

DeGualle Says U.S. Victory in Asia Impossible

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle today lectured the Americans on Asia and the Germans on Europe, lauded his own country's independence, and told Frenchmen they never had it so good. Winding up his semiannual news conference—an unbroken statement which ran more than an hour—de Gaulle warned French voters to give him a new majority in next year's legislative elections or risk a relapse into pre-Gaullist chaos. Speaking of Asia, he said the Americans cannot win in Viet Nam but cannot be destroyed by their foes, and should quickly withdraw their troops as a step toward self-determination for the embattled country under international guarantees.

He said the United States must recognize Communist China, and its entry into the United Nations, and insure its participation in any Southeast Asia settlement. He said such a Chinese role is essential to peace.

De Gaulle also said the United States must promptly halt the bombing of North Viet Nam because "France cannot stand to see a small people bombed by a great power."

De Gaulle said he was giving this advice to America as a friend. "We are saying all this because of our friendship for America, a friendship which from the beginning has led us ceaselessly to try to turn America from this deadly enterprise."

Speaking of Europe, de Gaulle blamed West Germany for the lack of more cooperation between France and Bonn. He accused Bonn of putting the Atlantic line above the French-West German cooperation treaty, and asserted the evolution of European economic union requires a "European Europe."

He reiterated that by next April all foreign troops and bases will have been ousted from France, and the thereafter all troops, planes or ships in French territory, French airspace or French waters will have to be under French command orders.

He called for Washington to accept the principle of self-determination for Viet Nam. "They have only to observe the principle that each people should settle their own affairs in their own manner and by their own means," he asserted.

He said the Americans have only to apply this principle to the Vietnamese people. They have only to withdraw their troops from Viet Nam, which they sent to Viet Nam after the departure of our (French) forces."

He said France does not plan to offer mediation in Viet Nam because neither side would welcome it.

Anti-Johnson Protest Held In Malaysia

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP)—Yelling students burned a life-size effigy of President Johnson today and Chinese troops, in demonstrations protesting the President's visit Sunday.

Police have been cracking down on letters to head off any anti-Johnson demonstrations, but they were unable under the law to invade the University of Malaya campus where the effigy was burned. They appear only were caught by surprise in the attack on the hotel.

About 50 Chinese attacked the hotel, used by U.S. troops on rest and recreation visits to Malaysia. Police said Chinese used slingshots to fire ball bearings and threw rocks, slugs, and several bottles of oil. Windows were smashed at the entrance. Several U.S. soldiers in the foyer flung themselves to the floor. None was injured.

Police on guard broke up the demonstration within five minutes. The demonstrators carried banners and shouted anti-American slogans.

Five Witnesses Testify to Details of Fatal Shooting on Farm Near Hazelton

JEROME — The 37-year-old mother of 10 children watched helplessly Thursday afternoon as a testimony began in the federal court here. The testimony was by Russell C. Shaud for the second degree murder charge lodged against her.

The five witnesses were the brother of Mrs. Ray (Diantha) Rodriguez, who is charged with the Oct. 19 fatal shooting of her brother-in-law, Ralph Rodriguez, on a farm near Hazelton.

Mrs. Rodriguez's brother, Julian Ybarra, 22, was the last witness called before the hearing. He testified to the shooting on the farm where Mrs. Rodriguez and her family lived and worked. He said he saw a man in a blue shirt and a woman in a blue dress and a man in a blue shirt and a woman in a blue dress.

Johnsons Receive Colorful, Polite Welcome in Thailand

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—Thailand's king and queen and thousands of their people gave President and Mrs. Johnson a colorful but never boisterous welcome today. The President, in a speech of greeting, predicted peace would come to all Asia. Solid ranks of smiling Thais, most of them schoolchildren in blue and white uniforms, waved small American and Thai flags as the President and Mrs. Johnson rode slowly down a broad boulevard.

Because it was a rigidly ceremonial occasion rather than one of the President's "meet the people" excursions, there were no stops along the route of the motorcade for the President to shake the Thai hands.

Mrs. Johnson rode with Bhumibol's beautiful young wife, Queen Sirikit, in a high Rolls Royce with silk upholstery.

The President and his wife came by helicopter to the royal plaza near the king's sprawling palace compound after an overnight sea-side rest at Bang Saen, 68 miles to the southeast. Their arrival launched two crowded days of ceremonies and other activities.

The jazz-loving, Massachusetts-born king and his dignified queen greeted the Johnsons at the airport. The king, who is 59, the queen, who is 55, both of whom are 55-year-old spouses, welcomed them to their Southeast Asian ally country.

U.S. Says Chinese Blast Won't Speed Antimissile Project

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials say they have no plans to speed development of the controversial Nike-X antimissile defense system because of Red China's reported missile-launched nuclear success. In addition, they said they have no plans to use the added $153.5 million appropriated by Congress this year to begin procurement of the complicated system, which has been under development since 1957 at a cost of more than $2 billion.

Ammunition Dump Explodes in Saigon

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—A U.S. Army ammunition dump exploded in a huge ball of fire tonight, laying waste the surrounding jungle and smashing windows in Saigon, 12 miles away. The tremendous blast apparently killed only "light" casualties. U.S. military policemen told newsmen at the scene four wounded soldiers had been removed from the explosion area in Long Binh, north of Saigon. Several others were reported missing. Large numbers of American troops are based in the Long Binh area, which is a supply area for the U.S. 1st and 2nd divisions. A large hospital also is in the area.

A U.S. military spokesman said the explosion occurred 15 miles north of Saigon, much farther away than was thought after the initial force of the explosion.

The spokesman said the explosion was followed by a series of smaller ones.

The ammunition dump was a large one, and the explosion was followed by a series of smaller ones.

The spokesman said he had no reports at the moment of casualties or the extent of damage.

The force of the explosion burst doors open in Saigon's waterfront restaurants and broke windows in some shops on the main street.

Ears popped, and people who were three or four blocks away took out a huge fireball in the sky. One witness described the blast as "like a giant fireball." Then a small plume of smoke rose into the sky.

American military police officers were sent to the city for a few minutes, certain the blast was inside Saigon itself.

The U.S. army's 4th Division has a brigade of infantry based in the ammunition dump area. Other American units in the vicinity include headquarters of the 1st and 2nd divisions, a hospital, engineers and numerous supply installations.

A U.S. official at Bien Hoa, the city nearest Long Binh, said the explosion occurred on the third and fourth floor of the U.S. headquarters building were blown out.

Food Price Probe Set in Two States

NEW YORK (AP)—The governors of Texas and Massachusetts have ordered investigations of rising food prices in their states—both targets of housewives' supermarket boycotts.

Gov. John A. Volpe of Massachusetts allocated $25,000 in emergency funds for a study by the state's consumer council while Gov. John B. Connally of Texas enlisted three university presidents to draw up reports on the situation.

Both Volpe, a Republican, and Connally, a Democrat, are up for re-election next month.

Praise for the housewives' protest movement came from Eleanor Peterson, President Johnson's special adviser on consumer affairs, who said, pointing to Denver, where boycotters have claimed reductions of up to 20 per cent.

PARIS (AP)—For the second time in three weeks, the Paris subway network was severely crippled by a strike today.

By O. A. (GUS) KILMER, New York Times Staff Writer. President Johnson's well-reported journey to the Manila conference has lessened chances for peace in Viet Nam, Sen. Jordan charged here Thursday.

Sen. Jordan, speaking to members of the Twin Falls Kiwanis Club and guests at the American Legion Hall Thursday night, expressed the opinion while discussing the President's trip.

The answer came at the end of the talk, and in response to a question from the floor. He was asked if he thought that the Manila conference would hasten a peaceful settlement of the conflict.

"I wish that I could hope that it would lead to peace over the long run," he said, "but I believe it has been set back by this action."

He referred to the fact President Johnson was in Manila thus tending to "stall the show" from the Asian leaders.

He told of the eloquence of the speech which the Philippine president gave at a joint session of congress, telling of plans for on several subjects which have become campaign issues.

These included water, finances, the cost of living and the farm situation.

He declared that it has always been his attitude that there are more acres to be irrigated in Idaho than "we have water for." He said that the demand for water in the southwestern part of the nation should be put in its proper perspective.

He reiterated that he had said that water which was at the mouth of the Snake River, and ready to go into the ocean, could be used in the dry areas of the

there, but added that 8 per cent of that water comes from Idaho and that he most certainly wanted that used, in Idaho and not sent to any other section of the nation regardless of where

He termed the finances of the nation "in a very precarious position" and said the Johnson administration's attempt to pursue the war and carry on domestic programs (like the poverty program) at the same time "is the prime factor of the inflation in this country today."

The inflation, he said, is costing 70 millions of dollars a month, or a billion a year.

"The cost of living has gone up at the rate of four per cent a year," Sen. Jordan said. "The interest rate is the highest in years. This is all hard on the family budget."

"This rise in the cost of living simply means that Idaho people have $60 million less to spend today than they had a year ago. It is tragic."

Although not mentioning him by name, he then declared that my opponent, (Karl H. Hader) who was a member of the agricultural cultural committee when he was in the house) must share the blame for this condition because he voted for all the spending programs which came up."

