Red China Aides In Deadlock

TOKYO (AP) — Red China's feuding Communist leaders appeared deadlocked in their power struggle today with each unwilling to compromise or to force a showdown.

A week after Mao Tse-tung issued a virtual ultimatum to the followers of President Liu Shao-chi, there was every indication it had been ignored and that Mao's forces would support the armed forces had not budged his opponents.

Mao's New China News Agency referred in one dispatch to "the bastions in which counter-revolutionary revisionism has entrenched itself" and refrained from proclaiming final victory over Liu and the "latest counter attack" by Mao's opponents.

The Peking correspondent of the Japanese newspaper Yomiuri reported that the upheaval on the mainland seemed to have "passed its peak" and that tension was subsiding in Shanghai, Nanjing, Peking and other cities.

He credited the changed atmosphere to Mao's personal assumption of leadership.

But the available evidence pointed out a pause only.

"Shanghai" where Mao's news outlets admitted anti-Mao strikes and sabotage had occurred, Liu's followers presumably were clinging to the municipal party apparatus.

Official organs for the past week charged that Shanghai party leaders had turned workers against Mao by promising higher wages and better working conditions. But the dispatches did not say these leaders had been replaced. The workers were said to be holding on to their jobs.

PCA Meets
Slated In T. F.
And Burley

More than 1,100 farmers, ranchers and business men of the Valley will be attending the annual Southern Idaho Production Credit Association meetings this week in Burley and T. F.

Burley meeting will be at noon Friday at the Elks Hall and the Twin Falls meeting at noon Saturday at the Twin Falls High School.

Highlights of the meetings will be reports on business for the past year and election of officers for the coming year.

Candidates for directors are A. L. Hanks and Wallace Banner, both Burley, and Rudolph Peterson and George L. Walt, both Buhl. Directors are elected for one-year terms and other nominations for directorships can be made from the floor by association members.

Kimberly Woman To Head U.S. CowBelles

Mrs. Russell C. (Maxine) Larsen, Kimberly, was given a special welcome Tuesday night at the Twin Falls municipal airport when she arrived home after being named president-elect of the American National CowBelles. The CowBelles membership is made up of wives of members of the American National Cattlemen's Association, and their conventions were held together in Colorado Springs, Colo., Mrs. Larsen said some 2,000 cattlemen were registered for the business meeting and more than 500 women attended the CowBelles convention.

Heading the delegation of local CowBelles and friends welcoming Mrs. Larsen was Mrs. Larry Lickley, Jerome, president of the Desert Gold CowBelles.

Mrs. Larsen organized the local group in 1965 of women from Twin Falls, Jerome and part of Owyhee Counties. She also served two years as president of the Idaho CowBelles in 1963 and 1964 and was a vice president of the national organization.

During 1967 Mrs. Larsen will work with Mrs. Wray Finney, Coib, Okla., president of the organization, and will take over duties as national president during the convention in January, 1968. She will serve through the annual convention in January, 1969, which will be held in Hawaii.

There are CowBelles organizations in 27 counties throughout the state including Hawaii, Mrs. Larsen said, and she expects to spend much of 1968 traveling to these states for business meetings and special events.

Expansion Of Trade Hit By Republicans

WASHINGTON (AP)—Shying away from frontal attacks on President Johnson's Vietnam policies, Republicans in Congress are mounting an assault on his proposal to ease East-West trade while the war goes on.

They oppose widening trade with the Soviet Union and other former Communist bloc countries, furnishing military equipment and supplies to North Vietnam.

Senate—Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen said he last weekend with Johnson's East-West trade proposals. He said he plans to discuss them and the operation of Reciprocal Trade Act in the GOP's State of the Union report Thursday night.

Sen. Earl W. Bond, R-S.D., veteran member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said a separate review is in appalled by some of the items already being shipped behind the Iron Curtain.

"We're doing this in the face of the fact that every sophisticated weapon being used in Indochina today has been built in Indochina," he said.

The deaths of many of them could be marked "made in Moscow."

Bill Increasing Minimum Wage Introduced; Study Is Set On Savings Firms

BOISE (AP)—The problem of strengthening unsecured savings and loan associations will be studied "in depth and detail" by the Idaho Senate Business Committee. Committee chairman Orval Hansen, R-Idaho, said the committee might have to retain a technical staff to conduct it "because it is so complex and beyond the part-time abilities of the members of the committee."

Two unsecured savings and loan associations have been closed in Idaho during the past year—one this week. Two others were put on a "limited withdrawal" basis by the State Department of Finance.

They are Prudent Savings and Loan Association; Burley, and Home Security Savings and Loan Association, Rexburg.

The House Education Committee chairman said Tuesday that the decision rendered Tuesday would allow University of Idaho regents to subsidize out-of-state students.

Rep. Lyle Cobbs, R-Boise, had brought a suit against the regents, charging them with not including out-of-state tuition in actual costs of educating non-resident students.

Third-District Judge Morlin S. Young said he did not have to be accounted for in settling tuition for out-of-state students.

Cobbs said he might appeal the decision. In a statement after the decision was released, he said "the university is subsidizing non-resident education to the tune of $1,600,000 a biennium."

Wayne L. Bromley, secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority, is on trial on charges of income tax evasion conspiracy and other crimes. Bromley, a former close friend and coworker of Baker's, testified Tuesday as a prosecution witness in U.S. District Court.

Today's witness was S. Keith Linden, Washington representative of Harvey Aluminum Co., of Torrance, Calif. He said Baker was retained to help out in "major industry controversy," which he did not immediately describe further.

Solons Tour New Center At Hagerman

HAGERMAN — Members of the House Education committee toured the newly built Learning Center at the Hagerman High School here Wednesday and met with Goshute County school administrators and trustees.

Headed by Lyle A. Cobbs, R-Boise, chairman, the group viewed the newly renovated facilities at the high school where the Learning Center program is being conducted.

Meeting with the solons Wednesday afternoon were superintendent of four Goshute County schools, including Dan Koller, Goshute; Marsh Row, Hilder; Roy Turner, Wendell; and George Carnie, Hagerman.

Hagerman school trustees also met with the legislators for a discussion on education. The visitors ate lunch in the school hot lunch room at the High School.

BOISE (AP)—Legislation, raising the state's minimum wage and taxing property of commercial airlines as utilities, was introduced in the Idaho Legislature today. Both bills were offered in the House. The minimum wage bill, sponsored by the House Economic Affairs Committee, would raise the state's minimum wage from $1 to $1.25 an hour. The measure, which would allow the Idaho Tax Commission to study property of airlines was sponsored by the House Revenue and Taxation Committee. Currently airlines pay no property tax. Commercial airlines pay a tax of two and one-half cents on each gallon of aviation fuel purchased in Idaho.

Addition of airlines to Idaho operating property tax base would raise an additional $70,000 to $90,000 per year. Rep. Joe Preston, R-DeLoe, chairman of the House Revenue and Taxation Committee, said.

The bill provides that the tax revenues be distributed among the taxing districts in which the stationary property of the firm is located, except on which the planes took down.

The measure carries out a recommendation of the tax commission's report to the legislature.

Revision of the controversial bill enacted in 1965 which required licensing and bonding of most contractors was introduced in the Senate. Also pending in the Senate is a measure introduced earlier which would repeal the law.

The act never has been enforced. It was challenged in Third District court and dismissed. Mr. Menghini came to Twin Falls from Montana. (Times-News photo)

Also introduced in the Senate was a proposed constitutional amendment which would reduce from six months to 60 days the residence requirement of persons voting in an election.

Idaho a few years ago changed the residence requirement for persons voting for president, making it 60 days. Sen. John M. Barker, R-Buhl, chairman of the Elections Committee which introduced the bill, said sponsors of the measure requirement should apply to voters in any election.

T. F. Bank, Trust Notes Good Year

Another successful year at the Twin Falls Bank and Trust Co. was reported Tuesday by Harry Eaton, president and chairman of the board of directors.

Mr. Eaton said at the first annual stockholders' meeting that the bank ended 1966 with total resources of $2,820,310. It was announced another $100,000 addition to surplus brought the capital and surplus of the bank to $1,060,000. Total assets of $2,820,310 were announced.

Elected as directors during the meeting were Glen Briggs, Tatum; Charles W. Link, Hansen; Willard Rees and R. D. McKinney, both Kimberly, and Harry Eaton, Curtis Eaton and Ivan Skinner, all Twin Falls.

J. G. Bradley, Kimberly, was elected director emeritus. The board of directors will hold an organizational meeting on Jan. 26.

Basketball Comic Dies of Seizure

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Reece (Gosse) Tatum, who became world-famous as a court jester for the Harlem basketball team, died at an El Paso hospital Wednesday after an apparent heart seizure at his home. He was 46.

Tatum had been in the hospital Jan. 41 for treatment of what was described as a liver ailment.

At the time of his death Tatum had his own basketball team, the Harlem Road Kings.

The flight was successful. Eight minutes after launching, the control center reported the upper stage of the Titan, called the trans stage had settled with its payload attached into an initial orbit about 100 miles above the earth.

About six hours after launching, six krig devices were to split the satellites free one by one so they gradually would drift apart to encircle the globe.

The 100-pound satellites were to join seven others launched by a Titan 3 last June. The first seven are relaying traffic through eight ground stations including two in Vietnam.

The eight new satellites were scheduled to become operational next summer after testing.

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—A missile shock wave was responsible for a strange aerial display viewed throughout the southwest Tuesday night.

An Air Force spokesman said the missile was an experimental re-entry vehicle launched by an Atlas booster rocket.

As the missile reached an altitude of about 750 miles, he said, it created a ball-shaped shock wave that was illuminated by the sun.

Observers said the phenomenon was seen throughout California and in parts of Nevada, Arizona and Utah.

Arctic Air Numbs Section From Rockies To Appalachians

By The Associated Press
A blast of arctic air, the coldest of the winter, numbed a vast stretch of the nation today from the Rockies to the Appalachians.

The bitter cold not records for the date in parts of the Midwest, caused some power failures and stalled automobiles.

In Chicago, where the mercury dipped to -10 degrees, police said reports of crime during the night were far below normal because would-be lawbreakers apparently preferred the warmth of their homes.

Chicago auto clubs were swamped with calls from owners unable to start their vehicles. Toll roads police in the Chicago area reported numerous cars stalled in traffic when their gas lines froze.

In Long Prairie, Minn., radio station KJRH, was off the air for four hours after its antenna cable contracted and broke in -28 degree weather. William Larson, station manager, said the severe cold "took every bit of slack out of the cable."

The temperature hit an unofficial low of -54 degrees in Philadelphia, Wis. Hillyard, Minn., had -47. The Milwaukee weather Bureau's observer in Nellville, Wis., reported -46.

Unusually cold in Illinois. In Chicago, some 3,000 families were without electricity early this morning when a power line snapped on the North Branch River. The power was restored to the cold weather by the Commonwealth Edison Co. The temperature dropped to 10 below at O'Hare International Airport.

In Michigan Tuesday, it took four diesel power units to haul the Milwaukee Road's three-car Copper Country Limited to the end of the rail line at Cabernet, Mich. Two of the diesels were disabled plowing their way through snow from Chicago.

All of Michigan's main roads were open, although blowing snow caused slippery spots and limited traffic to one-lane in places.

Likely rain fell ahead of the snow in a line from Louisiana into Alabama.

Skies were mostly clear over the Southwest through the south Atlantic states and over the Iridid Midwest.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 31 below zero at Alexandria, Minn., and Bismarck, N.D. to 71 at Miami.

Expansion Of Trade Hit By Republicans

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sliding away from front attacks on President Johnson's Vietnam policies, Republicans in Congress are mounting an assault on his proposal to expand East-West trade while the war goes on.

They oppose widening trade with the Soviet Union and other Iron Curtain countries that are buying military equipment and supplies to North Vietnam.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen said he isn't pleased with Johnson's East-West trade proposals. He said his plans to discuss them and the operation of "Reciprocal Trade Act in the GOP 'State of the Union' report Thursday night.

Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., veteran member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said in a separate interview he is appalled by some of the items presently being shipped behind the Iron Curtain.

Testimony Given In Baker Trial

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Washington representative for aluminum interests testified today that under an off-the-record deal, Bobby Baker was retained for $1,000 a month by the firm's lawyers to make the checks were made out to Wayne L. Bromley.

Baker, former secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority, is on trial on charges of income tax evasion, conspiracy and other crimes. Bromley, a former lobbyist and now lawyer of Baker's, testified Tuesday as a prosecution witness in U.S. District Court.

Today's witness was S. Keith Latta, Washington representative of Harvey Aluminum Co., of Torrance, Calif. He said Baker was retained to help in a deal for industry contracts, which he did not immediately describe further.

Solons Tour New Center At Hagerman

HAGERMAN—Members of the House Education Committee toured the Individualized Learning Center at the Hagerman High School here Wednesday and met with Gooding County school administrators and trustees.

Headed by Lyle A. Cobbs, R-Boise, chairman of the group, they viewed the newly remodeled facility at the high school where an experimental program is in operation.

The program is designed to determine effects of highly individualized learning methods on rural students.

Members of the solons Wednesday afternoon were superintendent of Gooding County schools, including Don Keller, Gooding; Marvin Rose, Bliss; Ray Turner, Wendell; and George Carlin, Hagerman.

Hagerman school trustees also met with the legislators for a discussion on education. The visitors ate lunch in the school lunch room at the High School.

