

Garrison Keeps Details Secret In Probe Of Kennedy Death

By JOHN S. LANG
NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — A district attorney is keeping secret the details of an investigation he says he is making of the Kennedy assassination, contending that a federal intervention might only slow him down.

Jim Garrison, letting his investigators can prove a conspiracy in New Orleans led to the death of President John F. Kennedy, spurned a suggestion he give his facts to the U.S. attorney general who could pass it on to President Johnson.

"I am running this investigation, not the President, not the attorney general," said Garrison.

"I'm in charge of the operation and we've made a lot of progress working this way. So I don't propose to make any changes that might result in a slowdown and make us less effective."

Asked what the Federal Bureau of Investigation is doing about Garrison's probe, an FBI spokesman said, "the only thing I can say regarding any questions about that is, 'no comment.'"

After New Orleans newspapers broke the story of his investigation on Friday, Garrison said "irresponsible release of so many details" would delay the arrests he said would be forthcoming.

The release of details—and names, he said, "has now created a problem for us in finding witnesses and getting cooperation from other witnesses and in at least one case has endangered the life of a witness—a possible witness—so that whatever timetable we might have had before is somewhat extended now."

Garrison's statement that an assassination plot was conceived in New Orleans, that he will find and arrest the conspirators and that he will obtain convictions caused widespread furor.

Just what does he know at this point?

"Well, I can't sum it up in terms of individuals or what might turn out to be evidence. I can say that we have been investigating the role of the city of New Orleans in the assassination of President Kennedy, and we have made some progress—I think substantial progress. At least we were making progress until the newspapers revealed a number of details."

"We are keeping it confidential and were hoping to keep it confidential until the time came to make some arrests."

The district attorney refused to go into the question of whether only Lee Harvey Oswald was involved in the assassination of Kennedy in Dallas Nov. 22, 1963.

"I'd rather not comment on that," Garrison said.

"I will say this, that from our inquiry into the matter, there is no question at all that other individuals were involved in the initial planning in the New Orleans area which culminated in the death of President Kennedy."

In Miami, a Cuban exile, Bernard Torres, 32, who helped the Secret Service guard President Kennedy in Miami four days before the assassination, said Garrison had engaged him to look into the background of some Cubans reported to have been with Oswald shortly before the shooting in Dallas.

Torres said he believes the Warren commission—which said its exhaustive investigation showed there was no credible evidence that anyone else was implicated—will be proved incomplete.

In San Diego, Melvin Bell, an attorney, said Oswald and Jack Ruby, the man who slew Oswald after Kennedy's death, were in New Orleans the same time—but it was just a coincidence.

Bell, who defended Ruby in his trial for the slaying of Oswald, said he does not believe there was any plot to kill Kennedy.

Their presence in New Orleans "was a coincidence. It was absolutely innocent and there was nothing sinister about it," Bell said.

He added that he knew Ruby had actually in New Orleans and with Cuba, but he was not trying to ingratiate himself with a wealthy Mafia type who was involved in Las Vegas gambling activities.

"This was typical of Ruby's efforts to be identified with the wealthy and powerful, Bell said.

Rusk Is Hopeful For Meet

By CLAUDE E. ERBSON
BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk said today "the chances are very good" that an inter-American summit conference will be held in South America in April.

It was Rusk's first public statement on the matter. He commented in a television interview.

The Western Hemisphere heads of government are expected to launch a Latin-American common-market at the meeting. General agreement was reached Sunday on a summit agenda.

The U.S. and Latin-American foreign ministers have been working in rare harmony since Tuesday to lay the groundwork for the first hemisphere summit conference since 1955. President Johnson and 19 Latin-American chiefs of state are expected to meet about April 14 at the Punta Este, Uruguay.

Tentative agreement on the agenda reportedly was reached in unusual weekend sessions, including some aboard Argentina's presidential yacht. The agenda is expected to include in addition to common market plans, curbing of the Latin-American arms race, outlining a "great society" concept for Latin America and a new spirit of cooperation among the nations.

A final document on plans for the meeting may be submitted today or Tuesday, said Argentine Foreign Minister Nicanor Costa Mendez, the conference chairman.

The United States, although a prime mover in seeking the summit, has kept in the background during the preliminary spades and led the Latin-American work out their own solutions. Virtually all agree this has been a productive approach.

"The United States has gotten what it wanted," a top diplomat said, "and gotten it quickly with no squabbling."

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, apparently satisfied with the progress, plans to leave for Buenos Aires Tuesday. Ambassador at Large Ellsworth Bunker will fill in for him until the conference ends, probably Wednesday.

GMC Halts Auto Building At 22 Plants

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. said today that car building operations at 22 of its 24 plants would have to be suspended by the weekend if an unauthorized strike at its Mansfield, Ohio plant is not settled.

G.M. said the "crippling effects" of the tieup at the Fisher body fabricating plant at Mansfield would result in 80,000 cars not being produced over the weekend if no break comes in the walkout.

The strike which began last Friday centered about a dispute over some subcontracting by the Mansfield plant.

Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, threatened to organize a Mansfield Local 540 today describing the walkout as illegal. He urged workers to return to their jobs immediately.

Judge Retains Restrictions On News Coverage Of Speck's Trial

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — A judge retained disputed restrictions on news coverage and added new ones today as Richard Speck went on trial on charges of murdering eight student nurses in Chicago. Judge Herbert C. Paschen told newsmen he would make no changes at the start of Speck's trial in the strict rules he has laid down for them. These guidelines have drawn protests from representatives of newspapers and broadcast-casters. In addition to the originally outlined restrictions, Judge Paschen told reporters he does not want publication of questions submitted to prospective jurors and their answers.

The reason, he explained, is that other prospective jurors would read or hear the material and would know what to be excused from duty.

A large police van carried Speck to the Peoria County Courthouse today for the start of his trial.

Sheriff Willard Koepfel and a force of city policemen were on hand at the van backed up to within 40 feet of the entrance of the courthouse basement.

The van doors opened, Speck, manacled to two policemen, was literally whisked across the open space into the building.

That was at 11:33 a.m., two See SPECK TRIAL, Pg. 2, Col. 8

Mao Backers Ask Hanoi To Stiffen Terms

TOKYO (AP) — Despite reports of new interest in Red China's strategic border areas and elsewhere, Mao Tse-tung's supporters turned to foreign policy today and urged Hanoi to stiffen its terms for peace talks.

After weeks in which the Maoist organs virtually ignored Vietnam and other foreign policy questions, except for Mao-Peking relations, the Peking People's Daily took note of recent moves to bring the United States and North Vietnam to the negotiating table.

"The whole point of the Vietnam problem revolves around the withdrawal of U.S. and allied aggressive forces from Vietnamese territory, not on the question of the cessation of U.S. bombing," the People's Daily said.

"This implied a rebuke to Hanoi, which last week said it was prepared to talk peace with the United States if the Americans 'put an immediate end' to their bombing of North Vietnam. Hanoi did not mention a troop withdrawal as a condition of negotiations.

3 Republicans Support Budget

BOISE (AP) — Three Republican legislators expressed support Monday for the $182.1 million general fund budget proposed by Gov. Don W. Samuelson.

In a statement, Sen. James Ellsworth of Lewiston and Rep. Walter Little of New Plymouth and Don Wheeler of Caldwell said they believe the governor's proposals are adequate "to fund state operations without loss of jobs."

"The governor," they said, "is to be commended, not criticized, for presenting a line-item budget which he believes is keeping with the state's anticipated revenues."

Idaho Contractors Licensing Law Is Repealed In Senate

BOISE (AP) — The Idaho Senate voted today to repeal a controversial 1965 law which required licensing of private contractors. The vote was 21-12 and the measure now goes to the House. The repeal bill passed after the Senate defeated another measure which would have revised the 1965 law. Action came after nearly two hours of debate, with opponents contending the changes proposed in the law would make it too restrictive.

The argued it would not provide the protection for the public which its sponsors claimed for it. The 1965 law was challenged on legal grounds and declared unconstitutional in district court. It never has been enforced.

The vote on the bill amending the law was 14-21.

Sen. Dick High, R-Twin Falls, spoke against the bill noting that the fund had been operated in a very strange manner and implying there were no provisions for correcting this in the new bill.

It had been pointed out by Sen. Melvin Bell, D-Boise, that under the bill passed by the legislature, 330 Idaho contractors had applied for licenses pending in a $40 license fee. When they couldn't comply with bonding provisions in the old law, they found there was no provision for returning this money to them out of the state treasury.

Sen. High said that a section of senate bill 121 still gives too much leeway to the board in expenditure of this fund.

Sen. Mary Brooks, R-Carey, spoke in favor of the bill noting that one of the counties in her district, Blaine County, probably is victimized more than a lot of other places by "fly-by-nighters."

This type of concern comes mostly from out-of-state, moves into an area and does a job, frequently of shoddy workmanship which is always overpriced. See CONTRACTORS pg. 2, col. 4

Fire Leaves T.F. Family Homeless

A family of seven was left homeless Sunday when fire destroyed their two-story home at 445 Third Ave. N.

Fire Department officials said the home was owned and occupied by the Roy Bonawitz family. They were away for the day and the fire had apparently smoldered inside the building for some time before it was noticed and reported.

