SAIGON (AP) — U. S. warships have begun shelling North-Vietnamese rail yards, ammunition storage areas and other links in the supply trail leading toward South Vietnam, the U. S. Command announced Sunday.

The announcement followed orders earlier this week permitting long-range U. S. artillery to fire across the demilitarized zone into North Vietnam.

Both actions are aimed, a U. S. spokesman said, at supplementing air strikes against North Vietnam. The airstrikes have been limited in recent weeks by bad weather.

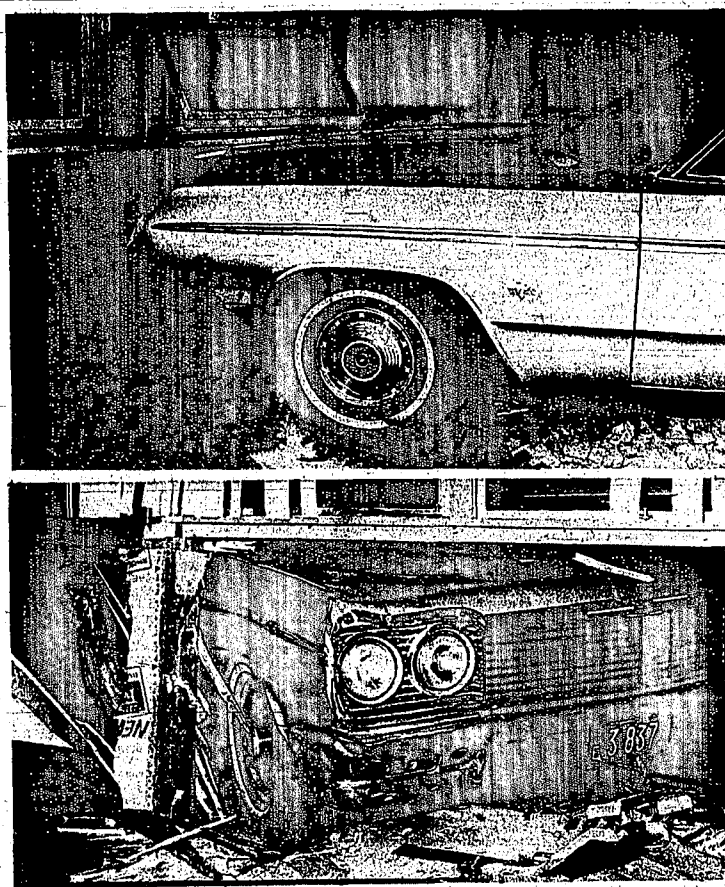

The announcement said the naval gunfire was directed at "critical targets supporting infiltration of men and equipment into the South."

The first announced attack involved the USS Canberra, a cruiser, and two fleet tank destroyers which pounded rail facilities 18 miles south of Thanh Hoa. The spokesman said poor visibility precluded any assessment of damage to the tracks during the firing which began at 6 a.m. today.

He said in another action today, two destroyers attacked an ammunition storage area seven miles north of Vinh.

The spokesman said he could not say whether the attacks were the first against such targets by warships.

In the past, 7th Fleet ships have fired on North Vietnam soil only when fired upon by shore batteries or reconnaissance radar installations tracking them as a possible prelude to firing on U.S. ships.

Senate Readies Biggest School Appropriation Bill

BOISE (AP) — Final drafting was in process Saturday on the biggest general fund appropriation bill to come before the 1967 Idaho Legislature, a measure expected to provide about 65 million for the public schools. Sen. Don Loveland, R-Burley, chairman of the Joint Finance-Appropriations Committee, said he expects the bill to be ready for introducing Monday. It could reach final consideration by Wednesday.

The Senate passed that House-approved bill Friday but notice of possible reconsideration kept it from going to the governor until Monday to permit completion of the school appropriation bill.

Preparation of revenue proposals also was reported near the drafting stage. This would include measures intended to solve the problem resulting from the State Supreme Court's ruling on utility taxation.

The court said property owned by utilities could not be assessed for tax purposes at a higher rate to true value than other property.

Rep. Joe Preston, R-Declo, chairman of the House Revenue and Taxation Committee, said committee members would study new information over the weekend.

Preston said that in general the utilities favor a gradual phase-out of Supplemental Rate while an interim study is being made.

An alternate proposal is that a franchise tax on utilities gross See SCHOOL FUND, p. 2, col. 4

Revisions In Campaign Funds Pushed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., said today he is proposing a package of bills to speed up the revision of campaign financing law he pushed through Congress.

Long told a reporter he expects to introduce his proposed changes shortly, probably before President Johnson submits his recommendations on the same subject.

The Louisiana Senator said his amendments will not alter the present procedure for the payment of the bulk of future White House campaign expenses out of government revenues.

His plan cleared Congress in the closing hours of the 1966 session, it set up a permanent program of government financing of presidential campaigns out of voluntary taxpayer contributions.

It takes effect next year and could make available to the Democratic and Republican $30 million each for their 1968 campaigns.

T. F. Woman To Visit Son Hurt In War

Mrs. Ada Nielson, 195 Quincy St., Twin Falls, is leaving Wednesday to visit her son who was seriously injured in Vietnam. Mrs. Nielson said her 20-year-old son, Capt. Floyd Cooper, was on the critical list at an Oakland, Calif., hospital when she was first notified of his injury about a month ago.

He is improving now, she said, and is listed in good condition. He was injured while fighting with a Marine unit in Vietnam. Mrs. Nielson said she did not know the circumstances of the incident.

Capt. Cooper was shot in both legs and will be in a cast from the waist down to his feet for about five months. He went to school in Twin Falls before joining the Marines about a year ago.

His father is Ray Cooper, Heburn.

Arctic Blast Sends Shiver In 16 States

By The Associated Press

The biting blast of arctic air sent temperatures tumbling in 16 states from the Canadian border to the Gulf of Mexico Saturday. Dixie shivered in the icy pinch. New lows for Feb. 25 were set in communities in North Carolina, Georgia, West Virginia, South Carolina, Alabama, Mississippi and Tennessee. Louisville, Ky., recorded an even zero to equal a record set 67 years ago. Winds up to 30 mph in North Carolina and moved inland as far as Raleigh. Near War Shoals, S. C., four-year-old Bobby Hastings died Saturday after wandering away from his home and spending the night in subfreezing temperatures without a coat or jacket. Temperatures in the wooded area where the boy was found dipped to 8 above zero during the night.

27 Cadets Resign Over Honor Code

AIR FORCE ACADEMY, Colo. (AP) — The number of resignations at the Air Force Academy for honor code violations rose to 27 Saturday. Officials said the Cadet Honor Committee was continuing to question suspected participants in classroom cheating and more resignations may result.

All of those who have resigned were members of the second class — juniors. The academy is not releasing their names.

Academy officials announced Friday that the investigation started by a student cheating at service school and that 24 cadets had resigned. These were accused of violating the honor code which reads "We will not lie, steal or cheat, nor tolerate among us those who do."

4 Citations Issued Man After Crash

Four citations were issued to an Air Force man Friday night after his borrowed car crashed through the Twin Falls Fire Department Substation on Falls Avenue.

Paul Mercier, 15, Mountain Home Air Force Base, received citations for reckless driving, having no driver's license, illegal consumption and encouraging violation of the youth rehabilitation act.

City Police officers said the wreck occurred about 11:15 p.m. Friday when Mr. Mercier was attempting to round the curve onto Falls Avenue from the Frontier Field road. They said he lost control, made a sweeping turn to the east, went over the curb and the front of the 1964 Chevrolet convertible went into the substation.

Owner of the car, Jim Rosen, also of the Mountain Home Air Force Base, was cited for allowing an unauthorized person to drive his car. Passenger in the vehicle was Chad Schwartz, 15, Twin Falls.

Manhunt Ends When Strangler Captured

LYNN, Mass. (AP) — One of the largest manhunts in northeastern United States history ended Saturday when Albert DeSalvo, 35, the self-proclaimed "Boston Strangler," surrendered meekly to two employees of a furniture store in the West Lynn section. His subsequent capture a few minutes later by police came 27 hours after he and two other inmates escaped from Bridgewater State Hospital. His attorney, F. Lee Bailey, said in New York on Saturday night that DeSalvo had left a note by his hospital bed saying he was escaping to "force public officials to admit" he is the Boston Strangler.

DeSalvo, 35, had been in the West Lynn section of the Bridgewater State Hospital since his escape in 1954. He had been in New York on Saturday night that DeSalvo had left a note by his hospital bed saying he was escaping to "force public officials to admit" he is the Boston Strangler.

DeSalvo also disclosed that DeSalvo tried to establish that he stayed in the institution willingly for 2 1/2 years because he was sincere and wanted to get help for his illness.

DeSalvo also disclosed that he was wearing a Navy uniform and a rumpled pipe jacket — but with brown shoes.

Red Guards Ordered To Cool Down

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China Red Guards got another order Saturday to cool off their efforts in rooting out opponents of Chairman Mao Tse-tung.

At the same time, Japanese dispatched reported that military governors had ordered eight national organizations disbanded as counter-revolutionary.

These developments came amid indications that Mao's purge of followers of President Liu Shao-chi had set back the curbing of a Red Guard movement in Kweichow province said peasants had raided seed warehouses, sold the stock and split the profits. The broadcast said army units were called in to guard the warehouses and to protect Maoists from attacks.

The orders for the Red Guards — militant pro-Mao demonstrators — were carried in the official Peking People's Daily and the New China News Agency (NCNA). Several other times over the past few months the Mao leadership had urged the Red Guards to be less zealous in helping Mao's purge.

Farley Raps Two Fellow Democrats

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Former Postmaster General James A. Farley attacked two fellow Democrats Saturday night for their criticism of the administration's Vietnam policy, accusing Sens. J. William Fulbright and Robert F. Kennedy of undermining American foreign policy and giving aid and comfort to the enemy.

The former chairman of the Democratic National Committee criticized the two Senators and praised President Johnson in a speech on the state of the Democratic party prepared for a Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner.

Fulbright told delegates he was "incredibly wrong" of Kennedy, of New York, to say, after his trip to France earlier this year, that the French government was needed to achieve peace in Asia.

Principles Of Students Not Impaired

WASHINGTON (AP) — Twelve former presidents of the National Student Association accused Saturday that the subsidy organization received secretly from the Central Intelligence Agency did not impair its independence in matters of principle.

The 12 said in a joint statement that each of them was fully informed, after being elected to office, that they were supplying funds for NSA's overseas programs.

