Senate Debates Amendment On Legislative Meets

By EARLE L. JESTER
BOISE (AP)—Idaho's Senate debated at length today a proposed constitutional amendment providing for "annual" rather than biennial sessions of the State Legislature. The House approved the proposal last week, 60-9, and Senate passage would send the proposed amendment to the people. It would be voted on in the 1968 general election. Sen. Orval Hansen, R-Idaho Falls, was floor sponsor of the proposal. He said the biennial sessions were provided for in the state's constitution, drafted in 1889, and since then "a change in times pretty well dictates the change in legislative machinery provided for in this resolution."

He said every legislative session in recent years has gone beyond the 60-day limit and in addition a number of special sessions have been called. He argued that in the closing days of a biennial session "there is no time for adequate consideration."

Also, he added, "much bad legislation slips through" in the final days. By having two sessions each biennium, Hansen said, bills would be considered the second week of the session. At present all bills die with the end of a session.

Legislators began working in earnest last week, introducing 56 House bills and 28 Senate bills, including a 23-bill package to create a department of administrative services, or "housekeeping" agency.

Committee action this week may include a bill to reorganize the State's 13 judicial districts into seven, appropriate $1.5 million aid to junior colleges and to call for optional cash redemption of trading stamps.

The trading stamp bill was heard in committee Friday, but it got little support. Most votes were either against or favored banning them.

Two bills which might have been inspired by Gov. Don W. Samuelson's remarks about his own resignation as "an honest debt."

The measure was sponsored by Rep. Helen McKinley, R-Salem. It transfers authority for railroad grade crossings from the Department of Public Works to the Department of Highways, and for the Department of Public Utilities Commission, and another removing warehousemen from the jurisdiction of the Public Utilities Commission.

Members of the House introduced a bill raising the legal marriage age from 18 to 21 for men and 21 for women. The bill further specifies that a girl may marry at age 16 with the consent of her parents or guardian and that a male may marry at age 18 with consent of his parents or guardian.

Members of the society feel that once a cure for cancer is found, Bedford's body can be thawed and surgery performed to remove the tumor. Before his Life Extension Society, headquartered in Washington, calls the process cryobiology, or frozen life.

Ed Hope, who heads Cryo Care, Inc., of Phoenix, said the body, prepared at temperatures of 109 below zero Fahrenheit, will now be frozen still further to minus 220 degrees.

He said he expected it to be many years before the body is thawed out.

Social Security Benefit Hike Is Asked By Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson asked Congress today to raise Social Security benefits by 15 per cent and 50 per cent in the lowest bracket and said such an increase will be "a major step toward our goal that every elderly citizen has an adequate income, and a meaningful retirement." Johnson's proposal, which he said would guarantee minimum benefits of $70 a month for individuals and $105 a month for married couples, also includes a recommendation for increased Social Security taxes, both by raising the taxable base and by increasing rates.

The President asked Congress to increase the amount of annual income on which taxes are collected to $7,800 next year, $9,000 in 1971, and $10,800 in 1974.

He also asked Congress to revise rate increases already scheduled, going from 4.4 to 4.5 per cent in 1969 and from 4.85 per cent in 1973 to 5 per cent.

Johnson recommended that the amount Social Security recipients can earn without losing their benefits be increased to $1,600 a year and that the amount above that for which a beneficiary can retain $1 in payments for each $2 in earnings be increased to $2,880.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

By ANDREW TULLY
WASHINGTON — Secretary of State Dean Rusk, a man with a great deal of rugged Georgia sand in his pockets, is rapidly losing patience with United Nations Secretary General U Thant—so the point is that he is beginning to feel that Thant's credentials as an honest broker between the United States and North Vietnam are being tested.

