CSI Sells Remainder of Bonds, Interest Rate Is Lower Than Earlier Issue

When College of Southern Idaho trustees decided to follow the advice of their fiscal agent and delay the sale of the remaining $2 million of a $3 million bond issue, the result was a plus-$13,000 saving per year for district taxpayers. Monday night the other $2 million in bonds were sold at an interest rate of .65 percent lower than those sold Sept. 25, 1966. Successful bidder on the $2 million 20-year issue was Crocker Citizens National Bank and Associates, San Francisco. They presented a bid of 3.48 percent as compared to the low bid on the $1 million issue of 3.63 percent. The sale of the $1 million last fall was necessary because the college had financial obligations with a time limit involved. The option on the site selected for the college campus was due to expire in Dec., 1966. If the same would have been held even though the bond market was at a high peak.

When preparing for the first bond sale, fiscal agent George Denton advised trustees to delay the sale of the remaining bonds. He pointed out that time that experts felt the "fluctuating" bond market was due for improvement in early 1967. Since then the market has indeed improved, hence, a considerable savings to college district taxpayers.

An emergency bill was rushed through the state Legislature last week allowing the midnight sale. The action was made necessary when underwriters of the bonds informed CSI officials they would have to withdraw because of the Supreme Court's decision on utility assessments. When the $2 million bonds were approved by district taxpayers May 10, 1966, it was within bounds set according to the utility assessment act. The utility assessment act was amended to allow the sale of the bonds.

Legislative action has been made illegal by the high court's action, but had the college been allowed to sell the bonds, it would have undoubtedly affected the rate of interest bid on the $2 million bond issue because of the high interest rate on the $1 million bonds. CSI bonds are now rated 'AA'.

High bidder on the parcel of land was Northern Trust Co., with a bid of $2 million. The sale was approved by district taxpayers May 10, 1966, it was within bounds set according to the utility assessment act. The utility assessment act was amended to allow the sale of the bonds.

By JAY BOWLES
CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — U.S. Dist. Judge Frank W. Wilson has ordered James R. Hoffa, Teamsters Union president, to appear here Tuesday morning to begin serving an eight-year prison term for jury tampering.

Less than an hour before Hoffa was to appear here Tuesday morning to begin serving an eight-year prison term for jury tampering, Hoffa's attorneys requested a stay of execution. Hoffa's attorneys requested a stay of execution.

House Bars Powell, May Have Trouble Making Ban Stick

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has barred Adam Clayton Powell, its most controversial and flamboyant member — but may have trouble making the ban stick. While the Harlem preacher relaxed at his Bahamian fishing retreat at Elmin, his attorneys termed Wednesday's action of the House "unconstitutional." They raised the threat of a federal court suit to overturn it. The House itself may have to deal with the matter again, perhaps within two months.

A special election will be held to fill Powell's seat and there is every likelihood he again will be elected to fill the post he has held 22 years. "I will come back to haunt the House," said Rep. Emanuel Celler, the venerable New York Democrat. The House rejected 223 to 202 the recommendation of its select committee to seat the Negro Democrat with a five-year term. A $40,000 assessment and the loss of all seniority.

The action also rejected leadership from both parties, who had backed the committee leader, and led to the final ouster 307 to 116. "If I were representing Adam Clayton Powell," Celler told reporters Tuesday, "I'd sue the court right away. I think he's got a good case."

Rep. Frank A. Moore Jr., the West Virginia Republican who fought alongside Celler for Powell's retention, referred reporters to his statement midway through the five-hour debate. "I'll turn him back with an even greater majority."

The House later packed but orderly. Although Powell, 58, was absent, his lawyers were expected to take the case left when the outcome became clear. Later, they issued a terse statement through Powell's office which said: "Within a few days an announcement will be made by our behalf that Adam Clayton Powell is in any future course of action."

House rights leaders expressed anger at the House action, and in Powell's Harlem district, city leaders were indignant and said they'd vote to ouster him. Although the future was uncertain, the action occurred at 6:55 p.m. Wednesday, Adam Clayton Powell ceased to be either a congressman or a member of the 90th Congress. His $30,000 annual salary will be paid to the extent of $100, plus $58,800 for the remainder of the year. His $1 million in public school income fund for distribution to the school districts. The total amount compares with $7.1 million in the current biennium.

Rep. Dan Laveland, R-Buffalo, chairman of the Joint Finance-Appropriations Committee, said the increase is more than the $15 million estimate needed to keep the state aid at the same per-student level as in the past.

He said the measure provided by the Department of Education that amounting to $1 million, he said that the $1 million figure used by some includes an increase of $50 per student in the state's allocation of funds as compared with the present biennium.

Senate Releases Hold On Measure Merging Two Retirement Systems

By EARL L. JESTER
BOISE (AP) — The Senate released its hold today on the bill merging the teachers and public employees retirement systems. The measure would allow the two systems to merge into a single system.

Approved and sent to the House Tuesday was a proposed constitutional amendment making the office of State Superintendent elective, rather than appointive. The measure consolidates retirement systems which have been approved by both the House and Senate, had been held for possible reconsideration. Some senators said they wanted to retain possession of the measure until the public school appropriation bill was introduced.

That measure came to the Senate late Wednesday and no action was made today. Further control of the merger, it was returned to the House for transmission to the Senate by the House.

