LBJ's Intentions For Peace Clash With Ky's Appeal

GUAM (AP)—President Johnson's avowed intent to focus a summit conference on peace talks clashed today into a call by Premier Nguyen Cao Ky for a sharp escalation of the Vietnam war. Johnson also got a report from his own close advisers that the Communists are doing some escalating of their own. At the first formal conference session, atop the highest hill on this damp tropical island, Johnson's public statement questioned whether the time had come for the United States to bomb Hanoi, block the harbor at Haiphong and expand the war into Laos and Cambodia.

Lodge Gets New Position As Diplomat

GUAM (AP)—Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. is getting a new diplomatic post as ambassador at large to South Vietnam. Secretary of State Dean Rusk told newsmen today that President Johnson will nominate the outgoing ambassador to South Vietnam for what amounts to an assignment as a diplomatic troubleshooter. Lodge this will change places with Ambassador at Large Ellsworth Bunker, who is succeeded in Saigon. Rusk said Lodge will work fulltime and will be much involved with Vietnamese and Southeast Asian affairs but will be available for trouble shooting chores anywhere in the world. Lodge, 64, has served two terms as ambassador at large. He was first appointed by President John F. Kennedy in 1963 and stayed until June 1964 when he returned to the United States to join moderate Republican forces in an unsuccessful attempt to prevent the Gulf of Tonkin resolution. He was presidential nomination.

Narcotics Use Not Real Problem Yet In Area, But Officers Are On Watch

There apparently is no real problem at this time throughout Magic Valley concerning use of narcotics by young people, according to a survey by the Times-News. However, Twin Falls City Jail, Officer Ernest Marlowe, who last fall attended a training course in California on the latest techniques in detecting and handling of narcotic cases, has plans to launch an offensive against the problem which he feels sure, is bound to come. A special law enforcement training program is being planned for this spring through co-

Standards

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government's top automobile safety official said today the automobile industry did not try to apply improper pressure to ease the impact of new car safety standards. That testimony before the Senate Commerce subcommittee was given by William Haddon Jr., administrator of the National Traffic Safety Agency, and Lowell K. Bridwell, acting undersecretary of commerce. The officials submitted a review of the agency's activities including its 20 safety standards issued Jan. 31. Auto industry critic Ralph Nader, due to testify later, has charged the government safety standards were weakened and lapsed at industry insistence.

JEROME—Ruth Ann and Helen Simerly sat Monday in the home of Mrs. and Mrs. Willard Deck, their uncle and aunt, still in a state of shocked incredulity at the violence that has touched their lives. And, yet, telling the facts of their mother's life, which ended some four weeks in a murder which has shaken the whole community, they are moved to smiles and even chuckles. Mrs. Simerly was born Alta Jones in Roubidoux, Mo., July 5, 1902. Following the death of her mother, Mrs. Simerly and her sister Virginia, now Mrs. Deck, were raised by their maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Pinkston, and an aunt, Mrs. Ed Mason.

Awards Are Presented Here For Service To Scouting

Illuminated by the glow of a single amber spotlight, five men were presented the highest award that can be bestowed upon an adult scout by the Snake River Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, during ceremonies Friday at the Twin Falls Armory.

The coveted Silver Beaver Award, a recognition of outstanding service to youth, was given to Clarence Barrett, Malita; Owen Weedon, Burley; Melbert Taylor, Heyburn; Morris Guerry Jr., Castletown; and Kenneth J. Homer, Minidoka, during the 22nd annual Snake River Area Council Banquet.

More than 200 people attended the event, during which numerous other awards were presented. The annual council report, an address by Ferris Taylor, Heyburn Report to the Nation Scout, a community sing and a performance by the Adeline Concert Choir, Tacoma, Wash., were other highlights.

Progress of the area Camp Development Campaign, a drive to expand and improve the Snake River Council's camping program, was briefly noted during the banquet. Robert A. Erkins, council president, commented that "Scout camping is a catalyst for bringing together and implementing all of the programs of the council, and the importance of the campaign."

Several Twin Falls businesses were awarded plaques last year for outstanding support of area scouting and Mr. Erkins presented each of these companies a silver bar in recognition of continued service. The firms included the Times-News, Amalgamated Sugar Co., Idaho Sheet Metal, Idaho Power Co., and KMYT.

