Mao Notes Gains In Struggle

By JOHN ROBERICK
TOKYO (AP)—Mao Tse-tung and his faction appear to have gained the upper hand in Communist China's power struggle and there are signs the threat of violence in Peking and other major cities is dissipating, the Peking correspondent of the Tokyo newspaper Yomiuri reported today.

The Japanese correspondent said the chaotic situation on the mainland appears to have calmed in the past few days and the tense situation prevailing over Peking, Shanghai, Nanjing and other major cities appears to be subsiding following Mao's personal leadership of the purge.

Wall newspapers in Peking have reported Mao has returned to the capital, quoting Premier Chou En-lai and other high Communist party officials. "There is no doubt Mao's appearance played a decisive role to turn the tide of the crisis," the Yomiuri report said. "It added that the 75-year-old party chairman has made no other public appearances."

He reported that 30,000 anti-Mao workers left their jobs in Shanghai and set out for Peking but were intercepted and persuaded to return.

"Hundreds of thousands of workers have poured into Peking, creating tension last week," the dispatch continued, "but disappeared from the streets after Mao's support to the purge was announced. Mao's revolutionary pro-Mao rebels were reported in the People's Daily Thursday.

Each Mao's faction had hinted at divisions in its ranks with a call on all pro-Mao organizations to rally around the Red Chinese army.

Menghini Is Manager Of T. E. Office

Rudolph Menghini, a 32-year-old Twin Falls resident, has been named manager of the T. E. Office, a new program, assumed duties Monday as district manager of the Twin Falls Social Security office.

The local office has been without a manager since the death last fall of Wesley V. Ivins, Twin Falls representative here, who has been acting as manager since Mr. Ivins' death.

Mr. Menghini had no major operational changes planned because everything appears to be running smoothly.

He was formerly assistant district manager in Great Falls, Mont. He started in 1954 at the Twin Falls office as a claims representative, was promoted to field representative in 1957, and to his former position in 1960.

Mr. Menghini has been associated in government services since 1950. He was with the Farmers Home Administration in the Great Falls and Miles City, Mont.

Mr. Menghini was born and raised in Montana. He received a B.S. degree from Montana State University and was a member of the Phi Kappa Phi honor society of mathematics and science for 10 years.

Although he and his family live in Twin Falls, he has a home in Montana, he said they had no reservations about moving to Twin Falls because "everything is just about the same here as it is in Montana."

Joining his three sons, a son and daughter, both in junior high school, and a four-year old boy. They also have two married children, a daughter, 24, and a son, 22.

AFTER FIVE INCHES of new snow on top of the 10 inches already on the ground, these cars in a St. Paul motel parking lot are nearly buried. Winds from 50 to 60 miles per hour whipped the snow against the cars and plows, clearing the lot, added to their load. Temperatures dropped to -21.

Paralyzing Storm Sweeps Midwest, Moves Into Canada

A paralyzing blizzard that swept across northern sections of the Midwest moved to Canada today as the coldest weather of the year spread eastward and southward toward the Great Plains. With huge drifts of snow blocking streets and highways, the blizzard closed schools and curtailed motor and air travel. The mercury plunged to lower than 30 degrees below zero across the north-central border regions.

The Weather Bureau issued cold wave warnings for a vast area from the Canadian border southward to Kentucky, western Tennessee, Oklahoma and northwestern Texas and eastward across the Midwest to western New York. Minneapolis and St. Paul had a wind-chill reading today of 22 degrees below zero. The weather bureau's wind-chill index takes into consideration both temperature and wind velocity. The area had a temperature reading of -20 and a wind velocity of 17 miles an hour from the northwest.

The blizzard, packing wind gusts up to 70 miles an hour, swept from the northern Plains into Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan. Blizzard warnings were posted for northeastern Iowa.

"Winds of 40 to 60 m.p.h. whipped the snow through the air, halting snow-clearing operations on highways in Minnesota. Some cities reported visibility Monday dropped at times to zero.

At least three storm-related deaths were reported. Two men died in Minnesota while shoveling snow from their cars. A Dakota was crushed to death when a trailer blew over in a trailer court.

The storm roared into Michigan's Upper Peninsula Monday night, winds of 50 m.p.h. whipped the snow, halting travel on many highways. Four inches of snow fell in a two-hour period during the night at Marquette, making a total of four feet on the ground near Lake Superior.

There were at least five school buses stranded in western and southern Minnesota. Sixteen school buses together marched abreast on a road for 3 1/2 miles to lead a bulldozer-plow to a bus with 30 school children, near Chokio, Minn.

Four passenger buses and a Greyhound bus bound from Minneapolis to Chicago, overturned near Tomahawk, Wis., at a meeting of the highway. Fourteen of the 100 passengers were called off Minnesota highways Monday afternoon and were not to resume travel until Tuesday.

Snow moved in with the cold weather along the eastern slopes of the Rockies and in the adjacent high plains. Three inches of snow-fall at Colorado Springs.

Former Bank Aide Placed On Probation

RUPERT — Robert Raymond Reed, 52, former manager of the Rupert branch of the Idaho First National Bank, was placed on two-year probation Monday by U.S. District Judge Ray B. Nichols in Boise for embezzlement of bank funds.

Mr. Reed had appeared before U.S. Commissioner Harry R. Turner in Twin Falls Monday where he was released on his own recognizance.

He had been bank manager for 14 years. He was charged with embezzling $3,377. Judge McNichols also placed two other men on probation for embezzlement of bank funds.

Raymond Reed was placed on two-year probation for taking $891 in bank funds and Glenn Allen Scott was given a three-year probation for the embezzlement of $18,700. Reed and Scott were employed by the Bank of Idaho in Holbe.

Resolution For Increasing Highway Districts Approved

A sparse audience, comprised largely of a handful of city officials, witnessed the Twin Falls City Commission's Monday night approval of a resolution calling for an increase in the size of the Idaho Board of Highway directors from three to five and a corresponding increase in the number of director-districts in the state.

The resolution will be forwarded to the state legislature in the hope that a "more fair and equal representation of the people" will be possible, according to William Langley, city attorney, who prepared the resolution.

Bill Providing Tax Relief On Prescription Drugs Viewed

By MARK BROWN
BOISE (AP)—The Republican chairman of the Idaho Legislature's House Revenue and Taxation Committee said today his committee is considering a bill to provide sales tax relief on prescription drugs "and other areas." Rep. Joe Preston, D-Idaho, responding to a challenge Monday from Rep. Edward Williams, D-Lewiston, assistant minority leader, to any Republican member of the house.

"I can assure you," Preston said, "that members of the revenue and taxation committee are studying these and other areas of tax relief."

Williams said his bill was "not hastily drawn." He said the bill was introduced in the legislative Council's drafting staff "to the agency which is drawing most bills for the legislature."

Two bills were introduced this morning in the House. One would provide that public building include facilities to make easier access to the building for physically handicapped persons.

The other one introduced earlier, making changes in the state's firemen's retirement act.

T. F. Donors Miss Quota By 11 Pints

Twin Falls missed its quota of 150 pints by 11 pints at the blood drawing held Monday. The total donation was 139, with eight checks and 89 red pints.

James Giklu, Charles Mattice and Hubert Hendrix received four-gallon pints; William A. Bergardine received two pints; Mrs. Geneva Kewner and Mr. Harold Reno both received two-gallon pints, and Jerome Cover, Darrell H. Baltzer and Sharon Walto received one-gallon pints.

Organizations donating blood included LDS Church, 11 pints; St. Edward's Catholic Church and Lutheran Church, 10 pints each; Elks Lodge, eight pints; Methodist Church, eight pints; College of Southern Idaho, eight pints; Lions Club, six pints; 13 geographical clubs, four pints each; Twin Falls Bank and Trust, Idaho Power Co., Quality Trust, and Presbyterian Church, each three pints.

Churches donating blood included St. Edward's Catholic Church, Baptist Church, Nazarene Church, Rotary Club, Episcopal Church and Western Music Co., 10 pints each; Altuna Club, 10 pints; United Methodist Church, 10 pints; Brethren, Snake River Boy Scouts Council, Christian Science Church, Masonic Lodge No. 2202, and the Twin Falls Merchandise Mart and other display space.

Edward J. Lee, McCormick Place general manager, said the building was worth $4 million — $32 million to construct in November 1960 plus $3 million since then in improvements.

The $10 million figure was derived from exhibitors at the National Houseware Manufacturers Association show, which would have opened Monday, if the fire were not the cause of the delay.

Deadline

Approximately 3,000 Twin Falls County residents have until Wednesday midnight to put their license plates on their vehicles. Long lines of motorists were reported Tuesday in the courthouse.

Clifford Thompson, county assessor, noted that persons operating a vehicle after midnight on Jan. 17, 1967, may expect a citation from state, county or city officers.

According to figures of licensed vehicles from the annual meeting of the North Side Canal Co. Monday in the firm's office.

Outlook On Water Is Not Yet Certain

JEROME — Neither an ample water supply nor a short water supply was predicted at the annual meeting of the North Side Canal Co. Monday in the firm's office.

