Nation's Lagging Economy Given Stimulating Push

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration gave another mildly stimulating nudge to the sluggish economy Saturday by releasing $1.1 billion of funds which President Johnson ordered frozen last year as an anti-inflation measure. Pope Paul Names Bishop To Key Post

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI has appointed a progressive-French bishop to a key position in the Church Curia and resigned of an 82-year-old Italian cardinal from another, the Vatican announced today.

The Pope named Jean Cardinal Villot, archbishop of Lyon, to be head of the Vatican Congregation of the Council to replace the late Pietro Cardinal Ciriaci, an Italian. With its important task of supervising discipline among the clergy and laity, the congregation exerts a strong influence on episcopal conferences, dioceses and Roman Catholic action groups.

The cardinal who resigned was Fernando Cardinal Cono, who as the Church's grand penitentiary headed the office dealing with offenders with canonical excesses. He is the second French prelate named to an important Vatican post in little over a year.

Expansion Of Missions To Be Curtailed

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — The LDS Church will not expand its overseas mission efforts until the Vietnam war ends, church's missionary leader said Friday.

Elder Gordon B. Hinckley said the 2-million-member church will continue to restrict the number of young men permitted to leave on overseas missions, the announcement was made during the 19th LDS General Conference now under way in Salt Lake City.

The foreign mission program, involving Mormon men of 19 and over, has succeeded in baptizing in many of the 60,000 new converts to the church in 1966.

He said the church is "holding the line" by authorizing each ward to send only two men overseas each year in the service. The Mormon missions have been criticized recently as a means of getting young men out of the country.

"It can be demonstrated," Hinckley stated, "that we have our share of men in the service—many of them serving in Vietnam."

He said the restriction order first issued in October 1965 will stand while there remains a need for young men by the selective service.

REPAIR SAMAC JEWELER (Orpheum Building)

CAN YOU QUALIFY IN TWIN FALLS?

It could mean a $50,000 income in your own business with one of America's most sought after franchises.

A marketing study just completed shows Twin Falls not only is ready, but long over due for an AAMCO Transmission Center. Current registration shows 23,000 cars already in the Twin Falls area with an estimated 6.1 million dollars going for parts and repairs. Since most cars over two years old need some transmission work, an AAMCO center in Twin Falls could possibly show annual earnings exceeding $50,000.

We are now seeking the one man in Twin Falls to profit from this growing billion dollar market. No previous automotive experience is necessary.

The man who qualifies for the AAMCO transmission center will be completely trained in a four week intensive program. He'll learn every phase of the transmission business, including proven management and merchandising techniques. AAMCO plans every center from layout and design to total marketing and sales, and backs each franchise with a year round advertising and promotion program featuring nationally known celebrities. If you're ready to step up and be your own boss in Twin Falls, if you're ready to invest about $17,500... if you'll attend our training program... AAMCO will put you in business, and show you the way to a rich and rewarding future. Call, write or wire now.

Congress May Soon Authorize Southwest Idaho Water Plan

By ALLEN M. BAILEY
Associated Press Writer

BOISE (AP) — If Congress approves a group of Idahoans will have the opportunity within the next five or six years to farm rich Idaho soil now lying dormant because of a lack of water for irrigation.

The Southwest Idaho Water Development Project — parts of which have been talked about for 20 or 30 years — may finally get under way if it is authorized under bills now before Congress.

Backers of the project have said it would greatly increase the amount of farm-land in production, for a wider tax base and provide more living space for Idahoans.

Besides that, industry would receive a boon from construction of needed dams, water distribution networks and production of additional electrical power.

About 490,000 acres which are now under cultivation and another 60,000 being farmed, but which need additional water, will receive irrigation water by the time the project is completed.

Four project divisions — the Mountain Home, Garden Valley, Weiser River and Bruneau — will not all be completed at once, and parts of them will probably not be completed for 15 or 20 years, said Regional Director Harold T. Nelson of the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation.

The Mountain Home Division, including a Snake River dam, and the Garden Valley Division, would be the first phases of the project.

Work on the proposed Guffey Dam on the Snake River south of Nampa could begin "as soon as reasonably possible" after congressional authorization, Nelson said.

A second unit of the Mountain Home Division — the Long Tom Dam — would be built about the same time, consisting of a dam on the south fork of the Boise River about 40 miles north of Boise.

The next step would be construction of a 435-foot-high Garden Valley Dam, just below the confluence of the south and north forks of the Payette River, about 40 miles north of Boise.

America To War

The 19th century's age of innocence ended for America in the closing guns of 1914-1918. The most terrible war the world had ever known, a war no rational man seriously believed could happen, began.

America went to war. Two million doughboys were eventuated. The France, you know, come back. 'Till it's over over there...'

Peace Harbor changed all that, once and for all. America went to war again, but there was neither a repetition of the debate in Congress nor of the naive patriotic hysteria of 1917.

Half a century ago, unprepared America went to war in innocence and enthusiasm. We are still living with the consequences of that war and its sequels. We are no longer unprepared, nor longer innocent.

Rupert Chamber Pledges Funds For Work On Arco Road

Sunday, April 9, 1967
Twin Falls Times-News 5

RUPERT—The Rupert Chamber of Commerce has pledged funds to start construction of a road from Minidoka to Arco, Mrs. LaVonne Colbert, chamber secretary, reported at the luncheon meeting Thursday.

She said it is hoped that other individuals and organizations will donate funds, labor or equipment to begin construction of a dirt road. Officials feel that once a dirt road is established, a car count will eventually result in its becoming a secondary state road and eligible for state highway-improvement and finishing.

Bureau of Land Management, state highway officials, chamber members and representatives of the five counties involved met in Rupert recently to study needs of the proposed roads.

Chamber officials had considered using their funds to purchase culverts, seeking BLM approval for the best possible route, and starting construction with donated labor and heavy equipment, which farmers in the area and other organizations have offered.

BLM officials noted, however, that the bureau is now in the process of surveying the road from Kimama to Arco and has plans to survey the area from Minidoka to Bear Trap Cave, and that the bureau is committed until 1970.

BLM road work is done on a priority basis, they said, but because of the extreme interest in the Minidoka-to-Arco road it might be possible to get an earlier priority.

Charles Colter, president of the Carroll County Conservation Service community planning committee in Abbot, discussed the possibility of developing a large recreation area from Lake Walcott to Crystal Ice Cave. Craters of the Moon, and other areas, with public facilities, nature trails and even a good bird habitat in the Springfield area.

The consensus of delegates at the meeting was that the most important project at the present time is establishment of the main artery road from which the roads to other areas could eventually be developed.

The proposed road would not only serve scenic and recreational areas, but would become an important farm-to-market north and south route in the state, Mrs. Colbert noted.

Claude Bowman, chamber president, reported the board of directors passed a resolution to ask Congress to investigate the plight of farmers as the result of a recent appearance of National Farmer's Organization officials at the chamber luncheon. Members voted to also support the resolution.

Richard Bonlie reported that he has been re-elected to the board of directors of the Eastern Idaho Chamber of Commerce, and he has been re-elected to the airport committee.

John Bonlie and Mayor Wendell Johnson attended the recent meeting of the chamber in Pocatello.

Delmar Hollinger reported on progress of the state bowling tournament entering its fifth weekend in Rupert, and noted further prize donations for weekly winners are needed from Rupert merchants and chamber members.

Jerry Masterson reported a need for additional interstate highway markers to indicate Rupert exits, and Rep. Oscar Arstein, who attended the meeting, requested that the chamber prepare a map with proposed markers indicated and pledged his efforts to obtain the additional markers.

Mr. Arstein expressed appreciation for the cooperation of Minidoka County citizens during the recently concluded legislative session and indicated his interest in the chamber-sponsored telephone conferences. He also said he anticipates a special legislative session to be called to resolve problems which arose with the supreme court ruling changing the taxing of utilities.

Chamber members voted to write to Gov. Donald Samuelson requesting that he sign HB3 calling for reclassification of the municipal code.

MEASURE "KILLED"

BOISE (AP) — A so-called "right to work" measure which would have allowed the Idaho Youth Legislature to set up a Youth-Labor Union as the successor to the state's labor union began the drive for adjournment.

During morning sessions, both bills were pulled from the floor for a prelegislative hearing in Idaho and requiring saving and loan institutions to be federally insured.

Both bills will go to Youth Governor Jean Jay, Idaho Falls. The YLA-sponsored two-day session was scheduled to wind up late today.

The session began Friday. Today was the first day for consideration of bills on the floor of either house.

