Historic Lesson

The military take-over in Greece is a sobering reminder of what we tend to ignore in the heat of any East-West confrontation.

This is that the defeat of communism by arms in the field does not insure that an era of tranquility and progress will automatically descend upon the winner. The economic, political and social problems that beset a nation, though they may be exploited by the Communists, are not dependent of that exploitation.

Greece was the scene of the first American challenge to the satellite-absorbing expansionism of the Soviet Union after World War II. Out of Greece's long history against Communist encroachment, the Truman Doctrine and Marshall Plan and North Atlantic alliance. The successful outcome of the decision to aid Greece has inspired and guided U.S. foreign policy ever since.

Now, more than 20 years and $1.8 billion in military aid and $1.7 billion in economic aid later, the Greek army in 1967 has been ousted by a Communist dictatorship. The Communist government has arrested 5,000 potential opponents and banned the leading leftist party — all with the highest patriotic motives and in the belief that only such drastic steps would prevent the country from falling into the hands of the extreme left, if not of communism itself.

In Greece, an all-too-plain story is being enacted. It is no proof that the struggle to arrive at the end of one of the right can be as difficult and far longer than the Communist take-over. It is a warning that the Communist take-over is not a simple matter of aggression or subversion. Setback in that struggle can nullify everything gained by victory in a test of arms.

In Vietnam, we have not yet arrived at the point where the end is in sight. It is nowhere in sight. Easy hopes that a military victory, or at least a cessation of hostilities, will thereafter make South Vietnam safe for Communist take-over are re-evaluated in the light of what has taken place in Greece, the ancient birthplace of democracy.

This is not cause for despair, however. South Korea, to name but one nation, shows that both wars — the war of men's bodies and the other for their minds — can be won.

And its political troubles following the end of the war there, but it has now held its second free election since the upheaval which saw the ouster of Syngman Rhee. The country is soaring economically.

We often hear the complaint that we settled for less than "victory" in the shooting war in Korea. Yet the other important lesson of that war, all appears well on the way to success.

Unfortunately, just the opposite is the present situation in Greece. As for Vietnam, we may be a long time before we can even begin to talk about "victory" in either war.

LAWN JACK EXS, ARISE!

Talk about the Central Intelligence Agency secretly subsidizing youth groups, labor unions and foundations. Something far more alarming has been brought to light by the Wall Street Journal, a major lawn care products company has been subsidizing model lawns in neighborhoods around the country. The purpose of the story hints at no one people into improving their lawns — to the seeds of dissatisfaction, as it were — and thereby possibly sell more fertilizer, weedkillers and whatnot.

The irony is that it is doing no such thing. Its lawn care merely sets plots for new products.

This is a matter that strikes at the seed of every American's dream of domestic tranquility of the Republic itself. It demands a full-scale congressional investigation to get at the truth. It is a question of principle and we will settle for nothing less.

Unless, of course, we were offered a subsidy for our own sickly looking lawn.

NO WHEELED UTOPIA

Fond hopes that the Soviet Union's decision to step up its production of automobiles heralds a consumer revolution of the workers' paradise are deceived by reality.

The Central Intelligence Agency has delivered into the matter. It reported to a congressional subcommittee that a plan to increase the Soviet car output from the current 200,000 to 1 million in 1975 would give Russia an automobile population "roughly equal to that of the United States in 1917."

It is not always true that the more people in the United States in 1917, the more people in the United States in 1967. A car in every garages is nowhere in sight.

WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON — The danger presented by the confused picture of that country, the United Nations Secretary General, is that he is so careless with the facts. As with so many, he is not a realist. He decides the way he wants things and then proclaims it as the way it is.

Predictably, there has been a great deal of private official criticism of Thant since his preposterous speech to UN emergency sessions last week. It probably will be done by both President Johnson and Secretary of State Rusk. They feel they can't trust the man — not because he is dishonest per se but because he is self-deluded.

Apparently he convinced himself that dreaming will make it so. What, Washington asks, can you do with a man who repeatedly pushes hard facts under the rug?

MISREPRESENTS U.S. — By now, the American press has been so thoroughly convinced all but Feking and Hanoi that Thant's statement that both sides rejected his March 16 peace proposal is not true. Thant called for a mutual cease fire. The U.S. said okay. Hanoi said no.