Bill Increasing Minimum Wage Introduced; Study Is Set On Savings Firms

BOISE (AP)—The problem of strengthening uninsured savings and loan associations will be studied "in depth and detail" by the Idaho Senate Business Committee. Committee chairman Orval Hansen, R-Idaho Falls, said the committee might have to retain a technical staff to conduct it, "because it is so complex and beyond the part-time abilities of the members of the committee."

Two uninsured savings and loan associations have been closed in Idaho during the past year—one this week. Two others were put on a "limited withdrawal" basis by the State Department of Finance.

They are Prudential Savings and Loan Association, Burley, and Home Security Savings and Loan Association, Rexburg.

The House Education Committee chairman said a district court decision rendered Tuesday would allow University of Idaho regents to subsidize out-of-state students.

Ray Lyle Cobbs, R-Boise, had brought a suit against the regents, charging them with not adjusting out-of-state tuition to actual costs of educating non-resident students.

Third District Judge Merlin S. Young said costs did not have to be accounted for in setting tuition for out-of-state students.

Cobbs said he might appeal the decision. In a statement after the decision was released, he said "the university is subsidizing non-resident education to the tune of $1,600,000 a biennium."

A bill exempting prescription drugs from the sales tax was introduced in the House Tuesday by 14 Democratic representatives. A second bill dealing with the tax was introduced by Sen. Lyle Cobbs, R-Plymouth, and Clay Sutton, D-Midvale.

The bill would allow residents of states bordering Idaho who do not have sales taxes to make purchases in Idaho without paying the sales tax—provided they live within 25 miles of the border.

The drug exemption was recommended by the Interim Tax Policy Committee of the House Legislature, and was urged by Gov. Don W. Samuelson during his gubernatorial campaign.

Sen. J. Burns Beal, R-Moore, was announced as the Senate's representative on the education commission of the states by Lt. Gov. Jack Murphy. Beal is on the Senate Education Committee.

House members voted 67-0 to urge Congress to permit Farmington Administration to continue to be made for improvement of desert entry claims before they are patented.

A resolution proposing annual legislative sessions was sent to the House floor by the State Affairs Committee, which recommended its passage. If passed by two-thirds majorities of both houses, it will be placed on the next general election ballot.

The act never has been enforced. It was challenged in Third District Court and declared unconstitutional and an appeal to the State Supreme Court is pending.

Also introduced in the Senate was a proposed constitutional amendment which would reduce from six months to 60 days the residence requirement of persons voting in any election in Idaho.

A few years ago changed the residence requirement for persons voting for president, making it 60 days.

Sen. John H. Benson, R-Buhl, chairman of the Elections Committee which introduced the bill, said sponsors carried the same figures and should apply to voters in any election.

T. F. Bank, Trust Notes Good Year

Another successful year at the Twin Falls Bank and Trust Co. was reported Tuesday by Harry Eaton, president and chairman of the board of directors.

At the 61st annual stockholders' meeting that the bank ended 1966 with total resources of $28,930,330. It was announced that $100,000 addition to surplus brought the capital and surplus of the bank to $1,000,000. This total with $300,000 remaining in the undivided profit account makes a total capital fund of $2,600,000, exclusive of reserves and after payment of $42,000 dividend to stockholders.

Elected as directors during the meeting were Glen Briggs, Murtagh; Charlotte Link, Hunsdon; William R. Barker, Buhl; McKinney; and Kimberly, and Harry Eaton, Curtis Eaton and Ivan Skinner, all Twin Falls.

J. G. Bradley, Kimberly, was elected director emeritus. The board of directors will hold an organizational meeting on Jan. 26.

Arctic Air Numbs Section From Rockies To Appalachians

By The Associated Press

A blast of Arctic air, the coldest of the winter, numbed vast stretches of the nation today from the Rockies to the Appalachians.

The bitter cold not records for the date in parts of the Midwest, caused some power failures and stalled automobiles.

In Chicago, where the mercury dipped to -10 degrees, police said reports of crime during the night were far below normal because winter breakers apparently preferred the warmth of their homes.

Chicago auto clubs were swamped with calls from owners unable to start their vehicles. Toll road police in the Chicago area reported numerous cars stalled in traffic when their gas lines froze.

In Long Prairie, Minn., radio station KZJH, was off the air for four hours after its antenna cable contracted and broke in -28 degree weather.

William Larson, station manager, said the severe cold "took every bit of slack out of the cable."

The temperature hit an unofficial low of -62 degrees in Phillips, Wis. Hibbing, Minn., had -47.

The Milwaukee Weather Bureau's observer in Northville, Wis., reported -36.

Department stores in Milwaukee, Wis., reported a run on players and equipment for the 20-mile wind, coupled with low temperatures. "Just blew the heat right out of the buildings" according to a spokesman for the Wisconsin Game Co.

At Hibbing, Minn., it was 44 below zero early this morning. International Falls, Minn., had 33 below and it was 31 below in the Twin Cities of Minneapolis and St. Paul.

In Chicago, some 3,600 families were without power early this morning when a power or the snapped on the Northwest Side. The accident was blamed on the bitter weather by the Commonwealth Edison Co. The temperature dropped to 10 below at O'Hare International Airport.

In Michigan Tuesday, it took four diesel power units to haul the Milwaukee Road's three-car Copper Country Limited to the call for Calumet, Mich. Two of the diesels were disabled plowing their way through snow from Chicago.

All of Michigan's major roads were open, although blowing snow caused slippery spots and clogged traffic to one-lane in places.

The air was bitter in northern New England and upstate New York this morning.

Temperatures dropped to 9 below in Albany, N.Y., and the St. Lawrence Valley. Snow squalls, moving with icy gusts, peppered the Great Lakes region. Two inches of new snow were recorded at Marquette and Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan.

Legislation which would establish state support for the regional airport concept has not yet been introduced, but it "will not be a forgotten issue," this session, Twin Falls County's legislative delegation reported Tuesday.

The regional airport issue was one of several brought up at the first Chamber of Commerce Legislative Luncheon for this session Tuesday noon in American Legion Hall.

Both Rep. Jack Claiborn, State Affairs Committee, and Rep. William Roberts, Transportation and Defense Committee, said nothing concerning regional airports has shown up in their committees so far.

Rep. William Lanting promised, however, that it "will not be forgotten issue," and added he is sure it will be considered before the legislature adjourns. Some 40 persons gathered at Legion Hall to discuss activities of the legislature with the local discussion by individually reporting on their committee assignments and outlining important matters they expect to face.

Following this introduction, members of the luncheon group were given a chance to ask questions on matters particularly concerning them.

Some of the questions covered several written in and asked by William Grange, chairman of the chamber's Legislative Committee, and others directly from the floor were:

Q.—What are chances for legislation on exemptions from the sales tax in this session?

A.—It is almost assured that prescription drugs will be exempted; it appears there is considerable sentiment to do away with the occasional sales provision on automobiles, and the fate of a bill to eliminate sales tax on automobiles remains very much in question. — Rep. Lanting.

Q.—What are prospects for expanding the highway bond from three to five members?

A.—There has been no definite indication of sentiment on this yet, and there will be considerable further talk and hearings before the matter comes to a head. — Rep. Roberts.

Q.—What is the possibility of legislation setting up a state aeronautics commission, similar to the Highway Commission?

A.—This is a completely new idea that has not come up in talk at the legislature, and any move to initiate it probably will have to come from outside sources.

Q.—What is the sentiment in the legislature for yearly sessions?

A.—Feeling is favorable in the committee considering the bill, but what will develop in floor debate cannot be foreseen at this time.

Q.—What is in prospect on Boise College becoming part of the state system of universities?

A.—It appears Boise College wants to keep its junior college status and still be considered as a four-year institution. — Rep.

Lincoln, Education Committee.

Q.—What is the reaction to legislation proposed to regulate use of trading stamps?

A.—Mail from constituents is running light on the savings stamp issue. — Rep. Roberts.

There is not nearly the heat there was six years ago. — Rep. Lanting.

Legislators advised those present that anyone wanting to testify at any hearing before any of the committees during the legislature should either write or telephone a member of the legislature delegating.

Committee assignments of the Twin Falls County delegation are:

Sen. Richard High—Finance; Industry, Labor and Economic Development, and Irrigation and Reclamation.

Sen. John Barker—Printing.

Area Baptists Have Meet For Workers

The Magic Valley Baptist Association held a regular monthly workers conference Tuesday at the First Southern Baptist Church.

B. D. Sumpter, association Sunday school superintendent, was in charge of the program, "Deeper With God Through Sunday School."

Mrs. Clyde Benson, Glens Ferry, spoke on teaching primaries. Mrs. Phil Crider, Twin Falls, spoke on leading junior girls to faithfulness, and Mrs. William Henry, Glens Ferry, spoke on ministering through extension.

The primary message of the session, reaching adults through Sunday School, was relayed by Herb Hallinger, Burley.

Male Telephone Operators Employed By California Firm In Experiment

LOS ANGELES—(NEA)—If you dial "0" and a man answers, don't hang up. He could be one of the new long-distance operators.

The General Telephone Co., which services much of Los Angeles and Southern California, is experimenting with the possibility of using male operators. After two months, both the company and the men are happy. The only people unhappy are a few operators in other areas and the customers who refuse to believe it.

It all began with Mary Jane Pavlik, the chief operator in the company's West Los Angeles traffic office. She employs some 200 operators and, mostly she hires high school girls and trains them.

As the company grows, she finds it more and more difficult to find girls. So she thought it might be a good idea to hire college boys for what she calls "the odd-ball shifts"—difficult hours.

A call to college placement offices and an ad in the local papers and she had a swarm of applicants. In October, she hired 19 young men and they all were doing well. Two have since gone into the service, but the others are, she says, excellent operators. There will be more.

One of the men, 33-year-old

Ronald Lee Hunter, may soon be a supervisor. He's been studying for his master's degree at UCLA, but his wife is expecting a child in the spring. He asked Mrs. Pavlik if he could switch from part-time to full-time employment—continuing his college work on a part-time basis—and she agreed.

"I think," she says, "that it would be a good thing to have a male supervisor."

Men, she adds, learn fast. They are competent about their work and have a good effect on the girl operators. She has noticed some improvement in dress and personal appearance. And, too, she thinks the girls are working harder, because of the competition.

Paul DeLonge is typical of the boys. At 23, he's a senior at UCLA, majoring in economics. He applied for the job after reading the ad because he needed to supplement his income. His pay scale is adjustable to educational credits, but has nothing to do with sex—and works from 7 a.m. to 1 p.m. five days a week and goes to classes at night.

He likes telephone work and hopes to get into the executive training program after he is graduated. His experience as an operator won't hurt.

"I like the work," DeLonge says. "And I like the girls—particularly true of the Mexico City operators, who still ask to speak to a supervisor before they'll do any business."

The customers, he finds, are momentarily disconcerted at hearing a male voice performing the operator's function. Often they think they are being kidded. One woman, DeLonge remembers, asked him how old he was and said she had an 18-year-old daughter who would be just right for him.

DeLonge says he is surprised at the complexity of the job. He has to fill out an IBM card for every long-distance call, and he didn't expect so much clerical work. Even so, boredom presents a problem.

As for the morale in the West Los Angeles traffic office, Mrs. Pavlik says it has never been higher.

"Officially," she says, "I do not know of any romances. But, unofficially, I've seen a few things."

Operators in other cities have found it hard to believe that the men were really phone company employees. This has been

The Red Curbs

Talks with key Asians in Thailand, Vietnam, Japan, the Philippines and Laos make one thing clear: East Asia now has within itself the resources to develop into a bloc of nations with the economic, political and military strength to hold back Communist subversion with a minimum of outside help. This would cut down the likelihood of new Vietnam and Korea-type wars in the area. Japan has the ability to supply in considerable amount the financial, technical, organizational and developmental leadership needed to get this bloc started.

The tragedy is that Japan has been emotionally uncertain about its ability to assume that leadership role. The Japanese lack self-confidence. In the era after the Spanish-American War the United States had the same doubts and hesitancy, though for different reasons. The Japanese have special reasons for their doubts. They recall World War I when Japanese troops occupied considerable military areas. Resentment built up against the Japanese. Therefore, too Japanese worry about how Southeast Asians would react now to Japanese leadership.

Many Japanese also do not want to become involved. They fear involvement might lead to war. They have had enough of war. The Japanese did not attend the Manila Summit Conference or send an observer (though leading Japanese did ask friends to bring them private reports on conference results). The Japanese, nevertheless, are hesitantly moving forward. A Japanese has taken the presidency of the newly Asian Development Bank. Japanese business associations are moving into joint ventures in India, Thailand, the Philippines, Australia and New Zealand. They're looking hopefully at Indonesia.

But Japanese agricultural experts could make a major contribution in South Vietnam, Thailand, Burma, and in the free areas of Laos. Japanese bankers have the know-how to radically improve farm-area banking practices in these same lands. This would bring help to farmers attracted to the Communists because they're never able to get out of debt to money lenders. Japanese manufacturers have know-how in the type of small industry that Vietnam, Thailand, Laos, the Philippines, Burma, India and Pakistan need now to develop if they are to attain the economic stability necessary to block Communist subversive insurgency.

Japan has developed a mass education system and men with the ability to help other Asians develop their schools. The most important of all Japanese have shown a capacity for organization scarce in many parts of Asia. Top U.S. officials are convinced it is in the United States' interest that Asians themselves take the lead in developing a free bloc to develop free Asia's economic, military and political strength. Far East leadership, U.S. officials believe, will attract countries reluctant to join a U.S.-led grouping. An Asian-led bloc would encourage the Asians nation to do more for itself and for its neighbors. American experts hope there would be less "let the United States do it" feeling.