The Council President's award was given to U. N. Terry, Twin Falls, council vice president. The award is presented to "a man who has always been ready and willing to accept any important job in scouting," Mr. Erkins said.

Outstanding Service Plaques were given to Elvis Cain, president of Cain's Furniture and Appliance; Daryl Ander, manager of the Sears Roebuck Co.; and John Christoffersen, president of John Chris Motor Co.

Nine men who have contributed a combined total of 180 years to scouting were presented yet-ber, chairman of the Cassia District. Finally, scouting training awards were presented to Clarence (Bud) Hansen, Troop 60, sponsored by the Twin Falls Fifth Ward, and David S. McClure, Troop 67, sponsored by the Twin Falls Methodist Church.

Mr. Ander presented the Council with two National Junior Leaders Training Conference scholarships from Sears and Roebuck to allow two area scouts to attend the conference next summer in Cimarron, N.M. Mike Mazzone, scout executive, gave a special plaque to Mr. Erkins in recognition of his service as council president.

Powder Horn Junior leader training camps were presented to Allan Homer, Minidoka, and John Kinney, Twin Falls. In order to qualify for this award, the recipient must remain active as a leader in his own unit, must advance at least one rank in his own troop, must train the other junior leaders in his troop, participate as an instructor in a district or council training activity and submit a letter explaining how he has put Ranger training to use in his own troop.

The President's District Awards were awarded to Bob Caldwell, institutional representative from the Minidoka District; Don Kramer, chairman of the Camp Development Drive in the Cassia District; Joe Clements, district commissioner for the Southside District; Norval Wildman, Cassia District commissioner, and Sherman Hil-

Son Of Burley Pair Saves Drowning Youth In Hawaii

BURLEY — Friends here have received word that Daryl Dille, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Dille, 1710 Occidental Ave., Burley, has been instrumental in saving a youth from drowning at the LDS College of Hawaii, where he is a student.

Young Dille wrote that he went to the college swimming pool early to do some swimming before the next physical education class met, and as he walked up to the edge of the pool he saw a limp figure lying on the bottom.

He threw off his glasses and dived in, pulling the body to the edge of the pool where another student assisted in getting him out of the water.

The boy was turning purple in the face, Dille said. He started to apply mouth-to-mouth respiration as soon as he drained the water he could out of the lungs.

The boy began breathing as soon as his lungs inflated, Dille reported.

After his recovery, the nearly-drowned youth said he had decided to swim the length of the pool before leaving, and he made it with ease, so stated the return swim without rest of air. He sank within two yards of the edge.

Dille credited his Boy Scout training with giving him the confidence and skill to accomplish the rescue.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

By ANDREW TULLY

WASHINGTON — Everybody seems to be afraid to say it but it's got to be said if only to keep the record straight.

In celebrating the birthday of Martin Luther King as a symbol of the civil rights movement and supporting the movement from the Negroes and whites alike for recognition of the rights with which every Negro was born.

"Present Arms!"

Today and Tomorrow

By WALTER LIPPMANN

The French election brings into sharp focus one of the crucial problems of our time: whether effective governments can be elected by the people in a free society, whether governments that are able to govern can be elected by universal suffrage.

The chief executive retaining popular elections and freedom of speech.

The evidence it emerges from these elections is unsatisfactory. For the voters have refused to give a clear mandate to the executive, and at the same time they have expressed their dissatisfaction by voting for a heterogeneous group of candidates, incapable of replicating the executive and of governing the country.

Changing Times

A study made by a group of professors from the University of Utah in our neighbor state might just be the spark that will ignite an entirely new field of thinking so far as the matter of high grades in school are concerned.

The conclusion of the study made by the professors seems to be that it is more important to master a subject than to strive only for high grades. The two aims often go together—but not always.

The American Association of Medical Colleges made public the report of a study made by the association of medical schools, everyone by declaring that there is almost no relationship between the grade a student gets in medical school and his competence and success in medical practice.

HARD TO BELIEVE — The conception of Adam Clayton Powell as a civil rights hero is so preposterous as to be ridiculous and his allies laughed out of any sane society. It would be no more ridiculous to suggest that Jimmy Hoffa represents the aspirations of the honest working class.