Ho agreed with published reports that the 1961-65 period had proved to be the worst period for

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

FRIDAY, October 28 — Born today, you are an enthusiastic person who meets every new occurrence... whether it be in the form of a person, event, circumstance, or situation... with high hopes and the determination to make the best of it. Not one to be outdone by others, if you can help it, you are a determined worker and a highly intelligent one, planning your moves carefully and thoughtfully with both eyes on the future.

Because of your unbridled enthusiasm, however, you will have to be perpetually on your guard against being taken in, especially by cases which sound good and may take your interest before you've seen fit to investigate them thoroughly. Make it a habit to hold back a bit, to dig beneath the surface of what looks good to you.

You should make an exciting and rewarding male and parent, bringing to your home and family both the warmth and affection and the high key of optimism and opportunity. It may take you a while to settle on a single person with whom to spend your life, but once you do you will bring your heart and soul to bear upon the marital scene.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Saturday, October 29 — SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) — Repress your animosities if you expect to increase your popularity and, thus, your chance for social success. Join others in fun.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22) — Come up with some ideas in the way of leisure-time activities and you'll be surprised how much support you'll receive.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20) — A Saturday for industriousness and sincerity. Make no effort to pass lightly over serious matters.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) — The wise Aquarius will select an activity that will advance his good day for the Cancer who bides his time.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 21) — Neighbors are the key to a happy day. Give the people in your community a chance to live up to your initial idea of them.

ARIES (March 22-April 20) — A day which may well test your mettle. Call on your resources of courage, strength, and moral fiber.

TAURUS (April 21-May 21) — Turn a deaf ear toward those who would tempt you with a get-rich-quick scheme. There is no time to take chances with the family budget.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) — Avoid precipitating argument. Those near and dear to you should be protected, not made vulnerable to attack from outside.

CANCER (June 22-July 23) — A romantic day that could easily be spoiled if you indulge in too many flights of fancy. Avoid building castles in the air.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) — Indifference to suffering or others may allow you to get ahead — but the advancement is bound to hummerang sooner or later.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) — The Virgo who resorts to trickery to get his own way tomorrow may wish he hadn't tomorrow. Keep all transactions on the up-and-up.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) — An aura of tension should result in the sharpness of the situation. Take advantage of the opportunity to get a line on your future.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 29 — Born today, you are an outspoken person who has neither the time nor the inclination for being about the bush. You say what you think and what you mean to all people at all times and, although this habit may make you a few enemies, in the long run it should gain you more true and loyal friends than any amount of reticence could. Only take care that you keep frankness a thing between you and the person involved; avoid bringing third parties into the picture.

As open as you are with your speech, it may seem an imprudence that you are at the same time relatively frugal when it comes to money. Not one to spend without necessity, you have very little sympathy for those of even moderately extravagant tastes and expenditures. Such an attitude has its praise-worthy aspects, but you may find life more enjoyable were you to allow yourself more in the way of material goods.

When it comes to displaying affection, however, your character remains true to form, for you are warm-hearted, straightforward, and entirely without guile — where your feelings are involved. Even your enemies strike a spark of warm response within you, and you find it very difficult to dislike anyone for long — even with good reason.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Sunday, October 30 — SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) — Take positive action toward achieving your goal today. Don't give in to the temptation to let nature take its course.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22) — Do something definite to strengthen your beliefs today. Morning worship would be an excellent beginning.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20) — Don't neglect your personal interests to your own disadvantage today. The wise Capricorn will set all else aside but personal matters.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) — A Sunday for joining forces with the family in a day of quiet activity. Where problems arise, hear each family member out.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 21) — The compulsion to do as much as possible in the shortest possible time should be conquered. Do one thing well and you'll be better off.

ARIES (March 22-April 20) — An excellent day for contacting on a social basis one whom you would like to meet on a business level.

TAURUS (April 21-May 21) — Bring a considerable humor to the day and you should find that it is not nearly as gloomy as signs would seem to indicate.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) — Open your mind and heart to the present circumstances and you should be able to gain a measure of truth about yourself and others.

CANCER (June 22-July 23) — Wait patiently for developments, rather than trying to force them. A good day for the Cancer who bides his time.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) — Remain steadfast in your affections. Much may occur today to tempt you to change your mind — but the wise Leo will ignore temptation.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) — Leave all worries about efficiency and productivity behind you as you join with others in a day of relaxation and fun.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) — Strike a balance between daring and timidity and you may be able to achieve your end. Don't go overboard at either end of the scale.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) — A day of quiet activity. Where problems arise, hear each family member out.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22) — Do something definite to strengthen your beliefs today. Morning worship would be an excellent beginning.

Duration Estimate Is Revised by Candidate

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — In March, Harry Thyng said the United States could have won the Viet Nam war in 10 days, using conventional weapons.

In September, after winning Republican nomination to contest the U.S. Senate seat held by Democrat Thomas McIntyre, Thyng revised the estimate.

North Viet Nam's military machine, he said, had been strengthened. But, he contended, the United States could still win "within a brief period and with a minimum loss of personnel."

Thyng, a retired Air Force brigadier general, hasn't detailed how this could be accomplished, other than to say that "all enemy leadership" emanates from Hanoi, capital of Communist North Viet Nam, and:

est way to plunge this nation into World War III."

One of Thyng's main arguments is that "inexperienced, computer-happy, untrained civilians" are running the war, and that the military should be given full authority to determine what must be done to carry out U.S. policy in the field.

FOR GOVERNOR... SAMUELSON

"Government belongs to the people... not to the elected officials. In this election, the choice is clear... sensible, businesslike responsibility or free-spending liberalism. It's your decision."

difference is in how it is to be done. The challenge today is to progress toward development of our great potential, yet do it on a stable basis that gives each taxpayer full value for his tax dollars. This is my goal. This I will work for."

EARNINGS NOTED

BOISE (AP)—Boise Cascade Corp. reported net earnings of $13,381,000 for the nine months ended Sept. 30, down 7 per cent from earnings in the comparable period of 1965.

R. W. Halliday, vice president for finance, said sales in the nine-month period this year were $372,247,000, up from $314,741,000 a year earlier.

Earnings per share were $1.48, up from $1.35 a year earlier.

Halliday said the sales increase "and continued healthy earnings in the paper side of the business" were not enough to offset "a predicted drop in building products resulting from the current decline in residential housing."

POLL REPORTED

BOISE (AP)—Democratic candidate Cecil Andrus of Owyhee would be governor, and the sales tax would be approved nearly two to one if Boise High School students were doing the voting.

The students also favored election of Democrats Ralph Harding for senator and incumbent Compton I. White for congressman in a poll reported Thursday by Publications Supervisor C. J. Powell.

Andrus got 540 votes to 438 for Republican Don Sampson of Sandpoint in a poll reported by Perry Swisher of Pocatello and 147 for incumbent Philip W. Jungert of Lewiston.

MEETING SET

BOISE (AP)—Proposed legislation affecting the automobile industry will be discussed at a meeting in Boise Saturday, Kay Wilson, Mountain Home, district vice president of the Idaho Automobile Dealers Association, announced Thursday.

Attending the session will be association officers, directors and committees.

James Kocheil, Lewiston, is state president.

VERDICT RETURNED

POCATELLO (AP)—After long deliberation, U.S. Court jury Thursday ruled the Union Pacific Railroad is responsible for mid-winter flood damage in Bancroft in 1963, but not in 1962.

The jury went out to begin seeking a verdict at about 11 a.m. Wednesday. It returned about 2:15 p.m. Thursday.

The trial concerned a $300,000 suit filed by 17 Bancroft residents which charged railroad structures constructed about a mile west of the village backed up water, which damaged property.

The structures included the main line track, a passing track and a dike. The suit charged that the structures, partially blocked a natural drainage channel and railroad drainage facilities were not adequate to handle water in the channel.

VOTE FOR PHILIP W. JUNGERT, GOVERNOR

PH. POL. ADV. BY P. W. JUNGERT

Richard Thorson, who has an artificial leg, said he owned the Vee Club in Payette and was told by liquor enforcement officers that he would have to lock his establishment up when he went out of the state for a month.

Warner C. Mills, Idaho liquor law enforcement director, said Thorson's lease agreement with the operator to run Thorson's club during his absence would violate state law and Thorson's liquor license could be revoked if he allowed his other man to operate the club.

BLOOD FLOWN
BOISE (AP)—A quantity of blood was flown by jet from Boise to Pocatello Thursday night for emergency treatment in a cooperative effort of Boise police, state police and the Idaho Air National Guard.

The name of the person from whom the blood was ordered was not immediately known, but it was believed to have been a youth injured in a car-motorcycle accident Thursday.

Idaho State Police relayed the message that blood was needed at St. Anthony's Hospital in Pocatello by midnight.

THE JUNIOR REALM

with MARGIA LEE

Q. We belong to a religion that gives its communicants much help in the hour. Once a week we have a family evening to get together and nothing is permitted to interfere with it.

Once a month we spend part of the evening in testimony meetings. Each one of us gives our testimony of God and our belief in his promises. Six of us are in high school and we all receive an A grade.