SEARCH RESUMED

BOISE (AP) — The search for two missing Boise men believed to be lost in a light plane in the Lemore, Idaho area, since March 28 has resumed on a spot basis, Aeronautics Director James R. Hays said today.

Missing are William A. Lesh, 43, and Lewis B. Holt, 57, both of Boise.

Daily Basis On Red Paper Is Planned

NEW YORK (AP) — The Workers' semi-weekly publication, "Red Paper," may return to daily publication, although no definite time has been set, says its editor-in-chief, Carl Winter.

The possible return to daily publication says Winter, comes in three things: The first is a subscription drive on American college campuses; the second is a drive to sell non-profit, $1,000 shares in the Worker, and the possibility that a will curate the paper will be set up for $1 million for the publication.

The Worker increased its circulation to 25,000 copies last week, and was earmarked the extra papers for college campuses. The 12-page paper has been in the field for stories and a front-page coupon offering subscription discounts.

The sale of the paper, Winter said, could raise $1 million for the Worker. "Purchase of the Worker" has been a regular contribution, he added, and no dividends will be paid on them.

The Worker under protest is that it has been the cause of the fall of the estate over to the Worker, but that he had been unable to verify the report.

Filer Girls Runners For Queen

FILER — Donna Blackie, Filer, was chosen first runner-up for University Day Queen at Idaho State University Friday during annual University Day.

Students Pam Gardner, Filer, and Grant Anderson, Pocatello, were in charge of the queen contest.

Meeting Is Planned For County Unit

Dr. D. L. Omeron, a member of the Idaho State School and Hospital medical staff in Nampa, will lecture during the meeting, which will be held at the Robert Stuart Junior High School.

According to a council spokesman, "This lecture has been presented to many professional groups throughout Idaho. It is a review of vital information to nurses as well as to educators and all persons working with mentally retarded children or adults."

No admission will be charged for the lecture. The meeting is invited. Dr. Omeron will show slides to illustrate facets of his lecture.

T. F. Youth To Appear With Group On Ed Sullivan Show

Twin Falls singing group, Zenful Patriotic Gift group, Kenneth Pedersen, will be among the 50 members of the "A" contingent scheduled to perform April 16 on the Ed Sullivan Show.

Young Pedersen is a student at Utah State University, Provo, Utah. The "A" contingent is composed of students at BYU and presented its group performance at a BYU Forum Assembly in October.

The group has been enthusiastically received wherever they have performed.

The Twin Falls quintet's youngest member is 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Pedersen, 514 Cindy Drive, has studied guitar for seven years and has played in various rock and roll bands for the last three years. He is lead guitarist for the "A" Americans.

"As a Twin Falls High School student he was active in student government and has been enthusiastic for many student assemblies."

"The 'A' Americans" is similar in format to the Sing Out! contests that have popularized patriotic group singing. Through song and narration, these groups attempt to portray their love of God and Country.

"The group gives a chance to represent my school, my church and my country. Playing guitar and always been a part of my life and can play the guitar for a real cause," Young Pedersen commented.

Proper Attire New Orleans, La. (AP)

The Pan-American Life Insurance Co. personnel department sent this directive Friday to female employees of its executive offices:

"With the coming of warm weather, we find it necessary to remind all employees of proper office attire. To be quite honest, midstyle dresses and skirts are hardly the proper attire for maintaining a proper business atmosphere."

Super Race Is Feasible, Scientists Say

By ROB WOOD

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — The ability to create a superior race of supermen in the future is technically feasible, say two scientists here.

The prospect of controlling the quality of human life was put forth by Dr. Arthur Christiano, a geneticist, and Dr. Walter R. Guild, professor of biophysics, in a paper to be published today during the meeting of the American Society for Human Genetics.

"This selection is technically feasible," Dr. Christiano said, "since we have been able to achieve pregnancies using donated sperm in numerous women in the past several decades."

The moral and ethical problems of controlling human quality were brought up by Dr. Guild.

"Who plays God?" he asked. "Who will decide whose human eggs will be used for fertilization? Who will decide what great men to select?"

Sniper Traced

NEW YORK (AP) — Tracing the trajectory of a bullet-popped-an-alleged sniper who shot one man to death Friday and sent a bullet-ripping-through-the-curtain-sleeve-of-another on Manhattan's West Side.

The dead man was Arthur Hays, 43, shot in the head in front of the Hotel Stratford over West 57th St.

Shortly before Hays was killed, Raymond DeCoste, 59, a building superintendent, dashed into the hotel lobby after hearing a shot and discovering a bullet hole in his coat sleeve. De Coste called police.

Police, tracking the trajectory of the bullet that tore through De Coste's coat, decided it had been fired from the sixth floor of a building across the street.

Officers went to the room occupied by Edward Beasley, 21, an unemployed laborer, and found a .22 caliber rifle and a box of ammunition.

Beasley, who told police he had been firing at birds and "didn't know" he had hit anyone, was charged with homicide and held without bail.

American Tells Story Of Capture

FARMVILLE, Va. (AP) — Sgt. Sammie Womack, one of two Americans released by the Viet Cong Feb. 7, has told the story of his capture.
Womack, 22, has been at his parents' home in the Prince Edward County community of Kingsville near here, after several weeks recuperating from his prison camp ordeal in a Ft. Lee hospital. He had lost 40 pounds.
Womack said he was captured while on patrol the night of Oct. 18, 1965. He was one of 10 men in the patrol when it was attacked by a larger group of Viet Cong.
"After I had used all of my ammunition, I spent most of the time pinned to the ground," he said.
"All the other men were killed when we tried to escape. I was surrounded and captured."
The young Negro soldier said living conditions were poor but "we were never tortured or mistreated."
"I guess continuous hunger was our greatest problem," he said. "We ate as well as the Viet Cong rice three times a day. Occasionally we would get a limited amount of wild pig, monkey or lizard."
Womack said he has now regained most of the weight lost during his four months in camp, and will report for his next assignment later this month.
Pfc. Charles Crafts of Maine was the other American released with Womack. Crafts had been in the camp since Dec. 29, 1964.

Slippery Seal

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (AP) — They finally caught Alice the runaway cat, after she appeared at a bus station and then led pursuers on an all-day chase in a canal.
The 3-year-old, 150-pound seal slipped away Wednesday from the Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum through a gate left open for a directors meeting.
"That was the last anyone saw of Alice until she showed up Friday at the Greyhound bus station. A museum spread the word Alice meanwhile had waddled into a canal.
Museum men chased her toward the shallow end, but Alice ducked under their boat and fled to deeper water. Several pursuers fell in the canal.
Finally, the museum men gave up and called for the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service. Four of its men with a 50-foot net snared Alice.

Whiteman Celebrates His Birthday

NEW HOPE, Pa. (AP)—When a small combo played the songs that made him famous, bandleader Paul Whiteman tossed the 7th birthday with dancing and champagne.

"I'm humble tonight. I've never been humbled before. Whiteman told about 200 persons who honored him at the annual dinner-dance of the Blue Hope Historical Society Friday night. There were no tears, but there were many recollections of the recollection of the night in 1924 when his band introduced George Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue" brought the most enthusiastic response.

"I started many things (that night)," Whiteman said, "only I hated Gershwin make it. I guess that was the only day Gershwin cried. It was so marvelous for me. I'm sure it was for you."

The famed bandleader, accompanied by his wife, Mrs. Hope Whiteman, brought a special guest to the event — the wife of the late songwriter Peter DeRose. DeRose wrote "The Purple and the White Wagons," two songs Whiteman made famous. The bandleader called the greatest friend I ever had."

Whiteman also introduced Jimmy Carmichael, a member of his band who attended earlier. In an interview at his home in New Hope, Whiteman said no longer conducts, said, "I'm anything but bored. The band is still going strong."

Whiteman also is a director of the Daytona Beach Race Track grounds. "I've been an auto racing fan since I was a little kid," he said.

Whiteman, a native of Denver, Colo., said if he were to go again, "I'd probably like my hair grow long and form a rock group." But he said that his love still is symphonic music.

DON'T FALL IN LOVE WITH A RING IN A MAGAZINE.

There you are, flipping through the pages of your favorite magazine, when suddenly you see it—the ring!

You picture it on your finger. You dream about it. The trouble is, all you're doing is falling for a face. And there are a lot more important things to think about.

Since the cost of your ring is mostly determined by the diamond in it, you ought to think about it. You ought to know about size, color, clarity, cut. You ought to have an expert evaluate your choice for you.

If you still insist on dreaming, in spite of all our advice, come in and dream over the selection of diamond rings at Sterling. We have rings you can fall in love with and depend on for a lifetime.