The statement appeared over the names of the men who headed NSA in 1952 and the years 1954-64. After outlining the purposes and scope of the association's overseas activities, the 12 young men said that they did not have chosen immobilization if the only funds available were conditioned on impairment of the independence of any of NSA's principles or programs.

Heyburn Boy Injured As Horse Falls

HEYBURN — A 13-year-old Heyburn boy was listed in good condition at Cassia Memorial Hospital, Burley, where he was taken by ambulance after the horse he was riding fell on a country road.

Brent Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Q. Hall, was attempting to turn the running horse around a corner at 300 South and 400 West early Thursday evening when the horse slid on the pavement and rolled over, breaking the boy's right leg.

The force of the fall caused the boy to slide several inches with his mouth riding the pavement knocking out four of five teeth and filling the lower set. He was given first aid by neighbors, who heard him yell.

The horse, which ran away after the accident, was found later that evening in a neighbor's yard. The horse received a laceration and bruises on its chest.

Fund-Raising Campaign For Camp Is Told

The Snake River Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, is conducting a camp development fund campaign to raise $308,000 for camp expansion and new land acquisition.

Population studies indicate that almost 10,000 boys will be active in scouting in the area by 1980. Existing camp facilities cannot adequately house the 6,000 who are currently active in the scouting program.

Top priority is being given to the establishment of a "counselor" camp. Present thinking is to acquire land close to the population center of Burley and Twin Falls.

Cub Scouts, who are generally deprived of camping because of the distance between Twin Falls and Camp Bradley, will be allowed to go on weekend outings when the new camp is established.

Camp Bradley, which is located north of Ketchum, will be used for advanced training purposes only.

First reports from the eight county area council have brought the camp development fund to 10 per cent of its goal. The drive will continue through March 31.

WASHINGTON — Anyone want to join me in being at least slightly alarmed by testimony before a Senate antitrust subcommittee that one of four anticancer laboratory tests on human beings are erroneous...

BACK TO HOME REMEDIES! Still, the situation remains the same. The doctor who requires a license for the guy who cuts a man's hair or drives a car. Consequently, Hart and Sens. Jack Javits of New York and George Murphy of New Jersey have introduced legislation to establish minimum standards for the business.

100 NEEDLESS DEATHS — Among the tables of statistics that the state has are those which report that a California study of 328 deaths of newborn showed that in 34.6 per cent there were "avoidable laboratory factors." Nor am I comforted by the case of the wife of an Army sergeant who suffered permanent kidney injury because her blood type was incorrectly identified.

HONEST, BUT LACKING — A thin silver lining may be found in Dr. Sencer's report that dishonesty in laboratories is only a minor, and remediable, factor. The major problems, he says, are the lack of training, inadequate personnel, low salaries, poor techniques and quality controls — and, of course, lack of regulation.

Interpreting The News

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Talk without evidence is all so far from the efforts of New Orleans District Attorney Jim Garrison to prove a plot in the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

It was Wednesday, after David Ferrie, a plane pilot of about 45, had been found in his bed in New Orleans, Garrison said he had planned to arrest Ferrie next week.

But now his brother, Earl Kilham, asking that the body be exhumed for further examination, says the dead man feared he was "being pursued by agents" connected with the Kennedy assassination.

OTTAWA, Canada. — The biggest birthday party ever is being read from one side of this broad land to the other to mark 40 years of Canada's confederation.

One of the problems now is to keep them from falling over each other. It was hoped to persuade President Johnson to send the World's Fair in Montreal, and then visit this capital for talks.

In Canada's long search for nationhood — for identity — the birthday party is a way of saying "Look, we're 40 years old, we're grown-up now. And anyone who talks about our becoming the 51st state of the United States had better duck quick."

The boom Canada currently is enjoying is fed by large infusions of American capital. Of the mushrooming expansion in oil, natural gas and minerals during the 1950's, 60 per cent came from south of the border.

When the First National City Bank of New York bought from Dutch interests ownership of the Mercantile Bank in Ottawa a local unit went up in Canada and in out of government was a threat that with the power of one of the world's greatest banks all American financing of Canada would be funneled through a wholly owned subsidiary.

Experienced Party Is Defeated In India

By JOE MCGOWAN JR. NEW DELHI (AP) — A disunited opposition has ended 20 years of unchallenged Congress party rule in India.

Capitalizing on hunger, financial woes, religious revivalism and language and geographical sectionalism, half a dozen widely divergent political parties have closed out the era of Mohandas K. Gandhi and Jawaharlal Nehru.

But in tumbling the Congress party at a time when there is no other nationally based party, the opposition has created a situation in which continued smooth, effective operation of government at state and central levels is going to be extremely difficult.

Some of India's most experienced leaders, including seven cabinet ministers, several state chief ministers—roughly equivalent to governor in the United States—and members of the ruling party hierarchy, have been defeated at the polls.

Prime Minister Indira Gandhi's party has lost power in 8 of 16 states by virtue of its failure to win a majority in the state assemblies. In some cases the Congress is still the largest group and enough independents may be tempted back so the party can form a government. But in others, notably Kerala and Madras, opposition parties will be forming the government and will be tugging away at the center's authority.

It is not easy to replace half a cabinet, including the likes of Food Minister Chidambaram Subramanian, Finance Minister Sachindra Chaudhuri and Railway Minister S.K. Patil. They were competent, educated, trained and well-traveled personalities, and in this nation of 75 per cent illiterates such leaders are not in abundant supply.

Fortunately, India has a hard core of good (or an underdeveloped nation) civil servants who should be able to keep the day-to-day affairs of government rolling.

One of the most pressing problems will be the supply of food to Bihar, where starvation deaths are likely to occur this summer even with the supply system working at its best. Any disruption in governmental machinery will worsen the crisis.

A long-range problem, but one which could be just as serious, is that of foreign capital input for expanding India's fertilizer production. India decided last year to liberalize terms for foreign investment in an attempt to attract needed hard currency in foreign investment.

Now, foreign companies see the likelihood of an unstable government for the next couple of years, and they may think twice before coming to India with checkbooks. This could cripple India's hopes of achieving food self-sufficiency within the next five years.

The central government also will be hard put to cope with divergent pulls from the states where Congress lost power. An example is Madras, where the leader of the Dravida Munnetra Kazhagam, which has taken exclusive power, has shown his intention to rule independently of New Delhi.

The problem of cow slaughter is bound to continue to be a disruptive factor. The right-wing Hindu Communal Jan Sangh party has more than doubled its strength, mostly on its demand for a total ban on cow slaughter. Nevertheless, the election outcome offers India a possibility for progress if chaos can be avoided in the attempt to make it. The voting showed a definite right-wing trend, appearing to augur well for a future of less ideology and more private-sector opportunity.

The communists gained very little and lost some important races. The handful of socialist parties all lost strength.

RECORD SET
BOISE (AP) — Unemployment during January was up seasonally, but the Idaho Department said the number at work set a new record for the month.

The department reported total employment was 281,500 in December and 248,200 in January, last year. Unemployed numbered 14,300 compared with 19,900 in December and 12,800 in January, 1966.

NEWSMAN DIES
BOISE (AP) — Benjamin T. Hershey, a veteran newsman, died today after an extended illness. He was news editor of the Idaho Statesman.

Hershey was a former newsman for The Associated Press in Denver, Colo. He also had worked for the Grand Junction, Colo., Sentinel, the Idaho Falls Idaho, Post-Register, and the Salt Lake Tribune.

REFUNDS OKAYED
BOISE (AP) — The Senate completed legislative action Saturday on a bill which refunds to Lemhi County overpayment of state property taxes it made for 1960 and 1961.

The overpayment of $2,108 resulted when the county failed to file a mining company's claim that it had been overcharged property taxes for the two years.

RAMPION TAKES
BOISE (AP) — Utah Gov. Calvin L. Rampton told a Democratic Jefferson-Jackson Day Association Friday that he believes people's confusion for the drubbing Democrats took in the general elections last fall.

He said his conclusion over the Vietnam War, civil rights and "the direction this nation and world was taking" caused the beating.

ARRAIGNED
COEUR D'ALENE (AP) — Mrs. James W. (Janet) White, 19, of Coeur d'Alene, was arraigned in U.S. District Court here Friday on a voluntary manslaughter charge in connection with the death last Saturday of her three-month-old daughter.

The woman is being held in the Kootenai County jail under $1,500 bond.

BODY FOUND
COTTONWOOD (AP) — The body of Eugene Jacoby, 45, of Cottonwood was found on a flooded farm Saturday morning during January.

The Idaho county sheriff's officers say he apparently was electrocuted.

COOPERATION ASKED
BOISE (AP) — Nevada Republican Chairman George Abbot called for a moratorium on "anti-party" "hoisting" in advance of the 1968 presidential campaign.

He suggested calling a conference with GOP leaders and candidates to adopt ground rules and said they should consider adopting the eleventh commandment, "swear last year in California to 'speak no evil of a fellow Republican.'"

Republicans won the semi-final playoff contest by dominating the 1968 election from courthouse to Congress, Abbot said in remarks prepared for a Lincoln's Day luncheon of the Idaho Federation of Republican Women.

YOUTH KILLED
SALMON (AP) — A one-car accident about 28 miles north of Salmon late Friday night killed a Salmon youth.

Idaho State Policeman Elvin Albinson said Dennis Smith, 19, of Salmon, was crushed between a fence post and the car in which he was riding when the vehicle spun out of control on U.S. 93.

Albinson said driver of the car was Bob R. Darrath, 18, also of Salmon. The officer said the Darrath auto spun out on an icy spot, crashing through two fences along the highway.

BILLS DEFEATED
BOISE (AP) — The Idaho Senate defeated Saturday two bills intended to strengthen laws prohibiting littering.

One measure affected littering on public highways and other state parks and playgrounds.

Sen. Thomas F. Mcateer, D-Pocatello, said the measures were "inadequate" and would result in abuse.

But opponents argued the bills were not clear in establishing littering penalties and could result in abuse.

CALE CROP DOWN
BOISE (AP) — Idaho's 1966 calf crop is estimated at 629,000 head, the U.S. Department of Agriculture announced Saturday. That is down 11 percent from the record crop of 1965 but up 9 percent from the average in the preceding five years.

The department reported that during January, production of chicks in commercial hatcheries in Idaho was estimated at 514,000, up 20 percent from production in January, 1966.

Jerome Man Heads North Side Conclave

SHOSHONE — E. J. Baer, Jerome, was elected president of North Side Community Inc. at a meeting held Thursday night at the bowling alley here.

He succeeds W. W. Whitehead, Jerome, to the post.