We think it is largely because of these fine meetings, because they really do much for each one of us.

I date a girl who has a very poor family life. She won't attend our family meetings when we give our testimonies. The family is unalterably opposed to it, although I can invite her to some of our other family meetings, yet most of my brothers and sisters feel that we should have visitors at these family meetings.

We all follow the Junior Realm with intense interest and we would like you to have your panelists discuss this question er has the same fine spirit in the future. We think you should be positive in your attitude, some evening when you have toward this meeting, and not do family prayers. That too will anything which may jeopardize be a reward for her and when it comes time for her to pray, is of your religion. If she is not, invite her to, and don't criticize her could wreck your friendship.

Instead of taking the risk of having your testimony meetings turned into indifferent social affairs, which neither you nor the girl would want, invite her to a Sunday dinner with your family. She will catch the spirit of your family at such an occasion, and she may want to introduce it into her own family.

Let her also be in your home some evening when you have toward this meeting, and not do family prayers. That too will anything which may jeopardize be a reward for her and when it comes time for her to pray, is of your religion. If she is not, invite her to, and don't criticize her could wreck your friendship.

We feel that anything which risks such a faithful and fine spirit should not be invited into the sanctuary.

Let her also be in your home some evening when you have toward this meeting, and not do family prayers. ## Decorated

WAYNESBORO, Pa. (AP) — Halloween pranks started early when teenagers decorated Center Square with an outhouse Thursday night. Police had to light the structure with a red flare to prevent motorists from hitting it until the wooden building could be removed. About 500 teenagers gathered at the square to watch the performance and cars were backed-up bumper-to-bumper for several blocks in all directions. Police were looking for the outhouse's owner.

Car Sales up, Profits Down, Dealers Note

DETROIT (AP) — Ford and Chrysler today faced the fact that they took in more money than ever before in the opening nine-months of a year but made less profit from it.

Third-quarter sales reports of the two auto companies Thursday showed their worldwide dollar sales hit a sizzling nine-months' pace, even as third-quarter profits nosedived.

General Motors, giant of the auto world, reported Tuesday its sales for the opening nine months of this year were the second best in its history, topped only by the first three quarters of 1965.

Chrysler's third-quarter profit sag was the greatest its earnings were off 64 per cent over a year earlier, while GM was down 62 per cent and Ford fell 32 per cent.

American Motors next quarterly financial statement is due in late November. Ford's explanation of the drop in third-quarter and nine-months profits was virtually the same as that offered by GM and Chrysler.

Henry Ford II, board chairman, said: "Lower profits in the first nine months of 1966 reflected principally increased costs of labor and materials. Higher marketing expense, the cost of product improvements and expenses associated with factory expansion programs also reduced profits."

"VOTE REPUBLICAN!!!"

FRED BECK JR., left, Sun Valley's director of marketing, invited Louis Shaddock, head of Idaho's Department of Commerce and development, to join him in accepting the Award of Merit presented Sun Valley by Charles S. Thorn, Popular Science executive vice president and chairman of the Awards Committee of the National Association of Travel Organizations. The award is for outstanding promotion among the nation's resorts, in transforming Idaho's world famous ski center into a year-round tourist attraction. The Idaho Commerce Department won a national Award of Merit in 1965 for outstanding contribution to travel among the states.

Sun Valley Gets National Resort Award of Merit

SUN VALLEY — The National Resort Award of Merit has been presented to Sun Valley, Idaho's world famous ski resort. Receiving the award was Fred Beck, Sun Valley's director of marketing, who invited Louis Shaddock, head of Idaho's Department of Commerce and development, to share the spotlight with him during presentation at the annual convention of the National Association of Travel Organizations.

The citation was won for outstanding promotional achievement among the nation's resorts, in transforming the center into a year-round tourist attraction. Presenting the award was Charles S. Thorn, executive vice president of Popular Science Publishing Co., a national award chairman for the association.

In recognizing Sun Valley's accomplishments, the committee said the award is merited for "Sun Valley Summer" and "Young Summer," highly organized promotional programs which developed new methods of escaping the seasonal resort and attraction dilemma in which success in one season limits potential in another.

"The promotions drive home the idea that 'Sun Valley is a perfect place for the family vacation year round, and to make the statement fact, Sun Valley developed family activities around the calendar."

The Idaho Department of Commerce and Development won the national Award of Merit for 1965 for outstanding state promotional effectiveness.

Church Unit Set to Revamp Positions

WHEELING, W.Va. (AP) — Episcopal bishops have voted to form a council of some of the country's top theological minds to rethink and renew the Church's position for "life in the world today."

A Church spokesman likened the council to "a sort of Ecumenical council for the Episcopal Church" made up of lay and clerical members. He described the action as a "revolutionary step."

The bishops said, "these times call for a major re-examination by our Church not only of its theological stance but also of its structure, worship and total life."

The House of Bishops, concluding a week-long meeting here, voted Thursday to have presiding Bishop John R. Hines form the council and instruct it to report back at the next meeting of the House of Bishops in Seattle, Wash., next October.

Vietnamese Nun Recalls Prison Camp Suffering

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Sister Rosa's long night of suffering began just as school let out. The laughter of her first-graders was echoing down the road when the Viet Cong appeared in the doorway.

"You're a spy," they shouted. They ripped off her nun's habit, took her crucifix, gave her some black pajamas just like theirs and led her blindfolded out of the village of Duc My in the Mekong Delta.

It was four days before last Christmas.

The nun, 64, walked most of the night along a jagged trail. She knew it was well after midnight when they entered the bleak compound because they moved her blindfold just as the moon was setting. Then they took her rosary, clamped on handcuffs and chained her, with 21 other prisoners, to a metal bar that ran the length of the low-ceilinged thatched hut.

So began the long days of chopping wood and washing rice, and the long silent nights, and the weeks and months of never being allowed to talk to anyone, of being forbidden to listen in prayer and having to listen to propaganda lectures against her church.

What had she done?

The first of her many interrogators supplied the only clues with his opening two questions. These English books she used in the school, they were supplied by the government, weren't they? And didn't two of the nuns' names appear in the American money?

One day this week, when the number of men and women chained to the long bar had reached 33, there was feverish activity among the guards. They hurried half the prisoners into sampans and promised to return for the rest.

That afternoon, advance elements of the 8th Division of the South Vietnamese army, on a sweep through Vinh Binh Province, overran the Viet Cong base camp and found 18 handcuffed, blindfolded prisoners.

Sister Rosa sat in the wellcome sunlight, rubbing the red raw wrists where the handcuffs had been, remembering it all. Children were laughing and playing in the school yard outside her temporary quarters at the South Vietnamese army dependents' school.

Sister Rosa, whose Vietnamese name is Trinh Thi Guong, remembered being moved from camp to camp during her 10 months' imprisonment, sometimes on foot, sometimes by sampans. She remembered the priest who smiled a faint smile of recognition when she went off to die of scurvy. She remembered another priest who was led down the road with three other prisoners but never returned with them. She remembered the woman who died in childbirth, and the young Cambodian boy whose stomach bloated from bad rice so that he died a slow death in irons.

Trout Limits Are Reinstated for Camas Reservoir

BOISE—Bag and possession limits for trout were reinstated to the Little Camas Reservoir between Hill City and Dixie Thursday during the quarterly meeting of the Idaho Fish and Game Commission. The limit of 15 fish or seven pounds and one fish was lifted by the commission after a long session. The commission lowered water conditions. The reservoir now has little or no water in it, according to reports from the area.

The commission also held an open hearing in which a four-day bag limit was proposed for the Little Salmon River north of New Meadows requested an earlier fishing season because the fish passage for spawning trout comes early to the area. The delegation was composed of motel and resort operators. In other business, the commission...

Bill Casper's Putter Takes Dip in Ocean

HONOLULU (AP) — It was a great day for swimming, but only Billy Casper's putter took a dip in the Pacific Ocean.

Casper, National Open golf champion and the No. 1 money winner—and the favorite in the $25,000 Hawaiian Open—started today threw the club there after he missed a 20-foot putt on the seventh green.

That was the climax of a string of shabby putting for Casper, generally considered the best putter in the game.

"If I had brought another putter, I would just leave it in the ocean," Casper said. "That's what I think of it. But I had better fish it out, so I can finish this round."

Casper called for a five iron and plucked the errant club from the drink.

The surfing action came during the afternoon lull for the tournament.

News that Casper's putting touch had deserted him, at least temporarily, spread joy to the strong field of golfers.

Three Share Lead in Hawaii Golf

HONOLULU, Hawaii (AP) — Husky Ted Makalena, born and raised about a brassie shot away from the three-way lead in the $25,000 Hawaiian Open.

Sanders and Miller Barber, both six-under-par 65 on the Waialae course Thursday and shared the first round lead in the $25,000 Hawaiian Open.

Makalena, whose father taught him to play on the same course and who still wears on the greens crew, played what he called a super round of golf. "I only had one bad shot, and I still got a par on the 18th," Makalena, a Canada Cup veteran, said.

Dick Lutz, a former California Amateur champion and Tacoma pro Ken Still and veteran Al Bessell, posted 65s, one stroke back.