Sen. R. H. Young, R-Nampa, the president pro tempore, told the Senate that unless the school appropriation bill is increased, the merger is likely to result in a reduction in state pay for teachers. He said that he has been participating in the teaching retirement program. Hereafter, he said, he will be a member of the retirement program, but the state pays for the employees' portion.

The later cost is figured at $5.5 million for two years beginning next July 1. The appropriation bill provides that amount plus $58,800 for the remainder of the year. His $1 million in public school income fund for distribution to the school districts. The total amount compares with $7.1 million in the current biennium.

Talks To Be Held To Limit Missiles

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson said today he has gotten personal confirmation from Premier Alexei Kosygin that the Soviet Union is willing to begin discussions with the United States on possible ways to limit the spread of both offensive and defensive missiles. Johnson, holding his second news conference in four days, said he had written Kosygin on Jan. 27 to propose that the two governments discuss a possible halt in the development of anti-ballistic defensive missiles. He said he had received a reply from Kosygin that "confirms the willingness of the Soviet Government to discuss the possibility of limiting the arms race in both offensive and defensive weapons."

The President said talks will be held in Moscow with Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson representing the United States. He said he did not know what the talks would be about, but emphasized that the United States will be discussing the matter throughout with its allies. Johnson expressed hope that the Moscow discussions would begin this week, but he said it was possible that he would receive Kosygin's reply. He said he did not have that information at the time. The application was made by the Soviet premier had written to Johnson.

Perhaps by coincidence, Johnson held his impromptu news conference a few hours before the arrest in the fourth district of Robert Kennedy, D-N.Y., was announced on American police in Vietnam. He said the United States has repeatedly expressed willingness to stop the bombing if Hanoi stopped its acts of war.

FBI Clears Shaw In Garrison Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. designate Ramsey Clark said today the Federal Bureau of Investigation already has investigated and cleared Clay L. Shaw, a businessman arrested in New Orleans as any part of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy. Clark made the statement to the Senate Judiciary Committee approved his nomination to become attorney general. Shaw, wealthy retired director of the International Trade Mart, has been booked on a charge of "conspiracy to commit murder" in the Kennedy assassination investigation being run by New Orleans Dist. Atty. Gen. Garrison.

In a brief corollary interview, Clark said the Justice Department knows what Garrison's case involves, and does not consider it valid. He said Shaw "was included in an investigation in November and December of 1963."

"On the evidence that the FBI has, there was no connection between Shaw and the assassination of the president," Clark said. "On Nov. 22, 1963, Clark was checked out and found clear." Clark was asked if he was in contact with Shaw. Both the FBI and the Justice Department had previously refused to discuss the arrest of Shaw. Shaw's arrest was the first in Garrison's assassination probe.

Hansen Lauds Action Taken On Powell

POCAHELLO (AP) — Rep. George Hanger, R-Idaho, said Thursday the exclusion of Adam Clayton Powell from Congress was the best thing that has long way toward answering critics who say it is lax in its own policing.

"It has also served notice on its members that it will not long tolerate abuses by them in the public trust," Hanger said he could see "little justice" in paying Powell $120,000 in salary over a four-year period in order to keep the public relations and Wright who the investigative committee had not had missed. The congressman also noted that a real problem would have been created in attempting to collect the money over two terms, since Congress cannot bind future congresses.

"I, therefore, did not support the resolution," Hanger said. "I am glad that the committee and instead voted to deny him his seat." Hanger said the findings of the committee have been turned over to the Justice Department for possible use in civil or criminal cases.

Coed Found After Month In Canyon

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A college coed missing for a month was found Wednesday, weak from exposure and lack of food, in a canyon of northern Mexico.

For the past two weeks, Eleanor Dart told a rescuer she had gone without food but her condition was regarded generally as good. She said she was with her companion, Miss Dart had been on a mountain-climbing trip, was still unaccounted for when she was found and helped for Kellogg, 21, of Gold Hill, Ore. Miss Dart, 20, lives at Eugene, Ore.

The two left Claremont, Calif., on Feb. 13, to climb 10,344-foot Mt. Diablo, 35 miles south of the U.S. border and the tallest peak in Baja California. When they failed to return to Claremont, Calif., search parties were sent out.

Opportunities For Small Businessmen Noted

Oliver T. Davis, Boise, regional director of the Small Business Administration, told members of the Twin Falls Lions Club Wednesday that opportunities for small businessmen have "never been greater than they are now."

Mr. Davis addressed a large group gathered for the regular luncheon meeting at the Roper Hotel Roundup Room.

He pointed out that while opportunities are great, the businessman faces competitive factors. "The greatest opportunity open today is undergoing tremendous changes," he asserted, "and the successful businessman of the future must be alert to these changes, adapt himself to new management techniques, take advantage of his versatility to serve with new innovations, new products and services."

Most business failures, he said, are because of mismanagement, not lack of dollars. "You simply can't do business today and tomorrow with yesterday's methods," he noted.

On every hand, he said, lies opportunity for small businessmen out ahead as the hard core of America's economy. "If you want to grow," Davis emphasized, "find out what your customers want. What are they buying today? What services do they expect? What are the trends now and five years away? Then give your customers that service.