Other officers elected are a Clifford Hansen, Sawtooth Valley, vice president, and Lowell Thurston, Jerome, secretary.

Report was made that the Crystal Springs recreation area will not be maintained by the state as it has declined to accept the responsibility.

Report was made on a meeting of interested persons regarding a rest area near Little Lost River, near the new Federal Highway at a scenic spot.

Success of the second snowmobile season is being under the sponsorship of the Sawtooth area was reported.

Discussion was held regarding the improved road needs for Magic area.

Due to road changes members stated the cost of replacing a traffic direction sign near Rupert is not warranted.

After a discussion regarding control of firearms and purchase by mail, the Sawtooth area representative spoke in favor of the stand being taken by the National Rifle Association.

Members prefer control of firearms through the mail, but object to yearly registration fees and control to the point that people who live in the wilderness or go there would not be free of purchase or choice.

CREDIT CARDS
Due To Be Distributed

More than 110,000 Utah and Idaho residents will be receiving their First Security Bank Americard shortly before March 15, First Security officials announced Saturday.

March 15 is the date set for cardholders to begin using their BankAmericards, and over 5,000 merchants and professional people in the Sawtooth area will be ready to honor purchases made with the card.

Cathy Allan, Evanston, Ill., will be guest speaker during a dinner meeting of the Burley-Rupert Knife and Fork Club in the Burley Elks dining room Friday.

Evanston Speaker Slated For Burley-Rupert Dinner

BURLEY — Mrs. Cathy Allan, Evanston, Ill., will be guest speaker at 7 p.m. Friday during dinner meeting of the Burley-Rupert Knife and Fork Club in the Burley Elks dining room. The meeting is also guest night, states Mack Crouch, secretary of the club.

"A Woman's Philosophy of Life" is the topic on which Mrs. Allan will speak. She stated that her first love is her family and being a housewife, but running a class second is the opportunity to entertain intellectual audiences.

Mrs. Allan might be called a "semi-professional" platformer. She accepts engagements only when the duties of wife and mother do not interfere. These must come first, she insists, and perhaps it is this philosophy of living that has made her a favorite of audiences in many places. A devoted member of the International Platform Association, she has made her special programs.

Not Liable
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — A Hennepin County district court jury decided Friday that a teacher who broke a student's nose while trying to stop a fight was not liable for damages.

David Erickson, 27, an industrial arts teacher at North High School, was sued for $2,000 in a personal injury action brought by Robert J. Yurch.

Beneficiaries Of Medicare Reminded

District Manager Rudolph Menghini, Social Security Administration, Twin Falls, reminded local medicare beneficiaries Friday that doctor bills sent to the medicare carrier for payment must be itemized and marked "paid" before being submitted.

He said Equitable Life Assurance, which handles medicare doctor bills in this area cannot make payment for bills that are not itemized or that show only services rendered.

If the bill is not itemized or properly marked, there will be a delay while they are returned.

Mr. Menghini said there are two methods of payment under medicare doctor bill insurance. There is the "assignment" method in which the doctor sends the request for payment form to the carrier and bills the beneficiary only for the part of the bill not covered by medicare.

The second method involves the same request for payment method but the patient himself sends the claim to the carrier after he has paid the doctor the bill.

Rupert Goes Over Blood Drive Quota

BLOOD — The Red Cross Bloodmobile exceeded its quota in Minidoka County recently by 27 pints, according to the county blood program chairman, Mrs. Ray Burton.

Of the 162 volunteers, 10 were rejected, so that 152 pints were drawn. 125 pints for blood replacements and 81 for gamma globulin replacements.

Donors gave 22 pints for Mrs. Howard Corless, who is scheduled for open heart surgery later this week.

A four-gallon pin went to Alfred Ralls; three-gallon, Mrs. Mae Ballantyne; two gallon, Mrs. Colleen Kerbs; Mrs. Belva Blaine, Fred McLaws and Mrs. Geraldine Uehling, and those receiving gallon pins were Mrs. Emme Lebsack, Glen Rogers and Robert Barrus.

Mrs. Burton's assistant in the program is Mrs. Arnold Hirsch, who calls the churches, civic organizations and places the posters, with the assistance of the Jay-C-ettes.

$4 MILLION PER MONTH

to give you Abundant Power

Last year Idaho Power Company spent nearly $4,000,000 each month on new electric facilities of all kinds—generating facilities in Hells Canyon, transmission lines across the desert, lines and substations to serve newly irrigated farms, services to cities, business establishments and homes.

It spells area growth and development, and it's a good thing for everyone. It means more jobs and more income, better living in an expanded economy throughout the Snake river valley, and more tax revenues to provide local and state governmental services.

Idaho Power keeps electricity abundant and readily available for every purpose. No community or segment of industry or agriculture is hindered in its progress for lack of ample, low-cost power. We intend to keep it that way.

This year the Company will spend another $30,000,000, the largest construction expenditure planned for the area, to keep the ball rolling. New power will flow from Hells Canyon in the fall. When the Hells Canyon project is completed in 1968, it will boost the power supply on Idaho Power lines by 40 per cent. That's progress!

Your Spine and Your Health

By Dr. Ludwig C. Landwehr

We often compare our own body mechanism with that of a watch.

When a watch is run down and does not work right, we have it adjusted.

We can do the same for the human body through Chiropractic adjustment.

The "main spring" which keeps the movement going in human beings is the brain.

The system of "interlocking gears" to transmit vital impulses from the brain is our spinal cord.

Shock, fatigue, a fall, any one of a hundred causes can throw the spine out of balance and therefore interfere with proper channeling of nerve impulses from the brain to the other organs and parts of the body.

When we are "run down" it is a symptom that, like our watches, we need "adjusting."

The Chiropractic Physician corrects the distortion that has altered or obstructed the proper channeling of nerve impulses, restoring the body to the desired equilibrium.

One of our series of articles published in the public interest to explain and illustrate the practice of scientific Chiropractic, written by Dr. Ludwig C. Landwehr, whose office is located at 717 Main Ave., W., Twin Falls, Tel. 732-0522, Adv.

Labor Leaders Spurn Plea To Hold Line

By NEIL GILBERT
AP Labor Writer
MIAMI BEACH, Fla., (AP) — The 120 labor leaders spurned a Johnson administration plea to try catching up with the cost of living all at once in this year's bargaining for millions of workers.

"The vast majority of wage and salary earners have not expressed a fair share of the benefits of the national economy's expansion," said the AFL-CIO Executive Council.

Much of last year's wage hikes were wiped out by the steepest rise in living costs in a decade and labor unions are justified in seeking greater gains in 1967, the council said.

It added that organized labor will meet the strongest demand dropped by President Johnson's economic advisers against demanding cost-of-living wage escalators in addition to regular pay hikes.

Wage escalators in labor contracts give workers automatic pay increases whenever the government's consumer price index goes up. Escalators are becoming a major issue in negotiations with industry.

We oppose the Council of Economic Advisers' measures against cost-of-living escalators and other collective bargaining measures to offset the impact of an increased price level on workers' earnings," the labor council said in a statement.

It said the AFL-CIO will continue supporting its 120 affiliated unions in seeking economic justice for their total of some 13.5 million members.

The labor leaders said they were pleased by one part of last month's report by the council on economic condition which dropped the 1966 guideline policy that sought to hold wage hikes to 3.2 per cent a year.

"We did have guidelines but they're not around any more," said AFL-CIO President George Meany.

Crackdown Is Ordered On U.S. Gambling

By GRANVILLE J. WAITS
LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Wilson's government is cracking down on American gambling in London as part of a massive cleanup campaign of the nation's wide-open gaming clubs. A laboring legislature expressed fear of "billionaire money" coming into the country.

The banning from Britain of American casinos, the British host and chairman of London's plush Colony Sporting Club, pinpointed the growing government campaign.

Home Secretary Roy Jenkins is understood to be considering whether to allow another American director of the Colony Club, Dino Ciampi, to resume in the country. The traditionally cautious Home Office will neither confirm nor deny published reports that Ciampi's position is under review.

There is widespread belief here that Raft is not the first American with gambling connections to be barred by Britain.

Gordon Bagler, labor party economist, said he would ask Jenkins in the House of Commons March 9 "how many American citizens have been prohibited immigrants in the last 12 months because of their connection with crime and gambling."

Bagler, 42, has been gathering evidence about American money pouring into Britain to fund home gaming clubs. He said one London club made a clear profit of $4.4 million last year.

Rupert Chamber Opposes Murphy's Idea For Funds

RUPERT — The 40 members of the Chamber of Commerce who attended the Thursday luncheon meeting were not united in an unanimous opposition to Lt. Gov. Jack Murphy's suggestion of using excess money in the general fund of the state for improvement of the north-south highway in the state of Lewiston.

It was pointed out that all areas of the state could benefit from such a project when Lewiston is opened as a seaport in reduced freight rates through shipping. However, the chamber felt there were other areas where the funds could be used more profitably. Mentioned was the chamber's proposed Mindoka to Arco highway, and a direct route into Montana.

In a number vote 12 members favored a proposed raise to 10 per cent of bank interest rates, while 11 were opposed, and the remainder abstained from voting.

The vote was 25-2 in favor of the hunting bill sponsored by Sen. Mary Brooks.

The telephone conference with state legislators following the regular meeting, discussion of interest rate increases found Rep. Pete Cenarrusa undecided as to whether he would strongly oppose to the proposal. Cenarrusa said the banks need a $10 minimum charge for small loans in order to compete with financial institutions.

ARE YOU SURE YOU KNOW WHAT YOU'RE DOING?

People in love have a crazy way of getting wrapped up in each other and forgetting about everything else.

So before you do something you might regret, forget about love for a minute, and let's talk about your diamond ring. The first thing for you to do is admit that what you know about diamonds would fit on the head of a pin. Don't be ashamed of it. There are very few people who can tell the difference between a very good diamond and a beautifully cut piece of glass.

So if you could write a book about love, but don't know anything about diamonds, buy your ring from someone who does... from Sterling Jewelry... a tradition since 1910.

Soviet Bloc Leaders Go To Moscow

MOSCOW (AP) - Hungarian Communist party leader came to Moscow Saturday for the latest in a series of consultations on current party problems of the Soviet bloc.

General Secretary Leonid I. Breznev and Premier Alexei N. Kosygin met with Kadar, first secretary of the Hungarian Communist party, at a Moscow rally station for what was described as an "unofficial friendly visit."

Kadar holds no post in the Hungarian government and the presence of Breznev at the station emphasized that his visit was for party business.

