House Lifts State Oleo Tax; Utility Tax Bills Viewed

By MARK BROWN
BOISE (AP) — The House lifted the state tax on pleomargarine Saturday and prepared to take up bills with utility taxes. The Legislature moved deeper into its third overtime week of the session. Indications of a compromise measure, designed to maintain the status quo on revenue collections from utilities, were voiced before adjournment for the weekend Saturday. Finding a solution to the utility tax problem, winding up appropriations and deciding the use of the current biennium's general fund budget surplus are the major decisions left before adjournment.

Mao Forces Tighten Grip On Peking

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China's Army, which supports Chairman Mao Tse-tung, has extended its control of Peking by seizing the capital's schools, factories and municipal agencies. Japanese dispatches reported Saturday.

The reports from Peking by correspondents of the Japan Broadcasting Corp. and the newspaper Yomuri coincided with reports from other sources saying the army had taken over farms and factories in the provinces of Anhwei, Kiangsi and Hunch.

The Japanese dispatches and the Chinese broadcasts appeared to reinforce convictions that the 2.5 million-man army had become Mao's chief instrument in his struggle to outflank followers of President Liu Shao-chi from places of power.

Annex To Courthouse Is Being Considered

Plans for a crash program of remodeling on the third floor of the Twin Falls County Courthouse to accommodate a second district judge, Friday took a turn toward building of a new annex. District Judge Vernon J. Gibson was studying the situation and concluded they should at least give careful consideration to a new building, adjacent to the present courthouse that would accommodate the entire court system as prescribed in legislation.

Variety Of Easter Week Services Slated

Whether you choose to watch the sunrise on some lonely hillside, or join with hundreds of others of all faiths, most Magic Valley residents will agree that they will reaffirm their faith in the dignity and reality of the Resurrection of Christ on Easter morning or during Holy Week.

Among the services observed by congregations in Twin Falls during Holy Week will be Tenebrae, a service of darkness and silence symbolizing the slowness of Christ when he is deserted by the Disciples; Maundy Thursday; the time of the Last Supper; Good Friday, the day of the Crucifixion, a day of the Resurrection, and the day of the Resurrection.

Families laying aside for the time the Easter Eggs and rabbits, may take part in special services in their churches, regular services with an Easter service, or a special service of the Holy Week observances directed by the Twin Falls Ministerial Association and the Magic Valley Council of Churches.

The Twin Falls Ministerial Association will present two services during Holy Week. The first service will be presented from noon to 3 p.m. at the Presbyterian Church with the theme "The Last Word of Christ." Services and music will be given on the seven last speeches of Christ from the Gospels.

Ministers and their sermons include: Rev. Robert Schreckengast, St. Andrew's Episcopal Church; Rev. Robert Schreckengast, St. Andrew's Episcopal Church; Rev. Robert Schreckengast, St. Andrew's Episcopal Church; Rev. Robert Schreckengast, St. Andrew's Episcopal Church.

Jerome Boy Hurt By Fall Into Canyon

JEROME — A 12-year-old Jerome boy is listed in good condition at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital with cuts and lacerations, after a 40-foot fall down a rocky slope near Jerome's Corral in Jerome County Saturday afternoon.

According to Jerome law enforcement officials, Steven Bright, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Larson, Jerome, was participating in a Scout campout and apparently was playing "hide and seek" when the accident occurred at about noon Saturday.

A member of the scout party reported that young Bright slipped on a rock ledge as the boys were running to meet a leader of the excursion.

At the point where young Bright fell, the canyon is deep and the three campout leaders had no difficulty reaching him, and he was taken to a nearby Jeep and taken to the hospital.

While Steven was being cared for in the hospital, the Appleton PTA - sponsored Boy Scout Troop 1 member, Clinton Mills, drove to Twin Falls and reported the incident to the police department.

Twin Falls police then notified Jerome sheriff's officers, who the boy had been taken to the hospital when the Jerome officers reached the scene.

Larson's wife complained his stepson on the hospital and the rest of the boys and the other two scout leaders remained at the campsite. It was thought at first that young Bright had broken an arm but hospital X-rays showed no broken bones. Apparently, the boy's only injuries is that he wasn't able to get up, one of his companions said.

3 Arrested On Burglary Counts Here

Twin Falls law enforcement officers have charged two adults and a juvenile with three counts of first-degree burglary in connection with thefts at the Twin Falls Golf Course and the Sheriffs Station in Kimberly, and a break-in at the Seventh Day Adventist Church.

The trio, all from Washington, arrived in Twin Falls Saturday by representatives of the Twin Falls Police Department and the Sheriff's Office. Earl Barnett, 22, Tacoma, Wash., William M. Schultz, 23, Seattle, and a 15-year-old girl, also from Washington, originally were arrested on a charge of vagrancy, but later were charged with the burglaries.

Approximately $50 was taken from the Kimberly service station Saturday morning. Police said. Previously, a large number of clothing items were taken from the golf course. The suspects were apprehended on foot in Kimberly.

Investigation is continuing.

Johnson Briefs Governors

By LEWIS GULICK
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson briefed the nation's governors Saturday shortly before taking off for his Guam strategy conference that is expected to stress the civilian development campaign in South Vietnam.

Republican governors reportedly decided, in advance of the White House session, against meeting with Johnson's endorsement of his Vietnam policy. Last year, Johnson was given a unanimous bipartisan approval of his Southeast Asia policy at a similar governors' meeting.

Following a breakfast dinner for the governors Saturday night, Johnson was slated to meet with an American ambassador in the Philippines, Henry Cabot Lodge and his deputy, William Porter, and being replaced by Ambassador Arthur W. Bunker and Eugene Locke.

The officials told newsmen they do not expect any major military decisions will be made or announced at the two-day session in the tiny island in the western Pacific.

Johnson's trip was listed as being from Manila to the president to Guam while in office. Dwight D. Eisenhower stopped there on his Korean journey as president-elect in 1952.

Ky Will Take Constitution To Guam Meet

SAIGON (AP) — Premier Nguyen Cao Ky is flying to the Guam conference Sunday with South Vietnam's new constitution.

Assembly 10 days ahead of schedule at his suggestion so he can show it to President Johnson.

By unanimous vote of all the 102 deputies present, the assembly gave final approval Saturday to a draft providing for a blend of presidential and parliamentary character, a basis for conversion of this war-wracked nation from military to civilian government. Ky has 30 days to offer amendments.

Flying from Guam, the conference will be held at the large base, B-52 Stratofortresses dropped 30-ton bomb loads on suspected Communist holdings in three provinces of South Vietnam.

Soviets Expel China Diplomats

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet government expelled two Chinese diplomats from Moscow today, charging them with carrying on anti-Soviet activity.

The foreign minister ordered immediate departure for First Secretary Mihko Gungui and Third Secretary Sun Lin.

The expulsion was in apparent retaliation for the recent expulsion of two Soviet diplomats from Peking.

NFO Holding Action Continues, 8,000 Gallons Of Milk Poured

RUPELT — Fields and farms in the Rupert and Twin Falls areas turned white with the stain of more than 8,000 gallons of milk Saturday afternoon as Magic Valley National Farmers Organization members, a 4-symphathizers continued demonstrations for higher milk prices.

The third day of an area milk holding action was heralded by sunny spring-like weather and a new determination on the part of dairy farmers to hold out until the demand for a two-cent per quart milk increase are met.

Farmers from Jerome, Twin Falls and Coalinga Counties dumped 5,000 gallons of fresh milk in an organized demonstration at the Richard Judd farm west of Rupert, according to George Jucker, Buhl, former state NFO president, an additional 3,000 gallons were dumped on farms in the Twin Falls area.

With the Saturday dumpings, a total of 12,500 gallons have been poured into the streets of Buhl, over the Snake River Canyon, and on farms and ranches in the area.

An unknown amount of milk also has been dumped privately and fed to hogs and other livestock existing of being sold at the rate of 8 to 10-cent per quart rate, Jucker said.

"We don't want to dump our milk, and for many of us it is quite strong enough to stop clocks and rattle floors and windows, shock central and north-west Japan early Sunday."

Police Check Meager Clues In Mystery

Mystery of a missing Jerome woman deepened Saturday night as police of two counties pondered a meager set of clues — a blood-spattered home, a car with its trunk soaked in human blood, a few hairs and a host of unidentified fingerprints.

The woman, Mrs. Alta Simerly, 66, 309 4th Ave. W., Jerome, was reported missing Thursday night by her sister, Mrs. Willford Deek, who went to Mrs. Simerly's home, found her and her car missing and discovered blood spattered all over the kitchen.

The car was found Friday night in Twin Falls. Mrs. Earl Bryson, 533 Quincy St., has heard a radio broadcast of the car's description and told police she thought it was one she had noticed parked in the 500 block of Jackson Street. It was.

The car, police later determined, had been parked there since about 9 a.m. Wednesday. Mrs. Simerly last was reported seen about 1 a.m. Wednesday in a Jerome cafe.

A man who has been working in the area told officers the car was parked where they found it when he arrived to work about 9:30 a.m. Wednesday. A resident of the area said he remembers seeing it drive up the street when he was in the area. He said he did not know how many people were in it or give a description of the driver.

Police checked the car over and found the trunk was heavy and packed with clothing. A testis proved it was human blood of the same type that was spattered about Mrs. Simerly's home, they had on Wednesday night, been able to determine.

Barking Dog Is Recalled By Neighbor

JEROME — A picture of a vigorous, physically sturdy man and his late 60's wife frequently left home, without telling her relatives, on fishing trips and other jaunts, was painted Saturday by Mrs. Simerly's neighbors.

Mrs. Ella Robinson, who lives near the missing woman, commented that Mrs. Simerly always left the light on in her back bedroom if she were home, but just out for the evening, and since the light had not been on for several nights, Mrs. Robinson said she was aware of a sound sleep by the barking of a dog.

"I'll always wish now that I had gone up and investigated," she told the Times-News.

Mrs. Simerly went out daily to feed her horses which are kept south of town.

HAVE YOU SEEN THIS CAR? Any person who saw this oxidized blue 1957 Plymouth, license number ZJ 3556, any time Tuesday night or Wednesday morning is urged to contact the Jerome Police Department, 324-4311, or the Twin Falls Police Department, 775-4112. Help is being sought in the investigation of the disappearance of Mrs. Alta Simerly, 66, Jerome, reported missing Thursday. The trunk of the car, found at midnight Friday, contained a large amount of dried blood. Lee Tallington, Twin Falls City Detective, is examining the car. (Times-News photo)

Art Buchwald's Column To Be Carried In Times-News

Art Buchwald, America's greatest humor columnist, will write three-articles each week for the Times-News starting this week.

Buchwald's column today appears in more than 250 newspapers around the world and is avidly read by millions. The writer has been called the most comic American observer of the world scene since Mark Twain. Born in Mount Vernon New York on Oct. 20, 1925, Buchwald and his three sisters lived in an orphanage and a series of foster homes before finally settling in Queens with their father, Joseph, a curtain manufacturer. By then Buchwald was 15 and an indifferent student.

On his 17th birthday he joined the United States Marine Corps. He was assigned to the Fourth Marine Air Wing and spent three and a half years in the Pacific.

On his return to civilian life, Buchwald entered the University of Southern California. He wrote a column for the college newspaper and was managing editor of the campus humor magazine.

Without waiting for a degree, and driven by an urge to taste life in Paris, Buchwald left the University in 1948. He bought a one-way ticket to France with his war bonus check, and when his money ran out, took a job with "Variety" magazine in Paris.

In 1949 the writer presented a trial column to the European edition of the New York Herald Tribune. Composed of offbeat data on Parisian night life, it brought Buchwald a job on the staff.

By 1952 Buchwald's columns had become so popular they were brought to readers in the United States. Americans took to the writer's new brand of humor and within a few years Buchwald became a permanent fixture in the columns-writing business.

Early in the 1960s Buchwald switched his home base from Paris to Washington, D.C. In recent years his columns have featured humor found in the na-

Statistics Show Sluggishness In Economy

By JOSEPH R. COVNE
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sluggishness in the economy is no longer a projection or a luxury but a reality borne out fully by the government's own statistics.

This was predicted by President Johnson's economic adviser two months ago but the next prediction — an upturn later in the year — has run into some cold stares from Congress.

And recent events including a decline in the three important economic thermometers certainly didn't help the administration's case for its proposed 6 percent surtax to take effect July 1.