U Thant presumably is using his "good offices" to bring about discussions between the two governments, in accordance with a request made by Secretary of State Rusk in a letter from U.S. Ambassador to the UN Arthur Goldberg. But it is Rusk's feeling, expressed privately to intimates and an occasional visitor, that Thant is very close to being irrelevant to the peace process in Vietnam. Rusk is wondering aloud whether Thant already has outlived his usefulness in seeking negotiations. Rusk is particularly irritated by Thant's statements that the war was being fought between the National Liberation Front, or Viet Cong, "is not a stooge of Hanoi," and that the conflict is purely a civil war between opposing South Vietnam sides. It is the United States position that the war was being fought and is being carried on by the North Vietnam regime, and that the Viet Cong was organized in North Vietnam and has since had Hanoi's full support, including the dispatch of troops into the South.

DOCUMENTS PROVE THAT WRONG—Thant's viewpoint, according to Rusk, is at variance with documents in the possession of the International Control Commission state flatly that the National Liberation Front was created by the North Vietnamese Communist party both to deceive the West and to "liberate" the South by force. Moreover, Rusk is dismayed that although Thant continues to call for an unconditional cease-fire to bombing of North Vietnam, "Thant has voiced no criticism of Hanoi for refusing to comply with the second point of Thant's peace program. This calls for mutual de-escalation of military activities in the South. It is Thant's general attitude toward the Viet Cong, intimates of the Secretary of State say he goes into a slow burn at such remarks of Thant's that North Vietnam is motivated by a desire to bring the Geneva talks to an end. Rusk wants to know what principle is involved in the kidnapping and murder by the Viet Cong of 26,000 civilians in the South during the past 32 months.

NO ONE FLEES NORTH—"Let's get that little item in," Rusk told President Johnson when the latter was preparing his State of the Union message. "Perhaps Thant will say, 'On other occasions, when commenting on what he calls Thant's "tears for the North Vietnam civilians," Rusk asks callers why the UN Secretary General has never addressed the United States Congress on the South's overrun with refugees "no one runs to the North to escape persecution or torture."

Views Of Others
CANDOR AND THE BUDGET
President Johnson will not find it easy to obtain congressional approval for his proposed surtax on individual and corporate incomes. He probably does not want an immediate decision. On one hand, the grounds there are no grounds for a further increase at this time, and the Administration is probably content to wait a few months before pressing for action. If by April or May the economy has improved, it is entirely reasonable to expect the tax rate to be quietly dropped, as it should be in those circumstances.

KIND HEARTS AND CORONERS
It's almost unbelievable, sometimes the lengths a man will go to in order to make this old world just a little happier. Take, for instance, the William J. Burns International Detective Agency, Inc., which is worried that the employment of various employers may be shy about violating certain of the complaints about conditions that make their working lives fall a little short of being an awesomest.

Troubled Mom

DEAR TROUBLED: You are wise to notice and attach significance to your husband's "teasing." He is in a sense "competing" with the boys, and flaunting his superiority. This is bold immaturity. Explain this to your husband and urge him to "grow up" or his little boys will become men before their father does.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "YOUR FAN IN MEMPHIS:" Copying someone else's work, with or without his permission, is cheating. And cheating is stealing.

RESIDENTS of the Rosemore Leisure World Retirement Community near Santa Ana, Calif., aid one of the victims at right after wreckage from the air collision of two jet airplanes

Jets Collide Over Community Killing Pilot, 4 Residents

SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP) — "Oh my God! I hope I got it past the building!"

These were Marjorie Galt James' Powell's last words, minutes after his Skyhawk jet attack plane collided with another in a rainstorm Sunday.

Both disabled planes crashed into a Southern California retirement community, setting two dwellings on fire. Powell and four residents died.

Four other persons were injured, three residents of the Leisure World community, setting two dwellings on fire. Powell and four residents died.

— Many residents of the community 14 miles southeast of Los Angeles were away at church services when the planes crashed.

— "No one had a chance," said Dr. Adrian Irvine, a retired physician. "I looked out a window and saw a mass of flames engulf the building."

Laura Stevens, like Irvine a Leisure World resident, was reading a newspaper when she heard what sounded like thunder.

She saw a neighboring unit enveloped in flames and "people running out of the building carrying bundles of clothing."

As plane wreckage ripped through two of the two-story buildings, other persons were trapped temporarily by flames and debris.

A fuel tank fell from one of the planes as it smashed through the first building.

