Rising Prosperity, Less Inflation Predicted In Presidential Report

By STERLING F. GREEN
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson sent his annual economic report to Congress today, predicting rising prosperity with easier credit and less inflation this year. Key findings of the report, third and last of the major required presidential messages to the new Congress, were disclosed in Johnson's budget message.

McNamara Says War Nearing Turning Point

By SEYMOUR M. HERSH
WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara says the war in Vietnam is nearing a significant turning point: The Viet Cong apparently are running out of volunteers in South Vietnam and may be forced to rely more on the North for future fighting men. "We believe that any net increase in enemy troops during 1967 will have to come from North Vietnam," the defense chief told

Opposition To Mao Erupts In Manchuria

TOKYO (AP)—Ruhin Peking said today that opposition to Mao Tse-tung has broken out in Manchuria and the northern province of Shanxi, both supposedly secured by Maoists. The Wall posters told of fresh clashes elsewhere, including Tibet and Sinkiang in the far west.

Museum-Planetarium Study Due To Start

Coordinating the Herrett's Planetarium and Museum of Arts and Sciences into the Twin Falls school system to supplement classroom work is the aim of a feasibility study scheduled to begin Feb. 1 by David S. McClure.

Mr. McClure, a production research scientist with Asgrow Seed Co., will be taking nine months leave of absence to direct the study for the Twin Falls School District.

The planetarium and museum was built and designed by Norman R. Herrett, who has just returned from Peru, where he has been studying and collecting materials on the "Americas Before Columbus" addition to the museum.

A former school teacher, Mr. McClure has a Master's Degree from Iowa State Teachers College. A native of Lohrville, Iowa, he entered the U.S. Navy in 1942.

After leaving the service in 1946, he continued his education and taught school in Iowa, returning to service during the Korean conflict.

In 1956 he joined Asgrow Seed Co., working four years in California, before coming to Twin Falls to join Asgrow Research Center staff at Filer.

Mrs. McClure, also a teacher, will work with her husband as secretary in the school study. The couple and their four children reside at 466 Polk Street.

During the study, Mr. McClure will determine the extent of use of the arts and sciences center in the school system and by what ages of students. He also will make recommendations as to the best means of utilizing the facilities for the student-teaching-student values.

DAVID S. MCCLURE

Bolivia Boy, 11, Has Severe Case Of Disease Causing Brittle Bones

By TOM KUHN
SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Eleven-year-old Roberto Quispe has to be picked up by his head. Otherwise, his bones might crumble.

Doctors say the young Indian from Bolivia has the most severe case of osteogenesis they have ever seen. The disease causes faulty bone construction and makes bones brittle.

Roberto has never walked. His limbs are twisted and tortured with excruciating pain. X-rays show he has suffered between 30 and 40 fractures.

But through modern surgery, the dark-haired boy may be able to have limited use of his limbs.

Roberto was found by workers of the LDS Church in children's hospital in La Paz, Church records show his mother abandoned him and his father is dead.

Through a Mormon charity organization, Roberto was flown to a Salt Lake City children's hospital, where doctors hope to have him moving around on crutches and braces in a year.

Dr. Reed E. Fogg, a bone specialist, said the first of several surgical operations is scheduled Feb. 1. Metal rods will be inserted in Roberto's bones after surgeons "break his bones into a lot of little pieces," Dr. Fogg said.

He describes the boy's body this way: "One leg between the knee and foot makes a 180 degree curve. The other leg has a 100 degree curve. The right forearm in the middle makes a 90 degree angle. There is a 60 degree angle in the left arm."

Dr. Fogg said of the boy's chances of becoming mobile:

"We just don't know."

Roberto's latest misfortune came when he lifted a spoon to feed himself in the hospital. His arm broke.

Attendants move Roberto by placing one hand under his chin — the other behind his neck — and then lift.

Dr. Fogg says if surgery is successful, the young Indian will be able to develop beyond a hospital case. "He is bright and quick to learn," the doctor added.

If doctors succeed on the surgical table, Roberto's future will be brighter. Dr. Fogg says growth "hardens the boy's bones. And he has heard a Mormon family is interested in adopting the youngster."

Posthumous Award Planned

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon said Thursday the Medal of Honor will be awarded posthumously to an Idaho Marine, Lt. Frank S. Reasoner of Kellogg.

The presentation will be made next Monday by Idaho's widow, Sally, who lives at Kingston with her 3-year-old son, Michael, and her mother, Mrs. Florence Demico.

The medal was awarded for bravery in Vietnam. Reasoner was killed in 1965 while trying to rescue one of his wounded men.

He is the second Idahoan to earn the Medal of Honor in the Vietnam War. Air Force Maj. Bernard F. Fisher of Kuna received the medal last week.

Ketchum Man Is Named To Bank's Board

KETCHUM — Charles E. Atkinson, Ketchum businessman, has been named a director of the Bank of Idaho, Joseph Blanco, president, announced Thursday.

Mrs. Atkinson is president of the Christiana Motor Lodge and the Sun Valley Shopping Center in Ketchum. He moved to Sun Valley the year it was opened and worked for Union Pacific Railroad until opening a store in Picabo in 1938.

In 1942 he assumed management of the grain elevator and retail operation of the Kilpatrick Co., and in 1954 built Idaho's second television cable operation from an antenna on Mt. Baldy.

Mr. Atkinson purchased the former Christiana restaurant in 1956 and converted it into a food and general merchandising store. In 1957 he added the Christiana Motor Lodge. In addition he serves as a Blaine County Commissioner and president of the Ketchum-Sun Valley Rotary Club.

CHARLES E. ATKINSON
has been named to the Bank of Idaho Board of Directors.

Painting By Bellini Is Recovered

CHICAGO (AP) — A $350,000 painting by Italian Renaissance artist Giovanni Bellini was recovered by FBI agents Wednesday, three days after it was stolen from St. Joseph's College, Rensselaer, Ind.

The FBI seized the painting after arresting Joseph A. Riso, 28, of River Grove, Ill., who they said was placing the work in the trunk of his car.

Riso, charged with interstate transportation of stolen goods, appeared before U. S. Commissioner C.S. Bentley Pike who fixed bond at $2,500. The case was continued to Feb. 8.

The painting, "Virgin Mary and Child with St. Nicholas of Bari and Donor," was discovered missing in November 1955.

The painting, donated in 1961 by Dr. Bohumir Kyril, a Chicago musician, had not been insured because the university did not budget funds to authenticate the work. A painting must be authenticated before a theft policy can be issued, the Rev. Charles H. Banet, St. Joseph president, said.

Father Banet said the college would try to insure the painting after obtaining an official appraisal.

Officials at the Park-Hunt Art Gallery in New York said the painting was authenticated in 1953.

By ANDREW TULLY

WASHINGTON—As the prosecution unfolds its story of how Bobby Baker created a fortune by parlaying the cunning of a pool hall hustler with his job as secretary of the Democratic Senate majority, it has the uneasy feeling that the Supreme Court is looking disapprovingly over its shoulder.

If convicted, Baker is certain to appeal his case all the way to the highest tribunal—and he would do so waving an admission from the Justice Department that in bringing Baker to trial it violated his constitutional rights.