Texas Charles Cuddy had 68 and Bob Gossby, who led this tournament in a sudden death playoff last year, had 69.

Defending champion Gay Brewer had a 70, but a poor tee shot into a trap followed by three putts on the 16th hole cost him a double-bogey. Brewer's less, Brewer said he played "as well as I can play" except for the one shot.

PGA champion Al Gelberger, Mike Souchak, Al Gelberger, Bert Yancey and Chi Chi Rodriguez were in the bunch at 70.

Buffalo End Uses Mouth On Defense

NEW YORK (AP) — Tom Day of the Buffalo Bills stands 6-foot-2 and weighs 262 pounds, but one of the biggest things he has going for him is his mouth.

Day uses it all the time, and his Sunday his target will undoubtedly be Joe Namath, the New York Jets' quarterback.

"I talk so the quarterback will know I'm there," Day explains. "It's to get them to think about me rather than the pass receiver. And when I get a quarterback concentrating on me, I find I can read him better."

Day and Namath went all the way back to the last time the teams met during the 1965 season and Sunday's rematch can be seen in the living color on NBC television, which is telecasting the NFL American Football League game nationally.

And it's almost certain that shortly after the kickoff, Day's mouth will be in motion.

"I'm always talking on the line," he said. "I guess talking helps in take the nervousness out of it for me. It also helps me to get to know the player opposite me better."

But despite last year's jawing match with Namath, Day isn't the best backtalker in the game. Foster, San Diego's fullback, and Jon Gilliam, Kansas City's center.

And what do they say? "Oh," replied Day, "they'll say 'botten up in there and stop taking those cheap shots.'"

Well, does Day take cheap shots? "I try not to," he replied. "Sometimes it can't be helped. A man isn't down until the whistle blows. And sometimes you're in mid-air when it does. Every try and stop yourself right in mid-air. It's difficult."

Farr Is Atop Scoring List

NEW YORK (AP) — McFar's two touchdowns against UCLA's elusive fullback into first place in scoring among the nation's major college football players, statistics compiled by the NCAA Service Bureau disclosed today.

Farr has a season total of 56 points on nine touchdowns and two points after touchdowns. Floyd Little of Syracuse, Cabot Knowledge of Penn, Lenny Snow of Georgia Tech and Perry Williams of Purdue are tied for second with 54 points, each on nine touchdowns.

Celts Rip Bulls For Four in Row

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Bailey Howell, paced the Boston Celtics with a 24-point performance in their fourth straight National Basketball Association game with a 123-104 victory over the Chicago Bulls.

Chicago's Jerry Sloan scored the first basket, but Jerry Sloan, fired quickly came back with a basket and a free throw and the Celtics were never headed.

Coaches Joke On Upcoming Grid Contest

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Navy Coach Ara Paiganian, coach of the Annapolis Naval Academy, joked in a chat about the clash Saturday between their football teams.

Elias opened the conversation which was hooked to a public address system, with this salutation: "I have writers here from Baltimore, Washington, New York, Annapolis, Beirut and Damascus."

Parseghian, who is of Armenian extraction, told Elias, who is of Lebanese ancestry, "I may be a rug maker but I'm not a fish catcher."

Trying to get serious, Elias asked his long time friend about Saturday's lineup.

"Well," replied Parseghian, "I have Paul Hornung at left half."

The two men got serious long enough to admit that anything could happen in the game, but Navy is a 25-0 underdog.

O'Leary Raps Stuart for City Crown

Riding the passing of Rick Simba and depending on its big line for defense, the O'Leary freshmen belted the Robert Stuart frosh 26-6 Thursday night.

O'Leary scored a touchdown per quarter while Stuart was able to move only once—and all at once. The Bears' touchdown came on a 23-yard reverse sprint by John Turner.

O'Leary scored five and one-half minutes into the game when Semba sneaked in. With 25 seconds left in the half Semba turned to his favorite target, McClain, for a 28-yard touchdown.

In the third quarter a Semba to McClain pass carried to the two-yard line and Gaylen Carson belted in on the next play. Stuart rebounded in the same period and recovered a fumble at mid-field.

The final O'Leary touchdown came with 42 seconds remaining in the game on a 28-yard pass from Semba to Blackburn, who made a good over-the-shoulder catch. Robertson converted.

AEI Defense Honors Given To Buchanan

NEW YORK (AP) — It was the night before Kansas City's game against Denver and Buck Buchanan, the Chiefs' 6-foot-7, 225-pound defensive tackle, was at dinner with the rest of the club.

He had devoured his steak, gulped up the leftovers passed by several of his smaller teammates and started on dessert when another steak was pushed in front of him.

"I would like to take a go at it," he said with a smile, "but I'm on my desserts. I don't like to switch."

Buchanan may not like to switch, but he does like to eat, particularly the night before a game.

The day of the game I don't eat too much," he explained. "I eat very, very little. They say a ball player has to be hungry. I try to be."

Buchanan must have been starving when he took the field against the Broncos last Sunday. He completely stopped Denver's draw play while making five tackles unassisted and earning "The Associated Press" Defensive Player of the Week award in the American Football League.

Aussies Take Big Lead in Golf Tourney

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Kevin Hartley, 32-year-old Melbourne engineer, fired a four-under-par 68 Thursday and led Australia to a six-stroke lead over South Africa in the first round of the Eisenhower Trophy Golf Championship.

The Australians wound up with a score of 214 and South Africa's Bobby Clark had a 40-foot-putt on the final green to give his team second place at 220.

A surprising team from India, with 120 under-par, was in third-place at 221 as favored players from Britain, Canada, and the United States fell off the pace.

The Americans, fretting with the slow and stubby greens, were in fourth place at 226, their best round in the final green to give his team second place at 220.

The other three, Deane Beman of Bethesda, Md., Downing Gray of Pensacola, Fla., and Ron Cerrudo of San Rafael, Calif., all had 76s in a day of sporadic sunshine and driving rain.

"Call us the Lip Boys," said Gray. "No team ever slipped as many cups as we did today. We couldn't sink a putt."

In a day dominated by the dark horses, New Zealand was in fourth place at 227 followed by Canada and South Rhodesia at 223. Then came Germany 224 and Chile and Nationalist China 225, all ahead of the United States.

The defending champion Britons were all over the place for 228.

Thomson, Palmer Pace Golf Meet

BRISBANE, Australia (AP) — Australia's Peter Thomson, who bagged three eagles on the home nine, and Arnold Palmer, show seven-under-par 67s Thursday to share the first round lead in the 72-hole Australian Open Golf Championship.

Australian Bruce Devlin and Brian Boyes of New Zealand tied for third with 69s.

Gary Player, the defending champion from South Africa, and Roberto de Vicenzq of Argentina were in the 72 group.

HOW TO WRITE
A GOOD
CLASSIFIED WANT AD

1-IT'S ALWAYS BEST to start your advertisement with the name of the article or service you have to offer. If you have an apartment or room for rent or property for sale start your advertisement with the location.

2-BE CLEAR. Readers respond more quickly and favorably when you state clearly and briefly what you have to offer. One of the very most important aspects of any advertisement is to include the action.

3-MAKE IT EASY for the reader-prospect to reach you. Always insert your telephone number or your name and address. If you do not have regular hours, give a preferred time to have prospect contact you.

4-THE GREATEST READER ATTENTION can be secured for your advertisement by using consecutive insertions. Play safe—a seven-day order is best and costs less. There are also very special monthly rates for those who are anxious of keeping their name and offering before the public every day. You can stop your ad in the event of a "no sale" and then you pay only for the days it is published.

5-PLACE YOURSELF in the reader's position and ask yourself: what you would like to know about your offer. The answer you give will make a good Classified Ad.

6-CLASSIFIED readers are already interested in buying your used or new merchandise. These people have the money and are already in the market to buy. So give them every advantage you can with good ad copy.

7-WANT ADS THAT FAIL to bring satisfaction do so not through any lack of reader interest, but because they are often carelessly worded and contain too much information to get prompt action.

8-TO PLACE YOUR ADVERTISEMENT in the Twin Falls newspaper, where you reach the greatest Classified Want Ad audience in Magic Valley, call 733-0931 or one of the times listed below. If you live in an area outside of Twin Falls, ask for an Ad-Broker as easy as calling a friend because our Ad-Brokers are anxious to be helpful in such matters. Remember, you get 7 days for the price of 5.

Mr. and Mrs. Arden Lauritzen and family, Hagerman, have brought the Sylvia Heath Ranch, east of King Hill, and are moving into their new home at the ranch this week. Lauritzen is a cattleman and a farmer. Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Anderson and family, who have been living at Mrs. Heath's ranch, moved into their new home last week. They have bought the former Lloyd Motherhead ranch east of King Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Knox, King Hill, have gone to Korea, where Knox is president of the Glenn Army Bank, will supervise the unloading of 200 Holstein heifers for the Korean people. Mr. and Mrs. Knox then will fly to Hong Kong, via Manila and Honolulu.

