

Guatemala's Buzzing--It's Padre's Mill

BY O. A. (Gus) KELKER
Executive Editor

In the cool, calm and sometimes fog—throughout almost the high country of Guatemala the sound of a busy saw blade biting through the forest virgin timber shatters the stillness of the land that time forgot.

This sound, in an area where once the proud, highly intelligent and early civilized Maya Indians lived, worshiped and built their temples, marks an epic in today's world.

The direct descendants of the Mayas—now one of the most impoverished and poverty stricken people on earth—are beginning to benefit from the dream of a young Catholic priest.

The dreamer of the reality which shatters the stillness of this wild area is the Rev. Thomas C. O'Neil, pastor of St. Louis in Twin Falls. He is attempting a task which seems unworkable.

He is trying to raise the living standards of the thousands residing in the poverty stricken area by giving them industry of their own. That industry is lumbering. His gift is a sawmill.

And now, after months of work and tears and discouragements, the sawmill works! At last the people are getting financial returns as a result of their labor and Father Tom's project.

Compared to living wages in the United States, it doesn't amount to much. These people subsist on a wage of 50 cents a day is beyond the reach of most workers. Father Tom hopes to raise the income of those participating in the sawmill project to $1 a day.

With God's help and the faith and aid of friends back home, we'll make it! Father Tom told me as we stood in that clearing nearly 10,000 feet above sea level the day the mill was dedicated.

But will he make it? Father Tom is both loved and hated. The Indians who know something of what he is trying to do for them, although they understand neither English or Spanish, love him. Those who, for years, have been victimizing these people, hate him.

How deep is that hate? He has been threatened. Pillage has been threatened. Pillage has been threatened in some areas to get him out of the country. But still he stays and works.

He is devoid of personal ambition—he would have to be to stay where he is and work the way he does. His every effort is directed in dedication to his God, his church and his Indians.

He is a missionary priest in a pagan area and such individuals have to be made of sterner stuff than most of us.

Father Tom is a young priest to labor in the area. They have been there, off and on, since 1650 when the first missionaries arrived. He is not the only one there now. Father Francis C. O'Neil, from Spokane, Wash., labors the same communities as does Father Tom.

Utah Urges Draft Changes

Governor's Fund Request May Be Exceeded by $5 Million

BOISE (AP) — Idaho's legislature appeared likely Saturday to send Gov. Don W. Samuelson a general fund appropriation package about $5 million larger than he is asking. Whether the governor will veto bills, and beyond his recommendations is unanswered. The governor has indicated he will turn down bills he regards as out of line, but has mentioned no specific measures. He called on the legislature in a written message to both the House and Senate Saturday to keep spending at the level he recommends. Failure to do so, he said, "will obviously remove any possibility of tax relief for Idaho's people."

Both the House and Senate met only briefly in the second overtime day of the 1967 session.

Charm School

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — The High School of Charm at St. Louis plans to have in operation by Sept. 1 what the group's director calls "a charm school" for women just released from prison.

"We'll teach them how to do the hair, how to cook, how to walk," said Mrs. Thomas C. Coughlin, director of the school.

The school is housed in a two-story brick building on the corner of Chestnut and Olive streets. It will be an elaborate charm school plus job training.

Younger Men Called First

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — A presidential commission is expected to recommend changes in the draft to embark on a limited lottery, end most and end the first year of service. It is not the only one there now. Father Francis C. O'Neil, from Spokane, Wash., labors the same communities as does Father Tom.

Delayed

BOISE (Special) — A bill setting up two regional airport districts for Idaho will go before the Senate for second reading Monday and for final consideration Tuesday. Sen. Richard Hays, R-Twin Falls, reported Saturday afternoon.

Sen. Hays had hoped the bill could be cleared through the Senate Friday afternoon, but that it was delayed because of difficulty in fitting it into the heavy schedule of bills being considered. The windup of what now is an overtime legislative session.

Beet Growers Firm Agree On Contract

POCATTELLO (AP) — Utah and Idaho Sugar Beet Growers' Associations and the United States Beet Growers' Association agreed Saturday on a 1967 contract with the Utah-Idaho Sugar Corp.

Growers will receive from 5 to 10 per cent more for their crop, based on the sliding scale. The price for the beet in the two states is expected to total about 70,000 acres, two-thirds of which is in Idaho.

Growers last year received about $15.50 per ton. About 40,000 acres were planted in Idaho last year.

De Gaulle Fears Loss Of Majority

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle said Saturday night France could be paralyzed by parliamentary crises if a majority is lost.

The president, in a nationally televised speech on the eve of the first round of the two-stage election, appealed for a renewed unity in the country.

De Gaulle tacitly acknowledged the possibility that his government might be ousted for the first time that he would attempt to deal with a hostile parliament.

He hinted at a profound crisis to be resolved by a referendum or emergency constitutional powers.

Miss Furness Gets White House Job

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Betty Furness, the latest addition to President Johnson's personal staff, said Saturday her new job is "absolutely irresistible."

— though it means a cut in her salary.

Miss Furness, best known for her role in television commercials for the White House, is Johnson's special assistant for consumer affairs.

She will be in charge of refrigerators, stoves and other appliances on television, she earned $100,000 a year.

LBJ Debounced At Texas Ranch

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson is described as virtually debounced at his LBJ Ranch, striking a blow of his way through a backlog of official business.

Johnson, who is spending a week-end in Texas with Lady Bird, was said by press secretary George Christian to be "so busy" that he is unable to see anyone.

Negro Rally Disrupted By False Report

NATCHEZ, Miss. (AP) — A mass courthouse rally of 2,000 Negroes was briefly disrupted Saturday by a false report that a police car was driving in his car three blocks away, reported that two white youths drove next to his vehicle and brandished their guns.

Several hundred Negroes, hearing a false report that a Negro had been shot, exited the rally to see if they returned to the rally when a police detective told the Negro man to get out of the car.

The automobile driven by the white youths sped away before police officers could catch them.

J. T. Robinson said, "The rally, headed by civil rights leader Martin Luther King Jr., was a protest against the death of Wharfield Jackson, former treasurer of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. He was killed when a bomb exploded on his pickup truck last Monday night."

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Former Iranian Prime Minister Dr. Mohammad Mossadegh died at 83 a.m. Sunday — a p.m. EST. Saturday — of "intestinal bleeding," a Majmalh Hospital spokesman said.

Mossadegh, Iran's strongest dictator as premier in the 1950s, was carried out by a campaign against the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company which resulted in the nationalization of the country's oil industry.

But he failed to find any solution until 1953 when the royalists overthrew him in a bloody fight. In a day-long battle between the army's civilian supporters and the royalists, at least 300 people were killed and hundreds wounded.

Hospital Bond Okay Asked

GOODING — Directors of the Gooding County Hospital Board pointed out Saturday that defeat of the hospital bond issue, to be voted on March 14, could ultimately lead to the closing of the present hospital, and mean no hospital facilities in Gooding County.

Under present conditions, the hospital is operating on a provisional license granted for 90 days to 6 months, and never-ending expenditures are resulting in trying to bring the hospital up to specifications, Lee Wagner, board chairman, states.

Board members point out that considerable portion of the total amount.

The number of beds which can be replaced is determined by the State Department of Health. The State is classified into hospital areas by this department and this classification is based on population and the proximity of the area. Mr. Wagner pointed out that Gooding is in the classification area with Camas, Jerome and Twin Falls counties. This area, with present hospitals, has sufficient bed capacity for the population.

Mr. Wagner also stated, "In order to qualify for the federal funds to aid in the building, we can only replace the number of beds we have at the present time, 25 to 27."

The use of the county hospital has increased materially in 1966 and it is anticipated a further increase during this year, board members state. All real and personal property taxpayers are urged to vote in the bond election March 14.

The work of more than 50 rockhounds from Washington, Arizona, Utah, Oregon and Idaho was aptly summed up by one small spectator during the 15th annual Magic Valley Gem Show on a location for his medical practice, Mr. Wagner points out.

"You'll find the 'co' a very ample $3.50 to a $10,000 property. Total costs to taxpayers would be $27 million, or for example $275,000 available from Hill-Burton funds.

Mr. Wagner said because of the cost of this modern hospital equipment, this will run into

Daylight Saving Time Disputed In House

Sunday, March 5, 1967
Twin Falls Times-News 3

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House today passed a bill to preserve daylight saving time in effect April 1, but 18 House members are fighting a last-ditch battle to win exemptions.

They have introduced bills to alter, in various ways, the law setting all the nation's clocks one hour ahead of regular time from the last Sunday in April to the last Sunday in October.

But there seems little prospect for action on any of the proposals by April 1. The House Commerce Committee, which has jurisdiction over such legislation, has no hearings scheduled.

Under the new law, any state may exempt itself from daylight saving time, but only if it empties the entire state.

acted so far, the Interstate Commerce Commission reports. The law poses special problems for 12 states which are more than one time zone.

In Michigan, for example, the Upper and Lower peninsulas are in different time zones and have managed to stay on the same time by keeping the Upper Peninsula on Central Daylight Time and the Lower Peninsula on Eastern Standard Time.

Rep. J. Edward Roush, a Democrat from Indiana — another state split by two time zones — wants to make it possible for part of a state to be exempt from daylight saving time. A similar proposal was passed by the Senate last year but rejected by the House.

Other states in more than one time zone are Kentucky, Tennessee, North Dakota, South Dakota, Florida, Nebraska, Kansas, Idaho, Utah and Oregon.

Motel Group Director Says Tourist Outlook Is Bright

Increasing leisure time for most Americans and excellent highways throughout the nation were the main reasons given by a national director of the Best Western Motels here Saturday when he predicted a bright outlook for motel operators and others dependent upon tourist business.

Jerry Gill, Best Western director from Rapid City, S. D., visited Twin Falls to congratulate Straughn's Motel owner Blaine Anderson on his appointment as Best Western governor for Idaho.

During his visit, Mr. Gill, a former Idahoan who was graduated from the University of Idaho, commented that "the tourist and motel outlook for coming years is extremely good for the entire country and particularly good for the Western area."

As a governor for the association's Idaho motel, Mr. Anderson will be visiting each of the state's 20 Best Western Motels during the year, answering inquiries about the association and generally serving as a liaison.

"Good will ambassador," Mr. Gill said.

"Our office is very happy and feels extremely fortunate to have a man as active in business and in civic affairs as Blaine as our Idaho governor," he added.

Mr. Anderson said that "after being in Best Western for two years, I feel complimented to accept this position as governor for the state of Idaho."

Best Western Motels are composed of individually owned and operated motels in the United States and Canada. There are currently 1,000 member motels in the U. S., comprising part of the largest American motel group, Mr. Gill pointed out.

White in Twin Falls, Mr. Gill renewed school friendships with several area residents.

IF YOU HAD IT ALL TO DO OVER WOULD YOU MARRY THE SAME WOMAN?

Maybe she's not the world's greatest cook. But you think she has the world's biggest brain. Maybe at breakfast she looks like somebody's mother. But when you take her out she glitters like a model. Maybe she's not so great in little emergencies . . . but in a major crisis she's the family rock. Maybe, in fact, you think she's the bravest, wisest, most understanding mother your kids ever had.

And you'd marry her again in a minute.

If you want to get symbolic about it, nothing beats telling her so like a second wedding ring. As a gift for her birthday. Or your next anniversary. Or whenever it happens to be Mother's Day again.

And since no one you know of has a larger selection of fine diamond rings, why not see your Sterling Jeweler . . . tomorrow.

CHANGES MADE
BOISE (AP) — Three amendments to the Lewiston city charter were passed by the Idaho Legislature Friday after Lewiston legislators promised they would attempt to have the city give up its charter before the next legislative session.

Lewiston — one of two charter cities in the state — must have changes in its city government approved by the legislature. Opposition to the changes came from house members who felt the city should abandon its charter and operate under the municipal laws governing all other cities in the state.

Special fund expenditures were $17,050,134 in February and $33,878,590 for the biennium, he said.

AGREEMENTS URGED
BOISE (AP) — Ken Miller, Idaho State Automobile Association manager, said Friday Idaho should make auto sales tax reciprocity agreements with nearby states.

