Cold Retreats As Storms Go East

By The Associated Press
Subzero cold along the nation's northern border states preceded New England's coldest morning of the winter today, then continued a retreat as new storms drove eastward off the Pacific and northeastward through the Appalachians.

N. H., 18 below at Montpelier, Vt., 23 below at Houlton, Maine, and 25 below at Waukegan, N. Y.

There was no such complicity about a snowstorm that struck Washington, D. C., bedeviling the morning rush hour traffic and prompting Weather Bureau warnings of a 3- to 6-inch accumulation.

The storm in the West poured close to 1 1/2 inches of rain on Quillayute, Wash., during early morning hours, and as much as 4 inches of snow in the mountains. Motorists were being advised to use chains to travel the mountain passes. Spokane, Wash., got 1 inch of snow.

Snow from this storm system along with a warming trend moved across the Rockies onto the northern Plains.

House Passes Resolution To Clear Way For Yearly Sessions Of Legislature

By MARK BROWN

BOISE (AP)—The House passed 60-9 today a resolution calling for a constitutional change to allow annual sessions of the Idaho Legislature. The resolution goes to the Senate where two-thirds majority must approve it before the measure goes to voters in the 1968 general election. The change passed the House with 13 votes more than needed for majority approval.

Similar resolutions have passed the House in each of the last four sessions, but died in the Senate. The proposed amendment was sponsored by Reps. George Brocke, D-Kendrick, and Harold Snow, R-Mosco.

The House Education Committee introduced three bills. One would correct parts of the state library district law which have been declared unconstitutional. The others reorganization zones for election of school districts trustees by population and provide for district-wide elections of school trustees.

Introduced in the Senate was a bill to abolish the governor's power to discharge at will members of the State Fish and Game Commission.

2 Billboards Promote T. F. Attractions

Motorists zipping along the new interstate highway will have little chance to ignore Twin Falls or the advantages of taking a side trip off the superhighway to visit the city because of two signs erected this week by the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce.

The large, lighted signs, 42 feet in length, will have a standing caption of "You will like Twin Falls" and "Twin Falls serving 102,000 people." These slogans are on an 11-foot high sign, the sign which also boasts that Twin Falls is the home of the College of Southern Idaho.

The 14-foot high portion of the sign will be changed every 10 days to remind motorists of activities and attributes of Twin Falls and vicinity.

The first to be put up will state that Twin Falls residents are proud of their homes, schools and churches.

One of the signs is located about two and one-half miles east of the Hansen Bridge and the other is west of the State Highway 83 and Interstate 80N exchange.

Members of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce watched Wednesday as the signs were erected. Among those attending were Mel Harrison, chairman of the chamber Tourist and Convention Committee, Howard Allen, vice president of the chamber, and Ray Rosten, secretary-manager of the chamber. Ketchum Man Is Named To Bank Board BOISE (AP)—The Bank of Idaho announced expansion of the board of directors Thursday to permit the addition of Charles E. Atkinson of Ketchum.

Atkinson is a Blaine County commissioner and is president of the Ketchum-Sun Valley Rotary Club.

Atkinson was elected at the shareholders' annual meeting, held in Boise Tuesday. All other directors and all top officers were re-elected.

Blanco reported that deposits in the Bank of Idaho passed the $100 million mark for the first time in history.

New branch buildings were opened in downtown Lewiston, and at Sun Valley-Ketchum. The Caldwell branch office currently is being remodelled.

At the end of 1966, deposits totaled $104,170,111, compared with $92,833,940 a year earlier. Savings amounted to $2.98 per share. Dividends totaling $1.89 per share were declared during the year.

County Aides Report On Trip To Boise

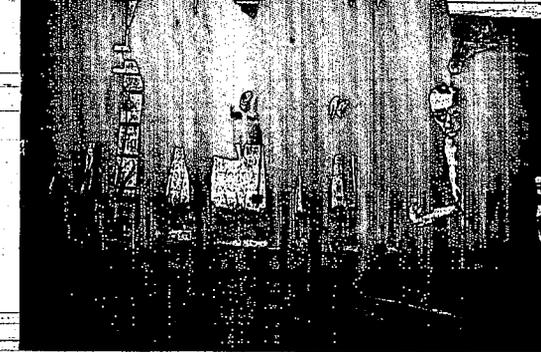

County Commissioners returned to Twin Falls Wednesday from a meeting with area legislators and they said they will take some action to simplify the "20-20-40" tax bill which has caused problems for many county officials.

While in Boise Monday and Tuesday the commissioners attended a clean water conference to discuss plans for reducing Snake River pollution and contamination in other Idaho streams. They also attended the mid-winter meeting of Idaho Association of County Clerks and Commissioners.

Marie W. Cychon, vice president of the Idaho Association of Clerks and Commissioners, said his group went on record as opposed to the hospital bill now in work to which would greatly increase the cost to counties on indigent hospital payments, he said.

Rep. Ford Says Congress Can Avoid Tax Increase

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford said today, "Congress can cut the President's budget sufficiently to avoid a tax increase." But until Congress gets the budget, he added, "It is impossible to be specific about budget cuts." In reply to questions submitted by The Associated Press, Ford said his opposition to the President's proposal for a 6 per cent surcharge on corporate

Commerce Unit To Lose Many Duties

By JOSEPH R. COVNE (See Picture on Page 8)

WASHINGTON (AP)—The resignation of John T. Connor as secretary leaves the Commerce Department stripped of its top hierarchy. American will lose many of its functions to the new Department of Transportation.

The task of regrouping a smaller unit to handle the merger with the Labor Department now falls to Alexander B. Trowbridge, 37, a native of New Jersey.

President Johnson, in accepting Connor's resignation Wednesday, named Trowbridge acting secretary. He had been assistant secretary of commerce for domestic and international business since May 6, 1965.

Connor's resignation, rumored for some months, followed last week's swearing in of Alan S. Boyd as secretary of the new Department of Transportation.

Boyd, who served as secretary of commerce for transportation, is considered the department's No. 2 post.

The White House indicated that Johnson does not now plan to name a full successor to Connor pending congressional action on his request to merge the Commerce and Labor departments.

Atkinson is a Blaine County commissioner and is president of the Ketchum-Sun Valley Rotary Club.

45 Drowned

KUWAIT (AP)—Forty-five Iranians trying to slip into Iraq by sea were drowned Tuesday night when their boat capsized 300 yards from their goal, police said today.

They were trying to reach Iraq by sea, but the boat was overloaded and capsized. The survivors were rescued by the Iraqi navy.

Upside Down

BOISE (AP)—An automobile license plate showing the state's name and "Upside Down" slogan, upside down was displayed Thursday to the Idaho senate.