Heavy smoke from the straw stack fire at the Mont Johnson ranch, Richfield, damaged a stack of about 200 tons of baled hay in the smoke path. The 2,000 bales of old straw in two stacks burned for more than three days. Firemen barely kept the hay stack from catching fire, with one place the size of a man's hand lighting at the same time a fireman's hose started wetting the hay. Carbon sparks have been ruled out as a cause of the fire and firemen estimated the blaze started on the south top of the stack nearest the road at the north Richfield Village limits. Had the fire been reported before Dale Sanders discovered it, much of the smoke damage would have been averted.

Mike Kast put 72 head of cattle on pasture at the Arthur Greer ranch south of King Hill last weekend.

DHIA Tests Reveal Milk Production Rise Last Month

MOSCOW — The September testing period for herds over 20 cows of the Cassia County Dairy Herd Improvement Association shows a continuing increase in production in the dairy milk and 45 lbs. of butterfat per herd, on official test in Cassia County.

Jack Gochmour's herd of grade Holsteins also placed high with a production average per cow of 1382 lbs. of milk and 47.5 lbs. of butterfat. Herds with less than 20 cows, Eldon Anderson and Ted Gochmour were the two highest. Eldon Anderson's herd produced 1242 lbs. of milk and 46.1 lbs. of butterfat as an average. Ted Gochmour's herd averaged 999 lbs. of milk and 39.7 lbs. of fat.

The highest-producing Holstein for the month is owned by Clarence Phillips. Top Guernsey is owned by Elmo and Vera Richmond.

High herds for the month's production in excess of 40 lbs. of butterfat each for the month.

Browning Is Named Head Of Farm Unit

POCATELLO — Nyal Rydchak, president of Idaho Farm Bureau and affiliated companies, announced today, after a special session of the boards of directors, promotion of Lloyd D. Browning to a new position. Browning, chief executive officer of Idaho Farm Bureau and affiliated companies.

Donald L. Buckalew was named general manager of the Farm Bureau Insurance Company of Idaho. Buckalew is a native of Idaho, Browning is a 17-year veteran with Idaho Farm Bureau and has served the last seven years as executive secretary-treasurer and general manager of the Farm Bureau Insurance Company of Idaho.

Browning holds a law degree from the University of Idaho. He is married and has two children. Buckalew, a native of Illinois, joined the staff of Farm Bureau Insurance Services as sales supervisor in 1954. He served as sales manager and was promoted to manager of Farm Bureau Mutual Insurance Co. of Idaho in August of this year.

In addition to his new office, he was appointed state agent for Western Farm Bureau Life Insurance Co. and Country Life Insurance Co. A graduate of the University of Illinois with a degree in Agricultural Economics, Buckalew is married and has two children.

Studies Made on Cost of Grazing On Federal Land

JIPP CITY, O. — The cost of grazing livestock on federal lands in the Western States are being studied jointly by the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the Department of the Interior.

To be completed by early November, the survey is being conducted by USDA's Statistical Reporting Service. The information gathered will be used as a basis for evaluating current fees charged users of the public lands.

About one out of every four grazing permits from each grazing district national forest and national grassland will be interviewed. In addition, individuals leasing private land in areas adjacent to federal lands and officials of financial institutions will be interviewed.

Local Facilities of National Seed Concern Inspected by Five Officials

Five officials of SRS Seeds, Inc., Niagara Chemical Division, FMC Corp., headed by Lawrence R. Robinson Jr., seeds department manager from Modesto, Calif., flew into Twin Falls this week in a North American Sabre Liner business jet to inspect business connections here.

The executives spent a day and one-half conferring with local representatives and associates and also inspected warehouse facilities of the Honey Seed Co.

The Honey concern, a U.S. contract, handles processing and warehousing of peas, garden beans and some sweet corn seed for the corporation.

Conferring with the visitors were A. E. Knudson, local representative for the SRS Seeds, Inc.; Richard L. (Dick) Cook, at Middleport, N. Y. The national concern has four jets, all in the $1 million or $2 million class.

After the conferences here the officials were flown to Ontario, Ore., where they inspected the sweet corn division of the company.

Seeds warehoused in Twin Falls are sold by the company throughout the United States and in many foreign countries.

Two company pilots, stationed at San Jose, Calif., brought the craft here. They are John W. Kendall, chief pilot, and Floyd Matthews, co-pilot. They are employed by the FMC Corp., Inc.; Richard L. (Dick) Cook, at Middleport, N. Y. The national concern has four jets, all in the $1 million or $2 million class.

Land Fixed for Production By Electric Pump Irrigation

ROISE — Idaho Power Company's own area, which means it can't be diverted elsewhere, its service area, transformed an additional 81,435 acres of desert into highly productive cropland by electric pump irrigation during the 1966 season.

Company president T. E. Roach, describing the area's remarkable development, pattern making ever greater and beneficial use of our vital water resources, said 1966 was the second consecutive year that additional land put under cultivation in the Snake River Valley totaled more than 60,000 acres.

In 1965, he recalled, a total of 64,038 acres were developed by high-lift pumping from rivers and deep wells to set a new area record.

The utility president noted that the additional land brought into production this year boosted the area's irrigated acreage to more than 1.1 million acres.

Orderly continuation of the remarkable development pattern maintained up to now by the area's enterprising irrigation districts, the energetic cooperation of lending institutions and the utilities depends largely on how rapidly the federal government releases land that is being held in a sort of "deep freeze," Roach asserted.

He said that despite the unavailability of government-owned land, preparation of additional acres not subject to the freeze already is "off to a flying start" for the 1967 season.

Among the projects being readied is a 9,400-acre undertaking by Greider Foods, Inc., that will rank as the largest single desert reclamation project ever brought into production in Idaho Power's service area.

Orderly project, known as Skyline Farms, will operate pumps totaling 10,650 horsepower, next season to lift water from both the Snake and Malheur rivers and sprinkle potatoes on land located northwest of Ontario.

Additional pumps totaling about 1,100 horsepower are expected to be installed for future expansion.

Roach said one of the most important—but least-recognized benefits of the area's "immense" growth by irrigation pumping is the safeguarding of Idaho water.

"Private land development is helping to quickly put our water to beneficial use right here in our own area, which means it can't be diverted elsewhere," he stated.

"Obviously, the release of land now being withheld by the federal government would put still more water to use in the Snake River Valley, thus protecting it against diversion."

Other irrigation pumping benefits cited by the utility president are new jobs, new crop income, new and expanded processing plants, new taxes, all accomplished without need for government subsidies.

He said that since an estimated more than 60,000 acres are created by the development of every 100 acres of land, the nearly 61,500 acres put into production in the 1966 season opened up employment opportunities for more than 2,500 persons.

The new pumps installed in Idaho Power's area this year totaled nearly 40,000 horsepower or enough electricity to supply some 10,000 homes, according to Roach.

He said that in extending service to the new pumps, the company invested about $1.5 million in additional facilities, including some 200 miles of new distribution lines.

Pony Award Goes to Area Woman
KANSAS CITY — Mrs. Bonnie Parker, Route 3, Jerome, was one of five persons presented with an achievement award at the annual membership meeting of the Welsh Pony Society of America held here. The meeting was well attended.

The annual awards, initiated this year, are presented to breeders of registered Welsh ponies who have made an outstanding contribution to the development and promotion of the breed.

It was reported at the meeting that total registrations of Welsh ponies expected to reach 10,000 in November. First registered imports were made in 1906. Today there are registered Welsh in all 50 states.

A versatile breed, registered Welsh range up to 55 inches in height and their many uses include harness racing, show jumping, hunting, and parade and trail riding.

A series dedicated to Northwest Farmers

The soil is fed by formula. So are farm animals. Animals are bred and fed to produce a maximum of high-quality meat, or milk or eggs. Today an average Northwest farmer can produce the same amount of food with 37 hours' work that required 60 hours' work in 1949.

And the Federal Land Bank has been a partner in the progress of farming. They have been a co-settler in the farm mortgage field for a half century. We are proud of the progress that farmers and ranchers have made. We are proud that we have contributed to it.

Checks Sent For Crop of Sugar Beets

SALT LAKE CITY — Utah Idaho Sugar Company mailed checks last week totaling $2,370,000 to sugar beet growers in Idaho, Utah, and Washington as final payment for the 1965 crop.

The final payment brought to $18,894,000 the amount paid to growers by the sugar company for 2,300,000 tons of beets delivered in the fall of 1965.

Growers participate in actual returns as sugar from the crop is sold. Payment for beets is based on the percentage of sugar they contain and on net returns from sugar. An initial payment was made last November, followed by additional payments in April and July.

The final payment to growers for U and 1½ Idaho amounted to $656,400 which brought to $9,592,000 the total paid growers in the Gem State for the 1965 crop. This did not include a final payment which will be made later to growers for Layton Sugar Company, a subsidiary of U and 1½ Idaho.

In Utah, growers in the North Utah District received $228,000 in the final payment to bring the total for their 1965 crop to $2,310,000. Growers in the South Utah District received $157,000 in the final payment. Their total for the 1965 crop was $1,450,566.

Growers for the Layton Sugar Co., in Utah, received $79,800 in payment, bringing their total for the crop to $656,400.

Growers for the former Gunnison Sugar, Inc., which has been merged into U and 1½, received a final payment totaling $24,000, bringing their crop total to $328,500.