Miller said Idaho had agreements with six other states, including a person buying a car in one of those states and paying sales tax on it would not have to pay Idaho's tax before the car could be registered in Idaho.

Miller said Idaho does not have such agreements with Washington, California, Nevada or Utah, and is purchasing cars at a 2 percent sales tax in those states must then pay Idaho's 3 percent use tax before they can register in Idaho.

ORDER UPHELD
BOISE (AP) — A district court order denying Fair S. Haddon a writ of habeas corpus was upheld Friday by the Idaho supreme court on the grounds that Haddon's claims were frivolous and without merit.

ACCIDENT RATE NOTED
BOISE (AP) — The Idaho Department of Law Enforcement said Saturday the rate of accidents involving motorcycles and motorcyclists is nearly twice that of automobiles.

Preliminary Work Being Done For Billy Graham Evangelistic Crusade

John Dillon and John Cortis, arrangements for the Billy Graham Evangelistic Crusade Association — Atlanta, Ga. — will meet with area clergymen and laymen Thursday, Friday and Saturday to discuss the Billy Graham Evangelistic Crusade to be held Aug. 8 to 20 in Twin Falls.

Mr. Dillon is field director of Associate Crusades, and Mr. Cortis is crusade associate, said Kelly Maxwell, Twin Falls, publicity chairman. They will meet with the area executive committee — outline objectives and plans in preparation for the crusade.

In the coming months, Mr. Cortis will spend additional time in the area to assist local committees with the crusade.

Atlanta, Ga., serves as headquarters for Billy Graham Team Members involved in crusade planning.

Dr. John Wesley White, associate evangelist, will conduct the open air meetings. Rev. Maxwell, 774 E. Evangelist, Billy Graham will not attend.

The idea of the evangelistic crusade was conceived by members of the Jerome Historical Association. Because of the support needed to bring the Billy Graham Evangelistic Crusade Association to the area, this group sought support from ministers and laymen throughout Magic Valley.

On Jan. 4 Mr. Dillon met with interested ministers and voted to appoint an executive committee.

The executive committee was elected on Jan. 18. Committee officers are Norman Garlington, Twin Falls, chairman; Rev. "The crusade is explained as a concerted effort by Christians in a specified community or area to bring the Gospel of Jesus Christ to the attention of every person in that community or area." The decision of whether or not a crusade will be held in an area is made by Billy Graham.

The individual churches share the benefits of the crusade through new members and the participation of current church members as counselors, choir members and ushers.

The actual administration of the crusade is handled by the executive committee of laymen and ministers. Members of the Billy Graham organization work closely with them.

IT'S ALL IN FUN, but these four to six year olds are having a lesson in geography from Mrs. Donald Sigel. Each spring and fall Mrs. Sigel spends two hours each week morning for three weeks with pre-schoolers, teaching them arts and crafts and playing games which develop their bodies. These classes, which are a part of the library program, are eagerly looked forward to by the youngsters. (Times-News photo)

Women Achieve Goal; Library Is Completed

Women's Section

By DOROTHY POVEY

Sunday, March 5, 1967

Twin Falls Times-News 7

KETCHUM—Who says this is not a woman's world? Who says women cannot accomplish what they set out to do? Certainly no one who is acquainted with the founding of the Ketchum Community Library and its growth over the past 12 years.

Women of the Ketchum-Sun Valley-Triumph area felt the need of a library for themselves, and more, especially for their children, for some time in January, 1955. 17 of these women decided the time had come when a library was a "must" and vowed they would have one. To accomplish their goal they formed the Ketchum-Sun Valley-Triumph Library Association.

Today their Community Library, located on the Ketchum-Sun Valley road, is one of the three completely self-supporting community libraries in the United States.

The 17 founding directors include Mrs. Hester Barlow, Mrs. Grant Cope, Mrs. Siegfried Engel, Mrs. Winton Gray, Mrs. George Kneeland, Mrs. Rene Lafleur, Mrs. John Lane Jr., Mrs. Larry LaPrade, Mrs. Garry Spigel, Mrs. Carroll Livingston, Mrs. K. S. McBride, Mrs. Winston-McCrea, Mrs. John Moritz, Mrs. Thomas Murray, Mrs. Phillip Puchner, Mrs. Edward Seagle and Mrs. E. M. Sexton.

Their bank account started with a balance of zero. The assets of the association went to $17 when each woman donated $1.

"It wasn't then, nor has it been since, the amount of money, but rather the unbounded amount of enthusiasm and energy expended by these women which made their dream come true," one businessman of Ketchum remarked.

After pondering over different ways to raise funds the group decided to open a Thrift Shop. Their first problem was to find a low-rental location for their shop, which even at that time was not easy to do in Ketchum.

Finally they learned of a tiny log cabin they could rent for $5 each month. It had been built in 1880 by a prospector and abandoned since 1933.

The fact that it took the women two weeks of constant work (with their husbands coming to the rescue and working along with them) and a capital outlay of $300 (which they borrowed until they could get their Thrift Shop into operation), did not dampen their spirits. On April 12, 1955, a wooden shack, on which was painted "The Gold Mine," was hung over the tiny door of the 15x20-foot cabin and their Thrift Shop opened for business.

The first two weeks they sold 1,500 donated articles, mainly clothing.

On receiving the donated articles a group of the women examined and priced them. Others arranged them for sale and one woman acted as cashier the two days a week the Gold Mine was open for business.

From the beginning space was one of the big problems in the shop. Tucked into one corner of what had been the miner's living room (he also had a bedroom and "kitchen") was a small wooden stove which threw off enough heat to take the worst chill off the building, but never enough to be really warm on cold winter days.

Next to it was a tiny counter with a stool behind it for the cashier, who, after waiting on customers, brought their choices and paid.

One of the women laughed, "There was no special place for us who worked to hang our own belongings, and you really had to keep your eye on them or you would find yourself selling your own coat and gloves to someone else."

By 1957 the original $17 investment had grown to $12,000. More than $2,000 had been taken in by the Gold Mine and the remaining $10,000 was raised by various means including an auction of articles from the old Christiania Club, film showings, dances, sale of articles made by a group of members who called themselves the Glitter Guild, and an all out fund drive.

The association now had sufficient funds to start a library building. The Union Pacific donated a lot on the Ketchum-Sun Valley road and the cornerstone of the building was laid Oct. 30, 1957.

Again the men came to the rescue and a men's committee, Edward Seagle, Lloyd Arnold, Vera McClellan, Winston McCrea, George Kneeland, Hal Wallington and James Peterson, provided much labor and assistance. Residents of Ketchum, Sun Valley and Triumph contributed much.

On Feb. 12, 1958, the doors of the Ketchum-Sun Valley-Triumph Community Library were opened, with 8,000 donated books. (Continued On Page 11)

MRS. GRACE JACOBS, who operates the Gold Mine two days each week, enters the door of the thrift shop's new home in the rear of the Community Library. The Gold Mine furnished the major portion of the funds to erect the new building. (Times-News photo)

Kasota Home Club Observes Anniversary

BURLEY—The Kasota Home Demonstration Club celebrated its 10th anniversary with a dinner meeting at the Ponderosa Inn Conference Room, with husbands as special guests.

Kasota means "cleared land" and is an Indian name. The group of homesteaders claimed their land in 1896 and started farming the spring of 1897 in an area just across the Minidoka County line in Jerome County. The first 10 homesteaders were to clear the sagebrush.

The Kasota Home Demonstration Club was organized the summer of 1958, with the assistance of the late Mrs. Agnes Hurst, Twin Falls.

The group has monthly lessons, held annually the family summer picnic, husbands party each February and a Christmas party.

Through lots of hard work the Kasota Club was able to get a fire district established in their area. They donate their time to working on community fund drives.

The Kasota road sign on the interstate highway was put up through the group's many hours of labor.

Each fall a booth is sponsored by the group at the Jerome County Fair, and many ribbons have been awarded to the group for its fine work.

After dinner, the "Sweet Adelines" sang several old time favorites, directed by Clifford Mullikin.

Prizes were awarded to Mr. and Mrs. Leiland Reif, Ontario, Ore., for traveling the farthest to attend the 10th anniversary of the Kasota Home Demonstration Club. Mrs. Duke (Arlene) Florence, Filer, a former member, attended the social.

A check was presented to Herb Bryant for having the oldest tractor. A toy tool set, for best of its use a builder, was awarded to John Otman, and Roy Anderson received a large pair of glasses for having the crookedest corrugates the first year of homesteading.

Other prizes were awarded to Mrs. Paul Werner, for hottest homestead, four fires; Mrs. Otman, most children, and Mrs. Rex Crane, homesteaded alone the longest.

Prizes were awarded to Ed Tapfitt, served on most boards; Len Brady, least gray hair; Robert Scott, gained most weight; Floyd Haynes, largest gain in waistline, and Ross Greenleaf, most grey hair.

Mrs. Fred Kasworm was general chairman of the annual husbands party and 10th anniversary social. Assisting were Mrs. Leonard Mills and Mrs. Brady. A heart-shaped centerpiece was made and placed on each table.

The group's past presidents attending included Mrs. Robert Lundgren, Mrs. Wilbur Aeneid, Mrs. Guy Meuleman, Mrs. Kasworm, Mrs. Roy Weideman and Mrs. Robert Scott.

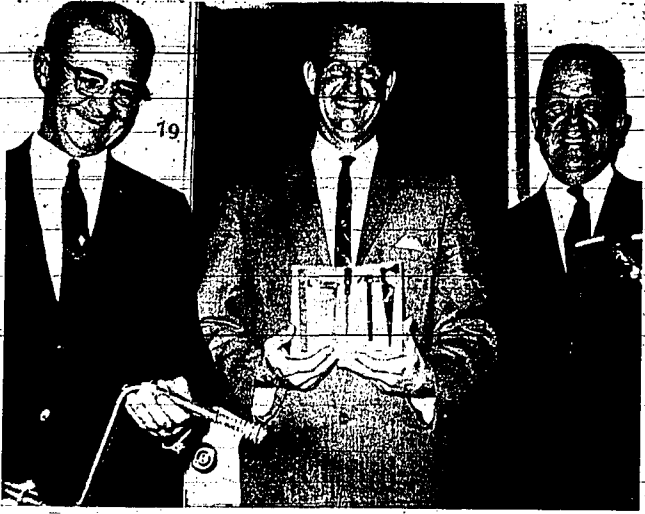

Mrs. Otman is serving as the current president of the Kasota Home Demonstration Club.

After dinner, slides and films were viewed by the group taken by the members from the time they moved on the homestead to the present time.

Talk About The Light Touch.