Douglas Finkelburg, manager of the firm, in giving the long-range view of the water situation for the coming year said, "We have not yet reached the point where we can say there will be an ample supply, nor can we say that it will be a short water year."

However, he noted that the outlook for water during the 1967 irrigation season is more promising than it was 60 days ago.

Two directors were re-elected and Leo Hibbs, Bliss, replaced Ralph Fletcher, Gooding, as director from district 5. Fletcher did not seek the post.

Incumbents returned to office are Lester Saunders, Hazelton, district 1, and Ray Ward, Wendell, district 2.

Mrs. Thekla Thompson, secretary-treasurer, gave her annual report and John Rosahl presented the legal report for the firm.

Motions For Dismissal In Trial Denied

WASHINGTON (AP)—Federal Judge Oliver Casch today denied motions to dismiss charges against Deputy Sheriff because of "bugging" intentions.

Butler, former secretary to the Democratic majority of the Senate, is on trial on multiple charges, including income tax evasion and converting to his own use $40,000 intended as a security fund for the Senate.

Defense attorney Edward Bennett Williams, in moving for the suppression of certain evidence and dismissal of charges, alleged that the Justice Department violated Butler's constitutional rights by electronic eavesdropping.

For one thing, he noted that the government's attorney Wayne L. Bromely with an electronic translator and sent him to a conference in 1963 with the late Hovey's Washington Hotel in Los Angeles.

President Sukarno Asked To Step Down

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Indonesian Foreign Minister Adam Malik disclosed today he has asked President Sukarno to step down "in the interest of the nation." Malik told newsmen after meeting Sukarno at his palace he advised the president to make this move before he was brought down in dishonor.

Testimony at various treason trials has tended to connect Sukarno with the attempted Communist coup Oct. 1, 1965. But in a statement last week to Congress, Sukarno denied he had anything to do with it.

After the coup, the army cracked down on the Indonesian Communists and gradually took away Sukarno's powers. Since last March when Gen. Suharto took over as the actual head of Indonesia, Sukarno has been little more than a figurehead.

Malik gave no indication what Sukarno's reaction was to his request.

He asked Sukarno to disassociate himself from everything connected with the presidency, he said.

Elaborating on a meeting with Sukarno during a ceremony at the Foreign Office, Malik said if necessary Sukarno should appoint someone else until general elections scheduled for 1968 are held.

Speaking to Sukarno "as a comrade in arms for tens of years in the past" he told the president they needed his help to maintain peace in Indonesia.

Malik warned that if Sukarno faced the present situation without "a clear head and greatness of spirit" he would face serious issues.

Deep Water Designation To Be Eyed

BOISE (AP)—Possible changes in the critical ground water designation of Twin Falls and Cassia counties will be discussed Jan. 25 in a public meeting at Murrigh High School in Twin Falls County.

State Reclamation Engineer R. Keith Higginson said he would conduct the meeting, at which a U. S. Geological Survey study of the area's ground water potential will be presented.

Twin Falls and Cassia counties were designated "critical ground water areas" in 1963 when the 45 large wells had brought the ground water level to a dangerously low level.

The state reclamation engineer may deny any new applications to appropriate ground water in a critical area.

Plane Crashes

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP)—The Texas Department of Public Safety said today that a military jet trainer, first thought to have been a commercial airplane, crashed and burned today near this west Texas city. Two men were believed to have been killed.

Shoek

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—"Happy birthday, dear Jen... happy birthday to you..." Benjamin Franklin might have suffered an electric shock if he knew his admirers would be singing that song for him on his 261st birthday.

But that's the plan for today, when a cake with 261 candles is lit in the Franklin Institute, a celebration in his honor named after the noted statesman and inventor.

Pioneer Savings, Loan Firm Closed

BOISE (AP)—The Pioneer Savings and Loan Association of Boise was closed Monday by the State Department of Finance—the second uninsured association to close in Idaho within a year.

The firm was closed at the end of the banking day Monday and had total share accounts of about $75,000 and assets of about $200,000 according to Tom D. McElldowney, acting commissioner of finance.

Idaho Savings and Loan Association with 20,000 depositors and accounts totaling $20 million closed last July and still is in the process of liquidation. Representatives of shareholders are preparing a reopening plan.

McElldowney said the suspension was the result of "certain factors, some of which were unauthorized transference of funds out of the State of Idaho, irregularities in the management of Pioneer Savings and Loan and lack of proof of corporate ownership."

Examination of the firm showed, he said, the association may have violated 1965 Department of Finance rules, and certain "management practices must be corrected."

Pioneer Savings and Loan will reopen, McElldowney said, "as soon as the factors necessitating the suspension are remedied." He said the institution's financial condition should "provide adequate safety for savers" when it is reopened.

Eldon Evans Will Head CSI Trustees

Eldon Evans, Twin Falls, was unanimously elected chairman of the College of Southern Idaho board of trustees during the group's reorganizational meeting Monday night at the college office. Mr. Evans, a certified public accountant with Riddle, Roth and Evans, has been a member of the board since it was appointed two years ago by the State Board of Education, and was recently elected to a four-year term on the board.

Rev. John Jack Garbrandt, Jerome, elected to a two-year term during December's district trustee election, is the new vice chairman. Rev. Garbrandt's position on the board marks the first official vote since Jerome County has had in college trustees.

John Coleman, Twin Falls attorney, was reelected to the position of secretary-treasurer of the board. He has been acting in that capacity for two years. He was elected to a two-year term during the two-county election.

Other board members are Robert Blackstock, Jr., Piler; past chairman, and James H. Shields, Butte, past vice chairman. Shields will serve a two-year term and Mr. Blackstock, a four-year term.

John Anderson, representing the Twin Falls County Insurance Association, presented a report on the college's insurance coverage and recommended several changes and new coverages which should be made because of the increasing volume of operation.

Trustees discussed proposed legislation regarding particularly relating to junior colleges in the state. They determined a meeting should be held in the State Capitol building in Boise to advise them of legislation the board feels would be beneficial to CSI.

Ray Lincoln, representative from Legislative District 13, is a member of the House Education Committee.

Pay Raise Is Demanded For Truckers

WASHINGTON (AP)—James R. Hoffa's Teamsters Union demanded today pay hikes of 75 cents an hour over three years for some 450,000 workers in the nation's trucking industry.

The wage hikes asked by the Teamsters in opening negotiations with representatives of 12,000 trucking firms amount to about 7 percent a year on top of the current base rate of $3.32 per hour.

Hoffa, who could be in prison because of contract negotiations are over, also presented demands for an additional 1/2 cent per mile for truck drivers who get mileage rates. The current mileage rate is a little more than 11 cents per mile. Many cross-country truck drivers who get no mileage rate earn $3 or 7 hours per hour.

Fund-Raising Started By Republicans

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional Republicans are off and running in fund-raising for the 1968 campaign but Democrats are waiting to see what trends Congress takes before starting their drive.

Sen. George Murphy of California, newly elected chairman of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee, said he is beginning to deploy GOP "fresh faces" across the country for what he hopes will be an uninterrupted appeal for votes up to election day next year.

But Sen. Warren G. Magnuson of Washington, chairman of Democratic senatorial campaigns, took the position in a separate interview that it's too early to get excited about an election so far away.

Under the party custom, Magnuson must be replaced as chairman because his own seat is at stake in 1968. But he said Democrats decided to postpone any decision on a successor "until things shake down."

Reports to the clerk of the House show that Magnuson's committee spent little more than half what its counterpart GOP group spent in the 1966 campaign—Democrats $356,457, Republicans $539,640.

Murphy said congressional Republicans are staging a $500-a-night March dinner in Washington to honor the party's new members of the House and Senate. Magnuson said Democratic dinners are only in the preliminary planning stage.

Most of the GOP dinner money will be spent nationally. Murphy said the five GOP senators elected last November and the 11 whose seats will be at stake next year will be asked to fill speaking engagements at fund-raising dinners across the country.

13 Sentenced

MADRID, Spain (AP)—The national court of public order Monday sentenced 13 workers to prison terms ranging from six months to 2½ years for illegal association and propaganda. They were arrested in April while distributing handbills calling for Spanish workers to cripple production in various factories and join the outlawed Communist party.

Arkansas State Police Report Tells Of Prison Beatings And Extortion

By ROBERT L. SHAW
LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller has released a state police report in which inmates tell of torture, beatings and extortion at Tucker State Prison Farm, where one said "almost anything could be had" if the prisoner had the money.

Rockefeller called the 67-page report "shocking and urged the legislature to create a commission to study conditions in the prison system and recommend improvements."

He said he hoped the report would "shock the legislature and the people of this state into action."

The report released Monday was based on an inquiry made by the criminal investigation division of the state police last August, when prisoners were reported on the verge of a riot because of conditions. Former Gov. Oral E. Eubank ordered the investigation, but withheld the report.