It is true, of course, that Andrew Tully Baker's trial here, Judge Oliver Gasch already has denied a defense motion to dismiss all nine counts of tax evasion and conspiracy on the grounds Baker's constitutional rights were violated by federal agents who bugged a 1955 conversation in which Baker participated. But if Baker is convicted and appeals, the Supreme Court will be faced with a dilemma of its own making.

TRICKY SITUATION—This is the so-called "exclusionary rule" by which in previous decisions the high court has trapped down policemen by excluding from any trial any evidence obtained by means which violate the Constitution. In the past, this has been interpreted as preventing policemen from conducting searches or interrogations because the evidence obtained therefrom could not be used in court. In the Baker case, however, the Supreme Court was asked to extend this rule to electronic eavesdropping.

Adding pliancy to the case is the circumstance that even before the trial started the government confessed that the FBI eavesdropped illegally on Baker. But it insisted that Baker still be tried on the basis of the evidence against him through these illegal methods. Although the conversations involving Baker filled 34 typewritten pages, the government said not one syllable pertained to the charges against him.

LEADS IF NOT EVIDENCE—Predictably, the defense has countered that even if no evidence was obtained by unconstitutional means, dropping gave the prosecution leads and otherwise made it possible for the Justice Department to make a case against Baker. The issue in an appeal, therefore, would seem to rest on whether the "leads" of the government's case even though no shred of its product was introduced as evidence.

In the past, the Supreme Court has based its rulings on Chief Justice Earl Warren's declaration that "the police must obey the law enforcing the law." In part of fact, however, the court has never declared wiretapping and bugging by electronic devices unconstitutional; indeed, in 1953 the court ruled that wiretapping is not a violation of constitutional rights.

MIKED SALAD—But court attaches note that the issue remains unresolved. For example, one case was ruled that a listening device was attached to the wall of a room to violate the Constitution. In another, the device was dismissed because it was shown that the device was attached to the wall by a thumbtack and the wall was not constitutionally "penetrated" and unlawful trespass committed.

Most Supreme Court "experts" expect that the Warren tribunal will declare all wiretapping and bugging by electronic devices unconstitutional. The evidence obtained in such a manner. But as one of the experts remarked, "It probably won't make any difference in most cases. The cops are pretty smart, too, and they can fix it so that the individual they want to investigate is not 'penetrated' and unlawful trespass committed.

Taylor's Views On World News

By HENRY J. TAYLOR

Absentee Congressman Adam Clayton Powell, author of the forthcoming book—and record—Keep the Faith, Baby," reveals again why it is nearly impossible for any self-respecting man to call himself a liberal in our country today.

This is a tragedy. Liberalism means a state of mind. It should be synonymous with decency, idealism and justice. But the professional liberal cabal with its obedient component of talking dogs, musical ayes, counting noses and dancing bears in and out of Congress—has stolen the label.

Scaramouch Powell will retain his seat if the ever-ready fixers in the liberal cabal can make their fix stick. The convenient spearhead for this veteran liberal rationalizer—Emanuel Celler (D., N.Y.)—who sorely needs the Negro vote in Brooklyn. Then the Democratic Party leadership, including "a blue ribbon jockey," flunked Chairman Celler with four additional members of the liberal cabal. These ventriloquist's dolls stack the committee 6-4 against the protesting Republicans.

But where is the liberal conscience in all this and what happens to the absolutely essential respect of the American people for the Congress of the United States?

Only power politics lets the professional liberals get away with it. Interesting this bunch in doing the right thing about Powell is like trying to interest a Peruvian llama in a steeples chase.

Leaders in the cabal like Sen. Robert F. Kennedy are no busy showing their liberal credentials that ethics, honesty, "excellence" and the "better government" they prattle about become sheer mockery.

The Doctor Says
By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M. D.

Q—I am anemic but when I was in the hospital recently I was not allowed to eat liver. What could be the reason for this?

A—Liver is of value chiefly in the treatment of pernicious anemia. It is of limited value in other forms of the disease and even in pernicious anemia it has been largely replaced by injections of vitamin B-12. The reason for not allowing liver in your diet might be a tendency toward gout.

Q—What is the treatment of aplastic anemia?

A—In aplastic anemia the low red blood cell count is caused by a failure of the marrow to produce new red cells fast enough to replace those that wear out. Iron preparations are given to stimulate red cell production. Severe cases require transfusions. Cure is possible only if the cause—leukemia, bone marrow tumors or diseases

MARQUIS CHILDS WRITES ON WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON—Despite the spate of rumors popping up in many places in print—Senator Rusk has no intention of resigning nor is there a shadow of a possibility that he will be asked to become president of John Hopkins University in Baltimore. Milton Eisenhower, John Hopkin's president and brother of the former president, is retiring in the spring at the age of 67.

Six months ago Rusk was the leading candidate for what is one of the most important academic positions in the country. He apparently expressed no interest and his name is not even on the list of three candidates under consideration by the university's trustees. To inquire the secretary simply says that he has given no thought at all to resigning. His schedule of speeches and public appearances goes through May and into June.

The office of Secretary of State is surely second only to that of the presidency in the battering the occupant takes from the public. Often the return, Salisbury indicated in a cable to the secretary that he has information which he did not put in his dispatches to the "Times." This note was his earnest wish to do a better job in handling foreign relations if only given the chance. Powerful as his office can be, the secretary has the tightly held foreign policy establishment concentrated for the most part on the Eastern Seaboard.

Congress has been traditionally a trap for Secretaries of State. But, with the exception of his most vocal critics on the Hill, the Senate has not been a target of those who would withhold their fire from the chief executive. Hardly an American over the age of 21 does not believe that he would do a better job in handling foreign relations if only given the chance. Powerful as his office can be, the secretary has the tightly held foreign policy establishment concentrated for the most part on the Eastern Seaboard.

It should have surprised no one that Senator Kennedy—graciously criticized the House for suspending Powell. In Bobby Kennedy's pitch for the Presidency he is simply trying to make himself unbeatable from the left.

Has Dr. Martin Luther King, another publicity hound of the first water and professional liberal no-matter-what, effectively raised his voice against the shouts that confront our country: "Kill Whitey," "Kill Mr. Charley," "Burn Bobby-burn?" And what did this professional liberal say when Powell told Harlem: "Don't pay your taxes. Don't send your Harlem boys to the Vietnam war?"

I was in Cleveland the other day. Its Houghs section exploded last July in a roaring fiasco of fire, violence and rioting. The scars are still there. Rotten buildings are holed up. Charred houses stand deserted. Unused. Many Hough neighborhood merchants are still afraid Harlem's send their loaves at night. But Sen. Dr. King says "shame" or go back to help bind up the wounds. He does not.

California Gov. Edmund (Pat) Brown's re-election campaign was a liberal classic. The liberal cabal cooked up his TV film ("The Man vs. The Actor") which closed with a closeup of their champion bending down to kiss the heads of some Negro children.

"Remember," Governor Brown announced, "an actor killed Abraham Lincoln."

This exercise in contemporary "liberalism" so nauseated even some of the professional liberals themselves that they signed advertisements in California newspapers repudiating it, and surely the disgraceful film was counterproductive.

These lions in their political jungle are doing the legendary dances of the scorned—just before it stings itself to death.

Judging by the last elections the liberal cabal is wearing out its welcome. The fix in favor of Adam Clayton Powell is very liable indeed to cap the climax.

"Robert F. Kennedy is my powerful House Education and Labor Committee.