The total payment per ton for the 1965 crop was the second highest on record both in North Utah and in Idaho and was the highest on record in the South Utah district.

In Washington, the final payment totaled $1,176,000, bringing the 1965 crop payment to $18,785,000 the amount paid for the 1965 crop. The per ton payment was highest on record for the state.

In addition to the sugar company payments growers received also a payment from the federal government for compliance with federal regulations concerning the crop. A tax credit was collected on the manufacture of refined sugar more than compensates for the compliance payments and has resulted in the U. S. Treasury more than $450,000,000 since the sugar program has been in effect.

The current program to test new cereal and other crop varieties at Bonanza Ferry, conducted in cooperation with the Boundary county commissioners and local wheat growers, will receive increased attention.

The field crop testing and other research work done at the Sandpoint Branch Experiment station will also continue receiving attention under the new program, he said.

Ensign pointed out that these three major outlying crop testing locations in northern Idaho will be coordinated with the crop research work under way at the research center at Moscow.

Other branch stations in the University's Agricultural Research system are located in Tropic, Dubois, Aberdeen, Twin Falls, Parma and Caldwell.

An agronomist to coordinate these testing activities will be located with the Plant Science department at Moscow under the supervision of A. M. Finley, head of the department.

"Results from these testing programs will flow through the information pipeline to the county agents in these ten northern counties and make it possible for them to make better recommendations to the farmers in these areas," Ensign emphasized.

An 11-acre site near Grangeville has been leased for testing purposes in that area, he said.

"Research at this new site will be aided by a $5,000 grant from the Idaho Pea and Lentil Commission which will enable new research on winter pea production, with emphasis on cultural practices, disease control and seed selection."

This research will be coordinated with existing pea and lentil research work in Washington, Ensign pointed out.

Extensive Field Crop Studies Set

MOSCOW — More extensive research into field crops evaluation for northern Idaho is planned, according to R. D. Ensign, associate director of the University of Idaho's agricultural experiment station.

He made this report at the fall meeting of the Idaho Agricultural Consulting Council held on the university campus. The council represents major agricultural commodity and associations in Idaho.

"The new program will allow more thorough evaluation of field crops in the 10 northern Idaho counties under various soils and management conditions," Ensign told the council members.

A principal crop testing sites will be at Moscow, Sandpoint, Bonanza Ferry, and Grangeville.

Year-End Decisions Have Importance In Farmer's Tax Management Program

MOSCOW — Tax management, deductions and exemptions, comment is becoming more and more important in good farm management.

The good tax manager is one who "thinks taxes" all during the year, and he finds complete information and a knowledge of the tax laws very helpful. However, there are some end-of-the-year decisions that can have important tax consequences.

The good tax manager knows where he stands taxwise at any point during the year. With this information and a knowledge of the tax laws, he can make decisions, actions, can be taken in the closing weeks of the tax year to save tax dollars.

When a preliminary check of income indicates a probable net taxable income less than the total amount allowed for personal exemptions.

The current program to test new cereal and other crop varieties at Bonanza Ferry, conducted in cooperation with the Boundary county commissioners and local wheat growers, will receive increased attention.

Potato Yield Increased in Experiments

UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN — According to Dr. Lloyd E. Brownell, professor of chemical and nuclear engineering, experiments in Washington have demonstrated conclusively that the normal 60-to-80-day rest period for seed potatoes can be broken by radiation and two crops produced in one year where the growing season is sufficiently long.

Scientists at the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission's Pacific Northwest Laboratory, began with a normal spring planting of a commercial potato plant in 1965. The mature Russet potatoes were irradiated after harvest, replanted and produced a second crop before the first frost of winter freeze.

The irradiated seed-spuds were planted in vermiculite and kept in the laboratory at 55° for observation. After 22 days they showed massive sprouting and were transplanted outside once they reached the leafing stage.

Then the potatoes were handled as in a commercial operation and harvested in early December.

Dr. Charles A. Rohrmann stated that the growth period for the second crop was "a bit longer than expected" and blamed it on excessive handling in the laboratory phase of the experiment.

"We disturbed those potatoes as no commercial crop ever expected to be disturbed," he said, adding they probably would have matured a month earlier without the handling.

The process, said Dr. Rohrmann, "is just like a person receiving a chest or dental X-ray. Neither potatoes nor people become radioactive."

Other possibilities include selfing grain or other farm products, culling, dairy and breeding stock or poultry flocks, disposing of other undesirable animals, collecting money due for labor or custom work done, doing additional off-farm work or selling capital items not needed in the business and on which a gain can be realized.

(1) Make additional sales before the end of the year. In many cases, livestock feeders may have livestock about ready for market which can be sold before the end of the year.

(2) If eligible for a CCC loan, secure a loan before the end of the year and elect to treat the amount of the loan as income. Once made the election to treat CCC loans as income, the year received must be followed in future years.

(3) Delay some expenditures and postpone payment of charges operating expenses until the next year. In many cases, farmers charge repairs, fuel, feed for livestock, fertilizer and farm supplies when purchased.

Arrangements may be made for carrying such accounts beyond the end of the taxable year. You can delay payment of half of the property taxes until the following year without interest or penalty.

If you are an accrual-method taxpayer, the opportunities for increasing income late in the year are more limited. This is because gross income is primarily determined by actual production of the farm whether sold or still on hand at the end of the year.

But possible ways to increase income late in the year include off-farm or custom work before year end to increase cash receipts. Buy feeder stock or other inventory property which would increase in value by the end of the year. Incure as few deductible expenditures as possible during the balance of the year. Make sure that the ending inventory is complete. Don't take additional depreciation allowance on eligible items.

It is the preliminary check on income indicates your net income this year is not only above personal deductions and exemptions, but abnormally high, you may gain advantage in leveling your net taxable income from year to year.

Some expenditures which are not necessarily made every year are the non-deductible deductible in the year in which they occur. Such expenditures include painting buildings, minor repairs on improvements, many small shop tools, increased seedlings of legumes and grasses and (within limits) costs of soil and water conservation practices.

Good tax managers will manage to make many expenditures of this type in years of high gross income to reduce their taxable income.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — R. Henry Matthiessen Jr., of the well-known breeding establishment, Still House Hollow Farm, near Home, Va., has been elected president of the American Hereford Association after having been re-elected to the board of directors.

Thomas Merrill Salinas Calli was elected vice-president. Fred Ferrell, Elgin, Okla., and Gene Wiese, Manning, Iowa, were elected to the board of directors replacing Walt Mathews, Albany, Tex., and W. P. Adams II, Heligore, Neb., who were retiring from the board.

Matthiessen, who with his father, Ralph H. Matthiessen, as co-partner in the ownership and operation of Still House Hollow Farm, is active in many areas of the Hereford industry and the beef and cattle business, particularly in the East. Some 10 years ago he resigned from the management staff of General Time Corporation to devote full attention to his farm.

Eastern Idaho's Damage By Frost Hits $2 Million

IDAH0 FALLS (AP) — Frost damage to East Idaho's potato crop is estimated at more than $2 million by Bonneville County Agent John Paulsen.

Paulsen said just under half the potatoes were still in the ground in 10 East Idaho counties when the first frost hit week before last. He said frost damaged at least 10 per cent of them.

Farmers hope to complete the potato harvest by the end of the week although operations on large farms probably will continue into next week.

Dean Reports Increase for Crop Values

MOSCOW — "Reports show that Idaho's on-farm crop cash value has increased materially since 1962," James E. Kraus, dean and director of the University of Idaho College of Agriculture, stated in a report to the Idaho Agricultural Consulting Council.

"The total increase from 1962 to 1965 was 20 per cent. For the first time the figure exceeded one-half billion dollars in 1965. And these statistics don't include the sizeable figures for processing after they leave the farm," he told the council.

"Agriculture is changing, however, and will continue to change," he said. "And industry not only keep pace with these changes but be ahead of them if we are to continue to be of a service to the people of Idaho through our research, teaching and extension programs."

Kraus pointed out that it's getting more and more difficult to find well-trained and qualified teachers and agricultural researchers. This situation is creating problems in staffing the university's College of Agriculture, he said, partly because of the shortage but more because "we are not competitive in salaries with industry, government and other institutions."

He pointed out that Congress realized the need for increased emphasis in agricultural research and extension and acted by increasing funds for Land Grant Institutions.

Dean Kraus also reported to the council on new facilities added to the university's agricultural research program during the past year.

An insectary building has been added at the Parma branch experiment station to study economically significant insects and how to control them.

A new addition to the Caldwell veterinary research laboratory has just been completed.

A new potato storage unit has been completed at the Parma station, with plans under consideration for future additions. An abattoir and meat laboratory is now under construction at Moscow.

And plans are under way to construct eight new research branch experiment stations.

"These new facilities will add greatly to our research and teaching programs in the College of Agriculture," Kraus pointed out.

He also reported on plans to implement new research in potato quality by employing an agricultural foods bio-chemist to be headquartered at the new potato research center at Aberdeen.

Plans also call for a new soils scientist to be added to the Parma station research staff to fill an urgent need for more information on soil nutrition problems in the Boise valley area.

"The increased funds from Congress will also strengthen the Extension Service programs and help meet requests of counties for additional agents."