Three fire trucks answered the alarm at 1:20 p.m. and the final truck remained at the scene until 4:30 p.m. Firemen reported the blaze was apparently started in a utility room at the rear of the building but the exact cause is not known.

Loss was estimated at $4,000 to the building and contents, the fire department said. Almost nothing was saved from the building because of the extent of the fire by the time men and equipment reached the scene.

Members of the Bonawitz family are staying with relatives until other housing arrangements can be made. Items of their clothing, household items and other personal possessions were lost.

Tax Equality Group Voices Budget Note

GOODIE — The Idaho Tax Equality Association said Monday that any increase above the $152.1 million budget proposed by Gov. Don W. Samuelson will result from the tax raffle which the public was promised when they voted for the sales and use tax.

Don C. Frederickson, Gooding, state chairman, said a majority of the association's directors and officers in a poll supported Samuelson's proposed budget.

"Improvements for the industries, ranches and homes in this state are closely influenced by the tax load which they must bear. The economy of Idaho is very dependent on the agricultural income of the state, and any increase in income is declining every day."

"Thus in the building industry any tax that business is forced to pay will be passed on to the consumer. This, along with the tight money situation, does not justify any large increases in state spending," he said.

Two Turkey Auto Mishaps Kill 26

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — Twenty-six persons, including seven members of a single family, were killed in two separate traffic accidents in Turkey on Sunday.

Nineteen died and four were gravely injured when a bus and truck collided on an ice-covered highway of the New Deal era, near the city of Istanbul, Turkey.

A private car ploughed into the sea of Marmara at Mudanya, southwest of Istanbul, killing a local businessman and six others, including his family. Anatolia news agency reported.

Flood Collapses Houses Killing 22

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — A house and two apartment buildings collapsed like falling dominoes down a hillside in a fashionable Rio suburb Sunday night after 24 hours of rain. By midmorning today 22 bodies had been recovered from the huge pile of debris. Firemen at the scene said, but there was no reliable information on the number of persons missing. Newspapers and neighbors speculated that as many as 100 persons might have been buried when the buildings crashed down the hillside in a chain reaction. Authorities estimated from 12 to 15 persons had been rescued from the apartment blocks but there was no definite figure.

"I believe there must be tens of others buried in the wreckage," said Dr. Elder Lettieri, the first doctor to reach the disaster scene.

The continuous rains caused the death of at least 13 other persons, most of them in Rio hillsides slums, and left more than 675 homeless throughout the state of Guanabara.

A hundred persons were reported injured in a train derailment between Rio and Sao Paulo.

Gov. Francisco Negro do Lima said quick action in clearing blocked storm drains helped hold down the death toll. He said the downpour was heavier than the heaviest it was in the four-day deluge of January 1968 which took the lives of 184 Rio residents.

Heavy rains last month caused flooding and landslides which killed 600 persons in the mountains west of Rio.

Almost seven inches of rain fell in Rio from Sunday late day until noon Sunday, and no letup was predicted for today.

Many Solons Have Kin On Pay Roll

WASHINGTON (AP) — At least 41 members of Congress have relatives on the congressional pay roll — some at salaries topping $20,000 a year — an Associated Press survey showed today.

This assortment, ranging from wives and children to an aunt and a grandnephew — and even including two mothers-in-law — was turned up in an office-by-office check and confirmed by an examination of pay roll records.

More than a half-dozen other congressmen hired kin at the taxpayers' expense some time last year, when salaries paid to 1,814 U.S. employees exceeded $355,000.

No law bars nepotism, although Rep. Neal Smith, D-Iowa, again has introduced a bill to prohibit it anywhere within the federal government.

Smith has sponsored similar legislation unsuccessfully each year since 1961.

Smith said that while the case of Adam Clayton Powell is the most widely known, there are many other persons who perform little service for the salary paid.

Court Stands On Narcotics Conviction

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court upheld today a California narcotics conviction based on a claim that it was based on an unconstitutional search of an automobile for evidence.

Justice Hugo L. Black delivered the 4-4 split, and police officer John Nathan Cooper's attorney argued that because of the crime for which they arrested him, it would be unreasonable to hold that police had no right to search the vehicle in these circumstances even though they did not have a search warrant.

"We cannot hold unreasonable under the 4th Amendment the examination or search of a car, without an error in the 1962 state conviction of the Richmond, Calif., man on charges of selling two bundles or capsules of heroin."

Romney Insists He's Just "Shopping Around" During Western Campaign

By ARTHUR EDSON
SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — It's becoming harder for Gov. George Romney of Michigan to insist that he's really not running for the Republican presidential nomination.

With the convention 16 months away, Romney has clung to the traditional pretense "that despite this week-long campaign tour of the West, he still doesn't know whether he will be a candidate. He insists he's just shopping around."

But here in his old home town today he had a schedule only a man eager for political advancement could have: eight stated events that will keep him on the move from early morning until midnight, when he arrives in Idaho Falls, Idaho.

Sunday night, after a flight from Anchorage, Alaska, Romney was met at the airport by several thousand admirers, many of them carrying placards which said: "Vote in '68." One toddler even had a tee shirt on saying, "Zow, Romney."

Romney mounted a box in the airport and said, "I never expected such a wonderful welcome." Remembering it was Sunday night in the Mormon capital, Romney asked, "Doesn't anyone want to be in church?" he had a smiling, one-word comment about the placards: "Run."

Another illustration of the steady buildup could be found in a routine announcement made while Romney was flying down from Anchorage.

Romney knew, the announcement said, that Leonard Hall, former chairman of the GOP National Committee, has decided to open a Romney for president committee headquarters in Salt Lake City.

Helping him will be Clifford Folger, Washington banker; Max Fisher, Detroit oilman and financier; and Willard Marshall, Washington restaurant and movie man who is one of Romney's oldest friends.

Their job is to line up support and money for the Romney campaign.

At a Republican fund-raising luncheon today Romney again turned to themes he has stressed because of the extensive speech: that the Johnson administration provides only lip leadership and that the youth of the nation would be best served by Republicans.

Here's the way he put it today: "The facts are that the Johnson administration, despite its vast power and lofty rhetoric, is old and tired. Its leadership has failed. It must be replaced—and it will be replaced by Republicans."

"The leadership in the Congress today is typified by the honored but ancient-tail survivors of the New Deal era, now in their 70s and 80s."

Romney's conclusion: "The Democratic party under Lyndon Johnson has furnished away its opportunity to catch the imagination of young people."

U.S. Treasury Department Borrows $2.3 Million To "Manage" Debt

By JOSEPH R. COYNE
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury Department borrowed $2.3 million today.

That won't finance any new "Great Society" programs. And it probably will get little, if any, attention outside the financial world.

But the borrowing will represent a vital cog in the mechanism used by the Treasury to manage a luxury as old as the nation itself — the national debt.

The Treasury will use the $2.3 billion to repay another $2.3 billion it borrowed under similar circumstances last year. And it goes through a similar task every Monday.

As of last Friday, the national debt totaled $232.2 billion. Officials expect it to rise above $300 billion within the next three weeks if the government pays its bills on time. It will drop later during the heavy spring tax collection months.

The Treasury will have to borrow more money to meet these bills and this represents increased debt.

That's why the department asked Congress to increase the debt ceiling from $330 billion — the time fixed last June — to $336 billion. The House already has voted the increase and the Senate now is considering it.

Congress is expected to go along with the higher ceiling. It always has increased the limit although not always by as much as the Treasury wanted.

Like individual Americans, the federal government spends deeper into debt when it spends more than its income — tax receipts in the government's case.

This luxury will cost the taxpayers about $14.2 billion in interest charges during the next fiscal year.

The $2.3 billion to be borrowed will probably carry an interest rate of 4.5 per cent or slightly higher.

From its first years, the nation was in debt — $75.46 million in 1791. This grew to $127.3 million in 1816 but dropped to $38,000, the lowest ever, in 1836 and 1836.

By 1918, with World War I spending at its peak, the debt climbed past $10 billion for the first time, reaching $12.45 billion by June 30 of that year.

The huge deficits of World

War II pushed the debt to $269.4 billion by mid-1946. By June 30, 1958, it's expected to reach $335.4 billion. The debt has increased yearly since 1957.

But old debt never stands still. And it's up to the Treasury to make sure money borrowed in the past is repaid when due.

The department borrows money by issuing its own securities. Those $2.3 U.S. savings bonds bought for $18.75 represent a share of the national debt. The bond itself is a receipt for the $18.75 an individual loaned to the government. The balance of the $25 is interest if the bond is held to maturity.

Americans now hold savings bonds worth more than $50 billion.

But in addition to individuals, commercial banks, mutual savings banks, savings and loan associations, insurance companies, corporations, state and local governments, pension funds and even foreign and international agencies have loaned money to the government.

McNamara Says Bombing Failed To Cut Infiltration

By SEYMOUR M. HERSH
WASHINGTON (AP) — The bombing of North Vietnam has failed to reduce significantly the infiltration of men and material into the South and there is no evidence increased attacks would prove more successful, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara told Congress in testimony released today.

In what amounted to a sharp rebuttal to those who advocate a stepup in the bombing of the North, McNamara repeatedly told often skeptical members of a joint Senate Armed Services and Appropriations Committee hearing, "I don't believe that the bombing up to the present has significantly reduced, nor any bombing that I could contemplate in the future would significantly reduce, the actual flow of men and material to the South."