Here only. A glowing, gleaming, glittering, fascinating, color coordinated, art gallery of shimmering crystal chandeliers, swag lamps, table lamps, in both contemporary and traditional motifs. And hold on... all in our front window. Over one hundred and fifty of them. And... you'll think I'm kidding... all in orange, or some shade thereof. But available in the colors of the sky and the grass. Admittedly a rarity in any store, but almost expected at the Light House. This event is a festive occasion for all lovers of home beauty. Each of these lamps has the ability to start a color scheme. You'll be fascinated by their personalities. Even Aladdin could have found ideas here. You'll hardly know where to look first. But your first look will last. I know it sounds unbelievable... You know at the Light House it's not.

on the shelves. Mrs. Ben Conley was named librarian.
The library is operated on an annual budget of $6,000. Of this, $4,000 comes from the Gold Mine and $2,000 from donated funds, including white elephant sales, melodramas, fashion shows, art exhibits, garden tours, holiday parties and flower snowballs for ski train arrivals.
Last year a performance of "The Music Classroom" by the Twin Falls Children's Theater added to the fund.
In August, 1965, a tour of the gardens of Mrs. Clark Perry at her Clear Creek Canyon home south of Hetchum, was held at which a showing of oil and water color paintings by Mrs. Kenneth Hellyer, arranged by Mrs. William Richards, a well-known art collector, brought in more than $300.
The success of this show led to a repeat last summer again at the Perry home. Prizes were donated paintings by Mrs. Hellyer and Mrs. Don Aikman, both well known local artists.
Funds have been made available from the Adolph Seagle Memorial Fund, to which one can donate in memory of a loved one.
The library today is operated by the Community Library Association, consisting of a board of directors whose members vary from 17 to 25 depending on the current need. All are women who donate their time to overseeing the library, running the Gold Mine and any of the other fund raising activities.
The current board meets the third Friday of every month but has no annual meeting to elect officers.
There are in excess of 12,000 books on the library's shelves. Each year some $1,100 goes for the purchase of books, in addition to those donated.
Books are kept in the bins of books and books acquired for excess of that of the previous year. Last year more than 300 books were loaned and 392 more books acquired than the previous year.
Current board members include Mrs. Don Aikman, chairman; Mrs. Elvin Brooks, vice chairman; Mrs. Calvin Thompson and Mrs. Clifford Varnum, co-secretaries; Mrs. Ralph Thomas, recording secretary; and Mrs. Clayton Stewart and Mrs. John DeLong, corresponding secretaries.
Mrs. Conley's librarian's committee is composed of Mrs. Bertha Bentley, Mrs. Harry Butts, Mrs. Rollie Law, Mrs. Clara Spiegel, Mrs. Signi Eng, Mrs. Kenneth Baker and Betty Charlton.
Mrs. Dean Pletrose, Mrs. Ben Jewell and Mrs. Leif Omark serve on the way and means committee; and Mrs. George Kneeland is in charge of the Garden Guild.
Mrs. Gerald Sidwell and Mrs. Ted Teren are in charge of publicity. Mrs. George Jacobs manages the Gold Mine.
Mrs. Fite Lane, Mrs. Spin Bill and Mrs. Harry Holmes do Gold Mine appraisal and Mrs. Edna Nelson, Mrs. James Glenn, Mrs. Hildegard Lutz and Mrs. Jackie Watson display articles in the Gold Mine.
Library hours are 8 to 9 p.m. Monday-Wednesday and Friday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday, 4 to 9 p.m. Thursday, and 1 to 5 p.m. Saturday.
The library is more than a building of books, but an open door to knowledge," says Mrs. Conley.
It offers something to all-completes set of reference books, current best sellers, Idaho history, classics, assortment of fiction and nonfiction, small children's corner, old and new selections.
There are school sponsored reading programs during the summer, with awards given for the most books read as an incentive.
Also of interest is a first recording by Ernest Hemingway "Fifty" from tapes recorded in the 1940's and donated by Mrs. Hemingway.
Mrs. Conley issues a standing invitation to those who have not taken advantage of the library to drop in and browse through the books. She urges established users to bring guests in an effort to help them familiarize themselves with the library. She is always ready and anxious to assist any and

Dear Abby

BY ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have just about had it—my mother won't let me date anyone but AMERICANS. No Spanish, no Italians, no nothing. Just Americans.

One time I asked her if I could invite this real nice guy over and she said, "He's CATHOLIC!" I try to tell her they aren't any lower than we are. What's wrong with Italians, Spanish, and Catholics?

One time she said to me, "Haven't you got any AMERICAN friends?" But I just can't wait for a Smith or a Jennings to walk up and ask me for a date. I always end up crying with my mother and arguing my eyes out. Can you help me?

AN AMERICAN

DEAR AMERICAN: Most "Americans" are composites of many ethnic, nationality, and religious backgrounds. Had your mother's forebears pursued free philosophy, both of you might have been Indians, or Asiatics, which might have been Okie, too. But courtesy, decency, and kindness are what count. So try that on your "Buy American Only" Mom.

DEAR ABBY: I am 29 and have a three-year-old son. I am not married and never was. I don't pretend otherwise. I anticipate some questions soon from my son about his "Daddy," and I intend to handle them in an absolutely honest manner. I refuse to make up a lot of lies to "most unwed mothers do." (Your Daddy was killed in the war—or he died in an accident before you were born.)

I want my son to grow up knowing the truth so he can learn to live with it as he matures. His father was a no good bum and I am not sorry now that he refused to marry me. I have a friend who says I am dead wrong. I would like your opinion. UNWED MOTHER

DEAR UNWED: I vote with your friend. Are you sure you are not more intent on punishing your son for the "sin" of his father than he being "absolutely honest"? A fatherless child suffers enough without knowing that his father was a "no good bum" who refused to marry his mother. Think it over. Then change your mind.

DEAR ABBY: When I am baby-sitting and a stranger comes to the door, how should I handle the situation? The lights are on, so the person knows that someone is home. Please answer soon as some of my girl friends have the same problem, and they would also like to know. I am 18.

SITTER

DEAR SITTER—NEVER—and I repeat—NEVER open the door for a stranger. If he asks to use the telephone, tell him you are sorry but you can't let him in. If he says he wants to "deliver" something, ask him to please leave it on the porch. Under NO circumstances should you open the door to a stranger.

DEAR ABBY: When several gentlemen are lurching together and a lady steps by the table to talk to one of the gentlemen, and she says, "Please don't get up," what should we do?

I've been taught that a gentleman always rises when a lady comes to his table, and he remains standing until the lady you leaves. But this lady stood

Camp Takawani Is Setting For Snow Party

Camp Takawani was the setting for the first Camp Fire Girls snow party for older girls ever tried by the Magic Valley Council. Last week-end 13 girls and four adults were transported by snowmobiles from the Magic Sit area to the camp and stayed overnight, returning the next afternoon.

Everyone enjoyed the winter outing, riding the snow machines, tobogganing, using snow shoes and sliding on inflated tires, since the snow is very deep at the camp, and the site unusually beautiful at this season.

Shangrila, the large cabin converted last summer to a kitchen and dining room, was used for the living quarters for the group. The franklin stove in one room and small camp heater in the other provide warmth sufficient for winter camping trips. Kitchen facilities were adequate. Committees of girls were responsible for meals and cleanup.

Plans for the trip were formulated through the Older Girls League of Lamp Fire Girls. Each Junior High and Horizon group has two representatives in this group. These bring ideas from the groups for discussion and planning, and take back the subjects for each group to consider, in this way working out activities for councilwide participation among the older girls.

Member groups of the cabinet are Elsie Ghil, Mrs. C. I. Smith, guardian; Tan-E-Ha-Wa, in the other provide warmth sufficient for winter camping trips. Kitchen facilities were adequate. Committees of Ray O'Dell, guardian; Ya Konivics.

Ha, Mrs. Eldon Kimball, guardian; Ha Ki Wo Lo, Mrs. George Galley (Kimberly), guardian; So An Go To Ha, Mrs. Lois Cammels, guardian; and O-Wa-Ta Cin Horizon Club, Mrs. Archie Turner, adviser.

Another trip is planned involving a larger number of girls. Possibly there will be others in the near future.

Exchange Club Sponsoring Anti-Car-Theft Campaign

Motorists in Twin Falls which is known to have been could prevent the loss of thousands of dollars annually by a simple act.

Police Chief Frank Barnett and Sheriff James H. Benham will remove the keys from his car and lock it as soon as it is parked, some 85 to 100 auto thefts could be prevented in the local area alone.

In the interest of promoting the practice of taking the keys from unattended vehicles to reduce theft, the Twin Falls Exchange Club always with keys left in the car, nearby crime prevention committee will join the Twin Falls Police Department and County Sheriff's Office in a special campaign.

James J. May, chairman of the Exchange Club committee, said a proclamation is being signed by Egon Kroil, Twin Falls City Commission chairman, urging residents to heed the warnings of the campaign. Large posters will be placed throughout the county and small reminder stickers will be attached to parking meters, Mr. May added.

Chief Barnett said in Twin Falls city alone last year 23 vehicles were stolen, not one of

Of these, more than 80 per cent had doors unlocked and four-out of every ten cars stolen had keys left in the vehicles.

"Auto theft costs the public more than $250 million dollars annually, including items and accessories taken from the vehicles," Mr. May said.

If present rates continue, he said an estimated million cars annually will be stolen by the 1970's.

Exchange Club members and officers urge motorists to "thief-proof" their vehicles by removing the key from the ignition, rolling up the windows, lock-involving packages in the trunk, lock the car and avoid parking on dimly lit streets, do not leave registration papers in the glove compartment and insist on claim checks from parking lots and pick up vehicles from the garage or repair shop immediately when completed.

Chamber At Rupert Favors Phasing Of Tax

RUPERT—Rupert Chamber of Commerce members at their Thursday-luncheon meeting at Herring's Cafe discussed phasing out of the inventory tax.

Sen. Brooks had asked the group for an opinion on the bill, which is being considered in Idaho Senate.

Sen. Brooks stated that after the rapid passage of the measure in the House of Representatives, senators felt they would like to take a closer look at the bill and its implications. Some worry about the constitutionality of some phases of the bill.

Articular concern centers on the legality of removing some portions from the personal property tax roll and leaving some in.

Chamber members voted 20 to 2 with 15 abstaining, in favor of phasing out of the tax, with certain stipulations.

They felt items which should be eliminated from the tax were: resalable merchandise, livestock and timber, and other items should be left on the personal property rolls. This is essentially as the bill was passed by the House.

Kenneth Bell reported on two bills that have passed the legislators during the past week: a workmen's compensation bill, and the automobile liability bill.

Mr. Bell said that in his opinion this is a better piece of legislation than a compulsory insurance program.

In the telephone conference following the luncheon meeting, Sen. Brooks and Rep. Oscar Arstein discussed legislative matters with chamber members.

Sen. Brooks commented on the strong lobbying that was engaged for the bill to allow wine to be sold in grocery stores. She said there was much arm-twisting and lobbying "all out of reason" on the issue. She said she received phone calls from all over the state on the matter, and even veteran legislators said they had never seen anything like it. The bill was discovered this to five mills. Claude Bowman conducted the luncheon meeting with Gene Mastin as program chairman for March, and Bell giving the invocation.

Guests were Clarence Sparks and Harvey Hollinger. Bowman announced a directors meeting for 8 a.m. Monday at the chamber office.

TEN BOYS FILLED with anticipation and the spirit of adventure start out from the Cape Horn Reservation for their trip along the Ma-I-Shu Trail. This "hike" into the primitive area along the Middle Fork of the Salmon River is only one of the many camping programs offered by the Snake River Area Council of Boy Scouts.

Ma-I-Shu Trail Is One Of Many Scout Camp Activities

Chicken Creek, Cutoff, Lake, Danger Falls and Prospect Creek—these names read like fiction, but they are places Boy Scouts will visit when they take to the Ma-I-Shu Trail this summer.

This program has become a traditional challenge to Scouts and leaders throughout the area. Through this phase of the local Scout program any Boy Scout or Explorer with hiking experience can enjoy camping out, living for a few days in the Idaho wilderness, and seeing first-hand the rugged primitiveness still existing in the Western United States.

There is a chance for these Scouts to earn the 50-Miler Award and to fulfill many of the requirements of the hiking merit badge.

With a staff provided by the council they can enjoy the outdoors, fish in the high mountain lakes and streams and cook over campfires.

Carrying all their provisions on their backs, the Scouts start out on the Ma-I-Shu Trail, which originates at the Cape Horn State Reservation, and travel north along the Middle Fork of the Salmon River.

The trail continues almost to the mouth of Prospect Creek then cuts across the primitive area to Lost Lake, passing Ruff-neck Peak and turning south on the final leg of the journey back to Cape Horn and the reservation.

Rim Rockettes 4-H Club Meets

Half of the money which the group hopes to raise will be used to build a camp within an hour's drive to Twin Falls, possibly on the Snake River. This location will afford opportunities for year-round use and also provide a day camp for Cub Scouts.

Of the $308,000, which is the goal for the campaign, $108,246 will be used to develop this proposed new camp. The operating budget of the Council will absorb $91,000 and the remaining $14,754 will be used for the existing facilities at Camp Broad-leaf on the Cape Horn Reservation.

The Rim Rockettes 4-H Club met Friday afternoon at the home of Amy Frazier. Barbie Burkhardt, junior leader, showed how to thread a sewing machine and handed out practice sewing sheets. Fruit cake kits are going to be used for sewing boxes with Mrs. Harold Frazier donating all the cake kits needed. It was decided that the club would take Easter treats to their 4-H major nursing home. The next meeting will be held at the home of Cindy Day, March 17.

