Eight past presidents of the Twin Falls Business and Professional Women's Club honored Monday night during a past president's meeting held at the club's early days of Twin Falls. Still in use, the branch line carries farm produce from this area to coastal markets.

Also recalled were such public programs as the performance of the famed Sousa band, a Japanese opera singer presenting Gilbert and Sullivan numbers and contributions to Girls' State, YWCA and scholarships.

Past presidents introduced by Helen Porterfield, current president, included Izzetta McCoy, Mrs. Ada Powell, Myrtle Anderson, Mrs. Crystal Van Ausdine, Mrs. Marjorie Q. Wisely, Mrs. Greeta Smith, Mrs. Lillie Herret and Mrs. Doris Noylan.

Miss Haffner Gets Award For Essay

Bonnie Haffner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Haffner, Twin Falls, received a $25 check from Bill Parenteau, of the Twin Falls handicap committee, for her award winning essay, "Employ the Handicapped."

The contest is sponsored each year by the committee in an endeavor to help the handicapped person in securing gainful employment.

Mr. Parenteau reported five persons were placed in permanent positions in January and three were placed on a temporary basis.

About 24 hours total time were spent in research and writing on the essay, according to Miss Haffner.

Legislative Topics Discussed During Area Chamber Meet

RUBERT—Legislative topics continued in the spotlight at the regular luncheon meeting of the Chamber of Commerce and during a telephone conference held in this year, he said, and it might be able to raise the additional funds.

The chamber went on record as unanimously favoring a bill sponsored by the Idaho Horse Racing Sponsors Association, asking that all sponsoring organizations of horse races be given the same percentage and that this be raised to 18 percent with three per cent being returned to the State Racing Commission. The commission will in turn provide stewards, veterinary and purges for Idaho-grown horses.

Primary purpose of the provision for increased purses and special races for Idaho-horses is to encourage the breeding and raising of racing stock within the state.

Sen Brooks requested opinions of chamber members next week on the lieutenant governor's suggestion for a north-south highway in the state for use of sea-way shipping through a connection with Lewiston and reduced freight rates possible through such a connection, and of a proposal in the legislature for studying the feasibility of a medical college at Boise.

Mrs. Brooks also referred to the senate last week for posting of fenced or irrigated lands during the hunting season, with free hunting permitted on desert lands. Her bill provides trespassing violations for hunters on posted lands without permission, calling for revocation of hunting licenses for one year. She said she attempted, through the bill, to protect the rights of both the hunter and landowner.

The senator also reported she has received quite a bit of mail favoring repeal of the Freeport bill, which she has referred to the committee studying the proposal.

Grant Catmull reported to the senator that chamber members have received a large number of phone calls in opposition to their stand against repealing sales tax on prescription drugs.

At the chamber meeting Delmar Hollinger reported on the South Idaho Chamber of Commerce stand favoring phasing out of the inventory tax over a four-year period, replacing this with sales tax money; favoring a five man highway board, and backing airport districts for the state.

Hollinger also reported on a fair board meeting he attended in Pocatello. A sign reading "Mindoko County Fair" has been erected at the fairgrounds, and the board is considering additional signs for this area. He said the board has plans to erect a new building at the grounds this year, and they are seeking merchants who might be interested in renting space in the building; hoping to raise enough

You're ahead... with better ideas from Ford

You're ahead...with the strongest Ford ever built

On the Olympic ski jump at Lake Placid, Ford displays a rugged test of strength and durability. A regular-production 1967 Ford plunges down a 40-meter slope... clears 53 feet through the air... lands hard... and rides away still quiet, still strong. Strong enough, in fact, to take the same jump again and again. What's the difference between this car and the Ford you buy? Only a skid plate was added for driver protection. And you don't need that... unless you're planning to take some skid jumps of your own.

You're ahead in a FORD all the way!

Ford demonstrates its performance and durability in impartial tests. Ford, Fairing, Mustang all won their class at Union/Pure Oil '67 Performance Trials. These trials test acceleration, braking and economy. Fairlane went on to best all comers in this year's five-year 500.

Quieter because it's stronger...stronger because it's better built

Jerome Man Speaks To Wendell Unit

WENDELL — Dr. Lauren Neher, Jerome, was featured speaker at the Washington Elementary school at the Masonic temple Friday evening, an event which is sponsored annually by Wendell Lodge No. 54, AF and AM.

More than 75 Masons, Eastern Star members and invited guests were served at a 7 p.m. pot luck dinner.

Robert Brown, worshipful master, and members of ceremonies gave the address of welcome and introduced Dr. Neher; Mr. and Mrs. Bert Walker, Glenns Ferry; Mrs. Harry Miller, and John Wert, guardian and associate guardian of Bethel No. 12, Order of Job's Daughters, and Mrs. Jess Dunn, worthy matron of Star of the West chapter No. 35 OES.

Dr. Neher, who spent two months of volunteer labor in South Vietnam last summer, traced maps of the vast terrain encompassed in the Vietnam struggle, to give his audience some background and ideas of the enormity of the war in that area. His talk was highlighted with pictures taken during his tour of duty.