At another point, McNamara indicated that it may be the North Vietnamese — not the U.S. bombing efforts — who control the rate of infiltration.

"Undoubtedly, the bombing does limit the capability of the North Vietnamese to infiltrate men and equipment into the South," the defense chief said. "But it is not clear that the limit that results is below the level that the North Vietnamese planned on, and in any event, it is not below the level necessary to support the force in the South at the present time."

McNamara explained that despite his reservations he believes the air campaign against the North has been successful when viewed against its stated objectives.

He described these as:

1. Increasing the morale of the South Vietnamese;
2. Increasing the cost to the North of its infiltration;
3. Raising the political price paid by the North to continue the campaign in the South.

"Those were the stated objectives we had in mind and we have accomplished them, McNamara said.

McNamara and Chairman Earle G. Wheeler of the Joint Chiefs of Staff appeared at the closed Senate hearings Jan. 23, 24 and 25 to testify on the $12.7-billion Vietnam war supplemental money bill.

Oxygen Given To Spencer Tracy

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Fire Department said a squad was sent to the home of actor Spencer Tracy Sunday to administer oxygen when the actor was found unconscious.

Officials said a houseboy summoned help when he thought Tracy was having a heart attack. Oxygen was administered, but Tracy was not hospitalized.

His doctor said the actor was suffering from pulmonary edema, or fluid in the lungs.

Miss Percy May Become Democrat

NEW YORK (AP) — Sharon Percy, daughter of Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., disclosed Sunday that she might become a Democrat when she marries John D. Rockefeller IV. this spring.

Such a change of politics, she said in the current issue of McCall's magazine, would be out of a conviction that a husband and wife should "think in the same party."

Her husband-to-be broke with Rockefeller tradition when he was elected to the West Virginia Legislature last fall as a Democrat. The couple will be married in Chicago April 1.

School District Considers Move Of 2 Buildings

RUPERT—Doyle Lowder, assistant superintendent of Mindok County Schools, has been assigned by the school board to prepare cost estimates for moving and remodeling two buildings available from the Bureau of Reclamation.

The board is considering the possibility of moving the houses, which are located at Mindok Dam, and remodeling them into a Central School office. The two buildings would be moved onto school-owned property, and such a move would eliminate some overhead costs at the present office as well as providing more room.

Anti-Americanism Worries U.S. Officials In Vietnam

By KENNETH L. WHITING—SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP)—Anti-Americanism that nibbles into rapport between American servicemen and the South Vietnamese people has become a matter of concern among U.S. officials.

It is particularly evident in the cities.

The attitude of some Vietnamese toward the massive military buildup resembles that of Londoners in 1943-44 who carp at GIs as "over-paid, over-sexed and over here."

There are more than 42,000 U.S. servicemen and about 6,000 American civilians in this country of 15 million people, which is little larger than Florida.

The problem was spotlighted this week in the U.S. military command newspaper, The Observer, in a story headlined "Ugly Americans ruin U.S.-Viet relations."

"A recent survey by one major command in Vietnam revealed that less than half of the Vietnamese people think Americans like and respect them," it said.

The major command to which The Observer referred was the 1st Corps area, the five northern provinces which include the U.S.C. Marine base at Da Nang.

While lacking details, the story suggested a cooling of relations over the last 10 months.

deterioration of the cities and an increasing inclination of Vietnamese to regard the war principally as an American task.

Some Vietnamese officers are disgruntled over the decision to concentrate their units largely on making the countryside secure for the pacification program and leave the battle against main Communist forces to U.S. troops. They feel the Vietnamese army has lost face.

3 More Bodies Found At Plant

HAWTHORNE, N.J. (AP)—Three bodies were recovered from the rubble of a chemical plant today bringing the toll of known dead in last Friday's explosion to seven.

They were discovered in debris near a portion of the Morning-Star/Division of the International Latex Corp. plant where a railroad car had been blown off the tracks of an adjacent siding.

Area Growers Set Burley Potato Clinic

RUPERT—A potato growers' clinic for growers in Cassia and Mindoka Counties will be held from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Tuesday at the Burley Elks Lodge, Virgil-S. Cross, area potato agent with the agricultural extension service, announced Tuesday.

Vanco T. Smith, Mindoka County extension agricultural agent, will discuss low cost forced air circulation for potato cellars—6-10 a.m. Subject of a discussion by Dr. Richard Ohms, extension potato specialist at 11 a.m. will be "Genetic stand and the effect of stand on yield."

The afternoon schedule calls for a talk by Clarence Parr, president of the Idaho Potato Producers, Inc., on "Potato legislation and grower problems" at 1 p.m.; "Potato Futures and their effect on Idaho potato prices," Darrell Alvord, of the Francis I. Dupont and Company offices in Denver, at 1:30 p.m.

At 2 p.m. Dr. Ross Watson, University of Idaho, will speak on "Early blight and scab control research," and the concluding topic at 3 p.m. will be "Weed control in potatoes and tillam on beets," to be discussed by Wallace Peterson of Stauf for Chemical.

De Gaulle's Party Shows Drop In Opinion Polls

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle's party is showing a slight but steady drop in the public opinion polls as the March 5 National Assembly election nears.

Three weeks ago a poll showed 41 per cent of those approached favored the Gaullists. In successive weeks the figure slid to 40 and then 39 per cent.

Over the same period the Democratic Center led by Jean Lecanuet, who made an unsuccessful bid for the presidency two years ago, has risen from 15 to 18 per cent.

The Gaullists must win 244 seats to retain their majority.

TEACHER RESIGNS
SHOSHONE—The resignation of Robert Vaden as English teacher and high school football coach was accepted by the Dietrich School Board this week, according to an announcement by Supt. Harold Stroud.

YOUTH KILLED

BOISE (AP)—A 19-year-old Boise youth was fatally injured Sunday morning when the car in which he and five other young persons were riding left an Ada County road and rolled.

Ada County Sheriff's officers said the victim was Eric P. Lindson, a prominent Boise businessman. He was taken to a hospital but died soon after.

A sheriff's deputy said the foreign auto in which Lindson was riding left Amity Road in the curve after 4 a.m. Sunday, and officers were not able to determine who was driving.

Others in the car were identified as Arthur Tyler, 20, Key Miller, 18, Charles Crocker, 18, Pamela Yates, 18, and Donald Smartt, all of Boise.

New Orleans Plot Hinted By Lawyer

By CHRIS ROBERTS
NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison said today a plan was developed in New Orleans which culminated in the assassination of President John F. Kennedy. He added, "Arrests will be made."

"There were other people besides Lee Harvey Oswald involved," the prosecutor said in an interview. "New Orleans was a factor in the planning beyond a shadow of a doubt."

Garrison said an investigation by his office shows the Warren Commission report is inaccurate in stating Oswald acted alone in the assassination of Kennedy Nov. 22, 1963.

"We already have the names of the people in the initial planning," Garrison told the Associated Press. "We are not wasting our time and we will prove it. Arrests will be made. Charges will be filed and convictions will be obtained."

Garrison said his office had jurisdiction in the case because of a Louisiana law "which forbids conspiracy of any kind."

Asked why he started the probe, Garrison replied: "Last November I began looking into the question because Oswald had spent six months in New Orleans shortly before the assassination."

"I went through the 26 volumes of the Warren Report and there were some questions raised. As a result, I began the investigation. The investigation led to new leads, which we followed out and other leads were uncovered."

ATTORNEY DIES

IDAHO FALLS (AP)—Prominent Idaho Falls Attorney Paul T. Peterson, 76, died early Sunday in an Idaho Falls hospital, where he had been since he was struck by an automobile Feb. 7.

The former Idaho State Bar Association president was struck by a car on River Parkway Scenic Loop Road, but it was not immediately known if his death resulted from injuries he received in the accident.

Peterson was chairman of the State Bar Commission in 1943 and president of the Bar Association in 1946.

Board Review Beginning On Apollo I Fire

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—Specialists began presenting reports today to a board of review investigating the Apollo I fire.

Filing of interim findings from 21 work panels will continue through Tuesday. The following day, the board will make a summary report to Dr. Robert C. Seamans, deputy administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, and to Dr. George E. Mueller, associate administrator for manned space flight.

On Thursday, Mueller will discuss the impact of the accident on the Apollo man-to-the-moon program.

The fire flashed through the Apollo I cabin during a ground test Jan. 27, killing Air Force Lt. Col. Virgil I. Grissom and Edward H. White II and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Roger B. Chaffee.

Residents Of Kerala Vote In India

WASHINGTON (AP) — "He just works in the neighborhood," said the surprised young ministry student, explaining how it feels to preach to the President.

But the seminarian, Peter Lee, said he didn't know President and Mrs. Johnson were on "the morals of Freedom night at St. John's Episcopal Church."

"It was a little panicky," he said of his initial reaction. But then he went ahead with his sermon to Veaper services Sunday.

The Johnsons turned up with about 25 other worshippers after the President had been working at the White House a block south of the church across a park.

Lee, 29, will be graduated in June from Virginia Theological Seminary in Alexandria. He is from Pensacola, Fla.

Rollback In Gas Prices Considered

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is considering trying to force a rollback in gasoline prices by allowing more imports of gasoline or crude oil, Interior Department sources said.

