six little churches, representing the churches in the Shoshone area. A large heart sat atop the funnel.

The first place prize was a guest book for the church.

Regular Women's Missionary Council meetings in Shoshone are held each first Thursday of the month. The first meeting held in Shoshone was March 29, 1956.

Although enrollment was only seven at the time, the spirit was in keeping with the national enrollment.

In early years, missionary-minded pastors and Christian workers felt a responsibility for the "unfortunates" — the poor, the sick and the aged — and support of local people. As missionaries — itinerant in the churches, the burden was on them.

Consequently, groups organized in the churches under various names, and the WMC was felt to bind these missionary activities in closer unity of operation; thus, the district Women's Missionary Council was organized.

Mrs. Olive Shaklee was first president in Shoshone.

The WMC is a red and white, symbolizing the sacrifice made by the Savior. Emblem is the heart, symbolizing women's inherent responsibility to the scripture of human needs, and the scripture is "Whatever you do to the least of these, you do to me."

The local group has adopted several missionaries — and their families — as special friends at birthdays, anniversaries and Christmas as well as when generally in need.

The WMC has also adopted orphan children at the Juneau Alaska Children's home and sent gifts to them.

Members collect good used clothing, which is cleaned, mended and prepared for use. They also send clothing to Indians. They also send children's toys, games and books.

New and used clothing and bedding is donated to the Cuban Refugee Center at Miami, Fla. According to reports received from those in charge, refugees from Cuba arrive half-starved and with only the clothing on their backs.

Worn — out sheets are saved, torn according to specification and rolled for bandages for the Red Cross hospital mission in Manila.

Numerous baby jackets were made by the WMC for a missionary take to the Congo for Pygmy babies where only clothing was a banana leaf.

Members save coupons as a money switch enables them to buy equipment for a youth camp kitchen, and Bible schools overseas.

Last year an old stove was purchased for a missionary in Japan by saving stamps. This year's project is a huge electric heater for the youth camp.

Cancelled postage stamps are saved. The proceeds from these are used to provide ledgers, reference books such as concordances and commentaries for foreign Bible schools. The stamps are sold to stamp collection dealers.

Nickels, which are saved all year, are turned in at district councils. They are given to pioneer churches.

In September of each year an offering is taken for the "Beta Calhoun Fund" for urgent missionary household needs such as

MRS. GAYLORD TOLER

Local Club Formed to Aid Boys

The Twin Falls DeMolay Mothers' Club was formed on March 1, 1948, by 16 mothers whose sons were active in the TWIST DeMolay Chapter.

The group was organized primarily to give general assistance to the boys by providing refreshments at their meetings, interest in the club, and providing invitations, postage, decorations, and entertainment for DeMolay functions.

Under the leadership of John Fuller, acting chairman pro tem, the members called themselves the Mothers' Circle of Twin Falls DeMolay Chapter, but later shortened the name to DeMolay Mothers' Club.

The club includes regular and associate members. The regular members are mothers of DeMolay boys. Associate members are regular members of the DeMolay advisory council — members who do not have active sons in the local chapter; any woman interested in assisting the chapter and any woman member of a former chapter member.

Approximately 30 to 40 mothers are now active in the club. The group has no formal officers. The mother of the master counselor of the DeMolay Chapter usually assumes the position of acting chairman, and she is responsible for coordinating the Mothers' Club's functions.

Mrs. Gaylord Toler, mother of DeMolay Master Counselor Jeff Toler, is now acting chairman.

The Twin Falls DeMolay Chapter is affiliated with the local Masonic Lodge. The boys' advisory board is composed of Masons and the Masons also assist and cooperate with the Mothers' Club.

The Mothers' Club does not have an official vote in governing activities of the DeMolays. They are, however, instrumental in promoting and assisting with the boys' social functions.

The Mothers' Club sponsors at least one fund-raising event annually, usually a rummage sale. The money raised from this sale is used to pay the boys' dues to the DeMolay. The DeMolay Council is held annually and is a convention of all the DeMolay chapters in Idaho.

In assuming up the name of the Mothers' Club, Mrs. Toler said, "We're just there to help the boys."

NWMS Helps Church's Missionary Endeavors

The purpose of the Nazarene World Missionary Society is to promote the church's missionary endeavors by enlisting every member into active missionary service through prayer, study, inspiration and giving of funds.

"We feel the true test of our activities here in Twin Falls and the other churches of America will be the results out in the foreign fields," states Mrs. Morris Vavod, president of the group. In explanation of the group's emphasis on missionary work.

The society's financial support of the church's missionary work is strictly through freewill offerings. Last year, the group raised $3,701.55 in this manner. Of this, $158.92 was sent to a "Spanish Broadcast" radio program which transmits a mission-based program to Spanish-speaking countries.

Another $387.73 was sent to the society's Alabaster offering, the funds of which are used to build churches, hospitals and other buildings in the mission fields.

The amount of $81.60 was sent to the relief and retirement fund for missionaries and the rest of the funds were sent to the general national headquarters in Kansas City, Mo.

The society's funds are dispersed in a similar fashion each year.

In addition to these regular contributions, the group chooses a special project each year. The sponsorship of two teams of Nazarene Evangelistic Ambassadors to ten foreign countries during July and August was last year's project. Two years ago, the group contributed to a literature fund for Africa which furnished Christian literature in the country.

The society started in Twin Falls as the Nazarene Woman's Foreign Missionary Society with six-chapter members. The group became known as the World Missionary Society two years ago.

The unit is composed of six chapters, with a total membership of 161. Each chapter meets monthly for a study and worship session with a social afterward.

"I Have Chosen You — Go Bring Fruit" is the study of the Idaho-Oregon district. Each year the society has a series of books to read, with a special lesson book, in connection with the study theme. "Continued in a Hurry" by Betty L. Emslie, is this year's lesson book.

The annual district convention of the World Missionary Society this year was held in Boise. Eight delegates from the Twin Falls chapter attended.

Officers of the group, in addition to Mrs. Vavod, are Mrs. Leslie Hendrix, vice president; Mrs. Raymond White, secretary; Mrs. Arthur White, treasurer; Mrs. J. M. Anderson, study secretary, and Mrs. Don Wallace, prayer and fasting secretary.

Others are Mrs. Dora Wyler, secretary of the "Other Sheep," a national magazine published by the church; Mrs. Wendell Group, box work secretary; Mrs. Hubert Hendrix, publicity; and Mrs. Duane Owen, membership chairman.

Each year the group has certain goals that it must meet in order to remain a "Star Society." This designation is given to those units that meet the standards set forth by the national organization.

"We thus become an ever-growing society with each member working, praying and giving that those less fortunate than we may receive the gospel also," was Mrs. Vavod's closing statement.

Council Includes All Groups

WENDELL — Wendell Health Council, organized in November, 1942, is composed of representatives from all churches and civic organizations from Wendell and area communities.

Purpose of the organization was to assist the county health nurse and to serve as a go-between for persons needing aid and the nurse. The purpose remains the same through the years although the work differs somewhat.

Mrs. Veronica Maas, Wendell, Gooding County health nurse meets with the council at the regular four-person meeting the second Monday afternoon of each month. Reports of work completed are given and plans made for the work which is needed.

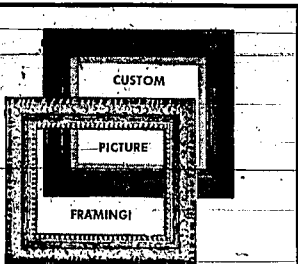

Funds necessary to carry on this relief work are raised by the sale of discolored, which has been underway for the past several years.

The council maintains a loan closet in the city hall with articles for the use of the community. The stock now consists of two sized chairs, five hospital beds (some metal, some wicker, back rest, crutches (adult and youth), and many smaller articles necessary for the sick room.

The articles are loaned free of charge for the first three months; after that time a rental fee is charged. Money received for rentals is used to purchase more supplies for the loan cupboard.

Mrs. Owen Colett, city clerk, is in charge of the supplies for loan or rent and loans may be arranged through her.

Present officers of the council are Mrs. Fester Anderson, president, Mrs. Howard Niccum, vice president, and Mrs. Arthur Byce, secretary-treasurer.

Universal Language Is Primary Lure At Twin Falls Music Club Functions

"Say It With Music" was the theme—lovely—music was the main attraction—and song-munchers were not welcome at this year's programs of the Twin Falls Music Club.

Highlighting the year's activities were the April ones, with Mrs. David Mead and Mrs. Donald Youtz presenting two one-act comic operas, Mrs. Sterling Vaughn was the narrator, adding her charm and wit to the exciting music of these operas, "Bastien and Bastien" by Mozart and "The Old Maid and the Thief" by Menotti were performed.

Another program concerned the "Hummer" figures of Sister Beria. Hummel, Mrs. James Kinney presented the history of these figurines of small children, which are taken from paintings by Sister Beria. The Hummels are made in a factory in Bavaria.

The annual international program was presented by Mrs. Harold A. Wiedemann. The program consisted of three films loaned by the Austrian Institute in New York, each of which was introduced and explained by Mrs. Wiedemann. The films were "The Art of Viennese Making," "Austrian Musicals," and "Musical Strolls Through Austria." Carrying out the Austrian theme, Mrs. Kinney played three numbers from an old Strauss album.

In January, Mrs. Joe Hackney presented a resume of the history of ballet. Several of her students demonstrated basic positions of the hands, feet and head as Mrs. Hackney explained the direction of each. This program was held in the Bishop Rhea Auditorium.

The Music Club's Chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Donald Youtz, performed for the group at the annual White Breakfast in February. The program was entitled "A Parade of American Music."

A Sacred Music program at the Twin Falls Methodist Church Sanctuary in March was another highlight of the group's season schedule. The history of the pipe organ, delivered by Mrs. Harold Nye, and several selections played on the church organ were the outstanding features of the event.

"Another portion of the program was presented by Mrs. Larry Armga, who sang three hymns and explained their origin. Mrs. Paul Fisher noted that this evening was rather unusual but very inspired."

One of the biggest projects of the Music Club is the annual music festival presented by the junior clubs. These clubs were organized for the benefit of school children—to develop and maintain high standards in music and music appreciation.

There are currently over 400 students enrolled in junior music clubs in the Magic Valley area.

The Music Club festival is not a case of judging one student against another, but involves, instead, the judging of each student as an individual.

Scholarships are awarded by the club to outstanding performers in the festival. Several $75 awards for the junior clubs are given at the Sun Valley Music Camp are given. Mrs. Youtz is the festival chairman.

The limit for the junior clubs is from 6 to 18. These groups have grown to the point where combining all units into two one club for the junior high schools and one for elementary (middle school) was no longer feasible. There are now four junior clubs—one for each school.

One special feature of the junior club program is the annual Christmas caroling excursion in the city park.

The Twin Falls Music Club, and its subsidiary junior clubs, was organized in 1950 by Mrs. Charles Allen, the first local president. The group is affiliated with the National Federation of Music Clubs. This national organization was originally formed to promote American composers.

Fund-raising activities include the sponsorship of concerts and operas by professional performers, which are open to the public. Shows such as "Second Act of the Marriage of Figaro" by Mozart and a two-plant concert by Jane Eller and L. W. H. Wasserman, father-daughter team, from Logan, Utah, have been presented.

To promote better music in Twin Falls, the club started a record file at the public library where records are loaned on a basis similar to that of book lending. The record library has all types of music, including popular.

In the record library, then, classic long—hair meets rock 'n' roll long—hair and they both come out smelling pretty good.

Past projects of the club include the sponsorship of "Handel's 'Messiah'" for five years; the performance by the Boise Philharmonic of "Carmina Burana" by Carl Orff; another Boise Philharmonic presentation, "Madame Butterfly"; and the sponsorship of the Sun Valley Music Camp Faculty concert.

The members of the group sell tickets at each of these public presentations to raise money for their junior club scholarships.

Other fund-raising projects are the August luncheon sale

Town and Country Club Grows

FAIRFIELD — A comparatively new but rapidly growing organization is the Town and Country Christian Women's clubs.

Today there are over 400 councils and clubs in our American cities and 1966 marks the 25th year as an organization. The club was organized in December, 1941, in Fairfield, and and participation in the two annual Civic Symphonies that are presented each year. The Civic Symphony is directed by Del Slaughter and is held at O'Leary Junior High School in November and February. Members volunteer for Symphony ticket selling.

Personal contributions from members also add to the group's funds.

There are currently 125 members in the Music Club. Officers are Mrs. Mead, president; Mrs. Frances Rider, first vice president; Mrs. Oleen Seams, second vice president; Mrs. Robert Stepanovich, treasurer; Mrs. William Lot, secretary; and Mrs. Max Guyer, historian.

Many of the club's members are accomplished musicians in one medium or another, but musical ability is not a membership prerequisite. The group is open to anyone interested in the promotion of good music. In fact, all chiefs and no Indians makes for a dull unit, and one has to have listeners as well as performers.

Music education is emphasized in the club's approach to its overall goal. The junior club scholarships are awarded in this connection. Last year, over $1,100 was granted as Music Club scholarships.

Next year, a study group on the history of music will be added to the group's program curriculum. Mr. and Mrs. Nick Bond will head the Music Club study group and Rob Thompson will head the junior club study group.

The club's regular meetings feature a rendition of the hymn of the month, dance recitals, religious programs or films dealing with some aspect of music or music history. These meetings are held at the YMCA-YWCA Building.

The "Y" is also the site of the annual Rose Luncheon, when the junior club scholarship winners are presented their awards. The club also holds an annual White Luncheon in honor of the 16 past presidents.

Through all functions of the unit the year's theme, "Say It With Music," rings loud and clear. Music, the international language, does not have the limitations that verbal communication has. The verbal limitations of the Twin Falls Music Club will continue to "Say It With Music."

attendance has been more than 100 at some of the meetings. Programs both educational and entertaining have been presented. Good talent and music has been included in the meetings. Most of the meetings have featured a catered dinner to be followed by a program.

One of the outstanding meetings this year included new 'n' Fiddlers presented the musical program. Devotional speakers were Jim Davis and Rev. Leonard Ellers. A western theme was used for the evening.

Demonstrations at some of the meetings included various fashions, oil painting, wigs, fabric paints, cosmetics, cake decorating, pottery making, knitting machines, tools of various crafts, and book reviews.

Mrs. Allen Bausher is serving as chairman this year with Mrs. Mobin Fletcher as co-chairman, Mrs. Edward Krahn, Mrs. Gwinn Rice, Mrs. Walter Pearson and Mrs. James Post are advisors. Mrs. Russell Ashmead is decoration chairman.

The club doesn't have any membership roll or dues and all women in the community are invited to attend the meetings. The club has a monthly meeting in a central location with items of special interest to homemakers.

Object of the club is "to make known the love of God, to show forth love in daily life and to unite our hearts in love with other Christians."

Club Began As Sewing Group

HANSEN — The Hansen Friendship Club was organized as a sewing club, in April, 1936. The members sewed for themselves and for each other—making quilt blocks, hemming dishtowels, making potholders—whatever the hostess wanted at the time.

Before long, however, the group began doing other things. One of the first projects was making fruit for the Children's home in Boise, which they still do.

The club was started through the efforts of Mrs. Rose Wiseman, and she was the first president. Mrs. Carr Wiseman was the secretary-treasurer, the only officers. It started as a neighborhood club, but now draws members from all directions in the Hansen area and some from Kimberly.

The group became affiliated with the Federated Women's Clubs for a time and entered into the recommended projects, but resigned feeling they could do much more on a local level.

Late in the club joined the Home Demonstration group and continued with this until the early 1950's. By this time most of the age group were mothers with children and sometimes it seemed as if there were more children than members at the meetings. It became more difficult to obtain representatives to attend the Council meetings. Programs still were continued on a home improvements level.

For many years the club members sent gifts to "adopted" patients at the Idaho State Tuberculosis hospital at Gooding with two members each month sending gifts. For the past year however, the group decided to adopt the patients at Kimberly. Many of the Convalescent Home. Sometimes they provide a singing program for them and have birthday anniversary parties—once a quarter.

They have made quilts for the Idaho Youth Ranch and for needy families.

Sewing and Christmas baskets were prepared for a number of years for needy families in the area, and still are if any such need is brought to the attention of the club.

For several years the group conducted the heart fund drive for the Hansen area with Mrs. Thomas Steinhilber as the area chairman, and have also canvassed for Cancer and Red Cross.

The club was given a commendation in an article published by the Cancer foundation on the way the drive was handled. Two of the women cooked a dinner and kept the children while the rest of the members canvassed the town and surrounding areas in a one-day drive. Other drives have been handled similarly by the group since then.

Social events are planned during the year, one a "Mother's Tea" held the first meeting in May, and the other, a special evening social, a dinner for the husbands, held usually in February.

Mrs. E. R. Arment is the only charter member still in the club. Most of the early members have moved from the community, and some have dropped club activities because of other conflicting schedules.

Because the meetings are held in the homes of members, the membership is limited to 20, and it is always filled.

Mrs. F. J. Fratton is current president, Mrs. Lewis Reed, vice president; Mrs. Violet Patterson, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. W. C. Allen, courtesy chairman.

Mrs. Robert Colner, left, observes Mrs. Frank Bower, right, as she demonstrates the proper putting form. Mrs. Richard Meadows, center, practices a stroke. The women are members of the Twin Falls Municipal Golf Association and make such sessions a daily habit. Tournaments, Lessons Keep Local Club Busy Getting down to the rock-bottom basics, members of the Twin Falls Municipal Ladies' Golf Association are a bunch of women who like to hit small balls on the ground with skinny sticks.

Adding a few embellishments to the basics, these women are energetic, enthusiastic sportsmen who play golf for relaxation, exercise and just plain enjoyment. Energetic they have to be—the average player walks approximately four miles while playing an average 18 holes of golf.

The club was organized in 1910 by 22 women who were dedicated to the furthering of women's golf, staging of tournaments and obtaining a new clubhouse.

It now includes 125 such women, led by Mrs. Robert Colner, president; Mrs. Richard Meadows, vice president; Mrs. Arnold DePaul, treasurer, and Mrs. Frank Ballard, secretary. Meetings are held monthly.

Activities include a golf fashion show featuring fashions from the Pro Shop at the Municipal Golf Course, the Spring Best Ball tournament and a spring tea and dance.

Best Ball winners last year were Mrs. Donald Jensen and Mrs. Clifford Smith. Mrs. Meadows won the Best Pro tournament, which was held in June. "Scotch-Balls" are held monthly on Sunday. These tournaments feature husband and wife teams—first one hits the ball and then the other takes a turn. It's economical—that way, Mrs. Colner noted.

In conjunction with the state tournament, the Ladies Pro-Am Tournament is held in June. For the losers, the "Claret" Tournament is held later in the month. The association has hosted the annual Idaho State Women's Amateur Golf Tournament in 1949, 1955, 1967 and 1968.

The state tournament this year was won by Mrs. Marjorie Unbehagen, Twin Falls. Mrs. Kenneth Straughn, Twin Falls, was state president when this tournament was played in June.

Other activities of the group, tournaments aside, include clinics for beginning golfers and the annual "In and Out" at the end of the season.

A fall banquet is also held at the end of the season, featuring installation of new officers and awarding of trophies.

Stuff Tomatoes

Finely chopped cooked vegetables, mixed with mayonnaise, make an excellent stuffing for tomatoes that are to be served as a salad.

Starting from the stem end of each tomato, cut it into sixths, but do not cut all the way through. Spread the wedges apart and then add the stuffing.

LIPSTICK APPLIED

The season's outlook is extremely bright for lipstick wearers. Take a cue from models and play actresses and apply a basic lipstick. On top of this smooth on a second color that harmonizes with your dress or suit.

Even offer, the association now comes new members and provides them with an opportunity to improve their play while enjoying themselves. Mrs. Colner concluded.

Missionary Service Is WMS Goal

"We attempt to teach the women of the world a valuable lesson on the saving grace of Jesus Christ," says Mrs. Johnnie Boyd, president of the Women's Missionary Society, about her organization.

The purpose of WMS is to meet the needs of missionaries stationed both here and abroad. The present goal for the missions is to organize the local WMS into visitation and prayer groups to better care for the needs of the church, neighbors and friends.

Officers, in addition to Mrs. Boyd, are Mrs. Allen Lindmoose, vice president; Mrs. Donald King, secretary, and Mrs. Robert Lang, treasurer. The 14 members of the group meet monthly.

Current projects of the WMS include contributions to the support of Ethel Young, a missionary stationed in Port Said, and donations to the national projects of WMS.

Also given to missionaries in Brazil, Nigeria, Korea and Japan through the national society.

Many of the group's funds for such endeavors are raised through the "store" which is located in the home of Mrs. Albert Stoler. The "store" features such items as pillow cases, aprons, scarves and knitted goods. These items are made by members and offered for sale to the church members and the general public.

Another fund—raising effort this year was the fall Harvest Dinner, sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club. WMS members prepared the food for the dinner.

A favorite activity of the group is the sponsorship of the "Little Jewels," a children's organization within the church. The children roll bandages and send unused stamps to Columbia, South America.

Social activities include a Mother-Daughter Banquet, a Father-Son Banquet, Christmas parties and a Thanksgiving dinner. The group is responsible for many of the church's social activities.

Membership in the WMS is not contingent upon church membership, according to Mrs. Boyd. The only requirement, she added, is "a desire to work for the Lord."

The WMS of the United Missionary Church was first organized in Twin Falls in 1914. Mrs. David Johnson was elected first president.

Service Is Theme for Area Club

SHOSHONE — "Service" was the theme for the North-Shoshone Home Improvement Club the past year. Mrs. Perry presiding as president, and Mrs. R. B. Kelley, vice president, led members in carrying out this theme.

The idea was to extend a helping hand to those in the community who had lost homes in fires; and to assist women of the community who served families in need for those who had lost loved ones, as well as to continue with remembrances for patients at the convalescent center.

Highlights of the year were the children's swimming party held in July at the Shoshone park and the annual husband's turkey dinner and card party held in December.

Mrs. John Stutzneeger is the newly elected president for 1956 with Mrs. Walter C. Stutzneeger, reporter, Mrs. Orville Jones is vice-president and Mrs. Ward Mills, treasurer.

The club was first organized in 1942 at the home of Mrs. Charles Bartomeo, under direction of Ruth Robinson, home management assistant for the Farm Security Administration, now known as the Farmers Home Administration. The following year the club was reorganized and 23 active members during the first year.

Members were homesteaders' wives and club membership was restricted for several years to those who had obtained a FSA loan. Other women of the community were allowed membership later and since that time it has functioned as a community club.

Average attendance throughout the years has been 30. Mrs. Stutzneeger, Gooding, and Mrs. Royd Mulliner, Shoshone, are the club's officers.

Since members were newcomers to the community, the purpose of the club was to help them become acquainted and to exchange ideas for home improvement.

Meetings are still held at 2 p.m. the third Thursday of each month at members' homes. Club colors are blue and white and the club flower is blue and white pansies. The motto is "To remember, life is as we make it and to know that life is good whatever skies may chance to be."

Club finances are obtained by selling food at farm sales and rummage sales, selling candy and extracts, selling quilts and brass pictures made by members, while elephant sales and concessions at the fair.

Club objectives are many. Donations are made to all worthwhile projects, such as Cancer, Polio, Heart Fund and Red Cross. To the Children's Hospital, Youth Ranch, mental hospital and children's homes. Members made 33 children's dresses and sent them to the children's home one year and have sent barrels of fruits and vegetables to the home several times.

The club adopts and buys clothing for needy children at the State Debt and Blind School, Gooding; sponsor patients at the River Convalescent Center, Shoshone, and the TB hospital at Hooding. Members remember the patients with little birthday and holidays.

In addition to looking after those adopted patients, the club members remember other people with such things as pink and blue showers, flowers and gifts to the ill, flowers for funerals, and food for bereaved families. Many times they have provided food for a needy family, especially at Christmas time.

Each year they sponsor a children's picnic and a husband's party. The club's display at the fair has won first place several

T.F. Has Only Club In System

The Union Pacific Booster's Club, once spread throughout the United States, are now represented by the only club left in the system—the Twin Falls chapter.

The club was first organized in 1940, and the 45 charter members elected Mrs. Ben Link as their first president. Four charter members have remained active in the club: Mrs. Link, Mrs. May Roberts; Mrs. Morris Blackburn and Mrs. Andy Aultbach.

The club once included only the wives of railroad workers, but this restriction was recently abolished.

During the war years, the club rolled bandages for the Red Cross, heart fund and cancer society.

Another past project of the club was the sponsorship of two Camp Fire groups from the time of the Blue Bird. The two groups were the Wahlan-Sa and the Can-O-Wahki.

Other past events included motherhood teas, picnics and an annual birthday dinner for railroad employees. Picnics, birthday celebrations and an annual party in honor of the club's foundation are still a part of the group's program.

The Booster's Club is now primarily social, its purpose being "Fellowship." However, the club motto from the old days, "Service with a smile keeps us boosting all the time. The club song is "God Bless America."

Since the club is no longer affiliated with the Union Pacific Railroad, an action to change the name of the club has been considered. The name change has thus far been voted down.

Current officers are Mrs. A. L. Hargraves, president; Mrs. Morris Blackburn, first vice president; Mrs. Vinnie Bost-right, secretary-treasurer. Membership is 12 and meetings are held on the third Thursday of each month.

The club's book was adapted from writings by Mary Stewart.

"Keep us O God from pettiness; Let us be large in thought, in mind, in deed. Let us be done with fault-finding and leave off self-seek."

"May we put away all pretenses and meet each other face to face with no prejudice, may we never be hasty in judgment and always generous. Let us take time for all things, make us grow calm, serene and gentle."

"Teach us to put into action trees at the county fairground, contribute to the fair book and sponsor awards for 4-11 boys and girls in the north Shoshone area."

Club members have a secret holiday gift exchange and are members of the County Home Demonstration Council.

Theme Is Noted for Burley BPW

BURLEY — The Burley Business and Professional Women's Club this year will be studying the theme, "Plan for Progress," which deals with "SICO" which means standard, interest, cooperation and opportunity.

The club is under the direction of Mrs. W. Gay (Beth) Jones, president; Mrs. Walter (Gladys) Baker, vice president; Mrs. Martha Carson, treasurer; and Mrs. Sarah Harrison, secretary.

The second Tuesday of each month the group holds a 7 p.m. dinner meeting at the National Hotel, and the fourth Tuesday members hold a work and social meeting in one of the member's home.

Purpose of the group is to promote the interest and bring about a spirit of cooperation among business and professional women in the United States, to elevate the standards for women in business and the professions and to extend opportunities to business and professional women through education in industrial, scientific and vocational activities.

Opportunities are provided in three major areas: personal development, civic participation and world affairs, through coordinated programs directed to the needs of members and their communities.

One of the outstanding events of the year is the announcement of the "Woman of Achievement," for the local club. The woman for the award is selected by a points system which includes activities for the community, her church, other club organizations, and her job in the professional field.

The award last year was presented to Mrs. Martha Carson, past president of the club and a woman at Van Engers.

The Burley club is a member of the South Central District which includes Butte, Burley, Gooding, Jerome, Rupert, Shoshone and Twin Falls. This district presently has 20 members.

The Burley club was started in 1920 by a group of 25 local business women. The group met on a cold winter February night at the city hall where was chartered for the Burley Business and Professional Women's Club and elected its first officers.

Some American women had met two years earlier in New York City to form an organization composed of women in business and the professions.

The first National Business and Professional Women's Club was organized in 1919. Letters were sent to business women in cities and towns all over the United States to create interest in starting new clubs.

Delta Livingston, Burley city treasurer, received the letter for the Burley area and called the first meeting. After a full discussion, Mrs. Livingston was elected the first president of the Burley club.

The club's purpose is to give our better impulses, straight-forward and unselfish.

"Grant that we may realize it is the little things that create differences and that in the big things of life we are as one. And may we strive to touch and know the great human heart of our world."

"And O Lord God, let us not forget to be kind."

Promotion of Peace, Happiness Is OES Aim

The promotion of peace and happiness in the organization through friendliness, love and understanding is the purpose of the Order of the Eastern Star, Chapter No. 29, according to Mrs. Don Kilborn, worthy matron.

The purpose, in other words, is the same as that of any other fraternal organization. The group supports all activities of the Order of the Eastern Star, A.F. and A.M., as well as national Masonic lodge projects.

Support of a religious training program known as the T.A.R.L. is one phase of this latter function.

Members of the chapter had originally planned to serve a luncheon and lunches during the September Grand Lodge Communication, but the number of members in the communication made use of Holiday Inn banquet rooms, rather than the use of the Masonic Temple dining hall.

The chapter did assist with the entertainment of the wives of the Mason delegates. Together with other OES chapters in Magic Valley, the chapter sponsored a luncheon for the wives of the delegates.

Membership in the chapter now totals more than 400, with approximately 170 nonresident members.

Officers include Mrs. Kilborn, worthy matron; Mrs. Ted Scott, secretary; Mrs. M. J. Larson, president; Mrs. Anna Larson, a charter member, has maintained her membership in the club for 25 years.

Mrs. Larson has served the club well in various offices, chairmanships and projects. For many years she has been in the Bureau of Reclamation office in Burley until her retirement.

Mrs. Larson lives at 1450 Oakley Ave., Burley, with Ida Gaskill. Though not a charter member, Miss Gaskill joined the Burley Business and Professional Women's Club on the first membership drive after the Burley club was organized.

Miss Gaskill also maintains her membership. Through the years the Burley club has had many community projects. During the war years, a prisoner of war camp was located near Burley. There were many homeless soldiers and Mrs. Gaskill at the camp and the Burley club sponsored a project to entertain the soldiers and make them feel welcome in the community.

Many of the women still receive Christmas cards from "The Boys" who were stationed at the camp.

Idaho raised more potatoes than could be consumed in 1922 as the result of many club members. The Burley club members compiled a 31-page cookbook, containing 157 recipes, and sent the recipes calling for Idaho potatoes.

The cookbook was dedicated to the "Potato Growers of Idaho." Today Burley is known as the "Potato Processing Capital of the World."

Each Christmas the club has sent a gift to the Children's Home at Boise since its organization. The club's activities through the years have been numerous and varied. Several scholarships have been awarded to high school students.

Others are Mrs. A. L. Robinson, Ada; Mrs. Loren Nelson, Ruth; Mrs. Joseph Tugwa, Esther; Mrs. Laurence Bell, Martha; Mrs. Marian Jenkins, Electa; Mrs. R. C. Uhler, warder, and Paul Moseley, Jr., sentinal.

Meetings are held twice a month at the Masonic Temple. Special celebrations are held on Mother's Day, Flag Day, Thanksgiving and Masses night. Other activities include serving a special dinner for the Masonic Lodge No. 48, and another for Bethel No. 55, International Order of Jobs Daughters.

Grand chapter projects supported by the local chapter last year included contributions to the inter-tribe convent fund and ESTARL.

The chapter also supports the arthritis and rheumatism funds set up by the general grand chapter as well as the Eye Foundation.

Mr. Carrier is worthy patron for the chapter, with Gene Sharp acting as associate patron.

Other activities of the chapter include visiting the sick, those in hospitals or rest homes and remembering the members in rest homes at Christmas with gifts.

A rummage sale is the main fund-raising activity.

OES No. 29 was instituted in 1907 with 19 charter members. First worthy matron and patron were Jennie Ellis and F.W. The. Since first organizing, the chapter has had three grand matrons chosen from its ranks.

Mrs. Kilborn's flower is the pink rose, her colors are pink and blue and she has not chosen her verse, symbol and theme in July.

BARTON'S JEWELRY

LYNWOOD

A COWBELLE is supposed to look like a girl, act like a lady and work like a man. These three representatives of the Desert Gold CowBelles Club certainly fulfill the first two requirements, but they also look as though a veritable army of domestic help did the work for them. We wouldn't bet on it, though — they're ranchers' wives! From left, are Mrs. Russell C. Larsen, Mrs. Robert Stringfellow and Mrs. Noy Brackett. (Times-News photo)

"All Is Not Hamburger" for CowBelles As Unit Drafts Beef Promotion Plans

When is a cow-bell not something that is tied around a cow's neck—and—guess—ding-dong! When it is spelled "CowBelle" and is used in reference to the Desert Gold CowBelles!

CowBelle is the wife of a cattlemen who is interested in the cattle industry.

Because she lives with beef production she knows her beef steaks as well as her hamburger and chuck roasts. She loves to share her knowledge of beef cookery, especially with high schools girls who sometimes appear to have no other interest in beef other than that encouraged by the consumption of thousands of hamburgers.

An auxiliary of the Idaho Cattlemen's Association, the Desert Gold CowBelles were organized primarily to promote the welfare of the livestock industry.

A CowBelle's trademark is a silver shiver bell, cow bell naturally, and more often than not she will have several promotional packets of beef bouillon in her pocket.

Officers of the more than 100 strong local group are Mrs. Noy Brackett, Hagerman, president; Mrs. Larry Lekky, Idemo, president-elect; Mrs. Thomas Sharp, vice president; Mrs. Ralph Olufsdot, Twin Falls, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. Charlotte Crockett, Himes, historian.

The club is a member of the National CowBelles Association, of which Mrs. Russell C. Larsen, Kimberly, is vice president. Mrs. Larsen also is the national radio-television committee chairman.

The development of the social well-being of the women in the association and assistance to the Idaho Cattlemen's Association in its efforts to promote the welfare of the livestock industry are the aims of the organization.

This promotion of "Beef for Father's Day" is one of the group's biggest projects. Through this drive, the housewives of America are urged to serve such traditional Father's Day gifts as waffles and then and offer the "Grand Master" a thick, juicy sirloin instead.

The art of beef cookery, which is seemingly lost in this world of "TV-Dinners", is another project of the group.

This project is furthered through donations to the beef cooking schools which are sponsored by the National Livestock and Meat Board. These schools feature a trained and professional demonstrator of different beef cookery methods.

The most recent such school, which was sponsored directly by the Idaho CowBelles, was held in Boise. Representatives from Idaho Power and the Amalgamated Sugar Company, assisted with the school. It is rumored that the experiments were wasted. Or was it tasted?

Other projects of the CowBelles include their annual fair booth, at which beef recipes and packets of beef bouillon are given away.

The group, which was organized in Twin Falls just last year, had 47 charter members. Originally known as the Desert Dust CowBelles, the more romantic "Gold" was later substituted for "Dust" and the unit's permanent name became "Desert Gold CowBelles."

Mrs. Larsen was the first president.

Through the state organization, the local group donates to a scholarship fund for an outstanding animal husbandry major at Idaho college. The local CowBelles also intend to establish a scholarship fund for a local 4-H youngster for use at the 4-H Congress.

Work with local 4-H clubs is an important part of the CowBelles' approach to "beef education" among the young, according to Mrs. Larsen.

Other phases of the group's beef education efforts are the provision of a pamphlet, "Lessons on Beef", for all local high school home economics classes and the mailing of beef education literature to county home demonstration agents.

The national association was formed in 1952 by 300 charter members. There are currently more than 5,000 women in the national organization. The Idaho CowBelles are 516 strong.

The state unit was organized in 1946 by 12 charter members. Mrs. Larsen and Mrs. Robert Stringfellow, Piler, were among the charter members of both the state and national organizations.

Mrs. Brackett currently holds the state office of historian. Mrs. Stringfellow is state secretary.

The local group meets monthly for social meetings, conducting business at the bi-annual business meetings.

Social activities include a Christmas dinner-dance, and summer picnics. Members also attend the Cattlemen's Banquet which is held annually in Boise.

GOP Women Carry Out Party Work

WENDELL—Republican women in Wendell carry on activities under the able leadership of Mrs. G. M. Gehlke, club president, and the efficient work of Mrs. C. E. Spencer, secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. R. O. (Janet) Petersen, serves as state committee-woman.

During the past year the club has worked closely with the county club and participated in three countywide programs. The first event sponsored by the Gooding GOP women featured Mrs. Dorothy A. Elston, national president of Republiduring the Idaho Cattlemen's Association's Bull Sale is one of the group's fund raising projects. The bull sale is held in October.

Funds raised in this manner will be used to support the club's planned 4-H scholarship fund, according to Mrs. Brackett. This scholarship will be given as a prize for the best demonstration of beef cookery at the Twin Falls County Fair. As noted before, it will be used at the 4-H Club Congress.

Another project of the CowBelles last year was the sponsorship of a float in the Vigilante Days Parade. Beef promotion was the theme of the float and match books and beef bouillon packets were passed to the parade's spectators.

"Enjoy Beef Every Day" is the CowBelle's motto.

A special project of the national association is the compiling of television advertising featuring the selection and identification of the different beef cuts, the storage and care of the meat and its cooking. Outdoor cookery and carving as can women, as speaker. Mrs. Elston, emphasized the importance of the woman's vote. Mrs. Oliver Baum, Ashton, state president, also spoke. All candidates seeking nomination for office were recognized.

A film, "Now Is the Time," produced by the Republican National Headquarters finance committee, was shown for the meeting, sponsored by the Snake River club, Hagerman.

Mrs. Mary Brooks, Blaine county State Senator, and assistant to the chairman of the National Republican Party, was the main speaker for the open air meeting held at Wendell. All candidates were introduced.

The purpose of the Hub City club is to interest and encourage the woman voter to take an active part in government affairs and to realize the importance of casting her vote on election day.

Club members supervise the Republican Headquarters in all election years, serve on telephone committees, as checkers, and work at the Republican headquarters to assist the candidates to meet the voters and give them an opportunity to acquaint the voters on their stand on various policies.

Regular meetings are conducted on the first Monday of each month at the civic club rooms at the city hall. All women who are interested are invited.

well as serving are also covered by the "strips."

The silver bell of a CowBelle signifies much more than her connection with the beef industry. In 1964 Mrs. Chester Paxton, then president of the national organization, noted the strong bond between the CowBelles silver bell and the American-Liberty Bell.

The spirit of Independence, industry and thrift that characterized the American forefather is retained in the makeup of a CowBelle, according to Mrs. Larsen. The spirit is indomitable, she concluded.

View LDS Unit Is 56 Years Old

VIEW — The first View LDS Relief Society was organized April 17, 1910, in what was then called Mountain View, but because there was already a Mountain View in Idaho, the post office requested that the community be called View.

This first organization was presided over by Mrs. Robert (Laura A.) Bailey, with Emma Burgess and Mrs. James C. (Mary A.) Cunningham, counselors, with Mrs. David (Mittie) Stalker, secretary.

During pioneer days, members assisted in the homes in sickness, a calling as doctors, nurses or whatever was needed. In times of death, they cared for the bodies, made the clothes, assisted in making the caskets and all the necessary arrangements.

They either walked or drove homes to their meetings.

During World War I, they assisted in bond drives and Red Cross work, such as rolling bandages and knitting.

Today the organization meets weekly for theology, social science and literature lessons. Once a month, work meetings are held, during which they make quilts and all other types of handwork. Cooking, cleaning and other various demonstrations help the women become better homemakers.

Deceased women who served as presidents of the organization were Mrs. Francis A. (Isabella) Webb, Mrs. Charles S. (Emma) Wood, Mrs. Franklin (Edith) Owe, Mrs. Wallace (Minnie) Patterson and Mrs. Floyd (Ellen) Ivin.

Living former presidents are Mrs. Henry (Lucille) Blaney, Provo, Utah; Mrs. Burdette (Frances) Stocking, Halley; Mrs. (Veray) Mofette, Mrs. Elmer (Mabel) Asnessen, Mrs. Thomas E. (Arvilla) Warren, Mrs. Wilson C. (Zelma) Hatch and Mrs. DeLass (Dorothy) Stoker.

MRS. GEORGE THOMAS, president of the Country Pals Club, is displaying one of her feather flower arrangements. The arrangement, featuring gold and green accents, was completely constructed by Mrs. Thomas. A demonstration of the making of feather flowers was recently on the club's program agenda. Housekeeping Complicity Causes Unit's Formation

The Cybernetic Revolution, with its influx of modern plugs and space-age machines, has not missed the housewife. Modern housekeeping can no longer be termed drudgery—but the complicity of the new appliances that are now available for our homemaker can be just as depressing.

Homemaking clubs were organized to familiarize the housewife with new methods of housewifery and the appliances that go with them. The Country Pals, a home demonstration club, is one such group.

The Country Pals were first organized by Mrs. H. A. Childers, southeastern director of the Idaho Extension Homemakers Council; Mrs. Harry Sharp, president of the County Extension Homemakers Club Council, and Mrs. Floyd Sharp.

The seven charter members met Dec. 2, 1969, and elected Mrs. Childers first president. Charter members still active besides the three organizers are Mrs. Don Hoge, Mrs. Leo Sharp, Mrs. James Brennan and Mrs. Gary Asendrup.

Lessons in such homemaking areas as home decoration, beautification, family communication, ironing and gracious dining are the features of each monthly meeting.

These demonstrations and lessons, such as the one presented by Mrs. Helen Walker from the Idaho Power Company on pantry making, are selected from a list prepared by the County Extension Homemakers Club Council.

The group also participates in events for all county home demonstration clubs, such as the Christmas idea exchange—an annual report meeting and luncheon, district meetings and conventions.

A membership limit has been set at 24, due to the limitations imposed by the group's meeting in members' homes. Membership is, however, open to all interested persons if an opening exists.

Officers are Mrs. George Thomas, president; Mrs. Fred Robinson, vice president; Mrs. Tom Sharp, secretary; Mrs. Glen Debbah, treasurer, and Mrs. Lee Cowger, reporter. There are 24 members.

Projects currently in the planning stages for the group include a lesson on the making of clear cast-grape clusters and a cooked food sale to raise funds for the Agnes Hurt Memorial at the 4-H camp.

Two Clubs Merge at King Hill

KING HILL—The King Hill Home Improvement Club is the result of a merger in 1940 with the Valley River Club, organized in 1934 in Pasadena Valley.

Mrs. Mildred Cunningham was first president of the Pasadena group, while Mrs. Frances Graham was the first president of the King Hill club which was organized in September, 1940.

After carrying out several charitable projects, interest lagged so in 1945 members sought to have a home extension agent in the county who would assist with demonstrations and various phases of homemaking.

The club sends fruit to the Children's home, gives yearly donations to an old folks home and donates to Red Cross, cancer and other drives. Bazaars were held to make money and members have assisted with relief for a needy family.

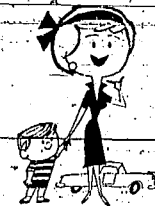

Lessons include such varied subjects as planting of roses, child and household hints, diets as well as sewing, cooking and basket weaving.

The club purchased material for a U.S. flag which was made by Mrs. Frances Graham for the King Hill school.

Many of the original members have died, but the club still is active in the community and members help with fund drives and have adopted a child at the Gooding State School.

Mrs. Glenn McClary, currently president, has been named by fellow members as an outstanding club member who also is active in 4-H club work.

Hillside Helpers Are Active

FILER — Hillside Helpers Club, a neighborhood social group, carried out a number of community and social activities this year.

This club, composed of women living between Midway and Filer, meets monthly at members' homes. Mrs. Daniel Kaufman is president; Mrs. Roy Kimmerling, first vice president; Mrs. George Eberhart, secretary; Mrs. Milton Hanson, Assistant secretary; Mrs. Erhardt, treasurer, and Mrs. Erhardt, reporter.

This group sent boxes of fruit to the Children's Home, Boise, and the Rupert Youth Ranch at Christmas. This year, as in former years, it has donated several books to the Filer Public Library.

Hillside Helpers Club members are enthusiastic gardeners and each year the club enters an exhibit in the flower section of the Twin Falls County Fair. It has won a number of ribbons as prizes for its booth.

A spring luncheon at the Depot Grill, Twin Falls, was a special social event.

clude the annual Christmas Tea given for hospital personnel and a Careers Day for Magic Valley high school seniors. Careers Day was an attempt to assist the seniors in medical careers. Hospital workers, including doctors, dentists, veterinarians and dietitians, talk with the young people and give information about their fields.

Regular meetings of the group are held in the hospital auditorium. These meetings, often feature an informative lecture by an expert in one medical field or another.

The Twin Falls chapter of the national Hospital Guild organization annually recognizes outstanding contributions of volunteer service by members. This year Mrs. Lyle Schmitzer, Mrs. Oliver Stewart and Mrs. Lyle Baron received special commendations. They have each donated over 1400 hours of volunteer work to the hospital.

The guild's motto is: "I shall pass through this world but once; so let me do it help my fellow men, let me do it now—but let me be thorough." A noble purpose—a cherry pink smock... and a ton and a half of energy; these are the guild's tools of the trade. Mrs. Jackson sums it up with this brief statement: "We're just a real going bunch."

Energy Plus Smile Is Guild Formula For Securing Assistance to Hospital

Bright cherry pink jacket... big metal cart... shining smile... these are the badge and equipment of the Twin Falls Memorial Hospital Guild volunteers.

With an inspiring motto and a ton of energy, this army of 225 salutes forth each day in pursuit of its objective—to render any assistance to the hospital which may lie within its powers. The guild has contributed over $16,000 to the hospital since its establishment in 1949. Much of this money has been used to purchase various equipment for the hospital's laboratory and X-ray departments. An isotope, EKG machine, equipment for measuring the pH—acid—of blood, an infant serum controller and a hemostatometer have been donated by the guild.

A $4,000 counter was last year's biggest expenditure. This little black box is used to count the red and white cells of blood.

Other guild donations have been used for equipment for the nurses' home, a hydrotherapy tank and bassinets.

The previously mentioned cart is a familiar sight in many hospital patients. The cart is loaded with magazines and books for loan to patients; and toothpaste, cigarettes, cosmetics and jewelry articles for sale. The cart also contains birth announcements and baby pictures for sale to new mothers.

New mothers receive a bonus from the guild during the Christmas season. All babies born two weeks before Christmas Day and up to and including New Year's Day are presented to their mothers in colorful flannel Christmas stockings. The stockings are sewn by guild volunteers.

The guild also provides—encourages for mothers who are in the hospital on Mother's Day.

These various activities come under the heading of public relations, programs and each must be approved by the hospital administrator and the board.

Special services for children in the hospital are also provided. Since the first visit to a hospital can be a little frightening, the guild purchased a ricksha which is used instead of a wheelchair, to transport the children to their rooms. This novel ride often serves to make a hospital stay less of an ordeal and more of an adventure. In addition to the ricksha ride, the young patients are given a "Pinkie" puppet by the guild. These hand puppets are sewn by members of the group. The second time a child is admitted to the hospital he receives a coloring book rather than another "Pinkie".

"Pinkie's" brother, "Lil Pal," can be purchased if a parent wishes to take a present to the children who were left at home.

"Lil Pal" is also constructed by guild volunteers.

Other services of the guild include a television rental service for the convenience of the patients and artificial flower arrangements for sale to visitors. These arrangements are made by guild members under the direction of another member who was once a professional florist. They are for sale in the hospital gift shop.

A group of wives of doctors and of hospital board members organized the guild in 1949. At a preliminary meeting at the Medical Arts building, J. C. McGilvray, proved the need for the formation of a hospital guild by outlining the educational and financial program which such an organization could undertake.

Mrs. Wayne Schow, who is still active in the club, was the first president.

A long established project of the group is the mending of hospital linens. Last year, the guild furnished and decorated a sewing room provided for the club by the hospital. The Guild Room is now used for the making of puppets, flower arrangements and surgical wrappings, as well as for linen mending.

Another special service provided for the hospital by the guild is the surgical receptionist program. The two volunteer surgical receptionists are responsible for the admittance and dismissal of patients. Their title derives from the fact that they have been empowered to inquire about the condition of surgery patients for the patients' families.

More than 2000 volunteer work were donated to this service last year.

Still another project of the guild is the decoration of the entire hospital during the Christmas season. The tremendous amount of labor involved in this undertaking is all volunteer, as are all of the guild's activities.

To become a member of the guild, an interested person must be sponsored by another member. Her acceptance is then voted on by the executive board.

Current officers are Mrs. D. A. Jackson, president; Mrs. F. H. Flint, vice president; Mrs. Lyle Schmitzer, recording secretary; Mrs. J. E. France, corresponding secretary, Mrs. Flint is the president-elect, and the board members are Mrs. LeGrand Nelson and Mrs. Oliver Stewart.

The club's major fund-raising event is the annual style show. Members of the guild model the fashions. The style show is usually held at the Blue Lakes Country Club.

North End Club Helps School

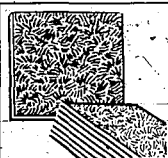

RICHFIELD — Novelty items for the St. Joseph's School at Culdesac were delivered by the North End Club, Richfield, this summer.

The club has donated articles to the school for several years as its chief project. Other items are made for the annual bazaar, the club's own fund raising project for raising money to entertain at a party for husbands.

Much interest has been promoted the past year by the foreign dish luncheon at several meetings. The foods are prepared by special recipes and served at the luncheon exemplifying just one country at a time. French, German, Scandinavian, and Hawaiian foods were enjoyed this year.

The North End club meets continuously every two weeks. Mrs. Ray Appel is president; Mrs. Carl Morgan, vice president; Mrs. Edgar Stubbs, secretary, and Mrs. William Brown, treasurer.

Not asked in general, every project of the War Mothers is dedicated to their motto—'Lest We Forget.'

War Mothers Promote Patriotism; 'Lest We Forget' Is Group's Motto

The Twin Falls chapter of American War Mothers was created in 1918 to develop and maintain a spirit that promoted world service and to assist in patriotic work.

In 1929, an act of Congress incorporated the War Mothers. The affiliation applied to all the local organizations, making the Twin Falls chapter part of the national organization.

The various purposes of the group include the assistance of men and women who were wounded, or incapacitated in the world wars, the promoting of friendship and understanding between America and its allies and the maintenance of friendship among all branches of the armed forces.

All women who have a son or daughter in the armed forces are eligible for membership. There were 15 charter members and the group has now grown to 45.

The motto of the club is "Lest We Forget," and all club programs are centered around this motto.

Each project of the chapter includes sending $50 to the Veterans Hospital in Boise for Christmas presents for the veterans, the establishment of a flower fund to provide flowers for Veterans Hospital patients, the donation of $25 to provide birthday anniversary cakes for Veterans Hospital patients and a donation of $20 to the Veterans Home in Boise.

Other projects were the setting up of a gift table on Mother's Day for the mothers of Veterans Hospital patients, donations to the Veterans Hospital Chapel fund and the maintenance of the Magic Valley Memorial Veterans Monument.

The funds for all these various projects are raised by War Mothers—sponsored rummage and coked food sales, benefit card parties, and carnation sales. The monthly Penny March, where members contribute all their pennies at the end of meetings, is another fund raising project.

This year's carnation sale netted more than $235, and the entire sum was donated to veterans organizations. The 45 members of the Twin Falls chapter meet the second Friday of each month in the American Legion Hall. Officers are Mrs. William Armga, president; Mrs. Lora Dawson, first vice president; Mrs. Ruth Lindeman, second vice president; any number of very nice letters from some of the boys' mothers.

Another War Mothers tribute to veterans is the Twin Falls Cemetery flag service that is presented each year by the group.

Special activities of the group include a Thanksgiving dinner, a Christmas party and gift exchange and an August picnic. Gold and Silver Star Mothers Tea is held in May. A Gold Star mother is one whose son or daughter was killed in combat, and Silver Star mothers have children who have received the Purple Heart.

The War Mothers attend, in a body, all funerals of their members, in honor of the deceased Mother they each lay a white carnation, the club flower, on Mrs. Anna LeClair, recording secretary; Mrs. Rose Sinclair, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Emma Stone, treasurer; Mrs. Nettie Mullen, chaplain; Mrs. Louise Julian, pianist; and Mrs. Grace Samples, sergeant-at-arms.

Mrs. Sinclair expressed another function of the War Mothers when she said, "The Commander of the veterans organization suggests some luxury the men need and we try to provide it."

Luxuries that have been donated in the past have been cribbage tables, razors, lawn furniture and hots. The club has also provided the air conditioning for the Veterans Chapel in their air plant in the rose garden at the Magic Valley Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Sinclair commented that the hospital work has been "very rewarding—we've gotten

Club's Aim Reflects Age Unity

A fashion show, card parties and a doctor's lecture on types of cancer common in women between 18 and 30 are a few of the activities of the single Valley Young Wives.

This club was originally a part of the Creative Y Wives, a YWCA group. It was formed in 1961 as a solution to the lack of unity in the Y Wives caused by age differences.

The Young Wives now has 20 members, ranging in age from 18 to 28. Its current president, Mrs. Billie Scott, notes that while the club was originally formed for young marrieds, not all of its current members are now married.

"The club is primarily social," she says, "and the friendships formed within the club often continue after the member is widowed or divorced."

One of the non-social functions of the club is volunteer work at the YWCA-YMCA Building. Each member devotes one night a month as an assistant with children's parties, teaching a class if she is qualified or in some other capacity.

The club also annually holds a birthday anniversary party, which is similar to their Christmas exchange party. A party for the children of the members is another annual event.

Current officers are Mrs. Scott, president; Mrs. Jean More, secretary-reporter; Mrs. Darlene Kirsch, treasurer; Mrs. Shirley Pope, calling chairman, and Mrs. Kathy Howard, program chairman.

Membership in the club is by invitation only. Prospective members are invited to an installation tea held each May, and they join at that time.