The surtax request is based on the projection of an economic upturn during the second half of 1967.

The government reported in the past week the second straight drop in industrial output in as many months and a 2 percent decline in retail sales during February. It also disclosed a 12.1 per cent decline in housing starts for the same month, disrupting the substantial gains of the three previous months.

The accelerated economic pace predicted for the second half of the year was described by the Senate-House Economic Committee as an uncertain basis for policy. But it urged Congress to remain flexible on the tax question.

Some members of the House Ways and Means Committee expressed doubt about the administration's economic projections but Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler stood by them.

The committee and later the House approved reinstatement of the 7 per cent investment tax tion's caplin. His home newspaper now is the Washington Post.

Does President Johnson read Buchwald's column? L.B.J., whose thin skin is regularly pierced by the Buchwald pen, refuses to discuss the column.

"Some of my inside sources at the White House tell me that President Johnson reads me and chuckles," says Buchwald. "Other equally informed sources tell me that L.B.J. doesn't read me. I suspect the truth lies somewhere in between: he reads me but doesn't chuckle."

Although most of Buchwald's columns are now written from Washington, the writer will go anywhere he thinks there's a good story — and do just about anything to get it. He has chased goats up and down the mountains of Yugoslavia, climbed trees to get a bird's eye view of the races at Langchamps and traveled to Turkey for a firsthand impression of a Turkish bath.

Buchwald is the author of a dozen best-selling books. He also appears regularly on the lecture circuit because he enjoys meeting people.

The popular writer is married to the former Ann McGarry. They have three children—Jodi, Conchita Mathilda and Marie Jennifer.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON — Both the White House and State Department are taking a new and friendlier attitude toward efforts by United Nations Secretary General Thant to bring about peace in Vietnam. The reason is that Thant's own approach these days appears to be more pro-neutral and realist.

Specifically, Thant's latest peace proposal — an amendment to the Geneva accords — does not ask for a permanent halt to the American bombing of North Vietnam. It merely asks that if Washington stops the bombing, Hanoi must be prepared to stop the peace conference.

Health Insurance

If you are hospitalized and a goodly portion of your costs are paid through your health insurance then you are in the minority.

How great is this participation in health insurance from among hospital patients? It is probably more than you think and a discussion on this subject with officials of the Valley Memorial Hospital revealed some mighty interesting statistics.

For the entire year of 1966 a total of 53.9 per cent of the patients treated had health insurance. This type insurance included Blue Cross, commercial insurance, workmen's compensation and liability insurance.

It was on July 1 last year that the Medicare program went into effect and this fact really changed the insurance picture so far as the hospital was concerned.

During the first six months of Medicare there were 24.2 per cent of the patients covered either through Title 18 or Title 19, including funds from the Department of Public Assistance. People covered by other types of health insurance who were patients during those same months totaled 50.2 per cent of the admissions.

This adds up to the fact that the last half of 1966 showed 74.4 per cent of the patients of Magic Valley Memorial Hospital had health insurance.

We all know that health insurance reached the big business stage several years ago but few of us would have envisioned a time when three out of every four patients in the local hospital would be covered.

All patients, of course, are not protected for everything but it can be assumed that with major medical policies so popular, most of them would have up to 90 per cent of their bill paid. To most people this is like something out of the blue. We know very few who could meet a staggering hospital bill without help from some source.

The latest figures on a national scale which we could obtain were complete for the year 1965.

Idaho, for instance, has from 50 to 75 per cent of the civilian population covered in health insurance.

In the Mountain States, as a group, the coverage is about 67 per cent so it is safe to assume that Idaho's citizens live somewhere around that figure. The Mountain States are included in the lowest rung of the health insurance ladder. The Middle Atlantic states, with 91 per cent of the citizens covered, is on top.

Several reasons could be advanced for this fact but the most believable is that income in Idaho and the Mountain States is just not as high as in other areas. People who make the most money buy the most protection.

It is interesting to note that over 156 million Americans — about four out of every five persons — had some form of health insurance protection through voluntary insuring organizations during 1965. That was 81 per cent of the U. S. civilian population and almost five million more persons protected than the year before. On this basis it is safe to assume that the year 1966 will show about the same increase in insured persons when all the figures have been compiled.

During 1965 a total of $12.1 billion in health insurance premiums was received by all U. S. voluntary insuring organizations, a nine per cent increase over the year before. The 1965 figure included the premiums of insurance companies as well as subscriptions received by Blue Cross, Blue Shield, organizations and other hospital-medical plans.

Group insurance premiums for hospital-medical expenses written by insurance companies in 1965 reached $3.6 billion, representing a 10 per cent increase over 1964.

In 1965 the American public spent 65 per cent more on hospital care than it did five years earlier. This was two and one-half times as much as the public paid for hospital care in 1955. Direct payments for physicians' services amounted to $7.8 billion in 1965. This represented an increase of 41 per cent over similar payments made in 1960 and a 123 per cent rise over 1955.

A major reason which accounts for the public's devoting a greater proportion of its disposable personal income to the purchase of health insurance is a family's need to pay for rising hospital and medical care costs.

Illness is nothing to ignore. Wage earners lost a total of 240.5 million work days between July 1964 and June 1965, according to the United States National Health Survey. This is an average of 4.4 days off the job for each employee.

Most people do not get paid if they do not work. Health insurance tends to soften the blow of an illness that might go on for days or months.

Health insurance has become a way of life in the U. S. States. Citizens who do not have it are in the minority and if they become critically ill they may recover their health but not their finances.

WASHINGTON — This was a payoff for Rusk in his delicate and sometimes exasperated efforts to shift the blame for the bombing of North Vietnam to the National Liberation Front, political arm of the Viet Cong. In any case talks.

Within a few days after his return from Burma, where he conferred with North Vietnamese envoys, Thant assured Secretary of State Dean Rusk that he was not asking for a permanent halt to the American bombing of North Vietnam. If North Vietnam failed to agree to talks within three or four weeks after a bombing halt, Thant stated, the U. S. would be entitled to resume the bombing and he "assumed" such action would have the wide support of public opinion.

WASHINGTON — On his recent trip to South America, President Kennedy was accompanied by Bolivia, Peru, Ecuador and Colombia — Chief Justice Earl Warren was "started" to find out the evidence connected since he held to "edit" country only one subject was raised — the Warren Commission report on President Kennedy's assassination.

Had the commission really considered all the evidence which should be in the Warren report? Shouldn't the inquiry be reopened in view of charges of a conspiracy involving persons other than Lee Harvey Oswald? The questions came hot and heavy at each stop.

At one of his most-crowded conferences with some 200 reporters bearing down on the assassination theme, the chief justice got in question of his own. How many of those present, he asked, had read the Warren report? Two hands were raised.

"How many of you have examined the 26 volumes of evidence on which the report is based?" No hand was raised.

"I know those volumes are available to you," the chief justice said. "I know you saw myself that the full set was sent to the principal library in every capital of the world."

This is a sad commentary, not so much on world opinion as of those in this country who have followed the Kennedy assassination for profit. The exploiters have fed the conspiracy theory which opinion abroad has been only too ready to swallow.

The latest manifestation comes in the antics of New Orleans District Attorney Jim Garrison, who is making the headlines with his own press and counterpoint and constant promises of new sensations.

Opinions Of A Conservative

Dear Spectator: The rule determining the date of Easter that was given in an advertisement appearing on Page Two of the Times-News issue of March 15 needs explanation and clarification.

The rule for determining the date of Easter should read: Easter is the first Sunday after the paschal full moon or after March 21.

The "paschal full moon" is not the same as the full moon on the calendar (astronomical) — the first day of the moon being the new moon.

New moon in March, 1967 occurs March 11 in our part of the world. Paschal full moon will then be March 21. And so it follows that Easter is March 26.

If the astronomical full moon were used in determining Easter it would, this year, be April 1 instead of March 26, as it will be next year.

Highway Rest Area Construction Stressed

By CATHERINE TATE
Times-News Staff Writer

Comfort as well as safety for the user of Idaho highways are two factors that have prompted the development of an intensified rest stop construction program throughout Magic Valley and the entire state during the past few years.

According to the Idaho Department of Highways, the development of a pleasant roadside environment has been included as a part of the state highway program since about 1935. Within the last year, however, heavy emphasis has been placed on rest and recreation area development. Blaine Sessions, district engineer, said:

"The safety aspect of the rest program is extremely important to drivers, providing them with an opportunity to relax and refresh themselves in order to avoid the scenic attractions of the area with the alertness that avoids accidents, Mr. Sessions said.

Landscaping, the addition of trees, shrubs, historical sign installations, the development of a litter prevention program, the maintenance and beautification of the lands along the roadway and the restoration of factors in the rest and recreation stop program, an Idaho Department of Highways spokesman said.

The rest area plan was added to the highway development program in 1956. The policies have been implemented and the adoption of a master plan for roadside rest areas in 1964. This master plan included the location of rest areas on state highways and a listing of proposed additions.

Projects planned for Magic Valley include construction of a rest area near the S.H. 68 and U. S. 89 junction south of Bellevue; rest area near U. S. 89 near Hagerman; a scenic turnout on U. S. 89 on the south side of the Snake River and rest areas near Wood River, U. S. 89, at the Blaine Fork of the Snake River, near the Craters of the Moon near Crater Lake.

Rest stops already are in use at the Central Post Office, Rat River and near Tuttle on the Malad River.

Recreation areas with picnic tables, lounge chairs and other facilities are planned at three sites on lakes owned by the highway department near Burley, Haysden, and Mr. Sessions said. The lakes have been turned over to the Fish and Game Department of development.

In February, according to a highway department spokesman, there were 31 existing rest areas with complete facilities plus many roadside turnouts and rest areas on the Idaho highway system.

There are 45 projects planned for construction in Idaho during 1967, including rest areas, scenic easements, landscaping and junkyard screening. More than 60 projects are scheduled to be completed within the next five years.

Student Fund Assisted By Paul Chamber

PAUL — The Paul Chamber of Commerce voted to contribute $50 to the Magic Valley Student fund drive during the Wednesday night meeting at the Idaho Bank and Trust conference room, Paul.

Members also decided to share the expense with the Paul Lions Club in sponsoring the Boys' State. Otha McGuffin was appointed chairman of a committee to check into student recreation funds and check on how they are being distributed.

A letter from Sen. Frank Church concerning water development was read and members discussed legislative bills concerning irrigation.

President Joe Bauer will contact the State Highway Department concerning highway maintenance problems around the main intersection.

Mr. and Mrs. Arlan Tanner, operators of the Felton Apartments, were welcomed as new members.

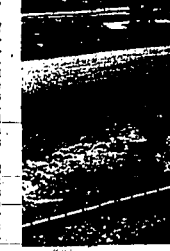

PERMISSION DENIED
WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Polish consuls receive about 25,000 applications a year from the under-aged for permission to marry and they approve only a few, the paper Express reported.

Special landscaping is confined largely to interchange areas in urban locations.

According to the Department of Highways, the department will continue to conduct a "reasonable and balanced landscaping and rest area program."

In conjunction with the Federal Highway Beautification Act of 1965, this act provides for the control of billboards and junkyards and for the protection and enhancement of scenic beauty of highway and roadways.

In this respect, outdoor advertising signs must be prohibited within 660 feet of the right-of-way along interstate and Federal-aid primary highways except in areas zoned for business or commercial purposes. "Junkyards" must be located at least 1,000 feet from the right-of-way line and screened so as not to be seen

MAJOR REST AREA on Idaho Interstate 80N shows safety chain-link fence, water, restroom facilities and shaded picnic tables. There are 31 rest areas in the Gem State at present, and 45 projects are planned for construction this year.

Screening of junkyards has not yet been undertaken by Magic Valley highway officials, Mr. Sessions said, since the local department is not able to use highway funds of the highway, and no additional funds have been made available.

Speaker John W. McCormack of the House of Representatives has approved the historic Soviet-U.S. consular treaty. But most of the President's major proposals are buried in legislative committees.

Hearings on the alleged wrongdoing of two Democrats, Sen. Adam Clayton Powell of New York and Sen. Thomas J. Dodd of Connecticut, have provided the biggest congressional news of the past three months.

The overriding influence on the slow congressional pace has been the impact, economically and politically, of the Vietnam war, with a secondary factor being the relatively weak Republican strength in the House.