The report was accompanied by pictures of torture devices and confiscated weapons and prisoners who had been beaten. Rockefeller, a Republican who assumed office Jan. 10, said he did not doubt its validity. State Rep. Bill Wells, however, said in the Arkansas House that he questioned the source of information—"Convicts planning a prison break" certainly cannot be considered the most reliable source."

O. E. Bishop, who became superintendent of the prison system Jan. 1, 1967, declined comment because he said he hadn't read the report. He said, however, that he believed conditions had improved since he became superintendent.

He said he wasn't aware of the allegations that prisoners were tortured.

Former Supt. Dan D. Stephens, who resigned a year ago after a controversy over the use of a leather strap to punish prisoners, declined comment.

Rockefeller said he didn't know how much of the alleged conditions still existed.

The report offered a look from the prisoners' viewpoint into one of two Arkansas prison farms that Rockefeller has said penologists have described as the worst in the nation. Convicts told of traffic in liquor and narcotics; sex and filthy living conditions.

The investigators quoted unnamed prisoners about being "strung up" on the "jucker telephone"—a device described as a crank-type telephone with two dry cell batteries and electrodes. The investigators said they were told inmates were strapped to a table and given charges of electricity for punishment or to extract information.

Investigators said they seized from the main prison building torture devices, whisky bottles, keys to open cell doors, playing cards and loaded dice, narcotics and recording equipment.

Thailand Fighting Red Insurgent Movement

By FRED HOFFMAN

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—After years of temporizing, Thailand is finally coming to grips with the growing threat of Communist terrorism in its northeast, U.S. officials believe.

A majority of American officials here agree that the guerrilla movement, known as Red China and North Vietnam, can be contained without a major commitment of U.S. forces and without a minor urgency degree of developing into a wide open struggle like that in Vietnam.

But Thai and U.S. officials alike add that chances for success here hinge in a large measure on a satisfactory conclusion to the war in Vietnam.

The main soft spot of Communist pressure lies in six provinces of the northeast, a huge bulge that embraces 15 of Thailand's 71 provinces.

The six most sensitive provinces are Sakol Nakorn, Nakorn Phanom, Udorn Thani, Nong Khai and Loey. The worst areas are in Sakol Nakorn and Nakorn Phanom, wide open to Communist infiltration across the Szechuan-Mekong Rivers, which forms Thailand's border with Laos for about 500 miles.

This is a wild and remote region populated by rice farmers, woodcutters, and hunters. The northeast in general has poor soil, is short of schools, and has a long history of lawlessness. It has been left out of the prosperity enjoyed by many of the 32 million Thais.

The peasants and villagers of the northeast have had slight contact with the Thai government, except for an occasional policeman or tax collector. Often the policeman was a predator rather than a protector.

The Communists have basically been exploiting a vacuum—a U.S. diplomat says.

The Bangkok government is trying to redress this, with the help of about $43 million a year in U.S. economic aid.

About 85 per cent of the U.S. economic and technical aid is pointed toward counterinsurgency. So is much of the $60 million in military aid which was increased this year at the urging of Ambassador Graham Martin.

Attempts by Peking to foment a Communist takeover of Thailand in military force were frustrated by a "Free Thai Movement" set up in China, using disgruntled Thai expatriates.

Things took a serious turn in November, 1967, when Gen. Thanani announced formation of a "Thailand Independence Movement."

A clandestine radio calling itself "The Voice of the Thai people" raised the intensity of its propaganda onslaught. The broadcasts originated outside Thailand probably in China.

In 1965, Red China told the world the "Thai Patriotic Front" was in business. The front later absorbed the year-old independence movement.

The first clash between Thai security patrols and an armed Communist band in Thailand was recorded in the fall of 1965.

This was followed by more than 100 skirmishes in the ensuing year. Most were quite small, but a couple of bigger firefights last winter jolted the Bangkok government some 550 miles away. There are no confident estimates of the Communist armed strength in the northeast.

A top U.S. military officer said his guess would be about 1,000 guerrillas or take 25 per cent. This officer has access to the most complete intelligence information available, but he conceded that the figure was "only a great guess."

The estimate of about 1,000 insurgents puts Communist strength in Thailand well below what it was in South Vietnam in December, 1960, when the National Liberation Front was founded.

According to statistics collected in Saigon, there were about 25,000 Viet Cong members in late 1960. This doubled within a year.

Proud, Indeed!

People hereabouts are proud of the accomplishments of Terri Thornock. In the span of 18 years this Twin-Falls High School senior has brought one honor after another to her community, her parents and herself. And now she tops it off by winning the Idaho Junior Miss contest.

She competed with other girls for the coveted title in Moscow and arrived home by West-Coast Airlines amid a mixture of cheers from scores of friends, who met the plane, rain from the overcast heavens and tears of joy.

Terri is a talented dancer, a better than average student and bubbles over with a personality which rubs off on everyone. Winning big titles is not new to her. It was back in 1954 that she took the national physical fitness award.

She will compete for the National Junior Miss title in Mobile, Ala., in March.

And the Times-News, without hesitation, climbs out on the limb to tell Terri's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lyvear Thornock, that she will probably bring back the national title.

She's just that kind of gal.

SPACESHIP EARTH

The space age has made us conscious of the fact that we are all astronauts, whether we want to or not.

The earth itself is a great space vehicle tracing a regular orbit about the sun, while the sun follows an even vaster course through the galaxy. Our ship has a limited amount of room, a limited amount of air, water, land and other essentials to life.

One of the most challenging problems that will be encountered in long voyages in man-made spacecrafts is how to convert waste products back into usable form. The identical problem is beginning to confront earthbound man as his ship gets more crowded.

The trouble is we have never called upon to think about it before. We are accustomed to letting things take their course. But nature is slow and has a limited capacity for absorbing man's waste products. The consequence is the increasing pollution and unsightliness of our environment.

The solution, says one scientist, is "total recycling."

This is already being done to a limited extent, notes Dr. Athelstan Spilhaus, director of the University of Minnesota Institute of Technology. Iron ore dust is being recycled back into steel mills; some clothes are converting garbage into fertilizer.

But we have yet to apply the principle to things like stoves, refrigerators, washing machines, automobiles—the stuff we "consume" and then, shortly after paying off the bank loan, discard as junk.

"Junk is a word that epitomizes the immorality and ignorance of not recycling," Spilhaus told a symposium on "Preserving the Environment" held at the annual meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science in Washington, D. C.

"The automobile is the most conspicuous example. It should be designed at the start with its eventual reclamation in mind."

The idea is not conservation. There is no present danger of our running out of raw materials or of the ability to devise substitutes for them.

The idea is to save "the one natural resource that we cannot re-invent once we destroy it, and that is our natural environment."

The immediate danger may be more psychological than it is physical. "Filthy environments," says Spilhaus, "may make us nuts before they make us physically sick."

No spaceship crew of the future would last long if it tolerated a dirty ship. The same thing, we are beginning to realize, applies to the human race and especially our earth.

OPTING TO ORBIT
Either medical scientists are an adventurous lot or they are simply out of their minds. At any rate, of the more than 400 scientists and engineers who applied for astronaut training in the latest recruitment drive, about one in four was a medical scientist, reports the National Academy of Sciences.

Other fields represented were engineers, one in every five applicants; and physicists, one in six. Life scientists (biologists and such) accounted for one in every 9 of the would-be astronauts; chemists, one in 11; and earth scientists (geologists, etc.), one in 14.

Getting Near The Inner Sanctum

WASHINGTON (AP)—A glance at the calendar reminds me that the next month I'll be 56 years old. What other blows can mankind take and still endure?

The prospect of being 56 inevitably fits a philosopher's thoughts on a fellow. Reaching that age may be a victory, but it is still a victory—a majority-of-the-hour kind of thing. It means that the earth never lived to be 55. Once you go beyond 55 you are getting into winter territory. You have an instinctive realization that there's just about all you can do now. It's like the blow of a mammoth hammer.

You have to face up to the fact that in many ways you are definitely over the hill. This is a glad as well as a sad side. It is pleasant to know that you are still young enough to run for presidency, your country should call you, but you don't have to run for a post in the local PTA.

There are other erosions and compensations at work. North Vietnam no longer has to read the morale messages the boss pins up on the company bulletin board. The doctor has a pretty definite idea what's wrong with you, and you know pretty well what's wrong with him. You enjoy each other's company. If you donate a pint to the office blood bank, everybody tells you that you are a hero — something you've known for a long time.

On your actual birthday you get 27 get well cards and three careful pecks on the cheek by three kindly card-carrying friends. You figure it is rather foolish to get short-winded bending over tying your shoelaces when they are all shoes that don't need shibbeles.

Every time you wear a bow-tie you feel devilish. You decide it is easier to leave your bifocals on all day than to waste your strength whipping them on and off. It occurs to you now and then that William McKinley and Calvin Coolidge have never been really fully appreciated. You abandon any idea of growing a beard because you know it would come out all by itself. When you see a fellow go up the stairs two at a time you realize the world will never run out of foolish men.