Sen. Sam Kaufman, R-Boise, told the Senate he thinks the error indicates that inmates of the state penitentiary, where the plates are manufactured, should be given an "eye test."

Sen. R. H. Young, R-Nampa, told Kaufman he ought to hang on to the misprinted plate as a relic because it some day might be valuable.

Kaufman replied: "I think this is the only such relic in existence."

There have been reports of a number of such plates showing up during the distribution of 1967 plates.

Coal Mine Blast Claims 19 Lives

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP)—An explosion in the government's Straggan coal mine near Greytown killed 19 men today, Deputy Mines Minister A. O'Neill announced.

Rescue squads, fighting heavy gas and threatened with more explosions, had recovered eight bodies some 12 hours after the blast at 10 a.m.

Ky's Visit Draws Mixed Reactions

By HUGH MULLIGAN
CANNBERRA, Australia (AP)—South Vietnam's Premier Nguyen Cao Ky encountered antiwar demonstrators again today but he also heard friendly shouts from the crowds on the second day of his five-day visit to Australia. Although labor unions continued to organize opposition to the visit, the premier and his beautiful wife were greeted almost everywhere in the capital with the traditional Australian call on demonstrators to give Ky "a fair go, mate."

Judge Denies Acquittal For Baker

WASHINGTON (AP)—Federal Judge Oliver Gasch denied today defense motions for acquittal of Bobby Baker as all charges, which include income tax evasion and conspiracy.

The ruling came after the government had rested its case in the trial of the former secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority.

The defense then prepared to summon witnesses to testify in Baker's behalf.

Egon Kroll, chairman of the Twin Falls City Commission, said Thursday he will meet with other commission members before making a formal reply to a letter from Revue House urging reconsideration of the city's proposed water development program.

Mr. Kroll said he was in Boise all day Wednesday and did not have an opportunity to read Mr. Hansen's letter until Thursday morning. He promised it will be discussed thoroughly and an answer will be given to Hansen.

Idaho Air Force Officer Receives Medal Of Honor From President

By FRANK CORMIER
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson, bestowing the Medal of Honor today on the first Air Force officer to win the high award in Vietnam, said U.S. airman in that conflict "are conducting the most careful and self-limited air war in history."

John J. Fisher received the nation's highest award for gallantry in rescuing a downed pilot from an airstrip under fire. He was cited for "conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity at the risk of his life and beyond the call of duty."

Johnson presented the medal to Fisher in a ceremony in the east room of the White House which also honored seven other gallant airman. Johnson made a major point of the fact that although Fisher won the award for action during a bitter and bloody battle,

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

By ANREW TULLY

WASHINGTON — At the end, it was Adam Clayton Powell who was the racist. Stripped of his chairmanship of the House subcommittee on Labor Committee and then deposed from his seat in the House—unlike his peers can complete an investigation of all his florid activities. He apparently never felt degraded by the white man.
And yet—Powell's downfall was a victory for his race. More than anything else that has happened during the long years of civil-rights strife, Powell's comeuppance is a symbol of a new national attitude toward the Negro—that he should be judged by his actions rather than by the color of his skin.
The House punished Adam Clayton Powell because he was a member of that cluster of prudent politicians that civil rights means equality, not privilege, for the Negro. At long last, some men with power have decided that no citizen should be exempted from responsibility for his actions merely because he is black—or polka dot, or a Unitarian or a Jew or a Roman Catholic. If equality means the right to vote and the right to sit unmolested at a restaurant, it also means the right to be held accountable for breaking the rules.

HIS DARK SHIELD — Powell knows that in the past he has been protected from accountability for his actions because he is a Negro. And he apparently never felt degraded by the most degrading form of white patronage. Indeed, he used his race frequently as a weapon against his white "enemies," taunting them with the offer to prosecute him, causing in a privileged accorded him even as Roman emperors condescended to their barbarian captives.
There was something nauseatingly pathetic in the comment of Stokely Carmichael, that professional student who runs the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, on the Powell case. For Carmichael clearly is not interested in the Negro. He is interested in the white paternal protection thing like "bites to the Negro by snobbish and politically timid politicians."
Misses the point — "It is plain to us," said Carmichael, "that these attacks on Powell are punishment for an Afro-American doing what every congressman does, and for doing it with more style."
Poor Carmichael! His overworked intellect apparently is unable to grasp one of the most vital accessories of equality, which is a free man's desire, even oppression, to be a little better than his fellow. If he sees equality as merely the opportunity to be degraded by the same fashion as second-rate men among the white race, then his psyche is more bruised than even the most miserable ante-bellum colored man. He is the plantation. It is hard to believe, as Carmichael suggests, that the white Negro took either pride or malicious glee in the antics of a Negro Congressman which tarished the image of his race.

PRICE OF EQUALITY — Admittedly, Congress is overstocked with opportunists, confidence men and petty racists, but the mission of the small-minded individuals is hardly a standard one. Aspiring politicians, black or white, should address himself when the Powell case is disposed of, the Congress should crack down on these pettyling and the opportunity to be degraded by the same fashion as second-rate men among the white race, then his psyche is more bruised than even the most miserable ante-bellum colored man. He is the plantation. It is hard to believe, as Carmichael suggests, that the white Negro took either pride or malicious glee in the antics of a Negro Congressman which tarished the image of his race.

Some critics, taking a cue from an economy-minded governor and legislature, might contend this would just be a waste of money and another move to increase bureaucracy. This sounds good, until you realize that the board members get a fee of only $1,200 a year, which is a mighty cheap pay check for the good they could do the state.

Moves in the past to increase membership on this board have met with defeat, primarily, it is believed, because too many other issues were included in the bill.
This time the intent is to keep the bill to just one issue—increasing membership of the board from three to five. Why not?

WHY ELECTORS? — Results of a poll conducted among state legislators throughout the nation by Senator Quentin N. Burdick, D-N.D., should convince President Johnson that genuine reform of the Electoral College is indeed politically feasible.
In the past two Congresses, the President advocated a constitutional amendment that would have eliminated the Electoral College but retained the electoral votes of the states. His reluctance to seek complete reform, that is, abolition of both the college and the electoral system, was based on the belief that neither Congress nor state legislators which would have to ratify the amendment were ready to go that far. Senator Burdick's poll should disabuse the President of that notion. The North Dakota Senator wrote to 8000 members of state legislatures asking them for their opinions on a possible amendment on the Electoral College. About 2500 replied, 58.8 per cent of that number saying they favored direct election of the President by the people, only 0.7 per cent favor retention of the present system. The others expressed a preference for various modifications of the Electoral College method.