As a citizen who never quite could figure out why Martin Luther King was considered worthy of a Nobel prize, I am not sure that Meredith calls for the honor of a Nobel prize. Meredith has said and done some rock-headed things. But at least he has been a leader. He has been a Negro slum as Dr. King did in Chicago? Can anyone see any mark marching along the clubs and snuffing out a gaggle of slugging Alabama deputy sheriffs? Powell is a symbol, all right—a symbol of the American who wants something for nothing.

BARON OF HARLEM — Likewise, although I have reservations about Martin Luther King's horse sense, I would not be offended if the Negro community ran him for President. Even when he is wrong, Dr. King generally manages to advance the cause of the Negro who wants only what is his by birthright.

But Adam Clayton Powell? Really, McKissick, you send me hitching to the nearest men's room when you hold up a playboy as a champion of his race, can any rational being visualize a playboy as a champion of his race? A Negro slum as Dr. King did in Chicago? Can anyone see any mark marching along the clubs and snuffing out a gaggle of slugging Alabama deputy sheriffs? Powell is a symbol, all right—a symbol of the American who wants something for nothing.

POWELL'S FRINGE — Yet like a herd of mentally retarded sheep, the Negro, civil rights leaders lined up behind Powell's bid for reelection. It is not surprising that the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee, has joined with McKissick, Carmichael, like Powell, is being elected to the National Executive Committee of the NAACP. The young Negro member of the Georgia legislature, is also in the Powell camp. The young Negro member of the NAACP, is also in the Powell camp. The young Negro member of the NAACP, is also in the Powell camp.

But is it something of a shock to discover that racial emotions also have got the best of Roy Wilkins, the long-respected operating boss of the NAACP? Wilkins is a Negro, a member of the colored people, and Jackie Robinson, the former baseball player who works for N.E.A. is a Negro. Wilkins and Robinson were responsible citizens.

They are, of course, cutting not only their own throats but that of the civil rights movement. It is intelligent and sane to be elected by the Harlem constituency, and Congress will reject even taken civil rights legislation. Are you happy, McKissick?

Views of Others

ROMNEY — IN OR OUT?

Gov. George Romney's slip-or-out approach to the Negroes is a mistake. It is a bad thing. He says his western speaking tour is not a part of his campaign for the nomination but is merely an assessment of his chances.

In Pocatello, Idaho, the Michigan governor said he wouldn't want to be a candidate for president unless he was confident he could win the nomination and election in 1956.

After Republican gains in the 1956 election, and on the basis of numerous polls showing President Johnson's great decline in public favor, it is not surprising that a candidate for the nomination to emerge who will show more confidence in himself and his party than Gov. Romney is demonstrating.

How can Gov. Romney assess his chances for the nomination and election when he avoids public commitment on the great issues of the times, among which the American position in the world, the Negro problem, and the civil rights movement are being manipulated. But the American people—Republicans, Democrats and independents—want to know where a candidate stands. Romney's furtiveness, reticence or caution, whatever it may be, is hurting his chances.

Gov. Romney's approval of a national presidential campaign headquarters while saying he doesn't expect to be a candidate and avoiding statements of his position on the issues is putting the cart before the horse. He should get in or get out, without further delay. No one can guarantee his election—The Oregonian.

SOUTH KOREA GROWTH

South Korea Premier Yi Kwon-Chung is in Washington for an unofficial visit. He is an unusual visitor for he comes to the White House as a representative of a country no longer in need of handouts.

The Korean War was a brutal affair. A half million civilians lost their lives. Damage to the country was estimated at $10 billion. Since 1953, the United States granted the country about $4.5 billion in various forms of assistance.

South Korea is thriving today. Between 1955 and 1956 her economic growth averaged nearly 2.5 percent a year. This high and sustained growth is especially remarkable for a country that has had a long history of backwardness and power facilities. The government spends 30 percent of its national budget to maintain a 600,000-man public establishment.

South Koreans are pleased with their progress. They look forward to the day when they will no longer need U.S. help to subsidize their armed forces. A presidential election will be held in April and a national assembly election in May.

South Korea is becoming a showcase of freedom. It's a beacon which should inspire other nations, including South Vietnam, to show respect and benefit from a democratic way of life.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The moment is nearly at hand to turn over to the nation's swelling numbers of young people the control of the universities, the economy, and the government.

The young ones themselves are loudly asserting their leadership claims to such leadership of their total disdain for U.S. society on the ground it is hopelessly false, corrupt, unfeeling and self-devouring.