39th Idaho Legislature Left Tax Problems

By MARK BROWN
Associated Press Writer

BOISE (AP)—The 39th Idaho Legislature had its share of tax problems but it didn't cover the market.

It left plenty of decisions to its successors.

"Heading the list will be four or five items of local property tax equalization legislation and phasous of personal property taxes on inventories, livestock and timber products—both passed by the 39th Legislature."

Exactly 30 days after the Idaho Supreme Court declared portions of the 1965 property tax equalization law unconstitutional, the legislature arrived at a "compromise" solution, designed to equalize property tax assessments over a five-year period.

Intended to put the state's public utilities on an equal assessment basis with other property, the measure will allow reductions in assessments on utility property from the current 3 1/2 percent to 20 percent of full cash value.

At the same time, assessments on other property will rise from the state average of 13 percent to 20 percent.

The 1965 law required that utility property be assessed at 20 percent of full cash value. The Supreme Court decision, Opponents of the plan contend that utilities may have gained the upper hand through threats of future legal action. Proponents say the measure will allow reduction in assessments on utility property during the current period of transition and keep local government financing on a more steady keel.

A study of property-taxation ordered by the 39th Legislature.

WITH GRANDMA IN THE WAGON momme and daddy prepare to take her to the sandbox in the one-act play, "The Sandbox," to be presented by the College of Southern Idaho's Cirque Theater. Grandma is portrayed by Donna Peters; momme by Marilyn Gardner, and daddy by Charles Fowler. The performances are set for Friday and Saturday.

A SCENE FROM "The Devil and Daniel Webster" is enacted by George King, left, who portrays the devil; James Southworth, center, Jabez Stone, and Jerry Higgins, Daniel Webster. This play is a comedy from Stephen Vincent Benet's famous story of how the great Daniel Webster defends a friend against the devil who has come to finalize a bargain.

"Horseshoe" Theater Styling Slated In Three One-Act Plays

By NORMA HERZINGER

Unique entertainment is in store for Magic Valley residents as performance time draws near for two evenings of one-act plays scheduled by the College of Southern Idaho's Cirque Theater.

This second season of Cirque Theater will get under way at 8:15 p.m. Friday at the TFFVCA and will be repeated again Saturday evening. Billed as "Three in a Circle," the presentation offers three one-act plays each night. Cast and crew members for the shows are students of Mrs. Marion Tanner's drama 72-73 classes in play production.

The plays will be given in a unique staging presentation called "Horseshoe" theater, where the audience sits in close proximity to the actors and on three sides of the acting area. The three one-act plays to be presented are "George" by Van Carmell; "The Sandbox" by Edward Albee, and "The Devil and Daniel Webster" by Stephen Vincent Benet. While "Horseshoe" staging was employed last year by the CSI Cirque Theater, the form is relatively new to Magic Valley audiences. Its origin, however, stems from the oldest form of theater known: From primitive story telling and tribal dances, the "theater-in-the-round" was developed by the ancient Greeks and used extensively by both Greek and Roman theater companies. Down through the ages, arena staging has remained in use with slight variations, such as the horseshoe arrangement. Many colleges and universities throughout the country now use this style.

Mrs. Turner notes that arena or horseshoe theater is excellent training for students, since emphasis is thrown on acting and its believability. And because the audience is close to the action and empathy is readily achieved; a refreshing dramatic experience often ensues for the spectator.

The evening of plays will open with "George," a sophisticated farce about a flighty, scatterbrained wife who has become infatuated with a straight-faced soul named George. George comes to visit and is unknowingly entertained by her husband in such a way that George becomes quite disillusioned.

"The Sandbox" is a play of the avant-garde theater. Centered around the idea of death, it shows the bitterly comic self-masking of man's inhumanity with the guise of ceremony and conscious self defense.

"The Devil and Daniel Webster" is a comedy from Benet's famous story of how the great Daniel Webster defends a friend against the devil who has come to finalize a bargain. Those cast in "George" are Carol Egbert as Sue; Patricia Robinson as Elizabeth; Robert Jacobs as Phillip, and David McKinster as George. "The Sandbox" cast includes Chuck Lassen as the young man; Marilyn Gardner as momme; Charles Fowler as daddy; Carol Egbert as the musician, and Donna Peters as grandma.

Students participating in "The Devil and Daniel Webster" include Jim Southworth as Jabez Stone; Linda Smith as Mary Stone; Jerry Higgins as Daniel Webster; George King as Mr. Scratch; Neil Jensen as the fiddler; Lloyd Hardisty as Justice Hathorne, and Jim Pratt as the clerk. Dancers include Dennis Schaeffer, Rita Matthews, Tim Kinas, Joyce Gale, Don Thurson, Judy Buchanan, Chuck Lassen and Marilyn Gardner. Jury members are Cecil Wright, Jeffrey Fehrenbacher,

Tiziani Leads Off Italy's New Fashions

By LEONORA BODSWORTH AP Fashion Writer

ROME (AP)—Tiziani led off the Rome show of Italian spring and summer fashion showings Monday with strict little suits in smooth flat fabrics.

There were various versions. One had a brief jacket with a slender skirt. Another put a belt low on a long slim jacket over a skirt that swirled in sun ray pleats. Still a third had short-sleeved, flat blouse top over a simple stem of a skirt.

The Tiziani collection was called "stars and stripes"—a patriotic touch by the Texas-born designer who lives and works in Rome.

The curtain went up on five days of Rome courtier showings after Florence held the stage for three days of boutique collections.

Tiziani had stripes in plenty—in bold fad red, blue and yellow. The stars were harder to spot until the evening gowns came on, when they came out twinkling—in beautiful—embroideries.

Peppermint striped suits spilled a froth of King Charles III from the necklines and at the waist. There was a 19th century riding habit look about a high-waisted coat that fitted closely over a scrap of skirt. It was in chocolate brown wool frosted with a frilly white jabot.

Gregoriana, who followed Tiziani, showed Bermuda suits for the city. The short pants were teamed with short-sleeved three-quarter length coats.

Collette suits and Bermudas got evening orientation in a purple crepe tunic plus matching pants. And a line silk shirt had bead-encrusted Bermudas peeping from under its hem.

"Beat" Look Left Out Of New Fashions

by LEONORA DODSWORTH
AP Fashion Writer

ROME (AP) — The real woman, not the swinging teen-ager, is once more getting all the attention from designers in the Italian spring and summer fashion presentations.

Irene Galitzine offered the most feminine clothes so far in the Rome couture collections, although all the designers so far have abandoned the "beat" look in favor of the more mature beauty.

Callizine showed Tuesday night at the end of the second day of the five-day Rome showings. Her skirts were significantly longer. They half covered the knee.

Petal-pleated skirts made a pretty play on dress and jacket outfits. On the move, the skirts spun and flickered. When still, they fell into soft, soft folds. Loose coats had the familiar bulky shoulders which are the Galitzine signature. All the interest was kept at the top, with high half-belts and horizontal welt scanning spanning the ribcage.

Redingotes and dresses — there were no suits — frequently had apron folds both front and back. They gave a sandwich-board look, which was echoed on the other dresses that carried neck-to-hem panels of buttoned-on plastrons. Yet another dress category had a softly gathered high waist.

Two tiers of shutter pleats formed the skirt on a long-bodied navy silk dress. It was accompanied by a stonogated jacket with an open skirt neck and a pair of vertical slit pockets under the bust.

The womanly look really came across in hostess gowns in billowing, flower-printed jersey, light as a breeze. They were draped and flowing and utterly at ease. Softly gathered jersey

Three One-Act Plays Set By CSI Cirque Theater

Dennis Schaeffer, Jewell O'Dell, David McKinster, Joyce Halladay, Jean Thompson, Vicki Nelson, Lucille Cunningham, Charles Bean, Marilyn Gardner and Calvin-Crumrine.

The production staff includes Mrs. Tanner, director; Jim Pratt, stage manager; Robert Jacob, lighting; Jean Thompson, and Lucille Cunningham, costumes; Jeffrey Feherbacher, stage properties; Joyce Halladay, hand properties; Cecil Wright, sound effects; Rita Matthews, makeup; Vicki Nelson, properties; Carol Egbert, posters; Jewell O'Dell, tickets; and Judy Buchanan, prompter.

One-act plays have been chosen for the Cirque Theater, explains Mrs. Tanner, because the combination of three offers a pleasant variety to the spectator. Working with three short plays also enables more students to participate on stage.