True, abolition of only the Electoral College, as President Johnson has twice proposed, would prevent unpledged or untrustworthy electors from interfering with the popular choice of a President because all of a state's electoral votes would be cast automatically for the candidate who received the greatest number of votes in that state. However, the proposal would not prevent the election of a candidate who placed second in the popular vote because it retains the "winner-take-all" inequality of recording greater weight to the votes of the few most populous states.
The poll demonstrates, as Senator Burdick remarked, that "the climate for the reform of the Electoral College has never been more favorable." Given this climate, the President should ask the Nineteenth Congress to initiate complete reform, reform that does not compromise with representative democracy.

Opinions Of A Conservative

By BARRY GOLDWATER

TOKYO — One of the sharpest political-economic disputes here in the past few months has involved the trade relationship between the United States and Communist North Korea.
It began with plans by a group of Japanese firms to manufacture and ship to North Korea a plant for the production of acrylic fibers. Socialist members of the Japanese parliament supported the move, specifically asking for permission to admit North Korean technicians into Japan as part of the negotiation.
Meantime, however, the strongest possible objections were filed on behalf of the government of South Korea, the Republic of Korea. Conservative members of parliament heard these objections sympathetically and took the view that improvement of relations with the free Republic of Korea should have priority over the possibly premature plans to improve relations with the North.
After all, it was argued, continuing aggressions against the South have been launched by the North which remains a dedicated enemy of the independence of the Republic of Korea.
This sort of problem, in one form or another, faces virtually every non-Communist nation. How far should the nation go in encouraging trade with Communist nations?

Japan's action, it seems to me, raises some good questions. For one thing, in keeping with the vital energy of capitalism that has swept this country since the end of the war, there is a free-wheeling feeling that trade should not know any political barriers. I share that feeling.
When the contract with Communist nations was opposed, for instance, even those with the strongest objections were careful to say that their stand was based primarily on deference to the position of a good customer, and ally, South Korea, rather than on simple hostility to trading with Communists.
That is a possible guideline, to make sure that trade with Communist nation does not directly support that nation in attacks against an ally. But that, in turn, is what caused most of the trouble in Japan, with left-wing critics loudly attacking the government for being all too considerate of the demands of South Korea. Economists, they say, should be divorced from politics.

At this particular point a number of free traders might say that the contract with Communist nations is not trade but merely a means of financing Communist nations. But this is also where the real rub comes. When dealing with Communist nations, economics cannot be divorced from politics. Trade with a Communist nation is not trade between merchants, but between merchants on the one hand and a totalitarian government on the other.
It is not the idea of trading that is involved, but the manner in which it is done. In market affairs, I would be the last to object. But Communist customers are not simply economic customers, but also political customers.
One of the worst things about dealing with the Soviet Union, for instance, is that they do not respect patent rights, will permit our scientists freely to travel and often exert political influence to get unaturally liberal credit or other terms.
Free trade is surely one of the great influences for peace. But to be free it must be free on both sides of the sales table.

The Doctor Says

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M. D.

Q—My mother recently died of a brain hemorrhage. Would the fact that she had high blood pressure for 10 years cause this?
A—Yes. When the arteries of the brain become hardened they are more likely to burst under withstand an increase in pressure without breaking.
Q—I never had high blood pressure but I had a stroke in 1963. What could cause this? Is there any way to get back the use of my left hand?
A—The stroke syndrome is the result of a cutting off of the blood supply to a part of the brain. This may be sudden and severe due to a massive brain hemorrhage or the plugging of an artery in the brain by a clot that has broken loose in another part of the body and been carried to the brain. On the other hand, it may be gradual and relatively mild due to an obstruction in an artery of the brain by a slowly forming clot or deposit of calcium in the arterial wall.
Early in the course of a stroke an attempt must be made to determine the treatment of the two types in different. Much can be done for some stroke victims

If rehabilitative measures are started promptly.
Q—Would a lack of vitamins cause this? What are the symptoms? Is it curable? What is the best treatment?
A—Shingles or herpes zoster is caused by the same virus that causes chicken pox. It is believed by some authorities to be a reactivation of the virus after it has lain dormant in a person whose attack of chicken pox several years earlier failed to produce complete immunity to it. Thus, it is not contagious in the ordinary sense.
The victim gets a series of small blisters along the course of the nerves that are closest to the skin. The blisters often are very painful. There is usually fever for a few days at the onset. Serious complications are rare but, if the optic nerve is involved, partial blindness may result.
Since there is no specific cure, treatment is aimed at relieving the pain with analgesic or codeine and making the victim as comfortable as possible while waiting for the disease to subside. If after four or five weeks the pain persists, it may be necessary to cut the involved nerve or inject it with boiling water.

TAYLOR'S VIEWS ON WASHINGTON

By HENRY J. TAYLOR

The internal explosion around Mao Tse-tung in Red China presented a magnificent moment we cannot safely miss.
The barriers that held Mao's rivals mesmerized and paralyzed the Chinese government down. Effective military and civic authority in the sprawling country has broken down. Mao stands shakily like a broken bone surrounded by monstrous dogs. At this moment Mao and his Henry J. Taylor rivals alike are at bay.

In all history moments of opportunity come and pass. The cream of our Army, Marine, Navy and Air Force is there. This is America's third largest war.
Don't we ever intend to end the Vietnam war?
President Johnson first offered peace terms that were all but sure to be accepted by the North in his Baltimore speech of April, 1965. He referred to this occasion again in his State of the Union address. Surely, no President of the United States had been more defeated, in his attempts to prove to his critics that our purpose is peace.
The main argument against "escalating" our Vietnam war was that it was not a military war. It was a political war. The contention that Mao's Red China would enter it and do us in. Champions of that contention include many of our leading military and political leaders. But if this contention were ever valid it is certainly not valid now. Are we to let the aggression bear slip out of our hands?

When President Kennedy, with the Monroe Doctrine and the oaths of preceding Presidents on hand to support him, performed to our shame the incredible Bay of Pigs debacle, instead of defending the Caribbean island America had sworn to defend, that moment of opportunity came and passed and then it was too late.
Within a year after all Russia had been so encouraged that she placed her troops and missiles in Cuba. This required President Kennedy to confront the U.S.S.R. in the Bay of Pigs. Cuba that is still a Soviet fringed with fire inside our own Caribbean defense perimeter is the monument to the Bay of Pigs. The moment to do the right thing was lost.

The 15 months or two years Ho Chi Minh would consume in talking. Red China could reestablish its internal stability. Again, the moment which is today would come and pass.
As George Santayana exclaimed long ago, "People who fail to learn from history are doomed to repeat it." We are in a position to enjoy that luxury any longer. There is a limit to the number of failures that even America can absorb. The American people are for a solid and solid victory in Vietnam.