BEAUTIFUL—A LITTLE LATER

There are a variety of ways a lady can make herself less attractive. They include stretch pants or short, short shorts that are overstuffed. . . . a diaphanous negligee. . . . high pitched shrieks and giggles from too many Martinis. . . . far-jug halders or world clothes. . . . But for guaranteed strain on feminine allure you just can't beat the good old hair curler—with or without those quaint covering caps, which can deglorify any gal by themselves. . . . Just why the ladies are willing to appear in public looking like this is beyond the comprehension of mere man. . . . But there may be a clue in the story of the bride who showed up for the wedding with her hair in curlers, . . . "What on earth?" gasped her bridesmaid. . . . "Well, for heaven's sake," replied the bride, "don't you think I want to look my best for the wedding reception?" . . . And that, gentlemen, is just of what makes the girls so delightfully mystifying.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

By ANFREW TULLY

WASHINGTON—This is going to be a grumbling Congress which is unlikely to give President Johnson what he wants—without a lot of petulant horsing around. If there is one thing Johnson can be sure of, it is that his desire for more of the Union message has been digested on both sides of the aisle. It is that he will be given a hard time by Democrats and some conservatives. Consider the matter come to a vote today, for example, Johnson's proposed 5 per cent surtax on income taxes would have about the same chance as Adam Clayton Powell being elected governor of Mississippi. Republicans insist he has made no case for the increase, while Democrats are either reluctant to vote more money to support the Great Society or they are simply penalizing the individual to the benefit of the good corporations.

DEMOCRATS DIVIDED—Republican opposition to the tax boost, which was predicted, presumably could be, overrun by the Democratic majority. But the majority is not united. Moreover, some influential Democrats sound as if they plan to vote against the bill. One Clinton Anderson, the liberal from New Mexico, who is a key member of the Finance Committee. As of now, Anderson favors increasing corporate taxes and letting the individual have free ride, when a Senator in Anderson's earlier position says he wants to take a "long hard look" at the tax proposal, Johnson's is in trouble.

The wholesale slaughter of Democratic candidates last November also has caused Democrats to fix a jaundiced eye on the Great Society programs. Sen. J. W. Fulbright of Arkansas spoke for this group when he said, "I'm not going to vote for a tax increase to support some of the Great Society's programs." Mail and other voter reaction have told these politicians that there is wide disenchantment with the programs.

UNEASY FUTURE—Aside from the political aspect, which is always present, there are indications world-wide that business is slowing down. In the United States new soft spots in the economy keep appearing, and this is among many economists is that higher taxes might depress the economy further. Indeed, some economic experts are now publicly afraid of a recession. The Federal Reserve System has shifted to an easier credit policy after the Commerce Department predicted a drop in business spending for new plant and equipment in 1967.

Both Republicans and Democrats are remembering their history, which shows that American depressions usually begin abroad. In Europe, the big boom has definitely come to a halt. The situation is revealing a number of inflationary forces. One sign: Automobile sales are down in Great Britain and on the Continent as well as in the United States.

$300 MILLION LITTLE TO LIBERALS—Meanwhile, the President is also getting it in the neck from some liberal sources because of the $300 million increase in the current $1.1 billion anti-poverty program budget. This ironic, since he had been urged by many of these same liberals to concentrate on increasing the effectiveness of the program rather than on a recession. Some liberal Democratic politicians are now concerned about the effect of their individual constituencies of an anti-poverty slowdown.

For Johnson, some of these political repercussions will be eased by his request for a 20-per cent increase in the President's salary to take effect July 1. Rep. Gerald Ford, Republican leader in the House, has complained that Johnson failed to say how he would increase the salary. "It is a little bit of a hard sell," one of his aides has heard very loudly. Critics of Santa Claus never get far.

Overall, however, the new Congress is a cautious one, with overtones of a new conservatism. It is not likely to come as was provided by the vote for a new secretary of the Democratic caucus in the Senate. Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia, a conservative, defeated liberal Joe Clark of Pennsylvania, 35 to 28.

Views Of Others

THE GURKHAS ARE GOING
No more significant sign of the times has appeared than a recent Associated Press dispatch from London. Prime Minister Harold Wilson, as a measure of economy, planned to trim the 14,500-strong brigade of Gurkhas to a force of not more than 10,000. These courageous mountaineers were first recruited in 1815, during World War I, the Gurkhas left 20,000 dead on the battlefields of France. In World War II, they fought in Italy, North Africa, Burma and Malaya.

But, as Great Britain eases out of her commitments east of Suez and withdraws as a world power, she will have less use for the fighting Gurkhas. Nepal, like Scotland, has found its own a probable export. Gurkha soldiers have traditionally sent home substantial portions of their wages to support their families. The reduction in Gurkha enlistments in the British army may affect adversely the economy of Nepal—unless Gurkhas soldiers find profitable employment elsewhere. Their romantic record in the British army is now drawing to a close. Kipling's words have greater poignancy than when he wrote them: "I, all our pomp and circumstance, as well as Ninewash and Tyne." —Washington (D. C.) Post.

A LOOK AT THE CLOUDS
Upon his resignation as assistant Secretary of Defense for public affairs, Arthur Sylvester will be explaining what he meant when he defended the Government's right to lie during the Cuban missile crisis. This is "more likely to add confusion than to dispel criticism."

But there is one thing Mr. Sylvester never was confused about. That was his responsibility as a spokesman for the Defense Department. It is not to put the Department's best foot forward rather than its worst. His primary concern was not the unadmitted truth but the well-pressed lie. That is the concern of press agents everywhere.

If newsmen who criticized him suspected he did not provide them with what they want all times, it was their responsibility to find it out. If they also felt that he tried to "manage the news," as some did, it was their task to see that his words and actions were as consistent as were not officially managed. . . . Considering that the duty of official press spokesmen is to impress the press, and the duty of the press is not to be impressed, Mr. Sylvester should justly be granted his wish in newsmen to be "unavailable" position and look at the clouds for a while. —St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Interpreting The News

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Eight years in public life, giving their views on how to handle the war in Vietnam, produced a hodge-podge. But at least it gave an insight into the lonely job of President Johnson who must make the decisions. The most indisputable fact of the war so far is that Johnson, criticized no matter what he does, can't please everyone if only because, it seems, every man has his own ideas on what should be done. . . .

He thought this should be done, he said, even at the risk of war with Red China and the Soviet Union. But the Republicans' Senate leaders, Everett Dirksen, expressed misgivings about another part of the struggle with the North Vietnamese Communists. Dirksen on ABC's "Issues and Answers," didn't oppose the bombing but questioned whether the Johnson administration is prepared for an end to the fighting. . . .

Edward W. Brooke of Massachusetts was less emphatic. He sounded more undecided. He called for a re-evaluation of the bombing policy. He said he would stop the bombing if it brought peace or led to a favor re-evaluation. . . .

Fire District Election Set At Richfield

RICHFIELD—Fire district sponsors at Richfield are making plans for a fire district election Monday night at the city and highway offices, William (Bill) Morgan, rural fire protection representative chairman, reports.

Pledges from community organizations and business houses were made and deadline for giving pledges set for Monday.

Edmund Schmidt and Clifford Ranner were named as contact men for pledges. Eugene Alexander and Albert Felley, other members of the rural fire district organization board, assisted at the meeting.

Pledge money will be used for advertising the coming mill election for forming a joint rural and city fire district. The meeting was well attended by organization representatives, Morgan said.

Organizations and businesses donating to date, include the Elks Club, Grange, Burnham Club, Legion and North End Club.

Death Takes G. W. Randall At Age Of 62

SPRINGDALE—George W. Randall, 62, trucker and farmer in the Springdale community, died Monday in Salt Lake City LDS Hospital after surgery.

He was born Nov. 3, 1894, in Upton, Utah, and came to Idaho with his mother in 1918. They settled in Burley where he has lived since. He was graduated from Burley High School and married Edna Hanson in the Elks Temple Sept. 20, 1934.

Mr. Randall was an active member of the LDS Church, serving a mission in the Southern states in 1925-28. He was Scoutmaster, president of the MIA and superintendent of the Sunday school.

Survivors include his widow, one son, Wayne Randall, Decatur, and four daughters, Mrs. Kenneth Johnson, Heyburn, Mrs. Fred Johnson, Springdale, Mrs. Mabel Reese, Salt Lake City, Mrs. Hilda Holskoek, Burley, and Mrs. Margaret Dixon, Emmett, Wyo., and eight grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted at 1 p. m. Friday in the Springdale LDS Chapel by Rev. Horace Coltrin. Final rites will be held in Pleasant View Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Payne Mortuary, Burley, Thursday afternoon and evening and Friday until time of services.

Rabbits Win

MELBOURNE (AP)—Rabbits are winning the battle against extermination by rickettsiosis, a virus introduced in the 1850s, and pasturelands of southeast Australia again are threatened. Officials report the effectiveness has dropped from 80 per cent to 50 in many areas, and breeding is outstripping losses from the virus.

Gooding To Host Revival Meetings

GODDING—Revival and evangelistic meetings will begin Sunday at the First Southern Baptist Church here with Rev. Larry Maxwell, pastor at Glenns Ferry, as speaker each evening.

Formerly of Gooding, Rev. Maxwell was graduated from Wayland Baptist College, Plainview, Texas, and has served the Glenns Ferry church for several years. He serves as association training union director for the Triple Valley Baptist Association.

Milford Miller, music director at the Gooding church, will lead the singing. A former Burley resident, he was graduated from the University of Idaho, Moscow.

Loss Noted

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The Mexican Association of Importers and representatives of beverages and foods complained that of 272,886 cases of Scotch imported last year in Mexico, 97,000 were bootlegged into the country. The organization said Mexican customs thus lost $3.2 million, not to mention their own losses.

MAN ARRAIGNED
BOISE (AP)—A former Idaho Falls man was arraigned Monday before U.S. District Judge Ray McNichols on a charge of being false withholding exemption certificates.

George H. Soter was charged with three counts, pleaded no contest to the first and the other two were dropped, according to the district office of the Internal Revenue Service.

Soter was sentenced to 30 days in jail, but since his arraignment, he has been freed.

WELL GIVEN UP
POCATELLO (AP)—What started out to be a new city well on the east bench has turned out to be only an expensive hole in the ground.

City Manager William Webb said Tuesday he has given up hope of finding a significant amount of water in the well drilled near the Franklin Junior High School.

"The driller quit last week," Webb said. "We were only able to get about 200 gallons per minute, and the water wasn't very good quality."

WARRANT GIVEN
BOISE (AP)—State Park Director Wilhelm M. Becker Tuesday issued a federal warrant for $81,620.

He said the money represents a portion of the federal match on the funds allocated for development of Farragut State Park as a federal recreation project.

The park is being prepared for the War Boy Scout Jamboe to be held next August. Becker said that so far $200,000 has been received by the park department from the federal government for the Farragut project.

Guests Attend Grange Meet At Hagerman

HAGERMAN—Thirteen members of the Gooding Grange and three members of the Orchard Valley Grange were guests at a meeting of the Hagerman Grange Monday evening with Charles Moskove, master in charge.

Mrs. James Holt and William Scruggs served as secretary and treasurer in the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Pollard, and Mrs. Nora Clifford was Elora in the absence of Mrs. Joseph Oliveira.

A discussion was held on the proposition to repeal the inventory tax. Mrs. Ted Bell urged members to use this time, before spring work starts, to enter the needle work contest. The state entries include children's play clothes, any kind of pot-lifters, and the baking contest will be Idaho fruit bread containing at least one Idaho fruit.

The centennial candle was lighted by Mrs. Malcolm Henry, Hagerman lecturer.

Members of the Gooding Grange presented an exchange program, under the direction of Mrs. Delma Eden, lecturer. A reading was given by Mrs. K. I. Butler, Mrs. Vera Johnson played several violin selections, accompanied by Mrs. Eden, Vernon Baumgartner and Maurice Capps presented a humorous story.

Stories were told by Capp, Gooding Grange master; Howard Niccum, Pomona Grange master, and Omar Schmidt, Orchard Valley master.

Members of the Hagerman Grange served refreshments. The next meeting will be Feb. 6 and Mrs. Henry urged all members to attend as a practice will be held for the exchange program which Hagerman Grange members will give Feb. 7 for the Wendell Grange.

MOTORISTS ADVISED
BOISE (AP)—Motorists were advised Wednesday to "keep your eye on the other guy." He's the big question mark in traffic.

"It isn't enough to obey the law and mind your own business," said A. E. Perkins, state police superintendent. "You have a responsibility to prevent an accident if you can—even if the other fellow is at fault."

ELECT PRESIDENT
BOISE (AP)—Ted Capener, corporate news director of KSL radio and television in Salt Lake City, was elected president of the Utah-Idaho Associated Press Broadcasters Association at the organization's annual winter meeting which ended Tuesday.

The new vice president is Dale Smith, owner of KGVM, an FM radio station in Idaho Falls.

The association went on record in support of proposed legislation which would prohibit project reporters from disclosing their information sources.

BRIDGE DAMAGED
ROSE LAKE, Idaho (AP)—The Rose Lake Bridge on State Highway 3 was damaged Tuesday by a truck carrying an excessively high load.

The bridge in North Idaho will be closed to heavy trucks in excess of 10,000 lbs. gross weight for about 10 days because of the accident, the state highway department said Tuesday.

The bridge is about six and one-half miles south of Rose Lake and crosses the Coeur d'Alene River north of St. Maries.

LOW BID TOLD
BOISE (AP)—State Highway Department announced Tuesday J. F. Kenon Construction Co., Inc., Lewiston, submitted the apparent low bid on a North-Idaho project.