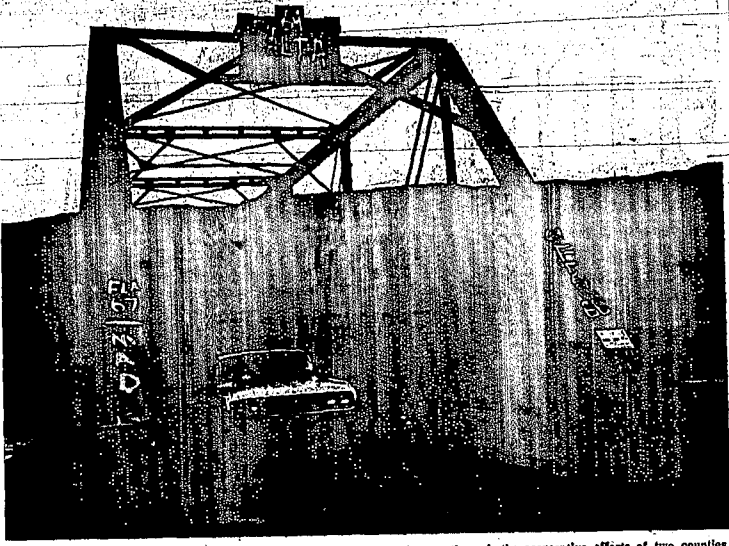

Meetings last week between Interior Department officials and representatives of eight companies which boosted prices have so far not brought a reduction.

The penny-a-gallon increase to consumers could total $750 million a year across the country, say department officials.

Officials said the first step could be reallocation of an "idle" import quota now assigned to the Defense Department.

Commonwealth Oil Co. has an application pending to ship gasoline from its Puerto Rico refinery and Hess Oil Co. has filed a bid to import gasoline from its new Virgin Islands refinery.

AIRMAN PROMOTED
BURLEY — Allan B. Stevenson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Verlin L. Stevenson, Burley, has been promoted to airman second class in the U.S. Air Force. Airman Stevenson is a computer operator at Beale Air Force Base, Calif. He is a member of the Strategic Air Command, America's long-range nuclear bomber and missile force.

THE WEATHERED, well used Clear Lakes Bridge in Snake River Canyon between Twin Falls and Gooding Counties will soon be replaced. A new structure just west of the old steel overhead bridge will be under construction before the end of the year.

Bids Expected Soon On New Clear Lakes Bridge

Bids are expected to be called during the current year for replacement of the 55-year old Clear Lakes Bridge crossing Snake River between Twin Falls and Gooding Counties.

The cooperative project between two counties, two highway districts, state and federal agencies will cost approximately $15,000 and will be a concrete and steel structure, 32 feet wide and 120 feet long.

Built in 1912, the old bridge served horse drawn vehicles and like many other bridges of that vintage became a one lane passage when automobiles came into use. Several years ago it was prohibited to heavy truck traffic and as a result trucks and other heavy vehicles have been traveling many miles extra to reach destinations across the river.

District engineer Blaine Sessions said tests are now being made by the firm of Glasby and Associates, Twin Falls engineering firm, for footings for the new bridge.

Somewhat of an orphan, the bridge connects the West Point Highway District in Gooding County and the Buhl Highway District in Twin Falls County. Neither could afford the cost of a new bridge and together they were still short of necessary funds.

Only 38 per cent of the total cost must be raised locally with 62 per cent promised in federal matching funds. Mr. Sessions said the state will coordinate the program. Funds will be provided through special levies imposed in each of the two counties for a one year basis only. In fact the money was collected through the special levy in 1966 and is available for the start of construction. In Twin Falls $24,250 with a similar amount from Gooding County.

Mr. Sessions said as soon as soil tests are complete the engineering firm will finish designs for the bridge and bids can be called. It should, he said, be under construction before the end of the year.

Mr. Sessions said special credit is due Twin Falls County Commissioners Heber Loughmiller and Morris Carlson and Gooding County Commissioners Ben Glauber and Jerry Renfro who worked on the cooperative plan proposed two years ago.

The special levy, he said, is the first such action in the district to provide a program of mutual benefit to more than one county.

Bloodmobile To Visit Rupert Tuesday, Quota Is 125 Pints

RUPERT — The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be in Rupert Tuesday from 1 to 3 p.m. at the Civic Building.

Rupert's share of blood to be shipped to Vietnam from the Boise regional center is 10 per cent of the quota, which is set at 125 pints.

Since the last drawing, Minidoka County residents have used 201 pints of blood, 62 at the local hospital, 98 at other hospitals in the state, and 41 pints transferred to out-of-state hospitals. At least as many more points have been used in gamma globulin.

Persons receiving blood or gamma globulin are morally obligated to see that it is replaced so it is available for the next person who needs it. Most of those who receive blood are very appreciative and make every effort to have the blood replaced.

This week's drawing is of particular interest to one woman, Mrs. Howard (Cheryl) Corless, Emerson, who will undergo heart surgery later in the week at the LDS Hospital in Salt Lake City.

Mrs. Corless had a similar operation in 1959 when a valve opening was enlarged. The scar tissue on the valve was attributed to rheumatic fever when she was a child. It is likely that this operation will be open heart surgery, when doctors expect to permanently correct the damaged valve.

Mrs. Corless will need 10 pints of blood for her operation. Anyone can donate blood in her name at the local drawing, regardless of blood type. Lists are not charged for blood or gamma. There is a lab fee for typing, crossmatching and administration of blood. Each pint of blood a patient receives must be crossmatched with his own to be sure it is compatible, since even the same type of blood does not always mix.

Blood is usable for transfusing for 21 days after it is collected, after which it becomes outdated because of the gradual breakdown of red cells. The plasma is then removed for processing into derivatives such as the gamma globulin which is used for protection against infection; fibrinogen which is used to help control massive hemorrhage and is essential for clotting blood; and serum albumin which is used for treatment of shock and low blood protein.

At the present time there are 52 area residents either receiving from one to four cc's of gamma globulin each week, or still in need of replacements. It requires one pint of blood to make one cc of gamma, and would cost the patient $3 if he had to pay for it.

Persons from 18 through 50 are invited to donate blood. Donors are not accepted during pregnancy, or 12 months after delivery, or within six months of surgery or after a transfusion, and a history of hepatitis at any time in his life excludes one as a donor. Persons having had malaria may donate if they have not had an attack within two years.

It is suggested that donors not eat a heavy meal or fatty foods for at least four hours prior to the donation.

Other questions regarding medical eligibility will be referred to the physician in charge of the drawing, or may be asked of the personal physician in advance of the drawing.

The Paul American Legion Auxiliary will be in charge of the canteen at Tuesday's drawing.

PROPOSAL MADE
WASHINGTON (AP) — A presidential panel has recommended that police, prosecutors, bar associations and courts adopt "reasonable regulations" to govern the kind of information released to newsmen about criminal cases.

Jim Goodman, Jerome, Gets Eagle Scout Award At Meet

JEROME—Jim Goodman, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Goodman, was awarded the Eagle rank in scouting by Dr. L. V. Ruebel, Scoutmaster of Troop 141 of the Presbyterian Church, last week.

The ceremony was the high point of the annual mid-winter potluck and Court of Honor held jointly by Troop 141 and Explorer Post 141.

Mr. Goodman presented his son with the Eagle Badge and young Goodman presented his mother a silver eagle pendant.

A sophomore honor student at Jerome High School, Goodman has been active in Scouting since he became a Cub Scout at 8.

He has served his Troop as quartermaster, assistant patrol leader and senior patrol leader and is presently vice president of his Explorer Post, 141. A member of the Northside Order of Arrow Dance Team, Goodman has also served on the ordinal ceremony team.

Bill Storer, Institutional Representative of Troop 141, served as master of ceremonies for the

Survivor Of Plane Crash Ordeal Returns To Home

LOGAN, Utah (AP) — Foster Delnes, the truck driver pilot who survived a plane crash and was stranded for a half day on a mountain, returned home today. "I owe my life," he said, "to the fact I didn't panic and I had a good survival kit."
 His only injury was a minor bump on the head. His nourishment on the 20 hours of actual hiking was candy and vitamin pills.
 Delnes, 35, of Evergreen, Colo., was the object of a two-day, two-state search when he disappeared Thursday after taking off from Rawlins, in southern Wyoming.
 He walked into the mountain farming community of Paradise, in northern Utah, in the dark last night — about 9:30 p.m. Farmer Ted Edwards gave him some soup and whiskey and drove him 10 miles to Logan. From there he sent word to his wife that he was all right.
 Yesterday he recalled how he survived after losing his way in a storm and crashing into a mountain at about 9,000 feet Thursday.
 He said the plane was only slightly damaged when it stalled into a tree and deep snow. He stayed with the plane Thursday night, keeping warm by bundling himself in two coats and burning anything he could find — including the airplane registration papers. He estimated the temperature dropped to five degrees.
 Friday he started hiking. He as a platform to work himself free.

 He spent Friday night standing against a tree and moving about to keep warm and awake.
 Late Friday he came to the Forcupine Dam, about four miles from Paradise, and knew he was near help when he found truck tracks.
 He also carried a transistor radio and heard reports from a Salt Lake City station that the search for him had ended.