There is the danger of trying to do business with Thant. For he now has returned to his showplace thesis that only an unconditional halt in the American bombing of North Vietnam would create conditions for peaceful discussions. No more administration policy general standstill — because he is so sure of himself.

Some administration policy-writers are now talking about calling Thant's bluff once and for all. They are arguing that the arguments against the bombing. The arguments against the bombing. The arguments against the bombing. The arguments against the bombing.

At any rate, the argument over an unconditional bombing halt continues in both the White House and the State Department. Johnson is concerned that the halt would cost American lives because of the Communist build-up. Those who argue for the bombing halt say such a risk should be taken against the possibility of a Communist build-up. It is difficult for any President to take such a risk.

GOP CAN TAKE ONLY ONE STAND ON WAR
In politics it may be tempting to stand on both sides of the same issue. But when the issue is a war, the choice is not so simple. The GOP can take only one stand on the war in Vietnam. It can either support the war or oppose it. It cannot do both.

Senator Dirksen was so disturbed by the Republican Party's position on the war in Vietnam that he declared support of the President and the forces in Southeast Asia. He said he received letters from many of his constituents who were opposed to the war. He said he was not a pacifist, but he was not a war hawk either.

Interpreting The News

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — The public mind is so occupied by the war in Vietnam that it is difficult to see the news in any other light. The news is full of reports of the war, of the deaths of soldiers, of the destruction of cities. It is a constant reminder of the horror of war.

Life Likely

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—It is likely that life exists on planets other than earth, and "if it is there, we will find it," promises Dr. William H. Pickering.

Pickering is director of the Jet Propulsion Laboratory at California Institute of Technology. He spoke Wednesday night at a medical symposium in Long Beach.

He said extraterrestrial life may be closer, or further, than we think. It may be beyond the range of our early instruments. But "if it is there, we will find it."

Mars is "the best candidate at present," he added. A soft landing on Mars is scheduled for a Voyager mission in 1972.

HAS ATTACK

FAIRFIELD — Mrs. Frank (Daisy) Mink had a heart attack Tuesday evening at her home near Hill. The attack was taken by Sheriff Paul Cox in the county ambulance to Gooding Memorial Hospital where she is a patient for tests and observation.

The 16 made clear they felt war in Vietnam that so regard the declaration had removed as inimical to the best interests of the country, he said.

The statement urged wide inhibition to dissent — the spread misgivings in the United States about the war, but said a majority of Americans backed the war effort.

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, draftsman of the statement, said it underlined the importance of a statement in opposing opposition to a wider liberal U.S. withdrawal from war.

Administration Tells Some Senators U.S. Pressuring Allies To Aid In War

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration today told some senators the United States is bringing maximum pressure on allies to broaden Asian participation in the Vietnam war.

But thus far, administration officials have indicated in private briefings, they are having little success in convincing the countries which have associated themselves with the war to furnish more combat troops.

Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., who has been critical of what he calls Americanization of the conflict, has pointed away on the theme that unless more Asians take part in the Vietnam fighting and pacification program it may turn into a white man's yellow man struggle.

He said in an interview he thinks that if substantially more Asian troops could be enlisted it would help convince the stressed last month in a New York speech by Gen. William G. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam.

Sen. Harry F. Byrd Jr., D-Va., a supporter of President Johnson's over-all war policies, said the Senate Wednesday told for all practical purposes the fighting is being done by Americans, but also their neighbors.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., said the statement "has helped to relieve the mounting anxiety about desertion that should enable us to discuss this issue more freely." McGovern said.

President Johnson made no public comment on the message, but it drew a prayer Wednesday night from Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

Talking to newsmen of a White House reception for 1,000 military officers, Humphrey said of the statement: "I liked it, God."

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, draftsman of the statement, said it underlined the importance of a statement in opposing opposition to a wider liberal U.S. withdrawal from war.

Denver Girl Will Have Abortion

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — The manager of Health and Hospitals has ruled that a board of doctors at Denver General Hospital has decided to grant an abortion to a mentally retarded 12-year-old Denver girl.