2 Public Meetings Set On Richfield Plans

RICHFIELD — Two public meetings of chief concern to Richfield area residents are granted and to decide when and if an election shall be held to vote on the issue.

Any taxpayer within the proposed boundaries may appear Monday, and the hearing at 10 a.m. March 13 in the office of the Board of Lincoln County Commissioners. It is expected a large number of supporters for the fire district will attend.

William (Bill) Morgan, Richfield cattleman, has been appointed as chairman of the group sponsoring formation of a fire district in conjunction with the Richfield volunteer fire department within the town.

The Monday (March 6) night meeting concerns levying 20 mills to be raised for all purposes in the Village of Richfield for the fiscal year beginning Jan. 1, 1967, and ending Dec. 31, 1967. The meeting will be held at the highway district office on Main street.

The roll levy amounts to $6,300, general fund; $4,000, streets and alleys; $1,000, fire fund; $1,500, irrigation fund; $1,270, street light fund; $200, library fund; $300, recreation fund, and $3,000, well water fund.

The total revenue of the village and the Richfield Water system for the calendar year ending Dec. 31, 1966, was $24,435.61, it is reported by Mrs. Ruth Swainston, village clerk.

Stocks End Week With Some Gains

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market ended last week with a few more gains than losses but market averages still are in a conflicting story.

Volume, however, showed the largest weekly turnover on record since 1952, with the previous record of $3.3 million shares in the week ended last April 15.

The Dow Jones Industrial average lost 7 1/2 to 86.60.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks gained 1 1/4 to 111.30.

A big decline Monday was followed by four days of recovery.

The Monday decline was the worst in three months, a drop of 10.89 in the Dow Jones industrial average.

After the market closed that day, the Federal Reserve Board announced it was easing money further by reducing the discount rate.

The rally continued on even Tuesday and Thursday, but trading was listless.

Friday the close was barely on the upside.

The most active issues this week on the New York Stock Exchange were: Avco, up 1/2 to 37 1/2.

Other active issues were: Brunkow, up 1/4 to 2 1/4; Brunkow, up 1/4 to 1 1/4; Standard Oil (New Jersey), up 1/4 to 24 1/4.

Bond prices rallied briskly last week in response to the Federal Reserve cut in bank reserve requirements.

The action averaged a month-long price decline.

The Board said its action "is intended to assist in meeting the Nation's credit needs throughout the country in a manner consistent with the Federal Reserve's policy objectives."

The immediate reaction was a rise in the bond market and money rates.

Economists hoped that much would find their way into mortgage and spur the housing boom.

Private Contractors License Act Is Termed "Ridiculous"

Editor, Times-News: How many people in Idaho are contractors? Here is the definition of a contractor as defined in the "Idaho Contractors License Act" passed in 1965.

According to this everyone from a cleaning lady (she improves a home for a charge) to a private owned cemetery (they make excavations for a fee) is a contractor.

Student Urges Woman To Brush Up On Her Facts

On Feb. 28, 1967, a B. Penland put an article in the paper about Governor Romney.

If B. Penland would look at the United States Constitution she would find that a person has to be born on United States soil to become president.

By the way, I sent the article to Gov. George Romney to show how some people just try to off the handle without the facts.

Brush up on your facts, sis! Don't be surprised if some time, some place when you expect it, the mailman walks up to you and says, "Here's a letter from Governor Romney."

Editor, Times-News: A group of small contractors has once again proved that it is people fight for what is right.

This bill, which in effect, eliminated many small contractors, was supposedly passed to protect the public in reality it did very little to protect anybody but the material suppliers.

Writer Feels Wallace And Romney Are Morally Unfit

Editor, Times-News: Dear fellow citizens, the 14th amendment provides for two ways in which one may acquire citizenship.

That is, he becomes a native-born citizen on the basis of the parents to whom he is born.

Therefore, Governor Romney qualifies for the presidency in this respect. However, neither he or ex-Gov. Wallace qualify morally since they both deny citizenship rights to a large number of natural-born citizens.

KIMBERLY SLIPS INTO A-3 MEET CROWN

Bulldogs Edge Wood River For Trip To State

EDEN-HAZELTON — Kimberly's Bulldogs just managed to hold off a Wood River rally in the fourth quarter Saturday night to win the fourth district A-3 championship 50-48 and a trip to the state tournament starting Thursday at Moscow. The Bulldogs took a 50-40 lead into the fourth quarter, but Mike McGraw and Clarence Hitchcock quickly cut the margin to 52-50 in the first three minutes. The two teams then traded buckets until Louie Hurst hit two free throws with 52 seconds left to make it 60-53.

Kimberly brought the ball down court after Hurst's foul shot and went into a deep stall. With 16 seconds to go Kimberly had a bad pass go out of bounds, but recovered it two seconds later when the Wolves' inbound pass slipped through the hands of a player and went out.

The Bulldogs stunted the clock out. Wood-River-caught-Kimberly cold in the first quarter, jumping to a 15-8 edge behind the shooting of Hitchcock, McGraw and Hurst.

Larry Eller and Larry Rietz got the Bulldogs back in the game during the second quarter with Eller hitting well from outside and Rietz hitting from outside and moving under the basket several times on well executed fades.

A long jumper by Tom with two seconds left gave Wood River a 25-27 lead at the half ended. Lynn McMaster was Kimberly's hero in the third quarter hitting 12 points as the Bulldogs took a 55-40 lead. Rietz and Eller added the remainder of the scoring for the quarter.

In the fourth Rietz hit four points and Eller six for Kimberly's 10-point, which proved just enough to win the game.

Indians Rally In Second Half To Nip Gooding And Move Into State Tourney

By LARRY HOVEY
Times-News Sports Editor

"After waiting 28 years for it's bound-to-feel-good," smiled Coach Tom Moreland Friday night after watching his Buhl Indians nip Gooding 67-45 to claim the district A-3 basketball championship and a berth in next week's state playoff at Pocatello. It has been Buhl fans waiting for the day as Coach Moreland, a Coeur d'Alene product by way of University of Idaho, was still three years from being born when Buhl took its last championship in 1939-40.

Buhl won its last championship in 1939-40; Buhl went to the state playoffs seven years ago in a 10-team affair but went as the fourth district runner-up.

"Our game plan was to drive and try and get them in foul trouble," said Coach Moreland. "I told the boys to go every time they saw daylight. It worked out pretty well."

It was a game-long struggle for the Indians as Gooding didn't give up its two successive years on the throne easily. Ian VonLindern carried the load for the Indians, averaging his 27 points over the entire night while usual top gun Chuck Cullings had trouble in the early going but sharpened up and participated in the rally that overhauled Gooding in the fourth quarter.

For Gooding, the debit was early foul trouble for two starters. The Solons were hurt when Chris Oakley, a fine sophomore, drew Cullings one-on-one—an assignment that no one has mastered this year—and the Buhl senior drew him into four first-half fouls. On the plus side was a fine showing by senior Larry Adamson who was ever busy picking up teammates' defensive mistakes and rebounding at both ends of the court.

Buhl got a momentary 2-2 tie in the opening minute before Kenny Krahn fired Gooding into a 5-2 lead. Gooding stayed ahead for a long time, exploding on points from Adamson and Bolton late in the second quarter to stretch a four-point lead into a 36-27 halftime advantage.

Gooding's assault created a 40-28 and VonLindern and Cullings got the points to pull Buhl to within two points with 3:15 left in the third quarter. Adamson and Bolton shot the Senators down to 45-20 but VonLindern cut it to three again at the rest.

In the fourth quarter big Pete Anderson began rebounding and scoring off the boards as he joined the scoring twosome in tallying the count at 51-all with 5:55 remaining. After a 53-53 tie at 1:00, Cullings hit four straight points to put Buhl ahead to stay.

With 1:55 remaining Buhl led 63-57 but Adamson and Krahn drew Gooding back to within one. Cullings and Anderson hit free throws and Cullings collected another on a technical foul. VonLindern added another free one and Buhl was on top 67-61 with 38 seconds remaining.

Then while Coach Moreland pleaded "don't foul, don't foul" from the bench, the Indians committed three infractions. Gooding hit four charity points to cut it to two before the game ended.

Kansas Leads In Big Eight Race

LIVIN' ON THE EDGE (AP) — Fourth-ranked Kansas retained a firm hold on first place in the Big Eight Conference basketball title Saturday with a crucial 64-57 win over second-place Nebraska.

The victory left KU with an 11-1 conference mark, two games ahead of Nebraska at 8-13. Each team has two games remaining.

With Kansas leading 39-37, a technical foul was called on the Garbuster bench and 10-10 White dropped in the free throw, giving Kansas a three-point advantage with 57 seconds remaining.

Two more free throws by White and a pair by Ron Francis sewed up the Kansas win.

DIETRICH DEFENDS A-4 CROWN BY 56-47

Carey Falls in Fourth, Both To Travel To State

GOODING - Ron Knowles scored his eighth points in the fourth quarter Saturday night to help Dietrich to a 56-47 victory over Carey for the fifth district A-4 championship the second year in a row. The Blue Devils will travel to Burley, along with Carey, Wednesday to defend their state title.

UCLA Pounds Out 103-66 Win Over Cal

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) - Led by Lew Alcindor, 39 points, No. 1-ranked UCLA hit 80 percent of its field goals Saturday and overruled California 103-66 in a Pacific-8 basketball game.

The Bruins opened a 25-point lead, 36-25, and breezed to their 25th victory without a loss this season. The Bruins averaged more points than any other winning team has scored in Harmon Gym, topping the Blue Devils 103-66 in the game ball for the first time since 1964.

The Bruins took the lead after 32 seconds had elapsed on a 20-foot jump shot by guard Mike Warren. The Bears tied it 20 seconds later on a lay-in by Charles Perkins. But from that point on the Bruins moved out of reach.

Alcindor connected on 12 of 18 shots from the floor, mostly on short jumpers, and was perfect from free throw line, making six of six. The Bruins grabbed 44 rebounds while the Bears could get only 20.

Alcindor got help from forward Lynn Shackelford, who netted 15 points, and guard Warren and Lucius Allen, who collected 18 and 23, respectively.

California guard Russ Critchfield supplied the only bright spot for the losers as he hit a Bears single season record. The 5-10 guard collected 26 points in bettering the record of 24 points set by Larry Friend in 1957. Critchfield has now scored 500 points this season with two games to go.

ISU Collects Records But Loses Title

SPOKANE (AP) - Idaho State cleaned up on records and first place at Montana but lost to the Bengals to win a second straight Big Sky Conference Swimming Championship Saturday at Colgate University's Kennedy Pavilion pool.

Montana finished with 149 points to 120 for Idaho State. It was a wider margin than the Montana win last year, although Idaho State had most of the individual standouts in the three-day meet.

Two Bengals, Cal Percy and Gary Cuthbert, became triple winners Saturday and both picked up their second conference records.

Percy added the 100-yard breaststroke title, in a record 1:03.71, to 200-yard breaststroke and 200-yard individual medley titles won Friday. Cuthbert broke teammate Blair Braun's conference record with a 58.6 in Saturday's 100-yard backstroke, on top of 400-yard individual medley and 200-yard backstroke victories.

BOISE (AP) - Skiers from Sun Valley and McCall captured the top prizes in the export division of the Cranston Cup slalom races at Bogus Basin near Boise Saturday and will try for a sweep in the final giant slalom Sunday.

Pat Simpson, Sun Valley, reeled off a pair of runs in 37.4 and 37.0 for a combined 74.7 and the boys expert title, Simpson's second—after being the top prize after he had trailed Bogus Basin's Jim Cronk on the first run.

Five Illinois Athletes Ruled Ineligible By Big Ten League

CHICAGO (AP) - Star halfback Cyril Pinder and basketball stars Rich Jones and Ron Dunlap were among five University of Illinois athletes ruled permanently ineligible Saturday by the Big Ten faculty representatives in connection with the Illinois slush fund scandal.