Housewives Learn From Home Group

The lights are out. The telephone is dead. You think she's bleeding, but you can't move her because her neck may be broken. You can't get a doctor for at least two hours. What to do?

If you had been a member of the Twin Falls Homebuilders Club, you would know — members of the group have just finished an extensive study program dealing with medical self-help.

This program, recently available to all member groups of the County Extension Homemakers Club Council, prepares participants to meet the medical emergencies of a national catastrophe, such as flood, earthquake or war.

Mrs. E. R. Basom presented the study program, which concentrated primarily on what to do when a doctor will not be available for at least two hours.

A neighborhood unit formed to help housewives, the Homebuilders Club was organized by 12 charter members in 1947. Mrs. Harmon Bowers, now of California, was the first president.

Cooking, home decoration and yard beautification are a few of the areas that club members study.

Current officers are Mrs. Julian Johnson, president; Mrs. Eugene Champlin, vice president; and Mrs. Robert Wilson, secretary-treasurer. There are 12 members.

In the past, the club has helped with muscular dystrophy, cancer and other drives. Current community projects include donations to the International Peace Garden on the Canadian-American border.

A family picnic is usually held during the summer and a fall picnic for members is held in December. The club also participates in the extension council's Christmas Idea Exchange.

Past programs have included lessons on: flower arrangement, casserole cooking, fish roasting and laundering tips. Members have also been involved in home demonstration workshops on tailoring, upholstery and first aid.

Fellowship and education are the group's aims.

Relicta Club Is for Widows

WENDELL — The Relicta Club, organized in January, 1960, is one of the newer clubs of the area. Only Methodist widows are eligible for membership in this group.

The object of the club is purely social, as the youngest member of the group is past 64 and the oldest past 90.

Meetings are held the third Friday of each month and very often this meeting is the extent of the social life of the members. The group meets at the homes of the members with meat and drink provided by the hostess, and others providing covered dishes.

During the summer months, meetings are held at the city

Hailey Unit Marks 35th Anniversary

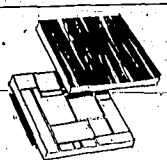

HAILEY — The American Legion Auxiliary of Blaine County Post No. 24 celebrated its 35th anniversary last January.

Each year members help prepare and serve the Legion's anniversary and a membership dinner in the fall. They assist with the Legion Luncheon, a show which was started when World War I veterans returned home from the service and has become an annual event.

For several years members assisted with the July 4 parade. They sell poppies the Saturday before Memorial Day and for

Mathematical Theorem Is Foundation Of Twin Falls United Church Women

It's a simple question of mathematics for the United Church Women: If a few people can do a little toward the alleviation of world poverty and the promotion of world peace, then more people can do a lot.

"We can't emphasize enough the importance of United Church action for the betterment of our community, state and nation," commented Mrs. James Sharkey, president, Mrs. James Sharkey.

Every woman who is a member of a church-sponsored women's club is automatically a member of United Church Women. Special representatives from each of the nine participating churches work with the officers and committee chairman of the group to determine the various projects and programs of the United Church Women.

The participating churches, and their representatives, are: First Baptist Church, Mrs. Emma Seafon; Church of the Brethren, Mrs. Lincoln Kestner; First Christian Church, Mrs. Gerald Turner; Valley Christian Church, Mrs. Chas. Sawyer; and Episcopal Church of the Ascension, Mrs. John Hayes. Others are: First Methodist Church, Mrs. Helen Dugan; Presbyterian Church, Mrs. Pearl Bracken; and Elmore Christian; Nazarene Church, Mrs. Glenn Roemer; and the Salvation Army, Mrs. George Driver.

The group is united in a program of fellowship, worship, study, action and giving for the bringing about of a world Christian community. "We, the church women working together we discover the unity of Christ's Church," said Mrs. Sharkey.

Other project leaders are Mrs. Sharkey, president; Mrs. Fred Moore, vice president; Mrs. Paul Hostetler Jr., secretary; and Mrs. Orie Hall, treasurer. Committee chairmen are Mrs. Warren Howell, Christian world affairs; Mrs. Dolores Schroeder, Christian social relations; Mrs. Janice Barton, Christian social relations; Mrs. W. H. Hatcher, "The Church Woman" magazine; Mrs. Bert Larson, Myrtle Anderson; and Mrs. Clyde Hain, finance. Mrs. Lilian Kestner, courtesy, and Marlon Turner, resolutions.

The formal purpose of the organization is to "unite church women in their allegiance to their Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ, through a program of brotherly love and the world's common life and work of the church and to the building of a world Christian community," according to Mrs. Sharkey.

The local group cooperates with representatives of 22 national denominational women's organizations, 51 state councils, 2,300 local councils, and nine Twin Falls churches in an effort to achieve this goal.

The unofficial highlights of the programs of the United Church Women are three special days of worship and dedication. The public is invited to participate in the observance of these days—the World Day of Prayer, May Fellowship Day and World Community Day.

The world Day of Prayer is held the first Friday in Lent. Its purpose is to unite all Christians around the world, regardless of denominational affiliations in a bond of prayer. Services are currently held in 145 countries.

The Fellowship Day, held the first Friday in May, provides the focal point in the year round program of study and action in Christian social relations. Members of the group collected clothing for overseas needs and made plans to join with the Migrant Ministry in its efforts to offer assistance to local migrant workers.

World Community Day features an informal sewing party. Members of the group sew and gather material for medical school or sewing kits to be sent to overseas missions. Held the first Friday in November, this day highlights a special emphasis on the club's Christian world relations program. Promoting a understanding of world problems is the primary function of the special observance, combining study of a particular question with related action.

Other projects of the unit include sponsorship of the collection of used clothing and the preparation of jobs, sewing and school supply kits for overseas missions.

Another project consisted of joining forces with the Migrant Ministry for work at the Twin Falls Labor Camp in an effort to improve the migrant's way of life," according to Mrs. Sharkey. Members of the group volunteered for service at the labor camp's day nursery as well as at the sewing room. Club members also enlisted the help of other church members in the collection of material sewing notions and used clothing to be used in the sewing room.

A welfare program for the purpose of providing medical aid to needy families is also maintained by the group. Another project is the collection of stuffed toys for the Well Child Clinic.

Still another effort of the United Church Women is the collection of unusual stains for the Powdered Milk Program, which provides milk for needy children overseas.

Other projects include a Christmas card and calendar sale to replenish the club's welfare budget, the promotion of UNICEF "bribe-or-treaters" and support of the Mental Health Council.

"This year, our main aim is to discover the nature and extent of poverty in this world and in our own community and strike out to eliminate it," noted Mrs. Sharkey in connection with the group's emphasis on welfare programs.

The sponsorship of well-known speakers for the program of United Church Women's "special days" is another club activity. Mrs. Dorothy Chapman, whose topic concerned the Alliance For Progress with the emphasis on Ecuador, spoke at the World Community day.

The speaker for the World Day of Prayer was Rev. Elby Boosinger of Indianapolis, Ind. Rev. Boosinger's topic was "You Are My Witnesses." May Fellowship Day featured Rev. B. F. Waas, Twin Falls, whose topic concerned the theme of the day: "People, Poverty, Plenty, Discover, Plan, Act."

Rev. Waas spoke with special emphasis on "Action against Poverty" and the need for concerned individuals to develop strategies for improving the economic order.

The purpose of the three special days, according to Mrs. Sharkey, is "to inspire us and give us strength for united action toward world peace and the elimination of poverty, and the betterment of our community."

Twin Falls was the site of the state United Church Women convention last February, with the local unit acting as hostesses. During the course of the convention, the local group adopted three resolutions that were recommended by the state officers.

The resolutions concerned the support of local community groups' efforts to rid neighborhoods of pernicious material which would be available to youth; calling upon state legislators to strengthen laws pertaining to the sale of beer to minors, and calling for strict enforcement of the existing state law that cigarette vending machines should not be accessible to minors.

National executive officers of the United Church Women who presided during the convention included Mrs. Ben Willis, Ames, Iowa, and Mrs. James Clapp, Rapid City, Iowa.

Meaning Given for Kasota

JEROME—The Kasota Sagehen Club is one of the newer groups in Jerome County. It was organized July 15, 1958, with the help of the late Mrs. Agnes Hurs.

"Kasota" is an Indian term meaning cleared land, and the district is named from the fact that only 10,000 short years ago, the area was nothing but sagebrush.

Its programs are well planned to include homemaking helps, family living, health, safety and entertainment. The group has toured businesses and industries of interest throughout Magic Valley, and schedules programs by the county health nurse, dentists, medical doctors, optometrists, ministers and other professional persons.

In addition, at least one program a year is presented by the county home extension agent.

Besides supporting community drives for the Red Cross, Cancer Fund, and March of Dimes, club projects have included support for the 4-H camp building fund and scholarships for the camp and the 4-H Congress. Members have donated time for a hair-care project in the geriatrics ward of St. Benedict's Hospital, the Jay-C-Ettes Hosunderprivileged girls are other activities of the club.

The United Church Women, organized in 1925, now encompasses more than 1,000 Twin Falls women. And they seem to be helping up to that old adage: "If a few can do a little, more can do a lot."

plans for the project, the school carnival and a community project to install road markers and name signs.

To support some of these undertakings, a family picnic has been raised by means of silent auctions, a traveling basket and serving at farm sales.

Since members subscribe to the theory that all work and no play makes dull Jills, they plan an annual husbands' party for February, a family picnic in July and a Christmas party and gift exchange.

Television Ignored by Local Unit

Unbelievable as it may seem, reliable sources are said to contend that television has not at all ways been the national pastime. At one time, it is rumored, people entertained themselves by attending sewing bees, popcorn parties, visiting neighbors to just sit around and talk—and going to "hoochies."

The lack of television is also said to have prompted the organization of many different women's clubs. The Twin Falls Morningside Club, according to our reliable sources, is one such club.

On March 14, 1914, Mrs. L. C. Snyder organized the club because she reportedly thought neighbors ought to get together for social or sewing. "Up and Doing" was chosen as the group's motto.

During the two world wars, club members knitted, rolled bandages and sewed quilts for the Red Cross. The group made slippers for soldiers and layettes for babies. All members also learned to shoot a gun.

And nary a boob tube was in sight.

Once the club raised money to help pay the hospital bill of a member's daughter. This activity came under the heading of "neighborliness." At this time, it is reported, all residents of a certain neighborhood called each other by their first names and considered it a pleasure to lend assistance to others if possible.

The club has canned fruit for the Boise Children's Home and has donated to polo, Red Cross and other drives.

The unit has provided articles for an Idaho Youth Ranch booth at a community bazaar. Home sewn pillows have also been sent to the Ranch.

This year's current project is quilt-making. The group devotes most of its meetings to the sewing of quilts, one of which will be given to each member.

And nary a boob tube is in sight.

Membership is 18. Officers are Mrs. Fred McWilliams, president; Mrs. H. O. Widenor, vice president, and Mrs. Eugene Federico, secretary-treasurer.

Outside speakers occasionally provide interesting programs for the club. One such speaker last year was a representative from the Idaho Power Company. He showed films concerned with potato and beet raising. Another film featured the dams that produce Idaho power.

Family dinners, picnics, parties and potlucks are the group's social events. Food, fun and conversation are the highlights of these functions, with nary a boob tube in sight.

Updating Needed

From that first stolen session with your mother's lipstick and eyebrow pencil to the hour you spend on your face for that really gala dance, makeup has been an integral part of your life.

You wouldn't think of wearing a mid-calf-length skirt and racoon coat to work—nor should you feel secure with that traditional compact and comb.

The modern woman has an arsenal of cosmetics at her disposal. It's up to you to pick and choose. But keep up to date. A rice-powdered face is as obsolete as white lipstick, and if you're still using the tatter cosmetic, it's time for a revamp!

Mothers in Jerome Form Club

JEROME — The Domestic Arts Club was formed in 1963 to meet the needs of several young mothers of small children, who had found it difficult to attend daytime club meetings. Their club motto for the first three years of their existence was "Few Words, Many Deeds," which many members felt should have been reversed!

Consequently, the motto was changed, in 1966, to "Learn to do by Doing."

Since the club is still relatively small, having grown from three charter members to a present enrollment of 12, and still fairly new, they have not attempted any great deeds of community service or exciting projects. Instead, they have concentrated their efforts on improving themselves as wives, mothers and homemakers.

They participate in the Jerome County Extension Council, which they feel enriches their lives in many ways.

Not only by its practical lessons and demonstrations in various aspects of homemaking, but by extending their scope of interest and knowledge of national and world situations and recognition of individual responsibility in the changing world of today.

The desire to improve themselves as homemakers, which they feel is the most important aspect of a woman's life, showed ample results at the recent Jerome County Fair, at which they won first place for their display booth in the Women's section.

Current president is Mrs. Russell McEwen.

New Women's Unit Uses Non-Sectarian Approach

A club so new that one can almost smell the varnish on the chairman's gavel is the non-sectarian Christian Women's Club.

Organized in 1955 by two representatives from the national association of Christian Women's Clubs — Margaret Christensen and Anita Swason of Bremerton, Wash. — from 90 to 100 women, now attend the group's meetings.

The club is unique in that no dues are charged, no membership lists are maintained and those who attend the meetings are under no obligation to return.

Officers are Mrs. Clyde Koonitz, chairman; Mrs. Jerry King, vice chairman; Mrs. Heidi Deagle, secretary; Mrs. L. W. Christopherson, treasurer, and Mrs. D. R. Rosenbaum and Mrs. Eugene Griff, advisors.

The group's meetings are planned to combine the secular with the spiritual. The meetings usually feature a speaker of national reputation, a program which spotlights such events as a hat show or fashion parade and an installation of a new member, a layman who shares with the audience his experiences as a Christian.

The meetings are held once a month and are preceded by a luncheon.

Mimi-Jane Johnston, a national representative from the Rhineclander, Wis., paid a visit to the Twin Falls club last July. At that time, she described the CWC as "An outreach to those American women who are really uninformed about the Christian way of life."

Johnston is sponsored by the national organization, and her duties entail opening new CWC's all over the nation. During the last eight months, she and her assistant, Judy Lawrence of Los Angeles, Calif., have organized more than 40 clubs.

There are more than 470 Christian Women's Clubs in the United States.

Activities of the group include the sponsorship of the national organization's "Village Missions." This program provides Christian leadership in the small towns and villages of the United States that do not have any sort of formal religious training establishments.

The "Village Missionaries" open closed churches or build new ones if the community has no church at all.

The national organization was established in Oregon in 1939. Its purpose is to unite American women with Christian fellowship and the Christian way of life.

Mrs. Koonitz puts it this way: "Today's woman leads a life of bewildering complexity. Her role in society is very important—she must be civic-minded, keep her home spotless, raise charming and intelligent children and be a good companion to her husband, and still look like a model."

"Yet so many women haven't been introduced to the spiritual part of life. They try to do it on their own, and this is where the CWC comes in."

The CWC programs are designed to contain at least one feature of interest to women in their roles as homemakers. Tips on gardening, cooking or house-keeping are presented by experts in these fields, fashion and hat shows appeal to a woman's fashion-sense.

Finally, a lay speaker who shares with the audience what Christ has meant in his life offers the group "an introduction to the spiritual life," according to Mrs. Koonitz.

Lodge Is Oldest in Wendell

WENDELL — The oldest fraternal woman's organization in the Wendell area is Idaho Rebekah lodge No. 68 which was instituted May 5, 1810.

Purpose of this organization remains the same through the years; which is to visit and care for the sick and to relieve the distressed. Members are pledged to assist in any way when members are in trouble, ill or in want.

The lodge membership at the present time is 74, with 61 resident members and 13 non-resident.

A 100 per cent paid up membership in the World Eye-Bank and visual research foundation is maintained by the lodge, by each member contributing a dollar.

This foundation is entirely maintained by the Independent Order of Odd Fellows and Rebekah lodges throughout the world, and is used for cornea transplants, the cornea being willed or donated to the bank upon the death of the donor.

Projects include "Amen Food train for the Odd Fellows Home at Caldwell, donation to assist purchase of new laundry equipment for the IOOF home; funds to make the organizational fund for the Pasadena Rose parade, Girls' State, mental health, Red Cross and Children's home.

the lodge and members contribute a penny for each year of their age. The money is used to purchase special gifts or give special relief—that is not provided for from the regular funds.

The decoration of chivalry was conferred for Mrs. Raymond Lancaster at the Rebekah Assembly held last fall in Caldwell. The decoration is the highest honor the lodge can bestow upon one of its members for their efforts and cooperation in carrying out the objectives and purposes of the organization.

Filer Club Aims to Sow Beauty

FILER — The Filer Garden Club states its aims are to "sow beauty, cultivate friendship and reap happiness."

Its green and white yearbook holds on its first page this poem: "The kiss of the sun for pardon, The kiss of the birds for mirth."

One is nearer God's heart in a garden.

Then anywhere else on earth, Mrs. J. M. Jamerson is president; Mrs. Winnifred LaHue, vice president; Mrs. Frank Sikes, secretary, and Mrs. E. A. Beem, treasurer. Mrs. Irene Bloom has charge of the scrapbook.

The club meets the third Wednesday of each month. Summer meetings are given to planning for the three booths at the Twin Falls County Fair which the group enters each year and for which it has often won prizes.

The committees for the booths were the same the last two years. Ruth McDonough was chairman of the artistic flower exhibit, assisted by Mrs. Frank Sikes, Mrs. Reuben Lierman and Mrs. Beem.

Mrs. LaHue was cultural booth chairman and her committee included Mrs. Della Coates, Mrs. Jamerson and Mrs. Haug. Mrs. Blanche Brumet, assisted by Mrs. Edward Reicherter and Mrs. Carrie Armes, headed the kitchen and pantry department exhibit.

The club meets summer and winter at member's homes. Programs relate to gardening and flowers but may include flower arrangements, care of house plants, special holiday ideas and games and contests dealing with gardening.

A club picnic was held during the summer and several garden tours were special events of the year.

Home Club Provides Interest

HANSEN — The Home Improvement Club was organized to meet the needs and interests of the younger matron and provide opportunity to sociate with women of her own age.

Many newcomers of the community and surrounding area have had a much better opportunity to become better acquainted through this club's activities.

The first meeting was held March 11, 1958, at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Daw. The first officers were J. W. Walker, vice president; Mrs. Scott McGibber, secretary; and Mrs. Arthur Bally, treasurer.

At first the age limit was set at 30, but even young matrons at the age limit was soon lifted! They meet in the evenings the second Tuesday night in the home economics room at the schoolhouse. This enables husbands to be built-in babysitters. One of the first projects for the club was making drapes for the hot lunch room. A light navy blue woolen serge material, was furnished by school officials through government channels, but the women mistreated, cut and tewed them. It was not such an easy job, as the windows are large, wide and tall, and there are several of them.

It is not a money-making group, so they try to contribute to just one project each year. In this way they have contributed to the Easter Seal drive, heart fund, cancer; Kimberly light fund and others. Last fall they contributed to the Hansen school teachers fund.

In appreciation for the use of the home economics room, each year they purchase a gift and present it to the teacher to be used in the room.

Their programs are based on interests in beautifying their homes or themselves, quite often with demonstrations given by guest speakers or talented members on such subjects as interior decorating, wigs and makeup, exercise, handpicking and floral arrangements.

A gift is presented to each new mother of the club. For social activities they have an annual Christmas party and gift exchange, and in the summer a bowling party.

Mrs. Gary Luech is the president; Mrs. Bryan Harris Jr., vice president; Mrs. Glenn Buscher, secretary, and Mrs. Thomas A. Proctor, treasurer. They have a maximum membership of 30 members.

Unit Is Formed During 'Dust, Sagebrush' Days

The "Dust and sagebrush" days, a descriptive phrase which is still applicable in some parts of Magic Valley, is commonly used to connote the early period of the area's history.

These were the days when television was unheard of and telephones were to be talked about not on. These were the days that gave rise to such women's clubs as the Salmon Tract Homemakers Club.

The Salmon Tract is an area that is south of the Highline Canal.

The first home demonstration club as such, the group was founded by 14 members March 17, 1933. Officers were Mrs. Casper Nygard, president; Mrs. J. E. Fohlman, vice president; and Mrs. Adolphus E. Kunkel, secretary.

Mrs. Marlin Knudsen is the only charter member still active in the unit.

The group meets monthly, and programs are devoted to lessons or demonstrations on topics of interest to the homemaker.

Total membership the first year grew to 39. Because most homes in the area were too small to accommodate all members in the winter, a small hotel in Hollister offered the club the use of the hotel on the hotel's second floor. The hall has a large pot-bellied stove that burns anything, including sagebrush.

The purpose of the group, according to its by-laws, is "to bring new ideas and help to homemaking problems to the homemakers and provide social outlets for members and guests."

Examples of the club's programs include 74 demonstrations on yard beautification and a lesson on pastry making.

An educational program was presented by Robert M. McIntire, who discussed the issue of a new grade school for Ellier.

A new project of the group, instituted this year, is entrance in the Sharp Achievement Award competition. The award is named for Mrs. Harry Sharp, past president of the Homemakers Club Council.

The Sharp Award is given to the outstanding home demonstration club scrapbook for the year.

Membership in the unit, which now stands at 24, is open to all residents of the Salmon tract. Officers are Mrs. Ora Jones, president; Mrs. Gary Nelson, vice president; Mrs. Howard Mills, secretary; Mrs. Pete Thornton, treasurer; Mrs. Ora Jones, project leader, and Mrs. William J. Laning, assistant project leader.

Committee chairmen include Mrs. Fred Montgomery, flowers; Mrs. Gary Nelson, reporter to newspapers; Mrs. Ralph Ward, reporter to radio and television; and Mrs. Dick Noh, scrapbooks.

Current projects of the group now include donations to such charitable organizations as the Easter Seal Clinic, Red Cross, Cancer Fund, Heart Fund and CARE.

In May an auction was held and proceeds of approximately $33 were donated to the Inez Loughmiller Memorial Fund for the 4-4 Camp.

The group also sponsored the cancer drive on the Salmon Tract, with Mrs. C. J. Boss as chairman. Working on the drive were Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Neal Pastoor, Mrs. Noh, Mrs. Eldred Taylor, Mrs. Ellis Fuller, Mrs. Lorain Eakin, Mrs. Doris McIntyre, Mrs. Leslie Jones and Mrs. Thornton. A total of $299.50 was collected.

Social activities include an August guest day, with salads, guests and feather flowers stealing the spotlight. A Christmas party, with a gift exchange and pinocle party, was also held.

A swimming party and potluck dinner was held July 23 at Nat-Soo-Pah.

The "57's Desert Dozen," Paul, was named outstanding club of the year. Mrs. Roger Vincent, Filer, Mrs. Idaho 1955, was speaker for the luncheon.

Extension Homemaking clubs are nation wide and come under the Land Grant Act. Each year the Minidoka County council holds a pre-determined number of council meetings, and attends district conventions as well as state and national conventions.

Committee chairmen also are named for local clubs as well as state and national. Each committee has its own goals and from these goals a worthwhile project is selected for the year.

Safety was chosen as the 1966 project for the county clubs and each club is working on projects within its own district and community which will improve safety conditions. This includes working with county highway districts to get culverts moved or marked, marking roads and crosswalks, improving danger areas with signs or markings and warning lights for railroad crossings.

Service Is Byword for Burley Lutheran Women

BURLEY—Service is the byword for the Lutheran Women's Missionary League and the members are especially happy when that service can be in the field of missions.

The open Bible resting upon the cross is their emblem, and the motto is, "Serve the Lord with gladness." Purple and gold are the League colors.

Officers of the Burley chapter are Kathryn Tollefson, president; Clara Tjaden, vice president; Pauline Redder, secretary; Mae Regstad, treasurer. Six charter members who are Mrs. Kate Hagberg, Mrs. Oleina Studer, Mrs. Annette Matson, Mrs. Lena Rapp, Mrs. Mae Doman and Mrs. Flora Robinson.

Each business meeting of the group includes some type of Bible study. While the entire congregation participates in most major projects, it is generally the W.M.L. which takes charge of schedules and telephoning for Vacation Bible School, cleaning days, receptions and charitable drives.

Besides monthly meetings of the entire group, smaller divisions known as circles and working on the cell principle, meet each month (generally in the homes) for more intensive study on topics more specifically relating to members' interests.

There are four circles, the first of which is the Lois Circle meeting the last Thursday of each month at 7 p.m. with Martina Koch, chairman. Their topic of study is the Home and Family.

Meeting the first Thursday evening of each month, the Priscilla Circle deals in the study of stewardship. Kathryn Tollefson is the chairman.

The Anna Circle meets the first Monday of each month with Evelyn Biernann, chairman. Altar is their topic of study.

The Lydia Circle deals with missions. The chairman is Clara Tjaden and they meet the first Wednesday of each month.

These smaller groups reach out to new members in the congregation or in the community and give them the opportunity to get acquainted with a smaller number of people at a time in a home setting, and then one of the circle members offers to bring the newcomer to the larger meeting.

Circle members take care of the altar, the flowers, give baby spoons for new parents, handle Christian periodicals in the congregation, and publicity for the church schools.

The League has sponsored a growing congregational library, provided drapes, tables, a phonograph, silver service, and many other items for the congregation. It supports the Bundles For Burley program and maintains a local scholarship fund.

Members collect postage stamps of value for a mission fund, and various types of saving stamps and coupons for synodical institutions and for additional equipment for the local congregation.

The Zion Lutheran League places "Portals of Prayer" in local hospitals and nursing homes and provides additional copies for members of the congregation and for distribution on mission calls, hosts pastoral conferences and rallies of the church which come to Burley, sponsors a graduate recognition dinner, takes charge of memorials for the church, provides corsages for confirmands, and makes mission calls.

Members also attend zone, district and national conventions, and Christian Growth Workshops as they are able. The Lutheran Women's Missionary League is no organization for those who are looking for a "free ride," officers note, but it provides opportunity for growth in Christian knowledge and for service in the kingdom of God.

Affiliate of First T.F. Fraternal Unit Offers Social Contacts for Members

The new community of Twin Falls was a little rough, and very isolated. Telephones were few, and television was a dream. It was a lonely place.

But after March 14, 1906, the place wasn't quite so lonely. Mrs. the 46 women who joined the Primrose Rebekah Lodge No. 76. The lodge is affiliated with the Odd Fellows of America, the first fraternal association in Twin Falls. The lodge soon became a part of the social structure of the young community.

Purposes of the group were, and are, essentially humane: to visit the sick, relieve the distressed, bury the dead, educate the orphan and provide social contacts for the lonely.

The Odd Fellows had been in need of an auxiliary to aid in their work and participate in their social activities. Mrs. Minnie Priest Danton, past president of the Rebekah state assembly, organized the auxiliary.

The group has 21 officers, and a membership of 46. The group number of officers wasn't accidental. — It was planned that way to give more members a change to try their hand at leadership.

Current officers are Mrs. H. O. Widener, noble grand; Mrs. Margaret Barth, vice grand; Mrs. William Conterly, past noble grand; Mrs. Berneice Lambert, chaplain; Mrs. Clarence W. Lutz, recording secretary; Mrs. Wilfred Benedict, financial secretary; Mrs. William Boyd, treasurer; and Mrs. Laurel Howard, color bearer.

Warden is Mrs. W. A. Dill; Mrs. Frank Eastman is the conductor; other officers are Mrs. Carl Ridgeway, musician; Mrs. H. O. Diegel, outside guard; Mrs. Geneva Duff, inside guard; Mrs. Delia Bowman, outside support to noble grand, and Mrs. Alice Shiffer, left support to noble grand.

grand are Mrs. Georgia Martin and Mrs. Raymond Paddy; supports for past noble grand are Mrs. Mary Stearns and Mrs. Lillian Harmon, and supports for chaplain are Mrs. W. A. Dill and Mrs. Edgar Wilson.

One of the biggest activities of the lodge is visiting ill or shut in members, and taking bouquets and get-well cards to them.

By far the most important projects of the group are donations to the Odd Fellows Home in Caldwell. The Rebekahs assisted in the actual completion of the building, and continued aid has been a project for many years.

Contributions of food, money and volunteer service are applications of this project. In addition, the lodge annually "adopts" a resident of the home, sending him, or her, Christmas and birthday anniversary gifts.

New laundry facilities for the home were furnished by the Rebekahs last year. Funds for this contribution were raised in conjunction with the Eljer and Buhl lodges. The three groups sponsored a dinner party.

Another fund raising activity of the unit is the annual Harvest Festival, which is open to the public.

Rebekahs donate annually to educational funds, which lend money to worthy students. In addition, members have contributed to the cancer drive, Red Cross, Salvation Army, blood bank, flood relief, March of Dimes, world eye bank, Visual Research Foundation, food baskets for needy families at Christmas and the Bolse Children's Home.

A Funeral Aid Association with voluntary membership provides for the burial of Rebekah members. The organization also has wheel chairs to lend to the disabled.

Another project of the unit is the sponsorship of a bowling team.

Social activities include a hamburger and corn feed with the Odd Fellows in September.

The Rebekahs worked with the Odd Fellows to install new chairs in the Odd Fellows Hall. The girls bought, and the men installed.

Money making projects include bazars, dinners, run-

Toastmistresses Foster Ease of Communication

Wasn't it a man who once facetiously noted, in reference to ever — the fence post — changes, that a typical woman was a natural expert in the art of communication?

All true — blooded American women will naturally object to the implications of this man's observation, and many will additionally note that ease of communication is taught, not inherited.

Toastmistress Clubs were designed to aid in the teaching of the art of communication. The development of easy techniques for expression of opinion is emphasized in many of the units' approaches to this purpose.

The Twin Falls Toastmistress Club follows such an approach.

At each meeting, at least three members are given a chance to develop their speaking abilities. The group is a typical one, composed of housewives, businesswomen and teachers, as varied a unit as one can hope to find.

Officers are Mrs. John Burkhardt, president; Mrs. Joseph Shew, vice president; Mrs. William Thiesen, secretary; Mrs. Leslie Jones, treasurer; Mrs. Frank Nielsen and Mrs. Carl G. Albert, council representatives; Mrs. LeRoy Arrington, education chairman; and Mrs. Richard Smith, publicity chairman.

The 18 members meet twice a month for breakfast at 9 a.m. at a local restaurant.

The group is governed by Council No. 7, which includes Burley, Jerome and the two Twin Falls Toastmistress Clubs. Last year, Mrs. Burkhardt won first place at the council speech contest with a humorous inspirational speech. She also won a runner-up in the Ogden Inter-Council contest.

Mrs. Burkhardt's first speech was entitled, "The World Is Mine," and the second was "Be A Somebody." All Toastmistress speech contestants are required to deliver a different speech for each contest they enter.

Prior to the speech contests, each contestant is shown three one-word topics and asked to prepare a speech on any one of them. The contestants are given one week to prepare their speeches. Examples of the one-word topics include such words as "truth," "luxury" and "falsehood."

Study topics and table subjects are featured at each meeting. The table topics involve the delivery of several one-minute mime sales, pie socials and cake an outstanding member of the unit is Mrs. Lillian Harmon, who has been a member of Rebekahs for 30 continuous years. Mrs. Harmon received a 3-year jewel last September.

impromptu speeches by members. Since a policy develops the ability of a woman to think quickly and encourages organization of thought.

The education chairman provides the study topics, which might include such areas as parliamentary procedure, the problems involved in speaking, introductions and gestures or study of diction. Lexicology has also been studied.

The late Mrs. Agnes Hurst, former Twin Falls county agent, once instructed the group in different methods of diction and gave tips on the avoidance of slurring and mumbling.

Outside evaluators are often invited to the club's meetings for a analysis of members' speeches.

Community projects, such as the Easter Seal Clinic, constitute an important part of the group's activities. Members often speak to other local clubs in promotion of the clinic and other Easter Seal projects. The baby-sitting service which was provided for a volunteer speech therapist at the clinic was one of the projects promoted by the group.

Organized in September, 1951, the Twin Falls Toastmistress Club has 12 charter members. First officers elected were Mrs. Hugh O. Boone, president; Mrs. Graydon Smith, vice president; Mrs. Harry Cohen, secretary, and Mrs. Stanley Phillips, treasurer.

Rebekah Club Aids Fellowship

WENDELL — The Rebekah Club was organized in the early 1920's to aid the social betterment of Rebekah-Odd Fellowship.

Since the purchase of the building in 1953 for the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs, the club project has been improvement of the hall. During that time the club has assisted with the purchase of new regalia; purchased tables and 24 new chairs; electric water heater, electric stove, two gas heating units, and 100 place setting of dishes. The aim this year is to replace all the old wooden chairs with new ones.

Social events of the club include guest day luncheon with a program at the hall, an annual picnic, a Christmas potluck dinner with program and gift exchange. Mystery pals selected in January are revealed at the Christmas party, which is held at the home of a member.

Money raising projects include come as you are breakfasts; an annual bazaar and public dinner and selling quilts, quilted by the members. A booth was sponsored for the past two years at the Gooding county fair. Many dinners are catered for special events and for other organizations.

Meetings are held the third Wednesday afternoon of each month. The March, June, September and December meetings are called birthday parties, and all birthday anniversaries occurring in the preceding three months are observed.

Each of the 26 club members are assigned a special roll call topic and the roll call each meeting serves as the program. Mrs. J. C. Kendrick is presi-

"Be Glad" Is Wendell Club Motto

WENDELL — "Just Be Glad," was the motto chosen for the Pollyanna Club, more than 50 years ago, when a group of Orchard Valley women were inspired by a review of Eleanor H. Porter's play book "Pollyanna."

The name and motto has been followed through the busy years although the club has almost reverted to its first plan of being just a social club, as it was in 1913, when first organized. At that time the women needed to search for something about which to be glad, as they had been transplanted from homes in the eastern and central states to Idaho, the land of sagebrush. Being pioneers in Idaho was the "new look."

Being community minded, the club members became active in their area, southwest of Wendell and also for the Wendell community.

The carnation, club flower, red and white as colors, still remain the same as when the club was first organized. Members still work on fund drives for Red Cross, polio, cancer, and mental health. They help the Youth-Ranch-Girls-State and assist the Orchard Valley Grange in payments on their newly-acquired hall.

Members have made quilts for the patients at Magle Valley Manor, during the past year and now have a quilt in the making for their sewing project.

There has been a representative of the club in the Wendell Health Council since the organization of that group in 1942. Mrs. Paul Kearley represents the club in Gooding County Extension Homemakers Council, in which the club has been an active member.

The annual Father's Day picnic was held this year at Niagara Springs recreational area. Members have secret pals that are remembered on birthdays and anniversaries.

Meetings are held the first and third Thursdays from October through May.

Officers include Mrs. Fester Anderson, president; Mrs. Henry Barton, who has been active since 1916, vice president; Mrs. Kirby Hill, secretary, and Mrs. Ansel John, treasurer.

When moisture in the skin is low, so is the youthful look. When it becomes dry, that dewy freshness is gone.

To make your skin look young and radiant again, please use your skin with a good dry-skin cream or lotion.

Giving it an all-night beauty treatment will smooth tiny lines and wrinkles that can make you look a little less than young.

Voter Service Is Goal Of Burley Voter League

BURLEY — The League of Women Voters was introduced to Burley on Sept. 15, 1962, when 75 women met at the home of Mrs. Otis Williams.

Purpose, policies and history of the League were discussed by the then state president of the League of Women Voters of Idaho, Mrs. Erwin G. Sage, Nanjia, state organizational chairman, and Mrs. Richard High, Twin Falls, were advisers to the group during its provisional period. Mrs. Donald Ashcraft, Burley, was chairman during the organizational stage.

First officers of the group were Mrs. Brian Slope, president; Mrs. Kelly Powell, first vice president; Mrs. Frank Goodwin, second vice president; Mrs. Donald Ashcraft, secretary; and Mrs. J. H. Wood, treasurer. Directors were Mrs. Kelly Stoddard, Mrs. William Delph, Mrs. Forrest Hall, Mrs. Lee Scott, Mrs. Clifford Mullikin, Mrs. Fred Anderson and Mrs. Henry Oltmann.

Charter members still active in the organization are Mrs. Clifford Mullikin, Mrs. Kelly Stoddard, Mrs. J. H. Wood, Mrs. Forrest Hall, Mrs. Olin Baker, Mrs. Truman Bradley, Mrs. Calvin Helner, Mrs. Preston McNeely, Mrs. Farrell Williams, Mrs. Otis Williams and Mrs. Joy

Wake.

The League of Women Voters of Burley was awarded full League status in October, 1964. The next April they were hostesses for the biennial state convention of the League of Women Voters of Idaho.

The League's purpose is to promote informed and active participation by citizens in government. Its program is twofold, with study of selected issues by the members, and voter service for the community.

League members meet from September through May in unit or discussion groups to study or form opinions on governmental issues. During the summer the Burley League has a booth in the Cassia County Fair and gathers and distributes information about candidates and issues in the elections. All voters-service activities are non-partisan; the League never supports or opposes candidates or parties.

A candidates' meeting is held before the municipal and general elections to present the candidates to the public and allow citizens to ask questions of those running for public office.

The Burley League's first local study item, adopted in 1964 and readopted in 1965, was Planning and Zoning. The League has brought several speakers to Burley to discuss pertinent issues, including civil rights legislation, Idaho Constitutional Revision, planning and zoning in Idaho, and legislation under con-

Foundations Are Feminine Asset

The most essential part of any woman's makeup is a foundation. Many women avoid foundations and even consider themselves lucky if they "don't have to use" one. They are, indeed, lucky. But a foundation can only make a good complexion flawless.

The color and tone of one's complexion varies from one part of the face to another. The skin around the nose and chin is coarser than that on the cheeks and forehead. A woman who has gone through life without so much as one pimple is indeed a rarity. Most women have the tiny, minute scars that adolescent pimples leave as calling cards.

A foundation is designed to even up one's complexion, and fill in the tiny scars and imperfections that every woman falls heir to. It will not give the user a beautiful new face overnight. It will improve any complexion.

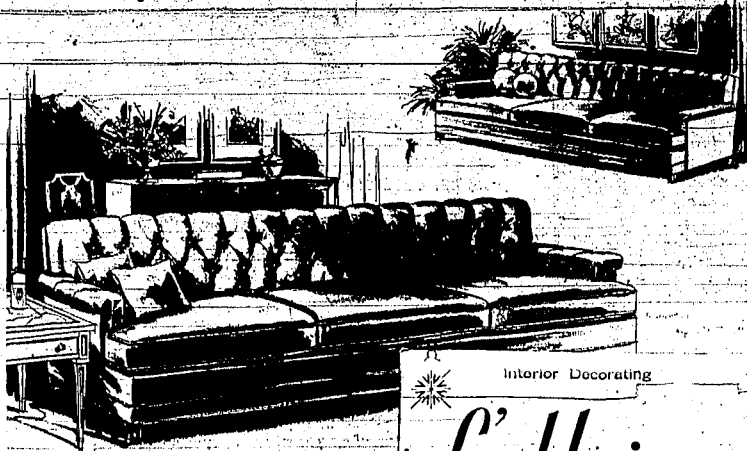

consideration during the last session of the Idaho legislature.

An annual finance drive is conducted which enables the community to support the League's efforts at stimulating participation of citizens in government. Any woman of voting age may join the League, and dues are purposely kept low so that any woman can afford to join.

Current officers are Mrs. George Quarterman, president; Mrs. Forrest Hall, vice president; Mrs. Rex Hamblin, secretary; Mrs. Calvin Helner, treasurer.

Directors are Mrs. Preston McNeely, Mrs. Vic Koke, Mrs. Jay Wake, Mrs. Farrell Williams, Mrs. Ormond Burch, Mrs. Gary Tawzer, Mrs. Donald Beckham, Mrs. Augusta Esquibel and Mrs. Truman Bradley.

Maroa Club Organized 54 Years

FILER—The Maroa Woman's Club, a neighborhood social group, is in its 54th year.

It was originally formed as a sewing club and met in the Maroa School but meetings are held now in the homes of members.

Mrs. Jacob Talk is president; Mrs. Raymond Howarth, vice president; Mrs. Ted Johnson, recording secretary; Mrs. Wayne McCandless, treasurer, and Mrs. Paul Hainline, corresponding secretary.

The club participates in many community activities. It donates to the Filer Library fund, the Rupert Youth Ranch, the Boise Children's Home and the American Legion Auxiliary Christmas fund. It gives money to the Red Cross and Cancer funds and members also canvas the area for contributions to the drives.

Maroa Club serves lunches at farm sales as a fund-raising project. A banquet for husbands is an annual social event and a family picnic is held during the summer. Members enter many exhibits in the Twin Falls County Fair.

"Our programs are designed to focus on something of interest to members," commented Mrs. Legman.

"Faith, Friendship" Theme of OES Chapter

"Faith and Friendship," this year's theme for the OES Chapter No. 82, Order of the Eastern Star, is also a capsule summation of the organization's aims and purposes.

The OES, a religious fraternal unit, is one of the most firmly established clubs in the U. S. Chapter No. 82, formed in Twin Falls in 1888, has a current membership of 154. Ray Slayter and Claude Gorden helped organize the 39 charter members.

Mrs. and Mrs. Floyd Mason were the clubs for the worthy patron and worthy matron. These positions are comparable to that of a presidency. This year's worthy patron and matron are Mr. and Mrs. Norman Webb.

Each worthy matron is responsible for designating the year's honor station, colors, emblem, motto, and club flowers. Mrs. Webb has chosen the organist as her honor station; pink and white as her colors; her motto is "Love One Another"; the Bible is her emblem, and the pink rose is her flower.

Mrs. Webb's motto was taken from John 15:12: "This is My commandment; that ye love one another as I have loved you."

An important part of the chapter's programs are devoted to charity. Donations to the Pusan Children's Home in Korea, the International Peace Garden in Salt Lake City, Utah, and to the Boise Children's Home are among the group's charitable projects. Financial aid to some fund for needy members is another aspect of the unit's charity program.

The national ESTARI program of awards for religious training also receives contributions from Chapter No. 82. An additional project, added this year, is aid to the Knights Templar, a fraternal organization.

Social activities of the group include a annual Friendship Night, a Big Sister Night honoring Chapter No. 29 and a Mason Night. The anniversary of the chapter is also celebrated.

In addition, the observances of Mother's Day, Father's Day, Flag Day and Memorial Day are held.

A special Christmas program, a party for all elective officers and a summer picnic are other social activities.

Educational programs, stressing the aims of the OES and a study of its by-laws, are included in Mrs. Webb's diagram for the year. Although most chapters follow the program schedules set forth by the state chapter, each worthy matron chooses her own special goal or project for the year. These educational programs are Mrs. Webb's project. The programs are concerned with an enlightenment of the functions of the OES.

Fund-raising activities include serving at banquets, holding rummage sales, sponsoring traveling basket and bridge and pinocle marathons. A Chinese auction is also held.

Officers, in addition to Mr. and Mrs. Webb, are Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ehrenman, associate patron and matron; Mrs. Donald Sonlus, conductress; Mrs. Robert Black, associate conductress; Mrs. Milton Ballard, secretary, and Mrs. Floyd Pollard, treasurer.

Others are Mrs. Richard Pence, marshal; Mrs. Leon Littlefield, organist; Mrs. Ron Cork, Adah; Mrs. Gerald Hamilton, Ruth; Mrs. Percy Gorden, Esther; Mrs. Marian Langdon, Martha, and Mrs. A. L. Gurley, Electra.

Milton Ballard is the warden, and Richard Pence is the sentinel.

Membership in the organization is limited to relatives of members of the Masons.

"Extras" Adorn Armory Because Of Unit's Efforts

Many of the feminine touches that adorn the National Guard Armory in Twin Falls can be traced to the "femmes" of the National Guard Auxiliary.

The trees, flowers and shrubs that surround the building were planted by the group. The installation of the rest room mirrors was another club project.

Primarily a social club, leaders of the 14 members are Mrs. Richard Legman, president, and Mrs. Larry McMillan, treasurer. The club's biggest activity of the year is the Military Ball for all National Guardsmen in Magic Valley. Other projects include an annual Christmas party and a summer picnic.

Members of the auxiliary assist the National Guard whenever possible, and serve at such functions as the National Guard Open House, A Home Show Booth also is sponsored.

Club meetings usually feature some sort of entertainment and a program dealing with a topic of interest to members. A fashion show, wig demonstration or

Bethany OES Chapter at Hailey Started in 1933

HAILEY—Bethany Chapter No. 23, Order of Eastern Star, was organized in the spring of 1933 after 22 persons had signed the application for a charter.

Mrs. Sarah Jane McFarlane was the first worthy matron and was the one who named the chapter. Henry Huggoff was the first worthy patron.

In June, 1935, the third annual session of the Grand Chapter of Idaho was held in the Hailey Masonic Temple.

In February, 1927, the temple was destroyed by fire and with it all the material possessions of the chapter. A duplicate charter was issued. Meetings were held in the Odd Fellows hall until 1937 when the Masons erected a new temple.

The Stars finished the dining room and kitchen and purchased two pianos, draperies for the entire building and chapter paraphernalia.

Mrs. Milton Schaefer, past worthy matron, served as grand matron of the grand lodge of Idaho. The late Mrs. Blanche E. Richmond also held this honor and the late C. Fred Howe was past grand patron.

On completion of her term as worthy matron of Bethany chapter, Mrs. Schaefer led a group in forming the ARKEMA Star Club. Through the efforts of this club, named for the five Star Points, much needed equipment has been obtained for the order.

Mrs. Frank Gelskey is president of the Past Matrons club. Among their activities is the hosting of banquets on visits from Worthy Grand Matrons. A Christmas party is their principal social event.

In 1937 Bethany Chapter promoted the organization of Hailey Bethel No. 30, International Order of Job's Daughters. The Chapter gave $200 towards initial expense and purchased materials and made officers robes.

One of the principal projects of the chapter is to fulfill their obligation to ESTAR, project of the grand chapter. At the present time project of the local chapter is to obtain new dishes for their kitchen.

Red Cross work, contributions to the Veterans Hospital at Boise and help with Polio drives are yearly projects of the Chapter.

Present officers of Bethany Chapter are Mrs. Don Ramsey, worthy matron; Paul Bragg, worthy patron; Mrs. Leonard Knight, associate matron; Theodore Broyles, associate patron; Mrs. Frank Gelskey, secretary; Mrs. Halbert Hatch, treasurer; Mrs. Elvin Brooks, conductress; Mrs. Theodore Trowbridge, associate conductress; Mrs. Viola Lawwell, chaplain; Mrs. Craig Rember, marshal; Mrs. Robert McKeeffer, organist; Star Points are Mrs. Margaret Perkins, Ada; Mrs. Broyles, Ruth; Mrs. Hilda Stevens, Esther; Thomas Egan, Elcin.

Mrs. James Songraves is warner and Mrs. Blanche Heath, sentinels. Mrs. Knight is Bethany Chapter chairman for ESTAR.

"Change" Is Theme for Baptist Mission Society

The Change in Women's Lives" has been the theme of the study programs of the Twin Falls Baptist Women's Mission Society during the past year. And one of the biggest changes in the lives of many homemakers has occurred in the education of their children.

In this connection, the society sponsored a panel dealing with the school's new approach to education. The panel also touched on the problems of schools for the mentally retarded children.

Mrs. Merritt Showell was one of the panel's outstanding speakers, and a local high school girl presented an interesting speech concerning what she expected from her education.

The primary concern of the five circles within the society is support of Baptist missionaries. The society also helps furnish church equipment, contributes to Cathedral Pines Camp for youth, aids at the migrant camp every summer and works on all United Church Women's projects.

During the past year, the group has filled a Viet Nam box with clothes and food; sent boxes of girl's dresses, scissors, buttons and thread; and stamp books to Doris and Dorothy Wiseman in the Congo, and contributed to a state scholarship fund.

The Wiseman girls are twins who are serving as missionaries in the Congo.

The First Baptist Church was built in Twin Falls in 1905 and the mission society developed afterward.

There are currently 90 members in the society. Officers are Mrs. Robert Brackett, president; Mrs. Dale Burrows, vice president in charge of interpretation; Mrs. P. W. Lively, vice president in charge of missions; Mrs. Ois Hall, vice president in charge of Christian service, and Mrs. Cervaase Kennedy, vice president in charge of leadership development.

Other officers are Mrs. Charles Wilson, recording secretary, and Mrs. George Cutler, treasurer.

Committee chairmen are Mrs. Merland Edwards, business and professional women; Mrs. Robert James, communication; Mrs. H. E. Holloway, special interest missionaries; Mrs. Jack Asher, White Cross; Mrs. Charles Sloan, Christian social relations; Mrs. Elmo Lightfoot, love gifts; Mrs. Robert Stevens, spiritual growth, and Mrs. Gordon Hayman, literature.

A special program for the group was presented in November by a missionary from the Boise Christian Center. He showed slides of the improvements in the world. The group donated Christmas gift packages for him to take back to the non-denominational welfare center.

Created to study missionaries and help them, the mission society also works with other Baptist church women's groups—the Amarna and the Marys Classes and the Quilting Club.

This year, a Leadership

MRS. ROBERT BRACKETT

Training Conference was conducted by the national president, Mrs. Alice Johnson, and the national convention chairman. The conference was attended by more than 95 women from all over the state.

The five circles within the society are the Suzanne-Powers, which is responsible for sending a native girl in India to school, the Iva Heniese, Latin America, Burma and Hong Kong. Each of these groups takes part in fulfilling the society's White Cross quota.

Another society project is the provision of Christmas gifts each year to five missionary families. A "love gift" used for missionary work is another project.

Purposes of the group include the uniting of all women into a fellowship that will help each woman grow and make a minimum contribution to the community.

Sharing Is Motto For Club

WENDELL—The Hobby club in the Orchard Valley area was started in March, 1954.

"Happy Hours of Sharing," was chosen as the motto. The rose is the club flower and green and white are the colors.

Meetings are conducted the first and third Fridays of each month at the civic club rooms of the city hall from October through May.

A demonstrator is elected from the club membership to make arrangements for the lessons to be demonstrated. She informs members the necessary materials to bring to the next meeting for the project.

Some of the demonstrations the past year include crushed glass pictures, fancy aprons, hats and numerous articles made with plastic. A booth was sponsored at the Gooding County Fair the past year and many blue ribbons were received. Donations are made annually to the Children's Home, Youth Ranch, Red Cross and other civic drives. All Christmas and special treats are taken to patients at Magic Valley Manor.

Mrs. Fred Kiser is president. Mrs. Myron Kuper, vice president; Mrs. Mason Moore, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Leonard Fleming, demonstrator.

VFW Auxiliary Projects Geared to "Americanism"

The various functions and projects of the Twin Falls Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary are each geared to the promotion of what the group's secretary, Mrs. R. A. Jackson, calls, "Americanism."

"Americanism," as much as anything else, and loyalty to the American flag and to the veterans of our foreign wars," was her comment concerning the aims of the auxiliary. Mrs. William Summers, the only charter member of the club still living, concurred with this statement. Mrs. Summers, who is 82, is still active in the group. Her husband, 88, served during the San Juan Hill Campaign with Theodore Roosevelt at the age 19.

The provision and maintenance of more than $3,000 worth of recuperative equipment at the Magic Valley Memorial Hospital is one of the auxiliary's most important projects. This equipment, including hospital beds, mattresses, crutches, wheelchairs, walkers, fracture frames and trapeze bars, is loaned to the public on a no-charge basis.

The equipment is for use in private homes by people who would not otherwise be able to procure it. Members of the unit sell magazine subscriptions to local businessmen, for use in their offices, to finance the project.

The provision of hospital equipment for loan on a no-charge basis to private citizens is one of the VFW's auxiliary policy for at least 10 years, according to Mrs. Jackson.

Other projects of the group include donations to the Veterans Hospital in Boise and also to the Boise Veterans Home. The unit has purchased card tables for the Veterans Home and also contributed financially to the home's annual Bingo Party.

Donations to the Children's Home at Grand Rapids, Mich.,

are also on the auxiliary's list of projects.

The magazine sales also help to finance such local endeavors as the furnishing of linen for people whose homes have burned and the supplying of needy veterans' families with clothing. Club projects are not restricted to aid to veterans, as evidenced by group contributions to the Cancer Aid and Research program. Each auxiliary member donates $1 to the program, 25 cents of which is reserved as her premium payment on a special cancer insurance policy which is available to club members. The policy pays $11 a day for 100 days on the hospital bill of a subscriber who has "cancer."

A special effort of the unit last year was directed toward the purchase of a hearing aid for a member's daughter. "If anyone comes to us that we feel is worthy of assistance we try to see that they get it," was Mrs. Jackson's comment in reference to the group's varied philanthropic activities.

The group's annual Poppy Sale for the VFW is another project. The poppies, which are made by veterans and sold to earn contributions to the National Home for Veterans of Foreign Wars, are sold in November.

Rummage sales also contribute to the group's treasury.

Officers are Mrs. Dave Visser, president; Mrs. Robert Messenger, senior vice president; Mrs. Addie Radakovich, junior vice president; Mrs. Jackson, secretary; Mrs. Calvin Neal, treasurer; Mrs. William

Burmah Club Aids Housewives

RICHFIELD—The Burmah Club is Richfield's principal club offering home demonstration extension services to its members.

This type of program is given by the University of Idaho extension representatives and the Idaho Power Co. extensionists. Other special services are extended the members through the club affiliation with the county council.