The work, for which Kenon bid $31,510, involves providing of aggregate surfacing and cover coat material in stockpiles adjacent to State Highway 5 and U.S. Highway 5A in the vicinity of Heyburn-Parker-Parker-Pass and St. Maries, in Benewah County.

JURY CHOSEN
WALLACE, Idaho (AP)—An all-white jury was chosen Tuesday to hear the trial of Mrs. Marguerite Ann Saunders of Kellogg, who is accused of using her car as a weapon to injure a Shoshone County man.

Mrs. Saunders was charged with aggravated battery after an incident last Oct. 28 on the North St. 71st road west of Kellogg. She was accused of dragging Oils J. Orth of Enaville along the road with her small pickup car, then turning around and running into him.

Orth was hospitalized for several days after the incident.

STUDY ORDERED
BOISE (AP)—The State Land Board ordered Tuesday a study of potential water pollution projects involving state-owned land at Payette Lake.

The board instructed acting Land-Commissioner William G. Terrell to obtain from city officials at McCall and from the state health administrator, Dr. Terrell O. Carver, information regarding the pollution threat and steps needed to remove it.

Atty. Gen. Allan G. Shepard brought the matter to the attention of the board. He said the state was involved because it owns about 200 lots which have been leased for summer homesites adjacent to the lake.

Ship Cattle
OTTAWA (AP)—The foreign aid office will ship Canadian cattle valued at $400,000 to Italy to help farmers hit by the disastrous November floods.

Foreign Secretary Paul Martin told the House of Commons. Another $100,000 has been allocated to Italy for aid of a kind to be decided upon, he added.

Utah Police Hunt Man In Kidnap Case

PROVO, Utah (AP)—Police searched today for a man identified as James Winkle, 27, of Spanish Fork, wanted on a charge of second degree kidnaping in connection with the abduction of two Brigham Young University coeds Saturday.

The Utah county attorney's office issued a complaint and warrant for Winkle, but said he had left home for an unknown destination. Police said Winkle is believed to be the man who forced Candace Spaulding of Provo and Leslie Campbell of Culver City, Calif., to drive 350 miles. The trip was from Provo south to Soldier Summit (the road to Price in central Utah), then back north to the Wyoming border, and then back to the Provo area again.

Authorities said neither of the girls—both 20-year-old sophomores—was molested. They were back in Provo Saturday night after their seven-hour trip at gun point.

The girls said they picked up their abductor on the way to a ski resort.

Bridge Collapses In Rome, 2 Die

ROME (AP)—The central arches of a 144-year-old stone bridge on the Appian Way collapsed early today, dropping two automobiles into the rubble 200 feet below.

Police and firemen worked by searchlights until dawn and recovered the bodies of the two drivers.

The span, 18 miles south of Rome, gave way with a roar like an explosion a few minutes after midnight.

Benefit Hike Would Cost $3.2 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Social Security Administration says a 20 per cent average increase in Social Security benefits as proposed by President Johnson would cost $3.2 billion the first year.

It said that lifting the minimum monthly payment from $4 to $70 as Johnson suggested would cost about $700 million.

Other items in the President's $4.1 billion Social Security increase package would be relatively inexpensive, officials said in answer to questions from Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del.

The agency did not say how it is proposed to finance the increases.

Republicans Push Newest Colleagues

By WALTER R. MEARS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republicans have set out to try to propel their newest colleagues into roles of prominence and a GOP veteran says the five freshmen will be key to the party's next presidential nominee.

Sen. Thurston-B. Morton—of Kentucky, who campaigned for all five, and took the lion's share of energy will provide a boost for the 1968 GOP ticket, who ever is on it.

Sen. George Murphy of California, who succeeded as chairman of the Senate Republican Campaign Committee, wants to see the new GOP senators take a big share of the party's speechmaking and fundraising duties in the months ahead.

The GOP's Senate newcomers are Edward W. Brooke of Massachusetts, Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon, Charles H. Percy of Illinois, Clifford P. Hansen of Wyoming and Howard W. Baker Jr. of Tennessee.

Murphy chose two of the freshmen — Hansen and Percy — to help represent the party on a national television program Monday night. The other spokesman was Sen. Peter H. Dominick of Colorado, who will be up for re-election in 1968.

Morton has offered some staff assistance for new GOP senators, too, in dealing with Capitol newsmen and in staffing their own offices.

Morton said in an interview that his major effort will be to secure worthwhile committee posts for the newcomers.

"I do feel a responsibility," he said. "I told their constituents that they were going to be a growing trend" for the North Vietnamese to disperse their key supplies and antiaircraft batteries among heavily populated areas in hopes of avoiding bombing.

The policy apparently works, the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff told a newsmen's dinner.

"In certain instances this makes installations immune to attack," Wheeler noted, "because our policy is not to attack populated areas per se."

"This is a rough game," the four-star general added, "particularly if the targets happen to be antiaircraft batteries. If it's only a few barrels of fire, it doesn't make much difference."

Wheeler said the growing North Vietnamese trend amounts to a tribute to the effectiveness of American bombings, which he described as an "integral and indispensable part of our operations against the North Vietnamese." Another sign of the effectiveness, he said, is the increasing enemy propaganda complaints.

"And now to escape it, and to seek more propagandist fuel," Wheeler added, the enemy is turning "his own population into hostages."

The general's remarks apparently were aimed at the public outcry over communist charges that American bombers killed and injured more than 100 civilians during raids near Hanoi on Dec. 13 and 14. U.S. officials later placed two key targets at Hanoi off-limits.

In a wide-ranging news conference after his speech, Wheeler told a questioner that the recent news stories about pilferage and corruption among the Vietnamese aid shipments to South Vietnam are "causing more gas pains than a fow."

"It's an understandable situation which we wish to eradicate," the general said, adding that most of the pilferage trouble has been in nonmilitary areas.

Baseball-Playing Ghost Is Blamed For Vandalism

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A baseball-playing poltergeist was blamed Tuesday for $300 worth of broken merchandise at a Miami warehouse.

William Drucker, the agent, said he visited the warehouse last Friday. "A lot of merchandise has been damaged but there's no proof of vandalism," he said, "and we don't insure ghosts."

The floors of Laubheim's cluttered warehouse were littered with broken glass and pottery and objects continued to fall despite the presence of skeptical reporters. The newsmen vainly searched for wires and other apparatus that could explain the crashing bottles.

When the breakage figure surpassed $200 Laubheim said he called his insurance agent. "He told me I didn't have ghost insurance."

Alvin Laubheim, operator of the novelty warehouse, said the poltergeist — from German, meaning "noisy ghost" — was beginning to hurt his business. "He first began throwing things several months ago," Laubheim said. "But he's really been active the past week and I can't get my orders filled."

Laubheim said the mischievous spirit played baseball in the warehouse Monday night. "It threw baseball all over the room," he said.

U. S. Opens Weather Link With Europe

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States opened its first high-speed weather communications link with Western Europe on Tuesday.

The new high-speed coaxial cable circuit joins the U.S. Weather Bureau's National Meteorological Center at suburban Suitland, Md., directly with the West German National Service Center at Offenbach, in Frankfurt.

The new link will transmit weather data at a speed of 1,000 words a minute more than 10 times that of the earlier circuit, and will permit transmission in both directions of weather maps, which previously were not exchanged.

LEVELS OFF

WASHINGTON (AP) — Industrial production continued to level off in December, says the Federal Reserve Board.

"I'll shoot the next thing that moves," shouted Sgt. Walter F. McLaughlin. No shots were fired but Laubheim said McLaughlin had been taking an unmerciful ribbing from fellow officers who now call him "Casper."

Laubheim said the poltergeist seems to prefer beer mugs, flipper glasses and ashtrays. "He's broken at least 20 mugs," he said, "and we don't dare leave any glass objects on the shelves."

Several women employes say they have been objects move about the room.

Laubheim says at least 16 persons have seen his merchandise sail about the warehouse, usually with disastrous results.

Rupert Youth Is Awaiting Trial

RUPERT — Rupert police Tuesday morning apprehended Shaun Pena, 19, Rupert, with several items in his possession allegedly taken from the Midway Grocery. The youth was found by officers in their regular rounds at 3:31 a.m. with bread, lunch meat, a turkey and other items in his possession. He was brought before Probate Judge Larry Blucker Tuesday, waived a preliminary hearing, and was bound over to district court. He is in the city jail in lieu of a $1,000 bond. Senate Vote May Prevent Visit Of Chile President

By RAUL DUQUE SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — An unprecedented Senate vote may prevent Chile President Eduardo Frei from going to Washington next month to see President Johnson. Frei's request for congressional approval to make the trip now goes to the Chamber of Deputies. It was doubted, however, that he could muster the two-thirds majority needed in the lower house to overrule the Senate. Frei's Cabinet ministers submitted their resignations after the Senate action Tuesday, apparently to give the president a free hand in dealing with the awkward situation. Sen. Jose Musalem, a leader of Frei's Christian Democratic party, predicted that the president would not make the trip without congressional approval. The Chilean constitution of 1833 gives Congress the right to pass or presidential trips abroad.

This is traditional in Europe and Latin America. Johnson invited Frei to make the visit, which had been scheduled for the week of Feb. 1-8. The Chilean president also planned trips to New York and Boston. Communists, Socialists, liberals and conservatives teamed up to vote 23-15 against the request by Frei, a moderate leftist who became president in November 1964. The president's only support came from 11 Christian Democrats and two members of the Independent rightist party. Commenting on the vote, a spokesman for the National Party, a union of liberal rightists and conservatives, said Frei would use the proposed trip to spread Christian Democratic ideology in the hemisphere. It was believed that the basic reason for the veto was to humiliate Frei's government, hurt the Christian Democrats and embarrass the Johnson administration. 4 Still Free

LONDON (AP) — Only four of the 23 convicts who skipped out of British prisons in a yuletide freedom spree are still on the loose, officials said today. The most recent to be recaptured was Peter Parkes, who was found in the Welsh mountains Tuesday after 28 days of freedom. The holiday escapes began shortly after a gloomy government survey was issued which concluded that Britain had no really secure prisons and most jails were too old to hold prisoners under modern methods of penal treatment.

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Why do women wear "hosiery"? I started to question this particular piece of wearing apparel after a friend of mine stopped wearing a bra because she had rheumatoid arthritis. She said she felt so comfortable, she'd never wear a bra again. I decided to give it a try, and discovered that she was right. I took it a step further and tried not wearing anything underneath my clothes. Great discovery!

I don't wear my clothes snug, nor do I wear transparent fabrics, so no one can tell whether I'm wearing undergarments or not. Some of my friends have fussed something terrible with me about this. Why? I look just fine without undergarments, so what crime have I committed besides depriving the bra and girdle manufacturers of a customer?

LIKES MY FREEDOM

DEAR ABBY: If you look "just fine" sans undergarments, you're lucky. Apparently you don't need the girdling in pushing up, or filling out that undergarments provide for your less fortunate sisters. What you do (or do not) wear is between you and your conscience, so why not enjoy your freedom and comfort and keep quiet?

DEAR ABBY: In a recent column you said, "The reason some people are always late is because they are selfish, immature and inconsiderate." There is another reason you failed to mention. Some people who have been very poor and hungry in their younger years always come to parties late on purpose, because they don't want people to think they are starving for food. There was always plenty of food at our house, that is why I am always on time. PROMPT!

DEAR PROMPT: Well, now the cup of alibis over-floweth.

DEAR ABBY: I am writing in response to the woman who was criticized because her child was badly behaved in public. She said the boy was retarded, epileptic and nearly blind and no one wanted to sit with such a child so she had to take him wherever she went.

Well, Abby, there are people who will sit with retarded and otherwise handicapped children and adults. The United Cerebral Palsy association trains teenagers to care for the handicapped thru their Monitor Training program. It includes how to remove and put on braces, handle wheel-chair patients and what to do in case of a seizure. High school students attend a series of classes on Saturday mornings and hear lectures from doctors, therapists, and social workers. A list is kept of all who have completed the course, and they are called when needed. I took this course three years ago and I am glad I did. I have since worked as a volunteer with blind and retarded children.

Please advise that mother to contact her local United Cerebral Palsy Assn. If none is in her area, perhaps she can get one started. Parents of handi-

Miss Isaksen, Zollinger Wed In LDS Temple

MALTA — Kristine Isaksen, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Henry L. Isaksen, Tallahassee, Fla., and William A. Zollinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Axel Zollinger, Malta, were united in marriage Dec. 16 in rites at the Idaho Falls LDS Temple.

The couple was honored at a reception the following evening at the Malta LDS Cultural Hall.

Wearing a floor-length gown of white crystalline with appliques of lace, the bride greeted guests before a pine arbor and Christmas tree. She carried a white orchid surrounded by blue pompons.

Mrs. Julia Allphin was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Carl of Jeanne Seller, Carol Zollinger, Kay Marlin and Amy Ellen Isaksen. Mary Isalamp was flower girl.

Best man was Robert Alphin. Ushers included Larry Isaksen, LaVar Hall and Marvin Hall. Richard Isaksen carried the rings.

Helen Patton was organist and accompanied Dr. and Mrs. Isaksen when they sang.

Cathy Zollinger registered the guests. Mrs. Lano Elison and Lucy Hall cut and served the cake. Julie Allphin poured.

Guests were served at quarter tables centered with silver tapers. Heber Zollinger was master of ceremonies for the program.

An LDS Temple wedding is planned in June.

Presbyterian Women's Unit Officers Named

KETCHUM — Elected officers of the Presbyterian Women's Organization are Mrs. Lola Toner, president; Mrs. Mildred Mahoney, vice president and world service chairman; Mrs. Pearl Flowers, program chairman; Mrs. Gloria Blades, secretary; Mrs. Lavenna Young, treasurer; and Mrs. Nancy Naymik, fellowship secretary.