The collision reverberated after the crash theorized that the radio in one of the planes may have gone dead as the pilot was being guided toward a landing at El Toro Marine Air Station.

— Although El Toro is about five miles from the 3,000-acre housing development, Leisure World lies squarely in the instrument approach path to the airstrip.

Poverty Study Discussed At Rupert Meet

RUPERT—Topic of the third session of a mission study on poverty being held in the Methodist Church was "How Can Poverty Be Banned?" and "Conquering the Prosperous," with Mrs. Leland Stronks leading the discussion.

Mrs. Stronks discussed how the affluent group can work to understand the poor and reason for their status. "Much poverty is around us because affluent people refuse to recognize or associate themselves with it in any way," Mrs. Stronks said.

At an official of the Job Corps at Mountain Home attended the meeting, which was held Sunday, discussing the aims of the corps and how it is helping to eradicate poverty in the nation.

A one-act play, "Two in a Trap," concluded the evening's presentation with Vickie Moss and Mrs. Stronks in the cast.

A society woman and a woman on an elevator, caught together in the act of adultery, brought out that the richer woman completely ignored that going on around her.

Mrs. Grace King, retired local welfare director for Minidoka County, was the leader for the second session, discussing the question, "Why Do People Stay Poor?"

The six characteristics which Mrs. King cited as contributing to an individual's poverty status were old age, color, membership in a family headed by a female, membership in a rural family, having less than eight years of education and only part-time employment for the head of the family.

Mrs. King said relief and welfare fall because welfare programs relieve the symptoms of poverty but are not designed to get at the basic causes of poverty, which are social rather than economic.

Mrs. Florence Beckwith, chairman of the Mission Education and Service Committee for the church, is heading arrangements for the five-week study course. The study on poverty is also the all-church study program for the Christian Church year, and several members of that group have been attending the sessions.

Next Sunday Dr. John Hend will discuss "The Role of the Church" and "The Individual Christian and Social Neglect."

The final meeting on Feb. 5 will be conducted by Dr. Charles Lehmann, "The Poor Who Crowd the Globe" and "What Methodists Are Doing."

The public is invited to these sessions from 7:30 to 9 p.m. at the fellowship hall.

Middleweight champion Emile Griffith and featherweight Vicente Saldivar are favored to return to title defenses this week.

Griffith, 28, the New York ruler of the 160-pound division, takes on New Yorker Joey Archer, 29, in a 15-rounder at Madison Square Garden Monday night.

Saldivar, 23, of Mexico City, risks his 126-pound division crown against 25-year-old Mitsunori Seki of Japan in the El Estor ring in Mexico City Saturday night.

Another champion, welterweight boss Curtis Cokes of Dallas, will also action, but in a non-title fight. The 147-pounder will take on France's Francois Pavila in an overweight 10-rounder in Paris, Monday night.

Griffith outpointed Archer in the first defense of his middleweight crown at the Garden last July 13. They were scheduled to meet again earlier in the year in a non-title fight. First Archer suffered a virus infection and then Griffith tore cartilage in his right ankle.

This will be the 15th title fight in the 160-pound division for Griffith, who held the welterweight crown before winning the middleweight championship from Cokes in 1960. The champion has had his last six fights.

Saldivar has a longer streak alive. He has won 15 straight in less than four years and will defend his title here on Sugar Ramos in 1964.

Fish, Game Commission Slates Meet

BOISE (AP)—The Idaho Fish and Game Commission's quarterly meeting Thursday will set opening dates for 1967 big game seasons and choose a new commission chairman.

Fish and Game Director John R. Woodworth said the early date for opening seasons was important as it was adopted to allow hunters to plan their hunting vacations well in advance.

Closing dates will be set at the commission's May meeting. Ray Holmes of Twin Falls is presently commission chairman.

A review of operations, rules (the budget matters, federal aid proposals and land acquisition for public access projects will be discussed at the meeting, Woodworth said.