Making quilts as a fund raising project for worthy causes has brought the club much praise. The Richfield schools and Easter Seal campaigns have benefited from this type of club work.

Mrs. Hal Ross was one of the club's principal quilters and the work is usually done at her home in northwest Richfield. She has been a highly engaged in quilting for the club since it started over 35 years ago.

Other members often helping Jewell, chaplain; Mrs. Harold Billings, guard, and Mrs. Mae Gardoski, conductress. There are 23 members.

Membership is limited to the wife, mother, sister or daughter of a man who has served overseas during a war. Women who have served overseas during wartime also are eligible.

Organized in 1937, the Twin Falls auxiliary had 10 charter members. The late Mrs. Grace L. Davis, who was secretary, and the late Mrs. Gladys Moon, who was president, organized the auxiliary.

"Love, Care and Education" is the motto of the group.

Club Aims To Boost Home Ties

WENDELL — Purpose of the Home Improvement club, organized Dec. 13, 1955, is to strengthen home and family life through education of the wife and mother by developing her personality, individually—and leadership ability.

Since family life flourishes under the guidance of a woman, her education is a help to the entire family.

Some of the projects of the club are giving pennies to the International Peace Garden, sponsoring a boy and girl to 4-H camp, South Boise, donating to the 4-H camp, assisting with Red Cross bloodmobile and drives for heart, cancer, polio and mental health.

Assistance is given to Maple Valley Manor by members, writing letters and setting hair for the patients. The club, assisted by members of the Pellyanna club, were hosts for the county-wide spring luncheon.

At that meeting the club presented the district and club chairs participate in the fall Christmas Ideas Carnival held in Gooding in the fall.

A program on legal matters was presented by the club for the public, with more than 75 interested persons attending. Mrs. Schmitt Gooding-lawyer, was the speaker.

Other programs and demonstrations included a casserole dishes, new fabrics and color styling, and a picnic with a salad demonstration. Mrs. William Nelson and Mrs. William Pyle, of the Gooding County Garden Club, presented a program on flower arrangements. The club also has lessons on homemaking are under the guidance of Mrs. Ruth Shante, county home extension agent. The material for the lessons is donated by state members of the University of Idaho agricultural extension service.

The club conducts a booth at the Gooding County Fair each year. This year the club received the blue ribbon for its booth which displayed 109 entries and received 63 ribbons.

Mrs. Arthur Byce, a member of the club, received the award for the best entry in the woman's division and is now eligible to enter her hand knit sweater in the "Make Yourself With Wool" national contest.

One of the special accomplishments of the club is beautification of the city in cooperation with the city council and the Chamber of Commerce. A "clean up" campaign has been conducted in April, the past three years.

The beautification program has expanded to the county and two members of the club, Mrs. Ruth Wahler and Mrs. Hugh Calver, were named to the countywide five-year project.

Members on the county council are Mrs. Wahler and Mrs. Helen Man. Mrs. Helen Sawyerland serves as the county council secretary.

The club was represented by four members at the district meeting at Rupert and by four delegates at the state meeting at Twin Falls.

Meets are scheduled for each month with the exception of August. Officers include Mrs. Hugh Caldwell, president; Mrs. George Hudson, vice president, and Mrs. Edwin Blitzer, secretary-treasurer.

RECIPIENT OF A $2,000 graduate fellowship from the Rocky Mountain Region of Soroptimists Clubs was Shirley Fulmer, center, who is receiving the award from Mrs. K. M. Tipton, Boise, right, chairman of the project—Miss Shirley Fulmer's mother, left.

Burley Woman Receives Study Grant From Club

BURLEY — Shirley Fulmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D.C. Fulmer of Burley, received the Rocky Mountain Region graduate fellowship award of $2,000 during the Twenty-sixth annual conference of Rocky Mountain Soroptimist Federation of America, Inc., at Burley.

This is the first time the Burley Soroptimist Club has submitted a name for the graduate fellowship award. The award is to encourage qualified women to continue their graduate study in accepted academic fields in which there is need for leadership.

Miss Fulmer was graduated from Burley High School in 1941, received her Bachelor of Arts degree with honors from Idaho State University, Pocatello, in 1945. Her major was French languages and literature.

She has attended the graduate school of the University of Kansas where she was an assistant French instructor on part-time basis last summer. She studied in France as one of three recipients of scholarships from the foreign language department of the University of Kansas.

Miss Fulmer needs one more year to obtain her M.A. degree, and plans a full-time study schedule for her doctorate. She plans to teach French on the college level.

The Burley Soroptimist Club were hosts for the Rocky Mountain Regional Conference last April. The theme for the conference was "New Patterns of Action" and it was the first time in the Burley Club's history to have a regional conference held in Burley.

After 18 years the Burley Soroptimist Club still has five charter members. The club was chartered April 17, 1949, under the direction of the Twin Falls Soroptimist Club with 15 members and became the fifth Idaho Soroptimist Club.

The five active charter members are Mrs. George Carmody, Mrs. Jeanette Y. Chamberlain, Mrs. Retta Payne, Mrs. Palm Saterstrom and Mrs. Fred Sherrod. The club's first president was Mrs. Margaret Hamstreet.

The Burley club is a member of the Rocky Mountain Region (Southern Idaho, Wyoming, Utah, Colorado and Western Nebraska) and the Soroptimist Federation of America (north and south) and currently has a membership of 29.

The Burley club has a long record of service projects. After several years of ground work, in 1954 the Opportunity School was organized—and supported by the Burley Soroptimist Club for mentally retarded children in Cassia County.

Mrs. Retta Payne, one of the club's charter members, is credited with the foresight of seeing the great need for the Opportunity School in the area and worked many hours and years with other club members to make their dream become a reality. Presently other local service clubs purchase supplies and needed materials for the students attending the school.

The Senior Citizens Golden Gleam Club was organized in 1959 under the direction of the Burley Soroptimist Club which assisted with the project for two years. Now the Golden Gleam Club is operating on its own direction.

The Burley Soroptimist Club was the first service club to pledge $1,000 to help finance a new hospital for Cassia County.

In the past few years the club has paid the expenses for two local children in the speech program when parents were unable to pay the expenses. Also the Burley club has picked up the tab for two, graphically-analyst lessons for local residents.

A loan was given by the local club to a woman for a pricetical nursing course in 1964 at Cassia Memorial Hospital.

For the past three years the Burley club has sponsored the handicrafts and arts during the summer for children of the area. The club purchased the material for the leather work and ceramics with the program being directed by Jack Keen, Burley City Recreation director.

Antique and hobby display at the Cassia County Fair has been a project of the club for the past three years. Last year the fair board installed wire petting to keep the viewing public from handling the antiques and hobbies. Interest is increasing in the antique and hobby display and plans are being made for a larger and better display at the county fair.

The senior citizens employment service was started last year by the local club working in conjunction with the Department of Employment. A total of 65 senior citizens have been placed in jobs through the project.

The Burley club is taking part in the national group's endowment fund which was started three years ago with the total being one million dollars when completed. The fund will be used on a loan basis for women wishing to further their education in special fields.

Share-in-the-endowment fund for the Burley Club equals $10 per member per year over a four-year period, and the club is over half way through the international program.

The local club also donates a $100 scholarship each year to a graduating senior.

Club officers are Mrs. Lloyd Hollinger, president; Mrs. Robert Saxvik, vice president; Mrs. D.C. Fulmer, treasurer; Mrs. Robert Merritt, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Mary Curt, recording secretary; Mrs. Wayne Knorad and Mrs. Charles Hunter, directors.

Burley's Ruth Rebekah Lodge Started in 1913

BURLEY — There were few telephones, no horse buggies were a luxury and automobiles were a freak at the time of the organization of the Burley Rebekah Lodge in 1913. Twenty-one candidates were elected to membership at the first meeting.

The current year commemorates 53 years of civic and philanthropic activities for the Ruth chapter. Twelve dinners for members who desire the service, honoring 50th wedding anniversaries and contributing to the Odd Fellows "Home on the Hill" have been continuing projects.

Since June, 1923, participation in Rebekah district conventions has been an important part of the group's annual program.

Charter officers were Mary E. Rodgers, noble grand; Lettie King, vice grand; Nellie Bishop, recording secretary; Grace Geyer, financial secretary; Martha Benson, treasurer; W. L. Geyer, deputy president; Mary Burbaker, May Hinkley and W. E. Moon, trustees.

In 1925 a motto was donated to the lodge by Carol Thompson, which still hangs in the lodge hall. The motto reads: "If every member were just like me, what kind of a lodge would my lodge be?"

On April 27, 1919, the celebration of the 100th anniversary of the institution of Odd Fellowship was held at Buhl.

In 1920, a donation to the "Home on the Hill" placed Ruth Rebekah Lodge No. 107 on the honor roll and the lodge received a certificate. Mrs. Geyer donated a frame for the certificate which still hangs on the wall in the lodge hall. Fourteen members were taken into the lodge by initiation in 1920.

The first joint installation was held July 6, 1921. Irene Conline was installed noble grand and Mary Freeman received a 15-year jewel pin.

On Feb. 8, 1923 the 10th anniversary of Ruth Rebekah Lodge No. 107 was observed. June 20, 1923 the lodge entertained the district convention.

March 27, 1924, Grand Ruth Rebekah Lodge No. 87, Jeyburn, consulted with Ruth No. 107, bringing with them 12 members, set of regalia, banners, etc. organ, a Bible and $23.75 in their treasury, which were all very much needed and appreciated.

On Jan. 8, 1925, Ruth Mission was installed noble grand. Rebekah members were anxious to help the Odd Fellows build a hall.

A dinner was held March 20, 1925, in the basement of the Methodist Church; $22.70 was raised and turned over to the Odd Fellows for the building fund.

Grand Lodge was held Oct. 26, 1926, at Pocatello where Anna Nelson and Maud Holter received the Decoration of Chivalry.

In May, 1927, the lodge donated money for the improvement of the Heyburn Cemetery. The lodge entered their first float in the 4th of July parade and won 1st prize of $25.00.

In 1946 the lodge shared with joined other organizations in furnishing refreshments for the USO and a certificate of appreciation for distinguished war service from the USO was received by the lodge.

In January, 1947, the Ruth Girls Club was organized under the direction of the lodge. The Rebekahs joined the Odd Fellows in 1949 in planning the expense of erecting a new lodge meeting and dates on main highways entering Burley. First place was won on the float entered in the fair parade. The $50 prize money was used to start a fund to purchase hospital beds and other sick room equipment for community use. The Lodge sent their first CARE package in 1949, another continuing project.

District meeting was held in 1950 in Burley. Rebekahs and Odd Fellows purchased two hospital beds complete, one wheel chair and small items for free community use by anyone needing them.

The year 1952 was a happy one for the IOOF Hall was at last free of debt.

The lodge sponsored their first youth to the U. N. Pilgrimage in 1953 with Carol Ann Maggart, Burley, being the winner. Betty Jean Simonson, Albion, was the delegate to the U. N. Pilgrimage. In 1954 she was guest speaker at Grand Lodge and Rebekah Assembly in Idaho Falls.

A silver donation was made to the International Peace Gardens in 1963. Burley was host for Grand Lodge and Rebekah Assembly. First prize was won on the float entered by the lodge for the Centennial Parade.

A 50 year jewel pin was presented to Cora Thompson. During 1964 the Burley lodge was host to the U. N. Pilgrimage delegates as the group was returning home for a noon luncheon.

At present Mrs. Louise Talbert is serving the lodge as noble grand being installed in January 1966.

Each Memorial Day metal markers with the three links are placed on Odd Fellows and Rebekah graves. A long st. quilt top was made by Mrs. Clara Crisman and donated to the lodge. Members quilted the beautiful quilt. Tickets were sold and Mrs. Carl Young was presented the quilt, with proceeds donated to the general fund.

The annual picnic this year was held at Eden for Rupert, Burley and Eden lodges.

A social is being planned for Rebekah members and families, at Christmas time with a gift exchange.

Mrs. R. W. Schiffer is president; Mrs. Paul Sheller, vice president; Mrs. Daniel Shank, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Frank Horst, devotional leader. The vice president is also head of the social committee.

The circle meets the second Thursday of each month at the church. It strives to stimulate interest in home and foreign missions and its projects all deal with mission work.

Members gather good used clothing which they clean and repair and send to mission stations. They make bandages from worn out sheets and send them to hospitals in the Congo. Packages of new clothing and gifts are sent overseas at Christmas time.

Suppers are held monthly for the adult Sunday School class. Other social events include a father-son banquet, a mother-daughter tea, a Thanksgiving banquet and a Christmas candlelight supper.

MAGIC VALLEY'S FAVORITE GIFT HEADQUARTERS!

IN THE BANK AND TRUST BUILDING

WEIGHING IN PRIOR to a meeting of the Take Off Pounds Sensibly Club is Mrs. Wayne R. Smith, president of the group. Mrs. Cleo Mori, right, does the honors. Each TOPS member is weighed before each meeting and penalties are assigned those who gain weight. "Keeper of the Scales" is Mrs. Judy Culhoun. (Times-News photo)

Heavy Losses Are Goal Of TOPS Club Members

Heavy losses, ordinarily shunned by everyone from investigators to bookmakers, are the primary goals of members of a certain women's club in Twin Falls.

The name of the group? What else but the Take Off Pounds Sensibly Club!

TOPS, organized in Twin Falls in 1953, was designed to provide moral support and incentive for women who desire to lose weight.

Mrs. Wayne R. Smith, president of the group, calls it group therapy. Meetings are held each week in the Twin Falls City Hall Auditorium and contacts between meetings are encouraged.

Each member is weighed prior to the meeting by the Keeper of the Scales, Mrs. Judy Culhoun. Weight losses are rewarded and penalties are assigned to those who register gains when they step on the scales.

And its woe to the girl who gains!

Officers of the 23 members. In addition to Mrs. Smith, are Mrs. Clifford Sparrow, secretary; Mrs. Harold Armstrong, treasurer; Mrs. Della Blades, weight recorder; Mrs. Margaret Weeks, song leader; and Mrs. Dick Clark, guesstimate chairman.

An annual trophy is given to the club member who loses the most weight during the year. This annual "Queen" also receives a new wardrobe from the club. The wardrobe is a very practical award, since the "Queen" must outfit naturally find all of her old clothes much too large at the end of the year.

Past winners of the award include Mrs. Harold Armstrong, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. John L. Lay. National and state TOPS Queen contests are also held, and the state honor in 1962 went to local club member Mrs. Florence Mayer.

Mrs. Armstrong won a first place prize in Division No. 3 last year. The separate divisions are based on original weight.

A natural weight loss pattern, steering clear of crash diet and diet pills, is the approach advocated by the group. The most difficult part of a weight-watching program, according to Mrs. Smith, is the discouraging of the heavy eating patterns that most members have followed all their lives.

Refreshments are served at each meeting — fruits and raw vegetables.

"The fattening foods we all deny, because that is where our problems lie . . . we don't give up, though it's no fun, to count the calories 'till we're done," notes one club member through an adaptation of the lyrics of "Little Brown Jug."

The group's meetings occasionally feature outside speakers who advise the members on foods and methods of safe weight loss.

A special event that is sponsored by the unit is the quarterly honoring of the member who has lost the most weight during the three-month period. A celebration of the club's anniversary also is held.

New members are very much desired by the club, but Mrs. Smith notes that active recruitment is very difficult.

"Overweight is such a personal thing," she said. "You can't just ask someone to join because you think they're fat," she added.

A special activity of the group is the yearly swimming party at Nat-Son-Pah. Fund raising projects include food sales. White elephant sales. Funds are also raised through the nickel a pound that is charged members who gain weight.

Mrs. Shank Leads Handy Helpers

FILER — Handy Helpers Club members elected Mrs. Daniel Shank president; Mrs. Betty Sheller, vice president, and Mrs. George Day, secretary-treasurer.

This group is a social club of the Slater relatives and is in its 22nd year. Meetings are held on the third Thursday of the month at the homes. Potluck dinners precede some of the meetings.

Members make quilts, sew and mend at meetings and sometimes help the hostess in a work project. They enjoy working and visiting together.

Country Women Go To Town

And life keeps moving along. The only merchandise now available in the dime stores for anything less than a dollar is candy; housewives today find it cheaper to buy a cake mix than it is to start from scratch, and most of the members of the Country Woman's Club have moved to town.

This 50-year-plus club, which originated for the benefit of women living on isolated farms and ranches west of the Twin Falls tract, has, nonetheless, retained the qualities that made it so popular in the first decade of the twentieth century.

It is now a small, cohesive group of 17 older women who meet monthly for the continuance of worthwhile civic service projects. The club boasts two members who were present at the charter meeting in 1914, Mrs. Rose Allen and Mrs. Birdella McClain.

Officers include Mrs. Nora Lewis, president; Mrs. E. J. Alfred, vice president; Mrs. Ed Waite, recording secretary; Mrs. Lloyd Nicholson, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Lauren Miller, treasurer; Mrs. Lawrence Bird, reporter, and Mrs. Birdella McClain, historian. The monthly meetings are held in private homes.

Projects include donations to the Rupert Youth Ranch; the B. A. Childs, Jr. Home; the Gooding School for the Deaf and Blind; and CARE.

A May luncheon, annual dinner in February, Christmas party, summer picnic and potluck provide informal relaxation for club members. Social hours follow each meeting and other entertainment, such as book reviews and home movies, are often featured.

Matrons Help With Projects

WENDELL — The Past Matrons' Club was organized in 1923 as an auxiliary to Star of the West chapter No. 35, Order of the Eastern Star, for the purpose of assisting the chapter in various projects and for sociability.

The club membership numbers 29 as two of the older members were lost by death during the past year.

Club meetings are conducted at the members' homes on the fourth Monday of each month, the time afternoon or evening, according to the wish of the hostess. The club is affiliated with the South Central District Association, which includes 14 area chapters.

Past matrons and patrons, night is one of the highlights of the year. This is an annual special night honoring the "Old Beans." The club president presents the presiding matron with a white EdgerStar Bible. Another special event during the year is the luncheon, honoring the chapter officers and the worthy guest matron, at the end of her official visit.

Officers installed for this year are Mrs. A. F. Young, president and Mrs. Fred Malt, secretary-treasurer.

Legion Auxiliary at Richfield Gives Service

RICHFIELD — The Richfield American Legion Auxiliary has been active for 25 years giving service to veterans and their families, promoting Americanism, and helping the Legionnaires raise funds for building the Richfield Legion hall completed in 1959.

Widows and wives of World War I veterans were among the charter members. The Auxiliary of the American Legion Post No. 1, named for Earl E. Morrison, was organized Nov. 7, 1939. Morrison, born April 22, 1895, moved to Richfield when 14 years of age and ended in the Army from Richfield. He was cook in Co. K, 361st Infantry of the 91st division. He was killed in action in the Meuse-Argonne offensive near the town of Eplonville, France. He was struck by a shell fragment while working in his kitchen and killed instantly.

Mrs. John S. McIntosh and Mrs. A. A. (Dick) Johnson are the only charter members still living in Richfield. Mrs. Myrtle Youngkin, Burbank, Calif., still retains her membership and revisits the unit each year.

Both Mrs. McIntosh and Mrs. Youngkin are Gold Star Mothers.

The late Mrs. Edna Piper was another charter member with a long record of uniring work in the unit. She served as historian for eight years, as Poppy chairman many times, and faithfully attended all meetings.

The Auxiliary was a big inspiration and source of funds when the Legionnaires were building the local Legion hall. At one time the women presented the men with a check for $265 raised from farm food sales, a talent show, serving dinners, and making wreaths for Memorial Day.

The money was used for cinder blocks for the new building. Other purchases by the women included dishes, silverware, kitchen equipment, and drapes.

Each year the Auxiliary promotes Girls' State and has sent delegates since 1947. Luana Flavel Vaughn was Richfield's first delegate attending Idaho's first convention at Lewiston.

Puppy day is always featured at Richfield and the Auxiliary entertains in some way each for the Legionnaires to celebrate the American Legion anniversary.

The Auxiliary meets the fourth

Tuesday of each month in conjunction with the American Legion and serves refreshments to both groups at the close of the meetings.

Officers this year are Mrs. Jerry Davis, president; Mrs.

Unit Notes Interest For Iris

Promotion of interest in growing the iris is the prime function of the Magic Valley Iris Society, according to the group's president, Mrs. C. W. Vallette, Declo. The encouragement of iris growing and the introduction of new varieties of the flower through iris shows are other functions of the club.

The unit, which was organized in 1960, has only four meetings a year, in March, May, August, and December. Meetings are not held any more frequently than this due to the diversified geographical locations of the club members.

Members are drawn from Gooding on the west to Declo on the east and all points in between.

The August meeting is largely a social affair, consisting of a potluck dinner, a business meeting and the annual Rhizome sale. The sale of this particular iris variety does much to finance the society's annual Iris Show, according to Mrs. Vallette.

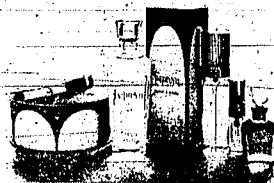

The group's November meeting, which is always held in Twin Falls, features election of officers and general social visiting. The March and May meeting places alternate between Buhl and Filer respectively one year, and Jerome and Burley the next year.

The biggest activity of the organization is the annual American Iris Society-sponsored Iris Show, which was held in Burley last June.

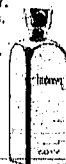

Officers are Mrs. Vallette, president; Mrs. Albert Tobener, vice president; Mrs. Glenn Thelen, secretary; and Mrs. Mildred Dierksen, treasurer. There are 54 members.

Lester Johansen, vice president; Mrs. Lyle Piper, secretary; and Mrs. Myrtle Riley, treasurer.

The club meets at homes of members. In January a potluck luncheon was held and officers were installed during the business meeting. Lessons during the year included one on pastry given by Mrs. Helen Walker of the Idaho Power Co., gracious living, ways of communication, home and yard beautification, easy ironing tips, and one meeting was devoted to slides of scenic spots taken by members.

The club was well represented at the district home extension meeting in Rupert and the area council meeting held in Twin Falls. Members assist the Red Cross bloodmobile when it visits Filer and Twin Falls.

CWF Promotes Christian Living Through Study

The Christian Women's Fellowship of the Twin Falls First Christian Church represents a group effort to promote Christian living among women.

Originally known as the Women's Council, CWF was founded in 1924, a subsidiary branch, the Eva Marie Guild, for working mothers, was organized shortly thereafter.

Fellowship, worship and study are emphasized by the group. Study programs include such topics as missions, devotional life, Christian social relations and church concerns.

Outstanding speakers during the past year were Harold Turner and Mrs. Martin Torrence. Turner presented slides and a brief lecture concerned with mission work in Korea. Mrs. Torrence compared the women of the Bible with those of today.

To "minimize" duties to the church, CWF furnishes funeral dinners for families of church members and a reception committee handles golden wedding anniversaries, weddings and 18th birthday anniversaries.

The organization has helped finance many of the church's expenses. The women pledged $500 to the church building fund and during the depression they paid the interest on a loan to the church. Without this aid, the building would have been lost.

The kitchen, dishes and women's room in the church also were furnished by the women. They carpeted the sanctuary and purchased a new pulpit and furniture.

Present projects of the group include sending sewing kits to South American missions and several donations to the Church World Service. Clothing and yardage materials have been contributed to the Service.

The group also provides Christmas gifts for new home patients in Beaverton, Ore. For groups who present programs at the church, the CWF provides luncheon, beds and meals.

CWF members were among the participants in the assembly of the United Council of Church Women, which is a general meeting of representatives of all Twin Falls churches. Mrs. Gerald Turner was the CWF representative. The group also participated in the World Day of Prayer.

Annual events sponsored by the unit include the church cleanup day, an Easter breakfast for high school seniors, mother-daughter banquet, a fish fry and fellowship dinners.

Rummage sales and a Harvest Festival provide the group's funds.

Officers of the 125-member unit are Mrs. Ralph Bogar, president; Mrs. Frank Esslinger, first vice president; Mrs. Melvin Esslinger, second vice president; Mrs. Ronald Bohanan, secretary; Mrs. Russell Wynn, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Floyd Smith, treasurer, and Mrs. Robert Nelson, worship chairman.

Membership is open to all members or friends of the First Christian Church.

In summation, the purpose of the CWF is to develop all women in Christian service and Christian living.

War Work Earns Club Certificate

FILER — Among the mementos and records of the Elwood Social Club is a certificate of merit presented during World War II to the club from the American National Red Cross.

Members of Red Cross sewing, helped the USO and sent letters and gifts to neighborhood boys in the service.

This neighborhood club is still active in community and civic drives and help canvass for Red Cross, heart fund, cancer and other drives. At Christmas time members donated food and money for the baskets given needy families in the Filer area.

This group has been organized for 36 years. Two of the charter members, Mrs. Elsie Lilgola and Mrs. George Carder, are still active.

Mrs. Hugo Meyer is president; Mrs. Carder, vice president; Mrs. William Hendricks, secretary, and Mrs. Lincoln, treasurer.

Meetings are held the second Wednesday of the month. Members draw secret sister names and remember them on their birthday and wedding anniversaries. A Christmas potluck dinner and gift exchange is an annual feature and husbands are entertained at a banquet during the year.

Salmon Unit Emphasizes Friendship

"The story is old, yet fragrant and sweet; we've said it before, but just let us repeat: New friends we cherish and treasure their worth, but old friends to us are the salt of the earth."

These words, written by an anonymous author, are an expression of the theme of the Salmon Social Club—friendship.

Organized in 1915 at a time when Twin Falls consisted of little more than sagebrush and hitching posts, the group offered a social outlet to women who frequently had no other form of entertainment.

Community projects were, however, an integral part of the club's programs. The importance of neighborliness during this saga of isolated farms and ranches was not ignored either. Club members helped each other with sewing, washing and household chores in time of illness or death, and one didn't go to an empty sugar bowl as an excuse to just go visit.

Current activities of the group include picnics, annual Christmas parties, an October Masquerade party and pollack suppers. Donations are given to the Cancer Society and Red Cross with funds raised through cooked food sales and auctions.

Participation in neighborhood goodwill gestures to the needy of the Alameda community is a notable aspect of the club's approach to "friendliness," according to Mrs. DeVern Fuller, current president.

The group also provides flowers for members who are ill, prepares funeral dinners, gives bridal showers for the daughters of members and purchases gifts for the bridegrooms-to-be whose mothers belong to the club.

Baby gifts are given to all the first babies of members' daughters of members.

Officers of the 24 members are Mrs. Fuller, president; Mrs. Marvin Taylor, vice president; Mrs. Ben Courtney, secretary; treasurer, and Mrs. May Fuller, recorder. Meetings are held monthly.

There are two charter members of the group who still retain their membership. Mrs. Nora Rayl, 87, is the oldest member. Mrs. Rayl is no longer able to participate as actively as she has in past years, however.

The other charter member is Mrs. Jessie Davis, 77. Mrs. Davis, immediate past president of the group, is "even more active than many women half her age are," according to Mrs. Fuller.

MEMBER OF MAYFLOWER Rebekah Lodge No. 41, Bellevue, Mrs. Glenn Chaney, right, who now resides in Nampa, is to be installed as assembly president this month in Pocatello. She retains membership in the Bellevue lodge. She is shown with Mrs. Charles Johnstone, noble grand of the lodge which observed its 65th anniversary this spring. (Times-News photo)

65th Anniversary Is Marked at Bellevue

BELLEVUE—Mayflower Rebekah Lodge No. 41 celebrated its 65th anniversary May 10.

Mrs. Little M. Wright is the only living charter member. Mrs. Katie Hardie has been a member for 62 years. Both still reside in Bellevue.

Mayflower lodge was instituted by Mrs. Maria Nourse and a staff from Deborah Rebekah No. 3 at Hailey. At that meeting, the records say after the obligation and initiation ceremonies were held, a recess for a bountiful supper was held, followed by the election and installation of officers.

The first noble grand, Daisy Williams, served only a month and the office was then filled by Martha Higgs. Mrs. Mary George succeeded her and then Mrs. Wright.

One dollar per month was the rental paid to the Odd Fellows for the use of their hall, with the stipulation—that the ladies must do their own janitor work.

"Brother C. P. Larsen will clean and fill the lamps regularly," the minutes read. Some years later the Royal Neighbors held meetings in the hall and paid the Rebekahs the sum of 25 cents per month for "use of dishes and piano." This was applied on the rent paid the Odd Fellows.

Members of a "rustling committee" were assigned the job of "rustling up" tables, dishes, linen and other items for the frequent parties and entertainment.

Gradually, over the years, through combined efforts of the Rebekahs and members of their brother lodge, the "House" of the two orders has been improved.

While a cook stove costing $2.75, once stood in a small ante-room, now dinners can be prepared on a large kitchen range, with other modern equipment making the work easier. A large dining room, accommodating up to 100 persons.

For the past several years each noble grand of the Rebekah lodge has had a special project that has gradually made over their lodge home over the Bellevue Hardware and O'Donnell Grocery.

Members of the lodge have contributed much to all worthwhile activities in the community.

Present officers include Mrs. Charles Johnstone, noble grand; Mrs. Roy Fitz, vice grand; Lorene Larson, secretary; Mrs. Crystal Harper, financial secretary; Mrs. Erwin Drusell, treasurer.

Highlight this year is planning for the seating of one of their members, Mrs. Glen Chumey, as assembly president at an October meeting in Pocatello.

A staff from Mayflower lodge will make the presentation, because, although she now resides in Nampa, she still retains her membership in Mayflower Lodge.

WITH A GLOVE, two bats and a ball, members of the Jay-C-Ette baseball team set out to show how the game is played. Durability, speed and the ability to occasionally make connections

Devotion to Civic Service Projects Is Trait of Jay-C-Ette "Pullets"

"Exhausted Roosters" and "Pooped Pullets" are the informal titles assigned Jaycee and Jay-C-Ette members who retire from the organizations at age 35. Considering the amount of community service contributed by the two groups, the titles are very appropriate.

The Jay-C-Ettes were organized in 1944 as the auxiliary to the men's club. Mrs. Imogene Stever was the twin falls chapter's first president and there were 19 charter members.

The group now numbers 30 and its officers are Mrs. Richard Messersmith, president; Mrs. (Doc) Wolfe, internal vice president; Mrs. Larry Halstead, external vice president; Mrs. Alvin Wosenberg, treasurer; Mrs. John White, reporter; and Mrs. John Howard, state vice president. State directors of the group are Mrs. Harold Grigg, Mrs. Colin Ward, Mrs. James Winterholler, Mrs. Donald Jackson and Mrs. John Miller.

The projects of the Jay-C-Ettes are many and diversified; but they have a common goal: To promote the smoother functioning of the community. The Jay-C-Ettes offer assistance to the Jaycees whenever it's needed and they also carry on worthwhile civic or welfare programs on their own.

One of these projects is the sponsorship of a local high school girl who, without Jay-C-Ette help, might discontinue her education. The group furnishes the student with clothing, book fees and other necessities.

Another welfare project is the annual Shopping Spree for needy children. This is sponsored in conjunction with the Jaycees, and it involves giving money to the children for the purchase of Christmas gifts for their families.

Each year, the local Jay-C-Ettes participate in a state project designated by the state board. This year's project is the Booth Memorial Home for Unwed Mothers in Boise, which is maintained by the Salvation Army. Donations of money, clothes and cosmetics have been sent to the home, and additional donations will be given in the near future.

The general category of mental health is the group's secondary project. The club is now arranging a mental health seminar that will hopefully stimulate public interest in mental health. Physicians and public personalities of national stature are expected. The seminar will be held Nov. 17, 18 and 19. Mrs. Audrey Howard is chairman of the event.

The group's other projects include the staffing of the Perrine Bridge Information Center for two days each week; distributing clothing at the Twin Falls Labor Camp, and donations to the Idaho Youth Ranch, Harry Day School, Twin Falls Civic Auditorium and the special classes at Robert Stuart Junior High School.

These special classes were for mentally deficient children, and the Jay-C-Ette's donations are financed by an annual fashion show. The entire club participates in this style show, which is held in March. Last year the show was sponsored by over 15 local merchants. All proceeds go to the special classes.

Fund raising efforts include rummage, sales, concession booths at fairs and grand openings, promotion of new stores for businessmen and sampling. Sampling involves handing out free samples of a new product for which the ladies get paid. The last product that the Jay-C-Ettes thus promoted was Dr. Pepper, a soft drink.

The Jay-C-Ettes also sponsor concession stands at various auctions. Last year, a wooden camper-trailer was purchased for use as a portable concession stand, and the camper is now used extensively.

Another fund raising project is the July swimming meet which is held each year at Harmon Park. Proceeds from the swim meet are donated to the JWCYA-YWCA swimming pool.

Jay-C-Ette social activities are held in conjunction with the Jaycees. They include a membership dance, Christmas family party, New Year's dance, July picnic, installation banquet, soft ball games, Halloween party and guest luncheons honoring state presidents and new members.

This year-a new social activity was added to the slate. A two-day family-camping trip encompassing picnics, games and other entertainment, was held in July. Members of the Jaycees and Jay-C-Ettes who shifted from the outdoor life were free to drive to the campsite for just the day's activities, returning at night. This excursion was held in the South Hills.

A special project of the Jay-C-Ettes is the sponsorship of a girl's soft ball team, the Jollie Dollies. Group members also play an occasional game themselves, displaying courage, valor and even a few connections between ball and bat.

State conventions and district meetings are an important part of the Jay-C-Ette program. Two orientation meetings are held each year, one of which is held with the men's organization. Prospective members in the Jaycees are invited to these meetings.

This year's convention was held in Idaho Falls and next year's will be in Coeur d'Alene. District Travel Trophy meetings also are held each year. At these events, a trophy is given to the club which tabulates the most miles traveled in connection with Jay-C-Ette functions. Last year's winner was Kamiah, a group with 14 members who contributed heavily to Kamiah's mental health clinic.

The local chapter of Jay-C-Ettes has several associate members; those who either fall below or above the 21-35 membership age limit. One such member is Janet Grigg, who is really more of a mascot, Jyket, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Grigg, both past presidents of their respective organizations, is 13.

PNG Group Cultivates Fraternity

To cultivate social and fraternal relations among Masonic lodge members and to cooperate in all lodge projects is the object of the Past Noble Grands Club.

Past Noble Grands are just that, former noble grands of a Rebekah Lodge. Any noble grand in good standing in a Rebekah Lodge is eligible for membership in the PNG. The residence of the applicant is within a lesser distance to Primeiros Rebekah Lodge 76 than to another lodge.

Organized Nov. 11, 1910, the club's first officers were Mrs. Hattie Bessire, president; Mrs. Celia Gatz, first vice president; Mrs. Eva Taylor, second vice president; Mrs. Viola Rains, secretary, and Mrs. Clara Ball, treasurer.

The first project of the PNG, in the name of the Rebekah Lodge, was to help furnish a room at an Odd Fellows home in Caldwell. Further assistance to the home is now a permanent project of the club.

Recent activities of the group have included helping with the bazaar of Lodge 76, furnishing Christmas baskets for needy families and assisting the Lodge in obtaining chairs for the hall.

The club's 47 members elect officers annually and meet on the second Thursday of each month in the homes of members.

Officers are Mrs. A. C. Martin, president; Mrs. Stella Bell, first vice president; Mrs. Marjorie Benedict, second vice president; Mrs. Bill Coulberry, secretary, and Mrs. Hugh Anderson, treasurer.

The Independent Order of Odd Fellows, of which the Rebekah Lodge is a subordinate, is one of the old fraternal orders in the U.S.

A speak-up program has recently been added to the Jay-C-Ette curriculum. This program is designed to train members in the preparation and delivery of various types of speeches. Mrs. Avery Floyd is chairman.

Membership in the Jay-C-Ettes is open to all wives of Jaycees members, but the Jaycee organization is open to everyone. Members are installed after attending an orientation meeting.

Babysitting problems are solved collectively by a relay system that involves babysitting turns.

The underlying purpose of the Jay-C-Ettes, as expressed by Mrs. Messersmith, is, "We try to give women an opportunity to develop their own personalities by going out and meeting all sorts, varieties and kinds of people."

"The Jay-C-Ettes isn't a stay-at-home bunch," she added.

Sew Long Club Lists Objective

BUHL—The ambitious objective of the Sew Long Demonstration Club is to become better and more efficient homemakers.

They achieve this goal by sewing, knitting, having artistic hobbies and very informative programs. The group consists of young married women. Membership is open to anyone interested in bettering themselves, their houses and the people who are not as fortunate.

Programs cover clothing, hair styles, cooking, quick meals, how to buy meat and its uses, upholstery, care of electrical appliances, physical fitness, first aid, time management, credit rating and money management, wills and insurance, family life, government.

At the second meeting of each month, one of the members presents a creative, artistic program.

Meetings are held on the first and third Fridays of each month at the members' homes. No members attend the county home demonstrations monthly session and presents the lesson to the members of their home club at the next meeting.

Charlene Likely is the acting home demonstration agent until a new agent is appointed. Mrs. Victor Miller is a charter member of the local club and is current project leader.

Contributions are made to the Heart, Cancer, Red Cross, and March of Dimes funds for some of their projects for the club.

As a community service, members do needlework for Harra's Nursing Home, Buhl, for several years. They present the residents at Harra's Nursing home, who have no family with Christmas gifts.

Members also take part in their respective church activities as well as Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, and many other local organizations.

Peace Garden is a project that has been going on since 1929. It's the world's only garden dedicated to peace and is situated in the Tuglie Mountains on the North Dakota Manitoba boundary. It is supported by all home demonstration units in the United States and the Woman's Institute of Canada.

Social highlights of the year include a dinner in May celebrating the club's anniversary, a husband's banquet in February, a Mother's Day luncheon in May, a children's party and swim in August and a gift exchange at Christmas.

Officers for 1964 are Mrs. David Wavre, president; Melvin Scherbinich, vice president; Mrs. LaVar Bluxam, secretary, and Mrs. John Wilson, treasurer.

Zenobia Members Sew for Hospital

A new sewing group is the Twin Falls Zenobia Club, organized under Mrs. Temple No. 40, Daughters of the American Revolution. Sewing for the Shriners Hospitals for crippled children in Spokane, Portland and Salt Lake City is the club's biggest project. Members sew surgical wrappings, bedding, tea tray covers, nightgowns and clothing for the children.

Membership in the unit is limited to wives of Shriners, a nursing order.

Spades, Dirt Are Tools Of Countryside Club

Take one garden of any kind and several spades and mix well with 15 ladies who like to dig in the dirt and you have the Countryside Flower Club.

If you're a "toward official" proclamations and require a parliamentary procedure type of "purpose statement," here it is: The Countryside Flower Club strives for beautification of country homes and knowledge of various methods of growing and arranging flowers.

The club is comprised of Salmo Tract homemakers. It was organized in 1960 at the home of Mrs. Lyle Schnitzer.

The club had been in the planning stage for many years prior to its actual formation. Mrs. Glenn Nelson picks it this way: "Gardening is always sort of a hit and miss proposition on the Salmon Tract, and in past years the crops always came first. Then, if any water was to spare, the gardens and lawns got irrigated."

Some of the more determined gals, who weathered the years, were responsible for the organization of our club," she continued.

But all is not dirt and spades for the members of the Countryside Flower Club. Each year, at least one of the club's roll calls is devoted to the reading of members' original poems. Gardening and related subjects are explored in those poems, which touch on the difficulties brought by windy weather, frosts, droughts, floods and insects.

Mrs. Nelson notes that in poetry, which is a form of art, one can find a way to express their feelings about life still shines.

The following poem, reprinted with permission of the author, Mrs. John Pastoor, is indicative of the group's general attitude.

"Wind and dirt and powdery dust. I guess I can stand it if I must."

For visions of greenery come to my mind

But when I glance out the window

Not a bit do I find.

"There's only one thing

That adds more to my pain

And that is the ominous

Threat of a rain.

I thought that the dust

Was the worst I could get

But the darn blasted mud

Is more frustrating yet

"My gripes and my groans

Shouldn't last very long

Hopefully, soon I'll have

A beautiful new lawn.

And flowers transplanted

With love and with care.

Our place will appear

As if someone lives there.

"Impatient I am,

In fact I can't wait

To dig and to plant

And try to create

Something so lovely

With plants that will last.

That soon I'll forget

The dirt-hated past."

The club's monthly meetings each feature a lesson on some phase of gardening or flower arrangements—the basic steps in constructing rock gardens and a lesson in making cut-sages.

Another meeting was devoted to instruction in techniques of dried flower arrangements. The use of flowers dried in silica gel to preserve their color, texture and form has become increasingly popular in recent years.

Officers of the club are Mrs. Nelson, president; Mrs. Pastoor, vice president; Mrs. Pete Thornton, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Sidney Smith, reporter. Membership in the unit is limited to 20.

Past projects of the group include the purchase of trees for the Hollister School. Several husbands were recruited for assistance with the actual planting.

The club's first annual flower show was held at the Berger Community Hall in 1964. In addition to this show, members also enter other competitions in Magic Valley, including the County Fair, Iris and African Violet shows.

The club's expert is Mrs. Sidney Smith, nationally known flower judge. Her membership in the Countryside Flower Club is one more feature of this vital and enthusiastic group.

Quilting Is Specialty Of Club

CAREY—Quilting is the specialty of the Friendly Neighbor Club. More than 15 quilts were sewn during the past year, according to Mrs. Leonard Kirkland, president.

When a quilt is ready to go on a frame, an all-day quilting meeting for the club members is planned, along with a potluck lunch, and members exchange quilt patterns.

The club charges for quilting and has sewn quilts for out-of-town people as well as scores of quilts for people of Carey Valley.

New practices this year have been white elephant gifts and honoring members on their birthday month with pot holders, dish cloths, handkerchiefs, and wash cloths.

Officers are Mrs. Leonard Kirkland, president; Mrs. Leo Peterson, vice president; Mrs. Wanda Peterson, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Harold Kimball, historian. A historian is elected each year and she serves as secretary-treasurer the following year, then vice president, president and finally president the fourth year.

This year gifts were given to Mrs. John (Jack) Green and Mrs. Chris Dodge, longtime members.

The club was organized in 1953 by neighbors in the Fish Creek area, northeast of Carey.

Friendly Neighbor Club for a name, blue and white for the colors, and forget-me-not as the flower.

The club project is to help a neighbor and the motto is, "Nothing is too much trouble if it brings happiness to someone."

Many worthwhile causes have received donations from the club by money earned from quilting, school library books, heart fund, Boise Children's Home and the Idaho Youth Ranch.

Carey Valley families in distress have been helped by members who also have served hot lunch to men working on a community project.

A Mother's Day gift exchange, Christmas gift exchange and party and the Husband's Party in November are annual events. Sometimes the monthly meeting is an afternoon of cards, games or other games with prizes awarded, after the business meeting is held.

The July project is always a float for a Pioneer Day Celebration Parade. The club has won many prizes in the civic division in years past.

Club members always help with the Blaine County Fair. Members have exhibited their baking, canning, cooking, hand work, flowers and vegetables. A 1956 project was for each member to "enter" something in the fair.

Each year, members and friends embroider a design and their names on the blocks and sew a quilt for the past president. The club has presented a quilt to each of its first presidents who are Mrs. Wayne Peterson, Mrs. Ella Rudd, Mrs. Gordon Drager, Mrs. LaElla Ed, Mrs. Miles Rudy, Mrs. Harold Whitty, Mrs. Lawrence Smith, Mrs. Charles Green, Mrs. Philip Stylis, Mrs. Joe Rush, Mrs. Edwin Conner, and Mrs. Lee Peterson.

Church Nursery Prompts Mothers Club Creation

The children's nursery in the First Christian Church prompted the organization of the Mothers Club of the First Christian Church.

The main project of the group is the maintenance of the nursery through decorating, contributing furnishings, toys and supplies and employing an assistant to babysit in the nursery.

The Mothers Club also presents gifts to new mothers in the church.

The club was formed in 1962 by Mrs. Paul Moseley Jr.; Mrs. Donald Hoffman and Mrs. John Ostler. Mrs. Ronald Eslinger was elected first president of the 37 charter members. Membership is not restricted to members of the First Christian Church, although eligibility for club office is limited to church members.

Club activities are not confined to the maintenance of the nursery. Various missionary projects are an additional part of the organization's programs.

Past missionary projects have included sending 100 hygiene kits to the United Christian Missionary Society for distribution around the world.

The group has continued to sew layettes, consisting of the receiving blanket, gown, shirt, bonnets and binder, for the Church World Service. The club also sends children's books to African missions.

Other activities have encompassed sending the Oywee Indian reservation clothing, combs, toothbrushes and (toothpaste) rolling bandages for an African mission, and providing sewing kits for the Church World Service.

Current officers are Mrs. Moseley, president; Mrs. Denny Canfield, vice president; Mrs. George Walton, secretary, and Mrs. Ted Huter, treasurer.

The funds for the club's various projects are raised via bazaars, rummage sales, auctions and cooked food sales. Members also occasionally serve at church events.

banquets of other organizations to raise funds.

Since nearly all of the members are mothers of preschool age children, many of the club's program topics are oriented toward a typical mother's interests. Examples of such topics are the lecture by Mrs. Ocho Shorthouse, a kindergarten teacher, on the merits of kindergarten; a demonstration on the care and purchase of wigs and speeches on breakfasts and interior decoration.

Social activities include a Christmas party, a swimming party, and several informal get-

WSCS Aids Parsonage Upkeep

FILER — Special projects this past year for the Woman's Society of Christian Service were paying for installing a new ceiling and new carpeting in the Methodist parsonage, and helping pay for the new chair robes for the church choir.

This service group was organized locally in 1910. Ruth McDonald is president; Mrs. Jack Ramsey, vice president; Mrs. E. A. Beem, secretary, and Mrs. Raymond Thomas, treasurer.

Special chairmen are Mrs. Gilbert Deklotz, Jr., promotion; Mrs. Jacob Tolik, Christian social relations; Mrs. Gilbert Smith, literature and publications; Bessie Wygal and Mrs. W. A. Grieve, missionary education and service; Mrs. Loren Drake and Mrs. Orville Sackett, spiritual life; Mrs. Ernest Peck, students, and Mrs. Frank Sikes, supplies.

The general WSCS meets once a month at the church. A mission day pledge is taken each year and a certain sum of money raised for mission work. The group helps whenever called upon in all church activities. A principal fund-raising project is serving the Kiwanis Club dinners each Tuesday.

Topics and devotional services are presented at the meetings and are followed by business meetings and a program with social hour.

Four circles are organized within the society. Mrs. O'Paul Hoffman is chairman of the Ruth Circle; Mrs. Ronald Ingles, Martha; Mrs. Earl Lathue, Good Fellowship; and Mrs. Herbert Fender, Sarah Anne.

The first three circles meet at members' homes for all-day meetings on the third Thursday of the month. The Sarah Anne Circle holds evening meetings.

together with members' husbands.

Mrs. Moseley summarized the aims and functions of the Mothers Club in this way: "We meet for Christian Fellowship and programs of mutual interest."

Squilla Unit Provides Relaxation

It was a bridal fashion show, in a manner of speaking, but the gowns weren't exactly designed according to the very latest style dictates. There weren't any immediate brides-to-be present, either.

The fashions were modeled by the women who had worn the gowns on their respective wedding days. The showing of the old wedding gowns was a feature of a regular meeting of the Twin Falls Squilla Club.

Who says you can only wear a bridal gown once?

The Squilla Club offers many other such interesting and rewarding programs to its members. During the past year lessons on cake decoration, the making of Easter egg trees and a celebration of the club's 20th anniversary were held.

Officers of the 15 members are Mrs. Wesley Beeson, president; Mrs. Ellis Fuller, vice president; Mrs. John Pastoor, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. DeMora Fuller, reporter. Meetings are held monthly.

Social activities of the group include a Mother's Day Luncheon, a Salad Day and an annual Christmas party with a gift exchange and revealing of secret pals. Picnics, card parties and dances are also held.

Donations to the Cancer Fund and Magic Valley rest homes are among the group's projects for the year. Decorated cakes and Easter egg trees have been given to the rest homes. Thanks for their generosity for the Tuberculosis Hospital in Gooding have also been donated by club members this year.

Other activities of the group include bridal showers for the daughters of club members and food sales and bazaars to raise funds for these projects.

Organized in 1936, the Squilla Club was formed to provide social activities for young married women with small children. Six of the group's charter members are still active: Mrs. Ellis Fuller, Mrs. Lewis Elmer, Mrs. Helen Taylor, Mrs. Robert Leichter, Mrs. Elgin Wilson and Mrs. Glen Davis.

Auxiliary Spearheads Yule Plan

FILER — The Filer American Auxiliary spearheads the Christmas basket project each winter and last year delivered 23 baskets of food and toys to needy families in the area. Other community clubs assist in the project.

Mrs. Joyce Harding is president; Mrs. Jerry Bean, vice president; Mrs. Elmer Harshbarger, secretary; Mrs. Thea Bolso, treasurer; Mrs. Kenneth Rork, historian; and Mrs. James Glass, sergeant-at-arms.

The auxiliary has a number of other projects including sponsoring child welfare, Girl's State delegates, educational loans, Pan-American relations and rehabilitation. They sell the poppies made by veterans and at Christmas send articles to The Bolso Veterans' Hospital and allow the patients to choose from them for family gifts.

The unit meets in the American Legion hall. Social events are combined with the Legion. An Americanism program for high school students is presented in the schools each year and an Americanism essay contest is conducted in the lower grades. The auxiliary sponsors the Junior Auxiliary which is composed of girls whose fathers are veterans and members of the American Legion. Mrs. William Yoder is leader and Shirley Yoder is assistant leader.

Richfield Masonic Hall Has Antique Furnishings

RICHFIELD — Early Western and antique furnishings are special attractions to visitors attending the Richfield Order of Eastern Star chapter meetings.

The Masonic hall, in which the chapter meets, still bears the early day pot-bellied stove as its source of heat. Much of the furniture was built or completed by lodge members in the past.

The chapter was organized Dec. 4, 1929, after two meetings at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Lemmon, charter members. The first worthy matron, Mrs. J. S. McIntosh, is presently serving another term as worthy matron.

R. J. Lemmon, first worthy patron, is still an active member at age 90 years. Mrs. Frank (Marie) Pope, one of the first star points, is associate matron this year, and Mrs. Leona Buel, also one of the first officers, resides in Richfield and retains her membership.

The chapter's 50-year members are R. J. Lemmon, who joined in 1901, and Mrs. Blanche Fivebald, from Nebraska. Furnishings include chairs for the East and West stations that came from the old hotel at Dietrich. They are constructed of rich dark black wood with original green plush upholstery on some.

The altar and desks were made from wood shipped from the natural trees grown in Sioux City, Wis., hometown of the late George R. Schwane. R. J. Lemmon did the carpenter work for the five pedestals. Another green upholstered chair was donated by the late LeRoy Cutright. Lemmon made the insignia light in the shape of a star with individual switches for each star point color connected to the pedestal, and he made the crown and scepter, cup and sword.

The Masonic hall was carpeted again several years ago with funds raised by the OES chapter. An antique carved chair with a tiny seat and narrow back graces the lodge hall since donated by the late Stanley Buer of Shoshone. The secretary's table light base is a globe from the old Richfield school with Lemmon making the light fixture.

Mrs. Guy Kinney, Twin Falls, made the beaded silk lamp shades when she resided in Richfield. She also made the glass insets for the star point pedestals and painted the emblems which shine through the glass. The secretary's table came from Richfield's 1907 banking days.

An early day phonograph used by the Masons was given to the lodge by Murray Brookman, San Francisco, when he was one of the early day Idaho Irrigation Co. managers at Richfield. He also donated two settees and a chair still used by the lodge and OES. Mrs. Orin (Stacie) Hobb, Mapleton, Ia., painted five of the chairs and made embroidered slip covers when serving here as a lodge member.

Mrs. Dirk Albert donated the kitchen electric stove, Mrs. Ruth Supan, now of Pocatello, started the rug fund, and Mrs. Fiveland presented the altar light.

The late George R. Schwane presented the Eastern Star and Masonic emblomed silverware in memory of his late wife who was also a charter member. Mrs. Lorene Swatman, now of Boise, gave the large white Bible and Mrs. McIntosh an antique mirror.

Some of the charter members remembered were Mrs. Elaine Howard Ponciello, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Pridmore, Napa, Calif.; Mrs. Della Scanlon, Gooding; Mrs. Anna McKissick, Shoshone; Mrs. Gladys Fryer, Visalia, Calif.; Mrs. McIntosh, Mrs. Pope, Mrs. Buel, and Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Lemmon.

The chapter meets the second and fourth Thursdays of each month, September through June. Officers are Mrs. McIntosh, Mrs. Pope, Mrs. Clifford Conner, Mrs. Clarence Lemmon, Mrs. Dirk Albert, and Mrs. Arvilla O'Donnell.

Gimmick Records Weight

RICHFIELD—A top and a pig at a local service station keep Richfield informed about the best weight loser and the one not losing enough weight each week.

Names of the members of Diet Does It Unit of TOPS seem to draw much interest and the club members say the gimmick makes them watch their weight more than anything else they have tried.

The local club was one of the TOPS units to write and request the Jack LeLann program on television. The Richfield women are given credits for "play" money for exercising under the program directions each day of the week or exercising five days each week.

The "play" money is used for the club auctions for donated prizes. The "money" is then returned to the weight recorder, Mrs. Ralph Riley Jr., who doles it out for calorie counting, keep-weight records, losing the most in a week, as well as exercising.