It is a matter of quiet pride that you are married to a woman who doesn't wear a wig. It worries you terribly if one of your enemies falls ill. What a gap there'd be if there weren't any old enemies left to keep you from heading for the hospital. You secretly agree with most of the things your wife says, but you'd rather die than admit it to her.

You can express most of your own opinions about the world with a clearcut grunt. At 50 you lose your fear you ever had of second childhood. Your heart of hearts you realize you are still in your first childhood, that nobody ever really grows up. And that life is always a kindergarten — but a worthwhile one.

When he ran out of surplus engines he made the swap, a thingy with a cylinder displacement roughly equal to a small paper cup. Last year the company that produced the engine was a company whose entire research, development and production program Honda still runs turned out 1.37 million motorcycles, worth $265 million, roughly one-third of the world's production.

MARQUIS CHILDS WRITES ON WASHINGTON

(Editor's note: Marquis Childs is in Washington. Today's column is written by Don MacLean.)

WASHINGTON — My friend and fellow reporter Jack Anderson has written a book called "Washington: Exposed." Writing a book is something many newspapermen threaten to do, but only a few of us ever accomplish.

Mostly the book is very serious and filled with those events which have illuminated and simultaneously darkened our times. There are various epithets scattered across from H.E.W. "his eye on the unemployed." And Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman is pictured struggling to reduce farm surpluses while, at the same time, he spends millions researching ways to make farmlands more productive.

They say the planned 1,000-m.p.h. folding-wing airliner will hold 277 passengers. Actually it will hold only 276 people, because they'll never get ME out.

Two men helped four women escape from a Phoenix home for wayward girls. Hey! Only one to a customer.

Lyndon Johnson now is being cast as an underdog. I guess he's howling because the polls have him by the ears.

Everything else may be going up, but you'll have to admit the Administration is doing a great job holding prosperity down.

One of those hedonistic motorcycle clubs does everything but sacrifice a virgin to the volcano. Probably the reason they don't do that is because they can't find a volcano.

Opinions Of A Conservative
By BARRY GOLDWATER

TOKYO — Anyone who doubts the effectiveness of capitalism as a tool for creating jobs, opportunity and progress should spend some time here. Just a few miles away are the factories of the world's great manufacturing concerns.

And it was started, just 10 years ago, by a man who left his job as a mechanical engineer to start a business on a shoestring amid the rubble of war's end and today, at 61, runs side-by-side with a "real" engineer to build an already great industrial machine into an even greater one.

This remarkable man is Sohei Honda. His name has become virtually synonymous with motorcycles, but will shortly be associated with such things as automobiles and airplanes as well as planes of people around the world.

At the end of the war, Honda, a first-class mechanic, took his savings and bought 500 small surplus engines. They had been used to power communications equipment. He hand-fitted them to bicycle frames, and Tokyo residents began to buy them as fast as he could build them together.

When he ran out of surplus engines he made the swap, a thingy with a cylinder displacement roughly equal to a small paper cup. Last year the company that produced the engine was a company whose entire research, development and production program Honda still runs turned out 1.37 million motorcycles, worth $265 million, roughly one-third of the world's production.

Perhaps that is the great lesson of capitalism, the sort of lesson you learn when you see enterprises such as Honda's prosper. It is the builder, it is the government that can be a destroyer.

Dear Spectator:
This idea of sports for women is silly. After a day on the golf course or hour at the bowling alley, the little woman is exhausted—she's just too tired to get supper, too tired to see on the bulletin, or even to get a haircut. In fact, she's just pooped after all day on the golf course (in the hot sun or the cold wind, as the case might be), or from rolling that heavy 14-pound ball for hours.

Now isn't that silly? If she had to work that hard at home she'd tire it done.

While putting the ribbon on the typewriter, I noticed the label over the fact I didn't get a single little smudge of ink on my fingers.

I had started typing before realizing my bargain ribbon was as a bone and worthless. The price of a good new ribbon, plus the price of the one I threw in the trash, is up to anything but a bargain.

Interpreting The News

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — This is that peculiar time in history when the diplomats are outbragged by their own strength.

The shining example of this is North Vietnam, which is only slightly larger than New York State and whose population of about 10.2 million is slightly less than New York's.

Little North Vietnam has the huge United States over a barrel in more ways than one, even though this country is almost 50 times larger and has a population of around 200 million.

The two nuclear giants, the United States and the Soviet Union, are so strong they could eliminate each other. The thing they want is war with each other. As a result, they walk on tiptoes when they deal with each other.

Twin Falls County Zoning Operating With Little Notice From Residents

By BONNIE BAIRD-JONES
Times-News Staff Writer

County zoning, which caused a major furor in the Twin Falls area before a zoning ordinance was adopted a year ago, now seems to be operating with almost no notice from local residents.

George Ottens, zoning administrator, said that since the ordinance became effective last February, 50 building permits have been issued. They represent a total of $50,000 in new building values in the county. There have been two public hearings on rezoning requests and both requests have been granted.

These include the change of zoning for the Gateway Trailer Courts on Falls Ave. East from agricultural to residential and the change on Acme Machine Co. property near Filer from agricultural to light industrial. Some residents protested the trailer court rezoning but there were no objections to the Filer proposal.

But the time has come when county residents will soon receive the same protection from neighboring structures of undesirable nature and in public buildings outside of city limits as do urban area property owners.

A uniform building code, one of the recommendations of the Commission for Intergovernmental Relations, a national board of which former Gov. Robert E. Smylie was a member, will soon be required of all counties, Mr. Ottens explained.

In view of this, and because of a need for control over quality and types of structures outside of metropolitan areas, planning and zoning commission members are now in final stages of preparing a building code for approval of the county commissioners.

It is patterned after the uniform code adopted by cities in the county and Mr. Ottens explained unless counties adopt their own building codes, federal building restrictions will be mandatory.

At present, the county zoning administration has no regulations over building plans or construction, other than use of the buildings for specific zones.

As one example, Mr. Ottens cited a church building which was erected just outside the Twin Falls city limits. It included a large basement area for classroom use but plans called for only one door—that being at the rear of the building adjacent to the furnace area.

"Should a fire break out in the furnace area," Mr. Ottens said, "children in the classrooms would be trapped."

"Only through cooperation of the building owners who took our suggestions, did we manage to correct this situation by having another door in the opposite end of the building added," he continued.

In another instance a builder exchanged his services in payment for equipment and work he had obtained from a rural resident. The home he built was held to minimum expenses and when completed, Mr. Ottens said, the floor away from someone without across the living room. It had to be reinforced at considerable cost to meet safety standards.

"Only with a building code can such matters be corrected, the administrator explained.

The proposed building code would give the county inspectors control over types of buildings and protect home owners from junk type buildings being moved into adjoining property for use as low cost farm labor housing, storage or other purposes.

"We expect some opposition," Mr. Ottens said, "but the building code will provide the protection many county zoning supporters were seeking when they voted for zoning—no added cost. This additional protection has a price tag attached."

Mr. Ottens said fees must be charged on a basis of building values to cover the cost of inspections and to keep the program self supporting.

Costs, he estimated, would run about $35 on a home in which structural values would reach $12,000. A more elaborate home of $25,000 would require permit fees of $62, he said.

Four inspections would be made during the building process. The first would be at the time of pouring foundation or footings, and the second when the frame work was in place. Other inspections would cover interior work for fire resistant wall material and the final examination before the building is occupied.

Mr. Ottens said he believes the building code can be administered, including inspections, without adding personnel to the zoning administration staff and at no additional cost to taxpayers. Fees charged builders would cover expenses.

County Commissioner Morris W. Carlson told the zoning group in their January meeting that action is expected on the building code proposal within a month.

The 12 members of the planning and zoning commission serve without remuneration. Tom Oliver, who declined to accept reappointment last week has served as chairman the past six years.

Other members are James Brennan, James Kounlik and Stuart Swan, all Twin Falls; Thomas Crain, Kimberly, Clarence Hollifield, Hansen; James LaGrone, Castletford; Robert Mall, Hansen, and Wendell Garner, Buhl.

Mr. Swan was named chairman for the coming year. Four members will be appointed to the board to fill the expiring term of Mr. Oliver, William

Silver Is At Crossroads In Its Fast Diminishing Role

By JOSEPH R. COYNE
WASHINGTON (AP) — Silver is at the crossroads in its history but fast diminishing role as a storehouse of U.S. monetary value.

But Treasury officials are convinced enough, silver is available to carry the nation through to late 1968, expected end of the transition period for the new copper-nickel coins.

And officials have some aces in the hole to make sure the silver supply will be sufficient.

Future government policy on silver is in the hands of a 24-man commission on the coinage set up by Congress in 1965 when it took all silver out of dimes and quarters and reduced the silver content of half dollars from 90 to 40 per cent, thus averting a silver crisis.

That commission — all its members have not yet been named — will look into the time and circumstances when the Treasury should stop maintaining the price of silver, future policy and other silver matters.

The mining industry foresees an increase in price — now maintained by the Treasury at $1.29 an ounce — as inevitable.

The nation is using more silver, especially for industrial purposes, than it produces and imports. The Treasury fills the gap by selling its stocks to private industry.