Unhappy

TRENTON, Ont. (AP)—Drilling contractor N. N. Faulkner was excited when his rig struck natural gas near here, but hardly overjoyed. He had been drilling to find empty underground cavities in which to store natural gas.
 To top it off, the gas ignited, shooting up 15 to 20-foot flames and threatening to destroy Faulkner's $200,000 drilling rig before firemen extinguished the blaze.

Dear Abby

BY ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Last year my sister's husband was killed in an accident. Since they lived only a few blocks from us, she turned to my husband for help in making all the arrangements, business decisions, etc. One thing led to another and now they are in love.

They have never admitted it, but they don't have to. It is so obvious when they are together. He stops by her house every evening before coming home. My sister is younger than I, and much prettier, and she and her husband hadn't been compatible for a long time before his death. I love my sister, but my husband is my whole life.

I would divorce him but there are many children (and even grandchildren) to be considered. If they decided to be noble and give each other up, where would that leave me?

I have been trying to think up ways to commit suicide to make it look like an accident to spare the family embarrassment, but that isn't easy. And I'm not sure I could actually do it. However that seems to be the only solution. If you can think of any other way, please answer.

ROPE'S END

DEAR ROPE'S END: This burden is too great for you to carry alone. Confide in your clergyman and ask for his advice. Of one thing I am certain you can do anything you set your mind to, including living without your husband. If you must, and forgiving him and your sister, if you must. The "solution" you mention is no solution. It's surrender.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a man who would give his secretary $100 for Christmas and then tell his wife that she shouldn't expect anything because she was "too old" to be believed in Santa Claus?

THE WIFE

DEAR WIFE: I would say that his marriage is all screwed up.

DEAR ABBY: Your advice to the wife of the junk collector that she call the Salvation Army to haul his stuff away proves that you have never lived with a pack-rat. And she wouldn't

James Galanos' Styles Tamed "Undecided"

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
NEW YORK (AP) — Styles for decidedly indecisive women were introduced Wednesday by James Galanos who waited until Paris had his say before showing his spring collection.

His models strutted in some of the world's most "expensive" fashion valettas, all perfect for the woman undecided whether to act her age or her daughter's; keep her modest or like them high; or whether to wear skirts or the pants; be tough, chic or real girl; an angel or a siren.

Slender baby bonnets, some ruffled, some plain, the under the chin of big dolls who wore costumes that seemed to have shrunk.

The silhouette included narrow shoulders, a fitted minibus with full head peats breaking at a high waistline in back, front and at the side and stopping about six inches short of the knees.

The show opened on an even higher note with helmets at the neckline on bright jersey cutouts suits with bright bands, much like high school gym suits.

Later the jersey was switched for blousey flutery skirts with the same pants skirt and high hemline.

If that was not enough of a hemline choice, there were evening chiffons, short on one side, to the floor on the other; or with up-and-down handkerchief point skirts.

There were more "sidewise" scissor for women unable to make up their minds whether to be sleeved or sleeveless. Models appeared in chiffons or silks and in shoulder bare, the other covered like a caftan.

Sometimes the dilemma of a high or low neckline was resolved with a turtle-neck cut away at the shoulder line to expose part of the breast bone.

Riding Club Benefit Held

CAREY — A card party was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Whitty for the benefit of the Carey Riding Club. Pieces were introduced Wednesday by James Galanos who waited until Paris had his say before showing his spring collection.

High score winners were Reid Weaver and Mrs. Aeri Bennett. Low prizes went to Mrs. Lloyd Davis and Cliff Ward. Robert Whitty received the traveling prize.

Decorations carried out a Valentine theme. Refreshments were served.

WINNERS NAMED
HANSEN—Mrs. Von Nebeker and Louis Hranac were high score winners at the Joker pinochle Club at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Cooper, Mrs. Louis Hranac and Vergil Ball were low score winners. Lloyd Mitchell received the traveling prize. Mr. and Mrs. Vergil Ball were guests. There were four tables in play.

Moyers Misses Knowledge Of "Inside"

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bill D. Moyers, who recently jumped from the job of White House press secretary to publisher of a newspaper, says he misses most "the knowledge of what is going on inside."

His viewpoint is beginning to change, Moyers said Sunday in an interview.

Moyers was interviewed on the NBC radio-television program "Meet the Press."

"The White House," he said, "if anything, looks more potent, more important and more complicated from the outside than it does from the inside."

In his new position with the Long Island daily Newsday, Moyers said, he does not get involved with editorials about the presidency.

Stay Sober With Amethyst

By NORMAN HERRETT

Birthstones for the February-born is the lovely purple amethyst, a gem associated with St. Valentine.

One of the unique virtues ascribed to the amethyst is that of a theory that originated with the Greek legend Bacchus and Diana.

Bacchus, the God of Wine, fell in love with a beautiful nymph and in her efforts to escape him she fled to Diana, the patron goddess and protectress of maidens. Bacchus, angered, vowed to set his tigers upon the girl. To protect her, Diana transformed her into a white stone statue.

Later Bacchus repented his cruel intention and in tribute to the vanquished nymph he allowed a libation of purple wine over her statue, turning it to a purplish hue. He vowed that he who wore the amethyst should be immune from drunkenness.

Amethyst means "not touched" in Greek. Joseph and Mary solemnized their wedding with a ring set with this stone, and the women of ancient Rome wore amethysts in the belief that this would assure them of their husband's love.

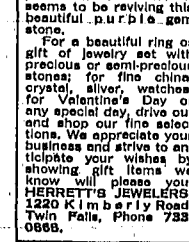

A recent swing of the pendulum of fashion seems to be reviving this beautiful purple gem stone.

For a beautiful ring or gift of jewelry set with precious or semi-precious stones; for fine china, crystal, silver, watches, for Valentine's Day or any special day, drive out and shop our fine selections. We appreciate your business and strive to anticipate your wishes by showing gift items we know will please you.

Palmer Has Narrow Win In Tucson Open

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Arnold Palmer stumbled in with a double bogey six on the final hole Sunday but won the $60,000 Tucson Open golf championship by one stroke over Chuck Courtney. Courtney had even more trouble on the final hole, blowing to a triple-bogey seven and missing a five-foot putt that would have forced a playoff. Palmer's 37-36-73 was his only round over par on the 7,200-yard par 72 Tucson National Golf Club Course. He finished with a 15-under-par 213.

Courtney had a final round 70 for 274.

Palmer, who began the day with a comfortable four-stroke lead, was caught by Courtney on the ninth hole after Palmer double-bogeyed. From there on it was an even match until the treacherous 465-yard, par-four 18th hole.

Courtney, 26-year-old tour regular from La Jolla, Calif., hit his tee shot into the water to the right of the fairway, giving Palmer a clear shot at the $12,000 winner's purse. But, unbelievably, Palmer also hit his ball into the water, only a few yards from where Courtney's shot landed.

At this point, they were both at 17 under par after each had birdied two of the final eight holes.

Courtney's second shot landed in a trap to the left of the green, some 30 feet from the hole. Palmer's shot raced across the huge green and came to a stop in the fringe some 60 feet from the pin.

The title was decided when Courtney pitched some 25 feet past the hole and needed three putts to get down after missing a five-foot try which would have halved the hole with Palmer. Palmer was able to chip from the fringe to within four feet from the cup and get down in two, the final putt a tap-in.

NCAA, Ivy Loop Sign Agreement

KANSAS CITY (AP) — An interim agreement paving the way for Ivy League competition in NCAA championship events through this spring was announced Sunday by NCAA President Marcus L. Plant, a Michigan law professor, with the concurrence of Yale President Kingman Brewster Jr.

All phases of the NCAA's 1.6 legislation were discussed by Plant and Brewster in personal conversations following an exchange of letters.

Plant emphasized that the Ivy League long has had admission policies that do not admit any students, athletes or not, who would fall below the 1.6 prediction used by the NCAA in its national table.

The Ivy League believes the NCAA legislation shouldn't apply to them, Plant said. He explained that both by conference agreement and by practice at their schools, an athlete may receive financial aid only on the basis of the same academic standards and demonstration of economic need as are applied to all other students.

The NCAA Council has ruled that the legislation does apply, but is willing to review the question in light of any additional information.

Cullings Hits 33, Buhl Tips Glenns Ferry

BUHL — Chuck Cullings threw in 33 points Saturday night to pace Buhl to a 68-39 victory over Glenns Ferry in a non-conference game.

The Indians took the lead for good in the second quarter and had a nine-point advantage going into the fourth quarter.

The Ivy League believes the NCAA legislation shouldn't apply to them, Plant said. He explained that both by conference agreement and by practice at their schools, an athlete may receive financial aid only on the basis of the same academic standards and demonstration of economic need as are applied to all other students.

The NCAA Council has ruled that the legislation does apply, but is willing to review the question in light of any additional information.

NFL Meets To Discuss Trades And Player Draft

By JACK HAND
HONOLULU (AP)—National Football League club owners meet Monday to settle the date and format of the first common player draft, discuss the selection of a new league president and talk trades. The annual meeting, the first attended by the New Orleans Saints as the 16th member of the league, will last four or five days. Although trade talk, especially involving quarterbacks like Francis Tarkenton of Minnesota, Gary Cozzo of Baltimore, John Brodie of San Francisco and Bill Musson of Los Angeles will keep the rumor mill alive, the big news is expected to be the draft.