Breznev has had talks in the last six weeks with Communist leaders of Poland, Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria and other Soviet bloc countries.

Only Romania was missing from the list of what used to be called "Soviet satellites."

SOUTH ADVERTISES TRUMP PROBLEM

Here is a hand from an important match of some years back in which South played against the mathematical percentages to produce a 1,530 point swing in favor of his side. East was the aptly named and returned the ten spot. South saw no reason to finess the jack.

A Hawaiian Summer Needs A Dollar Base

To many of our correspondents, a "surfing summer" in Hawaii means the ultimate in pleasure. Because they know we live in the 50th state six months out of the year, readers ask us to encourage their vacation hopes.

Although we love our state, our return letters more frequently inspire scowls than smiles, for we must hit them square in the face with reality. Hawaii is a beautiful island, but it is not a vacation spot for the vast majority of our modern state.

Far from being a sleepy little Polynesian village, Honolulu is a sprawling city of 360,000 people. The main island of Oahu, is thronged with roads and jammed with cars (over 234,000 motor vehicles for 600,000 people). Tall, sleek buildings stab the skyline, and pile drivers probe new foundations daily. Ala Moana center, the world's largest shopping center is here.

OLD DAYS ARE GONE
 The University of Hawaii, a symphony orchestra, numerous art galleries, a burgeoning fashion industry, have replaced the grass skirts as the culture of Hawaii.

Tourists who come expecting to see grass skirts, sarongs and a primitive outpost of traders and jungle princesses. One past that hang-up, we must drop another bomb. Hawaii doesn't offer cheap living, and a primitive outpost of traders and jungle princesses. One past that hang-up, we must drop another bomb. Hawaii doesn't offer cheap living, and a primitive outpost of traders and jungle princesses.

Scenery we've got—particularly on the neighbor islands (Maui, Kauai, Hawaii, Molokai and Lanai)—given in best form. In fact, Hawaii is a cosmopolitan community. Caucasians comprise only 28 per cent of the population, the Japanese 23.6 per cent, the Koreans 1.1 per cent, the Filipinos 1.1 per cent, the Chinese 0.5 per cent, the Portuguese 0.3 per cent, the Samoans 2 per cent and others 10.1 per cent.

From this fascinating mixture comes warmth and a variety of foods, customs and entertainments that make Hawaii something very special. If you come, you'll find them at the hotels, in the churches, at the bowling alleys, on the suburban beaches, in evening classes, etc.

They comprise the magic of Hawaii—and they're the reason we call it home.

MURTAUGH CLAIMS DISTRICT A-4 CROWN

Outside Gunning Lets Devils Top Rockland 74-62

MURTAUGH — Getting redhot shooting from three men, the Murtaugh Red Devils toppled Rockland 74-62 Saturday night to win the sixth district A-4 basketball championship and clinch a berth in the state tournament at Burley in two weeks. The victory capped a perfect tournament for the Red Devils who did something no one expected — beating a fine Rockland club four times this year. The two had shared the Magic Valley Conference title.

The difference Saturday night came in the shooting of Bill Nebeker (30) Gary Quensell (20) and Jim Hoppers (12) as Rockland came out in its tight zone and took care of Murtaugh's big men. But the outside trio was deadly with Nebeker, a junior, leading the way with a terrific 11 for 15 from the field. Quensell, a sophomore, was almost as hot.

Murtaugh led only by one after eight minutes but expanded that to 38-30 in the second quarter. The Red Devils appeared easy winners when the court ran to 58-43 at the third intermission.

But in the fourth quarter Rockland maintained its pressure and pulled to within five points. Murtaugh replied with a slow-down and the Bulldogs were forced to foul for possession. Nebeker and Quensell responded just as efficient from the foul line and opened up the final margin there.

Murtaugh's Jayves made it a sweep, beating Rat River 44-30 in the sophomore tournament. MURTAUGH 74, ROCKLAND 62

Pretense Finishes Strong To Capture Santa Anita Handicap

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP) — The unbeatable combination of Pretense and jockey Bill Shoemaker forged into a commanding lead at the top of the stretch and raced on to win the 30th running of the $145,000 Santa Anita Handicap Saturday. The favored Pretense, under the fuchsia silks of Mrs. Elizabeth Tipper's Langlois Farm, wore down the front-running big black horse, Native Diver, and hit the finish line three lengths in front of the Diver to haul down the $100,000 winner's purse.

English-bred O'Hara, from Greenacre Stable, was three-fourths of a length back of Native Diver and an Argentine stretch runner, Camelo II, was fourth.

It drizzled during the night and early morning but the track was fast and an estimated 51,000 fans turned out for this classic race of the season at Santa Anita Park.

Nine candidates went to the post for the 1 1/4-mile run, which was clocked in 2:00 4/5. Pretense, under 118 pounds on the Diver's 125, was the betting favorite, returning $5.40, $3.40 and $2.40 on $1.00. Native Diver, under 112 pounds on the Diver's 125, was the second choice, returning $3.40, $2.40 and $1.80 on $1.00.

There is a strong possibility that, instead of separate drafts for regular-seniors-and-rod-drafts, there may be no redshirt draft at all. A redshirt is a player with college eligibility remaining although his original college class has graduated.

Wolves Eliminate Declo And Hailey Sidelines Valley

EDEN-HAZELTON — Wood River and Castledorf battled through loser bracket action with victories Saturday night in the fourth district A-3 basketball tournament. Wood River ousted cold-shooting Valley 74-52 while Castledorf jumped to a big lead and outlasted Declo 55-50. Meanwhile, Kimberly and Shoshone, the two undefeated teams, stood in the wings waiting for their important battle at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Valley gymnasium. Wood River and Castledorf will meet in the loser bracket quarterfinals at 6:45 p.m.

Faced by Wood River's tremendous height advantage, Valley tried to speed the big men of the board and force the Wolverines to shoot from outside. Wood River, playing its fourth straight night, proved equal to the task, hitting well on the jumbo front-line to 18-60.

Valley stayed close only in the first quarter, but the Wolves won it at the foul line, outscoring Declo 15-8 there. Each team put three men in double figures, but the Wolves won it at the foul line, outscoring Declo 15-8 there.

Pro Football Sets First Common Draft

HONOLULU (AP) — The first common draft of professional football will be held Tuesday, March 14, in New York unless there are unexpected objections from the American Football League.

The National Football League ended its annual meeting Friday without announcing any format for the common draft.

Instead of making any public statement about their proposals, Commissioner Pete Rozelle said the NFL owners were in touch with AFL people.

"We can be very close to agreement," Rozelle said. "There are some facts that will be worked out. I am hopeful we can resolve the situation by telephone in a week's time."

CSI controlled the game by controlling the backboards. Fred Trenkle and Bert Scott each had 15 touchdowns to lead that category.

BUHL, GOODING WIN IN A-2 TOURNAMENT

Baggs' Stolen Pass Lets Indians Win By 61-60, Solons Nip Jerome 60-58

By BOR MAGEE
Times-News Assistant Sports Editor

JEROME—Bill Baggs stole a Filler pass under the Buhl basket and put it up on an easy lay in with 25 seconds left Saturday night to give the Indians a 61-60 victory in the fourth district A-2 tournament. Gooding nipped Jerome 60-58 on Larry Adamson's two free throws with nine seconds left in the first game. The loss eliminated Jerome from the tournament. Filler and Gooding will meet again next week to decide which is to meet the undefeated Indians in the championship game. Buhl appeared to have an easy win on his hands through the first two quarters, but Filler started picking up in the third quarter and pulled to within two points going into the fourth.

They are the consensus choice of The Associated Press since the first AP All-America was selected in 1948.

A nifty little run around left end by the irrigation, reclamation and resources committee has the fate of the Idaho Fish and Game Department plus Idaho fishing with their collective backs to the wall.

The budget is senate bill 93 which would appear to solve any dam builder of responsibility to the fishery resource. At first it pushes the bill, however, removes the responsibility on dams designed primarily for irrigation but nowhere is the distinction specified.

The bill states that, under short notice, the department must submit plans for providing fish ladders or passages at its own expense. It further states that maintenance will become the financial obligation of the department.

That appears to make things very hunky-dory for the interest of the group sponsoring the bill.

We are not going into the necessities of irrigation water and we know it is all-important. But we would ask when your canal company, or other group or corporation is given the right to that water it is given something that belongs to the people. Payment for the water use isn't anything. Therefore, it would seem that the public could expect some mitigation, i.e., keeping all else as nearly normal as possible.

It is hardly coincidental, it appears, that such legislation would arise when the state administration is anti-fish and game department. It is no surprise that this bill cleared the Senate without public hearing. Surely, everyone knew the sports interests of the state would have something to say about it.

The business about the department providing the ladders and passages is now. But the bill is two-fold, deleting a section now in effect. By shifting the financial responsibility of maintenance to the department, the new legislation reduces the bureau with an estimated 350 dams plus untold thousands of diversions.

Currently, the Idaho Fish and Game Department is spending about 60 per cent of its budget in fisheries alone—putting trout in as fast as everyone can pull them out. The incredible budget strikes at a bad time since the department now is responsible for maintaining the fish screens in the Salmon River drainage and that in expectancy will run about $500,000 annually. That also should tell everyone why the department is seeking a $2 steelhead and salmon permit fee this season.

If the bill is passed, without being specific in relegating responsibility, the logical conclusion is that no dam builder would be responsible for fishery resource at all.

For instance, the matter of passage of anadromous fish around Brownlee dam cost the state Power Company $10,000,000, and was a failure. Now the utility has spent much more in transplanting steelhead from the Middle Snake to the Pahsimarri River.

Should another big dam come along, the department would have several years' income committed to that one dam, leaving everything from ducks to walrus. The alternative is to abandon the fishery, the expensive luxury the country allowed 20 years ago.

This bill is not a sound one. It could destroy the Idaho anadromous run in a twinkling after many years of hard work-

Late in the third Buhl was leading 47-40, but three free throws by Gerald Ortel and a long set shot by Danny Aslett with four seconds left made it Buhl 47, Filler 45.

Aslett scored again early in the fourth to tie the score, but Charles Cullings and Duane Uncliker teamed for three points to pull ahead again.

Then it was Filler's turn. Ortel added a free throw and Wright, Coates and Danny Aslett each hit a field goal as the Wildcats went ahead 54-52.

Jan Von Linderen hit one foul shot and stole an errant Filler pass to put Buhl ahead again. Wyatt then made a driving lay-in to put Filler ahead and the two teams traded scores until Filler hit his layin with 25 seconds left.