Then in the full House Southern Democrats joined forces with the liberal cabal. Powell takes his seat until a special committee—the nine-man group—could investigate him.

In the end, no matter what the nine-man committee recommends, the full House will have the final say on barring Powell or letting him be seated.

Not all white members of the House have had such records. And among Negroes, not all are so good. One who refused to let him take his seat.

This 52-year-old Harlem Negro, a successful politician with a record of 12 years in Congress, is both a preacher and a good-student. He has called Jesus Christ a "religious heathen" and compared himself to Julius Caesar.

Not all white members of the House have had such records. And among Negroes, not all are so good. One who refused to let him take his seat.

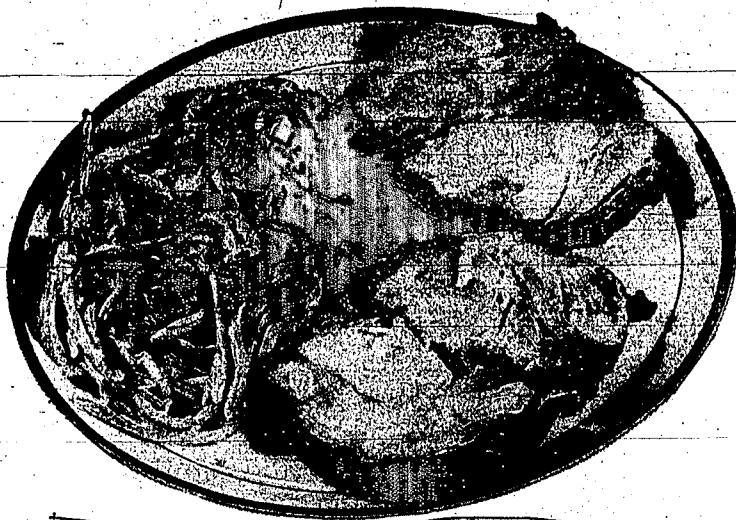

None of the four Republicans has any Negroes in his district. Those four are Rep. Arch D. Moore Jr. of West Virginia; Charles M. Teague of California; Clark MacGregor of Minnesota; and Vernon W. Thompson of Wisconsin.

All of the Democrats—except Rep. Claude D. Pepper of Florida—also are members of the House Judiciary Committee, which has the record on Negroes particularly on civil rights bills. Rep. Emanuel Celler of New York, with the longest service in the House, where he is chairman of the House Education and Labor Committee, is a member of the nine-man committee.

It is, too, has a long liberal record. He has been one of the voters in his district are Negroes. A Southerner had to be picked to serve on this committee. The Southerners on Celler's Judiciary Committee were skipped over.

Instead of any of them, Pepper, one of the few liberal Republicans, was picked to serve on the committee. The other three Democrats on the special committee are Rep. James C.orman of California; John Conyers Jr. of Michigan; and Andrew Jacobs Jr. of Indiana.

Conyers is a Negro from a district with a 60 per cent Negro population. He is serving on a strong Democratic district and is considered safe. Corman, from a few Negroes district with a liberal record, is also a strong fighter for open housing.

Plans Made By Wendell Masons

WENDELL—A general discussion concerning plans for joint entertainment with the Order of Eastern Star was held at the evening meeting of Wendell Lodge No. 44, AF and AM.

The annual Washington birthday observance is planned, with the date for the event to be announced by Roger Brown, worshipful master.

Donor Adams reported concerning the degree work practices. Phil Hill reported visits to C. H. Brevick, a patient at St. Benedict's Hospital, and Don O'Connell, who had been ill at his home.

Delegations of Wendell Masons attended past masters' night banquet and reception during January. Thomas Frith reported on the activity at Buhl, W. W. Kelly on the one held at Jerome, and Hirsch, the one held at Twin Falls.

Invitations were read to attend past masters banquets and meetings at Filer Tuesday and Wednesday Saturday. They were invited to attend a special meeting Feb. 22 at Halley.

Hosts for the social hour were M. L. Gates and R. Q. Ward.

Impoundment Of N.Y. Cars Being Eased

NEW YORK (AP)—Mayor John V. Lindsay has eased his program of towing and impounding of diplomats and doctors illegally parked in congested mid-Manhattan. But he denies he's backing up in the face of their verbal horn-blowing.

A city spokesman said doctors would be permitted about 15 minutes to move illegally parked autos.

A Lindsay spokesman called this a "few minutes of grace" and said it "should not be mistaken as any easing of the campaign."

The program is aimed at unclogging the streets of Manhattan's heart. The area affected runs across Manhattan from 34th to 86th Street, encompassing the theater district, the garment district, Rockefeller Center and numerous office towers.

When an illegally parked auto is towed away, the owner can get it back by paying a $25 tow charge, a $5 to $15 fine and a $5 a-day storage charge.

Policemen, cabbies and truck drivers generally are pretty happy about it all.

Farm Bureau Committee Heads Named

Louis Reulke, president, conducted the regular meeting this week of the Twin Falls County Farm Bureau at the county office.

R. H. Shaffer, Murtaugh, was appointed state affairs chairman; Clyde VanAusdalen, Filler, resolutions chairman; Bob Pettigrove, Hansen, national affairs chairman.

It was recommended that a national resource committee be initiated. The recommendation was approved by the group and Tom Olmstead, Dick Stafford and Alfred Pettigrove were appointed to serve on the committee.

Charles Harris gave the marketing report. He told of differences in contracts for corn in Idaho and other states. He also reported questionnaires have been sent to farmers in the area and expressed the hope a good response would be given to the forms.

State president of the Idaho Farm Bureau, Monroe Hayes, gave the state report at the meeting and some of the problems facing the organization.

It was also reported that Nyri Rydchik, past state president, is representing the bureau at the legislature.

Twin Falls County, according to Elbert Lühr, insurance agency manager, has the highest increase in insurance sales in the state.

Mrs. Dick Stafford, county women's chairman, reported a county-wide picnic dinner will be held at 7 p.m. Feb. 14. Pictures the Staffords took on a recent trip to the Holy Land will show.

She also reported a state safety meeting will be held from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at the Owyhee Hotel, Boise.

Earl Typison, fieldman, said training sessions for all county officers will be held in Jerome. He reported the 1967 membership quota is short 81 members.

Makes Resolution
WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. George H. Brown, Calif., said he had introduced a House resolution to change house rules to permit presentation to the floor any future winners of the Congressional Medal of Honor.

Hansen said the measure was the result of his not being able to present a resolution to the floor. Bernard Fisher, Kuna, who was presented with the country's highest military decoration last week.

MEETING PLANNED

(AP) — League of Women Voters members from across Idaho will meet with Gov. Don W. Samuelson and attend morning and afternoon sessions of the Legislature next Tuesday.

Mrs. Eugene Smith, state president of the women's group, said the meeting will be held at the hotel in Boise next Tuesday. She said she will attend a noon panel discussion which included John Corbett, political editor of the Idaho Daily Statesman, R. W. Hunsinger, president of the Boise-Cascade Corp., and Dr. Ray C. Jolly, political science professor at the College of Idaho.

Legislators are also invited to the luncheon and panel at the Hotel Boise, she said.

EDMO TO TESTIFY

POCATELLO (AP) — Leland Stanford Edmo, sentenced in U.S. District Court here Tuesday for the killing of Manuel Garcia by testifying Feb. 1, in preliminary hearing in Blackfoot for Manuel Arroyo, also charged with the murder.