The bedazzling statistic which underlines this considerable ferment is bound-off the wall by educators, politicians and bureaucrats with almost hypnotic regularity—the people who are 25 years old and under will amount to half our grand total of 200 million.

Americans generally, captivated always by a national mythology which ascribes to young people a magic cluster of virtues, seem at times thoroughly intimidated by the sheer force of a statistic of this magnitude. Many of them are more than ready to abdicate.

Yet, some chiefs of conscience are daring to raise their voices. More than half the U.S. population is still over 25, that people are living longer than ever, that some of our youth are intelligent and even a little feeling.

Admittedly, in some fields of knowledge the young are better than the old. They are usually better prepared than their counterparts of even a few years ago. Professors at school say they are astonished at the rising flood of highly intelligent applicants at medical schools. But evidence of this sort is not generally overwhelming. The young are not so good at mathematics and economics can be very spotty. Their mathematical aptitude is not so good as that of students in other lands. Many today exhibit a com-

Washington (NEA) — To be able to define activism narrowly in terms of protest, picketing, siting-in, "confronting" public figures like Defense Secretary McNamara and Vice President Humphrey are among their favored pursuits.

Again, another Tushman suggests that useful activism is something more — The urge to be independent and stand up for the living values one believes in." She added in Chicago:

"I don't mean the courage to protest — or to see Secretary McNamara which, though it may stem from the right intention, is not the kind of courage I require any very stout spirit."

"There is nothing that, if I mean, rather, a kind of lonely moral courage."

If protest is not sufficient response to the ills of war and poverty, then neither is the inward-turning represented by the youthful flight into the fantasy world of LSD.

Those who seek such total alienation from the world are those who are investing themselves with a kind of nobility. They believe they are rejecting conformity by the "system" they despise.

But they are eating off the system. They are making themselves their own masters. They are rejecting conformity by the "system" they despise.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Critical days for the United States end after the shooting stops.

No doubt many Americans will be glad to see the Viet pull out of Vietnam altogether after the fighting, it can hardly be said that the living values one believes in."

This country is now helping the South Vietnamese, who have had practically no experience in running a government, to establish a constitutional government.

They won't learn overnight. The country has strong factions. The Viet Cong will choose to remain in South Vietnam when peace is restored.

In a hurry, one of several things will probably happen.

If the United States will succeed, it will degenerate into a dictatorship, or under factional disputes will collapse into a chaos, making it impossible for Viet Cong to take over, with or without guns.

A new paralytic disease that closely resembles poliomyelitis has been observed in children in Mexico. It is caused by an unidentified virus but careful studies have shown that it is not a poliovirus. The mode of transmission is not known but the cases have been widely separated points. It cannot, therefore, be considered an epidemic disease.

The young victims may be paralyzed in one or all their limbs and when the respiratory muscles are affected, the child must be kept in an iron lung. No specific treatment is known. Although the death rate from this disease is higher than that of poliomyelitis, if the victim survives the autophagy he slowly but surely makes a complete recovery. This is not true of poliomyelitis.

Although as yet no cases of this disease have been reported in this country, it is estimated that there are 12 million children under the age of 12 years every day, it would be 228 years before she came back and old you'd say I'm braver than Hildergard, a singer whose complexion is as lovely as her voice, says she uses an electric iron to remove wrinkles from her face.

Although the death rate from this disease is higher than that of poliomyelitis, if the victim survives the autophagy he slowly but surely makes a complete recovery. This is not true of poliomyelitis.

Although as yet no cases of this disease have been reported in this country, it is estimated that there are 12 million children under the age of 12 years every day, it would be 228 years before she came back and old you'd say I'm braver than Hildergard, a singer whose complexion is as lovely as her voice, says she uses an electric iron to remove wrinkles from her face.

A new paralytic disease that closely resembles poliomyelitis has been observed in children in Mexico. It is caused by an unidentified virus but careful studies have shown that it is not a poliovirus. The mode of transmission is not known but the cases have been widely separated points. It cannot, therefore, be considered an epidemic disease.

The young victims may be paralyzed in one or all their limbs and when the respiratory muscles are affected, the child must be kept in an iron lung. No specific treatment is known. Dear Abby

BY ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: Your answer to "DON'T KNOW," as to whether or not to tell her fiancé about a previous "indiscretion" was misleading. You said, "If he asks, tell him the truth. Otherwise keep quiet; he may never know."