While President Johnson's messages indicate he has not interpreted last November's election results as a warning to slow down the pace of new domestic proposals, the relatively pace on Capitol Hill indicates many congressmen feel this way.

The leadership seems disinclined to bring up measures unlikely to pass, and White House aides concede that a major purpose of the scope of Johnson's proposals is to create a record for the 1968 election, regardless of how Congress treats them.

Another factor is the Democratic leadership in both houses, since 1959 — and Majority Leader Carl B. Albert of Oklahoma is only now beginning to regain his vigor after last fall's heart attack.

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana has his problems, too. Although only 35, Senate Democrats voted against the consular treaty, his two top assistants, Sen. Russell B. Long of Louisiana and Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia, were listed in opposition and both are of sympathy with a good deal of the Johnson program.

Mr. Dombek has operated the mobile business the past eight months for businesses in the Mini-Cassia area. Mr. Butters, a lifelong resident of Burley, is married to the former Phyllis Granada, California.

Mr. Butters is operating the local business to gain additional funds to help financing schooling for a future career in the ministry.

Graves services will be conducted at 2 p.m. Monday in Sunset Memorial Park, Rev. Ernest G. Hasselblad officiating. Arrangements are under direction of Twin Falls Mortuary.

Easter Recess Scheduled By 90th Congress

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
WASHINGTON (AP) — Members of the 90th Congress leave Thursday for a 10-day Easter recess after the first 11 weeks of a session that may be the duldest and least productive since the late 1950s.

Desiring a steady stream of presidential proposals in fields ranging from educational television to open housing, little has been accomplished so far by either branch and little is close to passage.

Congress has raised the debt limit to $376 billion and authorized the President to issue $1 billion in Vietnam, and the Senate has approved the historic Soviet-U.S. consular treaty. But most of the President's major proposals are buried in legislative committees.

Hearings on the alleged wrongdoing of two Democrats, Sen. Adam Clayton Powell of New York and Sen. Thomas J. Dodd of Connecticut, have provided the biggest congressional news of the past three months.

Class Slated On Defense At Shoshone

SHOSHONE — Persons interested in self medical aid, fallout shelter management and radio-logical monitoring may attend a Civil Defense class, according to Reid Newby, director of Civil Defense for Lincoln County.

Newby said a class will be carried out if enough interest is shown. Persons may contact either Newby or Ray E. Owen, his assistant.

A supply of Dismeters used to measure the amount of radioactive material in fallout is available from the director.

Newby said several fallout shelters are available in Lincoln County, with Mammoth caves north of Shoshone available to house 8,000 persons, the high school 100 and the basement of the Union Pacific depot 5.

These shelters are not yet stocked with emergency supplies, but plans are underway to stock them, Newby said.

If You Want To Be Rich

By ROBERT STONE
Businessman
Keeping the wolf away from the door is what most people call it. And most people I know find it pretty tough to pay all their bills.

Meanwhile, time was running out on my unemployment checks. Finally, I was unemployed for the last week of last month. I thought, but He hasn't been in much of a hurry to prove it. Then just when my faith was waning, it happened. I was interviewed and hired into the best job of my life.

Back on our feet again, we have continued to prosper. Although it's true that you can't outrun the Lord, I feel we give for a different reason now.

Next—Thomas J. Fleming, New York City writer, has an inspiring story how his father met the real test of a man.

without really figuring how we were going to get along on $45 instead of $50.

Nonetheless, the following Sunday we put it to the unemployment check into our giving account. And somehow we managed to get by.

CHRIST IN GETHSEMANE is portrayed in "The Redeemer," a film which will be presented March 27 and 28 at the Motor-Vu Drive-In Theatre. The film portrays the last three days of the life of Jesus Christ, beginning with Judas' betrayal of Christ and ending prior to the Ascension. The film has been highly acclaimed by the clergy.

Idaho News

BOISE CAUSE LOSS PROBLEMS (AP) Labor problems at the National Reactor Testing Site near Idaho Falls were blamed for loss of a $10 million nuclear submarine modeling contract by acting Gov. Jack Murphy Saturday.

Murphy is acting head of state while Gov. Don W. Samuelson is in Washington, D.C., attending a Western Governors' Conference and a White House dinner.

Murphy said the contract was withdrawn from the Atomic Energy Commission site because "they (the AEC) expect to get a dollar's worth of work for the spend and they weren't getting it here."

CALDWELL (AP) — Caldwell High School senior has been named the state winner of the National Ability Counts Contest.

Sherman Smith, son of Mrs. and Mrs. Walt E. Smith of Caldwell, will be awarded $100 and a trip to Washington, D.C., at the April 11 meeting of the committee in Boise.

Director Alvin "Timothy" Pocatello (AP) — Timothy M. Knapp, 31, of Aurora, Colo., will be Pocatello's first parks and recreation director.

His appointment was announced Friday by City Commission Chairman Fred Sawyer after interviews with about 30 applicants.

Each parks and recreation department will be combined under Knapp's 1960 graduate of Colorado State University.

"The Redeemer" Portrays Last Three Days Of Christ

"The Redeemer," a tight and accurate retelling of the three last days of the life of Christ, will be presented March 27, 28 and 29 at the Motor-Vu Drive-In Theatre.

The film begins with Judas' betrayal of Christ and ends shortly before the Ascension, when Christ is taken up into heaven.

The first film produced by Empire Pictures, "The Redeemer," premiered in Dallas, Texas, in November.

The film was made in Spain with Joseph L. Green Jr. as director.

Macdonald Carey's voice is heard as that of the Christ, whose face is never seen in the production.

2 Eden Sisters Unhurt In Crash

Two Eden sisters were checked out and released Friday afternoon from Magic Valley Memorial Hospital after the auto they were riding in was struck from the rear by another auto.

Mary C. Juchau, 17, and her sister Debbie, 15, both Route 1, Eden, were uninjured when a car driven by Barbara L. Peterson, Route 1, Kimberly, hit their auto.

The Juchau vehicle had been stopped behind a school bus, and Idaho State Police said the Peterson auto hit the other.

Investigating were State Police Lt. Dean Bennett and Patrolman Frank Mogensen.

When her nightgown caught fire, Mrs. Harlow was burned severely Friday before she could tip off the flaming gown and douse it in a sink. Authorities said a cigarette apparently set the garment afire.

Attendants at Providence Hospital here said she died shortly before 1 p.m. Saturday.

Republicans Soft-Pedal GOP Differences Over War Policies While Demos Air Theirs

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican leaders are soft-pedaling their differences over President Johnson's Vietnam policies that apparently run as close as those between Democrats publicly almost daily.
When the GOP Policy Committee directed its staff last week to draft a study of Vietnam war policies, it was with the clear understanding that there would be no attempt to forge any party position on the issue.

The committee expects to have in about two weeks what Chairman Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa, calls a "completely objective analysis." The problem of Hickenlooper and Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois at the point is to avoid advertising the same kind of party-split that Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., and Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., have made clear exists among the Democrats.

Although they can't prevent their colleagues from embarking on individual excursions, M. Dirksen of Illinois at the point is to avoid advertising the same kind of party-split that Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., and Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., have made clear exists among the Democrats.

Special Zoning For College Area Studied

Special zoning specifically for the area around the College of Southern Idaho site will be determined by a committee of Twin Falls city and county officials in the near future.
This was decided at a meeting Friday afternoon between Twin Falls city and county commissioners, as in a commission meeting members of the city and county, college officials and zoning administrators who conducted the meeting.

The meeting was held at the county commission meeting, said the county area around the college zone as low density residential. This would permit trailer courts, but no other commercial interests.

Since some commercial zoning is needed, a zoning administrator who conducted the meeting, said the county area around the college zone as low density residential. This would permit trailer courts, but no other commercial interests.

Civil Air Patrol Objectives Outlined For Rupert C. Of C.

RUPERT — Maj. Neil Weir discussed the recently formed Civil Air Patrol senior and cadet squadrons in Minidoka County at the Chamber of Commerce Thursday luncheon meeting at Hirings Cafe.
Maj. Weir said there presently are 22 cadets, high school boys between the ages of 14 and 18, who are enrolled in the program.

He said objectives of the CAP are to provide organization for men interested in aerospace and flying, to encourage voluntary contributions of private citizens to public welfare, to provide aviation education and training, to provide civil aviation in the community, and to assist in local and national emergencies.

The speaker stated that cadets receive aerospace education and training, orientation and flight instruction, and when they get a private airfield for Rupert, since this is one of the few counties in the state which does not have a private airfield. Such a field would greatly facilitate activities of the group. Weir asserted.

The county has received radio equipment, and survival and rescue survival equipment, donations from the USAF, since the organization of the squadrons. Weir also touched briefly on a scholarship in money which is available in aerospace and aviation fields, much of which is not being used, and for which he said the CAP unit hopes to encourage Minidoka youths to apply.

The cadet squadron has set Monday nights for their meetings with the senior squadron meeting monthly.
President Claude Bowman, who conducted the business meeting, reported that he and Delmar Hollinger, Mayor Wendell Johnson, Bill Moller and Richard Blincoe will be in Boise Wednesday to meet with legislators and Gov. Donald Samelson regarding the employment placement office for Rupert.

Bowman said such an office will be opened on a trial basis in the near future.

Authorities agreed to the marriage of Stanley Hiron, 28, to Gillian Butler, 22, but since he is awaiting trial for robbery they ruled the man who stood up with him at the register office had to be a detective to whom he was handcuffed.

2-Year-Old Girl Rescued After Fall Into 28-Foot Abandoned Water Well

VOYAW, Tex. (AP) A brown-eyed 2-year-old girl fell 28 feet into an abandoned water well in her grandmother's backyard Friday night. She clung precariously to a rope thrown here by firemen.

Some 200 to 300 men began frantically digging at the entrance of well with sticks, shovels and a small bulldozer. Some said there was a good chance of rescuing the child. "I'm cold, I'm cold... I want my mommy," Theresa Fregia cried.

Her grandmother, Opal Allemange, said she heard the girl's voice up the well. Rescuers dug around the outside of the concrete tile well casing and had burrowed 12 feet in a few hours. The men were exposing the pipe, then tearing it off.

The child was in a 10-inch diameter portion of the shaft. Theresa is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Davis. Her father was killed in a car wreck two years ago and her mother has remarried.

Mrs. Allemange said the girl climbed up on a chair near the well entrance and then apparently fell into the hole through some boards that were to have covered it.

The grandmother said she thought the girl fell into the well about 5:30 p.m. first. She was wearing a short blouse and short pants and is brown-haired.

T. F. Couple Disturbed At Changes Found In Bible

Editor, Times-News:
Our daughter has been coming home from school following along with the other kids in reading her Bibles in Church.

In preparing her Bible (acquired when she attended the Methodist Church) against our older family Bible we found some of the verses in her book are so changed by the taking out of several words and inserting others that we are so concerned it has changed the whole meaning of the Bible and especially the teachings of Jesus.

You readers don't have to take my word for it. If you have a Bible that has been revised in the last 10 years, check it against an older one and see if it is one that has been destroyed as this Bible, if any man should take this book (and that is all it is).

Man Urges Investigation Of City Council For Corruption

Editor, Times-News:
Special interests and selfish unclean groups often move city officials to act contrary to their own better judgment and contrary to the wishes of the people. I am not aware of it, all 50 states have provisions for exercising the citizen's right to recall. I am told, remove all our council members from office. We need the new councilmen conduct an investigation of the city council. If there is no check backs involved, or if there is fraud, we should be able to void the contracts which have been made with them. JOSEPH K. STUMPH, JR. (Washington Representative Liberty Lobby)

Picture Of Game Biologist Brings Criticism Of Woman

Editor, Times-News:
In the Sunday paper of March 5 there is a picture of a game biologist taking samples of blood from a deer from a deer forest. It makes them grow fast. The meat is tough and has no flavor. The young generation has never eaten good meat. They do not know what it is like.

There is a woman's hand shown holding onto the deer's leg. She is probably a State biologist. There is a young man looking fellow but it seems he has to have help to hold the deer.

Individual Wells Suggested As Water Supply Solution

Editor, Times-News:
I believe I have come upon an excellent idea on how to solve the controversial water problem in Twin Falls. Here is my idea, and it is based on personal experience. There are approximately 5,000 homes in the city of Twin Falls. Let every homeowner install a well and pressure system. Mine cost me $375 eight years ago but I got it paid in 15 months. During that time it has cost me no more than 50 cents a month for power, or 8¢ to present.