Garcia, 50, of Wapello was found June 4, 1966, on the West Hall Indian Reservation with his throat slashed. Edmo, 31, of Pocatello pleaded guilty to second degree murder and was sentenced by Judge Ray McNichols to serve 22 years in prison.

AWARDS GIVEN

BOISE (AP) — Mine Inspector O. T. Hansen reported Thursday awarding of safety certificates to employees of the American Smelting and Refining Co. in North Idaho.

Each employee received an award based on his individual record. Hansen said men with the most years of service with a lost-time accident were Roy Patterson, 37 years, and Foster Brown, 43 years.

Second Phase Of Training School Held

JEROME—The second phase of a training school sponsored by the FBI for South Central Idaho law enforcement officers began at the Jerome Army Wednesday.

Special Agent J. L. Dawson of the Bureau's regional office said the two-year course will cover crime-scene search for latent fingerprints, photography and development of latent fingerprints.

Grange Okays Resolution At Kimberly

KIMBERLY—Kimberly Grangers Monday night approved a resolution asking that all mailboxes have reflectors on their sides so they may be seen by motorists when they are blocking crossings at night.

Mrs. Dean Bitt, home economics chairman, announced the H sewing group has reorganized with a membership of six girls. She said children's play clothes have been added to the list of articles for the 1967 Grange Sewing contest.

Tim Drown, membership committee chairman, read an article giving suggestions for increasing membership during the Grange Centennial year. It was suggested that when a granger moves away, his grange in the community that he was a member and ask that an invitation to join be extended the newcomer.

Mrs. Brit, lecturer, conducted a candlelight ceremony in honor of the grange's centennial year, and read an article on the women's place in the grange.

Refreshments were served by the men of the grange.

Rate Of New Car Sales Is Slowing Down

DETROIT (AP) — The auto industry faced up again today to the fact that the tempo of new car sales is slowing down. Production cuts were ordered.

General Motors and Chrysler reshuffled production schedules to slow down the number of new cars flowing into an already abundantly stocked market.

Chrysler said three of its seven assembly plants would be closed for a week in February. A fourth will be idled for two weeks.

American Motors, whose assembly lines resumed operation last Monday after a two-week shutdown, was building 1,100 cars a day in contrast to the 1,600 it averaged before the shutdown.

Ford Motor Co., in line with a policy laid down by its board chairman, Henry Ford II, offset its production cutbacks by eliminating some planned overtime and by putting one or two plants on a four-day-work week at various intervals.

The juggling process has been under way since Nov. 18 when General Motors announced some staggered shutdowns for December and January.

American Motors announced Wednesday it had borrowed an additional $20 million to help increase its slackened auto sales. The bank loan was in addition to $75 million borrowed by the nation's fourth-largest auto firm.

THE JUNIOR REALM

With MARTHA LEE

Q. We have no pressing financial urgency, but my daughter, a senior in high school, who is 17 but looks older, wants to drop out of her high school and enroll in an evening business school to learn shorthand. She has been offered a secretarial job by prominent businessman and she is quite excited about it. She has agreed to wait until we have received your reply before she makes her final decision.

Mrs. F. T. T.

Panelists: Darlene Apollite, high school, New Jersey; Beth Baker, high school, Pennsylvania; Sylvia Ann Cochran, high school, Tennessee; Marilyn Erickson, college Wyoming.

Who would offer a secretarial position to a 17 year old girl who does not know shorthand, and who has had no experience in the field? Perhaps your daughter would like to take another look at this job offer.

Realistic business executives are reluctant to put high school drop-outs into responsible positions. To be an efficient secretary, one must know more than shorthand. Maturity and poise are required as well as a thorough knowledge of secretarial skills. Most employers seek in their secretaries the ability to handle difficult public relations situations with tact. These essential job elements are not likely to be gained in an abbreviated, shorthand course.

Doesn't your daughter's high school offer a course in shorthand? It would be much less expensive than one offered by a business school. At her age, she should know that she will need the maturity of her senior high school year to prepare her for almost any kind of a career. If she drops out now, she will lose all of the precious and meaningful social life that is associated with the senior year of high school.

Since her graduation is only months away, and there is no family financial emergency, it

New Patterns in Catholic Higher Education Develop Around Country

By The Associated Press
New patterns in Roman Catholic higher education continue to develop around the country. At the University of Detroit, a Catholic institution controlled exclusively by the Jesuit order since 1877, plans have been announced to include laymen on its board of trustees.

The Very Rev. Malcolm Carron, university president, said Wednesday the change would be made to "broaden the base of the policy decisions of the university."

He said Carron said, however, that the University of Detroit will not turn control of the university over to secular officials, as some Catholic colleges have.

In New York, the Rev. Leo McLaughlin, president of Fordham University, told a 126th anniversary dinner that Fordham will not follow the example of some Roman Catholic schools and become nonsectarian.

"Putting it very bluntly," Father McLaughlin said, "one reason that changes are being made in the structure of the boards of trustees of some Catholic universities is money."

In the financial order, many Catholic institutions have already passed the point of no return (and) these colleges can not continue to exist without state aid, he said.

At St. Mary's College of St. Mary, Kan., since 1911 the seminary of the Roman Catholic St. Louis, Mo., University, will become the university's school of divinity when it is re-established.

Blind New York Secretary Has Unusual Day On Subway

By GEORGE ESPER
NEW YORK (AP)—Since last October the daily routine had been the same for Isabella Mauri, a blind, 21-year-old secretary for a Manhattan firm.

"As soon as I realized that I put my foot into an empty space, I just let myself fall. There was nothing I could do about it. I didn't panic. I felt my head bump down, but then I heard them jump down."

Isabella fell from the platform onto the southbound express tracks. A police captain and two other men quickly grabbed her from the tracks and pulled her back onto the platform.

Seconds after we had her up, a train came in," said Leonard Jones, 63, of Woodmere, Long Island, one of the men who helped rescue Isabella.

"I started walking slowly," she said. "People on both sides of me were rumbling in front of me. I kept getting the cane beating people's feet."

"Then, suddenly, somebody bent her cane."
"You know how people are rushing to get to work," she said. "They don't see or hear anything. That threw me off balance. I swerved to one side. All of a sudden I lost my balance."

Adopt Boy

TORONTO (AP)—The firm that supplies green berets to the U. S. Special Forces fighting in Vietnam has adopted a 4-year-old Vietnamese refugee named Nguyen Van Song.

Each of the 135 employees at Dorebent knitting mills in suburban Leaside contributed $25 cents a week to support the boy who escaped with his family from North Vietnam. They now live in Saigon.

The firm has a contract to supply 12,960 green berets to the Special Forces.

Germans Hear Ella Fitzgerald
BERLIN (AP)—American jazz songstress Ella Fitzgerald belted out tunes for East Berliners in a midnight performance Wednesday night they loved it.

The official East German news agency ADN said her success before a sold-out audience of 3,000 could be rivaled only by previous appearances of Louis Armstrong and French singer Juliette Greco.

Ella sang 20 songs, including the Berlin-originated "Mack the Knife."

Reds-Tighten Boycott On Macao Harbor

MACAO (AP)—Six Communist Chinese gunboats moved into Macao harbor today as pro-Communist Chinese leaders extended and tightened their boycott against the colony's Portuguese government and people.