Booming industrial uses range from rockets to photography to batteries. Industrial and artistic use last year totaled about 150 million ounces compared with 110 million ounces in 1962.

Of the total Treasury stock of about 591 million ounces, about 438 million ounces back paper money—the outstanding silver certificates issued after June 30, 1933. This leaves about 153 million ounces for other uses.

Many of the silver certificates undoubtedly have been destroyed by fire, flood, ship sinkings and other disasters. By declaring some of them lost or destroyed, the Treasury could free possibly millions of ounces of silver for industrial use.

Another step to free more silver could be to place a deadline on redemption of silver certificates. After the deadline, a person would be unable to obtain silver for them but would receive other currency or coins.

CONDITION NOTED

BOISE (AP)—Idaho's two state universities are in "marginal" condition because of inadequate financing, the Idaho Resource Development Council was told Monday.

Dr. Ernest Hartung, president of the University of Idaho, said that because of that he doubted the wisdom of attempting to establish a medical school at this time.

A bill establishing such a school in Boise and making it a branch of the university, has been introduced in the Idaho legislature. Hartung said he was not advised in advance of the proposal.

TUITION RULED ON

BOISE (AP)—Judge Merlin S. Young ruled in Third District Court Tuesday that regents of the University of Idaho have authority to fix non-resident tuition charges and are not required to make those charges equal actual costs.

Young ruled in a suit brought by the regents of the University of Idaho against the regents of the University of Idaho, who had asked the court to compel the university to require non-resident students to pay the full cost of their education. Falling to do so, Cobbs said, amounts to spending Idaho tax money for the benefit of non-residents.

T. F. Grange Plans Annual Pancake Fete

Twin Falls Grange No. 216 will hold its seventh annual saturday pancake supper from 5 to 8 p.m. Saturday at the Grange Hall.

Grange members are planning to invite all guests. The proceeds of the pancake dinner will be given to the Idaho Ranch for Youth, Rupert. The boys will be invited down for the supper.

Grange members will make the pancakes and serve. Thirty gallons of "sourdough" pancake batter, 300 pounds of homemade country sausage, dozens of eggs and gallons of coffee and milk will be used at the dinner.

Each dollar donated at the dinner will be matched by Steele Reese Foundation, Grange officials said.

During the past six years, more than 100,000 dollars have been raised from the pancake suppers for the Youth Ranch.

Backs Pig

BOMBAY, India (AP)—Railways Minister S. K. Patil has announced that he supports recent agitation for a ban on cow slaughter in India. But he said the pig also should be protected.

Patil said that "Muslims are opposed to eating pork so if both cow and pig slaughter were banned no one could complain that the government had acted solely for the benefit of Hindus, who regard cows as sacred."

Filer PTA Membership Reaches 80

FILER—Paid-up memberships of the Junior-Senior High School Parent-Teacher-Student Association have reached 80, reported Mrs. Kenneth Rork, membership chairman, at the group in the high school auditorium.

This surpasses the membership of all recent years, she added.

A possible merger with the PTA of Victory and Central Schools was discussed and all members were urged to attend the Feb. 9 meeting when the subject will be more fully explored. A majority of voting members should be present to vote on the merger, Mrs. Rork said.

The group voted to donate $20 to the City Recreation Committee for the summer recreation fund.

A detailed report on progress of the elementary school was given by Thomas Turner, superintendent, and Robert Moldenhauer, school board chairman.

Mr. and Mrs. William Patton, Buhl, showed slides of a tour taken by the Twin Falls Historical Society. The new film showing of the group will take place at 8 p.m. Jan. 24 in the Robert Stuart Junior High School, Twin Falls.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Daniel Kaufman, Mrs. Ralph Eaton and Mrs. John Storrs.

THE JUNIOR REALM

Q. My dad owns a laundromat and I relieve him in the evenings. Twice a week a very nice boy has been coming in with his family and we have become well acquainted, too well, in fact. I have become desperately in love with him. One night, after losing all the way with him in the back room, I learned that he is married—I am not pregnant; but I am full of doom and gloom over losing my maiden advantage yet the thought of life without him is almost unbearable. What can I do? Mary Jane.

A. Panelists: Betty Carden, high school, New Mexico; Jean O'Connell, high school, Connecticut; Michael Day, high school, New Nebraska; Allen Tate, college, Pennsylvania.

Now forget him and be thankful that you can pick up the pieces and rebuild your life. You of course cannot restore your chastity per se, but you can get back much of your maidenly bearing if you are willing to work at it.

Remember that since this experience has happened to you, it should never recur if you will profit by your actions. What has happened has happened. If you ponder over it, your life will remain miserable. You may never be able to forget it, but you can make it an inactive memory, one that is out of your mind most of the time.

Do you really love a man who would rob you of your maidenly bearing, as you put it, knowing that he could do nothing about it for you? Do you think that if he is as nice, and decent as you have thought him to be, he could have done this to you without first telling you that he is married? Did it occur to you that he was using you just for his own gratification? Have you thought of the probability that he has other "lovers" besides himself? Instead of facing them, he used you to get them out of his mind? Does it now occur to you that he was just taking unfair advantage of you?

Now, honestly, Mary Jane, could you love such a man, a man who had you become pregnant, could not have stood by you? Is there love in these situations?

Mimidoka Auditor Discusses Budget At Chamber Meeting

RUPERT — August Bethke, Mimidoka county auditor - recorder, discussed the county budget which received approval of the county commissioners last week, before the luncheon meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Thursday.

The clerk mentioned a number of departments with increased budgets, and the need to cover salary increases. Included in these were the sheriff's office, clerk of the courts, and the auditor's office.

Increases were noted for the prosecuting attorney for increased rent and needed law books; the county agent for salary increase and the stenographer and a raise in rent for their new office location.

Costs for the justice court were reduced $395 because of a decrease in salary. Other decreases included a $7,000 reduction for building and grounds because of improvements added to the court room last year; a $9,000 reduction in general due to costs of the general election in 1966.

New to the budget this year is a hospital maintenance allotment of $7,500 for a sidewalk to the hospital from the present city sidewalk, and for a new roof repairs on the building.

Wood control budgeting was reduced $8,100 because the department plans to confine spraying in county lands and do no commercial spraying.

Another new item is $7,500 for ambulance service. Bethke said that an advice to the attorney general the county will no longer receive ambulance service from the morillans, and the commissioners will be advising for someone to create a county ambulance service in the near future.

The clerk said the commissioners anticipate a small increase on the tax rate on these and other items in the budget.

In other business at the meeting, Richard Bolle read a communication from the Eastern Idaho Chamber of Commerce, requesting an opinion of chamber members on four questions the eastern group is studying.

These include consideration of the age for obtaining marriage licenses with parental consent to 18 and without consent to 21. The present ages are 15 with consent and 18 without. The opinion of the questioners was that the higher age limits would help Idaho to more nearly conform with laws of surrounding states.

Opinions were also sought on a resolution of the Idaho Municipal League requesting 10 percent of the sales tax to go to cities; and a proposal that the legislature appropriate $500,000 to support Boise College, and a movement for establishment of a medical college in Boise.

There was some discussion of these items, but action was deferred to the board of directors, who will meet at 8 p.m. Monday at the chamber office. The Monday meeting will be for old and new directors, according to President Dolmer Hollinger, who conducted the meeting.

A report by Bob Jones of the South Idaho Chamber of Commerce showed the group an increase in unemployment as a result of the establishment of airport districts by the legislature.

Members also passed a resolution in support of the South Idaho suggestion of a feasibility study to be conducted by the Bureau of Land Management as to the increased use of Snake River waters for irrigation purposes.

Mimidoka Auditor Discusses Budget At Chamber Meeting

Hollinger reported that the board's Wednesday night meeting considered a move by the county commissioners to drop horse racing from the county fair.

Hollinger spoke strongly in opposition to such a move, noting that the county is losing a large horse racing stake. Several members felt that many other Idaho cities would be most eager to take over the county's horse racing stake.

He reported that from the commissioners one favors retention of the racing, one is in favor of dropping it, and one is undecided.

The invocation was by Don Nelson, and Claude Bowman was in charge of arrangements for the program.

Campaign Against Car Theft Planned

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government is planning a nationwide campaign against car theft and is seeking through persuasion or legislation to have automobile manufacturers make their cars harder to steal.

Announcing this today, Asst. Atty. Gen. Fred M. Vinson Jr. said steering wheel, transmission and hood locks and many other anti-theft systems are devices which would help reverse the rising trend of automobile thefts.

Vinson said the Justice Department has conferred with industry representatives "with a view to installation of feasible and effective devices at the earliest practicable date."

"We are following with interest the automobile industry's activity in this regard and we are considering legislation, if necessary, to require installation of anti-theft devices at the point of manufacture or assembly," he said in a statement prepared for the Senate subcommittee on Juvenile Delinquency.

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D. Conn., the subcommittee chairman, said his group also is considering legislation which would require anti-theft devices on new cars.