May I quote Father John Egan, an eminent pre-marital counselor, who had this to say on the subject: "Neither partner has the right to burden the other with guilty knowledge. To do so cowardly, as it attempts to share a burden that belongs to the guilty alone, and would tend to an unhappy distrust that might spoil the marriage. Better that each should presume, in charity, that each enters marriage with a clean slate."

Call this self-delusion if you will, but I have been assured by other sources that it is more conducive to good mental health than telling all.

An M.D. in SAN RAFAEL.

DEAR ABBY: I think I can improve your answer to the girl who had a boy in her past named Bernie and was married to a boy named Eric. If you ask her what went on between her and Bernie she should tell him it's none of his business.

Extension Agent Gives Advice To Teen-Agers

SHOSHONE—"Teens can be teenagers for a long time," warns Mrs. Mary Lou Ruby, extension agent for Lincoln 1 in Gooding, Idaho.

Explaining the statement, Mrs. Ruby points out that "baby pretiness is temporarily achieved by feature lines, curled along mature beauty lines, peach-skin softness, blemishes smoothed with simple and the cute little figure shoots up into string-bean thinness or expands into a cellophane 'Yes'."

"Teens can be terrible. These are the years when it takes a real effort to get the looking glass give back a contented reflection. However, the respect for teenagers is on an easy one to follow. It consists of immaculate grooming and generous applications of soap and water to the whole body.

Well-balanced meals and exercise will usually take care of the rest. Good habits of well-fitting clothes can help to tide over the in-between stage. It is possible to have sweaters and casual clothes. If necessary to conform to the "crowd's" styles, but they must be fresh and clean each time they are put on.

Complexion and figure problems can be minimized by the perfection of grooming. This means being clean from the skin out, with daily changes of underwear and underwear made of fabrics that can take the necessary sudsyings. Any teen-ager who can't do her own laundry in the modern washers and dryers, without waiting for her mother to do it for her.

If acne is a problem, as it is so often during adolescence, a doctor should be consulted about special treatments. It will undoubtedly recommend frequent face washings with a clean soap, followed by warm water rinses and a cold final splash. He will also advise keeping germ-laden fingers away from the complexion.

Make-up should be restricted to a lipstick and possibly a light dusting powder, using a clear unblemished skin needs nothing more, as teens have the natural radiance of youth that needs no embellishment with "heavy" cosmetics.

Daily baths and weekly shampooes will add to glamour. They may be most convenient on school days to take a bath and clean night clothes by putting before sitting down to your homework. This avoids being "too tired" at bedtime for the Mrs. Ruby concludes.

Lesson Given

HAGERMAN—"Follow Thou Me" was the social relations lesson presented by Mrs. Virginia Wood for Relief Society members.

Mrs. James Mecham conducted the meeting with Mrs. Ethel Boyer and Mrs. Daryl Nelson in charge of the music. Prayers were given by Mrs. Arwyn Thornton and Mrs. Sharon Peters.

personal grooming that makes for a prettier, more acceptable student the next day.

Teachers often say that their clean pupils are more alert than frumpy ones, so maybe any pup who has a homework problem will be dissolved more readily if approached with a clean body.

Mrs. Ruby concludes.

RHEUMATIC FEVER IS ALWAYS DANGEROUS

It is now believed that rheumatic fever is caused by the streptococcus group of bacteria. It can make a child or adult tired and have painful joints or abnormal tenderness.

More serious results occur. The illness inflames the heart's inner walls. Scar tissue may form and permanent damage may result. Worse yet, a child does not grow out of this and can get rheumatic fever over and over again. Physicians know the danger and can protect you most if they are consulted about any sore throat as soon as possible.

Three Illinois Coaches Resign After Big Ten Orders They Be Fired

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Three Illinois coaches involved in the $21,000 athletic slush fund resigned Sunday following a Big Ten mandate that the university fire them or face indefinite suspension. Dr. David D. Henry, the university president, accepted the resignations of football Coach Pete Elliott, basketball Coach Henry Combes and assistant basketball Coach Howard Brown.

Sikes Rallies To Win Golf Tourney

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Methodical Dan Sikes, cheered on by his hometown fans, birdied two of the last six holes and captured the Jacksonville Open Golf title Sunday, shooting a closing 73 to win the $20,000 jackpot by 1 stroke. The 36-year-old Jacksonville lawyer, who has won only two other tournaments in seven years on the pro tour, faltered briefly before his surging finish which gave him a 73-hole total of 278, nine strokes under par.