Christmas holidays and Easter weight losing contests were held the past year and a backwards-weight recording contest with members standing on the scales backward to be weighed.

Only the weight recorder knew the person's weight and in this contest the weight recorder turned out to be the best loser. The contest ran for a month with each member putting in 25 cents which was matched by the club funds for a prize.

Articles on dieting and weight losing hints are brought in the Monday evening meetings and discussions. Mrs. Molly Coor, Marlaugh, is the new TOPS County captain and plans to visit the various units.

Richfield Diet Does It Club officers are Mrs. Ross Swainston, leader; Mrs. Lester Johnson, co-leader; Mrs. Clifford Dier, secretary; and Mrs. Riley, weight recorder.

ACCENT IS RACY

NEW YORK — The accent is racy and revved up. The accent takes shape in the theater, too, in an effort for the most breezy and knackless accessory look. Heading it up is the aviator helmet in leather, buckled under the chin and studded with nails.

Booklore Guild Formed For "Readers" Benefit

The Booklore Literary Art Guild was formed, quite simply, for the benefit of women who like to read. More formally, the purpose of the guild is to create a love of the literary arts and to grow intellectually through active participation in the group's meetings.

Active participation is accomplished through the delivery of book reviews by members at each meeting. Every member takes a turn.

The guild attempts to review biographies, fiction and classics. Books that have been reviewed this year include "The Literary Works of Lincoln," "Women in the White House," "Wuthering Heights," "How Far to Bethlehem," and "My Shadow Ran Fast."

The guild was organized in Twin Falls in 1944 by Mrs. A.F. Hall and Mrs. Joel Tate. The 20 charter members elected Mrs. Hall as first president. Sixteen of the original 20 members are still active.

In its second year, the group co-sponsored a play by professional performers from Salt City with the Literary Art Guild. Proceeds from the program went to the public library book fund.

A special program this year was presented by Mrs. Fred Linke. This evening of selected poetry readings also featured a review of the history of English epic poetry.

Another highlight of the group's program is the annual guest night with members' husbands. The book review continues, which assigns the reviews, attempts to include books of interest to men for this special meeting.

The guild's Christmas party, another social event, calls for a book exchange rather than a gift exchange. Which is all in keeping with the aim of the organization.

Officers are Mrs. Edwin Crockett, president; Mrs. J.A. Gerard Klemp, secretary; Mrs. Raymond Sudweeks, treasurer; Mrs. Leone Dille, historian; and Mrs. Norman Wengert, hospitality chairman.

Mrs. Howard Arrington, club member, gives this interpretation of the group's aims and functions. "The club provides a little push to enable members to acquaint ourselves with wider samples of literature. Everyone intends to read such and such but never gets around to it. The guild is an effort to overcome this procrastination."

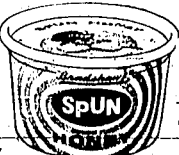

The group's 25 members meet on the second Wednesday of each month. Membership, which is open to all women interested in the literary arts, is accomplished by invitation.

Chapter AZ Points Out Objectives

WENDELL — PEO chapter AZ, organized May 24, 1944, is part of an international philanthropic sisterhood which has for its objective the promotion of education for women. Chapter G, Gooding, was the instituting chapter.

The national organization has a liberal loan policy for girls to study many "useful crafts" as well as for college expense.

The State PEO organization awards a $500 scholarship each year to an Idaho girl who attends Cooley College. The award has been received by several Magic Valley girls.

Each year the local chapter entertains girls of the Wendell and Hagerman schools to acquaint them with Cooley College for girls in Nevada, Mo. This year chapter AZ entertained at the home of Mrs. D. B. Bradshaw.

The chapter supports the Girls' State fund, sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary. They consider this project is an educational experience for girls. They also assist with civic drives and contribute to the Children's Home in Boise.

To raise funds for charitable purposes the chapter sponsors rummage sales.

The Idaho state chapter maintains a residence in Caldwell, which is a home for older, retired or widowed PEO members. There are several cottages built by resident members on the grounds of this retirement home.

Auxiliary's Aim Is Aid To Veterans

Projects designed to aid the Veterans Hospital in Boise are the main concern of the women's auxiliary to World War I Veterans Barracks No. 509.

Sewing for the hospital occupies a great deal of the group's time. From three to four hours are devoted at each meeting to the sewing of bed pads, surgical belts, T-binders, hot water bottle covers and other items.

More than 65 books and magazines were also donated to the hospital by the auxiliary this year. In addition, the group assisted with the furnishing of the Veterans Chapel at the hospital, providing songbooks, rosters and flowers.

Aid to the Boise Soldier's Home is another club project. Men's suits and white shirts were contributed to the home last year. Other contributions to the home include food baskets, a coffee urn and a television set.

Providing general aid to the families of needy Twin Falls veterans, visiting the ill, sending them get-well cards and occasionally serving funeral dinners also occupy members of the group.

The year's outstanding event for the auxiliary was the national convention, which was held in June at the Rogerson Hotel. This was the first World War I Veterans national convention in twin Falls in 11 years.

Dignitaries attending included General Watson, national representative from Portland, Ore.; Mrs. W. Ivan Johnson of Twin Falls, past state president, and the first president of the local auxiliary, Mrs. Gertrude Wright.

Social activities of the group include a luncheon in conjunction with the men's organization. They include a Christmas party, an anniversary celebration in "retirement" centers and a Veterans' banquet in November.

Travelogues are featured at meetings. These movies usually are focused on one particular state in the United States.

Meetings of the barracks 509 are held at the same time and each meeting is followed by a joint retirement hour.

Membership in the auxiliary is open to the wives, sisters and daughters of World War I veterans. There are currently 57 members in the group.

Officers are Mrs. Bonny Vice, president; Mrs. H. L. Wurst, senior vice president; Mrs. R. B. Conder, junior vice president; Mrs. Mary I. Stearna, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Art Williams, chaplain; Mrs. Jack Williams, conductress; Mrs. A. Verne Smith, associate conductress; Mrs. F. C. Buswell, clerk; Mrs. Robert Seel, banner bearer; and Mrs. A. W. Lindeman, flag bearer.

Color bearers are Mrs. Emma Stone, Mrs. Sheldon Shultz, Mrs. V. J. Davis and Mrs. Anna Dransin.

Times Change

Many years ago, when kurls were held, the lucky lady with naturally curly hair was envied by all. The young miss with unfortunately straight hair did everything she could to curl it; she used hot iron, she wished on stars, she tried permanent that made her hair frizzy.

But times have changed. Now a poor girl with natural curls can't get the smooth, straight-looking styles that are so very much in fashion today. So she does everything she can to straighten it; she uses hot iron, she wishes on stars, etc.

African Violet Group Chooses Botanical Name

The Magic Valley Saintpaulia Club, despite the sound of its name, is not a religious organization. Saintpaulia is the botanical name for an African violet.

The Saintpaulia Club was organized in 1932 for women who liked the plants and were interested in growing them. A classified advertisement, placed by Mrs. Kenneth Hodder, inviting interested women to a get-acquainted meeting provided the impetus.

The 26 charter members elected Mrs. Hodder first president. The group is affiliated with the National African Violet Society, which has more than 15,000 members.

The club's first public display was in conjunction with the Twin Falls Garden Club.

The first club-sponsored exhibit was held at Browning Auto Co. More than 200 people attended the show, which featured 127 displays and included 27 different varieties of violets.

The annual shows now include project tables on how to grow violets.

Judging is based on the size, color and general quality of the plants. Different classes are formed according to color, with a separate division for arrangements of violets with other flowers.

A sweepstakes award is given to the winner of the most first prizes. A queen of the show is selected by the quality of the plants she displays.

The 5th annual Saintpaulia show is one of the highlights of the club's past history. This show was held in the YMCA-YMCA Building and more than 300 plants were exhibited.

Topics of some of the group's past shows have been "Violet Treasure Chest," "Violet Enchantment" and "Living With Violets."

At Saintpaulia monthly meetings, varied programs on subjects such as types of soil mixtures and new varieties of plants are presented, sometimes including demonstrations and speakers. Occasionally slides from national violet shows are presented.

Past projects of the club include a planting party, workshops on the judging of African violets and discussions concerning the potpourri of violets for this climate.

Social activities include an annual luncheon and breakfast, parties, teas and a Christmas party. The Christmas party features the revealing of the year's secret pals and a gift exchange. Mrs. Paul Procknow, president of the group, explains the fascination of African violets with this comment, "Growing violets for myself is a challenge — each day I learn something new and different."

Local Club Promotes Sociability

To encourage charity, promote sociability and advance the knowledge of general literature and domestic science are the purposes of the Twin Falls Mountain View Club, according to the group's president, Mrs. Vance Pulsipher.

Last June the club celebrated its 50th anniversary, marking 50 years of devotion to these goals. Mrs. Esther Hanlon, the only still-active charter member, participated in the observance.

Organized in 1916 for women who lived in the Mountain View School District, early meetings of the club featured discussions dealing with edible weeds, soups, canning, cooking and gardening and such items.

More recent projects of the Mountain View Club include contributions to heart, polio and cancer funds and donations to the Boise Children's Home. Often the club roll call is used for benefit work.

The biggest project this year was preparation for the 50th anniversary celebration.

Social activities of the group include potlucks with members' husbands-as guests, a family picnic in July, the June Guest Tea, a Christmas party featuring a gift exchange and revealing of secret pals and card parties.

Rummage sales and birthday contributions provide funds for these various activities. The latter projects involve each member paying the treasury one cent for each figurative candle on her birthday cake.

"You'd be surprised how many of our members are 100 years old," Mrs. Pulsipher commented.

These contributions are used largely to provide flowers for sick rooms or funerals.

Officers of the 20 members are Mrs. Pulsipher, president; Mrs. Eunice Erickson, vice president, and Mrs. Harry Rayl, secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Fred O'Leary is chairman of the flower committee.

Mrs. William Chaney, vice president and Mrs. Herman Paulsen, secretary-treasurer.

Membership is 17, including four charter members, Mrs. Alma Requa, Mrs. Chaney, Clara Walton and Mrs. Procknow.

Congratulations to the women's clubs and organizations and their fine efforts toward making Magic Valley a better place in which to live. We commend their good works and wish them continued success.

Episcopal Guild Began In 1917

JEROME—Although the building lots for Calvary Episcopal Church are recorded in church annals as having been deeded to Bishop Funsten, then Bishop of the Missionary diocese of Idaho, in 1898, the first records of the women's Guild date from 1917.

When Rev. Mr. Simmons came to Jerome at that time, he recorded the fact that the Guild had paid for the services of the glazier who put in the windows of the church building.

Almost from the beginning, and until fairly recently, the Guild was in charge of church monies, raising funds by means of food sales, teas, bazaars and entertainments.

It also had charge of the Sunday School, and the minute books give details of many a Christmas party, for which the C.V.C. building was usually rented, and Easter egg hunts, which were usually held at members' homes.

Cleaning and maintenance of the church also fell largely within their province, even to the point of taking up collections to purchase coal for heating.

In 1928 the Guild women formed a choir and made the vestment for the members. Also, an Altar Guild was formed within the Guild, and its members made hangings, linens and vestment, besides caring, as they still do, for the altar itself.

In 1937, under the charge of Rev. Dale Vandegrift, a parish hall was built adjacent to the church, and members spent every spare moment in repairing and furnishing the building. In 1939, the parish celebrated its Golden Jubilee in the new hall, following a Harvest Festival Communion, with a parish potluck.

Thanks to a "busy-round" of rummage sales, bazaars and dinners, all sponsored by the Guild, the congregation was able to burn the mortgage in 1963.

In addition to supporting the local and congregational needs, the women have contributed to Diocesan projects, such as camp scholarships, bursary for children of the local congregation and for children from the Nampa State School, Christmas boxes for the church-supported mission at Ft. Hall, parish assessment, and mission supply.

They have also enjoyed such pleasant tasks as packing an annual Valentine box of goodies for the girls at St. Margaret's House of the Church Divinity School of the Pacific. The group participated in such national church activities as the United Thank Offering and Church Periodical Club.

Mrs. Malcolm Stuart is president.

Matlice, Mrs. Ross McNurlin, Mrs. H. C. Thompson and Mrs. Clyde Morgan. Support of projects and activities of the Loyal Order of Moose is the unit's main concern. (Times-News photo)

Unique Solution to Universal Problem Is Supported by T.F. Moose Auxiliary

The problem of the lonely widow or orphan is one which touches societies throughout the world, and the fact that the problem is inevitable in any culture only enhances its universal aspect.

Universal—that is, except for members of the Supreme Lodge of the World, Loyal Order of Moose and its affiliates. A unique city for the orphans and widows of the lodge—members is maintained by the supreme lodge in Mooseheart, Ill. Mooseheart is a city in itself, with a population that varies from 1,000 to 1,200.

From 600 to 800 of these residents are the children and mothers of whom Mooseheart was built. Administrative personnel and employees of the town's department stores, bank, hospital, dairy, summer camp, post office and school comprise the rest of the population total.

Mooseheart is located on 1,109 acres of land between Aurora and Batavia, Ill. The campus comprising 313 acres, has 101 buildings, including business offices, a church, student and employee residences, the hospital and storage buildings.

As can be determined from the above information, Mooseheart is a complete community. The children who live there receive a high school education and scholarships for college studies are available as well. In addition, each child is required to learn at least one vocational trade before leaving the community. The elderly widows who live in the community are cared for the rest of their lives.

The institutional atmosphere of many orphanages is completely lacking at Mooseheart. The children do not wear uniforms and are free to dress, live and work like typical American teenagers.

Perhaps the most important advantage they receive from Mooseheart is the knowledge that their parents cared enough for them to insure that they would receive the education and training necessary for survival in today's world. Their heritage also includes the knowledge that their parents loved them enough to insure that they not be tossed around from home to home like so many unwanted orphans.

Continuing aid and donations to Mooseheart is one of the most important projects of the Twin Falls Chapter No. 185 of the Women of the Moose. A "Christmas in October" money tree is prepared each year for the children of the city—Contributions to the Mooseheart scholarship fund are also given annually.

The non-denominational church at Mooseheart is another special project of the members of the local unit. Donations have also been given to the Mooseheart hospital.

The Twin Falls Chapter No. 185 of the Women of the Moose was created in 1941 to assist the local Loyal Order of Moose. There were 18 charter members. Current membership is 65. Officers are Mrs. H. C. Thompson, senior regent; Mrs. Robert Williams, junior grand regent; Mrs. Charles Matlice, junior regent; Mrs. Clyde Morgan, chaplain; Mrs. Ross McNurlin, treasurer; Mrs. Paul McCullum, recorder, and Mrs. Mae Meador, sentinel.

Others are Mrs. John Craven, Argos; Mrs. Melvin Lake, pianist; Mrs. Gale Killinger, guide, and Mrs. Virgil Malone, assistant guide. Meetings are held on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month.

The theme of the year's activities for the local group was in keeping with state-wide observances of the national organization's 50th anniversary celebration. The Twin Falls chapter, in addition, celebrated its 25th anniversary this year.

Support of the Mothers' March of Dimes—cancer—heart—and Red Cross drives and of a money tree for the residents of Moosehaven, Fla., are representative of the group's community projects. Moosehaven is a "home" for elderly relatives of Moose Lodge members, set up on a similar basis as Mooseheart.

Social activities of the group include dinner-dances with the Moose Lodge, a Christmas party for the children of members and an overnight camping trip in the South Hills.

The camping trip, an annual "Breakfast in the Hills," is co-sponsored by all Moose Lodges and auxiliaries in Magic Valley. Funds for the group's various community activities are raised through the annual style show, auctions, rummage sales and chicken dinners for the public. The Moose Lodge Fair Booth, sponsored in conjunction with the men's organization, is the group's largest fund-raising activity.

Within the organization is a Friendship Circle for women who are eligible for their second degree. Eligibility is limited to those women who have held an office or chairmanship for one year.

A Harvest Festival for men

bers who pay their dues on an annual basis is another club function.

A big activity for the children of the community is the annual Fish Derby at Harmon Park, sponsored by the Women of the Moose. This year soft drinks for the contestants and prizes for the winners were donated by downtown stores.

Many of the group's social activities are planned on a fairly basis. Sports carnivals, bowling competitions, rifle shootings, picnics, potlucks and card parties are each geared toward the family unit.

The group's interest in Mooseheart and Moosehaven are applications of this general policy.

Recipe Given

Cook extra chili con carne and refrigerate the additional amount; serve it over frankfurters and sprinkle with lots of grated cheddar cheese.

Served with a big salad of salad greens, cucumber and carrot curls, this makes a fine supper.

For the salad use an oil-and-vinegar dressing.

Alter Unit Cares for Linens

WENDELL—Mala purpose of the Altar Society of St. Anthony's church at Wendell, is to care for the altar, the linens, the church and parish hall, and assist with whatever projects are in progress.

Earliest records of the organization of the society date from 1917, when there were four members.

The old fashioned pump organ purchased by the society in 1920, is still being used in the new church on Second Ave. East, completed in 1963.

Throughout the years the altar society has assisted with church dinners, and served meals for bereaved families.

Special projects they assist with include sponsoring a girl at St. Joseph's Children's Home at Cullendale; financing a Girls' State delegate, sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary; and taking part in the Mental Health and polio fund drives.

Money raising projects include dinners for the public, fish dinner in the spring and ham dinner in the fall.

The Altar Society meets the second Thursday evening of each month at the home of the members.

Mrs. W. W. Whitehead is president; Mrs. Charles Miller, vice president; Mrs. Leonard Scherer, secretary; and Mrs. C. Edward Gunning, treasurer.

Bolton, Mrs. Reynolds, Mrs. William Edwards, Mrs. Tipton, Mrs. Radakovich and Mrs. Gardoski. Mrs. Gardoski also is a past state president.

Mrs. Bolton, Mrs. Gardoski, Mrs. Radakovich, Mrs. Lloyd and Mrs. Bertha Babcock are 25-year members.

Aims of the club are purity, steadfastness, loyalty and truthfulness.

The insurance policy that the members subscribe to was at one time open only to women, but in 1957 it was made available to men. The male policy holders have not yet formed a lodge, however.

Woodman Policy Holders Organize Fraternal Group

The Omaha Woodman Lodge was organized in Twin Falls in 1931 by 16 women whose common denominator was an insurance policy.

A fraternal club, the lodge is part of the national Supreme Forest Lodge, and has consolidated nationally with the Woodman of the World. Woodman of the World is an outgrowth of a group of women's clubs which were formed for policyholders of the Woodman Insurance Co.

The biggest project of the group is the support of a home for orphans and the aged in Sherman, Tex. Residents of the home are either policyholders of the company or the children of policy holders. The home has been established for 75 years.

The home provides a high school education at a public school, food, clothing and spending money for the orphans. Every effort is made to dispel the "institution-like" atmosphere that surrounds many orphanages, according to Mrs. Mary Bolton, past president of the group.

"The aged are cared for in a similar manner, and they also benefit from the dignity that comes with 'paying one's own way.'"

"The group annually 'adopts' one of the elderly residents of the Sherman home—sending her greeting cards and birthday and Christmas gifts.

The unit does not neglect community projects in its enthusiasm over the home. Support of heart, cancer and polio drives is another club project. In addition, donations to the Nampa Children's Home and the Easter Seal Clinic are given.

In August, the group presented an American flag to a Boy Scout Pack and in July a plaque of honor was awarded to Willard Swartley in recognition of his outstanding community contributions. The plaque was presented by Paul A. Jones, regional representative for the Woodman Insurance Co.

Also in July, the Southern Idaho Woodman Insurance underwriter spoke to the group on the importance of social activities as a stimulant to interest in the lodge.

Two of the activities currently sponsored by the club include an "Old Home Week" Banquet, in honor of "Click" Crabtree, former Twin Falls resident. Crabtree is the national advertising manager for the Woodman Insurance Co. He now makes his home in the company's headquarters, Omaha, Neb. This banquet is held in November.

Officers of the unit's 50 members are Mrs. Elizabeth Havens, president; Mrs. Boyd Tipton, past president; supervisor, Mrs. R. R. Reynolds, vice president; Mrs. Mae Gardoski, secretary; Mrs. Tipton, treasurer; Mrs. William Wyatt, chaplain; Mrs. Homer Bean, chairman of trustees; Mrs. Addie Radakovich, secretary; and Mrs. Alex Erickson, musician.

Membership is automatic with the purchase of a Woodman Insurance policy.

Next year the group's big event will be the district convention, which is held every two years. The site of the convention has not yet been publicized.

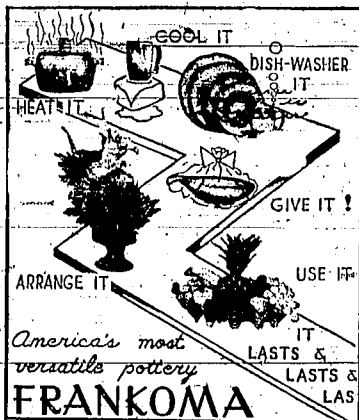

Fund raising activities include card parties and donations, each member donates ten cents at each meeting for the purchase of flowers. These flowers are given, as gifts, to members of the group who enter the hospital.

Club members also purchase gifts for all new-born children or grandchildren of other members.

Seven of the group's past presidents still live in Twin Falls. They are Mrs. T. J. Lloyd, Mrs.

MODELING THE TRADITIONAL, dunes of honored queens in Jobs Daughters are, from left, Diane Warner, honored queen of Bethel No. 19; Margie DeLuca, Bethel No. 43, and Gay Sutcliffe, Bethel No. 56. The terms of these and other officers in Jobs Daughters are limited to six months, to allow more girls an opportunity to exercise their leadership inclinations. The honored queens are all seniors at Twin Falls High School. (Times-News photo)

Jobs Daughters Shatter Youth Image As Poise, Grace Become Order of Day

"Dignity," "poise," and "grace" are adjectives that are certainly not commonly applied to today's stereotyped teenager. One is usually inclined, instead, to conjure up visions of long hair and dirty ankles when confronted with the word "teen-ager."

"Jobbe" is a noun, however, that has different connotations. Dignity, poise and grace are easily applied to a member of Jobs Daughters. The underlying purpose of this organization, is to help and strengthen the character of its members.

There are three Jobs Daughters Bethels in Twin Falls. Each of these chapters features special activities during the year and also participates in projects sponsored in conjunction with the other bethels.

Many of these co-sponsored activities are based on community service. For example, Easter Lily sales are held each year by the bethels, with the proceeds going to the Crippled Children Fund, and carnation sales are sponsored for the American War Mothers.

Other group projects have included style shows, car washes, rummage and cooked food sales, candy sales, calendar sales, kidnap breakfasts, curb numbering and gypsy baskets. "Fun-riding" activities include a dance held with the DeMalays and an annual hayride. A Sister Night, where each honored queen entertains the other bethels, also is held.

A basic tenet of the Jobs Daughters approach to the problems of adolescence is that the responsibilities accepted during Jobbe membership helps to prepare the girls for the heavier responsibilities of adult life. The approach seems to be successful, for many prominent women in the world today are former Jobbes.

An example is offered in the form of Cheryl Cook, 1968 Miss Idaho, who was a member of Twin Falls Bethel No. 19.

To start a bethel, five girls must be in membership to receive permission from the state grand guard and council and have 19 members. A girl with 4 members is a junior, and any Jobs Daughters bethel to join.

The history of the Twin Falls Jobs Daughters goes back to 1904. Bethel No. 19, which is the oldest, celebrated its 20th anniversary last year. Its 20 charter members were organized by Mrs. T. C. Dawson, who was the group's first guardian. Bethel 19, which received its charter in June, 1940, was responsible for the institution of the other two bethels. Bethel No. 43 was organized in 1954 by Rachel Sluyter, guardian; Floyd Huller, associate guardian and Ada Bork, grand guardian. Margaret Pryor was first honored queen of the 72 charter members.

Bethel No. 56 was chartered May, 1961, with 39 charter members. The majority of the members were transfers from Bethels 19 and 43. This third group was organized to give more girls an opportunity to participate actively in the club.

Organized by Helen Welch, grand guardian, and Mrs. Erma Scott, first guardian, Bethel No. 56 now has 91 members—making it the largest of the trio. The structure of the bethels includes the five line officers, for which elections are held every six months. A girl serves six months in each office until she becomes honored queen.

Current line officers of Bethel No. 56 are Gay Sutcliffe, queen; Marilyn Olmstead, senior princess; Linda Harter, junior princess; Kathy Griffith, guide and Carol Stafford, marshal.

Margie DeLuca, queen; Jan Sinclair, senior princess; Janice Nelson, junior princess; Linda Jones, guide; and Debbie Thompson, marshal, are the officers of the 78 members of Bethel No. 43.

Honored queen Diane Warner reigns over the 82 members of Bethel No. 19. Her officers are Carolyn Olmstead, senior princess; Jane Anderson, junior princess; Linda Sierup, guide, and Sandra Hinkins, marshal.

"I enjoy meeting people and making new friends," says a girl new to the organization. "It helps me to understand different walks of life," commented Miss Warner in answer to a question concerning why she liked Jobbes.

Bethel No. 19, as the oldest unit, assumes an informal position of leadership among the other two bethels. A special activity of the unit is the annual Christmas wreath sale for support of the group's general fund.

A fashion show, sponsored by the Paris and Branda's at Britches, also was held last year in the Bishop Rhea auditorium. This show, open to the public, featured a woman's suit from the 1940's and a gown from the 1950's.

The value from such style shows, aside from financial aspects, is the opportunity it gives the girls who want to try their hand at modeling. For many it is the only such opportunity they will ever have, and for others it is a stepping stone to a full-time career.

The "Madras Marchers," the only bethel drill team in Twin Falls, was organized last year by Bethel No. 19. The team marches for Sister Night, grand session and on any other occasion which calls for their services. A cake walk was held this year to provide the team's uniforms.

Mr. and Mrs. Duane Harrison, guardian and associate guardian of Bethel No. 19, were given honorary memberships by the group this year. This, according to Mrs. Harrison, is "a real honor" and the Harrisons are duly proud of the recognition accorded them.

A box social with the girls' fathers was another activity of the group this year. Attendance at the grand council meeting was a real bonanza for Bethel No. 19. Among other things, the girls took home a grand sweepstakes prize for their scrapbook, a silver cup first prize for librarians register, which was won by Betty Hankel.

Other activities of this group include song fests for both Masonic men's organizations and the Tenthilling of Masons, secret fathers. A slumber party also is held during the summer.

Gayle Fisher was Bethel No. 19 guide of the year. A choral group, the "Singing J.D.s," is the special feature of Bethel No. 43. This group took first prize in a state-wide Jobs Daughters choral group competition at Caldwell.

The "Singing J.D.s" sang at the reunion that was held for Miss Idaho and performed again at the grand council tent show, where they were treated with another raffle.

Bonnie Larson, Bethel No. 43 member, was last year's grand newspaper of the grand council meeting. All titles preceded with "grand" designate a state office.

A dance sale, chili sale and the raffle of a hip hugger outfit were this year's fund raising activities for Bethel No. 43. In addition, a candy and box social were held to raise money for the unit's promotional and educational fund. The 1961 group also planned a take-off on a Masonic Lodge meeting for a gathering of the Kaylor Lodge No. 94. Marsha Catterson was Bethel No. 43 Jobbe of the Term.

Bethel No. 56, the youngest of the trio, carries the club young theme through to its membership lists. The average age of the girls in this bethel is much lower than that of the other bethels.

A Christmas bazaar, with a candy and conky sale, was held by Bethel No. 56 for its general expenses. A promotional and educational project was the construction of Easter Bunny hand puppets. A traveling basket and rummage sale also were sponsored.

Stephanie Dick was Bethel No. 56 Jobbe of the Term.

Marilyn Olmstead, Bethel No. 56, was the grand chaplain at the grand council meeting. The group was another winner of the silver cup, which is given bethels who have perfect attendance at all grand council meetings.

Council members of Bethel

No. 19, or adult advisors, are Mrs. Harrison, guardian; Duane Harrison, associate guardian; Francis Reed, secretary; Vera Wyllie, treasurer, and Mrs. Valene Couch, music director.

Members of the executive council of Bethel No. 43 are Lola Sonius, guardian; James Catterson, associate guardian; Orrille Sinclair, secretary; Betty Davis, treasurer, and Shirley DeLuca, music director. Bethel No. 56's council members are Mrs. Frank Jenkins, guardian; Richard Harter, associate guardian; Mrs. Robert Watson, secretary; Mrs. William Finney, treasurer, and Mrs. James Kinney, music director.

Each bethel meets bi-monthly at the Masonic Lodge. One of the biggest affairs of the year for Jobbes is the visit of the grand guardian of Idaho, Margaret Harrell of Nampa. Mrs. Harrell paid special visits to the local bethels in succession this year. Bethel No. 19 was visited in September; Bethel No. 43 in October and Bethel 56 in March.

The religious tenor of Jobs Daughters is emphasized with the special Go-to-Church Sunday that each honored queen must sponsor before she can receive her pin.

A very special event last year for the Jobbes was the bethel visit of the supreme guardian, Marietta Wright. This was the supreme guardian's first visit to Twin Falls and her first two years to Idaho.

Prior to the supreme guardian's visit, a banquet for the Jobbes, with the grand council officers, the past grand matron of the Order of the Eastern Star, the supreme second messenger of Jobbes and the past grand guardian of Idaho, Olga Lish, was held.

Immediately after this banquet at the Depot Grill, the Jobbes adjourned for a speaking at the Robert Stuart Junior High where the ritualistic work of the past year was exemplified.

Other activities of the bethels have included serving at the OES No. 28 Past Matrons night and entertaining at the Kaylor anniversary celebration. They also presented the opening and closing ceremonies for the visit of the worthy grand matron of OES No. 52's visit.

Officers Listed for Filer OES

FILER—Mrs. Raymond Reichert is worthy Matron of Filer Chapter 40 of Order of Eastern Star this year. Everett Bonnichsen serves as worthy patron.

Other-elective officers for this year include Mr. and Mrs. Duane Ramsay as patron and associate patron; Mrs. P. J. Hawkins, conductress; Mrs. Clinton Dougherty, associate conductress; Mrs. William Rude, secretary; and Mrs. Harold Peterson, treasurer.

Mrs. Elsie Lathen, Portlath, welcomed the members of the Grand Chapter of Idaho, made her official visit to the Filer Chapter Sept. 26. A luncheon was given and was followed by a school of instruction for the officers and all other interested members. An evening meeting was held and the ritualistic work of the chapter.

A newsletter was instituted the past year and has proven very successful. Members receive each receives a mimeographed copy monthly with the exception of July and August when the chapter is in recess. Included in the letter are pertinent bits of news concerning members, meeting notices of business to be transacted, and a short resume of accomplishments of the most recent meetings.

This newsletter is especially appreciated by members who have moved from the area or those unable to attend meetings.

A year ago, the chapter undertook the project of helping finance the cupping-of-the-Filer Masonic Hall. The Masons assumed the remainder of payment after the carpet was installed but the OES chapter contributed more than $200 to get the project under way.

To raise money for the various projects undertaken by the chapter, dinners are served to groups and rummage sales are conducted. The past several years the chapter has also entered the flower competition at the Twin Falls County Fair. Occasionally money for a special project is raised through a card party or book review.

The group makes yearly contributions to the summer recreation program. Girls' State delegates, the House Children's Home and the Shriners' Hospital, Salt Lake City. It also raises money for cancer and heart funds.

ESTARI, meaning Eastern Star Training Awards for Religious Leadership, receives a sum of money each year. Loren L. Drake, son of Mr. and Mrs. Loren G. Drake, received $200 this year to help further his education.

These scholarships are free gifts, awarded to deserving students who have completed two or more years of college work in the religious field. ESTARI is a project of General Grand Chapter. Interested persons may inquire of any Eastern Star member for information on how to apply for an award.

Annual Grand Chapter has approved the sponsorship of the Order of the Rainbow for Girls, Filer Assembly No. 3 is not sponsored by the Filer OES Chapter. It is under the sponsorship of a group of interested chapter members and Masons who form an adult-adviser board.

The assembly had been formed several years before the Idaho Grand Chapter granted approval of the organization, and since the system as organized is working well, there has been no reason for changing the sponsorship at the present time.

Mrs. Reichert recently was appointed to serve as a member of the Grand Executive Board of Washington and Idaho of the Order of the Rainbow for Girls.

Two auxiliary organizations are affiliated with the Order of Eastern Star. One is the Past Matrons' Club which is limited in membership to ladies who have served as worthy matron. Mrs. Everett Bonnichsen is president. Mrs. L. W. Lavigne, vice president, and Mrs. Elwood McCauley, secretary-treasurer. The Filer Past Matrons will entertain the district organization this month with a luncheon followed by a business meeting.

The other auxiliary organization is the Star-Sun Club which meets monthly usually at the home of a member, for a no-host luncheon. Membership is open to any member of the chapter. Mrs. Don Albin is current president.

4 Square Club Has Project

FILER—The Four Square Club looks forward to Christmas Time when, in place of a gift exchange among members, the group fills boxes of cookies and candles and takes them to the elderly residents at the Filer Hotel.

This project has brought happiness both to the givers and the receivers.

Mrs. Clarence Peterson is club president; Mrs. Larry Schafer, vice president; Mrs. Earl Johnson, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Fred Munyon, reporter.

Meetings are held the second Wednesday of the month at the homes of members. A family picnic was held at the fairgrounds this summer and husbands of members are entertained at a banquet during the year.

This club also donates to several community charity drives and to the Filer Public Library.

Naomi Unit Grew From Ladies Aid

DECO—Next to the oldest women's organization in the Deco area is the Naomi Circle of the United Presbyterian Women's Union.

This unit was originally the Ladies-Aid Society of the Deco Community Church and the minutes of their first meeting are dated Aug. 19, 1919. Twenty ladies gathered at the tiny frame church to organize their society.

Elected to serve as first president was Mrs. Arch McLean, now of Burley. She was assisted by Mrs. J. H. Price, first vice president; Mrs. L. B. Oliver, second vice president, and Mrs. George Hartman, secretary-treasurer.

A constitution was drawn up by Mrs. Price, Mrs. Patrick and Mrs. Minnie Cooley.

The minutes state that the society "will charge one dollar for an afternoon's work." This would indeed be quite a bargain today to be able to hire 40 busy hands for one dollar, officers note.

The lot that the church was built on was donated by Mrs. Minnie Cooley.

Some of the original members of 1921 were Mrs. O. H. Draz, Mrs. Hugh Allen, Mrs. Charles Finley, Mrs. McLean, Mrs. John Lee, Mrs. J. H. Price, Mrs. George Hartman, Mrs. J. C. Patrick, Mrs. L. A. Marigold, Mrs. Charles Wickett, Mrs. William Smother, Mrs. C. A. Logan, Mrs. J. S. Sotters, Mrs. G. Hite, Miss Mamie Reynolds, Mrs. George McGougal and Mrs. L. H. Collier.

In 1958, the membership of the Deco Community Church joined with the Burley Presbyterian Church. At this time the Ladies Aid Society adopted the name of the Naomi Circle, honoring Mrs. Naomi Finley, the oldest living member.

Mrs. Finley still attends some of the meetings, even though she is in her eighties and resides at the Burley Nursing Home. Last spring the club paid special tribute to Mrs. Finley on her birthday and presented her with a corsage.

Times were not always easy for the membership prior to the merging with the Presbyterian church.

Mrs. Clifford Sutton recalls in about 1939 members would gather kindling wood in sacks to burn in the tiny stove in their meeting house when they met for an all-day quilting bee or work day.

The particular meeting she recalled was at the home of Esther Peterson, northeast of Deco, when all the ladies went into the apple orchard to gather the chips and pieces of wood.

Goodwill projects are sponsored by the funds raised from bazaar, quilting bees and rummage sales.

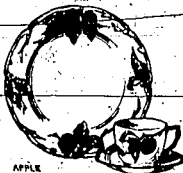

The group donates frequently to the Presbyterian Missionary and Christian Education Funds. Every two weeks, a study lesson is given by one of the members. The last year, the lessons were on the Life of Christ and were prepared by the Presbyterian Board.

Present-officers are Mrs. J. B. Gotsche, chairman; Mrs. Nova Dalton, secretary, and Mrs. Richard Kerbs, treasurer. After 57 years of continuous service to the community, the Naomi Circle is still an active and stimulating group.

Extension Club Council Rules "Army" Of Rolling Pin-Carrying Housewives

With a stack of unironed ironing behind them and a rolling pin for a banner, the informal army of women's homemaking clubs daily marches toward its goal — easier, faster, more efficient homemaking. In back of this effort is the Twin Falls County Extension Homemakers Club Council.

The function of the council is to coordinate the homemaking clubs' efforts to develop leadership skills, continue social education and the understanding of today's world, maintain interest in the family role in modern society, and develop abilities in homemaking.

To carry out these goals, the council meets five times a year to plan a constructive project each month for all 19 home demonstration clubs it governs. The council prepares a list of study and demonstration topics from which the clubs choose their individual projects.

Examples of the past year's topics include "Invitation to Dining," with concerned terpsichols, tablesetting and other fine points of elegant dining; "Stretch Your Dollar," concerning family financing and budgeting; "Let's Communicate for Better Understanding," or speak softly but carry a nice willow stick, and "A Safe Home," warning of the dangers of pesticides and insecticides.

Other topics concerned home decoration, year beautification, sewing, pastry making, rug care, handicrafts and Christmas decorating ideas.

A total of 900 women are reached through the 19 affiliated home demonstration clubs and the 12 non-affiliated groups.

The council is composed of the presidents of each of the 19 affiliated clubs and their secretaries and the chairmen of the eight standing committees of the council.

Council officers are Mrs. Ben Eldredge, president; Mrs. Wesley Sonius, vice president; Mrs. Howard Runk, secretary, and Mrs. Ray Montgomery, treasurer.

Committee chairmen are Mrs. C. J. Boss, citizenship; Mrs. O. H. Higgins, civil defense; Mrs. John Orbel, health; Mrs. Max Allen, safety; Mrs. John Orbel, international relations; Mrs. Charles Potluck, family life; and Mrs. Willis Glans, publicity.

Council representatives receive demonstrations and lessons on the council's various project topics to take back to their clubs.

"The purposes of this council shall be to expand the extension program in home economics and agriculture, to unify the work of twenty home demonstration councils, to discover needs and problems of homemakers, to cooperate with other agencies and organizations and to extend the scope of interest among women to include national situations in recognizing women's responsibilities." This is a formal statement of the group's aims.

The biggest current activity of the council is the "Agnes Hurst Memorial Fund" project. A marathon cooked food sale to raise money for the memorial, which will probably be a large building at the 4-H camp, is now in the planning stages.

Another important project of the group this year was the organization of a new home demonstration club for the elderly citizens at Sunview Courts. This group, the Silver and Gold Club, offers a means of earning pin money for its members and provides a social outlet for them. There are currently 20 members in the unit.

The council was organized in 1944, although the first home demonstration club, the Salmon

MRS. BEN ELDRIDGE

Tract Homemakers Club, existed in 1933.

All programs planned by the council are carried out locally and are part of the University of Idaho's extension service for continuing education.

Mrs. Charles Potluck, temporary home agent, is responsible for compiling the council's list of project topics and lesson plans. Mrs. Lickley is the advisor to the council.

Social activities planned by the council for all the clubs include an August picnic, Christmas party, county-wide Christmas idea exchange and installation of council officers.

Details such as hotel or motel facilities for banquets or district and state conventions are also arranged by the council.

This year the group hosted the state convention which was held at the Elk's Building.

Three council luncheons are planned each year. This year, an additional luncheon, with a memorial ceremony for the late Mrs. Agnes Hurst, past home agent, was held at the Holiday Inn.

"Mrs. Hurst's absence is felt throughout the county," commented Mrs. Eldredge.

She was an excellent leader and devoted to her job, she continued.

The teaching of several skills is homemaking is perpetually on the council's agenda. These skills include management of family finance, competence in consumer buying, food and nutrition programs, good grooming, ("Wives should always be layers too") and family health and safety.

Besides teaching these skills, the council directs civic or philanthropic activities, such as the Red Cross and cancer drives. The council is also interested in civil defense and medical self-help. It encourages clubs to sew for nursing homes, sponsor 4-H clubs or buy books for libraries.

Thus, the sun sinks slowly in the west, "Tips for Easy Ironing" obliterates that stack of un-ironed ironing; "Pastry Pointers" put flour on the rolling pin, and our informal army marches ever onward.

Rebekah Club Helps Lodge

GOODING—The Rebekah Club of Gooding is a fellowship group of members of the Rebekah Lodge who meet monthly at the IOOF Hall for a 1 p.m. luncheon.

The club started as a past noble grand club in 1913. In 1917 the club disbanded because of war work, and meetings later were resumed in homes with Red Cross work and refreshments.

In 1922 the group became a study club known as the M. S. Club, and in 1940 the name was changed back to the Rebekah Club.

Objectives of the group include the study to promote the aims of the Rebekah Lodge, extend fellowship to new members and to aid in community projects.

Some of the projects of the local group during the past have been to furnish the kitchen in the IOOF hall; Red Cross work, contributions to the Gooding Memorial Hospital Auxiliary for projects at the hospital, furnishing materials and doing work for the Tuberculosis Hospital, sponsoring a student at the Idaho State School for the Deaf and Blind.

Members furnished a room for the boys at the Idaho Youth Ranch, Rupert, donated food to the Rebekah Home at Caldwell and to the Children's Home at Boise, furnished playground equipment and classroom needs for the students at the Opportunity room for retarded children at the public school.

The list of contributions includes the many welfare drives conducted each year, such as Cancer, Heart Fund, etc.

Mrs. H. M. Thompson, is current president of the group.

Mennonite Unit Gives Service

FILLER — The Filler Mennonite Women's Missionary Service Auxiliary is a service organization in the name of the church.

Members work on many different projects such as making quilts, comforters, and other kinds of sewing, and the finished products are sent for relief. The women also have made soap and canned fruits and vegetables to send for relief, and at Christmas time they make up special bundles of materials and clothing.

The annual reorganization meeting is held in October. Mrs. James Miller is current president; Mrs. Clifford Slater is vice president, and Mrs. Jacob Kauffman, secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Slater will assume the presidency for the coming year. The group convenes monthly at the church for all-day work meetings with a potluck dinner served at noon. Once a year the day meeting is changed to an evening meeting which is attended by members and their families and all work together on projects.

WOULD YOU BELIEVE the Peticoat Pollys have a donkey for a mascot? Well then, would you believe an elephant? This Republican women's organization was formed to promote the ideals of the GOP party, and Mrs. L. James Koutlik, left, and Mrs. Robert Stephan are mapping out a course of action to achieve this end. (Times-News photo)

Pollys Foster Loyalty, Service to GOP Party

The Peticoat Pollys, an organization which is similar to the Twin Falls County Republican Women's Club, was formed to foster and encourage loyalty to the Republican Party and promote its ideals; to educate women voters in the science of government, and to cooperate in the election of the party's nominees.

The Pollys, which is the more informal of the two groups, was organized for the benefit of those women who were not free to attend the meetings of the Republican Women's Club, which are held at night.

Although it supports the Republican Party, the club is primarily a study group.

Voting, party organization, medicare, public power vs. private power, governmental legislation in Idaho industries and the United States Constitution are a few subjects the club has studied.

Formed in the spring of 1963, the 10 charter members of the group elected Mrs. James Sinclair first president.

Membership in the club, which is open to all women who subscribe to the Republican philosophy, fluctuates from 40, in off-years, to much more during election years.

Current officers are Mrs. Robert Stephan, president; Mrs. John Detweiler, vice president; Mrs. James Sinclair, secretary; and Mrs. Dave Lawrence, treasurer.

Usually featured at the group's monthly meetings are speakers on the current study area. National committeewoman Queen Barnett, the secretary of the state senate, Jean Smith, and the state president of the Federation of Republican women, Mrs. Luella Baum, are among this year's featured speakers.

A special event this past year was the visit of the National Federation of Republican Women's president, Dorothy Ellston. The group co-hosted, in conjunction with the Republican Women, the open-house and luncheon which was held for Gov. Robert E. Smylie during his May visit to Twin Falls.

Both the special events and all the group's meetings are open to the public.

Election time, with its influx of members, also brings a rather hectic step-up in the club's various activities. Study areas suffer momentarily, as the group devotes itself to presenting as many Republican primary candidates to the public as is possible.

The unit follows a policy of complete impartiality prior to the primary, and undivided support to the winning candidate after the primary.

Reapportionment and convention procedures have been studied this past year.

Contributions the Pollys have made during election time include sponsoring an open house for the candidates, helping precinct committeemen in door-to-door canvassing and generally assisting the Republican Central Committee through any means available to them.

Many of the efforts of the group to familiarize the public with the choice of candidates have an unexpected bonus in the form of social relaxation. The poolside party at the home of William Peters, to which all pre-primary candidates for state and county office were invited, is one example.

Another bonus-party was the picnic, held in conjunction with the Pioneer Days celebration, in honor of Charles Halleck, for Inc. House minority leader from Indiana.

Both of these events were co-

Lutheran Guild Has Projects

FILER—Peace Guild of Peace Lutheran Church gained four new members this year which now makes a total of 18 women. As a service organization of the church, it carries out many projects during the year.

Mrs. William Yoder is president; Mrs. Ralph Pielstick, vice president; Mrs. Eddie Lammers, secretary, and Mrs. Walter Mueller, treasurer. A Christian Growth secretary and members of the special occasions, sewing, and visiting committees are appointed by the executive board.

A number of the meetings this year have been in the Fellowship Hall of the new church and summer meetings were held in the evenings instead of the afternoons. Members take turns sponsored by the Pollys and the Republican Women's Club.

Decorating and assisting with the annual Lincoln Day banquet is another big event for the club.

Democratic women are cordially invited to all of the group's activities, but are warned in advance that the for will be. Lady-like women aren't lady-like when it comes to arguing politics.

at being hostesses. "The Guild visits and sends cards and gifts to ill members of the congregation during the year" and at Christmas sends boxes to ill and shut-in members.

A dinner for the new minister and his family was hosted by the group and a baby shower was given for the minister's wife. The Guild served a luncheon for the Good Shepherd Guild of the area and a chili supper for the Walther League.

Mrs. W. H. Dierker, the oldest member, was honored at the May meeting and was presented a gift and a corsage.

The women serve at wedding receptions and were in charge of refreshments for the Vacation Bible School. A monthly potluck supper for the entire congregation is sponsored by the Guild.

Clothing drives for world relief are aided by the group and a local family was helped with clothing when the father became ill. The Guild provides fresh flowers and plants for the church altar during the winter.

A current project is furnishing the church kitchen with silverware and dishes.

Highland View Club Promotes Neighborhood

The Twin Falls—Highland View Club was originally formed to promote friendship and integration among the members of the Highland View neighborhood.

Mrs. George Fuller, the only charter member still active in the club, notes that "We've been together so long, there's a feeling of kinship that many clubs lack." The club was organized in 1921 by 14 neighbors. "United effort toward self improvement, mutual helpfulness and the raising of the standard of living in the community" was chosen as the club motto.

The group has, over the years, given quilts for the Idaho Youth Ranch and sent donations of canned fruit, clothing and money to the Boise Children's Home. The Cancer Society, Heart Fund and Red Cross also have been aided by the club. Early social activities of the club included card parties, home games, ice cream suppers for mothers and their husbands and birthday anniversary dinners.

Picnics, dinners, a Christmas party, potluck suppers and war-menken feeds are a few of the recent events.

Special programs are planned for nearly every meeting, with a guideline being events of an educational and informative nature, according to Mrs. Walter Goodman, current president of the club.

This year's program, highlight was presented by Herman Carrel, Rupert, the son of one of the club members. Carrel showed some films of one of his trips to Equador. The films were beautiful as well as intriguing, Mrs. Goodman said.

A particularly interesting scene from the movies concerned an Equadoran palm-oil process, by which date palm berries are converted into palm oil.

Mrs. Clifton Lowe, vice president of the group, mentioned that the program chairman attempt to bring in a new topic for each meeting. "We are trying to broaden ourselves, intellectually — not physically. Although we do serve desserts at our meetings," she said.

Other examples of recent programs include small quizzes on well-read articles, flowers or words of the Bible. Each meeting is followed by a social hour and closed with a benediction. Officers are Mrs. Goodman, president; Mrs. Lowe, vice president; Mrs. R. L. Fielstick, secretary; treasurer, and Mrs. Gladys Barfield, reporter. There are now 15 members. Since club meetings are held in members' homes, a membership limit has been set at 25 in order to avoid overcrowding.

Election Dinner Held by WSCS

RICHFIELD—Richfield WSCS annual public dinners will feature the election day dinner again this year. The Christmas bazaar will be held at the same time on Nov. 8.

Plans for the Community Church improvement call for aid by the women's group in painting the Methodist Church and further kitchen improvement. The WSCS regularly pays the church electricity and part of the fuel bill.

Meetings are held once a month in the summer with bi-monthly meetings resumed in September at the home of Mrs. Saddle Rider.

Officers are Mrs. Myrtle Riley, president; Mrs. Albert Pelley, vice president; Mrs. J. S. Seward, secretary; and Mrs. C. M. Primrose, treasurer.

MIX FOR FLAVOR

Sour cream has fewer calories than mayonnaise, so if weightwatching is on your mind, it's a good idea to mix the two for a salad.

Sugar Cup Reflects Unit's Goal

Almost as traditional as watermelon in July is the neighborhood resident who runs out of sugar, and his perennial measuring cup might well be the symbol of the Addison Avenue Club.

"Help One Another" is the group's motto.

The club was organized in 1922 by residents of the East Addison Avenue area. Membership was at first restricted to this area, but it is now possible for club members to remain in the group after moving from Addison.

Objects of the unit are improvement of the home and the social life of the community. Civic projects, such as donations to fund drives for Red Cross, Cancer Society, Community Chest and March of Dimes, also are undertaken.

Officers of the 14 members are Mrs. A. W. Schrank, president; Mrs. Earl Walker, vice president; Mrs. Herman Wamman, secretary; and Mrs. Al-

Pierce, treasurer. The group meets twice a month.

Programs are centered around items of interest to members, such as fashions, flower arranging or painting. The club's roll call features "something special," according to Mrs. Schrank. A short poem or news item might be included in this roll call.

The group is not strictly social, even though it is somewhat limited in the scope of its worthwhile contributions by its size. A special project last year was the group's donation to a babysitting fund for a speech therapist at the Cerebral Palsy School, whose work was completely volunteer.

The Boise Children's Home and the Youth Ranch in Rupert have also benefited from the club's donations.

White elephant sales and rummage sales finance these projects.

Social activities include a Christmas party, a Founder's Day celebration, a summer breakfast, a Valentine party in honor of the husbands and a family picnic at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. McGuire. The carillon is the club flower and an informal theme song could possibly be "Hi Neighbor!"

Self-Improvement Is Toastmistress' Goal

"Self-improvement" is a capsule summation of the purpose of the Magic Valley Toastmistress Club, according to the group's president, Mrs. Douglas Vollmer.

More specifically, members of the club learn how to expedite meetings for greatest efficiency and accompaniment; to be more comfortable and consequently more effective when speaking in public, and how to deliver book reviews with finesse.

Areas of study covered at the group's meeting include analytical listening, parliamentary procedure, the elimination of repetition in business meetings and training for self expression in speech and competitive speaking.

Members learn how to handle such interruptions as noise or inattention.

The group was organized in 1953 by 30 charter members. Membership is limited to the number of charterers.

The unit's outstanding member is Mrs. Sterling Vaughn, 1956 winner of the International Toastmistress Club's National Speech Contest. Mrs. Vaughn is well-known in Magic Valley for her wit and charm as an after-dinner speaker.

The ITC contest was held in New Orleans and Mrs. Vaughn's prize winning speech was in the humorous division. Humorous speeches are the most difficult to present, for nothing is more painful than dead silence where, by rights, laughter should be.

Mrs. Vaughn is the first-area toastmistress to win the national contest.

The club's meetings, in addition to the study topics, also feature one long prepared speech and several impromptu two-minute talks.

Membership is open to anyone. Those interested in joining are meeting.

MRS. DOUGLAS VOLLMER

asked simply to contact a member and attend a meeting with her.

Officers are Mrs. Vollmer, president; Mrs. L. Hansen, vice president; Mrs. Robert Davis, secretary, and Mrs. Ethel Martin, treasurer.

The club also features several outside speakers during the year. Last year, a skit on parliamentary procedures was presented by the Future Farmers of America.

Social activities are few, since the club is primarily educational rather than social or service. A summer picnic, however, is planned each year, for members and their guests.

The unit is ideal for those who cringe at the thought of presenting any sort of speech to any sort of group. All speeches are carefully evaluated and general hints on different phases of public speaking are given at each meeting.

THE OMICRON CHAPTER of Beta Sigma Phi is primarily a social organization for young women. The chapter is a ritual of jewels group, second in a series that was designed to enable members to enjoy membership in a similar interest group even as they interest others. From left, are Gwen Gyer, treasurer of the chapter; Mrs. Michael Tegan, president; and Jackie Bartlett, vice president. (Times-News photo)

USE LEFTOVERS

Pineapple syrup leftover from canned pineapple slices used in a salad or upside-down cake? Melt in brown sugar and mustard with the syrup and use as the base for a baked ham.