Members of the newly elected group held their first meeting at the home of Mrs. Virginia Kelly; Mrs. Mahoney led group singing and the prayer.

Under the leadership of Rev. William Kelly, the group began the study, "Joy for an Anxious Age." Chapter one, "Troubled Times," was completed.

A letter read from a missionary working with the Inca Indians of Peru in Bolivia.

Arrangements were made for the annual congregational meeting and supper set for Sunday evening.

Mrs. Toner gave a brief report of the executive board meeting, revealing tentative plans which will be discussed and voted upon at later meeting.

The Feb. 9 meeting is at 2 p.m. at the Warm Springs home of Mrs. Margaret Vernon.

MR. AND MRS. KENNETH C. BURRELL

Judith Lete, Burrell Wed In December Rites

HAILBY — Judith Ellen Lete, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lete, Bellevue, and Kenneth C. Burrell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Burrell, Hailby were united in marriage in a double ring wedding Mass said at 2 p.m. Dec. 31 by Rev. Francis DeNardis in St. Charles Catholic Church.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her floor-length gown of white featured an empire waistline, with the top and sleeves covered with hobnail lace in a grape design.

The heavy, chapel-length train fell from two large pleats. Her tiered elbow-length veil of double silk tulle was attached to pearl-studded petals shaped into a soft crown. Her bridal bouquet of white carnations in colonial design was accented with leaves made of holly green velvet. She wore a single strand of pearls.

Mrs. Charles Young, sister of the bride, was matron of honor; and Mrs. Roger Fry and Char Burrell, sister of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids. Kelli Young was flower girl.

Marvin Burrell, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Roger Fry and Mitchell Lete, brother of the bride.

The altar was decorated with arrangements of white chrysanthemums and greens. The bridal party approached the altar over a white-bridal-strip. Pew markers were green velvet leaves set in white Shattuck's chrysantheums. Mrs. John A. Davies played the traditional wedding music and accompanied Cecelia Quareselli, pianist. Harold Nelson and David Torres were altar boys.

Immediately after the Mass, a reception and buffet were held in St. Charles Hall. The bride's table was covered with white, with accents of green in tapers in silver candleholders. The table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake.

Mrs. Dale Eden, Shoshone, sister of the bride, cut and served cake and Mrs. Carol Lete and Mrs. Marvin Burrell poured punch. Mrs. Michael Barker poured coffee and Mrs. Edmund Quesnell and Mrs. Wayne Siskim were in charge of serving the buffet.

Mary Belle Garner, Jerome, was in charge of the guest book and gifts were opened and displayed by Dana Peak, Cynthia Zenoniant, Jodie Kohler and Mary O'Connell.

The couple will be at home at the Golsky apartments. Relatives and friends attended from Shoshone, Jerome, Gooding and Twin Falls.

Congress May Vote Funds Needed To Finance Vietnam War

WASHINGTON (AP)—Initial reaction to President Johnson's announcement that he will seek a $73 billion defense budget indicates Congress will vote any funds needed to finance the war in Vietnam.

But requests for military spending not related directly to the war could run into tough opposition.

Johnson told a news conference Tuesday night that his requests for defense spending in the fiscal year beginning next July 1 will total $73 billion—an increase of about $5 billion over the current level. He also disclosed he soon will ask Congress for a $9.4 billion supplemental defense appropriation for the current fiscal year.

At the peak of World War II, defense spending totaled about $68 billion a year. The Korean war peak topped $59 billion.

Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., a member of the Armed Services Committee, said in an interview the proposed defense budget "might be scrutinized a little closer than usual but I don't think there will be any trouble getting support for the war."

Stennis singled out military construction projects as an example of spending that might get a closer look.

Another Democratic member of the Armed Services Committee, Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, said congressional action on the over-all defense budget will "depend on the justification" the administration presents but added he expects war spending requests to be approved. He noted that Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara goes before the panel in closed session next Monday to start outlining the administration's case.

One Republican member of the committee, Sen. Jack R. Miller of Iowa, said that as long as Johnson justifies his requests for Vietnam spending, "I would anticipate that he would have no particular problem in getting them."

But Stennis and Miller said any request for funds for an antimissile defense system could touch off controversy.

"The antimissile missile matter is going to be a large item in controversy," Stennis said. "Heretofore I've supported large amounts but I think it ought to be carefully examined this year."

In his State of the Union message a week ago, Johnson told Congress the Soviet Union "has begun to place near Moscow a limited antimissile defense."

But he did not say whether he would give the go-ahead for a similar U.S. system designed to knock down attacking missiles before they reach their targets.

Miller also said there is sentiment in Congress for reducing U.S. commitments in Western Europe. "I can see some fighting coming up. If this budget envisions an extension of those commitments," he added in a separate interview.

A GOP member of the House Appropriations Committee, James C. Johnson of underestimating defense spending.

"The expenditure rate will be higher than he predicts," said Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin. Laird estimated defense spending in fiscal 1968 will be $15 billion—and he said this estimate is conservative.

Most of the expenditures for replacing aircraft and for restoring supplies and annual session in his White House office, Johnson said he will send his new federal budget, estimated at $105 billion, to Congress next Tuesday and will submit his annual economic report two days later.

Reporting on administration efforts to hold down the budget deficit, Johnson said he is considering postponing an additional $400 million of highway projects. He had announced earlier there would be a stretch out in spending $1.1 billion of road money.

Large Communications Project Takes Long Look At Educational Television

By TOM NOLAN
WASHINGTON (NEA) — Young and aggressive expansion-minded head of a communications firm which already broadcasts more radio programs than all of the U. S. networks put together, publishes more magazines than any American publishing house and produces more films than any Hollywood studio, where do you go?

The answer could be educational television. Particularly if you happen to be Leonard Marks, director of the United States Information Agency (USIA), a government agency which ranks as one of the world's biggest communications operations.

Mark's former a highly successful advertising executive and member of USIA's board of directors, is well-qualified in the field. Before the President tapped him to lead USIA a year and a half ago, he specialized in obtaining channels and financial support for educational television stations.

Though it may not prove to be the ideal medium for USIA operations, to Mark's educational television is well-worth exploring. Some 2,000 foreign televisions in 94 countries carried USIA-produced television programs and series in the first six months of 1966.

The big rub with educational television is with USIA's activity, for that matter — is its cost. USIA's budget has been pretty static the last few years at about $15 million annually. "Congress has not been overly generous with us," says Marks, "but I have no complaints."

A keen student of the effectiveness methods popularized by Defense Secretary Robert McNamara, Marks has been able to stretch USIA's budget further than any of his predecessors.

His decision to combine the agency's television division with its motion picture division saved the taxpayers $1.5 million. He also cut the agency's telephone service by 25 per cent.

"I can't take too much of the credit for the savings," says Marks. "All I've done is create an atmosphere in which our staff is constantly looking for ways to expand our programs for fewer dollars. Most of the ideas come from them."

The energetic Marks is using this approach in studying educational television, but he is not limiting the ideas to USIA's staff. He's currently heading a Presidential Task Force charged with exploring the medium's possibilities for lesser-developed countries.

The task force's mission is to determine the effectiveness of television as a teaching technique.

The investigators' reports where educational television could be applied. Recommendations whether U. S. assistance is required or desired in those areas.

A primary target could be Latin America. Mark's preliminary report is due March 1, and it's quite likely that recommendations will be discussed at the summit conference of Western Hemisphere heads of state scheduled for April.

Mark's hopes to apply some of the Task Force's findings to a cost-effective network already under way of USIA's English language teaching program, now carried on in more than 100 countries.

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Portugal will spend more than $1 million this year on defense of its tiny colony of Macao, now under pressure from Red China, the Government Gazette said Tuesday.

A budget of $945,000 was approved for the army and $63,000 for the naval forces of the enclave on the south China coast.

TOKYO (AP) — Japan and the Soviet Union have reached agreement on commercial details of their air-service treaty, and first flights between Tokyo and Moscow are expected in April, informants in the Japanese capital said Tuesday.

The sources said both sides agreed to operate the route once weekly. Meeting in Tokyo have been officials of Japan Airlines and the Soviet Aviation Ministry and the state-run Aeroflot. A general air agreement was signed in Moscow in January of last year.

PLAN RECORDING TOKYO (AP) — Musclet L. Hampton says he will make a record this summer with jazz-loving King of Thailand.

USIA now uses a scattered mixture of techniques — including classroom teaching, radio lessons and audio-visual films — and Marks would like to see a more systematic approach which would provide the most effective teaching methods at a reasonable cost. Educational television would produce this combination.

Mark's quiet behind-the-scenes study of educational television is typical of how he operates. In his 18 months as USIA director — generally in a job guaranteeing friction with either Congress or the newspaper profession for its occupant — Marks' efforts at keeping himself and USIA off the hot seat are noteworthy.

REV. DAVID BLACKALLER will conduct the 11th session of the Institute for Pastoral Studies at Magie Valley Memorial Hospital.

Chaplain To Lead Pastoral Studies Here

Rev. David Blackaller, chaplain at St. Luke's Hospital in Boise, will lead the 11th session for the Institute for Pastoral Studies from 10 a. m. until noon Friday.

Pastors of all Magie Valley churches are invited to attend the meeting at Magie Valley Memorial Hospital. Chaplain Blackaller's topic will be "The Ministry in the General Hospital."

He is a native of Montreal, Canada, and received his education at the University of British Columbia, receiving B.A. and M.Div. degrees. He worked for the ministry at the Anglican Church of Canada at Wycliffe College of the University of Toronto.

Clinical pastoral training was taken by Rev. Blackaller at the Worcester, Mass., State-Hospital and at the Massachusetts General Hospital. He is accredited as a hospital chaplain by the American Protestant Hospital Association.

He has served congregations in Kangra Valley, India; Canada; Idaho Falls and Caldwell; and was military chaplain with the British forces in Burma. He has been a faculty member at the College of Bible and worked in the Episcopal City Mission, Boston, Mass.

In Boston he also served as chaplain at the Children's Hospital, New Haven, Conn., and Hospital and New England Baptist Hospital.

He has held his present position since 1961 and has conducted seminars for clergy and doctors in Boise area and at State Hospital South at Blackfoot.

Man Suffers Artery Bubble After Mishap

HONG KONG (AP)—An Army enlisted man is in serious condition with an air bubble in an artery suffered when two rear doors blew off a pressurized Air Force jet transport 35,000 feet above the Pacific.

The accident occurred near Wake Island last Sunday as the transport was flying from California to Vietnam.

There were 96 soldiers aboard but only Pfc. Albert Adams, 19, of Beaumont, Tex., suffered the air embolism resulting from the sudden loss of cabin pressure.

The plane landed at Wake. Four hours later Adams was flown to Base Hospital and placed in a Navy decompression chamber—usually used to aid divers suffering from the bends.

After 12 hours in the chamber, Adams was removed to Tripler Army Hospital.

COLLEGE OF SOUTHERN IDAHO officers elected this week are, from left, John Colman, reelected secretary-treasurer; Eldon Evans, chairman, and Rev. John (Jack) Garbrabrant, Jerome, vice chairman. The three men, all elected during December's district trustee election, will serve as officers of the college's governing body until the next election in two years. Other board members are James Shields Jr., Buhl, and Robert Blustock, Filer. (Times-News photo)

900 Negroes Strike At San Quentin

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP)—Nine hundred of San Quentin Prison's 1,200 Negro inmates struck Tuesday and were locked in their cells.

Associate Warden James Park blamed "a combination of Black Muslims and a hoodlum element" for the strike and earlier clashes in which one white prisoner was killed and another injured.

The state prison holds 4,000 convicts.

Guards were held overtime Tuesday to strengthen forces inside cell blocks.

"We feel by and large that the vast majority of these men have been intimidated by threats and coercion—by some 100 to 150 hard-core prisoners," Park said.

Most of the striking Negroes, he said, were "terribly fearful of retaliation if they go to work."

Robert Holderman, 39, a white forger, was fatally beaten and a stabbed Sunday during a Black Muslim demonstration in the main yard. William E. Walker, 39, a white burglar, was beaten. The demonstration was held in connection with a strike by some of the dining hall crew in sympathy with a "small group of troublemakers" removed from dining hall work.

Australians Demonstrate Against War As Ky Arrives

By GORDON TAIT

CANBERRA, Australia (AP)—Opponents of the Vietnam war carried "Killer Ky go home" placards in downtown Canberra today as South Vietnamese Premier Nguyen Cao Ky arrived for a nine-day visit to Australia and New Zealand.

The public was barred from the Australian air force base where Ky's plane landed, but several hundred demonstrators gathered outside the hotel where the premier was to hold a news conference later in the day.

"It is good to see you again," Prime Minister Harold Holt told Ky as the premier and his wife stepped from their plane. Both men noted the Manila summit conference last October, and Ky said then he would like to thank the people of Australia and New Zealand personally for their help to Vietnam.

Air police with German shepherd watchdogs guarded the base's fence as Ky departed for Government House to meet the governor general, Lord Cairns.

Special police and guard dogs also patrolled the airport at the

No Excuse

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—State Sen. John D. Calandra says he will offer an amendment to the state's statutes that would prohibit topless waitresses. The Republican senator said "there can be no excuse for the topless waitress other than greed."

Grants Will Aid Research Work

WASHINGTON (AP)—National science foundation grants totaling $28,400 will enable 21 top Idaho undergraduate science students to conduct independent research work, said Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, Tuesday.