Braves Lose Two Catchers To Injuries

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The Atlanta Braves lost two catchers with hand injuries Sunday in the first live innings of an exhibition game with the Cincinnati Reds.

Gene Oliver left the game in the first inning with an apparent bruised hand and Joe Torre was replaced in the fifth after a tipped ball off the bat of Dick Simpson split his right index finger.

Both Oliver and Torre were taken to a hospital for X-rays to determine the extent of the injuries. A Braves spokesman said Torre would be out at least a week. There was no immediate report on Oliver.

Oliver, a utility catcher last season, was injured when he attempted to cut down Devo Johnson at second in the first inning and hit his hand on Lee May's batting helmet.

Folley Ends Training, Says He Is Fit And Ready To Take Clay's Title

NEW YORK (AP)—Zora Folley, the 34-year-old challenger, finished his training with a two-round boxing drill Sunday and declared "he was fit and ready to take the title away from heavyweight champion Cassius Clay Wednesday night." The unbeaten, 28-year-old champion wound up his public boxing preparations Saturday but said he would have a secret workout Monday to test counter measures to Folley's left hook to the liver. He did not work Sunday.

"That's that," said Folley after his two-round workout with gangly Wendell Newton in the basement of Madison Square Garden.

Folley looked sluggish against Newton, who stands 6-foot-2½, one-half inch taller than Folley, and three inches taller than Folley. Newton copied Clay's moving, bouncing style and appeared to have left little to the head.

The stiff challenger appeared after Newton and twice in each round cornered Newton and worked his body with both hands. He hopes to be able to do that against Clay, who rarely punches at close quarters.

After 105 rounds of boxing drills, Folley said, "I'm in

The resignations culminated a three-month ordeal beginning Dec. 12 when Dr. Henry exposed the slush fund to Big Ten Commissioner Bill Reed.

Big Ten athletic directors originally had voted that Illinois fire the three coaches or show cause why the school should not have its membership suspended or terminated.

The resignations were accepted on March 31. The athletic faculty representatives came up with the same order.

Illinois then exercised a final "show cause" order Saturday when Dr. Henry met with the faculty representatives in Chicago but failed to persuade them from a penalty he considered "too harsh" from the very beginning.

The faculty voted on Saturday that Illinois either fire the coaches by Tuesday or face indefinite suspension from the conference.

Dr. Henry, in a statement issued Sunday, said "Under the mandate of the intercollegiate conference of faculty representatives, the case is considered closed. Inasmuch as the three coaches relinquished all duties with the Athletic Association as of this date."

"The Board of Directors of the Athletic Association have approved the resignation of the three coaches and have approved the honoring of existing contracts with coaches which will terminate Aug. 31, 1967. Their faculty status in the College of Physical Education (part time assignments) is not affected."

The coaches issued a joint statement which read:

"It is apparent to everyone that the Commission, Athletic Directors and Faculty Representatives of the Western Conference (Big Ten) have decided that we are to be removed from the University of Illinois to act in an impossible situation. We emphatically believe that the final decision in this matter rests with the public. We are therefore reluctantly stepping down from our respective coaching responsibilities at this time rather than to allow the conference to unjustly force the University of Illinois to act in an impossible situation. We emphatically believe that the final decision in this matter rests with the public and consider the announcement made on 11/8, 1967 as that final decision."

Chuckar, owned by Garner, won the open gun dog derby. Turbulent Tess, owned by Dr. and Mrs. Roy Shaub of Twin Falls, placed third in both stakes events after winning both in the state trials last fall. She also placed second in the open gun dog derby. Garner received a traveling plaque. Two more wins in the next two years will entitle her to the title of champion.

McLean's Highup Jet, owned by Lucky McLean of Huntington, Ore., was second in the open all-age while Jill's Crocker, owned by Donna Lind of Bountiful, Utah, and handled by James Shearer of Boise, placed second in the open all-age.

Third place in the open gun dog derby went to Warhoo Misty, owned and handled by Garner.

Judges for the event were Ray Davis, Layton, Utah; Mike Mayfield, Pocatello; Glenn Weise, Ogden; Wilbur Roberts, Burley; and Barney Greener, the association president, Burley.