Cultural, Social Theme Is Used By Unit Chapter

The various programs of Beta Sigma Phi, Omicron chapter, are planned to emphasize the cultural and social aspects of the group's activities. Greek names: Life, Living, and Friendship.

Charitable projects are also included in the club's programs. Founded in Twin Falls in 1943, the Omicron Chapter was the first club in the Magic Valley area to adopt a needy family for a year — providing the children with toys and clothes.

This policy has since been discontinued and donations to March of Dimes, Heart Fund and Cancer drives have been established in its stead.

The group also regularly contributes to an international endowment fund which is used for a members' retirement home, research on cystic fibrosis and other international projects.

Another philanthropic project the group has sponsored was the provision of a record player and records for the pediatric ward at the Magic Valley Memorial Hospital.

These various activities were instrumental in procuring for the chapter the International Three Star Award — the highest award given a local chapter by the International organization.

More recent activities include the December Christmas tree sale, during which members sold Christmas trees for the School for Mentally Retarded Children in Twin Falls. Over $150 was raised for the school.

Highlighting the cultural phase of the sorority is this year's theme: Beauty. Lectures in connection with this theme have included such topics as modeling, painting displays, planetarium visits and others.

Just cultural themes have been "Art of Living" and "Conduct and Expression of Purpose."

The Omicron Chapter was founded in 1943 by 20 charter members who were sponsored by Mrs. C. H. Desviller.

Half of the group's monthly meetings are devoted to cultural pursuits and social get-togethers comprise the remaining half.

A fall style show and preparations to induct a Beta Sigma Phi chapter of Twin Falls Junior College students are this year's outstanding events.

The new chapter will include college girls between the ages of 17-21. The project has been termed the "friendly venture" and its chairman is Mrs. Marian Simpson. The International board will assign a name to the new group.

Social functions this year included a Christmas party for members and their husbands or dates, a Valentine dinner and dance, summer picnics, float party, teas and coffee hours.

Current officers are Mrs. Michael Tegan, president; Jackie Bartlett, vice president; Gwen Gyer, treasurer; Clara Burner, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Laurence Vacera, recording secretary. Membership is 20.

Prospective members, or pledges, are drawn into the sorority only through invitation or bid. Pledges attend teas and get-togethers once a week during rush, which is held in October and March.

Seven members of the chapter attended the Quadri-state Convention, an annual event which is sponsored by the national organization. This year's convention was held at the Driest Hotel and representatives from Wyoming, Idaho, Utah and Nevada attended.

Members of the Omicron Chapter "really have a good time" while learning to adjust themselves to their environments, according to Mrs. Tegan.

SKILLET TIPS LISTED
It's better to use a small skillet (6 to 8 inches) than a griddle when you are making thin French-type pancakes. Hold the hot well-buttered skillet off the heat as you pour in the batter, then swirl the skillet so that the batter covers the bottom. Cook the pancakes quickly.

Green Thumbs Plus Dirt Is Garden Club Formula

"Green is the color of my true love's thumb," and there are 45 "true loves" in the Twin Falls Garden Club.

Green thumbs, spades and dirt are the intrinsic tools of the group's approach to its goal of helping nature beauty Idaho. Other club goals are the study of horticulture, soils, garden design, methods of insect and disease control and the inspiring of amateur horticultural practices in general.

Formed by eight women in November, 1938, the club was formally organized in September, 1939. Mrs. F. R. Lawson, an early leader of the unit, became its first president.

In November, 1953, when the club joined the state federation of garden clubs, it widened its scope by sponsoring a junior garden club.

Mrs. Russell Milnor is the leader of the junior club. The club, which, written by Rae Lawson of Twin Falls, dictates in poetry the aims of the group: "God grant us the strength of our hands and the beauty of our hearts . . . that the seeds we plant will be a source of inspiration to our neighbors and friends . . . and make for a more beautiful America."

Projects of the club during the past year include landscaping plans for the YMCA-YWCA, tree planting at Sunny View Courts and acting as one of the hosts for the state garden club convention in June in Twin Falls.

Canning demonstrations for residents of Hazel Dell Manor was another new project, begun in March.

During yearly applications to participate in the Sears Roebuck Foundation grant of $2,000, given annually to the Idaho Federation of Garden Clubs, the local club has earned three awards towards the $1 landscaping project.

Other projects of the group include assisting the Chamber of Commerce in planting tree boxes in the downtown area and organizing a committee to persuade merchants to plant tree boxes in front of their establishments.

The club was recently awarded a $50 grant from the Richfield Oil corporation for its beautification efforts at Sunny View Courts. This award was used for the planting of additional trees in the housing project area.

Support of the "Miss Ida Hoe" garden publication, the state anti-litter campaign and the five-course flower show school in Jerome are other aspects of the group's programs.

The Twin Falls club boasts three members who are nationally-accredited to judge flower shows anywhere in the United States. They are Mrs. Sidney W. Smith, president of the group, Mrs. John Platt and Mrs. Sam Porter.

The club has staged flower shows since 1940. In 1957, the first Christmas show was held. Last year this show was held at the Rogerson Motor Inn and rated a blue ribbon in state awards.

Two series of flower show judging schools sponsored by the club and open to the public have brought speakers on horticulture, flower show practice and flower arrangement to the area.

The group's monthly meetings are devoted to ways and means of turning green thumbs greener. All phases of horticulture are included in the club's programs, including planting, grafting and pruning demonstrations; slides, papers and lectures by members and authoritative speakers and book and magazine reviews.

Plant exchanges and special floral exhibits are also featured.

Horticultural News, a monthly feature, handled by club members is another important contribution of the group to the community. This feature supplies basic information on items of interest to the gardener, including such topics as fall bulbs, lilacs, shrubs for fall, annuals and softwood cuttings.

The club is a member of the American Iris Society and the American Rose Society.

One of the largest in the state, the Twin Falls Garden Club has

Jay-C-Ettes Are New at Shoshone

SHOSHONE — About the newest women's organization in Shoshone is the Jay-C-Ettes, organized in April, 1964.

Primary purpose of the club is as an auxiliary to the Jaycees, to encourage Jaycee husbands and to be ready to help them anytime they want help with projects.

Mrs. Frank Garrett was the first president. Under her leadership the new club got off to a good start, other members state.

Each year the women have held a concession sale at the Little League ball park during the tournament. With funds raised they have contributed to purchase of new uniforms for summer baseball.

In the fall the Jaycees and Jay-C-Ettes sponsor a county talent show. Young people throughout Lincoln County are urged to try out for the show.

contributed to the national headquarters' building fund at St. Louis. The club has hosted four state conventions.

Officers are Mrs. Smith, president; Mrs. James Reynolds, vice president; Mrs. Ivan Pierce, recording secretary; Mrs. R. C. Lawson, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Victor Nelson, treasurer.

"Let's Beautify America" is the theme for this year's garden club activities. All green thumbs, with the people attached, are welcome to join in the group's crusade.

The stage is set with microphones and a large spotlight is used.

This provides the youth with opportunity to perform before a large crowd under ideal conditions. All talent is judged categorically and prizes awarded.

Contributions for necessary items at the Wood River Convalescent Center and gifts for persons without family have been purchased in past years.

In addition to yearly projects, the Jay-C-Ettes try to extend community endeavor.

They have sponsored a cooked food sale for the Easter Seal Center each year and have helped test the hearing of students of Shoshone schools. Contributions have been to the swimming pool fund, the Convalescent Center, baseball uniforms and others.

During the 1964-1965 year the State Jay-C-Ette project was State Hospital North at Orfino. The club sent needed items as well as adopted a patient there.

For the 1965-1966 year, Mrs. Clarence Magoffin was named president. The project is the Booth Memorial hospital. The club members toured the home in Boise and donated many articles needed for the girls there.

Through the year the club distributed "Americanism" manuscripts through the schools in Lincoln County and donated a framed set of 12 to the Shoshone Public library. The Jay-C-Ettes conducted both the Muscular Dystrophy Drive and the March of Dimes campaign during the year. They also assisted with the bloodmobile.

A float was built and entered in the Lincoln County Parade and a display booth was set up at the fair grounds.

Mrs. Magoffin is the secretary this year and Mrs. Sue Swanner is the president.

EXAMINING A LIST of planned activities for the Past Matrons Club are Mrs. James Miller, left, and Mrs. Vern Routh. Mrs. Routh is president of the organization and Mrs. Miller is vice president. The group was formed to provide continuing social contacts for past matrons of the Order of the Eastern Star. (Times-News photo)

Past Matrons Strengthen Social Ties Through Unit

The Past Matrons Club, Order of the Eastern Star, was formed to enable the women who have held this office to keep in touch with each other.

The club is composed of the past matrons of two Twin Falls OES chapters and the Hollister OES chapter. The group is unique in that it encompasses all three of these chapters—most OES chapters have their own past matrons group.

The three officers of the club each represent a different OES unit. Mrs. Vern Routh, president, is worthy matron of Chapter No. 29; Mrs. James Miller, vice president, is matron of Chapter No. 32; and Mrs. Ruby Dean, secretary-treasurer, is from the Hollister chapter.

Any past worthy matron is eligible for membership in the group.

One of the club's biggest events is Past Matrons Night, when OES chapters honor past matrons and past patrons. This event has been on the agenda since the group was first organized.

The local Past Matrons Club was organized Jan. 8, 1921. The charter members elected Mrs. Ernest White as their first president. Sociability and mutual improvement was the object.

This purpose has continued to be the goal of the group, although an interest in the welfare of OES chapters is also encouraged.

At early club meetings, members enjoyed social hours and planned the program for Past Matrons Night. The group also has presented a play shows for the OES chapters in the old temple building.

Current meetings feature a program spotlighting a speaker, music or educational topic. The club has had several speakers who have lived in or visited foreign countries. Often meetings combine socials with games or book reviews.

This year's programs have included a display of Christmas decorations, with a demonstration of their use and arrangement; a book review of "Where the Red Fern Grows," with several short biographies on Idaho authors; a lecture on India and the schools and customs of that country; and a presentation of slides and display of various articles from Guatemala.

Another program featured Ada Powell, who spoke on park and recreational areas in this vicinity.

Primarily a social organization, regardless of the educational nature of several of its programs, the group has an annual potluck dinner at Christmas and a June picnic.

A special activity of the club is the visiting of former worthy matrons who are unable to attend meetings during the Christmas season. If a personal visit is not possible, club members send these "shut-ins" Christmas cards.

Past Matrons, organized on a district rather than a state level, attend two district meetings each year. Two years ago, the group hosted the Southwestern

Reading, Writing Skill Are Scribblers' Goals

The Twin Falls-Scribblers Club combines the best features of both literary arts societies and writers clubs. It encourages professional writing while instilling an appreciation of good literature in its members.

A primary goal of the club members is to help each other in various ways to achieve success in writing. But while most writer's clubs require a certain amount of professionally published material each month as prerequisite to continued membership, the Scribblers Club foregoes this requirement.

Mrs. P. B. Johnston, president of the group, feels that it is the absence of such a rule that distinguishes Scribblers from other writing clubs. "The relaxed atmosphere permitted by the lack of this requirement contributes to a spirit of helpfulness and cooperation in Scribblers that would not be possible otherwise," she said.

The group was founded in 1923 by several women who shared the common interest of writing for pleasure and profit and as means of learning. Mrs. Harry Smock was elected first president.

Present officers are Mrs. Johnston, president; Mrs. Earl Walker, vice president; and Mrs. James Vandenberg, secretary-treasurer. There are currently 12 members in the group, and a membership limit has been set at 16.

A roll call is taken at each meeting, but members do not answer "here." The roll call features a brief exercise designed to encourage each member to contribute. Typical examples of these exercises include the assignment of a word or phrase from which a story must be made and impromptu writing exercises.

Meetings are devoted to the study of techniques for the development of style, tips on the number and variety of writers.

Central District meeting.

The district includes Rupert, Burley, Paul, Hollister, Buhl, Filley, Gooding, Hagerman, Halley, Wendell and Twin Falls. In explaining the purpose of the unit, Mrs. James Caterson, past president of the Past Matrons Club, noted that "Once you have been a worthy matron, you have a bond with anyone else who's been one."

The strengthening of the bond, then, is the function of the club.

MRS. P. B. JOHNSTON

markets available and the analysis of members' manuscripts.

Past publications by members of Scribblers include numerous magazine articles and poems, short stories, children's books, regular columns, books and plays.

Mrs. Anna Hayes, long time club member, credits the encouragement of the Scribblers as being the impetus for her well-known "Hedvig and Lollie" stories.

This past year another member, Mrs. Olive H. Kelly, had a book of poetry, "These Things I Cherish," published by the Triangle Publishing Company of Dallas, Texas. Mrs. Johnston said that each Scribbler takes as much pride in another member's success as she does in her own.

Instruction in techniques of illustrating magazine articles and books will be added to the group's lesson plans next year. Social activities of the club include summer picnics, potluck suppers and a Christmas party. Members exchange gifts at this function, and each gift is accompanied by a small verse which gives a hint of what's inside the package.

One of the most important attributes of the club, according to Mrs. Johnston, is the encouragement and help members give one another. "I imagine that everyone has some hidden impulse to write," she said, "but most of us just don't get around to it. Scribblers gives us a shove."

Northside Club Began During War

GOODING — With the world at war, women of the northside community near Gooding decided there should be something they could do, and with this objective they met in February, 1918, to organize the Northside Community Club.

Mrs. A. M. Stump, Mrs. L. L. Umphreus, Mrs. George E. Lester, Mrs. H. L. Harding, and Mrs. William Denney invited others to the first meeting at the home of Mrs. Stump. Mrs. Stump also served as the first president, and Mrs. W. C. McCrath suggested club colors of white and gold; flower, the golden rod; and the motto "Not at the top but climbing."

The first project of the women was placing a quilt which was sold for the Red Cross and brought $30. Various money-making projects were held with proceeds going to the Red Cross. The group held an ice cream social, bought a Liberty bond, which was later traded to Thompson Furniture Store to help furnish a room at the Gooding Hospital. They also installed a dumb-waiter at the hospital.

They won a prize in a homecoming parade for service men held on June 14, 1919, with an entry of an American flag the members had made. Twelve women dressed in white carried red flag and also a gold star pennant and the club pennant.

Other projects through the years included the serving of a college dinner, the presentation of a check for a room at the boy's dormitory, organization of the Good Time Dance, which held dances at the Judeville schoolhouse; purchase of bedspreads for their room at the hospital; fixing a booth at the community fair, purchase of a baby incubator and delivery table for the hospital; and installation of glass in the nursery door at the hospital.

They also made donations to the USO, a chest to be used in case of air raids, which was later given to the people who had had lives or were in need, furnishing materials and making pajamas for patients at the Tuberculosis Hospital; purchase of bed tables and lamps for the hospital.

They have also helped with donations in Girls' State selected for her second term. Prior to that her daughter, Mrs. Jerry Egersdorf served as president for two years.

Charter members still active and devoted workers in the club include Eda Darling, Edith McCoy, Mary Patterson, Vera Hawes and Neva Bungardner.

Surface With Tile

Unless you're one of those persons who lives in an air-conditioned home, the chances are you'll spend a lot of time in summer opening and closing windows. Rain, sun, dirt and sand can give your windows a terrific beating. One way to avoid this annual cleaning chore is to surface the windowills with economical ceramic tile.

There's no painting or peeling when you use real tile. It's a rugged, durable material. It serves a functional purpose also, especially if you line your window with flower pots or plants.

The tile doesn't scratch and there's no problem keeping it clean. A light once-over with a damp rag and your tile is spotless.

LACKING ONLY A crystal ball, Mrs. Eugene Poulter, president of the Altruistic Club, and Mrs. Jack Waegelin, vice president, figuratively "look into the future," planning activities to meet the new challenges of a different world. The Altruistic Club is a community service group that Mrs. Poulter, left, finds "exciting." (Times-News photo)

Altruistic Service Is Characteristic of Group

Altruism is defined by Webster as the unselfish concern for the welfare of others. The members of the Twin Falls Altruistic Club have made this definition the guiding light of their organization.

The national organization of Altruistic Clubs will celebrate its Golden Jubilee this year. The local organization observed this 50th anniversary in April at the Holiday Inn. The anniversary marks 50 years of community service for national Altruistic Clubs. "Fifty Years Growing in Service" is, in fact, the national theme for this year.

Founded in 1927, the Twin Falls group was created particularly to help women. Selection of a Girl of the Month is one application of this purpose. Girls of the Month are chosen on the basis of scholastic and extracurricular activity record and general personality. The girls are recognized at a banquet at the end of the year.

The club also offers a $100 scholarship to a high school student each year and furnished $400 in February for Susan Breckenridge, March; Christine Nuberly, April, and Tracy Peterson, May.

The scholarship winner was Aileen Bostow and the Girls' State delegate was Gay Sutcliffe. Last year the Altruistic Club hosted Ambassadors for Friendship, a program for exchange students touring the United States. Eight curious exchange students were sent from McCullister College, St. Paul, Minn. Each group was furnished with car and credit card for gasoline. The Altruistic Club members showed the group highlights of the Twin Falls area.

This year, an occupational rehabilitation program had been added to the unit's agenda. This program is open to mature women who find that they lack the training to equip themselves to support themselves or their families.

This project is part of an international program. Mrs. Eugene Poulter, president of the club, notes that "We are interested in locating women who qualify for these awards." The training carries no college credits and is not open to college graduates.

Another project of the group involves making arrangements with the Children's Theater for a dress rehearsal to be presented for underprivileged children.

Last fall, during the Altruistic Club's first dress rehearsal for these children, more than 160 fourth, fifth and sixth graders from primary schools in Twin Falls and Filer were brought to the theater.

The dress rehearsal for the second Children's Theater production, "Pippi Longstockings," was attended by more than 200 children who were picked up and taken to the theater by members of the club.

Donations to the Agnes Hurst Memorial Building at the 4th camp, to the Ma-No-Ka Camp for Camp Fire Girls and to the Physically Handicapped Drive also are part of the club's agenda.

The Storehouse of Food has long been an Altruistic project, and one that has called for a great deal of volunteer service. This "storehouse" is stocked with canned goods, potatoes, beans and other staples and is available for distribution to needy families. It furnished a quick and reliable source of relief.

Two local women have benefited from the International Founders' Vocational Fund, which has been recently added to the local group's agenda. This fund, as stated before, provides vocational training for mature women. One local woman received $250 for the purchase of a rug loom and another $210 to take a business course.

The group has no social activities other than a Founders' Day celebration, to which the members' husbands are invited. Future club projects include the sponsorship of a girl to attend the 4-H council, which is held each year. The girl is to be sponsored in memory of the late Mrs. Agnes Hurst, former Twin Falls county home demonstration agent.

Fund raising efforts of the group include rummage and rag sales and a Christmas gift and decorating idea bazaar.

Officers are—Mrs. Poulter, president; Mrs. J. A. Waegelin, vice president; Mrs. J. Hill, recording secretary; Mrs. Dave Fox, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Don Mauldin, treasurer. Board members are Mrs. Wendel Groat, Mrs. Robert Stoddard, Mrs. Jessie Davis, Mrs. Anna Lee-McKinnin and Mrs. Frank DePew.

The group was organized in 1927 by Mrs. Vivian Matson. Membership is open to all professional or executive women.

Color Adds 'Glow'

"Efficiency is a 'must' when it comes to saving time, energy and work. And any housewife worthy of her salt plans her household chores to allow time for other important phases in her day's occupation. Beauty is as important as efficiency."

The kitchen, where the homemaker spends a good part of her day, should be gay and inviting. Decorative ceramic tile for countertops, backsplashes and kitchen floors eliminates most of the heavy cleaning problems, and also adds a touch of color that give a perpetual "glow" to the kitchen.

Threefold Purpose Is Outlined

JEROME — The First United Presbyterian Church of Jerome began holding worship services in 1909 and the women's society began having meetings at approximately the same time.

For many years the women met in two circles, each serving a different function. The aid was concerned with service to the local church and the missionary circle with the foreign outreach. Then in 1923, under the guiding influence of Mrs. Sam Eakin, a senior guild or evening circle was formed.

This group was largely composed of working women and mothers of small children. Eventually these groups joined together to form a general society. Mrs. Mabel Beveridge was the first president of this combined group.

While these early groups in the church had a study and missionary program, they also contributed greatly to the financial needs of the local church. While Mrs. Eva Smith was president, the women served luncheons to the Rotary Club.

With the money thus earned, final payments were made on the church building.

In 1947 a circle specifically for young mothers was formed.

While it was a part of the general society, in circle meetings they concentrated on studies about the Christian home and family. Later this group was absorbed by the other circles and another younger group was formed with the same purpose in mind.

At present the UPW has a membership of more than 100 women. The purpose of the organization is threefold — prayer, study and service. As well as each member spending time in private and corporate prayers at meetings and attending a prayer chain is activated for members and friends in times of illness, trouble, or bereavement.

While the women study diverse materials, they concentrate on Bible study, attempting to relate it to both their personal lives and the social problems of the present time.

The "service" is manifold. They send money, clothing and hospital supplies to the national boards to carry on their work. On a local level, the women assist in church maintenance. They serve wedding receptions and dinners and luncheons for church meetings. Distress calls are taken to families in time of bereavement.

Each spring a banquet is held in honor of graduating seniors. Last year, the women provided a room in the church and some supplies for a class of retarded children. Practically all funds given or used by the group are raised by personal pledging as no money-raising activities are held.

Currently serving as president of the executive committee is Mrs. William Diehl. The four circle chairmen are Mrs. Frits Amundson, Mrs. Thomas McCure, Mrs. Ethel Burkhardt and Mrs. Jerry Diehl.

MRS. H. C. THOMPSON and Mrs. K. H. Carr, respectively president and charter member of the Good Will Club, are looking over the club's scrapbook. The club, an altruistic service organization, is one of the more active units in Twin Falls. (Times-News photo)

Energy Is Club's Only Membership Requirement

There are no formal membership requirements for the Good Will Club, but the "meek and humble soul" that the Statute of Liberty faithfully welcomes will not find a place in this group.

Energy, capacity, devotion and desire to assist the less fortunate are the personal characteristics prerequisite for membership.

The club was organized in 1933 by 15 charter members. Mrs. K. H. Carr is the only charter member still active in the group. The object of the group, as stated in the club creed is: "United effort toward peace, charity, equity and mutual helpfulness."

The group was the first organization in Twin Falls County to buy defense bonds. In 1946, the club received a Presidential Citation for their Red Cross work. Four members including Mrs. Carr received special citations.

Past activities include cash donations to the Community Chest, the Rural Federation Scholarship Fund, the County Farm, Flood Relief, the Children's Home, McCluskey Health Camp, and the Veterans' Hospital in Boise.

Other contributions were given to the Cancer Control Society, Life-Pines, March of Dimes, the Historical Society, the Philippine Club House, the Salvation Army, World Community Relief Society, the Penny Art Fund and the J.S.O.

The club also has sent food and Christmas boxes to Army and Navy hospitals. In memory of Mrs. J. R. Neilson, a registered nurse and former member of the club; the group donated $500 to the Magic Valley Memorial Hospital to fully equip one hospital room.

Another cash donation of $105 was given to the building fund at the Idaho Youth Ranch. Other contributions to the Youth Ranch encompass everything from candy to a record player, quilts, pillows, clothing, canned fruit, and jam and Christmas gifts.

Another club project was the provision of tables and chairs for the YNCA-YWCA Building. Blankets, dish towels and canned fruit have been donated to the McCluskey Health Camp, birthday gifts to the Veterans Hospital and canned fruit to the Children's Home.

Current projects include the furnishing of caskets for needy families. The layette program has long been a policy of the Good Will Club. The group has also continued to provide home-made quilts, cooking utensils and dishes for families whose homes have burned.

The club periodically sends food and groceries to the State Tuberculosis Hospital in Gooding, and candy and cookies to rest homes in Magic Valley.

Home-making projects include cooked food sales, quilt raffish, card parties, carnivals, apron sales, auctions, rummage sales and Christmas card and candy sales.

Social activities, since all work and no play makes for a dull club, include picnics and watermelon feeds in the summer, Thanksgiving and Christmas parties, a birthday anniversary celebration in March and a guest day in October.

Current officers of the group are Mrs. H. C. Thompson, president; Mrs. Emory Treat, vice president; Mrs. Charles Matice, secretary, and Mrs. Walker Carr, treasurer. There are 25 active and two honorary members.

The club's bi-monthly meetings usually feature a special speaker who demonstrates or explains various facets of different arts, such as flower making, home and auto safety and even palm reading.

Education, Charity Are PEO Goals

The P.E.O. Sisterhood, founded in 1893, is an educational philanthropic organization which is exclusively concerned with three projects: the P.E.O. Educational Fund, Cottey Junior College for Women and the International Peace Scholarship Program.

The Educational Fund was established to assist young women in the United States and Canada to complete their education beyond the high school level. It is a revolving fund—loans are granted to students, repaid when students finish school and then lent again. Since 1907, 508 Idaho girls have received loans from this national fund.

Founded in 1884, Cottey Junior College, Nevada, Miss., has been owned and supported by the P.E.O. Sisterhood since 1947. A fully accredited Liberal Arts college, the enrollment of the school is approximately 250. Each year the Idaho P.E.O. chapters offer a $500 scholarship to Cottey College for an Idaho girl. This year an additional scholarship of $150 also was awarded.

The International Peace Scholarship is a voluntary project, maintained through gifts and contributions, to foster world peace and understanding through education. One of the program's awards this year was granted to a young woman from Hong-Kong who will be working toward a master's degree at Idaho State University this coming school year.

The 12 Magic Valley P.E.O. Sisterhood chapters each contribute to these aforementioned educational projects.

polo and the human heart have been shown while members were collecting funds for these respective drives.

"To become a member of the club, a person must contact the president or membership chairman, read the by-laws and be accepted by the group. Members are dismissed if they miss three meetings without good cause."

"We are a working club," Mrs. Thompson commented, "and we want working people. The stay-at-homes can stay at home."

Local Talent Fostered By Burley Music Club

BURLEY — Fifteen charter members of the Burley Music Club, a member of the American Federation of Music Clubs, were organized April 18, 1951.

First officers were Mrs. I. H. Harris, president; Mrs. Con Annett, vice president; Mrs. Eric Robertson, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. George McDonald, secretary; Mrs. Charles McDonald, director. Lavender and white were adopted as the club colors.

The Burley Music Club adopted its constitution Oct. 8, 1951, stating the objects of the society are to develop musical appreciation, to foster local musical talent, to sponsor Music Week each year, to sponsor student and junior music clubs and to cooperate with the National Federation.

The National Federation is indebted to Idaho for the annual celebration of Music Week which began in Boise by church organist, Eugene Farnier, in 1919 and was made a national event in New York in 1924.

The federated clubs hold a membership tea in the fall which begins the season.

In February a White Breakfast is held honoring the past presidents and a candlelight ceremony depicting the purposes of the organization is a social event. Officers are installed at the May luncheon.

One of the highlights of the club activity has been the organization and federation of a junior club in 1953-54 with Mrs. Ronald Archibald as their advisor from the senior club. The State Board held its annual meeting Nov. 8, 1951 in Burley and the Swedish Chocolate House was instituted.

During 1952-53, a project to purchase a grand piano for Burley High School was started. Funds were turned over to the Lions Club in the fall of 1953 to purchase the grand piano. The club started giving the Arlon award.

In 1954-55 the club gave to UNESCO to further music abroad and worked to have Edward McDowell's name placed in the New York Hall of Fame. American music was emphasized in 1955-56, and the Burley Club received a national award on American music at the national convention in April, 1957, at Columbus, Ohio. Mrs. John Hackney, president, and received the award in person.

The project to purchase a Hi-Fi set was begun in 1956-57 for the Burley High School. Emphasis was placed on American music and American composers during the year. The Hi-Fi set was presented to the high school in the following year. A Hymn Festival was held March 22, 1958, with a 20-voice choir.

The club began sponsoring monthly recitals in 1950-51, of Burley music students. The group purchased Grove's Music Encyclopedia for the Burley Public Library and sponsored the community Association of the "Messiah," March 26, 1951, under the direction of Ronald Archibald, director of the orchestra.

A two-year program on the history of music was started in 1951-52, given by local educators and qualified musicians. "Tribute," presented Pulu Sunday was sponsored by the club. Scholarships were given to students for summer music school.

Gene Larson, Heyburn, sponsored by the club in the Young Artists auditions, won state and regional, and attended national at Pittsburgh. Summer music camp scholarships were presented to Leslie Weiner, Mike Chesley and Lily Menster. The club also won an award for participation in National Music Week.

During 1952 the Burley Club had a national district president, Mrs. Robert Currier, who also served as state president. Also on the state level Mrs. Eric Robertson was state secretary, Mrs. John Hackney, state magazine chairman, and state legislative chairman, and Mrs. Hal Matthews, state folk music chairman.

"Music for Around the World" was the theme during the 1964-65 year. Programs included Spanish, Italian, French, Scottish, Austrian, American Music and composers.

Three scholarships for summer music camps were awarded by the senior club and two from the junior club.

Mrs. Tom Wildman, a member of the Burley Music Club and piano teacher, won acclaim with her original composition, "Four Sketches from Stray Birds." In last year's national convention she received an honorable mention.

Present officers are Mrs. Calvin Heiner, president; Mrs. Keith Faris, first vice president; Mrs. Tom Wildman, second vice president; Mrs. Eward Gibby, secretary; Mrs. Earl Robertson, treasurer; and Mrs. Richard Dalton, historian.

The theme "Music from Around the World" will be continued, officers announced. The group meets the third Monday of each month in the members homes.

Tile Versatile

If you dream of having a playroom floor with custom appeal at a moderate price, your dream can be realized if you choose versatile ceramic tile. Ceramic monies offer a wide variety of attractive colors, and you can draw upon your own imagination to supply an original design.

Your dream can become a reality, resulting in a playroom floor that's sparklingly different and at the same time easy to keep clean.

SUMMER NEARS

First sign of summer could be you in a flowering of flowering chilton. A summer bouquet of bright silk chilton. Freshly picked for now — for you. This season's loveliest fashion hues could be an ensemble of a free-flowing coat with a carelessly tossed dress beneath or the sunnier style with a carelessly tossed matching scarf.

Mentorites Give Aid to Community

Mentor, a wise adviser and friend to Odysseus, might be somewhat surprised to learn that a community service women's club in Twin Falls had been named in his honor. But also for things have happened.

The Mentor Club was organized in 1920, included on its long list of service projects are contributing to the Capper Home for Crippled Children in Tropic, Kan.; the founding of the hot lunch program at Curry School; the provision of food, clothing and quilts for needy families; the canning of literally hundreds of jars of meats, fruits and vegetables for Twin Falls County fairs, and a year's support of a French war orphan.

A member of the Rural Federation of Women's Clubs, which was organized by Mrs. Carrie Harper, a pioneer of the Twin Falls tract—the club earned money for these various projects by serving lunches at farm sales.

The group has also held bake sales and auctions, in partnership with the other federated clubs in serving as hostess to district conventions.

Officers of the 30 active members are Mrs. Gerald Tows, president; Mrs. W. A. Lookingbill, vice president; Mrs. W. W. McCabe, secretary, and Mrs. Gerald Turner, treasurer.

There are two active charter members, Mrs. H. A. Glisse and Mrs. W. R. Chase.

The group's current projects include donations to the Rupert Youth Ranch and CARE. The group also contributed to the Twentieth Century Club's fund for a stage curtain at the main building at the 4th camp.

Social activities include a party for the members' husbands in February and a family picnic sometime during the summer.

The organizational efforts of the Mentor Club feature the anticipating of a certain community need with the decisions concerning the best method of assistance following.

Mentor, kind and generous counselor, would perhaps be puzzled. But what of Cassandra?

DISPLAYS NOTED

The season's pushing appearance of Christmas decorations in local display windows is viewed with distaste by some people, but everyone welcomes that most accurate forecaster of spring—the drug store sun-drops.

Home Unit Practices New Ideas

Home economics is no longer the needles and pans field it once was and the charter members of the Twin Falls Home Economics in Homecoming Club reasoned that some sort of group effort was needed to bring the new concepts of the field to Magic Valley women.

The approach to home economics as practiced by the HEHC encompasses family health, finances, child-care and general family relations. Its underlying function is to update its members in new techniques and approaches in the home economics field.

The club was organized in 1958 and the charter members elected Mrs. Kenneth Marshall as their first chairman. Membership is restricted to college graduates with degrees in home economics. There are now 25 members, most of whom are Twin Falls residents. The group meets six times each year.

One of the unit's annual projects is the purchase of a subscription to the Journal of the American Home Economics Association for the Twin Falls Library. The Journal is thus made available to local high school students who are interested in home economics.

The club also annually sponsors a scholarship that is awarded to a freshman home economics major entering an Idaho college.

Officers of the club are Mrs. Roger Graefe, chairman; Mrs. Richard Schewe, vice-chairman; and Mrs. Larry Knudson, secretary-treasurer.

The group is highly interested in bringing high school boys into home economics classes. Mrs. Graefe notes that, while at one time it was necessary to make home economics classes a requirement for all students in order to bring the boys in, the situation has now changed. Today's high school boy wants to take home economics of his own volition, and some make careers in different phases of the field.

Areas of study the HEHC covers in its meetings include nutrition and clothing education, economics and family finances, health and nursing, art and interior decorating, child care, marriage and family relationships. The meetings usually feature speakers who are experts in one or more of these fields.

Mrs. Graefe noted that while the club's principle aim is education, members also enjoy social gatherings at such meetings.

Neighbors' Club Spotlights Home

Self-improvement through participation in the lessons of the County Extension Homemakers Club Council, is also an underlying goal of members of the Twin Falls Neighborhood Club. Organized in 1948 for residents of Quincy Street, this home demonstration club also attempts to improve the community by adding nursing home shut-ins.

Membership in the group is no longer restricted to residents

Men's Cosmetics Experience Boom

Accent on men's cosmetics, that latest phenomenon from Project Beautification, Men's cosmetics are outstripping women's lines all over the place—not really surprising when you consider that women are buying some of these cosmetics and hair sprays for their own use.

Why the big boom in men's cosmetics? Remember the days of a Little Old Spice and a dab of Gossard Kid Stuff? According to manufacturers, men have been ripe for a buying spurge like the one currently in force. With our society's ever-increasing emphasis on youth, men have learned first hand about the premiums on appearance.

Actually, men are better customers than women. Once they find a product they like, they'll stick to it for years—until the rather tickle woman. Why? Men are more realistic about cosmetics. Women expect an overnight miracle, at least. Men are less likely to be disappointed with a cosmetic; more likely to be pleased.

of Quincy Street.

Officers of the 12 members are Mrs. Ray Montgomery, president; Mrs. Don Egbert, vice president; Mrs. Charles Van-Eaton, secretary; and Mrs. Howard Egbert, treasurer.

Two of the group's charter members, Mrs. Roy Gaskill and Mrs. Willis Smith, are still active in the unit.

Sponsorship of an "adopted friend" in the Skyview Manor, Christmas baskets for widows and shut-ins in the neighborhood and preparation of a bullet-board for the state home demonstration club convention are other club projects. Group members also arranged a tour of Herrett's Museum for convalescents.

Family picnics, Christmas parties and potlucks are social activities of the group.

Democratic Women Work For "Good Government"

The passage of the women's suffrage act of 1919 heralded an almost immediate upspringing of women's political organizations. Women valued their vote almost as much as they did their silver at this time, and they also valued the integrity that the vote, like fine silver, must be used frequently and with care if it is to retain its beauty.

The Twin Falls County Democratic Women's Club was born during this era of the "little women's enthusiastic welcoming of her vote."

During its early days, this organization was little more than a democratic study group for the discussion of political, economic and social issues. Now, many of the efforts of the unit are completely devoted to good government and the two party system," according to Mrs. Robert Summerfield, president of the group.

The organization's objectives have always been concerned with the promotion of political responsibility within the Democratic party, with better understanding of party policies, the training of workers for the party and the procurement of money to attain these goals as other aims.

Membership in the group varies from 40 during an off-year to 120 during an election year. Current officers, in addition to Mrs. Summerfield, are Mrs. Ada Powell, secretary; Mrs. Howard Gillette, treasurer; and Mrs. Harold Billings. There is no vice president at this time.

During election years, the club arranges meetings for local, state and national candidates. Members also distribute candidate literature and sponsor smorgasbords and coffee clutches for the benefit of the candidates.

"We practically take our entire treasury and spend it on the Democratic general election candidates," commented Mrs. Summerfield.

The group's political activities are more concerned with promotion of the general Democratic ticket than with any one candidate, she added. Prior to the primary election, the club is completely non-partisan in its backing of Democratic candidates. The objective during the period of time before the general election, rather, is to present as many Democratic candidates to the public as is possible.

An educational unit, programs of the club are often devoted to discussion and analysis of current issues. A study of President Johnson's domestic program was undertaken last year. Included in the study were the peace corps, the poverty program, urban renewal, migrant labor and the job corps.

Topics of general interest to

women have also been studied such as the area of consumer education in relation to the Marketing and Labeling Act.

The convention system of primary elections was also studied by the club members last year.

The Democratic Women's Club is not federated at this time and, consequently, yields perhaps less power that it might otherwise be able to. In addition to this factor, many of the group's members work and thus do not really have much time to devote to such an organization. But even these and other obstacles don't discourage the members of the Twin Falls County Democratic Women's Club.

Club members mail literature, conduct a telephone canvass to determine which homes need babysitters on election night, hold rummage sales, auctions and sponsor a fair booth. They have also arranged radio, television and newspaper advertising.

Last year's biggest fund-raising activity was the publication of a cookbook compiled from recipes submitted by club members and other Democratic women.

Membership in the group is open to all women over 21 who subscribe to the philosophy of the Democratic party. All meetings of the group are open to the public.

The goals of the Democratic Women, in conclusion, are to Confusing Occupation Is Clarified

Homemaking, even in today's world of push-button efficiency, is frequently a complicated, tiresome and confusing occupation, or so say the exponents of the Community Y' Wives.

Their club was organized in an effort to remove a little of the confusion and a lot of the sweat from this time-worn, little-respected endeavor.

Organized in 1937 under the name of the L-L Club, the name of the club was changed to Beta Gamma in 1939. The Greek name translates into "working girls." The club was formed under the leadership of the YWCA.

When the single working girls in the Beta Gamma Club married and joined a different crew of young girls, the name of the club was again changed to Community Y' Wives, in 1956.

A home demonstration club, participation in the extension programs planned by the County Extension Homemakers Club Council is an integral part of the group's approach to the problems of homemaking.

Officers are Mrs. Stanley Melton, president; Mrs. Paul Magee, secretary; and Mrs. Joe Mosier, treasurer. Membership varies from 9 to 12. Meetings are held at the YWCA - YWCA Building or in private homes.

Activities during the past year have included sponsorship of a traveling basket, collections for Pennies for Friendship, assistance with the YWCA Pancake Breakfast and the Homemakers' Convention in September, participation in the Home Demonstration Clubs' Christmas idea meeting, assistance with the All Nations Dinner (the club donated Christmas dishes) in November and serving at various YWCA banquets.

Card parties, an annual Spaghetti Dinner for younger YWCA women's groups and other fund-raising projects for YWCA benefit were also held. To develop better homemakers through association with home demonstration groups and to make better persons through the YWCA is the overall purpose of the unit, according to Mrs. Melton.

MRS. L. E. Hinton, right, is the official Twin Falls Welcome Wagon hostess. Pfefferle, center, and couples chairman is Mrs. John Cushman, left. (Times-News photo)

Loneliness, Confusion of Newcomers Lessened by Welcome Wagon Group

A strange new house, unfamiliar streets and memories of good friends left behind—these are a few of the factors that frequently make moving to a new community a bewildering and unpleasant experience.

The Welcome Wagon Newcomers Club was created as an antidote to the feeling of loneliness and confusion that these factors produce.

Part of this objective is realized through the club's Welcome Wagon hostess, Mrs. L. E. Hinton. Mrs. Hinton calls on new residents of Twin Falls and acquaints them with churches, businesses, places of interest and provides other general information about the community.

Mrs. Hinton is sponsored by local businessmen who equip her with samples or discount coupons to enable newcomers to become familiar with their services and products.

The club counteracts the feeling of loneliness and nostalgia known to many newcomers by providing a ready-made social life in the form of get-togethers, barbecues, coffee parties and picnics and bridge parties.

Bowling and golf groups also are organized for those interested in the sports. Familiarizing newcomers with local bowling alleys and golf courses and finding partners for them are two of the functions of the different units.

This year, a knitting group was added to the club's curriculum. Mrs. Donald L. Pfefferle is chairman of the informal class. No instruction per se is given, but advanced knitters assist the less experienced ones.

Events for both spouses of the new family are also scheduled, including dinner dances and potluck suppers.

New residents may join the Newcomers Club after attend-dance at one meeting. After two years of membership in Newcomers, the woman is eligible for participation in the Social Workers Club. However, this progression is not automatic, and one can remain a member of Newcomers indefinitely. Positions of office are not available, on the other hand, to those with over two years of membership in Newcomers.

Luncheons and teas are held for prospective members. At the luncheon, new members sign in, are introduced and asked to tell something about themselves. A kick-off tea for fall activities is held every September to acquaint new members with older residents.

The Twin Falls Welcome Wagon club, forerunner of Newcomers Club, was organized in 1945 by Mrs. Duane K. Hodge, Welcome Wagon hostess.

The organizational meeting was held in the Park Hotel dining room and Mrs. Ralph McFarland was elected first president. There were 18 charter members, many of whom still live in Twin Falls—the end of the first year, 78 members were listed on the active list.

The Newcomers Club is not primarily a civic organization, but members do contribute to at least one community project a year. "We are not a money-raising group in the strictest sense of the word," Mrs. Hinton said, "but we do donate to worthwhile causes—because we want to be part of the community."

Donations have been given to Cerebral Palsy, Hire the Handicapped, the YMCA-YWCA Building and the Civic Auditorium.

The club features one big money-raising project each year. This year's benefit was a mock Monte Carlo night.

Various games, most of which were provided in a kit that the group purchased from Harold's Club in Reno, plenty of play money gleaned from children's Monopoly games and casino-type decor highlighted the evening. A special attraction was the "Barrels for Rent" booth for losers.

Another portion of the unit's annual program is the Hat Luncheon, at which each member is requested to make a hat.

Entries are judged on the basis of silliness, originality or beauty.

Officers of the club are Mrs. Donald L. Pfefferle, president; Mrs. Thomas Nelson, first vice president; Mrs. Jack Smith, second vice president; Mrs. Robert Smith, recording secretary; Mrs. Donald C. Jackson, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Elbert Lahr, treasurer.

Committee chairmen are Mrs. Walter Thomas, reservations; Mrs. Lester Slater, luncheon; Mrs. Paul Jones, tea; Mrs. Duane Way, publicity; Mrs. Dan Gillies, bridge; Mrs. Jim Finnie, pinsetter; Mrs. August Averett, bowling; Mrs. Ray Cummings, newsletter; Mrs. Richard Meadows, golf; and Mrs. John Cushman, couples party.

There are currently 100 members in the club.

Mrs. Hinton, as the official Welcome Wagon hostess, acts as an advisor and coordinator to the Newcomers Club. Mrs. Hinton became a hostess in 1947, after extensive training in public and human relations in San Francisco, Denver, Billings and Twin Falls. She has one assistant hostess, Mrs. Everett Miller.

The Newcomers Club's monthly meetings often feature an outside speaker or performance of some kind.

Examples include a lecture by Louise Shaddock on early Idaho history; performances by Mrs. John Chalian, concert pianist, and the Twin Falls Music Club; a preview by the Dilettantes of their performance of Music Man; and a lecture and slides shown by Mr. A. R. Robinson on his recent trip to the Nile Valley.

The purpose of the Newcomers Club, in summation, is to welcome all newcomers to Twin Falls, make them feel at home and be helpful in any way possible.

Dinner Is Highlight For Group

FILER—A special highlight of the past year for Poplar Hill-side Social Club members was a smorgasbord dinner for husbands at the Depot Grill, Twin Falls.

Husbands were also guests at a potluck dinner at the home of Mrs. Edward Reichert.

Mrs. Reuben Liernan is president of the club; Mrs. Arnold Cifer, vice president, and Mrs. Ruby Blakeslee, secretary-treasurer.

The club meets the fourth Monday of the month at the homes of members. A donation of money was made to the Filer Library and donations were also made to several charities and drives.

Special events of the past year were a party in honor of the 40th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Jasper, and a dinner taken to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton on their 60th wedding anniversary.

Boxes of cookies, fruits and candy were packed and taken to elderly residents of the Filer Hotel at Christmas. A holiday dinner with gift exchange was held in December and a family picnic took place in July at the fairgrounds.

This club was organized and is maintained for the purpose of promoting friendliness and sociability in the neighborhood. Several members who have moved from the area still attend meetings and social events.

Members chose names of secret pals and remember them on their birthday anniversaries and wedding anniversaries. The welfare committee sends cards to ill members and flowers in case of deaths in the families.

MRS. WALTER PRINCE, right, is a Xi Zeta who really appreciates her membership in this local chapter of a national organization. Mrs. Prince and her husband move at least every three years, and she has found that adjusting to a new community is easy when one's " sisters" go all out on a welcoming committee. From left are Mrs. Prince, Mrs. Harold Miller, treasurer, and Mrs. Roy King, president. (Times-News photo)

National Club Allows Membership Continuity

"You don't really appreciate the benefit of membership in a national sorority," says Mrs. Walter Prince, "until you move to a strange city. You can't feel lost and alone when members of the local chapter come to welcome you."

Mrs. Prince is now a member of the Xi Zeta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

Xi Zeta is an exemplar chapter which means its members lend assistance to younger chapters with socials, rushing and charitable projects.

In order to qualify for membership in Xi Zeta, a candidate must have previously been a member of the Ritual of Jewels, the local Omicron chapter, for four years. After being a member of the exemplar chapter for six years, she is graduated to a precursor chapter.

At this time, there is no precursor chapter in Twin Falls. One will be established, according to Mrs. Prince, within the next few years.

The club's program topics this past year were focused on the home—and how to improve it. Among other things, the group studied the history of Eighteenth Century, Early American and Modern furniture, flower arrangements, how to choose mirrors and pictures, planning the kitchen and the best uses of light. In addition, a lecture on the care, selection and hanging of drapery was presented by Mrs. Helen Carter.

Each of these topics was chosen from a study program prepared by the national organization.

In connection with the study of flower arrangements, a demonstration prepared from material gathered by Mrs. Nell Wheeler on her process of drying flowers was presented. Mrs. Wheeler uses a unique method of drying flowers in sand to create centerpieces and three-dimensional pictures. Flowers dried in this manner retain their color—and shape for at least eight months.

Next year the chapter will have the option of choosing its own area of study. Tentatively planned is a general program based on first aid in the home. Mrs. George Blackburn, club member who is a registered nurse, is scheduled to set up the program.

The Xi Zeta chapter was established in Twin Falls in 1950 by 10 charter members.

Past charitable projects of the chapter have included donations to the Jerome school for crippled children and the Twin Falls Cerebral Palsy School. Assistance to the Red Cross blood mobile and personal charities for needy families also have been included in the club's projects.

The study of great religious beliefs and the music, literature and cuisines of countries of the world are two of the chapter's past educational projects.

The chapter sponsors the Exemplar Fund, which in turn donates to cancer research, cystic fibrosis, books for education in India and the Red Cross.

The chapter sponsors two local community projects each year. Donations to the Hazel Dell Rest Home and the Civic Auditorium were last year's projects.

Social activities round out the chapter's theme of life, learning and friendship. A birthday anniversary party with members' husbands, a Christmas progressive dinner party, a chili feed with the Omicron chapter and a Valentine potluck supper are annual events.

This year an overnight camping trip is planned for July.

The chapter now includes 10 members, who meet bi-monthly. Officers are Mrs. Roy Lee, president; Mrs. Ched-Bohlin, vice president; Mrs. Cliff Thompson, secretary; and Mrs. Prince, treasurer.

WSCS Aids Development Of Women as Christians

The Womens Society of Christian Service is a branch of the Methodist Church which was created to assist the growth and development of women as Christians.

Divided into three departments — home fields, foreign fields and Christian social relations—the society has several other purposes.

These secondary functions include the provision of opportunities and resources which will help women grow in understanding and spiritual power, the sensitizing of members to the needs of the world and the enlistment of workers and funds for the church's missions.

The group has pledged $2,317.50 to the missionary conference to fulfill this last purpose. The pledge represents a portion of the over $34 million which is contributed annually to the conference by Methodist men, women and children.

Participating in this "gentle persuasion" are 1,501 commissioned missionaries overseas, 97 commissioned missionaries in the U.S., 373 commissioned deaconesses, 101 special-term missionaries overseas, 50 special-term missionaries in the U.S. and 21 missionaries under special assignment.

The local WSCS is the result of a consolidation of three Methodist churches in 1930—Methodist Episcopal, Methodist Episcopal South and Methodist Protestant—to the Methodist Church. The women's societies that developed in these churches between 1800 and 1921 formed the WSCS. Mrs. Roy Evans was the first president.

Each year members of the society attend the School of Missions conference at Caldwell. The group has also sent youths from the church on tours or to conferences.

The big event of the year for the local club was the Seventh Assembly of the Woman's Society of Christian Service and Wesleyan Service Guild, which was held in Portland, Ore. This world-wide assembly was attended by over 800 women from every corner of the earth.

The May assembly was the first to be held in the Western part of the U.S. The assembly, held every four years, was attended by 12 delegates from Twin Falls.

The purpose of the meeting is to bring together representatives from the women's societies ties and Wesleyan Guilds. Theme of the conference was "A Call to Renewal and Service."

MRS. F. A. RIDER

A typical discussion question was "What are some of the growing opportunities through which Christian women can become more creatively involved in the life and needs of the international community?"

In addition to their other activities, women's society members donate to welfare homes, handle wedding receptions, supervise banquets and serve at them and aid various other organizations.

Contributions are also given to the United Church Fund, the Wesleyan Foundation and the Migrant Ministry service.

There are nine circles within the society, in addition to the Wesleyan Service Guild. Total membership of the circles is 302. The Wesleyan Guild is an organization for working women.

To become a member of the society, Methodist women or friends of the church who are new to the community are invited by the secretary of membership cultivation to attend a meeting.

Officers are Mrs. F. A. Rider, president; Mrs. George Crowder, vice president; Mrs. James Little, recording secretary; and Mrs. C. M. Fisher, treasurer.

Another branch of the society is the campus ministry service, for the formation of prayer groups for college youth.

Club Is Social, Religious

HANSEN — On Jan. 10, 1938, 13 women met at the home of Mrs. Curtis Bower to organize a non-denominational religious club to study the Bible and also to enjoy a social hour together.

They chose their name before they chose their name, The Pleasant Valley, with members. The group still has Bible readings at each of their meetings.

The first officers included a Mrs. Hahn, president; Mrs. Lily Wright, vice president; Mrs. Betty Krallinger, secretary; Mrs. L. P. Larsen, treasurer; Dorothy L. Larsen, program chairman; and Gladys Bean and Mito Colby Darnall on the program committee. Dues were 25-cents a year.

At the second meeting, a financial offering was taken which was sent to a missionary in Paraguay, their first project. They also held a social hour with a sale and a shower honoring a member on her birthday anniversary. Membership has grown to 15 with several guests present.

Although many of the original members have either moved away or dropped out for various reasons, the projects of the club remain much the same. Mrs. L. P. Larsen is the only charter member left on the rolls.

Members contribute to the charity drives, such as heart, cancer, Red Cross, March of Dimes, The Idaho Ranch for Youth and also to the Kimberly Fair. They still have a worthwhile project or stand ready to help anyone in need.

Present officers are Mrs. Dick Dean, president; Mrs. Dean, vice president and also flower and card chairman; Mrs. Melvin Morgan, secretary; and Mrs. Kenneth Larsen, treasurer.

Hillandale Club Begun By Pioneers

WENDELL — Hillandale club, organized in April, 1916, for the social betterment of the hardy pioneers of this age, began their meetings with a membership of 15.

Two members who joined the club during the first year were Adda Lawson and Mrs. Lucia Assumson, are still active members.

Many changes have occurred during the half century but the club motto "Social Betterment" flower, the carnation, and colors, pink and white, remain the same.

Club members number 41 at the present time. Honorary members include Mrs. B. M. Atkinson, Mrs. N. H. Leland, Mrs. C. H. Breivick, Mrs. Ethel Inlow, Mrs. Rose Maurer, Mrs. Grace Taylor, Mrs. Elma Sney, Mrs. Pearl Cook and Mrs. Inez Stevenson.

The highlight of the past year was the observance of the golden anniversary of the club held at the IOOF hall in April. Annual social events of the club include a dinner and card party for the husbands, a May queen day luncheon and a family picnic. The regular meetings are held the first Wednesday afternoon of each month at the club house rooms at the city hall.

The work project for the club the next year was the cleaning of the civic club rooms. The women have been taking a minimum in the kitchen and table tops as well as a complete cleaning. With assistance from other organizations their meeting

MRS. PAUL COURTWRIGHT

Club Helps Railroad Employees

To become a member of the Union Pacific-Old-Timers auxiliary, a woman must have a husband who is just that. He must have been employed by Union Pacific for more than 20 years.