The abortion, the first to be performed under Colorado's new abortion law, was granted because the doctors felt the continuation of the pregnancy would cause serious impairment of the girl's mental health.

Poisonous Stew Bubbling In Middle East

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
A poisonous stew is bubbling once again in the Middle East. It has all the ingredients necessary for an accidental explosion which could present the world with a new and dangerous crisis.

Should the explosion come, it probably would result from a clash of miscalculation. But some of the Arabs may be tempting fate.

Syria vows to continue sending foyedeyen-commando-infiltrators "to destroy and burn" Israel, an enterprise which could provoke the Israelis into a massive reprisal.

That would put Gamal Abdel Nasser on a difficult spot, and perhaps war then would be unavoidable.

This is the situation in brief: Nasser's Egyptian army are positioned along the Israeli frontier in support of Syria, on the grounds of alleged Israeli troop concentrations on the Syrian border. Egyptian and Syrian forces are on an "alert" against what they claim is an Israeli military threat from Israel. The United Nations peacekeeping force in the Gaza Strip has been warned to get out of range, according to the Cairo newspaper Al-Ahram, which usually speaks for Nasser.

There is another potential explosion point, far to the south on the border between Saudi Arabia and strife-torn Yemen. This is a case of Arab against Arab. Nasser is engaged in an acrimonious feud with King Abdul Aziz of Saudi Arabia and Hussein of Jordan, Israel's neighbor in the east. Egyptian planes are reported to have bombed two Saudi towns on the Yemeni border as a warning to the Saudi king against sending military help to Yemen.

Nasser has more than 40,000 troops in Yemen supporting the republican regime. He has committed many of the planes he acquired from the Russians to the support of the Yemeni revolutionaries. An eruption on the Israeli frontier would give him a crow's foot in peril.

Workers Win More Raises Than In Past

WASHINGTON (AP) — Workers are winning bigger raises than a year ago despite the first drop in real economic output since 1961 and a big sag in corporate profits, government figures show.

The Commerce Department said Wednesday night that revised figures show the increase in Gross National Product for the first quarter of the year was more than offset by rising prices.

Earlier figures had shown the increase was exactly offset by rising prices. But figures updated at midsummer could again alter the first-quarter picture, said one source.

Gross National Product, the value of all goods and services produced in the economy — rose by $14 billion during the first quarter to an annual rate of $763.7 billion. Taking rising prices into consideration, however, it declined by about one-tenth of one per cent from the fourth-quarter 1966 level.

The Labor Department said $17,000 workers for whom new contracts have been negotiated in the first quarter won average 5 per cent wage boosts. Such increases averaged 3.9 per cent a year ago.

The median raise was 14.3 cents an hour, indicating the midsummer wage for workers covered went from about $2.99 to $3.10 an hour.

The Commerce Department also said corporate profits during the first quarter dropped to $7.3 billion before taxes, at an annual rate. Down $4.5 billion, this was the steepest quarterly drop since the third quarter of 1959.

Long May Ask Dodd Debate Be Delayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. Lee Long repeatedly asked the Senate to hold off for six weeks its debate on a proposed resolution ensuring that the Senate will not be forced to act on a bill for financial misconduct.

Robert A. Hunter, Long's administrative assistant, said the Louisiana Democrat may seek a postponement today. The core resolution now is scheduled for consideration beginning Monday.

The Senate ethics committee recommended several weeks ago that Dodd, a Coeur d'Alene Democrat, be censured for diverting to personal use money raised at testimonial dinners and for allegedly double-billing the Senate and private groups for transportation expenses.

Long is the only senator to date to have spoken in Dodd's defense.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said Wednesday Dodd had raised no objection to debating the resolution Monday.

GI Sentenced For Killing War Prisoner

PHU BAI, Vietnam (AP) — A U.S. Marine sergeant who had killed a prisoner because his lieutenant ordered him to was sentenced today to life in imprisonment.

Sgt. Charles D. Wilkerson, 23, Houston, Tex., said he was not a fair trial in the 22-day general court-martial which convicted him of premeditated murder.

Suddenly, everyone in the platoon became hard of hearing, Wilkerson told newsmen while being sentenced. "They said they never heard the lieutenant give the order."