Their talk of possible new laws dealing with automobile equipment came with manufacturers and the government at odds over the number and nature of safety devices to be required on 1968 model cars under a law passed by the 90th Congress.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: Last summer I fell in love with a swell guy. He was A.W.O.L. (I thought) for the service, but he seemed to be staying around for an awful long time. Then it turned out he was A.W.O.L. I told him if he didn't go right back we were through. He went back and faced the ordeal which wasn't as bad as I had expected for being A.W.O.L. for 33 days.

To make a long story short, five days after he squared himself for his first A.W.O.L., he went A.W.O.L. again and now he is in the stockade at Fort Bragg, N.C. I understand he will be there for quite a while.

We planned on getting married as soon as he gets out of service, Abby. My problem is, should I go thru with those plans? He is really a swell guy. GOING TO PIECES

DEAR GOING: Wait until this "swell guy" gets out of the stockade, out of service, and into civilian life again and then take a good, hard look at him. You have plenty of time before making a decision.

DEAR ABBY: On Thanksgiving day you published your favorite blessing to be said before meals. It was the most meaningful "grace" I had ever read. I clipped it and said it before our Thanksgiving dinner. All of our guests agreed that it was wonderful, and they asked for a copy. A question arose, however, about which there was a difference of opinion. In the line, "May these remembrances STILL us to service," Abby, by "still us" did you mean to "still us in us"? Or did you mean "steel," to make hard or resolute? Thank you.

BOSTON FAN

DEAR BOSTON: Neither, it was a typographical error. The line should have read, "May these remembrances STILL us to service," but "still us" may be used for others. Amen."

DEAR ABBY: You will never know what marvelous relief and fond memories were revived when I read about the bride who received a silver candle snuffer and wrote to thank the giver for the darling little gray clipper.

When my husband and I were married, he was a struggling medical student who worked after school for a distinguished surgeon. For our wedding gift, this man and his wife sent us an elegant silver angel food cake slicer and server. Being unaccustomed to such a luxurious item, neither my husband nor I could figure out what this utensil was supposed to be used for. We finally agreed, and I wrote to thank them for the "lovely meat tenderizing tool."

Many months later, to my horror and humiliation, I saw a similar "meat tenderizing tool" being used to serve cake at a Christmas party. The lovely lady never mentioned my faux pas, and I hopefully told myself that she probably thought I got my gift cards mixed up when I wrote my thank-you notes.

fore a background setting of three-piece brass candelabra, pink candies and beany baskets of pink pom-pom chrysanthemums and pink statin bows.

The bride, the former Dolores
Marie Bolish, was given in mar-

Bolish, Filer. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas
M. Johnson, Rupert.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of taupe de sole brocade which she designed and made.
The gown featured a rounded neckline, lily point sleeves and gathered skirt with detachable train.

Her elbow-length veil of bouffant bridal tulle was held by a crown of leaves with a pearl teardrop. She wore a gold pen-dant heart necklace, centered with a suspended pearl, and wristlets of pearls and silk.
The groom featured a rounded collar and carried a bouquet of pink roses centered with a white orchid on a white Bible.

Don Royster played the wedding music and accompanied Mrs. Alfred Bolish, sister-inter of the bridegroom, was the flower girl, carrying a basket of rose petals. The bridegroom's sons, Danny Paul Johnson and Billy Joe Johnson, were ring-bearers, carrying the rings on white satin heart-shaped pillows.

Paul Glorfield, Rupert, was best man. Ushers were Thomas Carl Johnson, Rupert, brother of the bridegroom, and Darrel Bolish, Twin Falls, and Alfred Bolish, Hansen, brothers of the bride.

Mrs. Warren Majors, Rupert, registered the guests at a reception which followed the wedding at the OOP Hall. Gifts were displayed by Donna Rathbun and Vicki Kirkman.

The bride's table was covered with a white crocheted tablecloth, flanked by her grandmother, the late Mrs. Carrie Sybrant.
The table was centered with a four-tiered white wedding cake decorated with pink and green flowers and white bells, topped with bells and pink flowers. Bell-shaped bride and bridegroom cakes decorated in pink and green flanked the cake.

Darrel Bolish, Twin Falls, cut and served the cake. Mrs. Stan

Gov. Wallace Buckles Down To Her Task

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Gov. Lurleen Wallace, the first woman to govern a state in three decades, buckles down to the task today.

She will have little time, however, to ponder the momentousness of her role. Her first working day as Alabama's chief executive is a full one.

At midmorning, she holds her first Cabinet meeting. After lunch, she addresses the legislature.

There was no announcement prior to the Cabinet meeting that there would be any changes from the cabinet of Mrs. Wallace's husband, predecessor and "No. 1 adviser," George C. Wallace.

In her first address to the legislature, which winds up its 10-day organizational session today, Mrs. Wallace may announce that she will call the legislators back, perhaps later this month, to act on what could be a record road bond issue. Along with the anticipated request for $150 million or more to rebuild the highway department's depleted coffers, may come a proposal for increased highway revenue.

Alabama's first and the nation's first woman governor was sworn in Monday.

In her speech Mrs. Wallace strongly indicated that she did not expect to run again in the next year. She has been married three years ago, Wallace, in introducing his wife, reinforced that impression.

Mrs. Wallace has carefully avoided any outright declaration of his intention to do so, the campaign to elect his wife as his successor. Mrs. Wallace has indicated in her speech that she intended to run again for the presidency.

Mrs. Wallace told the cheering throng that she would not error to enable her husband to "take our fight (for states rights) to the final court of appeal — the people of the United States."

10,000 More GI's Will Go To Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ten thousand more GI's will go to South Vietnam this month, boosting the U.S. force there to 405,000, Pentagon sources said today.

These officials predicted that by the end of the year the United States will be supporting a force of 475,000 in the Southeast Asian country.

At present there are 395,000 American servicemen in South Vietnam. The over-all Southeast Asian commitment stands at nearly 500,000, including 50,000 to 60,000 Navy men aboard ships of the 7th Fleet off Vietnam plus around 30,000 men, mostly Air Force, based in neighboring Thailand.

The steadily expanding build-up was signaled Monday by Gen. Earl G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, who told a Pentagon news conference there has been no change in President Johnson's policy stated in 1965.

That policy, he said, is that Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in South Vietnam, will be supplied the men and materials he needs.

Published reports have said that the Joint Chiefs of Staff disagreed with what was described as an administration setting of 460,000 to 480,000 men in Vietnam.

Wheeler said Gen. Westmoreland does not differ with Washington officials over what force is needed in South Vietnam.

Wheeler, a four-star general, said he would "stick to the policy" by saying flatly the Communists have lost any chance they once may have had for a military victory in South Vietnam.

Does this mean the United States is bound to win, Wheeler was asked.

"I think so," he replied, declining to pick a date when the moment of victory will come.

Marine Is First To Speak Normally Without Voice Box

BOSTON (AP) — A Marine wounded in a Viet Cong ambush last fall said "Hello, how are you?" And became, doctors believe, the first person to speak normally without a voice box.

Doctors at Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary fashioned a tube and valve from the skin of Lance Cpl. Walter Lopata to replace a shattered larynx and restore his voice.

The second of two operations was performed Friday and Lopata, 25, greeted reporters Saturday with "Hello how are you?" they were his first spoken words since he was wounded by Viet Cong shrapnel Oct. 11.

The two-stage operation was developed by Dr. William W. Montgomery of the infirmary who termed results of what he said was the first such attempt "a complete success."

Dr. Montgomery said general use of the procedure is "still in the future."

Mrs. N. H. An estimated 6,000 Americans have their voice box removed each year because of cancer. He said perhaps 70 percent of these eventually might be candidates for the new surgery.

A patient without a voice box must try to learn esophageal speech in which air is swallowed into the stomach and words are formed by "burping."

Collision Of Two U. S. Jets Is Recalled In Spanish Town

By EMILIO MOYA
PALOMARES, Spain (AP) — One year ago today two U.S. Air Force jets collided over this village on the southeast coast of Spain showering the area with flaming wreckage and four H-bombs.

The bombs were recovered, the area cleaned of atomic radiation and the people reimbursed for damage to their lands and their business. But local farmers and fishermen are still complaining about the way the United States treated them.

About 40 farmers planned to go to Madrid today to present the U.S. Embassy with the 70 per cent compensation demands the Americans fell short of paying.

The delegation said it would go to Generalissimo Francisco Franco if the embassy refused to meet their demands.

A memorial service for the seven American fliers killed in the collision was to have been held today in the Palomares church, but it was reportedly called off because the villagers warned no one would attend.

The organizer of the mission to Madrid is the former Duchess of Medinilla, who lives in the Alvarez de Toledo 30, a Socialist and a frequent sponsor of various causes. She said the trip to Madrid has no political connections — "It's just an economic matter that we plan to settle for the benefit of these honest and humble folks."

Portuguese Flee After Negotiations

MACAO (AP) — Some 250 Portuguese women and children fled to Hong Kong today after negotiations between Macao's Portuguese government and the Chinese Communists deadlocked over wording of an apology for suppression of the Communist riots in Macao last month.