When President Kennedy, with the Monroe Doctrine and the oaths of preceding Presidents on hand to support him, performed to our shame the incredible Bay of Pigs debacle, instead of defending the Caribbean island America had sworn to defend, that moment of opportunity came and passed and then it was too late.

Child's Views On Washington

By MARQUIS CHILDS

All I can say is that most of us who have experienced poverty at one time or another and especially if you are a child, and those unfortunate still locked in the poorhouse of child embrace need no exhibit to tell them what it is like.
I see no point to this display, other than to serve the morbid curiosity of the press and to provide a willing wall for the workers. But nobody will heed me—and even now the Smithsonian is looking for a crummy flat it can dismantle and reasonable to see in its museum.
At this point we're only one step away from the idea that knocked around the Office of Economic Opportunity for awhile. It thought about taking a poverty-stricken nation, family, complete with a child, and putting it in a room in the Lafayette Park one summer, so that tourists who visit the White House could see the poverty OED was fighting.

Notice the actual real-McCoy dirt and dust on the floors, the cobwebs on the ceiling, the falling plaster, the peeling wallpaper. This is it, neighbors, POVERTY. And it has cost your government thousands of dollars to show it to you. Move along, now, we still must get Lindbergh's plane before closing time.
This plant, readers, you probably think I've gone mad, but, if so, I've been driven by wacky bureaucratic and idealistic schemes such as this. The Smithsonian actually plans to show, on the theme of child deprivation is part of our cultural heritage and an example of it should be preserved for posterity.

Look Sues Newspaper Over Kennedy Book

NEW YORK (AP) — Look magazine is seeking damages in excess of $200,000 from the Chicago Daily News in a court suit charging the newspaper with unfair competition and infringement of copyright in publishing excerpts of the book, "The Death of a President."

Look filed separate lawsuits Wednesday against the Chicago Daily News, in U.S. District Court in Chicago, and the German magazine Stern, in Hamburg, Germany, asking for damages and an injunction against both publications over the serialization of the book.

Look claimed that it had embargoed until Jan. 10 its press release detailing some aspects of the first installment of the book and that the Chicago Daily News prematurely published on Jan. 7 an "excessive amount of material" from the first installment.

Stern was accused in the suit of breach of contract. Unlike the suit against Stern, the action against the Chicago Daily News is not based on breach of contract, since Look had no agreement with the newspaper.

Roy Fisher, editor of the Chicago Daily News, issued a statement Wednesday night saying: "The story was published consistently with the newspaper's responsibility to report news of national significance. We are confident that in doing so we violated no release and infringed no rights. We regret, nevertheless, that there is a mutual misunderstanding with Look."

Fisher had said on Jan. 7 that his newspaper had decided to print its article after it had obtained an advance copy of the magazine. He said that no release date had been printed on the copy of the magazine the newspaper had not received a news release from Look.

The suit against Chicago Daily News seeks to enjoin the newspaper from reproducing any portion of future Look installments, including the magazine's cover, without permission of Look.

The book's author, William Manchester, is a complainant in the suit.

In the Stern action, Look also seeks an injunction to block further publication of material it supplied to the German magazine.

In its serialization, Look has deleted or modified passages about the John F. Kennedy assassination which the President's widow regarded as too personal. Stern refused to make the deletions which Mrs. Kennedy requested, despite appeals from her lawyers and those for Look.

Look said in its complaint that Stern advanced publication date of its first installment of "The Death of a President" in an attempt to "scoop" Look and publications in 25 other countries.

In Bonn, Germany, Gerd Bucorius, one of the publishers of Stern, said his magazine plans an advertising campaign using press clippings that he claimed support its decision to publish all of the serialization. He said the advertisements will appear in several West German newspapers in the next few days.

Bucorius' statement was contained in a letter to Dr. Ulrich Lohmar, chairman of the Bundestag committee for science, culture and publications. Lohmar had asked that Stern give in to Mrs. Kennedy's wishes and stop its publication of the uncensored serialization.

Pleasure

FARMINGTON, Utah (AP) — At 101, Amasa L. Clark of Farmington feels it's never too late to do something for "a pleasure."

And this was his suggestion to the University of Utah when he mailed a $1,000 check to the school.

An 1885 graduate of the university, Clark said he had "an extra shib come in" and wanted to do something for his alma mater.

He wrote on the check, "A pleasure for your use as you elect."

4-WIN AWARD—Four fishermen at the United States Idaho have won the first J. R. Simplot Design Award for designing a solar barbecue, which uses the sun's rays for heat. The barbecue was designed by Jeff Holmes of Midvale, Jim Voyles of Nampa, Warren Book of Riggs and Charles Givens of New Meadows.

The competition included designs ranging from doorknobs to complicated electrical circuits.

OPPOSE SCHOOL LEWISTON (AP)—The Lewiston Medical Society Wednesday voted to oppose the proposed establishment of a medical school in Idaho.

A bill introduced in the Idaho Legislature would establish at Boise as a branch of the University of Idaho.

The society said in its resolution it has "serious reservations" in view of the fact that the population of the metropolitan areas of the state is inadequate to provide clinical material for a medical school.

CHARGE OKAYED—Freight, Inc., Lewiston, has been authorized to increase its minimum charge for freight shipments from $2.50 to $3, the Idaho Public Utilities Commission reported Thursday.

The commission said that only one protest to the proposed increase was received, from the Chamber of Commerce, which contended the $2.50 minimum was adequate.

"We can not overlook the fact," the PUC said, "that other carriers similar to Star Motor Freight have been authorized a $3.25 minimum charge."

OFFICERS ELECTED—BOISE (AP)—The president and treasurer of the Idaho Dairyman's Association were elected Wednesday to the Idaho Dairy Hall of Fame as a part of the program of the association's annual convention.

Named were Robert Davis, Kuna, the president, and Joe Prizl, Fruitland, the treasurer, both of whom are guerneusey cattle breeders.

MEETING SLATED—BOISE (AP)—The general membership building fund advisory council has scheduled a meeting for the morning of Jan. 25.

Gov. Don W. Samuelson announced Tuesday a reappointment of four of the council's members and replacement of the fifth.

James McClary, Boise, court chairman; "Theodore" H. Horseshoe Band; Rep. Tony Wessels, Cottonwood, and Warren Brown, McCalla, were reappointed to the council.

The previous member Sen. Walter Yarbrough, R-Murphy, to replace George Black, who was a senate member of the council but did not run for reelection last fall.

MAN CHARGED—POCATELLO (AP)—David Walter Harris is Pocatello, charged with second-degree murder in the Dec. 30 death of his 2 1/2-year-old stepson, was released from the Bannock County Jail Tuesday on $10,000 bond.

He has been in jail for two weeks.

The bond was reduced from $20,000 by Justice of the Peace Wayne L. Byrnes.