"And don't just have it available. Tell your customers about it with hard-hitting promotional in-today's market, customers do not want to seek you out. They want to be carried and cultivated. They want you to ask for the order, and if you don't, someone else will.

"You must either sell and sell hard or expect someone else to take over your customers, your volume, your profits, and ultimately your business."

The SBA is best known as a lending agency, but, "merely borrowing more money, without solving the basic management problem, may be the shortest route to bankruptcy," Davis re-

At the Soldier Range, Station just above the ski area, there were 37.5 inches of snow on the course with a water content of 12.3 inches. Last year there were 30 inches of snow with a water content of 8.8 inches. The 15 year average for this course as of March 1 is 11.6 inches of water content.

This was the first measurement for this year on the Couch Summit course.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

By ANDREW TULLY

WASHINGTON — Michigan's Gov. George Romney is such a thoroughly decent citizen that it is impossible not to sympathize with him as he takes his first swing in the big league of discovering that running for President is an ordeal unlike anything else in the American scene.

Among other things, George Romney has found that the candidate who is elected will be forced to suffer the sling and arrows of an electorate which will be more than a little impatient interest in any man who Andrew Tully seeks the nation's No. 1 job.

NO SUBSTANTIATION—Thus it was not surprising, but overdue, when Romney clashed with national reporters at Pocatello, Idaho, Monday, March 1, over his position on Vietnam. One of these gentlemen—the press was very pushy in asking Romney to give a specific instance of the "political expediency" Romney declined to do so, whereupon the reporter asked him why not.

AFROTTLO TO VOTERS—This was an awful guess on Romney's part. He should know by now that folks do not take seriously a candidate who issues a complaint but who refuses to explain what he's complaining about. It makes them feel that the guy is all right when he's marbles, because he seems to be saying that he will not trust the voters to examine the merits of his case. In fact, even the most slack-jawed ballot marker assumes this right.

ON THE SPOT—It was natural, of course, that a Negro minister in Salt Lake should have demanded that Romney—Dell—The Mormon candidate is yet "required" to discuss the "doctrine of the Negro" before he can be considered for serious preference. A man of good faith, Romney still was forced to accept the unity premise of the country had a right to hear his position on the Negro in the light of the church and state, and he did so in Houston in one of the most inspiring confrontations of our times.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo.—This small town with its traditional dome of capitol is an unlikely place to look for seeds of revolution. But in Jeffersonville, Ind., and in other state capitals across the country a rumble of revolution is rising that can shatter traditional patterns of power.

SOVIET FISHING PACT

The U.S. State Department gave a little and got a little in negotiating the new agreement with the Soviet Union on offshore fishing. Whether one overbalances the other will depend on the details of the pact, to be signed in about two weeks. State's news release is on the vague side.

GUIDELINES DROPPED

Although President Johnson scrapped his 12 per cent guidelines on wage and price increases, he admonished both business and labor to observe their own restraints in an effort to halt inflation.

Opinions Of A Conservative

By BARRY GOLDWATER

In all of the hand-wringing thing far different. In those cases the revelations of CIA support of everything—from students to newsmen,—I have enjoyed to see any kind of exposure of the general activities of the CIA organizations.

It is not to my mind, that the most significant point involved in this, is that the CIA has been getting the student group to do its chores abroad. That, after all, is what the agency was set up to do — to get information by any means practicable, that the end result of the CIA support goes beyond that.

It is the CIA money that pours into a private organization support of all the activities of that group, under the name of the CIA, or of any sprawling government operation with a security stamp to cover its activities. The CIA dollars it got used, to support activities which emphasize domestic political impact.

Speaking for the three-man committee appointed by the CIA affair, Nicholas Katzenbach said last week that the report would be able to recommend conclusions — recommendations early in March.

Washington Viewpoint

By BRUCE BOSSAT

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Severely wounded in the Washington Republican leaders who were coiled to Michigan Governor George Romney's representatives at a recent party meeting in New Orleans are described by knowledgeable sources as having been "warmed up" by Romney himself on his 8,500-mile western swing.

Lone Eagle, '67 Style

Forty years after Charles Lindbergh flew alone from New York to Paris nonstop, another adventurer hopes to exceed his exploit by a factor of seven.

James Bede, designer and builder of light-planes in Cleveland, Ohio, intends nothing less than an assault on one of the great adventures of aviation—flight around the world—nonstop, unrefueled and alone.

On or about March 15, if no mechanical problems develop and global weather forecasts are agreeable, Bede will take off from Cleveland on a 42-day, 27,000-mile zigzag journey, across the eastern United States, the Atlantic, Europe, North Africa, the Indian Ocean, Australia, the South Pacific, Hawaii, the rest of the Pacific and the western United States back to Cleveland.

He will fly on oxygen all the way at altitudes of 15,000 to 20,000 feet. An instrument alarm system will wake him if he is inherently stable, but get into trouble during short naps he will take.

CRITICISMS, YES; SOLUTIONS, NO!

The noted historian, Henry Stettin Comager, testifying before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee the other day, warned that the United States has overestimated itself in world power because of a moralistic chieftain with communism and a "messianic" belief in our obligation to keep global peace, stop aggression wherever it pops up, halt the advance of communism and other items we don't approve of and spread democracy throughout the world.