Three of the gunboats patrolled about 100 yards off shore while the other three circled in midharbor.

It was the fourth time in the last two weeks that Chinese gunboats had moved into Macao's inner harbor for periods of up to several hours.

The two-day-old boycott, which sent more Portuguese fleeing to Hong Kong, is an attempt to force the government to admit to "murder" or "assassination" of eight Chinese killed last December when Portuguese troops and police tried to suppress pro-Communist riots.

Already refused taxi and bus service, Portuguese residents today found they could not buy gasoline. Service station owners said they had been warned of "dangers" and retaliation.

Food stores also reported threats by pro-Communists if they permitted a "back door" sale to Portuguese or Chinese servants-of-Portuguese.

Food Prices Lower Than Last Year

By SALLY RYAN
NEW YORK (AP) — Housewives who were out picketing in the cold last fall over high food prices may find things a little warmer inside the supermarket this winter.

Many food prices are lower than a year ago. And there is much more pork and beef.

Wholesale food prices dropped again this week to the lowest since mid-November 1965.

Subzero temperatures last week cut shipments of live-stock market in many parts of the Midwest.

Turkey supplies Jan. 1 were 37 per cent greater than a year ago, after disappointing Christmas and New Year's sales. New prices have dropped sharply.

Lamb is on special in many areas.

Food prices have dropped sharply just about every place. The biggest drops have been on the large sizes.

Produce may be limited in some spots because of bad weather in growing areas.

Florida is shipping larger supplies of tomatoes, and prices are dropping. Celery is down in most areas because of big crops in Florida and California.

Oranges, fresh and frozen, are on special nearly everywhere, but it may pay to check the advertisements.

It is a good winter for juice drinkers.

With the huge orange crop, canners and freezers are offering specials not only on orange but competing drinks as well — canned grapefruit juice, pineapple juice, grapefruit concentrate.

AVALANCHE, ANYONE? The possibility of snow machine users starting avalanches in the Upper Wood River and Sawtooth Valleys is an increasing concern to Sawtooth National Forest officials. The weight and vibration of the machines, used in unsafe areas, could trigger a slide. Budd Esterholdt, Ketchum, posed. (Times-News photo)

TWO AVALANCHES ON BALDY mountain are clearly seen from the main street entering Ketchum from the south. The avalanches, which may be started by additional snow weight, temperature changes and vibrations, are posing a danger to snowmobilers and skiers. Snowmobilers are warned by Sawtooth Forest officials to keep away from dangerous slopes and urged to stay in the valley floors to insure their safety. (Times-News photo)

Extreme Avalanche Conditions Pose Danger For Snowmobile Enthusiasts

"Is to ask yourself, 'Will it reach me if it slides?'"

He added that a good policy is to stay the height of the slope away from the base of the hill. Many people who enjoy the sport of snowmobiling, are improperly dressed and poorly equipped for the country they enter. Mr. Combs advised snowmobile owners to make sure each person participating is wearing warm clothing and boots and that snowshoes and shovels be added to the necessary equipment list.

If breakdown should occur when the snowmobile is far from the road, at least one person could make it out for help. The 60 to 70 inches of snow that prevails over most valley floors near Ketchum, make trudging out for help almost an impossibility. Sport enthusiasts were urged to stay near the road, and go out in groups of two or more.

People were urged to notify the district ranger or inform some responsible person of their location and check out when they return.

Exceptionally dangerous areas for snowmobilers are Trull Creek, Lake Creek, Eagle Creek, North Fork and W. m. Spring Creek, and the upper reaches of Prairie and Baker Creeks.

Forest officials reported that several signs reading "Closed-Avalanche Area" will be posted in many of the more dangerous areas.

Snowmobile enthusiasts were encouraged to use their machines on the Boulder Flats area, 12 miles north of Ketchum on Highway 93. Mr. Combs commented that there were good slopes, some clear and some wooded areas. The area east of Galena Lodge is safe if the machines do not go too far up the canyon, and most of Sawtooth Valley is safe for snowmobiling.

The highway department has cleared parking spaces on Highway 93 along Galena for snow machine users.

Mr. Combs added that Sawtooth officials are considering a marked trail for snowmobilers in the future.

Regional Forester John M. Herbert, Ogden, discussing the avalanche program, said, "Snowfall in the Intermountain Region has been above average in many areas, and the pattern of storms and nature of the snow pack have created serious threats of avalanches."

"Fortunately, to date, on National Forest lands of the Intermountain Region, none of the 20 persons who have been caught in avalanches has lost his life or been seriously injured."

Several of those caught in avalanches have been snowmobiling in areas not suited to the sport.

Jerome Will Hold Water, Weed Meet

JEROME — A water forecast and Weed Control planning meeting for Jerome County will be held on Friday at the American Legion Hall.

From 1:30 to 2:30 p.m. Morton Nelson, Boise, Idaho Snow Survey Supervisor, will discuss the water outlook for the 1967 season.

From 2:30 to 3 p.m. Douglas Finkelburg, manager of the North Side Canal Co., will describe water supply, maintenance and loss of delivery in the North Side Canal Co. system.

At 3 p.m., William G. Priest, Jerome County Agricultural Agent, will speak on "Choosing the Weed Chemical To Do Your Job."

Fred Webster, Jerome County Weed Supervisor, will discuss functions and programs of the Jerome County Weed Department at 3:20 p.m.

Priest urges all local farmers to attend.

"This year's cropping plan can be influenced by our water supply, and uncontrolled weeds are one of our biggest users of water," he said.

Tower Of London Budget Up 42 Cents To Feed 6 Ravens

By THOMAS A. REEDY
LONDON (AP) — Rising costs have added 42 cents a week to the household budget of the Tower of London.

The extra money is for horse-meat.

The meat is for six captive ravens.

A legend going back centuries holds that the Tower and Britain will fall if the ravens depart.

Nobody really believes that, but neither the crown nor the government is taking any chances.

The Tower budget is shared by a number of government departments, but an extra prime ministerial instruction it pays for itself. The ravens and the legend behind them are part of that attraction.

One of the guards — known as Beefeaters — Henry Thomas Jones, was fresh out of the army in 1948 when he was appointed master of the ravens. They know his whistle, they know his footsteps as he approaches every morning to turn them loose from the cages and spread around a breakfast on the green lawns.

Lovers of carrion, the ravens gobble up the meat and some times bury some of it rather like a squirrel hides nuts. The older and more decomposed the meat gets, the better they like it.

These evil-looking birds aren't pets by any means. They'd peck the queen if they got the chance. Their croak sounds like the very doom the ancient Tower once meant for so many unfortunates who lost their heads on the chopping block.

Every three months Johns clips their wings, which if left alone would sprout four feet. Unable to fly, the ravens lurk drunkenly about the 18 acres of the Tower of London, croaking and pecking anything they choose — even the mortar in the cracks of some of the oldest walls.

Actually the Tower of London is eight towers erected one after the other, from the time of William the Conqueror, into a formidable fortress.

Its role as a fortress established the legend of the ravens. The original fortress, known as the White Tower, was surrounded by woods 850 years ago and ravens flocked around it to gobble up the garbage the garrison heaved out.

In the 17th century, enemies of the restoration of Charles II crept up to Tower Hill one night to seize it, the king and power. Started ravens set up such a croaking that the sentries were fully alerted.

King Charles ordered the ravens protected and fed from public funds.