Corn Prospects For Idaho Gain

Boise — Yield prospects improved during September and Idaho's corn for grain crop is now forecast at 1,766,000 bushels, 13 per cent more than last year and seven per cent above average according to the Department of Agriculture Reporting Service.

The new record high yield of 84.0 bushels per acre resulted from above normal temperatures, sufficient irrigation, water and no frost by the end of September despite a late start this spring.

Nationally, corn for grain prospects increased slightly during September to 4,007 million bushels, two per cent less than last year's record crop, but nine per cent above the five-year average.

IRRIGATION SEASON on the Twin Falls Tract is nearing an end and the evidence shows in this picture taken of the High-Line Canal south of the city this week. The water line shows that the canal has dropped about two feet as irrigated demands slow up. Twin Falls Canal Co. officials said that cutoff date would be set in November. (Times-News photo)

FHA Okays Rural Water, Sewer Grants

BOISE — Nearly 600,000 rural America residents, including some 140,000 in Idaho, will benefit from the record number of community water or sewer systems to be constructed or improved through loans and grants advanced by the Farmers Home Administration, Anders J. Passy, acting state director reports.

There were four projects in Idaho approved by the FHA during fiscal 1966 for insured or direct loans totaling $149,500.

"This rural water and sewage disposal systems' financing program is rapidly becoming a major force in bringing rural living conditions and economic opportunities up to national standards," Passy pointed out.

Presently, the Idaho FHA is actively processing 34 domestic and foreign loan applications. "Scarcely a clean fresh water and lack of proper sewage disposal facilities is an age-old problem not yet solved in scores of Idaho rural communities. This program is steadily helping close the gap between rural and urban services."

Texas again led in total activity when the FHA in that state assisted with the construction or improvement of 173 water or sewage disposal systems during fiscal 1965 with loans and grants totaling $22.7 million.

Other leading states and their loan and grant totals (number of projects in parentheses) included Missouri, $11.9 million (56); Mississippi, $10.6 million (50); Oklahoma, $6.0 million (41); North Carolina, $6.3 million (29); Indiana, $5.7 million (14); Tennessee, $5.0 million (20); Pennsylvania, $3.6 million (17); and Kansas, $3.1 million. Passy pointed out that the rural water and sewage disposal systems are organized through local initiative by town governments, other public bodies or private associations formed by prospective users in communities of less than 5,000 population. The loans are repaid from the systems' earnings during periods of up to 40 years and carry a maximum interest rate of 5 per cent.

September's Survey by USDA Shows Idaho's Farm Labor Force Decline

BOISE — Idaho's farm-labor force totaled 77,000 during the survey week of Sept. 18-24, 1965, according to the United States Department of Agriculture Crop Reporting Service.

This figure was 5,000 fewer than was employed both a month earlier and during the comparable week in 1965.

The family work force, at the 52,000 level, was up 1,000 workers from last month, but was 3,000 less than a year ago.

Hired workers totaled 25,000, 6,000 less than a month ago and 10,000 less than a year ago.

Idaho 4-H's Dominate in Judging Event

MOSCOW — Idaho's 4-H's dominated the 4-H judging contest at the annual Pacific Northwest Livestock Exposition in Portland. Four state teams placed in the top 8 of 32 competing teams, according to Morris Hemstrom, University of Idaho extension livestock specialist who served as contest superintendent.

University of Idaho student judging teams also placed well in intercollegiate competition. The meats judging team placed third overall and was high team in beef judging. The livestock team won fourth overall, first in the beef cattle division.

Top team in the 4-H contest came from Idaho county, Hemstrom said. Runners up were Payette county team, Gem county placed fourth and Minidoka eighth. The 4-H teams from Oregon, Washington and South Dakota in addition to Idaho, judged six market classes of beef, sheep and swine.

Top individual on the university's livestock judging team was Dennis Stady, senior from Moristville, Alberta, Canada, who tied for first in swine judging and placed fourth overall among the 45 contestants. Other team members were John Blomham, Downey; Mike Fleming, Bliss; Steve Dobson, Horseshoe Bend; and Wayne Hill, Nazapero, and Glen Stille, Gifford.

This team will also compete at San Francisco's Cow Palace in November.

Meats judging team member Loren Nelson, Payette, also placed fourth high overall. Donald Martin, Caldwell, was high individual in beef judging, and William Bolton, Salmon, tied for second in the pork carcass judging division.

The level of farm-labor force reported by farm operators on Oct. 1, 1965, was nine per cent higher than a year earlier, and 40 per cent above the 1947-55 average.

The average cash rate per hour, without board or room, increased eight per cent over Oct. 1, 1965, to $1.18 per hour monthly, weekly, and daily rates also showed similar gains. In index terms, the national average reached -812 (1910-14=100) up from the 1965 average of 746.

Wage rates reported for farm workers in Alaska were per month with board and room $300; per day without board and room $16, and per hour without board or room, $2.10.

Farm workers on reporting farms averaged 30.7 hours of farm work during the September survey week. This nearly matched the average of 33.6 hours a month earlier. Farm operators averaged 45.7 hours and other family members averaged 32.2 hours of farm work.

Hired farm workers did 33.9 hours of work compared with 32.9 hours during the comparable week in August, 1965.

The nation's farm labor force totaled 6,240,000 for the week of Sept. 18-24. This represented a slight increase from a month earlier, but was six per cent below the corresponding period in September, 1965.

The family work force, which consisted of 4,395,000 workers, was three per cent above the comparable period in August, 1965, but six per cent below a year earlier. The number of hired farm workers, at 1,845,000 persons, was down seven per cent from 1965 and off five per cent from a month earlier. The decline from August, 1965, was greater than usual as harvest of some major crops in the South and Southeast was delayed by showers and cool temperatures. Another factor was the continued increase in the use of mechanical harvesters, especially for cotton.

Farm workers on reporting farms averaged 30.7 hours of farm work during the September survey week. This nearly matched the average of 33.6 hours a month earlier. Farm operators averaged 45.7 hours and other family members averaged 32.2 hours of farm work.

Hired farm workers did 33.9 hours of work compared with 32.9 hours during the comparable week in August, 1965.

The level of farm-labor force reported by farm operators on Oct. 1, 1965, was nine per cent higher than a year earlier, and 40 per cent above the 1947-55 average.

The average cash rate per hour, without board or room, increased eight per cent over Oct. 1, 1965, to $1.18 per hour monthly, weekly, and daily rates also showed similar gains. In index terms, the national average reached -812 (1910-14=100) up from the 1965 average of 746.

Farm Work in State Slowed By Freezes

BOISE — In a state summary of crop and weather conditions for last week the USDA Statistical Reporting Service states that freezing temperatures slowed potato digging operations by limiting the time growers could spend in the field.

Severe frosts a week earlier affected from 10 to 25 per cent of the unharvested crop in the eastern part of the state.

Sugar beet digging operations gained momentum, but are not expected to peak until after most of the potatoes are harvested.

The bulk of the 1967 winter grains was reported up to most by good stands. However, soil moisture supplies continued low in most dry farm and range areas.

Movement of livestock to market has been heavy so far this season due to high costs of feed and pasture.

In southeastern Idaho cooler weather accompanied by frosts delayed harvesting operations until later in the morning during most of the period. Some field frost was reported in scattered localities.

Workers in Alaska were per month with board and room $300; per day without board and room $16, and per hour without board or room, $2.10.

Potato digging operations varied. About three-fourths of the field from one-half completed in winter grain-coverage was up to nearly finished. Harvesting sugar beets neared. Livestock continued to move to the one-fourth completion level to harvested fields and fall pastures by the end of the week.

JORDAN INITIATES THE GREATEST WATER DEVELOPMENT PROPOSALS IN ALL IDAHO'S HISTORY

Here are the projects which Senator Len Jordan is responsible for either introducing or steering through the Congress:

- 1. COLUMBIA BASIN ACCOUNT... Started while he was Governor, Len Jordan has been working hard for this legislation so that Idaho could share in the revenues from federal hydro-electric power projects downstream. This legislation was finally approved this year!
- 2. WILD RIVERS Protective amendment. If Senator Len Jordan had not gotten his amendment to this legislation adopted, Idaho would not be in a position to receive reimbursement through the Columbia Basin account. Now Idaho will receive her fair share of revenue coming from the power projects downstream. A VERY IMPORTANT AMENDMENT FOR IDAHO.
- 3. The SOUTHWEST IDAHO DEVELOPMENT Project—This is vitally important to our State. Jordan saw to it that the Bruneau Division was added which extends the project to thousands of acres south of the Snake.
- 4. The SOUTHEASTERN IDAHO WATER PROJECT. Introduced by Congressman George Henton and Senator Len Jordan this was enthusiastically supported by all the Idaho delegation.
- 5. The LYNN CRANDALL Project. This is what Senator JORDAN substituted for the ill-fated Burns Creek and is now a part of the Southeast Water Project. It is four times larger than Burns Creek.
- 6. RIRIE DAM—This project in Bonneville County was blocked by controversy until Senator Jordan called for a bi-partisan meeting and got the problems resolved. Funds were authorized this year!
- 7. The LOWER TETON RECLAMATION Project which includes Fremont Dam. Funds were authorized this year after a bi-partisan Appeal by Senator Frank Church and Senator Len Jordan.