The first game was close all the way with both teams scoring in spurts during the second and third quarters.

In the fourth Brad Capps hit a foul shot and a field goal to give Jerome a four-point edge. The Senators didn't get it back until with about three minutes gone Chris Oakley hit two field goals and a free throw to pull Gooding within one and Larsen hit a long set shot seconds later to tie the game at 49-49 after Barnes had hit one free throw for Jerome.

Jim Bolton and Oakley then connected from the floor and Adamson added a foul shot as the Senators took a 54-49 edge.

Sneath and Barnes pulled Jerome back within one, which was as close as the Tigers could get until Capps tied it at 58-58 with 21 seconds left. After Adamson hit what turned out to be the winning free throw, Jerome raced the ball down court and managed three shots, one of which hit the rim, before the buzzer sounded.

Pipkin Gives Idaho Victory Over Hawaii

HONOLULU (AP)—Bob Pipkin's 20-foot set shot with nine seconds remaining gave University of Idaho a 59 victory over University of Hawaii Friday night and a 2-1 record for their three game series on the island.

The game ended on the intercollegiate basketball schedule with a 120 second record.

Except for Rod Bohman's field goal on the first point, the Vandals never had any trouble. Phil Waddell dropped in a fielder with 7:18 remaining to give Idaho a 57-58 lead.

From then on the game was close with the lead changing hands nine times.

Hawaii built up a 40-33 lead in the first half on sharp shooting of Harvey Harmon, who tallied 11 points in the first 20 minutes.

But Pipkin and Dave Schlottbauer, who were held to 9 and 10 points respectively in the first half, began to click and the Rainbow lead dwindled.

Mike Wejka, who shared 17 points, half score honors with Pipkin was ejected from the game in the second half for a flagrant foul.

Idaho State Drops Montana By 88-82, Keeps Title Hopes Alive

POCATELLO, Idaho (AP)—Idaho State kept alive its hopes for a share of the Big Sky basketball championship Saturday with an 88-82 victory over University of Montana. The victory was ISU's fifth league win in a row against three defeats. Montana State clinched a title tie with a 79-67 win over Weber State at Ogden. MSU finished 7-3. Idaho State took the lead for keeps late in the first half on a tip in by Tom Baird. That made the score 34-32. Dennis Blinnifok led all scorers with 23 for Montana. Chuck Parks hit 21 for ISU.

Paschal Has Victory In Daytona Race

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Veteran Jim Paschal overcame an early brush with a concrete retaining wall and used five caution flags for prudent pit stops Saturday for victory in the Daytona Permatex 300-mile race for Sportsman and modified stock cars.

The 40-year-old High Point, N.C., driver flashed ahead of Paul Goldsmith of -Munster, Ind., when Goldsmith pitted 34 seconds for fuel and tires.

Paschal dashed in for fuel with 20 miles to go and held first place by a hasty 10-second stop. In spite of 23 caution flags, he set a record of 148,188 miles per hour—beating the 144,520 by Curtis Turner last year.

Paschal finished 3.6 seconds ahead as twin 1964 Plymouth Sportsman cars grabbed the first two places.

This was the first victory Paschal ever recorded at Daytona International Speedway and earned him $7,250.

"It was very satisfying," he declared, "and I hope we can do the same thing Sunday" when he and 49 other top stock car drivers will race for $200,000 in prizes in the Daytona 500 for late models.

Kansas Defeats Missouri 90-55

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP)—Fourth-ranked Kansas, the Big Eight basketball leader, made it eight straight victories and ran his home court streak to 19 games by outlasting Missouri Saturday afternoon.

Quick-finger Roger Bohmenschel, and high-jumper Vernon Vanoy led the Kansas attack in the first half, while Jo Jo White and Ron Franz took over the last half.

White, Vanoy and Bruce Sloan were the leading ball stealers in the Kansas defense.

Missouri was playing its first game since Coach Bob Vanatta announced he is stepping down after this season.

The Tigers' slatted close 16-12, the first nine minutes before Kansas broke it open.

ISU Comes From Behind, Nips Bobcats

POCATELLO (AP)—Montana State's Big Sky Basketball Conference title hopes were damped Friday when Idaho State came from behind in the second half to topple the Bobcats, 97-92.

It was MSU's third loss in league play and left the Bozeman team with the same number of losses as Idaho State and Weber State.

MSU (6-3) goes to Ogden tonight against Weber State (4-3). Idaho State (4-3) plays host to University of Montana, 97-92.

Guard Ron Boone and forward Chuck Parks paced the Bengal attack.

Boone hit 23 points for Idaho State. Jack Gillespie of Montana State got 30 for game honors.

Idaho State went ahead to stay, 57-55, with 16:23 to play after trailing as many as nine points in the first half.

Finian's Rainbow: Pot Of Gold For Pleasure

By PEGGY LALEY
Times-News Feature Writer

Many unkind words have been spoken about the cultural aspects of life in Magic Valley, but over the last few years a movement toward interest in drama, music and art has become evident in the area.

Just one of the many groups that works toward these ends is the Dilettantes. The membership is a fluctuating one involving much greater numbers during actual production time than before or afterwards. But there are approximately 125 full-time members that continue their interest on a year-round basis.

The Dilettantes came into being over eight years ago and are now, eight plays later, entering the final stages of rehearsal for their ninth musical production "Finian's Rainbow" which opens March 9 at the Filer High School auditorium.

A great many words have already been written on this event, but it is a project deserving of much praise and publicity. A large number of people from all over Magic Valley work long and hard to present this entertainment.

Not all of these workers will have their names printed on a program or even known.

but the effort of each one has helped to make something to which the people of the community can point with pride.

Over the years, the Dilettantes have always chosen a well-known musical, perhaps for the reason that musicals involve a larger cast and afford more people the opportunity to try out their hidden talents.

Or perhaps the reason has been that musicals attract a larger interest and audience.

But whatever the reason, the choices have been good ones including Carousel, Oklahoma, Annie Get Your Gun, Kiss Me Kate, Brigadoon, Can Can, South Pacific, Music Man and this year's Finian's Rainbow.

For about half of the productions Paul Kliss, Hagerman, has been the director, with later, entering the final stages of rehearsal Philip Keeler, of the University of Utah, Salt Lake City, in charge of the choreography.

Most of the participants are strictly amateurs and the leads of one production will most likely be painting scenery for the next.

The year that South Pacific was presented an additional performance had to be scheduled because of public demand. Since that time an additional performance has been added and the group plays to full houses each night.

Few people in an audience stop to realize the work that has had to be done before the final production with all its eye-catching appeal is ready for their viewing.

Costumes and props are as necessary to telling the tale as the words and actions of the performers. In productions the size of this one costuming alone can become quite a project.

Consider the time involved in designing costumes for a cast the size of the one in Finian's Rainbow. But the effort has paid off.

Enthusiasts in this organization include not only adults, but you will find entire families involved in its activities. Last year the production of Music Man called for a horse, so the group got a live horse.

These musicals are an outstanding event in the valley and it is wise for those that want to attend to obtain their tickets early. Past experience has shown that these are sell-out events.

Performances are scheduled for 8:15 p.m. March 9 through 12 and March 16 through 18 at the Filer High School auditorium. One matinee will be given at 2:30 p.m. on March 12.

Tom Driscoll, ticket sales chairman, has announced that tickets are on sale at the Boy Scout Office in Twin Falls; Sav-Mor Drug, Duhl; Modern Drug, Filer; Bilck and Reese; Castleford; Sullivan Music, Jerome, and Maxwell Insurance, Gooding.

Members of the Junior club in Twin Falls will also assist with the sales. Reserved seats may be obtained by calling 733-0214.

A word of warning, if you want to attend Finian's Rainbow, get your tickets early. There is little chance that you can obtain them at the door. (See Related Picture on Pg. 22)

THERE'S A LOT OF hard work involved in getting a group of non-professionals ready for a production of the fine University of Utah, Salt Lake City, comes to town each week and to work on the choreography. (Times-News photo)

IT IS QUITE surprising when some of the hidden talents of local businessmen come to light. Ivan Squires, right, exhibits an extremely light foot in his role of Finian. (Times-News photo)

IT MAY NOT LOOK like it now, but this piece of construction will end up as a tree on stage for Finian's Rainbow. The framework which was so tall it could not be raised upright is being held by Bill Olson, left, with Tom Driscoll and Todd Brumbach behind the wire netting. (Times-News photo)

PICTURESQUE COSTUMES were worn by several delegations of Methodist Youth Fellowship groups from throughout Magic Valley attending a Mock UN at a recent sub-district rally in Twin Falls. Standing by one of the colorful travel posters which decorated a social hall are Genny Poppell, Buhl, whose group represented Cuba, and Mike Merridan, Filer, representing Nationalist China. More than 80 Methodist youth attended the event. (Times-News photo)

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

The sanctuary of the First Methodist Church in TWIN FALLS transformed on a recent Sunday afternoon into a simulated United Nations plenary session as youths from eight Magic Valley towns participated in a successful Mock UN during a district rally. Each of the Methodist Youth Fellowships presented a different country and student ambassadors presented the foreign policy positions of their "native land" on three policy issues. The debate on a resolution calling for the seating of Red China in the U.N. drew lively debate with considerable arguing to and fro from the microphone placed in front of the speaker as well as ambassadors offered their opinions and counter-charges and coun- ter-charges between the "Com- munist bloc" and countries allied with the West. Neither apparently impressed the or for the vote, conducted by W. Weaver, RUPERT, who acted as secretary of the Gen- eral Assembly, ended in a 4-early 20 youths participated in the debate before the two or resolutions. The proposed cease-fire in Vietnam a nuclear test ban were included. The number partici- pating in the Mock General As- sembly was nearly one-fourth of the total number attending and indicated that at least some of the youths had "done some homework," according to Rev. I. LaRue, BUHLEI counselor of the Middle Snake Sub-dis- trict MYF.

India was ably represented by Rev. Bond from BURLEY, who presented the Middle Snake sub-dis- trict MYF's, repre- senting Ghana, had Mike dwell as their chief delegate. The United States was repre- sented by the KIMBERLY MENSEN group, headed by San- dra Prentice, but enthusiastically assisted by several col- leagues.

Clark, CASTLEFORD, followed his party's line as am- bassador for Russia, and the "no alignment" policy was well articulated out by the Yugoslav delegation, representing the Twin Falls MYF. Ambassadors headed Duane Wiedenhoff, Steve Johnson, and Norman Jones.