HAZELTON—A new contest was started on Wednesday evening by the Valley Banders Tops Club. Mrs. Ray Crumrine and Mrs. John Koike presented the idea for it and discussion was held on making a new cape to crown the queen of the contest at the Hazelton Club. The best loser for February was Mrs. Ronald Sellers and the best loser for this past week was Mrs. Norma Pohl. There was a 14 pound loss and a 5 1/2 pound gain among members. The new pledge was given and the club song, Mrs. Hans "Making the Most of Yourself." Members decided to change the meeting place to Hazelton April 1, to meet later in the evening. The next meeting will be held March 22.

Woman's Inquiry Is Answered By George Romney

Editor, Times-News:
L. Hansen, III, Filer, was right. Governor Romney did write to me. You'd never guess what he used for his proof of eligibility to the presidency. Not a court decision, not an attorney's interpretation, nothing in the line of legal counsel or advice, but Parade Magazine's gibberish and assurances which quote the word "native." When answering Governor Romney's letter, I quoted Webster's dictionary, calling his attention to the fact that "native" and "natural born" are synonyms. Webster states: "natural born, a. Native; not imported; a natural born citizen." Simple, isn't it?

Parade Magazine, in the same issue, is calling me a "slanderer." I am a U.S. citizen, was probably born in Canada, but my parents were U.S. citizens. (note that the magazine, or anyone who promotes such a fabrication of thought? Would you be taken in by it?)

Writer Wonders How City Can Ignore Water Brochure

Editor, Times-News:
It would just what influences are causing our city manager and city officials to ignore such facts as I shall now present. We, the public, have been so peacefully informed how the water from wells is not practical to use, because it is so constantly and rapidly falling water table. We have questioned the economics of our water development program. It has been labeled as "side walk engineers."

I am wondering how our "authoritative and authoritative" Montana engineer can ignore or repudiate these statements from Water Information Bulletin No. 1, prepared by the United States Geological Survey in cooperation with the Idaho Department of Reclamation and published in December 1966.

Possible Drafting Of Young Men Brings Reader's Retort

Editor, Times-News:
I have been reading in the paper lately about a presidential commission urging the draft law to lower the draft age to 18. I think this is very wrong. For those who are drafted at 18 is so unfair. It is too young to actually fear danger or even realize exactly what he is fighting for.

Furthermore, he hasn't had the adequate training to speak. Just because the 18-year olds are full of life and maybe adventurous is no reason for even an unfair law. From these adventures back to the age of 18 and see how quickly they would change their mind. Look at the older men that are law breakers and have criminal records that don't have to go. It is so unfair to have

Writer Tells Critic To Use Facts, Not Shoot Off Mouth

Editor, Times-News:
I received a reply from a letter writer in the city of George Romney, B. Penland and J. Kelly. Here is your answer to the question that you people have not agreed on. I hope to clear up this matter with no hard feelings, except to Dolores Dingfield, who disagreed with me all through the question.

The following article was a copy of it first appeared in Parade Magazine.

"The U. S. Constitution specifies that no person except a natural born citizen is eligible for the office of president."

It doesn't say "native born." I hope to hear from others that while no legal test has ever been made of the wording, it is held that a man must be born an American to hold the office. Romney was born in Mexico when his parents, both American citizens were on a mission of the LDS Church.

"It is therefore an American citizen by his sanguine, the right of blood, Chester A. Arthur, also a U. S. president, was probably born in Canada, but he, too, claimed citizenship because both of his parents were U. S. citizens," the article says.

I just have one thing to say to D. Dingfield, and that is find a reliable source. You remind me of the guy who ate gun powder for breakfast because he thought he would be rich when he went around all day shooting off his mouth.

CSI GAINS WESTERN AAU REGIONAL FINALS

Last-Second Shot Sportsmen Ask South Hills Deer Closure By Vann Beats Texas Tech Stars

SOCCORO, N. M.—Ples Vann's 20-foot jumper swished at the final buzzer Saturday night and lifted the College of Southern Idaho Golden Eagles past the Texas Tech All-Stars, Lubbock, Tex., 70-68 and into the finals of the western AAU basketball regionals. But the Eagles face a tough task Sunday evening as they must play El Paso, Tex., which boasts four starters off last year's Texas Western, NCAA championship team. Vann's 20-footer capped an evening of surprises, turning out after arriving here the game was played under Olympic rules which limited about another game in it.

JEROME — Another round in the endless controversy of the South Hills deer herd opened Saturday when the Fourth District Associated Sportsmen Clubs passed a resolution asking that the four units (Cassia, Albion, Blackpine and Sublette) be closed to hunting for two years. The resolution, which will be passed on to the Idaho Fish and Game Department, was about the only highlight of a routine meeting of sportsmen from Salmon to Twin Falls and Gooding to Rupert. The group voted to hold the fall meeting in Oakley, date to be announced. The group heard a legislative report on bills pertaining to hunting and fishing by Robert Satter, assistant department director. Ken Harrison, wildlife division of the Bureau of Land Management, Shoshone, reports that the units are closed on habitat improvement and Art Manley, president of the state Wildlife Federation, ran down the tentative agenda for the state meeting in Pocatello April 7-9. Manley also stressed the need for habitat protection and improvement and increasing demands for access to public areas. The resolution came from the Cassia County Rod and Gun Club and was backed by George DeLong, representing that group. DeLong said it stems from reports of long-time hunters of the area, sheep and stockmen and land owners who report a steady decline in deer numbers. Charles Blake, regional biologist for the department, used charts to review the hunter harvest on the four units, noting they appeared quite stable and did not indicate a lack of numbers. The South Hills herd has run the gauntlet for many years, coming from nothing in the 20's to shooting in the 1930's and an eventual overcropping of animals in the early 1950's. The herd was trimmed back in the middle 1950's and a five-year study was made by Biologist Les Trout. Management of the Cassia unit has been patterned on the findings of that study since, except for a couple of permit hunts. The department's plan is aimed at taking most of the annual increase. Other resolutions adopted included: The Mountain Sheep hunting dates be set back two weeks to improve trophy plus and overlap with the elk season. Three permits be allowed for sheep on the East Fork of the Salmon River, the permits to be accompanied by biologist Jim Morgan who will collect biological specimens from the kills to be used in his three-year study on the area herd. An annual census be taken of the East Fork area and a 30-day hunt, without extension, be allowed. An amendment asked that the two deer designation be dropped. That Units 36 and 36B elk seasons open and close at the same time. Fish Supporting passage of legislation for the 22 steelhead and salmon tag, the money being used in defray expenses of maintenance on screens and other structures already installed. Asking for a winter fishing season on Stanley Lake. Commending the fisheries division of the department for the fine program it carried out in the fourth district this year. Recommending that all individual clubs send representation to a public hearing at 10 a.m. March 30 at the Twin Falls city hall in the interests of clean water. The hearings are preparatory to establishing water quality standards for Idaho. Changing the fishing hours from 4 a.m. to 10 p.m. to 5 a.m. to 11 p.m. to coincide with daylight-saving time.

The French women's team after winning first and second places in the Slalom Thursday, were plagued by falls and disqualifications and finished eighth in Friday's giant slalom and third in Saturday's downhill.

Third-Ace You'll never convince Keith Jacobsen that the 13th hole on the Twin Falls Municipal Golf course is unlucky. He dropped the third hole-in-one of his career into that cup Saturday — and that's where his other two acee have come, too.

Jacobsen converted a seven-foot shot on the next three-15-yard hole while Don Hulbert, Duke Whitehead and Veri Mechem watched.

The other action Saturday was provided by Ralph Conant, who scored an eagle on the 17th hole, hitting with an eight-iron from about 185 yards out.

But the story was the Improving CSI needed to meet the requirements of the game. The fourth hole in 19. The hole is fouled in the act of shooting, the rest go out of bounds. There is no three-point play, the offensive team getting the ball out of bounds if fouled on a successful try for goal. A shooter is allowed only five seconds to get a free throw off and Glover had both his taken away. There is no back court and only two timeouts — non-accumulative — per half. The thing that killed CSI was a 30-second shooting rule.

Since there were no clocks, faculty member Glenn Norris timed the offense on his wrist watch and notified Ed Sutton when there were 10 seconds left. Sutton then bounced off the bench and started yelling "get ready to shoot."

Since no timeouts are allowed if the clock is running, CSI didn't get a chance to formulate its last-shot plan. Coach Sutton set that up running up and down the sidelines, instructing the boys in the last 30 seconds. CSI got its first trip to the foul line with four minutes left in the game.

While Vann and Humes carried offensive honors for CSI, a large measure of credit went to Larry Barnett who held Malaise to two points in the last 10 minutes.

Sunday CSI faces a lineup that includes Bobby Joe Hill, all last-year All-American, Orsten Ardis, Neville Shed and Harry Flourney. "Expecting our boys to beat them would be asking a lot," Coach Sutton said.

Illinois Is Given Until Tuesday To Release Coaches

CHICAGO (AP) — The Big Ten faculty representatives Saturday gave the University of Illinois until Tuesday to first release the suspended coaches and indefinitely suspend them from the conference. The faculty representatives earlier in the day heard a three-hour final appeal by Dr. David Henry, Illinois president. But in announcing the deadline for firing the coaches, the faculty men said Illinois "did not sufficiently show cause" under provisions of the ten-coach "should not be dismissed."

Dr. Henry, who has steadfastly backed the three coaches — head football Coach Pete Elliott, head basketball Coach Harry Combes and assistant basketball Coach Howard Braun — has been named by the faculty as the man to make the decision. The action was the final one in a series of moves that followed the disclosure of the slush fund scandal which was exposed by Dr. Henry last December 16.

Turbulent Tess Nabs Derby Win As Slated Field Trials Begin

PAUL — Turbulent Tess, owned by Dr. and Mrs. Roy Shwab, Twin Falls, won the open derby Saturday as the Idaho State Field Association trials opened. Turbulent Tess, handled and trained by Lenn Garner, Paul, will defend her titles in the open all age and open gun dog stakes Sunday when the trials resume one mile east of Minidoka. The second day will begin at 8 a.m. and the all age open gun dog and open gun dog derby are scheduled. Saturday a field of 32 dogs from Idaho, Utah, Oregon and California participated. Doherty, Washington, and Montana are expected to join in Sunday's competition.

Joining Turbulent Tess in the winners circle was Fain, owned by Mike Mayfield, Bakersfield, Calif., in the puppy stakes, and Pete, owned by Purves, Twin Falls, and handled by Barney Greener, Dubois, won the amateur gun dog derby. The Twin Falls dog reversed the order of last year's reversal in the open derby, replacing Turbulent Tess, which was handled by Len Garner, Paul. Warhopper topped Turbulent Tess in their last outing. Third place went to Marshall in the open gun dog derby, owned by Glenn Wise, Ogden.

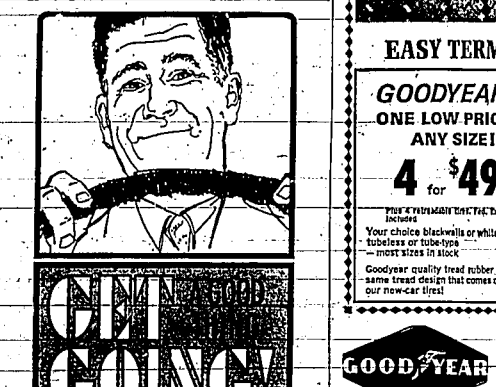

In the puppy stakes, Paladri's Doll, owned by Jim Barnes, was runner-up to Fain. Lenny's Big Boy, owned by Rick Rokish, Magna, Utah, was third. Following Tess in the amateur gun dog stakes was Duke, owned by Frank Tomanga, Blackfoot, with third going to Gretect, owned by Dune Lind, Salt Lake City, and handled by Jim Sheer, Boise. An unhappy note was struck when Mrs. Leonard Pagan, 32, of Burley, either fell or was thrown from a horse while viewing the competition. She was taken to Cassia Memorial Hospital where she was listed in satisfactory condition with torn ligaments in her left hip. Judges for the day were Roy David, Layton, Utah; Mike Mayfield, Pocatello; Glenn Wise, Ogden, and Barney Greener, Burley, who also preside at the state association president.