Lincoln Seeks To Halt Tax Revaluation

SHOSHONE—Lincoln county taxpayers are circulating a petition to be presented to the county commissioners March 27 asking that the revaluation program be eliminated from the 1967 budget and all revaluation commitments be dropped.

The revaluation program currently is being carried out in Lincoln county and Ray E. Oyer, assessor, points out he is required by law to carry out assignments from the State Tax Commission. The revaluation project must be completed by 1970 and there is a penalty for not carrying out the law.

The action to circulate a petition results from a citizen's meeting at the local courthouse Monday night attended by nearly 100 persons. During a vote on the question 91 were against with 7 in favor of the revaluation program.

Glenn L. Sorensen, District temporary citizen's committee chairman, said the meeting was called for a preliminary meeting and study of the revaluation program by a smaller group of taxpayers the previous week.

Other citizens committee members are Ed Sheer, north Shoshone, and Elmo Patterson, Richfield. Herb Love, Shoshone, was named to help prepare the petition.

Gooding County Assessor Wes Tronsson said the revaluation is a request from the State Tax Commission, but it is a "demand" and must be carried out, he said the assessors have no alternative but to carry out the revaluation program.

By 1970 property must be assessed at 20 per cent of the full legal value, under provisions of the 20-10 assessment law.

Some present questioned the law when the utilities have secured a supreme court ruling in favor of their appeal to be assessed equally—not at the 40 per cent.

Others indicated they were willing to give the law a test and take the matter before the court if necessary to have a voice in the taxation program. The people spoke out against more government taxation against the method employed to impose these taxing programs upon the people," Mr. Sorensen said.

Audience participation was kept and pros and cons of the program explained in detail. A round of applause was given for Assessor Oyer when Floyd Silva, Shoshone, stated he had great faith in the assessor to do the assessing and evaluating of Lincoln County property himself, without outside help.

A number of people who spoke asked that the revaluation program be delayed at least until after the current legislature convenes in order to know how much change will be effected by laws passed at this time. There are several bills noted in explanation of bills by Mr. Patterson and others, that could change the entire evaluation picture.

SHOSHONE — Attempts to eliminate scale disease from trees in the community will be made by the Shoshone Chamber of Commerce, members decided at their Monday noon meeting.

Canvass will be made with the Civic Club to solicit their aid in sponsoring an Easter Egg hunt at the city park this spring, as a special Easter event.

Harrell Thorne reported on the last North Side Communities meeting at which E. J. Deary, Jerome, was elected president.

John George reported on proposed project of planting trees along Main Street. This will be studied more before action is taken.

City Gov. Jack M. Murphy will be asked to speak to the chamber as soon as possible after the legislature closes. Guests were County Commissioner Burrell Williams and Herb

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
Dear Abby: To guide older college boys when their son comes home, please tell them not to make the same mistakes our son's pal did last weekend. He opened the refrigerator door and helped himself to anything he wanted to eat. He scrambled into my husband's place at the table.

MIDDLE-AGED MOM IN 'AUGUSTA'

Dear Mom: I doubt if most college boys are invited to the home of a "pat" for the weekend need a guide to proper behavior. Just tell your son not to bring home any more fun-loving, thirsty, ill-bred characters.

Dear Abby: Do you think it is all right to speak to your mother in the same tone she speaks to you? When she talks sharp or sarcastic to me and I answer her back in the same tone she slaps me. It's no wonder I don't have any friends. She scares them away.

Before anybody comes over they ask me, "Is your mother in a good mood?" Please tell me how to get along with a person everybody is afraid of. I have four more years to go before I will be 18 and I can leave. Thank you.

haps she doesn't feel well. When mothers are in a "bad mood" children should try to be even more respectful, obedient, and understanding.

Dear Abby: We just bought a brand new station wagon on the installment plan for a 1,000-mile vacation trip we plan to take. The couple next door want to go with us and said they would pay for all the gas.

It seems to me that if people want to ride in an expensive new car with air-conditioning, tinted, united glass and all those luxuries, they should be willing to pay more. They are not better than we are. What is fair? We don't want to be taken advantage of.

NEIGHBORS

Dear Neighbor: It seems fair enough to me. But if you take a 1,000-mile vacation trip with people you suspect are trying to take advantage of you, I would not go. I've had a longest 7,000-mile trip on record.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "WANTS TO START OVER" IN TORONTO: Don't send him a "cute, studio card" just to remind him that you are still alive. You blew it, Sister. It's all over—no sense in making yourself appear back in the carnival again.

Troubled? Write to Abby, Box 6700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Romney Gains Only Standoff With GOP Leaders at Fund-Raising Dinner

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Michigan Gov. George Romney, tabbed in some polls as the leading Republican contender for the presidency in 1968, gained only a standoff with Republican leaders at a $100,000 fund-raising dinner.

Romney, a top prospect for the 1968 presidential nomination, took an hour to give the form at Wednesday night's GOP gala performance by Gov. Ronald Reagan of California.

Reagan, a prospective California favorite, soon candidate for the nomination, apparently bid for the nomination, will win the applause meter contest with his appearance.

Reagan's appearance, apparently his disastrous defeat by President Johnson.

Goldwater accepted offense that Romney would have a chance for the 1968 nomination "if he returns to the White House."

There was a measure of Republican schism at Romney's refusal to support him in the 1964 race.