Wilkerson was convicted by the eight-man court of shooting a Vietnamese in the head with a shotgun while the man's hands were tied behind him. The Vietnamese was a Viet Cong suspect seized in a free fire zone, an area from which civilians are barred.

Only one of the men in Wilkerson's platoon testified he heard the platoon leader, 2nd Lt. David C. York, order the prisoner killed.

Several others testified they heard no such command. Wilkerson had testified he was "only following orders."

"The lieutenant said, 'Peel out of the column and kill him,'" he said. "Then I started leading the man down the road. I was scared and wondered if maybe I could hit the man in the head and leave him there stopped, the man turned around fast, and my shotgun went off."

"I pumped the gun and fired another round automatically," Wilkerson was on his first combat patrol.

His lieutenant, who had been in Vietnam only nine days, is scheduled for trial next month on charges not yet fixed. York did not testify at Wilkerson's trial.

Wilkerson also was sentenced to a dishonorable discharge and forfeiture of all pay. The case must now be reviewed by Maj. Gen. Bruno A. Hochmuth, commander of the 3rd Marine Division.

Four Canoeists Gain More Than Sore Muscles On Trip

PORTLAND (AP) — The four canoeists who have traced part of the 1895 expedition of Meriwether Lewis and William Clark say they have gained more than sore muscles from the trip.

Lewis and Clark College's expedition will end Friday when the four students return from their six-week, 670-mile voyage down the rivers of the Pacific Northwest.

The students have been keeping journals of their trip as part of their academic work at Lewis and Clark. They are now camped on the Willamette River in north Portland.

Gary Eversen, 22, of Los Altos, Calif., said the trip has given him the "opportunity to experience beauty in nature, personalized surroundings."

Bruce Mackey, 23, of Alturas, Calif., said he learned new dimensions and perspectives to time, space and surroundings. He said sometimes a full day's work only meant 10 to 20 miles accomplished.

Fred Tower, 20, of Sausalito, Calif., praised "the open friendliness and hospitality these strangers show to other strangers."

The fourth member, Ron Hauflin, 19, of Grants Pass, said the trip was an education. "I feel I have packed more of life and learning into these six weeks than if I had been on campus for an entire term."

The students will receive credit in creative writing, journalism, physical education, American literature, and Pacific Northwest history.

They will be greeted at a Willamette River moraine at 1 p.m. Friday near the school's Portland campus.

Retracing as closely as possible a part of the 1805 expedition, the journey began on foot at Lolo Pass on the Lolo Indian trail near the Idaho-Montana border.

They were sent, so they followed the Lolo River to Lowell, Idaho, covering 75 miles in eight days on foot through the Bitterroot and Selway Mountains.

At Lowell they put their two UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — In whispers and shouts, with sweeping gestures, Russian poet Andrei Voznesensky has recited some of his poems before an audience that included Mrs. J. F. Kennedy.

$1.5 Million In Damages Given To Injured Man

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — A 31-year-old former mortgage company executive has been awarded $1.5 million for injuries suffered when a tree fell on his car, leaving him paralyzed from the neck down.

The judgment for Timothy M. Black, a bachelor who had been assistant vice president of Pacific Western Mortgage Co., was believed to be the highest ever awarded in a personal injury suit.

On April 27, they began their 14-day push to Fanny, Wash., arriving at Ice Harbor Dam on the Columbia River May 4. They camped for several days before leaving the Tri-City area for Portland—233 miles arcu-

Twice they hitched rides on tourbuses.

Lewis and Clark went all the way to the Pacific Ocean. But the modern-day explorers have been beckoned by final examinations to cut their trip short.

3-Way Race Offered In School Vote

RUPERT—A three-way race has developed in district 4 for the Minidoka County School district, Tuesday election slated for Tuesday in Heyburn and Washington Schools.

Dr. Howard G. Toews, incumbent, did not file for reelection and his post is sought by Dale Garner, former state representative. Frank Lukens, manager of Frank's Home Furnishings, and Darrell Rawson, Minidoka County Highway District employee.

Leo Moore, incumbent in district 1, Heyburn is the only man running for that district.