At the conclusion of his talk he answered many questions asked by the audience.

Teachers Hold English Conferences

JEROME — More than 200 teachers attended all-day sessions of the District IV Regional Conference of the Idaho Council of Teachers of English at the Jerome Junior High School recently.

Dr. Lalla Boone, of the faculty of the University of Idaho, and president of the council, lectured at the morning session. Following a slide presentation of diagrammed sentences — structure material, Dr. Boone spoke briefly on the major goal of language arts teaching. She noted that speech patterns are almost inborn in humans, and pointed out that even infants form a correct speech pattern with the use of only one actual word.

She cited for example, the baby just learning to talk who says "mmh mmh water," and almost never "water, mmh-mmh," in expressing its desire for a drink.

Dr. Boone pointed out that the big jump in language development comes when the child must make the transition from action to written language.

She voiced her opinion that the function of the language-arts teacher is to help the child analyze the basic structure of the language.

Dr. F. O. Cooke of the College of Idaho Faculty, continued from this point at the afternoon session when he spoke of the new approach to the teaching of English. In the past, he said, the aim had been to make "ladies and gentlemen" of the students by achieving mastery of rules governing "correct" grammatical construction and usage. He cited the inconsistency of a teacher in one locale who might scorn such colloquialisms of other areas as "you-uns" or "you-all," and yet, issuing an invitation to friends, says "You guys come on over to dinner."

Dr. Cooke went on to say that in the modern approach to English teaching, students are taught to appreciate the validity of such colloquialisms in their respective contexts as a means of communicating thoughts and ideas in a creative, self-expressive fashion.

Deslie Baker, of the Boise College faculty, also addressed the meeting.

The conference, second of eight scheduled in various parts of the state, drew teachers from the School Districts of Kimberley, Twin Falls, Hansen, Wendell, Gooding, Hagerman, Richfield, Glenns Ferry, Minidoka, Cassia, Buhl, Filer, Castleford, Cassia, Murlough, Camas, Blaine, Valley, Shoshone, District and other areas, all of which comprise District IV.

BRUCE MILLER, house mover, tells a 70-ton home along Addison Avenue West, to its new location near Curry. House moving, a profitable business in many instances, involves more than meets the eye. Two rooms of the building had to

Moving Big House Involves Determination, 'Know-How'

Moving a 70-ton house involves a lot of "know-how," numerous permits and some determination, but it can be a profitable venture.

To make it profitable, you first have to find a home to be moved that is worth the effort, says house mover Bruce Miller.

Mr. Miller has just finished moving a 68 to 70-ton home from Blue Lakes Boulevard North, in Twin Falls to a new foundation east of Curry. He said the man who purchased the older home will, when the job is finished, have spent about one-half the cost of building a new one.

"Of course you have to like older building styles and be able to pick up a good one at a reasonable cost," Mr. Miller explained.

Most homes that have to be moved as property use changes, he added, can be purchased for a few hundred dollars.

A mover has to be able to get the building from its foundation onto wheels, through town and onto a new foundation without damage.

This is no small job, especially with a larger building.

To move the old George Home from Blue Lakes Boulevard, Mr. Miller said, he had to wait more than a month after it was on wheels because of weather. Such a heavy load cannot be carried over highways when the ground under the roadway is damp. Even after weather conditions improved special permits were required from the highway departments.

Help was also needed from Idaho Power Co., for moving under power lines, especially through traffic signal intersections. City police assisted in moving the building through traffic.

Relocating of such homes, Mr. Miller said, does both the home owner and the city a lot of good. In many areas where business be removed and numerous permits plus assistance from utility companies and police officers acquired before the large building could be moved. A lot of "know-how" is needed to move a large house. (Times-News photo)

Educators Asked To Conference

—WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP) — Educators from more than 50 countries — including delegates from behind the Iron Curtain — will be invited to a conference on education here in the fall.

The conference was suggested by President Johnson and will be financed by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and by private independent foundations.

Many people have made a good profit from moving an old home to a new location, remodeling it, and then selling it, Mr. Miller said. Others, he added have established nice homes at considerable saving.

To move the George home, it was necessary to remove two rooms, a fireplace and many of the outside extensions such as those covering entrances. Once one of the most attractive homes on Blue Lakes Boulevard, the building was built in the 1930's by Eddy George. Later it was sold to A. G. Benoit who sold it eight years later to Mrs. Marge Van Amburg. It was purchased from her by a national hamburger drive-in chain as the site for a new business, thus the building became available for sale to be moved.

Ivy Baker Priest Again Graces World Of Finance

By BILL STALL
SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Ivy Baker Priest is back in the money business, bringing her money, grace and charm to the world of high finance.

Remember the name? Mrs. Priest's precise signature, as Treasurer of the United States, went on every piece of the money printed during the eight-year Eisenhower administration.

Now Mrs. Priest is putting that experience to work as California's state treasurer.

Using gimmicks such as a hat fringed with Ivy Baker Priest dollar bills, the 61-year-old Republican ousted Democratic Treasurer Bert A. Betts last November to become the first woman ever to hold constitutional office in California.