MURTAUGH's group, repre- senting France, was headed by Ron Davis who portrayed well the role of attempted "third force" now being played by that Norway, entranced the 100 some persons attending the banquet with renditions of native songs.

The setting for the banquet was accentuated by travel posters from many lands. The set United Nations flags borrowed from the Twin Falls Public Li- brary made an appropriate centerpiece for the speakers table. Decorations were arranged by Janice Ford, Twin Falls.

The rally concluded with a pledge service conducted by James Stahlman, BUHLEI, General arrangements for the event which is the first of its kind to be held by the district group, were under the direction of Bruce Smith, Twin Falls, sub- district president. The dele- gations were registered as groups upon arrival at the church by Lenne Schmucker, Twin Falls, sub-district treasurer, assisted by Cheryl Garrard.

Despite a two-year illness with a serious kidney disease which has kept him bedfast the greater part of the time, Mitchell Beyler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Beyler, MALTA, sub-district treasurer, some- what rewarded last week when he received the Star rank at a Scout camp.

Despite his handicap, Michael, assisted by his brothers, sisters and parents, who helped gather material, has done an outstand- ing job of earning his rank and merit badges in art, coin-collecting, basketry, collecting rocks and sculpturing.

He even carved a fine trophy for a Scout basketball tournam- ent. Besides his scouting ac- tivities, Michael attends some of his classes at school when his health permits.

Most jobs include a laugh or two once in awhile, and Mrs. Berniece Johnson, Chamber of Commerce Secretary, finds that hers is no exception.

She says that when she first started at the Chamber a year ago some of the questions not only amused her, they appalled her. But now it is all part of a day's work and she loves it.

"Mrs. Chamber of Commerce" answers a total of 10,000 letters a year concerning a wide range of questions from when the flow-

Report Given On Rupert Phone Firm

RUPERT — The Project Mutual Telephone Company listed 3,534 subscribers in the report at the annual meeting. The 70 miles of line required to serve these telephone users, it was announced Friday.

Donald Dickson, manager of the company, reported on progress of the construction of the one-party system on the four exchanges served by the company. He said 85 per cent of the rural subscribers and 90 per cent of the urban subscribers are now changed over to one-party service, with about 70 remaining to be changed in the Paul area and 20 in the Rupert area.

The manager noted that construction for the one-party system began in March, 1965, and about 63 miles of line were added to the original contract, adding about $141,000 and bringing the contract price to approximately $995,000 for the outside plant for a total of 468 miles of cable.

The four exchanges included in the company operations are Rupert, Paul, Norland and Minidoka. Dickson said an average of 24,925 local calls were handled daily in 1965, making an excess of nine million calls for the year.

In addition, an average of 530 toll calls were completed each day for a yearly total of 183,450. Dickson reported that the directors voted in December to dis- continue all conversation timing on the exchange.

When Mrs. Johnson said she didn't know but would find out, the voice said, "Well, I've got a skunk in my freezer and if there isn't any bounty I am going to get rid of it." (P.S. There isn't any bounty!)

The Chamber of Commerce serves as a public relations headquarters for the city of Twin Falls and as a general in- formation center for the area. Tourists are treated royally. Who knows they might decide they would like to live here.

But the office has many duties directly connected with the physical and commercial growth of the town.

Mrs. Johnson copes with the ers bloom in California to the cost of living in Twin Falls.

The last question is always answered in the same way — "We can't answer that because we don't know how you like to live."

Many of the letters come from children requesting information about our community, probably for school assignments. Although this category requires a great deal of time, each of these letters is answered.

Ray Rostrom, Chamber manager, and Mrs. Johnson feel that these replies do much to publicize the Twin Falls area and are therefore important.

These letters read much the same and one which is Mr. Rostrom's favorite was inscribed on the envelope "D-Liver D-Letter D-Sooner D-Better." This one came from Brooklyn.

Letters during the tourist season inquire as to the dates when water goes over Shoshone Falls; when the salmon run, how deep is the Snake River canyon; what's the climate like and even a question as to when the stone wall was built at the Perrine bridge site.

Many of the letter writers are interested in Twin Falls for possible relocation. The most common plea is the lure of the hunting and fishing nearby and the desire to get away from congested living.

In addition to the cost of living these replies do much to publicize the Twin Falls area and are therefore important.

These letters read much the same and one which is Mr. Rostrom's favorite was inscribed on the envelope "D-Liver D-Letter D-Sooner D-Better." This one came from Brooklyn.

Letters during the tourist season inquire as to the dates when water goes over Shoshone Falls; when the salmon run, how deep is the Snake River canyon; what's the climate like and even a question as to when the stone wall was built at the Perrine bridge site.

Many of the letter writers are interested in Twin Falls for possible relocation. The most common plea is the lure of the hunting and fishing nearby and the desire to get away from congested living.

In addition to the cost of living these replies do much to publicize the Twin Falls area and are therefore important.

Easter Plans Despite Snow

KETCHUM—Although the snow is still almost three feet deep, the Ketchum-Sun Valley Chamber of Commerce is making plans for the Easter Bunny to arrive and bring eggs to children of the community.

At a meeting last week members voted to sponsor again an Easter Egg Hunt and color many dozens of eggs for the occasion.

Mrs. Harold Monk, chairman, Mrs. Mary Mahoney and Mrs. Keith Evans were named as a committee.

"With Easter coming early we will have to make two plans," Mrs. Monk said, "one for winter weather and one in case it is the kind of weather Easter should have."

Meeting with the Chamber to discuss the proposed regional airport, Twin Falls-Wendell-Hagerman, chairman of the citizen's committee for the Goodwin Barry of the Voice Building Co., Jerome, and Ed Wood, manager of the Twin Falls airport.

In discussing the engineers' report for a new airport, Wood said the runways of the present Twin Falls airport are inadequate to handle the increasing traffic. Other facilities, which are 20 years old, are also inadequate. Cross-winds in this area make the present structure an undesirable location for a regional airport.

Wood said that of the sites considered the one just north of the Snake river would be the most acceptable.

Wood and Barry said the study is now complete and a proposal will be made that the eight counties which will use the facilities should pay for it percentage-wise according to the assessed valuation and population of each county. Some government funds would be available, they said.

Counties which would use the airport include Twin Falls, Jerome, Gooding, Cassia, Minidoka, Adams, Blaine and Lincoln.

Manager W. G. Pyrah read a letter from Mrs. Mary Brerley, Lisleland, Fla., who has visited the area and has offered her services to write a booklet on "Wagon Days" as a fund-raising project for that committee.

Officers will put on the fourth degree March 7. Staff practice under the direction of Mrs. Donald McDowell, captain, will be held Friday afternoon and initiation is scheduled for March 6.

Mrs. Lodema Smith, member of the Brunau Grange, was a guest. Mrs. Owen Bolan, program chairman, presented "A Tribute to the American Flag."

Idaho Turkey Transplants Prosper—Tentative Hunt Plans Are Formulated

By JIM HUMBIRD
Idaho Fish and Game Department
Anyone who spends a much time outdoors learns to tune his moods to those of the wild things he sees. He gets to know the kinds of birds, animals or fish he is most apt to find in a day or week as he roams through changing habitat conditions.

Now the chance is here to glimpse a brand new species whose native range is hundreds of miles to the south of Idaho. Some people have caught sight of one, and have a memory to be prized for life.

Idaho's fine game bird, the Merriam's turkey, from the mountains of central Colorado, is being tried both north and south of the Salmon River on habitat that has been screened and found potentially good.

Thirty-nine of these wild bronze monarchs of the wooded hills were brought to the state in groups, beginning in the winter of 1961. The birds were released as brood stock in the lower Salmon River country, near Rigby.

These small flocks have grown in size and spread up and down the river for 15 or 20 miles, and over the hills to new areas, beginning in the wintery sightings of wild mountain turkeys on the Weiser- and Payette rivers suggest that they may have spontaneously emigrated as far as Council, a distance of more than 35 air miles from where the first transplant was made 12 years ago.

The population growth on the lower Salmon River may be enough to support a limited wild turkey hunt this fall plus the removal of some birds this winter for transplanting to other suitable habitat in the state. The Idaho Fish and Game Commission last month authorized the Department Director to go ahead with tentative plans for a fall hunt on the lower Salmon River, subject to review by the Commission in April or May.

Wild mountain turkeys were brought to the Gem state with the hope that they can establish themselves in the mountains and soon reach huntable numbers. It is true that all parts of Idaho are outside the natural range of these great birds. But as are Nevada, Wyoming, Nebraska, South Dakota, North Dakota, Washington, Oregon and California—where introductions outside their original ancestral range have been made in late years.

Perhaps Merriam's turkeys are mostly different from other species because of their ability to adapt in ponderosa pine forests, often in rugged country. Montana's remarkable success in getting wild mountain turkeys established, especially in the Long Plains region of the southeast, began in January of 1953 with the introduction of 18 Merriam's.

growth that had supported several either-sex fall hunting seasons and two spring gobbler seasons. These flocks, also had supplied birds for 11 transplants within the state. And wild turkeys were known to have emigrated on their own from there into four other areas nearby.

In other words, there are two parts to the Montana Department's program to naturalize wild mountain turkeys in suitable habitat of that state. Idaho's is similar. The first few dozen birds are transplanted from ancestral turkey habitat in another state to what seems to be the best range in their new home. This in Montana was the Long Plains region. In Idaho, it was the lower Salmon River country.

The population growth of wild turkeys in the lower Salmon River country is now enough to permit the removal of some birds for transplanting to other suitable habitat in both northern and southern Idaho. Eight possible release sites now are lined up, and other suggested spots are being screened.

Since 1965, a total of 42 Idaho produced mountain turkeys have been transplanted to three new areas.

Eleven Salmon River towns recently were caught by accident in the trap on Deer Creek, the original release site of the Colorado Merriam's. As Department workers watched from a distance, waiting for hen turkeys to follow the toms into the nylon netting trap, the gate was closed too soon. What happened was that the trap, which was set to be sprung by a radio signal, was triggered by the cell-phone radio band used by a walkie-talkie carried by a passerby.

A half dozen of the toms were captured, and the others freed. Thirteen hens were captured next morning by the game workers, and all of the birds were transplanted in the Wild-horse Creek drainage of Holea Canyon.

Part two of Idaho's wild mountain turkey introduction program on all suitable ranges in its state calls for some hunting just as soon as any established population can produce an annual crop of surplus poult that is big enough to meet the world needs of brood stock for other suitable habitat, and hunters.