The Michigan governor continued to talk in vague terms of future positions on Vietnam, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon was his old, aggressive set on that issue.

Romney was the GOP's chief rival for the GOP nomination, Nixon said in a televised interview that "increased military pressure was the way of reaching the peace."

In an informal meeting with newsmen at the home of Sen.

and the code of ethics of the National Association of Life Underwriters. It will be on display during meetings and in banks throughout Magic Valley, Members meet Monday noon at the Ponderosa Inn, Burley.

to take up the chant "We want Dirksen!"

High Scott, R-Pa., Romney provided only nonanswers to questions on national issues.

Just back from a tour of western states, Romney held the banquet audience, "I've just found how the west was won: blood, sweat and avoiding press conferences."

He talked on economic subjects, saying Johnson was running the national economy "from the pocket of one man."

But Romney didn't waste his time in Washington. His engaging personality and striking television appearance, probably made him new friends. His own personal assessment of the day's venture into national politics was that he had been "very useful."

Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, Utah, thought Romney made a "big impression, but another Republican senator, who asked not to be identified, said that the audience hoped support Romney he left the governor "can't cut the mustard" for a bid for the 1968 nomination.

There was some speculation that Romney, a candidate of the moderate, was angling for the nomination.

He told Republican senators at a luncheon-Wednesday that he believed the 1968 campaign, which permits states to ban the union shop.

Romney was said to have explained he couldn't advocate this publicly in Michigan, where the labor vote could be decisive.

The audience hoped support Romney with an ovation that exceeded applause given Romney when he was in Idaho.

Sen. Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen also drew laughter when he announced at the beginning of the evening's final speech that he had been "invited to the audience."

Court Rules On Rights Of Policeman

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Supreme Court has ruled that a police officer questioned after a crime does not have to be advised of his constitutional rights.

The ruling Wednesday was in the case of James Hyome, a former Vice President of the Lake Township in northwest Ohio. He was convicted of first-degree manslaughter in 1965.

Hyome was on duty at the time of the shooting.

He was arrested—revoked Hyome's conviction. But the Supreme Court unanimously reversed the appeals court ruling, saying statements Hyome made to a deputy sheriff and a coroner were admissible evidence.

The high court said that because Hyome was a police officer, there was no need that he be advised of his constitutional rights before any investigation began.

Treasury Saves Money On Printing

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Treasury is saving money by cutting the cost of printing.

The total per bill of more than two billion printed in last fiscal year was less than nine cents, it was almost exactly a penny per bill.

The cost is the same, officials said, whether grinding out single or 100,000 bills. They're "recycling" the same, next time comes your way, by Salmon P. Chase's picture).

Advances in printing technique, the Treasury said, have pushed the cost of producing 100 million one-dollar bills down to $2.42. It is likely to fall to $2.30 during the present fiscal year, and to $2.11 the year after.

KIMBERLY GAINS A-3 TOURNAMENT FINALS

Eller Hits 33 To Pace Win Over Shoshone; Wood River Ousts Castleford

By LARRY HOVEY
Times News Sports Editor
EDEN-HAZELTON — Cocky Larry Eller put on a 33-point display Wednesday night when the Kimberly Bulldogs drove past the Shoshone Indians 80-60 and into the finals of the fourth district A-3 basketball tournament. Kimberly will sit Thursday night out waiting for the winner of the Wood River-Shoshone game to come out of the loser bracket semi-finals. Kimberly must be defeated twice to lose the title. Wood River, which entered the fray co-favored with Kimberly, kept its hopes alive with a 61-38 blitz of the Castleford Wolves.

Miss Fleming Nears Second Skate Crown

By IANS BENEDICT
VIENNA (AP)—Peggy Fleming of Colorado Springs all but wrapped up her second straight women's title with another brilliant performance Wednesday but the two-time men's winner, Emmerich Danzer of Austria, surprisingly fell behind a teammate in the World Figure Skating Championships. Miss Fleming, 18, a ballerina on ice, whisked through two more compulsory figures—the rocker left and double paragraph three—so precisely that she set her point total soaring to 741.6.

Her closest challenger, Valerie Jones of Canada, was well back at 691.6 and the European champion, Gabriele Seyfert of East Germany, followed at 682.6.

The final two compulsory figures will be skated Thursday with the free skating climax Friday night. The compulsory figures, in which contestants trace fixed designs, counts 60 per cent in the over-all scoring. Free skating is 40 per cent.

The other two American girls — Tina Noyes of Arlington, Mass., and Jennie Walsh of Torrance, Calif. — are out of serious contention, eighth and ninth, respectively in the standings. They have 648.7 points and Miss Walsh 635.5.

The pairs title — the first defense — went to the Russian defending champions, Ludmila Belousova and Oleg Protopopov, who received the highest scoring of the championships with a five-minute repertoire of leaps and spirals for 318.5 points. They were a unanimous pick of the nine judges.

Margot Glockshuber and Wolfgang Dornse of West Germany placed second with 301.4, followed by America's Cynthia and Ronald Kaufmann of Seattle, 290.7.

American hopes in the men's competition received a lift when defending champion and heavy favorite, Danzer, fell behind fellow Austrian Wolfgang Schwyzler after the fourth of six compulsory figures.

Schwyzler went into the lead with 723.5 points, a shade ahead of Danzer at 720.1 — and the Americans remained at least within shooting distance of the title.