Now that she's the state's first high office holder of her sex, Mrs. Priest is something of a women's representative in the Capitol. Mail pours in from California women — not just about the treasurer's job, but all phases of government.

Included among the letters, she says, is support for Republican Gov. Ronald Reagan's controversial economy budget.

Attractive interest rates on her first two sales of state bonds reflect "confidence in Gov. Reagan and his economy program," Mrs. Priest adds.

She finds the contacts she made during her Washington years helpful.

"In one way, it's almost like taking up where I left off in

Goldwater Tells Support For Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Barry Goldwater — a Richard M. Nixon supporter — said today he would support the nomination of George Romney for refusing to support Goldwater's 1964 bid for the presidency.

"I have not forgiven Gov. Romney for neglecting me in my campaign and I don't know whether I ever can," Goldwater said in a telephone interview. "I don't want to start any fights among Republicans but I'm a Nixon man and I'm going down the line for him."

Goldwater said he would support Romney if the governor wins the 1968 GOP nomination for the presidency. Would he urge his followers to get behind Romney?

"Let's wait and see," he responded. Goldwater's statement came after it was learned he had invited Romney to be principal speaker at an Arizona Republican fund-raising dinner in October and the governor had accepted.

Sergeant's Pudgy Padding Saves His Life

By TOM TIEDE
 CU CHI, Vietnam (NEA)—
 Short and stocky Larry Swack, a staff sergeant, can best be described as a weight watcher.
 "I only because he has an abundance of weight to watch.
 His waist is 40 inches.
 His chest is 44.
 And with a straight face he admits to 220 fleshy pounds.
 But he wouldn't trade an inch.
 He loves every ounce. And well he might. Not long ago here the sergeant's built-in pudgy padding may have helped to save his life.

It was late in the afternoon at the time and Swack, a 33-year-old 25th Infantry soldier from Detroit, had just returned to the division base camp from a trip to the front zones.

On arrival he removed his flak jacket (combat armor) and set off on a routine errand up the road from his battalion headquarters.

He walked.
 The road was perfectly secure. Five thousand GI tents bordered its flanks and in fact the sergeant was strolling in the middle of the largest division site in all of Vietnam. It was warm out and a bit humid. Vehicles rolled past in both directions. Swack's large frame jogged toward a hanging sign.

 Suddenly something struck him hard in the chest.
 "Oh," he grunted.

And he dropped to his knees.
 It hit the sergeant without warning. There was no preparatory noise and no one was near him. It felt sharp and stinging and the soldier's first thought was that somebody had hit him with a rock.

Then Swack looked down. His hands were covered with blood and his fingers were sticking together. His tee shirt and fatigue jacket were sploshed with an ever-enlarging red circle below his throat.

"Oh!" he said again.
 There in his chest, three inches below and to the left of his collarbone, was a bullet, a quarter of which protruded from his skin.
 Almost immediately several special, had struck him at a falling angle, which indicated it was nearly spent.

 On impact the cartridge had hit Swack's doptags and bored a neat hole in them before further penetrating the victim's flesh.
 The shell lodged at a 45-degree angle and was set two inches inward and downward.
 No bones were hit, no serious bodily functions impaired or damaged. Bleeding, however, was heavy.

At first there was no pain, but after the initial shock, the sergeant began to feel the shell's intense heat. It was a tracer round and was hot as a cooking rivet.

A medic who had been summoned tried to remove the shell with his fingers and was burned in the attempt. Then as the brass cooled, the air man gently withdrew the object from his hole.

Swack said nothing.
 The onlookers gaped.
 It was over in moments.
 The sergeant stood through the entire operation and, when relieved of the foreign matter, he declined any other aid than a shoulder to lean on and walked to the hospital under his own power.

 That evening, somebody theorized that it was fortunate the sergeant was not 30 pounds lighter. With less cushion, the guess was, the sniper round might have penetrated all the way to his lungs.

Swack nodded and swallowed.
 He felt the soft slab on his 44-inch chest.
 And he made a mental note to have a hell of a big breakfast.

Firebird Is New Pontiac Sports Car

The Firebird, new Pontiac sports car series built to sports car proportions with a new approach to "long hood - short deck" styling will be on display Thursday in Magic Valley dealer showrooms.

Available in two styles, a hardtop coupe and convertible, the Firebird will offer a choice of five engines, including the Pontiac overhead-camshaft six-cylinder engine as standard and up to the optional 400 cubic-inch V-8.

Standard equipment are bucket seats, three-speed manual transmission, with four-speed manual and two-speed automatic optional, all-vinyl interior trims and the safety items previously announced on the 1967 Pontiacs.

Built on a 108-inch wheelbase, the Firebird has an overall length of 188.8 inches, is 72.6 inches wide and 51.5 inches high.

The Pontiac Identity is maintained with a wide peripheral front bumper and strong vertical center accent framing two deep grille openings. Horizontal-mounted dual headlights are set in the outboard ends of the grille opening and chrome framed parking lamps are on the lower valance panel. Pontiac block-lettering appears on the left grille face.