The auxiliary is devoted to helping the families of Union Pacific-Old-Timers in time of death, illness, or other emergencies. The auxiliary also provides social activities for members and their husbands and children.

Activities provided are picnics, Christmas and Thanksgiving dinners, games and an annual light luncheon for the national officers. The club also sponsors fund-raising bingo games.

Rummage and cooked food sales are additional fund-raising activities. Money raised in this way is used to provide flowers, cards and funeral diriges for the families of deceased Old-Timers or auxiliary members.

In addition to helping railroad employees, the club contributes to philanthropic community projects. Members annually supply over 1,000 hours of volunteer service in hospital work and collecting for drives. This year they also made puppets for the Minidoka Memorial Hospital Glee's puppet sale.

The auxiliary was organized in 1937. Its first president was Mrs. J. E. Slade. Current officers are Mrs. Paul Courtwright, president; Mrs. Harold Garaway, vice president; Mrs. William Praeger, secretary; Mrs. Ray Allen, historian; Mrs. Wally Holmgren, philanthropic chairman; Mrs. A. Hargraves, Twin Falls cheerleader; and Mrs. J. D. Pulwyler, Rupert-Durley cheerleader.

The club covers the Minidoka-Twin Falls area, and the presidency is filled by a woman from Twin Falls on alternate years. Mrs. Courtwright is from Minidoka.

There are 40 active and 35 honorary members in the group. An honorary member is one whose husband retires from Union Pacific.

Each year the auxiliary chooses a theme to coordinate all of its activities. This year's theme is "We strive for loyalty to ourselves, to the Old-Timers, and to railroad employees in general," summarized Mrs. Courtwright.

Free of charge at the rooms, the drapes were cleaned and replaced and the piano bench upolstered.

Club officers include Mrs. Chester Reile, president; Mrs. Ralph Reile, vice president; and Mrs. M. Morgan, secretary-treasurer.

Filer Unit Wins State Trophy

FILER — High point of the year for the Filer Jay-Cettes was receiving special recognition at the state convention in Nampa last spring.

The Filer unit received a trophy for rating first place in Christmas welfare and a ribbon for third place in Civic Welfare.

This active group was organized in 1964 to assist the Jaycees in activities relating to civic service and to help in community projects.

Mrs. Russell Sheridan Jr. is president; Mrs. Richard Shelton, vice president; Mrs. Kenneth Kimball, secretary; Mrs. Robert Lancaster, treasurer; and Mrs. Andean Lang, reporter.

Mrs. Jack Steinhilber is state director and past president. Board members are Mrs. Marvin Anderson, Mrs. Larry Knudsen, Mrs. Donald Lowder, and Mrs. Chas. E. Sheridan. Standing committees are hospitality, yearbook and scrapbook, ways, means and welfare, auditing and program.

Projects through the year are many and varied. The group operated a food booth at the Twin Falls County Fair and from the proceeds $100 was donated to the Happy Day School, Twin Falls.

A baked foods sale was held with proceeds going to the Christmas Welfare Committee to make Christmas decorations for the residents at Hazel Del Manor, Twin Falls. Christmas cards were sent to all the Filer businessmen to show appreciation for donations.

Members conducted a toy drive and gathered enough toys to place several in each of the Christmas baskets packed each year by Filer organizations for needy families in the area.

The Jay-Cettes sponsored the second "Little Miss Valentine Pageant" and the proceeds went to the Filer Summer Recreation Program.

Money made by operating a concession stand at the ball games in town is being saved for the city park fund. The members helped the Jaycees to clean and decorate the Jay-Cee hall.

The main state project is the Booth Memorial and the Filer club has won the Pacific Valley club has a "Christmas in October" to get gifts for this purpose.

The group plans also to buy a gift for the hospital. The secondary state project is helping with mentally retarded children and in alerting people to the need for mental health clinics.

Meetings are held the first Thursday of each month at the homes of members. Social events during the year included a travel dinner, Halloween masquerade party, Christmas gift exchange and visits to the Twin Falls and Buhl Jay-Cette Clubs.

Guild Aids St. Benedict's Hospital in Many Ways

JEROME — The Guild of St. Benedict's Hospital was organized in 1932, with a membership of 40 women.

Its main aims were to educate the general public to an understanding of the benefits to the community of the hospital and its services, to maintain good public relations for the hospital, and to serve its practical needs in any way possible.

From the time they began, receiving membership in the hospital association of hospital committees and the "Pinky" dolls, beloved by small patients.

They have aided, with other civic groups in beautification of the grounds, maintaining a continuous sewing program which supplies linens and the "Pinky" dolls, beloved by small patients. They have sponsored picture drives, to beautify the rooms, some of them painted by members. Members have spent countless hours in the community canning kitchen each year, preparing produce for the hospital kitchen supplies, and making tray favors to brighten the meals of patients confined during long hospital stays.

In 1958, members sponsored the formation of a junior volunteers group, the familiar "Gates Strippers" who assist with cart service, feeding and supplying fresh water to patients, arranging flowers and many other small chores.

Through efforts of the Guild, many equipment projects have been completed, among them presenting of a life-size skeleton, for study use by classes and medical and nursing staffs, for use for the maternity ward, and they have insisted and maintained a snack bar, which is a boon to visitors, ambulatory patients and staff alike. The dream of a long-term unit adjacent to the hospital, long held by the Benedictine Sisters who run it, was largely realized through the efforts of the Guild, which launched the initial drive for funds with a contribution of $1,500. They now have extended their services to include the Nursing Home.

These funds were raised by a smorgasbord, sponsored by the Guild, which grew into an annual affair, held in the early spring each year. One year it was a Basque Dinner followed by a performance of the famous Olankari-Dancers. Last year, it took the form of a Gay Nineties Dinner, followed by an old-fashioned Melodrama.

Other money-making projects have included silver sales, cooked food sales and bazaars.

Regular meetings of the Guild are held on third Monday afternoons of each month, with sewing meetings called as needed.

A system of record-keeping for volunteer hours put in was devised in 1957. To date, the hours total 22,919 for senior members and 10,000 for juniors. Currently serving as president is Mrs. Clyde Good.

WSCS Is Arm for Church

WENDELL — Woman's Society of Christian Service is an outgrowth of the Methodist Ladies Aid, which had been active since Nov. 1, 1909, in Wendell.

This active society is an arm of the church, through which women have opportunities to grow and develop as Christians and to share in the outreach of the church. Women become members by giving prayer, service and an annual contribution to the total budget, through membership offerings, pledges or gifts.

The annual fund-raising projects include the Harvest Festival with dinner and various booths, bazaar, chicken wagon dinner and by maintaining a gift cupboard of handmade articles, at the Wendell Shoe Repair shop on Main Street.

The society assists in the whole program of the church, both local and world wide and share the responsibilities of community service.

Annual observances include luncheon and program with Presbyterian women as guests, World Community Sunday, Week of Prayer and Self Denial, World Community Day, Student Recognition Day, Quiet Day, World Day of Prayer, mother-daughter banquet, May fellowship day and Methodist student day service and coffee hour.

"Dialogue and Design" is the theme at the monthly meetings held the second Thursday afternoon, and for the monthly meetings of the two circles are held on the evening of each month. Mrs. J. H. Freeman is the 1966-67 president; Mrs. Arthur Dyce, vice president; Mrs. H. E. Eason, secretary; and Mrs. J. Barton, treasurer.

Mrs. Hugh Caldwell serves as chairman of the Isabel Burden afternoon circle and Mrs. Beale Benson for the Ruth Robb evening circle.

Wendell's LWML Is 15 Years Old

WENDELL — The newest women's organization in the Wendell area is the Lutheran Women's Missionary League, which came into being July 12, 1951.

The group first was organized as a Ladies Aid in November, 1950. Meetings were held at the homes of the members until 1954, when their church building on Second Ave. West was completed.

Projects include sending birthday money each year to Mill Neck Manor, a Lutheran School in New York for the Deaf and Blind; assisting a student at the theological seminary at Springfield, Ill., and sending patch memorials for deceased members to the "Lutheran Hour" and serving dinners to the bereaved families.

At present the LWML sponsors a child at the Good Shepherd Lutheran Home at Terra Bella, Calif., for the mentally retarded.

Each person confirmed is supplied with a memory book and is honored with a dinner. Receptions are given for all members on their 25th wedding anniversary.

A mite collection is made at the meetings and the collection sent quarterly to the district LWML. Financial assistance is given to Girls' State, sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, and members participated in cancer, polio, Red Cross and Mental Health drives.

An annual public turkey dinner, with a freewill offering, is served each year as a fund raising project and for added funds members contribute to a "thank offering" at Easter and at Thanksgiving.

Rev. E. Walter Bellmann, who resides in Gooding, is in charge of the Christ Lutheran Parish at Wendell and the Calvary Lutheran parish at Gooding.

Mrs. Charles Peckner is president; Mrs. Philip Bailey, vice president; Mrs. Lawrence Adams, secretary, and Mrs. Melvin Thacie, treasurer.

Gooding AAUW Studies International Relations

GOODING — In April, 1932, at a tea, with Mrs. O. O. Young and Mrs. Clayton Strain as hostesses, the present active branch of American Association of University Women of the Gooding area was organized.

Later 20 members were admitted with Mrs. W. L. McCoy elected president; Mrs. Everett Campbell, vice president; Lois Frandsen, secretary and Elizabeth Knox, treasurer.

The program for the first year consisted of a study of foreign diplomacy. The purpose for this year was the study of international relations. An art exhibit was held jointly with the Sorosis club.

The regional director, Mrs. Merwin, attended the state convention in Lewiston that spring and received Mrs. McCoy for state president of AAUW and she subsequently was elected to that office.

Purpose of the association is the uniting of the alumnae of different institutions for practical educational work; for the collection and publication of statistical and other information concerning education and in general for the maintenance of high standards of education.

AAUW sponsored the University of Women Vandeliers three times the last time in the spring of 1936 entertained them for a buffet supper, breakfast and provided housing for them.

They also sponsored, with the Gooding PTA, a children's theater from California, chairmanned by Mrs. C. S. Toone. A performance of the Twin Falls Community Children's Theater was given here under the sponsorship of AAUW in 1934.

Several years ago the Gooding branch of AAUW and the Sorosis Club sponsored a four-day art exhibit of Idaho artists' works. Mrs. J. B. Kilbourn spoke, and Mrs. Bert Bowler gave a resume of the annual art exhibits sponsored by the AAUW up to that time.

Mrs. Bowler and Mrs. Kilbourn attended an AAUW work camp on United Nations in a castle, with Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt as speaker.

Each year a group of distinguished women scholars have received fellowships offered for that academic year by the AAUW. This fellowship concept began in 1921 and women of six countries have received 912 awards. The Idaho State Fellowship was named in honor of Mrs. Kilbourn who served on the state fellowship board.

In November the Gooding branch holds its annual used book sale. Proceeds are used for the fellowship fund. People in the Gooding area look forward to the book sale. Many non-members donate books for the school library.

Throughout the years many outstanding guest speakers have talked to AAUW. In 1935 Alton B. Jones, Boise, state superintendent of public instruction, spoke on school legislation. James P. Gossett spoke several times to the group on many informative subjects. Mrs. Woodson Creed, Twin Falls, gave a resume of "My Fair Lady."

Many interesting travel talks have been given, often illustrated by slides and pictures. Exchange teachers and students have brought many viewpoints. At one time AAUW sponsored a Girl Scout troop. Several times members have worked with the library board in sponsoring a summer reading program, story telling hours and helping with a tea at the library open house. Mrs. M. V. Klingler and Ruth Meyer worked on these committees.

A new project added this year was a play for senior girls at Gooding high school. Members entertained the senior class with games and refreshments at the home of Mrs. A. E. James. Mrs. Jean Tanner, from the College of Southern Idaho was guest speaker. AAUW members hope to make this an annual affair.

Many members of AAUW have given of their time and effort in making AAUW a successful undertaking in Gooding. Membership includes women from Wendell, Hagerman, Bliss and Glenns Ferry.

Mrs. M. V. Klingler is president; Mrs. Dolbert Bleazard, first vice president and program development chairman; Mrs. W. A. Carter, second vice president and membership chairman; Mrs. Paul Osborne, secretary; and Mrs. Welliver, treasurer.

Mrs. Mike Sifman was this year named by the state president, Helen Engelhart, Caldwell, to serve as area representative of world problems on the state board of AAUW.

Add Eggs Gently

When you are folding-beaten egg white into a batter, turn the beaten whites over the other ingredients and then fold in.

This method works better than adding the beaten whites gradually.

One-half pound of cake flour is the equivalent of 2/3 cups of the sifted cake flour.

Unit Has Study of Africa

FILER — The Foreign Missionary Society of the Nazarene Church is studying Africa this year at its meetings and the teenage group which it sponsors, also is studying the people and customs of that country.

Mrs. Garth Kirkman is president; Mrs. Gladys Weller, vice president; Mrs. Thane Lancaster, secretary, and Mrs. Duane Rathbun, treasurer. Meetings are held the second Wednesday of each month at the church. Offerings this year go toward projects in the African mission field.

The money from the alabaster offerings collected three times a year, goes toward the building of new chapels and homes for workers in foreign fields. Thanksgiving and Easter offerings go for the support of missionaries.

During work meetings at homes of members, bandages are rolled, quilts made, and other sewing done for missions. The teenage group, under the sponsorship of the Foreign Missionary Society, is working with a radio Evangelical Thrust (NET) which helps send groups of young college students overseas.

Pansies Furnish Name For Rupert Social Club

RUPERT—The Pansy Club is one of the very few social clubs still active and busy after 51 years in the Magic Valley area.

The club was organized April 27, 1915, when women residing on or adjacent to 100 West, South and North got together on a monthly basis to visit, exchange recipes and enjoy the company of other women. The first meeting was held at the home of Mrs. A. W. Trent and the first president of the Pansy Social Club was Mrs. Pete Lambert.

During the organizational meeting of the neighborhood ladies, Mrs. Barbara Troeger had brought a huge bowl of pansies that she had nurtured in a secluded spot away from the winds and sand storms of the early project.

"The bright colored blossoms with their friendly faces were a very pleasant sight," according to Mrs. C. H. Burgher, one of the original charter members. She declared that with one accord all women present at the organizational meeting agreed that they should call the group "The Pansy Social Club."

The membership of the club has grown and decreased through the 51 years and at the present time there are 15 members. Mrs. Betty Rugg had a 50th anniversary party for the group last year, when all former members and present members were invited. The club won first prize for the best float in 1916 in the July 4th parade, with shirred cheesecloth in Pansy colors with bunches of live pansies all over the shirred cloth that decorated the Dodge car. An arch over the center of the car also consisted of pansies.

When the Rupert Flower show was first started, the Pansy Club won trophies a number of times with floral exhibits.

For several years, instead of a gift exchange at Christmas, three club members donated money to the Children's Home in Boise. During both World Wars the club worked for the Red Cross on any current project.

Three of the original charter members are still living. Mrs. M. E. Willis, Verna Farabee and Mrs. C. H. Burgher.

"Although the Pansy Club has been strictly a social club, programs have been presented to help members improve their knowledge of various issues and current programs and projects. As one of their members declared, "The group has been successful through 51 years because of its charitable ways and thoughtfulness of each other."

Current officers are Mrs. Neola Mofford, president; Mrs. Ethel Penning, vice president; and Verna Farabee, secretary-treasurer, all Rupert.

Charity Is Aim of LDS Society

WENDELL — The LDS Relief Society is reported to be the oldest auxiliary organization in the church. The aim is to inspire members to become better women, more understanding wives and mothers and more considerate neighbors and friends.

With its motto, "Charity Never Fails," the Wendell Relief Society continues to accomplish this purpose.

The Wendell Relief Society was first organized May 8, 1918. Meetings were held at the home of the members. Since there was no organized ward, here then membership was organized with the Boise Stake.

At the time the society was organized into the Wendell Ward June 6, 1926.

With the concerted efforts of its members the society has grown and has many accomplishments. The building of the new Wendell ward chapel (completed in 1964) has been a most rewarding project, officers say, and the society members have helped with fund-raising projects.

Compassionate services of the ward members consume many hours of time each year. When someone is ill, they provide help and assist in time of death and rally with help for the bereaved in any time of emergency.

The "Singing Mothers," under the direction of Mrs. Ella Mae Parker, chorister, and Mrs. Adelaide Taylor, organist, present cultural music for various special events.

The general board of the Relief Society plans and directs programs and the same lessons are given each week in all Relief Societies.

The Wendell Ward society meets each Tuesday at 2 p.m., except the second week when the group meets at 10 a.m. for an all-day meeting.

The first meeting of the month is the theology lesson, directed by Mrs. Allan O. Johnson; the second week is the homemaking lesson on crafts with Mrs. Frank Merrill, leader, and Mrs. Ivan Hunsaker giving the homemaking lesson.

Members work on quilts at the work meeting for wedding gifts. This special work is under the direction of Mrs. LeRoy Gibbs and Mrs. Spencer Peterson.

The third week of the month features a lesson on cultural refinement, with Mrs. Gibbs as leader. Social Relations and civic duties are included in the fourth meeting of the month, with Mrs. L. N. Bingham as leader. Music for the weekly meetings is directed by Mrs. Robert Smith and Mrs. Monte Peterson.

For planning with their aims, local Relief Society members pair-up as visiting teachers. Each pair call on all members in their "beat," in order that every member of the ward is visited once each month. The visiting teachers give a short message and check on their welfare.

There are 26 "beats" in the Wendell Ward and these are divided into three districts and supervised by Mrs. Lore Stephens, Mrs. Essie Melton and Mrs. Blair Smith.

Current officers of the society are Mrs. L. E. Mecham, president; Mrs. G. H. Gehrk, educational counselor; Mrs. Robert Brown, homemaking counselor, and Mrs. William Von Weller, secretary.

"No Name" Is Chosen As Epithet

The 16 women who met at the home of Mrs. E. M. Dossett in 1933 to organize a home demonstration club had trouble deciding upon a name for the club. So they settled on "Emanon" which, spelled backwards, reads "no name."

In 1949, the group united with the National Federation of Women's Clubs. It is no longer a part of this national organization, but is solely a local club serving the Knut community.

During World War II, the Emanon Club was strictly a service organization, and members did extensive sewing for the Red Cross.

It is now largely a social group, but one of the club's most important functions is a community service project; the maintenance of the Knut Grange Hall. Last year, club members repainted the hall's kitchen, and this year they raised money to install painting on the hall's stage.

Social activities include a pot-luck supper and card party for the Knut community in February, and the Rose Tea, which is held in June.

The Rose Tea is the group's most outstanding social event. Mrs. Lyle Fullmer, president, notes that the Rose Tea is the Emanon Club's time for Sunday best and all the trimmings. This year's speaker at the Rose Tea was Mrs. James Hawley, who has been teaching in India. Mrs. Hawley's lecture concerned her experiences in India.

In July, an annual family picnic for past and present members is held, usually at the home of Mrs. Dossett.

Another community project of the club is the annual donation to the Idaho Youth Ranch. This policy was started in 1937 and has continued since then. Funds are raised through yearly auction sales, plant and bulb sales and benefit card parties.

Emanon membership is now 32. Officers are Mrs. Fullmer, president; Mrs. Maurice Allen, vice president; Mrs. Walter Snow, secretary, and Mrs. Harry Sharp, treasurer. Mrs. Fullmer is the first president in the history of the club to serve three consecutive terms.

The goals of the group are reflected in the "club motto," which is read at every meeting: "Keep us, oh God, from pettiness, let us be large in thought, in word, in deed. Let us be done with fault-finding and leave off self-seeking. May we never be hasty in judgment and always generous."

"Teach us to put into action our better impulses, straightforward and unafraid. Let us take time for all things and make us grow, calm, serene and gentle."

"Grant that we may realize it is in the little things that create differences and that in the big things of life we are as one."

Opal Lodge Assists Charities

SHOSHONE — Regular contributions are made by members of Opal Rebekah Lodge at Shoshone to the educational fund of the grand lodge, to the IOOF Home on the Hill at Caldwell, to local funds such as polio, TB, Cancer, Red Cross, Children's Home and they also help with community projects.

Present membership is 83 with 56 residents and 27 non-resident members. Mrs. George Horn is the noble grand this year with Mrs. Delbert Gehrig secretary.

The lodge was instituted July 20, 1922, after several attempts to organize. The first attempt was in 1886 under the name of Charity Rebekah Lodge No. 9. The charter was lost, restored a number of times until 1922.

The name "Opal" was chosen because it was liked and members felt it would be appropriate.

The penny drill was started in 1922 and is still a feature of the lodge.

Meetings were held at the Masonic hall until 1924 when they were held at the old Parish house of the Episcopal Church.

A Rebekah study club was formed in 1925 and lasted for 20 years.

The Odd Fellows purchased the present hall in 1926 and a party was held in the spring of 1933 by both lodges to burn the mortgage on the hall. Rebekahs were busy through the years raising money to make payments.

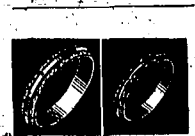

During the war years, 1942 to 1945, most activities were postponed and members did Red Cross sewing and made bandages.

Each Christmas a party is held by both the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs and their families, which has been carried down from the early years of the organization.

In 1953, a recipe book with favorite recipes of Rebekah members was printed and 100 copies sold.

Local members have given generously over the years to the Odd-Fellows World Eye Bank and Visual Research Foundation.

And may we strive to touch and know the great common woman's heart of all. And, oh Lord, let us not forget to be kind."

Gooding Garden Club Is Boost to Better Hobby

GOODING — Women with a keen interest in gardening, especially flowers and landscaping, have found their "heaven" in the Gooding County Garden Club.

Members get together monthly for an exchange of ideas and hints, as well as interesting and instructive programs, and plant exchanges.

The club was organized on May 28, 1950, and Mrs. Rex Henderson is the only charter member still belonging to the organization. Other members at the first meeting included Mrs. Jesse Curtis, Helen Boyd, Mary Fulkerson, Marie Nelson, Freda Stevens, Johnette Bragg, Fern Prather, Idell Varin and Edna Fulkerson.

Members meet to learn how to raise flowers, become better gardeners, exchange ideas and generally learn more about gardening.

The major project of the group since 1951 has been the supervising of the flower division of the Gooding County Fair. The show has grown until it is one of the main attractions, with categories for all types of flowers, as well as many arrangements, including one for children of various ages.

In the past projects have included construction, care and tending of a rock garden at the state tuberculosis hospital grounds, before it was landscaped, taking flowers to the hospitals and also bouquets for the school on opening day; painting annuals, donated by the Gooding Floral on the Gooding Memorial Hospital grounds.

Members also remember members who are ill with a small vase and flower, make various donations for handicrafts for the opportunity school and also make tray favors for the hospitals.

They have entertained members of the garden clubs of Twin Falls and Jerome, and furnished favors for the United Council of Church Women, and various other organizations.

Among the tours and visits made by the club were a visit to the gardens of Judge James P. Gossett in Wendell, a visit to Camas Prairie to see the wild flowers and plants; attendance at flower shows in the surrounding counties and communities; tours of various gardens in the area; a tour of the Snake River Pottery and an annual picnic held in August.

One of the many projects which is still enjoyed by patrons of the local library was the donation of a number of books on various phases of gardening. The books are displayed on a prominent shelf near the door and cover many subjects of interest to gardeners.

Another of the current projects of the group includes an annual gooding plant sale, which is held each spring in Gooding. The ladies manage to get most informative programs, including landscape architecture slides, experts from many fields, who lecture and answer questions.

At various times members have held a plant sale to raise money. Membership is limited to 30 members and the group meets on the fourth Monday of each month, at the homes of members.

The iris was chosen as the club flower and the "rainbow" as their color.

Past presidents of the group are Fern Prather, Mrs. Henderson, Mrs. Varin, Mrs. Bragg (two years), Mrs. Fields, Thelma Butler, Judith McMahon, Viola Hainline, Mrs. Ira Kistler Annie Bolton, Mrs. F. J. James (two years), Mrs. Eli Bennett, and the current president, Mrs. William Pyle, who is serving her second term.

Rock Creek Club Had to Prove-up Cemetery Land

HANSEN—Sixty-one years of continuous service was celebrated this summer by the members of the Rock Creek Worthwhile Club.

A program featured antiquities and old hats. Many interesting articles, some over 100 years old, were exhibited with dissertations being given by the owners. Former members were guests of honor.

In 1905 the club was organized by a group of Rock Creek women, and since that time the Rock Creek Ladies Club. They wanted a place of beauty and honor for the deceased members of the community, to replace the individual cemeteries on the ranches of the deceased in the Rock Creek Community.

Carry Act land was available for 50 cents an acre; but only if purchased in 40-acre tracts. The ladies spent the summer of 1905 a series of fund-raising programs were held to obtain funds to secure the land and a corresponding letter to the state. The land cost was just $20, the water rights, at $25 per acre, cost $1,300.

Under the Carry Act, it was necessary to "prove-up" the land, so the club obtained lumber for a "shack" which was built by the husbands of the members and other men of the community, and the land was fenced in.

The "proof" was made in the name of Lawrence Hansen, remembered by many as "Judge" Hansen, but it was his wife and her sister, Mrs. John Hansen, who resided there until the necessary requirements for residence were met. The John Hansens were the parents of Mrs. Carson Crockett, still a Rock Creek resident, and Mrs. Anna Hayes, Twin Falls.

By 1907, after numerous dances, suppers and other fund-raising projects, the land was acquired and became known as the Rock Creek Cemetery. It is still located five miles south of Hansen on the Rock Creek Road, and used occasionally.

It wasn't until 1913, however, that the patent was issued by the Twin Falls Land and Water Co., and properly recorded.

Because the club continued to be responsible for the cemetery maintenance until recent years, the members continued having dinners, dances, quilt sales, election suppers and suppers, anything to raise funds.

Many of these early settlers now rest in this cemetery. One of them, Mrs. Magnus (Lucy) Stricker, was buried there during the blizzard winter of 1948-49, when the snow was blown across the roads faster than they could be cleared. Many of her friends were forced to turn back when Hansen was reached, but those living in the area endured a snow plow, and had to wait many hours to get through. Mrs. Stricker certainly earned her place in the cemetery as did others. She often played until dawn on her organ, the first in Twin Falls community, for the church. She was arrested at times by Bernard Stricker and Magnus Larsen on their violins. Although the cemetery was first in the club's activities, the members did not forget the living. They organized a Red Cross Chapter in 1917, knitting, sewing and serving "Hoover Luncheons" to aid starving European children.

In 1918, the club joined the Federation of Women's Clubs and entered into the recommended Civic Club projects. They are now a longer member.

Sometime during the years, the name was changed to Rock Creek Worthwhile Club. They continued with worthwhile projects—canned for the Children's Home in Boise, collected clothing for overseas after World War I, contributed to the Veterans Home in Boise, purchased warm jackets for the ladies at the Twin Falls County Home.

They gave for the playground ward, helped raise funds for a hot pack machine, purchased a talking machine for the blind, among many other projects.

Although no records are available as to the actual charter members, among those included are Mrs. Lawrence Hansen, Mrs. John Hansen, Mrs. Lars Larsen, Mrs. E. D. Crockett, Mrs. Ellen Cline, Mrs. Herman Stricker, Mrs. H. P. Larsen, Mrs. Robert Brown, Mrs. Tom Atkins, Mrs. Hanna Peterson, a Mrs. Roraback, Mrs. A. P. Martey, Mrs. A. D. Norton, Mrs. Elly Gray, a Mrs. Burde, Mrs. Henry Jones, Mrs. Carl Donmose and Mrs. Ed Donmose, and others.

Mrs. L. P. Larsen has been a member for the longest continuous time, for over 50 years. Although she came to the area as a young bride, she later became a member until later. She is still an active member and was honored at the celebration.

Mrs. Wayne R. Smith is now president of the club. Mrs. Dale Kirkpatrick, vice president; Mrs. Kenneth Larsen, secretary, assisted by Mrs. Vernon Ball, and Mrs. George Henry, treasurer, assisted by Mrs. Ray McKinister, Jr.

The group is still as active in worthwhile projects as ever, carrying on the heritage of their mothers and grandmothers, as many of them are direct descendants.

They give generously to the charity drives, Red Cross, Heart, Cancer, and the March of Dimes. They have made the Idaho Youth Ranch, a special project. They still have time for other projects wherever their help can be used and they provide a fellowship for their members which is priceless.

Cedar Draw Club Helps Families

BUHL—In keeping with its motto, "Malice Toward None—Charity Toward All," the Cedar Draw club has assisted many needy families with food, clothing and nursing care.

The Boise Children's Home has been a special project of the Cedar Draw Club for 46 years. Another special project being carried on by the club is sending an adopted girl at Nampa State School gifts and cards on her birthday anniversary and other special occasions.

The club donates to different charitable organizations such as Cancer Fund, Red Cross, Boise Children's Home, Heart Funds and many other different foundations.

The projects were first begun by giving cash donations, but later, members began canning fruit for the June, which it does. Projects are sent prior to the Thanksgiving holiday. Five years ago membership was confined to the Cedar Draw Community but as the years passed they have opened the membership to anyone interested in their type of work.

After a member becomes 70 years of age she automatically becomes an honorary member of the club. A total of 12 names comprise the honorary roll. Jeanette Mixxwell is a new member the past year.

Meetings are held on the first and third Wednesday of each month. Red and white are the club colors and the red carnation, the club flower.

Some of their social functions include a potluck luncheon for the installation of officers in January. To honor the husbands members hold a potluck supper and play card in February. The highlights of the year include a Mothers Day luncheon in May, complete with a decorating scheme plus a special program.

A family banquet honoring the honorary members is held in November. The Cedar Draw Grange and the Cedar Draw Club gather to have their annual Christmas party.

Officers for the following year will be elected in November. Current officers are Mrs. Ted Hicks, president; Mrs. Richard Morgan, vice president, and Mrs. Gar Grindstaff, secretary-treasurer.

GAR Preserves Memory Of Civil War Veterans

To keep alive the memory of the Civil War "G.I.," and consequently to remind men of the anguish that results when brother fights brother, is the dual purpose of the Dan McCook Circle of the Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic.

The third GAR circle to be organized in Idaho, the Dan McCook group was formed in 1909 at the home of District Judge James W. Shields.

Participation in the Flag Day Tea, which is co-sponsored by all the patriotic women's clubs in Twin Falls, is one of the means by which the group fulfills its goal. Club members also take part in many of the Memorial Day exercises held in Twin Falls.

The provision of flags for every veteran's grave on Memorial Day is another special project of the local circle. Participation in all ceremonies honoring veterans is, in toto, the foundation of the unit's approach to its goal.

The annual GAR state convention, which was held in Twin Falls this year, was one of the season's highlights for the local group. Bazaars, rummage and cook food sales were held by the circle to meet the expenses of the convention.

Proceeds from these and other fund raising activities were also used to supplement the group's flower fund. This fund is used to provide flowers for club members who become ill as well as for funeral, hospital and similar calls are other goodwill activities of the club.

National recognition from the GAR association has been given to two local Dan McCook circle members. Mrs. Phoebe Snodgrass and Mrs. Ruby Smith have both received the Oldest Daughter of a Civil War Veteran Award.

Mrs. Smith is president of the circle. Other officers are Mrs. Olive Jones, vice president; Mrs. Maude Williams, Junior vice president; Mrs. Martha Smith, secretary; Mrs. Robin Conaway, treasurer; Mrs. Bethel Day, chaplain; Mrs. Mary Miller, parlour instructor, and Mrs. John Conaway, historian.

Officers are Mrs. Bonnie Cook, conductor, and Mrs. Snodgrass, guard. Another club member is Mrs. Ralph Day, president of the state GAR. There are 21 members. Meetings are held twice a month.

Social events of the group include annual Christmas parties and an annual breakfast in August.

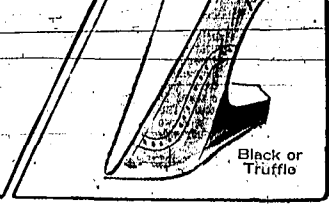

Membership in the unit is limited to blood relatives of Civil War veterans.

Excelsior Club is 40 Years Old

HANSEN — Excelsior School Club members celebrated their 40 years anniversary at their annual spring luncheon held at the Caboose Room at the Depot Grill.

Mrs. Charles Teacher, the first elected president of the club, and Mrs. Carl Hughes, first vice president, were special guests. Mrs. Frank Schlegel was the first secretary-treasurer.

On March 31, 1926, a group of women living in what was known then as the Excelsior school district organized the club in order to provide a social hour together and share common interests.

One of their interests at that time was the Excelsior school which was located just four miles south of Hansen until 1950, when the district was consolidated with the Hansen school district.

The schoolhouse was moved into Hansen and the building was utilized for the use of lower grade classrooms. Now it houses the lower grades library.

The first project of this club was the McClusky Health Camp and the Salvation Army to which contributions were made regularly thereafter for many years.

In Nov. 1926, the club joined the Federated Women's Clubs and participated in their four projects. They started a $50 Student Fund to be used by the youth-of-club members; sent fruit-cakes and money to the Children's Home in Boise; purchased silverware for the Excelsior school; helped a local farmer (Mrs. Helen) buy and bought groceries for needy families in their community.

Although they resigned from the Federated Women's Clubs, the club continued with worthy while projects, sending clothing to the Salvation Army, contributing to a fund to purchase a picture machine for the County Home; giving to the Welfare Society to help an invalid lady; giving to the Red Cross society contributing to the Red Cross, and folding bandages and filling Christmas boxes for soldiers, under Red Cross supervision.

They also contributed to the Orit Reserves, sent pocket-square, ordinary boxes, and Christmas boxes to an Indian reservation, contributed to the hospital fund and resuscitation nursing, heart fund, cancer, crippled children, cerebral palsy, cough, psychotherapy ward, sent powdered milk and clothing to the county home, and a fund for glasses for a needy child and fuel for a needy lady, and food and clothing were sent to the Red Cross for youth.

Among the more recent contributions is to the Kimberly Park Fund. Whenever there was a need, the club members are willing to help.

Some of the ways members raised funds were sewing at farm-fairs, holding fund food sales, quilting, charging one cent a yard for thread and many other ways.

The group honored teachers in the Excelsior school, welcomed their will to a social. Other social activities which they enjoy at the present time are an annual spring luncheon, picnic and a Thanksgiving dinner honoring their husbands.

Present officers are Mrs. W. F. Anderson, vice president; Mrs. Ralph Scott, secretary; and Mrs. Louie Harris, treasurer.

T.F. Fellows Center on Community

If you can't lick'em, join 'em and you just can't lick'em members of the Twin Falls Lions Club. So their wives joined them, via the Twin Falls Fellows Club.

Organized in 1952, the objectives of this club are to take an active interest in the civic, commercial and moral welfare of the community; to unite the members in friendship; to promote the theory and practice of good government; and to further projects sponsored by the Lions Club.

Current officers include Mrs. T. J. Wilkes, president; Mrs. Norman Gartlington, vice president; Mrs. Eileen Faler, secretary; and Mrs. Elda Bossard, treasurer. Board members include Mrs. Paul Bull, Mrs. Hugh Coates, Mrs. Floyd Miller and Mrs. H. L. (Herry) Derfick. There are approximately 50 members.

Projects include assistance with the Miss Twin Falls pageant, during which Fellows are backstage and on call for make-up, costume changes and moral support for pageant participants; donations to Jive, Inc., an organization for the benefit of handicapped persons; and general aid to Lions Club activities.

Club members get in a lot of driving time during the Lions Club light bulb, candy and other door-to-door sales. It's the little woman who takes the wheel while the Lion gets out and does the selling. Funds from the light-bulb sale are used to provide places for needy persons. Informative and educational programs are a part of each Fellows Club meeting. Programs during the last year have included lectures on landscaping, medical self-help and physical fitness. In addition, travelogues and book reviews are often presented.

A luncheon-dinner dance with the Lions Club members and a Christmas party are annual social events.

Community service is the overall aim of the club—a satisfactory compromise between sitting at home alone while hubby goes off to the club meeting and taking up Russian roulette, according to Mrs. Wilkes.

Add Kernal Corn

To vary canned or packaged potato soup, you may want to add canned whole-kernel corn. Use the liquid from the corn as part of the amount of liquid called for in preparing the soup.

DRAIN BACON

After frying or broiling bacon, be sure to drain it on brown paper or paper toweling.

Filer Club Formed 40 Years Ago

FILER — North Street Club lists 15 members who are women living on North Street in town. The club was organized 40 years ago.

Mrs. Wayne Moltise is president; Mrs. William Ling, secretary-treasurer; and Ruth McDonough, reporter. Mrs. Ernest Peck and Mrs. Deborah Macaw are charter members who still belong.

The group meets the third Tuesday of the month at members' homes. Mystery pot games are drawn and birthday anniversaries and wedding anniversaries remembered with cards and gifts. A summer cookout was held at the home of Mrs. Frances Seddon and a Christmas party with gift exchange is a yearly event.

Although a social club, its members take part in charity drives and are annual contributors to the Filer Public Library. Members who are ill are remembered with gifts and cards, and flowers and sympathy cards are sent to bereaved members and families.

Alta Lodge Is Oldest In Town

RICHFIELD — Richfield Alta Rebekah Lodge No. 31 is the oldest women's lodge in town.

It was instituted March 13, 1916, by the Hailey lodge. Of the 12 charter members three still retain membership in the local lodge. Mrs. J. S. McIntosh, field; Mrs. Georgia Brush Jukes, Burkh, and Mrs. Myrtle Youngkin, Durban, Calif.

Another outstanding member is Mrs. Retta Powell, Richfield, who was present when the lodge received its charter, but her membership transfer did not arrive for her to become a Richfield charter member. She joined at the first regular meeting April 15, 1916, by transfer from the Chewelah lodge, Richfield lodge No. 125. She has now been a Rebekah for more than 55 years.

In 1933 Mrs. Retta Powell received the special honor of a decoration of chivalry jewel bestowed by the Patriarch's Militia of the IOOF lodge.

Mrs. C. O. Chatfield, another prominent Rebekah noted for her public readings at community events, also received the decoration of chivalry jewel.

The late Mrs. George R. Schwann was elected the first deputy president. The lodge helped to buy and furnish the IOOF hall, purchased the heating system, a piano, card tables; dishes and silverware as well as kitchen equipment and drapes.

The lodge contributed $100 toward furnishing a room at the Wood River Convalescent Center, Shoshone.

Helping others is a service motto of the Rebekah lodge members and aid has often been given to sister lodge members in need.

A memorial service, written by Mrs. Lester Johansen of the Alta Rebekah lodge, was exemplified at Grand Lodge in Idaho Falls in 1956 by members of the Richfield lodge group.

A pageant, "Women of the Bible," was presented by invitation to lodges in surrounding towns after their Richfield lodge had given the pageant in honor of the Assembly president's visit. Much impressed, the official requested the pageant be presented in sister district lodges.

Meetings of the lodge are held the first and third Wednesday of each month except for July and August. A hint potluck dinner is held with the IOOF lodge when they meet. The men's lodge has held few meetings the past years and the women have endeavored to keep the charters for both groups.

At present the IOOF hall is used as a community center and the polling place for elections in Richfield. The lodge serves the Carey area also with a number of duty women included in the membership.

RNA Leads Insurance Club Field

One of the leading societies in the fraternal life insurance field is Vishnu Camp No. 2970 of the Twin Falls Royal Neighbors of America.

Instituted in 1906 by 29 members, the local RNA has long followed a philanthropic program based on religious and civic needs. Rummage sales and other typical fund-raising activities help support the group's continuing donations to the Boise Children's Home, Idaho Youth Ranch and the Easter Seal Center.

Officers of the estimated-175 members are: Mrs. Earl Shaw, orator; Mrs. Edna Alwood, vice orator; Mrs. Frieda Evans, past orator; Mrs. Mary Eleanor, chancellor; Myrtle Ann Tridwell, receiver; Mrs. Ted Samples, marshal; Mrs. Donald Treadwell, assistant marshal; Mrs. Glad Samples, secretary; Mrs. C. W. Burgess, president; and Mrs. C. F. Buswell, outer sentinel.

Special projects for the benefit of members and their families are held annually by the organization, which includes children as well as adults. Pot luck suppers are held—every two months in honor of those recently celebrating birthday anniversaries and summer picnics are featured each year.

Thanksgiving dinners and Christmas parties are also held. State and regional conventions are regularly attended by many members of the club. The RNA's last District, which includes Bailey, Burley, Hansen, Gooding, Buhl and Twin Falls, was held in Twin Falls last May.

Memorial Day, the local camp assists its Past Orators. Club by placing flags on graves of departed members and devoting a special meeting to their memory.

Bible Study Is Goal of ALCW Unit

The 100 members of the American Lutheran Church Women of Our Savior Lutheran Church have one primary function: Bible study.

First started as a Ladies Aid Society 25 years ago, the ALCW unit has since expanded its sales and sewing projects. The name was then changed to the Dorcas and later to the ALCW with the merger of the American, United and Evangelical Lutheran Churches about four years ago.

The group is divided into three units, each of which meets monthly at the home of a member. A general meeting, with all three units in attendance, is held every other month.

Each circle has a service project, such as cleaning senior and junior choir robes, visiting the ill and saving coupons for the purchase of items such as a coffee urn or tea service for the group.

However, Bible study, as a motivation to Christian service, remains the main goal of each circle.

In addition, the circles have prayer chains when a need for a prayer arises. Such a need would be the death or serious illness of a church member.

These individual units also take turns hosting the general meetings.

The ALCW provides food for funerals and weddings, makes rummage sales for convalescent services, serves at banquets and coffee hours and furnishes

MRS. G. W. BURGESS

Panhellenic Unit Guides Sororities

The coordinating body for the collegiate sororities in Twin Falls is the Panhellenic Council, headed by Mrs. G. W. Burgess.

Created in 1912, one of the council's biggest events is a fall tea for all national sorority members on the facilities of Twin Falls public schools.

Other events include a Christmas dance for all college sorority members—bridge parties and monthly luncheons.

Two of the council's charter members are still living in Twin Falls—Mrs. Clyde Barton and Mrs. A. J. Peavey. A reception honoring these two members was held in 1962.

The council annually sponsors two scholarships for use at any nationally accredited school. The recipients are women and no academic stipulation is placed on the scholarships—they may be used for any scholastic field.

Membership in the council is 60, composed of all national sorority members in Magic Valley. The council is responsible for coordinating the activities of these sororities.

flowers for the altar. The group also provides a nursery for the church.

The ALCW has no particular fund raising projects, unlike many women's organizations. Most of the group's funds are simply donated by members.

Half of a particular circle's contributions are sent to the general fund. Another half of this sum is kept sent to the national headquarters, where it is donated to the church's various missions.

Social activities of the group include a Mother-Daughter Banquet, a Father-Son Banquet and a July family picnic.

Officers are Mrs. James Turner, president; Mrs. Duane Schrank, vice president; Mrs. Richard Schulte, secretary and Mrs. Chad Bökkins, treasurer. Other officers are Mrs. Russell Pietz, secretary of steadfastship; Mrs. Ernest Neumann, secretary of education; Mrs. Delbert Milam, president of the morning circle; Mrs. Robert Devore, president of the afternoon circle and Mrs. Everett Dorah, president of the evening circle. All business is conducted by their board members and the pastor of the church.

The aim of the group, in summation, is the strengthening and sharing of a Christian life through the study of the Bible.

Theme for League Is Noted

"Non-partisan" is the word of the day for the Twin Falls League of Women Voters and the coordinating theme is voter education. Every activity of the group is geared toward these guiding lights.

The non-partisan "of" title has been given rise to its most perpetual problem: keeping officers. Members whose husbands run for public office cannot hold office during the campaign or during their husbands' term.

Founded in Twin Falls in 1947, the league is primarily a study-action club, not a social group. The first league was organized in 1951 at the first state convention held in Twin Falls.

Mrs. R. L. Summerfield was the first president of the Twin Falls League.

To become a member of the state organization, the group must first complete a "know your county" project under a provisional set-up. The local group studied the city manager type of local government and helped institute it in the city.

The motto, as such, of the unit is "study without action is futile and action without study is fatal."

The group's interpretations of this motto include studies of the need for a county library in Twin Falls and the need for more mental health facilities. Resulting from these studies have been the Mental Health Council and the possibility of the re-establishment of a county library.

The Twin Falls league is not only busy with local programs but with state and national projects as well. The league will be studying the constitutional branch of government and Idaho election laws.

National items—which come under the scrutiny of the league include the principle of apportionment of state legislatures, equal opportunity for employment and education, foreign economic policy, United Nations and water resources.

The league disseminates information to the public on all the issues it studies. At election time, the league publishes non-partisan information on candidates, maintains a voter information booth, produces a television show for candidates and public service.

A full-page newspaper advertisement, which lists the qualifications and stands of all the candidates, is published by the league prior to each election.

The league has no particular fund raising activities for the support of these projects. The group's budget, rather, is supported through dues and contributions.

Become a member of the league, a woman must be of voting age, pay dues and be interested in representative government. Twin Falls members are automatically members of the national league. About 40 women make up the membership list of the organization.

New areas of study for the unit include the topic of the needs of the College of Southern Idaho, and a study of the need for expanded and improved airport facilities for the Twin Falls area.

National and state study areas are designated by the respective organizations. A continued study of the state constitution is with an emphasis on the provisions applicable to the judicial branch of government; and a study of local legislative laws, with an emphasis on the nominating laws, are the group's current state study topics.

National study areas are currently concerned with human resources, equal opportunity for employment and education and a study of Red Cross needs in regard to the United Nations.

A special event for the league this year was the club-sponsored public meeting which speakers on the topic of equal opportunity in education and employment lectured. This program was held in January.

The club also helped to sponsor the public foreign policy meeting in March. This meeting featured speakers from the State Department.

The league has a morning unit which meets Wednesday and an evening unit meeting Thursdays, both on the second and fourth weeks of each month.

The group, still shy of non-partisan politics, nevertheless takes public "stands" on selected issues. The support of the city manager form of local government, the urging of a revision of Idaho's constitution and the support of the establishment of a national mental health centers are indicative of these stands.

In connection with the league's interest in the study of the Twin Falls county offices and their functions, a pamphlet dealing with the organization of county government will be published by the league this fall. Hopefully, this pamphlet will enable the public to better understand county government.

The group has published a similar pamphlet dealing with mental health.

Directors are Mrs. Robert Nelson, president; Mrs. A. R. Robinson, secretary, and Lotus Joy Smith, treasurer. The group's vice president's husband announced his candidacy for public office precipitated Mrs. Joy's resignation from her office.

Directors are Mrs. Roy Slot-ten, Mrs. Bernard Barker, Mrs. Isabelle Miller, Mrs. John Cushman and Mrs. J. D. Brennan. These directors handle the local business of the league.

The goals of the organization are to take action on program items, publish the pamphlet planned this fall, inform the public about issues and candidates and strive for larger membership.

The purpose of the league, in summation, is to promote political responsibility through an informed and active participation of citizens in government.

Camp Fire Girls' Insignia Symbolizes Organizational Goal for Womenhood

The two crossed logs and flame, universal insignia of the Camp Fire Girls, represent not only a simple camp fire. The hearth fire of the home, traditionally given into the keeping of women, is aptly symbolized by the cheerful blaze.

The development of creative, feminine and capable "guardians of the flame" is the purpose of the entire Camp Fire program. The very fundamentals of life are stressed by the organization, as indicated by the Camp Fire watchword: Women. Who is composed of the first two letters of "work," "health" and "love."

The Camp Fire Girls Council is responsible for the directing and planning of all activities for Camp Fire Girls, Blue Birds, Junior High Camp Fire Girls and Horizon Club.

Adult volunteers guide the girls in experiencing a well-balanced life — in home and outdoors, in science, arts and crafts, in citizenship, in local, national and international service and in religious growth.

Membership in Camp Fire Girls is open regardless of race, religion, national origin or economic status — to all girls seven years old through high school.

The youngest members of the program are in the second and third grades, the Blue Birds. Camp Fire Girls are open to young ladies in the fourth through sixth grades. Seventh and eighth grade girls have the Junior High Camp Fire Girls, and high schoolers belong to the Horizon Club.

The Camp Fire Girls Council maintains the unit's Camp Tawakani, in the South Hills, to further the group's goal of developing a love for the outdoors among its members.

Camp Tawakani was recently evaluated by an American Camping Association official and received A.C.A. accreditation, indicating that the camp meets the high standards of the A.C.A. The camp is open to all Camp Fire members as well as non-members. The age limits are from seven to 18.

A fire which completely destroyed the large recreation building at the camp last June was taken in stride by the council members. Plans were immediately underway for the construction of a new and better building.

In July, Horizon Club member Linda Franca attended the Horizon Club Conference Alfloat. This conference is held on board the Aurelia, a large ocean liner. Over 1000 girls chosen from all over the United States were included in the conference. The ship cruised the Caribbean Sea and stopped at several ports en route where the girls attended meetings with various youth groups, and enjoyed many other excursions.

A new Community Service Volunteer program for Horizon Club girls was initiated this year. The girls receive training in a chosen area of work from the council and then volunteer for service in such fields as nursing homes, the Easter Seal Clinic, the public library and other areas. This program not only offers the girls an opportunity to be useful in the community, but helps them decide on a life work.

Another function of the council is to assist the Camp Fire Girls to carry out their motto, "Give Service." Finding baby sisters for church members, assisting organizations in preparing literature for mailing or collecting clothing for the needy and other projects are the committee applications of this function.

The council's work with Keep Idaho Green projects is another important aspect of its approach to community service. The group received first prize for its Keep Idaho Green scrapbook in the state contest.

In January the council was presented a plaque for outstanding achievement in forest fire prevention by Floyd Iverson, regional forester, and Roger Grumsey, state forester. The plaque commended the Camp Fire Girls for their activities in connection with the group's fire prevention program.

These activities include stuffing envelopes for fire prevention messages, appearing in fire prevention skits and placing fire prevention posters in store windows.

Anti-litter work was another feature of the Camp Fire program this year. The local groups participated in a clean-up day, obliterating debris they spewed along a section of a main highway.

Another phase of the Keep Idaho Green work is the planting of trees each year, and the Camp Fire Girls aren't left out here either. Last spring 200 seedlings from the Forest Service were planted in the unit's camp area, the work being supervised by Forest Service personnel.

The council sponsors many various program activities, and each year the individual groups carry out new versions of them.

This year one Junior High group fulfilled all requirements for the Camp Fire Child Care course, and another the standard First Aid Red Cross course.

Nineteen girls achieved Torch Bearer rank in several of the 25 fields of interest for this rank.

Special events sponsored by the council each year include Fly Up, where Bluebirds "graduate" into Camp Fire Girls; Grand Council Fire, where Camp Fire girls receive national honors and ranks; father-daughter box socials, skating parties, day camp and resident camp.

The annual theme for last year was "Think Big. See the World," and this theme was featured in both the Fly Up and the Grand Council Fire. Next year's theme will be "Spotlight the Creative Artist."

New activities currently being planned by the council for the fall include a "charm course" for the older girls and a new field of interest for Horizon Club members emphasizing careers.

The Camp Fire Girls organization was founded in 1910 by Luther H. Gulick, who also organized the Boy Scouts of America. Camp Fire groups were formed in Twin Falls as early as 1914, although the council did not exist until 1939. Mrs. W. A. VanEngelen was an early leader in the local council's organization. This council governs the entire Twin Falls County area.

The Twin Falls council is governed by Region VI and locally by board administration. Officers of the board are Mrs. Orval Johnson, president; Elmer Wilson and Morris Roth, first and second vice presidents; Mrs. Cora Ainsworth, secretary, and Mrs. Elmer Wilson, treasurer.

There are a total of 1,000 council members, including the 30 board members and the entire membership of each of the camp Fire Girls groups in this area.

Mrs. James Vandenberg is hired by the board as the council's executive director. She has held this position for nine years. A full-time office secretary and a part-time field-worker are her assistants. Mrs. Gerard Klump is the council's secretary during the school year, and the summer secretary is Marci Catzevan. Mrs. Dorothy Peavy is the field worker.

Another special activity of the council is the annual Mardi Gras carnival in the spring, which aids in financing camp improvements.

Contributions from the United Fund are the group's most important source of income.

Diamond Reigns During DAR's 75th Anniversary

The diamond, symbolizing strength and durability as well as everlasting beauty, is figuratively reigning over the functions and activities of the Twin Falls Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

The local chapter is joining in the celebration of the national organization's Diamond Jubilee Anniversary, commemorating three-quarters of a century of historical, educational and patriotic service to the United States. The Twin Falls group hosted the state Diamond Jubilee Conference, which was held in Coeur d'Alene.

Although the state convention site was changed from Twin Falls to Boise, the Twin Falls chapter remained the official host.

The Twin Falls DAR places strong emphasis on the promotion of education in its various programs. All high schools in the area are urged to participate in the DAR Good Citizen Award, which is given to senior girls in recognition of outstanding dependability, service, leadership and patriotism.

Kelly Florence was the award winner this year. Miss Florence was graduated from Twin Falls High School and was co-valedictorian.

The DAR's interest in education extends into the nursing field, and has for many years. During the Spanish-American War, the national society supplied more than 1,000 trained nurses for the war effort.