Sikes Adds To Lead At Jacksonville

BY RON SPEER JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Homeowner favorite Dan Sikes not a middle-studied to Saturday despite a raw, gusty wind that baffled his challengers and grabbed a three stroke lead in the third round of the Jacksonville Open Golf Tournament. Trying for his first tournament title in two years, Sikes was only touring pro birdied five of the first eight holes in a blazing start on the par-7 Deacon Club course of which he is a member.

Sikes faltered on the back nine, however, and lost half of an early six-stroke margin. The 36-year-old lawyer took a double bogey six on the 10th hole when he drove into a lake on a costly gamble with the wind. He also bogeyed the 16th and 17th holes. His 54-hole total of 209 was 10 strokes under par and three strokes better than the 209 built up by Gay Brewer Jr., 1958 Jacksonville runner-up who had an erratic 71. The Dallas, Tex., veteran salvaged a sub-par round and held second place despite a slump in the birdied the 8th, 9th and 10th holes. "The wind was terrific," Brewer said. "I didn't mind the cold, but the wind was even worse than it was in the opening round."

Deadlocked at third with 210 points were a pair of Californians, a muscular Bob Gombay and slender Chuck Courtney.

Salukis Crush Marquette For NIT Title, Rutgers Is Third

DICK COUCH NEW YORK (AP) — Walt Frazier latched off a Southern Illinois point explosion midway in the second half and the streaking Salukis crushed Marquette 74-56 Saturday for the National Invitation Tournament championship. Both teams scored in 44 points, broke a 4-4 tie Saturday for the game for third place. Southern Illinois, the nation's No. 1 college-division team, overcame an 11-point halftime deficit and surged to its 19th straight victory in taking the title crown on its first trip to the 30-year-old post-season basketball classic. Frazier, the Salukis' 6-foot-3 Little All-American, whose 21 points topped all scorers in the final game, hit a free throw and a jump shot with less than 15 minutes remaining, and SIU points for a 59-46 bulge and coach riddled the Warriors' full-court press in the final minutes to complete their four-game tourney sweep and finish the season with a 24-3 record. The Warriors broke ahead early in the first half behind the deadly jump shooting of Bob Wolf. Wolf missed his first two shots, then made five in a row. He dropped in his first two attempts in the second half for a run of seven straight.

Charles Smith scored 13 for the Salukis. Dick Garrett added 12 and Bechtold 10. Jim Burke, Wolf's backcourt partner, hit 15 for the Warriors, who finished 21-9 for the season.

Matson Breaks Discus Record

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Randy Matson's arm was too sore to throw the shot Saturday, but the Texas A&M weight star broke the National Collegiate-Athletic Association discus record with a toss of 209 feet 7 3/4 inches. The world's shot put record holder at 70 feet 7 1/2 inches had to forego the shot in a triangular meet with Rice and Louisiana State because of strained ligaments in the back of his hand. But he said throwing the discus, which is done with a whirl, had affected him. Matson broke his own NCAA record of 199 feet 7 1/2 inches set in 1965. The same day he broke the world record in the shot.

Bengal Team To Enter Tourney

POCATELLO — Leaving the snow and wind behind, Idaho State University's basketball team will open its season Wednesday in the Fourth Annual Pacific Coast Intercollegiate Tournament at Santa Barbara, Calif. The Bengals, directed by coach Babe Caccia, will meet Chapman College in the opening game of the four day tournament. Other teams in the tournament will be California, Oregon and the University of California at Santa Barbara and Westmont College.

Collegiate Football

Princeton College, ranked ninth in the nation, jumped into a 2-0 lead at the start as Willie Walters and Doug Hise each scored four points. But the Tar Heels rallied behind Lewis and regained the lead at 10-14. North Carolina College trailed throughout the second half but recaptured from deficits until North Carolina began its runaway with seven minutes remaining. Terry Driscoll, a substitute for Boston College, led his team with 18 points and Jim Klusane had 15. The losing Eagles, who finished with a 21-3 record, ran into foul trouble in the first half when Walters and Hise each incurred three personal while in the first seven minutes. North Carolina capitalized on the one-and-one situation to score six points in the first half. The consolation final, Princeton outscored St. John's 14-2 at the start of the second half and walloped the Redmen 28-5.

The defense and rebounding of high-leaping Vernon Vanoy led to the team's victory.

Valley jumped into an early 5-2 lead but Horton warmed up and put on a fine shooting display over the next seven minutes. He hit 14 points as Faux hustled into a 21-19 lead, but that was as far as Valley let them get.

In the final five minutes of the first half Valley, getting points from everyone, climbed back into contention. Hal Hine, Pat O'Donnell and Darrell Cannon getting the last six points, but that was as far as Valley let them get.

"One Day At A Time"

By CATHERINE TATE
Times-News Staff Writer

Cookies — chocolate and vanilla — lay nearly untouched on two white paper plates and smoke curled lazily from 14 cigarettes while 14 men and women listened quietly as one of their number calmly said, "My name is John. I'm an alcoholic — and proud of it."

They were seated around a long table at the Twin Falls County Courthouse. The room was drab, decorated with exposed pipes and gold-colored stenciled radiators. Laughter, sometimes sporadic but always gentle and serene, emphasized the uncommon fellowship that enticed everyone present.

It was the regular Wednesday night meeting of the Twin Falls

Chapter of Alcoholics Anonymous and John, a fictional name, was explaining that he was proud that he was an alcoholic and sober instead of a drunk — and intoxicated.

To the members of this unique organization, sobriety is a tenacious thing — something to be fought for on a day-to-day basis and something to be grateful for. A member describes sobriety in this manner:

"Sobriety is the morning sun pushing its way through the fog. It's the trees turning green in the spring. It's a freshly mowed lawn, a country road going away into the sky.

"Sobriety is a glass of fresh orange juice in the morning, a steaming cup of hot coffee. It's planting tiny seedlings in the fresh brown earth. It's writing a letter in a clear hand. It's chuckling aloud and smiling at a stranger who smiles back. It's a kiss and a thankful prayer."

The 14 people at the Twin Falls Courthouse Wednesday night are among the more than five million all over the world to whom alcohol so interfered with normal life that it became a serious problem with them.

They are alcoholics — men and women who have realized that alcohol, because of emotional or physical conditions, makes them uncontrollable. They are not drunks, because they are now sober.

There are two AA groups in Magic Valley. The Twin Falls organization was formed in 1949. Membership lists are not kept and since dues or fees are not collected, there are no records of the number of people who have been associated with AA in Twin Falls. There is also an AA chapter in Burley.

The 14 people at the Wednesday meeting represented as many walks of life. There were businessmen who said they had been sober for as many as 20 years and a construction worker who was recovering from a three-day drunk.

There were a couple of well-dressed housewives, an attractive young secretary and another woman who nervously hummed during most of the meeting.

Most of them were relaxed and genial, and they discussed their problems with a frankness found only among sincere people with a strong understanding of a common problem.

The main community service offered by the Twin Falls group is the provision of a round-the-clock telephone service which is available to everyone. A call late at night from an alcoholic in trouble will bring immediate aid from an AA member.

The telephone number and a small advertisement are always listed in the personal column of the Times-News classified section. This expense and costs of other small services provided by the group are met entirely through donations by group members.

No outside contributions are accepted, a local spokesman said. AA is completely self-supporting.

An open meeting featuring representatives from law enforcement agencies, the medical profession and the clergy will be held Saturday at the Burley Oddfellows Hall. It was announced during the Twin Falls meeting. The event, to which all interested persons are invited, will begin at 8 p.m.

AA members are ordinarily willing to speak openly to everyone about their program. Friends and relatives of alcoholics are frequently amazed at the good humor and friendliness of AA members during discussions on alcoholism.

"We have learned that it is nice to be able to laugh at things that were so desperately tragic to us at one time — laughter is a tonic and it makes life worth living," one local member said.

Members of the association must always remain anonymous at the end of the mass meeting. Identification by picture or full name is strictly avoided.

This anonymity at the general public level is seen by members as their chief protection against attraction of publicity hounds and as a great symbol of the sacrifice of public acclaim.

The AA has always refused personally to advertise its leaders or members. Anonymity is also a test for serious reasons — there is still a great deal of public ignorance surrounding alcoholism, and many people privately and openly condemn alcoholics.

But the American Medical Association and the National Council of Churches have adopted the point of view that alcoholism is a disease.

Looking upon alcoholism as a disease, some individuals have a susceptibility to alcohol that springs from special forms of malnutrition and in others from feelings of inadequacy, inability to cope with frustration, despondency, resentment, rejection of authority — and emotional stress.

Alcoholics Anonymous is an association of alcoholics who have only one aim — to stay sober by completely abstaining from all forms of alcohol. The organization is not a temperance group, and members have no desire to regulate the habits of social and moderate drinkers. They strive, in fact, to gain case when they are around people who are drinking.

They frequently look upon alcohol as a diabetic looks upon sugar. Knowing the effect sugar has upon his system, the diabetic naturally stays away from it.

A local member explains it this way:

"I know of only one other food that I am allergic to — crab. I have eaten crab a few times and I was deathly ill for several days. Now, if I continued to eat crab all the time, wouldn't it be like I was an absolute dope? For me, it's the same with alcohol."

The AA approach to the problems of alcoholics is basically one of group therapy. Never claiming to forego alcohol forever, members of the group strive simply to stay sober for one day at a time.

Many of them, local members said, vowed to give up alcohol for all time at one point or another during their drinking careers. During periods of remorse, they often swore "never to drink again," but found such resolutions ineffective. Their only success, they said, came when they vowed, "not to drink today."

The AA program is, of course, more complicated than just a simple resolve and group meetings weekly. It requires, primarily, complete honesty and a sincere desire on the part of the alcoholic to stop drinking.

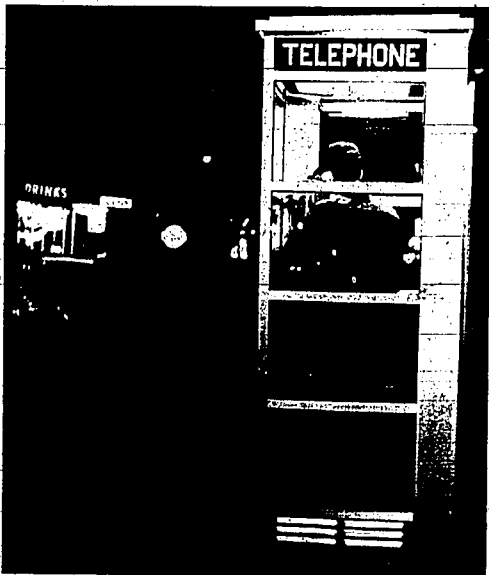

Once these two qualifications are established, daily adherence to a "12 Step Program" and

CALL FOR HELP

HELPING HAND

By JIM HUMBRID
Idaho Fish-Game Department
It is the time of year for young thoughts once more—and here are two for what they are worth:
The greatest enemy of the steelhead and salmon is the catch-and-kill attitude common to anglers who are not conservationists. The steelhead and salmon are the same thing. Of course, the salmon element that will help the steelhead and salmon in their struggle for survival is the human one. By means of cooperation among people, much of the steelhead problem could be solved.

"Hunting, fishing, and conservation have dominated the talk around the Trueblood dinner table and campfires since he was knee high to a duck. He should know something about this. This kind of help, I feel, is both legitimate and unavoidable."
The state judging committee agreed with writer Trueblood, even though son Jack already had been named a winner at the time the note was delivered. The merits of the top two essay entries were close. But, young Trueblood scored best on all points judged, save bibliography. He did not list any reference material, as the contest rules said he should, and this counted against him.

But the committee ruled that to disqualify him on this technicality would not be fair. Even worse would have been a decision to award first prize to the next best essayist just because some critic might say that the elder Trueblood had written his son's entry, or helped write it. That would have been discrimination in reverse because of a candidate's sire name.