The birds come from Cornwall, Wales and Scotland and are donated as needed. They grow old, for birds. Cora, the oldest now, is 21. One of them which lived through World War II got to be 44 before croaking his last.

When a raven dies, the raven master accords it what he calls "an honorable burial" on tower ground, and a replacement is summoned.

U.S. Bombers Strike North Of Saigon

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — U.S.-B51 bombers struck only 32 miles north of Saigon in the "iron triangle" today and in two other raids during the day pounded Communist positions in the central coast of South Vietnam.

The triple air blow followed a day of minor ground fighting in the South and air strikes called by weather in the North.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland's headquarters announced that American troop strength topped the 400,000 mark last Saturday — an increase of 5,000 over the previous week.

U.S. headquarters also announced that American casualties dropped last week while South Vietnamese authorities reported a sharp increase in casualties to government forces.

Bootblack-Busboy Fits In Fine With Harvard Students

By JAMES F. DONOHUE
CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Donald Lee Bert, 18, a bootblack and busboy, came to Harvard last fall worried about fitting in with the polished products of Groton, Phillips-Exeter and the other Ivy League prep schools.

"But once I learned to swing a little," he said, "and let my beard grow and my bowlers get scuffed and my Levi's a bit frayed, I found I looked and acted just like everyone else."

"The thing about Harvard men," he said, "is that they don't want to have anything to do with anyone who is a phony. I just be myself and I get along fine. I don't think anybody cares that I shine shoes."

Bert, a Negro, is the son of a construction worker and a housemaid. He won a four-year, $1,500-a-year National Achievement scholarship on graduating from White Plains, N.Y., high school last year.

"I could have used the scholarship for any college," Bert said in an interview, "and my parents said they would like to see me entirely. So I applied to several schools."

"But when I got accepted at Harvard my mother, although not crazy, so I could pretty well tell which direction she was heading. And all my friends urged me to go to Harvard, too."

Bert, one of six children and the first to go to college, began as a cadet at the Ridgeway, a boarding school in Cambridge six years ago and worked his way into a job as locker room bootblack.

When the country club members, all of whom are white, learned that Bert had won a scholarship, they started a fund that will give him more than $2,000 in spending money over the four-year period.

"I'm the youngest of four boys in my family," he said, "and each of us in turn has been a shoeblack here in the locker room. Now I guess the job will go to another family."

But not right away. Bert plans to keep his job at least until he finishes college.

"Shining shoes is a hot, real interesting work," he said, "but it pays well."

He said he earned $2,200 last spring and all summer as bootblack and busboy.

Bert's inclination is to study medicine and become a surgeon.

"I'm under a little pressure to do well here because of the scholarship and because I'm the only one of the people at the country club," Bert said.

"But I try not to think about it. And anyway, the work here is so tremendously interesting. This is a great university, just like they say."

Hells Canyon Dam Is Slated To Begin Yielding Electricity

Electricity begins streaming this year from the narrow, mountain-locked heart of North America's deepest gorge — long unharmed for the benefit of the Snake River Valley by Idaho Power Company's Hells Canyon Dam.

Start of the new flow of energy, spurred off by the first of the huge project's three generating units to go on the line, will be the memorable highlight of an aggressive 1967 construction program announced by the utility board Wednesday.

Under the expansion plan, according to company board chairman T. E. Roach, Idaho Power will invest more than $30 million in new facilities of all types.

Idaho Power's 1967 investment is a positive step to back up belief that the economy of the Snake River Valley will continue its advance to ever-higher levels under the stimulus of sound planning, enlightened cooperation and intelligent use of our natural resources," the utility president declared.

The first generating unit at Hells Canyon, where a work force ranging upwards to nearly 800 men has been pouring concrete for the 320-foot-high dam since its powerhouse since March, is scheduled to go into production next fall.

Idaho Power expects to put the 425,000-kilowatt project's first two units in service by late spring, 1968.

To carry Hells Canyon electricity out of the rugged, rock-lined gorge, Idaho Power crews will soon start the difficult construction of a 230,000-volt transmission line that will climb some 4,425 feet in less than three miles.

Among other transmission projects to be undertaken are the Idaho Power in 1967 will be to reconstruct an existing 22-mile line to boost its capacity for supplying the Pocatello area, including the rapidly expanding phosphate industry, and complete construction of a new line between Boise and Caldwell.

Roach, reporting that private-enterprise developers are expected to continue their "tremendous achievements" by putting still more new land under electric-pump irrigation during 1967, said a major share of the utility's construction of distribution facilities will be aimed at assisting the expansion.

He said Idaho Power's distribution plans include construction of seven new substations and installation of additional equipment in at least 10 existing substations to increase their capacities.

Schizophrenia Due To Drug, Doctors Say

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Tulane researchers say they have solid evidence that the psychotic behavior of schizophrenic patients is due to disturbance in the blood which affects the brain.

The significance of the announcement today was that Tulane researchers recreated the substance, which Dr. Robert C. Heath calls taraxin.

Since taraxin can be created in a laboratory, it raises the possibility that a specific treatment for schizophrenia — which incapacitates a quarter million Americans annually — can be developed.

Dr. Heath, professor of psychiatry and neurology at Tulane University's school of medicine, said a cure or control is the next phase of the work.

"The theory that schizophrenia is a chemically caused ailment was advanced by Dr. Heath 10 years ago. His theory touched off a scholarly temper in psychiatric circles, where the accepted theory was that schizophrenia was a strictly psychological disease stemming from childhood disturbances.

Japanese Election Laws Are Complex

By KENNETH ISHII
TOKYO (AP) — Any candidate who wants to get elected Sunday to Japan's 480-member House of Representatives must successfully weave through a maze of laws and don'ts that may be the strictest in the world.

So complex are the election laws — first passed in 1950 and revised several times — that the government has published a 200-page constitution in handing out a copy.

Campaign automobiles that do not have to be used as a boat instead of a car, that's all right — but only one boat.

Vote-soliciting by car must be limited. Polity utterances are limited, except when the car stops.

A candidate is allowed 60 speeches for the official three-week campaign.

No handbills may be distributed.

A candidate can use television but is limited to a brief flash of his face on the screen during which a station announcer presents his personal history. Three radio speeches are authorized each candidate.

A candidate may serve only "tea and light cookies" to visitors.

Prime Minister Eisaku Sato says the high cost of getting elected encourages corruption.

90 O'Leary Pupils Tour Air Base

About 90 eighth grade science students from O'Leary Junior High School toured the Mountain Home Air Force Base installation last week.

Principal John Campbell said he hopes the tour will become an annual affair and termed the trip "highly satisfactory."

He said the enterprise required the full cooperation of the community and the O'Leary faculty.

Assisting on the tour were Mrs. James Sinclair, Mrs. M. Thorback and Jan Campbell.

Questioning Marine Gets Hero's Medal

CAMP PENDLETON, Calif. (AP) — Cpl. Claude LeBas, a Canadian citizen who joined the U.S. Marine Corps "to find out what war is about," will receive the nation's second-highest medal for heroism in Vietnam combat. It was announced Wednesday at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

LeBas, 20, of Long Beach, Calif., will be presented the Heavy Cross for action during "Operation Orange" near Da Nang last April.

LeBas, half his platoon wiped out by Viet Cong fire, grabbed a rocket launcher and knocked out two enemy mortars. Then he recovered a machine gun to set up a base of fire.