A total of 17 engine-transmission combinations make it possible for each buyer to customize the Firebird to his own performance requirements. In addition to the standard 230-cubic-inch overhead cam engine rated at 165 horsepower, the Firebird is available with the Sprint GTC 6 engine rated at 215 horsepower with four-barrel carburetion.

The Firebird features the extensively tested structural elements of a separate frame and integrated body-frame combination. This offers the advantages of isolating the passenger compartment from the power plant and providing excellent handling and roadability characteristics.

A full selection of options and accessories are offered including power steering, power brakes and manual or power front disc with drum rear brakes, AM-FM radio, rear window defogger, air conditioning, stereo tape player and Pontiac's cruise control system.

NFL Alters Fair Catch Rule, Sets Playoff Sites

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
HONOLULU (AP) — The National Football League Tuesday changed its fair catch rule, adopted a new single standard slingshot type goalpost and set the dates and sites for its two division playoff games. The two division winners in the Western Conference will play home park of the Central Division winner, Green Bay, Chicago, Minnesota or Detroit.

Barry Keeps Point Lead In Pro Loop

NEW YORK (AP) — Rick Barry of the San Francisco Warriors steamed into the streets in his bid to score 3,000 points in one season, but National Basketball Association statistics released today show it will take a lot more huffing and puffing.

The sophomore forward averaged 43.7 points a game in the first 10 games, but his point total to 2,278 points, an average of 33.7 a game. But with only 16 games left, Barry will have to raise his average to 45.1 per game if he expects to join Bill Chamberlain as the only other player to score 3,000 points in a season.

Meanwhile, Chamberlain, of Philadelphia, boosted his accuracy and rebounding leads by grabbing 10 rebounds and hitting 50 of 65 field goal attempts in four contests last week. He now is hitting a fantastic 69 percent of his shots from the field and has 1,605 rebounds for a 24.3 average per game.

Barry and Chamberlain are leaders in those departments. Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati has 1,825 points for a 30.4 average, Walt Bellamy of New York has 1,811 points for a 31.3 per cent from the field, and Bill Russell of Boston has 1,718 rebounds, an average of 21.9 a game.

Adrian Smith of Cincinnati is still leading in free throw percentage with 69.2 per cent and Guy Rodgers is tops in assists with 765, an 11.4 average. But Barry is second in free throw percentage at 88.5 and Robertson is the runner-up in assists with 661 for a 10.7 average.

Reds Having Difficulty Signing Men

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — "Oh, Lonesome Me" could be the theme song of Cincinnati Reds baseball players looking for spring training at Tampa, Fla., this year.

With just a few days remaining before pitchers and catchers report Friday and the rest of the squad checks in next Tuesday, only 19 of the maximum 40-man roster have signed 1967 contracts.

Among the still unsigned are Adrian Sison, Deron Johnson, Art Shamsky, Pete Rose and Tommy Helms.

Bob Howsam, new general manager, insists, however, he does not anticipate any serious problems in getting the players to agree to terms.

Rose said he is unwilling to sign unless he is paid more to play the outfield.

Rose was the National League's all-star second baseman in 1966. But the plan this year is to try to make an outfielder out of him. That would allow Johnson, no longer a starter as an outfielder last year, to be moved back to third base with rookie-of-the-year Helms being moved to second.

Inter-Loop Exhibitions Set By Pro Grid Teams

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
HONOLULU (AP) — The pro football merger moves another step closer to its ultimate realization in 1970, teams of the National Football League and American Football League will begin inter-loop exhibition games this year.

An Associated Press survey of the numerous pro football executives that there will be 14 or 15 games this coming summer. All of the nine AFL teams will play NFL rivals, however, the NFL teams will not schedule AFL opponents because their pre-season campaigns had been drawn up with contract commitments that could not be altered this year.

The Detroit Lions probably will play two AFL teams and possibly a third against the Denver Broncos. It appears at this time that the Lions, under new head coach Joe Schmidt, will play Buffalo and also will meet San Diego. The sites and dates of the games still are not firm in most cases.

The Philadelphia Eagles, who finished strong last year, will meet all the way to the Green Bay in Miami, are expected to meet both the New York Jets and the Buffalo Bills.

SCORING for the College of Southern Idaho Golden Eagles is Howard Humes (41) after successfully driving the baseline and hooking back against the College of Idaho Jayvees. CSI won the game 88-49 to run its record to 23-3. (Times-News photo)

Cullings Late Scoring Surge Wins Magic Valley Point Title

Scoring 118 points in his last four outings, Buhl's Chuck Cullings came from behind to nip season-long leader Kay Schrenk, Declo, and claim the Magic Valley basketball scoring championship. Times-News sports department statistics show that Cullings pumped through 468 points in his 20 games, while Schrenk, a junior, hit 459. Cullings also shattered the district free throw record by converting 140 this year. The former mark, set last year at 119 by Twin Falls' Ned Williams, had erased another that had stood for eight seasons.