The case was posted by a professional bondsman, Sheriff H. E. Parker said.

TAKE APPLICATIONS—POCATELLO (AP)—Nearly 50 applications have been received for the position of Pocatello city manager, city officials said.

The job will become vacant at the end of May when the present manager, William Webb, retires. He has held the job since 1951.

The city commission has said they want to hire a man early for Webb to break in. The job will pay a minimum salary of $12,000 per year.

BIDDERS NAMED—BLACKFOOT (AP)—Constitution Bank and Trust of Salt Lake City and Idaho Bank and Trust of Blackfoot were successful bidders on the sale of $100,000 in municipal bonds at 4 1/2 percent on Tuesday night.

The pair bid a net interest cost of $12,095 for 1972 through 1976 at an average interest rate of 4 1/2 percent.

The money will be used to fund construction of a new police-fire building.

ESCAPE INJURY—Caldwell (AP)—Twenty children escaped serious injury Wednesday in a collision between the school bus in which they were riding and a car.

Deputy Sheriff Jim Gibbons said the bus overturned. One child, Mark Penner, 9, was admitted to a hospital for observation. The others were examined, treated for minor hurts and released.

5 Men Buy All Stock In Savings Firm

MERIDIAN, Idaho (AP)—Five Meridian Idaho businessmen were authorized Wednesday night to purchase all stock in the Meridian Savings and Loan Association.

Seventeen of the institution's shareholders voted to sell outstanding capital stock in the firm at its par value of $2.50 per share.

Former secretary-treasurer Wyland Lind said 1968 had not been a good year for the association, partly because of "a tight money policy plus certain wild inflationary pressures" and partly because of the July closing of the Idaho Savings and Loan Association.

Lind also said a sharp decline in the housing industry had made it difficult for lending institutions to obtain meridian savings and loans.

Purchasers of the association include Bernard Gratton, Emmet, president of the Central Mining Co.; Ralph Hunter, Meridian, publisher-editor of the Meridian News Times; R. L. Rice, Boise, owner of Bob Rice Ford; F. McDevitt, a Boise attorney, and Ralph Frazier, president and owner of the Treasure Valley Broadcasting Co., and Lewis Stanley KATM.

McDevitt said the stock had been purchased for an "undetermined amount."

Q. There is a girl in my class who has a way with the boys. Every boy I date, she comes right behind me and dates him. After they have been with her, the boys never date me again. She doesn't seem to do this to other girls—I have never been in odds with her, and I think I could even like her if she didn't steal my dates. How do you think I can correct this situation without hurting anybody?

A. Panelists: Cheryl Craig, high school, North Dakota; Betty Carde, high school, New Mexico; Alan Linford, college, Wyoming; Kenneth Loving, high school, Illinois.

Do the girls make the dates in-louster if not, what kind of a drag are you that the boys don't want a return date? If it may be that this girl isn't stealing your boy friends, but that you are cutting yourself out. Even if your date mate went out with a Dairy Queen, he would come home if his former dates had you were interesting and enjoyable.

Do you have an irritating personality? Are you too aggressive? Do you dominate the conversation and try to impress your fellow with your intelligence? If these are troublesome, you should blame yourself and not the cat.

It is really quite simple to give a boy a good date. If you are feminine and make yourself as neat and attractive as nature will allow. If you are relaxed and amiable and if you are interested enough in the boy to enjoy hearing him talk. And, if pleasant, you need never worry about being dated again. It's that simple: Intelligent boys are quite reasonable in their demands.

It is really quite simple to give a boy a good date. If you are feminine and make yourself as neat and attractive as nature will allow. If you are relaxed and amiable and if you are interested enough in the boy to enjoy hearing him talk. And, if pleasant, you need never worry about being dated again. It's that simple: Intelligent boys are quite reasonable in their demands.

Q. There is a girl in my class who has a way with the boys. Every boy I date, she comes right behind me and dates him. After they have been with her, the boys never date me again. She doesn't seem to do this to other girls—I have never been in odds with her, and I think I could even like her if she didn't steal my dates. How do you think I can correct this situation without hurting anybody?

A. Panelists: Cheryl Craig, high school, North Dakota; Betty Carde, high school, New Mexico; Alan Linford, college, Wyoming; Kenneth Loving, high school, Illinois.

Do the girls make the dates in-louster if not, what kind of a drag are you that the boys don't want a return date? If it may be that this girl isn't stealing your boy friends, but that you are cutting yourself out. Even if your date mate went out with a Dairy Queen, he would come home if his former dates had you were interesting and enjoyable.

Do you have an irritating personality? Are you too aggressive? Do you dominate the conversation and try to impress your fellow with your intelligence? If these are troublesome, you should blame yourself and not the cat.

It is really quite simple to give a boy a good date. If you are feminine and make yourself as neat and attractive as nature will allow. If you are relaxed and amiable and if you are interested enough in the boy to enjoy hearing him talk. And, if pleasant, you need never worry about being dated again. Although enrollment for the second semester is not yet complete, early indications are that the same number of students will be retained for the spring semester as enrolled for the fall term.

Awarded the grant, Magic Valley Christian College will be able to assist more students in attending college who otherwise would be restricted because of financials.

Breakdown of the total figure granted includes $24,480 for the National Defense Student Loan Program, $5,000 for Educational Opportunity Grants and $70,520 for the College-Work-Study Program.

Students needing assistance financially to attend college should apply immediately to Magic Valley Christian College, Albion, Idaho 83311.

Director Of YMCA Speaks At Club Meet

Chet Bartlett, executive director of the YMCA, was guest speaker during a Wednesday luncheon meeting of the Twin Falls Lions Club.

Mr. Bartlett, introduced by William Boyd, spoke of the physical fitness program offered for youth and adults at the Y-building. According to Mr. Bartlett, most men reach middle age at 25, when they start failing to get proper exercise necessary to keep them in good health.

He said if you have "one-half inch of fat around your middle—you are in trouble."

Dale Patterson was appointed membership chairman, with a goal set at 500 members to be reached between Jan. 28 and Feb. 14.

Dr. T. J. Wilkes, president, reported the annual Lions Club Charter Night is scheduled to Feb. 15, with time and place to be announced.

Much Crime In Nation Is Unreported

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three times more U.S. crime goes officially unreported than surfaces in police statistics, a national crime commission is preparing to report.

For property crimes such as thefts, the ratio is even higher, the commission's figures reportedly will show.

The commission report is due to go to President Johnson Monday but probably will not be released until mid-February.

The report is expected to say that a principal reason for unreported crime is the feeling among many persons that it is futile to tell the police of minor property thefts.

Pentagon Plans To Minimize Military Bases

By SEYMOUR M. HERSH

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon aims to save more than $37 million yearly by merging or phasing out 33 military bases and activities in the United States and 6 overseas facilities. It was learned today.