At the same time, the faculty group exonerated six athletes named 14 originally suspended by the University of Illinois last December, and ruled ineligible for one year senior basketball player Steve Kuberski and freshman football player Oscar Polite.

The action came a day after the faculty representatives ordered Illinois, before March 17, to fire three coaches or to stop cause why the school should not be suspended or expelled from the conference.

The six athletes excused from penalty for their slight connection with the illegal fund were not identified. A senior player who was originally suspended, Randy Crews, freshman basketball player from Bradley, was identified as a member of a separate case and also excused from ineligibility because his varsity eligibility had not started.

Besides Pinder, fleet halfback from Hollywood, Fla., who received legal assistance of more than $500 a year; Jones, from Memphis, Tenn., leading Illinois all-time sophomore scorer last year, and Dunlap, 6-8 junior from Chicago, the other athletes ruled permanently ineligible.

Derek Falsion, a freshman tackle from Newport News, Va., and Tom Stephens, a freshman line backer from Chicago, were not named.

Marvus Plant of Michigan, faculty group secretary and also NCAA president, announced the rulings and explained that the six unidentified athletes and Crews were exonerated because "in general, the assistance received was in a single incident, in relatively small amounts, and had been intended as emergency loans of a nature deemed proper if administered by the school, rather than the illegal $21,000 Illinois slush fund."

Larry Bergth hit both foul shots and Weber was ahead 72-65. Bob Noice and Bob Pipkin both collected jumps for Idaho but Bergth rammed in a dunker at the end for the seven point Weber spread.

MINICO COPS A-1 TITLE, TRIP TO STATE

Spartans Again Use Fine 34-For-41 Foul Shooting To Top Twin Falls 68-63

By LARRY HOVEY
Times-News Sports Editor

Minico's Spartans, relying again on free throws, defeated the Twin Falls Bruins 68-63 Saturday night to win the third regional A-1 championship and their first trip to the state tournament in six years. The Spartans, outscored 27 field goals to 17, made the Bruins pay heavily for many senseless fouls, particularly in the second quarter. Minico hit 34 of 41 attempts and wound up their three showings in the tournament — all against Twin Falls — with 88 free throws. In those games Twin Falls outscored Minico by 17 field goals.

Ashmead, Wagner Top Area Shooters

C. A. Ashmead of Fairfield and Cindy Wagner of Buhl took high-boy-and-girl honors, respectively, Saturday in the sub-junior portion of the 1967 Idaho State Junior Gallery Rifle Championships, Southern Division. Ashmead shot a 377 of a possible 400 while Miss Wagner had a 373. Second high boy was Steve Crane of Buhl with a 370. The northern division was fired in Lewiston. State-wide results will be known Sunday.

Sports FROM ALL ANGLES

By LARRY HOVEY
Times-News Sports Editor

Although the rest of the state won't admit it, the Magic Valley is a pretty good place to visit on a sports day. It was brought home again this year when Idaho and Boise's Capital High School gymnasium.

It was the difference between the gate at Twin Falls a year ago was $1,500 more than at Boise this year. That means that the University of Idaho, who has the "home name" distinction next year, will bring in more than $1,500 more than the local gymnasium for March 8.

It will be interesting to see who the turnout for that game will be for many reasons. The Magic Valley now can play at College of Southern Idaho. The game will come just after the AAU tournament and during the state playoffs, and also conflict, possibly, with the AAU tournament when it returns to Rupert if the area supports it like it should this year.

Also, remember that the ISU-Idaho football frosh will play in Twin Falls next fall. ISU has two Twin Falls men on frosh scholarship and Idaho has four. Some other men in the area also are being wound by both and will participate in a "homecoming" of sorts.

By the way, do you suppose Jim Ryan's decision to run for his first term in the Eight Conference instead of the national AAU championships this weekend is an attempt to do with the AAU declining to sanction his world outdoor half-mile record. The timeliness of the announcement, made before the AAU event, tends to make such coincidence suspect.

Without getting into any arguments with anyone, we'd like to comment on the Friday night call in the overtime that killed a 16-16 tie with two seconds remaining.

It was a very courageous thing for official Burt Williams to call the foul, particularly when you consider the gym was packed with people from Buhl. Twin Falls, Minico, Coeur d'Alene and Gooding and we'll guarantee you no one living more than five miles from the arena would be missing for Twin Falls. Williams knew what the reaction would be.

There aren't many who would have bothered to call anything after seeing the ball go through the hoop. Yet Williams called it. He saw it and showed more sand in making his decision known than anyone we've even seen on a basketball floor.

The world of sport is blessed in having so many dedicated in coaches, players and officials. In the high school world none of them get rich and all are very soon forgotten. It has shown that to respect basketball a man is either broke or a fool. That is not the case. The officials do it for the love of the sport and the good of the game. When a highly respected man like Williams makes such a call the admiration can only deepen.

Way out East one of the local sports is polo's great goal. A couple of track events westerners seldom see. The man is a legend in the state and a legend in the nation in the "weight" and

The final was a well played game compared to the frantic 57-45 overtime victory Twin Falls posted Friday. The emotion and an official's decision in the final seconds of Friday night put another big crowd in the Twin Falls gymnasium but only basketball was played. The Spartans played a cool game, although they were ice cold in the first half. Twin Falls was warm-but-didn't-use-its-collective head enough to kill it away. In the first half Twin Falls, which made only nine of 25 free throws, led only 29-28 and 18 of Minico's points had come from the foul line.

From late in the third quarter when both teams played men have fouled out a minute remained in the game Minico had things well in hand. RIDING FOR A FALL, Minico's Bill Manning topples over the shoulders of Twin Falls' Lechman-Lafance trying for a drive during the A-1 tournament action Friday. Although this appears to be charging, this section and the basket were nullified because Lafance was called for a slapping foul above the free throw line a couple of steps earlier. Manning bounced off the deck and covered both ends of a one-on-one. Twin Falls won 67-48 in overtime. (Times-News photo)

Lechman Hits 41 As Gonzaga Rips ISU

SPOKANE, (AP) — Gonzaga, led by Gary Lechman's 41 points and 15 rebounds, defeated Idaho State 96 to 81 here Saturday night to grab a share of the Big Sky Conference Basketball championship. The Bulldogs finished their season with a 7-3 record, tying Montana State in the standings. Gonzaga was co-champions with Weber State last season. Idaho State finished with a 5-5 conference mark. It wasn't any picnic for Gonzaga, however. Idaho State led 44-43 at the half on the fine outside shooting of Jerry Mosser, Ron Boone and Charley Park. ISU came out to do battle in the second 20 minutes as well and Parks started them on the way with a 12-foot 5:40 mark but then Gonzaga pulled away.

Faith Aids Decision

By LINDA LOCKWOOD Student of Proctorville, Vt. (This is the 1100th schooling winning story in the 1967 Guidepost contest for high school juniors and seniors.)

"You know what this means?" I asked. "I replied, 'Now, when we had only the recap, you were the winner.'" he said kindly, "I can write to the President of the Connecticut Association and tell her, but..."

"Please, Mr. Stannard," I said, "what must be done?" Mr. Stannard took care of all the necessary details and kept me informed. He would not allow me to return the medal until I had a photostatic copy of Debbie's sheet to check for mistakes.

When all my hope of more mistakes had been killed, there was just one thing to do. With my father's help and strength, I gave Debbie the medal at a contest in Connecticut.

This might have been the end of the story, but instead, a few months later I was invited to the annual Christmas party of Debbie's corps.

I was honored in many ways, but the best thing that happened was the medal that Debbie gave to me. It was engraved "Linda, a true champion." That medal means more to me than all the ones I have won; it is a symbol of true friendship.

My faith helped me to make a difficult decision, but the Lord turned a mistake into a blessing. Next—William T. Close, M.U. A dramatic story of an unusual confrontation when the Congo was torn by mutiny, terror and death.

Somehow my faith kept me strong. The next Thursday I showed Mr. Stannard the mistake with a tiny hope in my heart that he could explain it all.

Business At Rupert Gets New Name

RUPERT—A new name and a new management for an established business were announced this week, with the Farmers Supply and Service now under the management of James Anderson.

Mr. Anderson took over management of the company in July, 1966, when it was known as Equipment Sales and Service. Since the first of the year it has been incorporated and the name was changed to the present.

Other members of the corporation are Vernis Ullrich, manager of the repair shop, and Ted Gibson, salesman.

The company will specialize in the David Brown Tractor, a new tractor for this area, which is made in England, assembled in Portland, and shipped here.

While the David Brown Tractor is new here, it is one of the oldest makes of tractors in the world, Mr. Anderson said.

In addition to tractors, the store located along Highway 24 near the Van Gas Co., southwest of Rupert, handles all types of farm equipment as well as tractor repairs and parts.

The Farmers Supply and Service will also be the exclusive dealer in this area for the Owatonna swather.

There are eight employees at the business, including Mrs. Anderson, who assists Mrs. Frank Spevak with the bookkeeping on a part-time basis.

The company is planning open house soon.

2 Kimberly Seniors To Study In Europe This Summer

KIMBERLY—Two Kimberly High School seniors, Dan Gardner and Tom Shropshire, are planning to spend two months this summer studying in Europe as Foreign Language League students.

The young men will leave New York City July 6 by transoceanic airliner to spend a week at Kitzbuhel, Austria. While studying here the students will be housed in "guest houses" with four students to each unit.

The Foreign Language League campus is located between Innsbruck and Salzburg which affords the student easy access to the multitude of recreational activities in the area.

From Kitzbuhel, which is a quaint village among beautiful mountains, the students will go to Cologne, Germany, an exciting German metropolis, for another three weeks of study.

Cologne was nearly destroyed during World War II, but now it is completely rebuilt. The famous cathedral and other shrines escaped serious damage and their Renaissance architecture can still be enjoyed.

CAN YOU QUALIFY IN TWIN FALLS?

It could mean a $50,000 income* in your own business with one of America's most sought after franchises

A marketing study just completed shows Twin Falls not only is ready, but long overdue for an AAMCO Transmission Center. Current registration shows 18,400 cars already in the Twin Falls area with an estimated 6.1 million dollars going for parts and repairs. Since most cars over two years old need some transmission work, an AAMCO center in Twin Falls could possibly show annual earnings exceeding $50,000.

We are now seeking the one man in Twin Falls to profit from the growing billion dollar market. No previous automotive experience is necessary.

The man who qualifies for the AAMCO transmission center will be completely trained in a four week intensive program. He'll learn every phase of the transmission business including proven management and merchandising techniques. AAMCO prepares every center from layout and design to total marketing and sales, and backs each franchise with a year round advertising and promotion program featuring nationally known celebrities. If you're ready to step up and be your own boss in Twin Falls... if you're ready to invest about $17,500... if you're ready to undergo a training program... AAMCO will put you in business, and show you the way to a rich and rewarding future. Call, write or wire now.

Father Tom's Sawmill Project Is Aid To Primitive Indians Of Guatemala Highlands

The Spokane Diocese and people of all faiths from the Magic Valley and Spokane areas, people of all walks of life, furnished money and supplies to fill a truck for the long overland jaunt to Guatemala and the towns of Nahuala and Ixtahuacan. With Luis Drexler, a retired Twin Falls sportsman, donating his time and talents, the two made it last summer.

The medicine, supplies, clothing, candy, medical instruments — even a shoe making machine — which filled the transport truck served to cushion the precarious sawmill from damage.

And now it operates and the Indians — backward and primitive as they are — are running it. Father Tom taught them all the tricks. Now he is searching for new avenues of financial remuneration for his Indians.

and the lumber is needed. The project is under way. New roads — these are being constructed by hand. A new house is needed to house the workers. This is being undertaken to replace the one made of weeds.

A team of oxen strains every muscle to move the logs from the mountain tops to the clearing and the mill.

Father Tom hopes that someone, somewhere, will someday make available a diesel tractor — even a small one — for this task. And knowing the generosity of the Magic Valley people, he believes it will materialize.

error of the state of Solola—Julio Antonio Monterroso Diaz spoke. So did Padre Felix Bilbao, who represented the Most Rev. Angelico Melotto, Bishop of Solola. The United States Agency for International Development (AID) was represented by Ron Veneto. Over $2,000 was borrowed from AID to help the project. This still is owed.