Three men scored 400 points or more during the 1966-67 season while four had 20-point plus averages. Joining Cullings and Schrenk above 400 points was Dietrich's Ron Knowles, who hit 408 in 18 games for a 22.7 average. Larry Adamson, Gooding, missing two games for disciplinary reasons, wound up with 388 points and a 21.6 average.

"Cullings' trailing Schrenk by 40 points with one more game to play, got the title by pumping through 43 points, 21 and 33 and 21 in his last outings. Schrenk scored 69 in his effort to stave the 6-4 senior off.

Minico's Claude Rasmussen seconded Cullings in free throws with 114, missing one game due to injury. Larry Eiler, Kimberly, hit 98 and Adamson pumped through 90.

Hatchet man honors went to Kimberly's Spike Fitzhugh who was called for 50 fouls. Just two more than Buhl's Jan VonLindern. D. Johnson, Hansen, was whittled down 75 times while Karl Darrington, Declo, and Wayne Siblecker, Castelford, each had 71. Gary Eiler, Kimberly, had 70.

It marked the third straight season that Knowles has topped the 400-point mark. His best effort came as a junior when he

The nightcap will pit Glenns Ferry against Castletown while Wendell draws the bye.

CSI Wins 23rd Game, Rips C of I Jayvees

Putting all 12 men in the scoring column, the College of Southern Idaho Golden Eagles breezed to their 23rd victory of the season Tuesday night by trouncing the College of Idaho Jayvees 86-49. The Eagles will travel Albion to play Magic Valley Christian College Friday night and move on to Treasure Valley College of Ontario Tuesday. They will wrap it up the following weekend with two games with the Montana State frosh at Bozeman.

College of Idaho stayed close in the first half but never led after scoring the first bucket of the night. CSI regained the lead on Don Duvel's three points but couldn't get more than seven points ahead until Mark Rick, Pies Vann and Fred Trenkle got half-ending points for a 37-25 lead.

As the second half opened Vann, Howard Humes and Fred Stevens opened with CSI points and the Eagles stretched into a 21-point lead on Rick's three-point play eight minutes into the half. CSI went 30 ahead at 64-34 on Louis Anderson's bucket and was gunning for 40 at the buzzer.

The final game was a tight one through the first half. It was tied 11-11 in the first quarter and the Times-News pushed in front 26-25 at intermission.

But in the third period Don's moved away quickly and held sway 42-32 at the next rest period. The new champions enjoyed an 18-point lead before the Times-News rallied in the final two minutes to cut the final margin to 10.

Pat O'Donnell paced the victory with 19 points while Bob Fulton led Times-News with 10.

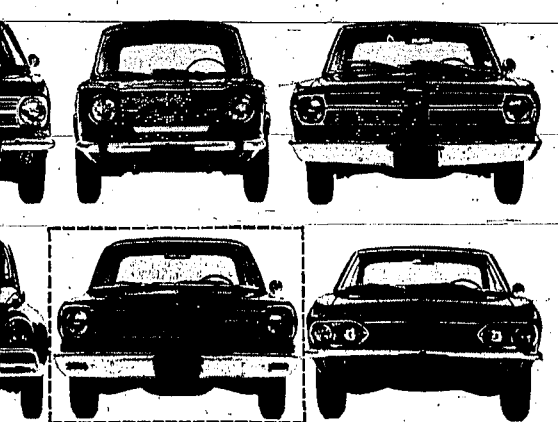

Both teams will participate in the Intermountain AAU tournament in Rupert March 6 through 11.

DETROIT DROPS
Hawks 112-109
ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Detroit Pistons defeated a tired St. Louis Hawks' squad 112-109 Tuesday night in a National Basketball Association game.

It was the third game in as many days for the Hawks, who showed their fatigue in the last period when the Pistons grabbed the lead and held it.

Detroit's Eddie Miles scored 37 points to post his career high. The Hawks held early leads in the game and were in the contest until the game was tied at 97-97 in the final period.

Miles sank a long jumper and Wayne Hightower added another basket to give the Pistons a 105-97 spread. John Tresvant sank easy lay-ups to add four points in that flurry.

Now, from American Motors, the car that wasn't there.

This may well be the most important news to come out of Detroit this year.

A major gap has developed in today's automobile market—a gap that no American-built car is filling. Because this gap exists, over 1,000,000 car buyers a year have not been able to get the car they wanted—a car for the American motorist at a list price competitive to foreign imports.

Today, American Motors' new management and nearly 2,500 American Motors/Rambler Dealers are filling that gap.

As of today, we are limiting future changes in our Rambler American line to essential changes that will further enhance the safety and reliability of these cars.

This week on television, we promised you exciting news from American Motors. This is only the beginning.

Minico Is Rated Slight Favorite In A-1 Tourney

The Minico Spartans, coming off their best season in several years, are given a good chance of capturing the thrice-victorious Twin Falls district A-1 basketball tournament opening at Burley Friday night. The Spartans, who tied for second in the Eastern Idaho Conference, have the first round bye and play what amounts to the championship semifinals on their home court Saturday night. All three teams will come to Twin Falls the following Thursday where they will join with the survivors of the A-2 tournament for the final weekend of action.