More than 1,400 civilian jobs would be eliminated.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara tells a news conference today about the new consolidation move, his sixth since 1961.

Informal sources said the new cutbacks also will involve the transfer of 3,000 other civilian employees and 1,700 military workers. The informants added, however, that all career civilian employees whose jobs will be eliminated by the new actions will be immediately offered different positions by the Defense Department.

The 33 cutbacks in the United States are spread unevenly across the nation, with Alabama, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Texas and Washington each losing three facilities, California, Massachusetts, New York and Ohio each will lose two facilities.

The largest savings — about $20.8 million annually — will be gained by phasing out all of the Navy's antisubmarine P-3 seaplanes by 1968 and their support facilities at 12 bases around the world. Informants emphasized that the phasing out of the seaplanes will not shut down overall activities of the air bases.

They added that McNamara's decision to cut out the seaplanes operations was based on evidence indicating it is cheaper and easier to support similar antisubmarine operations with land-based planes.

The following major economy steps also will be taken, sources said:

- The Naval Supply Center at Bayonet, N.J., will be shut down by the end of the year with much of its functions transferred to Norfolk, Va., annual savings will total $3.6 million.
- Historic Fort Hancock, N.J., in Lower New York Bay near Coney Island, will be closed by December, 1968, at a savings of $1 million a year.
- All 14 Army Reserve Corps headquarters will be deactivated by December, 1968, at an annual savings of about $8.5 million. The headquarters now serve as a link between the headquarters of the continental armies and sector commanders in supervising reserve functions. By 1968 these functions will be completely absorbed by the continental Army headquarters.
- The 1st Naval District at Boston will be merged with the 3rd at New York to cover New England, New York and northern New Jersey. This action, to be completed by the end of this year, will save $495,000 annually. Headquarters will be at New York.
- The 4th Naval District at Philadelphia and the 5th at Norfolk will merge by Jan. 1, 1968, with an annual savings of $528,000. Headquarters will be at Norfolk.
- The 12th Naval District at San Francisco and the 13th at Seattle, Wash., will merge by Jan. 1, 1970 with annual savings of $483,000. Headquarters will be at San Francisco.

Some secret activities at the Red River Army Depot in Texas, will be discontinued by this September, with the elimination of 87 civilian jobs and annual savings of $700,000.

The Army Metrology and Calibration Center and the Standards Laboratory at Frankford Arsenal in Philadelphia will be shifted to Redstone Arsenal at Huntsville, Ala., and later combined with some activities to be shifted from the Joliet, Ill., arsenal. Much of the details are secret but the moves are to be completed by July 1968 at an annual savings of $319,000.

Activities at Wright Air Force Base at Fairborn, Ohio, gradually will be phased out and shifted to nearby Patterson Air Force Base with an annual savings of $187,000 to begin in 1971.

Sources emphasized that none of the actions is to take place at a military base employing more than 250 military and civilian personnel. The Defense Department will make every effort to relocate displaced civilian workers, they added.

"Hey, boss—how about a 6 per cent 'SUR-raise'?"

Concerned Citizen Sends Sen. Kennedy $2 For Haircut

BY KELLY SMITH
WASHINGTON (AP)—A New Yorker—concerned about the image of the Empire State—has sent Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, 42 for a haircut.

Emanuel F. Manheimer, 25, Ossining, N.Y., said Kennedy's bushy hair and bolded hairline for some time. But seeing the senator on television last week on the night of President Johnson's state of the Union message—really was the last straw, he said.

"It is irrelevant whether I am a registered Democrat or Republican," Manheimer wrote Wednesday. "The only point is that I am and have been all my life a resident of the state of New York."

"I am enclosing a check in the amount of $2," he said, "to maintain an image—that the citizen might have of the Empire State." He said that when he once worked as a state park employ he boss "wouldn't allow us to report to work like that."

Kennedy "apparently was unconverted."

"I got a haircut Monday. Tell Mr. Manheimer to watch me the office ready admit he gets a haircut," a senator office spokesman said through an office spokesman.

The clip was anything but elegant, Manheimer wrote.

Manheimer, president of EBM Associates—an investment and real estate firm, is not the first to suggest scissors. Kennedy's office readily admits he gets a "fair amount of mail on the subject, particularly after a public or television appearance." Mail is both pro and con. Money that some other letter-writers have sent for haircuts has been turned over to charities, a Kennedy aide said. He said Manheimer's letter had not arrived. Kennedy's bushy hair also draws some barbs from fellow senators.

When Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen arrived one day with his locks too more than usual, a colleague said he had to get a "cut," "You're looking more like Bobby every day!"

Quipped Dirksen: "Well, I thought we might as well have Beatles on each side of the aisle."

Dangerous Act Performed From 'Copter

By RALPH DIGHTON
AP Science Writer
PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Sam Mason was hanging by his seat belt for a while Wednesday.

For him, that's not too unusual. Although white-haired—49 and a grandfather, Mason is a test pilot.

What was unusual, even for Mason, was that he was in a helicopter at the time of the stunt, and the helicopter was not supposed to fly that way.

Mason's feat was performed before several hundred veteran helicopter pilots here for the annual convention of the Helicopter Association of America.

Among the 20-odd craft on exhibit at the Palm Springs airport, Mason's was unique. Its four blades had no engines.

Most helicopter blades are hinged so they can be swung up or down while whirling to point the rudderless craft in a certain direction without tilting the cabin, suspended beneath them like a pendulum.

The blades of Mason's helicopter were fixed rigidly to the central rotating shaft. This meant that when he tilted the blades he tilted his cabin too. But it also meant that he could roll, loop and fly upside down.

In a conventional helicopter, the rotor blades are in a airplane, were flown upside down there would be danger of damaging the engine. The blades, which are hinged so they can be swung up or down while whirling to point the rudderless craft in a certain direction without tilting the cabin, suspended beneath them like a pendulum.

Mason set out to prove it. For 15 minutes he performed loops, rolls, rotor-over (these would be a maneuver which stops just short of a full roll), and airdrop aerobically which would leave a pilot in a full roll, all at a height of 500 to 1,500 feet.

Clergymen Told To Watch Their Step In South Africa

By DENNIS LEE ROYLE
JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Foreign preachers who use the pulpit to attack this country's racial policies may find themselves out of a job here.

Legislation is expected to cut to a year the usual three-to-five-year temporary residential permit. Even the one-year permit could be withdrawn.

Many clergymen, some of them holding foreign passports, have been warned to watch their step. Those who continue to condemn apartheid—race segregation—from the pulpit and in pastoral magazines are the targets.

The growing antagonism between the Protestant Dutch Reformed Church and other religious bodies has influenced the government to take action.