Funds will be distributed to the Idaho State University Department of Pharmacology, the University of Idaho Department of Physical Sciences, and the university's Department of Chemical Engineering.

ECONOMY VIEWED

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—The president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond says the U.S. economy will slow from a growth rate of 8.5 per cent last year to 6 per cent this year.

President Honors Three Men At Party

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson gave a gala party Tuesday night and honored three top men in government whom he cited as pioneers who "blazed the trail for human dignity." — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey; Chief Justice Earl Warren, and House Speaker John McCormack.

In a champagne toast, the President said a common thread ran through the careers of each of these men — "Love of liberty."

The three returned Johnson's toast.

After the state dinner, the guests watched a half-hour showing of excerpts from the famous musical, "Hello, Dolly," starring Carol Channing.

—And President Johnson finally got to see for the first time the show whose hit tune transformed into "Hello, Dolly," became his 1964 campaign song.

Unusual Exercises Help Retarded 6-Year-Old Speed Mental Growth

By JOHN McALEENAN
EATONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Eighteen times a day, a kitchen timer calls with an irritating buzz to Mike McLester, 6.

On the first signal at 8 a. m. Mike climbs up on a table and goes through the business of learning to crawl. On another, he sits patiently on the floor while his mother stuffs his mouth full of peanut butter.

When another buzz is heard, he grips a pencil and draws endless circles on paper.

These unusual exercises, and many more, are speeding Mike's mental growth. In just 10 months, he actually has become 18 months older, neurologically.

Because of brain damage, Mike is mentally retarded. The program he is following, with help from his parents and volunteer workers, is a brain rehabilitation concept called "patterning."

It started 10 months ago and Mr. and Mrs. Fred McLester have two more years to go with Mike in the program. It's hard and sometimes frustrating work, but the result might be a boy with normal abilities.

Doctors a thousand miles away at the Philadelphia Institute for Rehabilitation of Brain-Injured Children, are directing the work with Mike.

"The object is to program the brain like a computer," teach-

Malfunction Of Machine Kills Patients

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—Three patients being treated for kidney disease died, apparently through a malfunction in a blood-cleansing machine, the county medical examiner's office said Tuesday night.

Dr. John I. Coe, medical examiner, said the instrumentation problem was due to "electro-light imbalances due to infection of hypotonic solution" as listed on the death certificates.

Asked if the deaths were due to a malfunction of the machine, Coe replied, "I think they were."

Dr. Claude Hitchcock, chief of surgery at the hospital, would not comment on whether the deaths Monday were due to a malfunction of the machine or an operator's error. He said a complete investigation would be made.

Those who died were identified by Coe as Joyce Sankey, 42, and Charles P. Benson, 34, both of Willmar, and Seldon Jacobson, 74, Fargo, Minn.

Two died almost immediately when the problem occurred and the third, shortly after, Hitchcock said.

A fourth patient who was being treated at the same time is recovering, said Hitchcock, who declined to identify that person.

Composer Asked

TORONTO (AP)—The Toronto Symphony Orchestra has commissioned Italian composer Luigi Nono, 42, to compose a 15-minute work for the Canadian centennial celebrations. It is to be premiered in the fall. Canadian composer Otto Juchacz and Francois Morel also have been designated to write music under a grant of the centennial commission.

Treatment Of DeSalvo Said Unlikely

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — A state psychiatrist says the prospects for successful treatment of Albert DeSalvo, the self-styled Boston strangler, are not good.

Dr. Samuel Tartakoff, director of legal medicine for the Massachusetts Department of Mental Health, told a Middlesex County Superior Court jury Tuesday there is no specific treatment for DeSalvo's condition, which he described as a "character disorder."

"He is treatable," Tartakoff said, "in that the effort to treat him might be made, with no assurance as to whether there might be change."

He added, "The prognosis is not good."

Under cross-examination by defense attorney F. Lee Bailey, Tartakoff said DeSalvo had told him he expected to be confined for the rest of his life. "He expressed the hope that what psychiatrists might learn from him would help him or help others after him," Tartakoff said.

Tartakoff was the last witness heard by the all-male jury as testimony was completed in DeSalvo's trial on charges of attacking four women in their suburban Boston homes in 1964.

Attorneys for both sides were to state summations today, followed by the judge's charge to the jury. The case was to go to the jury in the afternoon.

None of the charges is related to the 13 stranglings in eastern Massachusetts between June, 1962, and January, 1964.

"The judge based his defense on DeSalvo solely on the contention that the 35-year-old former contractor's helper was not legally sane at the time of the attacks.

Lurleen Wallace Acts Convincingly As Alabama Governor On Her First Day

By JULES LOH MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—On her first full day in office you would have thought Lurleen Wallace really was the governor... "She was, yes, and in, and will be for four years. But the people of Alabama elected her with a wink and one campaign pitch was 'Vote for Lurleen and let George do it'."

Man Arrested

BUTTE MONT. (AP)—A former Lewiston, Idaho, man was arrested Monday by the U. S. Marshal and charged with falsifying claim and many exemptions on his withholding tax certificate.

What steps did she have in mind? "Things like better hospital facilities, more help for retarded children—things a wife and mother would be more concerned about."

"The walnut-paneled office, so recently pungent with cigar fumes, now is redolent with the aroma of roses. The long table in the center, once heaped with campaign contributions to four fighting governors, now is bare except for floral arrangements."

On the desk, where the humidor used to be, is a decorative rolling pin.

In the adjoining office, secretary Audrey Henderson had to keep asking telephone callers, "Do you mean Governor George Governor Lurleen?"

Wreckers Move Into Opera House

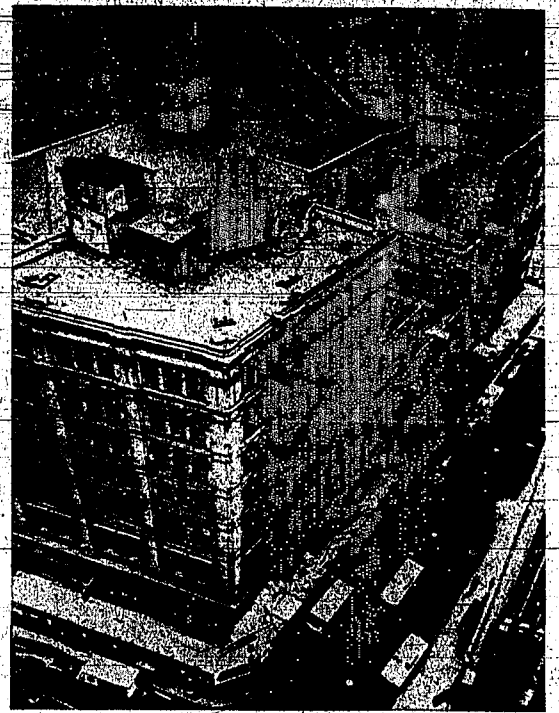

NEW YORK (AP) — After more than a year of fruitless efforts to save the old Metropolitan Opera House, the battle was given up Tuesday and wreckers moved into the 23-year-old cultural showcase of the music world of yesterday.

The demolition men swarmed through the interior of the once-plush opera house within minutes after the signing of a routine $2.00 demolition permit by the City Buildings Department official.

The brick structure, on Broadway three blocks from Times Square, was wrapped in steel in its frame and wood demolition cocoon. It had been the site of international operatic triumphs and musical extravaganzas during its long history.

The building site was leased to make way for a 40-story office building after the Metropolitan Opera moved to its new quarters this season at the Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts.

Hundreds of persons, including U.S. senator, state legislators, millionaire Huntington Hartford and Mrs. John F. Kennedy—waged unsuccessful battles to save the building from the wreckers' ball.

WRECKERS BEGIN demolition of the old Metropolitan Opera House Wednesday. A battle to save the historic building was fruitless for more than a year. Final act in the drama was the issuance of a $2 demolition permit then men started ripping into the roof. (AP wirephoto)

First Day On Job For Negro Sheriff Noted

By DON MCKEE—TUSKEGEE, Ala. (AP) — Sheriff Lucius D. Amerson, making history quietly, breezed through his first day on the job with the routine broken only by one shooting — and the victim was a farmer's cow.

"My first day went about as I expected," he said. "No problems."

The fact that Amerson was the first Negro sheriff in Alabama since Reconstruction caused not the slightest noticeable reaction in this unharmed rural town 40 miles east of Montgomery.

"Every one has been cooperative," said Amerson, 33, an ex-paratrooper and former postal worker who defeated two white candidates last year to win the town's law enforcement office in Tallapoosa County, population about 27,000 and 83.5 per cent Negro.

Six elective offices in the city and county are held by Negroes.

Amerson, who was sworn Monday, officially began his duties Tuesday. At 8 a.m. he held state court for the hearing of civil cases, including a divorce dispute.

During a full before court he sentenced Judge J. T. Fryer, walked over and shook hands with Amerson and his chief deputy, who is white. The judge looked against the table and chatted, offering help and advice.

"Gold In Them Thar Hills" Is On Bottom Of Sea During Modern Times

By TOM NOLAN—WASHINGTON (NEA) — In modern times, the "gold in them thar hills" is on the bottom of the ocean.

Oceanographers have estimated that the seas contain some 50,000 million (50 quadrillion) metric tons of dissolved minerals.

Included in this total are two trillion tons of magnesium, 700 billion tons of boron, 100 million tons of bromine, 20 billion tons of uranium, 15 billion tons of copper, 15 billion tons of manganese, 10 billion tons of gold and 500 million tons of silver.

The big bonanza of the sea, however, is the ocean floor. Each year, scientists estimate, some 2.5 billion tons of minerals are carried into the oceans by rivers. A similar amount is deposited on the ocean floor annually.

"We don't know enough about the ocean bottom to even hazard a guess as to how great the mineral content is," says one scientist at the Interagency Committee on Oceanography (ICO), "but I'd say it's considerably more than the amount contained in dissolved form in the seas."

The big problem, of course, is to find an economical way to tap this bonanza.

Most of the ocean's minerals can be obtained from land sources much cheaper than from the sea. Gold, for instance, A bromine extraction plant processed 15 tons of sea water and ended up with exactly .00 milligrams of gold worth approximately one one-thousandth of a cent.

But like conventional mining, it all depends on where you look. An Alaskan company is dredging for gold off Nome, where bits of ore have been carried down the Nome River from the Klondike for centuries. Union Carbide has been mining tin successfully for several years now from offshore Malaysia. The DeBeere Corporation dredged $7.4 million in diamonds from the ocean floor of South Africa last year. Japanese firms gleaned 27 million tons of high grade iron ore from the bottom of Tokyo Bay in four years.

So far, the oil and gas industry has pumped the biggest harvest from the sea. But it has also reaped the most money. Last year alone, the U.S. oil industry invested more than $2 billion in offshore leases, exploration, drilling and production facilities.

In 1960, about 8 per cent of the free world's oil supply was produced from beneath the ocean. Last year, it climbed to 16 per cent, and some industry sources are predicting that offshore wells will account for 40 per cent by 1975.

Most of the oil and mining operations so far have been limited to the Continental Shelf, the area surrounding all land masses which formerly was dry land itself. Before commercial interests can begin to exploit the riches in deeper waters, a whole new technology must be developed.

Quite a few new tools—particularly in the area of submersibles—are now being used. General Dynamics has already launched two small research submarines, one of which is equipped with a mechanical arm that can cut wire, manipulate valves and pick up a 200-pound weight at depths up to 2,000 feet.

The same company expects to have a nuclear-powered research submarine operating by 1968.

Cancer Cases May Be Reduced

MONTREAL (AP) — The head of the Department of Experimental Biology at the Weizmann Institute in Israel, Dr. Isaac Berenblum, says the incidence of cancer throughout the world may be reduced by 75 per cent in the next decade.

Berenblum told the Canadian Society of the Weizmann Institute that current discoveries in the field of cancer lead to this conclusion.

2:30 P.M. SUMMARY

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market ryrked on the late this afternoon in heavy trading. Volume for the day was estimated at 11 billion shares compared with 11.89 billion Tuesday.

The market rose from the start, expanded its gains for an hour, then faded somewhat as profits were taken. It remained well on the plus side as trading slackened, then advanced to about its peak in more active dealings.

Autos, oils and tobaccos remained generally higher, mainly by fractions. Gains of 1 or 2 points were made by electronics, office equipment, computer stocks and other glamor issues.

A solid showing was also made by a couple of blue-chip chemicals. Du Pont and Eastman Kodak, which advanced nearly 2 each.

Studebaker, up about 1 1/2, looked like the most active issue. Motorola rose about 4, and Boeing was off a fraction despite an order for $32 million jets.

Up a point or better were Wagner Electric, Magnavox, Douglas Aircraft, Zenith, Teaco and United Air.

Prices turned mixed on the American Stock Exchange. Trading was heavy.

The Daily Investor

By WILLIAM A. DOYLE

Q—Since January, 1963, I have been in a club with six other men. We pay dues of $5 a week. All dues and interest are incorporated into the club's investment fund. Last October we incorporated a charter of 100 shares of stock. From the state, with the intent of going into some profitable business. Unable to find a satisfactory venture, we decided to invest in stocks for profit.

We do not know whether we should buy stocks under our corporation's name or form an investment club, for tax purposes. Also, is an investment club a partnership? A. Most investment clubs are partnerships. Some are corporations. And some very big successful ones are not. And it's more than unlikely that your relative is in that classification.

Q. You blow your stack when people use the phrase "stop loss order." You say there is no such thing as a stop-loss order. I have a copy of "The Language of Investing" which you have mentioned in your column. On page 18, it says: "Good stop-loss orders are those that are in effect when the stock price reaches a certain level." (SEE: GTC, Limit Order, STOP LOSS ORDER.)