The Portuguese refugees refused to talk to newsmen, but nearly 400 Macao Chinese also fled, and several said the situation was "about to blow up."

Friends of one of the Portuguese negotiators reported he felt the impasse was so hopeless that he was sending his family back to Lisbon.

Macao Chinese began a run on money changers and banks to convert their local currency into Hong Kong dollars. The Hong Kong currency was exhausted in an hour and the Macao dollar dropped four points.

Packers Are Busy Taking Bows After Super Bowl; Retirement Rumors Rife

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Green Bay Packers, each with $23,500 extra money to tide them through the long, cold winter, were busy taking bows Monday after squelching the American Football League in the first Super Bowl. Eight Packers will play in Sunday's Pro Bowl but the others were scattering. There was doubt about the future of vets like Fuzzy Thurston, Max McGee, Jim Taylor, Paul Hornung and Jerry Kramer—many a projected retirement at a time when the next football season rolls around.

Dawson Hints Chiefs As Good As Packers

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Len Dawson, veteran quarterback of the American Football League champion Kansas City Chiefs, spoke affirmatively: "I don't think our performance in the second half is an indication of the strength of our league. I'm not convinced they're a better football team than we are. I think we compare favorably with them."

Ellis Gives Bullets Win Over Hawks

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Baltimore's Leroy Ellis blocked a St. Louis shot that would have tied the score in the last four seconds and preserved a 100-88 victory for the Bullets in their National Basketball Association game.

The 6-foot-11 inch Ellis went up in the air at the same moment that the Hawks' Joe Caldwell well offed a shot from a corner. The ball went into the hands of a Bullets defense man.

The play climaxed a whirlwind final two minutes in which the Hawks pulled up from a 99-91 deficit and almost forced the game into overtime.

High-point men for the Bullets were Don Ohl, 6-foot-4 guard, with 24, and Gus Johnson, 6-6 center, with 23. The Hawks' Caldwell, a 6-5 forward with springs in his legs, scored 26 points.

Baltimore, cellar team in the Eastern Division of the NBA, is now 10 and 38 for the season and St. Louis' second in the Western Division, is now 19-25.

Kansas Coach Has No Easy Job In Coaching Track Star Ryun

By RON RAPOPORT
BOSTON (AP)—Ply poor Bob Timmons, or maybe you were thinking it is some kind of snap to coach Kansas' gift to the perpetrators of track and field, miler Jim Ryun.

It is no easy job, let Timmons hasten to say. For one thing people are always getting mad at him.

Timmons showed up at the Boston Knights of Columbus indoor-track meet here Saturday night to get a look at what was supposed to be a pretty good crop of milers.

From that standpoint, the trip was a dud—Ernie Lips of Toronto won the mile in 4:08.4, a mark that hardly figures to threaten Ryun unless the 19-year-old Kansan breaks a leg midway through a race sometime.

But Timmons' stay here was less than pleasant from another angle, too. People kept asking him what he was doing there instead of Ryun, who is, of course, the answer to a meet director's prayer.

Timmons, a short, inordinately polite fellow who inserts "sir" into nearly every sentence he utters, did his best to explain, but he failed to mollify the Eastern track buffs and writers who considered it a personal affront that Ryun will make no indoor appearances in the area this winter.

"We're getting heat from all sides," he said. "Everybody's accusing us of boycotting the meet or that one, but the plain truth is Jim and I worked out the best schedule we could."

"I'm not just any athlete, I expect a great performance out of him every time he runs, so we decided to keep his outside competition to a minimum."

As of now those outside appearances include meets in Portland, Ore., on Jan. 28. "He has some friends out there," and Los Angeles next Saturday. Most of February is out because of Big Eight Conference rules prohibiting competition during the conference meet, set for March 3 and 4 in Kansas City.

Among those whom Timmons had come to see was Auburn's Tony Benson, who had gone four minutes flat and had been unbeaten from 800 meters to two miles this year. It was his American debut.

But Benson, after making a brief bid for the lead halfway through the race, faltered and finished seventh. NCAA champion Dave Patrick of Villanova, who has gone 4:01.1, was second behind Lips and Dave Bailey of Toronto was third.

The highlight of the meet was Bill Gaines' 5.2 clocking in the 50-yard dash. The 19-year-old high-school junior from Mullica Hill, N.J., tied Frank Budd's meet record and was one-tenth of a second off Barney Ewell's 1939 world mark.

Format For A-1, A-2 Basketball Tournaments Set

Administrators of schools in the A-1 and A-2 basketball classifications gave their fans a second year of bonuses Monday when they voted to combine the final weeks of the two tournaments with at least a pair of doubleheaders in the Twin Falls High School gymnasium. Following the format adopted last year, the A-1 schools will play at Burley and Minico the first weekend while the A-2 clubs will play two games at Jerome. All action will come off Twin Falls the second weekend.

However, chances of the format continuing may be dimmed somewhat next year when Wood River High School makes its appearance as an A-2 team. The problem will be division of dividends.

It wasn't all sweet for fans as the group, following a pattern established by the state, increased adult prices to $1.50. This will apply to all games. Student prices were kept at 50 cents.

Pairings and sites for the first weekend of the A-1 tournament will have Twin Falls at Burley Feb. 24 with the winner of that game traveling to Minco Feb. 25. Twin Falls will receive the bye next year.

The A-2 lineup will be based on results of the South Central Idaho Conference standings, excluding Mountain Home, a member of the third district at tournament time. That will have the first place team facing the fourth and second going against the third.

When the tournament comes to Twin Falls the loser bracket semifinals will have the A-1 teams playing at 7:30 p.m. and the A-2 game at 9 p.m. The second night which could feature two championship games, will have the A-2 game first. This reverses the schedule of last year.

Wrestling Mountain Home will be at Jerome for wrestling Tuesday-Thursday as reported in Monday's sports page.

Bobcats Are Favored In Big Sky Tilt

By The Associated Press
It will be an upset if Montana State doesn't fatten its lead in the Big Sky Conference basketball race when it goes to Missoula Saturday for a conference game with Montana.

The Montana State Bobcats vaulted from third to first in conference standings Saturday when they beat Weber State 75-63. This left Montana State with a 3-1 conference record.

Montana, meanwhile scrambled to an 89-75 victory over Idaho State, which gave the Gazelles third place, 1-3. Idaho beat Gonzaga 64-41, leaving those clubs tied for second at 2-1.

The Montana State-Montana game is the only conference test in this week. But there is a full schedule of non-conference games.

Tuesday, Seattle is at Weber. Thursday Alaska is at Seattle. Friday Colorado State plays at Idaho State and St. Martins is at Gonzaga. And Saturday Idaho State battles the Phillys' Oilers. Gonzaga takes on Portland State, and Weber State is at Texas Western.

Three NBA Teams Trade Players

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Bullets announced Monday they had obtained Ray Scott from the Detroit Pistons in a three-centered trade which also involved the Los Angeles Lakers.

In the deal, Mel Counts of Baltimore was sent to the Lakers and the Pistons received Rudy Larusso from Los Angeles.

The Bucks said they made the Counts-for-Larusso swap and then made the deal for Scott.

Baltimore, with a 9-38 record in the National Basketball Association, had been looking for rebound strength. Scott, a 6-foot-6, ranked second on the Pistons with 40 rebounds, an average of nine per game. His scoring average with the Pistons was 14.7.

Valley Nursing Has City Victory

Valley Nursing Homes, behind Kans General's 25 points, received a runaway 85-40 victory over the Cove in City basketball action Monday night.

Kathy Whitworth Is Female Athlete Of Year Second Time

By BEN OLAN
NEW YORK (AP)—Kathy Whitworth, 27-year-old queen of professional golf, was the outstanding female athlete for the second consecutive year in 1966, scoring a runaway victory Monday in the annual Associated Press poll.

The small-town girl from Jal, N.M., drew 185 first-place votes and 729 points in the balloting by 426 sports writers and radio and television broadcasters.

Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., the Wimbledon singles tennis champion, was a slight favorite with 147 votes and 88 first-place votes. Brazil's Mario Buenos, the U.S. national tennis titleholder, placed third with 293 points and 36 votes for the top position.

Points were awarded on a basis of three for a first-place vote, two for second and one for third.

Miss Whitworth won nine official tournaments in 1966, more than in 1965 when she also was named the Female Athlete of the Year. Among her triumphs last season were those in the Lady Carling Open at Sutton, Mass., another Lady Carling Open at Ellcott, Tenn., The Titleholders' Championship at Augusta, Ga., and the Milwaukee Jyncoes Open.

The 5-foot-9, long-hall hitter, who started on the pro tour in 1959, was named the Player of the Year by the Ladies Professional Golf Association after successfully defending her money-winning crown by earning a record $311.50.

Miss Whitworth, the daughter of a hardware store owner, also was successful in defending the LPGA's Vare Trophy for the lowest scoring average in the pro tour. She competed in 101 official rounds with a scoring average of 72.81 strokes a round.