"We were outnumbered six to one," he said. "We held them off for two days before reinforcements arrived."

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Dear Abby: You are my last hope. I am 29, considered "everyone admires my fun, outgoing personality. I have had a few dates, but no man has ever taken me home. I'm the "pal, buddy and big sister" the men come to for advice about the girls they could "weigh about."

To get to the point, I weighed myself yesterday for the first time since September, 1965, and the needle hit the highest number and just stayed there. It was one of those "inertia bathroom scales, but it goes up to 300. Need I say more?

I have played Santa Claus at our office Christmas party for the last time, Abby. In plain language, can you give me a diet I can stay on? Don't tell me to see a doctor. The last one was to weigh more than I did.

FAT AND MISERABLE

Dear Fat: If you want my advice, don't tell me you must to tell you do so. What not to do a doctor! Find a thin one if a fat one inspires no confidence. But follow his instructions to the letter — and no cheating.

Don't expect miracles. It will take all the will power and self-control you can muster. But anything that's worth having is worth working for. Good luck.

Dear Abby: I am a senior in high school and my parents still treat me like I was two years old. Last Friday night I went to a basketball game with some kids and I said I'd be home by 12:30. Well, I didn't get home until 1:25, but it wasn't my fault. The kid who owned the car went for a ride afterwards and I couldn't get home without him.

When I got home my mother was practically in hysterics. My father said I'd been gone another five minutes they'd have called the police.

I've been grounded for three months. I tried to explain that it wasn't my fault and they'd let me off this time if they would never happen again, but they wouldn't listen. Don't you think their punishment is too tough for what I did?

JEFF

Dear Jeff: Yes, but accept their decision like a man, and perhaps they'll be impressed with the maturity of your behavior and reconsider.

Dear Abby: Three years ago I was engaged to marry Carl. I even bought my wedding gown and veil. Well, something happened and the wedding never did come off. Here's my problem.

I am now engaged to marry Virgil and Virgil says that he does not want to marry me. In the gown I picked out to marry Carl in, I think he's being extremely childish about the whole thing, but he won't change his mind.

Should I go ahead and wear it against his wishes? Or should I wear it and tell him it's a "new" one. He's never seen it and wouldn't know the difference. I just can't see buying another one.

VIRGIL'S BRIDE

Dear Bride: If you hadn't married Virgil, you could have quietly worn it to marry Virgil. But since you did mention it, and Virgil vetoed it, don't wear it. It does go against his wishes would be unwise. And to try to fool him would be worse. P.S. If "something happens," and the wedding doesn't come off, don't mention the gown to the next one.

How has the world been treating you? Write your problems on Dear Abby, Box 89700, Los Angeles, Cal., 90069.

For a personal, unpublished reply, enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Homemaker Award Given To Miss Harmer

Patricia Harmer ranked first in a written homemaking knowledge and attitude test given to senior girls and becomes Twin Falls' 1967 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow. It has been announced.

Registered for the test were 181,344 girls in 14,753 of the nation's high schools, a new record for the year. The program has been offered by General Mills, its sponsor.

Miss Harmer will be awarded a specially designed silver charm, and she remains in contention for state and national scholarships a war d a ranging from $500 to $5,000.

In the program's next step, a state Homemaker of Tomorrow will be selected from winners in all schools of the state. She will receive a $1,500 college scholarship for the year. The program is a set of Encyclopaedia Britannica. The state runner-up award will be a $500 scholarship.

T. F. Chamber Backs Plan On Highway Unit

Hearing Set On Fire District

RICHFIELD - Public hearing for formation of the Richfield area fire district has been set for 10 a.m. Feb. 13 at the Lincoln County Courthouse in Shoshone.

The meeting has been called by the commissioners of Lincoln County. Donors for the proposed district have been received from the Richfield area.

Resolution from the chamber and the city have been sent to members of the Twin Falls County legislative delegation.

Jim Stokes, chairman of the chamber's transportation committee, said it is the feeling of those behind the movement that the city should be included in the district.

The City of Twin Falls Highway Advisory Commission has passed a similar resolution and other communities around the state are behind the proposal.

Resolutions from the chamber and the city have been sent to members of the Twin Falls County legislative delegation.

Medwick, Ruffing Miss Hall Of Fame By 7 Votes, But Runoff Is Scheduled

BY MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Joe (Ducky) Medwick, the slugging outfielder of the St. Louis Cardinals' famed Gashouse Gang, and pitcher Charles (Red) Ruffing of the New York Yankees failed Wednesday to gain election to Baseball's Hall of Fame by just seven votes. However, Medwick and Ruffing, along with the 29 other top vote getters, including former Brooklyn catcher Roy Campanella, will get still another chance in a runoff election to be held by the middle of February.

DUCKY MEDWICK missed election to the baseball hall of fame by seven votes. However, a runoff election planned for next month will give them, and several other candidates, an opportunity to gain membership. (AP wirephoto)

Buckpasser May Miss Santa Anita Feature

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP) — Buckpasser, the nation's leading candidate to win Horse of the Year honors for the second straight year, has hoof trouble and may not run in the $100,000-added Charles H. Strub Stakes Saturday at Santa Anita. Eddie Naylor, trainer of the 4-year-old, disclosed Wednesday that Buckpasser suffered recurrence of a quarter-crack in the right forefoot—the same ailment which kept the colt out of the Triple Crown races in 1965.

Under Naylor's observation, Buckpasser was galloped on the main track Wednesday morning merely to maintain racing fitness, and he will be formally entered in the $14,000 Strub Stakes when entries are taken Thursday, 24 hours ahead of the usual practice.

"Inasmuch as it has been our policy to keep the press and public informed on Buckpasser's status for all races," said Naylor, "we wish to say Buckpasser suffered a recurrence of the crack on the inside quarter of his right fore foot."

"It is in the same area in which the crack occurred that kept him out of the Triple Crown races last spring.

"It will be tough and go as to whether this inflammation can be cleared up before Saturday and his starting on Saturday will depend on whether or not the inflammation subsides by that time."

The Strub stakes, which is limited to 4-year-olds, was the prime target of Buckpasser's scheduled three appearances at Santa Anita's meeting.

The Tom Fool colt won the first two stakes, the Malibu Dec. 31 and the San Fernando Jan. 14, the latter, his 14th straight victory dating back to last Feb. 23.

Following the race Saturday, if Buckpasser goes — he'll ship for Florida for the remainder of the winter season.

Gun Club To Open Facility For Sunday

Shooting facilities at the Twin Falls Gun Club will be open to the public Sunday, announces O. L. Ledbetter, club president.

The Sunday session will be held to give local shooters a chance to shake the rust out of their gun barrels. It also will serve as a warmup for a trophy shoot to be fired Feb. 12.

Although the club has been inactive of late, Ledbetter said there seems to be now interest shown by some young and new shooters that is encouraging. Opening of the facilities to the public is designed to stimulate even more interest.

The club is located on the Snake River canyon rim at the end of Washington Street North. Anyone interested in shooting or spectating is invited.

Clemente Is Best Paid Pirate Ever

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Roberto Clemente, the National League's Most Valuable Player last year, signed his 1967 contract Wednesday with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

A spokesman said the 32-year-old outfielder became the highest-paid player in Pirate history. In keeping with club policy, he did not elaborate. However, it is believed Clemente got about $100,000.