Mrs. Tanner notes that approximately 20 students are actively participating in the shows, many of them holding two stage roles as well as a backstage assignment. The plays constitute the term project of CSI's drama 7-3 class.

Students are eager to participate, she explains. Cast members include students who reside in Jerome, Castleford, Hazelton, Murtaugh, Filer and Buhl as well as Twin Falls.

"Since our class meets for only two hours once a week, we must sandwich in additional rehearsals each week. Because most CSI students work all during the day and attend college at night, finding free rehearsal

Silk roses edged with pearls held her elbow-length veil of English silk illusion. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and a lace handkerchief which belonged to her grandmother.

Mrs. Barbara Mason, Twin Falls, cousin of the bride was matron of honor. Bridesmaid was Irene Smith, Boise. Flower girl was Debbie Biggerstaff and ringbearer was the first son, both cousins of the bride.

Dear Abby

BY ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: Wilbur and I are planning a June wedding. My mother and I went to a "bride consultant" who is supposed to know all about wedding etiquette, and she told us the bride's folks give the wedding, the pre-wedding dinner, pay for all the flowers, the minister, the vocalist, and the organist. Also, my folks give the wedding dinner and the reception afterwards, including all the refreshments and drinks. What do Wilbur's folks give? SUE

DEAR SUE: Wilbur. DEAR ABBY: Why should people who do not use the public schools have to pay taxes for them? We are taxed to death. I don't mind paying taxes for things I get some benefit from, but we haven't had any children in the public schools for 12 years, so why should we have to pay to get other people's children educated? K.C.

DEAR K.C.: Free public education, paid for out of general taxes, is the only way to give all children an equal chance to learn. It is considered a "community service," such as parks, highways, libraries, and the police and fire departments are. Such services and such a community are possible only if everyone pays for it. We would be in a fine fix if, for example, our fire department were financed by collecting from only those who "used" it.

DEAR ABBY: Do you think a traveling salesman should dance while he's on the road? It's not the actual dancing I object to, but I think it could lead to more serious things. I became aware of this when my husband started bringing home shirts with lipstick on the collar, shoulders, and down the front. Lipstick seems to be on the shirts only when he dances away from home. Never when he's in a group-with his wife. I would appreciate your opinion. HIS WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Not many traveling salesmen feel like dancing on the road, but if yours does, he'd better cut it out before he gets all tripped up.

CONFIDENTIAL TO JIMMY JR. IN SANTA ANA, CAL.: I wrote the following in my book "Dear Teen-ager" and I doubt that I can improve on it now: "A teen who digs nicotine is blighting off more than he can inhale. Smokers are usually coughers, chokers, smell-up-the-places, and flat-brokers. Smoking becomes a habit. Why start? Everyone in the gang smokes, and, besides, you think it looks you look grown-up?"

Who's living your life, you or the gang? And what's all this horse hockey about smoking being grown-up? Actually it looks about as grown-up as a four-year-old in long pants. An obvious, pathetic and laughable attempt at maturity.

Long pants don't make an adult. Nor will a cigarette dangling from the corner of your mouth. Ever conjure up a picture of yourself smoking a smoke in the bathroom and blowing the smoke out the window? THAT'S STUPID!

Or can't you wait to join the growing number of adults who are trying to escape from smoke rings and halitosis holes? Of course there are many adults who don't smoke, never have and never will! (ME, for instance.)

Troubled? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Market Takes Heavy Drop With Trading

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market last week took its worst loss since 1929, with gains and losses about the average down through the heralded support point of 85-62.

Despite a severe drop Monday, the market was managed to remain above the support all week until Friday when another sharp decline drove the indicator through the resistance line.

Many investors were caught by surprise, believing that the Federal Reserve Board would not raise the rate in the stock market. More experienced traders, however, sold while the market had a rally.

The Dow Jones industrial average declined 12.64 to 853.34. The drop in the Dow industry index brought the average down through the heralded support point of 85-62.

Analysts said the market pretty well had adjusted to the drop in discount rate. The two big declines on Monday and Friday just about took the edge off the market.

The cut in the discount rate was the first since 1933. Issues traded this week, 85 declined and 290 advanced.

Volume of the week totaled 46,679,000 shares compared with 43,125,000 the previous week. The cut in the discount rate was the first since 1933.

The reduction brought stable interest rates in the market. Prices and modest advances in longer-term bonds.

Government bonds gained modestly through the week, closing with advances of up to a quarter-point.

T.F. Man Relates Experience Over City Parking Fine

Editor, Times-News: Let me relate an experience that may be of interest to some of the merchants in Twin Falls, then see if you don't find some other interested party.

At this point I handed the item to be purchased back to the clerk, as the check-out stand where I happened to be, and rushed out to see if I could find out what the score was.

At that time I couldn't help but think: Why did I waste those three pennies? At $1 for three or four extra minutes how can I afford to spend extra time stopping downtown stores?

Maybe I could afford to spend more for the same purpose where they don't have meters and still come out ahead.

Should I go back into the store and complete my purchase or just take the parking fine out of what I had left?

I wonder if the city takes in more on the meters than it costs to pay the officers that tend them?

"I drove away," for every action there is an equal opposite reaction. I wonder if you can do to with the "extra two dollars" had left.

Woman Fears Transfer Of Forces To UN Jurisdiction

Editor-Times-News: Our government's recent policy of releasing to the United Nations a list of our armed forces and equipment is a list of our national strength.

It is well to remember that a country that no longer controls its armed forces is no longer a sovereign nation.

When we think of our boys dying in a "no-win war," and the rest of a congress that is moving to transfer our fighting men to the UN, there are many of us who fear for our country's future.

It would appear the duck hunters of America have better game if they hope to keep the U.S. government in the business of buying and perpetuating wetlands.

Sen. Lee Metcalf, Montana, has introduced a bill (S 1078) which would extend the federal program of land acquisition for another 1 1/2 years.

In the Conservation News, of the National Wildlife Federation, this is considered to be the most important wildlife bill in Congress.

Metcalf told the Senate "At the rate of progress during the first two years of this program it will and justly so, be the least than the authorized advance appropriated and with the acquisition of less than half the land area needed to insure this great national resource."

Metcalf said so far $54 million was available for acquisition with $27 million appropriated as part of the advance and $21.5 million from duck stamp sales.

All advances are to be repaid from duck stamp revenues.

By June 30 of this year the Bureau of Sport Fisheries will have acquired 220,000 acres at a cost of $65 million. When the current legislation ends, it is estimated the bureau will have acquired an additional $77.5 million, $31.5 million coming from bond issues.

What Metcalf's bill asks is extension from seven-to-15 years on the original program and a portion of the remaining $1.1 billion of the original $105 million advance authorized.

Even at that, Metcalf estimated the original program would total land acquired to 2,280,000 acres which would be 219,000 acres less than the original seven-year program had at the end.

Up in Canada, one of our favorite organizations, Ducks Unlimited, has completed another good year, entirely on sportsmen's contributions. Last year its completed 40 new projects covering approximately 40,000 acres with 500 miles of prime shore line.

It isn't much but a definitely better than doing nothing.

Rupert Will Host Laker-Bullet NBA Exhibition Tilt In October

RUPERT — The Los Angeles Lakers and Baltimore Bullets will collide in a pre-season National Basketball Association exhibition game in the Minico High School sometime next October.

Bill Schoen, promoter of the game, said final arrangements for the game were completed this week and the only thing remaining is selection of the date. The game will be sponsored by KBAR Radio of Burley and the Intermountain AAU basketball league.

"We have been assured that Elvin Baylor and Jerry West will be playing for the Lakers and, of course, the stars will get their first look at Gus Johnson since he left the University of Idaho to sign with Baltimore," said Schoen.

Schoen said the teams will hit Rupert during a western tour that will hit Salt Lake City, Rupert, perhaps Boise and Spokane.

Schoen said bringing in an NBA exhibition game has been a long time dream since becoming affiliated with the AAU Rupert league two years ago.

"We're going to do everything we can to make this first class. We've got a lot of work to do between now and then so we can't give Magic Valley fans all the details yet. We just thought they'd like to know professional basketball is coming more into the area. With all the teams next fall," Schoen concluded.

Trades, Retirements And Injuries Vary Lineups For Baseball Openers

A rash of major trades, a few retirements and a smattering of injuries add up to a talent shuffle of about 35 per cent from 1965's opening lineups when the big leagues start the baseball season today and Tuesday. Washington will jump the gun, as usual, with its special 'Presidential Opener' with President Lyndon Johnson invited to throw out the first ball. LBJ or his sub will be working on a four-year senator losing stroke. The New York Yankees, who ousted the Senators from their traditional home in last place, will provide the opposition Monday afternoon at D. C. Stadium. Among the non-political events will be the unveiling of Mickey Mantle as the Yankee first baseman.