Father Tom offered Mass, scores of Indians took Communion, hundreds of people were present. A big meal was served (cooked in 50-gallon drums) and, at the end, the mill hummed.

It was a fitting completion to a day which had been so long in coming and in which so many people had played a part. And it was a day I will always remember.

Something different had happened that day. Here I was, a Protestant, thousands of miles from home and in a strange land and weird country, participating in the dedication of a project dreamed up by a Catholic priest. Somehow it seemed all mixed up. Father Tom delivered the Mass in Spanish to Indians who could not understand what he said. Instead, an interpreter would translate the Spanish into the Indian tongue — a language so strange few outsiders ever learn it. And here I was unable to understand either of the two tongues.

And yet, standing there while hundreds prayed, I knew I was witnessing what few men had ever seen before. It was an event which marked the rebirth of a people who hundreds of years before America was discovered, so strange few outsiders ever learn it. And here I was unable to understand either of the two tongues.

It was, really, only the first faint cry of the new birth. The baby had been born, but would

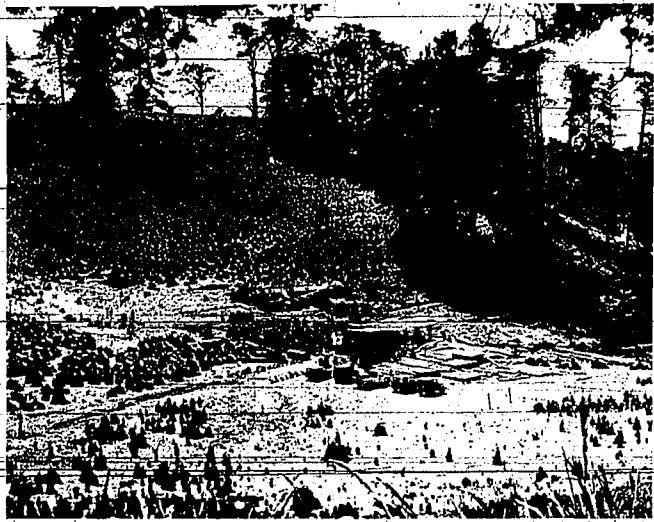

Two Stories

This is the first of two stories written by G. A. (Gus) Kelker, executive editor of the Times-News, who has just returned from Guatemala.

He spent over two weeks in the primitive area of Nahuala, Solola, where the Rev. Padre Felix Bilbao, a Roman Catholic priest and Twin Falls native, is a missionary. Father O'Halloran is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry O'Halloran, Twin Falls.

It was Father Tom's unique sawmill project which prompted Mr. Kelker to make the trip to the Central America area. This first story is that of the sawmill project and the reason for it. Next Sunday's story will be a fascinating one of the lives of these primitive Indians and the Christians laboring among them.

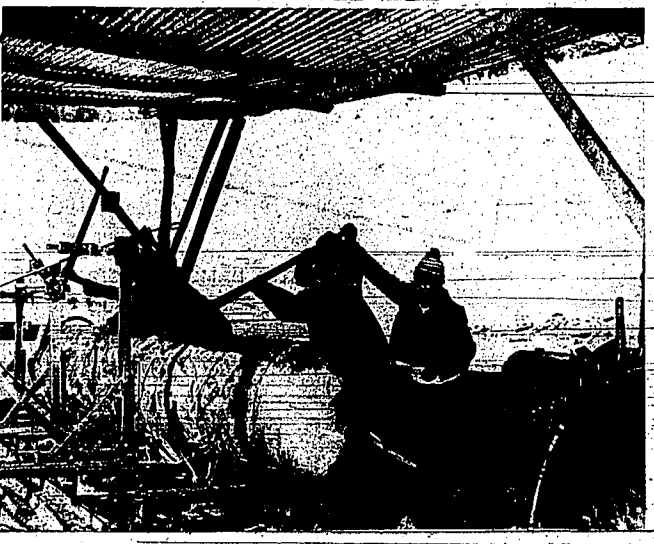

Illustrations for both stories were taken by Mr. Kelker.

INDIAN OPERATED sawmill. Father Tom O'Halloran's feet and miles from nowhere. Indians and visitors were brain child, site in a clearing at an altitude of nearly 10,000 feet. Arriving for dedication ceremonies in the early morning.

CELEBRATING MASS at dedication of the sawmill is the services and dedication, some walking for hours to get there. Father Tom O'Halloran—Several hundred Indians attended.

ANOTHER LOG is moved into position for sawing by Indian workmen. Before the mill was established, most of the Indians employed had no trade at all. The average earnings of Guatemala's Indians is around 50 cents a day. Through operation of the sawmill Father Tom hopes to raise this to $1 for workmen there.

It flourish and grow and live? Was this event the beginning or the beginning-of-the-end? Only time will tell, but the dream nourished by Father Tom had broken the bonds which had held it so long and it was a living thing.

What kind of land is it that these missionaries labor in? What kind of people do they attempt to aid? What is it that causes people like Father Tom and Father O'Neil to leave the comforts of what we term a normal life and volunteer for work of this magnitude which stretches over periods of 5, 10, or 15 years?

I learned some of the answers. I lived among them and with them for two weeks. I saw no daily papers, heard no saw TV programs, was about 100 miles from a telephone and for all intents might just as well have been a million miles from nowhere.

Some of the things I observed and saw and heard were frightening. I was, I thought, too much of an adult to be scared, but I was, just that, many times.

It is a strange land and the Indian people are primitive. Next Sunday's concluding story will be that of the lives of these people, who live a mixture of Christianity and paganism. It also will detail the tasks of those who labor in Guatemala's high mountain country — far from civilization as we know it.

Antigua, British West Indies, Gains Independence After Three Centuries

By KELLY SMITH
ANTIGUA, British West Indies (AP) — A picturesque, mountainous island known to Americans as Jacqueline Kennedy's winter hideaway, became a free nation today, ending three centuries of British rule.

At midnight last night, most of the 29,000 natives expected to gather in the island's baseball park to raise their new brightly colored flag on a silver pole and set off fireworks.

In the bandstand will be a four-foot Antigua named C. Bird. "Our Bird" they call him — the premier-elect. As head of the world's 112nd independent nation, he faces as many problems as his island has views.

Antigua looks like an ink blot on the map of the Caribbean. It is a hilly island 30 miles southeast of Puerto Rico in the shoulder of the Lesser Antilles. Columbus discovered Antigua in 1493, still searching his way to India. Wealthy English settlers moved there from neighboring St. Kitts in 1633, and after a brief war with France, the British took over in 1667.

It's a postcard setting, nestled in an area about 100 acres in size. "These people have been taken rise out of the sea. Pounding Atlantic surf has cut natural harbors. Just dry grass and weeds are left for thousands of wintering deer — and sheep — in the deer park north of town for a short time on just green grass. It is high in protein, which they like. Kind of feed, even cholesterin. But dry, mature grass alone does not give them even a bare existence diet, whether in Hells Canyon, the Middle Fork of the Salmon River or elsewhere.

Deer cannot live long on just green grass. They get by in fair to good shape when the mahogany, grass or bitterbrush is mixed with one or more other feeds, such as sagebrush.

The Owyhee deer range study meant sampling femur bone marrow from ten animals a month for each month of the year, covering by sex, age and weather conditions. These all fresh-killed animals, collected in 1965, were analyzed by Boise by Public Health-Serology technologists, told game biologists whether the deer were in good condition or in poor shape.

Rumen or stomach content examination showed what the deer were eating each month of the year — and how much dietary value the feed had.

Rumen samples were analyzed in the laboratory of Idaho State University by Lee Trout, Pocatello game biologist.

In general, adult deer have the most fat in the fall and early winter. It is at this time that femur fat is white and firm. As the months wear on, and food choices are gone — the stored fat is burned.

When less than one-fourth of the bone fat is left, maintenance is critical. If it goes down more, the deer could not live out the winter with the best of care in an animal hospital.

Trout is going to remember from all this is that deer must have more than one kind of browse plant or shrub on the winter range. Shrub, not just dry grass. In Idaho are complex but are propects about $11.5 million from loans and hopes for loans and grants-in-aid.

His plans are first to improve water services, to build reservoirs and wells, and a deep water harbor. Rain is the island's main source of water. Bird also wants to electrify the island. Some of the 40 villages do not have electricity.

He wants $3 million for an automatic telephone service. Telephones are scarce, and those that work at all are primitive and difficult to use. The budget also includes $5 million for airport improvements.

"Antigua will be able to pay her own way," he insisted. "She won't have to go out and beg."

He blames doubt on the rival New World Communist party. Bird's party, the Antigua Labor party, has been in power since the islanders first said a day in their government — 20 years ago.

All of that time, Bird has been chief minister and leader of his party. Now in his 50s, he said he first thought of independence in his early 40s, before he had traveled to England, Canada, Africa and the United States, before he knew what constitutions were about.

Sugar came to be the main crop. Most of it goes to Britain, which the United States has two missile tracking stations here and is building a third. Hotels are few but Bird hopes for more tourism.

"Since we have had elected representatives and a say in our government, we have shown more results in the last 20 years than we saw for 300 years of London rule," he said.

Bird has prepared well for this day of freedom.

The flag to be hoisted Feb. 27 is red, blue, white, black and yellow. It shows the sun coming out of a black sky, over the ocean and between two red mountains.

Bird set down at his desk and drew a picture of the flag on a green notepad. "The white part here," he said, "That's for hope."

Ex-Venezuelan Aide Found Dead
CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Julio Iribarren Borges, the controversial ex-social security chief of Venezuela who had been in the United States for several months, was found dead Friday night several miles from here, police said he had been shot three times in the back.

Pamphlets scattered near the body stated he had three other political leaders on his list, police said. The pamphlets were attributed to the rebel Armed Forces of National Liberation.

Earlier reports said several anonymous persons had told Iribarren Borges was last seen sitting in a car outside a grocery store where his wife was shopping. She believed he had been kidnaped by a terrorist group.

New Weapon Used To Hike Reds' Morale

By GEORGE MCARTHUR
SAIGON (AP) — The Communist leadership in Vietnam has been attempting to build up the morale of its warring troops of a new secret weapon in the Red arsenal.

"That weapon," informed sources believe, is the 100mm rocket which the Reds used Monday against the big U.S. base at Da Nang.

That attack by some 50 rockets, killed 47 persons, including 12 U.S. Marines. Most of the dead were in an adjoining Vietnamese village.

Informed sources say first reports of the secret weapon began to reach U.S. intelligence authorities about two months ago.

Such reports naturally caused some apprehension. Now that the so-called secret weapon has appeared, the feeling is that while the rocket will doubtless cause mere casualties, the Communist won't be able to make much of it.

The 100mm rockets weigh about 50 pounds and are considerably more fearsome than the Chinese 120mm mortar, the biggest weapon the North Vietnamese previously had sent south.

However, some of the limitations were evident even in the first Da Nang strike. The flash of the weapons — five miles away brought quick counter-fire.

Search parties next day found a store of unfired rockets which the Communists lacked time to get ready.

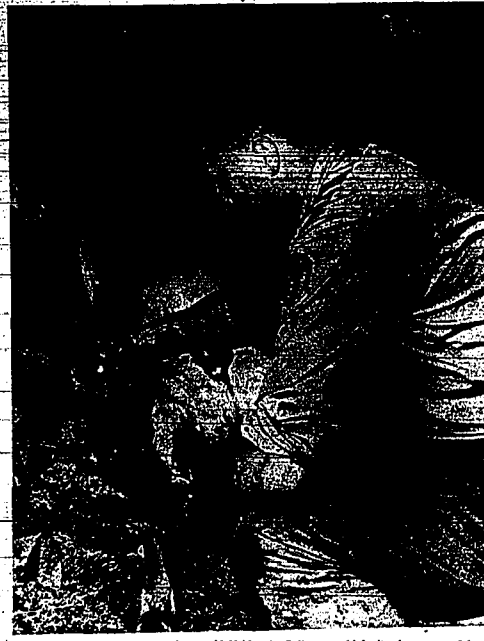

"You can't very well hide your position with that thing," one officer commented. "It gives off a frightening flash."