Mr. Garner has been a resident of Minidoka County for 44 years, having been born here and reared on a farm. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Garner. He has been active in the Chamber of Commerce, and is a past president of the Jaycee Distinguished Service Award.

He has been Scoutmaster of two Boy Scout troops and served as district scout chairman for three years.

He served six years as a legislator, being first elected in 1920. In the legislature he served as chairman of the Aviation, Veterans Affairs and Civil Defense Committee, and of the Printing and Legislative Expenses Committee and the Resources and Conservation Committee, and was a member of the Business Climate Committee and the Legislative Council.

Garner is a property owner and operator of a crop spraying service. His wife is the former Ramona Peterson of Burley where they are the parents of two daughters, Peggy Ann Garner, 15, a freshman at Minidoka High School, and Tamara Garner, who will enter the first grade next fall.

Lukens came to Rupert in 1954 from Gooding as manager of Greenwalds. He later was elected to Jerome High School and returned to Rupert to open his present business in 1956. He is an active member of the Rupert Lions Club, the Chamber of Commerce board of directors, and has worked in the J.P.A. Mr. and Mrs. Lukens are the parents of three children, an 18-year-old daughter who has attended Linfield College, a 15-year-old son, and a 6-year-old daughter.

Rawson, 32, is the foster son of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Davidson and has been a resident of Rupert all his life, receiving his education in local schools and graduating from Rupert High School in 1953. He has been an employee of the highway district for the past 12 years.

Mrs. Rawson (the former Betsy Ostergar) and Mr. Rawson are the parents of three daughters, 7, 5 and 4 years old.

Moore is completing his first year and is presently school board chairman. He graduated from Heyburn High School in 1943 and has farmed in the Emerson area since 1951. He is married to the former Donna Hamilton, also of Heyburn, and they are the parents of three children, a 16-year-old daughter, a 15-year-old son, and a 5-year-old daughter.

Election for the two trustee posts, which are for three-year terms, will be from noon until 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Heyburn and Washington schools. Electors will vote only for the trustee in their district.

Previous registration is not a requirement. To vote a person must be an elector of the time and a resident of the school district at the time of election, or a legal guardian of a child under 21 years of age, or a taxpayer within the district.

IT HAD ALL THE APPEARANCES of a big, happy family as businessmen of Boise and Twin Falls met in Twin Falls Wednesday evening. The Boise visitors, here on a good will tour, hosted the Twin Falls group at the Roundtop Room in the Rogers Hotel. Among those taking part in the session, from left, were Jay Amys, mayor of Boise; Egon Kroll,

Cooperation Stressed By Boise Good Will Delegation

Cooperation between Twin Falls and Boise in various fields, including that of retail and wholesale business, was stressed Wednesday evening at the Roundtop Room of the Rogers Hotel.

The session highlighted a visit to the Twin Falls area made by 20 Boiseans on a good will tour. The plea for mutual cooperation of the two communities "for the benefit of all Idaho" was made by Mayor Jay Amys.

"When you need service it is better that you get it in Idaho," he said. "We should all stand on our own feet and work together. Cooperation and friendship will help all of us."

Earl Faulkner, president of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce, responded to the Boise mayor's talk and said, "We are all in this thing together so it will help all of us if we work together."

Roadblocks Erected To Draft Reforms

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Armed Services Committee is erecting new roadblocks to draft system reforms proposed by President Johnson.

The committee—still considering proposed extension of the draft law for four years—decided Wednesday against letting the President have the final say over college deferments.

The panel wrote into the proposed law deferments for college undergraduates in good academic standing until they at least receive a degree. Left up to Johnson, however, was the village, "constituent headquarter" of graduate students. The President said he wanted to end exemption for all but medical and dental students.

The committee also will recommend investing Congress with power to veto within 60 days any type of lottery-style draft plan Johnson or subsequent presidents might propose.

The Senate, which earlier approved the draft extension, had given latewar endorsement to the lottery system as a possible additional means of deciding who should serve.

SEVEN KILLED MANILA (AP)—Four Philippine policemen and three Communist Huk terrorists were killed today after the Huk terrorists were opened fire on a patrol that was searching for them in a Bataan village, constabulary headquarters said.