Cincinnati also opens at home Monday—a special privilege granted to the Reds, presumably in the days of Abern Doubly. The usual sellout crowd at Crosley Field will get a first look at Manager Dave Bristol's new triple shift lineup with Pete Rose in left; Deron Johnson at third and Tommy Helms at second.

The Cincinnati fans also will be the first to view the latest Los Angeles Dodger mixture, with Sandy Koufax and Maury Wills.

Rookie Gene Michael, obtained from Pittsburgh in the Willie dent will play shortstop and Bob Bailey, another ex-Pirate from the same transaction will be in left. The other first baseman will be in center because of Willie Davis' sprained ankle (not the sun) and Ron Fairly, the right-hander, will play first—Ron Hunt, the former Met, will be on second.

That leaves pitcher John Roschko as third baseman Jim Lefebvre (Nate Oliver opened at second last year) from the same transaction. The alignment, Lou Johnson may or may not be in the outfield depending on his stomach problem.

The Dodger shifts give a rough idea of the changes that have taken place in the majors since last October. Only Pittsburgh, having added Wills and moved him to third base, and Baltimore remain relatively unchanged.

Baltimore and Pittsburgh have been established as the two favorites by the sports writers, the sportscasters and the pros at Las Vegas. Milwaukee and Detroit are supposed to finish next, with the most opposition to the Orioles. San Francisco and Atlanta are expected to challenge the Pirates.

After the two Monday games in Los Angeles at Cincinnati and Detroit, the two teams will meet in six other clubby. The full two-day, 16-team program may draw about 25,000 if the weather is right. Some of the Tuesday games will be played at night.

Among the defending champions who won the pennant in three games—and then swept the Dodgers in a four-straight game—were the Twins against the Minnesota Twins who have been strengthened by the addition of Jim Kaat. However, it will be Jim Kaat, the 25-game winner, who will oppose the Orioles in the first game Friday afternoon.

Mayo Smith, the new Detroit manager, will send the Tigers into action against the California Angels in Anaheim, Calif., in a night game. The Tigers have shifted Dick Mulvihill to the left field and the second baseman has added Don Mincher and Jimmie Hall from the Chicago White Sox.

Joe Adcock, who was the Angels' first baseman last opening in Los Angeles, is expected to be a new Cleveland manager when the Indians open at Kansas City on the same night. Game.

Revenue Loss Is $2.2 Million As Horsemen Boycott Aqueduct

NEW YORK (AP)—Loss in revenue soared to an estimated $2.3 million Saturday as the dispute between horsemen and the State of New York over increased purses kept Aqueduct closed for the fourth straight day with no indication that the end is in sight. The massive thoroughbred racing plant, constructed eight years ago at the cost of nearly $33 million, also will be dark Monday since members of the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association refused to enter the track.

The New York Racing Association announced the racing secretary's office would be closed Sunday, as usual unless the horsemen decide to end the boycott in time to make entries for Monday. But that was considered very unlikely.

The only breakthrough in the boycott, which started last Monday after the State Assembly had authorized without acting on a bill that would have increased purses $15,000 daily, came Friday when two horses were entered for Saturday's Excelsior Handicap. However, the horses were withdrawn a few hours later with the owners, George DeWitt and Dr. Leon Levy, saying no useful purpose would be gained by running King and Bluel. With their withdrawal, the NYRA quickly canceled the announced one-race program.

Although none of the principals would discuss the subject, The Associated Press learned that representatives of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, Speaker of the Assembly Anthony Trivanti and Sen. Drew L. Paul, a financier and temporary head of the New York division of the NYRA, have been in contact by telephone.

Several ways of breaking the impasse have been discussed, but the most in a special session of the Legislature is expected to be the measure cutting the state's percentage of the wagering from 10 to 9 1/2 per cent.

But that appears unlikely since Trivanti, a Democrat, refused to take the issue out of the assembly's Rules Committee after it had been recommended by the Republican conference.

Parks System Is Praised At State Meet

POCATELLO (AP)—A world-wide conference of the 80 nations that have followed the United States in establishing national parks is proposed for 1978 for George Hartzog Jr., director of the National Park Service, who said the sessions would be in Yellowstone Park. Speaking before the Idaho Wildlife Federation convention, Hartzog said thousands of persons would attend to witness the 10th anniversary of the world's first national park. He described the establishment by conservation-minded pioneers as a unique contribution to world culture, which inspired many nations to enact similar legislation in their own countries. "I commend the state of Idaho in operation of its state park system and what it is trying to do in setting aside historic and other points for the enjoyment of all," Hartzog said.

He cautioned that the population explosion is gaining, and land should be set aside now to do in setting aside historic and other points for the enjoyment of all. "It is the best dollar I know of and it keeps business in operation. It's the best dollar I know of and it keeps business in operation."

Foinavon Has Upset In Steeplechase

AINTREE, England (AP)—Foinavon, a 100-1 shot, cleared an incredible pileup at the 23rd of 28 obstacles Saturday and went on to post a 15-length victory for one of the biggest upsets in the 130-year history of the Grand National Steeplechase.

Foinavon, ridden by John Buckingham, earned $49,364 as his owner, C. P. T. Watkins of Britain.

Different Class, owned by film star Gregory Peck and one of the favorites, went down at the pile-up at the 23rd obstacle.

Foinavon was trailing badly until the horses reached that fence. A horse that had thrown its rider earlier touched off the pile-up, one of the worst in recent history, by bumping into one of the runners.

Both horses went down as did other oncoming horses and jockeys.

The fence claimed many of the 26 horses that didn't finish the race. Eighteen horses managed to complete the four-mile, 856-yard course which Foinavon covered in 9 minutes, 46.6 seconds.

Fred Valentine hit a two-run triple and Frank Howard blasted a two-run homer as Washington secured seven runs in the fourth inning en route to a 7-4 victory over St. Louis on Wednesday.

Successive triples by Manny Mota and Tomp Glennen started a four-run rally in the eighth inning and Pittsburgh beat Philadelphia 6-3 at Richmond, Va.

In Chicago, the Cubs used rookie Norm Gilpin's pinch two-run homer and four White Sox errors to whip their cross-town rivals 8-5.

Boston beat Detroit for the third straight time this spring, 2-0, by breaking a 2-1 tie with four runs in the eighth inning at Water Haven, Fla.

John Johnson turned a pop fly into a triple, singled and scored twice in leading Los Angeles past the Athletics 4-2 at Kansas City.

Gus Gil doubled home three runs in the eighth inning, pacing Cleveland to an 8-5 victory over Cincinnati at Shreveport, La. California scored three runs in the 16th inning for a 6-2 victory over the Giants at San Francisco. The score was tied 2-2 after nine innings, and each club scored once in the 12th.

His winning times for the dashes were 11 1/4 in the 100 and 25 1/4 in the 220. His winning jump was 20 feet 3/4 inches.

The only other multiple winners were Jerome's Brad and the hurdles races and the Tigers' Perry Dixon in the shot put and discus.

Threesome Tied With 61s; Hogan Steals Spotlight On Record-Breaking 66

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Bert Yancey, Julius Boros and Bobby Nichols wound up in a tie at 211 in an exciting see-saw battle for first place but an astounding 66 by the immortal Ben Hogan, a ghost from out of the past, provided the high drama Saturday in the third round of the Masters Golf Tournament. Records Fall In AAU Indoor Swims

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
DALLAS (AP)—A 16-year-old school boy broke 50 seconds in the 100-yard butterfly — the only time ever in the history of the United States Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) indoor swimming championships came to a close Saturday. Three records were set in the six events of the final session and among them was a 16-year-old Mark Spitz, Santa Clara, Calif., High School student, in the 100-yard butterfly. Nobody anywhere ever swam the event in under 50 seconds before, said AAU officials.

Spitz "came" a "world" record, however, because records set in the indoor meet are not acceptable. Burton won the grueling 1,650-yard freestyle after taking the 500 both in record time, and was second in the 200-yard butterfly for 19 points to be high man of the meet.

Santa Clara Swim Club won the team trophy with only one man in the 100-yard butterfly going into the final events, was second with 63. Spitz did his 49.9 to upset defending champion Ross Wales of Princeton by a tenth of a second in the 100 butterfly. Wales was 50.1.

Burton became the first double winner and set his second American record in the process. He won the 1,650-yard freestyle in 18:08.0.