Winning entries in the junior division of the essay contest were written by Virginia Mayne, grade 9; Coeur d'Alene, first; Cathryn Vergobbi, grade 8; Kellogg, second; and Suzanne Smith, grade 8, Pocastello, third.
Honorable mention prizes went to Rick Conway, grade 9; Eagle; Diane Hibbard, grade 8; and Ann Lorraine Smith, grade 7, Wendell.
"All winning essays in both junior and senior divisions of the contest point up the grave problems that cloud the future of salmon and steelhead because of habitat problems. These are summed up in good style by Mary Crowley in the essay that garnered third place in the upper division.
She writes, "Better fishways are being built. Hatcheries have been attempted to restore fish runs. Excesses of steelhead and salmon have been placed in the gravel of Idaho streams to re-establish the runs. Research and surveys are striving to find the sources of the problems. Education is being given about littering as it is attempting to stop pollution caused by individuals."
But Jack Trueblood hits the note that seems to give most promise for the future, as follows:
"The doom-cryer said, 'It is the beginning of the end of what? In 1956 the spring chinooks, with their great numbers, totally disproved his theory. We can only hope that it is the end of the doom-cryer and the beginning of public support of those organizations which are trying to enlarge the migratory fish runs by research and use of their findings."
"Our problem is like school spirit. Only when a team or group has the backing of the majority can it do an effective job. Only with the help and support of the public can the great salmon and steelhead runs be restored to our country."
With the help of young people like this—how can we fail?

The Money Box

BY FRANK SCHELL

First letter this week comes from K. J. Ketchum: "I have a question about the 'Balboa' of Panama recognized on a par with the United States silver dollar—in other words, it is worth a dollar in exchange, and collector value runs about three times that of the uncollected coin."
The "Balboa" of 1915 is a particularly beautiful example of coinage and is worth about $10 as a collector of foreign coin.
There have been none coined for some time now, but the government of Panama is about to issue a "proof" set for collectors which will contain the silver "Balboa."
The minor coinage (five cent) almost through the one-half "Balboa" do not command much of a premium and are quite readily obtainable.
One exception is the two and one-half centos of 1904—a very tiny coin, called the "Panama Pill" which sells for around $100 in nice condition.
From L. R. Lutz: "A friend and I had an argument the other day, about coins. In the course of the argument, he said the United States made a twenty cent coin. I contend the United States did not have such a coin. Am I right?"
Answer: You lose. The United States made a 20-cent coin from 1875 through 1878. The coin was almost the size of the quarter and had the same general appearance.
The denomination was listed under the eagle on the reverse side.
Incidentally, with the exception of the 1875-San Francisco mint strikes, they were struck in small quantities and are quite valuable now.
The twenty cent coin from the Carson City mint is so valuable that no prices are quoted on it. Although the mint lists a striking of 10,000 pieces, only about ten are known to exist.
We would like to thank Mrs. Gail Mahoney, Alton, who very graciously allowed us to photograph an Alton token last week. This is the first trade token we have found from Alton and we have added it to our listing.
Collectors are reminded that National Coin Week sponsored by the American Numismatic Association will be here April 22 through the 29th.

There is much more. These quotes are out of 65 essays penned by high school boys and girls for junior and senior divisions of the conservation essay contest put on each year by the Idaho Wildlife Federation and its local club affiliates through the cooperation of school officials, both public and parochial.
The subject this year was assigned: "The Future of Salmon and Steelhead in a Changing Environment." Local clubs judged community contests. Winning essays from these were passed on up to the state judging committee in Boise.
Names of three top winners and the same number of runners-up for honorable mention awards in both the senior and junior high school divisions are being announced now in connection with National Coin Week, March 19-23.
The first quote, the one that "calculated definite attitude," was judged best in the senior high school division. It was penned by Jack Trueblood, Nampa, and son of one of the state's best known outdoor writers.
A lady wrote the other paragraph quoted above. She is Karen Castellaw, a senior at Moscow High School, who won second prize in the upper division of the essay contest.
One of her classmates, Mary Crowley, was awarded third prize in the senior division; and Penny Proctor, also a twelfth grader at Moscow, received an honorable mention award.
Two other honorable mention awards in this division went to Douglas, tenth grader, at IMH High School, Coeur d'Alene; and Cathy MacDonald, tenth grader, Idaho Falls.
The state judging committee for the Idaho Wildlife Federation tried to light a note from Jack Trueblood Sr. that reads as follows:
"If I were one of the judges in an essay contest and the son of a professional writer came up with a winner, I'd look at it twice. In fact, I might look at it three times.
Then, maybe I'd read something old Dad had written. Doing so would quickly reveal the difference between the work of an old pro who had been writing for national magazines for 35 years and that of a high school senior.
It's a matter of fact. I undoubtedly did help Jack with his essay, even though I didn't change a single word of it nor offer any suggestions in his writing.

There are a great many collectors of error currency, and this particular printing mistake is on the market enough times that a fairly reasonable value can be established.
Other things also enter into its value—such as having a low serial number, or being a "star" note.
By and large, if your note is in nice uncollected condition, it would bring you about $12.50 — if slightly worn, around $10 — and if very much worn, it is questionable whether you could get much of a premium for it.
If you want further information about disposing of a drop card to the Money Box.
In answer to a letter from R.A. J. Buttery: "The coins on my notes are not nearly as common as errors in coined money, but they do exist, and your error note is one found most often."

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

From history teacher to author may not sound like a very large step, but to Robert H. Malan, RUPERT, it represents several years of research, writing, revision and some "sweat and tears." However, now that his first 48-page volume is on the bookshelves, he is very encouraged, and thinks he "would like to retire early and try to do a little more writing." Minico High School's history teacher has 2,000 copies of "H. H. Roberts, A Biography" to his credit in the first printing which has been off the press about a month. One of the most striking personalities of this century, Brigham H. Roberts was elected United States Representative from the state of Utah, general authority of the LDS Church, missionary orator, writer, politician, soldier and statesman.
During his college days at Brigham Young University, Mr. Malan wrote three different screenplays, choosing each time a different subject. He was in the U.S. Army. He completed work for his BS degree in history there, and did graduate work toward a master's degree at Utah State University, where his natural choice for a thesis topic was H. H. Roberts.
Research in this project led Mr. Malan to books, journals, periodicals, public documents, articles, letter-writing, personal interviews and finally a review of the major writings of Roberts himself.
Through the encouragement of S. George Ellsworth, professor and acting head of the Utah State University and other of his professors, Malan was persuaded to submit "The Salt Lake City, for publication."
The thesis, which was completed in 1956, was submitted to the printers in 1957, and for four years Malan worked with the publishers in revising and enlarging the book to give it more public appeal, resulting in the December, 1956 publication date. Locally the book can be obtained at the Book Store in Rupert, J. & J. Office Supply, BURLEY, and the PAUL Drug Center, as well as the Deseret Book Co. in Salt Lake City.
Mr. Malan was reared in Ogden, Utah. In addition to his degrees from the Utah colleges, he has done graduate study and acting chaplain for all Protestant churches aboard the U.S.S. Presidio. He served a mission for the LDS church, has been principal of seminaries at Moab, Utah, and Rigby, and for the past 10 years he has taught at Minico High School.
He has instructed classes in local geography, world history, American history and government, but is presently con-

Biggest Question Of Year—Flying Saucers, Yes Or No?

A total of 1,650 sightings of UFOs—Unidentified Flying Objects, Flying Saucers to most of us—was reported to the Air Force in 1956 and the Air Force stands firm on its denial of such things as flying saucers. But even this authoritative denial has not stopped people from seeing — or thinking they saw them — or from believing in them.
A local resident reported last week that on his way home from Mountain Home late one evening a "flying saucer" zoomed down near his car for a second or two then was gone in a flash. About an hour and fifteen minutes later "it" (or a companion) came again this time in front of his car. He said it was close to the ground this time and radiated a "big, round, orange glow" perhaps seven or eight feet in diameter.
By this time the man admitted that he was alarmed and he did not feel any better when it appeared for the third time about five miles north of Jefferiesville, Mo., on a road between Burley, Robert, TWIN FALLS and GOODING.
Shortly after arriving home the man related his experience to some friends from Jerome. By this time he was a little contrasting solely on history.
Mr. Malan also has taught in the continuing education night classes under the auspices of Idaho State University for the past eight years, having taught in Burley, Robert, TWIN FALLS and GOODING.
Mrs. Malan, the former Tess Whiting, a native of Rupert, has a BS degree in education from Utah State University and hopes to start her graduate studies this summer. She teaches the sixth grade at Pioneer School. They are the parents of five children.
Malan's final comment was "Now when I look at a shelf of books I can understand and appreciate all the work that goes into writing one of the volumes."
The Jerome couple affirmed his statement. They had seen the same thing on a country road on the Northside. They had seen the object was identical in appearance to the one their friend had seen and that "it" seemed to follow their car. Well, you are a scoffer or a believer. It makes a good deal of sense. You're imaginative enough it can produce just any angle along the spine.

Zoning Of Rupert Area Is Changed

RUPERT — The Mindkova County Zoning Board has voted to change the classification of the Shamrock Estates from R-A to R-2.
The R-A classification is residential-agricultural, and the R-2 is strictly residential. The action was taken after Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lutz appeared, reporting their plans to build a Nobille Home subdivision on the estates, located on the Sawyer property on the Pocastello highway. The zoning change will not be made until after a public hearing.
Lawrence Boldt, zoning administrator, was instructed to notify Arthur Smyth to clean the premises of the Smyth addition on Sugar Factory road, after Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Marvin and E. L. Hammond appeared to comment on the buildings in the addition.
The board also voted to institute legal action against Alfred Goodie to clean his lot at 200 West 125 South.
Commissioners who attended the meeting were Alex Roemer, chairman, Mrs. Dorothy Carriger, secretary, and Roy Honsinger, Pete Wakelwood, George H. d. Art Smith, Henry Schodde, Wayne Hollenbeck and Bert Van Every.

Book Review

THE FOUR SEASONS BOOKS

By Edwin Way Teale
The author is a naturalist, photographer, teacher and writer who dearly loves his country and spent 20 years and traveled about 75,000 miles to bring us his delightful books. The four books are dedicated to his son, David, who was killed in action in Germany in 1945.

"North With the Spring" was the first of the season books. Published in 1951 and reprinted many times, it starts in the Florida panhandle and the reader enters into the eastern part of the country with many detours inland.

"Spring" the cyprus swamps and delta marshes we see waves of scollas, robins, blue birds, blackbirds, water fowl and myriads of other birds preparing for their trip to the north.

There is a most interesting chapter about the bald eagle, and you accompany a prosy diamond-hunter on a dangerous quest in the Florida scrub.

The author travels back and forth across the coastal states and into the Blue Ridge Mountains, spends a day with an herb-gatherer, finally brings his trip to a close on Long Island after exploring along the Canadian border.

"Autumn Across America" was the second in the series. It was published in 1956 and reprinted.

Its travels begin on Cape Cod in the eastern United States, the continent. There are just beginning to don their glorious colors as the author leaves Nantucket and follows the coast of the Atlantic coast with his first stop in Shinnecock Bay where he dons his diving gear and goes to the edge of the sea, a fascinating marine life it feeds. He and his wife, Nellie, then travel west along the northern part of the continent.

They stop in Northern Michigan in that country that is the nesting place of the Kirtland's warbler on an insect farm, the Badlands, through Jackson Hole down the eastern side of Idaho watching the sheep and herding at the great Idaho point.

We travel through Utah's Logan Canyon which is so gorgeous in its autumn colors, cross Nevada we read an entire chapter about Craters of the Moon.

From Idaho the author goes east to Seattle and down the coast to end the journey at Point Reyes in the California coast.

"Journey Into Summer" is the third of the series. The Teales will visit 26 states, meandering from the White and Green Mountains in the East to the Rockies in the West, ending in Colorado where all the Rockies have fallen during the night.

We will wander through all plains meadows and drive on roads covered with grasshoppers. We will experience with the author his first encounter with dry rain as he comes upon the forward fringe of his first big dust storm and witness the slung sun of the season's last day cast its shadows to the east.

The last book is "Wandering Through Winter." The Teales start this journey on the Pacific coast near where they had completed their autumn journey.

At 85 Woman Looks Back On 56 Years Of Farming And Living In Buhl Area

Although Mrs. Oscar Baker, 85, devotes much of her time these days to reading and her colored TV, it has not always been so. It seems that children accustomed to acres to roam had a hard time adjusting to the corridors and confining rooms of a hotel.

It seems that children accustomed to acres to roam had a hard time adjusting to the corridors and confining rooms of a hotel. Finally they moved. The 40-acre farm had a one room "house" to which the Bakers had added two more rooms and a bath and been set up in the front to accommodate the MaJestic range, the hub of farm life in that area.