Ten other western states, both in and out of the ancestral territory of Merriam's turkey, report annual wild turkey shoots. Eight of the ten states have general hunting, either in the spring and/or in the fall. Special permits, licenses or stamps are required by three states. Washington, Wyoming and Texas do not levy special fees on hunters.

permits issued, but 3,750 are available—and undersubscribed—most years.

Four of the ten states allow wild turkey shoots with choice of rifle, shotgun or long-bow. These are Montana, Arizona, South Dakota and Texas. All states except Washington, Wyoming and Texas allow turkey hunting—Five of the ten states allow rifles—Montana, Arizona, Utah, South Dakota and Texas.

If the Idaho Fish and Game Commission does authorize a wild mountain turkey hunt on the lower Salmon River this fall, the Department's Information and Education will prepare and release public information materials that will help prepare hunters for the event.

Check stations will be operated during the hunt to pick up information on turkey ages, weights, crops and the like, and follow-up questionnaires to permit holders to try to learn the number of people who actually hunted, their success and where turkeys were seen or killed.

Are you paying someone else's overhead?

If your company has a health-care plan and your staff is...
—completing claims forms

Maybe this is why your costs seem low — you're paying in personnel, office space and equipment more than you're saving in rates.

"Seeds Of Action" these values in their daily lives. It is the home where a dynamic faith is developed. The church is an assist.

If parents want to know what the attitudes of their children will be when they become adults, all the parent needs to do is to appraise himself. The children will be just like him.

Here is the reason for our kids wanting to drop out of Sunday School by the time they are third and fourth graders. They simply want to do what the parents are doing — not attend.

They are more impressed by what their parents do than by what they say.

Here is the reason the writer is not too much concerned about the change of emphasis on prayer in public schools.

The most important place, in fact the only place for prayer, is in the home.

Many people who have raised their voice in protest to the Supreme Court's decision do so because they think this fetter of so called school prayer will make up for the lack of prayer in the homes. It never can.

The home is the most important, dynamic place for the teaching of religious values by precept and example. "Train up a child in the way he is to go (by your own example) and when he is old he will not depart from it."

Creator Of World-Known "Sasha" Doll Visits Teaters In Hagerman Valley

By BONNIE BAIRD JONES
Times-News Staff Writer

Dolls with a strong appeal to adults and children alike — each a creative work of art and each one different — are just part of the contributions Sasha Morgenthaler, Zurich, Switzerland, has made toward helping others enjoy life just a little bit more.

The creator of the world-known "Sasha" dolls has been a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Archie B. Teater at their home in Hagerman Valley on her way from Switzerland to Australia.

Mrs. Morgenthaler and the Teaters met last year in Zurich where Mr. Teater, a prominent Idaho and Wyoming artist, was on tour.

Captured by the wistful expressions and the unique craftsmanship of these dolls, the Idaho couple purchased two of them and brought them back to Idaho.

Since then Mr. Teater has used the dolls as subjects for a number of his paintings.

Mrs. Morgenthaler, who says she will soon be 74, had just returned from a visit to her daughter in Australia and continued to Chicago where she was to visit her son. She has another son in Zurich.

An artist in her own right and a sculptress, Mrs. Morgenthaler is the widow of the late Ernst Morgenthaler, well-known Swiss artist.

However, "only one artist in a family can achieve success," she stated in explaining why, during her husband's lifetime, she did not pursue her career in the art world to any extent.

Her doll making began when her three children were small and she made their toys. In addition to her art and sculpting talents, Mrs. Morgenthaler has studied human anatomy and these three talents combined have given the Sasha dolls their child-like appeal that has captured a worldwide following.

From the stuffed toys such as horses and water buffalo of her youngsters' childhood days she has advanced to dolls with arms and legs joined in a manner to facilitate movement in any direction — but only as the human arm or leg will move.

With these dolls, as in the human body, one leg may be a tiny bit smaller or the features may "hook" be as perfect as in factory-made dolls. And in each doll something of her own sparkling personality is apparent.

Only about 100 to 150 dolls are produced by the Swiss doll-maker in a year. The number depending on how much time she devotes to the business. This she devotes to the dolls is now made by assistants, but Sasha Morgenthaler still makes each part of the doll herself. Needless to say, her creations are in greater demand than her home "factory" can meet.

"When we were in Zurich," Mrs. Teater noted, "there were only three available and we purchased two of those."

The originals are available in the United States although in limited quantities in large cities. In Zurich they sell for about $150 each.

The handmade Sasha dolls are made from a special ceramic material that has been developed by Mrs. Morgenthaler and is practically unbreakable. Some 70 shades of paint have been mixed for the skin tones.

Speaking in English that she says "is not my best language," the Swiss visitor said, "I hate that they cost so much and so I have permitted one to be copied by a factory in Germany."

"Now they can be purchased for $15 to $18 in the United States and most of Europe. In Zurich there is now a model selling for only $6" she added.

Although the factory model has lost much of the perfection the handmade doll offers, they are still a lovable product and, as the price drops, Sasha Morgenthaler hopes no child would be denied a Sasha doll.

DURING A VISIT TO Hagerman Valley, Sasha Morgenthaler, Zurich, Switzerland, was reunited with two of her "children," the "children," handmade dolls created by Mrs. Morgenthaler, were purchased by her hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Archie B. Teater, last year in Zurich. (Times-News photo)

Genuine hair, now more and more difficult to obtain, appears to grow from her dolls' heads. In the factory models this is not the case as synthetic hair is used.

During World War I, Sasha Morgenthaler made other contributions to children. She served as a volunteer worker for an organization which cared for refugee children who came to Switzerland from war-damaged countries. Here again, she made them toys because there were none to buy.

For a time Mrs. Morgenthaler thought she might not get to Idaho after all. Attempting to get a flight from San Francisco to Boise, she couldn't find anyone who had heard of Boise.

"I finally had to show them on a map," she said, "and they all laughed. I was pronounced 'I-Boys' and they told me here there is an 'ee' on the end of the word."

After some 20 hours of travel without sleep, Mrs. Morgenthaler found the Teater home and the scenic Hagerman Valley a most restful spot. A skier in earlier years, she particularly enjoyed Idaho's snow-covered mountains and Snake River Valley.

Waiting for her at the Teater home was a letter from one of Sasha Morgenthaler's "satisfied customers," Mrs. Loreta Kerr, Twin Falls, who also owns one of the Sasha dolls, wrote to say that while she would be unable to meet Mrs. Morgenthaler, she could not resist expressing her enjoyment in owning the doll.

MAGIC VALLEY PORTRAIT . . . Claude Rogers, Eden, Termed Asset To Community For Youth, Civic Work

EDEN—"A man never stands so tall as when he bends down to help a child!"

This famous saying could have been written with one special person in mind, Claude A. Rogers, Eden, who has devoted every summer for the past 9 years to coaching and managing local baseball teams, Little League, pony league and the Legion teams — and has worked as acting scoutmaster and assistant scoutmaster for the past 12 years. He is presently the institutional representative of Troop No. 62.

That sounds like a full time job in itself but Mr. Rogers also has had time to serve on the Eden village board of trustees for the last six years. He was elected chairman this year. Mr. Rogers also belongs to the local Lions Club and has held office of president, vice president and secretary. He also is "100% a member of the American Legion, and an active member of the Church of Christ."

Two of his fondest treasures are the trophy Little League team presented to him in 1962 and the "home-run ball" that won the Magic Valley Youth Baseball Championship for the team that same year.

The trophy is inscribed, "To Coach Claude Rogers — with thanks — The Eden Pirates," and is engraved with the name of each member of the team. The ball has been signed by the boys who played on his team that year.

The Pony League was twice consolation championship winners in the Rexburg State All-Star Tournaments and in 1962 they won 12 games and lost only one in league play.

The Little League team he worked with won the State Championship trophy in Malad.

He is very proud of every boy he has coached. Two of them began playing their first baseball under his direction, and all of them have grown to be fine young citizens.

Some of the team members have gone on to further their careers in baseball.

Ronald Clark was tapped by the Miami Braves for a year and then came home to play with the Magic Valley Cowboys last season. Ricky Kelly, a left-handed hurler, is a pitcher in Kerr, Twin Falls, who also owns one of the Sasha dolls, wrote to say that while she would be unable to meet Mrs. Morgenthaler, she could not resist expressing her enjoyment in owning the doll.

CLAUDE A. ROGERS
Diego, Calif.; Brenda, 15, and Greg, 7.

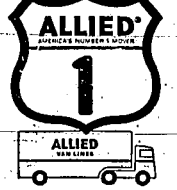

He entered the U. S. Army in January, 1943, and served with the 4th Infantry Division in the European Theater until Oct. 18, 1944, when he was wounded near Fremontfontain, France, along with was commonly known as the Siegfried Line. With wounds in his right hand, thigh and foot he was hospitalized for six weeks in France and then spent the next 11 months in Baxter General Hospital in Spokane, Wash.

After his discharge in 1945 he started working for J. R. Simpson Co. In 1950 he went to work at Morgan-Lindsay, Inc., Eden, a bean and pea warehouse, and was promoted to foreman the next year, which position he still holds.

An avid hunter and fisherman, Mr. Rogers usually manages to work in an elk hunting trip each year and when the steedhorns are running up on the middle fork of the Salmon River one can usually find him there.

The Money Box

BY FRANK SCHELL

First letter this week comes from Mrs. L. R. M., who does not list an address. Since the letter is postmarked from Burley, we presume she lives there. She writes: "I have a large brass medal which has a picture of a building on one side of it. It says 'U.S. Govt. Building' and below the building are some measurements. On the back it says 'Treasury Department, World's Columbian Exposition, Chicago 1893, United States Mint Exhibit.' Can you tell me anything about it?"

Answer: Your medal is evidently very worn. The date on the back reads "1893" rather than "1892". At the Columbian Exposition which was held in 1892 and 1893 in Chicago, the United States Mint actually struck a number of medals at the fair itself.

The fair commemorated the 40th anniversary of the discovery of America. This particular medal which you have is an official strike of the fair. It is not a very scarce medal, and is listed in Hillier-Kuppen's "So-called Dollars" as either No. 154 or No. 155, of which the latter is the scarcer. Collectors will pay between $3.00 and $5.00 for nice copies of this medal, but yours is evidently rather well-worn.

Later from D. L. Huhl, Idaho: "I have a coin which looks like aluminum. On one side is a shield with some kind of a wreath around it and the letters 'Magyar Republikum'. On the other side is a large 'F' with some leaves around it, and underneath 'Forint.' Can you tell me where it is from and what it is?"

Answer: Your coin is a "One Forint" piece from Hungary. The coin was first struck in 1937, and is made of aluminum.