Burton won the 500 freestyle in 4:37.0 Thursday night to equal the existing American and AAU records and also tie the pending record held by Greg Buckingham of the Santa Clara Swim Club.

His 18:08.0 in the freestyle was 19.3 seconds under the existing American and AAU records and set a new pending American record that he set in the NCAA.

Don Schellender of Yale, who grabbed four gold medals in the 1954 Olympics and returned to the winner's circle here Friday night in the 200-yard freestyle and failed in his bid to become a double winner when he finished third in the 100.

legs shattered by a near-fatal automobile accident reeled off six birdies in the space of nine holes in an astounding finish for a 54-hole score of 213.

He tied two Masters records and broke another with this brilliant late surge, but his greatest victory came in conquest of a bad case of putting jitters.

His 213 placed him in a tie with Gay Brewer, who blew the title by three putting the final hole a year ago. Brewer, one of the hottest articles on the spring tour, had a par 72.

Springer George Archer, with an eagle on the 13th, followed at 214, shooting a par 72; and 22-year-old Tony Jacklin, the best shot dropout from England, bogeyed the final hole to tie Lionel Hebert at 215. Jacklin shot 74, Hebert 67.

Rugged old Julius Boros, 47, whose game seems to mellow with age, and Nichols, the sleeping giant pro from Louisville Ky., who won the PGA in 1957, both knocked to dramatic birdies on the final hole for matching 70s.

Yancey had a 71. An exciting blanket finish saw Hogan's rebound brilliance dimmed at a temporary surge by popular Arnold Palmer, seeking his fifth title, in the fluctuating 18th hole. Hogan's 68.8-yard par 5, the 17th and his PGA in 1957, both knocked to dramatic birdies on the final hole for matching 70s.

Three-Way Battle Looms For Hank Powers Relays Wednesday

Twin Falls, Highland and Idaho Falls high schools will square off in a battle for the Hank Powers Relays championship at 3:30 p.m. Wednesday at the high school track. The abbreviated meet has attracted teams from Idaho Falls, Highland, Patcatello, Jerome, Buhl, Minico, and host Twin Falls. It is based on five relays, high and low hurdles and the field events. Special events are the girls 400-yard relay and frosh-soph 880-yard and mile relays.

Twin Falls is expected to score heavily in the hurdles with Doug Pitt, VanVels and Dick Johnson, plus the pole vaulting trio of Scott Cryder, Curt Oliver and Dennis LeManche.

The Bruins also could win the two sprint relays. Idaho Falls will be stronger in the mile relay, with Roger Cook and Kaufman, medley and two-mile relays since the Tigers have dominated these events against the teams entered in previous meets. The Twin Falls team consists of...

Highland has a good weight man in Steve Burk and speed in McPherson, who will be an anchoring relay instead of winning open events. Minico's top two chances for firsts remain Mike Schell in the high jump and Arlo Decker in the pole vault. The Spartans pole vaulters Gentry and Brown showed well in Friday's Minico invitational.

Jerome's hopes appear pegged to broadjumper Buzz Renn, one of the fastest around. Magie Valley, Patcatello and Buhl don't appear to be favored in any of the events.

TWIN FALLS DELEGATES to the mock legislative sessions sponsored by the YM-YWCA last weekend in Twin Falls discuss pending "legislation." Young people from all over Magic Valley participated in the program and exhibited an intense interest and knowledge of our state government.

Interest In Government Seen In Students At Mock Session

(All Times-News photos)

By PEGGY LALEY
 Times-News Feature Writer

The Magic Valley Youth Legislature concluded its second annual session here last Saturday and offered definite proof that the youth of today are vitally concerned with world, national and state affairs and with the workings of the governmental bodies.

This "mock legislature" was started last year in order to provide an opportunity for participation in legislative affairs to students from schools in the valley who do not send delegates to Boys' or Girls' State programs.

For these mock sessions a house and a senate with their respective officers are set up and bills are submitted for the members' consideration. These bills which cover a wide range of subjects, are prepared by the participating students, with one bill representing the interest of each group of delegates.

Among the bills presented was one proposing that "earnings and accumulations of a spouse while living separate from his or her spouse or of the spouse's minor children of those in his or her custody shall be the separate property of that spouse."

This bill was approved by both the students' house and senate.

Another recommended that full time students under 24 years of age be allowed to earn $2,500 before required to make or file an income tax return. This was also passed.

The student legislators agreed that every student enrolled in an Idaho secondary school be required to satisfactorily complete a one semester course of United States government. This was passed.

House bill No. 5, which was approved by the house and senate, provided for the right to employment regardless of labor organization membership or non-membership.

This legislative program, which is sponsored by the YM-YWCA, was co-chaired by the Honorable Zoe Ann Shady, probate judge of Twin Falls county, and Larry R. Harvey, Twin Falls attorney.

They were assisted by Chet Bartlett, executive director of the Twin Falls YMCA; Sally Molyneux, executive director of the local YWCA; Ray Lincoln, state representative; George Blick, former state senator; John M. Barker, state senator, and Jack Swisher, Twin Falls Times-News.

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

One of Idaho's great artist-historians, Selma Calhoun Barker is a former Magic Valley resident. Mrs. Barker was recently commissioned to paint a mural for Moon's Funeral Chapel in Sandpoint. The mural is entitled "The Mountain" and depicts "God's promise of everlasting life in a world where all things are forever beautiful." Selma Calhoun was born on her father's homesteaded ranch in southern Idaho, near the town of ROGERSON. Orland Calhoun and his wife came to Idaho when it was still a territory. On their way to Walla Walla on the Oregon trail, they were forced to winter at Brunau, and after hearing about the good cattle country that was available 100 miles away, they decided to settle there.

The first ranch was near Three Creeks and the only visitors the Calhouns had were cowboys, prospectors, and Indians, friendly and otherwise. Calhoun acquired the nickname, "Bad Tex" when a large cattle outfit tried to drive him off the range and he refused to run. The cattle company went so far as to hire a gunman, but when the gunman first visited the Calhoun ranch and saw the wife and children of the man he was to murder, he refused to carry out his mission. The matter was finally settled in court at ALBION, where an honest judge and jury decided in favor of Calhoun. This opened the way for more families to move into the territory. Such were the times into which Selma Calhoun was born.

Mr. Calhoun established a post office and a school, and called the settlement Bate. Mrs. Barker recalls that her first teacher was a man who had once taught her father. While the teacher was on his way to Oregon, he was asked to stay and teach the children, using the Calhoun house as the first school.

"The artist did lots of riding for her father, and has recalled a lot of riding, 50 miles or more to dances or other social functions. The artist recalls one vivid in her mind—the lack of color. "Everything was home made. Buildings, equipment, furniture, and even lots of the clothing was made at home, and

Wyoming Bids For World's Ski Events

Only a decade has passed from the time when skiing in Wyoming consisted of strapping on a pair of barrel staves to find the lost cows in a snow covered forest to the present, where the state is now attracting world-wide attention as a skier's haven.

The State of Wyoming in cooperation with the United States Ski Association and the Jackson Hole Ski Area is now asking the International Ski Federation (the FIS) to hold the 1970 (FIS) World Ski Championships at the huge Jackson-Hole Ski Area in Wyoming.

A long period of initial preparation has been completed. This presentation outlines these preparations will be presented to the International Ski Federation (FIS) World Council at their meeting at Beirut, Lebanon, in May of this year.

This presentation culminates a wedding out process and narrowed the countries competing for the event to seven.

The Jackson-Hole Ski Area was first selected as the official United States entry by the United States Ski Association, an international ski meet, The Wild West Classic, was staged very recently in Jackson. This meet was used as a testing ground by FIS officials to see how well the ski area handles large international ski competition.

Wyoming and the United States are in competition with Japan, Italy, West Germany, Austria, Canada, Switzerland, and Czechoslovakia for the championships.

Blue Pencil Winner Told By T.F. Club

Mrs. Ben Eldredge won the blue pencil for her speech "Don't Forget the Rubber Ball!" at a breakfast meeting Friday in the Colonial Room of the Rogerson-Hotel. Mrs. Eldredge will represent the Twin Falls club in the council contest at Albion April 13.

The welcome and Pledges of Allegiance were handled by Mrs. James Little while Mrs. Richard L. Smith gave the invocation and served as toastmistress.

Edith Vanocens presented the lexicon regarding Toll, Taxes and Tolls, Toastmistress for the morning, Mrs. Leslie Jones, introduced two other speakers, Mrs. C. H. Mitchell, who talked on taxes and Mrs. Daryl Auler who spoke on "April 17th Dilemma." Mrs. Jones was awarded the trailing trophy for her outstanding performance.