Probe Resumed

KLAMATH FALLS (AP)—The investigation of the crash of a West Coast Airlines F77 resumed today on Mt. Stukel, five miles south of Klamath Falls. The plane went down, killing all four persons aboard.

Mrs. Baker explained that she didn't actually "shop" in those days — people "traded." They family could transport, and the household goods and the family, if they wanted.

bring to pass what He has said. The most impossible event was the virgin birth of Christ. Yet it happened. God will perform what He said He would. So, on Palm Sunday Christ rides into the dragon's lair to fulfill prophecy.

Jesus Christ is preached, those who hear must make some decision—acceptance or rejection. There may be an attitude of indifference to Christ, but isn't this a decision? So Christ was presenting Himself to His nation as He rode into Jerusalem.

In the third step, AA members make a decision to turn their lives over to the care of God as they understand Him.

The eighth step calls for a list of all persons the alcoholic has harmed. It does not think anyone except Christ was really aware of His doing a fulfillment of prophecy.

For three years the family lived for three weeks in the Buhl Hotel and it was a relief when they were finally able to move the five children out to the farm.

When Mrs. Baker was asked how many great-grandchildren she had, her eyes twinkled and she said, "We must go back, there is a story to tell about that."

Most of the Baker family's trading was done in Filler at the Hammerquist Mercantile. They were known as the Bakers with "a fringe on top."

Christina Petersen Named As 1967 Gem Mother Candidate

It is time again for nomina- tions for the "Idaho Mother of 1967." This year Circle Six of the First Presbyterian church has chosen Mrs. Christina Petersen as its candidate.

Left alone in 1838 with four children ranging in age from 5 to 15, Mrs. Petersen has achieved a success far surpassing many who have found themselves in similar circumstances.

After a period of interrupted schooling caused by responsibilities for her home and brothers and sisters, Mrs. Petersen enrolled at the age of 20 in a special vocational course at the Montana State College, Bozeman.

During this six month course she studied art, tailoring, sewing, horticulture, nursing and home economics.

MRS. CHRISTINA PETERSEN

along with a full time job as desk clerk at the old Park Hotel.

But that fall her leather business had grown to the extent that she found it necessary to devote even more of her time to it.

She has served as state chairman of the Child Welfare and Improvement of Instruction Committee of the Idaho Education Association; was co-chairman of Idaho's first instructional conference in English in 1963 and was elected one of the board of directors of the Idaho Chapter of Teachers of English.

She is presently serving a three year term as District 4 executive committee woman for the Idaho Education Association and is state chairman for the PTA exceptional child program.

The new business flourished and the Chris Line Originals were born. By 1950 seven salesmen represented the business in 24 states and later the jackets were sold in nearly every state.

In 1960 the operation was merged with an Oklahoma manufacturer and now Mrs. Petersen's business is solely a retail operation.

Venezuelan Reds, Castro Wage Hot War Of Words

By GEORGE ARZEL CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — The war of words between the Venezuelan Communist party and Fidel Castro is getting hotter. The Venezuelans say the Cuban prime minister can't tell them what to do.

"We categorically reject Castro's pretension that it is he and only he who decides what is revolutionary and what is not revolutionary in Latin America," the party said Thursday in a statement signed by the seven members of its politburo.

In a stinging speech in Havana Monday, Castro accused the party of siding with the Venezuelan government by blaming Castro terrorists for the assassination of Julio Iribarren Borges, brother of Venezuela's foreign minister.

Castro called the pro-Soviet leaders of the party traitors, cowards and rightists; He said he had "in an act of virtual treason abandoned the armed struggle."

Cuba, Castro said, will back in any country that who, without calling themselves Communists, act as such rather than those who call themselves Communist.

Special Education Plan Formulated By Teacher For Three Idaho Counties

By PEGGY LALEY

Times-News Feature Writer In a democratic society it is expected that each child receive an education, but educators and others are now putting a more detailed interpretation on this principle.

It is felt that each child should not necessarily receive equal opportunities, but that each child should be educated in a manner that will enable him to achieve to the maximum of his potentialities.

About the turn of the twentieth century special education classes were first organized in the United States. With the passage of years there has grown a widespread recognition that facilities must be provided to train and educate to the exceptional child.

The term "exceptional child" has come to mean any child who deviates sufficiently from normal children to require special instruction.

This can also include the gifted child with an IQ of 120 or more. But more concern has been placed on the retarded, physically handicapped and the emotionally handicapped.

According to recent figures there are some 12,000 students in Idaho and not one out of 14 are in need of special education.

Retarded children are usually classified into two groups, educable or trainable. Those that are educable are children with an IQ of 50 to 75; the trainable range from 25 to 50.

Others it is not recognized that the child is retarded is simply labeled by parents and teachers as slow learner, stubborn or often deliberately uncooperative. These are the students who easily become dropouts.

But it has been proved with no doubt that with special training geared to the needs these same "problem students" can adjust to a degree where it is possible for them to take their place in society with notable success.

Mrs. Helen A. Mabbitt, who lives in Shoshone and teaches in the Gooding schools, has long been vitally concerned with the problems of educating a retarded child.

"On December 6, 1956, she submitted to the superintendents and school board members of the Gooding, Jerome and Lincoln County schools a proposal for inter-district special education units.

equip him for social and vocational living, rather than spend many hundreds of dollars throughout his life for custodial care.

And it has been proved through special education programs that these exceptional children can be trained to a degree where they are able to care for themselves in their adult years.

If this can be accomplished by a relatively small expenditure, how much better it is than for the state to have responsibility for their care throughout their life either through welfare channels or the more drastic measures of penal institutions.

Mrs. Mabbitt is one of a large family where eight out of ten children are qualified educators.

She has served as state chairman of the Child Welfare and Improvement of Instruction Committee of the Idaho Education Association; was co-chairman of Idaho's first instructional conference in English in 1963 and was elected one of the board of directors of the Idaho Chapter of Teachers of English.

She is presently serving a three year term as District 4 executive committee woman for the Idaho Education Association and is state chairman for the PTA exceptional child program.

She is director of the Jerome County unit for the state board of directors of Retarded Children and has served on the Idaho Council for Mental Retardation.

Beginners' Luck Uncertain On Season's Broadway Stage

By WILLIAM GLOVER

NEW YORK (AP) — Beginners' luck is all topsy-turvy this season's Broadway.

During the first half, a dozen hopefuls — more than a dozen hopefuls — won key roles.

But it has been proved with no doubt that with special training geared to the needs these same "problem students" can adjust to a degree where it is possible for them to take their place in society with notable success.

On December 6, 1956, she submitted to the superintendents and school board members of the Gooding, Jerome and Lincoln County schools a proposal for inter-district special education units.

This proposal has been adopted by these school districts and recently Ray Turner, superintendent of the Wendell schools, was named district administrator for the plan.

Her plan calls for a director who would be responsible for the development of the curriculum, grouping and scheduling of the children. She suggests that the primary group, ages 6 to 9, be placed in the Shoshone schools; intermediate, 10 to 13, in Gooding; pre-vocational, ages 14 to 16, at Richfield, and secondary, ages 17 to 21, in Jerome.

She states that the problems of transportation to and from these classes should be provided by the school system with the drivers qualified to double as teacher aides.

Mrs. Mabbitt says "every child is entitled by the Constitution to an educational opportunity. The time and money are available to furnish remedial and preventive help rather than maintenance costs.

Mrs. Mabbitt also voiced the opinion held by many people to date that "it is sound economy to spend a few hundred dollars for training a child in the developmental years and thereby minute cancellation of another musical, "Breakfast at Tiffany's." The oldest arrival, Gloria Foster, 25, continued tooning talent for sultry emotion in "Yerma," a study in feminine frustration put on to mixed reaction by the Lincoln Center Repertory Company.

Miss Foster was roused to interest in drama while attending college in her native Chicago. For five years she has been running up an impressive string of off-Broadway credits.

Youngest starter was Heather Menzies, 19. She has chosen over hundreds of rivals for the omnibus central role in "We Have Always Lived in the Castle." It ran nine performances.

Perhaps the warmest notices of all were garnered by Bonnie Bedelia, 19, in "The Best Man for the Job." The general reaction was typified by a veteran actor before that she appeared in another film, "Hawaii."

Miss Bedelia — she topped the longest name on the list for stage purposes — comes from a theater clan. Two brothers and a sister perform.

Bonnie got an early start by appearing in a dance recital at 4, later worked with the New York City Ballet and sang in two productions of the City Center Opera Company. Most of her training has been in education.

Both she and Miss Lawson are graduates of the "Love-of-Life" school.

Another semipro of the season was James Bolam, 25, who took part in an abortive British importation of "How the World Treating You?" Bolam has the distinction of having twice been voted London's new newcomer of the year, once for "The Knack" and then for "Too True to Be Good."

Among other arrivals, Myrna Loy, 37, and Ann Sothern, 34, whose father was President John F. Kennedy's ambassador to Ireland, found the going a lot tougher respectively in "Those That Play—The Clowns" and "Hall, Scrawdyke!"

Anniversary Is Observed At Ketchum

KETCHUM — The Ketchum-Sun Valley Chamber of Commerce celebrated its 20th anniversary at a meeting Wednesday noon at the Sun Bowl.

Most pertinent of the questions which confronted the first Chamber of Commerce group was finding a place for a garbage dump. Now, 20 years later, they are again confronted with this problem.

Men Monopolize Kitchen; Serve Record Crowd At Sausage Fete

By ARVETTA SAVAGE

PAUL—The way to a man's heart is through his stomach—even though he has to cook it himself.

The tables are turned once each year at the church and the men monopolize the kitchen. At least they try very hard. It seems there are always a few women church members who lose "fidelity" in the opposite sex's ability in the kitchen and attempt to lend a helping hand. These women are gently "removed" from the area and the men's reputation of preparing and serving a community supper is safe for another year.

Approximately 100 men and boys of the local German congregation displayed their talents in the kitchen during the annual event. Persons of all denomination and from surrounding communities turn up with meal tickets and empty tumblers.

The boy helpers are apparent clock watchers and as soon as their time is up, there is nothing but a white and black streak going out the back door. But for the men it is a different story.

Dressed very handsomely in dark pants, white shirts with black bow-ties and aprons styled to retain their dignity, the men appear to be thoroughly enjoying themselves. In fact, the occasion is enjoyed to the extent that this is the only time of the entire year that some male members are found inside the church house.

The men are cooperative and always eager for the privilege to "sweat over the hot stove" and see what results they get from the amateur job. Although most of the men come strangers to kitchen duties, they leave later in the evening well experienced.

In 1963 the church needed funds for a building project and the men felt they needed a get-together, so they combined the two into a homemade sausage feed and prepared the meat from one hog. The event was successful and well accepted by the rest of the congregation so they tried it in 1964 and used two hogs. Again they ran out of sausage.

In 1965 they tried again with two hogs, but heavier than previously butchered. Apparently the talent of these men was so advertised that they again ran out of sausage, so in 1966 they killed three hogs, each averaging 500 pounds. The record was becoming a carbon copy each year with a regular notation "not enough sausage," so this year they killed four hogs and limited the sausage bulk sales to five pounds per family—they ran out again.

The men want it understood that they prepare enough sausage for the people to be served at the tables but always run short of having enough to package for everyone to take home.

The men prepared 850 pounds of sausage, and used 120 pounds of pancake flour, eight pounds of coffee, 45 dozen eggs, 25 pounds of butter and 25 gallons of milk.

The event is attended by persons from throughout Magic Valley. Mr. and Mrs. Gary Meyer and sons from Buhl were among the guests to eat the men's cooking. Meyer, a former member of this congregation, was escorted to the kitchen after the event and was inducted into kitchen duties.

The atmosphere is friendly and inviting, and the men seem to "melt" through the area with trays of hot food to be served. Hot food is a must with the men and courtesy is a demand. One man and a boy are assigned to each table, which is pleasantly decorated with a large red plastic pig.

Organization is the key word with the all male membership and each carries out his duty to the letter. The kitchen is occupied by the dishwashing crew, members who are continuously giving two slabs—the workout—and the frying crew, who say they were so busy they didn't even notice who was working beside them.

In a small room beside the kitchen was the pancake flipper, using a unique and homemade dough applicator made especially for the event by Marvin Looslie.