In addition, it is a relatively low-angle weapon. This makes it difficult to use from behind even low hills which might give more concealment.

The range is about seven miles, but the nature of rockets precludes accurate firing.

The rockets are Soviet-made and those captured at Da Nang were marked as having been made in 1962.

On-The-Spot Evidence Indicates Deer Losses From Lack Of Winter Forage

BY JIM HUMBIRD
Idaho Fish-Game Department
The man-squatted on his haunches as he used a rock to crack open the thigh bone of a deer in much the same way Stone Age cave-men had done before the dawn of history.

But instead of sucking out the juicy insides for his taste and food value, he used a jackknife to pry out an inch or two of marrow from the upper leg bone near the place where it joined the hip or pelvic joint.

The marrow from the femur bone was red and a soft quivering mass like tallow. This indicates that other fat deposits stored in the body had been depleted, as the animal probably died from malnutrition.

When deer are in prime physical condition, the core is almost white fat.

Game biologists of the Idaho Fish and Game Department find both kinds of bone marrow in their work. Early last month, for example, some of them collected four deer in Hells Canyon.

A jet boat took them up the Snake River from Lewiston to the sector that will be flooded by the backwaters of High Mountain Sheep Dam when it is built.

The goal of this continuing project is to get on-the-spot evidence showing what the last year's critical winter range will do to deer in the future. It will be used to make recommendations for the mitigation of the big game winter range.

This work had its start in the summer of 1965 when a vegetation map of this part of Hells Canyon was made to show where deer have been collected and step rocky side walls.

Each deer have been collected each winter to learn the physical condition of the animals, and what they have been eating.

In addition to femur-bone marrow specimens, department workers take samples of rumen or stomach contents, blood, ovaries, leg glands, forelegs, and lower legs.

Bone marrow tests are not new. They have been used for nearly 20 years by game biologists to help determine the cause of death in deer. Femur cores show the cause of death months later, when not much of the deer carcass is left but the skeleton.

Other tests, marrow samples can be used in the dry or dehydrated form just as well as fresh.

Both fresh and dry specimens show the same progressive reddening of the marrow pores as the fat content goes down.

Dry bone marrows with high fat and low water content have not lost much in bulk through evaporation from the fresh state.

Field estimates of femur marrow fat content found in long dead deer can be based on the changes in color as the animal draws on its stored fat, and on the way marrow feels to the touch in different ranges of nutrition.

Fatry marrow is solid, waxy, like lard found on the back straps and kidneys of a fall-killed deer. As its color changes from white to red and its consistency goes from firm to gelatinous, there is a progressive utilization of marrow fat outward to the bones of the extremities as the animal slowly starves to death.

Death comes when all but 10 per cent or so of the fat in the femur bones has been consumed.

Bone marrow is just one kind of deer autopsy specimen collected in the drive to learn more about the relationship between range, weather and deer conditions.

Game biologists want to find common indices which will link animal health with feed supply, reproduction and time of year. They want to know deer diets for each month of the year on several different ranges, the amount of nutrition that can be taken from each kind of shrub and plant — and how these fit in with the physical condition of the animals.

Word from all Idaho big game management units there are no wintering problems caused by weather so far this year, and none, in foresight, it has been an easy time for deer and elk.

Most of the lowlands have been without snow and the days have been mild.

Trend counts for big game animals, and sex ratios counts for pheasants have been put off from week to week in the hope that snow will melt and counting easier. Some of the game trend counts may not be made at all this year.

But deep snow or not, deer will do on some Idaho ranges and be counted at winter kills.

Forage on this type of rocky walls and narrow floor of the Hells Canyon range, for example, is mostly bunch grass. Shrubs such as bitterbrush, willow and red-stem ceanothus are not to be had since they are high above the canyon floor in the Seven Devils Mountains, where snow is piled deep.

Just dry grass and weeds are left for thousands of wintering deer — and sheep — in the deer park north of town for a short time on just green grass. It is high in protein, which they like. Kind of feed, even cholesterin. But dry, mature grass alone does not give them even a bare existence diet, whether in Hells Canyon, the Middle Fork of the Salmon River or elsewhere.

THE TRUTH About COLOR TELEVISION

From Mr. B. Durant, President, RCA SALES Corporation

TO ALL RCA VICTOR DISTRIBUTORS AND DEALERS

It has been brought to my attention that some television purchasers have received the erroneous impression that the sets or chassis of some other brands of color television are manufactured by RCA.

The truth of the matter is that RCA does not make color television receivers or chassis for any other manufacturer in the business.

While we did produce some receivers for certain other brand names in the earlier days of color television, these sales were discontinued in December 1963, and since that time we have concentrated exclusively on manufacturing RCA Victor sets.

Therefore, you can assure your customers that only by buying RCA Victor television can they get all of the benefits of RCA research, experience and manufacturing know-how.

Charter Is Draped For Grange Meet

KIMBERLY—The charter of the Kimberly Grange was draped during a meeting in honor of Mrs. Elsie Cutler and her family. Members who have died recently.

Mrs. Burton Harmon reported on the recent county-wide home economics meeting and outlined rules for the Grange sponsored cooking and sewing contests. Contestants for the sewing contest need not be a Grange member, but must be sponsored by a Grange.

Idaho's quota for the contest is 350 entries, which gives the Kimberly Grange a quota of 100. Contestants for the sewing contest are available in department stores throughout the area.

A check was received from the state for the Idaho Youth Ranch. Disposal of the money will be decided at the next meeting.

Tentative plans for a work day at the hall were discussed. Mrs. John Burkhardt spoke on the grounds.

The outside Grange sign has been received and will be erected on the highway during the week-end.

EVERYONE PITCHED IN to help with a Heyburn PTA project which took on proportions of a community event as junior high students, PTA members—men, women and children—lent a hand to pour concrete for a recreation area where students can play basketball, volleyball and tennis. Local firms donated supplies. The project is now about half done and awaiting another boost of both money and human energy. A fund raising event is planned this spring and when the money is raised, it is expected Heyburn residents will again turn out and make the project a reality. (Times-News photo)

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

Community cooperation to its fullest extent is being shown by the residents of HEYBURN in a project sponsored by the PTA. A need for improved recreational facilities for 700 students here had long been recognized and this year the PTA decided to do something about it. It was quite an undertaking for any organization. After analyzing what was needed, it was decided to build a concrete playground 64 by 64 feet, a recreational area where students could play basketball, volleyball and tennis. There would also be set aside areas for roller skating, playing shuffleboard and the all time girl's favorite of hopscotch.

The project with an estimated cost of $40 was initiated by Eleanor Moore, school activities director, and spearheaded by the PTA, under the direction of Everett Savage, president.

Once the idea got under way, enthusiasm grew with help coming from many individuals and business firms. A fund-raising program was held last fall and additional revenue was received during a Christmas fund-raising program.

Prizes for the program were donated by Kloefer Concrete, P.A.F.I., Connor's Cafe, Rustler Inn and J. R. Simplot Co., all Heyburn, and the Harris Theater and Clark's Chevrolet, both BURLEY.

The Heyburn school donated $40 toward the project.

When enough money to start the project had been raised and materials donated, the initial pouring of concrete was made on a cold and storm-threatening Saturday last December.

On that "day" with men, women and children hard at work, two sections of a total of four were poured. This year Board: 24-3.

SB103 (Irrigation) — Appropriating $17,835 from general fund to Idaho Water Resource Board for current fiscal year. 20-0.

SB170 (Finance) — Appropriating $122,500 from general fund to Bureau of Budget. 20-2.

SB190 (Finance) — Appropriating $10,314 from general fund for Secretary of State. 28-1.

SB185 (Finance) — Appropriating $10,468 from general fund for state purchasing agent.

a huge lemon pie and "quite a bit of lemonade" from the fruit from the lemon tree they purchased through a mail order catalogue four years ago.

Mrs. Ollivier said the tree was about 8 inches tall when they first got it and she started it out in a gallon can. Each year it had to be transplanted to a bigger one and now, standing 2 feet high with heavy foliage of large leaves, the tree is housed in a 3-gallon can.

The tree is kept in direct sunlight. It has bloomed every year but this is the first time fruit has developed. The first lemon, now remembered for its size of 6 1/2 inches in length and 17 inches in circumference.

The tree now has two natural sized lemons which are not yet ripe and three or four smaller ones the size of marbles.

Mrs. Ollivier wrote to the Times-News about her late lemon which weighed between 3 and 4 pounds after reading in "Life in Magic Valley" column recently about a woman named Salmon who had a similar tree.

Nigerian Blind Line Up Daily For Treatment At Kano Eye Hospital

By ARNOLD ZEITLIN — Many are children. — Miss Bond said 12 to 15 operations a day were completed at the hospital.

"After they see that their frightened away others. Their numbers are diminished," said Delta Bond, 45, of Muscatine, Iowa, a nurse in Kano since 1944, "parents bring them here as a last resort. Often they are too late. It makes you sick."

Smallpox and measles blind many of the children. The Nigerian government is mounting an American-assisted immunization program to wipe out both diseases. The children's sight is weakened by poor nutrition and sanitation in their villages where Miss Bond believes the "sight of my eye" would be saved. "I sometimes think we're working on the wrong end here," she said.

Patients appear frequently with glaucoma or cataracts. The ailment flies a black veil over the body where they attack the eyes. Syphilis causes considerable blindness, too.

The hospital has been most successful in "saving" sight threatened by the virus disease, scarring and contraction of the upper eyelid, a condition which eventually scars the surface of the eye each time the afflicted person blinks.

A simple operation has been performed at the hospital. A nurse or medical technician can do it, although it once was described as a major operation. It involves relaxing the contracted eyelid by slicing a piece of skin from it and propping it with splints made from applicator sticks and bicycle tire valves.

Kano, now is virtually deserted. The American surgeon returned home. The hospital staff hopes for a replacement by Dr. M. Douglas Hurst, 55, of Wheaton, Ill., who returned to the United States four years ago.

Most of the Nigerian nurses and orderlies have fled to the East. The American surgeon returned home. The hospital staff hopes for a replacement by Dr. M. Douglas Hurst, 55, of Wheaton, Ill., who returned to the United States four years ago.

About 100 patients now appear daily at the clinic. Many walked miles — in some cases — from the bush country. Many are children. — Miss Bond said 12 to 15 operations a day were completed at the hospital.

Occasionally, a blind beggar refuses an operation because he has become accustomed to using his handicap to earn a living. "Most patients — predominantly — are from the Protestant-organized hospital."

submit to the operation and respond to its success with "Oh, goodness! which means 'I thank you'." In Hausa, the most widely spoken language in the north.

Churches throughout the world support the hospital, which now charges for the operation and other services. It operates on a "pay as you go" basis. "Most people provided free. 'Most people saved.'"

The First Baptist church of Muscatine provides $1,800 for Miss Bond's support. Half the annual sum goes for food and retirement pay. The rest is her year's spending money — her house, food and other living expenses in Kano are paid by the hospital — at a rate of less than $80 a month.

"We're not out here to make money," she says, "or else we wouldn't be here."

Mrs. Gandhi, Her Cabinet Asked To Remain

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — President Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan asked Prime Minister Indira Gandhi and her Cabinet on Friday to stay on until the Friday Congress party decides whether Mrs. Gandhi or someone else will run the Indian government.

"That decision is to be made by March 12 and Mrs. Gandhi is favored for a regular term as prime minister. She was elected Jan. 19, 1966, following the death of Lal Bahadur Shastri.

At least one other candidate still in the running is former Finance Minister Morarji Desai. And there is talk that Home Minister Y. B. Chavan could be a compromise candidate.