White Prime Minister Balthazar J. Vorster holds the reins of political power, his brother, Dr. J.A. Vorster, an actuary of the Dutch Reformed Church, dominates the religious field. The Church has a predominantly Afrikaans-speaking following estimated at 1.7 million whites in a total white population of about three million. It upholds the government's racial segregation policies.

Dr. Vorster has directed attention to the multiracial Christian Institute of South Africa, a religious body which has often attacked what it considers the lack of Christian principles applied to South Africa's racial policies.

Its members embrace many of the country's religious groups, including some ministers of the Dutch Reformed Church, even though the latter have been expelled from the institute and warned its Church followers not to associate with it.

"The Christian Institute is mainly responsible for the ugly image of the Dutch-Reformed Church in the outside world," says Dr. Vorster. "During a meeting of the World Council of Churches they conveyed the impression that South Africa was sitting on a powder-keg. Let us tell the world we have rejected this image."

A government leader, Ben Schoeman, says:

"We are growing tired of political bishops. They use their pulpits to justify their dirty attack on the government. If ministers who really want to take part in politics, let them step down on to the political platform."

Commenting on the religious role played by the prime minister's brother and other Afrikaans preachers, Schoeman said they've used the pulpit to further political aims.

"Dr. Vorster was attacking communism," he said. "I would welcome other ministers who followed his example."

GREAT PLAYERS ON U.S. TEAM
The team to represent America in the 1947 World's Championship consists of Alvin Roth, Bill Root and Edgar Kaplan of New York; Norman Key of Philadelphia and Eric Murray and Sammy Khehela of Toronto.

Hand one of the first match started everyone in the same direction. With East and West led in the 1947 World's Championship, each South player got off four hearts against a ten of clubs opening. At a trick-two, the South-led Philadelphia and Eric Murray and East rose with his king. At two tables East proceeded to lead the king of spades; after this play the best declarer could do was to make his contract. At two of the five tables East shifted to a trump. South rose with his ace, ruffed a club in dummy, returned to his hand with a low diamond to the queen, led out his king and queen of trumps, entered dummy with the ace of spades and discarded his queen of clubs and low spade on dummy's diamonds. The second diamond was ruffed but South did make an overtrick which in each case was worth one IMP to him.

(Answer Next Issue)
Q—The bidding has been:
West North East South
1 Pass 1 Pass 1 Pass 1 Pass
2 Pass 2 Pass 2 Pass 2 Pass
3 Pass 3 Pass 3 Pass 3 Pass
You, South, hold:
A Q 7 5 4 3 2 K B 3 3 7 6
A—Double. Your partner must have some reasonable defense against diamonds and you have four diamonds to the king. It looks as if West is in real trouble.

TODAY'S QUESTION
Instead of bidding two clubs your partner jumps to three spades. What do you do in this case?

New Grid Rule Change To Encourage Punt Returns; Electronic Aids Banned

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—The rules committee of the National Collegiate Athletic Association adopted a new rule Wednesday which it hopes will put the foot back into football and open up a whole new pattern of offensive play. The committee also adopted a rule prohibiting the use of electronic coaching aids, particularly videotaped replays during games. The committee, headed by Fritz Crisler, University of Michigan Athletic director, decided "that there have been too many fair catches or kicks from scrimmage and it's the unanimous feeling that this should change."

Fish, Game Rotary Fund Hike Okayed

BOISE (AP) — The State Board of Examiners authorized today an increase in the Idaho Fish and Game Department's rotary fund but Gov. Don W. Samuelson said he planned to investigate. He, along with other board members, Secy. of State Edson H. Deal and Atty. Gen. Allan G. Shepard, approved the increase from $3,000 to $5,000. The rotary fund is used to purchase fishing equipment and other items. Samuelson said he planned to investigate the increase in the rotary fund. He said the increase is needed to provide adequate postage during peak mailing periods. Samuelson earlier said that he questioned some of the practices of the Fish and Game Department. He said the department had a backlog of mail. He said the department had a backlog of mail. He said the department had a backlog of mail.

The board held up for further study a request from Tax Collector Floyd West for acquiring new data processing machines. Board members agreed to give consideration until the legislature acts on a proposed reorganization plan which would establish central data processing procedures.

All-Stars Are Shut Out By Montreal 3-0

MONTREAL (AP) — Left wing John Ferguson scored two goals and the Montreal Canadiens turned in the first shutout in the history of the National Hockey League All-Star game, beating the All-Stars 3-0 Wednesday night.

Ferguson scored his first goal less than two minutes after Henri Richard opened the scoring at 14:03 of the first period and then hit again with eight seconds left in the game. Veteran Montreal goal-tender Charlie Hodge and rookie Gary Bauman shared the work in the shutout. Hodge played the first and third periods, while Bauman worked the middle 20 minutes. A crowd of 14,284 watched the 20th, televised of the All-Star games, televised to some sections of the United States.

Knap Resigns Football Job At Utah State

LOGAN, Utah (AP) — Utah State University officials began accepting applications Wednesday to fill the head football coaching position vacated by head mentor Tony Knap. Knap submitted his resignation Wednesday morning to accept an assistant duties in a coaching position with the Vancouver B.C. Lions of the Canadian professional football league. USU President Daryl Chase said Knap's resignation for the football program ended with announcement of the resignation.

Chase and Athletic Director Frank Williams said preliminary applications were being received by phone immediately following the announcement of the resignation. Neither commented on the number of applications or from whom they were received. Williams said members of the USU football staff have been offered new contracts and are eligible to apply for the head coaching position.

Knap's resignation came after several weeks of controversy as to whether his contract would be renewed. Sources said that Williams had recommended that Knap be released. Just prior to the meeting of the school's board of trustees, the recommendation was changed. Knap became head football coach in 1963. In four years his teams compiled a 29-14-1 record. During his first year, Knap was named Rocky Mountain coach of the year.

Knap said he and his family will fly to Vancouver this week and to make arrangements for a home and final plans with the Lions' officials.

Idaho Recruits JC Linebacker

MOSBY, Idaho (AP) — Roger Greenway, a 200-pound linebacker from Lacey Junior College, Oakland, Calif., has signed to play football at the University of Idaho, the university announced Wednesday.

Greenway's team was the only undefeated junior college team in the nation and won the Fresno State Invitational. Greenway, a university spokesman said, Greenway, from National City, Calif., will begin classes at Idaho at the start of the second semester Feb. 1.

Stocking Of Clubs Set By NHL Teams

By HAL BOCK Associated Press Sports Writer MONTREAL (AP) — The National Hockey League's Board of Governors released Wednesday the plan for stocking the circuit's six new expansion teams after overcoming apparent roadblocks from the existing teams' general managers. Each existing team will be permitted to protect one goalie and 11 other players before the new teams can make their first selection.