These nurses became the focal point of the DAR Hospital Corps, which in turn became the nucleus of the United States Army Hospital Corps. This action also highlighted the then relatively new introduction of women into government service. As a result to this, these nurses not eligible for government pensions received DAR pensions, according to Mrs. J. S. Slinger, regent of the Twin Falls chapter.

The affinity between the DAR and the nursing profession has been carried on within the local group. In this connection, the club sponsored a Banquet-Shoshone Indian and from Fort Hall at St. Alphonsus School of Nursing in Boise. The student, who received much of her financial assistance from the organization, graduated last June.

American Indians receive special consideration from the DAR, and the local group contributes annually to St. Mary's School for Indian Girls, South Dakota, and to Bacone Indian College, Oklahoma.

The chapter continues to follow a three-fold program of historical, educational and patriotic service to the community. In February, which is American History Month, five brasserie flags were presented to the Idaho State School for the Blind in Gooding. The brasserie flag was fashioned in 1962 so that the blind might discern with their fingers the alternate red and white stripes and the 50 stars of the American flag.

The flag is composed of alternate stripes of silken plush velvet and white stripes, with heavily embroidered stars on a cotton background, and is two-by-three feet in size.

Applicants for citizenship also benefit from the group's patriotic endeavors. The DAR Manual for Citizenship are distributed by the local chapters free of charge to foreign-born people, studying for their American citizenship.

More than nine million copies have been distributed across the nation since 1921 when the first manuals were prepared.

The local group also participates in all patriotic programs presented locally. Representatives of the unit attend the annual Memorial Day services and were the group on the Memorial Marker at this time.

The chapter also joins the other patriotic women's organizations in the Flag Day Tea. The group also participates in all Veterans' Day services held in Twin Falls area. Constitution Week recognition through displays and special programs is another project.

The local DAR holds only one social affair each year — the annual Guest Day Tea to commemorate the birthday anniversary of George Washington. A book review by Mrs. Roger W. Thomas, combining education with patriotism, is usually given at this time.

Organized in Twin Falls in 1917, the group is one of 12 chapters in the state and a part of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Twelve charter members elected Mrs. Kennedy Packard as the first regent.

The current membership of 75 is the largest in the state. Officers are Mrs. Slinger, regent; Mrs. Roger Thomas, vice regent; Mrs. Walter Senter, secretary, and Mrs. George Detweiler, treasurer.

Mrs. G. Allen was the first state regent from Twin Falls.

Featured guest at the state convention was Mrs. William M. Sullivan Jr., Scarsdale, N. Y. Mrs. Sullivan is the president general of NSDAR.

Members of the DAR will continue to render service to the nation and the public in time of peace or war through the society's various programs, according to Mrs. Slinger. They're aiming for another 75 years of historical education and patriotic service to the United States.

UPW Builds Christian Fellowship

The Twin Falls United Presbyterian Women, now headed by Mrs. Clyde Kootz, was created in 1935 to develop Christian fellowship and cooperation among all women of the congregation.

First known as the Ladies Aid Society, additional purposes of the group are to increase service on the educational and missionary tasks of the church, to give aid to those who need it and to foster spiritual development.

In 1939, a Woman's Missionary Society was formed within the church and the Ladies Aid joined with this group in 1942 to form the Women's Association. The Association became known as the UPW in 1958, following the merger of the Presbyterian Church and the United Presbyterian Church.

Other current officers of the unit are Mrs. A. R. Robinson, vice president; Mrs. Gladys Barnard, secretary, and Ruth Brown, treasurer. There are more than 100 members in the group, and they meet monthly at the Twin Falls First Presbyterian Church.

There are six circles within the UPW, and each is responsible for the fulfillment of a different project. One circle is devoted to assisting an Indian mission in Montana. Another donates money and supplies to the Indian mission at Kayenta, Ariz.

Another sponsors a "Scotch Bazaar" in one of the rooms in the church. Money from the bazaar is also donated to various missions. Still another circle donates the money it earns through serving at dinners and wedding receptions to the mission program.

The circles' meetings are held monthly at the homes of mem-

Baptist Mission Society Includes Every Member

FILER — Membership in the First Baptist Mission Society extends to every woman member of the First Baptist Church and they may be active or inactive.

Mrs. Gene Kovar is president of the general society and Mrs. Marshall Johnson is treasurer. Other officers include Mrs. Paul Patterson, vice president of interpretation; Mrs. Lauren Butts, program; Mrs. Lyle Abel, communications; Mrs. Elza Prough, vice president of missions; Mrs. Clarence Edwards, special interest missionaries; and Mrs. Richard Morgan, White Cross.

Mrs. Arthur Hoag, vice president of Christian service; Mrs. Thomas Lucas, spiritual growth; Mrs. Everett Andrews, literature; Mrs. Alex Melton, secretary; Mrs. Joe Miller, leadership development; Mrs. N. L. Johnson, Christian social relations; and Mrs. Price Holloway, Just Girls.

The society meets the first Thursday of each month. It works to fill White Cross quotas to home, missions, Latin American countries, Christian center, and overseas missions. This year shipments were sent to the bers. Programs during the meetings feature the study of the Bible, missions or missionaries.

Assistance with a major sewing project at the Twin Falls labor camp and contributions to welfare projects of the United Church Women are other group activities.

The UPW's ecumenical assignment for the last year was to send supplies and money to the Philippines. The UPW has also donated money to print a mental health booklet, work with the Salvation Army and contributes to the Church World Service.

"Christian fellowship" is the group's informal password.

Congo. Purpose of the society, as explained by an officer, is to unite the women of the church in devotion to the Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ, through a program that will cultivate a missionary spirit and definite commitment to active participation in attaining the objectives of the American Baptist Convention.

The unit is divided into four circles. Mrs. Markie Brown, chairman of the Naomi Circle, which holds afternoon meetings each month in member's homes where work is done on sewing projects to help fill White Cross quotas.

Mrs. Lyle Abel is chairman of the Hilda Jervy Circle. Its members meet monthly in homes of members where they help fill White Cross quotas. Each year the group selects a book for study.

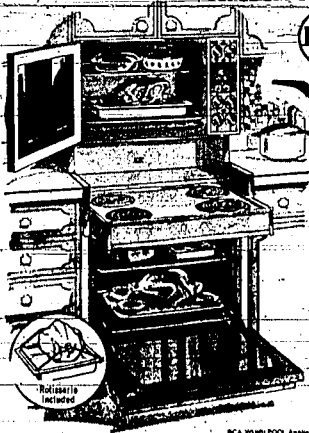

Mrs. Ray Rutherford is Judson-Giles chairman and the circle holds evening meetings at the homes and has sewing projects and helps to fill "White Cross" quotas.

The fourth circle is the Melia Amy Circle whose chairman is Cheryl Webster. This group is composed of the very young women of the church and evening meetings are held in the homes.

The First Baptist Mission Society also sponsors the Fellowship Guild which is comprised of young girls from the seventh grade until high school graduation. Mrs. Everett Haley and Mrs. Paul Patterson are counselors. Purpose of the guild is to help mold the girls into gracious Christian women.

The group has 10 members. Seven of them received their degrees of color this summer and have begun work toward their degrees of light. Three have received their degrees of the Rose and are working toward their degrees of color.

Friendship Circle Is Work Club

MILNER — The Friendship Circle Club of Milner has been holding regular meetings since May 12, 1948. At the present time Mrs. J. E. Neumann is president and Mrs. Edwin Bruce, secretary.

Before World War II the club was a going concern during the war years and members sewed, knitted and rolled bandages for the Red Cross. After the war it disbanded for a few years.

When the men came home and took up their farming the women had more leisure time on their hands and Mrs. Earl Sears and Mrs. J. E. Neumann were instrumental in getting the club started again.

At this time the club has undertaken a variety of projects. It has canned and made clothing for the Children's Home and the Grey Ladies at Cassia Memorial Hospital. These puppets were made to give to the club patients. The Red Cross furnished the faces and the members donated their time and materials.

They held a Christmas program, complete with a Santa Claus, for the children in the neighborhood for a number of years.

During the past two years they have made more than 300 puppets for the Grey Ladies at Cassia Memorial Hospital. These puppets were made to give to the club patients. The Red Cross furnished the faces and the members donated their time and materials.

They sponsor the Milnerettes 4-H Club and give a yearly party. Each girl is given a gift for her participation in the club.

One of the outstanding projects of the club is the sponsoring of a needy family in the area. Each year the club members give baskets of essential items to some family, that amounts to about $100.

Debra Russell, Cassia County probation officer, helps the club to choose a family that she feels is in need. The club members then select the items to give. Each year the club has given baskets to the needy family and other items to the family many times during the year.

They have mailed clothing and toys to a child patient from Burley at the State Tuberculosis Hospital in Gooding.

The hospital wrote when the needed clothes and other items to make her stay there more enjoyable.

Members spearheaded a drive to raise funds to fence and put markers on the pioneer cemetery at Milner. Since that time it has been kept up by the Milnerettes and Better Feeders and Filters 4-H clubs.

Members sell, gift-wrap, and Christmas cards and have dinners for the members to raise money to finance their yearly expenditures.

They hold an annual ice cream supper and picnic each summer for the members families. Once during the year members have an annual outing and dinner and tour some place of interest in the area. Each Christmas they have a dinner-in-town-and-return to one of the members houses for the husbands' party.

The club started out as purely a social endeavor but before much time had elapsed members decided that there were too many really worthwhile projects that needed attention, so they have combined their efforts and are a working club as well as a social club.

Theme Song Describes Unit's Function, Aims

"Smiling Through the Years" Is the theme song of, what else, the Smiling Through Club, and Mrs. J. H. Henry, president, feels that the song aptly describes the club's overall function: "Friendship and togetherness."

Education enters the picture, however, through book reviews and discussions on current national and international issues at each monthly meeting. Service comes in also, in the form of a dues fund which is annually donated to the LDS Primary Children's Home in Salt Lake City.

The club was organized in 1929, and three of the charter members are still active. Mrs. Winnifred Whitehead, Mrs. Edith Whitehead and Nettie Montgomery.

Other officers of the current 25 members include Mrs. Lydia Call, vice president, and Mrs. George Stoddard, secretary-treasurer.

Christmas parties and summer picnics provide relaxation for club members. "I believe that word 'friendship' covers the ultimate aim of our group," Mrs. Henry noted in conclusion.

Royal Neighbor Lodge At Hansen Takes Trips

HANSEN — The highlight of the Royal Neighbor Lodge activities last year was a trip en masse to St. Maries where they attended the state convention.

After the convention the group took a week's trip to the Western coast and into Vancouver, B.C. Mrs. Merritt Zuck, near Bellingham, Wash., and Mrs. Irene Johnson, Tacoma, joined the group.

This isn't the first time the group has taken a trip. In 1962, after four years of intensive special fund-raising programs, the camp sent 30 members to the national convention at Denver. This was almost the entire active membership.

They presented a drill at this convention. At the state convention they were asked to put on a special fund-raising drill which the RNA letters are formed.

As in the 1962 trip, the group chaperoned a bus for a western tour, also. As in the first, they held a series of fund-raising campaigns to pay for their ways, except personal expenses. And they still contributed to all the worthwhile projects which as a fraternal organization they are asked to do.

The lodge was organized Dec. 16, 1925, with 25 members. And at the suggestion of Mrs. Fred Kopp, they chose the name Royal Neighbor Lodge.

The lodge was organized Dec. 16, 1925, with 25 members. And at the suggestion of Mrs. Fred Kopp, they chose the name Royal Neighbor Lodge.

Mrs. Stella Hughes was the first officer; Mrs. Merritt Zuck, vice officer; Mrs. Stokes-Wise, past officer; and Mrs. Effie Watkins, Twin Falls, deputy; Mrs. M. A. Robinson, chancery; Mrs. Clarence Bedow, recorder; Mrs. Everett Bailey, receiver; Mrs. Harold Hill, inner-sentinel; Mrs. Ralph Bean, outer-sentinel; Mrs. Effie Stom, marshal; Mrs. George Henry, assistant marshal.

Dr. Walter Langenwelter, Twin Falls, was their physician and Mrs. Kopp, the musician. Mrs. Frances Bedow, Gladys Stricker and Mrs. William E. Galle, flagbearer; Mrs. Cloe Weech, Mrs. Mavis Hill, Mrs. Frank Wright, Mrs. Bonnie Hill and Mrs. Edith McDonald were graces. Mrs. Alice Cozad was staff captain. Many of these first officers still are active.

The Royal Neighbor Lodge now writes family insurance and is no longer a sister lodge of Modern Woodmen of America, but operates solely on its own. When the lodge was organized, however, it was connected with the MWA.

Both now have family insurance. The RNA also have social members as well as beneficial, making it also a social organization. Since it is a chapter of a national organization, the group is offered many opportunities to work on worthwhile programs, choosing their own for the good of its own community.

The members have always been exceptionally good workers. They started immediately with fund-raising programs to buy supplies for the camp; serving suppers at the MWA dances and holding penny drives for their flower fund.

Perhaps one of the outstanding achievements of the group was the "Cancer Fund Drive" in 1962. The group canvassed the area, raising substantial amounts.

It was a rapidly growing organization. At one time 16 applications were acted upon.

It was not all work for the group. They started having annual Christmas parties, contest parties, and started entertaining the MWA members with an annual dinner, which was continued, for many years.

They often visit other camps and entertain them, also. They have often hosted district conventions, the last one the spring of 1965.

Rather than build a new hall, the RNA purchased a half interest in the Modern Woodman building. In order to maintain the upkeep and expenses of the building, the lodges jointly operate a luncheon stand at the Twin Falls County Fair. The ladies always enter the various contests. However, handicraft, cooking and antiques, often bring home prizes.

The lodge is also a winner with the National organization. In 1947, they received a second prize, $25, in a nation-wide contest, on the basis of the outstanding work done by the camp, which is considered a small one by national standards.

Recently the lodge received honors from the Supreme Camp Headquarters. They were awarded a myrtlewood gavel and block, hand-carved, based on their work for the cancer fund, contributions to Idaho Ranch for Youth, Christmas basket to the elderly in the community, helping to send a boy to the Cerebral Palsy school and helping to purchase a glass eye for a local boy.

In 1964 they received second place nationally, and in 1965, third place, for a camp of this size. Although small it is one of the most active camps in the state.

It is amazing what a small group can do, consistently year after year. Although there are approximately 50 members, because of insurance on the roll, only some thirty are active members.

Mrs. Lena Calico is officer; Mrs. Cloe Weech, vice officer; Mrs. Vera Bedow, past officer; Mrs. Edith Panting, chancery; Mrs. Gladys Sanderson, recorder; Mrs. Nora Anderson, receiver; Mrs. Maryanna Ball, inner sentinel; Mrs. Rose Wiseman, outer sentinel; Mrs. Grace McFarland, marshal; Mrs. Minnie Thiele, assistant marshal; Mrs. Elsie Henry, Mrs. Fleet Roberts, Mrs. Hazel Post, Mrs. Ruth Wright and Mrs. Ruby Hill are graces.

Hansen Club Plays Pinochle

HANSEN — The July 12 Pinochle Club was organized during the years of World War II by a group of town women.

Because of the shortage of gas and ration restrictions, the group decided to have three tables to play pinochle two times a month. Over the recent years, the meetings have become just a monthly session. Many of these charter members still remain in the club.

Feminine Riders Are Active

FILER—Demands for their presence in parades and at special riding events kept the Filer Wranglers traveling a lot this year.

This girls' riding group was invited to ride at the Elko Silver State Stampede, the Ogden Pioneer Days, Hallety Fourth of July celebration, Twin Falls Frontier Days, Buhl Sagebrush Days, Gooding Fair and Filer Fair.

Jent Lierman, 1965 show queen of the Twin Falls County Fair, who was sponsored by the club, was a special representative in the Buhl Sagebrush parade.

Mrs. John Winkle is president; Mrs. Robert Blackstock, vice president, and Mrs. Jack Bishop, secretary-treasurer. Rex Reed is drill master, and drill leaders this year are Mrs. Tod Diehl, Mrs. Winkle, Mrs. Floyd Owens and Pat Tegan.

The Wranglers meet every Tuesday evening at the Twin Falls County Fairgrounds for practices. The roll this year lists 20 members from Filer as well as Buhl, Castleford and Twin Falls. The club sponsors the Filer Junior Riding Club.

Each year the club is in charge of a horse show held in conjunction with the Twin Falls County Fair on the last afternoon of the fair. Trophies and ribbons are awarded 12 classes of riding events.

A jamboree and watermelon feed was held during the summer time and an annual banquet for members and guests is a winter event.

Leaf and Petal Club Members Are Judges

JEROME — The Leaf and Petal Club began Sept. 7, 1950, when eight women, representing Buhl, Filer, Twin Falls, and Jerome, met at Twin Falls City Hall to organize a Federated Flower Arrangement Club.

Five of the original members, Mrs. Mark Knoll, Mrs. J. T. Ricketts, Mrs. H. P. Ricketts, Mrs. S. W. Smith and Mrs. Phoebe Thomason, still are active members.

The group and its members, individually have earned many honors over the years in the world of gardening. In 1953, Mrs. Estelle Ricketts was named "State Gardener of the Year," and also won the "Gardener of the Year" award given by the Union Carbide Co. In 1952, the club received a purple ribbon in State Garden Club competition.

The next year they were awarded, in conjunction with the Jerome Garden Club, a red, white and blue ribbon by the National Council for the show "America the Beautiful," as well as a state ribbon, marking the joint effort. That same year they received a $500 Sears and Roebuck Improvement Award for landscaping the local nursing home.

In 1964, the Sears Award of $150, plus a special award of $200 was granted for the project "Fragrance Garden" for the state school for the Deaf and Blind at Gooding. Application has been made for another Sears Award, as a continuing project. This will enable completion of a small greenhouse and a series of Braille markers for the garden.

Leaf and Petal members have helped in a "Seeds for Peace" program for Korea, a scholarship fund to help students majoring in horticulture, a Permanent Home Fund, for National Garden Clubs headquarters in St. Louis.

They have sponsored "Litterbug Contests" in the Falls City School, a therapy program at St. Benedict's Hospital, the Mary Gardeners, a group of high school girls, under the leadership of Vestia Morris, who have made terrariums for the Nursing Home and a beautiful rock garden, which they maintain, for the enjoyment of patients.

Their total membership is 14, but among them are numbered seven Standard Flower Show judges, three African violet judges, and two Iris judges.

Also they include one national daffodil judge and one primrose judge.

The club is on the National Garden Honor Roll, and members attend state, district and national conventions of Federated Garden Clubs.

Among 1965 awards made to the group were a first for its scrapbook, a first for flower show improvement, the "Richfield Award and the Sears award for a proposed landscaping project for their new library facility

Heritage Preserved By DUP

A collection of 69 women to whom heritage is a thing of pride. Such is The Daughters of the Utah Pioneers.

Unlike most organizations whose members are voted in by other members, a prospective DUP must be able to prove relationship to ancestors who settled in Utah before 1890. That date, to the historians in the crowd, signalled the opening of railroads to the West that were comfortable and economical enough to be used extensively by passengers.

In other words, the ancestors of DUP members to a man crossed the "bone prairie" by covered wagon and the descendants of those who came west via railroad are not eligible for membership.

The organization, however, is non-sectarian and is not limited to the female descendants at Jerome.

Members serving as officers in the state organization for this year are Mrs. J. T. Ricketts, president; Mrs. Jack Webster, corresponding secretary; Mrs. S. W. Smith, historian and chairman of Blue Star Highway.

of Mormon pioneers. There are seven organized "camps" within Twin Falls County, composing the Twin Falls County DUP, of which Mrs. James Willis is president. Other officers include Mrs. Spencer Green, first vice president; Mrs. Lydia Cail, second vice president, and Mrs. Bruce Newman, secretary-treasurer.

The purpose of the group, according to Mrs. Willis, is to "enlist eligible members and preserve their pioneer histories and relics and the relics of the area — such as the Stricker Cabin, which is now a landmark of the Old Oregon Trail." Pioneer histories, written or researched by members of the DUP, are read aloud at each meeting, she added.

Five of the 19 histories read during the past year have been sent to Salt Lake City and registered there. These registered histories are compiled and printed in volumes of "Pioneer History," and used by researchers, she noted.

As a community service project, the group presented copies of the 12-volume "Heart Throbs of the West," the 6-volume "Treasure of Pioneer History," and the 12-volume "Our Pioneer Heritage" to the Twin Falls Library.

Regional and national DUP conventions are held each year, attended by delegates dressed in pioneer costumes. Other activities of the group include summer picnics, songfests and social hours.

Teaching Experiences Relived at ADK Confabs

Ah, Matilda, the joys of teaching. The small faces lighting up with knowledge . . . spit wadding lightly through the air . . . a thundering stampede triggered by a piercing bell . . . if only one could live each day over once more!

Through the informal confabs that precede a women's club meeting, members of Alpha Delta, Delta Chapter, can live it over again. ADK is an international society for women teachers, and the sharing of classroom experiences is a natural feature of the group's programs.

Purpose of the society include the recognition of efficient professional teachers, the development of fellowship among the teachers for professional and social value, the strengthening of the principles of teaching and the promotion of high standards in the field of education.

The creation of interest in teaching by making the profession more attractive is another purpose of the unit.

The Delta Chapter, the fourth in Idaho, was organized in 1958. The Beta Chapter (in Boise) installed the local group which was composed of six charter members.

Mrs. Lolla C. Cookrum, former teacher and first principal of Morningside Elementary School, was chosen first president of the society. Mrs. Cookrum is now on the staff of Whitman College, Walla Walla, Wash.

The national organization was incorporated in 1947, and it became an international society in 1955. ADK now has sub-chapters in 49 states, the District of Columbia—Puerto Rico, Canada and Mexico.

Current officers of the 38 members are: Mrs. Ferrell Chambers, president; Mrs. Frieda Evans, vice president; Mrs. N. O. Johnson, recording secretary; Mrs. Beth Molynieux, corresponding secretary; Mrs. A. L. Swisher, treasurer; Mrs. Jane Sevey, historian; Mrs. James Hamilton, sergeant-at-arms; and Mrs. Marjorie Oldham, chaplain.

Since its institution, the local chapter has given several scholarships, provided clothing for underprivileged girls and aided a neophyte teacher victim. A plaque for the entrance of O'Leary Junior High School was presented by the group in honor of Mrs. Vera O'Leary, long-time teacher and former principal of the school.

The current scholarship fund, which includes two $400 scholarships for two sophomore or junior girls majoring in education, is matched by the College of Idaho in Caldwell. The scholarships to be used at the College of Idaho, were awarded to one girl from Twin Falls and another from Gooding last year.

The local chapter also contributes to a national scholarship fund for the use of ADK members studying for advanced degrees.

Attention is a part of the group's program and is applied through donations of toothpaste, toothbrushes and soap to the soldiers in Viet Nam and contributions to the state altruistic project.

The state project involves gathering nylon stockings for use at the Nampa State School. The stockings are used to stuff boys' pillows, etc.

The 10th annual state convention of ADK was held at the Downtown Hotel in Boise this year. Eight delegates from the local chapter attended the convention, which had a total attendance of 85. Mrs. Anna Hayes, grand vice president of the Northwest Region, was the featured speaker.

The regional convention was held in Coeur d'Alene, Grand

"IT'S A WOMAN'S WORLD"

President Dr. Ruth I. Golden was the featured speaker.

Fund raising activities of the group include post card and recipe card sales and rummage sales.

Book reviews, travel logs, featured speakers and informative lectures comprise the programs at the chapter's monthly meetings.

A special program last year was presented by Mrs. Keith Natalie, who formerly taught English at the American Embassy in Russia. Mrs. Natalie's speech dealt with the problems of teaching behind the Iron Curtain.

As a future project, club members are planning to collect and send textbooks and other books to Viet Nam for the use in the schools.

Membership in the chapter is contingent on a degree in education and four years of teaching experience. After four years, most teachers have a lot to say during those informal confabs.

Semi-Military Auxiliary Aids 100F Patriarch

The semi-military Ladies Auxiliary to Patriarch Militant Colfax No. 13 was organized 19 years ago to support the Patriarch Militant, an International Order of Odd Fellows-affiliated fraternal group.

Officers of the current 22 members include Mrs. H. A. Childers, president; Mrs. Carl Ridgeway, vice president; Mrs. Frank Eastman, secretary; Mrs. Myrtle Bain, treasurer, and Mrs. Leland Hudson, officer of the day.

Contributions to the World Vision Eye Bank, the Red Cross and Cancer Drives and the Odd Fellows' Home at Caldwell are among the group's service projects. In addition, calls to ill, shut-in or bereaved members and donations of flowers to ill members are also sponsored.

Funds for these projects are raised through club sponsorship of silent auctions and cake walks.

Social activities include summer picnics and Christmas parties.

"Our club is dedicated to support of the Canton," Mrs. Childers commented in summing up the group's aims and functions.

Tri-Y Offers Service, Relaxation to Members

If you take 125 bolts of pure, unadulterated energy and channel them into a phenomenon known as a civic service club, you have an organization of teen-age girls known as the Twin Falls Tri-Y Teens.

And you don't have irresponsible teenagers with nothing to do but bemoan their adult-envied youth.

The young high school girls who belong to the Tri Y Teens receive much more from the organization than just "something to do," however. Other houses include possible career training through the volunteer services undertaken by the group, a feeling of contribution to the community through completion of worthwhile civic projects and, of course, a share of the fun that only teenage girls can have together.

Current officers of the Tri Y are Jan Sinclair, president; Patty Barry, vice president; Judy Sinclair, secretary, and Nancy Hellewell, treasurer. The 125 members meet weekly during the school months. Their advisor is Mrs. Marvin Molyneux. The Tri Y Youth Legislature is the biggest event of the year for the group. A thorough knowledge of the operational procedures of American government is acquired by club members who either attend the mock-legislature as senators, representatives, lobbyists or reporters.

All Tri Y members may attend the Magic Valley Youth Legislature, although only four delegates are chosen to attend the Idaho State Youth Legislature.

The Tri Y was organized by the YMCA-YWCA in Twin Falls less than five years ago. Any high school girl may join the club, and she automatically becomes a member of YWCA upon doing so.

Activities and projects of the group include the provision of camp counselors for the YWCA-sponsored-summer-week camp at Cathedral Pines, assisting with dinners and luncheons sponsored by the Y, and marching for the UNICEF Drive each year. Tri Y members also prepare Christmas baskets for the needy and assist in the Share of Substance (SOS) Drive on Halloween Eve.

Serving during the annual YWCA Chuckwagon Breakfast is another club project.

Participation in the Idaho Y Teen Conference is also on the group's agenda. Last year, the local club hosted the summer Y Teen Conference and attended the winter conference, which was held in Boise. The summer conference was the first to be held in Twin Falls.

Fun-raising activities include candy and Christmas card sales, car washes and cooked food sales. Public dances are also occasionally sponsored by the group. Most dances, however, are held in conjunction with the YMCA's boys organizations, the Twin Hi Y, Beta Hi Y and Delta Hi Y.

Summer parties, dances, teas, swimming parties and an annual Christmas party provide social contacts, if you want an impressive term for just plain "fun," for the girls.

Also tentatively planned for next year is a Tri Y "Sneak," a teenage activity never before tried in Twin Falls.

"Sneaks" ordinarily involve two groups, the outgoing officers forming one group and the incoming officers, with other members of the club, composing another. The actual "Sneak" involves the first group leaving a trail of "clues," each "clue" hinting at the location of the succeeding one.

At the end of the "trail" is a clue which exposes the lair where the first group, in the meantime, has been hiding. The object of the game involves the amount of time which the second group has to find the first. If the "searchers" take longer than the allotted time to find the "sneakers," the latter group wins. What they win is left to the discretion of the organizers of the "Sneak."

Introducing new activities for the teenagers of Twin Falls is just another aspect of the Tri Y's basic purpose, which is leadership training.

"It's really worthwhile — you learn a lot even as you're helping other people," commented Miss Hellewell about the club. "We have fun together, too," she added.

Hagerman.

This is the eighth year for this rather select club whose only requirements for membership are that the person be genuinely interested in good books and in furthering a library of her own. The club has no dues, no officers and no bylaws.

More than 100 books are kept in circulation among the members. When books have made the rounds of all the members, they are given to them for their own libraries. Most of the books are bought through the Concordia Book Club, however, a few are personal selections.

Mrs. Elmer Fischer was organizer of the club and she chooses the books and sees that they are started on their rounds. A definite rotation system has been set up so books are kept moving.

The club meets twice a year at homes of members. A highlight of this year's meeting was a talk by Mrs. F. C. Albin, Filer public librarian, who explained how the Filer Library got its start, how it is run and how many books it circulates.

Thrifty Thrivers Flourish

For the past 18 years the Thrifty Thrivers Home Demonstration Club has flourished in this small community. It was organized in 1948 with Mrs. Clifford Sutton as the first president.

Mrs. Arlis Schultz Fertic, home demonstration agent at this time, has been in charge of the new club and assisted with its organization.

Members have been encouraged new women in the community to join and enjoy the many advantages of belonging to such an organization.

During the past years such lessons as "Selection and Care of Carpets," "What's Under the Hood?" "Weight Control," and lessons on personal grooming, upholstery, workshops, and cotton dress workshops have been offered. A well selected and varied program is available each year for the members.

A community celebration on July 24, complete with parade, was co-sponsored with the Declo Domestic Duchess Home Demonstration Club. Last year the proceeds were donated to the Declo Junior Club park fund and totaled $88.80. It was used to help purchase shrubs for the new Declo-Village Park.

Sixteen Turner, vice president of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Turner, was selected to represent Declo High School at Girls' State, sponsored by the Thrifty Thrivers. This is an annual project of the members, and funds are raised by candy sales throughout the year. Assisting with the candy sales were Mrs. Norma Smyers, Mrs. Earl Darrington, Mrs. Robert Meade and Mrs. Jack Adams.

Another club project is sponsoring the newly formed SKI Club of Declo High School.

Mrs. Clifford Sutton was chairman of the Heart Drive for the Declo Community and all members of the club participated in soliciting funds for the Heart Association.

Two members of the club have served as officers in the Cassia County Council, Mrs. Earl Darrington as secretary and Mrs. James Annett as vice president. Mrs. Jay Kidd and Mrs. Glen Bywater served as council representatives from the club.

At the time Mrs. Marjorie Gillespie was extension agent, the new Cassia Memorial Hospital was completed. Under her supervision, the county clubs held several drapery workshops and made drapes for the hospital rooms. Several members spent many days assisting with this project.

In 1960, the club members donated a tree to be planted to the then new Declo High School.

On the lighter side, the members enjoy their secret gift gifts which are exchanged on birthdays and holidays. Each Christmas, a dinner is held and secret gifts are exchanged and prizes drawn for the new year.

Husbands are not excluded entirely from club activities. A special Father's Day luncheon honored them at the Anne Laurie Inn, Albion. A cake resembling a man's shirt was made by Mrs. Austin Walker.

During the past year, bylaws were written for the club under the direction of Mrs. Norman Smyers, assisted by Mrs. Sutton and Mrs. Glen Bywater.

Mrs. Sutton is the only charter member of the club still active in the organization. A capable homemaker, each year she wins many blue ribbons at the county fair for her sewing and baking entries.

At the first cotton dress workshop, Mrs. Sutton recalls that members just "moved in" with their sewing machines and under the supervision of Mrs. Fertic proceeded to "build" their dresses.

Other early members were Panny-Tanner, Nellie Kildad, "IT'S A WOMAN'S WORLD"

Pioneer Horticulturist "Infiltrates" MS and S

The Mothers' Study and Surprise Club, otherwise known as the MS and S, has been infiltrated, by a man.

This transgressor's name is Byrd Walter, age 88. He was given an honorary membership in the group following such activities on his part as helping the females of the unit. Giving aid and comfort to the enemy, in other words.

Levity aside, Walter was a pioneer horticulturist who provided invaluable help and assistance to the members of the MS and S Club. He is honored each year on his birthday anniversary.

Flora McCartney, Betty McCall, Alton Voyce, Dorothy Sandell, June Schmidt, Mary Robinson, Janet Siphon, Ethel Gibbons, Louise Christopherson and Fern Jensen. Many of them have since moved away.

Fair time is a busy time for members. This year the theme of the fair booth was "Out of the Old Into the New" and resulted in a fair place ribbon for the club. Competition was keen, but Mrs. Jay Kidd and Mrs. Al Stiles proved to be able champions, winning first place out of 17 entries.

Officers for the past year have been Mrs. James Annett, president; Mrs. Jay Kidd, vice president; and Mrs. Earl Darrington, secretary-treasurer.

Organized in 1913 by nine women from the northeast side of the Twin Falls tract, the MS and S Club provided a social outlet for its members. Study programs and community projects were also a part of the unit's agenda.

During the world wars, the club sewed for the Red Cross, and donations to the Red Cross and other drives are a continuing club project. Contributions to the Idaho Youth Ranch and the Boise-Children's Home are also given.

The early days of the club's history featured day-long meetings with the entire family participating in the programs. The meetings were held twice a month and a big dinner concluded the activities.

Today's meetings are held monthly and the kids are left at home. A July steak fry and a Thanksgiving luncheon still include the families, however, and a special dinner for the husbands is held in January.

A current feature of the group's programs is the reading of a part of the minutes from an early meeting. These minutes contain, usually, a rather brief description of the club's business and a lengthy narration concerning the clothes and hats worn by members.

Another past activity of the club was the support of the flag pole and memorial at Harry Barky in honor of a past member, Mrs. Harriet Barry. The group also contributed to a recreational building at the park.

Other club donations have been given to the senior citizens Recreation Hall and the Federation Point at the end of North Washington Street, overlooking the Snake River.

The group also has contributed to the baby-sitting service fund for Mrs. Eugene Jarvis, who donates 40 hours of work as a speech therapist each week to the Easter Seal Clinic.

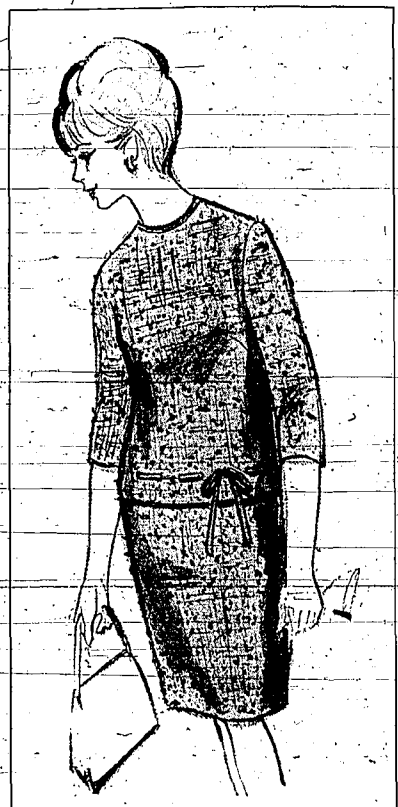

The club sponsors two 4-11 groups, the Country Cousins and the Rimrockettes.

Officers are Mrs. John Burkhardt, president; Mrs. Robert Clack, vice president; Mrs. Carl Grabert, secretary; Mrs. Clifford Davis, treasurer; Mrs. Chester Magaball, reporter, and Mrs. Berkley Griggs, auditor. There are 25 members.

Many of the group's programs during the past year have been concerned with foreign countries. Club members have heard Harriet Kari, a Peace Corps volunteer, speak on her experiences in Pakistan; Guldor Seftal, an exchange student from Belgium, speak on conditions in his homeland, and a speech by Mrs. R. B. Moden concerning her recent trip to Europe.

A special program this year was the fashion show presented by members of the two 4-11 groups which are sponsored by the unit. The fashions modeled for the club members were completely sewn by the teenagers.

Books Are Enjoyed by Area Club

KIMBERLY — Members of the "Kimberly Readers' Guild" have enjoyed the advantages of an organized book club for over 21 years, with the membership allowed to increase from the original 15 members to 20 members and one honorary member, Mrs. Lulu Severns, who now resides in Twin Falls.

The club was organized in the home of Mrs. Otto Fowler with nine other women present who were interested in having available a ready source of good reading material for a minimum cost.

Present at this initial meeting were Mrs. Mabel Jefferis, Mrs. M. H. Greenlee, Mrs. Don Gibbs, Mrs. Maynard Welch, Mrs. M. W. Craig, Mrs. Mable Helton, Mrs. Severns, Mrs. Ralph Banning and Mrs. J. B. Morris.

Mrs. Helton is the only charter member active in the group, the other members having moved from the area or resigned for other reasons.

The group selected a "book committee" to purchase the books for the club library each year, which would remain in the library for two years; after this time they would be divided among the club members. Changing the committee each year insures the club of a varied selection of books.

The club meets monthly and has an annual guest night which features an evening of talented musicians from throughout the area.

Officers leading the group this past year have been Mrs. Merle Cherry, president; Mrs. Mildred Miller, vice president; Mrs. John Nelson, treasurer; Mrs. Marla Hansen, secretary; Mrs. Ace Miller, courtesy

Richfield's Art Club Is Young, but Going Strong

RICHFIELD — Less than 2 years old, Richfield's Art Club is going full swing and many of the club's projects grace the walls of homes and community buildings.

The membership raises and lowers as many in the class, made up of many farm women, often are too busy to attend regularly. Interest remains high and many continue to paint at home.

The group meets on Mondays at the home of Mrs. Carl Paulson. Pictures in the drying process often are left there. The artistic atmosphere is further created by large wall rugs of animal scenes and some huge paintings discovered stacked away at the Paulson garage a few years ago. The latter paintings were the work of a traveling artist and are remembered by many residents.

Instruction is given to the women by Mrs. Robert Gaskill, Shoshone.

The work of the "art" class members has received much commendation since the group organized. They have donated prize pictures to promote interest in art as well as decoration of public buildings. Mrs. Paulson and Mrs. Donald Walker each have donated pictures hanging in the new Richfield elementary school.

Landscapes usually are painted by the artists, but Mrs. Paulson has done one portrait. Their

Motto Is Given for Clover Unit

FILER — The motto of the Clover Unit, Women's Missionary League is "Serve the Lord with Gladness," and this group carried out this theme by serving the church and assisting with fellowship events.

Mrs. Martin Hartwig is president; Mrs. Edwin Lierman, vice president; Mrs. Melvin Jagels, secretary, and Mrs. Leo Gihring, treasurer. The league meets the first Thursday of the month at the school and has 40 members and three charter members.

People consist of calling on new people who have moved into the neighborhood, visiting the ill members and non-members, placing flowers in church from May to November and taking care of shrubbery and flowers planted around the church and school.

sors clothing drives each spring and fall and sends the collected items to needy people. Last year it donated $50 to Hurricane Betsy victims, gave money to go for an overhead projector for the school, helped with cleaning and painting the school kitchen, purchased and hung new curtains for the new addition to the church, and adds $15 each month to a student who is studying in the ministry, and the same amount to a Hong Kong school.

At the December meeting, the members brought gifts, wrapped, and sent them to Good Shepherd, a Lutheran home in California for the retarded. Tray favors for the Tuberculosis Hospital in Gooding were made at the March meeting.

The league takes charge of receptions, banquets and church dinners during the year.

YMCA Classes Are Small Part of Program

Exercise, self-improvement and craft classes are YMCA-sponsored activities that the average woman, not realizing the complete scope of the YMCA program, most frequently connects with a mention of the organization.

The classes are an important part of the group's public service program, but they are actually no more than the part of an iceberg that shows above the water line.

The overall purpose of the YMCA program is to build a fellowship of women and girls devoted to the task of realizing "in our common life those ideals of personal and social living to which we are committed by our faith as Christians," according to YMCA Board Director Mrs. Vern Routh.

"In this endeavor we seek to understand Jesus, to share his love for all people and to grow in knowledge and love of God," she added.

The group now offers classes in contract bridge, exercise, knitting and sewing, art and baby-sitting. Of the five, the "Slimastics" class is by far the most popular.

The classes are held at the YMCA—YMCA—Building—and are open to the public.

Another part of the YMCA's service program is the sponsorship of several Magic Valley area group social clubs for women. The Magic Valley Young Wives, Creative 'Y' Wives, Cheerful Matrons, Community 'Y' Wives, and the Tri 'Y' Teens were created to assist the YMCA in carrying out various projects, such as style shows, smorgasbord dinners and others.

The YMCA Board is the body to which the electors of the YMCA have delegated the responsibilities for the management of the affairs of the total association. The board members elect the officers, who serve three year terms on the YMCA Board.

The Twin Falls board attempts to maintain 30 active members who serve on various committees in an attempt to carry out specific responsibilities.

ties. These members should be representative of the total membership of the association and of the community, according to Mrs. Routh.

Program planning, Y-Teens, adult groups, personnel, children's committee, public affairs, membership, religious emphasis and world fellowship, finance and purchasing committee chairmen attend each board meeting.

A well-known activity of the organization, co-sponsored by all member social clubs, is the annual Chuck Wagon Breakfast in the City Park in July.

Another group project is the camp program at Cathedral Pines for girls age 8 to 14. The YMCA also sponsors other summer recreation programs for youngsters not enlisted in any other summer programs.

Officers of the board of directors for the YMCA are Mrs. Routh, president; Mrs. Floyd K. Nesbitt, secretary; and Mrs. Christina Peterson, treasurer.

To become a member of the YMCA, an individual must pay $3 membership fee. Prospective members are usually contacted personally. Many have become members after participation in YMCA classes.

A special project of the organization is the distribution of Christmas baskets collected by YMCA-sponsored social clubs.

All the baskets are distributed directly through the YMCA, and a total of 226 were distributed last year.

YMCA members also assist directly with the United Fund and indirectly with Red Cross drives.

As an organized chapter, the Twin Falls YMCA was founded in 1939.

Charter Members Are Guests of Latawah Club

HANSEN — The 50th anniversary of the Latawah Club was highlighted the past year with a special program held at the Christmas dinner meeting and a special program for the charter members.

Programs during the year compared programs in various civic interest for the last 50 years.

Mrs. Stuart (Luha) Severns, Mrs. Sturgeon (Maude) McCoy and Mrs. C. W. Colner were the charter members. As special guests, Mrs. C. W. Colner was the charter member. As special guests, Mrs. C. W. Colner was the charter member.

In 1915 a few women met at the home of Mrs. Devrens to organize a social club, with just five members. The number of members increased to 12, and the restriction to farm women was lifted.

The name, "Latawah," was adopted when Stuart Severns suggested it, stating it was the Nez Perce Indian word meaning "to be a woman."

In 1918 the club became a federated group electing its first recorded officers and making its first year book. Mrs. C. W. Colner, now Twin Falls, was the first president, according to early records, and Mrs. McCoy, Twin Falls, was vice president.

Mrs. M. C. Provost, secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Severns, Mrs. Archie Mann and Mrs. Provost were on the program committee. Mrs. Severns, now in her 90's, Mrs. McCoy and Mrs. Colner are still living in Twin Falls, although they are no longer members of the club. Other early members recalled were Mrs. Ellen McVey, Mrs. Joe Hamilton, Mrs. Alfred Postgreve, Mrs. Paul Galtier, Mrs. Esterbrook and Mrs. McCullough.

After World War I, the club resigned from the Federated Clubs, but in 1925 or '26, the group rejoined and has remained a member club since that time.

One of the most important projects sponsored by the club was the lunch program for the school. In about 1937, with Mrs. V. L. Wilson, as president, the club members, many of them with children in school, decided to start the first hot lunches.

Mrs. Wilson is now the fifth grade teacher at Hansen. These first lunches were modest ones, only a supplementary hot dish to go with the lunches brought from home. Each day, two ladies of the club prepared a stew, soup, cocoa or other hot dish. The children brought a cup and spoon from home and were charged a cent for the hot dish to help defray expenses.

They state aid with surplus foods gave them some assistance and later a cook was employed and paid by the WPA. A Mrs. Larson was the first hired cook, but they were still not complete meals.

The club continued sponsorship of the hot lunch program until about 1945. Then under Supt. E. L. Kane, a PTA was organized which assumed lunch sponsorship and continued until two years ago when school lunches were required to accept that responsibility.

The club has continued to support worthwhile projects through the years. They sent a box to Korea, contributed funds to help purchase a physical therapy room in the hospital among others.

For years they maintained a substantial Student Loan Fund made available to local students, and have always entered into many other community projects and Federated Clubs projects.

Main project of the club is a Nampa State school girl which members have "adopted." They contribute clothing and gifts for her. Another is an annual Senior at the present time. At the school students. Members furnish, prepare and serve the formal breakfast. They also sponsor art and poetry contests in the school and the sewing contest as long as it was a Federated Club project.

One of the most social events of the club is a luncheon or tea held periodically to wish former members and other guests are invited.

The group continues to express its interest in present day problems with programs and suggested projects. Members usually have two potluck dinners, Christmas time and a home project luncheon at election time for club officers.

Mrs. C. C. Clarke has been a member of the club for the longest time. There are no charter members still belonging as they have moved from the community.

Mrs. W. C. Klutz was re-elected president; Mrs. Thomas Steadman, vice president; Mrs. Hugh Sanderson, re-elected secretary, and Mrs. L. R. Carter, re-elected treasurer. They will serve until the March election. The meeting date is the first Tuesday afternoon of each month.

Bookworms Congregate Within Unit

A worm is a worm is a worm except when it's a bookworm and then it's likely to be a member of the Literary Art Guild.

The only requirement for membership in this organization is a sincere interest in literature and a willingness to deliver at least one book review every other year to the rest of the members, according to Mrs. Marion Tanner, president of the club. There is a membership limit, however, due to the difficulty of seating more than 25 women in most homes.

Officers of the current 25 members, in addition to Mrs. Tanner, include Mrs. Joe Salisbury, vice president; Mrs. John Coleman, vice president; Mrs. Melvin Anderson, treasurer; Mrs. Martin Crandall, historian; and Mrs. Calvin Johnson, hospitalities. Meetings are held once a month.

The club is not a community service type as such, Mrs. Tanner noted, but it annually sponsors two special features which are open to the public. This year, performances by Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Rabin, Salt Lake, of "It's Never Too Late" and by the Utah State Balladettes were featured.

Profits from these special features, if any, are donated to the Twin Falls Public Library.

A Mr. dinner with members' husbands is the primary social activity of the group. The Balladettes, a group of college students, performed during this function.

Status Symbol

NEW YORK—White fabric gloves are status symbol for any woman. — but only if they are kept immaculately clean. They must be suited after every wearing and preferably on the hands. Use a well-lathered soft brush to scrub soil from fingertips and knuckle areas.

Wives Unit Notes Lack Of Repose

The Twin Falls Faculty Wives, organized circa 1960, are dedicated to the proposition that all is no peaches and cream when it comes to being married to a public school teacher.

One may even find thorns in the purple when said teacher begins his first year in a new school, so the reasoning goes.

For the ladies, after discovering the problem and analyzing it thoroughly, proceed to iron out the wrinkles by forming a club whereby wives of teachers, particularly wives of new teachers, could offer each other comfort, solace and aspirins.

Mrs. Glen Shoer and Mrs. Keith Turner spearheaded the drive. A major function of the club is to provide a means whereby faculty wives can get acquainted with each other.

It's a very flexible organization, witness the fact that the group met only twice last year when a consensus revealed that several club members and most of the officers were expecting babies.

Demonstrations on wig styling and buying, style shows, card parties, potlucks and travelogues are offered to members at each meeting of the club. An annual spring picnic in May, before school is out, is a special event, the group is primarily social.

Officers include Mrs. H. J. Smith, president; Mrs. George Walton, vice president; and Mrs. Carl Snow, secretary - treasurer. There are approximately 25 lo members.

Other activities of the group involve sending cards and flowers to members who are ill and providing gifts to mothers of new babies.

The club sponsors an fund-raising projects net see and donations and dues are used to furnish the gifts and flowers.

Included My Shadow Ran Fast," presented by Mrs. B. M. Skinner; "Nine Coaches Waiting," Mrs. George Haney; "A Pillar of Iron," Mrs. Martin Crandall; "A Nieldram," Mrs. Claude Brown Jr.; "Hinn Verdict," Mrs. Mel Jensen; "Man of the Century," Mrs. Larry Christensen; and "Bears in My Kitchen," Mrs. Melvin Anderson.

St. Peter League Has Study Unit

SHOSHONE—A study of Christianity of Christian Doctrine has been given at the Shoshone St. Peter's Catholic Church Women's League this past year.

Mrs. Joe Paogona lead the discussions each meeting. She also has directed the classes for children in their Catechism classes each week.

Another project is helping provide bandages for the Guatemala mission under direction of Rev. Thomas J. O'Halloran, formerly of Twin Falls.

Mrs. John Urrutia is the president this year with Mrs. Bernard Deslaur, vice president; Mrs. Duane Hubbs, secretary; and Mrs. Frank Lequerica, treasurer.

The Catholic Women's League is probably the oldest women's organization in the area. The church and bell in Shoshone were blessed on Oct. 11, 1955.

There is evidence that the women were organized then. The parish at that time covered a large area, stretching to the Idaho-Oregon border.

Some of the long-time members of the organization tell of ice cream socials on the church lawn, huge bazars and the annual St. Patrick's day dance that the women sponsored. The St. Patrick's dance has been changed now to Basque dances sponsored by the women as a fund raising project.

Current projects of the organization include teaching catechism classes, chaperoning the Deslaur club (a high school youth group), sponsoring an orphan at the St. Joseph's children's home, cleaning the church and rectory and caring for the altar linen and flowers.

A fund has been started for a new parish hall.

Many of the members also belong to the Legion of Mary. This group distributes Catholic literature to promote a better understanding of the church. They also worked with other churches to have a church directory printed for the benefit of tourists.

The Legion of Mary members give at least two hours a week calling on the sick, welcoming newcomers to Shoshone and other worthwhile activities.

Purpose of the Catholic Women's League is to further spiritual and material understanding of the church and to establish relations with civic and social agencies in order to create interest in an aid in the solution of present-day religious, civic, social and educational problems.

Methods of Missionary Unit Change

GOODING — Although most ladies church organizations have organizations have similar purposes, each seems to be unique in just what is done and how it's done.

The missionary organization of the Assembly of God Church, called the Missionary Prayer Band, sent a Christmas box to one of their missionaries in South American as one of their first projects. Mrs. J. C. Nordby served as the first president, and Mrs. Paul Daniel as secretary-treasurer. This was Aug. 31, 1937.

Less than a year and a half later, Gail Winters received a missionary appointment to the Congo, and a major portion of her outfit was prepared by the local church, the Missionary Prayer Band members having spent many hours sewing, canning and packing barrels.

In the earlier days the missionaries had to have everything in the line of clothing sent into their country and much of their food and many of their boxes were sent from Gooding.

Even in wartime only two boxes failed to reach their destination.

One of the projects was to send Miss Winters Indian blankets for the native Christians. This proved to be quite difficult because of the war. Blankets were scarce and shipping was curtailed by the government.

However, Montgomery Ward in Portland was contacted regarding supplying a large part of the blankets and shipping through the government. To the delight of the group, they did this. The project amounted to over $250 and every native Christian had a nice new blanket to keep him warm.

Today the group is known as the Women's Missionary Council and the work is carried on in a much different way. There is a district office in Nampa and a national office in Springfield, Mo.

Outside of the Christmas boxes still sent to missionaries, usually cash is sent, since duty is so high on overseas boxes.

They still help supply blankets, quilts and food to the Wampanoag Indians.

Meetings are held at present twice a month in homes of members and at the church. There is also a district meeting every three months held in towns throughout the district.

Members of the group is "We minister as unto Christ"; their slogan, "The heart of the church with missions at heart"; the scripture, "Whatsoever thy hands findeth to do, do it with thy might," and the emblems, "The open heart, open to accept the spirit of intercession, open to the cry of the needy, open to help the missionary cause at home and in other lands."

Present officers include: Mrs. Paul Daniel, president; Mrs. Roy Jolly, vice president; Mrs. Kenneth Peterson, secretary, and Mrs. Jim Wildman, treasurer.

Auxiliary Offers Aid To Veterans

The Disabled American Veterans' Auxiliary, according to the group's manual, was founded on a single impulse—"that of an unselfish desire to render service to the disabled veterans and their dependents; to make every effort possible to rehabilitate them; to alleviate the sufferings of those who would never be able to take their place in the walks of life again and to provide for their families."

The DAV Auxiliary, Stradley Chapter Unit No. 5 was organized in Twin Falls in 1933. Mrs. Lew Frazier was the first auxiliary commander.

Membership in the auxiliary is 79. Officers are Mrs. Dewey Julian, commander; Mrs. Tom Knight, senior vice-commander; Mrs. Vernon A. Swanson, junior vice-commander; Mrs. Frank Robinson, chaplain; Mrs. Frank Horejs, adjutant; Mrs. Emma Horejs, treasurer, and Mrs. Adie Rajakovich, sergeant-at-arms.

The purpose of the group, stated in a more formal manner than that adopted by the manual, is to realize the American ideals and aims for which men have fought and died.

In addition, it is to stimulate a feeling of mutual devotion among all members and encourage a spirit of understanding to guard against future wars.

The wife, widow, mother, daughter, grandmother, and granddaughter of any person who was wounded, gassed, injured or disabled in line of duty while in the service of the military or naval forces of the United States is eligible for membership.

Any woman who is eligible for membership in the DAV is also qualified to join the auxiliary.