Kathy never scored over 80 and was in the 60s on 13 occasions. She established an LPGA record by shooting rounds of 68-71-69-65 for 273 in the Milwaukee tourney.

The Fraternal Order of Eagles will present the award to Miss Whitworth on Feb. 11 in San Francisco.

Mrs. King brought the women's triumph crown to the United States after four years by defeating Miss Bueno 6-3, 3-6, 6-1 in the final match. The 21-year-old Californian also helped the United States win the Wightman Cup by defeating Ann Jones of Britain in a pivotal match. Later, Mrs. King was ranked top ranking with Nancy Richey of the nation's No. 1 women's tennis player by the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association. She shared top ranking with Nancy Richey and Dallas in 1965.

BRIDGE BY JACOBY

HAND FAVORS CANAPE BID

The bidding system used by Benito Garozzo and Omar Sharif is the Neapolitan-Club plus certain variations developed by Garozzo.

Like many European systems it uses what is known as canape bidding. One bids the shorter of spades although a couple got all the way to six.

In all instances East made his normal opening lead and the defense-garered in the first two tricks.

Omar Sharif opened with the canape bid of one spade. Benito jumped to three spades. Omar showed his real suit by bidding four diamonds. Benito's bid of five clubs was a slam try and Omar's five diamond call was a mild acceptance. With the ace of hearts Omar would have bid five hearts. Without the king of hearts Omar would have signed off at five spades.

Benito needed no more encouragement to contract for the small slam. There was nothing to play. Omar won the first trick with dummy's ace of clubs and drew trumps. Then he discarded dummy's hearts on his long diamonds and conceded one club trick. A real top score because four spades bid and six made would have been just as good at match points.

(Answer Next Issue)

Q—The bidding has been:

West North East South

1 ♠ Pass Pass 1 ♠

1 ♠ 2 ♠ Pass 1 ♠

2 ♠ 2 ♠ Pass 2 ♠

3 ♠ Pass Pass 3 ♠

4 ♠ Pass Pass 4 ♠

5 ♠ Pass Pass 5 ♠

Opening lead—4 ♣

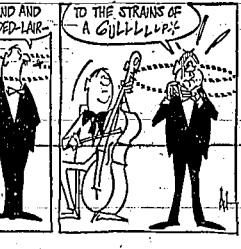

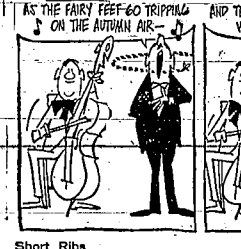

two suits first and the longer one later on.

We cannot see any real advantage to this style of bidding even though it does produce some swings in its favor.

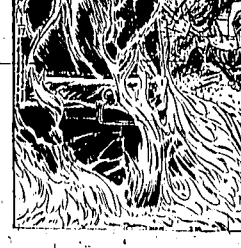

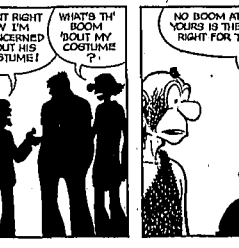

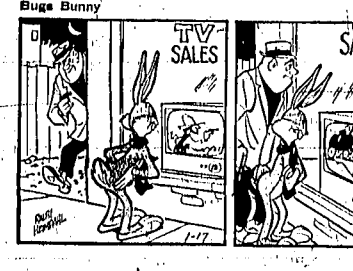

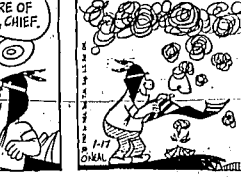

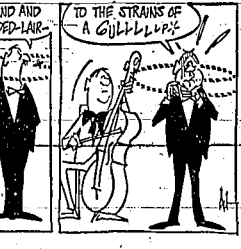

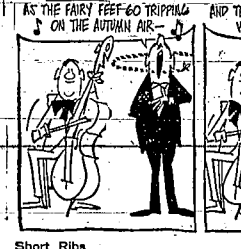

When today's hand was played in the Men's Pairs at the Pittsburgh Nationals, the normal American bidding started with one diamond by South. North responded, one spade. Most pairs proceeded to four

Bill Would Create Peace Officers' Training Commission

Water Bills To Get Early Consideration

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new Congress is expected to give priority to bills that would authorize major water projects — including several that were shelved last year.

The Lower Colorado River Basin Project, one of the most controversial proposals ever considered by Congress.

Family Cycle Explained To Rupert PTA

RUPERT — Mrs. Keith Amende, Albion, a member of the state board of managers of PTA, was the featured speaker at the Friday meeting of the Minidoka County Council of the PTA.

The talk was based on "The Family Life Cycle" and was taken from her remarks and the theme of the state PTA convention held in Idaho Falls in November.

The first half of the cycle is comprised of seven stages, Mrs. Amende said, including the newly-married pair, the expectant pair, the couple with one child, the crowded years, families with school-age children, the family with adolescent children and the launching years when the children are marrying and leaving home.

About one fourth of the life cycle is called the "empty nest" and the largest portion of life is the aging years, meaning for many people periods of widowhood or life as a widower.

Mrs. Amende recommended parent education as an undertaking for local PTA units.

A gift, she said, parents could give their children would be a package containing God, character, citizenship, personality, a good attitude, education both at school and at home, mental and physical health, and wrap it all with love.

Edward Topf, president of the council, announced that the by-laws will be re-written to comply with changes in state and national by-laws, under the direction of the chairman, Doyle Lower.

Topf reminded PTA workers of Founder's Day activities for February, and the group discussed the possibility of awarding state or national life memberships.

It was announced that the council will host the district conference April 29 at Minico High School.

BOISE (AP) — A peace officers' standards and training commission would be created under a bill introduced Monday by the Senate State Affairs Committee.

The 16-member bipartisan commission would set standards for police or sheriff's officers and contract office training to educational institutions.

It would include the state attorney general or his representative, the superintendent of State Police, the chairman of the State Prosecuting Attorneys Association or his representative, the district special agent in charge of the FBI and 12 members appointed by the governor.

The bipartisan appointees would include chiefs of police, sheriffs, county commissioners, city officials and interested citizens.

Sponsors of the bill said it would cost about $20,000 to operate the commission during the 1967-69 biennium.

Rep. Lester Hartvigsen, D-Malden, referred to recent remarks by Gov. Don W. Samuelson, who called for easing up on beer advertisements panted on his side are due for a letdown, police reported today. The truck contained no beer — just 200 sacks of salt.

House Speaker Pete T. Gowarusa, R-Carey, replied that Samuelson had said he would not veto liquor law enforcement, but was concerned about possible violations of tavern and bar owners' rights.

Conarus and Rep. Jenkin Palmer, R-Malden, said the legislature would arrive at its own version of a 1967-69 budget "from the ground up," rather than follow Gov. Don W. Samuelson's suggestions.

Palmer is chairman of the House Appropriations Committee. Democrats had criticized Samuelson's budget message because it omitted general fund line item requests for individual agency appropriations.

Members of the Joint Finance Appropriations Committee will arrive at their decision after hearings, Palmer declared.

Samuelson said he was preparing a line-item budget, but House minority leader Darrell Manning, D-Pocatello, said "perhaps this legislature no longer needs that line-item budget the governor is reported to be preparing."

The House Insurance Committee met after the State Department of Finance announced it had closed the Pioneer Savings and Loan Association in Boise.

Benarrusa said the closure was "just an administrative procedure to curtail bad management practices and to protect the public." Its closure, he said, did not add or detract from a need for stronger savings and loan laws.

Legislators in the Senate debated briefly over the medical school proposed for construction in Boise.

Sen. Harold Lough, D-Moscow, said he thought appropriation of $200,000 to finance preparation of the University of Idaho and Idaho State University needed more funds to handle present student loads.

Sen. John F. Evans, D-Malden, said the state couldn't afford a medical school, terming the $200,000 appropriation "quite excessive" for what he called a "paper school."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new Congress is expected to give early consideration to bills that would authorize major water projects — including several that were scheduled last year.

Included among them are:

- The Lower Colorado River Basin Project, one of the most controversial proposals ever considered by Congress.
- Four Oregon Projects: the Meritt and Illinois Valley divisions of the Rogue River Basin Project, the Galla Division of the Umpqua Project and the Monmouth-Dallas Division of the Willamette River Project.
- An expected project considered in the Southwest Idaho Development.
- Eleven Western senators are cosponsoring legislation to authorize the appropriation of $20 million for a weather modification (rain making) program.

Additionally, a bill would create a "wild rivers" system and a House measure would authorize a "scenic river" system. Both would prevent dam construction and certain other activities in rivers flowing through wilderness-type scenic areas.

The eastern Idaho legislator said he deplored what appeared to be a "softer approach" to liquor law enforcement — which he said resulted in suspension of liquor licenses, 57 beer licenses and 20 bartenders' permits during the past two years.

House Speaker Pete T. Cenarrusa, R-Carey, replied that Samuelson had said he would not support liquor law enforcement, but was concerned about possible violations of tavern and bar-owners' rights.