Collector value for a brand new coin is about 35 cents. Rate of exchange in United States money is about 8 cents. The coin is not scarce and is easily obtained.

From Mrs. H. P. Jerome, Idaho: "I have a coin which has a picture of a woman's head on it, and around the woman's head the wording, 'Victoria D. Britannia R.' and some other lettering too worn to read. It has a date which looks like 1867, but I can't be sure. On the back is a shield with what appears to be some animals and around this it says, 'States of Jersey' and 'One Twenty-sixth of a Shilling.' Is this colonial money?"

Answer: You have a coin from the island of Jersey (not New Jersey in the United States), which is an island off the west coast of France, belonging to Britain. The island has a Lieutenant-Governor appointed by the British Crown, but is not subject to British rule. All of the coinage of the island is in fractional parts of the British shilling. The "woman's head" on the coin is that of Victoria and the coin was struck from 1868-1871. Exchange value is less than one-half cent — and collector value on a very fine coin is around thirty-five cents.

From D. W., Twin Falls, Idaho: "I have a copper coin which has a picture of a man seated by what looks like a plow. Above it says One Centavo, below Philippines. On the back, around an eagle and a shield, it says United States of America, and underneath 1926. What can you tell me about it?"

Answer: You have the standard one centavo piece of the Philippine Islands. A great many of these are around in the United States, brought back by soldiers after World War II.

Most of these coins were minted in San Francisco — and if you look to the left of the date I am sure you will see a small 'C' which is the mint mark of the San Francisco mint. The coin is very common, and brand new specimens are worth less than fifteen cents. There are 100 of these in a Philippine peso, and the peso is worth about fifty cents in United States money.

The Magic Valley Coin Club has asked this column to include an invitation to all persons interested in coin collecting to attend their regular meeting which is held the third Tuesday of each month at the Twin Falls City Hall. "First" Noted In Jerome As Chapters Host Sweetheart Ball

By CYNTHIA MCKENZIE

JEROME — A first was noted in Jerome recently, when members of Psi and Xi Alpha Epsilon Chapters, Beta Sigma Phi, joined forces to host their first Sweetheart Ball.

Members, their husbands and guests had literally and figuratively a ball as they danced to the music of the Bob Parker Duo, had a Dutch lunch and generally enjoyed themselves at the Jerome Elks Lodge.

At 11 p.m. the event was highlighted by the crowning of two chapter sweethearts, Mrs. George Beer, Jerome, Psi Chapter, and Mrs. John George, Shoshone, Xi Alpha Epsilon Chapter.

Both young women have been entered in international competition of Beta Sigma Phi for the title of Valentine Queen, by their respective chapters, following vote of the membership.

Mrs. Beer, mother of four children, has worked on the social committee and served as vice president of Psi chapter. An active member of the Methodist Church, Mrs. Beer is presently serving as president of the Susannah Wesley Circle and is a past president of the Barrymore Club.

Mrs. George, mother of two, is serving as recording secretary of Xi Alpha Epsilon Chapter. A member of the First Baptist Church, Shoshone, where she has resided for the past two years, Mrs. George sings in the church choir and is active in the Missionary Society.

She was a voting delegate to the Republican Women's state convention and is secretary of the organization.

The first chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, which is a social, cultural and service group, was founded in Abilene, Kan. The major annual observance of chapters all over the world is on Founders Day, April 30, which, this year, will mark the 36th anniversary of the founding of the sorority.

The membership now includes 185,000 sisters in 8,000 chapters in 15 countries.

Last year's Valentine Queen, who was chosen by Dick Van Dyke, was from a Missouri Chapter.

First runner-up was from North Carolina, and second runner-up was from Hawaii.

The international Valentine Queen becomes the cover girl for each February edition of the organization's official magazine, "Torch."

Beta Sigma Phi has a progressive order of chapters as part of its program, ranging from the Ritual of Jewels Chapters, through the Exemplar Chapters and continuing through the Order of the Rose Chapters, for older women. There is also a chapter for teen-age girls.

Psi Chapter, which is of the Ritual of Jewels, is sponsored by Mrs. Dwight McGill. Its members last year held money-raising projects from which funds were donated to the Library Book Fund and to the Jerome County Association for Retarded Children.

Its continuing project for the past three years has been monthly birthday anniversary parties, complete with cakes, by members, for residents of St. Benedict's Hospital Long-Term Care Unit. Presently serving the chapter as president is Mrs. Gilbert Anderson.

Xi Alpha Epsilon, which is an Exemplar Chapter, has already held two special social functions, the annual daughters dinner held in October and the charter anniversary dinner party in November. Members host an annual winter party in March, when they attend the Dilettante production.

As a service project this year, the chapter is planning to hold a formal tea for Rodeo Queen candidates prior to the Jerome County Fair. Mrs. Bud Bragg is serving as chapter president.

Co-chairmen for the Sweetheart Ball were the social chairmen of their respective chapters, Mrs. Gary Newton, Psi Chapter, and Mrs. Ed Churchman, Xi Alpha Epsilon.

They were assisted by Mrs. Jack Adams, Mrs. Harold Greenawalt and Mrs. Phil Thoman.

There were only two sweethearts crowned at the ball, but many others enjoyed the activities with them.

AMONG THE GUESTS at the recent social in Jerome were Leon Swenson and Joanno Todd. There were only two sweethearts crowned at the ball, but the many other guests enjoyed all phases of the ball with them. (Times-News photo)

Dear Abby

GAIL VAN BUREN these days, but this is what one great American champion of human rights had to say about "censorship" 185 years ago: "I am mortified to be told that, in the United States of America, a question about the sale of a book can be carried before the civil magistrate. Are we to have a censor whose imprimatur shall say what books may be read, and what we may buy?"

"Shall a layman, simple as ourselves, set up his reason as the rule for what we are to read? Is it an insult to our citizens to question whether they are rational beings or not?"

Ladies Of Elks Host Annual Sweetheart Ball

More than 200 Ladies of Elks and their partners were welcomed to the 15th annual Sweetheart Ball at the Elks Lodge. The semi-formal event, sponsored by the Ladies of Elks, was arranged by co-chairmen, Mrs. Michael Stover and Mrs. Ray McBride.

American Beauty red and pink valentine motif provided the background setting. The theme, "Dear Heart," was carried out in the American Beauty backdrop centered with a huge pink heart, flanked with white cupid. The highlight of the decorations was a huge three dimensional heart suspended from the center of the ceiling. Judge was a mobile cupid of styrofoam. Hearts and cupid completed the setting.

Don McKinstler, president of the group, presented a Deltoid Aid Therapy Machine to Dick Williams, administrator of the Elks Rehabilitation Center. The group has been working since September to obtain this unit for the center. It is a machine designed to help those who have paralysis or weakness in arms, shoulder or upper body.

The machine provides support of the patients upper extremities and gives immediate patient activity and confidence. It provides controlled movement so the patient can feed himself and enhances the development of skills in diversional activities and fine motor activities.

Mr. Williams told the group that the center was originally started in 1947 for treatment of polio patients. After polio was cured, other disabilities have been treated. Anyone is eligible to enter, regardless of race, creed or color, and no favoritism is shown to Elks members. If patients can pay, they are charged. Where things are necessary, a desire to be helped and a doctor's recommendation. They have accommodations for 17 regular patients, and they have an average of 100 outpatients each month.

Mr. Williams told Billy, an 8-year-old patient from Alaska, who is spending his second year at the center, and is making a marked improvement.

A dinner honoring Mr. and Mrs. Williams was held in the Depot Grill Caboose Room in the center.

Committee members assisting with decorations for the dance were Pete Stover, Mr. McBride, Mr. and Mrs. McKinstler, Katie Barker, Lesa Richter, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Hempleman, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bolyard, Mrs. and Mrs. Stan Detweiler, Mr. and Mrs. Fred McCoy, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hubert, Mr. and Mrs. Doner Bertsch, Mr. and Mrs. Max Mathews, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Makin, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ainsworth and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Althames.

Delsa Nebeker, Gifford Wed In Temple Rites

JEROME — At a Jan. 19 morning ceremony at the Idaho Falls LDS Temple, Delsa Mae Nebeker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nebeker, Murtaugh, became the bride of Jessie Alma Gifford, son of Mrs. J. E. Gifford and the late Mr. J. E. Gifford, Jerome.

The ceremony was performed by Elder Eyon W. Huntsman, great uncle of the bridegroom.

A reception honoring the couple was held the following evening at the Wendell LDS Cultural Hall. The bride wore a full-length gown of Chantilly lace over alpper satin, fashioned with a chapel train. It featured a tiered skirt, lily point sleeves and a boat neckline, outlined in top tier of the skirt. A crystalline bow, with long streamers, defined the waistline at the back. Her three-tiered elbow-length veil of bridal illusion was held by a crown of seed pearls and crystals.

The bride's bouquet was centered with a white orchid, surrounded by white carnations, tied with flocked blue organza ribbon and blue satin shower bonnet. She carried a lace banky, gift from the maid of honor.

Mrs. Tom Crittenden, Woods Cross, Utah, served as matron of honor. Maid of honor was Elaine Johnston, Wendell, and bridesmaid was Janice Nebeker, Murtaugh, sister of the bride. Nancy Lancaster was flower girl. Roy Olson, Jerome, was best man.

The reception line was formed in the foyer of the hall. The newlyweds and their parents greeted guests before a background of white baskets of massed white chrysanthemums and carnations, tied with blue ribbons.

Both the bride's table and the punch table were covered with white lace with blue. The bride's table was centered with a four-tiered wedding cake, iced in white and decorated with blue sugar roses and white sugar wedding bells.

A miniature bouquet of blue satin roses and lilies of the valley rested in a frosted colonnade which supported the top tier of the cake. The cake was topped by a miniature bride and bridegroom standing in an arch of white wedding bells.

The cake was served by Evelyn Neiffenger, who had baked and decorated it, and Verla Lancaster. Punch was served by Carolyn Ellis and Irene Gifford, sisters-in-law of the bridegroom.

Guests were seated at quartet tables covered with white lace over blue, and centered with white angel hair, each with a white carnation floating in blue-tinted water.

The piano top was decorated with blue angel hair and featured a bride doll, flanked by blue tapers in crystal holders.

Opening prayer was given by Merlin Lancaster of the state presidency. Lee Gifford, brother of the bridegroom, was master of ceremonies for the program.

The newlyweds reside at 509 1/2 E. Ave. B, Jerome, where the bridegroom is employed by Lynn McCord Body Shop.