Projects include annual monetary donations to the Veterans Hospital in Boise and donations of Christmas baskets to the hospital.

The adoption at Christmas of a needy veteran's family is another project. The group provides the family with gifts, clothing and food—attempting all the while to discover "what they really need," according to Mrs. Julian.

Past projects have included sewing for a veterans welfare fund, making quilts and Christmas baskets for the Veterans Hospital, having a picnic each year for the veterans' families and sponsoring a Christmas party for the veteran's children.

The DAV Auxiliary has also helped pay for the chapter building and furnished material and kitchen utilities, such as the stove, refrigerator, hot water heater, dishes and curtains.

On Memorial day, the auxiliary makes wreaths which commanders place on the local cemetery and on the monument in city park, which was built by the DAV chapter in honor of departed comrades.

All charitable projects of the auxiliary are directed toward assistance for veterans, with the exception of the Christmas fund.

Fund raising activities include rummage and baked food sales, a luncheon and dance and card parties.

These dances, sponsored in conjunction with the DAV, draw guests to the public and feature card rooms for those who don't wish to dance.

Dinners, Thanksgiving parties, Christmas parties and an annual variety party, round out the group's social activities.

The auxiliary has a potluck dinner each month except November and December and helps the parent chapter sponsor dinners of entertainment and national officers.

Working out details for chapter activities are officers of Alpha Psi chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha, Burley. From left are Mrs. Dick Huzlinga, vice president and chairman of the cancer drive; Mrs. Alvina Temple, treasurer, and Mrs. Keith

Uscola, 1965-66 president. The organization is one of the largest Greek-letter sororities in existence. Purpose is brotherhood, educational, philanthropic and social. The Burley chapter conducted the cancer drive this year. (Times-News photo)

Burley's Epsilon Sigma Alpha Conducts Drive

BURLEY — Epsilon Sigma Alpha is one of the largest Greek letter sororities in existence and is founded on the same ideals and principles as college sororities; local officers note.

The first chapter was organized in 1929 in Jacksonville, Tex. At first growth was slow. Then in 1941 E. Robert Palmer, the renowned educator, philosopher and author became head of the organization. Under his leadership Epsilon Sigma Alpha became one of the largest women's organizations in the world with 40,000 members and 1,800 chapters throughout the United States and several other countries.

The purpose of Epsilon Sigma Alpha is threefold, educational, philanthropic, and social. Much emphasis is placed on the educational programs of the organization, to the modern woman can meet the "Demand of Today" and "The Challenge of Tomorrow".

Each year chapters from all over the world are instrumental in the donation of more than one million dollars and hours to helping others.

Alpha Psi, the Burley chapter, had as its philanthropic project this year the Cancer Drive.

Teams covered the downtown Burley area, collecting $719. Other philanthropic projects of the Burley chapter this year have been gifts to the geriatrics ward at Cassia Memorial Hospital at Christmas, gloves for needy children and a contribution to the State project Easter Seals.

Alpha Psi Chapter was organized in October, 1963 at Burley by Margarette Salinger, field representative.

There were 10 charter members which were Mrs. Gene Anderson, now living in Ogden; Mrs. Joe Hinz, Mrs. Gordon Blain, Mrs. Jack Keen, Mrs. Arnold Young, now at Pocatello; Mrs. Keith Uscola, Mrs. Dick Huzlinga, Mrs. Magda Haxby, now living in Colorado, Mrs. Hug-Jeffries, Twin Falls, and Mrs. Clark Barlow.

Past presidents are Mrs. Gene Anderson and Mrs. Keith Uscola.

Newly installed officers are Mrs. Dick Huzlinga, president; Mrs. Ken Frank, vice president; Mrs. Vaughn Woodhouse, treasurer; Mrs. Sandy Harrell, recording secretary, and Mrs. Dean Gibson, corresponding secretary.

Appointed offices and committees are Mrs. Alvina Temple and Mrs. Keith Uscola, social; Mrs. Joe Hinz, historian; Mrs. Jack Keen, parliamentarian; Mrs. Clark Barlow, wyes and means; Mrs. William Mai, educational director; Mrs. Dean Smith, calling and Mrs. Jay Moyle, Joaqui Girl.

Union Aid Is Group's Main Goal

"Spend union-made money for union-made products and union services" is the slogan of the Women's International Auxiliary to the Typographical Union No. 241. The creation and promotion of fellowship between members of the union and the auxiliary is one of the group's purposes.

Organized in 1932, the auxiliary had 14 charter members. Current membership is 20. Wives of Typographical Union No. 241 are eligible for membership.

Another objective of the unit is the promotion of union labels and the striving for betterment of relations between the union and the public.

Officers are Mrs. Claude Townsend, president; Mrs. Doug at first vice president; Mrs. William Mills, second vice president; Mrs. William Rosenbaum, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Harold Samper, chaplain; and Mrs. Jack Swisher, guide.

Group activities are not confined to union promotion, and include such civic projects as contributions to the Red Cross through a cookie sale, the compiling of picture scrapbooks for the pediatric ward at the Magic Valley Memorial Hospital, donations to the Salvation Army at Christmas time, and the co-sponsorship with the union of Blue Bird Groups in Twin Falls.

Christmas parties, picnics and dinners occupy the group members at other times.

The promotion of fellowship among members of the auxiliary is accomplished through the sponsorship of baby showers for expectant mothers, the sending of get-well cards and rose buds to members in the hospital and through the birthday cards that every member receives on her special day.

Civic Club Has Long History

BELLEVUE — The Bellevue Civic Club dates back almost to the time Bellevue was granted one of the first three charters in Idaho.

It has been known under several different names, but for many years now has been the Civic Club. Down through the years the club has continued to be the town's most important women's organization and has promoted the betterment of the community.

Before the PTA was organized, members aided the schools, tarring the football field, erected the honor board on which the names of heroes of World War II are written.

They sponsored the Girls' State program. Before the hot lunch program began, members operated a hot lunch for the school children.

The group was instrumental in financing a city library and have a member on the library board, along with the city council at this time.

Annually they sponsor a ro-

Some 20 years ago the membership was 32 persons and it was necessary for the club to look for a larger meeting place. They donated their building to be used as a Youth Center and assisted in maintaining it.

The group now meets the fourth Tuesday of every month at members' homes.

Baptists Host Idaho State Meet

SHOSHONE — Entertaining the Idaho Baptist Convention was a big event sponsored by the Baptist Women's Mission Society the past year.

This was doubly important since the first Baptist convention held in Idaho was held at the Shoshone Church in 1906. The special event held in November, 1965 here, as an evening leading to the day activities held at Twin Falls, was held in the new church sanctuary, the first time the sanctuary was used. The new building replaces the old Baptist Church that burned in December, 1963.

Another highlight of the year for the Baptist women was a classical concert sponsored by the group, featuring the Rev. and Mrs. Paul Winkler as soloist and pianist. This entertainment netted the new church building fund $192.

The Shoshone church sponsored during the year also have netted considerable funds for the building project. The women sponsored special events as a group and as individuals, all to raise money to pay on the church. Some host dinners, others cook or sew.

Mrs. Leslie L. Kinsey is the retiring president with Mrs. L. M. Hatmaker the new president for the coming year. Mrs. Imogene Hickey is the secretary.

The Baptist Mission Society of Shoshone is affiliated with a district, state and national organization of the American Baptist Convention.

Purpose of the organization is to unite all women of the church into a fellowship and help each other to grow spiritually, by so doing carry on the work of the church in all areas of life, home, community, nation and world. In the Shoshone church, the women began to hold meetings sometime after built in the early part of the century. Meetings were held in the homes and a missionary outreach was begun that has continued to the present day.

One early project that has continued through the years is that of cutting quilt blocks, postcard size, thousands of them, to be sent to the Indian missions. They served a double purpose.

The Indian girls learned to sew by piecing them together, resulting in attractive quilt tops. This is a small part of the great work of White Cross which goes on both in the U. S. and overseas.

The women work each year to fill a quota of unnumbered rolls of bandages hospital gowns and various other hospital supplies for mission hospitals. They also send money, materials, and supplies for mission schools.

One important phase is gift items for children at Christmas time. The Baptist Mission in the Belgian Congo has been the recipient of this for many years. At home, in America, the Christian centers receive some of this same support.

For as many years the Janitor's service at the church was done by society members who take great pride in a clean church. Social functions include Mother-Daughter banquets, wedding receptions sponsored by the group and family dinners at the time of sickness and sorrow.

Springdale Club Began In 1954

SPRINGDALE — The Happy Homemakers Demonstration Club was organized Oct. 21, 1954, with 13 members present.

Officers chosen at that time were Mrs. James Bronson, president; Mrs. Elizabeth Pace, vice president; Mrs. Blanch Osterhout, secretary, and Mrs. Sam Ogawa, treasurer.

Some of the outstanding demonstrations during the first year were the making of candy, Glacé Candies, butter bread, casserole meals and simple desserts. Many time-saving helpful suggestions were offered.

A Christmas dinner party and business meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Bronson; at which time the bylaws written by Mrs. Keith Chadwick were read and accepted.

Current officers include Mrs. Sam Ogawa, president; Mrs. Harvey Freestone, vice president; Emmett Worthing, secretary, and Mrs. Orval Hymns, treasurer.

Ten club members attended the annual luncheon held in the county, and six members attended the state convention held in Twin Falls.

Perhaps the most outstanding project of the club was the sponsoring of the Pullo Drive in February, and the Cancer Drive in April.

Other club presidents who have served since then are Mrs. Ogawa, Mrs. Lewis Cannon, Mrs. Freestone, Mrs. Frank Manning, Mrs. Raymond Zollinger and Mrs. Ione Broadhead. Mrs. Donald Adams is past president.

The club has been active under three Cassia county home demonstration agents, Mrs. Marjorie Gillespie, Mrs. Margaret Hathorn and the present agent, Ann-Jean Goltz.

consists of potatoes, meats, beans, squash, onions, cabbage, corn and other products grown or raised in Idaho. The dinner is open to the public, and over 200 attended last year.

Social projects include a Christmas party, summer picnics and a May breakfast, at which new officers are installed.

were introduced later.

After the organization of the national BPW federation, the Twin Falls Business Women's Association, which sprang from the Bible study group) changed its name to Twin Falls Business and Professional Women's Club. It was the first club in Idaho to join the national federation.

Several members of the local unit have held the presidency in the national organization.

Past social and educational projects of BPW have included the three-year sponsorship of a series of plays by the Olson players and the bringing of noted lecturers to the community.

The promotion of cooperation among business and professional women is another facet of the group's approach to the elevation of the standards of women in business.

The urging of cooperation is not limited in its relations between women. Although the interests of women are stressed, the organization is not feminist, and cooperation between men and women is also emphasized.

Officers are Helen Porterfield, president; Mrs. Ruby Connelley, recording secretary; Mrs. Helen Thorne, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Ina Knox, treasurer.

Membership, which is currently 83, is limited to women who work either full or part-time. Prospective members are screened through a membership committee and then voted on by the club.

Membership drives are occasionally initiated, and gold cards are awarded to members who recruit four new members.

The group's largest fund raising activity is the Idaho Products Dinner, which is held in the fall. The dinner's menu

BPW Strives to Elevate Businesswomen's Cause

Service to the community as well as the elevation of the standards of women in business and in professions is the essence of the Twin Falls Business and Professional Women's Club.

The accent is on education as far as the group's community projects are concerned. The sponsorship of a delegate to Syracuse Girls' State, and the awarding of an annual college scholarship are among these projects. The scholarship, which carries no stipulation regarding academic field, was given last year to a pair of twins who were studying nursing at Idaho State University.

Another project was the provision of teachers and financial aid for an Americanization school sponsored by various civic organizations over the years. In 1949, the group contributed $1,100 to the Salvation Army's building fund for a nursery for the children of working mothers.

One of the club's most important community contributions was the securing of a right of way for a railroad from Hopewell to Wells, Nev.

A current civic project of the unit is the recommendation of a recipient for the JayCees citizenship award. The BPW also contributes to the Mentally Retarded Children's Fund.

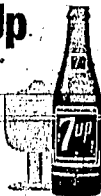

Individual intellectual stimulation is another part of the BPW program. To continue their education in various fields, club members have heard speakers on "Living Conditions Abroad," social security and other issues. More recently, a lecture and slides presented by Dr. and Mrs. Harold Drake was seen by the group. The Drakes had just returned from their mission in Rhodesia.

Again, on the education side, the BPW devoted time to the study of the new phases of Medicare. This topic is exemplary of the club's policy of choosing topics on the basis of the interest they hold for members.

The BPW is an outgrowth of a Bible class which was organized in 1916 by women of Protestant churches. This group's meetings, which followed a weekly luncheon, consisted of Bible study and discussion, gymnasium classes and social events.

Pin, Life Membership Presented

SHOSHONE—Members of Lincoln Chapter 42 Order of Eastern Star surprised the Richfield lodge, by taking a special program and refreshments to one of the Richfield meetings recently. This was one of the thoughtful special things the chapter did during the past year.

Another outstanding event was presenting the 50-year membership pin and certificate of life membership to Mrs. Carrie Grasse. The golden corsage was presented to Mrs. Grasse by Mrs. Floyd Kinsling, worthy matron. Mrs. Grasse and her daughter, Ruby, came to Shoshone from Walla Walla, Wash., where they live, for the event.

Lincoln Chapter No. 42 celebrated its golden anniversary in 1952.

Mrs. Frank Clem, resident charter member, was present. It was at her home on Feb. 20, 1912, that a group of 20 women and men met to petition for a dispensation. The only other living charter member resides in California.

Early days of the chapter were concerned with raising funds to purchase regalia. A box social was the first fundraising project and dinners for other organizations followed. Many memorial gifts were received or added to these beautiful and necessary items.

During World War I members worked for the Red Cross.

Donations for community projects and various drives were given until recent years when worthy causes increased in number until it has become prohibitive to give to all members feel.

It was decided to concentrate on projects stressed by the General Grand and Grand Chapters as members give to others individually.

OES projects include their home and interest fund, International Peace Garden, Eastern Star Training Awards for Religious Leadership and for Others. Each chapter member donates to a birthday fund for the latter project.

Making it more meaningful to this chapter, a scholarship from this fund was awarded in 1954 to Rev. Woodrow Harris, for summer school. At that time he was the local Methodist minister.

There are three 50-year members now living. Mrs. Clem at whose home the chapter was born. Mrs. Young who lives in California, and Mrs. Grasse.

These women also have their life membership certificates and do not pay dues any more. Several others will soon have received this honor, one being Mrs. Grasse's daughter, Ruby Grasse.

While purpose and aims of the chapter are serious in nature, members recall some hilarious programs. A skit "Petticoat Army" was given without mirth and their wives were guests.

Nearly every year past matrons or officers don clothing of bygone years or that of their initiation year, and give an appropriate skit. The plumed hats, bustles or flapperage styles always evoke merriment.

Mrs. E. I. Shaw is the new worthy matron with Mrs. Charles Pendleton, secretary.

ONE OF THE SOCIAL HIGHLIGHTS of the Declo Domestic Duchess Home Demonstration club's activities is the annual senior tea held each spring to honor senior girls of the Declo-High School. Mrs. Roger Vincent, Filer, right, Mrs. Idaho of 1955, was the speaker. She is shown visiting with Annaleen Coltrin, Cassia county extension agent, center, and Mrs. Nalon Taylor, general chairman for the event. Among other activities, Mrs. Vincent is an accomplished musician.

Senior Tea Highlights Domestic Duchess Club

DECLO—Each year the social highlight of the Declo Domestic Duchess—Home—Demonstration Club is the Senior Tea, which honors the graduating senior girls of Declo High School and their mothers.

Guest-speaker for this year was Mrs. Roger Vincent, Mrs. Idaho of Filer, who spoke on the importance of the American Homemaker. She also related some of the experiences she and her husband had while competing in San Diego in the Mrs. American contest.

Each year, one girl is selected to receive the annual scholarship offered by the club. Recipient for 1955 was Jeanne Darrington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Harry Darrington, Declo. Alternates were Nan Darrington.

The club was organized in 1950, with Mrs. Kay Veburg as president of the group, whose goals are to become better homemakers and citizens of the community.

Mrs. Marjorie Gillespie, former Cassia County Extension agent, was instrumental in organizing the young women's club. Perhaps one of the most gratifying projects members have had are Christmases they have helped to make someone else's holiday season happier. One year, members gave freely of their time, talents and money to assist a widower with several small children in preparing for Santa's visit.

Again last Christmas, the 25 members assisted a father to make his children's visit from Santa a happy one. Busy hands provided attractive holiday outfits and warm pajamas, as well as tasty baking treats for the family.

For the past two years the Declo Domestic Duchess' have combined with the Thrifty Thrivers Home Demonstration Club to sponsor a community celebration July 24. Heading the parade committee this year were Mrs. Norman Snyder, Mrs. Gerald Mallory and Mrs. Nalon Taylor.

The parade may be the favorite phase of the celebration. For the younger set, as it gives them a chance to let their imagination run wild in hopes of winning some of the many prizes.

Each August at Cassia County Fair time, finds members busily preparing, sewing, canning and baking to enter. The theme this year was "The Magic of Homemaking," with Mrs. Brent Peterson as chairman of the booth-decorating committee, assisted by members of the club. The members took home a goodly share of the blue ribbons and top honors.

Mrs. Norman Hurst was hostess at a potluck dinner at her home during August, with the husbands as special guests. Many homes in this small community have been influenced by the home demonstration club and the members of this particular one feel that they are richly rewarded by the varied lessons they receive through the Cassia County Extension office. Annaleen Coltrin has been named as Cassia County Extension agent and brings with her to the program many talents and a friendly manner.

Officers for the past year have been Mrs. Gerald Mallory, president; Mrs. Joseph Newman, vice president; Mrs. Ben Snyder, secretary; and Mrs. Norman Hurst, historian.

Home Idyll Gains Reality For "Cheerful Matrons"

"Humming a melodious tune as she stepped from the perfumed bath, she slowly dressed herself as she reflected on the day's occurrences . . . now pleasantly relaxed, she lovingly put the finishing touches on the fllet 'd sole and lighted the candles."

"Calling a lingering pool night to her five bundles of joy she joyfully glided to the door in response to that most welcome of trends . . . taking his briefcase, she offered her husband his pipe and slippers and prepared herself for an evening of stimulating conversation with the person whom she gladly acknowledged as her 'better half.'"

Sound like science fiction? For many women, perhaps it does, but not for members of the Cheerful Matrons Club.

Through the efforts of home demonstration clubs like the Cheerful Matrons many American women are arriving at the conclusion that such idyllic "evenings at home" are not entirely the figments of deranged writers' imaginations.

Members of the Cheerful Matrons, through the group's study programs, learn of more efficient techniques and methods for every phase of homemaking.

Typical study topics include wild game cookery, the art of baking casseroles, sewing new fashions, preparing the potluck dinner, buying appliances and how to be a better hostess.

Carpet buying and care, interior decoration, family finance and budgeting and family communication have also been studied by the club. Study areas are not restricted to such traditional-homemaking duties as sewing and cooking, but are designed to include the entire scope of a homemaker's role.

The encouragement of leadership among its members is another function of the Cheerful Matrons Club. Prior to each meeting, a member of the group attends a leadership training program at the County-Extension Homemakers Club Council, which governs all area home demonstration clubs.

The delegate to the leadership meeting of the council then presents a lesson to the club at the next meeting.

Since today's housewife cannot confine her duties to her home but must be interested in community and civic projects, as well, another aspect of the Cheerful Matrons' programs includes contributions to worthwhile civic funds. Donations to the United Fund Drive, heart fund and polio and cancer drives have been given.

At every meeting a collection is taken for Pennies for Friendship and the International Peace Gardens. The group also donates time, as well as money, to the work of the YMCA-YWCA. They assist in serving banquets, dinners and luncheons for the "Y" and have also sponsored a kitchen shower for the YMCA-YWCA-Building.

During the February "Y" membership drive, the group served coffee and doughnuts. Membership in the group is open to all members of the YWCA. Meetings are held at the "Y" Building.

Organized in 1956, the group's first president was Mrs. R. L. Dunkin.

Current officers of the 16 members are Mrs. Paul Lattin, president, Mrs. Darwin Huller, vice president; Mrs. Henry Wise, secretary, and Mrs. Susie Pratt, treasurer.

Social activities of the club include an annual Christmas party—summer picnic and card parties. Funds for the civic donations are raised through the voluntary pledges of members and through public card parties.

The problem of the harried housewife is universal, but not unconquerable. At least, that's what 16 women in Twin Falls contend. And all we have to say is "More power to you, girls!"

Toastmistress Club in Burley Started in 1956

BURLEY — On a Winter December afternoon in a group of local women met at the home of Mrs. Con Annett to discuss and organize a Toastmistress Club in Burley.

The first official meeting was held Jan. 11, 1957, at National Hotel. The first officers were Mrs. Jack Hobbs, president; Mrs. George Ball, vice president; Mrs. Robert Walkup, secretary; and Mrs. Robert Samuels, treasurer. The first officers were installed by Gordon Tobin, Twin Falls, chairman of Council Eight.

The International Toastmistress Clubs, Inc., certified the Burley Toastmistress Club, April 24, 1957. The club was presented to the Burley members May 7, 1957, by Mrs. Tobin, during a dinner meeting.

Out of 19 charter members there are four still active members, Mrs. J. L. Driskell, Mrs. Olin Baker, Mrs. R. M. Funk and Mrs. T. Wayne Woodland.

Toastmistress was organized in 1938 in San Francisco by a group of Californians who saw that women must be able to communicate effectively if the impact of their influence was to be felt. They saw that to achieve public support, their influence must derive from sound, informed opinion projected by skill in leadership and parliamentary practice.

Toastmistress is designed to enable women to develop themselves so that whatever their sphere of living, home, business or public life, they can deal competently with events. It presents a tested method for personal self-development.

Training deals with the total personality. In small groups, members receive individual assignments for study and practice. Beginning with simple situations and advancing to the formal speech situations given in voice speech organization and delivery.

All have practice in varied leadership roles. Each learns committee procedures and presides in meetings to gain parliamentary proficiency. Toastmistress instructs in debate, then provides opportunity to use it.

Members are equipped to communicate with clarity, to participate and cooperate with efficiency.

Toastmistress is a continuing experience not concluded by graduation. In the companionship of club associations, the advanced member gives help to the new member.

A trained Toastmistress is prepared for office in public, professional, club or fraternal positions. From a small home club, her activities lead on to council and regional levels expanding to the world-wide circle of International Toastmistresses.

The Burley Toastmistress Club meets twice monthly on the second and fourth Tuesday in the conference room of the Idaho Bank and Trust Building, except during the summer.

The Burley Club is a member of Council Seven Toastmistress which include clubs at Jerome, two in Twin Falls and Burley. The council meeting are luncheon meeting held the third Saturday of October, January, April and June, hosted by the local Toastmistress clubs.

The highlights of the year is the annual speech contest held each spring. The winner of the club speech contest competes in the council speech contest held each April. Speech contest winner at council level competes at inter-council then to regional. Yakima, Wash., will be host for the 1957 Snake River Regional Conference.

The speech contestants prepare a five to seven minute speech from one of three topics given them, one week in advance, and give the talk a title.

Russell Lane Motto Explained

JEROME — When the Russell Lane Harmony Club was organized, members chose for their motto: "The object of this club shall be a united effort toward charity, equity, peace and a higher civilization."

The club was organized 33 years ago at the home of Mrs. Jessie Teaster, with 25 charter cards written on one side only for notes.

The Burley Club will host the Council Speech Contest in April, 1967.

Present officers of the Burley Toastmistress Club are Mrs. T. Wayne Woodland, president; Mrs. Howard Donaldson, vice president; Mrs. Delta Jones, secretary; Mrs. Glenice Stevens, treasurer; Mrs. LePage Layton and Mrs. Olin Baker, club representatives.

members present, 16 of whom are still living. In the intervening years, almost all the women, young and old, who have lived in the community have been members of the club.

The first president was Mrs. Everett Ott. Presently serving in that capacity is Mrs. LeRoy Rehnalt, with Mrs. Don McDonald and Mrs. Dan Rogerson serving as Home Extension representatives.

During its existence, the Harmony Club has accomplished much to benefit the community. Members have saved for the poor and needy, donated canned food for the Children's Home in Boise, made quilts to raise money for scholarship funds.

They have also put up Christmas baskets for families in want and remembered the sick.

Members put up the sign at Tippecanoe Corner, which has served as a landmark ever since. They also sponsored dances for the young people of the community at the old Russell Lane School, and served refreshments at a small cost to raise money to finance various projects, such as bridal showers and maternity showers.

In 1944, with $104 in the treasury, the club decided to distribute the funds to several worthwhile causes. Beneficiaries at that time were the Children's Home, St. Benedict's Hospital, the Red-Cross and the Idaho USO Fund.

Since that time funds have been raised by monthly White Elephant sales and yearly dues. This money is used to send flowers to the sick and to help other clubs of the members' choice. For the past several years, the club project has been the Jerome County Retarded Children's Association. Members donate articles for monthly bazaars, with proceeds going to the association.

Social meetings and get-togethers are enjoyed each month.

Secretarial Field ...

... "A Woman's World"

"It's a woman's world" is more than just an expression when it concerns the secretarial and stenographic field. There are over 2,600,000 secretaries and stenographers in the United States today and over 90 per cent of them are women. This makes it almost exclusively a woman's profession.

If you are one of the many mature women who have felt the need to desire to go to work again, but have hesitated to try for office work, you needn't hesitate any longer.

Women who never had office skills, or who haven't used them for many years, are finding that proper training can prepare them for positions in business which are interesting, profitable, and appropriate to their mature abilities.

A business office is an excellent place for the mature woman to work. The salaries are good, and ability is rewarded with promotion. Surroundings are attractive, co-workers are pleasant and intelligent, and the work is often very fascinating. Most offices offer fringe benefits such as insurance plans, paid two-week vacation and sick leave.

But specialized skill training is required by employers. This is where our school can help you. We know intimately the requirements of employers in this area. We can train you in office skills, at low cost and in the shortest possible time.

If you'd like more information on business careers for mature women, or if you'd like to enroll now, just let us know by mail, by phone, or a personal visit, and we'll be glad to help you make your plans, without obligation.

Aid to Rural Community Is Project

BERGER—The purchase of a community center for the small rural settlement of Berger is the most outstanding contribution of the Loyal Neighbors Club, according to the group's president, Mrs. Clark Mills.

The building was purchased and remodeled in 1960. It now serves as an informal meeting place—and also as the voting headquarters for the entire community. Prior to the acquisition of the building, area residents voted in a private home, rather than an official polling place.

The completion of the building's water system is the group's current project. A bazaar will be held in the near future to raise funds for this endeavor.

Primarily a social organization, the club sometimes has programs that feature contests and musical selections. Meetings are held every two weeks. An annual meeting is also held for all women who have belonged to the club at one time or another. Since 1921, 166 have been members.

Officers of the 18 current members are Mrs. Mills, president; Mrs. Alex Schuler, vice president; Mrs. H. G. Brady, secretary; and Mrs. Paul Miller, treasurer.

The club was first organized in 1913 in the Berger District, which was located in the area around a country school about 12 miles south of Twin Falls. About 20 women formed the club as a social group. During World War I, the unit disbanded but was reorganized Feb. 15, 1921. No records on the group's activities are available until that time.

Mrs. Ryan and Mrs. Parrott were early leaders of the reorganized club.

Social activities of the group include a Christmas party, Thanksgiving celebration, supper and card party for the husbands.

Neighbors Organize Social Club

KIMBERLY — In 1929 Mrs. Earl Dougherty was instrumental in organizing a group of 12 farm women for a social club to give the neighboring women a chance to become better acquainted during a social afternoon.

The women, all living north of Kimberly Road, and relatively close to the Snake River Canyon, selected the name Riverview Social Club for their group. The women in this locality have met every month throughout the years for many pleasant afternoons.

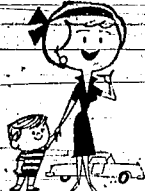

Although the group is not a fund-raising organization, nearly every year the group has made cash donations to the Boise Orphans' Home, the Idaho Youth Ranch, Girls' State and the Kimberly-Park fund.

The Riverview Club has grown from the original size of 11 members to 24 members.

This year the club elected Mrs. Martha Bulcher as president; Mrs. Howard Gardner vice president; Mrs. Orville Allen, secretary; and Mrs. Clara Thompson, treasurer.

The original charter members of the group included Mrs. Dougherty, Mrs. Anna Krueger, Mrs. Bernice McKillip, Mrs. Anna Quessell, Mrs. Tom Fyke, Mrs. Mary Boyd, Mrs. Helen Sturmer, Mrs. Daisy White, Mrs. Elizabeth Putney, Mrs. Mae Weller, Clara Minton and Edna Chapman.

Prohibition of Female Vote Doomed As County GOP Women Gather Forces

The National Federation of Republican Women, half a million strong, in a feminine fashion, and spelling doom for those misguided souls who yearn for prohibition — prohibition of the female vote, that is.

The Federation, founded in 1936, now represents more than 4,200 affiliated Republican Women's Clubs across the nation. Idaho units were affiliated with this national federation in 1944.

The Twin Falls County Republican Women's Club is one of the largest such organizations in Idaho. It was formed to foster and encourage loyalty to the Republican party. Political discussion is the order of the day for the group and, since controversy is inevitable in any political association, these discussions are liberally spiced with acid ingredients.

Such discussions are encouraged by the group, since it is a well known adage that when two women (or men) agree completely on everything, one of them is unnecessary.

Members of the unit, however, are unanimous in their belief in the Republican philosophy. Club programs are designed to reflect the image of the Republican party, as members are schooled in political legislature and economic matters as advocated by the party.

Mrs. Horace Holmes, president of the local group, put it this way: "We believe with Lincoln that the proper function of government is to do what ever the people need to have done."

Education of women in the science of government through political parties and party organization is one of the most important functions of the unit.

Mrs. Holmes noted that there is a streak of idealism in the American woman. "She wants to be of public service in some way," she said. "Her patriotism runs deep — corruption, vice and war weight her down. She wants to do something about these things."

The Twin Falls unit now numbers 120. Officers, in addition to Mrs. Holmes, are Mrs. R. W. Carpenter, vice president; Mrs. Della Stowell, secretary; and Mrs. Harry Whitehead, treasurer.

Committee chairmen are Mrs. William McMaster, membership; Mrs. C. W. Goiner, publicity; Mrs. Clifford Thompson, notification; Mrs. George Detweller and Mrs. Pieta Wilson, program chairmen, and Mrs. Edna Johnson, finance.

The educational nature of the group is focused on the presentation of issues and Republican candidates to the general Republican candidates to the general public. All meetings and special lectures sponsored by the club are open to the public.

The group attempts to give all Republican political candidates a chance to be heard, and is completely non-partisan to any candidate until after the primary election. After the election, the unit's undivided support goes to the general election candidate.

The September- and October meetings are devoted to hearing the nominees for the November election.

Big event of the year for the club was the June visit of Mrs. Dorothy Elston, the president of the national federation. This meeting, which was held at the Holiday Inn, was hosted in conjunction with the Petticoat Polys. It was an eight-county meeting with representatives from Blaine, Camas, Cassia, Gooding, Jerome, Lincoln, Minidoka and Twin Falls.

Also present at the meeting was Mrs. Oliver Baum, state federation president.

Another special meeting was called for the visit of Gov. Robert Smylie. Gov. Smylie's speech concerned the sales tax. Most of the state and county candidates for public office were present at the meeting and were introduced. This event also was open to the public.

The group sponsors additional projects, not confining itself to the presentation of candidates. One of these projects is the bridge marathon, which will combine pleasure with a sound money-raising effort.

Another special project was sponsored in conjunction with the Polys and entailed sending "reminders of home" to Twin Falls boys who are now serving their country in Viet Nam.

The Lincoln Day banquet is still another special event for club members.

Continuing her explanation of why women are so active in organizations such as the Republican Women, Mrs. Holmes made the following comment: "Today's woman feels that she can do something about the world situation, and she knows she can do a great deal more if she is organized with others. Our programs are designed to give our members an idea of what America is all about, and why every citizen must be more than a spectator in these days of decision."

The club stresses the value of the two-party system, and emphasizes the difference between the two major political parties.

The local group was organized in 1939, one year after the national federation was formed. Izetta McCoy was the first president.

Fellowship Is Bonus Of Linker Membership

A subtle sense of camaraderie and fellowship is an inevitable by-product of long membership in a women's club. This fellowship, which defies the explanatory powers of the press, is one of the most important benefits of club membership.

The Triple Link Club members are beginning to reap the benefits.

This organization was formed in 1946 as a subordinate to Primrose Rebekah Lodge No.

76 by a Rebekah initiatory degree staff. Its main function was to assist the Rebekahs with initiations. There were 11 charter members.

Originally, to qualify for membership in the Triple Link, a person had to be a member of the initiatory staff of Rebekahs.

The club gets its name from its Odd Fellow affiliate. Since the Odd Fellow's emblem is three links, this organization is called the Triple Link Club. Assisting with Rebekah initiations is still the primary function of the group, but fellowship is now another main concern.

Summer picnics, occasional come-as-you-are breakfasts, potluck dinners, card parties and "informal get-togethers" are examples of the unit's personification of camaraderie.

Charitable projects of the "Linkers" include the purchase of staff robes, the distribution of Christmas baskets to needy families, donations to the Idaho Youth Ranch and contributions to the Odd Fellows "Home on the Hill" at Caldwell.

The group holds white elephant sales, rummage and cooked food sales and silent auctions to raise money for these various projects. Most of the funds earned by the club are donated to the Odd Fellows or the Rebekahs.

The "Linkers" also contribute to the Lodge's Harvest Festival.

The unit's most outstanding initiation was presented several years ago and featured a complete adherence to an old rule book, old kerosene lamps, old dresses and an organ were used. About 200 people from throughout the state attended.

Meetings are held the fourth Tuesday of each month, excepting July and August. Officers of the 25 members are Mrs. Carl Ridgeway, president; Mrs. Margaret Barth, vice president; Mrs. Ruth Wolverton, secretary; Mrs. Jack Bell, treasurer; and Mrs. Alice Shif, for reporter.

Membership is open to all members of a Rebekah Lodge.

The year's activities are concluded with a potluck supper. This year, the supper was held at the Kimberly city park. Potato salad, fresh strawberries, a mild typhoon and occasional song booms marked the end of another year for the Triple Link Club.

But the fellowship doesn't end.

TOP QUALITY MATERIALS

OF COURSE you take for granted our large selection of fine fabrics in every color, fiber and weave. All magnificent woods in glowing finish. But back of them must be strong, seasoned wood frames—temperament full, padding that holds its shape and comfort. Petersen's makes sure the furniture you buy here has beauty going more than skin deep—real, lasting beauty.

FINEST WORKMANSHIP

WHAT'S in a name? Petersen's buys from the finest manufacturers, furnish for the "work" of their expert craftsmen, and designers. There is no substitute for perfect execution or painstaking construction. Good furniture is still largely built by hand, from the carefully fitted interior joinings you never see to the glorious "cushioning" pattern finish, and detailed carvings.

STYLES IN BEST TASTE

FRENCH, Italian, modern, colonial or what have you, we have it. But there's a difference between "modern" or whatever, just as there is between a movie star and a flippin' little dressmaker. Little difference in line, proportion, measurement. A chair can be a bowling or a wingback or a slinger. Petersen's doesn't sell slingers. We guarantee good taste in whatever style or period you choose.

SERVICE BEYOND COMPARE

PETERSEN'S helps you decorate your home. Our qualified sales staff is trained to find the merchandise you need, answer any questions and stay with you through your subordination. Free professional service and prompt delivery. We check every thing before it leaves the store, and handle especially any repairs if damage occurs later in your home. We care. . . . PETERSEN'S is the store that serves you best.

PRICES ASTONISHINGLY LOW

YOU'LL be surprised to learn Petersen's prices are usually less than you'd expect to pay for such quality and service. Furniture is an investment you plan to live with a long time. It reveals your taste and personality. Come in, compare, and discover, after all, this is your best buy. We tailor credit to fit your budget.

MRS. QUINTON HARRAL

Creativity Is Goal of "Y" Group

The Creative Y Wives strive for beautification of "our homes, our selves, our surroundings," according to Mrs. Quinton Harral, outgoing president of the club.

The group, organized in 1964, was created to promote friendship among young wives and encourage creativity in the home.

Typical club programs include a demonstration on the care, selection and styling of rugs by Esther's Wig Salon; a knitting lesson; a meeting devoted to the topic of communication between husband and wife; demonstrations on baking and yard work; and a lesson on the care and purchase of carpets.

The year's highlight is a style show which is sponsored in conjunction with the Magic Valley Young Wives. All of the fashions shown are made by club members.

Last year, Karl's Beauty Salon coiffured all the models free of charge.

Community activities of the club include serving at several "Y" luncheons and the temporary adoption of a needy family at Christmas time.

Officers as of September are Mrs. Erma Jean Moore, president; Mrs. William Martin, vice president; Mrs. Ronald Dehlin, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. Lonnie Sloan, program chairman. There are 16 active members.

Membership is open to anyone interested in joining the club.

Catholic Women Have Study Club

FILER — St. Anne's Catholic Women's Study Club meets the third Thursday of the month at member's homes to study the teachings and practices of the Catholic Church.

Mrs. Joe Kropick is president; Mrs. George Kimmitt, vice president; and Mrs. Jerry Deau, secretary-treasurer. The club is named after Ann Thirman, a deceased member who formed the group eight years ago.

A discussion hour is followed by a business meeting and social time. The club sends flowers and offers prayers for ill and bereaved members and serves meals after funerals for families of members.

Developing Talents Is Relief Society Theme

RICHFIELD — Developing talents has been the theme of Relief Society work in the Richfield Ward life past year. Results of the efforts in all wards of Blaine Stake were revealed at the stake-wide festival Sept. 17 at the Richfield stakehouse.

Every family in the Richfield Ward was contacted during the past months to give ample time for decisions and developing of each member's talent. Some families have worked as a group to develop just one talent.

Quilts are a constant project of the Richfield Relief Society and quilting is done for community members who place orders or just want the quilting done. Much of the quilting is done in all day work sessions as well as regular Relief Society weekly meetings most of the year.

Two charter members of the Richfield unit, organized July 2, 1922, still reside in Richfield. They are Mrs. C. A. (Doll) Johnson; and Mrs. F. L. Man-will.

Mrs. Johnson's visiting teacher companion for much of her over 40 years of teaching service, has been Mrs. Joe (Mary) Giles, a long time worker and past president of the Relief Society.

Officers of the unit are Mrs. Eugene Freeman, president, Mrs. Joe Bowers and Mrs. Clifford Ward, counselors, and Mrs. Ralph Riley Jr., secretary. Mrs.

Ronald, Ralls is organist and Mrs. Grant Hawes, chorister.

Teachers of Bible Class Are Dogged

Noted for the length of service of its teachers is the Mary Martha Class, a Bible study group. Only three different teachers have instructed the class since 1933, the date of the group's formation.

The oldest organization within the First Baptist Church, the Mary Martha Class now devotes the largest portion of its time to Bible study and social get-togethers.

The oldest class in the church, the group no longer serves dinners, but has had several additional fund-raising projects in the past, such as bazaars.

The group originated from a class for elderly women which functioned before the church on Shoshone Street was built. Mrs. Ida Thelkeld organized the unit.

Recent activities of the class include donations each month to the Salvation Army, calling on hospitalized or ill persons, holding a prayer circle for the sick and needy and meeting every Friday nine months of the year for study sessions.

The first teacher of the class was Mrs. L. D. Clodt. Mrs. Hugh Holloway, who taught for 10 years, was the second teacher. Mrs. Edna Hoes is the third person to hold the post, and she is the current teacher.

Officers of the 18 members are Mrs. Althea Tyler, president; Mrs. Luitie McKissic, vice president; Mrs. Emma Lyda, secretary, and Mrs. Hattie Fuller, treasurer.

Class mothers are chosen from the oldest women in the class. This year's mother is Mrs. Vada Doud, 88. Past class mothers have included Mrs. Alice Adkins, Mrs. Theodora Coxen and Mrs. Bill Wardberg.

RICHFIELD RELIEF SOCIETY representatives are Mrs. C. A. Johnson, left, charter member; Mrs. Eugene Freeman, president, and Mrs. Joe Giles, visiting teacher-instructor for many years.

Students Helped by Camas Club

FAIRFIELD — Two scholarships were presented in high school students this year by the Camas Club.

One was a $100 scholarship to the salutatorian of the 1966 graduating class and the other was a $100 scholarship for the summer music camp at Moscow. Other civic plans of the club include the building of a sign to advertise the attractions of Camas county.

Organized in 1927 as a teacher's club, the Camas Club was reorganized into a civic club the next year with the membership open. This year's roster contains the names of 73 women from the community.

The club recesses from May to September. Officers are Mrs. Thomas Spackman, president; Mrs. LaVona Johnson, vice president; Mrs. Doran Gluer, secretary and Mrs. Lyle Hupler, treasurer.

Many school and town projects have been sponsored by the Camas Club. For many years they have sponsored the Community Birthday calendar project.

The past few years the club has helped financially with the swimming program for the school children.

Meetings are held monthly on the third Thursday evening and usually are held in the grade school or in the homes of members. Each meeting features some kind of a program that is educational and entertaining.

Relief Society Is Great Oak Grown From Acorn

The year was 1842, the place was Nauvoo, Ill., and the business at hand was the formation of the National Relief Society of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

The sixty-four thousand dollar question is whether the 38 women who first organized this society could have visualized the force that their small club was to become. The Relief Society now has over a quarter of a million members residing in every state in the Union and in 51 foreign countries.

In 1888 the Relief Society became a charter member of the National Council of Women of the U.S. and thus participates in the International Council of Women. The group is probably the oldest existing national women's organization in the country.

The purposes of the society are to instill benevolence, irrespective of creed or nationality; to care for the poor, the sick and the unfortunate; to minister where death reigns; to assist in correcting the morals and strengthening the virtues of community life; and to raise human life to its highest level.

The elevation and enlargement of the scope of woman's activities and conditions; the fostering of love for religion, education, culture and refinement; the development of faith; the saving of souls and the study and teaching of the gospel are other purposes.

An educational program is a feature of the group's meetings for eight months of the year. The club's weekly meetings are devoted to courses of study consisting of spiritual living, cultural refinement and social relations. Various arts and crafts also are taught during these meetings, including the arts of sewing and quilting.

Cooking demonstrations and many other activities, such as home and character building, also are included in the group's programs.

The Twin Falls Stake of the Relief Society was organized in 1919 and covers an area from Castleford to Murtaugh. The society, which numbers more than 1,000 members, developed with the organization of the Stake.

Singing groups and choruses are an important part of the activities offered by the society for members. As Mrs. Darrell Heider, president of the group, notes: "Singing has ever been in the hearts of each member. We all enjoy it very much."

Officers, in addition to Mrs. Heider, are Mrs. Lloyd Miller, first counselor; Mrs. Floyd Olsen, second counselor and Mrs. Revere Hansen, secretary.

Mrs. John Coleman, Mrs. Robert Smith, Mrs. John Stout, Mrs. Asel Dillworth, Mrs. Lyman Christensen, Mrs. Homer Johnson, Mrs. Dee Pace and Mrs. James Dahl are the society's board members.

Is Your Husband a Bachelor?

Don't let it throw you. Every man remains a "bachelor-at-heart" to some extent, and if he yearns for the "good old days of freedom" and there seems to be a part of him you have never completely conquered or domesticated I'll let you in on a little secret — 99 to 1 it is not that blonde he used to date that he is thinking of. By now she is probably an artificial red head with crow's feet under her eyes and six unruly brows that would be more of a restriction on him than what he has.

Just remember that the great adventure of "Conquering the world" in his chosen field is a man's first love, and eternal challenge, so don't restrict his bachelor thoughts of freedom to achieve his goal. Just make your heart and home a pleasant place. A haven in the storm he faces every day and he will never trade it for bachelorhood.

HOMEMAKING AND CHILDREN go together just like willow branches and spanking. Here are representatives from the Merry Marrieds Home Demonstration Club, with the little willow branches' alter-egos. From left are Mrs. Gordon Bjornn and daughter Janice, Mrs. Ellis Reddick, and Mrs. Larry Manner and daughter Kyleen. (Times-News photo)

"I'd Be Glad to" Is Merry Marrieds' Motto

"I'd be glad to" is the Merry Marrieds answer to the hustle-bustle, sorry - much - too-busyness of modern "civilized" life. "I'd be glad to," in fact, is the group's motto.

The purpose of the club, stated a little more formally, is to extend adult education in the art of homemaking and to develop leadership and initiative among its members.

Founded in 1953 as an outgrowth of a church circle, the Merry Marrieds felt the desire to learn something constructive and to satisfy their needs to be useful homemakers, according to Mrs. Westley Sonius, past president.

Mrs. Howard Rank and Mrs. Ray Eike helped organize the group, which included 17 former church circle members and their neighbors. Five charter members, including Mrs. Rank and Mrs. Eike, are still active in the group: Mrs. Robert Brown, Mrs. Vern Routh and Mrs. Janice Couch.

The membership maximum is 25, and there are currently 24 members in the unit. Officers are Mrs. Ellis Reddick, president; Mrs. Rank, vice president; Mrs. Tarry Manner, secretary; Mrs. Gordon Bjornn, treasurer; Mrs. Brown, reporter and scrapbook chairman, and Mrs. Robert E. Gustafson, hospitality chairman.

The group's monthly programs feature a demonstration, or lesson chosen from a list prepared by the County Extension Homemakers Club Council. Pastry-making, home - freezing tips, landscaping ideas, how-to-make plastic flowers and pointers on other floral arrangements, easy-ironing aids and an exchange of Christmas decorating ideas have been included in these programs.

The areas of financing, budgeting and family communication have also been explored. In addition, last year the group participated in a medical self-help program and seminar.

Speaking of communication within the family, members were told to "speak softly" and were advised to carry big sticks for emergencies.

All of these programs are sponsored by the University of Idaho extension service.

Other activities of the club include participation in county and state homemaking conventions and in a Civil Defense program, which is held in conjunction with the other home demonstration groups.

The Merry Marrieds have also participated in World Food Festival, presented by county clubs at a Baptist Church. This event featured the foods of many countries and how to prepare them.

Lessons on clothing construction, alteration of clothing, consumer buying, handicrafts, home decorating and cooking have been included in the group's past programs.

The group has also studied such areas as mental health, county welfare, better driving habits, parliamentary procedure, elections and voting.

This year the club has added a special project to its agenda. Boxes of "quilt scraps" for the residents of Hazel Dell and Sky View Mansions are now in the process of being filled.

The group is also planning to hold a Chinese auction to raise money for a donation to the Agnes Hurst Memorial which is to be erected at the 4-H camp. Social activities of the club include a Christmas display and dinner in November and a summer picnic.

Shoestring Club Adopts Patients

GOODING - The Shoestring Sunshine Club was organized Dec. 5, 1963 at the home of Mrs. L. D. Porter.

First officers to serve the organization were Mrs. J. S. Delveliss, president; Mrs. Ethel Dowdy-McGray, vice president; Mrs. Stanley Shupe, secretary-treasurer.

Since that time the presidents have been Mrs. Delveliss, Mrs. Verl Dixon, Mrs. Porter, Mrs. Shupe, Mrs. Viron Lane, Mrs. Harry-Dedrick, Mrs. Harley Runyon, Mrs. Pat Bennett, Mrs. William Burkhardt, Mrs. LeRoy Dickford, Mrs. Otto Anderson, Mrs. Abe Calkins, Mrs. Bob Holmes, Mrs. Olen Turner, Mrs. Walter Zeigler, Mrs. H. R. Taylor and Mrs. M. E. Thompson, current president.

Charter members included Mrs. Walter Goodford, Mrs. Frank Lane, Mrs. Viron Lane, Mrs. William Mercer, Mrs. Van E. McGray, Mrs. Gordon Penland, Mrs. Porter, Mrs. Runyon, Mrs. Dedrick, Mrs. Dixon, Mrs. Everett Post, Mrs. Chris Jacobsen, Mrs. Frank Potter, Mrs. John Dixon, Mrs. Ethel McGray, Mrs. Shupe and Mrs. Delveliss.

Club members selected their motto, "Take time to be friendly, it is the road to happiness," their flower is Lily of the Valley and their colors green and silver.

Projects through the years have included the adoption of patients at the Veterans Hospital, "sunshine" boxes to several club members who have had broken bones or had illnesses of long duration, help to needy families, toys for the hospital, assistance to the Opportunity school and many, many more.

The Merry Marrieds, as a home demonstration club, do not contribute heavily to community projects. But a request for help never meets with a "Sorry, I'm too busy" answer.

Work of Altar Group Increases

JEROME—When St. Jerome's Parish of the Roman Catholic Missionary Diocese of Idaho was formed in 1910, it consisted of seven families and three churches.

Land for a church had been donated to Bishop A. J. Glorieux by the North Side. Johnstone Co. the previous year, but initially Holy Mass was celebrated in a store building and homes of parishioners by Fr. Eugene Bogans of Shoshone.

Ladies of the parish formed an Altar Society, which in the beginning was largely a social group. Evening parties for the more were planned, which later developed into benefit parties, with people of the community being invited.

In 1912, with the first altar church building completed and the first resident priest, Father Francis Lobell, installed, the work of the Altar Society became more extensive, and has increased down through the years.

Permanent records were not kept until 1915, but since that time the records are full of the endless devotion of the women of the growing parish to all aspects of the work of the church.

Through two world wars they served, knitted, raised money and bought bonds. At times they paid the salary of the priest through fundraising activities, as well as contributing substantially to the expansion of the church plant, upkeep of the Parish House, furnishing and care of altar linens and Eucharistic vessels.

They have supported community activities generously—the cancer fund, Red Cross, Children's health center, recreation fund drives, among others, having benefited from their gifts.

In 1935, the local group affiliated with the National Association and became officially part of the League of Catholic Women. Although they worked hard to support the growing needs of the local parish, they also participated in the wider needs of the church.

One of their major concerns was for the St. Joseph's Children's Home in Cullendale. The women have, for years, packed Christmas boxes, canned produce, and sewed clothing for the home. Since 1959 they have, from time to time, adopted children from the home, remembering these children especially at Christmas and on their birthdays and first communions.

Within their own parish family, they have administered generously to their own children and young people, sponsoring, at various times, dancing classes, parties, dances, as well as teaching Sunday school classes and founding a church library.

The years are crammed with memories of countless dinners, card parties, picnics, wedding receptions, first communion breakfasts, graduation banquets, cooked food sales, sewing seasons and harvest festivals.

Some have been to camp, some have been to far, but all are part of the warm fabric of parish life.

Mountain View Club Is Social

WENDELL—Mountain View Club, organized a half century ago by busy housewives from the area west of Wendell, has revealed to a social club.

Members recall Red Cross work through two world wars, and the many years of making quilts and sewing and other means of assistance for families in need and distress.

Early meetings were held the first and third Wednesdays at the homes of the members. Meetings were held yet at the members' homes on the first Wednesday at 10 p.m. from March to November.

From November through February, the group holds all-day meetings the second and fourth Wednesdays at the Wendell Grange hall. A potluck dinner is served for themselves and husbands. Members have their meeting and program while the men play cards. The clubwomen maintain a membership of 34.

Mrs. Florence Fowler, the only living charter member, recently moved to Nampa to make her home near her son, LeRoy Fowler. Members remember her with surprise gifts.

Honorary members include Mrs. Fowler, Mrs. Estella Alkinson, Mrs. Ortha Hoskins, Mrs. Mattie Lorant, Mrs. Rose Maurer and Mrs. Eva Regus. Members have secret pals and remember them for birthdays and anniversaries. A potluck Christmas party with an exchange of gifts is one of the highlights of the year.

Mrs. George Hudson is president; Mrs. J. H. Watts, vice president; Mrs. Lyle Lower, secretary, and Mrs. John Perry, treasurer.

Workshop Featured By Club

JEROME—Town and Country Homemakers Club was formed in the spring of 1949 under the presidency of Mrs. William Andrews.

From its inception it has maintained a busy and varied program to serve the needs and interests of its members.

One annual event is a workshop held in November, featuring demonstration and instruction in such crafts as ribbon flowers, feather flowers, glass pieces, flower arranging, knitting, and aspects of personal grooming, such as use of cosmetics and hair care.

Projects in the past have included Christmas gifts and dolls, donations to the Red-targed Children's School, and support for the 4-H Camp building and scholarship funds. Members have also spent many volunteer hours fixing "hairdos" for the female patients at the local convalescent hospital.

Projects for this year have included helping with the Red Cross Bloodmobile, and making stuffed-animal toys for the Children's Home in Boise. To support these projects, members have embroidered blocks with each one's name and birthday flower, and quilted them into a comforter, which will be raffled off within the club.

Members hold an annual husband's party and the family picnic in the summer. An institution is the secret sister system, whereby a corporate birthday with gift exchange between sisters is enjoyed. Secret sisters are revealed at the annual Christmas luncheon and gift exchange.

Home demonstrations are presented at meetings by representatives to the council, who attended workshops under the leadership of Mrs. Wanda Nick. Mrs. Junior Robinson is club president for the current year.