Mrs. Eldredge read the minutes for the previous two meetings and Mrs. Jones announced the financial status of the club.

Mrs. Ellis Fuller was timer and Mrs. Richard-Tucker was evaluator.

Personal evaluators were Mrs. Kenneth Shaw, Mrs. John Burkhardt and Mrs. Bill Bolster.

Mrs. Harvey Wright, Mrs. Albert Billington, Mrs. Henry Mayland and Mrs. O. H. Higgins were present as guests and Mrs. Allen Lindemood became a new member.

TWELVE STUDENTS representing eight grades of the Three Creeks School, toured the Twin Falls Post Office building last Tuesday afternoon. A younger brother and sister were also part of the group. (Times-News photo)

There didn't seem to be a bit of unique style and color sense. It is the artist's application of these colors to scenes and events from her life on the trail of the early West. There are four of Mrs. Barker's paintings in the Stateshouse in Boise, each one of historical interest as well as being artistically excellent.

It was while studying with Schroeder that Mrs. Barker developed and perfected her studio called "The Sage Hen's"

Lair" a few miles northeast of Sandpoint. Around the studio are many items from days gone by. The artist who has known hardship and a personal loss speaks through her medium of color and canvas with sincerity and authority.

Twelve students of the Three Creeks School—plus a brother and a sister too young for school—toured the Twin Falls post office Tuesday afternoon.

They were accompanied by their teacher, Thomas Crandall, and a number of parents.

The youngsters who represent eight grades were Cecil Dick, Florine Dick, Janice Dick and Lonnie Dick, brothers and sisters, and Fred Stokesberry, Neil Row, Cathy Clark, Barbara Swan, Melody Minard, Clair Crandall and Andy Tingstrom, along with little Terrill Crandall and David Clark who shared the fun.

The Money Box

BY FRANK SCHELL

First letter this week comes from Mrs. M. T. Hatley, "I have a new one dollar silver certificate, series of 1899. It is much larger in size than our present dollar bills.

"I have tried to describe it in the drawing on the enclosed sheet. I would appreciate any information you can give me in regard to this issue."

Answer: Your drawing is very good. You included everything I need to know. Your note is really "size of 1899" and was the next to the last of the old one-dollar, large size bills (called "horse-blankets," affectionately).

This note was the third issue of the series, signed by Vernon and Treat, and the only one signed by that combination, although the previous issue had Treat's signature, with Lyons, and the following issue had Vernon's signature, with McClung's.

This issue is one of the less scarce of this note, and commonly sells in new condition for a little better than $15.

The only really scarce note of the Lincoln Grant series is that signed by Napier-Thompson, which note sells in excess of $150.

From Mrs. D. L. Burley, "I have a United States large cent, dated 1800, which looks like there is something wrong with the date."

Under a magnifying glass, it appears to have another number under the 1800 but I can't quite make it out. Do you think this is a counterfeit, or can you tell me anything about it? Would appreciate an answer in the paper."

Answer: "You have a copy of the very famous 1800 over 1789 or 1799, overdate large cent. If your coin is clear enough to show this overdate, it must be in excellent condition.

It was the accepted custom, in the early days of the mint, to use dies which were not worn out for a following year, simply by taking number punches and striking the number over the top of the previous one. Hence we have a great many coins which bear one number over the other. This 1800 cent is one of the most famous—generally acknowledged to have die varieties struck over both the 1789 and 1799 dies. It would require a close examination under a good microscope to determine which you have.

None of these coins are cheap, in extra fine condition, and are worth a great deal if better than that.

This coin, itself, is a very good specimen of material. It is graded, although a great many of the early large cents have a grainy appearance, due to the fact that the copper used to make them came from every possible source, and was a lodge-podge of material.

However, you have a valuable coin in your possession. Feel free to write again if you want to know anything further about it. The coin is listed in Dr. Sheldon's "Penny Whimsy" under the series of 1800.

From Mr. G. H. Twin Falls, "I have a large silver coin (about the size of a dollar) which has a picture of a fatter looking dragon on one side. Under this figure it says "PEI YANG MIN" and above it "KIA NGAR OF KIANG HSU." On the other side are a bunch of what look like Chinese or Japanese characters. What can you tell me about this coin?"

Answer: "Your coin is a Chinese dollar, minted at Pei Yang Min, in 1907. This particular coin comes from the Province of China, and was minted under the empire, not the republic, of China.

The coin is not particularly scarce, but certainly does not appear very often in the Western United States, although it may have worked up from the San Francisco area.

Collector value on a "Very Fine" specimen would run about $3.50.

The column wishes to acknowledge merchant's tokens sent by the following readers: Keith Ander, Gene Gamet and Charles F. Janacek, of Murphy Hot Springs. We are most grateful for these new finds.

Also, we would like to acknowledge tokens from George W. Horrick of the Sports Cafe, for some fine examples of the early A. O. Latham tokens of Two-Falls.

National Coin Week is also here—April 22 through 29th—and all collectors are urged to promote their hobby during this time.

(Questions on coins and currency should be sent to The Money Box, c/o The Times-News, Twin Falls, Idaho, 83301.)

THE DEATH OF A PRESIDENT

By William Manchester... For 30 years the music lovers of this area have supported the community concert program...

By a contemporary, as one who sat glued to his television set and read the news and speculation in the newspapers...

The book tells again what we saw with our own eyes, Jack Ruby killing Lee Oswald, the regal bearing of Jacqueline Kennedy and the pomp and ceremony of the funeral...

Manchester is aware that the senselessness of the murder deprives his book of a significant theme. This craving to find significance in the ghastly future of the murder is the reason why so many people throughout the world have been eager to believe that the Warren Commission was wrong...

Manchester is the author that does not place John F. Kennedy with the Presidents of the United States. He places him in a line with King Arthur, Stefan, Poland and Joan of Arc.

LA's Complex Will Be Solved With Music Center Opening

With music center opening... The week of April 9 may go down in history as the time when the Angels stopped kidding around.

During that week, the two new theaters that complete the Music Center complex will open. With the already opened Dorothy Chandler Pavilion, they will give him an extra day of triumph to rival any in the world.

Ever since the city opened for business, Los Angeles has had an interloper complex. Perhaps much of it was deserved — in many ways LA like a cake with all icing and no dough.

In the week of April 9, the Dorothy Chandler Pavilion will house the touring Metropolitan Opera Company. The city of Los Angeles will feature the Civic Light Opera production of 'The Merry Widow'.

The three theaters comprise an architectural whole that is a thing of beauty. Fountains splash, pool ripples, escalators which the audience to a natural underground parking garage, broad promenades separate the three structures.

Elliot Martin, veteran Broadway producer, is director of the Civic Light Opera. Gordon Davidson is artistic director of the Mark Taper Forum, the most interesting of the new theaters.

The Ahmanson is a large, 100-seat auditorium, basically a conventional, exploratory theater. But it is different. It is a round building and, inside, the seats form a semicircle around a stage — one which thrusts partly into the audience.

"I want this to be an unconventional, exploratory theater," Davidson says. "a forum for ideas, fresh and provocative."

Davidson has scheduled four plays for the Taper's debut season. After "The Devils" comes an original play by Romulus Linney, "The Sorrows of Fredrick," with Fritz Weaver playing Frederick the Great.

The marriage of Mr. Missett, followed by a play by William Murray which Davidson commissioned. It is called "Witnesses," and deals with the celebrated Genovese case in New York, using the action, film, slides and television.

The Ahmanson will be more conventional in a way, hopefully, commercial, Davidson says. The Taper is virtually sold out — more than 30,000 subscriptions have been sold but it will still operate at a loss.

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A courageous bank president grabbed a robber's pistol and a standoff between officers and the bandit after a $51,000 heist of the Crosby State Bank Friday.

The robber took the bank president, A. H. Garbs, with him to a wooded area about 10 miles northeast of Houston.

But when the officers drew close, the man brandished the pistol at his hostage and the officers ceased off their chase.

Finally, the president grabbed the gun, allowing officers to capture the man. Garbs, 58, is a lifelong resident of Crosby, and has been with the bank 35 years.

Food Needs Play Important Part In Increase Of Idaho's Wild Game Herds

By JIM HUMBIRD Idaho Game Department

Some years ago an aerial photo showing four different species of big game animals on the same winter range at the Sand-Creek Wildlife Management Area...

Some people who saw the unobscured photograph put it down as still more evidence pointing out the fact that Idaho is a paradise for big game hunters.