How about that? Bet you won't comment? A. Sure I will. To begin with, you have an old copy of that handy little dictionary of financial terms. In the newer editions the reference you mention has been changed to read: "Stop Loss Order: An order to purchase or sell a security when its price reaches a certain level." (SEE: GTC, Limit Order, STOP LOSS ORDER.)

Q. I made a gift of some money to a friend, relative, to help educate her young children. The Internal Revenue Service's USE TIMES-NEWS WANT ADS FOR FAST SELLING RESULTS

Tax Changes Would Bring Problems

BOISE (AP) — Proposed changes in the Idaho Sales tax law to exempt "items of production" could open up a host of problems, the chairman of the House Revenue and Taxation Committee said Tuesday.

Rep. Joe Preston, R - Declo, said his committee had discussed Tuesday the proposal of the Idaho Bowling Association to exempt so-called "items of production" from the sales tax.

Proponents of the idea say that such items are "double-taxed" because a sales tax is paid when they are purchased and a use tax collected when they are rented.

A suit has been brought in an Idaho district court by a member of the association questioning the legality of imposing the tax in such a situation. The decision is pending.

Preston acknowledged that the situation reveals one of the "grey areas" of the state's sales tax law. Should the legislature or the courts find that bowling alleys are being "double-taxed" the same criteria might also extend to other businesses such as hotels and motels, Preston said.

In hotels, such purchases as room furnishings might be considered items of production because a tax is collected for their use.

Preston said he expected his committee to recommend "some revision" of the law to clear up "problem areas." He said the committee would first check with the office of the state tax collector to determine the amount of revenue involved in the so-called "double taxation."

Preston said his committee also discussed sales tax exemptions for certain private corporations performing quasi-governmental functions.

He listed as examples church-supported hospitals which pay sales tax on purchases as opposed to county hospitals which do not; a canal company which pays the tax while an irrigation district does not.

Study of revision of the sales tax law has been assigned to a subcommittee of the revenue and taxation group. Chairman of the subcommittee is Rep. Pat Harwood, R-Idaho Falls.

Leader Quits Liberal Party in Britain

By ARTHUR L. GAVSHON
LONDON (AP) — Jo Grimond quit Tuesday night as leader of the Liberal party that he rescued from near oblivion and rebuilt into a political force in Britain.

Although only 53, friends said Grimond felt the time has come to hand over leadership to a younger man to preserve the mood of youth, change and excitement that helped bring the Liberals back from the political depths.

Grimond hinted at this in notifying the House of Commons and his electoral district of his resignation.

"I have been for 10 years the leader and for five years before that I held whip — floor manager in Commons — and I think it is long enough at that type of political job," he said. His district is the remote Orkney and Shetland isles off Scotland and he said, "I hope to have more time for specific political problems, including island development."

The Liberal party, that last ruled Britain in 1905, began vanishing into the political wilderness as the Labor party mushroomed, although some of top Liberals served in various wartime and peacetime administrations.

When the Oxford-educated

Grimond took over the leadership in 1956, the party had collected a mere 722,000 votes in an electorate of nearly 25 million in the national election of 1955. Grimond was one of six members to win seats in the Commons.

Then Grimond set about modernizing the party program and machine.

By 1966 the Liberal share of the national vote had risen to nearly 10 per cent — 2,228,000 — and the party had won 12 seats in the Commons.

Air Medal Awarded To Wendell Man

WENDELL—Airman 1.C. Roy D. Johnston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis R. Johnston, Wendell, has been decorated with the U.S. Air Force Commendation Medal in Southeast Asia.

Airman Johnston was awarded the medal for meritorious achievement as an aircraft equipment repairman at a forward U.S. Air Force combat base. He was cited for his outstanding professional skill and devotion to duty.

He is a member of the Pacific Air Forces which provides air power to maintain the U.S. defense posture in the Pacific and conducts air operations in Southeast Asia.

Before his arrival in Southeast Asia, he was assigned to Squadron at Seymour Johnson the 68th Field Maintenance Air Force Base, N.C.

Cut Your Own Taxes

Pay Special Attention To 'Other Deductions'

By RAY DE CRANE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
The final classification for deductions on your income tax return is labeled "Miscellaneous Deductions." Enter here all proper deductions you couldn't fit into any other grouping.

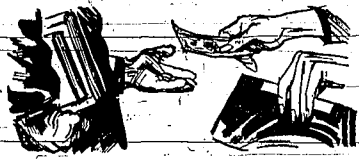

If any of these are elements in your return you may list here:
—Child care or invalid care payments.
—Storm, fire, flood, auto accident, theft losses not covered by insurance.
—Unreimbursed work expenses, such as the purchase and cleaning of required uniforms protection of your securities.

—Tax counsel fees paid-a tax adviser.

Child Care
Any woman may obtain a child care deduction of up to $600 for the care of children or disabled dependents if the expenses were incurred in order for her to go to work or to seek work.

Unless the child being cared for is physically or mentally incapable of support, the youngster must be under 13 to qualify.

Where one child is involved, the maximum deduction allowable is the lesser of the actual and special work clothes, purchase of rubber and asbestos gloves, safety equipment, tools and supplies, deductions from your wages for losses or damage to your employer's property.

—Union dues.
—Fees paid an employment agency to obtain a new job.
—Educational expenses, if the prime purpose of the training was to maintain or improve your skills required on your job or if it was to meet your employer's specific job requirements.

—Alimony, if paid periodically to your former wife in accordance with a court decree or legal separation. (She must include such alimony as income on her return.)

—Unreimbursed entertainment expense required by the nature of your work.

—Expenses incurred in connection with the production or collection of income. If you are an investor you may deduct fees for an investment counselor or for subscriptions—to financial publications and for the rental of a safety deposit box for the expense or $600. If two or more children are being cared for, the maximum is $900.

Any working wife who has a husband able to work must file a joint return before she can claim this deduction. And in their case, the deduction is reduced by the excess of their combined income over $6,000. Since the maximum deduction is $900 if one child is involved, it would be ruled out if combined income is as much as $6,900 or if two or more children were being cared for and the combined income was $9,900 or more.

Casualty and Theft Losses
Such losses are deductible after you have absorbed the first $100 of each loss yourself. Any insurance recovery must be deducted from the total loss.

The loss is determined by comparing the actual value of the item immediately before the casualty and its actual value immediately afterward. In no event may it exceed the adjusted basis of the property (generally its purchase price).

The $100 rule does not apply to losses of business property.

T.F. Episcopal Church Taps Officers For Coming Year

Officers for the Episcopal Church of the Ascension were named at the annual parish meeting Sunday night at the Bishop Rhea Auditorium.

Rev. Warren L. Howell, pastor, announced his appointment of Wiley Dodds as senior warden and the Rev. Mrs. D. M. Dodds as chairman of the finance commission and a member of the vestry. Completing terms of three years on the vestry were Dr. Melbourne C. Parker, Henry Wendling, Ivan B. Skinner and Grant Osterhout.

The pastor expressed appreciation to Ivan B. Skinner who is completing a three-year term as parish treasurer for outstanding service to the parish, and also to Dr. Parker who served as senior warden in 1966 and Mr. Wendling who served as junior warden and chairman of the building commission and its renovation program.

Elected to the vestry for three-year terms were J. Robert Alexander, Joe Hickox, Mrs. Leo Jacobs and Bert Myers. Elected as delegates of the parish to the Convocation of Idaho, the annual meeting of the Episcopal Church in the District of Idaho, which will meet at the Church of the Ascension Feb. 17 to 19, were Aubrey Branshear, Conlie Green, both of whom are members of the vestry; Mrs. Anna Haynes, Mrs. Novella Lazaros, Mrs. Polly Shurtleff and Dr. Parker. Alternates are Mrs. Willie Ruth Hansen, Douglas Kramer, Jack D. Mattison, the latter two of which are members of the vestry. Elected as delegates of the parish to the Diocesan Council on our part were Jack D. Mattison, Mrs. Edith Robertson, Jack Thielke and Mrs. Barbara Kelly.

In addition the vestry elects the members of the finance committee also. Elected as delegates to the Magic Valley Council of Churches for one-year terms were Joe Hilligas, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Larson and Mrs. Ann Watson.

The vestry will elect a junior warden, clerk and treasurer at its Feb. 13 meeting.

Reports were made to the meeting on the work of the parish in 1966 by the pastor, by the parish treasurer, by the senior warden, by the chairman of the memorial committee, John B. Robertson, by the mistress of the Altar Guild, Mrs. Mary Kay Harder; by the president of the Ascension Guild, Mrs. Ernest Place; by the treasurer of the Ascension Guild, Mrs. E. A. Roberts; by the treasurer of the Altar Guild, Mrs. Betty McRoberts; by the treasurer of the Thrift Shop, Mrs. Paul Newton, and by the treasurer of the memorial fund, Mrs. Kermit Wolf.

WE GIVE S & H GREEN STAMPS

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

WEDNESDAY, Jan. 18

Born today, you have been gifted with a number of talents, but you must prove yourself the master of your own fate before your talents will reward you with success. Somewhat disinclined to assert yourself, you would be wise to practice aggressiveness throughout your years of training or education or you will find yourself ill-equipped to take charge of your own career.

Intellectually clever, you should encounter little difficulty in learning or in putting that learning to good use — but you must take care that you do not take the easy way out and rely on your intellectual capacity to the exclusion of your artistic bent. Be wise enough to join your creativity to your intellect and to your ideal, and you will have some push on your part-know an extremely successful career.

Women born on this date have a great talent for homemaking for they have the imagination and creative instinct it takes to keep boredom outside the kitchen and the nursery. This does not mean, however, that women have neither the desire nor the ability to hold a job outside the home.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Thursday, January 18

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 - Jan. 20) — A good time for getting a good buy if you're in the market for property. But take care not to be taken in by good-looking salesmen. Leave no stone unturned to find just what you want.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) — Show your friendly attitude in deeds rather than words.

The helpfulness you extend at this time will be returned to you in kind.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 21) — Take the businesslike approach to any deals involving money — even should they be with your best friend.

ARIES (March 22-April 20) — A day when business must definitely come before pleasure if your plans for success are to gain a foothold. Take your time over decisions.

TAURUS (April 21-May 21) — Guard your interests when it comes to making contracts for your services. Don't settle for the short end of the stick.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) — Property rights need to be protected at this time. Unfortunately, you are safer with strangers than friends for the moment.

CANCER (June 22-July 23) — A word to the wise is sufficient. Take the suggestion of a professional to heart or you may forfeit sure success.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) — The Leo-seeking-new employment is coming upon particularly good times. Leave no stone unturned to find just what you want.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) — Best to leave social affairs to

Bahamas' Policy Is Announced

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP) — This predominantly Negro British colony's first Negro government has announced a policy of moderation and extended a hand of friendship to the Western nations.

Others while you pursue business interests. Much to gain for the next day or two.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) — Avoid deviating from your prearranged work schedule. Save social pleasures — particularly romance — until evening hours.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) — A good time for a new beginning. Discard plans that only seem to lead to failure or frustration and set to work on new ones.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22) — Opportunities for advancement exist but you must be willing to go out of your way to grasp them. Don't rely on chance.

Canny Canine Loves Going To School

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP)—If you knew Susie, the Adams School third-grader, you'd know she loves school more than Susie, a canny old canine. Susie knows what she wants. That is to spend her days with Mrs. Stewart Brown's third-graders in class and on the playground. Susie is an 18-year-old mixed pointer and spaniel. Three years ago the Bennie Mendosa family Susie's owners, feared she was a bother at the school. They tried to keep her locked up in the back yard.

Susie developed such a case of shudders and shakes that the Mendosas pushed her to a vet. He diagnosed a severe case of nerves and a heart condition. The Mendosas gave up. Susie went back to school. She skipped the third grade. No one knows why. None of the Mendosa children has been in this grade.

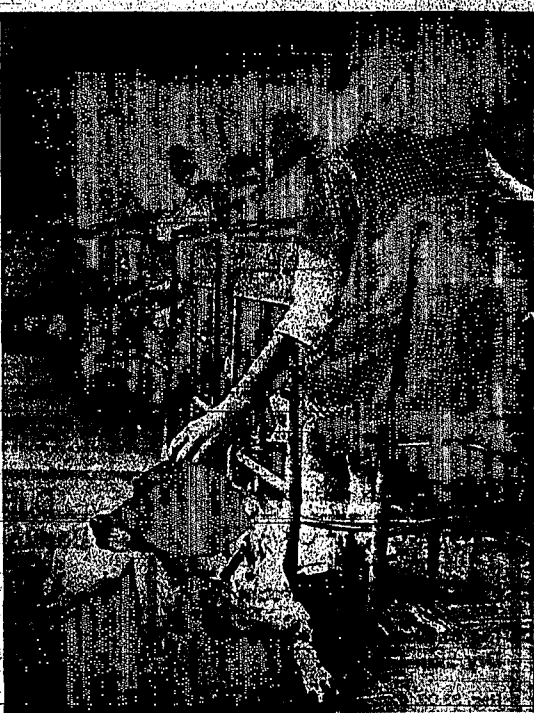

Susie leaves home early, arriving at school about 7:45 a.m. When school is dismissed, Susie goes home for dinner.

She loves fire drills. At the sound of the bell she takes off like a pup.

She spends noontime lunch breaks in the faculty lounge where teachers have provided her with a small couch.

They also have posted Susie's picture in the panel displaying pictures of all the teachers.

If you knew Susie, you'd know she has it made.