9:00 p.m. 4, 7—The debut of Summer Focus, a documentary series which replaces Stage 67 for the summer season. Topic of the first showing is the rights of the press when compared to the rights of defendant in a courtroom. In Great Britain, the master has been decided against the press, which must refrain from editorial comment until trials are concluded. In America, the issue, still a hot one, centers on a conflict between the First Amendment (covering the press's right to publish information about a trial) and the Sixth Amendment (concerning a defendant's right to be heard by an unprejudiced jury.) T. Lee (Leland) Bailey and author Rebecca West are among the personalities who debate the question.

Twin Falls area youngsters, ranging from five years through adults, intermingled with the swimming club, also appearing at the Harmon Park pool beginning at 5 p.m. June 3, reported by Jack McNeers, team instructor.

Dr. McNeers said swimmers should sign up early, before the first swim week. It will be highlighted by the state tournament, slated for the first time in Twin Falls.

The Red Sox belted three home runs in a pair of two-run shots by Carl Yastrzemski and the total of 10 was just one shy of the major league record of 11 set in a game by both teams. This was set by New York and Detroit June 23, 1950.

One of Yastrzemski's homers came in the bottom of the seventh, enabling the two teams to equal the major league record of five homers in a game set by the Braves and Red Sox in 1925.

War Correspondent Writes Story From Hospital Bed

By GEORGE ESPER

DONG HA, Vietnam (AP)—The shrill, whistling sound of a rocket, joined those who were asleep.

Fifty yards away the ground went up like a fireworks display with blotches of red smoke flying high into the sky.

Sleepy-eyed and weary, U.S. Marines tumbled out of their cots in this forward command post about 11 miles south of the demilitarized zone and dashed into big sandbagged bunkers.

There were more whistling sounds and the thump of rocket artillery started and men shouted, "That's outgoing!"

Marine jets streaked through the night in an effort to silence the Communist rocket and mortar positions. Flares lit up the sky, and the rapid fire of automatic weapons could be heard in the outskirts of the Marine perimeter.

Suddenly, as if by some signal, the night was still and, beyond the attack had ended—at least for the time being. From the distance there were calls for "Companyman" and wounded men cried out in agony.

burned like a bonfire. It had taken a direct hit. One U.S. Army officer who had arrived in Vietnam only a few weeks ago was killed.

A radar site also took a direct hit, and so did the quarters of Brig. Gen. Ike Ryan, assistant commander of the 3rd Marine Division. The general was not in his quarters at the time.

In one corner of the complex, jeep and other equipment burned furiously. Two electric generators were knocked out.

In the medical tent, doctors and corpsmen worked on the wounded. Five men were killed and 38 wounded in this attack on Dong Ha.

When the lights came back on, a big clock on the wall in the medical tent read 3:35 a.m. It had stopped when the electric power was knocked out temporarily. Actually it was 2 a.m.

The last of the wounded were evacuated, and the men who stayed behind in Dong Ha said they would dig their holes a little deeper before another night attack.

Esper wrenched his right thigh and injured an elbow as he scrambled with the Marines to a protective bunker during the attack. Later he was evacuated to a Navy hospital at Da Nang, where he was reported in good condition.

Three Cent Paper To Make Debut

NEW YORK (AP)—A three-cent afternoon newspaper carrying New York City will make its debut here May 23 "unless we run into a flaw," its editor says.

His announcement came as union leaders revealed Wednesday that they have been contacted by the Daily News about their attitude toward the possibility of setting up a new paper, or extending its present morning edition.

Frank Wolfson, editor of Wayne today, a New Jersey afternoon daily, said a pilot coupe of a new paper, to be printed in New Jersey, would be prepared early next week. It would compete with the New York Post, left alone in the city's afternoon field by the death of the World Journal Tribune.

Flavorful Beef Balls Stretch Budget

If you're like most of today's homemakers, you are vitally concerned with your food budget. And you know from your own experience, as well as from what the experts tell you, that the biggest chunk of the food dollar goes for meat.

True, there are protein foods that can take the place of meat in the menu, but nothing can substitute for meat's good flavor.