Publishing House Notices Religious Implications In Popular Comic Strip

By AL EDMONDS
RICHMOND (AP)—Good grief! There are religious implications in the comic strip "Peanuts."
 "As you would believe, the late Ian Fleming wove a theological message into his series of spy agent James Bond," John Knox Press, a small religious publishing house here, has realized the implications of a couple years ago the first published "The Gospel According to Peanuts," a humorous look into the world of Charles Brown, Linus, Lucy and Snoopy. It was written by Robert J. Short, a Methodist theology student.
 The paperback book became a best-seller, and John Knox Press-printing arm of the Presbyterian Church in the United States—was thrust into the forefront of religious publishing. Charles M. Schultz, creator of Peanuts, admits the implications uncovered by John Knox Press.
 "Humor which does not say anything is worthless humor," Schultz said. "So I consider the cartoonist must be given a chance to do his own preaching."
 More recently, John Knox followed with "The Devil With James Bond," another religious book. Its thesis is that underlying Bond's superhero, supervillain exploits was a carefully woven plot by Fleming to name and destroy exponents of today's seven deadly sins—particularly apathy.
 But it was the Gospel According to Peanuts that turned the publishing world's eyes in the direction of John Knox.
 Since that book caught on in February, 1965, it's never sold less than 2,000 copies a week. Currently 650,000 copies are in print—in 14 printings—and more than 850,000 copies have been sold, Knox spokesmen say.
 The book also has been printed for sale in Japan, Italy, Sweden, Germany and Finland.
 "Peanuts opened the door to a lot of trade accounts we didn't have before," said Martin E. Bratcher, general manager of John Knox books.
 "The Coffee-House Ministry," a look at what has been called the most promising and exciting venture of the contemporary church.
 "On Edge," a satire on the bomb and civil rights.
 "The Great Teaching Machine," a satirical cartoon look at today's industry of educational apathy.
 "Our basic purpose," he says, "is to serve our church and the public with good religious books that don't mean a thing sitting on a shelf. They have to be read."
 The firm's service to the Presbyterian Church has been extensive. In the past 10 years, Bratcher said, the nonprofit organization has contributed more than $250,000 to the church's education program.

 John Knox's recent success can be traced back largely to May 1955, when Dwight M. Chalmers, a Presbyterian minister, became book editor. Chalmers, 67, dismisses his role as a "Knox official distributor." He's the one who got the press on its feet.
 Chalmers said he had no political affinity for the publishing business. "I didn't even know the difference between a plus and a minus (printing terms)."
 "We interpret religion rather broadly," he said.
 "What does he look for in a book?"
 "First, the author must have a readable style. Second, the book must represent a genuine contribution to Christian thought, or else will stimulate better living."
 Chalmers plans to retire soon—"I don't want them to take me out here feet-first." He likes to think of his main contributions to John Knox as: Publication of a 25-volume commentary on the Bible; his encouragement of "scholarly writing in our church in an atmosphere of freedom," and publication of works by writers "who might not otherwise be published."
 Recent advertising by John Knox has attracted nearly as much attention as its offset books.
 Douglas J. Buford, 23, is Knox advertising director. His budget is only $50,000, but he has created an effective image for Knox nationally.

 Most of his efforts have been directed recently at full-page advertisements in the New York Times' book review magazine, and a serial for "The Devil With James Bond," showed Sean Connery who portrayed Bond in motion pictures, going up in flames.
 But Buford shy away from saying John Knox is now the most successful of the 115 religious publishers in the country.
 "I think we have the most progressive image," he allows instead. "We can't safely say that."

Chinese Aide Said Working In Red City
TOKYO (AP)—Defense Minister Ichioka said today that a Chinese aide whose hair apparent missing from the news for four months, was reported Friday to be in Peking playing a part in Red China's power struggle.
 Peking wall posters said that at Lin's request, Mao issued a directive ordering Chinese males, except lower division primary school students and old men, to undergo 30 days of military training yearly.
 The Bulgarian news agency BTA said Lin attended a recent meeting with Maoists from Kwelchow Province who came to Peking but did not give the date. Quoting from the same wall poster, the Soviet news agency Tass said the meeting was Feb. 15 but made no mention of Lin.
 BTA said, however, that Lin was present at the meeting and gave his assent to a speech by Premier Chou En-lai urging the Kwelchow Maoists to use moderation. Lin has been absent from the news since November and has been presumed to be ill.

WHEN TO PRE-EMPT
At FOUR LEVEE:
The opening bid of four is even more pre-emptive than the bid of three. It has should be a partner can give us three substantial better than we have. It is because, somehow or other, three-level pre-empt is set.

The first hand is likely to make four spades if partner can give us three. The latter more pre-emptive than the bid of three. It has should be a partner can give us three substantial better than we have. It is because, somehow or other, three-level pre-empt is set.

Today's hand shows the advantage of this hard and fast rule. South had a normal four-spade opening. North looked over his big hand and decided that South might hold two aces. Therefore, North bid five diamonds to show one ace. North signed off at five spades, but they were one trick too high.

West opened the ace of diamonds and shifted to the queen of hearts. East took two heart tricks and game and rubber had been thrown out the window.

Electioneering Hints For School Politics

The campaign fact of political life on Capital Hill is that candidates must court public attention and approval to gain office. So the high school politician might go for broke to win election this spring, without spending a small fortune. Basic to all campaigning is repetition—you've got to pound, pound, pound home to each voter the candidate's name. It's easier to do, when the name can be symbolized. Thus Sandy passes out small bags of sand, Reed's campaign workers make small pieces of pan out of cafeteria straw and George, who's running for treasurer, uses friend Washington (of Potomac and one dollar bill fame) as his symbol.

Symbol also work again to pound home the office sought. One treasurer candidate obtained stacks of elastic dollars to illustrate how he'd stretch the voters' money, a whimsical candidate beat all on the student's sense of humor, by running for chief justice using as symbol of office a hangman's rope.

ENLIST CREW OF BACKERS
Campaigning on a large campus requires a crew of backers. If he's a national honor society member, the candidate will tend to enlist surfers, athletes, artists and special types to bullet vote for him. No candidate can afford to relax in the pocket of one minority segment of the campus (impossible at grade level elections. It's wise to have only members of his own class speak at the candidate's behalf. Even an endorsement by the student body president is likely to inspire the student body to a second round of attention grabbers to replace any that disappear.

Win or lose, there's profit in running for office. When a candidate prepares his campaign, he must face up to himself and say: What have I accomplished this term? I'm proud of? This self-evaluation can result in broadening one's reach and establishing more desirable goals.

Book Review

40 ACRES AND NO MULE

By Janice Holt Giles

I am glad that the publication of a second edition of this book called my attention. Like many readers, I have always thought of Janice Holt Giles as the author of good historical novels. Johnny Osage is perhaps the best known.

However, Mrs. Giles' first four books were about a very real community, and the time was only yesterday.

"40 Acres and No Mule" tells of the author's life with her husband in an isolated community in the Kentucky hills. The Giles family had lived on the Ridge for a long time.

All of the families were related and community life was very close. "Janice" went there from the city to a house that had to be habitable. There never was any indoor plumbing because water was not, never was, piped to the house.

In fact, during their first months on the Ridge Janice had to carry water from a neighbor's well, "leaving hundreds of feet down the road" or from a spring a quarter of a mile distant.

The drilling of a well was an epic achievement. So was the planting of a garden ("Off limits to Janice"), the building of an outhouse.

The details of daily life and the adaptations required of the city dweller are recounted with humor and zest.

We can understand why the Giles family and relatives accepted Janice, even though she was a "furriner"; she must be delightful to know.

One of the nicest things about the author is her understanding and appreciation of the Ridge people. She is not sentimental about them.

They are endlessly inquisitive, "nosy," she calls it, and they are very narrow in their outlook, completely ignorant of the outside world. But they are genuinely kind. They retain the sense of human dignity that city dwellers lose. They are serene and patient. Most of them have a fine sense of humor.

They stick to their old ways, partly because they know no others and partly because they like the old ways.

The chapter on Ridge food and cooking is especially good. Have you ever eaten fried turtle? Janice says it's good.

In the new editions the author analyzes her reactions to life on the Ridge and the effects it had on her. She also considers the effects of television on these isolated people.

This is a delightful book of the kind that can be described as "warm." If you ever lived in the hills of Kentucky or Tennessee, it will make you wish you could return to that simple, absorbing life.

MAIL CARD TODAY for full facts about the American Republic $157.50 a week "Direct Cash" Plan and get FREE

this valuable Americare® FIRST AID KIT by Johnson & Johnson

Send now! No obligation! NO STAMP NEEDED!

Now, regardless of your age or occupation...

Whether you are under 65 and have regular hospital insurance—or over 65 and eligible for Medicare—it will pay you to read the facts now about the new "1-2-3 Direct Cash Plan."

Discover how you could go to the hospital and come out with money left over.

What if you should wake up to find your self flat on your back in a hospital bed—and be there for weeks or even months? Think of all the things that $2,000 or $5,000 or $8,000 in extra spendable cash, over and above your hospital insurance, could mean.

Cash to pay the mortgage. Cash to buy food. Cash to meet car payments—pay for child care—buy gasoline—buy school clothing—pay a tax bill.

Your regular health care insurance is not intended to help with family living needs. The "high cost of living" is apart from hospital costs. Household bills go on just the same. Your family still has to eat three meals a day. The landlord or the bank still wants the money when it is due.

Just a few weeks of this kind of financial pressure—with nothing coming in, everything going out—could plunge your loved ones into actual want. No husband or father, hospitalized or healthy, wants his family to go into debt.

A New Service of Americare®

It is to meet this kind of personal and family emergency that American Republic has developed the new "1-2-3 Direct Cash Plan"—a service of Americare. Here, specifically, is what this new plan can do for you:

- This plan can pay you $157.50 per week actual cash (at the rate of $22.50 per day) for every week you spend in the hospital due to accident or illness. It gives you the right to collect this $157.50 per week for any number of weeks up to ONE FULL YEAR. This extra cash income is paid directly to you. You don't have to pay one penny of it to the hospital. It is yours to spend as you wish.

- In fact, you can collect a total of as much as $8,212.50 extra personal cash if you are in the hospital for as long as a year.

- What's more, this is LifeGuarded Protection.® This means it is Guaranteed Renewable. It can be yours for LIFE as long as you make timely payment of your current premium; It can NEVER be cancelled by the hospital because of age, health or number of claims.

Check All These Advantages

- Pays whether you are in the hospital for injury OR sickness.
• Pays in cash directly to you. It's yours to spend any way you like.
• Benefits are increased 10% if premium is paid annually in advance, or increased 5% if paid semi-annually in advance.
• Pays in addition to any other insurance carried with American Republic or any other company. Even pays in addition to Workmen's Compensation or Medicare.
• You are covered during any hospital confinement for any accident from the date your policy is issued, and for any sickness that begins after 30 days from date of issue. Unless, of course, your hospital care is due to war, mental disorder, maternity, dental work, or when you are in a U.S. Government or Veterans Hospital.
• NO MEDICAL EXAMINATION, regardless of your age—and there is NO AGE LIMIT.

Easy As 1...2...3...

Protection under the "new American Republic "1-2-3 Direct Cash Plan" is available in individual protection "units."

You simply decide how many of these units you need for your particular coverage requirements—and put them together like "building blocks. For example:

The "1-UNIT" PLAN pays you $52.50 per week actual cash (at the rate of $7.50 a day) for every week you spend in the hospital due to accident or illness. This plan can pay you as much as $7,337.50 if you are hospitalized for a full year.

The "2-UNIT" PLAN pays you $105.00 per week (at the rate of $15.00 a day) for each week you are in the hospital—up to as much as $5,475.00 if you should be in the hospital a full year.

The "3-UNIT" PLAN pays you $157.50 per week (at the rate of $22.50 a day) for each week you are in the hospital—up to a total of $8,212.50 if you are hospitalized for a full year.

Your decision is easy. Just choose the plan that fits your needs best. Best of all, no matter which plan you choose, you get...

Protection That PAYS

According to latest 5-year figures, American Republic retained a greater percent of premium dollars to policyholders in claim benefits than any of the other Top 40 insurance companies offering individual accident and health insurance. So, when you own this policy, you have protection that PAYS. This is another important advantage of Americare.