SUSIE, A MIXED pointer and spaniel, who can neither read nor write and who sleeps through class, has the "new" Adams School in Stockton, Calif. Susie decided to enroll in this school several years ago after her family, the Bennie Mendosas moved to the area. Kept from school, she develops a bad case of shudders and shakes. There's a standing rule at the school, when Susie enters a classroom any student may pet her with one hand, but the other hand must keep on working. (AP wirephoto)

T. F. Grange Hosts County Pomona Unit

Twin Falls Grange members hosted the Twin Falls County Pomona Grange Saturday at the monthly meeting.

Kenneth Poe, state deputy, reported the membership program has been organized and a report meeting will be held Feb. 4 at the Twin Falls Grange Hall. The membership committee, composed of a representative from each Grange in the county, has set a 25-per-cent increase goal for the 1967 centennial year.

T. T. Crood, Employ the Handicapped committee, reported 138 jobs, 131 of them permanent employment, had been secured for handicapped people in the county.

A. E. Harper, Pomona master, reported progress on securing funds for park and recreation areas. The projects will receive federal-matching funds. Two of the proposed areas are Balanced Rock and Cedar Draw.

Benefit pancake supper planned in the area were discussed. The scheduled events are, Fri. day, Buhl Grange supper and March of Dimes Auction; Saturday, Twin Falls Grange supper for Idaho Youth Ranch; Jan. 23, Cedar Draw supper; Feb. 1, pancake breakfast from 7 to 11 a.m.; and Feb. 11, Knoll Grange Boy Scout Troop supper.

Becky Sullivan presented several guitar and vocal numbers and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Stratford narrated slides of the recent trip to Israel and Egypt.

The February meeting will be at the Cedar-Draw Grange.

Man Loses 450 Pounds By Dieting

FORT THOMAS, Ky. (AP)—Robert (Ding) Pelgen has lost almost 450 pounds by "will power" dieting in the last two years.

"I'm still sore from the 36-inch incision made on me a couple of days before Christmas, but I feel all right now and I'm regaining my strength," the 46-year-old bachelor said today.

Pelgen, who stands 6 feet 3 and weighs 242 pounds, returned home last weekend after recovering from an operation in which doctors removed excess skin from his stomach. He said he probably will have to undergo a similar operation later.

When Pelgen entered the Veterans Administration Hospital at Cincinnati on Sept. 8, 1964, he tipped the scales at 687 pounds and was suffering from leg and stomach cramps.

"I was always heavy and had a strong appetite for sweets and starches—candy, pie, cake, beer," he recalls.

"The doctors now think I'm about the right weight for my height. I'll try to attain 235 pounds and stay there."

Pelgen shed almost 300 pounds in nine months at the hospital. After that he returned home and lost another 140 pounds by continuing his diet.

Dedication Of Church Set At Castledorf

CASTLEFORD — Dedication services for the Castledorf Methodist Church are planned for 11 a.m. Sunday by Bishop A. Raymond Grant of the Portland area.

Bishop Grant will be guest speaker at the dedication service, which will be preceded by a coffee hour at 10 a.m. in the Fellowship hall. The public is invited to both events, according to Rev. Paul LaRue, pastor. The church, which was constructed in 1969, is now debt free and estimated value of the structure is $45,000.

Members of the official board will participate in the dedication services.

Medicare Paperwork Is Complaint Of Hospitals

By ROBERT GOLDENSTEIN
AP Science Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — Six months after the advent of medicare, hospital administrators across the country are complaining more about a flood of paperwork than about any rush on hospital beds by the elderly.

All Associated Press surveys turned-up scattered reports of overcrowding caused by medicare patients, and showed that the aged are entering hospitals in greater numbers, and staying longer.

But, as Edward J. McCahey of the Maine Medical Center in Portland said: "If a pint of water is tilted, you can't put any more in."

In addition to bemoaning the volume of federal forms accompanying medicare, hospital administrators complained that the government sometimes has been slow to pay its bills.

Still the survey uncovered no serious dislocations in medical care, as had been feared by a potential talent in youth and in developing their interests and abilities.

ponents of the health plan, under which Social Security funds are used to help those over 65 pay hospital and doctor bills. Even the nation's doctors, who led opposition to medicare, now voice few objections, publicly or privately, says Dr. Charles L. Hudson, president of the American Medical Association.

In a recent interview in Washington, Hudson said medicare had caused little disruption of the basic relationship between doctor and patient.

Hudson hastened to add that doctors still fear there will be a move to expand medicare, and four to six weeks for elective surgery, such as correction of hernias.

Ronald Boyington, director of staff services at the 615-bed Tampa (Fla.) General Hospital, said admissions for elective surgery have had to be canceled every day because medicare patients require longer hospital stays than younger patients.

Similar situations prevail in several Chicago hospitals, but from all sections of the country, hospital administrators report no serious overcrowding.

four months are the periods of greatest hospital occupancy, with flu and other respiratory diseases at a peak. Generally, the increase in overall hospital occupancy has held close to the 5 per cent predicted by Social Security Administrator Robert M. Ball before the medicare program started July 1.

There are scattered exceptions, but no specific reports of patients suffering from "serious neglect because an insufficient number of beds.

In Columbus, Ohio, for example, some patients have waited for a bed for several weeks for elective surgery, such as correction of hernias.

Similar situations prevail in several Chicago hospitals, but from all sections of the country, hospital administrators report no serious overcrowding.

Pete Gellich, assistant administrator at Parkland Hospital in Dallas, Tex.: "The situation is improving. The paperwork and reimbursement problem is something just out."

Chesley-Wilson, public relations director for the American Hospital Association said "we have heard of no crisis anywhere. The length of stay of medicare patients has caused some concern but has not placed a severe crush on the beds available."

Some hospital spokesmen for the Blue Cross Association, an administrative intermediary for medicare, "We have seen no evidence of serious dislocations generally in the national picture."

Some hospital spokesmen were critical of some phases of the program. Sister Mary Walters, administrator at St. Francis Hospital in Topeka, Kan., said: "The paperwork for outpatients is often more costly than their medical bills."

Sister Ingeborg Blomberg, administrator of Deaconess Hospital in Omaha, Neb., said that medicare is not picking up some overhead costs formerly shared by all hospital patients and that it appears her institution will lose money on medicare patients.

The patient load trend has been moving in reverse for many hospitals that once catered primarily to charity patients. With medicare benefits available, the patients are going to private hospitals. Among cities reporting this trend are New York, Louisville, Ky., and Los Angeles.

An unanswered question is how successful nursing homes will be in relieving the load of medicare patients who need less than full hospital care.

A study by the American Hospital Association showed that the national "patient day load" for persons over 65 was 28.2 per cent in July, the first month of medicare; 23.6 per cent in August and 30 per cent in September.

The average length of stay in the over 65 age group increased from 11.2 days per admission in July to 12 days in August and 12.5 days in September. Medicare authorities hope these stays can be shortened as more beds become available in approved nursing homes.

Social Security Commissioner Ball estimates that 2.5 million persons received hospital care under medicare the first six months of the program and that about 6,700 hospitals are participating.

He expects 2,500 nursing homes or other extended care facilities with a bed capacity of more than 100,000 to be ready for participation this month. He estimated there is a 50 per cent turnover in nursing home beds every three months.

But Harris B. Jones, assistant director of the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals, which made surveys of 739 nursing homes this year, noted that "most nursing homes are pretty well filled up already, many with long-term custodial type patients."

Cassia Men To Meet Friday In Capital

BURLEY—Four Cassia county men will meet Friday with the Idaho congressional delegation in Washington, D. C., regarding water resources. Edgar Moorman, water resources chairman, reported at the Burley Chamber of Commerce Monday luncheon that Herman Bedke, local attorney; George Forschler and Fay Anderson, Oakley, were eating for the nation's capital to meet with the congressmen. Ed Elliott, president of the South Idaho Chambers of Commerce, reported on a meeting in Jerome last week. It was announced tickets are available at the Burley chamber office for the annual dinner Feb. 9, to be held at the Ponderosa Inn. Jay Haskell, representative of Exchange Club, presented a view of a skiing film which will be shown Thursday evening at the Burley High School. Proceeds from the film showing will go for a scholarship for a Cassia county high school senior, he said.

An electrocardiograph machine which transmits its findings by sound over the telephone to Portland is demonstrated by personnel at Steele Memorial Hospital, Salmon, with Gerald Butler, hospital administrator. Serving as patient is Mrs. Phillip Waterman, surgical nurse, and Mrs. Fenton Yowell, X-ray and electrocardiograph technician. (Times-News photo)

News Of Record

TWIN FALLS COUNTY
District Court
Mrs. Vicki Thomas was granted a divorce from William Thomas, and Mrs. Kathryn Elizabeth Adams from Richard Adams.
Sheriff's Blotter
Dr. Leslie Dean reported to officers his mail box was stolen from in front of his home, south-west of Twin Falls. He said it has been taken several times.
Jerome Police Court
Hastings Hitchcock, $25, drunk; Charles Correll and Grant B. Humphries, $5 each, parking on sidewalk; Harold Sauer, $55, disturbing the peace with auto; and failure to yield to emergency vehicle.
MINIDOKA COUNTY
Justice Court
Dennis D. Lemmon, Rupert, driver for Kleopeter Concrete, $3, failure to display license plates; Julian Abraham Montoya, Nys, Ore., $10, no brakes on trailer house; Jack C. Parkin, Rupert, inadequate signal lights, $8.
Sheriff's Blotter
A black 300-pound Holstein heifer belonging to Jewel Lowery was struck at 12:25 a.m. Wednesday by a car driven by Wilford W. Williams, 57, Rupert, at 400 South 250 West. Damage to the car was estimated at $200, and the heifer suffered a SALZBURG, Austria (AP)—A hunter near here aimed his rifle at a crow sitting on a high-voltage line but hit the powerline instead of the bird, police reported recently. The area was without light for a while.

broken leg and had to be destroyed.
John W. Sparks, 55, Heyburn, escaped injury at 9:30 p.m. Monday when he drove his 1967 Plymouth into the path of a train at the 18th Street crossing in Heyburn. Sparks told sheriff's office that he stopped at the stop sign, then pulled out on the tracks and saw the train and stopped in its path. Damage to the car was estimated at $400.
Clerk's Office
A marriage license was issued to Frank J. Winfrey and Carlotia Rojas, both of Salt Lake City.

CASSIA COUNTY

Sheriff's Blotter
Mrs. Verlene L. Gallegos, Burley, was cited for failure to yield the right of way after a two-car accident at 9:20 a.m. Saturday one and one-half miles west of Burley on Highway 30 at the Beeline station driveway.
Mrs. Gallegos was passing a big truck and her car collided with an auto driven by Mrs. Rhonda A. Hogue, 2050 Miller Ave., Burley, as Mrs. Hogue was making a left turn into the

Telephone Transmits Sound Of Heartbeat To Portland

SALMON—The sound of a heart beat here is picked up by telephone and transmitted to a specialist in Portland.
As soon as the electrocardiograph reading is completed the specialist reports back his findings a few minutes later over the same telephone.
Steele Memorial Hospital has placed into use a new electrocardiograph machine and transmitter in a move to save heart patient lives.
Before the new equipment, the hospital had to send electrocardiograph charts to Idaho Falls by mail and the process took three to five days.
The beating of the patient's heart is picked up by telephone and transmitted to an EKG reading service in Portland.
Butler noted that the new equipment is of great value to smaller hospitals which do not have the service of a cardiologist.
Gerald Butler, hospital administrator here, said the service operates 24 hours a day and results of the electrocardiograph reading come back by the same telephone in a matter of minutes.
Butler noted that the new equipment is of great value to smaller hospitals which do not have the service of a cardiologist.

Party Politics Stirring Anew In Vietnam

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP)—Party politics are stirring anew in Vietnam in preparation for civilian elections promised for later this year.
A new constitution is scheduled to be completed by March 7. Village and hamlet elections are expected in May or June. National elections are supposed to take place within six months after the constitution goes into effect, probably in November or December.
There is political ferment at the top in Saigon in Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's was cabinet, in the Constituent Assembly which is writing the constitution, in the Army-People's Council, an advisory body, and among old-line politicians who hold no office.
-Pollticking is also reported at the rice roots, especially in the five northernmost provinces which include the cities of Hue and Da Nang.

Political observers are at- tention to the "ticket balancing" speculating over possible candidates for president and vice president. Some feel the best accommodation for these offices would be a military man and a civilian, one from the north and the other from South Vietnam.

Free GAS
ONLY 28⁹/₁₀

You may have noticed that the price of gasoline in the Twin Falls area is 5c lower than usual. In this period of inflation and rising living costs, this seems pretty screwy, but then Fearless Farris, the Stinker, the cause of this low price, has always been sort of screwy. He has always marched out-of-step and sung off-key to the tunes of the Major Oil Co. Glee Club. They've tried and tried but they can't get him to harmonize and do it their way. Because of this, the price of gasoline has remained comparatively low in this area.

You may wonder how Idaho's native independent, Fearless Farris, can sell quality gasoline at such a low price. Frankly, he can't (at a profit). He is giving you the gasoline absolutely free and only charging you for the gasoline taxes, the additives that make it unsurpassed, and the smile you always get from the attendant. Besides giving away free gasoline, the Stinker is also giving away Gold Strike Stamps and a new 1967 Mercury Cougar.

LOUISVILLE (AP)—Passing motorists didn't have to wonder why Ronald Martin's car was pulled to the side of the highway. A huge blackboard just in front of his auto carried this explanation: "Yes, we do have a flat tire."

Martin was on his way to a lecture and when the flat came decided to put his blackboard into use.