ON WAY TO A KNOCKOUT, Joe Frazier, Philadelphia, lands a hard right to the head of Doug Jones, New York, in the sixth round of their heavyweight bout Tuesday night.

Joe Frazier Decks Jones In Sixth

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Unbeaten Joe Frazier knocked out Doug Jones with a tremendous left to the jaw in the sixth round that left the veteran New Yorker prone on the canvas for more than a minute Tuesday night.

The knockout punch by the 23-year-old Frazier came at 2:36 of the sixth after Jones had taken an unmerciful beating.

LeMance Is Top Foul Shooter In SIC, Second In Field Goals

Twin Falls' Dennis LeMance won the Southern Idaho Conference title in field shooting Tuesday and placed second in Field Goal Accuracy according to final statistics released today by conference coaches.

LeMance, who led the Spartans in total rebounding for the season and eighth in the conference, hit 33 of 43 free throw attempts in the 14 games.

Ranked fifth among the heavyweights by the World Boxing Association and 10th by Ring Magazine, Frazier landed more punches during the fight than appeared in defenses against the hard punching Frazier who bulled forward relentlessly on his thick-skulled legs and hands.

Jones, who only two years ago lost a disputed decision to Cassius Clay and holds a knockout victory over Clay's next title opponent, Zora Foley, never had a chance.

He landed no more than a half a dozen punches during the fight and appeared in defenses against the hard punching Frazier who bulled forward relentlessly on his thick-skulled legs and hands.

AAU Reverses Stand, Lifts Ban For 11 Aliens

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The Amateur Athletic Union, in a swift turn-about, lifted the suspension of 11 foreign collegiate athletes Tuesday and announced that steps were being taken to make all foreign students eligible for authorized track and field competition in the United States.

This would include both AAU-sanctioned meets and closed events sponsored by the rival U.S. Track and Field Federation, Col. Don Hull, executive director of the AAU, said.

The action was taken after attorney Theodore Kheel, chairman of the four-man Sports Arbitration Panel set up by a Senate resolution to arbitrate AAU-USTIFF disputes, turned down a request by the USTIFF for a hearing on the latest controversy.

The newest furor developed when the AAU suspended the 11 foreign athletes for competing in a USTIFF meet here Feb. 10, which lacked AAU sanction.

The AAU insisted that no foreign athlete should compete in a meet — whether he is a collegian or not — without the consent of the ruling athletic body of that country.

The USTIFF, an organization made up largely of colleges and high schools, argued that no sanction was needed for a purely school — or closed — meet.

On Feb. 17, the arbitration panel, seeking a temporary settlement, ordered the USTIFF to grant that sanction while lifting the suspension of the affected athletes.

Nothing was done. Kheel called a press conference Tuesday at his mid-town office to announce that he felt the Feb. 17 order had been misunderstood by Father Wilfred Crowley, president and one of the organizers of the USTIFF.

Feeling the order was prejudicial to the overall case being studied by the panel, Father Crowley, a priest in Los Altos, Calif., asked for a hearing.

Kheel rejected the request and repeated his order that the USTIFF apply by telegram immediately for sanction of its Feb. 10 meet. At the same time, he asked the AAU to grant the sanction and lift the suspensions.

Kheel's press conference crossed the surprise AAU action, which Hull said was dictated by David A. Mattlin of Los Angeles, the new president of the AAU.

"Mr. Mattlin did not want to see athletes penalized while the track and field dispute was being settled," Hull said. "We are taking steps to clear the affected athletes with their home countries."

"In the meantime, we are making them eligible for all authorized events."

The war between the AAU and the National Collegiate Athletic Association, which spawned the USTIFF, has been going for six years. There have been periods of dictated peace — such as that prior to the 1964 Olympics in Tokyo.

Kheel announced Tuesday that his panel would meet with the two warring parties a final time in New York April 6-7 to review the case.

NFL Alters Fair Catch Rule, Sets Playoff Sites

By JACK HAND Associated Press Sports Writer

HONOLULU (AP) — The National Football League Tuesday changed its fair catch rule, adopted a new single standard slingshot type goalpost and set the dates and sites for its two division playoff games. The two division winners in the Western Conference will play Saturday, Dec. 23, in the home park of the Central Division winner Green Bay, Chicago, Minnesota or Detroit.

Barry Keeps Point Lead In Pro Loop

NEW YORK (AP) — Rick Barry of the San Francisco Warriors steamed into the playoffs Sunday, Dec. 22, in the same park of the National Football Association statistics released today show it will take a lot more huffing and puffing. The sophomore forward averaged 43.7 points a game in three contests last week to bring his point total to 2,778 points, an average of 37.7 a game. But with only 16 games left, Barry will have to raise that to 45.1 per game if he expects to join Wilt Chamberlain as the only other player to score 3,000 points in a season.