Farm Worker Members in Idaho Down

BOISE — Farm employment in Idaho for September was down 34 per cent from August and 17 per cent under September, 1965, according to H. Fred Garrett, executive director of the Idaho Department of Employment.

The complete employment picture increased 600 workers over the August figure, but this was not represented by farm employment.

Construction and logging production from the excellent fall weather, but the lack of a killing frost slowed the potato harvest. In some areas of the state, mechanical and chemical means to kill the potato vines were being utilized.

In spite of lower-than-expected employment, the figure for Idaho's total employment is one of the highest of record, equal to that of last October and surpassed only by the August figure.

Construction employment remained steady this month and was up by 100 over last year. Work on heavy construction projects and increased hiring for the Dworshak Dam have offset the cutback in residential construction which has resulted from a scarcity of funds to finance home building.

Logging and sawmill work continued at peak levels in September. The decrease of 100 workers from August is primarily the result of college students returning to school after summer employment in the lumber industry. As was true in August, many lumber and logging companies report a shortage of qualified and experienced help. Some North Idaho sawmills are employing three shifts per day.

Employment in food processing workers is due in part to this year's later harvest. The killing frost of Sept. 6, 1965, greatly accelerated the fall harvest and processing activities.

The hiring of workers for seed and produce warehouses was primarily responsible for the increase of 200 wholesale workers over August.

The layoff of temporary help and standby tire crews reduced federal government employment 1,000 from last month.

Although retail trade employment was up 1,200 from last year, it dropped 200 from August. The layoff of temporary help for back-to-school sales during the latter part of August helped to reduce employment.

The deferral of winter clothing purchases to store openings in some areas of the state, especially in North Idaho, also had a detrimental effect on this industry's employment. Retail trade is expected to increase at the onset of winter weather.

Opening of the fall school term at the state universities and colleges caused an increase of 1,300 workers over last month's figure in state and local government.

There were 2,700 fewer unemployed workers this month than last, but 200 more for September, 1965. This is the result of the slower recall to work of potato processing workers matching this year's slower potato harvest. This is expected to be true in the eastern part of the state.

The revelation of 1965 railroad employment estimates and the apparent year-to-year decrease in 1966 resulted from a new railroad benchmark and does not reflect current railroad hiring trends.

BLM Advisory Board Vote Set Tuesday

BOISE — Four advisory board members will be elected Tuesday in the Garden Court Room of the Overlook Hotel. The district manager, Bureau of Land Management.

Terms are expiring for Fred Brailford, Buhl, sheep representative, and C. J. Russell, Glenn Ferry, cattle, as well as Dan Archibald, Boise, and Frank Baltzer, Jordan Valley, Ore.

Election proceedings will start at 1 p.m. and polls will be open from 2 to 6 p.m. Those who wish to be nominated for representatives of the designated precincts must be made by an elector himself qualified to represent such precinct.

Voting is on a district-wide basis and each qualified licensee will be permitted to cast a ballot for the candidate from each precinct who represents the class of livestock in which the voter predominates.

Medical Program Grant Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal grant of $400,000 to aid in financing a regional medical program in the Rocky Mountain states was announced Thursday by Sen. Frank Church and the office of Rep. Gumpston J. White, Idaho Democrat.

They said the Public Health Service grant will go to the Western Interstate Commission for Higher Education. It is intended to aid in improving the level of diagnosis and treatment of heart disease, cancer, and related diseases in Idaho, Montana, Wyoming and Nevada.

RICHARD (DICK) SIMPLOT looks over a book of memories made by his daughter, Mrs. Merle (Peggy) Cayville, Burley. The book spans the period of Simplot's life, from Indians to aerospace, and contains many pictures of early pioneer days in Burley.

Simplot Name Figures Prominently in Progress of State's Potato Industry

DRCL — With another year's farm near Dubuque, and still trying to get to Washington state where they farmed. A short and simple life.

During a recent visit of Richard (Dick) Simplot to the Burley area, the origin of the famous slogan, "Idaho Potatoes, the World's Finest" was made public for the first time.

In about 1932 Simplot and his son, Jack, were partners in the business of drying potatoes. This was the year the elder Simplots made a trip to Florida and met several people from Maine who had a good idea of the fine potatoes their state produced.

Dick recalled with a smile, "I decided I had better let the world know who had the best potatoes, so I just had that slogan written on my trailer house."

The slogan stuck and he and his now-famous son, J. R. (Jack) Simplot, adopted it as their personal slogan and as a trade mark.

In 1947 the elder Simplot sold his interest in his son, but the slogan still appears on the company brand name.

In speaking of the old days, Dick Simplot told about the time in 1939 when he and Jack went to Alaska to the Yukon, to dry potatoes. During a severe grain shortage the Simplots sold the dried potato chunks to the Schenley Distilling Co. to make whiskey.

The potatoes were taken from the spud washers and spread on the airgrills then a road roller was rolled over them. A huge road sweeper was used to sweep up the dried chunks and they were then loaded into trucks and sent onto railroad cars.

Simplot was born June 3, 1893, in Dubuque, Iowa. His mother died when he was eight years old and he then made his home with a woman named Hoskins until he was 17. A frail child, he worked and attended school when he was able until the sixth grade.

Most of his time the "elder Simplot" lives in Mesa, Ariz., but he visits his children in the Burley and Jordan Valley areas several times a year.

He married Dorothy Hixley, Jan. 4, 1903, and they lived for several years on the family land later they heard of the Goose Creek land and moved to Burley where they lived first in a shed and later in a one room cabin with a dirt floor in the Springdale area.

These first years on the farm were hard ones as they cleared the sagebrush from the land and hauled the water for their stock and to water the crops.

"But, in a way, that was the best year of my life," Simplot stated. "I hunted and fished and cleared the land for the coming of the irrigation water. We truly earned our farms twice over in those days."

The farmers joined to form the "Farmer's Equity" to have some place to store their grain. Simplot served as director for many years.

In 1917 Simplot went into the sheep business on a big scale. He had a large flock of sheep and many problems that stemmed from the old feud between the cattlemen and sheepmen. During this period three more children, Robert, Dorothy and Ethel were born.

After he sold his sheep the elder Simplot and his son, Jack, became partners in a potato dehydrating business in Caldwell which was dissolved when the elder Simplot's health failed.

"Simplot died while they lived in Caldwell."

Over the years, Dick Simplot has developed a philosophy. He says that "you make life by effort and sacrifice. The supreme power, God, is nature and we are a part of nature. We don't see anyone can deny it. Honesty is my policy and I've had a good life. Life has truly been wonderful as we have been successful in our goals and the many joys of living."

"Control" Expected to Become Magic Word in Next 10 Years of Farming

PHILADELPHIA — Not too many years ago, farmers asked only one thing of their buildings — shelter for their grain, hay and machinery from the rain, and their animals and themselves from the cold.

Today they expect much more, according to the Farm Journal's new issue of "What's Ahead in Farming." There are two main drives pushing the farmer toward more specialized, elaborate buildings, the labor problem and the need for better control of the product — be it livestock or grain. "Control" will be the magic word.

Building and electricity are replacing the hired man just as surely as the tractor replaced the mule. No longer can the farmer afford the luxury of having a hired man hand-scoop the grain into the bin or feed cattle by hand, even if he can find one.

Ten years ahead, Automated push-button feeding and grain handling will be the rule rather than the exception. Buildings indeed the entire farmstead, will be designed around the dominant enterprise, with buildings and electricity substituting for labor.

Electricity will play a very large role on the farm of the future in the form of electric motors for conveyor and handling systems. The systems will be nearly completely automatic, too, with increased use of pressure switches, timers and central control panels that nearly think for themselves.

The buildings will be designed around the handling of electricity. Witness today's long, narrow poultry houses equipped with egg collection belts and mechanical feeders. Or look at some of the farm feedlots built around silage and grain systems.

This trend will continue, but the near future will be complicated with the second drive to provide controlled environment are milked without ever going outside, the buildings run $400 to $500 per cow. But innovators trying it are convinced that it pays in increased production.

Growing tight along with the boom in confinement housing will be the problem of manure and its disposal.

While confinement housing with slatted floors or gutters eases the problem of collecting manure, it does little for the problem of how to dispose of it.

No perfect solution is in sight. There will be a variety of handling methods in 1976 including the now-popular liquid system. Other possibilities are oxidation ditches popular in Europe; aerobic decomposition systems; and chemical treatment combined with filtration and lagoon decomposition.

Manure handling is one of the big problems farms will have with confinement and may provide the biggest hindrance to the rapid growth of this type building.

Average farm spending on buildings should rise steadily during the next 10 years as farmers build or remodel to meet their changing needs. The money will be spent with those segments of the industry that do the best job of supplying well-engineered structures at moderate cost.

Buildings won't come cheap, but evidence now accumulating indicates the cost will be more than rapid. Cattle feeders utilizing inside feeding find that silage in faster, cheaper, gains.

In confinement dairy barns engineered structures at moderate cost where the cows live, eat and care.