Magic Valley pointers will compete in the Utah Fielding trials next weekend in Howell Valley, Utah. Three dogs owned by Garner Kennels, Paul, will go to the National Chukker Championships at Prosser, Wash., March 30-31 and April 1.

Horses for the event were provided by Bill Ramsey of Heyler, Idaho Fish and Game Department.

Soviets Top U.S. In World Hockey Meet

VIENNA (AP)—The United States hockey team, with all the luck against it, came down fighting before defending champion Russia in the World Championship Sunday, 7-2.

Canada toured Finland 5-1 and went into a tie with the Russians for the lead, each with two victories. The Americans are 1-1.

In the first period, with the Russians ahead 2-0, assistant captain Harry Howe of Colorado Springs, Colo., got a ten-minute penalty for misconduct—apparently for arguing with referee Max Braun. That put more of a burden on the Americans.

Despite these setbacks, the Americans, cheered by a crowd of 10,000 in Vienna's Stadt Halle, went into the final period full of steam and scored two goals in an inspired 50 seconds split. But the Russians had already scored five goals at that point and it was too late to save the game.

The Russians, champions the last four years, have racked up a goals record of 14-4 in the first game against Sweden Saturday, 4-3.

The powerful Russian first forward line had two goals in the first seven minutes. Each time Alexander Kovalev, Ragulin, a Russian defenseman, slipped in a third goal from the blue line in 15:25.

At the end of the second period the Russians led 5-0, despite some fine saves by Carl Weizel, the U.S. goalie.

But in the final period the Americans had the crowd roaring by scoring two quick goals. Don Ross, of Rosseau, Minn., slipped in the first goal from the blue line at 11:21 and at 12:01 Bob Curtis of Minnesota passed to Doug Woog of St. Paul, who banged the puck home.

Gooding Man Takes Luncheon From River

Snake River yielded a weight limit of trout to Rusty Boyer, Gooding, and Jack Blakesley, Filer, Sunday, topped by Boyer's eight-pound luncheon.

Boyer got a solid strike from the river close to the bank using a four-pound test line so I didn't waste much time playing with him," he smiled. The fish struck at a worm.

Boyer worked him in close to shore and Blakesley waded out into the river close to the bank. "I thought I might have lost him for a second when the net went under his fish and touched the line. But he stayed on," Boyer recalls.

Blakesley made good on his second fish, a 10-pounder. The men reported good action, noted they landed up with two and three pounders.

6ers Close Season With 132-129 Win

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Bullets closed their record-setting regular National Basketball Association season Sunday with a 132-129 victory over the Washington Bullets.

The victory gave Philadelphia a 13-13 record, best ever in the NBA.

The Witt Chamberlain-led 7ers had 129-99 leads with five minutes left, when Coach Alex Hannum cleared his bench. The Bullets then outscored Philadelphia 28-16 the rest of the way.

The Bullets rally was led by Gus Johnson and John Barnhill. Johnson, who finished the game with 23 points and 13 rebounds, got eight of his points in the final stretch. Barnhill scored eight of his 22 points and passed off for three two-pointers.

Chamberlain, who found the Bullets trying a new tactic at the start, led the 7ers with 37 points and 30 rebounds. This included 18-foots from the floor, and five or seven free throws.

Bullet Coach Gene Shue decided to play center Larry Ellis in front of Chamberlain rather than behind him in an attempt to throw off Philadelphia's offense. It worked during the first half, which ended with the 7ers ahead 48-46 in the second half, Chamberlain got 26 of his 37 points.

Bulls Trim Lakers For WSU Seeks Fifth Baseball Title

CHICAGO (AP)—McCoy McMore, with 12 points in the final quarter, led the Chicago Bulls to a 122-119 victory over the Los Angeles Lakers in the final game of the regular National Basketball Association season.

The Bulls, leading 91-85 after three quarters, allowed the Lakers to move within two points, Chicago led 81-79 at eight minutes remaining.

Chicago then ripped off seven points in the fourth quarter, getting two baskets and two free throws in the flurry. In the next three minutes, the Bulls outscored the Lakers 12-0 and took a commanding 116-103 lead.

Los Angeles had to send star Jerry West home with a broken nose, suffered earlier in the week. Bob Boozer led the Bulls with 24 points while Gail Goodrich and Mel Van der Grinten topped the Lakers with 16 each.