Meanwhile, Chamberlain of Philadelphia, boosted his accuracy and rebounding lead Sunday by grabbing 10 rebounds and putting 50 of 63 field goal attempts in four contests last week. He now is hitting a fantastic 69 per cent of his shots from the field and has 1,805 rebounds for a 24.3 average per game.

Barry and Chamberlain are far ahead of their closest challengers in those departments. Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati has 1,885 points for a 30.4 average, Walt Bellamy of New York has hit 51.3 per cent from the field and Bill Russell of Boston has 1,378 rebounds, an average of 21.9 a game.

Adrian Smith of Cincinnati is still leading in free throw percentage with 89.2 per cent and Guy Rodgers is tops in assists with 78, an 11.4 average a game. Barry is second in free throw percentage at 85.5 and Robertson is the runner-up in assists with 661 for a 10.7 average.

Among the still unsigned are stars Vida Pinson, Dore Johnson, Art Shamsky, Peto Rose and Tommy Helms. Bob Howsam, new general manager, insists, however, he does not anticipate any "major problems" in getting the players to agree to terms.

Inter-Loop Exhibitions Set By Pro Grid Teams

By JACK HAND Associated Press Sports Writer HONOLULU (AP) — As the pro football merger moves another step closer to its ultimate realization in 1970, teams of the National Football League and American Football League will begin inter-league exhibition games this year.

An Associated Press survey of the various pro teams indicates that there will be 14 or 15 games this coming summer. All of the NFL teams will play the AFL teams in 1970, regular season and the Buffalo Bills. Tentative scheduling calls for the Los Angeles Rams to take on San Diego, their old western-division rivals, and the Kansas City Chiefs, who won the AFL title last year, to play the Denver Broncos. It appears at this time that the Lions, under new head coach Joe Schmidt, will play Buffalo and also will meet San Diego. The dates and dates of the games still are not firm in most cases.

CSI Wins 23rd Game, Rips C of I Jayvees

Putting all 12 men in the scoring column, the College of Southern Idaho Golden Eagles breezed to their 23rd victory of the season Tuesday night by trouncing the College of Idaho Jayvees 86-49. ## Now, from American Motors, the car that wasn't there.

This may well be the most important news to come out of Detroit this year. A major gap has developed in today's automobile market—a gap that no American-built car is filling. Because this gap exists, over 1,000,000 car buyers a year have not been able to get the car they wanted: a car for the American motorist at a list price competitive to foreign imports.

Today, American Motors' new management and nearly 2,500 American Motors/Rambler Dealers are filling that gap. As of today, we are limiting future changes in our Rambler American line to essential changes that will further enhance the safety and reliability of these cars. This is only the beginning.

Minico Is Rated Slight Favorite In A-1 Tourney

The Minico Spartans, coming off their best season in several years, are given a good chance of unseating three-victorious Twin Falls in the district A-1 basketball tournament opening at Burley Friday night. The Spartans, who tied for second in the Eastern Idaho Conference, have the first round bye and play what amounts to the championship semifinals on their home court Saturday night. All three teams will come to Twin Falls the following Thursday where they will join with the survivors of the A-2 tournament for the final weekend of action.

Joe Frazier Decks Jones In Sixth

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Unbent Joe Frazier knocked out Doug Jones with a tremendous left to the jaw in the sixth round of the fight Tuesday night.

Frazier used the 40-year-old Jones for a punching bag from the opening bell to the key punch, delivered in a neutral corner.

Jones, who only two years ago lost a disputed decision to Cassius Clay and holds a knockout victory over Clay's next title opponent, Zora Folley, never landed more than a half a dozen punches during the fight and appeared defenseless against the hard punching Frazier who pulled forward relentlessly on his thick-set legs and knocked him out with a left jab to his face against the ropes with another barrage of hard punches. The New Yorker was saved by the bell.

Undejected Soda Springs, with 20 straight cage wins, retained its 1966-67 Associated Press mythical Idaho champions by virtue of a three-point spread over runner-up Meridian in the final round of regional play in Boise this week against the Cardinals.

The Cardinals replace the 1966-67 champions, Borah, which finished in a tie for 10th position in the final round of regional play.

Meridian garnered six of its first place votes, but the Soda Springs club picked up eight and that was the difference between Meridian and Capital grabbed the two remaining top place votes from the 10 voters.

Dan Barclay, Highland, hit .538 from the field for all games and Borah's Dennis Labrum, a junior, was .450 in SIC-only action. John Grant, Capital junior, was the top rebounder with 230 rebounds.

AAU Reverses Stand, Lifts Ban For 11 Aliens

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Staff Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The Amateur Athletic Union, in a swift turn-around, lifted the suspension of 11 foreign collegiate athletes Tuesday and announced that steps were being taken to make all foreign students eligible for authorized track and field competition in the United States.

This would include both AAU-sanctioned meets and closed events sponsored by the rival U.S. Track and Field Federation. Col. Don Hull, executive director of the AAU, said.

The action was taken before attorney Theodore Kheel, chairman of the four-man Sports Arbitration Panel set up by a Senate resolution to arbitrate the AAU-USTFF dispute, turned down a request by the USTFF for a hearing on the latest controversy.