Scott Allen of Smoke Rise, N.J., was third with 717.3 while Gerry Wisocil of Detroit, the U.S. figure skater, fell back to fifth with 704.

Donald Knight of Canada, the North American champion, moved in between the two Yanks for fourth place with 744.6. The third U.S. competitor, Jim Wood of Bloomfield Hills, Mich., was 10th with 638.6.

Meanwhile, one of the American judges, Mrs. James Sullivan of Omaha, Neb., wife of an Alf Ford general, came in for criticism for what was called erratic scoring.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rangers will continue shooting elk in Yellowstone National Park as a conservation practice, Park Director George B. Hartig Jr. said Wednesday.

He said, however, that emphasis will be placed on trapping surplus elk in summer "transplanting" to the park.

Reduction of the herd, which has outgrown its range, has caused loud protests from sportsmen and some western congressmen. Most from the animals is going to Indians and welfare institutions in Montana and Wyoming.

Hartig methoded the "direct reduction" under the direct appropriations committee hearing Wednesday and later, at a news conference.

The committee agreed at the request of Sen. Gale McGee, D-Wyo., to hold a hearing in a few weeks on the controversial subject. State and federal agencies will be invited to testify on possible elk herd management techniques.

McGee was promised that Wyoming would get all the elk it can handle from the park.

Hartig said it will be necessary to kill enough elk to reduce the herd from 5,640 to 5,000.

Austrians by giving minimum marks to their veteran world champion, Danzer, and the West Germans blasted her for favoring the American couple, Cynthia and Ronald Kaufmann of Seattle, in the pairs.

Ernst Lubj, Austrian vice-president of the International Skating Union, said Mrs. Sullivan might be suspended.

Scraps in figure skating is a matter of judgment. It has long been a source of controversy in international events where favoritism and politics were charged.

Aleindor Is Named Collegiate Basketball Player Of Year

LOS ANGELES (AP)—All-America basketball star Lew Aleindor of UCLA generally is a serious, solemn young man who doesn't even smile too readily. But the towering sophomore, accented Wednesday walking from one class to another on the vast Bruin campus, beamed broadly when advised he had been named college basketball player of the year in the annual poll conducted by The Associated Press.

"Who else?" was the reaction by the voters when the ballots were counted and announced in New York.

A native of New York and the first sought after athlete in years when he selected UCLA as his educational base, Aleindor received 215 of 290 votes cast.

A distant second, with 40 votes, was Jim Walker of Brooklyn, N.Y., who played for the Hawks, Western Kentucky. Ron Wilby, Tennessee, and fourth, Lloyd Riggs, led for both with four votes each.

"I'm very pleased, I hope I deserve this honor," said Aleindor, choosing his words carefully. "After all, there are a lot of other outstanding players in the country."

"There may be some more deserving but, of course, I would not know about that."

"We have an undefeated season here at UCLA so far and I'm hoping I can go into the year, I'm really looking forward to the NCAA playoffs."

Coach John Wooden of the top rated Bruins was asked for comment.

"Although I'm certain there are many deserving players, I do not feel any boy could be more deserving than Lew Aleindor," said the veteran coach.

"Not only is he great individually, but he is also an unselfish team player. This is why I am sure all of his teammates join me in being extremely proud of the honor that he has received."

The council began preliminary discussions of a proposal to increase the American and National Leagues to 14 teams each from the present 10. Such expansion is not considered likely, however, before 1970.

The baseball executives also agreed to reduce the number of regular season inter-league play, World Series changes contemplated, included opening on Saturday instead of Wednesday night and a weekday night game.

Commissioner William D. Hoyert presided over the all-day meeting, the first of two scheduled here this spring.

T.F.-Burley Tilt Is Opener; Filer To Test Gooding

Teams from the A-1 and A-2 classifications will fill the championship finals of their respective playoffs Thursday when action resumes at 7:30 p.m. in the Twin Falls High School gymnasium. Twin Falls will go against the Burley Bobcats in the opener with Gooding meeting Filer in the night cap. The two losers will go to the sidelines when the winners face the tough task of trying to beat A-1 favorite Burley 65-53 in the night cap. Winners For Junior Ski Races Noted

HAILEY — The first annual Hailey Chamber of Commerce Ski races were held at Rotarian Sunday with 77 children from six to 14 years of age participating.

Ralph Cisco, head of the ski school, said races were broken into five categories. Those 6 to 9 years raced against each other. A second category was the 10 to 11 year olds and a third the 12 to 14 year olds. A special group consisted of members of the Sun Valley race team who had a special race team.

In the 6 to 9 year olds category, Gary Swanson, Bellevue, second, and John Hoffman, Burley, third. In the 10 to 11 year olds category, Phillip Stelmus, Pocatello, first; Steve Kinn, Burley, second; and Stacy Bradford, Twin Falls, second.

In the 12 to 14 year olds category, Phillip Stelmus, Pocatello, first; Steve Kinn, Burley, second; and Stacy Bradford, Twin Falls, second.

Gooding's race seems a bit the reverse. The Solons will have to stress their scoring, their snow removal being a great deal better than Filer's. Underneath Bolton, Krahn and Oakley will have to fight off the inaction of Wildcat ballparks.