Closed Circuit TV Aids Valley Coaches

By LARRY HOVEY

EDEN HAZELTON—Electronic eyes have been installed in the Valley High School gymnasium to aid coaches in correcting day-by-day mistakes that have been made as much as a game, as well as other teams use regular cameras and film. But our purpose will be the same. We'll have a squad meeting Sunday morning and play it back for the team to look at, pointing out the various mistakes that have been made. After that we can erase it for use on the next game," Brulotte said.

Robinson Is Athlete Of Year

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Baseball's Frank Robinson, hailed in another valuable prize Sunday night when he was named winner of the S. Rae Hickok Professional Athlete of the Year Award, a $10,000 diamond-studded, gold-buckled belt.

He was presented with the gleaming trophy at the annual charity dinner of the Rochester Press and Radio Club.

Robinson received 91 of the 108 first-place votes and 502 points on a 2-3 scoring basis. 200,000 birds counted on the impoundment by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service in its annual January waterfowl inventory. (Times-News photo)

Duck Inventory Completed

The final phase of the operation was carried out by Leon Burley Bridge. The remainder of the Snake River is handled by the Idaho Fish and Game Department which counted from aerial survey. The count ran from American Falls dam to

The eastern portion of the census showed 55,000 ducks and 1,000 geese. About 50,000 of these were mallards with 1,200 pintails. The remainder came from many species.

Littlered and a Twist also counted five adult-bird eagles, two immature and one adult Golden Eagle and one albino Mallard. The Wildlife Service also keeps a count of the nation's remaining eagle supply.

Littlered said the albino mallard, which tends to be more tawny than white, was not a particularly unusual sighting. The counting party also was a used by the slipping and dodging antics of three coyotes caught out on the ice. The predators evidently were seeking dead birds. Their evasive action in seeking the safety of shore resulted in some spectacular spills and twists.

Magie Valley's portion of the counts will be put together with the aerial counts taken throughout the continent. The U. S. Wildlife Service also is counting the ducks wintering in deep Mexico to get an accurate picture of what can be expected for this spring's nesting possibilities. All censusing is completed in early January when the nomadic birds are relatively settled.

This plus brood counts taken in prime nesting areas project an inventory of the continent's waterfowl populations. Wildlife management experts then study these figures and trends for recommendations that provide the general outlines for length of hunting seasons and limits.

Miss Fleming, Visconti Lead Medal Hopes

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — GARY VISCONTI of Detroit and Peggy Fleming of Colorado Springs, Colo., figure to lead American hopes in the 1968 Olympic figure skating competition.

They were crowned men's and women's national champions here Sunday. Visconti, 21, throneed Allen Scott, 17, the men's crown while Miss Fleming won her fourth women's title.

An 18-member national team, plus two alternates, was named after the competition for the world meet at Vienna Feb. 28-March 5 by the U.S. Figure Skating Association. The team will also compete in the North American championships in Montreal, Feb. 10-12.

Miss Fleming, clad in gossamer and with a matching skirt and hat, took her lead here, with mainly on the brilliance of her style after dominating the compulsory figures.

In the senior pairs, champions Cynthia and Ronald, 20, of La Jolla, Calif., dominated an eight-team field as they displayed one thrilling maneuver after another in their five-minute program. The Kauffmanns got one vote of 5.9 for their style and four scores of 5.8 for technical merit. A perfect score was six.

Joe and Elaine of Colorado Springs, Colo., won the novice men's finals and Wen-An Sun, Iowa-born skater now from Colorado Springs, went on to win the novice women's title.

"I feel it's a ball club with a future," he said. Howsam, a native of Denver, was general manager of the Denver Broncos of the old American Association for 12 years. He was one of the founders of the American Football League and president of the Denver Broncos in 1960.

In 1951-1952 he was named by Sporting News as minor league executive of the year. Howsam said he understood the Cardinals will have a new general manager Monday for a possible report on a new general manager there.

Howsam starts work with the Cardinals this Monday. Dule, who also is president and publisher of the Cincinnati Enquirer, said more than 30 persons were screened in the search for a general manager. Salary terms of the contract were not disclosed.

Declo's Kay Schrenk Setting Fourth District Scoring Pace

Declo's Kay Schrenk continues to lead the fourth district in scoring and five men boast 20-point or better averages. Based on reports made to the Times-News sports department by Magie Valley coaches, a total of 42 men are in double figure averages.