Pasarell Tips Ashe To Win Tennis Title

SALISBURY, Md. (AP)—Charles Pasarell, fighting fatigue, wore down Arthur Ashe Sunday and won the U. S. Indoor Tennis Championship 13-11, 6-2, 2-6, 9-7.

The 23-year-old Puerto Rican defeated his former teammate at UCLA in two hours and 42 minutes and became the first repeat champion in the indoor singles Greg Mangin in 1935-36.

Ashe's volleys, particularly his backhand, failed him time and again and his service got him into trouble at crucial points in the match witnessed by about 1,000.

Pasarell, who complained early in the week of a stiff arm, appeared to tire in the third set, after falling behind 4-2. He was content to run out the set, losing the next two games while winning only one point.

This strategy enabled Pasarell to open the fourth set at 1-0. He then moved temporarily to a red shirt when originally picked by Green Bay. He didn't sign with the Packers until a year later.

If a separate red shirt draft is held, the owners must decide if trades of draft rights will be permitted how many rounds will be held and other details.

Vince Lombardi, whose Packers have 10 draft choices in the first five rounds because of trades, originally opposed the separate drafts. It is believed he now is ready to go along with the other owners. At a special meeting, a unanimous vote is required to amend the constitution, but at the annual meetings it takes three votes to defeat an amendment.

The presence of Lombardi of Green Bay, Joe Kuharich of Philadelphia Eagles and Otto Graham of the Washington Redskins, all of whom double as coach and general manager, should stimulate trade talk.

The Minnesota Vikings, who lost both their coach, Norm Van Brocklin, and their quarterback, Tarkenton, last week, are expected to be unusually active.

The New York Giants, whose rights to take the first college quarterback in the draft never have been confirmed or denied, still must decide if they want to take Steve Spurrier of Florida, Bob Griese of Purdue or somebody else. Or they may decide to hold draft rights a year or trade them for an experienced quarterback like Brodie or Tarkenton.

Changes On Baseball Fields Become Evident As Spring Training Begins

By The Associated Press
Sandy Koufax is missing and Maury Wills is a Pirate, Roger Maris has become a Cardinal and Eddie Mathews a Houston Astro.

The winds of change have swept across the baseball fields during the off season, leaving many startling switches as the clubs go to spring training.

Houston has been working out at Cocoa, Fla., since Feb. 10 with a select group of pitchers and catchers, plus a few others, trying to convince Manager Grady Hatton that they belong.

The Astro squad will report Feb. 20.

Bill Rigney's California Angels started huffing and puffing at their new preliminary camp in Holtville, Calif., Friday. They will transfer operations to Palm Springs, Calif., March 1.

Florida will play host to 16 of the 20 big league clubs; three will be in Arizona and one in California.

The San Francisco Giants, who will open work-at Casa Grande, Ariz., Feb. 27 and then move to their normal Phoenix base March 8, will be the last club to report.

Most of the teams have two reporting dates with the bat terymen first and the rest of the squad later. However, the Angels all were due Feb. 16, the complete squad of Cleveland Indians is expected at Tucson, Ariz. and all the Los Angeles Dodgers at Vero Beach, Fla. both on Feb. 25.

Cleveland will swing into action at the first exhibition games when they visit Mexico March 7-9 for a series with local teams. The special Florida opener will be held Thursday, March 9 with the New York Yankees playing Washington at the Senators' camp in Pompano Beach, Fla. There will be six games the following day and a full slate on the weekend of March 11-12 with action every day through Sunday, April 9, the last day before the regular season opens.

Dick Williams of the Boston Red Sox is one of the three new managers who will take control during the spring season. The others are Joe Adcock at Cleveland and Mayo Smith, former boss of the Phillies and Cincinnati Reds, who will try again with the Detroit Tigers.

Most observers will be keeping a keen eye on Walter Alston's moves at Vero Beach as he fails to repair the damage done to the Dodgers by the retirement of Koufax and the loss of Willis.

For the first time in many years there is no fear of the New York Yankees as Manager Ralph Houk strives to dig his way out of a last place finish with rookies. The first base experiment of Mickey Mantle will be one of the most publicized ventures of the spring.

Rights Commission Eyes Racial Imbalance

(AP) — The Commission says that the most effective way to deal with racial imbalance is to make it unlawful to have more than a certain percentage of Negroes in a school district. The commission said that the percentage limit it would like to see written into the law but suggested there is "much to commend" the New York and Massachusetts statutes which draw the line at 50 per cent. "Almost every American city with a large Negro population would find its school system unacceptable by the federal standard if a line were drawn at 50 per cent. According to a table accompanying the commission's report, 55.5 per cent of New York City's Negroes in the 1965-66 school year attended schools that had a majority Negro composition. The figure for Los Angeles was given as 87.3, Philadelphia, 90.5, Detroit 91.5, and Chicago 96.5. Many smaller cities such as Hartford, Conn., 73.8, Knoxville, Tenn., 79.8 and Pasadena, Calif., 71.4 also would be affected. "Some schools with a large proportion of Negro students may not in fact produce harmful effects, while others with a smaller proportion may be disadvantaged because of their race," the commission said. "But the alternative to establishing such a standard is to require a time-consuming and ineffective effort to determine on a case-by-case basis the schools in which harm occurs." The decision as to what form of corrective action should be taken when schools had too many Negro pupils to meet the proposed federal standard should be left to state and local authorities, the commission said.

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

MONDAY, February 20—Born today, you have a very high standard of behavior and are a strict disciplinarian — as much with yourself as with others. In fact, you are somewhat inclined to be impatient with those who do not see things as you do and you generally have no room in your thinking for moral codes other than yours. With people brought up as you have been, this may be a defensible position, but you must remember that there are those who have had no opportunity to learn what you have learned. The individual born on this day who learns to temper his own special sense of justice with mercy toward all people will be much happier than the one who continues on his own way unchanged and unchanging. One who refuses to gloss over facts, you are an absolute realist. For this reason, science will probably appeal to you more than anything else, and research — since you enjoy working alone — could be your real forte. As much as you deal with it, however, you would do well, when it concerns people, to couch it in kind words. To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday guide star be your daily guide.

Tuesday, February 21
PISCES (Feb. 20-March 21) — Progressive action should have begun the new week with a bang. Don't take no for an answer — even from higher-ups in the field.

ARIES (March 22-April 20) — Offset opposition by exerting will power and force of action, or you could easily be overrun by others.

TAURUS (April 21-May 21) — Clear-headed reason should bring you swiftly to a solution of present employment problems. Don't be rushed.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) — Should a lease or contract come up for your consideration today, don't make a quick decision. Try to let matters ride.

CANCER (June 22-July 23) — A persistent undercurrent of unrest may continue to upset your time schedule. Patience with yourself and others wins the day.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) — Move ahead on all fronts at this time — but make certain that you take the practical approach. Not a day for dreaming.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) — A friendly conversation with business or professional associates should clear the air to everyone's satisfaction.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) — A day during which you could find yourself caught between two conflicting courses of action. Make a choice!

Glass Lung Has Promise For Children

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Development of a simple, all-glass, partial substitute for the human lung, which shows promise of aiding children desperately ill from various kinds of lung crises, is described by a Philadelphia doctor.
Essentially a glass tube about a foot long and half an inch in diameter, it's designed for use outside the body but connected with blood vessels in the heart-lung system.
Dr. William J. Rashkind of Children's Hospital, Philadelphia, said the experimental device may provide a new emergency treatment for youngsters suffering life-threatening lung damage or faulty function such as that caused by hyaline membrane disease.
He indicated that even though improvements remain to be made, the device might be used right now in cases where nothing else has worked.
Hyaline membrane disease — also known as the "glassy lung" disease — is the one that killed Patrick Kennedy, the infant son of President and Mrs. John F. Kennedy.
Rashkind said the device appears to have possibilities for treating infants who are born with collapsed lungs, or who become bedeviled by overwhelming lung infections such as pneumonia, and sufferers from cystic fibrosis.

The doctor said, the device also might be used in adults with potentially reversible lung damage.
He told about it at a panel discussion during the annual meeting of the American College of Cardiology, and amplified in an interview.

Art Gallery Is Mum On Purchase

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Gallery of Art is giving the silent treatment to reports that it has paid the highest price ever paid by a museum for an art work.
The picture in question is a Leonardo da Vinci small enough to be tucked under arm.
The gallery has refused to comment on published reports that it has paid $5 million to $6 million to acquire Da Vinci's "Portrait of Ginevra-Dei-Benci" from a European prince.
If the report is correct, the price is more than double the existing record, $2.3 million paid in 1961 by the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York for Rembrandt's "Aristotle Contemplating the Bust of Homer." The National Gallery is part of the Smithsonian Institution, and thus owned by the government, but its major acquisitions are usually paid for by private donors.

Stories reporting the Da Vinci purchase appeared Sunday in the Washington Star and New York Times. Although gallery spokesmen declined to comment on the reports, there were indications they might have a major announcement in a day or two.
The seller identified in the newspaper stories is Prince Franz Josef II of Liechtenstein. The royal family of the tiny principality owns one of the world's most valuable private art collections, although it has been selling off some of the pieces since World War II.