The state tournament for the A-1 teams will be held in Boise's Capitol high school gym while the A-2 will play-off in the 1882 gym at Pocatello.

Royals Outlast Lakers 112-116

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Royals blew a 17-point lead Wednesday night, but hung on for a 112-116 National Basketball Association victory over the Los Angeles Lakers.

Cincinnati broke its two-game losing streak by using the lead early in the first quarter and never headed until Mel Counts' 11th of 115 in the fourth quarter.

Mantle Has Look At Ground Balls

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—Mickey Mantle fished about 30 say ground balls Wednesday when he started workouts designed to make him the New York Yankees' regular first baseman.

Mantle, an outfielder for 15 years, was not expected to win out at first base for several more days. He said, however, "I've got to learn something," and asked coach Frank Gottlieb to hit the grounder-his way.

The switch-hitting slugger said afterwards, "I've got eight more days before the exhibition games and 30 exhibition games to see if I can do it. We'll know when whether I can."

March Comes In Like Lamb

For Family Food Shopper
 By SALLY RYAN
 NEW YORK (AP)—March is coming in like a lamb for the family food shopper. A food-price war is brewing in Portland, Ore.
 In Ohio, Okla., and markets have cut egg and milk prices to keep up with the gas stations. That's right, gas stations.
 In New York, a major supermarket chain cut milk prices. And coffee wholesalers have cut their prices for the second time in six months.
 In Portland, coffee fryers are advertised at 27 cents a pound, about 48 and still steak 66, 68 and cut 55 to 62.
 One chain quietly cut prices on the shelves two weeks ago, and the others responded, advertising discount prices.
 Some gas stations began selling milk and eggs at Oklahoma City, last month, exploding a milk price war that saw milk drop from $1.05 to 49 cents a gallon. It now is 64 to 69 cents a dozen, are 49.
 Wholesale milk prices have eased in many areas in recent weeks. This week a major chain in the New York area trimmed retail prices for coffee, from 55 cents to 27 cents a pound, 55 cents a gallon instead of 97.
 The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co., which operates the A&P supermarkets—the nation's largest chain—provided a break for coffee drinkers, new retail prices in the New York area on regular coffee 4 in 6 cent instant coffee, wasn't affected.
 Coffee wholesalers responded by cutting their brands 2 to 4 cents. The reason: There's an awful lot of coffee in Brazil.
 In the meat department, the spotlight's lingering on pork. Suppliers' margins are bigger than a year ago. Ham and bacon prices are lower on the West Coast this week.
 Broilers are down 1 cent a pound in the Southwest.
 Lamb is down 1 to 2 cents a pound on the West Coast, and a major supermarket chain in the New York area is having a lamb sale. Leg of lamb is down 20 cents to 65 cents a pound.

25 Million Infected With Tuberculosis

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Twenty-five million people in the United States are infected with tuberculosis, although their cases aren't active, a U.S. Public Health Service physician estimates.
 Dr. Sidney Dressler said of the 50,000 or so new active TB cases discovered in this nation yearly a majority involve persons who would have had positive responses if they were given tuberculin tests.
 Dr. Dressler, in Los Angeles from Washington, D.C., to attend a symposium on the control of tuberculosis, told a news conference that tuberculin tests must be given to whole populations of school children.
 Although cases of tuberculosis are increasing statistically, the reason is a better reporting and detection system rather than any actual increase in TB.

Uruguay President Is Sworn In

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP)—Gen. Augusto B. Justo, a retired Army general, was sworn in Wednesday as president of Uruguay in a nation deep in economic and financial woes.
 "You will have an honest, capable and devoted government," he told the nation in his inaugural address. But he added a warning to Uruguayans who have leaned heavily on welfare and social programs in the past 15 years.
 "Uruguayans must want to commit suicide, there is no government on earth that can prevent it," he said.
 The Uruguayan people want to be saved, it lies in their power to do so.
 Justo, 65, made his appeal before a joint session of Congress minutes after he took his oath for a five-year term.

ELE AND WALT DULANEY

He Wants Integration In School Cafeteria

Dear Walt: At our high school age? And if so, who do the boys eat lunch on one side of the cafeteria, while the girls eat on the other side of the cafeteria. There's no school rule that makes us do this—just custom. As long as my student remembers, it's been like this and everyone keeps up the habit.

Now I'd like to see things change. I don't go with any special girl, but I know I'd enjoy lunch more if I had some girls to talk to while I ate. Problem is—my friends won't join me in breaking the ice. I know if I go alone, everyone will raze me down for being on the "girl's side." Ideas? Jason.

Dear Jason: Talk with your cafeteria manager, and see if there's any feasible means of rearranging the tables so that instead of two lines with a dividing aisle, there are three sections. That would provide the middle ground to integrate. But if that is impossible, conspire with five girls to host you and four other boys on "their" side next Monday. Then the following Monday, get the guys on the "boys' side." This wedge might open some closed mind—Walt.

JEFF A MENACE
Dear Ele and Walt: I'm worried about my best girlfriend. She dated Jeff for a year—and broke off with him because he wanted her to really immoral things for his friends. Twice since we've broken up, she's been at dances, and forced her to dance with him. He threatens her and tells her that he'll "get her" sooner or later. She's scared stiff and is getting to be a real nervous case. I promised I wouldn't say anything to anyone—but now I think I ought to break my word. Do you know how to break my word?