Clemente is a three-time NL batting champion. He hit .317 last season, losing the crown to teammate Milt Alou, who batted .312.

ISU Hopes To End Weber's Long Winning Streak On Home Court

POCATELLO — How to stop one of the longest home court winning streaks in the country will be the problem for the Idaho State University Bengals when they meet Weber State in Ogden Saturday night.

The Wildcats have won over 40 straight games on their home floor and the Bengals will be looking for an upset to snap the streak in the Big Sky Conference contest.

Led by all-conference guard Greg Harrop and former junior college All-American Nolan Archibald, the Wildcats have rolled to a 13-3 record this season including a win over highly rated Seattle.

Harrop is averaging 17 points per game and Archibald, a 6-5 transfer from Dixie Junior College, is hitting the hoop at a 15 point clip. Another JC transfer, 6-8 center Dan Sparks, leads the Cats with 16 rebounds and has a 14 point scoring norm.

Coach Claude Retherford's Bengals will be trying for their first conference win and will take a 4-11 over all record into the game. The Bengals have two conference losses but Retherford feels his team is improving with every game.

"Our players have confidence in themselves and are playing more as a team now," Retherford stated. "I feel we have a chance to beat Weber."

The Bengal coach said starting forward Ralph McGee may miss the Weber game because of a back injury suffered against Colorado State and 6-8 sophomore Charles Barber is also on the doubtful list.

Barber sustained a foot injury in practice and missed the games against Colorado State and the Phillips 66's last week.

Guard Ron Boone, with a 23.9 average, and forward Charles Parks, hitting at an 18.3 clip, will lead the Bengals against the Wildcats. Other probable Bengal starters will be center Ed Wilson, guard Jerry Mosser and McGee.

Shifted

JEROME — The wrestling match between Buhl and Jerome high schools, originally slated for Friday night, has been moved up to 7:30 p.m. Thursday. It is set for the Jerome gymnasium.

The change was made due to conflict with other school activities.

Undefeated Faux Drops Westcott

Undefeated Faux Cigar Store, getting 15 points from Doug Lyman, dropped Westcott Oil 75-34 in Twin Falls City League play Wednesday.

Ron Ptery hit 11 for the losers.

Don Watson's 14 points were not enough as Blue Lakes Trout Company led to Rangan's 58-38. Wayne Jagels hit 13 for the winners.

Don Pierre hit 16 points to send American Oil past First Christian Church 38-18.

Guard Ron Boone, with a 23.9 average, and forward Charles Parks, hitting at an 18.3 clip, will lead the Bengals against the Wildcats. Other probable Bengal starters will be center Ed Wilson, guard Jerry Mosser and McGee.

UCLA Star Fined, Put On Probation

LOS ANGELES (AP) — UCLA's star swimmer, Gene Lynn, fined $300 and placed on two years' probation, says he's considering staying in college next year to play for the Bruins.

Lynn, a 21-year-old senior from Covina, Calif., and his roommate, Larry McCollister, 21, of Lemon Grove, Calif., received identical sentences Wednesday for using a credit card without the owner's permission.

They were arrested Nov. 30 and pleaded guilty Jan. 5.

Lynn, a 2-foot-7 forward, still is a student at UCLA, but will not be reinstated as a player, said J. D. Morgan, athletic director.

Royals Nip N.Y. On Late Flurry

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Royals scored nine quick points in the final 2 1/2 minutes of play Wednesday night to defeat New York's Knickerbockers 132-123 in a National Basketball Association game.

It was Cincinnati all the way through the first half, the Royals scoring 41 points in the second quarter for a season high, to post a halftime score of 74-37.

60-Yard Dash, Vaulting To Top Millrose Games

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The New York indoor track season opens Thursday night with the Millrose Games and hopes are high for indoor records in the pole vault and the 60-yard dash. The meet marks the beginning of the end for Madison Square Garden, which will give way to a new structure now being built atop Penn Station and should be completed by the end of the year. Bob Seagrhen, holder of the indoor pole vault record of 17-foot-1, is expected to give that mark, set just last month in Saskatoon, a good test.

Ryan's Elbow Is Repaired By Operation

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Frank Ryan underwent surgery on his right elbow Wednesday, and the doctor, who performed the operation said the Cleveland Browns' quarterback has an excellent chance of having a real good arm.

Dr. D. H. O'Donoghue said one of four groups of muscles in Ryan's upper arm gradually had been torn away from the elbow, and without the operation his career soon would have been ended.

"I hurt him every time he flexed his muscles," O'Donoghue said. "There was a lot of bleeding just from Sunday's game. He couldn't play, played much longer as it was."

Ryan, 30, competed in the NFL All-Star game, throwing a touchdown pass for the winning East team.

O'Donoghue said Ryan would probably remain in St. Anthony's hospital for at least a week.

Four Yanks Advance In Aussie Meet

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP) — Arthur Ashe reached peak form and young Cliff Richey staged a fighting comeback Wednesday in pacing four Americans into the fourth round of the Australian National Tennis Championships.

Cliff's sister, Nancy, from San Angelo, Texas, and little Rosemary Casals of San Francisco advanced in the women's division.

Ashe, the wily U.S. Davis Cup ace from Richmond, Va., who played erratically Tuesday, had all his shots working as he crushed one of Australia's better young players, Will Coghlan, 61, 6-4, 6-0.

Richey, who is better on clay, fought off one match point in a disputed forehand winner in the fourth set and went on to whip Australia's Ray Ruffels 2-6, 6-3, 6-0, 7-2.

Ruffels became disgusted when the Richey shot was called good. He tossed his racket into the air and played lackadastrically the rest of the way.

Miss Richey, deadly from the base-line, easily eliminated Betty Jenkins of Australia, 6-3, 6-2.

Miss Casals, blasting every ball and rushing the net, crushed Elizabeth Penton of Australia 6-1, 6-1.

The United States lost a singles representative when Jim McManus of Berkeley, Calif., bowed to Owen Davidson of Australia 6-4, 6-2, 6-3 and suffered further reverses in doubles.

49ers Won't Swap Willard As He Asks

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco 49ers say the chances are slight that fullback Ken Willard will get his wish to be traded.

"In analyzing the personnel of the teams to which Ken wants to be traded, I seriously doubt the feasibility of such a trade," General Manager Lou Spadla said.

Willard said he would give up the game unless traded to either the Washington Redskins or the Baltimore Colts, which are near his Richmond, Va., home.

Willard said he wanted to be near his insurance business in Richmond and that his decision was not based on any unhappiness with the coaches, players or fans in San Francisco.

Spadla said he had discussed the matter with Willard and was not convinced the two-year veteran from North Carolina was a player quit.

TAKES TITLE FLORENCE, ITALY (AP) —

Fernando Azoril of Italy won the European flyweight boxing championship Wednesday by outpointing titleholder Rene Lebever of France in a 15-round bout.

WARMING UP for the Los Angeles Open, Jack Nicklaus, fresh from victory in the Crosby tournament, is intent on a putt on the eighth green during Wednesday's pro-am. Nicklaus missed this putt but sank the next one for a birdie four. The L. A. open began Thursday morning. (AP wirephoto)

Lazard made the good opening lead of the three of clubs against this contract and it was up to Edgar to show his mettle by making the hand.

The play is interesting as an example of expert technique. The seven, nine and king of clubs went on the first trick.