These flavorful Beef Balls make it easy to get meat on the table without wrecking the wallet. The ground beef is stretched with crumbs, milk, eggs, and other ingredients which enhance flavor as well as nutritional value.

In addition to saving money, this recipe offers still another bonus: it's a real time-saver. The beef balls can be prepared ahead, frozen, and used later. It's also possible when preparing such a dish in quantity, to take advantage of specials at the meat counter.

Economy in this case doesn't mean money, according to home economists at Republic Molding Corporation, Chicago manufacturers of Frezette plastic food containers, in whose test kitchens these recipes were developed.

To prove it, they came up with these 10 serving suggestions: 1. Beef balls in gravy, "as is"; 2. Curried Beef Balls, Madras Style (see photo and recipe); 3. Curried Beef Balls, Creamy Style (see alternate recipe); 4. Beef Ball Stew; 5. Beef Ball Dinner Pie; 6. Beef balls with Bill Sauce or Rice; 7. Beef Balls in Sour Cream or Ketchup; 8. Beef Balls Stroganoff; 9. Beef Balls in Cream Sauce; and 10. Hot Beef Ball Sandwiches.

They recommend freezing the balls in 10-oz. round Frezette containers which hold about a pint, allowing for expansion. Food can be thawed and heated right in these containers, which withstand temperatures up to 250 degrees. It's simply setting them in boiling water.

10-WAY BEEF BALLS

- 4 pounds ground beef chuck or round
- 2 cups fine bread or cereal crumbs
- 1 cup finely chopped onion
- 4 eggs
- 2 cups milk
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
- 1/2 cup shortening
- 1/2 cup flour
- 2 cups (1 1/2 ounces each) beef broth or consommé
- 2 1/2 cups water

Combine beef, crumbs, onion, eggs, milk, salt, pepper and Worcestershire sauce; mix well. Shape into balls using one tablespoon of meat mixture for each ball. Brown balls in shortening, in Dutch oven or large covered fryer, turning balls as needed to brown evenly. Remove meat from pan. Stir flour into pan slowly. Add beef broth and water and cook, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil. Turn heat to low; add meat balls and cover pan.

Cook gently until meat is thoroughly cooked, about 30 minutes. Pack beef balls to within three-fourths inch of top of round Frezette containers; pour beef gravy over balls. Cover; freeze at once. Use 1, 2 or more pints to prepare your favorite meat ball entrees. Yield: About six pints.

Three easy ways to defrost beef balls:

1. Set Frezette container, with cover on, in a pan of gently simmering water.
2. Place containers in refrigerator and allow contents to defrost for ahead of time; or
3. Hold container until frozen food under tap water until frozen melts around the edge of the container. Remove food from container and heat it in a heavy sauce pan over a low heat or in the top of a double boiler.

CURRIED BEEF BALLS, Madras Style. Is only one of 10 entrees that can be prepared from a basic freezer recipe for tasty beef balls and gravy. The budget-stretching beef balls were developed in the test kitchens of Republic Molding Corporation, Chicago manufacturers of Frezette plastic food containers. Made in quantity and stored in the freezer, the beef balls are ready at a moment's notice as the basis for more elaborate dishes.

CURRIED BEEF BALLS, CREAMY STYLE

Cooking A La Provencal

The good people of Provence, a sunny region in France, really know how to live. Their joyous attitude toward living extends to an exuberant appreciation of fine food, so any specialty labeled "Provencal" can be depended upon to be delicious.

Cooking a 1/2 Provencal takes in a tremendous range of food types — soups, fish and seafood dishes, vegetables, pastas — and is characterized by the use of tomato and garlic, or sometimes garlic alone. This recipe for Halibut Provencal follows the traditional, as developed by the Halibut Association of North America. It's a dish that would delight the French — and is sure to please your family, too.

HALIBUT PROVENCAL

- 1 pound fresh or frozen halibut steaks
- 1/2 cup butter or margarine
- 1/2 cup chopped onions
- 1 tomato, chopped
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- Dash garlic
- 1/2 cup tomato juice (or red wine)
- 2 sweet peppers
- Cooked rice (optional)

Thaw frozen halibut steaks until no longer icy. Melt butter or margarine in skillet. Add onions; cook until soft. Add tomato, salt, pepper and garlic powder; stir over moderate heat for one minute. Push to one side of pan.