Schrenk, only a junior, is rolling along on with a 24.2 average and a total of 290 points. If maintained, that total would leave him nine points shy of the district record of 499 set last year by Ron Adamson, now playing for Utah State's frosh.

LaRusso Is Suspended Second Time

NEW YORK (AP) — Rudy LaRusso of the Los Angeles Lakers, whose refusal to leave Los Angeles wiped-out a three-team trade, was suspended Saturday for the second time in less than a week, this time by Commissioner Walter Kennedy of the National Basketball Association.

Kennedy suspended LaRusso pending the outcome of a hearing into the three-way deal which last Monday sent LaRusso to Detroit, Ray Scott from Detroit to Baltimore and Mel Counts from Baltimore to Los Angeles.

The hearing, scheduled for Tuesday in New York, was called at the request of the Bullets and the Pistons, who charged that the Lakers have failed to fulfill their contractual obligations.

LaRusso, the only Ivy League graduate in the NBA, was reinstated by the Lakers just about 24 hours before the league suspended him.

After the trade was announced, the 6-foot-8 standout said he would not leave Los Angeles for various reasons and instead would retire. The Lakers suspended him but then reinstated him Friday after he met with owner Jack Kent Cooke.

The Bullets and the Pistons immediately protested to Kennedy, and the NBA commissioner ruled LaRusso out of the Lakers' line-up pending the outcome of the hearing.

T. F. At Mtn. Home Tops Mat Slate

Nine wrestling matches are scheduled this week by Magie Valley schools with Thursday being the big day with four set for the night.

Topping the slate for Thursday will be Twin Falls at Mountain Home when the Bruins will be out for revenge. The Tigers slipped past Twin Falls in their last meeting.

Other Thursday matches will be Kimberly at Wood River, Valley at Declo and Twin Falls junior varsity at Culehdorf.

Valley will travel to Bull and Castleford to be at Kimberly Monday while Wood River will test the Hornets at Declo Thursday.

Two matches Friday will wind up the week. Bull will be at Jordan and Twin Falls will journey to Pocatello.

Hawks Whip N.Y. 104-101 In NBA Game

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Hawks used a balanced scoring attack with four players contributing 18 points each to whip the New York Knicks 104-101 in a National Basketball Association game Sunday.

The Hawks, who led throughout the last half by as many as 10 points, were paced by player-coach Richie Guerin, Bill Bridges, Lou Hudson and Len Wilkens with 18 points each.

Scoring honors, however went to New York's Walt Bellamy, who collected 21. Willie Reed added 18 for the Knicks.

St. Louis jumped to a quick 20-11 lead in the first period, mainly on Bridges' nine early points. The Knicks rallied late in the quarter and finally overtook the Hawks 29-28 on Dave Stallworth's layup in the opening seconds of the second period.

The teams traded the lead four times before two goals by Paul Silas gave St. Louis a 52-49 half-time margin. The Hawks increased the margin to seven points, 82-75 at the end of the third period on a 10-point outburst by Guerin.

GUESS ON SLAM, GOOD GAMBLE
The first round of the American team trials final was marked by a succession of big hands that were in the slam zone. The results achieved by the experts with these cards don't look too good to bystanders but it is, far easier to bid a difficult hand when you are looking right at all 52 cards. All our players in the trials use a catch-all two club bid.

trump response was raised to four but North passed. East opened a spade and North fanned the hand for 12 tricks after West took his ace. Two other pairs played at three no-trump from the South seat and after a club opening, proceeded to make the correct guess in spades and wound up with the same 12 tricks. The remaining two pairs started out with two clubs, two diamonds, two hearts but each North player raised to three hearts and South contented himself with a four heart call which became the final contract. Strangely enough, both heart declarers misguessed the spades and made only four odd. A slam that depends on a finesse is generally regarded as one that you should bid or not as the fancy moves you, but most players consider this type of finessing better than even money. Declarer's problem comes only when the spade honors are split and most experts figure that they can guess which player holds the queen much more than half the time.