The newest furor developed when the AAU suspended the 11 foreign athletes for competing in a USTFF meet here Feb. 10 which lacked AAU sanction.

The AAU insisted that no foreign athlete can compete in a meet unless he is registered in a USTFF or another of the consent of the ruling athletic body in that country. This, the AAU said, is a rule of the International Track and Field Federation.

The USTFF, an organization made up largely of colleges and high schools, argued that no sanction was needed for a purely school — or closed — meet.

On Feb. 17, the arbitration panel, seeking a temporary settlement, ordered the USTFF to seek sanction for the meet retroactively and for Willard Crowley, president and one of the organizers of the USTFF, to suspend the order was prejudicial to the overall case being studied by the panel. Father Crowley, a priest in Los Altos, Calif., asked for a hearing.

Kheel rejected the request and repeated his order that USTFF apply by telegram immediately for sanction of its Feb. 10 meet. At the same time, he asked the AAU to grant the sanction and lift the suspensions.

Kheel's press conference crossed the surprise AAU action, which Hull said was dictated by David A. Matlin of Los Angeles, the new president of the AAU.

"Mr. Matlin did not want to see athletes penalized while the track and field dispute was being settled," Hull said. "We are taking steps to clear the affected athletes with their home countries."

In the meantime, we are making them eligible for all authorized events.

The war between the AAU and the National Collegiate Athletic Association, which spanned the USTFF, has been going for six years. There have been periods of de facto cooperation, such as that prior to the 1964 Olympics in Tokyo.

Kheel announced Tuesday that his panel would meet with the two warring parties a full week in New York April 6-7 to review the case.

Nothing was done. Kheel called a press conference Tuesday at his mid-town office to announce that he felt the Feb. 17 order had been misunderstood by Father Willard Crowley, president and one of the organizers of the USTFF. Feeling the order was prejudicial

A GREAT COUP PICKS UP JACK

Oswald: "Here is a hand from many years back. South is seven spades and his whole problem is the lack of trumps. Due to the fact that South misses the nine spot, he starts and that no other old-time expert has claimed to be first!"

Jack: Did Harry really have the distinction to be the first to make that play?

Oswald: "I can't state categorically that no one else did make it before Harry did. I can assure you that I was the first to make the play and that no other old-time expert has claimed to be first!"

Jim: "Then you do give Harry full credit?"

Oswald: "I certainly do. It is interesting to realize that the play of cards has improved so much in the 40 years of contract that many plays that are commonplace today were almost unknown in the early days of the game."

Jim: "Do you know if any other player has sole credit for thinking of a play?"

Oswald: "There is the Deschappelles coup. It is named after the great French whist player Deschappelles but I, for one, doubt if he invented it. There is the Bath coup but that is named for the town of Bath, England."

Keep The Rules Few, Suit The Fashion To You

This is a mad column! Yesterday we received a copy of a school dress and grooming code so dated that it ran to 20 printed pages, and throughout the booklet were interspersed quotes attributed to Date-Line.

Any student reading the code would naturally assume we endorsed the spell-out of "thou shalt" and "thou shalt not." The truth, however, is different.

The words were ours, but they'd been lifted from a number of separate columns, and flunked out-of-context material with which they had no original relationship. A situation not unknown in theatrical advertising where a critic's blurb "An unforgettable night of boredom, bad taste and bad manners" may blaze forth in ads as "An unforgettable night."

In all these considerations the key word is "appropriate." What's right, good and proper in the classroom would look ridiculous at the beach. And what's fine for studying on the floor at home looks out of place at the prom.

WHOSE JOB?

Whose job is it to determine "what to wear where?" We'd tab the person himself. Instead of setting up a priggish board of student review, or asking the school to issue tape measures and scissors to all teachers, we think the individual students should be encouraged to think out their own dress and grooming standards.

But what of the girl who insists on painting up like a circus clown and the boy who sprouts a "haystack of hair"? Won't they disturb the learning process, distract other students, and generally lead to riot at the campus? If so, we'd say the school is in sick shape already and that the fitness should come out in the open.

A school is designed to teach young people to think for themselves. It's job is to break who the stereotypes of "well-dressed" and "well-dressed" students shouldn't have to move downward from the individual.

The Magnificent Five are Here!

The Five you must see and drive!

The all New PONTIAC FIREBIRDS.

Firebird 400

After this, there isn't any more. Features like a 400 cubic inch engine, special suspension, red line wide oval tires make it the ultimate grand touring car.

Firebird HO

The HO stands for high output. The high output comes from a 285 hp V-8 with dual exhaust and four barrel carburetor. The sport stripes is standard, too.

Firebird 326

Now there's room in a sports car for a family. A combination of exciting sports features and practical items like a regular gas V8.

Firebird Sprint

The kind of sophisticated road machine that you used to have to go to Europe to get. Special suspension, all synchro three-speed and a 215 hp. OHV six.

Firebird

This is the economy Firebird. But with the same exciting features and options as the more exotic ones. Who but Pontiac could make an economical fun car!

See the Firebirds tomorrow at . . .