Add halibut, cover and cook over low heat 10 minutes. Meanwhile, cut peppers into thin strips. When fish is tender, top with pepper strips; cover and cook three minutes longer. Serve with cooked rice, if desired. Makes four servings.

BRIDGE

By Jacoby

BRIDGE ARGUING CAN BE ENDLESS

Peggy Solomon won her first national title in 1942 and has won national title championships for her credit. Her husband, Charles, a top bridge player for more than 30 years is a member of the World Bridge Federation.

her husband, although Peggy does not say so. South, a male expert, covered the queen of hearts with dummy's king. East won with his ace and returned the suit. West took his Jack and led a third heart.

South elected to ruff with dummy's nine of trumps. East overruffed and the ace of diamonds became the setting trick.

East said, "Too bad you didn't realize I could overruff the second round of hearts. If you go in with the ace of trumps instead of the nine you can pull trumps and claim your contract after you have worked if East were smart enough to refuse the first diamond and win the second."

North wanted to get into the exchange and point out that South could make the hand by simply ducking the heart opening, but he knew that South was unhappy enough as it was, and saw no reason to rub salt into his wounds.

CARD SENSE

Q—The bidding has been:

East 1♠ South Pass North 1♠ Pass 2♠ Pass 3♠ Pass 4♠ Pass

You, South, hold:

♠ A 2 3 4 5 6 7 ♣ K 4 3 A A Q 8 6

What do you do now?

A—Pass. You have suggested a slam and your partner has refused the invitation. Either he has no ace or has some other flaw in his hand.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding four spades your partner bids four hearts. What do you do now?

To Avoid Losing Just Don't Fight!

Dear Ele and Walt: I've liked this girl for six years, but no dice. Now I hear word is being spread around that I'm going to take to one another fingers these stories started, she's been looking at me a bit, although she still doesn't speak. If it would mean the girl, I'd fight for her. I have a relationship already this strategy won't work, but she has a good one. I've been beaten down. Does that mean that if I love, she'll love me? I could do that to her (actually I've only had two fights in my life). Please tell me what I can do to get away... In Trimming.

CHICKEN-N-STUFFING BAKE

RUTH HANSON
Route 1, Elsie
1 8-ounce package (1/2 cups) herb seasoned stuffing
2 cups cubed cooked or canned chicken
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup flour
1/2 teaspoon salt, dash of pepper
4 cups chicken broth
6 slightly beaten eggs
1 recipe pimiento mushroom sauce

Prepare stuffing according to package directions for dry stuffing.
Spread in a 13 by 9 inch casserole dish; top with a layer of chicken.

In a large saucepan, melt butter, blend in flour and seasonings. Add cool broth, cook and stir until mixture thickens. Stir small amount hot mixture into eggs, return to hot mixture, pour over chicken.

Bake in slow oven 325 degrees for 45 minutes or until knife inserted halfway to center comes out clean. Let stand five minutes to set, cut in squares and serve with sauce.

French Cheese Sandwich-Supper For Two

By GAYNOR MADDOX

We lunched with a French family recently on their terrace overlooking Central Park. Our hosts turned a familiar, rather commonplace, grilled cheese sandwich into an epicurean treat.

She used slices of excellent ham and two French cheeses—Bouquet and Boudin. But I can be used in place of the Boudin if desired, she explained.

Here's her recipe for one sandwich. Multiply it as much as you want. It was served with a delicate mixed green salad with oil and wine vinegar dressing. Dessert was fresh strawberries with cream and thin French vanilla wafers, then black coffee.

Two of these would make a perfect luncheon or supper dish for a newly married couple.

CHIQUE MONSIEUR ROQUEFORT

2 slices bread
1 thin slice Roquefort cheese
1 thin slice Boudin or Port Salut (mild semisoft French cheese)
1 slice ham

Butter
Cover one slice of bread with thin slices of Boudin or Port Salut, then a slice of ham, then a slice of Roquefort, and the second slice of bread. Fry in butter over low heat, turning once, until golden brown on both sides.

Note: This can also be dipped into a milk, egg, flour batter before frying if you prefer.