A ONE TON HINT
Dear Walt: What do you think of a girl who lets a boy take her to the movies, pay for her admission and skate rental, buy her dinner, and then profers to talk with her in the dance contest?—Warming the bench.

Dear Warming: I'd say the girl was asking for removal from her date line. No matter how proficient the girl, I'd expect her to sit out the dance contest rather than enter with some partner other than her escort. If she wants to go for trophies, she should come unescorted or with a partner whose athletic ability equals hers—Walt.

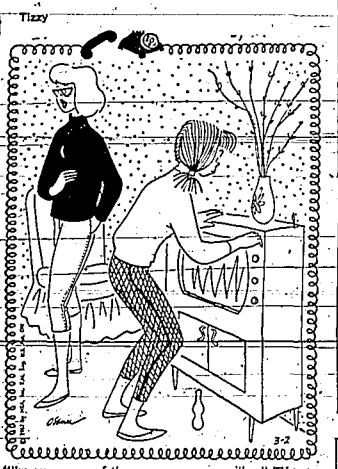

Ele and Walt welcome readers' opinions—good or bad. Send them to Ele and Walt DulaneY at Teenage Date-Line, in care of this newspaper.

They Took Us All

BY MILDRED JONES
Lubbock, Tex.

Ben and I had been married 10 years and had prayed earnestly for children nine of these years. Both of us had enjoyed many brothers and sisters as well as nephews and nieces, but a childless-marriage struck terror in our hearts.

Finally, because there seemed to be no alternative, we tackled the endless red tape that accompanied adoption of children. We decided to adopt one, then wait two years to adopt a second child.

Within two months the agency director called us. "Could you and your husband come down to my office? We'd like to talk to you."

I was almost stammering with excitement. "Is it a boy or girl?"

"Well, we'd like to discuss a few things with you before we say much." It occurred to me that he was hedging, and I was puzzled.

We made an appointment for that afternoon and the director plunged immediately into the most incredible story. "We have brothers that are adoptable, but they're not infants. Let me tell you a little about their background."

There followed an account of an unbelievably tragic life. Their mother had had five children, too many children too close together, illness, marriage to an irresponsible man, to be abandoned and finally being abandoned by him.

There came a time when she had no choice, and she gave the children out for adoption.

Tears stood in my eyes, and without hesitation I cried, "We'll take them both!"

The director looked discomfited. "Well, Mrs. Jones, there aren't just two."

"But how many then?"

Without answering, he rose abruptly and asked us to come with him. Opening the door to a large playroom, he indicated a group of boys at the farthest end.

The oldest boy in the group looked us over approvingly and went back to his checker game. "Your move, Larry," he prodded his partner.

The younger faces remained turned toward us. The oldest boy said loudly, "Get smart. Ain't nobody gonna take all five of us. We seen 'em come in here before, and they all wanta split us up. Forget it, and play."

The four smaller faces continued their silent entreaty, and the combined battery of their beseeching eyes broke my heart. I was flustered and when I looked at Ben, his mouth was holed up as if he had just been punched.

The director shut the door so the boys couldn't hear.

"—all brothers, and they all need parents. We've tried placing them singly, but they're so miserable it hasn't worked at all."

"You're our last hope. Do you think you could possibly see your way clear to adopting five boys?" He smiled wryly, as though he knew what he asked was impossible.

My mind whirled. We were financially able, but five boys... I

Then I thought suddenly of our agreement that we wouldn't ever rear a child alone. If we had a second child, we had provided for children; and here was our family, through the difficult bottle and diaper stage, and desperately in need of a mother and father.

"Ben, I want to take them, all, please?" I begged, he took all of 30 seconds to agree. The director was visibly moved. He asked us to wait outside while he told the boys.

When he opened the door of the playroom, I caught a glimpse of the smallest boy's face. "Wow! They took us all!" Over and over he was repeating incredulously, "they took us all! Wow! They took us all!" Those words and the look on that little face have sustained us through the hard times.

Our boys were 9, 8, 7, 6 and 5, and they all bore a strong family resemblance. When we took them from the orphanage in the new outfit we'd bought them, my heart a moment burst with pride.

When word leaked out that we were adopting five male children, our telephone rang constantly. A neighbor wanted to run a feature story. Art Linkletter called, wanting us to appear on his television program. Then Mr. Moore called us to make our adoption of five our "secret."

Ben and I have refused all offers and still feel that notably wouldn't serve any useful purpose.

I'm delighting till my friends that my problem was childlessness, and I exclaimed it for chaos, but there isn't a single regret.

There have been crises without number. Ben and I have made mistakes.

But when my boys are sitting side by side in church, playing baseball together, or crowded around the table at breakfast, I know that that's one mistake we didn't make — that of wrenching these brothers apart when they enjoy such closeness.

Occasionally I still run across a bit of scrap paper that contains the names of the children. Occasionally I still run across a bit of scrap paper that contains the names of the children. Occasionally I still run across a bit of scrap paper that contains the names of the children.

Editor's Note: Because of the family's desire for anonymity, we have changed the real names, nor otherwise identified the children.

Next: Barbara Britton, secretary of the church, tells how tragic death—and a Broadway flop—taught her a great lesson.