American Soldier Finds Use For Large Knife In Vietnam

By TOM TIEDE
BONG Son, Vietnam—(NEA)—When Barton Blizard brought his bulky 16-inch hunting knife here a few months ago, everybody laughed.

"What good is it?" they asked. "I'll find a use," he answered. But at first he didn't. When he practiced throwing it into a wooden platform, a colonel chewed him out for defacing U. S. property. When he took it into the officers' mess, irate seniors heaved him out.

So, mostly, the Bethesda, Ohio, officer just wore it. He affixed the scabbard to his belt, tied the point to his leg and walked around the First Air Cavalry grounds, looking, as a companion said, "like an idiot." Blizard cared little, though. He was used to abuse. As the youngest first lieutenant in all of Vietnam at 29, he was criticized for everything from his attitude (too serious) to the way he wore his hair (shaved clean). Then, the other day the abuses stopped. The fact is Barton Blizard cut them off with his knife.

U.S. Faces Opposition From Friends On Nuclear Treaty

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH GENEVA (AP)—The United States faces more opposition from friends and allies than from the Soviet Union in negotiating a treaty to stop the spread of nuclear weapons.

American and Soviet negotiators have reached an understanding—on nearly all key points.

An informal draft will be put before the 17-nation disarmament conference, resuming Tuesday.

The North Atlantic Treaty Organization Council approved an outline of the treaty earlier this month, but France, West Germany and Italy expressed reservations.

West Germany pictures it as a discriminatory obstacle to industry and technology. India, Sweden, Israel and Switzerland also have expressed doubts.

Conference officials seem convinced that most of the obstacles will be overcome by late spring. If not, the issue may be held over until the U.N. General Assembly meets in the fall.

Eight neutral countries at the Geneva conference—Brazil, Burma, Ethiopia, India, Mexico, Nigeria, Sweden and Egypt—are not expected to put up serious opposition, despite the objections some express.

Japan, Switzerland and Israel, not taking part in the conference but capable of nuclear development, have little choice but to accept the treaty.

Among the four Western powers at the conference, the United States, Britain and Canada are united in their accord with the Soviet Union.

The fourth, Italy, shares many of West Germany's apprehensions. Both countries object to a proposed ban on nuclear blasts for peaceful purposes and to controls to be maintained by the International Atomic Energy Agency.

West Germany is not a conference member but is represented by an influential observer—Siegbert Schmiggennecker. His government seeks behind the scenes to form a "united front" of Western nations with misgivings about the treaty.

France boycotted the conference and says it will not sign a nonproliferation treaty.

The treaty would confirm France as one of five nations permitted to hold nuclear weapons.

The French government seems reluctant to join what could appear to be a worldwide coalition against Red China.

China, also absent here, calls the treaty a Soviet-American plot to consolidate "world imperialism."

Western officials say the attitudes of Red China against France don't kill the treaty. They feel France is unlikely to pass on its nuclear weapons or nuclear secrets to other powers. China's posture "is something we'll have to live with, treaty or no treaty," one official commented.

When he saw and heard an enemy soldier. The man, peeking over a trench, was facing the opposite direction and firing a rifle off to Blizard's left.

The lieutenant unbent his knife. He changed direction slightly and began to crawl again, silently, the knife ready.

The enemy soldier never knew what happened. Blizard rose up behind, grabbed the guerrilla's face with his left hand, swung his blade to the throat.

Death was instantaneous. Then to his right Blizard saw the isolated GI. He was sprawled in a hole. He was dead. Blizard pulled him up and pushed and picked the lifeless soldier out of reach of the enemy.

Moments later, the lieutenant dropped the body in friendly lines and slumped to earth himself. He had not been hit nor wounded, but his head ached and his body was wet with the blood of others.

His knife, too, was smeared. He turned it carefully in his hand, wiped it on the leg on his trousers and put it inside his belt.

The man of his unit watched in silence, eyes wide, mouths open, skin twitching.

"Well," Blizard said, "I found a use."

And nobody, but nobody, laughed.

Tom Tiede In Vietnam

The day was damp, the terrain open. By midmorning it was determined he still alive. The sergeant didn't know. Quickly, Blizard removed his heavy gear. He dropped his field pack, his rations and his rifle. He kept his knife. Then he held it toward the abandoned soldier.

It was spooky going. Sporadic sniper rounds whistled from his flank and his front. He maneuvered to and from his only protection—logs, scrub brush and mounds of earth.

When he saw and heard an enemy soldier. The man, peeking over a trench, was facing the opposite direction and firing a rifle off to Blizard's left.

The lieutenant unbent his knife. He changed direction slightly and began to crawl again, silently, the knife ready.

Maryland Town Has To Vacate By May 1

VINDEX, Md. (AP) — The Johnstown Coal & Coke Co. has given everybody in Vindex until May 1 to get out of town every body except Newton McRobie.

The 32 families who have received notices to vacate their company-owned houses seem reconciled to leaving, although most of them say they don't know where they will go.

McRobie presents a problem for the company. He owns his house. He says he isn't going to leave without it and at 69 he is too old to take it with him.

There, for the moment, matters stand and the company is waiting for the courts to decide.

Johnstown Coal & Coke built Vindex in 1906 and sustained it with coal mining and related activities. Now Johnstown is selling Vindex and the land around it to the Douglas Coal Co.

James Polino, head of Douglas, says he plans strip, or surface operations as well as deep mining in the five-room frame area near the border of West Virginia.

"Stripping coal takes a lot of blasting," says Polino. "You can't strip coal and do a lot of blasting with people in the way."

Two of these people are Ellis Ellifritz and his wife. Ellifritz, 50, was born and raised in Vindex. He worked for Johnstown until 1950 when it closed operations. Now he works for the Garrett County Roads Department in Nearby Oakland.

Ellifritz and his wife have lived in the five-room frame house since shortly after their marriage in 1938.

He has paid his $9.65-a-month rent to the company, his electric bill to the company, used to buy groceries from a company store and got his water free from the company.

What are the Ellifritzes going to do? "Land, I don't know," says Mrs. Ellifritz.

"We ain't got a house yet. We'd like to move to Oakland on account of being closer to his work. We'd have to rent. It would be hard for us to pay more rent. But, as the situation is, I suppose we'll have to."

"And the rest of the people—very few of them has found houses yet. Most of them will have to rent."

Polino says he has told the families they can remain in their homes, rent free, until the May 1 deadline.

Harold Adams, a representative of Johnstown Coal & Coke, says the company has told the families they can buy the houses and move them to a new location. That may be the solution for some, but not McRobie, who once owned seven acres that had coal underneath worked in the mines for 45 years. If you work in the mines that long, you get a little dust in your lungs. It cuts your wind after you get up in age.

"When they told me that and we have a supply of kerosene lamps."

Adams has talked to McRobie about trading the "property for some land outside the town."

Said McRobie: "But the way it is with me now I ain't able to build anymore. I'm 69 and my lungs ain't too good."

"I began working here in 1914 when I was 16 or 17—and I worked in the mines for 45 years. If you work in the mines that long, you get a little dust in your lungs. It cuts your wind after you get up in age."

U.S. Offers Latin America Great Society Blue Print

By CLAUDE E. ERBSEN
BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — The United States has offered Latin America a blueprint for a do-it-yourself hemisphere "Great Society."

It covers education, technology, agriculture and health, and includes establishment of a Latin-American common market by 1980.

Key to the plan is U. S. insistence that the Latins reach the basic decisions and set the goals themselves with the knowledge that the United States will back them up.

The blueprint is part of a confidential State Department document titled "Annotated Agenda for the Inter-American Meeting of Presidents." It was distributed to the Latin-American

Hypersonic Jet Planned By Designer

By GRANVILLE WATTS
WEYBRIDGE, England (AP) — A pioneer aircraft designer is dreaming up a hypersonic jet that would whisk you casually from London to New York in 57 minutes through the thin, chill atmosphere 50 miles up without leaving a trace of sonic boom to frighten the earthbound.

It's no space craft, this 17,000-m.p.h. craft stirring in the nimble and nearly inextinguishable brain of the inventor, Dr. Barnes Wallis. Neither is it one of those jumbo contraptions aimed to carry hundreds of passengers on long hauls.

The 70-year-old research chief at the British Aircraft Corp. considers the hypersonic jet the next step ahead of the supersonic transport - SST.

"We are designing an aircraft in terms of the ultimate," he told an interviewer.

Wallis, originator of the swing-wing idea, said his aircraft will fly 31,000 miles from London to Sydney, Australia, non-stop in 1 1/2 to 2 hours.

On the shorter 3,000-mile North Atlantic route he said the plane would not reach maximum height or speed, but would still do it in about 57 minutes.

To reach top performance he said the aircraft must climb to about 260,000 feet, then cruise in the thinner atmosphere.

"It will become virtually weightless - I don't know how the passengers will like that," he quipped.

Head Resigns

BOISE (AP) — Robert L. Damm, director of the Idaho Historical Museum, has resigned effective March 5 to accept a position with the Maine State Museum.

Mr. Damm, director of the Idaho Museum since June, 1966, said Saturday he had resigned because the Maine job offered him a chance for a much better position.