It is, of course, but not because shatterbush sometimes can find four species of big game animals on the same range. The fact is that their food needs are not the same.

Charles D. "Chuck" Haynes, game management supervisor, says the department controls a big winter range at the Sand-Creek Wildlife Management Area...

Rocky Mountain elk often graze on dry grass during the cold winter months, supplementing this kind of feed with whatever shrubs and other browse plants they find.

Some parts of Sand Creek have good stands of browse vegetation, enough to carry a fair number of deer during the winter months.

Large elk herds in the Clearwater River drainage of northern Idaho are unique. They browse almost entirely on several species of brush that quickly covered the open hillsides following the holocaust of wildland fire during the early decades of this century.

Red-tailed Canada goose does not grow as tall as other brush species and is a very important feed item for elk in that country.

Deer cannot exist for long on a diet of dried grass alone, although elk apparently can. What happens when a range goes from grass to shrubs and back again to grass is just a few years, it will be seen in the history of the Middle Fork of the Salmon River.

It once was grass range. Then early settlers used their homesteads on the canyon floor as bases for livestock and for public lands. Soon, overuse by cattle, horses and sheep destroyed the grass.

A natural plant succession brought in the generation of browse shrubs. Deer numbers responded to the abundance of forage, and great numbers of them crowded into the narrow canyon for the winters. Because of the closeness of the Middle Fork country from dense human populations, survival of the same wild game animals is not possible.

Too many deer have kept browse plants from growing to normal size and appearance. Shrub stands have been fuzed which now produce little deer feed.

For example, bitterbrush and mountain mahogany are not producing wet and seed production is poor. Plants have lost their vigor through continual overgrazing.

Plants now present mostly are old, decadent or dying. Old growth on them is out of reach. Elk use them, however, because these animals can reach higher for browse.

With the destruction of browse plants and the elimination of deer wintering on the Basin and Range, deer numbers are declining.

For many years, game management personnel have attempted to manage the range for bitterbrush—especially in southern Idaho where deer winter range problems are acute in some places.

It is not possible to maintain bitterbrush on many ranges. Range managers believe that weather and other conditions have changed across southern Idaho since the days of yore when this shrub was becoming established.

In many cases managers of deer ranges across the southern half of the state are looking to browse species other than bitterbrush to carry the animals on winter ranges.

One reason is that other brush species are easier to manage and will do the same job of bringing deer through the winter—as bitterbrush does.

Actually no one browse species will keep a deer going for long, even bitterbrush. The diet of these animals must consist of a mixture of several different types of shrubs.

In general, there are two distinct types of sagebrush—salt sagebrush and short sagebrush. In combination, they appear to them crowded into the narrow

Interest In Government Is Displayed

The governor for the mock sessions was Ian H. Jon Linderm. Burt Jeff Toler was the substitute governor; Denton Koopler, Burley, speaker of the house; Bonnie Miller, horse champion; Bob Eklund, senate chairman; Bill Nebeker, Murtaugh; secretary of the senate; Janice Boyer, Hansen, clerk of the house; Mark Taylor, Minico High School, senate floor leader; and Martin Lee, Gooding, house floor leader.

The play-long sessions held in the Y building, the county courthouse and the Methodist church were attended by 137 students and youth leaders from all over Magic Valley.

These towns represented were Buhl, Burley, Filer, Gooding, Hansen and Murtaugh as well as Twin Falls and the Minico High School.

This program, designed to acquaint these young people with the legislative process, proved to be an even greater success this year than it was the first year and promises to retain its interest by "teaching by participation."

TRUMP LEAD play one trump on general principle. It should be done. South's jump to four spades has a distinct overbid but the sort of overbid that wasn't likely to get him into serious trouble. When you overbid with a doubtful trump suit you may run into a heart in dummy and it is missed trumping and a disaster. When you overbid with very first and trumps a long time later.

South leads a heart. West gets in with the Jack and leads a trump but he is one round of play late. South wins and leads a second heart. West wins and leads a second trump. South gets to ruff one heart for his tenth trick but the two trump leads have kept him from making an overtrick.

sound trumps you just aren't going to get doubled. The overbid was a happy idea. It was possible for East and West to beat the contract and if West had not happened to hold such nice clubs he might well have opened a trump to fight in any event. It usually pays to lead trumps when your opponents have reached game on strong bidding in trumps only. Anyway, West liked his hand and opened-the-king-South ruffed and looked over dummy just continue speeding on icy carefully. A lot of players would roads.

Young America's Date-Line

Guys With Glasses Worry About Lasses

Dear Walt: We are two guys, age 17, who wear glasses. I am wondering what to do if we went to kiss our dates good-night and they're wearing glasses too. There might be a small, but embarrassing, clash of glasses. This situation hasn't arisen yet, but we are wondering how to handle it if it should. — Two "Four-Eyed" Guys.

Dear Guys: Thank you for Michael Calinc ("The Press Piece," etc.). Glasses are very "in" this year. But even when you wear glasses, an old enough chaprone so that he won't be criticized? — Wondering.

Dear Wondering: I'd say yes. Don't the important—opinion—of your mom's. Why don't you tell her about your afternoon's fun and clue her in that the chaprone you have a sister. That way if any busy-bodies start stories, your mom will be panic-stricken.

HER OUIJA IS SILENT: I received an ouija board for my birthday. I followed the directions, stated my question and waited and waited and waited for 12 minutes, and I didn't get any results. My uncle says if you've ever told a lie, the ouija-board won't talk to you. Is this right? — Disappointed.

Dear Plannotted: We suggest you take the ouija-board to the phone and tell the boy not to talk about it. I followed the directions of a boy's service to his country. It was a mutual decision to break up, not any kind of "Dear John" thing—and I don't have a heartless session about his mother flip like this. Please advise steps I might take. I can't take much more of this! — Lucille.

Dear Lucille: Where's your birthday is coming in two days? If he's living with you, weeks, and I want to know if he has a heartless session about his mother flip like this. Please advise steps I might take. I can't take much more of this! — Lucille.

Dear Anonymous: If you're inspired to send a card because of a romantic crush on the teacher, we advise you to write a letter to your mother. It's simple friendship with you at work or school, and you don't want to know if you're married friends with your diet! — Ele and Walt.

Someone special having a birthday and you're short of the romance ends by mutual agreement, and that he'll always consider her his second Please include a long, self-addressed envelope to develop strain a bit. — Ele and Walt, and a dime with your request.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

with MAJOR HOOPLE

YAS, SIR CEDRIC, THIS RIFLE NORMALLY IS MOUNTED ON WHEELS WITH ACCOMPANYING CAISSON, BUT I HAR-RUMPH USED IT PISTOL FASHION!

MY WORD!

MY NATIVE GUNBEARER SAID I WAS THE ONLY HUNTER WHO COULD DO THIS WITH A .566-80!

REMARKABLE BY JOVE!

THIS GUN HAS ACTUALLY SAVED MY LIFE! HAK-KAFF—THERE WAS AN INCIDENT WHEN I WAS CONFRONTED BY A BULL ELEPHANT IN A NARROW AFRICAN DEFILE!

PREVENTING A DIRECT SHOT, I PRESUME?

"THE BEAST BLOCKED MY ROUTE TO TANGANYIKA AS HE CAME CHARGING FROM A CLUSTER OF MASSIVE ROCKS"

T.M. Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.

"QUICKLY I COMPUTED THE WIND VELOCITY, TRAJECTORY OF THE BULLET AND GEOMETRIC ANGLE OF RICOCHET"

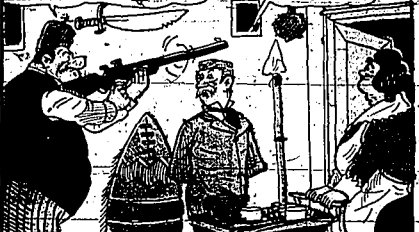

I KNEW THAT A BULLET, HITTING A PRECISE SPOT ON THE SMOOTH WALLS OF THE GRANITE CLIFF, WOULD GLANCE OFF AND HIT THE ELEPHANT BEHIND THE LEFT EAR!

JOLLY GOOD THINKING! A BRILLIANT STRATEGY, SIR!

CAREFULLY, I AIMED AND GENTLY SQUEEZED THE TRIGGER!

THE BULLET HIT THE BEAST?

NO! IT MISSED THE CLIFF.

KAFF-KAFF! IT WAS A DELIBERATE ACT OF COMPASSION, IN THE INTEREST OF WILDLIFE CONSERVATION!

OH, FAP!