After losing one player, the existing teams may protect another and the pattern continues until each expansion team drafts two players of the existing clubs' first 15. Then, the new teams pick three more players and the original pattern resumes until each of the new clubs has 18 players and two goaltenders.

The six-team NHL will double in size next October with the addition of teams representing Los Angeles, San Francisco, Oakland, St. Louis, Minneapolis-St. Paul, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

Clarence Campbell, president of the NHL, had expected an early approval of a plan worked out by the Board of Governors Tuesday. However, the general managers of the six existing teams "throw a roadblock" Wednesday. "We made quite a number of changes in our original plan," Campbell said. Some owners are not very generous, but I've never heard of a general manager that was the least bit generous."

Elford Reported Car Rally Leader

MONTRE CARLO (AP) — Vic Elford, a Briton driving a German Porsche, appeared to be leading the Monte Carlo rally Wednesday as the 101st and last surviving competitor pulled into Monte Carlo shortly after noon.

The drivers reported only modest amounts of snow and ice on the 1,875-mile run to Champery and back, which eliminated 66 of the 167 cars which started Tuesday.

After a day's rest in Monaco, the 60 highest-placed cars have another tour through the mountains by night.

Burley Edges Oakley In Last Seconds Of Overtime

BURLEY — A couple of clutch points by junior LeRoy Fink and Jay Wardle carried the Burley Bobcats to a 62-61 overtime victory over the Oakley Hornets Wednesday night. Twice the Bobcats seemed close to lose this one but came back both times. Wardle's four points in the closing seconds tied the game 59-59 and he scored two free throws with 17 seconds left in overtime pulled the Bobcats from one point behind and into the victory.

Hornung Is Married To TV Model

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Paul Hornung, the Golden Boy of the Green Bay Packers, was married Wednesday to Patricia Roeder, a girl from Green Bay, Wis., whom he met 10 years ago. Hornung is 31. The ceremony was performed by the Rt. Rev. Daniel F. Sullivan of the Catholic Church of the Good Shepherd. "I feel beautiful," Hornung said at a wedding reception in the Beverly Hills Hotel. "Everybody was nervous but me."

The wedding was attended by some 75 friends of the couple. "The couple will go to Hawaii on their honeymoon. Although they met 10 years ago, they became reacquainted last year when Miss Roeder, 28, visited her family in Green Bay. She was then working as a television model in Dallas, Texas."

"I've spent the last few months commuting between Green Bay and Dallas," Mrs. Hornung said. "Finally, I asked Paul, 'What am I going to do?'" "You're going to marry me," he said. Best man was Henry Hoffman of Louisville, Ky.; the bridesmaid, Linda Riley of Arcadia, Calif.; the ushers included Green Bay Packers teammates of Hornung, Fuzzy Thurston and Max McGee; Dan Currie of the Los Angeles Rams, and Bill King of Louisville.

The 6-foot-2 1/2, 220-pound half-back of the Packers is a native of Louisville, Ky. He won the National Football League's outstanding player award twice. Terrell, the World Boxing Association heavyweight champion, said "Tuesday he will pack his bags and go home unless the promoters remove 'D' change signs and billboards he said fail to give him an equal billing with Clay, the consensus champion. "We told him we are willing to change some of the signs and to give definite equal billing to Terrell in all future materials used for promotion of the fight," said Bill Giles, vice president for the Astorians.

Terrell had completed the signs had only a picture of Clay and that Clay's name on many of the signs was in much larger lettering.

WAC Isn't Ready For Expansion

DENVER (AP) — Expansion will be a primary topic but there may be no vote on the issue when presidents of Western Athletic Conference universities meet here Monday. Commissioner Pat W. Brechler said the presidents have shown interest in expanding the six-member league but he does not know if an increase in the league will be voted upon at the mid-winter meeting.

Colorado State University at Fort Collins, Utah State University at Logan and Texas Western University at El Paso are the most often mentioned in discussions of enlarging the circuit. The present universities in the league are Utah, Brigham Young, New Mexico, Wyoming, Arizona and Arizona State.

The recent universities in the league are Utah, Brigham Young, New Mexico, Wyoming, Arizona and Arizona State. "It was the opinion of the Presidents' Council," Brechler said, "that we should examine the effectiveness of current rules and regulations in an effort to ascertain whether modifications are necessary before negotiating with prospective new members."

Brechler said the presidents "will evaluate operating data compiled recently. If new members are added, they would be subject to any revisions in our constitution and operating code."

76ers Rally To Whip Pistons

DETROIT (AP) — The Philadelphia 76ers blew a 14-point lead but stormed back to win the stumping Detroit Pistons 113-105 Wednesday night in a National Basketball Association game. The victory was the 76ers sixth straight and 43rd of the season against four losses in their drive toward an NBA record for most triumphs in a campaign. The Boston Celtics won 62 games in 1964-65.

Terrell, the World Boxing Association heavyweight champion, said "Tuesday he will pack his bags and go home unless the promoters remove 'D' change signs and billboards he said fail to give him an equal billing with Clay, the consensus champion. "We told him we are willing to change some of the signs and to give definite equal billing to Terrell in all future materials used for promotion of the fight," said Bill Giles, vice president for the Astorians.

Terrell had completed the signs had only a picture of Clay and that Clay's name on many of the signs was in much larger lettering.

Celtics Topple Royals 119-106

CINCINNATI (AP) — Boston's balanced attack proved too much for Oscar Robertson's one-man show Wednesday night as the Celtics beat the Royals 119-106 in a National Basketball Association game. The Celtics, who now have beaten the Royals five times in a row, led from the start and made it 86-71 on two free throws by Larry Siegfried with 3:34 left in the third period. The Royals, led by Flynn Robinson and Walt Wesley, then ran off 15 straight points and tied the score.

Free GAS

ONLY 28 9/10

You may have noticed that the price of gasoline in the Twin Falls area is 5c lower than usual. In this period of inflation and rising living costs, this seems pretty screwy, but then Fearless Farris, the Stinker, the cause of this low price, has always been sort of screwy. He has always marched out-of-step and sung off-key to the tunes of the Major Oil Co. Glee Club. They've tried and tried but they can't get him to harmonize and do it their way. Because of this, the price of gasoline has remained comparatively low in this area.

You may wonder how Idaho's native Independent, Fearless Farris, can sell quality gasoline at such a low price. Frankly, he can't (at a profit). He is giving you the gasoline absolutely free and only charging you for the gasoline taxes, the additives that make it unraided, and the smile you always get from the attendant. Besides giving away free gasoline, the Stinker is also giving away Gold Strike Stamps and a new 1967 Mercury Cougar.