Men Monopolize Kitchen; Serve Record Crowd

Mr. Leslie took a three-gallon milk bucket, made a hole in the bottom, attached a long clear plastic hose with a nozzle, which was welded together and operated by a small spring. This eliminated the mess which previously had discouraged the men from taking this duty. Mr. Leslie, who has served on the village board the past 16 years, has maintained the reputation of being "the one" who always takes the hard work out of any community project.

In the next small room were the butter and dessert crews. The package sausage sales were operated from another small room, all set off from the large dining area.

Guests wait in an annex of the chapel until their names are called by women ticket sellers, then are escorted to the dining room where the men take over. Each table is completely cleared and reset after being used.

Approximately 23 men came to the church two days before the event and cased the sausage, which had been previously seasoned and mixed by Herman Vilhauer and Walter Kraus. The meat was then returned to the packing house, where it was smoked.

Over 400 persons attended the event and the men grossed $1,273 to be placed in the church building fund for future use.

The "Congregational" Church is composed mostly of descendants of Germany and Russia and is the only one of its kind in Magic Valley. The closest ones are in American Falls and Mountain Home.

Immigrants from Germany and Russia-looking for a better way of life have been longtime members of this congregation. Three senior citizens who always support the event and enjoy the men's efforts are Mrs. Kathryn Heinz, who came to America in 1913, and Mrs. Katie Walters and Mrs. Kathryn Kerbs, who came in 1912. Each was born in Russia and still enjoy communicating with the Russian-German language. German is spoken prevalently in the regular church sermons.

The people of German descent are admitted and respected for their hard work and especially for their ability to put in extra hours. A recipe that stimulates the appetite. The scent of their cooking is unmistakably different from the local fare.

The Friendly Circle of the congregation has put out a recipe book which contains favorites of old wives. These women seem to have the talent of taking "ordinary" food and preparing a meal that is rather starchy for color-minded persons but certainly detectable for those who enjoy good eating.

Apparently the male members also inherited this knack in the kitchen because of the large crowd that returns each year. But the usual comment was, "they do pretty well — for a bunch of men."

Joint Officers Are Announced

FAIRFIELD — Mr. and Mrs. David Lemmons are the newly elected presidents of the Prairie Schoolers Couples Club. The office is held jointly by the couples and installation will be at the April meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Gwinn Riet were elected vice presidents; Mr. and Mrs. Lin Vanskike, secretaries; and Mr. and Mrs. Keith Strom, chaplains.

The March meeting featured a bowling party at the Ranch Bowl. Gooding. The club met in the banquet room of the Stop Cafe. Prizes for bowling went to Mrs. William Sweet, high for women, and Mrs. Maudie Mink. Mink won high for men and Leno Baldwin, low.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Osborne hosted the event.

This is it. The moment you've been waiting half a lifetime for. And we're talking you not to get emotional about it?

Well, excuse us for sounding like a Dutch Uncle, but if you're not careful you could make an expensive mistake. We've spent a lot of years learning about diamonds, so we know how confusing it can be to you to hear words like "carats" and "facets" and "points."

Maybe you've even heard that some flaws in a diamond can't be detected by the naked eye, and you're worried someone will sell you a dud.

And, after all, how will you know if it's a value or not. If you buy it at Sterling Jewelry, you'll know for sure.

We'll show you rings that will be worth getting emotional about for the rest of your life.

Paper Dress Makes Debut

PARIS (AP) — The paper dress, designed by avant-garde abstract designer Paco Rabanne and produced by Annik Robelli, made its official debut in Paris Friday at Boutique Milla, where nonconformist ready-to-wear is on sale for the young generation.

Paco Rabanne confided: "The paper dress is not a style in itself. It is a supplement to fashion. For any occasion."

The occasions he has in mind could be a day on the beach, a party at home, and even a night on the town. These dresses are retailing for $8 and $9 and the manufacturer is planning to bring the price down. The paper is now made at an especially built French plant.

The paper dresses, selling at Printemps and Galeries Lafayette are far less costly and are imported.

The big questions are: what happens if you get caught in the rain, and actually, when do you wear them?

Twenty styles are shown to date, from the pleated tunic to straight shifts decorated with lacquered paper ribbons or paper ribbon tabs.

Succumb to the temptation of citrus colors!

It's Spring's most enticing yield! Citrus colors come in a plentiful crop of eye-pleasing slings, straps and bows, all adding a delectable touch to fashion.

Dear Abby

BY ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
 I have been happily married for 15 years and I have three lovely children. Every night I dream about a certain man who is a good friend of my husband and mine. He is also married and has a nice family. Abby, I am so ashamed of myself I don't know what to do.

These dreams he is kissing me and loving me, and we are carrying on something fierce. I don't know if we are married in these dreams or not, all I know is I just go right ahead like there was no right or wrong. Every time I see this man and his wife I feel so guilty I could die. His wife is such a nice person, and so is he, and my hand to God he has never even looked sideways at me. What worries me I seem to be enjoying these dreams. Please, help me.

CAN'T WAIT TO RETIRE
 DEAR CAN'T: You need not feel guilty for what you do in your dreams. As long as you are not trying to make your dreams come true—in this instance, there's nothing to be ashamed of.

DEAR ABBY: Recently my sister got married. At the reception her husband cornered me and kissed me. Only it wasn't the kind of kiss a bridegroom usually gives his new sister-in-law.

I haven't said anything to anybody, of course, but now when I see him he acts like it never happened, but I can't look him in the eye. What should I do?

DEAR KISSED: Forget it. He probably has.
DEAR ABBY: A lady signed GRANDMA wrote, complaining because the kid grandsons in the service, but a fat, lazy, 22-year-old stob of a neighbor kid sat around doing nothing. He bragged that his hobbies were draft-dodging, eating and sleeping, and said he keeps his blood pressure up on purpose so he can't pass the physical. She said she wanted to know why fellows like this should be allowed to get away with this. You said there was probably a lot more wrong with the stob

Memories Told Of White House Adventures

WASHINGTON (AP)—As Margaret Truman dubbed them, "sat in the White House and discussed life there as they knew it: The pranks, the pressures and the "pinch-me" feuds.

Their memories spanned 12 years of life with "Father" as the President.

And they ranged from the antics of "Queen's gang" carrying his father, President Theodore Roosevelt, by lifting spalls at a famous painting, to revelations of Bess Truman as a ping pong whiz.

The historic soiree took place Thursday night at the last of a series of six reception-dinner suppers President and Mrs. Johnson have been giving for members of Congress.

Downstairs, the President and top officials briefed some 70 congressmen on serious political matters.

Upstairs, in the second-floor rose and white queen's bed room, the tales of yesterday were spun before Mrs. Johnson, daughter Lynda and the congressional wives.

"Living in this house is fascinating, but it's not what you call lots of fun," concluded Harriet Truman's daughter, Margaret, now the wife of New York newspaperman Clifton Daniel.

"It always had that pinch-me feeling," said Barbara Eisenhower, daughter-in-law of President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Charles Phelps Taft, now 69 and a Cincinnati resident, could remember lots of youthful pranks when his father, William Howard Taft, was president. They included jamming the elevator and playing a game of Charades with brother Bob, late Sen. Robert A. Taft, dressed-in-his-mother's-clothes "diddle" Dali, beloved granddaughter of Franklin D. Roosevelt and now Mrs. Van H. Seagraves of Washington, had fond memories of visiting "Poppy" Roosevelt while he breakfasted in bed and of "Grandmother" teaching her grandchildren manners with such advice as "never make yourself disagreeable in public."

Barbara Eisenhower, who didn't actually live in the White House, told how she and her family stayed there frequently while First Lady Mamie visited her mother in Denver.

"It was a great vacation for me," said Barbara, but hard to adjust to her modest home afterwards.

On their last night in the White House, Barbara recalled the last Secret Service man coming to say good-bye. "This is one end of something beautiful," she said as she watched him depart down the path.

"Don't worry, mother," son David consoled her. "I put notes behind all the pictures and they say I shall return."

WHEN TO PRE-EMPT AT FOUR LEVEL

The opening bid of four is even more pre-emptive than the bid of three. It also should be a substantially better hand. This is because, somehow or other, three-level pre-empts are not doubled while four level pre-empts frequently are.

not open four spades with: Spades-A K Q J 10 8, H-12, D-7 6, C-3 4.

The first hand is likely to give us one trick. The latter won't make four spades unless partner can give us three.

We have another rule for four-level pre-empts. We never have more than one ace and, if our partner has passed, we do not ever have "solid" trumps and a void suit.

Today's hand shows the advantage of this hard and fast rule. South had a normal four-spade opening. North looked over his big hand and decided that South might well hold two aces. Therefore, North bid four no-trump. When South bid five diamonds to show one ace, North signed off at five spades but they were one trick too high.

West opened the ace of diamonds and shifted to the queen of hearts. East took two heart tricks and game and rubber had been thrown out the window.

Thus when we open with a four bid we don't have 10 tricks in our own hand but we do have a hand that is almost sure by going to make eight tricks by itself and that has some compensating values.

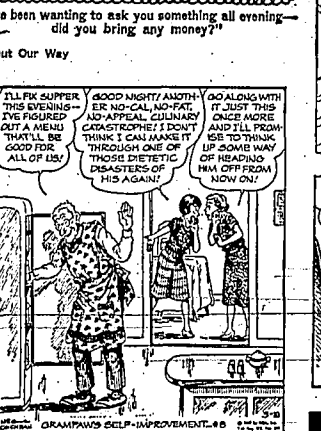

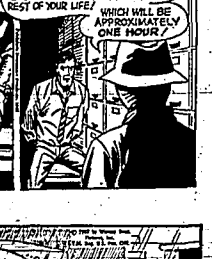

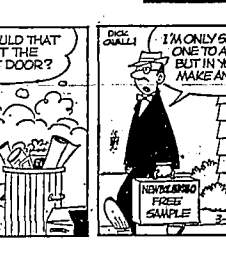

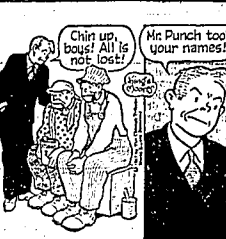

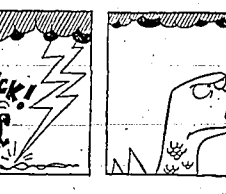

In first or second seat we would open four spades irrespective of vulnerability with: Spades-A K Q 10 8 7 6, H-12, D-Q J 10 2, C-2. We would

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of rebidding two no-trump you rebid three spades. What do you do now?

Poland, East Germany, Soviets Stall West Germany's Diplomatic Offensive

By GENE KRAMER
WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Poland, East Germany and the Soviet Union have stalled West Germany's diplomatic offensive in Eastern Europe, temporarily at least.

Western diplomats say this was confirmed by a brief announcement Thursday night that Poland and Bulgaria will sign a treaty of friendship, cooperation and mutual assistance in the first 10 days of April.

They said Bulgaria, southernmost member of the Soviet bloc, by signing the pact is joining the movement against West Germany launched this month by the northern tier of Communist countries — Poland, East Germany and Czechoslovakia. Bulgaria has no frontiers with Germany and a few weeks ago was considering opening diplomatic relations with Bonn with no strings attached, as Romania did Jan. 31.

The Polish-Bulgarian treaty is considered certain to contain clauses upholding the present Polish-German boundary. It might even reject Bonn's claim to represent all of Germany. Diplomats said it would be politically embarrassing for West Germans to open diplomatic relations with Bulgaria for some time at least after the Bulgarian government subscribed to such a treaty.

West Germany claims to represent the whole German nation as it existed in 1937. This includes territories seized by Poland and the Soviet Union during World War II as well as all of East Germany. Since it began making overtures to the Communist nations in Southeast Europe, the present West German government has muted these territorial claims but it has not abandoned them. Predictions are now heard in Warsaw that East Germany may soon sign bilateral friendship and cooperation treaties with Bulgaria, Hungary and Romania, in addition to the two concluded this week with its immediate neighbors, Poland and Czechoslovakia. Such pacts would uphold the existence of the two German states and deny the West German claim to represent all of Germany.

Discussions between West Germany and Hungary about diplomatic relations are reported to be at a standstill. Many diplomats from both Western and Eastern Europe say Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger's West German government is itself partly to blame for the growing resistance to its overtures to Eastern Europe. There is widespread agreement that Bonn was unduly hasty in claiming a great victory after opening relations with Romania and in reaffirming its claim to being Germany's sole representative.