Final Installment Of Manchester Book Adds More Points Of Concern

By ARTHUR EVERETT
 NEW YORK (AP) — Immediately after President John F. Kennedy's assassination, one of his aides is quoted as wondering if Lyndon B. Johnson could be dumped as Democratic candidate in 1964, presumably in favor of Robert F. Kennedy.
 William Manchester in the fourth and final installment of his book, "The Death of a President," also says President Kennedy had selected Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara as his next secretary of state, intending to replace Dean Rusk.

Regarding the 1964 nomination, Manchester writes of Kennedy's White House aide, Arthur Schlesinger Jr.:
 "Concern over the new president grew. Schlesinger wondered whether Lyndon Johnson should be his party's candidate in the coming election. He conferred with Chairman John Bailey, asking him whether it would be possible to deny the new president the nomination."
 Manchester says Bailey, Democratic national chairman, said it might be technically possible, but would cost the Democrats the election.

Later in the installment, Manchester quotes John Kenneth Galbraith, write a n d economist, as saying of Schlesinger that he "was dwelling on the possibility of a ticket in 1964 headed by Bob Kennedy and Hubert Humphrey."
 Instead, Johnson ran with Humphrey in 1964 and scored a landslide victory over Republican Barry Goldwater.
 At the first cabinet meeting after the assassination, Manchester said Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy inadvertently arrived late, and that Johnson took this as an intentional snub. The author adds: "Clearly, Johnson regarded the late president's brother as a formidable obstacle."

 At Mrs. John F. Kennedy's suite in Bethesda Naval Hospital the night of the assassination, Manchester says Secretary McNamara "was asked by Charles Bartlett, a newspaper columnist and friend of the president, whether he knew he was supposed to be secretary of state in Kennedy's second term."
 "Charlie had heard it from the president," Manchester went on. "The secretary of defense nodded slowly. 'I don't know what I could have done about policy, but I could have helped with the administration,' he said."

 Manchester writes that it was Nicholas Katzenbach, acting attorney general during Robert Kennedy's bereavement, who proposed an investigation of the assassination by the commission that Chief Justice Earl Warren later headed.
 Katzenbach, Manchester says, learned that Johnson tentatively had decided upon a Texas commission, which would exclude all non-Texans. To head off this plan, Katzenbach was said to have gone to Abe Fortas, a Washington attorney close to Johnson.

 "He bluntly labelled Johnson's idea a ghastly mistake," the author says.
 Manchester mentions that during the first days after the Nov. 22, 1963, assassination the possibility of a conspiracy in the haunted Washington.
 "It was so common to forget that he had been the accused when the assassin, Lee Harvey Oswald, was shot to death Nov. 24, 1963," Jack Ruby.

 The Secret Service sought to dissuade Johnson from walking behind the gun carriage carrying Kennedy's body during the funeral. Johnson was said to have at first agreed. Later, he was quoted as saying Mrs. Johnson "told him he should march, 'so I changed my mind.'"
 After his election as president in 1964, Manchester said Johnson seemed to forget that he had been the accused when the assassin, Lee Harvey Oswald, was shot to death Nov. 24, 1963, the author said.

very mention of their names would annoy him" and that within a year he was so resentful of the Kennedy aura that any White House employee who wore a PT-109 tie clip would run the risk of incurring the presidential wrath."
 The final installment is marked by poignant personal passages.
 There is Mrs. Kennedy's successful fight to have the presidential coffin sent to her, even though Manchester says the president's face was not damaged by the assassin's bullets.
 They have to remember Jack all," Mrs. Kennedy is quoted, Robert Kennedy sided with her.

Turkey To Study War In Vietnam
 ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Turkish Defense Minister Altinoglu announced today that Turkey will send "observer" military attaches to Vietnam to study "guerrilla warfare on the spot."
 Topoglu, in a statement during talks on the Defense Ministry budget, said a decision to send observers had been taken by the office of the chief of the General Staff.

Plan Opposed
 BOISE (AP) — Hugh Parks, legislative chairman of the Idaho Grange, said the farm organization opposed to the so-called Liberty Amendment.

The Liberty Amendment would prevent the federal government from carrying on any activity in competition with private industry.
 Parks said a committee of the Grange had studied the proposal and found it "entirely unjustified."

JACK BECOMES IMPORTANT CARD

Last week we were worrying about queens. This week we will concern ourselves with missing jacks. The same general rules apply - If you miss six to the jack the general rule is to play for the drop in preference to the finesse but most of the time you will be more concerned with the number of tricks you need in the suit.

left and the king and queen will pick them up. If West plays low South will make all five club tricks and if West shows out the ten spot play will have East-started-with-five-clubs-to-the-jack.

Suppose that South has arrived at a grand slam contract. He shouldn't be there but everyone has seen much poorer grand slam contracts.

To bring in five club tricks South's best play is to try to drop the jack.

Barring some very unusual club combinations, if you drop the jack, it can't do it if the clubs break 5-1 or 6-0 or if West holds four clubs to the jack. If East holds jack-small or jack and two small, all plays succeed. If West holds jack-small or jack and two small the play to drop the jack will succeed and therefore is preferable to the second round finesse which gains only if East holds the jack and three others.

Should Buddy Pitch For His Pal's Gal?

The cast:
Two boys, best friends.
One girl, semi-steady dating boy 1.
Complication: boy 2 finds himself attracted to the girl. Question: should he make a play for her, or keep his silence?
The scene's been played before in this space. At what time we gave a hearty "hands off" to the boy. One reader took violent objection. Said: "If a boy is interested in me, I want to know if he may be more attractive and interesting than the boy he's afraid of hurting. The whole hand-off philosophy is very bad. It traps both the boy and girl. It is especially uncomfortable for the girl because the boy can always ask someone else out. She must wait until someone decides the coast is clear."
Nursing our slapped wrist, we flitted other readers to deal with it. A Charley and a C. girl was the first to reply.
GIRL'S REPLY
"For nearly eight months last year I dated A slowly. We were not going steady but no one at school knew any differences and so I dated this boy and only this boy most of my senior year. I thought I was happy but then along came boy B, who had the courage to ask me out. I accepted, and for a period dated both boys. Then I found B occupied all my thinking. I stopped dating A. After six months now, B and I find our feelings have matured into love and we're planning a future together. I ask you, what would have happened had B not shown his interest in me despite my apparent steady? Relationship with A I realize now that A wasn't suited for me, but it took B's attentions to make me see it."
From New York came a second "no": "It seems to me that all the advice people have been giving in common, their best thing to do steady in your terms. I'd done that and my people and have a good time." Well, I think this is a good idea, but all the boys believe in a hands-off policy. Whether you like it or not, once you go out with one boy a few times his friends and all the kids think you belong to him and don't ask you out. I really liked it. I wouldn't go out with anyone else, but it takes four or five dates to get to know them and then you're stuck where in this space. A. I would not believe in competing steady dat and his friend even made bets to see who my mom would date and he knows how much she loves him, because he didn't get her through a hand-off policy. You see, she chose him."
ON THE OTHER HAND
The points are good, but they neglect the crux of the case in point: the boys involved were best friends, a relationship was at stake. This fact edged the following comments from a Colorado Springs girl: "No matter what we all think at times, boys are people too, and they deserve the respect of self-respect. They are not to be trifled with by other boys free from interference from other girls. Sure, it's flattering for a girl to find out a boy likes her. But what girl wants a boy who would step on his best friend's feelings to reach her? I wouldn't! How could I know he wouldn't tramp on my feelings when he then along came boy B, who had the courage to ask me out. I accepted, and for a period dated both boys. Then I found B occupied all my thinking. I stopped dating A. After six months now, B and I find our feelings have matured into love and we're planning a future together. I ask you, what would have happened had B not shown his interest in me despite my apparent steady? Relationship with A I realize now that A wasn't suited for me, but it took B's attentions to make me see it."
I speak so harshly because I once made the mistake of dating two guys who were best friends and I saw them split over me. I dropped both because I felt horrible for splitting up two guys who were my conscience, I worked and got the guys back together again."

The Rebuke

By ROBERTA LASHLEY
Mt. Savage, Md., Minister
The paper section of our church on Friday night...

Ordinarily, I never saw the car or the man again. I never knew if the words God gave me to say to him were the ones he needed for his own soul's torment...

"How about a lift?" a man's voice asked as the door swung open. I climbed gratefully in and only then realized the driver was a stranger—not a neighbor as I'd thought.

In our rural neighborhood waiting rides was such an accepted practice that no slightest warning crossed my mind as I thanked the driver. He did not reply to my thanks and so we drove in silence until I pointed out my house.

"That's my house," I repeated. "Was it my imagination or were we going even faster? We passed the house."

"That was no mistaking it now; the car was gaining speed, careening crazily up the twisting mountain road. The last house was behind us now."

Without slowing, the car swerved up a humpy side road that led to an abandoned coal mine high on the mountain. I looked wildly at the trees...

And as it did I suddenly remembered something I had heard at the Friday night service several weeks before. A missionary to the Philippines had talked about evil spirits. He said that Christians had authority to rebuke these powers in Jesus' name.

"Shutting my eyes, I tried to remember the exact words the missionary had used. Then, very slowly and clearly, addressing the evil intent within the man, I said: 'Rebuke you in the Name of Jesus Christ.'"

"For the first time the man looked at me. 'What do you mean?' he said. 'What's your name?'" I said, trying to keep my voice steady...

"I'm not really so bad," the man went on as he headed the car down the mountain. "I've been to church. It just never made any sense to me."
